

Farm Bureau Calls Membership to Dec. 4 Meeting

All members of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau are urged to attend the regular meeting of the board of directors Thursday, Dec. 4, at 7:30 p.m.

A highlight of the meeting will be a discussion of the resolutions passed at the state convention in Corpus Christi recently.

H. P. Scott, director from Dodson and one of those attending the state meeting, will discuss the cotton situation as it now stands, based on information secured from the plains Cotton Growers Association.

Mrs. Mary Stall, Pioneer Resident, Dies Nov. 21

Mrs. Mary A. Stall, who came here as a young woman 60 years ago, died at her home Friday, November 21, following a long period of ill health.

She was the daughter of the late Dr. J. W. Mooney, one of the town's first doctors, and Mrs. Mooney, and wife of the late T. J. Stall, one of the first men to settle in the Wellington area.

A versatile woman, Mrs. Stall helped her father in his practice of medicine and later was a practical nurse. She taught school several years and was an amateur artist. She was active in the civic, social and community life of Wellington in that period where he began to experience growth and expansion.

Mrs. Stall was born in Stephens County October 25, 1882. When Dr. Mooney moved west, he first settled with his family in Motley County, and a few years later came to Childress, where the family lived until moving to Wellington.

Mrs. Stall attended Clarendon College, Clarendon.

She and Mr. Stall were married in Wellington December 31, 1902, when he entered the business life of the town.

Funeral services for Mrs. Stall were held Saturday, November 22, at First Methodist Church, of which she had been a member since an early age. The Rev. Frank Weir, pastor, and the Rev. J. F. Michael of the Dodson-Kelley Methodist Church, officiated. Pall bearers were Oliver Young, Luther Sullivan, Roland Mayhugh, Donald Curry, Loyd Holloway and Chester Hunter. Burial was in West Wellington cemetery under the direction of Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. Stall is survived by seven daughters and three sons: Mrs. Luther Vandagriff of Aransas Pass; Mrs. Plevna Wynn and

Drivers Unhurt in Two-Car Crash

Neither driver was injured in an intersection collision between the cars driven by Mrs. Magdalena Galan and Cecil Masten Friday, November 21, about noon, Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Hodge reported.

The accident occurred at the corner of Seventh and Floydada Streets. Mrs. Galan, driving a 1955 Ford, was traveling on Floydada, while Masten, in a 1951 Chevrolet, was going west on 7th Street. Masten's car was badly damaged, Hodge said.

Charges of driving without a drivers license were filed against Mrs. Galan in justice court by Judge Raymond Horton.

Farm Program Payments Pass Million Mark for County

The Collingsworth County ASC office has issued payments totaling $1,169,394.90 to date on its various 1958 programs, Millard Brown, office manager, announced this week.

Heading the list is $603,186.41 acreage reserve payments on 471 wheat and cotton agreements, while rental payments on 454 conservation reserve contracts total

Merchants Open Trades Day Events on November 29

Wellington Merchants open the annual Holiday Trade Days, Saturday, November 29, when the distribution of tickets begins, N. M. Higdon, chamber of commerce manager, has announced.

Drawings begin Saturday, December 6, and will continue for three Saturdays, December 6, 13 and 20, and also Tuesday and Wednesday, December 23 and 24.

They will begin at 4:00 p.m. This big trade promotion event is planned to call attention to the people of this entire trade area to the fact that Wellington is the best place for Christmas shopping, with its progressive merchants already filling their shelves with merchandise comparable to that of the city stores.

These merchants are giving $35 in script each Saturday, to be redeemed in merchandise with the participating merchants. If the person whose name is called is not present at the drawing, another drawing will be held until someone present wins the $35 in script.

In addition there will be a $25 prize in script each Saturday. There will be only one drawing, and if the winner is not present, the prize will advance to $50 on the following Saturday, etc, until a winner is found.

Participating merchants are Leader Department Store, Hatch Dry Goods, White Auto Store, Ben Franklin Store, C&H Pharmacy, City Grocery, the Fair Store, Fashion Shop, Bratten Jewelry, Raburn Grocery, Wellington Hardware, Stevenson Implement Co. Lewis Grocery and Market. The Toggery, B. F. Holton Butane and Propane, Steve Owens, Slay and Ward Dry Goods, Bobby McCutchen Shoe Shop and John Holton Conoco Station.

Necessary for Work

Cemetery Fund Drive Opens This Week End

The annual fund raising drive of the Wellington Cemetery Association is opening this week end, in which that organization will seek to raise funds for operation during the coming year.

Solicitation this year will be by mail, Zook Thomas, president, announced.

"We feel we can contact more people this way, and that those living here and living away can be reached," he declared.

"Improvement work on the two Wellington cemeteries continues on a year-round basis, with a permanent caretaker," Thomas explained. "There is no time at which there is not work to be done. The caretaker now is leveling the ground, picking up debris collects in the fall, plowing and trimming shrubbery. Other work will continue through the winter months."

All persons owning lots in either of the cemeteries are urged to make a contribution in the drive in order that the work of the Association may be continued.

Mrs. B. F. King, Area Resident 48 Years, Dies

Mrs. B. F. King, who has lived in this area almost 48 years, died at her home, 1000 Dallas Street, Thursday, November 20, at 5 p.m. She had been seriously ill since suffering a stroke about a month ago.

She reared her family in the Loco community, and she and Mr. King continued to make their home there until only a few years ago, when they retired from "arming."

Mrs. King was the former Allie Robers daughter of the late J. M. and Nancy Robers. She was born at Montague May 9, 1881, and grew up there. It was also in that town that she and Mr. King were married August 11, 1903.

After a few years there, they moved to Clay County, where they lived five years before moving to a farm south of Quail in 1911.

Two years later they went to Loco. Mrs. King had been a member of the Methodist Church since early in life and for many years she was active in the work of Bethel Church at Loco. As a younger woman, she helped to promote work of the home demonstration clubs in her community, but most of her life was devoted to her home and her family.

Funeral services were held at Trinity Methodist Church Saturday, at 2 p.m., with the Rev. C. D. Damron, pastor, officiating, assisted by the Rev. Marvin Clubb.

Pall bearers were Roland Mayhugh, R. H. Isbell, C. A. Wright, Raymond D. King, Charles Ray Carpenter and Herman Claude Terry. Burial was in West Wellington cemetery by Kelso Funeral Home.

Mrs. King is survived by her husband and three children: R. L. King of Vernon, J. L. King and Mrs. Joe Terry of Wellington. Nine grandchildren and six great grandchildren also survive.

Loan Search Fee Lowered

Complaint at the 50c search fee which must be paid by farmers putting their grain in the government loan has brought an order by the Commissioners' Court lowering that fee to 25c.

The action in a meeting Thursday, November 13, concerns the search fee on chattel mortgages made for the ASC office by the county clerk's office, required before a loan can be put through.

The 50 cent fee was set up by the commissioners court last year, and has been the source of much complaint, especially from grain producers having no chattel mortgages of any kind on their property.

The fee goes to the officer salary fund of the county.

