

DAYLIGHT DILEMA — David Harker, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Harker, Roy, Utah, finds it's a little difficult to re-adjust sun dial at North Park Elementary School for Daylight Savings Time. Clocks in 47 states were set ahead one hour at 2 a.m. local time Sunday for the annual adjustment.

DST STARTED TODAY

Know What Time It Is?

Good morning. It is a good morning if you know what time it is. If you forgot to set your clock ahead an hour Saturday night, you are behind the times and may have to skip breakfast to get to church or the first tee on time.

Daylight Savings Time began at 2 a.m. today. At that instant it became 3 a.m. Sunsets and sunrises will be retarded an hour for the next six months, until 2 a.m., Oct. 25, when all clocks will be moved back to 1 a.m.

UP TO AN INCH

First Spring Storm

Big Spring got the first taste of a spring storm about 2 a.m. Saturday when a thunderstorm dumped up to one inch of water in town. Brilliant lightning flashes and booming thunder were accompanied by wind and rain for 15 to 30 minutes. South of Big Spring, in Suburban Heights, an inch of moisture was recorded. Mrs. O. R. Crow, Luther, also reported an inch, and 1.2 inches was measured north of town at the Big Spring pump station for the Colorado River Municipal Water District. Other parts of the county received less rain, although just as much thunder and lightning. North of Luther, Edward Simpson recorded .7; the Anderson ranch on the Howard and Borden line received .6; and Lake J. B. Thomas received half an inch. In east Big Spring, .7 was recorded.

Reviewing the . . .

Big Spring Week

. . . with Joe Pickle

It looked for a time Saturday morning as if the spring automobile show had worked its usual weather magic. We had a violent early-morning storm and then an ominous overcast before skies cleared and perfect weather greeted the shining new models at Highland South. Meanwhile, Big Spring soaked in an inch of rain which will perpetuate the greenery and further stimulate the gaudy wildflower displays. This will settle the furrow beds so that most farmers will rush to plant before the week is out. Yet ranchers are worried about dwindling stock water supplies and are concerned about a record weed cover sapping moisture from the grass.

Another tremendous boost has come to the All-Faith Chapel project for Big Spring State Hospital. Mrs. R. L. Tollett, John Burgess and Cecil Guthrie, trustees for the Siblings Foundation established by her and the late Raymond Tollett, announced they are liquidating the foundation. All proceeds will be turned over to the chapel — a push that could put the effort in a position to succeed.

If you are one of those people who awake by habit, then you're running an hour late today. Just turn up your clock and hurry — you can (See THE WEEK, Page 4-A, Col. 3)

Awesome Clouds Stalk Across Jittery State

Winds, Rain, Hail Not Too Damaging

By The Associated Press
Heavy thunderstorms, spawning tornadoes that did little damage and some high winds and light hail, crashed over North Central Texas and sections of the state's northeastern area Saturday.

Aweome dark clouds, terrifying in appearance but for the most part harmless, kept a large section of the state jittery until just before dusk when the heaviest weather seemed to be dissipating.

Tornado watches, tornado warnings and cautions on severe thunderstorms stumbled over one another, but the wild weather produced its worst blows at Paris, on the Red River in Northeast Texas. There, a tornado's outer perimeter damaged the Pleasant Grove Nursing Home, but caused only one injury, an employee cut by flying glass.

A heavy storm flooded Dallas International Motor Speedway to cancel qualifying for Sunday's Trans-American sedan race.

The same storm dumped light hail and torrents of rain on the Dallas-Fort Worth area, flooding some underpasses, blowing in plate-glass windows and causing at least one downtown business in Dallas to close because of windblown water damage.

Just before dark, employees tried to remove windblown rain from a number of downtown businesses and show windows.

Hours after the twister struck its glancing blow at Paris, heavy thunderstorms raked the area from 25 miles east of the city to 30 miles west of Waco.

At the same time, skies became only partly cloudy for awhile in the Dallas-Fort Worth region. Another section of storms raked the Texas-Oklahoma section from near McAlester to west of Texarkana.

Thunderstorms formed in the Stamford-Baird section east of Abilene but weakened and then broke up to move near Comanche with little punch.

One of the North Central Texas tornadoes touched down near Watauga in the northeastern section of Tarrant County at mid-afternoon. It remained aloft another 15 or 20 minutes and disappeared after blowing over a windmill and damaging a barn.

The storms began in Dallas before dawn and headed northeast, creating damage as they went, ending their Texas journey four hours later near Texarkana.

Scattered thunderstorms erupted over much of the area from Dallas north to the Red River during the morning—not a part of the tornado movement.

The tornado at Paris severely injured William Bell, 30, cut by glass when the twister struck the service station he operates near the nursing home. The roof of another service station was ripped off.

Two persons suffered injuries at Irving when what was described as a tornado overturned about six trailer homes.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Eggert were injured near Terrell when their trailer home was demolished.

A tornado that dipped down near Graham in North Central Texas in the afternoon blew an equipment barn 500 feet and demolished it. A grain truck and a pickup were overturned while at a lake in the Graham area.

Dallas suffered widespread damage—not great at any place before dawn. A part of downtown was cordoned off by police because some store fronts lost all their windows. Some windows were destroyed high up in tall buildings. Power lines were severed.

High winds unroofed an apartment house at Mesquite near Dallas, and other damage occurred there. Richardson, just outside Dallas, suffered some damage. Five airplanes were heavily damaged and the administration building blown away at Air Park on Dallas' outskirts.

Farms in the Redwater community 12 miles west of Texarkana suffered extensive damage to outbuildings from a tornado that hit about 9 a.m.

Death Penalty

DALLAS (AP) — The death penalty was assessed Saturday to John Lewis Abron, 22, convicted Friday of raping a young Dallas housewife three times and then attempting to burn her to death with gasoline.

After being raped, the young woman was tied and blindfolded when she heard the assailant enter the room and felt gasoline being poured over her body. She said she struggled free while the rapist was in another room, apparently looking for matches.

Four Killed

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Four persons were killed in a two-car collision in a blinding rainstorm Saturday about 17 miles north of Paris on U.S. 271.

Three of the dead, all taken to McCuiston Hospital in Paris, occupied one car. It was struck broadside by a car driven by the unidentified man.

The lone survivor was an identified boy, 8, only as Steve, he also is at McCuiston Hospital with leg injuries.

Late Bulletins

Plane Hijacked

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — A Brazilian commercial jetliner was hijacked Saturday and ordered to stop at Georgetown, Guyana, for fuel before heading for Cuba, Brazilian air force officials said. It carried 38 passengers and a crew of seven.

The Boeing 737 of the Sao Paulo state airline Viaçao Aerea de Sao Paulo was bound from Brasilia and was taken over shortly before a scheduled landing at the Amazon capital of Manaus in northeastern Brazil, the officials said. VASP normally flies only domestic routes.

McFarlin Dies

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — E. B. McFarlin, a Texas farmboy who built a multi-million dollar oil empire and became one of San Antonio's leading philanthropists, died early Saturday after an extended illness.

McFarlin, 84, had been ill for two years and in critical condition at Southwest Texas Methodist Hospital after suffering a stroke several weeks ago.

Red China Joins 'Satellite Club'

TOKYO (AP) — Communist China announced it had put into orbit its first satellite—a 381-pound package that plays a song honoring Mao Tse-tung.

The announcement did not say what else the satellite might be doing or what sort of rocket carried it into a high, looping orbit in space Friday.

The success made Communist China the fifth nation to put its own satellite into orbit. The Soviet Union was first in 1957, followed by the United States in 1958, France in 1965 and Japan, which put a 24-pound payload into orbit Feb. 11.

Although the Chinese made no immediate reference to the satellite's military significance, surprised Japanese officials and scientists quickly noted that China—already a nuclear nation—apparently had the ingredients now for an intercontinental ballistic missile.

In Washington, however, the U.S. Defense Department said the launching came as no surprise. It said the achievement "obviously reflects the significant progress" in China.

The U.S. North American Air Defense Command headquarters in Colorado Springs, Colo., confirmed Peking's announcement that the satellite was circling the globe every 114 minutes at a distance from the earth ranging from 273 miles to 1,490 miles. NORAD said the satellite will pass over several U.S. cities, including New York, Honolulu and San Francisco, but will probably not be visible to the naked eye.

Peking radio and the New China—Hsinhua—news agency broadcast a timetable for the satellite's passage over various cities, including Moscow, Saigon, London, Washington, Tokyo and—in a section for "cities of the motherland"—Taipei and Hong Kong. Taipei is the capital of the rival Nationalist Chinese government.

The Chinese also announced they had received and recorded the music of the song "Tungfanguang (The East Is Red)," in praise of their great leader Chairman Mao, and telemetric signals coming in from the satellite. They began rebroadcasting them.

To some, the surprise was not in China's degree of rocketry skill but in the fact that the Chinese chose to use a space satellite to show it off rather than a test launching of a long-range missile.

But, as a Japanese Foreign Ministry source noted, missile firings—if done into the ocean—involve political problems and probably the sending of ships to the test range.

The Pentagon pointed out that Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird told Congress in February that the Chinese "will attempt to test launch their first ICBM or space booster in the near future."

NEW GIFTS TO CHAPEL FUND — Dr. Preston Harrison (center) and Chaplain Lee Butler of Big Spring State Hospital accept from Mrs. Raymond L. Tollett a portfolio representing the assets of the Siblings Foundation, which has been dissolved and all its holdings turned to the fund to construct an All Faith chapel on the campus of the hospital. It is estimated that the Foundation assets could approach $75,000. At the same time, C. W. Guthrie who, with Mrs. Tollett and Joe Moss comprise the board of trustees of the Foundation, made a personal gift of $5,000.

All Faith Chapel Fund Given Two Major Gifts

Two major gifts, which virtually assure an early calling for bids to construct an All Faith chapel on the campus of Big Spring State Hospital, were announced Saturday.

One, which could approach $75,000 in value, came from the Siblings Foundation, which was dissolved by Mrs. Raymond L. Tollett, president, and co-trustees C. W. Guthrie and Joe Moss. It was Mrs. Tollett's wish that all the Foundation's assets go to the chapel fund.

These consist of cash, real estate, bank and oil stocks and notes receivable. Jack Y. Smith, treasurer of the Chapel Fund, said that the actual value can be determined only after some liquidation and further appraisal, but that the $75,000 value is a reliable estimate.

At the same time, Guthrie, well known independent oil operator, announced a cash gift to the chapel fund of $5,000.

The Siblings Foundation was established as a philanthropic organization in 1956 by the late Raymond Tollett. Through it, a number of charities and educational projects benefited.

After his death, it was Mrs. Tollett's decision to turn all the assets to the chapel fund, since that project got its major early start with a $32,000 gift from the couple.

Members of the All Faith Chapel Fund (itself a non-profit, tax-exempt organization) were elated with the new developments, as were Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent, and other staff members at the hospital.

Before the new gifts, the chapel fund had about $107,000 on hand. It has been estimated that, to take bids on the building itself, some $150,000 cash would be required.

The chapel fund ultimately seeks $200,000, which would cover furnishings and fixtures, contingencies and some preliminary operating costs.

Since the state cannot legally appropriate money for religious facilities, the fund has been growing through public subscription, both large and small.

"These gifts are most enriching to our project," said Dr. Harrison, Chaplain Lee Butler of the hospital and Louis McKnight, All - Faith Chapel, Inc., vice president. "We think they have put us in position to move ahead with construction plans, something we have dreamed of for years. All we can say is simply that we are deeply, deeply, grateful."

Frank Hayford of Midland, president of All-Faith Chapel Inc., could not be present for acceptance of the gifts.

McKnight and Smith said they are sure Hayford will call an early meeting of the entire board to analyze funds on hand and immediately available, so that a "go-ahead" on construction might be ordered soon.

The facility is planned to provide worship facilities for persons of all faiths, as well as offices, workrooms and associated areas to carry on ministerial counseling and chaplain contacts with the hospital patients.

Pay Hike Boosts Economy

A pay increase for federal workers in civil service — made retroactive to the last pay day in 1969 — could result in a total of close to $450,000 higher annual payrolls into the Big Spring community.

This figure is not exact, since not all agencies could be contacted, and there could be some variables.

However, the civil service pay was increased by six per cent. This was made retroactive to last December 27-28, and most workers have felt the impact already of this "catch-up" in the salary boosts. Paydays this past week reflected the gain.

Postal workers have already received payment on the retroactive basis. Another eight per cent increase has been proposed for this group as part of the postal reform measure and would not affect other civil service workers.

Not included in the increase are those federal employees at several local installations who are grouped under a special wage board authorization, and whose wages are geared to area pay rates.

Civil service workers at Webb Friday received an augmented total payroll of $39,000. By the end of the fiscal year — June 30 — it is expected that the additional pay will have totaled $80,000. There is no projection beyond the fiscal year end.

Some 75 workers at the local post office have shared in the six per cent increase to the extent of an estimated $33,500. The Veterans Administration Hospital estimated some $104,000 annually for 180 employees.

Other federal agencies whose employees share in the salary hike (in close approximations) are Social Security, $6,400; Internal Revenue Service, $2,000; Selective Service, $1,000; Soil and Water Conservation Research, about $2,500; Agr. Stabilization and Conservation, approximately the same; Federal Housing Administration, $1,000; Soil Conservation Areas Office, $4,000; Soil Conservation Work Unit, $2,500.

Some other agencies not immediately contacted are involved.

At the end of May, Air Force officers and men will enjoy a handsome pay day, thanks to an 8.1 per cent across-the-board raise, which will be retroactive to Jan. 1.

The upcoming military increase is the result of a provision in the 1967 military pay bill which required that future federal civilian pay increases be accompanied by similar increases in military compensation.

MOORE MEMORIES — Ted Phillips and Mrs. Norman Read look over an old roster of teachers in the Moore Community, while Mrs. H. G. Hill and Mrs. Lee Castle (right) look on. All four taught at the Moore school before the tiny district was dissolved and absorbed into larger districts. Mrs. Read was also Phillips' first grade teacher in the Moore School.

Former Moore Teachers Recall 'Good Ole Days'

By JEAN FANNIN

Teaching in the "good ole days" meant walking several miles in all kinds of weather to a one-room school house heated by a coal- or wood-burning stove and teaching between 40 and 50 students in four different grades.

Those are the memories of Mrs. Lee Castle, Mrs. H. G. Hill and Mrs. Norman Read, all former teachers in the Moore community.

They will be joining past and present Moore residents today at 1 p.m. in the Howard County Junior College Student Union Building for the eighth annual Moore Reunion.

Although Moore community still exists, about six miles northwest of Big Spring, the school was dissolved after a fire destroyed the building in February, 1945. Moore students now attend school in Big Spring, Center Point and Ackerly.

Mrs. Zarah LeFevre, president of the Moore Community Reunion, said families and friends of former and current Moore residents are invited to attend the reunion to reminisce.

Mrs. H. G. Hill taught in the school from 1912 to 1914. Although the school was only a one-room building, the students were divided into two classes by a curtain drawn across the middle of the room. Mrs. Hill had about 50 students, and she taught the first four grades.

"We taught the 'three R's' and that's about it," she said. "In the fourth grade, we added geography." She was 17 when she started teaching. She graduated from the Moore school and then attended "summer normal" school in Big Spring to get her teaching certificate.

"We took a few advanced courses in normal school, and then took a state teacher's exam to get our certificates," she said.

Mrs. Norman Read taught at Moore in 1916 and 1917, in a new school building that was still just one room, but had a sliding partition to separate the two classes.

"On Friday night they slid back the partition to make one large room, and we held literaries," Mrs. Read recalled. "The entire community would come to the schoolhouse to hear a program. The children would give recitations and sing songs. It was the biggest event in the community."

The school had a pump organ and the teacher was required to provide the music for the literaries, Mrs. Read said. "I knew only marches, so no matter what the children did, they did it to a march," she laughed.

By the time Mrs. Castle began teaching in 1919 the school had grown even more, and students then went to school in a three-room building, although there were only two teachers.

"That was just after a terrible drought," Mrs. Castle said, "and a lot of people had left." She taught the first four grades also, but only had about 25 or 30 students.

School was only in session six or seven months during the year, and class was held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. "We had to start late because all the students had to help harvest the cotton. Cotton always came first."

Mrs. Castle also said she didn't remember any days school was cancelled because of the weather. She said some of her students had to come three miles to school, and she can remember some coming in so cold she had to rub their arms and legs to help them get warm.

She said there weren't many paved roads, although about half the people at Moore owned automobiles. She also said it took about 40 minutes to get to Big Spring from the community.

Four Teens Bound Over

CASA GRANDE, Ariz. (AP) — Four teenagers charged in a rock-throwing incident that resulted in the death of an Abilene, Tex., truck driver were bound over to Superior Court for trial.

Tony Leon, Benny Ortega, Argelio Cortez and Tony Munoz are charged with two counts of assault with a deadly weapon and one open count of murder.

An assault with a deadly weapon charge was dismissed.

The youths, 17 and 18, are accused of throwing a rock off an Interstate 10 overpass near Casa Grande which caused Clarence Warden, 44, of Abilene, Tex., to lose control of his truck and crash Jan. 24.

No trial date was set. Justice of Peace George Pickrell said charges were dismissed against Augustine Herrera, 17, who was with the four and was a witness.

Former Queen's Earrings Sold

GENEVA (AP) — A pair of diamond pendant earrings reportedly owned by former Queen Soroya of Iran has brought $510,000 from an anonymous buyer at a jewelry auction.

The auctioneering firm identified the earrings as "the property of a former queen," but declined to confirm that they were a present from the Shah to Soroya before he divorced her.

SHARP LOSS — The stock market tumbled this week, with Dow Jones average of 30 industrials falling 28.65 to close at 747.29 on Friday. The Associated Press 60-stock average declined 9.9 to 262.9 over the same period.

Market Prices On The Brink Of Dipping To Lowest Level

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices stand on the brink of falling to their lowest level in six years.

The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials during the past week topped 28.65 points to 747.29, edging closer to the year's low of 744.06 registered on Jan. 30.

Beyond that, the next lower level was 741.00 on Nov. 27, 1963.

Analysts say investors are discouraged with the stock market and are staying away from it. They say investors were concerned with a deteriorating situation in Cambodia, inflation and poor first quarter earnings reports by companies, among other factors.

Their attitude, analysts say, is to keep out of the market until some encouraging sign appears.

The market on Friday went through the 17th consecutive session in which declines outran advances. Analysts said this indicated the market was heavily over sold.

The Associated Press 60-stock average fell 9.9 points to 262.9 during the week. Standard & Poor's 500-stock average sank

2.90 to 82.77, a new low for the year.

Big Board volume rose to 49 million shares from the 45 million the week before.

On the New York exchange declines led advances 1,446 to 199 among the 1,765 issues traded. There were 693 new lows for the year and 27 new highs.

The New York exchange's index of some 1,200 common stocks dropped 1.76 to 45.53.

Among the week's most-active issues, 17 declined, two advanced and one was unchanged.

The five most active issues on the New York exchange were:

Parke Davis, down 4 1/4 to 21 1/4 on 820,400 shares; Telex, down 24 1/4 to 89 1/4; American Telephone, unchanged at 49 1/4; Xerox, down 1 1/4 to 83; and Transcontinental Investing, up 3/4 to 8 1/4.

The five most active issues on the American Stock Exchange included Milgo Electronics, down 4 1/4 to 26 1/4 on 553,700 shares; Summit Organization, down 2 1/4 to 3 1/4; Fleetwood Enterprises, down 4 to 17 1/4; Digital Equipment, down 5 1/4 to 84 1/4; and Four Seasons Nursing, down 8 1/4 to 32 1/4.

Large price declines ran through all departments of the bond market again during the past week. Municipal bond prices declined for the fourth consecutive week.

Three-month Treasury bills climbed one point to 6.76 percent, highest level since mid-March.

Study Of Boycott Ends, No Report Yet Issued

UVALDE, Tex. (AP) — Special representatives of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the Civil Rights Commission had completed their investigation Saturday of a boycott of the Uvalde public schools by approximately 600 Mexican-American pupils.

No report was issued immediately.

A spokesman for the school system says that talks with parents of the protesting pupils have been unproductive.

Leaders of the strike say the boycotters' parents have voiced support of the walkout, triggered by the all-Anglo school board's refusal to renew a Mexican-American teacher's contract.

