Major Asian Tour Mapped By Johnson

Viet Cong Troops Surrender En Masse

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — A unit of 66 Viet Cong soldiers surrendered en masse today as American, Korean and South Vietnamese forces closed in on an encircled, fragmented Communist force on the central coast.

The wholesale surrender raised to about 300 the number of prisoners taken by the combined allied force in five days of operation. It was probably the war's biggest bag of prisoners, and in addition the allied forces claimed nearly 550 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong killed in the pincer operation north of Qui Nhon.

To the north just below the demilitarized zone, U.S. Marines braved a hail of Communist grenades and waded in ankle-deep mud Wednesday to capture the last hill along a four-mile ridge they had been clearing of North Vietnamese for 15 days.

Marine casualties were described as light, but three 90mm tank shells fired in support of the Leathernecks fell short, killing three Marines and wounding seven others in the base camp for the operation.

The Marine operations below the demilitarized zone for the second time in two weeks pushed American combat casualties last week above those of South Vietnamese forces although American losses were less than the week before.

The U.S. command said 99 Americans were killed and 642 wounded, nearly double the toll ended last Saturday, compared with 87 killed and 268 wounded reported by the South Vietnamese. Other allied forces reported 16 men killed and 48 wounded during the week that the week before.

Enemy losses reported were also down, 1,104 killed last week compared with 1,208 the previous week.

The casualties last week brought the total number of Americans reported killed in the war to 5,401 and the wounded to 20,014. Totals reported for the year include 3,523 Americans killed, 6,859 South Vietnamese killed and 40,149 enemy dead.

The coastal campaign, Operation Irving, has become one of the most successful drives of the war.

Inez Holds Her Course For Mexico

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Glancing off Cuba, where she claimed three more victims, Hurricane Inez roared on across the Gulf of Mexico today toward a possible collision with the Yucatan Peninsula, ancient home of the Maya Indians.

Forecasters said Inez, in the 13th day of her tempestuous travels through the Western Hemisphere, might crawl along the north coast of the peninsula, hurling 110-mile-an-hour winds inland over the dense tropic jungles.

Or she might strike inland, through the ruins of a remarkable Mayan civilization built shortly after the death of Christ, to reach the important city of Merida, with its 170,000 residents.

With one last vicious blow at Cuba, Inez damaged the tobacco crop, source of Havana cigars. In her earlier sweep across the eastern part of the Communist island, she had laid waste to sugar fields.

On the northwest coast, as the storm passed Wednesday night, Havana Radio said two persons were electrocuted and another drowned, bringing the storm's announced death toll in Cuba to four. Hundreds were injured during her previous visit.

Inez is known to have killed more than 150 person in the Caribbean and possibly many more in Haiti.

A ricochet blow at the Yucatan Peninsula might send Inez reeling on across the Gulf of Mexico toward the main body of Mexico.

The peninsula, which juts up into the Gulf of Mexico to split it off from the Caribbean, is owned partly by Mexico. The southeast corner is occupied by British Honduras and a part of Guatemala.

Early today, Inez was about 275 miles west-southwest of Key West, Fla., and 150 miles northeast of Yucatan.

Two persons were injured when a building collapsed in downtown Havana during a torrential rain Wednesday night. A barge was reported to have sunk in the harbor.

5 Nations Due Visits

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is expanding his trip to the Manila conference into a major Asian tour with visits to New Zealand, Australia, Thailand, Malaysia and South Korea, as well as the Philippines.

Johnson's plans were disclosed today by governments of several of the Asian nations. There was no immediate word from the White House, but the President scheduled an afternoon news conference that was expected to bring his confirmation of the announcements from abroad.

The news conference was set for 3 p.m. EDT.

The official visits to the five nations will be sandwiched around the Oct. 24-25 Manila meeting of chiefs of state of the seven countries with troops fighting Communists in South Viet Nam.

Johnson plans to visit New Zealand Oct. 19-20 and then fly to Australia, before attending the Manila meeting, New Zealand Prime Minister Keith J. Holyoake announced in Wellington.

Australian Prime Minister Harold Holt said Johnson would visit his country Oct. 20-22.

Holyoake said Johnson had mapped an itinerary that "will bring him to New Zealand and then on to Australia, Thailand, Malaysia, and South Korea as well as to the Philippines conference on Viet Nam."

In Kuala Lumpur, the Malaysian government said both President and Mrs. Johnson would visit that country Oct. 30-31. It was the first official mention that Mrs. Johnson would accompany her husband on his Far Eastern trip.

The Thai government's announcement said Johnson's visit to that country—which borders wartorn South Viet Nam—would come after the Manila conference, but a date was not given immediately.

In Seoul, President Chung Hee Park's secretary said Johnson would spend three days in South Korea, Oct. 31-Nov. 2.

The White House obviously was showing deference to desires of other Pacific nations to have the privilege of announcing visits from the American President.

Since the conference was announced 10 days ago, there has been broad speculation that as long as Johnson was so far out in the Pacific he would visit such other friendly nations as Australia, New Zealand and South Korea. And diplomatic officials have suggested there might be even more stops.

The White House obviously was showing deference to desires of other Pacific nations to have the privilege of announcing visits from the American president. Australian newspapers today were displaying stories that Canberra expected a Johnson call.

