Royal Couple Starting Trip Around World

LONDON (AP)—Flying weather fit for a queen was forecast for the start tonight of the six-month round-the-world Commonwealth tour by Elizabeth II and her husband, the Duke of Edinburgh.

Security guards at London airport kept a 24-hour watch over the American-built Stratocruiser Canopus before its takeoff for Bermuda, by way of Gander, Nfld.

It will be the first transatlantic flight in history for a reigning British sovereign though Elziabeth, before succeeding to the throne, made the aerial crossing with her husband in 1951 for their tour of Canada and the United States.

The farewell was planned as a full state occasion, with members of the royal family on hand to see the Queen and the duke off. Prime Minister Churchill and the Commonwealth high commissioners in London will also be at the airport.

Extraordinary precautions were taken to safeguard the flight. Eight destroyers of the British and Canadian navies were spaced out across the north Atlantic for a radio watch of the 2,400-mile flight to Gander.

Two Royal Canadian Air Force bombers will provide a flying escort for the last 900 miles of the Atlantic hop and will accompany the Canopus for the rest of the way to Bermuda, where it is scheduled to land tomorrow morning.

The royal couple will be gone until next May.

Dawson Gets Location For Deep Wildcat

Carlton Beal and Associates of Midland have staked a 9,500-foot wildcat for immediate drilling in Central Dawson County.

It will be the No. 1 J. H. Adkins, located 1,980 feet from south and east lines of section 20-35-t5n-T&P. That location is three miles southeast of Lamesa and several miles west of recently opened production in East-Central Dawson County.

DRILLSTEM TEST

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil Co. No. 1 Little, Central-North Howard County tester, is drillstem testing from 9,895-950 feet.

Gas surfaced in 10 minutes but gauges have not yet been reported.

The No. 1 Little topped the Siluro-Devonian at 9,873 feet on an elevation of 2,715 feet. It found oil and gas on a drillstem test from 9,875-900 feet. The gas flow was estimated to be at the rate of 16,000 cubic feet per day, with 642 feet of free oil recovered.

The No. 1 Little is about one mile north of Texas Pacific No. 1-A Tom Spencer, a Siluro-Devonian discovery, and in section 11-32-t2n-T&P.

EIGHT LOCATIONS

Clifton Thomas and others of San Angelo have staked eight locations for drilling in the PHD field of Garza County eight miles northwest of Post.

The projects will be the No. 2 Honolulu-Speck and the No. 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8 Honolulu-Sims.

The No. 2 Honolulu-Speck is 2,460 feet from south and 989 feet from east lines of section 1282-BS&F. The Honolulu-Sims projects are all in the same section and survey.

All will drill to 3,650 feet with combinations tools.

CORONET WELL

Sun Oil Co., has reported completion of the No. 4-A Jones in the Coronet 2900 field of Northeast Howard County.

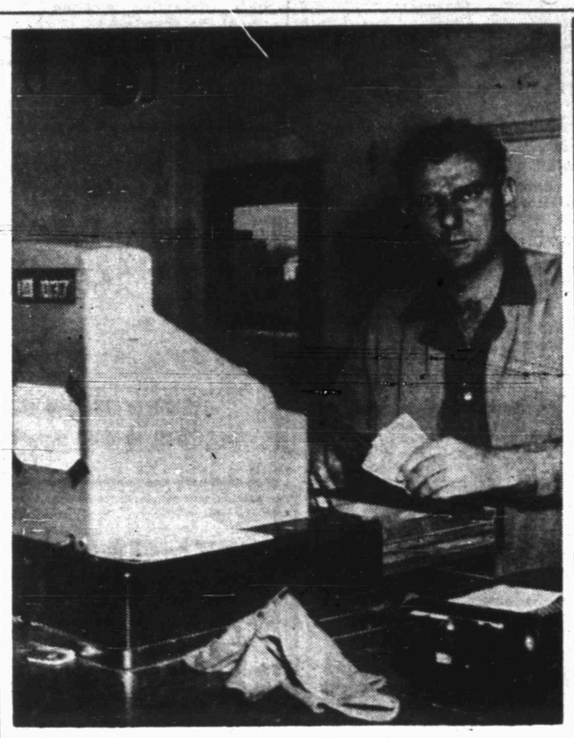

The well pumped 24 hours to make 33.09 barrels of 26.3-gravity oil plus 51% water. Production was natural, with gas-oil ratio 150-1.

Drillsite is 330 feet from north and east lines of the lease in section 10-26-H&TC.

MOORE FIELD

Five miles southeast of Big Spring in the Moore field, C. W. Guthrie of Big Spring has set location for his No. 1-A and No. 2-A C. V. Hewett.

The No. 1-A is 330 feet from north and east lines of the east half of the northwest quarter of section 30-33-tls-T&P, with the No. 2-A 330 feet from south and east lines of the east half of the northwest quarter of the same acreage. Both will drill to 3,300 feet starting at once.

ARMED ROBBERY VICTIM

Louis Gore, attendant at the Beauchamp Service Station, Thirty-seventh Street and the Big Spring Highway, is shown at the cash register where he was robbed of $50 by two men, one armed, about 7 o'clock last night. City and county officers quickly covered all roads leaving Snyder, but no arrests had been made by late this morning. (Lee Watson photograph)

FILLING STATION HELD UP SUNDAY

The first armed robbery here in about two and one-half years occurred last night when two men, one armed, robbed the Beauchamp Service Station on the Big Spring highway in South Snyder of $50 in cash.

Louis Gore, lone attendant on duty at the station, said the robbery occurred about 7 o'clock last night.

"Two men entered the station from the north door and asked if I could cash a check.

"I said that I could cash it and asked how much it was for, and as I approached the cash register, one of them pulled a gun from his pocket and said, "well, cash this then," Gore said.

He described the men as both fairly well dressed, and the one who displayed the gun as large in build, wearing a gray sui:. He wore a large Mexican-type ring, Gore said.

When Gore started to give the men everything in the cash register, they told him they wanted only the money, he said. They took no coins or checks.

Walter Beauchamp, owner of the station, who was in a theater at the time of the robbery, came to the station later and figured the loss.

"It was $50 even," Beauchamp said, adding "it was lucky that we had a heavy run of courtesy card business and not much cash trade."

Gore said he saw the men leave the station and run to a parked car that was headed west on Thirty-seventh Street then drive away.

Later Gerald Hart, who lives west of the station on Thirty-seventh Street, said a car bearing the same description hurriedly turned around in his front yard.

Gore said he believed the car the robbers were in was a green late model Plymouth.

The last previous armed robbery occurred here March 4, 1951, when the cashier of the Aztec Theater was robbed at gunpoint of about $100.

5-Power Talk Gets Italy Nod

ROME (AP)—The Italian Foreign Ministry said today that Italy has agreed unconditionally to the Big Three proposal for a five-power conference on the future of disputed Trieste.

Previously foreign diplomatic sources had indicated that Italy's assent to the conference proposal had been taken into consideration by the Allies and the Allies' suggestion for a five-power conference was accepted."

In Belgrade, the official Yugoslav news agency Tanjug said yesterday that the conditional acceptance attributed earlier to Italy appeared to be along lines laid down previously by Rome. Tanjug said any proposal for a conference taking for granted that part of the territory would be turned over to Italy was "completely unacceptble" to President Tito's government.

The Italian spokesman said the United States, Britain and France on Nov. 13 had suggested that Italy and Yugoslavia meet with them on Trieste and that Italy had accepted the Western suggestions "in bloc."

The details of the Western proposals have not been made public. Previously Italy had suggested that before a conference, Italy and Yugoslavia should be put on the same footing with regard to Trieste by either Italian occupation of Zone A, now occupied by British and American troops, or Yugoslav withdrawal from Zone B. Yugoslavia turned down that suggestion flatly.

Italy's spokesman said today: "Insofar as Italy is concerned, there is a green light for the five-power conference."

Five Found Dead In Plane Crash Last Night At LaGuardia Field

NEW YORK (AP)—Five persons were found dead today in a private plane that crashed in the fog during the night at LaGuardia field. The wreckage was not discovered until about 9 a.m.

Police said the plane was believed to be one reported missing late yesterday on a short flight between two towns on Long Island—East Hampton, about 100 miles from here, and Babylon, 40 miles away.

Airport authorities listed the dead as:

Alfred LaBorde, pilot, of New York City.

Mrs. William Niffim and her two children, William Jr., and Cornia.

William Beckett.

1,000 Youths Rounded Up In Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Determined Philadelphia police — deluged with complaints of rowdyism by youthful mobs in recent weeks—drove ahead with a crackdown on teen-age gangs today after rounding up more than 1,000 youngsters over the weekend.

Capt. Howard E. Leary of the Juvenile Aid Bureau and Police Commissioner Thomas J. Gibbons said the police will 'harass and haunt these gangs until they make up their mind to settle down, be good citizens and stop bothering others."

