Wreckage Of Ship Is Sighted On Mountain

Chance Of Any Surviving Slight; Front Of Plane Crushed And Wings Are Sheared Off

(By The Associated Press)

SALT LAKE CITY, Oct. 18. — Nineteen persons on board a huge transcontinental passenger plane probably perished when the craft shot into a peak of the high Uintas, observers declared tonight.

If all were killed, the crash would be the worst in American airplane history. Largest previous plane-crash toll was that at Goodwin, Ark., Jan. 14, 1936, when 17 died.

Chance Is Slight

Observers who flew over the broken plane agreed the chance any of the 16 passengers and crew of three survived was indeed slight.

Said Carl Reynolds, Salt Lake City photographer:

"We flew as close above the wreckage as we dared, and could see not a sign of the 19 people it had carried.

"The front of the plane is all smashed in, and the wings are sheared off. It doesn't seem possible anyone survived."

Wreckage Near Ridge Top

The wreckage, Reynolds said, lay near a ridge-top about 10 minutes flight south of Knight, Wyo.

Wesley Meyers, western Wyoming rancher, also flew over the area.

"Wreckage was strewn over a wide area," he said. "There was no sign of life, and I don't see how anyone could be alive there.

The plane crashed, United Air lines officials said, on Chalk mountain in Utah, about 26 miles south of Knight, Wyo., at an altitude of 10,000 feet.

Four women and 15 men were on board the huge "Mainliner," one of the new and powerful (Douglas) planes of the United Air Line, when it left Cheyenne, Wyo., last night at 7:25 p. m. central standard time.

"Slightly Rough, All O. K."

Pilot Earl D. Woodgerd of Denver, due in Salt Lake City at 9:42, reported at 9:16 over Rock Springs, Wyo., 175 miles east of Utah's capital:

"Slightly rough All O. K."

Three minutes later Woodgerd said he was flyin through broken clouds at an altitude of 10,000 feet, west of Rock Springs. This was the last report from the plane.

In charge of the ship with Woodgerd were Co-Pilot John Adams, 27.

Deficit Figures Are Increased

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18 (AP)— President Roosevelt hiked his estimate of the federal deficit for this fiscal year by $277,000,000 today, forecasting the treasury would run $895,245,000 into the red by next June 30.

Revamping the budget issued last April, the president whittled his estimate of revenues by $256,000,000 bringing the figure down to $6,550,410,000. He said spending would be $21,000,000 greater than anticipated and would total $7,345,655,00 exclusive of $200,000,000 for debt retirement.

Gross Deficit $895,245,000

The estimated gross deficit of $895,245,000 included the $200,000,000 to be spent for paying off debt. Exclusive of this, the net deficit was forecast of $418,000,000 last April and a net deficit of $2,717,347,00 in the fiscal year ended June 30.

Mr. Roosevelt gave no reason for this sharp reduction in the revenue estimate for this year, but authorities assumed it was predicated on the severe stock market decline and

Miller Claims Victory Over Gov. Bailey

(By The Associated Press)

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Oct. 18.—Congressman John E. Miller, independent, claimed victory over Gov. Carl E. Bailey, Democratic state committee nominee and "100 per cent for Roosevelt" man, on the face of unofficial returns from today's special senate election to fill the unexpired term of the late Senator Joe T. Robinson.

Associated Press tabulations at 9 p. m. from 1351 of the state's 1,923 precincts gave Miller 55,949 and Bailey 37,009.

Bailey Declines To Concede

Governor Bailey declined to concede the election.

The 9 p. m. returns were from 74 of the 75 counties. Miller led in 59, Bailey in 15.

The election was marked by the national administration issue and by bitter factional warfare within the predominant Democratic party. There was no Republican entry.

Bailey, dynamic 43-year-old governor, one-time union railroad worker, who was nominated by the Democratic state committee and who promised to support every recommendation of President Roosevelt if elected.

Miller, 49-year-old congressman, life-long Democrat running as an independent, who has sometimes opposed the president during his

Ultimtum Spurned By Ross Kidnapers

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP) — The kidnapers of Charles S. Ross today spurned an ultimatum to free their aged victim.

Twenty-four hours after his wife publicly stated the retired manufacturer must be released or federal and state officers would swing into a relentless manhunt, the snatchers made no overt move to comply.

Mrs. Ross set the deadline at 8 a. m. tomorrow. If he has not been returned by that time, she warned, law enforcement agencies will end their tacit truce and turn on the full force of their crime-cracking power.

The gray-haired wife, under a physician's care, was the center of a drama of suspense. Ross has been missing 23 days. His absence approached a time record in modern kidnaping.

Budget For Year Isn't Approved Monday Night

Salary Scale Revised In 5-Hour Session; Auditor's Pay Cut $50, Manager's Is Raised

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE third time proved wholly lacking in charm last night and the city of Lubbock still does not have a tax rate.

A recessed meeting of the city commission worked until after midnight and then finally adjourned early today without having approved a city budget for the current fiscal year. That matter and the consequent setting of a tax rate was postponed once more—this time to an indefinite date expected to be some time later this week.

Not To Exceed Five Cents

The recess, however, was not taken until after the commissioners apparently had made certain that if any increase at all in the present city tax rate of 55 cents on the $100 of valuation is necessary, it will not exceed five cents. The further recess was taken after five hours of discussion when Commissioner A. J. Richardson persisted in his insistence that methods can be devised to hold the tax rate at its present level.

