Income Adjustments, Cut Income Tax Bill

COLLEGE STATION --

Farmers and ranchers still have time to make adjustments that could cut down their 1975 tax bills, says Dr. Wayne Hayenga, economist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"By taking full advantage of income averaging, depreciation and retirement plan policies, 1975 taxes may be reduced considerably," says the economist.

If your income has increased sharply over the past five years, you may be eligible for income averaging. Take the sum of your

Also on Sunday the Collingsworth County Museum Board met to discuss how to house an old hand-operated press that Robert Owens has donated to the museum from the old compress building. Dan Henard and Marshall Peters are studying the feasibility of different ways of displaying the press. The press will form the nucleus of a cotton exhibit, Mrs. Drake said.

The economist advises all producers to look into these three areas -- income averaging, depreciation and retirement plans -- when completing their 1975 tax returns and in planning their 1976 taxes and business operations.

1971 through 1974 taxable incomes, then take 30 per cent of that amount. Subtract that figure from the taxable income in 1975. If the difference is more than $3,000, you are eligible for income averaging.

Another way to cut down taxes, says Hayenga, is to take the maximum amount of depreciation on machinery, farm equipment, breeding stock and buildings. The depreciation method you select should depend on your 1975 income. If it was high, you may want to take a "fast" depreciation rather than a straight line method.

"The shorter the useful life you assign to an asset, the more depreciation you can take," points out the Texas A&M University System economist. "But to get full advantage of investment credit, the asset needs to have a useful life of at least seven years."

A taxpayer can take up to 20 per cent extra first-year depreciation on machinery and depreciable livestock. However, the maximum amount is $2,000 for separate returns and $4,000 for joint returns.

"Individual retirement plans can be an important deduction on your 1975 income tax return," points out Hayenga. "You can put up to 15 per cent of your earned income into a Keogh retirement plan, or a maximum of $7,500. If you set up a retirement plan before the end of 1975 but didn't put in the full amount possible, you can still add to the plan until the tax filing deadline and take the deduction."

The economist advises all producers to look into these three areas -- income averaging, depreciation and retirement plans -- when completing their 1975 tax returns and in planning their 1976 taxes and business operations.

The Vet's Corner

By Mark Fires, DVM

"SLEEPING SICKNESS"

For the next few weeks we will discuss several diseases of horses which are prevalent to our county and generally show up in the spring and summer months.

Western Equine Encephalomyelitis (WEE) is a viral disease which is borne by mosquitoes and affects both man and horses. Birds, especially Sparrows, can harbor the virus which is then passed on to man and horses by mosquitoes. The horse is a dead end host for WEE meaning that the disease does not pass from horse to horse, but only by infected mosquitoes.

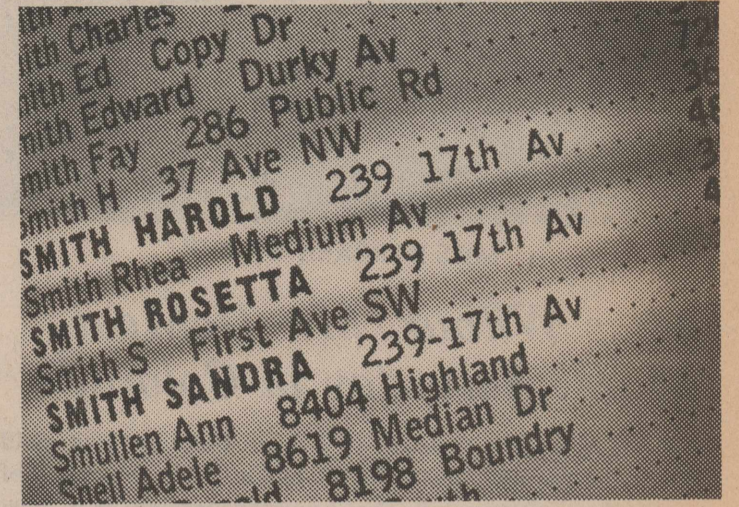

The signs of all three encephalomyelitises vary in severity from a "dumb stupor", irregular staggering gait, grinding of the teeth, facial and lip paralysis to convulsions and death. WEE is the least fatal of the three to horses with a mortality rate of only 20-50% as compared to 90% for EEE and VEE. Eastern Equine Encephalomyelitis (EEE) can produce a viremia in the horse and make him serve as a source of infection for mosquitoes unlike WEE. EEE infected horses show a marked depression and fever then rapidly occurring nervous signs and death occur. The majority of these horses go down and have continuous running motions with their front legs. This disease is highly transmissible to man who is a dead end host. Venezuelan Equine Encephalomyelitis (VEE) is different from the other two in that it is a rapidly spreading disease affecting the blood vessels. At the onset it produces fever and depression but as it progresses and nervous signs occur subnormal temperature and diarrhea occurs. This disease is also extremely fatal and under certain conditions may be transmitted by direct contact. This disease is generally in Mexico and South America but in recent years has moved northward.