The additional stops on the swing into the Pacific are expected to be more in the nature of goodwill missions than business calls. The business will come at Manila, mainly.

Philippines President Ferdinand E. Marcos disclosed in a Honolulu speech Sept. 26 that he had invited the chiefs of state of the United States, Australia, New Zealand, South Korea, South Viet Nam and Thailand to meet with him in Manila to "review the prospects for a peaceful settlement of the conflict" in Viet Nam.

Unusual Luggage Attracts Police

DALLAS (AP)—An employe in the control tower at Love Field, Dallas' city airport, noted a man putting more than a normal amount of luggage into a pickup truck yesterday direct from the airplane unloading area.

The Fort Worth man, 33, told police who were called to the scene that the luggage belonged to a sister who had just arrived —all 12 pieces of it.

The police didn't buy his story. For one thing, some of the luggage had been gone into, and among other things taken were jewelry, a coat and $100,000 in negotiable checks.

Scurry Fair Opens Today

The Scurry County Fair opened this morning for its second annual three-day run in Towle Memorial Park.

Judging events were underway for competitive exhibits, while finishing touches were still being put on booths in the commercial exhibit area in the National Guard armory.

Festivities are expected to quicken this evening when many visitors have their first opportunity to visit the fair.

One of the first activities of the opening day was the presentation of a premium check for the first bale of 1966 cotton produced and processed in Scurry County.

Bentley Baize, vice president of the Chamber of Commerce, made the presentation to Cliff Brooks producer of the first bale, in front of the Chamber of Commerce booth at the fair. This year's first Scurry County cotton bale was ginned on Sept. 13.

Two special concerts by Snyder Junior High School Bands were announced this morning by L. M. Dawson, president of the Scurry County Fair Association. The Lamar Junior High Band will play at the fair grounds at 7 o'clock tonight and the Travis Junior High Band will be on hand for a similar appearance at 4:45 p.m. Saturday.

The fair will be open each day from 9 a.m. through 10 p.m.

Mastermind Of Brinks Theft Dies

BOSTON (AP) — On Jan. 17, 1950, Joseph F. McGinnis was at his liquor store, talking to a Boston police lieutenant.

Just then, on that mild and drizzly winter night, a band of disciplined men entered a three-story concrete garage on the waterfront. In 20 minutes, they hauled away $1,219,000 in cash.

McGinnis was later identified by one of the gang as the mastermind of the Brink's robbery then the biggest cash robbery in the country's history.

Ten years ago today, McGinnis and seven others were convicted of the robbery.

Wednesday night, McGinnis was found dead in his cell at the Massachusetts State Prison in nearby Walpole, apparently of a heart attack. He was 63.

The bald, heavy-set McGinnis died without shedding light on what happened to the Brink's money. Only about $50,000 of the $1.2 million has been recovered.

McGinnis and the others were found guilty and sentenced to life terms for the robbery.

Water District Budget Approved

BIG SPRING — An operating budget calling for an outlay of $2,721,458 during 1967 was approved by directors of the Colorado River Municipal Water District meeting in Big Spring today.

Although the district made substantial wage adjustments, the total budget was up by only one-half of one per cent from the $2,706,615 for the current year.

Operating expenditures are pegged at $887,403 as compared with $836,681 for this year; debt service requirements of $1,274,502 as compared with $1,286,444 this year. Total net revenues for application to indentured funds is pegged at $559,153 during 1967 as against $577,690 for the current year.

The district anticipated $1,463,813 from sale of water to cities ($914,823 Odessa, $429,055 Big Spring, $119,935 Snyder); $1,182,528 from sale of water to oil companies; $47,093 from miscellaneous sources as pipeline rental and supplying rural users; and $42,093 from recreational leases and permits. (The city estimates are subject to the fixing of the annual rate for water in January.)

Since there had been no general adjustments within two years, the board approved a salary increase of $8,000 to be distributed later. This, together with some new positions, and administrative adjustments, will boost the total payroll in 1967 to $281,136 as compared with $243,210 this year. Electric power is estimated at $375,445 next year as against $366,981 this year.

By categories, the 1967 budget (with 1966 figures shown in parenthesis) calls for source of supply expense $114,747 ($111,844), pumping expense $550,114 ($515,060), administrative $156,609 ($140,817), recreation expense $46,333 ($47,860), capital expenditures $19,000 ($21,000).

Blasts Jar Tank Farm In Louisiana

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A series of jarring explosions in an oil storage tank farm set off a mammoth blaze on the Mississippi River waterfront just above New Orleans today. The Coast Guard said one man was missing.

Flames and billowing smoke could be seen for miles.

Three fire trucks called to the scene caught fire as the flames leaped skyward.

The storage tanks, located behind the Westwego wharfs on the west bank of the river, began exploding about 9 a.m. A wall of fire blazed up quickly between the tank farm and the wharf, used by Avondale shipyards to outfit new ships.

Navy helicopters with fire extinguishing foam and four fireboats joined land-based firemen from two parishes (counties) in combatting the flames described as being three blocks long.

Tugboats were called to the scene, and several ships being outfitted were taken to safety.

An Avondale official said the explosions occurred when liquid oxygen was being transferred from a truck to a storage tank.

The Coast Guard said the driver of the truck was missing and probably dead.

The blasts could be felt over much of New Orleans.

