Methodists Dedicate Mission

Methodists from throughout West Texas participated in special dedication services of the St. Paul Latin-American Methodist Church here Sunday afternoon.

The dedication climaxed a two-year project sponsored by the First Methodist Church's Missions Commission and Methodist Men.

The recently completed building consists of church and four-room modern parsonage which was built at a cash cost of $2,500.

Members and friends of the First Methodist Church contributed many hours of volunteer labor on construction of the building. Weldon Huskey, president of Methodist Men for 1957-58, headed the construction committee.

Frank Wilson led the fundraising project for the church located at 17th and Cherry St. J. S. Craddock Sr. was in charge of construction.

Conducting the dedication services Sunday were Rev. Geronimo Guerrero, church pastor.

Others participating were Rev. Lynward Harrison, pastor of St. Luke Methodist Church; Rev. A. M. Gomez, district superintendent of Rio Grande Conference; Rev. Conrado Soltero, Bethel Methodist Church in San Angelo; Rev. Clarence Collins, pastor of First Methodist Church; Wilson, chairman of the Missions Commission, and Huskey.

Other representatives from Latin American churches in Abilene, Big Spring, Midland and San Angelo were present. Refreshments were served by women of the Wesley Bible Class of First Methodist Church.

Highway Staff Moves into New Building

Texas Highway Department employees moved Wednesday into their new office headquarters on State Highway 208 (to Snyder).

Their new home is a mansion building with 2,000 square feet of floor space just north of city limits.

Left behind in the move is the former headquarters, a converted house on Court house square.

Local highway department employees and their families will be guests at an open house Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the new headquarters.

Business men and all local residents will be invited to inspect the new office building at a later open house after additional work is completed at the building site, according to Ben Wilkinson.

Texas Highway Department staff now has 60 persons on its Colorado City payroll.

SPORTSMEN ASK FOR ACTION

Council Studies New Regulations for Lake

A Sportsmen's Club committee placed 13 recommendations before City Council Monday night for improving Lake Colorado City as a recreational center.

More practical regulations for safety of boaters and fishermen, increased patrol and marking of water skiing areas were included in the proposals.

Dr. R. D. Bridgford, spokesman for the committee, asked for hurry-up action by council so at least part of the recommendations can be carried out before summer.

Councilmen expressed appreciation for the "constructive suggestions."

And City Manager Rollin K. Snethen said the club's suggestions gives the city "something to work to."

But the city officials emphasized that the program of improvements will require

Congratulations, Champ!

Ken Northcutt and Ann Sellier happily congratulate each other for the first place trophy Colorado Junior High Band won Saturday in sight reading competition in Sweetwater Band Festival. Northcutt is president of the band and Miss Sellier is a stellar oboe player.

IN SWEETWATER CONTEST

Top Trophy to Jr. High Band

Colorado Junior High band members are proud possessors of a big, new trophy.

They earned the award Saturday with first place in sight reading in the Class C division of the sixth annual Sweetwater Band Festival.

The 70-member Junior High organization won the sight reading trophy with the best performance among Class C bands playing two selections the bands had never seen before.

In concert playing the local band was No. 2 behind the first place winner, Snyder Junior High.

Colorado Junior High did not enter marching, which also was won by Snyder Junior High.

Directors Dwight Tomb and Warren Thaxton said they were especially pleased with Colorado Junior High's championship performance in sight reading. That is because sight reading competition reveals the band's potential more than the playing concert selections which have been practiced sometimes for months.

Judges for the Sweetwater festival, which included 20 high school and junior high bands in various divisions, were James Neilson of Oklahoma State University, Pat Arsen of Alamo Heights High in San Antonio; Irving Dreibrod, director of Southern Methodist University's marching band, and Gene Stuchbery, director of Pasadena High band.

Colorado High Wolf Band did not compete in the festival.

Next competition for the musicians will be solo and ensemble contests April 4 in Abilene.

Interscholastic League Band Festival is scheduled May 1 and 2 in San Angelo.

Mrs. White Presides For Texas Council

Mrs. J. D. White presided at the dinner and business session Tuesday night opening the 6th annual assembly of Texas Council of Churches.

The assembly was conducted Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday in Austin's Commodore Perry Hotel and First Southern Presbyterian Church.

Mrs. White of Colorado City's First Christian Church and Dr. Willis M. Tate, president of Southern Methodist University, served as vice presidents of the Texas Council during the last year.

Mrs. Lindsey was born in Bonham, Feb. 7, 1871. She and her family moved to Westbrook in 1908 and to Colorado City in 1909. She had lived here in her home at 344 East Sixth Street since that time.

Mrs. Lindsey, a member of First Baptist Church and Eastern Star, celebrated her 88th birthday a week before she became ill. Until a few years ago, she was active in church, civic and club work.

Mrs. Lindsey is survived by two daughters, Mrs. J. A. Sadler Sr. and Mrs. W. R. Charles of Colorado City; three brothers, J. A. Foster and G. Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Stewart were in Loraine Sunday for a visit with Mrs. Vanda Martin. Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Hamilton.

SUPERVISOR APPROVED, TOO

Contracts Renewed for 4 School Principals

New contracts were approved Monday for five administrators in local schools.

Re-appointed for the 1959-60 school year were four principals—John E. Watson of Primary School, Weldon Moore of Hutchinson Elementary, Curtis Latimer of Colorado Junior High and W. D. Harris of D. W. Wallace School.

C. B. Underwood, former Hutchinson principal, again was named general supervisor.

Contract of Supt. Frank Wilson previously had been extended for one year. The extension lengthening the contract from July 1, 1961, to July 1, 1962—was approved last month by the board.

The board's action Monday night omitted Charles H. Graham, officially confirming previous reports by school officials that the Colorado High principal's contract would not be renewed for the 1959-60 term.

