Finns Destroy Trapped Russian Division On Frozen Lake

ce Broken By Bombs; Soviets Are Drowned

Many Prisoners Taken; Much Army Equipment Is Captured By Finland's Tricky Troops

(By The Associated Press)

ELSINKI, Jan. 3. (Wednesday) —The disclosure that Finnish lanes dropped bombs to smash the e at Lake Kianta and trap a whole ed Russian division in what prob- bly was the greatest battle of the ar was made by reliable sources rly today as the Finns mopped up that sector and converted other viet attacks into Finnish vic- ories.

The battle, fought on December and 30 at the eastern edge of nland's narrow "waistline," re- lted in the virtual annihilation of e Russian 163rd division—at least ,000 strong.

Reports Trickle In

First-hand reports of the battle gan to trickle into the capital to- y, although the victory itself was nounced in a New Year's eve mmunique.

Today's reports told how the Finns rst surrounded some 4,000 Russians the ice of the lake several days o, killed more than a thousand of em, and drew a tight ring around e lake.

The ring was opened, however, to rmit soviet reinforcements to ach the lake. Then the Finns sur- unded the Reds again, and set up achine guns on the shores.

Planes Drop Bombs

In the dead of the night the Finns gan their attack and when the ussians tried to retreat they found e way cut off.

For two days Russian tanks circled e lake, attempting to protect the oops marooned on the ice with eir full equipment—heavy guns, ucks and field kitchens.

Finally the Finns sent for the mbing planes. They blasted great les in the ice and soviet trucks, nnon and men tumbled into the ater.

In utter panic, the survivors ught to fight their way off the oken ice. They refused to sur- nder.

The Finns, however, were reported have taken a great number of isoners and large stores of equip- ent, including 27 guns, eleven nks, two armored cars, four anti- rcraft guns, hundreds of trucks d horses, a dozen field kitchens

BRINGING THE "BACON" HOME—Only in this case the little item sought after happened to be the Texas Interscholastic league schoolboy football championship, and that gold trophy so prominently displayed in these two scenes is symbolical of that coveted honor. The young men in the top picture are the kings of the state's schoolboy football powers, Lubbock High's Westerners. The occasion was the formal presentation of the state championship trophy to Lubbock Senior High school Tuesday afternoon at a special assembly in the auditorium. And in the bottom shot, Betty O'Mara, president of the student council, is shown receiving the trophy from Co-Captains Leete Jackson, on the left, and Howard Alford. Possibly more easily recognized in football togs, those in the top picture, first row, are (from left to right): Jackson, Clifton Hill, Pat Farris, L. A. Storrs, Arlie Chism, Pete Cawthon, Paul Sparkman, Joe Tyson, James Merriman, Francis Bearden, and Alford; second row—Robert Park, Jimmy Williamson, James Barker, Ray McBrayer, J. A. Blackwell, Franklin Butler, Henry Lawson and Coach J. G. Keyes; back row—Troy Davidson, manager, Floyd Ward, Robert McKinnon, R. E. Jones, manager, Jack Lovin, Ed Crites, Frank Redwine and Marvin McBrayer.

Testimony In Mann's Trial Starts Today

(Special To The Avalanche)

MORTON, Jan. 2.—Testimony in the murder trial of J. W. Mann, charged in the slaying of D. T. Smith, deputy sheriff, near here in early December, will start at 9:30 o'clock Wednesday morning, announced Burton S. Burks, district attorney, following completion of a jury late this afternoon.

The twelve jurors were selected from a list of 65 examined. Three of them were accepted this morning. A special venire of 175 men had been summoned for selection of a jury in the trial in 72nd district court of Judge Daniel A. Blair.

Sixty-Five Examined

Of the 65 men examined 13 were disqualified because of opinionation and various other reasons, 10 were challenged by the state, eight were challenged by the defense and 21 were excused because of conscientious scruples against the death penalty.

Morton Is Quiet

First day of the court was quiet, as was this community, no demonstration having resulted when Mann, heavily shackled and conducted by Rangers Neal Arthur and Pat Taliaferro and by James P. Posey, Lubbock chief deputy sheriff, walked

Man Given Suspended Sentence Here Held In Automobile Theft

Federal authorities in Knoxville, Tenn., are holding a man, about 21, released from Lubbock county jail last September on a two-year suspended sentence for chicken theft, in connection with theft of a car stolen from Mrs. W. G. Nairn, of four miles northeast of the city, more than two weeks ago. The man was caught Tuesday in Knoxville in possession of the automobile, officers here said.

Officials of the sheriff's department here expressed the belief that Lubbock authorities would not attempt to bring the man back here, leaving his case to the disposition of the federal government.

Classmates Warmly Welcome Lubbock's Westerners Home

By OPAL McMAHON
Avalanche Staff Writer

THERE'S still a ceiling to the auditorium out at Lubbock High school, but it isn't because the yells which greeted the Westerners Tuesday afternoon weren't lusty and loud enough to blow the roof off.

The school's entire student body and faculty welcomed the Westerners and coaches and the state championship football trophy with open arms.

It was an assembly, as Principal R. W. Matthews expressed it, to "do honor to the greatest football team we know in Texas, and, we believe, in the nation as a whole."

Real Homecoming

Betty O'Mara, petite brunette who heads the student council, received the handsome trophy from Co-Captains Howard "Hayseed" Alford and Leete Jackson. It represents not just a piece of metal, she said, but "every tackle, every block and every signal during the year; it represents every time that a student has put his fist up to give the Westerner pledge, every yell that has been led, every horn that has been blown and every drum that has been beaten in support of the Westerners."

It was homecoming for the Wes-

State To Get Million From Land Leases

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 2—The first general leasing of land under the surface of five Gulf coast bays by the new state school land board today brought 242 bids on 73,488 acres out of which the state may realize more than $1,000,000 in cash bonuses.

The leasing, on which awards will be announced later, was termed by Land Commissioner Bascom Giles as "extremely successful." Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, a board member who advertised the leasing on one of his recent Sunday broadcasts, was present as secretaries sliced open the sealed bids. Attorney General Gerald C. Mann was represented by Assistant Attorney General R. H. Kepke.

Court Ruling In Favor Of Labor Board

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 — Three unanimous decisions of the supreme court today gave the labor board a large measure of freedom to order elections and certify unions as collective bargaining agencies without judicial interference.

Two decisions by Justice Stone held that while the Wagner act gives "any person aggrieved by a final order of the board" the right to a review in a federal circuit court of appeals, this does not apply to orders for elections and certification rulings because they are not "final" orders.

The third, by Justice Black, also held that circuit courts of appeal could not review the board's election orders and specifically upheld the board's authority to bar an alleged company union from the ballot.

Harley Hines, Oil Operator, Is Sentenced For Mail Fraud

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 2 (AP) — Harley P. Hines, 47, an oil operator, was sentenced to three years in prison and fined $1,000 in federal court today on charges of using the mails to defraud.

The government alleged the fraud occurred in the sale by mail of a block of leases in Dewitt and Gonzales counties, Texas. Hines was indicted last June 6, pleaded not guilty June 22 and changed his plea to nolo contendere (no defense) last Oct. 10.

British Seizure Of U. S. Mails Is Protested

American Government Cannot Admit Right Of Britain's Interference, Note Says

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2—In a note of "vigorous protest," the United States has requested Great Britain to give "early assurances" that it will cease seizing and censoring American mails destined to Germany and European neutrals.

The note, presented to the British foreign office on Dec. 22, and made public by the state department today, cited the removal of 1,745 sacks of mail and parcel post from four ships.

Objectionable Note

It said the American government "cannot admit the right of the British authorities to interfere with American mails on American or other neutral ships on the high seas nor can it admit the right of the British government to censor mail on ships which have involuntarily entered British ports."

The note termed "particularly objectionable" the practice of taking mails from ships which ply directly between American and neutral European ports "and which through some form of duress are induced to call at designated British control bases."

Saying this was a "clear violation" of the Hague convention of 1907, the note concluded:

Compelled To Protest

"The United States government feels compelled to make a vigorous protest against the practices outlined above and to express the hope

PIGEONHOLED

LONDON, Jan. 2 (AP) — The United States protest against British seizure of mails designed for Germany was in the "due course" pigeonholed tonight along with a previous protest against the Allied blockade and the Pan-American complaint against neutrality zone violation.

A spokesman for the government said:

"A note was received shortly after Christmas containing representations of the state department concerning diversion of American mails carried in neutral ships.

"It is receiving careful consideration by his majesty's government and a reply will be made in due course."

The British attitude on the blockade has been to avoid antagonizing neutrals, but the British contend their blockade of both imports and exports is justified by Germany's mine sowing.

On the neutrality zone the British view is that its limits are so intangible and so unenforceable that there is not much to worry about.

Man Who Commits Suicide By Asphyxiation Decides His Method Is Too Slow; Log Kept

FDR Will Address Joint Meeting To Outline Program

By RICHARD L. TURNER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2. — Administration leaders abandoned hope tonight that the 1940 pre-election session of Congress, convening tomorrow, might be short and comparatively harmonious.

A review of the hot domestic issues which must be settled — amendment of the labor act, relief appropriations, the reciprocal tariff program, the wage-hour law amendments — forced them between fighting Democratic factions would be difficult, if not impossible to maintain.

Stormy Session

"I'm afraid it is going to be a controversial session," sighed Senator Barkley, of Kentucky, the Democratic floor leader, after a series of conferences, including one with President Roosevelt, "I don't see any chance of getting away early."

He said the session probably would continue until the national political conventions, which ordinarily come in June, but which may be held later this year.

All this represented an abrupt about-face on the part of administration leaders. For months they had pinned their hopes of keeping controversies to a minimum, with the dual purpose of having a united nation face the war abroad and a united Democratic party face the political battles at home.

Meeting Called

That presidential politics, with its ever deeply-seated antagonism, would dominate the session was obvious from the nature of the controversations between lawmakers.

MAJOR ISSUES

Major issues before congress:
Economy vs spending.
Proposals to curb power of National Labor Relations board.
Continuation of reciprocal tariff program.
Broad reinforcement of the national defense.
Relief appropriations.
Amendments to wage hour act.

Many said this subject, with its allied third-term question would overshadow most of the issues on the session's program.

As a preliminary to the opening session Mr. Roosevelt called to the White House the Democratic leaders—including Vice President Garner, who is in the race for the presidential nomination. The president went over with them the main points he expects to make in his annual message to Congress, which he is to deliver in person to a joint session of House and Senate tomorrow.

Barkley told reporters he expected the message to deal largely with foreign affairs, and to take the form

Texan Is Named Undersecretary Of Interior

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2—Alvin J. Wirtz, a Texas lawyer of New Deal sympathies, was appointed undersecretary of the interior today by President Roosevelt, subject to later confirmation by the Senate.

Reporters who set out to determine whether the appointment was a slap at Vice President Garner

TO LEAVE TODAY

AUSTIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—A. J. Wirtz of Austin, appointed undersecretary of the interior by President Roosevelt today, will go to Washington by plane tomorrow for initial conferences with Secretary Ickes.

The attorney said he probably would return to Austin later in the week to get his affairs in shape preparatory to moving to the national capital.

Wirtz, a widely known lawyer, for years was a leader in the state Senate. He long has been an active Democratic party worker. For the past several years he has been general counsel for the Lower Colorado River authority, which is in charge of a large electric power and flood control project financed through the Public Works administration.

were told by Rep. Rayburn, House majority leader and a fellow Texan, that he could not conceive of that being the case.

Similar View

A similar view was expressed in San Antonio by Mayor Maury Maverick, one of the few Texas political leaders who has not boosted Garner for the presidency. Wirtz was an attorney for Maverick when the latter was tried and acquitted recently on a charge of conspiring to pay the poll tax of another.