Tax rate proposed in the budget submitted to the commission at its special session was 65 cents on the $100 of valuation. That rate and all others mentioned include a mandatory five cents for the City Board of Development.

Auditor's Salary Cut

The still incomplete budget as revised during the prolonged session includes adjustments in salaries for more than a score of city employes. Those adjustments in turn, included a cut from $350 to $300 a month in the salary of City Auditor D. D. Martin and increases ranging from $5 to $50 a month in the pay of more than a score of other city workers, the net of the increases as approved at the session aggregates about $250 per month, according to tabulations last night.

Actions on the salaries were taken in the face of suggestions that they may be followed today by disturbing repercussions among city workers. Martin left the City hall late in the night without having

Amarillo Union Starts Drive

(By The Associated Press)

AMARILLO, Oct. 18 — Members of the Amarillo Typographical Union local No. 525 organized today what they called a "get together or get out" movement for organized labor.

H. C. Anderson, chairman of the committee to foster the movement, said it was directed toward gaining a cessation of warfare between the American Federation of Labor and the Committee for Industrial Organization.

Unions To Receive Cards

He said within the next few days more than 500 principal union organizations in this country and Canada would receive postcards urging them to get behind the movement and let Green and Lewis know we are getting tired of being the pawns in a political game that is bringing nothing but tribulation to the rank and file of organized labor."

"This is not a local proposition. I canvassed delegates at the International Typographical convention at Louisville, Ky., last month, and am safe in saying that 95 per cent of the men I talked to felt action of this kind was necessary."

"Amarillo just happens to be the point initiating the movement. Already unions here have signified their intentions of aiding in bringing harmony to labor, and 600 cards, possibly more, will be mailed from here alone."

Wichita Girl Transferred By Plane

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 18. (AP) —An army freight plane carrying Dorotha Ruth Chastain, 16-year-old paralysis victim from Tulsa to Wichita Falls in an iron lung, landed at the municipal airport at 5 p. m.

From the airport the junior college co-ed was taken to a local hospital on a transfer van with attendants using a hand pump to keep the iron lung operating. She stood the trip well, attendants said.

She was flown home on a mercy trip in a "flying lung" ordered by President Roosevelt after she had been in another iron lung at a Tulsa hospital for five weeks.

"St. John's was fine, but it's swell to be home again," she told Dr. G. T. Singleton, her physician, and friends.

Cold Wave Hits Area Monday; Freeze Feared

Temperature Drops 38 Degrees In Ten Hours; Registered 40 Shortly After Midnight

A VARIETY of weather Monday which at midnight had turned into a cold norther with the temperature dropping to within 8 degrees of freezing produced sunshine, sand and dust a trace of moisture and a strong wind.

The 38-degree drop to 40 degrees from a maximum of 78 degrees recorded shortly after noon brought possibility of the earliest freeze in the last quarter of a century. In the last 25 years, according to records at the state agricultural experiment substation, the earliest killing frost was Oct. 19.

May Not Go Lower

However, it was believed by weather observers that the mercury would not fall to a freezing temperature this morning since it had dropped only five degrees in the three hours before midnight and the wind had died from 28 miles an hour to 14 and had shifted from the north to the northwest, according to the midnight reading of the Lubbock Municipal airport.

The 40-degree temperature was the lowest recorded at midnight since spring, observers said.

Norther Brings Dust

The norther rode into Lubbock and onto the South Plains with a heavy load of dust shortly before 3 o'clock and narrowed visibility to less than half a mile. A slight sprinkle fell.

Skies clouded and the mercury skidded. However, at midnight the skies had cleared, visibility was measured at 8 miles, and the barometer was slowly rising.

Stock Market Is Driven Lower

(By The Associated Press)

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—Weakened by a steady retreat since mid-August, the stock market went down before a selling whirlwind today into the worst crash in more than four years.

Losses in some leading industrial issues amounted to $10 a share and more before the closing gong interrupted the destruction of quoted values. Prices were beaten down to the lowest since July 6, 1935, measured by the Associated Press average price of 60 stocks.

Average Drop $3.80

The average of 60 dropped $3.80 to $43.10 in the sharpest decline since July 20, 133, when the first big upswing in speculative markets under New Deal price-raising moves culminated in a thumping fall.

Wall Street experts failed to lay finger immediately on any single sore spot in the financial body which might have caused the renewed fainting spells.

New Record Chalked Up

The market hung up a new record for breadth as 1014 stock issues traded on the "big board"—four more than the exchange's previous record at the height of the 1929 collapse.

Total transactions however, were far under those in wide breaks before federal controls were clamped down in speculative activity in the

Texas Tech Stock Judging Team Wins First Place In Contests At Kansas City

Victory bells rang out Sunday night when word that a judging team from Texas Technological college had won first place at the American Royal Livestock show in Kansas City Saturday. The Tech team scored 4,576 points, 62 ahead of second place, Oklahoma Agricultural and Mechanical college.

W. L. Stangel, head of the animal husbandry department, received a telegram late Sunday from Ray C. Mowery, team coach, giving team ratings.

Expected Back Tuesday

Members of the team are Clifton Cole, Lubbock; Walter Coulson, Amherst; Lewis Dunlap, Spur; Jack Welch, Foard City; M. J. Williams, Meadow; Herbert Fields, Sonora, alternate. The team is expected to arrive late Tuesday night and to resume work Wednesday.

