New Drive May Knock Romania Out Of War

New Trap Sprung On Nazi Troops In Baltic Area

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 23 — Russian troops have reached the beaches of Riga, Latvian seaport and capital, the Berlin radio reported today in an official DNB dispatch.

Riga, largest city in the Baltic states with 393,000 population, has been virtually besieged for a month or more.

Russian troops pushed a ten mile wide corridor ot the Baltic 25 miles west of Riga some weeks ago, but on Monday the Germans said the corridor had been snapped and communications reestablished with the German 16th and 18th armies, estimated to number up to 30 divisions of perhaps 300,000 men.

Four Russian army groups swiftly cleaning up Estonia and Latvia and Lithuania have been pressing steadily upon Riga for weeks. Early this week, Red columns were reported within 18 to 20 miles south, 55 miles east and southeast.

If the Riga beaches have indeed been reached, another trap has been sprung on the bulk of German troops still in the Baltic states.

REDS SMASH FORWARD IN ROMANIAN DRIVE

BY DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

MOSCOW, Aug. 23 — A new Red army offensive, probably designed to knock Romania out of the war and break Hitler's grip on the Balkans, smashed forward today on a 150-mile front beyond Iasi to within 180 miles of jittery Bucharest and 155 of the great Ploesti oil center.

Advancing over the bodies of 25,000 Germans slain in three violent days while 12,665 others trudged wearily back to prison cages, Red army groups under Generals Rodion Y. Malinovsky and Fedor I. Tolbukhin drove within 51 miles of the mouth of the Danube.

Reds Gain 10 Miles

German shock troops tried to stiffen war-weary Romanian divisions as Russian tanks rolled at least ten miles south of Iasi. Tolbukin's drive through Bessarabia headed cross country for a junction with Malinovsky in the Galati

Two Bales Of Cotton Ginned

Lubbock county's cotton crop is maturing earlier this year.

That was the indication today with two bales already ginned in the county, three days in advance of last year.

The first bale was said to have been ginned at the Slaton Co-Op gin at 1 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. It was grown by Arthur Kahlich, who lives three and one-half miles southwest of Slaton. He brought in 1,950 pounds of seed cotton, and the bale weighed 487 pounds.

Bale Catches Fire

O. M. Woodson, who lives four and a half miles southwest of Wolfforth, brought in the first bale there and ginned it at the Wolfforth Gin company about 7 o'clock last night. Woodson brought in 1,660 pounds of seed cotton which turned out a 492-pound bale and 760 pounds of seed.

Woodson's bale will be auctioned off at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon on "Cotton Row," the 1400-block of Texas avenue.

Woodson's bale was brought into Lubbock and placed on the corner of Thirteenth and Texas, where it caught fire about 2 o'clock this morning. It was extinguished by the Lubbock Fire department after only slight damage.

The bale was scheduled to be auctioned today. Kahlich's bale was to be auctioned in Slaton, it was said.

Premium To Be Paid

Kahlich's cotton was expected to qualify for the $50 annual premium paid by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce for the first bale grown and ginned in Lubbock county.

Last year's first bale was gin-

Record Bomb Load Dumped On Halmahera

Aerial Offensive Against Japan Hits New Peak

BY J. B. KRUEGER
Associated Press War Editor

The unceasing Pacific air offensive against Japan has achieved a new climax with a record 135-ton bombing of strategic Halmahera island 300 miles south of the Philippines, Gen. MacArthur announced today.

This strike was the latest and biggest of air blows steadily reducing 6,700-square-mile Halmahera as a barrier between MacArthur's New Guinea forces and the Philippines, which he aims to recapture. Liberators and cannon-pocking Mitchells went in unopposed to plaster its airfields, supply dumps and defenses, and to destroy eight parked planes and sink a freighter.

Bombers Blanket Wide Area

The blow followed a 110-ton strike announced yesterday.

Elsewhere the Allied air offensive—currently bridging a lull between invasions—ranged from the Flores sea 1,000 miles south of the Philippines to tiny Marcus island 1,000 miles southeast of Tokyo. MacArthur's planes hit Ceram, Davao, Vogelkop on Dutch New Guinea, Biak island, Wewak, Palau, New Ireland, New Britain and Bougainville.

Central Pacific air forces under Adm. Nimitz set fire to two ships near Marcus and attacked Truk and Ponape in the Carolines and Yap island southwest of Guam. Wake, U. S.-owned island some 900 miles east of Marcus, was hit also. The Wake and Marcus blows could have been designed to blind enemy reconnaissance to impending blows in the western Pacific.

Chinese War Indeterminate

Chinese forces were succeeding in their Yunan battle but encountered a new flood of Japanese power aimed at consolidating the victory at Hengyang. Chungking said its forces held one-third of Tengchung and were whittling down the enemy garrison. This city helps control movement on the Burma road, which the Chinese are trying to reopen.

Northwest of Hengyang reinforced Japanese pushed two columns in an enveloping move around Chinese forces. To the

Extensive Campaign Planned For Dewey

ALBANY, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's aides went ahead today with plans for a two-months drive that may take him into a majority of the states of the union.

The Republican presidential nominee already has announced he will speak in Philadelphia Sept. 7 and Louisville, Ky., the following day on what has come to be regarded here as the beginning of a full fledged campaign swing that may carry him westward to the Pacific coast later in the month.

Senator Ed H. Moore, Oklahoma Republican, said after a conference with Dewey yesterday that the GOP nominee would fill a date in Oklahoma City about Sept. 25. Moore added it was his understanding this stop would be made on the return from a West coast tour.

Thus the beginning of the active phase of the first wartime campaign since 1864 may find Dewey and his running mate, Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio, in full stride while President Roosevelt bides his time. Mr. Roosevelt said when accepting a fourth term nomination he would not campaign in the usual way, but would be ready to answer any "misstatements" the Republican nominee might make.

Nightmare In Paris Ends After 4 Years

Proud, Goose-Stepping Nazis Of June, 1940, Blitz Leave In Marked Confusion

BY DWIGHT L. PITKIN
Associated Press Foreign Staff

The Germans entered Paris on June 14, 1940, in a lightning conquest of France that stunned a world which thought the French army and the Maginot line invincible.

They goose-stepped up the broad Champs Elysees and under the Arc de Triomphe built by Napoleon. Hitler came and gloated atop the Eiffel tower.

Promises Unaccepted

The German occupation forces sought to win the French to their side, needling them with propaganda that the democracy of the Third Republic was decadent and that France had a place in the German new totalitarian order. A small minority which always had been Fascist-minded collaborated, but the mass of people in Paris and the rest of France silently and hopefully awaited the day of liberation. A vast underground army was organized throughout France.

The city was rebellious and hungry during four years of Nazi captivity.

Progressive Suffering Resulted

It was a city that had experienced four years of queueing up for food, cycling or walking to work, curfew hours, firing squads, black markets and the strutting of Nazi officers who monopolized the best hotels, the best shows and all the comforts that pre-war Paris had enjoyed.

Paris had suffered from Allied air raids against German targets within the area of the capital — such as the Renault works and Le Bourget airfield. German radio broadcasts perhaps had exaggerated civilian casualties, which were estimated in the thousands. But Paris had suffered more than in World War I when the Germans besieged the city from a distance of 20 miles and fired shells

Vienna Sector Blasted Again

ROME, Aug. 23 (AP)—Several hundred American heavy bombers and fighters fought through large forces of Nazi interceptors today and bombed military installations in the Vienna area of Austria for the second straight day. Medium bombers attacked rail bridges in southern France near Lyons.

Particularly heavy opposition was encountered at the Markersdorf airdrome, 35 miles west of Vienna, which Liberators bombed. A number of Nazis were destroyed there.

The German radio said the aircraft center of Wiener Neustadt also was attacked.

The four-engined craft also bombed Po river railway bridges at Ferrarra.

Rolling Stock Blasted

The flight to Lyons was the deepest penetration of southern France yet for the American Mitchells based in Italy. Other planes continued the methodical destruction of rolling stock used by the retreating Germans in southern France.

Major Herschel H. Green, Mayfield, Ky., a Mustang pilot, shot down his 18th plane today, a Focke-Wulfe 190, and became undisputed top American ace in the Mediterranean theater.

German fighter planes appeared yesterday to oppose the mas-

DALLAS, Aug. 23 (UP)—An 18-year-old youth with three wives—all living and none divorced—found himself in the city jail today.

He first married in October, 1943, then in June, 1944, then a month later in July.

The trouble started when the second wife got wind of the third a few days ago.

Italian Partisans Under New Threat

ROME, Aug. 23 (AP) — Increasing severity of enemy treatment of Italian patriots harassing the Nazi rear areas in northern Italy was disclosed by the Eighth army's capture of an order from Colonel von Hofman, which decreed immediate shooting of "anyone assisting the criminal and treacherous partisans by giving them food or lodging."

He announced he would support "any officer who exceeds our customary degree of restraint in his choice of measures for dealing with the partisans."

Only minor activity was reported on the entire Italian front, with the Poles continuing to clear the enemy from their few remaining positions on the south side of the Metauro river on the Adriatic sector.

Yanks Advance 140 Miles In South France

U. S. Troops Enter Industrial City Of Grenoble

ROME, Aug. 23 (AP)—Allied troops today captured Marseille, France's second city and largest seaport.

ROME, Aug. 23 — American troops of the Seventh army, in a spectacular surprise thrust deep into southern France through German defenses, have entered the large industrial city of Grenoble, 140 airline miles north of the Mediterranean coast, it was announced today.

A swift American armored and motorized infantry column plunged into the city, long a hotbed of the French patriot movement, with "French forces of the interior playing an effective support role," Allied headquarters said.

This quick advance put Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Patch's spearhead within less than 240 miles airline from the most southerly points officially announced as reached by American troops below Paris, and it appeared that the two Allied French fronts would be joined much sooner than originally thought possible.

Important Rail Center

Grenoble, 58 miles southeast of Lyon and situated on a river leading directly to the Rhone valley 30 miles to the west, is 80 miles or more beyond the last reported Allied positions in southern France.

Lying in the French Alps, the city has a population of approximately 100,000 and is a rail center on the Paris-Lyon-Marseille route. It also commands access to important mountain passes in east-

Suit Filed On Railway Units

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23. (AP)—The Justice department announced today it has filed an anti-trust suit in Lincoln, Neb., against the Association of American Railroads, the Western Association of Railway executive, J. P. Morgan and company, Kuhn, Loeb and company, and 47 individual railroads.

Also named as defendants are the officers and directors of the Association of American Railroads, top executives of the 47 railroads named and 31 other individuals.

Attorney General Francis Biddle announced through his Washington office that the complaint "charges that a combination of private financial, industrial and railroad interests have acted collusively to maintain non-competive rates for transportation and to prevent and retard improvements in the services and facilities of railroads for the western half of the United States."

Asks Dissolution

The complaint asks the court to dissolve the Association of American Railroads—representing 85 per cent of the nation's principal steam rail lines — and the Western Association of Railway executives, an organization of western systems.

It also asks an injunction against all the defendants to prevent a revival or continuance of any of the offenses charges and to prevent a revival of the western agreement, the western commissioner or the committee or direc-

Pilot Trapped For Days In War Plane

"As we stood there talking in the lonely field a soldier in coveralls ran up breathlessly, and almost shouted:

"'Hey, there's a man alive in one of those planes across the road! He's been trapped there for days!'

"We stopped in the middle of a sentence and began to run. We hopped the hedgerow, and ducked under the wing of the upside-down plane. And there, in the next hour, came the climax to what certainly was one of the really great demonstrations of courage in this war."

In these words Ernie Pyle concludes his column today. (See Page 8). He will tell the story of the trapped pilot in detail during the next few days.

Nazis Swept From City's Streets In 4-Day Battle

Thousands Of French Patriots, Armed And Unarmed, Free Bonds After Four Years, De Gaulle Announces

BY JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 23—Paris shook loose the shackles of four years of enemy bondage today and stood free once more, liberated by armed and unarmed tens of thousands of Frenchmen who swept the Nazis from the city's streets, while American armed might drew up around the capital.

A special communique from Gen. Charles de Gaulle's headquarters in London announced the liberation after four days of street fighting that recalled scenes of Bastille Day when the mobs of Paris once before struck an historic blow for liberty.

This time, the communique said, the fight was led by 50,000 organized French forces of the interior, bolstered by hundreds of thousands more who joined in with whatever weapons they could find.

The dramatic announcement touched off broadcasts to Frenchmen everywhere as the triumphant strains of "La Marseillaise" sounded again to the news of a French victory.

There was no word immediately that American troops had entered the city.

Seize All Public Buildings

But the French said they had seized all public buildings, won complete control of the situation, and captured all the Vichy representatives who had not fled.

Paris, the city of light, was back in French hands just four years and 74 days from the time Adolf Hitler's troops marched in. German troops, then at the flood tide of conquest, entered June 14, 1940.

De Gaulle conferred with Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in France two days ago.

