ANOTHER HURT IN EXCHANGE OF SHOTS

THREE MEN ESCAPE IN COMMANDEERED CAR THIS MORNING

(By The Associated Press)

MARLOW, Okla., April 20.—A policeman was killed and the night police chief here wounded today in an exchange of shots with three men who later escaped in a commandeered automobile. One of the three was wounded.

The officer, J. R. Hill, died almost instantly.

Ike Veach, the chief, was shot down by a charge from a shotgun but was not seriously wounded. He opened fire and said he wounded one of his attackers and disabled their car.

Flee From City

A short distance away and still in sight of the wounded officer, the three stopped W. B. Lee, jr., Purcell, and a companion, oil scouts, forced them to aid in transferring the wounded gunman, and fled southward out of the city in the commandeered car.

"We were suspicious of the car and its occupants when we saw it driving around after midnight," Veach said today. "We drove our car alongside, and when we did two fellows stuck shot guns out the windows and fired at us.

Kept Shooting

"The shots knocked Hill and me out of our automobile. Hill did not move again. I managed to get my gun and kept shooting at them until they were out of range.

"I am sure I wounded one of the men and disabled their car. Then they took Mr. Lee's car away from him and drove south."

In the abandoned automobile investigators found automobile tags of Arizona, Oklahoma and Texas.

THREE HELD IN ABDUCTION

TRIO FACES CHARGES IN KIDNAPING OF CO-ED HEIRESS

(By Associated Press)

MADISON, Wis., April 20—A 20-year-old youth, Harry Hamilton Drill, son of a St. Paul, Minn., attorney, and two companions were held in jail today accused of kidnaping Drill's co-ed heiress wife, Helen Fisher Drill, 19, in New York.

A ruse of the wife led to the arrest of Drill, Harold Caldwell, 20, and Elmer Peterson, 27, also of St. Paul.

Leaves Notes

Along the way she left penciled notes telling of her plight, one of them scrawled on a paper towel in a La Porte, Ind., filling station, resulted in the arrests.

It read:

"Have been kidnaped. Please inform—(name withheld by authorities)—of Port Richmond, N. Y. Next stop Park Hotel, Madison. They sent my clothes there."

She left the water running in the washroom so an attendant would be certain to find the note. The message was found and relayed to Sheriff P. T. Finn here. The men were arrested at the Park hotel. Finn said Caldwell and Peterson confessed complicity in the affair. The husband was evasive and after a long distance telephone call to his father said he would fight extradition.

BATTLE WITH REDS

ICHANG, China, April 20 (AP)—A sharp engagement between 1,000 reds and nationalist troops from the Ichang garrison took place at Tangyang, 30 miles northeast of here, today when the communists attempted to capture and loot the town. The soldiers drove off the reds, killing 200.

NIGHTMARE OF NEGRO CAUSE OF SHOOTINGS

TWO DEAD AND THREE WOUNDED SUNDAY IN HOUSTON AFFRAY

(By The Associated Press)

HOUSTON, April 20—A negro's nightmare started a series of shootings late last night which had culminated early today in the death of "Bonny" Reed, 28, negro, and his wife, Lola, 29, and the serious wounding of three white persons.

The shooting started in the servant quarters in the rear of 409 Pierce avenue, where Reed, apparently awakening from "a bad dream," shot his wife three times with a pistol, fired at a group of white citizens and later was shot by Detective R. H. Sullivan in an ambulance en route to a hospital.

Three Wounded

Others seriously wounded were David Harris, about 35, an attorney, Mrs. George Leach, about 46, of 407 Pierce avenue, and Miss Janet Arendale, 25, also of 407 Pierce avenue.

Miss Arendale, Mrs. Leach, and Harris, who were playing cards at the Leach home just before the shooting were in a critical condition.

His wife, in a dying statement, told officers her husband apparently awoke from "a bad dream" and shot her before he was fully conscious. She was awakened by the shots that struck her, and leaped through the second story window in an effort to escape, breaking her leg as she fell. She crawled under the house.

One Shot Fired

Reed took refuge in the basement of Louis Wagner's home at 409 Pierce avenue. When Mr. Harris, Mrs. Leach, Miss Arendale, and Mr. Wagner rushed out with demands that he come out and surrender, he

LOCAL ROTARIANS GO TO PLAINVIEW

Lubbock Rotarians were attending the forty-first district convention of the Rotary club today at Plainview in a body. The Texas Technological college band accompanied the local Rotary group.

Dr. Paul W. Horn, president of Texas Technological college and a member of the Lubbock Rotary club, was one of four laymen scheduled to preach sermons at Plainview churches Sunday night.

T. A. White is chairman of the On-to-Plainview committee of the local club. The convention will continue through Tuesday.

Health District To Be Organized Here

Dr. H. N. Barnett, of the State Department of Health, Austin, is to be in Lubbock Tuesday to organize a health district to carry on a public program. This project is made possible through aid tendered by the United States Public Health service from appropriations for health work in drouth areas in Texas.

A meeting has been announced at the county courthouse at 10 o'clock at which time Mrs. Joe Smith, city schools health nurse, doctors of the city and other interested persons will meet with Dr. Barnett.

ALFONSO TO GO TO LONDON

ENGLAND MAY BECOME PLACE FOR EXILE OF EX-KING

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, April 20.—Alfonso of Spain, who travels now as the Duke of Toledo, will leave for London at noon tomorrow on private business.

None of his family will accompany him. A member of the exiled king's entourage said he might postpone the trip at the last minute if necessary but that this would be only in case of "unforeseen events."

Alfonso is not the welcome guest in republican France that his hearty popular reception Thursday may have led him to believe.

Fearing an attempt against his life, it was understood here today, the police of Paris have suggested tacitly that he seek a refuge in some smaller place, where a better watch may be kept on him and his family.

There has been some talk from the beginning that Alfonso might choose to make England his exile. His wife is a British princess and he probably would be accepted as a member of the British royal family.

Barber Slays Wife; Attempts Suicide

HUGO, Okla., April 20 (AP)—J. G. Sandlin, a barber, apparently shot his wife to death in their home here today and then turned a pistol on himself. It was said he likely would die. Letters in his pocket indicated he is the son of Rev. J. T. Sandlin, of Oklahoma City. Motive for the shooting was not known.

EAST TEXANS URGED TO INVEST MONEY FROM OIL WELLS

(By Associated Press)

MARLIN, April 20—A plea for East Texans to invest some of their returns from discovery of oil in permanent agricultural improvements was voiced by Guy A. Blount of Nacogdoches, president of the East Texas Chamber of Commerce, in his annual report to the fifth convention here today.

"Oil will come and oil will go, but the permanent prosperity of East Texas will depend upon the use that is made of the first few inches of the soil," he said.

Seeks Conservatism

He said his organization had tried to throw its influence "on the side of conservatism" and ha d endeavored to get land owners to invest some of their oil profits in comfortable farm homes, good livestock and conveniences for the farm families."

"We are going right ahead with our regular program of modern agriculture, public health, merchandising service, constructive publicity, dependable statistics and research and a watchful legislative policy for the public good," Mr. Blount said.

"One of the most important by-products of the oil boom in East Texas has been the accompanying stimulation of the lumber business. Many small mills that had long since been shut down, have resumed operations to make derrick timber for the oil fields. General construction has also been greatly stimulated."

Ft. Worth & Denver Seeks ICC Approval

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—The Fort Worth & Denver Northern railroad and the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf today applied to the interstate commerce commission for approval of an agreement covering construction of a new line between Shamrock and Quanah, Texas.

The commission a year ago authorized construction of a line jointly by the two roads. The Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf objected to some of the terms of the order and the new agreement submitted covers these.

OIL MAN FINED FOR CARRYING OF WEAPON

DEFENDANT IS FACING OTHER INDICTMENTS IN KIDNAPING

(By The Associated Press)

LAREDO, April 20.—C. C. Julian, widely known Oklahoma and California oil man, pleaded guilty today to an indictment charging him with unlawfully carrying a weapon and was fined $500 and costs by District Judge J. F. Mullally.

It was the first of four cases against Julian in connection with an incident in which Lamar S. Bolling, formerly associated with him in a business way, claimed he was kidnaped by the oil man, who allegedly sought to extort $50,000 from him. Other indictments against Julian charge kidnaping, conspiracy to rob and assault with a prohibited weapon.

Recess Granted

Immediately after Julian pleaded guilty to the charge of carrying an unlawful weapon, the court granted a request of both state and defense attorneys for a recess until 2 p. m., when the other indictments would be considered.

Julian and Bolling sat in court with C. C. Boren, also under charges in connection with the alleged kidnaping. M. J. Raymond, Laredo attorney, represented him.

Raymond, District Attorney John Valls, Robert Lee Bobbitt, special prosecutor in the case and former assistant attorney general of Texas, and Ed Mullally, assistant district attorney, went into conference soon after court opened. When their conference was concluded, Raymond asked Julian to step forward.

Accepts Fine

The oil man walked jauntily forward and told the court he desired to plead guilty to the charge of unlawfully carrying a weapon. When his plea had been accepted and the fine imposed, the court ordered the recess.

Bolling sat outside the bar, flanked by two officers.

Clay Mann, indicted on charges of unlawfully carrying a weapon in connection with the alleged kidnaping, was in court with his attorney, Louis J. Wardlow of Fort

Associated Press Membership Given

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Membership in The Associated Press January 1 totaled 1,297 newspapers, the highest in the history of the organization, members of The Associated Press were told by the general manager in his report at the annual meeting today.

The members approved amendments to the by-laws to make them conform to changes in the business laws of New York state. The changes enable corporations as well as individuals to belong to membership corporations, and enable corporations publishing newspapers to hold membership in The Associated Press.

MAN DROPS DEAD

NACOGDOCHES, April 20 (AP)—George W. Stough, 75, associated with the Standard Oil company 20 years and for three years sparring partner of the late John L. Sullivan, famous pugilist, dropped dead here today. Efforts were being made to locate members of his family.

SIX ARRESTED HERE SUNDAY IN RAIDS

EIGHTEEN GALLONS OF WHISKY CONFISCATED BY LOCAL OFFICERS

Six persons were arrested and nearly 18 gallons of whisky and a hundred bottles of beer confiscated by members of the police and sheriff's departments Sunday. Charges were filed against the six and bonds fixed this morning in Justice of the Peace H. K. Porter's court.

O. A. Pruitt and Joe McBride were charged with possession for purpose of sale and transportation of liquor. Condemnation proceedings were started against an automobile, a small new coach bearing a New Mexico license, which county officers said was occupied by the two suspects and in which 10 half-gallons of whisky were found.

Bonds Are Set

Bonds for Pruitt and McBride were set at $1,000 each, after they had waived examining trial to await grand jury action. The two were arrested early Sunday night in the downtown section by county officers.

Boyd Robison and Ruby Morris, who were arrested by county officers on the Lubbock-Slaton highway about two and a half miles from here, were charged with possession and transportation of liquor. They also waived preliminary hearings and bonds were set at $1,000 each. Twenty-four half-gallons were found in the car in which the man and woman were trailed out of town, according to county officers.

Boyd Robison is a son of A. L. Robison, who was arrested by county officers April 11 on a farm near here where 15 1-2 gallons of whisky were confiscated, according to the sheriff's department. The older

COLD WAVE EN ROUTE HERE

POSSIBLE FLURRIES OF SNOW PREDICTED FOR SECTION TONIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, April 20.—With a light mist over most of the Panhandle section and with the temperature dropping rapidly, another belated assault of winter was made on northwest Texas today. A high wind from the southwest yesterday veered around to the north early today bringing low clouds with a threat of rain or snow. Close to freezing temperatures with possibly snow flurries were forecast for tonight. A drop from 56 to 38 degrees between 7 a. m. and 11 a. m. was recorded here. The cold wave was expected to be of short duration, fair weather being forecast for tomorrow.

The wintry attacks followed three weeks of spring weather which came on the heels of two heavy snowstorms three weeks ago.

FORMER LOCAL MAN IS HELD FOR BIGAMY

DAWSON PARKER SAID TO HAVE MARRIED THREE TIMES

Dawson P. Parker, 32, Pampa printer being held on a bigamist charge, is a former resident of Lubbock, having worked for newspapers and printing establishments both here and at Slaton. Parker is charged with having married three times and divorced only once.

He was arrested Friday in Pampa after officers had investigated charges made in a letter written by a woman who claims to be Mrs. Parker No. 1. She is now at the home of relatives in Baxter, Mo., and claims that she wed Parker in Slaton in 1928. Records in the Lubbock county clerk's office reveal her charges correct.

In the letter to the Pampa sheriff's office, she said her husband was divorced at the time of their marriage. About one year ago Mrs. Parker No. 2 was sent to the home of relatives in Missouri. Early this year she received a letter from her husband, advising her to stay in Missouri because he was out of work, she claims.

