MOTHER AND 3 KIDDIES DRIVEN INTO BLIZZARD

FATHER HELD AFTER TWO CHILDREN DIE FROM STARVATION AND EXPOSURE

(By The Associated Press)

LAKEVIEW, Ore., Mar. 15.—Driven from a barren home by the threat of starvation to be trapped in a blizzard, two small children were frozen to death near here and the storm had all but taken the lives of the mother and a third child when a posse rescued them late last night.

The mother, Mrs. D. W. Amburger, left their shack in the mountains last Saturday in search of food while the husband and father was in Lakeview. Shortly after they started a terrific blizzard broke over the mountains.

Last and helpless, the mother stood between her children and the storm, but she could do little, when the posse arrived the two older children, 10 and 5 years old, were dead. The mother was frozen to the knees and the third child was in a critical condition from hunger and exposure. They had been in the storm 36 hours.

Amburger was later taken into custody pending an investigation.

DEFENSE LOSES SINCLAIR PLEA OF NOT GUILTY

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—A motion of the defense for an instructed verdict of not guilty in the contempt case of Harry F. Sinclair was overruled today Justice Hughes in the District of Columbia supreme court.

Counsel for the oil man, who refused to answer certain questions before the senate committee which investigated his lease of the Teapot Dome naval oil reserve, contended that the investigation was carried on for months while the committee was without legal authority to examine witnesses. This and other arguments were advanced in favor of an instructed verdict.

While losing in this matter, the defense was in its effort to get before the jury the statement Sinclair made to the senate oil committee when he refused to answer questions.

The two decisions mean that the case will be presented to the jury within a few days after the evidence for the defense is re-established. Instructions have been agreed upon and final arguments have been made.

State Rests After 'Nudity' Testimony

JACKSON, Miss., Mar. 15 (AP)—The state rested its case in the trial of George Wintz, manager of the Music Box Revue, charged with causing 15 girls to appear on the stage improperly clothed at the opening of court here today. F. S. Caldwell, city policeman, was called as the first defense witness.

Caldwell said that he had noticed no improper exposure and that he saw nothing indecent in the show. From his position back of the last row of orchestra seats, he testified, there appeared nothing hanging from the show.

Dr. W. W. Simthorn, practicing physician, the second defense witness, said that he was sitting "on the front row—the balcony row"—and that the costumes worn by the girls appeared sufficient.

Costumes Are Displayed

JACKSON, Miss., Mar. 15 (AP)—The garments in which 17 members of the Music Box Revue black-bottomed their way into court were introduced into the evidence in the trial of George E. Wintz, manager of the show, here today. Officially pronounced garments, since they identify as bathing suits had not been established, the high white wearing apparel were displayed to the jury by a smiling blonde chorine, Mildred Armbrister, one of the 17 whose performance of the black-bottom was alleged offensive.

New York Paper Says 'Peaches' Loser In Separation Suit; Judge Denies It

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—The New York American says today that Edward W. Browning has won his suit for separation against his youthful wife, Peaches, and that she has lost her counter suit and chances for recovery.

The American says it has obtained authoritative advance information of supreme court Justice Seeger, who tried the case.

She May Go Back

Justice Seeger's dismissal of Peaches' suit, says the American, will compel her, if she desires future support from her husband, to offer to come back to him on his own terms. He is at liberty to decline the offer.

Observers of the case, however, the American says, consider it probable he would accept such an offer if made and that his principal condition would be an elimination of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Carolyn Heenan, from his domestic establishment.

Peaches has been receiving $200 a week alimony since November 22. Her counsel was awarded fees of $5,500 which her husband had to pay.

Seeger Denies Claim

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Mar. 15 (AP)—Supreme Court Justice A. H. P. Seeger, who presided in the recent Browning separation suit trial, today characterized as a "lie" a published report in the New York American today that he had rendered a decision in the case.

Sapir-Ford Suit Begun In Detroit

DETROIT, Mich., Mar. 15 (AP)—The Ku Klux Klan, "International Jewry," cooperative marketing organizations and farmers' associations figured largely in the questioning today of prospective jurors in the $1,900,000 libel suit in the United States district court against Henry Ford. The crowds in the court room craned their necks eagerly in hopes of seeing Ford himself but were disappointed. Mr. Ford will appear when he is wanted, said Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, chief of defense counsel.

A platoon of counsel for Aaron Sapir who is suing Ford because of a series of articles in the Dearborn Independent, which he charges injured his character by accusing him of being a member of a Jewish conspiracy to control agriculture, was denied by Judge Fred M. Raymond. The plaintiffs asked to have the plea of the defendants stricken out because justification of charges of libel was not made and the terms were evasive.

Repeated orders to heave to were defied, coast guardsmen said, and the Mascoutin fired on her bulk works. The liquor cargo was valued at approximately $100,000.

May Cut U. S. Army 30,000 Men Short

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15 (AP)—Possibility of a slash of 30,000 men in the strength of the army due to the failure of the deficiency bill vanished today when it was said at the White House that President Coolidge expected the army to be able to take care of problems created by the measure's failure.

Included in the bill was a deficiency appropriation for pay of the army to permit the strength of the regular forces to be built up by July 1 to 115,000 men. Some doubt has existed as to whether there was legal authority for creation of a deficit in army pay.

The White House statement was construed as meaning that the administration has decided that it may incur such a deficit as necessary to keep the army at the strength congress had planned.

PLANS SLAYING JOLIET GUARDS TO EMPTY JAIL

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—A plot to employ Joliet penitentiary of its 1,200 inmates by the wholesale slaughter by poisoning of the guards has been revealed to prison authorities and Chicago police by a paroled convict.

The plot, set for execution next Saturday, is the third of a series, behind all of which now looms the youthful, sinister figure of Nathan Leopold, jr., planner and co-executor of the murder in Chicago of little Bobbie Franks.

It was Leopold, the officers have been told, who conceived the original prison break in which seven men escaped after killing as deputy warden, only to have six of the seven recaptured and sentenced to hang for murder.

He Financed Break

It was Leopold too, said the detailed stories over which the officers now are working, who financed last Saturday's break from the Joliet jail—a break in which three of the six recaptured in the first escape reached freedom and shot to death a policeman. Two later were recaptured.

Leopold is not linked directly with the latest escape plot as told to officers by Leo Delgado, paroled convict.