Dear Abby...

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am an executive who admits he doesn't know all the answers. The wife of one of my employes visited me and asked me to discharge her husband. She claimed he was a good husband and father until he became involved with another employe here. She said because of this affair her husband has failed to provide adequate support for her and their children, and she was sure if he were discharged he would return to his family.

Abby, I pay this man a good salary and I have no control over how he spends it. Should I involve myself in a marital crisis? Or do you think if a man does his job well, what he does on his own time is his own business?

PUZZLED EXECUTIVE

DEAR PUZZLED: What a man does on his own time would ordinarily be his own business, but if there is hanky panky within your company, then it becomes your business. Call the man in and give him a chance to speak his piece and do what you can to straighten him out. I wouldn't discharge him without hearing his side of it.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Where can I learn to strip - tease dance? My husband is crazy about that kind of dancing and I would like to learn how and surprise him. I would also like to learn a little belly dancing on the side.

JANET

DEAR JANET: Inquire at the local dancing school. But I don't recommend surprising him. Strip - teasing and belly dancing could be a bit difficult for a husband to stomach all at once.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I have been going with "D" for 4 years. We have dated no one else although we have kept our eyes clearly open. We definitly planned on a future together, but here is the problem: "D" says we can't get married until he pays his parents back for putting him through college, otherwise we would be getting married on his parents' money.

Abby, they are very well-to-do, and I am sure they don't expect "D" to pay them back. The whole thing is too ridiculous. "D" says it will take him at least 2 years to pay his parents back, but we should continue waiting for each other. Should I wait, or look elsewhere?

TIRED OF WAITING

DEAR TIRED: It's admirable of "D" to want to repay his parents, but if they are as well-to-do as you say they are, and do not expect it, I'd say "D" is giving you a 2-year stall. Stalls are for horses and other 4-legged animals. Say "Naaay!"

CONFIDENTIAL TO K. K.: True confession may be food for the soul. But it's very bad for the "heels."

Chimes Ineffective For Fire Alarm

CONCORD, Mass. (AP) — To help avoid panic in case of a fire, Ererson Hospital uses chimes as an alarm inside the building.

Recent tests, however, showed the gentle chimes were drowned out by the cries of babies in the nursery section.

So the Concord Firefighters Associated donated extra chimes.

Sentence Delayed In Homicide

FORT WORTH (AP) — A jury needed only 30 minutes Wednesday to convict Kenneth Wright, 18, of negligent homicide in an automobile accident, but put over until today fixing his punishment.

Wright, from Irving, was the driver of a car which collided with another last June 24 on U.S. 377 north of Keller. Seven persons died, including six children.

After convicting Wright, the jurors deliberated 90 minutes on the penalty before Judge Weldon Bradley excused them for the day.

The charge carries a maximum penalty of three years in the county jail or a $3,000 fine.

Wright, still on crutches as a result of injuries received in the crash, testified the last he remembered before the fiery collision was that "I was driving on my side of the road."

He denied consuming any alcoholic beverage or that there was beer in his car at the time of the accident.

Over a defense objection the prosecution was permitted by the court to ask Wright if he remembered asking someone at the hospital after the accident, "How many did I kill this time?"

Wright said he could not remember asking such a question.

Laborites Change Wilson's Policies

By ARTHUR L. GAVSHON

BRIGHTON, England (AP) — British Laborites twice voted today for changes in Prime Minister Harold Wilson's foreign and defense policies calling, against their leader's advice, for an end of American bombings as a first step toward Vietnamese peace.

The defeats came after Foreign Secretary George Brown outlined a six-point Viet Nam peace program, beginning with a parley at which the Viet Cong should have a seat.

The adverse resolutions appeared to reflect confused thinking by some of the 1,250 delegates who, during the same process of voting, overwhelmingly endorsed the broad conduct and aims of the Wilson government's foreign and defense policies.

Brown, from the platform of the Labor party's annual convention, called on Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko to join him at once in reconvening the 14-power 1954 Geneva conference which ended the French Indochina War and divided Viet Nam. The two foreign ministers are cochairmen of the Indochinese peacemaking machinery.

Brown, who flies to the United States Friday, said he will urge his peace proposals on Gromyko and American Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

As the foreign secretary spoke, scores of demonstrators demanding peace in Viet Nam paraded outside the convention hall.

In the debate itself speaker after speaker urged that the Labor government should dissociate this country from President Johnson's policies in Viet Nam. But this, Brown made clear, the government does not propose to do.

"I stand ready to convene this (Geneva) conference at any time," Brown said. "And I shall repeat my offer to Mr. Gromyko in New York next week and, what is more, go on repeating the offer until he feels able to accept it."

IN—insert laborites 2 col 36

Defeat of the leadership came on two distinct issues. On Viet Nam, the conference called on the Wilson government by 3,851,000 votes to 2,644,000 to:

—"Bring all pressures" on the United States to end the war.

—Promote peace talks for a settlement based on the 1954 Geneva armistice agreement.

—Work for an end of American bombings "as a step towards securing a political atmosphere" for peace.

All these are aims broadly compatible with Wilson's policies, except that they put the onus on the Americans alone to create conditions for peace. Official British policy holds that the North Vietnamese must display at least equal readiness to contribute toward peacemaking.