There were 14 teams in the contest, the same as in 1927 when Tech entered its first American Royal contest. That year the school was 13th. Members were: Glenn Blackmon, Sam Chatham, L. C. Jennings, R. C. Reed and C. L. Weaver.

Standings Of Teams Given

Standings of the first five teams at Kansas City were: Tech, 4,576; Oklahoma A & M., 4,514; Texas A & M. and Michigan, 4,460; Wisconsin, 4,441. Other rankings were: Iowa, Perdue, Kansas, Minnesota, Nebraska, Ohio, North Dakota, Missouri and South Dakota.

In individual standings Cole and Coulson tied for second in the entire contest and Welch, fourth. Cole was first in sheep; Coulson, second in cattle, eighth in sheep; Welch, fourth in cattle, seventh in horses; Dunlap, ninth in cattle.

The Tech team ranked first in cattle and second in sheep. "Our teams have always ranked well up in cattle and sheep judging," Stangel said.

This is the first time that Tech has won highest honors in the American Royal. In other years, Stangel said, placings were: 1927,

Death Knell Of Bill Sounded?

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 18 — The senate finance committee tonight recessed until Wednesday night its hearing on a bill slashing $2,300,000 from appropriations for state colleges and some believed the action sounded the death knell of the measure.

By a 12 to 11 vote members forced postponement of further hearings until six days before the special session ends. Some speculated the committee would not approve it on the grounds the vote reflected a majority opposed to it.

Officers Ready To Argue

Regents and administrative officers of state supported colleges had expected to spend several hours arguing against it when the postponement came.

R. A. Stuart, of Fort Worth, chairman of the board of regents for teachers' colleges, led a barrage of opposition.

He claimed the retrenchment, aimed only at salaries would mean an average $200 monthly stipend for most teachers.

"This is little more than the average paid stenographers in the larger cities and they are paid on a 12-month basis whereas teachers

Twin-Barreled Bill Drawn By Senate Group

Substitute Reported For House Measure Monday; Taxes Hike On Natural Resources

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 18.—The senate state affairs committee today began concocting a "pill" some members believed would cure the state's financial ills.

It was a double-barreled general tax bill, reported by a sub-committee as a substitute for a house approved bill similar in type, designed to finance social security programs and begin reducing the general fund deficit next Sept. 1.

Revenue Estimates Differ

Senator Clint Small of Amarillo, spokesman for the sub-group, estimated it would raise at least $1,225,000 additional revenue yearly while Senator John Redditt of Lufkin, another member, said it was calculated to give the general fund $6,000,000 more each year beginning with the next fiscal year because it re-allocated present and prospective revenue.

It hiked taxes on natural resources and utilities although the boosts were less than those in the house measure and taxed other fields currently untaxed by the state.

Could Effect Retrenchments

Small urged that the measure go "hand in hand with economies," explaining he would be willing to "go ahead with this bill, as much as I hate new taxes," if governmental retrenchments could be effected at the same time.

The main committee, after accepting the report as a "basis to begin working on" set aside 13 hours for hearing opponents and proponents.

The principal imposts on natural resources were $1.10 per ton on sulphur compared with $1.25 in the house bill and $1.03 now levied; 3 per cent of value on oil compared with 3 1-2 and 2 3-4; 3 1-4 per cent of value on natural gas compared with 3 3-4 and 3; and one mill a pound on carbon black compared with 5-48 of one cent and 1-12 of one cent.

New Levies Proposed

New levies proposed were 15 cents a ton on gypsum, 3 per cent of value on salt and a 10 per cent tax on the net income of radio stations.

A last minute amendment was a 10 per cent tax on liquor sale by the drink where authorized by local option.

Other major differences from the house measure: A 50 per cent increase on present fanchise tax rates to produce $850,000 for aid to destitute children.

A smaller increase in telephone gross receipts rates but sufficient

Youthful "Singing Bandit" And Women Returned Here; Will Face Grilling

YOUTHFUL B. H. Huddleston, known as the "Singing Bandit" and "Yodeling Yegg," and two women companions Monday night were transferred here from Roswell, N. M., by Sheriff Tom Abel and Bill Mabray, police identifications officer, and a number of other officers from Waxahachie, Brownfield and Tahoka.

The three will be held here for investigation into numerous burglaries and robberies which officers think will be cleared, at least partially, by the probing.

The blond, mellow-voiced outlaw, after questioning here will be returned to Waxahachie where he twice broke jail and from there he will be taken to the state penitentiary where he already has been sentenced to more than 200 years.

The women who were arrested with him at the rear of a Roswell hotel just when they were entering a taxi gave their names as Opal Lusk, 24, of Ennis and Billie Eaton, about 23, of Denver, Colo.

Merchandise Identified

Mabray said officers definitely had identified merchandise found in a car assertedly abandoned by Huddleston as coming from the Nineteenth street pharmacy and three places burglarized recently in Brownfield. Officers also credited him with a "stickup" at Colorado

Murder Charged Against Means

As the result of continued investigations into shootings here over the week-end in which two persons, a negro and a Mexican, were killed, a murder charge was filed against Leonard "Cat" Means, negro policeman.

The charge, filed with Justice of Peace S. E. McMillan, alleged Means "voluntarily and with malice aforethought killed Prince Hill by shooting him with a gun."

