TRIBUTE TO WAR DEAD — A memorial marker listing the names of Scurry Countians who died in all wars has been erected on the courthouse square and plans are being made for formal dedication ceremonies to be held Nov. 11, Veterans Day. The memorial marker project, long discussed but getting action only in recent months, was coordinated by a Jaycee committee headed by Bob Watlington. Allen Owens, deputy sheriff, is shown at the new marker.

ATLANTIC STATES BRACED

Doria Heads For Shore

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Dead were missing early today after Hurricane Doria screamed toward the Middle Atlantic coast today, claiming her first lives while still offshore.

A Boston, Mass. mother drowned and her two children were missing early today after the storm's winds and high seas whipped their 38-foot cabin cruiser out of control through the night off Ocean City, N.J.

The vessel's owner, Robert Wood, 29, was hospitalized in shock and incoherent after the boat finally plowed ashore near Brigantine Shoals.

Meanwhile, Doria slowed her forward speed to 10 miles an hour, and was expected to cross the coast below Wallops Island, Va., about 1 p.m.

Residents of low lying areas in the path of the unpredictable storm fled to higher ground, but major flooding at mid-morning was reported only at Ocean City, Md., where water was 3 feet deep in some streets.

Winds near the center of the storm wre estimated at about 80 m.p.h., and coastline points were reporting 60 m.p.h. gusts by mid-morning.

At 10 a.m. EDT, the center of Hurricane Doria was located about 45 miles east southeast of Wallops Island moving west southwest.

A Navy reconnaissance plane from Norfolk reported that the eye of the storm was rather poorly defined. Glen V. Sachse, meteorologist at the U.S. Weather Bureau in Norfolk, said Doria was expected to weaken rapidly after crossing the Delmarva Peninsula between the Atlantic Ocean and Chesapeake Bay.

During the night Doria had been reported moving westward at 15 m.p.h., and coastal points were grateful for her slowdown.

At Walloos Island, Meteorological rocket station of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, radar vans and mobile launchers were moved inland.

Joe Robbins, administrative officer for NASA at Wallops, said the installation was expected to be safe from serious flooding.

He said high tide at Wallops at 7 a.m. EDT was only one foot above normal. The vulnerable areas of the installation, he said, were 9 feet above mean high tide.

Robbins said a skeleton crew of electricians would remain on the island as long as possible. Planes from the Langley Air Force Base and naval air stations in Virginia and Maryland were flown inland in advance of the storm. Atlantic Fleet headquarters said all ships in Hampton Roads doubled their mooring lines.

Dedication Of Marker Set Monday

Dedication of a historical marker for the First State Bank Building in Snyder is set for 10:30 a.m. Monday.

Hugh Boren Jr., who owns the building and also serves as chairman of the Scurry County Historical Survey Committee, said the building was designated as a historic landmark several months ago.

The medallion plate which will be attached to the historical marker, reads as follows: "First State Bank Building erected 1907-08 on site where trail of U. S. Cavalry Gen. Ranald MacKenzie ran parallel to Deep Creek. Built for First State Bank and Trust Co., early day cattlemen's and ranchers' bank; closed during 1931 depression year.

"Has since housed many firms, including local newspaper (when it was 'Times Building'). Now used as office building. Exterior of Ionic Greek columned structure is same as when first constructed. Recorded Texas historic landmark, 1967, now owned by Hugh Boren Jr."

SLUSHY DELTA BATTLE

Navy Casualties High

By GEORGE MCARTHUR
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — A slushy two-day running battle through Mekong delta swamplands subsided today with the U.S. Navy suffering its highest combat casualties of the war and a battered Viet Cong battalion melting into marshes and bamboo forests.

Battle reports listed 70 Viet Cong dead in the fight and said a Navy gunboat force took a beating when it landed Army infantrymen on the Rach Ba River at dawn Friday.

Firing from hidden positions on the river bank, guerrillas cut into the gunboats and landing craft with machine guns and recoilless rifles. Three sailors were killed and 59 wounded in the battle, with most U.S. casualties coming in the first furious minutes.

Over-all, the 2,000-man U.S. river assault force lost nine dead and 104 wounded in twisting canals and muddy ground 45 miles south of Saigon, before the crack Viet Cong 263rd Battalion scattered.

The fleeing guerrillas hit back at pursuing U.S. troops with mortars and sniper fire.

Associated Press correspondent George Esper reported from the U.S. riverine force headquarters that Red gunfire damaged nine Navy armored troop carriers, three armored Monitors and the command-communications vessel. All were still under their own power when the fight ended, however.

Apart from aircraft carrier disasters such fire that killed 132 aboard the Forrestal, the casualties and damage were the worst suffered by the Navy in Vietnam. It was by far the fiercest fight for the riverine force since it began operating in the delta early this year.

The riverine force is made up of Navy barracks ships and Army infantry units. The troops are moved through the delta's myriad waterways in specially adapted, shallow-draft landing boats and armored Monitors bristling with mortars and small cannons.

Famed Ship Leaves On Last Voyage

SOUTHAMPTON, England (AP) — Thousands of admirers sang Britain's national anthem, waved and wept as the Queen Mary steamed out of Southampton today for her 500th and last transatlantic round trip.

As ships in the busy port sounded their sirens, the 31-year-old Cunard Lines ship, her sides festooned with colored streamers, responded with a deep throated blast.

The 81,000-ton liner carried 1,500 passengers, some of them Americans who flew from New York to make the journey. They will be the last of more than 2 million fare-paying passengers who have sailed on a ship that has traveled the equivalent of a dozen round trips to the moon since her launching in 1936.

She's a great ship and there will never be another one like her," said one onlooker, Colin Harnett, a retired crew member who sailed on the Queen's maiden voyage.

"I was determined to make this last westward trip on the Mary," said retired oilman Earl Fain Jr. of Bluff Blantation, S.C., a passenger returning from a vacation in Scotland.

"This is a sentimental voyage, otherwise we would have gone by plane," said Michael Havas, MGM's chairman and managing director in Britain.

Passengers lined the ship's rails and waved to the crowds ashore as five tugs pulled the liner from her berth.

A flotilla of yachts, speed boats and ferries followed her out to sea and two small aircraft swooped low overhead.

The Queen Mary is to receive an even bigger send-off when she leaves New York on her last rturn journey Sept. 22.

The last of the three-funneled giants cost $30 million to build 31 years ago. Long Beach has bought her for $3.5 million to use as a floating museum and hotel.

ANTI-MISSILE SCREEN

Plan New Defense

By FRED S. HOFFMAN
AP Military Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. government leaders were reported today to have decided on a start toward building an anti-missile system to defend the United States against the kind of nuclear threat Red China could pose by the mid-1970s.

Such a "thin" Nike X system would involve a screen of missile-killer batteries that would throw a protective umbrella over the country. Its estimated cost: from $3 billion to $6 billion.

The Defense Department replied with a "no comment" when asked whether President Johnson had approvd a go-ahead.

Pentagon officials were unusually close mouthed about the subject of a speech Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara is due to make Monday before an editors' meeting in San Francisco.

It was not certain McNamara would make the antimissile announcement at that time. The administration could hold off to give the Soviet Union one more chance to agree on a mutual limitation on deployment of an antimissile system.

Administration officials have indicated they were losing patience with the Soviets and some military officers have argued they are stalling.

Johnson and McNamara have been under growing pressure to take the long-delayed step.

That pressure became intens after McNamara acknowledged last November that the Soviet Union had started deploying an antimssile system. The Soviet emplacements were reported around Moscow and Leningrad.

Congressional demands for action escalated after Red China exploded what was believed to be a hydrogen bomb in a test last June.

The Joint Chiefs of Staff and the civilian heads of the Army, Navy and Air Force all have gone on record as favoring a start on an antimissile defense for the United States.

Republican leaders have shown signs they would make a political issue of the delay and even pro-administration stalwarts in the Senate have prodded Johnson publicly.

LT. GOV. PRESTON SMITH

Formal Opening Of Colisem Set

Open house, preceded by formal dedication ceremonies, has been scheduled at the Scurry County Coliseum for Sunday, Oct. 1.

Guest speaker for the event will be Lt. Gov. Preston Smith. He will speak during the ceremonies beginning at 2 p.m. on the announced date.

Following the formal opening program open house will be observed at the coliseum, located in East Snyder. The new facility, constructed following a bond issue of $1¼ million voted here in 1964, is virtually completed and work on grounds and parking areas surrounding the building, along with polishing-up inside have been underway for several days.

The public is invited to tour the building during the formal opening activities.

"We hope everyone in Scurry County will come out and see this building and its facilities," said Doug McGlaun, coliseum manager.

IN SCURRY, MITCHELL COUNTIES

Mutual Use Of Libraries

A year of study and planning has culiminated with the signing of a formal agreement between Scurry and Mitchell Counties providing for mutual use of county libraries in Snyder and Colorado City.

The agreement states specifically: "Any resident of Mitchell County who is a holder of a library card in good standing issued by the Mitchell County Library may, upon presentation of such card at the Scurry County Library, borrow books from the Scurry County Library.

"Any resident of Scurry County who is a holder of a library card in good standing issued by the Scurry County Library may, upon presentation of such card at the Mitchell County Library, borrow books from the Mitchell County Library."

The agreement was entered into by County Commissioners of both counties, and it was signed by Judge Sterling Taylor for Scurry County and by Judge Elmer Martin of Mitchell County. Patrons of the library may begin to enjoy the benefits of the agreement now. It already has gone into effect.

"This agreement will assure the public an easy access to a richer and more diversified collection of books and materials, including technical information and research books," declared Mrs. Jervis (Mary Nell) Bullard, county librarian of Scurry County. Similar viewpoints were expressed by other officials from both counties.

Mrs. Bullard pointed out that the reciprocal use agreement will implement the state-wide library development and program of work recommended in 1963-64 as prepared by the Library Development Committee of the Texas Library Association.

In the planning stages of the agreement, the officials concerned secured a copy of the contract between the County of Galveston and the County of Harris from Miss Elizabeth Karle, field consultant from the Texas State Library at Austin. This agreement was the first reciprocal borrowers agreement between county libraries in the state.

"Although this (agreement) is new, there has been interest in multiple library organizations for a long time," said Mrs. Bullard.

For instance, she said, an official resolution of the Texas Library Association, passed in 1933, urged all libraries to cooperate with each other in making material available for the Texas Centennial in 1936. In 1934, planners included in their recommendations state aid to libraries and the establishment of multiple library organizations.

Mrs. Bullard reminded local library users that the Abilene Public Library has been designated as the "Resource Center" for this area. This means that the local librarian can request materials from Abilene that are not available here or at Colorado City. If the material requested is not available at the "Resource Center," then the request will be referred to the reference division of the Texas State Library at Austin.

There are 49,000 volumes in the Scurry County Library. In addition to these, local users will have access to the 20,000 volumes in the Mitchell County Library. The library in Snyder

Typhoon Hits Wake Island

WAKE ISLAND (AP) — Typhoon Sara whipped through this mid-Pacific island late Saturday with winds of nearly 140 miles per hour, but damage was reportedly confined to smashed windows.

Persons in nonessential jobs were asked to leave the island, though, by Federal Aviation Agency area manager George LaCaille. The FAA said jets were standing by at Johnson Island, halfway between Wake and Hawaii, to help in evacuating some of Wake's 2,000 residents.

