Late Crops To Be Aided By Heavy Fall

Fall Of 1.19 Is Reported In City; Relief From Heat Is Given Over Entire Sector

Rainfall that gauged almost an inch and a fifth at Texas Tech college, more than a half-inch at the Texas experiment sub-station east of the city and almost an eighth-inch at Municipal airport fell in varying amounts over the Lubbock trade territory last night and early today.

Late crops and gardens were benefitted and put a momentary damper on near-seasonal high temperatures.

Readings supplied by those who read the gauge at the college, the experiment station, the port, and by dispatchers of the Santa Fe and the Port Worth and Denver City railway companies were

Reports Are Given

Lubbock proper 1.19 inch; experiment station 6 port, 13; Bledsoe and Lehman 1 inch; Anton and Shallowater half-inch; Abernathy, Sudan, Ropesville Lorenzo Ralls, Tahoka, Wilson, and Southland, quarter-inch; Meadow Idalou and Littlefield, eighth-inch; Lamesa and Seagraves, sixteenth-inch; showers at Tulia, Kress, Lockney, Floydada, Muleshoe Petersburg and Hart.

Tuesday's maximum temperature ranging upward to 82 degrees had given way to a Wednesday night low of 64 degrees and this morning was slow to warm, despite the humidity.

No rain fell at Dimmitt, Silverton and Sterley. Other points had not reported late this morning.

Good Fall Reported

Farmers said a good rain fell between Lubbock and Wilson.

Union Terminal Bus station said rain "about like it was here" was reported in the Seminole district and that a good rain fell between Post and Lubbock and in the Ralls vicinity.

Bearing out forecasts of weather observers who Monday night had forecast scattered showers and cloudy weather for West Texas Tuesday and Tuesday night, the rainfall nipped a heat wave which early in the week had been reported headed for this section.

Brilliant Electrical Displays

In most places brilliant electrical displays and thunder with "some wind and sand" accompanied the precipitation.

Telephone reports from a number of South Plains towns bore out that rainfall probably was heaviest in the immediate vicinity of Lubbock.

"If rains from half an inch to an inch fell throughout the county, cotton and feed crops are assured," said C. C. Jobson, county agricultural agent. He pointed out that crops in the west part of the county would be benefitted by moisture at this time more than other sections as crops in that section were later the delay having been caused by hail damage earlier in the season.

Crops In East "Cinched"

Crops in the eastern part of the county were further advanced than in other parts and will not benefit to such an extent although they, too, should produce a better yield if moisture there was as heavy as here, Jobson said. Crops in that section, however, already were "practically cinched" authorities explained.

A slow rain which had been falling for an hour was reported at Post shortly before midnight. Precipitation there was estimated at less than half an inch, however.

"Heavy Shower" At Lamesa

Lamesa's moisture was a "heavy shower."

Newspaper Route Boys Hurt When Two Autos Collide

SHREVEPORT, La., Aug. 18 (AP)—Six Shreveport Journal route boys and a district circulation manager were injured early today in an automobile collision near Marshall, Texas, while en route to the Greater Texas and Pan American exposition in Dallas.

The most seriously hurt was George Rothenberger, 16, of Shreveport. He was suffering from a severe laceration of the head and a piece of glass was said to have penetrated the brain. He was taken to a Marshall hospital where an operation was necessary. His condition was regarded as serious.

The Weather

CLOUDY

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday.

EAST TEXAS: Partly cloudy tonight and Thursday, local thundershowers on the upper coast and in northeast portion Thursday. Moderate south and southeast winds on the coast.

Convention Of Druggists Is Under Way

Attorney General William C. McCraw Principal Speaker At Big Banquet Tonight

Introduction to mysterious substances known as vitamins, pictured as necessary to health, happiness, sanity and life, featured the opening business session of the annual three-day convention of West Texas Pharmaceutical convention at Hilton hotel this morning.

Featured speaker at the session was Dr. Jim DePree of the DePree Chemical company of Holland, Mich., who described in detail the functions of vitamins and the foods in which they will be found.

Is First Speaker

Dr. DePree was the first speaker called upon after the formalities of opening the convention session had been completed. President Joe Bowen of Sweetwater called the gathering to order. Dr. W. J. Danforth of Austin, secretary of the state pharmaceutical association, asked the invocation. Mayor Ross Edwards extended a welcome and Shine Phillips of Big Spring responded.

High spot of remaining events of the convention will be the banquet in the main Hilton ballroom at 7 p. m. tonight at which William C. (Bill) McCraw state attorney general will be principal speaker and James P. Stinson of Abilene will be toastmaster. Both were scheduled to arrive early this afternoon. The banquet will be followed by the annual association dance.

Stores To Be Closed

Most of the drug stores of the city will be closed for tonight's session, according to Mark Halsey, chairman of the Lubbock committee on arrangements for the convention.

The convention will come to a close Thursday with a forenoon session at which new officers will be elected, followed by a luncheon at the Hilton at which Behrens Drug company of Lubbock will be host. Another luncheon was given at noon today at Lubbock hotel with Southwestern Drug company of Amarillo as host and with J. M. Penland of Dallas, head of that concern, as toastmaster.

Charts Are Used

Dr. DePree, using prepared charts to illustrate his address which featured this morning's business session, made, among other remarkable statements, those that vitamin B is credited with having extended the human life span by seven years, the average weight of boys by 12 pounds and of girls by 17 pounds, and increased human stature by three inches; that vitamin D tends to prevent such frailties as bowlegs; that such ailments as bleeding gums and stomach ulcers may be traced indirectly to an insufficiency of vitamin C; and that a sufficiency of vitamin A tends to prevent and correct such things as eye trouble and the common cold.

Describing vitamins in general terms as being "a necessary food product, without which we die," he related that they improve vitality, promote growth of children, increase the nourishing value of food and build resistance to disease.

Obtained From Fish

Vitamin A, he continued, is obtained chiefly from fish products, primarily cod liver oil, and dairy products. Vitamin B, termed the most important of all because of anti-pellagric, anti-neuritic and other values, is contained, the speaker said, in wheat, rice, bran, yeast, meats and fruits among other foods. Best sources of vitamin C were described as including orange and canned tomato juice. He recommended that every person drink 3

Resident Of Happy Is Killed When Auto Strikes Tractor

TULIA, Aug. 18. (AP)—Mrs. George Tyson Hankins, 34, was injured fatally last night when an automobile in which she and her husband were riding struck a tractor near her home seven miles northeast of Happy, Tex. Funeral services are planned here tomorrow.

Expansion Program Of $300,000 Is Announced By Utilities Company For Tuco Power Plant

Marking another step dictated by rising values and development of the high plains and eastern New Mexico, a $300,000 expansion program has been authorized by Texas-New Mexico Utilities company to step up power facilities, according to Hubert L. Allen, vice-president and general manager.

Installation of additional electric generating equipment at the Tuco station near Abernathy will increase capacity of that power plant, which serves 180,000 square miles of the division, 10,000 horsepower.

Machinery Arrives Soon

The estimated cost of a new steam-driven turbo-generator, including boilers, auxiliaries and other equipment improvements to be installed, has been placed at approximately $300,000. All preliminary work incidental to installation has been completed and machinery is expected to arrive soon.

The announcement serves to fix attention again on development of the high plains area of West Texas and assures the section ample power from a dependable and economical source, said company officials.

53 Towns Are Served

Texas-New Mexico Utilities company serves 53 towns and communities in this part of West Texas and eastern New Mexico. Its transmission lines total more than 700 miles and bring central station power to homes, farms and industries in many more sparsely settled areas and rural districts. It has approximately 18,000 meter accounts in the division, serving approximately 90,000 persons.

Development of rural electrification and the use of electrical power for irrigation concededly will demand great additional energy, surveys have established. Applications for rural electrification have been made to include several hundred square miles in sections hitherto untouched by electrical conveniences—including 600 square miles in Deaf Smith county; 900 square miles in each of Floyd, Hale and Lubbock counties, and 450 square miles in each of Hockley, Terry, Lynn, Garza, Lamb, and Bailey counties.

Policy Is Maintained

Expansion will maintain the company's policy of keeping abreast of the requirements of the territory served—which was the principal contributing reason for the expenditure, said Allen.

Local representatives and managers of the division met Tuesday night at one of the two annual programs conducted at the Tuco plant for employes and their families. Approximately 300 persons attended, which represented about half the employes and their families. The remaining employes were

Majority Rule Must Be Preserved, FDR Says

By The Associated Press

MANTEO, Roanoke Island, N. C., Aug. 18.—President Roosevelt declared today "democracy—and more democracy" is the answer to "Tory insistence that salvation lies in the vesting of power in the hands of a select class."

I seek no change in the form of American government," he said. "Majority rule must be preserved as the safeguard of both liberty and civilization."

Criticism Is Renewed

The president, renewing his criticism of the Liberty League and others who he said "thunder today," spoke at celebration marking the 350th anniversary of the founding of the Lost Colony.

He based much of his address, broadcast nationally on a letter which Lord Macaulay, English historian, sent in 1857 to an American friend—H. S. Randall, a New York writer.

"Lord Macaulay was an important figure in English politics in the first half of the nineteenth century. Internationally he was more famous for his history of England.

"Macaulay served in parliament, as legal adviser to the supreme court of India and as secretary of state for war.

Success Is Doubted

Macaulay wrote that democracy would not succeed in the United States, adding:

Either some Caesar or Napoleon will seize the reins of government with a strong hand, or your republic will be laid waste by barbarians in the twentieth century."

Mr. Roosevelt dubbed American Lord Macaulays "persons who tell you that America drifts toward the scylla of dictatorship on the one hand, or the charybdis of anarchy on the other."

The president said:

"Almost, methinks, I am reading not from Macaulay but from a resolution of the United States Chamber of Commerce, the Liberty League, the National Association of Manufacturers or the editorials written at the behest of some well-known newspaper proprietors.

"I conceive it to be true that I

Another Barrier In Path Of Lovers Is At Last Removed

OLYMPIA, Wash., Aug. 18 (AP)—Another obstacle — parked cars—has been removed from the path of matrimony-bound couples here.

City commissioners heeded the Rev. Robert Bromblay's request for a restricted parking zone in front of his parsonage. He pleaded "thoughtless motorists have no right to leave their cars in a place needed by nervous young men and their sweethearts."

The city charged the Rev. Mr. Bromblay $5. Mayor F. A. Longaker saying "one marriage should cover the cost, with all the rest 'gravy.'"

Famed Minstrel Partnership Reaches An End In Death

SOUTHAMPTON, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—James McIntyre, 79, died early today from euremic poisoning, ending the 64-year-old partnership of McIntyre and Heath, famed minstrel men and one of best known vaudeville teams of the last generation.

McIntyre died at 6:30 a. m. He had been in a coma for several days. News of his death was withheld from his lifelong comrade, Thomas K. Heath, 84, who lay stricken with paralysis and bronchitis at his home in Setauket, only a few miles across Long Island from Southampton.

Cost Is Heavy For Congress

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—This session of congress—one of the longest in recent years—will cost about $12,000,000, or $50,000 a day.

Clerks made this estimate today on the basis of an eight-month session. They explained, however, that the actual cost of operating the legislative department for the entire year will be about $18,000,000.

Salaries Biggest Item

The biggest item is that of salaries for members, secretaries, clerks, law-drafting experts, police, doorkeepers, janitors, pages and other personnel used in the law-making process. It totals $10,900,000 for the 12 months.

While official figures were not available, it was estimated the congressional printing bill will run close to $2,500,000 for the session.

Other Items Listed

Estimates on other items included telephone and telegraph, $100,000; furniture, $50,000; maintenance of house and senate office buildings $1,000,000; stationery, $75,000; automobiles for the vice-president and speaker, $8,000; special investigating committees, $150,000; medical supplies, $3,000; new auto for mail carriers, $7,900, and allowances for members' traveling expenses to and from Washington, $222,000.

Dumped under a miscellaneous heading totaling about $500,000 were such items as funerals for members, typewriters, newspapers, ice, laundry, office repairs, rent of warehouse for storage of documents, deficits of capitol restaurants, and mineral water for senators.

Miner Says Sinking Fields Of Idaho To Uncover Gold Vein

(By The Associated Press)

BUHL, Idaho, Aug. 18.—A veteran southern Idaho miner said today the sinking fields eight miles northwest of here will uncover a rich vein of gold.

"Some heavy mine drilling and blasting equipment would reveal the gold ore in short order," asserted L. A. Tibbs of Gooding, known here as an expert on rocks.

"If the canyon keeps on sinking a little more it won't even be necessary to blast."

The five-acre land tract which within two weeks has dropped as much as 200 feet rests, said Tibbs upon "paleozoic quartzite" which has become softened by seepage.

"This quartzit can't sink very far because it rests upon pegmatite, one of the hardest of rocks," Tibbs added.

"At the base of the paleozoic quartzite, next to the pegmatite, may be found the pockety, gold-bearing quartz.

"As soon as that canyon stops sinking there ought to be something of a gold rush here."

Senator Black To Take Seat Upon Bench

Outspoken Alabaman Is First Roosevelt Appointee Taking Place In Supreme Court

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Hugo L. Black, who came out of the deep south as a liberal senator 10 years ago, will put on the robes of a supreme court justice next October.

The outspoken Alabaman, confirmed by his colleagues late yesterday by a 63-16 vote is the first Roosevelt appointee to the high tribunal.

Opponents Are Downed

By their one-sided confirmation, senators rejected the contention of opponents that he once belonged to the Ku Klux Klan and was temperamentally unfitted for the bench.

The 51-year old New Dealer, accepting congratulations with a broad smile, said he will resign from the senate at once. After a vacation he will take the seat of the conservative Justice Willis Van Devanter, retired, when the autumn term of court begins.

Black pledged himself to "serve the people to the best of my ability." He will have opportunity, if he wishes, to help pass on constitutionality of laws which he helped pass.

Fewer Are Opposed

Despite the vehemence of the opposition, fewer senate votes were registered against him than against confirmation of either Chief Justice Hughes or the veteran Justice Brandeis.

A handful of foes pounded all afternoon against the advisability and legality of his appointment.

Six Democrats joined 10 Republicans in voting against confirmation. The Democrats were: Burke, Byrd of Virginia, Copeland of New York, Gerry of Rhode Island, Glass of Virginia, and King of Utah.

The Republicans opposing confirmation were Austin of Vermont, Borah of Idaho, Bridges of New Hampshire, David of Pennsylvania, Hale and White of Maine, Johnson of California, Lodge of Massachusetts, Steiwer of Oregon, and Townsend of Delaware.