Means Posts $1,000 Bond

Means was released when he posted $1,000 bond binding him over to action of the grand jury. The complaint was prepared by District Attorney Burton S. Burks after three negroes who said they were witnesses to at least a part of the shooting swore to statements before the district attorney in which they contradicted the story told by Means and other witnesses who had appeared at an earlier hearing. Justice McMillan issued an order Sunday releasing Means, but after the three negroes made the statements the first order was modified.

The negroes appearing before Burks Monday afternoon said Hill did not have a knife, that Means did not tell him to drop it and that the negro officer was not retreating when he shot, as had been borne out in statements by Means and witnesses earlier.

Not Member Of Force

According to information from police headquarters, Means will not act as a meraber of the force "until this thing is settled."

It was indicated by officers that no charge probably would be filed against W. H. Millican, Acuff storekeeper as the result of a shooting Sunday night in which Ricardo Ramos, 17-year-old Mexican, was killed. When a woman started to give the Mexican a sandwich, Ramos stuck his hand into his pocket and jerked out what later was established as a car mirror with a watch built into it. Millican shot, he said, under belief the Mexican's threatening gesture was supported by a gun.

At an inquest conducted at Millican's a half-filled bottle of whisky was found several steps from the Mexican's body. Another Mexican and who was said to be Ramos' brother, late Monday had not been located.

DOLLARS WASTED ON UPKEEP CAN'T BUY NEW ROADS

Inferior roads seem cheap and easy to build. They stretch a paving fund so that it covers a lot of territory. But after a year or two, the trouble begins! Maintenance costs go up and up. Soon all your paving money is spent on upkeep . . . and no more new roads are built.

That's why it's wise—and economical—to build concrete roads. Concrete lasts! It requires almost no upkeep. Each year, the paving fund builds more miles of concrete until the whole job is done—for keeps.

Concrete's smooth, non-skid surface is safe and satisfactory to drive on. It speeds up traffic . . . reduces accidents . . . saves gas, tires and repairs.

Get concrete. Insist on it—for safety, comfort and economy.

Concrete IS THE REAL LOW COST ROAD

Raiders Prepare For New Mexico; Westerners Play At Borger Friday Night

Fine Spirit Is Displayed In Monday Drill

Out of their "comeback" victory over the University of Arizona without a single injury, the Red Raiders were given a day of comparative rest Monday afternoon by Coach Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith as a reward for fine play against the Wildcats.

Showing most spirit since the season opened, the Techs went through a series of limbering up

WIN, LOSE OR DRAW

Texas Tech coaches, Pete Cawthon and Dutchy Smith, attribute much of brighttened morale of their team Saturday night to the large sign which was suspended on the north end of the stadium.

"Win, lose or draw, we are for you," were the words on the sign, and was the sentiment of local business men. Contributions of Lubbock men made possible the "note" to the Red Raiders. It was readable from [illegible] stands.

"It did much to [illegible] boys and Coach Cawthon said last night.

Tech Coaches Elated

The Red Shirt boys who did not get into the Wildcat scrap had their names [illegible] amazing Bill Hutchason, powerful Frosh. The freshmen made it a clean sweep for Tech Saturday by downing New Mexico Military institute 48 to 0.

Tech coaches are jubilated over work of the team Saturday night. A [illegible] line that kept Arizona powermasses under cover, and headbacking work augmented by high-perfect blocking put the big red team in the win column after 3 heart-breaking week-ends. Teamwork that had been lacking all season was evidenced. No one man could be tabbed as a star any more than the other.

Champion spirit of the Border conference hinges on the game Saturday night. Coach Cawthon is not taking the Lobos lightly and faces the problem of weeding overconfidence from his squad. The Raiders played the kind of ball of which they have been capable all season last week but are vulnerable to another defeat if cockiness sets in.

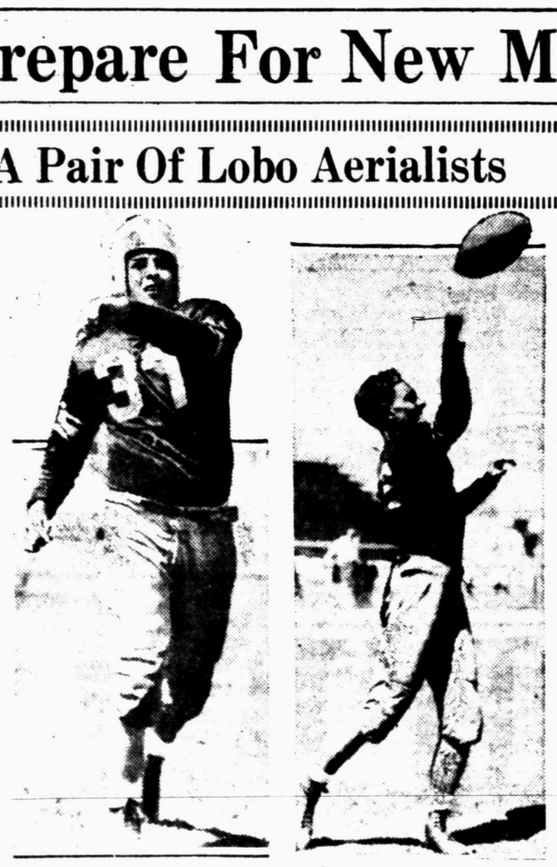

Hardin-Simmons, Arizona Teachers of Flagstaff and the University of Arizona [illegible] the title by downing New Mexico. The Wildcats have won the conference two years straight. The Lobos were not eligible for the crown last year, since a few ruling requiring members to play at least three other members before a title claim would be allowed was made after the 1935 season.

