VOLUME XVI

MUENSTER, COOKE COUNTY, TEXAS,

AUGUST 8, 1952

NO. 38

As you're driving these days just notice how many cars have that safety inspection label on the lower right corner of the windshield. Not a very good percentage, is it? Especially in view of the fact that the deadline is less than a month away?

It seems this thing is developing just as lots of people said it would. No matter how much time car owners have to comply with the law, a large number of them will be caught short. Last spring there were complaints that there was not enough time for everyone to have his inspection before the deadline. So the deadline was obligingly postponed until Sept. 6. Now we're back where we started. Again the time is too short to have all remaining cars inspected.

What's more people don't seem very disturbed about it. There's no booming inspection business going on, at least not around here.

Could it be that we're about to see a general disregard of the law on the pretext that it's so unpopular it won't be enforced anyway? There's talk of repealing it, you know. Even Governor Shivers put himself on record as being against it and urging its repeal.

Since sentiment seems to lean that way it is likely that the law will be taken off our books. And if that does happen you can take it for granted that human cussedness, not the principle of the law, was at fault. Nobody can deny that it's a good idea to take mechanical hazards off the road. Too many accidents have been traced to them. But the difficulty comes in correcting faults. There are car owners who want to cut corners and inspection stations that get too finicky. Besides there are poor folks who would have to quit their ancient models because they can't afford to bring them up to standard. Those things add up to a lot of gripes. So a reasonable law is up for repeal because we can't make it work.

Whether repealed or not, however, the general idea is still a good one for us to observe. A safety inspection once every year is well worth the price. It's a good investment in both personal and car insurance. It may avoid injury or serious car trouble or both.

Shades of 1861! Another revolt below the Mason Dixon line seems to be in the making. Less than a week after the Democratic national convention, hailed by some of its enthusiasts as having left practically no political scars, we begin to notice that the rash of a week earlier has started to break out in profuse festering. Southerners are work-up a first class grudge over the inhospitable treatment given them by Northern radicals at Chicago.

It isn't just a trifle that influential newspapers who supported the donkey party for most of a century have announced their support of General Ike. It's just as significant that some state democratic organizations are thinking of endorsing the Republican nominees as Conservative or Independent Democrats. Before this is all over the smart alecs of the Lehman-Humphrey-Moody click may discover that their arbitrary and radical sledge hammer politicking wasn't so wise after all. They took over the party, all right, but what's left of it now?

According to yours truly's guess, this is shaping up into some of the best political news of the country. Prospects for a change are getting better. At last we have fairly good grounds for a hope that socialism, bureaucracy, corruption, racial agitation, extravagance, red pampering and other official outrages will come to an end on the Potomac. We find equal encouragement in the prospect that the South may at last vote Republican and break out of its political bondage. Until now we've been ignored by one party and taken for granted by the other. Neither gave a hoot what happened to us. But all that will change after we prove just once that we can and will express our resentment in

Mothers To Collect For Sisters' Range

Members of the Saint Anne's Society will solicit contributions for a new range as a community gift for the local Beneficent Sisters. They announced their plans at the society's regular meeting Sunday night.

The range as a gift was decided on instead of the usual pantry shower given each September for the Sisters because it is most urgently needed.

Members of the sponsor group will be at the church doors on Friday, Aug. 15, and again on Sunday, Aug. 17, to receive donations. In addition contributions may be made directly to Sister Canisia or may be deposited in several containers that will be placed in local business houses.

Six Hundred Pounds Clothing Shipped By Mission Circle

Mrs. Joe Swirczynski, co-chairman of the Mission Sewing Circle sponsored by the local court Catholic Daughters of America, announced Friday that she shipped six hundred pounds of clothing to the needy.

The articles were divided into three groups and were tagged for three destinations.

Two hundred and fifty pounds were sent to an Indian Mission in North Dakota, 200 pounds went to St. Paul's Mission Clinic in Dallas, and 150 pounds were dispatched to the Central Bureau in New York for further distribution.

The sponsor group conducts its clothing drive the year 'round. All items are contributed by members of the community and may be left at any time at the homes of Mrs. Ben Hellman or Mrs. Swirczynski. The sponsor group also supervises mending and remodeling of articles, if needed at regular intervals.

Embry and Letson Added as Teachers

Meeting Tuesday night, the local school board appointed two teachers, one for math, the other for English and speech, and from applications on file selected two to be interviewed for commercial subjects and librarian. The final appointment of the third teacher will be made this week, Superintendent Weldon Cowan said.

