

County Banks Name Officers and Directors

Collingsworth County's three banks have held annual stockholders meetings and elected officers and directors for the coming year.

Only one bank has announced a change.

Grover Mitchell of Lubbock has resigned as a director of the First State Bank and he was replaced by G. D. Milner of Amarillo, formerly of Dodson. Other directors are Mrs. Rachel Stinnett of Oklahoma City, Dewey Malone of Crosbyton, Mrs. Nadine Birchfield, and Floyd Teutsch.

Mr. Mitchell was the last member of the Smith family to be associated with the bank, an association that began in 1926 when E. J. Smith, now of Hollis, joined the bank staff.

Mr. Mitchell gave failing health as his reason for resigning.

Mr. Milner is a grandson of the bank's founder, the late H. T. Deahl, who established it in 1910. He is a cousin of Mrs. Stinnett. A member of the Deahl family has been a director of the bank during its entire history.

Mr. Malone has been a director 40 years.

Wellington State Bank

Stockholders of the Wellington State Bank met Saturday, Jan. 14 at 2 p.m. at the bank.

Program Building Group Vital to PEP Program

Having a major role in the carrying out of work in this county proposed by the Panhandle Economic Program will be the county program building committee.

"This is a group of county citizens, from various businesses, and professions and income groups—a cross section of the county, whose purpose it is to plan and assist the county extension service to plan and carry out their program," County Agent Sammy Helmers explained.

The overall committee is made up of chairmen from the various subcommittees. This committee co-ordinates and assists with the work of the subcommittees.

"The committee will define the problems of the county, so that each year's work will be based on these programs," Mr. Helmers continued.

Since the committees will be working in unrelated fields, each will function in its own field, and their activities will be co-ordinated by the overall committee.

Among the major subcommittees will be the field crops committee, which will be concerned with Collingsworth's

Local Voters Over 60 Will Not Register

AUSTIN—Attorney General Crawford C. Martin said today that persons over 60 years old who live in a city of less than 10,000 inhabitants, or in a rural area in any county except Bexar County, will not have to register in order to vote in elections held during the year 1967, regardless of the outcome of the pending lawsuit on the constitutional amendment which would require all voters to register. Martin said that House Joint Resolution No. 13, which proposed the constitutional amendment, expressly fixes the effective date of the amendment as February 1, 1968, and consequently it does not apply to elections held before that date.

A Travis County district court ruled last week that the amendment, which appeared on the ballot as Amendment No. 7 at the general election last November, was not validly adopted because the proposition on the ballot did not give notice of the full contents of the amendment. The State is appealing from this decision.

In Bexar County, all voters must register, under an order of the commissioners court entered last June. The order was adopted pursuant to a provision in the voter registration law which authorized the commissioners court in a county of more than 500,000 inhabitants to require all voters to register, regardless of age or place.

Collingsworth Looks at Its Problems

Improved, Efficient Production Essential to Aid Farm Economy

Improved livestock production with row crops related to it appears to be one of the ways for Collingsworth County to best expand its agricultural economy. But with this there must come an updating of methods and greater efficiency of operation.

James Murphey, area farm management specialist for the Agricultural Extension Service, pointed this out to a group of county farm leaders and business men in the first of the county Panhandle Economic Program meetings, held Thursday, Jan. 12.

Noting that Collingsworth's efficiency of production is fair, he reminded of the vast amount of technology that is available to help the farmer and rancher.

Stick close to livestock, for row crop farming will get tougher, he recommended, noting that one of the area's major sources of income, cotton, is in serious trouble.

Red Cross Blood Bank, Drive Objectives Set

Two major objectives of Red Cross in Collingsworth County are the current fund drive to finance the installation of a blood bank in St. Joseph's Hospital, and securing blood donors for the visit of the Red Cross Bloodmobile which will visit the county March 3.

All counties having a blood bank are visited annually by the bloodmobile and its citizens are asked to donate blood. This is part of a continuing nationwide program to keep the blood banks stocked and in operation.

The immediate goal of the fund drive is to secure $450 to pay for the installation cost of the blood bank. This amount is included in the $2,000 overall quota set for this year's fund drive, Mrs. R. H. Isbell, home service chairman, explained.

Mrs. Robert Barjenbruch, drive chairman, will announce workers and final plans within a few days.

Plans for the Red Cross Bloodmobile visit were made in a meeting Wednesday, Jan. 11, attended by representatives of organizations, churches and the business community.

A training meeting for the bloodmobile program will be held Friday, Jan. 27, from 2 to 5 p.m. in the county court room.

Mrs. Hicks Beach of Amarillo will conduct the training course.

On Thursday, Feb. 16, a meeting will be held of all persons who will give blood for the bloodmobile visit. This will be at 2 p.m. in the county court room.

The bloodmobile itself, staffed by a professional team to take blood, will be at the community building Friday, March 3 from 9 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

Blood donors will be accepted who are between the ages of 18 and 59, although those between 18 and 21 who are single must have their parents' permission to give blood.

Police Chief Donald Nunnely stated that those wishing to donate blood may call the Sheriff's office and leave their names. They will be contacted later for additional information.

Both men and women are being accepted as blood donors.

Rockets Face Iowa Park Here Friday

Wellington Skyrockets will meet two strong opponents in district competition during the next week.

Iowa Park boys and girls come here Friday, Jan. 20. This will be the first meeting for the teams on the basketball court and while they have a strong club, it does not compare to the strength that school shows on the football field.

Olney defeated Iowa Park by 1 point at Iowa Park. Wellington then defeated Olney by 10 points.

The Rockets and Rockettes will travel to Electra Tuesday, Jan. 24. Neither is the strength of that team known here.

Early this month, the Tigers and Tigerettes placed second in their own invitational tournament in a loss to Byers. In district play, the Electra boys lost to Seymour 68-49. Wellington then defeated Seymour 59 to 53.

Their last game was with Quannah, and the Tigers lost that game also.

