C-C Workers Issue Challenge To Dallas

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce today challenged the Dallas Chamber of Commerce to a day-long duel in gaining new members.

Both the Dallas and Snyder chambers held membership drive kickoff breakfasts this morning.

The Snyder challenge to Dallas was made by Herbert Feather, membership campaign chairman, when he introduced Dan Eddy, who was elected most outstanding young man in Dallas last year, as membership drive kickoff speaker this morning.

Eddy predicted that Snyder could win over Dallas in today's race for new members because "Dallas has become a concrete jungle so big that each individual cannot feel the civic pride of accomplishment which can be felt by civic leaders of Snyder in making the drive successful."

A personal challenge to each worker in the Snyder drive was met with unanimous support of the 21 drive workers present this morning. Eddy challeneged the workers to each put $3.50 in a pot at the door of the luncheon room this morning, and all the workers were to have met for a report on the progress of the drive at a luncheon there today, and again at 6 o'clock tonight.

"With more than 250 persons in Snyder eligible to become members of the Chamber of Commerce, your drive for 200 new members should be possible in one day," Eddy said.

When the reports are in tonight, the top half of the individual workers who have signed up the most new members will get their $3.50 back, but the low half will leave its $3.50 each, and everyone will have eaten two meals financed by the fund.

Eddy outlined several things Snyder needs including a hotel, office building, east-west runway at Winston Field, public library, and Texas Employment Commission office.

"Snyder is loaded with beautiful motels and probably has more good motels per capita than any town in West Texas, but it still needs a good hotel to attract businessmen, tourists and conventioners," Eddy said.

The speaker said that he landed in a plane at Winston Field last night during high winds, but did not know at the time he was "landing at a second class airport good for use only when the wind was blowing the right direction.

"I paid first class fare to land on a second class airport," he said.

About a public library, Eddy said "you have one man in Snyder who could donate a public library to the community, but he will never do it unless you ask him for it.

"I'm not trying to tell you to build the biggest city in the world, but you can make it the best because Snyder has every asset to make this the best town in West Texas," he said.

"Your job as leaders of this community is to do that," he said.

"The only way businessmen will ever support the Chamber of Commerce is to buy a part of it by becoming members," he said.

Present at this morning's breakfast were: Feather, Wayland Holt, Nolan von Roeder, H. W. Cargile, O. A. McAlister, Frank Wilson, Ab Williamson, Bob Schumacher, M. L. Andress, Jim Mixon, J. B. Davidson, Turner Beard, L. A. McClanahan, Stanley Noah, Claude McCormick, J. T. Hughes, Harold Bennett, Bud England, Don Hire, Bob Crowell, and Eddy.

Three Vehicles In Collision

A three-vehicle collision four miles north of here during the rainstorm yesterday afternoon resulted in heavy property damage, but no one was hurt.

Bill Zimmerman, highway patrolman who investigated the accident, said a 1954 Ford pickup being driven south by Granville Hall Clanton, 26, Post, struck the rear of a 1951 Chevrolet club coupe also being driven south by Robert Marshall Erwin, 31, 2108 Thirty-fifth Street.

The pickup then spun around, its bed striking the side of a 1955 Mercury sedan being driven north by Edgar Fay Swalley, 53, Lubbock.

The accident occurred on U. S. Highway 84 four and three-tenths miles north of the city limits at 6:15 o'clock.

Zimmerman said he issued a ticket to Clanton chargining him with violation of traffic regulations.

The patrolman estimated total damage to be at least $1,500, the pickup and the Mercury being damaged most.

Calvert, Cavness Testify In Probe

By MAC ROY RASOR

AUSTIN (AP)—State Comptroller Robert S. Calvert testified today that if he had known only one member of the Veterans Land Board was approving land transactions he would never have authorized state payment on such deals.

State Auditor C. H. Cavness testified he would never have closed an audit of the land board had he been aware of such a practice.

Both appeared before the Senate's Investigating Committee at the request of Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton.

In developing questions to the two witnesses, Phillips read back from previous testimony of Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd, a member of the Veterans Land Board, who had claimed the board had power to delegate such authority to the board chairman, former Land Commissioner Bascom Giles.

Board minutes which showed a quorum of the board present for all meetings at which transactions were approved were recently brought under question by Gov. Allan Shivers, another member of the board, and Shepperd. Both claimed the minutes inaccurately showed them present and taking actions they did not take on numerous occasions.

Asked by Phillips what his audit report will show in regard to the land deals made in the alleged absence of a quorum, Cavness replied:

"We will have to raise a question as to the legality of everything in those minutes."

Cavness testified it was "customary procedure" to report such matters to the attorney general.

Phillips inquired if Cavness thought there should be a law to permit some other agency to receive a report on matters in which the attorney general himself was involved.

"I think that would be desirable. At the moment I am at a loss to say what it should be or how it would be set up," Cavness replied.

"I am not saying this is true, but should the attorney general be charged with some violation of the law, what state department would handle it?" inquired Phillips.

"I don't think there is any state department that could handle it," Cavness responded.

"Then there is a definite need for such a law?" insisted Phillips.

"I think so," Cavness said.

Calvert followed Cavness to the witness stand, testifying he would have declined payment on any veterans land transaction had he known it was taken without the presence of a quorum of the board.

"A quorum of the board is now required by law," Calvert said. "We believe it means what it says."

He said he did not recall any other state board acting without a quorum.

Asked if land transactions under new Land Commissioner Earl Rudder were being approved by a quorum of two or more members of the three-member board, Calvert replied that was his understanding or vouchers would not be approved.

Phillips asked if there has been a conference in Calvert's office following Shepperd's previous testimony in which he said less than two members of the board could approve transactions under authority delegated that one member of the board.

Calvert replied no conference had been held.

A court of inquiry into overall operations of the General Land Office was in recess today so the attorney general's office could check into what it called "leads" in that investigation.

Optimism Is Voiced As Dulles Returns

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. George (D-Ga) said today Russian leaders appear ready to discuss relaxation of world tensions at a top-level conference without raising annoying "collateral" issues.

George's comment in an interview was similar to a cautious note of optimism voiced by Secretary of State Dulles, who reports to the nation tonight on his talks in Europe with free world and Soviet diplomats.

With President Eisenhower introducing him, Dulles will give a broadcast report which the White House said will be "as informal as we can make it."

The half-hour program will be carried live (7 p.m. EDT) by the ABC, CBS, Du Mont and NBC television networks. There will be delayed rebroadcasts by radio (ABC 8 p.m., MBS 9:30 p.m., CBS and NBC 10:30 p.m.)

Arriving yesterday from Europe, Dulles told newsmen a prospective meeting among Eisenhower and the Prime Ministers of Russia, Britain and France was arranged "under conditions which will, I believe, hold some promise of constructive accomplishment."

George, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said he has been told that in preliminary talks the Russians "seemed to have agreed to go along" on a genuine effort to ease East-West frictions.

"They seemed not to have raised any collateral issues but to be willing to concentrate on the big problems of softening tensions as much as possible," he said.

He indicated he was basing part of his optimism on the signing of the Austrian Peace Treaty. Pronouncing the treaty satisfactory, he predicted it would be ratified "as soon as it is submitted to the Senate."

Five Airlines Seek Routes

WASHINGTON (AP)—Five major airlines — Continental, Delta-C&S, Eastern, National and TWA — asked the Civil Aeronautics Board yesterday for routes between the Pacific Coast and the South-Southwest.

Four filed route applications naming the cities they wished to serve. The fifth, Eastern, affirmed its decision to "keep fighting" for a new transcontinental air route for the South, linking Florida, the Gulf Coast and the Pacific.

Eastern's proposed route would extend from both coasts of Florida to New Orleans, through Texas and Arizona to San Diego and Los Angeles.

Delta proposed three routes between Atlanta and El Paso, the first including stops at Shreveport, Dallas and Fort Worth, the second adding a stop at Baton Rouge, and the third with stops at Beaumont-Port Arthur, Houston and San Antonio. Delta also proposed an alternate Miami-San Francisco route with stops at Beaumont-Port Arthur, Houston and El Paso.

Navy Explodes Bomb In Sea

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Defense Department announced today the Navy has exploded a small atomic device under water off the West Coast of the United States.

The terse announcement said nothing about when or exactly where in the Pacific Ocean the world's second underwater nuclear explosion took place.

But the Pentagon said that from early indications, the test involved no hazard to the American mainland, any island peoples or any consumers of fish.

The announced purpose of the test was to further develop new antisubmarine weapons.

The test was conducted by a small task group under the direction of Rear Adm. Charles B. Momsen, commander of Joint Task Force 7, responsible for all nuclear tests in the Pacific area.

WEST TEXAS: Partly cloudy this afternoon, tonight and Wednesday. Scattered showers and local thunderstorms most numerous through Pecos Valley and eastward. No important temperature changes.

Air Reserve Men Honored

Two Snyder men were named last night as outstanding men for the month of April in the 9872nd Air Reserve Squadron, according to Capt. Renal B. Rosson, public information officer for the local flight.

There are three flights in the squadron, one here and one each at Big Spring and Sweetwater.

1st. Lt. James R. Patterson, Jr., was honored as the most outstanding officer in the squadron during April. His commendation was for his work as flight training officer, his assignments at meetings, his perfect attendance record, and other, activities.

S-Sgt. Josie Johnson, flight training non-commissioned officer, was likewise commended for his work as projectionist and instructor in use and operation of the flight's picture projector and for his perfect attendance record. Johnson was promoted during April from first-class airman to staff sergeant.

Also receiving similar promotion during April was S-Sgt. Charles Sam Hunnicutt.

2nd. Lt. John C. Josefy was promoted to first lieutenant March 31.

Making application for membership with the flight were Lt. Col. Malven K. Stevenson and 2nd. Lt. Albert Ray Martin, Jr.

Russian Specialists Cleared For Visits

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States notified Russia today it is ready to accept 10 Soviet farm specialists as official visitors.

The State Department made public a note delivered by the American Embassy at Moscow to the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The note, aside from telling Russia the visitors would be welcome suggested midsummer, from July 10 to Aug. 10, as "the most advantageous time."

It also asked the Soviet government to say how big an American delegation the Russians are prepared to receive and at what time.

Chou Renews China Offer To Negotiate

By JIM BECKER

TOKYO (AP)—Premier Chou En-lai of Red China today renewed his offer to negotiate with the United States on easing tension in the Formosa area but made plain that "the question of the so-called cease-fire does not arise."

The reason, he said, was that "there is no war between (Red) China and the United States."

Chou, who first made his offer April 23 at the Asian-African conference at Bandung, said his country would prefer to discuss the Formosan question through a 10-nation conference suggested three months ago by Soviet Russia, but said Red China would be willing to consider alternate proposals.

He stipulated that Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist government on Formosa must be excluded.

Chou charged that the United States was delaying the talks by vague and evasive responses.

President Eisenhower said on April 27 that the United States would be glad to talk with the Chinese Communists on a cease-fire, but this was the point that Chou specifically ruled out in a report last Friday to Red China's National Congress in Peiping. Peiping radio broadcast the text today.

These were his words:

"The people living in Taiwan (Formosa) are Chinese people and the liberation of Taiwan by the Chinese people is a question of China's domestic affair.

"The United States occupation of Taiwan has created tension in the Taiwan area and this constitutes an international issue between China and the United States. The two questions cannot be mixed up. There is no war between China and the United States, so the question of the so-called cease-fire does not arise.

"The Chinese people are friendly with the American people. The Chinese people do not want to have a war with the United States. To ease tension in the Taiwan area the Chinese government is willing to sit down and enter into negotiations with the United States government."

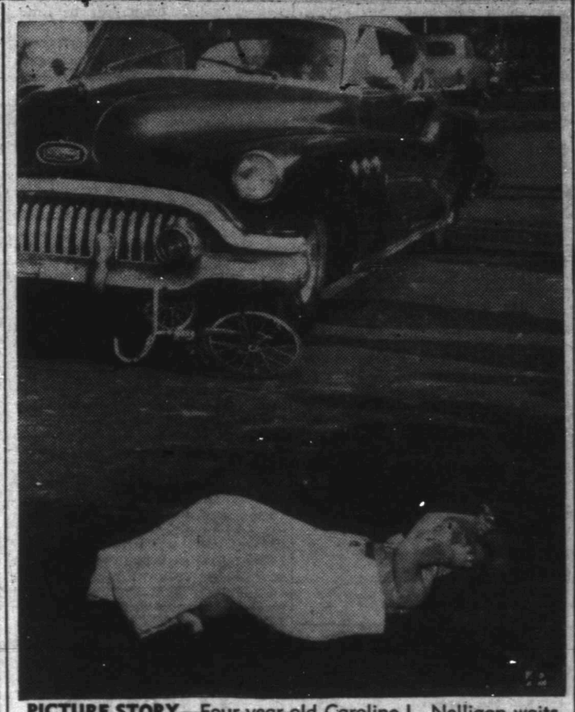

Retired Court Justice Dies

PHENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP)—Owen J. Roberts, retired former associate justice of the U. S. Supreme Court, died today at his home. He was 80 last May 2, and had retired from the bench in 1945.

Roberts suffered a heart attack and died at 10:25 a.m. His widow and an only child, Mrs. Elizabeth Hamilton, were at his bedside.

The justice, named to the nation's highest court in 1930 by former President Herbert Hoover, had been ill for some time. Until last weekend he had been a patient in a Philadelphia hospital.

Friends quoted him as saying that if he was to die he preferred to be at home, at his estate in nearby Chester Springs, 30 miles west of Philadelphia.

PICTURE STORY—Four-year-old Caroline L. Nelligan waits patiently for an ambulance after being struck by the automobile while riding her bicycle in Buffalo, N.Y. The bike lies twisted under the front pumper of the auto. The driver, Mrs. Hattie Prince, 47, was charged by police with driving the wrong way on a one-way street. The child was reported in fair condition.

Hermleigh To Vote Again On Proposal

Political activity has been revived at Hermleigh. Another election has been ordered to determine whether the incorporation of the city shall be dissolved.

If the proposal carries in the election, the commissioners court of the county will be required by law to take custody of all city-owned governmental property and to operate the city of Hermleigh. This would have been the case six months ago if the returns of a similar election had been canvassed and declared correct.

That election, however, could not be canvassed because of irregularities in making returns to the county officials as required by law. No returns were presented to the county judge, as required. The returns and ballots, stubs, and surplus election materials were brought to his office, but there was no sealed envelope addressed to him and containing a poll list, a tally list, and other required data. One evelope was addressed to the county clerk by title and another to the county clerk by name, but no envelope was addressed to the judge. The returns addressed to the county clerk, by law, cannot be used to canvass an election but must be filed.

