HOSPITAL NEW SERVICE - Lisa Crowell explains to Mitchell County Hospital administrator Richard Murphy the portable CAT-Scan that is a new service of the hospital. The portable technology, housed in an 18-wheeler, will visit the hospital at least once a week from its home-base in Sweetwater to provide the service to local residents.

County vote significant

The strong Democratic vote in Mitchell County didn't help Mike Dukakis' bid for President, but it was a significant factor in the selection of State Representative for District 66.

Mitchell County's 2218 to 769 vote put Rob Junell in the state post by a total of 20,013 to 18,870 over his Republican Burt Terrill. Junell also carried Coke and Sterling counties by smaller margins but not enough to overcome Terrill's 17,188 to 16,585 lead in Tom Green county.

The Republican George Bush/Dan Quayle ticket garnered approximately 56 percent of the popular vote nationwide and a wide majority of the electoral college vote for President and Vice President over Democrat's Dukakis/Bentsen.

However, Lloyd Bentsen retained his U. S. Senator seat with a strong 59 to 41 percent win over Republican Beau Boulter.

On the state level, Republican Kent Hance won handily over Clint Hackney for the unexpired term as Railroad Commissioner, and Democrat Jim Nugent was returned to the Railroad Commission over Ed Emmitt.

In the turbulent, State Supreme Court races, Republican candidates gained three seats. Tom Phillips defeated Ted Z. Robertson for Chief Justice, unexpired term; Eugene Cook beat Karl Bayer for Place 5; and Nathan Hecht took Place 2 over Bill Kilgarrin. Democratic candidates Lloyd Doggett beat Paul Murphy for Place 1; Raul Gonzalez defeated Charles Ben Howell for Place 3; and Jack Hightower took Place 4 from Barbara Culver.

Chamber quarterly breakfast forum slated Wednesday

Colorado City Area Chamber of Commerce's quarterly Small Business Breakfast Forum will be held Wednesday, Nov. 16, in the Fellowship Hall of the First United Methodist Church.

Breakfast will be at 6:30 a.m. and the program will begin at 7:00 a.m.

The program will be on Tax Abatement and will be most informative for everyone. Anyone interested in hearing this program is welcome to attend.

Tickets are $4.50, and may be purchased at the Chamber of Commerce office, 157 West 2nd Street, phone 728-3403.

Incumbent Democrats won all three Court of Criminal Appeals races. Judge Mike McCormick defeated Republican David Berchermann; Chuck Miller led Republican Tom Rickoff; and Chuck Campbell easily defeated his Libertarian opponent.

On the district level, Steve Carriker won a full term as State Senator, again winning all 30 counties of the 30th District over Bobby Albert.

And in the only other contested district race, Republican Monte Hasie ousted incumbent Democrat Paul Dunn for District 15 of the State Board of Education.

All three of the state constitutional amendments which were approved in Mitchell County, also carried state-wide.

Problems do exist with FCIC

An investigation into alleged Federal Crop Insurance Corp. fraud has turned up "no cause for disciplinary action" in Mitchell County and four other area counties, an FCIC official announced Thursday in Washington.

"Our investigation indicated we had reason to have a meeting of loss adjustors—both from our own system and reinsured companies—to clarify the loss procedure process," said Michael For-gash, FCIC governmental affairs information director.

No official report has been released to the public.

Under the program, farmers who insure crops with FCIC must have a crop adjuster determine whether they qualify for an insurance payment.

"Other than seeing we needed that clarification of the rules and procedures, nothing major turned up during our internal investigation," he said.

About a month ago, reports of cotton crops being declared a "disaster" when they should have been ginned prompted U. S. Representative Charles Stenholm, D-Stamford, to notify Washington officials about the alleged problem.

When the probe was initiated the local ASCS office, headed by Don Stewart, was confident that there were no serious irregularities in Mitchell County.

The other counties investigated were Fisher, Jones, Nolan and Scurry.

Two meetings scheduled for Commissioners

Mitchell County Commissioners Court will hold two meetings this week.

On the agenda for the regular monthly meeting Monday at 1 p.m. will be the canvassing of the general election returns, resolution on Tax abatement plan, a request from Mrs. Clifford Hale to wave penalty and interest on property taxes; and an appearance by Carl Shouse of the Texas Highway Department regarding posting of signs on all county bridges. Payment of bills and regular monthly reports will also be received.

