Heavy Aerial Blows Go On

RAF Batters Essen, Opening 13th Day Of Major Attacks

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Thursday, April 27.—Heavy bombers of the RAF carried the Allied air offensive against German Europe into its thirteenth consecutive day today, striking with massive force by moonlight at the German armaments city of Essen and elsewhere in a methodical followup to a 1,000-plane American daylight raid on Brunswick and other targets.

The Americans lost not a single bomber, but six fighters failed to return from the widespread and diversified daylight operations.

Details of the RAF night attack were not available, but it was stated authoritatively that the big bombers were out "in great strength."

Battered March 26

Essen, a frequent target, last was subjected to a heavy raid by more than 750 RAF four-engined bombers on March 26, and was hit by Mosquito bombers April 8. It has been called the Pittsburgh of Germany.

The major American daylight raid did not encounter any fighter opposition. Between 250 and 500 Fortresses and Liberators made the 900-mile roundtrip to Brunswick, dumping 1,500 tons of bombs. A communique said the escort of from 500 to 750 Mustangs, Lightnings and Thunderbolts made no contact with German interceptors.

Other aircraft hammered at Hitler's European fortress at many points.

Light Bombers Out

A supper-time fleet of light bombers plastered military objectives in northern France and Belgium under Thunderbolt and Spitfire escort.

Ninth Air force medium Marauders, A-20 Havoc light bombers, and Thunderbolt fighter bombers hit rail centers at Louvain and Saint Ghislain, while Bostons and Mitchells concentrated on Saint Ghislain.

Another stab at coastal defenses was carried out before dark by Mosquitos and Typhoon fighter bombers.

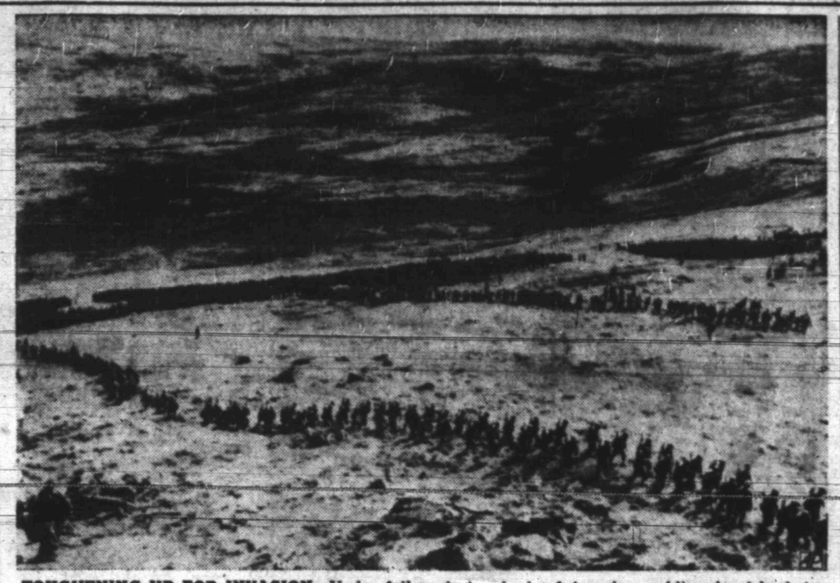

RAF Spitfires, equipped with long range gasoline tanks, made their first penetration of Germany this afternoon, hitting parked gliders. They returned without loss.

Second Time Without Loss

The main mission today against Brunswick was believed to be only the second time the U. S. Army Air force in Europe has been able to penetrate Germany on a major daylight operation without loss. On March 11, Fortresses bombed Munster without loss, but Brunswick is 125 miles farther inside the Reich.

Some American fighters also attacked Nazi airdromes in occupied France, destroying enemy

Two Hollandia Fields And Madang Taken

Nutcracker Drive Closing In On Third Big Airdrome

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press Staff Writer

AMERICAN infantrymen captured two Japanese airdromes on Dutch New Guinea, within bombing range of the Philippines, Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced today, while 500 miles to the southeast Australians swept into the town of Madang.

The Sentani (Tami) and Cyclops airdromes in the Hollandia area of northern New Guinea were seized by United States forces on the fourth day of their invasion.

Their nutcracker drive was closing in on the Hollandia airdrome, the third and largest in the sector. The two columns, which hit the beach 34 miles apart, were nearing a juncture in a battle against mud and hills where the Japanese strangely were absent.

Enemy Folds Up

Enemy resistance folded up in the Aitape sector, 150 miles to the east, where the captured Tadji airdrome is being used by Allied bombers and fighters. Only a short skirmish preceded their occupation of Aitape village.

At Madang, too, the enemy fled before the advancing Allied forces. The Australians found quantities of abandoned supplies and ammunition when they occupied the once-strong fortress.

Madang, on Astrolabe bay, has an airfield but the Nipponese have shown so little resistance in recent weeks it may not be of much use to the Allies.

Strongest air resistance yet in the renewed New Guinea fighting was an attack by 12 torpedo planes on a U. S. destroyer at Hollandia. MacArthur said they did no damage.

23 Planes Wiped Out

Twenty-three Japanese planes were wiped out in a raid on Kamiri airfield, 400 miles northwest of Hollandia.

American bombers returned to the attack along the northern invasion route to Tokyo and intensified their offensive on Japan's mandated Central Pacific islands, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced yesterday.

Aleutian-based bombers flew to within 500 miles of Japan proper to make six strikes at the northern Kurile islands Sunday and Monday nights.

Three thousand miles to the south other Allied bombers concentrated on coastal defense guns in the heaviest bombardment in two months of daily raids on the Marshall islands.

Truk Islands Pounded

Five islands in the strongly fortified Truk lagoon were bombed by planes ranging half the length of the Caroline island system.

Nimitz made no mention of an attack by long-distance United States bombers on Guam, reported by Tokyo's radio. The broadcast said "a withering screen of antiaircraft fire" met the attackers Wednesday. On the same day, Tokyo added, 22 Mitchell medium bombers raided Woleai in the western Carolines.

In southeast Asia waves of Japanese troops were reported mowed down in a desperate attack to break roadblocks clamped on central Burmese communications by airborne Allied Chindits.

Light tanks, artillery and mortar fire, bangalores, and banzai charges were employed by the Japanese in futile attempts to crack the irregular 100 mile front

Damage Mounts In Flood Areas

St. Louis Death Toll Now Is Six

(By The Associated Press)

Inland seas of floodwater, fed by a month of almost continuous rain in the Midwest, rolled down the Mississippi river and its western tributaries last night menacing cities, routing lowland residents and ruining badly needed crops.

Seven thousand federal troops, militiamen and Italian prisoners of war labored to save levees along the Mississippi, Missouri and Illinois rivers.

The flood death toll in the St. Louis area climbed to six yesterday when four of 12 employees of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad were drowned as they attempted to ferry across a flooded area which had isolated the railway's roundhouse. Eight of the men swam to safety after their flatboat capsized. Those drowned were Joseph Rochus, O. Roscoe Kuhn, J. W. Cochran and R. L. Whittmore, all residents of St. Louis.

On Monday, two members of the U. S. Coast Guard station were killed when their towboat was crushed by a heavy barge as the men were preparing their craft for flood relief work on the Mississippi.

One Town Evacuated

The Arkansas river, which gave Wichita, Kan., its worst flood earlier this week crested yesterday at Tulsa, Okla., and caused the evacuation of Jenks, a town of 900 a few miles downstream from Tulsa. Southeastern Kansas tributaries of the Arkansas poured in more water below Tulsa to threaten bigger overflows in eastern Oklahoma and western Arkansas.

The Missisippi river, at flood stage for weeks, was at its highest last night in central Missouri. It was two miles wide near Jefferson City and threatened to cut the capital city off from communication to the north.

The weather bureau in Washington said last night that the continued rainfall, excessive moisture in the soil and floods have thrown seasonal farm work as much as three weeks behind normal in many sections.

Hard Blow Dealt German Shipping

Destroyer Sunk, Others Damaged

LONDON, Thursday, April 27. (AP)—A Canadian and British naval force on a pre-invasion patrol in the English channel sank a German destroyer and routed two or three others Wednesday, while British carrier-brone planes about the same time damaged five ships in a German convoy off Bodo in northern Norway, 60 miles above the Arctic Circle, the admiralty announced.

The channel force, consisted of the British cruiser Black Prince, the destroyer Ashanti, and the Canadian destroyers Haida, Athabaskan and Huron, encountered a German flotilla of three or four destroyers of the Elbing class near the Isle De Bas, off the northeast coast of Brittany, France, before dawn Wednesday, an admiralty communique said.

Star Shells Light Scene

The Black Prince illuminated the scene with star shells, and the British and Canadian destroyers opened fire, recording several hits. The Germans altered course, made smoke and tried to flee.

The admiralty said the British ships had minor damage and casualties. The Germans claimed last August to have sunk the Athabaskan, one of the destroyers which got principal credit for the channel victory.

TOKYO PROTESTS U. S. BOMBING OF SHIPS

LONDON, April 26. (AP) — The Tokyo radio quoted a foreign office communique today as saying that Japan would make a strong protest to Washington against alleged American attacks upon Japanese hospital ships.

The protest has been forwarded to the Japanese ambassador to Spain, who will file it through the Spanish foreign office, now representing Japanese interests in the United States, said the broadcast.

It added that at least 15 American attacks against clearly marked Japanese hospital ships had been recorded and said that three protests previously had been registered.

(There has been no evidence to support Japanese claims of American attacks on Japanese hospital ships—claims that apparently are by way of verbal retaliation for American charges of Japanese atrocities against American prisoners.)

Ceiling Price On Heavy Hogs Cut

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—In a move to conserve corn, current ceiling prices on hogs weighing more than 240 pounds will be reduced to 75 cents a hundredweight, effective May 15, the Office of Price administration announced tonight.

The action, which follows closely a War Food administration order restricting the sale of corn to government buyers in 125 Midwest corn belt counties in five states, was taken by OPA in conference with the WFA, the War Production board and the Office of Economic Stabilization.

Discourage Use Of Corn

The reduction in the ceiling is intended, the price agency said, "to discourage the use of corn and other essential grains in bringing hogs up to heavy, uneconomical weights."

Corn saved will be diverted to industrial programs for war needs.

The 75-cent price cut will reduce the Chicago ceiling on hogs weighing more than 240 pounds to $14 per hundredweight.

The average live weight of hogs slaughtered has increased from approximately 232 pounds in 1940 to approximately 254 pounds in 1943, OPA said, and commented:

"Because the hog-corn ratio has favored the production of hogs, particularly in the midwestern states, the natural tendency of producers has been to obtain the highest price they ran for corn by selling it, not as feed, but in the form of live hogs."

NAZI COMMANDER KILLED

LONDON, April 26 (AP)—Col. Gen. Hans Hube, one-armed commander of a Germany Army in Russia and commander in the defense of Sicily, has been killed in a flying accident, the German radio announced today.

Reds Sink Five Transports, Damage Two Off Sevastopol

Romanian Front Reported Aflame

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 27—Blasting at an Axis fleet presumably attempting to evacuate large numbers of the besieged forces at Sevastopol, the Russians have sunk five German and Romanian transports and damaged two others in the past 24 hours, Moscow announced last night.

The Soviet daily communique reported once again "there were no essential changes at the front" during the day, but official German and Romanian announcements said the Red Army had broken the land lull by opening a large-scale offensive yesterday on the Romanian front, scoring local break-throughs which were sealed off.

A supplement to the Soviet communique referred to continued activity southeast of Stanislawow in old Poland, where skirmishing has been reported the past few days. It said about a company of Germans was wiped out and some important heights were captured by Russian tankmen.

In another sector, unidentified, 800 Germans were reported killed and 300 wounded and 20 tanks or self-propelled guns smashed in one of the bloodiest small engagements since the Sevastopol lull set in.