Greenbelt to Seek $12,000 for Core Test

The Greenbelt Municipal and Industrial Water Authority will need approximately $12,000 to complete its preliminary work before the district is voted by the taxpayers of the seven member cities, it was decided at a meeting of directors at Childress.

The money will be needed to do the core drilling at the dam site, which is north of Hedley, and to complete the taking of water samples.

Directors passed a resolution that all money turned to the Authority by cities would be returned to the cities when the Authority is voted.

Directors voted to ask $1.50 for each water meter in each city which will bring in the required

Heart Attack Takes Life of R. L. Tenison

R. L. Tenison, 65, identified with the Texas State Highway Department in this county 23 years until his retirement in February of this year, died at 6 a.m. Tuesday, November 25, in St. Joseph's Hospital after suffering a heart attack at his home Monday evening.

Mr. Tenison had suffered a light attack a few days earlier, but he appeared to be recovering satisfactorily, and his death came as a shock to his many friends who were not aware of his illness.

He had lived in the county since 1907, coming here as a youth when his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Tenison came to the Plymouth community.

He was born January 25, 1893, in Parker County.

Upon the outbreak of World War I, Mr. Tenison entered service, and was one of the group from this county to serve overseas. Later he was active in the Frank King Post of American Legion, in which he held office, and in Glynn Moore Post of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

He had been a member of the Church of Christ 40 years, with membership at the time of his death in the Bowie Street Church. Mr. Tenison was married to Miss Ruby Jonesson November 15, 1919.

Funeral services were held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. at the Bowie Street Church of Christ, with Minister John Gay officiating. Pall bearers were Shelton Nunnally, John Coleman, Dee Coleman, Obie White, Paul Bell and Elmer Hiatt.

Burial was in the American Legion plot in North Wellington Cemetery, with military rites. Kelso Funeral Home directed arrangements.

Mr. Tenison is survived by his wife and three daughters: Mrs. George Hutchings of Palestine; Mrs. R. L. Templeton and Mrs. Bobo Castleberry. There are three grandchildren Denny Harris, student in Texas A&M; Bobby Harris of Palestine; and Betsy Castleberry of Wellington. Other survivors are a brother and four sisters: Trave Tenison and Mrs. Bell Green of Twitty; Mrs. V. G. Lane of McLean; Mrs. Cecil Brown of Samnorwood; and Mrs. Mamie Allen of Tollar.

Work Stepped Up on County Road Program

The Texas State Highway Department has made two announcements within the last week regarding the county's Farm-to-market road system.

First of these was the letting of the contract on the construction of 7.7 miles of new road. The second, not known here previously, provides for a seal coat for the county's existing FM system.

Seal Coat

The Texas Highway Commission has announced from Austin the approval of the 1959 Farm-to-Market Road Improvement Program. The projects included consist of capital betterment or perpetuation on the Farm-to-Market Roads now under maintenance by the State Highway Department, Palmer Massey, district highway engineer, announced.

The projects in this approved program that are located in Collingsworth County are for applying a seal coat on approximately fifty miles. Included are the following:

F.M. 1547 from Dozier to Wheeler County line.

F.M. 1036 from a mile west of Abra to U.S. 83.

F.M. 1548 from Plymouth to F.M. 1036.

F.M. 1981 from F.M. 1056 to U.S. 83.

F.M. 2344 from S.H. 203 to F.M. 1981.

F.M. 338 from U.S. 83 at Wellington, west and south to the end of pavement.

The Highway Commission has authorized the development of this program for the purpose of protecting the investment of the public in the Farm-to-Market Road system. The work will be done during the Summer of 1959.

Contract Let

A contract for the construction of grading, structures, base & surfacing on Farm-to-Market Road 2531, 2467, 1035 in Collingsworth County was awarded in Austin this week, Palmer Massey, District Highway Engineer at Childress has announced. The Firm of C. C. Booth, Stephenville submitted the low bid of $148,650.62 on the project which runs from FM 2531-From FM 338, 3.3 miles southeast of Wellington south to Road Intersection; FM 2467-From FM 1439, 5.0 miles east of Lutie, north to Road Intersection; FM 1035-From present end FM 1035, south to 2.0 miles south of Wellington, a distance of 7.7 miles.

Resident Engineer Clyde Drake of Wellington will be in charge of the project for the Highway Department, and it is estimated that the work will take 150 days to complete.

Living Christmas Trees Bought

The Commissioners court, in action that is in co-operation with work of the Chamber of Commerce, has voted to buy three evergreen trees to be put out on the courthouse lawn, eventually to be used as community Christmas trees.

These will be from 10 to 12 tall, and will be bought at a cost of $75 each from a nursery at Albreed, minutes of the commissioners court session show.

Comanche District

Scout Units Praised on 1958 Achievements

Recognition for outstanding scout work throughout the Comanche District came Tuesday night, November 18, at the annual banquet, held in Wellington's community building.

The guest speaker was Bob Glew, deputy regional executive for Region 9, Dallas, who directed his talk at Scout leaders, and congratulated them on various phases of work.

Representing the Scouts at the banquet was Bobby Chapman, Troop 76, Shamrock, and the Explorers, Don Deaver, Post 35, Memphis. Only boys who have been outstanding in their work are chosen for this year.

Dr. Carter Holcomb, district chairman, recognized district leaders for their work, then presented Sandy Parsons, Jr., the Scouts Key, a training recognition award. Parsons then recognized as outstanding units Troop 37 of Clarendon and Troop 76 of Shamrock; Cub Pack 31 of Wellington and Explorer Post 35 of Memphis.

Roundup Awards for meeting the requirements of the fall roundup up to Cub Pack 85, Briscoe; Post 72, Wheeler; Scout Troop 30, Dodson; Explorer Post 31, Wellington; Troop 36, Hedley; Troop 38, Clarendon and Troop 31, Wellington. Twenty-percent awards to posts increasing their enrollment by 20 per cent went to Post 72, Wheeler; Pack 31, Wellington; Post 31, Wellington; Troop 38, Clarendon; Troop 36, Hedley and Troop 31, Wellington.

In the installation of officers, Dr. Holcomb was installed as chairman for a second term and Parsons for a second term as vice

For Hunting Season

Patrol of Land in Quail Game Association Is Planned

Members of Quail Game Association in a meeting Monday night, Nov. 24, authorized personnel to patrol the Quail area to inspect hunting permits during the hunting season.

This step is being taken to insure that the Game Association's objective controlling hunting is carried out, Monty Mitchell, president, has announced.

Those patrolling the area will be picked by the board of directors. Closed areas within the association were arranged, Mitchell said. Under this plan, farmers or groups of farmers will close their land for hunting, and these areas will serve game as refuges. The operator may close his land for a period as short as a week, or for the entire season. He will post a sign on his boundary fence stating his farm or ranch is a closed area, and he will open it for hunting by removing the sign. This does not alter the requirement that hunters must have a permit from the operator to hunt under any circumstances.

The growing number of rats in the area was discussed and Mit-hell pointed out that they are enemies of game in that they destroy food and break up nests during laying season.