That election carried, however, according to unofficial returns listed as being 61 to 56.

An election was held for this purpose early in 1952, but voters defeated the proposal to dissolve the corporation. The city was last incorporated in 1950 by a large margin of votes.

Hermleigh's city affairs have been controversial for many decades, incorporation and disincorporation, bond, and warrant elections having been held at various times down through the years.

The next election has been ordered by the county judge, Edgar Taylor, as required by law upon receipt of petition of more than half of the voters of Hermleigh. The petition was purported to have been signed by 69 qualified voters who are also taxpayers in the city.

To vote in the election, scheduled for June 4, a qualified voter must also be a resident of the city and have rendered property for city taxation.

The law as given previously concerning dissolution of the corporation, Article 1260, Vernon's Texas Statutes: "When any corporation is abolished under provisions of this chapter, and shall at the time of any such abolishment own any public buildings, public parks, public works or other property, and the same shall not have been sold or disposed of as provided in this

State Tax Bill Cleared By Senate Committee

By BO BYERS

AUSTIN (AP)—A tax bill to meet the state's need for approximately 30 million dollars a year in general revenue to balance the budget was reported by a Senate finance subcommittee today. The bill also would raise some 24 million dollars yearly for highway purposes, reported by a Senate state affairs subcommittee today. The bill also would raise some 24 million dollars yearly for highway purposes.

Drastically revising tax proposals already approved by the House, the bill now goes to the full Senate State Affairs Committee for 24 hours study. Whether or not the Senate and House can agree on this new version or quickly reach some compromise will determine how soon the legislative session can end.

Sen. R. A. Weinert of Seguin, chairman of the subcommittee, handed a brief analysis of the revenue raising measure to reporters and told them:

"It is our opinion this bill raises sufficient money to meet the requirements."

Though Gov. Allan Shivers has been urging a boost of two cents a gallon on the gasoline tax, the Senate subcommittee left the increase at one cent—same as in the House-passed bill. An attempt to add the second penny is expected during Senate floor debate.

Some changes were proposed in the gasoline tax law. The subcommittee suggested the tax on distillates be changed from 7½ cents, as called for in the House bill, to 6½ cents per gallon. The rate is now 6 cents on this oil by-product.

Provision also was made for the levy on drip and casinghead gasoline to be raised one cent. The House had called for the extra penny only on refined gasoline, but Weinert said he thought that was an inadvertent mistake.

Reporting of the tax bill brought the Legislature a little closer to the final tough job of budget-balancing. With finish of the session's work now a week overdue, that is the major remaining task: To close the big gap between recommended spending and available cash with new taxes.

Weinert and his four subcommittee members—Sens. Ottis Lock, Lufkin; Warlow Lane, Center; Carlos Ashley, Llano; and Dorsey Hardeman, San Angelo—huddled briefly in Weinert's office before release of the tax report to reporters.

There was apparent agreement among the five not to give out information on exactly how much revenue the bill would raise.

Weinert indicated confidence it would be enough to win State Comptroller R. S. Calvert's certification of enough money in sight to cover the 1½ billion general spending bill. Such certification is required under the Constitution before the measure can advance to the governor's desk.

"I've checked it (the tax measure) with the people I can check it with," said Weinert, apparently referring to the comptroller's office.

As redrafted by Weinert's subcommittee, the House bill now would make these major changes in the state's omnibus tax law:

1. Increase the tax on cigarettes one cent a pack to a total of five cents.

2. Increase the gasoline levy one cent to a total of five cents per gallon.

3. Increase license fees for wholesalers, retailers and distributors of beer and wine.

4. Levy a 1 per cent tax on department stores' gross receipts in excess of $250,000 for each three-month period.

5. Levy a 2 per cent tax on gross receipts in excess of $10,000 for each three-month period on production of chemical or liquid by chemical, metallurgical or electrolytic process.

6. Levy a 1 per cent tax on gross receipts of hotels, motels and tourist courts exceeding $5,000 for each three-month period.

7. Include air lines and contract carrjers (those who haul freight on contract) in the intangible tax law.

8. Rewrite the method of payment of franchise taxes to make the law conform with this session's revision of the state's corporation code.

How much new revenue each of these revisions of present law would account for could not be determined immediately.

Heavy Rains Accompany Turbulence

Thunderstorms played around most of Scurry County yesterday afternoon, threatening with twisters which did no heavy damage and dumping up to four inches of rainfall in some parts of the county.

Heavy winds accompanied the storm. While some damage was charged to small tornadoes, most damage came from hail and strong, straight winds.

Hail fell in an area reaching from due north of Snyder to east of Snyder. Most of the heavier rainfall was in the same area, covering the northeast part of the county.

Only .14 of an inch of rain fell in Snyder, according to a report by David Strayhorn, weather observer. That brought the total for May to 3.03 inches and the total for the year so far to 4.27 here.

The Lloyd Mountain and Camp Springs areas appeared to have had the most rain, hail, and wind, although some areas between those points and Snyder had heavy rainfall and wind.

Hail broke out all north window panes in the homes of Weldon Johnson and Oz Roggenstein near Lloyd Mountain. Mrs. Mozell Roggenstein, who lives in the same area, reported from three to four inches of rain in that community. Hail damaged only windows, trees and shrubs, she reported, except at the home of Ordie Gilbert, where strong winds blew down a chicken house and some outbuildings.

Mrs. George Brumbley, who lives nine miles northeast of Snyder, reported 1.3 of rainfall and a considerable amount of hail. North of Snyder, there was about 1.5 inches at the Stanolind camp 15 miles from town, about 1.3 and hail, some of it as large as golf balls at the home of Bill Riley which is 16 miles north.

HEAVY RAIN

Also in that area, Dan Gibson reported 1.5 of rain. He said that hail, some of the stones large, covered the ground. Rainfall has been heavy in that area all year, Gibson estimates the area has had 11 inches of rain so far this year. At the Humble Cogdell Camp in South Kent County, 1.3 inches of rain and some hail was reported.

Spots west of Snyder had more rainfall than did Snyder, but reports indicate that the western half of the county had only spotted showers. No rain but plenty of blowing sand was reported by R. A. Hardee, who lives about eight miles south of Snyder. At Hermleigh, Mrs. W. H. McQuaid reported only a sprinkle and no hail. She said that Pyron residents had reported less than .1 of an inch of rain.

What may have been one of the twisters hit about nine miles east of Snyder on the Roby highway, tearing some roofing off the home of R. O. Beeks and downing nine electric highline poles owned by Midwest Electric Cooperative. Mrs. Ollie Bruton at Midwest reported that linemen said the damage was believed caused by a "light twister." One of the poles was torn into three pieces. A piece of roofing tin was doubled over a highline wire.

E. E. (Buddy) Norris, deputy sheriff, said that the sheriff's office received a telephone call from residents 12 miles north of here late yesterday evening reporting several tornadoes. He said that he and Lowell Holt, another deputy, drove north on U.S. Highway 84 to the vicinity and saw at least four twisters.

TWISTERS SIGHTED

Norris said they parked facing north and sighted at various times four or five twisters in the heavy cloud bank just a few miles farther north.

Norris said they were definitely tornadoes but that none actually reached the ground, so far as they could tell. The twisters would rapidly send long slender tails earthward, and these would bend in various directions as they moved about, then the spirals would retreat back into the clouds.

Both Norris and Holt witnessed these actions and both said there was no doubt that they were tornadoes. They said also that several other persons in that vicinity also saw them.

"We radioed through the Snyder police station to police officers at Spur and Dickens, warning them that the clouds from which the twisters appeared seemed to be going in their direction," Norris said.

But instead, the cloud veered eastward, then southward around Snyder. Norris and Holt then drove to a point seven and a half miles east of here on a farm road known as the Camp Springs road. They were forced to park because of extremely heavy rain and fast but small hail.

From where they were parked, Norris said he was watching a nearby barn and windmill which he said he saw suddenly torn apart. "It was like an explosion, and there was a huge puff of dirt rising into the air. I yelled for Lowell to look, but it happened so quick that all he saw was the dirt. I don't think it was a straight

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Outpost To Field In Fisher Finals

Southern Production Co., Inc., and others of Fort Worth have completed a one-mile north outpost to production in the Sweetwater-Canyon sand field of south Fisher County at the No. 1 Oscar C. Rosson.

Operators reported a 17-hour potential of 241 barrels of 39.7-gravity oil and 33 per cent water. The flow came through a half-inch choke and from perforations at 5,277-305 feet.

The No. 1 Rosson, four and a half miles north of Sweetwater, is 660 feet from south and 1,990 feet from east lines of 12-22-T&P.

COKE FAILURE

Plymouth Oil Co. No. 1-230 Millican, west Coke County wildcat, has been ordered plugged and abandoned. It was drilled to 6,401 feet, with no tests reported taken on the bottom.

The project was drilled 330 feet from south and east lines of 230-2-H&TC, 11 miles west of Robert Lee.

SCURRY COUNTY

Two new producers have been reported completed in the Sharon Ridge 1700 field of Scurry County.

F. C. Lattner No. 1 J. E. Brown, drilled in 133-3-H&GN, was pumped 24 hours for a potential of 54 barrels of 29-gravity oil plus 10 per cent water. Production is through perforations at 1,717-729 feet, where 10,000 gallons of fracture fluid. Gas-oil ratio on the test was less than 250-1.

French M. Robertson No. 5 Shell-Wellborn made a 24-hour pumping potentital of 48 barrels of oil with no water. Gravity of the oil was not reported. Production is natural through perforations at 1,739-745 feet.

Drillsite is 990 feet from north and 330 feet from west lines of 102-97-H&TC.

Sun Oil No. 1-D Shannon is drilling in sandy lime below 7,666 feet. Ashmun & Hilliard No. 1 Root is drilling below 4,660 feet in lime.

SETTING CASING

Houston Oil Co. of Texas is setting five and a half-inch casing in the No. 1 Henderson and others, southeast Lynn County wildcat. The project showed bleeding oil in sections of cores taken from 6,241-397 feet. Casing is being estimated at 6,450 feet.

Location is about seven and a half miles southeast of Tatum and in 452-1-EL&RR.

BORDEN COUNTY

W. A. Moncrief has completed the No. 1-A W. L. Miller in the Jo Mill-Spraberry field of southwest Borden County for a 24-hour flow of 344 barrels of oil plus 12 per cent water.

The flow was through a 17-64th-inch choke and from perforations at 7,504-526 feet. That zone had been treated with 10,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 786-1, with tubing pressure 350 pounds and casing pressure 550 pounds.

The well is 1,750 feet from west and 550 feet from south lines of 2-33-T&P.

In the same field, Blanco Oil and others No. 1-47 Charles C. Canon and others was completed for a 24-hour flow of 186 barrels of 38.6-gravity oil with no water. Production is through perforations at 7,242-302 feet, with gas-oil ratio on the test 775-1. Tubing pressure was 200 pounds and casing pressure 500 pounds.

Location is 660 feet from north and east lines of 47-33-t5n-T&P.

wind or an ordinary storm but definitely a tornado."

NO CHASE

Asked about some previous reports that Norris had chased the tornadoes over several counties, warning residents in their paths, Norris said he had not heard of the rumors but that they were not true.

It was also rumored that a storm in the Camp Springs community about 13 miles west of here destroyed three barns and a vacant house. Attempts to verify such reports failed.

Mrs. Jim Beavers, who operates a store at Camp Springs, said there was no twister there but that heavy straight wind blew some limbs from trees and shook houses. This occurred yesterday afternoon and lasted about an hour. The wind there also overturned several mailboxes and a few old and small outbuildings.

Rain at Camp Springs measured 2.3 inches in most of the area and was reported up to four inches in a few spots there. Hail there broke several windows, and some of the hail was as large as golf balls.

Mrs. D. L. Moffett and Mrs. J. E. Maul took refuge in a storm cellar when they saw a "boiling cloud" headed for their homes in Camp Springs. When they emerged from the cellar they found some shingles blown from the roof, and several windows broken by hailstones.

The same strong wind at Camp Springs also blew at nearby Midway community.

chapter, the same shall be managed and controlled by the commissioners court of such county for the purpose to which same were originally used and intended; and, for this purpose, the commissioners court shall have and exercise, with reference thereto, the powers originally conferred by charter upon the mayor and aldermen of such city. Acts 1895, p. 166."

The city owns a water system, which is to be operated by the commissioners court if results of the election so determine. In such event, it is believed that collections of funds will be the responsibility of the sheriff's department, as will also be the collection of all necessary taxes that can be legally collected after the dissolution.

The election order, to be posted in at least three public places for at least 10 days before the election, states that the election judge shall be Jim Farr, who is to select two judges and two clerks to assist him.

Polls at the school house are to open at 8 o'clock the morning of June 4 and remain open 11 hours. Returns must be made to county officials within 10 days after the election.

Claim AF Is Wasting Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)— Sens. Chavez (D-NM) and Robertson (D-Va) today accused the Air Force of wasting "millions of dollars" on its construction programs in England and Alaska.

The charges were raised at a Senate Appropriations subcommittee hearing as Air Force spokesmen began explaining requests for nearly 15 billion dollars. These Air Force funds already have been approved by the House.

The subcommittee is considering requests for more than 30 billion dollars from defense agencies.

Chavez, subcommittee chairman, said "We still have waste and inefficiency."

He said an example of this was a report to the committee that between 10 and 15 million dollars had been wasted on the Air Force construction program in the United Kingdom by "needless repetition of planning."

"Much greater sums have been wasted in trying to execute these imperfect plans," he added.

Sen. Robertson broke in to say he had been informed that the waste in Great Britain was only "a small part of what was lost in Alaska."

He said Air Force projects there cost "a hundred million dollars more than was contemplated."

HOSPITAL NOTES

The following admissions and dismissals at the two Snyder hospitals are only those whose names have been released by the hospitals.

BATTENFIELD-JONES

Admissions: Mrs. Robert Hicks, 3805 Noble Drive; J. C. Hill, 610 Thirty-fourth Street; Mrs. Blanche Tate, 605 Twenty-eighth Street; Mrs. Mae Massey, Snyder; Randle Washington, 1201 Thirty - fifth Street.

Dismissals: Mrs. Joe Evans, Snyder; Mrs. Betty Zaiback, Snyder; Mark B. Whitley, 700 Eighteenth Street.

COGDELL MEMORIAL

Admissions: Mrs. Van D. Sumruld, route 3; Mrs. Harold Thomas, 2608½ Avenue U.

Dismissals: Mrs. T. E. Hines and baby, 307 Thirty-sixth Street; Robert Ann Turner, Fluvanna; Daniel Johnson, Snyder.