In addition to the action off

Avery Leaves Ward's Plant Under Protest After U. S. Troops Are Sent To Scene

SEWELL L. AVERY

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP)—The government, with the aid of a detachment of troops, took possession tonight of the Chicago units of Montgomery Ward and company after Sewell Avery, chief executive officer of the huge merchandising firm, had rebuffed previous efforts to enforce a presidential order for seizure of the facilities.

Wayne C. Taylor, undersecretary of commerce who was designated as the agent to assume control of the properties here, announced that Avery had left the premises after being assured that business would go on as usual.

Holds Out Seven Hours

Avery capitulated after holding out for almost seven hours against a directive from President Roosevelt authorizing the Commerce department to seize the Chicago mail order plant and other buildings on grounds that management had refused to comply with White House instructions to extend an expired contract with a CIO union.

The dramatic controversy, in progress since noon, reached a climax shortly before 7 p. m., when 32 military policemen equipped with weapons arrived at the firm's headquarters in three trucks. There were some boos and some cheers from a crowd of 1,500 employees and others assembled in the street.

First Lieut. Ludwig Pinchure and three soldiers went to Avery's office while the other troopers were deployed outside the structure.

Taylor told reporters that the Lieutenant informed Avery the place was in possession of the United States government. Avery, he added, reiterated his contention that the proceedings were without legal authority, but donned his coat and hat and departed when he was told the business would not be interrupted.

The trouble stemmed from very's refusal to obey a War Labor board order—and a similar directive from the President—to extend an expired contract with a CIO union.

Secretary of Commerce Jesse Jones made public in Washington a letter he had addressed to Avery. It provided:

Taylor, as the department's agent, is to take possession of the Chicago facilities of Montgomery Ward. Avery and other officers are to comply with the WLB order and to continue their usual operating duties, and are to fly American flags on the firm's buildings "Ordinary operating staff members" are to be retained in their regular capacities.

The day's dramatic developments formed the latest episode in Avery's labor disputes with the President and the CIO during the last two years.

Avery took a defiant stand in

Firm-Jawed Avery Knows Own Mind

CHICAGO, April 26 (AP)—Sewell L. Avery, the Montgomery Ward and company chairman now engaged in a controversy with the United States government, is a man who knows his own mind.

He has fought with his stockholders over his salary and with his executives over company policies, and he has come out on top. A suave man, lank and firm-jawed, looking and acting younger than his 69 years, he has built up a reputation as one of Chicago's best business minds.

Company Badly In Red

Avery was one of the first presidents of U. S. Gypsum company and came to Montgomery Ward in November, 1931, when the big mail order and retail merchandising firm was wallowing around in the depression and making one of the outstanding records in losing money during that period.

Net income of Ward's last year was $20,677,098.

Avery once said he "banana-peeled" into the chairmanship of Ward's. That was in 1936, when stockholders questioned his salary, which at that time amounted to $100,000 a year.

"On the damn salary question," Avery asserted, "I'm not ashamed to talk on it. My incentive in life has not been to make money. But don't try to believe that. If you're successful the money will take care of itself.

"I banana-peeled into this place and then couldn't get out. I made no proposal to Montgomery Ward. I had many things to do in a business I knew something about". Avery then outlined what became of his salary after various tax deductions, and asked, "now, damn it, am I getting too much?"

The stockholders decided he wasn't.

Avery is a director of many corporations, including United States Steel.

German Bomb Hits Air Raid Shelter

LONDON, Thursday, April 27 (AP)—A direct hit on a shelter in a south coast town during a German air raid early today caused many casualties.

The raid was brief, and the all-clear sounded in London without any incidents being reported. There was another uneventful alarm at dusk last night.

Man Confesses Slugging Woman

GROESBECK, Texas, April 26 (AP)—Herman East, 34, of Tehuacana, Texas, was held in Limestone county jail here tonight charged with robbery of Mrs. Agnes Ward Davis, 31, with a deadly weapon.

Mrs. Davis, employe of the Brannon insurance agency at Mexia, who was severely beaten with an iron rod in her office yesterday, was somewhat improved today and was able to recognize her 9-year-old son.

Justice of the Peace G. R. Engledown here, before whom the robbery complaint was filed, dismissed an earlier complaint charging assault with intent to murder, and set $10,000 bond in connection with the robbery charge. East waived preliminary hearing.

In a written statement, signed and witnessed, East told acting County Attorney Norton Fox that he had come to the insurance office, where he formerly worked, on other business, and that he saw Mrs. Davis, cashier, counting money. He stated that he picked up a piece of iron in the office and struck Mrs. Davis over the head.

Returned To His Home

East stated he returned to his home at Tehuacana, took off a pair of shoes that had blood on them, and invited relatives to dinner.

(In Austin, Sheriff Sam Adkins of Limestone county said the state police laboratory had determined that blood found on a connecting rod and a pair of shoes were of the same type. Adkins took the items to Austin for chemical analysis.)

Assistant Chief of Police Marvin Wooten of Mexia reported that $240 of the $259 taken from the insurance office had been recovered at East's residence. East had accompanied officers and assisted in the recovery of the money, Wooten said.

East is married and the father of one child.

U. S. Japs Not To Be Used Against Japan

SAN FRANCISCO, April 26. (AP) — The War department will not use any of the 10,000-Japanese-Americans in U. S. uniform as combat soldiers against the Japanese imperial army because of possible enemy retaliation and "considerable confusion and increasing hazards of enemy infiltration," the Army notified the War Relocation authority today.

Lt. Col. Harrison A. Gerhardt, general staff corps executive to the assistant secretary of war, in a statement sent from Washington to the regional WRA said "the use of Japanese-Americans in specific units is not based upon any discrimination policy."

Colonel Gearhardt's statement was described as "an answer to many requests" of Japanese-American selectees 'who wanted to be assigned to the Pacific war zone."

Limited Acton Flares At Anzio

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, April 26 (AP)—Allied troops have broken the lull on the Anzio bridgehead, improved their positions and have taken prisoners in several limited attacks launched after a combined artillery and propaganda barrage, Allied headquarters announced today.

The Allies lashed out to strengthen their lines as American fliers reported heavy movements of enemy motor transport on the highways near Rome and as officials reports told of enemy replacements from the Russian front reaching the beachhead front.

The gains were scored in the past three days, headquarters announced, a mile and a half northeast of Carano, where the Germans launched their latest big offensive against the bridgehead forces. The Allies first directed a propaganda talk at the German lines through amplifiers, and 50 prisoners were taken.

Persuasive Talk

The most recent batch of prisoners, numbering nine, was taken yesterday, four coming in after a persuasive loudspeaker talk.

Deferred Men Face Pressure

Contribution To War Is Required

WASHINGTON, April 26. (AP)—Selective Service embarked today on an extensive campaign to persuade men unfit for military service or more than 37 years old to take jobs "making a contribution" to the war.

The inducement is occupational deferment.

Draft boards are receiving the first set in a series of regulations carrying out a new policy on militarily-unacceptable men, announced a month ago by Draft Director Lewis B. Hershey.

"Making a contribution" — a phrase occurring repeatedly in the new regulations—is approximately the same as being on the War Manpower commission's list of 35 essential activities ,though in borderline cases the draft board must use its own judgement.

Mandatory Rule

The new rules make it mandatory to place men into occupationally-deferred classes, if they are making a war contribution, instead of placing them in:

4-F as physically, mentally or morally unfit;

1-A-L as fit for limited service only; or some class showing the man's age is 38 to 45 years, such as 1-A (H).

Men already in 4-F or 1-A-L are entitled to occupational deferments if they apply for them and if they are "making a contribution."

The new rules also affect class 1-C, which includes men in the armed forces and men discharged for physical or mental disability. When a man is discharged he will be given an occupational deferment if he gets into an essential job.

Discharged Subject To Call

The fact that a man is discharged never has exempted him from being drafted again if the reasons for his discharge disappear.

These war-important men who otherwise would be 4-F, 1-A-L or 1-C will be classified in one of these groups:

2-A as making a contribution in support of the war effort;

2-B as making a contribution to war production;

2-C as making a contribution in agriculture.

In each case the designation (F) will be placed after the registrant's classification — for example 2-A (F). His case will be reopened at least every six months, like the cases of other men with job deferments.

Men 38 to 45 years who are put into 2-A, 2-B, or 2-C will have (H) after the classification to show their over-age status. Some men in that age group already are classed 2-A, 2-B, or 2-C but heretofore such man had to be a "necessary man," whereas now if he makes a "contribution" to the war it will be enough.

Anti-FDR Feeling In South Is Reported

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP) — John U. Barr, national president of the "draft Byrd for president" movement, said today feeling in the South was so strong against a fourth term that a "sizeable number" of southern delegates would walk out of the Democratic convention should an attempt be made to draft President Roosevelt.

Barr, who has just completed a 10-day southern tour, told a press conference the movement to nominate Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) for president has gained "tremendous momentum."

Methodists Told Righteous World Organization Needed

KANSAS CITY, April 26 (AP)—The world's 8,000,000 Methodists "must rise up and demand an international organization which will make another war impossible," Bishop Arthur Moore of Atlanta told 762 delegates at the church's quadrennial general conference tonight.

Bishop Moore, delivering the prepared report of the council of 54 Methodist bishops, declared that the "moral judgment of civilized people is demanding an ordered, righteous and effective world organization," and warned against the disposition that comes after every war to "relax and swing back to isolationism and self-centered materialism."

No specific plans for a post-war organization were disclosed by the bishop, but he said that the first group may necessarily include only the victors, adding that the exclusion of the defeated nations must be only temporary.

This report of the bishops, which sums up Methodist advancements and retreats in the four years since their last meeting and their plans and hopes for the future, disclosed that the church's membership had increased by 318,822. But Bishop Moore, who before he was elected a bishop in 1930 averaged 600 personal converts a year, wasn't satisfied with this figure. 'It leaves us wondering why," he boomed, "with so many millions of unchurched in America, a church of our evangelistic traditions has not been able to win many more members."

Butter Points Reduced And Other Ration Changes Made

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP)—Butter will be reduced to 12 red points a pound effective Sunday, through June 3, Price Administrator Chester Bowles announced tonight.

Butter has been 16 points since October.

The same order cut the ration price of margarine from 6 to 2 red points, also effective Sunday.

Point value for farm or country butter will be reduced to 8 points per pound and processed butter to 4 points. Shortening, lard, salad and cooking oils continue point free in May.

Points for choice cuts of beef go up slightly next month, but lamb and mutton points will be reduced 50 per cent to permit quicker distribution of shipments of light weight lambs because of drouth conditions. Veal points remain the same and pork about the same as for April.

Lowering the point value for butter is possible because of seasonally increased production which is at the best level since last September, Bowles said.

"A month ago, the War Food administration allocated 151,000,000 pounds of butter to us for distribution to civilians in April or 13,000,000 pounds more than we got in April last year," he continued.

"Throughout the current month, sales appear to have been running below production."

About 145,000,000 pounds of butter have been allocated for

Starved Dogs Said Turned On Prisoners

NEW YORK, April 26. (AP)—A London dispatch to the Polish Telegraph agency today quoted a Pole who escaped from a Nazi prison camp that American prisoners were "machine-gunned indiscriminately whenever they approached the barbed wire fence" by German guards.

The dispatch said the escaped Pole had been in German hands for three years and recently arrived in Britain. He was quoted that at one time the guards turned hungry police dogs loose on the Americans.

The Pole, according to the PTA, said he frequently saw Russian prisoners shot by the Germans, and many more beaten to death with rifle butts.

War Production Expected To Reach Peak By August

WASHINGTON, April 26. (U.P.)—War Production Board Chairman Donald M. Nelson predicted today that the peak of war material production will not be reached until August, and said that no appreciable increase in civilian goods production can be expected until "after the German phase of the war is over."

He testified before the Senate small business complaints subcommittee — one of three Congressional groups which held simultaneous hearings on the related problems of industrial reconversion and postwar planning.

Murray Urges Provisions

A Senate military affairs subcommittee heard President Philip Murray of the Congress of Industrial Organizations urge enactment of provisions for federal compensation to civilians to tide them over during the period of industrial transition from wartime to peacetime production.

