

BULLDOGS WON GAME FRIDAY

O'Donnell Lost To Locals By Score Of 38 To 0; Small Crowd At Game

The "Fighting Bulldogs", clad in their war togs, rushed madly from their peaceful tunnel to meet the O'Donnell eleven on the local grid-iron Friday at four o'clock. At the first blow of the whistle every man on each team was on his toes and ready for the fight. The spirit of victory hovered over the intention of each team.

O'Donnell receives the ball is fumbled, a rush, a crash, a tumble and a Bulldog nabbs the ball. The plunging backfielders hit hard and carried the ball at will against the defense until the ball was on the one yard line. The down that was expected to put the pigskin over for the first touchdown proved to be a fumble that Davis regretted. O'Donnell recovers lack of the goal giving Tahoka a "Safety" for two points. This first score put new punch into the Bulldogs which showed up later in the game. For this time the game was decidedly in favor of the Bulldogs. The fighting spirit of the O'Donnell eleven was never broken. They fought on to the end and made an interesting game.

The side-line crowd, even though small, was unusually enthusiastic and full of pep. The cheering cries of the loyal few urged the boys on to a greater victory. Had the whole town and high school made their appearance at the game they would have been fully repaid for their time and coin. The 70 yard broken field run made by Bennett was worth the price of the game. Several other thrills showered themselves upon the cold and waiting spectator as King made some very creditable line plunges which resulted in bringing up two touchdowns to his credit. Hackney was also a consistent ground gainer. We called it an excellent game all of the way thru. As you all know, there can be no backfield with out a steady hard hitting line. We feel that there are several who have contributed very materially to this asset. Among them are Slover, B. King, Davis and others. The whole team did credit to the school and the town of which they are citizens.

When the game was well in hand the coach sent all the men who were in uniform as subs. This is good training and will give them experience that will be needed in the future. Since the end of this playing season will mark the end of the high school career of two of our best men, King and Bennett, we will need these men next season. We are sure that these men will make for themselves a position on some good college team.

Let us show the team that we are really proud of them by our presence at the games and help the school authorities to develop men out of boys in every possible way.

BACHELORS BATTLE AT WEST POINT BOX SUPPER

The folks out at West Point had a box supper last Friday night for the benefit of the public school at that place, and when all of the returns were in it was found that the school treasury was to the good about one hundred and fifty two dollars and forty cents worth. L. L. Jones acted as auctioneer and they say that he was a good one. One box brought the neat sum of $31.00. It all happened about this way, according to L. L. A popular widow in the community had a box there and two old bachelors got to bidding on it, Bill Jackson and Bob Rusk. Bill and Bob made it mighty interesting for about fifteen minutes. Bob finally went his limit and Bill won the box. L. L. didn't pretend to know whether either of them will ever win the widow or not but he says he saw Bill hanging around the county clerk's office the next day.

Mr. Jones says that the school has been in progress out there since early in September, with Miss Dolphina Carmack in charge. Only one teacher is being used but L. L. says they are having a good school.

Happy Smith and Miss Alice Gaddberry were out from Tahoka to enjoy the box supper.

NEWS DOES BIG JOB OF PRINTING

The News has just finished the printing of the minutes of the Brownfield Baptist Association, a booklet of 32 pages. This printing job was given us in the face of the strongest competition, since we were compelled to bid against one of the largest and most aggressive printing houses in west Texas. While the book is not perfect, yet we believe that it compares favorably with other booklets of this character issued by the best printing houses in this section and is far superior in workmanship and neatness to many of them. We are continually improving our shop and our ambition is ultimately to make it as good as the best.

Dosher Is Bitten By Rattlesnake

Rev. J. M. Dosher of Seagraves was bitten by a big rattlesnake near Seagraves last Saturday, according to Rev. J. F. Curry, who paid a visit to the News office Monday. Brother Dosher and two other men had gone out to a tract of land which the minister had purchased recently, out about nine miles from Seagraves. While walking across the tract Brother Dosher stepped on a huge rattler and it bit him on the leg below the knee. His companions bound the injured member tightly above the wound and then cut the flesh across the wound so as to cause profuse bleeding. One of them went to get the car, which was almost a mile away. He was unable to start the car and the other man then went, and he also failed to start it. When the second man returned, the three men then walked the entire distance back to the car, Brother Dosher doing so with much pain and difficulty, of course. On the way to town in the car a near-serious accident occurred. Driving rapidly in order to get to a physician, the driver failed to check the speed of the car sufficiently at a turn in the road. The two wheels on the outside curve left the ground and the car came near turning over. Two tires were put out of commission but the three men drove on into town in flats. It was almost three hours from the time of the bite until they arrived in Seagraves. Upon their arrival medical attention was given the wound. Brother Dosher has been terribly sick and has been suffering intensely from the effects of the bite but he was considered out of danger when Brother Curry left the Dosher home Monday. Brother Dosher was pastor of the Baptist Church here for two years and has many friends here who deeply deplore this near-tragic incident.

Young Girls Break Cotton Picking Record

There are two little girls picking cotton for H. G. Manning on the farm of B. Bosworth near Grassland who have broken all records as cotton pickers for girls of their age. These girls are Pearl and Louise Nichols. Pearl, 8 years old, picked 380 pounds in one day, and Louise, 6 years old, picked 264 pounds. They picked nearly that much on other days. If there are two other girls of their ages anywhere between the two oceans that can equa this record we want to send their names in to Washington for a Carnegie Hero Medal. They are daughters of D. F. Nichols, and the family came out here from central Texas to pick cotton. Mr. Nichols claims to have picked as much as 900 pounds in a day in years past. Mr. Manning declares that in all his life he has never seen or heard anything like it. He says the little girls are regular little cotton picking machines.

Rev. B. Shepherd filled the pulpit of the First Baptist Church at Brownfield last Sunday. He was accompanied by his wife and their daughter, Gertrude. His pulpit here was filled by Rev. Campbell of Lubbock.

The Connolly Motor Company has just received another car load of Fords.

RODEO FEATURE ARMISTICE DAY

Local Riders Participated In Contest At Ball Park On November 11th

The clanging of spurs, the squeak of new leather, the snort of the bronco and the yell of the rider told about two hundred spectators Wednesday afternoon that the spirit of the "Woolly West" still lingers with us as a remnant of the skill that used to be needed in these parts. The Rodeo was held in the City Ball Park directed by Jack Jenkins, known in rodeo circles as "Reno Jack." It was a colorful display of skill on the part of the outlaw horses that challenged the young and husky riders, as both local and imported talent rolled in the dirt alike. Seven horses were led out, and only two were completely topped. Seven mules entered and only three were conquered. The steer riding was good but not as many steers were available as we expected.

Bill Draper took first money on the steer riding. Bill Harper of O'Donnell nabbed first money on both the horse and the mule riding. Park McDonald, a thirteen year old boy of Fort Worth, easily took first and second money in the calf roping contest. Leo Floyd, a skilled local rider, met one that was too much for a holiday pastime, but showed much skill and courage in the whole affair. Tex Jones states that there will be another Rodeo held here during the Christmas holidays, in which there will be more good horses entered than he has at present. He has a car-load of outlaw horses that have been gathered from all parts of the country. These are expected to give the best riders that can be gathered plenty of exercise. Mr. Jones is manager of the Rube Lewis Waggon Yard and has had much experience in staging rodeos.