At a special meeting called for 9 a.m. Tuesday, the Commissioners Court will receive bids for construction and improvements for a new County Jail kitchen, and will approve the regular two-week payroll.

Rainy forecast halts flag display

The Colorado City Rotary Club flag project in which U.S. flags are displayed on holidays was washed out Friday, Veteran's Day, because of rain in the forecast.

It takes several hours for Rotarians to place and take up the flags each holiday and club president Larry Cook said it was decided not to try to display the flags because of the possibility of thunderstorms Friday.

For The Record...

by M. Gene Dow, GM

FROM THE SCRIPTURES—"For the children of this world are wiser in their generation..." Luke 16:8

Had an interesting visit with Burtin Pierce this week. Burtin is living here now, retired after serving many years as a guide for elk hunters in Utah.

He has many interesting yarns to tell about the "dudes" he's guided over the years. During our visit he passed along with following story:

A little boy asked his grandmother, "How old are you, grandma?" She replied, "Well, let's just say I've attained the age where I've stopped keeping up with my birthdays."

"How much do you weigh?" the little grandson asked. Getting a bit irritated with the questions, Grandma said, "The last time I weighed was at the drug store, and I had on a heavy coat and shoes, so I don't really know."

Then he asked, "Why did Grandpa leave, Grandma?" By now she was exasperated with the personal questions, "Never mind, boy," she said as she shoed him out of the room.

Later the inquisitive little boy spotted his grandmother's purse. Figuring he was already in trouble, he rummaged through the purse and found his grandmother's drivers license.

Gene Dow

He came running back in and exclaimed, "Grandma, I know how old you are, you're 62!" She was surprised and replied, "Well, that's about right."

"And I know how much you weigh ... you weigh 170 pounds!" Again, she was dumbfounded over the grandson's accuracy.

"And I know why Grandpa left ... you got an 'F' in sex!"

THE LONE WOLF SAYS, "Granddad saved his first dollar in a ten cent frame. Now the frame is worth a dollar and the dollar is worth ten cents."

A new survey has been released that reveals a little-known scientific fact that grandparents are absolutely necessary for the proper upbringing of children. In the absence of grandparents, little kids tend to become spoiled. It is only the stern hand of grandparents that brings discipline into their lives. It is easy for little kids to wrap their parents around their little finger, as it were, but grandparents are immune to these tactics. The survey was taken at Senior Citizen Centers throughout the state.

Although the probe turned up no major discrepancies, Stenholm says problems remain and that the program can be improved.

"This is a national problem—definitely not just a problem in these five counties," Stenholm said Thursday. "The General Accounting Office has released a report Oct. 19 that recognizes there is a problem with the program."

The report indicated that FCIC has not been overseeing all areas of the country as they should have been, Stenholm said.

"This report is out and has been sent to the appropriate House and Senate committees. Now it is up to us to write laws to take care of these problems," Stenholm said.

"We have had and still do have problems with the program. Hopefully, we'll be resolving these soon."

Forgash said they will continue to conduct spot-checks of crop insurance adjustors, as they have in the past.

"There was some confusion on how to handle this at first, but I feel sure we have resolved this situation," he said. "There is no cause for major concern."

Thanks for your confidence in me!

I appreciate your friendship and support.

The 13th annual Mitchell County Pecan Show has been scheduled for Nov. 30-Dec. 1, County Extension Agent Mike Mauldin has announced.

The show, sponsored by the Horticulture Committee of the County Extension Program Council, Colorado City Chamber of Commerce, City National Bank and First National Bank, will be held at the C. C. Thompson Room in Colorado City.

All pecans entered must have been grown in 1988. Growers are limited to one entry of each improved or papershell variety. If only one entry is entered in any class, the entry will be judged with "open varieties". There is no limit on the number of seedling or native pecans. Nuts must have been grown by the person showing them. All entries become the property of the Mitchell County Pecan Show and they will be given to a charitable organization.

Mauldin said that each entry must consist of 43 nuts with the nuts to be displayed on a paper plate.

Entries will be taken between 1-3 p.m. Nov. 30, and judging will be at 1:30 p.m. Dec. 1 at the C. C. Thompson Room.

Pecans may also be left at either the County Extension Office or the Chamber of Commerce

Office during the week of the show. Entries should be marked with the owner's name, address and variety of pecan.

Any alternation of pecan shells by marking, filing, or polishing will disqualify the entry so treated. However, exhibitors are encouraged to remove all traces of husks and foreign matter from the shells.

