FIRST GRAY COUNTY JUDGE DIES

BURNING WELL IS PUT OUT BY TEX THORNTON

Victim's Body Now Awaits Arrival of Relatives

BLAST ORIGIN IS UNKNOWN

Hundreds View Blaze Which Took Man's Life

The body of Earl Lee Masters, tool dresser who was burned to death yesterday afternoon in the explosion of the Empire company's No. 1 W. C. Archer, lies at the G. C. Malone funeral home pending arrival of his parents, who, according to officials of the company, have been located and notified. The young man came here from Eureka, Kans.

The blazing well was extinguished about 10 o'clock last night by Tex Thornton, who went into the fire, closed the bradenhead, and directed the cooling of the collapsed derrick with water and steam.

Masters was perhaps instantly killed, being thrown outside the rig by the force of the blast. He was badly burned, and lay upon his back for several minutes while smoke and flames swept over the body as the rig house burned. Falling timber struck the body and turned it over before workmen could drag it away. The feet were burned off, and the corpse is virtually dismembered.

The accident has not been explained. Drillers said the boiler had been out for some time, and the method of ignition cannot be fathomed. Masters was known as a careful man, and the possibility that he might have matches in a pocket is discounted.

Tex Thornton, famous torpedo expert, believes that static electricity may be responsible for the sparks which have fired several wells in the Panhandle recently. Static has been noticeably stronger in recent weeks, particularly around metal where there is motion. Masters had removed the tools and was closing the bradenhead when the explosion occurred.

Hundreds of Pampa people rushed to the burning well after reading of the fire in the Daily News. There was nothing spectacular about the well, although the flames reached out 30 feet or more in the brisk wind. Thornton was delayed several hours when a pump failed. The well shooter made the trip from Amarillo in 55 minutes, making better than a mile a minute most of the way and leaving a pursuing traffic cop far in the rear. He understood that the body was still in the flames.

The body of Masters likely will be sent to Kansas for burial.

Famous Twins, Arrested, Deny Part In Holdup

STUEBENVILLE, Ohio, June 9.—Extradition to Oregon to stand trial for the murder of four persons killed in a train holdup in 1923 was waived today by Ray and Roy DeAuremont, twins, arrested here yesterday after a search that extended almost around the world.

Both men confessed their identity, but neither had admitted complicity in the holdup that took place in a tunnel near Skiatyon, Ore.

Nitro Explodes, Two Dying In Blast

(By The Associated Press.) BUTLER, Penn., June 9.—Two men were instantly killed and twenty others injured, some seriously, when an automobile truck load of nitro-glycerine exploded near here today.

Three residences were destroyed and fifteen others damaged by the force of the blast.

Order and Disorder—Lindbergh at Brussels and London

Tousel-headed as ever, but spick and span otherwise, was Captain Lindbergh when he arrived in Brussels to visit King Albert. Here he is leaving the Brussels aerodrome after an orderly reception. The busy newspaper artist at the right is sketching him as he walks. At the left, a Belgian Air Force member carries a great bouquet presented to Lindbergh when he stepped from his plane.

The "Spirit of St. Louis" was just coming to rest on Croydon Field, London, and thousands of persons were breaking police lines in a rush for it, as this picture was taken. Captain Lindbergh was almost mobbed when the two masses of frantic humanity came together.

Rotary Club To Give Ten Gilts To Farm Boys

A committee composed of members of the Rotary club met with J. L. Lester, vocational teacher at the high school, and Scott Barcus of the Chamber of Commerce, yesterday afternoon and after a short discussion decided to purchase ten gilts and give them to members of the vocational class of next term.

One gilt will be given to each of ten boys with the provision that a gilt from the first two litters will be given to the Rotary club, which will in turn give it to another interested boy.

There will be two restrictions, namely: the boy receiving the pig must take agriculture next term, and each boy receiving a pig must live on a farm.

A letter will be sent to the boys in the class at the high school which will read:

To the farm boys of the Pampa territory:

The Pampa Rotary club, through this committee, is offering you an opportunity to make some money in the hog business. This is the plan. If you live on a farm and are going to take agriculture in the Pampa high school during the next term, you may be one of the group to whom the Rotary club will give a gilt as a project in agriculture. If you would like to be one of this group, write to C. L. Thomas, chairman of the committee, at once.

