Midair collision kills three

NTSB investigates crash

By Pat Blair

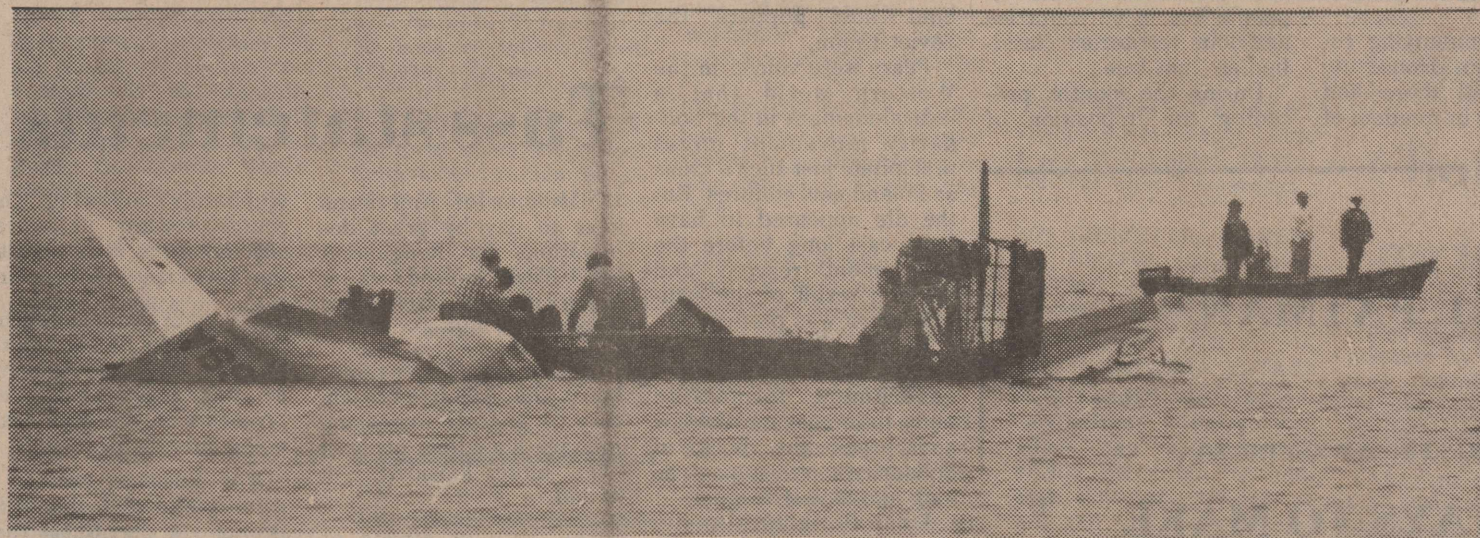

"I'm sure we will replace the plane — but we had a pilot that can't be replaced," was the comment of Virginia Baker, wife of Larry Baker Sr., as federal investigation began of the midair collision that took the lives of three men over Copano Bay Tuesday.

The pilot and copilot of a Baker Marine twin-engine plane and the pilot of the smaller plane involved were all killed in the collision that occurred about 1:30 p.m. near Rockport.

Aransas County this weekend to study the remains of the wreckage and try to determine a cause.

They are joined by officials from Baker Marine — including Larry Baker Sr. and Larry Baker Jr. — and representatives from the firm that manufactured the Baker Marine aircraft, according to G.H. Patrick Bursley, member of the National Transportation Safety Board. Bursley, speaking at the Aransas County Airport Thursday, said, "We have to try and find out what happened so if there's a way to avoid it, we can prevent this kind of accident in the future."

The federal officials met Thursday morning with Aransas County Sheriff Bob Hewes, Chief Investigator Ricky McLester and members of the Aransas County Emergency Medical Service.

"I can't speak too highly of the cooperation we've had from the sheriff," Bursley said, praising in addition the work by the sheriff's department and the EMS at the crash site.

Killed in the accident were chief pilot John S. Luethcke, 32, pilot, and Elmo C. (See Crash, Page 10)

County redistricting vote due Wednesday, Jan. 27

At a meeting of the Aransas County Commissioners Court held Jan. 19, Paula Marvel, representing the San Antonio firm of L. Tucker Gibson and Associates, laid Plan II of the proposed redistricting proposal on the table before the commissioners, county judge and representative of two major political parties.

The Gibson firm had been hired by the county commissioners some four months ago. The redistricting was required following the 1980 census and the figures used in the firm's study are from that body of data.

The consensus of those attending the meeting was generally favorable, but to allow time for any interested parties to further consider the plan, any action to be taken was delayed until the next meeting, scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 27.

This phase of the redistricting plan deals only with the redrawing of commissioner's precinct lines. The voting boundary changes and Justice of the Peace precinct adjustments will be taken up by the Gibson firm following Wednesday's meeting. This next phase is not expected to be as lengthy as the first one.

At the meeting, County Judge John Wendell alerted the commissioners that the next meeting would have items on the agenda concerning the need for a special addition to the courthouse to house the county commissioners meeting room and a court room for use of cases filed in county court. Wendell cited the present overcrowded conditions involving the two district judges presently hearing cases here.

'Legal action' possible against water plant designers

LAMAR — "Legal action" against Envirogenics Systems Inc., designers of the water plant that serves residents of Goose Island Lake Estates, became a possibility in last Monday's meeting of the utility district that serves the area.

Daughtry Roberts, a director on the Aransas County Utility District No. 1, moved that a proposal by Envirogenics relating to repair of the nonfunctioning water plant be tabled while the board assembles facts "for possible legal action, with Southmost Savings & Loan, against Envirogenics."

The motion was seconded by Leonard Owen and, following favorable vote of the board, directors tentatively set Feb. 22 as the date to review documents relating to construction of the water plant in 1978.

The decision came after discussion of a proposal by Envirogenics, presented to the board earlier this month, that the California-based company would do some $20,730 in repairs to the water plant at no cost to the district provided the district agreed to purchase some 114 membranes needed in operation of the plant, at a cost of $214 each.

The board was also asked to place in escrow account some $40,000 still owed on the construction of the plant.

According to Herman Little, the district's attorney, the engineer for the district, Clem Williams, said the board need only purchase 60 percent of the membranes.

In presenting the offer to the board earlier this month, Little reported Williams said the offer was fair.

The board had asked Little to contact Envirogenics and Glaser Construction Company which built the water plant and seek an alternative to Envirogenics proposal.

At Monday night's meeting, Little said Envirogenics and Glaser were "amazed" at the district's response, saying "they understood the district has enjoyed potable water for three years."

Little quoted William Youngblood of Glaser Construction as saying that in 1979 he received a letter from Don Gammon, then manager of the district, saying that the board would accept the plant after work was done on the acid tank.

"This," Little added, "is their (Envirogenics') best and final offer." Little recommended that the board accept Envirogenics' proposal and ask Southmost Savings & Loan — a major property holder in the district as a result of foreclosures on South Coast Develop-

Hospital plans on schedule

ARANSAS PASS — Construction of the new 78-bed Coastal Bend Hospital is right on schedule, according to Administrator Ben Pate.

Occupancy of the new facility — which will replace the existing Coastal Bend and the former Aransas hospitals — is anticipated by next October. When completed, the new hospital building will more than double the number of beds offered by its two predecessors.

In the meantime, Pate said, the existing Coastal Bend Hospital is in the process of acquiring new personnel and equipment to be ready for the move into the new building as well as upgrading its services to a five-city area which includes Rockport and Fulton.

During 1981, Coastal Bend Hospital acquired Aransas Hospital, adding an additional 12 beds to its 26-bed capacity. Another addition in 1981, Pate said, was a fully-equipped physical therapy department.

"We have added one of the most efficient pieces of lab equipment on the market today," he continued: "A Cobas Centrifugal Analyzer." In the X-Ray department, a Digital Ultrasound Imaging System was added to the equipment.

In the area of personnel, five new staff doctors have joined the hospital which increases the surgical capacity "as well as the overall patient care capabilities," Pate said.

Voter correction

In last Wednesday's Pilot, the story about voter registration cards contained two errors. The correct sentence concerning voters moving (incorrect in the next to last paragraph of the Wednesday's story) is: "If a voter is moving out of the county, they should come in and sign a form so that their name is removed from the rolls promptly and not carried needlessly."

Also, a registration card that has already been signed on the back by a voter making a change can be brought in to the county clerk's office by a relative.

Included in plans for this year is a rape crisis/intervention center to aid crisis and trauma victims.

In June, an in-house emergency room doctor is expected to join the staff, Pate said, in preparation for the extensive emergency room and trauma treatment facilities that will be part of the new hospital.

Navigation district toughens slip rental policy

By Ted Norman

If you rent a boat slip in Rockport or Fulton harbor and you are 90 days behind on the rent you can expect to receive a registered letter from the Navigation District in a few days informing you that either the rent must be paid or the boat moved.

The decision to enforce the slip rental policy between the Aransas County Navigation District and slip renters was decided on during a workshop meeting of the ACND Monday night.