Prevention is obtained only by yearly revaccination with 2 doses of killed-virus vaccine 2-4 weeks apart. These vaccines produce good immunity but only for 1 year. The vaccine is available with all three strains (VEV) together or with tetanus combined with it. Vaccination for VEE is a must for horses in this area.

It's time your family stopped being just "Smith Harold" in the telephone directory.

The new edition of your telephone directory is going to press soon.

If you have only a single listing, a lot of people are going to have trouble looking up other members of your family.

Certainly, your wife deserves her own listing. And giving a teen-ager a place in the directory is a nice way of saying "You're growing up."

To add or change a listing just call our business office. They can tell you how little extra an additional listing will cost.

It's as easy as picking up the phone.

Each Generation Passes Values On to the Next

COLLEGE STATION -- Every generation passes four major "life values" to the next, one authority says.

"A person is himself because of what another generation has given to his development," Dorothy Taylor, a family life education specialist, said.

"No one generation is superior to another -- each contributes life values which are adapted by the new generation."

Miss Taylor is with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

She said the four life values are:

- Agression or harmony.
- "Alternate generations are characterized by predominant traits of agression and harmony. Those generations who grew up in periods of unrest will try to ensure peaceful times for their children. Then, historically, agression often surfaces after years of harmony."
- Children often relate better with their grandparents than with their parents on issues of agression and harmony. The youngsters respect the older people's knowledge and experiences about problems they are confronting, problems their grandparents dealt with years ago," she explained.
- Social order.

"Most children are, and usually remain, in their parents' social standing group."

-- Time order. "A person's behavior indicates the period of history in which he grew and developed. The things he likes and respects are associated with that time order which his parents 'gave' him by virtue of the time he was born."

One example is the "Great Depression" lifestyle -- and its effect on the attitudes of those who grew up then. People who matured during this time tend to be more conservative and less wasteful, particularly with food and clothing, she noted.

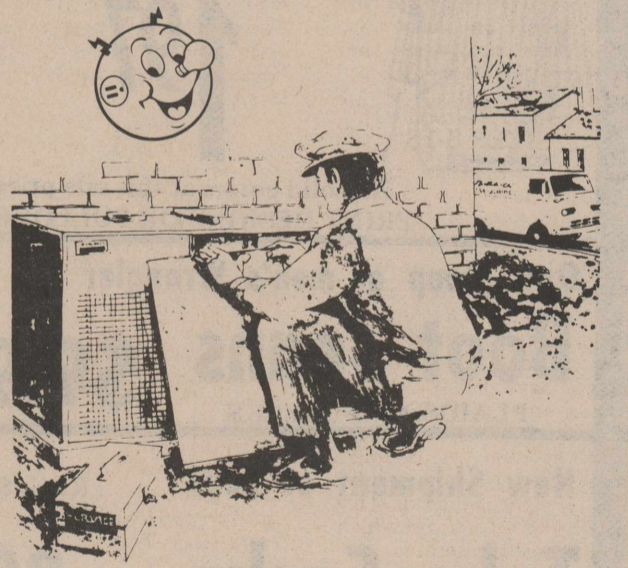

"Those who grew up during the John F. Kennedy 'Camelot Years' will probably carry a greater appreciation for fine arts than those who are maturing during today's 'Back to Nature' years," she said.

-- Quality of life. "The newest generation's quality of life depends on the economic and social level associated with their parents."

Teaching Safety to Tots

You can't start too early to turn your children on to safe kitchen practices, especially around the family range.

SAFETY SENSE: Demonstrate simple rules of range safety to children.

Children of every age like to be where the action is, and around meal time this can mean the kitchen range. The range, however, if not used properly can be a safety hazard as well as a servant, and range safety lessons should begin as soon as your child can pour a can of peas into a pan.

Safety features on new electric ranges help make such schooling easier. Ranges manufactured since September, 1975, for instance, have two-operation surface unit controls—a feature which helps to prevent children from accidentally turning on heating elements—and diagrams by each control to show which surface unit it operates.

Total safety, however, can't be programmed into any machine, and the Whirlpool Customer Assurance Home Economics Department offers the following basic lesson plan for teaching cautious cooking to little chefs.