The school board says that it is willing to discuss a list of 14 grievances only after the pupils return to school.

A little more than half of the 3,650 pupils in the Uvalde school system are Mexican-American.

In other developments, officials said the Uvalde walkout is expected to enter the discussion at a school board meeting Monday in nearby Crystal City, where more than 1,000 Mexican-American pupils staged a lengthy school boycott last December.

John Briggs, recently named school superintendent at Crystal

City, said the school board is expected to discuss allowing seniors in the Uvalde boycott to enter Crystal City High School so they can graduate this spring.

He said it was possible that a few of the pupils could be enrolled there if the board approves such a proposal.

About 30 striking seniors tried unsuccessfully to enroll in the San Felipe school district at Del Rio a few days ago.

Strike leaders said they had asked federal and state agencies for the investigation of the local schools.

The boycotters, who left school April 14, now are demanding such items as bilingual and bicultural education, more Mexican-American counselors and teachers and the replacement of a school principal.

Nacogdoches Demonstration

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP)—A group of 140—composed of white and Negro students and a few faculty members from Stephen F. Austin State University—staged a peaceful, two-hour demonstration in the downtown section of Nacogdoches Saturday.

They carried picket signs, some of which read "Nacogdoches Unfair" and "People Power."

The demonstrators stayed on the sidewalks and, following their two-hour circling of the area around the Federal Building, returned to the Stephen F. Austin campus.

The march followed a rally of the students Friday night in a Negro church.

The students said they are campaigning for "justice, respect and better housing" among other things.

Late Friday, a large number of students gathered around the courthouse where a 21-year-old Negro woman was arraigned on four counts of forging and passing bad checks. A number of law enforcement officers patrolled the area but there were no incidents.

Forsan Youth Seriously Hurt

Robert Wash, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wash, Forsan, underwent 3 1/2 hours of surgery Friday afternoon after he stuck his right hand through a window, severing all the tendons and ligaments.

The teenager was apparently running to the door of the schoolhouse and stuck his hand through a window in the door shortly after noon. He is hospitalized in room 131, Medical Center Memorial Hospital. Doctors said it will be some time before it is known whether he will completely recover the use of his hand.

Wins 2nd Place

Rose Cordes placed second in the Regional UIL contests at Odessa Saturday, competing in the shorthand competition. She is not eligible to enter the state UIL contest, to be held in Austin in two weeks. She will be representing the West Texas schools, along with the first place winner, Mrs. Betty Lou Green is her Big Spring High School teacher.

BOTH ARE SURPRISE CELEBRITIES

Nurse Rarely Sees Spaceman

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Mary Larocque met John L. Swigert Jr. when he was a relatively unknown astronaut. Now that he's a surprise celebrity, she says, she hardly ever sees him.

Miss Larocque, a very pretty 24-year-old Syracuse, N.Y., nurse, met Swigert, 38, when he was the back-up pilot on Apollo 13.

They met at Cape Kennedy, Fla., the nation's space port. She was there visiting her brother, an engineer. Swigert was there training as an understudy for the Apollo 13 moon flight.

They dated steadily and made plans to date again after Apollo 13 was launched. She was to take a few days off from the Syracuse, N.Y., hospital where she is an operating room nurse and come back to the Cape.

But shortly before, Swigert called and told her to stay in Syracuse. He was going to the moon, he said, as command module pilot on Apollo 13. He was stepping in for Thomas K. Mattingly II, the astronaut forced off the flight by an exposure to German measles.

"I was excited for him," she said of Swigert. "He was so confident he would be all right."

Miss Larocque stayed in Syracuse and followed the flight's progress on radio and television.

She was at her apartment when she learned of the explosion which crippled Apollo 13, aborted the moon landing and threatened the astronauts.

"I felt terrible," said Miss Larocque of the hours that followed. "I was miserable until they splashed down Friday (April 17)."

Miss Larocque had to take over as supervisor of the operating room and says now that it was probably a good thing.

"I was so busy, I didn't have time to worry," she says.

After Apollo 13 landed in the South Pacific, she said, her telephone at home started ringing.

"I was at the hospital and my little brother kept telling me mission control was on the telephone and I kept wondering what was going on," she recalls.

When she finally could take the call, she heard Swigert's voice on the other end. He was calling from the two Jima, prime recovery ship in the South Pacific. He invited her to Houston.

Miss Larocque is the house guest here of another astronaut and his wife and says she and Swigert have had little time together.

"I just barely met him a month and a half ago and we're just getting to know each other," she says. "It's very difficult now with all this notoriety. It was nicer when he was just back-up on Apollo 13."

Swigert, who is the first American bachelor to fly into space, is spending long hours debriefing on the Apollo 13 flight. He also made a quick trip to Washington to testify before the Senate Space Committee.

What does she think life is like for astronauts' wives?

"Most of the time it's kind of lonely," she said. "Luckily, they (the wives) have each other."

Miss Larocque and Swigert have no formal engagement or wedding plans.

"I'd just like to get to know him better," she says.

THE WEEK

still make it to Sunday school and church.

Believe it or not — and it's hard to believe — the first primaries are less than a week away. Absentee voting continues through Tuesday. Voters write their decisions on Saturday.

Last week was another depressing one because of the loss of servicemen either from here or with Big Spring connections. Mrs. Mary Montana learned her husband, Spec. Rosendo Montana, who also is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Garcia, is missing in action near Pleiku, Vietnam. He was on his second tour of duty there. Word also was received that Capt. Frank D. Summers, 26, a native of Big Spring and son of Mrs. and the late Burke Summers, had been killed in Vietnam April 12. Saturday, word came that Lt. John (Cline) Towle, a March, 1968 graduate of Webb AFB, had been lost when his C-130 had been shot down over Laos. The body of Huey D. Rogers, also of Big Spring and a Webb graduate, has been recovered from his transport plane in Laos.

A couple of organizations are getting new homes. The Western Sportsmen's Club and Mesquite Gun Club have combined under the former's title and will put in a new range eight miles west on the Andrews Highway. Nearer to town, just beyond Steere Truck Lines, the Howard County Sheriff's Posse is developing a 10-acre site with two arenas, corrals, and later with stables and a clubhouse.

Big Spring city commissioners have asked the Texas Pollution Board to extend the city's time for sewer plant changes in order to study the situation more accurately. The plant, constructed to meet specifications under the old code, has to be modified in some manner to meet new requirements.

The Chamber of Commerce has come up with a new program to encourage beautification — a Yard of the Month contest. It doesn't take a big or pretentious yard to win — just the will to do a lot with what you have.

Industrial arts students from Big Spring High School gave a good account of themselves a week ago, winning seven first places and three each for second and third in district competition. First place winners were to have competed Saturday in regional eliminations.

And, it should be chronicled, of course, that the fifth annual Zale's-Herald Youth Achievement banquet was a great success. Top winners were Kelly Joe Gaskins of Knott at Sands High; Molly McKinney at Coahoma; Randy Rister at Forsan; and Lynn Cauley at Big Spring.

Seven men at St. Lawrence are among those cited for outstanding grain sorghum production last year. Each of them made the carload ratings by having produced at least that much grain. Some doubled it. St. Lawrence has some real farmers.

Near tragedy resulted in a one-car mishap involving Big Springers at Abilene. Critically injured was Gwendolyn Benjamin, 15, who, at last reports, was making some progress.

Oh yes, Gerald Miller of the Soil Conservation Service tells us that those lovely spreads of purple-white flowers in eastern Howard County are astragalus Wrightii, a member of the loco family.

POW Wives, Perot Planning To Testify

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wives of American prisoners of war in Vietnam and wealthy Texan H. Ross Perot will appear before a House Foreign Affairs subcommittee this week as it continues to explore the POW treatment issue.

"Although Hanoi recently has released additional names of prisoners held in North Vietnam, it still refuses to live up to the humane standards of the Geneva Convention on treatment of prisoners of war," Chairman Clement J. Zablocki, D-Wis., said in announcing the plans Saturday.

"We must continue to demonstrate our concern for our prisoners and to show the North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong that the people of the United States, and the world, condemn their present conduct," he added.

The sessions, scheduled for Wednesday and Friday, will coincide with a bipartisan, congressional sponsored rally on behalf of American prisoners of war at Constitution Hall May 1.

Congress already has approved a resolution calling for humane treatment of U.S. GIs, release of the POWs' names and permission for them to write letters home.

Wives expected to appear at the Friday session include:

—Mrs. Jane Denton of Virginia Beach, Va., whose Navy captain husband, Jeremiah, has been confirmed as a prisoner since 1965. She has heard from her husband.

—Mrs. Valerie Kusner of Danville, Va., whose physician husband, Floyd, a major in the Army Medical Corps, has been a prisoner in South Vietnam for 2½ years. She has heard of him only indirectly and has been to Cambodia in efforts to get word.

—Mrs. Lorraine Ramsay of Jacksonville, N.C., whose Marine major husband, Charles J. was shot down while serving as an air observer over North Vietnam. He is reported missing in action.

—Mrs. Sybil Stockdale of Coronado, Calif., founder and national coordinator of the League of Wives of American Vietnam Prisoners of War. Her husband, Navy Capt. James B. Stockdale, has been held as a prisoner since 1965. She has been to Paris to talk with representatives of the North Vietnamese government.

Perot's appearance will be his first before a congressional panel since he embarked on a personally financed attempt at bringing relief to U.S. military personnel being held by North Vietnam and the National Liberation Front.

Mutiny Ends In Trinidad

PORT OF SPAIN, Trinidad (AP) — A mutiny at army headquarters ended Saturday when rebel troops released about 30 hostages and began turning in their weapons, police officials reported.

But six U.S. Navy ships were reported by the Pentagon in Washington to be remaining on station 50-60 miles off this island nation despite a government appeal for all foreign ships which came into the area last week under alert status to leave.

The U.S. vessels were dispatched from San Juan, P.R., to Rico with the mission of safeguarding U.S. lives and property if conditions here grew worse than they had been.

Port of Spain, capital of this new country called Trinidad and Tobago, bustling with shoppers Saturday morning, but shops still had their windows boarded up.

Acting Police Commissioner Tony May said the dissenting soldiers were now under the authority of the 720-man army's new commander, Col. Joffre Serrette, and that the situation inside the Tetrion Bay Army Base was close to normal.

May said he was informed that the rebel officers and men would be paid and carry on their duties pending an investigation into circumstances of the mutiny, which began last Tuesday, by a special military commission set up Friday by the Cabinet of Prime Minister Eric Williams.

The mutiny occurred the same day that the government issued a state of emergency order to curb increasingly violent Black Power demonstrations. Later in the day there was rioting down town.

May, however, said the mutiny, while precipitated by the state of emergency, had nothing to do with the Black Power movement. He said it was caused by dissatisfaction with working conditions within the army.

With the end of the mutiny, the boiling political crisis in the strife-torn Caribbean republic appeared to be cooling off.

Police have in custody 17 Black Power leaders accused of stirring up violent demonstrations and incidents which led up to the state of emergency. The militants are dissatisfied with Williams' efforts in getting control of the nation's economy out of the hands of a small minority of white owners from outside the country.

The police said a dusk-to-dawn curfew and police patrols and roadblocks would continue until further notice, even though the mutiny within the army was being resolved.

Police reported three minor incidents during the night. One involved the throwing of a Molotov cocktail into the home of a senior police superintendent. Officials said it was extinguished before doing any damage.

Defense Spending Cuts Are Earmarked

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress resumes its running argument over military spending and national priorities Wednesday when House critics seek to slice a $4.5 billion from the $20.2 billion defense weapons authorization.

But they really expect to win a $25-million cut at best.

They'll be trying to stop all MIRV nuclear-warhead buys during the U.S.-Soviet disarmament talks; cut all procurement money for the Safeguard antimissile system; and trim money for ships and three planes.

But House leaders including Chairman L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., of the Armed Services Committee say military weapons spending already is at rock bottom in the face of a Soviet missile buildup now and a potential Chinese nuclear threat in the 1980s.

Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, retiring chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, is quoted in a report by Rivers' committee as saying the spending requests "are at the borderline of acceptable military risks in the present circumstances."

A staff organizer of the effort to cut $4.5 billion from the weapons procurement authorization conceded: "Whatever Rivers doesn't want (in cuts) we won't get."

But the critics have high hopes for an amendment by Rep. Charles S. Gubser, R-Calif., to cut $25 million for long-lead parts purchases for five possible future Safeguard sites. The cut would leave $15 million for other advance work for the sites.

Efforts to block all Safeguard expansion beyond the original two sites—$203 million for in-

Four Killed After Chase

DALLAS (AP) — A high speed chase that ended in a collision killed four persons and injured six Friday night.

Police say a pickup truck driven by Bill McNutt, 25, and a white station wagon with a driver and five passengers collided at a Southeast Dallas intersection Friday night.

Police Sgt. R. L. Studebaker identified the dead as Jimmie Ruth Davis, 31; Judy Davis, 15; Karen Schmidt, 15, and David Schmidt, 7.

All of the dead and two of the injured were occupants of the station wagon. Hospital attendants said two of the injured were in critical condition—Daniel Schmidt, 4, and Shirley Reindollar, 17.

Officers said the driver of the station wagon, Mrs. Darrell Schmidt, 35, and McNutt escaped with minor injuries.

Patrolman J.E. Gross said a white sedan hurtled from a gas station driveway as he passed and its driver shouted to him, "They're chasing me!"

A pickup truck pursued the sedan at a high speed, the officer said, and he wheeled his prowl car around to follow.

As Gross reached an intersection, he said he found the wrecked pickup in the middle of the street and the Schmidt station wagon smashing a utility pole after being struck broadside.

Shumway Is CC President

WASHINGTON (AP) — F. Ritter Shumway, head of a company active in the health-equipment market and in pollution control, was announced Saturday as the president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

Shumway, 64, is board chairman and chief executive officer of Sybron Corp., of Rochester, N.Y., an international company with annual sales of about $300 million largely in equipment and supplies for health services and for pollution control and other specialized applications.

Shumway will take over at the chamber's annual convention starting Monday. He succeeds Jenkin Lloyd Jones, editor and publisher of The Tulsa Tribune, who becomes board chairman.

Elected as divisional vice presidents were William F. Knowland, Oakland, Calif.; William S. Lowe, Mexico, Mo.; Clinton Morrison, Minneapolis; Henry S. Coleman, Daytona Beach, Fla.; A. Hugh Forster, Lancaster, Pa.; and Charles H. Smith Jr., Cleveland, Ohio.

Officers serve one-year terms.

Haiti Remains Blocked Off

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — President Francois Duvalier claimed Saturday to have choked off a mutiny in the Haitian coast guard, but he acknowledged that rebels who fired on the capital city of Port au Prince from three vessels were still at large.

Duvalier, however, kept his Caribbean nation sealed off from the outside. Airline flights and direct telephone calls from the United States were blocked.

Air France dispatched a plane from Miami Saturday morning with Haitian passengers aboard, but found the Port au Prince airport still closed and overflew the country.

In Miami, Southern Bell Telephone Co. reported that Haiti refused to accept calls from the United States. However, calls routed through San Juan, P.R., to Rico, were going through.

An independent French radio station, Europe 1, reached the former French colony and was told by the 63-year-old Duvalier that his feared militia, the Tonton Macoute, had the situation "completely under control."

He said that the mutineers would be tried by a military court "when they are captured."

The coast guard vessels, apparently trying to shell the palace of Haiti's president-for-life, damaged several houses in the area. The government said one person was injured.

Citizens were cleared from the streets, the airport was shut down, and telephone service was halted for all but the palace and top-level officials.

Arthur Bonhomme, Haitian ambassador in Washington, said Port au Prince was shelled twice. He said Duvalier asked the United States for air cover in event of another attack but was refused.

Duvalier has put down several plots to overthrow his regime in the 13 years he has been president.

Imports To Drop Monday

NOGALES, Ariz. (AP) — Tomato imports from Mexico are expected to drop by one third when U.S. import restrictions become effective Monday, a West Mexico Vegetable Distributors Association spokesman said.

Walther Holm, chairman of the association and owner of the largest produce import business in Nogales, said the association fired off a telegram to Clifford Hardin, secretary of agriculture, to protest the restriction.

"We believe," said Holm, "that the department will soon see that this order is not in the best interest of the consumer."

Holm predicted that tomato prices will soar if the restriction is maintained.

Even the increasing volume of Florida tomatoes resulting from the new order, he said, will not take up the slack to keep prices stable.

"The Agriculture Department went along with the Florida request because shipments from Mexico were heavy last week and the week before," Holm said, "and also because Florida reported that its shipments of tomatoes were going to be increasing from now on."

Officers said the driver of the station wagon, Mrs. Darrell Schmidt, 35, and McNutt escaped with minor injuries.

Patrolman J.E. Gross said a white sedan hurtled from a gas station driveway as he passed and its driver shouted to him, "They're chasing me!"

A pickup truck pursued the sedan at a high speed, the officer said, and he wheeled his prowl car around to follow.

Methodists Okay Big Aid Program

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The special General Conference of the United Methodist Church has been billed as the conference no one wanted, but it approved a $23 million aid program for minority groups and resolutions on severe social issues.

The 950 lay and clerical delegates to the general conference — top lawmaking body for the 11-million-member church, approved the aid program after four hours of debate Friday and the conference ended shortly thereafter for lack of a quorum.

Rev. James M. Lawson Jr. of Memphis, Tenn., chairman of the Black Methodists for Church Renewal, asked the group Tuesday morning for $21.5 million to aid minority groups.

Called a "reordering of priorities," the package that was finally approved consists of: $2 million for minority self-determination programs directed by the commission on religion and race; a $4 million fund raising effort for operations of 12 black colleges of the church; and $500,000 for scholarships, with those amounts approved for both 1971 and 1972.

The General Mills company has agreed to furnish the machine if friends can supply 800,000 coupons. The campaign here is being sponsored by the Big Spring Baptist Association, according to Rev. James Puckett, pastor of Baptist Temple, chairman.

Rev. Quarles is now pastor of Temple Baptist Church at Seminole.

Two Bomb Devices Mailed In Seattle

SEATTLE (AP) — Two packages mailed from Seattle—one to the White House and the other to Selective Service headquarters in Washington—contained explosive devices known as train torpedoes, authorities say. Whether they would have gone off remained in doubt.

Federal officials disclosed Friday the packages, sent recently about two weeks apart, had been intercepted in Washington and the contents neutralized. An intensive investigation is under way.

The Seattle Times said Saturday it had learned the "detonator" in the White House package was a mouse trap that would have sprung when the package was opened, striking the torpedo cap.

The Burlington Northern Railroad's chief dispatcher here said, however, that nothing like that would set off a torpedo—a device put on rails to signal trains.

"You'd have to hit 'em a pretty good whack with a hammer," he said. "You'd have to hit 'em an awful blow. As a matter of fact I've never seen one exploded with a hammer. You've got to drive a train over 'em."

The dispatcher, who declined use of his name, said torpedoes are about two inches square and three-fourths of an inch deep, and contain a small powder charge.

"You could maybe lose a finger if one went off while you were handling it," he said.

THEFT REPORTS

Wagon Wheel No. 4, FM 700: cigarette machine taken Friday night; found Saturday behind nearby vacant building. Unknown quantity of cigarettes and change taken.

Phillips 66 Station, Third and State: quantity of gasoline taken Friday night from two trucks parked at station.

YMCA, 801 Owens: letter opener and deck of cards taken Thursday night. One arrest made Friday morning.

Ralph Andersen, chief U.S. postal inspector here, said the torpedo in the White House package was detected in a routine fluoroscope check about three weeks ago. This led to finding the second device later in the package to national Selective Service headquarters.

Neither Andersen nor Elmer Moore, head of the Secret Service office here, would comment on the Times' report of the mouse trap spring detonator.

Andersen said, however, the two devices were of different design.

The postal inspector said the small parcel mailed to the White House contained a return address for an unoccupied house here.

Mideast Battles Rage Over Three Frontiers Saturday

TEL AVIV (AP) — Israeli and Arab warplanes battled again over three frontiers Saturday, and Israeli interceptors shot down two Egyptian bombers raiding the Sinai Desert, the military command here reported.

