Nutrition Committee Meets And Study Needs Of County

The Dawson County Nutrition Committee met for its first meeting, Saturday, November 29th in the district court room. Sixteen of the 32 members were present. E. J. Baskin, the county agricultural agent opened the meeting.

Miss Audrey Faye Bailey was elected secretary during the short business session.

Mattie Phenix, the county home demonstration agent explained the purpose of the nutrition committee. She appointed the following sub-committees: Promotion committee, Ruth Magee, chairman and M. Hatch, Audrey Cox, Mrs. Jack Phinizy, and Miss Claudia Rinebold. On the investigation committee were appointed, Mrs. Zelpha Harris, Miss Audrey Faye Bailey, Joe M. Peterson, P. K. Humes, and Mrs. J. L. Morris.

The duties of the promotion committee will be to create public interest in nutrition, to spread nutrition information through every possible channel such as radio, newspapers, and trade groups. The duty of the investigation committee will be to make a survey of the nutritional needs of the communities which will serve as a logical basis for a nutrition program.

The Share-the-Meat Campaign was explained by B. J. Baskin. He told the group that each family would be asked to voluntarily ration themselves until the details of the program are worked out. This means that each person 12 years and above should not eat more than 2 1/2 pounds of the red meats per week, each child under 6, three-fourths pound and each child between 6 and 12 one and one-half pounds.

Women Wanted To Help Make Red Cross Dressings

A new shipment of materials for making of Red Cross Surgical Dressings have arrived at the workroom and every woman in Lamesa and Dawson County is asked to please help make the dressings. The new quota for this county is 34,900, with only 2 months to complete them.

The Surgical Dressing workroom is located in the basement of the Methodist Church and is open, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday afternoons from 2 o'clock until 5, and on Monday and Thursday nights at 7:30.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Carroll left Wednesday for Phoenix, Arizona, where they will spend the Thanksgiving holidays visiting with Cadet and Mrs. Bob McDonald.

Female Radio Announcer

Folks, meet Announcer Elois Johnson, owner of the smooth-as-velvet voice heard over Radio Station KDNT, Denton. A co-ed at North Texas State Teachers College majoring in speech, Miss Johnson got her chance before the mike after Uncle Sam called several of the station's male announcers to the colors.

Subscribers Are Asked To Check Expiration Dates

Courier readers are asked to watch their expiration dates on their subscriptions in order that they not miss a single issue of their home town newspaper.

In other words, if the numbers following your name on your paper read 12-42 that means that your subscription will expire on December 1, 1942, and that unless you renew your subscription will be stopped at that time.

The subscription price of the Courier is now $2.00 per year in Dawson, Martin, Gaines, Borden and Lynn Counties, $1.25 for six months, or $3.00 for two years. The subscription price outside this territory is $3.00 per year.

County Schools In Good Financial Shape—Humes

One of the most essential factors in the operation of schools is the matter of finance. As in all other business, indebtedness is one of the most depressing and much efficiency is lost when it exists. To this phase of school operation, Dawson County schools have no worry at present, according to P. K. Humes, County School Superintendent.

Practically every school in the county is in excellent financial condition, due to the careful planning and administration of Mr. Norris and financial conditions in the near future appear excellent.

More than $28,000 has been deposited to the credit of the schools from local tax collections for the month of October. This amount is approximately forty per cent of the assessments and puts the schools on cash basis for the remaining part of the year. For many years in the past schools did not obtain much operating money until January and February, but now are getting money earlier because of the discounts allowed for early payments of taxes. It appears tax payments will be exceptionally good and approximately 100 per cent is anticipated in most all school districts, Mr. Humes said.

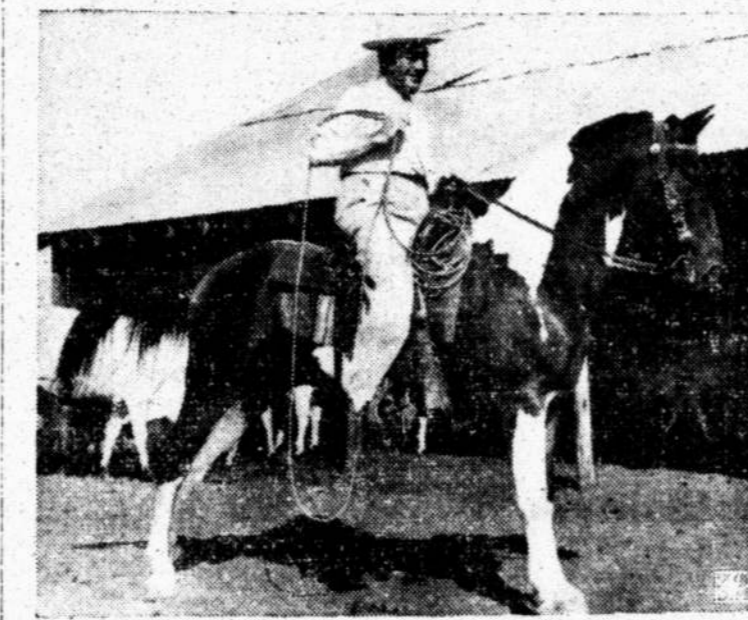

Teachers Exams To Be Given Dec. 5

Another examination for teachers certificates will be held on Saturday, December 5, according to an announcement made this week. The examination is for a second class teachers certificate.

All interested are asked to leave their name at the office of County Superintendent, P. K. Humes.

The Texas highway department's magnetic nail pickers coaxed 2 1-2 tons of scrap, mostly tire-menacing nails, from Camp Bowie roads. Placed at the disposal of the army, the machines have cleaned up 28 camps. Pvt. Troy W. Kenser left helped Operator Walter W. Sanford on the Camp Bowie operation.

Farmers To Vote December 12 On Marketing Quotas

Dawson County farmers will go to the polls on Saturday, December 12, to vote on marketing quotas.

Cotton marketing quotas have been in effect for the past five years, the growers voting each year to use quotas as a means of insuring each grower his fair share of the available market for cotton.

Last December 89.4 per cent of the Texas growers voting favored quotas on the 1942 crop, while 93.9 per cent of the growers voting over the nation favored quotas.

Agricultural officials point out that because of wartime conditions, the number of ballot boxes for this year's referendum would be considerably larger than the number in previous years. This move is intended to make it possible for all growers to get to the polls despite the transportation problem and the rush of war-time food production.

Full information on the present situation and the prospective demand for cotton next year will be provided farmers eligible to vote in the referendum.

Schools To Have Holiday Thursday Friday This Week

Both Thursday and Friday have been allowed as holidays for the Lamesa Public Schools this week end. According to V. Z. Rogers, this change in plan was made because so many faculty members have personal business requiring travel and others wish to have a visit with close relatives before the mileage rationing becomes effective.

Mr. Rogers further states that the water system in the high school building is out of order and will be repaired at this time.

