Big Employment Gains Reported

INCREASE ATTRIBUTED TO NRA PROGRAM BY WILLIAM GREEN

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28. — Big employment gains today were attributed to the Roosevelt recovery program by William Green, American Federation of Labor chieftain, but employer-labor difficulties — this time involving Henry Ford — continued to worry NRA officials.

Green said the federation's estimate that 815,000 persons returned to work in August represented "greater progress in employment than in any month since depression." He counted the remaining unemployed at 11,000,000 and said "relief needs this winter will be greater than ever before."

Policy Change Seen

Coincident with Green's comments on the recovery program were fresh intimations that a change in monetary policies to aid farm prices may be forthcoming soon. Dr. James H. Rogers of Yale returned from a talk with President Roosevelt to confer with ranking federal financial officers.

Though official comment was lacking, the Rogers conferences served to relieve talk of a commodity dollar with less than the present dollar's buying power.

While representatives of the aluminum and banking businesses gathered for public hearings today on their NRA codes, recovery officials were concerned at the sudden closing of the Ford plant at Chester, Pennsylvania, after a strike of workers. Henry Ford has never signed the automobile code.

"NRA Is Powerless"

"The NRA is powerless if an employer chooses to shut down his plant," Senator Wagner, chairman of the national labor board, commented when a mediator sent to conciliate the strike reported the plant closed.

"As the recovery act does not require anyone to operate if he does not so choose," Wagner added.

But officials regarded the episode as another indication of the differences between the NRA and Ford, and watched for developments. Hugh S. Johnson, recovery administrator, was due back at his desk today from an absence caused by a minor operation.

Restaurant Owner Is Shot To Death

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 28. (AP)— A shot from the dark brought death to Walter S. Manion, restaurant owner, in a drive-way between a freight warehouse and a packing plant.

Two newsboys, Rudolph and Angel Sanchez, brothers, were passing the entrance to the driveway at the moment the shot was fired, heard it, and turned in time to see Manion fall. A circle of light from a street light enabled the boys to see the victim, but the assassin remained in the deeper shadows of the driveway and the boys caught no glimpse of him.

His Little Joke Causes His Death

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. —(AP)— Fred Conrad's little joke caused his death today. In a spirit of fun he approached an automobile in which friends were sitting. "Stick 'em up," he commanded.

A passing patrolman heard. He saw that Conrad was carrying a top coat draped over his right wrist as if he had a gun.

"Drop that gun," the policeman shouted.

Conrad couldn't obey because he had no gun. Speechless with fright, he backed away. The policeman fired and killed him. Conrad was 29.

FEAR IS FELT FOR SHERIFF

TEN PRISONERS STILL AT LARGE; TROOPS JOIN IN SEARCH

(By The Associated Press)

CHESTERTON, Ind., Sept. 28— There was a growing apprehension today that Sheriff Charles Neel of Corydon, Ind., may have been put to death by four of the ten convicts who slugged and shot their way out of the Indiana state prison last Tuesday.

Captain Mathew Leach, in command of the Indiana state police frankly said he was worried over the fate of the missing sheriff, who was kidnaped by the escaping felons, and that his men would concentrate their efforts on an attempt to find the sheriff, rather than the capture of the missing convicts.

"We'll get them sooner or later anyway," he predicted.

Meanwhile 200 national guardsmen were ordered to join the police in their search for the convicts, who have been reported seen in various places. One report had four or five of the desperadoes in Chicago. Another sent officers hurrying to a spot near Valparaiso, while a third caused 150 officers to surround a wooded tract near McCool, Ind. No trace of the missing men, however, was found.

"MACHINE GUN" CONFESSES KIDNAPING

DENIES TAKING PART IN CHICAGO HOLDUP, KANSAS CITY JOB

(By The Associated Press)

MEMPHIS, Sept. 28.— Prodded by federal authorities, George "Machine Gun" Kelly has talked.

W. A. Rorer, department of justice agent, announced last night the "bad man" from the southwest had confessed a part in the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma City oil man, but that he had stoutly denied two other crimes.

"You've got me right on the Urschel kidnaping, but not the Chicago robbery and the Kansas City Union station job," Rorer quoted Kelly as saying.

Bates Named Accomplice

Amplifying Rorer's brief announcement, a confidential source close to the federal authorities said Kelly in his oral confession had named Albert Bates, now on trial at Oklahoma City, as the gunman's actual accomplice in the Urschel kidnaping.

"Kelly made no formal confession but he told the department of justice agents," the informant said, "that he and Bates were the ones who did the actual kidnaping and that they took Urschel to Paradise, Texas, and returned to Oklahoma City to collect the ransom.

"Kelly indicated the degree of guilt of the others connected with the case and gave some idea of the disposition of the ransom money."

The Chicago robbery referred to in Rorer's announcement was the holdup of Federal Reserve bank messengers and the slaying of a policeman, Sept. 21. The "Kansas City Union station job" was the massacre of four officers and their prisoner, Frank Nash, another notorious outlaw, in an attempt to liberate Nash.

FORD WALKOUT IS SPREADING

FIVE HUNDRED OTHERS REFUSE TO WORK IN SYMPATHY STRIKE

(By The Associated Press)

EDGEWATER, N. J., Sept. 28— Five hundred employes of the Ford Motor company assembly plant here refused to go to work today in what was described as a "sympathy" walkout for striking laborers at the Chester, Pa., plant of the same company.

At the same time, a crowd estimated by police at 1,500 and said by authorities to have come from Chester in 200 automobiles, took up picket posts outside the plant here in an attempt to force out the 1,000 remaining workers.

No trouble was reported, but the entire Edgewater police force of 23 men under Lieutenant Alexander Flannery was at the scene.

Police Chief Frank Joret and Police Commissioner James J. Kennedy conferred with Neill Brown, superintendent of the plant, presumably in regard to future action, but no announcement was made.

The Chester plant was closed as the result of the strike there.

GOVERNOR JIM HITS ALLEGED DISLOYALTY

SAYS FOES TRYING TO INVESTIGATE HIS PRIVATE AFFAIRS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. — James E. Ferguson, husband of the governor of Texas, in a statement today challenged "anybody" who "wants to make a charge against me personally or any member of the Ferguson administration," to do so.

Frank W. Chudej, long time business associate of Ferguson, had testified in the senate, before a committee of the whole investigating the Texas Rehabilitation and Relief commission, about receiving from Ferguson $22,000 in currency, some of it in large denominations, at intervals, over a period of seven months. Chudej said he carried out Ferguson's instructions and deposited it in an Austin bank to the credit of certain business accounts carried by Ferguson.

Source Not Known

He said he did not know the source of the money.

Previously, Lawrence Westbrook, director of the relief commission, testified that James E. Ferguson had presided at a number of meetings of the commission. Governor Miriam A. Ferguson is ex officio chairman of the commission.

"Frantic in the failure of their attack upon the present relief commission they now seek to bring my personal and private matters into the record," Ferguson stated. "Calling to their support two former friends, whom I have in the past provided a livelihood for and procured them employment with which they could feed their families, they now produce my private records in the hope by insinuation to cast some reflection upon my character.

Raps "Disloyalty"

"I am glad to say that after they have done their worst, they produce nothing that I have tried to conceal and they prove nothing that I have done except to give my personal credit to the support of different concerns with which I was connected and out of which concerns these two disloyal friends had been provided in the past."

The Ferguson statement said the main issue before the senate was "what are you going to do with the

A powerful figure in Arkansas politics, Wilson was the founder and owner of the "model" town of Wilson, Ark. His farming operations included 40,000 acres in one Arkansas county alone, as well as large acreages in other states.

Arguments Open In Kidnap Trial

KEENAN DRAWS PARALLEL BETWEEN EXTORTIONS OF PIRATES OF HUNDRED YEARS AGO AND THE DEPREDATIONS OF URSCHEL KIDNAP GANG

(By The Associated Press)

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 28. — A parallel to the extortions exacted by Tripolitan pirates more than a hundred years ago was found in the depredations of the kidnap band that held Charles F. Urschel by Joseph B. Keenan, assistant United States attorney general, as he opened the arguments in the celebrated case here today.

Terming the pirates of old "international gangsters," Keenan declared the government of today was just as determined to wipe out the machine gun armed extorters of today.

"We throw to the gangs the same challenge that rang through out the young nation then," said Keenan. "'Millions for defense, but not one cent for tribute'."

"The interest of the nation is focused upon the drama now coming to a close in this courtroom, and we are here to find an answer to the question of whether we shall have a government of law and order or abdicate in favor of machine gun gangsters," Keenan declared.

The ten defendants in the present conspiracy case were named in turn by Keenan in his opening words.

"If this government of ours cannot protect its citizens, then we had better turn its control over to the Bateses, Baileys, Shannons and the others and frankly admit our failure," he said.

Albert Bates and Harvey Bailey are accused as principal defendants in the $200,000 kidnap case, with George Kelly, gunman arrested in Memphis. The others are R. G. (Boss) Shannon, his wife, Ora, and his son Armon, and the five Minneapolis and St. Paul men, Barney Berman, Clifford Skelly, Isadore Blumenfeld, Sam Kronick and Sam Kozberg.

Keenan referred to the unusual

FIVE ARE HELD AS SUSPECTS

THREE MEN AND TWO WOMEN ARRESTED IN KIDNAPING PROBE

(By The Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, Sept. 28 — Three men and two women were jailed by department of justice operatives and police today folowing a raid on a north Minneapolis narcotic cure institution after an underworld tip that men wanted in the Charles F. Urschel and John (Jake the Barber) Factor kidnapings were hiding there. Investigators declined to reveal whom they held.