Classes will be judged on size, color, appearance, shell thickness, cracking quality, kernel quality, attractiveness and other factors, said Mauldin.

Ray

It was an invitation I couldn't turn down even if I wanted to. It came addressed to Ray (with "Ray" underlined) and Janet Mayo. We were invited to one of "those" parties I made fun of in a column several months ago. I wrote then I didn't know why they called the affairs "parties" when you being invited to buy something - anything from plastic ware to interior decorating items to jewelry.

It seems my wife is always getting invited to these parties and I merely commented that we only have so much cabinet space and so much wall space to hold all these items. And when my wife brought home a silk plant in a basket to put on a plant shelf, I was confused because our home doesn't have any plant shelves. We put the plant on the floor instead.

Back to the party. I decided that maybe I should go. After all, it would make good material for a column, I thought. And, my "other" mother was giving the party and I knew I would have a good time. Betty Oyler was like a second mother to me when growing up on Walnut Street, and I still call her "Mama" Oyler.

When Betty answered the door, I asked her if this was the place where they sell sconces. In my previous column, I bemoaned the fact that I couldn't understand why people would put sconces on a wall. When my mother was alive, her house was full of sconces and she never once burned the candles in them!

My wife and I were greeted warmly. The party was about to get underway. Several women were seated around the room. I was the only man present. Wilford, Betty's husband, stayed out of the way and watched TV in the den.

For some reason, several of those present were handed a silk rose. I didn't get one, but my wife did. Betty has so many of the red silk roses that she has an arrangement of them.

The woman conducting the show seemed to know me even though I had never met her. It seems as though someone had slipped her a copy of my previous column. Still, she was very nice to me, even though she didn't give me a rose.

We sat in a semi-circle and listened and watched as the woman told how easy decorating can be with the items she was selling. She had many new items that some of those present hadn't seen before. Some of the smaller things were passed among us so we could get a closer glimpse at them.

The best part came at the end of the show when Betty said we could help ourselves to the refreshments in the dining room. The cherry pie was delicious.

OK, I admit the party wasn't so bad. But, it was a failure for the woman giving the show because I didn't buy anything - not even a scented candle!

Of course, my wife did buy about $40 worth of things, but that's beside the point.

There's entirely too much profanity blowing through the air. You may have noticed as much, yourself the last time you walked out of a movie or football stadium.

It's not so much among adults, many of whom have outgrown the thrill of salty talk. It's mostly with young people who are fascinated by the sounds coming from their very own mouths.

Make that young people and movie producers. I can't even discuss movies with my mom anymore, because she's afraid she'll hear something embarrassing if she goes to a theatre. Mom gets embarrassed if she hears a dirty word in the presence of her husband, so they can't even rent movies to show at home. HBO has never even been considered.

The big problem, it seems to me, is that we haven't taught our young people to curse with more class. We haven't even taught them they're not supposed to say those kinds of words in our midst.

By the time I was in junior high - that time of life when dirty language hits a peak in personal satisfaction - I wouldn't have thought about expressing myself that way around my parents. I don't care how good it felt.

For one thing, Mom might have followed through on her frequent threat to grab me by the ear, take me down to the church and body-slam me to the alter. And once she'd turned me over to the wrath of God, she'd have stayed and done the talking for me - just in case He'd been too busy to listen to my foul mouth. Or, in case I left out a few of the four-lettered adjectives under discussion.

In my youth, kids had a healthy respect for hypocrisy. You just didn't curse around grown ups. Well, nobody, anyway, but Ronnie Steamer.

Ronnie was sort of a school yard hero because he not only swore around his dad - even at the dinner table, he also got the best of him in a backyard fist fight. Ronnie would come home drunk and not even try to hide it. He and his dad would sit around during the good moments and sip a cool one and talk about intellectual topics such as foreign policy and insurance rates.

You had to be impressed by a guy like Steamer. No more, though. Ronnie Steamer's are a dime a dozen now. Kids don't even lower their voices when you walk by any more. If they're not using their mouths to inhale pizza, they're using them to turn the air blue.

It's not that foul language is all that foul per se - as long as it's used properly, and sparingly. But teenagers don't do that. They use the words in the middle of phrases. Frequently, they create pomo split infinitives. Overuse completely destroys the intended purpose of swearing.

The first 25 or 30 obscenities - if properly placed in a verbal diatribe - can have the desired shock effect. But after that, teenagers start sounding like one-year-olds in black jackets and bandanas, spouting words from their play pens.