Coffee Rationing Begins Monday; Sugar Coupon No. 27 Used For First Purchase

When the housewives go to market during this week they will not be able to buy any coffee, but starting Sunday, November 29 coffee purchases may begin again by surrendering one stamp from War Ration Book No. 1—the book they have been using for sugar purchases during this year—Dixie Kilgore, Chairman of the Dawson County War Price and Rationing Board, explained today.

"Retail coffee sales will be frozen during the week for the purpose of enabling storekeepers to stock their shelves for the beginning of rationing," Mr. Kilgore said.

In order to prepare for coffee rationing, he advised, those who do not have War Ration Book No. 1 or who have lost it should apply immediately to the local War Price and Rationing Board.

"When coffee rationing begins on November 29," he said, "War Ration Book No. 1—which most people probably call the sugar book," will then be used for buying coffee. The stamp in the book No. 28 and down to 20 will be the coffee stamps. The first coffee ration stamp is No. 27, then in order follow 28, 25, 26, 23, 24, 21, 22 and 20."

He explained that this apparently disconnected sequence of the stamp numbers is to be used because of the arrangement of the stamps in the ration book.

"Another important point to bear in mind," he said, "is that only those whose ration books show them to be over 15 years old may purchase a pound of coffee for each of these coffee stamps. Persons who have attained the age of 15 years since the ration book was issued are not eligible to purchase coffee. The reason for this age limitation is to allow larger coffee rations for grownups."

The first ration period will be for five weeks from November 29 through January 3, 1943.

"Consumers who have stocked up on coffee will have to count all above one pound they have on hand November 28 as a part of their ration," he added. "When the consumer applies for War Ration Book No. 2 sometime around the first of the year he will be required to declare the amount of coffee he had on hand at the start of rationing and stamps will be removed from his book to cover any excess supply. This means that the consumer will be unable to continue coffee purchases until he has used up his stock on hand at the rationed rate."

Mr. Kilgore explained that coffee stamps in the ration books of children under 15 years of age must be left in their books and will be surrendered when War Ration Book No. 2 is issued.

The benefit of those who live in remote localities or where transportation facilities make the buying of supplies in small quantities a hardship, Mr. Kilgore pointed out that a consumer may apply to his Ration Board for a certificate to buy as much as five pounds of coffee at a time, but in such instances, of course, a sufficient number of stamps will be removed by the Board to cover such advanced rations.

Mr. Kilgore added a word of warning to coffee buyers, advising them not to rush to a store on November 29 with all of a family's ration books and try to buy all of the coffee the stamps in those books might allow.

"There will be enough coffee for everyone," he said. "That is the very reason why rationing is being started. Coffee loses its freshness and flavor if it is kept too long and it will be far wiser to buy a pound at a time as it is needed. Stamp No. 27 will be valid for five weeks and most grocers will have coffee all during that period any time it is wanted.

Uncle Sam Still Wants Your Scrap Metal And Rubber

The need for scrap iron and rubber is acute, and our War Efforts require that a steady, ever increasing flow of this material continues from our farms to the steel mills, states C. M. Burton, Chairman of the Dawson County Salvage Committee.

Scrap iron is used to make bombs, tanks, planes, guns, ships, rifles and many, many other war implements. Scrap iron is added to iron ore in the furnaces thereby making it possible to operate all furnaces at nearly 100 per cent capacity. These furnaces must operate winter and summer, hot or cold. The War will not stop until we have won. But if the farmers and other civilians of this country stop bringing in their scrap iron our furnaces will have to stop. And when these furnaces stop our production of war materials stops. Bring in your scrap iron. Do not delay.

1969 Car Owners Register Here For Gasoline Books

A final check of the Gasoline Ration Books, showed that 1969 Lamesa car owners registered during last Thursday, Friday and Saturday at the Lamesa Primary School building, according to V. Z. Rogers, superintendent.

Teachers of grade one, two, and three, assisted after school and on Saturday by teachers from the upper elementary grades, constituted the staff of registrars, to whom Mileage Ration Board chairman, J. T. Allen, expresses his thanks along with similar expressions to the teachers of other schools in Dawson County who served in a similar duty in their respective schools.

No report is yet available on the number of car owners who registered at the county school buildings.

Big Auction Sale Monday, Dec. 7

Sixty-five head of Jersey milk cows in addition to numerous other stuff will be sold at auction Monday, December 7, at the W. M. Carmichael place, off the Big Spring road west of the Country Club. Sale will start promptly at 10:00 a. m., and free lunch and coffee will be served. Col. Kenneth Bozeman, well known auctioneer, will be in charge of the sale and E. E. Barron, Clerk. Over $50,000 In War Bonds Sold Since Drive Started

Scout Finance Drive Underway Here Wednesday

The annual finance drive for the Boy Scouts was started this morning, Wednesday, in the City of Lamesa, and is hoped to be completed by late afternoon.

The drive was started Wednesday morning with a breakfast served at the Plaza Hotel at which 50 local business men were in attendance. The breakfast was arranged by E. W. Renner, General Scout Chairman, John Agee and Stancell Cleary.

Mrs. George Hart, Stancell Cleary and John Agee are foremen in charge of the finance drive, and are working with a number of business men. They plan to call on each business in Lamesa for financial help, and all are asked to give what they can.

John Boyle, field executive of the South Plains Council was here to help with the drive.

Local Citizens Urged To Buy T. B. Xmas Seals

The Dawson County Tuberculosis Association is this week mailing to the citizens of this county Christmas Seals, and each person receiving these are asked to buy them, returning the money for the seals as soon as possible.

Mrs. Walter Jones, secretary of the local association reports if $500 worth of the TB Christmas Seals are sold, that 65 per cent of the funds would remain in Dawson County to fight the disease, and if less than $500 were sold that 60 per cent of the funds would be left in this county. The local association members are working hard for this worthy cause and urge everyone to buy the Christmas Seals.

An alarming amount of Tuberculosis has been found in this county through a recent X-ray clinic at the County Health Unit Office, when 47 X-ray pictures were taken and 8 were found to be positive, in other words one-sixth of those examined were found to be infected.

Prevention of this disabling and fatal tuberculosis depends on the early diagnosis and prompt treatment. If this truth alone were generally known and applied by all, TB could be kept to its steady retreat in spite of war. Health Officials state. During 1943, the tuberculosis educational campaign, supported by the Christmas Seal Sale, must be intensified if tuberculosis is to be kept under control.

—BUY WAR BONDS AND STAMPS—

Lamesa women who have been selling war bonds at the two banks since November 16, report that to date $50,435.00 worth of bonds have been sold.

This week, November 22 to 26, has been designated as "Women at War Week." and Lamesa club women are working hard in the bond drive and have set a quota for the week of $40,000.00.

Mrs. M. C. Lindsey is chairman of the drive and is working under the auspices of the Lamesa, Delphian club. Mrs. C. A. White is in charge of the drive this week and is working under the auspices of the Parent Teachers Association. Mrs. V. Z. Rogers, will have charge all next week and will work under the direction of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The drive will continue until Monday, December 7, Pearl Harbor Day. Before the drive started Dawson County was $90,000.00 behind on its year's bond quota, and with the $50,435.00 in bonds already sold, this deficit will soon disappear.