On defense policy the conference urged the government by 3,470,000 votes to 2,932,000 to:

—Cut its role in West Germany and its commitments east of Suez.

—Withdraw British forces from Malaysia, Singapore and the Persian Gulf by 1969-1970, "ending overdependence on American support."

—Reduce the nation's defense bill from its present level of about $6 billion a year to something well below 4.9 billion.

Girl Panda Snubs Suitor From Soviet

MOSCOW (AP)—Chi-Chi, the London Zoo's girl panda, rejected the advances of the Moscow Zoo's boy panda, An-An, today in an unsuccessful 25-minute effort to perpetuate the panda species.

A Moscow police lieutenant told reporters, who were kept away from the pandas' nuptial chamber, that Chi-Chi "was being awkward. She bit at him."

But another witness said Chi-Chi seemed less hostile at this meeting than she was last April when the first attempt was made to mate the pandas. Another attempt is expected to be made Friday. It could be the last.

A cold rain dampened the romance today and an autumn wind blew through the Moscow Zoo.

One witness said every time An-An advanced toward Chi-Chi, she bit at him, tried to cuff him and then ran away.

Chi-Chi was brought from London in March to get to know and—it was hoped—love An-An, who lives at the Moscow Zoo.

Killer Disease Under Study

By HAYLORD SHAW

WASHINGTON (AP) — Doctors are launching an intensive new probe of the mysterious, nameless disease that kills thousands of apparently healthy babies each year.

The year-long project by a six-physician research team here is aimed at what is known as the "sudden infant death syndrome."

The condition has no medical name; but the Public Health Service rates it as one of the top killers of infants with between 10,000 and 20,000 victims annually in the United States and thousands more in other countries.

Dr. James R. Patrick, 35, chief pathologist at the District of Columbia Children's Hospital, heads the research team. He said he believes a combination of factors may make certain infants more susceptible than others to the disease.

Patrick's team will be looking, among other things, for any special viruses or combination of viruses that might prove fatal to infants.

Patrick said his team will start actual research work when special equipment arrives in a few weeks. The project is being conducted under a $165,300 contract with the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development, part of the National Institutes of Health.

The NIH said previous research, some of which it sponsored, has failed to turn up a definite cause of the sudden infant deaths.

But these facts are known about the condition:

It is most prevalent in infants between 2 and 4 months of age, but may strike at any time from birth until 2 years.

It does not appear to be hereditary, seldom occurring in the same family twice.

Most victims have little or no history of previous serious illness.

Treasury Department Dislikes Competition, Especially In Money-Making Business

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

WASHINGTON (AP) — If there's one thing the Treasury Department dislikes, it's competition in one of its major endeavors — making money.

Despite the department's phenomenal success over 101 years in eliminating competition, however, counterfeiting reached record levels during the year which ended June 30 and the heightened pace is continuing.

But the Secret Service, which was created in 1865 to combat widespread counterfeiting, also had some bad news for the makers of phony money. It reported record seizures and arrests for counterfeiting during its last fiscal year.

James J. Rowley, the Secret Service director, said the major factor in the bogus money boom is the improvement in photography and printing which has made it easier and quicker to produce counterfeits.

And the service added that counterfeiters, in general, are turning out more phony bills per capita than they once did. It's simply a matter of running the presses longer.

"There's no indication that this criminal activity will lessen in the coming year," Rowley said. He added that the rise in counterfeiting generally follows the rise in the society's affluence and the increase in the amount of money in circulation.

At last count on Aug. 31, there was $38.6 billion in paper money in circulation.

Despite improvements in the quality of counterfeits, they still fall short of Treasury standards —the parchment, for example, on which real money is printed has never been duplicated by counterfeiters.

Tigers, Tors Set To Open Loop Race

Kickoff At 7:30 P.M.

The team that wins the crucial 3AAA opener between Snyder and Lamesa there Friday night will receive the favorite's tag in the district football race. Kickoff is set for 7:30 p.m.

The title pits the regning champs against a young Tiger eleven. Lamesa, with a 3-1 non-district mark, was preseason favorite to repeat as title winners. Snyder, with a 2-2 non-loop mark, could provide the Golden Tornadoes with their sternest test within the league.

A capacity crowd is expected to be on hand when the battle unfolds on Tornado turf. Under Coach Donald Jay and assistant Robert James, the Tornadoes have developed into an area powerhouse within the past three years.

The Tors will throw a wide open offense at the Tigers with two senior quarterbacks — Bob Wiggins and Gene Everheart — throwing to their favorite targets, Gary Mayfield and Willie Bolton.

Wiggins and Mayfield both made All-District last year. It was a Wiggins aerial to Mayfield that provided the winning margin for Lamesa in the clash here last season. Mayfield, one of the fastest men in 3AAA, already has been on the receiving end of three TD tosses this year, and Bolton, a fine broken field runner, has snagged two that went the distance. Billy Williams is another fine Tor receiver who has crossed the doublestripes.

Should the defense try to load up for passes Lamesa can send Joe Harper, a 188 - pound fullback, scooting through on the trap play. He also is a senior who runs with authority. Rounding out the backfield are Senior wingback Russell Dennis and either Louis Jenkins or Ronnie Scott at tailback. It is one of the fastest backfields in the area.