Parker, however, had steady employment in Pampa, it is said, for the last eight months and in February, this year, was wed to the daughter of a prominent resident of Pampa—Mrs. Parker No. 3.

The uncle of Mrs. Parker No. 2, a jeweler at Slaton, was a witness at his niece's wedding. At Pampa Friday the jeweler identified Parker as the man who married his niece, the sheriff's office said.

The alleged bigamist has waived preliminary hearing. His bond has been fixed at $25,000.

LEVY IS THREE CENTS PER PACKAGE

VOTE FOLLOWS DEBATE ON FREE CONFERENCE REPORT TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, April 20.—The house today adopted the free conference report to levy a tax of three cents per package on cigarets.

The vote to adopt the free conference report was 71 to 59 and came after almost two hours of debate in which the corporation lobby and the school teachers were severely criticized by opponents of the tax.

The corporation lobby was charged by Representative Davis of Brownwood with having advocated the cigaret tax to lessen the pressure on the legislature to pass the intangible assets tax and other tax bills. Davis said he also regretted Governor Sterling "had thrown himself behind the cigaret tax."

Estimates Differ

Representative Sanders of Nacogdoches, one of the leaders for the cigaret tax, said he estimated it would yield approximately $6,000,000 per year. Opponents, however, claimed it would bring in around $11,000,000 since the federal tax of 6 cents per package yielded $22,000,000 in Texas last year.

The free conference report also levied gross receipts tax of two per cent on natural gas production.

The cigaret tax was added by the senate to a house bill levying a natural gas tax of two and three quarters per cent. The senate cut the gas tax to two per cent.

Representative Duvall of Fort Worth charged the action of the senate in adding the cigaret tax to the gas tax violated the spirit of the constitution which stated that all revenue measures must originate in the house. Following out this theory, Duvall said the senate could add any kind of a tax they wanted to every tax bill sent over by the house.

Representative Albritton of Yorktown asked Sanders why cigars were not taxed, answering the question himself by saying it was because cigars were smoked by "big business men" while the poor man

REVOLUTION IN HONDURAS

UNITED STATES FACES NEW PROBLEM WITH WAR OUTBREAK

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 20.—Revolution has burst forth again in Central America, this time in Honduras.

Its Nicaraguan difficulties as yet unsettled, the United States today met a new problem on the north coast of Honduras. Revolutionary forces under General Gregorio Ferrara, a former minister of war, were reported advancing toward the country's four most important seaports.

Vessels Dispatched

To protect American lives, the United States immediately dispatched three fighting vessels to Honduras. The cruisers Trenton, and Marblehead were ordered from Guantanamo, Cuba, base of the scouting fleet, to Trujillo and Puerto Cortez, respectively. Another cruiser— the Memphis—left Puerto Cabezas, Nicaragua, on a schedule which put her on La Ceiba, Honduras, at 8 a. m. today.

Trujillo, which has a population of about 4,000, is in almost the exact center of the northern Honduras coast. About 60 miles west is La Ceiba, which boasts 10,000 inhabitants. Nearly 75 miles farther west is Puerto Cortez. About midway between Puerto Cortez and La Ceiba is Tela, where, among other places, forces loyal to President Mejia Colindres were said to have beaten off an attack.

Fighting Severe

A radio dispatch from Tegucigalpa, capital, said the Tela assault was repelled after severe fighting. The number of casualties was not known. So far the trouble had not spread to Tegucigalpa.

LOCAL LITTLE THEATER TO PRESENT "INTIMATE STRANGERS" HERE TONIGHT

Following a complete dress rehearsal this morning, everything was pronounced in readiness for the presentation of the three-act comedy, "The Intimate Strangers" at the Palace Theater tonight. The play, being presented by the Lubbock Little Theater, is for the benefit of the Salvation Army and the United Charities. The curtain is due to go up at 8 o'clock.

Arthur L. Brown, director, declared the play was a "finished production" after the rehearsal this morning. Rehearsals have been conducted by Mr. Brown for the past three weeks.

In the meantime, officials of the two charity organizations together with Little Theater workers are conducting a final ticket sales drive over the city. There is a large number of unsold seats to be disposed of before this evening, it was said No seats will be reserved, Wesley Read, chairman of the ticket sales group, declared this morning after being questioned frequently regarding reserved seats.

The play, written by Booth Tarkington, is considered one of the leading comedies of the American stage. It concerns the circumstances surrounding a man and a woman who are forced to remain

Find Nude Body Of Girl In Tree; Police Puzzled

(By The Associated Press)

SAN DIEGO, Calif., April 20—The death of comely 17-year-old Louise Teuber and the lack of clues to the slayer, who apparently strangled her and then hanged her nude body to a tree, puzzled police here today.

The body, found by a picnic party yesterday was dangling from a high limb of an oak tree in the eastern fringe of the city. Her feet scraped the ground. Police surgeons said the girl had been dead eight hours.

Miss Teuber was a clerk in a five and ten cent store and the daughter of William Teuber, barber shop proprietor. She lived with her father and grandmother. Girls who were her friends at the store said she gave up her job Saturday night and told them she was going away but refused to say where.

At the scene of the tragedy police gathered two slim clues. One was the double half hitch knot which bound the rope about the girl's neck. The other was an army blanket found with the girl's clothes, purse and a package containing a pair of hose she had purchased Saturday.

Blanket Scrutinized

The knot, police said, apparently had been tied by someone familiar with handling rope. They suggested it might have been tied by a sailor or one who had had a sailor's training. The blanket was close-

CLEANUP DRIVE UNDER WAY

Lubbock today set out to defend the title won in the 1930 cleanup and paintup campaign as first ranking city in Texas. This year's campaign got underway this morning and will continue through April 30, by proclamation of Mayor J. J. Clements.

The first pre-campaign event was a nail-pickup in which local Boy Scouts gathered a total of 13,164 pounds of junk-metal Saturday from Lubbock streets, averaging 135 pounds for each active scout.

Today—first of the campaign proper—is fire prevention day. Citizens are urged to clean basements and attics of rubbish, greasy rags, waste papers and other inflammable waste.

"All fires are the same size as the start", cleanup campaign announcements said. Tuesday is front yard day, Wednesday flower-bed day, Thursday paint day, Friday back yard day, and Saturday vacant lot day. The same daily program will be in effect during the second week of the campaign.

The city has been divided into eight districts for inspection purposes, and the first inspection was underway today to determine the amount of work necessary to clean the city satisfactorily. Second inspection will be April 28 and a final tour will be made by inspectors April 30, last day of the cleanup program.

Report blanks were to be distributed today to school children who were to take the papers to their parents, so that the latter could record the amount of work done at their homes in connection with the cleanup and paintup program. The reports should be returned not later than April 28.

Two hundred colored posters calling attention to the campaign were to be placed in windows of shops and other places today by members of the

DROUTH SPEEDS MISSISSIPPI FLOOD CONTROL JOB; GIGANTIC SPILLWAY NOW IS PROTECTING NEW ORLEANS; CONCRETE SLABS ARE USED TO PROTECT NEW LEVEES

Part of the government's flood control program along the Mississippi involves protection of levees by concrete slabs. At right slabs are shown in shingle-like formation along a levee bank, and a barge (left) is shown laying a concrete "mat" outward from the shore.

WASHINGTON (AP)—"In time of drouth prepare for flood," is Uncle Sam's watchword in the Mississippi valley.

Work on the federal government's huge flood control project there is being expedited while lack of rain keeps the river at low level. The Mississippi will be tamed "for keeps," army engineers believe, when the job is finished.

Building levees, sinking huge protective mats of concrete and brush, and straightening channels usually are confined to the low water period from June to December.

This year, however, the drouth has enabled work to continue almost without interruption, says Col. Ernest Graves, member of the Mississippi river commission.

So far more than $100,000,000 of the $325,000,000 authorized for flood control has been spent. Over 60,000,000 cubic yards of earth have been placed in levees during the last year.

Already New Orleans, near the Mississippi's mouth, is well protected in case a serious flood should occur. A gigantic spillway at Bonnet Carre, 20 miles above the city, has been built to divert excess flood waters into Lake Pontchartrain. From there the water will find its way harmlessly to the Gulf of Mexico.

The spillway is designed to carry more water than flows over Niagara Falls. Its gates will be opened whenever the river nears the 20-foot level, considered the danger point for New Orleans.

Hundreds of thousands of workers are employed on the flood control project, either directly as laborers for contractors, or indirectly in supplying materials purchased for work along the river. No one professes to know the exact number. Two million persons in the areas subject to overflow will benefit when Ol' Mississippi is confined within safe limits.

A vast array of steam shovels, dredges, tractors, trucks, mule teams and even wheelbarrows are busy raising existing levees, building new o•s where old levees are too close to the river, and laying thousands of feet of concrete and brush "mattresses" to prevent the current from washing away levee foundations.

Concrete slabs four feet by six are laid overlapping, like shingles, on the gently-sloping levee banks. Smaller slabs one foot by four and three inches thick are wired together in huge sheets and sunk from special barges to protect the underwater parts of levees.

Similar mats of brush attached to wooden frames are floated to their locations and sunk by throwing bare-loads of rocks upon them.

During unusually severe floods, water will be allowed to escape from the main stream into the Boeuf and Atchafalaya basins, lowlands that border the river on the west. Secondary levees are planned to protest land near these basins from damage.

NAVY BUILDING IS ADVOCATED

D. A.R. CHIEF FAVORS NEW CONSTRUCTION UNDER TREATY

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP)—New navy construction to the London naval treaty limit was advocated today by Mrs. Lowell F. Hobart, president-general of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

At the opening session of the annual D. A. R. convention here, she said "there is every justification for our building up to the London naval treaty requirements."

Stressing perils of unemployment, Mrs. Hobart asked for a definite program in the United States to "unite the people of this nation for Americanism." She called attention to the Russian government's five-year plan; lauded the army and navy as "peace institutions," and urged enlistment of youth in patriotic movements.

"You have all experienced disagreeable events in your separate states, based upon the leadership of communists who have come to this country to make it another Soviet Russia," Mrs. Hobart said.

"Taking advantage of unemployment, they reaped rich rewards in membership and in stirring the minds of sympathizers toward hatred of the United States government and opposition to those who own or manage business."

As some things showing "the trend of the times" which should cause "astonishment," Mrs. Hobart listed "gains atheists are making in their attempts to de-christianize Christmas and Easter;" "the grasp communism is getting at election booths, in open-air meetings, in front of factories in bookstores, in schoolrooms, on the streets;" and "the daring of socialists in organizing clubs in 138 or more colleges, in allowing their national representatives to ride down the streets in processions in which red flags were used, in campaigns against military training in the schools."

MEASURED IN MILES

SUPPOSE for a moment that advertising didn't exist—that there were no trade-marked goods—that everything you bought had to be judged solely by its look or feel or taste.

Imagine yourself setting out to do the morning's shopping under such conditions. You'd drive down the street, looking in windows for the articles you needed—the blouses for Johnny, the half-dozen bath towels, the toilet soap, the ginger ale for tomorrow's picnic. You'd stop, ask questions, examine the towels, smell the soap, wonder if here was your money's worth or if you might find something better farther on. And though you followed this procedure mile after weary mile, you could never be sure.

Computed simply in terms of gasoline and tires and shoe-leather, advertising saves you a startling sum every year. And if you add the value of your time, the amount is vastly increased.

When you buy a product that is advertised you know in advance what you will get, how much it costs and where you can obtain it. That is why, in millions of modern homes, the newspaper advertising columns are a daily guide to purchases.

Read the advertisements in the Avalanche and Journal, decide what you need, then buy with assurance.

Let advertising save you time and money

Prettiest girl in her set —but still single at 30

'B.O.' lost her every admirer until ...
(Body Odor)

"She'll marry at eighteen," people had said. But here she was 25 . . . 28 . . . 30 . . . and still single! Plenty of admirers, but no proposals—until she made a startling discovery.

For years she must have been offending—and didn't know it! Now she has adopted a simple safeguard against "B.O." (the polite term for body odor). And . . . she is buying her trousseau! Happiness has come at last—"B.O." is safely ended.

Face the facts!

It's foolish to think we can never offend. We can—without knowing it! Our sense of smell quickly becomes used to an ever-present odor. But pores give off a quart of odor-causing waste daily. Don't take chances. End "B.O." worries this easy, pleasant way. Wash and bathe with Lifebuoy, the health soap.

Its creamy, refreshing, antiseptic lather—so abundant even in hard or cold water—penetrates pores—removes all odor. Its pleasant, extra-clean scent—that vanishes as you rinse—tells you Lifebuoy purifies.

Complexions grow lovelier

If Lifebuoy cost a dollar, it couldn't do more for your complexion. Its gentle, deep-cleansing lather frees pores of beauty-robbing impurities—makes dull skins glow with healthy radiance. Adopt Lifebuoy today.