Uncle Ike Metcalf Marries Two Couples

Judge Metcalf appeared at the News office early Monday morning in a remarkably good humor. The Judge is nearly always in a good humor but on that morning he was just a little more joyful than usual. Business had been good in his line. On Saturday afternoon J. W. Luman and Miss Eva Mae Fincham of Post showed up at his office with a pretentious-looking document signed by Happy Smith. The Judge didn't even have to be told what they wanted. He proceeded instantly to say that beautiful little ceremony that he learned so many years ago, winding up by naming them husband and wife. The groom left the Judge a nice little fee and the couple returned to Post, where they will make their home.

Then, just as the shades of night were gathering, Carl Acker and Miss Alma Daugherty, both of Brownfield, appeared at the Judge's residence, piloted by that friend of all young people, Geo. W. Small. They too were possessed of the proper credentials, and the Judge performed to their entire satisfaction, making these twain but one. The groom likewise slipped the judge a neat little sum of money as he said goodbye and headed his automobile back toward Brownfield to make his home and his fortune.

Happy and contented the Judge went to bed that night to dream sweet dreams of the morrow. Just before the clock struck twelve, four men rapped at the door and awakened the sleeping dispenser of justice. They had a story to whisper in the Judge's ear. They knew that they had been detected in a poker game, and so they decided to come around to the judge and pay off lest complaints should be filed in the county court where the costs would be heavier. The Judge accepted their pleas and their money and went to sleep again a richer man than when he awoke.

So the Judge was around at the News office Monday morning feeling fine, thank you.

Our old friend, Sheriff Terry of Colorado, Mitchell County, was here on official business last Saturday and dropped into the News office to see the editor. Mr. Terry states that the new "search and seizure" law has virtually put the peace officer out of business so far as catching whiskey runners is concerned.

ELDRIDGE AT CANYON MEET

Local Methodist Pastor Will Likely Return To Tahoka; Is Conference Treasurer

Rev. and Mrs. Jno. E. Eldridge left Monday for Canyon to attend the Northwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church in session this week. The Conference did not meet until Wednesday morning, treasurer for the body it was necessary for him to be there a day or more ahead of time.

Brother Eldridge has been pastor of the Tahoka Church just one year and of course he will be returned to this charge unless he should feel that he might be of greater service elsewhere and ask to be sent to another field. His numerous friends here, both in the Church and in other churches, are hoping that he will be returned to Tahoka. Not only has he done a good work here as pastor but Mrs. Eldridge has been unusually helpful in leading the women's work. She has been conducting a Bible study class in connection with the women's work, that has been universally pronounced very fine. Both Brother and Mrs. Eldridge have also taken a deep interest in other activities of our city. Brother Eldridge has been one of the leading spirits in the organization and the work of the local Kiwanis Club, and has helped many ways in the Boy Scout work.

The list of appointments will be until that time it will not be positively known whether Rev. and Mrs. Eldridge are to return to Tahoka.

Man Killed In Fight At Spur

SPUR, Nov. 9.—Edgar Brawley, 19, the result of a bullet through his body, Carl Carl Denison, 21, is in a Spur hospital suffering with knife wounds in his back and arms, while charges of murder have been filed against Pat Denison, brother of Carl, and an assault to murder charge has been filed against J. A. Brawley, father of the dead man.

Trouble between the Denison and Brawley families, who are neighbors in the Highway community, occurred Saturday and is said to have started when young Brawley slapped a Denison girl. Later Saturday older members of the two families met in the Spur National Bank and a fight occurred between the elder Brawley and Carl Denison.

Young Brawley went to the aid of his father, according to witnesses and Denison received knife wounds which may cause his death. Both Brawley and his father were placed under bonds of $1000, each. Sunday afternoon when Brawley and his son returned to Spur, presumably to give bond, young Brawley was shot by Pat Denison, a brother of Carl. A bullet penetrated the abdomen on the left side and lodged in the left kidney.

A murder charge was filed against Pat Denison and he will be given a preliminary hearing in Spur tomorrow.

Armistice Day Is Observed Here

Armistice day was observed as a holiday here. Most of the stores and places of business closed either a portion or all of the day. No program of any kind was rendered except a radio performance. Flags floated from the tops of public buildings and at the front of a few business houses. School was dismissed for the day.

In course of time, armistice day will probably be more generally and ostentatiously observed. It was the day when Germany acknowledged her self defeated, and when the boys who went to France to make the "world safe for democracy" saw their sacrificial efforts crowned with victory. The brave boys who achieved this mighty triumph and the great man who guided the destinies of this nation through those trying times deserve all honor. No better soldiers ever faced a foe than the boys of the American Expeditionary Forces, and no greater man ever sat at the helm of State than Woodrow Wilson.

THE NEWS PLANT IS BEING IMPROVED

The News this week purchased a new paper cutter. Little by little we are improving the equipment of our shop, and we intend to continue to do so as the growth of the town and the demands of our business require. All of this costs money, however. We have never yet found any company handling newspaper machinery that wanted to give us anything. Considering the cost of newspaper equipment and the amount of hard work and expense necessary to publish a creditable newspaper, the average newspaper makes less clear money perhaps than any business requiring the same amount of capital and labor. Yet there are business men occasionally who will complain about advertising rates and the cost of job printing. There are very few of these in Tahoka, however.

Mrs. Herman Gives Version Of Charge

A few weeks ago the News carried a story, clipped from a Sweetwater paper, of an alleged swindle attempted in that city when a lady purchased some furniture from the Wright Furniture Company on the installment plan. The furniture was delivered to a certain house in Sweetwater, according to the lady's instructions, but was almost immediately removed from the house. Officers were notified and a search for the furniture was instituted, according to the story published, and the furniture was later located in O'Donnell and the woman in Lubbock. The furniture was recovered and restored to the Wright Furniture Company and the woman was arrested and held for investigation.

Mrs. Marvin Herman of O'Donnell, the woman in question, desires that we state through our columns that the grand jury at Sweetwater failed to indict her for any offense in connection with this affair. She states that not even a complaint was ever filed against her. She avows her innocence and declares that she expects to prove to the world by her life that she is honest and worthy. "The strangest are never crushed," she declared, "and I do not expect to be crushed by this unfortunate affair." She is the daughter of a highly respected family living at O'Donnell. She married when a mere child and is the mother of several small children and says she is struggling to rear them in the right manner. We cheerfully make this statement, for we try never to reflect unjustly on the character or reputation of any person. On the other hand, it is our desire to be of help at all times to the distressed and those who may become the victims of untoward circumstances.

Canyon Professor To Visit Schools Of Lynn County

Special to the News. CANYON, Nov. 10.—Professor J. H. Humphreys, of the Latin Department of the West Texas State Teachers College will spend the week beginning November 15th visiting the rural and the city schools of Lynn county.

The Teachers College at Canyon is making a study of conditions that exist in the schools of the entire Panhandle-Plains region to the end that the teachers it prepares may be ready to do satisfactory work wherever they go.

Professor Humphreys will be assisted in his work in Lynn County by County Superintendent C. H. Cain. While in the county Professor Humphreys will make an effort to meet all ex-students of the Canyon Teachers College and to assist them in solving their problems. He is an excellent speaker and it is probable that he will be called on to speak at a number of places.

Mrs. Louise Briley of Oakland, California, is visiting the family of W. G. Briley and other relatives in Lynn county this week.

The Connolly Motor Company has just received another car of Fords.