It said the three-man Egyptian Ilushin 28 bombers—Soviet-supplied planes—were downed by air-to-air missiles in a predawn chase over the Mediterranean after the raiders hit Israeli-occupied El Arish on the desert's northern coast.

According to the pool correspondent for the foreign press who went to the scene, the Egyptian bombers dropped explosives on an Arab-owned ice plant in El Arish, destroying it. There were no human casualties, the correspondent reported.

The Israelis said no military targets were hit.

A military spokesman said one of the planes was shot down near the Bardawil Lagoon just west of El Arish and the other fell into the Mediterranean.

northwest of Port Said.

It brought to 89 the number of Egyptian aircraft kills claimed by the Israelis since the 1967 Middle East war, and the first Ilushins.

On the Syrian frontier, four MIG28s swept over an Israeli position on the occupied Golan Heights, but no casualties or damage were reported, the military said.

Fierce Fighting Breaks Out In Vital Cambodian Town

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia (AP) — Fierce fighting, sometimes hand to hand, broke out Saturday at Angkassom, a military spokesman reported, but he said an enemy attempt to overrun the important highway town was beaten off.

Paratroopers brought in to relieve the garrison in Angkassom, on Highway 3 about 42 miles south of Phnom Penh, were held off by encircling North Vietnamese or Viet Cong troops, he reported.

Most of the fighting appeared to be between the paratrooper, some of Cambodia's better soldiers, and the enemy.

Reporters outside the town could hear the rattle of machine guns and the explosions of mortar shells.

Two trucks were seen leaving on Highway 3 to the south. Cambodian soldiers said they contained the bodies of 10 of their comrades and eight wounded. The casualties were being taken to the port of Kampot for transshipment to Kompong—formerly Sihanoukville.

This is the safest route, since the enemy is astride Highway 3 around Angkassom and has made the road unsafe north of the town.

The military authorities believe the fighting at Angkassom is an attempt to force withdrawal of a Cambodian garrison of several thousand troops from Takeo, provincial capital on Highway 2 six miles to the southeast.

There was no news of the situation at Takeo, which has been under enemy siege for nearly a week. The enemy forces there have blocked off the highway just north of Takeo, cutting it off from Phnom Penh.

The inhabitants of a hamlet just north of Angkassom, which is the last safe point on the road from Phnom Penh, suddenly turned unfriendly Saturday evening, as enemy forces were reported fighting closer to it.

A communique from the Information Ministry denounced a seaborne Viet Cong attack launched against the southern port of Kep Friday. The communique said innocent civilians, including women and children, were killed in the surprise attack. Kep is a small harbor only about 20 miles from the South Vietnamese border.

Elsewhere, Cambodian navy landing boats took in tow a floating village of about 100 houses near Phnom Penh and began moving them with their Vietnamese inside down the Bassac River, a tributary of the Mekong River.

Police said the floating village was taken from its moorings as a security measure. One police officer said the village posed security problems that required its removal to a new location.

Many of the families in the houseboats, billed as a tourist attraction in government brochures, had lived up to 20 years at the same moorings in the Mekong River just above Phnom Penh. The houseboats are painted in bright blues and greens. Many are attractively decorated with flower displays.

The Vietnamese were undoubtedly apprehensive, having heard reports that hundreds of other Vietnamese have been slain by Cambodian troops since the overthrow of Prince Norodom Sihanouk as chief of state March 18.

The government insists the victims were Viet Cong or were caught in crossfire during battles. The Cambodians and Vietnamese have a long history of hostility. About 400,000-700,000 Vietnamese live in Cambodia.

Reds Plan Major Effort In Vietnam

SAIGON (AP) — The Communist command is expected to launch a drive in the next week or two in an attempt to disrupt the government's pacification and Vietnamization efforts, informed sources said Saturday.

The drive was designated "Campaign X" in captured enemy documents that said the attacks should continue until June, the informants reported.

Intelligence sources said the current enemy offensive, launched April 1, had virtually run its course and that North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces are refitting and getting replacements for the new campaign.

While allied forecasts of impending enemy offensives occasionally have proved wrong, the April 1 campaign was predicted almost to the hour.

Sources said recent captured documents stressed that disruption of the pacification program — by which the government tried to win over the people in the countryside — is "the key to decisive victory."

They added that enemy forces can be expected to carry out direct attacks on South Vietnamese regulars to show that government troops are ill prepared to take over from the Americans in what is known as the Vietnamization program.

The only sustained action of the current offensive focused near the Dak Seang Special Forces camp, seven miles from the Laotian border northeast of Saigon. The camp has been under siege since April 1 but the enemy has been inactive lately.

An American UH-1 helicopter, supporting South Vietnamese ground troops who are trying to lift the siege, was shot down two miles from the camp Friday afternoon, military officers said.

One crewman was killed and one was wounded. This was the 15th American aircraft downed near the camp since the siege began.

North Vietnamese gunners also fired several rockets into a South Vietnamese artillery camp three miles southeast of Dak Seang and wounded three government troops.

Although enemy attacks around Dak Seang recently have been limited to ground probes and sporadic shelling, field officers said they expect the fighting pace to pick up toward the end of this month or in early May.

This assessment conforms with the general allied intelligence forecast of stepped up enemy attacks in the next two weeks.

In another development, the U.S. Army announced that a base camp of the 9th Infantry Division's 3rd Brigade had been turned over to South Vietnamese forces.

The announcement added to speculation that the brigade would be among the first units pulled out under President Nixon's orders for the withdrawal of 150,000 U.S. troops from Vietnam over the next year.

Do You Want To Do Something About The DRUG PROBLEM?

Did you know that Supreme Court decisions have not only made enforcement of our drug laws virtually impossible, but have also actually contributed to the growth of the problem?

Did you know that Senator Yarborough voted against not one, but two nominees to the court who could have done something about permissiveness on the court?

Until concerned citizens rise up in indignation and retire some of the liberal senators who are apparently more interested in the desires of special interest groups who can perpetuate them in office than in doing something to straighten out the mess we are in, things will continue to deteriorate.

ELECT

Bob Wheeler

(Native of Howard County)

County Commissioner Precinct 4

BOB WHEELER WILL WORK FOR:

- A fire fighting contract with The City of Big Spring.
- A published agenda of Commissioners Court at least three days before the regular meeting.
- A long range road planning and maintenance program supervised by a licensed engineer as required by law.
- Retirement plan so that employees over 65 may retire now with a livable income at no extra cost to the taxpayer.
- Expedite meetings so more citizens can take time to attend and make it easier to record stands of commissioners on every issue.
- Purchasing locally when quality and price is right.

Howard County commissioners are elected for a four-year term, and the pay for the office is adequate.

This however is not my primary objective. I feel my experience of fifteen years service with the county, plus my experience in business and knowledge of the county and the community qualify me to serve.

Unless I could honestly satisfy myself that I had made a worthy contribution to the court, and a substantial service to the county, I would not let the pay of office be my reason to run again.

Sincerely,
BOB WHEELER

SAILING OVER THE PLATE—AND OUT — Jim Bouton, left, of Houston, is in orbit over home plate after colliding with Chicago Cubs catcher J. C. Martin in second inning Saturday while trying to score from second base on Jim Wynn's single. Martin, who tagged the runner out, still clutches the ball which he got on throw from outfielder Billy Williams.

Banks, Cubs Gang Up On Houston

CHICAGO (AP) — Ernie Banks' first pitch into the left field stands with Glenn Beckert and Billy Williams scoring ahead of season and 498th of his career — launched the Chicago Cubs over the Houston Astros 11-5 Saturday, their ninth straight victory. Banks lofted Jim Bouton's Bills Hands lasted seven innings to boost his record to 3-0 although yielding 11 hits.

Kessinger's double and Beckert's single gave the Cubs a run in the first to even the score after Jim Wynn's No. 6 homer in the Astro first. Singles by Bouton and Norm Miller produced a pair of runs in the second to put Houston ahead before the Cubs forced their big third inning.

Beckert's first homer of the season in the fifth kayoed Bouton, 1-2, and the Cubs padded their margin with three runs in the sixth, two of them being walked across by Don Wilson.

Williams also homered in the eighth, his fifth of the season, and Banks drove in the final run with a double.

PLAYER IGNORES PICKET FOR A PAR — Gary Player, of South Africa, calmly ignores a picket as he blasts from a trap on the first hole to reach the green and one putt for a par four during third day's play in the Tournament of Champions Saturday at La Costa Country Club. The picket wears a tee shirt with the lettering "No Ashe-No Player." He bought a ticket as a spectator and followed Player as the round started.

Beard Leading By Two At End Of 54 Holes

RANCHO LA COSTA, Calif. (AP) — Frank Beard fired a four-under-par 68 Saturday and clung to a diminishing lead in the third round of the $150,000 Tournament of Champions while Gary Player was confronted with the first formal—and orderly—protest of his current American tour. Beard, the 1969 leading money winner, had a 54-hole total of 202, 14 under par on the sun-splashed La Costa Country Club course. He held a two-stroke lead

ENTRY FEE IS $20 Muny Invitational Set For May 2-3

By BILL HENRY
Two golf tournaments are slated this weekend for the local golf crowd. The Municipal Course will play its third annual Big Spring Invitational on May 2-3. The Big Spring Country Club will play its Pro-Am Friday, May 1.

year's meet is Marvin Williams, who is expected to play again. Last year 104 participants were entered in the 2nd annual Invitational, while in 1968 74 people registered. This year club pro Charley Brantley is expecting upwards to 150 players.

Entry fee for the Muny Invitational will be $20 per person. This fee includes a barbecue, which will be held at the club at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 2. The contestants and their wives are admitted on the player's entry fee. Guests can be brought to the feast, though they must pay a $2 fee.

All entries must be registered by Friday, May 1 at the Muny golf shop. An approved handicap card, signed by the club pro, must be presented by entries. These handicaps will be used to establish flights only. The tournament committee will reserve the right to make adjustments on all handicaps.

The winner in each flight will receive a gift certificate for a set of First Flight Irons. Runner-up in each flight will receive a gift certificate for a set of three First Flight woods. Consolation winners in each flight will earn a gift certificate for a First Flight golf bag.

On May 2 all flights will be required to play 18 holes and all flights except the championship flight will play 18 holes May 3. The championship flight will play 27 holes Sunday, May 3.

Defending champion of this

At Big Spring Country Club the annual Pro-Am will be run off on Friday, May 1. Entry fee for this tourney will be $6. Tee time will be from 9 a.m. until 2 p.m. at the Big Spring Country Club. The entry pairings will be made on the arrival of the contestants at the golf shop when they register.

Men will use one-half on their handicaps while the women may use their full handicaps up to 18. All entries must be accompanied by a current handicap card signed by the club pro.

Eighteen holes will be played Friday, with three teams to be eligible for prizes. Each team will be composed of four members. The prizes have not been selected because the entry fees will determine the amount of prizes to be given away.

Last year 120 contestants played in this tournament. This year club pro C. G. Griffin expects about the same number. Next big tournament scheduled for the Country Club will be the Partnership which will be held on June 6-7. Griffin is also scheduling some small tournaments which will be held before then, though no plans have been made.

Same Song, Fifth Verse; Villanova Wins Again

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Villanova, the only team to win five relay races in the 76-year history of the Penn Relays, did it Saturday for the third straight year. The Wildcats added the mile, two-mile, four-mile and sprint medley to Friday's distance medley triumph.

While Villanova dominated the distance races, it had to share honors with meet record breaking teams of Texas-El Paso in the 440 and 880-yard relays. In all, six records were broken in the two-day meet, with UTEP's Vince Monari the only individual double winner. Monari took the discus and shot put.

Coach Jim Elliott's Villanova runners capped Saturday's performance with a 3:07.9 victory in the mile relay, last event on the 132-event program which featured more than 7,000 athletes. Hargrave Davis, Greg Gowan, Lamotte Hyman and the mighty burner, Olympian Larry James, led all the way to win by six yards over Rutgers, with Tennessee third.

James ran a 46 flat anchor leg.

About an hour earlier, Villanova won the two-mile over UTEP with the help of a 1:48.1 anchor leg by Marty Liquori. Liquori, who anchored the winning distance medley and four-mile teams, was a yard back when he took the baton. On the turn into the backstretch he gained the lead and won by seven yards. Villanova was clocked in 7:28.1.

Aggies Break Another Mark In Iowa Meet

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Texas A&M, led by the speedy Mills Brothers and busy Rocky Woods, dominated the 61st Drake Relays which roared to a finish Saturday with seven new meet marks and a two-day total of 14, plus a world 880 relay record.

In the windup at Drake University stadium before a sun-splashed, wind-swept crowd of 17,500, Texas A&M grabbed two more baton titles and blazed to a meet record 40.0 victory in the 440-yard relay.

The Aggies, who Friday set a world 880 mark of 1:21.7, wound up with three of the eight major baton titles. Rice took two titles, Saturday winning the university spring medley and mile relay crowns.

The day's 21-final windup also produced new Drake records in six individual events, including a snappy 4:01.4 mile victory by Rex Maddaford of Eastern New Mexico and a 16-6 1/4 pole vault triumph by Brigham Young's Alti Alarotu, Finnish Olympian.

Only double winner of the two-day meet was distance star Jack Bachelor of the Florida track club, who repeated a 1969 sweep of the three-mile and six-mile runs. Bachelor Saturday crossed the six-mile finish line hand-in-hand with teammate Jack Shorter.

Drake's seven foot barrier in the high jump was pierced for the first time as Ray McGill of Kansas State cleared 7-1.

The only two other defending champions besides Missouri's Mel Gray won the 100 in a winds-lashed 9.5 to complete a Texas-Kansas-Drake Relays sweep in the century. The other repeater was shot-putter Karl Salb of Kansas with a toss of 63-9 1/4.

Although Curtis Mills, NCAA 440 champ, anchored Friday's 880 world record relay effort by Texas A&M Woods ran on all three victorious Aggie Baton teams including Saturday's 480-yard shuttle hurdles foursome.

San Angelo Wins Over War Birds

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo regained sole possession of first place in 3-AAAA East Zone standings by defeating Abilene High 6-1, behind Lefty Hunt Batjer here Saturday.

The Bobcats, who have lost only to Abilene Cooper in league play this season, exploded for five runs in the third inning.

Batjer lost his shutout when Randall Tatum crossed the plate for Abilene in the fourth.

San Angelo combed the offerings of two Abilene hurlers for eight hits, including two each by Ramsey Koschak and Steve Caraway.

Aggies Win Two From Houston

HOUSTON (AP) — The Texas Aggies thrashed the University of Houston Cougars Saturday, 6-3 and 6-5.

The rout dealt the Cougars a severe, if not fatal setback, to their hopes for a spot in the NCAA playoffs.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Cage Tourney Shaping Up

By TOMMY HART

Harold Wilder, the incoming basketball coach at Howard County JC who hopes to schedule a between-semester invitational tournament here, will probably book

Christian College of the Southwest in a series for next season. CCSW officials first announced it was dropping the sport after coach Bill Blakeley all but spent the school into oblivion but, when Blakeley quit, the Mesquite-based juco elected to try the game on a more modest scale. . . . Indications are David Wray, former Abilene High great, will get the CCSW job. . . . Incidentally, Red Myers is out and Bill McDonald, formerly of Weatherford College, is in as cage mentor at Amarillo College. . . . McDonald reportedly will have more to work with than did Myers, since the school has authorized ten full scholarships. . . . There was a time when Amarillo dominated Region V play but that was before Odessa, Howard County and South Plains developed clout. . . . Buddy Travis, who leaves next month to become head coach at South Plains, says New Mexico JC will field one of the Western Conference's top quintets next season. . . . Among the T-Bird toughies coach Dale Caton has coming back will be 6-4 Willie Banks, 6-1 Elgin Green, 5-11 1/2 Sammy Carrasco and 6-1 1/2 Mike Hannigan. . . . Sports writers and linksters would hate to see that Tournament of Champions fade into history. . . . It's a free-loaders paradise. . . . Everything is on the house. . . . Even the golfers' families are invited to share the fun and games as guests of LaCosta Country Club in California. . . . Bert Yancey, whose insistence on wearing a copper bracelet earned him a lot of free publicity, owns an interest in the firm which manufactures the trinkets. . . . The company gets $5 each for a product which can be made for 37 cents. . . . Dallas Cowboy Craig Morton has taken his partners in that California bookstore (called UC-Corner) to court. . . . He accuses them of bilking him out of the money in order to start two other stores under the same name and format. . . . He's asked for damages totaling $1,050,000. . . . Of the first 15 tournaments on the PGA tour this year, six were won by Californians, four by Texans and two by foreign entries. . . . Incidentally, Masters champion Bill Casper is passing up both the Byron Nelson Classic at Dallas and the Champions meet in Houston to fill a commitment at Expo '70 in Japan.

Buddy Travis says he thinks Big Spring, more specifically Howard County JC and the American Business Club, should bid for the Region V Basketball tournament again, now that he is leaving for Levelland. . . . Travis points out that the only objection other coaches in the region had to Big Spring as a site was that it gave Travis too much of a psychological advantage. . . . The coaches who brought teams here were delighted with their treatment and the support local fans gave the meet. . . . Robert Jackson, the former HCJC cage star, did very well in the sport at Lake Head College in Port Arthur, Ontario, Canada, last season. . . . He was second leading scorer on a district championship team, averaging 18 points and pulling down nine rebounds a game. . . . He was also named the Most Valuable Player on the squad. . . . His coach was George J. Birger. . . . Robert, a Big Spring native, has another season of eligibility remaining at Lake Head. . . . Calvin Hill gained exactly the same amount of yardage (942 yards) his first year with the Dallas Cowboys as the fabulous Jimmy Brown did with Cleveland as a rookie. . . . Brown played 12 games. . . . The Cowboys had 14 starts last fall but Hill was crippled part of the time. . . . Hill's team mate, Ralph Neely, has opened an insurance agency under his own name in Albuquerque, N.M. . . . Three of the five leading lifetime receivers in pro football are Texans—Ray Berry, Don Maynard and Bill Howton. . . . Snyder's Tigers, with virtually an all-white lineup, has a Negro coaching aide while Lubbock Dunbar, with an all-Negro lineup, has an Anglo mentor. . . . Billy Hobbs, the former Texas A&M grid great, has a brother (Joe) residing here. . . . An injury to Steve Worster gave Big Spring's Rocky Wooley a chance to play in the University of Texas' recent spring football game and Rocky did famously. . . . Active the entire game for a White squad that won, 30-13, Rocky was superb as a pass defender and blocker. . . . Rocky's proud parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alton Wooley, were privileged to view the contest. . . . The Dallas Cowboys remain one of TV's biggest attractions—they'll be on a nationwide hookup no fewer than six times this fall. . . . Not many know it but pro football teams have until May 1 to complete trades with other teams. . . . The deadline originally was March 19. . . . In a poll conducted by Sports Magazine, the baseball players themselves picked the Chicago Cubs and Baltimore to tangle in this fall's World Series.

CLEVELAND (AP) — Solo squeezed past the Chicago home runs by Tony Horton and White Sox 6-3 Saturday. Ray Fosse paced an 11-hit attack as the Cleveland Indians won the first, third and fifth innings.

ON LUBBOCK FIELD Indiana Ace Will Play In Contest

LUBBOCK — John Isenbarger, Indiana University's triple threat halfback, heads the list of four more players signed to appear in the Coaches All-America Football Game scheduled here on June 27.

Signing with Isenbarger were Robert Asher, a 6-6, 256-pound offensive tackle from Vanderbilt; Bob Reinhard, a 6-1, 224-pound offensive guard from Stanford; and Ron McBride, a 6-0, 202-pound fullback from Missouri.

Isenbarger, described as probably the best all-around player in the Big Ten, led Hoosier rushers in 1969 with 1,217 yards on 233 carries and scored five touchdowns. He also caught 13 passes for 147 yards, hit six of 11 pass attempts for 137 yards and three touchdowns, and punted 65 times for 2,458 yards and a .377 average. Majoring in business, the 6-3, 205-pounder is a native of Munzie, Ind.

"NO WEAKNESS" Asher, picked in the second round of the professional draft by the Dallas Cowboys, is described by his coach, Bill Pace, as "a football player who has no weakness." Asher has started every game at the same position since his sophomore year and has never received less than a winning grade for his performance. Named as an All-SEC tackle in 1969, he is majoring in mathematics.