LaCaille said two persons were injured in the typhoon.

Details of the injuries were not immediately available.

Some communications antennae were knocked down.

The eye of the typhoon passed through the island at 11 p.m. Saturday, the FAA said.

BIG CATCH IN MELON PATCH

O'Possums and raccoons appeared to be taking a heavy toll from the watermelon and cantaloupe patch of John Everts, who lives two miles east of Ira.

So, Everts decided to try to thin the ranks of the intruders. Traps were set in the melon patch.

The catch exceeded all expectations, with eight o'possums, two raccoons and one screwdriver snared.

"If anyone can prove ownership of the screwdriver he can have it back," Everts offered generously.

President Pushes Firearm Controls

By JOHN W. BECKLER
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson is pushing House Democratic leaders to get his gun control proposals rolling, but it appears Republicans are in the driver's seat.

Johnson asked Speaker John W. McCormack Friday to get some action on the bill, citing an upswing in the use of firearms in dangerous crimes and declaring: "A civilized nation cannot allow this armed terror to continue."

McCormack promised to try, but he put his finger on the trouble spot when he said "if the bill comes out of the Judiciary Committee the House will pass it."

The bill has been in the committee since early spring when soundings by Chairman Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., showed there was little or no chance of moving it without Republican support.

And Republicans, who have made crime and its control a major political issue for next year's elections, have displayed little interest in giving such support.

Johnson is backing a bill to tighten up licensing requirements for firearms dealers and manufacturers, prohibit mail order sales of all firearms and ban sales of handguns to anyone living outside the state in which the purchase is made.

It is strenuously opposed by the firearms industry, sportsmen's groups and the National Rifle Association.

The summer's Negro riots—with their widespread sniping incidents—have increased sentiment for some kind of gun controls, however, and in recent months a Republican bill has been taking shape.

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor and I had a disagreement which I hope you can settle for us. I said Jesus drank wine, and my neighbor said it was grape juice.

She said back in biblical days they didn't have wine — only grape juice. But in the Scriptures it mentions "drunkenness," and people can't get drunk on grape juice, so how about that?

Also, how come grape juice is used in communion instead of wine? And does a good Christian ever drink wine? Hoping to hear from you soon, I am,

MRS. H.C.

DEAR MRS. H. C.: Grapes, left standing, become fermented, and fermented grape juice IS wine. In the Catholic church, wine, not grape juice, is used. But in churches where alcoholic beverages are forbidden, grape juice is substituted for wine. Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish clergy agree that some "good" Christians drink wine, but a "good" man of any faith knows when to quit.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: There is one thing I have always wondered about. When a woman takes a married man away from his wife and family, is she ever happy with that "man"?

SEATTLELITE

DEAR SEATTLELITE: Sometimes. She's like the woman who buys a secondhand vacuum cleaner. She doesn't care where it come from — as long as it works.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My sister-in-law belongs to a luncheon-poker club, of which I am not a member.

She has no confidence in her own cooking, so whenever it's her turn to entertain her club, she asks ME to plan the menu, prepare the food, and take it to her home. Then she invites me to be a "guest" so I'll be right there to help her serve it.

I normally wouldn't mind, but her turn to be hostess usually comes at a very inconvenient time for me, as I have a family of my own to do things for. Doesn't it seem to you that if my sister-in-law didn't feel competent to entertain her club, she never should have joined in the first place?

USED

DEAR USED: It seems to me that your sister-in-law has known all along that she's had an ace in the hole. (You!) You can't be "used" in this manner without your consent and cooperation, so if it's not convenient to accommodate her when she asks, decline.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: I just attended the funeral of a relative. She had been ailing for many years and the family was aware of it. She mentioned many times during her illness that she wondered why some members of her family had not come to see her. She had never quarreled with any of them or had any misunderstandings.

After she passed away, these very relatives who had ignored her during her illness were the first to arrive at her funeral, looking very sad and grieved.

Can you tell me why some people don't have the time to visit a sick person when he's alive, but they find time to go to the funeral. When I die I don't care if anyone sends me flowers or comes to my funeral or not because I won't know the difference.

But if I am ill, I'd like to see a few visitors, and I'd also like to have a few flowers while I can still smell them.

Amer's Death Is Blow To Nasser

CAIRO (AP) — Egypt's former No. 2 man, blamed by President Gamal Abdel Nasser for Egypt's war loss to Israel and later accused of plotting against Nasser, has killed himself with poison, the government said Friday.

It said Field Marshal Abdel Hakim Amer attempted suicide Wednesday, soon after he was told he must face a special investigation tribunal, and—after one does of poison was pumped out of him—succeeded in taking his life Thursday night.

The official announcement, nearly 30 hours after Amer died, said he already had been buried in his native village of Menia, 200 miles south of Cairo.

Amer, 47, had been extremely close to Nasser. His daughter married Nasser's youngest brother and Nasser's second son was named for Amer.

The field marshal commanded Egyptian forces in two wars against Israel, last June and in the 1956 loss to the Jewish nation. He fought the Israelis as a division staff officer in the 1948 war, also a defeat for Egypt.

Amer rose to his high military position soon after he and Nasser and a handful of other army officers overthrew King Farouk in 1952. He later became Nasser's first vice president.

"Amer's death, despite everything, was a source of deep grief for President Nasser, who regarded him for the past 30 years as a companion in arms, friend and brother," the semi-official Cairo newspaper Al Ahram said today.

It eulogized Amer as "a mortal who tried to do his duty in the best way he knew."

After Israel captured nearly all of Egypt east of the Suez Canal, Amer resigned as vice president and army commander June 9.

He and about 50 other senior officers, blamed for the fold-up of Egyptian defenses, ended up out of the army.

They were scheduled to be court-martialed before the end of September on charges of plotting to force Nasser to drop all charges against them and reinstate them fully. Aly Khashaba, Egypt's deputy minister of national guidance—propaganda — told a special news conference Friday.

The plot charges against Amer were revealed Sept. 4 in Al Ahram after rumors had circulated for several days that Nasser had begun a purge to nip a possible attempt to overthrow him.

Sources close to Amer's family indicated he swallowed a cyanide pill, apparently smuggled to him by a confidant.

Offers Plan Of Perpetual Calendar

By JOHN W. BECKLER
Associated Press-Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The vanity and superstitions of two Roman emperors should no longer be permitted to confuse and bedevil the Western world in its effort to record the passage of time, says Rep. Spark M. Matsunaga.

The Hawaiian Democrat has introduced a bill that would provide for adoption of a perpetual calendar in which the months would have 30 or 31 days almost—and birthdays and other anniversaries would fall on the same day each year.

The calendar Matsunaga wants adopted was devised by Willard E. Edwards of Honolulu, a retired electrical engineer, who thought it up 45 years ago and has been trying ever since to awaken interest in it.

Edwards' interest was awakened as a schoolboy in Quincy, Mass., when he learned the present calendar is in the shape it is because Julius and Augustus Caesar decided to have months named after them.

The story as Edwards learned it was that one of the months replaced by the new July and August had only 30 days in it and the Romans considered even-numbered months unlucky. In order to make them both lucky 31-day months, a day had to be taken from February, which was already down to 29.

February is the chief horrible example cited by Edwards in his plea for calendar reform.

He also thinks it unnecessarily confusing to have the year start on a different day each year.

Edwards' solution is to start the year with a sort of no-day that would be an international holiday. It might be called January zero, he says, and it would come between Sunday, Dec. 31, and Monday, Jan. 1. He would have a July zero in the middle of the year in leap years.

For those who find zero an unsatisfactory date, he offers the suggestion that the two non-days be designated as New Year's Day and Leap Year Day.

With those matters dispose of, Edwards' year would follow a steady course in which each three months would have 91 days, the days being arranged, 30, 30, 31. The year would always start on Monday and holidays would come on the same day each year.

Edwards has visited or written to 90 countries in his effort to win adoption of his plan but reports receiving favorable acknowledgements only from the state legislatures of Hawaii and Massachusetts.

6 Wildcats Reported

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Six wildcat oil wells, including three in the San Antonio district, were drilled during the past week, raising the total for the year to 343, the Railroad Commission said Saturday.

Last year at this time 284 wildcat oil wells had been drilled.

Besides those in the San Antonio district, two were drilled in the Abilene district and one in the San Angelo district.

The commission said 10 wildcat gas wells were drilled during the week—seven in the Corpus Christi district, and one each in the San Antonio, Abilene and San Angelo districts. The total wildcat gas wells for the year is 415, compared to 334 a year ago.

The commission said 115 oil wells and 57 gas wells were completed during the past week, raising the totals respectively to 4,553 and 1,868, compared to 3,305 and 1,605 a year ago.

A total of 186 wells were plugged during the week, including 66 dry holes.

Farmers In Switzerland

BERN, Switzerland (AP)—The 98 Texas farmers, ranchers and their wives touring Europe in a two-week study of markets were here today for sightseeing and market discussions.

The Texans were to hear a market discussion by Dr. Earnest Kulhavy, professor at the Institute for International Marketing, Lint, Australia.

The group will visit Germany, Belgium, Holland and England before returning home Sept. 26.

Harold Koeller, an assistant U.S. Agricultural attache in Paris, France, told the group Friday Europe will be in the market for an extra 1 to 1.5 million tons of beef in the early 1970s.

"American cattle producers will have to compete vigorously with other producers over the world to win this market," he said.

Architecture Official Killed In Crash

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)— Two automobiles collided Friday night 15 miles south of Austin, killing John G. Flowers, 59.

Flowers was executive secretary of the Texas Board of Architectural Examiners.

Kent County Jubilee Set At Clairemont

The Kent County Fair and Diamond Jubilee will be held at Clairemont, Friday and Saturday, Sept. 22-23. The county-wide event will celebrate the 75th anniversary of the organization of Kent County.

Exhibits in the home economics division and field crop exhibits in the agricultural division will be judged on Friday afternoon. Home economics division exhibits include classes in foods, clothing, antiques, hobbies, arts, and crafts. Crop classes will include cotton, feed grain, forage exhibits, and horticulture exhibits.

Saturday's program will include a parade, livestock judging, horse show, twirling contests, Western bands and fiddlers contest, school band concert, and judging of the beard growing contest.

A barbeque supper will be served on Saturday night, Sept. 23. Kent County 4-H Club members will have concessions through the day.

A pageant will be presented Saturday night to tell the story of Kent County from 1892 to 1967.

Small School Group Meets

Scurry and Borden County school heads were among those attending an executive committee meeting Thursday afternoon to make basic plans for the recently formed Region XIII Pilot Study Group of the Texas Small Schools Association.

Supt. Roy Sallee of Ira, Supt. L. M. Dawson of Fluvanna and Supt. James McLeroy of Gail, sat in on the session at Howard County Junior College in Big Spring. Dawson is chairman of the executive committee, and McLeroy is the vice chairman.

Charles H. Bitters, Educational Program Director of the Texas Education Agency and Director of the Texas Small Schools Project, discussed possibilities and benefits of such an organization.

Region XIII Pilot Study Group is made up of teachers, board members, county superintendents, interested civic leaders and the superintendents of the member schools. Its purpose is to study problems and situations unique to schools with an enrollment of less than 500, and to officer in-service training, workshops and planning sessions to meet the desires and needs of these school systems.

