It was near closing time Monday night of Fair Week as the young operator of Trabant, the exciting carnival ride, sent it around one more time. All evening, dipping and whirling like a dancer, it had carried riders to open the Collingsworth County Fair activities.

First Methodist Lets Contract For Sanctuary

The building committee of First United Methodist Church has let the contract for its new sanctuary to Mathis Construction Co., of Amarillo, on a bid of approximately $435,000.

The action was approved by the official board of the church, and first on-the-ground work was done Tuesday, September 6.

The bid was approximately $80,000 above the figure expected by the building committee, and the official church board also approved borrowing the required money to finish the building.

Announcement of the action was made by Sam Adams, member of the building committee. A.J. Fires, chairman, was in New Mexico on business. Other members of the committee are Dan Henard, Jr., and Carthel Lewis.

Robert Pardue of Wichita Falls, the church's architect, drew the plans for the sanctuary to be a continuation of the educational building, the first unit of the all-new church complex.

These plans, drawn in recent weeks, contain only slight changes in the roofline from the original plans drawn by Pardue, Reed & Dice in 1964, when the church building program was started.

The front of the church will be of grey agate slab construction, matching the construction of the educational unit. Sides of the building, below the low roof line, will be of dark brick, again matching panels of the educational unit.

At the center front, a colored glass window panel will extend from ground to rooftop, and centering it will be a cross, lighted at night.

A tower, topped by a cross, will be to the south of the church, and at the side of the main entrance. Another entrance, on the north, will lead from a covered driveway.

Inside the sanctuary, walls to a height of about 10 feet will be of brick construction, while the upper walls and ceiling will be of stained wood, Mr.

Adams said. The church will be fully carpeted, and all new news will be installed.

The stained glass from the old church, "The Good Shepherd," will be reset and mounted directly behind the choir. It will be backlighted to simulate day light.

All church offices will be located in the new building.

$80,000 Federal Funding Approved for Quail School

The office of Senator Lloyd Bentsen Thursday, September 1, notified the Quail School superintendent and school board that their application for emergency funding to replace their building has been approved.

Expenditure of $80,000 was authorized.

The board then let a contract to Panhandle Steel Building Co. for a steel building 40' x 110' to house 8 classrooms, according to Wilford Arthur, superintendent.

Work began Tuesday preparing the ground for the foundation and concrete slab floor.

Jim Sartain, manager for Panhandle Steel, said the concrete work should be in place and the steel siding on the grounds by Friday.

If there are no delays, Mr. Sartain said he believes the building can be completed and ready to move into in 6 weeks. "These people are in a bind and we are going to expedite this building every way we can," he said.

Notification of the application approval came in a phone call from Senator Bentsen's office, Mr. Arthur said.

He said that he and the school board hope that funding for additional classrooms will be approved.

The new building, known commercially as a Butler Building, is of the type much used in this part of the country for office and commercial structures, schools and other public buildings. The Valley School is of structural steel, as is the Wellington physical education-agriculture-home-making building.

The new Quail school will have a white exterior. The interior walls will be of vinyl covered sheetrock, with acoustical ceilings, Mr. Arthur said. The concrete slab floors will have vinyl tile covering.

Size of the rooms will be 25 x 20 feet.

Donald Langely, school board president, Dan Guthrie, and Mr. Arthur met Monday evening with Mr. Sartain and Steve Purvis, Panhandle Steel sales representative, to make final plans for the work which was to start Tuesday.

The new building replaces the Quail School, known throughout West Texas, that was destroyed by a tornado May 15.

Selection of the type of building was made by the school board after much study and considering all sides of the question.

In style and construction, it follows a trend in modern school construction. The board's decision to seek federal emergency funding relieves the school district from the burden of a bond issue for construction of this unit of the new Quail School.

The $80,000 approved for this new school is in the form of emergency money that will not have to be repaid.

The school board and administration indicates they will continue to seek emergency funding for additional buildings that may be required by the new Quail plant.

After students move into the new building, the present arrangement for the cafeteria will be continued, Supt. Arthur said. This is located in the two-story building in Quail recently acquired by Mrs. Ray Alston from Mrs. Barney Boyett.

Students presently attend classes in the Quail Church of Christ and Quail Baptist Church.

Skyrockets Go on the Road To Meet Quanah on Friday

Wellington Skyrockets play away from home again this week, meeting the AA Quanah Indians on their field Friday, September 9.

Game time is 8:00 p.m. The Indians dropped their opener to Crowell 18-6 after showing considerable strength against their opponenets in scrimmage.

This score should in no way indicate what kind of opposition the Rockets may meet, for Wellington coaches consider the Indians considerably improved from last year.

"They like to throw the ball, and they have a real fine quarterback, Perry Richerson, who can be especially dangerous to us," said Coach James Williams.

"We will have to have real good pass coverage and a good pass rush Friday night. We are working on that this week and on some mental mistakes we made against Hollis last week," he added.

"Quanah had some long passes in the Crowell game that they dropped. If they'd caught them, they probably would have won the game."

Richerson has a little more height than Wellington's Carl Jest Carnival is back with all the rides featured at the fair a year ago, and with a number of new concessions.

Three local booths are featured along with the carnival events.

Wellington Lions will have their dunking board and this year proves to be one of the most popular events on the grounds.

The Wellington Satellite Training and work center will be back with its food booth, and the Chamber of Commerce sponsors a game booth.

One change is to be noted in placing the exhibits. Bura Handley Community Center will be open from 1:00 to 5:00 p.m. All exhibits except those

Wellington Country Club Organizes

Wellington golfers organized a new club Thursday, Sept. 8, elected officers and began plans for a new golf course to be located 2 miles east of Wellington.

The new club will be called Wellington Country Club. Officers are Bill Long, president; Bob Goforth, vice president; Louise Mabery, secretary; and C.T. Hubbard, treasurer. Other directors are Lynna Hurst, Wayne Martin and Henry Wells.

Work will begin this fall on the 9-hole golf course. Cart sheds, a swimming pool and club house are also planned for the club.

Those wishing to join the club should contact one of the officers for further details.

Schools Dismiss Friday for Fair Parade

Wellington schools will be dismissed for the Collingsworth County Fair Parade Friday, Sept. 9, Supt. E.W. Clement announced.

Parents who have children on parade floats or other divisions may pick them up at school at 10:15 a.m., Mr. Clement said.

School will dismiss at 10:30 and parents may pick up other children then. Elementary children who are not picked up by parents will be bused downtown for the parade and back to school. Junior High and high school students will look after themselves.

Classes will take up at the regular time, 12:30 p.m.

The cafeteria will be open on its usual schedule.

The parade will get under way at 11:00 a.m.

Livestock Show Top Saturday Attraction

Baby and small animals will have their own show Saturday, September 10, reminds Billy Moseley, chairman of the County Fair livestock division.

This is one of three livestock events scheduled through the day. All will be at the Youth Project Show Barn on Amarillo Street between 7th and 8th.

The baby animal show will be at 11:00 a.m. to be followed by the horse show at 2:00 p.m. This is another major event, and one which those working with the livestock division are trying to build.

Final event will be the beef cattle show at 4:00 p.m. Ribbon awards only will be presented.

Mr. Moseley said, that any pet may be shown in the baby or small animal show except snakes or dangerous animals, and that the chairman reserves the right to reject any entry. Animals must be in place by 11 a.m. and remain until released by the chairman. Each animal must be on a leash or its own container.

All entries will be placed first through third places with one grand and one reserve champion chosen.

HORSE SHOW

There will be a halter class only in the horse show, a division that has increased in size each year it has been a part of the Fair.