Have Strong Defense

In four games this season against New Mexico, Texas, Denver university, Arizona, Arizona State and Texas college of Mines, the Lobos have set to do scoring on from running plays. Kennedy, Heineman, snake-shipped Mines fullback who gained [illegible] yards in ability here last season against Tech, passed the Miners into a 7-7 tie with New Mexico Saturday.

Horton Smith And Harry Cooper Capture Rich Oklahoma City Four-Ball Tourney

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 18. (AP)—Horton Smith and Harry Cooper of Chicago won the first annual Oklahoma City $5,800 four-ball golf tournament today by defeating Ralph Guldahl, National Open champion from Chicago, and Billy Burke of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. 3-up to post a final score of plus 12.

Only a point ahead of the crack field at the start of the final round, Smith and Cooper fired a low ball 66, five under par, to defeat the Guldahl-Burke combination and win the $1,200 in first prize money.

Revolta-Mangrum Second

Johnny Revolta, Chicago, and Ray Mangrum, Dayton, O., who have been right on the heels of the favorites since the second day, added only one point to their score by beating Tommy Armour, Chicago, and Jimmy Thomson, Shawnee-on-the-Delaware, one up and finished second with plus nine. Second place paid $900.

Ed Dudley, Philadelphia, and Jimmy Hines, New York, defeated Ky Lafoon and Dick Metz, Chicago, 3 up in a match that decided third place.

The victory gave Dudley and Hines a plus 3 and left Lafoon and Metz with plus 1 and 5th place.

D. C. Hulsey Winner In Checker Matches

Reynolds Smith Undergoes Appendectomy At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 18. (AP)—Reynolds Smith, Texas Amateur golf champion and member of the United States Walker Cup team, was reported resting well after an operation here today for appendicitis.

Smith was stricken last week at Atlanta, Ga., where he went to compete for Texas in the Bobby Jones first annual Southern States four-ball tournament. Physicians there found an immediate operation unnecessary, but advised Smith to have the appendectomy performed as soon as possible after reaching home.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 18. (AP)—Police Lieut. Thomas A. Scully reported today that Donald White, 29-year-old former convict, had confessed abducting 10-year-old Betty Jane Rush, but denied assaulting the child during the six hours she was held captive in a vacant house Oct. 9.

NCAA Petitions For College Control Of Olympic Teams

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association, seeking a showdown of an old controversy with the Amateur Athletic union, petitioned today for adoption of an amendment giving college control of American Olympic teams in four sports—track, field, rowing, swimming and wrestling.

The amendment, drafted by the executive committee of the N. C. A. A. and filed with Frederick Rubien, secretary of the American Olympic association by Maj. John Griffith, provides for proportionate representation of Olympic committees in those four sports. It will come up for action at the quadrennial meeting of the Olympic association in Washington Nov. 17.

Sophomore Backfield Star Returns To Owl Uniform

HOUSTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—Ernie Lain, promising sophomore back who has been out for two weeks with a badly cut leg, rejoined the Rice Institute football squad this afternoon as the Owls started practice for Texas university.

Rice, after losses to Oklahoma U. and L.S.U. and a tie with Tulsa, opens its conference schedule at Austin Saturday.

Those who played in Saturday's scoreless deadlock took things easy while the reserves and freshmen struggled through a long scrimmage with varsity squadmen grabbing a 13 to 6 decision. The scrimmage served as a warm-up for the freshmen who play Texas freshmen Friday night at Austin.

Is Scoreless Tie Buildup For 1938?

By PAUL MICKELSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 18.—The Old Professor conducted a one-man investigation of his scoreless wonders at his weekly Monday hearing alibi session for football coaches today. But despite his legal shrewdness all he got was a tie out of his inquisition.

Professor: "What goes on around here? One tie, all tie. Is it a conspiracy to hold your jobs? Three games in a row, 180 minutes of playing, and not a single point by Pitt and Fordham. It looks like a conspiracy for a sell-out at Pittsburgh next fall."

Would Shorten Field

Jim Crowley, Fordham: "Professor, I'm proud of the boys and the way they fought. Next year we'll try to have the field shortened."

Jock Sutherland, Pittsburgh: "Professor, for the first time in this series, Pitt had the possible edge. Our blocking was the best of the season. Fordham tired in the last half and it hurttheir offense. Say, that Fortunato has a future."

Professor: "Future, bah! This is all prattle. Judge, what's your opinion?"

Finally Gets Explanation

Judge Carberry, Fordham line coach: "180 minutes of scoreless football. Why don't they open up. Professor? Who? How? Where? When?"

Professor: "At last we have an explanation. How come Nebraska licks Minnesota and then plays a scoreless tie with Oklahoma? Tell me that."

Biff Jones, Nebraska: "Professor, Oklahoma was farther along physically and their punting kept us tied up."

Tom Stidham, Oklahoma: "Professor, we did our darndest. That was as close as we could come against the powerhouse line."

Proud Of His Kids

Homer Norton, Texas A & M: Professor, we got a 7-7 tie with T.C.U. and I'm glad to take it. A great team T.C.U. My boys almost gave it away on breaks but they came back with a grand attack to score. I'm proud of those kids."

Dutch Meyer, Texas Christian: "Professor, we thought we had those Aggies but they got away. I'm a little disappointed but it was a great game."

Bernie Bierman, Minnesota: "We finally got going. I knew we had power but I couldn't figure out why the team didn't click. I'm hoping we can keep right on going from here and look like our teams of the past few years."