Murray also asked that Congress recommend to industry and labor that workers be guaranteed a weekly and annual minimum wage in the immediate postwar period. Agricultural prices have been guaranteed a floor of 90 per cent of parity for two years following the war, and industry is guaranteed relief from declining income by means of tax refunds, Murray said, so labor should be similarly protected."

WPB's Goal Is Explained

The third group—the House roads committee—heard Carter W. Atkins, of the Connecticut public expenditures council, urge a "flexible" postwar public construction program which could be turned on or off as needed to help stabilize the nation's economy in the trassition period.

Nelson testified that the WPB's goal is to furnish adequate supplies for the armed forces, regardless of civilian needs.

"That's been our policy and that's going to continue to be our policy," he said. "We are just approaching the greatest phase of this war—the time when we are going to meet the enemy with really large forces, and no one can predict what our economy is going to be.

Can't Take Chances

"The armed services tell us they need this materiel and until the invasion is brought off successfully, we can take no chances by producing civilian goods."

Nelson said the War Production record to date was achieved last November and December when it totaled $6,800,000,000 a month. The first two months of this year, he said, it dropped to $5,700,000,000 a month, then rose in March to $5,900,000,000.

"We must do better than that for the balance of the year," he said. "We will have to have in August a higher peak than last November-December."

Making Tractors Now

Asked by Sen. Kenneth S. Wheery, R., Neb., if he planned to order manufacture of any more automobiles, Nelson replied, "No, sir, not until the German phase of the war is over."

Asked if he contemplated any increases in farm tractor production, Nelson said, "We now are making 5,300 tractors a week, more than twice as many as last year."

"We haven't got everything everybody wants and we can't have as long as we have a war," he added.

This announcement, she stated, came from Maj. Gen. J. M. Bevans, assistant chief of air staff in the personnel division in a recruiter's review published periodically for recruiting personnel throughout the nation.

Local women interested in joining the WAC are urged to visit the Army recruiting station on the second floor of the postoffice building or phone 6212 for individual appointments in their homes.

Altus' Only Laundry Is Burned To Ground

ALTUS, Okla., April 26 (U.P.)—Altus' only laundry burned to the ground today.

The fire, starting sometime before 1:30 a. m. swept the entire plant, which was 25 years old. Firemen had it under control at 5 a. m. More than 2,000 bundles of laundry were lost in the blaze.

Owners Roy Mann and Bill Wyman estimated the loss at $40,000.

The laundry had been doing most of the work for men stationed at the Altus Army Flying field, as well as the community's washing and ironing.

Mann said that probably 50 per cent of the machinery in the plant can be rebuilt.

Houston Man Kills Bride Then Suicides

HOUSTON, April 26 (AP)—George Albert Mobley, 35, fired three bullets into the body of his bride, Marnice, 30, fatally wounding her, then killed himself in their three-room apartment here last night.

The shooting occurred as the young woman he maried March 13 helped him pack his belongings preparatory to a separation. He talked with her in an effort to effect a reconciliation, according to police, and failing, pulled a pistol and started firing.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Levie Hardy, who lived with them in the small apartment, was a witness to the tragedy.

She looked on with horror as her daughter, screaming for mercy, collapsed under the fire from the pistol. Her son-in-law then quitely sat down on a couch and fired a bullet into his heart, killing himself instantly, she told police.

An inquest verdict of murder and suicide was returned by Justice of the Peace W. C. Ragan.

MONTGOMERY WARD'S REPLY TO THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES

MR. PRESIDENT:

We have your telegram of April 23, 1944.

Wards welcomes the suggestion that an election be held at an early date to determine the employees' choice of representation. The question whether the union represents a majority of the employees in Wards' mail order house and store in Chicago has been pending since November 16, 1943. Wards has repeatedly urged a prompt determination of this question, and has publicly announced a readiness to recognize the union when proof of its representation is presented. Although over five months have elapsed since the question arose, the union has refused to show that it is the majority choice of the employees by either a card check or an election.

Wards will continue to observe the wages, hours, and related terms of employment as they were before the expiration of the former contract. Wards has made no change in any of these conditions since December 8, 1942, and could not do so under the wage stabilization law without prior governmental approval.

Your assertion that the strike is interfering with the distribution of essential goods is based upon misinformation. On April 13, the United States Post Office, presumably acting on orders from Washington, removed its seventy employees from the mail order house. For more than thirty years the post office had maintained this department for the purpose of handling parcel post shipments to Ward's customers. On April 17, the United States post office refused to deliver to Wards incoming parcels from customers on which postage had been fully paid. Despite the assistance given to the strike by the United States post office, Wards' store has been open for business during the usual hours each day since the strike began and Wards is up to date in the filling of mail orders.

Although Wards welcomes an early election, Wards cannot, under the law, grant special privileges to the union pending the election. To grant maintenance of union membership before the election is held, as the War Labor board has ordered, would not only violate the employees' fundamental liberty of free choice but it would also permit the union to demand the discharge of all the employees who have resigned from the union since December 8, 1943. Compliance with the board's order would thus make a mockery of the democratic right of employees to choose their bargaining representatives freely and without interference.

By ordering the retroactive reinstatement of maintenance of membership, the War Labor board has demonstrated its utterly unfair character, and its complete disregard of the command of Congress that its orders conform to the National Labor Relations Act.

Wards' experience with the War Labor board over a period of two years has convinced Wards that the board is a means by which special privileges are granted to labor unions. The union members of the War Labor board are men chosen for leadership by the unions, and have actually advanced the interests of the unions. The so-called public members have consistently joined with the union members to support the demands of organized labor. The so-called industry members are committed to a policy of supporting the majority vote of the union members and the union-dominated public members.

The War Labor board has always claimed that its orders are law and must be obeyed. It has coerced innumerable employers into acceptance of its orders by threatening the seizure of their businesses.

When Wards brought suit to have the board's orders declared illegal, the board asked the courts to dismiss the case. IN DIRECT CONTRADICTION TO ITS PREVIOUS CLAIMS OF POWER, THE BOARD'S PLEA TO THE COURT WAS THAT ITS ORDERS WERE NOT "LEGALLY BINDING", BUT WERE ONLY "ADVICE" WHICH WARDS NEED NOT ACCEPT. The purpose of this plea was to deny Wards a trial before the courts. The issues raised by Wards' case against the War Labor board are judicial questions which under the Constitution only the courts may decide. The War Labor board, by asking you to force Wards to comply with its order while seeking to deprive Wards of an opportunity for a hearing in the courts, has demonstrated its lack of respect for our Constitution and the fundamental rights which the Constitution guarantees.

Your assertion that, if Wards does not accept your direction, you will take further action, has been construed by the press to threaten the seizure of Wards' plant and business.

The Constitution of the United States guarantees to the people the protection of those fundamental rights without which there can be no liberty. Under the Constitution, Congress is the sole law-making authority. Neither the President of the United States nor any other official has the legal right to seize any business or property either in time of peace or in time of war unless Congress has expressly given him the power to do so.

Congress has given the President no power to seize the non-war business of Montgomery Ward. Any seizure of Ward's plant or business would be in complete disregard of the Constitution which the President is sworn to uphold and defend.

Wards has violated no law nor denied to the union any privilege to which it is legally entitled.

Respectfully

MONTGOMERY WARD & CO.

Commando Kelly And Other "Texans" Are Convincing

By KENNETH L. DIXON
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, April 19 (Delayed)—You can put it down in your little book that Sgt. Kelly did sling those 60 mm. mortar shells like grenades at the Germans at Altavilla, regardless what the experts say.

DIXON

And if you want to argue the matter, argue it with 36th division yourself. I won't. Those Texans just love to convince somebody. I'm c-c-c-convinced.

Kelly, you may recall, is Tech Sgt. Charles Edward Kelly, otherwise known as "Commando" Kelly, "Killer" Kelly and "Slaughter" Kelly. He hails from Pittsburgh, but some of the best Texans in the 36th division hail from places like Pittsburgh. He won the Congressional Medal of Honor for killing something like 35 Germans back at Altavilla last September and that was only one of his many exploits.

Experts Doubt Story

The story about his decorations said he knocked out five of the Germans by tossing 60 mm. mortar shells out a window at them and then the argument started. Some experts said it couldn't be done. Others said "but not under those circumstances."

Still others said "or, that's just another tall Texas tale."

Which was a mistake. By this time Kelly had departed for the states on rotation but the honor of the 36th division was at stake so today they staged a demonstration with a Texan named Lt. Salvatore Uzze of Chicago, Ill., officiating at the TNT table.

Among those present were various ordinance experts, a couple of nervous newspapermen and Major General Fred L. Walker, the 36th division commander who knew all the time it could be done.

Explosive Removed

In order to keep from eliminating all the witnesses to the demonstration Uzze removed the half pound of explosives from the shells but left the detonator charge in place. Even experts agree that as goes the detonator so goes the whole shell.

If you're interested in technical aspects, he then removed the outer safety lock, the propulsion charges and the cap which sets off the propulsion charges—just as Kelly could have done.

Then while strong men flinched he grabbed the thin missile around its fat middle and banged its bottom against a nearby concrete wall whereupon more technical developments transpired. The secondary safety lock was knocked out by the jar. Then he dripped the shell on its nose and the detonator exploded.

Finer Points Wasted

Lt. Uzze went on to explain that a misunderstanding over how a mortar shell operates was the cause of the argument. But the finer points of his dissertation were wasted on most of his audience because he kept banging more shells on their bottoms and then dropping them on their noses. It was distracting.

He also explained that Sgt. Kelly, besides knowing his mortar shells, must have known what a chance he was taking banging the loaded ones around. One of them might have hit a pebble and gone off in his hands, in which case any Kelly award would of necessity have been posthumous.

Or just the propulsion charges would have gone off, which would have scorched the Sergeant more than somewhat. However, he had burned out all his guns and the Germans were coming, and he probably decided it was six of one and a half dozen of another.

Anyway, Honor Saved

Anyhow, the honor of Kelly and the 36th division has been saved (not that it ever needed saving) by the Texan from Chicago who convinced the experts here today that the Texan from Pittsburgh could have done it.

And any other doubting experts haven't got a leg left to stand on—for they weren't there at Altavilla, and Commando Kelly was.

Eire's Shipping To Lisbon Halted

By EDWARD MURRAY
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 26—Eire's shipping to Lisbon, it was understood in Dublin today, has been halted and strife-torn Denmark was isolated as both the Allies and the Axis stepped up their preparations for the battle of Europe.

Dublin advices said British authorities were understood to have refused to issue navicerts to Eire's vessels bound for Lisbon, which if true would mean a break in one of Eire's last links with the continent.

Eire Virtually Cut Off

The Allies already had virtually cut Eire off from the outside world to prevent any leak of information on military operations preparatory to the invasion.

Meanwhile, a broadcast German communique reported that heavy Nazi bomber formations last night attacked concentrations in the harbors of southeast England.

King George received Prime Minister Winston Churchill at Buckingham palace today for their second conference within 24 hours.

Denmark Isolated

Stockholm reports said Germany had completed the isolation of Denmark by cutting telegraph communications with Sweden 48 hours after suspending telephone service.

The reports told of sabotage and violence mounting hourly in Denmark, with German armored cars patroling the streets of Copenhagen and "shooting incidents" in several places.

One Stockholm dispatch described the German isolation of Denmark as designed to cover up "sweeping counter-blows against the underground." The Nazis were said to have set up machine gun nests and barricades at strategic points in Copenhagen, and decreed the death penalty for the possession of firearms.

Some sections of Copenhagen were reported completely blocked off in connection with a wholesale search for saboteurs. Thirty to 40 acts of sabotage in the last 24 hours were reported.

Swedish sailors returning from Germany reported that Baltic shipping had been brought almost to a standstill as a result of mass mine laying by the Allies. The mines were described as of new types "which are almost impossible to detect."

