Big Outlay On U. S. Defenses May Be Asked

Military Leaders Say Armed Forces Require Support

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — The nation may be asked to spend as much as $16,500,000,000 for defense next year if friction with Russia continues, senators disclosed today.

This would be 50 percent more than President Truman has asked in his peacetime record budget for the 12 months beginning July 1.

The estimate of future military needs came from members of the Senate armed services committee after a closed door conference with the high command yesterday.

Suppodt Is Needed

They said Gen. Eisenhower, retiring army chief of staff, and other top ranking generals and admirals advised that the army, navy and air force must be brought up to date quickly.

One senator said the reports of new staggering military costs dampened the chances that Congress will approve compulsory military training any time soon. Such a program would add about $2,000,000,000 a year to the defense budget.

However, Chairman Gurney (R-SD) told a reporter the committee will hold more conferences before it decides whether to go ahead with the training proposal.

Expert Views Given

Gen. Eisenhower and others in the high command were said to have told the senators yesterday the way they think the next war will be fought.

It may begin, they were quoted as saying, with an aerial attack on the United States using the atom bomb.

This was one of the reasons given for having a large reserve of trained men to take over ruined cities and man essential industries.

The United States was described as needing 1,000,000 trained men to occupy and guard the outlying air bases from which it would launch its aerial counter-attack upon the enemy.

Beyond that, Eisenhower and the others were said to agree that the final defeat of an enemy can be accomplished only by a large, well trained ground force. This is why they want universal mili-

GM Target Of Labor Charge

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28- (AP)—Robert N. Denham, general counsel of the National Labor Relations Board, today charged General Motors corporation with an unfair practice under the Taft-Hartley law. He alleged it refused to bargain with the CIO Auto Workers Union on an insurance plan.

Denham's complaint to the NLRB was based on charges brought by the Union Jan. 22.

Charges Listed

A hearing was set for February 10.

NLRB officials said the formal complaint clears the way for Denham to seek a court order for General Motors to stop the alleged unfair labor practice.

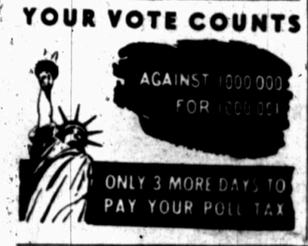

Denham charged GM with (1) refusal to bargain on a union proposal for an insurance plan, and (2) attempting to compel GM's 250,000 workers to accept a company-arranged insurance plan.

The complaint said the CIO-UAW has tried for several years to win an agreement on an insurance plan giving workers payments for sickness, accident, medical or surgical treatment, hospitalization or death.

Reds Are Prohibited From Talking To All Foreigners; Few Exemptions Are Allowed

(By The United Press)

MOSCOW, Jan. 28—The Soviet government prohibited Russians from talking to foreigners today and designated Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov's foreign office as the sole clearing house for contact with the outside world.

The only exemptions to the blanket decree were the ministry of foreign trade, which may handle foreign contacts with permission of the foreign office, and such working people as clerks, waiters and ticket sellers.

The clerks and waiters, however, were warned they must restrict their conversations with foreigners to the "limits of their usual functions" on penalty of prosecution under the criminal code. Puhishment was not specified.

Any soviet official other than those in the foreign ministry approached personally by a foreign diplomat must not discuss the question asked. Answers must be limited to an explanation that the inquiry must be directed to the ministry of foreign affairs.

The decree was passed Dec. 16 by order of the Supreme Soviet to tighten state security. It was published yesterday in the official gazette.

The decree provides that all representations made by foreign nations or individuals, regardless of their nature, must be handled only by the ministry of foreign affairs.

In the case of certain economic matters, representations may be handled by the ministry of foreign trade with the approval of the ministry of foreign affairs.

Any written communications received by Soviet officials from foreigners must be forwarded im-

U. S. Economy Faces Threat, Demos Claim

Republicans Say Debt Reduction Also Possible

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28.—Democrats on the House ways and means committee today accused the Republicans of endangering the nation's economy and jeopardizing national security by proposing an income tax cut of about 6,000,000,000.

The Democratic views on the tax legislation were contained in the minority report on the bill sponsored by Rep. Harold Knutson, (R., Minn.) The bill was approved yesterday at a straight party line vote in the committee of 15 Republicans for and nine Democrats against.

Majority Defends Bill

The Republican majority defended the bill on the grounds that it is "essential to the long-run improvement in the American standard of living."

"These (wartime) rates . . . constitute a serious obstacle to the increase in production needed to relieve current inflationary pressure," the Republicans said.

The GOP report contended that the tax cut could be made and sufficient funds left over to provide a debt reduction from $10,000,000,000 to $11,000,000,000 in the 1948 and 1949 fiscal years.

Deficit Said Threatened

The Democrats, however, contended that the Knutson proposal threatens to create a deficit of $2,100,000,000 in the 1949 fiscal year.

"The majority is proceeding in reckless disregard of the congressional experience in attempting to reduce expenditures below the President's budget for 1948," the Democrats said.

The Knutson tax bill calls for a $100 increase in the $500 personal exemption, tax cuts of from 10 per cent in the upper brackets to 30

Man's Frozen Body Is Found

DALLAS' Jan. 27, (AP) — The frozen body of a Corsicana telephone company executive was found a tthe scene of a car crash here at 3 a. m. today, three hours after his car left the road at a curve and overturned five times.

Dead was Fred C. Trower, 54, manager of the Three States Telephone Co. of Texas at Corsicana.

Icy Roads Blamed

Deputy sheriffs attributed the accident to icy roads. The accident was reported by Mrs. W O. Anderson, who told deputy sheriffs that she arose at 2 a. m. to care for a sick child in her family and noticed the glowing lights of an automibile which seemed to be parked in her driveway. When it was still there an hour later, she called the sheriff's office.

Officers said that Trower's body apparently was thrown from the car on the first or second time it overturned and then the car rolled across and crushed him. A smashed wrist watch he wore was stopped at 12 midnight, setting the time of the crash. They said that during the three hours of lying there in the sub-freezing weather the body was frozen completely.

Reward Posted For Banknotes

No trace had been reported this morning of $1,600 in banknotes lost Tuesday afternoon by Floyd Hale of 1214 Ave. G, the sheriff's department announced this morning.

The bills were in denominations of $100 and $50, Hale said, and were lost "since noon" Tuesday.

Reward of $400 for return of the money was offered.

Negro Fined $100

Robert Hastings, 23, a Lubbock negro, was fined $100 and county court costs for aggravated assault several days ago upon another negro, Clifton Allen, officials said.

Sheriff Bill Coats of Topeka, Kas., was here to accept custody of Leslie Floyd Logan, 31, and Robert Gifford, 20, to return them to Kansas for trials, the sheriff's department said.

Logan was arrested June 5, 1947, in Lubbock on a warrant charging failure to support a minor child in Shawnee, Okla. Judge G. V. Pardue declined to discharge the man from custody under bail. A writ of habeas corpus was sued out to the court of criminal appeals, where it was submitted Nov. 5 on brief for both parties. On Nov. 19, the case was resubmitted on relator's motion to reinstate appeal. The high court treated the matter adversely to Logan's plea.

Gifford's custody was accepted Tuesday afternoon by Coats and Sheriff Grady Harrist of Lubbock

Snow And Ice Strike Severe Blows In U. S.

Thousands Idle In Nation; Blizzard Hits New Mexico

(By The Associated Press)

Winter's relentless siege of cold, snow and ice dealt further damaging blows to a wide section of the country today.

The inclement weather affected many segments of business and industry and made idle thousands of workers. The death toll—in the east, south and midwest — was nearly 160.

New Mexico Blizzard

The third cold wave in a week chilled residents from the Rockies to the Atlantic coast. A blizzard swept New Mexico. A numbing cold spread over Texas from the Panhandle to the lower Rio Grande valley. Snowfalls in Tennessee measured from four to 16 inches.

Ice from three to six inches deep covered Arkansas and other parts of the south hit by cold weather, closing schools, impeding traffic and disrupting communications.

California did not escape the antics of the elements. Gusts of 85 miles an hour swept through Ontario, Calif., and winds of between 50 and 60 mph in other parts of the San Bernardino valley yesterday. Trees and some telephone poles were felled as the winds whipped up heavy clouds of dust and sand.

Shortage Of Fuel

The current fuel shortage brought further discomfort to many communities.

No estimate was available as to the number of workers made idle by closing down of plants and factories to conserve fuel. However, in the Detroit area alone an estimated 200,000 workers were made temporarily jobless when the Michigan Consolidated Gas company suspended all gas supplies to industrial users. The order, to be in effect until next Tuesday, virtually halted auto production in the motor city.

There was promise of some relief from the bitter cold which has gripped the midwest and temperatures started to moderate last night in North Dakota. But the mercury was far below zero in many sections of the central states this morning.

The frigid blasts also chilled the mountain states. Alamosa, in southwest Colorado, reported -46.

Holiday For 44 Towns Of Plains Asked

Emergency Is Declared; Fuel Supply For Heating Of Homes Is Threatened

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

An unprecedented emergency which threatened natural gas supplies on the South Plains and in nearby areas continued this afternoon as towns and vicinities throughout the affected areas observed business holidays to conserve gas.

If the emergency measures undertaken today should not be effective, reduced gas pressure would cut off gas supply in town after town of the 44 served by West Texas Gas Co.

First to be affected likely would be Levelland, Littlefield, Anton, Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe, Odessa and Midland.

Lubbock being on the main line—the transmission line—would be one of the last to be without gas.

Business Holiday Declared In City

Mayor C. A. Bestwick declared a business holiday immediately upon being notified of seriousness of the gas situation at 6:55 a. m.

REASONS FOR GAS SHORTAGE ARE GIVEN

Why the gas shortage?

West Texas Gas company officials attempted to answer that question for the benefit of the South Plains public today. Here are the reasons:

First, the company has experienced its heaviest consumer volume load in its 20-year history, during the past five days of continuous sub-freezing temperatures.

The continual "pull" of gas through the lines by consumers is taking the gas out faster than it can be put in. Normally in this area, when the sun comes out, home consumption drops and industrial users take up the slack of the built-up load during the night.

During the past five days and nights, the load has been so constant that the pressure couldn't be built back up enough from 10 p. m. until 5. a. m. to meet the next day's requirements.

The gas company, controlled through expansion of major pipeline facilities by the Federal Power commission, operates strictly on historical experience and through this experience plans for expansion of facilities and equipment well in advance of requirements.

During the past three years, scarcity of materials and equipment has completely disrupted expansion plans except on a limited scale. Orders for pipe receive only a curt answer from the mills, many of which have their production sold out for 1949 and 1950. Pipe simply can't be purchased, except in small quantities whenever it can be found.

The company's consumer load has increased 43 per cent in this area since 1941. Last year alone, 1,100 consumers were added in Lubbock and 5,126 over the system.

today by C. I. Wall, vice president and assistant general manager of West Texas Gas Co. Most business places in Lubbock were closed today and checks with surrounding towns indicated most in the area were closed.

It appeared certain early this afternoon that at least a partial business holiday would be necessary Thursday.

The South Plains was entering its sixth day of sub-freezing temperature this afternoon. The last temperature above freezing recorded at the U. S. Weather bureau station north of Lubbock was last Friday afternoon, when the maximum was 34 degrees.

No Relief Said In Prospect

No relief of sub-freezing conditions was in prospect this afternoon or tonight. The forecast was: Cloudy to partly cloudy; continued cold this afternoon and tonight; Thursday, mostly cloudy, not quite so cold; temperatures tonight, 2 to 10 in the Panhandle and South Plains and 10 to 20 over remainder of West Texas. The temperature for the immediate Lubbock vicinity will be

THEATERS ARE CLOSED

Lubbock's theaters will be closed this afternoon and tonight and possibly longer if the cold wave continues, managers announced this morning after Mayor Bestwick's request for cooperation in conservation of fuel during the emergency.

Announcement of the decision to close the theaters came too late to withdraw advertisements from this afternoon's Journal. Patrons may watch the newspapers for announcement of re-opening of the movie houses.

near five degrees, the forecast at the weather station north of Lubbock showed.

Lubbock's minimum temperature this morning was 8 degrees, but elsewhere in the area temperatures dropped to the expected zero to five degrees, reports from surrounding towns indicated.

Levelland—the only town thus far to be without gas—was without gas about six hours Tuesday afternoon and night in an estimated 60% of its homes. The temperature there went to three degrees this morning, reports from Levelland stated. Preparations were being made there for another possible emergency today.

Situation Is Unchanged

The situation since the emergency had been declared had not changed at 12:30 o'clock this afternoon, according to announcement from West Texas Gas Co. The only encouragement offered

BUSINESS MEN GIVE EVERY AID

Cooperation Of All Citizens Is Urged

Everyone in Lubbock is expected to cooperate as much as possible in conserving gas during the present emergency.

This was emphasized in a statement this morning in which Mayor C. A. Bestwick and Chamber of Commerce President Earl B. Collins joined.

The cooperation, they made clear, should include homes as well as business places. It should continue through whatever the duration of the emergency may be — which may be through Friday.

Statement Is Given

The statement reviewing the situation and suggesting how everyone should cooperate follows:

"Mayor Bestwick and Mr. Collins, join in asking every business establishment possible to close and cut the use of gas just as much as possible.

"It is suggested that where heat is thermostatically controlled that thermostats be set at 40 degrees.

"All homes are also asked to cut the use of gas just as much as possible. This can be done by using only one or two rooms and cutting the heat off from all others.

They stated that the weather bureau expects even colder weather tonight and no relief until Friday.

"The situation is serious.

"If the cold continues the business holiday will be continued Thursday.

"Further announcements will be made during the day."

Earlier the mayor directed Police Chief Lewis Kittrell to assign members of his department to making a list of business places which still remained open.

All Asked To Close

AIRLINER FALLS IN CALIFORNIA

Thirty-Three Dead In Crash Of Plane

(By The Associated Press)

FRESNO, Calif., Jan. 28.—Thirty-three persons were believed to have perished today as a chartered airliner crashed in the Diablo section of the coast range near here. There were no survivors.

The Civil Aeronautics administration at Oakland said the crashed plane left the Oakland airport this morning with 28 Mexican nationals, all agricultural workers, a U. S. immigration department guard, and a crew of four fliers.

19 Bodies Removed

By 11:30 a. m. nineteen bodies had been removed from the smoking wreckage.

CAA said the chartered plane was operated by Airline Transport Carriers. In San Francisco that line said it had not confirmed the accident directly.

An airline pilot flying over the scene a few minutes after the crash sighted the burning wreckage and reported by radio that one of the crashed plane's wings could be seen a considerable diistance from the fuselage.

Blazed As It Hit

The first persons to reach the scene said the plane blazed as it hit and had burned out before rescuers could get the doors open.

The ship fell in the mountains about 20 miles west of Coalinga.

Mel Willmarth, superintendent of the Fresno county industrial road camp, reported the crash. It occurred about two miles from the camp. Willmarth dispatched an ambulance and fire truck.

Schuman Reign Is Threatened

PARIS, Jan. 28.—Premier Robert Schuman's government will fall if the national assembly votes down his gold program, a cabinet spokesman said today.

Defeat threatened the gold proposal, an integral part of the government's monetary program devaluating the franc and setting up a free money market.

Pleads For Support

Schuman pleaded for support from the Socialist party to save the program. The Socialists, although represented in the cabinet, decided unanimously in a caucus yesterday to oppose the Schuman bill to permit free trade in gold in France.

Secretary of State Pierre Abelin told newsmen after a cabinet meeting—the second in 12 hours—the government could not continue if the gold clause met defeat.

Schuman, Foreign Ministers Georges Bidault and Finance Minister Rene Mayer went before a meeting of Socialist deputies after the cabinet session in an attempt to swing the Socialists behind the proposal.

The devaluation and money market measures already have been put into effect by cabinet decree. Parliamentary approval is necessary only for the gold bill.

Socialist cabinet ministers approved the gold measure before it went to Parliament. Since the duties of the party have voted

Fred Taylor Joins Local Coach Staff

Fred Taylor, 24-year-old former Texas Christian university football player, whose home is at Denison, has been employed as assistant football coach at Lubbock High school, effective next Aug. 1, it was announced today.

Taylor, a war veteran whose definite service connection was not available immediately, was captain of the 1946 TCU squad, and served last fall as end coach with the varsity team, the announcement said.

It was understood here that Taylor plans to attend Texas Tech during the spring semester, working toward his master's degree, prior to assuming his coaching duties in the fall.

Fire Razes Famous Delta Lake Hotel

ELSA, Tex., Jan. 28 (U.P.) — The Delta Lake hotel, a renowned resort spot, was swept by fire early today.

Unconfirmed reports said one fireman was killed.

Fifty guests were routed by the fire, which started in the basement before dawn on the lower Rio Grande valley's coldest morning of the season.

Firemen from Elsa, Edcouch, Weslaco and Edinburg answered the alarm. Damage to the imposing white hotel building was heavy. Firefighters, after bringing the blaze under apparent control, began chopping between the walls to kill every ember and forestall a possible later flareup.

CIO Steelworkers To Ask For Wage Boost

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 28 (AP)—The CIO United Steelworkers announced today its 170-man wage policy committee has been called to meet here Feb. 18 "to prepare a program to lay before the steel industry calling for an increase in wages."

It was the first definite announcement that the union will seek a "third round" of post-war wage boosts. It did not indicate just how much more money would be sought.