Figures Changed, Says Sculptress

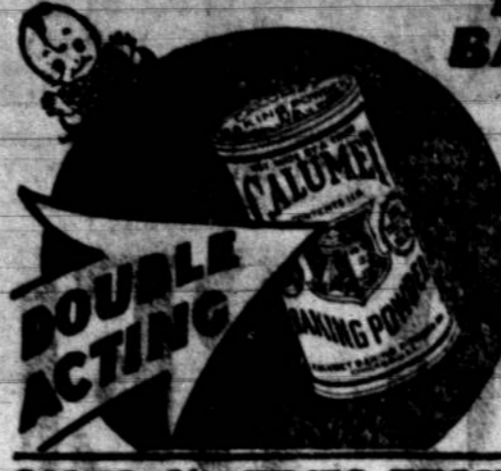

BRUSSELS, Mar. 15.—Women's figures have changed perceptibly in the past 25 years, declares Mme. Pierre Mille, noted Belgian sculptress. She attributes the change to outdoor exercise, discarding of corsets and to new occupations. As proof of her contention she exhibits her studies of nude women made from 1907 to 1927. Mme. Mille uses her maiden name of Yvonne Seruys. One of her most noted nudes hangs in the Luxembourg museum in Paris. The English government has bought another. "Jazz" and the "Charleston" are only a plummy sauce in modern life, she believes, and are not greatly influencing the physical appearance of women.

COBB GETS TWO OF TEAMS SIX HITS AS MACKMEN LOSE TO CARDINALS; HORNSBY FIGURES IN TWO DOUBLE PLAYS WHILE GIANTS BEAT BRAVES

(By The Associated Press)

League batting championship as figures for the New York Giants' training camp campaign leave him an impressive exhibition average of .385. He added only one hit to his total Monday while the Giants were smothering the Boston Braves at Saratoga 4 to 0, but the blow figured conspicuously in a five run, seventh inning rally. Rogers also had a hand in two double plays, increasing the team's spring total to thirteen.

Tearing off one of their old time hitting rumpuses, the New York Yankees pelted the Baltimore Orioles with a shower of eighteen hits to win 11-2. Cedric Durst and Ray Morehart led with four safeties apiece.

Bill Doak Comes Back
The Brooklyn Robins divided their day between a practice workout and a round of cheering over the return of Pitcher Bill Doak. After packing his grip and deserting camp on Saturday, Bill came back Monday to renew negotiations with Manager Robinson.

While Boston the Red Sox were taking things easy after a long stiff practice in a blazing New Orleans sun Monday the humiliated Boston Braves were busy at their St. Petersburg camp figuring how to recuperate their prestige which suffered a staggering blow at the hands of the Giants. The Braves recorded their 8-0 defeat as due to errors and poor pitching by Charley Robertson. The Giants made five runs off him in the seventh, and four of them came after the side should have been retired.

Beaten six to five by the St. Louis Cardinals at Avon Park Monday, the Philadelphia Athletics desired to even the count Tuesday at their own training camp in Fort Myers. The Mackmen were out-batted, out-fielded and out-pitched. Ty Cobb got two of his team's six safeties.

Phillies Meet Giants
The Philadelphia Nationals meet the New York Giants at Bradenton, Tuesday. Dissatisfied with the showing of his infield, Manager McInnis sent his players through a stiff drill Monday.

Old timers played ball at the Avon Park camp of the St. Louis Cardinals Monday. Grover Cleveland Alexander, Ty Cobb, Zach Wheat, Eddie Collins and Jack Quinn whose total ages aggregate nearly two hundred years were on their toes every minute of the game between the Cardinals and the Athletics.

The yanigans trimmed the regulars at the Tarpon Springs camp of the St. Louis Browns, making it three straight as a prelude to the opening game of a series with Brooklyn which opened Tuesday.

Tigers Looking Good
The optimistic view held by Manager George Moriarty regarding the prospects of the Detroit team has been materially strengthened by the manner in which the Tigers have rounded into shape at their training quarters in San Antonio.

Moriarty has let it be known that he regards the squad as 25 percent stronger than it was at this time last year.

Dreary rounds of practice Tuesday defined the program for the Cleveland Indians at their Lakeland training camp after a week of practice games in which the Columbus Association club walloped them for victories in the last two days. George Gerken, formerly of the Three I League, made himself eligible for chief-gauger's honors when he played a brilliant outfield in Monday's game.

Pipp And Pinelle To Play
Wally Pipp will go to first base, and Babe Pinelle to third in the return game the Cincinnati Reds play with the Indianapolis team at Sanford Tuesday. Manager Hendricks announced that George Kelly and Charlie Dressen will be given a rest, while Pipp and Pinelle make their first appearance in the lineup this spring.

The regulars and yanigans will meet Tuesday in the first of the last three games before the Pittsburgh Pirates leave their training camp at Paso Robles, for San Francisco, Friday. Glenn Wright, suffering from an injured hand, was the only first string player unable to participate in the batting and sliding practice. Manager Bush put the squad through Monday.

Pruning a shrewd report is set for next Thursday but Manager Ray Schalk believes he can pull three serviceable pitchers from the rookie roster. They are Charlie Barnabe, a very effective southpaw, Joe Brown, Western Leaguer, and Mert Cole, former Detroit Tiger and Coast Leaguer.

Manager McCarthy bore down extra hard on the Chicago Cubs at Catalina Monday because of their lack of success against the Coast League teams over the week end. He announced some morning practice games this week in preparation for another mainland invasion next Saturday.

The enthusiasm of a freshman college line going after the varsity has been mustered by rookies of the Washington ball club for Tuesday's clash at the Tampa training camp with the Senators in trim for battles with the Cincinnati Reds Wednesday and Thursday.

Lee Barnes May Set Mark For World in Pole Vault

WATCH Lee Barnes, Southern California's sensational pole-vaulter, this season. Sabin Carr and all of them will have to get up mighty high to keep this lad from victory. Barnes, who did 13 feet 6 inches last year, is expected to top the world's mark with fourteen feet this season. Barnes is a junior at the Los Angeles school.

CALLAHAN WINS WITH KNOCKOUT

Los Angeles Junior Welter's Wallop Brings Victory For Him Over Andy Divodi

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Popular recognition-asking of junior welterweights came to Mushy Callahan from New York fanism today in the wake of a sensational two round victory over Andy Divodi at Madison Square Garden.

Refused a place on the state athletic commission's records as title holder of the 146-pound division, the Los Angeles boxer last night fought his way to favor before 2,000 spectators with a spectacular knockout. It was Divodi's first defeat in more than 30 professional battles.

The quick results, accepted in some quarters as an upset, followed an unpromising first round. A looping right hand smash which landed flush on the New York boxer's chin terminated the battle, Divodi dropping like a log.

Callahan, who scaled 138½ pounds, received a titular reward from Richard in the form of a $2,500 belt. Divodi weighed 139½ pounds.