During World War II, U.S. munitions production was about 45 per cent of the total of all belligerent nations on both sides.

Although only 2 per cent of U. S. farms were electrified in 1920, more than 90 per cent have electricity today.

Arrangements Pending For Washington Rites

Funeral arrangements are pending for Randle (Rat) Washington, 63, of 1201 Thirty-fifth Street, who died about 12:30 a.m. today in Battenfield-Jones Clinic-Hospital.

A resident of this county for 28 years, he had worked as a shoe shine man in several barber shops. He was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving in Snyder is a cousin, Mrs. Marshall Miles. Other survivors include a brother, Phillip Washington of Waskom, Tex., and two half-brothers, Robert Forrest of New Mexico and Preston Forrest of Shreveport, La.

Bolger Funeral Home will direct arrangements.

Woman Hurt Slightly In Collision Monday

Mrs. John E. Bryant, box 1204, Snyder, was slightly injured in an automobile accident at Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue O yesterday afternoon, but was not hospitalized.

Mrs. Bryant was a passenger in a 1948 Oldsmobile driven by John E. Bryant, 61, her husband, which was in collision with a 1950 Ford driven by Densil Ray Knight, Jr., of Hermleigh.

Mrs. Bryant was taken to Battenfield - Jones Hospital-Clinic by Bolger ambulance, but was dismissed after a check disclosed only minor bruises.

HONORED AT TEA—Bobbie Kerley, right, was honored at a gift tea given last night in the home of Mrs. Alfred Lieb, left. Miss Kerley is to be married June 3 to Frank Stewart. (Wolfe Studio photograph)

Miss Kerley Honored At Gift Tea

Bobbie Kerley, bride-elect of Frank Taylor, was honored at a gift tea given last night in the home of Mrs. Alfred Lieb, 3774 Sunset Avenue.

Hostesses with Mrs. Lieb were Mrs. Em Hought, Mrs. Joe Glass, Mrs. Newt Morton, Mrs. Grady Sellers, Mrs. Ennis Floyd, Mrs. J. L. Hale, Mrs. Frank Pruitt, Mrs. Earl McDow, Mrs. Jay Rogers, Mrs. Chuck Wolfe, Ruth Womack, Mrs. Garth Boyles and Mrs. Gordon Smith.

Guests were greeted by Mrs. Lieb, Miss Kerley, her mother, Mrs. Bruce Kerley, and her sister, Diane Kerley. Mrs. Pruitt was at the guest register, and Mrs. Morton and Miss Womack served cake squares and punch. Soft music was played throughout the evening, and Donna Baker sang. Rifa Margaret Hanback gave readings.

Bouquets of roses were used as decorations throughout the house. A bouquet of roses on a reflector made the centerpiece for the refreshment table, with the honoree's colors of aqua and white carried out in table appointments. An arrangement featuring double wedding rings was placed on the buffet.

About 25 guests attended.

Guatemala Is In Danger, Solon Says

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Sen. Smathers (D-Fla) calls a "glaring failure" what he says is the United States' refusal to aid the anti-Communist government of Guatemala.

He said Guatemala is "in grave danger of being overthrown by Communist fifth columnists to whom arms are reportedly being smuggled by their friends beyond the Iron Curtain."

Smathers, who spoke last night at Texas A&M College, predicted "unparalleled growth and prosperity" for Texas and Florida because of proximity to Latin America.

Panel Approves Bill

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—A bill to restrict below-cost grocery sales won approval of the Texas Senate's State Affairs Committee yesterday. The bill, already passed by the State House of Representatives would allow below-cost sales but would require that quantities per customer be unlimited.

New Officers For Junior High P-TA Are Introduced

Officers of the Junior High Scool Parent-Teacher Association for the 1955-56 school year were introduced at a meeting last night.

The meeting was opened with a program featuring the choral students of Mrs. Landis Lee. The chorus sang "America My Own," "I Got Shoes," "Battle Hymn of the Republic," and "The Lord Bless You and Keep You." Soloists were Martha Davis, who sang "Ballad of Davy Crockett," and Helen Radar, who sang "Basin Street Blues."

Following the program, Herman Trigg, principal of the school, welcomed the special guests for the evening. They were the parents of sixth grade students who will be junior high pupils next year. He outlined the activities of the P-TA unit and the ways in which it aids the school, the students and the parents who participate.

Mrs. E. N. Baker introduced Stanley Noah, one of three persons who judged an arts and crafts exhibit of the work of the students. Mrs. William Atwood and Mrs. Robert Taylor served with him on the committee. First prize went to Loretta Evans, second to Coleman Johns, third to Charles Popnoe, and fourth to Carla Gladson.

Mrs. Baker then introduced Mrs. Taylor, the incoming president, and presented to her the president's pin which was given to her as she took the office. Mrs. Taylor introduced the other new officers, Mrs. Searcy Orr, Mrs. Charles Hooser and Mrs. David L. Harlin, and some of the committee chairmen. These were Mr. Trigg, Mrs. Lester Edwards, Mrs. Marvin Eaton, Mrs. W. T. Roach, Mrs. C. A. Ramsey and Mrs. J. E. Woodson.

Mr. Trigg then directed the group to the cafeteria where refreshments were served by Mrs. Orr and Mrs. Truman Black. Arts and crafts work done by the students and in P-TA sponsored classes for adults was displayed on tables in the cafeteria.

If you haven't already tried a packaged cake mix for making upside down cakes, you're in for a treat. Here is a quick pineapple upside down cake.

DUTCH PINEAPPLE CAKE

1 can (1 lb., 4 oz.) pineapple tidbits
¼ cup butter or margarine
¾ cup firmly packed brown sugar
½ box (1 lb., 3 oz.) pre-creamed yellow cake mix

Drain the pineapple thoroughly. Melt butter in round layer cake pan 9 by 1½ inches. Add brown sugar, mix with butter, and pat down evenly. Arrange drained pineapple tidbits close together, circular fashion, over brown sugar in pan. Make up half the cake mix according to directions on the box. Pour carefully over the pineapple. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 30 minutes, or until the top of the cake is golden brown and springs back when lightly touched. Invert cake on serving plate, and serve warm. Makes eight servings.

Like onion bread? Make it from a loaf of French bread cut in half horizontally. Spread the cut sides with a "butter" made by adding one cup chopped green onion tops to one-half cup soft butter or margarine. Season the onion butter with cayenne pepper. Place the cut loaf diagonally on a baking sheet and toast in a moderate oven (400 degrees) for 10 minutes.

"Serves You Better . . Saves You More"

Bible Thought

And they sung a new song, saying, thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation. (Rev. 5:9).

Behind The Gesture

You may have noticed in the last few days a similarity of views emanating from Washington relating to the reasons why Mr. Eisenhower agreed to join in inviting the Russians to a Big Four meeting "at the summit." The syndicated columnists, some friendly to the President, some not so friendly, some inclined to be critical at times, have been especially active in passing along these views.

The burden of these look-alike "explanations" may be summarized thus:

1. Britain's Conservative government faces a real test in the May 26 election, and the U. S. administration consented to go along with Britain and France in making a peace gesture by arranging a "summit" meeting with the Russians to strengthen the Eden government's "oomph" at the polls, the British people being currently very peace-minded, and the Laborites having stressed that issue. Besides, most Americans fear another Labor government in Britain, for very solid reasons.

2. Mr. Eisenhower is going along with this gesture very reluctantly, not expecting much if anything, but everyone else anxious to find out for sure whether the Russians are ready to talk sense.

That is where the President's great backlog of goodwill among the American people comes in handy. Were this Harry Truman proposing to meet Bulganin at a time and place yet to be designated, there would be an uproar from coast to coast. As it is, some of his fellow-Republicans are showing even less enthusiasm than Ike is for the meeting, and they may become very vocal indeed as the time approaches.

Few on this side of the water expect anything of value to come from the proposed meeting. The most likely result will be to show up Russia once more as completely and irretrievably determined to rule or ruin. But even this probable outcome of the Big Four conference will not be a total loss for our side; the Western people will then know for certain-sure that any hope of doing business with the Communists on any basis acceptable to the free world is totally unrealistic, and we might as well quit trying.

The Calculated Risk

If within the next twelve to eighteen months the U.S. is placed in an embarassing position by some fresh Communist aggression and is unable to do anything about it because we "haven't the troops to spare," and people start buttonholing their congressmen for an explanation, Congress will have a made-to-order alibi handy.

"Well," the honorable gentleman can say, "we only did what President Eisenhower asked us to do—that is, cut down our forces by 102.000 men. Surely we couldn't question one of the great military men of all time."

The gentlemen practiced up on this alibi during the course of the debate on the military budget. Rep. John Taber of New York, an economizer from way back, trotted it out in the final debate before passage Thursday. He pointed out that the bill followed the President's recommendation and urged the House not to "run out on the greatest military leader in the world."

Should trouble come, and our reduced military strength finds us in a dangerous situation, many of those who adopted the Ike-can't-be-wrong attitude on the military budget will be among the first to throw rocks at the man in the White House.

The reduction in Army strength is a calculated risk. A man who knows said as much less than a week ago. He is Adm. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

A new high in something or other was registered by Rep. Joe Cannon (D-M), chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, in the final go-round of debate. He said the next war would be decided in three or four days—"at most a week"—and that the Army and Navy would not have time to get into action.

"What could we do with three or four more divisions?" he demanded. "We wouldn't possibly use them."

If that is good sound logic, why not dismiss what is left of the Army and forget about the whole thing?

Who's Bugs Now?

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A discussion of humor was underway when Mrs. Frances Lea discovered unidentified insects invading her high school classroom.

She sent a note to the janitor reading "I have bugs" and asked the class to speculate on his reply. One boy suggested: "You're lucky. Most teachers have students." instead the janitor sent back word: "Be right over." He was.

New Intensity, Determination Noted In Bargaining By Labor Unions This Year

Editor's Note—Norman Walker, Associated Press Labor reporter, wrote in January that labor unions were shooting for big economic gains and that 1955 would be "a turbulent year in labor-management relations." With the year one third over, Walker takes a new look at the situation.

By NORMAN WALKER

WASHINGTON (AP) — They'd better start working on a vaccine against labor strife. The disease is rampant this spring and could spread into a summer epidemic.

Strikes are increasing. Those so far this year have been rough, tough and prolonged.

Some even more threatening situations are just around the corner in the auto, steel, electrical, meat-packing, maritime and copper industries, to name a few. Even John L. Lewis may try to hit the strike headlines again.

Mounting labor troubles normally come with the spring season. But this spring's rash of strikes seems to herald a new intensity and determination in bargaining, a considerable contrast from 1954's record labor peace.

What's behind the apparent fight-to-the-finish attitude in labor negotiations?

Unions seem to feel they were too backward last year. They point to employers' profits statements and say 1955 is "a big money year." Besides their usual wage demands, they're pushing for such other costly benefits as guaranteed employment, pensions and profit-sharing plans.

Employers have been taken a bit unawares. They became accustomed last year to negotiating rather modest contract settlements with relatively few strikes. They are slow to realize the new union belligerency and seem surprised when walkouts occur. Their reaction is to toughen up too.

These clashing views are causing labor-management fireworks all over the nation. They pose for President Eisenhower his first real taste of labor troubles.

Eisenhower is standing pat on his policy of keeping the White House out of worker-employer disputes as much as possible, contrasting with former President Truman's frequent interventions.

Eisenhower and Secretary of Labor Mitchell were under considerable pressure from state governors and others to intervene in the recent 59-day Louisville & Nashville Railroad strike because of its terrific impact on Dixie's economy. But they stood fast.

Figures compiled by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service show that service field staffers were working on less than 50 strikes involving some 8,000 workers in January, but by May they were trying to put out the fire in more than 120 walkouts which had idled 100,000.

An important factor in the cloudy labor relations picture is the "pattern" factor. This relates to the follow-the-leader tendency of employers and unions to settle their disputes on the bargaining pattern set by others.

Some negotiators are marking time, waiting for a pattern to develop in the crucial auto and steel contract talks in the next month or so. Steel and autos are the traditional pacesetters.

A growing number of employers want to try to "beat the pattern" and negotiate cheaper contract deals tailored to their own economic needs.

This could cause trouble. Because just as employers strive against overcommitting their revenues on labor costs, unions strive to do as well or better than other unions.

For instance, President David J. McDonald of the CIO United Steelworkers will be out to match or exceed in the steel industry what Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, manages to extract from the auto industry. However, steel contracts don't permit negotiation of guaranteed wage plans such as Reuther seeks in autos.

Next month is likely to tell much of the 1955 labor story. The auto union's contract with Ford expires June 1 and with General Motors June 7. Steel wage talks mature June 30. Several maritime union contracts expire at the end of June.

Telephone worker negotiations get under way in June. The strike by the CIO Communications Workers of America against Southern Bell is a hangover from the union's 1954 bargaining. The union tees off its 1955 discussions, with Michigan Bell, in June.

Another hot spot will be the electrical manufacturing industry, particularly if sizeable contract gains are negotiated in steel and autos.

Even the ailing coal industry has been showing signs of life in the general economic pickup. Lewis, head of the United Mine Workers, has waited more than two years for coal operators to earn enough money to warrant his making a bid for part of it.

A year ago at this time some of the biggest strikes, although they were relatively few, were in the construction industry. This spring contracts are being settled with a minimum of fuss. The reasons seem to be that many building trades contracts were written last year for long terms and, with the construction business booming, contractors don't feel much like arguing over wage increases.

Deadline For Decisions Is Approaching Rapidly

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—Mid-May finds business and the stock market knee-deep in uncertainties — with the deadline for decision fast approaching

Will the glittering prospect of less world tension turn out to be more than a mirage? What would shelving of the cold war do to the business boom and the price of commodities and stocks?

Will June bring peace in the auto industry or a strike that could shake the entire economy?

Will labor-management talks in the steel industry bring another hike in basic metal prices?

Will the housing boom—fast becoming a perennial among question marks—roll through another summer?

The stock market in its hesitancy has reflected these perplexities in recent days. Businessmen are used to crises by now — and aren't panicked by these new ones. But they still have to try to evaluate them.

The world's weekend news quota is a study in cross currents. Vienna's treaty signing fete appears to chalk up a point for peace. Proposals for a summer meeting of the men at the summit of world leadership to discuss what to do about Germany and Formosa could be still another step in the direction of less tension.

But, at the same time, Moscow publicly lines up its satellites in formal saber-rattling opposition to the Western alliance. Red pilots shoot at American military planes off Korea.

Russian peace gestures are welcomed by many. Russian good faith is questioned by just as many.