Look for the Tors to employ a pro-set offense with an end split on one side and a back flanked out on the other. They probably will use several variations from the T, and possibly could go into the spread. They have the speed to make the wide stuff work and the muscle to hurt their opponents on the inside.

Steve Paxton, All-South Plains linebacker, anchors a rugged Tornado line. Most of the other linemen saw action on a fine "B" team last year.

Coach Keith Miles of Snyder recognizes the ability of the Tornadoes and has been busy preparing a few surprises for them.

"We've had real good work outs this week, and the attitude of the team is good," he said.

Snyder has improved in every game, and the boys have been pointed towards this week's contest for a long time. They'd like to even the score from last year, and perhaps the team with the greatest desire will win.

Injuries have hampered the Tigers. First string center Drake Snyder has been out since the season began, and second string center David Wilson received a neck injury in the tilt at Kermit last week. Thus the Bengals probably will have to open with a third string pivotman, Forrest Wemken.

Rick Hall, senior wingback, went on the operating table last week and will miss action again Friday night. Another regular on the sidelines is Junior guard David Fulks, who still is nursing an old knee injury.

The Tiger offensive linemen, all Juniors, are inexperienced, but they have come a long way. The Bengal backfield, comprised of all seniors, is as explosive a backfield as the district has. With good blocking, they can strike from anywhere on the field. Leading the charge are tailback Curtis Clay, the district 220 sprint champ, and fullback Mario Tavarez. Quarterback Murry Bowden is as tough as they come, and substitute wingback Rob Golden is, perhaps, pound-for-pound, the best back in the district.

Lamesa holds a 13-8-2 lead in the series, which dates back to 1925.

For what it's worth, this corner is picking Snyder in a 14-13 upset.

The probable starters:

SNYDER (offense) — Ends Frankie Grimmett (185) and Mike Flynn (150) or Bobby Clardy (195); tackles, Tim Mebane (160) and Jerry Rains (165); guards, Larry Wadzeck (150) and Dennis Harmon (150); center, Forrest Wemken (156); quarterback, Murry Bowden (170); fullback, Mario Tavarez (166); tailback, Curtis Clay (170) and, wingback, Rob Golden (150). Bradley To Be In Stands

AUSTIN (AP) — Sophomore Bill Bradley will watch the Texas-Oklahoma football game in Dallas Saturday from the sidelines, not from his starting quarterback position.

Bradley's right knee was injured in the Texas Longhorns' 35-0 victory over Indiana last Saturday. He will not suit up but will accompany the team to Dallas, Coach Darrell Royal said.

A doctor reported Wednesday that Bradley's knee was "much better" but it remained swollen and painful. He was able to walk without crutches.

The physician said the knee would be re-examined in a few days after Bradley has done some more weight lifting to strengthen it.

There are no plans at this time to operate on the knee, the doctor said.

TCU Frosh Down A&M

FORT WORTH (AP) — Texas Christian freshmen scored five touchdowns in the second half with quarterback Dan Carter throwing two scoring passes in a 35-12 football victory over Texas A&M frosh Wednesday night.

Trailing 6-0 at halftime after A&M fullback Bruce Kemph scored on a one-yard run, Carter passed nine yards to Jeff Kearney for one touchdown and 41 yards to Marty Whelan for another in the third quarter.

TCU added three touchdowns in the final period, including one on a short run by Bub Deerinwater.

Josselin, Cokes Booked For Bout

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — European welterweight champion Jean Josselin of Paris was named Wednesday as opponent for World Boxing Association champion Curtis Cokes in a title fight in Dallas Nov. 28.

The WBA ranks Josselin as No. 1 contender for the Dallas boxer's crown. The French fighter replaces Brian Curvis of Wales, the No. 4 contender, who injured his foot and had to withdraw from his title bout with Cokes scheduled for Nov. 7.

The 15-round affair will be held in Dallas Memorial Auditorium under sponsorship of the Dallas All Sports Association.

DODGERS SHACKLED

Bullpen Zip Moves Brecheen To Poetry

By MIKE RATHET

LOS ANGELES (AP) — No one's written a poem about Baltimore's bullpen brigade, but pitching coach Harry Brecheen throws a pretty clever line of blank verse around.

"We got 'em long and we got 'em short," Brecheen said. "And we got plenty of both."

It's just possible that the Baltimore bullpen brigade has been the one factor measured incorrectly by the experts who tabbed the Los Angeles Dodgers as 8-5 favorites to win their second straight World Series.

Moe Drabowsky, a 31-year-old part time stock broker who considered retiring before the season, came out of the Baltimore bullpen in the third inning Wednesday and completely shackled the Dodgers while breaking one Series strikeout record and tying another in Baltimore's 5-2 victory.

Ever since the Orioles have arrived in Los Angeles, Manager Hank Bauer and Brecheen have been pelted with questions suggesting the Orioles couldn't possibly win the Series because of their pitching.

All pointed to the fact that the entire Orioles' staff had completed only 23 games — to 27 for Dodger left-hander Sandy Koufax.

As game No. 1 started, Bauer dispatched one of the biggest bullpen crews in history down the right field line — sending every available pitcher to the bullpen with the exception of the starter, Dave McNally and Jim Palmer, today's second game pitcher against the Dodgers' Koufax.