Every citizen in Dawson County is urged to buy a war bond, if you can not buy a bond, buy stamps.

School Students Buy $596.35 In War Stamps And Bonds

The Freshman class of the Lamesa High School led the other three classes in War Savings Stamp purchases for this week. The Senior class was second followed by the Junior and Sophomore classes respectively.

Sales by classes are as follows: Freshmen Class, 12 sales, $476.85; Senior Class, 16 sales, $65.45; Junior Class, 9 sales, $43.95 and Sophomore Class, 13 sales, $10.10. Total stamp sales for the week amounted to $596.35 with 18 per cent of the student body taking part in the purchase of stamps for the week.

Farm Auction Sale Wednesday, Dec. 2

According to Kenneth Bozeman, auctioneer, a big farm auction sale will be held Wednesday, December 2, at the T. W. Loughran Farm, 2 miles East and 3-4 mile South of the Key school.

An advertisement giving a detailed account of the sale may be found on another page of the Courier this week.

H. D. Council To Meet Saturday

Members of the county home demonstration council are reminded that the all day meeting will be held at the recreation building in the city park, Saturday, November 28, beginning at 11:00 a. m. Each member is supposed to bring a dish of food. All club members are invited to attend this annual meeting.

What becomes of the miles you don't drive?

Today undriven miles are war weapons.

The rubber you don't use in airplane tires, anti-tank gun treads, machine-gun mounts, life rafts, tank interior pads, pontoons, and hot water bottles for field hospitals.

The gasoline you don't use is fuel for fighter and bomber planes, for jeeps and tanks, for motor torpedo boats and armored cars. And more, the magic of the new petroleum chemistry takes the material, which formerly became gasoline, and Aladdin-lamps it into precious synthetic rubber and devastating high explosive.

The same intensive Phillips research which in peacetime was dedicated to improving Phillips 66 Poly Gas and Phillips 66 Motor Oil now, vastly increased in scope and faster in tempo, serves the Nation's victory program.

In the same national interest, every patriotic driver is cutting his miles and his speed, making his car and his tires last longer and go farther.

Every Phillips 66 Service Man is pledged to help you in this effort. Make certain to enlist his aid when you stop at any Orange and Black 66 Shield for Phillips 66 Poly Gas, famous for fast-starting pep and extra mileage... and Phillips 66 Motor Oil, 100% paraffin base.

Trench Mortar Survives The Blitz

Wide World Features

CHICAGO — Blitzkrieg warfare has introduced a number of new fighting weapons, but it still uses one of the oldest weapons known.

That's the humble muzzle-loading mortar. Light, maneuverable and accurate, it is employed to demolish tank traps, wipe out machine gun nests and light artillery, destroy pill-boxes and small fortifications, even to lay down smoke screens. Accuracy doesn't suffer when the mortar is set up behind a stump or wall, in a hole or trench, on a hillside or on uneven ground. Since its trajectory is arched, enemy soldiers lurking behind hills, woods, or buildings can be attacked with deadly effect.

A form of the mortar was used in the 14th century, but it did not come into prominence until 300 years later, during the wars of Louis XIV, when the French used them to lay siege to cities.

East Texas Ration Board Chairman Expresses Views

EDITORS NOTE: The following letter was written by the Chairman of a Rationing Board in Athens, Texas, to the Dallas News last week. It is reproduced here in the belief that it expresses the sentiment of thousands of people in West Texas as well as throughout the state.

REPLIES TO HENDERSON'S "SLAP AT GOVERNOR"

I have waited several days following the visit of Leon Henderson to Texas, thinking that The News would take him to task for his back-handed slap at Governor Stevenson. Apparently The News intends to pass it by, but I want Mr. Henderson to know that all Texans resent it.

Apparently Mr. Henderson was peeved because the reporter had told him that the Governor attributed the recent Republican gains to Washington bureaucracy and unnecessary rationing. Reporter might have gone a bit further and told him that had not Stevenson been a Jeffersonian Democrat and O'Daniel an anti-new dealer that Texas likewise would have joined the ranks. Henderson's reply that "the Governor is arguing with Hitler and not with me" shows a lack of tact that has frequently been exhibited by men making up his force. "A little power hath made them mad," and it certainly has not been conducive to proper handling of the rationing program.

Statements by irresponsible officials that coffee and hostility would be rationed soon, only served to cause a rush for these articles and bring them to the rationing counter earlier. Here's hoping they don't start any rumors on fishing bait.

Anyone who has served on a rationing board realizes that many mistakes were made in the setup of the program. Coming on the nation so rapidly mistakes were expected. But rationing has been going on long enough now that many of these kinks should have been ironed out.

But behold, what do we find in the gas-rationing program? We are told that it is not a matter of rationing gas in the Southwest, but solely conserving of rubber. That being the case I contend that the sap who wrote the regulations for an A card doesn't know much tires. An A card entitles a driver to 240 miles per month, equal to 2,880 miles per year. Over a period of ten years he would drive 28,800 miles. Any tire dealer with a thoughtful of brains will tell you that tires would rot out in that period long before they would wear out on that amount of mileage.

Boner No. 2 in the gas program is the fact that ODT decided it wanted to ration the gas to all the trucks, taking the matter out of the hands of the local boards who are acquainted with the men who own and drive the trucks. Originally these applications were sent to Detroit. Now they are flooding back to Dallas. Hundreds of truckers will not receive their certificates of war necessity by the time rationing comes on. Many that have received them have been cut far below the necessary amount. Like all other government documents the truck owner who attempted to fill out one of the forms was lost in a maze of red tape and was never able to find himself.

I feel safe in saying that 99 per cent of the people want to do everything possible for the war effort. But they are getting resentful of too much red tape and bureaucracy.

What we need is a simplified form for all our government documents, couched in language that anyone can understand. I think I know whereof I speak because I have been giving my services free as a rationing chairman since the program started.

It was difficult enough to convince people that it was necessary to ration sugar when they learned that more sugar was being sold than last year. But sugar rationing, it must be remembered, added from one to two new paid clerks to each rationing board in the nation.

Gas rationing, in Texas would never have been put on had the people backed Governor Stevenson when he first started to oppose it. It would not have come had we not had a spineless Congress that delegates its power to bureaucracies.

The only thing that has saved the rationing program from a complete flop is the fact that enough loyal men in Texas have given their

One Way To Get Coffee: Shove Cup At Mrs. Hoarder

By SPOON RIVER SAM
Wide World Features

The hoarders sure are playing hob with all of us. Now there's trouble getting a saucer of coffee for breakfast.

Human nature is queer, which explains most of the need for rationing. There's always a few amongst us that get panicky over shortages and can't stand the thought of sharing alike. So, they've been going around gathering up coffee here and there when they should of been collecting scrap metal.

Well, I got a plan to put the damper on such doings. Everybody knows who's got coffee stored up. (If the owner ain't bragging about it, the neighbors can smell it a mile off.)