Cubs In San Antonio?

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — An eight-club Texas League may be in the offing next year if several tentative franchise arrangements come to pass.

The Chicago Cubs may move into San Antonio, and league president Hugh Finnerty will be in the South Texas metropolis Monday to help with the arrangements.

Chicago sponsored Dallas-Fort Worth last year, but the Cubs have moved out, replaced by the Houston Astros, who departed from their Amarillo farm club.

The Cincinnati Reds have expressed interest in taking over the Amarillo franchise.

Also, Memphis, formerly of the Southern Association, has applied for membership with a working agreement with the New York Mets.

The Atlanta Braves have shifted their Texas League franchise from Austin to Shreveport.

If present plans jell, the Texas League next year will have four clubs in Texas and one from New Mexico, one from Tennessee and two from Arkansas.

The circuit drew a total attendance of 608,784 last year, some 48,000 below the 1966 mark. Dallas-Fort Worth again led all minor leagues with 246,315, although that was down 25,000 from 1966.

The only clubs showing increases were El Paso, up 13,637, and Austin, which gained 7,405.

Other 1966 attendance totals were Little Rock 77,824, El Paso 75,829, Amarillo 74,024, Albuquerque 73,283 and Austin 61,509.

New York Dancers Plan To Picket

NEW YORK (AP) — The Radio City Music Hall Rockettes and the Corps de Ballet announced Friday night they would strike over their demand for higher wages. They planned to begin picketing Saturday morning.

A spokesman for the American Guild of Variety Artists which represents the Rockettes and the Corps de Ballet, said the dancers' current salaries, which begin at $99 a week for first year girls, were "insufficient."

He said that the guild had rejected a management offer of $112.50 a week for beginners.

However, other performing union spokesmen indicated they would not honor the picket lines and the show would go on.

Student Killed In One-Car Accident

WOODLAKE, Tex. (AP) — A 20-year-old Lamar Tech student was killed Friday night in a one-car accident on Highway 287 in Woodlake near Groveton.

He was identified as Vincent Pesature of Bayside, N.Y.

Jaycees Hear Police Sgt.

Sgt. Bobby Goodwin of the Snyder Police Department presented the program at the regular weekly luncheon meeting of the Snyder Jaycees, held at noon Friday in Sallie's Cafeteria.

He discussed civil defense.

Bob Watlington told Jaycees the War Memorial will be erected at the Courthouse Square with formal dedication set for Veterans Day, Nov. 11. He also gave the invocation.

Bob Harlin announced that the Jaycee lighter fluid sale will be held Monday evening. As president, he also presided over the meeting. The prayer was given by John Jarrell.

Miss Kay Hollis, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, distributed bumper stickers which contain the following inscription: "Snyder, Texas, Operation Sparkle City."

She and Sergeant Goodwin were guests of the Club. Tommy Fletcher was introduced as a new member.

Prof Is Annoyed At Poor Rating

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Prof. Maynard Thompson was somewhat annoyed when he was given a poor teaching rating on one of the classes covered by the Indiana University handbook "Student Evaluation of Teaching."

He never has taught the course.

The ratings, based on more than 35,000 student questionnaires, now have been corrected.

Red Oak Tree Missing From Yard

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Contractor D. A. Canale complained to sheriff's officers that someone drove up to a house he is building, felled a red oak tree in the front yard, cut it into logs and hauled them away.

"We'd saved that tree as the centerpiece of the lawn," Canale said.

City Of Tucson Likes Checks Best

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Unlike most businesses who would prefer strangers pay cash instead of checks, the City of Tucson likes checks best.

Finance Director James Kay says it's easier and cheaper to process checks than to handle cash. Kay says he would like to refuse cash if it was lawful.

Kay says credit cards would be even easier, but the city won't accept them.

Discussion Set On Media Center

All school administrators and local school board members in Region XIV are invited to attend a dinner meeting in Abilene Monday night to hear plans and proposals of the new Education Service Center. Several members of the Snyder Board, along with Supt. Bill J. Hood, will attend.

The dinner will be held at 7 p.m. at Lavender's Cafeteria. Region XIV includes the counties of Scurry, Mitchell, Stonewall, Fisher, Nolan, Haskell, Jones, Taylor, Shackelford, Callahan, Stephens, Eastland, and Comanche.

The Board of Directors and administrative staff of the Center will be on hand to explain the purposes and scope of the new program.

Dr. Robert A. Montgomery, executive director of the Center, said that the new program is "The greatest step forward in Texas education in 20 years."

Dr. Montgomery outlined four major objectives of the Center, including (1) to operate a regional media center, (2) coordinate the many projects funded by Title III of the Elementary and Secondary Education Act, (3) provide regional educational planning, and (4) provide services specifically needed in Region XIV.

The first service to be offered will be the media center which will provide audio-visual materials. This will include educational motion pictures, slides, and filmstrips in all subject areas, grades one through 12. Participating schools will have access to the huge film library.

In addition, the Center will provide in-service training for teachers in the planned use of audio-visuals in the classroom.

Other programs which may become operational soon include a special education teaching materials center which would provide books, aids for mentally retarded students, slow learners, and other pupils who have trouble with school work.

The Center plans to apply for a pupil appraisal center which would supply counseling and guidance services to the participating school districts. Plans also call for a vocational education consultant to develop this program. Computers probably will enter the picture within a year or two to provide member schools with the opportunity to place student registration an business offices on an automatic system.

"The potential of this Center is limited only by the imagination of the people employed in it and the teachers and administrators in the member schools," Dr. Montgomery pointed out.

Students To Be Barred

FORT WORTH (AP) — School authorities will begin sending home students who hold membership in charity clubs, Fort Worth Superintendent Julius Truelson said Friday.

Truelson indicated, however, that he would meet with the Board of Education before such action is taken.

Attorney Rufus Garrett Jr., representing parents of several charity club members, contends students may now join the clubs without violating state law.

Rules were changed so that a board of parents rather than members select new members.

Garrett said he advised his clients to sign a required supplementary enrollment form which states that the student is now a member of a certain type organization.

Unless the board issues other instruction, next week school officials will "investigate" to find which students are charity club members.

Students whose parents have not signed the required form will also be sent home, he said.

Already, at least four students have been sent home.

Placed On Probation

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)— William Henderson Hawes, 37, now a Lubbock church youth director, was placed on probation Friday after pleading guilty to embezzling $385 from a Grand Prairie bank.

Hawes was charged on three counts of taking $385 from the Grand prairie State Bank, where he was employed as a bookkeeper in 1964 and 1965. The prosecution displayed a letter from the bank, saying the bank's loss was $4,168.

The defendant told U.S. Dist. Judge W. M. Taylor Jr. that he took the money to pay his wife's doctor bills and that he is making restitution to the bonding company which reimbursed the bank for its loss.

Taylor placed Hawes on probation for one year and suspended his sentence of one year and one day.

Drop In Crude Oil Demand Predicted

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) The demand for Texas crude oil in October will drop 195,000 barrels a day from September demand to 3,105,000 barrels a day, the U. S. Bureau of Mines predicts.

Oil companies indicate they will buy 3,076,376 barrels a day in October, a decrease of 336,152 barrels a day, the Texas Railroad Commission said Friday.

Things are tough all over. When India gained independence in 1947, her maharajas, princes, etc. lost their power. Now the central government may even reduce their privileges and annual tax-free payments — one as high as $267,000 per year.

Three Killed In Winnsboro Crash

WINNSBORO, Tex. (AP) — An elderly Winnsboro couple and a Kilgore resident were killed Friday afternoon in a headon collision three miles west of this Northeast Texas town.

Killed were James Grover Wilson, 80, his 70-year-old wife, and Charles William Cole, 7, of Kilgore.

The accident occurred about midafternoon on Farm Road 515.

CAB Dismisses Ozark Petitions

WASHINGTON (AP) Ozark Air Lines' petitions for routes between Denver and Dallas, Denver and Salt Lake City and Portland and Seattle as well as between St. Louis and Portland-Seattle via Kansas City have been dismissed.

The Civil Aeronautics Board dismissed the applications in Friday action.

DISCUSS PLANS — Members of the Musical Coterie discuss plans for the new season. From left, are Mrs. Bob Stewart, Mrs. Marlin Terrell, Mrs. John Gordon, Mrs. Bill Hartsfield (guest), and Mrs. Bill Vestal (back to camera).

Musical Coterie Meets

The Musical Coterie was entertained at its annual fall dinner by a group of high school and college music students.

Miss Ann Patterson was the organizer.

Music was provided by a woodwind ensemble that included Miss Connie Reynolds, Miss Ann Patterson and Jimmy Davis. Miss Molly Walker accompanied and performed as piano soloist. Miss Patterson also performed alone on her oboe, and Mrs. Kathy Norsworthy sang two numbers.

Club officers are Mrs. J. M. Kayser, president; Mrs. Virgil Mott, vice president; Mrs. M. B. Montgomery, secretary; Mrs. M. M. O'Rear, treasurer; Mrs. Ophelia Blackard, historian; and, Mrs. Wayne Bethel, past president and parliamentarian.

The Musical Coterie plans three meetings to which the public will be invited: "Amakl And The Night Visitors" in December, a portion of the "Fandangle" sampler in April, and a performance by a local piano ensemble in May. The Club supports music in the community and contributes to the Scurry County Concert Association. It helps celebrate National Music Week in May and it sponsors four junior music clubs.

Sorority Has Rush Party

Lambda Kappa Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi held its first rush party Friday in the home of Billie McVey.

Members and guests dressed as beatniks. Unusual pictures were awarded those who gave "funniest titles." Winning pictures were Barbara York, Wilda Peitchensky, Pam Mengwasser, Helen Hall, Pat Pate, Carolyn Martin, Mary Lou Scott, Patsy Eliott, Maxine Ragland and Margie Hines.

Charades were played, using beatnik phrases. Margie Hines won the best costume award and a prize for guessing the cartoon character's identity.

After refreshments were served, Patsy Elliott sang several songs, accompanied by Carol Cornelius on the guitar. Pat Pate won the "booby prize" a mobile, for the best names given the objects on the mobile.

Rushees attending were Maxine Ragland, Margie Hines, Janette Payne, Judy Young and Carolyn Martin.

Miss Meador Becomes Bride Of Mr. Jones Here Aug. 26

Miss Nancy Margaret Meador became the bride of Larry Mack Jones at 7 p.m. August 26 in First Methodist Church, Snyder, with Rev. Elton Wyatt of McLean officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Meador of Snyder and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Jones, also of Snyder.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of peau de soie with lace over the bodice and tapered, pointed sleeves, and a chapel - length train. She wore a waist - length veil held in place by a pearl tiara and carried a bouquet of white roses over a white Bible. She carried out the traditional something old — her watch, something new —a white gold necklace with a single pearl drop, a gift from the bridegroom, something borrowed — the white Bible belonging to her cousin, and something blue — a garter.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Freddie Peters of Lubbock, and the bridesmaid was the sister of the bride, Miss Valli Ann Meador. They wore street - length dresses of ice-blue chiffon over peau de soie and carried colonial bouquets of white gladiola blooms.

Best man was Steve McMahan and groomsman was the brother of the bridegroom, Ronnie Jones, of Odessa. The ringbearer was Cliff Payne. Guests were seated by Jerry Kitchens and Jackie Beene. The candles were lighted by Freddie Peters and Ken Neeper.