HANDS OFF—The first rule of electric cooking is that it is no-hands cooking—no hands on the heating elements or the areas near them. Even though the units may be dark in color they can still be hot enough to burn.

THE RIGHT CLOTHING—Although aspiring Graham Kerrs and Julia Childs needn't wear smocks and chef's hats, they should avoid loose fitting clothes when cooking. Such garments may be stylish, but they could also be a fire hazard if they should brush against a hot heating element.

THE RIGHT COOKWARE IN THE RIGHT PLACE—Children may choose pots and pans because they are red (or blue or orange) rather than right for the job. Teach your child which of your glass, glass ceramic, ceramic, earthenware or other glazed utensils can be used for range-top cooking and which could break if subjected to a sudden change in temperature.

"The pot should fit the spot," is a useful maxim in teaching children to match pans with heating elements. Show your child the different sizes of range-top heating units and make a game of choosing which pots fit them. This will help reduce exposure to range-top unit and result in more efficient cooking.

Once the pot is on the spot, the handle should be turned inward but not over other range-top units. This habit will help prevent accidental bumping of pans by overly enthusiastic young cooks.

THE CLEAN-UP—One of the mysteries of life is the enthusiasm with which children who never straighten their rooms can approach clean-up chores in the kitchen. They love them. But here again caution is the key to safety—particularly if your range has a glass ceramic top.

SAFETY TURN ON: New electric ranges have built-in safety features.

Miss Mayhugh Honored

Miss LaHanda Mayhugh was honored with a wedding shower Friday, March 19, from 7:00 to 9:00 p.m. in the Heritage Room.

Mrs. Virgil Patterson registered the guests. The serving table was laid with white cloth and centered with a yellow flower arrangement. Crystal appointments were used. Mrs. John DeVoss poured the punch.

Hostesses for the event were Mrs. Jessie Roberson, Mrs. Benny Kilgo, Mrs. John Dodge, Mrs. DeVoss, Mrs. Craig Bergvall, Mrs. Patterson, Mrs. L.C. Sweat, Mrs. L.M. Bartlett, Mrs. Ozro Bartlett, Mrs. Roy Collins, Mrs. Buster Hughes, Mrs. Lois Ratliff, Mrs. Harvey Isaacs, Mrs. Arthur Jones, Mrs. J.W. Maxwell, Mrs. Gus Barton and Mrs. W.F. Harbin.

"Let Freedom Ring" Reviewed

Mrs. F.L. White was host to the Belles Lettres Club Tuesday, March 16.

Mrs. W.F. Harbin reviewed the book "Let Freedom Ring" by Dale Evans Rogers. Dale states that this America was no historical or geographical accident. It was an idea in the mind of God before it became earthly reality and one of His noblest creations.

The Pilgrims who came over in the Mayflower were not the first or last Europeans to set foot on these shores, but they were the first to come seeking a freedom that was spiritual as well as political and economical, Mrs. Harbin said.

This free nation was born July 4, 1776, and the Declaration of Independence is its birth certificate. Mrs. Harbin concluded, the price of freedom is constant vigilance. Let it die in the individual American's heart and no constitution, no law, no court can save it.

Organize Kitchen Cabinet Before Start of Cleaning

COLLEGE STATION -- Prior organization makes kitchen cabinet cleaning a breeze, Mrs. Lillian Chenoweth, family resource management specialist, says. She's with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Pick a day with several uninterrupted hours available -- or schedule one cabinet cleaning each day until all are finished," she advised. Turn on some music to relieve the monotony, and prepare a bucket or dishpan of warm soap, another of clear water. Have a sponge or clean cloth handy and lining paper and scissors. "Start with the bottom shelf -- take everything out and place on the counter. Next, take everything from the second shelf and place on the now-empty first shelf. Continue moving the contents of each shelf to the shelf below. "This method keeps stooping and bending to a minimum," she noted. Now begin actual cleaning with the top shelf. Remove old lining paper and discard. Wash and rinse the shelf and cabinet walls thoroughly.

Star-Spangled Shoes

The time is past for plain children's shoes—now there are shoes with a sense of history that many modern American children are expected to be pleased to see—and to be seen in.

Keeping in step with the Bicentennial times is a shoe with all the colors of the flag in it, and sporting the stars and stripes. Another has that historic number: 1776.