Well, here's my anti-hoarding plan. Let all the folks in the neighborhood that ain't got coffee go calling on Mrs. Hoarder, in a body, about 7 o'clock every morning—and yell for hot coffee. Bring your own saucer.

A feeling of remorse is guaranteed to set in on Mrs. Hoarder the minute all that blowing and sipping hits her ears.

The plan has some good points, seems to me. First, there's the leveling process—leveling her pile of coffee down to your own.

Then, when it comes time to declare her coffee on hand, she won't have to wrestle with her conscience but can blurt out that them fool neighbors have drank her out of house and home.

Most of all, I figure, such gatherings will show you how awful everybody else looks before they get their morning eye opener. It'll make you go home and appreciate your own spouse a lot more.

services free and have used common sense in enforcing it rather than climbing through the miles of red tape to ascertain what some government typewriter pusher in Washington was trying to make incomprehensible.

The unfairness of the whole gas rationing case is the fact that Texas is being put on the same basis as eastern states. Four gallons of gas will take a man across some of the New England states while in Texas it will hardly get one to the grocery store.

Personally, I'd like to take Henderson from Texarkana to El Paso just to show him what distance is. But I wouldn't want him to stop for any more speeches, for certainly he did not help the cause of his visit to Texas.

R. T. CRAIG,
Chairman Henderson County War Price Control and Rationing Board, Athens, Texas.

Machinery Needs Gets First Call

Quotas on some types of farm machinery and equipment will be announced the next few days.

When state quotas are received, county quotas will be established and sent to all parts of the state immediately, the board said in explaining that county quotas be established before rationing committees can begin work since purchase certificates cannot be issued in excess of the machinery allotted to individual counties. Although the state war board is responsible for the rationing of farm machinery, a working committee is being appointed for considering methods of making equitable distribution to Texas counties. The committee will include members who have comprehensive knowledge of farm machinery problems throughout the state.

'SHARE YOUR CAR' vs 'LET WAR WORKERS SLEEP'

SIERRA MADRE, Calif. (AP) — An anti-noise campaign, intended to let night workers sleep undisturbed through the day, met its chief opposition from day war workers, asserting that they were sharing auto rides on a split-second schedule, they insisted on the right to honk their horns for each pick-up.

New York policemen are required to be at least 5 feet 8 inches tall and to weigh a minimum of 145 pounds.

No Quotas, No Loan On 1943 Cotton Crop

No government loan can be offered on cotton in 1943 if marketing quotas are rejected in the nationwide referendum Saturday, December 12, Frank Seale, state AAA committeeman reminded cotton growers this week.

Seale, himself a Robertson county cotton farmer, pointed out that the law prohibits the Commodity Credit Corporation from making loans on cotton in any year in which quotas are rejected.

The government loan has served as a floor under cotton prices ever since 1938, the first year quotas were in effect, the AAA committeeman declared. Currently, the basic cotton loan rate of 16.97 cents a pound, 90 per cent of parity, is supporting the price of cotton.

"With our huge supply of cotton and with world prices equal to about half what we're getting for cotton, there is no telling what would happen to American cotton prices if the loan were removed," Seale declared.

Cotton growers will vote for the six time on marketing quotas December 12. Each year for the past five they have voted overwhelmingly to use quotas as a means of assuring each producer his fair share of the available cotton market.

Through the Department of Agriculture, the war board is asking farmers who plan to grow these crops to take the following facts into consideration:

(1) Transportation of either domestic or Mexican workers will not be paid by the Department for production of the less essential vegetables since this type of labor will be aimed at production of the more essential crops.

(2) Should the transportation situation or supplies of packaging materials become so critical that priorities will have to be established, essential crops will be given sufficiently high rating to be assured of receiving transportation and packaging materials while less essential crops will be rated sufficiently low;

(3) If nitrogen fertilizer seems likely to be materially less than would be needed to meet all demands, supplies available for the less essential crops will be diverted to more essential crops. The use of nitrogen fertilizer for this purpose may well be cut to 50 per cent of 1942, the War Board explained.

Difficulties Face Growers Of Some Vegetables

Production and marketing difficulties face growers of less essential vegetable crops.

Vegetables included in the less essential group are cantaloupes, cucumbers, cauliflower, eggplant, watermelons, bleached celery, head lettuce, green peppers, asparagus and artichokes, according to the Texas USDA War Board.

Winter vegetable counties of Texas already have been advised of the maximum suggested acreage of these less essential crops.

Take Care Of Your Heart Warns State Health Officer

The human heart pumps approximately 50 gallons of blood every hour with no vacation, no days off, no sleep, and no rest except between beats, according to Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, who says that since the heart has such a tremendous task to perform, it deserves your whole-hearted cooperation.

In order to give your heart every possible assistance in the performance of this amazing task, Dr. Cox suggests the following rules for keeping the heart healthy:

Go to your doctor at least once a year for examination and then follow his advice.

After a serious illness have your doctor give your heart a thorough examination and then return to active life as carefully and slow as possible. This will give your heart sufficient time to rest and recuperate from the unusual strain of a severe illness.

Go to your dentist regularly and do not neglect infected teeth or tonsils.

Keep your weight near the average for a person of your age, sex, and height.

Be sure that your diet is well balanced and be careful not to overeat.

Do not take headache medicines without consulting your doctor. Many so-called headache cures contain drugs that are injurious to the heart.

Ask your doctor about the use of tobacco and stimulants. Live a well rounded life, exercising regularly without overting yourself.

Women Coal Miners Dig In

Wide World Features ALGOMA, W. Va. - Remember that century-old superstition about women around coal mines? It used to be miners wouldn't work if women were known to have entered a mine but at Algoma they pay little mind now to the first women to be employed as outside helpers in the Pocahontas field, one of the world's richest.

Five of them at the Algoma Coal and Coke company mine are not actually inside workers—and it is unlikely that any ever will be employed as diggers—but William Beury, Jr., hired them as "bone pickers" to replace youngsters gone to war.

Women Coal Miners Dig In

Wide World Features ALGOMA, W. Va. - Remember that century-old superstition about women around coal mines? It used to be miners wouldn't work if women were known to have entered a mine but at Algoma they pay little mind now to the first women to be employed as outside helpers in the Pocahontas field, one of the world's richest.

Five of them at the Algoma Coal and Coke company mine are not actually inside workers—and it is unlikely that any ever will be employed as diggers—but William Beury, Jr., hired them as "bone pickers" to replace youngsters gone to war.

Bone pickers remove the impurities from coal after it has been mined and brought outside for loading. Women in other forms of war work, of course, are commonplace but on the first day of employment here one old miner echoed the thoughts of all of his comrades: "I've seen just about everything now."

Beury, president of Algoma, explained how it came about: "I was a little skeptical myself at first, but reports of our superintendent and tippie foreman have dispelled any thought that they would not be able to do the work. "Most of the workers on the 'bone table' were youngsters. They are gone. We started with four women and we were so pleased with their work that we hired another, and we may put on three more soon."

Wearing "iron hats" and sturdy clothes, the women put in the regular 35 hours a week and are paid scale wages according to agreement with the United Mine Workers.