"I can't conceive of his appointment being a slap at our fellow Texan, Brother Garner," Maverick said. He termed Wirtz a "very, very fine man" and said he thought he would be the best under-secretary "they ever had."

Former Senator

Rayburn, a close friend of Garner, told reporters the appointment of Wirtz was "perfectly agreeable" to him. "He's a good fellow," he added.

Secretary Ickes said he was "delighted" by the appointment, adding that "Wirtz' "liberal outlook and years of intimate association with activities in Texas, designed to conserve the natural resources of that area, fully qualify" him for the post.

Wirtz is 51 and a resident of San Antonio. He is chairman of the state advisory board of the National Youth administration, counsel for the Lower Colorado River authority, and a former state senator.

Civil War 'Vet' Of Motley Dies

Grandson Of FDR Too Active To Be Taken To Congress' Opening

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)— The liveliness of 9-months-old Johnny Boettiger knocked him out of a chance to hear his grandfather address Congress tomorrow.

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt said her Seattle grandson was much too active for her to take along. She said it was all she could do to handle him in one room, much less in the capitol.

Official Figures Of Casualties In Quake Areas Are Released

ANKARA, Jan. 2 (AP)—Under the personal direction of President Ismet Inonu, rescuers probed the ruins of earthquake devastated buildings at Erzincan in northeastern Turkey today for victims, some of whom were found alive after several days entombment.

Torrential rains in the west—some 700 miles from the quake zone—brought new disaster by swelling flood waters which already are believed to have caused 1,200 deaths.

Officials said that in Erzincan city, capital of a province of the same name 12,000 were dead and 2,500 seriously injured. Improved rail communications have enabled many of the injured to be removed to Ankara.

Officials estimated the earthquake casualties at 45,000 dead, 100,000 injured and 500,000 homeless. Storm and flood tolls were set at 1,200 dead and 25,000 homeless.

Racketeer Gets 14-Year Term

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 — Louis (Lepke) Buchalter, a thick-bodied industrial racketeer whose career had been surrounded by an aura of violence and sudden death, settled all his old accounts with the federal government today, and was sentenced to 14 years in prison.

Appearing for sentence upon a conviction for conspiracy obtained against him Dec. 20 as a key figure in a $10,000,000 international narcotics smuggling syndicate, he unexpectedly wiped the slate clean.

Plea Of Guilty

His dead-black eyes still and his heavy mouth drawn thin, he pleaded guilty to nine additional narcotics indictments and to a brace of indictments for violation of the anti-trust laws — specifically for racketeering in the fur industry.

Judge John C. Knox, acting on the recommendation of U. S. Attorney John T. Cahill, thus imposed sentence: 12 years for narcotics violations; two years for fur racketeering; an additional 10-year sentence, suspended conditioned upon good behavior, and a $2,500 fine.

Thus was destroyed a legend of invincibility which Lepke for years

HOUSEHOLD DON'TS

DON'T relegate favorite china to the top shelf just because it is cracked or chipped; a little china cement and careful mending will make it almost as good as new. Don't neglect minor upholstery repairs; you may not be able actually to re-upholster expertly, even an amateur can tighten springs and turn out pretty tailored-looking slipcovers.

Don't forget to clean and oil, according to directions, electrical appliances. Don't gloom around in dingy rooms, when rugs and draperies can be inexpensively freshened and renovated by cleaning and dyeing. Don't allow silver or other metal ornaments to become tarnished and dull; if they are worth having around, they are worth keeping bright and shining.

Repairs and renewals promptly attended to, keep any house from getting down-at-the-heel.

AIDS ILL FOLK

SEVERAL years ago J. A. Pressley broke his leg, necessitating a long stay in bed. While in pain and more especially later when all he had to do was contemplate his enforced invalidism, Mr. Pressley's mind was busy outlining comforts in the sick room.

He decided when he was able to be about again he would build some of these contrivances. And being a handy man with carpenter's tools he did that very thing, and today when a friend is ill Mr. Pressley drops by with one of his gadgets. For instance he has built an invalid's table that may be raised or lowered for writing or drawing and includes a smoking stand.

The crutches he built were loaned to H. A. Davidson when he had an accident at a football game season before last.

There is no charge for these gadgets; Mr. Pressley being pleased that he may make his friends' moments of convalescence more comfortable than might be arranged by some one who has never lain in beds month after month while his breaks healed.

ON COSMETICS LABELS

LABELS on the cosmetics you buy from now on will have an important message for you. For the new Food, Drug and Cosmetics act has gone into effect and labels that list information or claims that the government considers "false or misleading" will be barred.

From now on, if you read carefully, you won't get the idea that a certain cream can "rejuvenate" you, or another make your hair "grow" or still another make your eyelashes long and luxuriant.

Cosmetics are defined as: "Articles intended to be rubbed, poured, sprinkled or sprayed on, introduced into, or otherwise applied to the human body or any part thereof for cleansing beautifying, promoting attractiveness or altering the appearance (Soaps are one exception.)

The cosmetics manufacturer has one advantage, he doesn't tell what's in his product. A food manufacturer has to tell what's in his meat sauce, right down to the last onion. A drug manufacturer has to list his active ingredients with such warnings as "may be habit forming."

Other "forbidden terms" considered by the administration to be "false or misleading" are: contour cream, deep pore cleanser, nail grower, scalp food, nourishing cream, pore paste, skin food, skin tonic and tissue cream.

MIND YOUR MANNERS

Test your knowledge of correct social usage by answering the following questions, then checking against the authoritative answers below:

1. Should a woman dining with a man in a restaurant give her order directly to the waiter?
2. When two men are eating together in a restaurant, what is the procedure?
3. Would it be considered rude of a young man to tell his date that her slip is showing?
4. If a girl and man are waiting for a cab, and one comes along, may she hail it?
5. Is it permissible to sip coffee when there is food in the mouth?

What would you do if—

You are a girl stopping by a friend's house to take her somewhere in your car. Would you—

(a) Sound your horn?

(b) Go up to the door and ring the bell?

ANSWERS

1. No. To the man with whom she is dining.
2. Each gives his order to the waiter. Even though one is the other's guest.
3. No.
4. No. She should let him hail it.
5. No!

Arnett, Benson Protest Filed

Opposition to inclusion of the Arnett and Benson addition northwest of the city within the corporate limits of Lubbock was expressed in a petition bearing 60 signatures filed at the city hall Tuesday.

No reasons were stated in the petition for the opposition.

No Other Petition

As yet, city officials said, no petition asking that the area be brought within the city has been submitted. They added that such a petition bearing the signatures of a majority of the property owners within the area proposed for inclusion must be filed before the matter can be even considered. Estimated population of the area is approximately 1,500.

Several copies of the opposition petition were included among those filed. No check had been made to ascertain whether they contained duplicating names, but an examination of the several leaflets revealed that there were occasional instances of duplications.

Residents of the area who favor bringing the addition into the city said that they are continuing their activities and they expressed confidence that their efforts will be successful.

Some of the opposition they have heard, they said, has been based on the mistaken belief that coming within the city would affect bus transportation facilities for children to city schools and that the extension would require the destruction of structures existing there.

School officials made clear that the fact that the addition may or may not be in the city limits makes no differences in the matter of transportation. City officials emphasized also that even under the city plan intended for early adoption, the city will have no authority to order the removal of any property which may exist at the time the plan goes into effect.

Government Begins Campaign Against Race "Bootlegging"

CHICAGO, Jan. 2 (AP) — Federal District Attorney William J. Campbell said today the government had begun a national campaign to smash the "bootlegging" of race results by wire.

He said that since the voluntary dissolution of Nationwide News Service, Inc., owned by M. L. Annenberg, millionaire publisher, several "bootleg" services had started in various parts of the country.

Margaret Melton Of Littlefield Is Named Lamb County 4-H Club Gold Star Girl

Announcement was made Tuesday morning that Margaret Melton, senior student in Littlefield High school, was selected as the outstanding 4-H club girl in Lamb county for the Gold Star award. Mrs. Ruth E. Perry is county home demonstration agent.

The award committee was composed of Bennie Lou Davis of the Amherst 4-H club, Billye Jean Arnn of Littlefield 4-H club and a member of the home demonstration council.

The young girl won the honor on the improvement she made in her yard this year and on her garden work.

Margaret has served as president of her club twice, secretary, reporter and garden demonstrator and yard demonstrator during the five years she has belonged to the club. She attended the 4-H short course at College Station in July.

"I had never thought just how much trees, shrubs, grass and flowers had to do with the happiness in the family," Margaret said, "when Mrs. Perry, Home Demonstration agent, interested me in improving my own home.

The yard was filled with dirt about 12 inches deep with three inches of fertilizer. The family set out 76 cherry trees and 238 trees for shade and background. Some of the trees were used for screening. A storage tank for water was replaced and water piped to the house, barn and lots. Grass was set out and a fence built around the yard.

Margaret also has a frame garden and regular garden. She prepared and served vegetables to her family and canned 23 pints of greens and assisted her mother in canning for the family.

New Record Set By Postoffice

An all-time record of $220,816.26 was set by Lubbock postoffice receipts during the past year, according to announcement Tuesday. The total exceeds that of last year by $14,053.33.

Receipts showed a steady gain over 1938 month by month and quarter by quarter but the heaviest Christmas business of all-time sent receipts skyrocketing during the last quarter to a total of $61,981.71. Last quarter receipts during 1938 totaled $57,416.33.

Postmaster Amos Howard said he expected an even larger total of receipts during 1940 and pointed to the heavy gain in population here during the past year as one of the indications for heavier mail business.

Receipts by quarters during the past year were: first quarter, $52,950.74; second, $50,418.29; and third quarter, $55,465.52.

Had Lubbock's receipts been slightly more than $1,500 more the office would have been placed in a higher classification in the postal department. It is expected to go above that classification during 1940, officials said.

Federal Funds For Highway 24 To Be Sought; Plans Made

The state highway commission will be asked in the very near future to try to secure a federal designation for state highway 24, according to a letter to the chamber of commerce Tuesday from A. H. Eubanks of McKinney, president of the Highway 24 association.

The designation will be asked on the highway which extends southward from Hugo, Okla., into Texas, then westward through Seymour, Lubbock and Morton into New Mexico. State commissions in Oklahoma and New Mexico will be asked to join in the request for the federal designation.

Advantage of such designation, it was explained, will be that the way will be cleared for federal allocations for improvements and maintenance of the route.

Upturn In Shipyards' Business Is Revealed In Report

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—A sharp upturn in business in private American shipyards during 1939 was noted today in a report compiled by H. Gerrish Smith, president of the National Council of American Shipbuilders.

Terming 1939 the best year since the World war, Smith said the maritime commission and private operators had awarded contracts for 108 ships aggregating 833,355 gross tons. Forty ships of 335,200 tons was launched and 28 were delivered.

Young Mothers! Do What Your Mother Did About
COUGHING COLDS
3 Out of 5 Mothers Use This Home-Proved Treatment
You are right to worry when a cold strikes your family. You should take steps, at once, to relieve the misery and suffering. But you want to be sure that what you do is really helpful. You don't want to take needless risks.
Now here is what most mothers do. They use Vicks VapoRub. Since 1895 Vicks and their doctors have studied ways to treat the distressing symptoms of colds. Today three out of five mothers are benefiting by this forty-four-year-study of colds when they use VapoRub and let its amazing poultice-vapor action go to work. PROFIT BY THEIR EXPERIENCE. Do this. If it's a coughing cold, melt a spoonful of VapoRub in a pan of boiling water, and breathe in the soothing, medicated vapors. Then massage Vicks VapoRub on throat, chest, and back and go to bed. Constipation Relief That Also Pepsin-izes Stomach
When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up fast that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to put the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach comfort, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Tests prove the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may ferment in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how pepsinizing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking this laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your druggist today!