Bauer used it almost immediately, calling on Drabowsky in the third inning to protect a 4-1 lead built on consecutive first inning homers by the Robinson boys and Russ Snyder's key single in the second.

Drabowsky came on with the bases loaded and one out, struck out Wes Parker, walked Jim Gilliam to force in a run and then got John Roseboro to foul out.

That was it for the Dodgers. Drabowsky went on to strike out the next six batters in order and finished with 11 in all while allowing the Dodgers only a harmless seventh inning single by Willie Davis.

The six straight strikeouts tied the Series record set by Hod Eller of Cincinnati against the Chicago White Sox in 1919 and the 11 was the most for a relief pitcher in Series history, bettering the 10 by Jess Barnes of the New York Giants against the New York Yankees in 1921.

Drabowsky just did what the Baltimore scouting report said, according to catcher Andy Etchebarren.

"That told us that a good fast ball can be thrown past the Dodgers," the rookie receiver said.

Walt Alston, the Dodger manager didn't comment on that, but he did on Drabowsky.

"You've got to give him credit," Alston said. "I remember he was a strong thrower as a youngster when he was with the Chicago Cubs. Then he had a sore arm. But it looked like he threw as good as he ever did."

Drabowsky agreed but admitted he was close to retiring and becoming a full time stock broker when the Orioles drafted him from the St. Louis Cardinals last winter.

"I suppose if Baltimore hadn't drafted me I might have retired," he said. "But when I had a chance to go with a club that could win the pennant, I changed my mind."

The Orioles started off against the Dodgers the same way they won the American League pennant — with Frank Robinson and Brooks Robinson hitting consecative first inning homers off Don Drysdale after Snyder drew a one-out walk.

An inning later, Snyder singled in a run after a walk to Etchebarren and a sacrifice.

In the bottom half of the second, Jim Lefebvre hammered McNally for a leadoff homer, cutting the lead to 4-1. Then, in the third, McNally walked three consecutive batters and Bauer signalled for Drabowsky.

"He was my logical choice," Bauer said, "because he had the most experience."

Landry Says 10 Will Win

DALLAS (AP)—Tom Landry, coach of the undefeated Dallas Cowboys, said a 10-3-1 record probably will win the Eastern Division of the National Football League this year.

The Cowboys have won their first three games and meet the Philadelphia Eagles here Sunday. The Eagles have won two and lost the same number.

Landry said at his weekly news conference Wednesday that "Philadelphia should be one of the strong finishing clubs. Its offense has not come on yet."

No NFL team has gone undefeated during the regular season since the 1942 Chicago Bears won 11 in a row.

"If everything goes equal," Landry said of Sunday's contest, "It should be a close scoring game." He added the Cowboys should win by seven points.

Kennedy Quoted As Declining To Run

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Post today quoted Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as saying he would not run for President or vice president in 1968 "under any foreseeable circumstances."

Kennedy "made it clear that he would not be interested in being President Johnson's running mate even if the President asked him to," the Post article said.

The New York Democrat had said Sept. 1 in an Associated Press interview that he would support Johnson and Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey for re-election in 1968.

Retiring Congressman Saving The Puzzlers

WASHINGTON (AP) — In 15 years in Congress, Rep. Leo W. O'Brien received from constituents some letters he found unanswerable. He saved them.

When he retires soon, says the New York Democrat, "I'm going to send them to congressmen and ask what they're going to do."

Tuition To Rise

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Tuition at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute will rise to $2,050 a year, beginning next September, a $250 increase.

Joe Hurley Lost To Texas Tech Team

LUBBOCK Tex. (AP) — Joe Hurley, who lettered as an end last year but saw limited service after being shifted to halfback this season, has been lost to the Texas Tech football team.

Coach J. T. King said Wednesday that Hurley, a senior injured a knee in practice and underwent surgery to repair it.

King also said that sophomore Trent Jordan, offensive tackle, and junior Jackie Booe, center, will start against Texas Christian Saturday night in place of injured Stanley Edwards and Jerry Turner.

Andrews Forfeits Game To Brownfield

BROWNFIELD, Tex. (AP) — Use of a 19-year-old player has resulted in Andrews High School forfeiting its 23-14 victory over Brownfield Sept. 23.

Coach Doug Cox of Brownfield said Wednesday it was not discovered until later that Andrews violated a University Interscholastic League rule that bars a boy from playing football if he celebrated his 19th birthday prior to Sept. 1.

Compatible Couples Not Always Happy

WASHINGTON (AP) — 'A government study of 200 young middle class couples suggests that compatibility — at least as defined by the couples themselves — is not necessarily a sign of a truly happy marriage.

A government mental health researcher, Dr. Robert Ryder, said terms like "compatible," "harmonious," "comfortable," and "congenial" really may be synonyms for blandness or lack of excitement.

His comments came Wednesday in a report summarized for a publication of the National Institutes of Health.

Shrimp Wiggle—cream sauce, cooked shrimp and green peas — is good enough for a company lunch if you make the sauce with light cream and enrich it with an egg yolk or two.

Optimists Grasp At Straws About Viet Nam Peace Talks

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a brief ABC on the talk about how to get talks started about peace in Viet Nam. So far it has produced nothing.

Still, the world tingles every time one side or the other seems to yield a bit or uses one word instead of another.