The present roster is: Mrs. Viola Vickers, 44, mother of five children, two of them in the armed services; Mrs. Alice Fulford, 39, mother of three; Mrs. Minnie Saunders, 53, mother of five; Julie Power, 20, only unmarried woman of the five; Mrs. Fannie Turner, 52, mother of five.

Tippie Foreman C. A. Shockey summed up the changed attitude of the men by saying that "they didn't think much of it at first, but now they are used to it and go on about their work just as before. Those women are steady workers and believe in doing a thorough job."

Begrimed as any inside loader, Mrs. Vickers stepped away from the tippie at the end of the day and said: "I like it fine. I've been used to hard work all my life, and this isn't what I call hard work. "I just hope I can stay. I like the work and I can save some money to finish paying for my house."

TOWN TURNS OLD ESTATE INTO COMMUNITY CENTER SALEM, Va. (AP) - An old southern estate with an 18-room mansion serves as community center and recreation park for the 5,700 residents of this town. The property cost the city $20,000.

Practically all Salem's civic organizations and luncheon clubs use the mansion, mostly for dinner and other meetings at rents ranging from $25 to $100 a year. Other groups of citizens using the facilities pay nominal fees to hold dinner and bridge parties and meetings. Boy Scouts use the basement rooms.

The 16-acre park surrounding the mansion is used for picnicking. A caretaker, under contract with the city, has charge of the mansion, operates the kitchen and dining room, and lives in the mansion.

HUNTERS MISS DEATH BY A WINDSHIELD TRUCKEE, Calif. (AP) - Death from an unusual source missed Floyd Clark and Ellis Coggins, deer hunters, by inches. A falling tree smashed the front of their auto to the ground, leaving them sitting shaken but alive in a decapitated front seat.

POST OFFICE SNIFFS AT BARTER SYSTEM GARDEN CITY, Kas. (AP) - Out on an RFD mail route a carrier found three letters, six cents, a doughnut and a note in a farmer's box. The note said the doughnut was to pay for one of the stamps for the three letters. Postmaster Logan Green regretfully had to return the doughnut and one letter. Postal regulations, he said, frown on such transactions.

Notice Mothers

Has your baby's birth been recorded? If you have a baby born since January 1, 1942, come in and let us check the records, there will be no charges, if not you may still get it filed without charges, after February 1, 1943, all births in 1942 will have to go in as old births, and will have to go through probate court and will cost $1.50.

Really the State Registrar is not very much concerned in what the census bureau thinks of Texas, but I am thinking seriously of the trouble and worry and, in some cases the actual suffering of the widows and orphans of ex-service men, caused by an unregistered birth or death. Unless you are absolutely sure yours are on record come in and let us see.

Sportsmen Given Some Brief Tips

Hunting this year will have more problems than usual, along with its pleasures. R. E. Callender, game management specialist for the A. and M. College Extension Service, sees one in the gasoline rationing and another in the scarcity of ammunition. Combined, they represent a break for wildlife. With less gasoline, sportsmen are likely to confine hunting to short periods, and shortages of ammunition means fewer shots and a more plentiful supply of seed stock for next's production. He predicts a good crop of deer and quail, and wild turkey about as good as last season. Assuming that hunters will consider the food value of their bags more seriously than in previ-

Victory Leaders Called On To Aid In Meat Campaign

Governor Coke Stevenson, chairman of the National Defense Committee for Texas has requested the A. and M. College Extension Service to use the "human chain system of communication" in informing the state's rural families about the government's Share-the-Meat campaign, according to Extension Director H. H. Williamson.

In this movement the Extension Service and the community and neighborhood Victory Leaders will cooperate with the OCD and State and county nutrition committee, Director Williamson said. Briefly, the Share-the-Meat program is a campaign for voluntarily dividing fairly the pork, beef, veal, lamb and mutton which is available for civilians after the needs of the armed services and lend-lease commitments have been met. The "sharing allowance" of two and one-half pounds per adult per week includes only the muscle meats, not fish, poultry, and the "variety meats" such as hearts, kidney, livers, sweetbreads, and the like.

Since October 1, Director Williamson explains, deliveries of "muscle meats" for civilian consumption have been reduced considerably. That means homemakers who cannot shop early and "diners-out" who get to restaurants late in the meal, may not be able to get their share of meat. "Although families who are heavy meat eaters are asked to limit their consumption, no one expects a person now eating less than two and one-half pounds to cut his consumption. Instead, he should eat his allowance for the sake of good health," Director Williamson says. During the week November 30-Dec. 6, community and neighborhood leaders will conduct the face-to-face campaign among farm families and in villages of less than 2,500 population. OCD block leaders will explain the program to families in towns and cities.

Miss Betty Jean White, a student of Hardin-Simmons University, Abilene, spent the week end here visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill White.

ous years. Callender points out that with some definite exceptions, there is not limit to the time game birds and animals may be kept in storage, provided storage occurs within three days after the end of the season. The exceptions are migratory birds and waterfowl which may be possessed for only 30 days after the close of the season. Deer must be removed from storage before June 5, except that deer sausage, jerk or deer meat which is cut and wrapped, or such meat stored in any privately owned or leased locker in a cold storage plant, may be kept there indefinitely.

To prevent spoilage of deer meat by careless handling, Callender suggests placing the bled and dressed carcass in a long sack made of heavy canvas or unbleached sheeting and tying it securely to prevent contact by insects. Keep the carcass dry and not skinned until frozen in storage. Callender says that if the weather is cold the deer can be kept in camp. If not it should go to storage without delay. If storage is not readily accessible, the carcass can be hung out each night and wrapped in blankets and placed in the shade during the day. All hides should be kept and tanned for later use. Extension publication B-36 describes the method of tanning leather at home.

U. S. Is Called Worst Waster Of Man Power

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15. (AP) — Senator Harry F. Byrd (Dem.) of Virginia charged Sunday that "the Federal Government is the chief offender in the waste and hoarding of man power," and declared that dismissal of one third of the government's civilian employees would help the war effort.

Byrd said the Senate committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures, of which he is chairman, would open hearings soon "to tell the people the whole truth with respect to duplicated activities, the overmanning of practically every agency of government and the useless employees that are carried on the pay rolls of these agencies."

The committee will prepare constructive suggestions for elimination of abuses, he added.

"The thumb-twiddlers in our government service should be given other work to do," he declared. Byrd estimated that by Jan. 1 the Federal Government would have 3,000,000 civilian employees and state and local governments an additional 2,500,000. Aug. 31, he said, the civil service commission said 2,606,300 civilian employees were on the federal pay roll, with new ones being added at the rate of more than 100,000 a month.

Tomato Yields Light On Sulfa

By H. W. BLAKESLEE
Wide World Science Editor
NEW YORK — Sulfanilamide stops the growth of tomato plant roots.