All entries must be in place by 2:00 p.m. and remain until released by the chairman. He also reserves the right to reject any entry and no stallions will be allowed.

"You are encouraged to enter your horse whether registered or not. Everything from plow horses to registered horses are welcome. There will be a place for all breeds, with ribbons being awarded first through third places.

Grand Champion and Reserve Champion rosettes will be awarded," Mr. Moseley said.

BEEF CATTLE

All beef cattle must be in place by 4:00 p.m. Saturday and remain until released by the chairman. All entries will be placed first through third.

In the steer class, entries will be divided into light, medium and heavy weights. Heifers will be judged in junior and senior classes.

A champion and reserve champion breeding animal and champion and reserve champion beef calf will be selected.

Beef calves must be accompanied by a weight slip dated within two days of the show.

Mr. Moseley said that sheep and other livestock categories, if any, will be judged following the steer and heifer show.

The public is invited to attend the livestock show, Mr. Moseley said, as many people consider this one of the more interesting divisions of the fair.

Mabery Recovering From Snake Bite

The accident occurred about 9:30 a.m., Friday, September 2, as Mr. Mabery and Benton Wauer were moving irrigation pipe at the Mabery farm about 10 miles south of Wellington.

It is not yet known when he will be able to leave the hospital, Mrs. Mabery said Wednesday morning.

Only one fang struck his leg, just above the ankle. The snake, about the color of the ground and lying in tall johnson grass, rattled as it struck, the men said.

Mrs. Mabery said her husband probably will not be able to get around for a while after he is released from the hospital.

Kiwanis Will Deliver Barbecue

The Kiwanis Club will feature an added service for their beef barbecue, which they are sponsoring at noon Friday, Sept. 9, the opening day of the county fair.

They will deliver plates to homes in town, and orders may be placed by calling 447-5771 or 447-2340 between 8:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Thursday.

Anyone wanting barbecue delivered to their home must call before 10:00 a.m. Friday.

Co. Oil, Gas Sales Valued At $211,990 Last Year

The massive energy needs of this nation continue to grow in the face of declining crude oil and natural gas production in Texas and nationwide. Because of this, Collingsworth County's 1976 petroleum production was as important as in any year since production began in 1936.

Economic conditions within the county were improved substantially by the marketing of crude oil and natural gas valued at $4.6-million, according to compilations by the staff of the Dallas-based Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association.

Collingsworth was one of 200 Texas counties last year which produced crude oil and natural gas with a marketed value of $100,000 or more, the same number as in 1975. The county ranked 160th in the total estimated value of petroleum produced, realizing $211,990 from the sale of 26,075 barrels of crude oil; $4.4-million from the sale of 5.7-million Mcf of natural gas. Payments last year to owners of royalty in the county totaled $572,035.

In addition to the payment of local school and county property taxes, producers in the county also contributed to the support of state government through production tax payments of $337,074, with $9,752 coming from crude oil output; $327,322 from natural gas.

The search for additional petroleum continued in Collingsworth County in 1976, with oil and gas developers spending an estimated $3-million in the drilling of seven gas wells, all developmental.

Jack S. Blanton of Houston, president of the Association, said, "The decline in Texas' oil and gas production makes it imperative that Congress adopt policies which will encourage more exploration and drilling in the nation's No. 1 energy state. This is a facet of the energy supply problem that President Carter has not dealt with adequately in his proposals."

According to figures from the U.S. Bureau of Mines, along with the church library, nursery and choir room.

The organ is being reworked and will be returned to the church. Some new equipment will be purchased, including a new public address system.

Mathis Construction Company has 300 calendar days in which to complete the building.

This company constructed one of Wellington's finer buildings only a few years ago, the Wellington State Bank.

It is of interest that when First United Methodist Church began its building program in 1964, the estimated cost of constructing the education building, sanctuary and offices, and a fellowship hall which is yet to be built, was $276,000. At that time it was estimated the cost of the sanctuary and offices would be $130,000.

In the meantime, a new home for the pastor was built on lots which the church acquired immediately back of the educational building, fronting on Childress Street.

considers that this was a tight squeeze.

It was apparent that Wellington outplayed Hollis during the first half, but the second half saw the Tigers come back strong and unbiased observers feel that they outplayed the Texans.

The Rockets' 200-pound tackle, Richard Garcia, who is considered potential all-state material, bruised one elbow in the Hollis game, but Coach Williams believes he will be able to play by Friday.

Robert Chambers turned an ankle Monday in practice, but he, too, should be ready for action Friday.

Texas' crude oil production last year was approximately 1,189,719,000 barrels, down from 1,221,929,000 barrels in 1975, and the fourth consecutive year of decline from 1972's all-time high of just over 1.3-billion barrels.

Natural gas production, estimated by the Bureau at 7,192,371 MMcfs, also was down from the 1975 figure of 7,488,764 MMcfs. Texas gas production also peaked in 1972 at 8,657,840 MMcfs--and has fallen each year since.

Blanton said that drilling starts and expenses reached all-time highs in Texas last year and noted that this was directly attributable to a free market for intrastate natural gas. He also pointed out that a five-year lag time exists between increased drilling activity and increases in proved reserves.

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

I would like to have The Wellington Leader for a year. I grew up in Dodson and lived in Wellington several years. I worked at the Compress, Simmons Gin, also for Mr. Buster Hughs Glass and Trim. I also ran the salvage for Simmons Gin after Mr. Ham Trimble died, so I am still a Texan in a foreign country.

Thank you very much,
Harrel S. Wright
29 Palms, Calif.

Those raging forest fires in the West and Northwest have cost millions of dollars in loss of forest land and property damage. The effects will be felt for years to come.

Almost 3 million acres of land have been burned with the worst still to come. The National Park Service is nervous about new outbreaks before the dry spell ends. The dollar loss in land and wildlife will top $1 billion. The fire in the Big Sur country of northern California cost over $300 million alone just to that area's watershed. Fighting the fires has cost state and federal governments between $20 million and $30 million with more money to be spent reseeded and reforesting burned over areas.

The lumber companies haven't totaled their losses and, surprisingly little private timberland has been burned. But officials are concerned that a series of lightning fires could break out at any time. So, lumber buyers have started a panic buying spree, driving the price of lumber up 10% in the past two weeks.

Losses haven't been limited to just wilderness and timber areas. Property damage to homes in the Santa Barbara area last month was $25 million, not including furnishings and personal property. A fire near Corona, California wiped out citrus and avocado orchards worth over $1 million.

Drought, low humidity and high temperatures together with a prevailing dry wind from the east have been the key reasons for the fires. Almost 90% of all the fires were started by lightning, but others were started by human carelessness. A New Mexico fire, which burned 12,000 acres and threatened the Los Alamos scientific laboratory, was started by sparks from a motor bike. Colorado has had 350 fires this summer, Oregon had 375 and Alaska had 625 which damaged over 2 million acres. Much of the Alaskan acreage was fragile tundra, where fire damage results in erosion of up to 12 feet a year. Tundra can be restored in 40 years, but timberland takes a century to be restored.

Hightower Asks USDA to Explain Wheat Set-Aside

Pampa, TX -- Congressman Jack Hightower again urged United States Department of Agriculture officials to release details of the announced wheat "set-aside" including regulations that would allow farmers to graze livestock on the acres withheld from production.

"If farmers are not allowed to graze land withheld from production, it is doubtful they can afford to participate in the program," stated Hightower. "Winter wheat pasture is a vital portion of our agricultural economy."

Farmers will not be receiving payments for diverting acres as they did under set-aside programs during 1950's and 1960's. They can no more afford to have fertile acres not producing revenue any more than we can afford to have plowed ground bare to winter and spring winds."