The comments came in the wake of the unprecedented weekend roundup which saw 625 youngsters taken into custody from one police division in the northern section of the city while raiding squads in other parts of Philadelphia brought in more than 400 boys and girls.

Gibbons said increasing complaints of beatings, holdups, and robberies by young toughs "who hang around sleazy poolrooms, taprooms and all-night diners instead of staying at home and doing something constructive" prompted the crackdown.

Inspector John F. Driscoll headed a special detail of 90 policemen and 24 policewomen who picked up the teen-agers.

Even as the raid was going on, Gibbons disclosed, four youths mugged a 45-year-old woman, held her prisoner and criminally assaulted her. Found walking barefoot on a deadend street three hours later, she was admitted to the Einstein Medical Center suffering from shock and bruises. Gibbons withheld her name.

Driscoll said a large quantity of guns and switch-blade knives were scooped up by police. The City Council recently passed an ordinance outlawing the knives.

Fifty policemen were used to herd the teen-agers into patrol wagons for trips to one precinct station and then to another until available cells were found to lodge them.

Leary said 250 youths "whose acts were not in good taste" were processed by his unit and then released in their parents custody. Most of the others also were released in their parents' custody, he said, after a stern warning to stop assembling in gangs.

Talkathon By Mossadegh Is Being Planned

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Ex-Premier Mohammed Mossadegh said today he had changed his mind and would speak in his own defense. He added he would keep on speaking until the court-martial trying him on treason charges gags him.

In an interview the ex-dictator declared: "I will go on speaking as long as they let me. If they give me a month, then I will speak a month."

"That's only what I said."

Asked about reports that he already had prepared a 100-page statement, Mossadegh chuckled and said "Certainly Dr. Mohammed Mossadegh can talk more than 100 pages in a month."

Mossadegh has been shifting his trial tactics in recent days. Formerly he buried his head on his folded arms as prosecutor Brig. Hossein Azemodeh read the indictment and expanded on the charges. From time to time the 73-year-old politician nodded, yawned, and even slept.

In the last two or three days, however, he has been carefully scribbling his own notes and directing his lawyer also to make notes. His attitude has been marked by alert attention instead of disinterest and boredom.

Weather Over Nation Varied

By The Associated Press

Slightly warmer air off the Gulf of Mexico kept morning temperatures from dipping far below freezing again in the upper half of the state.

Pre-dawn readings included Dalhart and Salt Flat 29, Lufkin and Marfa 31 and Amarillo 34. In Central and South Texas daybreak temperatures were generally in the 40s and 50s, the Weather Bureau said.

The mercury sank to 10 at Dalhart Sunday.

No rain was reported and none forecast.

An eastward moving low pressure system brought rain to New England and the middle Atlantic states, and the storm-lashed Pacific Coast battened down for more blows the weather bureau said are on the way.

In the Deep South, a network of thunderstorms that spawned two tornadoes in Louisiana and northwest Florida Sunday had moved eastward.

The rain had cleansed and partly washed away the five-day smog that blanketed New York and environs and caused breathing discomfort late last week.

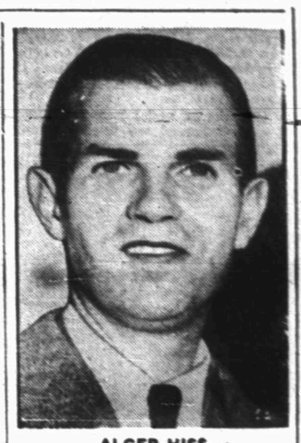

Swollen rivers isolated several southwestern Oregon towns Sunday, caused property damage, threatened to flood lowlands and drowned some livestock. Landslides loosed by the rain, and high water blocked several highways in Oregon and north California.

High winds and high tides whipped the Washington coast, too, but without serious damage.

The rains included 2.15 inches at Eugene, Ore., 2.67 at Medford and 4.07 at Cape Blanca.

Freezing and near-freezing temperatures were general from the Great Plains to the eastern Great Lakes and as far south as Texas. It was 10 to 20 degrees warmer along the Eastern Seaboard and from the Rocky Mountains eastward. Aberdeen, S.D.'s 17 was lowest of the morning.

Snow flurries continued in the Northern Lakes region, with Escanaba, Mich., reporting four inches of snow.

ALGER HISS
. . . serving perjury term

Alger Hiss Is Denied Parole For 2nd Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—Alger Hiss today lost a second plea for parole from prison.

Dr. Paul Tappan, chairman of the U.S. Parole Board announced:

"The Board of Parole today automatically reconsidered the parole application of Alger Hiss and agreed there should be no change in the previous order of denial of parole."

The application of the former State Department official—now serving a prison term on conviction of lying when he swore he did not give government secrets to the Communists—was first considered and turned down just one year ago. Under board procedure, it came up automatically for a further look 12 months later.

Hiss, 48, onetime State Department official, has now served two years and eight months of the five-year sentence given him on a perjury conviction in early 1950. The conviction was based on his denials to a grand jury that he had ever turned over government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, admitted Soviet espionage agent, as Chambers charged.

Hoover Is Said On Demo Blacklist

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators looked to the Justice Department today for answers on how much information the Truman Administration had linking Harry Dexter White's co-workers with Red espionage.

With no witnesses announced in advance, the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee called a public hearing to put into the record documentary evidence requested from Atty. Gen. Brownell.

It was Brownell who rekindled the Communists-in-government controversy. Brownell charged in a speech Nov. 6 that, despite FBI reports pointing to White as a spy, former President Truman promoted White in 1946 from assistant secretary of the treasury to U. S. director of the International Monetary fund.

Truman, in a nationwide radio-TV reply, accused Brownell of "cheap political trickery" and said he permitted the promotion of White, now dead, to keep him and others accused as spies under surveillance.

But FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, testifying before the Senate subcommittee, said he did not agree in advance to such an arrangement and that it hampered the FBI's watch on White. Last Night, the subcommittee counsel, Robert Morris, said Hoover turned down one invitation to testify in the case but accepted a second.

Morris, interviewed on an NBC television program, said Hoover decided to break his self-imposed ban on congressional committee appearances "after a story was well circulated" that he had agreed to keeping White in the government.

When asked, Morris said he doubted Hoover considered whether his testimony might cost him his job if the Democrats come into power later. There were indications Hoover might get a cool reception from Democrats when he goes before Congress next year in support of the FBI budget request.

Some Democrats, while not saying anything publicly, seem to feel Hoover cast his lot with the GOP and tarnished the non-partisan reputation he has maintained through 29 eventful years as FBI director. However, there were no signs that Democratic coolness would freeze away any funds requested for the FBI.

Morris said the subcommittee is not trying to put the finger on individual Communists although testimony "very definitely" could lead to spy convictions. He said it is looking into alleged Communist infiltration of years ago because it wants to trace a pattern of government subversion which Communists might still be following.

He said the subcommittee has "several things" to ask Igor Gouzenko, onetime Russian embassy code clerk at Ottawa who in 1945 exposed a Red spy ring operating in Canada with contacts in the United States.

The subcommittee has asked the Canadian government again—after being turned down once—for permission to question Gouzenko. Canadian Foreign Secretary Lester B. Pearson is working on a reply, expected to be ready today or tomorrow.

Yesterday subcommittee Chairman Jenner (R-Ind) disclosed he has asked Secretary of State Dulles to forward to Canada an "authenticated copy of a signed statement" by Gouzenko in support of the renewed request.

In Ottawa it was learned this statement, which the Chicago Tribune published last Saturday, already is under study by Canadian authorities.

The Canadian government's position has been that Gouzenko has nothing more to tell. But in the statement Gouzenko, living in Canada under police protection, said he might be able to give useful advise to Jenner's group.

Jenner has called White's case "not necessarily the most important" of those being looked into by his subcomittee.

FOOT CAUGHT ON TRACK; LEANS OUT AND SAVES LIFE

MONMOUTH, Ill. (AP) — His foot caught between a track rail and a plank in the path of an oncoming train, Ralph Estes, 45, saved his life early Sunday by leaning as far as possible away from the track.

His lower leg, crushed by the train wheels, was amputated at a hospital.

Estes said his foot got caught while he was walking across the tracks in the dark. A neighbor found him nearly an hour after the accident.

Nine-Year-Old Girl Is Brutally Slain In Japan

SAGAMIHARA, Japan (AP)—Army investigators said today they were stumped in the vicious slaying of the 9-year-old daughter of an American colonel.

However, they suggested the killer may have been someone she knew and trusted.

The killing left a haze of fear over this huge U. S. Army housing area, which usually rang with the shouts and laughter of playing children.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday for pretty, red-haired Susan Rothschild, whose gagged body was found in a drainage ditch shortly after dark Saturday by her father, Col. Jacquard H. Rothschild.

Her face and neck had numerous bruises and scratches, Army doctors reported after an autopsy, but "there was no evidence of rape or attempted rape."