Son of a former University of California All-American offensive tackle and punter of the same name, Reinhard possesses tremendous speed and agility for a big man. He was recognized as one of the finest all-around linemen on the West Coast last year. He was Stanford's regular punter last season and was averaging more than 40 yards per kick before late-season leg injury pulled his average down to 38.5 by season's end. A native of Willits, Calif., Reinhard is majoring in political science.

GOOD RECEIVER McBride, one of Missouri's leaders in 1969, handled the unsung blocking chores to perfection. He ran for a 3.8-yard average, scored five times, and caught 11 passes for 150 yards. The ruggedly-built fullback is a two-year regular and has good speed and balance. An education major, McBride is from Fulton, Mo.

McBride and Reinhard will perform for Coach Dan Devine's West team, and Isenbarger and Asher will play for Coach Charley McClendon's East eleven. Eleven players have now accepted offers to play for the East squad and 12 for the West.

Already announced are Jim Reilly, Notre Dame; Buddy McClinton, Auburn; Jim McFarland, Nebraska; Terry McGeddes, Nebraska; Mel Easley, Oregon State; Billy Bridges, Houston; John Ward, Oklahoma State; Butch Davis, Missouri; John Small, The Citadel; Ron Gardin, University of Arizona; Godfrey Zaunbrecher, Eddie Ray, and George Bevan, all of LSU; Warren Muir, University of South Carolina; Steve Tannen, University of Florida; and Walker Gillette, University of Richmond.

Cards Oppose Lions Today

The Big Spring Cardinals try to improve upon a 3-1 win-loss record in a 2:30 p.m. game in Steer Park here today with the San Angelo Lions.

The Red Birds chewed up the Post Panthers, 18-0, last Sunday in a contest that was mercifully called after 3½ innings. The San Angelo team, meanwhile, was splitting a double header with Piedras Negras.

Tony Garcia or Jesse Alcada will likely pitch for San Angelo today. Angelo's top hitter may be Julio Guerrero, who spent some time with the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Pano Rodriguez, Jody Flores and Pat Martinez Jr., all clubbed home runs for the Cardinals in their game last Sunday.

Hank Pope or Jerry Janes likely will shoulder pitching duties for the Red Birds today. Tony Piarro and Leon Hobbs will likely be available for relief chores on the hill, in event they're needed.

Other starters for Big Spring could be Abel Ramirez, catcher; Martinez at first; Billy Pineda, second base; Felix Martinez, shortstop; and Tony Martinez, third base. Outfielders will be chosen from among Jesse Zapata, Flores, Rodriguez and Benny Marquez Jr.

The Cardinals will return the game with the Lions next Sunday.

Knicks Lead In Playoffs

NEW YORK (AP) — The hot hand belonged to Los Angeles' Jerry West, the cold shoulder to New York's Willis Reed . . . until a pair of lightfingered late-comers eased the pressure off the Knickerbockers' backs and dropped it back into the Lakers' laps.

Cazzie Russell and Walt Frazier, who had squirmed on the bench as New York blew a 20-point lead to the West-led Lakers, ignited a fourth quarter counter-attack that gave the Knicks a 124-122 victory in the opener of the National Basketball Association's championship playoff series Friday night.

Reed poured in 37 points, despite a first-half shoulder injury, as the Knicks got the jump in the best-of-7 set, which resumes Monday night at Madison Square Garden. Super-sub Mike Riordan, picking up the slack when Frazier got into foul trouble, added 19.

But it was Russell and Frazier, held to a combined total of two points through the first 39½ minutes, who turned the tide after West scored 16 of his 33 points in a third quarter spurt that sent the Lakers, trailing 50-30 at one point, to a 98-95 edge early in the final session.

"The Man Upstairs just seems to be on my side," said Russell, who followed Frazier's first field goal since the opening quarter with his first basket of the game, putting the Knicks ahead 99-98, and then hit three more two-pointers down the stretch.

Frazier, sacrificing his offensive game in an effort to defend against West, was yanked after picking up his fourth foul with just 51 seconds gone in the third quarter. But he scored another key basket — off his own steal — during the Knicks' deciding burst and helped limit the Lakers to 20 fourth quarter points.

Reed went over and around the hulking Wilt Chamberlain, still slowed by the after-effects of knee surgery, for 25 first half points.

"I just played my game and moved around to wherever I could get the shot," said the 6-foot-10 All-Star pivotman, who shot 7-for-9 in the first quarter and 16-for-30 over-all. "But I was wondering how long it was going to last."

RANDY PESCHEL

UT Grid Hero Scheduled For Appearance Here

Doors of the Municipal Auditorium will be opened at 3 p.m. for a meeting featuring a young declaimer more widely identified with athletics than religious work.

The speaker is Randy Peschel, star football receiver for the University of Texas. His appearance is being sponsored by the Churches of the Big Spring Baptist Association.

He made a similar appearance in Tyler recently and attracted a large audience, mostly young people. The program today, which will include a musical prelude, will be free to the public.

Peschel was a steady performer in football and baseball at Texas for three seasons, but gained little fame until the fourth quarter of the Arkansas game when he caught a fourth down bomb to set up the winning touchdown that gave Texas a national football championship.

Peschel, an honor student at Lanier High School and three-sport letterman at the Austin school, began his career at Texas by starting at wingback his sophomore season.

But in 1968, when Texas switched from the "T" formation to the Wishbone "W", Peschel was displaced. He played tight end his junior year behind All-SWC standout Deryl Comer, but a knee injury in the 1969 Cotton Bowl game felled Comer, and Peschel moved to the first team.

Peschel injured his knee in Texas' first game in 1969, but was able to return to action two games later. Then, he altered as a starter with sophomore Tommy Woodard, until Woodard went out with an injury in the TCU game.

Peschel led the 1968 baseball Longhorns in hitting with a .333 average, and finished with a .304 average in limited appearances last season.

This fall he was Texas' second leading receiver, catching 14 passes for 228 yards, but Longhorn fans will be hard-pressed to remember any of them, vital though they were, other than one particular one in the Arkansas game.

That was the one Peschel took over his shoulder, with two Arkansas defenders with him, that put the ball on the Arkansas 13. 44 yards from where James Street had thrown the ball when it was fourth and three, and a National Championship hung in the balance.

Dodgers Visit Lamesa Today

The Big Spring Dodgers hit the road again today, venturing to Lamesa for a 2 p.m. baseball joust with that city's Red Sox.

The Dodgers had their problems in their opening game last week, when they were routed by San Angelo, 18-0.

However, manager Johnny Mathis has made some lineup adjustments and expects to have the team rolling by the time it plays its home opener against Lamesa next Sunday.

That one will be in Steer Park. LeRoy Spires likely will be on the pitching rubber today for Big Spring.

Other starters could be Mathis behind the plate, Doyle Railsback at first base, Joe Cadenehead at second, Johnny Thomas at third, James Bailey at shortstop, Terry Smith in left field, Larry Broughton in center and Mike Shockley in right.

Broughton and Cadenehead will serve as relief pitchers, in event Lacy're needed.

Mr. X Owns 5½ Crowns

DENISON (AP) — He's got a back swing that a bone transplant couldn't help.

He's built like a World War II German tank commander. He's harder to find after a round of golf than a Jack Nicklaus ball.

His eyesight is so myopic that his caddy has to help him read the greens.

But for all that, mighty, mysterious Mister X, pro golfer's Miller Barber of Sherman-Denison, Tex., is among the hottest golf commodities currently on the pro circuit.

His $25,000 pay check for taking the playoff at New Orleans shot him into third place among the 1970 money winners with $65,341 in the bank. It boosted his life time earnings to near the half a million dollar mark.

WASH OUT HURT — As a "half-a-millionaire" Barber also holds the distinction of being golf's only half champion.

He won the rain-shortened Kaiser International last year that was washed out with Barber in front after two rounds. Thus Barber, like baseball's Roger Maris, will forever after have an asterisk after his name.

He has won 5½ PGA championships, and even a Palmer or Nicklaus or Player can't claim that honor.

Barber's half-championship in the Kaiser didn't get him a return invite to the Tournament of Champions.

"They wouldn't even invite me to play the first 36 holes," Barber said. But his playoff victory Monday in the last event before the Las Vegas tourney not only gave him a ticket to the championship affair, but put him in front of the qualifiers for the rich Acan tourney that moves back to Scotland this year.

The round Mister X just missed out at Greensboro when Player canned a shot from a bunker for an eagle and ran in a 40 foot putt for another eagle en route to a final round 65 that edged Barber, who finished with a 68. For consolation, Barber collected $20,500.

At Augusta the next week, Barber played real well the first two rounds, but didn't score too well.

"I was hitting the ball beautifully but I just used the wrong club. I was either over the green or short," he said. "And on top of it, my putting that was sour at Greensboro, went to pot at Augusta."

HELPED GAME — So Barber hunted out George

Cosden's Damaged Alky Unit Goes Back To Work

By JOE PICKLE

A veteran of the production battle at Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, almost mortally wounded by an explosion Feb. 6, has returned to action.

Reactivation of the alkylation unit last week completed the second cycle of what seemed like a double miracle. First, the worst explosion and fire in the company's 40-year history had caused only one death and few serious injuries in the face of destruction which still shows its scars; second, the disabed unit was back on stream within 76 days.

The actual work time was much less than that, considering that nearly two weeks were lost in cooling the unit, clearing debris for assessment of damage, removing the highly dangerous hydrofluoric acid for safety of workers, and inspecting the mass piece by piece to make sure that there had been no faulty materials or design.

"Getting the unit back on stream in this short space of time is all the more remarkable because there was much critical material involved — critical in the sense that it's normally hard to get delivery," said Paul Meek, president.

While he had appreciation for suppliers, he heaped high praise on Cosden personnel. The engineering department under W. D. Broughton worked out necessary designs, coordinated and supervised the work largely under the eyes of Roy Hughes, senior project engineer, Jerry R. Allen, refinery manager, and his recent successor, Carl E. Rogers.

Typical of the spirit manifested in the project, men who normally operated the disabled unit pitched in as construction workers.

"They were invaluable because of their familiarity with the equipment," Meek noted.

Although the blast was a grievous blow, the refinery operated almost without a hitch from the time the shock waves from the blast swept destruction through the entire complex. The unit, which alkylates or joins the light olefins from the cat cracker with isobutane in the presence of hydrofluoric acid to form 145-115 grade gasoline, normally produced from 5,000 to 6,000 barrels a day of the blending stock for premium gasolines. Not only was it out of operation, but with it went major parts of two cooling units vital to the operation of other elements of the plant.

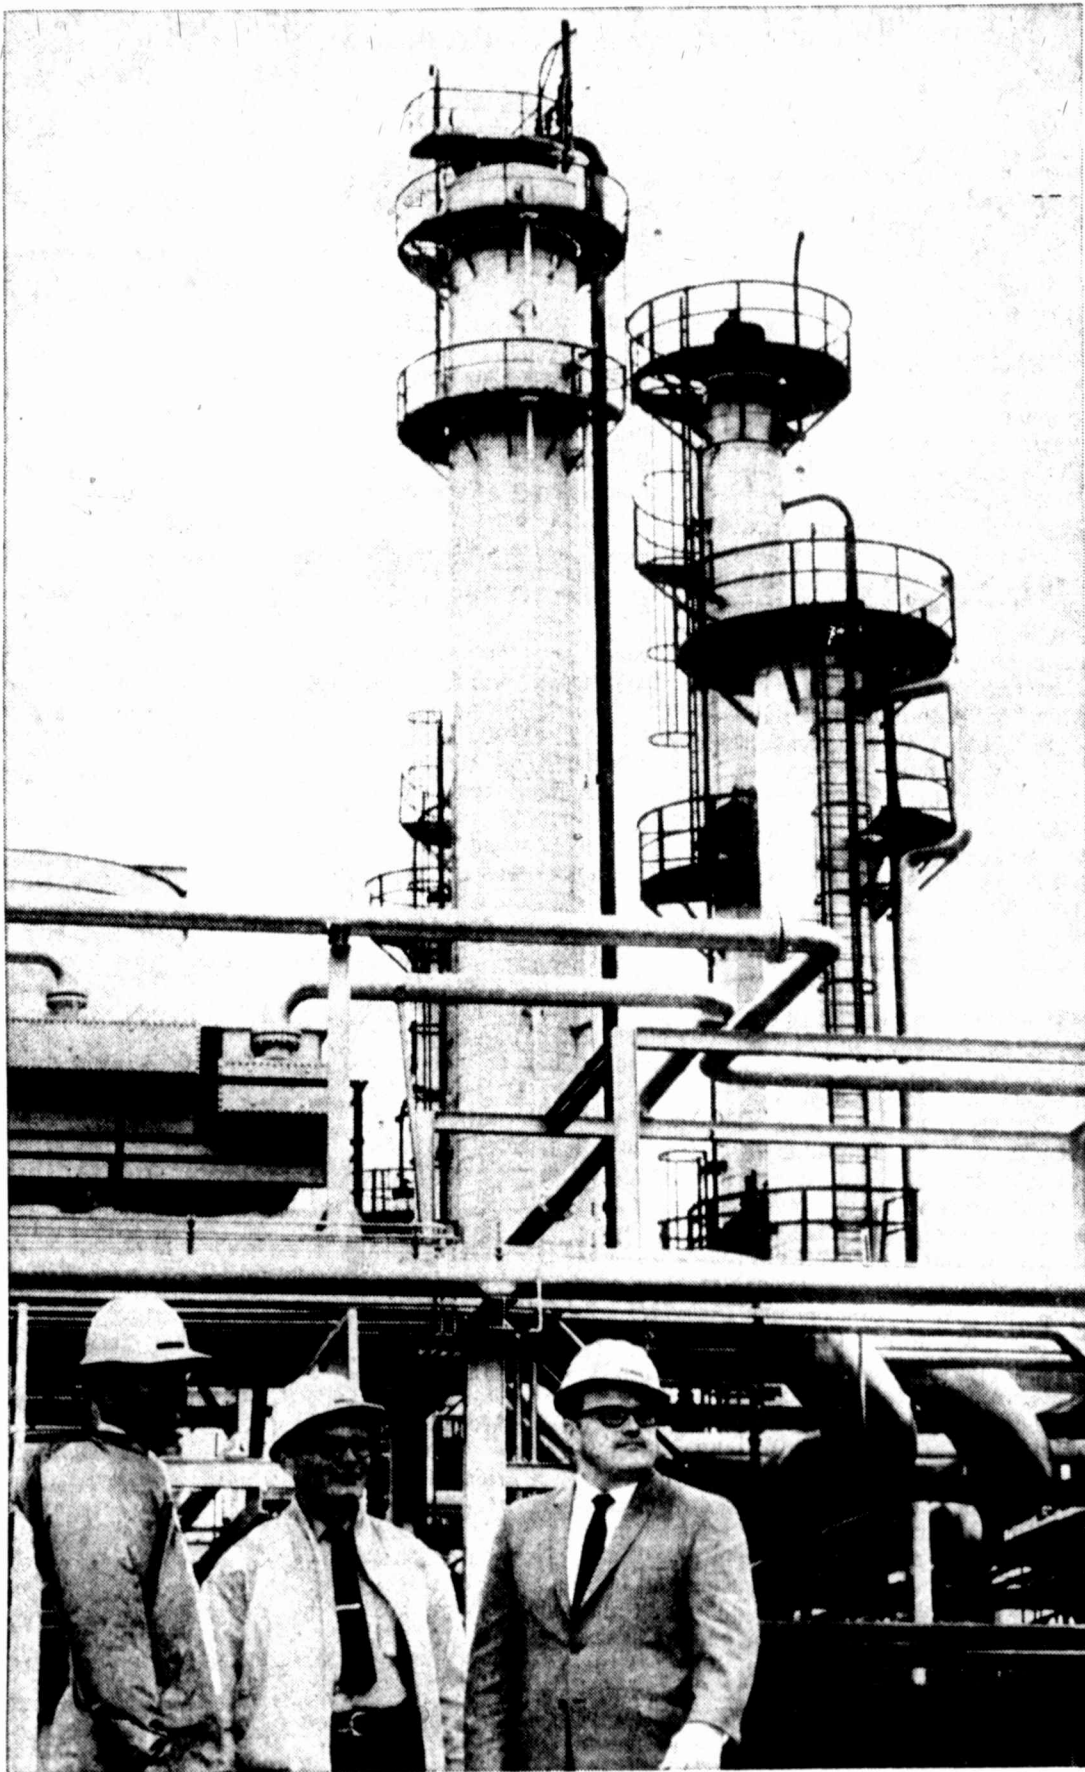

There was hardly a building in the entire complex that did not have windows smashed, ceilings pulled down, wall panels ripped or battered. Surveying the wreckage and the smoldering ruins of the "alky" unit, which had belched great waves of fire and smoke into the skies, few could dream that production would be restored in little more than two months.

"When I first saw it," said Meek, "I honestly thought it could be out a year."

Cosden people could say "we did it ourselves," although they did call in some outside help to keep from taking seasoned Cosden technicians and engineers off other key projects.

Meek praised the engineering and purchasing departments in getting materials in record time, and in scheduling around bottlenecks. Things went so smoothly that most of the work was accomplished within eight-hour working days (except for specific jobs that needed to be finished) six days a week. Several days were lost to weather.

Suppliers went out of their way, he said, to be helpful. He

Germany, Briton To Build Tank

LONDON (AP) — West Germany and Britain have reached a preliminary agreement to develop and build a new battle tank.

Informants said Friday that the German-U.S. project to build a 70-ton tank fell through because the needs of the two countries are too divergent to permit one tank to suit both.

Two of the massive vessels (fractionation towers) had to be taken down, damaged areas removed and rebuilt. Heavy structural steel had to be replaced, along with thousands of feet of pipe, and tubing (much of it of special high strength and quality).

Huge cooling towers, constructed virtually of wood, were all but shattered. These served not only the alkylation unit, but the poly plant, old Dubbs unit and others. Technical and operating staff contrived temporary by-passes to one crippled cooler while another was replaced, then the load was thrown on the rehabilitated cooler while the other one was rebuilt. All the while Spring was coming and rising daily temperatures made it almost touch and go on the refinery cooling.

Meantime, raw stocks were sent to plants at the Eldorado, Kan., and Mount Pleasant plants which in turn shipped back the high test gasoline necessary in blending high octane fuels. It was an unhandy and expensive arrangement, but Cosden met all its commitments.

"I don't want to minimize the seriousness of this," Meek observed, "but we learned some valuable lessons which will help us improve safety and operations."

"Most of all, you gain a deeper sense of appreciation of the loyal, highly capable and industrious people who make up the Cosden family."

Oral Surgery Is Hairy Job

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two experts in oral surgery say it was a pretty hairy job, but they think the patient will be able to eat with considerably more comfort now.

The surgery was performed Friday on a television star — Charlie the chimpanzee.

The doctors were dentist Sidney Garfield of Beverly Hills and veterinarian Martin Dinnies. They were summoned when an infection developed after two molars were pulled.

Said Dinnies: "We took out the infection and reconstructed his whole gumline."

Top Calf Ropers Will Compete Here

One week from today, area rodeo fans will have an opportunity to see two of the nation's best calf ropers in action.

Barry Burk of Comanche, Okla., and Ronny Sewalt of Chico, Tex., both sons of former world champion calf ropers, will square off in a 10-calf match in the arena of the Big Spring Cowboy Reunion and Rodeo.

In the 1969 finals, Burk finished in third place with aggregate winnings of $21,601, while Sewalt was sixth with $18,373.

Besides the celebrated ropers, the afternoon's offering will include 30 of the country's leading ropers competing on two calves each. Still another feature will be girls' barrel racing, again with some of the leading contenders participating.

In the extra roping events, invitations have been sent to outstanding rope artists, and among those responding so far is Buttons Howard, Portales, N. M., who finished one place ahead of Sewalt in last year's finals of calf roping. Joyce Burk, wife of Barry, will be in the barrel racing, an event she recently led in the Phoenix, Ariz., show, as will Missy Long, Duncan, Okla., who missed out $7,533 last year, and Terry Lewis, Big Spring, who ranks in the top five.