(The British radio reported today that De Gaulle had arrived in Rennes, on the Brittany peninsula, after visiting Coutances, Avranches and a number of other liberated French cities.)

French Due To Rule

There was no announcement after the De Gaulle-Eisenhower conference. It seemed likely the French, who freed their capital, would be allowed to administer it.

There was no indication in the French communique what casualties had been inflicted on the German forces or how many had been captured. Allied airmen for two days have been reporting the Nazis pulling out of the city to the east over every road.

(The Germans did not immediately acknowledge any change in the status of Paris. A DNB broadcast recorded by the Federal Communications commission at 5:17 a. m., (CWT), said "the situation in Paris has calmed down as the result of strict measures, but it cannot be said whether terrorist and irresponsible elements will not provoke unrest shortly.")

Seized After 4-Day Fight

A special communique said the French capital was seized after a four-day fight in which the Germans were driven out or rounded up. Representatives of the Vichy regime in the city were seized.

Organized patriots struck 50,000 strong, the announcement said, and their ranks were swelled by several hundred thousand other Parisians who rose to throw off the shackles of four and one-half years under Nazi rule.

"On Saturday Aug. 18 in the morning the national council of

Germans Fall Back In 'Rout'; Trap Tightened

One U. S. Column Spears Within 160 Miles Of Germany; Canadians Near Le Havre

BY WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 23.—Allied columns hammered in a tightening trap today on Germans falling back in a "rout" on the steel-swept lower Seine, and speared deep below Paris in menacing new drives only 160 miles from the German border.

One U. S. armored column plunged beyond Sens, 58 miles southeast of Paris. It stood but 160 miles from the Reich's frontier.

Between Sens and Paris, Lt.-Gen. George S. Patton's Third army was operating in woods near Fontainebleau. In this sector the Americans had thrown a bridgehead over the upper Seine.

British, Canadians Gain

Canadian and British troops scored advances of 10 to 15 miles in the chass of the battered German Seventh army toward the lower Seine from the disastrous Falaise trap. On the coast Canadians battled some seven miles across the Seine estuary from Le Havre. Germans in that port lobbed shells across the water.

U. S. units hit down the river toward the sea, bringing in the eastern jaw of the pincers. They menaced Emreux and Vernon, about 50 miles from the Seine's mouth.

Allied airmen declared the German retreat had appearances of a rout. By ferry and rubber boats, the enemy attempted to escape across the Seine at about 30 points, under a hail of bullets and cannon shells from low-swooping Allied planes.

40,000-50,000 Nazis Captured

Supreme headquarters declared 40,000 to 50,000 Germans had been captured in the Falaise pocket, with the Nazi dead still uncounted.

(One Berlin broadcast said the U. S. bridgehead across the lower Seine—presumably referring to the Mantes area 25 miles north-

New Landing Is Reported

Invasion Reported In Bordeaux Area

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Aug. 23.—A third French invasion landing, striking into southwestern France near Bordeaux, was reported today from the Spanish frontier. French military authorities at Hendaye, France, said the landing was begun last night under cover of a naval and aerial bombardment.

A dispatch written in Hendaye by Charles S. Foltz, chief of the Associated Press Madrid bureau who crossed the border into southern France after the Germans had evacuated frontier posts, quoted French military authorities as saying the landing was begun last night under cover of a naval and aerial bombardment.

The operation, the French officials said, was coordinated with a ground attack by American and French forces which effected a junction at noon yesterday on the outskirts of Bordeaux.

Planes Paved Way

The officials declared Allied planes had paved the way for the landing with a low level attack and that Allied warships had poured shells into Bordeaux for more than an hour.

The American troops participating in the assault from the landward side of the city were said to have driven southward from the Loire river, 17 miles to the north, while the French were armed division of volunteers which left Hendaye yesterday.

Foltz, who filed his dispatch through Spain after returning to the border, said explosions which sounded like an intense aerial and naval bombardment in the Bordeaux area were clearly audible in the Irun-Hendaye frontier re-

Roosevelt Orders Seizure Of Mines

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — President Roosevelt today ordered government seizure of the mines and other workings of the Philadelphia and Reading Coal and Iron company in the state of Pennsylvania because of "strikes, threatened strikes and other labor disturbances."

The White House, announcing the action had been taken on recommendation of War Mobilization Director Jomes F. Byrnes, authorized Secretary of the Interior Ickes to take charge of the properties.

The seizure was made "effective immediately" on a finding that there had been an "interruption of operations as a result of strikes, threatened strikes and other labor disturbances."

Weldon Squyres Is Missing In Action

T/5 and Mrs. Tom Squyres of 2512 Twenty-ninth street have been informed by the War department that their son S/Sgt. Weldon Squyres had been missing since Aug. 3 over Germany.

SQUYRES

He was a radio gunner on a Liberator bomber stationed in Italy and had made nine missions over enemy-held territory at the time he last wrote.

A brother is Lt. Thomas L. Squyres, 22, first pilot of a B-26 light bomber stationed at Buckingham field, Fla.

The father, lately returned from 24 months in England with the Army engineers, is home on a 10-day furlough from an Army hospital at Hot Springs.

S/Sgt. Squyres was a sophomore student of journalism in Texas Tech when he entered service in February of 1943, and was employed by Hilton hotel. He received radio training at Scott field, Ill., gunnery training at Kingman field, Ariz., and was assigned to his crew at Langley field, Va.

He sailed for overseas June 9.

'No Party Cleavage' Expected On Peace And Security Issues

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — A prediction that there will be "no party cleavage" over issues of peace and post-war security was made today by Senator Austin (R-Vt) after a conference with John Foster Dulles, foreign policy adviser to Gov. Thomas E. Dewey.

Austin, a member of the Senate foreign relations committee who has supported peace organization efforts leading to the current Soviet-British-American peace talks, and Senator Vandenberg, of Michigan, another Republican committee member, discussed international questions with Dulles before he went to the State department to confer with Secretary Hull.

Dulles came here as Dewey's representative after the Republican presidntial nominee had commented publicly upon the Dumbarton Oaks conference.

No Discord Expected

Leaving the private residence where Dulles is a guest, Austin said:

"I'm strengthened in my opinion that the campaign for president and vice president will not cast into the field of discussion any

Fifty Killed When Liberator Crashes

LONDON, Aug. 23. (AP)—An American bomber crashed flaming into the Lancashire village of Freckleton today, killing at least 50 persons, 34 of them small children at a church school. The toll may be much higher.

A British press association said the plane was a Liberator and that at least three of its crew were killed.

American troops joined in rescue work in the flaming wreckage of one of England's worst sky-ground tragedies.

An eyewitness said the whole center of the tiny village of 1,433 inhabitants became a "sea of flames" and added:

"I looked out from a shop window. There was a flash in the air and the plane, which was flying low, caught fire. It turned over on its back and struck the top of the school and then flashed across the road onto a snack bar."

There were 43 children at the school and few were reported taken alive from the wreckage.

Borrow A Horse, Get In Rodeo Parade Thursday, It Is Urged

Every man, woman and child who owns a horse, or can borrow one, will be in the line of march when the parade, marking the opening of the annual Boys club benefit rodeo, moves from the city hall Thursday morning.

The parade will leave the city hall at 10:30 o'clock, going south to Main, then west to Ave. L, south to Broadway, east to Ave. G, north to Main, west to Texas, then north to the city hall and be disbanded.

Participants will be decked out in gay western regalia, according to Porter Garrett, parade chairman, who announced that all plans for the parade have been completed.

Leading the parade will be Mayor O. W. Ribble and Sheriff Tom Abel, carrying the flags of the United States and Texas, followed by the official rodeo band under direction of Mike Sellen.

Immediately following the band will be "old timers" of the county and a chuck wagon, prairie schooners, and mounted cowboys and cowgirls. There is a possibility that some pack burros will be

Voluntary Quitting At Plant Discouraged

DALLAS, Aug. 23 (AP) — With North American Aviation workers leaving their jobs voluntarily at about the rate of 120 a day since the layoffs of last week, Orville W. Erringer, area director of the War Manpower commission, today urged that all remain on their jobs and await the orderly layoffs resulting from the cutback of NAA's B-24 contract.

"We are trying to discourage the voluntary quitting," Erringer said. "The orderly layoffs scheduled will permit the United States Employment service to place all workers in other jobs without delay. Otherwise some may have to wait."

Thirty-three hundred of a scheduled 3,687 workers were laid off at the NAA plant last week and so far about 2,000 of them have been to the USES office to obtain certificates of availability. About 20 per cent of them announced their intention of returning to their homes and taking up former occupations, Erringer said.

"It appears that a considerable number of the women laid off are returning to their jobs as housewives without troubling to go to the USES for certificates of availability," Erringer said.

An automotive concern has recently produced a new type personnel and supply carrier for the Army, capable of operating over snow, deep mud, sand or on paved highways and nicknamed the "Weasel."

Post-War 'Pay-Off Problem' Foreseen

Allied Forces Due To Carry 'Invasion Money' Into Reich

BY KARL R. BAUMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23—When Anglo-American forces sweep across Germany's frontiers, it's a pretty safe bet they will bring their "invasion money" with them.

"Invasion money" now is being used in France and Italy, will be used elsewhere.

"Invasion money" is printed by the Bureau of Engraving and Printing," turned over to military authorities. One question that never has been answered is who is going to pay for it in the end.

To Pay Off Differently

The pay-off will be handled differently with each country, since each had a different status. Italy, for example, started out as an enemy, became a co-belligerent; France was an ally which fell under the Axis heel, and Germany has been an out-and-out enemy.

Some day the diplomats and financial experts will sit down with each country and add up the credits and debits, financially and otherwise.

In the case of Italy, it might—and only might—go like this: The United States to take the "invasion money" that troops spent and that military commanders used to obtain supplies, etc., but that Italy would have to stand for the money used for such things as the maintenance of schools and salaries of local officials.

Might Give France Credit

France might be given a credit for the full amount of "invasion money" circulated there.

Germany might be told, among other things, that it was its job to pay off the "invasion money."

The idea behind "invasion money" is not as complicated as deciding who's to pay off eventually. The purpose is to provide troops and commanders with a medium of exchange for goods and services.

It's all according to international law which gives an occupying authority the right to provide for the currency needs of the area occupied.

The exchange rate is 100 lire to the dollar in Italy. In France, a dollar is worth 50 francs.

The first German prisoners of World War I were captured at Guam.

Faulty Film Nips Hopes To Settle Serpent Mystery

TWIN FALLS, Idaho, Aug. 23 (AP)—The mystery of western Idaho's legendary sea serpent will remain hidden in the rolling waves of picturesque Payette lake, at least for the present.

Reported seen at various times for 15 years, the monster rose to the surface a month ago and a half dozen persons caught a glimpse of it — it was snake-like, more than 30 feet long and greenish-yellow, they said.

B. L. Fagin, Twin Falls businessman, snapped pictures and expected to settle the serpent argument, once and for all.

But today, his face downcast, he said:

"The film was underexposed."

The film, processed at Chicago, was blank.

"But I still saw it and I was sober, too," Fagin commented to the Twin Falls Times-News.

A new types private two-seater plane will be offered on the post-war market with speeds as high as 117 miles an hour, over a maximum range of 525 miles, at 23 miles to one gallon of fuel.

Texas, Standard Form Exploration Company

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP) —The Texas Co. and Standard Oil Co. of California have formed jointly a company to direct exploration and development of properties in Egypt, New Zealand, Australia and the Netherland East Indies when freed from Japanese control.

The new company — American Eastern Petroleum Co. — will not control operations in Arabia and Bahrein island, those two places being in the scope of Bahrein Petroleum Co. and California-Arabian Co. which are also owned jointly by the Texas Co. and California Standard.

Officials said headquarters of the new company would be in San Francisco.

TEACHERS TO MEET

AUSTIN, Aug. 23 (AP) — Homemaking teachers gather here beginning tomorrow for a two-day conference which features clinic demonstrations of sewing, furniture repairing, preparation of food for quick freezing and restyling of clothing.

Two simple steps to amazing New STRENGTH

THESE two important steps may help you to overcome the discomforts or embarrassment of sour stomach, jerky nerves, loss of appetite, underweight, digestive complaints, weakness, poor complexion!

A person who is operating on only a 70 to 75% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 30 to 60% normal is severely handicapped.

So with ample stomach digestive juices PLUS RICH, RED-BLOOD you should enjoy that sense of well-being which denotes physical fitness . . . mental alertness!

If you are subject to poor digestion or suspect deficient red-blood as the cause of your trouble, yet have no organic complication or focal infection, SSS Tonic may be just what you need as it is especially designed (1) to promote the flow of VITAL DIGESTIVE JUICES in the stomach and (2) to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH when deficient.

Build Sturdy Health and Help America Win

Thousands and thousands of users have testified to the benefits SSS Tonic has brought to them and scientific research shows that it gets results—that's why so many say "SSS Tonic builds sturdy health—makes you feel like yourself again." At drug stores in 10 and 20 oz. sizes. S.S.S. Co.