COTTON CROP IS HALF GATHERED

20,000 Bales Ginned; Freeze Cuts Crop Shorter Than Was First Thought

Up to 10 O'clock Thursday morning, approximately 20,000 bales of cotton had been ginned in Lynn County this season. It is believed that fully half the crop has been gathered. Reports indicate that damage from the freeze of two weeks ago was much heavier than first estimates. The crop was probably cut short 25 per cent. If these estimates are correct, this exceeds that of last year. O'Donnell is still leading in the number of bales ginned, but Tahoka shows a slight gain since our report last week. The O'Donnell yard has received 1211 bales since last week's report while Tahoka yard has received 1242 bales. The total yard receipts at O'Donnell are 6,650; at Tahoka; 6012. The total ginnings at O'Donnell are 6332; at Tahoka, 5515. The total ginnings for the county this year up to Nov. 12 are 19980, against 21,371 up till November 13 last year. The report for the county is as follows:

O'Donnell	6,332
Tahoka	5,515
Wilson	1,539
Grassland	2,754
Draw	1,278
Lynn	845
New Home	793
Newmoore	533
Gordon	400
Total	19,980

Offers Scholarship Medal To Student

Dr. C. Townes early this week raised a fund among the business men of the city and purchased a nice gold medal and had it properly inscribed, to be awarded at the end of this school session to the pupil who has made the highest average grade throughout the session. It is understood that many pupils will contest for the medal.

MUSICAL TREAT FOR TAHOKA MUSIC LOVERS

Manager D. B. English of the Star Theatre announces that he has engaged the Queen City Concert Company of Los Angeles, California for three days, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 16-17-18, a musical troupe of five people, who will offer to his patrons a program of nearly everything musical. They come here highly recommended, having just last week played in Lubbock all week. Their program consists of opera numbers to the latest in jazz or syncopation harmony singing, illustrated song slides on the screen. The program is so varied that it will please all. He is offering this program on the stage in addition to a very high class picture program. There will be an entire change of program each day.

METHODIST CHURCH AT O'DONNELL MAKES PROGRESS

Rev. W. B. Hicks will leave Monday for Canyon where he will attend the conference of the Northwest Texas district. The church year for the O'Donnell district closed last Sunday and it was found that the finances were in excellent shape, the pastor's salary and all other current expenses had been paid.

During the past year there have been 126 additions to the church and 130 conversions, and since its such flourishing condition Rev. Hicks is a forceful preacher and a faithful worker in the cause of Jesus Christ and is loved by all the members of the church he serves. If the wishes of the members are carried out, he will be appointed to the O'Donnell church for another year. —O'Donnell Index.

E. I. Hill Jr., who has been foreman in the News shop the past year, has accepted a position with the Ranger Daily Times in its Job Printing Department. He left for his new job last Friday and his wife followed Wednesday morning of this week. E. I. has been a hard and efficient worker in our shop and has been of invaluable assistance to us in the publishing of the paper and turning out job work. He has a much more lucrative position with the Ranger Times.

A FOOLISH PRACTICE

(By A Citizen)

Let us take a little excursion thru our great plains country and get a birds-eye view of the big things that meet our vision. After we have cranked the Ford and glided smoothly across our country on our excellent roads, we suddenly are startled by a break in the smooth and seemingly continuous horizon. Our regret for the distortion vanishes when a more beautiful sight greets our eyes. What is the thing? Nothing more than a progressing little city standing as a monument to the people and the spirit of progress. These centers of trade and commerce dot the great expanse with an unforeseen frequency.

Why are these cities here? Did they just happen because some man was not able to prevent it? Every man or woman that is interested in community life and progress is ready to say no. He is also ready to say that they are here because they have been built. Then there must be some prime essential factors necessary before a city can be built. Let us ask ourselves the question, "What are these essentials?" We would all likely agree that first there must be, what God has provided, a good soil. Second, good citizens and all they represent, and the possibility of a good industry by which people can maintain a livelihood.

Again let us ask ourselves the question, "Does Tahoka have all of these?" Suppose we let commonly observed evidences speak the answer. The present price of land, the abundant yield, the rate of tax, and the continuous drift of people into our midst will testify to the fact that we have the soil that will produce the goods. Then stop and listen for a moment to the powerful cotton gin, the hum of the automobile, the tinge of coin in the pockets of the passerby and the rumbling sound of the loaded wagon. Do not things bespeak the fact that our people are progressing in the industry of the country? No one could deny that we have good citizens when we see the monuments and edifices that embody the treasured principles upon which society is founded, such as the school, the church, the home and the shop.

Then friends let us ask ourselves why it is that some of these towns with seemingly equal facilities and opportunities so outstrip others. We have the soil, we have the industry and we have the citizens; but are we keeping pace with our opportunities? Are we getting our part of the business of our home people?

As long as we hear people saying they can save more than their gas bill by going to a near by town to make a twenty dollar purchase we may rest assured that we are not getting what should be ours.

Did you know that at present, checks on Tahoka banks, given by Tahoka people, are being cashed in our nearby towns to the amount of between three and four thousand dollars weekly? Should this condition exist? Can our town prosper as it should as long as this is the case? Do you realize that if we had the profit on that much money in Tahoka or two years we could build a new hundred thousand dollar high school, have many more blocks of our streets or install a modern sewer system?

Citizens of Tahoka when a merchant of a nearby town puts you on the back for your patronage, he is telling you to come over and help us have a good town and let your own town and merchants go unsupported. Do we want to respond to that influence when a second thought will tell us that we should buy in Tahoka. Since there is so much involved it might pay Tahoka people and business men to look into the cause.

CLUB ORGANIZED AT EDITH

There was a meeting held at the home of Mrs. T. I. Hammonds Monday afternoon.

"Convenient Kitchens" was discussed by our Home Demonstration Agent, Miss Halley.

We are always glad to have her out with us. She is so helpful in many ways to Women's and Girl's clubs. She helped us organize a women's club. There were ten who joined. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. J. A. Sanders; Vice President, Mrs. J. R. Parris; Secretary, Mrs. Chas. E. Campbell.

The next meeting will be with the president, Mrs. J. A. Sanders, on November 24th. A demonstration on steam pressure cookery will be given by Miss Halley. The ladies of the community are invited to be present.—Mrs. Campbell, Secretary.

J. Anson Comphrey made a flying trip last week to Laramie, Kansas, and Abilene. He reports that a number of persons whom he saw stated that they intended coming out to Lynn county soon to invest in land.

Everything to Build Anything

BUY IT IN TAHOKA

When a man chooses a city like Tahoka as his home and derives his income from the industry of that town, he owes it to himself to keep his dollars in his own community. Investigation proves that there is little need for a resident of Tahoka to do any trading away from the city.

You can travel some distance in any direction and you will not find a more modern little city than Tahoka. And its merchants are up-to-date, its industries in the lead, anxious to cater to the demands of the time. Why, then, should any of us send our money out of Tahoka? Keep your dollars at home where you will get a chance to shake hands with them again.

The City Bakery

O. B. ADAMI, Prop.

Just one year ago on Nov. 6, the present owner took charge of the City Bakery.

We wish to say that we like Tahoka. We like the town and the people.

We appreciate the patronage that has been given our business by the people of Tahoka and all Lynn County. We believe that we are meriting your patronage. We have left nothing undone to procure the very best baker and to render the very best service possible. We claim that we are turning out bread equal to the very best, it makes no difference where made.

Our shop is kept strictly sanitary all the time. We invite the closest inspection by the most critical. Our place of business is always open to the public.

We suggest that you try our bread, cakes, pies, cookies of all kinds. Do not worry over your baking; it's cheaper and better to let us do the worrying for you. It will be a pleasure to us to assist and to serve you.

