Those left turn lanes on College Avenue are handy—when they are used properly. But apparently some drivers still don't know what their purpose is. Some drivers avoid them like the plague, which can cause confusion if they turn left from a regular traffic lane. They also have a tendency to look askance at other drivers who do use them properly.

Clifford Terry writes that he has experienced the latter problem a few times lately and suggested that the subject should be mentioned again.

"Twice in the past few days I have turned into the (left turn) lane and the car coming in the right hand lane gave a terriffic blast on the horn and I didn't have to be an expert at lip reading to know that the things the driver was saying to me were not very flattering," said Terry.

So, if you are a driver, remember that the left turn lane is for the exact purpose that its label indicates. It is a sort of island where you may wait in your vehicle until an opportune time to turn left without stacking up traffic behind you.

Suddenly there is a profusion of blossoms on fruit trees in this area, which has many people keeping their fingers crossed in hopes that the groundhog is more powerful this year than the adage about thunder in February. You will recall that the groundhog did not see his shadow on Feb. 2 this year in West Texas, Pennsylvania and most other regions. However, there was plenty of thunder here in February, and according to one old legend, or what have you, that indicates a late freeze can be expected.

Rep. John Whitmire of Houston introduced a bill to outlaw pay toilets in public places. And, as you might expect, one of the arguments advanced for the bill was that "If the Creator had meant folks to use pay toilets, they'd have been born with dimes—or quarters—in their hands." The way everything else has been going, you could probably add half dollars to that lineup soon.

Today In History

By The Associated Press

Today is Tuesday, March 11th, the 70th day of 1975. There are 295 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

In 1794, the U.S. Navy was founded as Congress authorized the building of six ships.

On this date-

In 1810, Emperor Napoleon of France was married by proxy to Archduchess Marie Louise of Austria.

In 1845, the Maori natives in New Zealand were revolting against British rule.

In 1861, the constitution of the Southern Confereracy was adopted at Montgomery, Ala.

In 1865, General William Sherman occupied Fayetteville, N.C., during the Civil War.

In 1930, former President William Howard Taft was buried in Arlington National Cemetery.

In 1942, General Douglas MacArthur left the Corregidor fortress in the Philippines by torpedo boat, en route to Australia, in World War II.

Ten years ago: A white Boston minister, the Reverend James Reeb, died after being beaten by whites during civil rights disturbances in Selma, Ala.

Five years ago: A United Airlines plane hijacked to Havana, Cuba with 106 persons aboard returned to Miami immediately after six persons debarked.

One year ago: Mrs. Richard Nixon left on a six-day goodwill tour of Latin America as the President's personal representative.

House Sidesteps Veto On Oil Tariff Delay

By EDMOND LeBRETON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House sidestepped a veto confrontation with President Ford today amid reports of progress in moves for a compromise between the administration and Democrats on their energy programs.

Ford's veto of a 90-day delay in his proposed $3-a-barrel tax on imported oil was shunted to the Ways and Means Committee instead of being brought to a vote.

House Democratic leaders made the move. The Republican leadership said it had no objection. Earlier, both sides had claimed they would win if the issue of overriding the veto were voted on.

Democrats and the administration were reported to be exploring the possibility of a compromise that would include a delay in the impact of proposed taxes.

Without specifics, Rep. Richard Fulton, D-Tenn., a member of the Ways and Means Committee, told newsmen, "I think they are getting closer together."

Ford already has agreed to delay for 60 days the last two of three planned $1-a-barrel tariff increases. The first $1-a-barrel increase is in effect, but Ford's own delay took some steam out of the Democratic override movement.

Senate leaders put off the override vote indefinitely while House Republicans sought to bring it to the floor quickly because of their belief that the veto could now be sustained.

The status of Ford's energy program in Congress was expected to be discussed at a meeting today between him and his advisers.

Kissinger Resumes Shuttle

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger resumes his Arab-Israeli shuttle diplomacy today after urging Turkish leaders to agree to a revival of negotiations between the Greek and Turkish Cypriots in New York or Vienna.

There was no word of the Turkish response. But members of the United Nations Security Council were standing by in New York in hopes that a message from Ankara would permit adoption of a resolution and conclusion of their three-week debate on the crisis resulting from the proclamation of a separate Turkish Cypriot state.

Kissinger, meanwhile, was figuring on a long stay in the Middle East this time, possibly as long as his 34-day visit last spring that produced the Syrian-Israeli disengagement agreement.

The secretary of state is expected to be in the air almost daily, flying from Israel to Egypt and back again with side trips to Syria as he tries to negotiate an agreement providing for another Israeli withdrawal in the Sinai desert.

Additional Automation For WTC Plant Okayed

Scurry County Junior College District Trustees last night approved a contract for additional automation of heating and cooling equipment at Western Texas College and ratified the purchase of some signs on a joint bid with the City of Snyder.

The automation project will involve installation of some additional equipment which was in the original plans but was deleted from construction contracts. When the additional equipment is installed, the heating and cooling system will have alarms to alert maintenance personnel to malfunctions, equipment to provide for automatic scheduling of start-stop and on-off functions and a printer for alarm and logging functions. It also will provide automatic control of exterior lighting circuits on the campus.

The additional automation equipment, plus a year's maintenance contract on existing equipment will cost $31,852. The only bid received, which was accepted, was submitted by Honeywell, maker of the equipment already in use at WTC.

Dr. Robert Clinton, WTC president, said installation of the new equipment would eliminate the necessity of boiler monitors and that salaries for this type of personnel could amortize the new expenditure in a year and a half to two years. Also, it is anticipated that automated control of exterior lighting on the campus will reduce electricity requirements.

The college purchased 66 signs from Hall Signs of Tempe, Ariz., which submitted the lowest of six proposals. The overall bid for 66 WTC signs and 17 signs for the city was $1,657.26, with WTC's share $1,282.58.

Action was delayed on revision of some personnel policies concerning compassionate leave, semi-personal leave and vacations-holidays.

Wilma Crawford, WTC financial aids officer, gave a brief report to the board on student aid programs. She said most federal programs appear to be moving toward grants rather than loans and that the College Work Study program is being reduced sharply. At present, WTC has 168 students in the various loan, work-study and grant programs, involving $92,980.

Other reports were presented on the WTC health insurance program, the Roundtop Road paving project, state legislation, programs for the disadvantaged personnel and continuing education. Rex Hopkins, director, said programs for disadvantaged personnel are in operation by WTC at Post, Snyder and Colorado City under a grant recently made available.

He also reported that continuing education classes on the WTC campus continue to gain popularity, with 10 programs in operation now.

The board also discussed an offer by Snyder Public Schools to trade an accounting machine to WTC for some services, which would likely include use of the WTC golf course for high school teams, the swimming pool and other college facilities which are not duplicated in the public schools. This will be explored further before final action is taken.

Next meeting of the college board is scheduled for April 21.

City Absentee Voting Begins

Absentee balloting will begin tomorrow in the City of Snyder's general election in which three members of the city council will be elected.

There is only one contested race on the city ballot. It is for Place 1 on the council, which has Jerry McWilliams and Bobby Burnett both seeking the post being vacated by J.D. Hinton. Incumbent Truett Bryan is unopposed for Place 3, as is Rod Waller who is seeking Place 5, the post being vacated by Joe Sentell.

Absentee voting at the city hall will continue through March 28. The election is set for April 1.

Lon Nol Calls For Shakeup

By MATT FRANJOLA
Associated Press Writer

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — President Lon Nol has asked Prime Minister Long Boret to form a new cabinet in a sweeping shakeup that included the ouster of the commander in chief of the armed forces, political and diplomatic sources said today.