A number of farmers in the Quail Association are making plans to poison rats, most of them by the poison bait method, but they agreed they would not scatter the bait where it would be available to game birds and animals.

Meetings of the Association will be held on quarterly basis, with the next one scheduled for February, Mitchell said.

Small Town Living Hectic but Has Its Advantages

"Small Towns Aren't Relaxed" is the subject of an article by Robert E. L. Bearden in the Lion's magazine.

After a series of evenings out and noon sessions with committees we are inclined to agree with the author who is a minister of a church in a university center in the Arkansas Ozarks.

The writer declares that they may call small towns quiet and easy going, but the pace is terrific.

The author explains that the city man belongs to a limited number of civic and church groups. He selects these carefully and budgets his time. The city offers an opportunity for a resident to lose himself in the mass of men and machines of the metropolitan area. It is a comparatively simple matter for identity to be lost in the crowd.

By contrast the active man and woman in the small town must share in the life of the entire community. There is not enough willing leadership to limit them to a few responsibilities. The active town business man and his wife belong to about everything and wind up with being officers or working on committees.

It is on this basis that the Lions magazine writer, speaking from experience, advises: "So if you want to live graciously, urbanite; if you long for carefree days and quiet evenings, don't come to our town! Or to any other town. Stay where you're well off—in the mad, driving rush of the great city."

In spite of all this the minister from what he calls a small city in the Ozarks concludes on the merits of the small town, "There's only one point left to make—we love it. I wouldn't trade my borough for any city I know, for all its advantages. It's a fast life but a happy one. The sense of community exists. People belong and without the necessity of great wealth or prominence. You can be somebody."—Washington County (Ore.) News-Times.

Fat and Lazy

Are we getting fat and lazy? Are we ignoring the lessons of history and blundering along the pathways of stupidity? Are we getting increasingly dependent upon the government to take care of our basic needs? Have we mortgaged our future? Have we lost the pioneering instinct?

How much do we know of the background that caused our forefathers to come to these shores? What is the Declaration of Independence? What is the Bill of Rights? Who was the third President of the United States? Can you sing the National Anthem?

Failing these questions, are we any better off when it comes to recent history? Not much!

Isn't it about time we did something to regain the feeling of national pride? We need to understand a bit more of history . . . we need to understand why men were willing to lay down their lives to insure the continuation of our form of government.

We must recognize our responsibilities and do for ourselves many of the things we look for the government to do for us.

Let's begin by reading our metropolitan newspapers with more care. Let's launch a program to find out some of these questions concerning recent history. Let us break away from this age of day-dreaming to find out the basic principles upon which this wonderful country of ours was founded.

Let's face reality. We must strengthen ourselves for the days to come.—Marceline (Mo.) News.

Honors for Knowledge

Much ado is made each year in our high schools by offering varsity letters to young men who have starred on various athletic teams.

Now the process is being changed. Denison, Texas, has announced it will give varsity letters for academic achievement.

Why not? And many parents hope the idea will catch on in other high schools. Being able to mentally hurdle the academic achievements set forth as goals by the instructors should merit as much honor as being a member of "the team."

Several Eastern high schools plan to award a varsity letter for boys and girls who have a yearly average of "90 or better."—Archbold (O.) Buckeye.

REPORT

Dear Editor:

I see where President Ike said here a while back that when anything irritates us, we ought to just grin it off.

My glum neighbor says this might work on irritations like international crises, receptive assistants, free-wheeling judges, etc., but there are some woes it would just make worse.

Like, say, if the irritator is your wife when she has to open a can of biscuits because you forgot to get a loaf of bread, a sort of remorseful, self-whipping countenance is a lot more soothing than a grin.

I see where a Texas appeals court wiped out the sentence of a convicted murderer because his defense attorney hadn't paid his dues to the lawyers union.

My woolgathering neighbor says evidently this is to punish society for letting a scab lawyer work.

Says it may some day get to the point where if a doctor neglects his AMA dues, his patients will have to be shot, on account of it won't be legal to live on time bought from a non-union doctor.

My Labor and Religious expert neighbor says people like me who don't know anything about these subjects had ought to keep our traps shut about same.

But, now, if it got to be a national policy that nobody talked unless he knew what he was talking about, things would sure be quiet everywhere.

It would be pretty depressing, what with no coffee-time conversation, hardly any letters to the editor, no government bulletins, and Congress so quiet you could hear the treasury surplus growing.

I see where the Choctaw Indians are on the word-warpath because the Indian Bureau don't aim to let their vote on who will be their next tribal chief.

Last chief they elected probably didn't suit the Potomac brass. No life-adjustment course in the school where he got educated, so he don't know how to give in.

My beat neighbor says our people-picked state chiefs don't always suit the federals, either. Likely we will soon be just the Red Man, with our governors appointed by the Great White-and-

Black Father in Washington.

I see where the chemists have about got the human race under control now, what with tranquilizer pills, energizer pills, queen Lee jelly, etc.

My payroll-meeting neighbor says he wishes they would bring out a pill to neutralize the fear of work.

Says it needs to be strong enough to fortify a man to where he can stand four hours of work at a stretch, without having to knock off every little while for a coffee break or a gripe break.

I see where a university professor is going around giving lectures on the Art of Creative Cussing, and amateur cussers from all over are flocking to hear him.

My sensitive neighbor says he hopes this leads to more elegance in all kinds of cussing, from the irk relieving type to the show-off variety.

Says cussing has been in a rut for a long time, and didn't even show any noticeable improvement when women took it up.

University to Aid Teachers

College physics teachers may apply for admission to the 1959 summer institute by writing Dr. R. N. Little, institute co-ordinator, Physics department, University Station Austin 12.

Parsons Drug Now Represents "Gifts by Wire"

Parsons Drug has been named local representative in the new national Gifts By Wire organization it was announced this week.

Gifts By Wire is a national network of bonded retailers offering the public new facilities for the sending and receiving of gifts for every occasion through the mediums of telephone, telegraph and other means of communication.

Consumers will avail themselves of this new service by phoning or visiting their favorite drug store to select from a catalog including nationally-advertised gift items. The sender will choose from an assortment of brand name cosmetics, perfumes, baby sets, cigarette lighters, pipes, electric shavers, candy, men's toiletries, wallets, clocks and watches.

The increased tempo of living in a jet age is expected to promote consumer use of this time-saving shopping service. The traveler or forgetful person will have no problems of wrapping, mailing, breakage, spoilage or delivery with which to contend when he sends Gifts By Wire.

Headquarters for the new network of retailers is Delray Beach, Florida. "We are now affiliated with more than 2,000 member drug stores representing delivery to over 3,000 communities throughout the country offering the Gifts By Wire service launched nationally November 3," Parsons said.

Highway Patrol Taking Recruits

Future patrolmen of the Texas Department of Public Safety will be selected Jan. 20 throughout Texas in examinations to be given young men between 21 and 35 years of age.

