The Gallup Poll:

Dewey Adds To Strength In Midwest

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Aug. 10.—Governor Thomas E. Dewey is the over-whelming favorite over President Roosevelt among civilian voters today in the Mid-Western states of North Dakota, South Dakota, Kansas, and Nebraska.

GALLUP

These four states were among the 10 carried by Wendell Willkie. In fact, they were the four most Republican states in the Union in 1940.

The present figures would indicate that the Mid-West will retain its status — won from New England in 1940—as the core of Republican strength in the United States.

In measuring political sentiment in the four states field reporters questioned a true cross-section of voters in scientifically selected areas as follows:

"If the election were being held today how would you vote — for Dewey or for Roosevelt?"

The results:

NORTH DAKOTA
For Dewey	62%
For Roosevelt	38
SOUTH DAKOTA
For Dewey	63%
For Roosevelt	37
KANSAS
For Dewey	66%
For Roosevelt	34
NEBRASKA
For Dewey	67%
For Roosevelt	33

The extent of the shift from Roosevelt which has occurred in these states since 1940 is emphasibed by the following table comparing the President's strength there in 1936 and 1940 with his strength today:

PER CENT FOR FDR	1936	1940	TODAY
N. D.	69%	45%	38%
S. D.	56	43	37
Kan.	54	43	34
Neb.	58	43	33

Governor Dewey is leading President Roosevelt in every one of the 11 Mid-Western states in which political sentiment has been reported during the past two weeks. These 11 states control 140 electoral votes.

To date, Governor Dewey has been shown leading in 13 states, with a total of 193 electoral votes.

The President leads in 11 states, with 139 electoral votes. The box score to date follows:

DEWEY LEADING	Electoral Votes	% For Dewey	% For F.D.R.
New York	47	52%	48%

MASS BURIAL OF JAPS ON SAIPAN—After cleaning out Jap pockets of resistance on Saipan, the grim task of burying hundreds of Japs who fell in the final action on the island, falls to the lot of Marines, who are shown here using a bulldozer to dig a giant grave for mass burial of Jap bodies, shown alongside the road and in the field at upper right.

B-29s Hit Japan, Sumatra; Japs 'Investigate' Losses

By DICK CUSHING
Associated Press War Editor

Bombing of the Philippines and Japan's industrial area of Nagasaki as well as her oil refineries on Sumatra underscored strongly today President Roovelt's war council affirmation of unconditional surrender for the Japanese.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur announced late yesterday the first bombing of the Philippines since the fall of Corregidor. Bombers hit airdromes at Davao, on Mindanao island, for three successive nights including Wednesday.

Nagasaki Industries Pounded

B-29 Superfortresses based in China hammered industrial targets at Nagasaki, on the island of Kyushu, while a smaller formation from southeast Asia hit the oil refinery area of Palembang on Sumatra, Japan's prime source of aviation gasoline.

Tokyo acknowledged the Nagasaki attack and said "results of our interception and our losses are being investigated."

Davao is within 900 miles of New American bases in the Schouten islands off northern Dutch New Guinea. Development of the latest American beachhead at Sansapor, New Guinea's extreme western tip, would bring this southern area of the Philippines within 600 miles.

MacArthur announced also that all Japanese resisance had ended along the Driniumor river, bitterly-contested section of British New Guinea where 18,000 Japanese have died trying to break out of American-Australian encirclement.

Roosevelt Conference

These fresh blows followed announcement of President Roosevelt's momentous three-day war talks in Hawaiii with Army and Navy commanders in the Pacific —conferences in which strategy for the entire theater was discussed.

The President conferred secretly with Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Adm. William F. Halsey and other top officers on July 26-29, mapping what he termed new drives to clean up on the Japanese. (See detailed story on Page 3.)

CASUALTIES ON GUAM

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, Aug. 10 (AP)—The reconquest of Guam cost 7,347 American casualties, of whom 1,514 were killed in action, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced in a communique today.

Nimitz said 18,971 Japanese dead have been counted on Guam. This brings to 37,551 the total Nipponese killed in ground fighting during the Marianas campaign.

Except for the Chinese theater where the loss of the long-besieged rail center of Hengyang was acknowledged, the Pacific war picture was favorable.

Nips Flee From Marine

Guam was securely in American hands. A few Japanese still remained alive in a narrow strip on the north coast but were being wiped out. Ill-clad and hungry, some ran for their lives at the mere sight of an American Marine.

This completes the conquest of three Marianas islands, Saipan, Tinian and Guam, from which Admiral Nimitz has said fleet operations can proceed westward.

American submarines operating close to Japanese home waters destroyed an additional 15 enemy merchant ships and one warship, the Navy announced.

This brought the total sub bag to 839 Japanese ships of all types sunk, probably sunk or damaged. Of these, 54 warships are at the bottom.

China admitted the loss of Hengyang but there was no confirmation of Japanese boasts that American officers had suffered a "major disaster" there.

Allies Reveal New Kind Of Power Army

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Aug. 10—The Allies tonight uncovered a "secret weapon" which may strike some of the most decisive blows of the war against Germany—a revolutionary new American-British airborne force with the size and power of an Army, created under the command of Lt. Gen. Lewis H. Brereton.

The new unit welding both British and American airborne forces with ground combat personnel, was officially announced as "approximating an Army in size and importance." An Army may have from six to nine divisions with upwards of 10,000 men in each.

Unprecedented Unit

Creation of the new Army, embodying an unprecedented combination of striking power and mobility, conjures up a picture of a great sky force plummeting down deep behind the German lines, possibly within Germany itself, to land decisive blows.

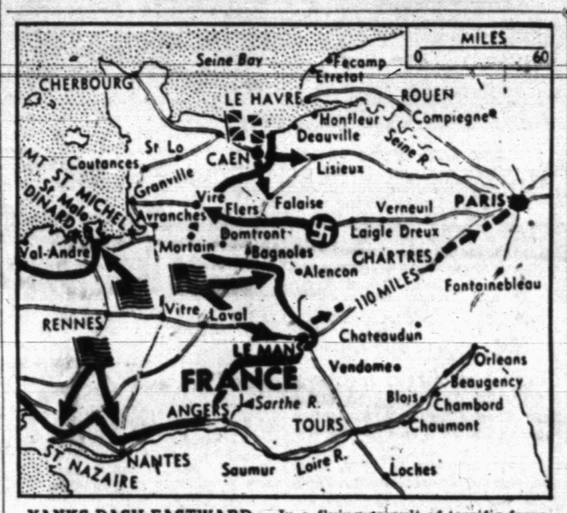

The components of the Army are the same ones which, as respective parts of the ground and air forces, contributed so greatly to the success of the invasion. Their integration under one command promises increased effectiveness.

Gen. Brereton's deputy commander is a Briton, Lt. Gen. Frederick A. M. (Boy) Browning, husband of the novelist Daphne Du Maurier and an alumnus of the Grenadier guards, an infantry outfit. He is the former commander of the British airborne troops.

More Effective Force

"The objective of the new organization," said supreme headquarters, "is to integrate and make more effective the large airborne forces at the disposal of the supreme commander. In this command will be combined both the combat troops and the planes (Turn to Page 15, Column 4, Please)

Yanks Race On Into Chartres Defenses

YANKS DASH EASTWARD—In a flying assault of terrific force and vast promise, three speeding American columns were dashing for Paris Thursday. One column was reported attacking Chateaudun, due east of Le Mans and about 70 miles from Paris, striking toward Orleans; another was far along toward Chartres on a beeline for the capital, and a third, whirling southeast from Le Mans was said racing toward Tours on the Loire. British and Canadians still hammered forward from the Caen area.

Others Fan Out In Flanking Drive On Paris From South

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, Friday, Aug. 11. — Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley, whose armored columns were striking toward Chartres and the last 50-mile defense zone west of Paris, suddenly sent one force veering off in the direction of Orleans early today, threatening to flank the French capital from the south.

"The battle for Paris has begun," German broadcasts declared as the swift-moving Allied forces rolled toward the historic city's outer defense lines.

(NBC reporter David Anderson, broadcasting from a rolling Allied transmitter in France, said the drive already had reached within 30 miles of Orleans with the "Americans at this moment" attacking Chateaudun, 70 miles from Paris.)

One Starts For Tours

Yet a third American column was believed rolling south toward Tours, 48 miles southeast of Le Mans on the Loire river, possibly in support of other forces which have stabbed through mine-fields and thin resistance to Nantes and Angers, farther downstream on the Loire.

The columns pressing due east toward Paris were deep into the Chartres defense zone, which guards the last 50 miles to the capital.

There still was no evidence that Lt. Gen. Bradley's forces had met resistance, or that the Germans were intending to put up any sort of a stand on the north bank of the Loire, barring the way to southern France.

May Close River Gaps

In the drive on Orleans, the Americans were heading for the gap between the Seine and Loire rivers south of the capital, possibly in an attempt to head off ten German divisions reported fleeing northward from southeast France.

Far behind these operations, the Americans cut loose a new central front attack on their left flank, presumably between Mortain and Vire, and rolled up gains of a mile to a mile and a half, First Army headquarters said.

This push seemed aimed at ironing out the German positions above Mortain, which the enemy still holds, and strengthening the Avranches corridor.

(The Absie radio, American broadcasting station in Europe, declared that the Canadians had captured Vimont, the Paris road block seven miles southwest of Caen which has held up the Brit- (Turn to Page 15, Column 8, Please)

Sweeping Aircraft Cutback Is Ordered

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. — A sweeping aircraft cutback, affecting Liberator bombers, Commando transports and Thunderbolt fighters, was ordered by the War department tonight to clear the way for the huge new B-29 and B-32 superbombers and to release workers for more critical jobs.

Twenty thousand workers will be affected immediately and an estimated 100,000 more will be laid off by the end of this year, said the announcement released by the Office of War Information.

The Higgins industries of New Orleans, which lost their Liberty ship contract in 1942 before a ship was built, was cut entirely from production of the C-46 Commando transport before a plane was completed. Higgins' subcontract work on planes will continue, and about half the 6,300 workers may be retained.

Others To Come

Cutbacks after the first of the year will take place in Commando plane production at Buffalo, St. Louis and Louisville, Ky., but until that time, expanding schedules are to be met.

Inability of the luftwaffe to inflict as heavy losses as had been expected account for the cut in transport planes, officials said, and the growing emphasis on the Pacific war has been behind the shift from Liberators to the B-29 Superfortress, and its big running mate, the B-32, by Consolidated.

Liberator production by North American at Dallas, Texas, will be eliminated gradually.

Production of the Liberator will be reduced at Ford's great Willow Run plant and at the Consolidated-Vultree Aircraft corporation in San Diego.

Thunderbolts Involved

A reduction of presently unknown depth will be made in the sub-contract work for the P-47 Thunderbolt fighters done by Goodyear at Akron, Ohio, OWI said. It will be sufficient to "ease the manpower situation in Akron."

These accompanying shifts of (Turn to Page 15, Column 4, Please)

Demobilization Bill Pros May Appeal For FDR's Aid

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (AP) — Proponents of the Murray-Kilgore demobilization bill were disclosed tonight to be considering an appeal to President Roosevelt in an effort to overcome Senate opposition to a provision calling for post-war unemployment payments ranging up to $35 a week.

One of the group, who declined to allow the use of his name, said the chief executive might be asked to throw White House pressure behind the measure either by a personal appeal or by asking Senator Truman (D-Mo) to take the floor in its behalf.

Truman Supports Plan

Truman, the senator said, has been working behind-the-scenes for the measure, which he supported in the military committee, but as Democratic vice presidential nominee, he has avoided speech-making until he has had a chance to confer with the President.

Meanwhile, the bill was alternately described as an agency for "state socialism" and as a "recipe for prosperity" as the Senate put off a vote on controversial reconversion legislation.

Majority Leader Barkley (Ky), who told reporters he did not know President Roosevelt's attitude, nor that of any other administration officials, said he was hopeful of a vote tomorrow.

Meanwhile, Senator Wherry of Nebraska, the Republican whip, told reporters he had asked the Byrd economy committee to investigate the lending of departmental personnel to Senate com- (Turn to Page 15, Column 7, Please)

School Aid Law Is Said Frayed

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 (AP) — The present rural school aid law has been mended and amended until it is too frayed to hold another patch, agreed county school superintendents meeting today before a joint-legislative committee.

Sen. Pat Bullock, chairman of the committee; Sen. Penrose Metcalf, Sen. G. C. Morris and Rep. Claude Callaway, invited all county superintendents here this week to discuss revision of the rural school aid law in order to have an adequate bill to offer the 49th legislature.

Uniform Opportunity

"The bill we pass should give uniform educational opportunities to the child regardless of whether he lives in a rich or poor section, crowded or sparse, paved on unpaved," said Sen. Bullock.

"We will never have a rural aid law worth a dime until some uniform method of assessing and collecting taxes has been established in Texas," said Sen. Morris.

Superintendents agreed the tax question was the crux to their whole proglem and a big reason they were continually in debt and obliged to seek so much supplemental aid from the state.

Morris said a state tax board might solve the problem, but admitted this was not a popular idea.

Decidedly Unfair

Bullock said it was decidedly unfair for one man to pay his taxes, while his neighbor could backslide and get away with it.

More Reds Near Prussia As Others Storm Across Narew

By W. W. HERCHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 11 — Russian troops, attacking a bitterly-resisting enemy near the Niemen river in Lithuania, yesterday drove another spearhead to within 11 miles of the German East Prussian border, while other Red Army units far to the south crossed the historic Narew river in a gigantic pincers move on that imperilled Nazi province.

Berlin said a battle of "very great proportions" was raging on the East Prussian front, and again declared that the reinforced German armies were "greatly outnumbered" by the Russian legions.

Bridgeheads Widens

Of equal gravity to the Germans was the Soviet extension of a huge Red Army bridgehead across the Vistula river south of Warsaw. Moscow's communique announced the cutting of the Sandomierz-Kielce highway with the capture of Lagow, 20 miles east of Kielce, and 30 miles beyond the Vistula—last Axis water barrier before Germany itself.

With the seizure of 60 more localities in this key area the Russians now occupy nearly 1,500 square miles of terrftory beyond the Vistula and are within 75 miles of German Silesia. They are threatening to collapse the enemy communications network between besieged Warsaw and Krakow, German-held bastion in southern Poland, while other Red armies clean out a big area northeast of Warsaw, between the Polish capital and the southern side of the East Prussian border.

Another Vistula Crossing

Berlin broadcasts again told of fierce fighting against a Red Army bridgehead across the Vistula only 30 miles southeast of Warsaw in the Warka sector. Moscaw has never confirmed that crossing.

In western Lithuania the Russians moved relentlessly forward on a broad front on both sides of the Niemen river.

The battleline, maving through 40 localities, extended southward to Raudone, on the Niemen at a point only 20 miles east of the Prussian border, crossed to the south bank at Blogoslavenstvo, and ran through Aszmuce and Valyule. Captured Aszmuce is three miles northeast of Sakiai road junction and only 12 miles from the East Prussian frontier, while Valyule, two miles east of (Turn to Page 15, Column 5, Please)

Vast Subsidy On Foods In Offing

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (AP)—The War Food administhation is expected to tell Congress in the near future that a vast program for subsidizing domestic consumption of food may become necessary to prevent a sharp postwar break in food and farm prices.

End of the war this year would find the government with huge recerves of food, and agriculture producing for a war-induced market that no longer existed.

A congressional directive that the government support farm prices at not less than 90 per cent of parity for two years after the war may make necessary, officials say, the use of such mechanisms as the food stamp program, greatly broadened school lunch and other programs for handling extra supplies until production can be brought into line with peacetime requirements.

Stamp Plan Used Once

The food stamp program was used to dispose of surplus foods before the war, but it was suspended when supplies became tight. Under it the government issued stamps to low-income families useable for the purchase of designated foods at regular grocery stores.

No official estimates on the cost of a food stamp program have been made. Studies by the bureau of agricultural economics give some idea, however. Assuming that the program would be designed to provide low-income families with an adequate diet as well as to support farm prices, the cost might be between $1,250,000,000 and $1,500,000,000 a year.

Adriatic Sector Flares In Italy

ROME, Aug. 10 (AP)—Polish and Italian troops attacked the Germans in the Adriatic sector of the Italian front today, quickly captured Francavilla and tonight were nearing the Cesano river, 40 miles below Rimini.