The cabinet shuffle was seen as the start of a major change in leadership that is intended to expand civilian control over the government and could lead to the fall of Lon Nol himself. Some sources said the U.S. Embassy was behind the shakeup.

Political sources said Long Boret tendered his resignation late Monday saying his government "is incapable of leading the country any more" following the removal of a province chief without consulting his cabinet.

The sources said Lon Nol accepted the resignation and immediately renamed Long Boret to form a new government.

The prime minister and the former cabinet met with Lon Nol at his palace late today to deliberate on the composition of the new government, the sources said.

The reported resignation came as a surprise to political observers in Phnom Penh, who only two days ago had been told such a reshuffle would wait until after the U.S. Congress voted on a $222 million emergency military aid bill for Cambodia.

Political and diplomatic sources said Gen. Sosthene Fernandez, commander in chief of the armed forces since 1972, was fired from his position in a heated meeting at Lon Nol's palace on Sunday.

Fernandez was blamed for the poor performance of government troops in handling the current Khmer Rouge offensive and failure to push general mobilization, palace sources said.

The government made no formal announcement of the firing but sources said a formal turnover ceremony will take place on Wednesday. Gen. Sak Sutsakhan, defense minister under former chief of state Prince Norodom Sihanouk and more recently a roving ambassador, was named to replace Fernandez, they said.

In recent days, there has been a growing campaign in the National Assembly and among high-ranking civilian and military officials to dump Lon Nol, the 62-year-old semi-paralyzed president who overthrew Sihanouk in 1970. Well-informed sources said he might be pressured into stepping down in the near future.

The main criticism against Lon Nol is that he is increasingly isolated from the situation around him and that he is doing nothing about the incompetence and corruption among his associates.

Several politicians describe him as the main obstacle to peace in Cambodia and have urged that he go into "voluntary exile," ostensibly for medical treatment of a stroke he suffered in 1972.

The insurgents have repeatedly said they would not negotiate with Lon Nol or any other past and present leaders of the Phnom Penh side.

Area Enveloped By Foggy Mist

A cold, foggy mist enveloped the Snyder area early today as a late winter spell of weather made its presence felt throughout the state.

With the thermometer stalled in the mid-thirties, the dampness made it appear to be much colder than it really was. The damp, cold weather was prevalent over most of Northwest Texas.

Down state, menacing thunderstorms and threats of flash flooding plagued parts of East Texas and forecasters warned that nasty weather was spreading into most other sections.

There also were showers or light rain in an area from southeast of Austin toward Laredo, Cotulla and Alice in Central and South Texas, and in an 80-mile-wide belt along and southwest of a line from Vernon in the Texas Panhandle to Corsicana on the north central part of the state.

At the same time thick fog and light drizzle made temperatures around freezing or a little above even more uncomfortable across the Panhandle-Plains sector, where visibility dropped below a mile in early morning at many points. There was patchy fog also in places along the Texas coast.

Parts of Northeast Texas were placed under a severe thunderstorm watch for a time during the night. In addition, the often heavy rains caused that section to go under a flash flood watch for the rest of the day.

Official observers blamed an area of high pressure along the coast and a center of low pressure developing in Southwest Texas for forcing moist, unstable air inland from the Gulf of Mexico and spreading clouds throughout the state.

They predicted a weak Pacific cold front would push into Texas from New Mexico, where a winter storm watch was in effect, during the afternoon and move all the way to the coast by late Wednesday.

At least partly cloudy skies with scattered showers and thunderstorms were forecast in all sections tonight. The forecasts held out prospects, however, for clearing and cooling weather following the latest front from the west and spreading over most of Texas by Wednesday.

Early morning temperatures slipped to 29 degrees at Amarillo and 34 at Childress and Lubbock in the Panhandle-Plains sector. Readings elsewhere stood generally in the 40s to 50s except near the coast and deep South Texas, where it was 70 at Alice and Corpus Christi and 72 at Brownsville.

Reds Make Widespread Attacks

SAIGON, South Vietnam (AP) — North Vietnamese troops backed by tanks launched widespread attacks across South Vietnam today, toppling district capitals, bases and outposts, cutting highways and threatening to seize their second provincial capital in two months, military officials said.

In Washington, the Pentagon said flights of contract DC8 cargo planes carrying rice from Saigon to Phnom Penh were suspended because of Communist rocket and artillery fire on the Phnom Penh airport. However, Pentagon spokesman William Beecher said flights bringing ammunition and fuel from Thailand continued despite the shelling.

Reports from the Cambodian capital said about 15 per cent less cargo was delivered.

Beecher said the interruption in rice flights would continue while officials look at the situation at the airport.

This was the second interruption in the rice airlift. The flights were suspended last week after a DC8 was struck by shrapnel fragments.

Plan To Abolish County School Board Is Opposed

The Scurry County School Board went on record Monday as opposing Item No. 2 on the ballot which will be presented to county voters April 22 concerning the county school superintendent's office.

Item No. 1 on the ballot would abolish the office of county superintendent if approved by the voters. Item No. 2 would abolish the county board itself.

The election was called following presentation of a petition to the county judge several weeks ago. Roy Carter, who was elected county superintendent in the 1974 elections, had campaigned on a platform calling for the office to be abolished and he pledged that he would take steps to do so if elected.

The petition which was circulated calling for the election also provided for the second issue to be listed on the ballot, which would abolish the county board. This would leave school matters requiring action by county-wide authority in the hands of the county judge.

Members of the county board met briefly with superintendents of the four school districts in the county and several other interested persons.

Supt. Roy Sallee of Ira said he opposed Item No. 2 on the ballot because he felt that responsibility for making decisions on such matters as detachments of property from school districts, consolidations and annexations should not rest on the shoulders of a single individual.

If Item No. 1, which abolishes the office of county superintendent, is approved by the voters and Item No. 2 fails, the county judge becomes ex-officio superintendent, but the county board continues to function in its present capacity. This is the system that most of those attending the session Monday indicated that they favored.

In the formal board session, a motion by Bob Bell, which drew a second from Perry Echols, opposing Item No. 2 on the ballot, was approved unanimously. Board President Marvin Hanson said he felt that the board was in complete agreement with Sallee's statement and that he personally hoped that voters would not abolish the board.

Carter said that he would see that statements and any other clarifying information are publicized before the election date.

John Dean Says Ambition Factor

WACO, Tex. (AP) — Convicted Watergate defendant John W. Dean III says ambition was a major factor in his involvement in the Watergate scandal that ended with the resignation of his boss, ex-President Richard M. Nixon.

"It would be nice to say I did what I did in loyalty to the President. But I also did the things I did during Watergate because I was looking out for John Dean. I was also ambitious and I got blinded by my own ambitions," said Dean.

Dean, former White House counsel to Nixon who later helped bring the Watergate scandal into the open with his testimony before Senate investigators, spoke Monday to about 2,000 Baylor University students.

"I knew what pleased my superiors and I did my damndest to please them," he said.

Dean said he wasn't proud "to have prepared a memo on how to screw your enemies."

He recounted his involvement in the Watergate affair, saying the scandal had been both the best and worst experience of his life.

Junior CB Club Meets

She's not tickled by George's mustache

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1975 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Four months ago, when we were on vacation, my husband neglected to shave for a few days, so our daughter, said: "Oh, Daddy, you'd look neat in a mustache, please grow one!"

Well, George grew a mustache. I didn't like it one bit, and I told him so, but he hasn't said anything about shaving it off. I don't hassle him about it, but he knows how I feel.

Some of our friends like George's mustache, and some don't, but George seems to hear only the compliments he gets on it.

Personally, I think he should listen to me. As his wife, I surely want what is best for him and I wouldn't steer him wrong.