At the same time the board accepted the resignation of Head Coach Homer Jefferson at the end of the school term. Jefferson's one-year contract was to expire this month, but was extended by the trustees until next May 28, when his resignation will be effective.

The board accepted the resignation of two teachers at D. W. Wallace School and named two others to fill their positions for the remainder of the school term.

Resigning were Mrs. Billy Smith and Mrs. Tommy Dennis. New Wallace teachers in their place are Mrs. Lillian Wilson of Rotan, who has been substituting in Snyder public schools, and Mrs. Dorothy M. Hall, who formerly taught in Austin public schools.

The school board approved the purchase of two new 48-passenger buses for delivery next school year.

The superintendent reported that enrollment in the city's five public schools is now 1,973 students, a decline from the peak of 2,035 in the second six weeks of the fall.

Decline of enrollment in the spring is a usual trend, Wilson said, and the total enrollment is definitely ahead of last year when at this same period the number of students was 1,940.

PUBLIC PROGRAM

Houston Speaker For Heart Report

A public program on heart disease will be sponsored here Tuesday night by Mitchell County Heart Association.

Donald DeRosen of Houston, area consultant for Texas Heart Association, will be principal speaker for the program that also will include an informative film strip.

The program will be Tuesday at 7:30 p. m. in Civic House, according to Mrs. J. F. Quinney, District Heart Association secretary.

Citizens from the entire Colorado City area are invited to join heart association members in attendance at the program.

"Especially do we invite those citizens from Loraine, Westbrook, Silver and other communities in our locality," said Dr. Kenneth Cowan, District Heart Association president.

DeRosen will speak on "Losing to Win," subject dealing with overweight as a contributing cause for heart trouble.

Local officials of the heart association said the community is fortunate to obtain a speaker so well informed with problems of heart patients as DeRosen.

Hearing Set April 13 For Budget

Hearing on Colorado City's new $371,526 budget for 1959-60 has been set for April 13 in City Hall.

City Council set the date Monday night during its regular March session.

In other business Monday: Council rejected all bids submitted for purchase of a city-owned Lot 15, Block 3, Eastover Addition, at the corner of Marshall and Eastover streets. Two bids were received for the 57 by 130 foot lot—$550 from Bob May and $575 from M. L. Melton.

Approved an application by O. O. Liptrap for permit to operate a taxi with the provision that the applicant completes purchase of existing taxi firm.

Took under study a proposal by Roy Buchanan for the city to make improvements in a small earth dam structure near municipal garbage dump area west of the city to prevent damage to adjacent property.

Council also heard a proposal by Buchanan for the city to purchase a strip of approximately 70 acres that could be utilized later for dumping.

NEW DRIVE PLANNED

Hunt Bags 3,000 Loraine Rabbits

Rabbits took a beating Tuesday in the Loraine area.

Approximately 3,000 of the rodents were killed in an annual hunt that covered areas east, north and south of Loraine.

Two hundred hunters were in the all-day rabbit drive.

Willie Taylor, general chairman, described the hunt as the most successful of its type ever staged in Mitchell County.

Some hunters reported bagging almost 100 rabbits each, he said.

The hunters gathered at 8 a. m. Tuesday on Interstate 20 freeway at Mitchell-Nolan County line. From there they worked north about four miles and then south to the old Brownlee school building.

It was the school site, south

Council Okays Action

Colorado City funds will go into a cash "kitty" to fight Lone Star Gas Company's request for a 10-cent hike in gas rates at city gates.

City Council unanimously approved the contribution Monday night.

The fund is being raised by a group of Texas municipalities served by Lone Star Gas to hire a firm of utilities rate experts and to compile data on the company's rate and financial structure.

Each participating city will pay 10 cents for every gas meter within its limits. Colorado City's total fee will be near $200.

THE COOPERATIVE action in opposition to the Lone Star gas rate increase is almost unprecedented in Texas.

Decision by the local City council and other municipalities is based on the fact that an increase in price of gas delivered to gas line gates at a city will in turn, be the foundation for a hike in gas rates for individual consumers within the city.

Coordinating the cities' battle will be a special committee composed of citizens from seven cities:

J. W. Monk, supervisor of public utilities for City of Dallas, who is chairman; City Manager Jack Broad of Brownwood, H. Louis Nichols of Farmers Branch and Richardson, Gordon Whitman of Fort Worth, Allen Harp of Childress; City Attorney Charles R. Griggs of Sweetwater and Joe P. Cox Jr. of Sherman.

FIRMS OF EXPERTS being hired by the cities is Martin Bennett Associates of Washington, D. C.

Lone Star Gas in December filed with the Texas Railroad Commission an application for a raise in the company's authorized intra-company city gate charge.

The request asked that the present charge of 30 cents per thousand cubic feet of gas delivered at the city gates in Texas served by Lone Star for domestic and commercial usage and unaccounted for gas be increased to 40 cents.

The Railroad Commission began hearing last month on the request, but recessed its hearing until Monday, March 16.

Since the rate for gas delivered to city gates is under the jurisdiction of the Railroad Commission, the cities cannot contest the rate request except through appearance at the Railroad Commission hearing, City Manager

Girl Scouts Learn Skills Through Service Projects

A group of Girl Scouts under the direction of Mrs. M. L. Johnson, neighborhood chairman, presented colors and gave the G. S. promises for programs of three civic organizations this week.

Tuesday the group were guests of the Kiwanis Club presenting a program concerning promises and what they mean in observance of National Girl Scout Week. Wednesday they were guests of the Jaycees, and Friday will be guests of the Lions Club. Mrs. Johnson was narrator for the programs.

A Girl Scout's duty is to be useful and to help others.

This third law of the Girl Scout Promise gives a clear picture of the organization's girls and the work they are doing in local troops and the West Texas Girl Scout Council.