Each side has two sides in this war. The United States and its ally, South Viet Nam; North Viet Nam and its agents, the Viet Cong guerrillas, who have an organization, or mouthpiece, called the National Liberation Front.

On March 22, 1965 the NLF declared all negotiations useless unless it had a "decisive" say. The word "decisive" got a lot of attention later.

Then on April 8, 1965 North Viet Nam laid down four conditions for peace. It didn't say they had to be met before peace talks began. But it didn't say they didn't. That's caused wondering ever since.

One of the points said the South Vietnamese would have to settle their problems "in accordance with the programs" of the NLF. It didn't say the NLF would have to be the "decisive" voice, but it certainly seemed to imply that.

From then till now North Viet Nam and the NLF haven't budged an inch. Any yielding after that seemed to be done by the United States.

At first this country, through Secretary of State Dean Rusk, appeared to brush aside the role of the NLF.

He said the United States was willing to hold discussions with the NLF, but it couldn't be a primary part in the negotiations.

He said, on Feb. 25, 1965 the United States would not enter negotiations until North Viet Nam gave some "indication" it was prepared to stop what it was doing. That word "indication" got a lot of attention later, too.

And on March 13, 1965 President Johnson backed up Rusk by saying North Viet Nam must halt intervention in South Viet Nam as a precondition for negotiations.

But then on April 7 he seemed — in diplomacy everything isn't what it looks like — to reverse both himself and Rusk by announcing this country was ready to enter "unconditional" discussions about peace.

But at the moment he said it he laid down a condition. He said the essential part of any discussion would be an independent South Viet Nam. What about the "decisive" voice of the NLF if it wanted all Viet Nam unified?

So it went, month after month, with neither side adding enlightenment.

Then on Sept. 22, 1966 Arthur J. Goldberg, U. S. ambassador to the United Nations, caused a lot of buzzing. He said the bombing of North Viet Nam would be stopped if Hanoi gave some "assurance" it would cut down its war-making.

The fact that the United States was now only asking Hanoi for "assurance" rather than an "indication" it would let up a bit stirred up swarms of diplomats but not for any very intelligent reason.

Optimists fastened on the notion that the United States was softening its demands by using "assurance' instead of "indication" although if anyone but an optimist examines them they seem to mean the same.

The Communists brushed it all aside. And then North Viet Nam caused a flurry although North Viet Nam must have been surprised that it did. Again the optimists went to work.

North Viet Nam said the NLF should be a "decisive" voice in speaking for South Viet Nam. Was this a little softening in North Viet Nam's position?

Hardly, if anyone kept a record of all this chatter on both sides for he would have remembered the NLF back on March 22, 1965, said all negotiations would be useless unless the NLF had a "decisive" say.

And that's where it stands right now, so far as the public knows.

A Junior Editors Quiz About BUTTERFLIES

QUESTION: How do caterpillars change into butterflies or moths?

• • •

ANSWER: Butterflies and moths are in the adult stage of life. Before that, they were larvae or caterpillars, and before that, they are eggs. It is in the caterpillar stage that the insect does all its growing. Its powerful jaws enable it to eat plant food voraciously. It must store up tissue material to be used when it turns into an adult. Soon it outgrows its original size. The skin splits, and the caterpillar crawls out and goes on growing. After shedding a number of skins and reaching full size, the larva is ready for the remarkable change which will turn it into an adult. It constructs a hard shell around itself, the pupa, inside of which the body structures of the adult can replace those of the caterpillar. Sometimes, the pupa is enclosed in a silken cocoon (2), in which the larva may hibernate through the winter, although certain kinds may pass the winter in the caterpillar stage, building a cocoon in the spring. When the time is right, the pupa and its cocoon split open. Out crawls a magnificent moth or butterfly, ready to spread its wings and fly away in search of a mate. Then eggs will be laid; the cycle will start over again.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Try to find a cocoon. Take it indoors and keep it to see what happens. 10-6

Remarks Brides Tire Of Hearing

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Remarks that young brides get tired of hearing:

"I made a list of the wedding presents for you, dear. You got 12 electric toasters, 18 silver trays, 7 sugar and creamer sets, 29 dish towels, 3 $10 gift certificates, $18.27 in cash — and a rabbit's foot."

"After all, we've been married a full two weeks. Why shouldn't I spend a night out with the fellows? You don't expect me to be a hermit, do you?"

"Maybe it would be better if we took nothing for granted and started at the very beginning. Well, then cooking consists of the application of heat to raw food material to help make it more tender, tasty and easily digestible. If you are sure you comprehend that, we can go on to the next step."

"Yes, it's a darling apartment, Jill. You and Jack were lucky to find it. But I'm all out of breath from climbing so many stairs. And aren't the rooms a bit on the small side?"

"Of course, I expect you to get up and fix me breakfast every morning, honey. My mother has done it for my dad for 30 years, and my grandmother did it for grandpa for 55 years. On their golden wedding anniversary, she even brought him his breakfast in bed."

"Maybe it is romantic to eat by candlelight, but candles cost money. Anyway, I like to be able to see what's on my plate."

"Well, you don't have to make a federal case out of it the very first time I stop off for a couple of quick ones with the guys where I work."

"I suppose he told you he wanted you to quit your job as soon as you get the furniture paid for? My little man said the same thing to me when we got married back in 1941, and now I'm wearing an office 25-year pin and still pounding a typewriter."