Minnesota Was Hot

Harry Kipke, Michigan: "Professor, I never thought Minnesota would play like that. I certainly didn't from what I had been hearing. They licked us 39-6 and sure were hot. Why did they have to pick on us?"

Professor: "Search me. I'm glad to note that California plays doubleheaders when they have breathers. Howard, after licking Oregon 34-14, how about California?"

Howard Jones, University Southern Cal.: "Mighty glad to get past Oregon, Professor. I can't predict Saturday—not for publication, you know. But we're really going to have a ball game at Berkeley."

Layden Looses Tears

Professor: "Cheer, cheer for old Notre Dame. They need it today."

Elmer Layden, Notre Dame: "Professor, we got the first downs. Carnegie Tech won the game. Every team plays their hearts out against us."

Bill Kern, Carnegie Tech: "Professor, pardon my cigar. Am I happy? If we never win another, we won one."

Professor: "I watched Army and Yale and, gosh, Gar, your line was bad."

Old Prof. Needs Aspirin

Gar Davidson, Army: "Professor, our men were not physically fit for that game after two very bruising contests with Clemson and Columbia."

Ducky Pond, Yalee: "Professor, with a five-man line we looked a different team than the one that played Penn."

Professor: "The hot air in here has affected my head. Somebody give me a tablet of aspirin as you go out."

Golden Bears Lead Teams In National Grid Roll

BY ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. — California's Golden Bears, unranked nationally a year ago when the Associated Press started its annual poll, stand today at the head of the collegiate football class for 1937.

The country's leading newspaper observers, casting their first batch of ballots after three weeks of somewhat startling activity of the big league gridirons, gave California a surprisingly strong endorsement for No. 1 spot, occupied by Minnesota a year ago.

Alabama Ranks Second

Picked by 24 out of 54 experts for top ranks, California polled a total of 432 points against a possible maximum of 540. Alabama nosed out Pittsburgh, the Rose Bowl champion, for second place in the first week's consensus, with Minnesota fourth in spite of its early setback at Nebraska's hands.

Here's the tabulation, scoring each list on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis and with first place votes indicated in brackets:

First ten	Points
1. California (24)	432
2. Alabama (7)	355
3. Pittsburgh (8)	347
4. Minnesota (5)	291
5. Yale (6)	253
6. Louisiana state (2)	244
7. Northwestern	165
8. Nebraska	153
9. Fordham	103
10. Duke	94

KING CAPTAINS LONGHORNS

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. (AP)—J. T. King of Houston, University of Texas guard, will captain his mates Saturday when the Steers clash with Rice institute's Owls here.

Head Coach Dana X. Bible, who names a captain for each game, ordered a stiff workout today, sending his charges through a bruising scrimmage against the freshmen.

TEXAS AGGIES SCRIMMAGE

COLLEGE STATION, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Texas Aggies scrimmaged against Baylor plays here today as the squad began readying for the game here Saturday against the Bears.

Only one regular, Dick Todd, stayed out of the rough work, and he participated in other drills. Trainer Lil Dimmitt said Todd's injured leg would be back in top shape by Saturday.

Cummings Faces Buck Lipscomb

Buck Lipscomb will be turned loose to prey on Bob Cummings in the main event of Sled Allen's Auditorium Wednesday night.

The Hoosier hotshot beat Vic Weber in the same spot last week, but observers opined that the Bronx blond played around too long with Lipscomb. In other words it was doubtful if Buck deserved to win.

Cummings has shown quite frequently here of late, and, although not one of the more polished wrestles, cares for himself well. He has a large following among local fans. And before the evening is over Bob may match some of Lipscomb's rough stuff to even things up.

Wolfe Battles Cazzell

Frank Wolfe, the man of many faces and prize of the grimance gang, tackles Indian Bill Cazzell in the semifinal match. Cazzell, former Amarillo gridder, boasts a bit more weight than his opponent but spot Wolfe something in experience.

The veteran Wolfe mixes it with the roughest tinears, but, when going gets too tough he emulates the well-known jackrabbit round and round the ring.

As "reward" for losing to Lipscomb last week, Weber has been sent back to preliminary duty. He meets Don Rainier in the opener Wednesday night. Rainier has gained many supporters in the last two months or so he has been wrestling here.

Lazzeri To Confer With Cub Owner

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs, said tonight Tony Lazzeri, recently given his unconditional release by the New York Yankees, has accepted an invitation to come to Chicago for a conference relative to his signing with the Chicago National league team.

Wrigley declined to say whether the former Yankee Star, now at his home in San Francisco, would be offered the club management in 1939. Manager Charlie Grimm already being under contract for next season. It is believed, however, that Wrigley feels his team needs the aggressiveness that marked Lazzeri's long and brilliant connection with the world champions.

Lazzeri telephoned Cub officials today, promising to return and listen to their proposition, but did not say when he would arrive. Wrigley said Lazzeri is fully aware that he is not slated for the management—at this time.

Locals To Open District Race Against Pups

Facing three District 1 competitors on successive week-ends, starting at Borger Friday night, Coach Weldon Chapman's Westerners set out in earnest Monday afternoon after taking a rest last week.

Following Borger, Lubbock plays Pampa here and Plainview at Plainview. Final engagement is with Amarillo there on Thanksgiving day.