The union's contracts run to April, 1949, but provision was made for the wage section to be reopened by request on April 1, 1948.

Army Charged With Failure In Germany

Former Senator Claims Ill-Conceived Policies Menace Success Of Aid Plan

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—Former Sen. Robert M. LaFollette, jr., said today the army had bungled its administration in Germany and its "ill conceived" policies threatened success of the European recovery program.

LaFollette, the former Wisconsin Progressive, said the army failed in its job in Germany by not launching currency reforms to block inflation.

These reforms, he told the Senate foreign relations committee, had been postponed in an effort to placate Russia.

LaFollette once served on the foreign relations committee. He is one of the authors of the Harriman committee's study of the recovery program.

He endorsed European recovery program (ERP) as the alternative to Communism in Europe. He said failure to approve it would result in a strong threat to "our own effective independence."

Screen Star Quoted As Observing That Britishers Dejected And Impoverished

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Jan. 28.—Hollywood Screen Star Loretta Young's observations about her recent trip to London hit the front pages today. The reaction generally was a shocked but restrained: "Loretta, how could you!"

The comments of the screen star were contained in an Associated Press interview in Hollywood, which reported:

"You get the feeling over there that people are tired, drained of feelings," she said. 'Their situation is heartbreaking, sobering, desperate.'

"She recalled the business executive who was walking on cardboard-patched soles for lack of a ration coupon . . . the tiny girl who asked, when given a bit of coveted chocolate, 'do I lick or do I bite?' . . . Celebrities Help Make March Of Dimes Fashion Show A Hit

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Fashion Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (U.P.)—The petticoats ruffled in the can-can; Ed Wynn flipped a neat reet pleat, and the best dressed women of New York stepped out to the music to show why they were.

Beside the steel-braced legs of 3-year-old Terry Tullos, the dimes clinked into the can.

Show A Success

The fourth annual March of Dimes Fashion show, with its array of talent was a success from the spectators' viewpoint.

Twenty-four stars of the entertainment world, several debutantes and social celebrities, eight famous photographers and a master fashion producer combined to present almost 200 costumes from 45 top-flight manufacturing and custom dressmakers with dazzling effect.

The models stepped from tableau scenes set, one by each of the photographers, behind a circle which opened like a giant camera lens. They showed their finery — petticoats Easter suits, dresses for picnics to cocktail parties, the victorian influence, a group of lovely costumes in violent shades, the back interest in fashion and dresses for springtime.

Judith Anderson walked Terry down the runway. She wore a cream coat, softly full on both sides of a belt, over a beige dress.

Nanette Fabray of the cast of the musical "High Button Shoes" showed off the spring's slimness in a navy suit and cocoon wrapped hip coat in red wool fleece.

Celebrities Present

Basil Rathbone modeled a blue mink stole and a flowered hat — with diamonds.

Debutante Mary Damon walked pretty in pale pink organdy with a tucked off-shoulder neckline.

Wendy Hiller, star of "The Heiress" and the British motion picture "I Know Where I'm Going" stepped out for an evening in deep lilac satin, a strapless ankle-length gown with matching shawl.

Ed Wynn made three dresses — right on the models. One of them even looked fine in back.

Adele Astaire danced out of the camera in a ballet-length dress made of a red sari embroidered in gold.

Mrs. Geoffrey Gates, the former Mrs. Harry Hopkins, was tall and lovely in strapless, full-skirted gray lace.

The March of Dimes show should have put out postcards — everybody had a wonderful time.

Complaints Lodged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — Two Temple, Tex., men today said they told Carl Gray, veterans administrator, that the VA's McCloskey hospital in their home town is not being fully utilized.

They said Gray promised to check into the situation to see if the number of patients there can be increased.

Byron Skelton, city attorney, and J. Hammond Moore, Chamber of Commerce manager, were accompanied by Rep. Poage (D-Tex).

They told a reporter that while there is a waiting list of ex-servicemen wanting admission, the hospital now is handling only 400 patients with the same size staff it had serving 600 patients a few months ago.

They added there are accommodations for 3,200 patients if the staff was available.

Texas Medical Meet To Adjourn Thursday

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Dr. C. W. Mayo of theMayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., said here today that surgery should be employed in peptic ulcer cases only as a last resort.

Addressing the 25th annual International Post-Graduate Medical assembly of South Texas, Dr. Mayo said "operations should not be done if the patient can get by without it. We are getting away from the idea so many should be operated upon.

More than 500 doctors have registered for the three-day meeting.

Dr. Isaac Costero, head of the Pathological department, National Cardiological institute, Mexico City, said in an address that Mexico presents many health problems found nowhere else in the world.

A member of the Mexican National Academy of Medicine, Dr. Costero, said:

"The high elevation of Mexico City, 7,000 feet, has caused us many heartaches. Few reach very advanced age in that altitude although there are notable exceptions." He blamed the high altitude for the death of many patients suffering from active rheumatic fever.

Dr. Herbert Hill of San Antonio was chairman of the General assembly today, with Dr. Mayo; Dr. Harold G. Wolf, New York City; Dr. Lowrain E. McCrea, Philadelphia, and Dr. Howard B. Burchell, Rochester, as principal speakers.

The general scientific sessions will continue through Thursday morning.

Ex-Boxing Champ Claimed By Death

EL PASO, Jan. 28 (AP)—Funeral arrangements were pending today for former welterweight boxing champion of the world Charles E. Matthews, known to boxing fans as Billy Smith.

Matthews died here last night at the age of 74.

The nickname became a part of the boxer's career when a German referee once was unable to pronounce his real name.

"Just call me Billy Smith," Matthews gibed, and the name stuck.

Matthews had lived in El Paso since 1890 when he came here as a trainer of Bob Fitzsimmons, heavyweight champ. He had been active in southwestern boxing for many years.

At one time Matthews was a member of Theodore Roosevelt's Rough Riders and gave Roosevelt boxing lessons. Later he became an El Paso city detective, a deputy sheriff and a deputy U. S. marshall.

Funeral arrangements are pending arrival of children from the West Coast and Tyler, Texas.

Warning Is Given On Clothes Drying

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (AP)—Don't dry those wet diapers on hot water heater pipes, the state fire insurance department warned Texas housewives today.

Urging great care against fires set by water heaters, file insurance Commissioner Marvin Hall said it is a dangerous practice to use the heater or its pipes as a dryer.

He urged a check on all heaters to see to it they are properly installed, adequately insulated, and so located that they do not constitute a hazard. There have been 21 water heater fires since September with a money loss of $66,874.

Study Clubs Hear Talks On Topics Of Wide Interest

Pierian - Sorosis Study club's program Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. C. Beaty, 3315 Twenty-fourth, carried out an art theme with handicraft, art and hobbies of members on display.

W. H. Tinney showed a sound film, "South of the Border," which depicted the art of and culture of Old Mexico and Central and South America. Mrs. W. C. Mingus and Mrs. Alfred Holton were program directors and Mrs. O. L. Fredricks and Mrs. Tinney were co-hostesses. The display of art was in charge of Mrs. Horace Gilmore.

Others attending the meeting were Mesdames Leo Baggett, Harold Blank, Clifton Cummings, Odis Hackney, L. H. Kirby, W. H. McKelvy, Ira Spann, L. M. Wartes, George Hayes and Bonner Cummings.

On Atomic Energey

"The Uses of Atomic Energy in the Future" was topic of a lecture given by Paul Elliott, of the Tech Physic department, for Twentieth Century club Tuesday afternoon at First Presbyterian Fellowship hall.

Mr. Elliott recently attended a conference held at Alabama Polytechnical Institute on the Uses of Radio Active Isotopes in Agricultural Research. He has done research work at Columbia university and at Oak Ridge, Tenn., and has been an instructor to supervisory personnel at Oak Ridge.

Mrs. Leroy T. Patton presided. Club members brought guests to the meeting.

On Modern Trends

At a Tuesday meeting of Progressive Child Study club held at Talley Tea room, Mrs. Eunice Bondurant spoke on "Trends in Interior Decoration." Mrs. Croft Bigham and Mrs. Raymond Painter were hostesses.

To Observe Anniversary

"The Pearl," a book by John Steinbeck was reviewed by Mrs. Russell Denison, a guest of Clement-Sorosis club Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Glenn Woody, 2613 Twenty-sixth.

During a business session, Mrs. Tom J. Settle, who is moving to Omaha, Nebr., soon, resigned as president-elect. Plans for the club's tenth anniversary coffee to be held next month in the home of Mrs. W. P. Clement were discussed, also.

Mrs. Charles Spencer was cohostess and others attending were Mesdames Lennis Baker, Herbert Bannister, Ralph Caldwell, R. E. Gee, J. D. Hinson, Neil Johndrow, L. D. Marshall, Belverd Needles, Dwain Rogers, J. D. Sanders, Cecil Schwalbe, Charles Watson, Jason Gordon, H. J. Roper, H. J. Steinhoff and Lawrence Glenn.

On Furnishings

Mrs. Dan A. Blair was hostess to 19 members of Sorosis club in her home at 2915 Twenty-first Tuesday afternoon. Speakers were Mrs. I. M. Robinson who discussed "Pictures in the Home" and Mrs. W. R. Dorsey who spoke on "Buying Modern Furniture."

Mrs. Dorsey discussed the versatility of modern furniture and differences between well made and cheap furniture.

A card from the citizenship chairman of the seventh district, Texas Federation of Women's clubs, urging members to pay their poll taxes was read.

Mary Haworth's Mail

DEAR Mary Haworth: I know my problem is as old as time, but I would like to get it off my chest. Perhaps an outsider's perspective would help to clarify my mental state.

A good many years ago I met a most sweet and beautiful girl and we fell in love. She was ambitious to ease the sufferings of sick people and while training for this vocation fell ill herself of the most wasting disease. Thereafter she spent several years under treatment, growing better and worse by turns.

Finally we married, and after more ups-and-downs in health, doctors advised me she never would recover, that they had done all they could for her and that she had at most only a few months to live. However, I am happy to say that she lived on for several years.

DUTY KEEPS HIM PLUGGING ALONG

I KNOW that her will power, her love for me, the home I made for her, and her interest in her flowers and pets kept her with me long after medical science gave up. But finally she could hold out no longer. She went to sleep happily one day, not knowing the end was here, and she never woke up, for which I am thankful.

Needless to say, I was and still am lost after several months. I've tried working myself to pieces, but no matter what I do I'm unable to find a design for living, for my love for her was my reason for living and working.

Sure, I know the answer: Get interested in something or someone else. Easier said than done. I have another responsibility; and if it weren't for that I believe I'd have taken the so-called coward's way out long before now. I often think what the heil's the use. Maybe I'm weak. Maybe I'm nuts. What do you think? Signed—J. M.

MAN'S WEARY TO THE CORE

DEAR J. M.: Your deep dejection isn't wholly due to natural grief at your wife's death, a denouement long scheduled as coming soon rather than late, hence one for which you should have been more realistically prepared.

Your grief is authentic and poignant, yes; all-pervasive and inconsolable for the present, which is natural during the first phase of bereavement — when it is too soon to expect philosophic adjustment.

But what makes the experience seem well night insupportable, or existence meaningless at this time, despite your rational will to bear up and carry on, is the fact that you are so terribly tired, through and through, after years of investing all your energies in the fore-doomed cause of trying to restore your wife's health by the very revivifying force of your love and care, long after her own recuperative powers had expired.

In those years your design-for-living took its pattern and purpose from the "magic" assumption —for the most part unconsciously held — that you might somehow pull off a miracle to flout death and the diagnosticians.

When your wife died, this magic assumption perforce evaporated, and with it the psychic fuel source of your superhuman expenditure of energies, so that in the aftermath you've been burdened not only by great natural grief, plus absolute physical exhaustion not yet relieved, but also by the deeper, more paralytic weariness which arises from total crashing frustration of some major unconscious objective never consciously screened.

ACTIONS WEREN'T KEYED TO REALITY

BY screened I mean: Brought to surface mind, thoughtfully faced and rationally evaluated against the laws of reality, to determine whether this unconscious objective "makes sense" or can be realized in the natural or human scheme of things.

As I see the picture, you failed to do this as regards your total emotional preoccupation with the purpose of keeping your wife alive: in other words, your dedication to an objective impossible of achievement. Hence her death, though heroically delayed, found you wholly unprepared, so that you feel not only shockingly desolated but also brutally defeated, as by a surprise attack. And from this unrealistic reaction comes your present attitude of "what's the use."

But worse and more, you've been trying ever since to deny your sense of despair even to yourself; trying to keep the lid on your feelings, or wear a poker face about them, which isn't good. Grief must have outlet. It must be expressed or spent one way or another; and one of the best ways is to talk it out with a sympathetic, life-seasoned listener who understands the implications of what is suffered and said. The thereapeutic value of this procedure is discussed in Joshua Loth Liebman's fine book, "Peace of Mind," (Harper & Brothers), and my advice is: read it for guidance. —M. H.

Mary Haworth counsels through her column, not by mail or personal interview. Write her in care of Lubbock Evening Journal.

HONORED AT TEA — Seven past presidents, three charter members and an honorary member of Athenaeum club were named guests of honor at a silver anniversary tea given Tuesday in the home of Mrs. Fay Westmoreland. Upper picture shows past presidents, who with their terms of office are as follows, left to right: Mesdames A. W. Young, 1939-41 and incumbent; O. T. Williams, 1945-47; Reuby S. Rhodes, 1943-45; F. A. Kleinschmidt, 1942-43; Rex A. Tynes, 1935-37; J. F. Hankins, 1926-29; E. L. Robertson, 1923-25.

Twenty-Fifth Anniversary Is Observed By Athenaeum Club At Tuesday Tea

Athenaeum club celebrated its Silver anniversary with a Tuesday afternoon tea given in the home of Mrs. Fay Westmoreland at 2307 Broadway. The history of the club was presented at the party by Mrs. J. F. Hankins.

Those calling at 3 o'clock were greeted by several past presidents of the club, Mesdames E. L. Robertson, Hankins, Rex Tynes, A. W. Young, F. A. Kleinschmidt, Reuby S. Rhodes and O. T. Williams. Other club presidents have been Mesdames J. T. Hutchinson, R. G. Shelton, S. B. Haynes, T. W. Cawthorn, S. C. Wilson, M. L. Shepherd and W. B. Irvin.

The presidents, charter members who are Mesdames W. L. Baugh, Robertson and R. D. Moxley, and honorary members who are Mrs. Robertson and Mrs. T. C. Delaney, were special guests.

Carnations Decorate

Centering the refresment table was an arrangement of pink carnations. Mrs. D. M. Davis presided at the silver service and Mrs. B. E. Needles served a book shaped cake which was lettered in pink and green, club colors, with Athenaeum Club — 1923." Plate favors were sweetpeas.

A committee in charge of arrangements included Mesdames C. C. Coffee, C. A. Bickley and Rhodes and those in charge of refreshments were Mesdames Milton Smith, Davis and Needles.

Members attending other than those mentioned above were Mesdames Jesse Seale, John Penick, T. A. Rogers, S. T. Hodges, O. C. Southall, Lucile Smith, D. A. Childers and L. P. Gilbert. Other guests present were Mesdames Dewey McDonald, W. L. Palmer, W. A. Emerson, W. M. Peticolas, Mack Johnson, Charles Ross, M. R. Tripp, J. E. Crawford, Mary E. Payne, A. H. Behling, sr., Robert Burdick, J. B. Edwards and Miss Buena Sowell of Waxahachie.

Five Eras Of Projects, Studies Are Outlined

In giving the history of the Athenaeum club Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. J. F. Hankins divided the activities into five epochs, each classified by courses of study and projects.

The first period, she pointed out, was one of contentment and leisure, from 1923 until the early thirties, during which time members found time to study American literature, modern painting, English and American novels, archaeology of the Southwest and the life of the Indian before the discovery of America. Activities were confined to local projects, such as city parks, assisting in clean-up, paint-up campaigns, helping to eradicate illiteracy, aiding delinquent negro girls, fostering extemporaneous speaking contests in Lubbock High school; establishing a loan fund for Tech girls.

The second period, period of depression from early thirties to 1937, found the club programs based on unrest, home state and foreign countries; women in life and letters and progress.

Projects included furnishing milk and luncheons for needy children in Lubbock schools, helping Mexican children at Christmas, aiding in the Good Fellow fund, in the shoe fund, in the community center, setting out the need for a dean of women at high school and for a woman to serve on the school board.

Third period, the history set out, was from 1937 to 1941, a "period of anxiety," and club interest grew from the community to the state. Subjects were "Our American Heritage," "Our Latin American Neighbors," "Birth and Growth of Our Nation" and "We Discover Texas."

Added projects included donation of a display case for food and clothing and a miscellaneous shower for Dunbar school home economics department, buying pulpit and pews for the Community center, increasing the Tech loan fund and petitioning city commission to zone city for livestock.

The fourth era was the War period and studies were on education for Americanism, for Democracy's victory and programs on the United Nations and background for peace.

The club bought war bonds, assisted in drives to encourage bond buying, assisted in furnishing rooms at the air bases near Lubbock, served at the USO, donated clothing to the war needy, assisted in nurses' training, worked at the Red Cross office, helped the Salvation Army, aided Milam's home and helped in juvenile delinquent problems.

The final era is that of World Peace and the club is studying international relations and problems of today.