A tralleborg dispatch to the newspaper Dagens Nyheter said that Baltic shipping "never before has been so obviously disrupted."

On the other side of the continent, the Nazis were reported from Ankara to have established in Vienna a "central control" over all telephone and telegraph service in the Balkans. The Ankara dispatch quoted travelers as saying that all Balkan communications with the outside world must be routed through Vienna, regardless of destination.

Brief Bits Of Local News

Climaxing an enthusiastic meeting at the negro USO center Monday night, at which members of the WAC recruiting office showed films and gave informational talks, Inez Crigler, wife of E. W. Crigler, negro minister, of 2004 E. Avenue B, became the latest recruit to join the ranks of the Women's Army Corps. She has completed her examinations and will leave for Fort Des Moines, Iowa, shortly for her basic training, upon completion of which she will be assigned in an administrative capacity with a negro unit somewhere within the continental limits of the United States. She is the daughter of John McCullough and wife of Lubbock. Crigler, who was very enthusiastic in his praise of the work being done by the WAC, said that because he was unable to be a member of the armed forces, his wife was taking his place.

Eight judgments from county court were on file Wednesday afternoon. Aaron Roberson, jr., was fined $30 and costs for aggravated assault on C. Koen with a knife. Freeman F. Foster was fined $50 and costs for operating a motor vehicle while his operator's license was suspended. Ruth Wilson, Edith Thompson and De-Witt Patterson were fined $100 and costs each for liquor law violation, Willie Mason, Otho Moore and Thomas McCutcheon $1 and costs each for gambling. All defendants pleaded guilty, according to County Judge G. V. Pardue.

Friends here have been advised of the death of Mrs. F. C. Ford, of Duncan, Okla., mother of Mrs. Fred C. Hackel and Mrs. Russell C. Ray of Lubbock. Mrs. Ford died at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. Funeral services will be held in Duncan this afternoon at 5 o'clock. Mr. and Mrs. Ray and son, Devern, and Mrs. Ford's granddaughter, Mrs. Allan Ray Marcus, left Wednesday to attend the rites. Mr. and Mrs. Hackel were in the Oklahoma city on business at the time of her mother's death which was unexpected. She had visited here last month.

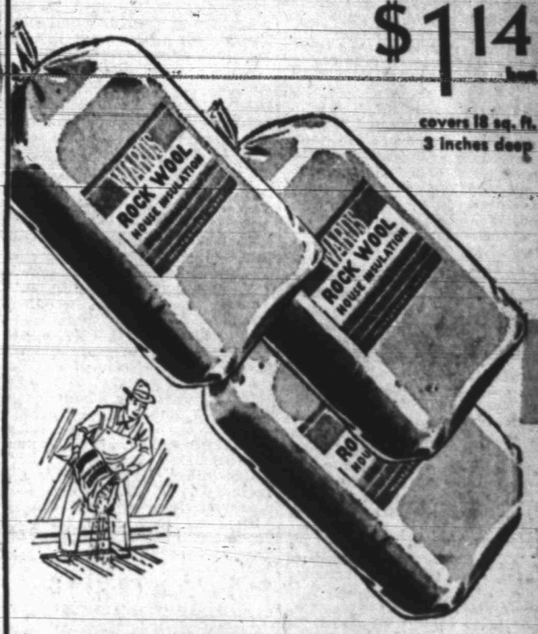

Mrs. H. S. Denton, 311 Avenue U, returned Wednesday from a six-week visit with her two sons, Raymond U. Denton of Washington, D.C., and Capt. Louis E. Denton of Gainesville, who is stationed at Camp Howze. She also visited in Oklahoma City, Shawnee, Okla., and Wichita Falls.

Charged with failure to fill out and return questionnaire to his local draft board in Houston, Telesforo Zuniga, alias Felix Garcia, 31, is in the county jail, according to Olive Fluke, U. S. commissioner of the Lubbock division of the northern district of Texas. Mrs. Fluke set bond at $1,000 returnable to Houston.

The Woman's Angle

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

THIS is National Baby week and about the most sensible article we've seen yet concerning the little fellows is one on a proposed "Babies' Bill of Rights," wherein every little mite would be permitted to choose his own monicker.

Arlene Wolf, Associated Press features writer, says some day a bill is to be written by misnamed, unhappy grown-up infants. The first provision, she says, will prohibit parents from naming their children. The second will make it illegal for grandma, Aunt Fanny or other interested parties to think about any mite's name. The last will make it baby's responsibility to find a name for himself—when he reaches the age of reason.

The passage of this bill, according to Miss Wolf, will immediately transform the world into a Utopia where all babies are called Snooks. It will "promote peace. Parental pre-natal fights will disappear and the phrase, "It's my baby as well as yours" will go out of existence.

"Split personalities will vanish because no man who feels like a Joe will have to live up to Gaylord or Abernathy. All Priscillas and Faiths will look exactly as you'd expect Priscillas and Faiths to look and act."

The self-tagged man of the future, according to Miss Wolf, will be happier than his ancestors. He won't have to go through life avoiding monograms because his high-sounding name, Melville Ulysses Gray, boils down to plain M.U.G. He'll know there is plenty in a name—particularly if it's his own.

IF YOU have read the list of guests at a child's birthday party or taught Sunday school in the nursery department, you know what Miss Wolf is talking about. A knowledge of phonetics helps in pronouncing and spelling some of those names.

Having a silly sounding or ugly or impossible name is not funny to the person who is the victim. Names posted during the draft brought to light secrets some men had hidden since childhood. Sometimes these names parents tack on their children in honor of relatives or statesmen or movie stars show up on life insurance premiums and once office coworkers learn of them their owners know no peace.

How many persons of your acquaintance either dropped one of his names or changed his name after he was grown? We can think of dozens of such cases.

ONE YOUNG MAN, a former Tech student and now a respected citizen of the ranching section near San Angelo, was given the privilege of choosing a name since he was about twelfth in the family and his parents had run out of names. He was called "Bud" until he had made this important decision and one day when he was in the first grade he came home and announced his name was to be "George Washington" Smith.

"Why do you want to be called George Washington?" his mother asked.

"Because I like Mr. Washington," Bud answered.

That seemed a good enough reason and the name stuck, although since he has reached manhood he dropped the Washington in favor of the initial "W."

ON VOTING

ALTHOUGH we are not a militant suffragist by a long shot, we are interested in encouraging women to go to the polls this year and in this ambition we are not alone. Irene Helen Clark, chairman of the legislative committee of one of the Business and Professional Women's clubs in New York has adapted a lusty rendering of the celebrated "Mairzy Doats" song, with the idea of stimulating the club members to a more energetic use of their political rights as citizens. Miller Music corporation gave her permission and Miss Clark's song runs as follows:

Oh Maizie votes and Lizzie votes
And Uncle Josh and wifey,
The kids'll be voting, too,
How about you?

Yes Susie writes and Gussie writes,
Then Congressmen step lively.
Our boys write Senators, too,
Why not you?

If you think you're not important enough
Please change your mind in a hurry,
Vote, vote each time and fall in line,
Make dictators grey with worry.

Oh Maizie votes and Lizzie votes
And Uncle Josh and wifey
The kids'll be voting, too,
How about you?

Yes Kids'll be voting, too,
How about you?

War Department Disavows Patton's World Rule Talk

WASHINGTON, April 26 (AP) — The War department today pointedly disowned Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's remarks that Americans, British and Russians are destined "to rule the world."

Reacting swiftly to the statement, which caused a fresh flurry of criticism of the general in Congress, Secretary Stimson issued a memorandum stating:

"General Patton was expressing his own personal views. He was not speaking for the War department."

Response To Query

This was in response to the following written query submitted to the secretary by the Associated Press:

"Does the War department approve General Patton's Anglo-Russo-American 'manifest destiny' team to rule the world?"

Patton, already in the bad graces of many congressmen because of the soldier-slapping incident in which he figured during the conquest of Sicily, made the remark yesterday at the opening of a service club in England and aroused anew the ire of legislators.

Rep. Knutson (R-Minn.) told the House today that "such statements serve only one purpose—and that is to prolong the war." He added that they would unite the enemy in determination to fight "to the bitter end."

Shooting Off His Head

Chairman Sumners (D-Tex.) of the House Judiciary committee joined the brief discussion with the comment that the general "has been shooting off his head again." He added:

"If the American people will do less talking we will do much better. We need a general buttoning up of our mouths."

Rep. Mundt (R-S. D.) said Patton had "succeeded in slapping the face of every one of the United Nations except Great Britain," and called the general "another spokesman for the State department coterie."

Mundt's comments were made on the basis of the first version of the Patton speech in which the British Press association quoted him as mentioning only Britain and the United States as destined for world rule. Patton himself said he had named Russia, too.

War's Cost Is More Than Twice That Of Last War's Figure

ST. LOUIS, April 26 (AP)—All the belligerent governments have spent almost $1,000,000,000,000 (trillion) on World war II, more than twice what the last war cost.

Roy F. Hendrickson, deputy director general of the United Nations Relief and Rehabilitation administration, presented this estimate today of the war's cost in money alone in a speech prepared for the annual convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

Allied war costs for 1944 are more than 150 billion dollars, Hendrickson figures. Up to now, he said, the allies and the Axis have had to spend about the same amount on the war, but Allied costs are advancing faster.

JUDGE GILLIS BURIED

CAMERON, April 26 (U.P.) — Funeral services were held here this afternoon for Dist. Judge W. Graham Gillis, 63, who died at his home here late Monday. Before becoming judge of 20th judicial district in 1930, Judge Gillis had been Milam county school superintendent, county judge and representative in the state legislature.

DSC Award Given To O'Donnell Sergeant

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, April 26. (U.P.)—Two officers and two enlisted men of the 36th "Texas" division were awarded Distinguished Service Crosses yesterday for heroism in and around Cassino last February.

They included: Capt. Carl Matney, Vernon, Tex.; and Tech. Sgt. Robert Healer, O'Donnell, Tex.

Matney, who was leading a company advance in Cassino, sneaked ahead of his men to hurl grenades into a machine gun nest, killing one German and wounding three, to clear the way for further advance.

DIES OF INJURIES

DALLAS, April 26 (U.P.)—Dallas county's traffic toll for the year mounted to 20 today with the death of Miss Lela Gayle Jensen, 20, who died of injuries suffered when the automobile in which she was a passenger crashed into the rear end of a trailer truck on the Fort Worth highway.

MAYBE... Radio will route your future car

BUT... OIL-PLATING YOUR ENGINE is like outdoing the future—today

One thing won't be any different in any new cars. Whatever else is changed, as long as there's engine combustion it must produce dreaded corrosive acids.

The acid-fighter you'll want then is fortunately here even now!—for the engine that must still see you through. Right today it can have anti-corrosive OIL-PLATING!

OIL-PLATING is easy to do. In making your much-needed oil change this Spring simply make sure to get Conoco Nth motor oil—popular-priced. Here's oil that OIL-PLATES, because it includes the advanced synthetic whose action suggests strong "magnetism." This makes inner surfaces attract and hold OIL-PLATING, refusing to let it all promptly drain down to the crankcase.

Then instead of hoping to fight acid with the thorough engine heat made possible only by steady driving, you can fight acid right along!—because the protection of OIL-PLATING continues during cool starts and all your short cool runs. That's when acid can gnaw worst, except for corrosion-resistant OIL-PLATING—the big advance your engine can have today, as you change to Conoco Nth for Spring, at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station.

Dewey Lengthens GOP Lead; Fourth Termers Gain Also

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

Pennsylvania Republicans in nearly complete returns yesterday from Tuesday's presidential primary gave Gov. Thomas E. Dewey at least 16 times as many write-in votes as his nearest contender in a field of seven and installed him a heavy favorite for the state's 70 unpledged delegates.

The 70 delegates in an organization meeting May 20 will decide whether to come out definitely for Dewey or some other candidate in advance of the national convention.