Investigators for the Army's Criminal Investigation Division (CID), however, did not discount the possibility of an attempted sex crime by a killer frightened away before he could violate the child.

An Army spokesman said investigators had found no clues to what the Army termed a "brutal, vicious murder" and that it was holding no suspects.

"Usually in a case like this," said one CID agent, "you soon find some small thing as a starting point in your investigation. But so far in this case we must still find that something."

Meanwhile, frightened parents in this suburban-type housing development were convoying their children to and from school, making them stay indoors or within the confines of their own yards. A children's snackbar hangout, usually crowded with youngsters after school, was empty.

One Army source pointed out that "crimes such as this against children are very rare in Japan." It was a veiled indication that investigators may be searching for an American youth or man as the killer.

A former Japanese houseboy in the Rothschild home was picked up by CID agents in the housing area Saturday night and questioned until about noon yesterday. Then, the Army said, he was released after establishing an alibi which was considered "virtually airtight."

One theory of investigators was that Susan was killed by someone she knew and trusted. They pointed out that her bicycle was found upright on its own parking stand about 100 feet down the path from where her body was found.

They believed it possible that she got off the bicycle, parked it, and then walked down the path with the killer. Investigators admitted, however, that it was possible that the killer may have set up the bicycle.

Mrs. Rothschild was confined to her bed today and both parents were described as "completely broken up by the tragedy."

Roaring Welcome For Former Balky POW At Home In Hills

CRACKER'S NECK, Va. (AP)—Cpl. Ed Dickenson was tired and happy today after a homecoming celebration that continued into the wee hours and swept away any doubts he might have had about how his people would welcome him.

There was a forgive-and-forget air around the little hillside cabin where his family and friends greeted him with a warm affection which bewildered even young Dickenson. He could only grin when asked how he felt about it.

He planned to sleep, eat the home-cooked dishes he likes best, and map his future that has been fuzzy ever since he decided he preferred life in his homeland to life among the Communists.

Dickenson was one of 23 American soldiers who were listed as having refused repatriation in the exchange of prisoners in Korea. But then he left the other 22 and bolted to freedom a month ago, saying he hadn't acted sooner because of death threats.

Dickenson, 23, has said he would re-enlist in the Army after his present 30-day furlough. But last night he hinted he might stay in the hills he left three years ago to enter the Army. "I've got a lot of thinking to do about it," he said.

A neighbor commented: "When he sees how we feel, I think he'll stay."

His 73-year-old father, Van Buren Dickenson, said: "I'm going to knock it out of him, his going back into the Army. We need him at home and I don't think it would be right for him to leave again."

Dickenson ended his 10,000-mile journey from a Korean prison camp last night and walked straight into a rousing, almost hysterical welcome from brothers, sisters, in-laws and friends who had trudged up the hillside to the family home.

He stepped from a car into a pouring rain after a 15-hour automobile trip from Washington. Men, women and children streamed out of the cabin into the rain to embrace and kiss him and to shake his hand and pound his back.

Neighbors began gathering at the house at 5 p.m. The crowd had grown to around 100 by the time he arrived five hours later. They were jammed into the four-room house so thickly it appeared the floors might collapse under the weight.

Ed's sister, Mrs. Oma Wells, and other members of the family had worked in the kitchen all day preparing food. There was a fresh-baked country ham and sandwiches, cakes and pies.

"We haven't got a turkey yet, but we'll find one for Thanksgiving," the elder Dickenson said.

Perhaps the happiest two people in all the throng were the father and mother, Van Buren and Bessie Dickenson.

"I haven't been able to sleep or eat good for three years, worrying about that boy," Van Buren said. "But I feel fine now. I think this coming home has done me more good than a bushel of medicine."

And Mrs. Dickenson said: "I guess this is the happiest day of my life."

The father and mother went to Washington as guests of the Bristol Herald Courier to meet their boy. They left Washington early Sunday after he had received a quick medical clearance at Walter Reed Hospital.

FALLING DEATH

A huge mass of sand falls from the upper right on workmen in a pit at Portland, Oregon. Two men were in the excavation trying to save a man killed in an earlier cavein. At lower left, rescuer Ted Suderburg sees disaster coming and raises his arm to shield himself. He was saved by other diggers. But at the bottom of the pit (arrow) the cap of Wilburn Byer is just visible as the sand covers him. He was killed. This dramatic picture was by Oregonian photographer Allan deLay.

Peru And Colombia Squabble Diplomatically Over Asylum

WASHINGTON (AP)—A kind of a bush league cold war, between Peru and the Colombian Embassy at Lima, has been laid in the lap of the Inter-American Peace Committee.

In a diplomatic note incorporating details, Colombian Foreign Minister Evaristo Sourdis asked the five-nation committee — the United States, Cuba, Argentina, Mexico and Brazil—to do something about it.

The trouble, said Sourdis, all started on Jan. 3, 1949, when Victor Raul Haya de la Torre, a Peruvian political leader known as a left-winger but not a Communist, sought and gained asylum at the embassy.

The Peruvian Police were after him for his part in a revolution that failed—a predicament most Latin Americans sympathize with. The Colombians did. But not Peru.

All sorts of things, said Sourdis, began to happen:

Workmen came, saying they had to make sewer repairs, dug a ditch around the embassy and went away. But the ditches are still there. One diplomat's car got stuck behind them for months.

Searchlights illuminate the building all night, making sleep—difficult enough, what with motorcycle patrols zooming around—practically impossible. Not long ago some men entered the garden and trimmed the trees. The branches interfered with the searchlights, they said.

No body goes in or out — they can't drive up because of the ditches—unless he identifies himself to the Peruvian police, who occupy neighboring houses.

Peru's official position hasn't been expounded recently. But in a polite official note to his Colombian colleague last summer, Peruvian Foreign Minister Ricardo Rivera Schreiber wrote:

"The measures of vigilance—unavoidable, as your excellency knows—have not had nor can they have the intention of disturbing or making uncomfortable the embassy of Colombia in the exercise of its functions, which are a matter of satisfaction to us.

"They have been maintained by a situation of which your excellency cannot be ignorant. That situation requires the assurance of proper respect to the embassy itself, keeping in mind the peculiar juridical situation of the refugee."

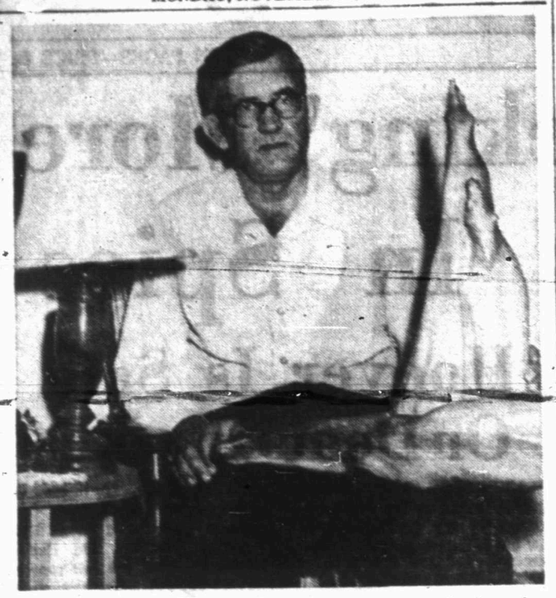

Peru, he said, wasn't the cause of the trouble; Colombia should never have granted the asylum in the first place.

Colombia says it will take any solution that would guarantee Haya's safe exit from Peru and bring peace to its diplomatic corps. But Peru won't grant a safe-conduct.

The International Court of Justice at the Hague, says Peru, ruled the asylum has no legal standing. On the other hand, retorts from Colombia, it also ruled Haya does not have to be surrendered.

That was two years ago. Attempts to work out a compromise since have failed, the most recent only last week. It was suggested that the two countries agree to turn Haya over to Brazil. Colombia consented. Peru wouldn't.

The peace committee has agreed to consider the case, asking both sides to appoint representatives in Washington. This much progress has taken nearly three weeks.

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Lamp Making Is Hobby For Pipe Line Engineer Here

CARL LAWRENCE, 3800 Muriel Drive, began a hobby several years ago that has literally brightened many a home from Arkansas to California. Lamps, which he makes from different woods, are given to friends.

Cypress from the swamps of Louisiana and East Texas, which he brings here himself, is a favorite material for lamps, because it is easy to work with and requires no sanding. Clear varnish is used for the finish. Mr. Lawrence also used cedar, which can be bought at lumber yards. A chisel is used to form the desired shape for cedar lamp bases.

No special equipment is needed, the main tools being braces and bits for cutting holes for electric wires.

Mr. Lawrence remarked that a rented house he owns in San Angelo is furnished with furniture of his own making. "During the war," he said, "I almost had to lock up some beds I had made to keep people from buying them." His favorite piece of furniture is a bed made from ash, which has a beautiful white color when finished.