Somchow, many years ago, obscenities developed a macho reputation. That's why all the war movies and baseball movies have so many of them stuck together. All great generals like Patton, and coaches like Lombardi, uttered them profusely.

You have to wonder why, though. If a parent wants to establish such an environment, a kid can learn to say swear words as well as Patton, or even a teenager, by the time he/she is two years old.

It just seems to me, if something is going to be macho, it ought to require more size, strength and vocabulary than what most two year-olds are capable of possessing.

The real problem is this: verbal pollution can ruin a language just as surely as industrial pollution can ruin the atmosphere. The key here is self control.

If a kid wants to consume alcohol, he needs to learn how to keep from drinking himself blind. It's the same with swearing. You gotta learn to pace yourself, kids.

Maybe it would be better if we all refrained from using any sort of vices. Maybe it wouldn't be. The way I hear it, there's always the danger of boring ourselves to death with too much purity.

Fortunately, the kiddos are determined not to let this happen.

Complaint

TO THE EDITOR:

This is in reference to Brenda Hammond's article in the Thursday, Nov. 3 Record about the CITY AT WORK. She states that seven dangerous structures have been demolished. She also states that Buz Rich oversees all the jobs and many more. However, she fails to tell the people of this community some of the other things they did during the week of Oct. 19. She failed to mention that on Oct. 19, while I was a work, they came onto my property, bulldozed down two trees and all of my firewood, and took it down the street and burned it.

The firewood had been brought to me by friends to help me as I cannot afford to buy wood. They came 10 feet onto my property and about 6 feet from my house.

My son, who is handicapped and half-owner tried to stop them, but they would pay no attention to him. When I called Mrs. Hammond to come out to talk to me about this, she said they had been ordered to do this by someone from Mt. Zion Baptist Church next door to me and that she thought it looked nice. When I asked her what did she propose that I do for wood, she told me she did not know, that it was my problem. I told her I had no money for wood. She also stated that Buz Rich just did what he was ordered to do and then drove off.

I think it is time that our City Council take a look at some of the things these people do. They think they are above the law, or they never would have come onto my property to do this without my consent or to have checked the property line. It is an awful thing for a single senior citizen to be done in this way. I am a law-abiding citizen and have a very limited income.

I will commend our Mayor for what he had tried to do. I called him and he responded well, and called someone from the church and they promised him to see I had wood. They brought me about one week's supply, about 1/20 of what was destroyed.

As I see it Brenda Hammond cares less about most of our citizens. I am calling on our City Council to check this out and I am asking the people of this community to ask for her resignation.

Tillis leads ground game, defense shuts 'em out

Wolves to face Decatur in next playoff game

SAN ANGELO—Colorado City rushed for over 200 yards in both halves here Friday night and the Wolves' defense shut-out the Llano Yellowjackets for a 12-0 Class AAA Bi-District victory.

The Wolves, 10-1, champions of 7-3A, next face Decatur, 38-22 winner over Aledo, in an area contest at Brownwood. Officials were to have met Saturday to decide whether to play Friday at 8:00 p.m. or Saturday at 2:00 p.m. Colorado City will be the home team.

Llano, runner-up of 8-3A ends the season at 5-6.

Colorado City scored in the latter part of both halves. Running back Pat Tillis and fullback Beau Rees finished with 114 and 79 yards rushing, respectively. Tillis, enjoying his best night of the year, scored once and quarter back Chris Perkin scored after a fumble recovery by Tracy Edwards.

Keys to the victory were "the drive in the second quarter that we scored off of, and in the second half two big plays," said Wolves' coach Tom Ramsey, "their turnover deep in our end of the field and the big run by Tillis."

"Chris had a hard time with an injury in the second half and Beau was having a hard-time punting. He was hurt and couldn't get his toe up. We had injuries.

About the only thing happening was Tillis' running."

Colorado City's running attack answered Llano's first threat with an 80-yard scoring drive.

Perkin was caught from behind on Colorado City's first two drives, and fumbled on the Wolves' third possession. Llano recovered at its 26 and crossed mid-field on a personal foul against the Wolves and the 28-yard draw run by fullback Brian Fread.

The Wolves held, though, and the Yellowjackets' Lance Dillard missed low and to the right on a 28-yard field goal attempt with 10:02 left in the first half.

The Wolves then went 80-yards in 17 plays taking 6 minutes, 30 seconds off the clock and scoring on a Tillis 1-yard run with 3:32 left in the first half.