J. C. Embry Jr. of Saint Jo will teach mathematics. He has been a teacher in Saint Jo, Nacoma and Honey Grove.

George Letson will be in charge of English and speech. His home is in Fort Worth and he is now in summer school. He will receive his degree on August 22.

Embry and Letson are both married and each has two children. They will move to Muenster as soon as living quarters can be secured.

News of Sick And Injured

Shirley Walterscheid had her tonsils removed at the local clinic Saturday.

Herman Hartman underwent a tonsillectomy at the local clinic Monday morning.

Linda Kay, 4-year-old daughter of the Gene Hoedebecks, was dismissed from Gainesville Sanitarium Thursday evening after being a patient for treatment of a throat infection.

Billy Frank Richter spent most of this week in bed on account of illness.

Robert Spurgeon, five year old son of the Alfred Spurgeons of Oklahoma City, and grandson of the Fred Hoedebecks, is confined to a hospital suffering from third degree burns. The youngster and his mother were tending a trash fire at the time of the accident. Robert had just finished washing his hands in gasoline when flames from the fire leaped to the gasoline and ignited his clothing. Latest reports advised that he would be hospitalized five or six weeks. His mother is the former Anna Hoedebeck of this city.

Mr. Eberhart Retires As Mail Messenger

After 32 years of faithful service as Muenster's mail messenger, John Eberhart has retired. Failing health forced him to give up the work. He will observe his 85th birthday on August 24.

Extremes of heat and cold, rain and snow never kept Mr. Eberhart from making his twice daily trips from the postoffice to the depot to meet the Katy passengers for the mail. He greeted engineers, baggage coach attendants, mail clerks and conductors by their first names, and they in turn affectionately called him John.

He was absent from his route during the 32 years only on rare occasions due to illness. He was seldom sick. He made his last delivery of mail on June 16.

Since August 1 he is being replaced on the route by R. R. Endres. Until that appointment was made Joe Swingler served as messenger.

Community Band Has 25 Members

With 25 members signed up and regular practice sessions in progress, the Community Band is off to an encouraging start, according to Director Bill Searcy.

At their initial meeting last Friday members selected their instruments and arranged the rehearsal schedule. The band is meeting every Monday, Wednesday, and Friday at 2 in the afternoon and again at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium. Present sessions consist principally of individual instruction and group instrument practice.

Searcy is looking forward to a 30-piece band as a beginner, and hopes it will work up into 50 pieces. Several who are interested in belonging are being delayed due to farm work.

Present enrollment is entirely made up of school age children from both schools.

A number of adults, who have previous band experience have expressed their intention of enrolling in the near future.

Searcy invites interested persons to join as soon as possible. He said there are still openings on clarinet, trombone, trumpet, flute and cornet, and larger instruments such as baritone, French horn and bass horn.

Community owned instruments will rent for $10 per semester or $20 for a full year. The funds derived from the rent of instruments will be used for repairs at the end of the year. If repairs are not necessary, or amount to less than the rental fund, the money will go into a fund to buy uniforms, or sheet music, Searcy said.

Saint John's Parish Will Sponsor Annual Picnic Fri., Aug. 15

St. John's parish of Valley View has completed plans for its annual picnic to be held Friday, August 15, announced Rev. Thomas Weinzapfel, pastor and general chairman, this week.

The event, to be held on the church grounds will begin at 5 o'clock with a baked ham supper and will continue during the evening featuring refreshments and entertainment for all age groups. Everyone is invited to attend.

Open Air Dance Is New Church Benefit

A western style dance with music by The Twilights will be held on the open air dance platform at the parish picnic grounds next Wednesday night, Aug. 13. It will be a benefit, sponsored by the local CDA court, for the new church fund.

Levis and blue jeans, calicos and gingham will be the "formal" attire of those attending, and the sponsor group invites a large attendance. Members are this week working on an advance ticket sale. They also gave assurance that the dancing surface of the platform will be "slick as glass".

The dance will begin at 9 o'clock. Tickets are $1.25 a couple.

Mother and Child, Stricken by Polio

Muenster's third and fourth cases of polio in recent weeks made their appearances late last Wednesday.

Mrs. Marcus Fuhrmann, 23, and her three year old daughter, Margie are in an isolation ward at St. Vincent's Hospital in Sherman. Mrs. Fuhrmann is the mother of four small children.