The club is aiding in the drive for a public library, in establishing a fund to build the Women's club house, seeking for improvements in the public schools, and assisted in the Community chest drive in the fall.

Women Postponing Socials Because Of Fuel Shortage

Because of the gas shortage, a number of socials planned in church and public halls has been postponed for a week or more, according to announcements this morning.

First Presbyterian Lewis class has called off a luncheon planned for Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock and has tentatively set the new date for Monday, Feb. 2 in Fellowship hall.

Because of the cold weather and heating conditions, a social planned for the War Brides group will be postponed from tonight until Feb. 11. The social will be held at the Legion hall.

A staging of Shakespeare's "Twelfth Night," set originally for Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at Senior High school under auspices of City Parent-Teacher council, has been called off indefinitely, a member of the council said this morning.

Lubbock Business and Professional Women's club is cancelling a dinner meeting set for tonight at 7 o'clock at the Hilton hotel.

Pythian Sister Temple called off a hot dog supper and bingo party planned for Thursday night at the K-P hall.

Miss Ellis Is Bride Of Cpl, Elwood L. Hein

Miss Jackie Faye Ellis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Ellis of Wolfforth, and Cpl. Elwood L. Hein, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nowatzski of Markesan, Wis., were married in a ceremony read at the Ellis home Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock by David Dart, Church of Christ minister. A single ring service was performed.

The bride wore a light blue wool crepe suit with black accessories. Mr. and Mrs. James M. Tidwell attended the couple.

At a reception which followed the ceremony, Miss Dorothy Payne, Miss Patsy Jean Ellis, sister of the bride, and Miss Betty Mason served guests.

Cpl. Hein returned home Jan. 22 from a tour of duty in Tokyo, Japan.

Two Reviews Are Given Before Tuesday Group

Mrs. Hugh Hamilton was a guest at a meeting of Tuesday Night Readers group last night in the home of Mrs. Gladys Sims, 1912-A Sixteenth, with Mrs. Isabel Garrison as assistant hostess.

Mrs. Albert Barnett reviewed "The Bishop's Mantle," by Turnbull and Mrs. Garrison discussed "An Adversary In the House" by Stone.

Ribs Baysinger is the 22nd head football coach at Syractse.

Despite RH Problem, Serious Transfusion Reactions Rare

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Two years ago a station wagon with police escort tore through Dallas, over to Fort Worth and on to Weatherford carrying a rare type blood for transfusion to a woman injured in an automobile accident.

The bleeding woman knew she had RH Negative blood, found in only 15 per cent of the white population, and refused transfusion until the blood could be brought from Dallas.

Time Is Precious

Her life was saved because the blood got there in time.

Life hangs in the balance when an urgent call for blood comes. Doctors have no time for peering into microscopes or digging into files.

When the wounded from the Texas City disaster started pouring into Galveston's John Sealy hospital, the first 30 transfusions were of RH Positive blood, the most common type.

"This was an emergency," said Dr. William Levin of John Sealy. "Those people needed blood immediately and they got it. After that we could take time to check and match blood exactly."

Texas City patients have reported no major reactions from blood transfusions, Dr. Levin said.

Typing of blood into its four major groups began in 1900. The RH Negative and Positive factor was not developed until 1940.

About 85 per cent of the white race, male and female, have the RH factor in their red blood cells and are designated RH Positive. The 15 per cent who lack the factor are said to be RH Negative.

"Reactions from blood transfusions occur rarely from wrong typing," said Dr. Joseph M. Hill, director of the Buchanan Blood center of Dallas. "The major part of reactions depend on the allergy or susceptibility of the patient."

Typing is not a factor in plasma, because it is dried and processed blood.

Albumin, which is taken from plasma, often is used for shock.

"But its cost is prohibitive," explained Dr. John Elliott of Miami. "Only 100 cc of albumin can be gotten from 500 cc of blood."

Dr. Elliott reported also that experiments have been conducted in the use of Bovine albumin "but none has proved that it can be used without danger."

Gen. MacArthur Is To Stay In Japan

TOKYO, Jan. 28 (AP) — General Douglas MacArthur said today he would stay in Japan until his task is completed, unless called away by some "extraordinary occurrence."

The supreme commander of allied powers in Japan repeated, on his 68th birthday, what he said last year—he wants to return to the United States when his job here is done.

Hale, hearty and erect, MacArthur in an exclusive interview did not explain what he meant by "extraordinary occurrence." Nor did he mention efforts in the United States to enter his name as a Republican candidate for the presidency.

There was no reference to a statement broadcast by columnist Walter Winchell in the United States Sunday night that MacArthur would return to America March 15, about two weeks before the Wisconsin primary. MacArthur's office, when asked specifically about Winchell's report, said the general had no new plans to go home.

Yucatan Authorities Quiz Ship Survivors

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 28 (U.P.)—Ten shipwrecked Honduran sailors, who refused to be rescued after their ship, the California, burned and sank in the Gulf of Mexico, today were ordered held on suspicion by port authorities of Progreso, Yucatan.

The men were found a month ago adrift in a launch off the Yucatan coast by the Mexican fishing boat Elena.

Although their tiny craft was in imminent danger of being swamped by the heavy seas, and they were without food, they declined the Elena captain's offer of aid. All of them later made land safely.

The port authorities' suspicions were aroused when examination of floating bits of the Carolina's wreckage indicated the ship had been burned.

Taken into custody, the sailors admitted the fire but said it had been accidental. They added that they constituted the entire crew. When they could give no satisfactory explanation for turning down the offer of aid, however, they were detained.

Progresso authorities are continuing the investigation.

Baptists Buy Land For Student Center

DALLAS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Purchase of a building lot from Texas A. and M. college to be used as a student union center at the college has been announced by the Baptist General Convention of Texas.

W. F. Howard, secretary of the Baptist Student Union department, said the $19,000 purchase was a part of the $1,000,000 BSU program adopted by the general convention in 1946.

Denver May Be New OWI Headquarters

FORT WORTH, Jan. 28 (U.P.) — Officials of the CIO International Oil Workers union tabulating results of a recent referendum said today members had voted about four to one in favor of moving union headquarters from Fort Worth.

Denver is being considered as a possible new headquarters. The referendum was called to give the union's Executive council authority to choose a new site for the office.

The union has had its headquarters in Fort Worth since 1933, with the exception of two years. From 1936 to 1938 the office was in Washington, D. C.

Union heads said inadequate office space was the reason for moving from Fort Worth.

Texas Delegates Request Funds For State Waterway Projects

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27 (AP)—Texans with dollars ready to match federal funds asked a House Appropriations subcommittee Tuesday to provide more government aid for waterway projects in their state.

A delegation backing the proposed $22,000,000 Garza-Little Elm project on the upper Trinity river near Dallas told the committee that $1,000,000 is ready now for start of construction if Congress would provide that much.

Project Authorized

The dam has been authorized by Congress, but the Budget bureau did not recommend any appropriation for the year beginning July 1.

Rep. Wilson, (D-Tex) told the committee in closed session that the Dallas City council voted $1,000,000 to start the project if the government provides that amount, and pledged an additional $2,240,000 would be raised locally if Congress wanted to go that strong.

Joining Wilson were Dale Miller, Washington representative of the Dallas Chamber of Commerce, former Fort Worth Congressman Fritz Lanham, representing the Trinity River Improvements association, and Reps. Lucas and Pickett, Texas Democrats.

A delegation from the Beaumont-Port Arthur-Orange area likewise informed the committee of readiness to put up cash if the government provides money for waterway improvements in that Gulf Coast area.

W. F. Weed of Beaumont, president of the Lower Neches Valley authority, said that if Congress would increase the $1,810,000 which the Budget bureau recommended for continuing the work on Dam "B" on the Neches river his organization would put up $2,000,000 to complete it.

A group from Orange urged approval of the budget recommendation of $480,000 for continuing the deepening and widening of the Sabine-Neches waterway and for completing the Adams bayou flood control project.

Coastal Jobs Planned

Rep. Combs and Thompson, Texas Democrats, joined with the delegations from their sections in support of coastal area projects including the Louisiana-Texas Intra-Coastal canal and Galveston bay.

John W. Fulbright of Beaumont, president of the Intra-Coastal association, and C. Jackson, jr., of Anahuac, president of the Texas Water Conservation association, also testified.

They urged approval of the recommended $2,119,000 to complete work on the canal and $325,000 appropriation for Brazos Island horbor.

Trinity Projects Listed

The committee also was asked to approve $750,000 for relocation of the shipping channel across Galveston bay to Anahuac and funds to start dredging of a $7,000,000 ship channel up the Trinity river to Liberty. Both have been authorized but are not in the budget recommendations.

Lucas and Wilson also asked approval of the budge recommendations for these other projects on the Trinity river: Benbrook reservoir, $4,950,000; Lavon reservoir, $3,260,000, and Grapevine reservoir, $4,300,000.

Bert Hughes, city commissioner, and Joe Ogden, Chamber of Commerce manager, both of Brady, arrived today to testify Thursday. They want funds for starting a floodway along Brady creek through the city. A $10,000 appropriation for plans and specifications is in the budget.

They said the city plans to put up about $500,000 of the total estimated cost of $1,400,000.

Jester Visits Prison System

BY MAC ROY RASOR
Associated Press Staff Writer

FREEPORT, Jan. 28 (AP) — Gov. Beauford H. Jester had at hand today sweeping recommendations for improvement of the Texas Prison system as he completed a two-day inspection tour of Texas penal installations and inmates.

With Prison Manager O. B. Ellis as his guide, Jester made a rapid-fire dawn to dark trip yesterday throught the headquarters of the system at Huntsville, Wynne, Goree, and Ramsey No. 1 and 2 Prison farms.

Plans Other Visits

Today he plans to visit Retrieve, Clement, Central and Harlan Prison farms, returning to Austin tonight.

The Governor said Ellis' recommendations for reorganization of the system's financial operations and for general improvement in its facilities and means of handling inmates were "very sound."

Following a tour of the main unit at Huntsville, Ellis told Jester that a sound financial basis, better segregation of prisoners, and more efficient and experienced personnel were the most important problems.

The prison manager, who assumed his duties Jan. 1, said two things must be done if the system was placed on a sound financial basis. First, the prison system must produce as nearly as possible everything the prisoners need. Second, the system must produce enough to sell to other state departments "at a price that will be profitable both to those departments and to the prison system."

Segregation Urged

He recommended building a segregation unit for incorribles, trouble makers and mental cases. Ellis also asked that the penitentiary be relieved of the duty of keeping insane inmates. He said there should be either an institution for insane criminals or insane convicts should be placed in state mental institutions.

Better salaries and housing conditions were listed by Ellis as answers to what he said is a great need for "a better type employe."

Jester and Ellis are accompanied by W. C. Windsor, of Tyler, head of the prison board of directors.

Presidential Veto Confronts GOP-Sponsored Tax Cut Bill

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 (AP)—Tomorrow the Republicans start trying to ram through Congress a 1948 income tax cut for you.

Don't get excited. This is just the start. The road is full of bumps before you get a tax cut, if you get one.

Veto Expected

This is the Republican plan, starting out:

1. Cut taxes in such a way that 7,000,000 people who have had to pay 1947 taxes won't have to pay any in 1948. They're the lowest income people.

2. Do this by cutting taxes from 100 per cent for that lowest income group to 10 per cent for the richest people.

3. Do it by cutting taxes a total of $6,300,000,000.

That's a lot of money to take away from the government when it has big expenses to pay.

So any tax cut that finally comes through Congress probably will be less than $6,300,000,000.

And President Truman is pretty sure to try to kill with a veto the Republican's kind of tax-cut bill.

And it will stay killed unless the Republicans in Congress can get a bunch of Democrats to vote with them to over-ride the veto.

Why is Mr. Truman against the Republicans' idea of a tax cut?

Because any bill they put through will mean that much money lost to the government.

Mr. Truman, too, wants income taxes cut. But he wants any money lost to the government that way made up by raising corporation taxes.

House Votes Monday

The Republicans are against that.

A lot of Democrats in Congress, maybe most, will follow Mr. Truman's lead and give the Republicans a rough time.

The House starts to debate the Republican bill tomorrow and will vote about Monday.

What would the Republican bill do for you, a taxpayer?

If you're a big taxpayer, you'd pay less taxes in 1948 than in 1947.

If you're one of the group which would get a 100 per cent, you'd have to pay no taxes at all this year.

If you're in this lowest income group and already have paid some 1948 taxes by having taxes withheld from you, you'd get a refund.

LOST 47 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is Proof

"When I started taking Barcentrate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcentrate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcentrate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old.

"Before taking Barcentrate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all those things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcentrate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcentrate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcentrate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 809 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

McAdoo Quintet Wins Its Game By Default

McADOO, Jan. 28.—McAdoo High school's cagers had another win to their credit in District 8-B today after appearing at the Roosevelt gymnasium last night and Robertson school, their opponents, failed to show up.

The game was declared forfeited to McAdoo by a 2-0 score. The officials from Ralls also made their appearance, but there wasn't a word from the Robertson school only seven miles away, Coach B. C. Buie of McAdoo said. McAdoo is about 45 miles away from the game site.

McAdoo now has eight conference wins to its credit. Last week they defeated Peacock, 46 to 28.

Man Facing Felony Count Returned Here

Deps. Sheriff Raymond Land and Leonard Lott have returned from Atlanta, Ga., with James L. Lewis, 30, charged by indictment with felony theft by bailee.

They traveled through extremely inclement weather conditions "all the way back," they said. The outward trip too was bad, with snow and slush on roads most of the way. At Columbus, Miss., for instance, snow was eight inches deep. Highways were dangerous Friday all the way from Greenwood, Miss., to within 50 miles of Atlanta, they said.

County Obeys Fuel Conservation Plea

Complying as nearly as possible with requirements that gas for heating be conserved, all offices of the county courthouse were shut down early this morning except two—and there was no heat in them.

Those, of the district clerk and of the tax assessor-collector, were kept open because of the exigencies of business.

Judge Dan Blair had ordered on Jan. 27 that a jury commission report to him today to select a 16-member grand jury panel for the February term of 72nd district court. Inasmuch as the law closely prescribes methods and times for selection, certifying and summoning of grand jurors, it was deemed inadvisable to postpone appearance of the commissioners.

J. B. Johnston, tax assessor-collector, said the nearness of the Saturday midnight poll tax and state and county ad valorem tax paying deadlines made it incumbent that his office remain open.

Johnston said a poll tax booth operated by Junior Chamber of Commerce in Senior High school had closed. Another, staffed by the 20-30 club in Mark Halsey Drug store No. 1, was issuing receipts this morning.

Commissioners reporting to Judge Blair are W. (Bill) Meurer of Slaton, Alex McDonald and W. Jarrott Martin, both of Lubbock, W. O. Fortenberry of Monroe, and W. B. Copeland of Slide.

A-C Electric Co-operative association, Bluegrove, $126,000 for 93 miles of line to serve 167 rural consumers.

One Killed, Three Hurt In Accident

AUSTIN, Jan. 28 (U.P.) — Charges of negligent homicide and driving while intoxicated were on file today against the driver of a car which struck a power line pole, resulting in the death of one person and injuries to three others.

Robert Bonilla, 21, was held on the two charges following the death of Pete Rodriguez, 24, who died yesterday about six hours after the accident.

Two other passengers, Macerio Peregra, 22, and Jesus Martinez Riojas, 21, were reported in fair condition from injuries suffered in the accident.

Local Juries Fail To Reach Verdicts

Two hung juries were reported Tuesday night in Lubbock courts.

One had heard evidence in the county court trial of Ernie Bishop, 36, of 206 Sherman Ave., who pleaded innocent of a drunk driving charge.

The other was in the court of Judge Dan Blair of the 72nd judicial district, where the case of Ben Jeff Hood against Continental Casualty company to set aside award and for workmen's compensation, had been heard.

The county court jury reported to Judge Walter Davies after deliberation of more than two hours.

Bishop was represented by James Kimmel of the firm of Key and Kimmel. The case was prosecuted by John M. Steele, county attorney.

Hood sought compensation of $20 weekly for 200 weeks as result of alleged injuries suffered within scope of his employment March 11, when a car struck him. The jury answered only part of special issues submitted to it.

Cage Tourney Will Start At Floydada

FLOYDADA, Jan. 28 (Special)—Despite the weather, which shut down high school basketball and caused postponement of one independent basketball tournament, the Floydada Junior Chamber of Commerce refused to be bluffed out of sponsoring the First Annual Invitational Independent Basketball tournament, which opens here tonight.

Thirteen teams have accepted the invitation, extended to them by A. H. Ranier, manager of the host Floydada Jaycees' quintet. Rainer believes that this is the first independent team tourney in this immediate area and the first ever to be sponsored by a Junior Chamber of Commerce. Interest in the action is high and capacity crowds are expected for the three-night tussle.

Among the quintets entered in the tournament, in addition to the Floydada five, are independent teams from Flomot, Crosbyton, Ralls, Petersburg, Lockney, Plainview, Tulia, Idalou, Brownfield, Kress, Matador and Paducah.

Five games will open the tourney Wednesday evening, with four games, including the quarter-finals, being played Thursday and both semi-final and final round tilts scheduled for Friday night.

Pairings Wednesday in the tourney include Petersburg versus Lockney at 7 p. m., Flomot versus Crosbyton at 7:45 p. m., Plainview versus Tulia at 8:30 p. m., Idalou versus Brownfield at 9:15 p. m. and Ralls versus the winner of the Flomot-Crosbyton game at 10 p. m.