Our advice is to boost for Lynn County and eat plenty of

TEXAS MAID BREAD

Remember: We have an expert Baker; a clean, sanitary shop; the best of all kinds of cookies; the most courteous treatment for every customer; a hearty welcome to all. We thank you.

DAN MOODY MAKING HISTORY

Attorney General Dan Moody is busy filing suits for the cancellation of road building contracts made by the State Highway Department with various road construction companies.
On last Thursday he filed suit in the district court in Travis county asking for the cancellation of contracts made with the American Road Company totalling more than $1,700,000. In his petition he alleges that the American Road Company sub-let the work on these contracts at a cost of about $600,000 only, thereby making clear profit of more than one million dollars; that the State Highway Commission in making these contracts with the American Road Company had not made them in accordance with the requirements of the law and that they were void; that the American Road Company had refused to give him access to its books and papers when he made demand upon them for the same, as required by law, and that it had thereby forfeited its right to do business in Texas. He prays for a cancellation of the contracts, for a return to the State of Texas of $650,000 excessively collected thereon, and for forfeiture of the Company's right to do business in Texas.

If the allegations of this petition are sustained by the evidence, then it follows that members of the highway commission who awarded these contracts must have acted either corruptly or with inexcusable negligence and ignorance. If guilty on either score, they should be driven from office in disgrace. If guilty of crime, they should be sent to the penitentiary along with other crooks. Every citizen of Texas should read the evidence as the same may be adduced on the trial, so as to be able to form an intelligent and unbiased opinion. This is a vital matter, for the administration of government, like a woman's character, should always be above suspicion. Whatever the result of these suits, history is being made in Texas.

POTATOES LARGE AS STUMPS

Some time last summer, L. H.
Johnson, who lives twelve miles west of town planted a patch of ground to sweet potatoes. He did not pay much attention to the vines, and owing to the dry weather, he just supposed that they had amounted to nothing. A few days ago he decided to do a little fall plowing, and it so happened that he decided to break his potato patch. He had scarcely put his plow into the ground until it hit a "snag." He loosened the plow and tried it again, and he hit another "snag." He began to wonder how the snags managed to get in to his potato patch, so he got a shovel and a grub hoe and began to investigate. He soon discovered that the "snags" were nothing more than enormous Porto Rico Yams.

By using his shovel, hoe and plow, he managed to dig out several, one of which weighed 6 1-4th pounds.
He is now selling them by the dozen, as he has discovered that it takes only twelve to make a bushel. Next!

Scurry County Times-Signal.
Right nice little potatoes. But, say, Martin, you ought to come up on the caprick and see a few of our little tubers that require two men to load one on the wagon.

A negro commits a murder and escapes. His identity and whereabouts are unknown but he is believed to be in hiding in some negro cabin in the city. A posse sets out in a search for the black criminal.
A group of the searching party approach a negro cabin and undertake to search the premises. They are denied admission. They force their way into the house and there all to find the murderer but they find bloody garments containing papers and letters that are known to belong to a certain negro. They find his name on the papers; they find his initials on the clothing. The negro is finally arrested in another place and is brought to trial. He denies his guilt. The bloody garments and the letters, belonging to him, and found in a private residence, can not be used as evidence on the trial. Why? Because this evidence was procured by searching a private residence without a search warrant over the protest of the occupants, and in violation of a law enacted by the present legislature.
Another law enacted by the same legislature prohibits the use of any evidence procured unlawfully in the trial of any criminal case. We still insist that the "search and seizure" laws enacted by the present legislature operate in favor of criminals and rooks and should be repealed at the very first opportunity.

The Lynn County News says that a certain farmer residing near Tahoka declares that mosquitoes destroy cool weevils. The editor comments as follows: "We have never studied wormology and insectology enough to know whether mosquitoes feed on worms or not, but if they do, Mr.
Nowlin's theory seems reasonable.
Who can enlighten us?"

Neither is the Times-Signal man authority on wormology, bugology, insectology and entomology, but we have reasons to believe that no respectable mosquito would even think of feasting off so miserable a thing as a boll worm. The mosquito is a pretty smart fellow, preferring the very best rations, the human being being one of his choice delicacies.

The Scurry County Times-Signal.
Say, Martin, any mosquito that would souse his bill into you or me would certainly not be very discriminating in the choice of his food.
It occurs to us that any other poor worm of the dust might easily fall a victim to his voracious appetite.

As for "respectable" mosquitoes, we are not sure that we have ever met one. Usually after our first introduction to one of these singing rascals we are seized with an irresistible impulse to use up all the suitable adjectives in our vocabulary in a vain effort to fully express to our unwelcome visitor just what we think of him. We never saw a mosquito that seemed to have any respect for us and therefore we do not think that there is any such animal as a respectable mosquito.

The dead body of a new-born infant, wrapped in bed clothing and stuffed into a gunny sack, was found one morning last week on a lot in Lubbock. The evidence indicated that the infant had been born on the previous night and brought by the perpetrator of the foul act or by an accomplice to the place where it was found. There is no murder that can be much more foul than the murder of a tiny, innocent babe. If the mother of this child can be identified and the person or persons responsible for the death of this infant can be discovered, then quick and adequate punishment should be meted out. Cold blooded murder is a terrible crime.

WHICH ARE YOU

A lecturer, riding down one of the rough mountain roads of Kentucky, observed a farmer plowing the rugged hillside with four oxen, to which he was shouting vociferously: "Hi, thar! you 'Methodist,' 'Baptist,' 'Camp
bellite,' 'Presbyterian,' g'lang thar!"
Much astonished, he called the mountaineer to the fence and inquired:
"Why do you call the oxen by such peculiar names?" "Why stranger," said the mountaineer, "them was the fittest names I could get. This yer Methodist, now, is a good critter, and a willing worker, but ever once in a while he has to jump up and bawl. That ar' Baptist is a powerful strong beast but whenever he comes to a pool of water he allers wants to lay down in it. That ar' Campbellite is an A-number one fellow, and does an honest day's work but he's the stubbornest and contrar-iest critter that ever lived. An' this Presbyterian, he's the stiddest one in the whole lot. I can depend on him altogether, but he's so stuck on himself that all of the rest of them just naturally despise him."—The Pineville Sun.

METHODIST WOMEN STUDY MORE OF LATIN AMERICA

The study class of the Methodist Missionary Society met at Mrs. Hall Robinson's Monday afternoon and studied the Senoras and Senoritas of Latin America. Mrs. Wyatt opened the meeting with a scripture lesson from Matthew, followed with a prayer by Mrs. Sanders. Mrs. Stewart conducted the lesson in the absence of Mrs. Eldridge. Mrs. Hamilton read a very interesting paper on the Social Life of the Senoras and Senoritas. Mrs. Slaton told us of the work of the women, who have dared to over step the conventionalities of land and have rights of their own.

A motion to meet November 23rd for the next lesson was carried. We will study Chapter VI, 'The Indians of Latin America.' There are seven women on the program for that day.

We were dismissed by repeating the Lord's prayer in concert.

The Story of Canning

CANNING began as a war measure, back in the time of Napoleon, and gained further impetus from the necessities of the Civil War in this country. But it has developed into a household blessing for the whole human race. Thus, sometimes, is good evolved from calamity.

The great need of preserving food in a healthful, palatable and transportable condition brought about the war measure of offering a reward for the best method of accomplishing this. Experimentation resulted in success—though the method was far more crude than now. Then the advantages of canned foods began to be realized in the home. As the mass of the people began to call for canned foods, the industry grew apace, and time brought a steady improvement of the various processes.