Narcotics Found

Two city detectives and a uniformed patrolman with a machine gun went to the home on the local north side early today after their assistance was asked by two federal justice men working on the Urschel kidnaping in Oklahoma City and the Factor seizure in Chicago. A satchel full of narcotics and hypodermic syringes, two rifles, and an automatic pistol were seized at the place.

Two of the men taken in custody were said to be from the east, one from the Bronx, New York, and the other from Jersey City. Both gave their occupations as bookmakers.

It was learned the justice department received a tip that a man named Brady, said to be a companion of Ice Connors former Stillwater convict wanted in connection with the Factor case, was at the rest cure place. The raid came on this information but Brady was not found.

STATE RELIEF CHANGE SEEN

SUSPENSION OF TEXAS ANTI-TRUST LAWS IS PREDICTED

(Special to The Journal)

AUSTIN, Sept. 28—The special session of the legislature has reached its half-way mark. It was convened by the governor for two distinct purposes: Pass laws to make NRA codes effective in Texas and clear the way for relief to the needy through the $20,000,000 bond issue authorized in August.

To an observer on the side-lines two conclusions in regard to the above subjects are obvious at this time. The state's anti-trust laws will be suspended in order that the NRA may operate without restraint for the coming two years; administration of relief funds will be withdrawn from the Texas Relief commission as it now operates.

Complaints Are Heard

As law-makers gathered on Sept 14 they brought with them complaints against the administrative policies of the relief commission. By the time the session got under way the complaints had become a veritable barrage. Politics, favoritism, waste and inefficiency were charged from all sections of the state.

Both houses decided forthwith that an investigation should be held. Before plans could be formulated for the issuance of state relief bonds to match federal bread and job money coming into Texas, they wanted to see if administration in the past had been proper; to determine if the present relief commission should be left in power or if some new system should be inaugurated.

Accounting Called For

They called for a full accounting of funds handled by the relief commission and also a report of the work done last winter under Governor Ross Sterling when the state's

THREE OTHERS ARE INJURED AT WICHITA

BODIES ARE CHARRED BEYOND RECOGNITION IN EXPLOSION

(By The Associated Press)

WICHITA FALLS, Sept. 28.—Three men were killed and three others were injured early today when an explosion and fire wrecked the Taxman refinery here.

Three bodies recovered were believed to be those of Ralph Spettel and Clyde Holland, insulators, and Bob Finley, chief mechanic. They were charred beyond recognition and identification was established through a check of those employes not accounted for.

Another May Die

Fred Arbuckle, plant operator, was injured perhaps fatally. Clyde Griffin, assistant operator, and C. B. Ward, electrician, were less seriously hurt. Arbuckle was outside the plant when the explosion occurred and his clothing was burned away before help reached him.

Damage was estimated at $250,000.

The plant had a capacity of 2,500 barrels daily and was located in the north part of the city on the Iowa Park road. Employing about 30 persons, the refinery opened last night after being closed a day or two for repairs.

The men, on the bubble tower of a cracker when the blast occurred, had no chance to escape.

DARING THIEVES TAKE MAIL LOOT

BOSTON, Sept. 28. —(AP)—Three sacks of registered mail containing money and valuables estimated by postal officials to be worth more than $100,000 were stolen from the south station this morning by four daring daylight thieves. They fled in an automobile.

One of the sacks was known as a "coin bag" and was outward bound to banks on Cape Cod. Postal officials told the police this contained money aggregating $40,000 to $50,000.

The other mail sacks were to be sent to Taunton, Mass., and Newport, R. I., the police were informed, and contained payrolls, in addition to the general run of registered mail.

FORT WORTH, Sept. 28. —(AP)— Charley Williams, Smithfield farmer, waited more than four years — but he got the girl.

SIX HORSES ARE KILLED BY MALADY WHICH ALSO AFFECTS HUMAN BEINGS

Death of at least six horses, tentatively attributed to encephalitis, or inflammation of the covering of the brain and spinal cord, has been reported in the Lubbock vicinity this week.

Laboratory technicians, to whom spinal fluid of a horse was sent for analysis, concluded the ailment was encephalitis, which sometimes, among horses as among human beings, follows influenza.

A local pharmacy this morning had been unable to procure serum for treatment of horses so affected.

Several cases of lethargic encephalitis, or one type of so-called sleeping sickness, occurred among human beings, at least one of whom died, here late in the influenza epidemic of last winter. Affected persons and livestock alike either become drowsy, sometimes relaxing into a state of coma, or excessively active and even violent.

Of two persons suffering from encephalitis, one may be unable to stay awake and the other unable to sleep. Epidemics of the lethargic form were reported in St. Louis, Kansas City, and other midwestern cities this summer.

At least five horses were reported to have recovered seemingly from the ailment here.

TECH STUDENTS HEAR PRESIDENT IN TALK ON IMPORTANCE OF EDUCATION

Assembled in the first convocation of the present school year, students of Texas Technological college heard their president, Dr. Bradford Knapp, emphasize the importance of an education and then shed his pedagogical dignity and lead them in a rousing football cheer. Approximately 2,000 students and faculty members attended the convocation in the college gymnasium.

"In all your college work, do not neglect to train all sides of your complex personality," Dr. Knapp told the students. "Build your character while you are in college. Increase your respect for moral responsibility, your love of truth, your honesty of purpose. Develop a tolerant attitude toward others. Train yourself to be appreciative and cultivate your spiritual side of life.

"The Texas Technological college offers you a golden opportunity. The institution cannot give you an education—you must come and fit yourself into college life, open your mind to receive instruction, cooperate fully with the teachers in the task of developing your own ability, not only to acquire knowledge, but to learn to think honestly and conscientiously, to reason, to understand and to create. Home Demonstration and 4-H club women and girls brought their entries to the fair Wednesday. These exhibits are being judged this morning by Misses Myrtle Murray and Lola Blair of the extension service at A. and M. college. Prize winning entries will be sent to Dallas this afternoon, there to be entered in the State Fair of Texas.

Pleased With Showing

Miss Hazel Bratley, county home demonstration agent, said that she is pleased with the quality of the exhibits of canned goods, rugs, 4-H club demonstrators' and co-operators' books and other articles that have been entered.

Directors, superintendents and a corps of workers will be at the woman's building to receive the articles. Under no circumstances are entries to be accepted after closing dates. All entries are subject to rules included in the fair catalogue for this fall.

Miss Delia Wilkinson is general director of this department. Assistant directors are Mesdames J. S. Johnson, Milton Jones, Jerome Smith and J. H. Hankins.

Department superintendents are Mesdames Thomas West, A. T. Biggers, W. O. Stevens, Chester Hubbard, D. K. Bondurant and Miss Hazel Bratley.

Perishables—bread, cake and cut flowers—will be received between 8 a. m. and 1 p. m. on Monday, the opening date of the fair. These articles must be delivered to the women's building at the fair grounds.

Have Seven Departments

Departments which are to be represented are textile, culinary, Girl's club, Women's Home Demonstration clubs, plants and cut flowers, art and relics, antiques and curios.

Articles which have received a premium at any previous exposition and imported articles will be barred from competition. No article can compete for more than one premium except in the general display of its class. There will be no entry fees.

Although cut flowers are to be received Monday, potted plants are to be entered not later than Friday afternoon at one o'clock.

Judging in the women's division will follow the closing of entries Friday afternoon. The articles will then be arranged on shelves and in cases for the opening of the fair.

SPORTS

Boxing Program Is Slated Tonight

BOXING TONIGHT, 28 rounds of it, at the Uptown Dance Palace arena. The show begins at 8 o'clock. It's Lubbock's first professional fight program under the new state statutes.

Promoter Dee Puckett has done his best to line up good scraps for the opening card, and you're sure to see plenty of leather flying at tonight's five fights. It's a bargain bill, if it's anything.

Duke Tramel, the young-old barnstorming favorite whose headquarters are Ft. Worth but who spends half of each year rambling over the country, appearing in main events from Brooklyn to Los Angeles, meets Burl "Scrapiron" Merritt of Waco, an up and coming youngster, in the main go tonight.

The main eventers arrived yesterday and put in the best part of an hour working out at the arena. Even in that light workout, they looked good indeed. In the pink of physical trim and showing plenty of pepper, they gave signs of true hitting ability. It ought to be a fine scrap, folks, and this department recommends it.

While Tramel rules a slight favorite, due to his wider experience, railbirds who looked at Merritt go through a snappy warmup with Harry Guthrie, Texas Tech heavychamp, yesterday afternoon are not willing, by any means, to concede the old Duke a victory. Merritt is younger, full of pep and ambitious to get somewhere. He'd rather beat Tramel than anything he can think of now, for a victory over the popular scrapper would do more than add a feather to the Waco lad's hatband. His manager, C. M. Chesher, is thinking of locating Merritt here more or less permanently if he comes out well with Tramel.

You can look for plenty of jawpopping in the prelims, too. O. H. Brittain, a local favorite, tangles with Andy Jones of Snyder in a four-round amateur exhibition go as a curtain-raiser. Guthrie meets Raymond Lightfoot, who won his amateur spurs in and around Beaumont, in another. This Lightfoot is one more chesty guy. He's giving away weight to Guthrie, but he doesn't mind in the least. He's good and don't mind telling you about it. Sonny Smyers and Clark England tangle in a preliminary, and Lawton Smith of Waco meets Johnny Sutton of Ft. Worth in the semi-final.

The odds on the Texas Tech-Southern Methodist football game tomorrow night seem to be just about even. Local enthusiasts who gab for the love of gabbing are non-hesitant in naming the Matadors as their favorites. Fans who back their choices with cash are asking—and sometimes getting—a few points. Quite a bunch of S. M. U. spinach is in town, being circulated on even terms, and there are several callers.