Twenty-two years in oil field work can be counted by Mr. Lawrence, who is employed by the Magnolia Pipe Line Co. as an engineer. He is allowed to choose the town where he works, and came to Snyder from Sundown three years ago. So many of his friends were already here, Mr. Lawrence never considered it a strange town.

His move to Snyder brought to mind a decision he had to make in 1944, when he stopped here for a brief visit with a friend. "I was offered a corner lot and newly decorated house for $1,500 and turned it down." As he said ruefully, "I was sure that I would never be interested in living here, and three years later I was in Snyder."

Mr. Lawrence has a daughter, Mrs. D. C. Sims, who lives in El Dorado, Ark., and a son, Carlton who teaches industrial arts in Hobbs, N. M. Another son, Kenneth is in high school here. His interest, however, lies with music instead of the wood craft his father enjoys.

HOLIDAY WESKITS . . . Top of the gift pack are these handsome tie-striped vests for Dad and Junior. They're easy to make at home, too.

For A Swell Chest Give Bright Vest

By The Associated Press

Most popular gift of the year among the men folks this Christmas is likely to be a fancy vest.

This is the first indication in many years (aside from those horrendous sports shirts) that men yearn to break away from their usual dull accoutrements and add a bright touch to their habitual grays and browns and navy blues.

The fancy vest definitely is a success, seen in bright flannels, brocades and tie silks. They are worn for country weekends and non-business occasions by some of our most conservative males.

Your favorite men will feel pretty pleased with themselves, and with you, if your produce fancy vests in their favorite colors for Christmas. And you need not wreck the budget if you make them yourself. You may choose flannel, a rich silk brocade or striped tie silk. Those pictured are made in a tie striped novelty cotton which loks like silk and is designed by Thomas for year-round wear.

If you've never attempted man-type tailoring before, these tips from local sewing center experts will ease the job.

Using a standard pattern, cut out the vests, following pattern directions. Although not called for in the pattern, an interfacing of unbleached muslin will pay off in better fit and longer wear. Wash and iron the muslin first to shrink it, then cut from the same pattern, for vest front only. Before sewing darts or making pockets, baste the muslin to the vest fronts with rows of diagonal basting stitches about 2 inches apart. This will hold the fabrics firmly together.

The muslin will act as a good interfacing for the pockets, too, and will prevent pocket corners from pulling out. It also will help prevent the armhole curve from stretching as you stitch. The muslin makes a strong, firm backing for buttonholes, whether done by hand or with the button-hole attachment of your sewing machine.

Brass buttons add a gay finishing touch to the vests—or you may prefer smoked pearl or some other type buttons.

And don't forget—Sonny will be just as proud as Dad of a gay Christmas vest.

Bette Davis And Family Are In Love With Life In Maine

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Chamber of Commerce won't like this, but Bette Davis and Gary Merrill have moved from the sunny shores of California to the rock-bound coast of Maine.

The acting couple now reside in Portland, Maine, which is just about as far from Hollywood as you can get and still remain in the continental United States. It's not because they hate the film town. It's the climate.

"Principally we did it for the children," explained Merrill, who is here for "Witness to Murder" with Barbara Stanwyck and George Sanders. "California weather is pleasant, but too much so. It makes life too easy.

"Both Bette and I love a change of seasons. And we think a cold winter is good for kids. It presents challenges to them, if only in such things as putting on galoshes before they go out to play."

For the benefit of my fellow natives, I explain that both Bette and Gary were Californians only by professional necessity. Both were born and reared in New England, she in Lowell, Mass., and he in Hartford, Conn. I asked how they happened to settle in Portland.

"We both love the open ocean," he explained. "There's something wonderful about living near it. But it has to be the Atlantic for us. It's much different from the Pacific—has more character.

"We went up to Maine last summer, following Bette's operation. She wasn't able to do much, so we stayed at a lodge, where we could have service. We fell in love with the country and decided to try staying there. We rented a house and had our furniture sent out from California.

"It's really ideal living. Sure, the winters are cold, but not too cold. We're on the ocean, but only 15 minutes from Portland, the biggest city in Maine. You can take the overnight train to New York or get there in 90 minutes via airplane.

"We have come to know some great people there—doctors, lawyers and so forth. No show people at all. And do you know something—we have the most interesting conversations!"

I asked about Bette's health, and he said she is getting back in the pink again. Earlier this year she was operated on for osteomyelitis of the jaw. Merrill reported that she had no feeling around the jaw after the operation, but it is gradually returning.

"Bette will probably be out here in Hollywood after the first of the year," he added. "She is supposed to do Queen Elizabeth for Fox. They appear to be having some trouble finding a Sir Walter Raleigh. But then it's hard to find anyone around Fox these days."

Censors Are Easing Off On Movies

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The film industry's censorship code has loosened up, film maker Hugo Haas reported today, but he argues that it still has further to go.

Haas is that amazing Cech who gave up a fairly lucrative career of playing what he calls accent parts in Hollywood movies. He scraped together his savings and financed, wrote, directed, produced and starred in a film called "Pickup." The picture was a success, and he has made six one-man productions since then. He starts his seventh soon.

The Haas films generally deal with basic human situations such as the eternal triangle. He has thus come to grips many times with the Breen office, the industry's self-censorship body headed by Joseph Breen. Strangely enough, he is a fan of the office.

"They have been very considerate and helpful," he remarked. "I argue with them that my pictures cannot have the big stars and production of major studios, so I must have some other asset to offer the public. That is often sex.

"The Breen office understands my problem. They give in a little and I give in a little. On my last picture, 'Bait,' we went around for three days on the scene where Cleo Moore gets out of the bathtub and into a nightgown. We argued over the shot frame by frame and finally arrived at a compromise."

Haas observed that the code has loosened up in the past year or so. He cited "From Here to Eternity" as evidence of that. He said "The Moon Is Blue," which did not receive the code's approval, was a fluke.

"That involved a successful stage play that was transplanted almost intact to the movies," he said. "The controversy was over the use of certain words, without which the picture would not have been as effective."

Haas feels the code should be loosened up some more.

"I think it should be changed in regard to punishment," he said. "The ending of a Hollywood picture is always prearranged. The bad must die or be punished and the good must triumph. There can be no suspense or no surprise about what is going to happen.

"But life is not like that. The bad very often are not punished, and the good can suffer. Why can't we make movies that are true to life?"

I have noticed several recipes calling for whipped evaporated milk. Do you know how this is done? F. C.

Chill evaporated milk overnight in refrigerator or pour undiluted into freezing tray and chill until ice crystals begin to form around edges. Then pour into cold bowl. Beat with rotary beater until fluffy. Add one tablespoon lemon juice to each one-half cup evaporated milk used. Continue beating until whipped.

• • •

Just what is meant by the term "coating the spoon" which is used in some recipes? E. W.

Coating the spoon is a term used to determine when a boiled custard or cream is cooked to exactly the right point. The custard completely covers the spoon with a film that does not run off.

We used to have taffy pulls sometimes when I was a child, but I never learned how to make it. Do you have a recipe for old-fashioned taffy?.

We believe you are referring to vinegar taffy. To make it you will need:

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup water
2 tablespoons vinegar
2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

In a medium-sized (two quart) saucepan melt butter or margarine; roll it around sides of pan to greese well. Add water and vinegar; bring to a boil. Stir in sugar carefully so that it is completely dissolved. Cover saucepan and cook for three to five minutes or until sugar crystals are melted down from sides of pan. Uncover pan and continue rapid boiling of syrup to a hard-boil stage (262 F.). Remove from heat and pour into a lightly buttered shallow pan or platter to a depth of about one-half inch. Do this very carefully, holding the saucepan not more than an inch or so above the cooling pan.

Do not scrape the last of the syrup from the pan. Sprinkle with flavoring, but do not stir it in. Let the candy cool undisturbed until it can be held comfortably in the hands. Knead gently until it can be pulled and folded. If cooked correctly, it will not stick. Pull taffy until it has a satin-like finish and breaks off when hit against a hard surface. Pull to a rope of desired thickness; cut into inch-lengths with scissors. Makes 72 pieces.

Columnist Wondering About Women Sayng Nice Things

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—It always used to make me uneasy when I heard a woman praise a man.

I figured the poor fellow was either already under a tombstone—or failing rapidly.

But lately—well, I just don't know. Women are saying so many nice things about men they are getting calluses on their vocal cords.

"It doesn't mean a thing except we're getting closer to Christmas," one gentleman cynic told me. "The average woman's disposition begins to improve just before Thanksgiving.

"By the first of December she is acting like a human being. By the middle of the month, as Santa Claus gets nearer and nearer, you can see a halo over her head in a dim room.

"But soon after she gets her Christmas loot, the sweetness and light vanish, and the normal bark and bite come back into her voice again. Her feeling of gratitude fades faster than a snowflake in a bonfire."