In announcing the date for the selection exams. Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director, said approximately 170 vacancies now exist in the ranks of the Texas Highway Patrol. He said applications will be accepted until Jan. 12.

Young men interested in these important positions may obtain detailed information from DPS offices located in Austin, Waco, Dallas, Houston, Corpus Christi, Midland and Lubbock. Any officer of the Department of Public Safety and the Texas Employment Commission will talk to you at length concerning the interesting jobs.

New patrolmen will draw $300 per month while training and will live in the modern Law Enforcement Academy in Austin throughout the training period. At the completion of the formal schooling, new patrolmen will work with experienced officers during their

Rockets-Quail Split Double Header Friday

BY JO ANN LANGFORD

Wellington Rockets and Rockettes split a double header to open their basketball season Friday night, November 21, against the Quail Quails and Bobwhites.

The Rockettes took their game by a hair's breadth, 49 to 47. With only four practice sessions behind them, the Rockets lost to the Quails 46 to 29.

The Bobwhites outscored the Rockettes in the first quarter 13-11, but the teams were evenly matched.

The second quarter showed a different view, as the Rockettes led 10-7. The half ended with the Rockettes out in front by the narrow margin of 21-20.

The Rockettes kept the lead in the third quarter as they outscored the Bobwhites, 13-11. Both teams kept the net popping with scores.

They came back in the fourth and final quarter of the game with a repeat of the quarter performance. The Bobwhites edged past the Rockettes to lead by one point in the last quarter, 16-15, but this didn't keep the Rockettes from winning the game by a score of 49-47.

High pointer for the Rockettes was Pat Tompkins, who scored 20 points, while Theda Martin was next with 17.

Doris Blasingame was high pointer for the Bobwhites and the game, with a score of 22 points while Cleta Kennedy was next with 19 points.

Starting for the Rockettes were Fat Tompkins, Theda Martin, Joline Groves, Retha Linville, Mary Sanders, and Marcella Savage. Sharon Campbell also helped in the scoring.

Starting lineup for Quail was: Doris Blasingame, Cleta Kennedy, Alma Morgan, Jean Harrison, Annell Lacy, and Lynda McGill.

Quails — Rockets

The Quails took the lead in the first quarter, by netting 11 points to the Rockets' 4. They played neck and neck in the second quarter, with each team scoring 7 points apiece.

The half ended with the Quails in the lead, 18-11.

The Quails took the lead again in the third quarter, by putting 16 points through the basket, while the Rockets made only 4.

The Rockets came back in the fourth quarter, determine to score as much if not more than the Quails, but missed out by 2 points as the Quails again outscored them, 14-12 in the final period. The Rockets played a mighty hard game until the final buzzer, never giving up. The final score was 46-29 in the Quails' favor.

High pointer for the Quails' was Glen Harris with 14 points, while Danny Wheeler was next with 13 points.

Butch White netted 8 points to become the high pointer for the Rockets, with Kent Peeples close behind with 6 pointer.

Starting lineup for Wellington

Miss Sanders on Wayland Team

Plainview — Katherine Sanders, freshman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanders, 1309 Dalhart St., Wellington, is a team member of the Queen Bees, first freshman girls' basketball team at Wayland Baptist College.

Before this year, only freshmen who made the famed Wayland Hutcherson Flying Queens, four times National AAU Champions, were allowed to participate in scheduled games.

Miss Sanders is taking part in a program initiated this year to take care of the large number of freshmen who want to play basketball. Up until this year, an adequate program has not been provided because one coach has been available.

The team is composed of 12 members, four from Oklahoma, and eight from Texas. On the team's schedule are several outstanding high school girls' teams, along with junior college teams and numerous scrimmages with the varsity Flying Queens.

Other team members are: Mary Searles, Spiro, Okla.; Zenobia Self, Silverton; Buby Simpson, Glidden; Synthia Shelton, Avoca; Jereldine Cross, Colony, Okla.; Billie Graham, Fort Worth; Edna Halford, Brinkman, Okla.; Betty Halford, Bula; Kay Hankins, Rocksprings; Charlene Kagler, Pleasanton; and Reda Rhoades, Elk City, Okla. The coach is Judy Bugher, senior from Lexington, Okla.

Ailese Parten, Director of Public Relations, Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, Texas.

Mrs. Pearly Buck and Foy of Dimmitt visited Mrs. Ola Gordon, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thomason, Mrs. Winfield Brewer and other relatives and friends.

was Butch White, Kent Peeples, Max Courtney, Robert Weir, and Glen Lacy. Others who saw action Weldon Cleveland, Ronnie O'Rear, Dickie Elbert, Granvel Killian. Starting lineup for Quail was Glen Harris, Neal White, Travis McGuire, Danny Wheeler, and Jimmy Peters.

Norwood Takes Three, Drops One in Week

Sammorwood traveled to Briscoe Tuesday night to split a pair of games. Norwood won the Girls game 6-58 and lost the boys game 57-48.

Norwood held a narrow 17-16 lead at the first quarter mark in the Girls game but pulled ahead 35-27 at the half. Margaret Oldham, Norwood's post forward fouled out mid-way in the second quarter with 13 points. Barbara Stenbridge, sophomore forward, went on a scoring rampage and racked up 32 points followed by Kay Schaub and Oldham with 13 apiece and Dottie Tate with 7.

The boys game was a different story as Briscoe jumped into a quick lead that they never gave up and it wasn't until the closing minutes of the game that Norwood pulled to within 4 points of the home team. Helton led Briscoe scoring with 24 points. John Alexander was high for Norwood with 18. Norwood was without the services of Joel Lowry, a regular forward who was out with a virus attack.

Friday night Norwood took a pair from the visiting Shamrock teams. Norwood Girls were never better as they rolled to a 16-2 first quarter lead and 34-10 half-time lead and then coasted to a 53-26 victory. Barbara Stenbridge again led Norwood scores with 26 points. Huberta Blake was high for Shamrock with 9.

Sammorwood's boys also playing their best game of the young season roared past Shamrock 73-42. Shamrock, only one week out of football season, and showing promise of having a good team later on, made a game out of it early in the first quarter but fell behind 17-9 at the quarter mark and 34-18 at the half-way point as John Alexander and David Lindsey went on a scoring rampage to bag 28 and 17 points each. Jeringan and Brooksheir led Shamrock with 12 points each. Norwood was helped considerably from the free throw line by hitting 31 of 42 shots.

Mrs. L. Stonecipher, who underwent major surgery in Amarillo several weeks ago, has been returned to her home in the Buck Creek community. Her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cleo Stonecipher of Masterson, is staying with her.

Hog Growers to Meeting

A group of Quail hog breeders and County Agent Bob Lynch attended a swine clinic and carcass contest in Amarillo recently to learn the latest developments in the hog industry.

Cecil Parker, extension economist, College Station, told the group that approximately 20 per cent more pigs would be farrowed this spring than last, and the result might be to force prices down, although several factors would enter into this.

Other speakers were M. D. Tannersley, swine specialist and Roy Snyder, meat specialist of Texas A&M.