A series of special programs for each day of the week are now in progress at the Primary School auditorium, with special emphasis on arts, homemaking, and service projects. The different projects, not primarily for pleasure, but are to increase their knowledge, skills and usefulness. Service is the goal of these girls, who range from second graders to seniors in high school.

Their services often go unlauded because they work in small groups. In addition to the satisfaction gained from lending a hand, they are learning homemaking, citizenship.

crafts and most important, individuality. Hours for the programs at the Primary School each day are from 4 p. m. to 5 p. m. Parents and interested persons are invited to attend programs.

One phase of the special observance, which began Sunday, is the annual Girl Scout Cookie Sale now in progress. Net proceeds from the sale benefit the summer camping program at Camp Boothe Oaks, also the local troop funds.

Theme for this year's National Girl Scout Week is "You Can Count on Her to Be Creative."

MRS. BOSTON, SPEAKER

Zetagathian Club Program Features Texas-Day Topic

The Texas Day program of the Zetagathian Study Club was presented by Mrs. Paul Boston last Thursday in the home of Mrs. Trevor Crawford.

Mrs. Don Mecoy was program leader for the regular meeting of the group and introduced Mrs. Boston, who presented a discussion of Salado, Texas.

"If Salado were located in New England, the town of approximately 210 persons would probably be covered with signs — General Sam Houston Slept Here, Robert E. Lee Stayed Here, or General Custer Stood Here," Mrs. Boston began.

"But Salado is in Bell County, Texas, and the signs are left strictly to the Eastern Seashore. Instead, only the recollections of the old-timers and the tables of the present residents continue to dust the cobwebs off the ancient legends of men and their association with Salado."

"In outward appearance today the village is made up of several business houses and homes lining the old US Highway 81," Mrs. Boston added.

"A new super highway bypasses the whole town with its wide lanes and access roads. But the little town's residents are satisfied to compensate for their town's size with what it offers in historical lore and intrigue," Mrs. Boston stated.

"Important travel started through Salado in 1848, when a military thoroughfare was opened from Memphis to St. Louis, down through Texas into Austin, then to San Antonio and southward into Mexico. A more famous name for this route is the Chisholm Trail. It was also the Overland Stage Route which connected San Antonio with the Old States via Little Rock."

"Little did the weary travelers, famous or not, realize that they were stopping overnight in a small village that in only one decade would be known as — The Athens of Texas. For in 1856 the residents founded Salado College to transform the town into an education center as well as a terminal. It was situated on land given for that purpose by the man who was the guiding light of Salado, Sterling C. Robertson."

"A few weeks ago, we Zetagathians took an Armchair Tour to Turkey, and more than likely, that is the only way we will ever see that country," Mrs. Boston told the group. "But today, in observance of our Texas Day program, I have chosen to tell you about a place that is not too remote or too distant for you to think of visiting as you are traveling to Austin, San Antonio, or Houston."

"To know that you will be rewarded and replenished by your stop in this little hamlet on the creek and just off the highway, should be enticement enough."

"The casual observer may see only a number of weather-worn stone buildings and homes, piles of rocks and ruins, of the straight architectural pattern, as he passes through this, one of the oldest of Texas towns. But if you should pass or stop in Salado, I hope you will see that the rock buildings, some of them over a century old, have a strength that speaks of the elemental purpose of pioneers to build a civilization," Mrs. Boston concluded.

The hostess served refreshments to the following members: Mrs. James Trammell, Mrs. Henry Lewis, Mrs. George Witten, Mrs. W. J. Turner, Mrs. Robison, Mrs. Ray Noble, Mrs. Don Mecoy, Mrs. Sam L. Majors Jr., Mrs. Eldon Mahon, Mrs. Curtis Latimer, Mrs. L. S. Girvin Jr., Mrs. J. S. Craddock Jr., Mrs. Clarence Collick and Mrs. Boston.

Mrs. Turner will host the next meeting of the group March 19, which will be the club's Easter program featuring two guest speakers, Mrs. Laurence Rudd and Mrs. A. O. Hickman.

Zetagathian Officers

Mrs. Ray Noble, president, discusses club information which will be helpful to incoming officers, who will serve during the 1959-60 club year. Officers shown, who will be installed in the fall are, left to right, Mrs. Noble, parliamentarian; Mrs. Trevor Crawford, president; Mrs. J. S. Craddock Jr., Reporter; and Mrs. Don Mecoy, recording secretary.

Sarah Class Meet in White Home

Mrs. Lessie White was hostess.

Cards were signed by those present to be sent to the absentees and sick members.

The hostess served chicken salad sandwiches, potato chips, coffee, hot chocolate and the birthday cake to Mrs. S. H. Johnston, Mrs. Tom Keeling, Mrs. Wells, Mrs. Stewart, Mrs. Letcher and Mrs. Dillard.

Rollin K. Smethen told council Monday night.

THE CITIES, through their coordinated effort and hiring of the Washington firm, will prepare data that will be presented at the hearing in opposition to the request.

Spokesmen for the cities say the 10-cent hike is "exorbitant."

However, Lone Star officials say the increase would only re-establish a 40-cent rate that was in existence in 1942, and the hike is needed because of increased cost of gas at the wellhead.

SATURDAY IN SNYDER

Wolf Track Team to Canyon Reef Relays

Colorado City's young and inexperienced track and field team will pit forces against 21 other teams in the Canyon Reef Relays Saturday in Snyder.

Of the 22 teams battling in the 7th annual relays, 12 are Class AAAA schools.

Snyder High's Tigers are defending champions and are rated an even chance to repeat this year. Strongest opposition will come from Midland, San Angelo, Big Spring and Odessa. Two New Mexico teams—Clovis and Artesia—will also compete this year.

Preliminaries in the running events will be held from 9 a. m. through 11:30 p. m. Saturday. Finals will be held at 9 a. m. in two events—discus and pole vault.

Finals in the high jump, broad jump and shotput will begin at 1:30 p. m. with finals in all running events to start at 2 p. m. and to conclude at 4:30.