During the workshop ACND commissioner Kirk Holman made a presentation to the other board members in which he presented his findings of the past several days which he spent visiting several other cities in an effort to find ways to modernize the boat slip rental situation in Rockport and Fulton.

Holman said he had visited with the harbor people in Corpus Christi and discussed the methods used to assign slips and determine rental fees.

Holman said that the list of boat slip renters who are behind on their rent is astounding and he said that if the city collected on the back rent they could probably have enough money to build several new slips which he said the city badly needs.

Holman also presented an idea for adding new boat slips in the Fulton harbor by modifying the seawall and building along the seawall. He recommended that the board build a few slips in the manner he showed and try to come up with a per slip cost figure to study.

Holman also recommended that the ACND board adopt a policy of raising lease fees every year based on the inflation factor instead of 50 percent every five years as they have been doing.

In his presentation Holman explained from charts on a chalk board that the district was always behind in the inflation problem with their current method of charging lease fees.

After Holman's presentation, commissioner Hal McKnight called for an audit of all the boat slips in Rockport and Fulton harbors in an effort to find out what the true situation is. He also endorsed Holman's request to begin immediately to send out letters to delinquent lease holders.

Board Chairman Bobby Landrum told McKnight that the problem with an audit is, "We only know what we have, not what we should have."

The notice of delinquent payment will also notify the lease holder that they have 10 days to make the payments and that a five percent penalty will be added to the payments.

L.E. Casterline, Fulton Mayor, was present at the meeting and he asked the board, "When do you want me to pay my delinquent dockage?"

Landrum answered by telling the mayor, "Your name is not on the list."

Jack McDavid resigns from county water board

Jack McDavid tendered his resignation by letter from the Aransas County Conservation and Reclamation District board of directors in a meeting of the board Monday afternoon, Jan. 18.

The board will meet at 5 p.m. Monday, Feb. 1 to decide on a successor to fill McDavid's term until its expiration in April. Cam Leonard, vice president of the board, will act as president — filling McDavid's shoes — until the board chooses its officers following the April elections.

Contacted prior to the meeting

Monday, McDavid said, "I've been on there (the board) about 20 years. I figure it was time to let someone else wrestle with it."

McDavid indicated he had resigned early to encourage filing of candidates for his place in the April balloting.

In addition to McDavid, Leonard said Willene Smith's seat will also be up for election this year. Directors on the ACCRD board are elected for six-year terms with two posts coming up every two years.

Editorial & Opinion

Smokescreen from Soviet Union

By Preston Pendergrass
Poland's travail has brought into sharp focus the impact of a revelation that freedom declined in 1981. This is tragic news, for without freedom life is empty of meaning.

The Poles suffered the sharpest loss when the heretofore unheard of freedoms they had managed to achieve in a communist state were suddenly snatched away and the remnants trampled under the heavy hand of martial law.

Freedom's decline was reported by Freedom House, a non-profit organization that monitors political rights and civil liberties during the year, said about 45 percent of the world's population — approximately 2.04 billion people — were not free.

In an accompanying report, Freedom House researchers said there had been no gains in freedom of the press, with 56 percent of the world's countries listed as "not free" to the news media.

The survey said there are about 1.63 million people living in 54 free nations and 27 related territories. Another 916.5 million live in 49 countries and 23 territories that are "partly free" and about two million people live in 62 countries and four territories classified as "not free."

During the months preceding the imposition, of martial law in Poland, it had been the only communist country rated "partly free," the survey said.

Many Poles doubtless are having second thoughts about the wisdom of moves by the national labor union, Solidarity, to force the hand of the communist rulers in Poland and the power behind those puppets, the Soviet Union.

Fears were voiced in the Western world that a radical element in the Solidarity movement might precipitate just such a crisis as Poland now endures. But the die appeared to have been cast long before the government reacted and the end result of the radicals' push was predictable.

It has since been revealed that the Polish government formulated plans to impose martial law and break the back of Solidarity's resistance as long ago as last August.

Political rights also declined elsewhere during the year, the survey said. Major shifts included South Africa, Iran and Guatemala, changed from "partly free" to "not free."

"South Africa has always been classified as not free but the re-evaluation takes more fully into account the freedom to live and move where one wishes, a freedom increasingly denied to the black majority," the Freedom House report emphasized.

Of Iran, it said, "The Iranian Revolution has become increasingly tyrannical and arbitrary. Thousands have been executed, many more have fled the country, and the opposition has been largely silenced. Independent news media has ceased to exist."

In its survey of press freedom, Freedom House said at least 22 journalists were known to have been murdered in 1981, "because they were working journalists. Fourteen other news reporters were assaulted, tortured or kidnapped by guerrillas or government forces."

"Newspapers were bombed and reporters and editors harassed in Argentina, Brazil, Guatemala, India and Iran," the report said.

The Rockport Pilot hopes the gravity of the Freedom House report and the seriousness of its message to free people everywhere will command top priority in 1982 and thereafter in humanity's endless struggle to be free.

Tass statements are propaganda

"Millions of Americans have to pay by great deprivations for Reaganomics," Tass snorted, citing rising interest rates and tough credit terms.

"Washington's desire to boost the American economy by sharply increasing military spending made it even more lopsided," it added.

The harmful effects of Reaganomics are becoming apparent, the news agency continued, and there have been calls for a reassessment.

"But what reassessment can be meant if the Washington administration is stubbornly following the course toward an unrestricted arms race despite the immense damage inflicted to the country," Tass asked.

"The new year promises ordinary Americans further growth of unemployment, galloping inflation and new hardships."

While the Soviet Union all but drains the national treasury to make more weapons and maintains national conscription to bolster its armed forces, it warns of an "unrestricted arms race" in the U.S.

It is a safe bet that only a few of the top leaders of the Soviet Union have access to information about the amount of money the nation is spending on its military establishment. One thing appears certain, the spending figure of $23.8 billion in 1981 is much too low.

The Rockport Pilot sees the Tass statements about Reaganomics as propaganda and intended as a diversionary tactic at a time when the Soviets are feeling the sting of criticism for their sanction of the military crackdown in Poland.

CONGRESSMAN

REPORTS FROM WASHINGTON

CONGRESS SEEKS WAYS TO MAKE HOME OWNERSHIP A REALITY AGAIN

Americans born in the baby boom after World War II are now entering the market for homes. But the great American dream of owning a home is becoming a nightmare.

Home is where not only the heart is, but the mortgage is. And that's the problem. Mortgages are getting out of reach.

A modest one-family home now costs $60,000. At 16 percent interest, the monthly payment on such a house with a 30-year mortgage is $807 a month. The annual income needed to support a monthly payment of that size is nearly $37,000 a year.

How many young couples make that kind of money?

During the 1980's, 41 million Americans will enter their 30's. Population experts say that 27 million new housing units will be needed.

In the past two years, with tight credit, new housing has lagged far behind the demand. Ten years ago, in 1972, nearly 2.5 million new homes were built; last year only about 1 million.

Most of the blame must be laid on inflation and high interest rates and on mistaken government policies that have not controlled them. The factor now hurting most is the Administration's insistence on tight credit, and on a too massive, ill-timed tax cut program that will fuel inflation by increasing the Federal deficit.

New policies are being proposed that could make matters worse.

David Stockman and other White House budget advisers want to do away with one of the chief tax breaks for middle-income Americans — the break allowing you to deduct all the interest you pay on home mortgages.

In response, Senator Lloyd Bentsen offered a resolution in the U.S. Senate. It proposed that the present home mortgage interest deduction be retained... as essential to a fair and equitable tax system. The Resolution passed the Senate December 7, 1981.

America is a country of home-owners, a great strength of our nation. Current housing policies are fast turning us into a nation of renters.

The House of Representatives has tried to revitalize the housing industry.

Mortgage financing costs 34 percent more than it did a year ago.

What can be done?

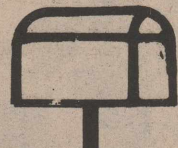

"We must bring interest rates down and keep them down."

To show the impact of high interest rates alone on our ability to own homes, consider the average home loan of $60,000. At 8 percent interest, that loan would require a monthly payment of only $440, about half of today's $807. Instead of an annual income of $37,000, an 8 percent loan would take a year income of only $23,500.

In addition to easing credit, we must continue to find ways to channel more of the available credit funds into housing.

Congress is considering innovations like tax breaks for people who save their money in special accounts they will use only to buy their first home.

An idea advocated by the housing industry would encourage city and county governments to issue tax-exempt bonds so they could loan more money for local housing.

School board

Regarding the Pilot's article: concerning the School Board: Offering our present School Superintendent a three year contract was an additional indication of their lack of concern for our school children and our school system.

As one school board member stated, that he did a soul searching rendition for a week before he requested the board to a three year contract, had he spent the week factually searching and let his soul alone he surely stake, this is a reflection on his administrative abilities and his understanding of the public school system. Due to this lack of understanding how much it has cost this county in Austin.

When the board was advised of the new law on contracts it should have begun immediately to weight his qualifications and ask themselves, for a job that pays in excess of $40,000 a year, can we find a more qualified person for the job.