A group of 8 barrows were judged on foot, as to the meat the carcass would produce, and for other factors, and the results were announced after the hogs were slaughtered that afternoon.

Going were Monty Mitchell, Zeb Neeley, Charley Starkey, Frank Kennedy, Fred Bourland, Smokey Mitchell and Lynch.

IN MEMORY OF

MRS. HATIE CLIFTON

It was in January 1958
The Angels came down from Heaven

And said to our Darling Mother,
"You will just have to wait.
Till all of the Children
For Whom you have prayed,
Get on the narrow road
Which you have always stayed."

Tho she had to suffer long,
With many an ache and pain,
But to her friends and loved ones
She never did complain.

Now she is gone, Our Darling Mother
Never more this earth to tread,
For the Angels came and got her
To be up in heaven with God.

It was October 3, while still dark,
Mother's soul left her body of clay.
Now is it at home in Heaven,
We should all meet her there some day.

She hadn't sleep that night,
She was just holding out her hand
For the Angels to get hold of it
And take her to the Promised Land.

Now her pew at the Lord's house is empty,
And no one can ever fill it
Like our Darling Mother,
We think of her as still living
And her Old-time steps so gay.
Children, we know she is not dead,
She's only a short step away.
By her daughter, Mrs. Walter Needham 19-tfc

OVERNIGHT ACCLAIM

Here is the Lark by Studebaker — the one car so right for the needs of the times it is winning overnight acclaim from the driving public, the press, its dealers—and even dealers of competitive makes — here is your new dimension in motoring — big-car spaciousness on the inside (seats 6), small-car convenience on the outside (nearly 3 feet shorter than conventional cars), economy where it counts (runs for miles on a hatful of low-cost, regular gas) — top performance from either the spirited six or super-responsive V-8 engine — handles like a dream, turns on a dime, parks where others can't — superbly built and engineered by Studebaker craftsmen — simple, clean and classic styling — harmonizing colors inside and out — rich and fashion-right interiors, finely upholstered in fabric and vinyl — costs less to buy, far less to operate — prices start under $2000 — The Lark is the one car that perfectly balances passenger comfort and driver convenience, puts economy where it counts — smart, sensible, spirited — it's a honeybun!

Commissioners Hold Series of Meetings

In a series of commissioners court meetings in the 10-day period November 10 through 19, a heavy load of work was taken care of, with much of it again centering on the county's road system.

The court accepted a letter from Palmer Massey on the right of way agreement on the federal aid secondary road program of work, then passed orders agreeing to provide clear title to the 100-foot right of way on the approved FM roads beginning 6 miles north of Quail, and also from Quail 6½ miles south and east. The county will also remove obstructions except trees and do the refencing necessary.

The county accepted a rental quotation from Caprock Machinery Company on a diesel tractor shovel dozer on a rental basis for $850 per month. This dozer has a 91" bucket with two cubic foot capacity.

In connection with this, the 1958 budget was amended to transfer $1700 from the equipment purchase item to set up an equipment rental item. This was done on the recommendation of Gene Jenkins, county road administrator.

The county agreed to keep a passable crossing across Salt Fork River north of Quail for the U. S. Mail route.

No action was taken on a request from a group of residents in the Kelley community that a half-mile road be closed, after it was found that this was not a county road and the court had no jurisdiction over it.

The highway department was authorized to control water and maintain an outlet along side a county road by the Earl Allen farm west of Quail.

Other business varied in nature. The court accepted a check for $200 from the Mill Iron Ranches showing appreciation for assistance of the county motor graders and operators in helping fight a large grass fire.

County Clerk Betty White was instructed to forward information on tax valuations set on royalty interest of Edgar Wischkaemper on a section of land to Thomas Y. Pickett, which handles the county's tax valuations on gas properties.

A double tax rendition on 4 lots owned by C. T. Donnell for the years 1933 and 1934 was corrected and he was refunded $32.98.

Six cents per mile for mileage was allowed Mrs. Erma Lee Lowrie to attend a meeting of authorized representatives of county commodity distribution program on November 18.

The general election ballots were canvassed; the resignation of Charles Allen as an election judge in the south box prior to the election was noted, and the affidavit of Sheriff Rainey on posting the notice of the general election, and on the publication of election notice were received.

Mrs. J. D. Aaron, county treasurer, was authorized to invest $12,000 in Series H Bonds.

97 claims were approved and three rejected.

In handling its finances, the commissioners at various times in these meetings made transfers within the 1958 budget, in which $10,000 was transferred from the Farm to Market Road fund to the Road and Bridge fund, and $9,000 from the latter fund to the officer salary fund.

Two hundred dollars was transferred from the insurance fund to the telephone fund; $100 from social security to books; $50 from petit jury to miscellaneous; $201 from veterans service officer to sheriff car mileage; a transfer of $778 within the road and bridge fund items; $300 from Motor Vehicle Registration account to road and bridge fund; and $6,800 from the Farm-to-Market road fund to the Road and Bridge.

A considerable part of two meetings was given over to setting up the county's Civil Defense Program, and these are covered in a separate story.

FIFTH BEEF WEEK IN TEXAS—Governor Price Daniel, himself a rancher, proclaimed December 1-7 as Beef Week in Texas at his ranch in Liberty, Texas. Receiving the salute for the cattle industry which "has built for Texas an international fame as the world's foremost beef producing area" is Leo J. Welder, president of the Texas Beef Council, sponsor of the annual event.

Exceptional Range!

Vocal range is what counts in a soprano. In a motor oil the important thing is the temperature range at which the oil is effective. Phillips 66 Trop-Artic* Motor Oil is exceptional in this respect. Trop-Artic permits easy starting in a cold engine because it doesn't get too thick. And it provides dependable protection in a hot engine because it doesn't get too thin. The 4-door 9-passenger Kingswood with rear-facing back seat and automatic rear window

Be our guest for a pleasure test . . .

THIS IS THE ONE FOR WAGONS! 1959 CHEVY

Chevrolet's five stunning new station wagons for '59 are shaped to the new American taste with fresh, fine Slimline design. And they're beautifully practical—with roomier, quieter Bodies by Fisher, an even smoother ride, new ease of handling!

Wagons were never more beautiful or dutiful. From low-set headlights to wing-shaped tailgate, these '59 Chevys are as sweet looking as anything on wheels. They're just about the handiest things on wheels, too—from their overhead-curving windshield to their longer, wider load platform. Besides additional cargo space, you also get added seating room (4 inches more in front, over 3 inches in back). And you'll find such other practical advantages as new easy-ratio steering, Safety Plate Glass all around, bigger, safer brakes, smoother-than-ever Full Coil suspension and a roll-down rear window (electrically operated as standard equipment on the 9-passenger Kingswood). Quail FFA Among Top Teams in District Meet

Quail FFA boys took top honors in the Annual District Leadership Contests in the Vocational Agriculture building in Childress Saturday, November 22, Frank Kennedy, ag teacher, announced.

In the Junior Demonstration of Farm Skills, the team members, Loyd Messer, A. V. Taylor, and Billy Wilson won first. Another first was won by the members of the Radio Broadcasting team, Travis McGuire, Jimmy Peters and Teddy Gentry.