She became ill Wednesday afternoon July 30, and was admitted to the Sherman hospital after Gainesville doctors reported that she had symptoms of polio. She was unable to gain admittance to Dallas or Fort Worth hospitals which were overtaxed with polio patients.

Later the same day the little girl became ill with the same symptoms and was also taken to St. Vincent's.

Members of the family who are visiting the hospital almost every day reported Wednesday that Margie's fever broke Monday and she is not paralyzed. Mrs. Fuhrmann's fever broke Tuesday and paralysis has set in on the right side from the waist down. Both patients are able to take nourishment.

First visitors admitted into the room were permitted to see the patients this Wednesday. They were Mrs. Fuhrmann's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lueb of Kenefic, Okla.

Miss Florence Fette, who was stricken with polio on July 8, remains about the same in St. Paul's Hospital in Dallas. Throat paralysis began loosening up last week and braces were put on her paralyzed legs.

Mrs. Tony Hacker, 26, who was afflicted with polio in May and was given iron lung treatment, is making satisfactory progress at home. She has regained considerable use of her arms and hands, but still wears shoulder braces for about four hours each day. She will go back to Dallas Sunday for a check-up.

The monthly Cooke County Baptist Workers Conference was held here at the First Baptist church Monday with about 100 persons in attendance.

The program featured five outstanding speakers including Rev. W. V. Myres of Fort Worth who was the principal speaker.

The conferences began at 10 a.m. and concluded at 2 p.m.

At 12 noon ladies of the host church served dinner to those present.

City Council Favors Marking Main Street For Better Parking

In an effort to encourage systematic parking and better Main-street traffic habits, the city council at its meeting Monday night approved the marking of parking stalls at curbs between Division street and Third, the business district, and at Sacred Heart church.

The markings of yellow paint will be made at about a 45 degree angle on both sides of Main in the designated zones.

Steve Moster will supervise the work as soon as he confers with State Highway officials regarding the standard width of the stalls and other technicalities. Restricted parking areas at fire hydrants will also be marked. Stripes there will be horizontal.

Randy Bayer Gets Eagle Scout Rating

Randy Bayer is Muenster's first Boy Scout to qualify for the coveted Eagle Scout rating. Scoutmaster Nick Miller reported after Randy passed all the tests before a Circuit 10 Council Board of Review in Gainesville.

Randy has an enviable record of achievement in scouting since he became a tenderfoot in January 1947. He entered second class scouting the following year in August, and became a first class scout in September 1948. He won the Star Scout rating in October 1949 and the Life Scout rating in January this year.

Showing signs of leadership early, he was made a patrol leader after only a month with the troop. He became a crew leader in November 1949, and since January of this year is Junior Assistant Scoutmaster. In addition he has qualified for 21 merit badges and received the Ad Altarae award.

Scoutmaster Miller said that appropriate ceremonies will be held in connection with the presentation of the Eagle Scout award at a later date.

Randy, who graduated from Sacred Heart high school last May, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bayer.

'52 Through July Sets Dry Record

Rainfall records kept by Steve Moster for the U. S. Weather Bureau reveal that 1952 to date has set a dry record. Moster's daily tabulations date back through 1946 when he took over the government's official rain gauge here.

Total moisture this year, January through July, was 16.53 inches, 2.83 inches short of last year's precipitation for the same period.

During the six-year period, only two Julys, in 1947 and 1949, were drier than July 1952. Total rainfall in July measured 1.53 inches. In '49 it was .48 and in '47 it was .02.

This community's last good rain was recorded on May 27 and measured 1.51 inches. The last good soaker was on Sept. 9, 1951, when 2.11 inches were recorded for a 24 hour period.

The comparative schedule for the first seven months of the year, 1951-1946, shows the following rainfall: 1951-19.36; 1950-28.18; 1949-21.42; 1948-23.86; 1947-22.54; 1946-26.19.

Angry clouds Tuesday afternoon sent hopes high for a good drought-breaking soaker but they blew themselves out, dropping only .10 of an inch of rain, barely enough to settle the dust. A cooling breeze dropped 100-degree temperatures for a few hours during the afternoon bringing short relief from the heat. Tuesday a searing wind from the east sent the mercury back over the 100 mark.

EDITOR LEAVES TOWN

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Fette and his mother, Mrs. Henry Fette, left last Thursday morning for a 10-day vacation visit with their brother and son, Emmet Fette and family in Douglas, Ariz. Enroute they spent Thursday night with the C. W. Ratliffs in Lubbock. While his parents are away, little David Fette is staying with his grandparents, the Ben Lukes.

