HULL CLAIMS FOREIGN AND U. S. PROGRAMS IN HARMONY

WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—The nation's business moved ahead of its planned restoratives last week with freight car loadings...

For the seven-day period ending June 17, the American Railway association announced today, loadings were 587,931 cars, an increase of 23,385 over the preceding week...

Meanwhile the industrial regulation and public works administrations were mustering their strength to put it behind the upward push which business already is making.

LONDON, June 24 (AP)—A drive for an international accord to raise prices in harmony with the American recovery program was underway in the world economic conference tonight as Secretary of State Cordell Hull assailed the sources of suggestions that internal and inter-governmental schemes of action were in conflict.

There is "no basis and no logic" in the thought that America's domestic plans are incompatible with international efforts to halt the crisis, Secretary Hull declared.

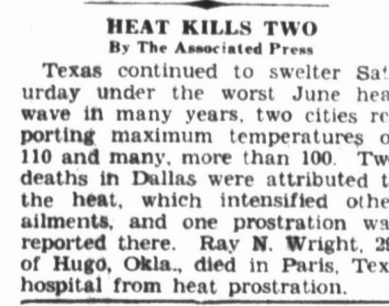

Cotton Act Urged WASHINGTON, June 24 (AP)—President Roosevelt threw his personal influence behind the cotton acreage reduction program today as administrators of the farm act put final touches on plans for beginning Monday an intensive campaign in southern states to cut down this year's output of the crop.

In a preface to an explanation of the plan issued under the president's signature, farmers of the cotton belt were called upon to cooperate in the program under which Secretary Wallace hopes to reduce acreage about ten million acres and cut down this year's potential production from three to four million bales.

OIL BODY FORMED DALLAS, June 24 (AP)—The board of directors of the newly-created Texas Independent Refiners' association today perfected the organization, elected officers and discussed plans for a code of practices under which their industry would operate under the industrial recovery act.

HEAT KILLS TWO By The Associated Press Texas continued to swell Saturday under the worst June heat wave in many years, two cities reporting maximum temperatures of 110 and many more than 100. Two deaths in Dallas were attributed to the heat, which intensified other ailments, and one prostration was reported there.

WHEAT BRINGS HIGHEST PRICE OF THIS YEAR

DAMAGE REPORTS ARE RESPONSIBLE FOR BUYING DELUGE

CHICAGO, June 24 (AP)—Grain pits of the board of trade were deluged with buying orders today and prices of most grains soared to the season's highest levels.

Bullish enthusiasm was evident from the start. Buyers were swayed by reports, both official and private, that heat and drought had damaged grain crops in the west and north-west even more severely than had been estimated.

All deliveries of wheat soared to well above 80 cents a bushel mark with the December touching 88 5/8 cents and the December at 85 cents and the December at 88 cents.

Much Little Known History Can Only Be Sketched Through The Centuries

THIS Panhandle-Plains section shares with Texas in general a colorful history, and in the opinion of many historians is entitled to the further distinction that it was for a brief period under the flag of Napoleon's France.

Title to the State of Texas may be roughly traced back to the Creator and up through untold ages during which unknown peoples—and lastly the Indian tribes—occupied it before the first white man saw it.

The conquest of Mexico, 1519-1521 by Hernan Cortez, who left Cuba early in 1519, landed in Vera Cruz and proceeded to conquer the Aztec rulers at what is now the City of Mexico, laid the basis of Spanish exploration and settlement.

Western Texas was crossed by Vasquez de Coronado in 1540 when he sought the fabled Seven Cities of Cibola. Santa Fe, N. M., was established in 1609, but 21 years later there were only 250 Spaniards in that province.

The mission of Guadalupe was founded at El Paso in 1659. Meanwhile, France had explored and claimed the Mississippi (Louisiana) region and in subsequent colonization the two nations clashed in what is now East Texas.

Texas colonization under Spanish rule was, however, very slow.

Gray Officials Assured Roads Will Be Built

Highly satisfactory conversations at Abilene with Judge W. R. Ely, member of the state highway commission, were reported by County Judge C. E. Cary and County Commissioner J. H. Dent yesterday.

In discussions of paving projects which will be eligible for federal aid under the national recovery act, it was brought out that gaps on designated roads, such as 152, 33 across South Pampa, and 66 will be closed first, followed in turn by such roads as 8, 14 and possibly Oil Field Highway No. 41 and the proposed road north across the Canadian river.

Judge Ely showed interest in the non-designated highway projects and the Pampa-McLean road but said he would not commit himself on these until the gaps are closed and the commission knows how much money will remain. Another factor is that the federal allotment may be increased later.

Gray county, because of a high percentage of unemployed men, will likely be favored by the commission because the federal money is really intended to furnish jobs for the unemployed. Federal funds will be received July 1 and July 10 for the first two contracts will be let. Right-of-way agreements were made in Donkey county for work on No. 5, which will be completed on to Dalhart by filling in the gaps.

Judge Ely said the highway commission had the situation well in hand, knew what it wished to do first, and would be sympathetic toward new projects according to the funds available after the primary roads are completed. He talked to the local men and other North Plains road delegates several times.

LAUNDRY MAN KILLED MEXIA, June 24 (AP)—A dispute in the office of the New Way Laundry here late today resulted in the fatal shooting of W. M. Smith, 33, laundry engineer.

Typhoid Fever Warning Given

A number of local physicians have expressed apprehension concerning possible spread of typhoid fever if weather continues hot and dry.

Experience in other similar years has shown a need for precautions. Unemployment, with lowering of standards of living, is another factor this year. Several local residents are ill of what may be typhoid.

The physicians urge vaccination against smallpox as the surest way of avoiding an epidemic.

Patton Leading In Solons' Race

GALVESTON, June 24 (AP)—State Senator Nat Patton of Crockett Judge James D. Pickett of Palestine, and Clark W. Thompson of Galveston were leading a field of nine candidates on the face of early returns tonight from the seventh district congressional election to choose a successor to the late Clay Stone Briggs.

Returns to the Galveston News and Houston Chronicle from eight of the ten counties in the district, none complete, gave: R. E. Biggs, Liberty, 93; Nail Colson, Conroe, 25; Thomas H. Dent (Galveston negro), 211; State Senator Julian P. Greer, Palestine, 194; State Senator Nat Patton, Crockett, 752; James D. Pickett, Palestine, 980; Theodore Stubbs, Galveston, 489; Clark W. PALISADES, Palo Duro Canyon, June 24.—Well, here we are at last, after we had begun to think that Fort Hill was to be our home for the whole six months of enlistment.

We arrived at Amarillo Wednesday night 200 strong, happy but tired and sleepy. We were greeted by the reception the people gave us. Instead of going to a hotel, we pulled to a side-track and went to sleep after a supper of sandwiches and fruit.

Our train comprised three companies. Company 1807 was en route to Wyoming and Company 1816 to Colorado. Our Company 856, pride of Fort Hill, was sent to the Palisades. The boys are in splendid condition, with rugged complexions and tanned bodies.

Scout Official Will Be 'On The Go' This Week

A busy week is ahead of Scout Executive C. A. Clark, who tomorrow will go to Wellington to attend a court of honor.

He will return here Tuesday morning when a council fire will be held at a camp on Wolf creek for Scouts of Perryton and Booker.

He was in Kingsmill last Thursday evening at a birthday event for the troop sponsored by the Pampa Rotary club. On Friday evening he was attending a court of honor at which three Scouts attained first class rank. Two in the Star rank, and nineteen merit badges were awarded. He showed summer camp movies at both events.

AGED MOTHER COLLAPSES AS JURY REPORTS

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS IS GIVEN ABDUCTOR OF YOUNG GIRL

By ANDREW J. CLARKE Associated Press Staff Writer BARNSTABLE, Mass., June 24 (AP)—Kenneth Buck, 26, was convicted tonight by a jury of kidnaping 10-year-old Margaret "Peggy" McMath and the extortion of $60,000 ransom from her parents, and was sentenced immediately to not less than 24 years or more than 25 years in state prison.

His brother by one trial was acquitted of the kidnaping charge.

Kenneth, who shed tears during the trial, stood up and received the sentence without flinching. His aged mother, Mrs. Bertha Buck, collapsed and was taken to the courtroom. Other relatives cried openly and Mrs. Albert Chase, a sister of Kenneth, left the room near collapse.

