

Sterling Criticizes Addition To Worm Bill

HOME TOWN TALK

By REDDY

Freight car loadings in the United States for the week ended May 2 showed a net increase of 16,019 over the preceding week.

It is estimated from reliable sources that the Texas & Pacific will this season handle approximately 2,000 cars of the wheat crop.

The Panhandle will this year raise one of the largest wheat crops in history. It is a matter of record that when bountiful harvests are gathered in that territory much congestion and inefficient service for the public is caused by the lack of adequate rail facilities between that area of the primary markets.

Wouldn't it be great if the Texas & Pacific Northern were in operation now. The Santa Fe, the Rock Island, the Fort Worth & Denver and the Texas & Pacific Northern all would have plenty of business without hurting each other.

This particular time—which most everybody has grown used to calling a "quiet period"—is the best time to after new industries, new building houses.

Big Spring is a community is formed by people of the best informed men in the southwest as being "an ideal setup" for development of industries.

When we get our heads together and by cooperative effort procure a score or more industrial plants we can get our back and breath easy when our wide depression period comes.

Give us factories. Give the factories loyal patrons of home people. Then you'll get the most on the community that will make it one of the finest specimens in the country.

The only way to get new industries is to throw all financial and moral support of the entire community into action through one central organization.

The Chamber of Commerce is that organization.

The man who gets red in the face and blisters in the heart when you mention an organization such as the Chamber of Commerce, and then finds his business going down instead of up has no one but himself to blame.

The Herald has by some who dedicate their lives to finding fault, been criticized for supporting the Chamber of Commerce. We take pride in being open to criticism on that point. We would feel unworthy to be included as a part of this community if we did not do all that is in the power of a newspaper for promotion of the work of this organization.

Many a man who refuses to become a member of the Chamber and who absolutely insults his friends who ask him to be a member in profiting every day of his life from things done by the Chamber of Commerce.

C-C Manager Voluntarily Cuts Salary

Watson Urges Directors To Seek Additional Memberships

At Monday evening regular session of the board of directors of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce, C. T. Watson, its manager, voluntarily announced that he was reducing his own salary $25 per month.

Mr. Watson's announcement came as a complete surprise to all members of the board.

In taking the action Mr. Watson pointed out that several months ago when he was offered the management of the Marshall Chamber of Commerce at $3,000 per year, and following unanimous vote of the local board to raise his salary here from $4,000 to $5,000 per year he had his own choice and decided to remain here.

He further pointed out that he did not think that he was drawing too high a salary for normal conditions and the agreement as to salary for this year was made in good faith by both the board and himself.

"I recognize that I may be injuring myself in taking this action," he said. "But I cannot sit here and see the many things that ought to be done and remain inactive because of lack of funds to do them. I am frankly to say that I think the board and other members of the Chamber of Commerce have not been as energetic in obtaining new members and additional funds as they should have been. This fact has contributed to the existing financial condition of the organization.

I am, after carefully considering the merits and without mentioning it to anyone voluntarily reducing my salary $25 per month because I feel by doing this the organization will have a better chance under existing financial conditions to do useful work. I'd rather make this sacrifice myself and see the organization's activity increase than to continue drawing the salary offered me and let its activities be reduced."

The board of directors passed a motion instructing Vice President R. L. Price, who was presiding, to name a committee to draw resolutions of appreciation for Mr. Watson's action. The committee (CONTINUED ON PAGE 6)

Humble Reduces East Texas Crude Oil Price, Declares Regular Dividend

HOUSTON, May 26 (AP)—The Humble Oil and Refining Company today announced a price reduction to 30 cents a barrel for East Texas crude oil.

It was also announced, effective immediately, that East Texas fields would be posted separately from Mexico, Powell and other fields, as formerly.

Thirty-five cents a barrel was the lowest posted, at 25 cents a barrel.

HOUSTON, Texas, May 26 (UP)—Directors of the Humble Oil & Refining Company declared the regular quarterly dividend of 90¢ a share at their meeting here. It is payable July 1, to stockholders of record June 1.

The Sinclair Consolidated Oil Company and the Texas Corporation quickly met Humble's price reductions.