Abby, why would a man insist on wearing a mustache (or a beard) when he knows his wife doesn't like it?

ONE WIFE

DEAR WIFE: Facial hair on men communicates a variety of messages. Among the most obvious are: "Like it or lump it, I'm old enough to shave and have the whiskers to prove it, and I'm doing my own thing."

It's a symbol of independence, and in some cases, it's a decoration one courageously confers upon himself.

DEAR ABBY: What one thing most inspires you to write?

NOSY IN N.J.

DEAR NOSY: The Bureau of Internal Revenue.

DEAR ABBY: I prepared a huge, lovely dinner party myself. When my guests departed, they all thanked me and raved about how wonderful everything was.

The next morning, each one telephoned to tell me again how much they enjoyed the dinner, repeating the compliments about the food, etc.

Abby, I had no help, and there was plenty of cleaning up to do after that party, and I was very much annoyed with those unnecessary calls. Each one talked for 15 minutes to half an hour, and when they all finished, my morning was gone.

After having already thanked me, I felt it was totally unnecessary for them to call the next morning and take my time as they did.

On top of it all, one of the guests took a tremendous amount of meat for her second helping, and then asked for a doggie bag.

What is your opinion of both cases?

DISGUSTED

DEAR DISGUSTED: In addition to verbal thanks on departing, a written note to reiterate one's appreciation is far more appreciated, and less intrusive than a telephone call. And as for the doggie bag number — Wow, and bow wow! Shame on her.

DEAR ABBY: My wife recently lost her mother whom we loved dearly. My wife was an only child and "Moms" left us a substantial sum of money.

Although we are a young family with young children and have had a difficult time making ends meet, we cannot bring ourselves to spend any of our inheritance.

We don't dislike money, and could have enjoyed spending some of Moms' money while she was still alive if she had just made an occasional small gift to us and said: "Here, I know you can use a few luxuries, so please take it, and spend it and enjoy it."

Abby, what do you think of this? Are we normal to feel as we do? Sign us...

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I think you're probably sufficiently "normal" to get over your present attitude, and adopt the "better-late-than-never" philosophy. (P.S. Write to me in a year from now, and if you still can't spend it, I can recommend some dandy charities.)

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212. Please enclose a long, self-addressed, stamped (20¢) envelope.

Portugal Armed Forces At War

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Air force planes bombed the barracks of an artillery regiment near Lisbon today in a dispute between rival factions of the armed forces. Premier Vasco Goncalves later announced that the situation was "under the absolute control of the Armed Forces Movement."

Goncalves said reactionary forces had tried to take over the regiment by ground and air "in a desperate attempt to stop the revolutionary process started on April 25." That was the day the military toppled Portugal's 45-year dictatorship.

Two propellor-driven planes bombed and strafed the 1st Light Artillery Regiment near the airport, blasting holes in the red tile roofs of the barracks and shattering windows. Paratroopers surrounded the barracks.

"Several men were killed. We don't know how many," said an officer at the scene.

County Court Pleas Heard

Elma Saenz pleaded guilty in county court yesterday to a charge of illegal possession of marijuana. She received a $100 fine plus court costs and a 30-day jail term. She was arrested March 6 by City Police.

Also yesterday, Miguel Mata Herrera and Jerry Clay Hardiman pleaded innocent to charges of illegal possession of marijuana. Herrera was arrested February 26 by City Police. Hardiman pleaded innocent to two charges of illegal possession of marijuana. He was arrested March 5 by both the City Police and the Sheriff's Authorities. Trial in each of his cases and trial of Herrera has been set before a jury for April 8.

Felipe R. Gutierrez and Refugio Hermosillo both pleaded guilty in county court this morning to charges of illegal possession of marijuana. Each received a $200 fine plus court costs and a 60-day jail term. Both were arrested March 6 by City Police.

One Is Held In Marijuana Case

City Police arrested a 17-year old man an the bowling alley at 10:27 p.m. Monday. They said a charge of illegal possession of marijuana would be filed against him today.

Police also are investigating the theft of a citizens band radio, a citizens band antenna and three 8-track tapes from cars of Western Texas College students. They were stolen over the weekend from cars parked on the dormitory parking lot.

Goncalves said reactionary forces had tried to take over the regiment by ground and air "in a desperate attempt to stop the revolutionary process started on April 25." That was the day the military toppled Portugal's 45-year dictatorship.

Two propellor-driven planes bombed and strafed the 1st Light Artillery Regiment near the airport, blasting holes in the red tile roofs of the barracks and shattering windows. Paratroopers surrounded the barracks.

"Several men were killed. We don't know how many," said an officer at the scene.

Officers Seek Hit-Run Driver

Police are looking for a motorist who fled the scene after his vehicle was in collision with the parked 1951 Model Chevrolet of Nan Allen, 317 Thirtieth Street, in the 200 block of Thirty-fifth Street at 3:30 p.m. Monday.

Police also investigated another minor vehicle mishap. It occurred on the parking lot at the Piggly-Wiggly store at 6:50 p.m. Monday. Involved were the 1967 Model Pontiac of Raymond Moon of Plainview and a parked 1970 Model Chevrolet owned by Rebecca Sims Lee, 3211 Avenue E.

Safety Tips For Small Passengers

RAVENNA, Ohio. (AP) — Car accidents are the largest single killer of children under 5.

Some 80,000 children in the same age group are injured in auto accidents each year, many permanently.

A few suggestions to combat these appalling statistics have been compiled by the Questor Juvenile Furniture Co. here.

Properly restrain your small children. An infant is never safe on his mother's lap. According to the National Safety Council, children under 4 need specially designed restraints that can keep the child from striking the car's interior in a crash and that also distribute the forces of collision around the child's body.

Select a child car seat that enables an infant to be placed in the back seat, facing that seat's back cushion.

"Therefore, on impact," says pediatrician Dr. Henry Harris, "the baby is propelled into the soft car cushion. After nine months, the child's car seat should face forward, but provide adequate cushioning to prevent whiplash, while restraining him from falling forward."

A child's car seat must let a small child sleep as well as see out of the car.

Once your mind is at ease that your child is safely restrained, it's wise to psychologically establish a few safety rules for a child's behavior in the car.

Psychologist Dr. Rose Franzblau says that if there is no parental tension a child will be more relaxed. She says that car sickness is most often caused by a child's sensing parental anxiety and reacting to it through sickness.

A toy he can grasp gives an infant a sense of security.

If an older child is upset, stop the car. Ask him what's bothering him and what would he like to make him more comfortable. Don't try to give a child half your attention and the other half to your driving.

An elevated seat, which safely restrains the child, while allowing him to look out, will keep him interested and less likely to misbehave. When a child is uncomfortable, tired or bored, he's more likely to become upset or unmanageable.

EGG BREAD

Great to bake on a stay-at-home day.

1 package active dry yeast
4 cups flour
2 large eggs
¼ cup salad oil
2 teaspoons alt
2 tablespoons sugar
Egg yolk mixed with 1 teaspoon cold water

In a small bowl dissolve the yeast in ½ cup warm water. Into a large mixing bowl pour the flour; make a well in the center and into it turn 1 cup warm water, the eggs, oil, salt and sugar; add the yeast mixture. With a wooden spoon, mix until combined — dough will be sticky. Cover and let stand in warm, draft-free place for 3 hours; every half hour with the spoon, work dough by turning a few times. Onto a floured board or pastry cloth turn dough and cut into 2 portions; form each into a loaf and place in well-greased loaf pans (each about 8 by 4 by 3 inches). Generously brush tops of loaves with some of the egg-yolk mixture; cover with tents of foil (so dough will not stick to covering) and let rise in warm, draft-free place one hour. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until well-browned — 45 minutes. Loaves have airy texture and taste delicious warm from the oven; to toast, cut fairly thick.