Thursday night other first-round games to be played include Floydada Jaycees versus Kress at 7 p. m. and Matador versus Paducah at 10 p. m. In between, second round games will be played at 8 and 9 p. m. by first-round winners.

East Texas Heavyweight Champ May Enter Mitt Tourney Here

If John W. Stevens, ex-marine fighter and winner in 1947 of the East Texas heavyweight title, decides to enter the regional tournament here next week then the tourney's heavy division will be as packed with fistic dynamite as any Golden Gloves fightfest ever unwound here.

Stevens, now 23 who has been attending Paris Junior college, returned to Lubbock this week to make his home. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Stevens, 2013 Avenue J, and his record as a fighter is another Golden Gloves and Marine success story.

Cut Over Eye

Meantime Dwayne Vaughn, 1946 regional Golden Gloves feather weight champion here, was going easy with a cut over his right eye. He was injured Monday during a workout at Tahoka.

Stevens, should he enter the tourney opening at Tech gym Monday, will go into the ring carrying an impressive record. The six-foot-two-inch tall—190 heavyweight, figting as a Marine, won the South Pacific title. In 1947 he won the heavyweight title in the Golden Gloves tournament at Tyler.

Only last week he won top honors in a VFW tournament held at Bonham.

Late Tuesday he had not fully made up his mind on whether he would enter next week's tournament.

The heavyweight division began to stack up as likely to produce some sensational fighting. Among those entered in this division were Wayne Pendergrass, Don Bryant, Gene James, Horace Underwood, all of whom listed all the way from 10 to 30 bouts.

Entries continued to pour in Tuesday, and as the total crowded 80 such close observers of past Golden Gloves tournaments as "Bo" Sexton, the referee, hailed the 1948 fightfest as likely to be "the mose successful yet."

Tahoka's team, both novice and open division contenders, came in Tuesday.

"Some of these boys are fair boxers," was the way Jim Foust, Tahoka High school athletic director put it.

He listed as novices Charles Brookshire, Jack Reed, Garner Barham, Paul Hill and Van Brookshire.

The two open division entries were Rev. Randall Hinkle and Vaughn.

The two local training centers pronounced their fighters in top condition.

At the Allen Arena Charles Neff and Ralph White said the young fighters working there would train through Saturday.

As fighters hit top conditions fight circles began talking of likely naturals in the way of individual fights in next week's tournament. Both Bill Henderson and Dwayne Vaughn will be making bids for the featherweight title. Still another of these expected "fights to see" will find Lonnie Balch, the Lubbock middleweight, going against Rev. Randall Hinkle, the Tahoka pastor.

A reshuffle sometime back at the Bert Kahn Health club sent J. D. Kirkpatrick into the light heavyweight division, leaving Gene James as that group's lone entry in the heavyweight division.

Still another fighter, who has tangled with Henderson before, and may meet him in the featherweight division next week, is Charles Neff.

Jackie Driver, another featherweight with much Golden Gloves experience, who is being discharged from the Navy, was expected to arrive in time to enter the tournament.

Two young fighters Tuesday decided to jump the novice group and fight in the open division. Duane Driver will enter as a bantamweight and Lindley Thomas will fight as a lightweight. Both are in training at the Allen Arena.

ORTEGA IS WINNER

HONOLULU, Jan. 28. (AP)—Manuel Ortega of El Paso, Texas, was awarded a ten round decision over Tsuneshi Maruo of Honolulu last night in a bruising brawl which left both boxers so weary they staggered to their corners.

Cold Postpones High School Cage Games

Basketball squads in the Lubbock area were as deeply affected by the severe weather conditions as were schools, hospitals, individuals and institutions.

Not less than five high school games were postponed and one independent team tournament likewise was held in abeyance, principally due to the fuel shortage.

High school contests put off until later dates included Muleshoe at Levelland, O'Donnell at Tahoka, Frenship at Shallowater, Cooper at Southland and Spur at Ralls.

The guiding hands behind the Shallowater Independent basketball tournament also were forced to call off the tourney scheduled to start tonight. It will be played at a later date, possibly starting this week.

BOWLING SCORES

Reagor's Market pulled into a second place tie with the Walton's Men Shop in the Major Bowling league last night by taking two out of three games from the McFarland-Maisen five, while Walton's was losing three games to the Hemphill-wells keglers.

Tate's Service failed to gain on the Hemphill-Wells team, although taking two of three games from the Hub Clothiers, who lead the loop. Games were bowled on the Lubbock Bowling club alleys.

High games, held to a minimum by cold weather, were rolled by Bill Nelms, 223-607; Ken Kimble, 214-572; Bill Lennert, 194-555; and Si Barkley, 221-553.

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

Sunday we began a discussion of a few of the complaints voiced in the Border Conference this season by basketball coaches, none of whom has had a really successful road trip. The various causes were listed, not in the order of importance, as floors, backboards, balls and officiating.

About the actual playing surface little can be done, unless every institution should build new gymnasiums using the same type of lumber, identical wax and uniform lighting. That this can be accomplished is far fetched. Playing space is set by regulation and the contingent accessories are bound to vary on every court.

But the backboards can be made uniform and this is one of the points that probably will be under discussion at the Border loop meeting, when basketball problems are concerned. It is no secret that the backboard plays an important part in the cage game. Control of the ball off the backboard is one of the most important phases of attack. If a team, used to a springy board, suddenly plays on a "dead" board, it affects control of the ball.

This situation could be controlled by writing into the rules a standard backboard formula for all institutions. Then there could be no complaint on that score when one team left its home to play on the road.

The same thing is true in regards to the type of ball used. Where Tech uses a rough grained ball, Arizona uses a smooth surface ball. A uniform ball could be adopted, just as baseball leagues adopt one official brand. Thus, if the majority favored a smooth surfaced spheroid, it could be adopted by the conference. It would eliminate cries that one team wasn't used to the rough grain or smooth.

Considerable wails of anguish have been coming from the coaches about the officiating, which has not been at all uniform. In the first place, basketball does not follow the same procedure as football. In football, lists of officials are sent to each football coach and he lists them in the order of his preference. When the two schools play, the officials are selected by taking the ones on which the coaches agreed and they are assigned by Border Conference headquarters.

The same should be true in basketball. Each coach should be given an opportunity to select the officials, both local and foreign, that he approves. Then, when two teams meet, only officials approved by both coaches would be used. In case the two coaches could not agree, the conference could assign any officials they deemed competent and the two coaches would have to accept this decision.

To make the officiating still better, a regular school should be conducted prior to the start of the season at which all officials approved by the coaches should be present. Rule interpretation should be made uniform and every effort made to see that all officials would call the games as nearly alike as possible, instead of as at present, when there is widespread difference in practically each college town.

We don't say that any, or all, of these possibilities will be, or should be, adopted by the conference, but they are certain to be discussed seriously. And any step toward uniformity will make for that much better a race next season.

Pampa Leading I-AA Contest

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 28 (Special)—Pampa's undefeated Harvesters retained their first place position in the torrid District 1-AA basketball race by trouncing the Plainview Bulldogs, pre-season favorites to cop the loop crown, 42-38 here last night. The victory was number 20 for the Harvesters this season and their fourth conference triumph.

The gallant Bulldog quint made a desperate attempt to halt the Harvester offensive machine and held a 15-15 deadlock at the end of the first period. The Pampans pulled ahead at the half, 25-23, then broke loose for a 40-31 third quarter margin on the net-swishing shots of Center Jimmy King and Forward Arkie Miller.

Bogle Opens Up

A defensive type game by the visitors in the final period gave the Bulldogs a chance to whittle the Pampa lead, with Guard Bob Bogle hitting the basket for three field goals in the last minutes of play, but the Panhandle crew still held a safe 42-38 edge at the gun

Miller copped high point honors for the clash, tallying 14 points on six field goals and two charity throws, but he was tied by Bogle's 14 high on seven field tosses.

Next scheduled games for the two quints send the Bulldogs to Lubbock Friday night to battle the Westerners, while the Harvesters and Amarillo's Golden Sandies tangle at Pampa for the top spot in the 1-AA title chase.

Criswell, Timmons Captain Pioneers

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 28 (Special)—Anton and Tahoka boys will lead the Wayland college Pioneers as co-captains of the basketball squad for the remainder of the year, college officials announced yesterday.

T. K. Criswell of Anton, a freshman this year, has been elected to one of the posts. He is a former navy veteran with three years in the Pacific to his credit.

Billy Timmons of Tahoka shares honors with Criswell in his second year at Wayland. Timmons is an 18-year-old who earned four basketball letters at Tahoka and who played on a Bulldog team that won second place in its district.

AMNESTY GRANTED

MANILA, Jan. 28. (U.P.)—President Manuel Roxas said today he has signed a proclamation granting amnesty to collaborators with the Japanese, which will become effective if it is approved by the Philippine Congress.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 28 (AP)—Spec Shea and Ralph Branca, opposing pitchers in the first game of the 1947 World series, were sitting side by side at the Connecticut Sports Writers' Alliance dinner discussing jinxes . . . Shea has been mentioned as a possible victim of the "second year jinx" that often afflicts ball players and some hot stove talk has concerned the possibility that Branca will be jinxed by his World series beatings . . . They both agreed to laugh it off, but the solemn-faced Branca did a better job than confident-looking Spec . . . "Why worry about things like that?" asked Ralph. "We play 154 games every year and I figure I'll win my share. I should be a better pitcher next season than I was last year" . . . Shea assented, between autographs . . . And at another table Yankee Boss George Weiss remarked: "When you see those two signing their names so fast, you wonder why neither one has signed his contract."

Sports Before Your Eyes

One thing you can't get in New Haven is "inside" information on the next Yale football coach . . . Ted Blair, chairman of the committee that does the picking, maintains he doesn't know. The committee has had to move slowly because Howie Odell had been at Yale so long the pickers didn't even know the names of many possible successors.

Cleaning The Cuff

Texas track fans got a surprise the other day reading in an Oklahoma paper that Bill Martineson, ex-Baylor sprint star, had enrolled at Oklahoma A. and M. because "the Oklahoma climate is better for my wife, and besides I think Ralph Higgins is one of the greatest track coaches in the country."

Tough Grapplers To Meet Here Tonight

Two of the toughest grapplers of southwestern mat ranks, Jack Kiser of Oswego, Ore., and Al Getz of Pittsburgh, will be featured in the two out of three falls "grudge" main event tonight at Sled Allen's arena.

The bout has been sought since Kiser defeated Getz in the local arena Dec. 31, with both contestants demanding a chance for revenge. Time limit for the bout will be one hour.

Gordon Hessel of Milwaukee and Pierre LaBelle of Portland, Ore., are slated to tangle in the two of three falls semi-final event. Hessell went the limit against the rowdy Getz last week and will provide a rough test for the newcomer.

Dory Funk, Indiana grappler who made a favorable impression on Lubbock fans last week by defeating George Lopez, will shoot for new honors in the preliminary bout against Johnny Carlin. Carlin, although very unpopular as a referee, is a ring veteran and a canny opponent.

Tickets for the program will go on sale at 9 o'clock this morning at Wylie's drug. Bouts are slated to start at 8 p.m.

Harkins, Burch Are Tops In Cage Race

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 28 (Special)—Former high school cagers from Levelland and Plainview are showing the scoring way to other members of the Wayland college Pioneers this winter, it was disclosed by school records yesterday.

H. J. Redin, head basketball coach, revealed that six-foot, one-inch D. W. Harkins of Levelland, a freshman forward, and Leon "Runt" Burch of Plainview, a six-foot, five-inch center, are running neck-and-neck for team individual honors.

Harkins has scored 227 points in 16 games on 96 field goals and 35 free throws, while missing only 11 charity tosses. He stands second on the Wayland scoring parade.

Burch tops his teammates with a gaudy total of 233 points on 96 field goals and 41 free throws, but he has missed 39 opportunities to add single points to his total.

These two players, with a total of 460 between them, have been the big reason why the Pioneers have won 12 of their 16 games. They have yet to lose their first junior college contest, dropping three games to four-year colleges and a one-point loss to the Texas Tech freshmen.

Drastic Changes In Texas League Asked

DALLAS, Jan. 28.-(U.P.)-Amendments that would declare the full-season leader the pennant winner and call a substantial increase in the amounts the first three clubs in the regular-season race would receive will be among the items of business at the annual schedule meeting of the Texas league in Houston, President J. Alvin Gardner said today.

The meeting will be held Saturday and Sunday.

Gardner said the amendments were proposed by Allen Russell, president of the Houston club which led the race last season and also won the Shaughnessy play-off and the Dixie series.

Wants Leader To Win

Russell wants the club leading the full season route to be declared the pennant winner and the club winning the play-off to be the league's representative in the Dixie series. At this time the winner of the play-off is the pennant winner.

The Houston club president also wants the amounts going to the first three clubs which have been $2500, $1500 and $1000 respectively to be raised to $5000, $2500 and $1500. He also wants the club winning the play-off to receive $2500.

Gardner forecast a closer and better-balancing race. "Beaumont has been promised a pennant contender by the Yankees and Oklahoma City expects big things from Cleveland," he declared. "It looks like one of those races you dream about."

SHE HAD TO PAY

Thurman Tucker Is Traded To Indians

CHICAGO, Jan. 28. (AP)—The straight trade of outfielder Thurman Tucker for the Cleveland Indians' rookie catcher, Ralph Weigel, today was announced by the Chicago White Sox.

Tucker, who is 30, from Gordon, Texas, and resembles Joe E. Brown in appearance, came to the White Sox in 1940 and had his best season in 1946 when he batted 288 in 121 games. Last season, he batted .236 in 89 games.

Pampa Club Golf Pro Gets Colorado Job

PAMPA, Jan. 28. (AP)—Frank Baker, professional at the Pampa Country club, has resigned to go to Boulder, Colo., where he will be pro at the Boulder Sports Center course and golf coach of the University of Colorado.

Prospects For Alleviation Of Texas Fuel Shortage Are Dim

(By The Associated Press)

Texas home owners with empty butane tanks and cold heating stoves found little hope today for immediate relief from the fuel shortage except the unexpected arrival of warm weather.

The forecast was continued cold.

No Solution Offered

Some sections of the state reported emergency diversion of the liquified gas to ease critical shortages but in many sectors the butane dealer's answer was "no butane today."

Butane gas dealers and fuel service men in the Houston trade territory met last night and decided that "butane is short in winter because it isn't bought in the summer." But they could offer no immediate solution to the shortage which has plagued some rural and suburban sections where butane is the principal heating and cooking fuel.

They reported that the average butane user consumes about 643 gallons during the year—most of which is during the winter season. Speakers at the meeting said that mild winters have contributed to the shortage. Until this winter the dealers have been able to service the butane tanks.

The dealers from Matagorda, Liberty, Galveston, Brazoria, Montgomery, Waller, Fort Bend and Colorado counties said that families with adequate storage tanks are experiencing no difficulty because they stored up enough fuel in the summer and fall to last them all winter.

A co-operative program of informing the consuming public on the importance of adequate storage space was adopted at the meeting.

In Corpus Christi the Chicago corporation and the La Gloria corporation, butane producers, said the Celanese Corporatoin of America had released 200,000 gallons of butane and propane it had contracted to purchase. The Celanese corporation normally converted the fuel oil into synthetic chemicals.

Dallas Has Shortage

Officials of the firms estimated the release fuel would aid about 1,000 Texas homes.

A survey of butane dealers by The Dallas News showed hundreds of Dallas county families were either without butane to heat their homes or were guarding diminishing supplies.

The News said that the Warren Petroleum company, Tulsa, Okla., one of the largest suppliers in the area, had informed Dallas dealers of additional supplies available in Wood county.

Other Dallas dealers reported in the newspaper survey that they were receiving hundreds of calls from families suffering from the shortage. They said some families were going to stay with relatives, burning wood in washtubs, building fires in the yard or going to bed to keep warm.

J. E. Reddick, owner of the Consolidated Butane Gas company, largest supplier in Dallas county, estimated that 1,000 of his 5,000 customers were without butane. He said he had been getting some of his gas from a Houston firm and some from Pampa. He said his quotas had been cut from 500,000 gallons last January to 200,000 gallons this month.

NO BUTANE SHORTAGE IS REPORTED HERE

The supply of butane gas available in Lubbock and the South Plains for heating homes and other uses was described last night as "adequate" and prospects for a continued adequate supply were said to be "the best in Texas," according to one local distributor.

Elsewhere in the state, particularly in the Dallas area, independent butane dealers were being deluged by telephone and personal calls from people who have no fuel to heat their homes during the freezing weather, the Associated Press reported.

One Dallas dealer estimated that he served some 5,000 customers in th. area and was getting about 100 calls an hour from customers who need gas. "People are burning wood in fireplaces—even in wash tubs—as long as the wood lasts," he said.

Only the independent dealers reported such difficulties, the Associated Press said, the larger companies stating that they were able to take care of their customers needs.

In Lubbock, independent dealers said that they were able to furnish enough butane to their present customers, but that they were not accepting new customers because of their limited supply of gas.

Distributors in this area stated that the supply of gas was adequate for the needs of the area. The apparently larger supply of butane available on the South Plains was said to be due to the nearness of refineries in this area, according to one distributor.