(The German radio heard by Reuters in London said tonight "British troops today reopened their great offensive in Italy after recrouping their forces.")

Southern Florence

In the Allied-held southern section of Florence, Canadian troops, helped by 250 Italian patriots, cleaned up hostile Fascist pockets and lashed out at snipers.

The Vatican made arrangements to send food and water to the population of Florence, caught between the Allied and German armies.

The Polish-Italian drive in the east was headed toward the line of the Misa river and toward Rimini, Adriatic city of about 30,000, 69 miles southeast of Bologna.

Fifth Halts Bridge Work

On the Fifth Army front, American artillery fire broke up an attempt of the enemy to build an underwater bridge across the lower Arno near San Giovanni Alla Vena, eight miles east of Pisa. Advancing Eighth Army troops confirmed reports that the Nazis had burned the village of Gulliano, nine miles north of Arezzo.

The Italian Gen. Potente of the Partisans' Garibaldi brigade was killed in a brush with enemy snipers south of Florence three days ago, Allied headquarters disclosed.

Naval headquarters announced that the ports of Livorno (Leghorn) on the west coast and Ancona, on the east coast, now were clear and open to shipping.

Heavy Damage Left By Canada Cyclone

KAMSACK, Sask., Aug. 10. (Canadian Press) — A cyclone destroyed or damaged 400 buildings in this farming town of 1,800 persons within two minutes last midnight, and two of 37 injured Kamsack residents were reported near death today. Damage was estimated unofficially at close to $1,000,000.

An unconfirmed report from Verigin, Sask., said a girl was fatally injured there. At Lorette, Man., a farmer was killed by lightning.

Two hundred homes were among the damaged structures here. Water, power and communications services were disrupted.

Buildings were wrecked along the entire main street. One woman had just emerged from her three-room cottage when the storm picked it up, carried it a block and dropped it as a pile of wreckage. A freight car was hurled through the railway station.

Many other prairie towns were lashed by gales. At Winnipeg, the wind reached a 71-mile velocity.

Soviet Reports New Unrest In Prussia

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 10, (AP)—Shooting broke out in East Prussia, West Prussia and the Danzig area when Nazi SS Elite guardsmen attempted to arrest German Army officers, the Moscow radio said tonight.

"Many SS men were killed," the Moscow account said early today.

GROGAN RITES SET

HOUSTON, Aug. 10. (AP)—The body of Samuel Austin Grogan, 54, geologist for the Gulf Oil corpodation, who died yesterday was to be sent to San Antonio tonight for services and burial.

Nazi Oil Sources Are Pounded Anew

LONDON, Aug. 10. (AP)—American and British heavy bombers attacked Germany's vital oil resources today and Allied tactical air units, with a few heavies assisting, slashed at enemy supply routes in the side area around Paris towrad which Gen. Eisenhower's ground armies were steadily advancing.

Fuel dumps and bridges in the vicinity of Paris were hit from Britain by a force of some 250 Liberators with a Mustang escort, and at the same time an Italy-based fleet of 500 Liberators and flying Fortresses bombed military installations in the Ploesti area of Romania, a leading Nazi oil field.

Fighters escorting the bombers shot down eight Nazi planes in aerial combat and destroyed 26 more on the ground.

Navy Radioman Rescued After 31 Months Hide-And-Seek Fight With Japs On Guam

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, July 15 (Delayed) (AP) — George Ray Tweed, 42, a Navy chief radioman of Portland, Ore., was rescued from Guam July 10 after 31 months of touch-and-go fighting in bushes and caves.

The Japanese had offered a reward for his capture, detailed a permanent 50-man search party to hunt him, and finally officially pronounced him dead to save face.

Once aboard a ship which made a daring rescue well within range of Japanese shore guns, Tweed related at a press conferenc "the first thing I reached for was a slice of bread and butter."

Tweed and a fellow radioman fled Agana town in a car, machinegun bullets whistling around, after 8,000 Japanese swept ashore against the desperate, futile machinegun and rifle fire of 50 Marines and 150 Navy insular forces early the morning of Dec. 10, 1941.

Eleven miles away across the island they hid the car and lived a furtive life in the bush.

"Sometimes," Tweed told his rescuers, "we lived in caves; sometimes there was no shelter and we slept on th ground."

Aftr two months the other radio man proceeded alone. He was killed later.

Weary, lonely months followed in which Tweed often narrowly escaped capture—"once by only one minute."

Eight months after his escape he discovered that two Americans had been captured and executed. Six weeks later he learned two more had been "liquidated."

All Americans who surrendered within the first 30 days after the Japanese conquest were sent to Japan. The Japanese broadcast that anyone surrendering within that time would be interned in Japan; that all others would be executed upon capture. Some surrendered; some dug deeper into the bush.

Squeeze On Workers Tightened By WMC

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (AP)—The War Manpower commission tightened its program today in order to squeeze more men into the relatively few factories that can make the particular weapons for which generals on the battle fronts are calling.

To put into effect an August 4 directive of War Mobilization Chief James F. Byrnes, the commission instructed its field offices, "to the extent necessary," to send workers only to plants engeged in urgent production. Simultaneously a group of manpower officials from Washington scattered throughout the country to impress on local WMC personnel the extreme urgency of the task.

FINNS CLAIM VICTORY

Lt. Alton L. Owens Is Killed In Action

LITTLEFIELD, Aug. 10 (Spcial) Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Owens have received a telegram from the War department that their son, First Lt. Alton L. Owens, 31, was killed in action in France, July 25. He was in a chemical warfare battalion.

A graduate of Brownfield High school, Wayland college and Texas Technological college, Lt. Owens taught school in Olton before accepting a position as Agricultural Adjustment administration supervisor in New Mexico with headquarters at Las Cruces. He was a member of the Red Raiders football team while he was in Tech.

Labor Party To Back Dem Slate

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. (AP) — President Roosevelt was nominated for re-election and Senator Harry S. Truman for vice president by acclamation tonight by the convention of the American Labor party.

Also nominated for re-election by acclamation was Senator Robert F. Wagner (D-NY). Approximately 1,500 delegates and guests attended the convention.

The ALP delegates also designated the same electors for the state of New York that previously had been named by the Democrats.

The convention's action means that the names of the President, Truman and Wagner will appear on both the Democratic and ALP ballots in the November election.

Ickes Lauds President

Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes, addressing the convention after the nominations had been voted, asserted that in nominating President Roosevelt the party was backing "the man to whom all of the nations of the world, as well as the people of our own country, look for wisdom, guidance and vigorous leadership."

He credited the President with responsibility "for our great upturn toward prosperity, and for greater economic justice for the worker, the farmer and the small man than this nation has ever witnessed within the span of any 12 years."

Motley Nazis At St. Malo Shoot Down Own Officers To Surrender

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

ST. MALO, France, Aug. 9. (Delayed)—German troops began shooting their own officers today in order to surrender, as American doughboys in flaming hand-to-hand battles occupied all St. Malo except the port's rocky citadel.

Inside this battered granite fortress the enemy garrison still held out at 6 p. m. under the command of a fanatical leader, Col. von Auloch, a tall, grayhaired man who was carrying out to the bitter end his threat to make this fashionable beach resort a "new Stalingrad."

Colonel Suffers Delusions

A veteran of the Russian front seemingly obsessed on the subject of Stalingrad, the commander had sworn his determination to turn St. Malo into a similar siege even if the hopeless fight cost the lives of all his men and himself.

French refugees and German prisoners said the colonel suffered delusions as the result of a head wound received at Stalingrad and was embittered by the death of his wife and children in a Berlin bombing raid.

Remnants Stream Back

Streaming back from barricaded streets are remnants of his motley army—hundreds of Todt organization workers, Marines, headquarters soliders, truck drivers, cooks, parachute troops, sailors and "punishment platoons," a beaten, sweaty, dirty misfit group of soldiers who had lost most of their Nazi cockiness. Many are middle-aged, many are wounded, many limp as they march to the rear.

"Their commander just lined up every German in the port area, gave a machinegun to every fifth man and a rifle to the others and threw them all in to the frontline of combat," said Capt. T. C. Roberts, West Hartford, Conn. "They are a sloppy army."

Many more prisoners have been taken today, raising the total for the four-day siege to at least 3,800, and another 3,000 wounded are reported in the large hospital within the city.

One Wounded By Own Men

"They have been giving up in groups of 100 or more," said Capt. Roberst. "We bagged a couple of lieutenant colonels and a lot of other officers. One lieutenant colonel had been wounded by his own men so they could give up.

"Several prisoners told us they kept fighting only because the officers held pistols to their backs."

Troops fighting toward the fort were within a quarter of a mile of its site on the bay and advancing slowly under the fire of German naval guns on islands in the harbor.

Sepp (Joseph) Dietrich, commander of an SS tank corps, the oak leaves with swords and diamonds to the Knights cross of the Iron Cross, the highest award of the order, for "repeatedly frustrating British-Canadian breakthrough attempts in the Caen sector," DNB announced from Berlin today.

Dietrich, former commander in chief of Hitler's bodyguard, has been named by the Russians as a war criminal.

Cramer Appointed As District Judge

AUSTIN, Aug. 10. (U.P.) — Dallas county's rather mixed judicial situation was cleared today when Gov. Coke R. Stevenson appointed William M. Cramer as successor to the late Judge Claude M. McCallum of 101st district court, and Winter King to be judge of criminal district court. King is Democratic nominee for the criminal district court judgeship formerly held by the late Judge Grover Adams.

Cramer had been serving as judge of 95th district court by designation of the Dallas bar in place of Judge Dick Dixon who is in military service without resigning.

The late Judge McCallum had also been presiding judge of the judicial administrative district, and Judge W. L. (Jack) Thornton of 44th district court was designated to take over the presiding judgeship. Its duties principally are to assign judges where transfers are necessary to speed business.

Suggestion That U. S. Pay $1,000,000 For Disputed Area Denied

MEXICO CITY, Aug. 10. (U.P.)—Sen. Tom Connally's suggestion that the United States pay Mexico $1,000,000 for the disputed Chamizal area between El Paso, Tex., and Ciudad Juarez, Mex., today drew a negative reply from his Mexican counterpart.

Octavio Reyes Spindola, president of the Mexican Senate's foreign relations committee, answered the U. S. Senate's foreign relations committee chairman by saying that this nation had no economic interest in the area but "interests of higher importance."

As an explanation, Francisco de Jimenez, former Mexican counsel general in San Antonio, pointed out that the U. S. Senator apparently was unaware that the Mexican constitution prohibits the sale of a part of Mexican national territory.

The dispute arose 56 years ago when the Rio Grande, which forms the Texas-Mexico border, changed its course and moved the Chamizal are from Juarez to the El Paso side of the stream.

Some 20 years ago, an arbitration commission attempted to settle the dispute and ruled the Chamizal section belonging to Mexico, but the commission's decision was never accepted officially.

Sidelights On FDR's Visit To Hawaii . . .

President Saw Jap Prisoners For First Time At Camp Catlin; Reviewed Seventh Division

HONOLULU, July 29 (U.P.)—Sidelights of President Roosevelt's visit to Hawaii:

Mr. Roosevelt saw Japanese war prisoners for the first time during his visit here.

Going through Camp Catlin, a Marine reception center, he drove by a large, heavily guarded compound where the Japanese, taken in island fighting, were milling aimlessly around behind the barbed war fencing or sitting on cots in their tents.

Most of the pirsoners appeared unusually young and none of them seemed to recognize the President or show any interest in the procession of cars.

Many people on Oahu island were convinced that Churchill, Chiang Kai Shek and Stalin were here for the conferences. Some professed to have seen Them riding down the street.

One of the most continually surprising sights for a newcomer to Hawaii is the thousands of Japanese, many of them naturalized citizens, in the islands. Japanese do virtually all the servant work on Oahu and own a number of businesses. The Japanese population of the islands is about 160,000, most of them on Oahu where the total population is 310,503.

The largest concentration of manpower the President saw was at Schofield barracks on July 27 when he reviewed the Seventh Division which already has served in two Pacific campaigns — Kwajalein and Attu—and the occupation of Kiska. The troops are back at Schofield for additional training.

Crowded conditions in Honolulu make the situation in many American cities mild by comparison. Sailors line up for hours before movies open. Gifts for folks at home are violently expensive and few. Traffic is always heavy except after the 10 p. m. curfew when everyone must get off the streets.

Admirals Nimitz and Ghormley, Generals MacArthur and Richardson, and Gov. Ingram Stainback met the President when he arrived. When the chief executive came down the gangplank, Pearl Harbor Navy yard workers applauded. MacArthur waited until the President had entered his automobile before leaving the ship and when he waved to a crowd of sailors and Navy Yard workers the applause was loud.

The President's bedroom, in the home of the late Christian R. Holmes was more than 50 feet long, looking out over Waikiki Beach and Diamond Head. Judge Samuel I. Rosenman's room in the House had a bathroom with a sunken tub virtually large enough to swim in. The Holmes estate is regularly used now as a place for Navy and Marine aviators and plane crews to rest and shake off battle fatigue.

Mr. Roosevelt received and wore an orchid lei when he visited the home of Gov. Ingram Stainback.

Victims Of Crash In November Identified

CHIHUAHUA, Aug. 10. (AP)—Two bodies found last week in a wrecked plane 90 miles south of the U. S. border have been identified as those of Dr. Edwin M. Stanton of Douglas, Ariz., and Purdy's Station, N. Y., and Lt. Francis W. McGinnis of the U. S. navy, Vice-Consul R. K. Peyton said today.

The two crashed last November in a plane owned by Stanton while en route from Douglas to Chichupa, Chihuahua, to search for calcite deposits for the U. S. navy.

Woman Attorney Raps 'Bare-Backed Women'

HOUSTON, Aug. 10. (U.P.) — "Bare-backed women" may be pleasing to the masculine eye, but Miss Effie Reslan, a Houston attorney, said today they "reflect discredit on our beautiful city."

Appearing before the all-male city council, Miss Reslan said she had seen "many women on our main street going around in slacks and a halter" and demanded to know; "why do you permit it?"

Mayor Otis Massey pondered the question and said that might be indecent exposure. He asked city attorney Lewis Cutrer if there was an ordinance that could be invoked.

Cutrer said the city had an ordinance against indecent exposure all right, but he added "it isn't broad enough to cover the matter."

Petition For Woman's Parole Is Considered

COLUMBIA, S. C., Aug. 10. (AP)—A petition for parole of Mrs. May Walker Burleson of Galveston, Tex., serving a 12-year manslaughter sentence, is being considered by the state probation and parole board, Director Jake C. Todd said today.

A previous petition was rejected because Mrs. Burleson had not served one third of her sentence, a condition that has now been met, Todd said. He said the board would make a decision on the present petition later.

Mrs. Burleson was sentenced in 1940 in the pistol-shooting death of the second wife of her former husband, an Army colonel then stationed at nearby Fort Jackson. The second Mrs. Burleson was shot in a hotel dining room.

Roosevelt Visits With Wounded

By MERRIMAN SMITH
United Press Staff Correspondent

HONOLULU, July 29. — The wounded kid in the stretcher shielded his eyes from the sun when they lifted him out of the hospital plane at Hickam field.

He looked no more than 19 or 20 years old, but he was a Marine lieutenant and had suffered a bad leg wound on Saipan. When the stretcher bearers carried him across the concrete runway to a waiting ambulance he was thinking only of a clean bed in a cool hospital.

He Just Grinned

The stretcher bearers stopped and the lieutenant uncovered his eyes to see why. There, leaning out of an automobile, was President Roosevelt.

"Hello, son," the President said, reaching to take the Marine's hand. The young lieutenant didn't saya word. He just grinned.

"Well," the president said, "You're up here now. It is good to see you—I got here just in time."

Lay Deathly Still

Other litters passed by the President's car and he waved or talked to each of the men they bore. Most of the 17 wounded brought in from Saipan were what Army doctors called "very sick". Some of them lay deathly still with not a flicker of recognition when the President greeted them.

Mr. Roosevelt spent most of today visiting the wounded of the Army, Navy and Marine corps. He went first to the Army's 147th general hospital, formerly St. Louis university, and left his automobile to make a detailed tour of five wards.

Saw Surgeons At Work

He saw the septic surgery ward where each bed contained a young man suffering from a badly infected wound. Virtually all of the wounded in the Army hospital were from Saipan.