Organist was Mrs. R. Virgil Mott and soloist was J. D. Smith.

A reception was held in Wesley Hall of the church. Following a wedding trip, the couple are at home in Weatherford, Okla. where they are in school at Southwestern State College. Both the bride and groom are 1966 graduates of Snyder High School.

Out of town guests were from Breckenridge, Fort Worth, Dallas, Tyler, Odessa, Houston and Weatherford, Okla.

The parents of the bridegroom hosted a rehearsal dinner for the couple and attendants at the Steak House on the evening of August 25.

Are You A B. B. (Big Bore)?

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Do people leave the room while you are telling a story?

Or change the subject before your are half-finished with a sentence?

It could be that you've become a Big Bore.

Some people don't realize that their popularity is waning because they like the sound of their own music. But if you are beginning to have doubts, test your B.B. (Big Bore) quotient.

1. When someone tells you something world-shaking or not, do you respond in an absent minded way — "great," "cool," etc. instead of giving a reasonably intelligent response that indicates some interest?

2. If someone is telling a story are you so eager to get in your conversational part that you can't concentrate on what is being said?

3. How long is it since you've had a NEW story?

4. When you see a funny movie, television show or observe a funny incident, do you talk about it over and over?

5. Remember the time you were asked to leave the class because your skirts were too short? It isn't news any more.

6. And that job you almost got at that ridiculously high salary until they found out your age. Forget it.

7. Are you still talking about that girl of whom you are really very jealous?

8. When you get a phone call for a date, do you try to impress him with your popularity — how busy you are, and the great places all the other fellows have taken you?

9. Do you know WHEN to stop talking about ANYTHING?

10. Are you the last one to want to leave a party, so that the hostess has a problem trying to break it up?

11. Do you ever LISTEN?

12. Is there ANYTHING new in your life: If not find something.

13. If people laugh at you is it because you are (1) really amusing (2) slaphappy (3) a clown? It makes a difference.

14. Are you an introvert who curls up in a corner at a party trying to attract people to you in self-defense?

15. Are you hypercritical of every function that you attend, whether it is a dance or sports event?

16. Are you the class showoff so that other people can't get down to work because of your antics?

Lamar P-TA Slates Open House Monday

Teen-Age Spending Dents Budgets

COLLEGE STATION — Family budgets are feeling the effects of teenage spending, particularly since September school demands are now at full peak.

Miss Joy Arrington, Extension home management specialist at Texas A&M University, points out that the nation's 22.5 million teenagers spend $11 billion of their own money annually. And, by 1970, National Education Association estimates predict this figure at more than $21 billion.

Add to this the influence teenagers exert on family purchases, suggests Miss Arrington, and you find the young a powerful economic force.

Although teenagers are important consumers today, evidence indicates they have little skill in the business of spending, the specialist says. Economists state it is important that youth learn buying skills today, for tomorrow these youngsters will be more important consumers, as family heads. Sociologists say whether these youngsters spend their money wisely or foolishly in adulthood will be a factor in determining the success or failure of their marriages.

Realizing that by 1970 about half the U. S. population will be under age 2, educators are seeking new ways to incorporate consumer education into school curriculums, the specialist points out. Many schools have integrated consumer education into mathematics, science, economics, home economics, industrial arts and even English classes.

Paper Rugs Add Zest

COLLEGE STATION — First came paper clothes and paper furniture. Now paper rugs join the list of items to use now and then toss away.

Temporary or throwaway rugs can add that needed bit of interest to an otherwise dull room, says Miss Bonny Lay, Extension housing and home furnishings specialist, Texas A&M University.

Miss Lay calls the designs striking. One, she says, actually is a collage of newsprint with stories, advertisements and a crossword puzzle. Another has a paint-by-number plan, complete with paints.

Most of the rugs are from three by five feet to three by seven feet and range in cost from $20 to $35. Some of the rugs are fireproof, the specialist adds, and can be sponged with a mild detergent.

Select one of the colorful, op art - designed disposable rugs to add instant zest to your room, Miss Lay suggests.

Fresh Peach Chiffon Pie

1 envelope unflavored gelatin
¼ cup cold water
4 medium-sized fresh peaches, peeled and crushed (about 2 cups)
½ cup plus 2 tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
⅛ teaspoon salt
1 egg white
½ cup heavy cream, whipped
¼ teaspoon almond extract
9-inch baked pie shell

Soften gelatin in cold water; place over hot water to dissolve. Combine peaches, ½ cup sugar and lemon juice; add dissolved gelatin and mix well. Chill until mixture begins to thicken. Add salt to egg white and beat until soft peaks form; beat in remaining 2 tablespoons sugar. Fold into peach mixture. Fold in heavy cream and almond extract. Turn into baked pie shell; chill until serving time. Garnish with additional whipped cream and sliced peaches, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

Don't discard the leafy tops of celery! Put them in a plastic bag in the refrigerator and use for flavoring some of them fine and add to a tossed green salad.

Buy Carpeting In Tile Form

Now you can buy carpeting in the form of tiles. The new carpet tiles are 12 inch squares of outdoor carpet with a backing of latex foam rubber to make them resilient underfoot for indoor use. You lay them like ordinary tiles in checkerboard, plaid, or solid arrangements. They an be cut to shape with a scissors, so they are easy for the home handyman to sue.

They are mildew proof, dirt resistant, washable and very durable thanks to their outdoor ancestry, which makes carpet tile perfect for bathrooms, kitchens, basements, children's rooms and other informal areas.

Note to new cooks: when a chicken recipe includes the "giblets," use the heart and gizzard of the bird.

Malone-Minor Vows Are Pledged At Kerrville

Miss Melinda Malone and Benny Mac Minor exchanged wedding vows in rites Sept. 9 at the First Presbyterian Church in Kerrville.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Malone Jr. of Ingram. Mr. Minor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Minor of Snyder.

The Rev. Richard G. Ryan officiated.

Mr. Malone gave his daughter in marriage. Her wedding dress was of white imported organza with cluny lace bell sleeves. Imported matching English lace encircled the detachable chapel train. Her veil was of organza roses outlined with seed pearls as a head piece crowning the bridal illusion sprinkled with seed pearls.

Miss Carolyn Currie of Paint Rock was maid of honor. She wore an aqua crepe floor-length dress with gold and aqua brocade empire bodice, and bell sleeves. Her head piece was one aqua crepe rose with circlet of malen.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Robert Schmerbeck III of Kerrville. Her costume was identical to that of the maid of honor. Each carried a long-stemmed yellow rose.

Miss Susan Minor of Snyder was the flower girl, and bridesmaids were Miss Vicky Minor of Snyder and Miss Sharon Scales of Midland.

Coley Holmes Jr. of Kerrville was ring bearer.

Attending the bridegroom were Roaal Minor of Snyder, best man, and Bill King of Kerrville, Craig Merritt and Charlie Bell, both of Snyder, groomsmen.

Church decorations featured brass candelabras entwined with English ivy and white mums, and altar vases of white mums and two large baskets of white mums and gladioli. Brass candle holders were stationed on pews at the aisles.

Karen Grehmer was soloist.

A reception was held in the fellowship hall of the church following the ceremony. Mary Evelyn Bothrock and Elizabeth Schmerbeck registered guests.

For the wedding trip the bride chose a blue-green, three - piece wool knit suit with black accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Tivy High School, Kerrville, and attended Texas Tech. Mr. Minor is a graduate of Snyder High School, attended Sul Ross State College and now is attending Texas Tech. They will live in Lubbock.

Out-of-town guests attending were from Ira, Houston, Austin, San Antonio, Paint Rock, Midland, Goldthwaite, Lubbock, and Snyder.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Minor, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts for the rehearsal dinner held Friday evening, Sept. 8, at the Golden Ox Restaurant in Kerrville.

There were 23 in attendance, including members of the families and the wedding party. Aqua carnations and white gladioli, the bride's chosen colors, complimented the decor.

Pimiento - flavored cream cheese (all prepared) makes a quick stuffing for celery to serve as an appetizer or on lettuce as a salad. If you want to combine the cheese-mixture yourself, use regular cream cheese, chopped pimiento and green olives.

Darline Bridges
Reviews
The World's Best Seller
THE BIBLE

From:
THE LAWTON CONSTITUTION-MORNING PRESS:
(Lucile Creswell Potter, Woman's Page Editor)

"All her life, Mrs. Bridges discloses, she wanted to review the Bible! So five years ago she started laying the groundwork by enrolling in college Bible courses. Much study was given to the geography, customs and political history of the Bible period. Mrs. Bridges reminds us the Bible is always the best seller of all books, and the people within its pages are the same today. 'The inspired Book' ,she says, 'is still the great drama of the ages, whose actors lived and breathed, loved and hated, conquered or went down to defeat—in the great emotional and physical patterns of human behavior. Why shouldn't this wonderful story be shared with hundreds of busy people who have never taken the time to trace the one plot that runs like a golden thread from Genesis to Revelations?'

"Quite simply and dramatically, Mrs. Bridges unfolds the Greatest Story ever! All this she presents in one hour and forty-five minutes, with a short intermission between the Old and New Testaments."

- Mrs. Bridges spent 5 years in preparing for her review of the Bible!
- Dozens of Civic Groups throughout the Southwest who have sponsored her Review have been thanked and praised for bringing her to their community.
- Conducts T. V. program now in its fourth year, KSWO-TV, Lawton.
- Portrayed Virgin Mary in movie "Prince of Peace"; made personal appearance with Broadway opening.
- Teacher, church-worker, club-woman, wife and mother.
- Graduate of Woodrow School of Speech; attended Dallas Academy of Speech and Drama, and Baylor University.

SOME OF THE ENTHUSIASTIC RESPONSE TO MRS. BRIDGES' REVIEW OF THE BIBLE

". . . . with a pleasing ,distinct speaking voice and an engaging manner, Mrs. Bridges, capsule artist extraordinary, employed narration, dramatics, a touch of humor and in one instance a bit of singing in presenting the well-received review."—Olney Texas Enterprise.

". . . . surpasses all expectations! It is inconceivable that the Bible, the greatest of all books, can be so beautifully portrayed in such a short time! And without the aid of written notes!"—Mrs. Fred G. Hammond, board member of Lawton Book Club.

"Darline Bridges in her learned, unbiased review of the Holy Bible, re-acquaints her listeners with the true, the good and the beautiful ,and at the same time makes the great historical scenes and characters come to life in breathless drama!"—Vera Holding, poet, author, lecturer; director 1958 Poetry Work Shop, Oklahoma University.

". . . . the type of review that men, women and children can understand and enjoy. The proceeds received from the Bible review given by Mrs. Bridges in McMahon Auditorium were adequate to maintain our workshop for several months."—Dr. H. B. Collins, president, Comanche County Sheltered Workshop for Retarded Children.

"After our visit to the Holy Land we found Mrs. Bridges' review of the Bible a crowning experience! She treats the entire Bible in story form in such a charming and informal way—she completely captures her audience!"—Mr. and Mrs. P. A. Becker, Lawton.

"With her keen awareness of the simple basic facts of the Bible, Mrs. Bridges has given the lovers of the Word of God, a complete and comprehensive review of THE BOOK. Warm, vibrant and personal. I recommend it unconditionally!"—Dr. Charles Green, Physician and Minister.

