Turner, Sudderth in runoff for Rep.

In the special election held last Saturday for 65th District Representative, Robert R. (Bob) Turner (D) led all candidates in Runnels County. A runoff between Turner and Ben Doyle Sudderth (D) of Comanche will likely be held Saturday, March 2.

Only 12% of the registered voters in the county turned out for the election. Voting at Winters City Hall brought out only 58 of 504 registered voters in Precinct 4; at the Winters Housing Authority (Precinct 3), 116 of 1398 registered voters voted; at Wingate, 15% (34 of 222) voted. Norton had the highest percentage turnout with 40 of the 158 registered voters voting in the special election.

Turner garnered 354 Runnels County votes, followed by Richard Watson (R) with 122 votes. Sudderth came in third in Runnels County with 102 votes.

The successful candidate in the runoff will finish out the unexpired term of Jim Parker of Comanche who resigned to become Legislative Liaison for Governor Ann Richards.

WISD Board votes to settle health claims

The Winters Independent School District Board of Trustees met in an abbreviated meeting on Tuesday, February 12. The sole agenda item was consideration of a resolution concerning the Educators Group Health Trust bankruptcy lawsuit. The lawsuit stemmed from the bankruptcy of a group health insurance carrier involved with 204 Texas schools. Since the bankruptcy petition was filed, many claims by school district employees have gone unpaid.

The resolution authorizes the settlement of the EGHT lawsuit and on a motion by Bob Prewit, seconded by Ronnie Pochls, the board adopted the resolution.

Johnny Bob Smith will begin working with school district employees in settlement of their outstanding claims against Educators Group Health. The school district will settle with employees according to what would have been owed by EGHT and their policies, taking into consideration those claims which may have been paid by other insurance carried by the employee.

City, School, Hospital elections May 4

A mayor and two aldermen, two school board members and four hospital district board members will be selected in elections to be held Saturday, May 4. Voting will take place at the Winters School Cafeteria for all three elections.

The city election will fill the mayor's office, currently held by Randy Springer, along with two council positions. The council positions are currently held by Steve Byrne and Sandy Griffin.

School board positions 6 & 7 presently held by Ronald Presley and Bob Prewit will come up at the May election.

Four hospital board positions will be open for election this year. Positions held by Randall Boles, Phil Colburn, Archie Jobe and Bob Webb are expiring.

Filing dates for these elections will run from February 18 until 5:00 p.m. on March 20.

Council authorizes dozer, truck purchase

The Mayor and City Council met in regular session on Monday, February 11 in the Council Chambers at City Hall. Council members authorized the purchase of a 1963 Allis Chalmers dozer and dump truck by the street department. Charles Grenwelge, Street Superintendent, met with the Council and told members he had checked the tractor out and it seemed to be in good mechanical shape. Also the dump truck looked to be in good shape and runs good, he said. Grenwelge had parked the truck at the rear of city hall to allow Council members to look at if desired.

Grenwelge told the group that the dozer could save the City money by enabling them to cover the closed landfill as required without having to hire machinery to do it. The dozer would also be useful in helping spread caliche on streets when needed.

Following some discussion, Council members voted unanimously to authorize the purchase of the two pieces of equipment.

City Administrator Charles Ludwick then reported to the Council on the recommendations of Jim Allen, consultant, on the south water tower. The report was better than expected according to Ludwick and Jack Davis, Jr., Water Superintendent, with Allen's report saying the steel in the tower was still in relatively good shape. His recommendation was to replace the 10" standpipe at a cost estimated to be less than $10,000. He also recommended the painting and touchup of problem areas on the tower. Council members discussed the alternatives, finally deciding to go immediately with the replacement of the standpipe and defer the other recommendations to a later time. City Administrator Ludwick was authorized to advertise for bids for the replacement of the standpipe.

Other Council business had to do with the upcoming city elections. Council members approved an Order of Election for May 4 and appointed Donna Donica as Temporary Assistant City Secretary to allow her to perform the municipal duties required.

Administrator Ludwick then brought the Mayor and Council members up to date on the North Runnels Water Supply Corporation rate case. Councilmen were given copies of the prefilled testimony of Don Rauschuber, consultant; Don Ashmore, Auditor and Charles Ludwick. Ludwick told the Council that the auditor's recommendation for the rate of the base period after refiguring and according to the contract would be $2.93 per thousand gallons. North Runnels Water Supply Corp. is presently being charged $2.05 per thousand. The average cost to city customers is $2.87 per thousand gallons. The city has issued requests for information from North Runnels in the second phase of discovery, which should be answered within 30 days, according to rules laid down by the Texas Water Commission in a hearing last fall.

The final hearing is presently scheduled for late April in front of a Texas Water Commission examiner. Ludwick told the Council that so far the city had spent over $13,000 cash on attorney's and consultant's fees on the North Runnels case.

An engineer from the Texas Water Commission is to be in Winters on the 21st of this month to look over the water plant and the operations of the water department.