Personally, we're pinching the jennies unless somebody goes haywire and offers enough points to send cotton up 50 bucks a bale, and we're advising other members of the family to watch the jewels, too. You can't tell what might happen this early in the season, or any other part of the season, especially on the heels of last week's performances when both teams looked lousy.

Oh, ho! Another letter from Gus Axcelwush. No explanations are offered, and you read it at your own risk:

Collar Perish,
Avalunch-Yournal
Dear Mr. Perish:

Yesterday I go to see Coachfallow, Mr. Chapman.

"Have all boys got yobs for work their way out of school?" I esk, "if it bane any of my business?"

"No, Goose," say Mr. Chapman, "but if boys on team dunt land chobs pret soon, I chust get them a license to beg, by golly."

We go in clubhouse. In clubhouse are 237 grape fruit rinds, Coach Huffman, a couple of police dogs, and a Choctaw buck, Weymon Waltswitz, by name, of 2222 Wabash Avenue, Grapevine, Texas, Phone 67JO and hang up if a short, fat man answers . . . What the hal! Where was I? Oh yes—

"Vot a mess," say Mr. Chapman, yumping down and oop, "vot a mess."

"How you thank game with Ranger come out?" I also bane ask.

"I believe ve vin gamp easy," say Mr. Chapman. "I believe it is chust a set-up. I also believe that there are very few Vops in Chicago and not any Bohunks in Bohemia."

Very true,
Gus Axcelwush.

TWENTY-EIGHT ROUNDS OF FIGHTING TO BE OFFERED HERE

The professional boxing season in Lubbock begins tonight when 28 rounds of snappy scrapping will be offered for the approval of local and South Plains fans. Duke Tramel, veteran barnstormer of Fort Worth, is billed as the main attraction.

Tramel, widely known and publicized, will defend his popularity and punch tonight against a lesser known but probably no less capable a fighter—Burl "Scrapiron" Merrit of Waco. They swap punches tonight in the main event of Promoter Dee Puckett's first boxing program under the new state legislation.

Starts At 8 o'clock

The curtain-raiser, at 8 o'clock sharp, will find a local youngster pitted against a Snyder fighter, O. H. Brittain of Lubbock meeting Andy Jones. They are amateurs, and the bout is billed as a four-round amateur exhibition. Brittain, who gained quite a reputation as a fighter here in high school days, is a freshman footballer at Texas Tech. They fight in the 153-pound class, four rounds.

Assisted by Texas Tech coaches and authorities in arranging the opening card, Promoter Pucket announced that a part of the "gate" tonight would be turned over to the Texas Tech band to apply on the purchase of new uniforms.

A bout that promises to steal more than its share of the show is scheduled for the semi-final when Lawton Smith of Waco tangles with Johnny Sutton of Fort Worth. They tip the beam at 143 pounds apiece, and come here highly recommended as fighters highly likely to succeed. Sutton has appeared on several cards as a main eventer.

Tech Heavy Fights

The second fight of a program of five bouts, including 28 rounds, will find the Texas Tech heavyweight, Harry Guthrie, facing Raymond Lightfoot of Beaumont. This also is billed as a four-round amateur exhibition bout.

Sonny Smyers of Lorenzo, 143 pounds, faced Clark England of Lubbock, 142 pounds, in a professional preliminary. The lads are known over the South Plains from amateur days.

Expect Big Gate

The future of professional boxing in Lubbock and on the South Plains depend upon the trunout of fans tonight. Promoter Puckett has brought here the best fighters available to open the boxing season. The Uptown Dance palace, temporarily transformed into a modern fight arena, is the scene of activity, and fans are invited to look upon the proceedings at so much per look—$1.10 ringside and 45 cents general admission. Tickets are on sale today at Hotel Hilton drug and Dee's Cafe.

Enough seats to accommodate at least 1,300 fans have been erected. Three hundred of them are ringside chairs, the others, elevated bleachers.

Judges Are Named

Judges for professional fights tonight will be Benjamin Kucera and Ross McWhorter, who will deliberate with Referee "Bo" Sexton in making decisions.

NEW YORK AND A'S DIVIDE TWIN BILL

OLD STANDBYS START WINNING AS TITLE PRESSURE EASED

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

With a few more "breaks," especially in the matter of pitching, it might have been one of those old standbys, the New York Yankees or Philadelphia Athletics, who walked off with the American league pennant this year instead of Washington's Senators.

Those two clubs, which have monopolized the flag for the past seven years, still are capable of playing plenty of good baseball. They have given ample evidence of this in the past few weeks, but through the entire season neither one developed a slab department that could stand up under the strain of pennant competition. When they got the pitching they usually won. When the pressure of the pennant chase was eased both started winning streaks and when they split a doubleheader yesterday it was the 15th victory in 20 games for each. The Yanks had four losses and a tie in the string and the A's five defeats.

Gomez Beats Grove

Playing the same brand of ball, the strength and weaknesses of both teams came out clearly in the bargain bill. Lefty Gomez was more effective on the hill than Lefty Grove in the opener and the Yankees won 7 to 0. Johnny Marcum, the rookie "wonder" from Louisville, gave Philadelphia the pitching in the afterpiece and won his third major league victory, 10 to 1.

The sluggers of both teams went right along with the flingers. Lou Gehrig, the less colorful but still highly effective successor to Babe Ruth as the Yankees' big batsman, clouted his 32nd homer and two singles among the 13 Yankee hits in the opener and followed along with two of New York's four blows in the second clash. Jimmie Foxx, the new home run king, started the shelling of Johnny Allen in the afterpiece and knocked in five runs with his 48th homer and two other blows.

Carl Hubbell Wins

The final tune-up of the New York Giants' pitchers for the world series in a doubleheader with the Phillies completed the day's major program. Carl Hubbell, slated to start the first game against the Senators, got timely support from the New York regulars and won 3-1 but Hal Schumacher found the backing of the reserves less effective and took a 6 to 0 trimming.

Hubbell had a great hurling duel with Reg Grabowski as he won his 23rd victory of the season and his 100th in the major leagues. Grabowski limited the champions to four

GRIFFITH AND CRONIN MAY FOOL EXPERTS WITH STARTER

(This is the eighth of a series of stories analyzing the Giants and Senators and their world series prospects.)

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP)—It seems to be an old American league custom and privilege to surround the world series pitching selections with secrecy. Connie Mack gave a successful demonstration of this type of strategy several years ago when he baffled the Chicago Cubs with a "dark horse" starter, Howard Ehmke, and Clark Griffith, the "Old Fox" of Washington now seems to have imbued his young pilot, Joe Cronin, with the same mysterious habit.

Whereas the principal pitching secrets and hopes of the Giants are wrapped up in the great left arm of Carl Owen Hubbell, who will toe the slab against the Senators next Tuesday afternoon at the Polo grounds, the experts still are busily guessing how Griffith and Cronin will rotate the Washington staff.

Crowder Logical Choice

The logical choice would be Al Crowder, the sturdy right hander who has worked in 50 games this season, scored victories in 24 and is equipped by experience and pitching craft to bear the brunt of the Senators' hurling defense. But there are plenty of "smart" baseball men who think it would be suicidal for the Nats to send their ace right hander against Hubbell in the opening game. Their theory, in short, is that the Giants will be heavy favorites to win any game that Hubbell starts and that it behooves the Senators, as a consequence, to save their stoutest pitching arm for other occasions in a series that may go the limit of seven games.

Perhaps Griffith and Cronin have been weighing this aspect of the situation, as well as the fact that Crowder was knocked out of the box by the Athletics on his last time out. Whether the Senator bosses "fear" Hubbell or not, the fact is that the ace of the Giants' staff looms more formidably than any other pitcher on either team. Consequently the gossip in Washington is that the Senators may gamble on the former University of Virginia professor of mathematics, Monte Morton Weaver, for the opener, with Crowder and the two southpaw stars, Earl Whitehill and Wally Stewart, to fall back on.

Weaver Has Lot of "Stuff"

Weaver, a six-foot right hander, won 22 games in his first full major league season, 1932. He failed to repeat this sterling performance, due apparently to mental as well as physical worries. Nevertheless, he has turned in some fine performances, has a lot of "stuff" and may give the Giants a flock of trouble.

Hubbell's final "prep" for the world series yesterday, when he tamed the slugging Phillies for his 23rd triumph of the season and the 100th victory of his major league career, was all that could be asked from the sensational exponent of the "screw ball."

Hubbell will rotate with Hal Schumacher, the young right hander, and Freddy Fitzsimmons, the burly "knuckle-ball" expert, according to Manager Bill Terry's well-laid pitching plans. If the series goes the limit, Carl is certain to start three games. It is equally likely that he will be called for relief duty at any especially critical stage of the proceedings. He has worked in 45 games this year, registered ten shutouts and never been reluctant to respond to Terry's emergency calls.

Schumacher Belted

Schumacher was belted briskly by the Phillies yesterday in his last workout but the Giants still have plenty of faith in the St. Lawrence collegian from Dolgeville, N. Y. He is slated to start the second game at the Polo grounds. Fitzsimmons will work the first game in Washington on Thursday.

Southpaws of the grade "A" variety have a habit of rising to world series occasions. Plank, Ruth, Nehf, Pennock, Grove, Hallahan and Gomez have written their names large in championship history. For that reason, among others, the American league antidote for Hubbell may be Whitehill and Stewart, two seasoned and crafty lefties. Whitehill, in his 11th season, has enjoyed his greatest success. Stewart, a fine workman of the Pennock type with perhaps the best control of any member of the Washington staff, may be the "surprise" that Griffith and Cronin are grooming.