This discovery, reported to the National Academy of Sciences by James Bonner, California Institute of Technology, may clear up some of the mystery about how sulfanilamide helps to cure human diseases. All test tube experiments have proved that sulfanilamide never kills germs, but always stops or slows their growth. It has been assumed that this stoppage in germ health weakened the bugs enough so that the body's ordinary defenses could kill them and so get rid of the disease.

Physicians have wanted to know why or how the sulfa drugs stop bacterial growth. A theory was that the drug interfered with or spoiled some of the food required by the germs. The tomato root experiment was a test of this theory. It showed that the theory probably is right, and that the food which the sulfa drugs spoil is at least in part the recently discovered vitamin, para amino benzoic acid, which is called Paba.

In the experiment tomato roots were stopped with sulfanilamide. Then, if the vitamin was added in the right amount, growth resumed. The experiment also showed that this vitamin, in extremely minute amounts, is necessary for tomato root growth. Sulfapyridine and sulfathiazole stopped the tomato root growth the same as sulfanilamide.

STUDENTS HUNT LEMONADE IN THE RAW

MILLION TO ONE CHANCE SAVES PLANE CREW

LONDON (AP) — The crew of a naval aircraft from a British carrier owe their lives to a 1,000,000-to-1 chance and good navigation. The aircraft failed to return to the carrier as it should have done at dusk. So the captain turned the ship about to look for it. Estimates were made of the course the machine should have taken and the carrier steamed back along this track. Dusk turned to dark. The chances of finding the plane became slimmer and slimmer. Then suddenly a lookout reported hearing a shout coming from the sea. Searchlights were switched on and there was the crew of the aircraft less than 100 yards from the carrier hanging on to a wheel and a piece of floating wreckage. "It was a slick piece of navigation to go so far back and get within 100 yards of them," an officer said. "But even so we should never have seen them. By some queer trick of sound a man in the director tower heard their shouts. We were going 20 knots and I suppose there was one chance in 1,000,000 of hearing a shout above the noise of the ship at that speed." SOUTH PLAINS ARMY FLYING SCHOOL TO BE ON AIR WITH PROGRAM EACH WEEK

The South Plains Army Flying School will be on the air for 15 minutes a week from now on in a program designed to acquaint the public with the glider training program.

Radio station KFYO at Lubbock will carry the broadcast at 7:30 o'clock every Tuesday night. Lieut. Richard C. Elliott, special services office at SPAPS, said. The first program will probably be the night of Nov. 24th.

Montgomery Ward's reply to the NATIONAL WAR LABOR BOARD

November 13, 1942

National War Labor Board
Department of Labor Building
Washington, D. C.

Gentlemen:

We have the National War Labor Board's order of November 5*.

In this order the Board demands that Montgomery Ward & Company enter into a contract establishing a form of closed shop called "maintenance of membership," together with a check-off of union dues from wages. Under this form of closed shop, the employees who are members of the union would not be free to resign from the union without being discharged, and Wards would not be free to retain a competent worker who had resigned from the union. This making of union membership a condition of employment is the essence of the closed shop, whatever form it may take. "Maintenance of membership" is the starting phase which inevitably leads to the full closed shop.

The President of the United States is quoted as having said, on November 14, 1941: "The government of the United States will not order, nor will Congress pass legislation ordering, the so-called closed shop". Wards is in agreement with this statement and believes that the Board's order is not in accordance with the President's principles.

Wards believes that the Board's demands not only violate the fundamental principles of liberty but are economically unsound and are illegal under the terms of the National Labor Relations Act.

If the Board's order against Wards is enforced, the pattern will be established by which all unions in all industries can secure a form of closed shop and check-off merely by appealing to the War Labor Board.

The Board further ordered a form of compulsory arbitration for Wards. Wards is not opposed to voluntary arbitration. However, Wards' management should not, as demanded by the Board, abandon responsibilities which have been vested in it by the owners of the corporation, and so surrender to outside arbitrators the final decision on all matters which the union may wish to treat as grievances.

The Board further ordered that Wards guarantee its wages and other working conditions for a one-year period. Wards believes that a fixed duration of one year is unsound in these uncertain times.

Wards operates in a highly competitive field composed of one million seven hundred fifty thousand retail establishments. It is unfair to impose burdens upon Wards and not upon those with whom it is in competition.

Wards' efforts to preserve the essential freedoms between itself and its employees have not been prompted by any feeling of anti-unionism. The report of the Mediation Panel expressly recognizes this fact. Wards' policy has been to obey the law. Wards has twenty-nine union contracts with both A. F. of L. and C.I.O. unions.

Wards has already given its employees the increases in wages previously recommended by the Board. Wards did this even though its wages were already as high as or higher than those prevailing in the industry and had been increased an average of over 21% since January, 1941. Wards is willing to include these increases in a contract with the union. There is no issue over wages.

The War Labor Board was created by the President to replace the old Defense Mediation Board. The Mediation Board was destroyed by the resignation of the union members following the Board's vote of nine to two against a closed shop in the captive coal mine case. The War Labor Board, in name only, is composed of representatives of the unions, of industry, and of the public. The union representatives are men chosen for leadership by the unions, and have actually protected the interests of the unions. On the other hand, neither industry nor the public have had any voice in the selection of those who presumably represent them. By their decisions, the supposed representatives of industry and of the public have because of inexperience, prejudice or lack of understanding, abandoned the interests of those whom they were appointed to represent.

Under the Constitution, Congress is the sole law making authority. If closed shops and compulsory arbitration are to become requirements upon employers, it is Congress and not the War Labor Board which should make them so. Congress has not empowered the Board to order any employer to do any of the things it demands of Wards.

Accordingly, Wards rejects the order of the Board. If Congress imposes closed shops, compulsory arbitration or contracts for a year's duration on employers, or if the President of the United States, as Commander-in-Chief in time of war, directs that Wards accept the Board's rulings, which we earnestly believe are illegal and uneconomic, we will respectfully obey.

Yours very truly,
(Signed) SEWELL AVERY
President

WHY SPEND MILLIONS —

Millions of dollars are spent annually and thousands of men devote innumerable hours to provide the people of this nation with pure, wholesome, healthful food, milk and water.

AND THEN SPREAD DISEASE THROUGH CARELESSNESS

If the dishes, glasses, cups, silverware, or any of the utensils used in the preparation and the serving of food are improperly or poorly cleaned, they may harbor the germs of the very diseases which all of the previous careful procedures have aimed to prevent. In many cases this negligence may be a violation of established, written law.

"A Service For Every Need"

Allied Shipping In War Zone Seems Almost Magic

If the north African campaign is a success, as now seems indicated, Lieut. Gen. Dwight (Ike) Eisenhower, will go down as a "shipbuilder" whose exploits take precedence over the miracles performed by Henry J. Kaiser.

In one swoop, Gen. Eisenhower will have virtually doubled the size of the whole Allied merchant marine. The importance of this dramatic easing of the critical shipbuilding problem to all fronts cannot be overestimated.

Shipping has been the really desperate focal point of our whole war effort, by official admission. The terrific distances involved in moving supplies to the southwest Pacific, to the Indian-Burma theater and to the Middle East have had the war planners gray-headed with worry. Despite magnificent achievements by U. S. shipbuilders, the need for cargo space has always been ahead of available bottoms.

