AND-KIMBALL WHOLESALE GROCERY LOCATED IN LITTLEFIELD; $35,000 TO BE PLACED HERE IN SHORT TIME

W. H. Hestand, of the Hestand-Wholesale Grocery Co., of Dallas, closed a deal Monday with E. Heinen for the lease of his brick warehouse. He is now moving a complete stock of at least $35,000 into this building and within a short time will have a wholesale stock of at least $35,000.

on account of the very wide trade territory around Littlefield and predicted a rapid growth and good future for Littlefield.

This will make the third location for this firm in West Texas, being located at Slaton and Lamesa. Sam T. Hodges will be the local manager. He will move his family here from Lubbock within the next few days.

Littlefield is glad to welcome this concern here, as such businesses are signs of progress. The result of their coming here will mean that local merchants will be enabled to keep up an up-to-the-minute stock of groceries at all times, thus rendering a more efficient service to their customers.

CELEBRATES TRADES DAY WITH LARGE CROWD

Monday was Trades Day in Littlefield and the streets were thronged with a great crowd of people in the city, visiting with each other, listening to good band music, attending to the 35 prizes and good time in general.

Trades Days are held for the purpose of promoting good will and understanding between the merchants and consumers, and also, furnishes a opportunity to meet your friends and acquaintances with new people. Prizes and drawings are of great interest to the merchants for the trade and to the people in this territory. These Trades Days are the best, and it is money well spent.

Trades Day will be October 14th and plans are already being made to be one of the best. There will be one of the features of the day will be awarded. A prize will be awarded to a calf that you think it is the best in shape and bring it to the fair on September 7th. Call at the Chamber of Commerce and notify them of your arrangements. Merit drawings will be held as usual.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE HAS GOOD MEETING

Last Tuesday's Chamber of Commerce luncheon was well attended and several things of importance were discussed.

The Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in getting the new wholesale grocery which is moving into the Heinen building this week.

An official city-wide clean up was discussed and a date for this clean-up will be announced next week.

A fair exhibit at the Amarillo and Lubbock fairs is being gotten up and some good field crops are being brought in. County Agent Adams is working with the Chamber of Commerce in getting up this exhibit.

A committee was appointed to get up folders describing Littlefield and this territory. These folders will be mailed out to persons making inquiries about this town and surrounding country.

In response to an invitation from the Morton Chamber of Commerce a committee from the Littlefield Chamber of Commerce visited Morton, Wednesday afternoon for the purpose of making efforts to get another railroad through this place and through Morton and on to El Paso.

WHAT IS DOING IN WEST TEXAS

Hale Center furnishes the statistics on Hale County's cows, and reports that it has 14,174 dairy cattle. Of this number 7,109 are giving milk, and 5,489 are heifers two years old and under. There are 771 males. There are 356 registered cows according to the report.

Tulia has a farmer named Muirhead who is past 80 years of age who successfully farms his 100 acre farm alone. This year he had 80 acres in wheat which averaged 20 bushels per acre. All of the work except combining was done by him. The land was summer fallowed with a team of mules.

Hereford's Farmers Creamery distributes $500.00 every day to the farmers in the Hereford trade territory. The money is given out in amounts ranging from $3.00 to $25.00 for cream. Approximately $15,000 was paid to the farmer patrons of the creamery during the first month of its existence.

Lockney is expecting a vast deposit of what technicians term "caliche" on the Runningwater draw to help solve the paving problems of Floyd county. Property owners on the busiest thoroughfare in town are planning a test strip of paving using it.

MORTON AFTER RAILROAD

There was a meeting of large attendance held in the court house at Morton last Saturday, at which time petitions were gathered from Cochran, Lamb, Bailey and Roosevelt counties, having more than 400 signatures for a railroad to be run through the Cochran county seat.

The petitions will be presented to the Frisco and Ft. Worth and Denver railroads. Another meeting was slated for Wednesday of this week, and Littlefield asked to have a delegation present.

The largest number of Indians ever engaged in battle with Americans was at the first "Dobe Walls" fight in 1864 according to Judge R. C. Crane, Sweetwater historian.

METHODIST REVIVAL AT THE TABERNACLE GROWS IN INTEREST

The services being conducted four times each day at the tabernacle on Main street will continue through Sunday night. Evangelist Rev. Joe Michael is preaching a Gospel of repentance, faith and holiness that has brought conviction and salvation to many and a higher consecration on the part of the church members.