Chicago Talks About Big Golf Tournament

By NEA Service
CHICAGO, Mar. 15.—What will be the top amount in prizes offered at golf tournaments?

San Antonio is given credit for starting the big prize tournament by offering $7000 in the Texas open a few years ago.

Los Angeles retaliated with a $10,000 menu.

Atlanta is holding an open this month with $12,000 offered in prizes.

Now come Chicago sportsmen with talk of a $20,000 tournament in 1928!

It looks as if golfers will compete within a few years for prizes that will resemble Babe Ruth's salary demands in baseball.

McCallister Will Have Indians Play 'One Run' Baseball; Team Looks Good

PITCHERS TO BE STRONG FACTOR OF TRIBE'S MODE OF PLAY

(By Associated Press)
LAKELAND, Fla., Mar. 15.—Cleveland's old team, under a new manager will not be a "rock" and sock "em club," Jack McCallister thinks he has the best pitching staff in the league and will show his confidence in them by playing for one run at a time. "If we get one run, the other fellow has to have two to beat us," is McCallister's reasoning and he will proceed on that basis when the real campaign gets under way.

If training camp tactics may be taken as a shadow of impending events, third basemen on clubs opposing the Indians will have some busy afternoons. The Clevelanders can hunt, and they put the ball down with neatness and dispatch daily in their preparatory work.

Pitchers Are Foundation
The pitchers form the foundation of the club. Eight have been brought over from last season and one added. George Uhle, Joe Shaute, Emil Levener, Sherrod Smith, Walter Miller, Garland Buckeye, Willis Hudlin and Benny Karr are ready to challenge American League batsmen again and Earl Collard has been brought from the Three-Eye League to complete the staff. The pitchers seem to have progressed to a satisfactory stage of condition and all have escaped injury.

Hitting Sports Highspots With James R. Dow

All college basketball championship will be played off soon after the opening of the spring term. The Aggies are already at work with their team under the direction of George 'Buck' Weaver.

Three schools are entered into the intra-mural title go—the school of Architecture, the school of Engineering, and the school of Liberal Arts. As the meet grows on students of the respective departments have turned out almost solidly in interest of their club.

The Matador track is not finished yet, having to wait for the completion of the track by delaying the workouts of the Matador cinder path followers. It will be some few days yet until the track will be in shape for workouts. The next meet in which the Scarle and Black sprinters compete in will be in the Texas Relays held at the Memorial stadium of the University of Texas.

Coach 'Big Un' Freeland, baseball mentor, scrimmaged the Matadors yesterday afternoon for a few innings. The work of the Tech nine is showing up well and the club will soon be ready for games with the colleges of West Texas and the Panhandle.

Drawing for pairs in the 'Dark Horse' tournament being conducted by the members and associate members of the Lubbock country club will be held this evening at the Hotel Drug. All qualifying scores should be turned in to J. O. Smith before eight this evening.

BOY IS KILLED WHILE STEALING A WAGON RIDE

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex., March 15.—Playing the game of "stealing a ride," was fatal here Saturday for Joe Jones, 7 year old son of Mrs. C. J. Jones. The boy was riding on the coupling pole at the rear of a wagon, and fell off into the path of an automobile. He rolled over the wheels of the automobile and was killed. A woman who was driving the car was prosecuted. The automobile was traveling at a moderate speed.

Rogers Hornsby Says No Ball Player Should Double As Player And Skipper

MANAGING IS HARD TASK SAYS EX-BOSS OF CARDINALS

BY BILLY EVANS
 SARASOTA, Fla., Mar. 15.—"I am convinced no player should try to manage a ball club."

That was Rogers Hornsby's reply when I asked him how it felt for the manager of a world championship team to be a mere private again.

"It is a very hard enough to raise a player a star, it is an even stronger argument against the taking of the management of a major league club," he said.

"If you are a star, it is quite some job to live up to what the fans expect of you as a mere player. Managing, in addition, is quite another thing."

"I have been through it all and know whereof I speak. Managing is enough work for any man without trying to play."

Rogers Hornsby

"I am not trying to offer an alibi because my work stumps in the field and at the bat last year. Rather, I am making a plain statement of fact, when I say the work of putting over a pennant winner did upset my play."

"After leading the National League in hitting for six consecutive years, I felt confident I would top Cobb's nine in this year, but I failed."

"Worrying about the chances of my team, playing with a lame back that seriously curtailed my swing, and business differences with the club executives proved too big a handicap for me to overcome."

"It certainly looked like hard luck when I was practically forced out of the St. Louis club management, yet I am sure it was one of the best breaks of my career."

"I have always wanted to play in New York and for John McGraw. My wish has been fulfilled, and I am glad to be back where I belong."

"Frankie Frisch is a great ball player, popular with the fans, but you can say for me, the Yerkers won't miss Frankie. I intend to make them forget."

"I am in great shape, down to weight this very minute. This claim to my back seems to be entirely unfounded."

"Don't get me wrong on the management question. I liked my experience as a manager."

TECH BUYS NEW BROOD ANIMALS

Prize Winning Stallion Will Be Of Aid To Farmers; Two Cows Also Purchased

The animal husbandry department of the Tech college has purchased a registered Percheron stallion from the A. & M. College of Texas, and the animal was delivered to the college here late Monday. W. L. Stangel, head of the department, announced today. The animal will be used to head the pure bred Percheron mares of the college, as well as for purposes of instruction in judging and other phases of the college program. In addition to being available for public service to owners of higher type mares in this section of the state, Mr. Stangel said.

The animal, sired by a stallion owned by E. D. Florence, of Mesquite, Texas, won first place in the yearling class of competition at the recent Fort Worth stock show. Although he is a two year old, he was entered in the yearling class at the Spring exhibition. His sire was the grand champion of both the Fort Worth show and at the Dallas state fair, and he is out of one of the best brood mares of the A. & M. college, it was said.

Mr. Stangel expressed the hope that farmers over this part of the state who own mares of the better type, will avail themselves of services of the stallion to improve the type of animals used on the farms.

In addition to the stallion, the college also has purchased two Holstein cows, both of which were prize winners at the Fort Worth show. One of these, a two year old, is now on official advance registry butterfat test, and apparently will qualify as a junior two year old, Mr. Stangel said. The other is a senior yearling. They were purchased to replace a Holstein that was sold recently to a student of the college.