Business wonders whether, should peace begin to look like more than just talk, there would be a new popular urge to cut back further on defense spending—now on a fairly level annual kee. This would please taxpayers and give them more money to spend. But also it could face industry with a situation like that in 1953, when it was cut off from a portion of government spending. Once again it might have to wait for civilian demand to catch up.

If the peace talks backfire, on the other hand, that could lead to increased defense spending, a higher Treasury deficit, another chance for inflation to take hold. And stock and commodity prices might reflect this quickly.

Dog Goes Modern

CLEVELAND (AP) — A dog of no discernable breed discovered that an electric eye which opens a grocery store door worked for canines as well as people, and made periodic visits on which she looted the baked goods counter. Clerk Larry Hirsch finaly solved the problem by adopting the dog, naming her "Lucky" and feeding her well at home.

'Boss-Lady' Carnival Barker Doubts She Could Ever Be Happy Living In A House

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "I love to sleep in a tent when it's raining," said the lady carnival barker. "I feel secure then even if I don't have a dime.

"I couldn't live in a house. I never really had a home—and I don't want one now. You have to make your own way in this world. I've been doing it since I was 6 years old, when I started tap dancing on the back of an elephant.

"I'm a carnie at heart. I may die poor but I'll die a carnie."

There are no present signs of poverty about Evelyn Currie, a blue-eyed strawberry blonde with a bonfire figure and a mind like a bear trap. She is one of the few boss-lady barkers in the picturesque carnival industry, a rough field dominated by some pretty rugged men.

Evelyn, who at 13 became the nation's youngest carnival barker some 20 years ago, now has 25 male barkers on her staff. She lives in a $10,000 trailer, has a nice collection of diamonds and owns enough mink furs to suffocate a buffalo.

"What I've got depends on how many shows were rained out the year before," she said. "Some years I've had to go out and peddle dropcords and screwdrivers to try to build up a bankroll."

Depending on the breaks she gets, Evelyn maintains a staff ranging from 5 to 60 men. Right now she operates 10 concessions—"games of skill and chance"—during summer months at Rockaways' Playland, an amusement park. The rest of the year she and her husband, Harry, a former professional hockey player, spend on the road with her carnival crew.

Her barkers and "roughies" — the workmen who pitch the tents and set up the concessions—call her "mother," although some are nearly twice her age.

Evelyn was born in the circus, a small tent show, as it passed through Decatur, Tenn. Her mother was an aerialist. Her father, a Cherokee Indian, was a circus workman.

"I never went to school in my life. Circus kids do now, but many didn't at that time. I haven't any book education, but the circus and carnival people taught me a lot. They were good about that, particularly the freaks. They are very kind.

"The big thing they taught me was how to count money."

At 13 Evelyn was an acrobatic dancer getting $16 to $18 a week.

"I decided nobody could get ahead in life on a salary," she recalled. "So I went into business on my own."

Her first venture, in which she acted as her own barker, was a small "slum joint" — a carnival term for a rigged game of chance in which suckers could win only the cheapest kind of small merchandise.

"No matter how much a guy won, I still made nine cents on his dime," Evelyn said. "The big prize was a teddy bear. But those teddy bears cost money. The only time I ever lost a teddy bear in those early days was when one fell out of my truck."

She has reformed now, she says, and operates what is known as "hanky panks with plush." These are games in which the patrons (they no longer call them suckers) have a real chance to win a fairly valuable prize.

Flying Nurse's Idea Put Stewardesses On Airplanes

By INEZ ROBB

Among the many things I've never known till now is how airline stewardesses were born and why all of 'em were registered nurses until World War II created such a shortage in the nursing field.

It's a real-life story of American git-up-and-go and here it is:

On Washington's Birthday in 1930, a pretty, young registered nurse who was also a student pilot decided to celebrate the holiday by visiting the Boeing Air Transport Company in San Francisco to look at its sensational new trimotored, 18-passenger plane.

Her name was Ellen Church, and a Boeing official, named Steve Stimpson, told her about the plane with great enthusiasm. Why, said Mr. Stimpson, the line planned to put stewards on each plane to look after the passengers! And he showed Miss Church a sample of the material selected for the stewards' uniforms.

Well, sir, that material was made into uniforms all right, but not for stewards. Right then and there, Miss Church had a million-dollar idea. If only she could be a stewardess, she realized instantly, she could combine both nursing, her itch to take care of people, with her yen for flying.

She launched a sales talk and Stimpson instantly grasped the psychological effect that a pretty, young stewardess would have on passengers, circa 1930, still shy of air travel and inclined to be nervous and scared under their bravado.

So Ellen Church, the first airline stewardess in the world, went aloft in May, 1930, to look after her first planeload of passengers.

Today, airlines the world around regularly employ 10,000 stewardesses in the profession pioneered by Miss Church. United Airlines, which absorbed the Boeing line, alone accounts for 900 of those stewardesses.

"And goodness knows how many women have been employed as stewardesses in the past 25 years," Miss Church said when she was in New York to celebrate the silver anniversary of stewardess serivce. "Most girls only stay from 18 to 24 months with the airlines. About 99.44 percent leave to get married. No stewardess ever has to join a lonely hearts' club!"

Miss Church stayed aloft for two years with United Airlines. Then a serious auto accident sent her back to nursing. She is now administrator of the Union Hospital of Terre Haute, Ind.

This wise woman agrees that stewardesses tend to lavish much more time and attention on men than women passengers.

"But that's because men require more attention than women," she said. "They're so used to being waited on by women that they expect it, even in a plane!

"A woman passenger will reach up, get a pillow for herself and adjust it. But not a man! He expects to have a pillow handed to him and to have it put behind his head or shoulders. A woman passenger will get a magazine for herself, but a man always waits until it's brought to him. But, on the other hand, men are more appreciative of what's done for them!"

On Friday, Stephens College in Columbia, Mo., will confer an Aviation First Award on Miss Church, the pioneer. It's too bad Horatio Alger won't be around to record the event.

Rayburn Gavels Sought Like President's Pens

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Speaker Sam Rayburn has used many gavels in his long career of deskpounding in the House of Representatives.

He has broken a few and given many away. Gavels used by the speaker when rapping for order on important occasions are almost as much in demand as pens the President uses to sign important documents.

Two gavels Mr. Sam cherishes, according to Miss Ala Clary, who has been his secretary for 35 years. One, the gift of President Truman, was made from wood from the White House when it was renovated. The other was the first gavel Mr. Sam ever used. It was made by Miss Clary's twin nephews, Clary and Charles Bates, now 35, when they were junior high school students in Dallas, Tex.

Miss Clary told me:

"They wanted me to give it to Mr. Rayburn who was then chairman of the Interstate and Foreign Commerce committee. He said he would promise to use it if he ever became speaker, and he did —on Sept. 16, 1940."

Most of the gavels used on Capitol Hill — the standard ones—are turned out on lathes in the main machine shop of the Capitol building. They are of maple and are made a half-dozen or so at a time to replace those given away or broken.

Among the collection of gavels given Speaker Rayburn by friends and admirers is one made from wood from the home of Francis Scott Key, one carved from ivory and wrapped in spun glass, another made from a variety of different woods.

The presiding officer of the Senate doesn't use a regular gavel. Every vice president, or president pro tem from John Adams' day, has used the same piece of ivory, shaped somewhat like an hour glass. This small block of ivory remained in perfect condition until about 10 years ago when former Sen. Sam Jackson (D-Ind), presiding one day, rapped with such force the ancient ivory cracked. It was repaired with a sort of half-sole of silver at either end and is still in service.

Speculation To Continue On Objectives Of Russia

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — From now until the summer conference of President Eisenhower with the chiefs of state of Britain, France and Russia there will be speculation on what Russia hopes to get out of it.

The Allies proposed it in the belief, perhaps a thin one, the result might be beneficial.

The Russians have been talking peace and making some gestures in that direction.

They agreed to a treaty for Austria. They made some concessions on disarmament although world disarmament is a distant dream. There can be only guesses about the sudden appearance of Russian reasonableness.

One thing can be taken for granted: the Russians have not abandoned their goal of world communism. Their problem, as always is how and when to achieve it.

They may sincerely not want world war. It would be nice to believe they had reached that decision through a developing maturity. But if they do not want it, it is probably because they are afraid of losing it, at least now, or because they know enough about nuclear weapons to believe that in the next war there will be no winner.

Or they may wish to lull the West with sweet talk to get more time for preparing for war. They would be at a disadvantage in a war now.

They are surrounded by United States bases from which American planes could pound them if they attack; and they are still behind this country in the development of nuclear weapons.

Their only purpose in talking peace at all may be to split the Western Allies, isolate the United States, turn world opinion against this country, and keep Germany disarmed by dividing Germans over the hope of reunification.

Yet, this country can't afford to go into next summer's conferences without being ready to make concessions for the sake of peace if the Russians show any positive signs of doing the same.

Proud Tradition

STAUNTON, Va. (AP) — This city, which claims to have given birth to the city manager form of government, is also proud of its mayor, William A. Grubert.

Mayor Grubert, now 85, has been mayor since 1943, a member of the city council since 1932 and the only living man who had a hand in the formation of the city manger form. He was president of the Board of Alderman from 1906 to 1908 and it was on January 13, 1908, that the city manager program was adopted.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
(For Wayne Oliver)

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Out here in the canyon country, the people with time to play and a yen to touch vodka-on-the-rocks glasses with celebrities, have one piece of advice for visiting firemen:

"Don't bother with the television crowd, they're dull. They never do anything but work all the time. Stick with the movie people. They work hard when they're working, but it's usually a long time between pictures when they can have fun."

"Ha," sniffed Miss Dinah Shore scornfully when she heard these words. "I wouldn't change places with anyone in the movies for anything in the world. Look, I can get to work at 10 in the morning, rehearse during the day, do my show and go home to my family and forget the whole thing. I've time for my family, time to be home, time for my friends. Most of all, I have plenty of time for the children."

Although plenty of TV people do work long hard days every day and go home to worry over lines at night, Dinah does a pleasant 15-minute live television show two nights a week — Tuesdays and Thursday—on NBC.

Mostly she sings songs — and she loves to sing—and wears pretty clothes which she enjoys wearing. She doesn't have dialogue to learn —"I just say whatever seems right and best at the time"—and she doesn't have to play any role except Dinah Shore, singer and wholesome American girl, both of which are familiar. Occasionally she does get a little fed up with being so nice all the time, she confesses.

Dinah has been happily married for years to one man, George Montgomery, who does extremely well in a quiet sort of way making motion pictures which are—also in a quiet sort of way—very good box office. George also runs a furniture plant on the side and his pieces are very much in demand. They've been having a delightful time building and furnishing their new home in Beverly Hills. They are happy together, and mutually devoted to their two children, Missy, 7, and Jodie, 1, their adopted son.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THE THIRD DOOR. By Ellen Tarry. David McKay.

First came a carefree, happy childhood. There were games with child friends, there was the uninhibited relationship with grown-ups, there was the bright undimmed self-confidence of youth.

But this was in Birmingham, Ala., and when this author reached a certain age she discovered that there were two ways of life. One was entered by a door marked white; the second door, to which she was directed, was marked colored.

Miss Tarry, thanks to a light completion, need not have confessed her color — or boasted of it — but she met the situations in which she found herself, sometimes embarrassing, sometimes difficult, sometimes dangerous, with the forthright words with which she begins her autobiography: "I am a Southern Negro."

Converted to Catholicism while still in her teens, she studied, taught, did newspaper reporting and, in 1929, reached the eventful decision to move to New York. There and in Chicago she worked with organizations dedicated to improving interracial relations; she served importantly in World War II, wrote some children's books, has now given us this eloquent plea for a "third door" open to the people of any race.

The sight of a Negro boy pistol-whipped by a white policeman; the death of an aunt who, she says, might have been saved if she hadn't been moved out of a "white" to a "colored" hospital; the brute advances of some men —these might have been expected to drive this author to cynicism and pessimism. They haven't. In her time, in her not too long time, the lot of her people has bettered, she is confident; she has no doubts about tomorrow. This is a book of good cheer and glad tidings.

Bulganin Warns Of Lag In Production

LONDON (AP) — Premier Nikolai Bulganin has warned the Soviet Union that it is lagging seriously in the production of such major industrial items as machine tools, oil, metals and chemicals.

The Premier addressed the opening session yesterday of a national conference in the Kremlin on increasing productivity. Moscow radio broadcast the speech today.

The importance of the conference was underlined by the attendance of Bulganin, Communist party chief Nikita S. Khrushchev, Deputy Premier Georgi Malenkov and other top leaders.

Bulganin announced that to improve production, planning of the Soviet economy would be split into long-term and short-term aspects. A separate commission would be set up for each phase, he said.

Moscow radio said the Premier declared:

"Because of inadequate output of special equipment, the proportion of highly productive machine tools is falling off in the machine tool pool.

"The production of forging and pressing equipment is lagging behind sharply.

"Processes rendering production automatic are being but slowly incorporated.

"Poor use is made of existing equipment in many engineering works. And we have works which still make machines inferior to those made by some works abroad."

Bulganin said that in the metallurgical field, "not enough is being done to improve the quality of special steels and alloys, especially of heat-resisting types." The latter are vital components of modern jet fighters and bombers.

The Soviet Premier said there also is an over-all lag in the drilling of new oil wells, petroleum refining and coal mining.

He complained that workers in many industrial plants appeared to dawdle during the first two thirds of the month, then put on a burst of speed to meet their monthly quotas. In many such plants, he declared, "nearly one half of the goods are produced during the last third of the month."

Princess Asks Separation

PARIS (AP) — The cigar-smoking Maharanee of Baroda has asked a Paris court to grand her a legal separation from her princely Indian husband, the former Gaekwar of Baroda. No grounds for the action were disclosed.

The petition was filed yesterday by Princess Sita Devi, 36.

The Maharanee, who is well known also in New York and London society, maintains an apartment in Paris with her 10-year-old son. She asked for a "separation de corps"—legal recognition and sanction that she is living apart from her husband.

The ex-Gaekwar, 46, recently has been staying at Cannes, on the French Riviera. Although he still uses his title, he was stripped of it along with his princely privileges and $556,000 annual pension in 1951 by the government of India after he tried to start a rebellion of princes.

New Kremlin Look Pleases Churchill

WOODFORD, England (AP) — Former Prime Minister Churchill says a new look in the Soviet leadership "may be most beneficial to the overwhelming masses of people all over the world who wish to dwell in peace with one another."

Speaking last night at a Conservative election rally in this London suburban district, the 80-year-old statesman expressed great satisfaction with the East-West agreement reached in Vienna last weekend to hold a top-level Big Four conference.