STIMSON SAYS ACTION IN NICARAGUA IS MOST EFFICIENT

BY GLENN BABB

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP) — Secretary Stimson has characterized the measure recently taken by the government as constituting "the most effective way to protect the American and foreign civilians suddenly exposed" to the danger of outlaw raids in the jungles of eastern Nicaragua.

Repeating his declaration that the government is determined not to send troops into the interior, Stimson said it was better to warn Americans there of danger, give them opportunity to escape to the seaports and leave the task of sujugating outlaws to the Nicaraguan national guard, specially trained for jungle warfare, in which regular American troops could not operate effectively, even if they tried.

Ships To Remain

American warships at three ports of eastern Nicaragua, the statement went on, would remain threre to protect American life and property "until the danger is over."

Meanwhile commanders of three vessels—the cruiser Memphis at Puerto Cabezas, the gunboat Aspeville at Cape Gracias a Dios and the gunboat Sacramento at Bluefields reported "all quiet" in their respecitve ports.

Stimson said recent outrages in eastern Nicaragua were attributable to "the mythical patriot Sandino," who, "in the hour of his country's desolation" after the Managua earthquake, "chose to send his outlaws across the country."

In Deliberate Plan

The outlaws, Stimson said, have been shown by captured papers and by their actions to "have been engaged in a deliberate plan of assassination and pillage against helpless civilians."

At the capitol, meanwhile, Chairman Borah of the senate foreign relations committee advocated the withdrawal of marines from Nicaragua "as rapidly as the situation can be adjusted."

"It is one thing to protect American lives when threatened," he said. "It is a wholly different thing to take possession of a country and interfere with the local government and undertake to furnish general police force for all who have invested."

Most On Coast

About half of the approximately 600 American civilians in Nicaragua, recent state department figures show, are along the eastern coast, mostly at Bluefields and Puerto Cabezas, although prior to the first insurgent raid a week ago there were many in the hinterland of those ports.

American properties and investments in Nicaragua have a total value of more than $19,000,000, of which $15,500,000 is held in the eastern portion of the country. Properties of banana and lumber companies there are estimated at $14,325,000, by far the largest single item listed in information at the state department.

Both there and at the commerce department refusals were given today to requests for detailed information on American business interests in the Central American republic.

REPUBLIC RECOGNIZED

HAVANA, April 20 (AP)—The Cuban government has extended recognition to the new Spanish republic.

After living all the 84 years of her life in Surrey, England, workhouse a woman has just died there.

Bonus loans made at the St. Louis veterans' bureau in two weeks totaled $2,000,000 and loans sought about $10,000,000.

"Old-Fashioned"

In an unusual divorce complaint, filed at Wichita, Kas., Mrs. Dorothy Macey, above, alleges that her husband, Thomas, slashed her trousseau with a razor blade and left her, a short time after their Christmas eve wedding, because she was "just too old-fashioned to drink and smoke with him."

Water Rate Slash Is Held Impossible

HALE CENTER, April 20—(Special)—Efforts of a number of people to secure a special water rate for summer irrigation of gardens was met with the statement of Mayor Nelson Perdue that present rates were so low that the city could not reduce them.

Mayor Perdue pointed out that the minimum for up to 3,000 gallons is $1.50, with 25 cents per thousand for the next two thousand and 20 cents for the next five thousand gallons, a total of $3 for up to 10,000 gallons of water. Few people, he said, had used that amount in any one month during the summer, except in dry seasons.

For consumption above 10,000 gallons the rate is 10 cents per 1,000 gallons.

REVISION OF TEXT BOOKS DEALING WITH EFFECT OF ALCOHOL ON HUMAN BODY ASKED BY PROHIBITION GROUP

WASHINGTON, April 20 (AP) — Need for revising text books from which the effects or alcohol upon the human body are taught in schools of 46 states was reported in a monograph made public by the prohibition bureau.

Prohibition Director Woodcock said laboratory studies had shown "the quantity of alcohol contained in one quart o. 2.75 per cent beer or in one pint of 10 per cent wine has direct and positive results on the human system."

He suggested revision to insure "accuracy in line with recent scientific developments."

Simultaneous with the release of the monograph, a possibility that Woodcock might relinquish his post as director of prohibition was seen in a statement by him that his appointment to a federal judgeship would be "welcome."

Woodcock's name has been mentioned prominently for the possible judgeship vacancy in Baltimore, where he formerly was United States attorney. The prohibition director said, however, he was making no effort to obtain the post, and had made no request to officials here that he be appointed.

Makes Inspection

Woodcock left the capital on a protracted inspection trip through the northwest.

The monograph, contained a detailed digest—the first ever made—of state and federal laws on "hygiene and scientific temperance" teaching in the public schools. Arizona and Wyoming were reported as the only two states having no laws on the subject.

The publication was seen at the prohibition bureau as directly in line with the dry law enforcement stand taken by Woodcock that federal efforts should be directed principally against the large scale violators with education as the best means of securing compliance from minor dry law breakers.

CAMEL
soon to be announced

IT is expected the judges in the $50,000 Camel Cigarette Prize Contest will be able to render their decision within a short time and that public announcement of the prize winners can be made soon.

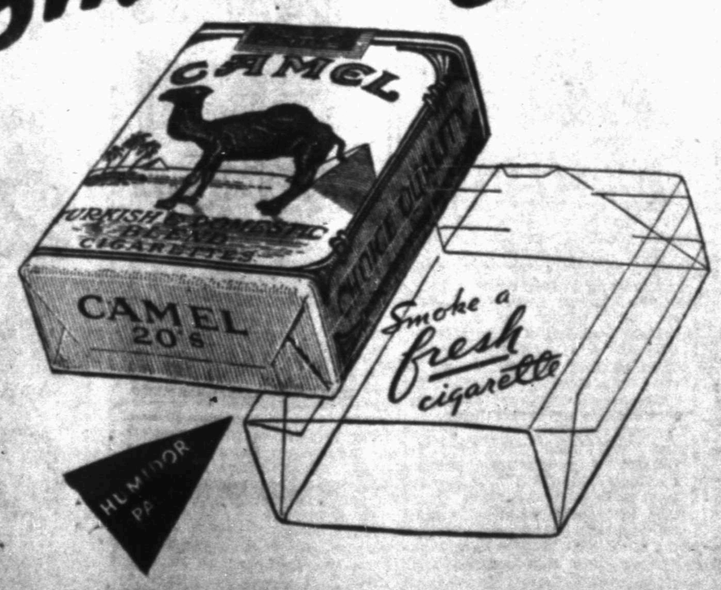

At this time the officers and directors of R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Company wish to thank the nearly a million men and women for their interest in entering this contest. We wish to assure you also, most emphatically, that every single letter received, despite the enormity of the task, is being carefully read and studied.

It is because of the extreme care being taken to insure the absolute fairness of this contest that we ask you to be patient just a little longer.

Entries in the Camel cigarette $50,000 prize contest were received so fast that it was more than a week after the close of the contest before all the mail could be opened. In this pile were more than 500,000 letters awaiting reading by the judges and their staff.

Thought For Today

He hath no power who hath not power to use.—Bailey.

Our Best Writers

One of the best ways to start a fine argument is to make up a short list of the best American novels. No matter what books you select, there will always be plenty of people to disagree with you; and since there is no way of proving or disproving your correctness the argument can go on and on as long as anybody feels like arguing.

John Galsworthy, who is surely one of the greatest living novelists, recently named what he considers the four greatest American novels. He selected "Tom Sawyer" and "Huckleberry Finn," by Mark Twain; "The Scarlet Letter," by Hawthorne, and "McTeague," by Frank Norris.

Now we can sit back and wait for the various critics to fall upon him and tell him where he is in error. In the meantime, Mr. Galsworthy's list is interesting on its own account.

Probably the most notable thing about it is that it overlooks the great writers of the present day. Hawthorne belongs far back in an earlier, almost forgotten, generation. The present generation usually lists him with the great unread. Mark Twain, likewise, although far from being ignored today, represents a vanished era. Only Norris comes close to the present, and even he concerned himself with the San Francisco of the 'nineties.

But where are the writers of today—those writers whom earnest critics exalt mightily, as if they and only they, among all Americans, had been permitted to see the true inwardness of things? Where are the great exponents of frankness, the sober weighers of tragedy, the acidious critics of American hypocricy and immaturity?

Where, to be specific, are Messrs. Lewis, Dreiser and Cabell? Mr. Galsworth seems to have ignored them. Above "Babbitt" and "The Genius" and "Jurgen" he places a simple tale of colonial New England, two romances of the pre-war Mississippi and a story of Palk street in San Francisco at the turn of the century.

Naturally, there is nothing final about Mr. Galsworthy's selections. There are plenty of qualified judges who are convinced that Mr. Dreiser and Mr. Lewis have more to say to us than had Mark Twain and Hawthorne. But the English novelist's list at least serves to remind us that American literature was not born after the World war.

There were able writers in the land before most of the present-day reading public were born; and it is just possible that some writers of the present generation have been praised a trifle more generously than they deserve.

Jay-Walkers

Because the defenseless pedestrian is at the mercy of erratic motorists and has been considerably bumped around by them, the attitude is gradually taking hold that he can do no wrong. He gets the public's sympathy every time.

In a large middle western city the other day a traffic officer was roundly berated by a noon-day crowd for arresting a man who defied arrest after darting across the street against the signal. The policeman, jostled and jeered, was made a laughing stock. None would have considered it extraordinary if a motorist had been penalized for the same offense. Nor did the crowd seem to realize that the jay-walker might have been hit and that the policeman was acting for his safety.

The pedestrian, for his own security, should consent to be disciplined by the same rules which govern motorists at crossings. There is such a thing as sparing jay-walking enforcements and spoiling the pedestrian.

A former president of Mexico is now teaching vocal lessons. But this is no reason why he should not continue to be protected from potential assassins.

You can't always tell a cool-headed man, observes the office sage, by the amount of hair on his head.

The Plainsman Says:

That Girl on Broadway says the only two who can live as cheaply as one are the flea and the dog.

SENATOR Tom Connally will be a special guest at the West Texas Chamber of Commerce convention. As yet no committee has been named to round up babies for him to kiss and old ladies for him to pat on the cheek!

But seriously, it will be nice to have the Senator here. He's the old style politician in looks and campaign actions. He knows your kinfolks in Jack county and your friends in Coryell county—or if he doesn't know 'em he'll soon rake 'em up. But in The Plainsman's opinion he's the best Senator Texas has, despite the fact he's only been in the upper house a couple of years.

* * *

Governor Sterling will be on hand, too. It might be a good idea for a group of his local friends to see that he inspects the Tech from the cowbarns to Dr. Horn's office, so he'll have the college plant in his mind's eye the next time an appropriation bill rolls along.

Somebody was in the office the other day, wanting The Plainsman to send the Governor a wire, asking for a favor. That would certainly be fine politics, after the nice brick bouquets sent him by this column during the first campaign of last summer! If he remembers nothing else, Mr. Sterling can't forget the phrase "The St. Peter of Heavenly Houston", which has since become so popular.

BUT the incident of the request for The Plainsman to wire Governor Sterling, brings to mind the custom of wiring our solons in the State Legislature every time some pet bill arises. Hardly a day passes that a stream of wires is not solicited here for the purpose of guiding the ballots of Messrs. Parrish and Lockhart under the capitol dome.

While there's no doubt that representatives and senators need to feel the home pulse before they can well serve their constituencies, it is doubtful if 50 percent of the people who are co-erced into sending telegrams know what it is all about. We elect men to serve us; we expect them to find out the facts and vote accordingly. If we don't let them do that, and instead expect them to be guided by telegrams from home, how can we expect to draw the maximum profit from representation?

WIRES, phone calls and personal solicitations to solons are undoubtedly essential at times. Often they are of benefit to all concerned. But there are many times when a citizen is 'kidded into' sending a plea for this, that or the other piece of legislation when he is totally incapable of rendering good advice to the man on the job.

* * *

That Man on Avenue Q says the nice thing about being a man is you don't have to stay in after washing your hair.

Birth control may be important enough to deserve the attention it's getting but most men are infinitely more interested in girth control.

THE world moves and as it moves it becomes, through thought and study, a better place in which to live.

An example of the world's improvement comes in the form of a press dispatch from Phoenix, Arizona, telling of science's benefit to three Arizona pioneers.

Aged 80, 79 and 78, the men were blind for 25, 20 and 5 years, respectively, until a learned man of medicine came along. Public funds were used to defray cost of three operations and today all three are groping for words to adequately express their thanksgiving.

A generation or two ago such a thing would have been impossible.

A blind man was a blind man for life, unless a miracle happened.

But today the swift, sure hand of the surgeon can, in some cases, eliminate the greatest misfortune to which living man is subjected.

The world does get better.

WHY not a zoo for Lubbock city, or county, or both? Half-hearted attempts to start such a feature have been made from time to time but nothing much has ever grown from them.