GOLF PAIRINGS ON TOURNEY TO COME TONIGHT

LUBBOCK HOTEL DRUG TO BE SCENE OF DRAW FOR PARTNERS

Drawing for pairs in the Country Club "Dark Horse" golf tournament will be held this evening at eight o'clock at the Hotel Drug with J. C. Smith supervising drawing. All qualifying scores will necessarily have to be in the hands of Mr. Smith by this evening at eight o'clock. John Jarrett is still leading in the qualifying rounds.

Sixteen of the best scores made in the qualifying rounds will be taken from all entries and paired off for the semi-finals. The tournament will close this week-end with the final matches to be played Sunday.

Some very low scores have been turned in. Mr. Smith had been made by non-members and his first announced the tourney was for club members and their associates these scores will be excluded in the drawing. Interest in the game has greatly been increased with the tourney and by the time the open meet is played off golf will be at its height in Lubbock.

'One Run' Baseball

The infield remains intact with a valuable addition in Lew Fonseca, as utility and the catching staff is unchanged from last season.

Outfield is question

The outfield has a silent spot where this speaker played for 11 years. A re-arrangement of available outfielders will be made to meet the situation with a recruit slated to assume the extra role. Homer Summa will be shifted to center with a possibility that McNulty will play right against right hand pitchers and Gehring at the position when left handed pitcher Charlie Jamison has no opposition for left George Gerken, up from Detroit, of the Three-Rivers, season again to stick and Woelber, a recruit from Dallas of the Texas League has a chance.

Captain Burns voted the most valuable player in the American League last year, returns to first base, showing an impressive early season condition. Fred Spurgeon, Joe Sewell and Walter Lutzke comprise an infield considered by McCallister good enough for his purposes.

Fonseca Looks Good

Fonseca who spent last season with Newark of the International League won early favor in the training camp by his hustling spirit and timely hitting in exhibition games and he cannot be kept out of a utility place. Two other utility men, Ernie Padgett and Urban Hodapp, suffered injuries last year and their ultimate fate depends on the extent of their recovery. The status of Carl Lind, former Tulane University star, who has played with New Orleans and Provia, also is undetermined.

The comparatively unusual feat of a college player jumping from campus to Major League is about to be performed by John Burnett, former University of Florida all-around athlete. Burnett, a fast runner, will keep a seat on the bench to absorb words of wisdom from his elders and on occasions show his twinkling heels as an emergency runner. He is specializing in first base play.

Luke Sewell, Glenn Myatt and Martin Autrey make up a trio of catchers with service records so good no candidates were brought on to neck their places.

Rucker Residence Damaged By Flames

Fire, believed to have originated from an oil stove in the west side of a duplex owned by T. S. Rucker at 1301 15th street Monday afternoon did considerable damage before extinguished by the fire department on a belated alarm.

The apartment was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Hall, the latter having escaped from the burning house through the east apartment, which was vacant, after finding the front door locked. Despite the fact that the fire department arrived late due to confusion in someone turning in the alarm, the house was saved from destruction.

"I certainly was run-down—always troubled with gas pains after eating. I read about Tanlac, tried it, and got relief with the first half bottle. Tanlac built up my strength and helped me tremendously."

"Tanalac, made from roots, barks and herbs, is sold by all good druggists. More than 40 million bottles used. Let it bring you, too, back to health—buy your first bottle today."

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, Mar. 15 (AP)—Prices were both up and down at the opening of today's stock market, with advances however, predominating. DuPont and General Motors touched new high records on the initial sales, and Baldwin, General Railway Signal and Pere Marquette moved up a point or so. Atchafalaya suffered an initial loss of 2 points. The general market reflected broad buying and selling operations with speculators for the advance centering their attention on rails and industrials. Unfavorable reports caused early weakness in oils and textiles, although Houston Oil gathered strength on special buying. Continental Baking & quickly sold down 2 points, due to cut in the corporation's dividends. A new peak price was established in the first few minutes by Texas Gulf Sulphur, while Stewart Warner slumped to the lowest figure in several years. Sale of 100 shares of Texas and Pacific land trust, which usually are exchanged in 10 or 20 share lots, was effected at $1.25 a share. This is the highest price stock listed on the New York stock exchange. Foreign exchanges opened steady with demand sterling quoted around 4.85 and French francs just above 3.90.

If Daddy should get lost in the woods and not be here to pay the mortgage, you just take this paper and meet that old wolf right at the door. Don't be afraid; just show him the paper and you'll see him tuck his tail between his legs and run.

Daddy's evening story concerned of the handiest material... and yet not a fairy story after all. A mortgage is a wolf-at-the-door... but a meek, toothless, harmless old wolf... so long as there is a special Life Insurance policy to cover the mortgage fully... if Daddy should 'get lost in the woods.'

At age 30, a five year term policy, running concurrently with a mortgage on the home, costs only $8.89 per thousand, per year. No mortgage will cancel your home debt, or even interest, at death. PARDONS GIVEN CHANGES MADE TWO BOYS HERE IN COURTHOUSE

Joe And W. L. Brown, Who Serve Terms in County Jail, Are Freed By Governor

Joe and W. L. Brown, cousins, convicted in county court and sentenced to serve six months in the county jail and pay a fine each of $25 last November, have been pardoned from the balance of their sentences and have been granted remission of their fines. It was announced at the sheriff's department this morning following receipt of a wire from W. H. Hedson, state senator, who advised that the Governor had acted in the matter.

The two youths were released late Monday on their own recognizance pending receipt of official pardon papers from the Governor's office, by county officials. The pair, along with Floyd Bates and Herbert Brown, confessed to the charge of theft when arraigned in county court last November, after property valued at approximately $2,500 was taken from a small house occupied by two of the boys.

Bates and Herbert Brown, following their confession, were each sentenced to serve three months in the county jail and fined $25. Brown was released recently when his time was served out. Bates was released January 17 by county officers following receipt of a pardon granted by Governor Miriam A. Ferguson.

but it was Leopold's original plotting, he later related, that "made the scheme to evacuate the penitentiary next Saturday by killing the guards with arsenic to be put in their coffee." "Leopold planned the original penitentiary escape," Delgado said in a story printed today in the Herald and Examiner. From his friends outside, he obtained $8,000 which was to finance the flight of himself and his picked associates first to Detroit, thence to Canada and finally to Mexico.

Palos Verdes, Mexico, was the place picked as the refuge of those who escaped, said Delgado, who obtained his information from letters in Spanish to the plotters, which he was called upon to translate. The plans provided that the men who escaped were to live in luxury in the Mexican town with funds furnished by Leopold's Chicago friends.