Rockets Take 59-52 Victory Over Seymour

Spurred by the enthusiasm of a large delegation of fans, the Wellington Skyrockets defeated Seymour 59-52 on the Seymour court Friday evening, Jan. 13.

"We played a real fine game—in fact I felt both teams played real well, but Seymour wasn't able to stay up on the board," declared Rocket Coach James Stavenhagen.

"If our boys continue to play the type of ball they are playing, we will win the district," he continued.

Wellington took a good lead in the first quarter but by the third Seymour was able to tie the Rockets but not pass them.

Soil Test More Important With Fertilizer Use

Expanded use of fertilizer in the Panhandle has increased the importance of using professional soil testing as a guide to profitable fertilization, according to an Extension Service soil chemist serving the area.

The recently published Panhandle Economic Program (PEP) report shows fertilizer use multiplied more than three times from 1959 to 1965, says Jim Valentine, who operates the Extension Service soil testing lab at Lubbock.

Panhandle farmers used about 73,000 tons of fertilizer in 1959 compared with more than 225,000 tons in 1965, according to the PEP report.

Valentine says all of the fertilizer probably contributed to increased yields, but in many cases a soil test would have indicated that a different rate and analysis of fertilizer would have produced a more profitable yield.

To get an accurate fertilizer recommendation for a field, the Extension Service chemist says a farmer must do two things. First, he says the sample should be taken from 10 to 15 representative locations in the field.

Second, an information form should be carefully completed so the recommendation can be based on crop history, available irrigation water, past fertilization and yield goals.

Valentine said soil test information forms and instructions are available through the county agent's office.

VA Payments to Parents, Children Increased Jan. 1

Jan. 1 will bring an increase in monthly compensation payment to parents and children of servicemen and veterans who die of service-connected causes, Jack Coker, manager of the Veterans Administration regional office in Waco said this week.

Legislation calling for increases in dependency and indemnity compensation rates was signed into law by President Johnson Nov. 3.

Monthly payments for children will be increased from $77 to $80 for one child; from $110 to $115 for two children; from $143 to $149 for three children and from $28 to $29 for each child in excess of three.

In case of dependent parents monthly payments are increased from $83 to $97 for a single parent and the maximum income limitation is extended from $1,750 to $1,800.

Changes in income deductions for parents were made in the new law to bring it into line with the pension and income rules for veterans' widows.

Thursday, January 19, 1967

Mrs. James Sullivan Chosen to Head Camp Fire Council in 1967

The Wellington Camp Fire Girls Council met Monday, January 9, in the Cherokee Inn with Mrs. Joe Bartlett, president, in charge of the business.

Reports were given on the annual candy sale, which was highly successful.

Mrs. Bartlett announced she will move to Oregon this month and asked that all current business for the Council be finished soon as possible.

The nominating committee, composed of Mrs. J. B. King, Mrs. Jeff Wilson, and Mrs. Gene Morrow gave their report.

Refreshments were served to the following members, sponsors and visitors: Jan Blain, Becky Brewer, Polly Brown, Dee Chappell, Susan Coffey, Pam Guthrie, Mitzie Hartman, Francis Hayes, Tanya Horton, Joye Hudspeth, Mickey Ann Kendrick, Elaine Karnes, Rhonda Kersten, Kathy King, Cherry Lewis, Debbie Lewis, Lillian McKinney, Delores Moody, Susan Ony, Jan Philley, Vikki Saunders, Nancy Thomas, Cathy Thomason, Betsy Trapp, Kathy Tyler, Barbara Vines, Linda Williams, Melinda Williams, Janice White, Patricia Young, Mrs. J. D. Young, Mrs. J. I. Thomas, Mrs. Raymond Horton, Mrs. Oford King, Mrs. Dee Coleman and Jeff Wilson.

ing of wood surfaces is a ritual in itself. Always stroke the cloth with the grain because crosswise or circular motions tend to leave noticeable streaks.

To clean a marble table, or chest top, remove marble some rainy day, take it outside and turn it wrong side up so the rain can wet and seep through the slab. Later, swab it on all sides with soap or detergent suds, allowing the suds to soak in. Then wipe all surfaces with a dry cloth, apply liquid wax, and buff the marble briskly.

For a higher polish, take the marble to a monument company and have it done professionally.

AS A GROCERY SHOPPER

There are many decision you have to make each time you go to the supermarket. You can pay more or less and yet provide good nutrition for your family. It all depends on what you buy. There are four groups of food that should be in every shopper's basket — milk, vegetables and fruits and bread or cereal. Milk, fruit, and vegetables are often lacking in sufficient amounts in many family diets. Are you buying fresh milk at 60 cents a gallon or nonfat dry milk at 36 cents a gallon. The food value of both kinds of milk is the same except the fat is removed from the nonfat milk. Fat is adequate in most diets without including whole milk. Have you tried mixing half fresh and half nonfat dry milk? The cost per gallon is about 39 cents.

CREDIT PITFALLS Watch for credit pitfalls when you use credit.

Some of the largest credit pitfalls are:

The Add-On Clause The seller keeps the title to an entire list of items bought on credit. A single delinquent payment on the last item to be paid off could permit the seller to repossess the entire list of items.

The Balloon Contract The final payment may be many times larger than the preceding month. If the borrower is not aware of this and is not prepared to meet the payment, his purchase may be repossessed. Balloon contracts are illegal in some states.

The Acceleration Clause Default in a single payment makes all other payments due and payable at once.

The Wage Assignment This may allow the seller to collect part of your paycheck if you are delinquent on a payment.

Extra Credit Charges These might include life insurance, or processing fees. Borrowers should recognize that these may add substantially to the total cost of borrowing. Borrowers should demand these charges listed so that they may determine whether or not they are excessive.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER

Mrs. Thomas T. Fain

Mrs. T. T. Fain Will Be Honored With a Reception Here on 90th Birthday

Mrs. Thomas T. Fain of Canyon, one of the earliest settlers of Collingsworth County, will celebrate her 90th birthday on Friday, January 20.