The high percentage of teacher turnovers is costing our children and the taxpayers an untold expense. By retaining this person are we showing fiscal responsibility and fulfilling our elected responsibilities to the children and taxpayers.

Has any member of this board ever sat down with a department teacher and discussed why, truthfully, was the teacher leaving and the teacher could be assured of no reprisals for truthful answers.

would have questioned, why does our county have such a large percentage of teacher turnover, (as I questioned before) which might reflect on the superintendent's supervisory skills and a very critical question of why on the policies so outdated that accreditation could be at

If any member of the school board had a job open with the kind of salary and benefits paid out of their pockets would they hire him?

A sound logical question don't you think?

I could continue to point

Our readers write

out other items to look for when hiring or retaining individuals but the above should be enough for the school board to comprehend and then again, by their actions, it may be too much. Please citizens, get involved, education is so important to our country's future.

Write me

I am writing to you in hope that you will help me. I was born in Rockport in 1950 but my parents moved away when I was five years old. Both my parents were killed in an automobile accident in 1956. Since that time I have lived in several foster homes till I was 17.

I am presently in prison in Georgia. Being moved from one home to another made it really hard to make friends. But I've never been so lonely as I am now. I have no one to write to and no one writing me now. However I believe it possible that I have relatives in or around Rockport. I was hoping that you could find space in your newspaper to publish my letter in hopes that my relatives or anyone who knew my parents would find time to write me.

I have never had the chance to re-visit Rockport. But one day I hope to. So if there is anyone reading this letter who would like to correspond as a pen pal, I would like to hear from you.

I am a 31-year-old white male but loneliness picks no certain age or color. So please write if you would like to share a smile. I've almost forgotten how to smile. A letter means so much to a man in prison, especially if he has never received one. Thank you for your time.

DWI laws must be strengthened

WASHINGTON — Taking a leading role in combating drunk driving, Texas Congressman James M. Collins has cosigned a letter to President Reagan calling driving while intoxicated "America's Greatest Tragedy," and requesting a blue ribbon Presidential Commission to curtail the drunk driver epidemic.

"Every year — every holiday season we hear of more tragic and senseless accidents due to the drunk driver, causing untold human suffering to the innocent families involved," Collins called drunk driving the most often committed violent crime in the United States, killing 26,000 citizens yearly while crippling and seriously injuring over one million Americans each year.

Citing the need for statewide programs to dissuade driving while intoxicated especially for repeat offenders, Collins has cosponsored legislation which would provide a 10-day mandatory sentence in community service, fines, rehabilitation and suspension of the driver's license for up to one year for drunk drivers. Repeat offenders would face a minimum mandatory sentence of ten days in jail, fines and loss of the driver's license for at least one year.

"This legislation would be particularly beneficial in Texas, where the number of fatalities due to drunk drivers reached an all-time high of 1,006 in 1980, which was 22.7 percent of all traffic fatalities," stated Collins. The Congressman also noted that 467 individuals lost their lives during the first six months of 1981 due to drunk drivers.

"Tougher penalties for driving while intoxicated will be a tremendous step toward solving our nation's number one highway traffic safety problem," according to Collins.

"It makes me absolutely furious to read of these cases year after year while the carnage goes ignored. Take for instance a recent case in Virginia where a 19 year old with a record of 17 driving offenses, including DWI, killed four people in an auto crash, and got off with a fine of $200."

Collins urges immediate Congressional action on this bill when Congress reconvenes, calling DWI "a crime that we can and must prevent."

People aren't buying because they are short of cash

Editor's note: The Live Oak Peninsula Philosopher on his grassburr farm looks at foreign policy this week, we think.

Dear editor:

Sometimes it looks like U.S. foreign policy is designed to teach a lesson to every country except ours.

For example, two years ago we shut off grain sales to Russia when she invaded Afghanistan and it sure taught her a lesson. It taught her that if she couldn't buy grain from American farmers she could buy it from Canada, Argentina, etc.

Now Washington is going to cut off caterpillar tractors, drill bits and a lot of technical stuff because of -Russia's hand in Poland. Other countries are grinning and rubbing their hands.

One group that probably wishes something else had been cut off a lot earlier is some big city banks. They've loaned the Communist government of Poland millions of dollars and can't get it back. Can't even collect the interest.

In fact, the Polish government has asked for $350 million more in loans to pay off the interest. I don't know if the banks will be interested, but if they are I'd like to get in touch with them. If a person could borrow money, then borrow more to pay the interest every time it comes due, he could live comfortably the rest of his life, although from the looks of things Poland wouldn't be the place to do it in.

If banks won't go for this, I have hit on another idea you might say is up on the international financial level.

As I understand it, the economy is sagging because people aren't buying and the reason they aren't buying is they're short of cash. There's a remedy for this, provided the Post Office understands international finances.

Say you'd like to help get the car industry back on its feet by buying a new car but don't have the down payment. Go to the Post Office and buy a money order equal to the down payment and drive off in the model of your choice. But, and here's the revolutionary new idea, buy the money order on the installment plan at $2 a week from now on.

Thus for a few dollars you can buy a brand new car and get the economy booming. If you don't have a few dollars, embargo grain and caterpillar tractors to Russia and maybe that'll do it.

Yours faithfully,
J.A.

Name change among highlights of year for Chamber of Commerce

A name change — from the Rockport Chamber of Commerce to Rockport Area Chamber of Commerce — was among the highlights of the past year for the fast-growing organization.

The name change, approved by the board of directors, was approved on Aug. 4, 1981, according to the Chamber's recent newsletter to its members.

Also highlighting the past year was acquisition of 40 new members between April 1 and Dec. 31 and 17 Red Carpet ribbon cuttings to welcome new businesses into the community.

New directors on the board last year included Bill Mayhood, Ken Faulkner and Peter Lazidis.

Five new directors will be elected this year, according to the Newsletter, and Chamber members are being asked to cast their ballots prior to Jan. 27. Terms are for three years.

Among events planned for this year is the second annual Chinese Auction to be held March 13 at the Paws & Taws Building. Rosemary and Robert Kay are co-chairing the event.

And on April 17, the Chamber will hold its annual Dinner and Meeting at the Sandollar Restaurant.

Those joining the Chamber last year include D.M. Kimbrough; Louise and Jack Hughes; Lawrence French.

new owner of Del Camino Motel; Lois and John Davis of Tradewinds Sea Shells Inc. and Martha J. Lewis.

Also joining were Linda Bechtol and Nelda Lee of Crazy Daisy; L.F. LeBlanc, Surfside Seafood; J.H. Newberry Jr., Circle Fence Co.; Gibraltar Savings & Loan; Jennifer and Robert Ledbetter, Modern Floors of Rockport Inc.; Gordon N. Dancer, Tax & Management Consulting Services.

Also Bettye Thomas; Hazel Sprinkle, 4th & Broadway Antiques; Butch Stephens, Stephens Hair Co.; Jerry Iles, Jerry's Hair Design; J.C. Arlia, charter boat operator; The Schrenkeisen's Restaurant & Bar; Ocean View Motel; Rosemary and Robert Kay, Aransas Butane Gas Co. Inc.

Others joining the Chamber included Ron T. Williamson, DDS; Mr. and Mrs. William Ratliff, Bill and Karen Ratliff, Rockport Kawasaki; Dale Roland, R&R Plastic Signs; Scott Felton, Super Wash Inc.; Paul and Sara Brown, new owners of KOA Ancient Oaks; Mary and John Beaven, Tri-County Carpet Service.

Also Muriel H. Branigan, B&K Rental Agency; Sylvia E. Jones, Golden Needles; David Huskey and Ralph Byle, Sweet Thing Ice Cream Parlor; Mr. and Mrs. H.J. McNamara, new owners of Palm Harbor Trailer Park;

Paul R. Murphree, Dudley's Parts & Supply Co.

Also Larry and Debra Pirkle, Roadrunner Realty Inc. and Roadrunner Builders; S.E. Hodges; Wolfgang and Eveline Sliwa, Europa Fancy Frozen Foods; Linda Seawright, Little House of Baskets; Medical Arts Clinic; Jane Goodrich, new owner of Islander Boutique; Rotary Club of Rockport; Portia and Bobby Doggett, new owners of Moonshell Inc.; and Carolyn R. Behee.

Ribbon cuttings were held for Dr. J. Curtis Kovacs at his new location on Hwy. 35 N.; The Casual Closet; Rockport Discount Liquors at its new Hwy. 35 location; Tradewinds Sea Shells Inc.; Live Oak Real Estate.

Other ribbon cuttings were at Shhhh — I Won't Tell if You Won't Tell; Anders Auto Repair; Kemp's Heating & Air Conditioning; Roaten's Drug Store; Crazy Daisy; Rockport Aviation Inc.; Golden Needles; Super Wash Inc.; Texas Tustep; Europa Fancy Frozen Foods; Little House of Baskets.

A ribbon cutting was also held for the Rockport-Fulton Tourist Association as that organization moved into its new location in the Paws & Taws Building.