Deputy Secretary of Agriculture John C. White announced Monday the long rumored wheat acreage diversion. The Administration is calling for farmers to withhold 20 percent of their normal wheat cropland from production to reduce the surplus of wheat. With well over two years domestic supply on hand, wheat prices have stayed close to $2 per bushel, making the farmers return as little as one-half of the cost of production.

Export markets have been weak since the 1975 embargo caused many of our best customers to go elsewhere for grain purchases. Favorable

DAVIS AT ENMU

Portales, N.M. Former Wellington High School standout
Jesse Davis is a member of the 1977 Western New Mexico University football squad. Davis will see action at the runningback position for the Mustangs who open the 1977 season at powerful Abilene Christian University Sept. 17.
Jesse is currently locked in a battle for a starting backfield position.

weather world wide has provided a glutted world market with nations like India and even Bangladesh having bumper crops.

Hightower contended that while the acreage diversion may be necessary to bring our wheat supply back into a more even level with the demand, the grazing aspect of the program will be a major factor as to Texas producers participating in the program.

"The wheat areas that graze do not comprise a majority of the wheat states. A large part of the wheat country north of us has large yields and little of our costs like irrigation. To the individual producer in the 13th District, grazing or not grazing means the difference between profit and loss."

Hightower underscored the need for producers to know the details of how the entire set-aside program would work. "We have had producers planting wheat for over a week now. There are changes in this new bill. If our farmers are going to comply, if they are going to participate in the program, they must know how it is going to work."

Changes in Grain Farm Storage Loans

With the grain harvest near, farmers might be interested in an easier farm loan program for grain storage facilities that has been established by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

"The loan program is designed to help farmers buy and construct on-farm storage units. One of the first considerations in the loan program was the need for grain storage facilities on the farm," say Wayne Hayenga and Roland Smith, economists with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The new program provides for a two-year production level as the base to determine storage needs. Previously, the base was one year's production.

"The loan ceiling has been raised to a total of $50,000 per applicant, with the county ASCS (Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Service) committee being able to approve a loan up to $25,000," add the economists. "Higher loans usually require state ASCS committee approval."

The down payment for loans has dropped from 30 to 15 percent with no exclusions.
Concrete and electrical work was previously excluded from down payment consideration.

"Interest rates have dropped from 7.5 to 7 percent for the term of the loan. But this rate is subject to change by the Secretary of Agriculture," not Hayenga and Smith. "However the interest rate will not be subject to a semi-annual review for change based on

5-Year-Old Carries On Quail Tradition

When Anthony Trent Carson, 5, enrolled in the kindergarten of Quail School Monday, August 29, he was carrying on a family tradition and perhaps helping set a school record.

He is the fourth generation of his family to attend Quail School.

Anthony's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Ben Carson [Paula Langley] graduated in 1969; all his uncles and aunts are Quail graduates: Johnny Carson, now of Gainesville, in 1965; Pamela Langley Neeley, 1969, and Susan Langley Bratt of Muskogee, Okla., 1972.

Both sets of grandparents are graduates: John W.
Carson, 1941, and Jo Farmer
Carson, 1944, Loyd C.
Langley, and Mildred Clay
Langley, both of 1946.

All of their brothers and sisters are Quail graduates:
Billy Don Carson of Borger,
1945; Alvie Clay of Hedley, 1946; Addierene Clay French of Avila Beach, Calif., 1942;
Ava Clay White, 1949; Peggy
Clay Dawson of San Antonio, 1956; J.W. Langley of cost of money to the government. This means that the interest rate will not change for the duration of the loans."

Should producers elect to use on-farm storage for their grain crop, they will want to follow accepted practices for maintaining the quality of the stored grain, add Hayenga and Smith.

More detailed information on the loan program can be obtained at any county ASCS office.

Texas Plays To 99,000

CANYON--When the last rider swept across the face of the Canyon tonight with the American flag streaming over his head as he rode, and the music soared as the lights built up on the 600 foot cliff behind the state, "TEXAS" closed for the twelfth season.

99,000 people saw "TEXAS" in 1977 making the total cumulative attendance for twelve seasons more than 960,000 people.

After the last show, the cast and crew changed into work clothes, and turned their energies to "strike"; putting everything away for the next season: scrubbing and shining the buildings of the Pioneer Amphitheatre for their winter rest.

140 people working in every part of the building leave everything in order in about two hours. Then they gather for a party-a last time together for the summer. Tear and gaiety and exhaustion are calmed by a good dinner.

H. McKinney Selected for Student Honor

Harold McKinney, a junior in Wellington High School, has been selected as a member of the Society of Distinguished American High School Students.

He will represent his church, First Baptist and Wellington High School.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. D.R. McKinney, Harold was nominated by his sponsor, Mrs. P.M. Scott, a high school faculty member.

Harold's selection was on the basis of accomplishments during his sophomore year.

With the assistance of high school and church officials, The Society honors America's most distinguished students--those who have achieved academic excellence and have displayed leadership in extra-curricular, civic and church activities. Because of his outstanding record, your son has qualified for this high national honor," E. Vinson Givens, administrator of the program, wrote Mr. and Mrs. McKinney.

Harold is a member of Wellington Chapter, Future Farmers of America and the Skyrocket Football team.

Carla Holliman of Panhandle came home with her grandmother, Mrs. Emma Tate last Thursday. She also visited her other grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Horace Holliman. Carla's mother and sister, Mrs. Dee Holliman and Mary Ann, came for her over the weekend.

One of the most successful marketing efforts in American sport has been soccer, a game which has been popular in Europe and South America, but is only now catching on in this country. It is becoming a major American sport with 78,000 fans packing a New Jersey stadium recently, 42,000, attending a game in Seattle, and a sellout house already for the Soccer Bowl classic in Portland, Ore.

The record crowds and extensive media coverage are a direct result of a strong and concerted marketing effort to sell the sport to the fans and the sports press. A big factor in turning soccer into a major sport in this country has been changing some of the game rules of soccer to make it more aggressive and crowd-pleasing. Tie soccer games are perfectly acceptable in Europe but not this country. So, sudden-death tie breakers and overtimes have been added along with the "shootout." This is where five rival players on each side strive to break a tie by taking turns kicking the soccer ball past the goalie in five seconds.

In the off season the Dallas soccer team sends players out to challenge local high school faculty members to volleyball matches. However, the soccer players are not allowed to use their hands in the game, the Dallas club won 23 of 25 volleyball games last year.

Former Residents Visit Relatives

Visiting in Wellington recently were Mrs. Jim Glascock of Tulia, a former resident here, and her aunt, Mrs. Peggy Wilder of Brownwood.

Mrs. Glascock will be remembered as Pat Bartlett, daughter of the Rube Bartletts, who lived in the Bean Hill community.

Relatives they visited included Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Feemster, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Keller, Mrs. E.W. Carter, Mrs. Edith Estes and Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Estes.

Mrs. Glascock also was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Peters. She and Mr. Peters started to school together at Bean Hill.

Mrs. Glascock and Mrs. Wilder also visited the Collingsworth County Historical Museum and the cemeteries where members of the family are buried.

offered a prize to the fan who could correctly guess how high a soccer ball would bounce when dropped from the top of the 58,000 seat Kingdome stadium. After a soccer match in Seattle, players run into the stands to pass out flowers in appreciation of the fans' support.

To help the teams woo fans, the American Soccer League distributes news of successful promotional ideas to all 18 professional soccer teams. The Tampa soccer team boosted attendance from 10,000 to 20,000 in just two years by giving tree kazoos to fans. The San Jose soccer team prints its schedule on garment bags distributed by a local dry-cleaning firm. The Dallas soccer team lined up both Dr. Pepper and Burger King in a deal offering three tickets to a game, three hamburgers, a jacket and a player's picture, all for $3.99.