Three Republicans, on the other hand, supported Black: Capper of Kansas, and Frazier and Nye of North Dakota.

Senator Tydings (D-Md) and Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) were paired, the former opposing confirmation and the latter supporting it.

Some Not Registered

Among Democrats who were not registered on the vote were Senators Bailey of North Carolina, McCarran of Nevada, Maloney of Connecticut, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Wheeler of Montana.

Senator Borah (R-Idaho), who voted for Black in the sub-committee and full committee and against the Bridges motion to recommit the nomination, finally voted against confirmation.

Black will sit on a court which he vainly endeavored to help reorganize, he had supported President Roosevelt's bill to add six justices unless those over 70 retire.

Friends predicted he will be aligned generally with the three justices who often have been in the minority—Brandeis, Stone and Cardozo.

As a senator Black has gone on record many times in favor of a broad interpretation of the interstate commerce clause of the constitution and the federal government's power to regulate industry and agriculture. He helped draft the wage-hour bill now before congress.

Nelson Speaks To Students

In a congested auditorium at Texas Technological college, Tech students and professors heard Senator G. H. Nelson of the 30th senatorial district explain his plan for one house state legislatures Wednesday morning.

His plan in the main deals not only with abolishing one of the houses, but doing away with free conference committees that seek "to defeat bills rather than pass constructive legislation." The senator said that under the present set-up the Texas legislature is primarily ruled by 12 men—the Lieutenant governor, the speaker of the house, and the 10 men on "free conference committees." In one session that committee cost the state $650,000, he said in citing the instance of a liquor bill.

Prevent Hasty Actions

Senator Nelson said that he does "not advocate the adoption of the Nebraska unicameralism" but fundamentally pushes the plan because prevention of nasty legislation at the close of sessions could be brought about, prevention of filibustering, place legislators on full time salary and thereby raise the prestige of the

Furious Drive Is Directed At Chinese

By The Associated Press

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18—Japanese warplanes and warships began a concerted and furious bombardment of all Chinese positions north and east of Shanghai today in a desperate effort to check the steady advance of China's crack divisions.

In the furious fighting the United States marines suffered their first casualty when a bursting shell struck Floyd Arnold of Beaumont, Texas, in the hip as he stood guard in the American sector of the international settlement's north border along the banks of Soochow creek.

Arnold was pharmacist mate of the fourth regiment of U. S. marines.

Japs Are Outnumbered

Outnumbered on land almost four to one, the Japanese marines and bluejackets were reported slowly giving way before the Chinese advance in the northeastern sector of the international settlement. The combined Japanese third and first fleets and all available planes were thrown into the fray late this afternoon.

The Klangwan civic center, headquarters of the municipal government of greater Shanghai, was one of the principal targets of the shelling. Many direct hits were scored on the palatial buildings which were erected at a cost of millions of dollars.

Just before the massed attack began, Chinese troops seized and scuttled a fleet of six Japanese steamers off the French concession effectively blockading the upper reaches of the Whangpoo from the warship attack.

Villages In Ruins

Chinese refugees reported the Japanese bombardments had made a shambles of the streets and villages on the outskirts of the rich industrial area.

Simultaneously with the naval attack against Klangwan a few miles north of Shanghai proper and just a mile and a half inland squadrons of Japanese bombers attacked the Chinese positions in the Yangtzepoo section of the international settlement.

Forty Japanese planes were estimated to be raining bombs on the lines which the Chinese regulars had wrested from the Japanese in the six days of uninterrupted battle for this city.

Approximately 2,000 Chinese are wounded have been admitted to the international settlement in the last four days.

Stars And Strips Seen

The flagship of the U. S. Asiatic fleet, the cruiser Augusta, moved into the vanguard position in the Whangpoo's battleship row. The stars and stripes fluttered from three points and her guns commanded a complete and uninterrupted sweep of the settlement. Warships of Britain and France strung out behind her.

Under cover of the naval and aerial bombardments, Japanese marines were rushed ashore of the wayside area wharves two miles below the Japanese consulate.

The Shanghai American club in the heart of the international settlement, was a refuge for many Americans.

Casualties in today's fighting were

First Bale In Dawson County Sold; Premium Is Offered

LAMESA, Aug. 18 Special)—Dawson county's first bale of 1937 cotton was sold here Monday for 20 cents per pound. It was grown by C. D. Applegate and was ginned by Lambeth Gin Co. and purchased by Dan Davis, manager of the Davis Food store.

As far as can be ascertained, this was the earliest that a bale of cotton was ginned in the county. The bale was brought to town by Applegate late Saturday.

Local merchants paid a total of $50 premiums to the producer.

Legislation On Crop Control Said Assured

Payments To Cotton Growers Who Cooperated In 1937 Program To Be Increased

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18—Usually accurate informants said today Secretary Wallace and other administration farm officials have recommended that loans on this year's cotton crop be on a 9-cent basis.

This would be one cent below the rate suggested by cotton state congressmen who won support for a loan and subsidy program from President Roosevelt.

Legislation Is Assured

In exchange they gave assurance that crop control legislation will be the first order of business in the next congress.

These same persons said Wallace also has agreed to increase payments to cotton growers who cooperated in the 1937 soil conservation program by 10 per cent, or about $10,000,000. This would reverse the stand which he took in June.

Wallace and other government farm officials agreed, it was said, that loans on a basis of 9 cents, coupled with a subsidy payment to growers would permit the indicated larger cotton crop to sell freely in world markets.

Fair Price Promised

The subsidy payment would be equivalent to the difference between 12 cents and any lesser figure received on sales in the open market. This it was said would assure growers a fair price and still permit American cotton to compete with lower-priced foreign growths.

The subsidy payments would be limited to about 65 percent of the more than 15,500,000-bale crop this year with payments only to those growers who fulfill restrictions of the control program developed for 1938.

Officials tentatively have estimated these payments would cost about $65,000,000. They said market conditions would determine the amount of money required for loans of about $45 a bale.

Plains Towns Are Eligible

Nine South Plains towns are included in a list of 88 Texas towns eligible for selection for the construction of new postoffice buildings as a part of the public building program approved by the house appropriations committee. The measure approved is the third deficiency bill.

Towns in this section on the approved list include: Brownfield, Floydada, Hereford, Littlefield, Post, Slaton, Snyder, Spur, Tahoka and Tulia.

Others Are Included

Other towns in Northwest Texas included in the list are: Albany, Anson, Canadian, Canyon, Clarendon, Crane, Port Stockton, Hamlin, Haskell, McCamey, Midland, Monahans, Odessa, Paducah, Rotan, Seymour, Wellington and Wink.

Under the plan $70,000,000 is to be spent for building construction during the next three years. This is a part of the public building program and the cost of the structures will range from $70,000 to $100,000.

Pan-American Clipper Reaches Azores After Long Flight

PORT WASHINGTON, N. Y., Aug. 18 (AP)—The 22-ton Pan-American Clipper III lighted at Horta in the Azores at 5:45 a. m. E. S. T. today after a 2,067-mile flight from Bermuda, Pan-American airway officials reported.

The giant seaplane, making a surveying flight over the Atlantic, completed the hop in 14 hours and 24 minutes, flying at an average speed of 145 miles most of the way.

The clipper will leave Horta August 21 for Lisbon, Portugal, and fly from there to Southampton, England.

Offensive Against The Pink Boll Worm Being Planned

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP)—Mexican and Texas agriculture authorities awaited today completion of cotton picking in September before launching an offensive on a common enemy, the pink boll worm.

When pickers vacate fields in Starr, Willacy, Cameron and Hidalgo counties in the lower Rio Grande valley and an adjoining area across the Rio Grande, entomologists of the two governments will destroy the cotton stalks, winter habitat of the pest.

Farm Conditions Over Section Are Reported In Good Shape

Last night's rainfall will prove a stimulus to late crops, which had begun in some areas to show the effect of hot weather.

Agricultural conditions generally over the Lubbock territory were satisfactory even before the rain, according to reports as of Aug. 7 made to Lubbock Production Credit association from its directors, local representatives, inspectors and members.

Satisfactory outlook was reported in Lubbock, Crosby, Hockley, Garza, Lynn and Terry counties, where showers had fallen since the last report on July 19.

Needing Top Moisture

A few communities are deficient in top moisture but the general crop prospect is rated as good. In this group even though dry weather should prevail for some weeks, fair to good yields of cotton and feed crops may be expected.

The crops of Crosby, Garza and Lynn are the earliest, where early feed is now being harvested. Open cotton bolls are appearing in Garza where an early cotton harvest will be necessary. Grass is curing in the pastures and livestock are making good gains. Grazing is ample for the summer and where not overstocked it will be sufficient for winter.

A less favorable situation exists in Cochran, Yoakum and Gaines counties. The general crop prospect may be rated as fair in Yoakum and Gaines, but reports indicate that unless moisture is received at once in Cochran the general crop production will be less than fair.

In this group dry weather has severely damaged the crops. Cotton has ceased to grow except in east and northwest Gaines county, where moisture was received on Aug. 4, and feed deterioration has set in. Should dry weather continue for some time, all crops will be cut short. Grass is ample for summer but pastures need rain at an early date to assure suitable winter range conditions.

Throughout the district trading in cattle is fairly active, with good prices prevailing. Yearlings have been selling at $35 to $45 for immediate delivery. Calves are being contracted for fall delivery at $30, and 7 cents for heifers and 8 cents for steer calves. Fat dry cows are bringing high prices and $75.00 has been offered for good quality cows and calves. No lamb contracts have been reported but indications are that lambs will be good and the price for fall delivery very satisfactory. A prosperous year for the stockman of this district is pretty well assured.

CROSBY COUNTY, AUGUST 7

During the past few days good rains of .75 to 1.25 inches fell in the Ralls, Cone, Farmer, Pleasant Hill, Owen and League 4 communities. This was rather general over the west one-half of the county, extending from Crosbyton to the west line. The moisture condition is fair on the east side but rain now would be very beneficial. Cotton throughout the county is growing and fruiting satisfactorily and will hold up ten days to two weeks where no recent moisture has fallen. Early cotton is reaching an advanced stage and will begin to open September 1 to 15. Latest cotton is blooming. Some flea hoppers have been reported but not serious.

A good early grain sorghum crop is now maturing, one report in the Ralls territory estimating the yield a one to one and one-half tons per acre. The late corn and grain sorghum crops will hold up for several days yet but without rain these crops will be cut short. The general prospect is classed as one of the best in years. The ranges are good and livestock is reported as doing well.

RALLS TRADE TERRITORY, AUG. 7

Recent good rains general over this territory make the crop prospect one of the best in years. A good cotton crop is apparently assured. Early corn and early grain sorghum crops are now maturing heavy yields. Late crops are in good condition but more moisture may be needed in 15 to 20 days to assure good yields of late feeds and late cotton. The range and livestock condition is good.

HOCKLEY COUNTY, AUGUST 7

During the past week one-half inch of rain fell in the Smyer, Whitharral and Clauene communities. The county as a whole is getting dry but cotton is still growing and growth will continue for 10 days without rain. Fruiting is satisfactory. No insect damage is reported. Early cotton is good and is expected to begin opening about Sept. 1. The late cotton is blooming.

Early grain sorghum crops are now maturing fair yields and late sorghums are in good condition but need rain now. Dry weather has damaged the corn crop which will be light unless good rains come within 15 days. Although top moisture is scarce over most of the county the general crop prospect is classed as good now and a general rain would insure full production of practically all crops. The range and livestock condition is good. Livestock sales have been light but good prices prevail. Mixed bred yearlings are bringing 5 to 6 cents. Good quality yearlings much higher.

YOAKUM COUNTY, AUGUST 7

During the past few days one-eighth inch of rain was received at Plains, slightly heavier on the east side of the county. Moisture is badly needed throughout Yoakum county. All feed crops are burning, cotton is still holding and fruiting satisfactorily. No insect damage reported. Early cotton will begin to open Sept. 15. Early grain sorghum crops are only fair and the corn crop and grain sorghum crops will be very short unless rain comes in 15 days.

Should ample rain come at an early date the county would make fair crops, but if dry weather conditions continue yields will be poor. Grass is plentiful now and cattle are making good gains but rains will be needed by Sept. 10 to insure adequate grass to winter on. Cattle sales have been light. Some steer yearlings sold for $40, a small bunch of good quality heifer yearlings sold at $44 and $75 has been offered for good cows and calves.

TERRY COUNTY, AUGUST 7

Terry county had general rains of one-half to one inch over the entire county Aug. 4. Cotton is doing well, fruiting satisfactorily and will continue to grow three weeks without additional moisture. Old cotton had some early flea damage which has seemed to let up and the young cotton is fruiting better than the old. The first open bolls should appear about Sept. 1.

Early grain sorghums are maturing a good crop and late sorghums are in good condition. About one-third of the corn crop has been damaged by dry weather and the production on this will be light, but light rains will partially overcome the damage and materially help late corn. The general crop prospect over the county may be classed as good. Pastures drying up before the recent rains are now putting out new growth. Cattle are making good gains, trading has been slow.

GARZA COUNTY, AUG. 9

On Aug. 6 this county received one-half inch of rain, fairly general. Field moisture is medium but pastures are getting dry. Cotton is still growing and fruiting satisfactorily. No insects have appeared. Early cotton is beginning to open and promises a good yield, while late cotton [illegible]. Early grain sorghum crops are making a fair yield. Late sorghums are in fair condition and will stand several days yet and make good yields if sufficient moisture is received.

Dry weather has damaged corn and indications are the crop will be light unless good rains come at once. Livestock [illegible] but pastures need rain to grow new grass. Steer yearlings are selling at 7 cents, heifer yearlings at 6 cents, dry cows $60, good ewe lambs for fall delivery $7.50 per head. Steer calves are being contracted at 8 cents and heifer calves at 7 cents for fall delivery. On the whole the livestock and crop condition in this county may be classed as good.

GAINES COUNTY, AUG. 7

Although a light rain of one-eighth to one-half inch, rather general over the county, has come since the last report on July 19, it was not sufficient and a general rain is now needed. The east and northeast part of Gaines county is in the best condition. Cotton growth continues and fruiting in the main is satisfactory, except in sections where moisture is best. The flea hopper has done some damage where ample rainfall has fallen. Late cotton is now blooming and early cotton will begin opening Sept. 20 to Oct. 1. Early corn is suffering for moisture and the crop will be cut short. Early grain sorghums are maturing fair crops. Late corn and grain sorghums must have more moisture but will stand several days yet before heavy damage is done.