But is this really so? Isn't this sour old-timer merely living in the past? It is true, perhaps, that human nature never changes. But how about the nature of women? There are signs it is changing with revolutionary speed.

I choose to believe, for example, that old-fashioned chivalry and courtliness aren't dead. They merely have undergone a change of ownership.

Like everything else that used to be symbols of masculine dominance—such as money, tobacco, pants and the dry martini—chivalry has been taken over by women. They are showing more and more gallantry in their attitude toward the weaker sex, man.

What else but pure gallantry explains the recent statement by Miss Kathleen Watts, a British psychologist, that men are more intelligent than women?

She gave a series of questions and problems prepared by another lady—Dr. Alice Heim—to a mixed group of 700 British university students. The results, she says, showed boys are smarter than girls, reason better, and learn quicker through practice.

Maybe. It also could prove that a kindhearted woman scientist is able to devise a test on which the lads could get a better grade than the lassies.

A&M Incident Is Said Closed

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Texas A&M President David Morgan says the case of a student, told to leave the campus by cadets who didn't like a letter he wrote to the college paper, has been investigated and is closed.

The Odessa student can come back, Morgan said yesterday, and "no further action is contemplated."

Morgan described the student's letter as "highly inflammatory." He said cadets who told the youth to leave exhibited "understandable indignation, but improper procedure."

INVITED TO LEAVE

John M. Clark, 20, pre-law student, said Friday 35 to 40 students had told him to leave school because of remarks about A&M he had made in a letter published in the Battalion.

Clark said he'd criticized "childish actions" of A&M students.

The threatening group intimated if he didn't leave he might get "shoved around, more or less," Clark said.

He said they packed his belongings, put them in his car and gave him gas money to "get home." A group of students followed him in cars to make sure he went, Clark added.

PRESIDENT'S WORD

Morgan said in part:

"The student wrote a highly inflammatory letter. The letter aroused other students who have a high regard for the college and for its rich heritage.

"With understandable indignation, but improper procedure, certain students decided that they were morally obligated to ask him to leave. He was therefore asked to leave and readily did so with their assistance in packing and loading his possessions into his car. Their monetary contribution was accepted. The entire procedure was orderly.

"The student may return at any time since he is still enrolled at the college."

June Haver's Hair Blond Once Again

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A dinner honoring Darryl F. Zanuck provided the occasion for June Haver's first public appearance since she left a Kansas convent.

The Screen Producers Guild presented its Milestone award last night to Zanuck, production head of Twentieth Century-Fox studios.

Miss Haver returned earlier this year from a Catholic convent at Xavier, Kan., saying ill health forced her to give up religious life.

She was attired in a smart evening gown and her hair was again the platinum hue she wore in films. During her stay at the convent she had allowed her hair to return to its natural brown.

She has no present plans to resume her film career, she told a reporter.

Nixon Keeps Peace

MANILA (AP)—Vice President Nixon made no comment today when introduced to a group of Filipino students with this prediction: "Within 12 years the President of the United States will be Richard Nixon."

Mangled Bodies Of College Students Are Pulled From Auto

RUIDOSO, N.M. (AP)—Four Texas Western College students were "horribly mangled" and died instantly in a truck-car collision eight miles southwest of Ruidoso on Highway 70 last night.

State Police said the Texas Western dean at El Paso identified the four as:

John Meyer, 24, San Antonio; Stuart Cunningham, 24, Coos Bay, Ore.; Clyde Brittan, 23, El Paso; and Robert Hawke, 21, Colon, Panama.

Tafoya said their car was struck by the left rear dual wheels of a semi-trailer tank truck "with such a terrific impact" it knocked off the truck's wheels.

Tafoya said the road was icy. The accident was on a steep hill. Truck driver Gaines Hodges of Amarillo was unhurt.

The bodies were taken to Alamogordo. An inquest was scheduled today.

Czechs Make Escape In Tiny Airplane

FRANKFURT (AP)—Two Communist-hating Czechs who flew a tiny plane over the Iron Curtain to freedom were safe in American hands in West Germany today. They landed southeast of Regensburg yesterday after a 2½-hour flight from Prague. Czechoslovakia guards opened fire as it swooped into West Germany. Neither the plane nor the men was hit.

Notre Dame Dramatics Bring Aspects To Game; Bowl Fogs

By ED CORRIGAN

NEW YORK (AP)—The fog—not the same one that has been plaguing the East for the past week—was beginning to lift ever so slightly today on the confused bowl picture. The Rose Bowl and Orange Bowl promoters were just about out of it.

But still fogbound were the Cotton Bowl and Sugar Bowl chieftains. They have plenty of teams from which to make their selections, but they didn't have the faintest notion of how to go about trimming the list of eligibles.

And while the promoters were scratching their heads, the coaches and players had plenty to mull over in the wake of Notre Dame's 14-14 tie with Iowa. There was no question that the Hawkeyes knocked the cloak of invincibility off the Irish.

But what of Notre Dame's tactics—or to use a better word, dramatics — that all but saved Frank Leahy's boys from defeat. First it was Frank Varrichone who caused a "injured player" time out with one second to go in the first half and the Irish behind. They promptly tied it. Then Art Hunter and Don Penza did the same thing with six seconds in the game left and the Irish trailing again they tied it.

Remember the postseason discussions about Notre Dame's "sucker shift" of last year, and its eventual demise by the Rules Committee? This one ought to cause even more post-mortems.

As for the bowls, the Rose will pit Michigan State against UCLA. The Uclans, champions of the Pacific Coast Conference, needed only the official ratification of the rest of the league to make it official. State was voted in last night at a Big Ten meeting. The Spartans wound up in a tie with Illinois for the league championship, each with a record of 5-1.

The first vote ended in a 5-5 deadlock, so Commissioner Tug Wilson called the faculty representatives to Chicago to discuss it and Michigan State, a freshman in the conference, emerged the winner.

The Orange Bowl will send Oklahoma, the Big Seven winner, against Maryland, which finished its season Saturday with a 21-0 victory over Alabama. The Terps are the only major undefeated-untied team in the country. As things stand, Duke and Maryland are tied for the leadership of the newly formed Atlantic Coast Conference, which sends its champion to the Orange Bowl.

But if a faculty vote is required, it is inconceivable that Maryland would not get the bid. Duke has been beaten twice and tied once and still must face North Carolina.

Cotton Bowl officials are being forced to wait for the end of the Southwest Conference season to determine the host team. Right now Baylor, Rice and Texas are tied for the lead. Baylor and Rice go at each other Satuday, so one will be eliminated.

Officials said they hoped to decide the visiting team within the next 48 hours. Georgia Tech has the inside track, although still up for consideration are Kentucky, West Virginia, Auburn, Alabama and Mississippi.

If Mississippi can get by Mississippi State, however, and wins the Southeastern Conference title, it probably will go to the Sugar Bowl against the second-place team in the Southwest Conference. If State wins, the Southeastern Conference champion would be decided by the Alabama-Auburn game Saturday. The Southeastern Conference victor usually plays in the Sugar Bow.

As for the Notre Dame-Iowa State fracas, and the repercussions thereof, the coaches had to look at it one of two ways:

1. The Irish overstepped themselves and used plain skullduggery in their desperate (and successful) attempt to keep their undefeated skein going.

2. Anything goes in football and so long as officials can't call you on it, it's legitimate.

All sides maintained a discreet silence today.

But both incidents gave Ralph Guilelmi a chance to get off desperation passes to Dan Shannon. He hit with an 11-yard toss with one second left in the second quarter, then found him again with six seconds left in the game in the final period.

The last big Saturday of the season ran pretty much true to form. The big games of the day were on the West Coast, where UCLA and Stanford were tied for the conference lead. The Uclans defeated Southern California 13-0 and Stanford could do not better than tie California 21-21.

Oregon State, a team that couldn't score a point in its first five games, surprised one and all by beating Oregon 7-0 and Mississippi Southern which started off the season with an upset over Alabama, finished operations by thumping Georgia 14-0. Finally, Harvard upended Yale 13-0.

Five Visitors Considered For Cotton Bowl

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

DALLAS (AP)—The Cotton Bowl field has been narrowed to five teams and a selection is due within 48 hours, President Otto Eisenlohr of the Cotton Bowl Athletic Assn., indicated today.

He named Georgia Tech, Alabama, West Virginia, Texas Tech and Mississippi as being on the list from which a visiting team will be picked to play the Southwest Conference representative.

He doesn't know the Southwest Conference team either because right now there is a three-way tie for the lead among Texas, Rice and Baylor and it will require three games this week to even cut it down to two.

Georgia Tech was considered the leading prospect in some quarters but that couldn't be verified from the selection committee of which Leonard Green is chairman and Eisenlohr is a member. The committee members weren't talking other than to say they were in continuous session and had become the darlings of the telephone company.

"Man, are those bills running up!" breathed Eisenlohr. "We have to name this team pretty soon or we'll all go nuts."