After paying routine bills, the Council adjourned until its next regular meeting, scheduled for February 25.

Blizzards defeat Haskell

The Winters Blizzards varsity boys basketball team slowed the game of basketball down to the speed of thick molasses and defeated the Haskell Indians 46-30 Tuesday night in Abilene.

The Blizzards won the first half of district play, while Hawley won the second half. By defeating Haskell, the team finishing second in the last half of district play, the Blizzards won the right to play Hawley for the District Championship.

The Blizzards played a slow-down game and went into a stall with 5:25 left in the final quarter of the game. The Indians didn't press the Blizzards much and Coach Ed Henley said, "The kids played super. That's as well as we've played all year. The team executed the game plan and what more can you ask?"

By executing their game plan, the Blizzards held the Indians' leading scorer, Rusty Stocks, to 10 points in the game. His season average was 20 points per game. No other Haskell player scored more than 5 points.

Leading scorer for the Blizzards and the game was Willie Belk with 17 points, followed by Craig Slaughter with 10. Greg Tamez scored 9 points, Leo Campos 6 and Keith Gerhart contributed 4 points. The Blizzards made 12 of 19 free throws.

The Blizzards will travel to Clyde on Friday night at 7:30 to face Hawley. Admission will be $2 for adults and $1 for students.

Charles Kidwell, Winters High School principal, presents Frances Bredemeyer with a certificate honoring her for being nominated as Teacher of the Year. Mrs. Bredemeyer's name was entered in the University of Texas Ex-Students Association contest to select a teacher of the year. The award was presented to Mrs. Bredemeyer at a faculty meeting on Tuesday, February 5.

OIL BUSINESS . . .

By Reg Boles

The first month of 1991 is long gone, and, soon, it will be graduation time for high school students and many decisions will have to be faced. It is not too early for Seniors and underclassmen to start thinking about careers and/or post-secondary education.

The problem with picking a profession is that you sometimes have to make life-determining choices BEFORE you get to see what it is really like in your chosen field.

I am not qualified to talk about a wide range of professions and careers, but I can give you some insight into what the engineering profession and the petroleum industry, in particular, are like.

Let's start with engineering, since it is more general.

Engineering is a problem-solving, logic-oriented field. To do this well, you need good tools, like math aptitude, analysis skills, a grasp of how to identify what the problem is when it is not obvious but the symptoms are, etc. To put it in laymen's language: it is a lifetime of working "story problems" you know—those kind everybody hates in algebra).

Here is the kicker: in order to be happy in your job, you must really ENJOY "story problems"! That requirement will probably "screen-out" several of you right off the bat. If so, skip on down to the part about the petroleum business—you have my permission.

For those who didn't skip down, some more thoughts.

Engineering is an applied science, which means (in a nutshell) that you probably won't be an expert in any one type of scientific concept, but you will know how to understand and apply a multitude of scientific concepts and discoveries. It also means that you can listen to a research scientist present his findings and research and be able to decipher what he or she says AND apply it to problems you encounter.

Think about what all of this means and compare it with your interests. Maybe you should pursue it further. If you aren't interested in petroleum, skip on down to the last paragraph, where I conclude with my obligatory sermon.

Now, we discuss the petroleum industry and my "insights" (please don't let me impress you as an expert—see sermon below).

The petroleum industry takes a special kind of person. Some of the requirements have changed over time, but the basic prerequisites for a happy oil field career have stayed the same since the beginning.

Anyone who works in the oil business will tell you that there is a "family-type" atmosphere in the industry. There are several reasons for this family atmosphere, as I see it.

It has always been a mysterious business to the outsider. It involves seemingly complicated equipment and nomenclature, that intimidates anyone not directly involved. This draws a boundary between those in and out of the industry.

The world has always considered the oil companies as something to fear and distrust because of their great power and wealth. It creates a sort of "us against them" concept, pulling those inside together.

And, finally, as a result of the great wealth of the oil companies, the employees from top to bottom have been well-compensated in pay and benefits. There has also been an "around-the-clock" nature to this business (not unrelated to the afore-mentioned compensation) that requires a continuing loyalty and submission to the oil companies as employers.

More than anything, this "family feeling" (for lack of a better term) illustrates the type of person that has been interested in working for the oil industry over the years. The changing requirements have surfaced only recently.

Let's stop right here, for now. I have so much more to say and so little room to say it. My editor is pretty strict on these matters, and has been disappointed to learn that I "run off at the pen" as well as the mouth. Tune in next week when the newest deep, dark secrets of the oil business will be revealed! If that isn't enough to get you to buy a paper, remember that the new grocery ads will also be in the next issue!

P.S. Those of you that were looking for the "sermon" down here: It will be in next week's article, also. © 1991 Reg Boles

Letter to the Editor

July of 1988 there was a situation very similar to the one that occurred the first weekend of February. In which I think the situation was handled very well. At that time the people of Winters had never heard of David Wheeler. I wish we still had the kind of law enforcement we had the year of 1988.