The general crop prospect may be rated as fair. All livestock are doing well but pastures are now getting brown and need rain to continue growth of grass. Old grass is sufficient to carry the livestock for some time yet. Prices of cattle are running about as follows: steer yearlings $38 to $40, heifer yearlings $30 to $35, dry cows $25 to $35 according to flesh, cows with calves $55 to $65. Demand for calves and yearlings is good and calf contracts for fall delivery are being made at $30 for heifers and steers mixed or 7 cents for heifers and 8 cents for steers.

COCHRAN COUNTY, AUG. 10

The moisture condition is very unsatisfactory. Only a trace has been received since July 19. Cotton has ceased to grow. Early cotton is pretty well fruited and will begin to open about Sept. 15. Late cotton is blooming. Early grain sorghums are maturing a fair yield, late sorghums are in fair shape but deterioration will be rapid unless rain comes within a week.

Corn is cut short and the indicated yield is 10 bushels. The general prospect can hardly be classed as fair. Continued dry weather for 15 days will result in poor crops. The livestock and range condition is fair. Considerable rain will be needed to grow grass for winter pasture. Calves are being contracted at 7 cents for heifers and 8 cents for steers.

LUBBOCK COUNTY, AUG. 7

On July 20 and Aug. 4 general showers ranging from one to two inches came over the south one-half of the county and moisture condition in this section is good. In the north one-half of the county top soil moisture is needed. Cotton is growing and fruiting. A little flea hopper damage is reported and a few farmers have dusted their fields with sulphur to check this. Late cotton is blooming. Opening of early cotton is expected to begin by Sept. 10 to 20.

Early sorghum crops are maturing good yields. Late sorghums will stand 15 days before heavy damage is done. The general crop prospect for the county may be classed as good. Fair yields of feed and cotton may be expected even though no additional moisture is received. The range and livestock condition is good.

Mary Alice Maedgen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Maedgen, 1811 Broadway, is home from a month's attendance at Camp Carrizozo near Ruidoso, N. M. She won honors in arts and crafts and dramatics as well as two medals in markmanship while there. Her parents attended closing activities of the camp.

There will be a meeting of the South Plains Civic Music association board of directors at 8 p. m. Thursday in the home of the president, the Rev. W. R. Vivrett, 1020 Seventeenth street.

Visitors Honored By Local Women

Wives of Lubbock druggists have planned a series of courtesies to wives of druggists here for the West Texas Pharmaceutical convention.

The schedule included a bridge party to be given this afternoon at the Hilton hotel. Prizes were donated by local drug houses. In charge of arrangements were Mesdames H. W. Wylie, John Halsey, E. L. Robertson, Floyd Bowen and D. Jarrett.

Mrs. Jarrett greeted the druggists' wives when they registered Tuesday afternoon and presented each with a free picture show ticket.

Cars are at the disposal of the visiting ladies, courtesy of Lubbock druggists' wives.

Last night they attended a banquet and dance at the Hilton hotel.

Registration of visitors was not complete at noon today.

Two Hundred Thirty-Two Are At Two-Family Reunion

A fifth annual reunion of the families of W. C. Jones of Lubbock and Mrs. A. C. George of Spur was held for two days recently in Old Decker community, 25 miles south of Sweetwater, where the families once lived. One hundred twenty-one relatives and 111 friends registered.

The group decided to meet at the same place the Saturday before the third Sunday in August, 1938.

Governor Allred Planning To Attend Wedding In Denver

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP) — Governor James V. Allred announced today he would attend the wedding in Denver Aug. 25 of Mary Sue Knight of Wichita Falls and Joseph Clarence Hersey.

The governor said he had known Miss Knight, a student at the University of Colorado, Boulder, a long time and that her father, W. T. Knight, was one of his closest friends and a colonel on his personal staff.

Governor Allred said he had made no definite plans as to travelling arrangements but would probably go alone.

The Hersey family, operators of mine properties in Leadville, Colo., maintain a home in Beverly Hills, Calif.

Forage Acre Allotment Made In Crosby County Program

By Staff Correspondent

CROSBYTON, Aug. 18 — Crosby county ranchers cooperating in the range control program of the federal government have been allotted a 5.5 forage acre allotment for a 12 month period.

This represents about 30 cows per section, considered by local ranchers as the common practice of the county. The ratio indicates that cattle have at least 5.5 acres of solid forage over a 12 months period to graze upon.

Allen Smith is the range inspector. He has 19 ranchers cooperating with some 155,000 acres involved, or more than 240 sections.

ROPES WANTS OFFICER

ROPESVILLE, Aug. 18 (Special) —Ropesville citizens are hopeful of early and favorable action on the petition presented by a delegation of business men recently to the commissioners court and sheriff's department at Levelland asking that a deputy sheriff be stationed here. The court has set aside $25 per month for such a deputy, explaining that the financial condition of the county would permit no greater allowance immediately.

Richardson-Myrick Church Wedding Tuesday Is Impressive Ceremony

Miss Roberta Myrick became the bride of Dr. James K. Richardson in an impressive single ring ceremony performed by Dr. Jack M. Lewis at 5:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church in the presence of 135 guests.

The altar was decorated with white asters, palms and fern.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Lottie B. Hilton sang "Because" (D'Hardelot), with piano accompaniment by Mrs. R. C. Douglas, jr. The vocalist wore a blue chiffon dress and Mrs. Douglas was similarly clad in pink.

Ushers were Dr. Henrie E. Mast, Dr. Walter J. Howard, John Vickers and Bernard Moore.

Mrs. Douglas Plays

Mrs. Douglas played "The Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" (Wagner) as the bridal party entered the church.

The bride's mother, Mrs. W. A. Myrick, jr., of San Antonio, wore a black chiffon dress with corsage of gardenias and [illegible]. Her hat was of leghorn with black trimming.

The maid of honor, Miss Frances Snyder, wore a [illegible] pink peplum dress [illegible] crownless velvet hat. The dress had a long sash of [illegible] magenta, purple and turquoise. She carried a flower fan of shaded asters in the colors of the sash.

Four bridesmaids, Miss Malcolm Monroe of Houston, Miss Rose Heatly, Miss Jane Whittington of Eastland and Miss Mary Forrest of Jacksonville, wore turquoise chiffon dresses made like that of the maid of honor. They wore matching blue velvet, crownless hats and carried flower fans.

Enters With Father

The bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore the dress and shoes in which her mother was married and carried an old-fashioned lace cornucopia bouquet of gardenias and bride's roses with showers of stephanotis, a small native Hawaiian flower, and feverfew.

The dress was of silk chantilly lace over white satin charmeuse with de Medici collar beaded with pearls. The shoes were of white satin beaded with pearls and crystals. The bride also wore a simply arranged, floor length bridal veil.

Doctor Richardson entered from the vestry with his attendant, Dr. O. R. Hand.

During the ceremony, Mrs. Douglas played Fibich's "Poems" and MacDowell's "To A Wild Rose." She played "The Wedding March" (Mendelssohn) as a recessional.

After the ceremony the wedding party and members of the family went to the home of the bride's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Myrick, 2220 Thirteenth street, where the wedding cake was cut by the bride and served with pineapple ice. The house was decorated with pink, blue and purple asters.

The dining table was covered with a lace cloth and set with silver service. The centerpiece was of white asters.

Dr. and Mrs. Richardson left immediately after the refreshments had been served for Denver and Estes Park, Colo., and other western places of interest. They will be at home in two weeks at 2104 Sixteenth street.

Is Tech Graduate

The bride is a granddaughter of Mrs. W. A. Myrick, 1212 Avenue W, and the late Mr. Myrick. She is a graduate of Texas Technological college where she was a prominent student and member of Sans Souci social club. She has a master of arts degree from the University of Texas, Austin, where she also has a year's credit toward a doctorate. Last year she taught at Dupree school. She is a member of Zeta Tau Alpha, national college social sorority.

Doctor Richardson is a son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Richardson of Manassa, Colo. He is a graduate of the University of Texas school of medicine at Galveston, where he was a member of Phi Beta fraternity. He came to Lubbock about a year ago to become house physician at Lubbock sanitarium. Next year he also will be the Tech college physician.

Members of the Bristow, Okla., Junior Chamber of Commerce "Welcome Wagon" committee greet newcomers to the city with a box of groceries and household articles donated by merchants.

Baptist Class Has Officer Election

The following officers were elected at a business and social meeting of the First Baptist T. E. L. class Tuesday afternoon at Mackenzie State park:

President, Mrs. R. E. L. Farmer; vice-presidents, Mesdames Lilla Ford, Elmo Wall, Pearl Carlisle and E. A. Patterson; secretary, Mrs. J. W. Thompson; treasurer, Mrs. E. L. Law; reporter, Mrs. Virginia Fann; teacher, Mrs. Carl Roberds, and assistant teacher, Mrs. J. K. Miller.

After the business discussion, the hostesses, Mesdames Farmer, Thompson, W. A. Stahl and Miller, served watermelon.

Others attending were Mesdames H. O. Waters, W. R. Campbell, O. S. Easley, B. N. Morris, L. C. Montgomery, N. S. McBride, J. I. Noah, Annie Raymer, B. T. Terrell, J. W. Baze, W. P. Fry, G. W. Scott, H. T. Twitty, Fannie Gee, J. W. McCollon, Creek Brown, G. E. Knight, J. R. Stratton and two guests, Mrs. D. A. Strange of Dallas and Mrs. Jack McLarty.

Bownds Child Is Honored On Recent Second Birthday

Mrs. Gradie Bownds honored her daughter, Wanice, on her second birthday with a party on the lawn Monday afternoon at 1825 Texas avenue.

Wanice greeted guests at the door and presented them with balloons. The table was laid with a lace cloth and decorated with pink roses and candles.

A pink birthday cake was cut and served with white ice cream to the guests. The honoree received many gifts.

Those present were Mesdames L. R. Johnson and Leroy, J. V. Jones and Marjorie Ann, W. I. Pittman and Billy, F. B. Malone and Buren, M. L. Shepherd and Nancy Lynn, Joe B. Taylor and Donnie and Dannie, Thurman Porter and Nina Kay, Joe McIlhaney and Joe, jr., J. T. Howard and Joe Dan, W. M. Turner and Patsy Ruth of Pecos.

Sew-A-While Club Meets In Sterling Jones Residence

Mrs. Sterling Jones entertained the Sew-A-While club Tuesday afternoon at her home, 1602 Twenty-third street. Gifts were exchanged.

Attending were Mesdames Vernon McCullough, Melvin Capp, Homer Moss, Craig Bond, Marvin Casstevens, Bill Hamilton, George Long, Raymond Land and Cliff Elliott.

The club will meet at 3 p. m., August 31, with Mrs. McCullough, 1616 Ninth street.

Local OES Chapter To Have Memorial Picnic At Park

Lubbock members of the Order of the Eastern Star planned a Robert Morris memorial picnic at a stated meeting last night at the Masonic hall. Mackenzie park has been selected for the picnic to be held Aug. 27. E. A. Tipton, worthy patron, is in charge of arrangements.

Mrs. Sol Lesser and children, 2906 Twenty-first street, left Tuesday for San Antonio where they will join Mr. Lesser and make their home.

Mrs. Virginia Fann has returned from a visit in Denver in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Rex Greer, and family.

Wedding To Be In September

The engagement of Miss Mary Geniece Hardberger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Hardberger, 1921 Thirteenth street, to Pleas L. Childress of Ozona was announced this morning when her mother and sister, Mrs. J. Lowell Littleton of Ozona entertained from 9:30 until 10:30 o'clock in the home of Mrs. F. R. Friend, 2005 Broadway.

Eighty guests were met by Mrs. W. H. Edgett. In the receiving line were Mesdames Hardberger and Littleton, the bride-elect and Misses Nancy Ruth Leaverton and Kathryn Weaver.

Mrs. John Hardberger presided at the register. While coffee was being served, Miss Crystelle Scudder of Slaton played piano selections.

Two Pour Coffee

The house was decorated with garden flowers. The coffee table, covered with a lace cloth, was centered with a large floral wedding ring, made of moss and fern and white dahlias, pink roses and lavender asters. Mesdames A. V. Weaver and D. N. Leaverton presided at the table.

Others in the house party were Misses Elizabeth Anne Price, Katherine Klett, Billie Bob Jones, Ellen K. Clapp, Mary Ross Edwards and Mrs. Sim O'Neal.

The marriage is to take place at 8 p. m., September 5, at the First Presbyterian church.

Mr. Childress is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Pleas L. Childress, pioneer ranchers of Crockett county. He is a graduate of the University of Texas, Austin, where he was a member of Phi Gamma Delta fraternity. He is employed in the Ozona National bank of which his father formerly was president. After the wedding, Mr. Childress plans to resign his job in favor of his ranching interests.

Miss Hardberger is a graduate of Texas Technological college where she was prominent in student activities, having been for two years president of Sans Souci social club, a member of The Forum and of Alpha Psi Omega, honorary dramatics society.

A series of parties honoring the bride-elect is being planned.

Gomez Lives Up To Tradition--"Show Must Go On"

Yanks Stretch Margin With Double Win

BY BILL BONI
Associated Press Sports Writer

There's a well-known motto, often abused, but backed up by solid tradition in the camons of the theatre and, to a less-publicized extent, the professional sports field:

"The show must go on."

Those words, hackneyed perhaps, joked about frequently, must have flitted through the mind of a slim young Californian as, before a mid-week crowd of some 30,000, he warmed up early yesterday afternoon at Yankee stadium.

Is Told Of Death

For Lefty Gomez, southpaw star of the champion Yankees, had just been told that in Rodeo, Calif., his mother had died. Less than a week ago Lefty had returned from her bedside in the belief that she was recovering.

It was his turn to pitch in the opener of a doubleheader against the Washington Senators, riding high on an eight-game winning streak. Manager Joe McCarthy, hard-pressed for pitchers, gladly would have excused Gomez from duty.

But Lefty trudged to the mound, turned in a three-hit, 8-0 shutout, helped himself to two singles—sensational batting for the southpaw—and hung up his fourteenth victory of the year.

Bettered Only Once

Only once before had he bettered that performance when he pitched a one-hit game against the Athletics on June 30. Once before, too, he had equalled it against the Tigers on May 4. But neither of those games were turned in under the circumstances that surrounded him yesterday.