Now, in all the great canneries throughout this country, as well as in other parts of the world where various products are canned, thousands of people find employment, all the year 'round; in test laboratories, science and invention are working together constantly, in an effort to turn out the very best ready-to-serve products, by the safest and surest processes; and everywhere throughout the world people are being better fed with a greater variety of foods, at all seasons of the year.

The progress of fruits and vegetables, on their journey from tree or vine to the can, is as fascinating as fiction. Crops, watched by field men, are gathered at the psychological moment of maturity and are hurried directly to the cannery. There they are passed through several washing-machines which cleanse them thoroughly; yet, even after that, they pass under the close scrutiny of long lines of white-capped and white-aproned women, standing on each side of a moving canvas belt. Imperfect specimens or particles which have escaped the washing process, are picked out, so that only the best go into the cans.

The cans are filled by machines, the food covered with water, and the cans hermetically sealed, also by machinery. Then the cans are cooked in huge tanks of boiling water, and a large percentage of the vitamins is thus preserved, because, in the hermetically sealed cans, no oxidation can possibly take place—and it is that which destroys vitamins.

Preliminary to the actual cooking the food is thoroughly heated in the cans to drive out air and secure a vacuum when the cans are cooled. Then the cans are sealed and put in steam-retorts or open tanks of boiling water, where they are cooked sufficiently to preserve the contents, and at the same time retain the natural flavor and full nutrition. The time of cooking, or processing as canners call it, and the degree of heat applied depends on the contents, and are the results of endless scientific investigation and experimentation, with the end in view that the canned food as furnished the consumer must be most palatable, most satisfying as a food and ready to serve with the least labor. No further cooking is necessary. Heating and seasoning in the kitchen are necessary only to meet the individual tastes of the family.

HOW TO SHOP DEMONSTRATION

Mrs. Dora R. Barnes State Clothing Specialist of the A. & M. Extension Service will be here November 18th to assist Miss Halsey in her work. In the afternoon Mrs. Barnes will give a demonstration on how to shop. This will be of interest to all women of the county and Miss Halsey urges that every club be represented.

Henry Burkhalter asked us not to say anything about it—said he didn't want publicity—but we are going to mention it anyway. He brought the editor a fine assortment of turnips Wednesday. He says they are very fine on his father's farm out at Grassland, so many of them that they are going to waste, and having a hunch that the editor might be hungry he loaded up his car and came to our rescue. The turnips were fine. We Thank you.

Bill Thompson of Littlefield spent Tuesday night here with his brother Joe. Mr. Thompson estimates that his cotton crop near Littlefield was damaged 75 to 85 per cent by the recent freeze. Much other cotton in that vicinity was just as badly damaged.

Two negroes, who were supposed to be picking cotton but who spent most of their time in visiting among other negroes of the county, were run down and arrested by Sheriff Boone Dillard in Dawson County a few days ago and their car was found to be loaded down with "Choc" beer, the sheriff took charge of the beer and landed the negroes in jail to await the action of the grand jury.

Sheriff Yarbrough of Sweetwater and City Marshall X. B. Sanders of Roscoe raided a private residence 3 miles west of Roscoe last week and captured a half barrel of liquor and one of the largest stills ever found in Nolan county. Two men were arrested and placed in jail charged with the manufacture of intoxicating liquor.

Highway No. 9 is to be oiled from Lubbock to Canyon, if present plans are successfully carried out. The State Highway Department has advertised for bids for work, the bids to be opened November 20th. The distance is 115 miles, and the oiling of this stretch of highway will be an experiment that will be watched throughout west Texas.

The Dry Goods Store of the Hunter-Carson Company at Lamesa was burglarized one night last week and several hundred dollars worth of goods were taken. Silk dresses and ladies' coats made up a large part of the loot. Entry was effected by breaking out of a back window and turning the lock.

The Southland News estimates the damage done to cotton in that vicinity by the recent freeze to be about 40 per cent.

S. F. Foster, a farmer residing near Canyon, planted a pound of turnip seed in the skips of his cotton field and now reports that he has at least a car load of fine turnips as the yield.

E. E. Blakney, a Silverton ginner, was seriously if not fatally injured last week when a press was thrown in gear while he was looking over into it and making some adjustments. The bones of his face were broken and crushed and his condition is such as to render recovery doubtful.

Miss Helen Lamb, a member of the faculty of the West Texas State Teachers College at Canyon, died following an operation on Monday of last week. She had been a member of the faculty only since the opening of the present term in September. She was a sister of Miss Marie A. Lamb, who had been a member of the faculty for many years.

WILD BILL HICKOK NOT "BAD MAN" TYPE

John Hays Hammond's
Tribute to Westerner

There was "Wild Bill" Hickok.

As scout and spy on the Union side in the Civil war he had made a record few men have equalled. As a sharpshooter it is doubtful whether he ever was excelled. Like thousands of others, the war over, he went seeking his fortune in the West. He never accumulated anything to mention.

Quiet, unassuming, he was repeatedly forced to take life, by the law of that day that each man's life and belongings were his to have and to hold—if he could—and as a killer his name stands above those of all the other gunmen the West developed. At the age of thirty-nine he was assassinated from behind his chair where he was playing cards in a saloon.

He had always fought alone, single handed—double handed, to be exact, for he was a two-gun fighter, and terrible with the knife. His total tally of men slain, including some score of Indians, was 33, and there were no Hessian notches on his guns.

For a time Wild Bill was United States marshal at Hays City, Kan., then one of the toughest towns on the frontier. There he had to kill two malefactors while covered by his pistols.

He was elected town marshal of Abilene, at the Kansas head of the old Santa Fe cattle trail, a wild, wild town. Enemies down trail among the cattlemen made up a purse of $5,000, and sent eight gunmen on a train to Abilene to finish Bill off. Hickok got wind of their coming, met the train, and ran seven of them out of town. The eighth was killed leaping from the car.

Tiring of a life of unending trouble with his fellow men, Bill gave up official life and moved to Deadwood, S. D., and married. Emerson Hough says, "It was as bad a place as could be found in the mining regions. There, August 2, 1876, he was shot in the back of the head and killed. The undertaker found that his body was a mass of old bullet and knife wounds.

Once while guarding some horses not his own, he was attacked in a dug-out by ten men whom he had refused to join in stealing the animals. Single handed he shot and cut and clubbed to death nine of them; the tenth ran away. Yet, says Hough, so big was the heart of Wild Bill that "for years he supported out of his meager funds the widow of the leader of this gang, one McCandless, as he did the widows of several other men he had been forced to kill. And he never failed to provide at his personal expense decent funerals for the white men he had finished."

General Custer said of him: "He was a platoon leader in every sense of the word, yet unlike any other of his class. His manner was free from all bluster and bravado. He never spoke of himself unless requested to do so. His influence among the frontiersmen was unbounded; his word as an officer was law." General Miles has personally confirmed to me General Custer's estimate of Wild Bill as a man.

This brief sketch of the old West's premier gunman is worthy a place in these pages, I believe, for one reason: to correct an impression that prevails among some millions of well meaning but uninformed Americans, in the cities and elsewhere, that the "killer" of our old mining and cattle days was just a bloody-minded wretch undeserving a marker on his grave.