Signed by the committee, C. L. Thomas, chairman, C. P. Buckler, G. C. Malone.

Accident Victims Removed To Lease

Mrs. S. A. English and daughter, Eva May, who were injured in an automobile accident on the Miami road Monday afternoon, have been taken to the McMann lease where R. E. Leslie, son of Mrs. English, is employed. They made the trip by ambulance.

Mr. Leslie read of the accident in the Pampa Daily News and rushed to the city to be with his mother.

TROUSERS ROBBED BY PROWLERS

Silent Intruders Enter Two Homes, Taking More Than $35 And Two Good Watches

There is a good fisherman in Pampa, and pants, with the contents thereof, are his objectives.

The setting of this tale is beyond midnight. The principals are soundly sleeping individuals who leave their trousers, with contents therein, within easy reach of an open door or window. The fisherman is an angler of unknown identity but proven efficiency.

It all happened last night, and there are no clues.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Carrollson, formerly of Pampa but recently of Borger, last night visited at the Bob Morris home here, while enroute to Colorado for the benefit of Mrs. Carrollson's health. The visitors slept in the front room, with the door open and the screen latch not fastened.

Mrs. Carrollson is a daughter of J. E. Ward.

This morning Mr. Carrollson missed his trousers, and on investigating found them in the yard, emptied of $32 in money and a gold watch. Either the thief was very quiet about his work or, it is suspected, he fished with a wire or hook.

The scene shifts to Gray street, and at daybreak finds C. M. Carlock also searching for missing trousers. This garment also is found in the yard outside, and has been emptied of small change and a good watch. A prowler entered sometime after midnight.

In neither case were noises heard, and the thefts were confined to the searching of pants. Officers are investigating.

Wheat Crop To Be Even Lower Than Estimated

(By The Associated Press.) WASHINGTON, June 9.—This year's wheat crop will be lower than previously estimated by the department of agriculture, Secretary Jardine said today during a call at the White House.

Previous estimates would cut this year's crop 33,000,000 bushels below last year, and Jardine predicted the yield would be even lower than this estimate. The May 1 estimate for winter wheat was 595,000,000 bushels.

CHANGES STORE NAME

Wade Duncan, proprietor of Wade's Store, announces the change of the name of his store to Wade's Cut Rate Variety store.

Mr. Duncan has made a survey of Pampa and the surrounding territory and says that he believes Pampa to be ready for a real "city" variety store.

Lions To Sponsor Boys Work Here

Pampa Lions intend to take a very active part in boys work in the city, it was indicated at today's luncheon. Lion Curry made a talk on the possibilities here. The Rotary club has similar plans.

Individual Lions pledged their support to Pampa hospital, recognized as a distinct community asset. The hospital is in need of immediate funds to buy furniture.

Dr. W. Purviance and R. E. Perry were elected to membership in the club. E. C. McSpadden and I. P. Kerns of the merchandising department of the Southwestern Public Service company, of the Amarillo branch, were visitors.

The Adams hotel coffee shop served the excellent meal.

INVITES LINDBERGH

WASHINGTON, June 9. (AP)—An invitation is waiting here for Charles Lindbergh to participate in the Dallas to Hongkong flight.

Senator Mayfield has the invitation.

Levine To Finance Trans-Atlantic Plane Freight Traffic

(By The Associated Press.)

BERLIN, June 9.—Charles Levine declared today that he and Clarence Chamberlin planned a regular trans-Atlantic aerial service using multi-motored machines capable of carrying 2,000 pounds each.

Levine stated that he was ready to put $2,000,000 into the scheme and that both he and Chamberlin thought it could become operative within a year.

On Good Will?

PARIS, June 9 (AP).—Premier Poincare told the Chamber of Deputies today that he hoped to get better debt settlement terms from the United States; that he intended to try particularly as he realized the French parliament would not ratify papers with American and Great Britain in their present form.

Moore County Has Pool Opener Well

Talk about the day "after the oil passes" is idle in the Panhandle.

With 1,400 feet of oil in the hole, the Morton No. 1 Reeder, in the southwest of the northwest of section 191, block 3T of Moore county, a new pool is in prospect, oil men say.

After having a 70,000,000-foot gas flow, the well was tamed and drilled to 3,375 feet.