She will return to Wellington to be honored at a reception at the Farm Bureau building Sunday afternoon, January 22, from two to four o'clock, and all relatives and friends are cordially invited. The family requests that no gifts be sent or given.

Hosts will be her children, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Oldham, Canyon; Mr. and Mrs. Everette Fain, Lutie; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Allingham, Atchison, Kansas; Mr. and Mrs. Watters Fain, Canyon; and Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Pendergraft, Amarillo; and Mrs. Fain's grandchildren.

There are eight granddaughters and one grandson and 12 great grandchildren.

The years rest lightly on this gracious pioneer, and she returned earlier this month from a trip by bus to Franklinville, N.C., where she and a daughter, Mrs. Oldham went to spend Christmas with a granddaughter.

But going about is nothing new to her. Three-quarters of a century ago, when she came to Collingsworth County with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. John Winney, she rode across the grass-covered hills north of Salt Fork—later to become the Lutie community—on her horse. In the last 15 years she has traveled much by plane, flying twice to the west coast, once to the east coast, besides shorter trips.

"I think the children disappointed," she said in looking back, "but I had a wonderful time. I like flying."

But whatever era she has lived in, from the settling of this county until today, her thinking and her way of life has been modern.

Mrs. Fain, who lives with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Oldham at 1301 the seven boys and girls.

There were few fences, and Mrs. Fain recalls that her father planted his first crop, then plowed a deep furrow around it to discourage cattle from crossing into the field until barbed wire for a fence could be obtained.

Later a furrow played an important part in the education of the children.

The dugout school, Indian Creek, was a mile and a half from the family home, and one of the older Winney boys plowed a furrow from their home to the school to guide the younger children. The older daughter, by then Mrs. L. T. Alexander, was the first teacher. Mrs. Fain and her younger brothers had in the school. The second was Mrs. S. D. Laune, who only a few years ago, living in New York City, included memories of the school in a book which enjoyed wide circulation.

There were about 20 pupils in the one-room ungraded Indian Creek school, but Mrs. Fain recalls that children who learned quickly simply moved to a more advanced group in whatever subject they did well.

"You'd be surprised how much you could learn like that," Mrs. Fain said. "Why, in spelling, for instance, the older children could be teaching the younger ones while the teacher was busy with the middle group's arithmetic."

After she had attended Indian Creek school two years, she secured a teachers certificate and taught a year in the Dozier school. Then she returned to teach a year at her alma mater, Indian Creek.

She was married January 1, 1902, to Thomas T. Fain, and moved to his ranch in the Needwood community. The wedding was held at the family home, with a minister coming from Wellington. Mr. Fain died August 6, 1939, and two years later she moved to Canyon.

After their children became older, Mr. and Mrs. Fain moved to Wellington so they could attend high school.

She has been a member of the Baptist Church 71 years, but she remembers that in the early days here, denominations were pretty much ignored. She said once each month a Baptist minister came out from Wellington for services in a dugout, and a Methodist minister came once a month. Occasionally a Presbyterian minister preached for the community. Everyone attended each service.

Besides her church work, to which she has been so devoted, Mrs. Fain worked for many years with the Home Demonstration Clubs.

In Canyon, she was president of her Sunday School class and worked with the Training Union and Woman's Missionary Union. She was a member of the Mother-in-Law Club, the Amity Club and Pioneer Club.

Hobbies have enriched her life through the years since her family was grown. She likes to piece quilts, crochet, and hook rugs.

Many of her memories will live again Sunday, when friends from the early 1890's to the present come to help her ob-

Mr., Mrs. Olin Cook Will Be Honored On Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Olin Cook will be honored on their fiftieth wedding anniversary with an open house, to which all their friends are invited.

The event will be held in the club room of the community building Sunday, January 22, from two to five o'clock in the afternoon.

The hosts will be the couple's three children, Mrs. Ted Amburn of Amarillo, Rudolph Cook of Tyler, and Jerry Paul Cook of Perryton.

Mr. Cook moved to Wellington in 1915 and she in 1916. They were married January 24, 1917, in Wellington. The couple has eight grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Cook request that no gifts be sent.

Club Studies LSD Problem

The problems and dangers of LSD were studied by members of the 1954 Study Club Thursday, January 12, when Mrs. Virgil Patterson was hostess.

Mrs. Fred Cox, program chairman, presented a documentary record on LSD, a hallucinatory drug, known to the medical profession as lysergic diethylamide.

"LSD is only a few decades old, but it has become many things to many people," the program leader pointed out.

In the beginning it was known as a model of madness, a temporary schizophrenia. Scientists studied it to better understand the unorganized mind, but the answers were far from final. Psychiatrists used it as a treatment for certain ailments. From the medical standpoint, the search goes on. About six years ago, the drug slipped out of the medical control and its use spread throughout the nation, with its users becoming younger and younger.

Mrs. Cox closed the program by pointing out that LSD is dangerous psychologically, it is habit-forming, from which there may be a point of no return. It can cause blindness and permanent brain damage.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Sam McGill, Mrs. Glen Taylor, Mrs. Bill Hatch, Mrs. Harold Caldwell, Mrs. Fred Cox, Mrs. Roy Jeffrey, Mrs. Eddie Slay, Mrs. James Richardson, Mrs. Leon Hartman, Mrs. A. J. Fires, Mrs. E. W. Clement, Mrs. R. L. Templeton, Mrs. Wayne Cudd, Mrs. Lynn Courtney, Mrs. L. B. Bratten, Mrs. Paul Spillman, Mrs. Cal Hurst, Mrs. Denzil Lacy and the hostess, Mrs. Patterson.

Auxiliary Plans Blood Bank Work

Members of St. Joseph's Hospital Auxiliary, meeting Friday January 13 laid plans for work which members will do toward the Red Cross Blood Bank fund drive and later work with the Red Cross Bloodmobile.