Burk is a member of the famous "Ropin' Burks" of Oklahoma. His father, Dee Burk, was a top contender, and his uncle, the late Clyde Burk, was a three times roping champion of the world. He also is the nephew of Jiggs Burk, another skilled roper. In 1967 and 1968, Barry was runner-up to Glenn Franklin of House, N.M., for the world's title. He was third behind Dean Oliver last year. Before entering the senior division, he was for five years the roping champion of the Junior Rodeo Association of America, not at all surprising for a lad who roped his first calf at five and started competing at 12.

Sewalt is another revered name in roping circles, for Ronny's father, Royce Sewalt, sacked up the world's title in 1945 and was for years among the leaders. Ronny has been roping professionally for more than a decade, being in eight of the last 11 National Rodeo Finals, missing one other by a bare 2.6 seconds. In 1966, he was making a run for the calf roping title when he sustained a knee injury that knocked him down to third in national standings. He is a left-hander who nevertheless makes his tie with his right hand.

Mattingly Never Came Down With The Measles

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — The man who couldn't fly to the moon because of an exposure to the German measles never came down with the disease, doctors said Saturday.

Thomas K. Mattingly II, the prime command module pilot on Apollo 13, was forced off the flight a day before launch because he was exposed to the German measles by a backup crewman.

In the three weeks since, doctors have been expecting the 34-year-old astronaut to break out in a rash almost any day.

The 21-day incubation period ended Friday and the astronaut is still healthy and measles-free. Doctors said Mattingly had one chance in four of coming down with the measles while in space if he flew on Apollo 13. This was regarded as too high a risk for him to fly on the $375 million moon mission.

"We'd probably make the same decision again," said one doctor.

Mattingly said earlier he was disappointed about missing the Apollo 13 flight after training for it for two years. But he understood and accepted the reasoning behind the decision.

Dr. Charles Berry, director of medical operations for the astronauts, quoted Mattingly as saying: "I realize that if I was a little black box they would have changed me out a long time ago."

"But people aren't little black boxes," says Dr. Berry, "and this made the decision much harder."

Mattingly is thought to be in line for the moon mission of Apollo 16, scheduled to fly late next year. If he's named to the prime crew of that flight, it will mean another year of training for the spaceman.

Dear Abby

DEAR ABBY: I am turning to you with a situation which has gone on for years but now it's become unbearable.

My mother's hobby is "junking." For years she's haunted thrift shops, stores where sales are going on, and also antique shops. She has found some items which she has restored and resold, which is fine, as it kept her busy and she's even made it pay.

Now the problem is this. She keeps bringing me stuff I can't use and she won't let me. My father tells me that she now goes to the grocery stores where sales are advertised and she lugs home large quantities of groceries. She says their basement is lined with 20-pound sacks of sugar. What would you do? Thanks.

EXHAUSTED: I would get her to a doctor for a complete examination, after having alerted the doctor to what you've told me. Her behavior is symptomatic of a mental disturbance.

DEAR ABBY: Parents complain because their kids are bull-headed, don't listen, and refuse to profit from somebody else's experience. Well, here's a switcheroo for you. One of the parents died after a long and happy marriage, and the remaining parent is now getting himself into a mess like you wouldn't believe. It's sickening to watch. And nobody can tell him anything either. Kids at least have the excuse that they are young. But what's the parents' excuse?

DISGUSTED: Second childhood, maybe? Or the same excuse the kids have — lack of experience.

DEAR ABBY: I am 49 and Henry (made up name) is 52. We've been married for 33 years.

A year ago Wilma, a friend and fellow worker of Henry's, lost her husband, so Henry has been driving a mile out of his way each morning and evening to take her to and from work. Wilma doesn't drive. She is well-groomed, a attractive, always smiling and very friendly.

For some time now I have had the feeling that Henry has been enjoying Wilma's company too much. On his day off he seems restless and bored, and is constantly thinking up excuses to go to her house. (She has the same day off.)

When I ask him if there is anything between them he denies it, but he looks guilty. She is 65, but looks much younger. How can I get him to forget her? Should I ignore it, or try to get to the bottom of it?

JEALOUS: DEAR JEALOUS: Ignore it. If he's 65, she should be retiring soon and the rides to and from work will cease. Out of sight, out of mind.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. 90069, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

CARD OF THANKS: We wish to express to our many friends our most sincere thanks for tender concern and sympathy for flowers and food, for prayers on our behalf at the death of our wife and mother, Mrs. W. H. Wise. These have been a real source of strength to us.

Mr. & Mrs. G. C. Broughton, Jr. Mr. & Mrs. Warren Wise Mr. & Mrs. Comer Huckaby

GOP FOES LESS STORMY

Bentsen, Yarborough Swap Bats

By The Associated Press

Angry words over campaign tactics flew Friday between Sen. Ralph Yarborough and Lloyd Bentsen, the fellow Democrat running against Yarborough in their party's May 2 primary.

On the surface, at least, the duelling between Rep. George Bush and Robert Morris over the Republican nomination for Yarborough's Senate seat was considerably less stormy.

Yarborough, in Dallas, spoke up sharply about the latest allegation by his opponent that federal employees are being used in the senator's campaign, and about television commercials in behalf of Bentsen.

Bentsen, touring the Panhandle-Plains section, replied in kind and made public a long telegram dispatched to Yarborough.

"My opponent continues to falsify about the record to the people of Texas," Yarborough asserted in reference to statements by Bentsen that Ty Fain was working in campaign offices of the senator while drawing pay as a member of the Senate Labor and Public Welfare Committee staff.

The senator again said, as he did the day before, that Fain has left the committee job and is one of his personal employees.

Yarborough once more called for a public apology from Bentsen for radio and television advertisements which he said imply that the senator sympathizes with violence in political and antiwar demonstrations.

"I have never marched in any of these demonstrations and I've never countenanced violence in any form," Yarborough said. Regarding violence at the last Democratic national convention, he added at another point that he "had nothing to do with the people in government who supported Sen. Eugene McCarthy" for president.

Bentsen, who stumped the area from Perryton and Dumas to Lubbock, said his broadcast commercial is based on facts.

His telegram in reply to one from Yarborough stated in part, "You have repeatedly assailed me as an insurance promoter bent on defrauding policyholders, as a tax dodger, as a war monger and a war profiteer, each of which is an unmitigated falsehood . . .

"Every issue I have raised in this campaign pertains to your service and your voting record. I shall continue to conduct this type of campaign despite the vicious personal accusations you have made against the entire Bentsen family . . .

"The issue that you were the only senator to endorse Gene McCarthy is an undisputed fact. The issue that your candidate for president fanned the emotions of demonstrators during the explosive Chicago convention is an undisputed fact.

"The issue that you endorsed the Vietnam moratorium last fall is an undisputed fact. The issue that these demonstrations erupted into violence in Washington is an undisputed fact . . .

Bush, speaking in Pampa — the past, the reactionary answer also one of the day's stops for has been to double the appropriation and just spend more money.

"I think Texans are tired of who follows a spend-at-any-cost approach now. I think they

Bush said he endorses the idea of revenue sharing as a means of returning some federal tax revenue to the states.

Morris, in a talk to the Republican Men's Club of Dallas County, predicted he'll defeat Bush handily if he receives as many as 30,000 of the 600,000 votes cast in Texas for George Wallace as a presidential candidate in 1968.

He again took Bush to task for what Morris described as an effort to "radicalize" Congress by junking the seniority basis in picking committee chairmen, and for support of President Nixon's welfare reorganization program.

Bush's support of such objectives isn't apt to swing the votes of Wallace's American Party followers into the

FDA Warns Of Device

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Food and Drug Administration warned Saturday of possible damage to the heart and other vital organs from an electrical exercising device called the Relaxacizor.

The agency said an estimated 400,000 owners should stop using the machine. It shocks muscles into contraction with electric currents.

A federal district judge in California ruled the Relaxacizor a hazard to health last week and limited its distribution to prescription sales only.

Judge William P. Gray linked the device to a variety of disorders, including miscarriage, activation and spread of dormant cancers, and aggravation of hernias, ulcers, epilepsy and varicose veins.

The machine, which costs between $100 and $400 for various models, transmits shocks to the body through pads. The shocks caused muscles to contract at a rate of 40 a minute.

The purpose claimed for the device is exercise and waistline reduction.

"Where The Action Is"

By JO BRIGHT

"Action-70's" says what it means—a direct statement by the Texas Congress of Parents and Teachers that its members intend to become personally involved with youth's problems. "A little less talk, and a lot more action," could well be the slogan heard here Monday and Tuesday as the Sixteenth District opens its 24th annual spring conference under the leadership of Mrs. Dwight McCann of Big Spring, district president.

The conference will be centered around the growing concern of parents and teachers over drugs, narcotics, smoking and pornography.

"The PTA can no longer afford to plow under and wait for another generation to reach maturity," said Mrs. McCann. "Our youth is facing a confrontation with realities and needs our help."

Hopefully, the PTA can provide the forum for free exchange of ideas concerning the welfare of young people—their education, health and environment.

Parent Teacher Association objects are the same today as they were 10 years ago, yet the world has changed—and so has youth, making it imperative that lasting values be emphasized in a more dramatic manner. By updating its approach, the PTA hopes to help youth become responsible leaders in tomorrow's world.

The PTA is taking action—to promote the welfare of children and youth in the home, school, church and community.

It endeavors to raise the standards of home life and to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and teenagers. Ultimately, it aims to bring into closer relation the home and school that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

And in the end, secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

EACH PROGRAM for the PTA district conference will, in fact, be an "original", for the swirling cover designs were created by dripping paints on the spinning paper by use of a homemade machine which utilized a fan motor. The programs are almost entirely the work of Mrs. Paschal Odom, left, Kentwood PTA president, and Mrs. David Hodnett, president of the PTA City Council, who have turned out 170 covers.

WHAT BETTER DECORATIONS for a spring conference than big, bright flowers to bloom profusely on luncheon tables? After a busy morning during which awards will be presented at the first general session, PTA delegates will break for a relaxing luncheon at Big Spring Country Club. Many local women have assisted in making decorations, four

THE GROWING CONCERN over drugs, narcotics, smoking and pornography will be brought to the attention of conference delegates with numerous exhibits prepared by PTA members with the cooperation of local agencies. Concerned and compassionate involvement with youth by parents and teachers is urged by the displays, along with the urgent need for parent education. Showing samples of exhibits are Arthur J. Adams, Lakeview PTA president; Mrs. Lee Justice, Airport PTA president; and Jim Holmes, Kentwood Elementary principal.

A TIME FOR ACTION has come for every thinking parent or person involved in the development of young people. This will be the predominant theme of the PTA district conference here this week, as shown by eye-catching posters prepared for the event. With the display are Mrs. Bennie

L. Porter, Moss PTA president; Mrs. Frank Moore, a Parent and Family Life chairman; Mrs. M. A. Dunagan, district vice president; Mrs. Jack Brown, district pre-school chairman; and Mrs. Bobby G. Davis, Boydston PTA president.

INFORMATION PACKETS will be presented to every PTA member attending this week's spring conference. The envelopes contain schedules and background materials along with booklets pertaining to drugs, smoking, pornography and other concerns of the PTA. Helping with the "stuffing" chore have been Mrs. Daryl Highley, Elbow PTA president; Mrs. Dwight McCann, district president; Mrs. S. C. Rhotan Jr. (seated), PTA council corresponding secretary; and Mrs. Robert Doe, Airport PTA hospitality chairman.

Miss Delia Rubio Is Married In Stanton

Miss Delia Rubio, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Rubio, 113 NE 10th, and the Rev. Gregory Tello, San Antonio, were married in a double ring ceremony at 8 p.m. Friday in the Mexican Baptist Mission, Stanton. The Rev. Tello is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Alejandro Tello, Monterrey, Mexico.

The Rev. S. R. Rivera performed the ceremony before an altar flanked with two seven-branched candelabra entwined with greenery and white satin bows. Baskets of white gladioli and lemon leaves decorated the altar.

The bride wore an Empire gown of white bridal satin with scalloped lace-covered bodice and sleeves. The chapel train was attached by a flat bow. Her bouffant veil of illusion was held by a crown of pearls accented with crystals, and she carried a bouquet of white French carnations and poms backed with leather leaf fern and white picot satin ribbon.

ANNOUNCE MARRIAGE — Mr. and Mrs. Burnice Overby of Lenora announce the marriage of their daughter, Judy Lynn, to Jesse Lee Williams on April 23. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Boyce Talent of Andrews and Dennis Ray Williams of Odessa. The couple is residing at 207 Southwest Ave. E. Andrews.

A LOVELIER YOU

Puffy, Irritated Eyes Caused By Pollution

By MARY SUE MILLER

The incidence of undereye puffiness, without physical cause, seems to be on the increase. Air pollution — smog, smoke, exhaust fumes — is suspected. As you may have discovered, just spending an evening in a smoky room can trigger the trouble.

A temporary measure of relief is found in the application of hot and cold water compresses. You apply comfortably hot water for two minutes and follow up with cold (not icy) water for three minutes. Please note, the full effect does not set in for about a quarter hour. Available at cosmetic counters, prepared compresses also are excellent for this purpose.

A simple exercise helps too. You first circle the eyes with cream, preferably eye cream. You next close the lids tightly, count three, then relax. The harder you squeeze the better the outcome. Repeat several times.

Makeup can of course aid the cause. Livid, whitish puffs respond to an opaque cream or creamy stick in a bit lighter shade than your over-all skin tone. This is applied to the puffs prior to your accustomed powder base.

For dark puffs, pearly-opalescent shades are a good cover to use under a skin-toned base. Beware of trying to camouflage this problem with white cosmetics. A coating of white on anything, even the living room walls, increases dimensions. It might blank out the shadows; it would surely spotlight the puffiness.

EYES OF YOUTH
You are not lost to youthful beauty because of dark circles, puffiness, or wrinkles around the eyes. These problems can be brought under control by proper skin care, cosmetic applications, health habits and facial expressions. Methods are detailed in my leaflet, "The Eyes of Youth." To obtain your copy, write Mary Sue Miller in care of the Big Spring Herald, enclosing 15 cents in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope.

LEADERS MEETING HERE THURSDAY

Girl Scouts Urge Adults To Help With Youth's Concerns

The West Texas Girl Scout Council's Association Five, which includes towns in Howard, Martin and Glasscock counties, will hold its spring meeting here Thursday for all troop leaders, assistant leaders, service team members and other registered adults.

All adult Scouts are invited to attend the meeting to pursue Action 70. The program will start at 9:30 a.m. in the First United Methodist Church to be followed by a luncheon. Reservations for the luncheon and baby-sitting services at the church should be made by calling Mrs. Lanny Hamby, 267-7737.

The purpose of the meeting is to discuss Action 70 — "A personal commitment, a nationwide effort to become more aware of prejudices, and to ask action to build better relationships among persons of all ages, religions, races, and nationalities."

The Action 70 project is a nationwide Girl Scout involvement in community problems and needs which Senior Scouts across the country brought to light during the fall 1968 Senior Girl Scout Speakouts.

At these discussions, Seniors discarded the "generation gap" myth as a "dodging of the real issue" — which they felt was adult indifference and unwillingness to involve themselves personally in the concerns of youth and in youth's efforts to make society better for everyone.

What the girls are saying is, "We can do a lot, we feel — but we can't do it alone. We need more adult involvement to help and guide us. Please get into the action with us!"

Thus, Action 70 is the actual process of carrying out the national Girl Scout triennial theme of "ACTION — AWARENESS". This theme was launched at the National Girl Scout convention held this past fall in Seattle.

Each council across the nation will be "doing their own thing." This means girls and adults as members of the West Texas Girl Scout Council, will identify our area's needs and problems and then determine how to solve them and what goals we want to reach.

This association meeting, then will be a problem identifying and solution finding session for the registered adult Girl Scout members within this county.

Through this discussion and others held by each association within the council, for both girls and adults, one of the Action 70 goals will be partially achieved — that of building

Hikers See Mountain Markings

Members of City Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. M. E. Anderson, 614 Dallas, Friday, then hiked around scenic Mountain to locate historic markings.

Mrs. W. J. Priebe was the hostess. Mrs. Alton Underwood and Mrs. Vern Vigar, a guest, were guides on the hike and told of stories linked with the markings. Mrs. Vigar gave a program on historical facts of Howard County. She told where old grocery stores and saloons had been located and said the first airplane landing strip was at the present site of the high school.

Members found Indian signs and fire holes, an Indian grave and priest's grave. Writings from pioneers dating back to 1828 and a cave. They carried sack lunches and ate at the pavilion with a view of spring wild flowers. The next meeting will be May 8 in the home of Mrs. Marvin Sewell, 407 Washington.

La Gallina Games Held On Friday

Other winners were Mrs. Jerry Jenkins and Mrs. Joe Moss, second; and Mrs. Bill Johnson and Mrs. Granville Hahn, third. The next session will be at 10 a.m. Friday.

Reception Will Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Rust, 2108 the occasion of their Golden Anniversary. The open house at Cosden Country fair will be held in the club's Club on Saturday, May 2, on Blue Room, and friends and relatives are invited to call between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m. Host and hostess will be their son-in-law and daughter, Col. (Ret.) and Mrs. John C. Adams of McAllen. She is the former June Rust.

Mr. and Mrs. Rust have three grandchildren. A granddaughter, Jerene, and her husband, Leon Hilliard, reside in Fresno, Calif.; a grandson, Randy Adams, and his wife, Janet, live at Hermosa Beach, Calif., and another grandson, Kevin Adams, lives with his parents in McAllen.

Mrs. Rust is the former Addie Carnahan who was born in the Oklahoma Indian Territory and reared in Stillwater, Okla. Rust was born at Loraine, Ill., moving with his family to Oklahoma when he was six years of age.

The couple was married April 29, 1920, in Stillwater, and lived first in Drumright, Okla., where he was an oil tool blacksmith. In the ensuing years, he continued to be associated with oil field work, and as a consequence, made numerous moves. In 1934, the couple came to Big Spring, where he worked for Southwest Tool and Supply Company for about 20 years. He later worked in Monahan for two years, returning here to work for the city for a short while.

Since his retirement, Mr. Rust has a crafts hobby of making unusual pillow tops, and his wife enjoys quilting. He also has a big yard which keeps him busy. They are members of the Carl Street Church of Christ.

For the reception, Mrs. Rust will wear a dress of beige lace over gold with bone accessories. She will be presented a gold corsage, and her husband will wear a matching boutonniere.

Colors of white and gold will be used on the refreshment table which will be covered with a floor-length white cloth and centered with an arrangement of white daisies and gold carnations. Punch and cake will be served from crystal appointments.

Sherry Figs Top Ice Cream Treat

This is pure elegance in dining.

SHERRIED FIGS
• 1 lb. (18) large table figs
• 2 cups medium-dry sherry
• 1 vanilla bean, broken into 6 pieces

In a ceramic jar-type container put all the ingredients — the sherry should just cover the figs. Cover. Allow to stand at room temperature for several weeks before serving so that the vanilla flavors the sherry and the sherry flavors the figs; the sherry becomes sweeter and thicker.

Use one fig with a little of the flavored sherry as a topping for each portion of vanilla ice cream. Keep any figs left over in the container at room temperature.

Any flavored sherry left after all the figs have been served makes a delicious after-dinner offering to serve in tiny cordial glasses.

TO MARRY — Mr. and Mrs. Wendell W. Faris, Arlington, former Big Spring residents, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Jo Avalon, to Richard Jay Mortimer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Cashion, Arlington. The couple plans to marry May 30 in Trinity United Methodist Church, Arlington.

Quotable Quotes

By The Associated Press

Some quotable quotes from women during the week:
"That was the most beautiful sight I've ever seen." — Mary Haise, wife of Apollo 13 astronaut Fred Haise Jr., after watching the spacecraft splash-down in the Pacific.

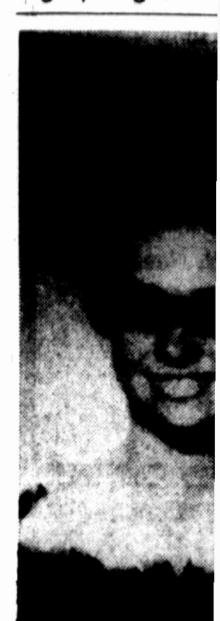

"I think it's the most mature yearbook we've ever had. It's too mature for this campus. I now realize. My opinion hasn't changed. I like it." — Robyn Moses, editor of a controversial Jacksonville University student yearbook which included six pages of peace symbols, a caricature of President Richard Nixon and a picture of two plump nude girls.