Tillis, Rees and Perkins gained most of the yardage. Key plays were a 16-yard Rees draw, a 10-yard pass from Perkin to Heath Watlington, and a pitch from Rees to Tillis for a first down at the Llano 33. An 11-yard screen pass to Tillis and an 11-yard keeper by Perkin, were followed by 6- and 1-yard runs by Tillis that put Colorado City up 6-0.

George Rivera miss-handled the point after snap.

Sammy Garcia recovered a Curtis Hartman fumble at 3:42 of the third quarter—stopping Llano at the Colorado City 31. A clipping penalty made the Wolves start the next drive at their own 32 and again the Wolves failed to move the ball.

Rees punted for 7 yards, but Tracy Edwards recovered a Llano fumble at the Wolves 27 with 8:43 left in the game that led to a 73-yard 13-play score for the Wolves.

Rees ran 12 yards to the Llano 48. Tillis picked up 6 and a late hit by the Yellowjackets made it first down at the Llano 31. An errant pitch by Perkin was erased when a block by Rees broke Tillis loose for 11 yards and a first down at the 18.

A low block put the Wolves in a third and 27 situation at the 33, but Tillis made a spectacular 29-yard burst up the middle for a first and goal at the four. On second and goal at the two, Perkin faked to Rees and followed the fullback through the right side for the score with 3:48 left in the game. Llano's Daniel Waltrip intercepted the points-after-pass, but was tackled by George Ramsey. Rivera intercepted for the Wolves with 3:19 left in the game.

Comments on the game by several Wolf players included:

Linebacker Jessie Franco, "the Defense started off slow, but we knew we could get it sooner or later. Llano was stunting and they just happened to be running things to make us miss. I want to thank the fans, did you hear them?"

Pat Tillis on his 29-yard run prior to Perkin's score, "Well, I knew we had to score again to put Llano out of it, I just wanted to score."

Tracy Edwards on his fumble recovery that led to the Wolves' second touchdown, "It looked like a quick up the middle. Hal Morren knocked the ball out and I fell right on top of it."

Cornerback Pat Ridge said, "We've got the number one secondary and the offense when they get started they are hard to stop."

Today, there are at least 2 1/2 million victims of Alzheimer's Disease. But for every one of those victims, there is another "victim." A husband or wife... a son or daughter... whose entire life changes because of the constant and isolating demands of caregiving.

But now, for those of you who do it alone, who stand by a loved one with Alzheimer's Disease, now there's someone to stand by you. The Alzheimer's Association.

We understand the emotional hardship of watching someone you love become someone you hardly even know. At the Alzheimer's Association, we have support groups where you can get in touch with your feelings. And community services that can put you in touch with the facts. And, we are leading the way in funding medical research that hopefully, one day, will put us all in touch with the cure.

To reach the Alzheimer's Association chapter in your neighborhood, call toll free 1-800-621-0379. Someone is there now. To stand by you.

Payne Chapel to note 105th anniversary Sunday

Payne Chapel Christian Methodist Church (C.M.E.) Church will hold its 105th anniversary celebration on Sunday, Nov. 13, at 2:30 p.m. in the church sanctuary, 700 Front Street.

Payne Chapel Christian Methodist Episcopal Church was originally organized in 1883. The organization of the congregation was due largely to the persistent efforts of William Baxter and Mesdames Emily Alexander, Flora Dunn and Amanda Vanella (Nellie) Everett.

Growing out of religious services held jointly by members of the Baptist and Methodist faiths, the Methodist congregation was formally organized in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elijah Dunn by the Rev. J. L. Turner of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church. The Dunn home, strangely enough, provided the setting for the organization of Mt. Zion Baptist Church, which elected Mr. Dunn as chairman of its board of trustees. Mrs. Dunn, the former Flora (Brooks) Keen, became a member of Payne Chapel's first board of trustees.

The first church-building, completed in 1899, was located where the Dawson Hotel now stands. The church was named "Payne Chapel" in honor of Rev. J.E. Payne, who was the pastor at that time. In 1909 the congregation moved to its present location at Front and Erie streets. Forty six ministers, including 45 men and one woman, have served the congregation since its beginning. The present pastor is James R. Galbreath.

Bishop Caesar David Coleman

Scheduled to deliver the anniversary sermon is Bishop Caesar David Coleman of Dallas.

