Larger Area To Be Covered

Hail suppression supporters met Jan. 14 in the Springlake-Earth school cafeteria for discussion of the upcoming year's program and to elect officers for the organization.

Orville Clevenger was re-elected president. Les Watson was named vice president with Dale Stanley as secretary-treasurer.

Plans were made for a slightly larger area to be covered by the program this year with an additional plane added to allow for three plane operation. Cost of the expanded protection program is $160,000.

Cost of the protection is 90 cents per acre, spokesmen said.

Governor's Assistant To Speak At CCA Banquet

Oltonites will pay tribute to three of their outstanding citizens Tuesday, Feb. 5 at the annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet. Slated for 7:30 p.m. in school cafeteria, the affair will honor the Outstanding Citizen of the Year, Woman of the Year and Farmer of the Year.

Reagan V. Brown, recently appointed special assistant to Governor Dolph Briscoe, will be the keynote speaker. Lauded for his sparkling style and down to earth philosophy, Brown is a favorite at many state and national meetings.

Dubbed "Mr. Community Improvement," Brown has helped more than a thousand communities in programs designed to make the communities more beautiful, more prosperous and better places to live.

Brown holds three degrees from Texas A&M University and has studied at Cornell, Colorado State and Utah State Universities. He is the recipient of the Association of Former Students of Texas A&M's Distinguished Service Award.

He is a professional sociologist, associated many years with the Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University. He has been awarded the Agriculture Extension Service's Superior Service Award.

Progressive Farmer magazine selected Brown as Man of the Year in Texas Agriculture, 1968. He is also the winner of the Distinguished Service award of the National FFA.

Banquet Tickets were mailed to members this week. All members of the CCA are expected to respond this week to the request that tickets be paid for by Feb. 4. Persons who do not plan to use their tickets must return them before that date or pay the $8 price of the two tickets.

Frances Redinger, CCA secretary, said this week that this measure is being taken so that arrangements can be made to prepare for the correct number of banquet guests as well as eliminate confusion at the door the night of the banquet.

Chamber president, Melvin Rape, and president-elect, Garland Ruthart, state state that an excellent dinner is being planned with New York strip steaks, "the best money can buy," as the entree.

Eldon Franks, Chamber manager, advises that available facilities are limited and reservations are being accepted on a first come-first served basis.

In addition to an address by an outstanding speaker and tribute to outstanding citizens, the banquet will also feature the recognition of outgoing officers and introduction of 1974 officers and directors.

Water Depths Being Measured

Personnel of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, assisted by several Texas Water Development Board (TWDB) staff members, have begun the annual measurement of depths to water in the more than 800 observation wells in the 15 counties comprising the District.

The coordinated and systematic measurement of the depths to water in the observation wells constitutes the only method of determining changes in the volume of water stored in the Ogallala aquifer beneath the land surface. The water level records obtained through the observation wells located in Lamb County constitute the foundation for the district's cost-in-water depletion, in-

946 Marks Beginning For White Auto

World War II was over and peace was still a very new thing when two of Olton's veterans embarked on a business venture which marked the opening of a White Auto Store.

Army veteran and freed prisoner of War, Paul Ray Smith, got the idea first says Carl Smith of Lubbock, a partner in the fledgling business who is still associated with White's.

It was January 1946 when the two launched their dealership of an auto parts chain which was begun as a single store, in Clinton, Okla. in the lean year of 1930.

It was January 1946 when the two launched their dealership of an auto parts chain which was begun as a single store, 12 1/2 x 45' in Clinton, Okla. in the lean year of 1930.

Earl remembers their trip to Wichita Falls, "headquarters" for White's Auto Stores, and their attempts to secure merchandise in the days when World War II's effects still made many things unavailable.

Their first stock, he recalls, did include some unforgettable items.

"We didn't have many but we did have a few parts for Model T and Model A Fords. And, I remember, our first invoice called for one windcharger propeller-and, you know, we sold it."

The new business was housed next door to the auto parts business of the late Will Locke. Patched and re-patched, the roof leaked and rain brought on the ritual of placing buckets above the store to catch the major drips. Heavy rains usually forced a halt to business for the day.