CIO Said Trying To 'Buy' The Election

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—An American Federation of Labor publication declared today the CIO was trying to "buy" the November election because CIO President Philip Murray and Sidney Hillman "and their CIO followers are afraid their organization will fall apart and be wrecked when the post-war pinch comes."

The article in the AFL's weekly news service was written by Philip Pearl, AFL publicist, and gave what he described as the "real low-down" on the CIO's Political Action Committee, headed by Hillman.

Pearl declared the CIO is "basically insecure" and "is not in a position to withstand tough going." The Political Action Committee, Pearl asserted, does not "give a tinker's dam" for President Roosevelt or any other political candidate.

"The only hope for post-war survival of the CIO, its strategists figure," Pearl wrote, "is the election of a national administration so committed to the CIO that it will use the machinery of the government to support and perpetuate the CIO during a period when nothing else could hold it together. . . ."

Sixteen Counties In Area Top Quotas In Fifth War Loan

Total quotas in the recent Fifth War Loan drive were exceeded in 16 of 17 counties in the Lubbock territory and Series E quotas in 11, according to a report from state headquarters in Dallas Tuesday.

In the Lubbock-Amarillo federal reserve region, only two among 43 counties failed to reach their total quotas and only 12 fell short of the assigned Series E goals.

Region Exceeds Both Quotas

The region, taken as a whole, exceeded both quotas. Total sales were $34,485,357, or 129 per cent of the $29,685,000 quota. Series E sales were $9,867,267, or 105 per cent of the $9,385,000 goal.

For the entire state, total sales were $612,621,690, or 132 per cent of the $464,000,000 quota. Series E sales of $138,326,118 were 111 per cent of the $125,000,000 quota.

For the nation, figures were: total sales $20,639,000,000, quota $16,000,000,000, per cent 129; Series E sales $3,036,000,000, quota $3,000,000,000, per cent 101.

The record for South Plains counties follows:

U. S. Is Said Under Socialistic Rule

BEAUMONT, Aug. 23 (AP) — B. J. Peasley of Tyler, Republican candidate for governor, said at a GOP rally here that Americans are living under a national socialistic form of government and that the government's system of taxation is not for collecting revenue but for redistributing the wealth of the country."

Another speaker at the rally, held last night at the E. W. Brown estate on the Beaumont-Orange highway and attended by over 400 Republicans, was Lamar Cecil of Beaumont, GOP candidate for Congress to succeed Rep. Martin Dies (D-Texas).

Cecil said Democrats are deserting that party's ranks in protest against the utter disregard of the present regime for the rights of the people and of states' righs. No one family should be allowed to dominate the American way of life."

Other GOP leaders present included Walter Rogers, Dallas, state campaign manager; Marshall Kennedy, Fort Worth, Tarrant county chairman; Frank Malloy, Orange and B. F. Wampler and Mrs. C. B. Holloway of Port Arthur.

MOFFETT'S TOTAL CHANGED

AUSTIN, Aug. 23 (AP) — A recheck of votes in the July 22 Democratic primary election resulted in Ed Gossett, congressman from the 13th district of Texas, receiving 24,858 votes for renomination and his opponent, George Moffett, 23,493, said Charles Simons, secretary of the Democratic state committee.

Nazis' Fuel Stocks Cut By Air Attacks

HEADQUARTERS U. S. 15TH AIR FORCE, Aug. 20 (Delayed) (AP) —Systematic Allied bombing has cut gasoline production in Nazi-held Europe to 29 per cent of normal and Germany now has access to only about 235,000 tons monthly, one-third her estimated needs for maximum warfare, figures available here disclosed today.

The huge difference is believed to be far too great an amount to be supplied from reserve stocks.

The flow of fuel from the Balkans has been reduced to a trickle —about five per cent of the one-time output—and smashing air assaults against the refineries at Ploesti, Romania, have virtually wiped them off the books as an Axis fuel source.

Air raids on Romanian refineries over a four and a half month period have cost Great Britain and the United States 2,200 to 2,500 fliers and between 250 and 300 aircraft. As a result, however, 14 of Romania's 21 refineries have been put out of operation, including every major production unit.

Childless Couples Can't Rent House

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 23 (AP) —Househunters seeking to rent the home of Mrs. Hugh Clark have been turned away one after another—because they had no children.

Mrs. Clark, mother of a two-year-old, sees no reason why a perfectly good sandpile and a baby bed should stand idle.

In World War I 791,000 American soldiers disembarked at Brest.

A Switch in Time saved Mine...

Goofy, am I?

Go ahead—that's your privilege—thinking I'm just plain hipped on everlastingly keeping this engine's insides OIL-PLATED with Conoco Nth oil. Maybe there is and maybe there isn't sixty other ways that would have kept engine acids from raising Ned with this pre-Pearl Harbor limousine. But one thing I know is this: it's still running swell on nothing but Conoco Nth motor oil. You needn't be a scientist to know that acids from every explosion are forever trying to spoil an engine. Looks like the proper idea is to try blockading those acids by getting your engine OIL-PLATED. I learned there's a modern synthetic in Conoco Nth oil that reminds you of magnetism, because it makes inside surfaces attract a shield of OIL-PLATING. Acids can't so easily tear right into this. Then your OIL-PLATED engine has an extra chance to last you. When new cars arrive, hurray! But a real advanced improvement right now is to switch to Conoco Nth oil, see.

Ceiling Price Raised Slightly On Peanuts

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—The Office of Price administration has announced a slight increase in growers' ceiling prices for peanuts, but said the boost would not affect retail prices of peanuts or peanut butter.

The growers' increase, effective Aug. 28, covers farmers's stock peanuts of the 1944 crop. It was granted, OPA said, to reflect parity of .0816 cents a pound to farmers.

OPA gave these examples of the new F. O. B. price ceilings:

Spanish type southeastern type peanuts $174 a ton, southwestern type $171.50 a ton, each having a 70 per cent shell-out of sound nature kernels; $156.50 a ton of runner and other types, and $168.50 a ton for Virginia and Valencia types having 65 per cent shell-out.

There are 2,000 Army libraries, in which 15,000,000 books are available.

Lumber For Farmers Is Made Available

Farmers who buy lumber in Lubbock county now are entitled to get small amounts for essential maintenance and repair of implements and farm service buildings, simply by signing an application at the lumber yard, R. A. Boyd, chairman of the county Agricultural Conservation association committee, said.

Three hundred board feet is the largest amount that can be obtained from the dealer without first getting a farmers' lumber certificate, Boyd said.

Methods Prescribed

Any farmer who needs more than 300 board feet of lumber should apply to the county Agricultural Adjustment administration office for a certificate. The committee has authority to issue farmers' lumber certificates for essential maintenance and repair use and for new construction (other than residences) where the cost is not more than $1,000 per farm per calendar year. The committee also will issue certificates for lumber needed for emergencies. For construction which must be approved by War Production board, the ACA committee receives farmers' applications and makes recommendations but does not issue certificates.

Farmers' lumber certificates rank as "certified and rated" orders, with ratings as high as any assigned to non-military users, Boyd stated. Dealers can use the ratings when they place orders. "In fact," he said, "these ratings offer the only opportunity to keep enough lumber in the county to meet our essential farm needs."

The ACA committee can only issue ratings to farmers. All off-farm lumber certificates must be issued by the WPB at El Paso, Boyd said.

Prizes Offered

Of course the working cowhands, the Lubbock inhabitants and vistors whose hobby is riding are expected to "steal the show," he said. Horses have been groomed, silver polished, and bridles briskly rubbed. Riders will wear brilliant-hued shirts and neckerchiefs, gay trousers and large western hats.

First and second prizes will be offered to both men and women riding in the parade. To be judged are horsemanship, most typical cowboys, mount, and equipment. A cowboy who leads a pack horse with bed roll tied in place properly will receive due consideration, Garrett said.

Women riders will be judged on horsemanship and attire.

Brief Bits Of Local News

A fine of $400 and costs of court were assessed in county court when M. O. Sanders, 43, pleaded guilty of drunkenness charged in a complaint asking an enhanced penalty because of a former conviction in a similar case.

Two Ralls youths, 17, were arrested on charges of indecent exposure in a downtown alley, police said this morning.

Mrs. Irvy Ayers of Chillicothe, mother of Cecil Ayers, member of the Texas Tech agriculture faculty, died in a Vernon hospital early today, according to word received here. She had been ill only a short time. The body is at the Underwood Funeral home in Vernon and funeral services are scheduled Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Methodist church at Chillicothe. Besides the husband, the Lubbock son, a daughter and a cousin, Mrs. C. D Hall of Lubbock, survive. Several Tech faculty members plan to attend the funeral.

Pallbearers for funeral services of Roger C. Odom, 68, who died of a heart attack Monday afternoon, will be Sam Hardwick, Erle Thompson, C. E. Love, B. F. Hodges, M. W. Waldron and J. E. Henderson. Honorary pallbearers will be members of the Horn Bible class. Services will be conducted at 10 a. m. Thursday in the First Methodist church with Dr. H. I. Robinson officiating.

Lt. Richard L. Rist, husband of the former Jean Bardwell of Lubbock, who was reported by the War department to be missing in action since Aug. 4, is believed to be a prisoner of war in Germany. The belief was expressed in a letter to Mrs. Rist from a fellow officer in England, who reported seeing Lt. Rist's plane land in water near small ships in an undisclosed area. The officer said he believed Lt. Rist was safe. Aug. 4 was date of a raid by 1,200 U. S. heavies on Nazi targets ranging from Kiel to the rocket coast of France.

Mrs. Ray C. Mowery, 2908 Twentieth, left this morning for Comanche, Okla., to be with her father, J. E. Cox, who suffered a heart attack Sunday night.

Airline prospects for Lubbock and the South Plains were discussed by A. B. Davis, manager of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, at the weekly luncheon of Lubbock Rotary club in Hilton hotel. He was introduced by George Pratas, program chairman. Visiting Rotarians were J. M. Rankin, Ralls; Bill Fulton, Globe, Ariz. and J. Y. Morton, Levelland. Cecil Cale, vice president of the club, presided in the absence of C. A. Bestwick, president.

Tropical Hurricane Heads For Mexico

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23 (AP) — The United States Weather bureau said at 9 a. m. today that indications were the hurricane in the lower section of the gulf would continue its west-northwestward movement and reach the Mexican coast near Tampico tonight.

The 9 a. m. advisory said the storm apparently was central near latitude 21 degrees 30 minutes and longitude 94 degrees 30 minutes, or about 240 miles east-southeast of Tampico, moving west-northwestward 15 to 18 miles per hour.

"Strongest winds are estimated about 85 miles per hour near the center," the advisory said, "with gales extending over an area of about 100 miles north of center."

"High winds and tides will set in late this afternoon on the coast, extending from vicinity of Tampico to a distance of 150 to 175 miles northward," the advisory said.

The disturbance, which started forming a week ago in the Lesser Antilles, moved across the Caribbean, striking Jamaica and the Lucatan tip and entering the Bay of Campeche at the lower extremity of the Gulf of Mexico last night. Reports from Jamaica said extensive damage was caused to banana and other crops.

The first Marine officer who reported for duty aboard a Navy ship was Lt. John Trevett, who boarded the Columbus in 1775.

Plans For Saturday Election Forming

Members of Lubbock county Democratic executive committee will meet at 3 o'clock Friday afternoon in the courthouse to receive last minute instructions and election supplies for Saturday's second primary election, L. C. Ellis, chiarman, said.

Everything will be ready by that time, Ellis said, adding that commmitteemen will be urged at the meeting to get returns in to him at an early hour Saturday night.

Absentee balloting totaled 250—less than half the number cast in the first democratic primary election at the Tuesday midnight deadline, it was announced by Deputy County Clerk Louie Moore. Voting in absentia in the first primary totaled 600, Moore said.

Have a Coca-Cola = Let's work refreshed

... or a helping hand on the farm
Helping to feed America means long hours in the fields ... endless tasks to perform. All the more welcome, then, is the friendly pause for an ice-cold Coca-Cola. Have a "Coke", says a farm companion, and it means Let's work refreshed. In country home or city dwelling, frosty bottles of "Coke" belong in the icebox. Across America, Coca-Cola stands for the pause that refreshes,—a symbol of kindly hospitality.

FDR Asks That Aid Plan Be Continued

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — President Roosevelt told Congress today that lend-lease aid should continue until the unconditional surrender of both Japan and Germany.

Apparently taking note of statements by some persons in and out of Congress that this vast program of Allied aid should be curtailed or dropped after Germany is defeated, the chief executive, in forwarding a quarterly report to Congress placing lend-lease help through June 30 at $28,270,351,000, asserted:

"We should not permit any weakening of this system of combined war supply to delay final victory a single day or to cost unnecessarily the life of one American boy.

Wants Power Unabridged

"Until the unconditional surrender of both Japan and Germany, we should continue the lend-lease program on whatever scale is necessary to make the combined striking power of all the United Nations against our enemies as overwhelming and as effective as we can make it.