Coleman, senior bishop and CEO of the Christian Methodist Episcopal Church and presiding prelate of the Eighth Episcopal District, is the son of the late Rev. Ira Lee Coleman and Mrs. Eddy Love Coleman. He was born in the parsonage of St. Andrews C.M.E. Church in Pickens, Miss. He grew up in the shadows of the ministry of his father and two uncles.

The influence of a Christian mother who honored and revered the Christian ministry helped to condition him to hear and answer God's call to service. He was licensed to preach by his father, ordained a deacon and elder by the late bishops John H. Moore and Luther C. Stewart, respectively.

Growing up in West Point, Miss., he attended the Jim James Elementary School and Mary Holmes Junior College. He completed requirements for a A.B. degree at Mississippi Industrial College, Holly Springs, Miss., and the B.D. degree from Lincoln University in Pennsylvania. Lane College, Jackson, Tenn. and the Interdenomination Theological Center, Atlanta, Ga., honored him with the doctor of divinity degrees. His alma mater awarded him the L.L.D. degree.

He served as an officer in the United States Army during World War II in Africa, France and Germany.

He was one of the founders and trustees of the Interdenominational Theological Center in Atlanta. He has served as pastor and presiding elder in the North Mississippi Annual Conference, professor of religion and philosophy, Mississippi Industrial College and for 16 years as the general secretary of the board of Christian education, Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

He has further served the Christian Methodist Church as chairman and chief endorser for the commission on chaplaincy, president of the general board of personnel services and secretary to the college of bishops.

He holds membership in the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, National Urban League, Inc., and the Congress of National Black Churches. He is presently chairman of the board of trustees of Texas College in Tyler, patron bishop of the Women's Missionary Council, Christian Methodist Episcopal Church, vice president of the Congress of National Black Churches and chairman of the general connectional board, Christian Methodist Episcopal Church.

"THE ACLU IS RIGHT" "THE CHURCH HAS TOO MANY HYPOCRITES!"

...and maybe we should remove "In God We Trust" from our coinage. Now that I have finally gotten your attention, let me explain in what way these statements are true—even though I'm a conservative Christian pastor with no links to the ACLU. With our last national election, the ACLU received a lot of attention, and the ACLU is right when they say that "America is not a Christian nation." How can a nation be "Christian" when the majority of its populace isn't practicing Christians? Fewer people are members of churches than in times past; fewer still are active churchgoers. The ACLU would forget that our government was formed from a God-fearing Christian consensus that sought to promote "freedom of Religion" and not "freedom from religion." The Founding Fathers wisely learned that forced religion (from the state or otherwise) was not true heart religion. Our coins bear the admonition "In God We Trust" Our forefathers "knew the tremendous cost and sacrifice that had been paid to secure our freedom. In gratitude they acknowledged that God had made and preserved our nation. They were confident that God was blessing their endeavours because they acknowledged Him and sought His aid in all their doings. They warned future generations of the day that God was not earnestly revered in America." (Rebirth of America, p. 12) and today there is movement afoot to remove "In God We Trust" from our coinage.

The polls show that most Americans "say" they believe there is a God, but there are more Americans that believe that the church has too many hypocrites, than there are Americans who believe and truly "Trust in God" for their salvation through Christ. What do you really trust in? You may trust too much in our weapons-defense "In Guns We Trust". You may trust too much in our science technology—"In Genuity We Trust". You may trust too much in selfish materialism—"In Gain We Trust". These trusted treasures will not last forever (Matt. 5: 10-9) Trust in God! Man's finite "wisdom" will be destroyed. (I Cor. 1:19)

I meet supposed "Christians" who say the church has too many hypocrites—people who (by their life's witness) don't place their trust in God. Bill Graham would concur saying over 75% of pew-sitters are bound to hell. Yet my un-churched Christian friend is as much a hypocrite, believing he can be a full Christian without faithful dutiful service to a local church fellowship. (Eph. 4:11-15) The world is full of hypocrites and imperfect people. But like the bumper sticker says, "Christians aren't perfect, just forgiven"—and we're working on becoming less hypocritical.

After the election with all of its distortions and false patriotic accusations, Dukakis was asked if he held resentment for those responsible for smears. He answered with a smile, "I believe in the redemption of man." America can be redeemed. The hypocrisy of individuals and the church can be redeemed through faith—full trust in God, our Lord Jesus Christ—that's good news! Hope to see you in church!

CWF installs new officers

The Christian Women's Fellowship of First Christian Church held an installation service at a luncheon in the church fellowship hall at noon Saturday, Nov. 5.