Food Better Cooked Out

COLLEGE STATION--Charcoal grilled meats are unbeatable--especially when outdoor chefs know the basic "how-to's."

Cooking is ready to begin once the fire is a bed of rosy coals covered with grey ash, says Marilyn Haggard, a foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

GRILLING GUIDELINES

Place meats on the hot grill, allow them to sear on one side, baste with sauce or butter, cook half of total cooking time--and then turn them over once. Turning meat only once retains more moisture.

In turning meats, always use tongs--as forks leave holes that allow tasty juices to escape, the specialist says.

If fire flames up as fat drips on the coals, sprinkle flames lightly with water or a little baking soda.

To slow down cooking, remove a few coals--or raise the rack. To speed cooking, add coals along the fire edge and transfer to the center once grey ash covers them.

Ople White Honored Sun. County 4-H Girls Bake Show Will be Held On Thursday

Sunday evening, September 4, Ople White was honored with a birthday party.

Three of their four children joined Mr. and Mrs. White for the celebration. They were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Jack Watson, Tanya, Audie and Angela; Mr. and Mrs. Donald White, Randy and Bret of Clarendon; and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Scott, Sandra and Steve of Memphis. Mr. and Mrs. Rudell White, Gena and Chett of Richardson were unable to attend.

Homemade ice cream and birthday cake was served and gifts were presented to the honoree.

The Collingsworth County 4-H Bake Show will be held on Thursday, September 8, in the County Extension Office.

Approximately twenty-five 4-Hers will enter the required products; yeast rolls and peanut butter cookies. Mrs. Cecil Masten and Mrs. Gary Killian will judge the bake show.

Mr. and Mrs. Gibbs Rucker of Broadview, New Mexico were guests of Mrs. R.C. Bryan recently. They were enroute to attend a family reunion in Altus, Oklahoma. Mrs. Bryan had met them on the tour she took last fall.

The purpose of the Bake Show is for the 4-H members to learn the nutritional value of bread and cereal in the diet as well as the skills of planning and scoring the product, said Miss Jean Chandler, extension agent.

New district officers will be installed in the afternoon also, by Mrs. Soundra Christy of Childress, state reporter.

Home Demonstration News

by Jean Chandler
Collingsworth County Home Demonstration Agent

High prices are making it increasing difficult for middle income families to buy a house. This is especially true for the first time home buyers who do not have the benefit of an equity build up.

These buyers, because they usually cannot make a larger down payment to reduce the amount borrowed, are faced with a monthly payment which they find hard to make.

The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which regulates savings and loan associations, is attempting to broaden the scope of mortgage lending so that financing can better meet the needs of borrowers.

Ability to make these changes requires legislation revising the Homeowners Loan Act of 1933, the law under which the savings and loan association operate.

New financing alternatives are devised to keep the monthly mortgage payment as low as possible. Major ones being considered are (1) varying the rate charged borrowers with changes in the market increase, it is possible that the rates will go down.) This concept, the variable rate mortgage, was discussed in the January issue of "On the House." (2) Making payments flexible so that payments and family earnings increase simultaneously.

Under this flexible plan, two proposals have been made. The first would require interest only payments for the first five years. As the payments are increased, the loan is fully amortized over the balance of the term. However, the payments are not reduced substantially (most of the monthly payments in the first five years are for interest anyway).

Yet, if the homeowner sells after five years, he may still have an equity because of the appreciation of the property. This plan is most beneficial to borrowers who are upward mobile.

In the second proposal, monthly payments start at a level below that of the conventional mortgages.

Payments increase periodically on a scheduled basis. If these graduated adjustments are made over a short time period, say three years, the payment could move with inflation and income changes.

The payment would be increased or decreased over the prior payment by the difference between the rate at which the loan was made and the prevailing mortgage rate at the time of the scheduled change.

(3) Lengthening the terms of the loan beyond 30 years would permit payment to be fixed at a lower amount than required by a standard loan. The term can be lengthened as the inflation index increases.

OTHER FINANCING ALTERNATIVES

Section 235 loans, grant mortgages at an interest rate as low as 5%. These loans may be the answer for many moderate income families. To be eligible a family of four can earn 95% or less of the median income in an area. The maximum amount that can be borrowed to purchase a house now is 33,000 dollars but is believed that the Carter administration will increase this amount.

The savings can be quite substantial on the 30 year 29,000 dollar mortgage. A family receiving the subsidy pays only 155.00 dollars a month in principal and interest, about 75 % less than it would pay on the same mortgage at 8 %.

The Federal-National Mortgage Association began on February 15, to purchase loans insured by the Federal Housing Administration under that agency's new graduated mortgage program. In purchasing these loans FNMA will apply to price differentials. Listed below are the five payment plans offered potential homeowners which provide for reduced payments during the early years of the mortgage in addition to the traditional six payment system.

(1) Increases the initial payment at the rate of 2 1/2 % annually for five years, then provides for level payments thereafter.

(2) Increases the initial payment, 5% annually for five years.

(3) Increases the initial payment 7 1/2 % annually for five years.

(4) Increases initial payment at the rate of 2 % annually for 10 years.

(5) Increasing initial payment at the rate of 3 % annually for 10 years and then providing for level payments thereafter.

All these plans have merit. There are also disadvantages. None will be a panacea solving all the problems of home financing.

Teens Not Smoking Less

COLLEGE STATION--Teenagers are not smoking less, reports Debby Johnson, family life specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

A 1976 survey shows that, despite evidence of lung cancer and other hazards, both boys and girls smoke more now than they did in 1959.

Since long-term smoking habits are established during teen years, this study points to the need for an awareness program which includes the health hazards, as well as peer influence, Miss Johnson says.

Romanticism, often attached to smoking, may also contribute to the high incidence of teenage smoking, the specialist adds.

In a Pennsylvania high school:

--37% of the boys and 32% of the girls smoked at the time of the study (a student was considered a smoker if he or she smoked at the time of the study).

--94% of the non-smokers and 70% of the smokers agreed that cigarette smoking is a health hazard.

--the school rules prohibited smoking in school. More than 90% of the smokers and 40% of the non-smokers felt that the rule should be changed.

--non-smokers were more likely to choose best friends who did not smoke, while smokers chose best friends who did smoke.

--61% of all students favored changing the school rule to permit smoking.

Investigate a Mattress Before Making Purchase

COLLEGE STATION--Appraise mattress comfort, type and construction--investigate before you invest, says Claudia Kerbel, consumer information specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"Just pushing or sitting on a mattress isn't enough," Ms. Kerbel says. "Put it to a real test. Lie down and feel if your weight is evenly distributed."

"A mattress should be firm enough to keep the spinal column level, with resilience to support all parts of the body. Be sure the hips get their share of support, too."

"Of course, the degree of firmness depends on personal preference, and if two share the bed, be sure both test it," she adds.

The most popular mattress is the innerspring, built like a "sandwich" with linked coils in the center. These coils are covered top and bottom by padding.

"If you can feel the coils, the mattress is inferior," the specialist says. A cutaway construction will show an extra layer of padding between the coils and top padding, if the mattress is "better quality."

Rockets Open Season With 12-7 Victory

Eighteen seconds showed on the Hollis scoreboard clock. Wellington's Skyrockets had clung through the fourth quarter to a 12-7 lead but with less than 2 minutes to play the Hollis Tigers had driven from their own 45 yard line to the Rockets' 15.