The well is in a smooth country little presaging the strata which obviously lies beneath.

The Empire Gas and Fuel company's crew had a hard day yesterday casing off 70,000,000 cubic feet of gas in the firm's No. 1 J. F. Meers, located in the northeast corner of the southeast of section 107, block 3, Gray county.

Two clamps were applied, and the well stands today with 2,000 feet of oil in the hole. A good well is expected.

Direct offsets to the Empire's Archer well, which exploded yesterday, are the Magnolia on the south, Roxana on the southwest, and Southern Exploration company on the west.

Other wells in that vicinity, one much nearer Pampa, are expected to be spudded in soon.

Kills Self After Scaring Guests In Hotel Near Houston

(By The Associated Press.)

HOUSTON, June 9.—J. J. Freeman, 33 years old, owner of a jewelry store at Baytown, near Houston, shot and killed himself today in a lobby of a hotel there after firing several shots at hotel guests and creating a near panic.

According to officials of the hotel, Freeman had brooded in his room for several days.

King of Roumania Expected To Die Within Few Days

LONDON, June 9.—Reuters' correspondent at Bucharest telegraphs that the condition of King Ferdinand of Roumania is so critical that the fatal termination of his illness appears only a question of days.

Leahy Appeals On Death Sentence

(By The Associated Press.)

AUSTIN, June 9.—Harry Leahy of George West, under sentence on murder conviction in connection with the slaying of Dr. J. A. Ramsey, of Matthis, a physician, today filed an appeal in the criminal courts here.

HAROLD MALONE IMPROVES

Harold Malone, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Malone, is improving rapidly at Rochester, Minn., where he is taking treatments at Mayo Brothers hospital.

Mrs. Malone has written to her husband here that she and Harold expect to return to Pampa soon.

G. H. SAUNDERS SUCCUMBS TO OLD TROUBLE

Had Been In Sterling City, Texas, For His Health

BODY TO ARRIVE HERE TOMORROW

Pioneer Was Liked For Sincerity And Ability

Judge G. H. Saunders, first county judge to take office at LeFors, died Wednesday morning at Sterling City, where with Mrs. Saunders he had been for his health. He suffered from a chronic ailment.

The body was sent from Sterling City at 4 o'clock yesterday, and is to arrive here tomorrow morning on the 3 o'clock train. Funeral arrangements have not been made, but old residents of this section will take part as active and honorary pall bearers.

Judge Saunders was born in Massachusetts 78 years ago. In early manhood he moved to Colorado, where he was sheriff for a time. Later he became foreman of a ranch in Kansas. He came to Texas in 1888, taking charge of the Z-Bar-Z ranch on the North Fork of this county. This ranch was disposed of in 1891, and the cattle were driven to Higgins for shipment.

Mr. Saunders bought a ranch for himself in 1891, including land 4 miles east of LeFors. The Saunders well, which extended the Pampa field to the east, is upon this ranch.

In 1902 he became the first county judge of Gray county. He served two terms, being succeeded by Joe Davis. His ranching activities took much of his time in following years.

He was married to Mrs. Dollie Heckard, formerly Miss Dollie Davis, in the fall of 1892. He leaves Mrs. Saunders and two sons, Horace of Pampa and Guy of Panhandle, both of whom are in the lumber business. He is not known to have other relatives. His father was a whaler along the coast of Massachusetts, according to those who have heard him tell of his parents exploits.

Judge Saunders became ill with dropsy last summer, and had not been well since that time.

He was well known over the Panhandle; his honesty and shrewd business ability having been his outstanding characteristics.

He was considered well educated and well read by the people of his time. He came to Pampa to make his home three years ago, and leaves considerable property here.

Misses Ruth, Louise and Sarah Barrett, who have been attending Baylor university at Waco, are back for the summer vacation. Miss Louise and Ruth are sophomores, and Miss Sarah is a freshman.

FRENCH TABLE D'HOTE DISCARDS "FREE WINE"

PARIS (AP)—Paris is gradually getting drier.

Economy and not morality is reforming the wets. The low-priced table d'hote or "prix fixe" lunch or dinner has had the customary quarter of a bottle of wine eliminated from the menu.