City Sets All-Time High Record For Water Use in July

Muenster residents set an all-time high record for water consumption in July, Steve Moster, city waterworks superintendent, reported at a meeting of the city council Monday night. His report, presented once a month to the council at its regular meeting, covered the period of June 15 to July 15.

The report showed that three million gallons of water passed through city mains during the 30 day period. On that basis the city was furnishing each man, woman and child in Muenster with a little more than 100 gallons of water every 24 hours.

Temperatures of over 100 degrees during an extremely dry period account for the large increase in water consumption. Water type air conditioners, lawns, shrubbery, flower beds and gardens are requiring more water than is needed in normal years.

Fortunately Muenster is without water problems this summer. There has been no need for rationing and no calls to conserve water. Residents are permitted to use all they want.

Moster said pumping facilities have not been taxed to full capacity at any time during the drought nor does he have to wait for night time for tanks and reservoir to reach full capacity. The two city wells are staying well ahead of the consumers.

Barring an unforeseen major break-down, city residents can continue using all the water they want through a continued summer's drought, Moster said.

Four Escape Injury In Two Collisions

Four young people were in two separate collisions of a similar nature early this week when their cars collided with the rear ends of trucks. No serious injury resulted.

Miss Rosalee Fuhrman and her companions, Misses Ethel Bayer and Patsy Gremminger escaped injury when the 1949 Plymouth, driven by Miss Fuhrman, collided with a truck at the intersection of West California and Weaver streets in Gainesville at about 8:50 a.m. Tuesday. Damage to the automobile was estimated at $150. Damage to the truck, driven by H. B. Strader, 54, of Era, was negligible.

Melvin Schumacher of route 1, Gainesville, received minor injuries Sunday shortly after midnight when the 1952 Dodge he was driving collided with the rear of a loaded hay truck a mile south of Gainesville on highway 77. He received treatment for cuts and lacerations on both hands and face at Gainesville Sanitarium. Damage to his car was estimated at $1,100. The trucker, from Pauls Valley, Okla., was not hurt and damage to his truck was slight.

Money to Burn!

They say there's a Maharajah or something in Asia who is paid as much in gold as he weighs. No doubt he has money to burn. But for us ordinary people money is pretty hard to come by.

That's why bank savings are so important, because when money is put in a bank it draws interest. The Maharajah needn't worry about interest, but we ordinary folks can't overlook this either.

Don't let your money go up in smoke. Put it in a savings account.

The American Way

DECIDE FOR YOURSELF
By DeWitt Emery

Again this year the "payroll vote" will have an important bearing on the outcome of the presidential election in November. Anyone who attempts to minimize this vote or pass it off with a wave of his hand as not being worthy of consideration is just plain silly. On the other hand, those politicians who are counting on this vote being delivered to them en masse simply because they are running on the Democratic ticket are apt to have a rude awakening come November 5—the morning after.

Here's a sample of the "payroll vote" in action. The three decisive states in the '48 election were California, Illinois and Ohio. In '48 there were 203,100 federal employees in California, 99,300 in Illinois and 79,800 in Ohio. Truman carried these states by a majority of 35,512 in California, 31,196 in Illinois and 8,451 in Ohio.

In April, 1952, there were 257,900 federal employees in California, 112,300 in Illinois and 103,600 in Ohio. In the '48 election 49% of the qualified voters did not vote. This election was won, or lost whichever you prefer, by default. This must not happen in '52.

It is a political maxim that each federal job is good for four votes for the party in power, also that everyone who receives benefits of any sort from the federal government plus their families will vote for the party which provides those benefits. If this were true, there wouldn't be any use holding a national election since with 18 million people regularly receiving checks from the federal government and 6 million more receiving checks regularly from state funds to which the federal treasury contributes, the outcome of the election would never be in doubt from the time the campaign started until the votes were counted.

Fortunately for those of us who pay in the money to cash all these federal checks it has never been possible for the new deal politicians, even though they tried hard and have used every trick they can think of to deliver this vote in toto to the candidates of their party. Most of these people, like members of labor unions, are not sheep who blindly follow wherever they are led, but rather they are free-born Americans who think for themselves and in the privacy of the voting booth make their own decisions and vote accordingly. That very definitely is as it should be.

There are unmistakable evidences that more and more people, those who work for the government or receive federal benefits as well as union members, farmers, housewives, veterans, white collar workers and others are realizing the necessity for looking facts in the face.