The children's meeting in the afternoon at four thirty thrills all who hear Mr. Harrison, and the young peoples meeting under the same leadership has brought new fire to our League workers and other young people of the town.

The lecture, "From the Ridiculous to the Sublime," brings laughter followed by tears to those who hear this story of Mr. Harrison's life. The singing has been of a high order and many have learned to praise God in song during the past two weeks.

The remaining nights of the meeting challenge the people to devote more time to their souls welfare, that they may prove their worthiness to receive the prosperity that God has in store for all this Fall.

PIE SUPPER AT LUM'S CHAPEL

A pie supper will be held at Lum's Chapel next Friday night, Sept. 13th. A good time is assured all who attend. Ladies are requested to bring pies and men the money with which to purchase them. The proceeds will go to the singing class.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend.

GROWS FINE WATERMELONS

W. O. Burford living 5 miles north of Littlefield, visited the Leader office Monday, and presented the force with as fine a watermelon as it has been our luck to taste this year. He claims he has other melons larger and better than the sample he left here, but we're satisfied!

BOX SUPPER

There will be a box supper at union Center, six miles west of Littlefield, Friday night, September 6th. Everyone is invited to come and bring a box. A three-act play will first be staged, followed by duets and quartets, after which the boxes will be sold to the highest bidder.

Airmen of Europe are laughing over the report from Germany that an experimenter in motorless flight has tamed a number of storks to tow him through the air on an engineless soaring machine.

It's great to be a Texan!

COLLEGE NOTES

Things are stirring around Littlefield College. Hammers, saws, paint brushes busy. Several offices are being built into the west end of the temporary administration building.

President Duckworth has moved his family into the college president's home, and is personally looking after the completion of the college's campaign for students for the coming session.

A number of students from Lamb County have advised that they expect to attend Littlefield College the coming session. This is encouraging to the faculty and shows a marked improvement in interest, and will be a stimulation to the boarding school students who come from a distance.

When asked about athletics, President Duckworth, said, "Sure, we are going to have athletics. We have some fine looking boys coming who have made good playing football, as well as other games. We intend to build carefully, solidly, aggressively, the best, cleanest, fairest, most up-to-date athletic teams that can be put together; something that every clean sportsman in Littlefield, in Lamb County, on the Plains, will appreciate."

Prof. S. H. Cantrall, the Registrar, is here completing his work preparatory to the opening of the term September 17. His correspondence with students and others interested in the school, in addition to visits from individual students convinces him that there is a growing interest in Littlefield College.

Miss Consuelo Finney, one of the teachers in Littlefield College has already arrived, and is spending two weeks putting the library into first-class condition. She is an industrious worker, having had years of experience in school work. She is adding much to the general appearance of the library.

R. O. Conner, business manager of the school is moving his family to Littlefield next week, so that hereafter the administrative forces will be centered here. Mr. Conner advises that he expects to give his personal attention to the building program and the sale of the college property. He will have two children in school, possibly three.

Others members of the faculty, as well as some students will be arriving before the close of another week.

More residences and small business houses are now under construction in Monterey, Mexico, than in the past 15 years.

TEXAS TECH. WILL START REGISTERING STUDENTS SEPT. 23

Lubbock, Texas, Sept. 2.—Registration for the fifth annual session of Texas Technological College will begin September 23. This will be preceded by freshman orientation September 20, 21, and 22. Dr. L. H. Hubbard, president of the College of Industrial Arts, Denton, and former dean of freshman men at the University of Texas, has been selected to deliver the annual address to the incoming first year students.

The freshman class last year numbered 1004, and a substantial increase over this number is expected for the coming year. Statistics for the four years show that an average of 70 percent of the freshman class returns to school the following year. Based on this percentage the next sophomore class will number something over 700. And it is further estimated on past figures that there will be a minimum of 450 juniors and 240 seniors. These figures would indicate a minimum total enrollment for the year, not including the summer session of at least 2500.

HUNTING SEASON OPENED

Durnig the past week Littlefield Nimrods have been cleaning up their shot guns and laying in a supply of ammunition in anticipation of the game season that opened last Sunday for the shooting of doves and prairie chickens.

In this hunting zone the prairie chicken shooting season was only three days, 10 birds being the limit allowed in either one of three days. The bag limit on doves is 15 a day or 45 a week.