* * *

The Plainsman, to be frank, isn't exactly certain where a zoo would pay dividends on the expenditure necessary to start it off in a modest sort of a way. He can't figure where, in dollars and cents, it would bring in a penny. But libraries don't pay dividends in money. Neither do parks or public buildings, or extended mail routes, or schools. Yet all of them fill a certain, particular niche in every day life.

Many cities, big and small, boast zoos. That they are worth something from a standpoint of education and recreation, there is no doubt. A zoo here—even a small, unpretentious zoo—would give us something else to think about, something else to work on. And it cannot be denied that there is a certain appeal in wild life, now all but vanished.

Senate Will Have To Learn New Tricks If It Expects To Monopolize Attention Of Country; Recall Old Days

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, April 20.—The Senate will have to learn a lot of new tricks if it hopes to monopolize the attention of the country in the future as it has since the League of Nations fight.

Veterans here recall the days when the House galleries were always packed and the Senate galleries hardly ever. It has been the other way around in recent years, but the old-timers expect the House to draw the crowds again in the 72nd Congress. The probabilities of turmoil are obvious.

The death of Speaker Nicholas Longworth, who was perhaps the only man who could have handled the next House and kept it running with a fair degree of smoothness even though administration control was gone, has increased the chances of confusion and of grief for Mr. Hoover.

Even if Ohio sends a Republican to replace Longworth and the party retains a majority of one vote, the effect of Longworth's loss is expected to be important. There is no one else like him. He even had a way with the Progressives, who are likely to make the most trouble in the next House. In fact, he and the late Victor Berger, lone Socialist member, had been seen with their arms on each other's shoulder.

Scant Majority

The party which has a majority of one or two votes will be likely, if it organizes the House, to find its technical dominance more of a liability than an asset. It will have theoretical responsibility without control. Nothing but the organization itself, and perhaps not even that, will be decided by purely partisan votes because of the presence of perhaps a score of Progressives. Whatever is accomplished will be done only as a result of trades and compromises which are likely to become extremely complicated. Longworth, incidentally, was a master of compromise when compromise was necessary or expedient.

The surest thing of all is that President Hoover will have a majority of the members of both houses opposed to his re-election in 1932, and that's a state of affairs which may produce almost anything.

Of course the iron-bound control heretofore exercised by the speaker, the majority leader and the chairman of the rules committee is now definitely gone. So far as that is concerned, it makes no difference who has a House majority when Congress convenes—and that's another matter of uncertainty.

Possibility of Deadlock

What counts most now is that it will require a majority of the House — 218 votes — to elect a speaker and proceed with business. There have been deadlocks on the speakership in the House before and there is a fine chance of one next December. If one party has 218 seats, a single one of its congressmen could deadlock the election by voting against the choice of the other 217. Unless of course, its candidate for speaker drew support from the other party.

It doesn't seem as if the Republicans could possibly elect a speaker without a complete surrender to the Progressives. The latter would be bound to bargain to the limit for committee assignments and revision of the rules, if not for further promise. And it will be harder to get them to vote for such an arch-conservative as Majority Leader Tilson or Chairman Snell of the Rules Committee than it would have been to round them up for Longworth. Furthermore, all the Progressives would promise would be to let the party have the speakership. They're bound to create constant trouble for the administration afterward in any event.

Democrats Face Difficulties

The Democrats have Progressives in their own ranks — Huddleston of Alabama and Howard of Nebraska, for instance. But if December should find them with a House majority their main trouble in getting a speaker elected probably would be caused by norther Democrats who already have intimated that they would not be willing to have all the best committee chairmanships go to southern members, as they would go under the customary rule of seniority.

Some congressmen are expected to die in the next seven months and it might also be suggested that one or two of the 435 are likely within that period to become mentally unbalanced, even if some haven't already. With so much hinging on one or two votes the opportunities for some amazing individual performanances are unparralleled.

Almost anything can happen and the mind reels at the thought of prediction. Imagine a House in which the speaker and about 50 committee chairmen hold their jobs by a one-vote majority! And then imagine the excitement every time a member on their side becomes even slightly ill!

Diet and Health

ANESTHESIA

Medical science progresses not only by making new discoveries, but also by improving old methods. The constant and regular improvement in the safety and comfort of anesthesia for surgical and obstetric purposes is an example.

Dr. Clendening

When ether anesthesia broke on the wholly unexpectant surgical world from the cupola-domed room in the Massachusetts General Hospital nearly a century ago, it seemed a magical advance. Before that time only a few surgical maneuvers could be attempted at all—amputation and such vitally necessary operations. The patient was made as drunk as was safe with brandy and then four or five hospital orderlies held him down while the grim necessity was got through. "Surgeons operating on the quick," wrote a physician of the last generation, describing his medical student days, "were pitted against each other like runners on time. He was the best surgeon, both for patient and onlooker, who broke the three-minute record for amputation."

For sixty years it was thought no improvement could be made over the administration of straight ether. And yet that, too, was an almost barbarous spectacle. "When I began giving ether in 1892," writes a surgeon of our time, "we used a cone made of newspaper and a towel pinned together with safety pins, one end of the cone being closed and stuffed with cotton, into which the ether (not too pure) was poured. We then jammed this cone over the patient's face, everyone lent a hand in holding him down, and he was practically suffocated into unconsciousness."

About 25 years ago the use of nitros oxide as a preliminary to ether was begun. Nitrous oxide is the chemical name of our old dental friend, laughing gas. The patient goes to sleep pleasantly and comfortably in this way, the switch to ether being made after complete unconsciousness is obtained. Then by the mixture of nitrous oxide and oxygen as prolonged an anesthesia as ether can give is obtained. Also with sufficient muscular relaxation. Such methods required the introduction of anesthesia machines. The great advantage of nitrous oxide anesthesia is that there is little or no nausea, vomiting or other disagreeable after-effects.

Improvement of all kind is constantly going forward. Within a few years a new anesthetic substance, ethylene, has been introduced, the discovery of a woman, by the way. It is rapid in action, almost odorless, pleasant to take, and gives a safe, deep anesthesia with no disagreeable after-effects—or seldom with any.

The latest development is what Dr. George F. Chandler, of Kingston, N. Y., calls "Matin Sleep". This consists in giving luminal the night before the operation so that the patient goes to sleep, apprehension is smothered, and remains drowsy even when arrived at the operating room. About a third the amount of anesthetic is required. "Patients are delighted. They remember little about the operation from the time they enter the hospital up until about the third day, then they find out it is all over."

Luminal was isolated only in 1904, its sleep-eying qualities determined in 1912.

More than 400 American motion-picture cameras were imported into Canada in 1930.

In New York With Gilbert Swan

SWAN

NEW YORK, April 20—It's rather disconcerting to trip over a couple of mythically important gods on your way home from the theater.

But New York being what it is, no one can say for sure what one is likely to stumble upon.

And so it happened, that shortly before midnight I found myself walking past the Stygian catacombs of a back stage door. And at that very moment two truck drivers were in the process of tossing sections of the Nile on a truck.

Piled four and five deep upon the curbstone were such assorted replicas of ancient Egyptian deities as Apis, the sacred bull; Thoth, the god with a fish face; the benficent Osiris, and Anubis, the jackal, with a sinister influence over the underworld.

And the two truck drivers were talking to each other. The first said:

"Blankety, blank-blank . . . we can't get all this junk on one truck. We'll have to take a second load."

And the other cussed twice as much and said:

"Blankety blank . . . we'll be working till morning."

Neither one noticed that they were addressing Osiris and Thoth and Anubis and Apis. Men would have died for such sacrilege in another day. In fact millions have died for no such sacrilege at all.

At the moment, those particular images that once had power over life or death, were reduced to something closely resembling plaster of paris, or some similar preparation.

At a recent moment, they doubtless decorated some musical comedy or possibly furnished background for a scene in "Aida" at the Metropolitan. Now they were headed for a storehouse.

Mere crumbs of lesser gods than these have sent Egyptologists off on expeditions that required years of excavation.

But here, in 41st street, under the very feet of the home going show crowd, an Isis or a Horus is something merely to block traffic for the moment and call forth an expression of displeasure.

"What funny looking scenery," comments a sweet young thing as she draws aside her coat to avoid contact.

And so, if you're the sort of a bird I am, you'll go to your apartment and read a couple of volumes of Egyptology before you go to bed.

And reading, you'll learn that many of the fragile figurines were to the people of another day everything that was good and everything that was evil.

You find that great throngs gathered at the temple of Memphis for solemn ceremonials and prostrated themselves; that hundreds were sacrificed during the centuries; that their names have lived for centuries whereas ours will disappear almost overnight.

"The day of his installation into the temple," reads my particular book on the subject, "began an annual series of celebrations and he was looked upon as an oracle. When an Apis bull died, the countryside was searched, sometimes for years, until one was found bearing certain sacred marks. Even the cow that had mothered such a sacred one received divine honors."

Now a passing crowd threads heedlessly by, or two truckmen complain that they have to move Apis, Osiris, Anubis and Thoth after midnight hours.

And it wouldn't surprise me if two thirds of the crowd failed to recognize the names if they heard them.

PROCEEDINGS FILED

AUSTIN, April 20. (AP)—Ex parte proceedings were filed in district court here to validate a $1,650,000 bond issue of Cameron county water improvement District 14.

Mrs. Minnie Maddern Fiske, on the stage for more than 40 years, is still going strong. The woman plays and plays and plays.

"I'm spieling fine," as Floyd Gibbons, the 217-word-a-minute man, might say.

A man hot under the collar is fit to be tied—firmly about the neck.

THE TINYMITES

STORY by HAL COCHRAN—PICTURES by KING

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

At dawn the Tinies all arose and Clowny shouted, "Goodness knows, I am as hungry as can be. I slept just like a king. Let's step out for a morning hike and then stop in some place we like and get a bit of breakfast ere we do one other thing."

"A good idea! Come along," said Scouty. "Walking makes us strong. I'd like a wide umbrella 'cause the sun is shining bright. There's one thing that I always dread and that's a reddish, sunburned head. Let's stop and buy a couple. Then our walk will be all right."

The Travel Man said. "That's a plan that I will help out, if I can." And then he found a Chinese store and promptly went inside. "Get big umbrellas, colored bright and, on the street, we'll be a sight," said Coppy. Then they hiked along the Tinies side by side.

Not far along the winding street they heard the noise of many feet. "Oh, look!" cried Scouty, "Goodness me, those men have quite a load. I'll bet that they are mighty strong, the way they travel right along. You'd think that they'd get all tired out atrudging down the road."

"They're coolies," said the Travel Man. "And, can they work? You bet they can! Why, all day long you'll see them pulling wagons 'round the town. I've often heard their pay is small, e'en though they have a heavy haul. It seems, no matter how they work, it does not wear them down."

Each coolie they were looking at was decked out in a great big hat to keep the sun out of his eyes. One waved and said, "Hello!" The Tinies waved right back and then they went upon their way again. "What will we see next?" Coppy asked. "Where are we going to go."

(The Tinymites meet a Chinese fisherman in the next story.)

As content with life as a magician might be, he is always wanding something.

History Rooms At High School Are To Receive Confederate Flags On Thursday

DR. MYERS

Doctor Myers' Dailu Column On Child Welfare

BY GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.
Head Division Parental Education Cleveland College, Western Reserve University

UNTRAINED "SPECIALIST"

The average layman has few ways of knowing who is or who is not a psychologist. Some who call themselves psychologists are not. Any one who proclaims himself a specialist in anything for which he has not some professional training, at least, is a quack, no matter how clever he may be.

* * *

There are, however, some persons who had not been exposed to academic courses in psychology, or even to courses allied to this subject, who have a remarkable insight into human conduct and who can and do give parents and others excellent advice, better sometimes, no doubt, than many a trained psychologist could give. There are capable people trained in other fields, who have developed clear habits of thinking and have read outside of college and university halls more than many others with high degrees have read. But my point is that if they have been discriminating readers and thinkers they are careful not to label themselves psychologists.

Unfortunately, as many of my readers know, many who teach psychology do not make the subject interesting to the student. Nevertheless they, as a rule, do not make ordinance claims for what psychology can do.

Psychology is a science only when it sticks to facts and scientific methods of investigation. When it goes beyond that it is mere speculation. Men might assume that, as a rule, the trained psychologist should be more capable than the layman to venture in such speculation.

Nearly all I write in these columns I write with certain psychological facts and principles in mind; but naturally much of it is somewhat speculative, although guided, I hope, by a wide array of concrete observations and experiences interpreted in the light of facts and principles pretty well established by scientific data.

Although I went through the usual tortures of earning a doctor's degree in psychology at the feet of Cattell, Witmer, Woodworth, Thorndike, Hollingworth and Wells, and published many researches in the field, I recognize that my knowledge of psychology is limited. I never did attach much weight to a degree. I do believe, however, that a man or woman who spends two or three years beyond college in a psychological laboratory in one of our accredited universities, ought to be trained to be a little more cautious in arriving at interpretations of mental and human conduct than a layman.