Many parents will probably be pleased to see that these star-spangled shoes are made of sturdy canvas duck, with special patented, shockproof arch, cushion insoles and vulcanized construction, by Keds, so they can be more sure of getting quality footwear.

years ago. Bills have been introduced in both houses of Congress. Business opposes any federal legislation, claiming that the proposed bill raises serious constitutional questions. Labor is pushing for the federal legislation because the bill would broaden the coverage of occupational disease. This is a definite problem area because nonwork-related habits such as smoking increase the probability of occupational disease.
General Motors claims that 50% of all GM workmen's compensation payments in Michigan go to A recession with inflation causes all sorts of problems. Now a red hot battle is brewing between business and labor over the state workmen's compensation. The heavily industrialized state of Michigan is in the middle of a labor management tug-of-war over the claims of workers who say they have been disabled in work-related accidents or by diseases contracted before their retirement.

The problem has gotten out of hand because the insurance bill that business pays for workmen's compensation has jumped from $2.2 billion in 1964 to over $6 billion in 1974. Part of that is due to inflation and part is due to a record number of claims being filed.
General Motors Corporation, the largest employer in the state of Michigan has announced that they will not open a parts plant in one Michigan community because of the uncertainty of the trend in disability claims and benefits and the "uncertainty about the suitability of Michigan's business climate."
A national commission recommended a federal minimum standards law for workmen's compensation claims and benefits four retired employees, compared with only 3.7% in 1961. They also see a disturbing trend in the number of retirees applying for disability payments. One GM plant in Detroit has 90% of the retirees from that plant applying for disability benefits.

The United Auto Workers maintains that coverage should be broadened but at the same time is investigating abuses because some UAW members are suspected of soliciting workmen's compensation cases among the workers and referring them to lawyers.

Cards of Thanks

We are truly grateful to all those who have done so much for us during our recent sorrow. May we take this means of saying thank you for the many comforting expressions of your friendship.
Jake and Alta Meadows

We wish to express our deepest gratitude to all those who were so thoughtful at the passing of our loved one. We do thank everyone for the many prayers, the beautiful flowers and card expressing your sympathy.

We are especially grateful to those who brought food to the house and to the Baptist Church.

May God richly bless each of you.
The family of Mrs. Van Allred

We wish to express our sincere appreciation and thanks for the many kindnesses shown us and for the beautiful flowers, the food and cards of sympathy sent by our many friends at the time of the death of our loved one. May God bless each of you.

Newspapers-the department store medium

Retailers who are close to the cash register and therefore in a position to know of what advertising sells, consistently invest more of their advertising money in newspaper space than in all other media combined. The chart depicted here reveals how department stores throughout the country invest 85% of their dollars in newspapers, 6% in direct mail and only 9% in all broadcast media combined.

If you are a retailer and are not utilizing newspaper advertising on a regular basis, take a tip from merchants who know — advertise in The Wellington Leader to reach the readers who buy.

By Mecca Manuel

March is nearly gone and it has surely been a busy month.

We do hope all the sick people are on the mend.

I went to Kelton last week to talk to the folks up there about starting a free blood pressure clinic and a telephone reassurance program. Mr. Dean Johnson, Superintendent of the Kelton school, and Rev. James Conners, pastor of the Baptist Church were very kind and helpful to me. I know I will enjoy working with those nice people.

We started a blood pressure clinic at Mobeetie March 5th. Mrs. Nell Poteet took the pressures for us. Thanks Nell.

The Quanah Senior Citizens brought twenty-five people from their center to give a program for our monthly luncheon Wednesday, March 17. They gave the nicest program, and they were all so nice and friendly.

The director of the Quanah Senior Citizen Center is a former Wellington girl, Mrs. Bobbie Holton Gholson. The president of the center is a former Quail resident, Mrs. George Thomas. She is now Mrs. Horton Murphy. Beside those two the others that came were Horton Murphy, Crockett Ritchie, Mattie Berry, Nannie Buckholt, Winnie Keith, Vinnie Poole, Grace Williams, Frances Manney, Irene Yarbrough, Opal Ashcraft, Ross Mann, Virgie Scott, Nella Harmon, Dora Wharton, Jewel Huffman, Oma and Clyde Barbee, Tom and Crystal Goodman, Ed Burns, Mae Bonce, Pearl Burman, Walter Scott, Stella Hudspeth from Benjamin and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cannon of Crowell.

Thank all you sweet people who in any way helped to make our open house the success it was. The flowers, table and donations of money to buy chairs were deeply appreciated.

A. M. Kindrick, Former Resident, Dies March 16

A.M. Kindrick, who had been a resident of Lutie for 18 years, died at 12:30 p.m. Sunday, March 14 in Collingsworth General Hospital. He was 74.