GRID FEUD TO BE RENEWED

RANGER BULLDOGS TO MEET WESTERNERS HERE FRIDAY

A high school football feud that extends back through nearly half a score of seasons when Coach Weldon Chapman administered to the football cause at Cisco High school will be renewed tomorrow afternoon when the same coach but a different team plunges into battle with the Ranger High school Bulldogs at Texas Tech field.

One of the most intensive drills of the seasn was put to the Westerners of Lubbock High yesterday as Coaches Chapman and Huffman prepared them for tomorrow's battle.

A dummy scrimmage against Ranger's Notre Dame formations and a tough skirmish with Swede McMurry's Cowhands were included in the yesterday afternoon program. In the Cowhand "game" the Westerners, two full teams of them, showed a slight letdown which was made more apparent by the presence of two brilliant ineligibles in the Cowhand lineup, "Doonie" Atcheson, and Maurice White, a recruit from White Deer.

On the opening play after the kickoff the first stringers made a touchdown. After this they settled back, apparently for a rest. But they got little rest with McMurry's mite line-backers laying Ryan, Granbury and the others like a linoleum every time they charged through the middle of the line. Granbury demonstrated yesterday that he will make a classy back if he'll ever take the time to learn the signals. An Amarillo scout couldn't learn much from Jesse now, even if he made him confess all.

Trying to impress upon his men the fact that they are probably facing their toughest opponent of the season Chapman and Huffman gave much attention to the deviations of Ranger's shift. Some attention was also given to re-concocting the aerial attack that did not go so well against Big Spring.

Davis said a property settlement had been agreed upon.

MUSTANGS ARE HUNGRY FOR REVENGE

SMU PONIES TO COME HERE TOMORROW FOR MATADOR CLASH

Southern Methodist university's Mustangs, hungry for revenge and anxious to make up for a defeat last week, are scheduled to arrive at the Santa Fe station here at 8:20 o'clock tomorrow morning. Twelve hours later will find the red-and-blue-clad warriors doing combat with Texas Tech's Matadors at Tech field.

Lubbock fans are invited to join the Texas Tech band and student body at the station in the morning to offer a rousing welcome to the Mustangs, here for perhaps the last time. A two-year contract expires tomorrow night, and has not been renewed.

Tough Fight Looms

Considered by more than one expert as the team to beat for the Southwest conference football championship this season, the Methodists will provide what looks up to be the Matadors' stiffest opposition on a schedule of nine tough games, and nothing is being left undone this week as the Techsters prepare for the battle.

Matador mentors have affected a shift in the backfield lineup that indicates speed and plenty of it will be used in Tech's effort to subdue the touted Mustangs for a second time. The change has placed a quartet of "rabbit" backs in the secondary that ought to run the Mustangs down.

Yancy Price, leading scorer two seasons ago while playing the end position for the Matadors, has been moved up from the "shock troops" to the fullback position of the "regular" backfield. Until this week he has been working out at the left halfback position.

No Successor To Crites

Failure of either of three promising fullbacks to show up in form fine enough to be considered as successor to the departed Harold Crites resulted in the shifting for the second time this season of the speedy Price. Neither big Leonard Curfman of Electra, Gwynn Dowell of Royce City or Mack Scoggin of Lubbock has shown top form at the fullback position. Price, while not a line-buster like Crites, has shown great improvement during the past few days, and is the man now in mind to play the fullback position.

The rest of the backfield will consist of Adrian Clark at quarter, D. M. McElroy at left half and Marion Harris at right half. There may be alterations in the lineup before tomorrow night, but as the situation stands now, they are the boys who will trot in after the "shock troops" have started the game against the Ponies.

Can Do Everything

That combination finds four good punters, three passers, at least three good pass receivers and four men who can carry the mail on sweeps and line plays. It is not a heavy backfield, weight having been sacrificed for speed, but one which is due to cooperate much to the discomfiture of the Mustangs.

Another tough workout was the order yesterday. Today will find the Matadors simmering down a trifle, but there'll be no let up so far as fight and pep is concerned.

Line Coach Smith is almost definitely settled on his "regular" line. At the moment, he is running Malcolm Martin and Mat Hitchcock at ends, Elva Baker and Bennie McWilliams at tackles, Lacy Turner and Toby Greer at guards and Laurence Priddy at center. He has been disturbed of late regarding the center positions, and was counting on using Bob Crawford or Whacker Barton at that important position. Priddy was to have been shifted to guard had Crawford or Barton showed up to top.

Pass Defense Stressed

The Matadors will feel the absence of Lester "Terrible" Tribble, now a professional wrestler, at center. Tribble's pass defense ability was unequalled by any man on the squad, and pass defense is what the Matador mentors are stressing in this week's workouts. Rumors from Dallas have it that Ray Morrison will turn his celebrated "aerial circus" loose full force Friday night in an endeavor to recoup the loss sustained here last year and the defeat handed the Ponies last week by the Denton Teachers.

Loughran Barely Defeats Sharkey

BOSTON SAILOR ENDS BOXING CAREER WITH LOSS ON POINTS

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 28. (AP)—It can be marked down today that the fighting career of Jack Sharkey, stormy petrel of the heavyweights for almost ten years, is over, and in the same breath there's no telling where 31-year-old Tommy Loughran is going to wind up.

Sharkey climbed into his big car early this morning, slid behind the wheel, pulled up his coat collar and headed home for Boston. The farther he drove, the faster he drove, away from the fight game, apparently forever.

Loughran Wins Decision

In Baker bowl last night, home of the down-trodden Phillies, Sharkey came to the end of the trail. Tommy Loughran pecked his eyes with left jabs through fifteen rounds, stood up under a terrific body bombardment, grinned back courageously from a blood stained face, and in the end won the decision, though the officials barely gave it to him.

The crowning blow was a right hand punch Tommy flung into Sharkey's face in the tenth round, a desperate smash that landed on the bridge of the former heavyweight champion's nose, and to the gleeful amazement of a crowd of less than 10,000, knocked Sharkey to his knees, stunned him though he came up without a count.

As far back as fight memories go, no one has seen the feather dusting Loughran, famous for his boxing but never his punching, floor a rival. In Tommy's career, long before he won the light heavyweight championship, there appears a couple of technical knockouts. But never has he seriously hurt a rival since gaining the top-notch ranks a dozen years ago.

A Sweet Triumph

It was an evening of sweet triumph for Loughran, even though he

INTRODUCING THE TECH MATADORS

D. M. "DEACON" McELROY—Woodrow Wilson High school of Dallas, where he starred in 1929 and 1930, contributes this fleet-footed, punting, passing, blocking halfback, due to assume regular duties at the left halfback slot tomorrow night and keep it for the remainder of the season. He was a regular last year, his sophomore season. McElroy is a junior in the school of arts and sciences. He's good as a safety man, his tricky, shifting, snake-hipped movements passing up would-be tacklers as good as any man on the team. He weighs 168 pounds, stands 5 feet, 10 inches tall, and is 21 years old. His coaches proclaim him the ideal type for the Notre Dame system.

NOBLE KIZER LEFT HOLDING THE SACK BUT HAS FILLED IT WITH DYNAMITE

BY PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

LAFAYETTE, Ind., Sept. 28. (AP)—Noble Kizer held the sack all right but he filled it with football dynamite.

Everyone figured Jimmie Phelan a smart fellow when he left Purdue for the University of Washington after producing an undefeated championship team, leaving Kizer with a handful of veterans and a suicide schedule, but they didn't know the "mule" of Notre Dame's immortal "Four Horsemen" brigade.

Then only 29 years old, Kizer took over the coaching job and has been kicking at the Big Ten throne room with remarkable success ever since. He missed the championship in 1930 by the margin of two missed kicks, tied for the title in 1931 and placed second last year, hanging up a winning average of .880 over three years. Not once has his team been shutout.

This fall he is back with one of the greatest backfields of years — some say it will rate with Notre Dame's "Four Horsemen—and his team, possibly weak along the line because of inexperienced players, stacks up with Michigan as an outstanding favorite.

There are no frills behind Kizer's success at Purdue where the "Golden age" rolls on. He sticks to fundamentals and won't have a player around unless he is a superior blocker. "When you see a great back, you'll always see some great blockers," is the way he puts it.

Coach Kizer frankly admits his team is good but is afraid of the replacements in his line.

"It all depends on our line and just how much the other teams have improved," he cut in as some of the experts told him his team looked like the class of the Big Ten along with Michigan.

FLOODS CAUSE MORE DAMAGE

FURTHER DESTRUCTION BROUGHT TO TAMPICO SECTION TODAY

TAMPICO, Mexico, Sept. 28 (AP)—The rain-swollen Panuco and Tamesi rivers rose steadily above flood levels today and brought further destruction to this port, still prostrate from Sunday's hurricane.

Heavy rains fell west of here, and the national observatory warned that tropical storms might continue until Oct. 10.

Scattered reports from nearby towns told of additional deaths, injuries, and property damage.

Relief Efforts Pushed

Military and federal authorities put forth herculean efforts to meet their needs for food, water and medicines. It was believed the water supply would not be restored for five or six days.

With its food supply rapidly diminishing, Tampico awaited with growing anxiety the arrival from Monterrey of a train with food and medicine and soldiers to help in reconstruction work.

The train was delayed by floods. If it cannot reach this city plans were afoot to import supplies by air until the arrival of a steamship from Vera Cruz.

Government relief funds have been swelled by contributions from the American Red Cross, diplomats, and Mexican citizens, but the problem was to get supplies purchased with the money through to Tampico.

Nearby Towns Suffer

Belated reports brought here by boat and airplanes revealed that nearby towns had suffered as heavily in proportion as did this city.