The organization of restaurateurs and wine-merchants interested in the moderate cost meal announced its members were losing too much money on wine. They had allowed ten per cent of the total price to cover the drink, but wine has nearly doubled since last year and now the drys can drink water with a clear conscience since they won't be wasting wine for which they have paid.

The higher-priced restaurants long ago discontinued the serving of wine as a part of meals.

Wade's Cut Rate Variety Store, formerly Wade's Store, has slashed the prices.

Longleaf pine is a particularly valuable tree for farm woodlands in many sections of the South because of its capacity to grow in the poorest and deepest sandy types of land. It will grow on the driest of soils as well as on the wet lands, and with its dual products of timber and turpentine, often may convert such lands from an economic liability into an asset.

PAVING—WILL IT BE EXTENDED IMMEDIATELY?

Will Pampa's paving be extended now, through action of the city council upon the petitions already in, or will the paving equipment be moved and delays encountered at some later date through the necessity of bringing in material and machinery?

This question is being asked many times daily by local people, who realize that with the paving crew and machines on the ground the work could be continued with little delay. Immediate calls for bids would rush the work by many weeks, since the present contractors, favored by being on the ground, would likely be able to bid low for the new work.

Warrants, which could be issued for the work, have been contracted for by bond brokers at a good price, and the paving could be extended now without difficulty. If the project is delayed to include it in a bond issue, a long delay will result through no absolute necessity.

Calling of a big bond issue to refund outstanding warrants, extend the water mains, and build new sewer lines and disposal plants will be a matter for study and debates, as, indeed, is already resulting. To tie Pampa's paving up with these more complex issues, it appears to the average person, will occasion needless delay.

With the people who expect to pay the major portion of the expense impatient for improved streets, it will be regrettable if several months pass without a continuation of this public improvement program.

TWINKLES

Life is getting to be so much on the installment plan that people get their scandals that way.

Night life is so popular that they are going to have the eclipses by moonlight this summer.

Some Pampa wives will resent competition in searching for hubby's pocket change.

Most Panhandle towns are wishing for water, in the form of rain, but Sweetwater has not moisture for more than eating and bathing, if press reports are true. That little city has a big reservoir, but it won't rain in it any more.

WASHINGTON LETTER

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer.

WASHINGTON.—The Hon. Senor Dr. Don Alexander Napoleon Caesar Chamorro, envoy extraordinary and minister plenipotentiary to the United States from the Diaz Government in Nicaragua, has been welcomed in some sections of the strenuous diplomatic social life here with a cold shoulder.

The Hon. Senor Dr. Don Alexander Napoleon Caesar Chamorro, envoy, etc.—which is his official title—is invited to all the big parties at the Cuban embassy and the Panamanian legation. He is invited to all the functions thrown by the secretary of state and the Pan-American Union.

But when Chamorro's own racial brethren, the other Latin-American diplomats, have their balls and receptions, Chamorro generally has to stay home.

All this, mind you, is not because Chamorro is personally offensive. The trouble simply is that most of the people south of the Rio Grande haven't yet recognized the Diaz government of Managua.

The fact might be inserted here that Alexander Napoleon Caesar Chamorro—who, bearing the names of four great conquerors, certainly should be able to sweep all before him—has undertaken to be known in this country as Cesar or Caesar, rather than Chamorro. The State Department has co-operated wholeheartedly with him in this earnest endeavor.

The Chamorro name is in rather bad repute. When Chamorros were swapping the Nicaraguan presidency within the family, there were 15 Chamorros in high government positions. It was Gen. Emiliano Chamorro who felt so keenly the disgrace of letting the presidency get outside the clan as to stage the famous 1925 coup d'etat which returned him to power. The State Department virtuously refused to recognize Emiliano as president.

Since the department accepted Diaz, every effort has been made to show that he had nothing to do with the coup d'etat. This explains why it was more diplomatic not to have a Chamorro as minister to the United States, which is the second most coveted job in Nicaragua.

But Chamorro still remains the gentleman's last name. Imagine Daves or Borah trying to persuade the world that his name was Gilet or Swinnoosky! It is true that Latin-Americans retain both paternal and maternal surnames, but the give-away comes when correspondents of South and Central America insist on referring to the minister as Chamorro so that the folks down there will know whom they mean.