Later the President went to the Aeia Naval hospital overlooking Pearl Harbor where the results of war were brought home forcefully. He saw surgeons picking pieces of shrapnel from the skull of a sailor and he saw surgeons attempting to mend a Marine's broken leg.

Didn't Turn His Head

Mr. Roosevelt sat for a moment by the bed of one young man who was suffering from a gangrenous lung condition. A tube was carrying penicillin and a potassium permangante solution into his veins and the young man was so sick that he didn't turn his head when the President entered the room.

The President chatted with him softly—"I hope you'll be feeling better soon—then you'll have a chance to come home—we're all waiting for you"—but the wounded man just lay there, staring at the ceiling with the vacant eyes of a very sick person.

The President also visited for a moment with a young Marine lieutenant who had amputated his own leg after suffering a bad wound in the Saipan jungle. In this room the President marveled at the good spirits, particularly when someone told him that the Marine referred to himself now as "doctor."

Four Men Charged In Gas Ration Illegality

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 10. (AP)—Warrants have been issued in federal court charging four men with illegal sale or transfer of gasoline coupons worth more than 10,000,000 gallons.

One of the men, in a written statement made public by OPA investigators, said that used coupons, taken to a furnace to be burned, had been raked out with a poker and salvaged illegally.

The four against whom charges were made yesterday were Charles Cline and Byron Stafford, bot' of St. Joseph, Mo., and Jack Arnold Ross and Marion Bolder, both of Kansas City.

FDR Explains Why U. S. Soldiers Beat Japs In Jungle Fighting

HONOLULU, July 29. (AP) (Delayed)—A reporter asked President Roosevelt today if he could explain why American soldiers are better than the Japanese at the latter's own specialty—jungle and atoll fighting.

Here is the President's reply:

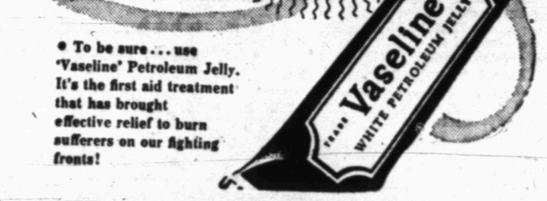

"Perhaps it sounds a little like boasting but perhaps it is the difference between our type of civiliaztion and our type of fellow and their type of civilization and their type of fellow.

"We'll take them on at any game—war or pleasure—and we'll beat them at it."

Drive Planned Against Bollworm In Valley

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 10. (AP)—A co-ordinated drive of farm leaders and state and federal agencies to combat the increased activity of the pink bollworm menace in the Rio Grande valley is to start tomorrow, L. F. Curl, director of the San Antonio district of the U. S. Buruea of Entomology and Plant Control, said today.

Curl said countywide meetings, sponsored by the Valley Farm Bureau federation and the Texas Statewide Cotton committee, would be held. He reported that gin trash tests in Hidalgo county revealed the weevil had increased about six times over 1943.

FDR Confers In Hawaii With War Chiefs And Maps New Smashes

By HOWARD FLIEGER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HONOLULU, July 29. (Delayed) — President Roosevelt and top-flight American commanders in the Pacific, including Gen. Douglas MacArthur mapped plans for smashing the Japanese into unconditional surrender at an historic three-day strategy conference here under the gently waving palms of Waikiki beach.

It was the President's first wartime conference with the Southwest Pacific commander, whom he greeted with a cordial "it's good to see you, Doug," and together they went over every phase of the far-flung offensive in the west.

Tours Of Inspection

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, Pacific fleet commander, and other top-ranking officers took part in the discussions, which ended today and which were interlarded by a series of inspection trips that took Mr. Roosevelt to many parts of this bristling fortress island.

The President arrived three days ago, on July 26, aboard a new super cruiser. He left the Marine base at San Diego, Calif., amid the utmost secrecy, shortly after his radio speech of July 20 accepting a fourth term nomination.

At a news conference here today Mr. Roosevelt said he had received a nice telegram from his vice presidential running mate, Senator Harry F. Truman of Missouri, but declared he was too far away from politics to discuss the campaign.

He said he will report to the nation at some future date, on his trip to the Pacific, which brought him into Pearl Harbor ten years to the day from the time of his last visit.

Sees "Amazing Change"

Obviously moved by the tremendous amount of defense work that has been done since the Japanese blasted Pearl Harbor into flaming wreckage two and a half years ago, Mr. Roosevelt said it was the "most amazing change" he ever had seen.

After talking with Admiral Nimitz and General MacArthur, who wore a leather field jacket when he went aboard the President's ship to greet him, Mr. Roosevelt restated America's war aims: To liberate the Philippines and to force Japan into an unconditional surrender.

We are going back to the Philippines, Mr. Roosevelt said, and MacArthur is going to be a part of the operation. You can't say, he added with a smile, whether the general is going back directly or by way of North Africa—but he is going back and we are going to give the islands their freedom.

New Offensives Mapped

In reply to a question, the President said new offensives will develop soon, but he pointed out that soon is a relative term and that strategy is a constantly shifting thing.

One of his inspection trips took Mr. Roosevelt into the jungle mountain training area where combat units receive their final week's instruction before going into the real thing. Asked why American fighters are better than the Japanese at their own specialty—jungle and atoll fighting, the President replied:

"Perhaps it sounds a little like boasting but perhaps it is the difference between our type of civilization and our type of fellow and their type of civilization and their type of fellow.

"We'll take them on at any game — war or pleasure — and we'll beat them at it."

Rides In Open Car

Sea-tanned and smiling, the President rode about in an open touring car, escorted by jeeps, and despite the secrecy surrounding his visit the streets were lined by rows of islanders and service men every time his party appeared.

Seven times he stopped to speak briefly to the men who stood at attention on either side of his car. On his first day here he reviewed the battle-tried 7th division of Attu and Kwajalein fame, commanded by Maj. Gen. Archibald V. Arnold.

Today the President's car happened to be at Hickam Field when a huge air transport command ambulance plane arrived with wounded from Saipan. Mr. Roosevelt and his party watched the transfer of the 32 bandaged men from the plane to ambulances. Three of the litters were carried close to his car and he reached out to shake hands with the astonished veterans. He also visited the big Navy hospital at Aeia and the Army's 147th General hospital, where most of the patients are recovering from wounds received at Saipan or in the Marshalls.

At Holmes Estate

The war councils took place in the beach-side garden of the mansion home of the late Christian R. Holmes, a beautiful Waikiki estate taken over by the Navy as a rest home for combat pilots. The lavishly equipped house, fenced off from the public, served as the President's headquarters during his stay.

Among the many high officers participating in the talks were Adm. William F. Halsey, commander of the Third Fleet; Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson, jr., Central Pacific Army commander; Lt. Gen. Millard F. Harmon, who directed Army operations throughout the Solomons; Vice Admiral Charles A. Lockwood, commander of submarine operations in the Pacific; Rear Admiral Charles A. Pownall, commander of the Pacific fleet air arm, and others.

With Him On Trip

Accompanying the President to Hawaii were his White House military aides, Adm. William D. Leahy and Maj. Gen. Edwin M. Watson; his personal physician, Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, surgeon general of the Navy; and Samuel I. Rosenman, his special counsel and close advisor.

White House reporters for the Associated Press, the United Press, the International News Service and a representative of the four major radio networks also traveled with the party from Washington.

Congress Said To Be Duty-Bound On Pact

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (AP) — Congress can not "abdicate its responsibilities" and is duty-bound to pass upon the oil agreement entered into by British and American representatives to work together after the war in developing their resources, Senator Moore (R-Okla) declared today.

The Oklahoman is a member of a special Senate committee appointed months ago to establish a government oil policy. A meeting of the committee has been called for Friday to discuss the agreement.

Blalock Asked To Clarify Own Stand Again By Elector

FORT WORTH, Aug. 10. (AP) — A. H. Rowan, one of the 23 presidential elctors named by the regular Democratic convention in May, today asked Myron G. Blalock, national committeeman, to clarify his own stand on Democratic issues before undertaking to question the electors' theories in a letter replying to Blalock's query as to whether electors would support the party nominees.

Rowan said in part:

"You are as much bound by the resolutions passed by the Democratic convention as anyone else. Those resolutions required all electors to support a true Democrat. . . it is rumored you are not in sympathy with the actions taken by the Democratic convention in May. I have been told that you proposed the sitting of the Democratic delegates and the rump convention delegates on a 50-50 basis. If this be true it is conceivable that this scheme to defraud the Democratic party of Texas was concocted in your fertile mind.

"I do not think you can serve two masters. Either you must be, and remain the spokesman for the Democratic party of Texas, or you must represent those groups composed of the bolters, the Sidney Hillman Political Action Committee, the Earl Browder Communist, and the black and tan Democrats. The ideals and political philosophy of these two groups are as different as night and day. They are incompatable and cannot be amalgamated."

Slain Man's Wife Reported Located

RALLS, Aug. 10. (Special) — Will Marr, funeral director of Ralls, said this afternoon he had been informed by a Texhoma, Okla., banker that Mrs. Mary L. Witt of near Texhoma had been identified as the wife of Gilbert Fredrick Witt, 39, whose body, officials said, was found near Ralls Wednesday afternoon.

Marr said the woman would go by train or bus to Lubbock probably Friday and be met by Marr and brought here.

Pending her arrival, Justice of Peace J. C. Byerley of Ralls withheld an inquest verdict. A 23-year-old Mexican who had hitchhiked a ride with the man identified as Witt was held in Crosby county jail pending completion of investigation. He told officials the man died of a self-inflicted bullet wound.

It was not considered likely that charges would be filed, it was understood.

WPB To Aid Veterans Start New Businesses

WASHINGTON, Aug. 9. (AP) — The War Production board said that returning war veterans "will be aided in establishing or re-establishing themselves in the small combined service and gasoline station business," by a WPB order issued today.

Under the order anyone can go into the business of distributing replacement parts by acquiring up to $1,000 worth of parts as an initial inventory before becoming subject to certain inventory limitations, it was explained.

Doughboys Make Themselves At Home Hour After They Roll Into Le Mans Atop Tanks

By EDWARD D. BALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LE MANS, France, Aug. 9. (Delayed) — American doughboys made themselves at home in sidewalk cafes and restaurants today within an hour after they rolled into this city atop tanks, but rifle fire still sounded in the southern residential sections late in the day as mop-up squads dealt with a few remaining German snipers.

The American entry followed destruction of a mile-long enemy column which was hurrying to the defense of the city last night.

Tried To Fire City

The Germans began withdrawing from this important bastion 110 miles from Paris Monday night. After Tuesday night's debacle the remaining defenses forces sent flying squads through Le Mans tossing incendiaries and grenades through doors and windows in an effort to fire the city.

But the attempt failed, and the Americans found destruction far less than at Rennes.

While the commanding general was having mess early tonight among the pines, palms and flower beds of the grassy city park, snipers' guns popped within earshot.

Reception Is Moving

Maj. Thomas P. Brooks of San Antonio, Texas, whose force ran into an enemy column, declared: "The Germans fought plenty hard but they didn't have a chance to make a stand."

The reception the doughboys got here was moving.

A half dozen GI's galloped down the main street astride beautiful sorrels. They were having the time of their lives and when somebody asked what was the idea they yelled: "We're mounties."

Cheers of townspeople crowding the streets turned to catcalls and whistles every time a truckload of sullen German prisoners lumbered by.

On the approaches to Le Mans I counted at least 20 German tanks, some fire-blackened and others apparently untouched. It was likely that the crews of the latter abandoned them when the tanks ran out of gas. Many fell victims to our air force.

Commercial Banks To Pay Cash On Bonds

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (AP)—The Treasury tentatively has set Oct. 1 for commercial banks to begin paying immediate cash for war savings bonds presented for redemption.

Bonds holders now must await for redemption checks from a federal reserve bank.

Next Of Kin Of P.O.W. To Meet

In order to enable families of prisoners of war to contact each other and to exchange information received from prisoners, the Red Cross will sponsor an initial gathering of Next of Kin Group sometime next week. The date will be announced in the paper.

Available at the Red Cross now are postal cards for correspondence with prisoners in the Far East. These cards should be used whenever possible to save space, to decrease weight and to facilitate censoring. They require no postage. The local Red Cross will mail these cards to next of kin who live in other towns and do not have access to them.

Next of kin are encouraged to write regularly as there is considerable evidence that many letters are now reaching the prison camps in the Far East and at a much faster rate.

During 1944 in cooperation with several European governments, the American Red Cross will ship 1,063,682 United Nations prisoners of war clothing outfits, standard food packages, miscellaneous comfort article sets, invalid food packages and medical kits. An itemized list of contents of the various packages is on file at the Red Cross office.

Other officers of the club which was organized to enable newcomers to become acquainted with Lubbock and to form friendships are as follows: Mrs. Clem Miller, vice-president; Mrs. Clark Riffe, secretary; Mrs. Lawrence Green, treasurer; and Mrs. Ralph Williamson, chairman of the contact committee.

"Guess My Age!"

New Kind of Face Powder Makes Her Look Years Younger!

ONCE this lovely girl looked quite a bit older. Some people actually thought she was rapidly approaching middle age . . .

For she was the innocent victim of an unflattering face powder! It was such an unkind powder—treacherous and sly. It showed up every tiny line in her face—accented every little skin fault—even seemed to exaggerate the size of her pores.

But look at her now! Can you guess her age? Would you say she is 20-30-35?

At last she has found a face powder that really, flatters her skin—makes it look younger and more enchanting!

Why Lady Esther Face Powder Is So Flattering

Lady Esther Face Powder is extra flattering because it's made differently. It isn't just mixed, just sifted, in the usual way. It's blown by Twin Hurricanes—blended with the speed and power of hurricanes—to look clearer, smoother and more flattering on your skin!

Because of this patented, exclusive method of hurricane blending, the texture of Lady Esther Face Powder is much smoother and finer than ordinary powder. The first touch of your puff spreads a delicate film of beauty on your skin, hiding little lines, little blemishes. And Lady Esther Face Powder clings longer, too—clings four long hours!

But the most exciting difference is in the shades. Lady Esther shades have a subtle new quality—because the color is blown in by hurricanes. Many women say that the Lady Esther shades are so fresh and alive that ordinary powder shades seem dull and drab by comparison.

Living Proof—In Your Own Mirror!

Why choose a face powder because it is expensive, or because of a clever package? Judge it only by its appearance on your skin!

Try Lady Esther Face Powder! Get the smallest size box, if you like—but try it! When you see how much smoother and younger it makes your skin look—it's time enough to get the largest and most economical size. But to prove this is the most flattering powder you have ever used, get the small-size box today!

Texas Rodeo Star Is Veteran Jap Buster

WITH THE AMERICAN INFANTRY DIVISION Somewhere in the Southwest Pacific Area. (U.P.)—Pfc. Irwin "Slim" Sladek, Fayetteville, Tex., veteran of many a bronc busting in Texas rodeos, is now a veteran Jap buster as well.

In front line action all through the division's participation in the Bougainville campaign as a second gunner in a mortar section in an American division infantry regiment, the mortar shells he drops into the muzzle of his mortar come out so fast they make a bucking broncho look like slow motion. Sladek is regarded as one of the fastest mortar feeders in his outfit.

In his pre-Army days, Sladek took part in 20 rodeos, taking first place three times in the calf roping. His best roping time is five seconds, with a complete tie-down in 15 seconds.

Saipan's Chamorro Kids Play Happily; Japs Are In Misery

By WILLIAM L. WORDEN
Associated Press Staff Writer

AT THE CIVILIAN INTERNMENT CAMP ON SAIPAN, June 29. (Delayed)—Already the kids are playing "scissors-cut-paper" and "fighting-like-roosters."

In the circle of yelling Koreans with clipped hair and torn trousers, one small, serious youth in a blue cap is the unquestioned champion of the first game.

In a dusty roadway of the Japanese section of this camp, a smallish 8-year-old tries hard but fruitlessly to win the rooster game against a taller 10-year-old. You grab one ankle with a hand in this game, hop on the other foot and try to knock your opponent off balance.

Shells Scream Over

While they play, American artillery shells follow one another directly over this camp just outside Charan Kanoa. (All organized resistance on Saipan ended July 8.) The children no longer look up when the shells pass.

In the hospital are wounded children who cry all night. Many among the smaller ones are sick and quiet in their mothers' arms after weeks in caves or in hiding in mountain top woods. But those unhurt seem to have forgotten already the terror which had been their lot since early June.