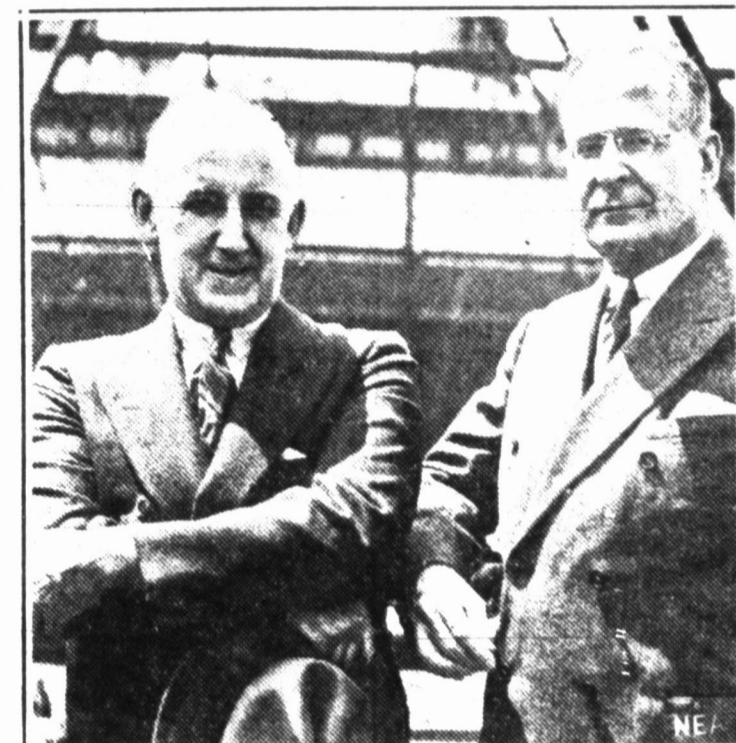

Cyril, meanwhile, sat in the defendants dock unmoved by the verdict that acquitted him. His counsel, Willard Carleton, rushed to his side and shook his hand. Cyril smiled wanly.

Immediately the jury's verdict was announced, Cyril's attorney moved that his client be dismissed from custody. This was done.

As soon as Kenneth's sentence was pronounced by Judge Edward F. Hanly, a deputy who sat with the convicted man snapped handcuffs on his wrists.

During the trial Cyril testified that he at no time knew where "Peggy" was being hidden and said as far as he knew his brother was the only person implicated in the kidnaping. Kenneth, however, said a mysterious "Bill," a Hyannis bootlegger, concocted the plot and had told him "Peggy's" father was behind it and would "take care" of Kenneth if he was arrested.

WELFARE BOARD SPENDS $15,144 IN 2 YEARS, 5 MONTHS; BALANCE ON HAND MAY 31 WAS $264.89

PAMPA'S Welfare association received funds totaling $15,144.49 during the period from December 19, 1930 through May 31, 1933, according to an audit made by W. D. Waters.

The balance on hand May 31, 1933 had dwindled to $264.89, according to the report made to Alex Schneider, chairman of the board.

An analysis of cash receipts and disbursements from December 19, 1930, to May 31, 1933 follows: Cash on hand, December 19, 1930, $14.54.

Cash deposited during period, $13,144.49. Total cash received, $15,159.03. Cash paid out, as follows: Groceries $6,116.32, medicine $528.16, milk $251.98, clothing $640.72.

Traveling expenses, transients $442.06. Meals, transients, $142.20. Boy Scouts (Community Chest) $170.

Lodging and house rent $46.25, hospital bills $82, doctors' and nurses' bills $211.50, Christmas tree expense $34.80, hauling $24, oil and gas $13.95, federal tax on bank checks $12.74, stationery $7.61, labor $15, postage $3, water $4.50, telephone $4.60, petty cash $16.36, accounts payable $944.39, grocery vouchers $3,251.65, gas bills paid $351.18, advances to workers, etc. $121.57.

Administrative ($772.08) and relief agent salary for 5 months (reimbursed from R. F. C. funds, $421), $1,193.08.

Miscellaneous, $232.32. Total paid out, $14,894.14. Balance, cash on hand May 31, 1933, $264.89.

In the above, the item called traveling expense to transients was allowed because in many cases it was cheaper to give travelers 5 gallons of gas than to have them stranded on the city and begging. Attempts were made in vain to obtain immunity from the federal tax on checks.

Man Near Death In Triangle Stabbing

AMARILLO, June 24 (AP)—Homer Hart, 27-year-old bootmaker, was near death in a local hospital tonight as a result of knife wounds inflicted at his home by A. M. Thomas, a radio entertainer.

Charges of assault with intent to kill were filed against Thomas, and he was lodged in the Potter county jail to await the outcome of Hart's hearing. He made a statement to officers in which he charged Hart, who is unmarried, with an affair involving Mrs. Thomas.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Smoot of White Deer shopped here yesterday.

Fairbanks, Jr., Seriously Ill

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—Douglas Fairbanks Jr., motion picture actor and former husband of Joan Crawford, was in Doctor's hospital tonight suffering from lobar pneumonia. The young actor became chilled a few hours after disembarking from Europe yesterday and this afternoon developed pneumonia. His physician ordered him removed from the apartment of his mother, Mrs. Jack Whiting, to a hospital.

Tonight his condition was described as "satisfactory." His mother remained at his bedside.

The American says Joan Crawford, the actress, who obtained an interlocutory decree of divorce from Fairbanks in the spring, telephoned three times from Hollywood to inquire about his condition.

FARM WOMAN STRUCK DOWN WITH A CHAIN

GUNMEN BELIEVED TO BE CORNERED IN WOODS

FORT SMITH, Ark., June 24 (AP)—Two desperadoes who moved down an officer with a sub-machine gun at Lama last night, appeared at a farm house in the Ozark mountains near Winslow today, beat Mrs. John Rogers with a chain when she refused to give the keys to her automobile and fled.

Heavily armed posses of officers and citizens beat through the underbrush of the hills tonight in the vicinity of the Rogers home. Guards were posted on all roads and it was believed the gunmen were hemmed in.

Mrs. Rogers was alone when the men appeared. They called her to the door and pointed their sub-machine gun at her, threatening her with death unless she produced the keys to her car, which stood in the garage.

She refused and one of the men picked up a heavy chain that lay in the yard, approached her and again demanded the keys. As she again refused, and the man struck her until she fell to the floor, badly bruised and cut about the legs and body.

"We'll fix it so nobody can use it," Mrs. Rogers said the gunman exclaimed. She saw the pair rush the car from the garage and head it for a 20-foot cliff.

The courageous farm woman leaped to her feet, ran to the car and turned it into a tree as the men shouted threats of death at her. As the machine, rolling rapidly toward the cliff, hit the tree the gunmen fled with their machine gun into the hills back of the house and Mrs. Rogers ran to a telephone to call police.

The gunmen's trail of violence began yesterday at Fayetteville where they robbed a store. At Alma their speeding car crashed into another machine. H. D. Humphrey, Alma marshal who was driving along the highway to intercept them, was shot down as he and a deputy sheriff stopped at the wreck. He is near death in a hospital here.

Continuing in the deputy's car, the gunmen fired at other motorists along the road, attempted to kidnap a couple near Van Buren, stole their car and fled to the top of Mt. Vista, from there they were trailed to the Rogers home four miles from Winslow.

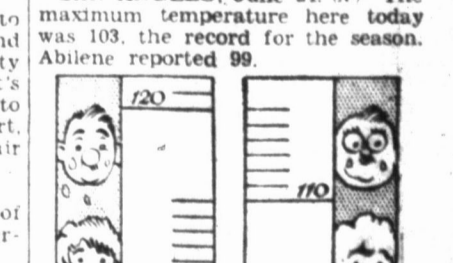

T. H. Gathard of Fort Worth was in Pampa yesterday.

RIGHTOUSNESS BRINGS REJOICING: When The righteous are in authority, the people rejoice; but when the wicked beareth rule, the people mourn.—Proverbs 29:2.

A Big Order Providing fairness to all peoples is a gigantic task. Rising prices, unaccompanied by rising wages, place an unfair burden on labor.

Patient Workmen

It used to be said, in boom days of high wages, that workers would rebel if their pay were lowered. The depression has struck the bottom and rebounded without any sort of workmen's revolution.

Jobs For Students

Despite the fact that there is an over-supply of teachers, degree graduates of the Teachers colleges appear to be more fortunate than the average college graduates of the country in finding employment.