Panuco was completely destroyed, with 20 dead. Cubes and Chintoman reported similar destruction. At Altos, up the Panuco river, 170 families were in danger because of the rising river which had already destroyed their houses.

The swift current of the Panuco twisted a German steamer from its moorings last night and drove it against three other ships tied near the Aquila (Eagle) oil refinery. Considerable damage was caused to the English steamer Baron Nair and the American freighter Sapinero and to the pier.

The total property damage in Tampico was set at $1,000,000. This included heavy damage to the Huastece Oil company plant, owned by Standard oil of New York.

KELLY CONFESSES

ously announced determination to fight extradition to Oklahoma to stand trial for the kidnaping.

Kelly's statement that he would not fight extradition came before Federal Judge Harry B. Anderson at Jackson, Tenn., signed a removal order for Kelly and his wife, Kathryn, arrested with him here yesterday.

John M. Keith, federal agent from Chicago strongly hinted that Kelly had been connected with the Chicago holdup.

"Needed Buried Money"

"The Kellys were in a bad jam before they were caught," Keith said. "They needed that buried money ($73,250 of the $200,000 Urschel ransom money dug up on a farm near Coleman, Texas, yesterday) but they could not go to it. Kelly grew desperate. We know that he was in Chicago the night of Sept. 21 when two messengers of the Federal Reserve bank were held up and a Chicago policeman was killed. All the thieves got were two pouches of cancelled checks. He (Kelley) left Chicago, we believe, immediately for Memphis and set up his contact with Ramsey in an attempt to get money."

Langford Ramey, referred to by Keith, is Kelly's brother-in-law who was reported to have confessed to federal officers that he attempted to obtain the money buried in Texas.

The money, officers said, was Kelly's share of the $200,000 collected for the release of Urschel.

LEGISLATURE

three regional chambers of commerce acted as disbursement agencies.

Lawrence Westbrook, director of the commission, took the witness stand on Thursday of last week. At the conclusion of his report on Tuesday of this week, the lawmakers had before them a rather clear picture of the relief commission, its policies regarding appointment of administrators, its method of distributing funds, its cost of overhead. The Senate, acting as a committee of the whole to conduct the inquiry, was amazed at the disclosures.

Large Organization Seen

It learned that within the brief space of six months the relief commission had built up an organization of administrators, assistants and clerks totaling 1,427 persons; that overhead cost of handling relief funds had mounted from around $40,000 in April to $138,000 in August; that surety bonds for relief commission employes had been written by Eugene Smith, close friend of James E. Ferguson and that Mr. Ferguson had presided at all but one of the meetings of the relief board. Mrs. Ferguson, the governor, is by law the ex-officio chairman of the board.

These developments, with charges read into the record that relief administrators had been employed on a basis of political affiliation and that county relief committees had been selected in a like manner, have made it evident that the legislature, or especially the senate, will not consent to future relief administration being handled by the present commission. The senate has the whip hand. It can refuse to authorize any of the relief bonds until a new commission is set up and a new plan for handling the relief funds is approved by the legislature.

Governor Has Power, Too

Governor Ferguson's course of action in this respect is not to be overlooked. The chief executive can refuse to call a second special session, in case the relief matter is not settled during the present 30-day session; she may go to the people with the statement that the legislature refused to authorize relief funds and that her office is powerless to act until the money is made available. It may be her position that the present commission is entirely satisfactory and that the failure of the legislature to authorize funds is a political stroke to discredit her administration at the expense of starving citizens.

She may go even further than that. She may veto any bill passed by the legislature seeking to set up a new relief commission.

Change Believed Certain

Regardless of what course the chief executive assumes, it is certain that the senate will not consent to keeping the present relief commission in power. The question is: Will the governor block the senate's attempt to abolish the present system by vetoeing new legislation; or will the senate block the governor's desire to keep the present commission in full command on all charity and relief funds? In either case so long as the impasse exists relief funds from the bond issue course will not be available to the needy of Texas.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP)—Cotton futures opened barely steady, 1-5 lower under liquidation, indifferent Liverpool cables and the decline in foreign exchange. Oct 9.73; Dec. 9.97; Jan. 10.06; Mar. 10.23; May 10.36; July 10.57.

Socthern hedging at the opening was absorbed by trade buying at the slight decline while general business was quiet. The lower opening of the wheat market brought in a little more selling which eased December to 9.96, or about 4 points net lower, but the market was steady and within a point either way of yesterday's close at the end of the first half hour. Liverpool cables reported a quiet, featureless market there with partial rallies from an opening decline attributed to trade calling.

Trading continued quiet later in the morning with correspondingly narrow fluctuations. Scattered selling from the south or commission house sources was absorbed by covering or trade buying accompanied by reports of a firm spot basis and further intimations that a holding movement was developing in the southwest. At midday December was holding around 9.98 and May 9.38 with the general list showing net losses of 2 to 4 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 28. —(AP)—The cotton market today opened decidedly quiet. Liverpool cables were about as due, and first trades here showed loses of five points, due to some overnight hedge selling orders.

December traded at 9.93 and March at 10.19. The market soon rallied, however, on trade buying and December recovered to 9.97 and March to 10.22, or three to four points up from the lows, and one point under yesterday's close.

The market ruled very quiet all morning with long intervals between trades. Traders appeared to be still waiting on some further action by the government, and business was restricted to a few operations.

Owing to the weakness of the stock market, prices eased off for a time, October dropping to 9.92 and March to 10.15, down 6 to 8 points from yesterday's close.

Towards noon, prices rallied slightly, October advancing to 9.98, up six points from the previous low, while March advanced to 10.19, up 4 points. At these levels, prices were net unchanged to four points down compared with yesterday's close.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Sept. 28. (AP)—Decided downturns in grain prices today followed news that conferences at London to fix a quota for Russian wheat exports had proved unsuccessful. Russian offerings of wheat today were reported 2 1-8 cents a bushel cheaper in Liverpool.

Opening 1-2, 1 5-8 cents down, Chicago wheat futures declined further afterward. Corn started 1-2, 1 cent off, and subsequently underwent an additional setback.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP)—Financial markets marched to slow music today, stepping cautiously in paths cluttered with fiscal uncertainties and industrial recovery problems.

Stocks got back some of their rather severe losses of the previous session, but the trading activity turned extremely dull on the intermittent rallies. Public participation was at a minimum. Professional floor traders accounted for most of the fluctuations. Grains, cotton and other commodities were hesitant and somewhat lower in the early hours. Here, too, buyers and sellers appeared a bit befogged by recurrent rumors of the government's attitude toward inflation and sound money. Bonds shifted about in an uneven range. The dollar was steady to firm in foreign exchange transactions.

Shares of Allied Chemical and U. S. Smelting got up about 3 points each and National Distillers, which will be "ex" a whisky dividend on Monday, also gained about 3. Others up fractionally to a point or more included American Telephone, U. S. Steel, Case, Chrysler, General Motors and Consolidated Gas.

North China Crisis Ends Quickly Today

PEIPING, Sept. 28 (AP)—After failing to carry out their threats to invade Peiping, General Fang Chen-Wu's Chinese irregulars today retreated toward Chahar province and a crisis in the North China neutral zone ended as quickly as it arose a few days ago.

relief bonds"? The electorate recently authorized the issuance of up to $20,000,000 in relief bonds and the legislature was convened in special session to devise ways and means of expanding that money.

He said the legislature should decide what to do with the relief bonds "and then if anybody wants to make any charge against me personally or any member of the Ferguson administration, let them stick their names to an affidavit and file it with the legislature so that we can fix the responsibility and know the names of these * * * who continue to peddle their irresponsible charges without proof and without foundation."

Denies Control

"So far as my connection with the relief commission is concerned, let me say that at the request of the federal authorities this organization was created by the legislature for the doing of the very thing that it is now doing and doing well," stated Ferguson. "In pursuance of that law duly passed by the legislature, the commission was appointed —three by the governor, two by the lieutenant governor and two by the speaker of the house. Only a minority was appointed by the governor and yet these two senators (Senators C. C. Small of Amarillo and Walter Woodward of Coleman) make the charge that I control the commission.

"My only connection with the commission was that in three meetings called by the governor for the purpose of forming an organization, the governor told me, as she had a right to tell her secretary or anybody else, to attend the meeting and sit in its organization. It will perhaps be news to know that the whole three meetings that I attended of the relief commission did not take over four hours time all put together. In other words, these senators want to tear down this wonderful organization because I was present for four hours in its organization. I never attempted to vote on any question. The meetings were more of a conference than an official gathering, and I make no apologies for attending. I told the people in the campaign for the bonds all over this state that I was trying to help my wife carry on the affairs of her office, and for three distinct campaigns covering the last six years, these same two senators—Small and Woodward—have raised the same old cry of protest before the people, only to be spanked good and proper every time and told to go 'way back and sit down.' It looks like they ought to * * * know that the people don't want them and their self constituted domination of the state senate ought to be resented by the rest of its membership and demand that the people's business be attended to."

TO LAY BRICK

Laying of brick in the new Montgomery Ward & Co. building under construction here was to begin today, Joe Anjier, superintendent, said. A carload of steel was unloaded at the building site Wednesday. Harry Gladman, bricklayers foreman, of Amarillo was to arrive this morning.

Kiwanians Hear Fitch—Declaring that 1,500 boys became of scout age on the South Plains every year, James P. Fitch, regional scout executive of Dallas, said this fact alone was a challenge to the area's citizenship to develop its boys, in a talk before members of the Lubbock Kiwanis club at Hotel Lubbock today noon. He said a twenty-five per cent membership of these boys in scouting was the goal for the South Plains council. Scouting, he said, offers boys a program at their age which provides a code by which they may live. W. G. McMillan was program chairman.

spectacle of four separate groups of defendants linked in the same case.