And I do not believe my readers consider me snobbish when I advise that they think of a psychologist as one trained in psychology.

You are safe to assume that any expert attached to a public institution, as a college, university, child guidance clinic, public schools, or court, is professionally trained.

A free source of information on psychologists is the Psychological Corporation, Grand Central Terminal building, New York City; for psychiatrists, The National Committee for Mental Hygiene, 370 Seventh avenue, New York City.

Two Programs To Be Given By U.D.C

This is to be a busy week for members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

Following a regular program on Wednesday afternoon, members of the society are to stage a program Thursday afternoon at the Lubbock High school and on this latter occasion eight Confederate flags will be presented to history rooms. This will be done at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon at a regular high school assembly and, in addition to the school, anyone else may attend, it has been announced.

Mrs. A. W. Evans has announced the Thursday program as follows: Song, High School Glee club; presentation talk, Vaughn Wilson, county attorney; acceptance speech, C. C. Cox, history teacher at the High school; reading; song, Glee club. Miss Delia Wilkinson, president of the U. D. C., will preside.

Each of the eight history rooms in the school is to receive a flag.

Meet At Meadors

Mrs. G. W. Scott arranged the Wednesday program, which is to be in the home of Mrs. W. H. Meador, 1621 Main street, with Mrs. J. S. Johnson as co-hostess. This program is to be as follows:

Roll call of local veterans to be answered with an autobiography of each; solo, "Out Where the West Begins", Mrs. G. N. Atkinson; history of Lubbock, Mrs. Eppie Sowder; Texas chorus, chapter.

This is to be a regular social and program meeting of the U. D. C.

Examples Given In Music Instruction

Three programs have been given recently for children in public school music classes as a part of their training in proper behavior at concerts. These were given under the supervision of Mrs. L. J. Von Tungeln, public school music supervisor, with the assistance of teachers of music in the schools: Mesdames Willie Smith, C. Draper, E. E. Key, and Misses Roberta Rowley, Dimple Watson, Elnorna Leslie and Margaret Stone.

The last of this series was an organ recital given Friday afternoon by Mrs. Mamie I. Neal at the First Methodist church. She explained the workings of the organ and gave the children an opportunity to inspect it. Some of the children had never seen or heard an organ before, Mrs. Von Tungeln said.

The first program was given several weeks ago at the high school auditorium and was by the High School orchestra, under the supervision of H. A. Anderson, conductor. Principal instruments in the orchestra were explained and played alone for the children.

The next program was given by the children with each school furnishing two numbers. It was at the high school auditorium.

Paris Approves Practicality And Chic Of Jacket Ensemble This Season

BY ROSETTE HARGROVE
NEA Service Writer

PARIS, April 20.—The jacket ensemble is certainly going to be the smartest and at the same time most practical daytime outfit this spring. The forms in which it has been presented by the leading couturiers of Paris are legion, so that the risk of monotony will be non-existent, but women with a claim to dressing well are all including at least one of these ensembles in their spring wardrobes.

In spite of the couturiers' efforts to induce women to abandon sober colored clothes for town wear, the idea has been gently but definitely set aside. There will be much vivid coloring at beach and country resorts, but so far as city wear is concerned, the well-dressed woman knows that discretion, after all, is synonymous of good taste, and bright colors, however artistic, are apt to be a little too conspicuous.

For early spring wear, therefore, we shall see still the same amount of black, brown, navy blue, grey and beige, and the gay touches will be supplied by accessories, blouses and hats.

Contrasting Colors Achieve Smartness

The jacket ensemble can be of the type that comprises a dress and coat or else the skirt and coat worn with a blouse. Jackets of a contrasting shade, either light or dark, will be very smart, but the light jacket on the dark skirt is perhaps the better looking.

The straight, jaunty jacket vies in favor with the semi-fitted cut-away type and there are innumerable models that are belted. The severe, man-tailored tailleur will also be in fashion, provided it is impeccably cut. Skirts have just enough fullness to insure comfort and while some are pleated either front and back, leaving the sides perfectly plain, others have inset godets or are cut just slightly circular. They are also inclined to be a little shorter than last year.

Blouses are a very important feature this season in the fashion scheme of things. A whole collection of contrasting blouses is necessary, because in a suit they impart the degree of formality, or not, as desired. The informal blouse tucks in under the skirt or just reaches the top, while the formal one is as long, and sometimes longer, than the jacket.

Sleeves Add Distinction To Costumes

The sleeves of both jackets and blouses will also have to be watched this season. Some jackets have almost elbow length sleeves and the blouse shows below. Short sleeves are seen on both formal and informal blouses as well as on dresses, when these are used for a jacket ensemble.

Washable collars, cuffs, belts and even lower sleeves will help to liven up street clothes, and cotton pique and organdie are faced with an era of unprecedented popularity. While white is always the Parisiennee's favorite so far as relieving touches are concerned, pale pink, pale blue, green and yellow will be equally as smart and newer. Pique waist-coats, sleeveless, will accompany many a strictly tailored suit, and pikue flowers will adorn buttonholes.

If a jacket ensemble is preferred for smart afternoon functions, Paris has a wealth of ideas to offer along this line. Chanel has a number of wool suits trimmed with eyelet embroidery at the hem of the daytime ensembles that will be worn by the world's most fashionable women and this work is usually enhanced by a light blouse or dress top that shows through the openwork of the coat. Although very inconspicuous, these trimming details impart a great deal of chic to an outfit.

Calculated to inspire a real confidence of chic in springtime is this silk and wool tailleur from June Regny (left) with its jacket fastening at high waistline and the fastening marked by the addition of a sprightly white gardenia, a brand new place to wear one. There is a finely tucked white chiffon blouse, a white fabric turban and one of the new neckpieces of two fox furs. Young and decorative is the Molyneux suit (center) of black and white crepe marocain, with the most interesting detail work, white lined black stars outlining the black jacket, black lined white stars outlining the peplum of the white blouse and a black tracery at the blouse's neckline and belt. Conservatively sportive is the brown and beige jersey suit from Jane Regny (right) which uses an unusual jabot treatment on its white blouse and places three little white flowers at one side of the coat.

Club Members Meet Sunday Afternoon

Young women in Las Chaparritas club met Sunday afternoon at the home of Miss Cecile Horne, 2806 20th street, for an informal get-together. Tea was served by Misses Horne and Jean Shelley Jennings.

In the last 12 months unsuccessful attempts were made to close 2,000 footpaths in England.

Sweet Idleness

Enjoying a vacation far from the glare of the footlights, Lita Grey Chaplin, former wife of Charlie Chaplin, screen comedian, enjoys the bright rays of the sun in the popular winter resort of Miami Beach, Fla.

Art Shows Will Be Displayed At Tech

Those who are interested in etchings and in the processes of making wood engravings and sculpturing will have an opportunity this week to see these things.

An exhibit of etchings from Belgium is to be open all week to the public in the engineering auditorium at Texas Technological college, F. A. Kleinschmidt has announced. On Wednesday evening there is to be a picture show, "The Last of the Wood Engraving and Making of Sculpture." The show will be repeated on Thursday evening, with the addition of slides from the Sistine Chapel.

These shows will be at 8 o'clock in the evening and will be sponsored by the Lu Beta and Daleth Delphian chapters here. A silver offering will be taken.

Mr. Kleinschmidt is to lecture on Fontainbleau Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock to members of the Lu Beta chapter in the engineering auditorium. The regular meeting of this club was to have been on Thursday but it was postponed in order that Mr. Kleinschmidt could talk.

Mr. And Mrs. F. Griffith Entertain

Bluebonnets deck the rooms when Mr. and Mrs. Frank Griffith entertained members of La Novia club in their home at 2011 27th street, Saturday evening.

Bridge was played and Mr. and Mrs. Lorenz Ellis made high score, while low score was made by W. D. Benson, jr. The hostess presented Mrs. Dwight Hale and Glen Hunt gifts for making the largest number of grand slams during the evening.

Other guests were Mrs. Benson, Mrs. Glen Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Claxton Draper, Mr. and Mrs. Carlisle Tubbs and Dwight Hale.

Legion Auxiliary To Attend Party

Hostesses for the American Legion Auxiliary party this evening at 8 o'clock in the Legion hall are Mesdames Thomas E. Boyd, H. D. Chipley, Fred Stanton and R. Q. Stubbs.

Education Board To Meet Tonight

Members of the church board of Christian education of the First Methodist church are to meet tonight at 7:30 o'clock in the educational building.

Thursday Bridge To Meet This Week

Mrs. L. C. Hewitt is to entertain the Thursday Bridge club at 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon in her home at 2218 Avenue U.

Taxicabs now may be hired in Mukden, China, for 58 cents an hour.

New Face Powder Doesn't Dry Skin

Just try this new wonderful face powder, MELLO-GLO. Spreads smoothly and prevents large pores. Blends naturally with any complexion—stays on longer. Yellow For Spring

NOTHING more lightsome and youthful for spring was ever designed for women's wear than the jacket suits with the jacket a bolero type.

Pictured in such a suit of yellow angora wtih the bolero and skirt finished in scallops.

The white tuck-in blouse has a double collar. The hat, which matches the suit in color, has the brim manipulated so as to expose the forehead, but allows curls to drape at the side.

AIR DOESN'T WEIGH MUCH

WHEN you buy soap, the only way you can tell how much you're getting for your money is by the weight of the package. Size means nothing. A large carton full of soap flakes or bubbles can contain actually less soap than a carton of White King Granulated Soap half its size!

That's because White King Granulated Soap is condensed. It packs closely in the carton, like sugar. And it's absolutely pure and safe for blankets, dishes or lingerie. It's made from fine vegetable and nut oils.

White King Granulated Soap is not only the safest but the most economical soap you can buy. A little of it goes a long way. A teaspoonful to the basin of water, or a cupful to the tub—no more! Your grocer has it.

Religious Play To Be Shown Tuesday

Plans for the second presentation of "The Rock", religious drama in three acts, have been completed and the play will be staged again Tuesday night at 8 o'clock at the First Methodist church, according to an announcement made by the Rev. J. O. Haymes.

Initial production of the play at the church Sunday evening attracted a capacity audience and many persons were turned away.

Miles Director

The play, which is under the direction of Fiske Miles, is presented under the auspices of the young peoples department of the church. Settings of the drama are taken from Biblical times and scenery is under the direction of Doris Baugh and Evelyn Sowell. Music is furnished by the church orchestra, directed by J. B. Galland.

Leading roles are taken by Richard Cavett, who plays the part of Simon Peter; Melbria Pirtle, the wife, Adina; Evelyn Sowell, the mother, Deborah; J. W. Timmons, jr., the uncle, Ucal; and Eileen Graves, Mary Magdala. Other roles are taken by Garland Smith, who plays the part of Pandira, a Greek; Carroll Thompson, a Roman officer, and Preston Conner, a physician.

The play reveals the development of the character of Simon Peter and each event in the production centers around his life.

O.E.S. Members Will Plan For Banquet

Final plans for a banquet on May 5 are to be made Tuesday evening at a meeting of the Order of the Eastern Star at 7:30 o'clock in the Masonic hall.

Nearly 95,000,000 board feet of softwoods were produced in Australia last year.

Interest Of Parent-Teacher Societies Is Directed Now Toward National Meet

AUSTIN, Apr. 20. (Special)—The thoughts and interests of the parent-teacher world are directed at this time to the coming national convention of the National Congress of Parents and Teachers in Hot Springs, Arkansas, where delegates from every state in the union, the District of Columbia, Hawaii, and Alaska will convene during the first week in May. The general topic of the convention is "The Challenge of the Children's Charter," and speakers, conferences, round-tables and exhibits will seek to develop this theme. Resolutions adopted at this convention will embody the recommendations of the organization for meeting the challenge.

Texas women who have signified their intention of attending the convention and who have been elected or appointed delegates are Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, Austin, state president and chairman of the State Presidents' Conference; Mrs. A. C. Surman, fourteenth district president, Post; Mrs. Geo. Francisco, recording secretary of the Texas Congress, Houston; Mrs. W. H. Schaefer, seventh district president, Fredericksburg; Mrs. J. P. Buck, fourth district president, Sourlake; Mrs. A. F. Wood, first vice-president, Athens; Mrs. Sidney Gilmore, sixth district president, Sonora; Mrs. G. A. Balzer, Robstown; Mrs. F. P. Eubanks, Kingsville; Mrs. N. B. Lackland, Harlingen; Mrs. P. C. McGlasson, sixth state vice-president, San Angelo; Mrs. Joe A. Wessendorff, Richmond; and Mrs. J. C. Johnson, Richmond.

Mrs. Marrs To Go

Mrs. S. M. N. Marrs, past president of the Texas Congress and of the National Congress, who is now chairman of the budget committee in the national organization, will also attend this meeting. She and Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith will arrive in Hot Springs in time to participate in the National Conference on Parent Education which has been called by the United States Commissioner of Education, William John Cooper, at the suggestion of and in cooperation with the national congress of parents and teachers. This conference will be held on May first and second, at the Arlington Hotel, which is also headquarters for the National Convention.