Picked His Pals
Delgado said the original plot provided for the escape besides Leopold of Bernardo Roa, Gregorio Rizzo and Robert Torres, the three Mexicans who broke from the Joliet jail last Saturday. Of this trio Roa is still at large, Charles Shader, Charles Duschowski and Walter Stuckey—these men who were under sentence with the Mexicans to hang for slaying the deputy warden in the original penitentiary break—also were to have been included.

Leopold, according to Delgado's story, lost his courage and turned sick at the sight of the blood of the deputy warden killed by his fellow convicts, and that was why he did not attempt flight.

After telling of the poison plot, which he said had been completed, Delgado said:

"I am what the police call a hard boiled egg but I draw the line at wholesale poisoning. The chances are that every criminal walking the streets of Chicago, will feel called upon to avenge my violation of the ex-convict's code of ethics. But I'm taking my chances and staking everything on this one gamble in decency."

Chief of Detectives William Schoemaker, one of those who heard Delgado's story, said that early checking of its details indicated the story to be virtually correct. He said he had talked to Torres and Rizzo and from them confirmed Delgado's story that Leopold was the financier of the jail delivery.

Delgado's story was that arsenic was to be infused into the coffee served the guards, with the flight of all inmates to follow immediately. The coffee which is given the guards is prepared by convict workers in the prison kitchen. Delgado was employed in the kitchen.

Attorney is Dubious
JOLIET, Ill., Mar. 15 (AP)—Mental reservation marked acceptance by Hjalmar Rehn, Will county state's attorney, of the story told by Leo Delgado, pardoned convict connecting Nathan F. Leopold, Jr., with the slaying of a deputy warden and the escape of seven convicts from the state penitentiary last May and the recent break from the Joliet jail of three of the seven who had been recaptured and sentenced to death.

"That's a lot of bunk," said Mr. Rehn. "It makes a good story but I am not responsible for that." At the state penitentiary it was stated that no convict is permitted to have an outside checking account, nor to carry money in his pockets.

GAMBLING BILL KILLED
CARSON CITY, Nev., Mar. 15 (AP)—The bill to legalize wide open gambling in Nevada, which was passed by the house of the legislature, was killed in the senate today.

A judge in England has recommended that there be joint stock companies to run the public schools, and that they should declare dividends if possible.

Eaton, Hammer And Payne Will Greet Friends in South Wing Of Building

The offices of County Agent David F. Eaton, Miss Hazel Hammer, home demonstration agent, and A. H. Payne, farm bureau field man, are being moved today from the northeast corner of the first floor of the courthouse to the south corridor of the building under instructions recently given by the commissioners court in making room for the new 8th district court, which was recently created by the state legislature.

Other offices affected by the general shake-up in the courthouse occasioned by location of the new court here, have not yet begun moving, but it is probable that these moves will be made in the next few days, it was learned today.

The new court will occupy the present county court room, and the present quarters used by the tax assessor on the second floor will be used as a county court room, under plans, the assessor moving into the office with the collector on the first floor. Others affected are the librarian, county attorney and county surveyor.

Watch Begins on Ferguson
AUSTIN, Mar. 15 (AP)—A 20 day vigil for proponents of the Love measure, rescinding political amnesty granted former Governor James E. Ferguson by act of the 28th legislature began today as the bill reached Governor Dan Moody's desk shortly before noon.

Moody has 20 days, excluding Sundays, in which to take action on the measure. Carl Phinney, his assistant secretary, said, if he fails to approve or disapprove it within that time, the bill automatically becomes a law.

The question of whether Moody will sign the bill, which would take away political citizenship from the husband of former Governor Miriam A. Ferguson, whom he defeated for reelection, is an absorbing one here.

Many believe he will sign; others predict a veto and others think he will allow it to become a law without action on his part.

Manlaughter Bill Passes
AUSTIN, Mar. 15 (AP)—The Ward-Woodward senate bill to abolish the offense of manslaughter in Texas, was finally passed by the house today, 85 to 19. The bill was endorsed by Governor Dan Moody as a means to eliminate frequent reversals and delays in homicide cases in which the manslaughter charge must be given to the jury.

Segregation Bill To Dan
AUSTIN, Mar. 15 (AP)—Dressed to effect settlement of large city segregation problems, the Love senate bill authorizing city councils to enforce strict regulations on that subject, was sent from the house to the governor for signature today. Under the bill, a majority of one color in a city block may exclude members of the other race from establishing homes in the same block.

Tech Lads Out For Cage Work
Intramural title will draw Tossers from Three Of Tech's Schools

Intramural basketball is getting underway as the Texas Technological college and the three schools of the college are working out daily with their recruits rounding into shape a floor combination that will stage a fight for the college championship. The Aggies, Engineers, and Liberal Arts are all working for the school title.

The Aggies are being coached by Geo. Buck Weaver, Matador center and last season coach of the Lorenzo high school team which won the South Plains basketball championship. Weaver is pushing his group of Aggie basketball hustlers through some long and hard workouts and is rapidly shaping them into form for the college classic.

Neither the Engineers nor the Liberal Arts team have showed up on the assembly hall floor for training but will send a strong team in due time. The play-off of the all-college tourney will be had some time after the opening of the spring term.

Cup Of Joy Found
PORTLAND, Me.—Samuel W. Joy, a nonagenarian of this city, still clings to the once fashionable but now almost forgotten mustache cup of the whicker era.

Recently Mr. Joy broke his old cup and declared he couldn't get along without something to protect his mustache. A search for a new one was started, and it was finally found after everything in the market of a crockery shop had been overturned.

Lubbock Doctors Probe Strange Case Of Lamesa Youth Gassed At His Work

HEART AND LUNGS HURT BY POISON BUT HE MAY RECOVER

Gaston Morris, 26, of Lamesa, son of Mrs. A. A. Morris, is under observation for diagnosis in the Lubbock Clinic here after having been gassed last November at El Paso, from which he was unconscious and totally paralyzed for ten days, 27 minutes of which artificial respiration was administered to him by use of a pulmotor immediately following discovery of his condition.

It was gassed by fumes which rose from an oil storage reservoir when standing over the tank while oil was pouring into the reservoir from the bottom. Only a few breaths of the fumes completely disabled him, and he lost consciousness, and perceptible breathing was lacking. He was pulled from the edge of the reservoir by a fellow workman, a pulmonologist was brought into use by physicians and, according to his mother, who is here with him, it was 27 minutes before there was any perceptible normal respiration. He was totally paralyzed and unconscious four days.

On the fifth day, he rallied slightly, and began to recover consciousness, his mother said. His physical condition, though taxed by the paralysis, slowly began to throw off the disease, but it was only during the last few days that he has been able to walk without aid of crutches or walking stick. Doctors say he has a chance to wholly recover, but he is still in a serious condition.