A hunting license is required for a person hunting outside the county of his residence. It costs $2.00 and may be obtained of the county clerk. License for a person living outside of Texas costs $25.00.

MORE FRUIT EVIDENCE

J. H. Wells, local contractor, is the latest to produce evidence of the fruit growing proclivities of this section, when he visited the Leader office a few days ago with a fine sample of Elberta peaches in keeping with other excellent specimens heretofore lauded in the columns of this newspaper. Wells has a young orchard of about 300 trees on his place in the Broad Acres addition. They are from three to five years old, doing nicely and all bearing fruit this year.

Washington Cathedral in Washington, D. C., is visited by more than 250,000 worshippers and pilgrims every year.

LITTLEFIELD CATS WIN AND LOOSE ON TRIP TO NEW MEX.

The Roswell Base Ball club nosed off the locals in a well played game last Sunday at Roswell, 5-3. Herb Mueller who was in the box for the locals pitched winning ball but was not given the best of support in pinches. The game as a whole was a neat contest and neither side had the better of the argument until the last man was out.

The Labor Day contest was pulled off at Artesia 45 miles south of Roswell in the valley, and a contest followed. The Littlefield team was represented by Newty Moore, in the role of a twirler and turned in a near perfect performance. Moore was right and all the team gave him perfect support, hence not a man saw first base until the seventh inning. The Artesia boys had hopes of a rally in this inning only to bow down and be content with swinging and going out in order without scoring.

In the eighth the Oilers tied the count after the Cats had led the way with one score in the fourth. Neither side scored in the ninth so the tenth inning opened with Mick Ratliff local infielder to lead off. Mick politely singled to center. Scallings advanced him to second with a neat sacrifice. Howard Ballard new third base-man for the Cats rattled the boards in left with a long single. Embert Mueller forced Ballard. Hanks hit safely and Dewey Walker sent out a blow that scored E. Mueller. Both games were well attended and enjoyed by all.

Next Sunday the Lubbock Hubber nine will come to Littlefield and make their winning ways with the Cats. Manager Chisholm has the assurance of two veterans for mound duty and will make things interesting for the locals. The home Club will be practically the same lineup used at Artesia on Monday with one or possibly two exceptions. Dick Ratliff, now with the Midland Colts, will be here and it is possible that Al Mueller will be in shape to take his place in the lineup in center field. Howard Ballard will add to the infield with his stellar work at third base. While E. Mueller at short and Mick Ratliff at second will form one of the best keystone combinations in this part of the state. The first-base corner will be between the veteran Hanks and Lefty McWilliams of Sudan who has been a regular member of the Club for some few weeks.

N. C. Moore, better known as "Newty," is the pitcher's selection for this game. Moore turned in a real pitching feat at Artesia last Monday, and is going to duplicate this on the Hubbers next Sunday.

This Club beat Littlefield the last time and the Cats are going to remove this sting next Sunday, at Grand Park. The game will be called at 3:30 p. m. De Long will do the calling for the home club. Tell your friends and help the home club win by coming to this game. If you don't get your money's worth from now on the rest of the season, report the matter to the management of the club and you will be compensated.

Alex McCall and Big Bill Morgan will likely pitch for Lubbock. A return game will be played in Lubbock a week from next Sunday.

For taxation purposes realty and personalty are rendered on an average basis of 33 1-3 per cent. The approximately $4,000,000,000 total represents more than $12,000,000,000 in actual wealth.

A trans-Atlantic flight without a stowaway on board would be news.

CLASSIFIED COLUMNS OF EVERY NEWSPAPER CARRY MANY HEART THROBS IN WANT ADS

Want ads are little, but mighty! The classified columns of every newspaper worth while carries many an interesting story in these little insertions. Of course, they are very briefly stated, but always clear enough to give the substance of the story, tho the details are left out for future explanation. Not infrequently these little want ads carry within them volumes of meaning. In the classified columns of every newspaper, there is not only business represented, but there is romance, tragedy and—sometimes comedy, if all the details were really known.

Somebody got skinned in a certain deal, and he has inserted a little want ad trying to pass the buck onto someone else; there are those who want work—quite a sob story back of this kind if one only knew it; there is one desiring a companion, a son or daughter run away from home, an appeal for money for some particular purpose, a lad has lost his dog, etc.—sometimes a dozen or more different kinds of conditions are represented in every issue of that paper.