He said a united and strong Western Big Three can go to the meeting "seeking the peace of the world, the welfare of all mankind, and that period of relaxed tension, disarmament and all-around prosperity which is within our reach and may soon be within our grasp."

Pointing out that there have been great changes in the Soviet leadership in the past two years, he said:

"We have a new scene. New men are masters in the Kremlin.

"It is by no means certain that there is not another 'new look' on other faces with more powerful forces behind them which may still be most beneficial to the overwhelming masses of people all over the world who wish to dwell in peace with one another."

Churchill did not indicate what men and forces he had in mind. But there has been speculation in the West that Marshal Georgi Zhukov, the new Soviet defense minister, is wielding a strong hand for peace in Russia.

The former Prime Minister has represented the Woodford area in Parliament since 1924. His spirited analysis of the world situation was his first big speech in the campaign to induce voters to continue his party in power in the May 26 general election.

Congratulating his successor Prime Minister Eden on the successful negotiations for the Big Four meeting, Churchill said he was glad that his "great American friend" President Eisenhower had expressed his willingness to attend.

He traced his own efforts during the past several years to set up a similar conference, referring specifically to his proposal on May 11, 1953, after Stalin's death. At that time, he said, he could not persuade Eisenhower to agree.

Youth Asserts Slaying Was An Accident

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP) — The 21-year-old son of a husband - wife team on the Harvard University faculty has been ordered held without bond on a murder charge in a shooting which he contends was an accident.

Richard Kluckhohn was bound over yesterday for trial in Wake Superior Court. The next term starts June 6. His parents and fiancee attended a preliminary hearing, at which Raleigh City Court Judge Albert Doub ruled there was probable cause to carry the case to Superior Court.

Kluckhohn, described by police as a brilliant student who graduated at the University of Chicago when he was 18, is accused in the bizarre Friday-the-13th shooting of Miss Bernice Seawell, 43, a government worker of Arlington, Va.

Miss Seawell and a sister were standing at a downtown parking lot when a bullet struck and killed Miss Seawell. Police said the shot, fired from a German Luger pistol, came from the window of a nearby hotel.

Kluckhohn, a traveling representative of the Row Peterson Publishing Co., Evanston, Ill., was arrested 3½ hours later in Chapel Hill, some 30 miles distant, by Chapel Hill Patrolman G. R. Creel.

Creel quoted Kluckhohn as saying he was "dry firing" the pistol in his hotel room when it discharged.

Under cross-examination, Creel agreed that Kluckhohn said "he was testing the gun and did not know it was loaded."

Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Kay Maben Kluckhohn sat near their son during the hearing. Also nearby was blonde Ellen Waldron, 21, of Chicago, his fiancee. They had planned to marry in June.

The husky, rotund youth told reporters after the hearing, "I can only say it was an awful, dreadful accident, one which I was not even cognizant of until some time later."

Atomic Ship 'Well On Way'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Magnuson (D-Wash) said today "we're well on our way toward getting something started" on research for an atomic-powered cargo ship for the U.S. merchant marine.

Magnuson, chairman of the Senate Commerce Committee, told a reporter, "The Atomic Energy Commission has conferred with the maritime administration" concerning feasibility of the project.

The senator said the proposed research would be distinct from the atomic merchant ship proposal made by President Eisenhower. He declined to elaborate.

The President's plan for construction of a special vessel to cruise around the world in a demonstration of the peaceful uses of atomic energy has met criticism from some Senate and House members, including Magnuson.

They have questioned whether such a ship would be too costly to be practicable and whether it would advance the time when nuclear-powered cargo ships might be practical.

Rep. Bonner (D-NC), chairman of the House Commerce Committee, announced yesterday he is introducing a bill to authorize construction of a second atomic ship, distinct from the one Eisenhower proposed. Bonner said it should be an economically feasible vessel for service as a cargo carrier.

The annual death rate in the United States dropped from 17.2 per thousand persons in 1900 to 9.6 per thousand in 1950.

No other car offers you 3 bigger reasons for buying it

1. EXCLUSIVE STYLING SHARED BY NO OTHER CAR. There's no mistaking a Mercury—it's distinctive from every angle. The unified bumper and grille assembly, the original use of color and chrome, the massive tail-lights . . . all say "Mercury."

Mercury offers 11 models in 3 series. You'll find a Mercury that's just right for your needs. Regardless of the one you select, you get the distinctive styling that makes Mercury America's most advanced new car.

2. NEW SUPER-TORQUE V-8 POWER AT EVERY SPEED. Mercury puts high horsepower to work in a new way—not just for high speeds but for everyday driving. You get far more pickup at every speed, from start to superhighway limits—reserve power for safer passing, hill climbing.

"High-price" car features in Mercury at no extra cost—4-barrel carburetor, high-compression anti-fouling spark plugs, ball-joint front wheel suspension, and dual exhausts on 8 of 11 models.

3. CONSISTENTLY HIGHEST TRADE-IN VALUE IN FIELD. Mercury is champion of its class for resale value, according to independent market reports of used-car prices. Year after year, Mercury has consistently held that distinction because it's styled to be years ahead in beauty . . . powered to be years ahead in performance. You command a better trade-in price.

You're ahead when you drive a Mercury, too, because of Mercury's traditional low operating cost.

Search For Slaying Suspect Continues

JAY, Okla. (AP)—The FBI today joined in the widening search for 44-year-old Mrs. Leota Werner, charged with the murder of her third husband, a 310-pound chef.

The badly decomposed body of Joseph Werner, also 44, was found Sunday on a 30-acre tract near Oklahoma's northeast border, buried in unslaked lime to speed its decay. The vacant farm was owned by Mrs. Werner's brother.

N. R. Johnson, FBI agent in charge of the Oklahoma area, filed a federal charge of unlawful flight to avoid prosecution of murder against the former beauty queen.

Mrs. Werner was last heard from in St. Louis after she sold the couple's Fort Worth, Tex., home. She wrote letters to her brothers Ralph and Thomas A. DeGarmo, both of Oklahoma City, stating she intended to kill herself. The letters were dated May 9.

Fort Worth officers said Werner was last seen when he left his job at the Triple-A drive-in restaurant there April 16. His wife picked him up at the restaurant.

Delaware County Atty. Don Hampton said he was working on the theory Werner was shot on the night he left the restaurant with his wife, and the shooting took place in their Fort Worth home. He filed the murder charges yesterday.

The county attorney said he believed Mrs. Werner rented a two-wheel trailer, placed her husband's huge body on a mattress she had put on the floor and piled furniture on top of him. A portion of the furniture, including the blood-splotched mattress, has been found at the DeGarmo farm.

Police in Fort Worth reported finding blood stains on the door facing of the Werner home. They also found two holes from a .22 caliber bullet in the bedroom ceiling. A partly burned man's wrist watch was discovered in the incinerator.

Hampton said, although investigating officers doubted the slight woman could handle the body of her husband, there were no indications any other person was involved.

Neighbors said they saw Mrs. Werner digging behind the shed of the DeGarmo farm. Hampton said the neighbors thought it funny the way she was working with concrete blocks, "But now it looks as if she were digging a tomb over the grave." When the body was found, a row of concrete blocks partly submerged it.

4-Year-Old Girl Is Found Suffocated

NEW YORK (AP) — A 4-year-old girl was found dead—apparently suffocated—in an unused refrigerator in the basement of her Bronx home last night.

The child, Maria Hernandez, had been missing 3½ hours when her mother Virginia found her body. The father, Louis, took the child to a hospital, where emergency treatment was unsuccessful.

Authorities ordered an autopsy to confirm the cause of death.

Police sought to determine whether the girl crawled into the refrigerator alone and the door closed on her, or whether she was locked in while playing with other children.

Railroads Are Hit By Trinity Official

DALLAS (AP)—John W. Carpenter took a swipe at the railroads yesterday in a prepared statement.

President of the Trinity Improvement Assn., Carpenter said of the Trinity River Authority bill now before the Texas Senate:

"It is indeed a tragic blow to the people of the Trinity Valley that the railroads have been able to cause sufficient opposition to the bill to eliminate from it the features which would have enabled a created authority to construct barge navigation on the river from the Gulf to Fort Worth."

Shaves Half Price

COTULLA, Tex. (AP)—The story is being told at the stockyards here today an enterprising Cotulla barber is offering farmers and ranchers shaves at half the regular price. Since the good rains over this part of the state, he claims, the faces of the farmers and ranchers are only half as long as they were before.

Birth Record Required For School Entry

A reminder was issued here today that all children who will begin school for the first time next fall will need birth certificates.

In connection with this, the state bureau of vital statistics, a branch of the State Department of Health, urges parents of children who will begin the first grade next fall to begin now to secure birth certificates.

The bureau is rushed from August to October each year with requests for certificates. Since parents know whether their children will be starting to school, they could get them much quicker and without creating a rush if they would request them now.

Frank Wilson, director of curriculum for the schools here, said registration for pre-school, which will be held for children who will begin the first grade next fall, is set for Aug. 1. Actual pre-school activities will begin Aug. 15. Parents should have birth certificates ready by the time pre-school registration is held.

For children who were born in Scurry County, birth certificates may be secured at the county clerk's office here. For those born in Texas but outside this county, the certificates may be requested from the State Department of Health. If children were born outside the state, parents should write the county or parish in which the child was born or that state's bureau of vital statistics for a birth certificate.

Vocational Exhibits Slated At School

The annual vocational and industrial exhibit at Snyder High School will be held Thursday night with exhibits from the vocational and industrial shops on display in the high school gymnasium from 6 o'clock on, and a homemaking style show at 8 o'clock in the auditorium.

Students in the shop classes will have their completed work projects on display for the public, and about 65 homemaking girls will model their own creations in the style show.

Several of the first-year homemaking students will also feature in the style show dresses they made for small girls which will be modeled by about 10 pre-school age girls.

Theme of the show will be "sidewalk cafe," Mrs. Joel Hodges, homemaking teacher said.

A parents committee in charge of decorations for the show is composed of Mrs. Jene Best, Mrs. C. C. Miller, and Mrs. Wilson Connell.

Mrs. John Casbier will be narrator for the show. Technical direction will be supervised by Wayne Pevey with Jimmie Joe Key assisting.

Background music will be furnished by Robert Clinton with special numbers by Barbara Parks. A final party scene will feature music of Melvin Montgomery's "Dixie Land Band" with special numbers sang by Deborah Smith and Jimmy Don Boyd.

Initiation Set By New Lodge

Initiation of 28 members of Snyder's new Knights of Pythias lodge has been set for 8 p.m. next Monday night.

The initiation will be staged at the Hilander banquet room by the Big Spring lodge. C. E. McGaw, who acted as secretary during organization of the local lodge here last night, said the order is urging all new members to be present Monday night.

The lodge here, after organization, was designated Snyder Lodge No. 23, Knights of Pythias.

B. F. Pinnell was elected chancellor commander of the new lodge. Other officers were L. A. McClanahan, vice-chancellor; Frank Rohr, prelate; Joe Alexander, master of works; Bill Sheid, master at arms; L. B. Smith, recording secretary; Riley Foster, financial secretary; Lyle M. Alexander, treasurer; E. E. (Buddy) Norris, inner guard; and James C. McClure, outer guard.

About 30 men attended last night's meeting, some of them past members of the order. More officers are yet to be elected. Regular meeting time and place has not yet been set.

A representative will be sent by the local lodge to the Grand Lodge meeting at Dallas June 13-15.

Couple Helpless As Son Dragged To Death

DURANGO, Colo. (AP)—A young couple watched helplessly yesterday while their 4-year-old son was dragged to death by a scared horse on a ranch west of here.

Daryl Sutton, foreman for the Ute Mountain Indian tribe at its Neilson Ranch, said he was saddling a horse and had his lariat attached to the saddle horn and looped on the ground. The horse "spooked" and ran away.

Sutton's son Daryl David had his foot in the rope loop and was dragged about two tenths of a mile around the pasture before the horse stopped.

Electric Cooking is COOL

.....an electric oven is insulated on SIX sides to keep heat out of your kitchen

Once you've tried cooking electrically, you'll agree that an electric range makes a delightful difference in kitchen temperatures during hot weather.

The reason is that an electric range cooks with less heat being wasted into your kitchen. Your electric oven is insulated — top, bottom and sides — to keep heat in the oven and out of your kitchen. Electric surface units cut waste heat, too, because they heat by direct metal-to-metal contact with cooking utensils.

Find out now how cool electric cooking can be, and discover its other advantages, too. You'll like its cleanliness, accuracy and economy.

Chisox Are Showing Up As Team To Beat

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Manager Al Lopez still tags the New York Yankees as the team his Cleveland Indians have to whip over the long haul for another American League flag, but the guys who want to rassle for first place here and now are the Chicago White Sox.

The Sox pull into Yankee Stadium tonight for a two-game set that wraps up their first Eastern tour of the season. It's nothing like that fabulous swing of 1951, when Chicago became the first team ever to sweep an Eastern jaunt in the AL, but with four victories in five tries it's not bad.

That leaves the White Sox — a length behind Cleveland and 1½ ahead of the third-place Yankees —with a three - game win streak. After Sunday's double - headers, no other American League team has even a two - game string working.

In fact, a three-game winning combination tops the National league too. It belongs to the St. Louis Cardinals, who beat Pittsburgh 6-0 last night in the only major league game scheduled.

The White Sox, who in 1951 vaulted into first place with a 14-game winning streak that got fat in the East, have managed to chop a game off Cleveland's lead on the current outing while putting some daylight between themselves and New York. Cleveland opened the Eastern invasion a week ago by sweeping two at New York while the Sox were splitting their series at Boston.

Since then, Cleveland has lost two of five while New York has managed only a 3-3 mark against the West.

Cleveland is at Boston in an afternoon game today, with Detroit at Baltimore and Kansas City at Washington in night contests.

In the National, Brooklyn's Dodgers, while losing three games in seven and getting knocked off an 11-game winning streak, still have a nine-game bulge. The New York Giants are second, three percentage points ahead of Milwaukee's Braves, who have won four of seven at home.

The Giants, who open at Milwaukee tonight, have won four of six in the West while the fourth-place Chicago Cubs have the same record against the Eastern teams.

St. Louis has the best mark, dropping just one game against the East for a five-for-six record at home after a slumping road trip. The Cards take on the Dodgers tonight, with Pittsburgh at Cincinnati.

In the lone day game, Sam Jones goes against Philadelphia for the Cubs at Chicago in his first start since no - hitting Pittsburgh Thursday.