There were many such, and—there were many who were not such. I have entertained with a sense of being honored a number of men of the Hickok type. I would not permit the cheap, sneaking, city "killer" of today to sleep on my grave. In the parlance of the Wild West, I wouldn't "give him hell room."—John Hays Hammond in Scribner's Magazine.

Always Truth Makes Free

It would be foolish to treat with scorn the forecast made by Dr. E. E. Free, editor of the Scientific American, regarding the new civilization which he sees to be likely as the result of a successful attempt to apply practically the Einstein theory of relativity. One may grant that it is somewhat startling in its nature, but then every revolutionary challenge to the world's settled convictions has seemed ridiculous and impossible to most of those to whom it has been first suggested. And the feature of perhaps greatest interest is the fact that his vision springs out of the proof that it is through gaining clearer ideas of the actual status of things in the physical universe that its forces are being harnessed more and more for the service of mankind. In every branch of endeavor, indeed, the truth is what makes free.—Christian Science Monitor.

Something New in Opera

The latest thing in grand opera in Berlin is to put the singers in the orchestra pit where they will be out of sight while still under gentlemen and ladies go through the acting on the stage.—The general thesis being that 1,000 pounds put into a quartet of high E's is more effective than the same weight distributed among four fairly pronounced.—Collier's Weekly.

O'DONNELL BUILDS

Work was started on the Dr. J. F. Campbell building on the corner of Eighth and Baldrige streets Monday. The floor space will cover 25x80 feet and will be of brick and tile and will have frontage on both streets. The nature of the business to be conducted in the building has not been announced.

Mr. Campbell also intends to start construction on other buildings on his lots on Baldrige streets at an early date. In a short time Block A will be filled with brick business houses.

NAZARINE YOUNG FOLKS TO HOLD CONVENTION

The Nazarine Young People's Convention for the Plains district meets with the O'Donnell church on Thursday night before the fifth Sunday in his month. We are expecting a good number of delegates and preachers. A program is being arranged for the occasion.

A round table discussion on different subjects will be held each morning at 9 o'clock with preaching at 11 a. m. and at 8 p. m. The pastors of the different churches of O'Donnell have agreed to meet with us and Mayor C. T. Kibbe will deliver the welcome address, and a hearty welcome is extended to all to meet with us.—R. C. Montandon, pastor.

Rev and Mrs. J. F. Curry and son, Charles, of Newmoore were in Tahoka Monday. Brother Curry reports that he filled the pulpit at Seagraves Sunday in place of the pastor, Rev. J. M. Dasher, who was suffering from a snake-bite, and that at the morning service about seven hundred dollars was raised for local and denominational purposes.

H. P. Burkhalter, of Grassland states that the damage to cotton from the recent freeze is much heavier in that portion of the county than was at first thought. Many green bolls were ruined which it was first thought would open.

BELL BURLISON, O'DONNELL WEDS NEW MEXICO GIRL

A romance begun several years ago in El Paso reached a culmination Thursday of last week when Miss White Graham of Tatum, New Mex-ico, was married to Bell Burlison of O'Donnell. Several years ago when Mr. Burlison was serving the govern-ment as inspector along the border he was taken ill and it was his bride who nursed him back to health in an El Paso hospital. The wedding ceremony was performed at Brown-field, and the bride and groom im-mediate came to the home on the Burlison farm east of town.

The bride is of one of the best fam-ilies of New Mexico and a nurse by profession.

Mr. Burlison operates a large cot-ton farm six miles east of O'Donnell and is one of our substantial citizens.

They have the best wishes of a host of friends for a long and happy married life.—O'Donnell Index.

EDITH NEWS

Rev. and Mrs. Tiner visited in Hockley county Saturday and Sun-day. He filled his appointment up there.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris of Post vis-ited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Sanders.

Miss Halsey met with the ladies of the community Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. T. L. Hammonds and gave a demonstration of kitch-en improvement. We all enjoyed it and feel it was quite a help to us. She organized a club for the women, with Mrs. Joe Sanders president, Mrs. J. R. Parris vice-president, and Mrs. Chas. Campbell secretary. We are to meet with Mrs. Joe Sanders next.

Everybody is busy in our commu-nity picking cotton.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Hart of Stam-ford are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sanders.

Our school opened the first of the month and is doing nicely with Rev. and Mrs. Tiner as teachers.

SOUTH WARD ITEMS

Hello, folks. Here we are back again after some delay.

Cotton picking is the thing of the day, and many are the bales that have been picked in this community, and much more yet to be gathered. We noticed in the News many re-ports of cotton thieves, but we are glad to say that we have had no trouble with these fellows so far.

Mrs. Lonnie Fleming and child-ren and Mrs. Frost Hale have mov-ed into our community from Mena, Ark. They are now staying with Mrs. Fleming's brother, Mr. W. P. Inman.

Monroe Johnson and the writer spent Sunday in Lamesa with Troy B. Cowan, Jr. who is in the sanitar-ium there. He is recovering slowly and it will be some time before he can be back among his many friends in this community.

There was a very small crowd out for Sunday School and prayer meet-ing Sunday. Folks, come out and help us to have good Sunday school and prayer meetings. We extend a hearty welcome to every one. Come we need you.

News is scarce this week and the writer hasn't been out to learn the news.

"NIGGER JOE" GETS FREEDOM BY NEW LAW

"Nigger Joe," Quitaque negro who has been held about six months on a chock beer charge was given his freedom Monday afternoon when the district judge instructed the jury to find him not guilty.

"Nigger Joe" probably owes his liberty to the fact that the new "Search and Seizure" law was pass-ed just when it was. It seems that he had been arrested without the proper search warrant having been issued and therefore could not be convicted. He was a trusty during his imprisonment in the county bas-tile and helped earn his board by working about the court house. He holds the record for having lived longer in Silverton than any other of his race and color. He lost no time in getting out of town after his release, it is understood.—Bris-coe County News.

Plans for the building of a modern ice and cold storage plant at Colora-do have been announced by O. D. Dillingham, an Abilene capitalist. A site for the plant has been purchased by April 1st, 1926, according to plans.

CHEVROLET AGENCY OPENED IN O'DONNELL BY J. D. LILES

A deal was made this week whereby an exclusive agency for the Chevrolet products was established in O'Donnell.

Heretofore the Chevrolet cars have been sold under the Post agency, by the Briley Grain Company of Tahoka, this place only receiving a very limited number of cars and only a small stock of accessories was carried. The name of the new company will be the Liles Chevrolet Company and will be under the direct management of J. D. Liles, who will soon move his family here and build a home.

Mr. Liles states that his company will soon begin the construction of a 50 x 100 foot brick building, incorporating all of the appurtenances belonging to a fully equipped garage and accessory shop, handling the Chevrolet products exclusively. The initial outlay of money to be spent on the building and plant will be around $10,000.

The large number of cars that have been sold in the O'Donnell territory during the past few months caused the agency for this zone at Oklahoma City to take notice that the town had reached such proportions as to demand an exclusive agency and service garage. Temporarily the home of the Liles Chevrolet Company is located in the Odd Fellow's building where H. G. Gantt has charge of the sales department.

The opening of this exclusive agency will prove of great convenience to many users of this make of car and a general welcome is extended by the business men of the town.—O'Donnell Index.

THE MAGIC CARPET

Once upon a time in the mystic land of Persia, there was found among the treasures of a king, a wonderful carpet. One had only to sit on it, wish to be somewhere, and away the carpet would fly to the wished for place was reached. For hundreds of years it carried kings and princes upon the most amazing adventures. No one knows what finally became of it, but it may be that its last threads went into the make-up of the first Youth's Companion.