"I've never really taken proper care of Harry. I know that I could do a much better job. That'll be No. 1." — Mrs. Harry Blackmun after her husband was nominated as justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

"I was so appalled at what I discovered that I decided to go into politics and try to do something about it." — Helen Suzman, sole parliamentary protagonist for the Progressive party in South Africa, which bases its policy on racial integration and a multiracial voting pattern.

"I am really quite sad to see how little regard people have for Mother Earth." — Frances Vandervoort, organizer of an Earth Day teach-in at a Chicago school, who rides a bicycle four miles to her job to help cut down on air pollution.

MRS. NEIL M. GALLAGHER (Curley's Studio)

Couple Recites Vows In Church Ceremony

Marriage vows were exchanged Saturday by Miss Karen Russell and Sgt. Neil M. Gallagher, Webb AFB, in the First Assembly of God Church. The Rev. J. W. Farmer conducted the 7:30 p.m. service before an altar decorated with baskets of gladioli flanking an arch of greenery.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Russell, 1105 Lloyd, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Gallagher, Glenolden, Pa.

"The Wedding Prayer" and "Whither Thou Goest" were sung by Miss Merlee Dennis and Miss Sharon Farmer, accompanied by Mrs. Jim Ryals, organist.

The bride was attired in an Empire gown with lace bodice and sleeves. The scalloped neckline was edged in pearl beads, and beaded lace appliques accented the bottom of the bridal satin skirt. A lace train fell from the waistline. Her shoulder length veil of illusion was held by a satin bow topped with an illusion-petaled flower edged with pearls. She carried a bouquet of white carnations.

Miss Janice Russell, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sharon White and Miss Carol Russell, also a sister of the bride. They wore pink dresses with long bell sleeves trimmed in white lace, and carried long stemmed white carnations tied with white ribbon.

Airman L.C. Paul Carthers served as best man, and Airman L.C. Bob Tourge and Airman L.C. Steve Quirk were groomsmen. Ushers were Larry Russell, brother of the bride, and Airman L.C. Richard Howe. The wedding reception followed in the fellowship hall of the church. The refreshment table was covered with a lace cloth, and the bride's bouquet served as the centerpiece. The tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bride and bridegroom. Silver and crystal appointments were used.

Miss Deanna Wilkerson was in charge of the guest register. The couple left for a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N.M. The bride traveled in a soft pink knit A-line dress with white accessories and wore the corsage from her bouquet. Upon their return the couple will reside at 1602 Jennings.

The bride is a graduate of Big Spring High School and attended Howard County Junior College. The bridegroom is a graduate of Cardinal O'Hara School, Springfield, Pa.

Members of the house party included Mrs. Burl Dennis and Mrs. Bill White. Miss Joanne Gallagher, Glenolden, Pa., was an out-of-town guest.

'ROUND TOWN

BY LUCILLE PICKLE

If you didn't leap your clock forward for spring this morning you are probably going to fall backward on your activities today. Don't just change one clock, change them all, or you are going to be behind for a while, and maybe a little mixed up.

Guests here from their home in Los Angeles, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. JOE HARDESTY who arrived Saturday. They are visiting his mother, MRS. JOE HARDESTY, a brother, and sister-in-law, MR. and MRS. FRANK HARDESTY, his sister, MRS. J. D. ELLIOTT, and MR. ELLIOTT.

M. SGT. and MRS. EDWARD CRUZ have recently returned from an automobile trip with his relatives in Brownsville and several trips into Mexico while they were in the area. They enjoyed the journey to South Texas particularly this time of the year when the bluebonnets are in full bloom.

Mrs. Cruz had made an earlier trip to California by air to visit in San Bernardino with her niece, MRS. B. N. ELLIS, and her husband and then went to Sacramento to spend two days with another niece and her husband, MR. and MRS. WILLIAM McCARTER.

Speaking of bluebonnets, I firmly believe that we could have a lot more of them blooming here if we tried a little harder. Several places in Washington Place have beautiful beds of them, and the Shirley place on Lancaster always has a colorful array. We read on our directions that the seed should be strewn which we did but I rather think they ended up on a bed rock or in someone else's yard. But we've never tried to plant them in a bed which I suppose it the only way out here where the wind "she do blow."

We're enjoying the irises given to us several years ago by MRS. OBIE BRISTOW when she divided her "really good"

How Much Beef To Give A Person

"How much beef should I allow per serving?" This is a question homemakers often ask. Here's a guide for boneless beef such as boneless round steak, ground beef, stew meat and rolled roast, allow 1/4 pound per serving.

For beef with average amount of bone such as bone-in roasts and steaks allow 1-3 to 1 1/2 pounds per serving; beef with more bone, as short ribs, allow 3/4 to one pound per serving.

FOCUS ON FAMILY LIVING

Save Time, Money, Energy With All-Purpose Recipes

By CATHERINE CRAWFORD
County RD Agent

You can have colorful, appetizing meals in minimum time and with less energy if you plan and manage them properly. Did you know that the average homemaker spends about a third of her time in planning, preparing and serving meals? Of course, some homemakers spend more time on food preparation than others. The size of the family, elaborateness of meals and the convenience and use of kitchen equipment influence the time spent on meals.

Health and well-being of your family are of utmost importance in meal preparation. A homemaker cannot afford to cut corners so far that she sacrifices well-prepared, balanced meals and a happy atmosphere around the family table. Planning and management are the keys to easy, good meals.

Make better use of time by menu planning. Set aside a time and place for menu planning. The time spent in planning will be more than returned when it is time to prepare the meals.

PLANNING

Think about menus. Some possible timesavers are as follows:

- Serve fewer and well-prepared foods in generous amounts.
- Use foods that can be cooked together, such as pot roasts with vegetables.
- Use foods that require few cooking utensils, serving dishes and last-minute preparation.
- Use foods that can be cooked and served in the same container, such as casseroles.
- Use foods that take little preparation.
- Use foods that cook in time-saving equipment, such as pressure saucepans and automatic appliances.
- Plan meals that fit into other tasks, such as easier meals on club meeting days.
- Plan and serve simple desserts.
- Plan menus to use only one cooking area of the range, such as broiler meals.
- Plan dishes that require few ingredients.
- After menus are planned, make a shopping list to save time, steps and money. Foods listed in the order that they are found on the grocery shelves speeds shopping.

PREPARATION

Make better use of time and energy in preparation of your meals. Try some of these suggestions for saving time and energy.

- Clean fruit and vegetables before placing in refrigerator.
- Begin preparing the food first that requires the most time.
- Prepare larger portions of foods to be fixed in a different way later. Some foods that can be prepared ahead without losing quality are meat roast, gelatin desserts and salads.
- Dried beans and peas, potatoes with jackets and hardcooked eggs.
- Prepare double quantities of foods that freeze well and freeze half for use another day.
- Prepare some of the foods for the next meal while cleaning up from the meal just eaten.
- Arrange kitchen equipment so that utensils used together are stored together. Keep baking supplies and equipment together.
- Keep equipment in good working order. Keep the knives sharp and the eggbeater working smoothly.
- Let other family members have a responsibility in meal preparation.
- Clean up after each job as it is completed.
- To make better use of time and energy when serving the meal, try these suggestions:
- When possible, cook in a utensil that can be brought to the table for serving.
- Make one platter or bowl do for several foods. Arrange meat attractively on a chop plate or platter with vegetables.
- Plates served in the kitchen save serving dishes.
- Make table service easy, simple and efficient, but attractive.
- Plastic place mats and paper napkins are easy care and suitable for family meals.
- When dishwashing, try these time and energy saving steps:
- Soak dishes and pots and pans as soon as food is removed.
- Use cold water for eggs, milk and flour.
- Scrape and stack according to kind at right of sink or dishpan for a right-handed person.
- Wash glasses, silver, china and cooking utensils in that order.
- Place dishes in drainer and scald with boiling water. Drying in drainer saves time and dish towels and is more sanitary than wiping the dishes.
- Store dishes nearby that will be used first.

Guild Has Review Of 'Other Side'

Bishop James Pike's book, "The Other Side," was reviewed Thursday by Mrs. Richard Davis at the meeting of St. Monica's Guild, St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Mrs. Milton Talbot, 1508 Dayton, was the hostess, and Mrs. Ralph Caton gave the devotion.

The book told of the suicide of the bishop's son, Jim, and of his "spiritual return" through mediums. Bishop Pike related his son's description of death. The son said he had not "seen Jesus yet, but He is not the Savior," according to the book. The next meeting will be May 21 in the home of Mrs. Don Williams, 2804 Parkway.

Breakfast Gives Valuable Nutrient
Food surveys reveal that if dad, mom or the children skip breakfast they seldom make up for the loss of nutrients during the rest of the day. They may very likely, however, make up and probably exceed the calorie intake. The body is left without important materials needed to help keep it in optimum condition.

Nutritionists say breakfast should supply from 1/4 to 1/3 of the nutrients needed for the day. Bacon, Canadian-style bacon, sausage, ham and chipped beef because they are excellent sources of several nutrients including protein, serve as a good foundation.

PARTY PRIMARIES

Saturday Is Election Day

Both Democratic and Republican parties will hold primary elections Saturday for nominations for local, district and state offices, with the Democrats far ahead of the Republicans in the number of candidates.

Heavy Democratic competition lies in three races, for County Judge and Precinct 2 and 4 County Commissioners. Those seeking Republican nominations to local offices are unchallenged.

Absentee voting in the Democratic primary has been heavy, with 121 ballots in the county clerk's office shortly before closing time Friday. Only one Republican had voted absentee Friday.

Absentee ballots can be cast in the county clerk's office on the first floor of the courthouse between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday and Tuesday. Persons who have requested ballots to mail in can continue to mail them through May 2, the date of the election, Mrs. Pauline Petty, county clerk, said.

Saturday, any registered voter can vote in either the Democratic or Republican primary by presenting his 1970 voter's registration slip.

The county has 13,174 registered voters this year, although neither Dr. Akin Simpson, Republican party chairman, or C. V. Riordan, Democratic party chairman, expects a full turnout.

Polls will open at 8 a.m. Saturday and close at 7 p.m. to be immediately followed by precinct conventions to elect delegates to the county convention the following Saturday. The second primary will be held June 6 serving as a run-off to determine the final nominations.

Eastland Court

Seeking the nomination in the May 2 Democratic primary for chief justice of the Court of Civil Appeals, 11th District, at Eastland, are District Judge Austin McCloud of the 32nd judicial district, and Roger Q. Garrett, Abilene attorney.

McCloud has a background of private practice of law in Houston and Colorado City, and six years as a district court judge. He is a graduate of National College of State Trial Judges, University of Nevada, and has recently had legal articles published in Trial Judges Journal and Trial Lawyers Forum.

Garrett was born and reared in Jones County, graduated from Abilene High School, attended John Tarleton College and the University of Texas. He served four terms as county judge of Jones County, then practiced law in Anson for a time before moving to Abilene in 1957.

"I realize the great responsibility of the Justice of the Court of Civil Appeals. I will serve honestly and do my best to maintain the integrity and respect this court has had for many years."

Garrett is a Mason and Shriner, member of the Abilene and State Bar Associations and is president of the Downtown Lions Club in Abilene.

Appeals is recognized as one of the outstanding appellate courts of Texas," McCloud said, "and my candidacy is dedicated to the continuance of this outstanding service to the citizens and communities of our area under the laws of our state."

A graduate of Texas Tech, Judge McCloud lives in Colorado City where his wife is a public school teacher. They have two daughters.

Garrett was born and reared in Jones County, graduated from Abilene High School, attended John Tarleton College and the University of Texas. He served four terms as county judge of Jones County, then practiced law in Anson for a time before moving to Abilene in 1957.

Parties To Stage Precinct Elections

The Democratic and Republican parties will hold county conventions May 9 in the courthouse, with the Democrats meeting on the third floor in the district courtroom and the Republicans on the second floor in the county courtroom.

The order of business will be to elect delegates to the state conventions Sept. 15. The Democrats will get a delegate for each 300 votes cast in the election or any major part thereof for the governor in the last election, County Chairman C. V. Riordan said.

Republican county chairman Dr. Akin M. Simpson said 13 delegates and 13 alternates will be elected to attend the Republican convention.

Precinct elections will be held immediately after the polls close in the May 2 primary and at the place where the election was held for that precinct, unless another place is designated.

The second primary, or run-off, will be held June 6, Riordan said.

Voters Saturday will also pick chairman of their parties in each precinct, and some of the voting boxes have candidates for these posts listed on the ballots.

In the Democratic Party, Frank Parker is seeking election as county chairman. Those seeking precinct posts, and their voting box, include Elizar Rodriguez, Box 1, John Roemer Sr.,

Box 3, O. R. Crow, Box 6, L. R. Mundt, Box 8, Edgar Phillips, Box 12, R. A. Merrick, Box 14, W. D. Berry, Box 16, and Gloria Widger, Box 20. Eddie Aciri, elected to the city commission after his name had been printed on the Box 2 ballot, said he could not serve and encouraged voters to write in the names of others for the job.

Democrats in other precincts will elect chairmen by write-in. In the Republican Party, Tom Ivey is listed on the ballot for the job of county chairman. Mrs. Wendell Shive in Box 9 and E. A. Fiveash in Box 15 are seeking the precinct chairmanships. Voters in other boxes will write in their selections.

County Judge Race

Five local residents are campaigning for the office of Howard County Judge, being vacated this term by Lee Porter, in the Democratic primary May 2.

Candidates are Lewis Hefflin, Harvey Hooser, A. G. Mitchell, D. A. (Dave) Brazel and Omar Jones, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot.

Hefflin has resided in Howard County for the past 32 years and pointed out that his association in business has afforded him an opportunity to meet people from all parts of the county and to learn about many county problems.

He said he will work as hard as possible to carry a positive program for administration of the office. He said he believes his own five children will give him a point of communication with boys and girls in administering the juvenile court. He and his wife live at 3912 Hamilton.

Hooser, a local attorney, has spent most of his life here, and was a member of the first graduating class of Howard County Junior College.

"I feel that in 41 years as a resident of this county I have come to know some of its problems and its opportunities," he said. "In working with people all my life, I believe I have demonstrated an ability to work with members of the commissioners court." He and Mrs. Hooser, the former Jerry Holladay of Fort Smith, Ark., have two boys and two girls, the eldest son home on leave before going to Vietnam. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Hooser Sr.

Mitchell has been a resident of Howard County for the past 26 years and chief criminal investigator for the sheriff's office for 12 years. His wife is a school teacher.

"I will guarantee that I will devote my full time to keeping the county docket down to normal size," he said. He also favors the establishment of a county court at law. He and his wife, Agnes, live at 2617 Carol. They have three married children and 10 grandchildren.

Barzel, retired international representative of the International Union of Operating Engineers, was born and educated in Oklahoma, coming to Big Spring in 1951. He graduated from Oklahoma Baptist University in 1929 with a BA degree in education and minors in economics and history.

"This is my home and I want you to join with me in making it a better place to live," he said. "I am convinced that some source of revenue other than property taxes must be found to defray the cost of government," he said. He and his wife, Margaret, live at 2617 Crestline with their daughter LeAnn. He is a member of the First Baptist Church and is one of the founders of the local United Fund program.

Jones has been a builder and residential developer in Big Spring for 20 years. He served on the board of trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District and helped organize the local Quarterback Club.

"I feel Howard County should return to a tight organization of its road program, putting it under the supervision of an engineer who can be held responsible for getting us our full money's worth in road development," he said. He resides with his wife and younger son, Jontaylor, at 2605 Apache. An older son, Larry, is a graduate of Big Spring High School and Texas Tech and now lives in Dallas. His

Simpson Urges GOP Voting

Dr. Akin M. Simpson, Howard County Republican chairman, Saturday urged all Republicans and independents to vote in the GOP primary Saturday.

He emphasized that Republicans are not asking Democrats to vote in the Republican primary. On the contrary, he said a larger Republican primary will give a larger list of people who may be interested in serving the party and may promote the two-party system in Texas. He also said that a good turnout would demonstrate support for national leaders, including the administration.

"Clearly we have the potential for a large primary turnout," said Dr. Simpson. "In the general election in Howard County, over the last several years, Republican candidates have received from 35 to 57 per cent of the total vote."

A Devotion For Today . . .

If the Son therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed. (John 8:36)

PRAYER: Our Father in heaven, may the freedom we have in Christ not become license to do as we please. Rather, teach us to use it doing Thy will to bring reconciliation and peace. Amen.

Salute To Our Youth

The fifth annual Zale's-Herald Youth Achievement awards have been made, and the event is significant not alone in the presentation of top winners and placers, but in the number of nominees. This says in plain terms that we have a good crop of young people.

The sponsors have put a lot of money and effort into this affair, but it is considered a sound investment by them because sound leadership for tomorrow is the hope of having a free country to do business in.

This event is a positive approach to getting over the feelings of this generation to the next. It says to our young people that "we appreciate what you have done and what you will do. We are depending on you to take over and do a better job than we have been able to do in preserving our heritage and realizing our potentials as a nation."

If this says something to our young people — and we believe that it does — it says even more to adults. None can attend one of these events without having his faith in our young people renewed and buoyed. With this new leavening, things are somehow going to be all right after all.

Time To Change

The time has come for a change in the administration of the General Land Office of Texas, and the state is fortunate in having an experienced young man to turn to. This is the essence of why we feel that Rep. Bob Armstrong is the logical choice in the May 2 primary to fill this post.

He has achieved a sound record in three terms in the Texas House of Representatives and is thus more than conversant with the workings of the state governmental machinery.

This is an important office for it handles the oil and gas leases for the public school lands; it administers the veterans land program; it may play an increasing role in the conservation of our natural resources because one-eighth of the area of Texas falls under its administration.

In recent years the office has been operated with a comic opera front with weird overtures, but with a dictatorial closed-door policy behind that facade. This position is not the domain of one man; it belongs to the people of Texas and should be directed by someone willing to give it the full-time energy and perception that will return maximum benefits for Texas. We feel Bob Armstrong is that man.

Nixon's Stand On Indochina

WASHINGTON — President Nixon spoke this past week over TV and radio to the American people, but in reality the audience he was trying to reach with a warning was the Communist regime in Hanoi. He said frankly that, while he is cutting down the number of American troops in Vietnam by 150,000, this operation could be interrupted at any time if enemy activity is substantially increased.

FIRST OF ALL, Mr. Nixon promised to withdraw the additional troops within 12 months, but he did not say how many would come back within six months or even nine months. The purpose of this vague statement was to notify the Hanoi government that the United States has by no means decided to let South Vietnam be taken over by the Communists just to satisfy a sentiment at home for a troop withdrawal. He bluntly asserted:

"THE ENEMY still demands that we unilaterally and unconditionally withdraw all American forces, that in the process we overthrow the elected government of South Vietnam and that the United States accept a political settlement that would have the practical consequence of the forcible imposition of a Communist government upon the people of South Vietnam. That would mean humiliation and defeat for the United States. This we cannot and will not accept."

THE PRESIDENT then pointed out that, while there has been an over-all decline in the level of enemy forces in South Vietnam, new offensives have been launched by the North Vietnamese in neutral Laos in violation of the Geneva accords of 1962. He added that south of Laos almost 40,000 Communist troops now are "conducting overt aggression against Cambodia, a small neutralist country that the Communists have used for years as a base for attack upon South Vietnam in violation of the Geneva accords of 1954, to which they were also signatories."

MR. NIXON said this follows "the consistent pattern of North Vietnamese aggression in Indochina." He noted that "during the past eight years they have sent tens of thousands of troops into all three countries of the peninsula and across every single common border."

This is the first time the President has linked all of the countries in the Indochina group and laid it on the line — that the United States feels a responsibility to assist in protecting Indochina against aggression while American troops are in Vietnam. The President warned the leaders of North Vietnam:

"WHILE WE ARE taking these risks for peace, they will be taking grave risks should they attempt to use the occasion to jeopardize the security of our remaining forces in Vietnam by increased military action in Vietnam, in Cambodia, or in Laos."

"I repeat what I said Nov. 3rd and Dec. 15th. If I conclude that increased enemy action jeopardizes our remaining forces in Vietnam, I shall not hesitate to take strong and effective measures to deal with that situation."

