Fight On Poll Taxes In Texas Is Mapped

Move To Abolish Law To Be Pushed At Demo Meeting, In Legislature

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 27—A fight to end poll taxes in Texas was promised today by Sen. Rogers Kelley of Edinburg.

Kelley, who has represented the 27th district in the state Senate for a decade, said in a prepared statement here that he is planning to take the offensive on two fronts: At the coming state Democratic convention May 25 and at the next session of the legislature.

"There has been a lot of talk about states rights and home rule, and I believe the time has come to do something to back up this talk," he said. "I believe Texans should of their own free will and accord show that they really believe in states rights and, by the vote of the people, amend that section of the constitution which now puts a premium on the God-given right of every citizen to vote."

10 Ask Demo Stand

Kelley said that on the opening day of the next session of the legislature in January, he will introduce a resolution and all necessary bills calling for the abolishment of poll tax payments in Texas.

At the Democratic convention in Brownwood next month, Kelley said he would call for delegates to take a definite stand in the convention platform recommending the abolishment of poll tax payments as a prerequisite for voting.

"The Democratic convention is a good place for Democratic leaders to stand up and be counted on this issue of poll tax payments," he declared. "If our leaders really are sincere in insisting upon state rights and home rule, here is an opportunity for them to do something about it."

Rights Claimed Hit

Abolishing the poll tax was one of the issues in President Truman's civil rights program which brought cries of infringement on states rights from southern states. Texas party leaders have directed their criticism more at the infringement than at the "rights" contending that the states should be left to do their own reforming.

Disgruntled over the civil rights program and the tidelands issues, Texas organization Democrats are seeking to send an uninstructed delegate to the national convention to bargain against Truman policies.

Kelley said all candidates for state office should make their position clear on the poll tax question, so that voters can know their stands before the coming summer primaries.

The veteran senator, whose present term runs through the next legislative session, declared that he believes Texans fundamentally are against the payment of poll taxes.

Statement On Policies Seen

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27.—An early statement by President Truman on America's future political approach to the pressing problems of western Europe was forecast today by high official sources.

Such a pronouncement, it was predicted, would precede any move toward supplying the five powers adhering to the Brussels pact with arms, or the ultimate step of asking Congress to approve a definite military alliance with western Europe.

Path Would Be Clear

President Truman has been conferring with congressional leaders and his top advisers in the Departments of State and National Defense in an effort to evaluate what manner of political commitments the United States might make as a preliminary step to military aid and guarantees.

Once such a statement has been made, the path would then be clear to consider the request of various western European powers — notably France—for the supply of arms.

This being a presidential campaign year, it was regarded as extremely doubtful that Congress would be asked by the Truman administration to agree to a military alliance in advance of the November elections.

Brussels Pact Praised

Secretary of State Marshall, addressing the U. S. Chamber of Commerce here today, developed the U. S. position in world affairs when he told the nation's business leaders that America must take over and carry on the dominant economic role so long occupied by Great Britain.

A qualified spokesman said that extremely close liaison is underway between the United States and the five-power "western union" of Great Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Gratification was expressed over the action of the Brussels-pact powers in setting up a commission to meet weekly on political and military problems growing out of ERP and the constant threat of Communist encroachment.

Arms Supply Studied

These meetings, it was predicted, would soon be able to agree on the precise methods by which the five powers would carry out the

Floods Threaten Minnesota Areas

AITKIN, Minn., April 27. (INS)—An estimated 25 square miles of Aitkin county were flooded today as the headwaters of the Mississippi river poured into low-lying areas, and the worst was yet to come.

So far National Guardsmen have evacuated 70 farm families from the area.

It is feared that the waters will rise even farther when the ice in a tributary, the Prairie river, begins to break up. This may occur tonight.

The Minnesota state executive committee has voted a $40,000 fund to be used for relief work in the area.

Elsewhere in the state, the rampaging Red river has forced more than 300 families living in the town of St. Vincent from their homes. St. Vincent, isolated by the waters, is in the extreme northwest portion of the state.

(New help for the stricken communities was scheduled to come late today from St. Louis.

(A detachment of U. S. Coast Guard personnel complete with flood boats and equipment took off from St. Louis and is expected to arrive in Duluth tonight.

(The group will travel in an Air Force transport plane which also carry four Coast Guard boats equipped with outboard motors.

(Coast Guard Chief Petty Officer Tom Brinson of Woodcliff, Ga., is in charge of the rescue expedition.)

Elliott Roosevelt Sounds New Boost For 'Ike' As President

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—Elliott Roosevelt said tonight President Truman would offer the Democratic presidential nomination to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower at the party's national convention 'if the people demand it."

The son of the late president spoke at a rally sponsored by the "draft Eisenhower movement."

Mankind Hopes To Avert Self Destruction

Bradley Says Nation Must Accept 'Lead'

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 27—Gen. Omar Bradley, Army chief of staff, declared tonight that the "challenge" to America—as a dominant power in world affairs—has become "an appeal from all mankind to save itself from destruction."

"This nation," said Gen. Bradley, "must stand as a resolute champion of human rights over police powers, of political rights over protective custody."

He referred to the United States as the "guide post of nations" who see in Democracy "not only assurance of man's personal freedom but the light of his economic opportunity as well."

Missions Listed

Gen. Bradley spoke at a dinner of the second annual forum of the National Association of Magazine publishers.

He asserted that in the event of war the armed forces of this country have two missions of equal importance:

1. To "defend our homeland from attack."
2. To "strike at the enemy's heart."

Earlier in the day, at forum sessions, speakers included Beardsley Ruml, chairman of the board of directors of R. H. Macy & Co., New York; Dr. James Phinney Baxter, president of Williams college, Williamstown, Mass., Donald K. David, dean of the graduate school of business administration, Harvard university, and Congressman Christian Herter of Massachusetts.

Publisher Gardner Cowles acted as moderator of the afternoon session, and Dr. Barclay Acheson of Reader's Digest as moderator of the morning forum.

NASHVILLE, Tenn., April 27—A drayman gave his team of horses a severe tongue lashing today after they had bolted down the street while hitched to his junk wagon.

With a final caustic comment, Ezekial Martin approached the wagon. The nearest horse kicked him in the face.

Berlin Police Chief Hits Reds

BERLIN, April 27 (AP)—Hans Kanig, Berlin police chief who says he is a fugitive from the Soviet sector, charged in an interview today that German Communists are trying to seize control of the city's police by creating terror and panic.

Kanig said he took flight from the Soviet sector yesterday when the Russians began questioning him and threatening his arrest because he had punished a policeman. The policeman lured a German civilian into the Russian zone where the civilian was kidnapped.

Story Investigated

His story is being investigated by American authorities who said they would demand an official Soviet explanation. Four-power agreement provides that Berlin city officials can be arrested only on orders of the allied Kommandantur, four-power governing body.

Kanig's home in the American sector, where he gave the interview, was under guard today. He declared German Communists were responsible for recent kidnappings in the western sections of the city "because they want to create a panic after their propaganda has failed to win the people."

He declared Communists were attempting to grab all key police

Loss Is $150,000 In Colby, Kas., Blaze

COLBY, KANS., April 27. (INS)—Two buildings were completely destroyed tonight and four others badly damaged by smoke and water in a $150,000 fire that swept over half a city block of downtown Colby.

There were no casualties.

Colby's lone piece of fire fighting equipment was destroyed by flames that flared "twice as high as a three-story building," according to witnesses.

An estimated 10 pieces of equipment from 10 different towns brought the flames under control.

'VOICE OF AMERICA' ASSAILED

GOP Solon Unleashes Bitter Attack On Secretary Marshall

By EARLE MARCKRES
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27. — Chairman Taber of the House Appropriations committee unleashed a bitter attack today on Secretary of State Marshall and assailed the "Voice of America" broadcasts as "incredible drivel."

The New York Republican said that Marshall has done "little or nothing" to fire persons from the State department who, he insisted, are "working against the welfare of this country."

Taber contended that the "voice" programs, multi-lingual broadcasts of American news to other nations, is "such trashy jargon" that it is "an insult to any listener, whether he be in the Congo or Chicago."

The New Yorker reiterated his charge that officials in the State department responsible for screening employes for loyalty and security "are not fitted for their jobs and are not protecting the interests of this country in these critical days." Taber asserted:

"So far as I know, little or nothing has been done to improve or correct this situation, either by Secretary of State Marshall or by

Two Big Steel Firms Join Inflation Fight

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Two of the nation's largest steel companies—Bethlehem and Jones and Laughlin—today joined the industry's announced campaign to combat inflation. They announced they were cutting prices and refusing wage increases.

A third member of steel's "big five" — Youngstown Sheet and Tube company—indicated it probably will follow suit.

Two Others Reject Boosts

The other two, U. S. Steel and Republic, previously refused wage boosts asked by the CIO Steelworkers union. U. S. Steel also cut prices, and Republic is studying such a step.

The five firms employ a total of 344,000 steelworkers. The union has asked a "substantial wage increase." The present average hourly wage is $1.55.

Bethlehem Steel company, in a statement issued here, said that in addition to refusing pay boosts, it soon will cut the prices of some of its products a total of $10,000,000 annually. It is the second ranking steel firm.

Wallace Sure Of Getting Place On Ballots Of Five States

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP) — Henry A. Wallace's third party movement has cleared the getting-on-the-ballot hurdle in five key states but some of the toughest jumps are yet to come, a Wallace campaign strategist said today.

Mrs. Lillian Traugott, assistant to C. B. Baldwin, Wallace's campaign manager, said in an interview the states in which Wallace is sure of a place on the ballot are California, Maryland, New Jersey, Pennsylvania and New York.

The only state in which the Wallace forces concede they are licked is Florida, where the deadline is May 4. Mrs. Traugott said the task there was to get 25,000 votes to change their registrations, and admitted this was impossible.

UN Attempts At Truce Fail

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LAKE SUCCESS, April 27—United Nations attempts to obtain a truce to protect Jerusalem bogged down tonight without result.

The U. N. trusteeship council members will make another attempt tomorrow at 2 p. m. (CST) to reach an agreement between the Jews and Arabs.

The closed meeting of the council ended at 4:50 p. m. (CST) with delegates saying "nothing" had been done.

The Jewish agency appealed to the United Nations today to halt a threatened invasion of Palestine by regular Arab troops.

Jews Also To Use Force

The agency made it clear to the 58-nation political committee of the UN Special Assembly on Palestine it would meet Arab force with Jewish force if the UN could not stop the columns of the seven-nation Arab league.

Assembly delegates listened gravely, mindful of the growing battle in Palestine and conflicting reports, not verified, that Egyptian armored units have crossed the southern Palestinian border.

Other prime UN developments were:

1. Roger Garreau, of France, urged the trusteeship council to create a heavily-armed elite force of 1,000 civil volunteers to guard the holy places of Jerusalem. Informed sources said this force could include 100 New York City policemen if they choose to volunteer. It would have tanks and modern equipment.

Soviets Attack Plan

2. Poland and Soviet Russia bitterly attacked once more a United States plan for a temporary trusteeship over the Holy Land. Poland's Dr. Juliusz Katz-Suchy demanded that the UN review American investments in Middle East oil.

3. Philip C. Jessup, United States delegate, asked the political committee what it thought about the U. S. proposal to provide troops for a Palestine trusteeship force by giving a proposed governor-general authority to call on certain selected countries to chip in troops. The political committee is arguing whether to send the American proposal to the Assem-

Holy Land Drive On, Arabs Claim

By CARTER L. DAVIDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

JERUSALEM, April 27—An Arab said troops of an Egyptian armored division invaded Palestine today in a dawn crossing of the southern frontier, but the report was denied by Egyptian officials in Cairo.

Officials in Cairo said no regular armed forces had entered the Holy Land. Some Egyptians close to the army command said an invasion had occurrred with the troops involved probably going as volunteers.

(A British foreign office spokesman in London declared Britain would resist any Arab expeditions into the Holy Land before the British yield their mandate on May 15.

Syrian Officials Chagrined

(A Damascus dispatch said Syrian officials were expressing chagrin over the role taken by King Abdullah of Trans-Jordan, who has declared himself ready to lead his Trans-Jordan Arab legion into Palestine immediately. They viewed Abdullah's move as preliminary to proclaiming to himself of the Arab part of Palestine, and said he had British sup-

Texas Republicans Promise Some Delegates To Stassen

DALLAS, April 27 (AP)—Daniel Gainey, national chairman of the Citizens for Stassen organization, said today that Texas Republican leaders had promised to give his candidate several of Texas' delegates to the Republican national convention.

Gainey has been in Texas for a week, raising funds for the Harold E. Stasser. campaign. He left for Minneapolis, Minn., tonight, where he will report to Stassen on his Texas trip.

Jack Slemp, Amarillo oilman and Texas field representative for Stassen, accompanied Gainey on the fund-raising swing.

Last-Minute Wage Negotiations Fail

Rail Unions To Call Nationwide Strike

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, April 27—Three operating rail unions tonight said they would call a strike that would paralyze the nation's railroad system.

Spokesmen for the three unions said the date of the strike would be announced tomorrow at 9:30 a. m. (CST) in Chicago.

Shortly before midnight the unions broke off wage talks with carrier representatives.

The unions had chosen midnight (Central Daylight Time) as a deadline for ending negotiations before setting a strike date. Earlier, spokesmen for two of the unions said that a strike date would be set immediately if no agreement were reached before the midnight deadline.

All remedies for avoiding a strike under the Railway Labor act have been exhausted.

The unions and the carrier representatives met all day in a secret session, adjourned for dinner, and then resumed talks tonight in a last-minute effort to settle the dispute.

The committee representing the unions is empowered to set the strike date and issue strike notices.

There was no immediate word from the committee.

ONE YEAR OF TRAINING URGED

Teen-Age Draft Is Favored Over UMT By Army Leaders

By JACK RUTLEDGE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 27.—Universal military training was virtually junked today, for the time being at least, as military leaders unveiled a teen-age trainee program to put boys 18 through 19½ in the regular forces.

The plan, as outlined to Senate Armed Services committee, would draft 161,000 youths of this age bracket the first year, train them along with older draftees for one year, then put them in reserve groups.

The trainees, however, would retain one UMT privilege—they would not be sent outside the continental United States for duty except with the consent of Congress.

Others To Be Drafted

(The universal military training plan—originally called for an elaborate setup of camps and other training institutions, separate from the armed services. The boys would have been given special training and would have been members of the Army, Navy or Air Force.)

The plan also calls for drafting of men 19½ through 25 for two years service. About 190,000 of these would be inducted the first year.

Chairman Gurney (R-SD) of the Senate Armed Services committee said the plan was outlined by Secretary of Defense Forrestal, Secretary of the Army Royall, and Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey. Gurney later explained the plan to reporters.

Gurney said the committeemen present seemed unanimously in favor of the idea but there was no actual vote. That will come after the proposal is put in bill form.

Meanwhile Secretary of Air Symington gave his official approval to a compromise program for a 66-group Air Force. He said

Cleared Conscience, Understanding Law Help Man Go Free

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—A cleared conscience made Nello Piccin, 22, a free man today.

Piccin fell in love and wanted desperately to buy his girl a trousseau to match her beauty before they married. But he didn't have any money.

In despair he carved a gun of wood and marched into a haberdashery store and held up the man behind the counter, taking $65 from him.

Then his conscience bothered him. He couldn't eat and he couldn't sleep. At last he told his fiancee the story and together they went to a priest.

The three went to the district attorney's office and Piccin described his tortured conscience. He said he would accept his punishment.

But the law understood and today Piccin stepped free and smiling from criminal court court after the robbery charges were dismissed.

In his pocket were two addresses supplied in court—a place where he would surely get a job and a store that would give his fiancee the trousseau.

"I'll ask her all over again to marry me," he said.

Favorite Son, Dewey Trail

(By The Associated Press)

PHILADELPHIA, April 28 (Wednesday) — White House aspirant Harold E Stassen, fresh from delegate victories in Wisconsin and Nebraska, rolled out in front today in returns from Pennsylvania's presidential preference primary.

With reports in from 4,347 precincts, more than half of 8,262 in the state, Stassen led with a total of 37,844 write-in votes. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey had 32,796 and the state's favorite son, Sen. Edward Martin, was third with 24,560. Thus Dewey, who trailed in early returns as Stassen and Martin alternately were ahead, had pulled well ahead of the former Pennsylvania governor as the count advanced.

Taft Poor Fourth

Dewey led in Pennsylvania four years ago, piling up 146,706 votes in a write-in campaign that preceded his nomination. Stassen received only 1,502 then, a dismal last among seven candidates.

Other Republicans in the balloting were: Sen. Robert A. Taft, 7,310; Sen. Arthur Vandenberg, 4,360; Gen. Douglas MacArthur, 3,435; Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, 2,270; Henry Wallace, 375; Gov. Earl Warren, of California 335, and Gov. James H. Duff, of Pennsylvania, 241.

Returns from the Democratic primary gave President Truman 103,242 votes. His name appeared on the ballot. Wallace had 1,400 (write-in) votes, and Eisenhower 1,381.

Supporters of both Senator Martin and Stassen had sought write-in votes in last minute campaigns The Stassen drive was reported at Pittsburgh, and two former national commanders of veterans organizations disclosed they were urging votes for Martin.

The Republican senator, an Army officer in both world wars, is not an announced candidate for the GOP nomination but state Republican leaders have said Pennsylvania's 73-member delegation to the GOP national convention will back him as a favorite son at least on the first ballot.

Convention delegates elected at the primary are not required to abide by the preferential voting. Democratic leaders announced their support for President Truman.

Death Of Man Is Probed In City

The circumstances involved in the death of W. W. Reeves, 43, of Whitewright, Texas, were being further investigated last night by Capt. Gilbert Newton, of city police, and District Attorney Lloyd Croslin.

Reeves died in West Texas hospital at 8:15 o'clock last night without regaining consciousness since Sunday night, when he was knocked down in the 600 block of Broadway by a man who claimed that he acted in self defense.

Man Was Struck

The man told police that he had advised Reeves repeatedly to stay out of a place of business. He said he struck Reeves when the latter made a motion toward a pocket.

The body was removed to Rix Funeral home. It was not known whether he had relatives at Whitewright.

SEATTLE, April 27—Milner Jarvis, 50-year-old self-styled "Robin Hood," was held in Seattle today after setting out to "redistribute" $47,000 in Nevada horse race bookies' profits among the poor.

Jarvis was arrested in Seattle at the request of Las Vegas, Nev., authorities in connection with the reported disappearance of $47,000 from the palatial Flamingo hotel.

When police entered Jarvis' room in the swank Olympic hotel, they said he had $17,400 in his possession.

Jarvis, in King county jail, said he was night clerk at the hotel and that he and another man left together—without waiting to count the money.

He added:

Jewish And Arab Forces Seeking Edge In Showdown In Holy Land

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

While the United Nations debates, the Arabs are threatening a wholesale bloodletting in Palestine.

Scattered Jewish victories in guerrilla fighting in the past few weeks have aroused the Arab nations to frenzy. Whether their unified determination to settle the question by arms is sufficient to blanket their mutual jealousies is a big question.

Territorial Conquest Seen

Syria, Egypt and Saudi Arabia are all suspicious that Abdullah of Trans-Jordan intends to turn the campaign into one of territorial aggrandizement for himself. But Trans-Jordan and Iraq have the main forces, and can go ahead themselves even if the newly-announced joint six-nation command fails to hold together.

The Jews are determined to defend their little enclave in the Moslem world.

There is a possibility, of course, that the Arabs are making a lot of noise to influence the world powers.

But both sides apparently realize that an enforced truce of some sort is only a matter of time, with the major powers anxious to shelve the Palestine thing and get back to their own knitting. Jews and Arabs are determined to have the edge when the "freeze" comes.

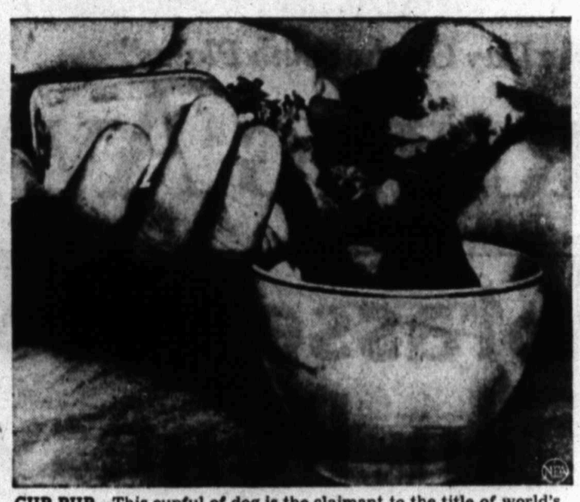

Negotiation Chances Slim

Faced with an outright war, the time for a freeze would seem to be now. There are slender signs of negotiation possibilities still remaining. Abdullah has sent the Jews an oblique warning that, instead of participating in a joint state as proposed by the Arabs, they may not be permitted to remain in Palestine at all if they force the issue to a military decision. The Jews have told the Trans-Jordan king that a conference "free from extremists on both sides" might get somewhere.