Coach Win Talley's team will consist mainly of sophomores and juniors with the main strength coming in the field events. Best bet for a high finish is sophomore Jerry McKay in the high jump.

McKay leaped 6 feet last year in junior high but his best effort this year has been 5-11.

Talley will have the following boys in events:

100-yard dash: Freddie Womack, Wayne Reed and Lucky Merket.

120-yd. high hurdles: Mike Schoolcraft and Truman Stinson.

880-yd. relay: Robert Womack, Bill Newell, Billy Bobo and McKay.

440-yd. dash: Gary Lightfoot, R. Womack and Newell.

180-yd. low hurdles: Schoolcraft, Stinson and Merket.

440-yd. relay: Merket, Don Welter, Reed and F. Womack.

880-yd. run: John Johnson, R. Womack and Harold Hendley.

220-yd. dash: F. Womack, Reed and Newell.

1-mile run: Rusty Whitaker.

1-mile relay: Newell, Lightfoot, Freddy Harrison and Johnson.

Pole vault: Stinson, Schoolcraft and Merket.

High jump: McKay and Stinson.

Discus: Rinaldo Lujan, Jay Allen and Bill Davis.

Shotput: Davis, Lujan and Whitaker.

Several records are expected to fall Saturday in the Wolves' first major meet.

Snyder's sprint relay team turned in a 43.5 in the Border Olympics, compared to the Canyon Reef record of 44.0 set by Hobbs in 1955 and Lubbock Monterey in 1957.

Emory Martindale of San Angelo tossed the shot 57 feet 4 3/4 inches last week, more than five feet over the record set by Colorado City's Jim Windham when he tossed 52 feet 1 1/4 inches.

Knocked His Block Off

That's what it looks like, but "headless" Gene Fullmer, of West Jordan, Utah, decided haymaking Wilkie Greaves, of Canada, in a 10-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden.

Silver Lions Serve 500 At Supper

SILVER Lions here recently in their annual pancake supper served more than 500 persons.

John T. Stewart, president of the Lions, expressed thanks to all persons whose support contributed to the project's success.

Volunteer workers from Silver, Robert Lee and Colorado City provided special assistance, he said. Colorado City firms contributing food were Fuller Foods, Sateway, Howard Rogers and Ruffin Food Service.

Jack Denman was master of ceremonies and chairman of the program which, incidentally, included 33 performers.

From Colorado City was the string band, "Cotton Pickers," composed of Martin Corbett, Lloyd Claxton, Franklin Morris, Kenneth Wilson and O'Neal Brown.

Susan Hughes and Sandra Higginbotham of Silver were a vocal duet accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Jake Higginbotham.

AT STATE CAGE MEET

7-Footer Attracts Attention

By JOE BOATRIGHT
Texas' 39th annual high school basketball tournament the past weekend in Austin was not up to par with prior tournaments.

That was the opinion of sportswriters and spectators in University of Texas' Gregory Gym.

The three-day tournament was conducted in its always smooth-like fashion by interscholastic officials . . . but the teams were not as evenly matched as in past years.

Several teams—namely Pampa and Houston—were possibly as strong as any to ever play in the state cage carnival but several others in the same divisions were much weaker.

Major attention, of course, was focused on Smiley's Lewis Qualls (pronounced pronounced qualls) the first genuine seven footer to ever participate in the tournament.

He actually measured a quarter inch over seven feet, so with his tennis shoes on that would make him about 7-1 1/4.

And according to his coach Herbert Beard, bone specialists say he has about three-quarters of an inch to grow until he reaches his full growth.

That would leave him two inches from being as tall as the biggest collegian ever to take the court, 7-3 Jean Lefevre, a Freshman now doing business for Gonzaga University in Washington.

Qualls isn't skinny. He's a well-built 220-pound lad with good coordination. He has a beautiful one-hand push shot and a fancy pivot shot.

He can stand on his tiptoes and cram the ball down through the net with his hand extended above the hoop.

As for Qualls' size, it just came natural. He's an only child but his entire clan is king-sized. His father is 6-6 and his mother 5-11 and they even claim that when Lewis was born he was "born long".

He was 6-10 in junior high but he wasn't even considered a basketball prospect until Beard began working with him day after day.

Qualls isn't an exceptionally high scorer for a boy his size. He did 56 points in one game this season but the next best was a 35-point night.

For instance, in the two games the Smiley team played in Austin, Qualls scored 19 in one tilt and 20 in the other.

Hereford, the West Texas team that played Smiley in the Class AAA finals, won the respect of anyone at the tourney with their hustling.

The Hereford team hit the court running and never slowed down until the final whistle. Fans were amazed at their superb condition and team spirit.

They trounced a taller Kilgore quintet in the opener Friday night and gave Smiley a hard time Saturday in the finals with their full-court press and ball-hawking despite having only one player as tall as 6-3 to battle the 7-3 Qualls.

Kilgore and South San Antonio, who looked far weaker than Hereford and Smiley, played the only overtime game of the tournament with Kilgore winning 51-48.

Last year, a large number of overtime games were played pointing out the weakness of several teams this year.

Class AAAA champion Pampa, of course, was the strongest team at the meet. The Harvesters' Coach Chilton McNeely rates the '59 team the strongest he has ever coached. They won their 44th game in a row when they slaughtered Dallas Jefferson, 65-52, in the Saturday finals.

Their two 6-5 seniors Coyle Winborn and Mack Layne were terrific along with 6-4 Bobby Gindorf, 6-3 Craig Winborn, brother of Coyle, and 5-11 Charles Minor.

Houston's Milbey High almost upset the Harvesters in

OVER HERMLEIGH AND LORAIN

Wolves Take Practice Meet

Taking seven first places, the Colorado High Wolves track team dominated a practice meet here Tuesday afternoon, beating two Class B schools—Loraine and Hermleigh.