THERE ARE indications it isn't going to be any easier to withdraw all American forces from Vietnam than it has been to return the 40,000 American troops who have been in Korea since the war there was over nearly 18 years ago. Several thousand will have to remain in South Vietnam, but they will be mostly technicians and support units — a symbol of the American presence.

Multiple Births

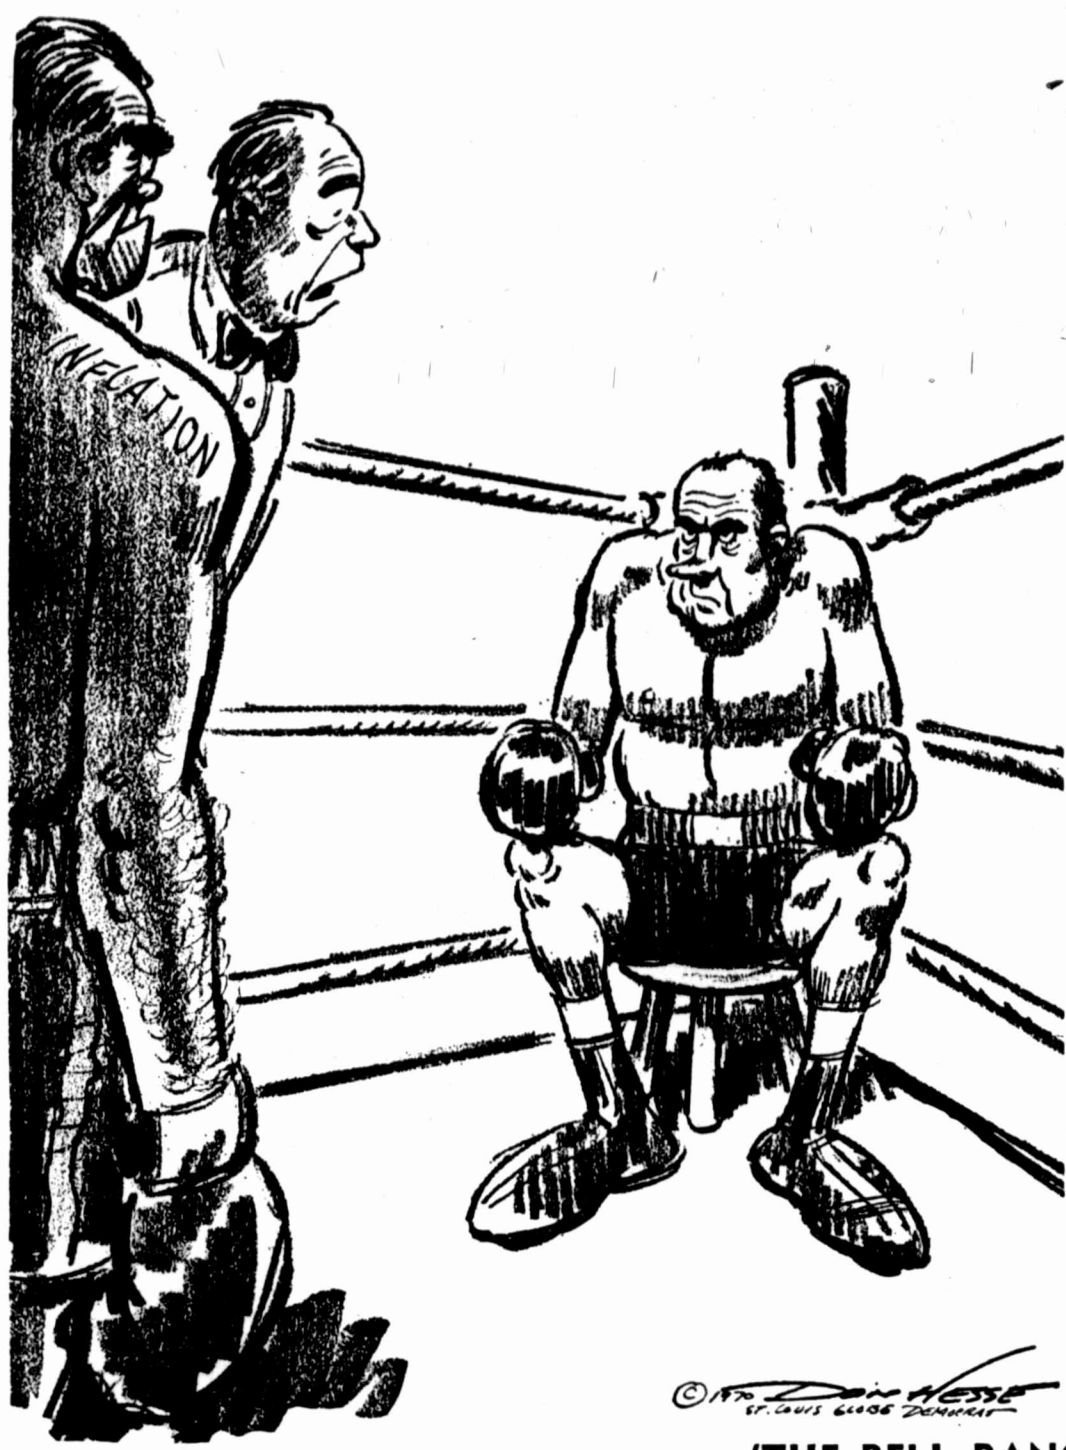

LONDON (AP) — England and Wales had 8,783 multiple births in 1968 — including one set of sextuplets and one of quadruplets.

Only two of the sextuplets, two boys, were born alive, but all four of the quadruplet girls were born alive.

Of the total multiple births, 8,697 were twins and 84 triplets.

A Puzzle

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — State Rep. Ed Holloway still is puzzling over an unsigned letter from a constituent at Louisville which says in entirety: "I have not made up my mind on this issue as yet."

Inflation Spits Out Its Bridle

By JOHN HENRY

AP Business Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Consumers, businessmen and investors got some bad news in big doses during the past week.

The consumer price index continued to rise at an annual rate of 6 per cent in March, the Labor Department reported Wednesday.

High government economists had expected the rate of inflation would decline, and they now appeared to be slightly at a loss as to how to reach that objective.

Herbert Stein, a member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers, said the persistence of inflation "raises questions about how best to combat it." The government is "open to suggestions" of additional ways to combat inflation, he added.

One consolation about the March price increase of four-tenths of 1 per cent was that it fell short of the five-tenths increase in February and the six-tenths jump of the three months before that.

MONEY COST RISES
The Federal Home Loan Bank Board, the three-man group that regulates savings and loan associations, said Thursday the average buyer will have to pay 8.51 per cent on conventional mortgages taken during March. The rate represents an increase of one-tenth of 1 per cent from February.

Rates on used homes rose to 8.48 per cent in March from 8.41 per cent the previous month.

A proposal to ease the home financing problem is being pre-

CRAZY PATTERN

- Cost of living continues 6 pct. annual rate, experts baffled
- Mortgage costs near 8.5, Rep. Patman calls for action
- Yet factory orders slump, first quarter profits off
- Automobile sales down 10.5 pct., stock market skids

pared by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., chairman of the House Banking Committee, it was reported during the week. His proposal would force pension funds and foundations to commit nearly $5 billion a year to home mortgages.

Under the plan, the federal government would create a national development bank as a "lending institution of last resort."

Private pension funds and foundations would be forced to invest in the bank's securities an amount equivalent to half of their annual income.

PATMAN APPLIES HEAT
Both foundations and pension funds enjoy big tax advantages. Patman believes they are obligated, therefore, to "perform socially useful acts in return."

The bad news for business included a Commerce Department report Tuesday that new factory orders of durable goods resumed their decline in March.

New orders last month declined 1.8 per cent from the previous month's level of $29.7 billion. In February, demand for durable goods had increased 2.6 per cent, the first advance since September.

DISAPPOINTING RETURNS
Disappointing first-quarter results continued to roll in. A survey of 692 non-financial corporations by New York's First National City Bank found that corporate profits were 7 per cent below the year-earlier level. That was the sharpest decline in several years.

Chrysler Corp. reported the worst first quarter in its history. The company lost $29.4 million during the period compared with a profit of $48 million a year earlier.

Lagging sales were cited by industry sources as the reason for the sharp loss. The softness in consumer demand for cars continued into April. Sales of U.S.-made new cars through mid-April were 10.5 per cent behind the year-earlier pace.

Perhaps the best news about the auto industry during the week came from Russia. Henry Ford, chairman of the Ford Motor Co., disclosed that the Soviet union had asked his company to develop and build a huge truck plant on a Volga River tributary.

The stock market came close to hitting its lowest level of the year Friday. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials closed at 747.43. The low for the year to date was 744.06 on Jan. 30.

The Dow dropped more than 28 points from Tuesday through Friday.

Around The Rim

Measles, Cherries And Squirrels

It appeared for a time that the measles, or exposure thereto, might be the most talked-of circumstance associated with the Apollo 13 mission. Later developments were so critical and then so thrilling that everybody dismissed the measles incident — except, probably, the fellow involved.

He is not likely to forget his experience, however. I won't forget my measles either.

THE VARIOUS diseases which strike most of us in our younger years dim into the recesses of memory, unless there was something most unusual. Some people can't really be certain whether they ever had the mumps, chicken pox, etc.

But my measles came at a rather unusual time, and in my mind, the ailment goes with cherries and squirrels. Yep, cherries and squirrels.

IT WAS a summer when as a tad, I got to accompany my Mother on a trip back to her childhood homeland in Indiana. Wow! What a journey! Days and nights on a real train, seeing a part of the world I never knew existed.

Most of the trip went beautifully. After short stays with various relatives, we settled down to spend a couple of weeks on Uncle Ike's farm, in beautiful, rolling, tree-and-grass studded country in the Wabash Valley sector.

AMONG THE wondrous things on Uncle Ike's farm were great trees in the woodlots, trees in which squirrels frolicked. These were fascinating to a West Texas urchin who hadn't seen much wildlife but polecats and jack-rabbits.

And also, in the sweep of clover lawn just outside his house was a cherry orchard, with the trees massive enough for a kid to climb up, make himself comfortable on a limb and eat all the cherries within reach.

We were there at ripening time, and eat my fill I did.

THERE WAS a morning after a cherry spree that I turned into a pretty sick kid, and there were spots all over me. This was disheartening, because I wanted to watch squirrels and eat cherries, but my place was in bed.

After a few days, when I was back to convalescence, Uncle Ike came in with a squirrel he had shot, and allowed as how, as a patient, I should be treated to a delicacy. Actually, I liked live squirrels better, but I vaguely recall that I had had something special in the way of meat.

WHAT REALLY stuck more in my mind was the suspicion that too many fresh, ripe cherries caused a fellow to break out in a rash. And it took several years for me to dismiss the theory that eating cherries was a sure way to get the measles. Or that eating squirrel wasn't a cure.

Now Do You Understand Indochina?

WASHINGTON — There's this fellow at the National Press Club bar and he's always briefing me on what is going on in Southeast Asia.

"Did you hear that President Nixon is going to pull 150,000 more Americans out of Vietnam?"

"That's good," I said.

WELL, IT'S NOT exactly good," the fellow replied, "because he didn't indicate when he was going to do it. He did say it would be within the next year."

"That's not bad."

"It could be bad for the Democrats."

"How's that?"

"He might pull out 50 soldiers now and 149,950 just before the elections in November."

"I see," I said.

"NO YOU DON'T. Although the President said he would pull out the 150,000 troops within the next year, he also said he would be influenced by what happened in Cambodia and Laos."

"That's good," I said.

"It could be bad. If the war spreads into Cambodia and Laos, we might be obligated to stay out there."

"I should hope so. Hey, why are the Cambodians killing the Vietnamese civilians?"

"Because they hate them."

"BUT DOESN'T that make it very embarrassing for us, since Cambodia is asking for U.S. military aid?"

"It doesn't help."

"I would think if we gave Cambodia military aid and they used it to kill Vietnamese civilians, the South Vietnamese wouldn't be too happy about it."

"They aren't dancing in the streets of Saigon. But killing civilians is the price you have to pay for freedom in Southeast Asia."

"WHAT CAN the Americans do to stop the Cambodians from killing the civilians?"

"The best thing we can do is bomb the Ho Chi Minh Trail in Laos."

"I was going to ask you about Laos. What the hell are we doing there?"

"We weren't doing anything until Sen. Symington's committee shot off their big mouths. Our story now is we're preventing the Viet Cong from using Laos to get the upper hand in Cambodia."

"That's good."

"YOU SEE, things are much brighter now that the South Vietnamese can knock out the Communists' staging areas in Cambodia, which until recently were off limits to them."

"That's good."

"It's good only if Pnom Penh doesn't fall."

"Pnom Penh?"

"That's the capital of Cambodia."

"What's to prevent Pnom Penh from falling?"

The man seemed disgusted with my ignorance. "Two Royal Army battalions from Thailand, stupid."

The Determined Israelis

KANTARA SECTOR, Suez Canal, Israel. (DELAYED) — Driving down to the canal is a mad, wonderful newsreel. The beginning through the Sinai Desert is an oldtime travelogue, the distant figure of a Bedouin woman in black robes silhouetted against a dune as she leads one very large camel and one small camel.

THE RUSTING HULKS of tanks and half-tracks destroyed in the six-day war of '67 are a jarring note in this idyllic scene. And the military traffic builds up with young soldiers at the checkpoints with submachine guns. At Nahal Yam (Sea) a military kibbutz, where fish caught in the nearby lagoon are shipped in refrigerated trucks to Tel Aviv, is the last outpost, with Israelis digging in with characteristic zeal.

At the advance base just before the canal the briefing, as inevitable in any war as death and destruction, is a model of conciseness. Both officers and men are extraordinarily young. They move through the blowing sand with an easy informality — self-discipline is how they think of the coherence of their military organization.

THE RUINED TOWN of Kantara, with gaping buildings and half-destroyed mosque, is on the edge of the canal. As an introduction to the front line, no movie set could possibly equal it. And the front line, as with the front line in virtually every war, has its own special atmosphere of stamina graced with a casual fellowship that ignores the ceaseless threat of shells and sniper fire day and night.

THE ISRAELI ARMY has an extraordinary achievement to its credit on the canal. In all three wars the Israelis fought a war of constant movement. That was one reason for their swift triumphs. They have had to dig in here in deep bunkers heavily sandbagged. They have gone under ground in the past year, and with flack jackets and helmets and the most cautious movement above ground they have sharply cut back casualties.

IN RECENT WEEKS there has been a lull in the firing from the Egyptian side of the canal where there are an estimated 140 cannon, 80 tanks, and between Kantara and Port Said an Egyptian division and a few commando battalions. The reason for the lull is that the enemy has concluded that heavy shelling does not pay off, since it brings heavy reprisals. So they rely on occasional sniper fire and shelling at odd hours of the day and night.

The young men in uniform who carry the burden of the fighting along the canal are, for the whole nation, heroes, defenders of the faith. In this same context most Israelis see their own role. They, too, are defenders of the homeland no less than these young conscripts who wear the uniform for three years.

MOTIVATION and self-discipline, these are the elements that give the army and the nation a strength far beyond numbers, and for that matter beyond their great capacity for organization and technology.

"We can go on this way forever if we have to" — that is the proud assertion of an Israeli in a key position in the relationship with the outside world.

What Others Say

The Charlotte, N.C., City Council has passed an ordinance against leaving a car unattended with the key in the ignition.

The misdemeanor, effective July 1, will subject violators to a $4 fine.

A similar law here would "make people conscious of leaving their key in the ignition or the ignition switch in the 'on' position," Sgt. Allan Jones of the Auto Theft Division, Corpus Christi Police Department, said.

We are disenchanted with the idea that all problems can be solved by the passage of new laws, but this is one situation which might well be worth consideration.

Area Counties Have Contested Elections

EVELYN HALE

FERN COX

District Clerk

Incumbent district clerk Mrs. Fern Cox faces challenger Mrs. Evelyn Hale, a former deputy district clerk, in the May 2 Democratic primary.

Mrs. Hale, who is listed first on the ballot, is a lifelong resident of Howard County and is bookkeeper-cashier for Hall-Bennett Memorial Hospital.

"While an employee in the office of the district clerk, I felt there were many ways in which its operations could be of more benefit to the public it serves, both in service and economically," she said. "If elected, I will endeavor to make these changes."

She attended Gay Hill School and is a graduate of Big Spring High School. She and her husband, Charlie Hale, live at 1801 State with their children, Marlon, 13, and Sheri, 9. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. (Bill) Hanson, Luther.

Cox, a former deputy sheriff, is serving his second elected term as district clerk. He is a graduate of San Angelo Business College and has attended Howard County Junior College. A veteran of World War II, he served 3½ years with the Air Force.

"I have tried to maintain an efficient and serviceable office," he said. "I will continue to work and to do my best to maintain an office in which I feel the people of Howard County can have confidence."

Several election day contests have shaped up for the May 2 Republican and Democratic primaries in area counties.

Mitchell County Democrats have three contested offices, county judge, county clerk and county treasurer.

Elmer Marin and Bill Frank Carter are both seeking the office of county judge. Candidates in the county clerk race are Dennis Walding, Henry C. Doss and Marie Bassham. County treasurer hopefuls are Mildred Mann Boyd, Pearl Rhodes and Mary T. Hart.

Unopposed candidates are Roy Davis Coles, county school superintendent; Drue Cawthron, Precinct 2 county commissioner; Moody Richardson, Precinct 4 county commissioner; Leonard Henderson, justice of the peace, Precinct 1; J. Dawson County Democrats have three contested races, with two candidates running for county judge, three for Precinct 2 county commissioner and four for Precinct 4 county commissioner.

Leslie C. Pratt and R. F. Spraberry are county judge candidates. Seeking the county commission job in Precinct 2 are Early J. Peltier, A. B. (Abe) Furlow, and E. R. (Shorty) Marshall. Candidates for Precinct 4 county commissioner are Dalton Myers, H. H. (Slim) Lybrand, R. S. (Rip) Spraberry and Jasper White.

Unopposed candidates are Ralph Kinsey, county attorney; Robert E. L. Smith, district clerk; Louie C. White, county clerk; Clyde Bostick, county treasurer; C. E. Green, county school superintendent; L. E. Petty, county surveyor; and Arthur Standefer, justice of the peace. Leon Cohorn is seeking the county chairmanship; and the only precinct chairman candidate on the ballot is Leonard C. Scott, Precinct 4.

In the Glasscock Democratic primary the contested races are for county judge and Precincts 2 and 4 county commissioners. Seeking the county judge's office are D. W. Parker and Bryant A. Harris. Candidates for Precinct 2 commissioner are George E. Schwartz, Frank Ramsel and Arlis Ratliff. Campaigning for Precinct 4 commissioner are W. L. (Bill) Robinson and Lois Blalock.

Unopposed candidates are Vena Lawson, for district and county clerk; Jonnie L. Cypert, county treasurer; and W. C. (Pete) Underwood, justice of the peace, Precinct 1.

Both Republican and Democratic primaries will be held in Martin County, although no Republicans are seeking nominations for local office. Joe Mabey is the only candidate for Republican county chairman.

The Democrats have competition in only three races, for county judge and for Precinct 2 and 4 county commissioners. Seeking the job as both county judge and ex-officio school superintendent are Jess Miles, Carroll Yater, R. C. Vest Jr., Jim McCoy and Roy Koonce.

Campaigning for commissioners court are Buster Haggard and M. D. Coggins, Precinct 2, and Quinton Airhart and G. E. Cave, Precinct 4.

Unchallenged candidates are Doris Stephenson, for district and county clerk; Elmo Reed, county treasurer; and Martin L. Gibson, justice of the peace. Precinct 1 Morgan Hall is seeking the chairmanship of the county Democratic party.

DEE JON DAVIS

RALPH MAHONEY

63rd Legislative Seat

Three Big Spring men May 2 will be seeking the Democratic nomination for representative of the 63rd District to the Texas State Legislature.

Candidates, in the order in which they will appear on the ballot, are Dee Jon Davis, Ralph Mahoney and Roy Ford.

Incumbent Temple Dickson, Sweetwater, announced in January that he would not seek another term because of increased demands of his law practice in Nolan County. Howard, Mitchell and Nolan counties are in the 63rd district.