Chamber members also provided "Goodie Bags" for the South Texas Chapter of Texas Academy of Family Physicians Seminar on May 1-3; the Oil Field Theft

Seminar, May 12; the Canadian Writers Tour on June 21 and 22; the Canadian Tour Directors visit on June 29; the Fred Whittle Tennis Tournament, July 31 and Aug. 1-2; the Daughters of the Republic of Texas, Oct. 21; and the Canadian AAA Travel Counselors from British Columbia on Dec. 5.

Not mentioned in the Newsletter was the provision by Chamber members of food and refreshments for visiting news media at the Percheron rocket launch last summer.

Police report

Windshields 'kicked in' on two cars

Cars belonging to two Dana Drive residents were damaged in the same way during approximately the same time period this week, according to Rockport police.

Windshields on cars belonging to William Floyd Smith and Bobby Gene Anagan were apparently kicked in, police said, sometime between Monday night, Jan. 18, and Tuesday afternoon.

Burglary

The residence of Jerri Shuler of Rockport was burglarized about 11:55 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 20, when someone removed the screen from a southeast bedroom window to gain entry.

The house was ransacked and a number of items were subsequently recovered from brush near the residence.

Hit-run

A car being driven by Antonio Buenano III of West Terrace was struck by an unidentified vehicle while it was parked at a cabana on Seabreeze Drive about 1,200 feet north of Laurel.

The incident occurred about 12:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Service theft

The owner of a Rockport Motel reported theft of service in the form of a $134.59 bill owed him by a family that checked out of his motel on Dec. 23.

The motel owner told police he contacted the family on Dec. 25 and was told a cashier's check for the money would be mailed to him but so far he has not received any money.

The theft was reported Tuesday.

Forgery

A forged check for $32.54 written on a Portland bank account, was reported Monday.

The check was received on Dec. 24 at Lettie's Discount Liquor No. 2.

Where Someone Trudged Before

How deep is the snow? How rough is the terrain that lies beneath it? You can never be sure until there are footprints to follow. It is easier to make one's way through the snow where someone has trudged before.

At the heart of the Christian religion is the belief that God gave his own Son, to be our Savior . . . and also to be our example. The study of his life is, therefore, an important part of Christian education. Though we cannot aspire to be like Him — we can learn to meet life's challenges and crises with the same resolute courage and commitment.

Why plunge aimlessly on? Someone has shown the Way!

Dobson conducts series at 1st Baptist

The public is invited to see and hear America's leading Christian authority on the Family, James Dobson, Ph.D., in a challenging "Focus on the Family" film series to begin Sunday night at 6 p.m., Jan. 24, at the First Baptist Church of Rockport. The series will continue each Sunday night through March 7. Dates and topics are as follows:

Jan. 24The Strong-Willed Child.

Jan. 31Shaping the Will Without Breaking the Spirit.

Feb. 7Christian Fathering.

Feb. 14Preparing for Adolescence: the Origins of Self-Doubt.

Feb. 21Preparing for Adolescence: Peer Pressure and Sexuality.

Feb. 28What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women: the Lonely Housewife.

March 7What Wives Wish Their Husbands Knew About Women: Money, Sex and Children.

Dr. Dobson is associate clinical professor of pediatrics at the University of Southern California School of Medicine. Many books by Dr. Dobson have appeared on best-seller lists. Host of his own TV series, "Focus on the Family," Dr. Dobson has appeared on "Good Morning, America," "The Phil Donahue Show" and "Tomorrow." His radio program, also called Focus on the Family, is heard on 172 stations nationwide.

Gospel Lighthouse youth receive award

The youth of Rockport's Gospel Lighthouse Church were awarded the "Church of the Month" trophy in a rally at the church Friday, Jan. 22.

Donald Beard, president of the local youth group, accepted the trophy presented by Jim Fitzhugh, president of the Pentecostal Youth People's Association of West Texas.

The youth of Gospel Lighthouse received the award for accumulating the most point value in the Corpus Christi section. Categories included rally attendance, offering, Bible reading and participation in events.

The group is now involved in Bible quiz training and hopes to reach District competition within the next few months.

The group is also conducting a fund drive to raise $200 which it hopes to present to American Indian Missions Director C. Don Burke of Beeville on March 5.

Nursing Home News

By Maxine Mayer

The Aransas Pass Nursing and Convalescent Center was a very busy and nice place to be last week.

Activities were very plentiful in spite of the bad weather.

Tuesday afternoon, The Caring Ones group members were out to play games with our residents.

Wednesday morning, Delma Rodgers was out to do her fine visiting and other nice things she does for so many of our residents. Wednesday afternoon, Bible Study was led by the Rev. Bob DeWolfe, with a very nice attendance.

Thursday afternoon, the Friendship Club of Mobile Inn Trailer Park of Fulton came over for games and brought our residents lap robes, foam pillows and wheelchair pockets. This group has been contributing in this way for many years and we can't praise them enough.

Friday morning paint class was led by Sarah Balsley, Sadie Flirt and Frankie Edwards. They always bring fruit or some snacks to our people.

Friday afternoon, members of the Rockport AARP club were over for their monthly "Old Fashioned Sing Along". Also our residents were remembered by members of Beta Sigma Phi of Alpha Delta Tau Sorority with combs, brushes, Kleenex, toothpaste and Effident tablets. This is such a nice way to remember our residents and we appreciate it very much.

Saturday morning, Father James Hamilton was out for Holy Communion with our Catholic residents. Sunday morning worship services were led by the Rev. Al Bankert.

Sunday afternoon, we had another first at our nursing home, David Neill a scout working on his "Eagle" appointment, presented the residents of our home with a bookcase, eight lap trays for wheelchairs, five magnifying glasses and over 500 books, which were catalogued by his sister, Theresa. Many people have donated time, money and lots of hard work in making David's dream come true. The Truth Rebekah Lodge 143 made a monetary donation in memory of Pearl Trinyer and W. Harrington, which David used to buy supplies which he needed for this project.

The Webelos and Boy Scouts of Troop 25 assisted in making the lap trays and putting the books on the book shelves. All of them seemed to be very proud of their work.

We thank each and everyone who had anything at all to do with this project and we know our residents will enjoy it all.

A special thanks to Virgil and Frances Neill, Theresa Neill, Sandra Tognacci, Bonnie Yarbrough and Donna Miller and Laura Simank for all their hard work and the love they put into helping David.

You are invited to see and hear the inspirational...

Wendland enters A and H Queen's contest

Fourteen-year-old Tammy Wendland will be the Aransas County 4-H club's contestant in the upcoming San Patricio and Aransas County Agricultural and Homemaking Show Queen's Contest. The Queen's Contest will commence at 7:30 p.m., Monday, Jan. 25. This event marks the beginning of the week long Agricultural and Homemaking Show.

Tammy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wendland, is sponsored in the beauty contest by Texas Tu-Step western wear store. She will be outfitted in a buckskin skirt and jacket ensemble, with matching boots and hat.

Tammy and the other 19 contestants, all in western outfits, will be judged on poise, beauty, a personal interview and appearance. George C. Miller, Jr., owner of the Tu-Step, says his store has sponsored other contestants in various such events, including the recent Corpus Christi boat show.

Tammy is the only Aransas County 4-H entrant in the show. Other contestants include girls from Mathis, Sinton, Taft, Odem and Ingleside.

Tammy and the other

Aransas County 4-H members will also be competing in other areas of the week long 4-H event. Animals shown during the Agricultural and Homemaking Show include rabbits, poultry, beef and sheep. There is also a crafts portion of the competition, as well as food and textiles division.

Capping off the week is an auction of the prize-winning projects. Aransas County projects judged highly enough will be included in the auction.

Community support is always needed for this event so that the club can purchase projects, pay for the cost of ribbons awarded and other expenses involved in the show.

Included in the week's activities is a barbecue.

tickets to which are available from any 4-H member or adult leader. Ticket prices are $2.50 per child and $3.50 per adult.

In addition to Tammy, who will have a steer entered in the beef show, as well as broilers, capons and a food preservation project; other

Aransas County 4-Hers and their projects include the following: Terri Shirley, two steers, broilers, food and clothing; Carrie Livingston, two lambs and a food project; Richard Wendland, a swine project, broilers, capons, food and textile; Michael Stanley, a steer, broilers and food; Teresa Konvicka, broilers and food; Robert Konvicka, broilers, a lamb and food;

Tommy Smearson, broilers, a steer and food and Anna-Lies Corbin, broilers and food project.

Welcome back to this week's column and please join me in welcoming our new Editor and Publisher, Bob Scott.

Also I'd like to comment to the Rev. Barrett Renfro that sometimes our readers are a great deal like the child who didn't talk until he was four years old and that it was to protest. When his bemused parents queried as to why he had remained silent he informed them that "up to now everything had been okay." Does this mean then that we can safely assume that our columns and what we say in them is "okay"? I do hope so! At any rate I thought that the New Year's gift was a lovely idea and I hope you don't mind, Rev. Renfro, but I took a cue from you and here's my New Year's gift, late though it may be . . . a study of the scriptures in a rather unusual manner.