"You must be kidding about having to go to the beauty shop. I thought after girls married they fixed their hair at home. What else have they got to do?"

"As your mother, Jill, you know I want you to be happy, but remember I was the one who told you from the start that Jack would give you trouble."

"Whatever he does or doesn't do, don't just cry about it. Make a scene. Husbands can't stand scenes."

"When you're as old as I am, you'll understand that they're all beasts — yes, every blasted one of them."

"You liked me pretty well as I was before we were married. Why do you want me to change all at once now?"

"For Pete's sake, Jill, quit calling me at the office. The other guys are razzing me about it — and the boss doesn't like it."

"Okay, okay, so you fixed the casserole for me as a surprise. Well, after eating it, I'm still surprised. What was it — corn flakes in codfish gravy, or Hungarian graham crackers and meat sauce?"

There's Always Another Hill For Leathernecks To Capture

By PETER ARNETT

NEAR THE DMZ, Viet Nam (AP) — For the weary U.S. Marine battalions inching their way across the roof of South Viet Nam, the next hill is always higher than the last, and there is always another hill.

There is a bitter irony about the fighting that has developed in these remote, misty mountains on the border of South Viet Nam and the Communist North.

The hill the Marines fought for and captured one day may be back in enemy hands the next. The Marines keep pushing on to the hill ahead.

When the Marines move off a peak, North Vietnamese troops crawl back on. This military musical chairs could continue forever unless the Marines hold all the hills they fight for.

But there are nearly as many hills up here as there are Marines in Viet Nam.

The Marines took to the hills in an extension of earlier strategy that envisaged the annihilation of the enemy in the fertile valleys running up from the South China Sea. North Vietnamese troops were moving down into these valleys from across the Demilitarized Zone. High ground fascinates Marine strategists. They saw it looming above the valleys and stretching in increasingly higher tiers across to Laos, and into North Viet Nam.

With the enemy thrown from the valleys, the Marines took to the high ground. It has been a long, tough grind ever since.

The 3rd Battalion, 4th Regiment attacked one ridgeline two weeks ago. The first hill, a "mere bump in the ground," according to Capt. J. J. Carroll of Miami Beach, Fla., proved a formidable obstacle of well manned bunkers and spurting enemy machine guns.

In a charge, Lt. Richard W. Mullins of Torrance, Calif., ordered his men to strip down to only two bandoliers of ammunition and their weapons before taking the crest.

Carroll's company suffered heavy casulties.

Was every "little bump" in the region worth heavy Marine casualties? Marine strategists decided no. But they knew that at least two and possible three North - Vietnamese divisions were scattered around the area.

It was necessary to push across the high ground, even if it meant holding a peak for just one day before moving on. It was just as imperative to keep casualties down.

The answer was air and artillery. The Marines began picking their way along the ridgelines behind barrages of high explosives that shook the ground and dislodged monkeys from the trees. Hilltop objectives cloaked in thick jungle were denuded by napalm and bomb strikes.

A score of B52 Stratoforts came over one night and laid waste a valley below Marine positions along a ridgeline.

Dangerous-looking peaks were blasted by air and artillery in day-and-night-long barrages.

In every hill there were enemy bunkers, scores of them, lining the mountain paths and dug into the peaks. As the artillery barrages increased there was less enemy resistance to the Marines.

Haircut Crackdown Spreading

By LAWRENCE LEE

DALLAS (AP)—A crackdown over the length of boys' hair at a Dallas high school is apparently spreading to include girls with bleached hair and skirts that show too much leg.

The controversy began last month when W. S. Lanham, principal of Samuell High School, refused registration to three teen age musicians because of their shaggy hair styles.

The trio — Stephen Webb, 18, and Phillip Farrell and Paul Jarvis, both 17 — declined haircuts but filed suit against the school system instead.

U. S. Dist. Judge W. M. Taylor ruled last week that their civil rights were not being violated, as they had charged, and that they would have to submit to the barber or stay out of scool.

Webb, farrell and Jarvis, who play in a combo called "Sounds Unlimited," decided to put new bookings and record contracts before school.

But the matter didn't end there. The principal's neatness campaign continued this week, with teachers singling out long-haired youths for talks with Lanham.

One Samuell rock 'n roll performer, 17-year-old Anson Young, said he has gotten three haircuts at the school's direction since Saturday.

"I'm running out of money," he said when asked if the one he got Wednesday would satisfy the authorities. "It better.'

And some girl students have begun complaining about the tightening regulations.

Lou Ann Grant, 17, said the school has developed a "kneel test" to check the length of girls' skirts.

"The gym teacher asked them to get down on their knees to see if their skirts were long enough," she said. "If the girls' skirts touched the ground, they could stay in school."

Miss Grant said that other girls with long hair, long bangs or bleached hair had been called in for a chat with the dean of women.

Another Samuell coed, 14-year-old Debbie King, said the trouble with the school started when Miss Louise King, the dean of women, said the girls blouse and skirt were too short.

"When I waved an arm, you might see part of my stomach, but I didn't go around with my hands up. It was a suit," Debbie said.

When The Associated Press asked Lanham about the students' remarks, he replied:

"It's just a matter of dress. I'm not discussing these things with newspapers any more."