After Lefty had subdued the Senators, the Yanks came back to win the nightcap 6-4 on the strength of a five-run scoring spree in the eighth. Thus as the Tigers kept second place safe by battering the White Sox into 11-7 submission, the champions ran their American league lead to 10 1-2 games.

Less fortunate were the Chicago Cubs. Held in check 4-2 by Ed Brandt and Mace Brown of the Pirates, they saw their margin over the Giants shrink to three games as Cliff Melton pitched a five-hitter that took the sting out of the Boston Bees by a 4-1 count.

Phils Move Out

Philadelphia retained one and lost another cellar occupant. The Athletics, with Son Earl Mack replacing Father Connie at the helm for a day, remained in the American league rumble seat by absorbing a 6-1 defeat from the Red Sox while the Phils moved out of the National league cellar for the first time since July 11 with an 11-1 trimming of the Dodgers, who replaced them.

In a night game at Cincinnati the Cardinals shaded the Reds 8 to 6 before 20,302 fans. The clubs played the last two innings in the rain. The victory kept the Cards in third place, half a game ahead of Pittsburgh.

All-Stars Plan Trouble For Pros

Texas Collegians Have Fine Season On Track

DALLAS, Aug. 18 (AP) — Texas collegians have had probably their finest season this year on the track and in the field . . . Thirteen of the best outdoor track and field performances of 1937 were set by lads from the Lone Star state . . . The list includes Jack Patterson, hurdler, and Willard Moser, dash man. Rice; Blaine Rideout, North Texas Teachers college distance star, and Alton Terry, Hardin-Simmons javelin thrower.

Joe Routt, Texas A. and M.'s All-America guard, underwent a minor operation on a hand in Houston. . . . He'll be in condition for the football season . . . George Halas, coach of the Chicago Bears, refused to allow Sam Francis, of Nebraska to play with the college all-stars in their game here Sept. 6 against the Bears . . . Francis has not played with the Bears yet and Halas decided he needed him more than the all-stars did.

Prepares For Tourney

Sports Editor Harold Scherwitz of the San Antonio Light is busy preparing for the Light's eleventh Texas junior golf championship, one of the state's finest tournaments . . . It'll be over the Brackenridge park golf course Aug. 30-Sept. 3 . . . No entry fee . . . Special rates at hotels and tourist camps.

Fish suffer and die from the heat, too . . . Their supply of oxygen is lowest just before sunrise because when there is no sun, creation of oxygen is retarded . . . Consequently, hot long nights take their toll . . . Leave it to Sol Dreyfuss, owner of the Dallas Steers to think up something new . . . Not content with a men's night, when males were admitted free to the game, he had a twilight doubleheader, starting at 5:30 p. m. and with time out for dinner . . . Picnic lunches were numerous . . .

New idea: Fort Worth is planning a football fiesta next month . . . The city's grid teams will go through maneuvers in a "preview" of the season . . . Proceeds to the Big Bend national park fund.

After a visit to his Llano home, Cecil Smith is back in Long Island ready for a campaign to regain his 10-goal polo rating.

Haddock Is To Feature Card

Old Three Fingers or Dale Haddock is back to see what he can do—or can't—with wrestling in this dizzy circuit.

Haddock used to haunt this section, but left in the spring after his list of wins had been snapped summarily. He went to the west coast, where he's been since.

He will be seen tonight on Sled Allen's weekly card.

Mexican Terror Returns

They're giving Haddock a main spot in his first match since coming back to Texas, so he must be pretty good, yet. They're giving him a tough spot, however, because this Frank Wolfe, a "furriner" and a meanie, is nobody's slouch when it comes to plain and fancy torture. He's a popeyed, wolfish gent who never knows when to stop. He wouldn't stop last week, so the referee had to stop him, and award the fall to the other fellow. He's that kind of a bird, one who loses on fouls when the referee becomes offended.

There's more to tonight's card than the main event, however. Jack Hagen, who has plumb turned villain on us, meets another Jack, the Canadian Terry. Blond Terry knows his way and he may be the bird to stop Hagen's wild raging. They go to it for thirty minutes or less in the special event.

El Pulpo, the terror of Old Mexico, comes back for another shot in the local ring. He's another quite rough fellow. His opponent, however, has been known to take care of himself. Tex Hager is no preliminary punk.

Crosbyton Lions Club Plans For Beautification Of Park

CROSBYTON, Aug. 18 (Special) —The Lions club of Crosbyton has accepted the beautification and development of the municipal park as a project.

The civic club is making plans to develop a plot that was bought three years ago by the Crosby Garden club and eventually to make it a recreational center. Help from the NYA and WPA is being asked.

SOME KITE

MUYA, Tokushima Prefecture, Japan (AP) — Dwellers on Shikoku island have built a kite measuring 464 square yards in area, assertedly the largest in the world. Until a strong enough wind arises it will be housed in a hangar specially built at a cost of $2,000. Kite-flying is one of the oldest pastimes in the Orient.

Crack Players Will Appear In Big Game

DALLAS, Aug. 18 (AP)—It was late in the fourth quarter of the Chicago Bears—college all-star game in the Cotton bowl a year ago.

The Bears had just registered a touchdown and needed the extra point to tie the score at 7 points.

Manders Stands Ready

Behind the line Jack Manders, probably the greatest placement kicker in football, stood ready to perform his simple chore.

Suddenly the huge frame of Bob Reynolds, 235-pound tackle from Stanford university's Rose bowl teams, burst through the line. The kick was blocked, the game saved. The victory was the first for collegians in a major clash between professional and college all-star teams.

The Bears play another picked eleven here Sept. 6 and Bob Reynolds, no respecter of reputations, wants another crack at the pros.

Eligibility Questioned

Whether he was eligible was undecided today. He has not played professional football or coached the game since he left college. Consequently, his amateur status is clear.

However, the amount of protest George Halas, coach of the Bears, might make possibly would influence the decision of the committee in charge.

Certain it is the addition of Reynolds to the squad would give it the necessary balance in the line and provide a potent draw at the gate. He was a great favorite with last year's crowd of 26,000.

Two Others Join Up

Two more former college aces agreed today to play with the all-stars. Buck McCarn, end from North Carolina, and Sam Agee, brilliant Vanderbilt fullback who was hurt much of last season, will join the squad here when training starts at Southern Methodist university Aug. 25.

James Stewart, director of the game, and George Marshall, director of sports and special events, were in Chicago signing college players on another all-star squad which meets the Green Bay Packers in the windy city Sept. 1.

To Obtain Releases

They intended to obtain releases for certain players who have signed with professional teams but have not yet played as professionals.

Among those were Buzz Buivid, All-American halfback from Marquette, Ham Harmon, Tulsa university center, Bull Crass, Louisiana State halfback, and Bill Harris, Hardin-Simmons end.

Sammy Baugh, Texas Christian university passing star; Bob Finley, S. M. U. punter and line backer; Charles Deware, end from Texas A. and M.; and Lionel Rodgers, guard, and Bob McGee, tackle, both from Santa Clara, are some of the collegians who have accepted invitations to play here.

Matty Bell of S. M. U. and Leo (Dutch) Meyer of T. C. U., who coached the winning team, again have charge of the all-stars.

District Offices Of Telephone Company Are To Be Opened

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 18 (Special) —District offices of the Southwestern Associated Telephone company will be opened here by E. C. Throop, district manager.

Residents of Brownfield voted recently to abolish the "cranking" telephone system and to substitute a central battery plant. The new district of the company includes counties in the vicinity of Brownfield and eastern New Mexico.

"DONKEY" GAME SCHEDULED

POST, Aug. 18 (Special) — A donkey softball game, sponsored by the Post Rotary club, will be held August 31, on Antelope field. Proceeds will go to the club.

Galveston Is Stuck In 6th

(By The Associated Press)

If they paid dividends for consistency alone, Galveston's Texas leaguers would collect heavily on their performance in the circuit this season.

Almost since the start of the current flag chase the Buccaneers have held sixth position, unable to rise out of the second division and good enough to top Houston and Dallas. The Pirates were good enough last night to turn back the pace-setting Oklahoma City team, 1 to 0. In the fastest game of the year (one hour and 12 minutes) the Pirates played flawlessly behind Curt Fullerton's five-hit twirling for their shutout.

Missions Whip Cats

Fort Worth went to San Antonio for a series vital to their aspirations for second place, and San Antonio won 11 to 4. The first-game victory strengthened the Missions' hold on the runner-up berth to two games. The Padres turned the trick with a seven-run outburst in the seventh inning.

Al Baker continued to be the hard-luck man of the Dallas Steers, who went down with him, 8 to 3, before a Beaumont assault. Baker pitched well but his occasional wild streaks came at inopportune moments. Two errors at third, letting in five unearned runs, was the direct cause of the Steer loss.

Max Thomas of Tulsa, on the other hand, was a pitching hero against Houston, who could get only three hits, and the Oilers won, 4 to 3. Thomas punched across the winning run with a double in the fourth.

More than 88,000,000 persons attended American theaters weekly during 1936.

Matches Will Start Today In Tourney

Match play will be touched off today in Meadowbrook Golf course's annual women's championship.

YESTERDAY'S STARS

(By The Associated Press)

Rudy York, Tigers — Hit home run, triple and two singles to lead 14-hit attack that routed White Sox, 11-7.

Lloyd Waner, Pirates — His 7th-inning single drove in deciding run and his fine 9th-inning catch saved 4-2 victory over Cubs.

Johnny Moore and Claude Passeau, Phillies — Moore hit two homers and a single, batted in four runs; latter held Dodgers to seven hits, fanned eight and gave no bases on balls in 11-1 triumph.

Jack Wilson, Red Sox—Set Athletics down with eight hits in 6-1 victory.

Lefty Gomez and Bill Dickey, Yankees — Former hurled 3-hit, 8-0 shutout in opener against Senators; latter hit homer in opener as well as in 6-4 triumph in nightcap.

Cliff Melton, Giants — Pitched five-hit ball and drove in run to defeat Bees, 4-1.

Stan Bordagaray, Cards — Collected four hits in five times at bat and drove in four runs as St. Louis conquered Reds in night game.

They're Old Enough To Know How

Jim Turner, left, and Lou Fette show how they hold the ball in throwing it past National League hitters. Turner, 31, and Fette, 30, in their first trials in the majors have this season won more than half of the victories scored by the Boston Bees. Scouts are taking a second look at older pitchers in the minors as a result.

Life Is Dealing Strange Hand To Bill McKechnie These Days

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—Life is dealing a strange hand from a shabby deck to William Boyd McKechnie, keeper of the Boston Bees.

At the age of 50, when all too many men cease wondering what's coming around the next corner, mild mannered Bill finds himself universally famous as a diamond wizard.

He Uses His Brains

McKechnie is one man who has succeeded in the rough, tough baseball profession by use of his brain instead of brawn. And strangely for a thinking man, he's had rough passage. As a baseball player, he was moved around to five major league clubs because he couldn't hit enough to keep pace with his brilliant fielding. As a big league manager, he won pennants for Pittsburgh and the St. Louis Cardinals and was rewarded in both places with a pink slip.

He won the world's championship for the Pirates in 1925, the first since 1909, and the Pirates let him go at the close of the '26 season. He went to St. Louis, built well in '27, and then clinched the pennant for the Cardinals in '28. The Cards lost the World series and retaliated by shunting Bill to their Rochester International league farm. Bill did well with Rochester and then went to Boston where he's making baseball history with old men—old as players go.

Bakes Some Swell Dishes

With no far-flung farm system like those of the New York Yankees, Cardinals and Boston Red Sox and with little money to spend, Bill has to take the baseball leavings, but somehow Bill has been baking some swell baseball dishes.

By strange circumstance, his biggest helpers this season have been two pitchers who were overlooked by everyone else because they were regarded as "too old." Lou Fette, getting his first big league chance at 30, has won 14 and lost 4; Jim Turner, a rookie of 31, has won 12 and lost 8. What the Yankees could do with Lou and Jim on their chucking staff is too horrible to consider.

For the last month, now I have been busting into managerial huddles to inquire who is regarded as the slickest manager in big time baseball. So far, the vote is overwhelmingly in favor of McKechnie.

Boston's gain, however, may be Boston's loss. For rumor is getting louder and louder that McKechnie will pack up his belongings at the close o f the season and relieve Steve O'Neal in the Cleveland wigwam.

Behrens Wholesale Drug Company Already Envisages Need For Expansion

Business Rushes New Firm Here

Behrens Drug company store, which it is generally believed will do as much to influence spending of "outside" money in Lubbock as any other Lubbock business concern, simply has "had business thrown into its lap" in the brief two months since its Lubbock store was established, "already envisages necessity of building another story on the store before a year has passed," John V. Powers, manager, reports.

Just officially opened, the store nevertheless has been filling orders three weeks and, in violation of its rule not to work overtime hours, has been keeping store personnel busy night and day "trying to get the place straightened up."

Large Stock Arranged

In an effort to utilize every square inch of store space, stock has been arranged in order-room shelving seven feet high. Aisles are only two feet wide. Stockrooms have "double decked" shelving where possible. Order trucks, into which stock is placed for sending to packers, are kept under counters, and drug "lines" are arranged in long, high rows with only narrow aisles between.

So crowded, in fact, is the establishment that when a special holiday goods display featuring Christmas merchandise is completed today, everything of a Christmas motif will be there—except a Christmas tree.

"We don't have room for the tree," ruefully smiled Powers.

Whether one goes into an upstairs stockroom by an elevator or into the place through the front, back or a special delivery window, he is struck with the immensity of stock and the amount of work there.

"Everything" Can Be Found

One sees crutches hanging from a wall, novelties, any amount of drugs ranging from tiny pill boxes to great cartons containing thousands of preparations from the laboratories of reputable manufacturers.

"We have everything here except sugar," said Powers to a newspaperman.

"But I saw several kinds of sugar in stock shelves, including dextrose, maltrose and medicated sugars," the reporter said.

"Oh, sure," laughed Powers, "we even have that—so far as treated sugars go. I suppose, in the general classification, we have everything."

Wide Territory Served

Powers explained that the store, which now has more than a quarter-million dollars stock in its shelves and on storeroom floors, will serve a territory approximately 300 miles in radius, except to the south, which would make boundaries overlap with the Waco store. It will serve an area to Sweetwater that direction, take in all the Pecos valley and the eastern New Mexico territory, and go as far north as the Oklahoma state line.

"The two stores, that at Waco and the one here, will serve all Texas with exception of the Texas valley," said Powers.