Letter to the Editor

"The Enterprise," I commend you for your "A salute to our military men and women overseas" piece. Very well done!

The article aroused local interest and concern for the welfare of our hometown service members.

How well did the community respond? The township of Winters reached across thousands of miles of ocean, into this enormous thing called "Desert Shield (Storm)" and embraced us with expressions of love and support.

Successful? Indeed! Our spirits now soar!

Thank you Winters,
1st SG Michael Fowler

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
At a time when the men and women in our armed forces are facing their greatest test, we at home are facing a test as well. Our test is to maintain our unity and resolve, as our troops are doing in the Persian Gulf.

We don't want Saddam Hussein to take this country's tolerance for anti-war demonstrators as a signal he should wait out our resolve in a long and bloody war.

I'm outraged at the brutal treatment of our POW's. And I'm saddened to see the media give so much attention to the small number of anti-war protesters who have sprung into action. It seems that every time a few protesters pick up their signs, the cameras swarm around them, and they end up on the news.

Our soldiers have said that they have a job to do and are going to get it done. I feel I have a job to do, too. And that's to stand up in strong support of our troops.

I want them to know that I and the American people are very proud of them. We are all inspired by their bravery.

I hope that you'll print my letter, and others like it, in the days ahead. Thousands of local American newspapers are reaching our men and women in uniform every day. Your newspaper may be one of them. I want the troops to know that we hold them in our thoughts and prayers every day.

Sincerely,
Charles C. Ludwick

FROM A GOLDFISH BOWL

BY PASTOR STEVE BYRNE

There was a time when the Church calendar called for the celebration of St. Valentine's Day on February 14. There were two men whose names were Valentine; both were martyred; and no one is sure exactly which of the two the original St. Valentine's Day celebrated.

According to THE OXFORD DICTIONARY OF THE CHRISTIAN CHURCH, "The traditional association of St. Valentine's day with courtship and the choosing of a 'Valentine' of the opposite sex is connected perhaps with certain customs of the pagan festival of Lupercalia (mid-Feb.) at Rome, or with the natural season, not with any tradition concerning either saint of the name." (page 1423)

This is not surprising. I have noticed that most expressions of Christianity tend to degenerate into either legalism with its intricate set of rules and regulations, or shallow sentimentalism. Neither of which have the most remote connection with the Cross in any positive way. The latter tendency being the reason that St. Valentine's Day is no longer a religious celebration.

From the time that Jesus set his face toward Jerusalem and determined to walk this road to his death until his crucifixion, he gave us an example of LOVE as a decision, not a feeling. A decision to DO the loving thing, no matter the sacrifice. Not an ounce of sentimentality in the whole story.

My Valentine happens to like Russell Stover's chocolates. There was a time that I gave these on Valentine's Day expecting a return. Some years the expectation was romance; other years, just to keep the peace in the marriage. Either way, this sentimentalizing of love is manipulation. Bargaining.

Jesus' love is neither. His "AGAPE" is self-giving, not self-serving. It is mature love.

This year I will spring for the $15 box of Russell Stover's. Simply because she likes them. And I choose to do that with no strings attached. Which is no big deal, except when I realize where I started out.

Jesus gives love with no strings attached. No legal manipulation. No sentimental manipulation. Pure gift.

Maybe when we begin to pattern our Valentine's Day love after his example, we can get it back on the Church Calendar. As a way of celebrating a love that is present, not just one day, but 365 days a year.

WMU meets Tuesday in Fellowship Hall

Missions Education was the theme of the First Baptist Church women's meeting in Fellowship Hall Tuesday.

The four tasks the church has assigned to the Womens Missionary Union are: To teach missions, to engage in mission action, to support missions and to undergird the work of the church and denomination.

Pastor Glenn Shoemake discussed a project to be presented by the Missions Committee. The project involves the underwriting of a building project for the Cedar Ridge Baptist Church of Burlington. The church will also provide prayer support and encouragement.

Tooter Harrison spoke about reaching out on the local level to help non-readers. There are more than 27 million non-readers in the U. S. and several hundred in Runnels County. Philip Turner will be at the city library Saturday, February 26, to provide ten hours of training the Laubach method of teaching. It is done in the home with one pupil at a time. All those who would like to teach are encouraged to come for free training.

Beth Bradley related her experience of leading a group of 20 to 30 girls in Girls' Auxiliary when she came to Winters 14 years ago. Susan Conner began with the young women. Sara Beth Heidenheimer has been working with the mission organizations for the past eight years, and says it becomes discouraging at times. The work takes time, commitment and support of the parents. Jo Olive Hancock, president, presided for the meeting and announced that it was time to prepare for our Annie Armstrong offering for Home Missions at Easter.

Darlene Sims read the names of all missionaries having a birthday that day and Charlsie Poe led in prayer.