PRESS FORUM

Opportunities, resources and possibilities in Texas—its laws, its industries, climatic conditions, transportation facilities and other details about which information may be lacking or impressions erroneous, are to be presented, first-hand and through personal contact to the people of the north and east United States late this month.

Texas is to run an all-special train, with some 150 representatives, on a two-weeks' tour of all the large cities north and east of Kansas City. It will be Texas' greatest publicity venture, and already the event is receiving notice in the newspapers and magazines of the east.

The Manufacturers Record, published in Baltimore and which is considered the largest and most reliable trade and general business journal in America, has a full-page story in its current issue about the plans of the Texans. "It is asserted that the desire on the part of the Texans is to demonstrate that the 1927 Lone Star State business man is a fellow who trades on the square, who talks as straight as his forebears shot, and who rides hard on business ethics as religiously as his grandfather rounded up the cattle on a thousand hills," says the Manufacturers Record.

Continuing, it observes: "Headed by Gov. Dan Moody, a party of 150 representatives, latter-day Texans, is to travel east and north in June, visiting Baltimore on July 1. At each point a stop of one day or more will be made. Through previous arrangements with local commercial organizations interested groups in several cities are to be brought in contact with the Texans so they may learn what manner of man the latter-day Texan has become, and ascertain also whatever particular details as to the state may be desired."

Indications are that the east is awaiting with interest the visit of the Texans, and some of the residents of Baltimore and other cities may be surprised when the good-will representatives from the Lone Star state arrive, as the following paragraph from the Baltimore Journal hints:

"In the business curriculum of today's Texas, it is asserted, there is included all the activities with which the Texas of old was associated, with many new lines of endeavor added. But from the garb of the modern native son of Texas, there has been eliminated the two-gallon hat, the high-heeled boots and the six-shooter, together with all the objectionable features that went with them.

"It is particularly stressed, that the tour shall not be anything in the way of a 'hip-hip-hooray' affair, but strictly a good will visit, with the party made up of the most representative citizens of every section of Texas. The entire program is to be dignified and impressive, and in keeping with the serious objects of the trip.—Amarillo News.

Judge Baldwin Cites Records On Old Fort Elliott

A brief history of Fort Elliott, with a tribute to its founders, was given at the Mobette celebration by Judge Alexander Baldwin of Pampa.

Judge Baldwin said, in part: This is the historic town of the Panhandle of Texas. It is the oldest town in this section. This is the fifty-second anniversary of the establishment of the Army post, known as Fort Elliott.

The records of the Adjutant General's office of the War Department shows that the selection of this site was made by Major Henry Bankhead, and his command, on the first day of June, 1875, and the fort was established on the 5th day of June, 1875, and named in honor of Major Joel H. Elliott, of the seventh cavalry, and that Major Henry Bankhead was the first commander of the Fort.

It was the site of war until 1890, when it was abandoned. Here rested the protection from the savage and marauding Indians, supposedly in numbers of 2,000 or 3,000, for the Texas Panhandle, Eastern New Mexico, and Western Oklahoma, and this area covered now the section comprising the twenty-six counties of the Panhandle country.

Here, around the camp fires, many imaginary battles were fought. Here the stories of the battle of Adobe Walls, just a year prior to the establishment of this Fort, wherein 28 men and one woman fought so valiantly, so bravely, and came out victors, against something like seven hundred Indian Warriors, making another "Alamo" of the Panhandle of Texas.

Here have been told the stories of the pioneers, settlers, speculators, soldiers and gamblers, who once came to this fort, and there are many others yet to be told.

Here no marble shaft marks the location of this historic post, bearing the names of the commanders and soldiers, who established it, but through the efforts of Mayor Reid of Pampa, and other good citizens of this county, and other counties of this section, an idea was conceived far greater than the erection of this monument to keep green the memories of the early history of this post, by securing and naming the highway, bearing the name of Fort Elliott, reaching from the beautiful little Elk City, in the great state of Oklahoma, through this great county, on through the thriving city of Pampa, an through the metropolis of this Panhandle country, Amarillo, on across Texas to the City of El Paso, on the rolling Rio Grande, and clearings made to the beautiful city of the world, Old Mexico City.

So the passing tourists, as they drive over this great Highway, will keep in memory the founding of this, Fort Elliott.