Fourth Termers Pleased

Advocates of a fourth term for President Roosevelt saw cause for satisfaction in late returns from the Massachusetts primary. The forces of former Governor Joseph B. Ely, fourth term opponent, elected pledged delegates with only two convention votes out of the state's 34, plus an indefinite few unpledged but known Ely supporters. The remainder are unpledged but a big majority are placed by party leaders in the Roosevelt columns.

The 35 Republican delegates elected Tuesday in Massachusetts also are unpledged, but three are known to favor Gov. Leverett Saltonstall for the presidential nomination. The others are undeclared as to nominee preferences.

Colorado Republicans did the only delegate-picking yesterday. They named 15 which under state party rules must go uninstructed. The delegation is described by party leaders, however, as strongly pro-Dewey.

Total Chosen Now 624

The addition of Colorado's 15 brought the total top delegates selected to date to 624 out of a convention total of 1,059. The Democrats have named 430 of their 1,176.

The relative standing today of the Republican presidential candidate prospects in pledged delegates and delegates claimed for them publicly was:

Gov. Dewey 209, Lt. Comdr. Stassen 34, Gov. Willis, Ky. 22, Gov. Griswold, Neb. 6, Gov. Saltonstall, Mass. 3, Gen. MacArthur 3, unpledged and unclaimed 347. Total 624.

Democratic delegates standing to date:

Roosevelt 363, Ely 3, unpledged and unclaimed 64. Total 430.

A total of 589 will be needed to nominate in the Democratic convention.

civilian use in May as compared with 135,000,000 in May, 1943.

The anticipated meat supply for civilians in May is 1,414,296,000 pounds compared with 1,233,900,000 pounds in April.

Most steak goes up a point a pound because of demands. Flank steak, however, will be reduced from 12 points to 10. Rib round tip and rump (bone in) beef roasts go up 1 point a pound, and rump boneless roasts will be 2 points higher. Hamburger will stay at 6 points.

Lamb and mutton steaks and chops will be reduced 3 and 4 points, roast 2 and 3, stews and other cuts 2.

Lamb and mutton breast, flank, neck and shank will be point free for the month.

Spareribs will go back on rationing at one point a pound at the request of the meat trade which reported supplies sold too fast and inequitably while they were point-free.

Variety meats beef and veal heart sweetbreads and tongue will be reduced 1 point per pound.

Types three and four bologna and frankfurters go down a point, and some sausage items including head cheese, souse and scrapple become point free. Some ready-to-eat meats will be reduced 1 to 2 points, and dry beef in containers goes from 16 to 12 points a pound.

The new point values per pound and the number of points change from the old values follow:

his office in a half hour conference with Wayne C. Taylor, undersecretary of commerce, and Ugo Carusi, an assistant attorney general. They shook hands in friendly fashion; then closed the door.

Presently Taylor and Carusi, seemingly disappointed, emerged.

"I tendered to him (Avery) a certified copy of a Presidential order authorizing me to take over the management of the Montgomery Ward and company plant and its facilities in Chicago," Taylor told newsmen.

"Mr. Avery stated that he does not recognize the legality of my authority, and that for various reasons which he said he had outlined to the President in his telegram of yesterday, Mr. Avery has declined to accede to my demand."

Taylor left the premises, saying he would report to Commerce Secretary Jesse Jones.

Avery, obviously grim, declined to comment, but John Barr, an attorney for the firm, opined the next move was "up to the government."

Sevastopol, the Russians announced that in the Barents Sea in the Arctic, Soviet aircraft had encountered "a large group of German transports sailing under convoy of warships, cutters and fighters" and that despite bad visibility the Russian airmen sank four of the transports totalling 20,000 tons. The Russians did not say which way this convoy was moving.

Other Vessels Sunk

In the two naval-air clashes 2,000 miles apart the Russians reported a total of nine German transports totalling 33,000 tons sunk, with numerous smaller vessels sunk and damaged.

The five enemy transports, with a total displacement of 13,000 tons, were sunk reportedly with a barge and two patrol ships along the Axis lines of communication farther out at sea. Two other transports were declared to have been badly damaged.

The Barents Sea action began with discovery of the convoy several days ago, said the Soviet communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor from a broadcast. The Russian pilots "made five consecutive low-level bombing and torpedo attacks on the enemy ships," and in addition to the four transports, two patrol ships and a patrol cutter also were sunk, it said. Two transports were declared seriously damaged. Ten German planes were shot down and six Russian planes were lost, Moscow said.

79 Planes Downed

Although the Russians reported no ground changes the intensity of the sparring for each small position all along the front was indicated by the Moscow communique's statement that 52 German tanks were destroyed or disabled on all fronts Tuesday, and 79 enemy airplanes shot out of the air.

German and Romanian announcements said the Russian offensive was opened in the lower Dnestr area and aimed at the Bessarabian capital of Chisinau and the Galati gap between the Carpathians and the Danube, control of which would wrest most of the Balkans from the Axis.

of the Chindits. Machine guns and the Air Commando force of Col. Philip Cochran smashed the attacks. In the end, Japanese gravediggers were found dead beside half completed graves dug for their slain companions.

To the north, American-trained Chinese continued their slow advance down the Mogaung valley while 150 miles to the west the Japanese threat to the British Indian bases of Kohima and Imphal steadily faded before Allied tank and infantry attacks.

Eten, Param, Moen, Tol and Dublon were blasted in the most extensive raid by Central Pacific bombers on Truk's highly fortified central Carolines islands. Three other Caroline islands also were attacked, including Ponape.

Army and Navy bombers made use of a new break in the North Pacific fogs to strike on successive nights at the Paramushiro naval base, Shumushu and Matsuwa in the northern Kuriles. Each night four-engined American planes loosed bombs within 960 miles of Tokyo.

Prisoners taken in the bridgehead action said the Germans' water was bad and their food had deteriorated in recent weeks. They reported German casualties had been heavy.

The land fronts in Italy except for the bridgehead were quiet.

The German raido broadcast accounts of a "fierce air battle" over northwest Germany. Only one American bomber formation, however, reported even seeing enemy aircraft. They did not attack.

Rail Yards Pounded

American air force headquarters disclosed today that railroads and freight yards at Mannheim and Landau were among targets hit yesterday by American heavies and that in simultaneous attacks on three Nazi air fields in occupied France, 20 enemy aircraft were destroyed or damaged on the ground.

Late today it was announced the new P-38 American Lightning fighter bombers attacked an enemy air field in France today without loss while P-47 Thunderbolt fighter bombers dive-bombed a rail center west of Paris, losing one.

A&M Investigation To Reopen Today

AUSTIN, April 26. (AP)—A special Senate committee's investigation of administration of Texas A. & M. college reopens at College Station tomorrow when Dr. T. O. Walton, former A. & M. president, will testify.

Chairman Penrose Metcalfe of San Angelo said the committee also would hear at College Station testimony from members of the college board of directors who have not already been heard and testimony of certain employes.

Dr. Walton last March made the first public disclosure that his acceptance of the post of president emeritus of the college last year followed failure of the board to re-elect him president. When he made this disclosure he said he had placed his case for continued activity with the school in the hands of his attorneys.

U. S. Fleet To Exceed All Others Combined

ANNAPOLIS, Md., April 26 (AP) —Rear Admiral Earle W. Mills, assistant chief of the bureau of ships, declared today that "the end of this war will see the U. S. Navy's fighting fleets at greater strength than that of all the fleets of the world combined."

Addressing the eighth class of reserve midshipmen to be commissioned at the United States Naval academy, Admiral Mills said that "during 1943 alone, nearly 600 fighting ships were added to the line, with 18,000 additional craft of every description to support them and the rest of the fleet."

Latest Draft Front Doings: Delay For Over-26 Likely

By D. W. DITTMER
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 26. — House Military Affairs committee members predicted today that barring unforeseen military emergencies, men inducted into service for the rest of the year will consist largely of those under 26.

They emphasized, however, that their forecast covered only men in essential industries — that older men and fathers in non-essential jobs have no assurances and may possibly be called up in sizeable numbers.

Chairman John M. Costello, D., Calif., of a military affairs subcommittee on draft deferments, said April 1 manpower figures submitted by Selective Service indicated that:

1. The nation still has a "tremendous" manpower pool available for military service.

2. Virtually all men inducted this year will be non-fathers and younger men unless "strategic plans require unusually large calls in some months." Men in non-essential work are exceptions.

Costello gave this picture of the draft situation: From now until Dec. 31, the armed forces will need 1,385,000 men. Between 585,000 and 630,000 will be available by then from the ranks of youths reaching the draft age. The difference must be made up from older men now in or to be classified 1-A.

Costello said that as of April 1, the 1-A classification included 2,259,000—of whom 750,000 were non-fathers. Added to that were 649,000 men in 3-A and 3-B—627,000 of whom were fathers—who are being reclassified.

Aside from youths reaching the draft age, Selective Service will concentrate on heretofore deferred men in the under-26 bracket. Then will come the older men, including non-fathers, in non-essential jobs. These are expected to fill the bulk of the needs, indicating that most men 26 and over in essential jobs will not be called.

Costello emphasized again that the entire outlook was dependent on no great change in the military situation from present estimates.

Col. Francis V. Keeslin, jr., of Selective Service reminded the committee yesterday that the armed forces must "necessarily anticipate larger losses in some months than in others," depending upon the time schedule of strategic losses." Thus, he said, it may be necessary to call older men to make up replacements during these months.

Cleanup Drive's Plans Shaping Up

Detailed plans are taking shape for the city wide cleanup and salvage campaign May 1-13, according to announcement Wednesday by G. M. Unger, chairman of the cleanup-paintup committee of the chamber of commerce.

Salvage of rags, waste paper, metals and grease will be stressed in the drive this year. Everyone will be asked to place their bundled rags and waste paper on street corners the morning of Thursday, May 11, for pickup in Army trucks. Students will be asked to take junk metal of all kinds to their school grounds before Saturday, May 13. It will be collected from the schools in Army trucks.

Girl Scouts and Brownies will conduct the grease salvage campaign. They will complete for cash prizes which, as yet, have not been set.

Health Activities Featured

Health activities also will be featured in the campaign, the chairman announced. Particular attention will be given to the importance of sanitary garbage cans to community health. City garbage trucks will be used during the drive to collect types of materials not handled ordinarily. They will pickup everything except sod, officials announced.

Instead of the usual nail and junk pickup, Boy Scout units will compete this year in a contest involving inspections of back yards and alleys. Cash prizes will be awarded, but details have not been completed.

One activity included in previous campaigns will be abandoned this year. School children will be requested, as usual, to take reminder blanks into homes suggesting how parents can cooperate in the drives. Parents, however, will not be asked to fill out the blanks and return them. Members of the cleanup committee decided there are too many blanks of various kinds already without adding another.

Marooned Army Fliers Rescued In Nevada

McDERMITT, Nev., April 26 (AP)—Six Army fliers, marooned since Sunday in the desolate Nevada-Oregon border country, were rescued today.

Lt. Col. Clarence D. Barnhill, station commandant of Mountain Home, Idaho, air base, reported the fliers, who bailed out of a faltering bomber, were brought to this village by an Army rescue squad.

Encouraging Report Is Received On Lt. Ellis

Hopes that Lt. Lewis C. Ellis, jr., may be a prisoner of war in Germany have resulted from a letter received by Mrs. Ellis, 2304 Fifteenth street, from Lt. "Swede" Larsen of Salt Lake City, a close friend of her husband. Lt. Ellis is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Ellis, sr., 1639 Main street.

Lt. Larsen, who was flying on the same mission in which Lt. Ellis was reported lost, but in another ship of the formation, reported that he had seen Lt. Ellis' ship when it was hit by flak and that it apparently had pulled out of a dive and was certain to land safely when last seen.

Lt. Larsen, like Lt. Ellis, was flying his first mission and as is customary, each crew member replaces an experienced man in another crew until they get "the feel" of battle. After several missions in this manner, they rejoin each other as a crew and fly their own ship. Lt. Ellis was flying as a co-pilot on a Liberator on his first mission when reported lost April 8.