Mrs. Noyes Darling Smith, state president, will preside at two conferences of the state presidents on Thursday and Saturday mornings April 30 and May 2, respectively at eight o'clock. Mrs. Ella Caruthers Porter, Dallas, organizer and first state president of the Texas Congress, and now national chairman of thrift is scheduled to preside at the National Thrift luncheon, Thursday, May 5, at 12:30.

Books Selected

The eight publicity record books, the name now applied to the books formerly known as "publicity scrapbooks," have already been selected and sent on to Hot Springs for exhibit purposes at the national convention. These books, instead of being awarded different colored stars to indicate degrees of excellence as formerly, will be placed on tables for publicity in certain types of associations, if they have a good collection of real publicity. It will be an honor to have a book placed on the tables as only books containing the best publicity will gain a place.

The books sent from Texas are the one from the Banquete Parent-Teacher Association with no local newspaper; Albany record book with one weekly paper; Brady book; East Ward, Kingsville; Charlotte; Calvert; Vernon High School Association; and Iowa Park. Other publicity record books, judged as the best in their respective districts and sent to the state publicity chairman are Riverside Park School, San Antonio; College Heights, Abilene; Fair Park, Abilene; Mathews School, Austin; Moody; Edinburg; Ball High School Galveston; West University Place, Houston; Lamar, Palestine; Alto; Balmorhea and Barstow.

Compliment Bride Here, Mrs. Stryker

As a compliment to Mrs. Lee Stryker, who was married Easter Sunday, Mrs. B. E. Needles entertained Saturday afternoon in her home at 1311 8th street. Before her marriage, Mrs. Stryker was Miss Juanita Keahey.

Green and yellow were used in appointments and in decorating a basket which was filled with gifts for the bride. Sweetpeas were favors with the refreshment course, which was served to Mesdames Roy Stryker, Rufus Bundy, Vcis Mayette, Orbe Vincent, Jack McGinnis, C. A. Clement, Loraine Cumbie, Misses Bonnie Stryker, Iavinia Williams and Alice Hill and the honor guest.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Stryker are residing at 710 Avenue R.

Mrs. Clement, who is leaving soon for California, was presented with a going-away gift at this party, also.

MILLIONS ENJOY UNUSUAL THRILL IN RARE COFFEE

Patented Roasting Process Gives Hills Bros. Coffee Distinctive Flavor

By a radically different process of flavor-control, Hills Bros. have given their rare blend of coffee a flavor such as no other coffee has.

"A little at a time" is the basis of this patented process—Controlled Roasting. A constant stream of green coffee is introduced into the roasters in automatically measured lots of about three pounds, and passes through in a steady flow, roasting a little at a time. The heat is automatically controlled so any variation in the roast is absolutely prevented.

Such uniformity of the roast is not possible by bulk methods. In spite of watchful care some of the coffee is roasted too much—some too little. Flavor variation is therefore inevitable.

As fast as Hills Bros. Coffee is roasted, it is ground and packed in vacuum. By this process air, which destroys the flavor of coffee, is taken from the can, and kept out. Ordinary cans, even if air-tight, will not keep coffee fresh. Ask for Hills Bros. Coffee by name and look for the Arab—the trade-mark—on the can. Sold everywhere by grocers.

This week we have the district interscholastic league track and field meet with us. This is District 2 when it comes to Class B football and all classes of basketball and track, otherwise it's District 1, even though it is smaller than it was a year ago before the state was divided into 16 circuits instead of the original 8.

* * *

J. O. (Del) Morgan has been too busy with spring football training to say much about the district track meet, of which he is general supervisor and toastmaster, but a glance at the calendar reveals the fact anyway, so we hasten to give the tournament its just advertising.

* * *

As in basketball, ten counties of the South Plains will be represented here Friday and Saturday in the annual district meet. Since first and second place winners in county meets are eligible to participate in district meets, a gang of entries and spectators double the number at the district basketball meet may be anticipated here this week. It is this department's privilege to welcome all the schools, track men and spectators from surrounding counties and towns to Lubbock this week-end.

* * *

Slaton High school ran away with high honors in the county meet here three weeks ago and may be considered a strong contender for district titles this week. Coach Paul Wright has some fine athletes under his wing in Lubbock's neighboring city and it is to Lubbock's credit that Slaton is so near. This fellow Nowell is quite brilliant when it comes to romping down the straightaway and around the curves. He was one of the most impressive tracksters on the oval here in the county meet and again in the Texas Tech Relay carnival, and he won individual high point honors in the Panhandle Olympiad at Amarillo last Saturday, a determining factor in Slaton's placing second in the tournament. There are other Slaton stars likely to shine here this week, Armes, an outstanding gridster in last fall's Class B race and an equally fine player for the Slaton basketeers last winter, is one of the best athletes on the South Plains today, within the confines of high school walls, and he looks as though he might improve as time goes on.

Weir Washam, newly-elected coach at Spur High school, was a week-end visitor. He reports that he and the Spur High school officials are bending every effort toward reinstatement in the Texas Interscholastic league participation after a series of protests aimed at the Bulldog football team last fall. It was finally proven, according to final analysis and as a result of continuous onslaughts that two or more of the Bulldog gridsters were ineligible, and the team and the school was suspended for a period of not less than one year.

Gene Taylor, coach at Spur last year, will be at Brownwood next fall. Even if he stayed at Spur there would have been no hard felings extended his way, for it is generally agreed that he, as well as the other school officials, knew not that the football men were ineligible. According to the records procured and displayed by the Spur officials, the Buldogs were all eligible, but some rival school had dug deeper into family histories and found that a few of the players were over age, or something of the sort.

Just as a coach gets all the blame when his team fails to come through with an appreciative number of victories in the course of a season, so is he charged when his team members are found ineligible. It is a foolish idea among men and fans. By comparison, a coach is no more apt to know the histories and experiences of his players than the mayor of a city is to know his directory, nor should a coach be blamed for his team's failure when said team does not consist of winning material than a mayor should for the failure of his citizens to keep empty tin cans out of the back yard. But as it is, Coach Washam stands a better chance to see his Bulldogs in the state Class B race this and next year than Taylor would had he retained at Spur. This department extends congratulations to Washam for his advancement, if the step from Tahoka to Spur could be considered an advancement, and wishes for him the best of success with the Dickens county aggregation.

An electrically operated overhead railway more than two miles long has been installed by a Hollywood motion picture company to move scenery between construction shops and stages.

BATTERS HAVE HABIT OF FANNING

SEVEN HURLERS GET FIVE OR MORE STRIKEOUTS

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

If major league pitchers can continue their performances of the season's first few games, strikeout records may be in serious danger. Whether it is the changed ball or a mere epidemic of poor batting eyes, fanning this year seems to occur more often than in previous seasons when slugging was the rage.

Seven hurlers in the two major leagues struck out five or more rivals in yesterday's eight games and in many cases that was not enough to win or even keep the pitcher on the mound for nine innings. Big Fred Fitzsimmons of the New York Giants led the way, fanning seven of the Boston Braves as his team won 9 to 2. Fitz limited the Braves to six hits in giving them their first defeat of the season while the Giants got 14 blows to go into a three-way tie for the lead.

Sox Down Browns

In a long drawn out game which saw the Chicago White Sox whip the St. Louis Browns 12 to 6, 14 men were struck out. Sam Gray, one of four St. Louis pitchers, and credited with the loss, and Garland Braxton of Chicago each whiffed five. With a near record crowd of 80,000 looking on Rube Walberg of Philadelphia bested Charley Ruffing of the New York Yankees, 3 to 2, in a pitching and fanning duel. Walberg struck out six and allowed the same number of hits. Ruffing fanned five while giving seven hits.

Charley Root of the Chicago Cubs and Remy Kremer of Pittsburgh also were credited with six strikeouts each. Root was wild at the start but good Cub fielding aided him in turning back the St. Louis Cardinals, 4 to 1. It was the first defeat for the Cards, putting them level with the Braves and Giants. Weak base running by the Reds rendered Kremer's six walks harmless to Pittsburgh as the Pirates won, 3 to 1. Cincinnati had 14 men left on base.

Good pitching also came to the fore in the other American league games, bringing victories to Washington and Detroit. Lloyd Brown's mound work helped the Senators take the lead by shutting out the Boston Red Sox 8-0. Earl Whitehill turned back Cleveland with seven hits, stopping all of the Indians but young Joe Vosmik to win, 7 to 2. Vosmik's homer brought in both Cleveland runs and with a single left him with a batting average of .667 for five games.

Philadelphia's two Elliotts combined to hold Brooklyn to seven blows and handed the Robins their fifth straight defeat, 6 to 4, in ten innings. Homers by O'Doul and Herman were the leading Brooklyn blows.

New York Swimmers Capture Team Honor

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The Women's Swimming association of New York has captured team honors in the 1931 National Women's Swimming championships but it remained for the Seattle star, Helen Madison, to furnish most of the excitement of a somewhat disappointing aquatic tournament.

Miss Madison captured three individual titles during the four-day carnival and almost single-handed enabled the Washington A. C. of Seattle to finish second in the team race with 27 points. The W. S. A. with Eleanor Holm accounting for two titles, scored 39 points.

The disappointing feature of the championships was that not one world's record was threatened, much less broken.

FIRST CRUCIAL SERIES THIS YEAR SET

PACE--SETTERS IN THE LEAGUE MARATHON READY TO CLASH

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

The first crucial series of the 1931 Texas league pennant campaign was scheduled Monday afternoon at Fort Worth where Hap Morse and his Dallas Steers were due to oppose Fort Worth in a two-game series. The schedule also called for a new move Monday with Dallas at Fort Worth, Shreveport at Wichita Falls, Galveston at Houston and San Antonio at Beaumont. However, it is the Dallas and Fort Worth series that will spotlight the schedule because these two clubs are pace-setting the league marathon.

Steers Win Pair

The Steers bumped Shreveport for a double killing Sunday, 9 to 5 and 12 to 6. It made five straight for the Steers since their opening against the Sports. Hard hitting kept the Steers in front Sunday. In the first game, the Sports grabbed a 5 to 3 lead that was substantial until the sixth when timely hitting from the bats of Manager Morse, Borrelli, Cotter, Bennett and some classy base running by Harrell gave the Steers enough runs in the sixth and eighth innings to continue their unbroken string of wins. In the nightcap, Red Roberts started for the Sports, and was pounded hard, while Grady Adkins, Dallas hurler, was tight in the pinches.

BAYLOR PACES CONFERENCE

BEARS TO FACE TWO IMPORTANT GAMES THIS WEEK

DALLAS, April 20. (AP)—The Baylor university Bears, pace setting the Southwest conference baseball race, faced two games this week which may have an important bearing in their chance at the 1931 championship. The Bears were scheduled against the Rice institute Owls of Houston at Waco today and against Texas Christian at Waco Saturday.

The Baylor club slipped into first place Saturday when the University of Texas Longhorns defeated the Texas A. and M. Aggies, 8 to 0. It was the Aggies' first defeat since the conference race opened. The defeat left the Aggies in a tie with the Longhorns for second place. This week's schedule:

Monday—Rice vs. Baylor at Waco.
Tuesday—Rice vs. University of Texas at Austin.
Friday—Texas Christian vs. University of Texas at Austin. Southern Methodist vs. Texas A. and M. College Station.
Saturday—Texas Christian vs. Baylor at Waco. Southern Methodist vs. Rice at Houston.

Canzoneri And Berg Will Clash Friday

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—Champions both, Tony Canzoneri of New York and Jack (Kid) Berg of England will clash at the Chicago stadium Friday night in a ten round bout in which both the lightweight and junior welterweight titles may be at stake.

Berg's junior welterweight crown is certain to go to the winner and Tony's 136-pound title also will be tossed into the ring in the event Berg makes the class limit.

The Briton, a tireless, aggressive fighter who smothers his opponents with the stream of leather he tosses, probably will be a decided favorite at ring-time.

STARS OF GAMES ON YESTERDAY

(By The Associated Press)

Mule Haas, Athletics—His single in eighth scored Bishop with run that beat Yankees, 3-2.

Charley Root, Cubs—Held Cardinals to six hits, fanned six and beat them, 4-1.

Roy Spencer, Senators—Drove in four runs with triple and single against Red Sox.

Fred Fitzsimmons, Giants—Gave Braves only six hits and beat them easily, 9-2.

Harry McCurdy, Phillies—Pinch single in tenth drove in two runs and beat Robins, 6-4.

Earl Whitehill, Tigers—Stopped Indians with seven hits and beat them, 7-2.

N. Y. Yankees Seek Attendance Record

NEW YORK, April 20. (AP)—The New York Yankees apparently are bent on setting a new attendance record for major league baseball this season. They've played five games so far and have drawn an aggregate attendance of 205,000, an average of 41,000 a game.