Burglaries At Slaton Are Investigated

(Special To The Avalanche)

SLATON, Jan. 2.—Though not made late Tuesday night, an arrest in two holiday burglaries here "may be expected momentarily," announced officials from Lubbock and Slaton, collaborating in an investigation.

Conducting a joint investigation, inaugurated early this morning when loss of $145 was reported from two concerns here, are Sheriff Tom Abel and Bill Mabray, assistant chief of Lubbock police, and R. L. Wicker, Slaton's chief of police.

More than $145 in money was obtained in burglary of Carter Furniture store owned by Sherrod Bros. Hardware company in Lubbock and the M. A. Pember Insurance company. More than $100 of the loot was taken from a safe at the insurance company early today, $45 from the furniture store.

Whoever entered the insurance company went through the front door evidently with a key, since the lock was not damaged, and presumably knew the combination of the safe, since the knob had not been damaged.

An employe said he was certain the safe and the door had been locked when he went home Monday afternoon.

Checks in the insurance company safe had been laid back in a neat pile.

"Looks like kids went into the furniture company," said the sheriff. Police said entry to the building was over a transom that had been covered with paper. An old bedstead was used to help the intruder or intruders mount to the transom level. Exit was through the same place.

The money was in a table drawer and a hole was cut with a pocketknife in the bottom of the drawer so that the cash could be reached.

"Looks very much like someone knew the way around in both jobs," said the sheriff.

Three ships were sunk off the coast of North Carolina by submarines in the last World war.

Motion Picture Battle Looming

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 2 (U.P.)—Samuel Goldwyn, the Polish orphan boy who became a multi-millionaire film producer, touched off today what may become a large-scale battle in the motion picture industry.

Warner Brothers announced that they had completed negotiations with Goldwyn to distribute his latest picture throughout the nation's theaters.

Plans Made

This indicated Goldwyn was going through plans to break away from United Artists Corp., which he helped found in 1926 along with Mary Pickford, the late Douglas Fairbanks, Charles Chaplin, and others. Goldwyn recently announced he was abrogating his agreement because, he said, he was doing most of United Artists' money-making, and was not receiving a proportionate share of the profits.

United Artists threatened to go to court to hold Goldwyn to his contract, which would expire in 1945. United Artists also warned other distributing companies not to make releasing agreements with Goldwyn unless they were willing to face legal action. Warner Brothers apparently was willing to face the threat.

Officials of United Artists had made no further comment since the Warner Brothers action.

ICC Ruling Upheld By Supreme Court

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The supreme court today affirmed a decision upholding an Interstate Commerce commission order abolishing the Quanah, Acme and Pacific railway company's tariffs for cottonseed transit from Quanah, Tex.

The railway, which operates 112 miles of road between Quanah and Floydada, appealed from the northern district federal court, which had held the proposed tariff arrangements were unreasonable.

The company filed its freight tariffs with the ICC in 1938 in an effort to recapture some of the cottonseed traffic it once carried, and which trucks now handle.

Supreme Court Affirms Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The supreme court today sustained a 1931 income tax levied against V. L. Letulle, of Bay City, Tex., as a result of transfer of property owned by him to a corporation dissolved after selling its assets to another firm.

Justice Roberts delivered a unanimous opinion affirming a ruling of the fifth circuit court in favor of the assets.

Letulle had obtained a judgment of $110,234 against the government in the Western Texas federal district court on the ground sale of assets to the Gulf Coast Irrigation company to the Gulf Coast Water company constituted reorganization and was not taxable.

But the circuit court held exemption did not apply to property individually owned by Letulle when the contract for the sale was negotiated and transferred to the irrigation company, of which he was sole stockholder.

The circuit court directed the district court to determine the amount involved.

Letulle had paid the tax assessed by the government and sued for a refund.

Roosevelt Warmly Greets John Garner On Arrival At Capitol

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (U.P.) — President Roosevelt greeted Vice-President John N. Garner at the White House legislative conference today by singing "Happy New Year to You."

House Speaker William B. Bankhead disclosed the presidential greeting. It was the first time Garner and Roosevelt had met since Garner announced his presidential candidacy.

"I never saw a more brotherly, affectionate greeting in my life," Bankhead said, "and you can quote me on that. My feeling is that the president and vice-president are on very affectionate terms of mutual regard and appreciation."

Act Of Congress Might Force It

By FELIX R. McKNIGHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2.—Possibility of a bowl game to eclipse all bowl games—Texas Aggies vs. Southern California—faded today but dreamers kept up their speculative talk.

Out of the Aggies' triumph over Tulane in the Sugar Bowl and Southern California's rout of Tennessee in the Rose Bowl, arose talk of the charity game.

Officially, the Aggie fathers believed only such a thing as a presidential "command" could bring the teams together in the suggested game with receipts to go to a Finnish war relief fund.

Unofficially, Aggie coaches and players chorused their feelings with: "We love to play football."

Athletic Director Willis O. Hunter of Southern California said Pacific Coast conference rules prohibit division of gate receipts with a third party explaining:

"Worthy as the Finnish relief cause might be, it would be necessary to obtain conference approval before we could act on such a proposal." He added any formal proposal would be considered.

It became known today that Former President Herbert Hoover, directing a Finnish relief drive, had been approached on the matter of matching the Rose and Sugar Bowl winners, had expressed an opinion that it would be "interesting" but felt it would be difficult, if not impossible, to arrange such a post-season game.

Grid gossipers, still praising the power Texas A. and M. displayed yesterday in nosing out a Tulane club that had played perhaps the toughest schedule of any of the nation's unbeaten teams, could speculate only on what "might have happened" if the Aggies and Southern California were loosed on the same football field.

Opinion was strong that the Aggies' margin over Tulane was consideraly wider than indicated by the lone point that brought a 14-13 victory.

Big John Kimbrough, All-America fullback, gained better than 180 himself in a pile-driving demonstration that flattened Coach Red Dawson's renowned defense—All-America Tackle Harley McCollum and all. The Aggies were downright destructive.

Southern California humbled Tennessee 14-0, smashing the Vols' 15-game record of an uncrossed goal line.

It would have been football's finale—the Texas Aggies vs. Southern California.

Meanwhile, it might be appropriate to break the incredible news the Aggies left behind them when they headed back for the great plains—they'll be even greater next season!

Eight of the regulars will be back in harness, including the great Kimbrough, Marshall Foch Robnett, Derace Moser and the fine blocking back, Jim Thomason.

Three outstanding men will be missing—Walemon Price, Joe Boyd and Herb Smith. Their absence will be felt, but capable replacements are available and the greatest freshman team in A. and M. history is sending up a flock of sweet ball players.

Herb Smith Has Extra Hat As Result Of Sugar Bowl Wager

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2. (AP) — Herb Smith, the little Texas A. and M. All-Southwest end who proved to be a breakwater yesterday to Tulane's Green Wave, has an extra headguard on his hands.

He won it from Harry Hays, Tulane halfback who played with Smith at San Angelo High school.

Herb hates to wear a helmet and got along without one in high school, before they were required by the rules.

"The darn thing's no good to me anyhow," he remarked last week when Hays challenged him to bet it on the game. Now he has two useless gadgets, all because he blocked the Tulane placekick for a second extra point which would have caused a 14-14 tie.

Bill Kern Believed In Line For West Virginia Position

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 2 (AP)—Football Coach Clipper Smith said today he "understood" that Bill Kern was en route East to take over the position of head grid coach at the University of West Virginia.

Kern for the past two years has been coach of Carnegie Tech and was a former assistant to Jock Sutherland at Pittsburgh, where he starred as an athlete in college days.

Kern and Smith, Villanova coach, have been here attending the American Football Coaches association meeting.

New Orleans Realizes More Than $2,500,000 From Bowl

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2. (AP) — The Sugar Bowl crowds streamed out of the city today, leaving behind them memories of a magnificent winter sports carnival—and more than $2,500,000 in cash.

The association of commerce, terming its estimate "conservative," said 40,000 visitors spent an average of $20 per day apiece in the three-day period ending Monday night, or a total of $2,400,000 not including $140,000 for Sugar Bowl tickets.

Shaughnessy Plan Works Okay Here!

By WHITNEY MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 2—The Shaughnessy system (Frank, not Clark) came in for much left-handed comment after the 1939 season, when most pennant winners finished in the dugouts in the playoffs. Any suggestion for a substitute plan probably will be welcomed on the theory that any change would be for the better.

The Shaughnessy system, which calls for the first division teams to meet in playoffs for the championship, serves its purpose in maintaining interest in a race through the home stretch, and in more than one instance the added revenue has kept a league from folding.

The chief objection is that a fourth place club might, and often does, win the playoff, which punctures the pride of the season's champion.

Here's New Plan

Dan Desmond of the Sioux City (Ia). Journal passes on a plan which was submitted to him by Fred Ring, vice president of the Sioux City Western League club. Although a little complicated, it has its merit in that while it includes the interest-maintaining features of the Shaughnessy system, it also saves the price of a team which might finish the regular shedule leading by 10 laps.

Briefly, or as briefly as possible, the idea is this:

Split the schedule into four sections. To qualify for a place in the playoffs, a team must finish first in at least one of the sections.

But even this would not assure a team a spot in the finals, for only two teams would compete.

The two teams to meet in the playoff, should a different team win each of the four sections, would be determined by a comparison of records over the entire season, the two with the highest percentages being matched for the championship.

This Is Deep Water

If a team finished first in two sections it might not necessarily qualify, as the teams winning the other two sections might wind up with a higher percentage over the full campaign.

In event of a tie over the season's play, it might be broken by a one-game playoff. The championship playoff would be best three out of five games.

A fixed sum would be set aside for the teams in the playoff, to be split 60-40. This fund would be accumulated by assessing each club so much per capita of attendance for the season until the total decided upon was reached. The sum would be large enough so that even a losing player's share would be larger than his salary for the period of the playoff.

Through this system a pennant winner would not be humiliated through defeat at the hands of a club which was an also-ran during the season. During at least one of the four sections its opponent would have played better ball.

A club winning one section would have plenty of incentive to try to win another, and thus cut out a rival for a place in the finals. And a club would do its best all the way through to try to win all four sections and thus make the entire pool without a playoff.

Frogs Can Use Bagley—If He Keeps Up Old San Saba Pace

SAN SABA, Jan. 2 (U.P) — If his play yesterday is a good indicator of what Texas Christian can expect of him next fall, Dean Bagley is going to prove a mighty handy backfield man for TCU next fall.

Bagley, once the nation's leading high school scorer at San Saba, led a team of former schoolboy stars here to a 6-0 victory over former Brady High school players in West Texas' "Pecan Bowl" game.

Three thousand persons saw the game.

San Saba scored in the final period after recovering a Brady fumble on the opposition's 20-yard line. Three plays put over the touchdown, with Bagley bucking across from the two.

Catholic And Tempe Coaches Not Satisfied With Tie Game

EL PASO, Jan. 2. (AP)—Coaches Dixie Howell and Dutch Bergman put their Sun Bowl football teams aboard homeward bound trains tonight, both belligerently maintaining victory in the fifth New Year's gridiron classic here should have been theirs.

Coach Dixie Howell of Arizona State of Tempe: "I believe we had the better team and would have won if we had gotten a break at the right time."

Coach Dutch Bergman of Catholic university of Washington, D. C.; "Tempe has a fast, powerful team, but we didn't play our top game by any means. I think we are capable of beating Tempe six days out of the week."

The teams tied 0-0 in the Sun Bowl.