A Cotton Question

Two proposals to cotton users and growers are being urged. In the first place, the government is urging reduction of cotton acreage. In the second, use of cotton throughout the south in every possible way is sought.

Wage Competition

World agreements to let trade find its natural level face almost insurmountable barriers. Not the least of these is the wage issue. An example will show this clearly.

DR. GION—by Hans Carossa. Translated by Agnes Neill Scott. Baltimore, Md. This novel concerning Dr. Gion and his three proteges is enjoyable in that it is a narrative bordering on the symbolic, quite different from the usual run of fiction; however, the story is weak as such sound material might have been used as a basis for a more solid achievement.

DR. GION is one of those novels sometimes classified as "mystic"; the threads of the story are held together by a spiritual quality and a series of coincidences. The author draws conclusions that are clearly obvious and consequently weakens the general impressionistic background.

Cynthia, talented, young sculptress, Emerence, the peasant girl who died at the birth of her child, and Toni, a street urchin and owner of a telescope by means of which he earned a bare living were the three individuals in whom Dr. Gion was intensely interested and about whom Herr Carossa plants an intricate web of mysticism.

BOTH YOUR HOUSES—by Maxwell Anderson. Samuel French, $2. This Pulitzer prize play of 1933, was recently produced by the Theater Guild at the Royale theater, New York, and since has been much praised by critics and the press. Walter Winchell said, "The most stinging indictment the United States lawmakers have ever had thrust down their throats."

Maxwell Anderson's best play since "WHAT PRIZE GLORY?" Brooks Atkinson, in the New York Times, said, "Of all the theatrical attacks upon the depravity of representative government."

BOTH YOUR HOUSES is the most stirring and direct of the liveliest plays of the Theater Guild season. There should be rejoicing around Times Square.

The play takes place in the House office building, Washington, D. C., and concerns chiefly the members of the appropriations committee and the underhanded dealings which they employ in order to secure appropriations by which each one will benefit financially.

Alan McClean from Nebraska, a new member, is determined to get the government back to the point that honesty will be the controlling factor; however, every member on the committee is against him and his ideas with the possible exception of one or two who are too spineless to give up their grafting method of making easy money.

The play is essentially political and, for once, romance doesn't figure in the story enough to be of any impressionable. Solomon Fitzmaurice is the typical old-time politician. He says: "Brigands built up this nation from the beginning, brigands of a gigantic Silurian breed that don't grow in a piddling age like ours. They stole billions and gutted whole states and empires, but they dug our oil wells, built our railroads, built up everything we've got and invented prosperity as they went along! Let 'em go back to work. We can't have an honest government so let them steal plenty and let us start again. Let the behemoths plunder so the rest of us can eat!"

McClellan replies: "I don't know your tricks—you showed me that tonight, and I won't forget it. But I didn't lose because I was wrong. I lost because I tried to beat you at your own game—and you can always win at that. You think you're good and secure in this charlatan's sanctuary you've built for yourselves. You think the sacred and senseless legend poured into the people of this country from childhood will protect you. It won't. It takes about 150 years to tire this country of trickery—and we're 50 years overdue right now. That's my warning."

Maxwell Anderson was born in Atlanta, Pa., in 1888. His boyhood was spent in the middle west; then after attending the Universities of North Dakota and Leland Stanford, he taught school, and later became a journalist. He began his writing career with verse and miscellaneous articles. His first play, "WHITES DESERT," was produced in 1923; then in collaboration with Laurence Stallings, he wrote "WHAT PRIZE GLORY," one of the outstanding plays of the 1924-25 season. Mr. Anderson has written other plays, some of which are as yet unproduced.

THE NEW COMMANDMENT. Translated from the Russian of Panteleimon Romanoff by Valentine Snow. New York: Charles Scribner's Sons, $2.00. THE NEW COMMANDMENT is a study of the conditions of new and old Russia, well written and handled with a sympathetic and intriguing touch. The story concerns the love affairs between Sergel, a peasant who has risen above his people, left his clumsy and awkward spouse, and adjoined to Moscow to become another of the many that were merely cogs in the gigantic mechanism of Russian industry, and Ludmilla, educated, brilliant, and devoted. Sergel, flattered with her attentions, eventually became enchanted with the lovely Ludmilla. The latter lived for nothing but her love for Sergel, and wished him to shut out everything except his affection for her. Hence tragedy entered the story as Sergel is unable to see her point of view; consequently disillusionment and disaster follow.

THE BOOKSELLER'S DUTCH TREAT By Ogden Nash. Oh the gangster eats off diamond plates And the banker eats off plates of gold. While on the stolen china from a Pullman diner

The publisher's pens are rolled. The author sips from his cup. With his back against the wall, But the bookseller shares no bone of theirs. He never eats at all.

The salesman lives on a Pullman car. The banker on a handy yacht. While the publisher lives on superlatives Less creditable than not. The editor lives on the Ile de France

More capably to edit. The congress lives free on you and me. And the bookseller lives on credit. But Sing Sing swarms with bankers. And hell with scribbling folk. And the salesman is doomed to be entombed

In traveling salesman's joke. The urge to merge is the publisher's dirge. And the editor's bells are seven. But the bookseller wise just up and dies And meets his budget in heaven.

How U. S. Will Help the Wheat Farmer

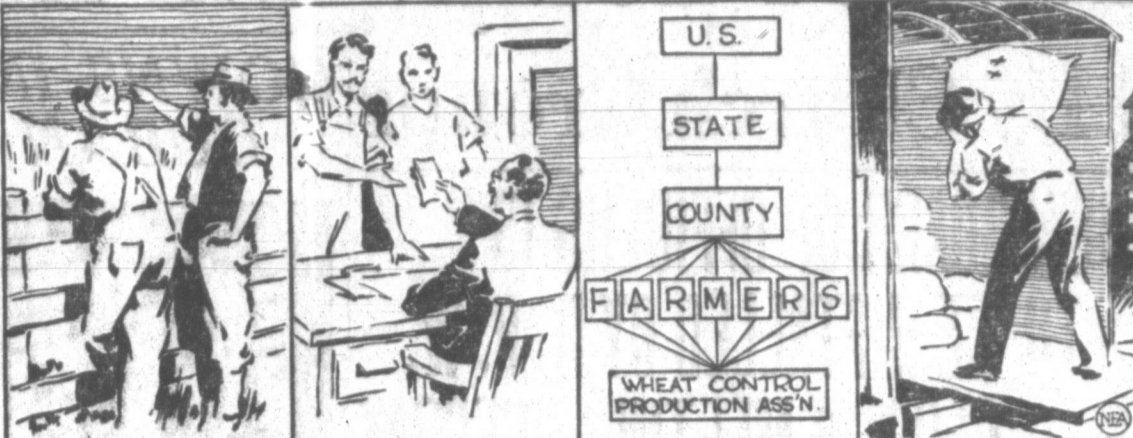

Wheat farmers agreeing to reduce their 1934 and 1935 production up to 20 per cent will benefit from the $150,000,000 the government will spend to raise the price of wheat to the 1909-1914 average. This would mean payment of probably 30 cents a bushel on the number of bushels by which a farmer reduced his production below a three-year average. The amount of 1934 reduction will be announced after the present London international conference on wheat.

By Sept. 15 probably $100,000,000 will be distributed among farmers who comply with the government's terms, although there will be no reduction in the 1933 output. Farmers will continue to sell their wheat at the current market price, maintaining a free market, and unhampered export at world prices. The government hopes to sell the present 360,000,000 bushel carryover in foreign markets, and may if it is necessary buy wheat directly from farmers.

Each state will be allotted the number of bushels of wheat which represent its share of consumption over the base period. County allotments in turn will be made on the same basis. Within the county allotments will be made by the county wheat control production association, formed by farmers agreeing to cut production. Farmers will choose a director whose salary and expenses will be withheld from the pro rata payments.

Money for financing the curtailment effort will come from a processing tax of probably 30 cents a bushel, to be imposed when the miller sells the flour. The tax will not be operative before this point. Secretary of Agriculture Wallace expects this would increase the price of bread by half a cent for a pound loaf, which it is contended will be offset by higher purchasing power of city consumers as a result of the act.

Papa' Colijn Gets What He Wants At Conference By Being Humorous

By ALVIN HALLMAN. LONDON, June 24 (AP)—Some men use a big stick in meeting a crisis, some use honeyed and placatory words, some let problems solve themselves.