Yesterday 80,403 jammed the Yankee stadium to watch Philadelphia trip Joe McCarthy's men, 3-2. The only larger crowd came to the stadium in September, 1928, when 85,265 saw the Yankees beat the As twice in a Sunday doubleheader.

FRESHMEN ARE IN LEAD

INTRAMURAL GAMES TO BE RESUMED AT TECH TOMORROW NIGHT

With the freshmen of the Liberal Arts league leading the field with a record of five games won in as many starts and the Fish of the Engineer league holding an equal standing with four games won in as many played, the Texas Tech intramural basketball continues to grow in interest as the season nears the half-way mark. Games will be resumed this week when the "fish" and juniors of the Engineer league play tomorrow evening at 6 o'clock. The sophs and seniors of the league and the fish and juniors of the Aggie league also play tomorrow night.

In the course of the double round-robin schedule, 34 games are carded for the sixteen teams participating in the four-league season. A championship will be based on percentage standings at the close of the season. Interleague play will begin next week, with the "fish" teams of the Arts and Engineer leagues entering the fray as favorites.

The Tech Bookstore is offering ten silver basketballs as trophies to the ten outstanding players of the season, and W. L. "Crip" Colightly will give two silver trophies to the two players who show the most improvement during the season.

A machine has been invented to slice loaves of bread as they leave the ovens in large bakeries, the slices being sealed in waxed paper packages for sale. This is said to save the waste of stale bread.

THIRTY REFUGEES FROM NICARAGUA RETURN WITH STORIES OF HORROR

Copyright, 1931,
By The Associated Press

NEW ORLEANS, April 20. — A group of 30 refugees from Nicaragua, arrived to New Orleans aboard the steamship Cefalu, with tales of horror in the jungles and of sudden attack by outlaws armed with machetes that left a trail of mutilated bodies under the tropic sun.

Guns had been forced to flee without any attempt to bury their dead, while two families brought their dead with them. Two bodies were the only two survivors of the massacre at Logtown came up on the boat. The dead were Captain Harry Perley, American marine, who died in the first encounter with the bandits, and William Selser, planation overseer, who died of wounds aboard the Cefalu. His widow also died on the boat.

The two survivors were Cathey Wilson and James Lloyd, of Fayetteville, Tenn.

Thought Dead

"I lay in a ditch for a day and a night with just my nose and mouth sticking out," said Lloyd. "Bandits looked all over my body and pass[ed] on, thinking I was dead. It was only hope and it saved my life."

Wilson said he dived into the Coco river when the ambush began. "When I jumped into the river the bandits saw me and started for the opposite bank to meet me there," he said. "I diverted my course and managed to land at a point farther down. For two days I hid in the underbrush and ate only three bananas during those days. I walked back into the village of Puerto Cabezas almost exhausted."

Mrs. Tony Simmer, wife of the chief pharmacist of La Guard, who was aboard the ship with her four small children, said her husband was one of the bandit attack at Logtown.

Worse Than In France

"My husband told me it was worse than anything he had seen in France," she said.

Mrs. Simmer told of how Pedro Sandino, Sandino's chief lieutenant, was pursued and slain after the Logtown massacre by a party led by Lieutenant Clyde Darrah, of the marines, Ralph Beardsley, engineer of the Standard Fruit & Steamship company, and her husband.

On Blandon's body, she said, they found letters and cards identifying the bandit as Sandino's lieutenant. She said she estimated the bandit gang at several hundred.

Attempt Escape

Mrs. Selser said the first intimation of bandit raids came with an attack on the Mora Point farm and Captain Perley and her husband went out with a group of natives to investigate. Another group composed of Cathey Wilson, James Lloyd, John Bryan, Percy Davis, Hubert O. Wilson, and William H. Bond, jr., attempted to escape to Logtown, a short distance from the raiding farm.

The two parties were cut off. Selser explained before he died. Both Perley and Selser were shot and all of the other party except Lloyd and Wilson were killed. Perley died of death from a wound in the thigh, she said. Although mortally wounded, Selser managed to bring Perley's body back into the village with the assistance of natives.

DAILY MARKETS

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Another wide open break in Auburn and fresh heaviness of U. S. Steel marked resumption of trading in the stock market today.

By the end of the first half hour, these issues attracted support, however.

There were but faint signs of Saturday's rallying tendencies in the initial transactions and these soon disappeared.

U. S. Steel dropped 3 points to another new low since 1927. Auburn, after opening up 3 points at 206, flopped back to 180. Steel the rallied fractionally, and Auburn several points.

Industrial Rayon, a weak feature late last week, lost 6½ points more, and Eastman, Air Reduction, Case, and Electric Autolite lost 2 or more. Shares off a point or so included American Telephone, North American, Royal Dutch, Loews, and General Electric. Standard of N. J. ragged fractionally to another new low.

Selling grew fairly active with the drop in U. S. Steel, stockholders of which hold their annual meeting today. Traders were evidently disappointed in the character of Saturday's rally. There was little in the new over the week-end to change the market outlook.

Sterling cables opened steadily at $4.85 7-8, up 1-32.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, April 20 (AP)—Grain prices underwent early setbacks today as a result of reports indicating general breakup of the drouth. Material enlargement of the amount of wheat on ocean passage counted also as a bearish factor. Opening at ½ cents off to 1-4-3-8 up, wheat afterward continued to rag. Corn started unchanged to ½ down and subsequently declined all around.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Cotton opened unchanged to 3 points higher today on further covering and some trade buying. Liverpool made rather a disappointing response to the local firmness of Saturday but the trade seemed to pay very little attention to the cables and the buying was considered a continuation of the demand which developed the market here late last week.

Offerings were light and readily absorbed with May selling up to 10.34 and October to 10.94 by the end of the first half hour or about 3 to 5 points net higher. Liverpool cables reported covering and continental buying in that market and said Manchester was getting a fair cloth business from South America. There may have been a little buying here on apprehensions that present favorable weather in the south would be followed by cold rains.

There was a little more cotton for sale later in the morning and the early advance was followed by reactions which carried prices a shade below Saturday's closing quotations. May sold off to 10.26 and Oct. to 10.87, or 2 to 3 points net lower, but the offerings were not heavy and the market at midday was quiet and steady within a point or two either way of the previous close.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, April 20. (AP)—Cotton here today opened rather steady. Liverpool was a shade lower than due at the start but soon improved. First trades here were one point down to one up. The market rallied right after the start in sympathy with the late improvement in the foreign market, rather favorable textile reports, a better demand for spot cotton for export, and prospects of a cold wave in the western belt, with freezing in Texas, July traded up to 10.61 and October to 10.95, or seven points above the opening figures.

At the end of the first hour the market was steady and near the highs.

The market, after the early advance due to the prospect of colder weather, turned easier around the middle of the morning owing to some weakness in stocks and to a private report claiming that planting had excellent progress during the past two weeks. July eased off to 10.53 and October to 10.88, or 7 to 8 points down from the earlier highs. This decline attracted trade buying and caused shorts to cover, prices regaining all the previous loss and at noon were within one point of the early highs.

NEW ORLEANS OPEN

NEW ORLEANS, April 20 (AP)—Cotton opened steady today.

TEXAS LEAGUE

clouted 61 hits in five ball games, ended their five game series against Wichita Falls Sunday with a 7 to 4 win, and four out of five games. Dick Whitworth started his first game this season for the Cats, and went the route. He stopped the Spudders with seven hits.

A veteran of many Texas league flag races, Tom Estell, saved the San Antonio Indians Sunday. Estell went to the relief of Ted Blankenship who got away to a miserable start of four passes in the first inning, and managed to hold Galveston, however, won the five game series, 3 and 2. Herb Thormahlen, who opened the season for Galveston and beat San Antonio, was driven from the mound by the Indians Sunday in the fourth inning with a rampage of five hits and five runs. San Antonio wallopers finally bloomed with eleven hits Sunday, their first venture into double figures since the season opened.

The Beaumont and Houston game was rained out.

Rylander, another member of the cast, has also been in previous shows. Others in the play are: Bob Stephenson, O. W. Ribble, Mrs. J. H. Eubanks, Miss Alene Spears and Audrey Brown.

The use of the Palace is being donated by C. C. Lindsey, manager. The services of his employees are also being given for the production.

Officials of the Little Theater are expecting a record crowd for the performance due to the fact that this is the only play to be given by the organization this year and that it is for charity.

fired upon them, a single discharge from his shotgun wounding the two women and Harris.

The negro then barricaded himself in his home. When Detective A. C. Thornton attempted to crash in the door, the negro called out a warning "all right, I'll give you one chance. Get off them steps!" The officer retired and Detective R. H. Sullivan advanced with a tear bomb.

Shoots Himself

Then a shot was heard in the house, and officers rushed in and discovered Reed lying between his emptied shotgun and pistol with the left side of his face blown away. He had used his last cartridge upon himself.

The negro was placed in an ambulance to go to the hospital. He made a sudden lurch and seized a pistol from the belt of Detective Sullivan, who was riding with him, and fired it point blank at the officer. The bullet crashed between Sullivan's legs and the officer knocked down the weapon and drew his own pistol and shot the negro twice in the abdomen.

Reed died an hour later in a hospital and his wife 40 minutes after. Justice of the Peace Campbell R. Overstreet returned a verdict of suicide in connection with Reed's death, holding that his self inflicted wound had proved fatal.

Calls Herself "Godless Girl"

"I am the Godless Girl," Dorcas Bacon, above, also known as Sally Scott, told Detroit police after she had attempted two robberies within five minutes and fired twice at a drug clerk, who resisted her efforts to rob a cash register. To prove it she displayed her right arm on which was tattoed the inscription "The Godless Girl." On her left arm was a skull pierced by a dagger, with the wording "Death Before Dishonor." The girl told officers her attempts at robbery were to aid her aunt, who has cared for her.

Worth, but did not go near Julian, his former employer, or speak to him.

To Ask Death

District Attorney Valls said he would prosecute Julian on the kidnaping charge under a law just passed by the state legislature making that offense punishable by death. The minimum penalty is five years imprisonment.

Raymond said he did not know if he would ask for a continuance in the other cases. The general impression, however, was that the defense would try to avoid a trial at this time.

Julian was arrested April 2 in a Laredo hotel when Bolling attracted the attention of an officer in the lobby and complained that Julian, using a pistol, had forced him out of his room and was trying to take him away in an attempt to extort $50,000.

Julian was at liberty under $15,000 bond.

Farmers And Farm Women To Be Here

Delegations of farmers and farm women possibly will attend the thirteenth annual convention of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce here May 14, 15 and 16.

O. B. Martin, director of the Texas A. & M. college extension service, has been asked by the regional chamber to authorize farm and home demonstration agents in West Texas to organize such delegations.

A considerable part of the convention program will be devoted to matters of interest to stockmen and farmers of the territory, and these items are expected to be of benefit to extension service attaches.

Theft At Seagraves Reported To Police

Theft of five dozen pairs of women's under-apparel having a retail value of about $45 from the Santa Fe railway express and freight room at Seagraves last Thursday night has been reported to Lubbock police by Dee Robinson, special Santa Fe agent, of Slaton.

A safe in the Santa Fe station at Seagraves was knocked, and a Phillips Petroleum company service station entered there the same night, the railway officer reported. Ten casings and seven inner tubes were taken from the service station, according to Robinson's report.

Whether loot was obtained from the safe was not recorded.

LIQUOR RAIDS

Robison was charged with liquor possession.

Two negroes, Isaiah Venters, of 400 block of Seventeenth street, and Phil Harper, of 1700 block of Avenue C, were arrested at Harper's home by police at 6 p. m. Sunday. Police said they confiscated half a gallon of whisky and a hundred bottles of beer.

The two negroes waived examining trial when they appeared before Justice Porter, Venters being charged with possession of beer and Harper with liquor sale. Bonds were fixed at $350 and $500 respectively.

NUDE BODY

ly scrutinized for some mark which might lead police to its owner.

At the outset the case seemed as baffling as that of the kidnaping and slaying of 10-year-old Virginia Brooks, who disappeared from her home here in February and whose body was found 15 miles from the city a month later. However, police found no link which might connect the crimes.

Miss Teuber's body had been stripped of clothing with the exception of black pumps and gun-metal hose. Investigators said there was every evidence the girl had been dead before the long rope was thrown over the limb and pulled to a stump 20 feet away to be tied. The fact the body had not been lifted from the ground, was significant, they said There were no bruises indicating injuries which might have caused death.

VICTIMS BLINDED WITH RED PEPPER

DALLAS, April 20, (AP)—Blindin their victims with red pepper, three armed men today held up three men in an automobile carrying the payroll of the Sam Dysterbach Department store and escaped with a satchel containing $7,000.