Downtown Coach Club Welcomes The Westerners

By TOM MILLER
Avalanche Staff Writer

A "sellout" crowd of "the morning after" quarterbacks Tuesday night saw the state championship Lubbock Westerners pass in review in the main ballroom of Lubbock hotel.

Approximately 300 fans paid tribute to the Westerners—but saved their loudest applause for the team's major domos, Coaches Goober Keyes and Walker Nichols. The ballroom was taxed to capacity and the S.R.O. sign went up before the kick-off.

Films of the Lubbock-Woodrow Wilson semi-final contest in Dallas Dec. 23 were shown as the opening feature. J. C. M. Barnes screened the pictures, taken by Graham Pierce, Dallas sportsman.

Tech Coach Praises Team

Following the movies, Coach Dutchy Smith of Texas Tech introduced the Lubbock High mentors.

"After talking with coaches and sports followers from every corner of the state after the two important victories in Dallas, I am convinced that Coaches Keyes and Nichols have turned in the greatest job in the nation. Barring classification—university, college, high school or any other—their record this year has attracted more attention than any other," said Coach Smith.

Then came a buck-passing session. Finally the waterboy, abashed and with none other to pass the credit on, accepted responsibility for the Westerners' fine showing.

Coach Keyes introduced members of the squad, designating the "iron men" who burdened the load of bringing Lubbock its first state title.

Storrs Played Longest

L. A. Storrs, sturdy tackle and line-backer, played 469 minutes of a possible 480 in eight games of the District One chase and in four playoff games against Electra, Sweetwater, Woodrow Wilson and Waco. His was the best record in that respect.

He was followed closely by James Merriman, senior guard, at 462 minutes.

"They were boys anyone could coach," the mentors agreed. "When a back found a hole and scampered through, he came back to the line to pat a teammate forward on the back," Coach Nichols observed.

Answering queries about the new 18-year, no semester, ruling of the Interscholastic league, Coach Keyes voiced preference for neither that nor the 19-year, eight semester, rule.

Under the former, which will go into effect next fall, Leete Jackson would be eligible to return for service. Joe Tyson and Storrs would be eligible under the present rule.

Opposition to the new regulation already has been sounded and there are moves in many quarters to ask its abolishment. Coach Paul Tyson, dean of Texas high school coaches who sat across the field from Coaches Keyes and Nichols in the final game last Saturday, went on record last week as favoring the change, through which he will lose his ace backfield man, Francis Pulattie.

Bearden To Return

Francis Bearden, stellar little wingman, is only regular certain to return. Others returning are Max Walthall and Billy Wright, backs, Franklin Butler, Marvin McBrayer, Carl Sanders, J. A. Blackwell, J. D. Wynn and Robert McKinnon, linemen.

Tennessee Guard Pulls Vol Fan Out Of Tough Situation

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 2. (AP) — Bob Suffridge, star University of Tennessee guard, "ran interference" at the city jail today for William H. Evans, 20, of Mountain City, Tenn., who had hitch-hiked here to see the Rose Bowl game New Year's day.

Attaches of the hotel where the football team was staying said they found Evans sleeping in an alcove on the second floor without having arranged to pay for his quarters and whisked him off to jail.

Suffridge vouched for Evans' character, persuaded officers to free the youth and managed to get him aboard the Tennessee team's special train for the long trip home.

Vols Go Home The Sad Way After Losing In Rose Bowl

PASADENA, Calif., Jan. 2 (AP)—Tennessee's defeated Volunteers said farewell to Southern California today leaving by special train (10:30 a. m.) on their homeward trek to Knoxville.

The official party of about 100, includes members of the football squad, sports writers and a few friends.

Their route was by way of El Paso, Houston and New Orleans. A bus trip to Juarez, Mex., during a few hours stop at El Paso and a visit to the French quarter of New Orleans were planned as breaks in the return trip.

CHRISTMAN-TO-CURRENCE CLICKS, BUT MISSOURI LOSES—Paul Christman of Missouri set Georgia Tech down hard at the outset of the Orange Bowl game in Miami when he passed twice to substitute end Currence for a net of 45 yards. Christman then followed with a plunge through the line to score. Here Currence (20) leaps to catch the pass. For Tech, Bosch (93), Ector (50), Cavette (8) and Pair (27) close in. Pair made the tackle. The drive brought Missour's one tally, and Georgia Tech won, 21 to 7.

KIMBROUGH SPARKS TEXAS AGGIE VICTORY—John Kimbrough (39), Texas A. & M. star, crashes right guard for a first down on Tulane's 34 in the Sugar Bowl game at New Orleans. No. 66 is Tulane's Flower. Kimbrough was a big factor in The Texas A & M 14 to 13 victory

TENNESSEEAN FINDS A PATHWAY—Tennessee's line punched a big hole in Southern California's vaunted forward wall on this play in the Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena to enable Leonard Coffman (11), Tennessee fullback, to chalk up a first down early in the game. Coffman got past Stoecker (68) and finally was hauled down by Grenny Lansdell. Behind Stoecker is Harry Smith (70). Southern California won, 14 to 0.

Grid Huddle Doomed, Says Alexander

By LARRY ROLLINS
Associated Press Sports Writer

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 2—Coach W. A. (Bill) Alexander, who has taught football wizardry at Georgia Tech for more than two decades, relaxed long enough today to predict the huddle is doomed.

"The huddle will be discarded eventually because of the shifting defenses," Alexander said between congratulatory handshakes for Tech's 21-7 Orange Bowl victory over Missouri's Big Six champions.

"As it is now, a quarterback must call a play designed to go against a six-man line. When the team gets out of the huddle and up to the scrimmage line, the opponent may have switched into a five-three-two one defense, against which the particular play wouldn't click at all. Not having time to go back into the huddle, the quarterback either must run the play anyway or check it on signals on the spur of the moment, causing every man to change his assignment.

Cuts Fifty Plays

"The huddle has slowed the game. When we first played Notre Dame years ago more than 150 plays were run. In one of our games this season there were only 90-odd. More than 50 plays had disappeared."

Teams are inclined nowadays, he said, to use the full 30 seconds allowed to put the ball in play whereas formerly the offensive team was eager to get the next maneuver started.

"There was something dramatic about a leather-lunged quarterback barking his signals that appealed to the spectators."

The huddle was introduced, Alexander recalled, because the signals were occasionally drowned out by the crowd noise and to permit players more time to get set on their assignments.

The Georgia Tech players celebrated their triumph by doing as they pleased, at the beaches, the horse races, on the golf courses, and deep-sea fishing. The disappointed Missourians, hurrying back to class rooms, entrained last night.

Arrest Expected In Shooting

(Special To The Avalanche)

SEMINOLE, Jan. 2.—"We expect to crack the case within a week, if not sooner," Sheriff John Sartin told reporters here late tonight.

He was referring to the shooting at midnight Monday of Bill Brannan, about 28, former Odessa oil field worker who is recovering in a Seagraves hospital from a .38 caliber bullet wound in the left chest.

Shrouded In Mystery

Motives or principals in the shooting, are shrouded in mystery. Further questioning only brought evasions from Sartin with the promise that "something should happen in the next few days."

Brannan is in Davidson hospital, where a physician said there was no immediate danger seen for him unless complications result from the wound. The bullet might have pierced the lung when it entered the left side of the chest and ricocheted off a rib to emerge in the left back, it was said.

Recovery Chances Bright

However, hospital attendants late tonight said that chances for Brannan's recovery were very bright.

Information sent early this morning to Lubbock police to be broadcast over shortwave radio said Brannan had told a story of three men meeting him and one of them firing the shot.

He told Sartin they were driving a 1938 Ford sedan, but the license number of the machine was not supplied.

Previous trouble was hinted between the principals in the shooting, other officials said.

ers fled from the death scene carrying his baby brother, Billie Don. He told officers two strangers shot his parents, then set fire to their three-room dwelling.

A coroner's jury convened by "Uncle Joe" White, 70-year-old justice of the peace who presided at the wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Rogers nine years ago, decided the three met death from a "cause unknown."

Arrest Expected

Dr. E. A. Johnson, Hugo physician, found buckshot in the bodies of the parents. Mrs. Rogers also had been slugged. The child apparently died of burns.

The prison cook was taken to the penitentiary at McAlester. Warden Jess Dunn reported he denied any part in the slayings.

Horton said he had information that "the cook has been corresponding with a woman in Fort Towson," and added the convict had "threatened the life of a Fort Towson man."

Another arrest is expected soon. Footprints of two men were found near the Rogers home after the fire.

Suspect Guarded In Slaying Of Amarillo Man In Wyoming

RAWLINS, Wyo., Jan. 2 (AP)—Troy Greigg, a bar employe, was put under guard in a hospital today while Sheriff Glenn Penland investigated the fatal shooting of Edmund A. Finley, 38, of Amarillo, Texas.

Sheriff Penland said Finley, who died early today, was shot in the stomach during a fracas in the Corner bar last night.

Greigg was shot in the leg and arm and Kyle Bromley, of Amarillo, in the right arm and shoulder. Bromley, who told officers he was a bystander and hit by a stray bullet, was released from a hospital today.

RUMORS CIRCULATED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Reports circulated today that Breckinridge Long, former ambassador to Italy, would be named an assistant secretary of state to succeed George S. Messersmith, who would be given a diplomatic post.

Mercury Expected To Drop Below Freezing

Chilled thermometers were expected to dip only slightly below freezing early this morning in contrast to readings in the twenties the past few days.

At midnight, no precipitation of any kind had been reported over the South Plains and most of the light snow which fell Monday night and early Tuesday morning had melted, further benefiting moisture-hungry foliage over the area.

Though the weather still was biting, the mercury hovered in the thirties throughout Tuesday after an early morning drop to 25, minimum for the day. High for the day was reached about 4 o'clock that afternoon when a reading of 38 degrees was registered.

At midnight, an eight mile wind was blowing from the south southwest and the temperature was near stationary at 32.2 degrees.

Reports from over the section indicated that traffic was not seriously hampered by Tuesday's early snowfall and that bus and train schedules were met on time.

Dies Committee Members Ready For Report To Congress Today

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)— The Seven members of the Dies committee composed their differences today over the report on un-American activities to be submitted to Congress tomorrow and all signed it.

Acting Chairman Starnes (D-Ala) reported after a two-hour meeting of six of the members that "the report is unanimous and speaks for itself."

But one member said that record votes were forced on two major deletions from a preliminary draft which had been in the committee's hands for two days. The original version was prepared by Chairman Dies (D-Tex), who is still at his Orange, Tex., home. His signature was attached to the report by a committee clerk.

The members refused to discuss the report in advance of its presentation to the House at noon tomorrow. But it was learned that it would call for continued publicity on un-American activities and renewed federal prosecution of violators of statutes covering immigration, deportation and foreign agent registration.

Republican Senator Declines Invitation To Demo Banquet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Senator Austin (R-Vt) declined today an invitation to attend the annual Jackson day dinner of the Democratic party January 8.

Austin, invited in a precedent-breaking move, wrote Homer S. Cummings, Jackson day committee chairman, that he would refrain from attending because of his "high regard for the institution of party responsibility in the American political system."

Although neither Senator McNary of Oregon nor Representative Martin of Massachusetts, Senate and House minority leaders, have replied formally, there were indications that they too would turn down their invitations, which were sent with President Roosevelt's approval.

Senator Norris In Hospital To Receive "General Checkup"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Office assistants reported today that Senator Norris (Ind-Neb) was in Johns Hopkins hospital at Baltimore for a general checkup.

Congress Opens Term Today

of a report to Congress on what the administration has done to preserve neutrality of the United States, and exert its influence for peace abroad.