This camp, first of this war in which Americans govern any considerable number of Oriental enemy aliens, is divided into three sections—one for Koreans, one for Chamorros and one for the Japanese. Here also is a tent hospital under Army and Navy doctors. In it are even fed men and women who attempted suicide as the American amphibians clanked ashore.

Patients Mostly Civilians

All in the hospital are civilians except a very few seriously wounded. These officers and men were brought here from the overflowing prisoner of war hospital nearer the beach.

The first inevitable impression of the camp is one of concentrated human misery. The frightened, filthy people have stayed for weeks in caves or foxholes. Many are slightly wounded, most of them unfed and without water for days.

They left their homes with nothing but the clothes on their backs and now those garments are ripped and torn. Some adults came in naked when at last the American lines overran their hiding places or they finally gave up.

The majority are suffering from dysentery, many are barefoot. Many were old, sick and weary before the war forced them to superhuman exertions. There are literally hundreds of tiny children, infants and toddlers, who were forced into the same grueling treks as their elders. These are entirely naked. Many are suffering from boils, rashes, scratches or wounds. Many have had the rickets and their legs are hardly bigger than the cane stalks through which they retreated.

Chamorros In Best Shape

Of the three groups the Chamorros are in the best condition. They were largely farmers. More than 100 members of one family came in yesterday after living for months on a single 80-acre plot and then spending two weeks in a series of caves to which the skinny, 90-pound head of the house, "Elder Brother" Ignacio, 56, led them when the firing made the farm untenable.

Living in the country seems to have hardened the Chamorros before the attack, so they took the subsequent travail better than the town-living Japanese. Also, the Chamorros declare—this must be taken with certain reservations—they are delighted the Americans came.

The Chamorros are separated from the other races by barbed wire and are making themselves as comfortable as possible. They keep their camp clean and supply working parties willingly for cleaning up towns, burying the enemy dead or picking ripe produce in the fields.

Chief Heads Government

Navy camp officers govern the Chamorros through their own chief and a few interpreters, such as Vicente Guerrero, 46, who learned his English working around the Yap island cable station during the German occupation. Later Guerrero farmed here.

Another leader is Joseph Pangelinan, who wears a wide straw hat. Without difficulty, Pangelinan made the transfer from interpreting between Chamorros and their Japanese rulers to interpreting between Chamorros and Americans. Pangelinan speaks excellent, swift English but asserts he learned it all from American phonograph records and never had a chance to speak it until a week ago.

He says, with a smile, "that's how I happen to know so many American songs."

In the Japanese camp there is misery, fear and downheartedness.

Among the Koreans there is bickering and some lack of understanding.

But in the Chamorros camp even those who are dirtiest and most underfed seem on the surface to be fairly happy. They sing as they cook salvaged Japanese fish, rice, soy beans and American rations over family stoves. When the working parties go out they wave at other prisoners, grin widely at the grimy Marines moving forward.

Last night when antiaircraft fire downed two Japanese bombers, a great cheer arose from the Chamorro camp.

Freak Wave Blamed For Clipper Wreck

MIAMI, Fla., Aug. 10. (AP) — A freakish wave that knocked the bottom out of a fast moving four-engined clipper as it took off from Antwlla, Cuba, was blamed by a passenger today for the worst wreck ever suffered by Pan American Airways' Latin American division.

Seventeen passengers died when when the big, luxurious flying boat's back was broken and it sank in Nipe Bay.

Nine passengers and five crewmen were safe. Only those in the extreme front and extreme rear of the plane survived.

William D. Smallwood, San Juan automobile dealer, said he was looking out of a window during the takeoff.

"The water was rough, but we were getting off well enough," he stated. "We reached a speed of 80 or 90 miles an hour, and were skimming along ready to pull into the air when a swell higher than the others struck us. It knocked the bottom out of the boat hull, and a wall of water came through the plane. The rear compartment broke off and twisted around so that we hung upside down from our safety belts."

He said passengers screamed. Smallwood released his safety belt, kicked at hatch door open and swam to safety. He praised the crew highly, declaring they saved most of the nine passengers who survived.

Philadelphia Mayor Testifies In Probe

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 10. (AP) — Mayor Bernard Samuel and three other witnesses appeared before the federal grand jury probing Philadelphia's six-day transit tieup today and at the recess, Henry A. Schweinhaut, special assistant attorney general who is directing the invetsigation, said "We are beginning to see some light."

Schweinhaut declined to elaborate.

Mayor Samuel spent 30 minutes in the jury room. On emerging, he said "I was treated very courteously; all I have to say is in there," gesturing toward the jury room.

Boys Listen To News And Music At Front During Battle Lulls

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE AEF IN FRANCE, July 28. (Delayed)—You can listen now to world news and music right in the front line during the battle lull, if you are attached to one comfortminded artillery battalion.

It pipes the latest news, local talent, musical concerts and even the funny papers to its soldiers over the telephone lines in periods of inactivity.

Brothers Are Stars

Stars in this battlefront entertainment network are soldiers in a sextet headed by two brothers from Welch, W-Va. — Pfc. James P. Christian who whangs the guitar, and Pvt. Mike W. Christian, a fiddler.

The other four provide vocal accompaniment to hillbilly tunes. They are Cpl. Grady R. Lewis, Savannah, Tenn.; Pfc. Clarence Moore, Mattoon, Ill.; Pvt. Curtis F. McAdoo, Temple, Tex., and Pfc. Carl A. Byrd, Carthage, Tex.

Strictly By Request

The program operates strictly on a request basis. Men in the gunpits phone what they want to hear and the sextet obliges with anything from "Arkansas Traveler" to "Carroll County Blues."

Sometimes the program is interrupted by a sudden voice breaking in with "fire mission!" Then the entertainers and audience both scramble to the guns and before long the batteries are playing a serenade on German positions.

That is the music these artillery men like best.

Corporal Poor Trader

Cpl. Bucky Blachford of Obert, Neb., thought he was doing a good job learning French until it cost him the German bicycle the corporal used to deliver messages. Off duty, the corporal stopped to chat with some French civilians, and with a great deal of gesturing managed to convey that he'd appreciate a little cider.

The Frenchamn nodded vigorously, hopped on the corporal's bike and pedaled off. A few minutes later he returned with a quart of cider which he handed to Blachford with many a profuse "merci."

Then the Frenchman hopped back on the bicycle and rode away. It was only then that the corporal realized he's been traded out of the bike.

During the first two years of war, American industrial accidents disabled more than 60 times the military wounded and missing.

Methodical Gunman Gets $1,449 Quietly

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 10. (AP) — A lone gunman, operating so calmly that three persons within 10 feet knew nothing unusual was happening, robbed the cashier's cage of the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., yesterday of $1,449 in currency.

The two women in the cage at the time, Miss Margaret Lawrence and Mrs. Veroma Frazier, both had some currency in their hands when the man walked up to the counter, pointed a gun at Miss Lawrence and said, "give me that money."

He took the currency and told the women, "don't make a move or a sound until I get to the door."

Guamians Never Gave Up Hope For Change

A CHAMORRO REFUGEE CAMP, Guam, Aug. 3 (Delayed)—The inhabitants of Guam had many disappointments but never gave up hope that the Americans would return to this island.

One of the reasons the Japanese closed the churches was because the natives insisted on praying for the Americans to return, said Gaily R. Kamminga, commissioner of Piti town.

Kamminga, whose father came from Holland, laughed as he told how the Japanese looked through his house for an American flag. They threw a pillow from side to side without discovering the flag sewed inside. That was the work of his niece, Juana, a dressmaker who said she unwillingly used to cut down American marines' shirts to fit the Nipponese.

Mrs. Anna Underwood, whose husband was postmaster of Guam from 1915 until the Japanese seized the island Dec. 10, 1941, related that the Nipponese declared less than a week ago that the Americans would never retake Guam. Japan had wanted the island for 35 years and wouldn't let it go, she quoted Japanese as saying.

Pressure On Demo Electors Planned

JACKSON, Miss., Aug. 10. (AP) — A. B. Friend of Sardis, Miss., chairman of the executive committee of the Mississippi For Democracy slub, said taday that mass meeting of Mississippi Democrats will be called August 22 if any of the nine electors decline "to publicly state that they will support the convention nominees."

Friends said that "the statewide mass meeting, if called, will be to name electors to be put on the ticket by petition to oppose those electors who refuse to pledge support for the Democratic ticket."

French Chicken Version Is Tasty

IF the supply of local fowl is generous, try this French version of chicken in the pot for special guests. It's the prized recipe of Fontarce McCormick, author of "Little Coquette." So is the French family rice cake.

Brittany Chicken
(Serves 4)

Two pounds chicken breasts, split by butcher, 1½ pounds green string beans (already cooked 20 minutes), 1 small onion, sliced thin; 1/3 cup flour, ½ teaspoon thyme, ¼ teaspoon leaf sage, 1 small piece ginger root, shaved.

Mix all the seasonings except the ginger, with the flour. Dredge chicken breasts with these. Saute in skillet 25 minutes. Place chicken breasts in low caserole. Thicken gravy in skillet with rest of seasoned flour and thin with ½ cup of water. Add cut green beans to casserole, sprinkle with shaved ginger, and pour gravy over all. Bake in medium oven for 15 minutes. Serve.

French Family Rice Cake

One-half cup rice, 2 cups milk, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 3 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, 2 tablespoons sugar, 4 tablespoons blanched almonds, finely ground, 4 eggs, separated.

Take ½ cup rice and wash it well through many waters until the water is clear. Heat milk, add rice and salt. Cook gently over low heat until rice is cooked through and milk completely absorbed. Remove from heat. Add vanilla. Set aside to cool slightly while you cream the butter or margarine well; add the sugar gradually, next the ground or crushed almonds. Add part of the rice and one egg yolk. Mix well. Continue until all rice and egg yolks have been added. Beat until thoroughly blended. Whip egg whites stiff, then fold into the rice. Pour into buttered mold. Cover. Steam ½ hour. Turn out on serving platter. Chill; cover with raspberry jam. Serve with a soft custard.

Put Some Ginger Into Your Desserts

Icebox puddings and fresh fruits are good summer desserts — but they often need a little added zest. A good way to snap up puddings and fruits is to complement their delicate flavors with old fashion ginger snaps — rich in molasses and spiced with ground Jamaica ginger.

A summer favorite in wartime dress is sliced peaches, sweetened and served with sour cream, which is now an excellent substitute for sweet cream, and a delicacy in its own right. Serve with a platter of old fashion ginger snaps, and, for color, garnish the peaches with a sprinkling of blueberries or a sprig of mint.

Ginger-Peach Ice Cream

2 cups top milk or cream
1-3 cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon vanilla
2-3 cup fine old fashion ginger snap crumbs
¾ cup mashed fresh peaches

Heat milk, sugar and salt just enough to dissolve sugar. Remove from heat and add remaining ingredients. Pour into freezing tray of refrigerator, set control of refrigerator at coldest setting and freeze mixture until solid about an inch from edge or tray. Pour into a bowl and beat well with an egg beater. Return to tray and freeze solid.
Serves 4 generously.

Lemon-Ginger Whip

3 egg yolks
½ cup sugar
pinch of salt
1-3 cup lemon juice
grated rind of 1 lemon
½ cup evaporated milk chilled
3 egg whites
¾ cup old fashion ginger snap crumbs

Combine first 4 ingredients and beat well with an egg beater. Cook over low heat until thick, stirring constantly. Remove from heat, add lemon rind; cool. Whip evaporated milk and fold with stiffly beaten egg whites into lemon mixture. Cover bottom of a refrigerator tray with about 2-3 of cookie crumbs. Pour filling over crumbs and top with remaining crumbs. Set in freezing compartment and chill 1 1-2 hours. Cut into rectangular-shaped pieces. Serves 8.

Salad greens should be crisp, clean and dry and should be washed thoroughly and dried by shaking in a towel.

Pork Loin, Ham And Canned Fish Back On Food Rations List

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (U.P.) — Heavy demands of the nation's supply of pork and canned seafood today prompted the Office of Price administration to return all pork loins, hams and canned fish to the ration list, effective Sunday.

At the same time, "utility" grades (low grades) of beef and lamb will be made point free. Values of creamery butter and processed foods will remain the same. Points will be increased, however, for cheeses and so-called farm or country type and processed butter.

Seasonal Declines In Supply

OPA Chief Chester Bowles said point values for the choice cuts of pork—loins and hams — were restored because of a seasonal decline in supply and heavy buying by the armed services and civilans.

The new pork values range from four to eight points per pound for loins and two to nine points for hams. Whole hams average five points per pound. The values are about two points higher on the average than the level that prevailed before pork was removed from rationing.

The new point-free status for utility beef was announced last week. Bowles said that though there was no over-all increase in the beef supply there was a seasonal increase in the lower grades due to reduction of herds on the range and shipment of the poorer animals to market.

Beef Points Retained

Point values for "commercial," "good" and "choice" beef steaks and roasts will continue at their present high level, OPA said, because "many areas are in short supply." Other beef cuts, such as short ribs, plats, briskets and shanks, continue point free in all grades.

Bowles said utility grades of lamb were made point free because it was feared that such cuts would not sell with similar beef grades off the ration list.

The return of canned fish to rationing was prompted by shortages in nearly all parts of the country. The more popular varieties—salmon, bonito, shrimp, tuna and yellow tail—were set at six points per pound; mackerel and sardines at four points and canned oysters and miscellaneous products at two points.

Cheese Values Increased

Values of cheese were increased because civilians are buying faster than allowable under the allocated supply.

Cheddar and Colby cheese were raised to 12 points, cream and neufchatel to six, and Swiss, Limburger and Italian to eight.

The changes in the current ration list were two weeks late in coming out due to a disagreement between OPA and the War Food administration over removal of better beef cuts from rationing. The new values will continue through Sept. 2, end of the August ration period.

The OPA also announced that another 10-point red stamp—D5—would be validated next Sunday and would be good indefinitely. This makes a total of four stamps worth 40 points that will have been validated for the rationing period July 30-Sept. 2 and represents a change in policy whereby red stamps henceforth will be issued on a ration period basis rather than every four weeks, OPA said.

When cooking snap beans for dinner, plan on having enough left over to be chilled in the refrigerator and used in a salad a day or two later. They are especially good served with a bacon dressing.

Tomato Recipes Are Appetizing

USE tomatoes in appetizing combinations with other Victory Garden vegetables.

Okra and Tomatoes
(Serves 4-5)

Four to five medium-sized tomatoes, 1 onion, finely cut, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, ¼ teaspoon dried basil, 1 pound okra.

Note: There's a trick to the proper cooking of okra. To prevent okra from "bleeding" never cut the pods until you are ready to cook them. Then, immediately after cutting drop into the hot liquid or the hot fat (however they are to be cooked). This will seal the cut ends, keeping the sticky juice inside the pods.

Scald and skin the tomatoes, cut into quarters and drop into saucepan. Add onion, salt, bay leaf and basil. Bring to boil. Wash the okra, cut off stem, then cut into inch-long pieces — drop the cut pieces into the boiling liquid as you cut. Cook slowly until okra is tender—this takes about 15 minutes.

Tomatoes and Corn
(Serves 4-5)

Four large ripe tomatoes, 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine, ½ teaspoon garlic salt, ½ teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon salt and pepper, ½ to 1 cup corn, cut from cob.

Wash, scald and skin the tomatoes. Quarter and drop into saucepan. Add remaining ingredients; bring slowly to boil; simmer 8 to 10 minutes, until corn is cooked.

Negro Juvenile Problem Brings Plea For Delinquency School

By JEANE ENGLE
Avalanche Staff Writer

Announcement that a recent meeting of Texas Social Welfare Association had discussed plans to provide a state school for delinquent negro girls should meet with favor throughout the state, John W. Wilson, Lubbock city-county juvenile counsellor, said.

The association decided to ask the next state legislature to make an appropriation for the purpose — considered an indication that Texans are realizing necessity of such a school.

Mostly Sex Offenses

Negro girl delinquency cases, most of them sex offenses, are on the increase in Lubbock, as are all juvenile problems, but the negro girl question particularly is a puzzler. Since there is no state school for them (there is for negro boys) little can be done, except to treat them for venereal diseases, or reprimand misdemeanor cases and send them home.