There is a sad picture: though here today, we saw no faces to greet us who viewed the selection and establishment of this post.

Major Elliott was killed in the battle of the Washita, Major Henry Bankhead has long since passed to his reward; General McKinzie, and the others all are gone, but while they are not here in person, they are here in spirit, their lives and actions, we tell to our children.

These men and women who came to this section in early days, as we said were settlers, promoters, pioneers and speculators, and to my mind no tribute can be paid than say he is a speculator, for you know, the meaning of words change, as we all know that the United States of America has been and still is the most stupendous speculation in all the world. Americans are natural born speculators.

At the time of the establishment of this post, this section of Texas was an unsettled country, except a few army posts, trading posts, straggling settlers and scattered communities, and today these twenty-six counties of the Panhandle make up an empire within themselves, and are yet only partially developed.

Such men as J. S. Winn, T. D. Hobart, Henry Lovett, Mark Huselby, W. L. Mathers, and so many others, too numerous to mention, came and dared the dangers of this frontier to drive cattle, to farm, ranch, build railroads, public highways, school buildings, and churches, and other things that develop this great state of ours.

At the time of building and maintaining this fort, this was a wilderness country, the things here then are here no more; the savage Indian who glorified in gore, and laughed his fiendish laugh as he killed and scalped his victims is no more; the great herds of cattle and horses which grazed the plains are no more, but in their stead have risen towns, villages and cities; hard surfaced highways that stretch ribbonlike across the country; great wheat fields, ebb and flow like the sea, great cot-

OUT OUR WAY

Comet and Eclipse Will Give Scientists Plenty of Interest For Work During Month of June

By ISRAEL KLEIN

Science Editor, NEA Service

June will be an auspicious month for science and superstition.

The sun will be darkened, the moon will be obliterated, and a great ball of fire, with an enormous tail, will appear to threaten us in the sky.

Years ago special prayers went up, people shut themselves in and others even committed suicide under the awesome spell of any of these events.

Now, we prepare differently for these as great spectacles of scientific significance.

The darkening of the sun and the obliteration of the moon are eclipses of these great bodies in space, and the great ball of fire we know now as a comet.

The first event of the three to occur this month is the eclipse of the moon. The earth will come between the sun and the moon, completely shutting off the direct sunlight from our satellite. This will occur in the night of June 14-15, and will be seen all over the western hemisphere.

First the moon will cut through the outer shadow, or penumbra, of the earth and will slowly cross into the umbra or dark shadow, which it will reach at 1:43 a. m. eastern time, June 15. For the next hour and a half the moon's eclipse will increase until it will be totally eclipsed at 3:13. The totality will last 21 minutes, after which the moon will move slowly out of the earth's shadow, only to be obstructed from our view by the coming of dawn.

Comet Comes Next

A week later the day becomes the longest of the year, with the beginning of summer, at 5:22 on the morning of June 22.

Almost at the same time, if we happen to be up and point a weak-lensed telescope toward the rising sun, we may be able to detect a stranger in the sky, coming toward us. It is the Pons-Winnecke comet, discovered in 1819 by a doorkeeper at Marseilles, and since then noticed every six years.

Comets are a strange lot of heavenly bodies, each a collection of fiery meteors and dust particles grouped together by some sort of electric attraction and whirling around the sun at an enormous speed and over a huge ellipse, or flat circle. Some of them have tails of thin gas, so thin that we on earth don't feel their presence, even when we might be passing right through them.

The Pons-Winnecke comet is approaching us at the rate of 24 miles a second, faster than the earth is traveling, and on June 26 it will come nearest to us—a distance of 3,600,000 miles.

If we stay up until 3 in the morn-ton fields make white many portions of this once undeveloped country. So you can see, from this little beginning, is builded truly a great country, and is now but beginning, with more schools, more churches, farms, more railroads, more highways, more every things else that builds and holds the greatness of this section of Texas.

ing of June 26, eastern time, we may see the comet perhaps without the aid of a telescope, but barely visible in the sky almost directly above us. It will be moving southeast almost as fast as the moon seems to move, but the presence of a waning moon at the same time may drown out the view of the comet.