Spirit Filled Happenings

by Dixie Leverett Church Editor

This is February, the love month. Stores display hearts of all kinds, flowers, and romantic gifts to entice us to buy for the ones we love. We all feel rejection if we don't receive something; rejection hurts.

Jesus knocks at the door of our heart within each of us. He is often rejected. He loves us increasingly and we don't return His love. He makes the sun to shine warmly upon us. He shelters us from the wind and rain. He wraps us in His warm golden balm of love when death touches our lives. He guides our feet upon the uneven steps of life. He keeps our hands busy and shields the ears from unkind words. He knocks upon our hearts door over and over again and is still rejected. How many times should you knock upon an unopening door?

Even a loving, caring, forgiving God must give up at some time, and we can never know how many chances we have before our time comes. Are we ready?

Psalms 90:12 "So teach us to number our days, that we may apply our hearts unto wisdom."

Thursday, February 14, at 6:00 p.m. the childrens choir will meet for practice. For a spiritual blessing please make plans to join us for an old time gospel singing on Friday, March 29, at 7:00 p.m. Also, the childrens group will be performing a play about Easter.

Who Cares???

Love

by Wynette Halford, Co-Pastor Somebody Cares Ministries

This February 14, as usual, people all across our great nation will focus on "Love." Many, during this unfortunate time of war, will be considering the fact that their "sweetheart" is thousands of miles away, possibly giving his or her life in order to keep our freedoms so many of us take for granted.

As has been proven time and time again, love knows no distance. When we truly love someone, no matter where they are, we continue to love that individual. Much of the time their absence truly does make our heart grow fonder.

Most of us will admit that there is someone, somewhere, that we "love." I challenge you to love those individuals not only in words, but in deeds. Consider what the word of God, the Bible, says to us about love.

"If I had the gift of being able to speak in other languages without learning them, and could speak in every language there is in all of heaven and earth, but didn't love others, I would only be making noise. If I had the gift of prophecy and knew all about what is going to happen in the future, knew everything about everything, but didn't love others, what good would it do? Even if I had the gift of faith so that I could speak to a mountain and make it move, I would still be worth nothing at all without love. If I gave everything I had to poor people, and if I were burned alive for preaching the Gospel but didn't love others, it would be of no value whatever.

Love is very patient and kind, never jealous or envious, never boastful or proud, never haughty or selfish or rude. Love does not demand its own way. It is not irritable or touchy. It does not hold grudges and will hardly even notice when others do it wrong. It is never glad about injustice, but rejoices whenever truth wins out. If you love someone you will be loyal to him no matter what the cost. You always believe in him, always expect the best of him, and always stand your ground in defending him." (1 Corinthians 13:1-7)

Somehow, we all fall short when it comes to true love. Unconditional love that expects nothing in return. The greatest gift you can give your "sweetheart" this Valentine's Day is a good old-fashioned dose of love. This love will motivate you to put their feelings, desires, and needs, before your own. This love will allow you to open your heart and mind freely to them. This love will produce lasting results. This love never dies. This love is forever. When two people experience this kind of love, it is a rare occasion, but truly a possible event. When two individuals love each other in this way, nothing can separate them! What if the world truly could love one another in this fashion? No more war, no more crime, no more hate, no more divorce! Think about it!

"Jesus said unto them, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy mind. This is the first and great commandment. And the second is like unto it, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself. On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets." (Matthew 22:37-40)

Clarification

The Winters Enterprise wishes to clarify the report of an incident which occurred February 2, 1991.

It was reported that a knife fight occurred during the Marcha at the VFW. It should have stated that the knife fight took place late in the dance.

The Winters Enterprise regrets any inconvenience this misstatement may have caused.

Mrs. Alan Cooper

Russell-Cooper wed in candlelight church ceremony, February 2

Miss J'Lynn Russell became the bride of Mr. Alan Van Cooper on Saturday, February 2, 1991, at 6:00 p.m. The Reverend Travis Franklin officiated the candlelight double-ring ceremony at First United Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Tommy Russell and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Middlebrook. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Cooper and grandson of Mrs. Henry Vogler and the late Henry Vogler.

The sanctuary was decorated with tapered candelabras. The altar rail was adorned with candles and English ivory.

Given in marriage by her parents and escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a designer gown of white satin by Demetrios for Ilissa. Her gown featured a Sabrina neckline of Italian lace dotted with bridal pearls and crystal sequins. The bodice accented with pearls and sequins fell into a basque waistline. Long Elizabethan sleeves detailed with beaded lace tapered into a point at the wrist. A full skirt flowed gracefully into a cathedral length train edged with beaded Italian lace at the hemline and featured medallions of beaded lace. Her pouffed fingertip veil of three-tiered French illusion was attached to a crown of beaded Alençon lace and sprays of pearls.

She carried a Greek bouquet of sprays of alstromeria, bridal white and pink rosebuds, daisies, shades of pink carnations, baby's breath, lavender miniature dianthus, and stephanodas.