"A Modern Art"

"It would seem that kidnaping has become a modern act," he said.

"It requires the 'spotters,' those who determine that the intended victim can pay; it requires the actual 'snatchers,' the bold outlaws who smash their way into a home in the dead of night to whisk away their victim at the point of machine guns.

"The third group comprises the guardsmen and those who hide the victim from the searching public spurred by the outraged community.

"Fourth, and not less important are the money changers, the slippery, slimy creatures, scheming in the manner and fashion of the modern fences, who exchange the marked currency into money that cannot be identified.

"You cannot stamp out these horrible crimes by merely imprisoning the spotters or the snatchers. You must realize the importance of those who secrete and harbor the victim until the money is obtained, and of those characters of the underworld who know how to change this money.

"Equally Guilty"

"It is self evident they are equally guilty with those who originally plotted and carried out the abduction.

"In this case we have the numerous conspirators carrying out a carefully laid plan almost simultaneously in four states of the union.

"Mr. Urschel was taken from his home here and spirited away to Texas; a ransom note was delivered from Joplin, Mo., and the money was paid to the kidnapers in Kansas City. Almost immediately the operations of the money changers began in far away Minnesota.

"It is because of the far flung activities of these extorters that the federal government must step in and help the states whose laws and peace officers are powerless beyond their own boundaries."

Keenan swept into an elaborate description of the carrying out of the abduction as he conceived the government's case to have been established in the evidence.

op your common sense so that when you have finished college you will not only be educated, but well-balanced and thus able to take your place in a busy world to perform a real service."

The president declared the institution's faculty would be striving at all times to foster the great principle of democracy upon which the school was founded and urged students to aid as much as possible.

Speaking of the present national situation, Dr. Knapp declared,

"There's a new yardstick being made for the future and it is your opportunity to grasp it and measure things by it . . . An MRA—Moral Recovery Act—is as important to us as the NRA. . . . Honesty of character is vital and our education tends in that direction and no other."

Dr. Knapp warned the students that hazing would not be tolerated in the institution, declaring that ignoring violation of this law would be just as bad as ignoring the violation of any other law.

At the close of his talk, the band played the football fight song after which the president led the entire student body in a "Yea, Tech, Fight" yell.

Regional Boy Scout Leader In Lubbock

James P. Fitch, regional Boy Scout executive of Dallas, will meet with the South Plains Area council executive board at 8 o'clock tonight in the Aztec room of the Hilton hotel. W. G. McMillan of Lubbock is chairman.

Mr. Fitch conferred with Mr. McMillan, K. N. Klapp, and area Executive D. T. Jennings, members of the 10-year scout program committee, at City hall last night.

The 10-year program has as its object four years of scouting for 25 per cent of all the boys of scout age on the South Plains by 1942.

NEW YORK, Sept. 28. (AP)—Lou Gehrig, first baseman for the New York Yankees, is going to be married Saturday or maybe Tuesday. His bride is Miss Eleanor Twitchell, 27, of Chicago.

BAND MAY APPEAR IN UNIFORMS OF TECH-MADE CLOTH

Texas Technological college's Matador band may appear in newly styled uniforms of material made on the campus, The Toreador, student newspaper, said today.

Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of the college, has suggested the new uniforms be a modification of the present dress-uniform of a United States naval officer. The jacket would be scarlet, with wide lapels, and the trousers black with scarlet stripes. A scarlet shirt probably would be worn without the jacket in warm weather.

A weave similar to that in a suit given to President Franklin D. Roosevelt this week has been suggested.

If two looms in the textile mill were in operation, according to The Toreador, about 450 yards of the material could be made in a month.

The band has half the money necessary to pay for the uniforms, and anticipates adding enough to provide uniforms for 70 members.

Tech Students To Parade On Friday

Emphasizing a desire to see the Matadors rope and break the Southern Methodist university Mustangs, Texas Technological college students will parade from the band house Friday afternoon, beginning at 5 o'clock.

Social and professional clubs of the campus will have floats in the parade, led by the Matador band, behind which freshmen will march.

Members of the Scarlet and Black football squad will be introduced at a pep rally which will begin at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the gymnasium.

Freshmen having athletic tickets will form a double T with placards in the grandstand at the game Friday night. Freshman women are to wear green on their arms at the contest.

GIN DESTROYED

STEPHENVILLE, Sept. 28. (AP)—The North Texas gin here was destroyed by fire of unknown origin today. Loss was estimated at $15,000.

"—my skin became clear..."

—and you don't know what a happy day that was in my life." Then why not pause a moment and reason in a common-sense way the cause of many skin troubles. Such common ailments often result because of a lowered resistance below the skin surface—frequently due to lowered blood vitality.

Increase the red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content and more of the life giving oxygen is carried to every part of the body—even to the skin. "Step up" the ability of the resisting cells to devour infectious simple germs. Then you will have laid the foundation for a sounder physical condition.

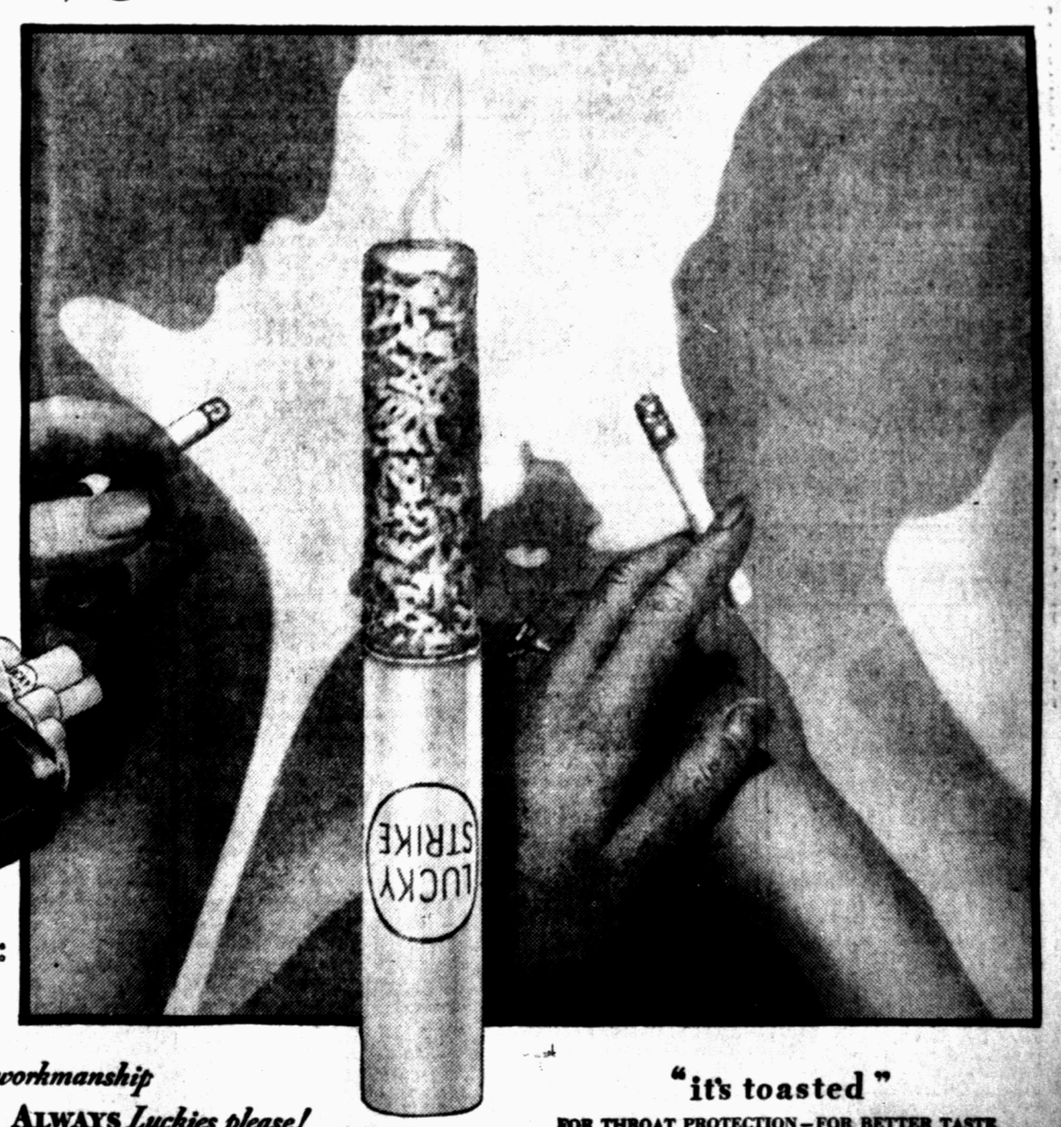

S.S.S., in addition to being a valuable general tonic, has the special property of increasing the red-cells and restoring the hemoglobin content of the blood, when deficient. It is time-tested . . . tens of thousands of unsolicited letters of gratitude over several generations evidence its merit. Don't let anyone "switch" you in your determination to restore your red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content. Thought For Today

I pray not that thou shouldest take them out of the world, but that thou shouldest keep them from the evil.—St. John, 17:15.

O polished perturbation! Golden care that keepest the ports of slumber open wide to many a watchful night!—Shakespeare.

Others May Follow

One way of getting a line on the things our government is doing these days is to find out how they look to people in other lands. It is rather instructive to note that the Trades and Labor Congress of Canada, for instance, has unanimously indorsed the NRA program in the United States and has urged the adoption of a similar plan for Canada.