The island Barbados, in the Caribbean is believed to have been named by Spanish or Portuguese sailors, referring to the bearded (barbados) fig trees found on the island.

CHINESE TUNA LETTUCE SALAD presents an old friend among vegetables in a delightful new way—and this salad is easy to make with shredded lettuce. Lettuce is in good supply at your market now.

Crisphead Lettuce Makes Two Salads

Lettuce, the crisphead variety that is the most popular salad green in the U.S.A., is a most obliging ingredient. Depending upon the dressing or accompaniments added to it, it helps produce a great variety of salad tastes, all of them delicious and appealing in our meals.

A Chinese Tuna Lettuce Salad is something new in saladry. Its light delicate taste, unusual in a main-dish salad, is achieved by a delectable dressing seasoned with soy sauce, fresh lemon juice and rind. A side-dish salad to enjoy is Lettuce Salad with Cucumber Dressing, easy to make with readily-available ingredients yet different and delicious in flavor and texture.

When using crisphead lettuce for salads, do you know the trick of coring it as you prepare to store it in the refrigerator? The United Fresh Fruit and Vegetable Association gives us the information. Crisphead lettuce should be cored before washing so the cleansing spray of the water can run between the lower leaves to rinse out any stray sand. To core a head of lettuce, hold the head core-end down and whack it onto the kitchen counter. Then simply twist and lift out the core with your fingers. After washing, shake the washed lettuce vigoruously to remove all water possible, then turn cored end down on paper towels to drain thoroughly. After draining, mop up any moisture that fails to evaporate and store in the refrigerator in a bowl with an airtight lid, or in a plastic bag

Lettuce contributes to our diets a useful amount of vitamin A, vitamin C, iron, calcium, as well as other vitamins and mineals and roughage. There are only 32 calories in a 4-inch head of lettuce, so even if you are a calorie counter, you can enjoy lettuce often.

CHINESE TUNA
LETTUCE SALAD

¼ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons soy sauce
½ teaspoon ground coriander
¼ teaspoon grated fresh lemon rind
2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
2 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna, drained and flaked
1-3 cup sliced scallions
½ cup chopped fresh parsley
½ cup cups coarsely chopped walnuts
2 cups shredded lettuce
2 tomatoes, cut in wedges.

In large bowl mix oil, soy sauce, coriander, lemon rind and lemon juice. Add tuna, scallions, parsley and walnuts; mix well. Cover and chill until ready to serve. Place shredded lettuce on serving platter, spoon tuna salad on top and surround with tomato wedges.
Makes: 4 servings.

LETTUCE DRESSING
WITH CUCUMBER DRESSING

1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon chopped fresh onion
½ teaspoon anchovy paste (optional)
3 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
½ teaspoon dried leaf tarragon
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup diced, pared, seeded cucumber
8 cups torn lettuce leaves

In large bowl mix mayonnaise, onion, anchovy paste, lemon juice, tarragon and pepper. Pare cucumber, cut in half lengthwise, remove seeds and dice; add to mayonnaise. Cover and chill until ready to use. Wash lettuce, dry well and tear in bite-size pieces. Place in a salad bowl, spoon dressing over lettuce and toss to mix well.
Makes: 8 servings.

Martha To Retire From Public View

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Martha Mitchell says she's going to retire from public view soon to avoid harassment.

She told reporters Monday, "I'm tired of being castigated, of being thrown down the drain. It strains me, it takes the blood out of my body even talking with you all."

Mrs. Mitchell, wife of former U.S. Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell, added that she planned to go back to Washington and "sign off" her television program and "that will be the end of Martha Mitchell."

She is separated from her husband, who is appealing his conviction on federal charges for his role in the Watergate coverup.

But she said, "I've never in my life said anything against John Mitchell and will not to this day."

Winner Announced

NEW YORK (AP) — The New York City Opera announces that John Miner, 27, is the third winner of the Julius Rudel Award.

Established in 1968 by Lawrence E. Deutsch and Lloyd E. Rigler, the award provides for a young conductor to work with Rudel at the opera in an intensive artistic and administrative internship.

Miner, who was born in Bethesda, Md., was graduated from Boston University in 1969. He has studied mainly with Leon Barzin and Boris Goldovsky.

Alice Tully Hall Gets Organ

NEW YORK (AP) — Lincoln Center says that a new tracker (mechanical action) organ is being installed in Alice Tully Hall and will have its first performances in April.

The instrument, built by Theodore Kuhn of Mannedort, Switzerland, is a gift from Miss Alice Tully.

The organ has 4,192 pipes. It is played from four independent manuals. The organ was designed both as a virtuoso instrument and to be capable of blending with a chamber music group or full orchestra.

Altrurian Members Celebrate Bible Day

The Altrurian Club met recently at the Martha Ann Woman's Club for their annual Bible day celebration. This special event has been held for over one half of a century and not one yearbook is minus of a Biblical program. Twenty-two members and two guests, Miss Enid Irving and Mrs. Fern Bidwell, were present for the celebration. Mrs. R.S. Alford gave the spiritual meditation.

Mrs. Earl Donaldson, president, was in charge of the business session. When reports were in order, Mrs. Edith McKanna reported for the Fine Arts department. She announced that from April 6 to May 5 an outstanding art collection would be on display in the musuem at Western Texas College. The collection is the work of W.H.D. Koerner, an accomplished artist who worked for the Saturday Evening Post from 1922 to 1936. His works cover various phases of Western Art, and are valuable assets to historians, students, and lay people. Seeing is believing, and all citizens of Scurry County should view the display.

Mrs. Travis Rhoades, public affairs chairman, thanked the group for taking a part in the Civic affairs of the community, especially their committment to the Heart Fund coffee. She stressed the fact that many workers would be needed and contact were in order.

The overtone for the afternoon Bible celebration was permeated by each member quoting her favorite Bible scripture.

Mrs. Giles Bowers and Mrs. Ross Blanchard presented the program, "The Necessity for Chirstian Living," from Leviticus. Mrs. Bowers stated, "That the beloved Old Testament Book enshrined the laws by which the religious and civic organizations of the primitive theocracy in Canaan was to be regulated. At Sinai the Israelites had been incorporated into special relationship with God, had been given the covenant laws and provided with a tabernacle of worship. Leviticus contains much that is technical in nature and meant for the direction of the priesthood in conduct of worship and the regulation of social life. The world today has the Holy Bible as a directive to Christian living."

At this point, Mrs. Blanchard presented music as a facet to Christian living. Taking her cue from the New Testament, she quoted many scriptures regarding spiritual hymnals as making music in the heart. The speaker based her presentation around Colossians 3:16, "Let the worship of Christ dwell in you richly in all wisdom; teaching and admonishing one another in Psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing with grace in our heart to the Lord. She concluded by stating, "as long as we sing to the Lord with grace in our hearts America will continue to be a great Nation."

Large Head Is A Big Headache

BATOCINA, Yugoslavia (AP) — Milovan Tucakovic wants to buy a hat, but there is no size for his big head.

"Whenever I come to Belgrade I make tours of all stores, but with no luck," Milovan complains.

Once he saw a man who appeared to have an even bigger head than his own, and asked him where he had bought his hat. But, the man took it as an affront, and called policemen who told me to move on and stop making fun of the man," he said.

"I am looking foward to the day when I can also greet people by taking a hat off my head.

Tigers Nip Big Spring, 3 To 2 In 15 Innings

The fighting Snyder Tiger baseball team pushed across two runs in the bottom of the 15th inning to score a 3-2 victory over a good Big Spring team in Moffett Field here yesterday.