The number one fact they have to face is that our federal government has been in the red for nineteen out of the last twenty-one years.

The number two fact is that no individual, nor family, no company nor any government can go on year after year indefinitely spending more than it takes in without going broke. They are asking themselves, "If the government goes broke, what happens to my job; what happens to my benefits?"

Is the government going to go broke? Probably not this year or next, but there's no use kidding ourselves. If we keep on covering this country and most of the world with a shower of greenbacks, the bubble is going to burst and we'll be flat broke, all monetary values of every kind and character will be entirely wiped out. Then what? Your guess is as good as mine.

The opposing candidates for President and Vice President, the Senate and the House, among other things, are going to

by Loretta Young, Hollywood Star

WHEN I WAS 16 years old I had been a motion picture star for two years. I grew up in motion pictures, having appeared in my first picture at the age of four. At 16, therefore, I was well accustomed to the elaborate rewards of the industry. So accustomed that they seemed normal—not colossal.

One of my prerogatives, I thought, was to follow my desires with uncomplicated forthrightness. To wish was to do—to want was to have. I hadn't discovered that wisdom and impulse are not synonymous.

I hadn't, as a matter of fact, discovered wisdom at all. I floated along—taking blessings for granted, privileges as my due, praise as a matter of course. And I was greedy for all of them.

ONE DAY a priest spoke the words that started my adult education. But at the time he spoke, I crisply challenged his words, quite confident of my "wisdom." It is my good fortune that, being a wise man, he did not treat me as a motion picture star, but as a sixteen-year-old, racing blindly along a blinding road.

He said to me, "Loretta, you know that God didn't give you this talent for your pleasure, or for your ego. Don't you know that He gave you this talent to develop it, and use it, for His greater glory?"

"All your gifts—talent, opportunity, attractiveness—carry with them an extra responsibility. You may not be careless of the position you have as a gift from God. Whether you like it or not, you are an example to others.

"Don't forget that, Loretta. And remember that you dare not be a BAD example."

I WAS SUDDENLY a bewildered young girl. Resentful, intolerant of the unwelcome obligation, but intuitively aware of the inevitability of accepting it. And I did accept it!

With the perspective its acceptance gave me, I appraised my life for what it was—a singularly fortunate life. I thank God for the resultant permanent appreciation of His gifts, for the permanent awareness of the good I could do in life.

LORETTA YOUNG

From that day my understanding of the priest's words was clear — my course was clear too. I have tried to work as a lay apostle; to use the medium of my profession for the fullest influence upon people—all people—the good and the bad.

I HAVE NOT tried to travel it under the direction of my judgment alone. I have constantly prayed for God's help in my personal as well as my professional life.

have a lot to say about big spending versus economy, deficit financing versus balanced budgets. Listen carefully to both sides, then on election day vote your own personal convictions, keeping in mind that unless you tell them, it is impossible—absolutely impossible—for anyone to find out how you voted.

TB and the X-Ray Bus

Time was when the TB victim innocently walked the streets of his town undetected—and undetectable.

For who had the millionaire's pocketbook to pay for examining a whole town of a thousand people to sieve out one possible victim?

Now comes the x-ray bus, able to be TB detective for whole cities, for a few pennies a person. Millions of people now have their TB worries erased when the doctor says "Okay."

How long did it take to get the x-ray bus? Well, for its part, General Electric had been working on x rays for 57 years. Costs of diagnosis have come down by better and better equipment. No year passes without some new development. So this was another big chapter in a long book of events.

Notice the nice way these buses get into service. They are usually purchased by voluntary contributions of plain people trying to get a job done.

It is always hard to write a definition of the "American Way." But this hand-in-hand achievement of state and national health associations, General Electric, and the local communities comes close to being a perfect example.

Old Age Checks Go Up $5 in October

All persons receiving Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind will get a $5 increase in their grants beginning in October, according to Ted Langdon, Field Worker for the State Department of Public Welfare. Exceptions will be those who are receiving both Old Age Assistance and Old Age and Survivors Insurance, since the automatic increase will be received by them through Social Security. A lesser increase will be available for youngsters who are receiving Aid to Dependent Children.

This increase in grants is provided for by recent Congressional Legislation which raised the federal contribution $5 beginning in October. This now makes a maximum grant of $55 instead of $50 available for Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind. Naturally, this does not mean that everyone will receive the maximum grant of $55 any more than they are now receiving the maximum grant of $50. The amount of each grant is determined by the basic recognized needs of the individual less his income, and varies according to the individual situation. It simply means that beginning in October no grant can go higher than $55 instead of $50.