Here is an aged woman who advertises for a congenial companion. Alone in the world, perhaps suffering from feebleness or disease, she needs and craves the companionship and assistance of some one younger. As her hair becomes frosted with the snows of past winters, as her once beautiful face becomes creased with the lines of toil and years, as her once buoyant strength slips from her in the lengthened journey of life, she yearns for someone about the house to speak a kindly word, to lend a helping hand—just someone to be present in a time of need. She would gladly pay for such presence. And, perhaps should you accept the provisions of her simple appeal in that little want ad she would in time unfold to you an interesting story of human nature both interesting and pathetic, yet true to life and worthy of a place in the annals of history.

and were woven into its timbers as they were placed in the structure. But alas, the bride only occupied it two or three months, when she slipped out of this life or went away to live elsewhere. The husband has no further use for it—it is for sale at a bargain.

Two weeks ago a man advertised in the Lender a suit case as he said, "containing every stitch of clothes I owned except what I have on." Last week a lady advertised for a hat box, containing among other clothing her only summer hat and best silk dress. It had jolted from the running board of the car as they were traveling through the country on vacation bent.

Here is a woman who would do "plain sewing." There is a reason for her advertising that fact, though it may forever be locked up in her own bosom. Here is another who would take in washing, perhaps the pangs of hunger have driven her to it, and there are little children who will suffer if no one answers that urgent appeal.

Yes, there is many a heart throb to be found in the classified columns of every newspaper. If you want to spend an interesting half-hour some time, just pick up any paper and carefully read the want ads, speculating as to cause and effect while doing so, and you will have more sympathy for your fellow creatures when you have finished.

O. E. S. CELEBRATES FOUNDER'S BIRTHDAY

On the evening of August 30th, the O. E. S. fittingly observed the birthday of Robert Morris, founder of the Order with an informal picnic on the spacious lawn at the home of Mrs. R. E. McCaskill, which had been electrically lighted for the occasion.

Mrs. P. H. Boone welcomed the guests and visitors of neighboring chapters in a few appropriate words and gave a brief resume of the founding of the Order. Quoting the words of Robert Morris, on the occasion of the founding of the Order of the Eastern Star, she said, "If the order is any good, it will live and prosper."

We now have some two million members, which shows the growth of our beloved order.

Following the picnic supper, games were indulged in and the evening closed with singing by the group.

Another Record

Miss Vera Stone, 18, of Ripley, Tenn., hiccupped for 59 days despite remedies tried by doctors. It is believed her record will stand as no one seems eager to beat her mark.

ORGANIZE S. S. CLASS

Sunday morning marked the election of new officers for Mrs. L. W. Jordan's Sunday School class for the duration of the next six months.

Mrs. J. P. Spinks was elected president of the class to succeed Mrs. Mid Seale, who offered her resignation to perform other work. We feel sure with the leadership of our newly elected president and the cooperation of the following officers with her, the class will grow steadily and that great good will develop from the efforts of the members.

First Vice President, Mrs. Acree Barton. Mrs. Barton has formerly held this place and with her continued interest before her, she promises to surpass previous work done by her efforts.

Second Vice President, Mrs. Humphries. The class retained this officer as its social chariman and it is evident that the social side of the class is not to be neglected, for shortly a social will be given so that the members may become better acquainted.

Third Vice President, Mrs. Mid Seale. This office carries with it the devotional of the class and any benevolent work. This phase of the organization is an important one and far-reaching, and under the able direction of Mrs. Seale we have the assurance the field will be properly covered and from it great good derived.

Secretary, Mrs. R. E. McCaskill. Assistant Secretary and Treasurer, Mrs. Lee. These officers were selected with great care as it is very essential that they be trained officers to provide correct reports at all times and we are glad to have these two able workers.

Chairman Home Department, Mrs. Morgan. This capacity has been supplied with Mrs. Morgan's services previously and we are fortunate in securing her again for this particular office. We are anxious to have the mothers who are unable to attend class take up this work. Mrs. Morgan shall be happy to call upon you.

Class Reporter, Mrs. J. H. Lucas. Devotional, Mrs. E. S. Rowe, 57th Psalm.

Lesson Study, Mrs. L. W. Jordan, teacher.

Prayer, Mrs. Spinks.

MELLY'S NEW SLIPPERS

Melly had received a beautiful pair of blue slippers upon her birthday. Her mother had made them and they had been a great surprise. She had a pair which were very good and she didn't expect to wear them just yet.