Second place winners in the FFA Quiz were Rudell White, Hershell Burns, Tommy Haralson, and Kenneth Word.

Third place winners in the Senior Demonstration of Farm Skills were John Kennedy, Eddie Riley, and John Kimbro.

Junior Chapter conducting team consisting of Burns, Messer, White, Taylor, Tommy Haralson, Billy Wilson and James Boen won third.

The Senior Chapter conducting team placed fourth. Members were McGuire, Peters, Danny Wheeler, Julius Haralson, John Kennedy and Teddy Gentry.

The two first place winners will compete in the area contest held in Plainview, Saturday, December 6.

To Baptist TU Convention

Mr. and Mrs. George McNabb and children, Kenneth, Carolyn Kathryn, will represent First Baptist Church at the two-day annual state Baptist Training Union Convention in Mineral Wells Thursday and Friday, November 27 and 28.

Nearly 3,000 are expected to attend, representing 484,000 persons enrolled in training unions of Texas.

SPARKLING BREW—Barbara Stell, 22, of Mission, Kan., has been selected as "Miss California Wine" by a group of Missouri wine dealers to reign over the California Wine Festival in Kansas City. The beauty fills a king-sized champagne glass with a heady 37-24-34.

Powell Wins Damage Suit

A county court jury awarded John Powell a verdict of $225 in damages in a suit heard Friday by County Judge R. L. Templeton.

Powell's suit against Jimmy Zamora of Donna was the outgrowth of a collision between vehicles driven by the two men at the corner of Fourth and Amarillo Streets two years ago, October 17, 1956.

Powell was represented by Paul Spillman and Zamora by Allen Harp. Powell had asked $320, all for car damage, Judge Templeton said.

Delegates to Conference Named

Delegates have been named from First Methodist Church to attend the District Conference in Childress Monday, December 1, Rev. Frank Weir, pastor, has announced.

Elected as delegates were Mrs. Mayme Somerville, Mrs. J. L. Warrick, R. R. Crawley, Mrs. Frank Weir, Merritt Durley and Mrs. Bill Reeves.

Ex office delegates are L. B. Bratten, Raymond Ford, Mrs. J. B. King, Walter Franks, Dan Henard and John Forbis.

Help Cut Death Toll

DIVISION OF VITAL STATISTICS SUPPLIES MUCH INFORMATION

What do people die from most? How many accidental deaths were there in 1957? What was the leading cause of death in 1932? These and other questions involving vital statistics are ever available from the Division of Vital Statistics of the State Health Department.

Most people look upon the Division of Vital Statistics as merely a place to obtain a copy of a birth certificate for a new job, or a copy of a death certificate for an inheritance.

This is true, but the division offers many other services as well. Some are familiar; others are unknown except to public health workers.

Let's take the first question: Just what do people die from most?

By careful compilation of death statistics, listing cause of death, place, conditions and other information, it is possible for statisticians to determine what diseases are killing the most people in Texas.

What value is this? It was just fifty years ago that tuberculosis was the leading cause of death.

Medical and public health officials could see this frightening fact and direct their activities towards curbing the disease.

Year after year, employing various methods for lessening the occurrence and severity of tuberculosis, the researchers' only method of checking their progress was by checking statistical death records.

In this manner they were able to discern which measures were the most successful. Today, tuberculosis is no longer the leading killer it was.

Refined techniques are carried on today with emphasis on other diseases.

For instance, the M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Clinic uses death records to check on past patients of the hospital. In this way they hope to find out how successful are certain methods of cure. The study is on a continuous basis, and began several years ago.

Similar studies can be applied to heart patients. Heart and cancer diseases are the two leading causes of death today.

The fourth-ranking killer is accidents. Traffic accidents lead, but how and where and in what manner do these and other accidents occur? By careful scrutiny of death records, answers may be found that will enable engineers to build safety into homes and highways.

The Division of Vital Statistics sends you certificates upon request, but the service doesn't end there—it only begins. (A weekly public service feature from the Division of Public Health Education, Texas State Department of Health)

IT'S THE LAW in Texas

A Public Service Feature by the State Bar of Texas

LEADING QUESTIONS

Many think that no court will allow a lawyer to ask leading questions.

But under some circumstances leading questions are proper, and it may be a lawyer's duty to ask them—to get the truth before the court.

For examining a "hostile witness" or in cross-examination his opponent's witness, a lawyer may be compelled to "lead" the witness to the critical points at issue.

A leading question is one that suggests the answer. Like: "Isn't it true, Miss Jones, that you saw the defendant beat his wife?"

What makes leading questions sometimes improper?

To a friendly witness they may well suggest the answer the lawyer was fishing for, instead of getting the witness to tell unaided of the facts as he saw and heard them.

When a lawyer first asks questions of his own witnesses the testimony is given on "direct" examination; when the same witness answers his opponent's questions, the testimony is given on "cross-examination."

So as a rule a leading question is proper on cross-examination but improper on "direct" examination; when it might lead a witness to testify on material or important facts at issue in the trial.

On cross-examination the lawyer may be duty bound to test, by leading questions, the witness' memory or credibility, or to remind him of certain things to correct mistaken testimony.

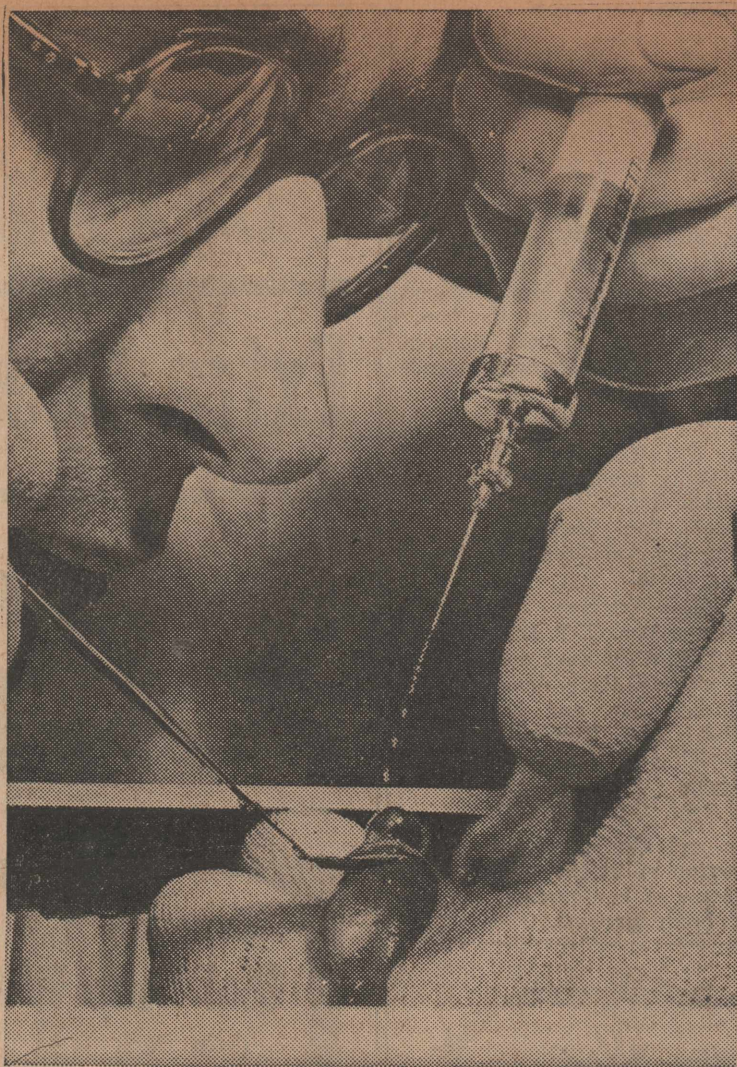

Of course, to save time the court may also allow leading questions on direct examination to get certain background facts out of the way or to aid a child or certain other witnesses.

