Ben Lee Is Killed In Car, Truck Crash

Accident at Brownfield Is Fatal To Local Citizen

Ben Lee, 55 a resident of Tahoka for the past four years, was instantly killed on the highway three and a half miles south of Brownfield Sunday night when the car in which he was riding struck a truck parked by the side of the road, the rear end extending back over the pavement.

Mr. Lee was riding in a car driven by his son-in-law, Crawford Burrows of Brownfield, coming from Seagraves. They were meeting a car going south on the highway, the tail lights, Burrows was only slightly Mr. Burrows and he did not see the parked truck until his car struck it. It was a farmer's truck loaded with two bales of cotton, and it had no lights. Burrows was only slightly injured. Lee was on the right side of the driver next to the protruding truck which was struck.

The dead body was taken to Brownfield where it was prepared for burial and was brought to Tahoka Monday afternoon, remaining in the home of Joe Davis here over night. It was taken to Truscott, Mr. Lee's former home, for burial Tuesday. Funeral services were conducted there Tuesday afternoon.

Surviving Mr. Lee are the widow, four daughters, and one son. The daughters are Mrs. Joe Davis of Tahoka, Mrs. Crawford Burrows and Mrs. Darrel Jackson, both of Brownfield, and Mrs. Vance Tredway of Talco, Titus county. The son is J. B. Lee of the family home here.

The members of the family here have the deepest sympathy of many Tahoka friends.

Cotton Crop Will Exceed 18,000,000

Estimates of this year's cotton crop in the United States was given out by the Department of Agriculture Monday at 18,243,000 bales.

If the estimate proves to be approximately correct, this year's crop will break all previous records. The largest previous crop was that of 1926, when 17,978,000 bales were produced.

The forecast given out Monday exceeds that of a month ago by 670,000 bales, the estimate of the crop at that time being 17,573,000 bales. In September the estimate was 16,098,000 bales and in August, 15,593,000. Almost perfect weather conditions account for the increase from month to month.

The record crop this year is being harvested from less than 34 million acres, whereas the previous record crop in 1926 of 17,978,000 bales was produced on 44,616,000 acres.

The acreage this year, therefore, was almost 11,000,000 acres smaller than the acreage in 1926. The increased production is due to better weather conditions and possibly better farming methods.

Following the announcement of the Government report Monday, the price of cotton declined slightly but soon regained most of the ground lost.

The estimates by states as compared with production last year are as follows:

| States         | 1937      | 1936      |
|----------------|-----------|-----------|
| Virginia       | 40,000    | 33,000    |
| North Carolina | 720,000   | 597,000   |
| South Carolina | 950,000   | 816,000   |
| Georgia        | 1,470,000 | 1,086,000 |
| Florida        | 41,000    | 31,000    |
| Missouri       | 385,000   | 508,000   |
| Tennessee      | 630,000   | 433,000   |
| Alabama        | 1,520,000 | 1,145,000 |
| Mississippi    | 2,575,000 | 1,911,000 |
| Texas          | 5,050,000 | 2,933,000 |
| Oklahoma       | 858,000   | 290,000   |
| Arkansas       | 1,830,000 | 1,295,000 |
| New Mexico     | 135,000   | 111,000   |
| Arizona        | 260,000   | 191,000   |
| California     | 680,000   | 442,000   |

It is interesting to note that the three western states of New Mexico, Arizona, and California are this year producing 1,075,000 bales, according to the Government forecast. Practically all of this is produced by irrigation, most of it

Red Cross Roll Call Started

According to custom the Red Cross Roll call was begun here Thursday, November 11, Armistice day. J. O. Tinsley is the Roll Call chairman for this county. The quota for this county this year is $400.00.

It should be easy this year for the quota to be raised. Lynn County never has failed to raise its quota, at least not in recent years, except one year when the Roll Call chairman was called away just before the beginning of the campaign.

New Home Man Died Saturday

J. W. Brown, 55, of New Home died at 10 o'clock Saturday morning of heart trouble.

Funeral services were conducted there at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon by Rev. S. H. McCulloch of the New Home Baptist Church, and the body was taken to Slaton for interment. The Harris Funeral Home of Tahoka had charge of the funeral arrangements.

Pall bearers were Messrs. Lemon, Grider, Izard, Ratliff, Sutton, and Bagley of New Home.

Mr. Brown was a native of Missouri, having been born at Cedar Creek in that state on December 27, 1881. He was married to Miss Annie Taylor at Goree, Texas, on August 7, 1907. He and family came to Lynn county in January, 1922, and have resided here since that time.

He leaves surviving him the widow, two sons, and two daughters as follows: Algie Brown of Wilson, Bonnie Brown of New Home, Miss Daisy Brown and Mrs. Wade Smith, both of New Home. He is also survived by his mother, Mrs. L. D. Brown, of Claremore, Oklahoma, and by four sisters and three brothers.

Mr. Brown had many friends in the New Home community and other parts of the county, who deeply deplore his untimely death.

Carmacks Unhurt In Car Wreck

At a very early hour Wednesday morning before it was yet daybreak, while Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Carmack and the former's father, Rev. C. F. Carmack, were proceeding along highway 84 eastward near the Lynn-Garza county line, "Condy" lost control of the car and it overturned, stopping, we understand, in a field. The car was pretty badly wrecked, but fortunately none of the occupants were seriously hurt.

The Carmacks had started to Cisco to attend the funeral of a sister of Mrs. C. F. Carmack who had just died. The road was muddy and slippery and when they met a car coming in this direction, mud and slush were splattered all over the windshield and the lamps, greatly obscuring the driver's vision, and this accounts for the accident.

Though the car was badly damaged, Condy managed to drive it back to Tahoka, and the trip to Cisco was abandoned.

Attending Baptist State Convention

Rev. and Mrs. George A. Dale and Miss Mary Seyer left early Monday morning, for El Paso, where they are spending the week in attendance upon the sessions of the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

Arrangements have been made for the convention to have its closing session in the Carlsbad Cavern Friday afternoon. A joint session with the Baptist conventions of New Mexico and Arizona in this marvelous underground wonder has been planned.

The Tahoka pastor will be back home for the Sunday services.

Governor Issues Proclamation

Texas is proud to be included in the roster of states sponsoring the Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross, a membership drive to add names and to replenish the funds of this important welfare organization.

The worth of the American Red Cross, the indispensable services it performs in safeguarding health, promoting public safety and administering relief from disaster are too well-known to enumerate here. Suffice it to express the wish that every Texas citizen may join wholeheartedly in responding to the Annual Roll Call, for on no other investment are the returns more worthwhile.

Therefore, I JAMES V. ALLRED, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby set aside and proclaim November 10 as Annual Red Cross Day in Texas.

In TESTIMONY WHEREOF, I have hereunto signed my name, officially and caused the Seal of State to be impressed hereon at Austin, this 28th day of October, A. D. 1937.

(Signed) JAMES V. ALLRED, Governor of Texas.

Sam King Dies In East Texas

Friends here were grieved to learn of the untimely death of Sam King, a former Tahoka boy, which occurred at 11:30 o'clock on Thursday night, November 4, in a sanitarium in Paris, Texas, where he had undergone an operation for appendicitis on the preceding Saturday.

Sam had been working in the oil fields in northeast Texas, when he became ill. When he was taken to the sanitarium on Friday, a telegram was sent to his parents here, Mr. and Mrs. Jake A. King. Mr. King went down immediately and remained with his son until death came, nearly a week later. The appendix had ruptured before the operation.

Mrs. King, Mrs. Zoe Lowrey, and C. B. (Boots) King left for Paris Thursday night, immediately after being informed of Sam's death.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. E. Lee Stanford, pastor of the Methodist Church in Paris, at 9:30 o'clock Saturday morning, following which the body was laid to rest in the Evergreen Cemetery at Paris.

Twenty-five years of age, Sam had been reared here. He lacked just one year of finishing the Tahoka High School, when he got a job, and he did not return to school for three years or more he had been working in the oil fields. He was highly esteemed by his former school mates and other friends here.

Besides his parents he leaves surviving him two brothers, J. A. King Jr. and Joe King, and two sisters, Mrs. R. S. Ward of Quemado, New Mexico, and Mrs. Buster Bingham of Sudan.

The parents and other members of the family have the sincerest sympathy of many friends here.

70,000 Bales Cotton Ginned Up To Date

Armistice Day Celebrated Here

Armistice Day was not forgotten but was not specially observed in Tahoka Thursday, due to the rush of business at this time.

Merchants had previously agreed to close their stores in observance of the day and some did, but others found this impractical. Business therefore went on as usual with a majority.

Flags were displayed and the fire siren was sounded to remind the citizenship of that day nineteen years ago when soldiers along the far-flung battle front stacked their arms and the nations were again at peace.

Another Oil Test Will Be Made

A contract has been let for the drilling of a test oil well in the Southwest Quarter of Section 151 Block 12, H. E. & W. T. R. R. Co. Survey, situated about two miles northwest of Petty school, according to a press report from Seagraves published Sunday.

The Alamo Lumber Company of San Antonio and John L. Baldridge of Roswell, New Mexico, own the block of leases. This is the first test to be made in the northwest quarter of Lynn county. The well will be about twenty miles northwest of Tahoka.

Practically all the land in the northwestern portion of Lynn county has been leased to various oil companies recently. Much leasing has been done in Lubbock county also.

Announcement has also been made that a test well is to be drilled in Floyd county and another in Lamb county, with other acreage being blocked for tests. The Floyd county location is six miles south of Floydada. The Lamb county well is to be drilled on a block north of Littlefield.

Twenty tentative new locations have also been made in Yoakum county, it is stated, and four in Gaines.