About the only hope is that the Jews and Arabs, actually faced with zero hour, would agree to let the whole matter drop for a time right where it is now. No more immigration, no more Arab state or Jewish state, everything in a state of suspended animation under U. N. administration and support until the whole thing can be re-studied.

What To Do For That Sluggish, Down-and-Out Feeling

Remember the time when you could eat like a horse, bubbled-over with energy, felt happy as a lark? Was it not because you liked to eat—didn't know what indigestion was, felt strong as an ox? As age advances the "old stomach and the ever-changing blood" need help. Now you may again release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Solon Threatens Full Probe Of Auto Corporation Stock Deal

WASHINGTON, April 27 (INS) —Sen. Tobey (R) N. H., chairman of the Senate Banking committee, threatened today to demand a full investigation of the ill-fated Kaiser-Frazer corporation stock deal last February.

Tobey, in a letter to acting Chairman McConnaughey of the Securities and Exchange commission, demanded answers to a long list of questions about the stock offering which was subsequently withdrawn.

He recalled charges made by the underwriting firm of Otis & Co., that the commission in its own inquiry into the stock issue was not delving into the registration statement covering the stock or "alleged market manipulation" by Kaiser Frazer.

The senator said that "while I am reserving judgment as to the merits of this controversy I cannot dismiss the strong possibility that the commission itself may not be free of responsibility in connection with the Kaiser-Frazer stock issue."

He added that "I am considering the advisability of recommending" to the committee that it make a complete investigation.

SEC officials declined to comment on the Tobey letter. The commission's position, however, is understood to be that Otis & Co has not adequately supported its charges, and that Kaiser-Frazer support of its own stock at the time of the offering did not constitute manipulation under SEC rules.

Tobey said he had seen "disturbing statements" concerning the possibility that proceeds of the stock sale would be used in whole or large part to reimburse the company for about 10 million dollars used to pay off a loan to Bank of America "upon which various insiders" of Kaiser-Frazer were liable.

He recalled that the registration statement asserted the proceeds were to be used to "expand production, acquire and invest in various facilities."

Surviving Members Of Detroit Quadruplets Die In Hospital

DETROIT, April 27 (U.P.) — The two surviving members of the first set of quadruplets born in Detroit died early this morning in Providence hospital.

The babies were born prematurely early yesterday morning to Mrs. Anna Borg, 28-year-old wife of Joseph Borg, a Ford Motor company pipefitter.

Two of the children died a few hours after birth, but the remaining two were given a slim chance to survive.

Police Seize $70,000 Worth Of Marihuana During Raid

HOUSTON, April 27 (U.P.)—Police seized $70,000 worth of marihuana during a rajd led by detective C. V. (Buster) Kern, it was revealed today.

Kern, on leave of absence from the police department to run for sheriff, conducted the raid last night.

Another candidate for sheriff, J. R. (Bob) Davidson, happens to be captain of the morals division of which the narcotics squad is a unit. Davidson, also on leave of absence, wasn't among the raiders.

Kern denied that politics were involved. Just good police work, he said.

The six 10-gallon cans of marihuana, all ready to be rolled into cigarets, contained between 85 and 100 pounds of marihuana.

Vets Banned From Handling Casket

JERSEY CITY, N. J., April 27. (AP) —A ruling which a union official said was made for safety reasons prevented an escort of eight Marines from carrying the body of a comrade in the funeral home where it had awaited services.

The detachment of Marines arrived from the Bayonne Naval depot to act as honorary pall bearers for the casket of Marine Pfc. James J. Donnelly, Jr., returned recently from a military cemetery at Iwo Jima where he had fallen in battle.

A spokesman from the United Funeral Chauffeurs and Helpers union (AFL) said a union ruling required professional bearers handle caskets inside buildings. He said the ruling was adopted because several non-professionals had been injured while making turns inside a building with the heavy caskets or while going through narrow passageways.

Mrs. Donnelly, mother of the Marine for whom the service was held, said there had been no controversy and arrangements had proceeded "entirely satisfactorily."

The Marine detachment participated in the funeral at Holy Cross cemetery, North Arlington, where they held a U. S. Flag taut over the casket as it was lowered into the grave.

Drouth Reduces Water Reserves

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Major deficiencies in water reservoir storage exist in Texas as the result of continued drouth during the six-month period through March 31.

Reviewing water resources of the United States and Canada for the past six months, the United States Geological survey said the drouth extends from Southern California to West Texas.

But reservoir shortages extended to Central Texas.

"Storage reserves for irrigation in Medina reservoir near San Antonio are exhausted," the USGS said. The report does not cover the rains of last week end.)

Reserves Nearly Exhausted

Those in Red Bluff reservoir on Pecos river in western Texas are nearly exhausted. Reserves in Elephant butte and Caballo reservoirs are more than 200,000 acre feet less than a year ago and are about 40 per cent of normal for this time of year.

Stream flow in approximately one-half of Texas—the southern and western area—has been among the lowest 25 per cent of record for the six months ending March 31.

Prospects Good In Some Areas

The USGS offered encouragement for areas served by the Rio Grande, Pecos and Canadian rivers.

"The outlook for water supply in irrigated areas served by the Rio Grande and its tributaries is good to excellent. Snow water content on some courses is twice that measured a year ago. Soil moisture penetrates in San Luis valley and northern New Mexico is very good. Reservoir storage in New Mexico is low but will be higher at season's end. Similar snow conditions exist over the headwaters of the Pecos and Canadian rivers. Soil moisture is extremely deficient in the Carlsbad area."

Binding of baby girls' feet still is a custom in certain districts of China.

CAT IS BAGGED

Unhappy Kitten Is Saved From Wash

DALLAS, April 27. (AP)—The question was not who let the cat out of the bag but who let him in.

Carl Alexander of Martin's laundry heard a small but urgent "meow" from the back of his truck as he drove along his route.

He kept driving but when the sound grew insistent, he stopped the truck and started opening laundry bags.

Suddenly a multi-colored kitten stuck his head out of one of the bundles.

A check of the address on the bundle allowed Alexander to return the kitten to Mrs. John Martin, who had been ransacking her apartment looking for the kitten, the pet of her son, Jimmy.

ORANGE DIET

CEDRIC ADAMS, one of the best columnists of the country, writes about a new wrinkle along the diet line that has been taken up by Northwest Airlines stewardesses. Those stream-lined young women watch for the tiniest increase in poundage or girth, and when it becomes apparent they go on what they call their orange routine.

It's quite a simple matter and every one of them says it functions beautifully, according to Adams. You maintain your normal eating in both quantity and quality. Pay no attention to caloric reduction. But the first day you eat one orange, the second two, the third three and so on. You may eat the oranges any time of the day and in as rapid succession as you like. By the time you're up to around 12 or 14 oranges a day, your weight reduction has become obvious. As the quantity of oranges increases, the intake of your other eating diminishes some, too. All the stewardesses swear by it.

The orange diet is similar to one proposed by Ann Delafield of the famous Success school; only as we remember it Miss Delafield suggests that you go light on other intake when you are eating the oranges.

DIETING

A QUESTION many men and women must decide for themselves is whether they'd rather be happy and fat, or unhappy and thin. Among our women friends are some who are naturally plump. When they are eating well they are healthly and cheerful.

Let them go on a diet and they are easy victims of cold germs. And sometime their dispositions are a little on the thin side.

MAGAZINE ARTICLE

"OPERATION Screwball," an interesting article is numbered in the contents of the current "Coronet" magazine. The yarn describes the Bonehead club in Dallas, an organization of business men who let down their hair, so to speak, and have a lot of fun at the expense of themselves and their guest speakers.

Of particular interest to the Avalanche-Journal staff is that the author is Vestel Lott, former telegraph editor of the evening paper and prior to that a reporter and excellent feature writer. Vestel and his family are living at Jamaica, Long Island, and he is now in the information division of the State department.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MISS TURNER: In your article on manners in letter writing you didn't make clear one thing to me. When you thank a person orally for a gift or favor, is a letter also required? I'm very much in favor of "thanks" with voice instead of pen when possible, so please tell me.

Thank you.
Confused

DEAR CONFUSED: To tell you the truth, we are a little confused over your question. If the gift is brought to your home by the giver or you are with the one who does the favor, we suppose thanks will suffice. But if the gift is given at a shower, we think custom dictates that you write a note of appreciation.

Certainly if someone brings you a gift and is there when you open the package, a sincere spoken thanks should suffice. Even so, if the gift is something you especially like, a later note reminding the giver of your appreciation for her thoughtfulness wouldn't be amiss.

There is nothing much nicer than a note to brighten your day.

UNTO THE LEAST

ONE of the most satisfying bits of work we have learned of lately is in Louisville, Ky., where a determined citizenry is looking into and studying methods of improving their state institutions.

Starting with their city and state penal institutions, they have energetically proposed and promoted ways of improvement that are yielding great gain to the communities through a salvaging of unhappy people who have heretofore been left to the calculated indifference of politics. Institutions to which young offenders are consigned frequently have only increased the anti-social qualities which have led these young figures into the mounting shadow of crime. Jails have been cleaned up physically and politically.

Homes for the aged and mentally ill have been investigated and acted up. Reformatories have been changed completely.

These accomplishments are but part of the courageous determination of that particular group of proud Kentuckians who call themselves the Committee on Institutions of the Louisville Council of Churches. What these have done, others can do.

Mrs. Carl Scoggin is president of the association. Mrs. B. H. Meskimen is festival playing chairman.

Sweetwater City Commission Seeks To Reduce Rail Tracks

SWEETWATER, April 27. (U.P.)—The Sweetwater city commission today held a first round victory over the Texas & Pacific railroad in the commission's fight to get the railroad to reduce the number of tracks within the city limits to two.

The T&P now uses eight sets of rails through the city and officials claim the setup is a nuisance, a traffic threat and contributes to excess smoke and noise within the city.

The commission on April 12 passed a resolution asking the road to take various steps to meet the complaints, but so far has not carried out an implication that the resolution would be converted into a city ordinance. The resolution in itself has no power, but was passed as an expression of the commission's standing on the problem.

A show of hands at a public commission meeting last night gave the unanimous approval of the commission's plan not to rescind the resolution until the road took some concrete action to eliminate track crossings.

PIN-WORM MYSTERY ENDED

Pin-Worms have been causing trouble for centuries, and millions of victims have desperately sought a way to deal with this pest that lives inside the human body.

Science has at last solved the problem! It is now also known that Pin-Worm infection spreads rapidly and can cause real distress if neglected. So beware of that aggravating rectal itch, and act fast. Ask your druggist for JAYNE'S P-W at the first sign of Pin-Worms. P-W is a medically sound treatment based on an officially approved drug principle. The easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to remove Pin-Worms easily and safely.

It's easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

Recent reductions in the number of U. S. tenant farms have resulted from absorption of many small farms into larger operations and from the purchase of farms by former tenants who have prospered.

Hearing On Application For New Bus Line To Continue

A hearing which started Tuesday at Hotel Lubbock before Horace Soule, examiner of the Texas Railroad commission, on the application of John W. Reed, Austin, for a certificate to operate motor buses from Abilene to Lubbock by way of Merkel, Noodle and Roby, will be continued today.

The applicant, by introducing testimony from several Texas Tech students and others, sought to show that present facilities between Abilene and Lubbock are inadequate, and that transportation time would be saved by the proposed new bus line.

The application is being contested by West Texas Transportation company and Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma Coaches, who contend that the present nine schedules per day between Lubbock and Abilene are adequate to meet the present needs of the public and that the unpaved road on the proposed new route would prevent the rendering of the type of service to which the public is entitled.

Tuesday was consumed in hearing testimony in behalf of the applicant. Rebuttal testimony will be introduced today after conclusion of the applicants testimony.

Economic Expert Credits Aid Plan With Blocking Recession

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, April 27—Three thousand delegates to the U. S. Chamber of Commerce annual meeting today were assured of continued prosperity and a dominant economic position for this country in Europe.

Secretary of State Marshall told them that the United States must succeed Great Britain as the dominant economic influence abroad.

Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, chairman of the President's Economic council, said the European recovern program and defense spending will maintain prosperity for "several years."

The two top government officials spoke during the chamber's second day of sessions. Resolutions favoring increased military preparedness and ERP are expected to be adopted tomorrow night.

Marshall's speech was "off the record," but the State department later permitted use of his remarks concerning the growth of American economic power.

Secretary Marshall declared that in order to maintain its world position, the United States must retain continuity in its foreign policy and must help western Europe to regain its balance.

Dr. Nourse, highest economic authority in the government, contended that defense and Marshall Plan dollars have prevented "what might have been a mild recession in 1948" and that they will continue to do so "for several years ahead." Dr. Nourse said:

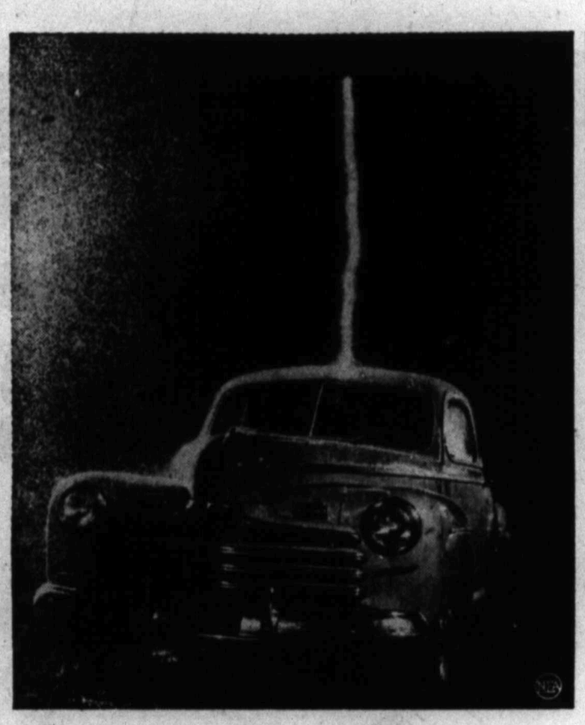

"In the absence of foreign aid and defense stimuli, domestic business would have shown a sagging tendency in 1948.

"This is not only my own view. It is the consensus of most business and much economic thinking."

WAR VETS TO MEET

FORT WORTH, April 27. (AP)—Final arrangements were completed Tuesday for the State Convention of Spanish-American war veterans to be held here Saturday through Tuesday, marking the 50th anniversary of the war with Spain.

LIGHTNING STRIKES ONCE—There's a man in that car. He's proving that riding in an automobile during a thunderstorm is safe. Westinghouse engineer John J. Clark felt nothing when 3,000,000 volts of laboratory lightning struck the car, inches above his head. The bolt passed harmlessly into the ground. Experiment was performed in Trafford, Pa.

Twin Brother Of Man Lost In War To Keep Promise

MANILA, April 27 (AP)—The luxury liner President Cleveland, on leaving the Philippines tomorrow, will pause briefly off the jungles of Bataan. Then Henry A. Wilson of New York will keep his wartime promise to a twin brother.

Wilson and his brother, Maj. Charles N. Wilson, pledged that they would celebrate the war's end with a bottle of champagne saved especially for the purpose The officer was captured by the Japanese, interned at Davao—and died when a prison ship sank off Bataan.

Tomorrow, after traveling 10,000 miles, Henry will keep his promise.

The Rev. Stephen S. Barron, retired chaplain, will say brief services for the lost major and his companions. The ship's bugler will sound taps. Wilson then will offer the final salute—he will toss the bottle of champagne into the ocean at the spot where the prison ship went down.

President Truman Signs Bill To Correct Printing Error

WASHINGTON, April 27 (U.P.)—President Truman today signed a bill to correct a proofreader's mistake.

In a measure amending the tariff act of 1930, the words "handle bolts" came out "handled bolts."

As a result the measure had to go through the whole legislative process again, getting approval of both Congress and the chief executive.

Skit Presented At Senior High School

A four generation family reunion presented as a televised skit was the program presented Tuesday afternoon in the senior assembly at Lubbock Senior High school. Following a short "commercial," announcer Fred Stanley whisked the audience away to the scene of the reunion at Lakeside Park.

The television take off was carried out in song and dialogue, and was acclaimed as one of the best programs of the year. The program closed with the entire group standing and singing "Auld Lang Syne."

Members of the "reunion" were Robert Leonard, grandpa; Chloe T. Dawson, grandma; Bob and Dick Schmidt, the little pair of twins; J. A. White, the bachelor; Cameron McKinnon, the bachelor's friend; Jim Johnson and Charlene Laws, teen-age sweethearts; J. Q. Warnick, the little kid.

Others representing various ages were Lamoyne Harrell, Margaret Nelson, Mary Roberts, Lunita Hindman, Patricia Lindsey, Katherine Shafer, Ann Eskin, Mary Janet Johnson, Jonita Jenkins, Janie Dale, Bruce Brown and Thomas Brown.

Hollywood Airman Will Fly For Oilman In Bendix Race

HOUSTON, April 27 (U.P.)—Paul Mantz, the Hollywood speed flier who streaked to Houston from the West Coast yesterday in three hours and six minutes, will be flying for oilman Glenn H. McCarthy in the 1948 Bendix air race.

McCarthy, who lost the race and a $10,000 bet with Mantz when his last year's entry crashed in the Arizona desert, will also have two other planes in the Aug. 31 air derby.

One of the other pilots in the Los Angeles-to-Cleveland flight will be McCarthy's chief pilot, Linton Carney.

"We're out to make the nation realize that Houston is an important aviation center," McCarthy said today.

Mantz averaged almost 500 miles an hour in his sleek converted P-51 Mustang on the flight from Burbank, Calif., yesterday.

Mantz is using the same plane in which he won the Bendix race in 1946 and 1947. The red Mustang will also start in this year's race.

The arrangements for Mantz to fly under the McCarthy banner this year were made during discussions with the millionaire oilman last night.

Scientists can't produce a perfect vacuum, but they now have learned to make one that is 99.999999 per cent perfect.

KING BRUCE DIDN'T GIVE UP

King Bruce of Scotland, after many successive defeats, sat alone in his cave, greatly discouraged. He watched a spider trying to climb the wall of the cave. The spider had climbed six times, but each time had fallen before reaching the top. The seventh attempt was successful. Bruce took courage from this, went to battle the next day and won.

So, if you are one of those people who have tried unsuccessfully to obtain the medicine you may need, Mertox Compound may be the answer.

This great medicine has been endorsed by hundreds of Texas people. Here is what Mrs. J. S. Bell of Dallas wrote us:

"For the past seven years I have been in a weak, rundown condition. I was troubled with gas and bloat to such an extent that the pain and misery seemed unbearable at times.

"I had very bad dizzy spells, some absolutely blinding me for a spell. I have even passed out at times after eating certain foods

"I have had pains and aches all over my body. My bowels were very irregular and caused me no end of misery.

"It just seemed that everything was the matter with me. I have tried dozens of methods of relief in the past seven years, but I honestly never knew what real relief could be until I tried that wonderful medicine, Mertox Compound. Why, I couldn't eat anything without it souring on my stomach. Now I can eat absolutely anything. I couldn't walk four blocks without tiring myself terribly. Now I would rather walk than ride. I eat and sleep much better and I have gained 12 pounds in the past three weeks."

The above is just one of the many endorsements we have received for this splendid general tonic.

Buy Mertox from your druggist at the new REDUCED price. Send a post card to The Fernak Co., 4815 Bryan St., Dallas 4, Texas, for our free booklet, "BETTER HEALTH," and PROOF of what Mertox is doing for sick people.

Constructive Work In Minority Groups Is Sought By League

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, April 27—The passing show:

Some of the finest work being done in America today is that of the Urban league, formed to do something constructive about the so-called "negro problem" at root level.

Twice as many people are working in the U. S. today than in 1932, but the percentage rise among negroes has been only a third. In many instances, on the one hand, we are giving negroes every opportunity to become educated at public expense and, on the other hand, rejecting them for the jobs and professions for which they have been trained.

Claimed Economic Waste

Robert W. Dowling, chairman of the Urban League Service fund, whose group includes Winthrop Rockefeller, Gardner Cowles and others, said it better today:

"Purely from a business viewpoint, the failure to utilize trained negro workers is an economic waste that not only reduces our productive capacity but keeps a large segment of our population on a low living standard.

"This produces, in turn, conditions resulting in juvenile delinquency, crime, poor health and housing and—inevitably—higher welfare costs."

Many Receive Benefits

Last year 748,300 persons received the benefit of various urban league services throughout the country, including job placement, vocational guidance, creation of new job opportunities and many other social welfare activities.

The Urban league's path is not an easy one. For instance, the country's greatest current shortage of manpower is in the building trades. Statistics show that there is a need there for at least 100,000 additional carpenters, bricklayers, plumbers and other skilled craftsmen. The Army and Navy trained 24,000 negro soldiers during the war as carpenters, but none of these can gain work in this field because of a ruling on that part of the building trades unions.

In the meantime, Russia happily points to such failings whenever we protest her atrocious treatment of her own peoples.