Sun's Eclipse June 29

Of far more importance to science, although invisible in the United States, will be the sun's eclipse on the morning of June 29. As the sun rises earlier that morning, the moon will get between it and the earth so as to cast a circular shadow 30 miles in diameter, moving northeast across the earth.

This shadow will start a little west of the Bay of Biscay, cross the Atlantic and pass over the populous section of Lancashire in England.

It will proceed along the length of Norway, the north of Sweden and Lapland and over the desolate region of the Arctic ocean north of the Siberian coast. It will go on over the eastern end of Siberia and leave the earth at sunset at the tip of Alaska.

Scientists have been preparing for this event for a while year. Some American scientists are going to points in Norway to set up instruments by which they may study the sun's corona, the great prominences of fire that can be seen favorably only when the moon covers the disk of the sun. They want to know what material form it and exactly how.

Western Heroes Leave Legends Amid Coolidge Vacation Scenes

(By The Associated Press.)

DEADWOOD, S. D.—The lurid days when Deadwood was the wild west capital of the world and the Black Hills was its empire are still fresh and dear to natives of western South Dakota among whom President Coolidge spends his summer vacation.

Less than a half century ago, and within easy memory of many old-timers now living, Wild Bill Hickok reigned as sheriff, Deadwood Dick was a scout, pony express rider and dime novel hero, and Calamity Jane was the boisterous sweetheart of the camp.

Today Wild Bill and Calamity Jane lie buried in a mountainside cemetery near Deadwood, and Deadwood Dick, diverted to calmer pursuits since the winning of the west, is a rancher near the city under his Christian name of Richard Clarke.

Seventy-five miles north of the state game lodge, the president's summer white house, Deadwood is today a quiet town of some 5,000 inhabitants, with only a few of the old landmarks surviving to hint the wickedness of its heyday.

But when gold was found in the Black Hills in 1876 and when Deadwood was found to be the site of the richest ore lodes, it became overnight the habitat of all the gamblers and adventurers who followed the prospectors into the Hills. Saloons, gambling dens and dance halls became as numerous as trading posts along the crooked streets at the bottom of Deadwood Gulch.

Into this unrestrained Sodom came Wild Bill Hickok, native of northern Illinois, cowboy and gunman, as frontier sheriff. He taught the gospel of law and order but not until he had numbered by the dozens the notches on his gun, and when he finally met death it was at the hands of a foe who, despairing of beating him in a fair fight, shot him in the back.

Calamity Jane, orphan daughter of a soldier at Fort D. A. Russell in Wyoming, was an early comer to the Hills when gold was found. Uncouth and immoral, fond of riding and shooting, she became the toast of Deadwood. Scorning a woman's share in the life of the Hills, she often garbed herself as a man and drove one of the ox teams which plied between Deadwood and Pierre, S. D., the nearest railroad point. But a scarlet fever scourge called her feminine nature to the fore, and she conducted a pest house and cared for sufferers when no nurses could be found.

In one of his own appointments, President Coolidge has linked the present with this past. When last year he named E. L. Senn as prohibition administrator of South Dakota, recognized a reformer who won his first spurs in Deadwood. As editor of a weekly paper there, Senn waged the fight which "cleaned up" Deadwood after the frontier days had waned.

Ditch Digging Is College Course

EAST LANSING, Mich. — Flunked in mathematics, the college wag of days gone by remarked: "Well, I can at least earn a living digging ditches."

The bromide is losing its caste, for this year ditch digging became a regular collegiate subject at Michigan State college.

But not the old back breaking method—this course is one in methods of excavation by explosives and if E. J. Livingston, instructor, is rightly informed it is the first time the subject has been offered as a regular part of an agricultural college education, although both Michigan State and the University of Wisconsin have taught the work in short courses before.

Michigan has many swamps where open ditches are necessary to drainage. Opening them with explosives has found to be the most economical method. The sticks of explosive are set close together along the line of excavation and exploded, lifting the dirt high in the air. A little work with a shovel facilitates the passage of the water and finishes the job.

AMERICAN GIRL WINS

NEW YORK—Mildred Seeba, the young soprano who has held the Caruso Foundation scholarship for two successive years, will return to the United States this summer to arrange for a series of public appearances. Miss Seeba, who was born in Jacksonville, Fla., made her debut in Baltimore, Md., soon after graduation from high school and won the Caruso scholarship. This entitled her to a year's study abroad. Her success was so marked during that year that Gatti-Casazza, director of the Metropolitan Opera Company, hearing her sing in Italy, recommended that a second year's scholarship be given to her.