With Barkley and Garner at the White House were Speaker Bankhead and Rep. Rayburn (D-Tex), the majority leader of the House, who has declared his support for Garner for the presidency. This declaration, combined with the fact that the Garner candidacy was announced since Garner last saw the president, led to much speculation as to the nature of the meeting between president and vice president.

Jovial Greeting

Later some of the participants were at pains to make it clear that all was harmonious to the point of joviality. Bankhead said that as the group entered, Mr. Roosevelt greeted them with a broad grin and began singing "Happy New Year to You," to the tune of the "Happy Birthday" song. Bankhead added that "I never saw a more affectionate, brotherly greeting in my life," than that between the president and Garner.

After convening and hearing Mr. Roosevelt's message tomorrow, both houses will adjourn until Thursday, when, it is tentatively planned, the annual budget message will be submitted by the chief executive, estimating income, expenditures and deficit for the fiscal year beginning next July.

Little For Senate

The legislators are awaiting this with mingled feelings of fore-boding and eagerness. There is much talk of an insistence upon economy. There are also reports that in drawing up the estimates, Mr. Roosevelt has slashed the figures to the bone, including appropriations to be proposed for projects which have, in the past, been congressional favorites. With election approaching, there would be little surprise in Washington if Congress, as it did last year, ultimately voted appropriations considerably higher than those Mr. Roosevelt proposes.

After receiving the budget, the Senate will have little to do, aside from considering nominations and bills on the calendar, until the House has acted on the reciprocal trade agreements law and appropriation bills. The House has a deficiency bill ready for consideration, proposing appropriations to cover the administration of special neutrality activities. These include increased personnel for army, navy and coast guard, and an increased number of anti-sabotage and anti-espionage agents for the justice department.

Finnish Victories

and much arms and munitions.

Today the Finns were following up their victory while the soviets were believed to be preparing a tremendous push on the Karelian isthmus, to the south, to crack a four-week stalemate.

Seven Red divisions (about 105,000 men) were reported concentrated on the isthmus.

Icy blizzards checked war in the air, leading to unofficial reports that many Russian bombers had been forced down in Finnish territory. Finnish fire was reported to have downed seven Red planes.

Smashed by air bombings, large areas of Turku, historic seaport in southwestern Finland, lay in smoking confusion, the result of yesterday's raid.

Base Is Held

All day long, said a Finnish army communique, Russian legions supported by tanks attacked near Lake Lavajarvi on the eastern front, but the defenders held out and drove back all assaults. One tank was destroyed.

After it had "passed from hand to hand during the day," the Finns took and held a Russian base at Aittajoki, also on the eastern front, the communique added.

Aittajoki is in southeastern Finland, about 13 miles from the Russian border and about 60 miles north of Lake Ladoga. It is one of the bases from which the Russians have been operating in an attempt to cut the Finnish lines immediately north of the lake.

More Gains Reported

Further gains were reported by the Finns in the area northeast of Lake Ladoga and in the Suomussalmi region, where last weekend the Finns triumphed over the Russian 163rd division.

Striking CIO Ship Clerks Vote To Return To Work Today

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 2 (AP) — Striking CIO ship clerks voted late today to return to work, ending the dispute which has tied up the waterfront here for more than seven weeks.

An employers' spokesman said actual resumption of operations probably would begin tomorrow afternoon.

The clerks voted to accept the seven-point peace formula previously accepted by the waterfront employers, on condition that Dean Wayne L. Morse of the University of Oregon law school, be designated as impartial member of an arbitration board of three, instead of a man to have been selected by Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins.

PAVING TO START

MATADOR, Jan. 2. (Special) — Weather permitting, work on Matador's first paving project, that calling for the laying of four blocks of pavement in the business district, will get under way Wednesday, according to those in charge. The work was authorized recently by the Works Projects administration. A $6,000 bond issue was voted to complete preparations for the paving.

Woman Who Threw Hammer At Burglar To Use Shotgun Next

HOUSTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Mrs. N. R. Bristow, 26, believes she knows how to handle prowlers.

During the past month Mrs. Bristow heard prowlers around her house several times.

Last night she placed a claw hammer and a butcher knife beside the bed when she retired. Shortly after midnight a noise awakened her and she saw a man working with the lock on the front door.

She hurled the hammer through the glass portion of the door and the invader fled.

Tired of being frightened by prowlers, she announced plans to arm herself with a shotgun, adding "and believe me, I know how to handle one."

Oil Compromise Said Unlikely

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 2 (AP)—The door to any compromise solution of the historic foreign oil expropriation controversy seemed firmly closed today by President Cardenas' New Year message to the people of Mexico.

Observers declared the president's radio broadcast last night apparently meant only one thing:

Cardenas was determined the $400,000,000 properties of the 17 American, British and Netherlands petroleum companies should be revaluated in the light of the 1938 seizure and then paid, for the president does not contemplate any settlement that would return, or divide, control of the properties to the original owners.

Not Under Discussion

In his speech from the national palace, Cardenas declared:

"Now that the supreme court has approved the legality of the seizure, the presidential decree (of expropriation, March 18, 1938) is not under discussion nor any formula proposed by the companies requesting to intervene again in the administration of the industry. Once the evaluation has been completed, we shall proceed to payment of the properties in accordance with the law."

The trend of the president's message, in addition to the analysis of the petroleum situation, indicated that the chief executive desired to consolidate the revolutionary reforms his government has made in recent years rather than to undertake new reforms.

Westerners Return

terners and they sat on the stage and heard words of praise of themselves from officials and students alike.

His "Best Game"

"It was the best game I ever saw in my life," Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent, said of the tilt in which the Westerners defeated Waco Saturday. The Westerner squad "is the best high school football team I've ever seen play," he said.

The Westerner line is a great line, but there's one kind of line the team members will never enter and that's the bread line, or the soup line, said Dean of Boys Dan W. Powers. "I don't believe that any boy on this football team or any other football team in West Texas will ever be a relief problem," he said.

Picked Starting Line-Up

Then Head Coach J. G. Keyes and Assistant Coach Walker Nichols expressed their appreciation of the team and of those who supported the team during the 1939 season.

Keyes mentioned his difficulty in attempting to nominate an all-star Texas high school team, at request of the Associated Press, in Dallas Saturday. The only way to be fair and pick the best team was "to pick our own starting line-up," he said. That was what he did.

Lubbock High's Westerners were "the craziest group that ever played football," he said. One thing you could be sure of—that it would do its best.

Return Early Tuesday

The band, led by Sanford Eskridge, played and cheer leaders led singing. Leaders present were Betty Rhea Caldwell, Sylvia Wheelock, Cleveland Cobb, Lyonal Lindsey and Bill Kennedy. Mary Louise Breedlove, a leader, was ill.

The trophy, a silver full-size football mounted on a mahogany, base, become property of the school upon presentation by the co-captains and will be placed in a trophy case in the lobby of the building.

The Westerners and coaches returned to Lubbock early Tuesday morning.

Tech Classes Begin Today; Public Schools Start Tuesday

Following Christmas holidays, classes at Texas Technological college will reopen this morning.

The public schools resumed work Tuesday and attracted enrollment of approximately 100 new students. Reports received at the office of Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent, late Tuesday morning were that 12 had enrolled in Senior High school, 19 in George M. Hunt, 12 in Junior High, 10 in Dupre, 12 in K. Carter, 6 in Central Ward, 8 in Sanders and 15 in Guadalupe. A few might have enrolled later, but most of the new enrollment was gained that morning.

Many faculty members of Texas Tech returned to their offices Tuesday, to find mail boxes bulging with correspondence and to prepare for reopening of classes.

With the same unprecedent surge that heralded the introduction of a new year and decade, Lubbock's building prospects for 1940 have soared on a quick getaway toward what many observers predict will surpass last year's record smashing construction performance for the city.

Ten permits totaling $28,216 were issued Tuesday from the office of Jim Reid, building inspector. Half of those permits were for residences to cost a total of $19,200. A sixth permit was for a brick and tile business building costing $7,451.

First To Robert Smith

First permit of the new year was issued to Robert E. Smith, owner, and Doyle Ownbey, contractor, for a residence costing $3,800 at 2217 Twenty-eighth street.

Last permits of the old year were issued to Hub Investment company, inc., owner, and Joe Telford, contractor, for two two-story brick apartment houses at 1604 and 1610 Avenue W. Each will contain eight three to five-room apartments, estimated cost of one being $26,000 and the other $27,000.

Telford also took out one of the first of the 1940 permits, for $2,000 for a garage and servant's house at the 1604 Avenue W address.

Subject To Checking

The two apartment permits issued to Telford established the 1939 building permit total at $3,591,956, or $2,000 less than the first preliminary estimate of final figures announced Saturday. The new estimate still is subject to routine auditor's checking. However, the amount still is substantially ahead of the $3,559,737 in 1938, which set the previous all-time record for Lubbock.

Permits issued this morning, additional to those for the Smith residence and the Telford garage, included:

Clyde F. Elkins, owner, and M. G. Bowles, contractor, brick and tile business building, 1320 Avenue Q, $7,451; M. T. Hill, owner, and Martin Bros., contractor, brick veneer residence, 2307 Twenty-seventh street, $4,500; W. J. Pittman, owner, and J. Fred Smith, contractor, residence, 3302 Twenty-second street, $3,700; A. A. Stalnaker, owner and contractor, residence, 2213 Twenty-ninth $3,300; and Carl J. Suitt, owner, and H. E. Webb, contractor, residence, 2429 Twenty-fifth, $2,900; J. G. Boatwright, owner and contractor, to construct one-story frame addition to servants quarters, rear 2124 Eighth street, $200; George W. Gray, owner and contractor, to construct one-story frame workshop, rear 401 College avenue, $65.

Burglars Take Safe Hard Way, But Anyway It's Still Missing

TISHOMINGO, Okla., Jan. 2 (AP) —Burglars who took $500 from a theater here last night did it the hard way.

Sheriff Jim Dowdy said they left a trail indicating they:

Entered the theater through a front door, apparently with a pass key.

Removed the door of a second-floor office by taking it off its hinges.

Rolled a safe containing the money to the edge of the balcony.

Lowered it to the main floor with a rope, took it through a back door and loaded it into a truck or automobile.

P. S. The safe's still missing.

News Briefs

A two weeks term of criminal court in county court, J. J. Dillard, judge presiding, will open this morning. Twenty-seven cases are on the first week's docket, 30 on the second week. Among those offenses to be considered by the court the following are predominant: violation of the liquor law, highway violations, swindling by worthless check, and theft, the first easily surpassing all others listed.

Rev. Joseph Rosenthal of Amarillo, a Christian Jew, will speak at 7:30 o'clock tonight in Asbury Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Flynn of Lubbock have moved to Post, where Flynn will will be service manager for Gollehon Pontiac agency. They have two daughters, Patricia Ann and Tommye Jean. They lived several years in Lubbock.

Mrs. Zelda Underwood and Broughton Morgan will fill for the present the two vacancies in Senior High school left since the holidays, it was announced by Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent, Tuesday. Mrs. Underwood will teach the classes formerly taught by Erton Tate, who resigned on December 21 to take a job with the social security board. Morgan, who formerly taught in Granbury, will take the classes of M. E. Witt, chemistry teacher who died on December 29. Morgan is a graduate of Hardin-Simmons university.

Robert Allen, jr., of 2408 Thirteenth street, reported theft of an overcoat to police late Tuesday. The garment, a blue-green with raglin sleeves and belted back, was stolen Monday. No further report on the theft had been made at midnight.

No injuries and only slight damage resulted from a wreck in 1300 block of Avenue H, late Tuesday morning, police reported. Figuring in the negligible crash were Charles Parker, 23, of 1507 Avenue O, who was traveling north, and T. E. Ashcraft, 31, of route 6, who was backing north on the avenue, the official report said.