It was third down and a large crowd of Skyrocket fans were on their feet. Hollis quarterback Jerry Jones tried a pass but it fell incomplete. Fourth down, Jones dropped back to pass again, but a strong Skyrocket rush forced Jones to overthrow his receiver, and the ball went over on downs.

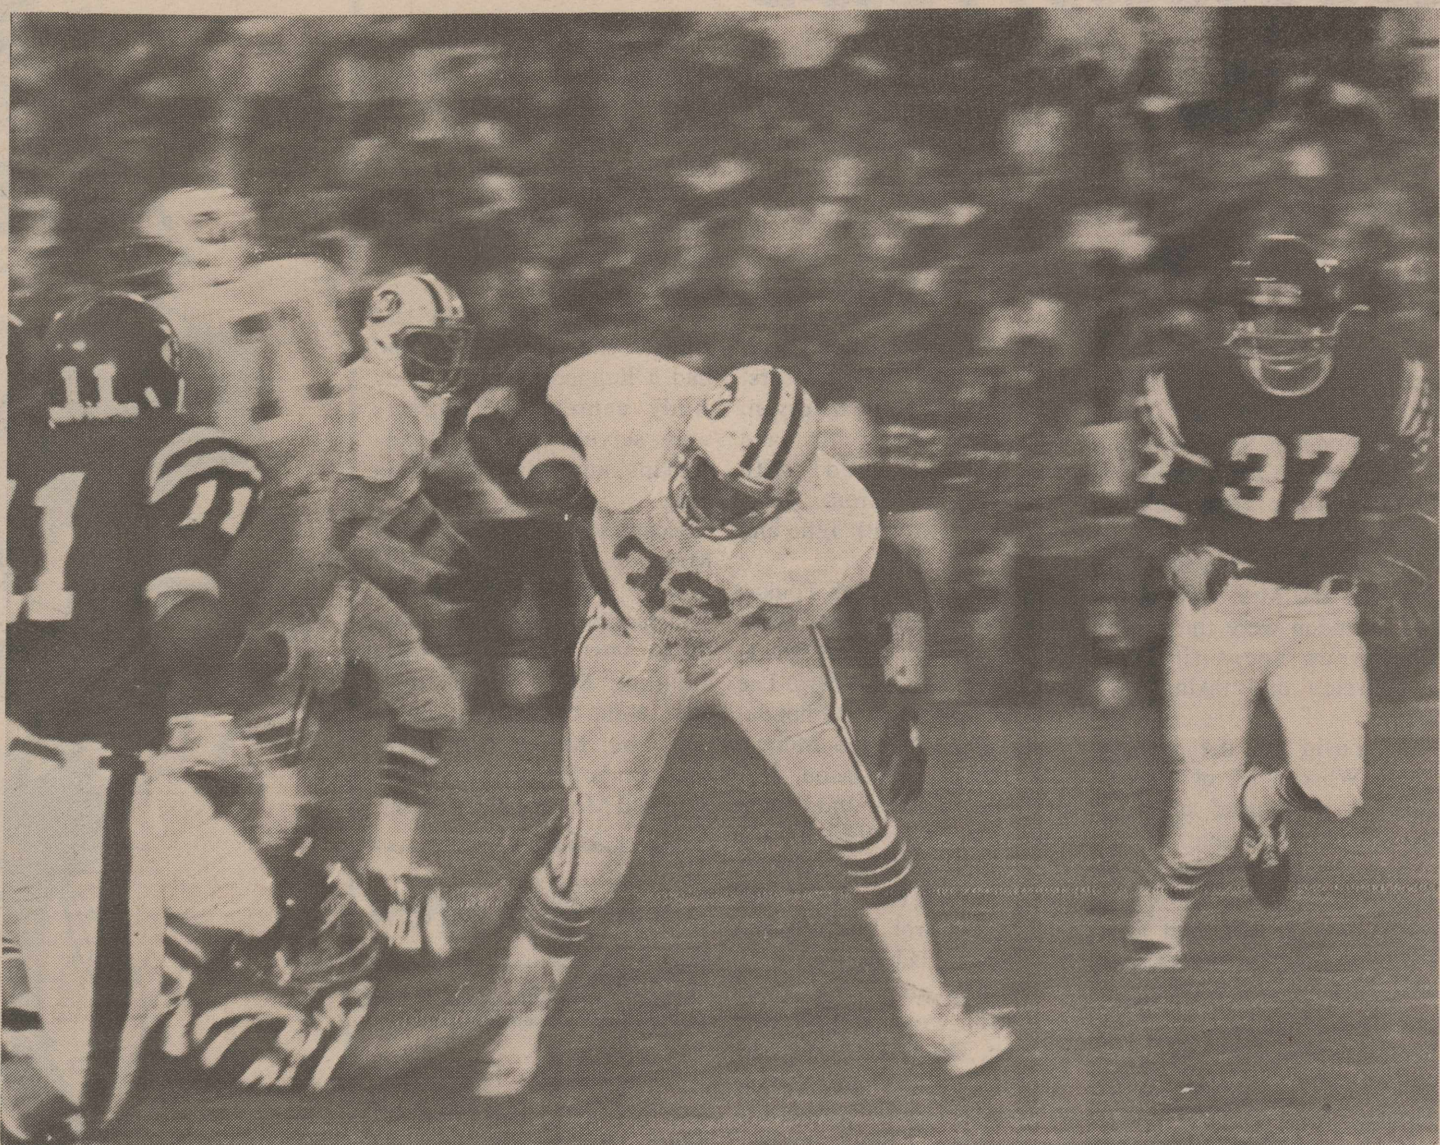

The Rockets held onto the ball for the final fifteen seconds to win the traditional season opener with Hollis, 12-7.

The Rockets had taken the opening kickoff and driven the ball to the Hollis 13 with 9:00 minutes still to go in the first quarter. Joe Thomas and Arnie Ingram threw key blocks, and Ricky Jones scampered into the end zone for the first Wellington score of the season. Carl Taylor's extra-point pass aimed for Jon Sessions fell incomplete.

Arnie Ingram put the nix on Hollis first offensive series with a one-handed interception on the Rockets 40 yard line, and after an exchange of punts, the Rockets found themselves on their own 34 with 2nd down. Taylor headed around end and Richard Garcia smashed a pursuer to allow an 8-yard gain. But the Rockets had to punt again.

A couple of plays later the Rockets recovered a Hollis fumble to set themselves up on the Hollis 30 yard line. On first down, the Rocket line and blocking backs opened up a huge hole for Ricky Jones who traveled 10 yards before a Tiger laid a hand on him. On the next play from the 20, Jones broke tackles and picked his way through a broken field for the Rockets' second score. Taylor's extra-point kick was blocked.

After Dane Dodge's kickoff, John Birkey, Joe Thomas and

TACKLE BREAKER

Ricky Jones drags a leg from the clutches of a Hollis Tiger Friday, Sept. 2, in the Skyrockets' season opener.

Erminio Nevarez turned in fine defensive performances to stop Hollis next series cold, and take a 12-0 lead into halftime.

Hollis received the second half kickoff, and on third down Dodge and George Darton crunched the Hollis ball carrier just short of a first down. It set up one of the game's many 4th down and inches to go situations. Hollis made that fourth down attempt, but four plays later Richard Garcia almost headed the Hollis back to stop another fourth down attempt and turn the ball over.

After an exchange of punts, on first down, Hollis sophomore tailback Mark Tarpley took the ball over right end and stunned the Rocket defense with a 63-yard play for Hollis' only touchdown of the evening. Bill Whitman's extra-point kick was good to make the score 12-7.