Powers explained the great amount of money to be spent in Lubbock through location of the Behrens Drug company store is found in the fact retailers of the far-flung territory will come here to buy much of their drug preparations and sundries.

Purchases Carefully Selected

He said they would require two or three days, in many instances, to complete selection of goods, which would mean spending much money in Lubbock.

"We are gratified at the great volume of business coming in now," said Powers, and expect to grow with the city and the great surrounding area."

He said personnel is equipped despite the crowding, to handle "by that night" all orders that come in during the day.

"We had so much business in this section we had to come here with a store and take care of it," he said.

New Wholesale Drug Firm Here Follows Policy Of Being "Part Of Community"

"Ethics in employment," no less than in conduct of business, dictates the policy of Behrens Drug company, wholesale firm which officially is opening its Lubbock plant at 602-04-06 Broadway during the three-day session of West Texas Pharmaceutical association.

"We attempt two things, especially," said John V. Powers, manager of the Lubbock store and a member of the board of directors of the two stores, the other of which is at Waco.

"We seek to hire persons where our stores are located, or in the immediate vicinity of them, and we attempt to employ persons as well acquainted with the drug trade and with drugs as possible. Those factors insure, together with other aims, our becoming part of the city where our store is—and provides protection to ourselves and to our retail customers."

Equipment Bought Locally

Powers said that when office furnishing for the Lubbock store was bought "it was bought in Lubbock, despite the fact Albert T. Clifton, president of the drug company, is interested in several furniture businesses."

He said, in regard to employment, two Lubbock persons have been placed on the payroll and that possibly two other Lubbock persons will be employed this week. When the store first was established here two months ago, several persons already associated with the establishment and several who had belonged with organizations which sold drug stock to Behrens were transferred to Lubbock, "because of their familiarity with the stock and the business as a whole."

Powers has been with the company 23 years. He worked with the audit department 17 years and did sales work, as well. He has been on the board of directors five years, being a member of an "official family" that includes the president, C. S. Carson, active vice-president, M. A. Cooper, vice president, T. F. Buch, vice president, A. L. Clifton, vice president, Chester Storey, secretary-treasurer, L. A. Potter, credit manager, and J. Louis Marsh, sales manager.

Two Visitors Here

Carson and Marsh will be in Lubbock for the official opening and for the pharmaceutical gathering. B. V. Carwell, manager of the sundries department of Behrens, of Waco, has arrived to arrange a "holiday display" for visiting druggists. The display will be be at the Behrens store and "it is hoped every retailer who visits Lubbock this week will be our guest at an inspection," said Powers.

Powers, who completed his schooling at Texas A. & M. college and Castle Heights Military academy at Lebanon, Tenn., and who had attended Waco High school earlier, is married and lives at 2310 Seventeenth street. Mr. and Mrs. Powers have no children.

Lewis Assistant Manager

The assistant manager of the Lubbock store is Marshall Lewis, formerly with Western Drug company, Quanah drug establishment; Jack a salesman. He, married and the father of two children, lives at 2417 Ninth street.

Eight persons are employed in the store now, said Powers. They are Morris Casey of Slaton, former student of Texas Technological college; Winston Estes, Bonner Lytle and Clyde Curlee, all formerly of the Quanah drug establishment; Jock Kiger, formerly of Gatesville; T. E. Jones and Miss Eva Johnson, both of Lubbock; Bob Coyle, formerly of Waco, and Roy Moore, who is here temporarily but who will return to Waco.

Six or seven salesmen will work "out of the Lubbock store," said Powers. Four already have begun their rounds. They are K. M. Camp of Sweetwater, Sid Saunders of Plainview, Sim Coker of Quanah, former manager of Western Drug company, and Fritz Weise of Stamford, former employe of Stinson Drug store at Slaton.

Horses Reported Dying In Area

"Sleeping sickness" of horses has struck in West Texas. Horses in Plainview and Hale Center are "dying like flies," said Dr. F. G. Harbaugh, veterinarian. He has administered to 11 in Lubbock, with all but one recovering.

The disease, equine encephalomyelitis, seems to occur every other year. It has struck Lubbock twice. This year, however, Dr. Harbaugh said it apparently is complicated with another disease, even though showing the same symptoms as usual. Horses are emaciating faster.

Symptoms are drunkenness, staggering, walking in circles and backwards and as though trying to overstep a log. The horse is gradually forced down and is unable to rise again.

Dying Quicker This Year

Usually horses will die in four or five days with the disease, but this year they are dying in 24 hours.

The disease is caused by virus, eastern and western. The eastern type has struck this section, it is indicated. The virus affects the brain, kidney and spinal cord of the horse.

There is no simple remedy, he said, unless it be taking horses off cut or pastured sudan, and feeding them on oats and hay in the lot.

Too Late To Vaccinate

There is a special vaccine for the disease, which requires two different "shots," 14 to 16 days apart, and about a month to develop immunization. It is now too late to vaccinate Lubbock horses.

Vaccination is not always a cure. The vaccine does not always remedy different conditions.

Dr. Harbaugh warned horse owners against quacks who would offer to vaccinate horses for $2 a head. The real vaccine is more expensive than that and the quack's remedy does not work. Besides, vaccination requires two treatments.

The disease is not peculiar to any special section of the country. It has been found in Kansas and California and in the east, though a product of different causes.

Fifty per cent of the horses so affected died of the disease in the past, said Dr. Harbaugh, and he predicts that an even greater percentage will be counted this year.

Fish Advocates Radio Probe

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—Representative Fish (R-NY) advocated Tuesday a congressional investigation of the Communications commission.

He suggested the inquiry might also include a check of the position held by Charles Michelson with the Crosley Radio corp., owners of station WLW in Cincinnati while he still "draws $25,000 yearly as publicity director of the Democratic National committee."

"They might also see what's behind reports that Mr. Elliott Roosevelt helped to sell certain radio stations in Texas to Mr. William Randolph Hearst without a hearing," Fish continued.

History Of Behrens Drug Reaches Back To Days Prior To Civil War

Somewhere back in the historic shadowland of the now famous Behrens Drug company, million dollar wholesale establishment with plants at Waco and at Lubbock, about the time of reconstruction days and carpetbaggers in Texas, no name existed for the company which was destined to serve the manufacturing and retail trade in almost all Texas.

"Another thing, no one seems to know when the company got its start, although it was in full operation at Waco during the Civil war," said J. Louis Marsh, general sales manager, here to attend the West Texas Pharmaceutical association and attendant to official opening of the Behrens store.

Went Through Three States

It went through three states from the time it was organized by Dr. H. Behrens as a general merchandise-wholesale-retail concern. It later became known as Behrens-Castles, when Bert Castles, who later became a multi-millionaire in the New York stock market, bought in.

Historical gets a foothold in the records only in 1892, when the establishment was incorporated, with Dr. Behrens president, George Horne vice-president, and F. W. Schumacher secretary-treasurer.

From that moment until the present, the company has grown as result of its dual purpose: to offer facilities for manufacturers distribution and to become a buyer for retail druggist of the section it serves.

Sales Shoot Skyward

Its business growth since the recent slump years took a gigantic step when, from 1932 to 1936, it more than doubled its sales. Policy and successful management are attributed with being the greatest factors of that growth, together with the avowed purpose of never handling "substitute merchandise."

A bit of history:

Dr. W. R. Clifton, father of the present president of the company, Albert T. Clifton, was a member of the original stockholders and became a vice-president although being a capitalist, he was not interested in management of the concern except as a director until Dr. Behren's death, when he became president. Just prior to the founder's death R. N. McKnight became secretary-treasurer and left the firm in 1909, when H. C. Risher became secretary-treasurer. Dr. Clifton continued as president. In 1913 and 14, John G. Mason came into the firm as general manager and, in 1915, Risher became active vice-president and Ed H. Hardin, who had been in the firm as salesman, became secretary-treasurer.

Worsham Firm Purchased

In 1909, Behrens Drug company bought out Patton Worsham Drug company and liquidated its assets except for Oxidine, which the Patton-Worsham company continued to distribute. Behrens also acquired Mrs. McCormick's Beauty cream, giving Behrens the nucleus for a manufacturing division, which it carried on nationally and internationally until Behrens sold to W. S. Kirby Manufacturing company in 1923.

In April, 1917, J. J. Powers, father of John V. Powers the manager of the Lubbock store, came into the firm as vice-president. In 1919, in January, he succeeded to the presidency, Dr. Clifton becoming chairman of the board of directors. Hardin died in 1918 and in January of 1919, when Powers became president, Risher was named secretary-treasurer. Risher died in January, 1934 and J. F. Hopkins succeeded him as secretary. Through division of offices, Chester Storey became treasurer.

Powers died in February, 1924, and Dr. Clifton again assumed the presidency. Hopkins became general manager. In January, 1927, C. S. Carson was elected vice-president. In December, 1931, Hopkins was killed in an automobile mishap and Storey assumed the secretaryship, maintaining his duties the while as treasurer.

In January, 1931, Marsh succeeded Hopkins as general sales manager, a position Hopkins had undertaken in connection with his other duties. Dr. Clifton died in November, 1932. In February, 1933, W. B. Brazeldon was elected president and continued in that capacity until his death in June, 1934.

Two Added To Board

In the meantime, in January, 1933, John Powers and Marsh were added to the board of directors and, in July, 1934, Albert T. Clifton, who had been a vice-president several years and an active director, became president.

That brings the date up to April of this year, when the Lubbock house was announced. The idea of establishing the store here was advanced in 1931 and, after Marsh recently went back to Waco from a trip over this section, he carried the idea to the president and, within 48 hours and after quick sessions of the board of directors, the designation at Lubbock had been made.

Avowedly a "family" concern, there is a move made each time an employe or any member of his family becomes ill to send flowers or other greetings. Group policy insurance is carried for them and pensions occasionally are voted employes by the board of directors.

And employes remain with the organization. A half dozen persons who were with Dr. Behrens remain on the salary rolls. Employes on the rolls combine experience with the company of more than 1,000 years, said Marsh.

The Behrens company maintains one of the most liquid positions of any Texas firm and attributes its strength in times of depression largely to its "quick assets," Marsh declares.

PHARMACEUTICAL CONVENTION

DRUGGISTS OF THE SOUTHWEST

Local merchants who cooperate here to welcome the druggists of West Texas to this part of the South Plains during West Texas Pharmaceutical Association Convention are gratified to take the responsibility as host to this organized group of citizens.

West Texas has always been an attraction and challenge to men of strong character and organized understanding. . . The drug merchants have been no small factor in serving the people of this great country which has so surely been on the road to prosperity for these past years. The people have been taught, that cooperation with the druggist's cause further his and his family's own well being.

Now, these fellows have honored Lubbock by selecting her as their convention city of 1937. Again we voice our gratitude for them and the cause for which they work.

More Than 1,000 Persons Hear Religious Debate Tuesday

More than 1,000 persons heard Elders R. F. Pepper and Guy N. Woods give a debate Tuesday afternoon in a series which will continue through Saturday night at a Tabernacle at Avenue Q on Seventh street.

Woods, who is from Wellington, Tuesday afternoon took the affirmative on the question: "Resolved, That baptism in water to penitent believers is for, or in order to remission of past or alien sins."

The debate ended when the Ralls minister offered Woods his hand saying, "Come on. I have you whipped, shake hands and let's go home."

Today's discussion will be led by Pepper on the affirmative of the question: "Do scriptures teach that a child of God cannot apostatize and fall away and be lost in hell."

TWO TEACHERS NAMED

POST, Aug. 18 (Special) — The school board filled the last two teaching vacancies with the appointment of Miss Evergne McFarland, English, and Charles M. Kirkpatrick, arithmetic and geography in the grade school.

Hot Weather is Here—Beware of Biliousness!

Have you ever noticed that in very hot weather your organs of digestion and elimination seem to become torpid or lazy? Your food sours forms gas, causes belching, heartburn, and a feeling of restlessness and irritability. Perhaps you may have sick headache, nausea and dizziness or blind spells on suddenly rising. Your tongue may be coated, your complexion bilious and your bowel actions sluggish or insufficient.

These are some of the more common symptoms or warnings of biliousness or so-called "torpid liver," so prevalent in hot climates. Don't neglect them. Take Calotabs, the improved calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts, combined. You will be delighted with the prompt relief they afford. Trial package ten cents, family pkg. twenty-five cts. At drug stores. (Adv.)

Hope For Park Is Held Out

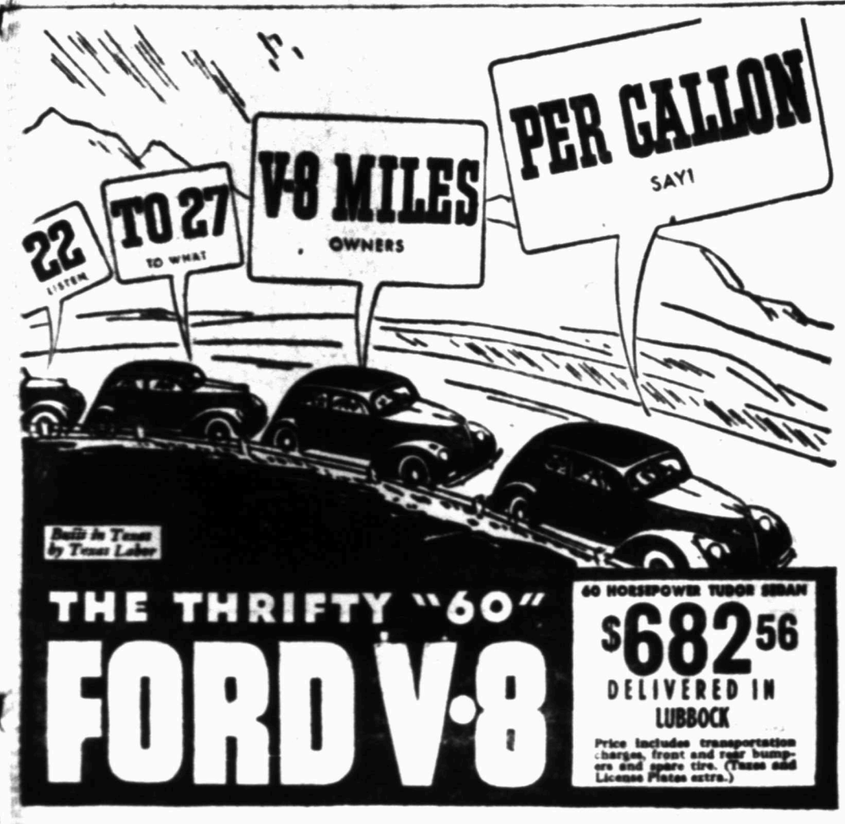

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP) — Rep. Augustine Celaya of Brownsville came to town today breathing words of hope for the proposal to create a state park on Padre island, 100-mile long sandbank off the coast of South Texas.