Brindley No. 1 Gets Showing At 3,155 Feet

Prospects For Producer In Semi-Wildcat Area Strong

Extending prospects for one of the most important developments of the past six months in the entire Permian Basin.

Continental Oil Company's No. 1 Brindley, 660 feet from the south and east lines of section 18, block 33, township 1 south, T. & P. survey, eight miles southwest of Big Spring, had strong showing of oil in a formation topped at 3,155 feet.

After topping the oil bearing stratum the rig was shut down for orders until Monday afternoon, and after drilling three hours another shut down continued until 10 o'clock Monday night.

At that time 180 feet of fluid stood in the hole. This was baled out and drilling continued to a total depth of 3,190 at noon Tuesday.

Showing of oil increased steadily. This test, located three-fourths mile north of the old J. B. Harding producer, which was completed more than two years ago in a wild cat area, has elevation 14 feet higher than the Harding well.

Depth at which the showing was topped gave rise to belief among informed observers that prospects for a good producer in the Brindley were unusually bright.

The test is 660 feet south of the Frazier ranch and about the same distance from the Witcox farm corner to the southeast. The Harding holdings are located immediately south.

Panhandle Hard At Work As Warm Weather Sets In

AMARILLO, May 26 (AP)—With the advent of "growing weather" in the Panhandle and South Plains regions during the last two or three weeks agriculture has become the business industry.

When farmers are getting ready to harvest a bountiful crop, beginning within two or three weeks, and crop farmers are in the midst of activities of the planting season. Thousands of acres are being planted daily, and the planting will continue probably for another week.

An abundance of moisture throughout the Panhandle-Plains territory except for scattered spots, has offset the late cold weather that delayed planting in some localities. Practically all of the territory has had ample moisture to bring up any crop that has been planted.

The movement of wheat to the market will begin by June 15. The crop is estimated at 45,000,000 bushels, the largest in history.

Much wheat land will be planted to late row crops and scattered fields of beans and sudan grass. The latter crop will be planted extensively in the Muleshoe district because of the overproduction of grain sorghums, Millet and flax.

Other crops that are being experimented with as substitutes for small grain and grain sorghums are cotton acreage has been cut throughout the territory, and the acreage will be planted to feed crops and vegetables in a movement to "live at home." The production of grain sorghums will be greatly increased, largely because of the cotton crop reduction and the thought of new acres that have been put into cultivation.

Members of the city police department swept down on three houses within the city limits early Monday night, seized a quantity of beer and made three arrests.

At one of the places only eight bottles of beer were found. Fifteen gallons which had not been bottled, were destroyed, according to the return made on the search warrant. The house was located on Lawrence street. The man pleaded guilty before Corporation Judge Tracy T. Smith this morning to a charge of vagrancy and paid a fine of $20.

Fifty six bottles of alleged beer was confiscated following a raid at a house on Nolan Street. The man pleaded guilty to a vagrancy charge and paid a fine of $15.

A $20 fine was paid by a man arrested following a raid on East Fifth Street. At this house seventy-five bottles of beer were taken, with sixteen gallons of fluid poured out.

The raids were conducted by day and night police.

TYLER, May 26 (AP)—Carl Estes, Tyler, secretary of the East Texas Lease, Royalty and Producers' Association, today issued a statement charging that major oil companies had raised a slush fund "to be used in laying down a colossal barrage of propaganda in behalf of monopolistic legislation."

Estes termed his statement a call to arms for every independent oil operator in Texas.

Ruth Nichols: HER CAREER OF THRILLS

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following article is the third in a series of four tracing the career of Ruth Nichols, who plans an Atlantic flight.

By RICHARD MASSOCK NEW YORK (AP)—Romance enough is in the air for sports loving Ruth Nichols.

Determination is one of her strongest characteristics. If it is known what she wants and goes after it. She "runs her own show." Above all she loves flying.

"When do you love better than aviation?" a reporter inquired. "Please, please, let's not get personal," she replied. "When the right man comes along I'll get married."

Ruth Nichols, with all her athletic background, has feminine charm, a quick laugh, girlish health, enthusiasm and the social graces.