Georgia Tech, with a record of seven victories, one tie and two losses, still has Georgia to play. Alabama plays Auburn, Texas Tech meets Hardin-Simmons and Mississippi closes out with Mississippi State this week. West Virginia has finished its schedule with an 8-1 record.

Tickets On Sale For Plainview Contest

Tickets for the Snyder- Plainview grid game, which will be played in Plainview Thursday, are now on sale in the office of Forrest Beavers, county superintendent, in the courthouse.

The Thanksgiving Day game will be the last of the season for both teams. It will start at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Art Nicholas, school business administrator, said 160 reserved seat tickets and 200 student tickets had been sent from Plainview. Facilities are not limited at the Plainview stadium, he said, adding that if there is more demand for tickets they can be bought in Plainview on the day of the game. The stadium is larger than Snyder's, he said.

Navy Goat Is Out Of Hand

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) -- Navy awaited a ransom note today, confident Army would return the Middies' kidnaped goat before the Army-Navy football game.

Billy III, Navy's blue-grey mascot, was smuggled out of his shed in Thompson Stadium by unidentified parties during the early, fog shrouded hours yesterday morning.

Last night, Naval Academy officials said they had been informed Billy had been unveiled at the evening meal formation at West Point.

About 4 a.m. yesterday an anonymous "female" called and asked if Billy was in his shed. A guard dispatched to check found the goat gone. He also found two empty chloform cans.

A sharp finger of suspicion was pointed at the Army soccer team which left here at noon yesterday after beating the Middies 2-1 Saturday.

The goat didn't leave with the Cadet soccer team but Navy spokesmen feel the conspiracy was there.

Modern brass is an alloy mostly of copper and zinc, although in early times it referred to the alloy of copper and tin which we call bronze.

Upper Class Finals Set For Schoolboys

By The Associated Press

Odessa, Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Waco and Lamar (Houston) in Class AAAA and Big Spring, Texarkana, Temple and Edison (San Antonio) in Class AAA were given the favorite's tag Monday in the opening round of the state playoffs in Texas schoolboy football.

This despite the fact that three of the 16 district champions still are to be determined and that the playoffs don't start until next week. Also, despite the fact that Texarkana still has to win its district title before it can get into the playoffs.

But Texarkana, which plays Kilgore at Texarkana Thursday for the Dist. 4 crown in Class AAA, is generally regarded as the No. 1 team of its division and is expected to handle Kilgore without too much trouble.

However, there might be an upset and a different face in the state playoffs. Kilgore has lost only one game and tied one and its record against teams Texarkana has played compares quite favorably with that of the Tigers.

The Dist. 4 championship is one of two that will be decided in Class AAA this week. The other is Dist. 3 where three teams—Sherman, Paris and Gainesville are tied for the lead. Sherman plays at Paris and Denton at Gainesville Thursday. The Sherman-Paris loser will be eliminated and if Gainesville beats Denton it will tie the winner for the title. If that team should be Paris, Gainesville would get the state playoff spot because it beat Paris in regular season play. But Gainesville lost to Sherman.

One championship will be decided in Class AAAA. That's the Fort Worth district where Poly has only to beat Arlington Heights to take the title. Poly and North Side are tied for the lead and could finish that way. North Side plays Paschal Thursday and Poly meets Arlington Heights Friday. But even though North side won and tied Poly for first place, Poly would get the title since in a 20-20 tie Poly played with North Side it led in first downs. However, if Poly should lose and North Side win, North Side would be champion.

Already in the Class AAAA playoff are Odessa, Bowie (El Paso), Woodrow Wilson (Dallas), Waco, Ray (Corpus Christi), Lamar (Houston) and Port Arthur. Odessa and Bowie will decide the site and date of their bi-district game probably Monday by flipping a coin. Whoever is Fort Worth champion will play Woodrow Wilson at Fort Worth Dec. 4. Waco and Ray will clash at Waco Dec. 5 and Lamar and Port Arthur play at Port Arthur Dec. 4.

Big Spring, Brownwood, Temple, Port Neches, Edison and Edinburg are in the playoff from Class AAA. Big Spring and Brownwood clash at Brownwood Dec. 5. Temple and Port Neches play at Port Neches but the time wasn't to be set until some time Monday. Edison and Edinburg, both undefeated and untied, play at San Antonio Dec. 4.

Eastern Pros Almost Have Their Champ

NEW YORK (AP)—Cleveland's unbeaten Browns, winner of nine games, can clinch the Eastern Conference title Sunday for their fifth divisional championship in the National Football League but the Western Conference race could well go right down to the final day of the season on Dec. 13.

The Browns moved within one victory of the title yesterday by edging the Pittsburgh Steelers 20-16 and there's nothing in the books to indicate they won't chalk up No. 10 at the expense the winless Chicago Cardinals Sunday.

Detroit's Lions still held to a half-game lead over the Los Angeles Rams in the Western division after beating the Chicago Bears 20-16. The Rams stayed within striking distance with a 21-13 win over the Baltimore Colts. And the San Francisco 49ers remained only a game off the lead after downing the Green Bay Packers 37-7.

All three face what figures to be comparatively easy opposition this week. The Lions take on the Packers Thursday while the Rams meet the Chicago Bears and the 49ers tangle with the Colts at Baltimore.

Washington defeated the New York Giants 24-21 in the only game yesterday that had no bearing on the upper strata of the standings. On Saturday night the high-scoring Philadelphia Eagles won their sixth straight to retain a mathematical chance of catching the Browns. They defeated the Cardinals 38-0.

The Browns had a tussle with the Steelers but, as usual, combined the pitching arm of Otto Graham and Lou Groza's toe for victory. The veteran Cleveland quarterback tossed two touchdown passes—one for 54 yards to Ray Renfro and the other for 31 yards to Darrell Brewster—and Groza kicked two field goals.

The Lions came from behind for their victory with Doak Walker scoring one touchdown, kicking two field goals and adding the extra points after both tallies. Bobby Lano completed 21 passes out of 43 attempts for 241 yards.

The Rams trailed 13-7 going into the final period. Norm Van Brocklin tied it with a 26-yard heave to Vitamin Smith. And then Herb Rich ran an intercepted pass back 44 yards for the winning touchdown.

The 49ers scored twice in the first period and never were seriously challenged.

Two pass interceptions by Johnny Williams set up last-period scores in the Redskins' triumph over the Giants.

Scoring Lead For District Is Thrown Into Tie At 55 Points

Billy Dendy, Breckenridge scatback, moved into a tie for the lead in District 1-AAA scoring last Friday when he tallied two touchdowns and one conversion against Vernon.

Dendy had been running second to Carlisle Robison, Big Spring back, who continued to rack up score Friday but in a non-district game.

The Breckenridge halfback is far out in front in season scoring with 112 points, while Robison follows him with 67.

Breckenridge, which finished its season Friday, has one player either holding or tied for the first five places in district scoring. Dendy is the only one who is top in season scoring.

Bernie Hagins is the highest ranking Snyder player in district scoring with his 24 points. In season scoring, Jackie Grimmett is highest from Snyder with 36 points. He is tied with five others for seventh place.

Big Spring, Brownwood To Play On Dec. 5

The bi-district Class AAA grid game between Big Spring, champion of 1-AAA and Brownwood, winner of 2-AAA, will be played in Brownwood Dec. 5.

Officials of the two schools met in Abilene yesterday and set game time for 2 o'clock that afternoon in Brownwood.

The Big Spring Steers won the right to represent this district in playoffs with a 5-0 record. It still has one district game to go, that with Sweetwater Friday night. Breckenridge finished its season with a 5-1 record. Big Spring, if defeated by Sweetwater, will be tied for championship by Breckenridge but will go into playoffs because it beat the Buckaroos.

Quarterback Should Be In Shape For Bowl

COLLEGE PARK, Md. (AP)—Maryland's All America quarter back candidate Bernia Faloney should be in shape to play in the Orange Bowl next New Year's Day if the Terps are invited as indicated.

Wyre said Faloney ought to be able to take part in practice sessions in a couple of weeks.

HAS MANY FUNCTIONS

Automatic Sewing Machine Is Introduced By Firm In Snyder

The first completely automatic sewing machine in the world is being introduced here this week, according to C. C. Miller, owner of Miller's Sewing Machine Exchange, located one and one-h.. blocks south of the Pal-O-Mar Cortel on Avenue D.

The new machine is the Vigorelli "Robot."

Simple controls located on the front of the new Vigorelli "Robot" make it easy and simple for a person to perform all of the feats now known possible to either zig-zag or straight-stitch machines, Miller said. He added that any of the operations of the machine may be changed while the machine is sewing without ever slowing the machine down.

On the Vigorelli Robot five cams, each of which produces a different embroidery pattern, are mounted on a spindle. Switching from one pattern to another involves only a simple movement of the lever on front of the machine. The cams, in sets of five, come in 200 different shapes to produce 200 different embroidery patterns. Ten of the cams are included with each machine, and the other 190 are available at the price of five cams for 95 cents, Miller said.