Lt. Larsen's letter was written three days later, April 11.

Houston Man Quits Race For Governor

AUSTIN, April 26 (AP)—Virgil E. Arnold of Houston has withdrawn as a candidate for Democratic nomination as governor, Governor Coke R. Stevenson has been informed.

Arnold's withdrawal was announced in a letter to the governor from Russel Wolters of Houston which Wolters said was written on Arnold's authority.

CO-ED IS HONORED

AUSTIN, April 26 (U.P.)—A University of Texas co'ed, Betti Friedel of Graham, last night was crowned sweetheart of the 103rd division of the U. S. Army, known as the "Ozark Division," stationed at Camp Swift, near here.

St. Louis Browns Tie Mark By Beating Cleveland, 5-2

ST. LOUIS, April 26 (AP)—With a four-run uprising in the sixth inning, the amazing St. Louis Browns beat the Cleveland Indians 5 to 2 today to remain the only undefeated team in either Major League.

Their string of seven consecutive victories at the opening of the season ties the American League record set by the New York Yankees in 1933. The National League record is nine.

The Browns were outhit 10 to 6 but the Indians had nine men left on base to the Browns' three.

The victory was the second for Steve Sundra. Allie Reynolds, went well until the fatal sixth, yielding only three hits. He had six strikeouts.

Don Gutteridge opened the Browns' scoring with a triple. Hal Epps walked. George McQuinn singled to score Gutteridge. Both Epps and McQuinn came home on Vernon Stephens' double. Gene Moore singled to drive in the fourth run of the inning.

The Indians scored in the eighth on Manager Lou Boudreau's single, Roy Cullenbine's double and Jeff Heath's single.

Parnassus said he will leave for Los Angeles Thursday to attempt to arrange a match there.

McCormick, Walters Sink Cardinals, 1-0

CINCINNATI, April 26 (AP)—Frank McCormick's 13th inning homer broke up a scoreless two hour 26 minute ball game today as Cincinnatti's Reds won their second straight game from St. Louis, 1-0, and tied for first place with the idle New York Giants.

It was the tall first baseman's first circuit clout of the year and the first run the Reds have given Bucky Walters in 22 innings.

Both Walters and Alvin Jurisich, his rookie opposing moundsman, were in top form, with the later showing a sort of "second wind" as he entered the 13th by striking out his sixth and seventh victims in succession. Woody Williams and Gee Walker Jurisich walked four and scattered eight hits; while Walters fanned three and passed two as he gave up seven safeties.

Aside from big Mac's round-tripper, only two extra base blows marked the game, both doubles, by Eddie Miller with one away in the second and by Walker in the third, with two down.

Walters opened strong, knocking down the Cards in order through the first three innings and until, with two away in the fourth, Stan Musial beat a blow over second base. Ken O'Dea followed with another, sending Musial to third, but there the threat ended as Ray Sanders bounced out.

Idalou Takes Second Win Over Frenship

IDALOU, April 26. — Coach J. N. Denning's Idalou High school baseball nine out slugged the Frenship club here this afternoon, winning a free hitting 22 to 13 contest. It was the second win for Idalou in the series.

M. Sowder and Armstrong paced the Idalou club.

Frenship staged a rally in the seventh inning, but it fell far short as the Idalou defense tightened down.

Reds Moundmen Lead Clubs Rise

NEW YORK April 26 (AP)—If, as the experts insist, good pitching is going to be the measure of difference between Major League clubs in this third wartime season, the time has come to take the Cincinatti Reds seriously.

Season after season, the expert hurling of the Reds goes to waste because the team has lacked hitting. It may be that way again this year, but the way the Cincinatti hurlers are performing to date they could win games with the puniest kind of hitting.

In winning five out of six games to date, the starting pitcher has finished his full game shift each time. The Reds' only defeat was a three-hitter pitched by Bucky Walters on opening day and since that time the opposition never has gotten more than eight hits in any game and has an average of barely more than five hits per game.

Manager Bill McKechnie of the Reds, considered by many as the best handler of pitchers in baseball, has a starting staff consisting of Walters, Elmer Riddle, Tom de la Cruz and Joe Beggs and though there are othe eligibles he hasn't needed them up to now.

From the time Walters lost that heart breaker on opening day, the club has had nothing but the best in the way of pitching. And this seemed to reach a new peak today as that same Walters came back to dish out 13 goose eggs to the always potent hitting Cardinals.

Riddle backed up some lusty hitting for the first time yesterday, turning in an artful 10 to 3 win to give the Cardinals their first defeat of the year. He gave the Cards only eight hits, and eased up only in the late innings after being given a comfortable lead.

Then Walters made it two in a row today in a brilliant duel with the Cardinal rookie, Alvin Jurisich, who did a wonderful pitching job himself, stumbling on only one pitch—the one Frank McCormick hit for a home run after two had been fanned in the 13th inning.

Cleveland Rookie In Sheppard Field Now

WICHITA FALLS, April 26. (AP)—When Uncle Sam cancels his duration-and-six-months contract on Pvt. William Morgan's services, the Cleveland Indians want the young right-handed pitcher back again.

Morgan, who won 17 games and lost three for the Baltimore Orioles of the International league last season, is the property of the Indians, and has been for more than two years. His won-lost record, plus the 1.84 earned run average, has Cleveland sold on him as a Major league prospect.

The six-foot, three-inch youth has been in the Army less than a month, coming from Kentucky to Sheppard Field here. He is a candidate for aviation cadet training.

Oscar Grimes, Yankee utility infielder, was the third leading batter in 1936. He hit .376 in 126 games with Zanesville.

Junior Baseball Registers To Remain Open Thursday

The start of registration of prospective junior baseball stars in Lubbock Wednesday brought a hearty response from the city's youngsters, and the signing of the players will continue on through Thursday.

It was reported that a number of the grade schools in the city have asked for cards because of the popular demand of youngsters there, and the registration is being extended on into the grade schools.

No count was available Wednesday night on the number that had been signed during the first day. The age brackets of boys from 12 to 17 has shown an indication that two strong leagues will be formed.

The early interest in the start of baseball for Lubbock kids also has shown an indication that the American Legion, sponsors of the program, will also be faced with a shortage of diamonds.

Present plans call for the formation of two leagues, one of boys in the 12 to 14 bracket and the other in the 15 to 17 bracket.

Those in charge of the registration of the boys would offer no estimate of the number that will fall into line, but expressed their confidence that "two leagues might not handle the number of boys that want to play."

Westerners Back To Work; Play Friday

After being forced inside Tuesday because of the sand storms, the Lubbock Westerners were back on Chapman Field Wednesday afternoon for a full afternoon session.

Coach J. Mule Davis said Wednesday night that he was well pleased with the showing made by the boys Wednesday, and expected a real showing Friday in the second intra-squad game of the spring camp.

Davis said that the squad would be divided today into the two squads that would do the battling Friday afternoon, and probable lineups will be announced after Thursday's session.

The scrimmage Friday will start about 4:15 o'clock.

City May Purchase Beaumont Ball Park

BEAUMONT, April 26. (AP) — The city is considering purchase of Stuart stadium, home of the Beaumont Exporters of the Texas league.

A committee from the Young Men's Business league appeared before the city commission yesterday and suggested that the stadium be bought for a park and playground center when not being used for baseball.

Owner R. L. (Rube) Stuart reportedly wants to sell the park to the city which can purchase it for $50,000.

Skytracer Proves It Is Wide Open Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 26. (AP)—A surprise victory by M. B. Goff's Skytracer in the $10,000 added Blue Grass stakes at Churchill Downs today confirmed the consensus that this year's Kentucky Derby will be a wide-open affair.

Ridden by Jockey M. Caffarella, Skytracer won the mile and a furlong race to pay $22 to win, $8.80 to place and $6 to show.

Challenge Me, Brolite farm's odds-on favorite for the stakes, came in second, with A. C. Ernst's Alorter third in the contest of eight derby candidates.

Shut Up, Alamein, Hariet Sue, Rockwood Boy and Megogo also ran.

Shortly before the Blue Grass stakes was run, Stir Up — Mrs. Payne Whitney's Greentree stable contender for the gold cup, the wreath of roses and the big money in the $75,000 added Kentucky Derby May 6—arrived by rail from New York where he recently won the first section of the Wood Memorial and top place among the derby favorites.

Challenge Me had been rated second by the derby odds-makers, chiefly because he won the Arkansas Derby and turned in some fine workouts here. Today's race was his first at the downs this year. He was beaten by Skytracer by three lengths.

Penn Relays To Start On Friday

PHILADELPHIA, April 26. (AP)—When the gates of the University of Pennsylvania's Franklin Field swing open Friday and Saturday for the 50th renewal of the annual relay carnival more than 2,000 athletes will be raring to go in a 69-event program.

The 1944 version of the big event will be slightly less star studded than in former years, but whatever is lacking to skill will be more than made up in quantity, when tracksters from more than 300 schools, colleges and service organizations start pounding the cinders.

Uncle Sam's service organizations will be represented by more than 20 teams and individuals.

Michigan and Chicago from the Big Ten, are among 40 colleges sending teams.

High and prep schools also have entered teams and for the first time since 1936 relay teams from elementary, parochial and junior high schools will participate.

The spotlight of the annual classic will be focused on six feet two and a half inch Bill Hulse, holder of the fastest time for an outdoor mile run by an American.

The 24-year-old Hulse was clocked at 4.06 in a mile race against Gundar Haegg last summer. Although he established the fastest outdoor time for an American in that race, he ran second to the Scandinavian speedster.

Saturday, the form NYU star will attempt to break the American three-quarters of a mile record of 3.58.7 set by Paul Moore, at Palo Alto, Calif., in 1940.

One of his opponents in the mile event will be Pvt. Winfield Emlet, former Franklin and Marshall star, now a physical instructor at the Tonopah, Nev., Army base.

Oldest Major League Star Dies Wednesday

CHICAGO, April 26. (AP)—Tony Mullane, oldest former Major league baseball star, died today at the age of 85.

Mullane achieved fame as the only pitcher who could throw with either hand. He first played with the St. Louis Browns and for eight years was the star pitcher for Cincinnati with the famed Buck Ewing as his battery mate. Mullane ended his career in St. Paul in 1897.

Lew Jenkins Taking New Fight Seriously

Lew Jenkins, whose climb up and down the championship boxing ladder was rather rapid both ways, is taking his fighting seriously these days—but not the kind you do with gloves.

Jenkins, the erstwhile "sweet Swatter From Sweetwater." has been overseas almost a year and, according to his latest letter to a sister in Abilene, has sailed five seas and been in on the Sicilian and Italian invasions. The former lightweight champion is a Coast Guardsman.

The only mention he made of boxing in a three-page letter was: "I fought over in London and won by a kayo in the first round."

Hunt Pioneers Nose Out Over Dupre, 7-4

The Hunt Pioneers nosed out a 7 to 4 softball victory over the Dupre Dogies Wednesday afternoon at the Hunt diamond as the Pioneers moved into undisputed second place in the league race with three wins and one loss.

Wayne Stroud and Gene Roberts made up the battery for the winners while Johnny Tatum and Malcolm Young made up the Dupre battery.

The Pioneer attack was aided along by home runs off the bats of Pogue Laquey and Jerry Golden while Donald Krabbs, Dupre right fielder, blasted out a home run for the losers.

TODAY—less for you so our fighting men can have more. TOMORROW—plenty for everyone!

A Word of Appreciation to Cosden Customers

As you know, it takes gasoline to power a modern war. COSDEN 80-OCTANE ALL-PURPOSE GASOLINE and COSDEN 91-OCTANE AVIATION GASOLINE are helping give the Axis heels a headache.

COSDEN appreciates the faithful patronage of the many thousands of Southwest motorists who express their preference for COSDEN by their purchases, and assures them even finer gasolines and motor oils when post-war plans now being perfected can be put into operation—soon, we hope!

COSDEN HIGHER OCTANE GASOLINE

Yes, there's still plenty of COSDEN 70-72 OCTANE GASOLINE for essential civilian driving—and it's GOOD GASOLINE!