Work On Service Station Begins

Contract was awarded by Oscar Roberts to Harry Rice of Abilene one day this week for the construction of a building on the site of the old St. Clair Hotel to be used as a service station. The structure is to be 60x100 feet in size and is to be erected at a cost of $5,000. It was expected that some of the material would be placed on the ground today and construction is to begin at once. It is hoped to have the building completed before the end of December.

The Sinclair Refining Company has taken a lease on the building for a period of ten years, and Jess Key will be in charge of the service station which is to be opened as soon as the building is completed. Winter Knight is local agent for the Sinclair Refining Company.

Cap Distinguishes Salvation Army

Sergeant Major A. C. Bowley of the Lubbock Salvation Army corps who were here last Friday, calls attention to the fact that not all persons wearing a uniform similar to the Salvation Army uniform are representatives of that organization.

He says that the words "Salvation Army" appear on the cap band or bonnet of every Salvation Army representative. If these words do not so appear, the public may know that the wearer of the uniform is not a representative of that great religious and charitable organization.

Cotton Men Predict Crop May Reach 125,000 Bales

Thirteen of the 27 gins in Lynn county had turned out a total of 35,182 bales this fall when we gathered statistics around nine o'clock Thursday morning. These included the five gins in Tahoka, three at Grassland, one at Draw, one at New Lynn, two at New Home, and one at Petty. Gins not included are five at O'Donnell, three at Wilson, one at T-Bar, one at Wells, one at Newmore, one at Gordon, one at Wayside and Lakeview.

The five gins in Tahoka had ginned 14,491 bales; the three at Grassland, 9,756; one at Draw, 3,913; one at New Lynn, 2,400; two at New Home, 3,756; and one at Petty, 827.

It is estimated that the 14 gins not included in our report have ginned about the same number of bales as the thirteen gins reporting. It is probable, therefore, that approximately 70,000 bales have been ginned in the county. It is estimated by gin men and cotton buyers that 125,000 bales will be ginned in the county by the end of the season if the entire crop is saved.

It is possible that much of that now in the field could be destroyed or so damaged by winds, rain, and freezes and the price for damaged cotton drop so low that much of it would be left unharvested. That has happened in some years of the past, and it could happen again.

Furthermore, some cotton is being hauled out of the county to be ginned on account of the crowded condition of the gins in the county. Some, it is said, has been taken as far as Sweetwater, Merkel, and Abilene. Some has gone to Snyder and some to other points. It is not believed that the total carried out of the county, however, will be large.

Rain which fell Tuesday morning retarded the gathering of the crop a full day. Damp mornings since have further retarded picking. This has given many of the gins a chance to catch up with the ginning. Many began pulling following the rain, but the sample proved to be so bad that they are going back to picking.

Rev. Hardy Goes To Conference

Next Sunday is the last Sunday of this Conference year at the Methodist Church. The Northwest Texas Methodist Conference meets in Quanah of the following Wednesday. Rev. and Mrs. Ben Hardy and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Thomas of Tahoka are planning to attend. The other Methodist pastors of the county will also be in attendance. These include Rev. M. R. Pike of O'Donnell, Rev. J. T. Howell of Wilson, Rev. C. F. Carmack of Draw, and Rev. J. N. Hester of the Southland-New Lynn churches.

Rev. Ben Hardy is just closing his first year here and it is presumed that he will be returned to Tahoka. He has been in the habit of staying four years at his charges. He has had a most satisfactory year here. There have been 70 additions to the church, which include 18 additions upon profession of faith. The Conference collections are just about all in and the prospects are that collections for the local work will also be completed before the pastor leaves for Conference.

The Northwest Texas Conference has grown to be one of the largest and most important conferences in the state.

Mrs. W. P. Inman Is Seriously Ill

Mrs. W. P. Inman of the Dixie community was taken hurriedly to the Lubbock Sanitarium late Wednesday afternoon suffering from acute kidney trouble.

Her condition was so grave that physicians doubted if she could live through the night. Thursday morning, however, she was reported to be apparently better.

TAMMANY HALL ROUTED

La Guardia and Dewey Winners in New York . . .
 Detroit Rejects Candidates Backed by the C.I.O.

La Guardia's Victory

TAMMANY HALL went down to inglorious defeat in the New York municipal election. Its mayor-ally candidate, Jeremiah T. Mahoney, who was supported also by Jim Farley and Senator Wagner, was thoroughly whipped by Fiorello H. La Guardia, candidate of the fusionists, the Republicans and the young American Labor party. La Guardia, the first "reform" mayor ever re-elected in New York, piled up a majority of 454,425.

The Republicans hailed the result
 as a great victory for their party, and it was. But it also put the Labor party in the position of holding the balance of power in future elections in the metropolis.

Second in interest only to the mayoralty vote was the fact that Thomas E. Dewey, the young man who smashed organized crime and the rackets in New York, was elected district attorney, defeating Harold W. Hastings, the Tammany nominee. Dewey, who is only thirty-five years old, promises reform in the methods of the office, and his record gives assurance these will be carried out.

The Republicans regained control of the New York state assembly and of many upstate cities.

C.I.O. Loses in Detroit

THE first important venture of the C. I. O. in politics turned out disastrously for the Lewis organization. Patrick H. O'Brien, its may-orality candidate, declared on the stump that "labor must seize the reins of government in Detroit and every other American city." Whereupon the Detroit electors arose in their wrath and swept O'Brien and the C. I. O. out of the picture. Richard W. Reading, conservative candidate backed by the A. F. of L.,
 won the office by a majority of 106, 907 votes.

In addition, all the five C. I. O.
 backed candidates for the common council were decisively whipped.

In New Jersey Senator A. Harry
 Moore, Democrat, was elected governor over Lester H. Cleo, Republican, but only by virtue of a big majority in Hudson county. Moore has held the office twice before. It was the first time in the state's history that a governor has won a third term. The state constitution prohibits a consecutive re-election but Moore was elected in 1925 and again in 1931, each time for a three-year term.

James M. Curley, who has been three times mayor of Boston and once governor of Massachusetts, tried again for the mayoralty, but was defeated by Maurice J. Tobin, like Curley a Democrat.

Philadelphia went Democratic, as did Pittsburgh, which re-elected Mayor Cornelius Scully.

Borah Talks Plainly

WHILE Republican national committeemen were gathering in Chicago for an important meeting, Senator Borah of Idaho jumped into print with a vigorous denunciation
 of the plan, favored by Hoover
 and Chairman Hamilton, to hold a midterm Republican convention next spring, for the formulation of party policies.

"We have heard a great deal about usurpation and dictatorship in recent years," said Borah. "There could be no greater exhibition of usurpation or dictatorship in politics than for a few accredited men undertaking to fix the principles and policies for 17 million voters without ever having consulted the voters or received their indorsement in any way."

"The Republican party is in its present plight largely because leaders of the party too long neglected to take counsel of the voters. Leaders acted upon the theory that the voters would be led or cudgeled along the road pointed out by the leaders."

Brussels Conference

FORMAL opening of the far east
 peace conference in Brussels brought out speeches by the chief delegates of America, Britain, France, Italy and Russia. Davis
 for the United States denounced resort to armed force as a means of settling international disputes, and urged Japan and China to seek a settlement of their conflict "by peaceful processes."

He continued: "We believe that co-operation between Japan and China is essential to the best interests of those two countries and to peace throughout the world. We believe that such co-operation must be de-

 of New York in a striking pose as he

veloped by friendship, fair play, and reciprocal confidence. If Japan and China are to co-operate it must be as friends and not as enemies. The problems underlying Chinese-Japanese relations must be solved on a basis that is fair to each and acceptable to both."

Eden for England and Delbos for France seconded these sentiments.
 The Italian representatives made it clear Italy would not stand for any coercive measures against Japan.

China was represented by Dr.
 Wellington Koo who said: "We desire peace, but we know that we cannot obtain it in the presence of Japanese aggression. So long as aggression persists we are determined to continue our resistance. It is not peace at any price that will render justice to China or to the credit of civilization."

A committee was named to send an appeal to Japan to open peace negotiations with China, and Germany was asked to reconsider her refusal to take part in the conference.

Labor Hits Duke's Tour

RESOLUTIONS denouncing the American tour of the duke and duchess of Windsor as a "slumming trip professing to study labor" were adopted by the Baltimore Federation of Labor, and approved by President
 Green of the A. F.
 of L. They attacked
 Charles Bedeaux,
 the duke's friend, as a sponsor of the
 "stretch-out system."

Officials of the Committee for Industrial Organization, while refusing to be quoted, said the attitude of their organization on the Bedeaux system was "well known."

Official and social Washington, which had been in doubt as to what to do about the distinguished visitors, was relieved when Sir Ronald Lindsay, British ambassador, announced he would give a state dinner for the royal couple, as he termed them, the day after their arrival. Immediately thereafter it was made known that President Roosevelt would entertain the duke and duchess at luncheon in the White House.

The duke's talk on arrival was to be broadcast over all major networks, but the British Broadcasting company announced it would not pick up Windsor's remarks for re-broadcasting in England.

Bedeaux said the duke while in the United States would observe these six heavy industries:

Heavy machinery, light machinery, heavy chemical work, oil refining, textiles, tobacco, steel, rubber,
 either coal or metallic ore mining,
 automobile manufacturing, prepared foods, meat packing, logging, timber sorting plus lumber milling, pulp
 and paper production and vegetable and fruit packing.

Almost Recognition

GREAT BRITAIN decided to let Franco, Spanish insurgent chief, send consuls to England, and to send official agents to the part of Spain he controls. This, it was said in official circles, did not imply recognition of Franco, but British Laborites thought it did, and consequently assailed the government.
 Anyhow, it was apparent Britain believed Franco was right when he said in Burgos "the war is won."