A few days before this happened, the Trades Union Congress of England passed a resolution calling upon the British government to adopt similar measures. The South African Parliament is considering its own NRA plan.

The NRA, of course, is not a cure-all, and it has handed us some problems which will probably keep us busy for a long time. But foreigners find that it is a program of vast promise, and they would like to copy it themselves. The fact speaks volumes for the impression which the campaign is making on disinterested observers.

A Haven

Representative Samuel Dickstein of New York urges that the government relax its immigration rules so as to permit the entry into this country of fugitives who have been driven from Germany and other European countries by religious or political persecution.

It is probable that this could be done without in any way altering the fundamentals of our immigration restriction policy. We would not have to let down the bars and permit the flood-tide of immigrants to sweep over us as it did in the old days.

America used to be proud of the fact that oppressed people of other lands looked toward it as a haven.

It seems President Roosevelt still can see nothing but hot air in all that inflation talk.

New York NRA reports big sales in time clocks. Ringing out the old deal, ringing in the new.

A Japanese automobile has to be wound up to go. That's nothing new if you ask the millions of flivver owners in America.

Flapper Fanny

With hot cakes on the menu, each good turn always seems to deserve another.

The PLAINSMAN Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the modern description of a home is: a building, owned by the finance company, in which members of the family stage their rows or meet each other, going and coming.

AND, as the Fountain Inn, (S. C.) Tribune remarks, of course baseball has its points, but how we long to stand in a crowd again and watch a good, snappy steam shovel!

The fellow who used to kick about losing parking space because a new building being erected was filling up the curb area, now would be willing to walk a mile every day if only somebody would start construction.

DID The Plainsman get those ten kids for a free trip to the circus—or did he get those ten kids?

He's esking yuh!

They were selected in a walk, immediately after 9 o'clock this morning—and how.

And in spite of the warning printed in this column that it would do no good to call The Plainsman at home Wednesday night, the phone nearly rang off the wall.

That was one proposition that had plenty of takers.

All right, you kids. You know who you are.

Between the hours of 8 a. m. and noon Saturday, come to The Avalanche-Journal office, 1211-13 Texas avenue, and get your tickets and your dimes. Just ask for Mrs. Lucile Smith, identify yourself, and you'll be fixed up!

And all The Plainsman hopes is that nobody took advantage of the proposition and turned in the name of a youngster whose parents are able to see that he gets to the circus.

If no one has done that, it'll be all right with everybody!

THE Plainsman reckons you've been watching the goings-on at Austin in regard to political domination of issuance of relief funds and hopes you remember remarks made along that line weeks before any legislative investigation was announced.

As was noted here, early in the game, handling of the relief funds—all of which were provided by the federal government—made just another pie counter and was directed by the Old Maestro of Public Finance, the Hon. James E. Ferguson, Governor-in-law of Texas.

For once in his life the Governor-in-law finds himself avast public opinion—entire public opinion.

No citizen, regardless of his political complexion, likes the idea of turning the relief agency into a political football and using it to furnish jobs to the faithful, when those jobs are not essential.

And nobody likes the idea of using large sums of relief money for things other than relief, especially when the Governor-in-law, himself, all but sobbed over social conditions when urging Texans to vote the state relief bonds on August 26th.

Jim's used bad judgment, from the angle of the public, in this particular case and that's unusual for him to do.

But next time he runs for office he's going to have a considerably harder time than usual putting over his old line of hokum about being "the poor man's friend."

THIS soft ball business must be almost as bad as golf and football when it comes to taking a hold on the populace.

Not content with playing soft ball all summer, a bunch of the addicts have formed a winter league, to hold forth at the Uptown Dance Palace which, after October 1, will be under the operation of Sled Allen and Marty Fiedler.

The Plainsman is right proud of the success of soft ball in Lubbock, because it gives men something to do, it affords good exercise and it gives a lot of fellows the opportunity to meet a lot of others whom they otherwise would never come into contact with.

This column started the soft ball idea in Lubbock and, without difficulty, wangled the chamber of commerce into heading up the proposition long enough to get it started.

That a league will operate this winter means the idea was a good one, which is remuneration aplenty.

That Man on Avenue Q says a good way for any state or nation to balance its budget is to divide the number of laws into the amount of delinquent taxes and thus arrive at the amount of the revenue needed to operate.

(Aside to you boys up at Littlefield: "You're making a mistake giving people those windshield stickers reading "We've been to Littlefield".

First thing you know people in other communities are going to find out how many people are going to Littlefield after 3.2 and the trimmin's and how much business you're doing up there and they'll legalize beer in their own towns as a matter of protection to their pocketbooks. Then you'll have competition in a big way, see?)

WITHIN the next six hours Promoter Dee Puckett is going to find out whether or not the people of Lubbock will support prize fighting—and the boxing fans of Lubbock are going to find out what kind of fight cards they may expect here.

For legalized boxing makes its bow here tonight at 8 o'clock at the Uptown Dance Palace.

Having had some experience with the fight game while writing sports and acting as judge or announcer in an oil boom city where the sport was both popular and profitable, The Plainsman opines that Lubbock and the surrounding country will go for fight cards on the average of about once every two to three weeks.

That is, the public will go for them as long as the mitt slingers give the bugs a run for their money and an occasional 'name' boxer is brought in to pep things up.

PROMOTER PUCKETT has demonstrated that he knows the value of bringing in a known fighter to top his first card, in the signing of Duke Tramel, Ft. Worth welterweight who has gone pretty far into the money on numerous occasions.

And if Merritt, his opponent, and Tramel put on a good main event tonight, along with an interesting curtain-raiser, preliminary and semi-windup, the fight game may be considered off to a good start here.

Woman Coal Operator In Colorado Put At Disadvantage By Recovery Code, But Is Pleased At Help For Miners

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Evening Journal's Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 28.—The great coal code's chief victim is Miss Josephine Roche, the lady who for years has done most in the industry to further the present aims of NRA.

Dutcher

The code sets for the Rockefeller and other mines of southern Colorado a basic minimum wage of $4.44 a day.

For northern Colorado it sets the wage at $5. That's where Miss Roche operates as president of the Rocky Mountain Fuel Co. and now pays miners $5.25. She must compete with the Rockefeller coal.

Five years ago the handsome Miss Roche was Rocky Mountain's principal stockholder. Then mine guards shot and killed five Rocky Mountain strikers, wounding 21 others. Miss Roche, already sympathetic with the strikers, bought control and announced she would operate on a policy of industrial justice in co-operation with union labor.

Miners Well Paid

Purchasing power? In a good year her miners received average wages of $2100. Even last year the average was $1650. Employment? She and the miners worked out a rotating system so that no one was laid off completely. Last year her workers had 191 days at work as against a state average of 128.

"Sound business," says Miss Roche, who operates Colorado's only unionized mine. "We've proved that in our production figures."

Price wars, discrimination, credit boycotts and other methods were used to beat this "radical" woman Union labor helped her with a "union coal" campaign.

Wanted State-Wide Scale

But it seems southern Colorado miners must also compete with other low wage southwestern mines. So NRA was willing to keep the lady at a disadvantage by preserving their existing wage.

She was to have appeared before the Labor Advisory Board to urge a state-wide scale. Then Roosevelt suddenly approved the code without waiting for the board's arrpoval. But she left town happy. After all, wasn't the most important thing the code for which she had worked so hard and wasn't the code a grand thing for miners generally?

Cotton Farmers Rebuffed

The cotton farmers and southern legislators who came here with such a loud roar for inflation and abolition of the processing tax made Administrator George N. Peek's office walls bulge after they had failed to see Roosevelt, and Secretary of Agriculture Wallace had passed them on to Peek.

For an hour or more the meeting resembled a miniature session of Congress. All the old farm relief speeches were heard again; the room resounded with oratory in rich southern accent.

Finally someone suggested it would be a good idea to let Peek talk. Peek did—and bluntly. He said he'd been working for farm relief for twelve years. Now they had a plan working which offered hope of success.

Why did anyone think the administration would drop the process tax, the sine qua non of the whole program?

Red Hot Duty

CHICAGO—Bailiffs of Judge Theodore F. Ehler's court frankly admitted they were up against a rather hard job—that of seizing a stove in a cafe for non-payment of rent. Displaying hands covered with bandages they said:

"We wish to do our duty, but don't believe that means picking up hot stoves. Four times we sneaked up on that and each time the owner had the stove red hot."

The court ordered that the stove be kept cool on Oct. 20.

Song Is Changed

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va.—The prisoners' song at West Virginia's state penitentiary now goes, "If I had the wings of a Blue Eagle." Sixty members of the prison band are getting a "night out" Saturday to march in Moundsville's NRA parade—the first such night out in the prison's history.

No Place For Ducks

KANSAS CITY—Carl Hoelzer went duck hunting downtown last night. An old Mallard hen, southbound, landed in the street during a misty rain and was captured after a short chase.

Better After Taking First Bottle of Cardui

"I was in need of something to build me up, as I was in a run-down condition and suffering with my back and sides," writes Mrs. M. M. Cook, of Fort Payne, Ala. "The pain in my side seemed to cause a soreness all through my body. I was reading the newspaper and saw Cardui advertised. I thought it might help me. After my first bottle, I felt better and I took another, after which I was greatly improved, so much so that I have recommended Cardui since."

With 'Whiz' BARRY Under The Capitol Dome

BY R. W. BARRY
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Sept. 28. —(AP)—State Senator George C. Purl of Dallas heard his virtues extolled the other day. Many of his colleagues praised him "to the sky."

Purl often has provoked members of the senate because of his stubborn opposition or advocacy of issues on the floor of the senate. He is a tireless debater and often, when weary senators longed to vote and dispose of a matter, Purl would continue to talk.