Following wedding tradition, the bride's something old was an English Sixpense and Pearl bracelet belonging to her mother. "Something blue" was a garter made by Mrs. Earnest Brown. She carried a white satin bridal Bible belonging to Mrs. Lee Harrison.

Kelli Tumow of Irving was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Patti Castillija, Tammy Martin of Dallas, Lorale Weisner of San Antonio, Mona Cooper of Arlington, Linda Land of Gardendale, and Rita Mason of Levelland, sisters of the groom. The bride's attendants wore matching ensembles of tea length iridescent navy taffeta. The dresses were designed with a bandeau neckline and the tapestry bodices ended in a "V" at the waists. The back of the dresses were accented by a bow at the waist. They carried cascade bouquets of baby's breath, mixed flowers of different shades of pink and daisies, stephanodas with ribbon streamers of pink.

Flower girls were Mary Claire Russell of Houston and Cara Land of Gardendale, nieces of both the bride and groom. They wore navy taffeta dresses, with elbow length sleeves with rosettes. The back of their dresses had rosettes at the waist with ruffled tiers forming the skirt. They carried white baskets with pink streamers. Their headpieces were bridal rosebuds and baby's breath forming a halo.

The groom and groomsmen wore dark gray pinstripe tuxedos. Doyle Cooper was his son's best man. Groomsmen were David Brewer of Winters, Dr. Jeff Russell of Houston, brother of the bride, Johnny Walker of Lubbock, Michael Michaelis of Bryan, Pat Land of Gardendale, and Ray Mason of Levelland.

Wedding music was provided by Mrs. Fran Kidwell and soloists was Stefanie White of Richardson who sang "On Holy Ground", and "My Jesus, I Love Thee". Bret Burton of San Antonio sang "The Lord's Prayer". Mrs. Jennifer Russell of Houston read Genesis 2: 18-24 and I. Cor. 13:4-6, 11-13. Jim Lincycumb, trumpeter, of Winters, played "Trumpet Voluntary" along with the organ as the bride walked down the aisle.

Following the wedding service, the bride's parents held the reception in the church fellowship hall. Amanda and Andrew Williams of Levelland registered guests. Robyn Parramore was at the gift table.

The bride's table was appointed with a silver candelabra and punch bowl. The bride's cake was a four-tiered round confection decorated with mixed flowers between each tier. Serving at the bride's table was Suzanne Spill of Austin and Toni Walfe of Dallas.

Gonzales-Blackshear united in double-ring ceremony

Miss Irma Gonzales and Mr. Anthony Blackshear were united in marriage Saturday, February 2, 1991, at 3:00 p.m. in Mount Carmel Catholic Church. Father Joe Schauer officiated the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Gonzales of Winters.

The groom is the son of Mrs. and Mrs. James Lee Blackshear of Winters.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of bashful peach and white. The bodice of lustrous bengaline joined a billowy tulle to form a timeless romantic look, delicate piping accented the basque waist, a flattering V-back pointed out a rosette bow.

The bride's hairpiece, made by her mother, was of silk rosettes accented with pearl beads.

The bride carried a bouquet cascaded with silk roses, colors of bashful peach, blushing pinks, and white. It was accented with pearl beads and ribbon. Crystal hearts dangled on the tips. The bouquet was also made by the bride's mother.

The bride wore a garter made of white lace and peach rosettes. The garter was made by the bride's sister.

The church was decorated with fresh flower bouquets in shades of pink, peach and white at the altar. To each side were candelabras decorated with greenery and draped peach bows, holding pink candles. Pews reserved for the wedding party were decorated with crystalline bows each holding a pink rose.

Providing traditional wedding music on the organ was Mr. Leroy Moore of Ballinger.

Brandi Gray registered guests as they entered the church. Ushers were Gaberial Ortiz and Brock Guevera.

Serving as maid of honor was Irene Simpson, sister of the bride, and as matron of honor was Diane Cortez of San Angelo. They wore matching floor-length gowns of bashful peach. The bride's mother also wore the same design dress.

Flower girl was Juanita Simpson, niece of the bride. She wore a jumpsuit of bashful peach covered with lace and mini pearls. She carried a flower basket, made by the bride's mother, covered with pink and peach lace intertwined and filled with pink and peach flowers.

The best man was Robert Simpson, brother-in-law of the bride. Roger Cortez of San Angelo served as first groomsmen. The groom, best man, and first groomsmen wore black pant, white jacket tuxedos with peach cummerbunds and peach bow ties. The groom wore a long-tailed tuxedo.

Other members of the wedding party were Mr. and Mrs. Joe DeLaCruz, Mr. and Mrs. Tony Soto, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Tony Sanchez, Mr. and Mrs. Ricky Ortiz, Mr. Michael Ferguson, Miss Christy Blackshear, Mr. Sonny Valverde, Miss Cindy Esquivel, Mr. Joe B. Riddle, Ms. Betty Nava, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ripple, Ms. Sandy Bland, Mr. and Mrs. Cristino Rios, Mr. and Mrs. George Villareal, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Trevino. Their wedding attire consisted of dress in shades of blushing pink and formal suit. Each bride's maid carried a single white rose with pink and white ribbon streamers.