A called meeting has been set for Friday, January 20, said Mrs. Jeff Wilson, president.

Draft Tests for Students Set in March, April

AUSTIN.—Around 60,000 bulletins of information about an upcoming draft test for student, plus application blanks for taking it, are scheduled to be mailed soon.

The test will be administered March 11 and 31 and April 8. Applications for taking it must be postmarked no later than Friday, Feb. 10.

Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said students could get the bulletins and blanks by writing their local boards, or calling at any board.

To be eligible to take the test, the applicant must, on the testing date (1) be registered with a draft board, (2) intend to request occupational deferment as a student, and (3) not previously have taken the test.

In some college and university towns, arrangements may be made with colleges and universities to have the information bulletins and application blanks on the campus.

Taking the test is entirely optional with students. Col. Schwartz pointed out. He said he had no idea how many would take the test in March and April. He said about 7,000 took the test in November, 1966, and about 30,000 took it in May and June, 1966.

Full details about the test will be found in the bulletins of information, available at the boards. Purpose of the test is to furnish information to the draft boards.

The application blanks to take the test must be mailed to the Selective Service Examining Section, Educational Testing Service, P.O. Box 988, Princeton, New Jersey 08540. A pre-addressed envelope will be furnished with each bulletin of information.

Limited Irrigation of Grain Sorghum Tested During 1966

Twenty-eight grain sorghum hybrids were included in the limited irrigation performance test at the High Plains Research Foundation during 1966. This test, which was conducted by Loyd Langford, Associate Agronomist, consists of standard varieties of grain sorghum hybrids receiving only two irrigations during the growing season, i.e. preplant irrigation and one summer irrigation.

Limited irrigation on sorghum varieties became a major importance to many farmers when it was realized that in some cases the water table was dropping and in other cases where a farmer had too much land for the number of wells involved. The High Plains Research Foundation initiated this new phase of the research in 1965 when the area farmers of Texas and New Mexico requested that a project of this nature be conducted.

In 1966, the 28 grain sorghum hybrids received a preplant irrigation of 4.5 inches on April 15 plus a summer irrigation of 5.2 inches on July 6. The summer irrigation was applied at the first plant stress period for moisture which occurs at or after the pre-boot stage of plant growth. All the varieties in this test were planted on May 16 and harvested Sept. 28, 1966 and were side dressed with 50 pounds of nitrogen from anhydrous ammonia on June 10. A total of 20.66 inches of rainfall was received on the test from May 1 to Sept. 15.

Top yield in the test was 4,993 pounds per acre and the low yield was 3,678 pounds. The over-all average of the 28 hybrids was 4,269 pounds per acre. Yields in the 1966 test were slightly higher than the test in 1965, probably due to the more timely rainfall in conjunction with the one summer irrigation applied.

It was reported to the High Plains Research Foundation that some farmers in the Goodland-Maple, Texas area used the 1965 limited irrigation test results in selecting grain sorghum varieties for their 1966 planting and enjoyed significant yield increases over other varieties when produced under similar conditions of limited irrigation and fertilizer.

More Difference in Bacon Than Slice

Had you realized that there is more difference in bacon than just thickness of slice? There are several things to consider. Regular bacon comes from the underside of the hog, is sliced and packaged in 1- and 2-pound packages and is priced in three different ranges. Irregular bacon comes from the ends of the bacon slabs. It's less expensive because the slices aren't as uniform and attractive, but the flavor is the same. Bacon square is cut from the jowl of the hog. It is fatter than regular bacon. Leanest of all is Canadian-style bacon which isn't bacon at all, but one of the most expensive cuts of pork, the loin.

Only one state, Washington, has been named for a U.S. president.

The Farm "Fishing Hole" Can Become a Source of Income

There is growing interest among Texas landowners with farm ponds in using them to supplement their income. It is to this point that Texas A&M University on February 1 and 2 will hold the nation's first commercial fish farming conference.

It doesn't take a big body of water to produce hours of fishing pleasure, and many city and town fishermen are glad to pay for this privilege. Some prefer the "fishing hole" quality of the small lake to the publicized but crowded large bodies of water.

The farm operator who turns his pond into a commercial venture will have to acquire certain knowledge on stocking the lake, food supplies, fertilizing the pond, keeping it clean, and other requirements. All this is easily available through Extension Service and from other sources. He must also be willing to put in a certain amount of work.

Several Collingsworth farmers already charge small fees for fishing in their ponds and lakes. There is opportunity for others, and most of the fishing comes in a period when money is most welcome.

This source of farm income is limited both in the amount derived and the number who can benefit, but every dollar received adds to what we refer to as the Collingsworth County economy.

There is the growing feeling that landowners for too long have given away what they could be capitalizing on.

OTHER EDITORS SAY . . .

We Made It!

It begins to look as though, in spite of everything, this old universe is going to get through another year.

Tragically it is marred by war and the threat of more and greater conflicts, a sad commentary on how man has advanced—how little he has advanced—since the dark ages. No matter how many things we invent, we haven't become civilized until we can quit killing each other.

There is simply no telling what will happen in the Asian countries, even if the Viet Nam conflict comes to an end. So over-crowded, so pitifully fed and housed and educated are these people that a seemingly inconsequential incident can bring on violence of world-wide tragedy.

Population explosion in the underdeveloped nations or "emerging" nations is almost sure to bring on mass starvation. America's surpluses of food commodities are fast dwindling and even at best this country could produce only a small portion of what would be needed to provide food for the Asian masses. Experts freely predict that the "70s" will see millions of people starving to death in these countries. "It is already too late to do anything about it now," one authority said this week.

What it will all amount to as far as this nation is concerned this 2 by 4 weekly can't predict. It is hard to imagine the United States living plush and fat in a world where so many are starving and certainly such a predicament would rest heavy on our hearts.

Anyway, as we said to state this peculiar and unhappy item, it appears that 1966 is going by the boards without the world being blown up or rubbed out by fire or water.