Note On Passing Times

Tem pus fugits note:

Jet-pilots assigned to a P-80 wing complained recently that their ships are "too slow" for the proper interception of even such semi-obsolete bombers as the B-29—especially at the operational ceiling of the bombers.

Think of that! Just a little over a year ago Col. Bill Councill, a P-80 man, flew across the United States in four hours, 13 minutes and 26 seconds. He streaked so fast through the skies that he began to "let down" for the landing at LaGuardia as he passed over Sunbury, Pa. He flew from over Altoona to New York City in 11 minutes. It's a sort of overnight ride on a train.

Now his P-80 is "too slow" to yack successfully at the heels of a B-29. Therefore it must be even less adequate to intercept Boeing's new swept-back six-jet bomber, which is rumored to have a speed of around 600 MPH.

Boy, my slippers and comforters!

Queen Thanks HST For Wheat Shipment

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—Queen Wilhelmina of the Netherlands today thanked President Truman for the first shipment of wheat to reach her country under the Marshall Plan.

The Queen pledged her "fullest support" in carrying out the recovery program in a message, received yesterday.

The first ship carrying Marshall Plan aid for Italy will begin loading grain at a Gulf coast port between May 4 and 10, government officials disclosed today.

The vessel, the S. S. Winfield Scott, will leave from Galveston, the forerunner of hundreds of ships scheduled to carry a total of $703,600,000 in American assistance to the Italians by next April 1.

A second American ship, the S. S. William Johnson, will begin taking on grain for Italy in the same port between May 7 and 12

Former President Of Cereal Company Dies In California

PASADENA, Cal., April 27 (U.P.)—Carroll L. Post, 88, former president of the Postum Cereal co., died at his home here Sunday, friends said today.

His body will be sent to Battle Creek, Mich., for private funeral services.

Post became president of the company in 1914 on the death of his brother, C. W. Post, the founder. He was chairman of the board when he retired in 1924.

A widower, Post leaves two nieces, Mrs. Joseph Davies of Palm Beach, Fla., and Mrs. William L. Morrow, San Antonio, Tex.

House Committee Puts Anti-Red Provision On FSA Appropriation

By SANDOR S. KLEIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, April 27—The House Appropriations committee today put an anti-Communist string on the $969,050,000 it voted to operate the Federal Security agency in the fiscal year starting July 1.

And it ordered a sweeping reorganization of the security agency.

Among other things, the committee wants the United States Employment service transferred from the Labor department to FSA on July 1. The proposed changes first would have to get House and Senate approval, however. The committee said reorganization was necessary to get increased efficiency and to save money for the taxpayers.

To Extend Curb

It said that not one cent of the appropriation for the FSA should be paid to any government worker belonging to a union whose officers have not filed an anti-Communist affidavit with the National Labor Relations board. Furthermore, the committee said, if Congress okays this idea, it will extend the same prohibition to funds for all other government departments and agencies.

Major changes proposed by the committee would merge the transferred U. S. Employment service and the Bureau of Employment security into a single bureau under FSA. The Employment Security bureau, which deals with unemployment insurance programs, would be transferred from the jurisdiction of the Social Security administration.

The committee proposal to transfer the employment service from the Labor department was, in effect, a new slap at President Truman. Earlier this year, Congress rejected Mr. Truman's plan to place the U. S. E. S. permanently in the Labor department and transfer the Employment Security bureau from FSA to the Labor department.

Would Speed Progress

Under existing law, U. S. E. S. would revert automatically to the FSA six months after the official end of the war is declared. It is now in the Labor department under a wartime presidential decree. The House Appropriations committee would simply speed the employment service's return to FSA.

Ordinarily, Congress appropriates for FSA and the Labor department in a single bill. But this year, the House committee deferred action on FSA requirements until it can study the prospects for reorganization.

The $969,050,000 recommended by the committee for FSA was only $20,673,000 below the amount requested in the budget.

The committee pointed out that of the total, $797,000,000 was in the one item of grants to states for public assistance. The federal government was obliged to provide this amount under a specific fund matching formula in the Social Security act. Excluding that item, the committee added, the over-all FSA appropriation voted was 10 per cent below the estimates.

Vandals Smear Paint On Home Of Wallace Party Chairman

WACO, April 27 (U.P.)—Miss Sara Lowery, member of the Baylor university faculty and temporary chairman of the McClennan county Progressive (Wallace) party, said today the vandals who smeared red paint on her home did not especially surprise her.

Miss Lowrey said she had expected some "rough behavior" when she accepted temporary chairmanship of the Wallace-for-President party in the county.

The paint smearing episode Sunday night she observed, was "minor" and actually a service to her party because it called attention to the Wallace movement.

Miss Lowrey is head of the Baylor Speech department. She and her widowed mother live alone. Neighbors first spotted the red paint on the white house.

Miss Lowrey said the incident was inspired by "fear" of the sort which the Progressives hoped to eliminate by "creating of faith."

Waco police said they had been notified of the vandalism, but hadn't "made much of an investigation."

Divers Continue Search Of Ship Channel For Automobile

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—Divers continued to search the Houston ship channel at the Pasadena ferry slip today for an automobile which reportedly plunged into the water there early yesterday.

The search was suspended temporarily before noon today but was scheduled to be resumed in the afternoon after divers acquire additional equipment.

The search began after an automobile was observed traveling at a high speed toward the ferry slip during an early morning fog. Witnesses said the car seemed to disappear.

Crewmen of the ferry H. A. May found that a cable which stretches across the highway leading to the slip was on the ground when the ferry entered the slip shortly after residents of the area had observed the automobile.

The search continued throughout yesterday without results.

Water Safety School Planned By Tech Unit Of Red Cross

The Texas Technological college unit of the American Red Cross will conduct a water safety school at the Carden Green ranch three miles northwest of Lubbock May 1-13, it has been announced.

The school will be open to any person who is able to swim 440 yards and is well versed in the fundamentals of swimming. The first general meeting of all applicants will be at 3 p. m. May 1, at the college cafeteria and in the meantime all those who are interested may sign up for the course by seeing Francis Beardon at the Recreation hall.

Transportation will be furnished to all students, starting from the Recreation hall. Classes will be held from 5 until 7 p. m. each day and only one excused absence will be allowed during the course.

Upon successful completion of the course a senior life saving certificate will be awarded. Bill Askew, Texas Tech student and instructor in water safety, will be overall director in charge of men's classes and Mary Nell Cates will be women's instructor. Assistant instructors will be Vincent Cargile and Floyd Rector. All applicants for the school must sign up before May 1, Beardon said.

Rites For Mother Of Lubbock Residents Set At Amarillo

Funeral services for Mrs. Dick Herbst, 60, of Amarillo, mother of Mrs. Thomas Pirtle and R. J. Herbst of Lubbock, will be conducted at 4 o'clock this afternoon in Boxwell Bros. Funeral home chapel in Amarillo.

Services had tentatively been planned for 2:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Pirtle and Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Herbst are in Amarillo.

Three grandchildren, Mrs. A. A. Blakemore and Tom and Dick Pirtle, will leave this morning for Amarillo.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Sam Thomas of Amarillo, Mrs. J. W. Mitchell of Oklahoma City and Mrs. Pirtle; one son, R. J. Herbst; 11 grandchildren, and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Herbst died Monday at Northwest Texas hospital in Amarillo, after several months' illness.

She had visited in Lubbock at various times.

Police Asked To Help Locate Missing Oil Company Employe

DENTON, April 27 (U.P.)—State police were asked today to help locate Joseph Warren Mitchell, a Standolind Oil company employe at Monahans and father-in-law of C. E. Guinn, news editor of radio station KDNT, Denton, who has not been reported since shortly before noon Sunday.

Guinn said today that Mitchell was last seen leaving the Monahans country club about 11 a. m. Sunday, driving a 1941 two-tone green Oldsmobile sedan. He was dressed in khaki irt and trousers.

Guinn said he feared Mitchell, 45, had been a victim of amnesia or foul play.

The missing man was described as being 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighing about 140 pounds.

High School Nine Raps Pampa Harvesters, 8-2

Guy Leads Westerners Back To Second Spot In District 1-AA

PAMPA, April 27 (Special)—Lubbock's smooth-working Westerner nine bounced back into the top bracket of the District 1-AA baseball title chase here this afternoon by trouncing the Pampa Harvesters, 8-2, behind brilliant hurling and a 10-hit attack on two Harvester pitchers.

The Lubbock schoolboys took the lead in the first frame when Dorrance Guy slammed out a double that scored Jack Alderson and Charles Galey, then the Westerners clinched the triumph in the eighth stanza when two-base blows by Royce Jones and Bill Wylie sparked a four-run offensive.

Scatter Four Hits

Four Lubbock hurlers scattered four hits to hold the home nine to two runs, and the visitors were never in trouble. Little Denny Davidson, ace of the Westerner mound staff, gave up two hits in his three stanza chore to gain credit for the victory; but a lanky sophomore, Jim Wilson, was even more effective as he held the Pampans to a single hit in the four innings that he worked. James Wilson struck out three men in the one frame that he hurled and Morris Turner protected the Lubbock margin in the final stanza.

Bobby Griffin, Westerner third-sacker, collected four hits in four trips to the plate to lead the attack, although the doubles by Jones and Guy pushed across four of the eight Lubbock runs.

No Pampa player was credited with more than one safe blow.

Gamblin Loses Game

George Gamblin, who hurled a one-hitter last week as the Harvesters defeated the Plainview Bulldogs, was the losing pitcher today. Gamblin was belted for nine hits and seven runs in his seven inning turn on the mound.

The win boosted the Westerners into second place in the District 1-AA standings, with a record of two wins and one loss, with Amarillo still holding the circuit lead.

The Borger Bulldogs, defeated by the Westerners last week, will invade Hubber park at 3:45 o'clock Friday afternoon for a return conference tussle.

The district standings:

Hubbard Hurls One-Hitter As Softball Loop Ends First Half

By CARLTON KEEDY
Avalanche Sports Writer

Baldridge Bakery handed Golden Light Coffee a 10-0 defeat in the first half of a South Plains Softball league twin bill last night at Jumbo Webster field behind the one-hit twirling of lanky speedball artist, Loy Hubbard.

In the nightcap, Thomas Jewelers took a scrappy but weak-hitting Cloverlake nine into camp, 8-3.

Last night's games saw completion of first round of league play, with Sunbeam-Bluebonnet in first place with four wins in four starts;

GAMES THURSDAY NIGHT

Thursday night, Cloverlake Dairy tangles with Bluebonnet Sunbeam in the first game at Jumbo Webster field, and Baldridge Bakery meets Thomas Jewelery in the nightcap. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Thomas Jewelers, three out of four; Baldridge two and two; Golden Light, one win in four; and Cloverlake, winless in four tries.

Baldridge Wins Easily

Baldridge had little difficulty in tripping the Coffee nine, with three Bakerymen, White, Winters and Carlton, hitting for the circuit, Carlton adding to the attack with a double in a later inning. The Coffeemen, meanwhile, failed to get a man past second, while thirteen of their players struck out under Hubbard's fast ball.

The Cloverlake crew, yet to gain a win in league play this season, demonstrated some of the snappiest brand of fielding and base running seen in league games this season, and seemed a match for the Jewelers until the last two frames. Smoky Hale was tossing a good game for the Dairymen, whiffing ten Jewelrymen and issuing only one walk. That was until the first half of the sixth, when Jewelrymen bats began to sound off. It was a couple of singles, coupled with a Cloverlake error, a sacrifice and a stolen base, that accounted for two runs.

Williams Starts Things

In the seventh, Bobby Williams started off with a single, and, further down in the lineup, Centerfielder Clyde Black put one well over the left field wall with two aboard. When the dust had cleared, the Jewelers were ahead, 8-4.

The first tilt marked the debut of Ray Warden of Brownfield on the mound for Golden Light. Warden showed a slow-breaking curve which failed to puzzle the Bakerymen. In the nightcap, Rightfielder Farmer of Cloverlake made a good catch of Darrell Highley's deep fly ball in the third inning. G. W. Warden, a moundsman playing second, robbed Smith of Cloverlake of a hit when he went into the outfield to get a pop fly.

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

There's an old saying that, "anything can happen in sports," and that statement was proved beyond question last week end in the Region 2 AA track and field meet when Byron (Santone) Townsend failed to qualify for the state Interscholastic league meet in two of his favorite events. Byron, as all South Plains fans know, burned up the cinder paths at every West Texas track meet all spring and set many marks in the discus, high jump, broad jump and 100-yard dash that will probably be on the record books for the next 10 years.

But disaster struck the blasing Bronco in the regional meet in Abilene last weekend, just as it did when the Broncs battled Highland Park in the semifinals of the state football race last fall. Townsend, who has high jumped over six feet all year, could only clear five feet, 11 inches, at the meet and failed to gain a qualifying spot. Then, in the 100-yard dash, Byron finished in fourth place as Bronco Gerald Campbell grabbed top honors with a time of 9.8 seconds. This was the second time all season that Townsend had failed to place either first or second in the century event.

Big Byron still has a chance to cop individual scoring honors at the meet, since he qualified in the discus, broad jump and sprint relay, but he will certainly miss the points he could have picked up in the high jump. According to the statistics, Townsend's best chance for a state title seems to be in the discus or broad jump. He has hurled the platter 154 feet this season, one of the two best marks in the state, and he has broad jumped more than 22 feet in every meet. The Odessa 440-yard relay team, with Townsend at the anchor slot, might place in the state event, but they will face tremendous competition from Austin, Corpus Christi and Pampa.

Another brilliant group of performers will not be seen in action at the state meet as a result of action taken at the Region 2 meet. The Big Spring mile relay quartet, featuring Leon Lepard on the anchor lap, was disqualified at Abilene when Lepard threw down the baton just a few yards from the finish line. The Big Spring crew had second place and a spot in the state event clinched, but Lepard was so disgusted at finishing behind Brownwood that he threw down the baton. The Steers were disqualified, giving Abilene the runner-up slot.

The Lubbock Westerners' victory in the Region 1 meet Saturday was something of a personal triumph for Coach Marlin (Shorty) Hayhurst—although he has consistently given the boys all the credit for everything accomplished. Coach Hayhurst showed the boys that he had faith in their ability early in the year, when he said they were potentially the best squad he has ever coached in Lubbock, and they emerged from the most torrid track and field campaign ever staged in West Texas with several additions to the trophy case and their fifth consecutive regional championship. The Westerners had more than their share of tough luck, including bad weather, injuries and illness, but Coach Hayhurst brought them along at just the right speed to win the most important meet of the year in this area, and at the correct rate of progress to reach their final peak at the state finals next week.

Hayhurst has some good material, but it was through his efforts of the last several years that track has reached the status of a "major sport" in the high school and attracted the top athletes. There are several years of planning and hard work behind the present Westerner team.

Meadowbrook Golf Tourney Is Underway

Lindsey Telford took medalist honors in the qualifying rounds for the Mayor's Cup at the Meadowbrook Publinx Golf club, shooting a par 71 over the 18-hole course.

Lindsey was pressed for top honors by A. B. Holton, who fired a 72, one stroke off the medalist's play.

A total of 39 golfers entered the play for the cup put up by ex-Mayor Clarence Bestwick, with play divided into championship class, first flight, second flight and third flight.

Qualifiers Are Listed

Golfers who qualified, along with their scores, follows:

Championship class: Telford (71) vs. H. B. Blair (78); Jack Trammel (75) vs. Frank Cleary (80); Manse Allen (74) vs. Frosty Bishop (80); Pete Felton (76) vs. Bob Ewers (81); Holton (72) vs. Houston Trammel (78); Dave Lawson (75) vs. Fred Hinson (80); and Sam Cobb, Jr. (78) vs. Dexter Walthal (81).

First flight: Kenneth Leslie (82) vs. Truman Hutson (86); J. C. Crawford (85) vs. Clint Kirkpatrick (86); Pete Gregg (84) vs. Lonnie Felton (86); and Woodrow DeBush (86) vs. Allen Orr (87).

Second flight: Dick Stalcup (88) vs. J. E. Nicholson (89); Gene Wheeler (88) vs. Sled Allen (89); W. C. Edwards (88) vs. Jeff Jefferson (89); and Monroe DeBush (89) vs. J. D. Horne (90).

Third flight: R. H. Canady (91) vs. Jim Moreau (94); C. W. Nance (93) vs. Hugh Odom (96); W. S. Moncrief (91) vs. Doc Moreau (96); and Horace Gearheart (93) vs. bye.

Championship play will be fired this Sunday over the 18-hole course at the Meadowbrook Publinx course.

SOFTBALL MEETING SET

Local church and industrial baseball league managers and other representatives have been urged to attend a special meeting tonight at 7:45 o'clock at the American Legion hall. Curtis Barrett said only representatives of the men's teams in both leagues are asked to attend. Further details may be obtained by calling Barrett at Telephone No. 9346 before 5 o'clock this evening.

Lamesa Players Are Almost Unclothed In Borger Appearance

LAMESA, April 27 (Special)—Lamesa baseball fans were afraid that their Loboes would appear in Borger tonight wearing blankets and barrels, instead of uniforms.

After the team had left for their six-game road trip, a local tailor shop manager was nearly frantic because the team had gone on the road without last year's travel togs.

But Dan Y. Davis, majority stockholder, re-assured the tailor. The Loboes will appear in new road uniforms and didn't need the old duds.

Round Robin Golf Is Set At Country Club

A round robin tournament for golfers at the Lubbock Country club will open a three-day qualifying round this week end, Herb Schroeder, club pro, announced last night.

Schroeder said that qualifying rounds would begin Friday and continue through Sunday, with qualifyers being classed in flites of 16 players.

In the round robin, which is expected to take six or seven weeks to complete, all golfers will be paired, with the low score golfer meeting the high score golfer. Each golfer entered will play every other golfer and the winner will be determined on a point basis.

The first round of match play in the flite classes will start on Monday.

Wilson Softball Team Wins Over Central Ward Boys, 14 To 10

The Wilson grade school boys softball team trounced the Central Ward team, 14-10, yesterday afternoon behind the pitching of Jimmie Evans.

Sammy Scott caught for the winners, while Foster hurled for the losers, with Nelson catching. The Wilson team will meet Guadalupe school next week for the city grade school championships.

COURT COACH QUITS

ST. LOUIS, April 27 (INS)—Ken Loeffler resigned today as coach of the St. Louis Bombers professional basketball team after a dispute over a $1,000 bonus. C. D. P. Hamilton, Jr., head of the St. Louis arena corporation which owns the Bombers, said Loeffler had phoned his resignation from Washington, D. C., stating he had already negotiated a three-year contract with an unidentified organization.

Track Team Is Given A Rest

Lubbock High's cinder path squad, winner of the Region 1AA crown last weekend, went through a light conditioning drill Tuesday afternoon at Chapman field in preparation for the state Interscholastic league meet at Austin May 7-8.

There is a possibility that the Westerner speedsters will participate in an invitational practice meet at Amarillo Saturday, but late last night a definite decision had not been reached by officials.

Routine Drills Set

Coach Marlin Hayhurst, apparently satisfied by the showing of the Lubbock schoolboys in chalking up their fifth consecutive regional track and field championship, plans more routine drills today and Thursday and a "limbering up" session Friday. Harder workouts are slated early next week, when the Westerners speed up last-minute preparations for the state event.

The Westerner squad is in the best physical condition of the year and, if the schoolboys reach their expected peak performances during the state meet, should make a strong bid for points in the relay races, mile run, 220-yard dash and low hurdles.

Bean School Girls Win Softball Title Of City In Ward Game

The Bean school softball team won the grade school girls city championship yesterday afternoon at the Bean school diamond, beating the Central Ward girls 1-0.

Thelma Carlisle singled and then went all the way around the bases to score the winning run. Billie Sue Williams and Ima Jean Jeffcoat was the winning battery for Bean.

TICKET SALE TO END

Deadline for purchase of season tickets for South Plains Softball league and Texas Softball league games here this season is Saturday night, it was announced last night by the Lubbock Junior Chamber of Commerce, sponsor of both leagues. Only a limited number of season ducats are still available, it was learned. The book of tickets entitles the holder to all league games this year. After the deadline, fans must purchase tickets individually for 50 cents each. The season book of tickets may be obtained from any member of the Jaycees, or by contacting Jaycee headquarters here.

COTTON BOWL DRAW

DALLAS, April 27 (AP)—Purchasers of stadium bonds to finance enlargement of the Cotton Bowl here will draw May 18 to determine the location of the seats which will be allocated them for 1948 football games.

Borger Gassers Swamp Lamesa Loboes, 26-2

BORGER, April 27. (Special)—Borger's powerful Gassers backed up the four-hit pitching of Clayton Fries with a 26-run attack here tonight to blast the Lamesa Loboes, 26-2, before a record opening game crowd of 2,800.

The Gassers shelled Lobo Hurler Chet Zara for 11 hits and 11 runs in the first four and two-thirds innings, then collected 10 more safeties and 15 tallies off Reliefer Kolezar to coast to the win.

Second One For Fries

Fries, the Gassers' ace left-hander from Council Bluffs, Iowa, chalked up his second victory of the new season by scattering four Lobo hits. Fries had trouble with his control, walking seven Lamesans, but whiffed 12 batters during his nine frame stint.