Nothing is certain about the Westerner squad. It has faced high class competition only once, that time rising to phenomenal heights to tie Capitol Hill in Oklahoma City. Handicapped by lack of weight and experience, the team has improved steadily since opening the season. But with only the Sooner game to gauge its strength in stiff company it remains more or less an unknown quantity.

Has Light Squad

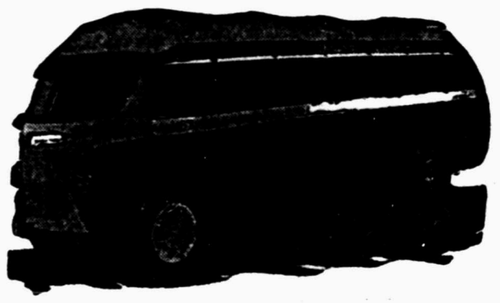

Coach Chapman becomes no less than incensed when a district title is mentioned for his charges. On paper there is no basis for disputing his opinion. The squad averages barely over 150 pounds, and with Capt. Babe Ritchie, Jumbo Webster and Herb Leaverton on the sidelines Mule Davis's Cowboys might check in more tonnage. All three have been hampered by injuries recently.

As for experience only Melvin Billings can be added to the above list as returning lettermen. There are four reserve letter winners. Showing of Rusty Johnston, Coulson Paxton, Dutchy Cawthon, Mel-

Agreement Reached For 25 Per Cent Cut In Emergency Freight Rates

Stock Raisers To Be Benefitted

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 18. — Livestock raisers and railroads, which have been locked in litigation over emergency freight rates for feed in 34 counties, agreed today on a 25 per cent reduction.

Henry Bell of Fort Worth, secretary of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, announced the agreement following a conference with representatives of the railroads and the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers association.

Effective October 1

The rates on livestock feeds shipped into the counties, in the upper Panhandle and Southwest Texas would be three-fourth of the regular published schedules, effective as of Oct. 1 and to expire Nov. 30, 1937.

The railroads agreed to apply to the state railroad commission to put the lowered rates into effect.

The commission in orders of August 24, Sept. 8 and Sept. 23 instructed a reduction in the regular rates of 50 per cent on hay and similar feeds and 33 1-3 per cent in cottonseed cake and grain.

Temporarily Restained

On application of the railroads, the commission was temporarily restrained by a Travis county district court from enforcing the orders, and last week an extended hearing was held on whether the injunction should be continued or vacated. District Judge Roy Archer has had the matter under advisement.

The railroads contended in court the orders had been issued without proper notice and hearings, were discriminatory in that they did not apply to trucks and were not justified by drouth conditions. They also attacked the law under which the rate reductions were ordered.

Serious In Many Counties

Cattlemen and county agricultural agents, supporting the commission, contended the drouth situation was serious in many sections of the counties and conditions in every sense justified the lowered tariffs.

While the court hearings was in progress, the commission ordered similar reductions in truck freight rates and called a hearing for Oct. 22 on drouth conditions in the 34 counties and any others.

In view of the agreement Dayton Moses of Fort Worth, counsel for the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, said the organization probably would not be represented at the October 22 meeting in Austin.

It was reported, a few additional counties might be added to those receiving the emergency rates.

The counties already affected are Hemphill, Kinney, Lipscomb, Ochiltree, Roberts, Terrell, Valverde, Wheeler, Hansford, Gray, Dallam, Atascosa, McMullen, Webb, La Salle, Sherman, Hartley, Moore Hutchinson, Oldham, Potter, Carson, Duval Zapata, Starr, Jim Hogg, Frio, Bee, Karnes, Kleberg, Jim Wells, Brooks, Live Oak and Randall.

Play Borger

vin Cooksey, and Harold Parsons as first year backfield men and some of the rookie linemen has kept the high school mentor from losing all hope.

In Monday's practice session, all hands were out with all recent ailing men back in shape except Cawthon, whose injured side has not completely healed. Ritchie's knees were giving him trouble, Webster's toes were better, and although sore, Leaverton's fractured hand will allow him to play Friday night.

With these men back in uniform, Coach Chapman can put a presentable team on the field for the Borger joust. Heavy practice sessions will be the vogue at Westerner practice field until the coaches lighten up Thursday.

Market Week Officials To Start Early On Plans For Next Event

Now that the semi-annual market week and fashion revue is a thing of the past, all that directors and officials of the sponsoring West-Tex New Mex Wholesale Clothing Market association have to do is—

Get ready for another one.

That is just what they are planning to do at a directors' meeting probably to be held the latter part of this week, according to their announcement Monday.

Exact time of the meeting has not been set, but there will be little delay.

Final reports on the event of last week will be received, but of more importance will be the initial preparations for that to be held next spring.

Months of preparation, it was explained, are necessary to stage a successful event of that kind and the objective of the spring week and revue will be one to surpass that just closed, officials explained.

East Texas Man Is Charged In Slaying Of Brother-In-Law

TYLER, Oct. 18. (AP)—A. C. Hart, 20-year-old filling station operator, today was charged with the slaying of Elmo Wheelis, 54, in his Overton home last night.

The wealthy oil royalty owner was shot four times in the breast with a .25 caliber pistol, one bullet piercing the heart. Hart, a brother-in-law, of the slain man, surrendered to Deputy Sheriff Homer Gary.

The officer said a razor was found on a bed in the room where Wheelis was shot. He said he was told Hart was called from his next-door home by Mrs. Wheelis shortly before the shooting.

Hart waived examining trial and was held under $1,000 bond.