And thank goodness for that.
We burn easily and hurt hard.

LOOKING AHEAD

by Dr. George S. Benson

IDENTIFYING "CIVIL RIGHTS" AGITATION

The life story of the distinguished Negro journalist, George S. Schuyler, as he has written it in the first 18 chapters of his provocative autobiography, BLACK AND CONSERVATIVE (Arlington House, New Rochelle, N. Y.), fully qualifies him, as an American and as a Negro proud of his race, to make the following observations (in Chapter 19) on the "Civil Rights" strife that in 1966 has plagued all sections of our nation and endangered our national security:

"From the beginning of the so-called Negro Revolution and the insane antics identified with it," writes George Schuyler, for 35 years the internationally-known columnist of the Pittsburgh Courier. "I have taken the same position editorially and in my column that I had throughout the years. I had opposed all of the Marches on Washington and other mob demonstrations, recognizing them as part of the Red techniques of agitation, infiltration, and subversion.

Professional Agitators

"This was indicated by the fact that invariably they were proposed, incited, managed, and led by professional collectivist agitators, whose only interest in the workers was to exploit them; backed by the proliferation of 'liberals' of position and influence who always run interference for them by 'explaining' and defending their course.

"I had consistently warned Negroes for forty years that their miseries could not be alleviated in any way by mob action, nuisance provocations, and civil disobedience. The waving of empty pistols, accompanied by insults, imprecations, and denunciations of white people, generally and specifically, was quite futile, and would simply create what is to say, more enemies. Week after week I pressed the point (as I had since 1923). But under the influence of their white (or Red) mentors, a contaminated Negro leadership snapped at the Communist bait, received the support of white 'liberals' charting a course of disaster, and like pipped pipers led the lunatic fringe astray.

Castro's Slogan

"During that hectic period when traffic was being disrupted and stalled, public works interrupted, city officials picketed and insulted, garbage tossed on streets and lawns, and when supposedly intelligent young Negroes were sprawling on court house steps yammering spirituals and the slogan, 'We shall Overcome,' first popularized by the Castro forces, and obscenely traducing people of worth. I held my position. Of course this made me an 'Uncle Tom' to those people who had no answers to what I was writing and saying. It was ever thus.

"What was especially galling to me was that practically all of the communications media — newspaper, magazines, radio, television — not only surrendered to this hysteria, religiously and monotonously repeating all of the self-serving fictions of the civil rights agitators, but virtually excluded contrary comment. . . .

One great value of Mr. Schuyler's frank and forceful comments is the powerful challenge, coming from a Negro leader with well-established credentials, to both Negro and white citizens to cease being blinded and "used by the Communist cunning.

"Ghetto" a Smeared Term

"When the 'Revolution' began," he writes, "there were areas of bad housing occupied by Negroes for which the agitators popularized the term 'ghetto.' This led in turn to its synonymous use with the Negro residential area, and finally with the Negro himself as an ignorant, lowdown, retarded, drug-using, anti-social, criminal being, because he was non-white. Not in sixty-years had there been such a wave of Negro defamation in high places and low; and respectable newspapers and magazines vied with each other in printing doleful articles of poorly concealed disparagement under the guise of Christian interest, and illustrated by the most unflattering photographs to be found in the morgue.

"There is not a Negro community in the country today that does not have more areas of good, often new, housing than of bad. This is not due to any street demonstrations but to a sustained effort

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

A poultry scientist in Maryland is working to develop roosters that will lay eggs instead of just crowing when the hens do it.

Which maybe is all right in the poultry world, but if science ever arranges it so men can have babies, that will be carrying sex equality to the outskirts of absurdity.

However, such a development could be a help wherever the mop-top hairdo prevails and it's hard to tell the boys from the girls, because if either sex could be a mother, it wouldn't matter much which they are.

The Great Social uplifters do considerable crying of shame on us taxpaying class for wishing to keep some of our money.

Which shows we are greedy and, anyhow, money is dangerous stuff for worker type people. It makes us covetous and too much of it tends to give us affluence fever.

But in spite of our squeals, the do-goodniks continue fearlessly to expose their own souls to money's evil spell by taking the stuff away from us. Like martyr-prone people eating up a child's candy so he won't get cavities.

Puzzlement seems to abound in normally know-it-all circles as to how crime is increasing these days.

But my neighbor who didn't have to go to Harvard to get smart says the extra crime is caused by the Great Society program to take from the earners and split said take with the conscientious objectors to working.

Which the sharers of others' wealth find is nice but unsatisfying. So, more of them are doing their own taking instead of letting government do it, because this cuts out the middlemen in Washington.

Wise old N.Y. City Mayor Lindsay says the mini-skirt enables young ladies to run fast-through the years by public and private interests to improve housing. Moreover, it is only the result of poor leadership that many unsightly and unsanitary blocks of houses have not been razed and replaced. . . . After all, the welfare of Negroes is primarily the responsibility of Negroes." Next week: Mr. Schuyler's recommendations to American citizens.

er, and because of it they may have to.

But my calm observer neighbor says he hasn't seen any evidence that the mini-skirt designers were trying to fix it so girls could run faster.

After all, he says, what do young ladies need with more athletic? There is nothing to prove that even the extensive revelations by the mini-skirt have made young men any harder to catch.

Most Vehicles Have Not Been Safety Inspected

AUSTIN.—Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reminded Texas motorists this week that most vehicles have not yet been inspected for their 1967 vehicle inspection sticker.

"The inspection period is two-thirds over and only about one-third of the vehicles have been inspected," said Garrison. "This means that during the 14 weeks remaining before the April 15 deadline for inspections, more than twice as many persons each week must have their car inspected to avoid long lines forming at the end of the period."

In urging motorists to have their vehicles inspected at an early date, Garrison pointed out that official inspection stations are easily identified by the standard sign displayed at or near the service entrance of the garage.

He advised that inspection stations are being urged to request permission to inspect any vehicle brought into the garage for repairs or regular service.