Wallace Plan Attacked

SECRETARY WALLACE'S "ever normal granary" plan is "politically inexpedient, economically unsound, and fundamentally unworkable," according to the Cash Grain association of Chicago which submitted a brief to a senate subcommittee at a hearing in Springfield, Ill.

Floyd Gibbons' ADVENTURERS' CLUB

HEADLINES FROM THE LIVES OF PEOPLE LIKE YOURSELF!

"Rattlesnake Kate"

By FLOYD GIBBONS
 Famous Headline Hunter

HELLO, EVERYBODY:

Get this one right hot off the waffle iron, members of the Adventurers' club. It's about a brave, hard-fighting, quick-thinking woman.

Lots of people think women aren't brave. But when it comes down to a case of life or death, just watch 'em. And then, throw in the life of a baby to fight for and—well, you'll find that old Rudyard Kipling was right about the female of the species.

Why, this adventure is so absolutely out of the ordinary, that I hardly believed it myself, when Mrs. Kate Slaughterback, Fort Lupton, Colo., told it to me.

This is what happened in 1925, on the twenty-eighth day of October.
 You know what kind of a day that would be out in Colorado. Animals moving around everywhere, storing up food or making for winter quarters. Little snap in the air—migratory wild fowl coming down from the north bound for the warm waters of the tropics.

Well, early that morning hunters had been banging away before daylight at the mallards and canvasbacks that were stopping over for the night in a lake away out in one corner of the Slaughterback ranch.
 Kate Slaughterback knew from experience that the hunters wouldn't bother to follow the crippled birds, so she decided to ride out and pick off a few unfortunate stragglers for supper.

There Was a Huge Snake Coiled.

She saddled up the old pinto. Got down her .22 Remington, lifted three-year-old Ernest into the saddle and swung up behind him. Off they went, across the fields to the fence that separated a pasture from the boggy lake. Kate hopped off the pony to open the gate. And, right there

Kate Fought Rattlers for Two Solid Hours.

at the gate post, coiled up and ready to fight anything that came along—
 was a huge rattlesnake.

Didn't bother that Western woman much. She stepped back to the pony, took the rifle out of the saddle and blew the head right off that cocky reptile.

But he had his gang with him. No sooner had that rifle cracked—no sooner had the snake sounded his dying rattle than another angry whirr-r sounded from the tall, dry grass.
 Another warning sounded from the left—still another from a different direction.

Three glistening, thick-bellied rattlers slithered into the open and toward Kate.

The Remington cracked three times in quick succession and three sets of rattles beat out a death-tattoo on the ground.

Mrs. Slaughterback reloaded her rifle. She looked up quickly in the direction of a strange sound—a sound like the rustle of the wind among ripe corn.

First five—then ten—then twenty or thirty rattlesnakes were undulating into the open IN BATTLE FORMATION. Their pointed heads were erect—their fangs darting. They were ready to avenge their companions in the interrupted migration.

Still the nerve of the ranch woman held steady. She realized she could not kill twenty or thirty savage snakes with her little rifle. What she wanted was a stout club. There was only one in sight. Kate chuckled as she saw that the club was stuck into the ground and bore a sign, "No Hunting—Keep Out."

Fought Dozens With a Club.

She plucked that stake out of the ground. Smashed off the sign and turned to tackle the serpent army.

Her eyes met a horrible sight. There were no longer twenty or thirty attackers. They were sliding noiselessly in from all directions. Right and left, behind and before—she looked into venomous eyes that blazed green like an endless row of traffic lights.
 She was surrounded.

The first rattler to reach her coiled to strike. Kate swung, the club, barely three feet long, and the dying tail flicked her hand. On came the others. Some circling. Some darting in.

Little Ernest was crying in the saddle. Brownie—the pony—was trembling. If he should rear, the baby would be thrown among the snakes.

Kate was afraid then—afraid for herself and her little boy. She redoubled her blows. A rattler sprang clear of the ground. Kate caught it with her club as a baseball batter would swing on a home run.

Another rattler sprang. It missed her hand by a half inch. She could feel its breath as the jaws snapped. A sound behind her. Coiled and poised for a thrust at her stockinged leg was another foe. She struck backward. The snake uncoiled, its head crushed.

The slithering chain of reptiles seemed endless. They darted and struck from all sides. The club thudded hundreds of times.
 Dying snakes writhed in piles. Kate, hardly moving from her tracks, fought on—fought for two solid hours before she climbed painfully, nerve wracked, back into the saddle.

Her Nickname Well Earned.

Brownie darted for the ranch house. Mrs. Slaughterback tumbled from the saddle, clapping little Ernest. Her hands were raw flesh and blisters—her eyes bloodshot and her face swollen.

Her amazing adventure spread like wildfire through the Colorado country. Down from the cities raced newspaper reporters and photographers.

Then the boys lined her up beside her grisly foes. Cameras told the true story of her kill.

"Yes," she said. "And I'm proud of it."

Canyon Named for Mormon

Bryce Canyon National park is 55 square miles in size and has been under jurisdiction of the federal government since it was first named a national monument in 1923.
 The "canyon," which in reality is a great horseshoe-shaped amphitheater
 three miles long and two miles wide, was named after Ebenezer Bryce, a Mormon pioneer who settled there in the early seventies. It is filled with a myriad of fantastic figures cut through the pink and white limy sandstone of the Paunsaugunt plateau.

"Heavy" Water Explained

"Heavy" water has attracted wide scientific interest. Like ordinary water it is composed of two parts hydrogen and one part oxygen, although its hydrogen has an atomic weight of two instead of one,
 the usual atomic weight of hydrogen. This difference makes properties altogether distinct from those of ordinary water. At first a scientific curiosity, it is produced on a commercial scale for the treatment of cancer, using special nickel steel and pure nickel in manufacturing equipment to safeguard its purity.

Old Masters

The question arises as to what percentage of the paintings called "old masters" are fakes. No compilation of statistics is available.
 By way of illustration, however,
 of the volume of the business done in spurious "old masters" it is said that 2,000 paintings attributed to Van Dyck have been sold to art collectors and galleries,
 whereas the artist actually produced only 70 paintings during his lifetime.

SYNOPSIS

Joyce Sewell, on the eve of her twentieth birthday, rebels at her lot, dependent on her detested stepmother, Irma, and full of tragic memories of her mother's murder twelve years before and her father's death six months ago. Irma calls in Helm Blackadder, an admirer, to help her persuade Joyce to marry rich, young Michael Kirkpatrick.

CHAPTER I—Continued

Joyce started toward a chair but stopped. "No; if we are going to have one of our reasonable talks, I'd rather stand."

"That means I'll have to stand too," said Blackadder, sensing he faced a wise and clever fighter. "It doesn't leave me a choice, does it?"

"Not if you feel you have to stay," Joyce cried Mrs. Sewell sharply. "How can you be rude to Mr. Blackadder, a man twice your age and my oldest friend?"

"I wasn't trying to be rude," said Joyce coolly, "I was wondering why he's here."

"I've told you. Because he's my oldest and almost my only friend. We were boy and girl together and if I can't turn to him in my trouble I can appeal to nobody."

"Your trouble!" exclaimed Joyce. "If you'd only leave me alone, let me go my own way, you wouldn't have a thing in the world to worry about."

"That's just it—I can't. I can't stand aside and watch you ruin your life. It wouldn't be right. I can tell you to your face, here before Mr. Blackadder, if you don't take Michael Kirkpatrick while you still have the chance you'll regret it the rest of your life."

"So it's narrowed down to Mike, has it?" said Joyce. "How did you come to pick on him?"

As if she were resigning the floor Mrs. Sewell made a gesture toward Blackadder. Strangely uneasy he straightened and braced his elbows on the mantel. He leveled his eyes at her, taking her measure.

"Let's see if I can talk your language. Do you mind listening till we find out?"

"No; I'll listen."

"You're young, Joyce, and you're up against a tough situation. You don't like your stepmother. Well, there's nothing we can do about that. Likes and dislikes don't go by favor or obligation; they hang on two Spanish words, easy to understand, hard to translate—simpatica and antipatica. Right?"

"Yes," said Joyce, amazed at the boldness of his attack and startled by his idiomatic use of a language she thought she alone in Elsinboro knew.

"The yoke of living on Irma has been galling you till all you can think of is escape. The first thing you picked on was to be a teacher, but you found out it isn't enough to know your subject—you've got to have a string of silly letters after your name. So you thought you'd be a stenographer and look for a firm engaged in foreign trade. Unfortunately, you're unfitted for business. You'd be an absolute flop."

"Why?"

"Because you're emotional and a thoroughbred; the first time you found yourself the mechanical link in a gyp game you'd walk out."

"Then what's left?" asked Joyce dimly as much of herself as of him.

"We're coming to that," said Blackadder sharply. Perceiving he had shaken her, his head moved forward between his shoulders and his eyes grew beady. "You don't like Irma, but you've lived on her since you were eight years old. She's given you everything you've had—shelter, food, raiment and care—and you've never paid for any of it in love or in cash."

"Oh!" gasped Joyce, wincing under the sting of a lash she had used on herself again and again. "How could I? You know I have nothing—nothing!"

"That's not so," said Blackadder, shooting the words at her. "You have plenty if you take it to the right market. Let's get down to bed-rock. Do you dislike Mike any more than you do your stepmother? Do you?"

"No!" said Joyce.

"Then why not live on him for a while where you can pay ten for one?"

Watching her sink into a chair as if he had knocked her knees from under he felt a curious elation. He had beaten her, it had been a hard fight, but he had won out.