EASTSIDE CHURCH OF CHRIST – Snyder, Texas

MR. AND MRS. JAMES RAY HEATH
(Craft Photo)

Payne-Heath Vows Are Pledged Here Aug. 19

Miss Betty Laverne Payne became the bride of James Ray Heath in doublering rites Aug. 19 at the Thirty - seventh Street Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse G. Payne, 1901 Avenue O, and Mr. Heath is the son of Buddy Heath and Vivian Heath of Snyder and Amarillo.

Jay Don Rogers was the officating minister.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of bridal satin fashioned with empire lines. The jacket was of Chantilly lace with a high neckline and flared sleeves of wrist lengh. Her train was of matching chantilly lace and the fingertip veil of imported illusion was attached to a scalloped headpiece.

The bride's flowers were white glad florettes with a detachable corsage in the center. Her attendants were Sheryl Evans and Barbara Banks. They wore yellow A-line dresses of bonded linen and carried nosegays of yellow and white gladioli.

Robert Miller of Fluvanna was best man. Ushers were Billy Keith Evans and David E. Payne.

Church decorations featured white gladioli, golden candelabras and white tapers. Billy and Nova Payne lighted the candles.

Gary Sutton, soloist, sang "Oh Promise Me."

A reception followed in the home of the bride's parents. Virginia Kea, sister of the bride, served the three - tiered cake, which was topped by a miniature bride and groom.

For the wedding trip the bride selected a two-piece carmel suit. They will make their home at Amarillo.

Satire In South Seas

THE PARADISE BIT. By William K. Zinsser. Little, Brown,

There is a lot of foolishness in Zinsser's fancy salad of a novel. Intentional foolishness, that is.

The scene is one of those South Pacific havens that hasn't been blighted by civilization — yet. A nice, quiet bit of Polynesian togetherness. It has a comic cartoon type of British governor, Sir Reginale Weems. And it has Denis Foote, who thinks it is a Good Place to Get Away from It All, but doesn't like his job of luring tourists, because he foresees that tourists will ruin everything.

Then comes the big uproar when Mel Parker, a Hollywood press agent and promoter, invades the island group with a scheme to give some lucky, lucky couple their own South Sea island (complete with one ancient palm tree) as a prize in a movie contest.

Somehow Parker has hired a sweet young thing named Sally Merrill, an anthropology major, to be his researcher in this invasion of innocent Polynesia. Sally doesn't know whether she is for or against the Hollywood approach to the South Pacific, especially when she meets good old Denis.

There is a lot of slapstick hoohaw when Parker brings in a planeload of journalists (they're cartoon characters too) to cover the premiere of his movie epic.

This is one of those leisurely, lightweight stories that entertains mildly and pleasantly n between bursts of raucous satire.

SPONGETTES

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2-3 cup sugar
2 large eggs, separated
2 tablespoons flour
¼ cup frozen orange juice concentrate, thawed
1 cup milk

Cream butter and sugar; thoroughly beat in egg yolks, then flour and orange juice concentrate. Gently beat in milk, keeping smooth. With clean beater beat egg whites until they hold stiff straight peaks; add to other mixture and beat gently to blend. Turn into 5 six-ounce buttered ovenglass custard cups. Place cups in a pan of hot water, having water come nearly to top of mixture. Bake in a moderate (375 degrees) oven for 35 minutes. Chill; unmold, removing any custard that doesn't turn out, with a small spatula. Garnish, if you like, with unsweetened, or only slightly sweetened whipped cream. Makes 5 servings.

Brazilian Hair Fine For Wigs

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Female tourists in Brazil have discovered a new prize to take home with them. Along with their aquamarine jewelry and alligator shoes, they are now packing Brazilian wigs into their vanity cases.

The well - dressed ladies of the beachside suburb of Copacabana don't think they are just for the tourists.

Wigs, they say, are the practical answer to their way of life. They can spend the day on the beach and still have a coiffure at night.

Says Copacabana hairdresser Celio, "I see less and less of my patrons and more and more of their wigs. They prefer to stay on the beach and send their wigs to be set."

Celio has been making wigs for two years now and says they are very popular and sell almost as fast as he can make them.

The best hair, he says, comes from the interior of the country where women don't treat their hair with too many chemicals and where they don't wash it too often.

"Girls from the state of Minas Garais," he says, "have a reputation for having the best hair in the country. It's generally kept long and worn straight."

Hair sells for about $16 a pound. The amount of hair used in any one wig depends on the wig's styling and the way it is put together.

French hair stylists have made buying excursions into Brazil.

"Hair pieces are very good for the younger girls," says Celio, "but older women prefer the full wig because they are interested in covering up gray hairs; or they may change their hair color several times and a new hairpiece would have to be bought to match it."

The major wigmakers are in Rio de Janeiro and Sao Paulo, Brazil's two largest cities. However, it is mainly a cottage industry — usually the wigmaker works in or owns a beauty salon and makes wigs in his spare time.

What has made women from other countries take note is the price tag — a full head wig sells for from $60 to $200 — and every bit of it is high-grade natural human hair.

Exactly what is chutney? It's usually a combination of fruits and vegetables cooked with sugar, vinegar and spices. Chutney is a "must" with relish to serve with other meat, fish or egg dishes.

Walls-Skains Nuptial Vows Are Pledged

Miss Linda Faye Walls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Walls of West Memphis, Ark., became the bride of Edward Allen Skains Aug. 14 at Tabernacle Baptist Church in West EMmphis.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Skains, Snyder.

Rev. Travis Case, pastor of the church, officiated, and nuptial music was presented by Mrs. Earl Glen of Memphis.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of taffeta and lace. Her elbow-length veil of illusion cascaded from a crown of seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white French carnations centered with a white orchid.

Miss Sheila Walls of West Memphis, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and the bride's only attendant. She wore a pink dress and her flowers were white carnations.

Sammie Simmons of West Memphis was best man, and ushers included Roger Walls, brother of the bride, and Ricky Jones, both of West Memphis.

Mrs. Walls chose for her daughter's wedding a navy blue suit with white accessories, and Mrs. Skains, the bridegroom's mother, wore a turquoise sheath and bone accessories. Both wore corsages of white carnations.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was overlaid with a white lace cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow gladioli and bronze Fuji chrysanthemums.

The couple will make their home in West Memphis, where Mr. Skains is minister of music at Tabernacle Baptist Church and the bride will continue her studies at West Memphis High School where she is a member of the senior class.

Powers Of Witch Doctors No Joke To Many Africans

EDITOR'S NOTE—It's supposed to cure everything from headache to heartache. Some claim it will even get rid of a bothersome mother-in-law. Don't laugh. The modern Juju-man's age old wonder drugs are no joke to millions of Africans.

By DENNIS LEE ROYLE

Mountains of the Moon, Uganda, (AP) — Legend has it that the pgymies in this remote corner of East Africa were stunted because they ridiculed a local witch doctor.

Across the border in the troubled Congo, a spot of grease is supposed to give local rebel guerrillas immunity from death—bullets will turn to water, says the local sorcerer.

Throughout black Africa, local folklore tells of people who mysteriously disappear, are changed into animals, birds or snakes after incurring the displeasure of the resident witch doctor.

It apparently doesn't pay to laugh at the jungle practioner's black magic. The witch doctors still play an important part in the lives of Africa's black millions.

Prescriptions for evey known ailment still are concocted from herbs, ground animal bone, snake skin, bat wings and lion fat.

But today these cure-alls come in attractive bottles and boxes. There's even an unofficial witch doctors union in southern Africa which aims to stabilize prices, work hours and the exhange of black magic formulas.

The kill or cure methods of witch doctors still are widely sought by millions of jungle patients who shun the white man's modern approach.

Superstition, mysticism and a form of jungle psychology, coupled with a knowledge of curative herbs, keep the jungle practioner in a lucrative business.

One of Africa's foremost multimedicine—that's how some witch doctors prefer to be known—experts is a white South African. Louis Alter runs a thriving mail order business in downtown Johannesburg, selling multimedicine to black witch doctors.

In the cities, competition is tough. The modern-day witch doctor has discarded his traditional, evil-smelling garb of animal skins and rattling bones.

Her dresses in a well-tailored suit, advertises in local newspapers, has an office, runs a correspondence course for multi-students and, if business is good, drives a smart automobile.

Medicine men remain a power among remote tribal communities where age-old fetishism is hard to erase.

Many urbanised Africans cling to tribal customs and seek the guidance of witch doctors in matters of employment, matrimony and protection from witches and demons.

Tribal areas remain the happy hunting ground for unscrupulous witch doctors because the primitive people there fear thunder, lightning, hail, drought and flood. The people find consolation in the jungle mumbo jumbo of the local sorcerer.

Witchcraft and black magic apparently worry some African politicians struggling to retain the voice of authority among Africa's teeming millions.

"Somebody," said Tanzania's President Julius Nyerere, "has set loose a devil in black Africa and he's causing a lot of trouble politically."

Zanzibar's revolutionary head of state, Abeid Karume, told a recent political rally attended by a group of witch doctors: "Stop practising your black arts. Witches are not wanted in Zanzibar. Your activities are no use to our society."

Junior Editors Quiz on MISSISSIPPI

QUESTION: How did the Mississippi River get its name?

* * *

ANSWER: Before the white men came, the Ojibway or Chippewa Indians, living in the forest regions around Lake Superior, knew of a big river which flowed southward. They named it Miss — meaning great — and added sippi for river. Pronounced the combination Missippi, as written on maps of the early French explorers, and you will see how this musical word seems to lengthen out to create the extra "ss" and "i" which were later given to it. Another translation of the Indian word is Father of Waters, which is most appropriate for this majestic stream. Rising in Lake Itasca, in northern Minnesota, the Mississippi flows southward for 2,350 miles. But this does not tell the full story. Great rivers from the west such as the Missouri, the Platte, the Arkansas, and the Red, join with the Father of Waters; from the east comes the Illinois, the Wabash, the Ohio. The Mississippi system drains an enormous area from the Rocky Mountains on the west to the Appalachians on the east. If the romance of the story begins to get you, open your mouth and break into a chorus of "Ol' Man River — he just keeps rollin'."

Old Fears Die Hard In Jordan

By LYNN HEINZERLING

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — The refrain being beamed like a top pop song from almost every Arab capital is deceptively mild and moderate. "Remove the consequences of Israeli aggression."

But the long, dark years of hatred are not over. The old fears and the long-held Arab belief that Zionists plot to conquer the Middle East do not die so easily.

Many Arab voices are chanting a different chorus: "Prai... be to Allah and [illegible] ammunition."

From the educated and the illiterate, from the sheik and the camel driver, you hear the same story. It holds that Israel wants peace only to consolidate and gather strength for the next drive on the Arabs.

The "remove the consequences" poesy suits both hawks and doves.

It can suggest a bloody purge of Israel to some and a quiet, behind the scenes negotiation through a discreet third party to others.

Al Thawrea, the newspaper of the Baathist Syrian government, snarled after the recent Khartoum conference that the arab people now need to "eliminate the formula drawn up by the Arab kings and presidents for the elimination of Israeli aggression."