"In this way," Garrison said, "time will be saved for the motorist as well as for the inspection station.

"And if you have not yet had your vehicle inspected, take it to one of the 5,500 authorized inspection stations for a "check-up" and start the new year off right with a safe vehicle."

North Dakota at one time passed an anti-snuff law.

Rural Accidents Take Two Lives Here in 1966

The Texas Highway Patrol investigated two accidents on rural highways in Collingsworth County during the month of December, according to Sgt. J. W. Wilson, highway patrol supervisor of this area.

These crashes resulted in an estimated property damage of $550.

The rural traffic accident summary for this county during the calendar year 1966 shows a total of 20 crashes, resulting in two persons killed, six persons injured and an estimated property damage of $14,775.

"When the final reports are tabulated, we will find that more people were killed in Texas traffic accidents during 1966 than in any prior year in the history of this state," the Sergeant stated. The final count is expected to be about 15% more than the 3,028 traffic deaths in 1965.

This increase should be a challenge to every individual to put forth his best defensive efforts to prevent accidents in 1967.

The veteran patrol supervisor cautions all motorists to beware of ice spots at bridges, underpasses and in shadows. Reduce speed before you reach these slippery areas.

Childress county in December had 5 accidents, in which none were killed, one injured and $2,685 property damage. In 1966, Childress county had 46 accidents, 7 persons died in 4 of these accidents; 25 were injured, and property damage totaled $46,537.

Cottle county in December had 3 accidents, with none killed, 2 injured and $3,225 in property damage. For the year Cottle had 39 accidents, with 2 persons killed in one of these, 24 injured and $43,225 property damage.

Donley county had 9 accidents in December, with none killed, 3 injured and $6,285 property damage. The 1966 record shows 76 accidents, 10 persons killed in 6 of these, 42 injured, and $61,285 property damage.

The December report shows 4 accidents in Hall county with none killed, 1 injured and $1,250 property damage. For the year, Hall county had 40 accidents, with 5 killed in 4 accidents, 14 injured and $37,775 property damage.

Wheeler county had 20 accidents in December, with none killed, 7 injured, and $9,745 property damage. For the entire year, Wheeler county had 161 accidents, with 3 persons killed in 3 accidents; 68 injured, and $113,535 property damage.

GRIM RECORD

Of the 360,802 World War II U.S. fatalities, 281,857 bodies were recovered and, of those recovered, the unknown dead numbered 8,491.

Huey Long, shot while in the Louisiana capitol, died Sept. 10, 1935.

Deadline Near on World War Veteran Loans

World War II veterans have less than one year left to take advantage of GI guaranteed or insured loans, according to A. W. Stratton, Chief Benefits Director of the Veterans Administration.

July 25, 1967 is the deadline for World War II veterans' eligibility, he said.

Eligibility for World War II veterans is determined by a formula which adds ten years to the date of their last discharge, plus one year for each 90 days of service.

Thus eligibility for many has already expired, but the July 25, 1967 date is the cutoff for all other World War II veterans.

Veterans who were discharged for a service-connected disability and the widows of such veterans will be eligible up to the July 25, 1967 deadline.

Those eligible may obtain a guaranteed or insured loan to purchase a home, farm or to buy or start a business.

For veterans of the Korean Conflict the formula for determining GI loan eligibility is the same as for veterans of World War II. However, the Korean Conflict entitlement did not begin to expire until Jan. 31, 1965, and the final deadline is Jan. 31, 1975.

As in the case of World War II veterans, Korean Conflict veterans discharged for service-connected disabilities and their widows are eligible up to the final 1975 deadline. Eligibility for Post-Korean veterans under the new GI bill does not begin to expire until 1976.

"Death Watch" Tally Complete

"The Texas Department of Public Safety closed its 'Operation Deathwatch', inclusive periods of Christmas and New Year's week ends, with 90 traffic fatalities, seven more than the 83 traffic fatalities estimated prior to the holidays," stated Major Harry Hutchison, regional commander of this area.

These 90 traffic deaths resulted from 65 fatal crashes as compared to 1965's 80 crashes and 93 deaths. Thirtyfour of these fatal accidents were one-car crashes resulting in 40 deaths as compared to 1965's 43 fatal crashes and 43 deaths. Twenty-eight of these fatal accidents were 2-car crashes resulting in 45 deaths as compared to 1965's 32 fatal crashes and 43 deaths. Two of these fatal crashes were 3-car crashes resulting in 3 deaths as compared to 1965's 4 fatal crashes and 6 deaths. One of these fatal accidents was a 7-car crash resulting in 2 deaths as compared to 1965's one fatal crash and one death.

Of these 90 traffic deaths, 65 were males and 25 were females as compared to 1965's 72 males and 21 females.

The Lubbock region recorded three of these 90 traffic deaths. One was killed in Hale County, one in Palo Pinto County and one in Parker County.

Major Hutchison said, "No doubt the extensive educational campaign undertaken wholeheartedly by the news media of the state, the cooperation of law enforcement agencies, and the willingness of hundreds of thousands who drove legally and defensively kept the death toll from being higher."

WTCC Surveys Fine Arts Work

has been designated as the local coordinator for a cultural resources inventory to be taken in Wellington as a part of an official statewide survey now being conducted by the Texas Fine Arts Commission, according to John Ben Shepperd of Odessa, chairman of the newly created state agency.

The purpose of the survey, Shepperd explained, is to determine both the quantity and quality of cultural activity both by organizations and individuals now going on in the towns and communities in the state.

"We plan not only to catalog the various organizations active in the fine arts fields in Texas, but to identify individual artists, authors and craftsmen, and the location and the identification of local public and private works of art and collections," Shepperd said.

FFA to Attend Livestock Show

Wellington Future Farmers will visit the Amarillo Stock Show on Saturday and Sunday, Jan. 21 and 22, Don Lacy, instructor, said.

They will also attend the rodeo that is one of the stock show attractions.