Third-sacker Jimmy Fox paced the hard-hitting Borger nine at the plate with five safe blows in seven attempts, but Fries pounded out four singles in six times at bat. Veteran Gordon Nell, Vurdon Gilchrist and Charles King slammed out four-baggers during the two hour, 58 minute tussle.

ROYCE MILLS WINNING PITCHER

Hubbers Trample Clovis Nine, 19-11; Third Win

CLOVIS, April 27. (Special)—The Lubbock Hubbers said it with base hits tonight and when they were through, there wasn't much left to be said, as they trampled the Clovis Pioneers, 19-11.

Mel Kramer, the starting Pioneer pitcher, was going along in fine style for the first two innings, blanking the Hubbers on one hit. But he blistered his pitching finger and had to retire at the end of two complete innings. His successor, George Matthews, was not as successful.

The Hubbers pounced on him in the top of the third for seven runs. Newt Secrest struck out, but the ball got away from the catcher and Secrest reached first. Marvin Alexander, who didn't stay around long on the mound, also went down swinging.

Al Smith walked and Frank McAlexander picked out a pitch for a long double to score Secrest and Smith. Manager Jackie Sullivan reached base on an error and Virgil Richardson immediately doubled to score McAlexander. Charley Scarborough followed with a double to score Richardson and Sullivan. Chick Fowler walked and Frank Boothe singled to left, Scarborough scoring. Secrest picked up a single to score Fowler and Alexander, hitting again, hit into a double play to retire the side.

Four more runs came across the plate in the fourth inning. McAlexander, Sullivan and Scarborough singled to score one run and a wild throw allowed Sullivan to cross the plate. Boothe cleared the bases with a long double to left field.

Clovis roared back with five runs in the fifth inning to end Alexander's stay on the mound, Fireman Royce Mills taking over and holding the Pioneers in check. Only two hits were made by Clovis in the big fifth, but one was a towering homer by Chuck Novotney with the bases loaded, which hastened the appearance of Mills.

Lubbock iced the game for certain in the ninth, when three consecutive triples featured the four-run frame. Fowler and Boothe singled and Secrest was safe on an error, putting two men on and scoring Fowler. Another wild throw on the play sent Boothe across the plate.

Then, after Mills flied out to score Secrest, Smith, McAlexander and Sullivan hit successive triples.

The two teams play again here Tuesday night.

Giants Take Sixth; Page Saves Yanks

Chicago Cubs Win; Dodgers Lose

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—New York Giant power asserted itself again today as the Polo Grounds belting crew pasted young Curt Simmons for two doubles, a triple and a home run and went on to defeat the Philadelphia Phillies 7-1. It was the National league leaders' sixth straight win.

Larry Jansen, who failed in two previous starts after a fine 21-5 freshman season, hurled three-hit ball for his first victory. After Bert Haas homered in the first inning, he blanked the Phils the rest of the way. He retired 25 of the last 26 men he faced.

Walker Cooper put the Giants out front to stay with his three-run homer in the third after Sid Gordon walked and Johnny Mize singled to center. It was Cooper's fourth homer and No. 11 for the Giants.

Jack Lohrke's triple over Harry Walker's head in left center was converted into a run in the sixth on Jansen's squeeze bunt.

After Simmons walked Buddy Kerr intentionally, he lost all control and passed Jansen. That was all for him. Ed Heusser put out the blaze.

It was the second straight loss for the 18-year-old Simmons from Egypt, Pa., who was given a bonus of $60,000 for signing last June.

CUBS DEFEAT BLACKWELL

CINCINNATI, April 27 (AP)—The Chicago Cubs jumped on Cincinnati's Ewell Blackwell for three runs in the first inning today and then went on to defeat the Reds, 7-2, behind the smooth eight-hit pitching of Bob McCall. A Crosley Field crowd of 5,778 saw Blackwell, winner on two previous outings, give up five of the Cubs' runs before retiring for a pinch batter in the fifth. He was charged with the defeat.

BOSTON, April 27 (AP)—Bob Elliott, last year's most valuable player in the National League, batted in all Boston runs today with a home run and two singles to lead the Braves to a 3-2 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers. Red Barrett allowed only six hits in registering his first victory of the season.

Lubbock Firm Makes Bid On Albuquerque VA Building

DENVER, April 27 (INS)—The Denver Regional office of the Veterans administration announced today that two bids have been received for a building to house the VA's New Mexico regional office at Albuquerque.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Giacomelli and Mr. and Mrs. Gino J. Mapteucci jointly offered to build a two or three-story building to rent for $80,000 a year. The VA would be given no option to buy and no services would be included. The rental would amount to $1.74 per square foot of floor space.

J. D. Leftwich & Anthony Co., of Lubbock, Tex., offered to build a 180-foot front, 150-foot deep, two-story building at $1.88 per square foot of gross floor space, or about $1.95 net.

The VA would be given an option to buy the property for $680,000 with 15 per cent of the rent applied on the purchase.

Yankees Paste A's; Browns Drub Tigers

PHILADELPHIA, April 27 (AP)—Karl Drews pitched five-hit ball to receive credit for the New York Yankees' 4-2 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics today, but it was Lefty Joe Page who saved the victory for him.

The ace relief hurler arrived on the scene in the eighth inning with two A's on base and only one out. He struck out Ed Majeski, and after the next batter reached base on Bobby Brown's error, Page got Buddy Rosar on an infield pop.

Page walked two batters in the ninth with only one out but retired Barney and pinch hitter Rudy York on easy fly balls.

The Yankees won the game in the first inning when they combined five hits for three runs against Joe Coleman. Singles by Tommy Henrich and Charley Keller and a double by Yogi Berra accounted for the first two runs. Berra then scored on Billy Johnson's single.

BELT FOR STALINGRAD

MOSCOW (AP)—A green belt around Stalingrad, including forest belts, parks and orchards, is being laid out to protect the city from sand storms. The green belt will girdle the Volga industrial city in a broad arc with both ends reaching the waterfront. Hydroelectric engineering projects involving the construction of a system of reservoirs also have been started. Hot winds blowing from the vicinity of the Caspian, where there are deserts, have long prevailed as far north as Stalingrad. If the green belt is successful there will be a radical change in the city's climate, it is stated.

TO SEEK RE-ELECTION

BEAUMONT, April 27. (AP) — Judge Thomas B. Coe, chief justice of the Ninth Court of Civil Appeals here, today announced his candidacy for re-election. He has held the position since Nov. 1, 1943, when he was appointed by Gov. Coke R. Stevenson to fill the unexpired term of J. M. Combs, now a member of Congress.

Material For Fall Promising

Tech Gridders Get Going Over In Rough Spring Football Drills

Texas Tech gridders are going into their final week of spring practice, with several players showing promise as starters on the 1948 eleven that will play one of the toughest schedules in years.

Although it is much too early to tell what the Red Raiders will do next fall, the spring training season is disclosing several players with considerable promise. Not all these men are in the backfield and it is fortunate, for the Techsans need linemen.

But making an outstanding showing at quarterback is Shaff DeGaisl of Sweetwater, a high school player with a good reputation. However DeGaish has been known more at Tech for his tennis playing ability and had not even been a candidate for the grid squad. It wasn't long after his appearance in football togs that he began to make the grandstand quarterbacks take notice of him, to say nothing of the coaching staff.

In the line, Coach G. B. Morris is working with a galaxy of players, some of whom are showing more promise than others. Lonnie Balch, also without football experience, is making an effort for an end position, along with Bill Kelley, Frank Ottmers, Walter Edrington, Luke Thompson and other holdovers from last year. The ends are showing a lot of promise, headed by Kelley, stalwart in 1947.

The weakest spot on the team is at tackle, where both Bernie Winkler and George Zoller are missing. To fill this void, Marshall Gettys, John Andrews, Billy Joe Russell, Don Williams, John Tom Baker and Doug McSwane are carrying on an intensive fight.

The guards are pretty well taken care of, although Doug McCurry no longer is on hand. Instead, Dan Pursel leads a contingent of promising men that includes Bob Hix, Don Orr, Bobby Garner, Milburn Haydon, Wayne Guynn, T. K. Hardy and others. The guard slots give the least worries to the coaching staff.

The center fight is evolving into a scrap between Bobby Williams and Joe L. Thompson. Coach Morris doesn't know which will make the grade to rank first, but the other man, off the showing in spring practice, probably will be so hard to keep off the starting eleven that Coach Morris hopes to make a tackle or guard out of him.

Another rough scrimmage is carded for Friday afternoon, with a practice game, probably to be held at night, will be staged next week in Jones Stadium. Although more players may come in from junior colleges during the summer and fall, a pretty good line on next year's starters can be obtained from the results of the game.

Temple Dog Fancier Does Well In National Meet In Kansas

ABILENE, Kas., April 27 (AP)—Racing dogs owned by R. K. Hutchings of Wichita, Kas., and C. V. Floca, of Temple, Tex., continued to hold the spotlight in the National Coursing association's spring meet today.

Hutchings, Wichita manufacturer and one of the nation's leading Greyhound breeders, still had all three of his entries in the National Futurity stake at the end of the third day's round. Floca had some of the best-looking prospects in the Sapling stake, an event started today with 270 young speedsters.

Lamesa Signs Two Players

LAMESA, April 27 (Special)—Three players were released outright and two rookies were signed today by the West Texas-New Mexico League-leading Lamesa Loboes.

The Lobo front office said that Joe Lucio and Rookie Bill Lincke, righthand pitchers, along with Rookie Kenneth Pierce of Lubbock, outfielder, were released without any string attached. Lucio pitched 12 complete games last year and won nine contests while losing 11.

At the same time, John Kolesar, 19, a righthand pitcher from Pittsburgh, Pa., and Donald Douthit, 19, an outfielder from Phoenix, Ariz., were signed by the Loboes.

Previously, Veteran Infielder Sam Malvica was released outright.

SPINS NO-HITTER

ABILENE, April 27 (AP)—Southpaw Bob McChesney pitched a no-hit, no-run game today as Hardin-Simmons' Cowboys beat Abilene Christian college 4-0 in a tight contest here.

Citation Smashes To Easily Gained Victory

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 27 (INS)—Citation smashed to wholly-expected triumph in the 11th Annual Derby trial at Churchill Downs today.

Calumet Farm's ace-high Kentucky Derby hope breezed under the wire ahead of Escadru, Eagle Look and Galedo.

Jockey Eddie Arcaro had his mount in constant restraint, content to let Galedo set the early pace, then moving to the fore at the far turn and romping home a solid length-plus. The winning time was 1:37 2/5, almost two whole seconds off the track record, but at no time would Arcaro give Citation his head.

WOMAN IS FOUND

NEW YORK, April 27. (INS)—A prominent Park avenue society matron was found dead today on a Middletown, R. I., beach a short distance from her swank Newport home. She was identified as Mrs. Helen Ellis Paine, 52, wife of George Eustis Paine, millionaire corporation director who had instigated a New York police search following his wife's disappearance Monday afternoon.

American Swimmers Will Fly To Olympics This Summer

NEW YORK, April 27 (INS)—Thirty-four of America's greatest swimmers will get a Carpet-of-Baghdad ride to the Olympic games this summer, via chartered plane, for the first trans-oceanic mass flight in athletic history.

Details of the unprecedented trip were confirmed today at the offices of the U. S. Olympic association, where it was disclosed that July 12 had been tentatively named for the flight.

Lions Club Holds Annual Program

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche Staff Writer

Lions club members and their ladies joined nearly 400 strong in a big funfest at the club's annual ladies night program last night at the Supper Club, and heard a program "with never a serious moment."

A steak dinner and trimmings was served to 378, and several others, too late for the dinner, joined in the nearly three hours of fun "Down Melody Lane," centering around various specialty numbers and contests that tested memories on song names.

The program was arranged under supervision of Ray Wells, with Mack Rush as master of ceremonies, and Mrs. James Oldham at the piano.

Other Clubs Represented

Visitors from other civic clubs in the city, introduced by Lions President J. Wm. Davis, included Mr. and Mrs. J. Holland Cox of the Optimists; Roy Forkner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mack of the 20-30 club; Mr. and Mrs. L. E. (Jack) Davis of Kiwanis; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maxey of Rotary; and Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds of the Exchange club.

Another visitor was John McLean of Hereford, district 2-TI governor, who brought greetings from Lions International and other clubs in the district.

The program's "Melody Lane" trip featured hit tunes from 1900 to 1948. Dramatized by Rush, the various numbers centered around hit tunes of the period.

Quartet On Program

The Westernaires, an SPEBSQSA quartet composed of Bob Dennis, Bob Hufstedler, Jack Hall and R. S. Roberson, sang "Sweet Sixteen" and "There's a Long, Long Trail," followed by a novelty dance by students of the Larrymore dance school.

Accompanied by his father, A. D. Leonard at the piano, Robert Leonard sang a medley of tunes of the 1920s, including Peggy O'Neal, Ramona, I'll See You in My Dreams, and as an encore sang Blue Skies.

Jack Rigney, Lubbock magician, mystified his audience with tricks of magic, closing with his handkerchief stunt in which the audience participated by waving goodbye.

Typifying the modern crooner, Terry Sanders sang "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," and "Always."

"Oscars" Are Awarded

Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, as the "Man of the vocabulary," presided at a fun skit that brought award of "Oscars" to several individuals. These included Judge and Mrs. Geo. R. Bean as the couple present who had been married the longest time, awarded a box of diapers; the newest newlyweds, Mr. and Mrs. Max Tidmore, who won a baby chair; Mrs. Marshall Harvey as the youngest grandmother, rocking chair; a group of six "old men of the club"—Judge G. V. Pardue, B. C. McCasland, L. E. Edwards, Bob Ripley, Carroll Thompson, and Bob Garner—were each awarded a bottle of tonic "with which to regain your youthful vigor."

A group of "charter" members of the club—Robert Bean, Hurley Carpenter, Dr. S. S. McKay, Fred Harbaugh, Bill Evans, Thord Dockray, and Vernice Ford—were each awarded a crutch.

New Members Honored

A total of 44 new members received during the administration of President Davis were introduced, and were represented by R. A. Pendergrass and Byron Abernathy in receiving "master" keys, typical of keys awarded by the club in bringing in new members.

R. B. Parkinson, representing a "lost drunk" broke into the emcee's musical explanation, finally made his way to the mike, and led the audience in singing "I Love You Truly" and "Let Me Call You Sweetheart."

Lloyd Jenkins with his trumpet and his assistant "Bosco" rendered "Tea For Two," with Bosco, a puppet arrangement on one hand, marking time. He then played "Sugar Blues" with a muted trumpet.

Gene Powers and Martha Cubb gave a novelty song and dance presentation of "Temptation," and "Them Durn Fool Things."

The program concluded with a question and answer session on tune names, with audience participation. Carrying portable mikes in this skit were Groves Denman, Dallas Whaley, Dr. Clyde C. Craig, and Geo. Young. The jackpot prize of $10 was split by Mrs. R. G. Richards and Mrs. W. B. Holden.

The Supper Club had been reserved for the night, and a dance followed the funfest.

Candy Wrappers Bring Glove From Bobby Feller To Feller

CHICAGO, April 27. (AP)—Eight-year-old Bobby Schuman, who walked streets all night hunting ice cream bar wrappers, will get his baseball glove—from Bob Feller himself.

Bobby will get the glove even though he is 435 ice cream bar wrappers short of the required number.

Last Thursday Bobby stayed out all night. When he returned at 5:30 a. m., he told his folks he had been searching the streets for the wrappers. He found 15. Only 435 more and a glove autographed by Feller would be his.

Hart Announces Plan To Seek Full Term As Associate Justice

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Associate Justice James P. Hart of the State Supreme court today announced as a candidate for his first elective term.

The 43-year-old Austin man was appointed associate justice by Gov. Beauford H. Jester last October when C. S. Slatton resigned the position.

"A judge's only proper platform must be a promise to follow as closely as he can the ideals of judicial service," Judge Hart said in a prepared statement announcing his candidacy.

He named the following ideals as part of his platform: Complete impartiality in all cases, sincere devotion to the state and federal constitutions, a love of "plain justice" over legal technicalities.

Judge Hart has been a private attorney before the Supreme court of the United States, counsel, attorney for the state, trial court judge, and finally a member of Texas' highest civil tribunal.

Bradley In Warning

and author of the "pay-as-you-go" tax plan, declared he does not believe we shall have war in the foreseeable future.

"Yet, or the other hand," Ruml continued, "I do not believe we are going to have peace in the foreseeable future.

"If we are not going to have peace in the foreseeable future, then we are going to have defense programs indefinitely.

Scientific Recognition Urged

"This means armament indefinitely—not only in the United States but largely throughout the world."

Ruml gave a detailed exposition of what adequate armament for the the United States would mean in terms of economics.

Dr. Baxter of Williams college warned that if war comes no one can foretell whether it will be a long or short war.

He urged in the present atomic age, with world conditions such as they are, that the United States recognize scientific work within the national military establishment "in such a way as to draw in first-rate scientists and give them the freedom necessary to do their best work."

World State Urged

Congressman Herter said that, in the face of the destructive powers scientists are now placing in the hands of "fallible mortals," no one "can conscientiously oppose the ideal of world government as the only way to control those powers."

He admitted, however, that the making of practical suggestions as to how world government can be brought about is extremely difficult.

The general declared that the spread of Communism can be checked only "when free nations are united in arms and stoutly defended."

More Bases Needed

He said this country's only safe guarantee against enemy air attack is to hold bases from which the enemy's aircraft could fly. He also branded Communism "the gallows on which freedom hangs in the nations of eastern Europe."

"Without these bases resolutely held," he stated, "all the machines in the world could not save our cities from the ordeal of attack."

The Army chief warned that armed force alone was not the final answer to peace, but called upon democracy to demonstrate it is more progressive, more resolute, more attractive and more productive than any totalitarian system.

"The world cannot live in peace—half slave, half free," he asserted. "It cannot even hope to survive in fear, panic and perpetual tension."

Poll Taxes Opposed

talked indicate they believe that the time has come to get rid of this archaic system which makes it necessary for a person to pay a poll tax before he or she can vote.

"I know that in the large section of the state which I represent there are thousands of fine citizens who cannot exercise their right to franchise simply because they don't have a dollar and seventy-five cents to use for the purpose of buying a poll tax."

Kelley represents 15 counties in and adjoining the agriculturally-important Rio Grande valley where resident and migratory farm labor figures heavily in the population.

He said the first legislation he would introduce at the next session will be a resolution which will give the voters of Texas the privilege of voting on an amendment to abolish the poll tax.

Tech Group Making Plans For Annual Varsity Musical

"The Phenomenon," 1948 Texas Technological college varsity show, will be bigger and better than ever before and due to the huge crowds encountered last year, will run for three nights instead of two this year, George Ater, director, has stated.

The show will run May 10, 11 and 12 beginning at 8:15 in the Lubbock High school auditorium and will feature the finest swing orchestra that has been assembled in recent years in West Texas and will include 19 feature numbers, including some former Broadway talent, and a cast of over 100 actors.

Jackie Reese will have the starring female lead in the production in the roll of Margaret; Otis Green will be male star in the roll of Corry; James Pinson will be Prof. Perry; and Maxine McCollum will play Rocky.

Good Music Planned

Jo Ann Crabtree is assistant director of the musical extravaganza written by Edd Sides and Jack Drain. Director of music is Vic Williams who has combined the outstanding musicians in all of the leading bands in the Lubbock area together with many other capable and experienced musicians.

The musicians were recruited from the bands of Ted Creager, Phil Kligman, C. A. Rodgers and Lloyd Jenkins and the 20 piece aggregation will also include Bill Harrod, director of the Lubbock Symphony orchestra, and Joe Haddon, assistant director of the Tech Matador band.

Ten new songs, written especially for the show, will be heard for the first time and such talent as Joseph Grimard, New York vaudville star, will be features of the two hour and 15 minute production.

Tickets are now on sale in the Administration building at Texas Tech and next Monday they will go on sale at Hemphill-Wells and Dunlap's, Ater said. Price of admission will be $1.50 for reserved seats and $1 for general admission.

Observers of previous shows who have seen rehearsals of "The Phenomenon" have stated that it is the finest yet, Ater stated.

Marshall Assailed

his key subordinates."

The chairman, in a prepared statement, declared he could reveal "as a direct result of our persistent probing and exposures" that several of the "most dangerous security risks" have been discharged from the State department.

He added that among those fired was "one key employe of the international broadcasting division." Taber said:

"We have been unusually patient with Secretary of State Marshall.

"Since he took office, he has had ample time and opportunity to fire the chiselers and hire some competent, loyal Americans to help him clean house.

Writers Scored

"Had he done so when we first advised him to reconvert the State department into a thoroughly American institution, we would not have the spectacle of members of Congress having to check the incredible drivel which the department foists on the world as the 'Voice of America.'"

Taber said that "one could almost suspect the writers of this twaddle of a Michavellian plot to ridicule the American people and present them to the rest of the world as morons and neurotics."