She is no feminist, has no affection for rough clothes or outdoor manner. "I like the latest in clothes," she once said. "I use paint and powder in moderation, just enough to make me look right."

She does everything in moderation. It is part of her self-discipline to keep fit. Early to bed and early up is her daily habit.

Amateur Actress Ruth Nichols, with all her athletic background, has feminine charm, a quick laugh, girlish health, enthusiasm and the social graces.

Yet, born into the Social Register blue blood of the blue bloods, she is entirely normal in her social pursuits. She likes to play bridge, is fond of dancing and amateur dramatics. She played in college theatricals and after her "coming out" in 1922 appeared in Junior League productions. She likes the theatre and the movies.

"You can't fly in a high hat," was the way somebody once accounted for her characteristics. She acts quickly with keen perception.

One of her associates is Col. Clarence Chamberlin, ocean flyer, who is grooming her plane for the trans-Atlantic flight. She met Chamberlin at flying fields where their common interests took them, became secretary of his technical bureau.

"Somehow I have acquired the title of technical advisor for Miss Nichols' trans-Atlantic flight," Chamberlin said. "This is not entirely accurate, for she does not take advice, but rather gathers information from all sources and then draws her own conclusions."

Miss Nichols has gone in for winter sports and has driven automobiles, motorcycles, speed boats, and in India, during the round the world cruise, a locomotive. The engine almost ran away with her. She retains an unquenchable ambition to pilot an iceboat and a submarine.

She is five feet five, weighs 125 pounds, has curly brown bobbed hair and blue eyes. She pronounces "da" "dah-ta," but says "yeh" in the next breath.

Her diet is simple and moderate. On long trips she takes sandwiches, hot coffee, hot chocolate and water. That will be her menu on the hop to France.

A Musician, Too She studied music, vocal and piano, eight years. She now plays the piano for her own amusement, but seldom sings.

She knows the wireless code. Her only "living jewelry" is a small necklace, a platinum ring and a half dozen thin gold bracelets on the right wrist. On her left wrist she wears a man's watch on a wide leather strap.

She has a technical vocabulary that only an aviation expert can follow.

Although she has flown virtually every type of sea and land plane, single and multi-motored, she never has been seriously injured.

In the first transcontinental derby for women in 1929, her plane struck a tractor in a field near Columbus, Ohio, and turned over. She was only slightly bruised. She owns a motor car, but never has owned an airplane or a horse in spite of her fondness for flying and riding.

Fearless in a plane, she says high buildings, scenic railways and swift elevators "are anathema" to her.

$500,000 Hike Was 'Suicide' He Declares

Governor Indicates He Will Veto Million-Dollar Measure

AUSTIN, May 26 (AP)—Governor Sterling here today said placing of the $500,000 cattle tick appropriation in the pink bollworm bill was suicide and that he did not see how he could approve the million-dollar special appropriation bill.

Half of the total was for repayment of farmers for losses incurred because of pink bollworm quarantines in 1929 and 1930. Two areas were affected. The West Texas quarantine district, including parts of Howard and Duwain, and a number of neighboring counties would have received $300,000 and a northeast Texas district would have gotten $200,000 for losses in an earlier quarantine.

As originally passed by the house the bill called only for the $300,000 for the West Texas district. The senate adopted two amendments, introduced by Senator Joe Moore of Greenville, bringing the total to one million dollars. The house then concurred in the senate amendments.

Beginning Sunday morning, and continuing for two weeks or longer, three Garden City churches will cooperate in conducting a revival meeting. Services will be held in the high school auditorium.

Announcement of the county-wide revival campaign was made here Monday evening by pastors of the three participating churches. They are J. O. Hean, Baptist; W. B. Andrea, Cumberland Presbyterian; J. W. Bickley, Methodist.

Special arrangements are being made for song services at revival sessions, which will be held at 10 a. m. and 8 p. m. daily.

The opening services of the meeting will be preached by Rev. W. A. Brown of Bellinger.

The Garden City pastors will alternate in the pulpit throughout the meeting.

Students Rotary Guest Of Women At Club Luncheon

Selected by the student body of the Big Spring high school as best exemplifying the code of ethics recently presented by the Rotary Club, four students of the school were introduced to the organization at today's luncheon, held at the Settles Hotel.