Funeral services were held at 3 p.m. Tuesday, March 16 at First Baptist Church at Silvertown with Rev. Lewis Ellis, pastor of First Baptist Church, Hedley, and Rev. C.R. Hankins officiating. Burial was in Silvertown Cemetery.

Allus Morrow Kindrick was born in Fannin County, Texas and married Bessie Vardell in 1925 at Turkey. He was a member of Samnorwood Baptist Church. He moved from Lutie 9 years ago.

Survivors include his widow, three daughters, Mrs. Alta Meadows of Wellington, Mrs. Mary Neil Teague of Amarillo, and Mrs. Sherry Wagoner of Hereford; seven sons, Norman and Coy, both of Amarillo, J.C. of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, Lewis H. of Japan, Richard of Hereford, Vern of Ft. Knox, Ky., and David of Harlingen; four sisters, Mrs. Pearl Ketchum of Pampa, Mrs. Mary Edwards of Frederick, Okla., Mrs. Nadean Hamilton of Dallas and Mrs. Mary Lee Heckman of Amarillo; two brothers, Albert of Silsbee and Elbert of Irving; 32 grandchildren and 5 great-grandchildren.

Community Plans Easter Service

Wellington's traditional community Easter service will be held Sunday, April 11, at First United Methodist Church, Rev. James Boswell, ministerial alliance spokesman, said.

Each year the ministerial alliance sponsors community services at Thanksgiving and Easter.

Rev. A.R. Vaughan, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, will be the preacher. Members of the various church choirs will form a joint choir for the service under the direction of Benny Kilgo, assistant pastor at First Baptist Church.

VA Spends Over Billion in Texas

The Veterans Administration spent $1,045,775,326 in Texas during fiscal year 1975 for facilities, operations and benefits to veterans and dependents, Jack Coker, Director of Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office, said today.

The compilation of VA spending in Texas is broken down by counties and shows amount for veteran's compensation and pension, readjustment and education payments, insurance, loans, construction costs and hospital and regional office operating costs, Coker said.

As of June 30, 1975, the Veterans Administration estimated there were 1,594,000 veterans living in Texas. Of the total, Coker said approximately 399,000 served during the Vietnam era. Some 248,000 are veterans of the Korean conflict, 732,000 served during World War II and 47,000 served during World War I. Approximately 168,000 served during the period between the Vietnam and Korean conflicts.

Of approximately $99.5 million spent in offshore Texas drilling ventures in 1974, some $89.8 million went into dry holes.

SPACE SHUTTLE ORBITER

Hartman Works With Space Shuttle Program

PALMDALE* CALIF. -- Hartman is assigned to the Palmdale final assembly facility of the Space Division of Rockwell International, which is located on U.S. Air Force Plant #42 in California's Antelope Valley. An aerospace veteran of 14 years, Hartman is responsible for developing and maintaining a performance reporting system for the Space Shuttle program.

The Orbiter is scheduled for a "traditional rollout" in mid-September. Initial flight testing -- including taxi, ferrying, approach and landing tests -- is scheduled to begin early in 1977.

A native of Wellington, Hartman was graduated from Wellington High School and earned his BS degree from West Texas State University in Canyon in 1958.

Hartman is a vice president and member of the board of directors of Equestrian Trails, Inc.; a vice president and member of the board of directors of Barn-Burners, a square dance club, and is a member of the board of finance of the Pleasant Valley Baptist Church, all located in Camarillo, Calif.

Title Certificates Needed for Some Boats

Purchasers of new boats and motors are reminded by officials at the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department that some new vessels require certificates of title.

As of Jan. 1, 1976, an amendment to the Texas Water Safety Act requires new or unregistered motorboats in excess of 14 feet to have a certificate of title from the P&WD. New outboard engines of 12 or more horsepower must be titled separately by the department.

As passed by the recent Texas Legislature, the new titling laws aim to give Texas boaters added protection in recovering stolen property and may serve as collateral for financing and insurance purposes.

P&WD license officials say, as with any new law, there is some confusion on what is required.

Registration of motorboats for "TX" numbers is still required by the Texas Water Safety Act, regardless of boat size as long as the crafts are powered by an engine.

At the time of purchase of a boat in excess of 14 feet outfitted with an engine of 12 or more horsepower, three documents must be completed and mailed to the Parks and Wildlife Department: (1) Registration form for "TX" numbers with the appropriate fee based on length of the boat; (2) application for title on the boat, which has a $2 fee; and, (3) application for certificate of title to the engine, also for $2.