Well, several months had gone by and Melly had only worn her slippers once. She had put them away on the shelf with a big white handkerchief around them so they would keep clean until she began to really wear them quite often.

That was the way her mother did. She kept the slippers in a big white handkerchief while they were waiting for the time when they would be given.

And her mother had a way of hiding the slippers and of making them when no one saw her at it, so that they had always come as a surprise. No one had ever expected their slippers just the time they had been given them, and yet mother made slippers for all of the family.

Once they had discovered how nice they were they never wanted any others.

Yes, Melly had been saving her slippers for very special days to come. Maybe she would save them until she took a little trip to visit a cousin in another month.

One evening it was very cold, and somehow the house was not very warm.

Melly went upstairs. Oh, dear, her feet were so cold and she felt she wouldn't sleep very well with such cold feet.

Then she thought of her beautiful warm slippers.

She took them down from the shelf and took off the white handkerchief, and then she put them on.

First she put one on her right foot and then the other on her left foot.

Oh, how soft they were! Oh, how warm they were! They were just right, warm and soft and comfortable and comforting.

Melly's feet were quite comfortable in a very short time. She was not cold any longer.

"I'll begin to wear them now," Melly said, "for my cold feet would like to receive the attention as much as others who might see me."

And of course they were warm! Oh, Melly dearly loved her new slippers!

They were very superior slippers, but they hadn't any of the cold, distant, uncomfortable manners of some superior creatures and things.

They were friendly slippers, just as friendly as they could be!

Melly's mother couldn't have made slippers that weren't friendly. Melly knew that.

Opposition in Australia to a government tax on gasoline road-improvement funds failed to defeat the plan.

BACK TO SCHOOL

You don't have to dig up the almanac or scan the calendar to know that school days are here again. Gaze into the faces of Littlefield boys and girls and you'll realize it. And you'll not find it written in a frown, either, for times have changed since the old days when we had the rule of a hickory switch and "book learning" was drudgery.

Time has changed almost everything, our schools along with it. Today they seem to realize that their future comfort and happiness, depends on how well they do their school tasks now. They see on every hand the advantages that are opened only to those who have applied themselves and made themselves capable of enjoying those advantages. Ignorance and illiteracy have come to be inexcusable, and boys and girls no sooner reach the school age now than they realize the world isn't going to pay the debt it owes them—a living—unless they are capable of writing a worth-while receipt.

We're back to school days once again; busy days for those who are getting ready to run this old world in a few more years. We're back to duty that no longer smacks of drudgery; back to tasks that bring smiles instead of frowns—smile for the younger set because they have such wonderful opportunities, and smiles for us older ones because we have a hand in opening up those opportunities to them.

With Marion Talley on the farm, the neighbors for miles around can listen in on a grand opera voice by hanging on to the party line.

HERE'S THE ANSWER

Business men in the smaller communities realize that a majority of the population subscribes to the home town paper because it is a part of the community and brings the reader into closer contact with his neighbor.

Business men know people don't take the paper because it's a work of art—they take it because in a sentiment of friendship they welcome it into their homes every week regardless of its deficiencies.

It is this that leads the merchant to advertise—he knows the home-town paper is going to be closely read, and he knows he cannot afford to mislead those who read it because they are his friends.

The advertiser has confidence in the home-town paper's subscribers, and they have confidence in him. There is a mutual understanding, and its columns are a common meeting ground on which they get together for mutual good. And that explains why advertising in the home-town paper always pays.

Since man is disposed to fight for the right, isn't it nice that the side he is on is always the right one?

NOTHING NEW

Although "scientific farming" is a modern term, all the principles urged by the best authorities for the cultivation of crops today were known and practiced by ancient peoples. H. W. Warner, farm expert, writing in The Farm Journal, is authority for this statement, which may be a surprise to farmers around Littlefield.

He says: "The principal of crop rotation was known and practiced 3000 years ago. As for the application of lime, we find that mentioned in writings dated before the Christian era. Three hundred years ago early white settlers of New England found the Indians fertilizing corn and putting the fertilizer in the hills. Fertilizing with guano was practiced by the Incas in South America twenty centuries back."

All of which indicates that, even in the matter of tilling the soil, we are not so very far from where our earliest ancestor started in.