But "Papa" Colijn, the Dutch premier and head of the world economic conference commission on economics, has a method all his own—rare good humor.

Already known for his solemn-faced quips in his own Holland and at the Geneva conferences, the veteran Dutch statesman has carved a place for himself in the hearts and esteem of the national leaders gathered here.

His English is meticulously perfect, although slow and sometimes a bit labored. He punctuates his remarks by jabbing the air with an automatic pencil—the point first and outward for particular emphasis or with the point down and with a vertical motion for just ordinary emphasis.

If he is standing, he is likely to begin his gestures at his ankles, bend his knees, and then sway from side to side to enforce his points. The laugh which generally follows is the delegates' concession that he again has put his point across.

Hendrik Colijn is an economist, industrialist, politician, editor, soldier. He is 64. His career has embraced such work as editor of de Standaard since 1922; soldiering in the Dutch East Indies; department chief of the foreign office; minister of war and marine; legislator; finance minister; president of the League of Nations conference for the abolition of trade restrictions, and prime minister.

Complaints were made to Mr. Dooling that too much was being paid per meal. He talked to his superior officer: "Eat more meals but pay less for them."

Later Mr. Dooling was for years a claim agent for the Fort Worth & Denver railroad. The picture shows him rolling a cigarette, which Mr. Hobart, who met him first about 1886, said was a very characteristic posture.

L. B. Cooper of Oklahoma City spent a few days here last week.

An excellent copy of an old picture of Pat Dooling, enlarged and well framed, has been given T. D. Hobart for the historical museum at Canyon by W. D. Jordan of Astoria.

Mr. Dooling, famous scout and Indian fighter, died in Quanah a few years ago to end a colorful career. It is said that he, wishing to attend the republican convention in St. Louis in 1888, "held a convention" with himself and his horse team and elected himself a delegate, there being no other inhabitants in that county at the time. He subsequently caused quite a stir in St. Louis with his bulking 6 feet 2 inches, big hat, and western ways.

While associated with General Burney in the construction of the Texas Pacific railroad in the wild country west of Fort Worth, they made an agreement that the one first to die—if either should—would take the remains of the other "back to civilization" for a decent burial. Shortly thereafter, while Mr. Dooling was away from his friend, Indians ambushed and killed General Burney, leaving his promise. Dooling bore the remains alone back to civilization.

BARUCH HAS NO TITLE BUT HE IS SPOKESMAN

Wilson Devotee Now 'Directing' For Roosevelt

By MELVIN E. COLEMAN Associated Press Staff Writer There is an unprecedented situation in the state department at Washington where Bernard Mammes Baruch is occupying the office of acting Secretary of State Moley.

Baruch is spokesman for the administration on world economic conference affairs but he has no official title and is acting without actually being an officer of the government of the United States.

For 20 years Baruch has been a power in democratic party circles, to say nothing of his having been an economic adviser of the republican administrations under Coolidge and Hoover.

Distinguished by this long record of public service, he is known for his clarity of thinking of economic questions and for a shrewdness which had full play in his earlier years when he was amassing wealth by spectacular operations in Wall street.

He is a tall, supple man of 62 who smiles easily with mobile lips and soft, pleasant eyes. His silvery hair testifies to his years. Otherwise he seems more like a man approaching instead of leaving middle age. Tact and patience are emphasized when his friends describe him.

Years ago Dr. Simon Baruch, a confederate war surgeon, gave a photograph of himself to his son Bernard. On it the father wrote: "Let unwavering integrity always be your guide."

It is one of the prized possessions of the son. "Courage, integrity and application" is the Baruch recipe for success.

Baruch was a power in the Wilson administration. He was chairman of the war industries board, a member of the American peace commission and Wilson's right hand man in the unsuccessful fight to get the senate to approve the treaty of Versailles and put the United States into the League of Nations.

No Unseasonal Cattle Movement From Panhandle

AMARILLO, June 24 (AP)—C. B. Davis, division freight agent for the Rock Islands said there had been no unseasonal movement of livestock from the drought-stricken Panhandle counties which were being surveyed today for emergency feed loans.

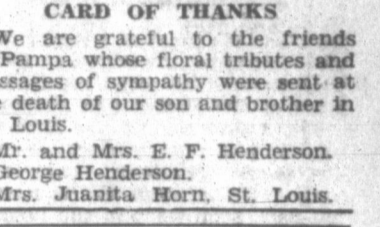

Three representatives of the Texas rehabilitation and relief commission were on an inspection tour of 14 counties to determine the needs of farmers for feed for livestock. The government has allotted $50,000 for emergency relief.

Davis said range conditions in most of the territory hardest hit by the drought had been benefited by recent thunder showers and scattered rains.

"Farmers and ranchers had discussed the movement of from 75 to 100 cars of livestock," Davis said, "but I doubt now if any of the shipments will be made, what with improved grazing and government relief. There is always a seasonal movement from some of this territory to better grass in Kansas, Colorado, and New Mexico."

CARD OF THANKS We are grateful to the friends in Pampa whose floral tributes and messages of sympathy were sent at the death of our son and brother in St. Louis.

GOWNS IN WHICH AMERICAN, CUBAN GIRLS MARRIED PRINCES

ROYALTY and riches have inspired Paris couturiers to outfit themselves for exquisite wedding gowns this June. For her marriage to Alfonso de Bourbon, eldest son of former King Alfonso of Spain, Senorita Edelmira Sampedro, Cuban beauty, wore a soft white satin creation by Worth. Defying superstitions, she posed for the picture at the left in her wedding gown before even the banners were published. Her dress was cut on sculptural lines, the bodice coming down into a slight point in front and being softly gathered to form a Swiss-belt effect. The full sleeves fell in graceful folds, covering the elbow.

For her marriage to Prince Alexis Mdivani, Miss Barbara Hutton, heiress to the Woolworth millions, wore a Patou creation (sketched at right) of ivory satin, slightly medieval in line. A shawl of real lace, a family heirloom, replaced the usual veil and was attached to the head by a blonde tortoise-shell comb, studded with diamonds. A quadruple necklace of real jewels, pearls and diamonds, held the shawl on either side of the bride's face.

FIRST PLANS FOR STATE P. T. A. CONVENTION ARE MADE BY BOARD

By MRS. J. M. CRAIN, Claude, State Publicity Director, Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers.

The twenty-fifth annual state convention of the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers will convene in Sherman November 20-24, 1933, with headquarters at the Grayhound hotel, so the executive committee of the Texas Congress announces.

The convention theme, "The Child and His Community," was chosen with a view to its ultimate application to individual situations. At a time when citizens are deeply concerned over community provision for education, recreation, protection, and other advantages in the spiritual and ethical life of children, this theme is of special interest.

Practical Help.

"Make the convention of practical help for every delegate" has been the watchword of those in charge of arrangements. Every delegate who attends this convention will receive practical help to aid in carrying on the work of his local parent-teacher association. From the selection of the theme to the closing ceremony, great care has been taken to eliminate unnecessary and purely conventional convention features.

Innovations for this convention are the informal "at-homes" to be held daily with state directors, when opportunity will be given for personal conferences between state and local parent-teacher workers. Special numbers will be contributed by

Wear Your Chic on Your Shoulders

It's conservative to be extreme. Just one short year ago, towering fezes and jutting shoulders would have made us conspicuous. But now these striking ideas have met such enthusiastic acceptance that we are apt to be conspicuous if we don't adopt them. And really, what fashionable woman in search of new ideas wouldn't snatch up a frock as flattering as this?

First, it has exaggerated shoulder width in the form of perky frills that present no difficulties to the amateur dressmaker. Then, the liberal use of white emphasizes the shoulders in a manner that makes the rest of the figure simply melt away by comparison. The zigzag skirt seam terminating in an inverted pleat does its bit to add to the swagger streamline effect.

Anyone who has seen and admired the new checked cotton materials knows that they are simply perfect for contrast. For detailed fabric requirements see pattern envelope. Other up to date summer styles in our fashion magazine.

HELEN TWELVETREES

By NEA Service
HOLLYWOOD.—Tricky things to wear give great variety to Hollywood clothes right this minute.

Helene Twelvetrees has blue and white striped gingham gloves and blouse, with the stripes running diagonally, with a blue skirt and suspender cape. The little cape is stiffened to give effective wide shoulders, with the blouse sleeves beaded.