The Allison Motor company, of Lubbock, a garage, has been granted a charter for incorporation, according to an Associated Press report from Austin to the Morning Avalanche. Incorporators are L. G. Mackey, W. R. Allison, and P. K. Mackey. Capital stock is $15,000.

Rank of page was conferred on J. W. Simmons, B. Holman Roberts, and Loyd Ricketts in ceremonies Tuesday night by Knights of Pythias at the lodge home. Plans were discussed for the Dokey meeting to be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tonight. New officers for the fun organization of the Knights of Pythias will be elected, according to Russell Hardin, keeper of records and seals. A dance will follow the business meeting.

Atlantic And Pacific Company Refused Review Of Civil Case

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)— The Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company failed today to get a supreme court review of a decision upholding a federal trade commission order requiring the chain store firm to stop alleged violations of the Robinson-Patman act.

The 1936 act, which amended the Clayton anti-trust act, prohibits payments of allowances to buyers or sellers of goods except for actual services rendered, and makes it unlawful for anyone to be a party to a purchase which discriminates against the purchaser's competitors.

Industry Alive To U. S. Needs

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (U.P.) — American industry is alive to national defense needs and is better prepared to carry out its mission in emergency, Assistant Secretary of War Louis Johnson said today.

"I am convinced that our nation, awakening to realities, is coming to a much clearer and certainly more definite understanding of the close association of military and economic factors," Johnson wrote in his annual report. "If the requests for information by industry upon my office may be taken as a criterion, then I am confident that national interest in our problem is avid, keen and intelligent.

Progress Is Made

"Considerable progress has been made toward the attainment of objectives — current procurement of our peacetime needs and the assurances of adequate provisions for the prompt and effective mobilization of essential national resources in event of an emergency."

Johnson said the army procurement program during the last fiscal year cost about $450,000,000 or more than the entire 1898 war with Spain, and that indications are that even more will be spent this year.

He said that the army during the year obtained 736 combat and training planes worth $39,000,000 in the war department's procurement program to provide 6,000 planes. Aside from the deliveries, Johnson said that orders were placed for 1,047 planes, with engines and accessories, worth $66,000,000. The orders went to 12 different manufacturers.

"This is the greatest peace-time procurement of aircraft ever made by this government," Johnson said.

The Prospects For Peace

CONSERVATIVE and better informed observers of world affairs will not be supprised if there should prove truth in rumors that Germany may make peace overtures before weather permits large scale military operations on the western front.

Certainly it appears that if there are such overtures, they must come from Germany and they must require sacrifices on the part of that nation. But it also seems that it should be apparent to the typical German citizen, that a lesser sacrifice which might end the war now will enable him to avoid an infinitely greater sacrifice from the prolongation of a struggle which he has little chance to win.

He should realize, and doubtless does realize, that if he should be the loser in a present war in which the horrors approximate those of the 1914-18 conflict, his righteously vengeful and resentful enemies will be satisfied with nothing less than the complete dismemberment of the German nation.

It does not appear at all impossible that peace could come before spring. If Germany would offer terms to form a basis of negotiation, it goes without saying that the allies would be in a receptive mood to peace.

Although they are in the position of advantage which would seem to insure victory in a prolonged war, they have sound reasons for attempting to avoid a struggle on the scale of that starting in 1914.

Not the least among those reasons is doubt as to how the people of France and England—not to mention Germany—would react to terrifying losses of life and property such as those of 25 years ago. Maybe the people would sacrifice without complaint just as they did before. Maybe they wouldn't. But it is pretty well agreed among observers that no government is prepared to risk unnecessarily its own existance by putting its people to any such test.

However, if there should be peace negotiations, it seems definite that spokesmen for the Germans must be someone other than Adolf Hitler. No trust would be placed in any agreement to which he might be a party. That would require, if there should be negotiations, his removal from official position in his government because his record has been such that world distrust would attach to any apparently subordinate place he held. The suspicion would exist that he still was the power behind the throne.

Likewise, if there is to be peace, Germany cannot expect to retain the booty of international robberies engineered by Hitler. If Germany now should be permitted to make a profitable enterprise of previous international banditry, then there would be the constant temptation to turn bandit again when conditions favored.

But even the sacrifices by Germany which would be an apparent essential to even the start of negotiations would not seem great when compared with what she stands to lose if the struggle is prolonged. Those sacrifices are to be preferred to violent internal revolution which, according to excellent authority, seems to be threatened. They are to be preferred to seemingly certain defeat if the war should be fought to a decisive conclusion.

Mr. Fechner And The CCC

BY FAR the least criticised among alphabetical agencies for which the New Deal is responsible has been the Civilian Conservation corps, which lost its director, Robert Fechner, by death Sunday.

Just what share of credit is due Mr. Fechner for the outstanding success of the CCC cannot be readily computed. It was an undertaking for which there was genuine need, which still serves a splendid purpose and which may be deserving of permanency. The very need for it was a circumstance which smoothed its pathway to success.

Even so, it is apparent that it almost certainly would have encountered difficulties with the wrong man as its head. It is obvious that organizing genius of the highest order was essential to getting it started and to continuing its operation. It is evident that the right man must have been in the position of highest authority from the fact that various polls of the popularity of New Deal agencies invariably have placed the CCC at the top of the lists.

All the evidence supports the conclusion that if individual credit is to be given for the CCC, the first honors must go to Mr. Fechner.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

COLUMBUS' CREW

When the kings of Spain consented to finance Columbus' expedition, they directed him to go to the city of Palos and obtain there the ships and crew necessary for the voyage. This was supposed to be a penalty imposed on the city of Palos for a previous revolution against the kings. The shipping firm of Pinzon Brothers then sent in an offer to supply the ships, but they could only furnish about 30 seasoned seamen, pilots and navigators. It was then that the city opened its jails and impressed 90 prisoners to man Columbus' ships. Their pay was to be about $2.50 a year, and if they succeeded, the rest of their penalty would be forgiven.

YESTERDAY: The stranger who had followed Mary on deck returns her beret. She is angry, then mystified as he promises to see her again. As she starts to dress for the party a shudder shakes the ship. Mary is pitched headlong across hte cabin.

CHAPTER VII

"To the lifeboats!"

A steward was calling into the darkness. His voice boomed to make itself heard above the cries and confusion in the passageway.

In the blackness of her cabin, Mary's hands searched for the all-important lifebelt. "And one for Anna, too," she remembered as she groped beneath the bunk for the bloated canvas jackets. "And now for some clothes!"

But the blackness was unyielding. What she thought was the door to her closet turned out to be the door to the passageway. "Never mind, this will do." On the way out, her hands had caught up the simple wrap-around of Anna's gray uniform. Open from neck to hem it was easy to don, even in the dark.

Then, with whatever there is about a woman that makes a handbag an essential, Mary automatically caught up a purse.

The passageway swarmed with night figures. Here and there a hand flashlight sent beady rays into the dark. Jostling passengers pushed and elbowed their way up the companionway's flights to the life-saving stations of the boat deck. A feeble flicker of green from an emergency battery set showed a fair-haired child riding high above the others, perhaps on the shoulders of his father. And in the grim, sickly light that turned living people into green corpses, the swarming passengers seemed like strange troglodytes from a place even more horrible than a world at war.

In the darkness again, away from the green light, Mary could hear the sober voices of the imperturbable crew calling directions, offering assistance, and best of all, encouragement.

"Only one more flight," she heard the crisp voice of a stewardess. "There's a place for every-one in the lifeboats."

Their orderliness was in strange contrast to all else—to the cries of distress, to the plaints and lamentations and voiced indignation. But one cry, above all others, would sound in her ears until the day of her death, Mary knew.

"My baby, oh, my baby!" she heard, and shuddered. "I must find my baby."

"I must find Anna Winters," she was reminded anew. "She'll be frightened and alone. I have her lifebelt."

* * *

On the boat deck, the confusion of the stairway was a prelude to the terrifying chaos of the fevered scene. Sailors, stripped to the wasit, sweated in the icy wind as they obeyed megaphoned directions from the captain, relayed through their officers.

"Life saving station 41, launch your boat!"

"Fourth watch, count your passengers!"

And through it all the creak and groan of winches protested as lifeboats swung from their davits and, suspended for a time in midair, would drop unexpectedly fast as the Moravia sank deeper and deeper into the water.

Above, the moon rode high in calm glory, flooding the dancing waters with bright, cold light.

"What was it? What happened?" A distraught passenger joined the group at Mary's lifeboat station.

"A torpedo hit us. I saw it." A stout American was positive. "I came up on deck after dinner for a turn around. When I got beyond the glassed-in part I stood looking at the moon. It was a sub. I could see the periscope. I was right by the rail. I almost pitched into the sea."

"I saw it, too," another passenger broke in. "I even knew it was going to hit. And it did."

Mary in her panic was only remotely conscious of what was taking place around her. But one brief drama held her fascinated gaze.

In the flare of a torch she saw a familiar figure. His light hair and foreign hair cut were too individual ever to be mistaken. They could belong to one person only—to the blond youth who had returned her beret only a short half hour before. She saw him approach the rail and the single shaft of light fell full on his countenance. One could not fail to read its pained surprise, its look of loathing and above all, of resolution. The youth gained the rail and, with the quiet of a cat, dropped over the side.

It was difficult to believe this final horror in a chain of grim events. For what reason had this handsome foreign boy died, Mary wondered. It was certainly not because of heroism. The stewards had said there was a place for everyone in the lifeboats. He wanted to die, she knew. But why?

There was no time for reflection. Just as her group was ordered to file into the boat, consternation came over the ship. All stood breathless as a black shaft rose up in the path of moonlight. The periscope of an undersea boat was clear to be seen.

"Another torpedo!" But nobody spoke it aloud. It was a thought so horrible as only to be whispered.

It seemed like bare seconds before the second deadly charge hit home. The Moravia again convulsed with the seizure of awful pain as the explosion ripped a great gash into her leviathan side.

When the second torpedo hit, Mary Carroll was propelled forward down the deck, towards the listing bow. Her face struck a bulkhead. The ship trembled in the water. Again Mary was thrown forward, toward the place where the prow was dangerously close to the water's edge. But she was halted abruptly. A beam struck her and the blindness of pain shut out all else.

Great arms encircled her. She found herself being lifted up. Then all she knew was the sickening, unsteady motion of a light craft in a choppy sea.

When she regained consciousness she found her lifeboat was already at some distance from the ship. The sea danced in the still brilliant moonlight. "" had come alive, now, with all monner of objects bobbing on its surface. In a fan, out from the sinking Moravia, red flares showed the lifeboats. Now and then, one of them would stop to drag a swimmer out of the water.

"You're injured Miss," a voice said to Mary. A hand held a drenching cloth to her face.

"Thanks, oh, thanks," she started to reply. Then everything was blotted out in the ghastly scene as a fiery lash of pain struck her face. She felt a merciful curtain of oblivion drawn over her. "This," she thought, "is the end."

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE conservative sea dogs in the navy department are smiling more cheerfully as a result of their intensive study of the battle in which three British cruisers crippled the Graf Spee and drove her to her death. For a while they feared lest they might have to regret their earlier conclusion that the pocket battleship was a maritime freak which did not meet this nation's needs.

Inasmuch as a detailed report is unavailable because of the sinking of the German vessel the admirals' investigation was based only on an analysis of the four ships' movements, the damage suffered, the casualties, etc. What impressed them most is the failure of the Graf Spee to do more injury to ships of less tonnage, thinner armor and smaller guns. They don't attribute the Germans' inferiority to lack of training of Hitler's crews or to their inexperience—the result of the years when the Allies stripped the old enemy bare of warships.