You don't need a correspondence course to develop will power. Just practice doing nothing when a mosquito bite itches.

LITTLE LEADERS

It has about come to pass that a vacant lot in Littlefield is a place where old autos go when they die.

The Littlefield man who has a habit of talking out loud to himself might find marriage a cure for it.

Littlefield men at least have this advantage—when the weather gets too hot they have something to take off.

If some Littlefield husbands were allowed to be the boss their wives would be doing their reducing over the washtub instead of by dieting.

Sometimes we wonder what fault a Littlefield wife can find with a husband who earns enough money to buy her everything she wants.

If you don't believe ignorance is bliss, just compare some Littlefield people's courtship with their married life.

PROPER CARE OF THE TEETH

Every so often some scientist foretells what, in his opinion, the man of the future will look like. Not all of the prophecies tally. But on one thing they seem to be fairly unanimous—and that is that man is gradually becoming a toothless animal. The teeth must go, they say, the same as the hair that once upon a time covered man's entire body has almost vanished. Clothes now take its place. And because of soft foods that require little or no chewing they claim our teeth are gradually deteriorating.

It is not likely however that such a change will occur for many generations. Despite what these scientists say I do not believe that teeth must go. With the proper care man need never lose his teeth. With just a little trouble and the application of common sense we can all add ten or fifteen years to the life of our teeth. But until the "toothless" age descends upon us, here are a few simple precautions that will prolong the life of your teeth, keep them strong and healthy, and ward off many unnecessary diseases—thereby improving your general health and condition.

Brush the gums as well as the teeth. Massage the gums with a rubber massage cup (made for the purpose) or a cloth wrapped about the forefinger.

Avoid extremes in temperature both in foods and liquids.

Chew hard whole grains and other resisting foods that will keep the spaces between the teeth and the point where the gums cover the teeth free from particles of soft food that decay and cause pyorrhea.

Strengthen the teeth and jaws by gripping tenaciously between the teeth a small hand towel, folded lengthwise until it is narrow enough to enter the mouth. Pull it through the teeth with as much force as you can stand. At first it may be painful to the front teeth, but if you persist in a short time you will be able to tug the towel with hudden jerks without any discomfort whatever. Gripping the towel with the teeth and pulling is another splendid exercise. Fastening a weight to the other end of the towel and swinging it is also good.

But the fundamental principal that lies behind healthy teeth is the same as that which lies behind the healthy body and the healthy mind—good general physical condition. Adhere to a natural diet. Take regular exercises that increase circulation and thereby purify the blood. Regular elimination. The daily cold bath that stimulates the muscles and glands. Sufficient relaxation and sleep. And, of course, avoid stimulants and tobacco.

In short, anything that benefits the general health also benefits the teeth.

It has about reached the point where girls around Littlefield are far more interested in the kind of a car a young man has than they are in the kind of a disposition he carries around.

Some men are known by their deeds—and others by their mortgages.

A lot of folks know more than they are willing to admit, and a lot of others are willing to admit they know more than they do.

Maybe a lot of us would get higher on the ladder of success if we'd quit stopping to kick the fellow on the rung below.

And also keep this in mind—if you can't set the old world right, it's not a good idea to give it a push in the wrong direction.

A Turk claims to have reached the age of 160 by living on garlic, cigars and cheese. Father Time couldn't choke off a breath that strong.

A Lightning Change Artist

ONE of the most versatile and appetizing of all the foods that come in cans is apple butter. You can spread it over bread pudding after baking, cover with meringue and return to the oven to brown. You can fold it into tapioca cream pudding, chill the pudding and serve it in sherbet glasses, topped with whipped cream. You can split sponge cakes, put in a generous layer of apple butter between and on top, and serve with whipped cream. You can make individual shortcakes of hot baking powder biscuits, apple butter and whipped cream. Or you can fill baked pastry shells with apple butter, cover with meringue and brown in a hot oven. Served with waffles, apple butter is a welcome novelty. French toast and apple butter is another tasty combination. Fried mush, served with apple butter, has a fresh appeal.

Many Other Ways
For parties make it pretty. Spread it on thin slices of fresh bread from which the crusts have been removed. Roll carefully so that the bread will not break, and tie each roll with a narrow ribbon or fasten it together with a toothpick. Or cut thin slices of bread in fancy shapes, put a border of cream cheese around the edge with a pastry tube and a spoonful of canned apple butter in the center. Mixed with chopped nuts and used between thin slices of graham bread, apple butter makes a delicious sandwich.
Apple butter is a lightning change artist. It can adapt itself to so many dishes that a can of it should always be kept on hand.