The judge may have to stop improper leading questions. He may let the lawyer ask the question again in non-leading form, or come back to the subject later on.

The main thing is to allow questions which will get at the truth for the sake of a just verdict.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who is fully advised concerning the facts involved, because a slight variance in facts may change the application of the law.)

Mrs. Calvin Tow and daughters of Dalhart are here visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Langford, and other relatives and friends. Tow, a game warden, is on assignment at Canadian during the deer season.

Stimulant supplied in minute quantity by an assistant with a hypodermic needle is given to the fish just before it's returned to its tank. Known formally as an "aquarist veterinary surgeon," the doctor operates on patients sent to him by fish fanciers in many countries.

Texas Mesquite—Curse or Cure?

One of the most astounding developments to come of agricultural research in recent years has been the discovery that common Texas mesquite wood can be made useful as an edible roughage for cattle.

During the past two decades, Texas farmers and ranchers have been fighting a common enemy in the die-hard mesquite which has spread in abundant growth from the Rio Grande Valley northward.

In an effort to reclaim the countless acres of grassland all but lost to dense undergrowth of mesquite brush, a number of eradication measures have been applied, varying from oil treatment to mechanical uprooting.

Then, just a few years ago, someone got the idea of grinding some tender mesquite into meal and analyzing the product chemically to determine its food value. The analysis showed that mesquite meal had a higher protein, fiber and calcium content than cottonseed hulls. Another essential nutrient not present in many dry roughages, Vitamin A, was also found in the mesquite meal. Fat and carbohydrate content was slightly lower than in usual roughages.

In subsequent feeding tests at the Spur, Texas, Agricultural Experiment Station, the mesquite meal was mixed with other concentrates plus the important addition of molasses which served to give the feed moisture, sweetness, and a more desirable odor. In every instance, cattle fed on mesquite meal not only suffered no ill effects but gained weight in

More Cotton Clothes Bring Consumption Rise

An increase in the apparel market led the way toward a general rise in cotton consumption during the ten years ending in 1956.

According to the National Cotton Council, cotton scored a gain of more than 1.25 million bales in the apparel market during that time. In 1947, cotton held 56 per cent of the market, in terms of raw cotton equivalent, with consumption estimated at 2.7 million bales. By 1956, cotton held 61 per cent of the apparel market with consumption estimated at more than four million bales. These figures are contained in "Cotton Counts Its Customers - Special Edition," a report just released by the Council's market research section. It contains cotton consumption estimates on more than 400 end uses.

The publication reports that cotton consumption in the United States, in the end uses covered in the study, increased from almost 7.5 million bales in 1947 to more than 8.1 million bales in 1956. In 1939, before the National Cotton Council's programs to increase cotton consumption through research and promotion were inaugurated, only 6.6 million bales of cotton were consumed in these end uses.

The report shows that cotton expanded in the household uses market although its share of the market declined somewhat. Consumption in this field in 1947 was slightly more than two million similar ratio to cattle fed on other roughages.

This does not mean that all other meals and roughages should be thrown out in favor of mesquite, but it does mean that mesquite may prove to be a dependable source of rough feed during time of drought when feeds are scarce and high in price.

In the trial feeding periods, it stems with slick bark provided was found that branches and better feed than larger, dryer tree parts. Also, freshly-ground wood proved more palatable than dry wood and fresh supplies were ground weekly.

In order to prepare mesquite meal as a cattle roughage, a wood chipping machine costing about $1,200 delivered in Texas, a heavy-duty hammer mill, and a molasses mixer are needed.

bales, while in 1956 it had climbed to almost 2.5 million bales. Cotton's share of the household market declined, however, from 56 to 52 per cent. By comparison, in 1939, cotton held 62 per cent of the market but consumption was only 1.9 million bales.

Cotton's greatest loss during the period covered by the report came in industrial uses. From 2.7 million bales consumed in 1947, cotton dropped to about 1.7 million bales in 1956. Consumption in this area, however, remained virtually steady from 1953 on. Researchers were not able to estimate cotton's share of the over-

Junior High Teams Off to Winning Start

Only one loss mars the record of the combined Wellington junior high basketball teams to date, Coach Harvey Millsap reported during the week end. The Crackerettes, girl team, have won four of their five played; the Firecrackers, who got off to a late start due to football, have won three and lost none; and the girls B team has played and won one.

The Girls won their opener 19 to 13 over Quail then lost to Mangum, Oklahoma 12 to 16. They came back to win over Kelton 20 to 8; Lelia Lake 30 to 16; and on Thursday night, November 20, won over Quail again 33 to 5.

Millsap is playing as many girls as he can, and his squad is an unusually large one. Altogether he has four teams, with three forming the traveling squad.

The B team girls won over the Quail B team 19 to 3, just as did the A team.

"The boys still haven't got football out of their blood, and they haven't been able to find the basket very good yet," Millsap commented, but added that the youngsters are improving.

They won their opener from Kelton 39 to 14, however, and took a victory from Lelia Lake 24 to 12 and from Quail Thursday night 18 to 9.

All members of the first string of both the Firecrackers and Crackerettes are designated as captains.

Crackerettes are Linda Millsap, Gayla Courtney, Vicki Glenn, Peggy Shanks, Judy Thompson and Charlotte Isaacs, all captains and all eighth graders. Other eighth grade players are LaQuinta Hollingsworth, Andera Keeler, July Bailey, and Barbara Dobbs. Seventh graders are Gail Henard, Ann Henard, Judy Crawford, Nancy Gibbs, Joyce Hanna, Rosa Lee, Ann Orr, Jane Orr, Frances Warrick, Donna Allred, Carol Blain, Elaina Bearden, Lela Bryant and Donna Isaacs.

First string boys also are captains and are Craig Bergval, Gary Holliman, Herbert Duncan, Lynn McLain, eighth graders, and Craig Adcock, tallest boy on the team and a seventh grader. Other eighth graders are Johnny Ford, Don Roark, Michael Abney, Charles Floyd, Raymond Sanders and Nelson Hunt. Other seventh grade players are Gary Bergval, Kenneth

Firemen Called to Minor Fires

Firemen answered three calls last week, one of them a false alarm.