The chairman ridiculed American broadcasts beamed to Russia and Spain. He said:

"It would be the ultimate in self-deception to believe that anyone with the strength to switch off the reception dial would punish himself voluntarily listening to the drivel which the State department passes off as educational, informational and entertaining programs."

Taber asserted that the assistant secretary of state for public affairs has full authority to discharge subversive and "deadhead" personnel but has refused to do so.

SNAKES STAGE BATTLE

BALIK PULAU, Malaya (AP)—A fight to the death took place between two giant snakes here—a king cobra and a python, both more than 15 feet long. The python (sometimes called boa constrictor), although bitten by the deadly cobra, managed to twine itself around its enemy and crush the cobra to death. Then it died from the cobra's poison. A government official said it was the first time such a clash between a king cobra and python ever had been reported in Malaya.

City police arrested 14 women at local hotels last night and charged them with vagrancy by prostitution. Fines of $50 each were assessed.

No damage was reported from a grass fire at the side of a residence at 424 Ave. M about 6:30 p. m. yesterday. Firemen said playing children apparently set the grass fire.

T. V. Walker, of 2017 Fourteenth, reported theft of a wheel, tire and tube, valued at $15. The property was taken from a vehicle at the residence, records showed.

Police early today continued to search for the driver of a green Kaiser car which had been reported involved in a hit-run collision about 9:30 o'clock last night. F. M. Robertson reported to police that his car had been struck by the car at Nineteenth street and College avenue and had failed to stop. Both vehicles were damaged, he said. The Kaiser was spotted about 12:45 o'clock this morning across from the postoffice by Patrolman Dodson. But the driver had not been located, police said.

Teen-Age Draft

he was going along with the administration and other armed services on it, but added:

He agrees with Senator Bridges (R-NH) that it would be gambling with the nation's security to put off creation of a 70-group Air Force.

The administration originally called for a 55-group program but the House, with air power advocates in control, voted to boost this to 70.

Symington's chief, Secretary of Defense Forrestal, then came forward with the compromise 66-group plan.

"Time Running Out"

Today Symington told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee he agreed to the Forrestal plan.

But he said Air Force officers "under oath" would be perjuring themselves if they denied they favored a 70-group force.

"Time is running out," he said, adding that Russia has jet fighters better than this country can boast.

Puzzled by Symington's testimony, Senator Cordon (R-Ore) demanded to know whether he was supporting the 66 or 70-group plan.

Symington said that that was a question for General Carl Spaatz, chief of staff of the Air Force, because he sat in on the joint chiefs of staff meeting which approved the compromised 66-group plan.

Bill To Be Rushed

Spaatz, who also attended today's hearing, said officers have to defend the figures "asked by the commander - in - chief." This referred to President Truman.

Senator Gurney said the new draft plan revealed today would be whipped into legislative form by his committee within two or three days.

It calls for re-establishment of the nationwide selective service on a basis similar to World War II with local boards handling both trainees and draftees. However, the boards, with less to do than during the war, would be smaller.

Gurney said married men and most World War II veterans would be exempt.

Distribution Given

The new program, he said, would boost the strength of the armed forces immediately. If the bills passed, he said trainees and draftees would be in uniform within 60 days after passage.

Here's how the new trainee program would work out:

The 18 through 19½ youths would go directly into the armed services.

Of the 161,000 expected the first year, the Army would get 110,000 in addition to 790,000 regulars, bringing the Army up to 900,000 men.

The Air Force would get 15,000 trainees in addition to 453,000 regulars, for a total of 468,000.

The Navy would get 30,000 and the Marines 6,000 in addition to 552,000 regulars, for a total of 588,000.

Volunteers Banned

Trainees could not choose the Air Force or any other service. They would be assigned for duty "by lot" by local draft boards.

After serving one year, trainees would be required to enlist for four years in a class-A reserve unit, with weekly drill periods, such as the National Guard.

If such a reserve unit is not available where the trainee lives, works or goes to school, he would be put into an organized reserve unit for five years service, Gurney added.

Trainees would not be allowed to volunteer under present plans.

Gurney said the new program, which he said would be a "permanent" law for at least four or five years, would be killed promptly if the armed services failed to protect the morals of young men being trained.

"They have most of the top police jobs in central headquarters now, and they are campaigning to force me out since I am a Social Democrat and about the only non-Communist left in a leading post," he said.

"They have tried in many ways to discredit me and they maintain a constant spy system in my office in an attempt to force my removal.

"This pressure by the German Communists is much worse than any exerted by the Russian authorities. It is an amazing and evil thing—this hatred of the German Communists for all Germans who are not Communists. They attempt to undermine every non-Communist official and try to induce hostility on the part of the Russians."

Berlin's police president, Paul Markgraf, who is backed by the Russians and Communists, claimed today that Kanig was not threatened with arrests by the Russians.

Berlin's city government, which is dominated by Social Democrats as a result of the last city-wide election, today granted Kanig furlough from his job but expressed the hope he would return to his post soon.

"I started playing Robin Hood, handing out $2 and $5 tips to bellhops and waitresses. I felt I was redistributing the money the gamblers had taken away from such people."

Jarvis claimed he had lived "comfortably" during his interrupted stay in Seattle.

He said:

"I hired a limousine and took it all in. Seattle's a beautiful, clean city. I'd like to have stayed longer."

Jarvis explained his difficulty, saying:

"I guess it was the monotonous slap of the $100 bills in the gaming rooms at the Flamingo that got me. That's what gave me the idea to take some of it."

A fugitive charge was filed against Jarvis in King county today. He said he had not decided whether to fight extradition though Nevada authorities are expected to arrive in Seattle for him tomorrow.

Pro-Truman Forces To Answer Jester

AUSTIN, April 27 (AP)—Pro-Truman forces of the Texas Democratic party will have free radio time Thursday night to answer Gov. Beauford H. Jester's recent criticism of the President.

Woodville J. Rogers of San Antonio, leader of the Truman group, said today the Texas Lone Star chain has given him the 9:30 to 10 p. m. spot on a 16-station hookup Thursday.

Rogers complained to the Federal Communications commission Sunday that he had been refused free time after it was granted to Jester, who blistered Truman last week at the Fort Worth political barbecue.

Charlie Gibson of Amarillo, a member of the State Democratic executive committee, will participate in a round table discussion Thursday night, Rogers said.

He also named the following as participants on the radio program: Gaston Wilder, Beaumont attorney; Warren Phillips, Corpus Christi publisher and attorney; Judge E. T. Brooks of Abilene, and Caso March, professor of law at Baylor university in Waco.

Swindling Suspect Held

San Saba officers were holding W. O. Carnes for Lubbock in connection with a felony swindling charge, according to the sheriff's department. Carnes was indicted here by an August term of a 72nd district court grand jury.

Sheriff Grady Harrist was expected to send a deputy to return the defendant today.

The charge relates that Carnes acquired a truck trailer by giving a $300 insufficient check to R. H. Alexander of Lubbock. The trailer recently was recovered, District Attorney Lloyd Croslin said.

Police were informed of the theft of a $109 Reviere camera from G. G. McWhorter of 2213 Thirtieth, from McWhorter's pickup car.

Charles Tiles of 3115 Twenty-first reported theft of a bike.

Cottonseed Is Stolen

The sheriff's office was informed of the theft of 30 or 40 sacks of cottonseed from J. N. Smiley of 2112 Seventh, from a barn of his farm nine miles northeast of Lubbock.

Police fined a woman, about 37, $25 for drunkenness after she had been found on the Brownfield highway roadside and rushed early Monday night to a hospital for treatment.

She was "not injured," police said.

D. C. Fair, 41, a negro porter, was charged with simple assault in connection with his alleged pulling a knife on one of three Littlefield men at a small hotel here. Edward Anderson, of Littlefield, suffered a shallow wound of the left side. It was sutured at a hospital. The porter said he acted in self-defense. He was fined $15.

Bond of $500 was posted by Harvey V. Ashton, 53, of Abilene, who pleaded innocent of a county court charge of drunk driving, the sheriff's department said.

Russia fought in a long procedural wrangle to force the United States to submit a formal proposal for the UN to abandon the partition scheme approved last Nov. 29 before the Special Assembly could begin debate on trusteeship.

Just before the political committee adjourned until 8:30 a. m. Suspect In Reuther Shooting Claimed At Work During Attack

DETROIT, April 27 (INS)—Detroit police tonight checked the alibi of a Detroit man, identified only as a minor union official, who once boasted of wanting to shoot Walter Reuther.

This newest lead in the April 20th shotgun assault on the UAW president threatened to collapse when plant records showed the man was at work at the time of the attack.

Chief of Detectives Jack Harvill said the records showed the man reported for work at 3:30 p. m. April 20 and remained on the job until 1:27 a. m. April 21. Reuther was shot at 9:55 p. m. April 20.

Police Commissioner Harry S. Ty would not disclose the name of the suspect, but Inspector Joseph Krug of the special investigation squad said he was affiliated with the CIO United Steel Workers.

Youth Admits Shooting Three Men For 'Personal Reasons'

HOUSTON, April 27 (U.P.) — David Garza, charged with shooting three Houston men, spent his 18th birthday in jail today.

"It wasn't a gang," young Garza said. "I did the shooting myself for personal reasons."

Police theorized that an east end gang known as the scorpions had been engaged in the recent terrorism.

Garza was charged yesterday with shooting Celso Cesares, 21. Cesares was wounded in the stomach.

On Saturday, Garza said he shot L. J. Williams, 26-year-old negro, in the back and last Tuesday wounded Salvadore Loera, 18, in the stomach.

In one case, Garza said he shot in self defense and to satisfy a grudge in another. The other shooting was just for a thrill.

Four counts of assault to murder and three counts of carrying a pistol were filed in Justice W. C. Ragan's court against the youth.

Holy Land Invasion

port in that ambition.)

A Jewish agency spokesman said the Trans-Jordan parliament had acceded to King Abdullah's demands for sending his crack Arab legion into Palestine immediately and had proclaimed a general mobilization.

"It looks, therefore, as if the threats and warnings and boasts that have been coming from Amman (capital of Trans-Jordan) these days are on the verge of being fulfilled," the spokesman added.

Abdullah Makes Offer

Some Jewish officials were hopeful that a truce could be reached by direct negotiation with Abdullah. He reiterated an offer to lay down arms "if the Jews halt their attacks on the Arabs."

The Jewish agency was reported ready to talk to the Arabs "but not on the basis of terms dictated in advance."

Invasion jitters which swept Palestine were common to both Jews and Arabs. To Palestine Arab leaders invasion would mean cutting the thin string by which they have held political control over the Holy Land's 1,250,000 Arabs.

Unconfirmed reports came from the north that Lebanese and Syrian armies were on the move toward Palestine.

A report from Damascus said Abdullah's Arab legion had already occupied Jericho north of the Dead sea and was moving into the Dead sea valley that joins Trans-Jordan on the east.

This was discounted by British military authorities. The British said units of the legion have been in Jericho for several months as security forces on loan to the British. The legion is supplied and trained by the British, under terms of a British-Trans-Jordan treaty.

The invasion reports came in the wake of the reported decision yesterday by Egypt, Trans-Jordan, Syria and Lebanon to send their troops into Palestine by Saturday.

This would be in defiance of the British mandate and the United Nations Security Council, which has sent a cease-fire order to the Jews and Arabs in Palestine. The order has not been observed by either side.

broad statements of intent, contained in the Brussels agreement.

As for supplying various western European countries with arms in the very near future, opinion was divided over the manner of approach.

Some congressional authorities contended it could be done under the European recovery program without further legislation on the ground that arms might be necessary to insure economic recovery.

Others talked about the possibility of military lend-lease, while in other quarters it was suggested that arms might be declared surplus and sold at will by this government.

This government has a fairly accurate idea of what France wants in the way of new arms to replace her small and deteriorated stock. The same is not true of other countries such as Belgium and the Netherlands.

Greek Troops Claimed Closing In On Large Army Of Guerrillas

By KINGSBURG SMITH
European General Manager, INS

LAMIA, Greece, April 27.—American-directed Greek troops tonight were closing a trap on perhaps 2,000 well-armed but hungry guerrillas caught in the snow-covered mountains of central Greece.

Final blows are being struck against the bedraggled band in the biggest government offensive since the civil war began. The United States supplied the armament.

The objective is to scrape clean the lower end of the mountain backbone along which the guerrillas from time to time have advanced. almost to the gates of Athens.

Situation Desperate

Since the offensive began six days ago it has cost the guerrillas 108 known killed. More than 200 have been captured, 104 surrendering voluntarily.

In the Greek first army operational headquarters near Lamia some of the prisoners described the plight of the guerrillas cornered on a nearby mountain top.

They said their situation was "desperate, with practically no food."

Nevertheless 300 or more fanatical Communist guerrillas are fighting a last-ditch stand at one point, while 700 panic-stricken non-combatants, mostly women and children, are huddled in mountain crevices to escape shellfire.

Women, Children Found

The non-combatant villagers, also without food, mostly were forced to join the guerrillas.

(A direct Athens dispatch said Greek troops had found 2,300 women and children kidnapped by the guerrillas and then abandoned in the wilderness of the central Evritania and Doris provinces.)

The writer can sympathize with the refuges and troops because his five-hour drive through the mountains was a cold, weird experience.

It was a route through rain, snow and fog over tortuous roads, including hairpin bends on the edge of precipices.

East-West Battle Fought

At the headquarters of General Tsalkalotos, commander of the Greek first army corps, it is obvious that the East-West conflict is being fought in Greece with bullets and blood instead of diplomacy.

Bouncing along the twisting dirt roads one passes military ambulances taking casualties to the rear.

One also sees small combat teams of motorized units, the commander standing in the turrent with radio earphones slung over his head.

The road to the front is infested, too, with guerrillas. Black dots on the headquarters maps show that they are located close to the army communication network.

American Army officers are participating in the field as "advisers" to the Greek troops who are doing the actual fighting in an attempt to keep Communism from reaching into the vital Mediterranean areas.

W. J. Smith, 82, Of Terry County, Dies

BROWNFIELD, April 27. (Special)—W. J. Smith, 87, retired farmer, died at 2 o'clock this morning at his home on the Levelland highway.

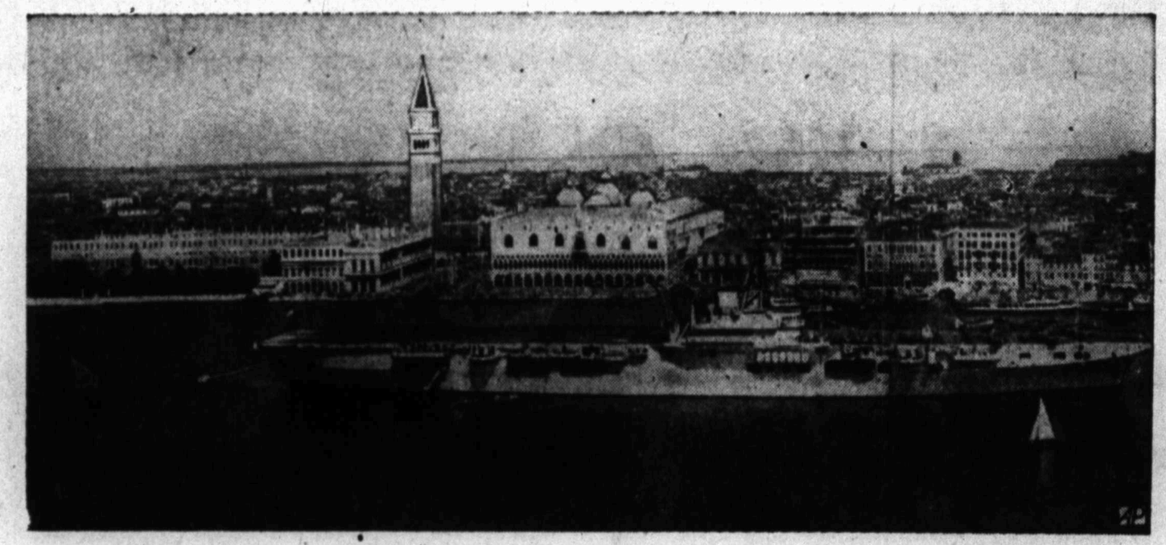

A former resident of the Tokio community, he had lived in Terry county since 1916. He had been in ill health for the past 10 or 12 years.

Church Groups Consider Union

CHICAGO, April 27. (U.P.)—Eight inter-church groups representing 45,000,000 Protestants throughout the country have agreed tentatively to join forces in a new National Council of Churches, it was announced today.

An administrative committee representing the organizations, which include the Federal Council of Churches of Christ, said the proposed merger now is being submitted to member churches for ratification.

Heads of the eight groups met in Chicago recently and formulated a two-year plan for putting the unification plan into effect. The new Council of Churches would bring "a unity of action and avoid duplication of effort," a spokesman said.

Eight Groups Study Merger

The eight groups considering the merger are, in addition to the federal council: The International Council of Religious Education; Home Missions Council of North America; Foreign Missions Conference of North America; Missionary Education Movement of the U. S. and Canada; United Council of Church Women; National Protestant Council of Higher Education, and the United Stewardship council.

Dr. Luther A. Weigle, dean of the Yale Divinity school and chairman of the merger executive committee, said "the purpose of the merger is to further consolidate the efforts of many denominations so that the Christian faith may be advanced and the work of all churches made more effective."

Approximately 800 persons attended the second and final performance last night in Senior High school auditorium of Hart and Kaufman's well-known comedy, "George Washington Slept Here," a presentation of the Texas Technological college speech department. The attendance of last night's presentation was about 200 higher than that of the previous night, it was reported.

New Oil Field Near Houston Possible Major Discovery

HOUSTON, April 27 (AP)—A new Gulf coast oil field, which operators say may prove to be a major discovery, was indicated today in the Iowa colony area of Brazoria county, 30 miles southwest of Houston.

The discovery well, the Jack W Frazier No. 1 Lillie O. Hurlock, flowed 33.6 gravity pipe line oil, no water, while making a drill stem test in open hole at 9095 to 9116 feet.

The flow was through a quarter-inch bottom choke and a half-inch top choke with 500 pounds working pressure on the top choke.

Frazier, Houston independent, estimated the well capable of making from 600 to 800 barrels of oil daily through a quarter-inch choke.

He said storage tanks are being erected. The producing formation, Frazier said, is about 650 feet into the Vicksburg zone.

Voters Back Increased Aid To China Nationalists, Poll Shows

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., April 27—Moves in Congress during recent months to supply more money and military aid to Nationalist China find considerable backing from American public opinion.

While the average voter has not followed events in China closely and is not well-informed about the intricate and complex situation there, the general impression of the public appears to be favorable toward the Chiang Kai-shek government. A coast to coast poll finds the predominant sentiment is for giving the Nationalist forces greater aid.

GALLUP

Shortly after Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg had described the China situation as "touch and go" in its seriousness, Congress passed a China aid bill of $463,000,000 including a $100,000,000 grant which the Chinese Central Government may use to obtain military supplies for its civil war against Communist forces.

To sound out public opinion on the whole situation the Institute polled voters from coast to coast on the question:

"Do you approve or disapprove of the United States giving the Chiang Kai-Shek (Nationalist) government more military supplies, goods and money?"

The vote:

Approve	55%
Disapprove	32
No opinion	13

Veterans of World War II expressed approval by a considerably higher majority than the country as a whole. The veterans voted 64 per cent in favor, 27 per cent opposed and 9 per cent no opinion.

The poll found no substantial differences of opinion by geographical sections, although the East Central area voted less in favor than other sections. The vote follows:

	Approve	Disapprove	No opin.
New Eng. & Mid. Alt.	57%	31%	12%
East Central	51	35	14
West Central	55	32	13
South	57	26	17
Far West	52	33	15

Irate New Yorker, Bypassed By Bus, Stabs The Driver

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP)—A bus failed to stop when Rafael Torres signaled, police say, so he chased it for 33 blocks in a taxicab and stabbed the bus driver in an argument after overtaking him.

Torres, a 40-year-old ship's cook, was held on a felonious assault charge last night.

Atomic Energy Commission Will Construct Super Atom-Smasher

BERKELEY, Cal., April 27 (U.P.)—The Atomic Energy commission will begin construction this fall on a mighty super-cyclotron that will permit scientists to study the mysterious cosmic energies.

Announcement of the new cyclotron was made by David E. Lilienthal, chairman of the commission, and Dr. E. O. Lawrence, of the University of California radiation laboratory.

They said the 110-foot super atom-smasher will be built at the university at a cost of about $9,000,000. It will take from three to five years to build.

Hollywood Cameramen Will Film Actual Flight Through Hurricane For New Movie

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Motion Picture Editor

HOLLYWOOD, April 27.—I am more interested in the plans 20th Century-Fox has to film "Slattery's Hurricane," Herman Wouks' book, than I am in the actual buying of the novel itself.

Navy fliers will study hurricanes and their causes by flying through them. That means that certain scenes in the picture can only be made while there is an actual hurricane. It may not sound practical to the casual observer, but William Perlberg, the producer, has it all worked out, and it should be very interesting.