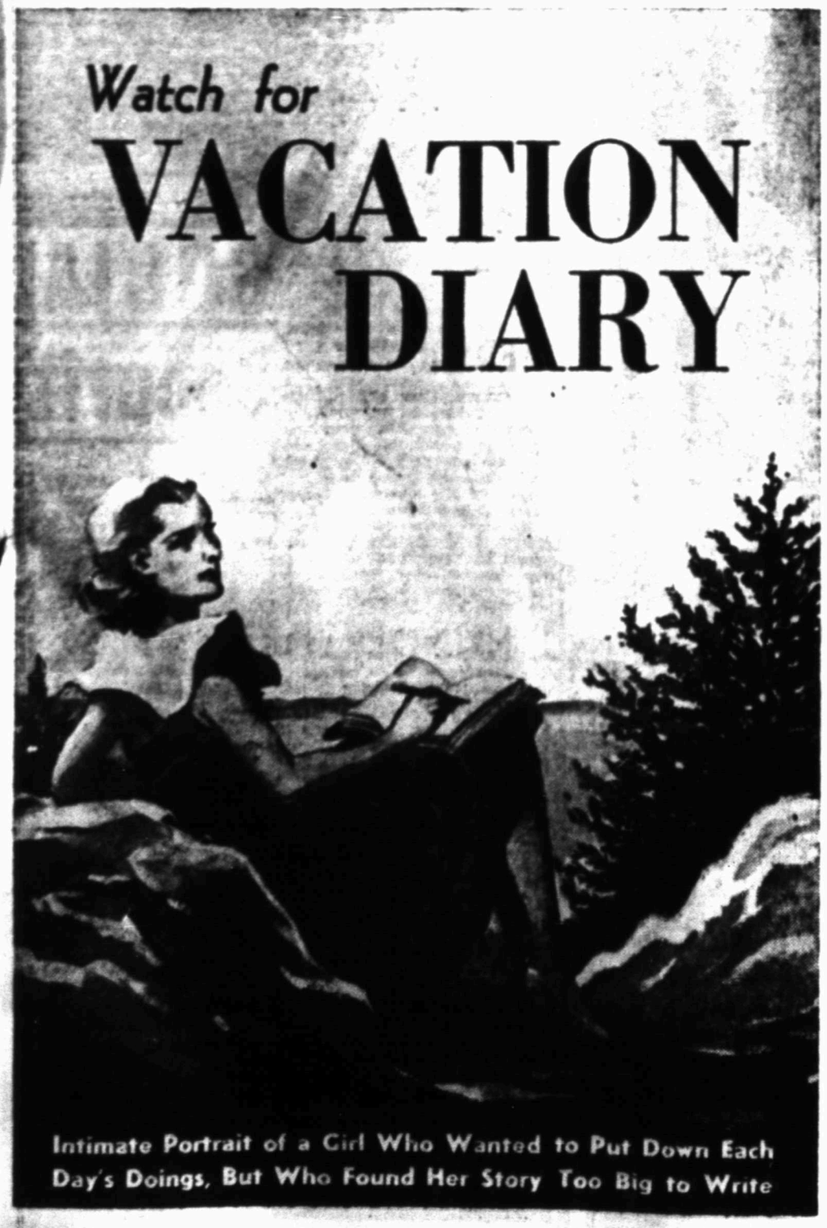

If Governor James V. Allred could be induced to submit the subject, Celaya said, another bill authorizing such a park would be introduced at the session of the legislature expected to be called in September.

At the general session last spring, the legislature passed a bill providing for issuance of revenue warrants to acquire the land from private owners, but the measure promptly met a veto from the governor. The warrants would have been paid by revenue from tolls over bridges to the island and concessions on it.

Celaya said he believed it had been established the state did not own any of the island, one of the reasons the governor exercised his veto axe.

Both the attorney general's department and the general land office might already be a part owner. An opinion probably will be made public soon.

Know What You're Voting On!

Amendments Coming Up On Aug. 23 Explained For Plains Voters

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second article of a series of three explaining proposed amendments to the state constitution to be voted on August 23.

AUSTIN, Aug. 17 (AP)—A proposed amendment to the state constitution to be passed on at a special election August 23 would empower the legislature to prescribe any system of remunerating district, county and precinct officials.

Although the caption says the amendment provides for the abolition of the salary method of compensating such officers, actually the amendment does not but reads:

Here It Is

"All district, county and precinct officers shall hereafter be compensated in such a manner and on such basis as may be prescribed by the legislature."

In other words, the amendment will give the legislature authority to re-examine the whole matter of remunerating the officials, including the oft-discussed systems of salaries and to do exactly as it pleases.

Until two years ago what is known as the fee system was in effect throughout the state. Fees were collected for various services and turned over to officials, usually under some limitations as to maxima, although, even in this period, some offices were on salaries.

Investigation Made

Throughout the years there were rumblings of discontent over the fee system. A legislative investigating committee disclosed some officials were receiving money it was supposed to get and several convicted of law violations and imprisoned in connection with fee collections.

In 1935 therefore, the legislature ordered submitted an amendment setting up a combination fee and salary plan and this the people adopted by a large majority.

Briefly, all district officials were placed on salaries while commissioners courts were permitted to choose between the salary and fee methods of paying precinct officers. In counties of 20,000 or more population, county officials were ordered paid salaries and in counties of less than 20,000 for this class of official the commissioners courts again were given the choice. All notaries public, county surveyors and public weighers continued to receive compensation on the fee basis.

With the certain exceptions which had been assigned to the state, fees were collected as in the past or were supposed to be and, in those counties officials had gone on salaries were paid into "salary" funds. These funds the state supplemented variously in lieu of the fees it had given up.

Discord Crops Up

Almost before the new plan was in effect, nevertheless, discord was appearing in the legislature as efforts were made to raise or lower various salary scales where the salary plan had been adopted. Soon charges were openly made that the new system was bankrupting some counties, that many officials, no longer under the necessity of doing something to obtain a fee, were slighting their duties and the cost of government had been increased 70 percent.

Early this year Gov. James V. Allred, who originally favored abolition of the fee system, announced he had changed his mind and was convinced the new method carried more evil than good. Shortly thereafter, the legislature voted (in the House, 126 to 0 and in the Senate 27 to 3) to submit the problem again to the people in a manner that would give it a free hand to work out something unhampered by constitutional restrictions.

Official Stand In Doubt

In the discussion since, the points have been raised whether the officials themselves wanted a return to the old plan and whether the legislature under the proposed change, would have the power to fix its own salaries.

Gov. Allred said recently the officials who might go back to the fee system generally favored the salary plan and called attention to action of the county and district clerks association taking such a position.

The constitution in another section specifically fixes the pay a member of the legislature shall receive.

India, slowly being modernized, has adopted a six-year program of road development. New water supply systems are being installed in many parts of the country.

Federal Grant For Building

Approval of a grant of $36,900 for a new building in Cooper rural school district of Lubbock county has been given by the PWA, according to information to County School Superintendent Joseph R. Griggs late Tuesday from Congressman George Mahon.

PWA money will be provided to match a $40,000 bond issue voted recently in the school district. The federal grant will be even larger should Cooper district trustees decide to raze five present buildings scattered throughout the area and use the materials in the construction of one modern central plant in which all children will receive instruction. B. M. Hays is superintendent of the school.

Would Construct $95,000 Unit

Should present apparent sentiment in the district materialize, Griggs said, it will mean the construction of a $95,000 building by next spring to serve all children in the entire district, with the district bearing 55 per cent of the cost and the PWA 45 per cent. The district will be credited in the matching of funds for the value of materials salvaged from razed buildings.

Announcement that the grant has been authorized will be followed by two important events today toward the improvement of the excellent rural system the county now has, the superintendent said.

One will be an election today by patrons of Carlisle and Hurlwood grade schools in Frenship rural school district on the proposal that all pupils attend the Frenship school at Wolfforth. Advocates of the proposal contend that a favorable vote will mean both greater economy because of centralization and more advantages to the children.

Also scheduled today is the opening of bids by trustees of Roosevelt rural district for the construction of a grade school building estimated to cost approximately $20,000, including value of materials recovered from two grade buildings to be razed by authority given at a recent election. At that time, citizens of the district authorized a $9,000 bond issue toward the cost of the new grade building which will be built on the same campus with the $63,637 high school plant built with $28,637 PWA assistance about two years ago.

The three other districts to be given grants and the amounts are: Frenship, $28,637; New Deal, $32,800, and Roosevelt, $28,637. The new Frenship building will be in use for the first time with the beginning of the new school term.

Others Fully Accredited

Other schools in the county rural system are Shallowater and Idalou, and they, like the others, are fully accredited and offer a varied curriculum, including home economics and vocational agriculture. Cooper offers 10 1-2 units of affiliation.

Schools now included in Cooper district are Slide, Barton, New Hope, Union and Woodrow. Four now serve as grade schools with high school work centralized at Woodrow, 10 miles due south of Lubbock, which is situated on a 28-acre campus ideally suited as a site for an outstanding school plant. It is upon that site that the planned $95,000 building for both grades and high school pupils will be built if proposals to raze present grade structures are approved.

To Become Necessity

Griggs pointed out that if the one combined plant is not built now, a grade building will become an absolute necessity within the next two years. Cooper then may be confronted with the same problem as Roosevelt which failed to provide for a central grade school two years ago when PWA help could have been obtained. As the result, the school district now must meet the entire cost of the structure it recently approved.

Other schools in the county which have been built with PWA funds since 1935 have been New Deal, which voted $40,000 in bonds and got $32,800 assistance toward a $72,800 plant; and Roosevelt and Frenship, each of which voted $35,000 to get $28,637 for plants representing total investment of $63,637.

Among other things they wanted to know if Mr. Roosevelt ran for a third term would John Garner be—or want to be—his running mate, if and when he planned to retire from politics, if he had any idea of seeking the presidential nomination for himself.

To all these questions and more bushy-browed Jack Garner smiled. And to make the smile even more a part of the gathering he said at the conclusion of the conference:

Just tell 'em I smiled.

And well might Texas' Jack Garner smile.

From the lowly vice-presidency he has emerged a big shot.

From a position which usually is merely one of honor he has fought his way to a point of prominence scarcely secondary to that of the President. In many respects in fact Jack Garner is the most powerful man in Washington. Anyone who doubts that just hasn't been keeping up with things.

No wonder he smiled—it's remarkable he didn't laugh out loud.

Although The Plainsman believes he could have picked a better Supreme court justice than Senator Black—with his eyes closed—he can't help but feel that Senator Copeland's attack on Black's confirmation was made with his eye more on his New York City mayoralty race than on the fitness of the Alabaman for the high tribunal. His opposition to Black was based upon the claim that the latter first was elected to the Senate in 1927 with Ku Klux Klan support.

ALONG about that time—and a few years earlier — practically every person from constable to senator was elected with klan support if he lived in the Deep South. Senator Black in all probabilities was no exception to the rule. Like every other candidate he had to have klan support or he would have been left at the post.

As we see things from this distance, Senator Copeland's speech was based more upon catching the votes of New York City's turbulent East Side and its hi-de-ho Harlem than upon whether or not Senator Black should be issued a black kimono.

"Flame Trail"

BY MARIE DE NERVAUD
(Copyright, 1937, Marie De Nervaud)

SYNOPSIS: Kay Crandon of the Lazy Nine impulsively hires Ted Gaynor, a jobless puncher. He helps her fight Josh Hastings, a "friendly" neighbor, who wants to get her ranch and marry Kay. Ted and Scrap Johnson, a cow-hand who molests Kay, shoot it out, wounding each other. Hastings sneaks up and kills Scrap with Ted's gun. Arrested, Ted is tried for Scrap's murder, but Kay stops the trial by technical protest. Ted escapes and rescues Kay, whom Hastings had kidnaped and locked in a cellar. Ted asks Kay to hide at her ranch and turn up at his second trial when he hopes to prove Hastings' villainy.

Chapter 46
In Hiding

Kay cautiously raised her head, looked out the window of the cabin she had fixed up for Ted's mother and sister in those days that now seemed to be ages ago.

For two days she had been there in hiding and confinement was beginning to wear on her. In the sunset light she looked longingly down toward the corral. To think of having been home two whole days without seeing Flicker!

It hadn't been as easy as it sounded to keep her promise to Ted but she managed it. First of all, she had changed trains and waited at a station where no one would know her for the afternoon train that would land her at Red River late at night.

Slipping off the end car without being seen, she had gone by a circuitous route to Old Man Jenning's livery stable. Rousing him she had taken him into her confidence to the extent of telling him no one must know she was back and swearing him to secrecy. Old Man Jennings never talked anyway if he could help it and Kay knew she could trust him to keep quiet about her return.

She had taken one of his horses and ridden out to the ranch, arriving in the dead of night. She had given her rented mount a sharp cut of her quirt that sent him rushing on his way back. It would never do to have the outfit find a strange horse in the corral if she was to keep her presence at the Lazy Nine a secret.

Awakening Seth

First she had gone to her cabin and found her flashlight. Then she had tiptoed into the bunkhouse, and singled out Seth's bunk. Creeping over to it, she had gently laid her hand over his mouth and flashed her light in her foreman's eyes.

Smothering his startled oath as he blinked at her, Kay had put her finger to her lips, and then beckoned him outside. With astonished but muted mumblings and grumblings Seth had drawn on his boots and followed her.

"What the hell——" he had growled, pacing beside her to a safe distance. "When——"

"Ssh! Seth!" Kay had whispered. "I don't want anyone but you to know I'm here."

Interrupted only by picturesque oaths of varying degree of blasphemy, Kay had poured out her story. "I don't know just what Ted means to do," she had ended, "but I think it's up to me to carry out my promise."

After a few minutes of careful deliberation Seth had agreed with her.

On planning ways and means of doing this, it had finally been decided that no one would ever dream of looking for her in the deserted cabin. It wouldn't be safe to stay in her own, but in the other cabin they felt sure she could hide indefinitely.

Kay had agreed to have Shorty let in on the secret, so that he and Seth could take turns smuggling food down to her, and it would be less conspicuous than if one always disappeared.