The president said lend-lease is playing a vital role in current offensives that find the Allies "moving relentlessly along the roads which lead to Berlin and Tokyo."

The last time the question arose as to the life of lend-lease was Aug. 7. Then, a report was issued by the National Association of Manufacturers saying British officials were insisting on keeping lend-lease alive after Germany gives up.

Says Britain Silent

The report caused a flurry in congressional circles and caused the State department to declare: "The British government has not raised with us the future of lend-lease."

The lend-lease act was extended this year until June 30, 1945. Some legislators have said this government should not be too hasty about extending it again if Germany collapses meantime. Certain government officials, though, have felt the act should continue to apply to Britain after the war has been reduced to operations against Japan, while others believe the aid should go to countries in the European theater only to the extent that it directly helps to defeat Japan.

The latest report placed the value of lend-lease supplies and services at $4,045,000,000 for the quarter ended June 30. The total of more than $28,000,000,000 covered the period from March 11, 1941, when the act was first passed, to June 30 last, and represented about 15 per cent of all American production for defense and war.

In addition, $678,241,000 worth of supplies have been consigned to American commanding generals in the field for subsequent lend-lease transfer to Allied forces.

Reverse lend-lease was estimated in value at more than $3,000,000,000. The report emphasized, however, that ultimate measurement of aid given and received could be found only in terms of battles won, enemies killed and captured, and hundreds of thousands of lives saved, rather than in dollar figures.

In explanation of the great preponderance of aid given over that received, the report said our geographical position ("the United States has never been bombed") and material strength have called upon us to give most toward winning the war in production and in money, while our major Allies are giving more in lives, destruction of their homelands, and in suffering of their people.

Aid furnished since the lend-lease program began nearly three and a half years ago includes 30,900 planes, 15 per cent of American output. Allies purchased another 7,000 for cash and the United States retained 175,000.

This country also has leased 1,400 naval vessels of all types, the great majority being landing craft, PT boats and the like, but including a "few score" larger combat vessels, such as convey escort aircraft carriers and corvettes.

Evidence Heard In Pugh Case

TAHOKA, Aug. 23 (Special)—Testimony in the murder trial of L. B. (Bud) Pugh got under way this morning in district court here before special Judge J. E. Garland.

The state's fourth witness, Roy Burns, was on the stand at 11 o'clock. Others were Mrs. Con Burns, "Shorty" Fisher and Will Jones.

After the prosecution and defense counsel had exhausted all but 15 of a special venire of 100 men in a drawn-out session which began at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning, a jury was completed at 8 o'clock Tuesday night to hear evidence in the trial.

Charged In Shooting

Pugh, a wrecking yard proprietor, of O'Donnell, is charged with murder with malice in connection with the shooting in June of Deputy Sheriff Con Burns.

Members of the jury are Howton Haire, Harlan Dikes, W. C. Nieman, Archie Reece, W. W. Haygood, Tom Lishman, Leon Fails, M. L. Kenley, Oscar Roberts, D. C. Nieman, H. H. Hewlett and Jess Joplin.

District Attorney Rollin McCord is assisted by Calloway Huffaker, Lynn county attorney. Members of the defense counsel are Truett Smith, former district attorney, and County Judge Tom Garrard.

The human heart varies in weight from eight to 12 ounces.

Speedy Bootlegger Sans Pants Shows Rare Running Form

MATADOR, Aug. 23 (Special)—Motley County Sheriff H. H. Courtney didn't get a certain bootlegger — but he has his pants, money, whisky and automobile.

Douglas Meador, Matador publisher, gave this account of the story, which included surprise elements of a pantless man racing down Paducah's main, well-lighted thorofare:

Sheriff Courtney learned the bootlegger had gone through Matador eastward on highway 16. Recalling a time when the man in a light car had run completely away from the sheriff's high-powered heavy automobile, Courtney telephoned Sheriff A. A. Payne of Paducah, 30 miles away.

". . . better hurry if you want to get him — he sure moves."

Sheriff Payne can moce too—and did. He arrested the man and led him into a bakery and put in a telephone call to Courtney.

Courtney heard a commotion at the other end of the line and "figgered an oven or something had turned over." Th phone connection was broken.

Courtney went to Paducah to get his man.

He found Sheriff Payne holding all that was left of the bootlegger, who had attempted to break loose and run.

Run he did — pants or no pants — right down the middle of the lighted street until he reached an alley.

He hasn't been heard from since, Meador said.

Not Many Speeches To Be Made--Truman

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 23 (AP)—Senator Truman (D-Mo), Democratic nominee for vice-president, declared today that "the Republicans don't have anything to do but throw bricks," but that he doubted there would be much speech-making either by President Roosevelt or himself in the election campaign.

Making preparations for a flying trip to Chicago where he expects to address the national convention of the Veterans of Foreign Wars tomorrow, Truman said that he had only two campaign speeches scheduled before he returns to Washington September 5.

"The President is too busy running the war and I have a job to do in the Senate," the nominee said.

The number of women employed in Canadian war plants has increased to 419,000 from 144,00 in 1939.

Tires Wear Out twice as fast at 90°

WHEN YOU SUFFER with the heat, remember that your tires really sizzle on the road . . . because road-surfaces are usually 25° hotter than air temperatures.

This frying-pan heat saps the strength of rubber . . . produces doubled wear as the thermometer rises from 60° to 90° . . . and multiplies tire-failure by twenty per cent.

Obviously, you and every other patriotic driver, want to get every bit of precious mileage remaining in your present set of tires. That is why we bring you these authoritative suggestions:

Avoid hot-road driving as much as you can . . . Drive at slower speeds . . . Don't over-inflate tires, but avoid under-inflation as you would a plague . . . And don't neglect to have your tires cross-switched every 3,000 miles.

Your Phillips 66 Service Man is anxious and waiting to help you. Give him the opportunity, at least once a week, to check air pressures . . . to inspect for nail holes, cuts, and bruises . . . to examine tires so he can warn you when re-capping is advisable.

Detroit, Cleveland Next For Browns

Leaders Win Only 7 Out Of Last 16

(By The Associated Press)

Emerging from the final eastern invasion with a slight limp and new respect for the Philadelphia A's and Washington Senators, the league-leading St. Louis Browns headed home via Detroit and Cleveland today bolstered by a 4½ game lead and a friendly pat on the back from the schedule makers.

All American league clubs enjoy an open date today and only a Chicago at St. Louis night game is listed in the National as clubs change scenery to open a month of scrapping in their own areas before the final intersectional series.

Have 23 Games At Home

With 34 games to play, the Browns schedule calls for 23 at home and only five road dates after they complete the impending series in Detroit and Cleveland. The Tigers, likewise, finish at home but trail by six lengths and have dropped to fourth place. New York has 13 home dates in its last 37 and Boston has to hit the road for 27 of its remaining 35 tilts.

Johnny Niggeling blanked the Brownies last night in Washington, 3-0, as the Sewell men wound up their trip with the unimpressive score of seven wins in 16 games. A scrap between Nels Potter and George Case touched off a free-for-all among the players in the seventh inning.

Bosox Miss Chance

Boston missed a chance to gain in falling before Cleveland again, when Steve Gromek outsteadied the wild Emmett O'Neill. Detroit, the western club with the best record in the East, slid down below the New Yorkers in bowing 9-7 at the Yankee stadium. Hal Newhouser failed in his search for win No. 21, losing to Rookie Mel Queen who needed a parade of relief help to hold the edge.

Russ Christopher took his seventh straight, the longest streak of the year in the American, when he hurled Philadelphia to a 5-1 victory over Chicago's Johnny Humphries.

Pirates Continue Streak

Pittsburgh continued to rush headlong in mad but futile pursuit of the Cardinals. The Pirates trimmed Brooklyn, 7-5, their 17th win in the last 18 games, but lost ground to St. Louis as the defending champs upped their lead to 17 games by twice trimming Boston 7-4 and 2-1. Harry Brecheen notched his 13th triumph at Jim Tobin's expense and Max Lanier outpointed Al Javery with a one-hitter, a scratch single off Whitey Kurowski's glove by Butch Neiman in the first inning.

Cincinnati split with the Phils on Tom Delacruz' five-hit, 5-1 job in the second game after Ron Northey's 15th home had given Bill Lee a 4-3 edge in the first. New York copped the season series from Chicago by staggering to a 9-8 victory with the Cubs threatening until the very end.

Sports Roundup

BY HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 — One southeastern football coach claims his first task every morning is to "check the hotels to see who is in town and then try to keep players away from them." That may be a slight exaggeration, but this corner's spy in that territory reports a "regular epidemic of player snatching." . . . Unless the Yankees come through with a last-minute spurt, this season will be only the eighth in 24 years that no New York team has made the World Series grade. In that stretch 22 Gotham clubs have appeared in the Series . . . When Connecticut jumped the National Boxing association in order to recognize Hartford's Willie Pep as world featherweight champ, it took a big load off the tongues of fight announcers, who had to use doubletalk every time they introduced Willie in his home state. Now Commissioner Barney Coskey's big job will be to get Pep to defend his title for less than $30,000.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

Bob Stedler, Buffalo, N. Y., Evening News: "All seven of the proposed new professional football leagues want to include Los Angeles as a member and all claim to have financial support. Are there that many movie stars willing to lose money so as to avoid paying taxes?"

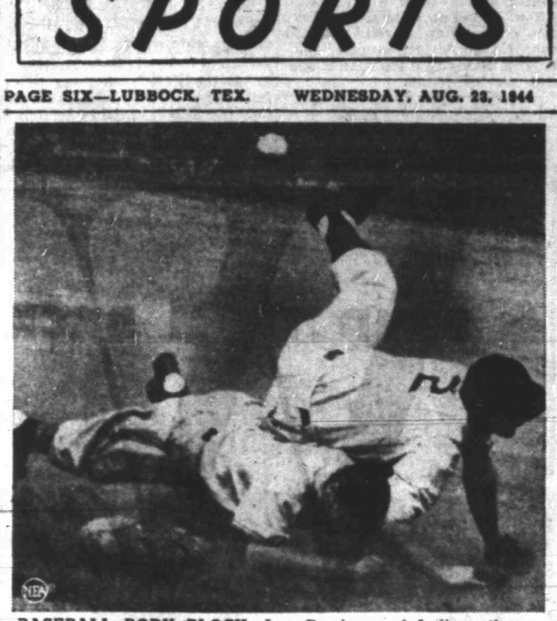

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

When Henry Thomas drove Yankee Maid to victory in the Hambletonian, owner A. L. Derby handed him a check for $3,500 and Henry Knight, who bred the filly, added $1,000. . . . What's this report that Fritz Crisler has picked Lt. Comdr. Tony Hinkle as the coach to bring Michigan a Big Ten basketball title after the war? Vanderbilt, the only Southeastern conference college not playing formal football this fall, is considering another "informal" team, but only 17 boys answered the first call. Claude "Lad" Ellison, young heavyweight who has scored nine straight knockouts, is being billed as "Pinkie George's new secret weapon." Guess who calls him that? After watching one inning of Ray Dumont's reverse-running ball game, Pete Reiser left with the remark: "In Brooklyn they do it for keeps. Here they're only kidding."

SERVICE DEPT.

Ens. Bill Hulse, who runs miles, and Lt. Bill Dickey, who hits 'em a mile, are to be graduated today from the naval indoctrination school at Fort Schuyler, N. Y. Cpl. Tony Samarzia, former Northwestern U. tackle who'll perform for the Second Army Air force Superbombers this fall, is said to have considerable promise as an opera singer. Maybe he can relieve the coach of the blues-singing job. Reports from Bethesda, Md., naval hospital say that Dynamite Gus Sonnenberg, the old rassler, has gained about 20 pounds and is looking much better. When Capt. Maurice "Slipper" Smith, ex-Villanova coach, took over as athletic officer at the Cherry Point, N. C., Marine air station recently, his first query was about football prospects. T/Sgt. Big Jim McMurdo had the situation well in hand.

Slammin' Sammy Snead's All-Time Record 'Take' May Be Topped In Tam O'Shanter

CHICAGO, Aug. 23 (AP) — That all-time record take of $19,600 by Slammin' Sammy Snead, along professional golf's money circuit in 1938 may be topped in the 72-hole All-American open starting tomorrow at Tam O'Shanter.

Three favorites in George S. May's golf extravaganza — Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the defending champion and top money winner of 1944; Byron Nelson and Sammy Byrd — are within striking distance of the long-hitting Snead's financial success of six years ago.

Byrd, the tremendous hitter who deserted professional baseball for golf and has picked up bonds with a cash value of $10,500 this season, must win the open's $10,100 (cash value) first prize money, but those "Gold Dust Twins" — McSpaden and Nelson — could pass Snead by taking the $2,750 cash third prize.

The three big money winners were idle today except for practice shots as approximatly 150 non-exempt professionals battled through 18 holes for 40 places open in the 72-hold championship engagement. All money winners here in 1943 former P. G. A. and U. S. Open champions and various members of the armed services were not requestd to participate in the professional qualifying test.