These precious memories were captured forever on video by Stephen Grenwelge.

The reception dinner was held by the bride's parents in the Catholic Church Hall. Cooks and helpers were Ms. Irene Valles, Ms. Veronica Valles, and Ms. Silena Perry. The couple's table was covered with a white lace table cloth. A candelabra with fresh carnations of pink and white served as the centerpiece. The wedding dance was held at the Winters VFW with music provided by Jimmy Flores Y Los Cartines. Mistress of Ceremonies was Susan Ripple. The VFW was decorated with pink and peach streamers and heart-shaped balloons which hung from the ceiling. Also hanging from the ceiling were double hearts encircled with the wedding party's names. Heather Brown

Heather Brown nominated for Award

SNYDER — Heather Brown of Winters, a Golf/Landscape Technology student at Western Texas College, has been nominated for the Non-Traditional Student Award of the Texas Council on Vocational Education (T/COVE).

T/COVE makes awards in five categories annually to recognize outstanding achievements of participants in vocational education. The award for non-traditional students is new this year. Miss Brown falls into this category since, traditionally, students in Golf/Landscape Technology (GLT) are male students although she is not the first female to enroll. One winner and two finalists in each category will be honored at the fourth annual Texas Vocational Education Awards Banquet and Program on March 9 in Austin. Winners will receive complimentary banquet tickets, a certificate, personalized letters from President George Bush and Governor Ann Richards and a $500 U.S. savings bond. Finalists will receive certificates and regional recognition.

Miss Brown was graduated from Winters High School and attended Angelo State University in the 1989-90 school year. Her father, Neil Brown, is employed by Halliburton. When he was transferred to Snyder she decided to move to Snyder with him and enroll at WTC at the start of the 1990 fall semester. Miss Brown's mother, Kay, and her two sisters continue to reside in Winters and the family alternates weekend and holiday visits between the two towns. Her mother and her twin sister, Monica, are employed in Winters and her younger sister, Brandi, is a senior at Winters High School. Brandi plans to attend WTC next year.

Heather learned about WTC's GLT program from the college catalog and because of her interests in landscape materials and outdoor activities, including golf, it had a special appeal for her. She's happy that she did choose to enroll and her good grades reflect her success.

The core curriculum for freshman students in the GLT program includes courses dealing with landscape materials and landscape design, chemicals for industry, horticulture, landscape maintenance, basic surveying/earthshaping and golf course/landscape construction. Courses taken in the second year are determined as students choose from five options: Golf Course Operations, Irrigation Management, Landscape Contracting, Nursery and Greenhouse Operations, or Park Operations. Miss Brown anticipates following the Golf Course Operations option which includes study of subjects ranging from golf course landscape planning to the selection of turf grasses and irrigation.

GLT 135, Special Problems/Related Work Experience, is required of all students and can be taken at any time. Miss Brown will be working for New Mexico State University in Las Cruces next summer to fulfill that requirement.

Several things in Heather's background seem to have pointed her to success in the GLT program.

"I began mowing yards, ours and some neighbors, when I was about nine," she says. "I like being outdoors. I also enjoy drawing and this helps in drafting. My father would draw house plans when I was young and that's when I got started."

James Eby and Donovan Buckland, instructors in the GLT program, are complimentary of Heather's work and attitude.

"She shows initiative in planning and executing lab work and projects and consistently does high quality work both in the academic courses and the hands-on requirements of lab assignments," Eby commented.

"She always participates in class and makes an extra effort to excel," Buckland added. "She does her assigned work promptly and works well with the other students. Being the only female in the freshman class does not deter her participation in the assigned duties and projects."

Basketball Hoopla

Winters halts
Hawley

The opening quarter of the game Thursday, February 7, saw the Winters Breezes leading the Hawley Bearcats by only a mere point, 7 to 6, and in the next quarter Hawley outscored Winters, 7 to 2. So... at the half, it appeared that the Breezes adversary would take the game.

But never fail... the Breezes did not give up! No sir-ree'. In the third quarter the eighth grade boys team from Winters overpowered the other team and, in fact, did not let them score a single point. Winters bursts through making 16 points in this one quarter alone, ending the third, 25 to 13. The fourth quarter was somewhat calm. The final score was Winters 29 and Hawley 16.

Chane Reagan was high scorer of the game with 14 points. Also crediting the Breezes were Anthony Thomas (6), Nathan Collins (4), Lance Donica (3), and Kelly Thompson (2).

The team's greatest points were gained from the field. Only 1 of 9 free throws were completed.

This win sets the Breezes at 5-7 for the season.

Up and Away

The Winters 8th grade boys upped their season record by defeating the Albany Lions Saturday, February 9, during a district tournament game at Hawley. Final score was 42 to 34.