SCRIPTURE CAKE

1/2 c. Judges 5:25, last clause
2. Jeremiah 6:20
2 T. 1 Samuel 14:25
6 Jeremiah 17:11
1 1/2 c. 1 Kings 4:22
2 tsp. Amos 4:5
11 Chronicles 9:9, to taste
Pinch of Leviticus 2:13
1/2 c. Judges 4:19, last clause
2 c. Nahum 3:12
2 c. Numbers 17:8
2 c. 1 Samuel 30:12

Whip the Judges, Jeremiah, and Samuel until light. Beat the 6 Jeremiah yolks and add. Add Kings, Amos, Chronicles, and Leviticus alternately with Judges. Fold in Nahum, Numbers, and Samuel, then also the 6 Jeremiah whites, beaten stiff. Bake 2 hours in greased 10 inch tube pan at 300 degrees.

This old recipe, believed to be from England, really does work. It has been used by many church groups for fund-raising purposes. Search your scriptures and next week I'll print the translation for you to check.

While sorting through some old recipes today some recipes for mock pies came to my attention and I thought you might enjoy trying them. I have made the mock apple and it's very hard to tell it from the real thing while it's still hot. Any of you who make the others, please drop us a line and let us know how they turned out.

Mock Apple Pie
1 1/2 c. white sugar
2 t. cream to tartar
2 c. water
22 Ritz crackers
2 T. butter
1/2 t. nutmeg
1/2 t. cloves
1/2 t. cinnamon
Lemon juice (dash)
Unbaked pie crust

Combine first 3 ingredients; boil 1 minute. Drop Ritz crackers into mixture and boil 2 minutes longer. Remove from heat. Add next 5 ingredients and stir well. Pour into unbaked pie shell and bake in 400 degree oven for 30 minutes.

Poor Man's Pecan Pie
The oats form a crusty top layer.
1 c. dk. corn syrup
1 c. sugar
1 c. quick-cooking rolled oats
1/2 c. oleo, melted
2 eggs, beaten
Unbaked pie shell
Mix all ingredients, except pie shell. Pour into shell and bake in moderate oven about 50 minutes. Cool before cutting.

Mock Mincemeat Pie
This won Prize Recipe of the Month in Women's Circle Home Cooking.
2 apples, chopped

2 green tomatoes, chopped
1 c. sugar
1/2 c. raisins, chopped
1 T. butter
1 tsp. cinnamon
1 tsp. nutmeg
1/2 tsp. cloves
1/2 tsp. salt

Mix all the ingredients and boil for 5 minutes. Pour into unbaked crust and top with unbaked crust. Bake about 50 minutes in 350 degree oven.

That's it for this week. Hop you enjoy this week's offerings and until next week . . . Bon Appetit!

Mobile Inn ladies host card party

The Aransas County Women's Club card party was hosted by the ladies from Mobile Inn Trailer Park this week.

Mrs. Lee Ona Kellum, Mrs. Bob Ison, Mrs. Ray Kump, Mrs. Norman Conimo, Mrs. Louis Glassel and Mrs. Gwen Boyes were the hostesses serving at the party. Mrs. Kump served tea and Mrs. Conimo served coffee.

The table was decorated by Mrs. Kellum and featured a centerpiece of fresh fruits in a tiered bowl. Candle holders with yellow candles were arranged on each side of the bowl. The table had a white lace cloth with yellow dotted swiss flounce.

The canasta winners were Mrs. Omar Hill of Fowles, Ind., first place and Mrs. Roy G. Wells of Deer River, Minn., second place. Mrs. George McCague of Rockport was the first place winner in bridge and Mrs. Charles Williams of Des Moines, Iowa was the second place winner. Mrs. Tom Hays of Rockport was the finale winner.

Allegro Garden Club holds meeting

A very timely and informative talk on the care of possible frozen plants and trees was given at the Allegro Garden Club's last meeting by club member Jean Duggan.

This presentation and the following discussion were followed by the calling of the meeting to order by President Wanda Sorem. Committee reports followed with Mrs. Dee Kycklehahn, Island Beautification Chairman, giving a progress report on the fountain construction.

Mrs. Mary Smith, Christmas Chairman, thanked all club members helping decorate and participants in the home lighting and decorating contest. A special thanks was extended to the members of the Rockport Art Association, who served as contest judges.

A discussion was held on upcoming projects and there being no further business, the meeting was adjourned.

Mary Kay Reed and Dot LeBlanc were hostesses.

Band I celebrates 20 years

Iris Pendley, owner of B and I Cleaners has been in business a long time, 20 years this month to be exact. Iris' laundry and cleaning business has been in the same location here in Rockport, 205 South Magnolia, for all those years, and she thinks it's about time for a celebration.

So, from 1-4 p.m., Saturday, Jan. 30, Iris invites all her customers to the shop for a special open house. "I want to thank the town for the support we've gotten over the years," she says.

During the open house, punch and cookies will be served on the laundry side for visitors with children. Drinks and hors d'oeuvres will be served on the dry cleaning portion of the store and visitors will have a chance to tour the B and I facilities to "see how it all works." Local business people and Chamber of Commerce members are expected to be present for the open house.

So, come and wish B and I a happy 20th birthday.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Satterfield to wed Picton

The engagement and upcoming marriage of Angela Lee Satterfield to John Hynes Picton of Rockport has been announced. Miss Satterfield, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Adger Satterfield of Forney will marry Picton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Picton of 1217 Sabinal on April 17. The ceremony will be held in St. Cecilia Catholic Church in Houston. The bride elect is a graduate of the University of Texas at Austin where she was a member of the Alpha Delta Pi sorority. The future groom is also a graduate of the University of Texas, where he was a fraternity member of Delta Tau Delta.

Healthful hints

[Most Often-Asked Questions On Nutrition]

By Jean Glowka

Q. What is wheat germ, why is it good for us and how is it used?

A. A kernel of wheat, like any other seed, contains the nutrient needed for germination and growth of the seedling. This heart of the wheat grain is the "wheat germ."

Wheat germ is a superior food in that it provides protein (24 grams per 1/2 cup), B vitamins, minerals, fat and carbohydrates in the ideal proportions. One of the richest known sources of vitamin E is the oil of the wheat germ.

Unfortunately, white flour, as it is milled today, has had most of the wheat germ removed. Therefore, most of the vitamins and minerals and much of the protein are lost.

Raw wheat germ (which is not too tasty) can be used liberally in cooking and baking. The widely available toasted wheat germ is more palatable, although it has lost some nutritive value by being heated.

Since wheat germ is high in phosphorus in relation to calcium (there must be a proper balance), most nutritionists feel that extra calcium should be obtained at the time wheat germ is eaten. Eight ounces of skim milk or 2 tablespoons of powdered milk or about 300 mg. from calcium tablets per every tablespoon of wheat germ is recommended.

Q. I've heard that vitamin A is good for warts, but how much should one use? And for how long?

A. Severe cases of warts in adults have been corrected permanently within a few weeks by giving 50,000 units of vitamin A and 500 units of vitamin E daily in addition to an adequate diet. After one month the vitamin A was reduced to 25,000 units. Some especially severe cases took as long as four months to correct.

Until next week, folks, stay happy and healthy! It's a beautiful world!

Pirate varsity sinks Warriors, 80-65

Playing all out in the first quarter, the Rockport-Fulton Pirates built up a 23-9 lead and then went on to defeat the Tuloso-Midway Warriors in district play in Rockport Tuesday night.

Led by good team play of starters Tim Redden, James Walls, Dennis Hull, Rory Morgan, and Micheal Simmons, the Pirates set up fast breaks and good shots with outstanding passes. This method of unselfish play staked the Pirates to the 14 point lead after a quarter.

Tuloso played even with the Pirates in the second period, but Rockport scored enough to hold a 39-26 lead at the half. Tim Redden was particularly hot in the first half as he hit for 14 of his game high of 18 points.

In the second half, James Walls caught fire after sitting out most of the first half with three fouls. Walls picked up 15 of his 17 points for the game as the Pirates widened the gap in the score. The Pirates pumped in 20 points in the third quarter to establish a 20 point lead.

In the second half when given the opportunity, the Pirates cashed in on seven of eight free throws to help maintain their lead.

Joining Redden and Walls in double figures were Rory Morgan (13) and Dennis Hull (10).

Rockport's bench again got the call and Orlando Pina, Aaron Commander, Jon Shaw, Zachary Green, and Dwayne Walls all responded by scoring points.

Rockport-Fulton second in AP Tournament

Behind the outstanding play of Holly Garrison and Stacey Johnson in Girls Varsity Doubles, Rockport-Fulton took second place in the team standings in the Aransas Pass Invitational Tennis Tournament held January 16 and 18.

Seeded No. 2 in the doubles division, Garrison and Johnson battled their way past Victoria and Calhoun County to reach the finals where they beat Gregory-Portland's top entry, 6-4, 1-6, 6-1.