Winning pitcher of the marathon triumph was Gary Greenlee, who worked the entire 15 innings. He yielded 11 hits, and struck out 16 and walked only three unintentionally. The loser, Mike harris of Big Spring, also went the distance. He was touched for 10 hits and fanned six while walking six.

With the score tied 1-1 going into the 15th, Big Spring took a 2-1 lead in the top half of the frame. Harris, who led off the inning, drew an Annie Oakley and Barry Canning singled. A throwing error allowed Wes Boullion on base to load the sacks with nobody out. Lawerence Byrd popped out to the shortstop, then Ray Don Box drilled a hot grounder to second. The fielder had to go to first with tee ball and Harris scored on the fielder's choice. Greenlee then bore down and caused Newson to fly out to centerfield to retire the side.

Staring defeat in the face, the Tigers rallied for the winning runs in the bottom half of the inning. Richard Tovar started off the frame with a single and was sacrificed to second by Danny Brumley. Greenlee was safe on an error at second, and Randy Gressett walked to load the bases. Phil Robinson drilled a single to right, driving in Tovar with the tying run. Kelly Ragland attempted to squeeze Greenlee in but he fouled the third strike on a bunt and was out. Up stepped Ernie Simons, the Tiger cleanup hitter, and that's just what he did. He singled in Greenlee with the winning run.

Snyder had gone ahead 1-0 in the bottom of the 3rd. Gressett singled, stole second, went to third on a wild pitch and scored on a single by Ragland.

Big Spring had tied it up, 1-1, in the top of the 4th. Pat Carroll singled, went to second on a single by Tracy Thompson and scored on a double by Mike Harris.

Gressett led Tiger batters with three hits in five trips to the plate while Harris collected a like number of hits to lead Big Spring.

The victory boosted the Tiger season record tp 3-4-1. Snyder hosts Midland High at 4:30 this afternoon, also on the Moffett Field diamond, then journeys to Monahans for a tournament Thursday through Saturday.

Coach Speedy Moffett listed probable starters for today's game, according to batting order, as follows: Randy Gressett 1b, Phil Robinson 3b, Kelly Ragland cf, Ernie Simons c, Robert Alderete ss, Sid Perry 2b, Richard Tovar lf, Danny Brumley rf, and either Clay Bishop or Ricky Beard on the mound.

Lamar 9th Runnerup At Sweetwater Meet

SWEETWATER—Sweetwater edged Lamar, 157½ points to 155½, to win the championship of the 9th grade division at the Track Meet here Saturday. Travis 9th finished third with 107 points.

Lamar's sprint relay foursome comprised of Clay Peterson, Scott Hendricks, Lee Hagelstein and Randy Courtney turned in a 47.5 clocking to capture first place.

Peterson also finished first in the century with a 10.5 clocking, and he took first in the 220 yard dash with a time of 24.7 seconds.

Kenneth Bagley won the pole vault by clearing 10-0, and he also won the high jump by going over at 5-8. Randy Courtney was first in the 120 yard high hurdles with a time of 18.7 seconds.

Scott Hendricks was runnerup in the century with a time of 10.7, and Lee Hagelstein was third in the same event with a 10.9 clocking.

Hendricks also placed second in the 220 with a time of 24.9. Hendricks was second in the broad jump with a leap of 18-4, and Hagelstein was third with a distance of 17-9.

Mark Schaufele was runnerup in pole vault and Courtney was third in the same event. Schaufele and Courtney both cleared 10-0, but they had more misses than Bagley, the winner.

Courtney was runnerup in the high jump by clearing 5-6, and Randy Shipp was fifth in the same event by going over at 5-0.

Shipp took second in the 120 yard high hurdles with an 18.9 effort, and Doug Hall was fifth. Guy Graves was 5th in the discus with a heave of 80-0.

Jimmy Snowden placed fifth in the 440 yard dash. Randy Shipp was fourth in the 330 intermediate hurdels with a time of 51.0, and Doug Hall took sixth in the same event with a 54.0 clocking. Doug Hall was fourth in the mile, and Clay Peterson was sixth in the shot.

The mile relay foursome of Lee Hagelstein, Mark Schaufele, Randy Shipp and Kenneth Bagley placed third with a time of 4:04.3.

Travis 9th grade's Tommy Smith was first with an effort of 49-5, and Richard Willis was runnerup with a 49-2. Hubert Thompson placed fourth in the same event with a heave of 44-5.

The Travis sprint relay foursome of Johnny Velasquez, Alvin Ollison, Hubert Thompson and James Wells took third with a 49.6 clocking.

Jeff Terry was third in the high hurdles with a 19.7. Ruben Gonzales was third in the 880 yard run with a time of 2:22.3, and David Zajchek took fourth in the same event with a 2:23.2.

Johnny Velasquez placed sixth in the century with an 11.5. Dennis Pitts was third in the 440 yard run with a 63.9, and Tommy Smith was fourth with a 66.5. Jeff Terry was third in the 330 intermediates hurdles with a 49.3, and Hubert Thompson was fifth with a 26.6. Randy Tate took third in the mile run with a 6:03.

The mile relay quartet of Thompson, Velasquez, Dennis Pitts and Gonzales turned in a fine 4:03 clocking for runnerup honors.

Martin Resigns

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Christian University is promoting Frank Windegger to director of athletics next fall.

Officials said Monday that Windegger, 41, will move up to succeed Abe Martin, former head football coach and the school's director of athletics since 1936. Martin has resigned, effective Sept. 1.

Retiring with Martin will be Buster Brannon, an assistant director of athletics like Windegger. Martin and Brannon both will serve as parttime consultants with the department, officials said.

In addition to serving as an assistant director, Windegger has been head baseball coach since 1959.

Windegger, one of the nation's most successful college baseball coaches, had won 269 games going into the current season for a .642 percentage. His teams have taken four Southwest Conference pennants.

Martin, a 1932 TCU graduate, became head football coach after the university's 1952 season on the retirement of Dutch Meyer.

He retired from active coaching after a heart attack late in the 1966 season. Martin had been named TCU's athletic director in 1963 after Meyer fully retired.

ALL-DISTRICT—From left, Larry Johns, Chester Cobb, Welton Cobb and Coach Bob Moore are happy after hearing who was named to the 3-AAA All-District basketball team. Johns and Chester Cobb were named to the first team and Welton Cobb was honorable mention. The Tiger basketball team compiled a respectable 23-7 record this season. Five of their seven losses were to state or district champions.

Three Tigers Honored For Basketball Play

Three Snyder High School basketball players were honored for their competition in District 3-AAA this past season.

Chester Cobb, 6-2 junior wingman, was a unanimous selection, and Larry Johns, 6-3 senior post, was named to the 3-AAA All-District basketball team. In addition, Welton Cobb, 6-0 senior wingman was named to the Honorable Mention team.

The Tigers of Coach Bob Moore compiled a respectable 23-7 record during the past basketball season. Five of their seven losses were either to state or district champions.

Three other boys were unanimous selections on the first team, and all three of them are members of the state champion Lamesa team. They are Eddie Spencer, 5-11 senior; Brian Meeks, 6-4 senior; and, Jim Vaszauskas, 6-3 senior.

Other lads named to the first team are Ronnie Phenix, 6-4 junior from Estacado; Sidney Davis, 6-4 junior, and Tommy Williams, 6-1 senior, from Dunbar; Lewis Roberson, 6-2 senior, from Brownfield; Dennis Fleming, 5-5 senior, from Lamesa; Tommy Williams, 6-4 senior, from Estacado; and, Robert Rices, 6-1 senior, from Lake View.