Kay gave a great sigh and leaned her forehead against the glass. Then she ducked suddenly as a figure topped the rise leading from the bunk house and strode down in her direction. A few minutes later there was a tap at the door, and Shorty demanded to be admitted.

"Shorty!" Kay hurriedly let him in. "Wasn't it risky to come so soon?"

"Most of the outfits' off fire fighting," Shorty answered. "They sent a truck way up from Branchtown, so the boys piled in and went along."

"But Shorty," Kay worried, "shouldn't they have stayed here? If it did spread this way——"

"Not a chance," Shorty reassured her. "It's a good 50 or 60 miles from here. And the boys kind of liked the notion of getting a bit of fire fighting money."

"Of course they did," Kay agreed contritely. "When I can't pay them anything, it is only fair they——"

"Cut it out," Shorty broke in gruffly. "I didn't mean that. Here's your supper. Eat it, and I'll spill all the news."

Hastings' Predicament

"What news?" Kay demanded. "Has Josh Hastings been around?"

Shorty nodded. "Say, you've got that bird so worried, he don't know whether he's comin' or goin'," he chuckled. "He's about crazy. I had a long talk with him today, and between what I know and what he told me, I doped out the whole business. Only I sure earned me a good big crown in Heaven for keeping from giving him a sock in the jaw!"

"Well, go on, Shorty," Kay urged, impatiently. "What did you dope out?"

"First place, he'd written your Aunt Kate you'd gone on a visit to some friend over in Idaho, and might not be back for several weeks. So now he can't let on you've disappeared, and he's like a locoed rattler in August. Ready to strike at anything, but not seein' where to strike!"

"Has he any suspicion that I'm here?"

"Not now. We pulled his leg good and plenty! 'Pears he's so fed up with your Aunt Kate naggin' him, that he's cleared out to join Zeke Farley and his posse. When anyone mentions Ted Gaynor, he's fit to be tied!"

"They're still searching the mountains for Ted, are they?" Kay asked.

"Yeah. But that guy's pulled as complete a disappearance as the dodo bird."

Kay breathed a sigh of relief, and a faint color came into her face as she changed the subject.

"I suppose you won't be getting any more of those tamarack logs in right now with the boys off fire fighting," she observed. "How did this thing start anyway?"

"Search me! It looked like a lightning strike, it started so far off from anywheres. It must have burned a good 24 hours before it was discovered. Only trouble with that theory is that there haven't been any thunder storms lately—at least, that's what the weather bureau says."

Kay rides up to Marion's cabin, tomorrow.

"Let's see: there're the Williamses, and the Townsends, and the grocery man. Now whom else do we know?"

Today's Journal Editorial . . .

AND NOW, THE PROOF OF THE PUDDING

Ambitious Franklin Roosevelt, who up to that time had Congress hopping every time he shouted "frog", attempted to take over the Supreme court. Nothing less than six appointments, he said, would suit him.

As everyone knows, the President's court-packing scheme fell by the wayside, but ill Justice Willis Van Devanter did resign, thus giving the President one appointment, which he answered with nomination of Senator Hugo LaFayette Black, Alabama New Dealer.

Using as a measure for conjecture the Black nomination, the average citizen can very well see what would have happened had not President Roosevelt been stymied in his court-packing plan. Instead of one wild-eyed appointment to the court, there would have been six. Instead of one opportunity to play politics with the court, Mr. Roosevelt would have had a half dozen.

Oh, yes, Mr. Roosevelt played politics in his appointment of Senator Black. And here's how.

The President considered Supreme court approval of a new crop control bill, the Tennessee Valley Authority and perhaps next year, a wages and hour bill and other administration projects. One thick-and-thin New Dealer—one Supreme court justice who will take orders from the White House—may tip the scales. Without him the eight-man court might play havoc with the New Deal congressional campaign plans of 1938.

In order to keep in the saddle, the New Deal party must make a good showing in the campaigns of next year. While it could lose many seats and still control matters fairly well, it will look better losing fewer and, anyhow, there are some Democrats the New Deal wishes to defeat in return for their refusal to play puppet. Hence the nomination of Hugo Black who, the President wisely figured, would get a Senate confirmation with the minimum of dissent because of the tradition of senatorial courtesy.

In view of what has happened, anyone can see what would have occurred had the President's scheme to dominate the judiciary gone through.

Hollywood Chit-Chat

BY PAUL HARRISON
Journal Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 18—All moviemakers dread sequences in which they have to use cats. A cat is just about the most temperamental actor there is, and that's saying a good deal. If a director had his choice between a cat and Marlene Dietrich, he'd take Marlene.

A little while ago I wandered on the sound stage at Columbia where they're trying to shoot "The Awful Truth," and the place was full of cats. Cats and frazzled nerves.

Director Leo McCarey, usually as amiable a fellow as you'd find anywhere, was in a vile humor. Cary Grant, looking silly in a short flannel nightgown, was having a tough time preserving his aplomb. Even Irene Dunne was being pretty snappy. All this was on account of cats.

Dwight Taylor and Vina Delmar, who should have known better, had written a cat into the final sequence of the picture. It was an incidental touch, really—a cat was supposed to be lying against the door connecting the rooms of an estranged husband and wife (Mr. Grant and Miss Dunne). After lying there in feline somnolence for several seconds, the animal was expected to depart hurriedly as the door swung open.

It Sounds Simple

Sounds simple, and so was intended. But they didn't figure on the temperament of cats, these creatures being especially notional during the dog days. First the studio called one of the well-known animal men, Curly Twiford, who showed up with five cats. Along about noon an emergency summons brought another fellow with three cats. During the afternoon three women arrived with still more cats.

All day long the same trying procedure had been followed. The owner of a cat would park it by the closed door, soothe it into every evidence of contentment and then dash out of camera range. But the instant its handler jumped out of sight each cat leaped and fled in the opposite direction much quicker than you could have said "Scat!"

Occasionally an animal would break through the line of property men gathered around the set. By late afternoon when I arrived two cats had taken refuge appropriately enough in the catwalks under the rafters. Three of the beasts had dodged into dark apertures in the wall and were holding carnival in the catacombs under the floor of the huge sound stage.

Likes His Eagle Best

Curly Twiford, having lost all his cats, had a chance to tell something about the animal business. He said: "There isn't any money in the trained-cat business, on account of there are too many independent cats in Hollywood. Also because you can't train a cat much anyway. Three of my cats have been especially taught to stay where you put 'em. But sometimes, like today, they just won't work.

"The big dough in the animal business is having something nobody else has. Like my eagle. I get big money outa that eagle because he hasn't any competition. Right now he's carrying messages in 'The Adventures of Marco Polo.'

"He's got an 8-foot, 4-inch wing spread, and he eats three pounds of beef hearts at a meal, only he doesn't eat regular. . . . I haven't got a name for him; I just call him 'The Eagle.'

"Another good animal is my trained bear Queen. She works on hand signals, like a dog. I just had Queen out at Warners in a picture called 'Over the Goal,' and she did fine. The best was when she got in bed with a colored woman. You'd like to have died! So would the colored woman."

What Does A Court Appointee Think About?

FDR's Nomination Of Black Is Challenge To South's Old Line Democracy, Dutcher Says

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 — Senator Hugo Black's appointment to the Supreme court is Roosevelt's latest and most conspicuous challenge to the South's economic-political system and to the Southern blocs in Congress which have most persistently opposed his 1937 program.

Dutcher

The appointment was practically decided upon late in the evening of Aug. 11, but not finally until the next morning when it was sent to the senate. It was kept a secret because Roosevelt confided almost exclusively throughout his deliberations with Attorney General Homer S. Cummings, who is one of the best secret-keepers in town.

Runners-up in the order named were Solicitor General Stanley Reed, Donald Richberg and Judge Sam Bratton of New Mexico. The appointment was shot into the Senate so early because Southern Democratic members of the House rules committee had tied up the wage-hour bill and because Southern senators were starting a filibuster against the anti-lynching bill which would endanger Roosevelt's whole battered program.

Political Maneuvering

Stanley Reed, a Kentuckian, probably would have been selected if there had not been a justice—McReynolds — sitting from the judicial circuit whence Reed comes. Black's judicial district contains six Southern states with a population of 16,000,000. The fact that the relatively mild and courtly Reed's appointment would have been more likely to help along the resignation of Justice Sutherland than appointment of the aggressively liberal Black was carefully weighed.

But in the end Roosevelt decided that it would most advance his cause to appoint the one militantly liberal Southern senator, to encourage those in the South who want to reconstruct its economic system which some Southerners and most New Dealers tend to regard in part as an "economic sweatshop for Northern capital."

He saw an opportunity also to encourage his liberal followers everywhere by an appointment "which would assure them that he was not compromising in his leftward program and would make plain that he stood by his friends as he expected them to stand by him."

In effect Roosevelt played politics with the appointment. But it should be remembered that everyone in Washington, from the President down and perhaps even sometimes including Supreme court justices, plays politics with anything he can get his hands on.

A Bogey Interred

Other considerations included the improbability of confirmation trouble, since the Senate could hardly turn down a senator or its Southern members turn against a fellow Southerner. Chief points against Black are that he has a strong liberal record in recent years, that he was originally elected with Ku Klux Klan backing, that he failed to disclose anything like the full findings of his lobby investigation which flared so sensationally.

Although some are now calling him wild and radical, and as a Southerner chairman of the Senate labor committee he was incautious enough to sponsor a wage-hour bill on the theory that higher living standards would revive the south, Roosevelt is said to be impressed by his "sound, cautious approach" to problems.

One also learns that Roosevelt sought to lay at rest the bogey raised by senatorial opponents who insisted they would never permit confirmation of any senator who had favored the court plan.

Black had been under terrific heat both here and at home. It is most important to remember that Roosevelt is willing to stir up masses of people in the South to the point where they will unseat some of their present conservative officials and elect those whom the President thinks would more truly represent them.

Battle Waxes Hotter

Heaven knows what the effects of his effort will be, although there would be no such effort had southern members been more obedient to his desires. The fact that old-line leaders can be upset has been proved by the late Huey Long and Bilbo of Mississippi. Some of them are badly worried.

Roosevelt's week-end trip with the LaFollettes, his virtually scornful refusal to attend the Democratic senatorial "Harmony" dinner and appointment of Black all point to the same thing — that Roosevelt considers himself the leader of his party and will fight to purge it of those lesser leaders who feel he is trying to lead them into dangerous paths and whom he thinks have no right in the party unless they follow his leadership. The battle waxes hotter every day.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

The liver should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. Your whole system is poisoned and you feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.

Laxatives are only makeshifts. A mere bowel movement doesn't get at the cause. It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up". Harmless, gentle, yet amazing in making bile flow freely. Walker Assured Of His Pension

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Aug. 18—James J. Walker, who resigned under fire in 1932 as mayor of New York, virtually was assured today of a lifetime city pension estimated at between $12,000 and $15,000 annually.

JAMES J. WALKER

The Democratic-controlled transit commission appointed him assistant commission counsel — just two weeks before a five-year absence from the city payroll would have disqualified him for a pension. His new job pays $12,000 a year.

Commissioner Reuben L. Haskell said the vote to appoint Walker was unanimous.

"There was no politics involved," Reuben said. "He qualifies for the job by virtue of his knowledge of transit."

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Aug. 18. (AP)—Cotton futures opened quiet, up 2 to 5 points on steadier Liverpool cables with traders generally awaiting loan developments. Oct. 10.36; Dec 10.29; Jan. 10.33; Mch 10.42; May 10.46; July 10.51.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18. (AP)—The cotton market, still dominated by uncertainty over the proposed loan, opened steady today 2 to 4 points higher.

Trading was scant and at the end of the first half hour prices remained at or near the opening figures.

A private authority said that if the loan is fixed at ten cents a pound "probably the lowest prices of the season have been seen" and that if a nine cent loan is authorized a further decline of "about 100 points would not be surprising."

Oct. opened at 10.32. Dec at 10.35 bid, Jan. 10.41, March 10.46 bid, May at 10.51 bid and July 10.54.

Plans For Continued Probe Of Texas River Sanitation Mapped

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP)—A legislative committee mapped plans today for continued investigation of sanitary conditions along Texas streams and reported informally on its most recent findings.

Rep. Conde Hoskins of Gonzales, chairman, did not disclose the course its next inquiry would take but indicated it would cover angles not previously touched by inspections in South, Central and North Texas.

Accompanied by V. M. Ehlers, chief sanitary engineer of the state health department, and M. Caldron, representing the government of Mexico, Hoskins recently looked over the situation at Waco, Dallas, Fort Worth and Grand Prairie, including parts of the Trinity river. Caldron has been studying sewage disposal plants in Texas in connection with plans of the Mexican government to construct sewage systems in approximately 1,500 towns.

Negro Is Lynched By Mob In Tennessee

COVINGTON, Tenn., Aug. 18 (AP)—Six masked men, shouting "to hell with the law," seized a terror-stricken negro accused of slaying a white officer from Sheriff W. J. Vaughan today and left his body dangling at the end of a frayed rope after riddling it with bullets.

It was the first lynching in Tipton county since the war between the States and the seventh in the South this year. Circuit Judge R. B. Baptist demanded first degree murder indictments against the "night riders," if their identities can be established.

The body of the negro, Albert Gooden, 35, was found partly submerged in a creek 12 miles south of here.

The mobsmen, Sheriff Vaughan said, crowded his car off the highway last night, disarmed him and seized the prisoner. The sheriff was bringing him to Covington to face a charge of slaying City Marshal Chester Doyle of Mason, Tenn., a month ago.

TO INSTALL STATIONS

TUCSON, Ariz., Aug. 18 (AP)—The U. S. border patrol will establish 500-watt short wave radio station here, Chief Inspector Earl Fallis said today, to maintain constant communications with district headquarters in El Paso, Tex., and the adjoining western sub-district at El Centro, Calif. A 100-watt station will be installed at Nogales, Ariz., Fallis said, to establish communication with the Tucson office.

Trunk Murder Case Solved In Gotham

NEW YORK, Aug. 18 (AP)—Detective Capt. Edward Mullins announced tonight a man booked as Joseph Ogden, 36-year-old unemployed cook and dishwasher, had confessed the slaying of Oliver George Sinecal, whose nude body was found in a trunk delivered to an express agency this afternoon.

Detectives said they traced the trunk to a dealer who said he sold it yesterday. Occupants of buildings near the trunk store said they saw a man waiting 20 minutes for it to open yesterday morning.