The Pirate netters also got good performances in the Varsity Division from the boys doubles team of Bobby Albin and Scott Meyer. The pair topped Calhoun and Calallen before being beaten in the semifinal round by Adams and Saint of Gregory-Portland, 6-3, 7-6. John Phelps, playing in the singles division, made his way to semis by working his way past opponents from Tuloso-Midway, Ingleside and Aransas Pass, leading to his match with Basham of GP where Phelps took the first set 5-7, but then dropped the next two, 6-2, 6-4. Also playing for the Pirate Varsity were Chris Carter and Roxanne Montgomery.

Making it to the semis in junior varsity play were the team of Derek Andrew and Matt Kovacs, along with girls singles player Inasia Contreras. Andrew and Kovacs defeated Calhoun and Tuloso before falling to AP, 6-2, 6-2. Contreras managed to pull past opponents from Ingleside and Beeville, but ran into a roadblock named Burleigh of Aransas Pass. Also representing the JV of the Pirates were Jim Booth and the doubles team of Arlene Shults and Mary Gonzales.

The Pirates will next see tennis action on three separate weekends in February when they play in Robstown, Beeville, and Gregory-Portland. The team is coached by Art Weiss.

Cherokees handle Lady Pirates, 60-30

Tuloso-Midway came into Pirate Gym and immediately went into a full court press on the Lady Pirates of Rockport-Fulton, and the turnovers, and hurried shots by the Pirates led to the Cherokee win, 60-30.

Rockport, under new Varsity coach Jim Hatfield, played one of the district's toughest foes, and the press did its job, stopping the Lady Pirates from even getting into a rhythm because of the pressure.

Tuloso mounted a lead of 20-6 in the first eight minutes, hitting from everywhere on the court with uncanny accuracy, even from 20 feet.

As the game progressed, things seemed even more bleak for the Lady Pirates as they trailed 34-12 at half-time.

As the third quarter came and went, things did not appear to be getting any better, when suddenly the Ladies played more like basketball players than ladies and scored six points as the third quarter came to an end, and then maintained the momentum and controlled the game for the final eight minutes as they shut Tuloso down to only five fourth-period points, led by good defensive play by Diana Herman, Missi Krogsgaard, Mona Cowen, and Jodi Welsch.

At the game's end, Herman had made eight points, Krogsgaard and Cowen seven each, and Maggie Kiker had five.

Freshmen nip Tuloso-Midway, 58-53

Rockport-Fulton's Freshmen got even scoring from five players, but the outcome of the game was still in doubt until the buzzer sounded as they held on to nip the Warriors 58-53 in Tuloso-Midway.

Bill Mott paced the Pirates with 17 points, followed by Frank Canchola with 13, Louis Soliz had 10, and both Steve Odom and Trinelle Walls had eight points.

The Pirates trailed after the first period, the period where they usually put their opponents away, but not this time. Down 16-14, Rockport managed to outscore Tuloso 20-17 in the second period to take a narrow 34-33 lead into the locker room at halftime. Mott hit seven in that eight minute stretch and Odom added six points.

After the half, the Pirates played just well enough to hold off the Warriors.

Tuloso-Midway stymies Lady Pirate JV, 60-12

Rockport-Fulton's Lady Pirate JV got caught in the fast lane Tuesday night in Tuloso when the Cherokees captured a 60-12 win over the Pirates.

Tuloso's pressing defense kept the Lady Pirates from getting shots, and for a while it appeared that the Pirates would never score. After a period of play, Rockport trailed the Cherokees by 20-0.

Again the second period, things were bad, but the Lady Pirates did get on the scoreboard when Eleanor Lott hit for a bucket, but that was it as the half rolled around, and the Pirates were down and out 37-2.

After a scoreless third period, Rockport did hit for ten points in the final stanza, paced by four points by Kelly Mack and Carolyn Carpenter.

Cherokee freshmen defeat the Lady Pirates

With swift-moving players and a pressing defense, Tuloso-Midway's Freshmen

Cherokees completely ran away with the Tuesday night game in Rockport, 67-20.

The Cherokees scored an avalanche of points in the opening quarter, outscoring Rockport 27-4. Things didn't improve in the second period as the Tuloso-Midway team expanded their lead to 44-9 by the half.

Sylvia Ayala did most of the scoring for the Pirates as she hit for 11 points, including all five scored by the Pirates in the second period. Johnie Jordan added five points to the total.

Pirate JV broadside Tuloso, 71-45

After struggling through the first quarter and trailing 16-11, the Rockport-Fulton JV jumped into a half-court press and pressured Tuloso-Midway into numerous mistakes and the JV went on to win the game 71-45 on the Warriors' home court.

The Pirates had three players in double figures, and every team member which made the trip got in the scorebook. Jay Roberts piled in 20 points for the game, supported by Bobby Dingenary's 16 and Jay Turner's 14 points.

Once Coach Ronnie Ormand had the team go into the press, the game took a drastic change for the better for the Pirates. In the second and third quarters, Tuloso could collect only a total of 10 points because they could not handle the pressure applied by the Pirates.

Rockport led at the half by 33-21.

Basketball scheduling uncertain

A number of people have come to basketball games in time for the 8 p.m. game, only to find that the team they wanted to see was just finishing up the 6:30 game.

Because of District 15-4A's strange approach to basketball scheduling, times for the girls' and boys' varsities change from game day to game day. The only sure way to know who is playing when is to get access to a basketball schedule.

Extension service launches crime prevention program

COLLEGE STATION — Crime — perhaps the most persistent and troublesome problem currently facing Texans — is under attack. Launching a new educational program in crime prevention is the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System.

"Since preventing crime is the role of every good citizen, the new program will focus on actions that can be taken by both individuals and organized groups to reduce crime in their neighborhoods and communities," points out Dr. J. Fred Cross of Stephenville, Extension community development specialist and chairman of the Extensions Crime Prevention Task Force.

The Extension Crime Prevention Program will focus on the following six areas: vandalism prevention, home security, farm security, personal protection, neighborhood and community watch, and prevention of con games and other frauds.

County Extension agents will be providing leadership in conducting local programs aimed at crime prevention, says Cross. Local law enforcement officials also will be involved.

Each program area is supported by visual aids and handout materials that have been developed with assistance from the Texas Crime Prevention Institute.

"Anyone interested in learning more about this new education program should contact their local county extension agent," adds Cross. "The programs are available to any group wanting to learn more about crime prevention."

Choice of tax preparer an important decision

The choosing of a paid preparer by taxpayers to do their federal income tax returns should be done carefully, the Internal Revenue Service says.

Most tax return preparers are honest and do not deliberately attempt to defraud either their clients or the IRS. However, a few abuse the responsibility of preparing a tax return for someone else, and the IRS has suggestions on how to identify these preparers.

Taxpayers should not sign a blank return, or one which is partially completed, or one prepared in pencil. These could be altered by the preparer. Preparers should be asked to sign the return in the taxpayer's presence, and give his or her identification number, as required by law. The taxpayer must be given a copy of the completed return.

Preparers who promise a refund, claim a special relationship with the IRS or boast of ways to beat the tax system should be avoided.

The choosing of a preparer is particularly important because the taxpayer, not the preparer, is responsible for the accuracy of the tax return. As much care should go into the choosing of a tax preparer as the selection of an attorney, doctor, or any other professional person.

Will Hovey begins one-day painting workshops

Will Hovey says that anyone can paint a beautiful picture. He also says that with his instruction, they can paint an impressive seascape in just one day. His special one-day painting workshops proving that will begin at the Paws and Taws building on Monday, Jan. 25.

From 9 a.m.-3 p.m., every Monday, Hovey will instruct painters from all skill levels — he says, "beginners are just wonderful" — in the art of painting.

Using slides to paint from, students in Hovey's classes will complete a seascape in just one day's session. "People are so surprised and delighted when they find they can paint a picture of the same quality they see in shows," says Hovey. He has taught other one-day workshops like this one in several other locations, the most recent one being Padre Island.

The best part about Hovey's one day workshops is the price, just $8. For that small fee, Hovey will provide everything the student needs — paint, brushes, canvas board and of course, instruction.

Class size is held down to about 30 students per day. "That's about all we can handle," says Hovey. While one picture can be accomplished in each session, Hovey says many students come back again and again solidifying their painting skills.

Hovey, an 18-year resident of the South Texas area, has lived in Rockport for about one year. He has been painting for almost 40 years, and has taught in El Paso, Corpus Christi and Baird, New Mexico. He claims his main love is sculpture. Many of his sculpture pieces are on display throughout the U.S., both in private collections and in business-type displays. A Disney whale of his is in a Corpus Christi park.

To make a reservation for a place in one of Hovey's Monday workshops, call the artist at 729-1702.

Blake, 41, copilot of the Baker Marine plane; and James R. Westcot, 53, pilot of the smaller plane. Luethcke and Blake were both of Corpus Christi. Westcot is from Niles, Ill., but officials say his wife is presently residing in Port Aransas.