Miller has recently completed remodeling of his store to display more machines, and better serve his cutomers. In addition to the Vigorelli Robot, Miller's Sewing Machine Exchange is dealer here for the Good Housekeeper, and the Superstat straight-stitch sewing machines.

Miller said that the machines he sells can be purchased on the easy payment plan, and free demonstrations either at his showroom or in any home can be easily arranged.

"The main advantage of the new Vigorelli Robot machine over other zig-zag machines is its simplicity of operation where others are complicated," Miller said.

"No special attachments are necessary for any of its hundreds of functions. Only a set of different sewing feet are included with the machine to make it do all the different jobs," he said.

"The machine is guaranteed for life service, and the manufacturer says the motor is guaranteed for five years," he said.

A double needle is included with the machine that makes it do all of its sewing jobs using two needles at one time for twin stitches. Different colors of threads may be used in the needles to add color to sewing.

"Service on the machine should not be needed, but if it is there will always be a service man located here," Miller said.

He added that all main parts of the machine are interchangable with most other leading sewing machines, making it possible to purchase parts, if necessary, for the machine.

Storms Hitting In Northwest

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Storms struck the northern Pacific Coast yesterday, sending rivers over their banks and raking coastal areas with gale-force winds. More bad weather is expected today.

Hardest hit was the southwestern Oregon Coquille Valley region. Two towns and several farming communities, with a total population of 3,500, were isolated by the rain-swollen Coquille River.

The Coast Guard and state police said there was no immediate danger in the isolated towns of Myrtle Point and Powers. Other sources reported that much livestock had been lost and some property damaged in the Lee Valley farming community.

Further south, near Grants Pass, Ore., a coffer dam was swept away by the flooding Rogue River Project officials estimated the loss at $50,000.

The Williamette Valley to the north also was threatened with lowland floods as torrential rains continued to pound the area.

A number of Oregon highways were blocked by slides and high water. Traffic in northern California also was disrupted by rains and slides.

Local Grocery Firm Wins Advertisement Contest And $80

A local Piggly Wiggly advertisement in the Daily News has won $80 for O. L. Nichols, owner of the store here.

Nichols received the first prize from the Piggly Wiggly Corp., of Jacksonville, Fla. as having the best ad in the annual Piggly Wiggly Armour promotion contest.

Ed Matthews, head of the firm's advertising department, said the ad's clarity headed the list of characteristics that won the contest for Nichols. The symmetrical layout, large bold type, and careful use of white space made the ad very easy to read and very clear, Matthews told Nichols.

Dismissal Of Negro Causes Group Protest

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Air Force says it is dismissing a Philadelphia Negro along with 6,500 other airmen because of budgetary limitations—not because he refused to sit in a segregated section of a Southern bus.

The National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) cited the case of Lt. Thomas Williams of Philadelphia in charging the Air Force is reprimanding Negro officers who ignore "Southern Jim Crow practices."

Clarence Mitchell, NAACP director here, said in a statement yesterday that this amounts to disobedience of Supreme Court decisions outlawing segregation in interstate travel.

But an Air Force spokesman said last night the bus incident had nothing to do with Williams' dismissal. The spokesman said he was among 6,500 airmen being let out because of budget cuts. He said the 6,500 were chosen because it was felt their release would least disrupt the effectiveness of the Air Force.

Mitchell said Williams, a pilot in training at Craig Air Force Base, Ala., refused to sit in a segregated section of a bus en route from Florida to Alabama.

He said Williams' dismissal was approved at a Pentagon meeting last Thursday despite a request by the NAACP for a review.

Garner Hunts On His Eighty-fifth Birthday

UVALDE, Tex. (AP)—Former Vice President John Nance (Cactus Jack) Garner, a white-haired sprightly old Democrat, clumped into his home from his 85th birthday deer hunt yesterday, stuffed himself with fresh venison, then got in bed for an afternoon snooze.

Garner wouldn't say whether he shot the deer himself. For 35 years he and Uvalde auto dealer Ross Brumfield have made the birthday hunt at a secret spot in southwest Texas hill country near here.

But Garner said to Uvalde newspaperman J. A. Scarborough: "I've had the best dinner today that I've ever eaten."

Garner waved a hand toward a quarter of venison still on a table and insisted Scarborough take some with him.

Then, indicating he was ready for his daily siesta, he said, "I'm going to bed when you leave."

Big Torch Is Stolen

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — The torch was gone today from the hand of liberty, 16-foot winged lady atop the Arizona Capitol.

Its disappearance has puzzled Thurston Scott, Capitol custodian.

He's looked in vain over the sprawling grounds.

"Why would anyone want a concrete flame, a busted light?" asked Scott. "Guess we'll have to make a new one."

Small Theater Owner Caught In Big Squeeze

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Movie attendance is on a gentle upgrade but the small theater owner claims he's being left out because he isn't getting enough pictures from Hollywood.

Operators of neighborhood and small city theaters say an estimated gain of four to five million in weekly ticket sales since the first of the year is due largely to long runs by a few super colossal features in metropolitan picture palaces.

With Hollywood's output down more than one-fourth in the past two years, the little fellow who changes program two or three times a week says he can't compensate by longer runs—that three or four days is the limit for his house no matter how good the picture.

On the other side of the argument are the film makers who contend that since television, people simply ignore anything but top flight pictures. The answer to TV, they argue, is fewer and better features.

The extent of the reduction in Hollywood's output is shown in the number of films submitted to the Motion Picture Assn. of America for production code seals of approval. Totals for the past five years follow: 419 in 1949; 429 in 1950; 432 in 1951; 368 in 1952, and 274 the first 10 months of 1953.

Chester Bahn, editor of Film Daily, reports that the rate of theater closings has slowed and the trend apparently has been halted "at least for the time being."

He estimates that 3,000 to 4,000 conventional theaters have closed in the past seven years and that about 16,000 now are in operation, but says there have been some reopenings in recent weeks. Casualties have been heaviest among smaller theaters.

Bahn says a major factor in the reduction in film output was uncertainty over the new processes—3D and wide screen films. Early this year 3D packed houses all over the country, then lost much of its lure. Now Twentieth-Century-Fox's CinemaScope is a box office sensation.

Both producers and theater operators are uncertain which of the new processes, if any, will prove a permanent answer to TV.

20 Violently Killed In State

By The Associated Press

At least 20 persons died violently in Texas over the weekend, 11 in traffic mishaps.

Six were shot to death, two drowned and one was fatally stabbed. Latest deaths included:

Leonardo Rivera, 23, was killed Sunday night when his car went off a highway near El Paso.

Abe Lieberman, 82, died Sunday when struck by an automobile in Houston.

Maria Avila, 22, was killed near San Antonio Sunday crossing a highway.

Roy Richardson, 22, and Donald Richardson, 21, cousins of Pampa, were killed and two others were injured in a two-car crash 13 miles east of Amarillo Sunday.

Holman Edwards, 42, was shot dead during an argument at his home in Houston Friday night. Officers were questioning a man, 36.

Ronnie Carr, 4, was shot to death while playing in his home at Richland near Corsicana Friday.

Two Dallas duck hunters, Maurice Young, 36, and Amos Batil, 47, were drowned late Saturday when their boat overturned in Lake Dallas.

Henry Swain, 48, of Snyder was killed Friday night when his truck overturned on a curve north of Junction.

Bishop Marvin Blalock, 63, of Houston was killed instantly Saturday night in a head-on collision between two autos east of Hockley.

Color as you like it is the theme of a selection of 200 shades of new Benjiman Moore paints being introduced here by Forrest Builder's Supply, 2109 Twenty-fifth Street. Turner Beard, left, manager, and Marshall Erwin, salesman, are shown inspecting a bucket of the new paint. (Lee Watson photograph)

Paint Colors Added By Firm

Color as you like it, from airway blue to wild Iris is now making its first appearance in the painting and home decorating fields here, Turner Beard, manager of Forrest Builders Supply, said.

Two hundred colors, featuring many shades never before available in ready-to-use paints, are included in a new, tint selector displayed in the store.

Called "Color—as you like it," 200 colors can be had in both flat and semi-gloss paint for interior use. The flat finish is appropriate for living, dining and bedroom walls and ceilings, while the semi-gloss is recommended for kitchen and bathroom walls, wood trim and furniture in any room.

In addition, many of these handsome, modern colors can be obtained in an exterior paint that excells in easy brushing, high hiding, firm adhesion, color retention and durability. These important properties are present too, in the two interior paints. The paints also assure quick drying, mild odor, and complete washability.

In selecting exterior colors, the customer will find a wide variety of colors including many of the decorator shades now popular for exterior painting.

Slain Girl's Mother Had Fear Of Losing One Of Her Children

BALTIMORE (AP)—An ironic footnote to the tragic slaying of 9-year-old Susan Roth child in Japan was told last night by a relative here.