Davis, a native of Howard County, was formerly county attorney here and now is in private practice. He is a graduate of Big Spring High School, Baylor University and the University of Texas School of Law.

"It is with a deep sense of responsibility that I ask for this place of service," Davis said. "I am not unmindful of the obligations that representing the people carries. My pledge is to represent all the people, of all the district."

He is married to the former Lou Ann White, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George G. White. They have two children, Scott, 7, and Shelly, six months.

Mahoney, associated with Mahoney Cotton Company, was born in Houston but has lived in West Texas since he was a small boy. He graduated from Big Spring High School, attended Tarleton State College for two years and subsequently received a BA degree from Texas Christian University, where he majored in political science and government.

"I feel that the time has come when Texas must take another look for a new source of revenue. Sales taxes and property taxes can no longer be considered as a never ending supply of revenue," Mahoney said. A Vietnam veteran and a member of St. Mary's Episcopal Church, Mahoney and his wife live at 700 Avondale Drive.

Ford, a resident of Big Spring since 1942, is a Big Spring attorney. He attended public schools here and in Snyder, and received his bachelor's degree from Howard Payne College. He received his doctor of jurisprudence degree last year from Cumberland School of Law. He has also attended Hardin-Simmons University and Samford University.

"If sent to Austin to represent this district, I will work for a dollar's value for every tax dollar spent," Ford said. "I will definitely work for the best interest of the taxpayers." He and his wife, Jeraldine live at 1901 Nolan, with their children Pacca, 11, and Felicia, 5. He is the son of Mrs. Roy Ford, Snyder, and the late Mr. Ford.

Pct. 2 Contest

Five candidates are seeking the nomination in the May 2 Democratic primary for County Commissioner of Precinct 2. Incumbent Ray Nichols is not seeking re-election.

Candidates are Raymond Hamby, Howard A. Sherrill, L. Ed Edwards, Bill Bennett and Joe T. Swinney.

Hamby was reared on a farm in northern Howard County and he farmed here until a few years ago. He has operated used car businesses and is presently president of the Big Spring Independent Auto Dealers Association. MULLENS, W. Va. (AP) — Jack Staton, a 15-year-old junior high school student in this southern West Virginia coal mining town, says he's worried about local pollution and is turning to politics for the solution.

He's running for mayor. Staton's campaign forces waited until Earth Day Wednesday to announce his write-in candidacy. The campaign committee includes nearly every student at Staton's school.

Eight persons are seeking nominations to county offices unopposed in the Democratic primary May 2.

Precinct 4 Commissioner

Three Howard County residents are challenging incumbent Bill Tune in the May 2 Democratic primary for the nomination for County Commissioner, Precinct 4. They are Jack Buchanan, Jeff Grant and Bob Wheeler.

Buchanan has been active in various farm and ranch improvement endeavors and is affiliated with a long list of organizations operating in these areas. He graduated from Coahoma High School and received his bachelor of science degree in agriculture from Texas Tech.

He taught, and later became coordinator, in the Howard County Vocational School, resigning to become manager of the Howard County Farm Association. In the last few years he has devoted his full time to farming and ranching.

"I do not have any preconceived ideas about this office. I plan to analyze each issue as it comes up and make my decisions solely on its merits," he said.

He and his wife, Mildred, have three children, Debra, Darla and Jackie, and are members of the Vealmoor Church of Christ. He owns his farm in the Luther area, raising cotton, grain and grazing crops, as well as raising registered Herefords and sheep.

Tune, reared in O'Donnell, chose Big Spring as his home in 1946. He was in the automobile business several years, and is now owner and operator of Ace Wrecking Co. He is president of the Hi-Noon Optimist Club and is active in the Teenage Baseball program.

"In the last three years, I have gained valuable experience serving as county commissioner for Precinct 4," he said. "If re-elected, I pledge a cooperative attitude and a tireless effort in the duties of the office. The expenditure of the tax dollar must be directed with consideration of necessity and assurance of benefit to the total population of the county."

He and his wife, Mary Jo, live with their son, Tommy, on North Birdwell Lane at Andrews Lane. They have a married daughter, Mrs. Larry Harp, a junior at Angelo State University.

Grant, a resident of the county for 50 years, has been active in farming and other affairs. He attended school in the Moore community.

"I will work for the welfare of this precinct and will cooperate with others to make this a better Howard County," he said. "I will do my utmost to see that the taxpayers receive as much as possible from their tax dollars. The people will always have first claim on my service."

He and his wife, Frieda, own the farm on which Grant grew up and have three married children, Bobby Grant, Mrs. Donald (Koila) Strickland Jr. and Mrs. Joe (Patsy) Guinn.

Wheeler, who resigned his job as purchasing agent for Howard County to devote time to operating his business last April, is a life-time resident of the county. His father worked for the county road department for 20 years and Wheeler was employed by the road department for 15 years.

"As commissioner, I would like to see a fire-fighting agreement negotiated with the city, install a plan enabling older employees of the county to retire at age 65 with a livable income at no cost to the taxpayer, and instate a long-range planning and building program which will insure better roads for less money," he said.

He and his wife, Dorothy, live at 3307 Drexel with their three children, Carrie, Kyle and Beverly.

Children Push Voter Turnout

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — A voter turnout drive for the May 2 primary will involve some 23,000 children in the Edgewood School District here in "one way or another," Supt. Jose Cardenas says.

Cardenas said he urged the voters turnout drive as a school activity to be coordinated by the district's social studies department.

Through random sampling by telephone, social studies classes in three of the district's high schools will try to evaluate the drive. Cardenas said.

He said the district is endorsing no candidate.

No Local GOP Contests

Seeking nomination in the May 2 Republican primary for local offices are George MacConnell, for district clerk, and Garner McAdams, for Precinct 2 County Commissioner.

Although a relative newcomer to Big Spring with 3½ years here, MacConnell said he feels his 29 years residence in West Texas qualified him to appreciate the fullness of life encountered among his fellow Texans. He previously lived in Big Spring, 1944-45, serving at the Big Spring Bombardier School as intelligence officer, squadron adjutant and squadron commander, as well as club officer. He retired as a master sergeant in June, 1962, and, prior to coming to Big Spring, he resided in San Angelo.

He said he feels that he would bring to the office of district clerk progressive experience in administration, the ability to move forward to a system of data processing should the occasion require. He has completed administrative management courses and data processing courses at various Texas schools.

He and his wife, Kathryn, have two daughters and a son, all of San Angelo. They live at 1804 Hearn. MacConnell served as the manager of the Cosden Country Club three years until resigning to accept the managership of a local shoe store.

McAdams, a resident of the county since 1928, has farm, ranch and real estate interests in the county, and has worked as a building contractor in partnership with his father and in oil field construction work. He is now serving his second term on the Big Spring city commission, and says he is a firm supporter of more cooperation between city, county and school.

"I believe I have knowledge of both rural and urban problems," he said. "I believe in seeking more efficiency and economy in county government. I certainly will try to be fair and honest in the decisions I am called on to make, and I will work with other members of the court to serve all segments of the county."

In a nation as big as ours there is always a tendency to overlook the individual and to think only of groups. Youth gets the brunt of this generalizing.

Many of our boys and girls are delinquent. But some folks would have us believe that every child is a potential delinquent.

Time we realized that children aren't chicks! They don't grow up by the drawerful to have the same characteristics and habits.

Children respond to love, parental example, religious guidance. They possess an ever-increasing aptitude for responsibility, trust, and faith.

Most of our boys and girls will grow up to assume their rightful place in an orderly, Christian society. Some will populate our jails. But the destiny of the individual youth is not a matter of chance and percentage...

It is determined primarily by the conscientiousness of loving parents, and by the persistency with which his natural religious interests are cultivated.

Pilot's Canvas In AF Academy

SNYDER — The work of the distinguished artist, Wilson Hurley, will go on view next Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m. in the Diamond M Foundation's Museum here. The artist, Wilson Hurley, will be on hand for the special preview to greet and talk to visitors.

Hurley, who holds an engineering degree from West Point, a law degree from George Washington University, and served as an Air Force pilot in the South Pacific, has recently returned from Vietnam where he served with the 150th Tactical Fighter Group.

All of these elements of success were at his fingertips, yet a small still voice continued to haunt him so that after following an active legal career, he tossed aside the security of that world and turned to the field of creative arts. Hurley's determination and desire along with his genuine talent and several years of dedicated work have proven that his decision was and is indeed worthwhile.

The relationship between Diamond M's C. T. McLaughlin and the artist came to light after the painting's destiny was to hang in the permanent collection of the United States Air Force Academy as a donation of the Diamond M Foundation.

'ROMEO AND JULIET' OPENS AT R/70 Filmed In Romanesque Church

In "Romeo and Juliet," opening Wednesday at the R70 Theatre, the star-crossed lovers are married in a beautiful Romanesque church set amid the rolling hills and farms of Tuscany.

Director Franco Zeffirelli first saw the church of San Pietro in the town of Tuscany, near Viterbo, when, as a student of architecture at the University of Florence, he bicycled there to study it.

His new film version of the Shakespeare tragedy has decor and costumes of the mid-15th Century Renaissance period. Before the High Altar of San Pietro, Friar Laurence played by Mito O'Shea, unites Romeo, portrayed by 17-year-old Leonard Whiting and Juliet, played by 15-year-old Olivia Hussey.

Outside the church's ruined walls, Zeffirelli filmed the scene in which Romeo comes at dawn to Friar Laurence, who is tending his herb garden, to ask that he marry him to Juliet, and a scene in which the Friar walks Romeo through his vineyard. An estimated 80,000,000 television viewers saw Zeffirelli rehearse the wedding sequence in San Pietro on the evening of June 25, 1967, as part of a global "Our World" satellite telecast, one of RAI's (Italian Television) two live telecast episodes from Italy. The sequence, lasting six minutes, meant two separate days of rehearsals for directors and actors, and preparations before that involving tons of camera equipment, cables, lights, generators, and dozens of technicians. But the global preview was a perfect occasion for Zeffirelli finally presents the young performers to the world.

The Church of San Pietro is regarded by historians as an admirable example of Roman-

Lombard architecture of the 7th Century. It is considered a work of the "Comacini," direct descendants of the Byzantine school, who formed a colony at Lacio in the Viterbo region. According to tradition construction was begun by Saint Doodato in the middle of the Third Century and continued in the 11th and 12th Centuries. The facade, composed of three arched doors facing East has been restored several times — under Pope Eugene IV in 1443, under Nicholas V in 1450, under Clement XII in 1734, and under Pius VII in the 1800's. The Central door, above which is an elegant false balcony, is decorated with Arabic-style mosaics.

The huge circular window high over the main door has symbolic angels surrounding it. Inside the circle are Roman-Arabic figures of monsters and animals in grotesque, fantastic profusion. The two small windows alongside are surrounded with floral decorations. Under the left window there is a relief figure, probably Etruscan, of a man dancing.

The long aisle of San Pietro, is divided on each side by three simply built arches mounted on bases of Roman style, but mysterious origin. The arches have an unusual design of fruit. The floor is a stupendous mosaic in the Comacini style. A faded fresco on plaster by unknown medieval artists is behind the High Altar. The wooden roof is being restored. Now an Italian Government museum, San Pietro on its commanding hilltop site outside the walls of the old town of Tuscany is a serene resting place for the student of religion and of ancient design.

THE ARTS 'Alice' Onstage At Globe Theatre

BROUGHT TO LIFE on the stage of the Globe of the Great Southwest, 2308 Shakespeare Road, Odessa, this weekend will be "Alice in Wonderland," a lively entertainment for adults as well as children.

Evening performances were held Friday and Saturday and will be held again this Friday and Saturday with curtain at 8:30 p.m. Matinees will be presented at 2:30 p.m. today and next Sunday, with special student matinees planned for 4:45 p.m. Wednesday and Thursday. Individual or group reservations can be made by writing or calling The Globe.

Stars of the show are Paul Archinal, television's Admiral Foghorn, as the Mad Hatter; Regina McCally, the Red Queen; and Rhonda Griffin and Darlene Foreman, Permian High School students, alternating performances as Alice.

THE LAST PAIR of concerts of the 1969-70 season will be presented Monday and Tuesday by the Midland-Odessa Symphony and Choral, Inc. The Monday night concert will be at 8 p.m. at Bonham Junior High in Odessa, and the Tuesday night concert will be at 8 p.m. in the Lee High School auditorium in Midland.

THE COLORFULLY decorated front door at the Museum of the Southwest, in Midland, once again heralds the popular and imaginative Student Art Festival now on exhibit.

Selected art work from grades one through twelve from all Midland public schools, Hillander School, Midland Christian School, Trinity School, and St. Ann's School will be on display through May 3. All the work was done under school supervision and is an outgrowth of regular classroom instruction.

Approximately 330 entries were accepted for the show. Sponsored by the Midland public schools, the Museum of the Southwest and the Junior League of Midland, Inc., the Student Art Festival was organized to stimulate student interest in the visual arts, to recognize outstanding accomplishments on the part of the students and to offer the public an opportunity to view student art work.

The Museum is open Tuesday through Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. For the next three weeks, however, the Museum will close at 4:30 on Tuesdays.

WINNING PHOTOGRAPHS of the San Antonio International Exhibition of Photography will be on display at the Institute of Texan Cultures through May 3. Admission is free.

Fred Shoulders, general chairman for the photo salon, reported that some 200 photos will be shown, and that a slide show at 2 p.m. May 3 will feature about 700 pictures.

'John And Mary' Termed As 'Simple Love Story'

"A deceptively simple love story" is the provocative slogan devised for "John and Mary," starting Wednesday at the Cinema.

About one aspect an observer can be unequivocal: the film is a love story. As for simplicity — well, there is where the argument arises. What richness and depth the movie has is mostly in the acting of the title roles by Dustin Hoffman and Mia Farrow.

With a look or a gesture they convey much more emotion and meaning than is in the dialogue.

What is more they play together beautifully — her fragile gamine quality with its aura of unpredictability counterpointed by his projection of sincerity and reliability.

As a story "John and Mary" does have a kind of complexity in its construction which is deceptive in that it is less complicated than it looks. With a series of criss-crossing flashbacks and flash-forwards, revealing how they met in a pub, how he previously had a frivolous romance with a model and how she had a serious one with a married college professor. There is also intermittent use of off-screen dialogue as the characters express their inner thoughts.

Only two supporting players get much footage, but Michael Tolan, as Miss Farrow's former boy friend, and Sunny Griffin, as the fashion model girl friend of Hoffman, make every minute count. Others include Stanley Beck, Tyne Daly, Alix Elias, Julie Garfield, Marvin Lichterman and Marian Mercer.

'Easy Rider' Has Modern Music Score

Some of the most popular of modern recording artists and groups provide the background music for "Easy Rider," starting Wednesday at the Jet.

Peter Fonda, Dennis Hopper and Jack Nicholson star in this story of a man looking for America, and unable to find it.

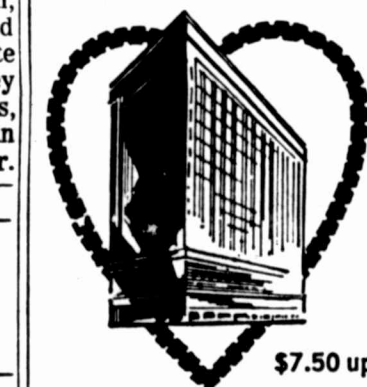

"The Pusher" and "Born to be Wild" are recorded by Steppenwolf. Roger McGuinn sings "It's Alright Ma (I'm Only Bleeding)" and "Ballad of Easy Rider." The Byrds record "I Wasn't Born to Follow," by Gerry Coffin and Carole King, and The Band does "The Weight."

Hawk Players Plan To Stage 'Our Town'

The HCJC Hawk Players are in the final week of rehearsals for the presentation of Thornton Wilder's Pulitzer Prize play, "Our Town," to be presented Friday and Saturday at 8 p.m. in the college auditorium. The following weekend, May 8-9, the group will travel to Odessa and perform at the Globe of the Southwest Theatre at 8:30 p.m.

"Our Town" was presented for the first time at Henry Miller's Theatre in New York in February, 1938, and created such a sensation, that it had a most successful run for that era of 336 performances. Dinner To Honor Houston Harte

SAN ANGELO — A dinner honoring Houston H. Harte on the 50th anniversary of his ownership of the San Angelo Standard-Times, has been set for the evening of Saturday, May 2, at the San Angelo Coliseum.

Insurance Commissioner Dorsey B. Hardeman will be the master of ceremonies, and several state and military figures are due to be on hand for the occasion.

Harte published his first issue of the paper May 3, 1920, when San Angelo was a city of about 10,000 and the paper had a circulation of around 2,400. Today the paper reaches some 50,000 subscribers sprawled over a large area of West Texas.

The publisher has been cited for his contributions to his community and state. San Angelo named him the outstanding citizen of the year in 1957, the same year the Headliners Club at Austin named him the state's outstanding publisher. One of his most treasured awards, however, is a medal from his alma mater, the University of Missouri, for distinguished service to journalism, only the second such award conferred at that time by the school.

He is a founder and part-owner of the Harte-Hanks group of 13 newspapers which serve all parts of Texas, among them the Big Spring Herald.

NOISE CAN SERIOUSLY AFFECT YOUR HEARING

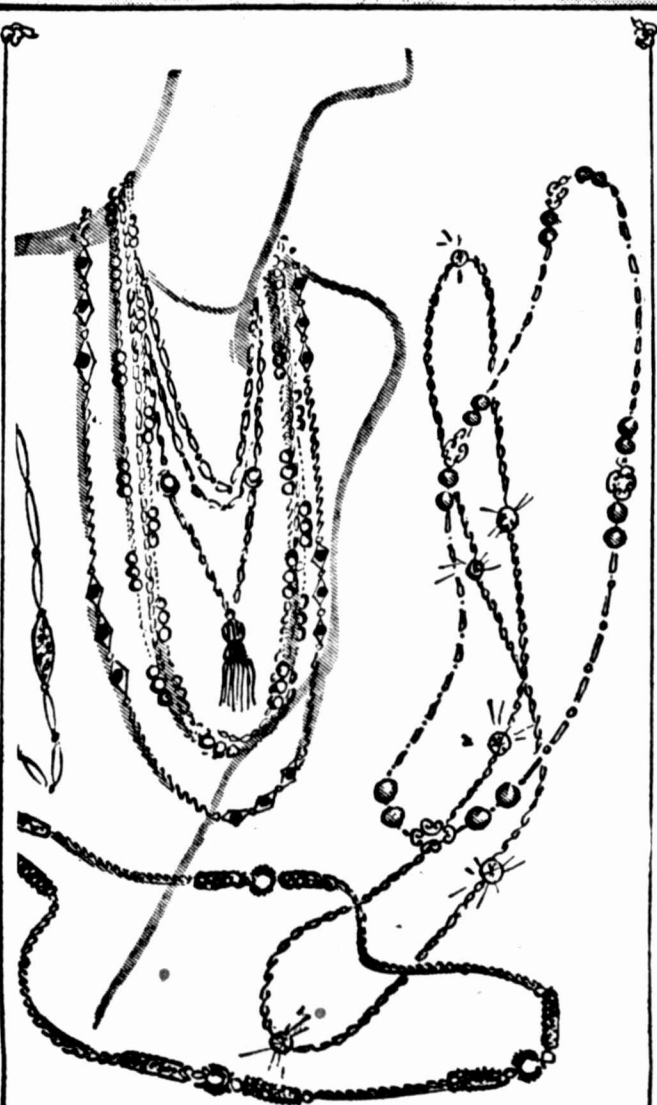

The decibel measures the smallest amount of sound which the human ear can distinguish. According to the American Medical Association, anyone subjected to more than a couple of hours per day of noise which is in excess of 90 decibels should use an ear protection device.

But, even a lawn mower can cause a temporary loss of hearing, as well as the electric amplifier used by so many teenage musical groups. Recent studies show that 120 decibels or more are common with amplified rock music. The first sign of hearing loss is the high pitched sounds. The next tell-tale sign is complaining about the loss of hearing of TV or a stereo. If you suspect a loss of hearing have your doctor give you a hearing test.

YOU OR YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a delivery. We will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people rely on us for their health needs. We welcome requests for delivery service and charge accounts.