The amateurs and the ladies — also involved in 72-hole medal play activity starting tomorrow—finished their qualifying business yesterday.

TENNIS TOURNEY SET

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP)—Lt. Gilbert Hunt and Pfc. David Freeman are the newest entrants in the national tennis tournament to be decided at the west side club, Forest Hills, Aug. 30 to Sept. 4 from among the ranks of servicemen-athletes. Lt. Don McNeill, national champion in 1940, already has announced he will play.

VANDALIA, O., Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Approximately 1,000 trapshooters were on hand here today for the opening of the 45th annual grand American trapshooting tournament and a shot at the $50,000 in prize money.

Cats Win 2-0 Without Hits

Even a no-hit performance was not good enough to keep the Hemphill-Wells Cats from clinching the title in the second half of the junior baseball National league, and the Cats defeated Purina Mills, 2-0, Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field, without the aid of one base knock.

Don Blackmon's two-hit shutout nullified Norman Teague's no-hit performance when errors provided the Cats with the winning runs.

Teague had one bad inning, the third, when Hemphill-Wells pushed over both runs. After one base on balls, LeMond dropped a third strike, then threw wild over first to let in the first run. An error at first base followed, to allow the second run to trickle across the plate.

Hurled Steady Ball

Teague struck out two and walked two, and hurled steady ball all the way. He was given some great assistance by Jerry Crawford, Purina second sacker, who had a great day around second, handling eight chances without an error, and playing in sensational style.

But Blackmon had no bad innings as he limited the Millers to two hits, both of them singles, and breezed the third strike by 12 Purina batters. Dean Galey and Pat Fulton collected the only safe hits of the ball game.

Arrangements for the playoff between the Bill Dean's Service, first half winners, and Hemphill-Wells, second half winners, have not been completed, but a single game for the championship will probably be played next week.

Fischer And Sachse To Lead Longhorns

AUSTIN, Aug. 23 (AP) — Co-captains for the 1944 University of Texas Longhorn football team are Guard Harold Fischer of San Antonio and Center Jack Sachse of Electra.

Coach Dana Bible yesterday announced appointment of the two men, both of whom played football at Southwestern university at Georgetown, are two-year lettermen at Texas and have received medical discharges from the Marines.

Aerial Feud Is Brewing For All-Stars' Bout With Bears

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 23 (AP)—Perhaps the greatest aerial feud in the annual all-star football game's 11-year history was brewing today as the Chicago Bears welcomed Merchant Mariner Sid Luckman back into the fold at their Collegeville, Ind., training quarters.

If Luckman — passer de luxe for the Bears the past five seasons — is in form by next Wednesday when the professional champions collide with the college all-stars here, the sling-shot wizardry of Tulsa's heralded Glenn Dobbs will be superbly matched.

Quarterback Luckman happily surprised the Bears yesterday with the announcement he had a 10-day leave from his base at Sheepshead Bay, Brooklyn, N. Y., and was itching to play against the all-stars.

Last year Dobbs stole the show from injury-plagued Sammy Baugh of the Washington Redskins in the all-star fracas, completing nine of 13 passes for 116 yards and tossing a touchdown in the 27-7 rout of the pros.

LAAF All-Stars Upset SPAAF Varieties, 9-3

The South Plains Army Air field Varieties, favorites to take the city softball tournament honors as they did in the regular league, were eliminated in the semi-final round Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field by the Lubbock Army Air field All-Stars, 9 to 3.

The game was a nip and tuck battle between the pitching stars of the two teams, Hayes for LAAF and Rains for SPAAF, but the game was decided in the seventh inning crack up of the defense of the North Base lads. Both pitchers allowed only three units.

The All-Stars took the lead in the second inning, but through six rounds, the SPAAF lads continued to breath down their necks in a dangerous manner.

But the entire picture was changed in the wild seventh frame when SPAAF errors allowed five unearned runs to trickle over the plate and eliminate the season's league champions from the tournament picture.

Every Army division going abroad carries with it an 8,000-book library.

Army-Navy Game Due To Be 'Re-Glamorized'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — Rep. Sammy Weiss, possibly the most avid sports enthusiast in Congress, believes the armed forces are about to give the Army-Navy football classic back to the people, taking a tip in morale-building from the British.

Government restrictions have required the spectacle to be staged the last two war years at either West Point or Annapolis strictly for home consumption but Weiss said today this year's game probably will be held in a major eastern city with everybody officially welcome.

"I've been talkiug with some of the service officials and it looks pretty certain the game will be presented in all its pre-war glory this fall," said Weiss, Pennsylvania Democrat whoes hobby is refereeing professional grid games.

His guess for the locale is either New York or Philadelphia.

ABC Eliminated By Optimists

The Optimist club's junior baseballers eliminated the American Business club nine, and regained first place in the American league with a 12 to 8 decision Tuesday afternoon at Tech field.

Denny Davidson pitched the win for the Otimists, and turned in a six-hit pitching performance for the victory. He was given an early lead by his mates, and after allowing a pair of runs in the first inning, appeared to be coasting in with and easy win.

But the scrappy ABC nine refused to be counted out so easily, and staged an uprising in the last of the seventh that produced six runs before they could be snuffed out. The rally fell four runs short of the tie, but showed the ABC lads still had plenty of fight in them.

McCullum started on the mound for the ABC, but was pounded hard in the early innings, and turned the pitching duties over to Jackson, who finished the game.

Both clubs scored twice in the first inning, then the Optimists began to pull away with a five run barrage in the second. The Optimists added another in the third and fourth, then finished off their offensive with a final trio of runs in the sixth.

Waco Air Field To Meet Camp Hulen

HOUSTON, Aug. 23 (AP)—Waco's Army Air field Wolves tonight meet Camp Hulen in the Houston Post semi-pro baseball tournament and can tie for the lead with a victory over the Hulen team. Bryan Army Air field meets Lindale Park in the second game and the loser bows out of the tourney.

Waco, 1943 champion of the tournament, last night downed the Rapid Blue Print team 7-0.

Pounding Tony Freitas for 12 hits, Baytown's Humble Oilers won the closing game last night from Ellington field, 6-3.

THAT the CIO's so-called "Political Action committee" has fallen on its face in Texas is indicated by the trend of the run-off primary of the Democratic party in this state. Candidates unfortunate enough to have been given the "blessing" of the PAC—and some doubtless are innocent victims of left wing labor's lust for power—are disclaiming any love for, or connection with, the group headed by foreign-born Sidney Hillman. Their opponents, naturally, are pointing to the Hillman "blessing" because they believe that "blessing" will turn votes away from PAC's choices and to themselves.

The whole situation would be amusing if it did not tend to puzzle Texans who want to be loyal Democrats from top to bottom, yet who realize it does them no good to "scratch" CIO choices for state offices then, in the general election, vote for the national ticket marked "Democratic."

What Southerners in general and Texans in particular must realize is that the CIO's "Political Action committee" is a department of the Roosevelt fourth term organization; that it is just a much a part of the New Deal political setup as is the Democratic National committee.

What profiteth a real Democrat to "scratch" a state candidate "approved" by the Hillman mob, and then cast a vote for the national ticket of which Hillman & Co are part and parcel?

Aye, that is the question—the question which from now to November 7 will have many Texans butting their heads into brick walls!

THERE'S nothing very sensational about men's drawers. But there is considerable importance to a lack of 'em—and that's what the U. S. has in large quantities right now, a scarcity of gentlemen's lower lingerie.

Fact is, we know a Lubbock man who was on a fishing trip in Colorado a week or so ago and who ran out of shorts.

His first stop in civilization was Colorado Springs, a bustling little resort city of around 35,000 souls, so he figured he'd replenish his supply there.

Colorado Springs, he found, was fresh out of men's drawers, so he did the next best thing. He bought a pair of pajamas, threw the coat away, cut off the pants to shorts length and wore 'em home in the conventional manner, underneath his trousers.

This is the absolute truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth.

Intrigued at the possibilities o fa nation-wide shorts shortage, we got Retha Reginald Martin, sr., in a corner the other day and asked for the picture. Mr. Martin is the handsome young man who is the operating partner of the 14-unit Dunlap stores scattered over Oklahoma, Texas and New Mexico. As such he has a lively interest in men's underwear.

Mr. Martin confessed that men's shorts are scarce as hen's teeth and likely will be until next spring. Assuming the Krautheads are whupped down sometime in late fall and winter, he anticipates an end to the shortage by the time the grass starts greening in 1945.

He says Lubbock merchants generally haven't reached the crying stage and there are enough of the garments to fairly well take care of the trade here. However, he says it is a matter of fact and record that there isn't much choice in material or construction, not to mention color and design. Much of the country, he avers, has a pretty bad shortage.

THERE are various and sundry contributing factors to the shorts sshortage. In the first place, a lot of looms are busy on other materials. In the second place, the government has been taking much of the output for soldiers, sailors, Marines and Coast Guardsmen. And in the third place, the OPA has done such a good job in keeping prices of the garments down that manufacturers can't make much on gents' shorts, hence don't give a hoot whether they turn them out, or not.

No man with as many as eight or 10 pairs of shorts, however, should read this and then rush out to buy up a gob, thereby aiding and abetting the shortage. If a man has enough pairs in good enough shape to last a few months, he'll be better off not buying excessively now, because spring should provide him with better garments and, of course, with a wider color and pattern selection if there are any men who care about either the colors or the appearance of their drawers.

We've heard for years that the Lubbock Rotary club is made up of a lot of doddering old men, while the Lubbock Kiwanis club is composed of lithe and dashing youngsters, all with their original teeth and hair and without a "bay window" in a trainload.

We've never believed it. We don't believe it now. However, we will admit that apparently the Kiwanians have younger ideas, on the whole, than the Rotarians.

We were over at Kiwanis club meeting the other day for the first time in several years and noticed that all the "boys," including the numerous grandfathers present, had their hair slicked down and were wearing coast.

The only reason we can ascribe to this personal and sartorial splendor is that Kiwanis International has stopped publishing its own magazine and is sending Esquire to all its members, instead.

Esquire isn't necessarily a magazine for young men. Its pictures appeal, we're informed, also to men with young ideas.

(Note to either Dr. Jack M. Lewis, or George P. Kuykendall: How about borrowing your copy when you're through with it?)

NOW that Lt. Gen. George S. Patton, jr., is a hero again—and is being cheered for, instead of jerred at, by the fickle public—we can quote a Lubbock boy who served under Patton in Italy and came home a couple of weeks after the sensational "slapping" story broke in the American press.

Said the Lubbock soldier:

"I'd rather be slapped in the face by General Patton than be patted on the back by a lot of those other generals. He's a real soldier and he shares the risks with his men."

Incidentally, a frailty of human nature and stupidit yon the part of Army cencors are to blame for much of the furore over the "slapping" episode.

Practically everybody in Italy, including all the war correspondents, knew about the affair but the military cencors sought to hide it from the American public by refusing to permit transmission of it. Thus, when the story eventually leaked out on this side of the pond—as even a military censor should have been smart enought to know it would—editors, whether commendably or not, used it to beat home the fact that news will come out no matter whose face gets red in the process. The incident ,therefore, attracted much more attention and got a lot bigger "play than it would have had it been cleared, normally, at the time it occurred.

Refusing transmission of the story was both dumb and highhanded on the part of the censors, since it in no way endangered the lives of fighting men, or gave away any military secrets to the enemy.

Feminine Viewpoint

BY RUTH MILLETT
(Copyright, 1944, For The Journal)

NEW YORK now has a night school course designed to teach proper manners to dogs. Both thoroughbreds and mutts are enrolled in the course which lasts ten weeks and is sponsored by the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. The society thinks that people in general will feel more kindly toward dogs, if dog owners will demand obedience and good manners from their pets.

MILLETT

This new approach toward making dogs more acceptable ought to be a challenge to the parents of small children. For without any higher education dogs are given preference over children by many landlords.

And now, if dogs are to be thoroughly schooled in etiquette and decorum—kids won't have a chance.

Not, that is, unless parents decide that it is just as important for children as for dogs to be socially acceptable.

A while back when I wrote several indignant columns jumping on landlords who subscribed to the snooty, unfeeling "no children" rule, letters from property owners poured in telling me of their sad experiences in renting to families with noisy, destructive children. After one or two such headaches, they said, they turned to the "no children" rule in self defense.

PETS VS. CHILDREN

IF their tales of woe were not exaggerated, then children are in as sad need of being taught to obey, to respect property, and to avoid being nuisances to grown-ups as are pets.

And if parents let pet owners get the jump on them by giving their pets better training than children are getting kids are going to suffer. And so will parents, for wouldn't it be an awful blow to think a neighbor's pup had better manners than one's own two-year-old?

It is the belief in India that all animals are entitled to their share of the earth's substance, with the result that rats and other pests do immense damage. Here we try to eliminate them.

Today's Journal Editorial

A TERRIFYING DECISION

The reiterated expressions of determination, like one by the President a few days ago, that Germany and Japan must be occupied before the present war can end means, beyond question, that additional lives must be sacrificed before there can be hope of victory.