The students were David Hopper, Lottie Harrel, Robert Robinson and Connie Compton. They were guests of the club.

The program, in charge of J. B. Pickle, was featured by short talks and musical numbers.

A violin solo was given by Miss Evelyn Jackson, accompanied by Mrs. Herbert Keaton.

"Obie" Bristow, Big Spring high school coach, told of a campaign launched today to raise $1,000 for a football training camp to be held in August.

He discussed the prospects for 1931, and the essential benefits to be received from a summer training camp.

The plan of the campaign, he said, was to raise $1000 by personal solicitation by 100 men.

Bruce Frager announced to the club of a new producer located eight miles from Big Spring, three quarters of a mile northeast of the Harding well.

Declaring the well was "nothing sensational," he said the test had a good showing at 3,155 feet. It stood at 3,180 feet today. It looked as if it would be a good producer for ten to fifteen-year period, he declared.

E. A. Kelley and Scott Collins talked of the attitude foreign countries, in some instances, adopt toward oil.

One-Half Per Cent On Daily Balances Is New Basis

WASHINGTON, May 26 (AP)—The treasury department today announced it was reducing interest on government deposits from one to one-half per cent per annum on daily balances, effective July 1.

It was explained as an aid to the economic condition because banks had found it necessary to reduce interest rates paid on deposits by them.

Coach Seeks Fund To Finance Camp For Grid Training

"Obie" Bristow, new coach of the Big Spring high school, this afternoon will launch a drive to raise $1,000 with which to send the 1931 football squad to camp in August. It was announced today.

The origin of the drive is "anything from twenty-five cents to a section of land."

The drive will be started this afternoon and will continue until the bulk of the money has been obtained.

According to present plans the football training camp will be held in August, just prior to the opening of school in September. It will last from two to three weeks, during which time the squad members will be sent through the paces daily. It is estimated that between 50 and 60 youths will be taken on the camp by Bristow and his assistant mentor, George Brown.

The drive for funds if the first move on Bristow's part to give to Big Spring a winning high school grid aggregation next fall. He was recently elected head coach to succeed Bill Stevens.

LAW FORGOT 2 TOWNS: MAY BE RULED INVALID

INDIANAPOLIS, May 25 (INE)—Because lawmakers at the 1931 session of the Indiana State legislature failed to specify the status of the little towns of Woodruff Place and Beech Grove, the congressional reapportionment act passed by that legislature may be unconstitutional. The law decreases the number of Hoosier congressmen from thirteen to twelve to correspond to the 1930 census.

The state legislature, in dividing Marion county, which contains the city of Indianapolis, between the new eleventh and twelfth congressional districts, ignored assigning the two towns to either district, attorney claim.

In the event that the Federal court, where a question of disenfranchisement may be raised, holds that the law is unconstitutional, attorneys for the towns believe that Governor Harry C. Leslie will be called upon to summon a special session of the state legislature to pass another reapportionment measure.

The fragment was found in 1897 by the Grenfell and Hunt expedition in Egypt, and was unearthed at Oxyrhynchus on the Nile. It was presented to the Museum in 1903. The date it was written has been set at about 250 A. D. controlled largely by the flow of freight, the welfare of the country and of great importance.

Whether 500 or 1,000 or five hundred persons are to be employed in the local industry of the Texas Pacific depends upon the volume of freight handled over the Granite division.

The city's second most important industry of retaining interlockers in some phases of the railroad's business. Due to the onerous fact that the railroad's business is controlled largely by the flow of traffic is controlled largely by the flow of freight, the welfare of the country and of great importance.

Of vital interest, therefore,
is the following editorial from the latest edition of The Railway Age, which presents the position on the question: Shall Freight Rates Be Advanced?

In a period of depression the railways are considering raising a general advance in freight rates. It is a question which is of great importance to the community as a whole.

It is a question which is of great importance to the community as a whole. It is a question which is of great importance to the community
as a whole.

Such institutions have investments in railway bonds which are a large part of their assets. They are a large part of their assets.