After Hollis kickoff, the Rockets moved from their own 24 to the Hollis 5 in a drive keyed by softly thrown pass that Jon Sessions scooped in for a 45-yard gain. But at the 5 yard line Carl Taylor was hit during a handoff and Hollis recovered to kill the drive.

Kevin Hall forced an early pass and George Darton intercepted, but the Rockets fumbled again on their first down and Hollis again recovered.

The Rockets failed to put together an offense on their final possession, and the ball was punted to Hollis whose drive during the closing minutes sent a chill down

Rocket fans' backs.

Firecrackers Open Thursday At Shamrock

The Firecrackers, Wellington 8th grade football team, meet their first opponent, Shamrock 8th grade, Thursday, September 8.

The game will be at 6:00 p.m. in El Paso Stadium, Shamrock.

Coach Bruce Dollar said the 19 boys on this year's squad received uniforms and started practice Wednesday, August 31, and so far, positions have not been assigned.

"We're working on how to block and tackle right now," he said.

The youngsters, all up from last year's 7th grade, are "real eager for everything to get started," Dollar added.

"If they all pull together and get started on the right foot, we will have a real good season," the coach believes.

The 19-member team is about average in numbers, coming after last year's especially large team.

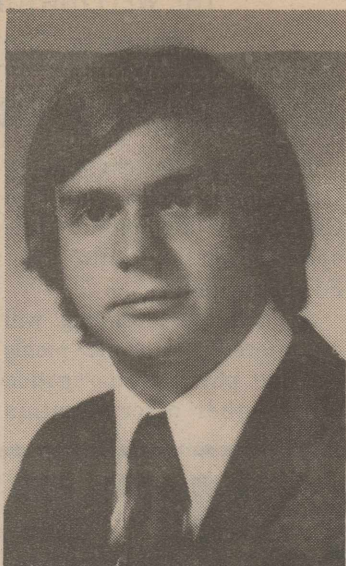

"We have some real good athletes," Dollar commented. "They are about average in weight, but they won't be as large as some last year, nor are they as fast." The 1976 speedsters, Tim Anderson and Chris Lynch are on this year's high school B team.

Hatch was graduated in August from the University of Texas at Austin with a bachelor of business administration degree.

At Austin he was a member of Delta Tau Delta social fraternity, the American Marketing Association and the UT Sailing Club.

While he was in school, he worked in the Senate Post Office at the State Capitol building.

Hatch is a third generation haberdasher. He is the grandson of Mrs. F.A. Hatch whose late husband opened Hatch Dry Goods in Wellington in 1939. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hatch operate the store today.

Wellington Schools Enroll 783 in Week

Wellington Schools enrolled 783 students during the first week, and a few more are expected, Supt. E.W. Clement said Monday, September 5.

This figure is up a little from last year, he added.

Teachers and administrators agree that this school year is beginning smoothly, with fewer stragglers than in prior years, Mr. Clement said.

High school has an enrollment of 226, which Melvin Cardwell, principal, called the largest since he has been here.

"We have the best start since I have been here, too," he added. "The kids are enthusiastic and everything is going real well."

There is another small senior class, with only 38 enrolled. The junior class jumps to 54, however, and there are 61 sophomores and 73 freshmen.

Junior High has enrolled 183. This includes sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Elementary School has 365 students in school, plus 10 in the head start program and receiving instruction as home-bound students, for a total of 375.

New Minister At Ft. Worth St. Church of Christ

Eugene Bryant, Jr., is the new minister of Ft. Worth Street Church of Christ, coming here from Lubbock, where he attended Sunset School of Preaching.

This is his first ministry. Tucson, Arizona, is Mr. Bryant's home town, and he was a professional fighter 12 years before he entered the ministry.

He is a former Nevada State Middleweight champion. Although he has fought throughout the country, most of his bouts were in Arizona and Nevada, he said.

He helped teach youngsters wrestling and gymnastics while living in Henderson, Nevada.

His wife, Chaney, was also reared in Arizona, although Houston is her birthplace. They have three children, Zina, 13, Tammy, 11, and Eugene III, 7, students in the Wellington Schools.

Mr. Bryant is looking forward to his ministry at the Ft. Worth Street church.

"I believe people here are willing to listen to what the Bible has to say, and because of that, I believe the church will grow to a significant size," he said. "Preaching comes as part of the evangelistic work, and I want to be an evangelist—one who spreads the word."

Doves Given as Gifts Require Tag

AUSTIN—Migratory game bird hunters who give some of their birds to a fellow hunter this year need to accompany the gift with a brief note.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Commissioners recently acted to require a note or tag attached to any freshly killed migratory game birds given by one hunter to another as a gift.

The tag must be signed by the hunter who took the birds and state his name, address, total number of birds killed, species and date birds were taken.

The only exception to the tagging requirement is birds given to another at the home

Attend Dist. 13 VFW Meeting

Representing Glynn Moore Post, Veterans of Foreign Wars, at the 13th District Convention in Plainview recently were Commander Tony Stephens and Junior Castillo.

Mr. Stephens said the next district convention will be in Dimmitt November 19 and 20.

He added that efforts will be made in the near future to contact all eligible veterans in view of becoming members, or they may get in touch with him.

"All present members are urged to pay their dues so we can be over our quota by the time of our next district convention," Stephens said.

The first coeducational college in the U.S. was Oberlin College, of either recipient or donor.

P&WD officials say white-winged dove hunters should especially take heed of the tagging requirement while hunting during the upcoming September 3-4 and 10-11 season.

Without proper tags, if birds given to another exceed the recipient's bag limit on that species then he is in violation of the law and game wardens will be obliged to write a citation.

The tagging requirements will help wardens prosecute those who exceed bag and possession limits. It also will give hunters a legal means of transporting another person's kill.

Tag rulings apply not only to doves but to waterfowl and all other migratory game birds.

Skyrocket JV At Shamrock

The Rocket Junior Varsity opens its 1977 season Thursday, September 9, against the Shamrock JV, playing on El Paso Field. The game will start at 7:30 p.m.

Coach Robert Hicks has 32 players suited up, a considerably larger number than in most years.

While the starting lineup isn't settled, Hicks named some players who will see a lot of action.

"We have a pretty well balanced backfield," he said, Marty Warrick, a sophomore, is in the quarterback position, and another sophomore, Baldo Nevarez, is in at fullback. Two freshmen roundout the backfield, Fleet-footed Tim Anderson, halfback, and Darrell Thomas, wingback. These will start.

The center position is filled by a freshman new to Wellington Schools, Derwin Wheeler. He played on the Childress 8th grade team last year—a team that didn't lost a game.

Haskell Bonapart and Craig Darter, both sophomores, are at guard position, and tackles are Alvin Pennon, a sophomore and Joe Saldana, a freshman.

As for ends, Coach Hicks has an abundance of them, and there will be quite a bit of alternating. These include Kevin Needham, a sophomore, Chuck Darter, junior; Charles Warren, a sophomore who moved in from Arizona; and Mike Thomas another sophomore. Two other who will see action are Lennie Archie, a freshman, and Stacy Urban, who transferred from Samnorwood.

Urban and Danny Wischkaemper, who transferred from Quail, are playing football for the first time. Both have the size and when they learn the techniques, they should see action.

There are a few changes on defense, with Jimmy Morgan, and Chris Watts, juniors, and Paul Estes, a freshman, due to go in.

The JV will run from a straight T formation with a full house backfield. They will run the 27 defense.

"We have a lot of younger kids who played on the 8th grade who will be playing on speciality teams a while before they develop enough for much play, Coach Hicks said.