For, like the magic carpet, The Companion for 1926 carries you to the land of your heart's desire—up into the Maine woods with the lumbermen; out on the western plains where the war-like Navaho Indians live; far up into the gold regions of Alaska; and away on the Southern Seas in search of treasures and lost islands. All you need for such extraordinary adventures is a young heart and a Youth's Companion. Don't lose time in getting started; subscribe now and receive:

1. The Youth's Companion—52 issues in 1926, and
2. The remaining issues of 1925. All for only $2.

Or include McCall's Magazine, the monthly authority on fashions. Both publications, only $2.50.

WANTS PAY FOR PICKING

Bush McGonagill is peeved over the loss of a bale of cotton some worthless hound stole from his farm recently. Since the price of cotton has dropped, Bush says that if the thief will pay him back the $19 he was out for the picking of the cotton he will call the matter settled. That's Bush's way: he always gives the other fellow the best of everything. Some farmers would demand a fifty-fifty split.—O'Donnell Index.

Texas Lady Tells How She Got Rid of Her Troubles.

"The first time I took Cardui, I was in an awful bad way," says Mrs. Ora Carlie, R. F. D. 5, Troup, Texas.

"I was afflicted with awful smothering spells. My mother had some Cardui in the house that she was taking, so she immediately began giving it to me. In a few days I got all right."

"Last fall I got run-down in health. I was weak and puny and I began to suffer with... I would get so I could hardly walk. Having taken Cardui before, I sent to the store for a bottle of it."

"Almost from the first dose I can feel the improvement. ... I am much better now."

"Cardui has helped me a lot and I am glad to recommend it. I don't feel like the same woman I was last fall."

"My appetite is good now, and I'm sure it's Cardui that's made it pick up, for in the fall I had no relish for food at all, while now I'm hungry for my meals."

The Famous T-Bar Ranch Lands

This ranch consisted originally of 126 sections, or more than 80,000 acres. Twenty sections of this land lying north of the Tahoka-Brownfield highway and west of the Tahoka-Lubbock highway and adjoining the townsite of Tahoka has been placed on the market. A part of this land has been sold and converted into farms and as fine cotton as can be found on the south plains may be found today on these lands. We are selling these lands out in quarter and half sections. This is your chance to get a home. Lynn county produced more than 38,000 bales of cotton last year. It is conservatively estimated that it will produce 50,000 bales this year. Fine land, fine water, fine people; complete crop failures almost unknown.

Winter Comfort at Low Cost

To drive in comfort this winter you should have complete protection against rain, sleet, snow and wind. Only the finest closed car construction can give you that.

The Chevrolet Coach body is Fisher-built—the same construction used on the world's finest cars.

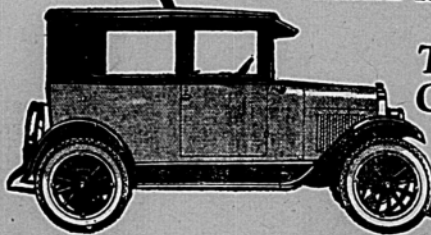

Doors and windows fit and stay tight to keep out wind and water. Rain or snow cannot penetrate the Fisher V-V one-piece windshield which gives you perfect vision and ventilation. Long semi-elliptic springs and balloon tires take the jars out of frozen roads.

Add to body comfort the safety of semi-reversible steering and equalized brakes and the assurance of a motor that always starts easily, and you can realize why Chevrolet spells winter comfort.

Yet you get all this in the world's lowest-priced Fisher Body Coach.

Let us show you the quality features of this fine closed car and explain how easy it is for you to own one this winter.

NATIONAL HEALTH AIM OF RED CROSS PROGRAM

Nurses Guard Community Health; Home Hygiene and Nutrition Featured.

The increasing appreciation by the American people of the value of a national health structure is reflected in the comprehensive machinery built up by the American Red Cross and kept in constant operation in the past year, in the interest of national health.

Instruction in home hygiene and care of the sick, in nutrition; inspection of school children, the maintenance of an effective nursing service, all formed a part of the Red Cross organization assisting in keeping America well.

Altogether 51,121 students were instructed in home hygiene and care of the sick, including 31,430 school students, of whom 20,351 received certificates. This work reached the Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls and Girl Reserves; also telephone companies, public and private schools, community and industrial groups. An unusual fact of this service was its adaptation to the needs of the blind, through transcription of the text book in Braille print.

The year's work also demonstrated a growing understanding and appreciation on the part of Red Cross field representatives, chapters, co-operating agencies and others, of the place of nutrition in community programs, looking to community health.

There were 2,800 dietitians enrolled during the year; regular nutrition instruction reached 128,965 children; 20,359 adults attended nutrition meetings, while 1,385 schools were aided in furnishing lunches.

Co-operative relationships were established with various Government and educational agencies in making this branch of the Red Cross health work more effective.

Another of the health-promoting activities of the Red Cross lies in its public health nursing service. There are nearly 1,000 such nurses serving in every part of the country.

As an invaluable reservoir in time of a great national emergency, there is enrolled under the Red Cross banner a reserve of 42,002 nurses. In a number of disasters during the past year in which the Red Cross has aided, and where the services of the nurses were required, they have been among the first to mobilize.

At Lorain, O., last year 31 enrolled Red Cross nurses were engaged in relief work, while 124 were employed in the mid-west tornado disaster relief operation of this year. The work of Mrs. Dorothy Davis Slichter, a Red Cross public health nurse stationed at Fairbanks, Alaska, in checking a flu epidemic at Fort Yukon, in the Arctic, has won praise from all who knew of it.

It is to assist in maintaining such valuable services to the community that the American Red Cross invites members during its ninth annual roll call, November 11 to 26, the only such appeal which the Red Cross makes in the year.

No appeal is so international as that to the humanity of every people. The sum of $1.50 from a Japanese boy in Tokio to the Santa Barbara relief fund bespeaks a world of friendship, as evidenced by the American Red Cross.

When the mariners on the high seas enroll 100 per cent. in the American Red Cross, should you lag behind?

Join the American Red Cross whose work is your expression of your human impulses.

There is perhaps no other nation of free people on the earth whose citizens takes so little interest in public affairs as in the United States. This deplorable fact accounts largely for the looseness that characterizes conduct of the public business and the laxness of law enforcement. "Eternal vigilance is the price of liberty" is as true today as it was when these words of wisdom and warning were first spoken. We are no alarmist, but the lamp of experience that lights the pages of human history and projects its rays into the future serves as a solemn warning to those who are sleeping in fancied security that we must awake to the peril of the situation. A saturnalia of crime and corruption holds the state and the nation in its slimy coils.

Law observance and law enforcement seem to have little or no place in the present day program. Morals in private and public life are decadent. No longer is public service regarded by the many as a public trust. No longer is it required that a public servant be above reproach. All the standard of life seem to have been lowered. What is the remedy? Is it not a retraining of real religion in the home life with a reawakening to the demands of public duty? Can men be careless of private morals and indifferent to the duties of citizenship and reasonably expect cleanliness in society and good government? There must be a speedy awakening or our own nation will follow in the footsteps of the free peoples whose governments have perished in the past.—Rogers News.

E. W. Geer and Miss Mildred Robbins, married November 4th, ceremony performed by Rev. John E. Eldridge; Alvis Hancock and Miss Augusta L. Owen married November 5th, ceremony performed by Rev. B. N. Shepherd.