By taking their three - game series with the Pirates, the Cards managed to pull within half a game of the Cubs. Luis Arroyo arranged last night's victory, pitching a six-hit shutout without walking a man.

Bill Sarni was 4-for-4 in the Cards' 11-hit attack, which also included homers by Wally Moon and Bill Virdon. Ronnie Kline, was the loser as the Bucs continued their scoring slump. Pittsburgh has crossed the plate just once in the last 36 innings.

Marion Has Majors' Most Improved Club

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—The time has come to take a good second look at the Chicago White Sox, who move into Yankee Stadium tonight for the first time under their new manager Marty Marion. What we seem to see at this juncture is the most improved club in either league.

Despite a prolonged slump by their best hitter Minnie Minoso, the Sox are clinging tightly to Cleveland's front runners—they're all even with the Indians in the vital "lost" column — and are showing no signs of flagging under the pace. When Minoso begins to hit, as he will, and such pitchers as Virgil Trucks and Billy Pierce strike their true stride, you might see something, indeed.

There appears little doubt that Frank Lane made the most telling trade of the winter when he obtained firstbaseman Walt Dropo and outfielder Bob Nieman from Detroit in exchange for Ferris Fain and little else. Nieman has proved the bigger surprise of the two by grabbing himself a regular spot in the lineup and whaling the ball as never before in his big league career.

With the Tigers last year Nieman hit only .263 and drove in but 35 runs. He is slugging at a .316 clip today and is among the league's RBI leaders with 24. His six home runs are only two fewer than he belted all last season. The huge Dropo, though hovering around .250 on average, already has powdered five homers, one more than his entire '54 output, and has driven in 14 runs.

Another extremely pleasant surprise has been the sudden eruption of catcher Sherman Lollar as a power hitter. Last year, while the Sox were finishing a falling-down third for lack of the long ball, Lollar hit .244, with seven home runs. He's already stroked that number with the season only about a sixth gone. His average is a hot .305 and he has knocked in 16 runs, nearly half his total for last year.

Parrack To Rebuild Sooner Cage Team

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Doyle Parrack, who in eight years built Oklahoma City University into a nationally ranking basketball team has been given the job of reviving the fading cage picture at the University of Oklahoma.

The 33-year-old Parrack was selected Monday to succeed Bruck Drake, who resigned May 5, after compiling only three victories in 21 games with his highest scoring quintet in 17 years as Sooner coach.

National Loop's Top Hurling Staff Sags

By JACK VARICK

MILWAUKEE (AP)—The "best" pitching staff in the National League is sagging in the middle and at both ends.

Many who looked over the Milwaukee Braves early this spring figured they had the top collection of moundmen and would be the best bet to take the flag.

The word was then that Warren Spahn and Gene Conley would be 20-game winners, Lew Burdette would be improved and Bob Buhl and Chet Nichols would pick up. Milwaukee's fine relief staff of 1954 —Dave Jolly in particular—also figured in the rosy conjecture.

But with the season one fifth completed it isn't working out quite that smoothly. In 30 games the starting Milwaukee hurler has finished just nine times—and Conley has four of those completed games.

That put the burden on Charlie Grimm's relief staff, but the firemen just haven't come through.

Jolly, top braves reliefer last year with an 11-6 record and an average of 2.43 earned runs per game, is 1-2 to date and his earned run average is way up to 5.50. Braves reliefers have worked 72 1-3 innings so far and have been hit for 39 earned runs, giving the Milwaukee corps of firemen a combined earned run average of 4.85, which borders on generosity.

Conley and Nichols are leading the Braves' regulars. Big Gene is tops with a 4-1 slate and has a 3.11 era. Nichols has won 3 and lost 2 and has a 3.40 ERA.

Spahn, the old master who has won 21 or more games for the Braves in six seasons, has finished two of his seven starts. His slate reads 3-3 and his ERA is 3.30.

Burdette's earned run average is 6.30 and he's won 2 and lost as many. Buhl has a 3.94 ERA but his record is 1-3.

Boxing Club Dies, Lacks TV Money

NEW YORK (AP)—The Eastern Parkway Arena, spawned by television money, died as a boxing club for lack of television cash last night.

In three years of operation the rollerskating rink in Brooklyn had staged 156 shows. The distinction of winning the last video feature at the club went to Hardy (Bazooka) Smallwood, of Brooklyn, by split decision over Bob Provinzi, of Freeland, Pa.

The promoters at the small club didn't have their TV contract renewed by ABC-TV. The network starts telecasting the International Boxing Club's weekly Wednesday night fights June 1. CBS-TV, which has viodeoed the Wednesday fights for years, handles its final fight on May 25.

"You can't operate weekly without television money," said promoter Joe Arata. "It costs over $5,000 to put on a show in New York and you can't draw that kind of money without 'name' fighters. And 'name' fighters won't box for you unless they get big money. They're entitled to a good payday but without the TV cash we can't put them on."

Smallwood, a 22-year-old Army veteran of Korea and Japan, racked up his ninth straight victory in a lively 10-rounder. Provizzi, a 23-year-old ex-gob, had his winning streak snapped at 15. It was a close fight with Bazooka's straight punches getting the edge over Bob's left hooks.

At the rival St. Nicholas Arena in Manhattan, which will have the Monday night television time by itself from now on, former lightweight champion Paddy DeMarco, of Brooklyn, rough-housed his way to a split 10-round decision over Libby Manzo, of New York. It was DeMarco's second straight victory over Manzo in a month.

DeMarco weighed 140, Manzo 138.

Only one state, Tennessee, mined more coal in 1954 than in 1953 — 6,154,000 tons compared to 5,567,000 tons.

Ags Work Hard To Avoid Suspension

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Texas A&M, handed a 2-year probation by the Southwest Conference for violating the recruiting rules, has at least two distinctions:

1. It is the first Southwest Conference member to be placed on probation. Members have been in trouble in the past and had players ruled ineligible but none ever was handed such a stiff penalty as this.

2. It is probably the first losing football team in history to be told it couldn't play in a bowl game.

The Aggies are in a jam. The least little thing they do will be eyed with suspicion. And brother, they better lean over backward to meet the rules. The next step is suspension.

The conference was too severe, say Aggie backers, in not only placing A&M on probation but wiping out their letters of intent and telling them they couldn't participate in post-season contests, including bowl games. It isn't that A&M should be particularly worried about the bowl ban—they'll be satisfied just to win a few football games, something they haven't done in a long time. But there would be a lot of gnashing of teeth next Jan. 1 if A&M should, by chance, compile a record that would warrant playing in a bowl game.

The penalty could have been more severe. The conference could have suspended the Aggies. Indications are that they were not because that would be penalizing the other members, too. Schedules have been made and it would be difficult for the other schools to obtain new opponents at this late date.

The alumni is being blamed for the Aggie troubles. The Aggie exes, it is charged, were too concerned with getting a winning football team in the quickest way possible. Only once in 16 years has A&M been able to beat arch rival Texas.

Only once in 14 years has A&M been able to win the conference championship. They won only one game all last season. It is understandable that the alumni wanted to get out of the rut and walk alongside the other colleges in football victories.

Of course, it's usually the case that the alumni is blamed when there are violations of the rules, and that's justifiable most times.

The alumni often causes the trouble. But it's the college's duty to find out what is being done and to curb it. Some of the great coaches of football, whose schools have never been involved in rules violations, control the situation by merely telling the alumni it can't do such things.

The conference faculty committee that made the ruling was going according to form in one way—it wasn't revealing the full story.

Just why it wouldn't say what rules violations were involved is puzzling. That's the first question that came to mind when the probation was announced—what did the Aggie backers do?

But the committee, as usual, gave out only the bare details of what it did at its executive meeting, and the public is left to wonder what all the shooting was about. Surely it couldn't add anything to the stigma cast on Aggieland by the probation for violating "recruiting rules" if it said just what rules were involved.

FOUR HITS: TOTAL 13 BASES—Friday the 13th turned out to be a lucky day for Mickey Mantle, New York Yankees' outfielder. Here he holds three warclubs of his own after he hit three homers and a single to drive in all his team's runs for a 5-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers at Yankee Stadium in New York. Mickey said the three homers were hit with borrowed bats, the first two with a bat discarded when Enos Slaughter left for Kansas City A's, and the third with a bat borrowed from Bill Skowron, ailing first baseman.

Marciano Has Tough Time With Cockell

By BOB MYERS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It took a lot of chopping to cut down Don Cockell, the sturdy oak of England, but whack him down he did, and today America's Rocky Marciano remains the boss of the world heavyweight fighters.

Fifty-four seconds after the ninth round began, the power-punching Marciano disposed of the gallant but battered and beaten challenger.

Referee Frankie Brown stopped the scheduled 15-rounder, awarding Marciano a technical knockout. It was the Rock's fifth victory in defense of his championship.

The end was sighted in the sixth and drew nearer when the game Britisher was sent through the ropes head first at the bell ending the eighth. The climax came when Cockell was smashed to the canvas twice almost as soon as the ninth round began.

It took eight counts for the hog farmer from Horam to lift himself up from the seat of his trunks in this bloody ninth, and back down he went. He managed to gain his feet after five and was even trying to punch back.

Then the referee called it quits.

Cockell, weighing 205 pounds to Marciano's 189, was bleeding from the nose and a cut on the forehead at the hairline. His left eyebrow had a tiny slit.

Marciano was unblemished. Even his vulnerable nose, sliced open by Ezzard Charles last September, was intact.

The crowd of 18,000 in the big football stadium, cold as it was, gave Don a tremendous ovation as he left the ring.

Just before the bell ending the sixth, a right to the jaw sent Cockell walking unsteadily to his handlers.

Don's manager John Simpson admitted later that the referee came over and asked if the fight should go on, and that he himself suggested to Don that he give up. Cockell refused, and made it plain he did not want his manager to stop the fight under any circumstances.

It came as a surprise later, particularly to the American writers who had admired Cockell's fine stand, to hear him say he thought he got a "raw deal."

Sitting glumly in his dressing room, he let it go only as "raw deal," leaving up to Simpson to elaborate.

Simpson, wise in managerial post-mortems, and doubtless hoping for a rematch, charged that Referee Brown let Rocky get away with butting, and low blows and punching after the bell.

Rocky did land several blows on the borderline. In a flurry he threw the last punch after the gong once or twice. And the two banged heads a time or two.

Cockell said he would like a return match anywhere, including San Francisco.

Marciano, in his dressing room, gave Don credit.

"He's got a lot of guts," Rocky said. "He took it, he took everything I had and he kept standing up.

"He's an underrated fighter. I don't think I hit anyone else any more or often or harder. Maybe Ez Charles the first time, but I don't think so."

Cockell plans to head for home Thursday. Marciano's immediate plans are indefinite, except to rest and probably get ready for another title fight in September.

VARSITY-EXES GAME IS SET

A varsity-exes football game will end spring grid drills for the Snyder Tigers Saturday afternoon.

The Tigers, who have had two weeks of training and are in their last days of the drills now, will meet graduating seniors and ex-players Saturday afternoon on the high school grid field.

Time for the tilt has not yet been definitely set, but it will probably be held at about 4:30 or 5 p.m., head coach John Conley said.

Lawton Takes 13-6 Win Over Seminole

By The Associated Press

After scoring only six runs in 12 innings in a Sooner State baseball game Monday night, the Lawton Braves erupted with six more in the 13th for a 13-6 victory over the Seminole Oilers.

The league-leading Shawnee Hawks combined two big innings for an 11-5 victory over McAlester, and Muskogee shaded Paris, 6-5. Gainesville at Ardmore was postponed because of wet grounds.

The teams switch around Monday with Muskogee at Lawton, Ardmore at Paris, Gainesville at Shawnee, and McAlester at Seminole.

Aggies Get Ready To Enter Playoffs

By The Associated Press

Texas A&M held its fifth Southwest Conference baseball championship Tuesday and was looking toward a playoff with Arizona for the right to compete in the national tournament at Omaha, Neb.

The Aggies, who also have twice tied for the title over the years, beat Southern Methodist 4-3 in 11 innings of fighting baseball Monday to take the crown.

The Aggies still have one game to play—against Texas at Austin Tuesday—but can't be knocked out of the championship even if they should lose it.

That will wind up baseball for the season except for the playoff with awesome Arizona, winner of 36 games in 41 this season. Arizona was in the NCAA tournament last year but was eliminated. It apparently has an even stronger team this season.

John Stockton was the hero of the Aggies' triumph over Southern Methodist—he and a little bespectacled fellow named Tex Van Zura, who was dubbed "Mr. Peepers" by the crowd.

Stockton batted in all four of the Aggie runs, the payoff being his rousing triple to right field in the 11th that drove in Fred Abion with the title-winning tally. Van Zura twirled three fine innings in relief and got credit for the victory. He allowed only one hit, fanned four and in the ninth got out of a bases-filled situation by forcing Bobby Mills to ground out. He had walked himself into the dilemma.

Tommy Bowers went the route for SMU and pitched able ball but it was his error in the ninth that eventually led to the Aggies's 2-run rally that tied the score. He allowed A&M only seven hits.

Ill feelings broke out among the players in the sixth inning when SMU catcher Bryan Bush became angry after Stockton had slid into home base feet first and spikes flying.

Shortly afterward Bowers uncorked a high pitch that hit Joe Boring of the Aggies on the head, knocking him flat. Bob Nelson, A&M pitcher who had been driven from the mound in SMU's 3 - run third inning, came on the field and took a swing at Bowers. The latter clouted back and players from both teams pushed and shoved each other around until it appeared a free-for-all was in the offing. But the umpires and players separated the combatants and a couple of SMU players held Nelson down on the field until the trouble subsided.

There were no further attempts at fisticuffs.

San Antonio Holds Good Margin Again

By The Associated Press

San Antonio's Missions operate like one of those boxers who takes all you've got then whips over the kayo punch when you think you have him on the ropes.

Three days ago the Missions were faltering and floundering and Dallas and Houston were tied with them for the Texas League Lead. Then they pulled themselves together for a couple of victories when it hurt the most.

So Tuesday they're leading the league by a game and a half—the widest margin they've had in a week.

Monday night the Missions clouted Dallas 6-3 while Houston, in a tie with Dallas for second place, was champion at the bit because it couldn't play under current weather conditions. Dallas' loss dropped the Eagles to third place, two games back.

There was another change made in the league race Monday night when Shreveport's Sports whammed Oklahoma City in a doubleheader, 2-1 and 8-1. The Sports climbed back into fourth place ahead of idled Fort Worth.