The Germans' poor gunnery was, in navy experts' opinion, due to vibration resulting from the fact that the Graf Spee was powered by Diesel engines rather than steam turbines—a necessity in order to save weight. The eight Diesels apparently shook the ship so severely that sighting and firing accurately on the run became an impossibility. As a raider of merchantmen, the Graf Spee was a "natural"—though her total of tonnage destroyed was negligible—but she was a flop in an actual engagement. So the admirals—and their big battle wagons—are safe.

THREAT: The tentatiave and confidential report which Representative Martin Dies has supplied to his fellow-investigators of alienism is the most scathing indictment of the administraton since the Senate Judiciary sub-Committee's literary burial of the court-packing bill. It is doubtful if he can obtain additional funds and a fresh grant of power unless he modifies it.

His review of the committee's work is factual enough, and arouses nobody's anger. But when he reaches the summing-up stage, he makes the charge that the administration is shot through with "communists" who do not believe in the American form of government. What is worse, he makes the point that these alleged soviet sympathizers conceal their true faith by posing as "liberals." Thus, by implication, he smears the highest officials as fellow-travelers in the direction of Moscow.

A majority, however, appears willing to endorse the chairman's conclusions. It consists of Messrs. Thomas of New Jersey, Starnes of Alabama, Mason of Iowa. But the two remaining Democrats—Representative Dempsey of New Mexico and Representative Casey of Massachusetts—insist on drastic revision. It will provoke a fierce row if it ever reaches the floor in its present form, and furnish a serious threat to party harmony at the start of the session.

AIDING: A steady volume of non-military goods is moving from the United States to the Allies in violation of the spirit—if not the letter—of the Neutrality act. Machine tools, meats, canned goods and other products are pouring into Canada by freight for transshipment to Great Britain and France.

The Customs officials at Washington, in a telegraphic order to their field forces have held that such shipments are exempt from the cash-and-carry provisions of the Neutrality act. The producers—or owners—do not have to transfer title, and the purchasers do not have to pay cash on the barrel head. The strange situation results from the State Department's decision that Canada is not a part of the war zone into which it would be dangerous to send American goods. And there is no official recognition of the fact that these shipments are destined for the belligerent powers.

Exports to Canada have shown a steady increase since the start of the war, with a skyward leap following repeal of the Embargo Act. But the real rise in this type of shipment will not be reflected in Commerce reports for several months. The orders have skyrocketed as a result of the official ruling that American exporters can hand their stuff to our Canadian cousins if they don't go too near the British water. It's another way of aiding the Allies with "methods short of war."

NEW YORK
By Richard Waldo

THE sensational flag-transfer business having dropped out of the public prints, ignored fact is that million dollar shipping lines are still biting their nails without help in sight. But the capping irony of the ship owners' plight has hitherto not been revealed.

Just a few days before the war—and invocation of the traffic-stopping Neutrality Law—U.S. Lines signed a contract with the Maritime Commission through which the New York company chartered 15 government owned freighters. These ships are not to be confused with government subsidized vessels in private ownership. The 15 were and are under federal title. Contract in most cases bound the company to three-year leases payable on regular maturities.

Thereupon the government made delivery of the ships—in the same week that the givernment banned their use in European waters, the very area for which charters were granted. Today the company pays for skeleton crews for each ship, for wharfage, insurance and, most galling, the government's rental. Meanwhile the commission postpones decision as to whether the Neutrality Law offers sufficient grounds for nullifying a government contract.

BURDENS: Ravages of the Spanish Civil war were so far reaching that Franco's rehabilitation program is estimated by New York Spanish authorities to require a minimum of ten years. Destruction was not limited to real property—it hit hardest where it disrupted trade habits, halted manufacturing and marketing systems—those trade assets which going concerns value in the millions under catch-all title of "goodwill".

Consequence is the reconstruction job has taken Franco out of the arena of international war and politics—has made Spain's foreign policy secondary to getting the country on its feet. In foreign affairs Franco's participation stops at a mild doctrinarian tieup with Mussolini's Fascism.

The capper is that in the midst of dire need Franco has decided to force room for naval rearmament. Spanish naval yards at Ferrol have recently been enlarged and the building schedule lists: 4 dreadnoughts of 35,000 tons, 14 cruisers of 15,000 tons and 14 submarines. Peseta equivalent costs puts the seagoing bill at $400,000,000, a sum which Spain's exchequer can't toss about lightly. Diplomatic question raised is who is financing the Spanish navy?

ANXIOUS: Despite many helpful clarifications of the knotty Neutrality Law and Johnson Act by State department lawyers, the two laws together are still spinning new webs for American business. The one law forbids credit sales to belligerents; the other forbids loans to governments. Enter complications. Most of Manhattan's larger banks have long granted open credit facilities to branches and correspondents in Scandinavia, Belgium, Holland, Switzerland and other neutral financial centers. In turn neutrals make open sale of every munitions category to both sides of the war, in many cases on credit.

By wording of the two laws these credit lines to neutrals are permissible. But by implication U.S. banks could be construed as granting war credits to the nations at war via neutral agents, i.e., subsidiaries.

A German or British protest could bring a U.S. ruling that the American-neutral banker tieup is a little too intimate—past credits declared illegal, therefore unenforcable.

Here And There In Texas

EDITOR'S NOTE

(The following article was written by Maurice Earl Heard, head professor of textile engineering at Texas Technological college, for and at the request of the Associated Press. Professor Heard's article is appearing not only in The Morning Avalanche, but in Associated Press newspapers all over Texas.)

By M. E. HEARD
(Written For Associated Press)

THE event which annually blows the starting whistle for one of the South's major industries is the first bale of cotton, accompanied by the time-honored custom of a premium to the farmer able to get the first bale to town.

The significance of a grower's enterprise in delivering the first grist to the state's multitudinous gins should not be underestimated, but, at the risk of voicing a heresy, I believe it has come to mean more than it possibly should mean. Generally speaking, the first bale is green and sappy, often poorly ginned on account of being green and damp cotton and as far as spinning value is concerned, has a very low value. In accordance with the aims and objectives of the State-Wide Cotton committee of Texas, looking toward cotton improvement, it has occurred to the writer that we might well offer a prize for the best bale of cotton ginned in each community, city, or county, and call specific attention to the fact that quality shall be uppermost in our minds at all times. If there are survivors of that organization whose watchword is "Change the name of Arkansas—never!" then to keep everybody happy we might still award a small prize for the first bale, but concentrate our attention on the best bale of cotton.

Suggestions Made

For a practical solution to this suggestion I offer the following ideas which may be of some assistance in working out the details for any community.

1. The bale to be judged on the basis of grade, staple, and character, which of course includes preparation and ginning. Each of these factors which go to make up the class of a bale of cotton to be of equal importance.

2. The bale of cotton must be of 15-16" or longer. If the community is producing cotton longer than one inch, the contest might have two divisions—one of which would consider the best bale of one inch and under, and the second cotton over one inch in staple length.

3 Each ginner in the community or county could select the best 10 bales out of the first two or three hundred bales ginned. This would be a sufficient number permit each ginner to make a lection of the best early cotton, earliness and quickly maturing ities are highly desirable. A ple of not less than three o from each side of the bale cut, wrapped, certified as to o ship, and submitted to the committee. Information to a pany the sample as to the bale ber, location, date of ginning, of ginner, name of producer, of cotton, and method of ha ing.

4. Each 10 bale list of cotton the ginner must represent ten ferent producers.

5. The ginner who gins the bale to be awarded a suitable que stating that he ginned the bale in the community or co that year.

6. Three or four prizes to go to producer of the best bale in of first, second, third and four

7. When the prizes are aw toward the close of the cotton son, a fine opportunity would b fered for an all-day program to cuss the latest developments in ton improvement.

8. A competent committee censed classer of suitable men the cotton trade to be set judges with the action of the mittee to be final.

Quality Is Paramount

The writer would like to phasize that the bale of cotto long as it is wrapped in bagging ties is practically worthless a as utility is concerned. It mus spun into yarn; woven into and bleached, dyed, and fini before it can serve a useful pose. Thus, we need constantly stress the spinning value of cott the producers in order that T maw grow, harvest, and gin the ity of cotton that is desired by mills of the world.

Army To Defend Trade Program

By ANDRUE BERDING
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2—A great army, embracing millions of persons, is in mobilization throughout the nation to defend the trade agreements program against destruction in the session of Congress which meets Wednesday.

The state department has learned that scores of organizations of those who feel they have benefitted from the reciprocal tariff pacts have pledged their support of Secretary Hull's policy. In some quarters it is predicted that before the fight in Congress really begins a committee will have been set up to coordinate the campaign.

Pressure Felt

The congressmen who are now feeling the pressure of industrial or agricultural interests which feel they have been affected adversely by the program soon may begin hearing from the defense forces.

An examination of the reserves destined to man the Maginot line for Hull's policy shows they are composed of three main bodies: women's organizations interested in lower prices brought by lower tariffs, business men interested in the import and export trade, and organizations devoted to the improvement of international relations.

The state department lists the following among the women's organizations which have gone on record in favor of the trade-agreements program:

What They Favor

General Federation of Women's clubs, American Association of University Women; National League of Women Voters; National Board, Young Women's Christian association; National Council of Jewish Women; Women's International League for Peace and Freedom; and, the National Women's Trade Union league.

The state department lists the following business associations among those favorable to the trade program:

The American Cotton Cooperative association, the American Cotton Shippers association, the American Automobile Manufacturers association, the Bankers Association for Foreign Trade, the Dried Fruit association, the Millers National federation, the National council, the National Lumber Exporters association and the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce.

Both the national committee on the cause and cure of war and the national peace conference have recommended to their member organizations support of the trade-agreements program, federal officials say, although their action does not of itself place the member organizations which compose them on record in the same way.

GAINS POSTED

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—The stock market today stepped into 1940 and posted gains of fractions to more than a point for leaders.

Lack of volume, however, was an outstanding flaw in the advance. Transfers for the five hours totalled 579,010 shares against 724,070 last Tuesday. It was the smallest turnover for a full session since Dec. 11. The Associated Press average of 60 issues was up .4 of a point at 51.6.

Brokers attributed the buying timidity mainly to the fact many traders wished to keep commitments light pending the convening of Congress tomorrow.

The heavy batch of New Year's predictions for industry generally were scanned with interest but no great enthusiasm.

Strength of commodities provided one of the principal props for the share list.

Among stocks finishing on the upside—some were under the day's best—were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, Chrysler, General Motors, Western Union, Goodyear, Douglas Aircraft, Santa Fe, Anaconda, American Smelting, International Nickel, Johns-Manville, Sears Roebuck, Woolworth, Texas Corp., International Mercantile Marine, Electric Boat and United Aircraft.

Steel mill operations were officially estimated up 12 points at 85.7 per cent of capacity in a rebound from the Christmas week shutdowns.

International Mercantile Marine stock was given a runup following word the maritime commission had granted permission to the U. S. Lines, controlled by I. M. M., to sell eight ships to a Norwegian company.

A lift of 25 cents a barrel in prices of several grades of Pennsylvania crude petroleum aided the oils.

Booster fractions to nearly 2 points in the curb were Lake Shore, South Penn Oil, Jones and Laughlin and Gulf Oil. Turnover of 127,000 shares compared with 293,000 Saturday.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—The cotton futures market breezed into 1940 today in a vigorously bullish frame of mind.

Enthusiastic buying by domestic and foreign interests swept prices 18 to 30 points higher, the day's tops.

Most traders said 1940 looked like a good year and appeared ready to back up that sentiment with aggressive market action. This, combined with strength in other commodity markets and securities, kept buyers moving.

Hedging sales of large blocks of cotton by a major spot interest failed to check the advance.

The list got off to a good start as markets at Bombay, Liverpool and Alexandria staged another spurt. Foreign accounts bought heavily here.