The smaller squads from the Class B schools made a good showing with Hermleigh winning three events and Loraine two.

And Kenneth Northcutt won three first places in five freshman events to pace Colorado City's 9th grade to an easy victory.

Hermleigh's three first places were all won by Williams, a lanky youngster who grabbed first in both the 100-yard dash and high hurdles, plus a hard-earned victory over Colorado City's Jerry McKay in the high jump.

Loraine's first places were won by Parnell in the 100-yard dash and Galvan in the mile run.

Colorado City won top places in the 220-yard dash, 440-yard dash, 880-yard run, 440-yard relay, shotput, pole vault, and discus.

Boating, Fishing Becoming Big Business

There can be no more ho-hum attitude about Lake Colorado City becoming an industry within itself. This fact was pointed out Monday night in City Council chamber when representatives of the Sportsmen's Club and councilmen discussed more adequate relations and patrol of the lake.

Statistics presented at the council table evidence the prominence of the lake as a recreation attraction for all of West Texas. And recreation—fishing, camping, water skiing and boating—is becoming an industry of its own for Colorado City.

The lake, naturally, is foremost in importance for the constant and assured water supply it furnishes for this city and other communities within this area. It also provides a permanent, community responsible industry, too, in Texas Electric Service Company's Morgan Creek Power Plant.

Now, the recreational factor in economic diversification is coming to the forefront just like some farsighted leaders have contended all along.

Sportsmen's Club data presented to councilmen reported 260 cabins now built on the lake's shore. In addition there are 34 individual trailer houses.

Ten commercial camps—the latest has a 500 acre lease and plans to move in 10 trailer houses for rent to lake visitors—and three clubs emphasize the interest from other West Texas areas even more. Just as the Sportsmen's Club committee emphasized, each lake visitor spends money—not only at the lake—but with service stations, hotels and motels, cafes, grocery stores and other retail firms every time he visits the lake.

Completion of Champion Creek Lake will add to the recreational business, as it assures a constant level for Lake Colorado City and provides boating and fishing areas of its own.

All of which means that Colorado City citizens, especially the business interests, should make every effort to improve and promote the lake assets for the best in wholesome and safe recreation.

No Dole, Please

Friends Tuesday night paid tribute to D. W. Wallace High School athletes at a banquet in the school cafeteria.

Programs of the sort are the usual, not the unique, for school sports teams. And in this case the event was even more expected since the Wallace basketball team just a few weeks ago won the state championship within their class.

However, as supporters of the banquet conducted advance ticket sales an odd predicament was revealed again.

Funds from the banquet ticket sale, the supporters said, would help purchase award sweaters for the athletes. We admire the spirit of the Wallace supporters, who in past years, have sought cash contributions at times to pay for their school's athletic team trips.

But D. W. Wallace High is a part of Colorado Independent School District's tax supported public school program. In the interest of practical fairness, its authorized athletic program should not have to depend upon a public dole but, instead, should be backed by the same source that supports the athletic program of any other high school within the district.

Date to Watch

PHILOSOPHER SAYS

Farmer's Humor Good for World

Editor's note: The Shiner Flats Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Bone Hollow Creek discusses jokes this week, but we don't know whether he's serious about it or not.

It's a long way from this Johnson grass farm out here to Bolivia in South America and I don't know any more about what's going on down there than the Bolivians. I know about what's going on out here, but it seems to me anybody who'd riot over what a magazine says is hard up for something to riot about.

As I understand it, a U.S. magazine quoted some anonymous person in the foreign service as saying the only way to solve Bolivia's problems was to abolish Bolivia, and the Bolivians rioted. What I'd like to know is, what are they complaining about? U.S. magazines are always suggesting the way to solve the farm problem in this country is to abolish a lot of us farmers, but you don't hear of any of us rioting about it, do you? Oh, maybe somebody did throw an egg at Sen. Benson once, but that's not rioting.

In the first place, we don't take magazine articles that seriously. In the second place, abolishing a lot of us farmers might be an improvement, come to think of it, but you don't want to carry this line of thinking too far.

It's possible you might improve banking by abolishing some bankers, you might improve teaching by abolishing some teachers, you might improve parents, you might improve newspapers by abolishing some editors, you might improve Congress by abolishing some congressmen, as you see, this thing can get out of hand.

I understand that some thinkers have pointed out that the suggestion that Bolivia be abolished was just a wisecrack in the first place, and this, they say, emphasizes the great care people should exercise these days in deciding what to joke about.

I don't look at it that way. When a country is in such a fix it's lost its sense of humor, that's my argument. The rest of the world ought to read lightly when talking about it. That's an argument that maybe the country is headed for abolishment anyway, on its own.

If the farmers of this country got mad every time somebody joked about them and rioted, there wouldn't be much plowing done.

Although I understand when I'm not plowing, that's no sign I'm mad. In fact, as a rule, I'm a lot madder plowing than not plowing.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

TO OPPONENTS OF NEW TAXES

Back Criticism With Better Tax Plans, Legislators Say

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

If you can't beat it, don't knock it.

That sentiment, in varying forms, is being often expressed by legislators struggling to write tax bills to fill the yawning holes in the state's money supply.

People who come before the Legislature to oppose a money-raising proposal usually get a tart invitation to come up with a better one.

Opponents of a tobacco tax plan got short shift before the House Committee. "If you come criticizing, don't you think you should come up with some solution to the tax problem?" asked Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock.

Similarly, anyone who comes to push a money-spending bill is challenged to produce a money-making bill to match it.

Rep. Don Gladden of Fort Worth drew cheers from fellow House members when he criticized the approach of a teachers' letter writing campaign. Gladden said the teachers had been instructed to ask for higher pay but make no statement on what taxes they would favor.

ROCKY ROAD—Overall, the tax picture is still "all shook up."