The three store employes, W. E Kerns, George Swartz and Henry Weil, were en route to street car barns in East Dallas, where on every pay day they were in the habit of cashing checks of Tram company employes and making collections on accounts.

Crowded To Curb

As they drove through the business district, the robbers' automobile crowded their car into the curb Two of the bandits, brandishing pistols jumped on the running board of the store's machine, dashed red pepper from cans into the eyes of the three victims and ordered them to hand over their weapons.

"We have no guns," Kerns, who was driving, told them.

Swartz and Weil were pulled from the car and Weil was slugged with a pistol. The third robber snatched the money satchel from the floor of the car and threw it into the coupe in which the three robbers were riding. Tey jumped into their machine and sped away.

Weil was blinded by the pepper and suffered a deep scalp gash. The eyes of Kerns and Swartz were partially protected by spectacles.

None of the victims was able to obtain the license number of the robbers' car.

CIGARET TAX

smoked cigarets.

Duvall denounced the school teachers of the state for trying to dictate the policies of the legislature. "They don't care what kind, or how much taxes the legislature levies so long as they get their share. And whenever any member of the legislature opposes one of their tax measures, they set up the howl 'he's opposed to education'," Duvall said.

Favors Tax

Representative Reader of San Antonio, one of the members of the free conference committee, said he favored the tax because the nuisance features have been eliminated. Reader previously had opposed the tax.

Representative Long of Wichita Falls declared the tax would foster bootlegging of cigarets and put a penalty on the legitimate dealer. He also accused the corporation lobby of responsibility for the tax, saying "the lobby for the corporate interests has been dancing with glee since the free conference committee voted to levy the cigaret tax, because they knew other tax measures would be abandoned if the cigaret tax was levied.

"We ought to bring out the intangible assets tax and the tax on sulphur companies and place the burden of government on some one who can afford it and not on the man smoking cigarets," Long said.

Bust Of Robison To Be Put On Pedestal

MIDLAND, April 20—(Special)—Agreement has been made with Frank Teich, sculptor of Llano, to make a bust of J. T. Robison, lamented former land commissioner of Texas, to place on a pedestal in the Texas land office at Austin. The bust will cost $3,000 according to information sent W. P. Scarborough of Midland, president of the Robison Memorial association. J. H. Walker, present land commissioner; W. N. Waddell, Fort Worth, and Coke Stevenson, Junction, composed the selection committee. About half of the needed funds has been raised and Scarborough is appealing to friends of the late land commissioner to forward their checks either to him or to the treasurer, Roy Aldwell of Sonora, at once so work on the bust can be started.

ELIZABETH ARDEN'S PREPARATIONS ARE OF PRIMARY IMPORTANCE TO FASHION

"CONSIDER what HAPPENS behind your FACE!" says ELIZABETH ARDEN

"FACES are not the only things being relentlessly exposed by the abbreviated new hats. The back of the neck is coming into full view. As high collars give way to spring neck lines this will be only too apparent."

Begin at once to follow the counsels of Elizabeth Arden and be assured that every added inch of exposed throat or neck is added loveliness. Miss Arden can transform even backs-of-necks (usually so awkward) into something quite special and nice. Bleaching, softening and firming treatments will work wonders. Don't wait for the summer season to surprise and embarrass you. Start now to give yourself the simple care that will prepare you for the most revealing of hats, or frocks.

These are the preparations you should use, in accordance with the famous Elizabeth Arden home method of treatment:

● VENETIAN ANTI-BROWN SPOT OINTMENT—for promoting circulation—bleaching—A creamy, tingling ointment. . . . . $2.50, $5.

● ORANGE SKIN FOOD—for soothing and nourishing—keeps the skin full and firm, helps round out lines and hollows . . . . $1, $1.75, $2.75, $4.25, $8.

● VENETIAN MUSCLE OIL—for stimulating—a penetrating oil, rich in the elements which correct flabby muscles . . . . $1, $2.50, $4.

● VENETIAN SPECIAL ASTRINGENT—for tightening—lifts and strengthens the tissues, and restores the contours . . . . $2.25, $4.

● ARDEN VENETIAN PATTER—for firming—round and flat with unique flexibility of handle for accurate patting strokes . . . . $5.

RANSOM GIVEN TO CHINESE

TWO MISSIONARIES IN CENTRAL CHINA ARE FREED BY REDS

HANKOW, China, April 20 (AP)—Ransom demanded by captors of two American missionaries held by bandits or communists of central China has been paid and the missionaries have been released. Similar payment and release are expected in the case of a third.

The two released are the Rev. K. N. Tvedt, of St. Paul, American Lutheran United Mission missionary, held captive by Chinese communists near Hwangan, northern Hupeh, since last October 17, and the Rev. Allie Godfrey Lindholm, of Ortonville, Minn., of the Scandinavian Alliance mission at Kalgan, captured by bandits last Thursday.

Expected Shortly

A ransom of $10,000 Mexican and $5,000 in medical supplies was paid for release of Tvedt, who is expected in Hankow shortly, and of $2,500 in the case of Lindholm. A similar $10,000 ransom probably will be paid to secure the release of Bert Nelson, another Lutheran missionary captured at Kwangshan, Honan, last Oct. 5, and held with Tvedt at Hwangan.

Frank P. Lockhart, United States consul general at Hankow, today advised the Peiping legation that Miss Esther Norlund, 5255 North Sawyer avenue, Chicago, Miss August Nelson, and the Rev. Oscar Anderson, presumed Swedish, and all belonging to the Swedish Covenant mission, were captured by bandits at Kingchow, Huph, April 17.

It is a standing rule that missions do not ransom their representatives but it has been modified in the cases of Tvedt and Nelson at request of American officials, who had reports that they were being tortured.

Roads and bridges to be constructed at once in Italy will cost $10,000,000.

Bird-seed is being raised on 82,000 acres in Argentina.

PORTALES, N. M.—(Special)—Mrs. R. C. Briscoe has been advised by friends that a movie "White Renegade" in which she took an amateur's part when it was filmed in 1929, was shown recently at Roswell. The film is a talkie and Mrs. Briscoe spent five weeks with the company producing the picture while they were on location.

REELECT SCHOOL HEADS

DIMMITT — (Special) — G. M. Roberts, principal of the high school, and C. C. Bragg, principal of the grade school, were reelected by the school board. T. O. Weaver, vocational agriculture teacher, and other members of the faculty were reelected. Mrs. Luther G. Roberts declined because she is moving to Post to join her husband, a minister there.

LAY PLANS FOR BOYS' WEEK

OBSERVANCE WILL BE HELD HERE APRIL 25 TO MAY 2

Lubbock district committee of the South Plains Area Boy Scout church and outlined plans for obternoon at the First Presbyterian church and outlined lans for observance of national Boys' week, April 25 to May 2, according to D. T. Jennings, area executive.

A loyalty motif in connection with next Saturday's designation as loyalty day will be injected into the Friday night court of honor at the courthouse here. George W. Dupree, chairman of the court, will supervise arrangements for the observance.

Sunday has been designated as boys' day in church. Members of the Lubbock Ministerial association attended a called meeting at 10 o'clock this morning in the pastor's study at the First Methodist Episcopal church and decided to devote evening services next Sunday to boys. Dr. Jack M. Lewis, pastor of the First Presbyterian church and president of the Ministerial association, will have charge of general arrangements in that conection.

J. T. Trigg will be in charge of arrangements for next Monday—industry day—and boys will be escorted through Lubbock plants and operations explained to them.

Tuesday will be school day, M. H. Duncan, superintendent of schools, will arrange that day's observance.

Although Wednesday is called entertainment-and-athletics day on the national program, there will be no Boys' week activities here that day. Wednesday and Saturdy events being combined, Executive Jennings said.

Health-and-evening-at-home day is Thursday, and parents will be urged to spend the evening at home with their boys.

Friday is boys' day in citizenship. Mayor J. J. Clements will direct that day's program, which will include visits to departments of the city and county in City hall and the courthouse.

S. A. Henry will be in charge of Saturday's events. As Saturday is designated as out-of-doors day, programs of Wednesday and Saturday will be combined easily, Executive Jennings indicated.

Details of Saturday's program have not been determined. Coaches of Lubbock High school and Technoicgical college probably will supervise athletic events. Lubbock boys are scheduled to parade through the downtown section at 2 p. m., and boys from surrounding territory also will be invited to participate. The army of youngsters will march to the county park, where athletic events and other contests will be conducted.

A father-and-son meeting will be held at a Lubbock church Sunday, May 3, the district committee also decided.

R. D. Moxley, chairman of the committee, presided at Sunday's meeting. Other committee members present included:

T. A. White, Mr. Duncan, Mr. Trigg, Doctor Lewis, Mr. Henry, O. H. Cline, P. B. Williams, Mayor Clements and Mr. Dupree.

ROYALTY IS ON U. S. VISIT

KING AND QUEEN OF SIAM EN ROUTE TO WASHINGTON

PORTAL, N. D., April 20 (AP)—Speeding across North Dakota prairies, the king and queen of Siam got their first glimpse of the United States today.

En route to Washington and New York, King Prajadhipok, first reigning Asiatic monarch to visit the country, and Queen Rambai Barni gazed on vast stretches of wheat lands, much of it freshly sown with spring crops, as their special train carried them toward the end of their long journey.

Richard Southgate and Stanley Hornbeck, representing President Hoover and Secretary of State Stimson, respectively, extended greetings as their majesties arrived late last night at this international boundary town from Vancouver, B. C.

The king, who has been suffering from malaria and bronchitis since shortly before disembarking at Vancouver, appeared to be in fair good health as he received the official American reception committee but the queen failed to appear. She was reported ill with a cold.

After his arrival in Washington the king will go to New York to undergo an operation on his eyes which is the purpose of his long trip to this country.

LIFE IS AGAIN WORTH LIVING

Can Anyone Wonder Why These Texans Are Rejoicing That They Found Konjola

Sufferers want actual relief; not promises. Konjola, all its 29 ingredients working together, has brought glorious relief, times without number, after all else tried had failed.

Mrs. Texann Tennison

Think over the words of Mrs. Texann Tennison, 1101 N. Fifth street, Waco: "It was a lucky day when I found Konjola. After meals food soured and gas formed. I bloated terribly, and suffered for hours after every meal. But now, thanks to Konjola, I eat anything I like; this is the most wonderful medicine I ever took".

And see how Konjola came to the rescue of Mr. John M. Williamson, 3509 Worth street, Dallas, who declares: "For 40 years I had rheumatism in my right leg. Pain was almost unbearable, and for six weeks before I started on Konjola I could not work. I have taken four bottles of Konjola with miraculous results. All pain is gone, and my entire system has been built up."

Mr. John M. Williamson

Then think over the statement of Mrs. Mary F. Guhl, 1204 W. 25th street, Fort Worth: "After seven years of stomach trouble I was weak and run down and nervous. Gas pains followed meals and I lost weight and strength. Konjola gave me the surprise of my life. In four weeks I gained five pounds and felt like a new person. Both my husband and I think Konjola is wonderful."

Mrs. Mary F. Guhl

Now, what will you do about Konjola? Surely the experiences of tens of thousands should mean something to you. Resolve to put Konjola to the test. Demand Konjola, and refuse a substitute.

WALKER READY WITH ANSWER

NEW YORK MAYOR IS FACING ANOTHER ATTACK TODAY

NEW YORK, April 20 (AP)—Mayor Walker's defense of his administration was ready for delivery to Governor Roosevelt today, but scarcely had it been finished than he found himself subjected to attack from a new quarter.

The latest criticism came from the city affairs committee of the National Republican club, which charged "breakdown and demoralization of the city government." The first bill of complaint filed with the governor—that to which the mayor has drawn up his reply—originated with the city affairs committee, a group which has no relation to the Republican club despite a similarity in names. Both called on the governor to remove the mayor from office.

Flays Private Life

The report of the committee of the Republican club attacks the mayor in his private life as well as in his official position.

"There have been two troubles with Mayor Walker," the report reads. "In the first place he has, as the world knows, given little time or attention to his job.

"He has joked, junketed to race tracks, sat up all night at wild parties, entertained Hollywood and ignored the city's problems. We have no concern with Mayor Walker's private escapades except in so far as they interfere with his public duties. The mayor of New York has no right to allow the vagaries of his private life to interfere with reasonable attention to the responsibilities of his great office."

The second objection to the mayor, the report said, is that he "is an integral part of a political machine which is interested in building up its own power and filling the pockets of its members rather than in governing the city well."

Hale Center Plans Relief Work Soon

HALE CENTER, April 20.—(Special)—A drive to obtain funds for relief work here will be started soon and the chamber of commerce has named a committee to aid women of the town in the work. Gene Hammett and Taylor Smithee were chosen for the work.

Mrs. J. R. Weiss is head of the women's committee. Heretofore the chamber of commerce has been handling some of the expense, W. G. Sears reported.

Roger Pinson, treasurer of the chamber of commerce, was named custodian of the fund.