Zane Guy and Anthony Thomas added 12 points each and tied as high scorers of the game. Chane Reagan, Kelly Thompson, and Nathan Collins also scored. The team shot 6 of 21 free throws successfully.

In a continuation of district tourney games, Winters moved on to play the Haskell Indians but were defeated, 28 to 34. This loss set the Breezes record back to 6 wins, 8 losses.

Anthony Thomas, Ramie Reyes, Chane Reagan, Nathan Collins, Kelly Thompson, and Archie Lancaster put up points for Winters.

Fate or Chance?

The Lady Blizzards and the Hamlin Pied Pipers played basketball Tuesday, February 5, at Hamlin. Winters fell just short of a win, losing 38 to 39.

The scoreboard reflected how closely matched the two teams actually were. Following are statistics for each quarter:

	Winters	Hamlin
1st Qtr.	9	10
2nd Qtr.	10	12
3rd Qtr.	8	8
4th Qtr.	11	9

Jamie Smith scored 13 points, though not the high scorer of the game. Ashley Allcorn scored 9 pts., Susan Bryan 6 pts., Kim Deike 6 pts., Shanna Pochls and Cara Bahlman 2 pts. each.

Coach Shields stated "The girls played a complete game and had a chance to win."

Final quarter loss

The first quarter in the game between the Winters eighth grade girls and the Hawley eighth grade girls ended in a tie, 6 to 6.

The second and third quarters contained very little scoring activity with both the Breezes and the Bearcats scoring only one point each.

In the fourth quarter Winters fell short scoring 3 points to Hawley's 4 points, ending the game in a score of 10 to 11.

Alicia Presley, LisAnne Smith, Jamie Brown, and Brooke Killough scored for the Winters team.

Fish outflop
the Bearcats

The Freshmen girls teams from Winters and Hawley met Thursday, February 7, in their final game of the season. The Winters Blizzard freshmen girls "played good defense and had lots of hustle". The ending score was Winters 17 and Hawley 12.

Robin Gallaway was high scoring girl with 5 points. Brenna Mikeska and Tambar Cox each had 4 points; Angela Bryan and Elvia Moreno had 2 points each.

The girls made 5 of 10 free throws.

Coach Whittenburg states "This game was probably their best".

JV girls 30, Hamlin 24

Stacey Deike was high scorer (7) in the game played between Winters and Hamlin on Tuesday, February 5. Following suit were Cara Cathey, Mandy Hall, and Kim Thompson (6 each), Melinda Kraatz (4), and Kayla Priddy (1).

Eight of seventeen free throws, a 47%, were completed.

Kim Thompson was high rebounder with eleven and Mandy Hall had five steals.

8th girls win one, lose one - close scores

Winters Jr. High eighth grade girls first played Haskell, winning 23 to 19, February 9. Dianne Abernathie was high scorer of the game. LisAnne Smith, Jamie Sims, Brooke Killough, Mandy Hale, Alicia Presley, and Gina Wheeler also added points.

In the second game on the same day the Winters team was not as fortunate. The Breeze girls were defeated 19 to 21. Brooke Killough, Alicia Presley, Jamie Sims, Dianne Abernathie, Veronica Ortiz, and Jamie Brown scored.

7th boys win two, lose one in district tourney

John Paul Belew put 29 points on the scoreboard in helping the Winters 7th grade boys basketball team to a win in their first game against Stamford on February 9. The final score of 57-19 showed the domination of the Winters boys over the Stamford team.

Other Winters scorers were Stephen Herrington, 9; Jerry Esquivel, 8; Michael Mostad, 4; Josh Grohman, 4 and Kevin Conner with 2 points.

The second game of the tournament, the same day, saw the 7th boys defeat the Jim Ned boys by a score of 44-30. John Paul Belew was again the high scorer for the game with 20 points. Others scoring were Jerry Esquivel with 10 points; Stephen Herrington, 6; Mark Deike, 4; and Michael Mostad and Jessie Ortiz, each with 2 points.

In game #3, the Winters boys came out on the short end of the 31-43 score against Haskell. John Paul Belew made 13 points in this game, followed by Stephen Herrington and Jerry Esquivel with 6; Kevin Conner with 4 and Michael Mostad with 2 points. Only 3 of 13 free throws were made in this game.

To be or not to be?

"To be or not to be" is a question that was first asked by William Shakespeare back in the dark ages. Since that time it has often been voiced by others, but the latest to ponder this question is the Winters Rodeo Association. Officers and board members who work as volunteers know that they have many reasons to continue "being", but the interest and support of the townspeople is necessary for their survival.

The Rodeo Association has called a meeting to discuss this problem with the public on February 18 at 7 p.m. in an extra room at the school vocational ag building. Entrance will be through a rear door of the building. (Another meeting will be in progress at the same time.)

At that time officers and directors will present a picture of the situation with all its assets and liabilities, as well as reasons for continuing the program.