The conference resolutions, moderate in tone although rejecting any direct peace negotiations with Israel, "consolidate rather than eliminate Israeli aggression," the newspaper said.

Syria boycotted the conference.

Al-Anwar, the Beirut daily that supports President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt, said: "No matter what praise we give to these achievements, we cannot describe them as decisive measures to remove the traces of the aggression." Many newspapers in the Middle East will not mention the name Israel in their columns.

Al-Anwar had welcomed King Hussein of Jordan to Lebanon a week earlier with the resounding but questionable assertion: "Only the sounds of bullets would bring happiness to Hussein and would ease the pain of his wounds."

In the present miasma of doubt and despair which hangs over Jordan and other Arab countries, it is almost impossible to find an Arab who would even consider peace negotiations with Israel.

"It is not a question of removing the consequences of aggression," one Jordanian government official snapped. "It is a question of removing the existence of Israel."

He claimed that Israel's expansionist aims were clear. The Israelis, he said, intend to have northern Egypt, including Alexandria but not Cairo; the Suez Canal, the red sea coast to within 100 miles of Jiddah, all of Iraq, all of Syria up to the Turkish border and including small pieces of Turkey and Lebanon.

"What will remain?" he asked. "Only the desert and the poems of the Bedouins."

FAMILIAR SIGHT — Raymond Rios (No. 31) spearheaded the Snyder offense in the non-district football clash at Stamford Friday night. Here, he rambles for short yardage in the second quarter as Bulldogs Gary Grissom (hanging onto the ball carrier), Butch Miller (No. 74) and Kerwin Rorie (No. 65) close in. Other Tigers are O. L. Cooper (No. 82), Tim Mebane (No. 71) and Robert Sadler (No. 52).

STAMFORD AROUSED

Spectacular Bulldogs Slash Snyder 26-0

STAMFORD — The Bulldogs were hotter than a pistol, and the Tigers were colder than left over turkey.

As a result, Stamford walked away with a 26-0 decision following their non-district gridiron clash here Friday night on a wet, soggy field.

It was a close struggle until late in the second quarter, then Stamford broke it open striking for two quick touchdowns in the final two minutes, 17 seconds of the first half. The fired up Bulldogs added a touchdown in each of the final two periods as they seemed to gain enthusiasm and momentum with each succeeding play.

All of the Stamford touchdowns were of the spectacular variety as four different Bulldogs got into the scoring act.

Halfback Rene Alvarez, a quick 152-pounder, zoomed up the middle on a draw play and raced 65 yards for the first touchdown. He cut towards the east sidelines after he got into the secondary and simply outran the defenders. Larry Jones missed on the kick for an extra point.

Guard Jerry Rice intercepted a Snyder pass on the first down following the kickoff and returned it to the Tiger 24 to set up the second TD. It took one play as left-handed quarterback Bobby Anderson spiraled a pass to right end Gary Spitzer, who made a leaping catch falling into the end zone. Anderson then rolled left and hit halfback Danny Bolin beyond the double stripes for the bonus points as the halftime advantage went to 14-0.

Joe Upshaw, who alternated at quarterback with Anderson, blasted up the middle 4:37 deep in the third quarter and charged 40 yards for the third host touchdown. Jones' kick missed again, although the count soared to 20-0.

Stamford spanned 25 yards in four plays for the final touchdown late in the fourth quarter following a fumble recovery by tackle Joe Lopez at the 29. Three mediocre line crashes set up fourth and six at the 25. Then lightning struck the soggy field again.

Third string quarterback Gary Grissom headed left and pitched out to halfback Raqui Vasquez going wide towards the west sidelines. Some crisp blocking cleared him past the 15 and another perfectly executed block by back Jimmie Wilhelm at the five enabled Vasquez to ramble on across. He looked like an Indian holy man on this play — untouchable that is.

Jones again missed the kick for extra point, but with a 26-0 lead and 1:12 remaining, none of the Stamford fans were displeased.

The Stamford story could be told in one word: DESIRE. It was evident prior to the kickoff that the Bulldogs were fired up and nothing that transpired after that removed the conviction that they had come to play . . . and win.

Snyder still was in the game until just before the half. Tackle James Merritt recovered a Bulldog bobble to halt a march at the Tiger 24 late in the first quarter. Then the Black and Gold marched 45 yards to the Stamford 31 with tailback Raymond Rios gaining most of the yardage on thrusts off tackle and over guard. Quarterback Steve Holder kept the drive alive on a fourth down pass at the Snyder 48 to flanker O. L. Cooper. The play covered 14 yards and set up first and 10 at the Stamford 39. Rios added eight more with two running efforts, then a 15-yard penalty pushed the Tigers back to the 46 and they were never able to recover their momentum.

The Bengals were never able to get past the Stamford 48 in the second half, although a long pass in the first quarter almost resulted in a touchdown. Cooper got behind the safetyman but couldn't quite get to the long aerial launched by Holder.

Merce Hernandez looked good on defense in the first quarter, and the running of Efrian Cervantez in the fourth quarter added a few bright spots to an otherwise dark picture. There were other moments of brilliance, such as Joe Greer's defensive efforts on punts, but the overall team effort was not consistently effective.

If the Bengals can get as high as Stamford for the Big Spring game next Friday, then it should be a close contest. Hope springs eternal in the human breast . . .

SEASON BEGINS SUNDAY

Green Bay Favored To Win NFL Again

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The National Football League opens its 48th season Sunday with a new member, a new alignment and an old, old story —the Green Bay Packers are expected to win it all again.

Paul Hornung and Jim Taylor, the hard-running backs who powered the Packer attack for a decade, are gone. But, if anything, Green Bay seems even deeper and quicker than a year ago when they won their second straight NFL title and the first Super Bowl.

They'll open their quest for a third straight title—and fifth in seven years—at home against the Detroit Lions, who will make their regular season debut under new coach Joe Schmidt.

The new team, the New Orleans Saints, will play their first regular season game at home against the Los Angeles Rams.

The rest of the NFL schedule, all Sunday afternoon, has Dallas at Cleveland, Atlanta at Baltimore, Chicago at Pittsburgh, Washington at Philadelphia, San Francisco at Minnesota and New York at St. Louis.

The American Football League, in its third week of play, has Houston, 0-1 at Buffalo, 1-0; Boston, 0-2, at Oakland, 1-0, and Denver, 1-1 at Miami, 0-0, also all Sunday afternoon.

Hornung has retired from the Green Bay backfield, and Taylor now is with the Saints after playing out his option, but their places are filled with younger and faster men. They include veteran Elijah Pitts, bonus babies Donny Anderson and Jim Grabowski, veteran Ben Wilson and rookie Travis Williams.

Pitts and Grabowski are expected to start in the backfield along with quarterback Bart Starr, the league's most valuable player in 1966.

Most of the rest of the team is the same. The only change in the offensive line has Gale Gallingham at guard. On defense end Lionel Aldridge is out for another three weeks with a broken leg.

The Packers have won 13 straight going into the game, including six exhibitions.

Schmidt, the old Lion linebacker, has not announced his choice of a starting quarterback, but Karl Sweetan is expected to get the nod over veteran Milt Plum. Schmidt has a potential star in rookie running back Mel Farr.

Both teams are in the new Central Division, along with Chicago and Minnesota. The Coastal Division has Atlanta, Baltimore, Los Angeles and San Francisco; the Capitol is made up of Dallas, New Orleans, Philadelphia and Washington; the Century has Cleveland, New York, Pittsburgh and St. Louis.

The Saints, the NFL's new team, will have Taylor at fullback and Billy Kilmer at quarterback for their regular season opener. Coach Tom Fears compiled a sparkling 5-1 pre-season record with the expansion team.

Los Angeles, which provided the opening opposition for Atlanta in its home debute in 1966, again opens against a new team. The Rams, ready to challenge the Green Bay supremacy, had their first winning preseason record in history even though holding out ace runners Tommy Mason and Dick Bass until the final game.

Dallas, Eastern Conference titlist last year, could have its hands full with Cleveland, which looked good in its last exhibition game. Leroy Kelly showed his 1966 form with 81 yards on the ground.

The Falcons have a new look with Ron Smith moving from defensive back to flanker to give quarterback Randy Johnson more speed in his receivers. The Colts have a healthy, strong Johnny Unitas, but rookie tackle Bubba Smith is out with a knee injury.

Gale Sayers, of course, is the big Chicago threat, but the Bears' quarterback situation is up in the air. The Steelers are pleased with Cannonball Butler's development as a running back and have good speed in rookie Don Shy.

The Washington-Philadelphia game shapes up a passing duel between veterans Sonny Jurgensen of the Redskins and Norm Snead of the Eagles. The Eagles have added strong receivers in Mike Ditka and Gary Ballman.

Bud Grant makes his debut as an NFL coach with the Vikings after 10 years in Canadian football, but has an injury-riddled squad to send against the 49ers.

Panthers Run Over O'Brien 38-0

O'BRIEN — The Hobbs Panthers rolled to their second victory in a row Friday, walloping O'Brien, 38-0.

Actually, the game was closer than the score indicated, with Hobbs holding a two-touchdown lead going into the fourth quarter. However, the Panther defense left little doubt as to the eventual victor. O'Brien was able to penetrate the Hobbs 20 yard line only once, and that was on a penalty.

It was Lorin Pearce and Turo Martinez again who paced the Panthers to victory. They hooked up on a pass play good for 30 yards and the first touchdown of the game in the first period. Pearce added the two extra points.

A rash of fumbles plagued the Panthers in the second period. But it didn't take long to get things going after the halftime intermission. Hobbs kicked off and then on O'Brien's first play Williams intercepted a pass and ran it back 39 yards for a touchdown. A few moments later, Williams ran 55 yards for another apparent score, but it was erased by a clipping penalty.

In the fourth period, Gill Warren ran 50 yards for a Hobbs touchdown and then Pearce passed to Turo Martinez to the four yard line. Warren was racked up around the goal line, fumbling there, but Richard Milano covered the pigskin in the end zone for another Hobbs touchdown. Pearce passed to Warren for another 20-yard scoring play, and on the last play of the game, Ross Aguilar was hauled down after making a 50-yard run that just failed to get into the end zone.

Hobbs Coach Boxie Weems said he was well pleased with his defense again and his offensive blocking looked good in the second half. Randy Williams and Turo Martinez led the defenders.

Finley In New Crisis?

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The long rumored attempt to move the last place Athletics out of Kansas City came further into the open Friday when Joe Cronin, president of the American League, announced he would call a meeting after the World Series to hear a proposal from Charles O. Finley, the A's owner.

This development followed by a day delivery of a telegram from Finley to the city fathers that he did not intend to renew his lease on Municipal Stadium which expires Oct. 5.

And Cronin's announcement paralleled one by Dutton Brookfield, chairman of the sports authority here, that he had sent Finley a proposed lease agreement on a new 45,000 - seat stadium for which bonds have been voted and which can be completed in about two years.

Pro Dolphins Make Debut

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

The regular season debut of the Miami Dolphins and a television doubleheader spice the third weekend of American Football League action Sunday.

The Dolphins, idle the first two, play the Denver Broncos Sunday afternoon—with a flock of players working against their old teammates.

The two clubs made three off-season trades with each other, with a total of 10 players shifting uniforms.

The Dolphins picked up running back Abner Haynes and linebacker John Bramlett among others, while former Dolphins now with Denver include Ernie Park and Cookie Gilchrist.