Atom Hoax Promoters Taken Into Custody

SPOKANE, Jan. 28 (AP)—Seven persons accused of collecting more than $200,000 from investors in a "secret atomic process" to recover gold from black sand have been arrested under a federal grand jury indictment, United States Attorney Harvey Erickson said today.

The defendants have been charged with conspiracy, using the mails to defraud, and violation of the Securities act.

The indictments charged that the defendants, doing business as the Northwest Mining and Engineering company, conspired to defraud investors by selling them profit-sharing agreements in the gold recovery scheme.

Plains Business At Standstill Today As Gas Shortage Result

by information up to that time was that the situation had become no worse, despite today's low temperatures; no towns had been without gas supplies today, and cooperation had been good.

"With continued cooperation until notified otherwise, we have a possibility of not losing as many towns or maybe none," the announcement stated.

With continued cooperation—allowing for building up of supplies tonight after reduced use today—pressure could built back up where it might be possible for part of the business concerns to operate Thursday without endangering supplies in towns served by the company, it was stated by Wall.

First Such Emergency

This is the first time in the history of natural gas on the South Plains that request ever has been made to the people not to use gas—due to strictly cold weather, said Wall. On occasions, gas was interrupted by line breaks, but those instances were both more temporary and restricted, applying only to a part of the entire area.

Approximately 60 per cent of Levelland's homes were without gas from about 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon until after 9 o'clock Tuesday night after pressure dropped so low it was necessary for the gas company to shut off supplies of gas to centain areas of the town, said Mayor Ray Watson of Brownfield.

Residents Are Notified

Beginning about 9 o'clock Tuesday night, 22 members of the volunteer fire department and gas company employes of Levelland, Littlefield and Lubbock went to homes in which gas had been turned off to notify the residents gas was available and to assist where needed.

They were at work again at 6 o'clock this morning, arranging for heat by coal oil, by electricity or other means besides gas in homes where there is sickness and where residents would need to stay home in event gas goes off again today.

An arrangement will be made whereby residents not ill may go to a central place -- possibly a church or theatre, if the gas goes off today, said Mayor Watson.

Business Men Meet

A group of Levelland business men met at 8 o'clock this morning at the City hall upon call of Mayor Watson and agreed "it is the thing to do to shut up the town." All business places were closed this morning, said Mayor Watson, except cafes and drug stores, which were open to furnish food and medicine for residents when needed. From 3 to 5 o'clock this afternoon, he said, Levelland grocery stores were to be open with stoves turned low to sell food.

During Tuesday afternoon and night's emergency cut-off of gas in portions of the city, some of the residents went to bed to remain warm, some bought electric stoves and other types of stove not requiring gas.

No serious effects to health of residents had been reported to the mayor at 10:30 o'clock this morning.

Towns Are Listed

Towns supplied by the West Texas Gas Co. are Hereford, Canyon, Happy, Friona, Bovina, Dimmitt, Tulia, Kress, Quitaque, Turkey, Silverton, Floydada, Lockney, Plainview, Hale Center, Abernathy, Lubbock, Idalou, Lorenzo, Ralls, Crosbyton, Slaton, Southland, Post, Petersburg, Tahoka, Wilson, O'Donnell, Lamesa, Midland, Stanton, Odessa, Seagraves, Seminole, Brownfield, Anton, Litchfield, Levelland, Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe, Ropesville, Meadow and Shallowater.

The reason some towns in the area might be without gas before others if the situation is not corrected today is that they are supplied by lateral lines.

Levelland, Littlefield, Anton, Amherst, Sudan, Muleshoe, Odessa and Midland were listed as those which might be without gas within a few hours when this morning's appeal was made in Lubbock because a longer line feeds into them, said Wall.

"These lines are fed from lateral lines from the main trunk line that goes past Lubbock. When we drop the pressure down from these main trunk lines, they won't have any pressure on these lateral lines.

Among other public functions cancelled today and tonight were the Veterans of Foreign Wars meeting scheduled for tonight in the I.O.O.F. hall, announced canceled by Tom Everheart, comdr.; the Rotary club luncheon at noon at the Hilton hotel, where heating was confined to guest rooms and other essentials; showing of the McMillan African-hunt film tonight at the high school auditorium, unheated after all public schools were recessed for the emergency; and the monthly Knife and Fork banquet at the Hilton, scheduled for tonight.

Hotels and other public buildings were restricting use of gas to essentials, such as guest rooms and public welfare, and hotel dining halls, except coffee shops, were unheated. Public schools were in recess until the spell breaks in order to conserve fuel and the McMillan show, scheduled in the school auditorium, was postponed due to lack of heat.

Should Hold Tickets

L. E. (Jack) Davis, president of the Kiwanis club, which is sponsoring showing of the film here for benefit of the club's youth welfare program, said that people who have bought tickets for tonight's performance should hold them and they will be honored at a later showing of the film.

Despite the bitter cold weather last night, the film was shown to an audience of about 1,200, club officials said today. Tonight was to have been the final local showing in the current series, and it was not announced when the show will be held.

Heat was already shut off or was being shut off in office buildings, and courthouse services were curtailed as the building was closed and heat turned off for everything but emergency services, primarily law enforcement activities. It was announced that the tax collector's office would remain open under restricted heating conditions, for issuance only of poll tax receipts, deadline for which is Saturday.

Construction Is Halted

Construction was at a virtual standstill throughout the city, with all work halted except in cases where workmen could be inside, but even this was at a minimum, contractors said.

Handling of concrete, plaster, and other water-mixed building substances, was blocked out by the cold, and workmen would not hazard slippery scaffolds and icy ground, to say nothing of the bitter cold that would nip hands and feet on outside construction projects.

One of the major public projects involved was the city reservoir job that was at a complete standstill. Work was being rushed on the project, it was said by W. G. McMillan, contractor, in an effort to augment the city's water supply that has been short in some parts of the city in the past.

Improvement Expected

"If the cooperation goes through as it appears it will on the part of every town, I believe we will see a definite improvement and prospects will be good to be on the way out of this emergency," said Wall. "We might be able to 'squeeze through.'"

Constantly talking to gas company personnel and others in towns served by the company, Wall said every effort was being made to avert the emergency of being without gas.

The situation is serious and continued cooperation is needed, he stated emphatically.

Plants Are Converted

One of the efforts in Lubbock was that during the night workmen began converting light plants from gas to oil, "hoping that we can maintain continuous electric service," Mayor Bestwick said. The gas company offered little doubt that gas could be maintained until the conversion could be completed.

Some of the reports from towns of this area were:

Crosbyton -- Mayor J. D. Tussy had just received notice of the emergency at 10 a. m., planned to call a business holiday immediately and said "I think everyone will cooperate. Unofficial minimum temperature was 4 degrees this morning in Crosbyton.

Littlefield -- L. C. Hewitt, city commissioner, declared a business holiday in absence of Mayor A. C. Chesher, who is in Dallas and reported business places were "cooperating very nicely." Minimum temperature was reported as 8 degrees.

Cooperation Is Good

Brownfield -- Mayor Frank Jordan declared a business holiday, said cooperation is "the best I ever saw. I never in my life saw people as nice as they are about it." Decision to close was made about 6 a. m. after the gas company manager and mayor conferred. The Junior Chamber of Commerce, Chamber of Commerce and service clubs took part in notifying business firms. "I don't believe there is anything open in town except drug stores and cafes and some of those have offered to close. Information has been received in Brownfield that Seagraves business places had closed. Minimum in Brownfield was 9 degrees at 7 a. m.

Lamesa -- Mayor Sam Richardson, said he had declared a business holiday and merchants were cooperating well; that industrial users, including the food processing plant, oil mills, compress, laundry, feed mill and others were closed Tuesday, as well as today. "We have very little gas pressure in Lamesa this morning," he said. All homes have been asked to use only one room. Minimum temperature this morning was 4 degrees.

Schools Are Closed.

Practically every school on the South Plains was closed today. Some had closed because of cold weather before the gas emergency was declared.

Lubbock pubilc schools, which were closed today in order to conserve gas, will remain closed Thursday, Sup. R. W. Matthews said at noon today.

"Whether or not the schools will be open Friday will depend on the weather and gas and I am not definitely prepared to make a statement concerning that," he added.

Decision to close schools today had been made Tuesday afternoon upon request of the gas company in order to conserve gas.

As the gas supply was lowered, effects were felt in some cases Tuesday, but the general business holiday was not requested until this morning. Many industrials users were cooperating Tuesday in an effort to conserve gas for cooking and heating purposes.

Oil operations over the South Plains were on a curtailed basis as a result of the cold weather. Scores of rigs throughout the area were shut down while others were operating under handicaps.

Killed In Explosion

Death of a South Plains resident resulted from explosion of a "pear burner" she was using to thaw a pressure pump Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. F. M. Page, 52, died when the device exploded at her home six and a half miles northwest of O'Donnell about 2 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Funeral services will be conducted at 2:30 o'clock Thursday afternoon in O'Donnell First Baptist church. Rev. J. M. Hale, pastor, will officiate.

The body will be taken to the residence near O'Donnell this afternoon and will lie in state there until time of services, Rix Funeral home announced. Burial will be in O'Donnell cemetery.

Curtailment Ordered

The Lone Star Gas company, servicing 333 Texas and Oklahoma communities, announced in Dallas it was ordering a general curtailment of industrial and school service because of fuel demands "without precedent in the company's 38 years of history."

Sub-freezing weather spread over the entire state last night, with the lowest reading six degrees below zero at Dalhart, in the extreme northwest. Snow fell during the night and morning over most of the state, as far south as San Antonio.

The prolonged cold was beginning to have its effect on livestock. Ranchers in the Midland area were feeding their cattle and reported that they were beginning to draw, or lose weight. Livestock suffering also was reported in the Llano area, where the temperature this morning was 17 degrees, the coldest of the year. The countryside around Llano was covered with a light coat of snow and light flurries continued.

county, in Odessa. Nature of the charge against him was not learned.

Bond of $1,000 was posted by T. J. Upton, 22, of Brownfield route 5, charged with forgery, the sheriff's department said.

Store Windows Broken

Police said a glass was broken in a window at 2803 Texas Ave., but that no entry apparently had been effected.

Another window was broken at 1216 Broadway, where a shine parlor is, but police said they had no report of missing property.

Eddie Girard of Abernathy said his car had been driven by a 22-year-old Lubbock man, who, police said, later figured in a hit-run incident and was arrested for further investigation. Girard, officials said, did not want to prosecute. None was injured in the collision. J. F. Duke of 713 Texas Ave. was driver of the car allegedly struck by that driven by the 23-year-old suspect.

J. W. Moore, jr., of 3409 Twenty-first reported theft of a radiator ring from his car while it was parked at 1802 Ave. J.

The sheriff's department was asked at 1 p. m. to investigate theft of a radio-phonograph at rear of 3023 Twentieth.

Snow And Ice

Schools were closed in many Arkansas communities and several towns were isolated from telephone communication. There was no immediate relief in sight.

The snow storm which swept over New Mexico moved southward into Mexico today with falls continuing in the south and southeastern parts of the state. Clearing skies brought a drop in temperatures in the northern half. Raton, near the Colorado line, reported 18 below near midnight. The thermometer touched 7 above at Albuquerque.

Schools in Albuquerque remained closed today and highways into the state's main population center were icy. The natural gas situation remained critical in Albuquerque, Santa Fe, Clovis, Tucumcari and Portales.

STOCKS MOVE HIGHER

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (U.P.) — Stocks moved higher today in response to good earnings for first-reporting steel companies. In addition, there was an extra dividend for stockholders of American Tobacco B, and the board of Union Carbide & Carbon voted a 2-for-1 stock split-up.

Sharply higher 1947 net income was reported for U. S. Steel Corp., Republic, Inland and Jones & Laughlin. In addition, Copperweld reported a rise to $2.74 a share for 1947 from 69 cents in 1946.

The steel group of stocks, however, had only moderate gains. Jones & Laughlin advanced more than a point but only fractional gains were noted for U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Crucible, U. S. Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube.

Chrysler, up 1¾ points, led the motor division higher. General Motors and Hudson both gained ⅝ point. Mack Truck, up a point at its high, reacted to the previous close.

Santa Fe, up 2½, paced its group. Interest in this rail issue was stimulated by unconfirmed rumors of some impending announcement of importance after tomorrow's directors' meeting in Chicago. Southern Pacific and Southern Railway were each up more than a point.

American Car & Foundry, American Tobacco B, Coca-Cola, Firestone Tire, International Paper and Lone Star Cement were all up a point or more each. Allied Stores, Allied Chemical, Caterpillar Tractor and Deere & Co. were up major fractions.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP) — Cotton futures were lower in slow dealings today. Scattered hedging and New Orleans selling depressed the market as much as $1 a bale although prices recovered partially on mill buying and short covering.

There was further March liquidation and switching into later deliveries. Most traders held to the sidelines pending clarification of the foreign aid program. Textile selling continued small.

In late dealings cotton futures rallied sharply into new high ground for the day as short covering by locals and New Orleans met a scarcity of offerings. The firmer tone was partly influenced by a recovery in grains.

Futures closed $1 a bale higher to 10 cents lower than the previous close.

Cold Menaces Valley Crops

EDINBURG, Jan. 28 (U.P.) — Vegetable growers of the lush Lower Rio Grande valley eyed their crops with apprehension today, waiting to see if young tomato plants would be killed by sub-freezing temperatures which moved into the southern tip of Texas during the night.

Most official thermometers in the fruit and truck growing region registered lows of no more than 30 degrees, but unofficial reports placed the mercury as low as 25 degrees at McAllen in the west end of the valley.

Hidalgo County Agent J. A. Oswalt said it would be late afternoon or tomorrow before tomato growers could tell for sure about possible loss of the millions of young tomato plants of the spring crop.

He pointed out that for nine consecutive days two years ago ice was seen in the Valley without loss of tomato plants.

It also was too early to tell definitely whether orange and grapefruit crops were damaged. But, growers pointed out, it takes a temperature of 26 degrees or lower for a period of six or seven hours to injure citrus.

Low readings in the valley included 30 at Brownsville and McAllen, 32 at Edinburg and Harlingen.

Tax Bill

per cent in the lower, and extension of the community property "split income" principle to all states.

HST Plan Rapped

The Republican report criticized President Truman's $40-for-everybody tax cut to be made up by a 75 per cent excess profits tax. The GOP report said the President's program is "inflationary and the excess profits tax would not—as claimed by the President—produce sufficient revenue to offset the loss through the $40 cut.

The Republicans contended that the Treasury had underestimated receipts for the 1948 and 1949 fiscal years because of an increase in national income. Figuring that the Republican majority in Congress will whittle President Truman's expenditures for fiscal 1949 by $2,000,000,000 or more, the GOP report said that there would be a surplus after tax reduction of $2,500,000,000 or more.

Get Further Airing

The conflicting views of the Republicans and Democrats will get a further airing at closed meetings later today.

In addition to the general Democratic and Republican meetings, the House rules committee arranged to meet this morning to decide the procedure under which the Knutson bill will be considered on the House floor beginning tomorrow. The final vote will be delayed until Monday.

The measure is scheduled to be considered under a procedure barring amendments. That is the normal way in which the House undertakes to pass on a tax bill. The Democrats, however, are to be granted one motion to send the bill back to the ways and means committee for revision. That will bring the big test.

Since House Republicans are lined up almost solidly for the Knutson bill the recommital motion is foredoomed to failure.

Cooperation Urged

Davis of the chamber of commerce and city and chamber employes called places they knew to be open and asked them to close.

The city hall and chamber of commerce were closed and the usual heating was shut off. Mayor Bestwick, Davis and others were huddled around a small electric heater as they telephoned.

Almost without exception, the officials reported, operators of the open places had failed to hear the radio and other appeals for general closing and were unaware of the acute nature of the shortage.

Business Men Aiding

Nearly all closed immediately when the situation was explained, the mayor said.

When the police list was turned over to the officials, they recruited assistants from among business men in the effort to make the closing "100 per cent effective except among essential places for the duration of the emergency."

Personal notices were delivered by police this afternoon to persons not reached by telephone.

The officials recognize, they explained, that an elastic interpretation must be applied to the term "essential" in their appeal for closing.

Some types of business, they said, should not open at all while the emergency is acute.

Others, such as drug stores, should operate during sharply restricted hours, but with the closings of individual establishments staggered in such a way to insure that prescription and essential drug services will be conveniently available at all reasonable times.

Groceries Are Closed

Retail grocery outlets were conforming to the closing schedule almost 100 per cent, a survey indicated. Most of the downtown stores, chains and independents, either did not open this morning, or were closing during the morning as conditions would permit. One of the larger firms, operating two stores, remained open during the morning to fill bulk orders from food dispensers, but said both stores would be closed by noon.

Herb B. Teal, president of the Lubbock Retail Grocers association, mostly independent or small operators, said all the smaller stores were closed with possible exception of smaller suburban stores that operate in connection with living quarters, where heat would be required regardless of store operation.

Dallas Murder Trial Delayed By Weather

DALLAS, Jan. 28. (U.P.)—The murder trial of Emmett Bufkin was halted today by the weather, as out-of-town state's witnesses announced the weather prevented their coming to Dallas.

Three jurors had been selected when the state's attorneys asked to withdraw their announcement of "ready" in the case.

Bufkin, charged in the pistol slaying of Raleigh Moore Evans, will face trial at a later date.