The picture will not be started until fall, and will have Linda Darnell and Dana Andrews in the leads. So you can see it will not only have all this technical storm stuff, but a good hot romance, too.

Maybe I'm talking out of school, but Bette Davis has just had an exciting offer from Alexander Korda to play opposite James Mason in "The King's General." How do I know? Well, I am not going to tell, but I get it straight that Bette may accept. This is Daphne Du Maurier's novel, which was so widely read.

Bette belongs to Warners, but Jack Warner probably would let her do pretty much what she wants.

Speaking of Korda reminds me that the Korda office says no contract was signed, nor will be signed with Edward Dmytryk, who went to London to talk to Korda about directing a movie.

"I am tired of playing 'nuts' on the screen," Kirk Douglas said. "They call 'em neurotic, but they are just plain crazy!"

Well, Kirk can relax and go normal again. He gets the romantic lead opposite Laraine Day in "My Dear Secretary," for Harry Popkin.

Laraine flew in Monday morning after a brief trip to New York to be with Leo Durocher for the opening of the baseball season of dem Bums. You can bet the minute the picture is finished, Laraine will be back there rooting for her favorite team.

Chatter in Hollywood: The most glamorous girl in Hollywood is Nora Eddington Flynn. She came to the Charlie Morrison wedding party with Errol's best friend, Bruce Cabot, and in a room full of lovely women, she was the prettiest.

She has cut her lovely red hair short. Her dress, a beige satin, blended with her titian tresses. No wonder Errol's so happy in his home life.

The Flynns go to New York, Nora tells me, on a vacation—her first visit.

Leo Carrillo, one of my oldest friends and one of California Governor Warren's favorite companions, is going to do a revival of the popular series, "Cisco Kid." He makes the series for Philip Krasne, of Inter-American productions, for United Artists.

Leo was very amusing and loveable in "The Fugitive," as the gent who winks at the law. In the "Cisco Kid," he will have another colorful, dashing character, which he will play so well with that wonderful accent he uses on the screen.

What a wonderful choice Robert Taylor would be to play Marcus Vinicius in "Quo Vadis." He is handsome, he is a good actor, and is the romantic type of the character in Henryk Sienkiewicz' classic.

Bob hasn't made a picture since last August, and his friends and fans are eager to see him again.

As for the Christian princess, that should be an ethereal blonde —Joan Caulfield, probably. Here I am casting! I will bet MGM and Arthur Hornblow Jr. already know who is set for the leads.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Lynn Bari, an expectant mother, is in the hospital. I'm glad to say there is nothing serious, and the doctors assure Lynn she will have the baby she so much wants.

Gloria Swanson is here to be with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Anderson, who expects her third child any day.

In no uncertain language does Marie MacDonald deny she and her husband, Harry Karl, are rifting. "We haven't even had an argument," said Marie. Well, that is good to know.

Lon McCallister, who came back from Mexico with a sore throat and fever, has been ordered to have his tonsils out, which he will do.

At the party Tyrone Power gave for Anatole Litvak, Linda Christian stole the show in a gorgeous dress. That one can certainly charm the birds off the trees.

Maria Montez is taking rumba lessons from Arthur Murray and doing very well.

U. S. Navy Force On Way To Visit Norway

DUBLIN, Eire, April 27. (AP)—A U. S. Naval force which has been on a goodwill visit here since last Thursday left today for Bergen, Norway.

The ships were the Cruiser Fresno and the Destroyers William R. Rush and Johnston.

In the Irish sea they made a rendezvous with the carrier Valley Forge, which also will make the Bergen visit.

Fishing Line On Truck Hooks Young Girl Standing On Street

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., April 27 (U.P.)—Betty Huber, 10, was standing at a street intersection here last night.

A truck operated by Roy L. Davis turned the corner in front of her. Fastened to the side of the truck was a fish pole belonging to the driver, dangling a line with sinker and fishhook.

The line swung out as the truck passed Betty, and the fishhook caught in her nose.

Income Of Texas Eastern Transmission Setup Given

WILMINGTON, Del., April 27 (AP)—Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. earned a net income of $1,077,608 in the first three months of 1948, R. H. Hargrove reported to stockholders at the annual meeting today.

The company has practically completed the first 10 compressor stations on the Big and Little Inch pipe lines, and delivered through April will average approximately 310,000,000 cubic feet a day, he said. This compared with 140,000,000 cubic feet daily when the company began operations nearly a year ago.

The company has applied to the Federal Power commission for permission to install additional compressor horsepower sufficient to increase daily delivery to 508,000,000 cubic feet by Jan. 1, 1949. The company will also build a third line, 26 inches in diamater, from Longview, Texas to a point near Pittsburgh, if granted permission. Hargrove continued. This would add 425,000,000 additional cubic feet of daily delivery capacity.

Special Session Also Rejected

By MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, April 27—Gov. Beauford H. Jester says he is not a vice presidential aspirant.

The rumor that he had such aspirations was killed off today at the governor's press conference, devoted principally to an explanation of why a special session of the legislature could not grant bigger old age pensions.

"My only interest is in making a good governor of the greatest state in the union," Jester replied to questioning.

Includes All Parties

Rumor and speculation had followed the governor's remarks at the Fort Worth barbecue last week. He had said, "The Texas delegation must be left free to work for the nomination of a vice presidential candidate acceptable to the South."

It had been his first reference to vice presidential considerations to which any significances had been attached. Many thought Jester was indicating personal interest in the nomination.

"I thought I had made myself clear on that in my speech in Fort Worth," Jester said today.

"That seems to be what started all the speculation," he was told.

"I'd like to make myself very clear, " he replied. "I'm not interested in the vice presidential nomination."

"From any party or from the Dixie party?" he was asked.

Takes Definite Stand

The governor said postcards have been coming into his office in "such profusion" asking a special session to increase old age pension grants, he felt it was time to make a public statement.

Jester noted that old age grants are now at the constitutional maximum of $35,000,000 annually. The constitution would have to be changed to make them larger.

"If a special session were called, you couldn't amend the constitution or pass a resolution to amend it," he said. Constitutional amendments may be proposed and voted only at regular sessions of the legislature under constitutional requirements.

The governor recalled that a 50th legislature appropriation filled the state's old age pension fund to its $35,000,000 maximum. Subsequent legislation to raise the maximum failed of passage. Jester noted that he had recommended that it be passed.

Would Not Oppose Boost

"Will you recommend that the next legislature raise the ceiling?" he was asked.

"I'll have a recommendation to

Study Of School Underway Here

Interest in soon-to-be-announced results were expected to increase here this morning as a three-day study by a visiting committee of thirteen educators to measure merits and shortcomings in Lubbock Senior High school went into the final day. The group began meetings Monday morning with faculty members, students, and board of education officials.

Headed by Dr. Bob Gray of the department of curriculum and instruction at the University of Texas, the visiting committee of educators are in Lubbock at the invitation of the local schools to assist in the culmination of a study which began two years ago When outcome and goals are presented on Wednesday afternoon they will represent the improvement which has been made in Lubbock's secondary schools since a local committee set up criteria last fall.

Visiting Classrooms

'Since the instructional program is the heart of the educational system, we are spending most of our time visiting classrooms," Dr. Gray said. All day Monday and Tuesday members of the visiting committee were in the classrooms, with no phase of the instructional program being overlooked. Following a tea Monday afternoon committees met to discuss progress and problems for the remainder of the evaluation period.

Tuesday afternoon the committee on plant and administration toured all school buildings of Lubbock, including the elementary buildings, the Junior and Senior High school, as well as the buildings under construction and the locations selected for future expansion. Service of the school system was being evaluated in terms of what the school is doing for those students who plan to attend college, those who plan to take additional business and technical education, and those who will go directly into jobs on farms, ranches, and into industry. A special period to confer with students has been scheduled for Wednesday morning.

Reports To Begin

At 10 a. m. today reports on findings will begin, with the session open to anyone in the community. Arrangements have been made for at least one member of the board of education, which took part in setting up

Portrait Of Dean Is Presented To College

Leidigh Honored At Aggie Club Banquet

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

More than 275 Texas Tech Aggie club members and guests jammed the East ballroom of the Lubbock hotel last night to honor Dean Emeritus A. H. Leidigh of the Agriculture division of the college and to witness the presentation of a portrait of the dean to the school.

An open house honoring Dean and Mrs. Leidigh will be held from 1 to 3:30 p. m. Sunday in Memorial auditorium of the Agriculture building, at which time the portrait will be hung permanently in the auditorium.

J. R. Bertrand, former assistant to Dean Leidigh and presently associate professor of rural sociology and agriculture economics at Texas A&M College, served as master of ceremonies.

"We are not turning you out to pasture," Bertrand told Leidigh in his opening statement, "rather we are here to honor you for the accomplishments you have made in the past and looking to you for even greather things in the future."

Bertrand's opening remarks were followed by the introduction of R. E. Karper, a friend and associate of Leidigh for many years, who gave a detailed account of the dean's accomplishments in early life.

Pioneer In Agriculture

Karper pointed out that Leidigh was a pioneer in the agriculture profession, that soon after he completed his courses at Kansas State university he took a job with the United States Department of Agriculture and worked in the Channing and Amarillo area.

Karper said that Leidigh conducted many experiments in grain sorghums and developed two outstanding hybrid types of grain. He also said that Leidigh conducted many experiments in dry land farming, which later he carried on while on the Texas Agriculture Experiment division staff of Texas A&M college.

Casey Fine, associate professor of animal husbandry at Texas Tech, described Leidigh's tenure at Tech from the founding of the college until his appointment as dean emeritus.

Faced Staggering Problems

Fine said that Leidigh faced staggering problems when Tech was "past the paper stage" in setting up and organizing an agriculture department. "He had to fight hard for a strong agriculture department and a sound curriculum," he said.

"There were only 60 in the first classes of the department of the newly created college, and all we had in the way of buildings was a dairy barn and the judging pavilion; our offices were in the Home Economics building. You can see we have come a long way since those days in 1925," Fine said.

"Dean Leidigh never stopped talking, hoping, working and planning for a fine agriculture building, and when we finally got it, and he had turned the first spade of dirt when construction began, he was unable to use it for the Army took it over during the war for its purposes. But we had the building and we took it over and have used it since the war ended," Fine declared.

Dean Is Described

Leidigh, as his students see him, was outlined by Jason O. Gordon, who described how the dean was a stickler for detail, and spent much time seeing students "especially following the issuance of term grades."

"His favorite questions were 'What have you been doing?' and 'Why haven't you been studying?' " Gordon said.

"He has a very sharp memory, as his students will testify. He always required that requests be written in the student's own handwriting, and then his answer was generally "No," followed with a sharp commentary upon the student's handwriting and his English," Gordon laughingly told the group.

"But we know that despite this outwardly harsh manner that Leidigh was interested in all his students otherwise he would not have given the time that he did with them and their many problems." Gordon said.

Portrait Presented

Following the talk by Gordon, George Wilson and Earl Sears unveiled the portrait painted by Mrs. Loretto Edwards of Amarillo, and presented it to the college. Tech President W. M. Whyburn accepted the portrait for the school.

W. L. Stangel, dean of the Agriculture department, outlined the difficulties that Leidigh and the other members of the agriculture department staff met when they first came to Tech in 1925 and how the problems were solved or surmounted.

Leidigh expressed his appreciation for the kindness and thoughtfulness of alumni, friends and members of the Aggie club. He said that he had insisted upon high ideals and had tried never to waver from that goal. "I tried to make the college and its degree stand for some things," he declared.

Leidigh praised the cooperation of the Tech boards of directors he had served under during his association with the college, and reminded the students that much of the work in the department should be credited to the staff of workers who aided the dean.

Rev. J. M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, closed the affair with benediction.

Rural Aid Plan Claimed Okayed

AUSTIN, April 27. (U.P.)—Gov. Beauford H. Jester reported today that finishing touches have been put on plans for underwriting teacher payroll warrants of rural aid schools facing deficits.

The governor said teachers will receive "at par" pay scales set out by the equalization bill passed by the 50th legislature.

"The teachers will neither sign notes nor pay interest," Jester said.

Won't Force Closings

The governor said plans were worked out for teachers to cash their salary warrants "in the usual way" at depository banks of their school districts.

Plans had been made earlier between the governor, school and banking officials to meet an imminent $2,225,000 deficit caused by the addition of 259 schools under the equalization plan.

The completion of the plan today means schools affected by the shortage "may not have to close early this year," Jester said.

Jester said that due to deficits "as late as the first week in April, almost 100 (schools) were operating in what threatened to be their last week."

Jester announced earlier he will recommend emergency legislation to the legislature next January to pay back the deficit.

A group of nine large city banks have agreed to carry the warrants for school districts where local banks will not cover them, the governor reported.

Banks taking part in the program are the First National Bank, Mercantile National Bank, and Republic National Bank, Dallas; First National Bank of Fort Worth and Fort Worth National bank; and the City National bank, First National bank, National Bank of Commerce and Second National Bank of Houston.

Contaminated Drug Sought Over Nation

WASHINGTON, April 27 (AP)—The Food and Drug administration today issued a nationwide warning against use of a particular "contaminated" brand of an injection drug, and said a country-wide search for missing bottles is under way.

The material is called "code no. CM 8164 of a 5 per cent glucose in normal saline" and it is manufactured by Cutter laboratories, Berkeley, Calif.

"This product is contaminated and may cause injury," the administration said.

Glucose-saline is the most commonly-used intravenous fluid for treatment of patients suffering from such conditions as shock and collapse.

But the FDA's warning was issued only against the code number CM 8164 product manufactured by the Cutter laboratories.

The FDA said it first "learned of the trouble the drug was causing from the Chicago headquarters of the American Medical association. Injury reports also have been received from physicians in Kentucky, Georgia and Alabama, the FDA said. The statement added:

"While it is not yet known how potentially harmful this contaminated product may be, several of the very ill patients died following its administration."

Additional Entries Announced For Soap Box Derby In City

Lubbock's first official Soap Box Derby, to be staged July 5, is going to have enough entries.

That was certain Tuesday as the total entry list went over the 150-mark and boys were still coming in for application blanks at the official Soap Box Derby headquarters in the showroom of Kuykendall Chevrolet company, 1902 Texas avenue.

Entries through Monday night totaled 156 and Roy Finley, Derby director, reported more boys were in the process of completing their entries Tuesday. Each boy must be accompanied by one of his parents, or a guardian, in order to officially sign up for the Derby and receive a copy of the rules and regulations. Boys between the ages of 11 and 15 years are eligible to enter the race.

More Sponsors Needed

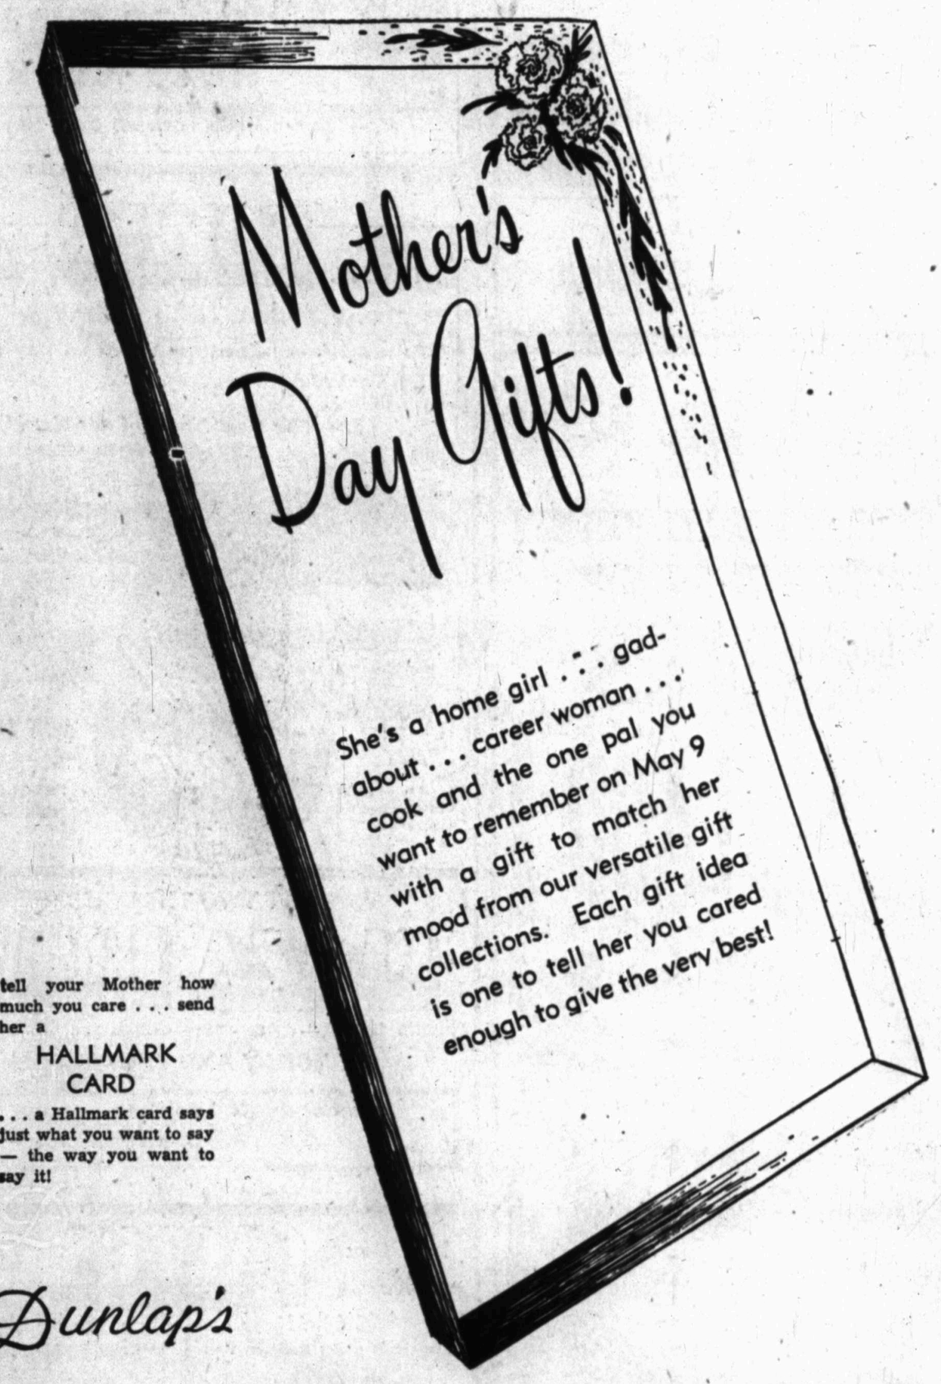

Members of the Lubbock Exchange club, who with the Avalanche-Journal and Chevrolet, are joint sponsors of the Derby here, reported only fair progress in signing sponsors for the boys' cars in the race. A total of 67 sponsors had been signed Tuesday.

Sponsors must pay a $17.50 fee, which will pay all expenses of the boy's car in the race, but the boy must build the car with his own hands. He can get the advice of his parents or his sponsor, but he must do the work himself and his car must stand inspection before it is entered in the race.

Sponsors already signed for the Derby include:

W. M. Hall Produce Co., G. & M. Wholesale Fruit Co., Brady Spring & Axle Co., Pendley Body Co., Pendley Body & Fender Co., Roberts' Bicycle Shop, The Inter-City Motor Express, Olen Lee Motor Co., Woodfin's Shoe Shop, Pup Thomas & Co., G. Hearings Set In Two Cases Here

Temporary restraining orders in two cases were ordered issued Tuesday out of 99th district court.

Judge G. V. Pardue set hearing dates of 10 a. m. May 4 in each action—Blanche Austin against Cecil A. Austin, and Lamoine Dudley against Roy B. Howard—to determine whether a temporary injunction should issue.

Defendants in each instance were enjoined against interfering with plaintiffs pending the hearing.

In the Austin action, Judge Pardue ordered that a receiver, Earl E. Vaughn, take charge of community property declared by the plaintiff to be of a reasonable value of $50,000; that the receiver make and file with the court an inventory and appraisement of such property; that Austin not interfere with the plaintiff or minor children of their marriage; that custody of the children be awarded to Mrs. Austin pending final outcome of litigation.

The clerk of the court was ordered to issue an order commanding Austin to appear and show cause why a temporary injunction should not issue commanding the defendant to restrain from disposing of community property of the marriage and why he should not pay $300 monthly during pendency of the suit, for support and maintenance of Mrs. Austin and the children.

Howard and Miss Dudley formerly were married.

Mrs. Austin has sued for divorce and injunction.

Trailer Men Claim Less Divorces In 'Traveling' Homes

CHICAGO, April 27 (INS)—The way to a happy home life seems to lead right through a trailer door.

The divorce rate among couples who live on wheels is 50 per cent under that of conventionally housed city folks.

That was the good news today from officials of the Trailer Coach Manufacturers association as they swung into the second day of their 12th annual convention in Chicago.

The trailer people have an explanation, too, for why marriages don't go to the dogs in trailers.

Figures Are Cited

They say it's economic freedom that turns the trick.