Others on the Honorable Mention list are Melvin Robinson of Lamesa, Ted Butts of Lake View, Scott Jackson of Brownfield, Alfred Hunt and Carroll Kearney of Sweetwater, and Duke Holmes of Dunbar.

ASTROS BEAT BOSTON, ORIOLES RIP TEXAS

By HOWARD SMITH
AP Sports Writer

It may be only spring training, and early spring training at that, but Boston Manager Darrell Johnson is in midseason form.

The Red Sox dropped a 7-3 decision to the Houston Astros Monday and balks by Boston rookies Steve Barr and Mark Bomback played a large part in the outcome.

Barr's balk came in the fourth inning and, along with Bob Watson's two-run double, helped the Astros take a 3-0 lead. Two innings later, Houston picked up two more runs with the aid of Doug Rader's double and Bomback's balk.

It was all too much for Johnson, and when umpire Joe Brinkman called the balk on Bomback, Johnson stormed out of the dugout, protesting violently. En route to Brinkman, the Boston manager kicked dirt on umpire Andy Olsen and Olsen promptly thumbed him out of the game, earning the Boston manager the first ejection of the spring.

Thus inspired, the Sox rallied for three runs but it was too little, too late.

In baseball's other grapefruit league games, Philadelphia defeated the New York Mets 7-3, Baltimore pounded Texas 10-0, Minnesota edged Los Angeles 4-3, the New York Yankees topped Atlanta 4-3, the Chicago White Sox whipped St.Louis 8-3, Cincinnati shaded Kansas City 2-1, Detroit dumped Pittsburgh 7-4, Montreal got by the Tokyo Giants 4-3 in 10 innings and the Chunichi Dragons burned a second Detroit squad 14-7.

The Phillies made it four victories in as many outings on the strength of two-run doubles by Greg Luzinski and Jerry Martin.

Baltimore jumped on Texas right-hander Jim Bibby for six runs and eight hits in three innings and wound up with 15 hits on the afternoon. Elrod Hendricks had three of them.

Jerry Terrell walked, took third on an error and raced home on a fielder's choice with the winning run in the eighth inning for Minnesota.

Lou Piniella homered and Ron Blomberg and Eddie Leon hit run-scoring singles in the Yankees' win over Atlanta.

The White Sox won for the first time in four tries behind doubles by Bucky Dent, Bill Melton and Brian Downing.

Pinch-hitter Arturo DeFreitas doubled home one run and scored the other in the eighth to lift Cincinnati past 0-3 Kansas City.

Aurelio Rodriguez belted a two-run double and Gary Sutherland homered to help Detroit down Pittsburgh.

Barry Foote drove in the decisive run with a 10th-inning single for Montreal against Tokyo.

Chunichi hitters tagged relief ace John Hiller and three other Tigers for 13 hits in its victory over a second Detroit squad. John Wockenfuss hit a three-run homer for the losers.

Eyes Hyde

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Washington Redskins have obtained the rights to offensive tackle Glenn Hyde, who played for the Chicago Fire of the World Football League last season.

The Redskins obtained the rights to Hyde from the Atlanta Falcons for a future, undisclosed draft choice.

DocWon't Pay Taxes That Help Finance Abortions

CHICAGO (AP) — A Chicago area doctor who is the father of 14 children says he will move his family to Ireland rather than pay federal income taxes which might, in part, help pay for abortions.

And he says he will give up his $36,000 home in suburban Chicago Heights rather than pay $3.14 in local property taxes which he says were destined to finance abortions.

Dr. John S. Kelly, 53, whose children range in age from six to 29, said Monday that paying taxes to finance abortions is "like paying somebody to kill a person."

Kelly said the $3.14 in property taxes he has withheld for the last two years was the "amount I figured went to finance the voluntary abortion program at Cook County Hospital. It was the only way I could refuse to take part in abortions."

Kelly, a surgeon, said in an interview he has paid nearly $3,000 in property taxes in the two years, but he said he recently was notified that "my taxes were delinquent and if I didn't pay them my property would be sold.

"I don't see how they can make me pay. The conscience clauses of state and federal statutes say that nobody can be forced to participate in abortions," he said. "And if I pay these taxes, I'm just as guilty as if I performed the abortion. It's simple logic."

But Asst. State's Atty. Jerrold Mayster said state tax law "requires that he pay his taxes in full before he can file a specific objection to the evaluation."

Mayster said that since Kelly has refused to do this "the judge can render a judgement against the property for whatever tax is due. And technically, the property could be sold to pay his delinquent taxes.

"It's a very funny case. The doctor's not saying his taxes are too high. He's protesting how they're used. If everybody did that, the municipality's finances would be in a fine state. What the heck, why doesn't he go and picket at the hospital?"

Kelly says he did first take his objections to the hospital's governing commission.

"They refused to consider my argument," he said. "Then I tried other official groups. And I've been active in the Right to Life movement."

Kelly said he fears the federal government may be moving in the same direction — "There's a strong antilife climate in the country."

Kelly said that is why, rather than face the prospect of withholding some of his federal income taxes, he and his wife and their five children who stil live at home will leave Monday for Ireland, which has strict anti-abortion laws and has outlawed birth control pills.

He said that in Ireland he and his wife "can raise our children properly."

The state tax case is scheduled for trial Thursday in Circuit Court.

"I have my home up for sale, but I can't sell it while this is pending," Kelly said. "If I lose, I'll have my lawyer appeal. I know the courts have got to rule with me eventually....

"But I won't pay the tax, and I won't participate in abortion. It's a violation of my conscience."

Motion Denied Hunt Aides

DALLAS (AP) — The way has been cleared for the trial of two aides of the late oil billionaire H. L. Hunt after a federal judge denied a motion to suppress government evidence against the two men.

John W. Currington and John H. Brown sought to have the evidence thrown out on grounds it was obtained through illegal wiretaps.

The two men will go on trial next Monday for allegedly scheming to defraud HLH Products, a division of Hunt Oil Co., by inducing suppliers to pay them rebates and premiums.

U.S. District Court Judge Robert M. Hill also refused Monday to dismiss the indictment.

The government contended its evidence was obtained from sources other than the wiretaps.

Two of Hunt's sons, Nelson Bunker Hunt and W. Herbert Hunt, are to go on trial in Lubbock in May on wiretapping charges. They are accused of hiring the private investigators to tap the telephones of the two aides, as well as others.

Testimony before Judge Hill last week indicated the brothers and Hunt's nephew, Thomas Hunt, took steps trying to learn why the company was losing money.

Heroin Seized From Grocer

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP) — Federal drug enforcement officers Monday arrested a Brownsville grocer and his wife on charges of possession of more than two pounds of heroin and with conspiring to distribute more than two pounds of cocaine.

A spokesman for the federal agency said the heroin seizure was the largest in the Brownsville area in recent months. He noted that although officers actually seized a kilo (2.2 pounds) of heroin, the cocaine charge involved only conspiracy and no actual cocaine was seized.

U.S. Magistrate William Mallet set bond on David Solis, 59, at $250,000 and set bond on his wife, Mrs. Maria Solis, 50, at $100,000. they were ordered held in the Cameron County jail when they failed to post bond.

A federal agency said the arrests came at the conslusion of a lengthy investigation and were made as the persons arrested were attempting to distribute the heroin.

The arrests were made at a grocery store operated by the couple, he said.

Breasts Aren't Muscle Tissue

By Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB—I have been dieting for the past two months and successfully. The only problem is that my breasts are getting flabby. Yuck! I'm doing exercises, but none are helping my breasts to firm up.

Do you know any exercise that I can use for my breasts while dieting? I don't want to ruin my new figure of the future with saggy breasts.

Doesn't wearing a bra promote sagging? Should I wear a bra while doing the exercises?