If you were one of those who failed to get a copy of the magazine containing the first installment on the Manchester book, "The Death of a President" you haven't missed too much factual information, according to those who have either bought or borrowed one of the magazines. Other magazines and the daily newspapers by one means or another have picked about all of the meat of "facts" off the bones and the TV commentators have gnawed the bones to bits.

The Manchester book was conceived and planned by the Kennedy clan, some observers believe, as an effort to write history to fit their own likes and dislikes, blacken the image of Lyndon Johnson and build up Bobby Kennedy. Whether it does that or not, it is obvious that it is not going to help the cause of the Democrats in 1968. The blizzard of publicity brings an ominous and chilling realization of the arrogance, egotism and lust for power of the Kennedy menagerie. Such a realization on the part of the people can't do the party any good. The Democrats have enough present day troubles without pouring salt on old wounds.

Despite what you may have heard over the radio and from the television, people in this county who are over 60 do not have to register in order to vote. The information you received in this space was and is correct. Rita Owens phoned the Attorney General's office and talked to Mary Wall, assistant attorney general, who told her that people over 60 do not need to register if they live in a county that has less than 10,000 population.

The poll tax was fought for years on the grounds that it deprived some people of their vote. Last year there were 1261 poll taxes paid in this county. Up to date there have been 365 people register. This is not an election year which may account for some difference; but the fact remains that up to date there is no evidence to indicate that the poll tax kept any appreciable number of people from voting.

Last year you read about a pill that would improve your memory and quite a number of us who are slightly over our prime were looking forward to the time when they would have them on the shelves of the drug stores or the grocery stores. Now they have one that will actually make you smarter. This latest discovery or concoction may be a little late for some of us; but what about pills for energy, determination and wisdom. Most of us would be far ahead of where we are if we had used enough diligence in our work and enough wisdom in our decisions at the right time.

People are not the only things that scientists are trying to change. They are working on plants and according to A&M they propose to transfer the nitrogen fixing quality of legumes to other plants. That is not all. They are going to try to transfer the moisture metabolism of cactus-like plants to more useful plants. One goal is a cotton plant that would fix nitrogen like alfalfa, use water as sparingly as a prickly pear and have the photosynthesis of corn.

The Women's Medical News observes that some women are born to be plump and they look luscious if you want my opinion. Anyway the WMN says don't try to diet your pleasingly plump rounded figure into an Audrey Hepburn type board. Trying to reduce when nature meant for you to be pleasingly plump is not only unhealthy—it can ruin your attractive good looks. Be yourself.

It says here that Harold Hudson, the Perryton editor, who generally supports the Republican line, has been appointed as a member of the statewide blue ribbon advisory committee for the planning and development of the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park. I do not know whether that is a good appointment or not. If they leave it up to Harold, he will put the park on Wolf Creek and may be extend it into Oklahoma and Kansas.

Farm Bureau Leaders Go To Policy Meeting

Two leaders of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau will attend a state-wide legislative conference Jan. 25 in Austin. The one-day session is sponsored by the Texas Farm Bureau, and launches the organization's state and national legislative programs for 1967.

Attending from this county will be L. A. Davis, president of the local county organization, and James Martindale, chairman of the Policy Execution (PX) Committee. The PX Committee is charged with the responsibility of working with 200 other county Farm Bureaus in Texas and more than 2,700 similar organizations across the United States in implementing state and national policies of Farm Bureau.

Other members of the county Policy Execution Committee are David Baumgardner, P. P. Fielding and J. C. Jones. State officials and legislators are being invited to a banquet on the evening of Jan. 25 concluding the conference. Elected officials expected to attend include Gov. John Connally, Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, House Speaker Ben Barnes, Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin, and Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

Senator Grady Hazlewood of Amarillo and Rep. Red Simpson of Amarillo are also expected to attend.

The legislative conference will get under way at the Villa Capri Motor Hotel at 1 p.m., with a welcoming address by TFB President C. H. De Vaney of Coahoma who will also outline the purpose of the meeting. Theme of the conference is "Operation Understanding 1967."

I have always liked Goat Hopper since the days when he ran a restaurant on the south side of the square. I enjoyed the basketball games at the gym Tuesday night. The Rockets beat the Quannah Indians 63 to 45 in one of Wellington's better games. The Indians had previously been considered one of the stronger conference opponents.

YOUR INCOME TAX

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q.—Who has to file a return?

A.—A return must be filed by every person under 65 who has gross income of $600 or more during the year. For those 65 and over, a return does not have to be filed until gross income reaches $1200. However, if you are a self-employed person you must file a return if you have self-employment income of $400 or more, even though your gross income was less than $600. The filing requirements also apply to minors. If, for example, a child has income of $600 or more from a savings or trust account or any other sources, then a return must be filed in behalf of that child.

Q.—I'm due for a refund this year. What can I do to speed it up?

A.—The best advice we can give is to file a complete and accurate return and to mail it early to the address listed on the 1040 instructions.

The largest single reason for delays in refunds last year was a missing or inaccurate Social Security number. Be sure to enter an accurate number for yourself and for your wife if it is a joint return. Other reasons for refund delays are failure to attach required W-2 forms, failure to sign the return and omission of other forms or schedules that may be required.

Another point — if you live in one of the states that have direct filing to IRS Service Centers, be sure to send the refund return to the Service Center rather than to the District Office. Page 8 of the 1040 instructions or page 10 of the 1040 instructions will tell you where to file.

Q.—Are auto license tags a deductible expense?

A.—Usually this is not a deductible expense. The exception would be where the license fee is based on the value of the car. In that case, the expense would be considered a personal property tax and would be deductible.

Q.—I do not have a Social Security number. Now I find I need one for my tax return. What should I do?

A.—You may obtain a Social Security number, which also serves as a tax account number, by filing application form SS-5 with the local office of the Social Security Administration. This application is available at IRS offices, Social Security offices and at many post offices.

Q.—How much can a child earn and still be claimed as a dependent?