Toy Gun Bandit Gets Only $125 In Grapeland Bank Robbery Try

GRAPELAND, Jan. 28 (AP)—Police searched today for toy gun bandit who escaped after an unsuccessful attempt yesterday to rob the Farmers and Merchants State bank here with a child's play pistol.

Dodging a money changer, a wastebasket and a chair flung at him by Bank Vice-President Leon Anderson, the would-be bank robber fled with only $125 in cash he snatched from the floor where it had been dropped by a startled depositor.

Leaves Clue

Principal clue to the robber's identity was a broken bit of the toy pistol, broken when the heavy-set man slipped and fell on an ice-covered sidewalk as he escaped. Officers said the piece of the pistol contained fingerprints.

Anderson said the man, wearing dark colored glasses but no mask, entered the bank yesterday afternoon and threatened him with a gun. Suspecting the gun was phoney, Anderson hurled the money changer at the man.

The changer missed its target. So did a large wastebasket and a chair.

"He threw the chair back at me and then apparently decided that the holdup was a bad gamble and fled out the door," Anderson said.

Officers believe the man escaped in a maroon sedan with Missouri license plates.

Clerk Declines Job As Houston Judge

HOUSTON, Jan. 28 (U.P.)—County commissioners were confronted today with the task of naming a successor to former County Judge Allie Peyton after District Clerk J. W. Mills declined the appointment.

Mills was appointed immediately after Peyton resigned Dec. 12 as judge of County Court at Law No. 2. Two weeks ago Mills said he would take office regardless of questions about his legal qualifications.

Yesterday afternoon, Mills notified commissioners in a letter addressed to County Judge Glenn Perry that he had decided to avoid the controversy and would remain as district clerk.

Casinos May Open In Lower California

ENSENADA, Lower Calif., Mex., Jan. 28. (U.P.)—Despite official denials from Mexico City that open gambling will return to Lower California, rumors swept the territory today that the open dice game is not far off.

A high government official said that several concessions already have been granted to operate gambling establishments but that in all probability cities and towns located within 100 miles of the United States border would remain closed, to avoid antagonism between United States businessmen and Mexico.

If this policy is put into effect, the two chief gaming casinos in the territory will be at San Quintin, located about 100 miles south of here, and San Felipe, situated 140 miles south of Mexicali. The government is pushing plans for high-speed highways from the border to the towns.

Wake-Up Pills Needed To Ease Blighted Life Of Modern Man

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 (AP)—I will believe in science the day somebody invents a pleasant way to get up in the morning.

Until then all its victories over time and space are mere hollow mockeries, creating new urgencies to force a man out of warm bed to meet the chaos of the machine age.

Lucky Cave Man

For thirty thousand years the most difficult task any human being has had to face is the problem of getting up in the morning.

In the cave days man got up because he was hungry. That is natural and the only real reason ever to crawl out of a bed. The caveman got up, shook the dew off his beard, grabbed up his club and called to his neighbors. Together they went off to the waterhole, bashed an antelope or a buffalo over the noggin and dragged it home.

The wives cooked it, and the menfolks were through for the day.

Today a man rises and has to brush his teeth and shave before his wife will agree to serve breakfast. He also has to comb his hair—if the worry of modern life hasn't removed it all—put on a clean shirt and scuff his shoes along the back of his trousers so they'll look freshly shined (this leaves him enough to buy a package of cigarets.)

Note that all this effort has to be expended even before he sets out for the waterhole where he earns his food-his office or workshop.

Modern Man Dreams

Morose and wondering why he even bothered to get up, he spends eight hours earning his share of the antelope, breathing borrowed air traded back and forth with his neighbors.

When he returns at night, homesick for his lost jungle freedom, he must resolve his family's conflicts with civilization—junior's troubles with algebra, sister's demand to go to a movie, mama's complaint against the high cost of antelope.

The weary man sags into tired slumber—and wanders in dream the old wind-stirred forest paths where nothing more fearsome than a sabre-toothed tiger could waylay him.

It is significant, I think, that the next morning no pleas of wife or children, no stirring of his own conscience, will get him out of bed. He would rather lie there and starve.

Mechanical Horror

No, years ago it was found something else was needed to make a man rise and face the horror of a mechanical world. The solution was a mechanical contrivance—the alarm clock.

Only to still its terrible jangle will the modern man reluctantly get up, paw the gum out of his eyes, and face the lesser noises of the day. But he is a shaken, pitiful thing.

He fears the alarm clock more than he did the sabre-toothed tiger.

If science really wants to help modern man, it should develop a capsule he can swallow at night, knowing that by some dark chemical magic it will make him leap out of bed at daylight, eager to cope with a world of wheels within wheels within wheels—that never stop turning.

Research but dawdles if it can't produce a "get up" capsule—in at least four pleasant-tasting flavors.

It was Christmas in Moscow when it was January 7th in New York.

Long Prison Terms Given Bank Robbers

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 28 (AP) — Three men were sentenced to long prison terms today for their part in the Jan. 9 daylight robbery of the mid-city branch of the Hibernia National bank where $114,600 was taken from the vault. Each pleaded guilty to armed robbery charges.

George Ricketts, 24, was sentenced to 20 years in the state penitentiary, as a second offender.

Trouble From Frozen Pipes In South Plains Area Is Expected

Plenty of trouble from frozen water pipes and other plumbing equipment was feared as result of the prolonged sub-freezing temperatures here and over the area, but plumbers said today extent of the damage will not be known until the weather warms and pipes begin to thaw.

It was recalled that thousands of dollars in damages was caused from breaking pipes last January when a prolonged cold wave plummeted temperatures to nine degrees below zero. Fears were expressed that the threat of continued cold during the week, as predicted by the Weather bureau north of the city, would cause a duplication of the damage of last year.

Several companies indicated that nothing much could be done after pipes freeze up except the usual thawing out with hot water, blow torches, and other such methods. Most of the plumbers recommended precautionary measures before freezing if not already too late.

The best precautionary measure, according to the city water department, is to cut off water during the night and drain the pipes which are above ground. They emphasized, however, that cuting off the water is the worst thing one could do if facilities are not present for draining the pipes.

Probably the best suggestion in cases where pipes cannot be drained, the water department said, is to allow taps in the house to run slightly, the normal flow of water helping to prevent freezing. The cost of water would be far less than the cost of repairing broken pipes, they said.

Underground pipes in the city's main water lines aren't in any great danger of freezing unless the current cold spell lasts three or four more days, the water department said. Most of the pipes in the city are 30 to 48 inches below ground, they indicated, but a few water mains in the older part of the city are only 12 to 14 inches below the surface.

The water department has a unique but highly effective method of thawing out water mains in case they freeze. An electric machine which works on the same principle as an arc welder is hooked onto a 220-volt electric power line. The current is diverted through the water main, the natural resistance of the pipes causing enough electrical heat to thaw out the ice.

But if the pipes under the house freeze up, don't call the city water department. They said that their system of thawing out mains would be impractical for large scale operations. Not more than 10 or 12 jobs could be done during a normal day, the difficulty of hooking into power lines and other phases of the work prohibiting the use of the machines on small thawing jobs.

Dr. Hob Gray Visits Lubbock High School

Dr. Hob Gray, professor of curriculum and instruction in the department of education at the University of Texas, visited Lubbock Senior High school Tuesday as consultant in the evaluation project at the school.

He spoke at an assembly at 1 p. m. on the part students will fill in the evaluation program. He had visited the school last year to help in planning the project. The evaluation will take place in the late spring. Evaluation takes place every five years.

Pravda Disapproves Balkan Customs Plan

LONDON, Jan. 28 (U.P.) — The Communist party newspaper Pravda said today it disapproved formation of a Balkan Customs union as advocated by Georgi Dimitrov, Communist Prime Minister of Bulgaria.

The Pravda article, considered a sensational rebuff to Dimitrov was broadcast by Radio Moscow. In the article Pravda implied that it disapproved the idea of a Balkans Federation or Customs union because it was not called for in the declaration establishing the nine-nation Cominform.

Dimitrov's approval of a federation-customs union for the Balkans was expressed in a press conference in Sofia after he had returned from signing a Bulgarian-Romanian mutual aid pact in Bucharest.

Pravda published the text of the Dimitrov statement last Friday. Since then, the paper said, a number of readers have written asking if Dimitrov's statements were supported and approved by the paper.

Tech Paper Will Be Issued Semi-Weekly

The Toreador, weekly student newspaper at Texas Technological college, will go on a semi-weekly basis with publication on Wednesdays and Saturdays beginning with the Feb. 14 issue, according to Cecil Horne, head of the journalism department.

The paper has been on a weekly basis since 1942 due to the shortage of newsprint and with assurance of a sufficient supply for the future, it was decided to return to semi-weekly publication as a permanent policy. The present 20 by 14-inch size will be retained with four pages of seven columns on each page.

"During the period of restricted publication there was insufficient space to give everyone on the staff as much practical writing experience as was desirable, but under the new set-up the students will be able to participate to a much larger extent and bring their training up to a par with that obtainable anywhere in the Southwest," Horne said.

John Anderson, Toreador editor, has stated that there will be no changes in the organization of the present staff who will continue to work in their assigned positions on both papers.

Jerry Stoltz, senior journalism major, will succeed Winafred Larabee as associate editor for the spring semester. Mrs. Larabee, who has held that position since last September, will graduate in February and has indicated that she will enter the journalistic field in Houston.

Eccles Demotion Is Protested

McCabe Is To Be Confirmed

By AUSTIN C. WEHRWEIN
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. — Chairman Charles W. Tobey of the Senate banking committee said today the demotion of Marriner S. Eccles from chairman to vice chairman of the Federal Reserve board was "amazing" and "inconsistent."

The New Hampshire Republican was joined in the protest by two Democratic members of his committee. But a majority of the committee members appeared willing to confirm Thomas B. McCabe of Philadelphia as Eccles' successor.

Confirmation Assured

The fact that McCabe is a Republican virtually assured his confirmation by the Republican controlled Senate. President Truman asked Eccles yesterday to step down from the post he has held for 12 years and make way for the Pennsylvania paper manufacturer and banker.

Tobey said the shakeup had "some aspects of incongruity and inconsistency if we can take utterances of the day at par."

He was apparently referring to the President's assurance to Eccles, who has been at odds both with Secretary of Treasury John W. Snyder and the banking fraternity, that the demotion "reflects no lack of complete confidence in you."

Victory For Snyder

Congressional sources interpreted the shift as a victory for Snyder. But the secretary's aides steadfastly denied that he was gunning for Eccles. They indicated that Snyder, at most, played a passive role by not going to bat for Eccles at the White House.

McCabe's appointment was regarded as an administration gesture towards business and bankers, who have bitterly opposed some Eccles fiscal policies and proposals.

Sen. C. Douglas Buck, (R., Del.,) praised McCabe's appointment and characterized him as "a very fine businessman." Republican Sens. John W. Bricker of Ohio and Joseph R. McCarthy of Wisconsin, and Democratic Sens. John J. Sparkman of Alabama and Burnet R. Maybank of South Carolina indicated they would vote for McCabe's confirmation when the issue is raised in the banking committee.

McCabe is president of the Scott Paper Co., Chester, Pa., and chairman of the Philadelphia Federal Reserve bank.

E. I. HILL ROUNDING OUT QUARTER CENTURY AS LYNN COUNTY LEADER

Veteran Tahoka Editor Is Still On Job

TAHOKA, Jan 28—Down here in Lynn county, a lot of people read the Lynn County News. It goes into practically every home in the county every week.

Every week, just below the editorial masthead there follows a series of small pointed paragraphs with comment on the weather, politics, current events and anything else of general interest.

They bear no by-line and are unsigned, but everybody who reads the paper knows they are random thoughts of E. I. Hill, the paper's 72-year-old editor, reproduced in the printed word.

For Almost 25 Years

For nearly 25 years they've been reading these little paragraphs until they've become a part and parcel of their philosophies of life--especially in the matter of politics.

Pin a reader of the fine little weekly newspaper down and he'll virtually admit, E. I. Hill's random thoughts have an important influence on his political philosophy and in a majority of cases influence his vote on national issues and candidates.

For on these, the modest and unassuming little editor pulls no punches. He speaks his mind in no terms. Take for instance, a paragraph from last week's issue:

"No honest man can condone the conduct of his government officials who take advantage of the knowledge gained in these positions to feather their nests at the expense of the people. Some, apparently, had done this. They should be kicked out."

He Deserted The Bar

Trained first as a lawyer, Mr. Hill has been in the newspaper profession 32 years, deserting the bar for the typewriter after 11 years in the legal profession.

"My newspaper friends thought I was crazy for quitting as an attorney to become an editor, but my lawyer friends thought I was a wise man," Mr. Hill said the other day. "I've never regretted my move, anyway. There has been lots of hard and confining work, but I've enjoyed it."

Mr. Hill will round out his quarter century as editor of the local paper this fall. He purchased the paper from Bob Haynes in 1923, moving here from Sweetwater, where he was district attorney. Previously he had served as editor of the Roscoe Times seven years.

Born In Bell County

He was born in Bell county, Feb. 10, 1875. His early schooling was at the Stampede schoolhouse in Bell county and when he was 16 he attended the Thomas Arnold High school at Salado. Finishing high school, he studied law for a year at the University of Texas and then finished up his legal studies it a law office of Belton. He passed the state bar examination and received his license to practice law, July 2, 1902. He started practicing in temple, was elected justice of the peace and later county attorney where he served from 1904 until 1908.

Following Horace Greeley's advice, he came west to Roscoe in 1908.

"THE SAGE" OF LYNN COUNTY—E. I. Hill, editor of the Lynn County News, is shown in a familiar pose at his desk in the newspaper office. Mr. Hill is rounding out 25 years as editor of the paper. (Journal Staff Photo).

Mr. Hill first saw the Plains in 1907, making a land agent's "excursion" with a group of prospective buyers. His experiences on that trip included riding in a hack between Hale Center and Plainview in a "blue norther."

Leading Cotton Producer

Mr. Hill came to Tahoka when the town was but a small ranch trading post and there was very little farming in the county. Now the county is one of the leading cotton producers of the state.

Practically every organization in Tahoka has felt his influence. He served as president of the Tahoka school board when the present high school was built; is a charter member of the Tahoka Rotary club and has been a Baptist deacon since 1912. He is a member of the Knights of Pythias.

For years he was active in the Panhandle Press association, but rarely attends meetings now.

A life-long Democrat, he slyly admits he voted for Hoover in 1928. But he was back in the fold with Roosevelt. Three pictures adorned the walls of the newspaper office -- Geo. Washington, Woodrow Wilson and Roosevelt, but the one of Roosevelt has been misplaced.

Truman Stopped By

When President Truman visited here in April, 1944, he stopped by the News office to see Mr. Hill and finding him at once, went there to pay him a pop call. There was a marked resemblance between the two men as they shook hands

Mr. Hill's eldest son, Frank Hill, is associate editor of the paper and gathers most of the news items and advertising copy. Another son, Billy, is a linotype operator.

A third son, E. I. Hill, Jr., is an employe of the government printing office in Washington, D. C., where he has been since 1930. A daughter, Miss Bertha Hill, resides at Floresville.

Mr. Hill's first wife died in 1930. In 1934, he was married to Miss Millie Halsey, well known home demonstration agent of this area. She was the first home demonstration agent in Lubbock county. Mrs. Hill is also one of the contributor's to the paper's wealth of local news each week.

Mr. Hill is one of three South Plains editors who has served as much as a quarter-century at his desk. The dean of the area's editors, of course, is A. J. Stricklin of Brownfield. H. S. Hilburn of Plainview is the other editor who has served more than a 25-year stint.

Cottage Inn Hotel Destroyed By Fire

LIVINGSTON, Jan. 28 (AP) — The Cottage Inn hotel, an old Livingston landmark, was a blackened ruin today.

Early last night fire swept through the 35-room frame structure so rapidly that guests only had time to gather their coats as they fled from the dinner table.

The hotel was erected in 1901. The loss was estimated at more than $50,000.

Clinic Session Will Start In City Saturday

Programs for a cerebral palsy (spastic paralysis) clinic and other meetings here Saturday and Sunday sponsored by the Texas Society for Crippled Children and the Lubbock Crippled Children's Council were announced Monday by John W. Broome, of Lubbock, vice president of the state society.

Chief events on the two day program include:

The clinic for children between 6 months and 8 years of age in the Activity center of First Baptist church from 10 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. Saturday.

A luncheon for directors of the state society at 12:15 p.m. Saturday in the Hilton hotel, with R. L. Thomas, of Dallas, president of the organization, as principal speaker.

A public meeting at 7 p.m. Saturday in the chapel of the First Baptist church to hear lectures by Dr. Herbert H. Hipps, of Waco, and Dr. Margaret Watkins, of Dallas. Motion pictures will illustrate Dr. Hipps talk. Alex McDonald, a director of the state society will preside.

A breakfast at 8 a.m. Sunday will precede a meeting of the executive committee and directors of the state society at the Hilton at which several lectures will be delivered. Thomas is to preside.

Broome emphasized that the clinic Saturday will be limited to children of pre-school age, but said one for older children is planned later in the year.

Dr. Hipps, who heads the list of orthopedic specialists in cerebral palsy to be here, is chairman of the McClennan County society for Crippled Children in Waco.

Dr. Watkins, who will be associated with him in conducting the clinic, is chairman of the medical consultant staff of the palsy treatment center of the Dallas society.