The case is one of the most unusual ever brought here, members of the clinic said, because of the extent to which the fumes affected the youth's lungs and heart. Pending completion of the diagnosis, physicians would not make a statement this afternoon regarding the condition of the youth. He was brought here by his mother upon advice of doctors at San Antonio and Lamesa, where he has been under treatment.

We Can't Duck It

Most of our major lies, says a Moscow professor, are due to sun spots. These spots, he adds, run in cycles and have so profound an effect on mankind that wars, revolutions, famines, social and political upheavals of all kinds follow in their train.

The sun spot business apparently is something that science hasn't quite made up its mind about yet, and the ordinary man is entitled to believe it or not, as he wishes.

If a comforting doctrine in a way it relieves us of responsibility. When someone mentions the world war or the present uprising in China we can blame these terrible tragedies on the far distant sun, which can't answer back, and absolve ourselves and our generation of all blame.

But somehow it seems just a little too easy to be true.

For all we know the sun spots may, as it is claimed, have a profound effect on all of our activities.

Yet we might as well remind ourselves that all of the sun spots between here and the pole would never bring about a world war if mankind had not already started the seeds.

The world war, to cite a single world upheaval, was the crop of the seed that many generations had sown. It was the fruit of blind greed and automatic self-seeking and narrow nationalism and bitter trade rivalry. As the world has planned so did it reap.

We may talk about sun spots until we are blue in the face but that will not enable us to look on the world war as something for which no one was to blame.

Nor will it enable us to sidestep responsibility for what may be ahead of us.

What we are called on now will determine what is going to happen to us in the near future. If we are blind and reckless and selfish and materialistic we may rest assured that certain tragedies will be spared us.

Definitely, we must try to learn the lessons of all of it.

He Will Succeed

A 12-year-old boy in New Jersey wanted to buy a $5 dog kennel. His savings bank contained just a few cents over three dollars. And he simply had to have that dog kennel.

So the kid trudged to a bank and told the president he wanted to borrow two dollars.

The president, no doubt suppressing a smile, asked him what security he could give. The boy gravely replied that he was going to get a job working in a store after school. So the president made out a regular three-month promissory note, bearing 6 per cent interest, the kid signed it and the two dollars was given him.

"Industry and sincerity are security enough," the banker remarked.

We think the banker was right. And we also think that this boy is going to be a real success later in life. Somehow, he sounds as if he were made of the right stuff.

Better Get Used To It

On a Pennsylvania high school basketball team the other day captured a scheduled game with another "top" team because they found that their game had been billed as a preliminary to a game between two girls' teams.

It was explained that the girls' teams were better known and had aroused more interest, but the boys refused to play unless they could have the proper position. "We won't play a second ylide to the girls," they announced.

It was a natural way to feel. But somebody ought to tell those boys that this world being what it is now, they're apt to find themselves playing second fiddle to the girls quite regularly after they leave school.

Girls nowadays aren't taking a back seat for anyone—in games or in everyday life.

THE PLAINSMAN

Says:

That war we had sure does come in handy. If it wasn't for it we wouldn't have anything to blame the income tax on. Of course the Plainsman understands that the war is alleged to have been the direct cause of the income tax ruling but the chances are we'd have had it, war or no war, so it's good to have something to blame it on.

Dr. C. W. Goddard, Austin city physician who was placed in jail following his shooting of City Manager Adam Johnson yesterday, played a good joke on 'em. He committed suicide to avoid punishment for his act.

Texas newspapermen are going to take a special train to the north and east to advertise Texas providing the plan, feasible now, continues to be promising of results. The Texas Daily Press league, of which the Avalanche-Journal publications are a part, is author of the plan. The Plainsman notices that newspapermen are generally in the vanguard of every plan to benefit their cities, territories and states.

Which reminds me—I found a man the other day who hasn't shown any visible signs of being able to do anything else very well, who is firmly sold on the idea that he can run a newspaper better than a newspaperman. He's probably like the little boy who, when asked if he could play a violin, replied—4 dan-no, I never have tried.

The day is coming when the papers will be printing pictures of citizens 50 years of age under the caption "Half a century old and hasn't killed anybody yet."

Oh, death will find me, long before I tire Of watching you; and swing me suddenly Into the shade and loneliness and mire

Of the last land! There, waiting patiently, I'll feel a cool wind blowing. See a glow light across the Stygian tide.

And hear the Dead about me stir, unknowing. And tremble. And I shall know that you have died.

And watch you, a broad-browed and smiling dream. Pass, light as ever, through the lightless host.

Quietly ponder, start, and away, and clean— Most individual and bewildering ghost!

And turn, and toss your brown, delightful head Amusedly, among the ancient Dead.

WASHINGTON LETTER

PARLOR TRICKS! THE SENATOR FROM TEXAS IS JUST FULL OF 'EM

BY RODNEY DUTCHER NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Mar. 15.—The Hon. Earle B. Mayfield, senator from the great state of Texas, who amused the Senate with his coin tricks during the all-night Boulder dam session, is a parlor magician of parts.

He does all sorts of parlor tricks in addition to the coin tricks, this sort of thing, along with a penchant for story-telling, is the senator's hobby.

Other senators were not exactly astonished when they observed the Hon. Mr. Mayfield put a half dollar in the palm of his hand and make it come out of his left ear.

Nor did they gasp as he put a quarter in his shoe and then produced a quarter from each ear, as if they were the same quarter that went into the shoe.

For the Hon. Mr. Mayfield had long since achieved certain distinction for his ability in causing coins to disappear and then reappear again in the most unexpected places.

The Hon. Mr. Mayfield can do tricks with paper wad, too.

The other day he inscribed on a Senate memorandum pad the mystic symbols:

F U N E M
S I F M
F U N E X
S I F X
N I L F M N X

Other senators puzzled—maybe it was a message from the imperial wizard of the Ku Klux Klan or something.

"Able in a restaurant," Mayfield explained, "if you enny 'em" "Ee, I 'ef 'em." "If you enny eggs" "Ee, I 'ef 'eggs." "En I'll 'ef 'em an' eggs."

Simple, isn't it?

The Hon. Mr. Mayfield knows the one about A B C goldfish, too.

One busy day he dashed into his office and called his three girl secretaries to attention. "A farmer left 17 mules to his three sons," said he, as soon as the girls had pencils and pads.

"Bequeathing half of them to one son, a third to another and a ninth to the other. How could they divide 'em up?"

The girls gave up and Mayfield had to explain that the judge threw in his own mule to make 18 and after dividing them properly took back his own mule and left everybody happy.