One of the principal assets is the annual rodeo which draws approximately 125 to 150 contestants from places as far away as Houston, Amarillo, Roswell, New Mexico, and Tulsa, Oklahoma. The local youth are also spot-lighted in a barrel race competition just for them.

Money wise this event brings in from $2,500 to $3,000 just for food and gas alone, not counting all the incidentals bought. This money helps the local economy.

The soon to be twelve-year old Rodeo Association covers the northern part of Runnels County. There is strong support from the business people in surrounding towns.

Six years ago there was necessity for enlarged facilities to meet the needs of the association, so more land was purchased and a 50 x 100 foot building erected. The rodeo has eight acres of the best arena in the area which seats 2,000 people.

The Rodeo Association is now two and a half years into a ten year note that was signed to make these improvements. $2,000 is needed to make this years payment.

The Ranch Heritage Roundup, in its fourth year, has been scheduled each fall. This event is geared to our Western Heritage and emphasizes the working cowboy. A youth fun day has been added in which the youth compete in 40 live horse related events. A cookoff, chuck wagon style, and a western arts and craft show also make it a day of activity.

A spring goat roping, sanctioned by the Texas Goat Roping Association, is now held. The fall goat roping is held in conjunction with the Ranch Heritage Roundup. Both of these events draw about 50 contestants, youth included, from Del Rio, Goldthwaite, Odessa, Winters, and other surrounding towns.

The Runnels County 4-H clubs use the grounds free of charge.

Officers serving at present are: Randall Kurtz, president; Benny Boatright, vice president; Larry Colom, secretary; Archie Jobe, treasurer.

There is a one-time family membership fee of $100, and there are 92 families presently holding memberships.

The first Winters Rodeo, organized in 1946, was held for three days each year in June. John Norman was president, Buford Owens led the parades, and George Poe gathered stock and cattle for the occasion. They worked to bring trade and entertainment to their home town.

When the rodeo was discontinued, the Winters Riding Club took its place. Arthur Clark, Bud Eoff, Pat Sawyer, and Arthur Smith were charter members.

The Winters Riding Club continues to make a few rides during the year and is a forerunner of the present Rodeo Association.

Everybody benefits when we boost our home town and its activities!

Financial Aid Workshop

Prospective college students are invited to attend the Financial Aid Workshop on Monday, Feb. 18, at Hardin-Simmons University.

Rene Maciel, director of admissions at HSU, said the program will begin at 6:30 p.m. at Duffy Auditorium in Richardson Library.

"This workshop will be a good opportunity for students and parents to find out more about financing the cost of a college education," said Maciel.

He said discussion will include need-based aid, grant aid, scholarships, the Assured Financial Aid Package, the Challenge Scholarships, the college work-study programs and various types of student loans.

"Assistance will be given on filing FFS forms, and understanding the financial aid paperwork," he said.

Interested students or parents may call 1-800-725-COWBOYS or the Financial Aid Office at (915) 670-1331 for more information.

HSU Spring Round-up

Hardin-Simmons University will be holding Spring Round-Up March 8 and 9.

Round-Up is held each semester and is an opportunity for high school students interested in HSU to come and experience college life.

According to Admissions Counselor Kris Bromley, "Students will be able to stay in the dorms overnight, attend mock classes, attend sessions with admissions and financial aid, and tour the campus." A special highlight of the weekend will be a concert by contemporary Christian artist, Morgan Cryer.

Students interested in attending this weekend should contact the HSU Admissions Office at 915-670-1206.

Tax transactions up for January

"January may be in the middle of winter, but it was the hottest on record at the Comptroller's office," State Comptroller John Sharp said.

"Texas taxpayers broke all January records by filing $1.3 billion in state and local taxes," Sharp said. "The first month of the year is historically busy since all state sales taxpayers file returns then, but this was easily the largest ever."

There were 1.5 million transactions for the month, up 235,000 over last January. Total taxes collected increased by almost $28 million over last January's record.

"Comptroller employees literally worked around the clock processing returns and seeing that the money was quickly deposited into the state's interest-bearing accounts," Sharp said.

Most taxes processed in January are traditionally for the state's 6 1/4 percent sales tax collected by merchants in cities and counties across Texas.

"These businesses help us keep a finger on the pulse of the Texas retail economy and from their returns, I'd say our economic heartbeat is strong," Sharp said.

Record numbers of fuels tax returns were also filed with the state with almost 8,000 more transactions last month than in January 1990 for a total of 42,560.

Minerals taxpayers also filed a record 147,849 transactions, up 13,807 over last January's total. Texas taxpayers also filed 124,441 other tax transactions during January.

Isabel Lujano, owner of Winters Bakery, demonstrates for Ms. Dianne Davis' afternoon kindergarten class how to make "Twists". The class was studying the letter "T" and visited the bakery to see how to make twists and also to enjoy eating one following the demonstration. Also watching the demonstration along with the children is Deb Pritchard, aide.