The biggest hat at Palm Springs last week-end shaded Myrna Loy's face. It was a positively huge cartwheel of the same brown linen as her patch-pocket slacks. The slacks had a halter neck and no back.

White fringe gave a certain luxurious look to a lovely negligee Kay Francis wore the other day, hunching in the M-G-M Commissary with Phillip Holmes. It had a surplice cut to the bodice and wide sleeves just dripping fringe.

Adrienne Ames has Hollywood's widest patent leather belt, a blue one. She wears it with a tricky ensemble. The skirt is blue tweed. The short, double-breasted blouse of white pique fastens with red buttons. Then a very diminutive little blue pique jacket, stops where the wide belt begins.

announced that representation this year exceeded all previous years, that reports showed a greater need for unity of purpose and that the achievements recorded were outstanding.

National Reports.

Reports from the national convention held in Seattle, as given by the state president and executive secretary, were illuminating and inspirational. Texas was awarded the membership banner for making the greatest membership gain of any state in the union. The gain in Texas membership was 13 1/2 per cent and the next highest was in Florida with 2 per cent. More congress libraries were sold in Texas than any other state, while national recognition in child welfare subscriptions was won by Texas.

The unusual financial system of Texas Congress was particularly complimented by the national congress. This system was instituted by Mrs. J. M. Loving, Austin, third vice president of the Texas branch, and is recognized by many other organizations and outstanding business men as one of the best in the state and nation. Special tribute was paid to the local membership chairman by the national congress for carrying out the extension plan of the Texas Congress. Unity of purpose as well as simplification of set-up was most praiseworthy.

Mr. Lively, teacher of the class, said the class would welcome men of the city today or any Sunday as members or as visitors.

BROTHERHOOD S. S. CLASS LIVES UP TO NAME ON CHICKEN PICNIC

SUNDAY school classes in this age of complex living may mean as much and more to a man as a lodge, a club, a family. It may stress the significant issues of life and mean as much as any 20th century ideal of relationship because it is founded on an ideal that leaves no room for perverse human trails.

The Brotherhood class of the First Methodist church is such a class. Its members feel that the class was well-named, and it seemed so Friday night at a picnic attended by 33 men at a tree-shaded vale on land owned by W. R. Campbell east of the city.

Tossing horse-shoes and eating chicken were the chief diversions. Thirteen chickens were fried by Fred Cary and his assistants. Accessories included potatoes, pickles, coffee, buns, onions, gravy. Horse-shoe hurlers Roy Bourland and Mr. Ward appeared to be the accepted champions, but challenged strongly by Mack Graham, Dr. Whittenburg, McTaggart, Rev. C. A. Long.

After the games and the feast, the class "brain trust," including Dr. Wilder, Judge Wolfe, John Hessey, Travis Lively, Rev. Long, told funny stories, with Judge Wolfe holding an edge. The class learned that Mr. Hessey keeps his favorite stories catalogued in a little black book (which he consulted) because it is impossible to remember them. J. O. Gillham, teacher of the Builders class, which also appears to live up to its name, was present.

Fred Cary was voted the most invaluable and important chef in the nation, including Oscar of the Waldorf.

Mr. Lively, teacher of the class, said the class would welcome men of the city today or any Sunday as members or as visitors.

ALL BUNDLES Must Be Left at the DOOR...

Strange ruling! Yet a ruling that is adhered to strictly by every church. The bundles in question are WORRY, CARE. They must be left at the door when you enter your Church. And when you come out again, the bundles will be gone! No matter how heavy your burdens, no matter how long or far you have carried them, they will be lifted from you as you enter. Remember that! When things are darkest, and you are weary, and the hill ahead looks too steep, and you feel that you cannot take another step, remember your Church. thnj cmf shr shrhhdmdlb mm

New York Stocks

STOCKS ARE SLOW
NEW YORK, June 24. (AP)—Grains provided the chief action in week-end markets today. Stocks dragged listlessly until the late dealings when another mild buying flurry appeared, but the close was somewhat spotty notwithstanding a small net gain for the 90-share average.

Wheat, corn, oats, and rye surged to new tops for the season and cotton edged into new high ground, although only small gains were needed to achieve the latter record. Bonds were fairly firm.

Steel stocks hardened during the late afternoon. Railway equipments were stronger than the carriers.

Sales totaled 1,696,390 shares, one of the smallest Saturday volumes in weeks.

WILL OPPOSE WAGE FIXING

Administrator Of Recovery Act To Fight Against Top Limits On Wages

WASHINGTON, June 24. (AP)—The government is going to do everything possible to prevent trade agreements made under the national recovery act from limiting top wages.

Hugh S. Johnson, administrator of the law, is anxious to have all industry accept codes of fair competition fixing minimum wages. But if he can help it, organized labor's recurring contention that minimum wages after become maximums will not be borne out this time.

He summed up his reaction to that argument in this sentence: "There was a minimum wheat price during the war that became the maximum, and the farmers have gotten over that yet."

And he added that he would fight any attempt to repeat the war time wheat price mistake.

He is willing, however, for other industries to follow the cotton textile trade and fix minimums that vary by localities. The cotton code, to be opened to public hearing next Tuesday, sets a $10 minimum for southern and $11 minimum weekly wage for northern workers.

"There are differences in living costs," he said. "In the common labor between Moline and Chicago there is a difference of about 7 cents. But I think the people in Moline are better off."

Industry, he said, is responding favorably to requests for speed in the presentation of agreements for approval by the federal government.

Even as he said that the whole cotton and the iron and steel industries are working on codes, the American institute of meat packers presented the outline of a proposed agreement called for by the farm act.

$9.90, or 12 to 13 points above the previous close to new high levels for the year and season 10 points above the previous highs of last Thursday. The close was at or near the top with both active months showing net gains for the day of 11 points.

Port receipts 8,400, for season 8,548,539, last season 7,942,804. Exports 21,613, for season 7,594,374, last season 8,156,893. Port stock 3,514,365, last year 3,622,821. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 133,133, last year 64,123. Spot sales at southern markets 12,667, last year 1,500.

Vines Denies He Received Offer To Become Pro

LONDON, June 24. (AP)—America's No. 1 tennis ace, Ellsworth Vines, Jr., was deprived of competition today against his fellow California, Lester Stofen, as rain cancelled the London championship finals, was obliged to combat reports from New York that he was considering an offer of $100,000 to turn professional after this season and tour with Big Bill Tilden.

Vines told the Associated Press he "might seriously consider" an offer of such magnitude but denied it had been made to him and repeated his intention to remain an amateur, at least so far as his present plans go.

Vines, Helen Wills Moody and a strong cast of American tennis stars will start competition Monday in the Wimbledon championships, well rested from a week of keen competition at the Queen's club.

Reports to be presented come under Mr. Parker's department.

No Special Term Of Court To Be Held In Wheeler

Members of the Wheeler county bar and Judge W. R. Ewing decided Friday afternoon that no special term would be held in that county. The amount of business was held insufficient to justify the expense of a term.

Judge Ewing will go to Childress tomorrow to preside in the civil suit of Kreis vs. Kreis, involving an estate settlement which twice has been reversed on appeal. Judge A. J. Fires is disqualified to hear this case.

While in Wheeler county, Judge Ewing noticed that the crops were much greener than on the plains of this section.

COTTON STILL HIGHER

NEW ORLEANS, June 24. (AP)—The cotton market was very active for a short session today and figures made new highs for the year and season as offerings were well absorbed. The close was about at the top 8 to 12 points net higher.

The opening was slightly irregular with Liverpool cables slightly better than due and sterling a shade firmer.

In the first hour prices eased off 2 to 3 points on week end liquidation, but in the final hour prices advanced in sympathy with a sharp upturn in wheat and before the demand was satisfied, October advanced to $9.75 and December to

HEAT INSIDE THE TIRES CAUSES THIS BANG!

Today's high speeds cause heat "blisters" inside the tire whose you can't see them. They grow and grow until... BANG! A Blow-Out.

RESISTS HEAT

The Life-Saver Golden Ply, an exclusive feature of the new Goodrich Silvertown Tire, resists heat... prevents blow-outs before they start.

What causes blow-outs

When the speedometer reads 40, 50, 60 and 70—mile after mile—the heat inside the tire carcass becomes intense. Rubber and fabric begin to separate. A blister forms... and grows. Then suddenly it happens... a blow-out! The rim hits the road... And a terrible drag sets in... Like some unseen monster pulling your car off the highway.