San Antonio didn't fiddle around taking its second straight from Dallas. The Missions slammed four runs across in the first inning and quit worrying as the Eagles fought futilely back. Towering Ray Murray finally got hold of one in the eighth with two mates aboard to give Dallas its three runs. In the ninth the Eagles derricked Charley Locke when they jammed two runners on the sacks and Bill Diemer had to come in and get them out. He fanned two. It preserved the victory for Locke.

Bill Tremel pitched a grand 3-hitter in the opener for Shreveport and Hugh Blanton got the decision in the seventh. The Sports had just finished sending Ernie Groth to the showers with a 5-run spree in which Pidge Browne blasted a 2-run homer.

Midland Gains Top Place In Longhorn

By The Associated Press

Midland's Indians Monday night got a 23-hit attack and a timely assist from Odessa to ease past Roswell to the top of the Longhorn League.

Midland blasted four Carlsbad pitchers for 23 hits and a 20-6 victory. Roswell fell into second place, a half game back, when 14 hits could get them only three runs and Odessa took an 8-3 victory.

Pony Games Rained Out

Opening games of the Pony League were rained out here last night and were rescheduled.

The games will be played Thursday night, with the Lions Phillies to meet the Von Roeder Red Sox at 7 p.m. and Courthouse Tigers vs. Scurry Butane Dogers at 9 p.m.

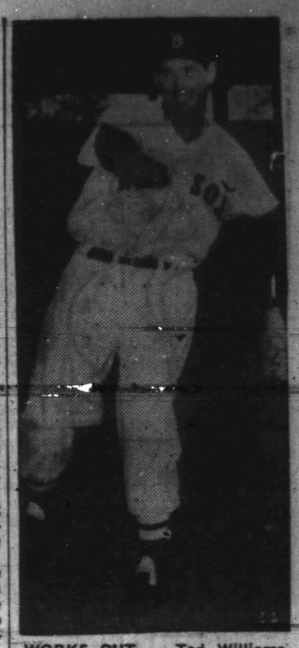

The entire Pony League schedule will be moved down one date. Games originally scheduled for Thursday night will be played Friday night, and those scheduled Friday night will be played next Monday night, etc.

City League Tilt Slated

Sun Oil Co. will attempt to get back on top in the City Baseball League tonight in a game scheduled against Tri-Service.

Tri-Service is now leading the league with a 3-1 record, while Sun follows with 2-1. A Sun win would put Tri-Service in second place and Tri-Service on top.

The Tigers stand in third place with a 1-2 record, followed by Hermleigh with 1-3.

WORKS OUT — Ted Williams smiles happily as he throws a ball to his catching partner as he started working out at Fenway Park in Boston, following his signing a baseball contract for the balance of the 1955 season with the Red Sox. Williams also worked out in the batting cage, bunting, banging drives into the rightfield seats and off the leftfield wall.

Plainview Creeps Up

By The Associated Press

Plainview used its seventh straight victory and a little rain to creep to within eight percentage points of first place in the West Texas-New Mexico League Tuesday night.

Plainview found the range for a five-run seventh inning to come from behind and take Lubbock 8-6. Leading Pampa had its margin trimmed to eight percentage points when its game at Abilene was rained out.

Clovis squeezed home the winning run in the eighth to beat El Paso 13-11 while Albuquerque nicked Amarillo 5-4.

Clovis and Albuquerque, tied for third now, are only a half-game back, Lubbock in fifth a game and a half behind and Abilene in sixth only two games off the pace in the torrid six-team race.

The teams switch Tuesday night, with Plainview going to El Paso, Clovis visiting Albuquerque, Lubbock traveling to Amarillo and Abilene going to Pampa.

Indictment Against Contractor Quashed

SWEETWATER, Tex. (AP)—The indictment of James Herndon, Stanton, Tex., contractor, was quashed yesterday. He was charged with theft by failure to perform agreed road work in Martin County.

He can be re-indicted. Dist. Judge A. S. Mauzey said the indictment was too vague.

Herndon's indictment was one of 27 which followed an investigation of Martin County and school finances. Former County Judge James McMorris has pleaded guilty to two charges and been assessed a 5-year term on another which is being appealed.

Herndon's case was brought here on a change of venue.

German Learns About Boxes For Fire Alarm

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—The man, born in Germany, studied the letter curiously. It was written in English. Surely, he thought the sisters could translate it.

So he headed for St. Joseph's Convent, stopped at the parochial school by mistake and rang the bell in front—just as in the fatherland.

Seventeen firemen rolled up in six trucks. The trembling man told Deputy Chief Thomas Meaney how he made the "terrible mistake" of sending the alarm. Meany briefed him on how fire alarm boxes looked.

The letter was forgotten in the furor.

Found Guilty In Slaying

NEW YORK (AP)—A 24-year-old man, released after 10 years in a hospital for the criminal insane, has been found guilty of first-degree murder in the butcher knife slaying of his 2-year-old brother a decade ago.

A Bronx County jury deliberated two hours yesterday before returning the verdict against William Oliver Jr. The jury made no recommendations of mercy. A first-degree murder conviction carries a mandatory death sentence.

Oliver admitted he killed his little brother as the child slept, and then set fire to the bed. He was 14 at the time.

After pleading insanity, he was committed to the Matteawan State Hospital for the Criminal Insane. Last fall he was pronounced legally sane and was returned to the Bronx to stand trial.

Testifying at his trial, Oliver calmly told the all-male jury that he killed "to get even with my mother, who was persecuting me." He also said he intended to kill six other members of his family.

Market Declines, But Plus Signs Persist

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market declined today for the second straight time, but good plus signs persisted in the list.

Yesterday's market was down sharply on relatively light volume. The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost $2.20 at $160.30, second heaviest drop this year.

The fall was part of the three-week retreat that has been underway since the market hit its record peak April 26.

Today's decline extended to between 1 and 2 points at the outside. Gains going to around a point were found in almost every division. Aircrafts were mostly lower but steels were largely higher.

Illinois, Kentucky, Pennsylvania and West Virginia each produce more than 10 per cent of the soft coal mined in the United States.

Presbyterians To Open 167th Session

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A conference on evangelism today and tomorrow precedes the 167th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. The assembly is slated to consider, among other things, ordination of women as ministers and a proposed racial "Operation Desegregation" in the church.

More than 5,000 delegates are expected to attend the assembly's first session here in 52 years. They are in addition to the assembly's 440 lay commissioners and 440 clerical commissioners.

The assembly is the governing body of the church, which lists 2,658,000 members. After the two-day conference on evangelism, the assembly opens Thursday and continues through the following Wednesday.

Next Monday the commissioners will consider the proposal on women ministers. The report was prepared by a committee headed by Dr. C. Vin White, pastor of First Presbyterian Church, Lincoln, Neb. Favoring ordination of women, the report says in part:

"It is proper to speak of equality of status for men and women both in terms of their creation and redemption. . . There is no theological ground for denying ordination to women simply because they are women. . . .

The ordination of women would enable the church to give status to women now serving the church and would also encourage others to undertake the work of the ministry."

The "Operation Desegregation" proposal comes up a week from today in a report of the church's Department of Social Education and Action.

The report says in part:

"The church must act now to abolish from its practices all forms of racial discrimination and separation. We call for the launching of 'Operation Desegregation' in the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. . .

"We call upon the members of our churches to work for desegregation in the businesses, professions and unions to which they belong. To this end we urge the passage of laws enforcing fair employment practices in states in which legislation of this type is not already in effect. . .

"We urge the members of our churches to encourage and support all measures for facilitating the desegregation of public schools, both as to students and faculties, in communities affected by the Supreme Court decision."

Postal Pay Veto Is Seen

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) predicted anew after a conference with President Eisenhower today that the chief executive will veto the bill to increase the pay of about half a million postal workers by an average of 8.6 per cent.

Knowland, the Senate Republican leader, declined to say whether the President told him or indicated that a veto will be forthcoming.

"I predicted the other day that any bill over 7.6 per cent would not meet with presidential approval," Knowland said.

He declared he still is standing by that forecast.

In reply to a question, Knowland said the President probably will act on the bill "in the next day or two."

Asked then whether the President gave him any indication whether he will veto or approve the measure, Knowland smiled and told newsmen:

"I suggest you wait and see."

Wounds Are Fatal To Crazed Farmer

GROESBECK, Tex. (AP)—N. J. Tynes, a crazed farmer who killed a sheriff, wounded a youth and held off 100 officers for five hours Sunday, died last night of wounds suffered before his capture.

Funeral services for Sheriff J. Harry Dunlap, 47, were held yesterday. He was killed when he stepped from cover to attempt to reason with Tynes, 44, a bachelor farmer who was about to be committed again to a state mental hospital.

Hobbs School Exercises Set This Week

Commencement exercises for high school graduates and promotional exercises for those who will be in high school next year have been set at Hobbs school for this week.

The eighth grade promotional exercises will be at 8 p.m. Thursday, while high school commencement will be at 8 p.m. Friday.

Valedictorian of the graduating class is Dave Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. David Williams. Salutatorian is Charles Masters, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Masters.

The commencement program includes addresses by the two honor graduates, class history by Durwood Hopper, class will by Joe Helms, and class prophecy by Barbra Sellers, who was high-ranking girl of the class. G. C. Herring, superintendent of the school, will present diplomas, while W. C. Hodges, high school principal, will present about 75 special awards in athletics, attendance, and outstanding work in various courses.

Other graduates than those on the program are Ralph Hardin, Francine Hardin, Morris Hardin, LeRoy Masters, Bynum Miers, Clara Ann Neves, Bobbie Pullig, and Melvin Thomson.

Valedictory address on the grammar school program will be made by Bernadean Etheredge, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernon Etheredge, and salutatory address will be by Mary Ann Kincaid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Kincaid. Jerry Trice will give the class will, Rosalie Neves the class history, and Sandra Simpson the class prophecy. On this program, Hodges will present diplomas and Herring will give special awards.

Others being promoted are Troy Ballinger, W. H. Brumit, Fred Cave, Charlene Firestone, Callan Hardin, Carl Hendrix, Joyce Holloway, Billy Jones, Mickey Templeton, Buster Wright, Wanda Sutton, and Reba Darwin.

Tito Closes Two Schools

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—President Tito's Communist government has closed two Roman Catholic high schools in the big north Adriatic port of Rijeka (Fiume) after conviction of five staff members for "hostile activities" against the state.

The action was reported last night by Borba, official newspaper of the Yugoslav Communist party. It said the theological high school was closed for five years and the classical high school for three.

Borba said the order was issued after Josip Kapsh, prefect of the theological school, and four other defendants were sentenced to prison terms ranging from one to six years by the District Court of Rijeka. It said they had "slandered state authorities and propagated fascism."

The newspaper also charged that the Roman Catholic bishop of Rijeka, Ivan Pavlasic, tried to influence witnesses to testify falsely.

3 Teachers At Fluvanna Resign Posts

Three teachers in the Fluvanna schools have resigned effective at the end of this school year, according to Charlie Chorn, superintendent of the school.

Chorn is one of those resigning. His resignation is to become effective July 1. The superintendent, who has been in the Fluvanna system four years, will go to the Borden County High School at Gail, where he will teach chemistry, biology, science, and one math course next year.

Mrs. Chorn will be school nurse at the Borden school. Chorn is a graduate of Texas Tech.

Other teachers resigning are Luther Clegg and Miss Vela Bell. Clegg, who has been at the Fluvanna schiol one year, has been teaching English. Miss Bell, a teacher at Fluvanna two years, works with the third and fourth grades. Neither have yet announced plans.

Other teachers in the system are James Cleghorn, principal and teacher of English and commercial subjects; Grover Watkins, coach and science teacher; Miss Yvonne Ramsey, social studies; Mrs. J. S. Norton, first and second grades; and Mrs. Eleanor Hunnicutt, fifth and sixth grades.

HIGHLAND PARK CLEANERS—The Highland Park Cleaners located just south of Thirty-seventh Street on the Big Spring highway, has recently added to its staff Mrs. Ruth Smith, above, who has 28 years experience in alterations, tailoring and all phases of cleaning and pressing business, to the plant's staff. (Lee Watson photograph)

This Is Important Season For Proper Cleaning Of Clothing

Now is the most important time of the year to have two different types of clothing cleaned and made ready to wear, Si Steinberg, owner of Highland Park Cleaners on the Big Spring Highway just south of Thirty-seventh Street, said.

One of the types of clothing, of course, is spring and summer clothing which needs to be cleaned, pressed and sized so that the owner will be prepared for any occasion during the warm months. The other type is winter clothing which should be cleaned and pressed — and moth proofed — before being put away for the summer.

"Probably the more important of the two would be the proper attention to the winter clothes," Steinberg said, "because they will not be used for several months."

Any dirt or grease is much easier to remove from clothes before it has had time to set for a long period of time, the cleaning expert said.

Moth proofing by the Ya-De Moth Proofing process used at Highland Park Cleaners will assure that winter clothing will be perfectly preserved and ready for use next winter, he said.

In the moth proofing process, Highland Park Cleaners not only moth proofs the clothing, but places them in moth and dust proof bags for safe, clean keeping through the hot—and probably dusty—months ahead.

Just as now is the most opportune time to have winter clothes cleaned and pressed, it is the right time to prepare for the hot weather ahead by having summer and spring clothes cleaned, pressed, and sized.

"The sizing process is one of the most important steps in proper servicing to any garment because it restores the original size and shape to the garment," Steinberg said, "and removes all garment distortion which might have been caused by the garment hanging on a hanger for a long period of time, or from having been folded for a long period."

In keeping with the policy of offering the best cleaning and tailoring services available and tai- Highland Park Cleaners is happy to announce the addition of Mrs. Ruth Smith, who has had 28 years experience in all phases of the cleaning and tailoring business, to the staff of the firm.

During the 28 years Mrs. Smith, who moved here from Longview, Tex., has had in the business, 14 months were spent with a tailor shop which made men's suits. She is completely familiar with the proper ways to alter or repair all men's clothing as well as women's clothing, Steinberg said.

Mrs. Smith will head the firm's alternation and repair department, and in addition to the routine work of mending garments brought to the firm for cleaning and pressing, she will make available to customers of Highland Park Cleaners a complete custom alternations service for special alternation jobs on any garments, Steinberg said.

Highland Park Cleaners offers free pickup and delivery service to any part of Snyder on all orders.

Discuss High Truck Taxes

BERLIN (AP)—A U. S. spokesman announced today that Soviet Ambassador Georgi M. Pushkin has agreed to meet with the Big Three Western envoys Friday to discuss East Germany's new high taxes on trucks supplying West Berlin.

The ambassadors of the United States, Britain and France will meet with Pushkin in his office in East Berlin. The three Westerners had proposed the meeting in a letter April 15.