"This way out that Helm suggests," said Mrs. Sewell—"this thing I've been begging you to do, you don't think it's for me, do you? It's for you—for your own good. We're older than you are, we can see back as well as ahead. Can't you believe us? Can't you see it's your best chance for happiness?"

"Happiness!" breathed Joyce. "I suppose every girl has her dream of happiness." Then her low voice began to grow in volume and intensity. "I know I have mine and it's a dream of giving, not taking. I don't mean giving things—money, food, clothes—because love doesn't grow out of things. Even if you try your best to make it, it doesn't. It won't. I mean giving something that's inside you, that aches to be given and—"

"I know, dear," interrupted Mrs. Sewell soothingly, "but believe me, you'll feel all that if you'll only just—"

"Oh, you're horrible!" cried Joyce desperately. "I wish I hadn't told you! Do you think I'm blind? You want to be rid of me—both of you. All right. I give in. I promise. If it isn't Mike it will be something else, some other way. I promise." She was gone from the room before either of them could answer.

CHAPTER II

Her departure left Blackadder breathless and somewhat confused. He continued to stand with his back to the mantel, staring at her as if her hurrying figure were still in sight, filling his eyes. And he had thought she was licked! He became aware of Irma's murmuring voice.

"You were wonderful, Helm, but I knew you would be, I was sure of it. The minute I thought of you the load began to lift off my shoulders and now, whatever happens, it's gone. But let's forget trouble. I can't tell you what it means to me to see you standing there like a pillar giving sense and reason to everything in the room, including me."

She smiled up at him expectantly. His lips parted but it was ordained the maid should enter then.

"It's Mr. Kirkpatrick, ma'am."

The young man entered, flamboyant as to hair, complexion, manner and clothes. "Michael, you know Mr. Blackadder, don't you?"

"Sure thing," said Mike, holding out his hand.

Blackadder beat him to the grip and almost crushed his knuckles, then let go too quickly for a comeback. Mrs. Sewell came to the rescue.

"You can go right up, Michael. You'll find Joyce in her sitting room. I—I wish you luck."

Something in the manner of her final words made Kirkpatrick glance at her curiously. He nodded and started for the back where a side staircase supplemented the one in the main hall. Arriving at Joyce's door he knocked softly, pretended he heard an answering call, turned the knob and stepped in. Joyce was on her knees before the petaca, in the act of fitting a clumsy key into the homelike lock.

"Where did you find the Ellis Island trunk?" he asked jovially.

She turned her head and stared up at him out of unbelieving eyes. "It was my father's," she answered automatically. Then she rose, holding tight to the key, and stood at her full height. "What are you doing here?" she demanded. "Who told you you could come in?"

He backed against the door until the latch clicked shut. "You did. I knocked and I thought I heard you say, 'Come in.'"

"You were mistaken. Please go. Aw, get off the horse, Joyce. Can't you talk from the floor for once in your life?"

"Did they send for you?"

"Who?"

"Mr. Blackadder and my stepmother."

"They did not; I brought myself."

"Then take yourself away."

"What's the rush, Joyce, now I'm here? Listen, let's have a showdown. I've told you over and over again I can give you a lot of things and so can you, but I've done all the crawling I'm going to do. Besides, I've just had a tip. I may not know books like some of your rah-rah friends, but I can see out of both eyes. So I'm asking you for the last time—will you marry me or won't you?"

"I won't, now or ever."

He stepped toward her, his fingers itching but his eyes frightened and wet. Abruptly he stopped. Why? He didn't know. She had not moved. She stood with the big key held tightly in her right hand as though it were a dagger. Pressed against her dark dress her fist seemed small and white yet powerful. She had brought him to a halt with only a look—a look of loathing beyond words. He turned, tore open the door and rushed from the room.

Joyce knelt on the floor, then bent over the little rawhide trunk, turned the key and raised the lid. A pungent odor of age-old paper, rust, leather and rotting tape greeted her nostrils.

Her father's last years had left her memory of a weakling, a lovable weakling. Now, immersed in his fervent letters and shocked by the impersonal frigidity of the replies they had evoked, she saw him in his true proportions as a martyr burned at the stake. Slowly, day after day, month after month, yet uttering no cry. Unshed tears stung in her eyes, blinding her. Anger at injustice mounted into rage and rage into the incandescent heat that tempers steel to a cutting edge. He had left no son to avenge his wrongs—only a girl. She dug her nails into the palms of her hands. Some day, somehow, she would find a way.

Again there came a knock at her door, a hesitant knock quite unlike her stepmother's.

"Who is it?" she whispered hoarsely.

"It's me, Miss Joyce," answered the maid's voice. "I've brought you a letter and a bit of supper."

"Thanks, Ellen. I don't want a thing to eat. Please slip the letter under the door."

It was long and without a stamp, probably a circular. Her inclination was to let it lie, but abruptly she was seized by its similarity to a dozen envelopes in the petaca, all bearing the penalty-for-private-use formula. A pale yellow slip fluttered to the floor as she tore open the official envelope and unfolded the letter within. She read it at a glance, then again slowly, word by word: "At the instance of the Mexican ambassador, who has deposited the necessary funds, I beg to enclose a warrant on the Treasury of the United States for $10,000, compensation in full for the death of Ann Burden Sewell. Your endorsement will be sufficient receipt."

She caught up the pale yellow slip. Sitting cross-legged she stared and stared at it, for it looked like no check she had ever seen. Yet its purport was unmistakable—the Treasury of the United States held $10,000 at her disposal. The finger of fate was upon her. If this amazing windfall had come an hour sooner she might have signed it over to her stepmother, flung it at her with actual joy, in payment for back rent and board. But not now—no, not now. She put her arms around the petaca, pressed her cheek against its arabesques of brass tacks and bowed her head as if she were making a vow. Presently she went to bed, but lay awake for a long time, dreaming, planning, then floating off into a restful haze midway between sleep and consciousness.

In the morning she was up early. She drank her coffee with eyes on the clock and shortly after nine was being shown into the private office of the president of the City National bank. Toward the last Mr. Bradley had been her father's only remaining friend.

"It's Joyce," she reminded him, "Joyce Sewell."

"Why, of course! How you've grown, my dear. You're lovely!"

"Mr. Bradley, are bankers like doctors, lawyers, and priests? I mean are they bound to keep a secret if you ask them to?"

"They are and they aren't. A court order can open wide our mouths and our vaults, but short of that we're bound to respect our clients' wishes. Why? Have you a secret you want to deposit?"

"Yes; oh, yes."

He leaned toward her and asked in a whisper, "Is it about the check for ten thousand?" She sank back, her eyes wide, the color draining from her cheeks. He patted her knee reassuringly and chuckled.

"There, there, that was a mean trick. Nobody knows but me, my dear. It was I who supplied your name and address."

"Oh!" breathed Joyce. "Please don't ever do a thing like that to me again!"

"You're safe. I doubt whether I'll ever have any other chance. But why the secrecy?"

"Because I'm going away and I don't want anybody to know where." She leaned forward. "Mr. Bradley, you know my father's story, don't you?"

"No man knows it better, and that goes for his one-time lawyers."

"I learned it last night," said Joyce. "I read every letter, every paper, every deed back to the original grant from the king of Spain. Is there any doubt La Barranca belonged to my father?"

"None whatever. He had as clear a title as I have to my hat or my coat or anything else I've paid for in cash."

"Then it's mine now."

"I wish I could answer no to that, but I can't."

"Have you a conscience, Mr. Bradley?" she asked soberly.

"Me?" he exclaimed, puzzled and astonished.

"I was wondering whether it's ever right to—to take your conscience and choke it."

His eyes twinkled violently but he did not laugh. "I see. What's your conscience been telling you to do?"

"Give this money to my stepmother."

"What for?"

"Well, for all she's done—keeping me all these years."

Mr. Bradley's eyes shone with a strange and increasing fire. "Who's been stuffing your head with that?" he demanded. "Anyway, let me put you straight. In the first place step-parents are required by law to do what's been done for you; it's an integral part of their original bargain. In the second Irma's kindness ruined your father by keeping him from going to work. In the third, since she's a do-good-to-others addict, she's had her money's worth out of the two of you ten times over."

"Thank you," she murmured. "You don't know what you've done for me. Now I can do what I've been planning; I can go."

"Where to, Joyce?"

She looked at him steadfastly. "All those years my father stayed here, Mr. Bradley. But La Barranca isn't here; it's in Mexico. I'm going to Mexico."

Joyce laid the warrant, already endorsed on Mr. Bradley's desk and rose. "I'm leaving the money with you, but you understand I may need a great deal of it any day, don't you?"

"Sit down, Joyce," he said soberly. "Do you know what I've been asking myself?"

"No, sir," said Joyce, sinking to the edge of her chair.

"If I had a girl—your age, your looks, your background—what would I want some other fellow to do in this particular case?" He frowned. "Of course you remember Mexico, but do you remember what happened?"

United States and Great Britain Have Thirty Per Cent of World's "Who's Who"

The United States and Great Britain have more than 30 per cent of the persons listed in the international "Who's Who" published in London. This book, 19,000 biographies of persons who were considered by the editors to be of "international prominence," had 3,150 persons from Great Britain and 2,650 from the United States.

The total percentage of women in the book was only 1.6 and Great Britain's contribution was only 2.8, but the United States women had 5.6 per cent of the space.

Frank B. Littell, of Washington, dissected the lists in the magazine "Science" and found the following percentage distribution of international celebrities by nationalities:

Great Britain, 16.7; United States, 14; France, 9.1; Germany, 8.3; Italy, 3.7; Sweden, 3.3; Japan, 2.6; Denmark, 2.3; Hungary, 2.2; Canada, 2.2; Netherlands, 2.1; Australia, 2.1; and Poland, 2.1.