But now Goodrich has developed the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This new invention—an exclusive feature of the new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tire—resists heat... prevents rubber and fabric from separating. Thus blisters don't form inside the tire... the cause of blow-outs is eliminated.

MAGS TO PLAY MCLEAN, ONLY CLUB THAT HAS BEATEN THEM, AGAIN TODAY

CABOT SHOPS WILL ENGAGE ROADRUNNERS

BUSBY'S INDIANS WILL PLAY HARRAH'S DEERS

Three Pampa baseball teams will be in action today. The Magnolia "Mags" will play the fast McLean outfit at Magnolia park at 3 p. m. The Indians will go to White Deer for a game with the Harrah Deers. The Danciger Roadrunners meet the Cabot Shops at Kingsmill.

The game in Pampa will see the only team that has defeated the "Mags" this season in action. McLean has a well balanced team with a good pitching staff and a strong batting order and is in second place in the league race.

A win for the Pampa team will give it first place for the opening half of the league race. Only one game will remain in the first half after today and the Magnolias will go into the game with a two-game lead or five wins and one loss.

Manager Howard Buckingham has not definitely decided whether he will start Burke again or send Rogers to the mound. Burke pitched such good ball in Shamrock last Sunday that it is possible he will be sent to the mound to tame McLean. "Boss" Wagner will be behind the bat. The rest of the lineup will be the same that started against Shamrock.

C. O. Busby is taking his full team to White Deer to meet the Harrah juniors who have yet to lose a game this season. Both teams are composed of high school boys or graduates. They play a fast brand of ball for youngsters.

Manager Busby had not decided who would start the game yesterday but said Wayne Kelley might go into action with Lloyd Hamilton behind the bat. The well-known "Hoosier" Harrah is at the helm of the White Deer team, three in number. He is not bothering with senior teams this year.

Danciger's Roadrunners will meet Cabot Shops for the first time this afternoon and both are anxious to try out the other's strength. Either Bodwin or Lefty Thomas will take the mound for the Roadrunners while Meeks will probably do the hurling for Cabot. Both teams have heavy hitters and the pitchers are able to be in plenty of trouble during the affray.

ARCHIE LEE WALSTAD WINS DIVING CONTEST

Art Swanson set the record for the men in the 220-yard swim and Miss Mary Ann Moyar set the record for the women at the Pampa municipal swimming pool Friday afternoon.

Miss Moyar, using a side stroke, outdistanced her opponents and was the only one to finish the distance, which she made in 5 minutes flat.

Archie Lee Walstad won the diving contest staged Friday night. He made 29 points out of a possible 40 points. David Whitenberg was second and Dick Sullins third. Records will be posted and attempts will be made to break them from time to time.

Races will continue through Wednesday night with both men and women competing. All races will start at 7:30 o'clock.

OUT OF A SLUMP
BROOKLYN, June 24 (AP)—Led by Floyd "Arky" Vaughan, the Pittsburgh Pirates snapped out of their batting slump today and applied vigorous bats to the offerings of Hollis Thurston and Freddy Helmach to win the third game of the series 15-3.

Pittsburgh made 21 hits and Vaughan was the leading spirit in this assault. He drove in five runs.

GIANTS TOOK STRONG NEW YORK
NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—The Giants turned in their best stick-work of the week today to defeat the Cincinnati Reds, 5-2, and to improve their position at the head of the national league standing.

The rapped Paul Derringer and John Reus Quinn for a dozen hits and bunched them effectively, getting seven in the fourth and eighth innings to score two runs in each.

WASTEFUL BUT WIN
BOETON, June 24 (AP)—The Boston Braves today slammed Tom Warnecke for a total of 14 hits but wasted so many that they had to go 11 innings to nose out the Chicago Cubs, 2-1. It was the Tribe's fourth win in a row, the second straight over the Cubs and the first success it has had against Warnecke in two seasons.

CARLETON STOPS PHILLIES
PHILADELPHIA, June 24 (AP)—The Phillies and St. Louis split a double header today, the locals winning the first game 10-7 to turn their string of consecutive triumphs to seven.

But St. Louis, aided by the excellent pitching of Carleton, halted the winning streak in the second game, 5-1.

Roger Hornsby, pinch-hitting for Mooney in the first game, hit a home run into the center-field bleachers.

BONURA WITH 16 HOME RUNS IS 9 AHEAD NEAREST RIVAL

How Do Fort Worth And Dallas Feel About Refusing To Sign Pid?

By BILL PARKER, Associated Press Sports Writer.

The Texas league home run race has developed into a one-man affair with the giant Zeke Bonura, Dallas first baseman, head man. Through Monday, June 19, Bonura had registered 16 circuit wallops, about nine in front of his nearest rival.

After Dallas and Fort Worth refused to sign "Pid" Purdy, the San Antonio Missions decided to give the former Indianapolis outfielder a chance. Purdy is making the most of it. Through June 19 he was leading the hitters with a .366 which is satisfactory hitting in any league.

There appears to be small doubt that Vernon George Washington, Fort Worth outfielder, will be the first to get 100 hits in this year's Texas league race. Through June 19, Washington had collected 93 hits and was the owner of a .346 batting average.

Dallas traded George Leopp, outfielder to Fort Worth. The Cats in turn released Leopp. Dallas released him and he played one game. He injured a finger and was handed his release. Fort Worth resigned him. George hopes one of the clubs will eventually decide to keep him for the remainder of this season.

Alexander Hooks, Tulsa first baseman, who led the league last year in triples is letting Stoneham, Tulsa outfielder, pace him this season in three batters. The "triple race" is between Stoneham and Cliff of San Antonio with Hooks far down the list.

Bubber Jonnard, Dallas catcher, is an ardent golf follower. During the Dallas Country club invitation he was at the starting tee each morning at 8 o'clock in spite of playing night baseball. Jonnard thinks Gus Moreland is just about the last word where golf is concerned.

Happ Morse, recently released as manager of the Dallas Stars, is enjoying life. Operating his bowling alley and taking a few days off each month to go fishing. Morse appears to be satisfied after 23 consecutive years in the national pastime.

SHARKEY WILL FIGHT GIANT ON THURSDAY

JACK WANTS REVENGE FOR DEATH OF SCHAAF

By EDWARD J. NEIL, Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, June 24 (AP)—The most bizarre rivalry in all the fight business—the enmity of a white-eyed sailor and circus freak—comes to its natural conclusion, the battle pit of the Madison Square Garden bowl on Long Island, Thursday night.

It may be the last stand of the sailor, Jack Sharkey, heavyweight champion of the world, or it may be the end of the myth of the giant Primo Carnera, the mountain of a man who looks like some weird mammalian throwback to the misty era before civilization.

But whatever way the battle tide flows through fifteen rounds of championship war, the faithful expected to storm the bowl to the number of 60,000 will look upon two of the most unusual characters the ring has ever seen, certainly the strangest contrast since spindly Bob Fitzsimmons, with the legs of a middleweight and the shoulders of a heavyweight, tackled the human grizzly, Jim Jefferies, at Coney Island 34 years ago.

Around the 265 pounds of Carnera's bulk, discovered in a circus side show in France where he was championing recently and then lost to Louisiana State in the national intercollegiate meet, wrinkled his brow today and picked an all-intercollegiate team.

Conspicuously absent from the list was the name of Jack Keller, Ohio State's star hurdler, who has been losing mark of 14.1 seconds for the 120-yard high barriers.

Trojan mentor for more than a score of years Cromwell, in his usual frank way, also saw fit to post Gene Hardin, L. S. U. hurdler and quarter-mile leader of Jimmy Luvalle, University of California at Los Angeles speedster who captured the I. C. A. A. 400-meters in 46.9 seconds.

"There'll be some folks who won't like the list," Cromwell offered, "and others may say it's all right but they can't shoot me for being honest."

He gave Ralph Metcalfe both sprint position and Hardin both the low hurdles and the quarter-mile, and found only one place for his own flock of stars. This went to Bill Graber in the pole vault.

The night Schaaf went down under a light left jab, the surface of his brain inflamed by an attack of influenza before he had entered the ring, Sharkey helped carry him to the corner, lugged him in his arms to the dressing room.

And it was Sharkey who met the pale faced Carnera, coming fearfully into the room to see if there wasn't something he could do, met him with a snarl and an oath that sent the huge Italian away like a great Collier dog that had been whipped by its master.

"When the time comes," choked Sharkey that night, blind with rage, "I'll take care of that guy for Ernie."