The lack of a training school, however, does not mean that authorities follow a "hands-off" policy, but formally filed cases are kept at a minimum, the juvenile counsellor stated.

Venereal Treatment

If the girls have venereal diseases, they are held in the county hospital approximately 15 to 21 days for complete cure of gonorrhea, and are given three treatments for syphilis, which renders them non-infectious. In case of syphilis, the girls are required, by county and city health officers, to take weekly treatments, Glynn T. Hudgens, city-county vice-control officer, said.

"Most of our negro girl delinquents are sex offenders," Wilson said. "We have a few thefts reported, and a small percentage for not attending school or for running away from home."

Some of the girls are picked up as much as six times and most of them have gonorrhea or syphilis, or both. He told of one girl who had gonorrhea twice and syphilis twice in 16 months.

Only One Charged

Charges have been brought against only one negro girl out of some 40 investigated. She was charged with stealing a dress in a downtown store and held two months. "We haven't heard from her since, and that was in August, 1943."

Another case cited was that of a 15-year-old girl and living with a man who had a wife in Abilene. The girl surprised the man in a "dark room" with an adult woman and complained to police. The two adults were arrested for vagrancy and Wilson sent the girl to her mother in Amarillo.

Morals Said Low

The negro juvenile problem, Wilson said, is difficult because of sagging morals in some negro families. "I remember the case of a girl's mother who lived with a man to whom she was not married. The girl's boy friend often came to see her and spent the night, apparently with approval of her mother."

In 1941 the juvenile counsellor said he handled 41 delinquent girl cases, whites and negroes, and in 1943 there were 398 cases. He attributes the increase to relaxation of morals—"which seems to be inevitable in wartime. I'm no alarmist, but the increase is astounding."

MEETING IS POSTPONED

DALLAS, Aug. 10. (AP) — E. B. Germany, one of the 23 Democratic electors selected by the regular convention in Austin May 23, said last night a meeting of the group planned for Aug. 16 in Austin had been postponed because many could not attend. He said a meeting probably would be held after the Sept. 12 convention in Dallas.

Air Boys In Midlands Want To See Mom Before Going For Japs

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE, English Midlands.—If the air force boys in this neighborhood don't get a home leave before they are carried over to fight the Japanese, they are going to be pretty disappointed.

Stopping off here on my way back to India and China, I visited this fortress base and told them I was recruiting for the India-China theater.

Many Ready To Go

A lot of them, bored with being in one spot for so long, wanted to go to China, especially the ground crews, they will have to take a lick at the Japanese. They had heard some lurid stories about the Pacific war, most of them fairly true, others wild exaggerations. Their first dread of living in bamboo bashas, or huts, was quieted when they were told these huts were fairly rain proof and cool.

Many of the men said they would like a little heat for awhile.

No Longer Make News

One hears the men here complain that they no longer make news in their home papers.

"Nobody cares about heavy bombing anymore," said one of them. "The guys over on the beach are getting all the glory." That means Normandy.

In the "old days," six months to a year ago, heavy losses resulted from bombing missions, but now most planes come home and casulties have been dropped. But the going still is tough in spots. The air over Berlin, Munich and the Ruhr is especially rugged.

"Sailors On Leave"

Last year, combat crews had to finish a score or so of missions to get home leave. But the fighting was tough and few lived through it. Strangely enough, those who already have completed their "tour" and are awaiting transportation home, still get up at night and go through the briefings. The boys call them "sailors on leave."

Ground crews feel badly about not getting home. Some have been at this same field for 15 months. And combat crews finish their "home award tours" in three to four months. They're ready to carry their war on to the Pacific, but many would like "to see mom first."

"Thought Capsules" Helping Alcoholics

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. (AP) — "Thought capsules" are contributing to rehabilitation of alcoholics, says Edward McGoldrick, director of the bureau of alcholic therapy.

Of the 17 "thought capsules" this is typical:

"I know I must abstain from alcohol, not merely for the sake of others, but first and foremost for my own self-steem . . . an alcoholic is made, not born . . . I do not need alcohol . . . I know from my own personal experience that drinking never solved a problem for me."

Parents Get Citation Won By Officer Son

Parents of Lt. Arthur L. Travis, jr., received a copy of a citation for their son and eight other members of a supply section of a tank destroyer battalion now thought to be in France. The Travis' reside at 1623 Main street.

The citation, signed by their commanding officer, recites that the men, by working 17 to 20 hours daily day after day, kept vitally needed supplies and equipment moving to combat units which thus were enabled to prepare for the completion of their missions in connection with the European invasion.

Lt. Travis was inducted into regular Army service with the National Guard about four years ago. He graduated from Roswell, N. M., High school but resided in Lubbock when he entered service. Mrs. Travis makes her home with her parents in Brownwood.

City Falls Short Of State Bond Record

Lubbock county citizens topped their quota in the Fifth War Loan drive, but the records fell short of those set by the state as a whole, according to the final report Dallas state headquarters made Thursday to county headquarters.

The county's total sales of $5,473,384.25 exceeded the $4,685,000 quota by $788,384.25, or 16.8 per cent. Series E sales of $1,176,231.25 topped the $1,110,000 quota by $66,231.25, or 6 per cent.

Total sales in Texas of $612,621,690.75 were 32 per cent above the $464,000,000 quota. Series E sales of $138,326,118.75 were 10.7 per cent above the $125,000,000 goal.

E. S. Key Funeral Is Held Here Thursday

Funeral services for E. S. Key, 92, of Wilson who died Wednesday night at the home of his son, J. C. Key of Wilson, were held Thursday in the chapel of Rix Funeral home, and burial was to be at Bedias, Grimes county.

Other survivors are two sons, R. E. Key of Lubbock and E. S. Key, jr., of Madisonville; 13 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Blum, Former Premier Of France, Victim Of Nazis' Death Factory

MOSCOW, Aug. 10. (AP)—Konstantin Simonov, correspondent for the Army newspaper Red Star, made public today at story that indicated former Permier Leon Blum of France had died at the Nazis' death factory near Lublin.

Simonov's story on Hitler's biggest enterprise dedicated to the destruction of life said hundreds of thousands of persons, principally Jews, were systematically and methodically killed there since the winter of 1941.

The correspondent said the "extermination camp" consisted of death fields with scientific crematories and a system of gallows which Blum was forced to help build.

Reports From Spain

(A dispatch July 6 from Irun, Spain, said it was understood that Blum and former Minister of Interior Georges Mandel were held in a chateau in central Germany, Lublin, in pre-war southeastern Peland, was captured by the Russians July 24.)

Interviewing two Lublin engineers who reported they saw Blum at the death factory in May of last year, Simonov got this story:

"You know who that man is?" asked a Lublin Jew who knew one of the engineers, indicating an elderly man dragging some planks. "He is Leon Blum."

The engineer said there happened to be no gestapo men about at the moment so he stopped the old man and asked:

"Are you Leon Blum?"

"Yes," said the old man.

"The prime minister of France?"

"Yes, the prime minister of France."

The engineer asked the man how he got to Lublin.

"With the last group of French prisoners, he replied.

"Why did you not try to save yourself there at home? Was it impossible?"

Shares Fate Of People

"I do not know," the man replied. "Perhaps I could not. I decided to share the fate of my people."

Tears rolled down the man's cheeks as he shuffled off with his planks at the appearance of two storm troopers. He stumbled with his load and fell. Some one helped him up. He moved on.

A week later the two engineers returned to camp and met the man who had introduced them to Blum. They asked where he was.

The man lifted his hand towards the sky.

"There," he replied, "where we will all be soon."

Rites Held Thursday For Dr. E. C. Bloom

Last rites for Dr. Edgar C. Bloom, 49, Lubbock dentist for 23 years, were held in the Weatherford Episcopal church Thursday afternoon.

Dr. Bloom, who suffered a heart attack about two weeks ago, died at 6:45 p. m. Wednesday in West Texas hospital.

Dr. Bloom and his brother, Dr. Harry Bloom, of Bloom and Bloom Dentists, lived on a ranch near Southland and 26 miles miles from Lubbock. They commuted each day to their office here. About 23 years ago the brothers came to Lubbock to take over the office of another brother, Dr. C. G. Bloom, when he died.

Weatherford is the family home.

Technicians Sought By WAC Recruiter

A special trip will be made to Lubbock next week by Capt. Nina E. C. Donahue of the Officers Procurement division, Eighth Service command headquarters in Dallas, to interview women between the ages of 20 and 50 who are interested in filling essential jobs, as medical technicians for the Womens' Army corps.

Capt. Donahue will be in the WAC recruiting office Monday and Tuesday, Aug. 14 and 15, and will interview every woman who visits her. In a recent letter she stated that a special call has been issued by the Surgeon General calling for 6,800 women in the next two months to serve as medical technicians in Army hospitals to take care of the many casualties returning from the battlefronts.

There are about 1,100 known tributaries of the Amazon river.

Air Boys In Midlands Want To See Mom Before Going For Japs

By PRESTON GROVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

AN AMERICAN BOMBER BASE, English Midlands.—If the air force boys in this neighborhood don't get a home leave before they are carried over to fight the Japanese, they are going to be pretty disappointed.

Stopping off here on my way back to India and China, I visited this fortress base and told them I was recruiting for the India-China theater.

Many Ready To Go

A lot of them, bored with being in one spot for so long, wanted to go to China, especially the ground crews, they will have to take a lick at the Japanese. They had heard some lurid stories about the Pacific war, most of them fairly true, others wild exaggerations. Their first dread of living in bamboo bashas, or huts, was quieted when they were told these huts were fairly rain proof and cool.

Many of the men said they would like a little heat for awhile.

No Longer Make News

One hears the men here complain that they no longer make news in their home papers.

"Nobody cares about heavy bombing anymore," said one of them. "The guys over on the beach are getting all the glory." That means Normandy.

In the "old days," six months to a year ago, heavy losses resulted from bombing missions, but now most planes come home and casulties have been dropped. But the going still is tough in spots. The air over Berlin, Munich and the Ruhr is especially rugged.

"Sailors On Leave"

Last year, combat crews had to finish a score or so of missions to get home leave. But the fighting was tough and few lived through it. Strangely enough, those who already have completed their "tour" and are awaiting transportation home, still get up at night and go through the briefings. The boys call them "sailors on leave."

Ground crews feel badly about not getting home. Some have been at this same field for 15 months. And combat crews finish their "home award tours" in three to four months. They're ready to carry their war on to the Pacific, but many would like "to see mom first."

"Thought Capsules" Helping Alcoholics

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. (AP) — "Thought capsules" are contributing to rehabilitation of alcoholics, says Edward McGoldrick, director of the bureau of alcholic therapy.

Of the 17 "thought capsules" this is typical:

"I know I must abstain from alcohol, not merely for the sake of others, but first and foremost for my own self-steem . . . an alcoholic is made, not born . . . I do not need alcohol . . . I know from my own personal experience that drinking never solved a problem for me."

Parents Get Citation Won By Officer Son

Parents of Lt. Arthur L. Travis, jr., received a copy of a citation for their son and eight other members of a supply section of a tank destroyer battalion now thought to be in France. The Travis' reside at 1623 Main street.

The citation, signed by their commanding officer, recites that the men, by working 17 to 20 hours daily day after day, kept vitally needed supplies and equipment moving to combat units which thus were enabled to prepare for the completion of their missions in connection with the European invasion.

Lt. Travis was inducted into regular Army service with the National Guard about four years ago. He graduated from Roswell, N. M., High school but resided in Lubbock when he entered service. Mrs. Travis makes her home with her parents in Brownwood.

City Falls Short Of State Bond Record

Lubbock county citizens topped their quota in the Fifth War Loan drive, but the records fell short of those set by the state as a whole, according to the final report Dallas state headquarters made Thursday to county headquarters.

The county's total sales of $5,473,384.25 exceeded the $4,685,000 quota by $788,384.25, or 16.8 per cent. Series E sales of $1,176,231.25 topped the $1,110,000 quota by $66,231.25, or 6 per cent.

Total sales in Texas of $612,621,690.75 were 32 per cent above the $464,000,000 quota. Series E sales of $138,326,118.75 were 10.7 per cent above the $125,000,000 goal.

E. S. Key Funeral Is Held Here Thursday

Funeral services for E. S. Key, 92, of Wilson who died Wednesday night at the home of his son, J. C. Key of Wilson, were held Thursday in the chapel of Rix Funeral home, and burial was to be at Bedias, Grimes county.

Other survivors are two sons, R. E. Key of Lubbock and E. S. Key, jr., of Madisonville; 13 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Layne, Walmsley To Lead North, South All-Stars; South Favored Slightly

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Aug. 10. (AP)—Two of the brightest stars ever to shine in Texas schoolboy football begin a rivalry here tomorrow night that soon will be carried onto college fields.

Blond Bobby Layne, Highland Park's great all-around back, meets the legend of Goose Creek—Chunky George Walmsley, who held down a place alongside Bouncing Bobby in last fall's All-State backfield.

The occasion will be the first grid game of the season in Texas—the north vs the south in the tenth annual All-Star battle that brings the Texas high school coaching school to a close.

As soon as the tilt is over, Layne will go back to Austin where he's in the University of Texas and where he pitched on the baseball team last spring. Walmsley will be in Houston, taking up his duties as a Naval V-12 student at Rice where he was the talk of the town in summer football practice that ended last week.

But these two youngsters won't be the whole show tomorrow night when an estimated 8,000 fans file into the high school stadium to see Bobby and George match runs and passes in a game that appears destined to break a virtual monopoly the North has held in the nine previous contests.

Last year the boys from the upper districts of the interscholastic league football play administered their most crushing defeat over the Southerners—a 25-12 decision at Waco. That brought the all time standing to six victories for the North, two for the South and one tie.

But close critics think the South will hang up a victory tomorrow night. Principal reasons are that the South appears to have material equal to if not better than the North and that the boys are running with a formation they know—the double wing-back — while the North is attempting to master the T.

Also, a redistricting plan has brought a more even division of players from the Class AA schools.

Coach Bobby Dodd of Georgia Tech, who tutors the South, is depending greatly on a teammate of Walmsley at Goose Creek, giant wingman Bill Taylor, and a hard running lad from Cameron—rugged Frank Torno.

Coach Jeff Cravath of Southern California, who is directing the Northerners, is high on Billy Lynch, the Amarillo back-field ace, and Jack Halfpenny, sturdy fullback from Sunset (Dallas), and boasts a big, fast line led by Bob Edge of Sunset.

The teams will be close in weight with Taylor, who arrived only yesterday, bringing the South an edge in the line but with the backfields about the same.

The game is scheduled to open at 8:30 o'clock after ceremonies in which each All-Star will receive a handsome wrist watch.

The probable starting lineups:

NORTH	Pos.	SOUTH
Watson, Midland	LE	Taylor, Goose C.
Edge, Dallas	LT	Sparkman, S. A.
Bukkemper, Ball.	LG	Gatewood, Waco
MacDonald, Dallas	C	McKinney, Lufkin
Orr, Vernon	RG	Odoms, McAllen
Walton, Ft. Worth	RT	Kotlerich, Gal.
Buschman, Dallas	RE	Greene, Breck.
Layne, Dallas	QB	Heimpcamp, Hous.
Spires, Abilene	LH	Walmsley, Goose C.
Lynch, Amarillo	RH	Torno, Cameron
Halfpenny, Dallas	FB	Daniels, Kerrville

Howard Lynch of Amarillo tonight was elected president of the Texas High School Coaches association.

Lynch was advanced from vice-president to succeed W. C. O. Harris of Fort Worth at the association's annual business meeting held in connection with the Texas High School Coaching school.

Bobby Cannon of Edinburg was elected vice-president and Bill Carmichael of Bryan was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Harris announced three questions submitted by regional groups would be passed to the board of directors with President-Elect Lynch to name committees to consider them.

These questions involved whether the amount of money a school can spend on awards to athletes should be raised and whether there should be a Class A state football championship race, something now confined to Class AA schools.

Harris said most of the coaches wanted to bar high school players from the Coaching school because the membership now was too large to accommodate more.

Beginning next year awards will be limited to $7.50 per year per boy except for seniors who can receive awards of the value of $15.00.

The Sports Eye

By Mack Turner

WICHITA FALLS — As the Texas High School Coaches association coaching school moves into the home stretch, the crowd is still coming in, and the school is like a huge snowball—gaining size the more it rolls along. But the life of the school will outlast that of any snowballs that might have strayed into the city.