Obviously, many will die in behalf of total victory who would live if the Allies would agree to an early conditional peace. It would be idle to try to pretend otherwise. Likewise, it would be idle to try to pretend that complete victory can offer much consolation to the additional men who will die to make total victory possible. Doubtless if those men and their loved ones were consulted, they would prefer life with a conditional peace to death before total victory.

But, terrifying though the decision may be, there can be no question that the Allies overwhelmingly, including the members of the fighting forces, realize this war must not stop short of the unconditional surrender and occupation of the aggressor nations. They realize that the expenditure of comparatively a few additional lives now may save millions of lives later—may save free mankind from enslavement. They appreciate now that, if a few more lives had been expended in World War I in order to complete the occupation of Germany and to bring home there the realization of defeat they might have saved the world from War II.

A few more lives given then might have saved the millions who have died in the present struggle. A few additional lives to make sure that the job is complete in this war may save millions from suffering, death or enslavement further down the line.

Even so, the decision is terrifying. It is terrifying to insist that the war must be prolonged to total victory when common sense tells us that such insistence is likely to be a death penalty for thousands of additional men. But it is a decision that must be made—that has been made—with the consoling knowledge that the comparative few will die in order that multitudes may live.

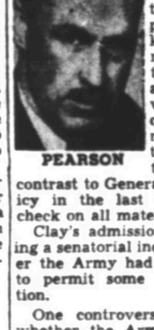

Army Lacks Record Of Frontline Materials

Washington Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Gen. Lucius Clay made a startling admission at last week's secret session of the Truman (now Mead) committee. He admitted that, aside from about 100 types of articles, the War department did not have a record of the quantity of supplies it had sent to the front.

In other words, huge quantities of supplies may be piling up at the front without the Army knowing how much is in various theatres. General Clay said that the Army's policy was to keep forwarding regular quantities of supplies at regular intervals, regardless of what was already there. Sentors pointed out that this was in contrast to General Pershing's policy in the last war of keeping check on all materiel.

PEARSON

Clay's admission came out during a senatorial inquiry into whether the Army had enough supplies to permit some civilian production.

One controversial point wa: whether the Army now has sufficient small arms on hand to last for five years, as contended by WPB experts. Lewis Bassie and Irving Kaplan, who resigned when their report on war supplies was suppressed.

CLAIMS ESTIMATE WRONG

GENERAL Clay contended that the estimate of five years' supply of small arms was erroneous.

"We have small arms on hand to last between 19 months and two years," he countered.

"General," asked alert Senator Kilgore of West Virginia, "does that take into consideration the small arms at the front?"

"We also have enough for about 100 days at the front," General Clay replied.

"And how much do you have in transit?" asked Senator Kilgore.

"And how much have you stored at advanced bases?" asked the senator from West Virginia.

Again General Clay confessed he did not know.

"In other words," concluded Senator Kilgore, "your estimate of 19 months to two years' supply of small arms is based solely on what you have in the arsenals of this country. How can you say, then, that the conclusions of the war Production Board are not correct?"

General Clay had no come-back.

NOTE—Word has come to the Mead committee that the Army Air Forces have stored up immense quantities of supplies, partly because they refused to take supplies ordered by the Quartermaster corps and insisted on ordering their own. It's reported the Air Forces have one whole warehouse of toilet paper, another warehouse full of brooms and mop handles, and at one time had so much lumber that the Army had to buy more land on which to store it. The Senate committee plans to probe deeper into proposals to put disposal of all surplus property into the hands of one man with big-business affiliations.

SOCIAL TRIUMPH

ONE OF THE most powerful State department negotiators for postwar peace plans is shrewd, agile Adolf Berle, one of the few remaining original Roosevelt brain-trusters. As assistant Secretary of State, Berle has been in charge of vitally important negotiations with Britain, Russia, et al., regarding the world's future air lanes.

Entering Harvard when he was only in knee breeches, now married to a wealthy wife, Berle is a brilliant conversationlist, knows all the tricks of diplomacy. However, those who sit across the table from him wonder whether he is not too much the old-fashioned, sparring, jockeying diplomat; whether he fully realizes the fact that the lives of several million boys of the next generation rest partly in his hands.

To many, Berle's interest in the outward trappings of diplomacy seems more important to him than the main objective of a constructive peace. For instance, Berle recently spent considerably time planning a dinner for Lord Beaverbrook. Beaverbrook handles British negotiations for air, and when Berle was in London, his lordship gave him a dinner. It was done in "the Beaver's" best manner, which meant that he dug into his pre-war cellar and brought out his rarest vintages.

Recently, when Berle returned the honors and dined Lord Beaverbrook in Washington, the assistant Secretary of State was worried. He was up against the difficulty of equalling "the Beaver's" wine. In the USA, where wines are now scarce, it is not easy to produce a vintage wine, especially Rhine wine, which no longer can be imported from Germany.

However, when money is not a consideration in ordering a dinner, you can do wonders. In this case, Mr. and Mrs. Berle scoured the wine cellars of several cities, finally produced a vintage equal to Beaverbrook's.

Very proudly, when the big night came, and Beaverbrook and Gen. Harold George of the Air Transport Command arrived for dinner, Berle held up the wine to the light.

It was a real triumph for old-fashioned diplomacy.

PRISONERS AND JEWS

OBSERVERS at Fort Knox, Ky., have been shocked at the way Nazi prisoners have carried their Fuehrer's racial theories into the heart of America. A group of prisoners is assigned to the officers' restaurant at Fort Knox, and make efficient waiters. But whenever a Jewish officer enters, they refuse to serve him.

"We will not serve people of that nationality," they say.

Non-Jewish U. S. officers have taken no steps to change the ideas of these young Nazis, are inclined to treat the matter as a joke.

HULL'S NEW AIDE

HENRY P. FLETCHER, newly appointed special assistant to Secretary of State Cordell Hull, was chairman of the Republican National committee in 1936. At the time, he remarked:

"I wish we could trademark the word "Republican" so other outfits could not use it. We cannot do it under the law, but we can repudiate any organization that trades under the name of the Republican party."

He forthwith issued a press release denouncing the Allied Republican council, an organization made up of anti-New Deal Democrats, anti-New Deal negroes, and others supporting Alf Landon but bitterly opposed to Herbert Hoover.

NOTE—State department gossip is that Hull appointed Fletcher as a direct slap at Wendell Willkie, who may succeed Hull — if FDR is re-elected.

LA GUARDIA'S florid tactics against three leading night clubs, which boil down to a belated demand for the "breakage" on city sales taxes, will probably be cancelled by a decision in connection with an entirely different business. The state act, authorizing the tax, limited it to one per cent and made no provision for oddments beyond that limit . . . Clark Gable may return soon to the films, after turning down an offer of $7,500 for one broadcast a week. He could probably raise the ante, but he has always had a strange apathy toward broadcasting, even as a guest star. If he goes back on the screen you will see him in heavy dramas, with the romance angle secondary and comedy negligible.

We seem to have touched a lot of nerves with our observations on would-be song writers, especially the line "and there are in the entire United States probably fifty people who can write acceptable song-poems." All the amateurs who wrote us said we were nuts and all the professionals said we were accurate. The punch is in the word "acceptable." Most of the potential talent is barred at the outer gate. Music publishers have had no such expense and grief with plagiarism suits and other litigation that they send anything looking like a song back with the envelope unopened. Many of the ambitious outsiders try to beat the barrier by contacting singers and band leaders; if one of these recommends a song, its chances are good . . . The latest instance is "A Rainy Sunday," now being played by Cab Calloway at the Zanzibar. The idea was presented to Lucky Millinder via his press agent, Art Franklin, by Blackie Warren of Chicago—an obstetrician who gave birth to a ditty.

A GAGSTER sent a Chicago columnist an item to the effect that Tim Gayle was being seen a lot with Starr Teradane. The information was correct, but it failed to note that Starr Teradane is Gayle's Great Dane dog, and is seen with him on occasions every day . . . Irene Lopez, Spanish dancer at Oetjens, Brooklyn, getting plenty of wires from Jack Conroy, of Henry Ford's Canadian executive staff.

Greg McClure will play John L. Sullivan in Bing Crosby's first production, after a type-hunt paralleled only by the one still in progress, for an actor to impersonate Ernie Pyle. . . . The Hurricane restaurant was sold to a Chinese syndicate for $71,000 cash. Instead of incense and orientalism, it will present an ice show . . . Eddie Norris, Ann Sheridan's ex, has had the can tied to him by Eleanor Hall, tin heiress. But he seems to be doing all right with Betty Hutton, who sure gets around a lot.

WEALTHY BRENDA MARTIN (Is everybody named Brenda wealthy?), of Detroit, and Lt. Col. B. F. W. Heyer, also rich, playing the Monte Carlo . . . Florence Lanthier, mother of Ronnie Lanthier, who was a well-known playboy before he joined the army, is exchanging V-mail with Col. Sidney Laren Huff, aide-decamp to General MacArthur . . . Yvette, back from her first movie, snubbing Broadway producers. . . . Justine Borowy, model, can't imagine how Judy Garland ever could divorce Sgt. Dave Rose.

The Roxy combination, "Wilson," the film, and the Fred Waring band, played to $155,000 the first full week. That's a record for any theatre anywhere, any time . . . Marva Louis, wife of the champ, has returned to Chicago and expects Joe there from overseas. She is booked to play Syracuse and Montreal next month . . . If Larry MacPhail buys the Yankees, he will retain Joe McCarthy as manager.

THERE WILL PROBABLY never be another year for Broadway like 1943. No one seems to be able to explain why this season, which will officially end with the Labor Day deadline, fell far below. Conditions on the surface appear to be the same. New York isn't much of a war industries center. It is one of the few large cities that has actually lost population since Pearl Harbor. But it has been flooded with out-of-towners from Connecticut, New Jersey and more distant areas, to whom Broadway still means a place to spend and step. There have been no important changes in the boom zones, but, somehow, the high waves of prosperity which inundated Manhattan began to recede last fall. Hit pictures are still turning them away, despite the heat wave; some legit shows are still selling out; but that surging overflow, willing to see anything, buy anything, eat anything, drink everything, is no longer with us . . . One side-street night club last year cleared $400,000; this year it will do well if it banks a quarter of that, at the same prices and with about the same attractions. That's the over-all picture.

A Hint to the Postwar Planners

Rubble Of War Litters Path Of Struggling Armies In France

"Inhuman Quiet" Settles Over Battlefield

BY ERNIE PYLE
Special Correspondent

ON THE WESTERN FRONT — (By Wireless)—When you're wandering around our very far-flung front lines—the lines that in our present rapid war are known as "fluid"—you can always tell how recently the battle has swept on ahead of you.

You can sense it from the little things even more than the big things—

From the scattered green leaves and the fresh branches of trees still lying in the middle of the road.

From the wisps and coils of telephone wire, hanging brokenly from high poles and entwining across the roads.

ERNIE PYLE

From the gray, burned - powder rims of the shell craters in the gravel roads, their edges not yet smoothed by the pounding of military traffic.

From the little pools of blood on the roadside, blood that has only begun to congeal and turn black, and the punctured steel helmets lying nearby.

From the square blocks of building stone still smattered in the village streets, and from the sharp-edged rocks in the roads, still uncrushed by traffic.

From the burned-out tanks and broken carts still unremoved from the road. From the cows in the fields, lying grotesquely with their feet to the sky, so newly dead they have not begun to bloat or smell.

From the scattered heaps of personal debris around a gun. I don't know why it is, but the Germans always seem to take off their coats before they flee or die.

From all these things you can tell that the battle has been recent—from these and from the men dead so recently that they seem to be merely asleep.

And also from the inhuman quiet. Usually battles are noisy for miles around. But in this recent fast warfare a battle sometimes leaves a complete vacuum behind it.

The Germans will stand and fight it out until they see there is no hope. Then some give up, and the rest pull and run for miles. Shooting stops. Our fighters move on after the enemy, and those who do not fight, but move in the wake of the battles, will not catch up for hours.

There is nothing left behind but the remains—the lifeless debris, the sunshine and the flowers, and utter silence.

An amateur who wanders in this vacuum at the rear of a battle has a terrible sense of loneliness. Everything is dead—the men, the machines, the animals—and, you alone are left alive.

ONE afternoon we drove in our jeep into a country like that. The rural villages of gray stone were demolished—heartbreaking heaps of still smoking rubble.

We drove into the tiny town of La Detinais, a sweet old stone village at the "T" of two gravel roads, a rural village in rolling country, a village of not more than 50 buildings. There was not a whole building left.

Rubble and broken wires still littered the streets. Blackish gray-stone walls with no roofs still smoldered inside. Dead men still lay in the street, helmets and broken rifles askew around them. There was not a soul nor a sound in town; the village was lifeless.

We stopped and pondered our way, and with trepidation we drove on out of town. We drove for a quarter of a mile or so. The ditches were full of dead men. We drove around one without a head or arms or legs. We stared, and couldn't say anything about it to each other. We asked the driver to go very slowly, for there was an uncertainty in all the silence. There was no live human, no sign of movement anywhere.