Rep. Jamie Clements' bill to remove the tax exemption on cigarettes sold on military bases was sent by the House Taxation Committee to Atty. Gen. Will Wilson. Question to Wilson is whether the state can collect a tax from a federal agency.

A proposed liquor tax hike suddenly gained redoubled potency when the sponsor, Rep. Pete LaValle, backed on an amendment that would legalize liquor-by-the-drink sales. Gov. Daniel, who had urged the original bill, promptly protested. Bill was sent to subcommittee for study.

House Appropriations Committee apparently is taking note of the Tax Committee's rocky road. It is reportedly doing some painful paring of spending requests.

WIDE OPEN FIELD—Meanwhile, many more "little tax" ideas are swirling about. Most apparently are aimed at avoiding a bitter deadlock over a new "big tax."

Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont introduced a bill to tax gross receipts of scrap metal sales, and Rep. W. T. Oliver, Port Neches, a five per cent gross receipts tax on advertising sold by newspapers, radio and TV stations and billboards. Oliver also is said to be considering taxes on phonograph records and parking lots.

Other possibilities being discussed are (1) a 15 per cent general sales tax, exempting food, feed and fertilizer, by Rep. Frates See-lington of San Antonio, (2) an across-the-board increase in the omnibus tax system which includes almost all present levies, (3) a registration fee for airplanes, similar to auto licensing.

Rep. Homer Koliba of Columbus said he would prefer to raise money through legalized liquor-by-the-drink tax, than by a general sales tax.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

House State Affairs Committee will take on a supercharged issue March 16—the long struggle between private utilities and REA co-ops.

REAs are seeking a law that would assure their being able to continue to operate in a once-rural area after it is annexed by a city. Under the measure sponsored by Rep. Alonzo Jamison of Denton, the co-ops could serve old customers and recruit new ones for a period of 10 years. After this, a municipal franchise would be required.

Private power companies, offering stiff opposition, say the non-tax-paying co-ops want to spread through the cities, socialize the power industry. Co-ops retort they are the ones being swallowed up—by spreading cities.

RE-ORGANIZATION ASKED—A bill has been introduced to reorganize the State Insurance Department which was reorganized by the Legislature two years ago.

Rep. George Cook's measure would set up a part-time board of nine members "familiar with the insurance field."

Cook indicated the proposal was in answer to complaints that the present three-member board (1) does not represent industry and (2) serves full-time, contrary to "legislative intent."

KEEPING THE SABBATH—Sunday beer buying seems likely to continue, but not Sunday auto buying.

A bill to ban beer sales on Sunday and after 10 p.m. on weekdays has been sent to an unfriendly House subcommittee. A spokesman for "dry" legislators said the committee members from beer-drinking areas by implying use of beer "separated the saved from the unsaved."

Senate Transportation Committee approved the ban of Sunday auto sales, after dealers presented a solid front of support. Only opponents were representatives of Seventh Day Adventists, who observe Saturday as their day of worship.

COLLEGE EXPANSION—Elevation of two junior colleges—Arlington State and John Tarleton—to full four-year status has been approved by the House.

Economy advocates protested that "we have 16 fully supported state four-year colleges now—more than any other state."

But supporters replied that no additional appropriation would be needed immediately.

WASHINGTON REPORT

Congress Reviews Agency 'Courts'

By CLINTON DAVIDSON
Special Correspondent

How would you like to be tried for a crime in a court without the judge and jury present to hear all of the evidence?

That, of course, would be extremely unlikely to happen, and if it did the verdict would be voided by an appeal court. But it has happened many times in Washington before so-called administrative courts.

Congress over the past 25 years has delegated judicial powers to a number of government administrative agencies and boards without requiring that they observe ordinary court procedures.

The results are forcing Congress to review and reconsider procedures followed by these quasi-judicial administrative agencies, such as the ICC, the FTC, the CAA, the SEC and others.

STUDIES ARE being made by special subcommittees of the House Judiciary and Legislative Oversight Committees. Preliminary reports already made strongly suggest the need for legislation to eliminate what one report describes as "fundamental weaknesses" and "flagrant abuses."

Eminent lawyers and judges disagree over whether judicial powers should be delegated to administrative agencies, but they are unanimous in their opinion that if these agencies are to have court powers they must conduct themselves as a court in all respects.

The reports are sharply critical of some of the legislative administrative judicial agencies for failure to follow ordinary court procedures and practices when exercising life or death powers over business firms appearing before them.

Some members of these boards and commissions have, in all good faith, felt that their doors should be open for consultation with all parties having an interest in a case before them. It was a way of obtaining all of the information they could.

That is a practice that no judge in a court would permit, and it is a practice that has led to resignations resulting from charges of improper influence being exerted on the board members or commissioners.

Because of public criticism most of the members of the quasi-judicial government agencies have discontinued "out-of-court" conferences on cases before them. That is a step in the right direction. It would, however, be a big step unless still another step is taken.

BIBLE COMMENT

Jesus Sorrow Is Rich in Triumph

With the approach of Palm Sunday, it is well to recall the last journey of Jesus to Jerusalem.

At that time, Jesus spoke with hitherto unaccustomed that awaited Him, and of His sacrificial death.

The disciples failed to understand His words, however, and apparently still looked toward His establishment of an earthly kingdom.

We cannot know what was the inner consciousness of Jesus, but He knew that the hour had come.

Instead of retiring from the crowds as was His wont, He moved where the multitudes were.

He accepted their homage and plaudits, as they cast their garments in the way, and hailed Him with their hosannas.

He who had been Master and Teacher, now became Saviour and King.

"Blessed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord."

Deep is the sense of the contrast between those events, between the religious enthusiasm of the people on the one hand, and the sad events of a few days later, as others, aroused to hatred and fear, sent Jesus to the Cross.

The ultimate sorrow—and the eternal triumph—were yet to come.