Registration of motorboats for "TX" numbers is still required by the Texas Water Safety Act, regardless of boat size as long as the crafts are powered by an engine.

Texas Farms To Decline 1% During 1976

According to preliminary estimates, the number of Texas farms and ranches will decrease by 2,000 in 1976, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White said.

This is a decline of one percent from 207,000 acres last year to only 205,000 in 1976.

The number of farms and ranches in Texas had remained at 209,000 from 1972 through 1974 with the decline beginning in 1975 and continuing into this year, Commissioner White noted.

But while the number of farms and ranches has declined, the total acreage has remained the same, at 141,800, with average farm acreage increasing, White added.

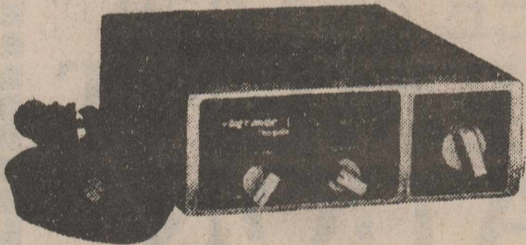

In 1976, the estimated average size of farms and ranches will be 692, an increase from 685 in 1975. Nationwide, total land in farms and ranches if forecast at 1,085 million for 1976. This represents a slight decline from 1975, when acreage was 1,086 million. The number of farms in the United States is expected to decline one percent to 2,785,780.

New Book Tells Story Of Screwworm Control

LUBBOCK--"The Peaceful Atom and the Deadly Fly," a book which describes how sex and atomic energy were combined to eradicate the deadly screwworm from the United States, will become available this month, according to a publisher's announcement.

The author, Charles G. Scruggs, tells the science fiction-like suspense story of how a voracious insect--which feeds only on the flesh of men and animals--was tricked into breeding itself out of existence.

Through research and development described as "the most unusual ever carried out in the annals of insect control," U.S. Department of Agriculture scientists devised a means of using atomic energy to cause screwworms to commit genetic suicide.

Billions of the insects were raised in a "fly factory" and exposed to atomic irradiation which induced sterility. These lethal insect missiles were then released to mate with untreated screwworm flies. The result of the trickery was to breed the insects out of existence.

For the American consumer, success meant savings in beef, mutton, wool, mohair, and dairy products. In the future the success could mean more food for a hungry world.

Leading the reader into the future, the book points to a real hope for insect control and eradication without the heavy use of insecticides.

The book grew out of Scruggs' personal interest in the fascinating means devised for specific insect irradiation without environmental pollution. He attributes much success of the project to the voluntary efforts of southern and southwestern livestock producers determined to eradicate a deadly insect. He is a graduate of Texas A&M University and a regent of Texas Tech University.

Scruggs is an editor and rancher. He is vice president of Southern Living magazine and editor of The Progressive Farmer magazine. He is a general partner of Vacada Ranches Ltd. and president of Torado Land and Cattle Company.

The book may be ordered from Jenkins Publishing Company, 1 Pemberton Parkway, Austin, Tex. 78703, at a cost of $12.95 per copy.

PYGMY RABBIT This juvenile pygmy rabbit, captured during ecology field studies at the Idaho National Engineering Laboratory, Energy Research and Development Administration (ERDA), easily fits into a man's hand. The one-month-old miniature bunny weighs about three ounces, and when full grown will weigh less than a pound and be only about 11 inches long. The pygmy rabbit, identified only 84 years ago, is one of several species of animals being studied at the Laboratory by students and staff of Idaho State University. The ERDA Laboratory is also a National Environmental Research Park. (Photograph by Douglas Wilde, ISU)

Texas A&M to Observe Centennial April 5-9

COLLEGE STATION -- State and national leaders will explore the future of Texas agriculture here April 5-9 during Agricultural Centennial Week, a special feature of the Texas A&M University centennial celebration.

The April 5 program will observe "Youth and Agriculture Day" and feature four presidents and vice presidents of state youth organizations.

Addressing a special Agricultural Convocation that evening at the Rudder Conference Center will be John Brinker of Chicago, president of A.O. Smith Harvestore. At the convocation, a presentation will be made to an outstanding farm family whose members have served Texas agriculture during the last half century.

"One of the real challenges to Texas agriculture is to identify future trends and directions as we advance toward a new century," said Dr. L.S. Pope, A&M associate dean of agriculture and conference chairman.

"Our program will cover a broad range of agricultural issues that have impact on the Texas scene, such as export trade, energy restrictions, chemical use, weather problems and the role of food in foreign and domestic policy," Pope noted.