A comparison of the distribution of internationally known men in the United States and Great Britain shows where the most striking reorganized advances have been made in the two countries. For example, politics is first on the British list and fifth on the American list. Since the British have dominions all over the world and thus are, in a sense, internationalists, this could be expected. On the other hand, scientists led the American list, as might be expected from the "inventorship" and most science-worshipping nation in the world.

Of the 2,650 Americans in the "Who's Who" 610 attended two colleges or universities, 200 attended three institutions and 110 attended four or more. On the other hand, 430 did not list any college education. Harvard is the alma mater of more famous Americans than any other school. Columbia and Yale were next.

Gaiety is a tonic. Gaiety is a stimulant. It is a drug more powerful than any pharmacopoeia. And you have the prescription for it within your own mind. Give yourself large doses of gaiety—it is all a matter of the will.

Fashion's Triple-Threat

HERE'S something new in the way of triple-threats, Milady: This trio of smart contestants in the thrilling game of Sew-Your-Own! With all three in your wardrobe you'll know stadium style, classroom coquetry, and sorority chic. Best of all, you won't spend a king's ransom nor a "long stretch" in their making, thanks to the economy and simplicity of these modern Sew-Your-Owns!

Sorority Chic. Sorority chic begins and ends in the boudoirs on the third floor. This highly tasteful smock (above left) is a sorority requirement of the first order. You may choose either the short length to work in or the long length to be lazy in. Use percale, gingham or silk print.

Classroom Coquetry. What if your knowledge of bugs or battles, or what have you, is limited? You can count on a certain coquettish smile and a certain smooch-lined frock (above center) to take you through any inquisition. Try your version in dull crepe or sheer wool.

Stadium Style. Big moments come fast and furious when you're rooting for dear old Alma Mater, but you have to look the part to be one with that glamour and fun. Sew-Your-Own suggests its newest spectator dress just for this purpose—that you may look the part, feel the part and be on the winning side, no matter when or where the competition takes place.

The Patterns. Pattern 1997 is designed in sizes 14 to 20; 32 to 44 bust. Size 16 requires 3½ yards of 35-inch material. In full length 3¾ yards (short sleeves).

Pattern 1353 is designed in sizes 36 to 52. Size 38 requires 4½ yards of 39-inch material.

Pattern 1357 is designed for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 40 bust). Size 14 requires 2½ yards of 54-inch material.

Home Heating Hints
By John Barclay
Heating Expert

IMPROPER adjustment of the turn (or smoke pipe) damper in your furnace results in "chimney" loss of heat. Leave this damper closed as nearly as possible without retarding free burning of fuel or causing gas to escape into the basement.

Once you have found the ideal adjustment for it, be sure you leave it in that position throughout the heating season. Do not attempt to use it from day to day to regulate your fire. It was never meant for that purpose. The only time you need move the Turn Damper is at the start of the very cold season and again at the start of the very mild season.

Any erroneous reflection upon the reputation or standing of any individual firm or corporation, that may appear in the columns of The News, will be gladly corrected when called to our attention.

THE DUTY OF THE SUPREME COURT

The editor of the Claude News apparently has long been laboring under the impression that it is the duty of the Supreme Court to be governed solely by what it conceives to be the interests of the people in arriving at its decisions. It should never make a decision, in the opinion of Mr. Waggoner, "against the farmer and consumer" nor "against the common people."

In other words, the Supreme Court should first determine whether a law that is being attacked is in the interest of the people. If so the Court should hold it to be constitutional; if not, unconstitutional. That seems to be Mr. Waggoner's view. And that is where he is badly mistaken.

That is not the function nor duty of the Court at all. It is not the duty of the Supreme Court nor any other court to pass on the wisdom or the desirability of a law. To impose such a duty upon a court would be to give it legislative power. That is the function and duty of Congress—and the President to the extent that he can recommend legislation and veto measures passed by Congress. But the Court is not concerned primarily with the wisdom or the popularity of a law.

It is the duty of the Court to INTERPRET the law—to interpret it as applied to a given set of facts presented to it in a given case.

When the constitutionality of a law is called in question in a case coming before the Court, then it becomes the duty of the Court to determine whether or not that law does in fact square with the constitution; and this involves an interpretation of the constitution, or some section or clause thereof.

The Court in such case is duty bound to give an honest and correct interpretation of the law and the constitution regardless of whether the party hit by the decision is rich or poor, white or black, Jew or Greek, Democrat or Republican or even Communist, farmer, laborer, merchant, banker, manufacturer, or a king of finance. It is not the duty of the Court to interpret the Constitution in the interest of any individual or class. It is merely its duty to say what the law is and what the constitution is, let the chips fall where they may. And we believe that is what the Supreme Court has been faithfully and honestly trying to do.

And we don't believe that even Mr. Waggoner would want the Court to hold that a horse is a jackass just because to so hold might be in the interest of "the common people" in some situation that might arise.

This Editor can never believe it is right to destroy anything God has given us, in the way of farm products, hogs, cattle and other life's necessities, at any rate while so many people are going hungry and half clad. If the Lord should take a hand in this destruction business, he can beat any government in destroying or withholding the products of our lands, by droughts, floods, etc. Let us keep and preserve all He gives us and pray for more. We must lower the tariff and sell cotton in foreign markets as cheap as any foreign cotton raising country will do it. Just take our markets back and thus benefit the South more than any other part of the nation. Pegging the cotton market is OK, giving each farmer so many bales at the highest price. After that let him take whatever the foreign market price is, regardless of how low it may be. Thus we can keep our foreign market and live on the pegged price.—Claude News.

"ME UND GOT"

We noticed in the rotogravure section of some of the daily papers last Sunday a series of pictures depicting the condition of certain farms in the "dust bowl" near Dalhart and in other sections of the plains in 1935 and 1937. The pictures showed these farms in 1935 to be barren and desolate, denuded of their soil or covered with drifting sands. On them in 1937 were luxuriant crops.

All credit for the difference was given to the Government soil conservation experts in Washington. No credit was given to God Almighty nor to the forces of Nature. Indeed, the experts took credit for a cessation of the sandstorms. Their soil conservation methods had reclaimed much of the land, it was asserted. And then the writer continued, "As more and more Dust Bowl farms are reclaimed by similar methods, the dust storms become fewer and fewer."

Such audacity! Admitting that the Government experts have helped the farmers very materially in portions of the so-called Dust Bowl, let it be known that they have no more subdued or tamed the winds that sweep these plains than they have conquered the terrific gales that lash the waters of the Atlantic and the Gulf along the Florida coast.

An almost unprecedented drought had held cruel sway over the Dust Bowl for five or six years preceding and including the year 1935, which would have dried up and killed most of the weeds and grasses in spite of what a thousand Government experts could have done. Following that time, copious rains have come, grasses and flowers have sprung up as if by magic, and seeds planted in the earth have germinated and grown almost like Jack's bean stalk, some yielding thirty, some sixty, and some a hundred fold.

The methods of the experts have helped, and we are grateful for their information and counsel, but their boasting reminds us of the alleged boasts of the former Kaiser Bill speaking of "Me und Got". Only, they have gone the Kaiser one better and leave God out of it altogether.

THEY TALK ABOUT THIRD TERM

This Talk Of Third Terms both in Texas gubernatorial circles and in Washington continues to grow. In other years such talk has gone the rounds to the extent of getting the voters all "het-up," but never has the age old precedent been broken either in Washington or Austin.

The speculation that Gov. James V. Allred might run a third term on a platform espousing a unicameral legislature has given voice to an enthusiastic press and public. The refreshing part of the report is not the third term issue, but the fact that an aspirant for the Governor's chair might come forth with a radical, yet important platform for reorganization.

A unicameral legislature is something Texas may have in the way of a governing body before many years. Senator G. H. Nelson, of the 30th district, went from Tahoka to Austin to fill an unexpired term late in 1935. He introduced the unicameral idea. Since that time it has grown until today it is a state-wide issue. If the voters choose to try it, it might save the state many dollars in operation costs.

Governor Allred may seek a third term, but more than likely his dreams are of higher things. PDR is a smart man, too.—Memphis (Tex) Democrat.

A person who suffered injury some time ago in an automobile collision has filed suit through a Lubbock firm of lawyers against the driver of the other car for damages for personal injuries. If more suits of this kind were filed and more indictments for negligent homicide were returned in fatal automobile "accidents", it might make gentlemen of some road hogs and wise men of some brainless fools.

Jim Wetsel and C. T. Oliver made a business trip this week to Comanche and other places in that section of the state.

With government functions multiplying year after year, new bureaus or commissions being created with every regular term of the legislature, the number of state employees steadily increasing, the social security program gradually expanding, there seems to be no hope for a decrease in taxes any time soon. On the other hand, the outlook is for a constantly increasing demand for taxes. As this demand increases, the demand for the abolition of ad valorem taxes will likewise increase in volume. We have never been very favorable to a general sales tax, but we believe that it is surely coming. Before it comes, we should see to it that a real tax is levied upon some of the natural resources of this state that are practically escaping taxation, considering the profits the owners are reaping. Again, we insist that we need to have representatives of the special interests driven from our Capitol. Whether we have a one-house or a two-house legislature, the number of Representatives should be decreased and the remuneration increased and every legislator prohibited from taking employment as an attorney from any corporation or corporation official during his term of office.