Mrs. Stella Moses, first cousin of Susan's father, Col. Jacquard H. Rothschild, said Susan's mother, Mrs. Phyllis Rothschild, had a fear of losing a child.

"Until her second child, Phyllis always feared having just one," Mrs. Moses recalled. "A friend of hers who had an only child lost it in some kind of accident. Ronnie (Susan's 7-year-old brother) was supposed to protect them from that sort of thing."

Mrs. Moses described Susan as a "beautiful 9-year-old who inherited her mother's red hair and her father's good looks."

Tornados Are Flitting Through Southern States

PANAMA CITY, Fla. (AP)—Residents of Woodville, a small northwest Florida community, cleared up debris today after a roaring Sunday morning tornado which smashed six homes and left 21 injured.

Another twister ripped across two south Louisiana parishes (counties) a few hours earlier, destroying 26 homes and injuring one person.

Most of Woodville's 100 residents were at home when the storm hit at 8:40 a.m.

Jews Leaving Israel Causing New Problems

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—This Bavarian city, a chief center of anti-Semitism in the Hitler era, today is an unwilling haven for hundreds of Jews.

In little more than a year, almost a thousand East European Jews have come here from Israel—dissatisfied with life in what they once regarded as the Promised Land.

They hope Munich is only a temporary stopover on the way to North or South America.

The refugees, most of them Polish-born, say they were unable to fit in with Israel's present-day "pioneer conditions" and couldn't find jobs in Israel or adapt themselves to the climate.

They came to Munich because the one remaining camp for displaced Jews in Germany is at nearby Foenrenwald. Almost all of them entered Germany illegally. They're in for rough times here. German authorities plan to close down Foenrenwald by next spring.

Jewish aid organizations here hope the refugees can be resettled in the United States, Canada or Brazil before then.

The situation became worse a couple of weeks ago when 163 refugees arrived from Israel via France. Sixty-seven of them were promptly arrested by German police on charges of illegal entry. All were refused admission to Foehrenwald, where 650 "illegal" immigrants already were living.

The new arrivals finally were granted sanctuary in Munich's Orthodox Jewish synagogue and community center building.

Then German police raided the building and arrested 65 men and two women. Other women and all the children were left where they were, although German authorities said all were guilty of illegal entry.

Those arrested were given short jail sentences—14 days or less—and warned they faced deportation.

In the meantime, the Hebrew Immigrant Aid Society is working around the clock to resettle the homeless Jews in the Western Hemisphere while providing them with food and shelter.

San Antonio Goes After Blackbirds

SAN ANTONIO, Tex (AP)—Police used guns and firecrackers today in the final stage of a three-day drive to fell, or shoo, hordes of squawking blackbirds infesting city park.

Two officers who started firing away Saturday bagged some 6,000 birds over the weekend.

Today, men with firecrackers were stationed in buildings around the park to keep the birds from flitting to safety.

Tax Bureau To Get More Cuts

WASHINGTON (AP) — House tax fraud investigators, tacitly admitting they expect political opposition, have recommended eliminating some of the 64 federal district tax collection offices.

The House Ways and Means subcommittee, in the third of a series of reports yesterday, said the recent reorganization of the Internal Revenue Service was "a major accomplishment."

But it said the plan, submitted by then President Truman in 1951 when tax scandals shook the bureau, was "evidently drafted in haste." As a result there were imperfections, it said, adding: "There is little need for 64 such offices."

The reorganization, approved in 1952, decentralized authority, abolished the politically appointed offices of revenue collector and created nonpolitical offices of district collector under 17 regional administrators—later reduced to nine in the Eisenhower administration.

Congressional approval came after many members of Congress raised objections to any step which would deprive them of a local revenue headquarters. There is at least one district collection office in each state, with some states having several.

Jury Bootlegging Case Begins In Court Here

A trial by jury was begun in criminal county court this morning in the case of W. L. (Vell) Shipley, about 40, construction contractor, charged with possession of liquor for purpose of illegal sale.

The charge, filed Sept. 8 against Shipley, who was then an official of the Ace Construction Co., alleges he possessed 10 pints of whisky at his residence near the construction company office for purpose of sale in a legally prohibited area.

J. Ray Martin, Snyder attorney, is representing Shipley. Wayland G. Holt, county attorney, is prosecutor in the case, and Judge Edgar Taylor is presiding.

Evaporation from the surface of the Dead Sea is estimated at from 6½ to 17 feet annually.

Snyder Youths Under Charge

Two Snyder youths and two youths from Dallas have been charged in Fisher County with burglary of a drug store at Rotan, according to R. L. Wilkins, sheriff there.

Wilkins said felony complaints were filed Saturday at Roby against John B. Tarleton, Jr., 21, Avenue S; Floyd Gilbeth, about 17, also of Snyder; Huey Jack Pitts, 20, and Amos Benny Bolton, 22, both of Dallas.

They were said to be charged with the burglary last Tuesday night of the C & C Drug Store at Rotan. The store reported losing $200 in cash and about $8 worth of merchandise.

Tarleton was sentenced in county court here in June to six months in the county jail on conviction of driving while intoxicated. He served 68 days of the sentence, according to the court docket, and was released to custody of a sister. Officials here said Tarleton was released on information he was ill.

Tarleton was convicted here on a plea of guilt June 8 after he had previously pleaded innocent to the charge filed on May 15. He was driver of a car which overturned May 13, seriously injuring a 15-year-old Snyder girl.

Two Arrested Here On Shoplifting Count

Two Latin-Americans each posted $25 bail bond in corporation court and were released from city jail Saturday afternoon following their arrest on charges of shoplifting. Both forfeited bond and did not appear for trial.

The men were arrested about 2:15 Saturday afternoon in Furr's Food Store by Roy Wilhelm, city policeman.

They are Jose Espinoza, 33, who listed his address as route 3, box 88, El Campo, Tex., and Pete Saenz, 30, of 1900 Avenue V, Snyder.

One Injured In Crash Here

One woman was injured in a two-car collision at Thirteenth Street and Avenue S about 8 o'clock this morning, P. E. Smith, city police investigator, said.

She is Mrs. Janet Hamilton Norris, 30, of 2707 Avenue X, who was taken to Battenfield hospital in a Bell Ambulance from the wreck scene.

Smith said hospital attendants had made X-Ray pictures of Mrs. Norris' shoulder, but had not completely determined extent of injuries.

Mrs. Norris was driving a 1951 Plymouth which was involved in a collision with a 1953 Chrysler driven by John Angel, 41, who lives at Twenty-fourth Street and Avenue M.

Smith said that both cars were severly damaged.

Minor Accidents Are Investigated Over Week End By Police

Two minor automobile accidents, one a hit-and-run accident, were investigated by police yesterday.

The hit-and-run accident was reported by Mrs. Dorothy Goss, who filed a complaint with the police department against two men in a light green 1950 Chevrolet bearing an Arizona license plate. She said the Chevrolet car struck her car, then the men drove away from the scene of the accident. Neither car was seriously damaged, she said.

The other accident occurred at Twenty-eighth Street and Avenue G about 6 o'clock last night involving two cars.

One of the cars was a 1951 Ford driven by Dorothy Cochran Wheller, 20, of 309 Twenty-eighth Street. The car was owned by Glen McCoy, of 309 Twenty-ninth Street, police said.

The other car was a 1950 Ford driven by Royce Robert McLaren, 51, of box 1101, Snyder.

There were no injuries in any of the accidents.

Liquor Charge Made

A charge of bootlegging was filed in county court this morning against Eddie Reed, 46-year-old Negro, formerly of Seattle.

Reed was arrested at his residence in the Negro section of Snyder last night by officers of the sherriff's department, who said they confiscated seven half-pints of whisky from his possession.

Reed is charged with possession of liquor for purpose of illegal sale.

Why the big swing is to Ford!

More than a million buyers decided on Ford this year... because Ford's "worth more when you buy it... returns more of its worth when you sell it!"

They like it in traffic!

They're swinging to Ford for good reason. Only Ford in its field offers you a choice of V-8 or Six, with the smooth, agile performance you need for getting around in today's kind of traffic. You get a choice of three great drives . . . conventional, fuel-saving Overdrive or Fordomatic, the only automatic in Ford's field with an automatic intermediate gear for extra GO. You get the full visibility you want, too . . . the most in Ford's field.

They like it in the hills!

Both V-8 and Six give you hill-flattening GO on "regular," thanks to the Automatic Power Pilot. And Master-Guide power steering, available on all V-8's, makes turning up to 75% easier yet retains the natural "feel" of steering on the straightaway.

They like it for ride, for room, and for just plain good looks!

Front end road shock alone is reduced up to 80%! Ford's wide seats accommodate six, while the trunk is a whole suitcase bigger. And Ford's good looks speak for themselves.

Come in... See... Value Check... Test Drive Ford