Sunday Program Given

Assisting them locally will be Drs. M. H. Benson, Arthur Jenkins, Pauline Miller, Roy G. Loveless and Mina Watkins.

A speaker at the Saturday luncheon, additional to Thomas will be Martin M. Ricker, of Dallas, executive secretary of the state organization. Broome will preside.

Speakers at the Sunday session and their subjects follow: Dr. William H. Gordon, of Lubbock, "The Rheumatic Child Heart;" Juliette M. Gratke, director of speech and therapist of the Dallas treatment center, "The Cerebral Palsy Child in the Family;" J. L. Tenney, of Austin, administrative assistant of the crippled children's services of the state health department, "A Public Program for Crippled Children;" Imogene Smith, chief orthopedic nurse of the state department, "Orthopedic Nursing;" H. E. Robinson, director of special education in the same department, "Education for the Cerebral Palsy Child," and Mrs. Elizabeth Coolidge Barnett, of Austin, physical therapy consultant in the state department of education, "Therapy in the Public Schools."

Road Work In Area Okayed

Twenty-One County Delegations From Over State Get Commission Hearing

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Jan. 28—Twenty-one of 26 delegations scheduled to appear before the State Highway commission Tuesday for hearings on highway projects were on hand despite freezing weather and hazardous roads.

Several groups mentioned the dangers of narrow, poorly-maintained roads in weather of the type which currently has bogged down transportation in many areas of the state.

The commission found more delegations than usual proposing projects under the highway department's policy of matching county funds with state funds on a 75-25 (county-state) basis, and gave these the go-ahead signal.

Mayor Richard C. Gusman of Bay City headed a large Matagorda county group requesting widening of highways through Bay City.

A. A. Meredith, city manager of Borger, Hutchinson county, requested the designation, construction and maintenance of access highways to Phillips and Borger.

"We have lots of heavy traffic with trucks carrying butane, high octane fuels and other heavy loads travelling narrow roads through the city," Meredith explained.

"Spur Number 119 from Borger to Phillips is carrying 6,500 vehicles per day," he reported.

"Anytime a road is carrying 6,000 vehicles a day, something ought to be done about it," declared Chairman John Redditt. "Work out the priorities and let's get started."

The Hutchinson county program contemplates an access road from state Highway 117 north of Borger to Phillips, 1.8 miles at an estimated cost of $140,000; from State Highway 152 east of Borger to a connection with the first access road; and a connection from Main street (loop 140) in Borger along sixth street to a connection with the second access road.

AREA ROAD PROJECTS ARE GIVEN APPROVAL

South Plains counties were included in 27 construction and maintenance projects totaling $592,540, authorized by the State Highway commission in Austin Tuesday, according to an Associated Press report.

Largest of the state projects is a farm-to-market highway in Concho county at an estimated cost of $215,300.

Bailey county was designated for a farm-to-market road extending from the end of farm highway 746 west approximately five miles at an esitmated cost of $30,000 under the 75-25 fund-matching program.

Lamb county was granted three farm-to-market projects on condition that title to all required right-of-way be furnished free of cost to the state. These were designated as follows:

From Spade south approximately seven miles to Hockley county line; from Amherst north approximately 16.2 miles to Erath; from Beck south approximately 2.7 miles to farm highway 54.

The state highway engineer was directed to assume maintenance of the roads when free right-of-way is furnished.

Lynn county was designated, with right-of-way to be furnished free, for three farm-to-market highways as follows:

From New Home west 9.6 miles to the Terry county line; from U. S. 380 approximately seven miles east to Tahoka, south 13.4 miles to a county road south of Draw.

Biological Warfare Secret Is Revealed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—One of the war's best-kept secrets —how the U. S. and Canada prepared for expected "biological warfare" attacks against their livestock—to reduce meat supplies —was disclosed to a congressional committee today.

Dr. R. E. Shope, veterinary research expert for the Rockefeller foundation of New York and wartime navy commander who directed the tightly-guarded operation, described its details before a House Agriculture subcommittee.

Financed jointly by the U. S. War department and the Canadian government, a top secret experiment station was built on Gros Isle, a remote speck of land four miles outside the mouth of the St. Lawrence river.

The results of the three-year experiment were so good, he told the subcommittee, that "If the enemy had spread the infection," "we would have been able to retaliate" 'by vaccinating cattle in both countries.

TODAY'S POME

Poor Edgar Chump has gone from hence—
He pulled a shotgun through a fence!

THERE are a great many reasons why we'd rather see a dozen other guys enter the White House next January than Sen. Robert Taft, of Ohio. Not the least of these reasons is that he is married to a lady who is Interested In Things and who is always as busy as a bee doing one thing or another outside the kitchen.

The nation may be able to stagger along under the combined weight of the war debt, the Marshall Plan, the New Look, Petrillo and even Henry Wallace. But we doubt very seriously if the American eagle could survive a Mrs. Roosevelt of the Republican brand.

We are quite ready to believe that Mrs. Taft is a lady of quick wit, charming platform presence and keen intellect, as she is generally reported to be. But for our part, we'll vote for a continuation of Mrs. Truman—or a First Lady very similar to her in taste and matters of propriety.

It may be true, as some of his more vocal opponents aver, that Mr. Truman ain't no combination of G. Washington, T. Jefferson and A. Lincoln. But if he isn't a great President, he has a wife eminently and graciously fitted for residence in the house numbered 1600 Pennsylvania avenue, in Washington.

Somebody's always howling for a monument to be built to some leather-lunged statesman, or sword rattling general. For our part, we'd sooner see some sort of memorial raised to President's wives with the fine judgment and sane balance of Mrs. Truman, and of the late Mrs. Grace Coolidge.

There's a place for everything and everybody, of course, but coal mines and steel mills and newspaper offices and tightwires over Niagara Falls and conventions where racial antipathy is stirred up definitely are not the places for Presidents wives to cavort.

No, thanks. Let's not have Mr. Taft, if for no other reason than if we don't have him we won't have Mrs. Taft, even if she is Ohio's answer to Will Rogers, Lou Costello and Dorothy Parker.

INCIDENTALLY, while on the subjects of grace, and wit, and charm, etc., we hear by way of the Washington grapevine that Senator Taft, himself, recently must have completed a course on "How to Win Friends and Influence People." Whether he has been under the tuteledge of Dale Carnegie, or Mrs. Taft, the rumors do not say. But they do say that in the last couple of years the Ohio senator has emerged from his cocoon—or stuffed shirt, if you prefer—and has blossomed out as a regular guy.

People long have recognized the Taft courage; his dogged tenacity and his great capacity for work of the most gruelling sort. But even his best friends wouldn't—or couldn't—tell him how to relax and quit acting like a fish after six weeks in cold storage.

Now we learn that the senator can kid with the best of them; that he can and does speak easily and without notes; that he has quit carrying the world on his shoulders—at least for more than a few hours a day.

So it's still an ill wind that blows nobody good. Even if the Buckeye statesmand misses the GOP nomination by a mile, as it now appears he will, he has gained from his ambitions.

Selah.

LIKE all the rest of us humans who get ourselves on the record by way of news ink and the airwaves, Drew Pearson, the celebrated pundit of this-a and that-a, stuck his stringy neck out a mile recently. Without thinking he suggested that our military men should be barred from public service outside of military circles.

Mr. Pearson, who can be—and often is—as wrong as anybody else who breathes, indicted Mr. Truman for appointing a number of former generals to civilian posts connected with the government. In rolling all military men—able and bungling—into one big package, Mr. Pearson sounded fully as foolish as if he had taken a swat at the President because some of his appointees may have had blue, or brown, eyes—or even bowlegs.

It is just as stupid to want to bar all military men from executive, diplomatic, or other public posts as it would be to want to bar all lawyers, doctors, or bricklayers; all pigeon-toed, flat-footed, or bald-headed gents.

In our military and naval ranks we have some very able ginks. Doubtless, a normal percentage of the whole are not so able. Our guess would be that the percentage of talented people in the military is about the same as among civilians.

Of course, Mr. Pearson's comment sprang from the fact that the President had just offered for civilian appointment some luckless Army officer to whom Mr. Pearson is personally allergic. Ergo! No military man, however able, says Mr. Pearson, should be asked otherwise to serve his country!

Phooey, Mr. Pearson. And, by the way, don't you frequently call attention to the fact that you were a soldier, yourself, about 25 years ago?

We very much wish there were in Lubbock some smart guy who can fix and clean electric razors, fountain pens and cigaret lighters.

Maybe there is. If so, we'd like to hear about him.

Sometimes we think all cigaret lighters and fountain pens are made by intoxicated one-eyed Mongolians. We have a double handful of both—lighters and pens, not Mongolians.—and none of them are worth a darn except to look at. Being curious, we'd like to see what would happen to them if they were put into a least temporary working order.

Despite the laudatory remarks always heard about the genius of American science and industry, we believe there it more money wasted by the U. S. public every year on cigaret lighters and fountain pens than on anything else.

We have various brands of both and regardless of their purchase price we have found them generally unsatisfactory.

It would be interesting, we think, if Doc Gallup or somebody else would plumb public opinion on cigaret lighters and fountain pens. Our guess it the manufacturers involved would rush for the nearest soda fountain for a bromo seltzer when they read the the sulphurous reports thus garnered!

CONGRATULATIONS to the citizens of Littlefield. By a vote of 224 to 6, they passed a $650,000 bond issue for a new high school building, including an auditorium which will seat 1,250 people.

Like the rest of us, Littlefield folks know construction costs are high. Unlike some of the rest of us, they realize such costs aren't going to get much lower any time soon, so they've decided to fill their needs.

Littlefield people may spend a few extra dollars for their new high school, but they'll have it and enjoy it while more timid souls wait endlessly to save a little.

It's good to see a community with faith in its future, and in that of the area, the state and the nation.

BY DREW PEARSON: IKE AIMED HIS "WON'T RUN" STATEMENT AT MACARTHUR

GOP To Accuse HST Of Brass-Hat Domination

WASHINGTON. — When Gen. Douglas MacArthur failed of reappointment to a second term as chief of staff and sailed to organize the Philippine constabulary, he took with him to Manila one of the bright, up-and-coming men of the army — Lieut. Col. Dwight Eisenhower.

WEARING...

But after some time in the Philippines, things didn't go well and MacArthur fired Ike. Eisenhower went back to the U.S.A. to climb to fame and the top command of the American army.

The fact that MacArthur fired Eisenhower has been denied by MacArthur, but it is true. Since then the two men have not been on particularly good terms. In fact they have not seen each other since.

When Eisenhower finally decided to bow out of the Presidential race, therefore, friends close to him say that he got a little extra kick out of inserting the admonition that a military man should not nurture the ambition to be President of the United States. For those lines were aimed directly at his old friend and commander, the only military man who aspires to be president — Douglas MacArthur.

Battle Inside KKK

The split inside the Ku Klux Klan over the Klan campaign to elect Herman Talmadge as governor of Georgia is one of the most significant developments in Klan history. Grand Dragon Green is not at all happy about it — especially since it happened while he was absent from the last two Klan meetings. Here is the inside story.

At the first January meeting of Klavern No. 1, Atlanta, Dr. Richard Eubank, acting Cyclops in Dr. Green's place, made a speech urging unanimous Klan support for Herman Talmadge. Eubank said it was the duty of every Klansman to get behind Talmadge and make certain he is elected.

This brought a vigorous, unexpected protest from Klansman Wingate, employed by the Ball U-Drive-It company, who said:

"I'll be damned if I'll support Talmadge."

He reminded fellow Klansman that the late Gov. Eugene Talmadge, father of Herman, had broken up labor unions and set up labor concentration camps. He also recalled that the late governor had proclaimed that $1 a day is good enough pay for any man in overalls.

"You yourself told us," Klansman Wingate reminded the exalted Cyclops, "that Herman will do everything his old man did. I'm not going to vote for him."

Wingate's statement brought considerable support from rank-and-file Klansmen. However, the split went over until the next meeting, when Grand Titan Ransom tried to straighten things out. He made a speech pointing out that Klansmen should think of their wives and children and the color problem, and therefore all vote for Talmadge. This, however, failed to heal the breach.

"What do you think Brother Wingate was thinking about but his wife and children when he opposed Talmadge?" shouted one Klansman from the floor.

Judging from the murmurs of approval, the anti-Talmadge Klansmen were just as strong as the Talmadge supporters.

Grand Dragon Green has now returned to Atlanta and held a meeting early last week to try to heal the breach.

WITH the political exit of General Eisenhower, G.O.P. strategists have decided to use Harry Truman's yen for the military as one of their most effective campaign weapons.

To this end they've prepared an impressive list of generals and admirals now serving in civilian jobs, and this will be thrown at Truman when the campaigning gets hot.

This strategy was partly behind the Republican decision to block the appointment of Maj. Gen. Laurence Kuter as head of the Civil Aeronautics board. Ordinarily, South Dakota's Sen. Chan Gurney, a strong friend of the military and chairman of the Senate Armed Services committee, would have dashed in to boost this appointment. But in the private session held between the President and the Senate Armed Services committee, it was Gurney who, taking his cue from the G.O.P. leadership, refused to budge.

"I agree," concluded Truman. "And I want you to know that it is not my intention to appoint military men to civilian jobs if I can get civilians to fill them. I don't think, on the other hand, that we should lose the outstanding abilities of a man just because he is in the army."

"But the discrimination in salary," suggested Oregon's Wayne Morse, referring to the fact that Kuter would get $15,000 against a civilian salary of $10,000, "is discouraging to civilians."

Maryland's suave Sen. Millard Tydings suggested a compromise. The Republicans were in no mood.

"You were a Senator once," Gurney told the President. "You know what we are up against on the Hill."

"I understand that, Chan," replied the President, "but I've got to get someone."

Truman said he had searched high and low, but couldn't find a civilian who would take the job.

"Not even in Missouri?" blurted out Alabama's Lister Hill.

Note—At a closed committee afterward, Democrats Burnet Maybank of South Carolina and Harry Byrd of Virginia voted consistently with the Republicans. Other Democrats, one the final roll call simply voted "Present" — which meant that they didn't want to vote against Truman; but also didn't want to vote for a general in a civilian job. They also knew, incidentally, that Truman had kicked out one civilian, James Landis, as chairman of CAB, despite the fact that Landis had done a thoroughly competent job.

Vermont's sand-haired Sen. Ralph Flanders has a sense of humor, even about himself. He is telling the story of how by mistake he opposed his own bill on coinage.

When the bill came up for debate on the Senate floor, Flanders leaped to his feet.

"There is no need for the bill!" he argued.

Bob Taft, the Senate shepherd, jumped up and tried to catch Flanders' eye. But Sen. Milt Young of North Dakota already was whispering hoarsely: "Ralph, that's your own bill."

According to Flanders' own story, "I jammed on the brakes, skidded to a stop and found myself headed in the opposite direction."

The bill passed. It was a coinage bill in effect to make future coinage bills unnecessary.

"When Does The Third Round Start?"

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

IF she had to toss the word "lovely" out of her vocabulary, the average woman wouldn't know how to get along conversationally.

MILLETT

When she tells her hostess goodbye after a dull tea, a boring dinner, or a really enjoyable evening, she says, "It was LOVELY."

When she is describing the daughter of an old friend, she says, "She's a LOVELY girl."

When she really wants to go all out for another woman, she says, "She's a LOVELY person."

A room is lovely. A dress is lovely. A hat is lovely. Just about everything a woman doesn't actually pan is lovely.

The poor old tired word is so overworked it doesn't mean a thing any more.

Why don't we women just retire it—turn it out to pasture and figure out some more exact words to take the place of "lovely"?

MIGHT TAKE THOUGHT

OF course, it would take a little thought, maybe even a few sessions with the dictionary. But it certainly would improve our social conversation to stop relying on "lovely" to see us through every occasion.

After all, men get along pretty well without the word "lovely," and, if they can do it, so can we.

Let's give it a try anyway. It would be just lovely if we could.

Labor Beginning To Question Worth Of Salary Hike Policy

WASHINGTON— When a politician talks to a trade-union convention, he is expected to say the things that Labor wants to hear. He is not expected to challenge the ancient trade-union rule of thumb that higher wages must inevitably mean better living for the worker and his family.

CHILDS

But that is just what Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon did the other day when he talked the other day to a convention of the CIO International Woodworkers of the Pacific Northwest. This hard-boiled union was already critical of Morse. Yet the ebullient Senator from Oregon led off with a challenge of the whole wage approach in this period of spiralling inflation. He told them he believed in saying the same thing to every kind of audience and therefore he was going to let them have it.

In the second round of wage increases they had got a boost of 18½ cents an hour, he pointed out. Yet he defied anyone in the audience to prove that this had meant more than a net gain of 2 cents an hour in real purchasing power. The balance was absorbed by prices that had jumped up in immediate response to higher wages.

The third round will not mean even 2 cents an hour in net gain, said Moore, so sensitive are prices today. This was not welcome news. But as Morse discovered later in talking with union leaders, it touched a doubt that they themselves had long harbored.

The Consumer Pays

This doubt is widespread among responsible trade-union leaders. They are not sure but that a third round of wage increases will do their own members more harm than good. They feel they have come down a blind alley.

One thing that gives them pause is the fact that industry, beneath a surface snow of resistsance, is apparently quite willing to grant the next round. While there may be real resistance in some industries, it will be largely sham.