DEAR READER—If breasts were muscles I suppose exercises would enlarge them, but they are not. Breasts are mostly fat. Interspread among the fat tissue are the glands that are there to form milk. The rest of the organ is made up of fiberous tissue and ligaments.

The breast itself enlarges when the amount of fat is increased or when the breast if filled with fluid, as when distended with milk. Fluid retention before the menstral period will also cause the breasts to enlarge. And, when a woman is taking estrogen in amounts that cause fluid retention, this will contribute to breast enlargement.

The skin over the breast, the fiberous tissues, ligaments, and tendons can all be stretched. Literally that is what happens when the breast is filled with milk. Then after a period of nursing the repeatedly stretched breast is apt to be less firm and elastic after the milk-producing stage is over. Once stretched, the tissues may not snap back to their previous elastic, firm state.

The glands that produce milk enlarge under the influence of hormones. This is how the breasts prepare to nurse a baby. The glands diminish in size and the milk-producing function ceases when the hormones stop being formed in sufficient amount to support the glandular tissues.

One reason for avoiding obesity in the first place is to prevent overstretching of the breast with fat tissue. It is common for the breasts to sag when fat is lost.

Wearing a brassiere helps to prevent sagging breasts. It helps to avoid overstretching of the tendons, ligaments and fiberous tissue in the breasts. This is especially true in women with ample breasts and less important in women with very small breasts. Remember always that the breast is not a muscle and you want to avoid overstretching its elastic tissues if you want to avoid sag. This is entirely different from wearing a girdle. The stomach muscles will get weaker if they aren't used and a girdle can contribute to the problem. But that is because muscles are involved, and since the breasts are not muscles, a brassiere won't have the same effect.

The exercises you should use are those that build up the muscles behind the breast. They push what you have forward. These are the infinate variety of exercises using the arms and chest muscles. The exercises that improve posture are also important. Use the exercises for keeping the shoulders back and the chest out. That means strengthening the muscles between the shoulders. These exercises don't enlarge the breast but merely improve the setting to your advantage.

Send your questions to Dr. Lamb, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, N.Y. 10019. For a copy of Dr. Lamb's booklet on losing weight, send 50 cents and a long self-addressed stamped envelope to the same address and ask for the "Losing weight" booklet.

Rape Class Is Most Popular

By TIMOTHY HARPER
Associated Press Writer

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — It's the most popular girls' course at suburban St. Francis High School, but the pupils hope they never use what they learn there.

"Everybody calls it the rape class," teacher Judy Richmond said. "It's called the self defense class, but it really involves a lot more than that."

The class was started last year by Mrs. Richmond and team teacher Kay Seamonson after a number of parents and students expressed concern about a wave of rapes on Milwaukee's South Side.

"We really didn't know much about rape, but we studied up on the basics of self defense and brought in people to talk to the girls," Mrs. Richmond said. "Most of the sophomores, juniors and seniors took the course."

The class, part of St. Francis High's elective physical education program, begins with Mrs. Richmond teaching the rudiments of self defense, which she learned from a book.

"We don't get into any real judo or anything like that," said Mrs. Richmond, 27. "We just show the girls how to really hit and kick and chop, and where to do it. We also try to teach the value of the element of surprise."

However, she said the class tries to encompass other aspects of rape, including what motivates a rapist, what different emotional states a rapist may be in, how to go about prosecuting for rape and what mental and emotional pressures may come to bear on a woman who has been raped.

Police officers, psychologists, rape victims, judo experts and others who know about a woman's handling of a rape or attempted rape come in to talk to the class, and the girls do outside research with lawyers to learn the legal steps involved in rape prosecution.

"We try to get the girls to think about what would happen to them and how they would react, including the emotional pros and cons," said Mrs. Richmond.

She said the girls are also told how to judge whether to fight or give in, depending on their chances of escape of serious injury.

"The main thing we try to teach them is to stall as long as they can, talking to the man until maybe he cools down or help comes along," she said.

She said many girls at first thought class was a lark but soon changed their minds.

"Especially when one of the girls in the class was almost attacked but managed to get out of it," Mrs. Richmond said.

Texas Hires Rush Moody

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe has announced that the state has hired Rush Moody Jr., who has resigned as a member of the Federal Power Commission, to be Texas' special counsel for energy affairs in Washington.

Moody generally has urged increased economic incentives for oil and gas companies.

"This action represents a continuation of our efforts to balance the information given to Washington on energy matters," Briscoe said Monday.

TEA Audit Report To Be Made Public Soon

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—State Education Commissioner Marlin Brockette says the report of the Texas Education Agency internal audit will be made public within the next 10 days. A 20-page summary of the TEA audit, expected earlier to be released today, was critical of financial reporting and refund policies of about 20 private vocational schools in the state as well as TEA procedures.

Woodrow Bean, a member of the State Board of Education, had requested the audit be made public and said he might go to court to force its release.

He made the request to Brockette and state board chairman Joe Kelly Butler of Houston, declaring, "I want this audit turned over to the attorney general and then made public at once. This business of operating behind closed doors has got to stop." Bean, who's also a candidate for mayor of El Paso, said previously the TEA may be involved in an $8 million scandal.

But Ed Randall, director of audits for the education agency, said no indication of criminal negligence was found in the internal audit of proprietary private, for-profit schools division.

He did say Monday a "considerable amount of money" was involved.

"I don't see any scandal," Brockett told the Austin American-Statesman. "That's not to say that we don't have some major problems in this area—problems that are common in states throughout the country." He said he referred to the failure of some students to pay back loans and some schools to make all refunds.

Jane Wells, Austin, another member of the State Board of Education, said the highest amount in controversy that she had heard about was $800,000.

Butler, in a telephone interview from Houston published in Tuesday's editions of The Dallas Morning News, said abuses uncovered in Texas' guaranteed student loan program can only be part of a "nationwide scandal."

"I don't think there is any question but that this is a serious matter for the entire United States," he said.

Butler said he has seen the internal audit of the TEA's proprietary school division and while he "is not at liberty to quote the report, at the very least, some of it will probably result in some of these schools having their licenses revoked."

Wright Urges Use Of Coal

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Jim Wright, D-Tex., head of the House speaker's task force on energy and economic policy, has called for a conversion from natural gas to coal in the nations's power generating facilities.

Wright, testifying before a House energy and power subcommittee, said Monday the nations's long-range energy goals should include use of coal and "alternate sources of power from the sun and the wind and the earth, through nuclear fission, from oil shale and synthetic sources" to counteract the loss of oil and gas through depletion.

He also repeated his pleas for a petroleum allocations program as protection against a futute Middle East oil embargo.

"In the short run, we must have in place a workable program to allocate petroleum down to the retail and perhaps even the individual level, if not as an immediate expedient at least as a ready answer in the event of some future embargo," Wright said.

"In the very near run, we must effectively stimulate the production and purchase of more fuel-efficient private motor vehicles and improve the energy efficiency of the host of electrical appliances which are so inseparably interwoven into the fabric of our daily lives."

He said if one-fourth of American drivers could be accomodated in cars that give only five more miles per gallon, the savings would exceed 500,000 barrels of oil per day.

Administration goals have been to reduce oil consumption by one million barrels each day.

Wright defended the suggestions of the task force, appointed by House Speaker Carl Albert, D-Okla., and said it was up to such groups of the House Commerce subcommittee before which he was speaking, to work out the more specific details.

Program Set At Northeast

A special musical and patriotic program will be presented Thursday at Northeast Elementary School in observance of two major events.

March 13 has been designated as "Music in Our School Day" by the Texas Music Educators Association. Since this also is the first year of the nation's Bicentennial celebration, Northeast Elementary will combine the two events and present musical program about the history of the American flag. The program will involve the entire student body at Northeast.