To assure that each eligible person on the Old Age Assistance and Aid to the Blind rolls gets the full amount of the increase the first month it is available, John H. Winters, Executive Director of the Welfare Department, has ordered that checks beginning in October be written for $5 more than the amount authorized on that date.

Mr. Langdon explained that since these increases are to be automatically taken care of in Austin, it will not be necessary to get in touch with the local or Austin office of the State Welfare Department. By way of illustration, an aged person who is not receiving Old Age and Survivors Insurance and has been getting, for example, $34 Old Age Assistance will receive $39 beginning in October.

Soil Conservation Notes

Terrace building operations are well under way among co-operators of the Upper Elm-Red Soil Conservation district in the Muenster area according to technicians of the local SCS work unit.

Terracing is one of man's oldest methods of halting erosion on sloping plow-land by shortening long slopes and forcing the water to move slowly from the field. In earlier days it was too often the only weapon used to protect cultivated land from the damaging erosion caused by runoff water.

Today, deep-rooted legumes and grasses are used with terraces to keep the soil covered and to aid the soil in absorbing more of the rainfall. Thus terraces have become one of the many important tools in the battle to prevent erosion. They fit in well with a coordinated conservation program designed for the treatment of each acre of farmland in accordance with its needs for protection and improvement.

Tony Walterscheid is constructing two miles of terraces on his farm seven miles north-east of Muenster. He is using a three-disc plow and the island method of construction to build the terraces. They will outlet onto a Bermuda grass waterway.

Near Muenster Bruno Fleitman is building a mile and a half of channel type terraces in the field just east of his home. These terraces will empty onto a waterway that Bruno, sodded two years ago.

Eddie Fleitman is giving terraces a face-lifting on the farm he operates six miles north of Muenster. The terraces had become so small that they lost a lot of their water-carrying capacity. Eddie is giving them a good maintenance plowing to bring them back up to par.

Frank Haverkamp is building three miles of terraces on his farm and on the adjoining farm he leases east of Myra. These outlet onto well established pasture grasses and protect some 70 acres of land from erosions.

At Hood, Cecil Welch is building a mile of terraces and Jim Southard is working on two miles of terraces. Both are using farm equipment to construct broad easy-to-cross terraces. They all empty on waterway pasture strips sodded to handle excess water run-off.

Clover seed harvest has almost come to a close around Muenster. Yields were considerably less this year due to dry weather and high winds during and just before harvest. Nevertheless some of the co-operators managed to get the clover seed into the combine hopper.

Some of those who reported Madrid Sweet Clover seed harvested are Wilfred Reiter, 2000 pounds, Oscar Walter, 700; Henry Wiesman, 1500; J. A. Rohmer, 3000; Alfred Bayer, 2200; Ike Fulton, 1200; Joe Knauf, 2500; Ray Klement, 600; Alois Trubenbach, about 2000 pounds.

Those harvesting biennial white sweet clover seed include Charles Schmitt, 900 pounds and Joe Hoenig 800 pounds. W. H. Endres and Eddie Fleitman are still busy with their seed harvest and cleaning operations.

GLORIA AND GARY GIEB SHARE HONORS AT PARTY

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Gieb entertained at their home Wednesday evening with a party honoring their children, Gloria and Gary, in observance of their birthdays.

Gifts, games and refreshments made it an enjoyable occasion.

Mrs. Gieb served birthday cake, ice cream and cold drinks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Herron, Misses Clara Mae and Henrietta Sicking, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Trubenbach and children, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Gieb and children and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nortman and daughter, Dorothy Mae of Lindsay, were guests.

J. W. Hesses Return From Soil Award Trip

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Hess and daughters, Helen and Rosina returned Thursday from an automobile trip through several states where Mr. Hess inspected soil conservation practices and where he and his family combined sight-seeing with soil saving tours.

The trip was a gift to Mr. Hess as an award for being Texas' outstanding soil conservation district supervisor for 1951. It was given by the Texas Bank and Trust company of Dallas.

Mr. Hess is preparing a report of his findings for SCS records but does not have it completed at this writing.

Reporting a most enjoyable time, the family recalled some of the high spots of the tour. They visited 13 states, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska, South Dakota, Wyoming, Montana, Idaho, Washington, Oregon, Utah, Colorado, New Mexico and Texas.