A drunken person was driving down the street and picked up a minister to give him a ride, according to Mr. Mayfield. The driver didn't know his passenger was a minister, but the minister soon knew the driver was pie-eyed. Becoming nervous, the minister asked leave to get out as he must meet friends.

"Whassa your name?" "Paul," said the pastor, not anxious to reveal his identity. "Well, well," said the drunk. "Just tell me one thing—did you ever get any answer to those letters you wrote to the Ephesians?"

"You've heard that one, you say? Well, it's a fact that jokes are often dead and buried two or three years through the rest of the country before they get to Washington.

OBSERVANCE OF LENT

Origins of the ecclesiastical season known as Lent, which began on Ash Wednesday, March 2, have been difficult to trace, but it is known that this fast has been practiced by early Christians before the time of Irenaeus, Bishop of Lyons, in the second century, who mentions it in his writings.

In the beginning, however, the fast of Lent was observed for varying periods, by some only one or two days, by others for a longer period until finally the present period of forty days, excluding Sunday, was agreed upon.

Pope Leo I, in the fourth century, recommended the fast of forty days as having apostolic authority, that number being taken to commemorate the forty days' fast of Moses of Elijah, and particularly that of Christ. Ascension Day is observed forty days after Easter Sunday.

Theoretically, at least, the faithful abstain from food on fast days until evening, while worldly amusements are to be avoided and marriages are held to be undesirable during Lent. The duty of fasting is modified with respect to laborers, children and women under certain conditions, but increased religious observances are enjoined upon all.

Lent is generally observed by the churches of England, the Protestant Roman and Greek Catholic churches, Episcopal church, the Lutherans and perhaps some others.

Being governed by the date upon which Easter falls, Ash Wednesday marking the beginning of Lent occurs on various dates, usually in February, but occasionally in March as is the case this year.—Plainview Herald.

SHOWING GOOD SENSE

Clarendon college is to be moved to Amarillo, and, strange to say, there is but little objection on the part of Clarendon people. They realize that since that institution has become a Class A college an annual contribution of at least $25,000 is too much for their town.

Amarillo can easily make up such shortage, and in that oil city the collegians should soon number three thousand, which in the smaller town probably never would happen.—Quanah Tribune Chief.

BARBS

Art is Long

Customs officers have decided that the modernist sculptures of Constantin Brancusi, the Rumanian, are not art and therefore are subject to duty, 40 per cent as usual. This will be a terrible blow to the big dot-dash-and-dollar artists of Europe who every few weeks send across their mass of color for a mass of choice American postage. They even had King George puzzled a while back. He stopped before a painting of an Abyssinian sunset or something and wanted to know if it was a dog or just a fish. A picture of an Alpine crag was sent over to America recently and it took the experts four days to decide whether it was a school of salmon attacking a tin factory or the artist's concept of a bevy of Brazilian beakbirds pursuing a crazed ovis poli. One of Brancusi's works looked so much like an egg to the inspector that he thought he'd hold it, but when they told him it was "Bird in Flight," he let it fly. But art is long and life is like that.

We hope that some of these warlike legislators who are always threatening to meet one another outside really do meet one another outside after the next elections.

A student, caught in a theft, was unbalanced, college authorities decided. But then maybe he was trying to balance up.

IN NEW YORK SEE-SAWING and DOWN BROADWAY

NEW YORK, Mar. 15.—Fame, as many have discovered, is likely to be achieved through some trifling incident.

A film actor, going about unrecognized for years, suddenly dons a pair of tortoise shell glasses and, lo, his fame and fortune are at hand.

A musical comedy performer, barn-storming about the country in small parts, gets the bright idea of talking to the orchestra leader, and, lo, four months later he is hailed by Broadway as a master of originality.

It is so even in the world of musicians, painters and such. Invariably the question is asked why one artist becomes a celebrity and another of even greater ability goes through a terrific struggle, attracting only slight attention.

Everyone admits that the "break" figure to a large extent, Arthur Judson, the concert manager, told me the other day of an American singer who had been appearing at the Metropolitan for a number of years, and getting only the most casual sort of public notice.

Then one day there came a squabble over certain calls. It was during a very important revival and, on the face of the circumstances, it looked as though the American had been slighted by a veteran in a curtain call. As a matter of fact the circumstances arose purely accidentally.

"But the audience resented the situation and expressed itself in clamorous shouting. A leading critic was present and turned the episode into a rather sensational story which appeared on his newspaper's front page.

Overnight the struggling artist became a personage of great importance. He was not one bit a better artist than he had been, but he happened to get a "break."

Ordinarily critics might have been smoking in the foyer, or the audience would never have occurred.

The singer was at a matinee, a real article and given an opportunity had no difficulty living up to his publicity.

The "breaks" work both ways.

Thus there was the case of another singer who got away to extremely bad luck.

He was scheduled to make a debut in an opera he had never before sung. The premiere was at a matinee. It so happened that the night performance was one of great importance. So the critics left early that they might write their articles, have their dinners and be back at curtain time.

The singer, nervous over his debut, did not get his stride until after most of the critics had left. Thus he received a half-hearted approval. Thereafter he sang until cast in a performance attended by all the prominent critics, whereupon he was enthusiastically received and today is a leading star.

ARE YOU A NAVY FAN?

Nearly everybody is interested in the United States navy. "Now You Ask One" for today, therefore, ought not to be hard—the questions all deal with the navy. The answers are printed in the next column.

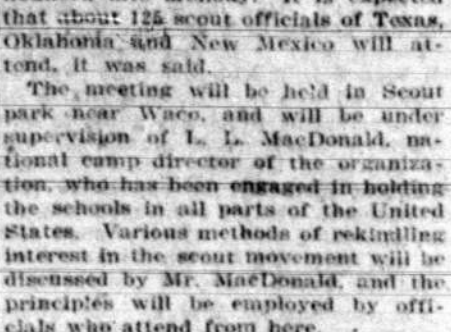

- 1—During the world war this admiral directed America's naval operations. Who is he? 2—What American and British ships fought the most notable naval engagements in the Revolutionary war? 3—What American naval officer commanded the winning vessel in that fight? 4—What naval officer led American ships against the Barbary pirates in the early years of the last century? 5—What naval architect during the civil war revolutionized naval designs by installing turrets for warships' guns? 6—What was Farragut's flagship, at the battle of Mobile Bay? 7—What officer opened what naval engagement by remarking to his chief runner, "You may fire when ready, Gridley?" 8—What lieutenant, who later became a congressman, distinguished himself by his bravery in the operations off Cuba in the Spanish-American war? 9—What American cruiser was destroyed, apparently by a floating mine, near the United States coast during the world war? 10—What navy collier mysteriously disappeared with all on board while enroute north from South America during the world war?