One of the latest arrivals in the city is W. T. Hanes from down Tahoka way. Hanes was impressed with the looks of the turnout at the school. He began checking over the work done by Coach Leo Jackson during the opening days of the school.

Hanes reported the Tahoka eleven was getting a "break" this year in the enlargement of the school rollcall for this fall, which will add some powerful looking lads to the football squad. Hanes admits that the prospect is bright for this year.

We have been unable to get Coach Jackson to admit as much, but we have long found that school superintendents are far more optimistic than football coaches.

The Lubbock Westerner enrollment at the school has been increased and more is promised. George Brewer, a lad that Lubbock coaches are expecting to handle a large part of the ball carrying this fall, and Clifton Riek, another Westerner, arrived in the city. They will remain in Wichita Falls to see the All-Star game Friday night.

George reported to the Sports Eye that Buddy Boles and Gene Gray were coming down for the game. Possibly by the time this reaches print, they will be in the "city that Burkburnett built."

MOST of the fellows on the side lines are making the South All-Stars the favorites for Friday's game. The North team will run from a T formation, and most of the coaches are of the opinion that the kids won't be able to master the tricky T in the amount of time allotted to practice.

The South will use the more familiar wingback formations, both single and double, mostly the former. General opinion around the school is that there is very little to choose between the two teams as far as strength on paper goes, but the formations will make the difference and tip the scales in favor of the South.

Indications from the practice field is that Homer Lawson, Lubbock's all-district tackle is gaining in favor with the coaches. Homer is not being listed with the starting lineup under present plans of rival coaches. Neither is Seth Murphy of Levelland or Billy Joe Snodgrass of Brownfield. But everyone on the squad will see plenty of action, and only eleven boys can start in the game.

Delicate Dell Morgan, the popular coach at Texas Tech, has been assigned to the coaching staff on the South team. Over on the other side of the field will be a couple of lads that Morgan will be watching closely, for present indications are they will be Red Raiders in a few more days.

Morgan's problem Friday night will be stopping Homer Lawson and Seth Murphy. In a few more days, it is indicated that the same Morgan will be figuring ways to make the same Lawson and Murphy "go."

That's the life of a football coach.

VISITING newspapermen at the coaching school had "their day" Thursday afternoon at the sports writers room in the Holt hotel. The writers were guests of the Times Publishing company of Wichita Falls for a little party.

It only proves that the press are not the "forgotten men" at this convention.

Rotary Wins No Hit Game Over JCC Cubs

Young Jack Alderson, Rotary ace moundsman, held up the defensive action and hurled the first no hit no run contest of American league junior baseball Thursday night as his teammates bettered three opposing pitchers for a 19-0 victory over the Junior Chamber of Commerce Cubs on Chapman field.

Alderson struck out six of the Cubs while pitching no hit ball, and Jack Keeling caught. Boyer began the game on the mound for the Cubs, whiffing two, McCabe then came into the game, whiffed a couple, and gave way to Fowler, who put the third one past one opponent. But the Rotarians pounded out 12 hits from the three to take the win. Galey caught.

Despite Big Lead, Browns Are Devoid Of Personalities

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 10. — Quick now, who plays right field for the St. Louis Browns? and left field? and catches?

Sure, we didn't think you knew without calling in your vice-president in charge of research. Luke Sewell knows, as he has to scribble out the batting order. The guys he puts out there in the field know, presumably without glancing down at their identification tags.

But to the average fan the individual members of the club are as anonymous as pebbles. The Browns are the Browns, that's all, a team devoid of personalities.

It has always been so. The Browns were just another team filling out an eight-team league. They had some players who were just so darned good they rose above the nameless roles of the other members of the team. Players like George Sisler, and Bobo Newsom, for instance.

But as a whole, a Brown contract meant more or less obscurity, and the fans came into the habit of thinking of the club as a team and not a collection of individuals.

This year most of the names are familiar, chiefly because the owners have been around here and there quite a while. But few of the names are associated with the Browns as a Bill Dickey or a Joe Di Maggio would be associated with the Yankees, or a Ted Williams with the Red Sox.

George McQuinn and Vernon Stephens are the two we think of offhand who might come closest to being recognized as individual Browns. Most of the other names, if you recognize them at all, you associate with other clubs. Don Gutteridge with the Cards, for example, and Mike Kreevich with the White Sox.

But this bunch of baseball spooks is out in front in the American league race, which must prove something or other. That Sewell is doing a bang-up job as manager, for one thing. And that the players are giving it everything they've got.

ALL-STARS, CIVIES WIN

Both games scheduled for the softball leagues Thursday night at the Twenty-third street and Avenue W diamond were forfeited. Hurlwood's All-Stars and the Lubbock Army Air Field Civilianettes won 9-0 from the Armed Forces Induction Center and the LAAF Wacs.

Sanders Chosen To Coach Lamesa

LAMESA, Aug. 10 (Special) — H. J. (Choc) Sanders of Bryan has been elected and has accepted employment with the Lamesa schools as teacher of physical education and health for boys, coach of basketball and assistant to Coach Fitzgerald in football. This announcement was made by V. Z. Rogers, superintendant of Lamesa schools.

Sanders is a graduate of Southern Methodist University with the class of 1929. He was one of the outstanding athletics of the Mustang teams and was All-American tackle in 1928. He taught at John Tarleton college for eight years, and had several Lamesa boys on his winning football and basketball teams. For the past six years he has been head coach at Allen Academy, Bryan.

Mr. and Mrs. Sanders and their two sons are expected in Lamesa within the next few days.

It is estimated that one fifth of all the world's running fresh water is carried by the Amazon.

Germain, Otto Reach WWAG Semi-Finals

CHICAGO, Aug. 10. (AP)—Cool Dorothy Germain of Philadelphia, the defending champion, blitzed her way into the semi-final round of the Women's Western Amateur Golf championship today along with Phyllis Otto, Georgia tainter and Mrs. H. M. Sims, the 1941 Minnesota State champion.

Miss Germain drilled her powerful shots through a high, switching wind to crush the hopes of the Spokane, Wash., star, Betty Jean Rucker, 6 and 5. Her opponent in tomorrow's semi-final session will be 32-year-old Mrs. Sims of Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Sims, trailing three-down at the 11th hole in her match with Peggy Kirk of Findlay, Ohio, a semi-finalist last year, rallied beautifully and eventually gained a decisive 1-up on the 21st when her opponent missed a three-footer.

The 21-year-old Miss Tainter, Fargo, N. D., was only one over par for the 16 holes required to beat medalist Sally Sessions of Muskegon, Mich., 3 and 2.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands; One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and Justice for all.

"The Moving Finger Writes . . ."

THE second week in August now is credited by historians with having marked the beginning of the end of World War I.

It was during the present week, 26 years ago, that von Ludendorff notified the kaiser that Germany was beaten. Specifically, von Ludendorff termed Aug. 8 the "black day" for Germany in that struggle.

Hysterically, the kaiser refused to recognize the inevitability of approaching disaster. But the Prussian Junkers, typified by von Ludendorff, were in the saddle. German military strategy thereafter accepted the inevitability of defeat and sought, in a very practical and realistic way, to make the best of existing conditions and prospects. Their objective was a termination of war under conditions which would guarantee their personal safety, leave Germany intact and enable them to begin preparations for the war now drawing toward its close. The armistice followed, by approximately three months, their abandonment of hope of victory.

However, it would be a mistake to attempt to apply any similar timetable to prospects for the final phases of the present war in Europe. Comparisons and contrasts between conditions existing then and now are interesting. But they are more confusing than helpful to anyone who may attempt to forecast a date for victory in the present struggle.

From the military standpoint, Germany's situation is incomparably worse now than in August, 1918. Russia was out of the war then. Germany's industry was intact—and the largest of any nation except that of the United States. Germany's relative military strength of all kinds compared favorably with that of the Allies. People of the Allies were receptive to propaganda which pictured the "poor German people" as the unwilling victims of an ambitious, arrogant leadership concentrated in the kaiser. When the kaiser fled to Holland, people of the Allies were ready to believe that the cancer of Prussian militarism had been removed. These and many other factors created conditions which led to the Armistice.

But, even though Germany's military situation today is much worse than in August, 1918, this offers no guarantee that the Allies now may be within three months of victory. Then the German leadership felt no serious concern as to its personal safety after defeat. Today, the Nazi leaders have every reason to expect that, if they fall into the hands of the Allies, they will face swift trials and executions. Capitulation for the Prussion leadership in 1918 offered life and hope. Capitulation for most of the topflight Nazis today probably would mean death. Consequently, it is reasonable to expect that they will fight as long as Germans will fight for them, if for no other reason than to gain a few more days, weeks or months or life for themselves. And their hold upon the masses of Germany is incomparably stronger than in 1918.

It may be true, of course, that the collapse may come soon despite all the Nazis to do. This can be hoped for. Certainly, it cannot be relied upon. All that is known now is that the rats have been cornered. No one knows, probably not even themselves, just how much fight still may be left in them.

Guarantee For The Future

ANNOUNCEMENT the other day that seven 350-ocean going oil tankers had been floated on an inland waterway from the western tip of Lake Superior to the Gulf of Mexico added to the confidence with which Americans can contemplate the long-range secuirty of their nation.

Naturally, it is to be hoped that the time never will come when any enemy will be able to attack effectively the coastal shipbuilding and repairing facilities of the United States. But realism compels recognition of the possibility that such a time might come some day.

If it should, it is reassuring to know that large seacraft built in Great Lakes shipyards might be floated to salt water. Of course, it is not to be supposed that any such achievement ever will be possible with large warships. But the fact that large tankers have been handled in this manner is the proof that warcraft of a type which could be invaluable in many ways defensively or for blockade running might be transported similarly.

True, it could not be expected that anything of this kind would be enough, in itself alone, to avert disaster. But it does provide another bit of insurance and assurance that, come what may, Uncle Sam is going to have some answer for any problem of defense which the future may have in store. It offers just that much more of guarantee of the future security of the United States.

The One Minute Sermon

It is of the Lord's mercies that we are not consumed, because his compassions fail not.

They are new every morning: great is thy faithfulness.

The Lord is my portion, saith my soul therefore will I hope in him.

The Lord is good unto them that wait for him, to the soul that seeketh him. Lamentations 3:22-25.

FREDDA

XIII

WHEN I came back to the dormitory, the girls were still asleep. Only Fredda was sitting on her cot, in her hand something glittering which she tried to hide as soon as she saw me coming. I wouldn't have given another thought to this silvery something if Fredda hadn't shouted at me like mad. "Why are you spying around here at this hour of the morning? Night watch isn't over until 6! I'll report you to the doctor right away." Her voice was brittle, yet shrill.

"Give me your hypodermic," I said, and rushed over to her bed trying to catch her arm. A sudden inspiration let me know the source of Fredda's perpetual motion. I saw through her as if I had X-ray eyes.

"What hypodermic? There is none." But she pressed her body against the pillow under which she had hidden the ominous something.

"It was your excitement that betrayed you, otherwise I could have slept years in this dormitory without suspicion."

"You can't prove anything," she said. Sulking and frightened, she seemed a completely changed person.

"I am not interested in proving what I know. Punctures in your arm would tell the truth, anyway."

"Listen, Charlotte, you have to listen to me . . ." But an oppressed convulsion shook her so heavily that she couldn't move her lips. I shrugged and made an effort to go to bed, suddenly exhausted from too much real life, but she caught a corner of my apron and drew me back.

"Please don't go to Dr. Merrill, Charlotte. Please."

"What makes you think I'm an informer?"

"Listen, Charlotte," she whispered; but as we heard some of the girls trundling around in their beds in the last and most delicate stage of sleep, she broke off and said, "Later, Chary, I promise to explain everything to you later. It is a long and dreadful story. But not now with 15 witnesses." It was pitiful to see Fredda, the dominating, beautiful girl with all the lights out.

"You mustn't feel forced to tell me anything because of this incident. Only if you think it will help you." She nodded vaguely and let me go.

I felt overtired and overburdened with happenings and was afraid I couldn't sleep, but three minutes later I was off. The human mind is a fearful instrument of adaptation, as Peggy had said the day before we left.

I NEVER did like gossip and consequently it doesn't always come my way. Which is why the news of the latest fight between Miss Fryberg and Yvonne didn't even reach me. Only when the new assistant doctor arrived, fresh from the Cedars of Lebanon in New York, and with him a colleague destined for the new field dressing station behind the front lines, the clash became so ostentatious that even I had to take part in it.

The doctor who was going to the front asked for a nurse, and though Mali wanted to volunteer right away, Miss Fryberg took no notice of it and selected Yvonne for the station. Yvonne, bluntly and without restraint, stated, "I don't want to go." A refusal that Miss Fryberg accusingly called military insubordination.

"Just a minute," said Yvonne in the tone of an angry taxi driver, "if there are military orders, they have to come from Captain Merrill, not from you. This, I know, is a voluntary job and Mali applied for it. You didn't take her because you want to get rid of me. I know you well! Yet, I am willing to drag the whole affair to Dr. Merrill and follow his decision. That's only fair."

"You'll do nothing of the kind," foamed Miss Fryberg.

"What gives you the right to stop me?" snapped Yvonne. And drawing the timid Mali with her, she left the room and entered the sanctum sanctorum of Dr. Merrill without being stopped by the suddenly frozen Miss Fryberg.

Dr. Di Voto, the innocent cause of this revolution, stood aghast at Miss Fryberg's side and didn't know what to say. Dr. Levin, our new assistant whose most outstanding attribute was his big ears, made an unmistakable gesture about the discipline he had found at his new place. I felt ashamed of the bad impression the whole hospital suddenly seemed to make, but didn't see a way out. Fredda, whose high spirits still were projected in public—she only shunned me where she could — saved the situation and took Dr. Levin along to the wards. Yvonne remained invisible for the rest of the day. At night she triumphantly appeared in the dormitory. The victor!

"How did you do it?"

We had discussed the problem over and over and waited curiously for her explanation.

"I simply told him the truth!"

"What truth?"

"That I love him and can't go away from him."

"You are crazy," we cried in chorus.

"Maybe. But he liked it."

"A silly and conceited brat, that's what you are," Elizabeth, losing her temper, shouted at her. "A disgrace to all decent nurses. Dr. Merrill has no time for love and nonsense."

"That's what you think! He thinks differently." And without a further word, Yvonne undressed, humming the melody of "Parlez moi d'amour, dites moi des choses tendres."

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

I AM mad right now. And my dog is mad, too.

He can't read so he doesn't know why he has to sit out in the garden tied to a tree, when he has always been running all over the place sniffing and yapping and enjoying all the privileges of a country dog.

The reason I am mad is because I just got a post card in the mail. It's from our local "Humane Society," and it is headed, "Warning-Dog Quarantine."

"Due to the outbreak of rabies," said the notice, "this County Health department has declared a strict quarantine on dogs. Your dog must be leased or muzzled when off your property, any animal found running at large without a proper muzzle may be shot on sight by any citizen. That is the law."

Oh, is that so? What law? What about our Bill of Rights which says something about improper seizure and search?

What about our laws that prohibit citizens from carrying or possessing arms without proper permit.

* * *

If you love dogs as much as I do you'd be just as mad as I am, about such—arbitrary, unconstitutional, silly rules as that.

I called up the "Humane Society" and asked them for more information.

They told me that there really hadn't been any rabies in our community, but householders had complained about dogs spoiling their vegetable gardens so they had to do something to keep the dogs at home.

Fine subterfuge, isn't it? Why don't they come out and tell the truth?

I'm only telling you all this because it is so typical of petty politics and cheap officiousness.

Under this so-called law anybody who didn't like you or your dog, can just pull a gun and shoot him.

* * *

I'd like to see anybody kill my dog. There wouldn't be anymore "Looking at Life" columns, I'd be in jail.

Certainly I think precautions should be taken about rabies. But why call it rabies when it's cabbage and tomatoes?

And they put ideas into peoples' heads that give anybody a chance to take his spite out on your dog.

Oh, I know you expect sweetness and light from me.

But, with me it's "Love me, love my dog."

Excuse me, Deuce is barking outside, he dosn't like that rope. I'll try to explain it to him

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE conflict between the Army-Navy command and War Production Board Chairman Donald Nelson over reconversion of certain plants to manufacture of peacetime goods flared again in the absence of President Roosevelt from the capital. The military is determined to hamstring Nelson's orders for a partial return to normalcy, if possible.