Oilers Win Game In Defeating Boosters By Score of 16-14

The Oilers won their first ball game of the season yesterday when they defeated a team of Pampa Boosters by a 16 to 14 score. The victory was featured by the heavy hitting of "Chief" Hearndon, who had two singles and two homers to his credit, and Ray, with a homer and two doubles.

Bob Rose played a sensational game at third for the Boosters, making several plays on sure hit balls. He was also the life of the game. White pitched nice ball for the losers but errors and poor judgment lost the game for him. After a few practices the Boosters will take another crack at the Oilers, and figure the result will be different.

Ray started the game for the Oilers but was bombarded and retired in favor of Hearndon, who was treated the same way. Neal finished the game. The Oilers are holding regular practices now and will be in good condition for the trip to McLean Sunday.

Batteries for the game: Boosters—White and Roger; Oilers—Ray, Hearndon, Neal and Middleton. Umpires, Cahill and Hunter.

Tobacco Industry Is One of Romance And Inconsistency

By FRANK I. WELLER

WASHINGTON—There's romance in America's tobacco industry—a lyric for producers whom the habit has favored; but only an epic for those whose profits have dwindled.

The whole thing's a drama of inconsistency. A quarter of a century has revolutionized production. Chas. E. Gage, United States tobacco statistician, tells the story in figures.

In 1901 producers of chewing tobacco were the lords of the market. Their commodity was used at the rate of one and ninety-hundredths pounds per capita. The cigarette was an upstart, in ill repute, and production negligible. Today cigarette consumption totals two pounds per capita population of the United States, while chewing tobacco dropped to fourth scarcely outranking snuff, the least used of all forms of tobacco.

There has been little change in the market for cigars and smoking tobacco. The former has decreased slightly. The latter has been on the up-grade.

Cigarettes have been the sensation data at the United States Treasury Department shows. They jumped from at total of 500 millions manufactured in 1881 to 82 billions manufactured in 1925. In 1909 seven billion cigarettes were marketed. More than that now are sold every month.

Snuff is the clown of the industry. Its popularity increases yearly. Once a mark of royalty, the consort of powdered wigs, velvet pants and stately elegance, snuff today is used almost entirely by certain of the foreign element, laborers and the less prosperous groups.

Talleyrand advocated a pinch of snuff when embarrassed. He lifted it with a regal air from a jewel-bedecked box. It may still be used for "stalling", but modern devotees 'dip' it from a tin can with a broad forefinger or a stick.

Moreover, as the old order changed, snuff is chewed instead of "sniffed." Statistics show that from about four million pounds in 1880, manufacturers have increased their output to approximately forty million pounds per annum.

Gage points out that the deep economic effect of changes in tobacco habits is due to the fact that the response of the growing plant to soil and climatic conditions is so certain that production of given types is highly localized. Districts that will produce cigar tobacco may not produce the kind used for cigarettes, and vice versa.

When changing habit lifts a specific form of tobacco, the region with the type of plant that makes it suffers if the soil and climate will not favor a more fortunate type.

Growth of the cigarette habit, here and abroad, has brought the romance of prosperity to growers along the southeastern seaboard. There the industry is a tuneful rhyme. It's but a narrative where chewing tobacco is grown. Unless the wheel of fortune turns, the types directly descended from the parent tobacco of the struggling Virginia colony, dropped from decades of eminence to a perilous economic position, likely never will be of importance in the tobacco world again.

ENGLAND AND WALES HAVE 6,000,000 CATTLE LONDON (AP)—A new record was established in 1926 in the number of cattle in England and Wales, according to agricultural statistics issued by the ministry of agriculture and fisheries, which show a total of 6,253,000, an increase of 26,000 over 1917, the previous highest. This is the fifth year in succession to show an increase.

Waiting for Word of Levine

With the same stoicism of the women who for ages have waited for their men who have gone "down to the sea in ships," Mrs. Levine and her children sat grouped around a radio while the Columbus skipped across the ocean. Mrs. Levine and the children, Eloise Shirley, 9, and Ardeth Naomi, 9 months, are shown above.