The American landings in north Africa, if expanded to actual control of the south shore of the Mediterranean, mean a whole fleet of "new" vessels created overnight for the further garrisoning and supplying of all world fronts.

It sounds like magic on a global scale, but actually it's a matter of simple arithmetic.

The closing of the Mediterranean as a regular military supply route vastly complicated the problem of Allied munitions and troop transport. It required from five to seven times as many ships to carry the same quantity of goods and men around Africa to the Middle East as over the route through the Mediterranean.

It is something over 13,000 miles from England around the Cape of Good Hope to Suez. It is somewhat more than 2,000 miles from England to north Africa. The distance from

Women Urgently Needed In WAAC

According to Lieutenant Colonel Marvin B. Durrette, Commander of the West Texas Recruiting and Induction District, only half as many women have enrolled in the Women's Army Auxiliary Corps as are needed at this time. Only half as many soldiers can be released for combat duty by December 1st as was originally planned. Not enough women have been trained to take over the non-combatant jobs now being performed by soldiers.

Additional training facilities have been set up at Des Moines, Iowa and a new training center will begin operations on December 1st in Daytona Beach, Florida. It is believed that women will respond in great numbers since the need for non-combatant workers is so great. Civil Service workers do not lose their status held at time of enrollment. They can return, at the expiration of their enrollment, to their former position or one of similar grade without loss of seniority rating.

Auxiliaries now earn the same pay as soldiers. Women entering the WAACs receive $50 per month plus clothing, food and lodging, medical care and hospitalization. Junior Leaders receive $66 per month. Leaders receive $138 per month.

Women who demonstrate unusual leadership qualities will be selected for officers training. These women will be placed in officer training schools and upon completion of the course will be commissioned in the WAAC as a 3rd Officer, who is equivalent to a 2nd Lieutenant in the Army.

Lieutenant Colonel Durrette added, "many towns and counties in our District are not represented in the WAAC. West Texas has led in army recruiting for the Eighth Service Command and nothing would please me more than for us to lead in WAAC enrollments."

FARM BOY BECOMES LABOR UNION HEAD

VANCOUVER (AP)—A 16-year-old lad who got a job passing rivets in a Vancouver shipyard two years ago after moving to the city with his parents from a farm at Princeton, B. C., has become the youngest trade union president in Canada.

He is Arthur Hewitt, elected president of the Rivet Passer-Boys Union which was formed here as a branch of the Boilermakers and Iron Shipbuilders Union after three short sit-down strikes in efforts to obtain an increase in their wage rate from 45 to 60 cents an hour. "Art" a short, stocky, serious lad, won the election over four other candidates.

the U. S. east coast to Suez is 14,000-plus miles, but from the U. S. to Casablanca is 3,200 miles.

Control of the south shore of the middle sea would permit use of it again as a supply lane. With Allied air bases scattered along that shore, the convoys could proceed under a canopy of planes with less risk than Russian-bound convoys to Murmansk now run.

In addition to a saving of an expert-estimated 75 per cent in the number of ships needed to service the Allied troop-munitions pool in the Middle East, the requirements of the England-India run would be cut one-third.

With this means to the furtherance of Allied offensive is obvious. Scores on scores of freighters would be released for supplementing the present service of supply to Australia, to Russia and to Alaska, all three of which have suffered by reason of ship shortages which did not permit the movement of arms already fashioned and waiting at lockside for transport.

There is evidence that the surprise offensive had this relief of over-worked Allied shipping as its primary purpose. The strategic import of the campaign, in its relation to future offensives directed at the Axis southern exposure, cannot be minimized. The immediate advantages in shipping, however, will be the first great gain if Gen. Eisenhower completes his mission.

Its Patriotic To Get Stung

Wide World Features
LOS ANGELES — Sugar rationing is adding fresh interest to the ancient business of bee-keeping.

A cup of honey has more sweetness than a cup of granulated sugar in the ratio of 9 to 7. It contains roughly twice the calory value of sugar.

Interest in small backyard apiaries is considerable, reflecting an axiom of the honey trade that when sugar is scarce, honey booms. On the commercial side this means wide use by bakers, and at home its substitution for sugar in many ways.

In advising amateur bee-keepers, J. E. Eckert, University of California expert, tackles at the start the matter of getting stung.

"The sting of the honey bee generally hurts even the seasoned bee-keeper," he concedes. "However, immunity to the poison can be acquired gradually, until the effect is not noticeable after the first few minutes."

Bee-keeping is so standardized after centuries of experience that you buy bees by the package. A "three-pound package" sells for about $4 and contains some 15,000 bees.

A dozen odds and ends needed to start a single back-yard hive cost about $12. These include such specialties as the "smoker," "hive tool" and "queen excluder," and the important folding veil to protect the face.

Authorities stress the importance of having a superior queen for the hive, since she lays the eggs and determines the type of offspring.

In California, revenue from honey and beeswax is often augmented by renting bee colonies to orchardists, as bees are sometimes priceless in cross-pollinating the fruit trees.

LOUISIANA BOY TOPS SCRAP COLLECTION

WASHINGTON (AP)—An 11-year-old Louisiana boy spent his vacation urging local farmers to get out their scrap. He conducted all the transactions himself, paid the farmers, did an average daily business of $27 and collected 400 tons of scrap which he sold for a profit of $2,736. This achievement tops the records for individual scrap collections, according to the Office of War Information.

Preaching And Punting Keep Him Busy

WACO, Texas (WVF)—Bert Edminson finds his final year at Baylor University a busy one.

On Saturday, he punts the Bears to a Southwest Conference victory. Next day, he teaches Sunday School class at nearby La Vega. For a time, he led a colored mission each Friday night.

During the week he studies for the ministry.

Bert is doing all right both at preaching and footballing. His kicking held Texas A. and M. at bay nine times within the Baylor 20-yard line as the Bears won 6-0.

His gilded toe added a point after touchdown, a 17-yard field goal (the first he ever tried) and booted the Bruins to safety when Texas Christian twice drove almost to Baylor's last white stripe. Baylor won 10-7. Bert's already a licensed ordained Baptist minister but he's going to finish college before getting himself a church.

E. W. Hester Brings Fine Sugar Beet To Courier

We believe the sugar problem is solved for at least one farmer in Dawson County if he can only get his sugar beets into the real stuff. E. W. Hester, a farmer residing south of O'Donnell brought to the Courier Office Wednesday morning, a very fine sugar beet grown on his farm. The beet measured 19 inches long and 18 inches around, and weighed 12 pounds. Not knowing too much about the sugar beet, could not say that this is an unusual one, but it looks like a fine one to us, so we have placed in on display in the Courier window.

FARM NEWS

from FOOD FOR FREEDOM

YOUR COUNTY AGENT TEXAS EXTENSION SERVICE

"Each year more and more dairymen recognize that the statement 'Better Cows—great returns' is a proverbial truth," states B. J. Baskin, County Agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service. "Not all of these dairymen realize that just how rapidly the income increases above feed costs as the production mounts into the higher brackets."