So the time comes Thursday night, and Carnera will face a champion more venomous than at any time in a career that has run from the ridiculous in fighting to the sublime.

McLean Team Is Nosed Out 8 To 7 By Erick Nine

McLEAN, June 23—The McLean baseball team fought until the last man was out in the ninth inning but dropped an 8 to 7 game to the Erick, Okla., nine in Erick Thursday afternoon. The game was well played with hits being scarce on both sides.

Graham and McCabe divided the hurling duties for McLean with Mantooth behind the bat. Ballman and S. Douglas pitched for Erick with Stubbs catching.

A group of Pampans surrendered to the urge to fish and were to leave today for "cooling and fish-laden streams in the Colorado mountains—the last unctuous phrase being worded by "Diamond Sam."

Included in the party were Dr. V. E. von Brunow, Frank S. Scott, halter and several others. Dr. Brunow plans to be in his office again on July 6, so, said Sam Penberg, "it would be reasonable to assume that we will be back in Pampa at that time with flacons of fish and tankards of tales."

LOTT VS. PARKER
RIVER FOREST, Ill., June 24 (AP)—Frankie Parker of Milwaukee, a youngster apparently headed for international recognition, and George Lott Jr., Davis cup player and veteran of many tennis campaigns, will meet tomorrow for the second straight year, to battle for the western singles title.

A chip of concrete was the unusual obstruction successfully removed from the lung of a 16-month-old Parsons, Kan., girl.

SCOTT TAKES GOLF CROWN

Oldest Champ To Win British Amateur Beats 30-Year Old Bourn 4 and 3

HOYLAKE, Eng., June 24 (AP)—The honorable Michael Scott, at 55, the oldest player ever to win the British amateur golf championship maintained the traditional uncertainty of this sporting classic by decisively beating Thomas A. Bourn, a 30-year-old countryman, today, 4 and 3 in the 36-hole final match.

Scott was a champion of Australia when Bourn was a babe in arms. He never advanced beyond the semi-finals before and that happened a dozen years ago. The experts figured he should have been beaten by any of the youngsters he trounced this week, certainly by George T. Dunlap Jr. of New York, the brilliant American youth, who fell before the veteran in yesterday's semi-finals.

But Scott refused to be beaten, even though he surprised himself, his friends, and his opponents. Scott played carefully and slowly all week. His correct and faultless style was rewarded by a triumph such as no man his age ever achieved before. Away back in 1902, Charles Hutchings, at 53, won the amateur crown.

LOS ANGELES, June 24 (AP)—Dear Bartlett Cromwell, University of Southern California's veteran track coach, whose team won its fourth straight I. C. A. A. A. championship recently and then lost to Louisiana State in the national intercollegiate meet, wrinkled his brow today and picked an all-intercollegiate team.

Conspicuously absent from the list was the name of Jack Keller, Ohio State's star hurdler, who has been losing mark of 14.1 seconds for the 120-yard high barriers.

He gave Ralph Metcalfe both sprint position and Hardin both the low hurdles and the quarter-mile, and found only one place for his own flock of stars. This went to Bill Graber in the pole vault.

The night Schaaf went down under a light left jab, the surface of his brain inflamed by an attack of influenza before he had entered the ring, Sharkey helped carry him to the corner, lugged him in his arms to the dressing room.

And it was Sharkey who met the pale faced Carnera, coming fearfully into the room to see if there wasn't something he could do, met him with a snarl and an oath that sent the huge Italian away like a great Collier dog that had been whipped by its master.

"When the time comes," choked Sharkey that night, blind with rage, "I'll take care of that guy for Ernie."

So the time comes Thursday night, and Carnera will face a champion more venomous than at any time in a career that has run from the ridiculous in fighting to the sublime.

"Curly" started wrestling here about two years ago. Since joining the army, he has been under some of the best instructors available.

'Crank' Letters Sent To Sharkey

BOSTON, June 24 (AP)—Three "crank" letters that threatened bodily harm to Jack Sharkey and demanded $5,000 from Johnny Buckley, his manager, were said to have been the real reason for the heavyweight champion's hasty flight from his Crangeburg, N. Y., training camp to his palatial Newton home tonight by Jack Conway, his legal advisor.

When Sharkey sped away from his camp, he told his training staff he had been notified of the serious illness of one of his three children. When he arrived home, he found them playing on their lawn, safe and sound.

Conway, after Sharkey and his wife had started back over the road to Crangeburg, said that the first of the letters, which were mailed in New Jersey, arrived at the training camp last Monday. The other two were delivered on the following days.

The threats were written in semi-literate fashion and were branded as the work of cranks by New York detectives who visited the camp. Conway, who returned from Crangeburg yesterday, said Buckley was warned by his police friends to be cautious. Acting on this advice, the Sharkey camp was closely guarded and the champion was always accompanied by armed companions when he was doing his road work.

CLARA BOW'S FAN MAIL IS STILL LARGE

RED-HEAD IS CAREFUL TO KEEP EACH OF LETTERS

More than a million persons all over the world have written fan letters to Clara Bow.

She has been getting from 20,000 to 30,000 letters every month since she made her first starring success in "It." This number divided following the advent of talking pictures, but leaped again as soon as the announcement was made that she had signed a Fox starring contract and would film "Call Her Savage," Tiffany Thayer's dramatic portrait of a woman's post.

Postal clerks handle Clara's mail exactly as it would be handled for a whole small town. Her 1,000 letters a day arrive at the studio in neat bundles with printed labels carrying her name supplied by the post-office department.

If you are one of the million fans who have written Clara and told her how much you love her, or at least how much you admire her work and personality on the screen, don't worry. She still has your letter.

Why Clara keeps all her fan mail nobody knows. It would take her several years to read what is already on hand. But she hangs on to it with the tenacity that red-headed folks have. It was one of her earliest resolutions to read and answer every fan letter, and since it has grown beyond her physical ability to do so, she still harbors the idea that some day she can get around to it.

For a while the studio mail room cared for Clara's mail, but when it began to eat up all the extra space, a special fire-proof bin was built in the property department where these letters, ranging from scathing criticism to burning adoration, are now stored against the time when Clara can attend to them personally.

For the past year most of Clara's correspondents have demanded to know the name of her picture. After the announcement was made that the famous red-head was to do "Call Her Savage" for Fox, thousands of delighted fans wrote their endorsement of Tiffany Thayer's fiery heroine. The announcement, incidentally, added many thousands to the sales of the book.

The picture in which Gilbert Roland, Thelma Todd, Monroe Owsley, Estelle Taylor and many others are featured, will be shown at the Rex theater beginning Monday, June 26. Francis Dillon directed, from the screen adaptation by Edwin Burke.

Each Variety Of Candy Has Place In Entertaining

Do you serve lollipops at wedding breakfasts? Or pink bonbons at a Fourth of July picnic? Such questions belong in the primer of entertaining, but there are many more subtle ideas in the art of choosing the right candy for the right time and place.

Certain sweets are definitely bad form on certain occasions. While wisely chosen candy is a gracious final touch to any party or meal. More than that, candy offers endless possibilities to the hostess with imagination. It may set the mood as well as the decorative keynote of a party, for of the hundreds of varieties now manufactured each has a definite personality—some subdued like candle light, others amusing and gay like paper caps on New Year's Eve.

Bon Bons—The most formal of all candies are pastel bonbons or pastel peppermint patties. They blend with silver, lace and soft flattering lights. Wedding breakfasts, luncheons, tea or receptions demand them. The small stemmings of silver or glass is the perfect container for them. The chemist who achieves their soft, even coloring is something of an artist and great care is taken that their colors be of the same delicacy so that they harmonize in a package or on your table.

Chocolates—They are most versatile and they are at home in the living room, in ornamental boxes or bowls. They are also quite correct on the table at luncheon or dinner. Cream, fruit and nut centers are definitely more formal than the chewy varieties. Though everyone serves chocolates, their decorative possibilities are hardly realized. Try them in an amber bowl or one of pale yellow glass. Italian pottery too, is especially becoming to them.

Lollipops—Amusing, inherently amusing about a lollipop, they are indispensable at a children's party and recently they have invaded the realm of grown-up entertaining. They may be dressed up with paper skirts, gum drop mouths and eyes—or in any of a thousand ways to

Price Acres To Go On Auction Block August 1

TULIA, June 24. (AP)—Creditors closing in on the big acreage of Hickman Price, known two years ago as one of the world's largest wheat farmers, will force between 7,000 and 8,000 acres of his land onto the auction block August 1.