Recently a Negro in Dallas was tried for rape on a 13-year-old white girl. The jury found him guilty but could not agree upon the punishment. Some of the jurors insisted on assessing the death penalty and some insisted on life imprisonment. As a result, there must be another trial. We believe that our state constitution should be so amended as to require the jury to pass only upon the guilt or innocence of the defendant and let the court assess the punishment. There would then be no "hung juries" in such cases as the above, and more even justice would be meted out to those found guilty.

Bosque county voters last Saturday refused to permit the sale of beer by a vote of approximately 1300 to 800. The wets seem to be winning few elections these days. If they finally succeed in inducing the legislature to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink, the dry wave will from that moment begin gaining momentum much more rapidly.

One of our citizens was killed Sunday night because a farmer had parked his truck or trailer beside the pavement upon a highway without having tail lights or reflectors. Too many of our farmers are negligent in this respect. It is terribly dangerous, folks. Put tail lights on your farm trucks or trailers at once, if they are not already there.

Former governor Pat Neff now president of Baylor University, has decreed that there will be no booze drinking among the students of that institution while engaged in baseball, football and other games. Old Pat is right. Anybody knows that a player can't win a game with his brain soaked in alcohol and his muscles gone haywire because of his befuddled brain. Baylor, or any other college team can't hope to win if the players drink booze. A man who drinks booze and thinks he can play a winning game at anything except being a dampfool, has no one fooled except himself.—Sterling City News-Record.

THE GROWL

Senior News
The Senior Play "Goin' Modern" has arrived at last and promises to "pan out" very well indeed. The cast has not yet been selected and there are five men and six women parts.

The Senior rings are soon to be on their way for they will be shipped anywhere from November 11 to the 25. Only ten more need to pay to make the list marked "paid in full". "To be or not to be, that's the question. Or rather the Seniors are finding it to be so in their study of Shakespeare's Hamlet.

Junior News
Monday morning the Juniors held a class meeting to select a class motto, class colors and flowers. For the colors the majority voted for pink and white, while the flower to be the rose. The motto is "You may be what you resolve to be."

W. J. Riddle and Odean Millman, two popular Junior boys, have withdrawn from school this week, the Juniors have their hurt feelings soothed, however, with the enrollment of J. G. Adams, who is formerly of Abilene High School.

Freshman News
The Freshman class has been having very good attendance lately and hope to keep up the good record.

During the past week the Freshman class held a class meeting and by popular vote decided to give their one class party of the year at either Christmas or New Year.

F. F. A. News
Last Monday Nov. 8, the Tahoka Chapter of the Future Farmers of America met at the High School building at 7:45 o'clock to select New Officers. There were 20 present and 1 visitor. The new officers are as follows: President, Bryan Wright; vice-president, J. H. Dyer; secretary, Willis Edwards; treasurer, Pug Parker; reporter, George Bell; historian, James Price; watch dog, Junior Sanders; song leader, Wyman Johnson; District Reporter, Dick Bosworth; and parliamentarian, Truett Cooper.

It was decided to hold meetings on the second and fourth Mondays of each month at 7:30 P. M.

The work of the chapter has been good under the old officers and everyone is to do his best to make the Chapter continue to advance under the new officers.

Tahoka Pupils Defeated Brownfield Junior Eleven

The future football heroes of Tahoka, after allowing the visitors to push them around considerably on the home field, suddenly broke loose and scored a touchdown to defeat the Brownfield Juniors Thursday afternoon 6-0. Harry Bell, member of the famous talented, twisting, fast-traveling, ball-totin', tricky, terrifying triplets, started the fire works by making an off-tackle dash of fifty yards to the five-yard line from which point he plunged over for the score.

The Pupils are showing great improvement. They expect to play the Post Juniors this week.

Tahoka Defeated By Lamesa
Using straight football mainly the Lamesa Tornados defeated the Tahoka Bulldogs last Friday night 21 to 0.

The Bulldogs threatened once in the early part of the game when McCord shot a bullet pass to H. Snowden who carried the ball down to Lamesa's 12 yard line. The first half ended scoreless.

The Tornados came back in the second half and scored three touchdowns; one on a pass and two on running plays.

Dewey Brown, 28, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Brown of the Magnolia community, underwent an operation for appendicitis in the West Texas Hospital Monday morning. He is reported to be improving satisfactorily.

They were: President, Mrs. C. E. Short; vice-president, Mrs. C. M. Greer; secretary, Mrs. A. L. Shepherd; Reporter, Mrs. B. N. Durham; Parliamentarian, Mrs. D. G. Cook; council delegate, Mrs. A. A. Lawson.

FRUIT CAKE DEMONSTRATED TO THREE LAKES CLUB

"Ingredients for my fruit cake cost $1.95," said Mrs. Fred McGinty. Home Food Supply Demonstrator in the Three Lakes Home Demonstration Club, to her club members at a recent meeting.

"This amount did not include the cost of butter, milk and eggs. The total cost could be reduced if the filling was not used. Enough fruit was saved to decorate the cake which was placed on after removing from the pressure cooker. This is not necessary, however, when the filling is made. My cake weighed eight pounds after it was iced," added Mrs. McGinty.

MRS. HOWARD DRAPER IS HOSTESS TO MIDWAY CLUB

Mrs. Howard Draper was hostess to the Midway home demonstration club, recently when they met to discuss methods, materials and implements that save energy in the kitchen.

The proper care of the energy savers was discussed among those present, this being Mmes. H. A. Rowe, Pete Curry, Alice Duncan, Sam H. Floyd, G. A. Edwards, R. B. Floyd, Rufus Slover, I. M. Draper, and Howard Draper.

The eighteenth child was born to Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Moore of Wilson in a Lubbock hospital last Saturday night. Mother and babe, which is a son, are doing well. Sixteen of the eighteen children are living. The oldest is 24 years old. There have been three sets of twins.

Many friends will be gratified to learn that Max Minor, who has been so seriously ill of peritonitis, is now steadily improving. It will probably be necessary for him to remain in the hospital a week or ten days longer, however.

We have heard of two or three new cases of scarlet fever during the past week but they seem to be mild cases and all are isolated.

Judge B. H. Howard of Crosbyton and his son Vanroe of Lubbock spent the week end here with the former's daughter, Mrs. Frank Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Kirk Pitts attended a meeting of Red & White store operators in Lubbock Wednesday night.

Light Showers Cover Lynn County

A slow rain which fell several hours Tuesday morning amounted to .47 of an inch in Tahoka. Probably about the same amount fell in other parts of the county.

The rain fell gently and little damage was done to the cotton still in the field.

Although the first killing frost was due about November 2, according to the law of averages, we have had no killing frost yet. A light frost visited this section a few weeks ago, and a little ice was reported in some parts of the county, but the weather on the whole has been fine, thank you.

RED CROSS DRIVE STARTS OFF WELL

The first report as to the results of the Red Cross Drive which started Thursday morning came from Draw. The drive started there on Wednesday in fact, with Mrs. Reagan and Mrs. John Berry in charge. Forty-one members were secured the first day.

TAHOKA, TEXAS

Lamesa Rotary Club Guests

The Tahoka Rotary Club will entertain the Lamesa Club with a banquet at the American Legion Hall here next Monday night.

This function here is the result of an attendance contest recently ended between the two clubs. Tahoka made an attendance record during the two months of September and October of more than 95 per cent, but Lamesa posted up a record of 100 per cent. Lamesa therefore was the winner. Each club has near 30 members.

While the Tahoka Club will furnish the "eats" the Lamesa boys will render the program, and it is expected to be a dandy. President Wynne Collier and Secretary Dea Nowlin are insisting that every member of the Tahoka club not sick abed shall be present.

The regular club meeting will be held next Thursday, at which time Dea Nowlin will discuss "City Affairs" and J. B. McPherson will talk about the possibility of expanding Tahoka's trade territory. A most interesting program was given on Thursday of last week, when the members witnessed a verbal battle between the Army and the Navy. A. M. Cade did the heavy firing for the army and Leonard Craft manned the naval guns. The boys certainly entertained the on-lookers.

Bulldogs Defeat O'Donnell 20 to 7

Tahoka's Armistice Day football game played with the O'Donnell team on the O'Donnell gridiron Thursday morning resulted in a victory for the Bulldogs, the score being 20 to 7.

Many high school students, including the pep squad, and other Tahoka people witnessed the game.

Although not yet near the top, the Bulldogs have given a good account of themselves thus far this season and the team is growing better all the time.

Compulsory Farm Bill Is Favored

Colorado — Congressman George Mahon, prior to his departure for Washington to attend the special session which convenes Monday, November 15th, made the following statement concerning the prospects for farm legislation:

"I think it is impossible to predict just what kind of bill will be passed. In our District a strong preference for a compulsory control bill has been expressed by a great majority of the farmers with whom I have come in contact in farm meetings or otherwise. Most cotton producers favor adjusted payments equivalent to parity, 16 cents or above, on that portion of the crop produced for domestic consumption. They feel that a moderate reduction program is necessary, but that adjustment payments will be required in order to get a price for cotton domestically consumed commensurate with the American standard of living. In view of the tremendous foreign production they realize that American cotton sold abroad will have to be sold in competition with the world and at a low price. In each county they favor allotments to each farm on a uniform basis of equality regardless of the length of time the farm has been in cultivation. They favor no discrimination against new farms in areas where a normal development of agricultural land is taking place. They favor a program which will place the emphasis on a normal sized farm in each locality. They favor a farm policy which will encourage operation of farms by tenants or occupant owners and which will discourage the displacement of tenants and large operations through hired labor methods.

"In the minds of the producers there is a wide variety of opinions as to what should be done. In Congress, which is made up of representatives from all sections of the nation, there will be even a greater diversity of opinion. However, I think it can be safely predicted that the new program will be an improvement over the old."