Bursley said Thursday the investigation team was just getting started, "setting up the team, getting organized, getting the names and addresses of witnesses." As of Thursday morning, the federal investigators had not yet contacted any of the witnesses but were planning to.

In addition to Cory, other members of the National Transportation Safety team include an operations specialist, an air traffic control specialist, a weather specialist, a structures specialist and a human factors specialist whose duties will include a determination of how much visibility the pilots were afforded by their aircrafts.

Dave Carson, director of maintenance and part-time copilot for Baker Marine, was at Aransas County Airport Tuesday afternoon when the collision occurred. "I fly — used to fly — on that plane quite a bit as copilot," Carson said. "Tuesday, I was lucky."

Carson was in radio contact with Luethcke "about 30 seconds before he went in." He said the pilot was calling for altimeter setting, temperature, winds — routine requests on landing conditions.

The air was "hazy, but not bad," Carson recalled in an interview. "It was VFR." The initials stand for visible flight rules — the only rules that can be used at Aransas County Airport because the facility isn't set up for instrument landings.

Weino Karkenen of Fulton was wade fishing in the bay when the collision occurred. A former pilot, Karkenen says, "I was just leaving the area when I noticed this light plane (Westcot's) coming downwind, headed west across the airport. "I thought it was strange this pilot was coming downwind," he continued. "That's a no-no in airports." Then he noticed the second plane — the twin-engine Baker Marine craft.

"I saw they were pretty much on a collision course. I hoped the little guy (Westcot) would see the big one and get out of his way. But he flew right under the tail — hit the prop and busted all to pieces. "The big plane took a nosedive right in front of me," he said. "I was in four feet of water and it came down about 75 feet in front of me and exploded. The little one still kept a straight course after it was hit, losing altitude very, very slowly. Just splashed in, no explosion. "But the big plane — if he'd stayed nose up a fraction of a second longer, He'd've got me square." County Attorney Jim Anderson was called to assist shortly after the crash. "The sheriff's office radioed me, said they needed an airboat." Anderson asked them to contact the St. Charles Bay Rod and Gun Club, where he keeps his boat, and ask employees Mike Jones and Coke Lee to bring the boat to him.

"We put the boat in the water about 2 p.m.," Anderson said. While he operated the boat, John dived and found Westcot's body. "But he couldn't do anything," Anderson said. "He couldn't stay down because he didn't have a wetsuit and the water was about 45 degrees."

Anderson said he, Jones and Lee stayed on until about 4 p.m. Wednesday — which wasn't unusual for those at the crash site. "I went to bed at 2 (a.m.) and was up at 4," Carson recalled. "I think I got one hour more sleep than Sheriff Hewes."

The planes were raised and transported by a Makhole barge to that company's docks Wednesday morning. Fog hampered the salvage efforts and the barge was stuck on a sandbar at one point, not reaching port until about 11 a.m.

From there the remains of the aircraft were taken to Baker Marine's hangar at Aransas County Airport. Because of its size, the Baker Marine plane had to be hauled by a flatbed truck and pickup traveling together.

Justice of the Peace Bill Walston of Rockport ordered autopsies performed on the three crash victims.

The autopsies were performed by Nueces County Medical Examiner Dr. Joseph Rupp.

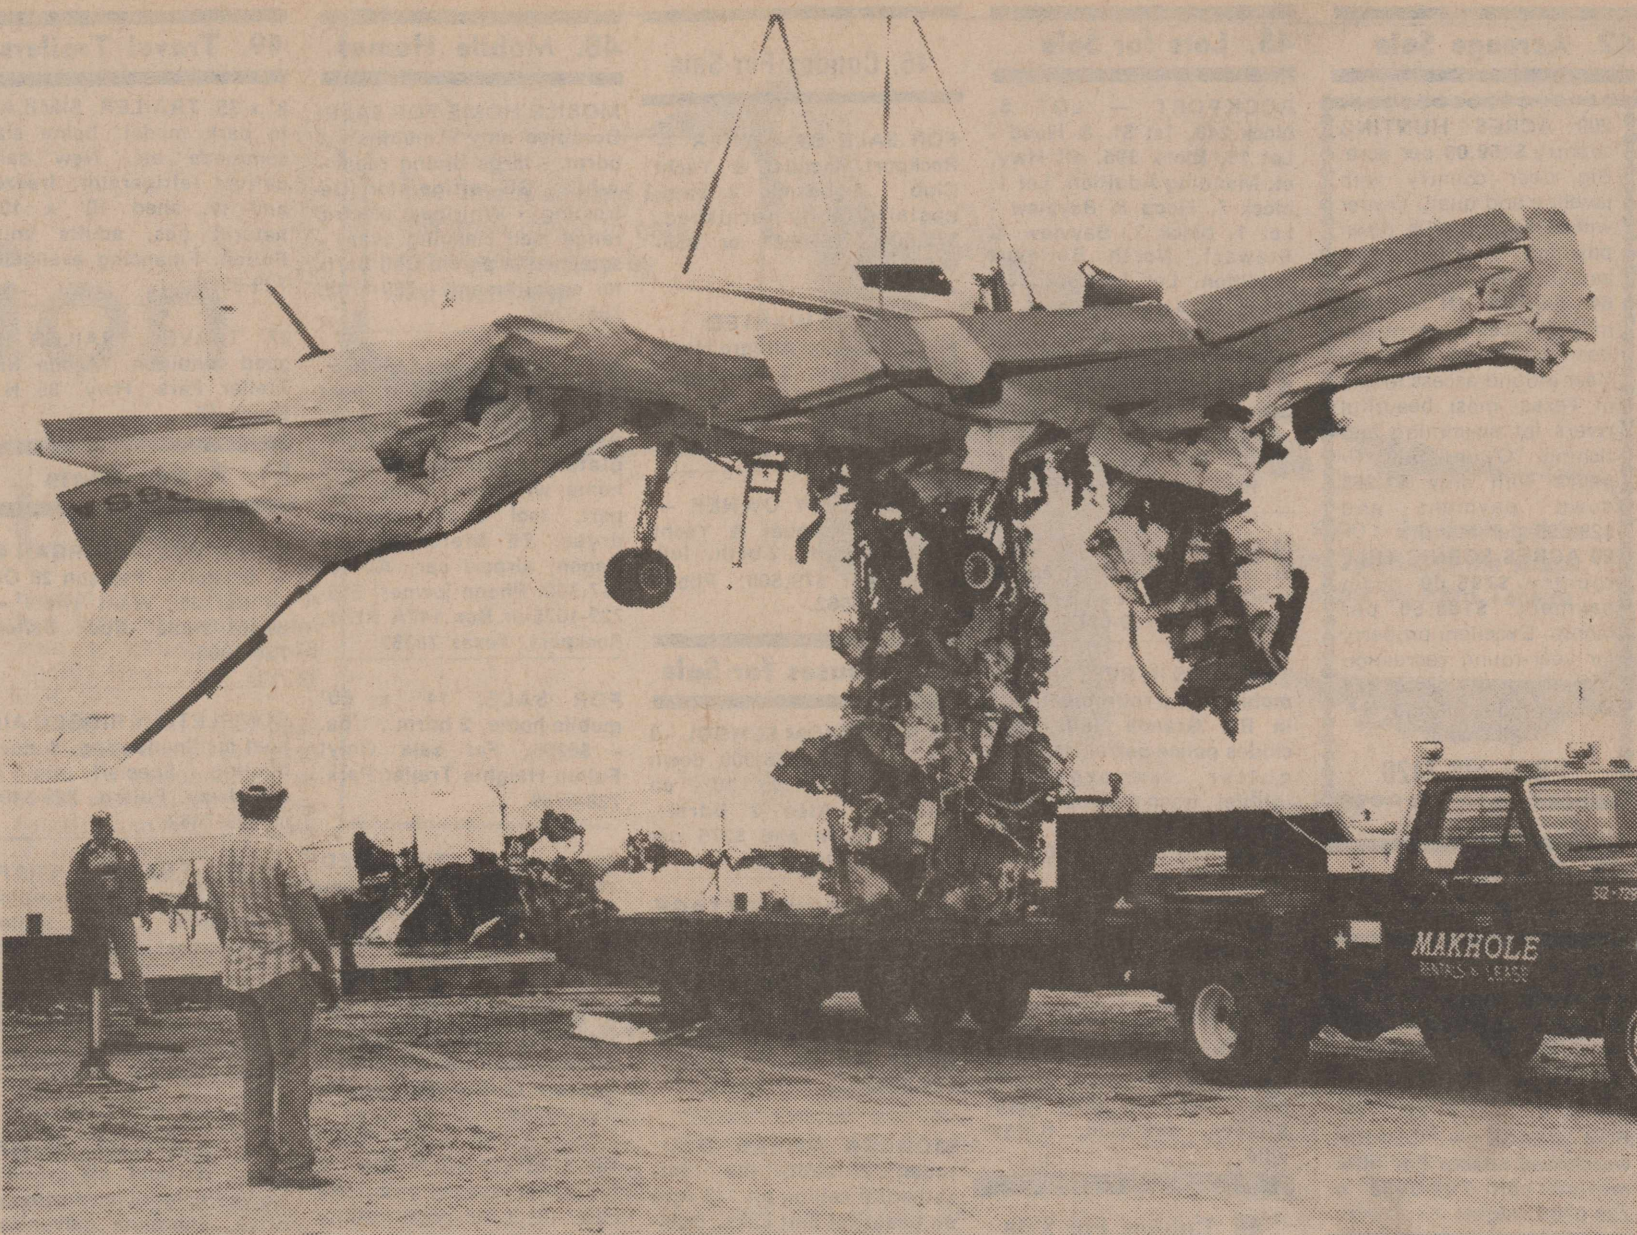

Carson said Tuesday's collision was the first air accident for Baker Marine which has been using aircraft for three years now.