A.—Generally a person may not be claimed as a dependent if he has gross income of $600 or more. However, if your child is under 19 and a full-time student, you may claim him as a dependent regardless of the amount of income he may have as long as you provide more than ½ of his total support for the year.

Q.—I am a widow with children, how much can I deduct on my return for child care expenses?

A.—You may deduct up to $900 of this expense when there are two or more children under the age of 13 for which this expense is incurred in order to work or seek a job. If there is only one child the maximum deduction is $600.

Q.—I thought there was supposed to be a box to check on the 1040 if you wanted to have $1 of the tax go to a presidential campaign fund. I can't find it.

A.—The provision in the law to which you refer goes into effect for taxable years beginning after Dec. 31, 1966. Instructions will be issued at a future date on how to do this.

Q.—Where can I get the form I need to claim the sick pay exclusion?

A.—Form 2440, "Statement to Support Exclusion of Sick Pay" is available at IRS offices.

Q.—My wife and I are filing separate 1040's this year. Which tax table or rate schedule should we use?

A.—Use Schedule 1 on page 11 of the 1040 instruction booklet if separate income is $5,000 or more or deductions are itemized. Otherwise, use Tax Table C on page 14.

Q.—Does a person have to be a citizen of the U.S. to be claimed as a dependent?

A.—No. A non-citizen may qualify if he or she is a resi-

Wellington B Wins Three Game Series

Wellington Skyrocket B basketball teams won over three consecutive opponents, Paducah, Seymour, and Memphis, while the girls won over Memphis, but lost to Paducah.

The Seymour game, played there, was the test of the Rockets' strength, since they were competing with a AA school, Coach Denizil Lacy indicated. Wellington won 69-39.

"The boys played the best game of the year and it indicates we will be able to compete as long as we are in double A," he said.

High pointers were Chuck Wilbur 16 and Gary Brewer 13 for Wellington; Breland 14 for Seymour.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	12	32	47	69
Seymour	12	18	32	39

Wellington-Paducah

The Wellington B team had little trouble taking the 68-39 victory over Paducah there. High pointers were Herman Moore 21 and Gary Brewer and Tony Hurst, 10 each for Wellington; and Mushinski of Paducah, 14.

The game by quarters:

Wellington	10	31	44	68
Paducah	6	14	27	36

Wellington-Memphis B

Wellington B won over Memphis B 50-41 in a game here that was closer than the score indicated. The Rockets had won an earlier game by 18 points and they went into the second contest underestimating their opponents.

With two minutes to play, Wellington had only a 3-point lead, stalled the ball, were fouled and Tony Hurst, Gary Brewer and Joe Brock made 5 points in free throws.

High pointers were Ron McFall and Robert Cornish of Memphis, 14 each; Chuck Wilbur and Hurst, 12 each; Herman Moore 10; Brock and Brewer 7 each, and Glen Barber 2. This accounted for all the scoring.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	12	22	36	50
Memphis	6	19	26	41

Wellington-Paducah Girls

Time ran out and left the Wellington Rockette B team 1 point short, a 25-24 score that gave the game to Paducah. Wellington was behind 19-9 at half time, then came back strong, but there wasn't the necessary seconds to put them ahead, Coach Lacy said. High pointers were Mart Hart of Paducah 17, and Sharon Cummings of Wellington 11.

Wellington B team girls have lost only two games and both are to Paducah. That team has two outstanding players who are ineligible for varsity play.

"They're a fine team, the best B team I have ever played," said Coach Lacy.

Wellington will meet Paducah once more, in the Memphis tournament.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	5	9	17	24
Paducah	7	19	22	25

Wellington-Memphis Girls

It was a runaway for Wellington as they defeated Memphis 42-10 in Rocket gym on Monday night.

The Rockettes led 15-0 at the end of the first quarter and from there on, Coach Lacy played his substitutes most of the time.

High pointers were Betsy Trapp of Wellington, 14, and Williams of Memphis 6.

The score by quarters:

Wellington	15	21	31	42
Memphis	0	5	6	10

More USDA Food Comes to Texas Schools

Increased supplies of food for school lunches are on the way to Texas as a result of recently stepped-up purchases by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, according to John J. Slaughter, Southwest director, Consumer Food Programs, of the Consumer and Marketing Service, Dallas.

The food will be distributed to schools participating in the National School Lunch Program through the State Department of Public Welfare.

USDA increased its food donations to help schools meet their expenses during the second half of the school year and to help them continue to provide adequate meals at a reasonable cost to the students, Mr. Slaughter explained.

Texas' share of recent purchases, which USDA expects to deliver in January and February, will include 1,360,000 pounds of dry beans, 1,069,000 pounds of frozen beef, 1,038,390 pounds of butter, 436,800 pounds of cheese and substantial amounts of other commodities.

USDA has also announced intention to buy a large quantity of frozen orange juice, probably starting next month, and supplies should reach many of the schools in March. The Department is also buying fresh pears.

Other items supplied through USDA donations this school year have included raisins, nonfat dry milk, rice, shortening or lard, flour, corn meal, peanut butter, rolled wheat and — recently — oats.

In supporting the state agencies in the administration of the National School Lunch Act, USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service donates some foods plus some cash to buy food locally. On a national average, the food and cash contribute about 23 percent of the total program cost. State and local sources, including children's payments, cover the remaining cost of the lunches.

Junior High Defeats Quail

Wellington Junior High won two easy victories Thursday, Jan. 12 over the Quail Junior High boys and girls teams. The Firecrackerettes outscored the Quail girls 88 to 13. Scoring 40 points, Mary Lou Davis was Wellington high pointer, and Brenda Childress put in 8 points as Quail's high scorer.

The Firecrackers, undefeated through eight games, won by a 48 to 9 score with Victor Bobo taking high point honors by scoring 16. Oatman was high for Quail with 3.

"Both boys and girls gave good overall effort in those games," Wellington Coach Carroll Nunneley said.