Passersby saw a trash fire at

the Rudy Burquist Turkey Farm, a half-mile south of town Sunday night, November 16, and called the fire department. A large crowd of spectators accompanied the rural fire truck on this call.

The ventilating pipe on a floor furnace became overheated in the attic and wall between the kitchen and front room of the Claude Killingsworth home. Damage was only minor, Fire Chief said.

The third call, coming at 2 a.m., was to the bar pile at the Well-ton Gin. Rising wind fanned the burning burs, but no damage was done.

There were only four days during 1957 in which a motorcade did not occur in Texas.

Know how to report a fire properly.

Each week, according to the National Safety Council, 81,000 persons are injured in home accidents — an average of an injury every eight seconds. More than four million persons are hurt in home accidents annually, and about 28,000 persons are killed.

Thanksgiving still means "Thanks"

Our forefathers conceived Thanksgiving as a day to stop and take stock of all good things of life. They had, as we do, threat of enemy danger... problems both economic and political, big and small. But they found time once each year to give thanks to God for all good things.

We, too, are thankful for many things... for our customers, the finest any bank can have... for friendships and associations... for good crops... and for the privilege of serving you.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Practically all of our high priced cotton is out; but a trip over the county reveals that there is still a lot of cotton to be pulled or harvested. Some fields have not been touched and some that have been pulled over once are pretty white. The peak of the harvest has passed, but both grain and cotton will continue to come to market in good quantities through December.

Arthur Belew and Charles Cason send me an interesting farm magazine each month. It is a trade magazine designed to promote their tractors and farm equipment, but the promotion is in the form of display advertising and the stories are separate and factual.

This magazine, "Farming for Profit" had an article on the cotton program. Most farmers know about the A and B plan, the first of which gets you 80 per cent of parity with an 8 per cent decrease in acreage and the second provides for 65 per cent of parity support with a 40 per cent increase in acreage. What was new to me was that you can select plan B with its increase in acreage, but if part of your crop does not look so good you can plow up the extra 40 percent and still get back into the 80 percent of parity program. Looks pretty good for the dry land farmers, but it still leaves the irrigation farmers debating about what to do. I need to stir my stumps and get over to Millard Brown's office and find out if all of this is true.

Surely this is a joke. Monty Mitchell was in the office the other day and was talking about a recent cotton conference about grades and prices. Monty said that Secretary Benson said that the farmers ought to quit planting spotted cotton. This reminds me of the time about the late C. L. Geesey was lecturing Jeff Greer on his choice of cottonseed. Mr. Geesey said: "Those certified seed you bought were no good. I have been out inspecting the blooms. Some are pink and others are white."

Now that cold weather has set in watch out for the rats and mice. They will be seeking warmer quarters, which will be your barns, grain bins and houses. The rat infestation was particularly heavy last summer and these loathsome creatures will be moving in unless you take precautions. Thanks to old Socks, our Heinz dog, we have had no rats in the house yet; but we have caught three mice in the last week and there is another still running loose.

Hayden Williams is watering early this fall. The long range weather forecast indicates that he is correct. There will be some moisture in the next few weeks, but on the whole December, January and February will be below average.

We continue to get and turn down advertisements offering a golden opportunity if you have a small amount of money to invest. The Postal Department recently indicted nine promoters for swindling $64,000 from known victims. The victims were elderly retired people or those contemplating retirement or disabled people. Another racket being worked through the mails is the promise of a big paying job in Alaska if you will send in a fee of $10 or $20. Some people even quit their jobs and moved to Alaska at great expense only to find they had been swindled. Fraud orders were also issued against an electronic company for selling lifetime pocket portable radios that fell far short of the claims. The company only sold a million dollars worth. Another thing to watch if you don't want to get cheated is the so-called discount or whole sale catalog. It is a racket just like a lot of other things and the holiday season is a time when they flourish profusely although people should be on guard all year long.

Court of Honor for Troop 32 Friday

A Boy Scout Court of Honor Troop 32 will be held at the Scout Hut in Ellison Park Friday night, November 28, when a large group of boys receive advancements.

The public is invited and parents are especially urged to attend. Richard Bailey, Scoutmaster, announced. He is being assisted in plans by Ocie Scott, chairman of the troop committee.

To receive an advancement, a Boy Scout must pass a number of tests, live up to the Scout oath and law, and study and gain practical working knowledge of the skill he seeks to master.

Troop 32 has the longest continuous record of activity in the county.

Belew-Caison Expand City Operations

Arthur Belew and Charles Caison of Wellington Farm Service this week announced they have been appointed GMC truck Dealer for the Wellington area, and also that they bought the entire building in which their business is located from L. E. Ward.

This will double the size of their present repair and office area.

The owners announced that they will remodel the building using the west half as a showroom for their new line of GMC trucks and for the Messey-Ferguson implements, for which they have been dealers several years.

"We are inviting our friends to come in, not only to see our new line of GMC trucks, but also to see us in our building where we will have plenty of room to display our implements to our friends," the owners said.

Pass Out Stock Survey Cards

Rural Mail Carriers and Postmasters are distributing about 35,000 Livestock Survey Cards to livestock farmers, ranchers and poultrymen in Texas. This job which the Post Office and Agriculture Department have made each year since 1924 provides the basic information to the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service at Austin for estimating number of cattle, hogs, sheep and chickens in Texas.

If you receive one of these cards, please fill it out and return to your mail box.

Rotary Drive

Future Farmers Pick Up Old Toys Monday

Wellington Future Farmers will pick up old toys in a house-to-house drive, Monday, December 1, Danny Garcia, vocational ag teacher, has announced.

These toys will be repaired by the Future Farmers and distributed by the Wellington Rotary Club to needy children on Christmas.

A preliminary pick-up was made Tuesday, November 25, to collect toys from families who already had contacted the aggies.

"The boys are equipped to repair and repaint these toys, and the toys your children have discarded will give a happy Christmas to some child who otherwise might go without," Garcia said.

Those having toys to be picked up after Friday should call the Chamber of Commerce office and leave their names and addresses.

money needed. There are 8,550 meters in the seven cities involved.

Cities may either turn the money to the Authority out of present funds or borrow the money, each city being responsible for the amount to cover its number of meters.

This was done to not cause any city to go over its budget in case a budget had been announced without consideration for the Authority.

Cities in the Authority report the following number of meters: Paducah, 853; Wellington, 1,339; Memphis, 1,177; Quanah, 1,573; Clarendon, 933; Hedley, 240; and Childress, 2,375.

Directors plan to invite Marvin Shubert of Petersburg, a member of the Texas Water Development Board, here for a meeting in January.

Directors discussed whether the Authority would be financed through ad valorem tax bonds or revenue bonds. It was pointed out that ad valorem taxes were deductible from income while money spent for water was not. Also money borrowed on tax bonds average one per cent less interest than money borrowed on revenue bonds.

All cities in the Authority, with the exception of Wellington, were represented at the meeting.