The principal of railway bonds is frequently becoming smaller and smaller. It is a question which is of great
importance to the community
as a whole.

In 1930 the average return earned by the railways was only 3.26 per cent upon their property investment. In the first quarter of 1931 it was only two per cent. The latter figure is less than the amount required to pay the fixed charges of the railways as a whole and means that their interest charges are earning them more than they are costing.

What do you, when confronted with such a situation, present
a theory problem to railway executives. They have the responsibility of initiating such measures as may be necessary to remedy the situation, but not the power to adopt some of these measures because of the government regulation to which the railways are subjected. Government policy as well as the depression has created the present railway situation,
and without the assistance
of government authorities railway executives cannot solve the problem it presents unless there is a revival of business and a consequent increase in railway traffic and earnings.

The Question of Wages
In 1921, when the last
previous depression prevailed, the railways sought and
secured reductions of wages, which had been largely advanced under government operation and also by an award of the Interstate Commerce Commission, which in 1920 had authorized a large general advance in rates. It is natural that suggestions should come from various sources that in the present emergency such railway wages should be reduced. In the fall of 1929, however, railway executives and labor leaders,
along with other business and labor leaders, were called together by President Hoover and agreed not to work reductions or advances of wages. Widespread reductions of wages have since been made, but it has continued to be the policy of the national administration, as repeatedly expressed by President Hoover and other spokesmen of the administration, to maintain wages. The railroad industry is subject to regulation by the national government, and naturally railway executives hesitate to disregard a wage policy, repeatedly announced by the administration until they have tried every other available means of solving the problem with which they are confronted.

"Furthermore, railway wages are subject to regulation by the federal Railroad Labor act, which provides that when changes in wages or working conditions are contemplated
first for conference between the railway and their employees, second for mediation by the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Board, third,
if no agreement is reached, for arbitration
by a board appointed by the president of the United States. Labor leaders never have agreed to arbitrate a proposed reduction of railway wages
and could hardly be expected to do so now
when the certain result of their refusal to arbitrate would be the reference of the matter
to a board appointed by President Hoover, who favors maintenance of wages as a means of stimulating business and restoring prosperity.

Railway executives know that all industry and commerce are suffering from the depression. They know that the railways
are subject to more competition from other modes of transportation than ever before, and that in order to secure a greatly increased railway
net operating income through an advance in rates.

"Doubtless the railway situation would be serious if the roads were suffering only from the depression; but this is not the case. The reduction of freight rates
made by the Interstate Commerce Commission
in 1922, subsequent reductions, have amounted to the traffic of 1929 to 100 million tons annually,
and presently the average wage has been increased until it is 5 per cent higher than in 1921.
Many of these reductions
have been unwarranted,
and it has been largely due to them that the railways in spite of good general business have failed to return a fair return and recently as a whole have not been earning their fixed charges. In addition the national government, by subsidizing and failing adequately to regulate other agencies of transportation, have helped to divert traffic
from the railways, much to the disadvantage of the railway industry.

DIZZY DEAN BACK ON BIG TIME NEXT SEASON, SAYS "GABBY"

By LES CONKLIN
 International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, May 25.—Gabby Street, grizzled pilot of the St. Louis Cardinals, is authority for the statement that Dizzy Dean, the colorful rookie pitcher, who failed to make the grade with the National league champions this spring, will be back on the big circuit for keeps next season.

"I think he could win a flock of games for us right now," Street said here recently while discussing the club's prospects, "but I won't have room for him on the roster this year. We had to make room for Inland and outfield reserves, and I had so many older and more experienced pitchers that I had to let Dean go to Houston this season."

Dean was hailed as the most colorful rookie to try out at a big league training camp since "Al" (The Great) Shreve burned to the hotel boiler with his forty-two suits of fancy tailcoat and his rapid-fire line of chatter. Dean had made an impressive showing with the Cards last fall, and he told the world in an interview that he was determined to become the greatest pitcher in the game. The 15-year-old recruit out-gabbed Gabby himself.

Reams of copy were written about Dean and his dealings at the St. Louis training camp this spring. Reports stated that Dean had taken a day off in going through the motions of reporting to the Cardinals, and that he had spent the night in a hotel and subsequently had been told to stay away from the ball park.