Headed by Lt. Gen. Brehon Somervell, chief of the Army Service Forces, and aided by Charles E. Wilson, Nelson's assistant, the anti clique has let loose a stream of statements about the slowdown in production of important weapons. Its purpose is to stir such congressional and popular indignation that the former Sears Roebuck salesman will be forced to rescind his decrees.

Nelson, however, is expected to stand pat. He has examined the charges of an industrial letup, and does not believe that they can be substantiated. Take airplanes, for instance. The Patterson-Somerville group makes a great to-do over the fact that last month's output fell below scheduule by about 400 ships.

Here are the logical reasons for that lag: We are making larger planes than ever before, and manufacture of the B-29 bombers topped the quota by four. New and secret changes were ordered in several types, to provide more fire power, range and safety devices, and their installation naturally retarded deliveries.

The Fourth of July holiday, an unusual amount of absenteeism and the terrific heat in numerous industrial centers were further considerations.

Similar factors, together with the necessary shifts in, design of battlefield materiel resulting from lessons learned in Normandy and Brittany, accounted for delays in turning out other types of weapons, according to Nelson. So he is sticking to his guns.

TOKYO: President Roosevelt, however, is expected to side with the Patterson-Somervell crowd, although he cannot afford to let Nelson down too hard. He will compromise the dispute in favor of the Army-Navy contingent, but he will somehow manage to save the WPB Chairman's face. He does not want too many resignations on his hands before November 7th.

FDR has decided to highlight the Pacific war in view of the threatened collapse of Germany before the presidential election. Hitler has been dramatized so successfully as the No. 1 gangster that many people, especially in the large Eastern and Middle Western states, figure that Japan will be a pushover after a Nazi surrender.

Except on the West Coast, the Tokyo onslaught does not seem to arouse the same concern as the prospect of recapturing Paris. That is only natural.

POLLS: This politico-military reorientation explains why the President traveled to the West Coast instead of to Europe during the period of the Democratic convention. It accounts for the recent bombing of Manchuria and for FDR's reported order that he wants the Philippines in American hands before November.

Thus, intent upon stepping up the war on Japan, he will probably turn thumbs down on any large-scale letup in the manufacture of planes, ships, landing craft, artillery, etc.

Mr. Roosevelt's military status makes his position almost unassailable, politically. No one, and least of all Gov. Tom Dewey, can criticize him for turning the heat on Nippon as soon as Hitler has gone down beneath Allied might.

FDR would be delinquent in his duty if he did not take advantage of Der Fuehrer's surrender. But, by the same Tokyo token, highlighting the Pacific struggle will not hurt him at the polls.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

HOW will the Nazis collapse? Everyone believes that peace is in sight. But since the failure of the Junker attempt on Hitler's life, there is a difference of opinion as to where the next crack will come.

The "best bet," according to military dopesters, is this:

The popular uprising that usually is at the bottom of a revolution will not occur until late in the program. A clear indication of the end will be the easy surrender of soldiers in all sectors. Many already cry "kamerad" if cornered, but general willingness to give up is not yet apparent.

As large groups allow themselves to be taken prisoners, the Allies will push forward rapidly. This swift advance will goad whole companies and regiments to wave the white flag. Word will spread to the rear and garrisons will desert, the elder men hotfooting it home to protect their families in the chaos obviously to follow.

TROUBLE-MAKERS: These derelictions will paralyze transportation of supplies to the front. The breakdown in communications will further deteriorate the Reichswehr.

As Himmler's SS watchdogs will fire on the first sign of mutiny, German soldiers may decide that the simplest way out will be the throwing down of arms to the Americans, British and Russians.

The world anticipates some sort of violent explosion in the Reich. It may be wrong. The coming rebellion may be a passive rather than an active affair, the troops merely quitting of their own volition.

This would require no plotting, no organization and no coordinated mass movements—the usual foundation of insurrections—for which the Gestapo is prepared. Each man and group would accept the "unconditional surrender" terms for themselves. They'd just walk out on Herr Hitler.

One set in the Wehrmacht might start shooting the Brownshirts if it had half a chance; the veterans of the Polish-Russian battlefields.

The Elite Guards deride them as "front pigs" because these ragged, hard-boiled campaigners—alone of all troops and civilians—refuse to give up their bus seats to Der Fuehrer's smartly dressed pets. Because they are considered potential trouble-makers, they are watched by Himmler the way a cat watches a mouse.

UPRISING: If there should be a "sit-down strike" by Reichswehr units in France and Poland, the next upheaval might take place among foreign laborers. As guards were withdrawn to bolster the thinning ranks of the Wehrmacht, the French, Dutch and Belgian workers would run away, creating more confusion.

Much has been printed about the German fear of the uprisings of these slaves. But such rioting is unlikely at first as most of the captives are without weapons.

It is more probable that they will try to escape to their own armies as far as they can; such violence as they will exert will be in the stealing of food and clothing and in procuring the means of travel. They may even be helped by the German population, to get rid of them before they start paying off old scores.

DISORDERS: Nazi party organs have savagely denounced the growing practice of fraternization between local folk and strangers. "Any close contact must be avoided," screams one oracle, berating farm families for allowing their children to associate with the offspring of Russian and Polish refugees. "The dangers are too great to be tolerated."

Warnings, seemingly, are aimed at possible revolt by aliens. Actually the Nazis know that United Nations' undergrounds provide their exiled countrymen with pro-Ally propaganda for distribution to Germans.

In fact, when the enforcement of an after-dark curfew made it hazardous for Danish patriots to deposit leaflets near enemy barracks explaining how deserters could slip into Sweden, Reichswehr soldiers volunteered as substitutes. At night they rode around on bicycles, delivering the treasonable literature as if it were harmless mail.

Another example of the way imprisoned workers undermine the loyalty of good little Nazis is a new numbers game. Cards are circulated containing the following information:

"The French Revolution began in 1789; the German Revolution began in 1918—129 years later. Napoleon entered Vienna in 1804; Hitler seized power in 1933—129 years later. Napoleon was defeated in 1815. Add 129 again and you get, the year in which Hitler would fall."

Slam-Bang Fight Between Wets And Drys Forecast

By WILLIAM E. KEYES
Associated Press Staff Writer

AUSTIN, Aug. 10 (AP) — Watch for a slam-bang battle between wet and dry forces in the next legislature in January.

Local option elections in some of the bigger counties are a tip-off to the struggles to follow in legislative chambers. Strategy already is being mapped by both sides and likely will result in fierce battles on various propositions including statewide prohibition, tightening the liquor laws, state monopoly and the like.

Whether or not the war ends before January, the session promises a three-ring circus of activity.

Besides the liquor questions there'll be battles on such topics as legislative re-districting which is required every 10 years but which the lawmakers have ignored since 1921 (South Texas is burning up over present distribution of representation and its claimed inequities); court re-districting which gained virtually no headway at the last session; new taxes to maintain the state on a cash operating basis, a position it will attain before the year ends; chiropractic regulation, the big fight at the last session, and many others.

To Fete General

Plans are being made for a blowout honoring Maj. Gen. Fred Walker, the non-Texan, who commanded Texas' 36th Division which won fame in the Italian campaign. General Walker was reassigned to Fort Benning, Ga.

SECRETARY of State Sidney Latham who delights in digging up "Texas Firsts" now comes up with the observation that Texas has 61 counties each of which is larger than the state of Rhode Island.

REACTIONS from the Democratic primary campaign and election:

Clifford E. Butler, Houston shipfitter and unsuccessful candidate for state comptroller says:

"Again expressing my deep appreciation for the support I received and assuring my friends that defeat has not soured me, I will return shortly to work . . . where for the past 18 months I have been doing my bit toward the victory that will be ours soon, I hope—and we all hope."

Butler reports further that during the campaign he was invited to sit in a radio station studio while candidates for two other state offices made speeches.

"At midnight the announcer awakened me from a sound sleep, and I am still wondering which candidate lulled me into the arms of Morpheus," Butler says.

One of Butler's scheduled radio addresses did not come off because the Democratic National convention in Chicago had a broadcast priority on the network.

Governor Takes It Easy

Probably the least exercised candidate with opposition during the campaign and election was Gov. Coke R. Stevenson. He didn't make a single campaign address by radio or from the stump. He wrote one statement offering his record as the basis for renomination. He continued to address civic and other groups but on these occasions he said he did not talk politics because he thought political discussions would be out of place.

On election eve he went to his Kimble county home to receive returns. He passed out cigars at his first press conference upon his return from Junction. There were no takers. The capitol press corps prefers cigarets.

Laughingly reminded that the election was over when the cigar offer was made, the governor came back:

"Yes, I know that, but we're doing everything backwards these days."

MEMBERS of the state House of Representatives will be glad to know that J. A. Francis of Austin, the man who operates the complex electric voting board in the House chamber, is displaying a letter from the commanding officer of his son, Mickey, attesting to Mickey's resourcefulness and leadership. Mickey in three years has risen from an enlisted man to a captain. He's somewhere in the Southwest Pacific.

Prairie dogs may someday be something of the past in Texas. Control measures against these rodents are very definitely in the clean-up stage, reports the U. S. Fish and Wildlife service which in cooperation with state and landowner agencies is attempting to bring rodents and predators under control.

The service reports the largest remaining prairie dog town in the Trans-Pecos district was thoroughly baited with poisoned grain in June and an 85 per cent kill was noted.

While predatory animals, coyotes, wolves and bobcats, kill thousands of dollars worth of livestock each year and are the principal target of trained hunters and trappers rodents are not to be ignored.

The service cites an example of gopher damage on the Hanner Stock farm in Cass county.

"One six-acre block on which gophers were controlled yielded 3,000 pounds of peanuts. A nearby block of 5.4 acres which was not treated for gophers produced 300 pounds of peanuts. Based on the differences in yields and a price of $7.35 per hundred pounds for peanuts an investment of $1.65 for poisoned grain increased the income from the first block by $147.

Bill Drawn Against Wet Black Market

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (U.P.)—A bill to combat the "evils and lawlessness" of the black market in alcoholic beverages was introduced today by Sen. Harley M. Kilgore, D., W. V., acting for Sen. Pat McCarran, D., Nev., chairman of the judiciary committee's liquor inquiry.

The bill would forbid obliteration of serial numbers on cases of liquor and authorize the internal revenue bureau to punish violators of liquor law by revoking basic permits issued to all distillers and dealers.

sub-contract work are planned:

1. Work will be transferred from southern California plants to Dallas to relieve the acute labor shortage in southern California and to provide jobs for the released Dallas workers.

2. Parts production from Akron will be shifted in part to Evansville, Ind., where the P-47 is being manufactured by Republic Aviation corporation.

Release Tire Makers

The latter switch is expected to release 1,400 skilled makers of heavy tires who are now working in Akron aircraft plants. It was expected that their return to tire companies would ease the critical shortage of heavy truck and bus tires.

As against the 20,000 workers to be released in the next 30 days, OWI said there were 34,000 aircraft jobs waiting to be filled, by estimate of the War Manpower commission. Jobs are open in San Diego, Chicago, St. Louis, Tulsa, Cleveland, New Orleans and Renton, Wash., for aircraft workers, OWI said.

General Program Is Up

"It is necessary to emphasize again that the overall production for the armed forces is scheduled to increase substantially during the balance of this year, and that the decrease in the airplane program represents only one third of the increase in the overall Army program still to be met," Bunker declared.

Bunker described the program as "the first example of a long-range forward planning cutback of schedules by any of the procurement agencies."

The entire shift will take place over the next 12 months, he said, and can be used "to great advantage" in expediting those munitions programs which are lagging.

Gen. Brereton has been commander of the U. S. Ninth Air force based in Britain, whose troop carrier command flew American parachute troops and glider infantry in the invasion.

Although celebrated as an air leader in the Philippines, India and Egyptian campaigns, he is a veteran warrior who was in both the signal corps and artillery before the world war, and he actually began his military career with an Annapolis naval commission.

Experienced Leaders

Thus in both Gen. Brereton and Gen. Browning the new airborne Army, as yet without an official name, has leaders experienced in both air and ground operations.

Gen. Brereton was succeeded in command of the American Ninth Air force by Maj. Gen. Hoyt Vandenberg, who was deputy commander of the Allied Expeditionary Air forces under Aid Chief Marshal Trafford Leigh-Mallory. Gen. Vandenberg's old post goes to Maj. Gen. Ralph Royce, who was Brereton's deputy.

Russian Front

Sakiai, is only 11 miles from East Prussia.

Clouds of Soviet airplanes hammered German concentrations along the roads to Memel, Tilsit and Konigsberg.

While the Russians were gaining on both German flanks on the East Prussian front the Nazi center erupted with a series of counterattacks which Moscow said were hurled back amid savage fighting. The intensity of the battle was apparent in Moscow's statement that 199 German tanks had been destroyed or wrecked in Wednesday's fighting, and 61 Nazi planes shot down.

The accelerated drive on the southern side of East Prussia resulted in the capture of 50 localities on the western side of the Narew, the water barrier where German armies in the first World war forced the Russians to evacuate their Warsaw salient.

Pivoting from their positions just east of Warsaw the First White Russian army under Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky moved steadily northwestward on a 38-mile front. These troops fact were nearing the Bialystok-Warsaw railway. They captured Stanislawow, 20 miles east of Warsaw and 30 other localities running northeast of Sterdyn, which is near the Bug river and 55 miles northeast of Warsaw.

16 Fresh Nazi Divisions

Moscow dispatches said the Germans had hurled 16 fresh divisions into the battle for East Prussia, and the communique said strong enemy tank and infantry counterattacks had been beaten off northwest of Marianpole.

A total of 285 towns and villages were seized during the day, the bulletin said, including Jekabpils and 60 other localities on the Latvian front. Jekabpils is 65 miles eoutheast of Riga, Latvian capital on the Baltic.

The Germans said freshly mobilized civilians of all ages had dug more than 1,800 miles of trenches and erected thousands of pillboxes on the East Prussian front in the last 10 days.

Maj. Bong Completes Course In Gunery

MATAGORDA ISLAND, Aug. 10. (U.P.)—Maj. Richard I. Bong, who complained after shooting down 27 Japanese planes in the Pacific that he wasn't good enough at gunnery, was en route to California today after completing a course of training in aerial fire here.

The Poplar, Wis., flyer is the top-ranking air ace of the Pacific war.

His training at Matagorda island was in deflection gunnery. He told interviewers at Washington several months ago upon his return from the Pacific that his weakness in deflection firing prevented him from scoring many more victories than the 17 which were confirmed to his credit.

Bong's future assignment was not disclosed. Customarily, graduates of the Matagorda school are made air corps instructors or are returned to their combat units.

Two American Naval Vessels Listed Lost

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10 (AP)—Loss of two American naval vessels—the mine sweeper Osprey and the submarine chaser PC-1261—in European waters, was announced by the Navy today.

No details were given as to how or where the two craft were sunk by enemy action.

The losses bring to 133 the number of American naval craft lost since the war started. In addition 32 are listed as overdue and presumed lost and nine naval craft were destroyed to prevnt thir capture.

The Navy gave no indication of the number of casualties on the Osprey which carried a crew of about 60 or the subchaser which had a complement of about 30 men.

It reported, however, that the commanding officers of the two craft were survivors.

Only three of the 63 vocational agriculture teachers of area 1 were absent for first day activities of their annual summer conference which opened Thursday at Texas Technological college.

W. P. Todd of Seagraves reported on the vocational agriculture staff conference held recently at San Angelo. Other members of the program, visiting vocational agriculture teachers who discussed community and post-war problems of agriculture, were H. C. Weatherby of Shamrock, H. G. Preston of Whitharral, J. M. Hill of Tulia, and G. S. Dowell of Munday.

Chappelle of Tech.

WTCC Offers Aid In Freight Rate Probe

ABILENE, Aug. 10. (Special) — The battle for freight rate parity has taken a new turn—a good one, omen of victory, believes the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The WTCC and its affiliated Freight Rate Equality federation, while waiting in a trying-to-be-patient attitude for an Interstate Commerce commission on decision in the five-year old interterritorial freight rates cases, have tendered their services to the U. S. Department of Justice in that government agency's recently announced plan of investigating, on its own, the present allegedly unequal and discriminatory rate structure.