C. F. Galyen received a message Tuesday informing him that his brother, Jack Galyen, had died of heart trouble in Waco that morning. C. F., who has been unwell for a long time, was not physically able to attend the funeral. Another brother also died of heart trouble back in the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Reid of De Queen, Arkansas, are here visiting Mr. G. M. Reid, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Reid, and Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Reid.

Strength During MIDDLE LIFE

Strength is extra-important for women going through the change of life. Then the body needs the very best nourishment to fortify it against the changes that are taking place.

In such cases, Cardui has proved helpful to many women. It increases the appetite and aids digestion, favoring more complete transformation of food into living tissue, resulting in improved nutrition and building up and strengthening of the whole system.

PRESBYTERIAN SERVICES SUNDAY

This year is stealing away from us. Soon another Thanksgiving season is upon us, when the poor orphans and other needy will greet with joy our Thanksgiving offerings. Is this our experience, that "It is more blessed to give than to receive"? Thank the Lord for blessings had, and let us help others, who have not.

The fall meetings of our Presbytery and Synod are over. The pastor was hardly able to attend either of these meetings. Reports of the same indicate a good year for the churches and our home and foreign mission work.

The urge of the hour throughout our Church is more prayer and personal work. Preaching the gospel and winning the lost to Christ is our chief business as a Church. It's grand to be about the King's business.

Be in our services next Sunday. Preaching at 11 A. M. No night services. Morning theme: "A Clarion Call Upon Christians Today". Fine gospel songs and good fellowship always in our services.

Remember the Sunday School hour, 10 A. M. The mission of the Sunday School is educational as well as spiritual help for the whole Church. It's a wonderfully paying or compensating habit to go to Sunday School every Sunday. Try it. And don't miss your religious opportunity every Sunday.

Women's Auxiliary meets Monday afternoon. Bible study: Second Chapter of Ephesians. Read the whole book, and come. "Study" is a key word of the New Testament, as well as a secret of attainment in life. A need of the times is more Bible study, in the family and church life.

Glad to have you in our services 11 A. M. Sunday. Everybody cordially invited.—W. K. Johnston, Minister.

ELDER DRENNON'S NOTES

Here we are again; and the sun has gone behind the clouds which reminds us that into every life some rain must fall, some days must be dark and dreary, but remember the sun still shines and the clouds will roll by soon and all will be bright.

As I looked on the cold form of Mr. Ben Lee this afternoon, I was made to realize that the time of our departing this life is very uncertain. How sad! Our hearts go out in sympathy to the family.

I had the privilege of tying up another fine couple last Saturday night. Mr. Coy Murry and Miss Okla Casey were the happy pair. They were both from the Draw community. The wedding took place at the home of the groom's sister here in Tahoka.

I had a very pleasant day last Lord's Day; preached morning and afternoon at Gail, night at Mesquite, where I found some good, honest people hungry to hear the word of God. What a fine thing to speak to a crowd of earnest listeners! I wish we had more people eager to hear God's word preached. I am afraid some of the church folks have lost their relish for the pure word of God.

I spoke Sunday night on six of the greatest questions that confront us today. They are: "Am I my brother's keeper?", "If a man die shall he live again?", "What will it profit us if we gain the whole world and lose our own soul?", "Where shall I spend Eternity?", "What must I do to be saved?", and "What shall I do then with Jesus which is called the Christ?" I think that in the answer to these questions is the solution of all of life's problems.

I will fill the pulpit at O'Donnell next Lord's Day.

Yours for more liberal giving to the cause of Christ.—R.P. Drennon.

MORGAN COUPLE WED

Walter B. Holland and Miss Lois Willingham, both of the Morgan Community, were united in marriage in Wilson Sunday, Rev. Paul McCasland officiating.

Mr. Holland is the brother of Wade Holland of this city and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Willingham. They will continue to reside in the Morgan community.

This is the time of the year to pay your subscription to the News.

METHODIST CLOSE CONFERENCE YEAR

Next Sunday will be our last day for this Conference year. Annual Conference will meet at Quanah November 17. The pastor and wife and Mr. C. A. Thomas and wife are planning on going. Let's make next Sunday a good day.

Next Sunday night at 7 o'clock there will be a pageant, "The Terrible Meek", a story of the Cross put on by Rev. Cecil Matthews, student pastor of Tech, assisted by some young people. There will be special music and a very interesting and inspiring pageant. We speak for them a good crowd. Remember the hour is 7 instead of 7:30.—Reporter.

MR. SKINNER COMING

Mrs. Gladys M. Stokes, local representative of the Southwestern Life Insurance Company, announces that Mr. H. L. Skinner, district agency supervisor for the Company, will be here the week of November 15-20 to take care of all local business that may need attention.

Any person desiring to see him may find him either at her office or at the First National Bank during the week.

Many of our subscribers, when they pay their subscriptions, generously volunteer a little praise of the paper. L. E. Claiborne out on Route 1 and J. C. Welch of New Home were among those who paid early this week and who praised the paper highly. All of which we genuinely appreciate.

Miss Viola Ellis took Mrs. Robert E. Finley back to her home at Hico last week. Mrs. Finley had been visiting here and at Lubbock for a number of weeks. They were accompanied by Miss Viola's sister, Miss Sarah Ellis, and Mr. Finley's nephew, Cecil Terrell.

Miss Bernice Grundy of Quitaque, now a student in the Texas Tech, was the guest of her friend, Miss La Ruth Walden, last Sunday.

STATED MEETINGS of Tahoka Lodge No. 1041 the first Tuesday night in each month at 8:30. Members urged to attend. Visitors welcome.

Trustworthiness

PEOPLE would try harder for trustworthiness if they knew how lovable a quality it is. When you know you can rely upon any one, that whatever they undertake to do will be done, that you can really pass over a share of your load to them, you cannot help liking them.

On the other hand, it does not matter how amiable men may be, if they are forgetful, if they are unpunctual, if they are habitually neglectful, they become sources of such annoyance that one's liking is apt to die out.—Sir William Robertson.

Yes, Constipation Is Serious But It Can't Poison You!

Say Doctors

Modern doctors now say that the old idea of poisons getting into your blood from constipation is BUNK. They claim that constipation sends up the bowels causing pressure on nerves in the digestive tract. This nerve pressure is what causes frequent belching, gas, distention, headache, upset stomach, dull, tired-out feeling, sleepless nights, coated tongue, bad taste and loss of appetite. Don't suffer hours or even days longer than necessary. You must GET THAT PRESSURE OFF THE NERVES TO GET RELIEF. Flush the intestinal system. When offending wastes are gone the bowels return to normal and nerve pressure STOPS. Almost as once you feel marvelously refreshed, blue again, and life looks bright again. That is why so many doctors are now insisting on gentle but QUICK ACTION. That is why YOU should insist on Adierka. This efficient intestinal evacuant contains SEVEN cathartic and osmotic ingredients. Adierka acts on the stomach as well as the entire intestinal tract. Adierka relieves stomach GAS as soon as other remedies baffle congestion in half an hour. No violent action, no after effects, just QUICK results. Recommended by many doctors and druggists for 35 years.

30 MINUTES AFTER Eating-Drinking ALKALIZE

The fastest way to "alkalize" is to carry your alkalizer with you. That's what thousands do now that genuine Phillips' comes in tiny, peppermint flavored tablets—in a flat tin for pocket or purse. Then you are always ready. Use it this way. Take 2 Phillips' tablets—equal in "alkalizing" effect to 2 teaspoonfuls of liquid Phillips' from the bottle. At once you feel "gas," nausea, "over-crowding" from hyper-acidity begin to ease. "Acid headaches," "acid breath," "over-acid stomach" are corrected at the source. This is the quick way to ease your own distress—avoid offense to others.

Watch Your Kidneys!

Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste

Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging headache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. Use Doan's Pills. Doan's have been winning new friends for more than forty years. They have a nation-wide reputation. Are recommended by grateful people the country over. Ask your neighbor!

what Irvin S. Cobb thinks about:

Species of Candidates.

SANTA MONICA, CALIF.—It takes all kinds of candidates to make up this world. Maybe that's why the world seems so overcrowded.

There's the candidate who belongs to all the secret orders; if he left off his emblems, he'd catch cold; knows every grand hailing sign there is; hasn't missed a lodge brother's funeral in years; can hardly wait for the next one to die. No campaign complete without him.

Candidate specializing in the hearty handshake, the neck-embrace, the shoulder-slap, the bear-hug, the gift of remembering every voter by his first name, and the affectionate inquiry regarding the wife and kiddies. When he kisses a baby, it sounds like somebody taking off a pair of wet overshoes. Usually has a weather-beaten wife needing a new hat.

Strutty candidate who's constantly leading an imaginary parade of 50,000 faithful followers. Loves to poke his chest away out and then follows it majestically down the street. A common or standardized species.

Biblical Wisdom.

IN THE BOOK OF NAHUM, Chapter II. I came upon this verse:

"The chariots shall rage in the streets, they shall jostle one against another in the broad ways; they shall seem like torches, they shall run like the lightnings."

Those Old Testament prophets certainly peered a long way into the future. Because I traveled by night through a main thoroughfare leading from Los Angeles to the sea and vice versa, and I knew what Nahum was describing.

But not even an inspired seer of the Bible could imagine a record of traffic mortality so ghastly as the one we've already compiled in this year of grace 1937 A. D. (automobile destruction)—or a people so speed-mad.

How to Fight Japs.

WHENEVER we have a Japanese war scare, I think of Uncle Lum Whittemore, back in west Kentucky, who loved to dispense wisdom as he hitched one practiced instep on a brass rail and with his free hand fought the rest; dent flies for the tidbit of free lunch which he held in his grip.