Following the youth and agriculture salute, a two-day symposium is set on the theme: "Maintaining Agriculture's Momentum in the Century Ahead."

Speakers will include Ernest Lindsey, president of Farmland Industries, the world's largest agricultural cooperative; Ed Wheeler, president of the National Fertilizer Institute; and Edward Jaenke of Washington, D.C., former governor of the Farm Credit Administration.

A luncheon program on April 6 will recognize outstanding leaders in Texas agriculture.

The third annual Texas Animal Agriculture Conference on Thursday and Friday will complete the Agricultural Centennial Week L.A. Maddox, Jr., beef cattle specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, is conference coordinator.

Among many livestock production and management topics for the conference will be a symposium on land use and environmental management as it affects the farmer and rancher.

Featured speakers for this portion of the Texas Animal Agriculture Conference will include Nathan Chandler, consultant to the administrator, Environmental Protection Agency, Washington, D.C.; Hugh Yantis, executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board, Austin; and Brig. Gen. Kenneth McIntyre, deputy director of Civil Works, Department of the Army.

Also taking part in the program will be Texas Land Commissioner Robert Armstrong of Austin.

Pope said the Agricultural Centennial Conference will be one of the most comprehensive ever held at Texas A&M. "It has been planned especially for youth concerned with agriculture's future as well as for state agricultural leaders, ranchers, stockmen and representatives of the state's agribusiness segment," he emphasized.

Miss Ann Smith of Raton, New Mexico, visited in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Smith, her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Smith, and her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hall, Kevin and Darren, over the week-end.

YOU CAN BANK ON IT!

By BILLY MOSELEY
Executive Vice President
CITY STATE BANK

On Jan. 1, 1976 a law affecting millions of Americans took effect. It is the Employee Retirement Income Security Act, better known as "ERISA".

The law affects virtually every private enterprise pension or profit sharing plan in existence. It sets a vast and complicated set of rules and standards.

The new law is so stringent that many experts in the field say there will be few new pension plans established until all of the ramifications are known. That may take years, they say. At the same time, many smaller plans are being terminated because it is difficult for them to meet the ERISA standards.

The same law, however, permits individuals who are not covered by formal pension plans -- not counting social security -- to establish their own retirement programs.

These are called Individual Retirement Accounts, or more commonly, IRAs. Individuals can deposit up to $1,500 a year at the bank in their IRA, and take the deposit as a personal income tax deduction.

The individual does not have to pay taxes on an IRA until he or she begins drawing the retirement benefits, and that is generally at a lower tax rate.

"The more you know about our business, the more we can help you!"

The Spirit of Cooperation

Last weekend the county was treated to an excellent bicentennial production, the musical "I Love America." It was a fine patriotic and religious performance whose "Battle Hymn of the Republic" finale sent a chill down one's spine.

It was a treat that will be remembered for a long time by those in the audience.

Congratulations are in order to Benny Kilgo, the director, and the entire cast and crew. Months of hard work and patience were necessary to make the three-night run live up to the professional standards the group set for itself.

But the musical did more for us than provide entertainment. And it did more than echo our heritage.

It reminded us of something that we all know but usually forget. It reminded us of the things that we can achieve by working together towards a common goal. On this project old people and young people joined hands. The faces of those with English ancestry were seen next to those of Mexican, German and black descent. Singers and crew members from varied churches, clubs and communities in the county forgot their differences and worked and laughed and agonized together.

The mind reels at thoughts of the many ways in which our community might be richer if we worked together more each month and each year toward common goals. The beautiful landscape that we might enjoy, the fine public buildings that might be at our service, the bonds of friendship and fellowship that might be made—a hundred things that might lift our spirits and make this a better place to live. The bicentennial year presents us with an opportunity that we should not let pass.

Alcoholism Among the Young

With heroin, marijuana, hashish, cocaine, uppers and downers occupying the spotlight, it's curious that alcoholism, a legal addiction, goes relatively unnoticed. Now alcohol addiction among teen-agers is beginning to attract the attention it deserves.

Teen-age alcohol addiction, in fact, is considered America's most serious drug problem despite lack of attention paid it by police and the courts. Gin, vodka, beer, wine, whiskey and rum are wreaking the worst havoc among young people and the problems they cause are rubbing off on adults as well.