The program is scheduled for 9 a.m. Thursday and parents and other interested citizens are invited to attend.

Opinions Aired On Utility Panel

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An Arlington businessman says the state has already interfered in the utility regulation area by not acting at all.

Curtis Bruner, president of an Arlington chemical company, told the Senate State Affairs Committee Monday that the earlier mistakes of the legislature had to be corrected this session.

"You created a monster and now you've got to control it," Bruner said.

William R. Brown, general counsel for the Houston Power & Light Co., said the creation of a state utility commission would prevent his company from financing its planned construction over the next three years.

Brown said a utilities commission would cause uncertainty in the minds of possible investors.

"The question to ask is do we have problems in this state that warrant gambling with creation of a commission at this time," said Brown.

Questioning of Brown by Sen. Ron Clower, D-Garland, sparked an argument between Clower and the committee chairman, Sen. Bill Moore, D-Bryan.

Moore asked Clower, the sponsor of one of the three commission bills being considered by the committee, to limit his questions in the interest of time.

Clower said, "I'm going to ask every question I want on this committee and on the Senate floor."

T. L. Austin Jr. of Dallas, vice-chairman of Texas Utilities Co., said he did not think a utilities commission would help the energy situation in Texas.

"We're going to have to switch eventually to coal and nuclear energy and that's going to cost a lot of money," Austin said.

"We're going to have to get expansion money or else the lights are going off in 1980," Austin said.

Moore, who said at the beginning of the meeting that "we're going to get some bill out of this committee," recessed the committee until Wednesday.

SURVEY DAMAGE—Roy McCloskey (right), local State Farm agent, and his claims representative, John Grant, look over the damage on an automobile.

Value Hikes Change Insurance Needs, Says State Farm Agent

Roy J. McCloskey, local agent for State Farm Insurance Companies in Snyder for the past 19 years, recommends that every family who owns a home or household goods should read the article in the March issue of Reader's Digest, "Five Tips on Fire Insurance".

McCloskey states that this article, although written by a man in another state, has many points that are applicable to residents of Texas. For instance, the writer of the article explains that he lost thousands of dollars when his home was destroyed by fire recently, simply because he had not concerned himself with increasing the amount of insurance on his home or household goods during the past few years when inflation has been increasing the cost of building, furniture and appliances at the rate of 8 to 10 percent per year. For example, a home that cost $15,000 five or six years ago could easily cost $25,000 to replace today.

Furthermore, the writer of the article points out the importance of maintaining the insurance on the home to a minimum of 80 percent of replacement value at the time of the loss, otherwise in event of a partial loss, such as replacement of a roof, he would not be fully covered.

In addition to the fact that inflation has caused many people to be under insured, the author emphasizes the need to maintain a current inventory of household items and personal belongings. In event of a total loss of the home, the insurance company will require a complete list and value of items that were destroyed. Also this inventory will be important when submitting his tax report to the Internal Revenue, if he did sustain a loss not covered by his insurance.

McCloskey advises that he has a supply of inventory forms especially designed to itemize household goods and he will be glad to give one to anyone who desires it.

In addition to fire and homeowners insurance, State Farm also has a complete line of life insurance policies for every need, Health insurance, Boat insurance, Mobil Home insurance and also Auto insurance. In fact, if your auto insurance is about to expire, McCloskey invites you to call him for rates, as State Farm has a deviation making their rates in most all categories, substantially lower than those established by the State Board of Insurance.

Group Joins In To Help Whale

JACKSONVILLE BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Strangers became friends in a common cause as 50 people joined two Marine patrol officers in an effort to save a beached, wounded mother whale and her newborn calf.

"Here were all these people not paying any attention to each other," said Marine Patrolman Ronald R. Tedder. "And along come two helpless creatures ... and then we're all on a first name basis, beaming, smiling and freezing together."

The group struggled for more than three hours Monday until the pigmy sperm whales, making no effort to free themselves, could be pulled from the surf and taken to a marine park at St. Augustine.

"We had to keep them from drying out or getting sunburn and keep them from being pounded by the surf," Tedder said. "But just standing there was a problem. We had to stay in waist-deep water in waves about two feet high.

"It took eight of us in shifts on each side, two on the tail, to support the mother. She must have sensed we were trying to help her."

The 10-foot, 1,500-pound mother beached herself after apparently being injured by a boat propeller or a fishing net, Tedder said. The three-foot baby, about a day old, simply followed its mother.

Tedder said he explained to everyone who offered help that the big whale could swing her tail and injure someone.

"I warned them, but they still helped," he said. "The only thing she did was get us all wet."

Bathers gave up their beach towels and blankets in the cause.

"One woman ran a quarter-mile down the beach to get us towels," Tedder said.

He said one teen-age girl in a bikini kept her arms around the baby whale for three hours until a truck came for the animals.

"The girl turned blue, the water was so cold," Tedder said. "But she said, 'It's my job. I'm going to keep holding this baby.' And she did."

He said it's not unusual for pigmy whales to beach themselves, but for reasons unknown they usually make no effort to go back to sea.

A spokesman for Marineland at St. Augustine said the adult whale had several gashes and was having trouble adapting to her new home. He said the calf was only slightly injured and would probably be bottle-fed a special milk formula.

Arkansas Territory Included Oklahoma

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Arkansas was part of the Missouri Territory until Missouri applied for statehood. Then Congress created the Arkansas Territory, including much of Oklahoma, on March 2, 1819. The first territorial legislature met July 28, 1819, at Arkansas Post.

State Farm is still the best car insurance value in Texas.
Besides the best in service and protection, State Farm has rates for most Texas drivers that are 15% less than rates set by the State. For all the details, call or stop by.

EXPERIENCED OPERATORS—James Ray (left), general manager, and Elmo Powell, service manager of McCormick's Phillips Super Service Station on the East Highway, have built a reputation over the past 25 years as conscientious, dependable and efficient employes. Customers are always satisfied when their cars are serviced at Phillips Super Station. It is open seven days a week from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Ray and Powell together have over 50 years experience in service station work.

Phillips Super Station Takes Pride In Service Reputation

Phillips Super Service Station on the East Highway has recently received a remodelling job on the inside.

"We're proud of the way the station looks on the inside," said James Ray, veteran manager of the station. "But we're more proud of our service than anything else.'

Ray and his service manager, Elmo Powell, together have more than 50 years experience in the service station business. Over the past 25 years, Ray and Powell have built reputations for their conscientious, dependable and efficient service.

"Powell is one of the most efficient and conscientious employes we have ever had," Ray pointed out. "You can always count on good workmanship from him. He gives excellent wash jobs, grease jobs, repairs flats, balances wheels and can change the oil and filter in your car."

McCormick's Phillips Super Service Station provides all of the ordinary services found at a service station. It has ample parking facilities and dispenses all grades of gasoline and diesel and propane fuel from 12 pumps.

Station hours are from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. seven days a week. The station also has quality JTW tires for sale. Ray said his station will put a new set of steel belted radial JTW tires or regular tires on your car at reasonable prices. Ray said that mounting and balancing of the tires is included in the price.

Phillips Super Service also has all kinds of automobile accessories, including air and oil filters, radiator caps, battery cables, anti-freeze and Mac-O batteries. You can get soft drinks, candy, cigarettes and other items usually found at a service station.

Phillips is owned by McCormick Oil Company of Snyder, which also has stations in Post, Sweetwater, Lamesa, Colorado City, Roscoe, Welch and Fluvanna as well as several other small towns of the area.

You can always count on prompt and efficient service when you deal with Phillips Super Service on the East Highway. Their telephone number is 573-6222.