Battered Equipment Everywhere

Seeing no one, hearing nothing, I became fearful of going on into the unknown. So we stopped. Just a few feet ahead of us was a brick-red American tank, still smoking, and with its turret knocked off. Near it was a German horse-drawn ammunition cart, upside down. In the road beside them was a shell crater.

To our left lay two smashed airplanes in adjoining fields. Neither of them was more than 30 yards from the road. The hedge was low and we could see over. They were both British fighter planes. One lay right side up, the other lay on its back.

WE were just ready to turn around and go back, when I spied a lone soldier at the far side of the field. He was standing there looking across the field at us like an Indian in a picture. I waved and he waved back. We walked toward each other.

He turned out to be a second lieutenant—Ed Sasson, of Los Angeles. He is a Graves Registration officer for his armored division, and he was out scouring the fields, locating the bodies of dead Americans.

He was glad to see somebody, for it is a lonely job catering to the dead.

As we stood there talking in the lonely field a soldier in coveralls, with a rifle slung over his shoulder, ran up breathlessly, and almost shouted:

"Hey, there's a man alive in one of those planes across the road! He's been trapped there for days!"

We stopped right in the middle of a sentence and began to run. We hopped the hedgerow, and ducked under the wing of the upside-down plane. And there, in the next hour, came the climax to what certainly was one of the really great demonstrations of courage in this war.

Senate Told Grave Shortages Apparent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — Forces participating in a recent landing operation failed to get half of the 155 millimeter ammunition needed, Maj. Gen. Lucius D. Clay, director of materiel for the Army Service forces told the Senate War Investigating committee.

Clay, who appeared before the committee during its investigation of surpluses and war scarcities, said there were serious shortages in a number of categories, largely because of the manpower problem.

Security Talks

element of discord based on artisan, selfish interests."

Austin said that Republicans in the Senate, where opposition to the League of Nations after the last war blocked American participation, this time were in harmony.

As for the Republican party, Austin said, "It is not our purpose to obstruct; it is our purpose to be constructive."

He added:

"This does not mean we are to shut our mouths and be silent and that the subject of international organization is not to be discussed from the party platform."

Conference News Limited

While the peace-talk delegations were received at the White House by President Roosevelt, news from the conference was limited to an announcement of the formation of four subcommittees to deal with drafting of documents, legal questions, "general questions of international organization" and security.

The conference spokesman, Michael J. McDermott, special assistant to Hull, said there was "no thought of releasing any documents" which have been laid before the conference.

Detailed Analysis Planned

The session today moved toward detailed analysis of Russian, American and British plans for organizing the world for peace. All three proppsals were presented to yesterday's meetings and officials familiar with them said they showed broad areas of agreement.

The main problems developed for future discussion apparently were the extent of authority to be proposed for small nations and the kind of commitments for the use of force if and when it is necessary to suppress aggression.

Dulles arrived late yesterday and at a press conference gave some broad indications of possible developments in his talks with Hull. He brought along, he said, his own ideas and those of Governor Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, on organizing world peace.

Paris After 4 Years

from long-range guns that left scars still visible on some of the mellow gray buildings.

Toleration Merely Passive

Since the German occupation Paris, whose pre-war population was 2,829,746, has been virtually a ghost city, its young men prisoners of war in Germany, children evacuated to the countryside, monuments standing like stage scenery at the end of a play ready to be packed and carted away. Lack of fuel shut down the metro (subway) system. There was no gasoline to operate the big green buses or taxicabs.

The Parisians' relations with the Germans were usually correct and polite, but there was a frigidity the Germans could not mistake, at street-side cafes the Parisians sat apart from the Germans.

Death, Pretense Mingled

Police raids became routine as the Germans sought to stifle the developing underground army. Youths were rounded up for forced labor in German war factories.

Reprisal executions were frequent. Fifty Parisians were shot for the killing of one Nazi lieutenant. But stern Nazi measures did not prevent sabotage.

Paris made some semblance of keeping up theatrical activities and cultural life. The well-to-do tried to keep up an appearance of gaiety. But a good pre-war meal cost 20,000 francs (nominally $400).

Many Monuments Undamaged

Fashion designers attempted to keep their concerns going by creating new styles which found an outlet through Switzerland.

Most of Paris' famous attractions are believed to have escaped damage during the occupation. The Eiffel tower, at one time reported scrapped to provide the Nazis needed metal, still stands.

Most famous of Paris' squares are the Place de la Concorde, where Mariet Antoinette was executed, and the Arc de Triomphe de L'Etoile on a summit at the end of the Champ Elysees. Under this arch France's unknown soldier of World War I is entombed.

During the occupation, the custodians of the shrine were fined 6,000 francs for exceeding the gas quota allotted for the flame burning over the tomb. But the Nazis never dared extinguish this flame.

LIEBANI CAPTURED

LONDON, Aug. 23. (AP)—Marshal Tito's Yugoslav partisans today announced capture of the heavily-fortified German stronghold of Liebani, 25 miles south of Nis, junction on the Belgrade-Sofia rail line.

SELLING WANES

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP) — Selling waned in today's stock market and, with the liberation of Paris bolstering hopes for a quick victory over the Nazis, assorted issues with a peace flavor shifted to the recovery column.

Some motors, air transports, utilities and other industrials tacked on advances of fractions to around a point, several at peaks for the year or longer.

Transfers dwindled to approximately 700,000 shares for the full stretch.

Peaks for 1944 were touched by Briggs Mfg., Braniff Airways and preferreds of American Power & Light. In front most of the day were Bendix, Graham-Paige, Chrysler, U. S. Steel, U. S. Rubber, American Water Works, Public Service of N. J., Eastern Airlines, Anaconda, and American Can. Laggards were Southern Pacific, Northern Pacific, Baltimore & Ohio, Westinghouse, Boeing, Dupont, Montgomery Ward, Kennecott and Goodyear.

Pre Brewing hardened in the curb following doubling of the company's dividend. Supported were American Central Mfg., Leonard Oil, United Aircraft products and American Gas.

Cotton Market

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23 (AP) — Cotton futures closed steady 80 cents to $1.00 a bale lower here today under long liquidation and hedge selling. Offerings were influenced by highly-favorable war news and a satisfactory government weekly crop review. Very little support was derived from Census bureau ginning figures which were considered by the market very small.

Two Bales Ginned

ned Aug. 25, by J. C. Smith of Slaton, at the Davis gin in Slaton. It weighed 575 pounds. In 1942, the first bale was produced by Alvin B. Allen of Lubbock route 4 and ginned by the E. R. Allen gin at Woodrow. In 1941, the frist bale was grown by J. R. and R. B. Boyd of near Lubbock, on Sept. 23.

Cotton has matured faster this year than seasonally because of hot weather and brisk winds.

Texan Of Colorful Border Career Dies

AUSTIN, Aug. 23 (U.P.) — John Creaton, 88, who had a colorful career in the days of border warfare in Texas, died at his home here yesterday.

Born in Carlisle, Pa., he was brought to Texas by his mother after the death of his father who had been an officer in the U. S. Army. They lived at Brackettville and while still a boy, Creaton made numerous scouting trips with the soldiers from Fort Clark, and at times guided them in territory with which he had become familiar. Later he was in the U. S. customs service on the Rio Grande. He had been a resident of Austin 30 years. His widow survives.

Increased Tobacco Allotment Promised

DALLAS, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Desperate ciguret smokers were given hope for the future today by L. J. Cappleman, War Food administration regional distribution director.

The agency has increased the amount of tobacco for domestic use from 482,000,000 pounds to 578,000,000 pounds, he said.

Service For John Patterson Thursday

HOUSTON, Aug. 23 (U.P.)—Funeral services for John R. Patterson, 76, former head of the land department of the American National Insurance company of Galveston, will be held here tomorrow afternoon.

Patterson died yesterday at his home.

Jobless Aid 'Out' For U. S. Employes

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP) — The House ways and means committee today struck from the Senate-approved postwar demobilization and reconversion bill a provision extending unemployment compensation to 3,500,000 federal workers.

This action following a committee vote yesterday eliminating from the legislation all provisions for retraining and reemployment of war workers and throwing out a program to pay for the transportation of these workers back to their homes or to places of new employment.

The committee retained in the bill a provision that states shall continue to determine the amounts and duration of unemployment benefits for covered workers.

It also accepted a Senate provision that the federal government guarantee the solvency of state unemployment compensation funds.

Suit On Railways

tors from setting up a plan which would restrain trade in violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Assistant Attorney General Wendell L. Berge in charge of the anti-trust division said the War and Navy departments did not object to the filing of the suit, but he added he did not know what action might be taken by them later.

The service departments have requested postponement of approximately 30 similar suits until after the war.

Berge said that under any circumstances from 9 to 12 months would be required to prepare the case.

Investigating Southern Roads

He told newsmen that the Justice department is conducting an investigation of southern railroads to determine whether there has been collusive action in that region in the fixing of freight rates. He said the inquiry has developed no evidence of a commission plan similar to that mentioned in the Lincoln suit.

Berge reported that the 39-page Lincoln complaint makes these charges:

"It is alleged that by collusive and illegal action, the defendants have maintained freight rates for the western part of the United States which are higher than those fixed by the defendants for shippers in the East and this inequality has deprived the West of the advantage of low competitive rates and has operated as a detriment to its development.

Improvements Said Stifled

"It is alleged that the conspiracy by the defendants has stifled the utilization of improved railroad technology, that the defendants have retarded the introduction of radio equipment on trains, delayed the installation of air conditioning equipment and prevented the construction of essential spur tracks and loading sheds.

"It is alleged that the defendants have deliberately delayed the delivery of perishable products, that they have collusively refused to permit the reduction of rates by certain railroads for the relief of drought-stricken areas, despite the fact that such reductions were requested by officials of the United States government.

"It is alleged that the defendants, by conspiring with the major oil companies owning and operating common carrier pipelines, have fixed arbitrary and non-competitive rates for the transportation by rail and pipeline of petroleum and petroleum products and that thus the advantage of low-cost shipment by pipeline was denied to the west.

Conspiracy Alleged

"It is alleged that the defendants have conspired with motor carriers and water carriers to bring motor and water carrier rates up to the higher rail level.

"It is alleged that the defendants have established an organization called the highway department within the Western Association of Railway executives, that the declared purpose of the highway department is to retard the development and growth of the trucking industry, particularly in the long-haul field, in the western part of the United States, and that this has been and is being accomplished by various methods, including concerted action by the railroads to cause the enactment of state laws restricting the development of the trucking industry.

"It is alleged that the defendant railroads entered into an agreement, called the western agreement, which established the office of western commissioner, that the commissioner acted as the arbiter in matters relating to transportation rates and services in the western part of the United States, and that his activities were subject to review only by a committee of directors, established by the western agreement.

Finances Included

"It is alleged that the defandant, J. P. Morgan and Company, incorporated, Kuhn, Loeb and Company, and their affiliates have for many years controlled and still control substantially all the financing operations and security issues of the defendant railroads, that these banking firms have similar control in relation to many eastern railroads as well as substantial financial interests in numerous large industrial concerns in the east.

"It is further alleged that defendant J. P. Morgan and Company, incorporated, and its predecessor, in fact participated in the organization of the Association of American Railroads, that these banking firms are represented on the committee of directors established by the western agreement and have taken part in the collusive fixing of non-competitive rates, and that they have collaborated through their representatives on the committee of directors to coerce officials and defendant railroads from reducing rates and improving services and facilitise of the western railroads."

The Rio Grande is the 22nd longest river in the world—1800 miles.

News Brief

Dean Nowlin of Tahoka, who has been in Lubbock General hospital 12 days, was released today the hospital reported.

Landing Reported

gion.

Just before the blasts were heard, he said, a single plane dropped flares at intervals along the Spanish frontier, apparently to mark the border.

In response to queries concerning the reported landing a spokesman at Allied supreme headquarters said the French announcement was "outside our province" and declined further comment. The War department public relations office in Washington said it had no information on a new landing.

Bordeaux, a city of 260,000, apparently is the last pocket of organized German resistance in southwestern France. It had been employed by the Nazis as a submarine base during the battle of the Atlantic and in Allied hands could serve as a major debarkation point for supplies.

Yanks Advance 170 Miles

Spanish advices said American motorized columns had driven down from a crossing of the Loire river at Nantes in a 170-mile advance to Bordeaux, with French resistance forces striking up to the great port from the border of Spain, forming a junction of Bordeaux's outskirts.

A new landing could put a squeeze upon all of southwestern France, reportedly lightly garrisoned by the Germans, with French partisans already seizing town after town. Inland drives could link up with the western invasion forces of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, and the southern arm of Gen. Sir Henry M. Wilson.

Morocco radio said partisans had liberated Blois on the Loire river 100 miles south of Paris, an action which would give the Allies a firm hold on virtually all the big Loire cities from the sea to the capital.

It also said Carciles in from the Mediterranean and 150 miles west of Marseille, had been set free.

ern France.