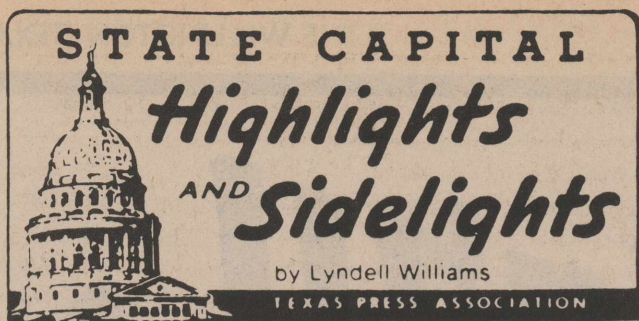

National Institute of Alcohol Abuse says about one in three high school students gets drunk at least once a month, with serious drinking problems plaguing more than 1.3 million youngsters between 12-17 across the nation. This is higher than in the adult population.

And while drinking drivers are a nationwide menace, National Safety Council says the problem is most serious when the drinker is under 20, since young drivers who drink are more likely to have accidents than an older, more experienced drunk driver, even though the youngster may not be as inebriated.

Governor Dolph Briscoe proclaimed the week ending Saturday as Alcoholism Prevention and Treatment Week in Texas. The governor estimated that alcoholism affects more than half a million Texans. In the North Texas area, including only Archer, Baylor, Childress, Clay, Cottle, Foard, Hardeman, Jack, Montague, Wichita, Wilbarger and Young counties, an alcohol abusing population of more than 10,000 resides, costing almost $1 million annually in illness, loss to business and industry and in criminal justice activities.

This demonstrates magnitude of the problem. With several agencies available to treat alcoholics, only the educational job remains. And public knowledge of the extent of the alcoholism problem is the first step toward doing something about it.

AUSTIN — Three major statewide judicial races on the May 1 Democratic primary ballot are attracting widespread interest among attorneys, although the general public remains largely unaware.

Resignation of veteran Judge W.A. Morrison from the court of Criminal Appeals effective March 31 created the third contest. The filing deadline will be reopened to permit candidates to get their names on the ballot. Gov. Dolph Briscoe has authority to fill the vacancy until the November general election.

In the other judicial races, Fourth Court of Civil Appeals Chief Justice Charles W. Barrow, 54, of San Antonio and Houston attorney Donald B. Yarbrough, 34, are contesting for a Texas Supreme Court seat being vacated.

Barrow outpolling Yarbrough 10,086 to 1,741 in a sampling of lawyer opinion through the State Bar. Yarbrough said that was the "greatest compliment" he could receive.

Court of Criminal Appeals Judge Truman Roberts, 58, seeking his second term, is opposed by Dallas District Judge Jerome Chamberlain, 53.

Roberts topped Chamberlain in the Bar poll 8,894 to 2,751. Chamberlain has been criticizing Roberts' opinions as over-technical. Roberts says he follows the law strictly.

Allowable Set

For the 49th straight month, the Railroad Commission set the statewide oil allowable at 100 per cent.

Exceptions include the East Texas Field (86 per cent).

Buyers asked more than 3.9 million barrels a day, a slight decrease of 2,174 from March.

The commission acted after oil company executives lambasted federal energy policies at length during a day-long hearing.

Toll Rises

The 1975 traffic death toll in Texas rose 13 per cent, according to the Department of Public Safety.

At that, the number of deaths were 263 below the all-time-record year, 1973.

Voluntary compliance with the 55 miles per hour speed limit is not as good as it should be, but traffic continues to move slower than under the old 70 mph limit, according to DPS Director Wilson E. Speir.

The death toll last year was 3,429, compared to 2,945 in 1974 and 3,692 in 1973.

Unemployment Up

Texas unemployment increased by more than 7,000 during January. Texas Employment Commission reported.

TEC said 305,500 were seeking work, compared with 298,200 in December.

The jobless rate went up from 5.6 per cent to 5.8 per cent of the labor force. The total number employed dropped from 5,042,900 in December to 4,976,400 in January.

Courts Speak

Texas Supreme Court agreed to hear arguments in a former Texas Tech football player's suit claiming the school should be liable for his knee injury since trainers didn't tape the knee properly.

The high court also upheld suspension of a Fort Worth dentist for publishing a booklet supporting nutritional supplements as a cancer cure.

Supreme Court justices upheld an order the Dallas Civil Service Board must consider charges against police officers in a beating and shooting death.

AG Opinions

Atty. Gen. John Hill told The University of Texas it cannot withhold records of the UT Division of Extension on grounds they are part of a continuing internal investigation.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A court can grant an occupational drivers' license after drunk driving convictions only where it does not impose imprisonment.

Written applications are required for emergency admission of mental patients to state hospitals.

A livestock owner violates a county stock law when his cattle are on a county road uncontrolled.