As he sees the team, its main strength is probably in the running. "The offensive line has pretty good size, and as the year goes on they'll get better. They just have to get a little experience and they'll be pretty good," Coach Hicks predicted.

This JV compares in numbers to the 1972 team, the first year Hicks coached here. Little is know of their opponents, Shamrock JV, although the team is made up principally of freshmen.

Each JV or B team in the district will meet all others twice during the season, and the second time around, they will be in position of knowing what they have to face.

Aircraft Owner Tax Return Due

Most taxpayers who own aircraft must file a special Federal tax return, Form 4638, by August 31.

The return, Form 4638, must include the $25 annual fee for each aircraft plus the tax of 3½ cents for each pound of maximum certified take-off weight for turbine powered aircraft, and 2 cents for each pound of maximum certified take-off weight over 2,500 pounds for piston powered aircraft.

The tax year for the use tax begins July 1 and runs through June 30. If the first taxable use of an aircraft occurs after July 31, the tax based on weight is proportionately reduced.

BILL HALE

Floydada Man Announces for Dist. 66 Post

Bill Hale, 47-year-old Floydada merchant, is the first candidate to announce for the office of State Representative from the 66th Legislative District, now held by Phil Cates, of Shamrock.

Mr. Cates announced that he will not seek re-election.

Mr. Hale, who describes himself as a conservative, will run on the Republican ticket. He brought his campaign to Wellington briefly Friday evening, August 25.

"I believe the best interests of the people in our district will be served by having a truly conservative representative in our State Legislature. I also believe that I am the man that can best further these conservative beliefs in Austin," Mr. Hale said of his race.

A lifelong Floydada resident Mr. Hale graduated from Texas Tech in 1955 with a BBA degree in Personnel management and since then has been associated with his father in Hale's Department Store. Deeply involved in civic work, he was president of the Floydada Development Company three years. During his term, the company secured the establishment of West Texas Branch of the Texas A&M University Vocational Training School at Floydada.

Lions Hold Terrapin Race on Square Sat.

The Lions and their terrapins will provide some of the most unpredictable entertainment of the County Fair Saturday, September 10, at 1:00 p.m.

Wellington Lions Club is sponsoring its traditional terrapin race on the south side of the square, said Mike Naylor, secretary.

Monty Mitchell is chairman and all other club members are working.

Anyone who wants to buy a operation, is teaching the same short courses that are to be had at College Station, such as Firemen's and Fire Marshalls Short Course, etc.

For this work, Floydada people named Mr. Hale Citizen of the Year in 1973, and he received commendations from the Rotary and Lions Clubs.

"Most of the counties in the 66th District have lost population for the last 30 years. One of our biggest needs is to get some industry which will stop this migration. When I get to Austin, I will really work toward getting industry to locate in these counties that have been losing population, instead of locating in large urban areas where they cause more and more problems.

Mr. Hale served on the Floydada School Board 4 years, was in the U.S. Air Force two years, served 12 years with the Housing Authority, 10 years in Little League Work, including the presidency, worked with Chamber of Commerce 20 years and was vice president, and was on the city council one term.

He and his wife, the former Carolyn Halthcock, have two married sons, Richard, assistant manager of Hales's Department Store and Michael a student at Texas Tech, and another son, Steven, a first year student at Texas Tech Law School.

racing terrapin for $5.00 can contact a Lion before race time.

Qualifications of these contestants are unknown and any performance at is certainly not guaranteed.

Every owner will know his $5.00 is going for a good cause, even if his hard-shelled entry makes a beeline for the finish mark, then settles down and draws in his head three inches before getting there.

All the money goes back into community projects, to help needy youngsters with such items as glasses, or to attend crippled children's camp, Naylor pointed out.

The one out-of-county project which the Lions support is the High Plains Eye Bank, Amarillo, which annually makes possible the gift of sight to a number of Panhandle people.

Right now, Lions are accepting the donation of terrapins from anyone who wants to help them.

Anyone who wants to bring in his own racing terrapin Saturday can do that but he will still have to pay $5.00 to get it inside the circle which all entries are supposed to try to get out of.

Vehicle Licenses Go on Staggered Renewal Basis

Beginning with the next motor vehicle registration year, January 1, 1978, motorists will pay registration fees on a staggered year-round schedule based on present license plate numbers.

Information on the new system has been released by Robert W. Townsley, director of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation Motor Vehicle Division.

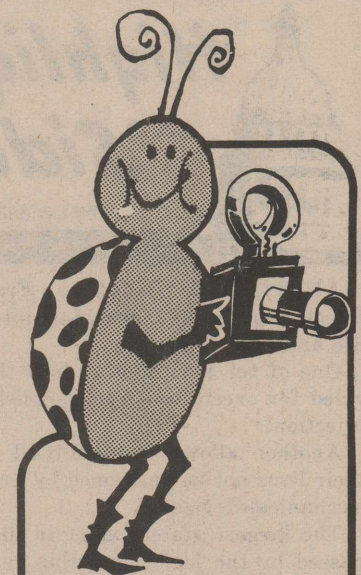

This year-round staggered registration will make the long waiting lines of late March a thing of the past.

The 1977 vehicle registration will expire midnight, April 1, 1978, as usual, and must be renewed by that deadline.

To convert to the new system next year, registration periods of passenger cars and light trucks [such as pickups] will be staggered. All other registration [including personalized plates] will remain the same.

About January 1, 1978, vehicle owners should receive through the mail a renewal notice for each vehicle owned. The passenger car and light truck renewals will be staggered for various periods and license fees will be prorated accordingly.

Veteran's Education Loans Now Quicker

Veterans seeking loans for higher education expenses can act quickly and cut the usual waiting period, according to VA Administrator Max Cleland. VA will loan up to $1,500 each academic year to qualified veteran students.

By preprocessing a student's loan application as soon as it is received and prior to notification from the school that the student has enrolled for classes, the usual 30-day waiting period will be eliminated. Two conditions must be met: [1] The veteran must demonstrate his essential expenses during the school year will be greater than his income, and [2] He must have been turned down by the banks in the area, or the school must certify that area banks are not making student loans. Cleland emphasized that early applications are necessary.

Our County Fair

This is the week of the Collingsworth County Fair, one of the high points of every year. This fair is always meant to be fun, and that is the way it will be again this year.

Each year, this fair is staged by a few people doing a big job, extending themselves farther than most care to do. Many of them will be working in their departments Friday and Saturday. Tell them if you like what they have done.

Some changes will be noted—more emphasis in some departments, less in others. For the most part, that is the way interest has been for the 1977 Fair. If your favorite parts are only scantily represented, resolve now that you will get involved right there next year.

Other Editors Say . . .

Shades of Nazi Germany

Obviously, the American people cannot be trusted. They must be told what to do and how to do it - and then spied on to be sure it is done.

That's the infuriating part of an energy conservation plan to be proposed soon by the Carter administration. There is a frightening part, too. That is that the administration is considering using the nation's youth to do the spying. It smacks of the Hitler Youth.

What the kids would be enlisted to do - and they would be mostly high school youth - is keep track of how diligently their neighbors, even their own parents, adjust thermostats, douse lights and repair leaky hot water faucets.

Volunteers in the administration's Youth Energy Program would be furnished a 100-page field manual, a government checklist and instructions to go door to door examining houses from the outside before knocking and asking to go through the inside of the houses to finish the "survey."

All of this would be done in the name of patriotism, the same motivation that urged Hitler's youth corps to fanaticism. Obviously the guaranteed privacy of our homes is of lesser patriotic importance than the importance of obeying Big Brother in the matter of energy consumption.