GEORGE MAHON REPORTS

Ike's 'Ifs,' Benson's Policy Arouses House

By CONG. GEORGE MAHON
Special to The Record

March 6, I joined a number of other Members of Congress in urging the Secretary of Agriculture to reconsider his action in slashing milo supports.

We pointed out that the 31 cents per 100 pounds cut in milo for 1959 was all out of proportion to the support price for corn and that the heavy reduction would be disastrous to many grain sorghum growers.

We called Mr. Benson's attention to the fact that milo was of about the same feed value as corn and that the law requires that relative feed values should be considered in fixing feed grain supports.

Mr. Benson pointed out that under the law he has authority to consider other factors. He gave the group no encouragement.

The next move will be a hearing on the problem by the House Agriculture Committee on March 13th.

NATIONAL DEFENSE: We

GEORGE MAHON, writes to homefolk.

It is also clear that we are behind in the vital field of long-range ballistic missiles. In the intercontinental ballistic missile race it is estimated that we will lag behind Russia through 1963. When we consider that the ICBM is, no doubt, to become the major weapon of the future, we cannot regard this second place role without concern.

We are now giving much consideration to the problem of how to close the missile gap.

The situation is disturbing, but we must bear in mind that our bomber striking power is still quite capable of destroying Russia. In fact, each side is becoming increasingly more capable of destroying the other. This points up the urgent necessity for a genuine settlement of major international problems.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS: Most Democrats and Republicans alike view the illness of Secretary Dulles as a serious blow to the country at this critical point in our foreign relations.

No one is equipped to step immediately into Mr. Dulles' shoes.

There is full agreement that we must stand firm in the presence of danger in the Berlin crisis. But more is required than determination. There must be day-to-day planning and decisions.

The President is doing the best he can to meet a difficult situation. It is certain that he will be fully supported by Congress.

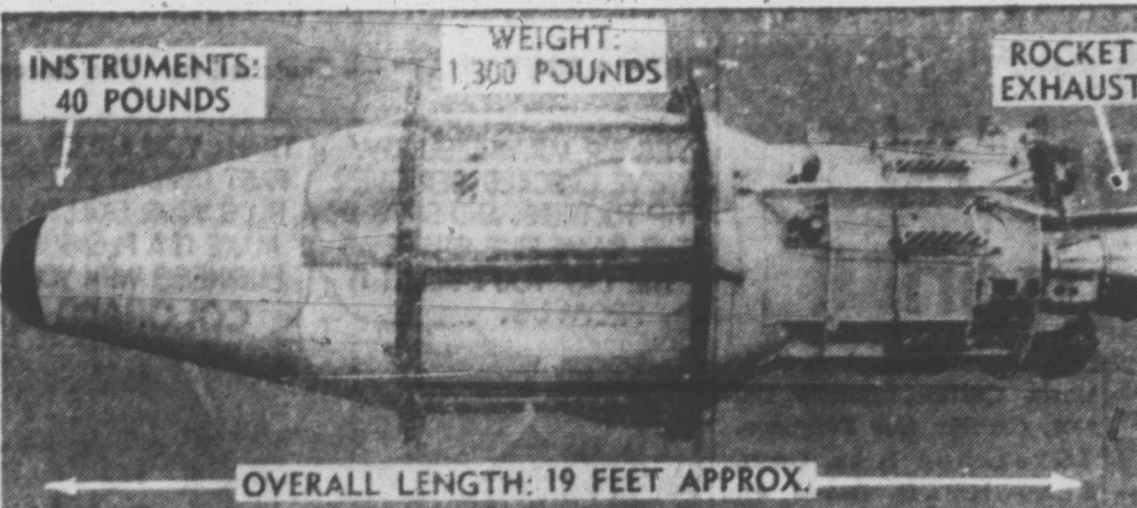

The Berlin controversy has become increasingly more serious in recent weeks as a result of Khrushchev's further demands and maneuvers. He appears determined to try to kick the Western powers out of Berlin.

It is thought that he will stop short of war, but miscalculations in an atmosphere of threat and bluster constitute a real danger of a shooting war.

SPENDING: The President recently submitted a balanced budget for the coming fiscal year, but the balance hinges on some important "ifs."

For example, the budget as presented would be thrown out of balance if Congress, as now appears likely, refuses to raise the gasoline tax by 1½ cents per gallon or rejects the increase in the first-class postage rate from 4 to 5c.

Also, there are indications that the President's revenue estimates are unduly optimistic.

Discoverer I

Shown, above, is the business end of Discoverer I, first of Uncle Sam's satellites to be launched in a north-south orbit from Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif. The entire unit, rather than an instrument payload alone, was designed to orbit the earth. It was backed up in launching by a modified version of the Thor intermediate-range ballistic missile. Intermittent radio reports from Discoverer I gave the Air Force this tentative information on its position in space. Orbit: once around the earth every 96 minutes. Closest approach to earth: about 150 miles. Farthest distance from earth: about 550 miles. Estimated life in space: about one month.

The controversy between the President and Congress over who is the chief culprit in big spending focuses public attention on a very vital issue.

The unassailable truth, based on official Executive figures, is that the President has requested considerably more spending authority since he has been in office than Congress has provided.

Had Congress followed the recommendations of the President, the Executive branch would have spent, or had on hand to spend, large additional sums.

I believe that Congress will moderately increase the President's defense budget, but I hope the over-all budget can be kept in balance.

The government department may spend money as a result of direct appropriations by Congress, or as a result of authority granted by Congress to withdraw funds from the Treasury without consideration by the Appropriations Committee, a system known as the "back-door" method. I am supporting legislation to block the back-door method.

During the last two years, Congress cut the President's requested spending authority in appropriation bills by about $5 billion, but increased sums requested through the so-called back-door method by about $2 billion.

If all spending authority were channeled through the Appropriation Committees of Congress, the Congress and the country could more easily keep tab on government spending and the pressures for "economy" would be greater.