(A broadcast by Radio France at Algiers said Allied forces were less than 11 miles from the Italian frontier but there was no confirmation).

Seal Off Italian Forces

At Grenoble the Americans were roughly only 70 airline miles from the Swiss frontier and for all practical purposes already had sealed off the Nazi forces in southern France from communication with the enemy in northwestern Italy.

The Americans also were in position, by striking westward, to cut off German units reported fleeing from the Mediterranean beachhead along the Rhone valley.

(An Associated Press dispatch from Geneva said French forces of the interior were reported attacking Lyon.)

Enemy Resistance Spotty

An Allied headquarters statement on the northward drive said "enemy resistance was spotty during the advance." Thirteen hours of house to house fighting occurred at Digne. It was there that the Allies captured Maj. Gen. Hans Schubert, a German corps commander.

On the Mediterranean coast, a bitter battle still raged in encircled Toulon, French armor and infantry had pushed virtually into the outskirts of Marseille, and the French occupied Hyeres east of Toulon.

The Allied command announced that the total number of prisoners taken since the landings had risen to more than 17,000.

Inside Toulon French troops yesterday blazed their way to points half way between the railway tracks which bisect the city. The naval arsenal was half a mile away and the docks only a few hundred yards.

The desperate defenders, trying to emulate the Nazi last ditch fights in Cherbourg and St. Malo, fought from well prepared positions with support of heavy coastal guns and depressed anti-aircraft guns. French forces battling their way from the east reached Le Pradet, four miles from Toulon harbor.

Encirclement of Marseille continued on a broad front, with Americans sweeping around to the west and last reported only a dozen miles short of closing the gap on the west. French forces attacking frontally fought forward to three miles from the city's outskirts. American columns were fighting three miles from the Etang De Berre, a virtually landlocked body of water northwest of the city.

Robot Dawn Barrage Is "Heaviest Yet"

LONDON, Aug. 23 (AP)—South England today suffered its heaviest dawn barrage of flying bombs yet, as Allied armies beat toward the launching platforms in Pas-De-Calais beyond the Seine.

The robots came so fast that gunners had no respite in throwing up a terrific curtain of ground fire. Clouds of smoke over the sea indicated the number of bombs brought down in the channel. Others were heard exploding aloft.

The anti-aircraft fire was the heaviest yet heard.

A number of casualties, including some deaths, were reported, mostly from bombs striking residential sections. Bomb shelters survived the bombardment.

west of Paris—had been liquidated in a German counterattack.

(The Germans reported fighting south of Paris, and said the "20th American corps" was striking toward Nemours and Montereau, both about 40 miles southeast of the capital.)

While Paris is in French hands it is likely there still are German rearguards at Rambouillet and Etampes to the south which are engaging American tank units.

Great Psychological Effect

While the capture of the capital was certain to have a tremendous psychological efefct on the Germans and bring joy to every French home, military Paris already was out of the picture.

The city had been outflanked by American bridgeheads across the Seine to the northwest and southeast and some radio reports, which were not confirmed at supreme headquarters, already placed American tanks at Meaux, less than 25 miles from Chateau-Thierry. If true, this report meant the Americans already were fighting on battlefields where they won undying fame in the first World War.

The new Allied trap of Field Marshal Gen. Guenther von Kluge's riddled forces along the left bank of the Seine appeared to be closing on all sides as the Germans gave up all attempt at an organized rearguard action.

Nazis Flee Toward River

Other German troops fled toward the river where hundreds of river craft of every description from rubber boats to smal' steamers had been gathered to ferry them across.

Six hundred German tanks, vehicles and locomotives fell before the guns and bombs of Allied planes, supreme headquarters said, while a belated German air force attempt to give fleeing Nazi ground troops cover resulted in the destruction of 37 enemy aircraft.

Driving up the coast toward the mouth of the Seine and the great port of Le Havre, Dutch and Belgian units took the famous resort cities of Trouville, Villers-Sur-Mer and Eauville. Le Havre is seven miles across the Seine estuary from Trouville.

Lisieux Engulfed

The British and Canadian army lines squeezed forward from 10 to 15 miles engulfing the important road hub of Lisieux, 16 miles southeast of Deauville.

On the inland side of the Seine trap, American troops driving toward the sea parallel to the river were reaching points near Evreux and Vernon, generally 50 airline miles from the mouth.

The whole German area south of the river was contracting rapidly. There were indications that all German resistance there would be wiped out within the next 48 to 60 hours.

Another German corps manager, Maj. Gen. Elfelzt was taken by Allied troops, in general number of enemy officers captured in relation to the total bag of prisoners has been small, indicating that the officers were abandoning their troops.

Argentines Capture Many German Agents

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 23. (AP)—The press sub-secretariat has announced that Argentine federal police have uncovered a "new active organization" operated by German spies, captured a large number of agents and confiscated a great quantity of material.

No details were included in the 57-word communique issued last night.

"Enemy Defeated Everywhere"

"The FFI (French Forces of the Interior), 50,000 strong, armed and supported by several hundred thousand unarmed patriots, went into action immediately.

"Yesterday, Aug. 22, after four days of fighting the enemy had been defeated everywhere. The patriots occupied all public buildings. Vichy representatives were arrested or have fled. So the people of Paris played a major part in the liberation of their capital.

"The Paris police, which was already on strike, took possession of the police prefecture and turned the Ile de la Cite into a fortress against which the Germans' attack broke."

The announcement came through the headquarters of Gen. Pierre Koenig, commander of the FFI.

sive U. S. 15th Air force bombing assault against Silesian and Austrian oil targets and 57 were shot down, an official announcement said today.

American losses were 39 heavy bombers and six other aircraft, from all operations.

Flak Also Intense

Approximately 200 Nazi fighters attacked the American formations which bombed oil refineries, storage tanks and other vital fuel installations at Odertal in German Silesia and at Korneuburg and Lobau near Vienna.

The fiercest battles were fought by Liberators and escorting Lightnings over Lobau where flak also was intense.

FLEEING NAZIS POUNDED IN NORTHERN FRANCE

LONDON, Aug. 23 (AP) — Allied aerial forces resumed their assaults upon the fleeing Germans in northern France as the weather showed signs of clearing today and headquarters announced they had smashed 600 assorted tanks, locomotives, railway cars and other vehicles in sweeps from the Seine mouth to south of Paris.

The Germans were reported in a rout, attempting to cross the Seine in 30 places west of Paris in a motley fleet of craft which included many collaspible rubber boats.

Danube Bases Bombed

The German radio, meanwhile, announced that for the third straight day Allied Mediterranean-based bombers and fighters were attacking targets in the Danube region.

From their northern bases, the Allied air forces yesterday flew 1,400 sorties—only about one-eighth of their D-day record but much better than the previous day, when the weather stopped all flying.

The battered German air force threw 100 or more planes into the battle area. Thirty-one were shot down and six more were destroyed on the ground against a loss of two Allied planes reported so far.

gap, the capture of which would make much of the Balkan area untenable for the enemy. Advances ranged to 44 miles. The Bessarabian capital of Chisinau was left trapped in a deep pocket on the Dnestr.

In northern Poland, the Russians gradually were outflanking Warsaw and splitting German forces between that besieged Polish capital and East Prussia. The Russians moved 14 miles southeast of Lomza, communications hub.

Desperate German attempts to salvage her Baltic positions brought new tank attacks in the direction of Jelgava, which controls road and rail routes in Latvia.

As the Red army drive into Romania went through its fourth day, Bucharest was reported in panic with many of Premier Antonescu's formerly fanatical supporters openly discussing the chances of suing for peace. Each mile the Red army advanced strengthened peace tremors in Bulgaria, too, and gave new hope to Yugoslavia and Greece.

Romania, besides being Germany's greatest oil reservoir, is one of her largest breadbaskets.

Red Star said the "Soviet blow was so swift the Germans and Romanians could not evacuate their wounded and left 147 cars of munitions and food in the rail yards."

Hitler's Reign In France Is 'Kaput'

BY DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

Liberation of Paris — most glorious moment in the rebirth of a great nation—gives us striking confirmation of a momentous fact which has been emerging gradually from the blaze of battle — that Hitler has lost control of the great Nazi machine, both civil and military, through which he has ruled France since her tragic collapse.

It isn't merely that his organization has gone to pieces in Normandy, or in Brittany, or in southern France, but that his entire regime of occupation is in a state of dissolution. He no longer can call on the north to help the south, or the east to aid the west. The vast civilian population which he enslaved is out of hand. His reign in France is, in his own language, kaput—smashed.

Frontal Shield Collapses

The significance of this is, of course, that France during all these tragic years has been the main German shield against attack by the western Allies. We always knew that the only way Hitler could be defeated was by invasion of France.

When the Allies finally drove ashore in Normandy, in the greatest and most dangerous adventure of its kind in history, there was no anticipation that Hitler's machine would go to pieces as it has done. Its collapse means a speedy end to his power throughout all western Europe.

Having to all intents lost the battle of France, where does the fuehrer turn next?

Holding Effort Indicated

He had hoped to fling the Allies back into the sea on D-day in Normandy. That would have given him a breathing space in which to intensify his efforts against the Russians. Since his fight in France is hopeless, one would expect him to pull back his defenses to the Rhine and make a final mighty effort to stand off the Red armies.

He is fighting fiercely to hold the line of the Vistula and East Prussia, and perhaps will continue to devote his main effort to the eastern front while carrying out a holding operation along the Rhine against the western Allies.

CIO To Face Probe, Biddle Discloses

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 23 (AP) — Attorney General Francis Biddle told a civic luncheon meeting that the CIO will be subject to inquiry on any possible violations of the Smith-Connally act and the corrupt practices act, the same as any other organization.".

And the FBI will examine the CIO books, as it will of all organizations," Biddle told a Town Hall meeting, to see that the Hatch act's $5,000 limit on appropriations for a single candidate has not been exceeded.

Biddle said anti-trust prosecutions, suspended through agreement with the armed forces to prevent any possible letdown in war productions, would be resumed shortly.

Sen. Bankhead In Familiar Role

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23 (AP)— Senator Bankhead (D-Ala) assumed a familiar role today in his battle to push cotton prices up to parity.

Man and boy, the rotund Alabama Democrat has been in the forefront of virtually every movement designed to bring more pay for the South's "white gold."

Continuing a round of conferences with shippers, following earlier meetings with growers and textile manufacturers, Bankhead told a reporter "we hope to work out a complete program which all of us can support."

Takes Issue With Linder

His main concern now, he said, is to be sure the growers keep their 1944 crop off the market "until measures can be worked out."

Taking issue with Georgia Agriculture Commissioner Tom Linder's assertion that withholding of private cotton might result in the government's dumping of its loan cotton on the market to depress prices, Bankhead declared: "If the farmers follow Tom Linder's advice and dump their own cotton, there won't be any market for it."

Plans "Quick Action"

Bankhead said he was demanding "quick action" from the Office on Price administration in revising upward ceiling prices on textiles which reflect parity for cotton in conformity with the Bankhead-Brown amendment in the last price control law.

Adequate price ceilings on textiles will remove a factor which has a depressing effect on the cotton market," he asserted.

"At the same time, however, I am urging the government agencies to permit the Commodity Credit corporation to hold its cotton until it can be sold at 50 points above parity, instead of parity, or about $2.50 a bale above the present CCC floor.

"Also under consideration is the use of a 97½ to 100 per cent parity loan, instead of the present 92½ per cent, in the event the other actions do not accomplish the desired result."

He said the present 1944 loan rate is from $6 to $8 a bale below parity.

Einstein Rescued After Boat Upsets

SARANAC LAKE, N. Y., Aug. 23 (AP)—Prof. Albert Einstein and several companions were rescued from the choppy waters of lower Saranac lake Tuesday after the noted physicist's 18-foot sailboat upset.

Neither Einstein, a summer visitor, nor his companions suffered any ill effects.

"Magic Drugs" Have Reduced Fatalities

NEW YORK, Aug. 23 (AP)—Dr. Rudolph Matas, of New Orleans, who directed a base hospital in France in 1917, said in a broadcast here last night that penicillin, other "magic drugs" and fast aerial transportation have made it possible to limit to three per cent the death toll among the war's wounded who reach clearance stations.

Dr. Matas, professor emeritus of surgery at Tulane university, and former president of the American College of Surgeons, said that this three per cent fatality figure compares with 20 to 30 per cent for the same type of wounds in World war I. He was guest speaker for the Schenley laboratories.

"In the Normandy invasion, blood and plasma transfusions reclaimed thousands dying of shock and hemorrhage who would have perished in the first World war," the surgery specialist declared.

Supplies Ready To Be Moved To Paris

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS Advance Command Post, Aug. 23 (AP)—Huge stocks of food, medicine and clothing are waiting in Normandy for the relief of Paris as soon as the Germans are ousted, a high-ranking officer of the Supreme commander's staff said today.

He estimated that 75,000 tons of food a month will be moved into the former French capital by truck, rail and barge, to feed the city's population.