Street says there is no truth in the reports, and that he had no serious trouble with the attractive rookie.

Dean is a little bit eccentric, but he is a lot of fun and spirit," said the St. Louis manager. "There is nothing serious or mean about him. He'll be back next year and he'll win a lot of games for us."

Dean had won four straight games for Houston at this writing.

The Water Bucket

BY BOBBY CAMPBELL

The heavyweights are saying it with law books again. Over at Cleveland an engaged-as-payer has filed suit for injunction, restraining the proposed Strickling-Schmeling move June 2 at that city. Of course the judge will require an adverse decision as far as the law books is concerned, but still they're using legal terms instead of boxing gloves. Last instead of the surgeon actually employed by the ringsters. In New York however the two other lead-in heavyweights are involved in a bit of most complicated legal entanglements. Madison Square Garden, which is neither square nor a garden, has been the winner so far in an injunction suit restraining Bruno Carnera from battling Jack Sharkey June 18. The latest verdict, clipped off by a New York judge, was that Carnera should be barred from meeting Sharkey or any other eligible contender without the consent of the Illinois body. It is possible that the Giant battles will end up by meeting the winner of the Strickling-Schmeling bout. Such being the case, Strickling should emerge with the laurels. Schmeling is almost certain to lose the decision to the young Georgian, while Carnera is more of a drawing card simply because Nature endowed him with big feet, a huge frame, and arms that reach to the pavement. Of the whole lot of supposedly heavyweight challengers, Strickling seems to stand out. With Sharkey a close second.

Highway Patrol Success Leads To Adding 50 Men

AUSTIN, May 22 (AP)—Texas experiment with highway patrolmen, equipped with motorcycles and authorized to enforce laws of the road, was so satisfactory after a year, that the state legislature recently increased the personnel by 50 men.

Provisions were made for 50 men initially, and these were put through two weeks' training before they were assigned to highway patrol. The men were selected by the state highway engineer after he submitted questionnaires to all applicants. There were hundreds of those who sought the places.

Hereafter the patrol will consist of 150 men.

The legislature also raised the salary from $5 to $8 per month, and the proposition was approved by a vote of 124 to 10. The bill also increased a general fund for these special law enforcers.

Texas' law-enforcing commission has thus appreciably increased its legislative force of the 27th session, already having a sheriff, a number of deputy sheriffs, constables and deputy constables.

Ten Eggs Weigh Ten Ounces; Hen's Owner Says She Knows Price

SHAMROCK, Texas, May 22 (AP)—A hen owned by A. V. Purcell of this city laid 10 eggs in 10 days and all of them together weighed less than two ounces.

"The lower the price of eggs, the smaller the eggs that hens lay," Purcell said. "Until two weeks ago—that was before she acquired her new economic ideas—she was a good hen and as sensible as you could find any place. Then she went hay-wire, brooding over the low price of eggs. I suppose eggs dropped to 10 cents a dozen and she cut her product to one-fourth of an ounce. The price dropped to eight cents, and now I can hardly find the eggs. They are actually no larger than 'doctor's pills'."

The owner expressed the belief that the hen was trying to make her product conform to the price.

Vote On Proposal To Exempt Small Homesteads From Property Tax Set For November 1932 By Legislature

AUSTIN, May 22 (AP)—The Texas legislature has voted to submit to the voters a proposal to amend the state constitution to exempt from ad valorem tax levy $3,000 taxable value in all homesteads. Advocates of the amendment claim the exemption would lift the ad valorem tax duty entirely from thousands of small home owners. The amendment will be voted on in November, 1932.

Should the amendment be authorized, Texas would become the first state in the union to exempt small homesteads from state taxes. The homesteads would continue liable for local taxes, such as county, road district and school levies. The amendment removing the state assessment against real property to governmental expenses.

Under an existing law homesteads of whatever value are not liable to attachment for debt in Texas. One's homestead cannot be seized under any circumstances.

"However, I cannot let you go. There is nothing in the law that allows a little woman, fighting for herself and her children, to sell whisky. I cannot do for one breaker what I would not do for others."