HONOREE AT DINNER

Compton Marks 86th Birthday

LORAIN — Two of his daughters, several grandchildren and great-grandchildren were on hand Friday when John M. Compton observed his 86th birthday.

Highlight of the observance was a birthday in the Compton home.

Compton, a resident of the Lorain area for 49 years, was born in Lincoln County, Tenn., March 6, 1873, and moved with his parents to Hartsville, Ala., when a young child.

He and Miss Fannie Lou Francis were married in Alabama in 1896 and a short time later they moved to Texas, settling near Cisco in the timber community. His wife died in 1903 in Cisco, leaving him with four small children. Two years later in 1905, he was married to Miss Letitia Hock in Cisco.

The Comptons moved to Mitchell County in 1910 and lived on a farm they bought two miles south of Lorain. In 1914 they built a new home on their farm which is now where Mr. and Mrs. Lane McCollum live. After a few years when the two-year drought hit this part of West Texas in 1917-18, they sold the farm and he rented land a few years before buying another farm five miles northeast of Lorain.

They have lived in Lorain for several years, where they own their home near First Baptist Church. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary here in 1955.

One daughter, Mrs. A. C. Dunn, has made her home with them the past two years since Mrs. Compton's health has failed and her eye-sight almost gone.

Their other daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Carlisle and daughter, Lois, of Colorado City were present for the birthday celebration. A son, Reginald Compton of Corpus Christi could not be present.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Smith, and children, Mack and Donna; Mr. and Mrs. George Manuel Lee and children, George Manuel Jr., Robert, Jay, Johnny, and Joey; J. T. Hock, Mrs. B. Wilkerson, Mrs. W. C. Hock, all of Lorain and J. T. Hock Jr. of Stanton.

Compton has a sister, Mrs. W. A. Turnstill, of Fort Worth. Besides the one son and two daughters, he has 14 grandchildren and 23 great-grandchildren.

"BLESSINGS ON HIM THAT INVENTED SLEEP"

*Author's Name Below

A good night's sleep restores the energy we expend during the day, giving us the strength necessary to fight off the invading germs and virus that are constantly attacking our body. Inability to sleep is one of nature's warnings of possible approaching sickness. It is unwise and sometimes even dangerous to repeatedly take sleep-producing remedies without a physician's supervising care. Sleep is needed, but of greater importance is the curing of the cause of sleeplessness. Only a physician has the knowledge to prescribe the proper medication to accomplish this.

CAGE MEET

a 42-41 affair Friday night Houston had All-State Alton Adams, 6-9½; Don Eckelman, 6-5 and Steve Delling, 6-2.

Laredo was a mis-match in the Class AAA bracket. The little Latin-Americans were stomped in their two outings by much taller teams. Their fiery little guard, 5-4 Chalo Molina, scored 22 and 23 points in their two games.

West Texas' representative in Class AA-Seminole Indians took it on the chin from Buna and Devine in their two games. Buna, a weak-looking team, finally took the championship from a classy Bowie quintet.

Another West Texas team Plains Cowboys lost in the Class A finals to a strong Huntington team from deep Texas. Plains edged by Roscoe in the bi-district round by one-point prior to the state meet.

Class B teams were weaker than in prior years when strong teams like Big Sandy, Cuyaga and Blossom displayed terrific scoring teams.

Bedias, a team with the tallest player at 5-11, was a crowd pleaser in Class B with classy ball-handling and sharp shooting. Thirteen of the school's 15 male students were on the cage team, with three of their top five boys sophomores and juniors.

Bedias consolidates with Madisonville next year so cage fans will be looking for Madisonville to be represented at the meet next year.

Among the spectators at Friday morning's games were J. B. Padgett, Billy Williams and Bobby Richardson, C. City's exes attending University of Texas.

Watching the finals Saturday evening were Colorado High students Jerry Trendwell, Larry Hardcastle and Buddy Compton along with Bob Reed, sports enthusiast.

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Erwin, Mrs. Albert Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pritchett, all of Colorado City.

WITH 218-POUND POLAND CHINA

Haley Shows Champ Barrows in Houston's Fine Breeds Class

Ronald Haley, member of the Lorraine Future Farmer Chapter, showed a 218-pound spotted Poland-China barrow to the championship of all the other pure breeds class of the Houston Fat Stock Show, March 18.

There were five breed classes consisting of Duroc, Berkshire, Hampshire, Poland China and other pure breeds. Haley's barrow won the middleweight class, barrows weighing 200-220 pounds, and went on to win the championship honors over the first place lightweight barrow and the first place heavy-weight barrow.

The reserve champion was the heavy weight Yorkshire barrow shown by Charles Kirk of Cameron.

There were over 1100 barrows entered in the Houston show, the largest entry list in the history of the show.

Haley also showed a 23rd place barrow in the light weight Hampshire class.

In the same auction sale Friday afternoon Haley sold his champion barrow for $125 a pound.

Haley was one of the top exhibitors in Mitchell County, 44th and FFA Show in January and was winner of showmanship awards. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie.

Judging the fat barrow was Dr. J. C. Hillier, swine specialist, Oklahoma State University.

The chapter also showed two crushed lambs in the Houston show. Haley showed a 11th place lamb and from Clopton a 69th place lamb. Both lambs sold in the auction sale for 30 and 32c per pound.

Judging the lamb show was Mr. Barber, shepherd for the Plant A Forest.

Labelly pine seed is loaded in hopper of a specially equipped helicopter at Alexandria, La., prior to a large-scale forestry direct-seeding project. One 'copter seeded almost 6,000 acres in three days' work with the aid of a ground crew to mark out 90-foot swaths covered by distributor shown beneath helicopter's framework. Because the 'copter could land anywhere a supply truck could go, turn-around for fuel and seed was reduced to a minimum. The project is billed as the world's biggest direct-seeding operation.