The larger part of every barrel of crude now goes to power the attack. Much of our manpower and facilities are also devoted to the war effort. Cosden products are helping on a dozen fronts and Cosden men and women are in almost every branch of service.

When you buy gasoline these days you can't afford to experiment, so stick to COSDEN—the finer HIGHER OCTANE GASOLINE that gives you mileage insurance. Play safe—get COSDEN!

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

Who Will Pay The Bill?

OUR visionaries have had much to say about the United States producing to feed, clothe and provide for the other needs of the post-war world.

But can anyone recall any of them ever having suggested a practical answer to the question: who is going to pay for that production?

As to the ability of the United States to produce in virtually unlimited quantities, there is absolutely no question. No imagination would be capable of exaggerating what might be done in the way of peace-time production when factories are converted once-more to the peace-time economy and the manpower now gone to war once more becomes available. Heaven alone knows the limits of the potential output, when peace returns, of the farms, the factories and every other type of production in this nation.

But the farmers, the factories and all others engaged in production are going to require payment for what they do.

Who is going to pay them? Be sure of one thing: Someone is going to pay if they produce. Will it be other nations that have become so accustomed to getting everything free from Uncle Sam that they might be insulted if anyone should suggest that they pay? Or will it be the American taxpayer?

The visionary idea which is nourished by the whole Roosevelt administration in all its international dealings is that the American taxpayer, will, as usual, pay the bill. This is the idea behind the administration's insistence at various times that Lend-Lease be continued indefinitely after the war; that the American people agree now to an indefinite continuation of rationing, and for the fact that enormous stockpiles of almost everything imaginable have been and are being accumulated for free post-war distribution to the world.

Possibly the people of America might be willing to work for the world, and to pay for the privilege of doing it, after the war is over. But if they are, it is difficult to see now how their condition could be greatly different from that of a self-imposed slavery.

Our Undercover Allies

FEW factors in the war against the Axis are as difficult of true evaluation as the actual contributions to the ultimate victory that are being made by the various underground movements in the occupied countries.

Unquestionably these contributions have been and continue to be of major importance —though not as important, perhaps, as may be pretended in some quarters. But, beyond any doubt, the conquered nations are helping to earn the liberty which again will be theirs some day.

Indicative, perhaps, of what may be happening in many, and possibly all, occupied countries is a report that has compiled and circulated recently in a pamphlet entitled, "Poland Fights," by the Polish Labor Group with headquarters in New York City. It is the nearest thing to a "box score" on such achievements that has come to the attention of this editorial desk.

It reports, for example, that, up to Feb. 18, 1944, and since the conquest of Poland, the Polish underground forces have fought 81 major engagements with the armies of occupation. It lists, under the heading of "sentences of death carried out," 18 "superior German civil servants" and 1,163 Gestapo agents. Other items include: 562,000 gallons of gasoline burned; 346 machine tools damaged in factories; 47 military warehouses destroyed; 83 train derailments; 474 attacks on freight trains loaded with war materials; six railway bridges blown up; 186 locomotives and 9,980 railway cars damaged; and so on through a long list of items. Furthermore, the box score purports to reveal that the efficiency of the underground has been increasing steadily—that it becomes a more potent weapon day by day.

Naturally, no one outside the underground can pretend to know whether the figures are accurate. But they are conclusive evidence that the nations which are attacking the Axis from without have their able and courageous allies who are attacking most effectively from within.

A psychiatrist says a man who talks to himself is mentally unbalanced. We should think that would depend upon what he says to himself.

"Hell is full of dictators," declares a writer. We regreat exceedingly to hear this. We had been hoping there was still room there for several more.

"I have found out that I can live without drinking nine cups of coffee a day," snorted the Old Grouch this morning, "but it ain't much living."

Take Away The Lady

By Lester Dent

(Copyright, 1944, NEA Service, Inc.)

THE STORY: Lieut. Link Belt, Army Air Corps radioman, is interned in Niji Prison, Yokohama. His plane was brought down while bombing Tokyo. He is talking to Pilot Officer Baldwin of the RAF, a fellow prisoner, when the cell door opens and a Jap officer steps inside.

CAPTAIN AZARASKI

III

HE stood as they always seemed to stand, one hand on a holstered revolver, as his eyes searched the prisoners. "Your badges," said the officer loudly. "All your badges, let me see."

The badges were made of white cloth, all prisoners being forced to wear them. Printed on them was the wearer's name, nationality, and a number. They must be worn at all times.

"They're after somebody," Baldwin whispered.

Link nodded and said, "Poor devil, whichever one of us it is." He did not say it very loud. He said it, probably, because that was what they usually said when the Japs took away a prisoner.

Actually, Link had the queerest feeling that he was the one they were after this time. All of a sudden, he felt the way you feel after lightning has struck close to you. So he somehow was not surprised at what happened.

The officer pointed at Link.

"You," the officer said. "You come with me."

Baldwin, in a stricken voice, gasped, "What's wrong? What's happened?"

"My name must have come out of a hat," Link said.

Or had they found out that he had been in a bomber which had dropped a few on Tokyo, he wondered.

They took him upstairs. So he knew he was going to the elaborate private office of Captain Azaraski, commandant of Niji Prison.

There were many flights of stairs. There was an elevator too, but they did not let Link use it. They climbed stairs and stairs and stairs and stairs.

* * *

CAPTAIN AZARASKI sat behind a desk. Looking, reflected Link, like an organ monkey that had popped about half way out of a walnut box.

"Give me your name," said Captain Azaraski curtly.

"Lieut. Lincoln Belt."

"Your middle name, also."

Link had had trouble about that before. They seemed to think all Americans should have a middle name. "I have no middle name," he said.

Captain Azaraski was looking at a document, but not writing down anything. "Your age?"

"Twenty-eight."

"Birthplace?"

"Not military information," said Link.

Azaraski did not change expression the slightest. "Millard, Missouri," he said. "And believe me, I had to get a good map to find it."

Link felt that he jumped a foot. How had they found that out? He was dumbfounded.

"Eyes blue, hair red, height six feet one inch, weight 180." Azaraski lifted his eyes and examined Link. "You have lost about 20 pounds, I should say." He made a notation, evidently changing Link's weight.

"Now," Azaraski said, "from what field did you leave on the flight which ended in your capture?"

This is it, Link thought. This is the beginning of the party.

"Not military information a prisoner is required to disclose," Link said.

Captain Azaraski leaned back and stared at Link.

"Tokyo," he said, "must be an interesting sight from the air at night. I have never seen it myself."

* * *

SO they had the dope on him. Or were they just fishing?

Azaraski began to grin.

"Now," said Azaraski unexpectedly, "let me tell you the one about the lawyer who told the judge he didn't want to parade his virtues. Whereupon the judge said for him not to worry, it takes a number to make a parade. Ha, ha, ha."

Link's mouth fell open.

Azaraski laughed.

Then Azaraski came around the desk and reached up and clapped Link on the shoulder.

"What did you think we were going to do to you?" asked Azaraski. "Cut off your ears and hold matches to your feet? Forget it, pal. Forget it."

Link was speechless.

Captain Azaraski rubbed Link's back like a lodge brother and asked, "How would you like to be sitting on the front porch of the Its Club right now?"

"The Its Club!" Link said, still more astonished. "How on earth would you know about the Its Club?"

Azaraski went back and stood behind his desk, still grinning. "We have osteopathic doctors in Japan, too, you know," he said.

Until now there had been, as far as Link was concerned, three categories of Japs. There were thin ones, fat ones, hard ones. He had typed Azaraski as one of the last, and let it go.

Now Link was jarred. For the first time, he was really interested in one individual Jap. He looked closely at the man.

Captain Azaraski was about 40. His glasses made his eyes look slightly smaller, indicating myopia. He had cicatrix tissue on his left cheek, the result of a considerable cut at some time or other. He was bright, alert and in good health, apparently. His black hair was cut short and stood up like a brush. It had a little gray.

"I haven't told anybody," said Link, "that I was an osteopath."

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

ONE OF MY READERS, Charles P. Steiner of Northampton, Pa., tells me that my column contains quite a lot of "twiddle-twaddle."

"But I like it very much," he writes, "because life is a lot of twiddle-twaddle, too."

Not knowing the meaning of "twiddle-twaddle," I looked it up in the dictionary.

Twiddle means to be busy with trifles, twaddle means to prattle or jabber.

Yes, Mr. Steiner, you are right, life is full of trifles and jabber.

But I think that's what makes life fun and so much easier to bear.

This morning, on my train to work, I read the highly respectable and intellectual New York Times.

After getting through with the war news, I got quite a chuckle out of a picture showing Secretary Knox and General Holcomb on their knees picking up the Distinguished Service Medal which the secretary, about to present it to the general, had dropped. It looked just like two ordinary fellows engaged in a crap game.

Twiddle, but it struck me funny.

* * *

A BIT farther along in the paper was the story about Mrs. Roosevelt's press conference.

Just the usual jabber of reporters asking twaddle questions and the First Lady giving twiddle answers. But it was entertaining.

On the front-page of the second section I was informed that Anne, the Bronx Zoo's black-foot penguin had hatched a homely chick from an egg laid March 2.

A couple of pages later was a picture of Lt. Col. Mary-Agnes Brown, director of the WAC in the Southwest Pacific, with her arms full of cute Koala bears, and directly below, an article warned us that now that the "Mairzey Doats" craze was about over, we should all get ready for a new song mania called "Ikky Tikky Tambo," which had all the earmarks of a "screaming success."

Twiddle-twaddle, yes, but so much nicer than all that complicated, involved, depressing stuff about politics, inflation, post-war stuff, juvenile delinquency.

Twiddle-twaddle teaches us the value of little things—the things that we average people understand, enjoy and live.

My deep respect to Shakespeare, Aristotle, Einstein and even Harold Ickes.

I'd just as soon be just a plain, everyday twiddle-twaddler.

Wouldn't you?

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

A STEADY stream of adverse fourth-term reports has been pouring into the White House and Democratic National headquarters as speculation on FDR's 1944 plans intrigues the leaders of both parties. And, despite his preoccupation with the war, the President always finds time to get a fill-in from his partisan aides.

Much of the bad news emanates from personal or political enemies of the Chief Executive, but that is only natural. His friends, and especially those who hold office because of his favors, tell him only Pollyanna stuff. Therefore, these black communiques worry the fourth-term managers, who realize that their authors are hard-boiled, bread-and-butter observers.

Al Smith, for instance, is quoted as saying that Tom Dewey will carry the Empire state against FDR. The defection of important groups in New York, Albany, Buffalo, Syracuse, Rochester, etc., is given as the main reason for the shift. The Irish and the negroes are described as hostile to the administration.

The critical nature of the urban vote is revealed in the 1940 Roosevelt-Willkie figure. FDR swept New York City by more than 700,000, but he captured the state by only 224,000. Moreover, Wendell did not poll the usual upstate Republican strength because the country conservatives did not like his Democratic, Wall Street background.

DOWNCAST: Smith's good friend, Sen. David I. Walsh of Massachusetts, has passed out word that the Bay State will land in the Republican column, barring a miracle between now and November.

In fact, the chairman of the Senate Naval Affairs committee fears that Boston, a rock-ribbed Democratic community, may stage another "Tea Party," and for almost the same reason that it did in colonial days. Minority Leader Joe Martin reports that Yankeeland is aflame against the present regime. As of today, he insists that the only New England state leaning toward FDR is Rhode Island, which has only four electorate votes.

Here again the Hub's vote is the all-important key to the situation. Mr. Roosevelt took Massachusetts by 137,000 four years ago, but Boston provided 92,000 majority.

Sen. Joe Guffey is downcast over Pennsylvania prospects, basing his pessimism on recent election tests in two centers, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh. In 1940 the President won the Keystone State by 286,000 but his plurality of 280,000 in those cities was a lifesaving lead.