According to E. R. Eudaly, Extension Dairyman of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service, records of Dairy Herd Improvement Associations show the following:

Prod. cow per year	Feed Costs	Over Feed Costs
100 lbs.	$ 53.00	$ 44.00
200 lbs.	$104.00	$ 54.00
300 lbs.	$155.00	$ 64.00
400 lbs.	$206.00	$ 74.00
500 lbs.	$257.00	$ 84.00
600 lbs.	$308.00	$ 94.00

Butterfat Value Total Income

Using these above figures Mr. Eudaly says that a producer can receive the same income from a herd of 11 cows producing 300 pounds of butterfat as he receives from a herd of 20 cows 3 producing only 200 pounds.

"Sell your feed through livestock" and you will be (1) receiving more money per 100 pounds for your feed and (2) contributing an increased share in the War Effort, states B. J. Baskin, County Agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

Do not sell maize for 80c per 100 pounds. Feed it to hogs and sell it for over $2.00 per bushel. That is sound business. It is also sound farming.

Labor costs in the production of pork can be lowered by using self-feeders and feeding whole grain, states B. J. Baskin, County Agent of the Texas A. and M. College Extension Service.

According to Fred Hale, of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, experimental work shows that (1) the feed saved in grinding for hogs WILL NOT pay the grinding costs and (2) a hog can and will fatten out in a shorter time when a self-feeder is used than when hand-fed.

In feeding beef cattle be sure to feed at least one pound of alfalfa hay per steer per day, states B. J. Baskin, County Agent, Experiments at the Spur Station show definitely that so called "Meal Blindness" is not caused by the excess feeding of cottonseed meal, or the feeding of cottonseed meal over a long period of time. These experiments do show that the normal West Texas ration of grain sorghums, cottonseed meal and sweet sorghum bundles is low on Vitamin A. This Vitamin A deficiency is readily corrected by feeding one pound of bright green alfalfa hay per steers per day.

Feed one-tenth of a pound of limestone flour per steer per day to furnish the correct calcium content

During this week of Thanksgiving Dawson County farmers have much to be thankful for. 1942 has brought low operating costs, high production per acre and a fair amount of labor for harvest. Good prices for cotton, hogs and produce have prevailed throughout the year. Even though we are at War we still have much to be grateful for.

Voluntary meat rationing means that every person is asked to limit their consumption of beef, pork and mutton to 2 1-2 pounds per person per week for all people over 12 years of age. 1 1-2 pounds per person per week for children between the ages of 6 and 12, and 3-4 pounds per person per week for children under 6 years of age.

Everyone is urged to eat more poultry, fish and dairy products.

What It Means To Suspend 40-Hour Work Week

By HERMAN ALLEN
The demand for suspension of the 40-hour week is only a little snowball on top of Capitol Hill right now. But there are plenty of people in Congress who would like to give it a push and send it booming right out into Pennsylvania avenue and from there right into every factory in the nation.

What would this mean to the war effort? In the first place it would be best to clear the air by emphasizing that the 40-hour law does not put a flat limit on the length of time anybody may work. It merely says that after a man has worked 40 hours in any week he must be paid overtime rates for any time he works the rest of the week.

To suspend the 40-hour week would merely mean that a worker could put in more than 40 hours before his overtime pay would begin. Washington labor circles declare the effect on production of war goods probably would be very little. War production is on an overtime basis right now. The government is paying the overtime, so it wouldn't save the employer anything. It would, of course, save the government a lot of money.

On the other hand, such a move might be of great benefit to non-war industry, retail stores and so on. Many of these concerns, faced with rising costs and taxes, cannot afford to pay much overtime and may not be able to get help to run extra shifts of only 40 hours. In connection with lengthening work hours, it is of interest to note what happened in Germany. A report to the International Labor Office on the German situation says:

"When hostilities broke out it was considered necessary to give the government greater freedom of action. By the war economy order of Sept. 1, 1939, all restrictions on normal hours of work for adult men were abolished.

"Less than three months later it was found necessary to restore the regulations in a certain measure. The president of the National Employment Office observed: 'Attention must be paid to the physical and mental limits to any extension of hours. Any abuses lightly committed in this respect will have to be paid for sooner or later.'"

Shortly thereafter the government decided to restore a limit to the working of overtime in excess of the normal 8-hour day, the limit being fixed at 10 hours a day as a general rule and 12 hours for some jobs which involved lengthy periods of time when the worker was simply required to be present.

The German labor protection order of December 12, 1939, said: "Even though it is necessary to increase output, exaggerated demands on labor must be avoided."

Britain had a similar experience. The British found that after a certain number of hours, depending on the type of work, errors increased and the value of overtime work fell off.

U. S. Manpower Commissioner McNutt recently observed that it was his opinion, too, that returns diminished according to the type of work. For example, a precision worker making delicate aviation instruments would suffer nervous fatigue much sooner than one operating a punch press.

Increasing Meat Production Good Business

Increasing meat production not only is patriotic but it's good business. I. W. Duggan, director of the AAA's southern division, told Farm Bureau members at their convention in Waco.

"Regardless of shortages and the difficulties which face them, farmers in the South must increase the production of livestock and livestock products," Duggan said, pointing out that he referred not only to Texas ranches but to farms throughout the South.

Duggan pointed out that the mid-October farm price of hogs was 126 per cent of parity and the farm price of beef cattle was 136 per cent of parity, compared with cotton which was bringing the farmer 99 per cent of parity, corn 78 per cent, and wheat 76 per cent.

"With these relative prices, it is profitable for southern farmers to increase their livestock productions, especially if it can be done with home-produced food and pastures," he declared.

The 1943 AAA farm program is designed to assist farmers in their all-out production for the war effort, the AAA official said. Conservation practices, such as seeding permanent pasture grasses, establishing cover crops of winter legumes, and applying lime and phosphate, all contribute directly to the war effort, because it is through these practices that farmers can increase their production of vitally-needed war commodities, he explained.

Duggan congratulated Texas farmers for the big contribution they made to war-time agricultural production in 1942, especially in vegetable oils, but he warned that production will be even more difficult in 1943 because the farmers must face the same handicaps as last year, except they will be even greater.

Sgt. Bill Farmer of the Peecos Flying School spent the week end here visiting with relatives and friends.

NAZI PRISONERS HEIL AT MENTION OF HITLER

LONDON (AP) — Dr. C. E. M. Joad, professor, philosopher and star of B. B. C.'s "Brain Trust" program, said the only way he could get a rise out of an audience of German prisoners of war was to mention Hitler. "They were perfect specimens of physical health and looked almost exactly alike. They gave me the impression that nothing was going on behind their masklike faces." Joad said in describing his speech to 150 Nazi prisoners.

"I felt I could make little contact with them until at a most casual reference to Hitler, they most disconcertingly stood up, clicked their heels and shouted, 'Heil Hitler.'"

"What are we going to do with this kind of mentality after the war?"