BOY SCOUT HEADS TO GO TO WACO

A. H. Watts, scout executive, and K. N. Clapp, chairman of the campaign committee, of the South Plains Area council boy scouts, will attend the three day regional camp conference and training school that will be held in Waco March 21 to 23. It was announced late Monday. It is expected that about 125 scout officials of Texas, Oklahoma and New Mexico will attend, it was said.

The meeting will be held in Scout park near Waco, and will be under supervision of L. S. MacDonald, national camp director of the organization, who has been engaged in holding the schools in all parts of the United States. Various methods of rekindling interest in the scout movement will be discussed by Mr. MacDonald, and the principals will be employed by officials who attend from here.

LEASES TAKEN BY TEXAS COMPANY

Strengthening the belief of Lubbock and other South Plains people that oil or gas can be found in paying quantity in this immediate section of the state, the Texas company, one of the largest operators in the southwest, has taken its first lease on Lubbock county property, it was learned today.

A 355 acre tract about 12 miles north of this city was leased to the Texas company by the owner late Monday, and it was authoritatively learned that other lease property is sought by the company.

J. E. Cook, field representative of the firm, has purchased some in Lipshaw addition, and expects to erect a residence in the near future. Mr. Cook would not disclose plans of the company as regards probable tests in this vicinity, however.

AMARILLO

Led the Nation in 1926 Building Gain

Amarillo, the Wonder City of the great Panhandle of Texas, led all American cities in the percentage of gain in the volume of new construction for the year 1926, shown by a national survey of building figures for the year. Amarillo gained 379 per cent over its 1925 record. That this gain will be increased during 1927 is already assured. More than doubling in the past twelve months, Amarillo's population now stands at 52,153.

SPECIAL NOTE:

The figures above do not include the great revenue derived from the Cattle, Sheep, Swine and Poultry industries for which Texas is famous. Nor does it include such important items as Truck, Citrus Fruits, Nuts, Wool and such like, which industries bring Millions of Dollars more annually. The 1926 output of the above important items far exceeds that of 1925.

The Oil Capitol of the World's Greatest Oil Field

The center of oil activities of the great Panhandle field is Amarillo. That production is yet in its infancy is clearly seen; yet with the real operating boom less than one year old, it is estimated that on February 1st, the field had produced approximately 32,500,000 barrels of oil—and a large percentage of conditions in general is given as follows:

Estimated daily production during past week	128,205 bbls.
Receipts	1,772,385 bbls.
Available storage on Feb. 15	6,080,910 bbls.
Total stock in storage	11,260,090 bbls.

The field today has 827 producing wells with over 530 drilling.

$100,000,000 Business Done by Manufacturers and Jobbers Annually

Approximately $100,000,000 annually is the volume of business done by manufacturers, jobbers and wholesalers of Amarillo, according to a conservative analysis of the trade interests.

Amarillo is rapidly becoming known as one of the greatest cities of the South in industrial possibilities. With an unlimited natural gas supply, a huge 2 million dollar water project now under way and other factors which make for such a city, Amarillo is destined to attract large institutions, both in manufacturing and jobbing lines.

Amarillo's Prosperity

Deposits in Amarillo's five banks increased $14,524,418.38 during 1926.

The total deposits on Dec. 31, were $24,721,832.12 as compared to $10,197,364.24 one year ago.

Bankers report that they were never in better condition and that this is true of the entire Amarillo trade territory. With money pouring in from the oil field activities, a big building boom and the entire country reporting bumper crops of the sorghum grains and a 22,000,000 bushel wheat crop last year and excellent prospects for another bumper crop it is believed that 1927 will see an even greater growth in the deposits of banks in Amarillo and the Panhandle.

Postoffice receipts in Amarillo in 1926 were $283,889.61, an increase of $88,567.95 over 1925. The Government is now constructing a $50,000 addition to the postoffice.

Amarillo's Trade Territory

Amarillo's trade territory is marked by its distance from other wholesale centers, including Wichita Falls, Abilene, Fort Worth, Oklahoma City, Denver, El Paso and Kansas City. The trade territory lines are reckoned between the industrial centers at the points where the freight rate breaks in favor of other cities.

The freight rate structure in favor of Amarillo is probably the greatest factor entering into the extensive business enjoyed by this city and the transportation facilities are almost unlimited, with the Santa Fe, Fort Worth and Denver, and Rock Island railways radiating over eight main lines from the city.

Over half a million people reside in rich territory in which Amarillo is favored by rail rates over any other jobbing center and which can be more effectively served by direct rail lines from Amarillo than from any other city. Railroads are realizing the importance of Amarillo as a jobbing center now and in the future and are expecting that this city will become a vast distributing point. Fifty-nine counties are included in Amarillo's trade territory, with a 1926 population estimate of 533,478 people. These counties include 44 in Texas, four in Oklahoma and nine in New Mexico.

Amarillo is the center of a wide expanse of territory that is becoming recognized throughout the world for its variety of products. In 1926, 1,100,000 acres of Panhandle wheat land produced 22,000,000 bushels of wheat, an average of over 20 bushels per acre, while the ten-year average production of the United States is only 13.6 bushels per acre. A vast acreage is also planted to grain sorghums, sudan, small grains and cotton. The figures on beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep, poultry and hogs are evidence that farmers throughout this entire territory are practicing diversification. With such a wealth being produced in Amarillo's trade territory, and with her vast distributing resources, the future for 1927 will undoubtedly pass the records of 1926.

Tell the Story of Your Products to the People of This Great Empire Through The

Amarillo Globe, Amarillo Daily News Sunday News-Globe

An examination of copies of the Daily News or Globe will reveal the fact that these are unusual papers for a city of 52,000 population. They are both Associated Press papers, well-edited, employing many features rarely seen outside the large city dailies. Tremendous gains in circulation are shown in figures for January 1926 and January 1927, respectively. In the twelve months the Daily News showed a gain of 60.7% in circulation; the Amarillo Globe a gain of 94% and the Sunday News-Globe a gain of 74.3%. These papers thus offer practically a complete coverage of Amarillo proper and its trade territory. They are the only daily papers in Amarillo. The fact that they are distributed 12 to 18 hours before other papers coming into the territory makes for a tremendous reader interest. It is impossible to effectively reach this great Empire of Northwest Texas through any other mediums.

This page advertisement is being run in twenty-one live and progressive daily newspapers in Texas, all of which are members of The Texas Daily Press League. You cannot cover the fertile and prosperous sections of Texas judiciously without using these papers.