The Western ambassadors claim the Communist taxes are a violation of four - power occupation statutes which guarantee free access to Allied West Berlin. Although the West has given West Germany its sovereignty, the occupation continued in Berlin.

The Communists imposed the levies April 1, contending the money is needed to repair the three highways leading through the Soviet zone to West Berlin. Truckers using the shortest route, the 110-mile highway from Helmstedt, West Germany, now have to pay as much as $55 for the round trip.

The Allies denounced the taxes as "exorbitant" and "blackmail." They charged the taxes were designed to obtain diplomatic recognition for the East German Communist regime.

Students Are Hurt In Crash

TOKYO (AP) — A special train carrying 1,400 school children slammed into a stalled U.S. Marine truck and trailer loaded with inflammable paint today. The train jumped the rails and burst into flames.

Police said two were injured seriously and at least 31 others were hurt. Scores of sleeping students were shaken up.

In another accident, on Kyushu, Japan's southernmost island, a bus loaded with 54 primary schoolchildren caught fire today and 37 youngsters were burned in the blaze. Police said several may die.

The train plowed into the huge Marine truck and 25-ton trailer near the slopes of Mt. Fuji. The trailer was stalled on the tracks while trying to negotiate a tricky S-turn.

Delegates Of 6 States Map Relief Plans

AMARILLO (AP)—Delegates from six drought area states have adopted a program for long-range relief of the stricken Great Plains.

The nine delegates, members of the National Assn. of Soil Conservation Districts, said yesterday their proposals would be presented to governors of Nebraska, Colorado, Kansas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Texas.

Their hope was that the plan would be passed on to U.S. Secretary of Agriculture Benson during his drought-control meeting in Denver May 31-June 2.

Although the soil conservation districts are supported and organized by the federal government, none of the nine men here was invited to the Denver conference. Six state presidents of the soil conservation district associations were among the nine.

The president the Colorado Soil Conservation Assn. —Clarence Spedman, Fort Collins, Colo.—said:

"What we are recommending should not be construed as belittling the opinion of Secretary Benson's Great Plains Council. But it is the opinion of grass roots farmers and should be heard and recognized as such."

Points adopted here included:

Working conservation programs in cooperation with established soil conservation districts; a quick completion of the scientific soil survey of the Great Plains—a survey begun almost 20 years ago; and closer supervision of disaster payments made to farmers affected by drought and wind erosion.

A revision of the federal crop insurance program to enable farmers to follow sound farming practices without financial penalty is a point emphasized in the program.

Other points would discourage government support of "suitcase (non-resident or amateur) farmers" through acreage allotments and would encourage the continued operations of "legitimate practical farmers and ranchers" through easier credit terms, a change in area allotment methods to recognize proper land utilization practices and continued research into land uses.

Average Price For Gas Is Computed

AUSTIN (AP)—The average market price paid at the wellhead for gas from the Texas Panhandle field is 9.7522 cents per 1,000 cubic feet, the Railroad Commission said yesterday.

The commission held a hearing on the matter in Amarillo May 11. Such hearings are required by a law passed several years ago.

The price announced by the commission was computed on gas measured at a base pressure of 15.4 pounds per square inch at 60 degrees Fahrenheit.

The commission announced the next market price hearing on the field will be held at Amarillo Nov.2.

Little Cloud May Develop In Sea Test

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — The underwater atomic explosion off the West Coast to evolve antisubmarine tactics may produce little or no atomic cloud and air contamination.

This will be partly the result of the extreme caution the Atomic Energy Commission and Defense Department are using to avoid complaints about drifting radioactivity like those which followed the 1954 hydrogen test in the Marshall Islands.

It also may result from the conditions under which the test presumably may be conducted, an explosion of a small nuclear gadget in relatively deep water.

Protests against the forthcoming test have been lodged by commercial fishermen in California, who are concerned about destruction or contamination of fish. An AEC - Defense Department announcement of the project a week ago emphasized that "no hazard is involved to mainland or island inhabitants, or to the fishing industry or consumers of fish."

A test of an atomic depth charge for combatting enemy submarines undoubtedly will be conducted at depths at which submarines operate when in escape and evasion tactics. This ranges from 200 to 500 or more feet.

A "small yield" nuclear device, such as the announcement mentioned, could be as little as one kiloton or slightly larger. A kiloton is the energy released by 1,000 tons of standard TNT.

Such an explosion, at a depth of several hundred feet—and in water a mile or more deep, producing little or no "reflection" of the blast from the ocean floor—could produce only a small burst into the air.

Complete Occupation

TOKYO (AP)—Peiping radio said today the Red Vietminh has completed the take-over of North Viet Nam by occuping islands off the coast. The broadcast said Vietminh soldiers had also completed their withdrawal from South Viet Nam.

Hearing Due Today On Texas City Bill

WASHINGTON (AP)—A hearing on a bill to recompense victims of the Texas City, Tex., disaster was to be held this afternoon by a Senate judiciary subcommittee.

The measure would create a commission to hear claims and report to Congress. It is sponsored by Sens. Johnson and Daniel of Texas.

The hearings stem from the explosion of the French ship Grandcamp on the Texas City waterfront in 1947. Several hundred persons were killed or injured and damage was in the millions.

Hearings on a similar bill were held last week before a House judiciary subcommittee. Both measures were introduced after the Supreme Court ruled the government was not legally responsible for the disaster.

Negro Lawyer Hired

WASHINGTON (AP) — A young Negro woman lawyer, Miss Bernadine Johnson, of Newark, N. J., has been sworn in as assistant counsel of the Senate Juvenile Delinquency subcommittee, headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn.)

Appeal Is Planned For Marie Natvig

By J. FRANK TRAGLE

WASHINGTON (AP)—Attorneys for turnabout witness Marie Natvig were preparing today to appeal the gray-haired grandmother's conviction of having lied under oath when she testified in the Edward Lamb hearing.

A federal court jury late yesterday found the 51-year-old Miami Beach, Fla., divorcee guilty on three counts of perjury. The eight women and four men deliberated only about 20 minutes.

She faces a possible maximum stence of 15 years in prison and $6,000 in fines. Sentencing was deferred pending a probation office report. Meanwhile, Mrs. Natvig remained free on $2,500 bond.

She had been indicted originally on nine counts, but two were eliminated before the trial started and four others were dropped during the trial.

The three remaining counts on which the jury found her guilty alleged that she lied when she denied telling the FBI and Federal Communications Commission representatives last fall—prior to her becoming a witness at an FCC hearing—that she was a Communist in Ohio in the 1930s and knew Lamb in that connection.

The trial did not deal with the truth or falsity of what she had said about herself or Lamb. It dealt only with whether she had made the statements and then deliberately denied having made them.

Mrs. Natvig's statements about Lamb and her later turnabout testimony both came in the course of an FCC hearing on whether the license of Lamb's Erie, Pa., television station—WICU-TV—should be renewed.

Lamb is a Toledo, Ohio, lawyer-publisher-broadcaster with properties in Ohio and Florida as well as in Pennsylvania.

The Lamb hearing, now eight months old and scheduled to resume tomorrow, has centered on allegations — repeatedly denied —that Lamb once knowingly associated with Communists.

When Mrs. Natvig first testified for the FCC last October, she said she had been a Communist in her native Cleveland, Ohio, in the 1930s and knew Lamb in that connection.

Later, in February, she said it was all a lie, and she charged an FCC attorney had coerced her into uttering the alleged falsehood.

Graham Crowd Scorns Rains

LONDON (AP)—Braving a cold blustery rain, 50,000 Londoners half filled huge Wembley Stadium last night to hear Billy Graham preach. The same size crowd had attended the opening in the stadium Saturday night of his one-week London crusade.

"This is the greatest Monday night crowd in the history of my ministry," the American evangelist said in paying tribute to his hardy audience. "If this weather had happened to us in the United States, there wouldn't be a handful of people here."

Graham wore a raincoat and spoke from under a canvas canopy. Most of his listeners soaked in the open or huddled under umbrellas and newspaper since there are few covered sections in the stadium.

Hundreds came forward when Graham asked for "decisions for Christ." One crusade official estimated the total at over 2,000.

Soviet Ship Receives Special Care In Canal

BALBOA, C. Z. (AP)—Eyewitnesses revealed today that officials of the Panama Canal Zone took special care with the first Soviet ship to pass through the waterway since 1949. They put armed U. S. Army sentries aboard for the eight-hour trip.

The Russian ship was the freighter Taganrog, which sailed into the Pacific Sunday with a cargo of Cuban sugar destined for Russia. The vessel had been anchored off Cristobal since Tuesday while her captain waited for the Soviets to wire him the $5,000 canal toll.

PRESIDENT TALKS—President Eisenhower fingers his ear as he discusses a proposed Big Four conference at his news conference in Washington, D.C. The president said he agreed to a top level meeting in the hope of clarifying the international atmosphere and to test Russia's sincerity. He emphasized that no definite arrangements for such a meeting have yet been made.

GOP Chiefs Fear Ike Is Set To Quit

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Some top Republican strategists have come to the conclusion that only a draft movement from the voters will persuade President Eisenhower to seek a second term.

They apparently feel that—unless world conditions worsen—Eisenhower will turn a deaf ear to pleas of GOP [illegible] professional politicians for him to run again in 1956.

But they seem to believe that if the President can be convinced a majority of the people don't want him to quit after four years, he might find that a compelling argument.

The party's strategists aren't sure yet how they can register any such grass root sentiment. "Most presidential draft movements are pure hokum," said one who asked not to be named. He added, however, that the GOP high command will try to spur "a real one."

Michigan GOP State Chairman John Feikens, on a visit here, said he thinks Republicans of his state would join heartily in a draft movement, although he professed no knowledge of party plans at the national level.

"We need President Eisenhower's name on the ticket in Michigan if we are going to win the governorship and some other offices back from the Democrats next year," he said.

Eisenhower was urged yesterday by former Rep. Jacob K. Javits, New York's Republican attorney general, to seek another term.

"He had no comment," Javits told reporters on emerging from the White House.

Delegation Arrives

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP)—A 12-man delgation from the West German lower house of Parliament has arrived here. The visit is "a gesture of peace and reconciliation," a spokesman said.

Electricity From Atoms Possible Soon

TOKYO (AP) — American homes can "conceivably" begin using electricity produced by atomic power plants within three or four years, the United States' former atomic power chief said today.

Dr. Lawrence R. Hafstad, now atomic research director for the Chase Manhattan Bank of New York, told a reporter "four of five U. S. utility companies" are now building commercial atom power plants.

"They will produce 700,000 kilowatts of electricity, enough to supply a city of 700,000 persons," he said.

Dr. Hafstad, who resigned as director of atomic reactor research for the Atomic Energy Commission early this year, made his remarks immediately after a press conference here.

Also attending were Dr. Earnest O. Lawrence, Nobel Prize-winning physicist and director of the radiation laboratory at the University of California, and John Jay Hopkins, president of the General Dynamics Corp., builder of the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus.

The unofficial team of experts, here at the invitation of Japanese industrialists, said:

1. There is no real danger from lingering radiation after an atomic bomb explosion—only from the explosion itself.

2. The only "string" attached to a U .S. offer of uranium concentrates to Japan is that the fissionable material never be converted [illegible] of war.

3. The world is on the threshold of a new atomic era, with the United States trying to hasten its arrival by "planting the seed of this thing" in the countries that can use it the most.

All three explained their purpose here was to provide information on peaceful uses of the atom.

Teacher To Receive Well-Earned Degree

LINCOLN, Neb. (AP)—Mrs. Viola Sederburg is going to get her A. B. degree from Nebraska Wesleyan this spring and a right well earned one it will be.

Mrs. Sederburg, mother of three children from 7 to 12 years and wife of a Wesleyan professor, will have credits from eight colleges applying on her degree.

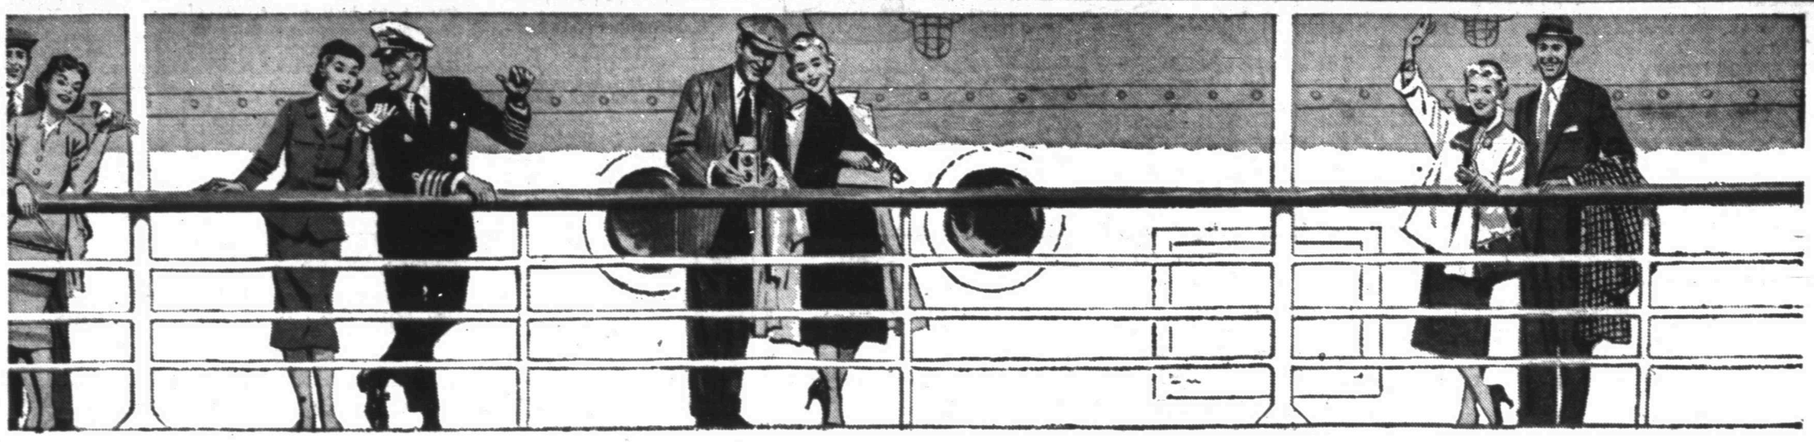

Before her marriage she studied at Luther College, Wahoo, Neb., and an Omaha business college.

After she married M. E. Sederburg, she studied at Black Hills Teachers College in South Dakota, University of Omaha, University of South Dakota, Drake University at Des Moines, University of Nebraska and finally at Wesleyan as her husband continued his studies and his teaching.

She herself is a third-grade teacher here.