Gilchrist, the huge, hard-running fullback, is out of action with a leg injury and probably will be replaced by Wendell Hayes.

Houston, 0-1, is at Buffalo, 1-0, and Boston, 0-2 is at Oakland, 1-0, in the only other games scheduled, both Sunday afternoon. Kansas City, San Diego and New York are idle.

The Houston-Buffalo and Boston-Oakland games will be shown as a television doubleheader by NBC-TV. Houston-Buffalo kicks it off at 2 p.m., EDT.

The National Football League opens regular season play with a full slate of eight games, all Sunday afternoon. They are Detroit at Green Bay, Los Angeles at New Orleans, Dallas at Cleveland, Atlanta at Baltimore, Chicago at Pittsburgh, Washington at Philadelphia, San Francisco at Minnesota and New York at St. Louis.

The Miami-Denver match will be the only meeting of the teams in regular season play this year.

Buffalo is fresh from a 20-17 comeback victory over New York. The Bills spotted the Jets a 17 point lead before pulling it out in the last quarter, Mike Mercer winning it with a 43-yard field goal with four seconds left.

The Oilers lost to Kansas City, 25-20, last week, but proved they could move the ball behind Jacky Lee at quarterback. Hoyle Granger picked up 101 yards on the ground and Sid Blanks 79 and fogm a solid one-two punch.

Boston's offense is still stuttering, and must go against an Oakland defense that is fresh from a record-setting performance in the rout of Denver.

The Raiders' defense held the Broncos to a minus 53 yards passing and minus five over-all.

Boston had a solid passing performance from Babe Parilli in the 28-14 loss to San Diego, but the ground game hasn't jelled. Jim Nance has carried 33 times in two games for 114 yards, but has yet to pick up more than seven in any one try.

OFFENSIVE THRILLER

Wylie Nips Cards At Hermleigh

HERMLEIGH — Hermleigh's Cardinals gave favored Wylie the scare of its life here, battling them on almost even terms before going down to defeat 26-22 in a non-district Class B gridiron tussle.

Wylie tallied twice in the first quarter, then Hermleigh scored in the second quarter before the visitors added another one. A late Cardinal TD in the second quarter put the hosts in striking distance again, but Wylie pulled away again with a third quarter tally. Hermleigh's last touchdown put the Cards back in the game again, but it was too late by then to overcome the difference.

Wylie Quarterback David Cowley combined with Darrell Baccus on a 35-yard pass play for the first touchdown, and Rusty Rutledge ran the ball over for the two points.

Wylie recovered a fumble on the Hermleigh 30 and marched down to the two in 10 plays, then Baccus slanted over right tackle for the second touchdown. The try for points failed.

In the second stanza, the Cardinals marched down inside the 10, but Wylie held. On the first offensive down after the stand, Baccus fumbled the ball into the air on the one yard line. Ronnie Helm swooped in, grabbed it, and lurched into the end zone to cut the margin to 14-6.

Wylie countered with another TD moments later as Cowley and George Holland combined forces on a pass play that covered 41 yards. The kick failed.

Hermleigh's second TD in the second period resulted from a Helm - to - Chorn pass that spanned 50 yards, and Chorn lugged the leather over for the bonus points as the halftime margin read 20-14.

The visitors drove in for the final tally with thirty seconds remaining in the third period. David Cowley took it in from the one.

The Cardinals marched 65 yards in the last quarter for the final TD with Helm capping it on a 1-yard plunge. Chorn added the two bonus points.

Coach W. C. Hodges of Hermleigh praised the offensive work of Chorn and the defensive efforts of Ray Etheredge and Burton Sandefur, and he said the team effort was improved over the previous week — especially the offense.

3-AAA Teams Take It On Chin Again

District 3-AAA football teams were unable to improve on their record Friday night, getting a single victory for the second time in a row.

Littlefield got the only Friday night win, downing Muleshoe, 28-12. Elsewhere, Andrews who appears to be making a career of knocking off District 3-AAA teams, whacked Lamesa, 19-0; Canyon nudged Levelland, 19-18; Abilene walloped Sweetwater, 41-13; Brady toppled Lake View, 26-20; and Stamford steamed past Snyder, 26-0.

Lubbock Dunbar was scheduled to meet Midland Carver Saturday night and the Brownfield Cubs had an open date.

Next Friday night Snyder will host Big Spring; Brownfield will be at home with Andrews; Lamesa will go to Seminole; Levelland will entertain Denver City; and Sweetwater will host Colorado City. Lake View will play Odessa Ector at San Angelo on Thursday night, and Lubbock Dunbar will go to Wichita Falls on Saturday night.

Cougars Impressive

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Abilene Cooper justified its No. 1 rating in the top division of Texas schoolboy football Friday night by smashing Galena Park 28-0.

But the other top ranked teams also won and two of them were as impressive as Abilene Cooper.

Brownwood, the No. 1 team of Class AAA, whammed Gatesville 35-0 while Seagraves, called the kingpin of the A teams, swept over Frenship 60-8.

Jacksboro, No. 1 in Class AA, beat Olney 19-0 with a solid exhibition.

But none was more impressive than Dumas, which is among the ranked outfits of Class AAA. The Demons crushed Class AAAA Pampa 69-6.

The glaring upsets came when Lamar Consolidated, rated No. 5 in Class AAA, took a 21-6 hammering from unranked Alvin.

And Denver City, the No. 2 team of Class AU, took the plunge before Class AAA Seminole 25-6.

Port Arthur won an important victory for the state when the Yellow Jackets crushed Broadmoore of Baton Rouge, the Louisiana champion, 42-14. Port Arthur is No. 2 in Class AAAA.

Odessa Permian edged Lubbock Monterey to show its No. 3 rating in AAA was no fluke.

In Class AAA Ennis rolled on by socking Class AA Plano 14-2. Ennis is No. 2 in Class AAA. Plano No. 9 in AA.

Abilene Cooper was beating a good team when it shut out Galena Park. This one had whipped Texarkana 38-0 the preceding week.

GAIN GROUND

Horlen Twirls Sox Past Twins, 7-3

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer

Joel Horlen has everything back in the proper perspective and the Chicago White Sox are beginning to see the light again.

Horlen, the near-sighted Chicago ace who pitched a no-hitter last Sunday against Detroit, held Minnesota to three hits Friday night as the White Sox gained precious ground in the American League stretch race with a 7-3 triumph over the Twins.

Shortstop Ron Hansen backed Horlen with four hits, including a pair of homers, and four RBI in the White Sox' third straight victory—which sent them within 1½ games of first place and helped create a three-way tie at the top between Minnesota, Boston and Detroit.

The Tigers, who rallied for a 5-4 victory over Washington, the Red Sox, who bowed to Baltimore 6-2, and the Twins all are 84-64 with 14 games remaining. Chicago has an 83-66 mark with 13 games to play.

Elsewhere in the AL the New York Yankees downed Cleveland 5-1 and California shaded Kansas City 2-1 in 11 innings.

In National League play, Los Angeles swept a pair of 1-0 decisions from Philadelphia, St. Louis shut out Cincinnati 4-0, San Francisco defeated Pittsburgh 6-3 and the Chicago Cubs clubbed Atlanta 7-1. Houston and the New York Mets were not scheduled.

Horlen, who had been wearing glasses while pitching for the last two years, discarded the specs recently—with spectacular results for the White Sox. He has allowed just two runs in reeling off three straight victories—including the no-hitter—for a 17-6 season record.

"I haven't been wearing them in my last four or five starts," he said. "I needed them because I couldn't see the signs and the edges of the plate. But suddenly, I thought they were making the plate too far away. It's far enough away as it is. So I decided to try it again without them."

A walk, Rod Carew's infield hit and a throwing error by Hansen gave the Twins a 1-0 lead in the second inning. But Hansen's two-run single and a run-scoring single by Horlen sent the Sox ahead to stay in the bottom of the second and the Twins didn't get another hit until the ninth.

Then Harmon Killebrew doubled with two out and Oliva unloaded his 15th homer. "I wanted to get the one-hitter," Horlen said. "I've never had one.

Ira Rips Norton 34-12

NORTON — The healthy Ira Bulldogs blasted Norton 34-12 here Friday night in a non-district Six-Man football clash.

The charges of Coach Lynn Jackson had to rally to do it as the hosts took a 6-0 lead in the second quarter following a fumble recovery. The fumble enabled Dale Freeman to scoot eight yards into the end zone for the first TD of the night.

Ira took charge just before the half ended as halfback Terry Sterling swept end from 60 yards out. Eugene Briseno's kick for bonus points was true to the mark as the visitors went ahead, 8-6.

Bulldog back Gary Weir rambled 70 yards for a touchdown after fielding the football following the kickoff that opened the second half. Briseno's kick was good again as the lead mounted to 16-6.

Norton got back in the game early in the third period as Kit Hurt went 35 yards to pay dirt, narrowing the gap to 16-12.

Joe Briseno got the margin back for Ira later in the quarter with a 50 yard ramble, but the kick for extra points failed.

Terry Sterling added another insurance touchdown in the fourth quarter on a 45 yard run, and Eugene Briseno posted another one on a 15 yard gallop. Neither kick for extra points following both fourth quarter touchdowns worked.

Ira was bolstered by the return of three regulars who did not suit up last week. Coach Jackson said he was pleased with the offensive blocking and the overall performance of the team on defense. Seven Bulldogs each were credited with numerous tackles.

The Bulldogs will be at Christoval next Friday for an 8 p.m. engagement.

"CHEAP DRUGS" COST MOST

Less effective medicines may cost less than the potent new ones prescribed by your Doctor . . . but you probably will need more of them to get well. New drugs usually do the job the first time, costing less in total. Bring your Doctor's prescription to us for precise compounding, without delay. Uniformly fair prices.

RAINS, UNSEASONABLE COOL

Texas Crop-Growth Slowed

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Rain and temperature will be watched closely by Texas farmers in the next few weeks. For the past month, chills have slowed High Plains cotton and last week's rains delayed harvesting statewide, said John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

A new cold front which hit Wednesday could further complicate the need for warmth to mature late crops.

Widespread rains a week ago greatly improved the moisture situation in the state, especially helping grazing, provided good growing weather holds, the director said.

In their midweek reports, district farm agents summed up their situations:

Moisture in the Panhandle ranges from adequate to short. From 25 to 35 per cent of the wheat acreage north of the Canadian River has been planted and 5 to 15 per cent to the south. Soybeans are making good growth. Silage crops are being harvested and lettuce is making good progress. Range and livestock conditions are generally good.

Cool, moist weather is delaying the maturity of cotton on the South Plains (Lubbock) but is benefitting dryland grain sorghum and soybeans. Wheat planting is increasing and the harvesting of tomatoes and peppers has started. Some soybeans are maturing. Range grass production is declining due to drought.

Moisture over the Rolling Plains (Vernon) ranges from adequate in 10 counties to short in 12 counties. Cotton is fruiting well but boll weevils and bollworms are causing medium to heavy damage. Plowing has started for grain planting. Ranges are fair to good.

All North Central Texas except Johnson County (Cleburne) have adequate moisture but most could use more rain. The cotton harvest was stopped by rain but all other crops benefitted. Farmers can plow grain land with confidence. Ranges are improving.