Thus, according to trailer officials, a family man making $60 a week can live comfortably in a trailer with a total expense of say, $125 per month.

Whereas, according to the Bureau of Labor statistics, it costs the average guy living in an apartment, if he's lucky enough to find one, $225 a month to live.

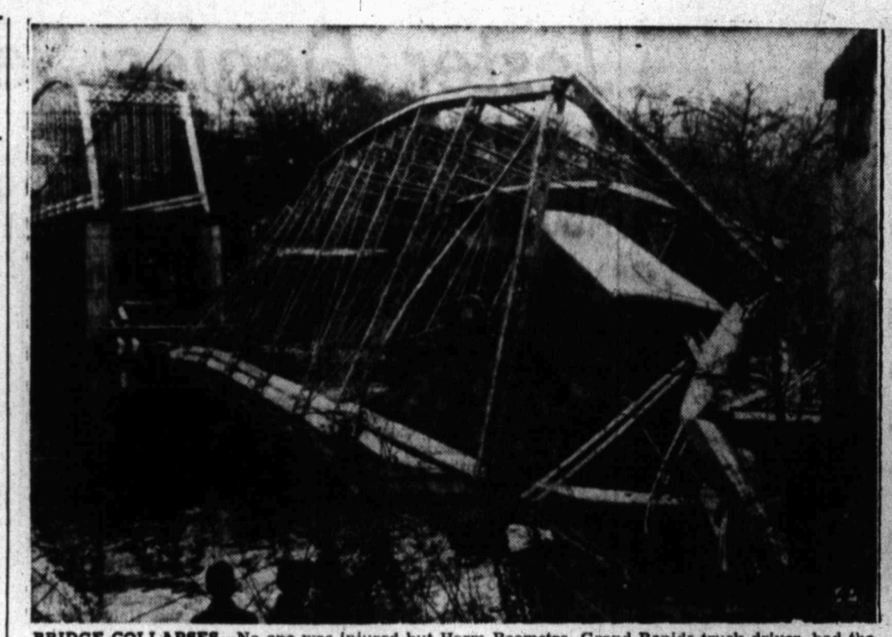

More than 2,000 manufacturers and dealers are attending the convention, which ends tomorrow.

TCMA spokesmen said there are now a half million trailers in use, including 50,000 that are really travelling, housing an estimated 1,500,000 persons.

More than half of all trailer owners are former home owners; nine of every 10 own automobiles; one of every 10 is unemployed.

NEW STATION SOUGHT

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 27. (INS)—Frank Quinn, former manager of Radio Station KOB at Albuquerque, announced today that he has filed an application for permission to open another station in the New Mexico city. Quinn has asked the Federal Communications commission for a permit to operate a daytime station on 1280 kilocycles, with 1,000 watts of power.

BRIDGE COLLAPSES—No one was injured but Harm Boomstra, Grand Rapids truck driver, had the scare of his life when this double-span bridge over the St. Joseph river near Berrien Springs, Mich., collapsed under the weight of his trailer-truck. Boomstra was saved from a plunge into the river when the bridge settled on an old pier from a previous span. (AP Wirephoto).

SMITHS HONORED

General Is Named Outstanding Smith

HOLLYWOOD, April 27 (INS)—Marine Corps General Holland M. (Howlin Mad) Smith today was named "the outstanding Smith of the year."

Col. Larry Smith, president of the Organized Smiths of America, in announcing the annual Smith awards, declared:

"Everyone is related to a Smith or knows a Smith.

"There are enough Smiths in the United States to form the entire population of Los Angeles county."

In addition to General Holland McTyeire Smith, who was named for patriotism and leadership, the honored Smiths include:

Alexis Smith, Warner brothers star, for motion pictures.

DeWitt Clinton Smith, Red Cross official, humanitarianism.

Prof. Fred Colfax Smith, University of Tennessee, education.

Bill Smith, swimmer, sports.

Bishop Larry Lester Smith, Methodist Episcopal church, religion.

Kate Smith, radio.

H. Allen Smith, literature.

David Stanley Smith, Yale School of Music, for music.

Oklahoma Republicans Back Dewey For Top Nomination

OKLAHOMA CITY, April 27 (INS)—New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey has almost solid support from Oklahoma Republicans for the GOP presidential nomination.

Dewey won 19 of the state's 20 delegates to the national GOP convention at yesterday's state Republican meeting. Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio was the choice of the lone dissenting delegate, Sen. E. H. Moore of Oklahoma.

The Oklahoma Republicans threw their support for U. S. senator to Rep. Ross Rizley. Sen. Moore is retiring.

Mexican Official Cites Need Of Oil Drilling Equipment

DENVER, April 27 (AP)—With the help of drilling equipment from the United States, Mexico can develop vast and vitally-needed oil reserves, says Senator Antonio J. Bermudez of Mexico City.

"We feel capable of developing our own resources ourselves," the director general of Petroleos Mexicanos said in an address before the American Association of Petroleum geologists.

"But we need the help of this great country to be able to achieve our objectives. We need ready access to equipment and casing and we need most of all your confidence in our effort and ability."

More than 3,000 delegates were in Denver for the geologists' convention. Meeting here at the same time were the Society of Exploration geophysicists and the Society of Economic Paleontologists and mineralogists.

IN FIGHT ON INFLATION

Business Leaders Attempt To Regain Control Over Prices

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

Perhaps the most dynamic item on the domestic economic scene is recurrent evidence of a disposition on the part of industrial management to regain control of the cost sheet.

Until recently, managing executives, still suffering from a hangover of the wartime cost-plus attitude and the New Deal liquidation of the importance of management, tended to behave passively—like mere putty in the hands of fate.

Customer Paid For Plan

Under the recent abnormal regime, management was inclined to look upon itself as mere assemblers of costs, which were in turn passed on to customers in the form of higher selling prices.

Thus, union leaders, who attempted to set wage rates, and political spenders, who determined the tax rates, were the important fashioners of the prices at which things sold. Even they were not sitting securely in the driver's seat; their inflationary policies had created an excessive volume of circulating medium, which was establishing a dangerous spiral.

More than a year ago, some corporate groups, including International Harvester, Ford, and others, challenged the upward trend of prices. But they were bucking a general trend, and their initial overtures proved premature.

General Electric at the turn of this year made a similar bold attempt, hoping its timing was better. It recently announced additional price cuts, and Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing company also joined the movement.

Steel Cut Noted

But perhaps the effort of human intelligence to deal with blind economic forces reached a climax last week when the management of the pace setting United States Steel corporation determined to cut some selling prices and hold the line on wage rates.

The timing of this current maneuver is extremely important. It occurs at the very juncture when the February hopes of automatic correction of the inflationary boom have in substantial measure been dimmed by recent acceleration of rearmament and authorization of the European Recovery program.

Thus, the increase in government spending developed fears of a new inflationary cycle if other factors remained equal. Evidently the steel management desires to put road blocks in the way of an uncontrolled inflation.

Perhaps the gesture is chiefly of symbolic significance.

The price cuts are small in relation to the totality.

But the firmness of management was a device for expressing the thought that the directing heads of an industry have a responsibility for orderly economic life.

Management is evidently beginning to recover from the shell shocked state in which it surrendered initiative over costs to others.

Management is starting to reassert its right to exercise some discretion as to allocation of the fruits of productivity as among employes, customers, and stockholders.

Orderly progress hinges on recognition of the harmony of interests of all groups.

Rule of the marketplace by force, instead of through judgment, may have halted—at least temporarily.

If the gesture by industry is to succeed, there must be co-operation by other groups.

Government policy, especially in respect to forebearance on non-military expenditures, is of pivotal importance.

Similarly the rescue of monetary policies from theorists and doctrines is a key matter. Maybe the appointment of a practical business man such as Thomas B. McCabe as new chairman of the board of directors of the Federal Reserve system presages a new respect for grass roots leadership.

Mexican Police Seek Imported Autos

MEXICO CITY, April 27 (U.P.)—Orders were issued today to all federal and state police to watch for and confiscate 4,750 automobiles which have been brought into Mexico illegally.

Most of the cars were 1947 and 1948 models.

Mexico banned the importation of automobiles and other luxury goods last July in an effort to conserve its dwindling dollar reserve. However, Secretary of Treasury Ramon Beteta announced recently that there has been considerable contraband traffic in items on the barred list, including automobiles.

E. B. Armstrong Is Elected To National Board Of AIME

ODESSA, April 27 (AP)—E. B. Armstrong of Lubbock was elected a member of the national president's advisory board of the American Institute of Metallurgical engineers at a meeting of the Permian basin section of the organization here last night.

The meeting was attended by 124.

Production Of Oil Hits All-Time Peak

TULSA, Okla., April 27 (U.P.)—Another all-time record for U. S. crude oil production was chalked up by the petroleum industry last week with a daily average of 5,430,985 barrels, the Oil and Gas journal reported today.

The figure shattered the previous all-time high set last February.

Oklahoma production during the week increased 5,100 barrels daily. Other large gains were reported from Indiana, Louisiana, Mississippi, Kansas and California. Lesser gains were made in Kentucky, Illinois, Colorado and Wyoming.

Production decreases were noted in Michigan, the eastern area, Florida, Alabama, Arkansas and Montana.

Dr. J. A. Chatman Honored At Dinner For Community Service

In tribute to his community service, Dr. J. A. Chatman, negro physician and owner of the Chatman hospital in Carver Heights, was honored at a banquet Monday night in the Carver Heights Community center.

Minister F. E. Blackmore of the Messiah Presbyterian church was master of ceremonies and talks were made by Dr. C. H. Lyons, T. R. Albert, pastor of the Mt. Vernon Methodist church; and Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, member of the faculty of Texas Technological college. J. H. Penn, Lubbock High school music director, sang a solo, accompanied by his son, Harold Penn, at the piano.

A total of 172 persons attended the affair. Guests included L. E. Davis, City Commissioner W. B. Price, Mr. and Mrs. Hop Halsey, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Reynolds, Rev Cecil Matthews, Rev. C. J. McCarty, Dr. J. M. Lewis, Mrs. Elizabeth Breco, and Mrs. Argola Stubbs of Mexia, sister of Dr. Chatman; Mrs. Beatrice Chatman, sister-in-law; and J. A. Chatman, nephew, both of Longview.

Los Angeles Begins All-Out Battle Against Mosquitoes

LOS ANGELES, April 27 (AP)—The mosquito, nobody's friend, suffered severe casualties today as the City of Los Angeles sent its troops and mechanized equipment into the 1948 war against the blankety blank insects.

Spearhead of today's attack, which started on the Los Angeles river bed, was a contraption known as the "plumber's nightmare" because of its intricate sets of tanks and exhaust pipes that are mounted on a jeep.

The attack is going to be continued every 10 days by an 11-man crew from the health department's mosquito control unit.

Baby mosquitoes died at dawn, victims of one type of lethal spray. Adults bit the DDT dust at midnight.

If this activity doesn't discourage the mosquitoes which survive, 905,000 fish are going to do their best to get fat on mosquito hide. These fish are known as Gambusia affinis. They're an inch long. About 180 acres of water have been planted with these fish and they're smacking their lips already at the early spring prospect of mosquito au naturel.

The health department does all this on a $25,000 budget and sends the public and the fish both home happy.

U.S. IS SUSPECT

Let's Do Something

SECRETARY of State George Marshall said something the other day that informed Americans know is true. He said:

"Virtually everything we do in connection with our foreign relations is misunderstood by some abroad. Even our most generous motives are suspected."

Why?

Well, in general, there are two reasons why. In the first place, most people in other parts of the world cannot understand why Americans are willing to spend millions of dollars rehabilitating other nations. In the second place, Russia is, and long has been, carrying on a highly organized campaign to make people suspect Americans of chicanery, no matter what we, as a nation, are trying to do in the cause of humanity and peace.

It will seem to almost anyone willing to give a few minutes thought to the situation that what we need badly, around the world, is some sort of "public relations" program. The government, as well as big business and countless politicians, has found "public relations" quite valuable here at home. Why wouldn't a similar program be just as valuable, if not more so, abroad?

We are not contending here for the sort of "public relations" program which "kicked back" on us a few years ago when we were all a-ga-ga over "the Good Neighbor policy" in South America. We do not advise sending a flock of trained seals—movie actors, night club performers, tap-dancers, etc.—to the corners of the world in an attempt to woo the friendship of foreign peoples. But we do advise the setting up of an intelligent public relations program, under which well prepared, personable, understanding Americans can carry the true story of the American Way of Life to people everywhere.

CERTAINLY, such a program would be highly valuable if carried on in conjunction with the Marshall plan.

In addition to food and medical supplies and tractors and motors—and all the other things we shall send to distant spots under the Marshall Plan—we should send evangels of democracy to get close to the people of the lands to be rehabilitated. We need men—and women—of sympathy and goodwill, along with supplies, if we are to reap the full harvest of friendship and understanding around the world.

The task of setting up such a service, or of securing the proper people to carry it on, would not be difficult of success. If—as Secretary Marshall says, and nearly all agree—our motives are suspect around the world, why not do something to improve the situation?

"Stuffed Shirts"

"IF REPORTERS at any time feel that you are a stuffed shirt," said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower in a speech the other day, "that's the time to watch out! There's nothing a reporter enjoys more than poking into a stuffed shirt. And I can't blame them."

Well said, General. Well said. But why limit delight at poking stuffed shirts to the reporting gentry. Doesn't every American love to poke a stuffed shirt? Doesn't every American believe that to be one of his inalienable rights, like the rights to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness?

We think so—and, furthermore, we salute the old American tradition of poking stuffed shirts as one of the most valuable of our every-day customs!

Down Memory Lane

(From the files of The Lubbock Morning Avalanche of April 28, 1928.)

Texas Tech "would be able to fulfill its mission," if it could get an average of $500,000 every year for the next ten years, it was said here by Charles E. Ulrickson, vice president and general manager of Trinity Cement company, who spoke at a dinner honoring Dr. H. H. Harrington, member of the state board of control, and W. T. Gaston, chief of estimates and appropriations of the board. Home economic students served the meal in the home ec building under supervision of Miss Margaret Weeks, dean of the division, and Misses Johnnie McCreary and Mabel Erwin. Tech President Paul W. Horn introduced visitors.

Mrs. Walker Stanton was honoree at a nuptial shower given by Mrs. Volney Hill and Miss Geraldine Smith at the Hill home. A salad course was served to Misses Alma Spikes, Donna Vaughn, Faye George, Thelma Scott, Glenna Sims, Novella Hemphill, Mrs. Lawrence Bason and Mrs. Joe Nislar.

Mesdames M. B. Hilburn and F. M. Maddox were hostesses to the Wednesday Needle club at the Hilburn home. Refreshments were served after an hour of sewing, to Mesdames C. M. Ballenger, W. B. RUSH came back to the porch with Laurie and Gay but not until a few minutes after Enos Barton's sleek coupe slid to a stop in the driveway.

Ann wondered if Sam Blanding had noted the length of time it had taken Rush to get the girls; she wondered if it had crossed the sheriff's mind that the time had been long and that no questions had been asked the Bancrofts until after Enos Barton was present to warn them if they said the wrong thing.

She was shocked at the numb misery in Laurie's eyes.

"Now just any way you folks like," Sam Blanding said. "We can have Stella and the girls here or we can leave them out till we come to the part they saw with their own eyes."

Susan saw the whole thing," Rush said.

"Yes, I know." The sheriff's pale eyes flicked to Laurie, took in her silent grief.

But he sent for the maids.

They came out to the porch, in their green and white striped uniforms, and seated themselves primly side by side. They looked slightly apprehensive, a little subdued, and, at the same time, a little excited.

Laurie and Tommy had taken Rinda to the village, seen her off for Cleveland on the morning train.

"We went to the grocery store," Laurie said and her voice was completely without expression, "and then to the liquor store for some wine. Then I—" her voice faltered but, with an effort, she steadied herself—"I wanted to do some shopping and Tommy offered to take the groceries out to Tophill because Stella had to have the meat before three. I told him I'd telephone when I was ready."

SO Tommy returned to Tophill lunched with Rush and Gay, and, when the others went back to their experiment, he went up to the pool for a sunbath and a dip. He came back to the house at two-thirty.

He came through the kitchen, picked up a sugar cookie, and stood there eating it while he teased Stella about her cooking. Tommy was popular with the maids, they liked his easy-going good nature. And it was typical that when Susan came in from Ann's little flower room, carrying a big vase of cut flowers, he should take it from her and carry it into the front of the house for her.

"What's the big idea of horning in on Mrs. Bancroft?" he asked Susan, who was quick to explain that she'd never do the flowers if Ann was there. That, like the winding o the clock, was one of Ann's personal chores.

"Where'd she go?" Tommy asked, popping the last of the cookie into his mouth.

"Don't ask me," Susan said. "But you know what, Mr. Tommy? I'll bet you she's forgotten all about the clock. It's the first time since I've worked here I never knew her not to wind it."

And Tommy, naturally for him because he did always try to please, went running up the steps and pulled at the heavy glass door.

Susan said, and her voice shook tremulously and her chin wobbled slightly, that there was something almost majestic in the dreadful way the clock had toppled forward.

"Like it had all the time in the world," she said.

"He tried his best to get out of the way . . . ."

The clock had caught Tommy on the steps, thrown him over backwards, striking his head against the banister.

SAM BLANDING sent the maids back to their work and for a few minutes everyone sat silent and then the sheriff summed it up.

An accident. Tragic and regettable. But still an accident.

An accident!

Couldn't they see? Were they all blind? Wasn't it as plain as the nose on her face that the clock was supposed to have fallen, not on Tommy, but on Ann? Ann who always stood on a little wooden cricket in order to reach the top keyhole on the face of the clock? Ann whom they all called fussy for insisting upon winding it herself?

Her mind was tired and confused. There was only one thing she was sure of. Something had been done to that clockcase door to make i stick.

Everyone in the house knew that the clockcase stuck—she'd complained about it often enough. But the thing they didn't know was that it stuck very little! It was ridiculous to think you'd have to pull at it hard enough to send the clock toppling.

"Well, then," Sam Blanding was getting to his feet. "Let's hope accidents don't come in threes. I'd say, you folks have about had your share."

"Wait a minute," Ann said and her voice was thin and much too high. "Don't go yet, Sam.'

They had all been watching the sheriff get ready to go and now they all turned their heads and looked at her in surprise.

"I have a lot to tell you," she said and she nerved herself to steadiness, she tried to sound level and coherent and sane! "I don't believe that Tommy's death was accidental. I think it was—" Her pause took only a fragment of a second—"I think it was murder!"

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

A READER complained to me that her husband had beaten her during an argument.

She wants to know whether I approve of it.

"He didn't really beat me," she writes, "but he slapped me pretty hard.

"So naturally I got sore and slapped him right back.

BRANDEIS

"Then we both realized that we had been darn fools and laughed and made up.

"But I am afraid that if I once let him get by with hitting me, he'll do it every time he gets mad at me, and he'll probably hit me harder and harder.

"I love him very much and he loves me. But I don't think that hitting each other is the right way to settle arguments.

"What is your opinion?"

Well, this subject of beating a wife is important enough to have come up for discussion at a United Nations meeting not long ago.

It was during a session on human rights.

The Russian delegate maintained that in Alabama it is lawful for a husband to beat an errant wife with a club, if the club is not more than two inches thick. He then commented that that sort of thing was a rather backward state of affairs.

"If that sort of thing goes on here in the United States, what do you expect from the colonies?" the Russian asked.

The American delegate, not being entirely familiar with the laws of Alabama, said he did not believe that such a law existed in Alabama, and the Alabama Attorney General, when queried, indignantly denied that any husband in his state had the right to inflict personal chastisement upon his wife.

But the remark that impressed me the most, and that fully answers my reader's question, was that made by the French delegate, who said:

"In France a man is not allowed to beat a woman—not even with the petals of a rose."

I can fully understand a husband's occasional desire to give his wife a good spanking.

To be perfectly honest, I myself have sometimes had the temptation when my wife did something particularly aggravating—or aggravated me particularly by not doing certain things I wanted her to do.

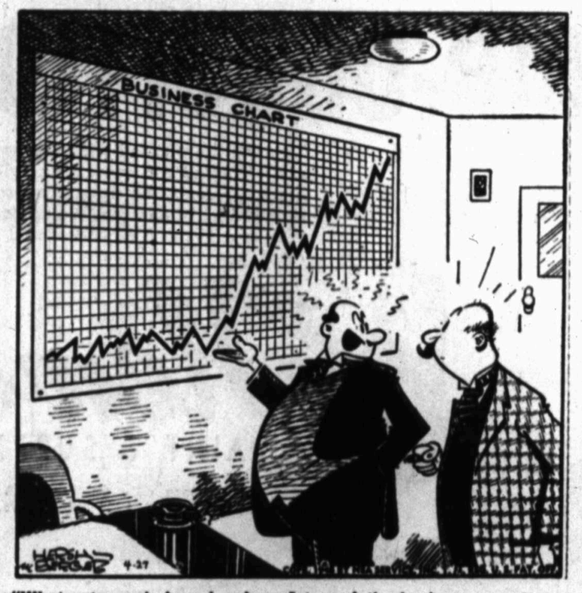

But I always managed to suppress my desire and I always remembered that I was taught never to slap, hit, beat or otherwise manhandle a female no matter how justified the circumstance may be.