At Bison, Okla., they visited a lovely Fatima Shrine; in Omaha, Neb., they inspected Father Flanagan's Boys Home, and at Yankton, S. D., they visited a beautiful church, just completed, that was designed by the same architect who is designing Muenster's new Sacred Heart church.

In South Dakota they saw the Bad Lands and the Black Hills with Mt. Rushmore as its chief point of interest. They visited Yellow Stone Park, drove over Shoshone Pass and Shell Canyon in Wyoming. At Yellowstone, along with beautiful scenery they encountered rain and sleet.

In Spokane, Wash., they visited Mrs. Hess' brother and family, the Joe Klements. The Klements joined them on a tour of Coulee Dam and irrigated lands. In Washington state they admired vast expanses of wheat. They continued through Pendleton, Oregon, Boise, Idaho and Salt Lake City, Utah, then went sight seeing to places of tourist interest in Colorado. In Carlsbad they made a tour of the Caverns, and in Austin they visited the State Capitol where Mr. Hess transacted business. They also paid a visit to Mrs. Hess' childhood home near Austin, and visited her sister and family, the Clem Schumachers in Sunray.

You will never "find" time; if you want time, you must make it.

Executive: Get my broker right away, Miss Smith.
Secretary: Which one, sir, stock or pawn?

And then there was the moron who wanted to die in church so he shot himself in the temple.

A young man stared into the mirror one morning and noting his blood-shot eyes, resolved never to go into a bar again. "That television," he muttered, "is ruining my eyes."

Not doing more than the average is what keeps the average down.

The future always holds something for the man who keeps his faith in it.

Wilfred Klement is Named Farm Boy of The Month for July

Wilfred Klement has been named Farm Boy of the Month of July and has received a $25 cash award from the Gainesville Register, sponsor of the contest.

Wilfred, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Klement, is making a success in one of the county's fastest growing industries — the grade A dairy farm. The Klement family lives on a 226 acre farm about five miles northwest of Muenster.

Wilfred, who is determined to attend Texas A & M College and study veterinary medicine, is in his third year in the Muenster high school FFA chapter. He received the coveted Lone Star Farmer degree, highest state honor awarded by the FFA, at a recent state convention of the organization in Dallas.

Young Klement recognizes the importance of the dairy industry to the county and has entered wholeheartedly into his father's grade A business.

Starting off three years ago with a single heifer for which he paid $225, Wilfred now has three registered Jersey milk cows and a registered heifer.

Since his father built his modern grade A barn last February, the boy weighs and markets the milk from his own cows and maintains an accurate check on the feed consumption and milk production of his animals.

He now values his holdings at $1,700, including an estimated value of $800 for his dairy animals. His profits from his cows during the past year has been approximately $250.

At the present time, the youth is concentrating solely on his dairy business, but since entering the FFA program he has also enjoyed success with swine projects.

Under the direction of his FFA instructor, Raph Maglaughlin, Klement has been consistently active in the Muenster chapter of which he was president for 1951-52. His offices in the chapter have included those of reporter and secretary.

He has also served as both third vice-president and secretary for the district FFA organization.

Recognizing the value of fairs and dairy shows, Wilfred has entered livestock in most of the area shows and the Cooke county fair and has represented his FFA chapter on several judging teams, in both local and state competition.

Despite his work with the FFA chapter and his daily chores in the dairy barn, Wilfred finds time to take an active part in athletics at Muenster high school.

A letterman at left end on the Hornet team of 1951, he has been elected co-captain of the team for the coming year.

During the past year Wilfred received the Balfour award as the outstanding vocational agriculture student in Muenster high school, and is now preparing for his fourth year in FFA work.

As has been true with every youth receiving the Farm Boy of the Month award this year, Wilfred enjoys the complete cooperation of his family in his various projects.

It is the second time this year that a Muenster boy has been selected for the honor. Donald Bayer, Sacred Heart school 4-H club member, won the title for the month of April. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bayer.

They say that Noah on the ark was the first crooked poker player—for didn't he stack the deck with pairs.

A North Texas newspaper recently ran the following item: "A roaring twister last Saturday carried of Harry Brown's house and furniture — and all three of his children are missing. Neighbors donated a new bed to give Harry and his wife a fresh start."

Mr. and Mrs. William Koerner and children of Pilot Point spent Sunday visiting her parents, the Frank Bindels, and other relatives.