Mrs. Gerry Stone conducted the service using as her theme, "The Seven Wonders of the World". Being the wife of a contractor and appreciating the skill and importance of the architects, she described the greatness of the seven ancient wonders of the world which are the Pyramids of Egypt, Hanging Gardens of Babylon, Temple of Artemis, Colossus of Rhodes, Statue of Zeus, Mausoleum at Halcarnassus, and Lighthouse of Alexandria. She compared the important of those ancient builders following the architect's plan with the challenge each newly elected officer has in following the "Master's" plan or blueprint in fulfilling her responsibilities, thus becoming the "eighth wonder of the world."

The new officers installed were Betty Oylar, president; Eddie Barclay, vice president; Trula Richardson, secretary; Margaret Trulock, treasurer; Ritchie Jones, program chairman; Gerry Stone, worship chairman; and Marjorie Kilman, service chairman.

Also present were Fayrel Boney and Margaret Oylar, visitor.

Mrs. Clawson hosts Homemakers' Class

Smokeout declared

Smokers urged to quit for a day Thursday

Trey Smith is hoping to see a smokeless day Thursday - no cigarette smoke, that is.

Thursday marks the Great American Smokeout sponsored by the American Cancer Society.

Smith is local chairman of the annual event, held each year on the third Thursday in November.

"The Smokeout is an upbeat, good-natured effort to encourage smokers to give up cigarettes for 24 hours," said Smith. "It focuses supportive attention on cigarette smokers from coast to coast, and non-smokers join in the fun, helping them to quit for the day."

Smith offers these tips to smokers wanting to quit for the day:

- Hide all ashtrays, matches, etc.
- Lay in a supply of sugarless gum, carrot sticks, etc.
- Drink lots of liquids, but pass up coffee and alcohol.
- Tell everyone you're quitting for the day.
- When the urge to smoke hits, take a deep breath, hold it for 10 seconds, and release it slowly.
- Exercise to relieve the tension.
- Try the "buddy system," and ask a friend to quit, too.

Smith said he will be distributing materials about the Great American Smokeout to high schools in Colorado City, Loraine and Westbrook and to the hospital and courthouse.

Smokeout 1987 reached new highs for participation in the day-long event. More than 19.5 million - or 39.1 percent - of the nation's 50 million smokers tried to kick the habit for the day.

GYMNASTICS WINNERS - These local gymnastics brought home wins from a meet held in Quannah Nov. 5. From left are Kevin Chambers, first in tumbling and second in trampoline; Jessica Nelson, second in tumbling; Jennifer Petty, third in tumbling; Crystal Nelson, second in tumbling; Jennifer Ritchey, second in tumbling; and Kristen Ritchey, third in tumbling. They compete as part of the Snyder Springs.

Smith gives GAS update

Trey Smith, chairman of this year's Great American Smokeout sponsored by the American Cancer Society, gave an update to members of the Mitchell County unit during a luncheon meeting Thursday.

The annual Great American Smokeout is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 17, and Smith said he plans to put up posters around town and distribute literature and other materials to the Westbrook, Loraine and Colorado City schools and to the Mitchell County Hospital and the courthouse.

Presiding at the meeting was Anna Staats, president.

Welcomed as a new member was Mildred Free.

Other members present were Sue Dossey, Mary Ann Williamson, Mark Waldrup, Mary Lou Maines, Ann Soliz and Ray Mayo.

The next meeting will be Thursday, Jan. 12, at noon at the Villa Restaurant.

J. D. POE AND BELLE POE, and R. F. BURKS and their unknown heirs and assigns IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF HOWARD COUNTY, TEXAS 118TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT THE STATE OF TEXAS CITATION

To: All Defendants in the above-styled matter, including J. D. Poe and Belle Poe, and R. F. Burks, their unknown heirs, assigns, and devisees.

You are hereby commanded to appear by filing a written answer to Plaintiff's petition, a copy of which is attached hereto as Exhibit "A" and incorporated herein by reference, on file at the District Clerk's office, Howard County, Texas, which petition was filed October 17, 1988, at or before 10:00 a.m. on December 19, 1988, at which date a hearing is scheduled at the 118th Judicial District Court at 10:00 a.m., December 19, 1988, on the merits of Plaintiff's petition.

The suit is brought by Plaintiff, Trend Exploration Company in order to appoint a receiver of mineral interests claimed by the Defendants pursuant to 64.091, Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code so that leases may be executed by a receiver and the following property developed for Oil & Gas:

"North one-half (N/2) of Section 34, Block 26, H&T Railroad Survey Lands, A-1542, in Howard County, Texas, being approximately 160 acres."