WARNING: Sen. Bob LaFollette insists that Wisconsin is in the bag for the Republicans. Mr. Roosevelt corralled this Progressive bailiwick by only 25,000 against Mr. Willkie, but it was his 73,000 margin in the German-Polish city of Milwaukee that pulled him through.

Although the State of Washington has been the recipient of many New Deal benefits, including vast power developments, Sen. Homer Bone looks for an extremely close race, possibly a Republican victory. According to friends, he was eager to escape a re-election struggle next fall by accepting an appointment to the federal bench.

Although John Lewis supported Willkie at the last minute in the 1940 campaign, he warned GOP bosses that his miners would not follow him. "I came out too late and had no time to organize," he said. "My men still think the President is a god."

Few days ago he announced that he would guarantee a GOP triumph in Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Kentucky.

AMBITION: High Army officers are chuckling over the rivalry for hero honors between the sons of the two branches of the famous Roosevelt family—the Oyster Bay and Hyde Park clans. The participants are probably unaware of the race in which they are engaged, and it is a wholly good-natured affair. But the men at the Pentagon building get a secret thrill from the drama.

President Roosevelt has always yearned for an actual part in warfare. When he was assistant Secretary of the Navy, he had to be restrained from abandoning his desk job and enlisting as a common seaman. Every chance he had, he hopped a destroyer for a tour in dangerous waters.

His envy of Teddy Roosevelt's Spanish War service is understandable, for that is the only field in which his distinguished relative outstripped him. Otherwise, their careers are almost parallel; so the struggle for military glory must rest with the second generation.

"Young Teddy," an admittedly fine officer despite his political awkwardness, is a brigadier general. Now Jimmie, who has played a gallant role as a fighting he-man Marine in the South Pacific, is a full colonel. One more step upward, and the head of the Hyde Park tribe will satisfy his ambition by proxy.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

AS THE jumping-off hour of the invasion approaches, a disturbing question is, What will Frenchmen do?

A famous exile on the eve of his departure from the United States to join the Consultative Assembly in Algiers admitted, "Frankly, no one knows what my imprisoned countrymen think regarding their future state. Sources of information from the continent are meager. Resistance groups are too widely separated by ideologies and geography.

"All signs indicate a burning desire to join with America and Britain in throwing off the Hun yoke but beyond that merely dim outlines are visible. We on the outside can only try to build the framework of tomorrow's government.

"This motive explains the clashes among free Frenchmen that often baffle Americans. It is something like your approach to a political convention with parties and candidates letting off steam and jockeying for position.

"For the first time since the tragedy of June 1940, we nostalgic Frenchmen realize that before long we shall be going home. How that dream quickens our hearts! Each of us wants to promote the plan he believes will be best for our beloved country. But, being Frenchmen, each is sure his own plan is best—so, we argue."

PROTEST: Leaders here and in the Old World predict several transitional governing setups before the final democratic system emerges.

Even when the homeland is liberated, millions of voters—war prisoners and workers—may still be in Germany, and the task of transporting them to their dwellings may be slow. They have been out of touch with affairs so long that they may require time in which to catch up with the news.

Debate flares with Gallic violence in Algiers regarding the franchise and the re-establishment of democratic institutions. As one authority on French questions puts it: "In addition to 'liberty, equality, fraternity' there is a fourth principle—the right to protest, a characteristic typical of the French. If Americans appreciated this fact, they would better understand de Gaulle, Giraud, Philip, Gazier, Haurlou and other contending patriots."

IGNORANT: Just before the war broke, the Gallup Poll people were invited to Paris to initiate a countrywide survey. They consulted with representatives of politicians, clergy, industrialists, bourgeoisie, intellectuals, radicals and peasants. The advisors unanimously agreed that the only method by which a true expression of public opinion could be obtained was to phrase the questions so that the interrogated would have a chance to say no.

An American on an international body at Geneva recalls that whenever a program was offered, the French countered with another which they thought was more logical. Having made this gesture, they were willing to compromise or even accept.

"The Germans are utterly ignorant of this fundamental psychology," he explains. "Even their simple regulations are worded in a manner that arouses French protest."

It is apprehended that should Americans and Britons present a post-liberation blueprint made in Washington or London, the French would refuse the gift regardless of its merits. But if allowed to suggest a pattern for working out their own salvation, they would cooperate to the limit.

"Oh, we shouldn't buy a house like that! There's no front porch to sit on and make cracks at the neighbors as they walk by!"

Here And There In Texas

Old Austin Mansion Is New Texas State Art Museum

By DAVE CHEAVENS
Associated Press Staff Writer

THE huge wrought-iron gates that for 15 years barred the public from more than a fleeting glimpse through the trees of Laguna Gloria are now swung open faithfully every Sunday afternoon, and many Texans are taking their first good look at the future home of the State Art museum.

The Texas Fine Arts association's plans for the museum are still in the formative stage. Generally, the idea is to establish a museum which wil put on exhibition the cream of Texas art and artists from aboriginal to modern days.

While the architecture of the former Sevier mansion is definitely not native, everything else about the estate recently deeded outright to the association by Mrs. Clara Driscoll of Corpus Christi is deep-dyed Texan.

Austin's Pet Location

The 28-acre estate is on the spot where Stephen F. Austin once dreamed of building his home.

When Austin first saw the place it was on a point of land at the confluence of the Colorado river and a small creek ,now a sloping peninsula extending into Lake Austin. It is heavily wooded with live oaks, elms blackjacks and mountain cedar; blackberry and firethorn, yupon, agerita and pinoak grow wild and rank under these ancient trees just as they did in Austin's day. Only a small part of the grounds have been formally landscaped.

The house itself is somewhat in dis-repair, but Mrs. Roger Roberdeau, president of Texas Fine Arts association, belives that expenditure of a few thousand dollars would put it in perfect condition and adapt it for museum purposes.

THE association already has a substantial nest-egg in the fund for re-conditioning the three-story house. When Mrs. Driscoll presented her former home to the association, she also made an outright gift of $5,000 and visitors at Laguna Gloria have volunteered additional gifts. Most of these have come in small amounts, but several substantial checks have been dropped into the plate at the back door of the office, where visitors now enter.

Mrs. Roberdeau hopes that more Texans who would like to see the state's best native art permanently housed and placed on exhibition will not only make cash contributions, but let the association know what their ideas are. Just now she is especially interested in tracking down the best examples of aboriginal art—Indian paintings or sculpture—which will have its place in the museum.

Scene Of "Big Doings"

"In general, the plan is to make this distinctly a Texas museum, with Texas subjects and Texas artists. It will in no sense compete with the Texas Memorial museum since this is to be first of all an art museum, but we do feel that the furnishings, too, should be frankly Texan."

Laguna Gloria, whose gates once guarded the capitol grounds, was once the scene of many a glittering dinner party with the vivacious Mrs. Driscoll, then Mrs. Hal Sevier, as the hostess. Governors, high state and national officials, and many a celebrity have been guests there.

NOT the least of a Texas governor's chores is the issuing of proclamations.

While proclamations legally are part of many governmental functions, those designating certain days, weeks months or intermediate periods for special observance are the most numerous and apparently have no foundation in law.

The authority for them just grew. Governors issue them as a courtesy, usually at the request of sponsoring organizations.

The number grows annually since most of these special dates which the governor through a proclamation asks citizens to observe become an annual fixture after they are thought up.

Stevenson Keeps Busy

Gov. Coke R. Stevenson has 26 to his credit since January 1. They run the gamut of Junior Chamber of Commerce week, Social Hygiene day, Use Eggs Now month, a Day of Prayer, National Family week, Bataan Memorial day, Victory Garden week, Good Friday, Army day and Music week to name a few.

With one exception the statutes are silent as to the governor's authority to issue proclamations for specific memorial days. The exception is Texas Pioneers' day, Aug. 12, and the law creating it directs the governor to issue a proclamation 30 days in advance of the day which is NOT a legal holiday.

* * *

LEGAL holidays in Texas, created by statute, are Jan. 1, Jan. 19, Feb. 22, March 2, April 21, June 3, July 4, the first Monday in September, Oct. 12, Nov. 1, Dec. 25 and all days appointed by the president or the governor as days of fasting and Thanksgiving and every day on which there is a statewide election.

State law and the constitution authorize proclamation by the governor for many purposes important in governmental function.

3 Keys to HIGH EGG PRODUCTION
1. Buy Good Chicks
2. Practice Good Management
3. Feed Stanton's Manamar Chick Starter

Most poultry authorities agree that profitable poultry raising depends largely on three important factors . . . good chicks, good management and good feed. Our job is to produce good feed that will combine with your good chicks and good management to get your flocks off to a flying start on the road to high production and profit. We have just such a feed in Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter. A blend of locally-grown grains, ManAmar and B-G Plus, it is rich in the vitamins minerals and proteins which promote vigorous growth in baby chicks.

B-G PLUS
is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment. It supplies extra trace minerals and vitamins in Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter.

MANAMAR
In Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex," necessary for fast growth.

ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed live-stock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's ManAmar Chick Starter. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

NEW YORK FUTURES

NEW YORK, April 26 (AP)—The cotton market was narrow but generally steady today. Closing prices ranged from 13 to 25 cents a bale higher.

The weekly weather reports disclosed unfavorable conditions in most of the cotton belt was delaying spring planting. In Texas it was because of dry soil and in other sections because of excessive moisture.

Teheran Victory Campaign Indicated In Full Swing

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Two aspects of the current war news from Europe stand out to indicate that the synchronized victory campaign planned at Teheran to smash Germany is now in full swing. They heavily underscore the opinion of Admiral Ernest J. King, American naval commander, that Germany's defeat "can happen" in 1944—and release Anglo-American power for a total attack on Japan.

SIMPSON

King's statement, made to a New York audience, is a notable contribution from Allied military spokesmen. The American naval commander is not given to over optimistic utterances. He also knows the state of readiness attained on all three fronts since the Teheran conference.

Reds Reopen Drive

Against that background can be set official Axis reports that the short-lived lull of the Black Sea front has ended with resumption of the Russian drive at the Galati gateway to the Balkans.

It is obvious that the Allied air battering of the Bucharest, Polesti, Budapest and other Balkan centers is a coordinated operation. In effect, it represents the first phase of closely-linked Russian and Allied military moves in the 1944 campaign although it is doubtful that the Balkan theater is rated as a critical front in either Russian or Anglo-American eyes.

Could Smash Balkans

At best, a Russian smash through the Galati gateway could knock Romania and Bulgari out of the war and perhaps ultimately, jar loose the Nazis hold on the whole Balkan peninsula. It could drive the foe back into his inner citadel and intensify the economic strangulation to which he is being subjected. But neither the Balkans nor Italy offer prospects for a quick drive into Germany itself.

The road to Berlin from the east lies north, not south, of the Carpathian mountains, across the rolling plains of Poland. It is there that the culminating Russian attacks to break through into Germany will come to match the Anglo-American invasion from the west.

HEALTH QUIZ

	YES	NO
Do you have poor digestion?	☐	☐
Do you feel headachy after eating?	☐	☐
Do you get sour or upset easily?	☐	☐
Do you feel tired—listless?	☐	☐

Now everyone knows that to get the good out of the food you eat—you must digest it properly. But what most people don't know is that Nature must produce about two pints of the digestive juice—liver bile—each day to help digest your food. If Nature fails, your food may remain undigested, lie sour and heavy within you.

Thus, it is simple to see that one way to aid digestion is to increase the flow of liver bile. Now, Carter's Little Liver Pills start to increase this flow quickly for thousands—often in as little as thirty minutes. When bile flow increases, your digestion may improve. And, soon you're on the road to feeling better—which is what you're after.

Don't depend on artificial aids to counteract indigestion—when Carter's, taken as directed, aid digestion after Nature's own order. Get Carter's Little Liver Pills today—only 25¢. You'll be glad you did.

Since last Feb. 27, when tokens were introduced, Americans already have dropped at least 12,000 precious one-point pieces into transit company fare boxes and "the total may be three times as high," the American Transit association asserted today.