Theresa Fuhrmann, A. J. Huchton Marry In Lindsay Tuesday

Miss Theresa Fuhrmann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Fuhrmann of Lindsay, became the bride of A. J. Huchton, son of Mrs. Catherine Huchton of Muenster, in nuptial services held Tuesday morning at 8 o'clock in Saint Peter's church.

Rev. Conrad Herda performed the double ring ceremony and was officiant of the nuptial high mass. The altar before which the couple exchanged their vows was adorned with asters and glads and greenery.

Mrs. W. J. Schmitz, organist, played the pre-nuptial music and presented the wedding marches. She remained at the organ to assist the church choir in singing the mass.

The bride wore a lovely ballerina length gown of white lace over satin. It was designed with a moulded bodice and bouffant skirt, peter pan collar and long sleeves. Scallops accented the sleeve tips and the hem line.

Her tiered veil of illusion fell from a scalloped headress of white satin embedded with rhinestones and seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a gold cross and chain, a gift from the groom.

She carried her flowers, an orchid and valley lilies, on top of a white prayer book.

Mrs. Frank Stoffels attended her sister as maid of honor and Miss Mary Nell Hellman was bridesmaid. Their ballerina length frocks of green and yellow net, respectively, over matching taffeta featured bouffant skirts and fitted waists topped with short bolero jackets. They wore matching nylon mitts and halo hats and carried bouquets of pink roses. Their rhinestone necklaces and ear rings were gifts from the bride.

The groom's attendants were Frank Stoffels and Herbie Herr.

Little Miss Peggy Joyce Hellman niece of the groom, was ring bearer. Her dress of white net over satin was designed to duplicate the dresses of the maid of honor and bridesmaid.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Fuhrmann wore a navy dress with matching accessories. The groom's mother also wore a navy ensemble with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of white mums.

Immediately after the church services a wedding breakfast was served in the home of the groom's brother-in-law and sister, the Clarence Hellmans, to members of the bridal party. The bride's colors of white, green and yellow, were noted in the decorative scheme.

At noon the bride's parents were hosts for dinner in their home for immediate members of both families.

In the afternoon a reception, followed by a buffet supper, was held in the lunch room at Lindsay school. About 150 persons were guests. Miss Emma Grace Stoffels presided at the bride's book. The bride's table carried out her tri-color scheme and held a three-tier decorated cake flanked by white tapers and arrangements of glads.

A wedding dance in the Lindsay parish hall concluded the day's festivities.

After the dance Mr. and Mrs. Huchton left by car on a wedding trip to Colorado. When they return they will make their home in Muenster. For traveling the bride wore a navy and beige two-piece suit of silk shantung with navy accessories. Her corsage was the orchid she carried for the wedding.

She is a graduate of Lindsay high school. He attended school in Muenster and served in the army during world war II with overseas duty in the European theatre. He engages in oil field work as a driller.

Out of town relatives at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Flusche of Denison.

Mrs. John Block received medical treatment at M&S Hospital during the week.

Sister Anna Rose, daughter of the Jake Bezners, has gone from San Antonio to Houston where she will teach in St. Anne's school when the term opens. This is her first year at Houston. She taught in St. John's school in Fayetteville for six years.

Mrs. Eleanor Fuhrmann spent several days of last week in Dallas with her sister, Miss Rita Hoenig.

Mrs. Will Walterscheid, the Oscar Walters and Lawrence Wimmers left Wednesday for a visit in Hereford with the Frank Walterscheid family.

Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer has been dismissed from M&S Hospital following major surgery and is convalescing nicely at her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Neu went to Weatherford Thursday for an overnight stay with the Joe Bierschenks. They were accompanied home Friday by their daughter, Ann Doris, who visited the Bierschenks, the Shorty Gremmings, and the J. W. Wrights for the past two weeks.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. Norbert Zimmerer, joined by her family, wishes to thank all her relatives and friends who remembered her with get-well cards, letters, flowers and visits during her recent stay in the hospital.

votes. Then we'll have respect for both parties.

It doesn't take the seventh son of a seventh son to realize that the Democrats pulled colossal faux pas in their nomination. A little judgment should have told them that a conservative of Russell's caliber was a wiser selection than an administration favorite. Being slightly to the left of Ike in policy, he stood a better chance of holding Democratic votes, especially in the South. Stevenson, much farther to the left, is due to lose the support of conservatives in his party everywhere along with outraged Southerners. As for running mate Sparkman, the outlook isn't much better. He's just another administration Amen shouter, a renegade Southerner.

The Fair Deal boys are quite proud of the dish they've concocted, but will they like its flavor in November?