The residence and identity of the named Defendants is unknown.

You must take notice that you are commanded to appear and be heard or otherwise a receiver may be appointed to protect your interests in the matter.

Issued and given under my hand and seal of this Court on the 8th day of November, 1988 at Howard County, Texas, by District Clerk, Howard County, Texas, 118th Judicial District.

J. D. POE and BELLE POE, and R. F. BURKS and their unknown heirs and assigns IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF HOWARD COUNTY, TEXAS 118TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT Plaintiff's Original Petition For Appointment Of Receiver Of Mineral Interests Now comes Trend Exploration Company, the Plaintiff, complaining of J. D. Poe and

Legal

Belle Poe, and R. F. Burks, and their unknown heirs, assigns and devisees, if any (all unknown), the Defendants, and for cause of action would show the Court the following:

I. The residence of each of the Defendants is unknown, but each of them owns or purports to own an undivided interest in the minerals in certain property in Howard County, Texas, hereafter described.

II. The Plaintiff owns an interest in the mineral estate in the North one-half (N/2) of Section 34, Block 26, H&T Railroad Company Survey Lands, A-1542, in Howard County, Texas. The Plaintiff owns said interest by virtue of being the owner and holder of various oil and gas leases, including the oil and gas lease executed by Sterling Cattle Company (by J. M. Sterling, its President), which owns an undivided interest in the mineral estate of said tract. The Plaintiff's lease from said party is dated June 24, 1988, and has been recorded at Volume 619, Page 604, Deed Records of Howard County, Texas.

III. The Plaintiff is informed, and therefore believes, that the Defendants have record title to an undivided 1/32 interest in said tract. Specifically, J. D. Poe and Belle Poe are the record owners of an undivided 1/64 interest and R. F. Burks is the record owner of an undivided 1/64 interest.

IV. Each of the Defendants has been absent from the State of Texas for more than five (5) years successively next preceding the filing of this petition, during which time none of them have paid taxes on said mineral interests, nor have any of them rendered the same for taxation. Alternatively, if such Defendants, or any of them are residents of the State of Texas, the Plaintiff would show that each of such persons has a place of residence which is unknown and has absented herself or himself for at least five (5) years successively next preceding the filing of this action. Each of the Defendants, respectively, has never paid taxes on her or his mineral interest for the past five (5) years, nor have any of them rendered the same for taxes.

V. The Plaintiff has made a diligent but unsuccessful effort to locate each of the Defendants, and the Plaintiff will suffer a substantial damage or injury unless a receiver is appointed to take charge of the property and execute and deliver mineral leases on each of the Defendants' interests so that the minerals can be developed and produced. At the present time, there is oil and gas development in the vicinity, and this acreage could therefore be in danger of being drained if it is not developed and produced. All of the other interests have been leased, but the tract described above cannot be developed unless or until these unleased outstanding mineral interests are acquired. Moreover, Sterling Cattle Company and the other mineral owners of this property, as well as the Plaintiff, will suffer substantial damages and injuries unless such receiver is appointed. WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays the Court that a receiver be appointed under the provisions of Section 64.091 of the Texas Civil Practice and Remedies Code (effective September 1, 1985); that the receiver be authorized to lease the mineral interest of each of the Defendants for development and production purposes and thereby insure Plaintiff and the remaining owners of the mineral estate against loss of development and production of these interests, and for such further relief, general or special, at law or in equity as the Court may deem proper or necessary.

Girl Scouts

PAX Project
Girl Scouts and Girl Guides are growing and blooming. The West Texas Girl Scouts Council invites the public to participate in it's PAX USA COMMON ROOM PROJECT.

Pax Lodge is the new program and training World Center at the Olave Center in London, England. Each Council has been challenged to design a project and help realize the World Center.

Local Girl Scouts have chosen the sale of poinsettia plants as their project. The benefits of the project are: 1. any profit will go to scholarships; 2. knowledge of the Pax Lodge project; 3. a simple and inexpensive Christmas project; 4. community awareness of Girl Scouts.

Orders and full payments for the poinsettia plants should be sent to Girl Scout unit #26, Secretary/Treasurer Kay Griffin, 967 16th St., Colorado City, TX 79512. Deadline is November 15, 1988. Telephone number is 915-728-5886.