One day a fellow asked Uncle Lum, who had served gallantly in the Southern Confederacy until a very hard rainstorm came up, what he'd do if the yellow peril boys invaded America.

"I'd hunt me a hollow tree in the deep woods," he said. "Yes, son, the owls would have to fetch me my mail, I been readin' up on them Japs. They're fatalists."

"What's a fatalist?" demanded someone.

"Near ez I kin make out," stated the veteran, "a fatalist is a party that thinks you're doin' him a deep pussional favor when you kill him."

Hollywood Fashions.

SOME envious style expert says Hollywood fashions are too garish. If he's talking about Hollywood males, I say they're just garish enough. If they were any more garish than they are, visitors would have to wear blinders, and if they were any less garish, Italian sunsets would stand a chance in the competition. And I want the championship to stay in America.

Billy Gaxton picks out something suitable for a vest to be worn to a fancy dress party and then has a whole suit made out of it. Bob Montgomery's ties are the kind that I buy in moments of weakness and then keep in a bureau drawer because I'm not so brave as Bob is; and also I keep the drawer closed because I can't stand those sudden dazzling glares. And Bing Crosby is either color-blind or thinks everybody else is. But his crooning is mighty soothing. And so it goes—red, pink, green, purple, orange, sky-blue and here and there a dash of lavender.

Our local boys gladden the landscape with the sort of clothes I'd wear, too—only my wife won't let me. Stop, look, listen! That's our sartorial motto, and these jealous designers back east can kindly go jump in a dye-pot.

Home of the Celt

Little reference is made to Britanny in the ancient classics, save that Pliny speaks of it as the "Looking-on Peninsula," with its eye and vision set upon the Atlantic, and Caesar tells something of the fighting qualities of the Veneti who inhabited the southwestern seacoast. As is well known, it is the home of the Celt, and neither the highlands of Scotland nor the west of Ireland, nor Wales can produce a finer type of that ancient race that dowered Europe with a civilization long before Homer sang of the Greek gods.

Lesson for November 14

THE CHRISTIAN MINISTER

LESSON TEXT—I Timothy 4:6-16; II Timothy 2:1-4.
GOLDEN TEXT—Neglect not the gift that is in thee.—I Timothy 4:14.
PRIMARY TOPIC—Two Brave Preachers.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Two Brave Preachers.
INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Why and How Ministers Are Trained.
YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—The Christian Minister in the Modern World.

"The Christian Minister"—there is no greater calling among men, but none is more often the target for misrepresentation and abuse by those outside, and all too often the victim of the carelessness, weakness, and sin of those within its own circle. On the other hand it has had, and continues to have to this day, within its ranks such a noble army of faithful and sacrificial men as would probably be impossible to duplicate in any other calling.

The study of today's lesson should arouse in the hearts of Christian people a high regard for the ministry as a calling, and a kindly purpose to aid their minister to live up to its glorious possibilities. Every true minister who studies it will find his spirit humbled before God in thanksgiving for the privilege of service, and in prayer that he may be forgiven for his failures and empowered for the work of the future.

The need for such a study is indicated in the verses just preceding our lesson, namely, I Timothy 4:1-5, where we read of the express warning of the Spirit of God that in the latter times there should be teaching and preaching which departed from the faith, substituting men's wisdom for God's Word. One who looks around him cannot but feel that we have fallen upon that evil day.

I. What to Preach (I Tim. 4:6-9).
The "good minister of Jesus Christ" preaches the words of God. To do this he must himself be "nourished" by them. Spare your preacher the necessity of running errands, serving on boards and committees, and encourage him to study his Bible.

Preacher, are you studying God's Book, learning and teaching "good doctrine"? If so you will have no interest in or time for "profane and old wives fables."

II. How to Preach (I Tim. 4:10-12).

1. Sacrificially (v. 10). The man who regards the ministry as a nice, easy, respectable occupation is not in the same calling as was the apostle Paul. In fact, there is nothing to indicate that he is in the Christian ministry at all, for in that calling there is labor and suffering of reproach. This is not something to be borne in a spirit of resigned submission. The minister knows and gladly bears every responsibility with which God may entrust him.

2. Authoritatively (v. 11). The minister of Christ speaks for God. In doing so he teaches with assurance and is to "command" men in the Lord's name. All too often the servants of the Lord feel and act like "grasshoppers" (see Numbers 13:33), and everybody else regards them as feeble and impotent, when they should be "strong in the grace that is in Christ Jesus" (II Tim. 2:1).

3. Actively (v. 12). Whether young or old, the minister is to be an example, a pattern in his active daily life. Note how discriminating is the scripture. He is to be a pattern for others in speech, manner of living, in love, in spirit, in faith, and in purity of life.

III. Who is to Preach (I Tim. 4:13-16).

1. The man who is divinely called (v. 14). God called Timothy; men recognized that call and ordained him to give his life to the exercise of his God-given gift. This is the right order for our day.

2. The man who is properly prepared (v. 13, 15-16). The ministry calls for the best preparation that a man can possibly obtain. He must know how to read God's Word, both publicly and privately. He is to be skilled in exhortation, and in teaching Christian doctrine.

In conclusion, let us consider the portion from II Timothy 2 which properly presents the work of the minister as that of a soldier at war against the world, the flesh, and the devil. He must be prepared to bear hardness, and he must not yield to the temptation to get into "side-lines," no matter how dignified and profitable they may be. His sole business is to serve and to please God.

What Education Means

The real object of education is to give children resources that will endure as long as life endures; habits that time will ameliorate, not destroy; occupation that will render sickness tolerable, solitude pleasant, age venerable, life more dignified and useful, and death less terrible.—Sydney Smith.

A Happy Man

Happy the man who sees a God employed in all the good and ill that checker life.—Gowper.

AROUND the HOUSE

Items of Interest to the Housewife

Shoes Must Have Air.—Do not keep your shoes in the boxes in which they were delivered. Shoes require air to preserve them, and they should never be kept in an air-tight box. Keep them in a shoe bag.

Sealing Fish.—Fish may be sealed easily by first dipping them into boiling water for a minute.

A Darning Ball.—A discarded electric light bulb makes a good darning ball.

Removing Blueing Spots.—Blueing spots on white clothing can be removed by boiling in clear water.

Serving Omelets.—Omelets should be placed on hot platters to keep them from falling.

Inexpensive Stew.—Chop two onions and a large carrot finely, and cut a pound of neck lamb into small pieces. Put into a saucepan with one cup macaroni broken into small lengths, cover with warm water and season. Let it simmer gently for one and a half hours.

Whipping Cream.—If whipped cream will not stand up, it is often due to the fact that the cream is not sufficiently chilled. It is important, too, to have a heavy cream of the right butter fat (20 to 30 per cent) and 12 to 24 hours old. The cream must be cold, and is best beaten in a cold container.

Ox-Tail Pie.—Wash ox tail in salted water and joint; put into pan, cover with water, and simmer until almost cooked. Line bottom and sides of pie dish with slices of raw potato sprinkled with pepper and salt. Cover with strips of bacon, then place ox tail in center and pour in stock; season and cover with more slices of potato. Cover with pastry and bake in a quick oven.

Save Table Surface.—If you will place a folded cloth under a dish which contains foods to be beaten you'll find the table surface will be saved many marks and the dish will be kept steady.

Summer Knight Is Back In Hospital

Summer Knight, who has been seriously ill so long, was taken back to the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon.

Physicians now say that he is suffering from Bright's disease. Apparently, Summer has been suffering from a complication of diseases since he was first taken to the hospital several months ago. He first underwent an operation for mastoid trouble, but he did not improve much following the operation. The poison seemed to penetrate his whole system. He was taken to Hot Springs, New Mexico, where it was hoped that the water would be helpful to him. But he could not stand to take the hot baths. He remained there under treatment for two or three months and was then brought back to Tahoka only slightly improved, if indeed there was any improvement at all. Recently his condition has grown worse, and he is back in the hospital.

It is devoutly hoped by many friends that physicians may yet be able to afford him much relief and to bring him back to at least a fair degree of health.

Mrs. G. A. Brasfield of Andrews spent Saturday night and Sunday here with her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Hartman.

Member News Force Undergoes Operation

Frank P. Hill of the News office is scheduled to undergo an operation for mastoid trouble in the West Texas Hospital in Lubbock this morning (Friday). X-ray pictures of the mastoid process taken Wednesday revealed a very decided affection of the tissues of that peculiar organ, if organ it be, and physicians advised an operation without delay.

It is believed, however, that an operation now will be entirely efficacious and that a complete cure of the trouble can be effected.

Frank was first taken to the hospital on September 23, when he suffered the rupture of the eardrum on one side of the head as the result of a severe cold and an annoying attack of hay fever. He has been under treatment since that time but has been at work in the News office much of the time in spite of his illness. He has never been well, however, and recently his condition has grown worse.

We expect him to be back in the office within a few weeks in better health, possibly, than he has enjoyed for months.

LATE COTTON CROP IS NOW OPENING

hundreds of bales of seed cotton piled in the fields, the farmers preferring to heap it up on their own premises rather than to pile it up on the gin yards.

Northwest Lynn county is going to be a little later than other portions of the county in getting its cotton harvested but it is going to roll up an enormous total of bales in the end.

J. L. Reese says that turnips can be raised in town just as well as in the country. To prove it, he brought to the News office Monday several nice turnips which he pulled from his own patch. They are not as large as some that have been brought in, but they are fine-flavored. So, we are still living on corn bread and buttermilk and good old turnips, when we can manage to get the milk and bread.

A. T. Cobb is now able to be up again after a week's illness with the flu. His son, Joe Cobb of Brownfield, has been here this week looking after the store during his father's illness.