Planes are used for transporting corporate personnel, he continued. On Monday, Luethcke had brought some people from Houston into Corpus Christi and left the plane at the Corpus airport because of heavy fog.

On Tuesday, the day of the crash, Luethcke was "bringing the plane home," Carson said. "I guessed Elmo (Blake) wanted to ride up here with John," he said. "We didn't know he was in there to start with."

"John was a real good pilot — better than average," he added. "He did everything by the book." Blake too was a good pilot, he said — "Baker don't hire dingalings to fly their airplanes."

Asked if he had any feelings about what might have caused the crash, Carson said, "Yeah — but I won't tell you. Who's at fault?" He shrugged. "That's up to the feds. One airplane ran into another."

Redistricting

outlined by Marvel would find it necessary to make drastic changes in the present lines which were drawn over 10 years ago, in order to bring each precinct into a numerical balance. As now proposed, each precinct would be as close as possible to the "ideal" size of 3,565.

Precinct One is left with 3,600. Two with 3,543. Three with 3,577 and Precinct Four with 3,540. Total population from the four precincts is 14,260 in accordance with the '80 census figures. Of that total, 2,722 county residents are of Spanish origin, 277 are black and 288 are classified as "other" by the Census Bureau.

In a phone interview after the meeting, Marvel commented on the use of the 1980 census data, saying that while it's two years old, the malapportionment caused by the use of it is less than would be caused by using some other arbitrary data. "These are the only concise figures you have," said Marvel. "I doubt if there is any serious malapportionment resulting from the use of them."

Marvel said that Plan II reflected two major changes from the first plans, both at the request of the commissioners. One problem brought up at the first redistricting workshop, held some three months ago, was the fact that the large water bodies in Aransas County lie in several precincts. Under the new plan, all the water in the county, with the exception of a small portion of Copano Bay, will lie in Precinct Three. The courthouse will also lie in Three, and these two factors, according to County Attorney James Anderson eases the legal difficulties involved when an accident or crime occurs on the water. It will now be easier to pinpoint the jurisdiction of any water-related crime or accident.

Voters in Precinct Three will now vote in the courthouse, moving the Precinct Two voting station to the VFW Hall. Fulton Firehouse will serve as the Precinct Four voting station. A voting box for Precinct One has yet to be decided upon.

All of Precinct One will now lie out of the Rockport city limits, said Marvel.

This spreads the growth area within the city limits over the three remaining precincts. This, according to the redistricting expert, will "even out" with the rapid southern expansion of the Precinct One area.

Following the next phase of the plan, an attorney will prepare the redistricting package for submission to the U.S. Justice Department. Submission date is not yet set, but Marvel expects that it will be "well after the next election". The Justice Department then has a 60 day review period, during which it can either approve or turn back the plan.

"The alternative I can see," Little said, "is to try to take some other kind of action."

ing won't be felt until the 1984 elections," said Marvel. "That will be the first election series under the new plan."

"Saying that the redistricting of Aransas County was "on the whole, very smooth", Marvel compared it to the work done on other redistricted counties, many of which are forced to redistrict. "There seemed to be a real consensus among the two parties here and the commissioners — it's going very smoothly. Many counties are forced to do this and they have someone looking over their shoulder — it's not always this easy," said Marvel.

member of the utility district board, denied the board had ever voted to accept the water plant.

"None of this was ever accepted to my knowledge while I was on the board," said Addis. "This whole thing was back to engineering and design — the plant was not properly designed. That's why we never paid the final money."

"The board never, ever accepted the thing (the plant)," Addis emphasized. "We would not accept it and would not pay them (Envirogenics)." In Addis' belief, Envirogenics "did not live up to the terms of their contract in the first place."

Board president Richard Hughes again, as in earlier meetings, pointed out that an acid tank serving the facility had been improperly lined and had to be removed for repairs. "I don't feel the membranes would've been stopped up if the tank had been properly lined," he said. "I agree we ought to sue 'em," he added.

An offer of possible legal assistance came from a representative, Gary Counts, who told board members, "I have to agree with Walt. We would go all the way and claim loss of income because of the State of Texas and Sea Gun."

Counts was referring to the fact that both Texas Parks & Wildlife officials at Goose Island State Park and the owner of Sea Gun had at one time requested water service from the utility district — service that cannot at this time be provided.

"We have a couple of attorneys on our board," Counts continued. "one of whom is a crusty old devil who, since we have an inherent interest in this, might be willing to take this on."

Counts emphasized he could make no promises but that he would look into the possibility.

"We feel like the tack to take is to pursue these people," Counts said, "not to simply lay the money down. It's about time," he said later in the discussion, "that Southmost and the people in this room (referring to board members and residents in the Estates) stood up and said, I'm tired of this. I'm not going to take it any more."

"Why put $40,000 out to a company that didn't do what it was supposed to?" Addis joined in, and Little advised board members, "If you can strike up some kind of agreeable relationship with Southmost, you'd better do it."

"Gary," Hughes said, "talk to your attorneys."

Senator Wilson to seek re-election

AUSTIN — State Senator John Wilson (D-La Grange) announced his intent to seek re-election as Senator from the 18th District. Wilson said at his Capitol press conference that he would pay his filing fee at State Democratic Party headquarters later in the day. Wilson is currently serving his first term as Senator from the district which will be composed of Aransas, Bastrop, Caldwell, Calhoun, DeWitt, Fayette, Goliad, Gonzales, Jackson, Karnes, Lavaca, Lee, Matagorda, Refugio, and Victoria Counties and portions of Brazoria, Fort Bend and Williamson Counties. The text of Wilson's statement was as follows:

"I would like to announce my intention to run for re-election as State Senator from the 18th Senatorial District. I have enjoyed my first term in the Senate and would like the opportunity to continue to serve my district. I have given this decision very serious consideration. Before I made my decision, I asked myself four questions which I felt must be considered before I made a decision.

The first question was - have I reached my full potential to serve as a member of the Senate? My answer was no. I feel that my experience - 8 years in the House and 2 years in the Senate - has prepared me to serve in an even greater capacity in the future. I feel that I can serve in a position of leadership during the next session, especially due to the expected high turnover in Senate membership. Qualified leaders will be needed in the Senate. I welcome the opportunity to serve in such a capacity.

The next question which I asked myself was - are there issues to be considered during the next session which by experience particularly qualifies me to be of service in resolving? My answer to this question was yes. The next session will be one of the most important in terms of Sunset review of State Agencies. As the original House speaker of the Sunset Act, I remain interested in the process of agency review. I am very interested in the review of the Public Utility Commission because of my involvement in its creation in 1975. I am also looking forward to the review of the Railroad Commission and other major agencies during the coming session. I feel that I have much to contribute to the consideration of these issues.

The third question I asked myself was - do I have the desire and motivation to continue to serve in the Senate? My answer was yes. I have enjoyed serving in the Senate. I feel that I have contributed to the process and have the desire to continue to contribute in the future.

The final question which I had to address was probably the most important and is certainly one I had to address before making this decision. Is my health such that I can continue to serve with 100 percent of my ability and effort? My answer was yes. While I cannot say that my cancer has been cured, my progress has been as well as can be expected. There has been negligible growth of the tumor and my condition is stable. I feel that my health should allow me to serve another term in the Senate.

The redistricting process has substantially altered the boundaries of the 18th Senatorial District. Five new counties and portions of two others have been added to the District, while two counties and a portion of another now go to other districts. I regret that I will no longer be representing my friends and constituents in those areas which will no longer be in the 18th District, but I will continue to understand and represent their interests even if they are not in my District. I also look forward to representing the people in Aransas, Brazoria, Caldwell, Calhoun, Fort Bend, Matagorda and Refugio Counties who have been added to the 18th Senatorial District. These counties have many similar concerns to those in the portion of the District which already represent. I feel that my record in the House and Senate adequately reflects my ability to represent the interests of the District."

Prior to his election to the State Senate in 1980, Wilson served four terms as State Representative from District 30. He was twice selected to Texas Monthly magazine's "Ten Best Legislators" list. Wilson served as Chairman of the House Committee on Health and Welfare during the 65th Legislative Session.

Wilson currently serves as Vice-Chairman of the Senate Human Resources Committee. He is also a member of the Natural Resources and Economic Development Committee. Senator Wilson was recently appointed to the Texas Legislative Council.