It is not clear in whose mind such a diabolic idea was conceived, but one thing is clear - it was the mind of a demagog! Greg Schneiders, White House projects director, called the program a means of "raising awareness and educating the general public on ways that energy can be saved." James Schlesinger directs the cabinet-level Department of Energy. S. David Freeman headed the $4 million study of the current energy crisis and spelled out his solution of it for the Ford Foundation.

The suggestion could have come from any one of these or from someone else. But wherever it came from, Rep. Jack Hightower said President Carter ought to fire the person who thought of it. But - heaven forbid! - the idea could have come from Carter himself.

Regardless of Schneider's disclaimer that the spy games are merely for "educating" the public, the scope of the plan belies the claim. The government-prepared checklist is so exhaustive that completion would require 45 minutes and would include everything from inflation of tires on parents' and neighbors' automobiles to the water level in toilet tanks.

And why a manual? A hundred pages, yet! Is a manual required to interpret a list of "tips" on conservation? Most manuals of this nature give detailed instructions on how to do the job one is assigned to do. So far, the only thing known about the contents of the field manual is that it contains mottos for stirring up the enthusiasm of the young tattlers. It is frightening and disgusting to speculate on what else might be there.

Whoever had the idea certainly picked the right age group to train as spies for "their country." Where is more zeal, albeit misguided, to be found than in young persons? And who is more idealistic? Or intolerant, for that matter? The object of our wrath should not be the kids who might be duped into becoming unwitting agents of a government bureau. If you're upset, it should be with the administration.

We do believe, however, that if one of the young zealots comes to your door, he should be politely but firmly turned away. And we hope that if any children of our readers should ever consider undertaking such a nefarious task, they will be sternly discouraged.

If arbitrary curbs are to be placed on energy waste, they should be applied first to the hot air spewing in every direction from Schlesinger's Department of Energy.

AUSTIN—It's the law . . . Five hundred new ones took effect September 1 reaching into nearly every aspect of life and even death.

One of the new laws banned the electric chair and provided for execution of condemned criminals by lethal drug injection.

Another allows terminally-ill patients to specify that their lives not be postponed by artificial methods including mechanical devices.

The largest state budget in history—$15.5 billion—was passed by the legislature this year, and September 1 was opening day of the new fiscal period.

Merger of the Texas Water Development Board, Texas Water Quality Board and Water Rights Commission into a single Department of Water already has been discussed in this column.

A "Sunset law" sets up a procedure for determining whether state agencies should be continued or phased out. Twenty-six, mostly minor regulatory agencies, must send self-evaluation reports to a Sunset Advisory Commission for review by October 30. The legislature in 1979 will decide whether they should be abolished or renewed.

Other laws taking effect this month would require mandatory supervision of released state prisoners, legalize Laetrile for cancer treatment, expand the Court of Criminal Appeals, establish a procedure for criminals to make payments to victims of their crimes, establish a statewide adult probation system, allow cities to increase hunting and fishing license fees, and give coal slurry pipelines power to condemn land for rights of way.

POLITICS POPPING

Statewide political races are beginning to shape up.

State Insurance Board Chairman Joe Christie resigned his post and said he will decide by October whether to run for the U.S. Senate. U.S. Rep. Robert Krueger of New Braunfels is already campaigning actively for the Democratic nomination to oppose U.S. Sen. John Tower, a Republican.

Meanwhile, State Republican Chairman Ray Hutchison designated himself as campaign treasurer for a prospective race for governor. Gov. Dolph Briscoe has announced for a third term, and Atty. Gen. John Hill is expected to oppose him in the Democratic primary.

MARSH SALE REJECTED

Gov. Briscoe disapproved sale of Jefferson and Matagorda county marshlands to the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service for national wildlife refuges.

He suggested state or local ownership as an alternative. The federal agency had proposed to buy McFaddin and Sea Rim marshes in Jefferson County and the Smith marsh in Matagorda County.

Briscoe noted Jefferson and Matagorda commissioners opposed the sale. He suggested the State Parks and Wildlife Department work with the federal service and local governments to "explore all reasonable alternatives and methods of preserving these natural wetlands."

CITY STATE BANK

An early American writer once defined banking: "The business of banking, in its widest sense, is to collect in banks the capital of a community, that which is either money or can readily be turned into money, and upon the capital so collected to build up, by proper management and machinery, a credit which will extend and enlarge its usefulness to the community." This definition of banking holds true to this day. We perform many services here at the bank, but our basic functions may be reduced to three: (1) Accepting funds for safekeeping, (2) Providing the public with a mechanism for making payments, and (3) Putting depositors' money to work by lending or investing it. It truthfully can be said that the economy of the United States never could have reached its present magnitude if it had not been for the development of ways of lending and investing money "to extend and enlarge its usefulness to the community."

County Library to Benefit From State System Funding

Eighteen libraries in the 25-county area served by the Texas Panhandle Library System have qualified for membership in the regional library system for the year that begins September 1. Amarillo Public Library serves as the Major Resource Center for the system. Collingsworth County Library is one of those that will benefit.

The system will receive a $184,734 grant to carry out cooperative activities to improve library service in the region. It is one of ten regional library systems organized under provisions of the Texas Library Systems Act of 1969 administered by the Texas State Library.

System programs are designed to increase the quantity of materials available as well as to make them more easily accessible. Throughout the year members of the system staff will be providing consultant service to member libraries and conducting workshops.

Among the programs to increase the range of materials available in libraries are one that will increase the number of books in individual libraries and another that will make films and cassette tapes available to member libraries from system headquarters.

Access to materials will be improved through a books-by-mail program for persons in the 25-county area that are not served by a public library. In addition most of the member libraries have signed reciprocal borrowing agreements to enable library users to borrow materials from neighboring libraries.

Dr. Darlene Hunter Joins TCU Staff

Dr. Darlene L. Hunter, member of the student health staff of Auburn University since 1975, has joined the Texas Christian University staff.

Effective Aug. 1, her appointment as physician in TCU's Brown-Lupton Health Center was announced by Dr. Howard G. Wible, vice chancellor and provost.

Dr. Hunter, alumnus of Rollins College and the University of Texas at Austin, received the medical degree in 1949 at Southwestern Medical College. She was anesthesiologist at St. Joseph's Hospital in Wellington in 1951-54 and at the Texas State Tuberculosis Hospital and Sanatorium in 1954-69.

The former San Angelo resident served six years on the student health staff at Angelo State University. While living there she was active with the Junior League, Girl Scout board and board for the Concho Valley Home for Girls. She also was a member of the San Angelo Commission on Status of Women.

Dr. Hunter, presented the Girls Scouts' "Thanks Badge" in 1972, is a member of the Association of College Health Physicians, Texas Medical Association and the Medical Association of the State of Alabama.

The newly named TCU physician and her husband, Dr. Thomas R. Hunter, have two children, Thomas R. III and Elizabeth Gail.

Emphysema is a Greek word meaning inflation.

New Name Now for Welfare Dept.

The State Department of Public Welfare was given a name Monday, August 29, but it will be doing the same job.

A bill passed during the regular session of the 65th Legislature went into effect Aug. 29, changing the name of the agency to the Texas Department of Human Resources (DHR).

As the Department of Human Resources, the agency will continue to offer the same services as it did as the welfare department. Public assistance in Texas primarily is provided to the needy aged, disabled, and to dependent children. Publications of the agency carrying the old welfare name will be used until supplies are exhausted, then will be reprinted with the Department of Human Resources name.

Beginning August 29, however telephones were answered with Department of Human Resources, not welfare department.

The first world globe was made in 1491. It showed Japan in the mid-Atlantic between Europe and Africa on the right and India and Asia on the left.