Eleven months ago Price called his creditors to a meeting at his headquarters in Eress and advised them that he was ready to surrender his properties. Two years of low prices, coupled with a short crop brought on by a drought last year had exhausted his fortune of $250,000, he told his creditors.

More than 500,000 bushels of wheat was produced by Price in 1931, on 22,000 acres, about half of which was leased. He operated 50 combines day and night to harvest his crop. His plowing and seeding also continued 24 hours a day, his men working in three shifts. He maintained his own machine shop, mess hall and sleeping quarters. He cultivated an irrigated garden tract and canned vegetables and meats to feed his employees. His entire operation was on an industrial scale.

make place card holders or favors. If it's one of those parlor game parties that even the most sophisticated people are giving, lollipops are guaranteed to get the proper playful mood.

The gum drop once was a lowly confection, associated with paper bags from the corner store. Now some of its cousins of the jelly caper cup for individual service. The colors are glistening and lovely and the molded ones have a very formal air. The molded green jelly leaves offer inspiration for graceful arrangement. The jellies, especially in green and soft colors, are distinctively spring or summer candies and grace a porch luncheon or bridge game to perfection.

Jordan almonds are less formal than other pastel candies, and are appropriate almost anywhere. For a spring party, try packing six or seven of them upright in a shallow paper cup for individual service. The result is a crocus, no less, which shows what a simple thing candy decoration is.

The hard candies go with bridge and other games and their color variety makes them adaptable. They too enjoy a special popularity in hot weather.

MARION DAVIES IS CLEVER AS AN IRISH GIRL

ONSLow STEVENS MAKE DEBUT IN LEADING MALE ROLE

Marion Davies is said to give the finest performance of her entire career in the delightful "Peg O' My Heart," which is at the La Nora theater. Never before has the vivacious star clothed a character with such sincerity and sympathy.

The talking picture version of the play that has been acclaimed in the theater for more than twenty years, has a freshness and sparkle all its own. There is not a lagging moment or a flaw in the simple clarity of its sweet romance. It is just the kind of picture people want to see these hectic and troubled days.

Miss Davies' Peg is individual and not patterned from the Peg created by Laurette Taylor. Yet her interpretation of the role is none the less genuine and familiar in character. All the boyden charm of the little Irish lass is intact.

Robert Z. Leonard, responsible for so many of Miss Davies' past successes, directed the J. Hartley Manners play from an adaptation by Frances Marion and screen play by Frank R. Adams.

The film marks the debut as a leading man of Onslow Stevens, who gives promise of filling a new berth in the popularity of feminine fans. Stevens has a distinct personality of his own that registers strong in a quiet and repressed manner of performance.

Others in the splendid cast of the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer feature are J. Farrell MacDonald, Juliette Compton, Irene Browne, Tyrrell Compton, Alan Mowbray, Doris Lloyd, Robert Grieg, Nora Cecil and Geoffrey Gill.

Michael, the dog in the film, captures honors all his own. He is well worth watching for.

'Inferior' Person's Character Is Better Than Average, Says Dr. Mira

CHICAGO, June 24. (AP)—People of the so-called inferior type actually have better character in at least one sense than the average of the population, the American Institute for the Advancement of Science was told today.

This conclusion was drawn from a study of "moral behavior" reported by Dr. Emilio Mira, psychologist of Barcelona, Spain. One way in which he tested the "moral behavior" of various classes of people was to note the percentage who voluntarily offered their blood for transfusion to aid the victim of an imaginary accident.

Reports showed, said Dr. Mira, "that individuals composing what are actually considered to be the inferior grades of society possess a truer spirit of self-sacrifice than the higher; that is to say that mental defectives, criminals, indigents and soldiers have furnished a higher percentage of those willing to offer their blood than the average of the population."

There is no such thing as "normal" moral conduct, Dr. Mira said his experiments have shown.

"The standard of moral judgement," he went on, "not only varies from one person to another but differs also in the same person, according to the different kinds of situations with which he is faced and the moment in which he makes the judgement."

"There are certain classes of people that are considered as morally deficient and who, nevertheless, in behavior tests have shown themselves more unselfish than those regarded as normal.

"Moral conduct does not depend upon the existence of any definite general factor or motive. Its causes are more likely to be found in the evolution of emotional attitudes than in a process of reasoning."

NAPOLEON--

The Kingdom of New Spain (Mexico), out of which Texas was ruled, won its independence in 1821, but the residents in what is now Texas had little to do with that war. Austin, Houston, and the rest waged and won the Texas war for independence, and the title to Texas passed swiftly from Spain to Mexico to the Texas republic in 1836. Ten years of life as an infant republic was climaxed February 16, 1846, when the Lone Star flag was lowered and Texas became a state. England and France had wished Texas to remain a republic, and the subject had been cause for contention for a decade.

Boundaries In Dispute.

Boundary troubles of Texas began early and have not all been settled to this day. Spanish claims had put Texas' boundaries northeast to the lower Arkansas river, the north line amid the mountains of southern Wyoming, and the western line along the Rio Grande from mouth to source. It was not until 1850 that a compromise was effected under which Texas was shorn of 1-3 of her claimed territory but paid ten millions of dollars by the United States. These millions paid all the debts of the Republic of Texas and left some besides. Title to Texas was clouded thru secession, in which the Confederate flag waved over the state, but Texas was re-admitted March 30, 1870.

An Old Issue.

A matter not agreed upon by historians is whether this Panhandle region was ever under the French flag. Louisiana was transferred by France to Spain in 1762 to prevent England from taking it, then Napoleon in his day forced Spain to cede the region back to France. Their military fortunes failing, Napoleon and France in 1803 perfected the "United States the Louisiana purchase." The boundaries of the Louisiana territory were not defined except "as they were held by Spain" and there is little doubt but that Napoleon thought he included what is now the Panhandle and part of Oklahoma, in the sale. The United States never pressed this claim, not wishing to take over any more land to rule than that bordered by a more easterly boundary. Relinquishment of all claim to northern Texas was made by the U. S. in a boundary agreement with France. The Texas public domain which, after statehood, included the townsite of Pampa, was patented to the International Great Northern Railroad as part of an extended effort to encourage railway construction. This particular land was non-taxable until 1906.

Hobart Remembers

Various tracts of the land in this vicinity changed hands rather frequently before the New York and Texas Land company, which had obtained a large acreage, sold much of it to the Franklin Land and Cattle company. Fifty years ago T. D. Hobart helped to check this land—631,000 acres—in this transaction. A young Vermont, he little thought then that he would become a resident of this community. Shortly, however, the Franklin interests lost the land in the federal courts. Soon thereafter, in the late '80's, a large tract of this land, including what is now Pampa, was transferred to Frederic de Peyster Foster and Cornelius C. Cuyler of New York.

The Pampa townsite was laid out in 1902, the same year Gray county was organized, but only a few lots were sold that year and for several years.

A MESSAGE TO ALL FORD WORKERS

You and I together are credited with having created "mass production." We use it to make more things in less time at lower cost. By it the people have more and better goods at cheaper prices. Workmen earn higher wages with less strain—not less work. The level of American family comfort has been visibly elevated.

Industry never harms a country; harm comes from elsewhere. But Industry bears the brunt of it. After the slump came, we increased our $6 minimum wage to $7 a day, which continued for 22 months. Today our wage rate is the highest in our line. But Industry still suffers for something she did not cause. Between making and using things, something outside Industry has stepped in to prevent the maker from making and the user from using.

We pioneered the 8-hour day, the 5-day week, a minimum wage that has always exceeded the market rate. Relations between employees and the Company have always stood on a just and human basis. We are as interested in social progress, and possess as sensitive a social conscience as any reformer whose theories have never met the test of a pay-roll. We pay for doing what we think is right. And we achieved these industrial decencies not by regulation or compulsion, but by being free of financial control and "gentlemen's agreements"—free to do what we saw was right and necessary.

We have no fears of what is ahead. We can make good motor cars under any just system. I think industry will spread out. Big factories, crowded industrial centers, will dissolve. Instead we shall have workshops in village and country. Nearness to the land will prevent the worst shocks of economic change. The benefits of "mass production" can be retained without the evils of massed industrial crowding. That is the next step.

You and I are able to take this next step because of what we learned in taking the present one.