The pincipal clue, detectives said, was a number on the trunk.

With it they began a canvass of luggage concerns in the city. They went to the West Side address to which the trunk was delivered and arrested Ogden in his three-room second floor apartment.

members. More pressure could be put on the law makers if they were fewer in number, he said. Redistricting as for congressmen would be installed and the voters could keep a better record of he legislator.

His main interest in divorcing the two houses and making one is, he said, "because of the monetary saving for the people of Texas". Nelson submitted a resolution to the law makers in October, 1935, and it was killed in the committee on constitutional resolutions, and another proposal was voted out this spring from constitutional amendments.

Cost Is Increased

Several "successful democracies" were cited that had adopted the unicameral plan. He said that the cost of running the machinery part of the legislature had increased from $384,000 per diem in the 38th legislature to $1,109,000 per diem in the 43rd legislature.

Under his plan, each law maker would be paid $5,000 a year, traveling expenses, and office help. He would have 42 members in the body, two members from each district, elected alternately every four years.

Sylvester Reese, Tech student from Tahoka introduced the senator.

Jesse James Is To Take Job In State Treasury Department

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP)—Representative Jesse James of Cameron will become chief clerk of the treasury department about Sept. 1.

Governor James V. Allred was withholding the call for a special election to fill James' seat until the legislator's resignation was received.

Health Program To Be Started

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Aug. 18—Four dozen trained workers, financed by a legislative appropriation of $97,500 annually for two years, will spread through Texas Sept. 1, hoping to take public health services to a greater rural area.

Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer, said the new administrative setup, including headquarters cities at San Angelo, Bryan, Floydada, Mineral Wells, Kaufman and Kingsville, would bring physicians and technical workers closer to their problems, facilitating a warfare against disease.

Per Capita Cost 4 Cents

The appropriation for the new administrative plan, together with that for existing departmental activities, will bring Texas' per capita expenditure for public health to 4 cents, an increase of one cent over the current fiscal year.

The expanded plan was intended primarily for rural counties, most of which have no health units, and duties of headquarters personnel will range a gamut from enforcement of state laws to nursing service, mosquito eradication, food and drug inspection, combatting epidemics and health education.

Headquarters cities with counties in respective districts include:

Floydada — Gray, Potter, Hale, Lubbock, Taylor.

Mineral Wells—Wichita, McClellan, Bell, Travis.

Kaufman — Hunt, Gregg, Smith, Navarro.

Kingsville — Nueces, Cameron, Hidalgo.

San Angelo—El Paso, Tom Green.

Majority Rule

am just as strongly in favor of the security of property and the maintenance of order as Lord Macaulay, or as the American Lord Macaulays who thunder today. And in this the American people are with me, too."

He referred at another point to that assertion:

"My friends, I am of the firm belief that the nation, by an overwhelming majority, supports my opposition to the vesting of supreme power in the hands of any class, numerous but select.

"Macaulay condemned the American scheme of government based on popular majority. In this country 80 years later his successors do not yet dare openly to condemn the American form of government by popular majority, for they profess adherence to the form, while, at the same time, their every act shows their opposition to the very fundamentals of democracy.

"They love to intone praise of liberty, to mouth phrases about the sanctity of the constitution—but in their hearts they distrust majority rule because an enlightened majority will not tolerate the abuses which a privileged minority would seek to foist upon the people as a whole."

abouts."

The strangely-sinking canyon, meanwhile, although still slowly encroaching upon hitherto solid land, was overshadowed in attention today by a formation extending 400 feet down its center — a high and narrow "creeping" rock wall.

Observers say the ledge, teetering shakily, slid sideways 10 feet within 24 hours and is on the verge of collapse.

Left standing when the soft earth around it sank, the wall may loosen more of the countryside when it falls, they added.

believed heavy, particularly among Chinese because they had assumed the offensive.

Evacuation Is Speeded

The evacuation of American women and children was speeded as mobs of infuriated Chinese roamed the streets, looting and killing, to make even more terrible the havoc wrought by the bursting shells of Chinese and Japanese guns.

A tender loaded with women and children ran the gauntlet of fire for ten miles down the hangpoo today, taking a third contingent to safety. At 12:15 the tender reached the Yangtze estuary, and transferred its cargo of lives to the President McKinley. The liner immediately upped anchor and headed into the China Sea for Manila.

Today's evacuation brought the number of Americans safely out of the zone of undeclared war to 831. Some 600 have still to make the 10-mile journey down the Whangpoo to the ocean liners that are shuttling between Woosung and Manila.

Within the city, stringent precautions were taken to safeguard dwindling supplies of food. Armored cars drove back Chines refugees who attacked trucks bringing precious loads of rice.

A battalion of British troops, the Ulster Rifles, was landed from H. M. S. Duches at the French concession an drushed to posts in western Shanghai.

Insulin Preparation Injected Into Young Insane Patients

VINTA, Okla., Aug. 18 (AP)—Hypodermic needles injected 20 units of an insulin preparation today into the arms of five young men at the eastern Oklahoma state hospital as doctors started a new treatment which they hope may relieve or cure dementia praecox.

"The reactions of the young men were good," reported Dr. Felix M. Adams, superintendent.

"They went into a coma and remained as if asleep. We will try three more patients tomorrow and probably three the following day.

Marine's Time Much Shorter Than Chinese

SHANGHAI, Aug. 18. (Wednesday) (AP)—A Chinese officer tried to bluff a United States marine today—but failed.

The Chinese officer saw a marine of the fourth regiment stop a Chinese ambulance from crossing a bridge connecting Chapai, the Chinese quarter, and the International settlement. Marines are guarding the bridges joining Chapei and the northern international zone.

The Chinese officer walked across from Chapei and, with a precise English accent, told the marine commander:

"I'll give you people ten minutes to go or I'll blow up the bridge."

The marine commander answered:

"I'll give you ten seconds to go or I'll blow the hell out of you."

The Chinese officer went, hurriedly.

Arkansas Seeks Texas Fugitive

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Aug. 18 — State police pushed a search today for Grady H. Hairston, 33, Texas fugitive, named by Lieut. Earl Scroggin as the fourth and last member at large of a band of outlaws who had headquarters at Hot Springs for the past two months.

Scroggin said the band was headed by Alfred "Sonny" Lamb, 26, escaped Texas convict slain by officers in a raid on his Hot Spring apartment Sunday night. The officer said the other members were T. N. Morris, 25, wounded and captured in a raid near Rogers yesterday, and Sam Segall Haines, 24, arrested at Benton Sunday.

Bride Is In Jail

Mrs. Lorene Feaster Lamb, bride of a year, remained in jail at Hot Springs for questioning in connection with her husband's activities. She was with him when he was killed, escaping a fusillade of bullets fired at the escaped convict by half a dozen officers.

Prosecuting Attorney Gibson Witt said he did not think charges would be filed against her. Lamb, who escaped from a Fort Worth jail two months ago, was under sentences totalling nearly 100 years on half a dozen charges.

Accused Of Kidnaping

Hairston was accused last week by Mrs. Hollis Reed, Little Rock, of kidnaping her. Asst. Supt. Bob LaFollette of the state police said one of three automobiles found at the house where Norris was captured yesterday had been identified as the machine Hairston used in kidnaping Mrs. Reed at Pine Bluff more than a week ago.

LaFollette questioned Norris in a Fayetteville hospital and said the man, held as a federal prisoner, told him he was one of ive men who robbed patrons of the Southern club at Hot Springs of $21,000 last March.

LaFollette said Norris "talked freely" about himself but denied knowing Lamb, Haines or Hairston.

Norris To Recover

Hospital attendants said Norris would recover from wounds in the arm and one leg, received when he attempted to flee from a posse.

Court records at Fort Worth showed Norris was wanted there in connection with a hold-up Oct. 11, 1936.

Search of the house where Norris was captured yielded two shotguns, three rifles, a pistol and a satchel containing $967 in currency.

State rangers held Haines in jail here. They said he probably would be returned to Texas. Dallas police records showed the man was wanted at Lockhart, Texas, for robbery with firearms.

CONFIDENT OF APPROVAL

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — Representative R. E. Thomason of El Paso, Tex., expressed confidence today provision would be made in the first appropriation bill of the next session of congress for a power project at Elephant Butte dam in New Mexico.

Bounty Payments On Cotton Are Sought

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — Senator Byrnes (D-SC) asked congress today to allot $65,000,000 from tariff receipts for bounty payments up to three cents a pound on this year's cotton crop.

In accordance with an agreement between President Roosevelt and congressmen from cotton states, Byrnes proposed that the "price adjustment payments" be made only to producers who comply with the prospective 1938 Agricultural Adjustment program.

Byrnes advanced his proposal as an amendment to the third deficiency bill, now pending in the house.

Johnson Circulates Petition Requesting Cotton Loans

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 (AP) — Representative Luther Johnson of Corsicana, Tex., circulated among congressmen today a petition to President Roosevelt, urging a 10-cent cotton loan and subsidy payments now rather than next year.

He said he had 52 signatures within two hours after he had drawn the petition.

Fugitive Surrenders After Visit With His Daughters

FORT WORTH, Aug. 18 (AP) — Walter Belton, 33, life-term fugitive from the Eastham prison farm, was behind the bars again today after visiting his two young daughters. The visit, he said, was the object of his escape.

Belton escaped July 8, the day Roy (Pete) Traxler and Fred Tindol fled from prison. Belton denied he took part in the break involving Traxler and Tindol, but said he took advantage of the opportunity to walk away.

"I don't lave to stay gone," he said. "I wanted to see my children."

Belton was given a life term here in March 1935 for burglary and repetition. He surrendered last night to officers in Palo Pinto county. He said he had talked to his daughters in Fort Worth.

Mexican Authorities Agree On Joint Fight On Pink Boll Worm

AUSTIN, Aug. 18 (AP)—The state agriculture department announced today Mexican authorities had agreed upon a joint program for eradicating the pink boll worm.

Beginning in September, all cotton stalks in Starr, Willacy, Cameron and Hidalgo counties will be destroyed and agricultural officials of the neighboring republic have adopted a similar plan for the infested area across the Rio Grande.

Entomologists believe destruction of the stalks, winter habitat of the pest, will exterminate it.

Some species of plant lice attain as many as 21 different forms during their life cycle.

Boys Dead As Home Burns

(By The Associated Press)

ERIE, Pa., Aug. 18.—Two boys trapped in a closet burned to death early today in a fire that swept their home in suburban Wesleyville.

They were Richard Dudley, 15, and his 12-year-old brother, Edward, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Dudley.

Parents Are Rescued

An older brother, Louis, leaped from a second-story window, obtained a ladder and rescued his father and mother from a bedroom.

J. E. Taylor of the state motor police, said the younger boys apparently awoke and attempted to escape through the attic. In the smoke they became confused, he theorized, and walked into a closet where they were found clasped in each other's arms.

Keen Contests In Prospect Today In Parks Program

Keen contests were in prospect today when boys and girls participating in the city parks recreational program were to compete in a swimming meet at city pool, according to Bill Witt, project supervisor for the WPA.

Contests were scheduled to start at 4 p. m. and last about two hours. An invitation to the public to attend was extended.

Two entries will be permitted in each event from each of the city parks participating in the project, with competition classes provided for both boys and girls in age classes below 12, from 12 to 15 years and from 15 to 17. The supervisor added that entries will be accepted up to 3 o'clock this afternoon if submitted by the playground supervisor.

Crowd Of 3,000 Is On Hand For Brownfield's Rodeo

BROWNFIELD, Aug. 18 (Special)—First-day performance of a two-day rodeo attracted an estimated crowd of more than 3,000 persons Tuesday at the county park a mile northwest of here.

In addition to rodeo entertainment, a carnival, a cowboy dance, and a dance at the Venetian ballroom near here were on the program for the first day of the two-day celebration. Practically the same program is being conducted today.

The rodeo was under direction of Charles Copeland of Plains and Mays Jenkins of near Brownfield.

Persons attending the rodeo and carnival reported that both were "bigger and better" shows than ones here last year. The rodeo last year was held in connection with a city-wide celebration.

ABERNATHY, Aug. 18 (Special)—A spirited membership campaign is being conducted in Abernathy vicinity among farmers interested in organizing a county-wide farm association following discussion of the proposal at Hale Center recently. Fritz Struve of Abernathy was elected head of the county association. Chris Benn, G. C. Gilliland and Herman Schulz of Abernathy were named members of the membership committee.

GREER RETURNS

SPUR, Aug. 18 (Special) — Mr. and Mrs. J. I. Greer and daughter have returned from Santa Anna, where Greer recently attended a convention of former state rangers. Greer, who is 86 years old, served with Captain Green as a ranger in 1872-73. He has been a Dickens county resident since 1894.

Installation Ceremonies For Scout Leader Are Staged

Installation ceremonies for H. S. Sanders as district chairman for the southeast district of South Plains Boy Scout council were held at Slaton clubhouse Tuesday night. He succeeds W. H. Hartman, who moved recently to Kansas City.

Plans were made for obtaining campaign equipment and for urging registration for next year's camp.

Announcement was made that Joe Hadden, assistant scout master of troop 28 and a Red Cross life saving examiner, will start a junior life saving class for Slaton scouts Aug. 30. Lessons will be given daily for 12 days.

Definite plans also were made for participation of Slaton scouts in the scout exhibit at the South Plains fair late in September.

G. E. Welch, district commission, will be in charge of a board of review for 19 negro scouts Wednesday night. They will receive Tenderfoot rating at the district court of honor at Post next month. The troop, number 30, is the only negro troop in the council.

I OIL-PLATE YOUR ENGINE

instead of just changing your oil

OIL-PLATING is a plain extra benefit that other oils do not even claim to give you! OIL-PLATING comes only from Conoco Germ Processed oil, which absolutely PLATES itself all over the insides of your engine, and stays there. I mean Oil-Plating can't get scraped off or pushed away while you're speeding along on sizzling hot days. And it won't go up in smoke, but lasts and lasts. Neither can Oil-Plating run down off the job while the engine's stopped... No ghost of a chance for Oil-Plating to be among the missing every time you start the car. So your Oil-Plated engine is the big exception, when engineers say that bum oiling at the start—summer, same as winter—makes more than half of all engine wear. They positively don't mean you, with your engine Oil-Plated by Conoco Germ Processed oil. The longer life of your Oil-Plated engine naturally takes a little while to prove... but right now, from the minute I put in Germ Processed, you can't mistake the coolness and quiet due to Oil-Plating, or the way your oil level stays up.