J. W. Luman and Miss Eva Mae Finchum, married November 7th, ceremony performed by Judge I. P. Metcalf.

Dean Nowlin and Miss Mildred Bosworth, married November 7, ceremony performed by Rev. B. N. Shepherd.

W. C. Spences and Miss Alice Fletcher, married Nov. 10, ceremony performed by Judge I. P. Metcalf.

FAVOR UNIFICATION

CHICAGO, Nov. 10.—The Northern Methodist church has voted for unification with the Southern Methodists. The vote has been under way for months and passage by the constitutional majority necessary was announced today as 16,315 for the $11 against.

The Southern Methodists are still voting with the result in doubt.

NOWLIN-BOSWORTH

Dean K. Nowlin and Miss Mildred Bosworth were married Saturday afternoon at the Baptist parsonage. Rev. B. N. Shepherd officiating.

They have apartments at the residence of B. E. Sanders in this city.

Mr. Nowlin is the son of J. K. Nowlin residing a few miles east of town. He is a popular young business man of this city, being connected with the Briley Grain Co.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. B. Bosworth, also a business man of this city, and is a most accomplished young lady.

Both have a wide circle of friends who are wishing them a most happy married life.

T. E. L.

Are you a member of the T. E. L. Class of the Baptist Sunday School? Why were so many absent last Sunday? This class is composed of the mothers and grandmothers and we have fully capable teachers and it is your duty to come whether your name is enrolled or not. Sunday School is not for children alone, but for every professed follower of Christ and every regenerated soul should be in the work.

Emmett Whitaker, who has been Linotype operator in the News office the past several months, leaves this week for a few days visit with the home folks at Seminole, after which he and his brother, Lewis, will enter Wayland Baptist College at Plainview. Emmett has acquired considerable proficiency as an operator and is a good printer. He will study for the ministry in Wayland. His place as operator on the News force will be filled by Miss Ethel Purnell of Lewisville, who arrived in Tahoka today (Thursday). Miss Purnell received her first experience and training in C. L. A. at Denton and has since operated a machine in the shop of the Saint Joe Tribune.

Jim Banister of the Redwine community was in the News office Tuesday and he estimates the damage to the cotton crop in his community on account of the freeze and the damp weather that followed at 30 to 40 percent. The dry weather through the summer held down the growth of the stalk and the late summer and fall rains caused it to put on a rapid growth and many late bolls, most of which were caught by the freeze.

First Bad Concert To Be Saturday

The Tahoka Band, recently organized and under the direction of Geo. Bolin of Lubbock will appear in its first public concert Saturday afternoon at 3:30 p. m., according to Mr. Bolin. The concert will be given on the court house square and will last for about twenty or thirty minutes.

This will be the first of a series of concerts to be given each Saturday afternoon. The band is composed of about twenty pieces. This will be their first attempt to play together in public, though the members have had several practices.

The big concrete mixer at the courthouse is being run day and night now as they are pouring the cement and crushed rock for the basement and first floor supports, all being run together. Two or three shifts of men are used to keep the work going. It is believed that this work will be finished by Thursday of this week, when, as soon as the concrete has set, the forms can be removed and brick work started on the first, second and third stories.

As soon as the brick work starts up, much sign can be made, and visitors to our city can really see them that we are building a very handsome county structure. Terry County Herald.

Cluster Connolly returned Tuesday afternoon from a business trip to Dallas.

Noted Reader Presents Program Here

Mrs. Creola Richbourg Vickers, reader, highly pleased a small audience at the Methodist Church Friday night with a program of such a quality as is rarely heard in Tahoka. The well known Texas reader was brought to this city under the auspices of the Missionary Society of the Methodist Church.

Due to a cold, Mrs. Vickers was unable to sing here, but her many readings showed marked ability. Especially was she gifted in the part of characterization, and during her program she characterized the country boy, the Scotchman, the Irishman, the Italian, and probably best of all, the old Southern Negro. Disagreeable weather and conflicting entertainments caused the crowd to be smaller than was expected, but those who heard Mrs. Vickers have a warm place in their hearts for her.

A young criminal lawyer was always full of quips.

A few years ago, I attended the funeral of a millionaire financier—one of those high financiers' whose low methods he lived to turn the right on.

I arrived at the funeral a little late and took a seat beside him, and whispered, "How far has the service gone?"

He nodded toward the clergyman in the pulpit and whispered back tersely "just opened for the defense."

Second Team Loses

The pups suffered a crushing defeat from the Slaton Grammar School Thursday afternoon. The boys are reported to have played an excellent game and put out their best but the odds and the Slaton team were against them. After playing a hard game they left the field like sports who had learned to take defeat as it becomes a man. You are likely to hear from the pups in later years. It is the boys who have the stuff in them to hit the line hard now that will be the future team of Tahoka.

Circle C of the local W. M. U. met with Mrs. J. H. Edwards Monday afternoon in a very pleasant meeting. The hostess added a few personal touches. "Ann of Ave" was decided upon as a mission study. Work was begun towards the Buckner's Orphan's Home Christmas offering. We extend a most cordial invitation to all of the ladies in the east part of town to attend these meetings. Our Bible study was Songs of Solomon and Ecclesiastes.—Reporter.

Public Weigher R. C. Wood estimates that the cotton crop of Lynn County was cut short by ten thousand bales by the freeze of two weeks ago. That is, he figures that if frost and freezing weather had stayed off as late as it did last year, November 2th, the county would have produced 10,000 bales more than it will produce. Mr. Wood keeps well informed as to the cotton situation, and we are of the opinion that his estimate is about correct.

The first issue of the Meadow Review printed in its own shop came to our desk this week. Prior to last week's issue the Review was printed in the shop of the Lynn County News. Harvey Blackstone is owner and editor and this first issue is a neat, well-edited and well-printed paper. As heretofore it is well supported by the business men of the town. They will no doubt continue to give it their united support. For it is quite a credit to the town.

Contradictory

Not far off the boulevard between Los Angeles and San Diego are some quaint towns and one of them has a unique garage. At one time it was a church, but now a double door has been cut through the side and the vestibule at the front is used for an office. But the blend of old and new affords a laugh to every traveler who stops there, for over the door, weather-beaten but still readable, is a scriptural quotation that goes: "Behold, I have set before you an open door." And on the panel below the garage man has inscribed in red paint, "Positively no admittance."

Horse No Flatterer

Because of the interest America takes in the young prince of Wales, and because the prince is so often thrown from his horse when playing polo, the following words of Ben Jonson, "Rare Ben," who lived 1574-1637, are of special significance, and show that "horse sense" is the same in all centuries:

"They say princes learned no art truly but the art of horsemanship. The reason is the horse is no flatterer. He will throw a prince as soon as his groom."

Report Gold Deposits

It is reported that gold and silver deposits have been discovered sixty miles from Mississinipi, in the Lake St. John (Canada) district, according to word received by the provincial government. The exact value of the ore is unknown, as the samples have been sent to the assayers in that district.

Chance for Bachelor

A crate of apples from Hood River, Oregon, when opened at Lincoln, England, was found to contain a letter saying that the grower of the apples seeks a life companion. Is well off, owns a large orchard, a well-equipped house, and four motor cars.

Rev. R. A. Clements came around to the News office Saturday and ordered another dollar's worth of the Lynn County News. He said some exceedingly nice things about the paper, which we greatly appreciate.

W. P. Lee came up from Roscoe Saturday to spend the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Lee. Mr. Lee reports that the cotton was greatly damaged around Roscoe by the recent freeze.