Not long after their beginning, Smith purchased Spain's share of the business and operated it at the site until the summer of 1947 when his father-in-law, the late Jack Silcott, built a new brick home for the business downtown.

In July 1952, Smith sold the business which had been expanded into other lines to Horace Cates. White's franchise stores continued to expand their lines of merchandise and when Major James purchased the business in January 1955 it included such additional items as hardware, paints, air conditioners and heaters, gardening equipment, toys and some household articles.

James and his wife, Nig, came to Olton from Paudcah. Major's experience in that line of business came from employment with Western Auto in Paducah. A Marine Corps veteran of the Korean War, he had also worked at a hometown grocery store during his high school days.

Nig, who's feminine name of Elizabeth is known by few Oltonites, is bookkeeper for the business.

White's chain of stores numbered just a few more than 100 when James began his association. He recalls that the twice-a-year trips he and Nig made to market at that time were also occasions to catch up on visiting with the "White's family" when all the dealers knew one another.

Today the "Auto" has been dropped from the name and White's Stores, Incorporated has more than 800 company and dealer stores.

Established when folks did much of their own auto repair, the earlier stores stocked most auto parts selling everything the customer needed to completely overhaul his vehicles. "Auto parts" today extend to very few items other than tires, batteries and oils.

The store moved in May 1964 into their present location when "the square"

MAJOR AND NIG JAMES stand by one of the many items available at their White Auto Store. Stereos are one of the last things to be added to the gigantic list of items available from the store, which is one of many such stores throughout the States.

Soil & Water

By B.T. Kinser

"Help! we need it," says Lamb County Soil and Water District Board of Directors. The Directors and several farmers through out the county have bought and released approximately 1200 Pheasants in Lamb Count the past three years. District Directors are sponsoring the program with cooperation of farmers to try and reestablish the Pheasant population for hunting.

For the program to really work it is going to take the cooperation of everyone in not hunting them and by helping provide food and cover for them.

Directors have made this program possible for those who are interested by arranging for the birds to be bought at a reduced price to be released on their farms.

There was a good hatch of Pheasant this year. With the help of everyone, the Pheasant population should increase enough so that there can be limited hunting in a few years.

Persons finding Pheasants on their farms are asked to help protect them. They may belong to neighbors for Pheasants will migrate until they find a suitable habitat. They will not always stay on the place where they are released. Therefore, persons who have brought and released Pheasants are very interested in reestablishing them for hunting but a few people can't do it alone. It takes the help of everyone.

District Board of Directors and the cooperating farmers are therefore asking cooperation of everyone in helping make the program successful.

Anyone interested in a wildlife program can get the needed information from Marvin Bowling of Sudan, T.C. Favor of Littlefield, Frank Struve of Olton, Ed Dawson of Earth-Springlake, W.B. "Bill" Jones of Spade, or any of the personnel of the Soil Conservation Service in the Courthouse in Littlefield.

MRS. EUGENE GRIFFIN

Cook Of The Week

Camping is a hobby our Cook of the Week, Molly Griffin, shares with her husband, Eugene, and their three children.

The Griffins and Carol, 13; Fonda, 11 and Allan, six, have not had time for the common pleasure for some time now since they are also sharing the fun and work of re-doing the home they purchased and moved into little more than a year ago.

Remodeling of their home has been a drawn out project since they are doing it themselves but it's been rewarding, too. They've had help from Eugene's brother and also Molly's during a visit in the fall.

Molly, who grew up at Earth, likes to knit and sew and makes most of her own and the girls' clothes. She also enjoys hooking rugs and got her dad interested in that hobby while he was recuperating from a broken leg. He took over and completed a hook rug wall hanging. Molly and her dad even cut their own yarn for the pretty hanging.

Tin can craft is another of Molly's hobbies and with her own tin snips and pliers, she recently fashioned candle holders from tin cans that would have otherwise been discarded in a trash can.

Members of First Baptist Church, Molly sings in the choir. She is also a member of Young Homemakers.