Stickler For Rules

He does not give, nor ask quarter when in a floor fight. He is a stickler for parliamentary rules as well, and no matter how late the hour or how worn the senators he will raise and push to a decision a point of order.

Evesyone laughed, including the honoree himself, when Senator Frank Rawings of Fort Worth said: "I think it is a good thing to have one Purl in the Texas senate, but I would not want to have two Purls in the senate."

Purl himself confided to his colleagues, grouped around his desk: "Wish my wife was here so she could hear what a great man I am."

Senator Walter Woodul of Houston said he thought the senate ought to show some recognition to Purl and thereby bestow notice on "one of the smaller communities."

"It Is Not Fair"

"It is not fair for us big city folks never to recognize the little by way places," he commented.

There wasn't any opposition to Purl but some senators did not join in the testimonials. They probably believed Purl had been applauded enough.

Anyway, Purl was, and is, immensely pleased.

Newark Man Knows How and Loses 10 Pounds

"Gentlemen: I used Kruschen Salts to try and get rid of Neuritis from which I had suffered for one year in my left shoulder and arm. . . . I took a little of the salts in the morning, sometimes in my coffee, other times in water. I would also occasionally take a dose in water at night before retiring. For 3 months I used the salts and while I lost 10 pounds in weight, the pain in my shoulder HAS ENTIRELY DISAPPEARED. During the time I was taking the salts I received no other medical treatment so I am fully convinced the Kruschen Salts did the trick." C. WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at drug stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

FDR SILENT ON CREDIT PLAN

PRESIDENT WILL TAKE FEW DAYS REST AT ANCESTRAL HOME

By FRANCIS M. STEPHENSON

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Sept. 28. (AP)—President Roosevelt entered upon a few days of rest at his ancestral home today carefully keeping to himself whatever thoughts he may have on any plan to expand credit for the benefit of agriculture and industry.

His happy smile prevailed yesterday as he drove through crowds from New York to Hyde Park. When he stopped at the family doorstep here to talk with newspapermen he laughed and said he was interested in the reports about a forthcoming statement from him.

Rail Support Pledged

Mr. Roosevelt did disclose that he was ready to give federal support to the railroads for purchase of new equipment but he emphasized that he was going to use the federal rail coordinator to compile the needs and use the good office of the government to obtain the best price for the bulk offer.

It is a part of the Roosevelt program to bring into line big industries with the effort for job-making deals. Before he left Washington the president called in the leaders of the steel industry to tell them that he expected competitive bids on purchases of steel rails—and low bids.

To Attend Celebration

The president plans to attend the centennial celebration of the Methodist church here at the end of the week. Also, he is going to attend with the family the wedding of the daughter of Theodore Douglas Robinson, assistant secretary of the navy under Herbert Hoover. Robinson is a cousin of the president.

Meanwhile, the prime consideration of Mr. Roosevelt is a survey of the family place here. He has turned over a big part of his 400 acres to the state as a laboratory on reforestation. He is looking forward to a visit from state officials next Sunday to plan new plantings.

MUCKERS ARE TO MEET LONGHORNS

EL PASO, Sept. 28. (AP)—The Texas College of Mines football team entrains today for Austin, where on Saturday the Muckers play the University of Texas Longhorns.

With a powerful, heavy line and a fast backfield, the College of Mines team stacks up as one of the most promising in the school's grid history.

Coaches Mack Saxon and Harry Phillips were taking 22 men on the trip. They planned a workout tomorrow in Austin.

On October 7, before returning to El Paso, the Muckers will clash with Southern Methodist university at Dallas.

John Eubank, Washington State placer kicker who booted the ball 48 yards to defeat U. C. L. A. 3 to 0 last year, has signed to coach the Tekoa, Wash. high school.

Georgia's bright leaf tobacco crop this year brought farmers more than $6,000,000 in cash.

LOCKNEY MAN HURT

got no pay and the gate receipts scarcely covered the $25,000 guarantee paid Sharkey. Four years ago, when a heavyweight title chance was at stake, Sharkey stormed into Tommy in the third round of a battle in the Yankee stadium, whipped an overhand right into the head of a boxer who should have laughed at such an unorthodox punch and stretched him on the canvas. Loughran rose at "five" that night but he hadn't the faintest chance to continue as he walked dazedly across the ring, holding the ropes, asking Referee Lou Magnolia for a chair to rest in, and think it over.

It was Loughran's turn to add the final crusher to Sharkey's career after four years of waiting, to add this beating to the knockout Primo Carnera scored in winning the sailor's heavyweight title in June, and the trouncing King Levinsky gave him in Chicago ten days ago.

Question Among Judges

There was considerable question in the officials' minds that Loughran, pouring hundreds of left jabs into Sharkey's disdainful face, outgaming a rival who had him in distress half a dozen times with body blows, but never could sustain his attack, actually had won the decision.

Judge Al Voice gave Sharkey seven rounds, Loughran six and called two even. Herman Weingrad awarded Loughran seven, Sharkey four, with four even. Referee "Spud" Murphy scored it evenly, six, six and three, but he cast the deciding vote for Loughran because he had scored the sole knockdown of the fight.

But there was no question in Sharkey's mind.

"Tommy won all right," he said, and then he headed for home.

Jimmy Johnston, manager of Madison Square Garden who has Sharkey signed for three fights this winter, said he was no longer interested. He immediately sought Loughran's services.

"The last round," said Tommy wearily, as they doctored cuts over both his eyes and on his left cheek, "was the toughest. He was desperate then and swinging the hardest. But he never really hurt me. I'd like to fight anybody now, Schmeling, Carnera, Baer."

There's every possibility, now, that Tommy will get his chance. There doesn't seem to be any keeping him down.

J. Q. DYER DIES

PLAINVIEW, (Special) —Funeral services for John Q. Dyer, 68, who died at his home a mile southeast of town, Tuesday, were held Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. His widow, to whom he was married in Kentucky, his former home, three sons, E. R., R. C., and W. A., all of Plainview, survive. He had resided here for 10 years and came here from Amarillo where he had lived for 15 years.

hits while the Phils got twice that number but two of the Giant blows were homers by Hughie Critz and George Davis that produced all their runs. Schumacher took his 12th defeat as the Phils got to him for four runs in the third on three hits, three passes and two errors while Frank Pearce scattered eight blows to give the Giants their eleventh blanking of the season.

None of the other major league clubs were scheduled.

Family Joyful—Dad's RHEUMATISM Has Left Him

When a man so crippled with rheumatism cannot go to his daily work and suddenly finds a swift, powerful yet safe prescription that drives out pain and agony in 48 hours you can imagine the jubilant happiness of the whole family as Dad brings home his pay envelope regularly again.

Mark Halsey Drug and leading druggists everywhere call this grand prescription ALLENRU and think so much of its mighty power to drive excess uric acid from the system that they guarantee one 85 cent bottle to overcome rheumatic pain and conquer backache, sciatica, neuritis and lumbago just as this notice states or money back—a square deal to all sufferers.

STRUGGLE WON BY SOVIETS

FIGHT WITH PEASANTS ON COLLECTIVIZATION OF FARMS ENDED

BY STANLEY P. RICHARDSON

MOSCOW, Sept. 28 (AP)—With machines and unlimited political power as weapons, the Soviet government appears to have won a decisive struggle with peasants over the collectivization of farms.

At stake was the introduction of political sections into machine and tractor stations serving the larger proportion of socialized farms.

This year the state has established a rigid supervision and control of agriculture by the communist party in somewhat the same manner as used so successfully n the red army.

Officials claim—and foreign agricultural experts agree—that the general excellence of the present harvest has proved the success of the move.

In contrast wth the disastrous winter and spring in the principal grain regions in the Ukraine and North Caucasus because of peasant inertia—a recurrence of which the political sections are designed to prevent — first-hand observations made in those areas by the Associated Press correspondent seem to confirm the government's claims of an abundant crop-yield average this year.

By mid-September the Ukraine and North Caucasus were three months ahead of last year in grain deliveries to the government.

The political sections, each consisting of four communist party members, have dictatorial powers to perfect the organization of the collective farms and to educate the peasants in the new methods of mechanized farming.

Florida state employes who travel on expense accounts are limited to $4.50 a day for hotel rooms and meals.

School Children's Clothing Is Sought

An urgent call for clothing for children of school age has been made by Captain Walter T. Wilson, commandant of the Salvation army, who said his supply of clothing was about exhausted.

"We need shoes and stockings as well as suits and dresses and underwear," the Army officer said. "Since school opened Mrs. Wilson has had a great many calls for clothing for children. Many youngsters do not have enough clothing to wear to school."

Demands for clothing are mostly for children from six to 16 years of age.

WHY WORRY through the slipperiest months of the year on smooth-worn, bald-treaded tires?

Smart drivers know that they need new tires more in fall and winter than any other time in the year—they know that new rubber wears almost twice as well in cold weather, which means it will still be almost new in the spring—they know that it costs money and may be dangerous to wring out the last few hundred miles.

That's why it pays to buy new Goodyears now. By actual test on wet pavements, they stop your car quicker than any other tire regardless of make or design—and 77% quicker than smooth-worn tires. They give you blowout protection in every ply—because every ply is built with that patented ply material, Supertwist. And they give more mileage today than Goodyear Tires ever gave before.

Get in on today's low prices—believe it or not, most Goodyears cost less today than they cost a year ago. Read the prices and you'll agree—it certainly pays to buy tires right now.

WANT STILL LOWER PRICES? Husky Goodyear Pathfinders are better than the best tires of most other makes. You can buy them today for as low as $5.55