The reason, as trade-union leaders suspect, is that business does not want to interfere with the present ratio of phenomenal profits. The additional cost in wages will be added to the bill of the consumer, who will pay still higher prices.

Of course, this does not apply to all industry. There have been examples of remarkable industrial statesmanship, such as the action of General Electric in reducing prices in the face of the current trend. While it could hardly be called a major reduction, at least it ws a move in the right direction.

Reports of phenomenal profits are the red rag to the labor bull. Thus the woodworkers had been told that profits in the lumber industry were 40 percent after taxes. The accuracy of this figure is irrelevant since it had become an article of faith with the men who work in the forrests.

THE Department of Agriculture reported that profits of food-distributing chains were at the highest point since the boom of the '20. Even here, where the margin is customarily small, the fiugres are surprising. Some of the larger chains increased their profit ratio after federal taxes from 8 percent in 1945 to 18.3 percent in 1846.

Responding automatically, every trade-union leader demands more wages. He demands that the wage increases be paid out of these profits, although he must know that there is no way to control business to do that, just as there is no way to prevent increased wage costs being passed along to the consumer.

But those who look beyond the automatic cry for higher wages are beginning to ask some unhappy questions. They are beginning to wonder whether perhaps the postwar policy of the unions has been mistaken in its simple and undeviating goal of more pay in the wage envelope.

There are those who have suggested from the sidelines that it might be better to work for long-term goals, such as a guaranteed annual wage, rather than for increases that vanish in the ever-mounting flame of inflation. Some unions, conspicuously the United Automobile Workers, have included gains such as paid vacations in their demands.

Today's Journal Editorial

IT'S AN IMPORTANT ASSET

An important asset which long has paid dividends to this entire area is the annual South Plains Junior Fat Stock show, to be held at the Panhandle-South Plains Fairgrounds on March 22-24 this year.

This will be the 15th annual show at which calves, pigs and lambs, grown by 4-H club members and vocational agriculture students in 26 South Plains and Eastern New Mexico counties, may be entered.

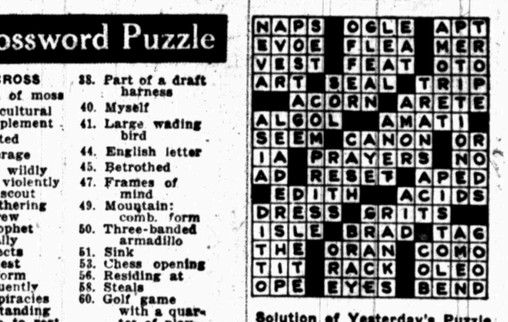

The three chief attractions of the show to the young exhibitors will be about $800 in prizes, the annual auction sale on closing day and an interesting and entertaining visit to Lubbock.

The auction sale is quite a big thing. The livestock sold at that time invariably brings premiums above market prices. Last year the total sales exceeded $43,000, including $3,500 in premiums above market prices. This year the total is expected to exceed $50,000, with about $5,000 in premiums.

Thus each show pays immediate dividends. But far more important than that, the shows build for the future. They encourage youthful interest in everything pertaining to better livestock. Many of the area's prominent livestock men today give the junior shows much of the credit for their original interest and later success in that field.

It is, in short, so important as an asset to this area, and the youth of the area, that anyone who has the opportunity to contribute in any way toward making the show more successful should deem it a privilege to respon

UN Intervention Has At Least Delayed Frightful India War

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

It's mighty fortunate for the world that the Dominions of India and Pakistan have submitted their bitter quarrel over the princely state of Kashmir to the United Nations, for without the peace organization this controversy might explode into a frightful fratricidal war which would encompass all the 400 millions of the Indian subcontinent — and it's doubtful if such a conflict could be prevented from becoming global.

If this case can be kept within the framework of the United Nations, it is likely to give a fine test of the efficacy of that organization. Thus far India and Pakistan have displayed good faith and wisdom in working through the U. N. and tacitly recognizing that the controversy is so complicated and full of dynamite that they could scarcely be expected to settle it between themselves.

Savage Bloodshed

The trouble grew out of the formation of the independent dominions last summer.

At that time Kashmir, and the other hundreds of native states, were given the privilege of joining either dominion or being independent. The Hindu Maharajah of Kashmir, Hari Singh, decided to remain free, but he didn't reckon with the fact that 77 per cent of his subjects were Moslems. From the neighboring territory of Pakistan, Pathan tribesmen, who also are Moslems, swarmed into the state with the idea of joining the Pakistan. There was savage bloodshed and destruction. The Maharajah promptly cast his lot with Hindu India and asked for protective troops, which were sent. That's where the matter stands now, with constant danger of open warfare breaking out between Pakinstan and India.

Mediation Sought

The U. N. Security council has created a three-nation commission to study the whole situation and mediate the quarrel. Judging by the discussions already held, this mediation would involve a stoppage of the fighting in Kashmir, withdrawal of all troops, and establishment of an impartial interim administration after which a plebiscite would be held to let the people decide Kashmir's future status.

Your correspondent believes the U. N. will find that it cannot depend on any plebiscite for a decision but that disposition of the case will have to be made by the two dominions and the Kashmir government, acting within the framework of the peace organization.

Only 6.6 per cent of the people are literate, and right now they would be wholly incapable of rendering a verdict regarding their country in a plebiscite.

NEW VETERANS HOSPITAL—Here is an architect's sketch of the general medical hospital to be built at Big Spring by the Veterans administration to serve West Texas. Ground-breaking ceremonies marking the start of construction are scheduled for 2::30 p.m. Jan. 30, and Big Spring is inviting all West Texans to attend. The main hospital building, of 250 bed capacity, will stretch 730 feet in length and will contain six floors and basement, plus service areas on the seventh and eighth floors, it will be of brick-faced concrete construction. Construction time has been set at 18 months, and total cost will approach five and three-quarter million dollars. Robert E. McKee, El Paso, is the general contractor, plans and specifications were prepared by Wyatt C. Hedrick, Fort Worth.

Blizzard Strikes New Mexico

(By The United Press)

New Mexico entered its second day of bitterly cold weather today with the promise of little relief to the areas suffering from both the cold and a gas shortage.

The cold wave extended from the northern border southward to the Tucumcari region. The U. S. Weather bureau said that with the exception of isolated mountain areas, the snow would let up and there would be an end to the icy blasts plaguing two-thirds of the state. However, the cold was expected to clamp down even harder on areas in the southwestern part of the state that had been relatively free of the freezing temperatures.

Highways Opened

Officals of the Southern Union Gas Co., said that the natural gas situation was still critical. "We're in the same shape we were yesterday, if not worse," an official said. "The shortage will last as long as the cold snap does," he added.

Gas pressure was very low today along the pipeline effecting Albuquerque, Belen, Los Alamos, Santa Fe, and Bernalillo. At Tesuque the gas was turned back on early today after the pressure had reached a point where no gas could flow through the lines.

State police said all main highways were open, but advised that travel was dangerous. Many side roads across the state were blocked since highway crews have been unable to clear them because of the demand for opening main roads.

Schools Closed

The state capitol building was ordered closed by Gov. Thomas J. Mabry as a gas conservation measure. Industrial users have either already shut down or are converting to oil to ease the situation.

Schools were closed in Santa Fe and Bernalillo counties also. Many other schools were reported closing until the gas supply reaches normal.

The Sunshine State had been relatively free from the cold waves sweeping southward from Canada to the Midwest. But yesterday temperatures started their downward plunge as a mantle of snow slowly eased its way south all the way toward Engle, N. M.

The U. S. Weather bureau described the storm as one of the worst in New Mexico's history. High winds made things trouble-some for highway workers trying to clear the roads. Even where falls of only a few inches were recorded, blasts of from 35 to 50 miles an hour caused five-foot deep drifts and made highways impassable at many points.

15 Below At Raton

State highway officials said that swirling snow will make driving difficult even where roads are cleared. "Stay at home," a highway official said, "unless you absolutely must travel."

Last night, temperatures sank to lows in all parts of the state. It was the fifth straight evening of freezing weather in the Las Vegas area with a reading of 14 degrees below zero. Raton set the low for the state with a 15 below zero recording. Santa Fe had one below, Tucumcari six above, El Morro one above, and Rodeo basked in a warm 16 degrees above zero.

City Workers Attend Legion Hall Dinner

New committee members were named and a report of financial conditions was made at a dinner meeting of the Lubbock Federal Credit Union in the American Legion Hall Tuesday night.

A total of 135 persons attended, weather cutting down an expected larger turnout. The union is made up of a number of city employes.

Five new directors were chosen. They were Gerald Jarvis, Mark Long, W. B. Holden, Harold McInroe and Lloyd Ross. Four directors are holdovers. Sam McMillan and W. O. Sheely were named to the credit committee to serve with holdover A. V. Peek. Readean Barton was re-elected to the supervisory committee to serve with Preston L. Cochran and Vaughn Wilson, holdovers.

Galveston Firm Buys Texas City Paper

DALLAS, Jan. 28 (AP) — The Texas City Sun, a daily and Sunday newspaper owned by O. H. Lachenmeyer, of Cushing, Okla., was acquired today by David C. Leavell, vice president and general manager of the News Publishing Co., at Galveston, it was announced in Dallas where the transaction was closed.

A new corporation, the Mainland Publishing Co., with Leavell as president, has obtained its state charter and will publish the Sun. The new publisher of the Sun will continue in his present capacity with the Galveston News and Tribune.

Directors of the new company include J. W. Butler, president of the Texas City National bank; W. H. Sandberg, general manager of the Texas City Terminal Railway Co., and Mr. Leavell.

Rites Pending For Explosion Victim

Funeral plans had not been completed shortly before noon today for Mrs. F. M. Page, 52, who was killed Tuesday afternoon at her home near O'Donnell when a contrivance being used to thaw out a pressure water pump exploded, it was reported at Rix Funeral Home here, where the body is held.

Mrs. Page and her husband were using the device, described as a tank containing three gallons of kerosene with a hose and "blow-torch" like device, in an effort to thaw out a pressure pump outside their farm home.

Page had returned to the house for a moment when the kerosene exploded and a metal piece on the head of the device struck her in the head, causing instantaneous death.

Page rushed to neighbors for aid, and a Rix Funeral home ambulance was summoned.

Mrs. Page is survived by her husband, a daughter, Mrs. Stacks Stokes of Seagraves, two sons, Ira Page, Wellington, and Carl Page, Abilene; and three grandchilrden.

Production Of Crude Oil Shows Increase

TULSA, Jan. 28 (AP) — The nation's crude oil production continued to set all-time records during the week ended Jan. 24, averaging 5,350,505 barrels daily, the Oil & Gas Journal reported today.

The average was 9,370 barrels over the previous week's figures.

Mississippi's production accounted for the greatest part of the net increase, averaging 117,200 barrels daily, a gain of 6,800 barrels.

Other notable increases included:

Oklahoma, up 2,450 barrels to 409,450 barrels; Arkansas, up 1,200 to 87,000; Kansas, 1,300 to 295,850; Michigan, 1,710 to 45,200; Wyoming, 1,370 to 132,760, and California, 1,300 to 934,900.

Areas with decreases included:

The eastern area, down 820 barrels to 61,980; Illinois, off 2,600 to 167,800; Indiana, 300 to 16,900; Kentucky, 1,200 to 25,900; Louisiana, 400 to 472,750; Montana, 1,360 to 23,730.

Production in Nebraska, New Mexico and Texas was unchanged.

Women Denied Vestry Positions Following Stormy Diocese Vote

AUSTIN, Jan. 28. (AP)—A stormy session in which the Ninety-ninth Annual Council of the Episcopal Diocese of Texas refused to permit women to serve on church vestries, or governing bodies, Tuesday concluded the council's three day convention.

Proposal permitting a maximum of two women to serve on the all-male church vestries was subjected to an hour of parliamentary maneuvering before it was defeated. The controversal issue was first approved by six-vote margin, but was rejected by slimmer majorities in two later counts.

"Male Birthright"

A vigorous attack on the proposal came from the Rev. Charles A. Higgins of Waco, who declared that the spiritual leadership of the church "is a matter of male birthright."

As an argument against the proposal, he cited the Holy Catholic Church of China where he said that women were first admitted to the council, then the vestries and then to the priesthood.

David Faulkner, lay delegate from Houston, scoffed at what he called "objections which say this is an opening wedge for women to get their feet in the door and move out all the vestrymen and even the bishops."

The lengthly argument over parlimentary proceedings, developing after opponents demanded a recount, was termed by George D. Wilson, Houston lay delegate, as "the most rediculous procedure I've ever seen."

School Approved

A resolution, introduced by the Rev. Arthur Knapp to Houston, and adopted by voice vote, without debate, carried approval of the proposed boarding school. It empowered the executive board to continue negotiations with the War Assets administration for the 150 acres and 27 buildings at Camp Swift and to establish the school only if it could be done "without financial obligation" to the council.

Officers elected included; The Rev. Morris Elliott of Lufkin, secretary; H. M. Wilkins, Houston, treasurer; the Rev. F. P. Goodard of Marlin, the Rev. E. H. Gibson, of Galveston, the Rev. Charles Summers of Austin, E. Japhet of Houston, and Fred Catterall Jr. of Austin, members of the standing committee, the Rev. E. Lindgren of Freeport, the Rev. John Bentley of Houston, Isaac Arnold of Houston, Starr Kealhofer, of Austin and H. H. Coffield of Rockdale, members of the executive board; and John Mellinger of Houston, trustee of the church corporation.

Eight condidates for the rank of page will be initiated when members of the Knights of Pythias lodge, 1107 Ave. K, meet next Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock, said Russell Hardin, lodge member.

Melton O. Connell will report Feb. 2 for duty as a weather observer at the weather bureau station north of the city, it was announced this morning. Connell will succeed Thomas H. MacKenzie, who has left to take up duties at a weather station on Swan island in the Carribbean sea. MacKenzie will arrive in New Orleans today, fly to Panama and go in a naval vessel from Panama to Swan island.

Funeral rites were to be conducted at 3 o'clock this afternoon at Rix Funeral Home chapel for Mrs. R. L. Wilkinson, 68, of 1719 Ave. D, who died in Lubbock Memorial hospital early Tuesday of a heart ailment. Dr. M. Norvel Young, Broadway Church of Christ minister, was to officiate, and burial was to be in Lubbock cemetery.

Body of J. T. Norwood, 75, of Paris, who died of a heart attack Tuesday morning at the home of a daughter, Mrs. C. C. Files, 3115 Twenty-first, was sent last night to Paris for funeral services, to be arranged there. Mr. and Mrs. Norwood were visiting here while their daughter went to Mayo Brothers clinic for examination.

Pretty Girls Sought For Valley Tourney

HARLINGEN, Jan. 28 (U.P.) — Austin Anson is looking for the prettiest girls in the valley.

Anson, official of the Texas Citrus and Vegetable Growers and Shippers association, wants the girls to serve orange juice and grapefruit juice and publicize the pride of the valley at the Fruit and Vegetable Golf tournament Feb. 12.

It's a problem to decide which are the prettiest girls, Anson says, knowing many men wouldn't mind the chore at all.

Commission Shake-Up Labeled Political

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., Jan. 28 (U.P.) — Ernest Everly today was the new chairman of the City commission here, replacing Clyde Tingley.

Everly was elected by votes of Commissioners Al Buck and Owen Marron. Tingley and Antonion Morelli abstained from voting in what political observors said was an expected move by the three commissioners to displace Tingley.

Marron introduced the measure to declare the chairmanship vacant because "we have employed a permanent city manager . . . and it seems desireable at this time . . . to make a complete reorganization . . ."

Everly successfully ran with Tingley on a ticket last October that opposed candidates favored by Buck and Marron.

After the vote, Tingley said he didn't mind "being double-crossed," but he didn't want to "see the people double-crossed."

The commission also welcomed its new city manager Lyle Rosenberg at its meeting last night.

CONDITION SATISFACTORY

GALVESTON, Jan. 28. (AP)—Dr. Gayle Scott of Texas Christian university, president of the Southwest conference, was reported "in a satisfactory condition" following a brain operation here Monday.

Embarrassed Editor Blames It On Snow

BRYAN, Jan. 28 (U.P.) — Sam Stickney's face was still a shade red today. Stickney, editor of the Bryan News, left his office yesterday to clean ice off the windshield and windows of his car. After wiping off the glass, he stepped inside the car. Suddenly he discovered he had cleaned the wrong auto. His car was parked around the corner.

"You just couldn't tell the difference with all the snow on it," he said. "And, boy, is my face red."

Beware Coughs Following Flu

After the flu is over and gone, the cough that follows may develop into chronic bronchitis if neglected. Creomulsion relieves promptly because it goes right to the seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ laden phlegm, and aid nature to soothe and heal raw, tender, inflamed bronchial mucous membranes. No matter how many medicines you have tried, tell your druggist to sell you a bottle of Creomulsion with the understanding you must like the way it quickly allays the cough or you are to have your money back.

Salary Of Juvenile Officer Post Cut

BORGER, Jan. 28. (AP)—Borger county officials are looking for a county juvenile officer who will be willing to work for $125 a month in a job which has paid $250 a month.

County Judge Norman Coffee said yesterday that Mrs. Helen Lone whose resignation as juvenile officer becomes effective Saturday, would not be replaced unless her successor wants to work for $125.

Prior to last May the job paid $150 with the city and county sharing costs. The city discontinued its payments on grounds that a county official should not be on two payrolls.