THEORETICALLY women are still the weaker sex and theorecically things they do that would provoke a violent fistfight if a man did them, should impel us men only to kindness, forbearance and forgiveness.

So, my advice is: Never beat a woman—not even with the petals of a rose.

SENATE OKAYS FUNDS

GOP Economy Upset

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—The Republicans' apostle of economy on Capitol Hill, Representative John Taber of New York, is fuming and fussing privately over Senate Republicans' failure to retain the savings which he effected in the presidential budget in the House Appropriations committee. On this key issue the two G.O.P. groups are at loggerheads.

The hard-boiled, loud-spoken upstate New Yorker has made a fetish of government thrift for more than a quarter of a century of Congressional service. He has even been criticized in his own district for not obtaining federal funds for local benefits and improvements. He has no outside social interests, and he labored day and night early this session to make good on the party's pledges to cut down on spending at Washington.

TUCKER

It was no easy task, for Mr. Truman presented a fairly tight budget, but Mr. Taber snipped the sum of almost $500,000,000 from the $10,000,000,000 which the White House requested for routine operation of the ten executive departments.

That was the minimum reduction in this account if the G.O.P. was to prune the overall budget from $39,500,000,000 to $37,000,000,000, and thereby justify the recent tax cut. The balance of $2,000,000,000 was to come from independent agencies, subsidies and other items.

UNDOING: The Senate Appropriations committee, which is headed by Senator Styles Bridges of New Hampshire, is gradually undoing the House accomplishments in this field. It is replacing a million here and two million there in executive sessions, and in some instances it may even increase the amounts asked by Mr. Truman.

The New Yorker erupts easily, but in this case he feels that he has complete justification. For one thing, it is supposed to be the prerogative of the lower body to study and fix the individual and overall amounts of executive spending. Save for exceptional reasons, the Senate is expected to approve the House findings.

But there is also a personal explanation for Mr. Taber's excitement. Again and again he antagonized colleagues and downtown lobbists by jamming through reductions over their violent protests. It meant the firing of personnel and the elimination of certain services, although he maintains that the lopped-off activities were not essential.

DEFAULT: These disappointed petitioners did not accept the Taber verdicts. In defiance of the House action, executive financial officers and spokesmen for private lobbies and special interests immediately shifted their operations from the western to the eastern wing of the Capitol building. Meanwhile, they swung into operation on the social scene.

More than a hundred individuals who lost out before the Taber body repeated their requests before the Bridges committee. Although a thrifty Yankee, the New Hampshire member is more good-naturd and easy-going than his counterpart on the House side. His committeemen have been so occupied with other problems—labor, foreign affairs, power, national defns etc.—that they hav givn only cursory attention to the economy question.

Representing great states seeking federal funds, they have been far more generous in their grants, whereas House members are not moved so easily by these larger considerations. As a result, the session's wind-up may witness a Senate-inspired default on the pledge of economy which aided the Republicans in their return to legislative control in the 1946 elections.

YELL: Harold E. Stassen's friends are howling that the Republican "Old Guard" has rigged the national convention machinery against his through the selection of Illinois Governor Dwight H. Green as keynoter and Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. as permanent chairman. It was a rebel yell that had been anticipated from the Minnesotan's camp if the regular politicians revealed their animosity toward him by an overt act.

Governor Green is regarded in political circles as the spokesman and active collaborator of Robrt R. McCormick of th Chicago Tribune, who is quoted as hostile to either Mr. Stassen or Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg. He resents their strong internationalist views. Therefore, it is questionable whether the Midwest executive will deliver a speech designed to create a pro-Stassen atmosphere among the delegates.

NEUTRALITY: Speaker Martin has preserved strict neutrality toward all candidates, as a man should when he is looked upon as a "dark horse" himself. But he has not been so earnest or enthusiastic toward the European Recovery Plan as the Senator from Michigan or the former naval captain. He agreed with the basic principles, but he worked to surround E.R.P. with safeguards that were not satisfactory to its more advanced proponents.

As a prospective candidate, Mr. Martin will be in both an embarrassing and fortunate position. The late Senator Thomas J. Walsh, by his able and impartial handling of the permanent chairmanship assignment in 1924, evoked such admiration that the convention tried to force the vice-presidential nomination on him.

The Bay Stater could repeat. But his role also forces him into such a neutral spot that it will be difficult for him to engage in maneuverings on his own behalf.

FORECAST: Based partially on choice of the convention's officials, and partially on inside palavers among Republican bigwigs, politicians are inclined to forecast a ticket of Vandenberg for President and Martin for vice-president.

PERON: Referring to a recent item in this space, D.P. of Tulsa, Okla., asks "why the Truman Administration deems it necessary to make any sacrifice to attain the friendship and cooperation of Dictator Peron of Argentina" but is unwilling to make any concessions to Stalin for the sake of friendship and cooperation?

Answer: It is obviously more necessary from the standpoint of diplomatic and military strategy to maintain the friendship of a South American country, even though it be ruled by a dictator, than to surrender to Stalin. We have tried without success to remain on friendly terms with the Kremlin.

For us to crack down on Peron as we have on the Communist regime would be to antagonize all the Latin-American republics, as previous attempts to check him have demonstrated. We would then have twenty enemy nations in our own backyard.

Moreover, Peron does not personify a dynamic or crusading ideology. He has not challenged the things we live by as Stalin has.

The way Democratic stock goes up and down, one would think it was on the stock market.

Russia claims there is no longer an atomic secret. The Japanese found tha out in 1945.

IN MOVE TO BLOCK SETBACK

Taft Makes Strong Bid In Ohio

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

IN OHIO WITH SENATOR TAFT—It's awful hard for a man who has been the leader of his party in the Senate and a recognized national figure for so long. To get back down to the precinct level. Shaking hands with the folks. Scrawling his signature for autograph hunters. Having his picture taken with all sorts of groups. Yielding himself up docilely to local committees for luncheons. Conferences. Quick talks from the cuff.

STOKES

Especially for a man who is seeking the highest office in the land. Meaning president of the United States. And most especially for a man with so little natural talent at the folksy, precinct sort of campaigning as Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who unbends anyhow with about the same ease as a Supreme Court justice at a fish fry.

Taft Is Indignant

Yet that is exactly what Senator Taft is having to do here in his own state of Ohio, where he has for so many years been such a fixture that it was not necessary for him to do any of these things. And all because a young upstart by the name of Harold Stassen, who wants very much to be president, and has been doing things about it, chose to challenge the Ohio statesman in his own state. Of itself a very unorthodox thing. And not at all according to the accepted code of this business of seeking a presidential nomination.

Senator Taft is very indignant about the young man's brashness. But not in a cool, collected sort of way as would seem to befit him, for it is very evident that his indignation is tinged with worry that the young man Stassen may do very well in Ohio. And that would virtually spell the senator out of the contest for the nomination for the office for which his ambition burns so feverishly, the office which his father held and which he first sought actively eight years ago. Then he missed the nomination by a figurative hair to another upstart. A fellow by the name of Wendell Willkie.

Harold Stassen, in many ways the heir of the Willkie tradition, has entered candidates for 23 delegates out of the 53 which Ohio has at the coming national convention, picking carefully the spots where he is contesting the senator. If he wins ten to a dozen of the 23 delegates, for which he is contending, it will give his candidacy another lift on top of his Wisconsin and Nebraska victories and will be a heavy blow psychologically at the senator since this is the latter's own state.

Senator Taft lets out his spleen at Mr. Stassen for coming into his own preserves in this and that manner—by attacking the younger man for not entering the Senate to help fight the New Deal as he might have done instead of chasing around the country and the world running for president; by telling of his own service for the party and for the state in the Senate; by urging the selection of an Ohioan, and not an out-sider, as Ohio's candidate for the nomination. His anger bursts out repeatedly, occasionally with a petulance that indicates his worry.

There was, for example, the radio announcer who, in introducing the senator for a five-minute interview at Niles, spoke of Mr. Stassen's appearance in Ohio the week before. His next sentence about Senator Taft's now "following up Mr. Stassen" was rudely interrupted by the senator who broke in bluntly to say that he was not following Mr. Stassen or anybody, but had been about the state for a month. Before the interview began, the senator objected to the radio interviewer's proposed plan, written out on a piece of paper, to ask the senator some questions about Harold Stassen's stand on issues. The senator told the young man to "throw that away and just ask me some questions."

Making Strong Fight

But the senator is really working at this job, working like a precinct committeeman, exhibiting the vigor and energy that constantly amazes his colleagues in the Senate.

He did an 18-hour stretch his first day on his latest tour in Ohio. He got off the train from Washington at Youngstown at five o'clock in the morning in the dark; rushed to Ashtabula for an early breakfast meeting and going from there by stages, first to Jefferson for another meeting at the old courthouse there. Next to Warren for a Rotary club luncheon, a reception at the county Republican committee headquarters in a room up a long flight stairs, a radio interview, an appearance at the city hall at Niles, a speech to school children at the memorial to William McKinley, a native of Niles, and then back to Youngstown where he made a night speech.

This is unfriendly territory where the Stassen forces are making quite a bid. And from the small crowds to turn out to see the senator all during the day here and there on his way to Youngstown, and the lack of interest, it would not seem that he is in the way of making many converts in the northeastern Ohio area.

He used many of the devices familiar to the average office-seeker but which do not come easy to him, among other things, referring to the time he sat, a youngster of eight, on the lap of William McKinley. A young mother showed her baby to him. He admired it. But he did not kiss it. Even Harold Stassen cannot do that to Bob Taft.

MARKET TRADING SLOW

NEW YORK, April 27. (AP)—Stocks were erratic today, the market showing a few wide swings for individual issues.

Rails tried to spark a revival of the spring rally and were joined for a time by some oils, motors and farm implements.

Steels, up for a time, backed off again in the final minutes as Bethlehem, Youngstown, Sheet & Tube and Jones and Laughlin disclosed they were rejecting wage demands and planning price reductions.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was ahead .1 of a point at 62.7 for its first advance since Friday. Gains outnumbered losses 440 to 352 among the 1,036 issues traded in the narrowest full session since April 19.

Touching new highs for the year were Southern Railway, which closed up 1⅞ at 44½, Plymouth Oil, 3⅝ at 67⅝, Texas Pacific Land Trust, 3 at 44½ and Anderson-Pritchard, 2⅛ at 30⅛.

Bonds eased. Commodities were higher.

Cotton

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 27 (AP) — Cotton futures turned firm today following early easiness. Aggressive mill buying, along with some replacement commission house demand and short covering supported the upturn. The market was largely influenced by the situation in nearby May where 119 May transferable notices were issues on the first notice day for that contract.

Liquidating pressure was light in the spot month, indicating that a good portion of the notices were promptly stopped, and this steadied the balance of the market.

Spot cotton markets were firm, reflecting expectations of a good export demand.

Futures closed $1.20 to $2.35 a bale higher than the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 27 (AP) — After declining on the opening here today cotton futures recovered on trade buying, which was stimulated by the stoppage of first May notices.

Closing prices were firm 90 cents to $1.70 a bale higher.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, April 27. (AP)—The average price of middling 15/16ths-inch cotton today at ten designated southern spot markets was $2.15 a bale higher at 37.65 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 36.59; middling ⅞ths-inch average 35.20.

Sorghums No. 2 yellow milo per 100 lbs. 3.68-73.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 27 (AP) — A boost in the government export allocations for the present crop year sent prices higher at the board of trade today.

At the finish wheat was 1½ to 2¼ higher than the previous close, May $2.40½-¾. Corn was ⅝ to 2½ higher, May $2.17½-¼. Oats were ⅜ lower to 1¼ higher, May $1.08¼-⅜. Soybeans were unchanged to 4 cents higher, May $4.00.

Jester Denies Rumors

make on that at the proper time," Jester replied, then added: "I would not oppose it."

Jester noted that 38,894 Texas old age pensioners last month received grants of $40 or more. The maximum grant of $45 went to 21,327.

The postcard deluge descended on the governor's office after a Waco convention April 27 of the Texas Pension association and a campaign led by its vice president, Everett H. O'Dowd, for "a just old age assistance grant." When Jester earlier declined to call a special session at O'Dowd's request, he told the governor he would request pensioners to write him demanding the special session.

NOTED RAILROADER DIES

ST. PAUL, Minn., April 27 (INS)—Louis W. Hill, Sr., son of one of the nation's greatest empire builders and himself a noted railroader, died late today in Miller hospital in St. Paul. Hill would have been 76 next month. Hill had been ill for several weeks. Hospital attendants attributed cause of death to complications resulting from old age.

Study Of School

philosphy and objectives, to be present for these reports. At 4 p. m. today Dr. Gray will give the final summary to members of the board, the faculty, and any other citizens who wish to be present.

This evaluation of the Senior High school was begun as an inservice training program, but since this work began two years ago the Southern Association of High schools has ruled that schools must be evaluated by 1951 by a visiting committee. So, when this work is completed the Lubbock Senior High school will have met requirements for an evaluation by a local committee and a visiting committee.

Those Heading Work

Those heading the work of this three-day evaluation period are: Dr. Gray, visiting coordinator, and Floyd Honey, Senior High principal, and Miss Dorothy Lomax, director of secondary education, local coordinators; plant and administration, Knox Kinard, superintendent of Pampa schools and E. H. Boulter, deputy superintendent of the State Department of Education, with Miss Kathleen Ingran and E. E. Key the local committee chairman; library service, Mrs. Eldon Fuller, former library supervisor for Waco Public schools and now a resident of Lubbock, and Mrs R. T. Groves, Senior High librarian; guidance service, R. A. Shelby, director of curriculum and guidance from Amarillo Public schools, Miss Ione McAlister, a classroom teacher from Big Spring, and Miss Grace Padley, director of guidance of Lubbock's secondary schools; instruction and staff; H. W. Fillers, Wichita Falls, John Humbert, San Angelo, and N. G. Powell, Lubbock; curriculum and outcomes of instruction, Dr. R. E. Garlin, Texas Technological college, Miss Ruth Hillyer, San Angelo, Joe Reid, area Supervisor of vocational arts from the State Department of Education, Miss Gertrude Watson and W. C. Watts of Lubbock; and pupil activity, John Bishop, principal of San Angelo High school, J. T. Shaver, Texas Technological college, and Mrs. Dick Cozby of Lubbock.

Dr. Gray emphasized that outcomes of an educational evaluation do not show any comparison between school systems Rather, they represent the degree to which a school system has measured up to criteria developed through studies of schools all over the nation, and the extent to which the school is meeting the needs of its particular community in furnishing the best training possible for life within that community.

Gen. Knudsen, Wartime Leader Of U. S. Industry, Death Victim

DETROIT, April 27 (INS) Lt. Gen. William S. Knudsen, the organizing force behind the nation's wartime industrial effort, died today at his Detroit home.

The 69-year-old Danish immigrant who became a legend in the automotive industry, succumbed to a cerebral hemorrhage after an illness of 16 months.

At his bedside were his wife, Clara, his only son, Semon, and three daughters—Mrs. Clara Vauder Kloot, Mrs. Eina Stevenson and Mrs. Martha McKenney.

Tribute Is Planned

His body will lie in state at the William R. Hamilton chapel until Thursday. Funeral services will be conducted by the Rev. E. T. Bernthal, at Epiphany Luthern church, and burial will be in the family plot at Acacia cemetery.

The General Motors corporation, which Knudsen headed before the war, and most of the auto industry will halt production and observe two minutes of silence as the Knudsen services begin at 2 p. m. Thursday.

Knudsen was called to Washington by President Roosevelt when the war clouds began to gather in 1940. He gave up his $200,000 a year post with General Motors to take over the National Defense Advisory commission.

In 1942, he was commissioned a lieutenant general, the highest Army rank ever given a civilian.

Work Was Praised

He made a whirlwind conversion of American industry into a unified machine shop for material of war. Secretary of War Stimson summed up his accomplishments as those of "a master troubleshooter on the biggest job the world has ever seen."

Never content to sit in an armchair and issue orders, the aging Knudsen traveled constantly, conferring constantly with factory executives and workers, and the pace took its toll on his health.

Knudsen lived in semi-retirement after completing his war job in 1945 and was mostly confined to his home during the past 16 months.

At his death, he was a member of the General Motors board and board chairman of the Hupp Motor Corp., but took little active interest in business.

The man who was to become a legendary figure of American industry was born Signious Dilhelm Paul Knudsen in Copenhagen on March 28, 1879. In America he became just plain "Bill."

He started his American career as a $1.75 a day boilermaker in New York. Later his bonuses and salary received from General Motors ranged some years as high as $450,000.

As head of Chevrolet, he sold 1,800,000 cars in a single year, causing his former boss, Henry Ford, to scrap the famous Model T and develop a new car.

He guided the mammoth GM corporation through the disastrous sitdown strikes and helped develop a new relationship between industry and labor based on precepts of fair play taught by his parents in Denmark.

Out of one of the nation's laboratories comes news of a sandless glass that is acid proof, heat-resistant and which permits more ultra-violent light to pass through it than ordinary glass does.

Optimist Club Hears Members Of Group Theater At Meeting

Lubbock Optimist club members meeting Tuesday noon at Hotel Lubbock heard talks by the director and two members of the cast of "The Man Who Came To Dinner," production to be staged Monday night by the Lubbock Group Theatre at Lubbock High school auditorium.

The Optimists are sponsoring the play and subsequent productions of the group.

Mrs. Charles Cobb, director; Weldon George and Mrs. John R. Moxley, members of the cast, spoke at the luncheon, George giving a brief prevue of parts of the play.

Winston Clark was program chairman. Cliff Cummings, publicity and ticket sales chairman, passed out posters and tickets to be sold by Optimists. Reserved seats are $1.80 and general admission $1.20 and ticket booths have been set up in Dunlap's and Hemphill-Wells company. Those desiring reserve seats may dial 6451 and have them reserved.

Manuel Ayers, Hale county agent and president of the Plainview Optimist club, was an out-of-town visitor at the luncheon.

Fort Worth Philanthropist Succumbs To Heart Ailment

FORT WORTH, April 27. (U.P.)—Charles A. Lupton, rancher, oil man, bottler and charity patron, died unexpectedly of a heart ailment today. He was 62.

Lupton was admitted to the hospital Sunday, but his condition was not believed serious.

President of the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. in Fort Worth, Lupton was well known for his contributions to Texas charitable institutions. He was a co-founder of the Lena Pope home in Fort Worth.

He gave a large contribution towards founding the Warm Springs foundation at Gonzales, for treatment of infantile paralysis victims.

Area Plumbers Plan For State Meeting

The South Plains Master Plumbers association met Monday night at the Party House in Mackenzie park for a fried chicken dinner and to make plans for a state convention in El Paso May 6, 7, and 8.

The El Paso convention, with headquarters at the Cortez hotel there, is expected to draw a large delegation from all parts of the state since the association now has approximately 1,200 members throughout Texas, the largest since the group was organized.

The women's auxiliary of the association will also meet at El Paso on the same dates, with headquarters at the Del Norte and Hilton hotels. Mrs. James Samson of Lubbock is president of the state auxiliary.

The association, which has as its purpose the stabilization of the plumbing industry, lowering of prices and learning of new methods, will discuss an amendment to the 1947 plumbing law to where it will better benefit the general public, it was announced here.

Delegates to the association and auxiliary conventions in El Paso will be Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ray, Mr. and Mrs. James Samson, Mr and Mrs. G. H. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rountree, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Fox, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Samson and Mr. and Mrs. Jack McQuary, all of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballard of Brownfield.

New Ford Passenger Cars Due At Dallas Plant About June 1

DALLAS, April 27. (U.P.)—Plant manager C. F. Jesse said today that 1949 Ford passenger cars would start coming off the assembly line in Dallas about June 1.

The delay at the Dallas plant was caused by major reconversion work involving replacement of paint spray booths and ovens at a cost of approximately $1,100,000.

The first 1949 Ford passenger car came off the line of the Kansas City plant yesterday.

Democrats Schedule Precinct Meetings

Following a statewide pattern, Lubbock county's Democrats will hold precinct conventions at 2 p. m. Saturday to name delegates to the county Democratic convention next Tuesday, May 4.

This is the first step in the process which eventually will lead to the selection of Democratic nominees for president and vice president.

County Democratic Chairman L. C. Ellis issued a reminder again today of the approaching precinct conventions and urged precinct chairmen to prepare for the sessions.

"I would like to see a list of certified delegates from each precinct presented at the county convention," Ellis said. "This is the people's opportunity to have a part in the selection of the two national party nominees."

Delegates to the presidential convention at Brownwood, May 25, will be selected at the county convention next Tuesday.

SAN ANTONIO MAN DIES

SAN ANTONIO, April 27. (AP)—Ben J. Studer, owner and manager of the Studer Photo company of San Antonio and Austin, died at his home here shortly before noon today. He was a native of San Antonio. According to his brother, he had been ill for several days, but his death was unexpected.