POULTRY

IMPORTANT JOBS IN CHICKEN YARD

There are three jobs with the farm poultry that need to be done early, the earlier, the better.

Right now is the time to cull the hens, dip both hens and pullets to destroy their lice and transfer the pullets to the laying house.

Culling is a simple job. To see a culling demonstration, it appears to consist of a lot of fuss and frills, but the amateur will do a pretty efficient job if he culls out at this time of year the hens that have yellow shanks and beaks and that already have their new feathers for winter.

The yellow shanks and beaks indicate that the hens are not laying, while the new feathers generally indicate that they will not lay—until spring.

While the weather is still warm is the time to dip all the chickens. Don't think your hens have no lice—all hens have them and don't wait until it is so cold you will have to dust them.

Dusting is all right if one has a gas mask and plenty of time. Sodium fluoride is the stuff to use in the dip.

Each year, many excellent early-hatched pullets are thrown into a molt because the owner delays too long getting them transferred to the laying house.

When pullets get to laying, it doesn't take much of a fright to throw them into a molt.

Pullets that have been roosting in the trees often molt when they are transferred to the laying house.

Fall and Winter Eggs Are Most Profitable

Fall and winter months may be termed the profit months in poultry culture for the reason that the big difference in production between heavy-laying flocks and flocks which are not profitable comes during that season of the year. Almost any healthy hen will lay well toward spring.

It is an established fact that a flock must average approximately 100 eggs per hen per year in order to return the owner a profit. The difference between the monthly flock averages of good flocks and poor flocks comes mainly during the fall and winter months. In order words, the owners of profitable flocks have utilized methods which increase production at a time of year when fresh eggs are scarce and therefore higher in price.

Early hatches of early maturing birds could be set down as one of the most important points in getting heavier fall and winter production. Pullets that start laying during the latter part of October are from hatches that came before May first, usually before April first. They are birds that have been well fed and are fully developed. Good birds of this character will produce greatly over 100 eggs per year if they are properly fed and housed.

All-Mash Feed System Recommended to Some

The all-mash system of feeding is to be recommended to people who are pressed for time. A well-built mash hopper when filled with a good ration will do a great deal toward securing proper growth on young birds. If young birds are forced to rustle for a large portion of their feed, they will make only slow growth and the result will be a lot of undersized pullets for the winter. Such pullets do not make profitable winter layers nor will the cockerels bring satisfactory prices when put on the market.

Poultry Facts

More than mere abundance is needed in the poultry ration.

Much early molting is caused by improper feeding as well as by poor laying quality.

One should encourage chicks to roost at the earliest opportunity. As long as they roost on the floor, danger from crowding is ever present.

Never let your drinking founts get slimy. Scald them out and give a good cleaning every few days.

The greater the egg production per hen the greater the labor income, cash receipts, and cash returns above feed.

Hens that lose in weight usually go into a molt. Therefore it is essential to watch the weight of the hens and see that they are getting sufficient feed to maintain their body needs.

On the larger farms culling is carried on rapidly in the fall and the poor birds go to market by the crate.

There is no other fowl or stock that will deteriorate as quickly as turkeys with inbreeding. This is one of the great faults and the hardest lesson many have had to learn.

There are people who have the right variety of fowls, who house and feed them properly, and yet who can not obtain eggs early in the winter because their fowls are too old.

SKIMMILK

WHY Leave Your Cream Profit in the Skimmilk?

PROFIT is the last thing to be made in producing cream or anything else—and if your cream separator isn't skimming clean you are losing a big part of your profit.

The worst of it is you can't see whether your separator is skimming clean or not. But there is an easy way to tell.

Ask us to bring out a new De Laval Separator and run the skim-milk from your old machine through it. If there is any butter-fat left in the skim-milk the new De Laval will surely get it. Have the cream recovered weighed and tested and you can tell exactly if you need a new De Laval—and if you do, trade in your old machine as partial payment.

Liberal trade allowances made on old separators.

The new De Laval is the best separator ever made. It has the wonderful "floating" bowl and other improvements. It is guaranteed to skim cleaner. It also is easier to run and handle and lasts longer. For 48 years De Laval Separators have led the world.