Overseas support later waned but was replaced by brisk demand from domestic mill accounts. Brokers said this represented largely price fixing.

A last minute drive carried prices to the top when Bombay got back in the ring and New Orleans started bidding for contracts.

Worth street textile dealers reported several million yards of staple print cloths sold at firm prices.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2 (AP)—The average price of middling 15-16ths-inch cotton at ten southern spot markets today was 17 points higher at 11.16 cents a pound; average for the past thirty market days 10.39 cents a pound; middling ⅞ths-inch average 10.92 cents a pound.

Howard Speaks At Lion Meet

Lubbock Lions Tuesday heard L. A. Howard, Lubbock attorney, cite amazing growth in 1939 of the livestock industry in this section.

The attorney has a financial interest in one of the livestock commission houses here.

Howard quoted figures which revealed more than $10,000,000 worth of livestock had been sold in Lubbock during the past twelve months and said an estimated $40,000,000 was going around the Lubbock area to other markets because of trucking regulations imposed by highway officers, justices of peace and other officers.

Tells Of Vast Outlet

Howard told of the vast outlet for unsalable feedstuff which has been opened up in the livestock feeding industry and from which farmers are reaping untold benefits either from the feeding of livestock or sale of the ensilage to feeders. He quoted figures revealing that more than $1,000,000 worth of horses and mules were sold here last year and between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 worth of hogs marketed at yards here. In addition, Lubbock produces more butter than any other town in Texas, more than $5,000,000 worth a year.

Benefits to Lubbock in the sale of livestock here were cited, Howard quoting one department store manager who said that it was not unusual for $10,000 in checks to be cashed on sales days from one barn here after banking hours and many of the checks were cashed for sales made at the store.

Entertainment Offered

Howard was introduced by Campbell Elkins who had charge of the program with Raymond Burford.

Lucky Ball, a sword swallower, entertained the club with his feats of swallowing prior to Howard's talk.

H. C. Pender, chairman of the membership committee, announced a 'Melvin Jones month' in Lions International and that a goal of 150 had been set for the Lubbock club in a contest with other clubs of the district. A gain of 18 per cent in membership in the past year was revealed by Pender.

President Of Reichsbank Says Britain Violates Principle

SALZBURG, Germany, Jan. 2 (AP)—Dr. Walther Funk, president of the Reichsbank and economics minister, declared today Britain "is fighting against the principle that the workers are to share as far as possible in life's comforts."

Addressing the Reichsbank's local branch, Funk said Britain already is buying up much greater quantities of raw materials than are needed in the expectation that with these reserves she will be able after the war to dictate world prices.

MOTION DENIED

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 2 (AP)—Federal Judge Wayne G. Borah this afternoon overruled motions for a new trial and arrest of judgment for A. L. Shushan and four other prominent Louisianians convicted of mail fraud.

Crowley Products Case Is Settled

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—An out-of-court settlement was reached today in the $560,575 action filed by the Crowley Products, Inc., against the Distribuidora de Petroleos Mexicanos, of Mexico City, largest oil company operating under the authority of the Mexican government.

The Crowley company charged the Mexican firm had "repudiated" a contract signed before the European war started to ship 40,000 tons of petroleum asphalt.

Bennett E. Siegelstein, lawyer for the plaintiff said the Mexican government had assisted in bringing the case to a satisfactory close and that a substantial payment had been arranged. Justice Aaron Steuer signed an order vacating an attachment against New York assets of the Mexican firm.

New School Zoning Will Be Announced In Next Week

With Lubbock's two new ward schools expected to be ready for occupation at mid-term, new zoning for the school districts will be announced within the next week, it was announced Tuesday by Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of the Lubbock Public schools.

Parents of children in grades one through six are asked to pay special attention to the new zoning so that they will know where to send their children to school for the second term, which begins on Jan. 24. Cards for the first semester will be issued on Jan. 23.

The new zoning will be designed to relieve schools of crowded conditions and will attempt to send all children to schools most convenient for them.

When their food is juicy, giraffes can do without water almost as long as camels can.

Lubbock Westerners Will Be Honored At Luncheon Tuesday

In a joint luncheon program next Tuesday in Lubbock hotel by the Optimist and Lions clubs, Lubbock's state schoolboy champions, the Westerners, will be honored. Coaches of the eleven that battered Waco in last week's Cotton Bowl game in Dallas also will attend.

The occasion will be a joint meeting of the Lions and Optimists, who meet regularly on Tuesdays, the Lions at the Hilton and the Optimists at the Lubbock.

Marvin Jones Attacks Wallace's Certificate Tax Pla

Present Farm Act Praised

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Chairman Marvin Jones, D., Tex., of the house agriculture committee said today that Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace's certificate plan is "processing fee with a pink ribbon around it" and would not work on corn and dairy products.

Wallace proposed the certificate plans as a new means of financing parity payments to farmers for which Congress has appropriated approximately $500,000,000 in the last two years.

No Practical Way

"I am not passing yea or nay on the certificate plan yet," Jones said. "It might be part of a general program and certainly a general program is desirable."

Jones said that the present farm act has been working well and should be broadened.

"The certificate plan is legal all right," Jones said. "The supreme cort did not rule processing taxes invalid but only as they were tied to a mandatory production program.

"It is not practical in reference to corn because 85 per cent of the crop never crosses a county line, being fed to hogs. There is no practical way to work it out for dairy products."

Japanese Freighter Grounded In Gulf

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Japanese freighter Kinagasa Maru was stuck fast aground in the Gulf of Mexico 65 miles east of here today, resisting the efforts of a swarm of tugs to pull her free.

The ship may have to be dredged loose. The vessel, en route from New Orleans to Port Arthur, went aground Friday.

Judge Performs Marriage Ceremony For Man Then Delays Honeymoon With Two-Year Term

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 2 (AP)—Judge W. W. McCrory, who on New Year's day performed the ceremony which made Robert E. Tiner, 19-year-old Fort Sam Houston soldier, a bridegroom, today delayed the youth's honeymoon with a two-year penitentiary term.

Tiner, who was married to Miss Mabel W. Alvis, 23, of Corpus Christi, in a ceremony performed by the judge, appeared in criminal district court this morning to plead guilty to a charge of assault with intent to commit robbery.

Originally, Tiner was charged by indictment with robbery by assault on a taxi cab driver on Nov. 14. The judge permitted the youth to plead guilty to the less serious charge of assault with intent to commit robbery, and, in sentencing him to two years, pointed out that, including the two months he has been in the county jail, Tiner would be eligible for parole in eight months more.

Maury Maverick To Leave On Four-Day Plane Excursion

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 2 (AP)—Mayor Maury Maverick will start Monday on a four-day plane trip which will take him to Fort Worth, Chicago and Atlanta for speeches.

He will address a Jackson day banquet in Fort Worth Monday, fly to Chicago for a speech before a Jewish organization and then move to Atlanta for a talk before Georgia Tech students.

He will talk over municipal problems with Atlanta officials, and said he might stop at Beaumont and Houston on the way back.

ALL INVITED

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 2. (AP)—Official circles said today that Mexico and Guatemala would jointly invite all American nations to participate in a conference here next March on the conservation of the western hemisphere's natural resources.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Popplewell To Be Today

Funeral rites will be read at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon in Rix chapel for Mrs. Felix Popplewell, 66, who died Tuesday in her 710 main street residence after illness of two years.

Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate and burial will be in Lubbock cemetery.

Pallbearers will be W. O. Sheely, Leroy Price, E. C. Earnest, L. C. Montgomery, B. L. Williamson and Lloyd Johnson.

She is survived by her husband; one sister, Mrs. Lizzie Collier of Mills county; one daughter, Mrs. V. T. Brady of 2436 Twenty-eighth street.

Mrs. Popplewell had lived in Lubbock 16 years.

Two Accidents Claim Lives Monday Night Near Lufkin

LUFKIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—Two accidents an hour apaft on the notoriously dangerous "last ride" highway south of Lufkin claimed two lives last night.

Clifford Johnson, 30, of Diboll, died when his car turned over. Leonard Harris, 25, was hurt.

Lafter Luncythia Jones, negro school teacher of Nacogdoches, was killed in an auto-truck collision.

The accidents occurred 12 miles from here on highway 35.

Contributions Are Reported To Clerk Of Representatives

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—The Democratic National committee reported to the clerk of the House today it had received in 1939 contributions totalling $731,116 and had spent $736,709.

The committee started the new year with a net cash balance of $1,972 and unpaid obligations of $219,138.

Knox Accepts Chairmanship

AUSTIN, Jan. 2 (AP)—Harry Knox of Brownwood, who succeeded Henry C. Meyer of Rockdale as member of the board of control, took his oath of office today and became chairman of the board. Meyer had been chairman.

The designation as chairman was made by the board and is for two years. Knox's membership is for six years.

With Knox acting as chairman, Member Tom Deberry of Bogota will continue in charge of purchasing and Frank Davis of Itasca will be in charge of eleemosynary institutions and budget preparation.

Knox who has been adjutant general will be succeeded in that office by Col. Watt Page of Fort Worth.

The board of control, which Knox heads, now has a majority of its members appointed by Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel. It has charge of state purchasing management of eleemosynary institutions, and prepares budget recommendations for both institutions and colleges to the Legislature.

Winter's Mass Maneuvers In U.S. Will Cost $26,000,000

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—This winter's mass maneuvers of United States troops in the South and West and at their home stations will cost more than $26,000,000.

A request for funds was included in the $275,000,000 deficiency appropriation estimate which President Roosevelt sent to Congress last month, it was disclosed today.

Much of the money will go for transporting 60,000 men of "streamlined" divisions from their scattered home stations to temporary posts in the South.

Other substantial outlays include the purchase of more than 12,000 motor trucks, which already have been ordered.

Sen. Taft, GOP Aspirant, Flays Neutrality Program

WASHINGTON, Jan. 2 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, R., Ohio, candidate for the 1940 Republican presidential nomination said today that attempts by the United States and other American countries to enforce a "security zone" around North and South America are "perfectly indefensible and ridiculous."

Back from a swing around the country on which he said he learned that "sentiment against the New Deal is constantly rising," Taft said the neutrality zone policy "tends to involve us in disputes with other nations that might conceivably lead to war."

"It's perfectly indefensible and ridiculous to say to Great Britain and Germany that they can't conduct a battle 300 miles from our shores," he said. "We can't carry such a policy and I don't believe we should try to. I found that to be the pretty general opinion throughout the country."

Taft said he found "vigorous opposition" among Republicans to "the financial policies and to the excessive character of the regulatory activities of the Roosevelt administration." He predicted that those would be "major issues" in the coming political campaigns.

Man Is Sentenced For Scalding Stepdaughter Who Came In Late

WILMINGTON, Del., Jan. 2 (AP)—Vincent Llacer, 38, was jailed for three months and fined $100 today on a charge of scalding his 13-year-old stepdaughter, Grace, after she returned from a New Year's "date."

Detective George Keinberger quoted Llacer as saying he poured a bottle of boiling water on the girl because "her coughing and sneezing got on my "nerves" after he scolded her.

Stoicism Of Finns Revealed In Papers Reaching America

NEW YORK, Jan. 2 (AP)—The stoicism of the Finns is revealed in the pages of Helsinki's daily newspaper Hufvudstadsbladet, copies of which have arrived in New York.

For days after the soviet bombers attacked Helsinki Nov. 30, the paper carried column after column of messages of bereavement — printed crosses, row on row. One speaks of the "accident" which befell a 15 year old boy, and the reader might conclude it was an ordinary accident unless he read on another page the list of identified dead after a bombing raid.

In that column the same boy's name appears.

None of the announcements of death contains any condemnation of the bombers, and few, in fact, mention the cause of death.