The Griffins moved here in June 1971. Eugene is in his thirteenth year with Southwestern Public Service. For a while he worked with Southwestern's system construction and the young Griffins lived in a mobile home as Eugene's work took him into three other states-to Carlsbad, N.M., Guymon, Okla. and Liberal, Kans.

RICE RING WITH SAUCY CHICKEN

2 c. uncooked rice
1/4 c. bell pepper, chopped salt to taste

Fit large piece of waxed paper into ring mold. Leave end of paper extended above top of mold for easy handling. Cook rice, add seasonings. Pack warm rice into mold, allow to cool. Refrigerate. When cold, unmold on ovenproof dish by turning mold upside down. Rice comes out quickly in a perfect mold because of the waxed paper. Remove paper, before serving allow to come to room temperature. Place in 350 degree oven 10-15 minutes to heat thru. Fill mold with chicken.

SAUCY CHICKEN

Saute 1 onion chopped in 2 T. margarine. Add 1 can (3 oz.) mushrooms, drained and 2 ribs celery, sliced. Continue to saute. Add and simmer 10 minutes: 1 t. Worcestershire sauce, 1 can (2 cups) tomatoes, 1 t. monosodium glutamate.

Add 2 c. cooked chicken, diced. Mix well 1 T. cornstarch with 1 T. water, stir into mixture and cook until slightly thickened. Spoon into rice ring and serve. May be prepared day ahead and warmed in oven. Also may be frozen.

MOLDED CARROT SALAD

1 pkg apple gelatin
1 c. carrots, grated
1/4 c. onion, minced
1 c. cabbage, shredded
1/4 c. bell pepper, chopped

Prepare gelatin as directed on box. Add other ingredients and pour into mold. Refrigerate until set. (apple gelatin is sometimes difficult to obtain so Molly has learned to make her own by dissolving 1 env. Knox gelatin with 1/2 c. cold water. Add and stir until dissolved, 1/4 c. sugar, 1/2 t. salt, 2-4 T. vinegar, 1 T. lemon juice and 1 c. apple cider.)

The A-line skirt was banded with deep lace at the hemline and the train fell from the back waist to full chapel length. Scalloped lace edged the train. A lace Camelot barret, seeded in pearls, held her lace edged elbow length veil.

Feminine attendants were Celeste Shelton of Dallas, aid of honor, and Mrs. Bill Patterson of Oklahoma City, Okla., Molly Gallagher and Rose Conrad of San Antonio. They wore formal gowns of cornflower crepe designed with Juliet necklines and sleeves tapering to the wrists. Self-fabric bows enhanced the center back waistline.

LOCATED DOWNTOWN OLTON

Re-Election To Office Sought By Mrs. Willey

Mary Beth Willey authorized the Olton Enterprise this week to announce her decision to seek re-election as County Clerk.

I would like to take this opportunity to once more place my name before the Citizens of Lamb County as a candidate for the office of County Clerk.

I was employed as Chief Deputy County Clerk for five years prior to being appointed to complete an unexpired term. Four years ago you, the voters of Lamb County, were gracious enough to elect me to serve you as your County Clerk.

I have been a lifelong resident of Lamb County. I am an active member of the First United Methodist Church, the Order of the Eastern Star, the Chamber of Commerce and served as President of We, the Women. I have served on the Legislative Committee of the County and District Clerks' Association of Texas, and am currently serving on the Policy Committee and the Constitution Revision Committee of the Clerks' Association. My family and I reside on a farm in the Spade Community where my husband, Jeff, is engaged in farming.

I wish to thank the Citizens of Lamb County for allowing me to serve you as your County Clerk for the past four years. It has been both a pleasure and an honor for me to serve you in this capacity, and in announcing for re-election for a second term, I pledge my time and abilities to continue to strengthen the effectiveness of the service of the County Clerk's Office in every way.

Due to my responsibilities to this office, it will be difficult for me to personally contact each of you. I feel I am qualified by my background and experience, and I will most sincerely appreciate your vote and support.

Sugar, Spice, And Sage

By Jan Sherman

"Motorists ired by gas pinch."

"Big gasoline hunt shifts to high gear."