Moisture in Northeast Texas is adequate and farmers are planting crops. The rains improved soybean prospects and brought pastures back to average.

Moisture and grass growth were helped in Far West Texas rain areas. Range conditions are very spotted, from poor to excellent. Goat shearing is about over and sheep shearing is past the halfway mark. Lambs and calves are being shipped. Ranch labor is short. The grain sorghum harvest is in full swing and cotton harvest is beginning.

Scattered showers and rains up to 3 inches in West Central Texas germinated dry planted grains and allowed plowing and planting to pick up. Cotton prospects improved despite increased insect damage. The outlook for late sorghum is very good. Ranges are improving. Deer are in poor condition but will improve with better forage conditions. Goat shearing is about over and calves are going to market.

Central Texas moisture ranges from adequate to very short. Farmers can now proceed with planting of grain. The cotton harvest in Williamson and Milam counties is near completion. Yields have been short. The pecan crop is generally short but is fair in the West Cross Timber counties. Stock water is very low in several counties. Stockmen are feeding in Lampasas County.

Spotted rains in East Texas left moisture very short to adequate and hay prospects better in the rain areas. Some cotton suffered damage from rain. Fall crops are being planted and vegetable activity is slow. Pastures are average to below. Stock water is low in the drier counties. Pecan prospects are only fair.

Moisture ranges from adequate to short in the Southeast and Upper Gulf Coast area. Soybeans and second crop rice in Jefferson County are making good growth. Armyworms are causing concern in Brazos County and the Harris County peanut crop will be only about half of normal. Pastures have improved. Good labor is in short supply.

Dry spots are present in South Central Texas but the overall situation is much improved. Ranges and pastures are improving and land preparation for oat planting is under way. Cabbage and onions are up to a good stand and the cucumber harvest in Bexar County is very active. Pepper prospects are poor to fair.

Field work in South Texas is limited due to wet fields, and weed control is difficult. Cabbage loopers are causing damage. Pastures are now generally average for this season.

AMONG UNHAPPY FARMERS

Dairy Troubles Continue

WASHINGTON (AP) — Dairymen rank high on the list of those Assistant Secretary Dorothy Jacobson has in mind when she says the Agriculture Department "has never known farmers to seem to be as unhappy as they are today."

With equal candor she voices departmental frustration at being "hit by constant criticism of the rising cost of food" while "trying as hard as we know how to help improve the income of farmers."

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman now has on his desk for decision a request from the National Milk Producers' Federation to set in motion machiney that would raise minimum fluid milk prices at least 50 cents per 100 pounds.

This would be accomplished through federal marketing orders, which set minimum prices in the milk processors and distributors must pay dairy farmers. The Federation also urged the secretary to raise the support level. This level establishes a floor, for prices the government pays the farmer for what they don't sell on the market.

The Huge Bureau is withholding its blessing on the support level raise because it would mean the Commodity Credit Corp., charged with buying and disposing of agricultural surpluses, would have to pay more to build larger surpluses.

The corporation has paid $339 million for dairy products up to Aug. 31. Last year, the agency's dairy bill was only $46 million. An Agriculture Department rule-of-thumb generally considers milk production excessive when CCC spending for all dairy products exceed $300 million.

Fluid milk prices are often the first to be felt by consumers, for fluid milk is what they have delivered to the home door in bottles or buy in cartons at the supermarket.

Freeman has yet to act on the dairy farmers' request to raise minimums dealers pay by the equivalent of one and one-tenths of a cent per quart. He has ordered increases in 70 marketing areas on four occasions during the past 16 months and twice already this year has raised price support levels.

The government expects total milk production this year to be slightly under the 120.2 billion pounds of 1966. The department reports record high average prices to farmers.

August prices showed a light drop from the year earlier after substantial increase in the first seven months of 1967, with an indication that for the rest of the year milk prices will average slightly lower.

Of more direct concern to people who buy and drink milk are prices dealers pay for fluid milk. These, the government says, increased by 15 per cent per 100 pounds from April to June this year and have remained about level, averaging $6.18 in August.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reported the July cost of a half gallon of milk at the grocery store at 51½ cents. It was 51.2 cents in April and averaged 49.8 cents in 1966.

The milk Industry Foundation statistics, based largely on price support and marketing order levels, don't completely reflect one another, however.

Secretary Freeman's encouragement to farmers to "gain muscle in the marketplace" by bargaining for prices above the minimums set by the government.

Milk farmers have not been slow to exercise this government-backed lever. Farmer cooperative groups demanded premium prices in 38 markets during August, and more cooperatives are exerting the same pressure this month.

Milk industry spokesmen say that although the reverse was true previously, in the past two years prices paid to farmers have risen more rapidly than all other cost increases and faster than processors and distributors have been able to raise their resale prices.

The industry foundation cites a recent study of 35 industries by the First National City Bank of New York showing that dairy companies ranked 26th in terms of net return on investment and 33rd when profits were expressed as a percentage of sales.

The foundation contends that price increases this year have been necessary, that there is no justification for "putting the finger" on either milk farmers or the industry and that "any needed increase in producer prices will necessarily have to be passed along to consumers."

Ramsey Clarks Personify Study In Vivid Contrasts

WASHINGTON (AP) — If Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark runs silent and deep, his blonde, exuberant wife, Georgia, bubbles nearly to overflowing.

They are, after 18 years of marriage, a remarkable, vividly contrasting couple.

Georgia Welch Clark, although the mate of a member of the President's Cabinet, is at 37 still very much the down-to-earth daughter of a Corpus Christi, Tex., produce dealer.

She buys clothes off the racks, has no household staff, is casual about such lacklustre chores as making beds, and would much prefer a barefoot picnic to a full-dress dinner.

In short, she's a living, breathing reminder that a Cabinet wife is, after all, just a woman.

"How come," Ramsey Clark will occasionally ask, "a plain-lookin' ol' girl like you managed to marry such a good-lookin' fellar?"

Although the attorney general's physical assessment must be reversed by 180 degrees—she's really quite pretty, he quite ordinary-looking—one obvious answer to his playful query is that Georgia is, if possible, less pretentious than he.

She passed up her "debutante thing" in 1948, for example, to pay a first visit to Clark's parents.

"I guess that raised a few eyebrows at Corpus," she recalls in her soft drawl, "but I think those deb things are kind of barbaric, don't you? Like throwin' young virgins into the arena."

She purchased a white dress for President Johnson's inaugural ball—"and I must have worn it the next 10 times we went out formally. Finally Ramsey said, 'Honey, don't you think you ought to have another dress?'"

So she bought one—and then wore the new one the next 10 times out. Thereupon, she ran afoul of the attorney general's reputation for thrifty management.

"Don't you think, honey," he asked her delicately, "you ought to start wearing that white one again?"

Home, to the Clarks, is a $35,000-house, with three bedrooms, on Lake Barcroft in suburban Virginia. It's quite modest, by official Washington standards. The furnishings are well-worn and the occasional scent of a poodle and a half-Samoyed can be detected.

The Clarks—who had met on a weekend outing on Padre Island in 1947—became parents for the first time in February 1952. The girl was named Ronda Kathleen. Soon after she turned 2, it was realized that her hearing was impaired; later her speech would be, too.

Today, she attends the Institute of Logopedics in Wichita, Kan., with 150 other children. But she spends frequent three-week vacations with her parents. "She loves to come home," her mother says. "We just let her have the run of the place."

Doctors have diagnosed the girl's condition as aphasia—brain damage resulting in impairment of speech.

Al White Trial Moved

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)— The murder trial of state highway patrolman Al White was transferred to Palo Pinto County Friday after Dist. Judge J. R. Black granted the request of the defense for a change of venue.

The change was sought by defense attorney A. L. "Dusty" Rhodes who contended that White could not obtain a fair trial here because of the extensive news coverage of the case.

White, who has been held in the Taylor County jail since his arrest, is charged with murder in the beating death of his wife, Joyce.

The highway patrolman, who told investigating officers he and his wife were attacked by two men in their home, was charged with murder six days after her death.

Lawmen To Gather For Austin Meet

AUSTIN (AP) — About 600 prosecutors, judges and sheriffs from all over Texas are expected to attend the Attorney General's Law Enforcement Conference here Sept. 28-30.

Speakers will include Nola White, chief of the Crime Prevention Division of the attorney general's office; Carol Vance, Houston district attorney; and Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin.

Fatalities Decrease

AUSTIN (AP) — Traffic fatalities in Texas this year total 2,168, a decrease of 17 from a year ago, state police said Saturday. Fatal accidents total 2,168, an increase of 16.

MESQUITE CONTROL such as this on a Borden County ranch, is being pushed in the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District. The mesquite here are being root-plowed and the land is being seeded to native grass.

Water Wasted On Worthless Brush

"Worthless brush and weeds waste nearly as much water as is used for all other purposes in Texas," according to H. N. Smith, State Conservationist of the Soil Conservation Service, Temple. "One of our greatest potentials for saving water is reducing this waste by non-economic plants."

Smith said at least 10 million acre-feet of water could be saved annually by a complete grassland restoration program in Texas. This is about three-fourths the amount now used by all consumers. This saving would go a long way to assist in easing future water shortages, he said.

This is part of the information in a new publication just released by the SCS, "Grassland Restoration, Part V, Effect Of Water Yield And Supply," by C. A. Rechenthin and H. N. Smith. The booklet is the fifth in a series dealing with Texas rangelands. It documents huge water losses that occur each year from brush and weed infestation. It shows how municipal, industrial, and agricultural water supplies are reduced on watersheds infested with brush and weeds.

In a 1964 survey, SCS found that 88 million acres, or 82 percent of Texas' 107 million acres of grassland, are infested with brush. Range conservationists say that four out of every five acres are producing less than half their potential.

More than one-third of the rain that falls in the State each year is being used up by non-economic plants, according to estimates made by Dr. J. R. Johnston of the Agricultural Research Service. He says that 138 million acre-feet are being wasted by weeds and brush each year.

Since grass uses less water than most other plants, there are vast opportunities for cutting water losses by improving infested grasslands.

Using the limited research available, Rechenthin and Smith give a detailed study in the new booklet of the effects of grassland improvement on water supplies. For example, treating salt-cedar infested areas could save as much as three feet of water per year for each acre treated. Savings on upland would vary from more than 6 inches in the eastern part of the State to smaller amounts in drier sections.

Annual water savings could total 2 million acre-feet each in the Brazos and Colorado River watersheds; one million each in the Nueces and Red River watersheds (Texas portion); three-quarter million each in the Rio Grande-Pecos and Trinity watersheds; and more than one-half million acre-feet in the Guadalupe-San Antonio watersheds.

Smith said that water has always been one of Texas' most valuable but least abundant resources. He said saving water by improving grasslands will benefit all Texans.

The booklets are available at SCS offices.

There are about 500,000 acres of rangeland in the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District (Scurry & Borden counties) that need some type of brush control.

Lightning Blamed For House Fire

Lightning struck a house at Ira at 7:39 p.m. Thursday, causing a fire and minor damage under the bathroom floor.

The house, owned by John Moore, is occupied by Charles Bearden. Firemen from Snyder answered the call and extinguished the blaze.

Firemen also put out a minor blaze in a washing machnie fire at Seventeenth Street and Avenue E at 10:30 a.m. Friday.