A letter from the WTCC AND FREF, by their executive officer, D. A. Bandeen, has gone to Francis Biddle, attorney general, pledging utmost cooperation in the probe and tendering their services as investigating and reporting agencies. Contact was made with Biddle following an announcement August 7 that the Justice department will make a sweeping checkup of complaints against the rate structure. This will be made with a view of cracking down on the railroads under the Sherman Anti-Trust law, with initial filing of civil proceedings in the Supreme court of the District of Columbia, charging the carriers with assessing discriminatory and excessive rates in the South, Southwest and West. Government agents already are in Georgia digging into the files of the Southern Freight association, in connection with injunction and damage proceedings instituted by the state of Georgia in the U. S. Supreme court against 20 rail carriers.

School Aid Law

attendance basis was attacked by most as entailing a lot of bookkeeping and in sections where roads are poor and precluded attendance, an undue hardship.

Frank Jackson, Tom Green county superintendent, differed with them. He said the daily attendance method was a good checkrein in that it "makes us strive to get pupils to school and after all that is the ideal."

Troubles with transportation and low wage scale (burdens of complaint each day of the hearing this week) were reiterated today.

Sure Of Salary Action

Bullock assured superintendents he believed the coming legislature would raise the salary scale of teachers in rural aid schools.

The bugaboo of transportation with antiquated buses over dirt roads was not completely threshed out, though all admitted it was on the top rung of besetting rural air problems.

A suggestion by Jackson that school grouping be by county instead of district was received favorably.

Sen. Metcalf asked whether or not the Texas State Teachers association and board of education would look with favor on such an innovation and it was the consensus they would.

Former Resident Of Area Dies In Idaho

Mrs. S. E. Teague, 86, pioneer of West Texas and a former resident of Lubbock, Plainview and Clarendon, died early Thursday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. Oressa McCaslin in Boise, Idaho, with whom she had resided for several years.

Born in Mississippi April 15, 1858, the family homesteaded near Plainview in 1891 and resided there until their removal to Clarendon in 1905. Her husband, the late E. A. Teague, died there in May, 1923.

Mrs. Teague visited in Lubbock many times and made her home here with a daughter, Mrs. Claire Teague Doak, a number of times. She had been in failing health, due to advanced age, several years.

Surviving Mrs. Teague are three daughters, Mrs. E. C. Rainey of Lubbock, Mrs. Doak and Mrs. McCaslin, all of whom were at their mother's bedside at the time of death; four sons, J. M. Teague of Brownfield, W. O. Teague of Los Angeles, V. R. Teague of Sacramento, Calif., and F. E. Teague of Lubbock; 19 grandchildren and a number of great-grandchildren.

While funeral arrangements had not been completed Thursday night, plans were to conduct services in Clarendon Sunday afternoon. Burial is to be beside her husband.

Pair Report Theft Of Pants And Cash

Roy and Buell Ratliff, of 3400-block Avenue R, awoke Thursday morning to discover their pants and a considerable amount of cash missing, police were told.

Roy Ratliff told officers he had $65 in the billfold in his trousers, with gasoline coupons and several personal papers. Buell Ratliff reported loss of an undetermined amount of change—and his pants. Police said the burglar apparently entered through an unlatched door.

Police held a negro employe of a service station in connection with the disappearance from a car left there by Mrs. B. R. Gamblin, 2313 Eighth street, or a purse containing $26. Henry F. Wood, roomer at a place in 800-block Avenue K, reported theft of $30 from his room. Police said another roomer had "disappeared." Miss Sunny McClure, employe of a local tailor shop, reported loss of $59.20 and a check for $19.47, a gold ring and other property from a car parked Wednesday night at a dance spot. The car windows had been prized open.

The request was an aftermath of his protest yesterday against the presence on the Senate floor of Herbert E. Schimmel, $8,000-a-year WPB attorney, acting as clerk of the Kilgore military subcommittee. Wherry said Schimmel had been in "constant contact" with the CIO Political Action committee during reconversion debate.

22 Others Involved

Wherry said today that about 22 other employes had, like Schimmel, been loaned to Senate committees. He wanted to know whether "they are representing special interests."

A Republican-southern Democratic coalition supporting a modified version of the Murray-Kilgore bill boasted tonight that they had sufficient votes to assure victory without compromising on their proposal to leave jobless pay fixing to the states.

Morgenthau Reports On Visit To France

LONDON, Aug. 10. (AP)—Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau returned today from a visit to the American sector in Normandy and said he found the former German-supported black markets wiped out and Allied currency "being received with complete confidence by the local population and the banks of the area."

"Furthermore," the U. S. cabinet member said, "our troops are not causing inflation. Our troops do not engage in extensive spending nor in the purchase of supplies essential to the local population. Nearly all the money paid our troops is being sent back home voluntarily in the form of family remittances, for the purchase of war bonds and for other savings, leaving less than 10 per cent, according to Army records, to be spent in one form or another."

Yanks Racing On Toward Paris

ish drive along the short route to the capital.

British Reach Thury

(The station said forward elements of the British Army had reached Thury-Harcourt, the Orne river bastion 14 miles southwest of Caen. The broadcast was recorded by CBS.)

Far to the south, U. S. tanks rumbled into Angers, 50 miles up the Loire river from embattled Nantes, impeded at both places only by mine fields, indicating the enemy had no intention of attacking the right flank of the American steamroller from that quarter.

On the northern sector of the blazing, 175-mile front, the Germans fell back slowly before the British and Canadian armies storming the remaining enemy ramparts of Normandy, but lashed back with repeated counterthrusts.

And the darkening German picture was unrelieved by supreme headquarters' announcement of the creation of an Army of the air—something entirely new in the history of human conflict—a powerful mobile force capable of striking with lightning speed at any point in great force.

Still Rolling Fast

It was known that advanced armor was well beyond Le Mans, and official silence was the clearest indication that the onslaught was still in the open and rolling fast.

The Americans were driving ahead so swiftly that headquarters had reason to believe that the Germans did not know where they were.

The Germans acknowledged major gains by American forces driving north from fallen Le Mans, now firmly in doughboy hands, while claiming stiff resistance was being offered at Hountfort-Le Troutrou, 12 miles east of Le Mans and 98 miles from Paris.

The only hint of progress came from an expert observer who said "you may be sure we are not camping outside Le Mans." Doughboy betting was that they would be in Paris by Sept. 1.

One thing was clear. With the fall of Le Mans the enemy had no natural defense line with adequate communications short of one strung northwest from Orleans to the Loire river to Chartres, about 75 miles west of Paris.

Brittany Peninsula

The enemy's situation was reteriorating in Brittany, where one of the five main ports—St. Malo—had fallen except for one pocket in the citadel, and the others were cut off by land and sea.

The Canadian attack was halted by an anti-tank screen in front of Falais, 20 miles south of Caen, but late in the day infantry and tanks renewed the attack. There was fierce fighting at Potigny, five miles north of Falais. The Canadian bag of prisoners rose to 2,000.

Other forces lashed out eastward and fought into the outskirts of the Paris highway bastion of Vimont, where a British attack was stalled three weeks ago.

The hard-pressed enemy was being given no chance to rest or dig in, and it appeared that the German hold on the Orne—the best river barrier in Normandy—was fast slipping.

Pappy O'Daniel Eyed As Presidential Wood

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 10, (AP)—Sen. Lee O'Daniel (D-Tex), critic of the administration, today loomed as the political figure most likely to be nominated for president by the American Democratic party, an anti-Roosevelt body formed here last month by a group of Alabamanians.

Fred Rucker, Birmingham department store advetising manager and chairman of the organizing meeting, said O'Daniel would have substantial support among delegates who assemble in Birmingham tomorrow for the party's statewide convention.

He added, however, that there was a disposition among certain leaders of the party to leave the presidential electors unpledged, with the understanding they would support "some Democrat other than President Roosevelt."

Polish Troops Said In Action In France

LONDON, Friday, Aug. 11, (AP)—The German Transocean news agency said in a Berlin broadcast today that Polish troops had gone into action on the French front beside the Americans, British and Canadians.

There was no immediate Allied confirmation of the report, but Polish troops have been taking active part for some time in the Italian campaign, where they have scored notable successes on the Allied right flank along the Adriatic.

Jones Sees Cooler Weather As Nights Begin To Lengthen

The mercury in local thermometers may be a little sluggish from now on, Don L. Jones, experiment station superintendent and weatherman without portfolio, hazarded Thursday.

"We're now going into the part of the year when it gets darker earlier and lighter later," Jones explained. "With the cool nights we have on the plains, the sun just may not have the time in these shorter days to warm up the place like it has been doing. And we're getting some breeze now."

Plenty more hot days are to be expected, Jones hastened to add, but said there's a chance that the mercury won't play around 110 as it did in the heat wave which was snapped by last Saturday's rains.

Thursday's high at the station was 96, the low 67.

Conference Indicates Time And Means At Hand For New Drives

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

It is fitting that Pearl Harbor, forever associated with a December Sunday stained red with Nipponese infamy, should be the scene of an all-American conference of Pacific commanders with President Roosevelt to plan the final phases of the campaign in that ocean destined to set the sun of Japanese imperialism.

SIMPSON

The men who lead American which control the Pacific from the Arctic to the Antipodes were mustered there around Mr. Roosevelt. The decisions they have taken will be revealed only as their forces storm westward through the broken enemy screen of Pacific islands. But there are certain conclusions to be drawn from the place and the timing of that Pacific war council that can leave Tokyo in no doubt of its significance.

Means Time Has Arrived

It means first of all that the time has now come and the means are now at hand to carry the war to Japan in the Philippines, across the China Sea to Formosa and China, into the Kuriles and to Japan itself to enforce unconditional surrender.

It was that last coming strike of American armed power across the Pacific which concerned the President, General MacArthur, Admiral Nimitz and the others at Pearl Harbor. The shaken war cabinet in Japan needed no spies or key-hole observers to tell it that.

Many months ago to Congress in Washington, Prime Minister Churchill said that the "ultimate challenge" of American sea power would soon confront Japan in the far Pacific. That prediction now has been more than fulfilled and Japan has failed everywhere to meet the challenge or halt the ocean-wide advance westward.

Two Wars Possible

Last week Churchill told Parliament in London that the key principle of Anglo-American joint war strategy adopted in 1942, which made Germany the "prime enemy" and left only "minimum" forces available in or beyond the Pacific "safeguarding vital interests," was now outmoded. Two wars could now be waged "with offensive vigor" he said, and the prospects "of a much more speedy climax in the far east" were bright. The bulk of British naval power would be in Far Eastern waters before the year end, Churchill announced.

Depth Charges Used To Sink Jap Ship

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (AP) — Navy planes, flying antisubmarine patrol near Saipan, had no bombs, but they got a 1900-ton cargo ship.

The Navy told today of three Avenger torpedo planes locating the cargo craft while their bomb racks carried only depth charges for use against submarines.

Lt. Bruce M. Barackman, Meadville, Pa., flying a fighter plane to protect the bombers, silenced the Japenese craft's anti-aircraft guns.

Then the torpedo planes dropped depth charges in the water close beside the enemy ship and its bow was blown off. The vessel rolled over on its side and began sinking before destroyers arriving to finish the job.

Lt. (jg) John Middleton, jr., Amarillo, Texas, piloted one of the planes.

The Navy said 112 survivors of the Japanese ship were picked up by destroyers.

Mexican Youth Dies For Slaying Mother

ZIMAPAN, Mexico, Aug. 10. (AP) —A 23-year-old youth convicted of slaying his mother calmly faced a firing squad at dawn today a few feet from a grave that had been dug for him.

Most of the residents of this village on the Mexico City-Laredo highway in the state of Hidalgo witnessed the execution in the municipal cemetery.

Jap Prison Camp Life Recounted

N. F. Brewer, of Washington, D. C., a general field secretary of the General Conference of Seventh-Day Advntists, told of his experiences during the 18 days of intense fighting at Hongkong and at Stanley interment camp where he was a prisoner of the Japanese for six months in a talk Thursday night at the Texico conference of the Seventh-Day Adventists at St. John's Methodist church, Fourteenth street and Avenue X.

On the day Pearl Harbor was attacked Brewer was at the Hongkong airport with a reserve seat on the clipper for Manilla. About half an hour before the plane was to take off Japanese bombers rained explosives on the field, destroying the clipper and other aircraft, Brewer related.

Defenses Pitiful

The British defenses at Hongkong were pitifully inadequate, Brewer said. There were no fighter or bomber planes available for defense of the city.

After 18 days of bitter fighting Hongkong fell. Americans, British and Dutch were assembled, then marched at banyoet point through the streets and to third-class Chinese hotels, where they were placed in eight-foot square rooms, four to the room. "They were dark and dirty, and we had to have a candle lit in the daytime to see our way around," Brewer said. The beds were made of boards only."

After being in the cheap hotels two weeks Brewer and the other prisoners were taken to the Stanley internment camp. "At Stanley we received an average of six ounces of rice a day—this is about two bowls. We had one bowl in the morning at 10 o'clock, and another in the afternoon. Most of the time the rice was wormy."

Most Captives Grow Ill

A large percentage of the captives contracted dysentery and other diseases due to malnutrition, he said. Most of the doctors in Hongkong were at the camp but the Japanese had taken all supplies of medicine for their army, the speaker stated.

On June 29, 1942, Brewer and a large number of other captives boarded a Japanese steamer for a meeting at Portuguese East Africa with the exchange ship Gripsholm.

Brewer told of conditions under which physicians and nurses worked in some Chinese hospitals. "Every time the air-raid alarm sounds all patients are taken out of the hospitals and carried into shelters. The medicines are boxed and ready to be carried to safety. One hospital had five air raids in one day, and five times that day all the patients had to be taken out of the hospital to the shelter."

Brewer served 26 years in China as a missionary.

A. J. Wearner of Fort Worth, in speaking to the assembly Thursday morning on the proposed calendar change, said, "Throughout the history of the calendar no change has been made to effect the weekly cycle which preserves the sacred days in the week."

The speaker continued by saying that the present proposal of a calendar change entitled, "World Calendar," which is now reaching the attention of the public, not only threatens the sanctity of the weekly days but will lose their identity entirely.

Mr. Wearner said, "This calendar change, if effected, would cause confusion in all Christendom." He emphasized the fact that all Christians should seriously seek to avert any calendar reform which threatens the change of the weekly cycle.

The conference is to continue through Saturday.

Hemispheric Unity Cited By Stettinius

WASHINGTON, Aug. 10. (AP)—Hailing the announced refusal of Colombia and Venezuela to deal with the present army regime in Argentina, acting Secretary of State Stettinius declared today that "we don't want Fascism in this hemisphere."

Stettinius authorized direct quotation of his statement in which he said:

"The joint statement by Colombia and Venezuela is further proof of the unity of purpose and action among the American republics in maintaining the policy of non-recognition with respect to the present regime in Argentina.

"As stated by Secretary of State Hull on July 24 there have been constant consultations among the American repuglics on this problem, which, as the statement of the governments of Venezuela and Colombia makes clear, involved not only the immediate security of the hemisphere but the future solidarity and well being of all free peoples of the Americas."

Art Treasures Of Florence Intact

By LYNN HEINZERLING
(Who has just returned to Rome from the Florence front)

ROME, Aug. 10.—Florence, one of the greatest art centers of the world, has been in the war's front line for six days, but most of her treasures, including the works of such masters as Michaelangelo, Botticelli, Donatello, Giotto and many others, are untouched.

There is no battle in Florence and the Eighth Army has no intention of fighting in the city for its possession.

Nazis Use Machineguns

The Germans have been sitting on the north bank of the Arno river with machineguns since Allied troops entered the southern suburbs, compromising about one-fourth of the city. They have machinegunned every movement on the southern bank and have shelled and mortared the southern outskirts, but have not shelled the city proper.

The huge Pitti palace now used as an art museum had not been damaged when I left the front two days ago and is, in fact, a refuge for thousands of civilians.

Settle Old Grudges

Most of the gunfire in the city has been from German machine guns, and the weapons of Fascists and partisans settling old grudges.

At the outset, however, the Germans destroyed five or six bridges in the city, leaving only the Medieval Ponte Vecchio, although buildings at both its approaches were blasted. It seems likely that these demolitions have damaged the Romanesque church of San Stefano near the north end of the bridge. On the south bank the picturesque houses of the San Jacopo quarter just west of the southern approach to the bridge were badly smashed.