"Impeach Nixon!"

"Petroleum shortages cause problems in the way of common household goods."

High food bills, pinch! Lower thermostats, B-r-r-r!

Fewer plastics, crash! Dimmer lights, blink!

Problems, problems, problems. Worry, worry, worry.

These are the things making headlines these days. They're important, sure. They make a difference in our way of life. We're all used to going and coming as we please, eating when and where we want to, and as much as we can stuff into our little round frames.

We've grown accustomed to the conveniences of being able to press buttons and "zap" we have the power, heat or whatever. I'm spoiled rotten and I admit it. It's depressing, I know, to think that some of the things we got awfully cozy with are going to be curtailed, cut back, or done without.

Sometimes I catch myself burrowing my head like an ostrich, afraid to read the paper...and then I start to do some thinking about:

The beautiful morning I witnessed as I walked to town one Friday morning. I started whistling a favorite song and began to notice the crispness of the morning around me. Someone looked up and smiled and waved and that's refreshing. Does anyone whistle anymore? Walking a little more happily along, I saw friends visiting in front of the gift shop, drinking coffee in the cafe. There's no shortage of smiles, friendship, and human warmth here, I thought. There's no price tag dangling from any of these. Look out your window this Sunday morning? It doesn't matter if it's raining, or shining, try to find something beautiful about this day right now. Let good words come from you and be a blessing to the people around you. I know that's a hard prescription but it works. Maybe your feelings will catch up with your actions. Go for a walk and have a heart to heart with your Maker. He'll listen to whatever you have to say, whether good or bad, you can be honest with Him. Now I realize going for a walk in a dust storm, pouring rain or blowing snow, would not be a wise idea, so do the next best thing. Find a spot by a window that's relatively quiet, and stare as far as you can see. Then have that talk I mentioned.

BRYAN ALLCORN AND FREDDY STOCKDALE

Many people are remembered by their fame or by their fortune. But one person who will stand out in many people's mind is Margie Slatten. She was a woman who didn't have all these but the one thing that she did have for which she will be remembered was her love and happiness toward people.

James Whitcomb Riley's poem reminds us of this happy person:

I cannot say, and I will not say
That she is dead. She is just away.
With a cherry smile, and a wave of the hand,
She has wandered into an unknown land.
And left us dreaming how very fair

It needs must be since she lingers there.
And you-O you, who the wildest yearn
For the old-time step and the glad return-
Think of her faring on, as dear

In the love of there as the love of here;
Think of her still as the same I say;
She is not dead-she is just away.

Some people may remember her for her kindness towards them, some for the nicknames she had for them, but whatever it is-you can bet Margie will be remembered by many people!

In games this week, the Mustangs and Fillies take on Littlefield at Olton on Tuesday night. Then Friday night, the girls battle Muleshoe and the boys play Morton at home. The girls game is at 6:30 and the boys at 8:00. B-Team games start at 5:00.

Now while all of you are finishing your "glass tea", we will go on with the column.

The operation will be a considerable boost to the economy in this area because all grains will be purchased locally. Protein supplements and medication ingredients will, of course, come from other major feed companies and drug ingredient companies.

Other facilities being planned

A micro ingredient room is now under construction. A room used to measure medications and other additives to the feeds, the medications will be stored in this room. As a tub grinder for alfalfa will be installed which will turn out pellet form alfalfa, arrangements are also being made to contract alfalfa, Garvin stated.

mill. There is an enclosed dump for receiving the ingredients. In addition to the aforementioned storage units, there is a group of four overhead bins of approximately 60,000 pounds each for storing the finished products which will be loaded on trucks in bulk or bagged before selling. A 30 x 50 foot dock-high warehouse is used for bagging the feed and is stored for "through the door" sales. The plant, built by Franklin Welding and Mill Works of Plainview, was completed in about eight months. Garvin stated that he would continue to handle a line of animal health products, but not dog food, lawn or garden supplies. However, the same friendly service is available, plus all the added services that the new mill will provide and Garvin invites his friends and customers to come by and visit him in his new location. A formal open house will be scheduled in the spring, he said.