Funeral services for Wheelis will be held tomorrow in Henderson.

Clym of the Clough, legendary English archer, is said to have lived one generation before Robin Hood.

Full Quotas Are Made In Drive

Three South Plains towns reported a full quota Monday in the annual Boy Scout sustaining club membership roundups which, by next October 30, will have been extended to each of the 27 communities having Scout troops.

W. L. Davis, chairman of the roundup at Post, M. A. McLaughlin at Ralls, and J. Randall Whitworth at Matador reported that their designated goal had been attained and that they were "over the top". Finance Chairman Harley Dallas of Brownfield stated. John C. Jenkins, chairman of the Slaton roundup, reported that his team lacked only three memberships, and were almost through in their drive. J. C. Rhoderick at Quitaque announced the postponement of activities until later in the month.

No reports were available from Floydada, where J. C. Gilliam is chairman.

Lamesa, Amherst, and Lockney, are expected to undertake drives Tuesday, with the activity at Lamesa continuing for two days.

Other South Plains towns will have sustaining club membership drives at later dates during the month.

Mr. Roosevelt And Peace

WOODROW WILSON'S slogan was "Make the world safe for democracy." Franklin D. Roosevelt's slogan is "Make the world safe for peace." The nation followed Mr. Wilson into the most costly experience in all its history and into a most bitter disappointment. The world was not made safe for democracy. We had sacrificed in vain. Remembering all this, it is not strange that the nation hesitates before it falls into line behind the undeveloped peace policy of Mr. Roosevelt, that it wants to know where that policy may lead us and how far.

It is not enough to know that the president desires to seek peace "affirmatively," or that "America actively engages in the search for peace." The nation wants to know whether that affirmative and active search will take due notice of the realities of a difficult situation and of its implication.

We may properly engage in a conference with the signatories to the nine-power treaty by which China's territorial integrity is guaranteed. But as we do so we can not safely close our eyes to the fact that Japan, one of the treaty's signers, has been declared by this administration to be the aggressor in the Chinese disturbance; that Japan expresses its resentment of prejudgment by asserting its purpose to pursue its course despite world denunciation of its justification; that it, in effect, has defied other nations, separately or in concert, to interfere.

What, then, is likely to be the outcome of a conference of the nine-power signatories, one of whom will not confer? Mr. Roosevelt speaks of acceptance by nations of "certain fundamental decencies in their relations with each other" as being necessary to the development of peace in the world. As a phrase, that is fine. In the face of realities, it is meaningless. Failing by protest, argument or denunciation to force upon a defiant Japan acceptance of these "fundamental decencies," what is to follow?

Mr. Roosevelt need not be surprised if the country hesitates to accept his implied assurances of a personal and superior wisdom which may carry us to the brink but which will avoid precipitation into the abyss of war. It is hardly enough to "remember that from 1913 to 1921 I was fairly close to world events, and that in that period, while I learned much of what to do, I also learned much of what not to do."

The nation may willingly accept an official expression of national abhorrence of war and of national hope for peace. But in the light of the past it properly demands from its president enlightenment as to what he learned could be done in protest and what learned should not be done if embroilment in others' quarrels is to be avoided.

On that point, Mr. Roosevelt's assurances assure nothing but the unknown.

EXPLANATION OF CARTOON

FALLING UP

Deep sea fishes inhabiting the depth of the ocean are equipped to withstand an external pressure of more than 2 tons per square inch of their surfaces. This external pressure is equally met by an internal gas pressure, but whenever in search of prey these deep sea fishes leave the ocean floor for a considerable distance, the gases of their swimming bladders expand, re-closing their specific gravity. As a result the fish is driven upward, being reduced to the consistency of pulp by the time it has fallen up to the surface.

THE BOY EXECUTIONER

The office of executioner was long hereditary in the Sanson family of Paris. When Charles Sanson, headman of Paris died in 1726 his 7-year-old son, Charles Jean Sanson, became Chief Executioner in his father's stead. The child had to attend every beheading in his official capacity, although the head chopping was done by an assistant named Prudhomme. However, as soon as the boy reached the "ripe" age of 12, he dispensed with the services of an assistant and assumed the duties of his office, not only in name but in deed. A descendant of this boy was the executioner who guillotined King Louis XVI of France during the French Revolution.

Madman's Island..... By Nard Jones

CAST OF CHARACTERS

KAY DEARBORN—heroine who inherits a yacht for vacation.

MELITA HOWARD—Kay's roommate and co-adventurer.

PRISCILLA DUNN—the third adventurer.

FORREST BROTHERS and GRANT HARPER—young scientists whose expedition turned out to be a rare experience.

Yesterday: Stopping off what they believe is Larramore Island, the three girls anchor their little yacht while Kay goes ashore to a lighted cabin. Suddenly they hear Kay scream.

CHAPTER VII

Melita and Priscilla ran toward Kay Dearborn caught her swaying, hardly able to speak.

"Kay! . . . Kay, what's wrong?"

When she did speak it was in a tortured whisper. "In there," she said, pointing to the window.

Fearfully Melita and Priscilla drew themselves nearer to that window. At first they could make out nothing among the weird and flickering shadows created by a dying fire on the hearth. Then they saw what had brought Kay's scream.

The figure of a woman was slumped half in a chair half across a small table in the center of the room. One white hand hung loosely, and running slowly from the sleeve and down to the limp fingers was a thin red trickle.

The two girls turned their faces pallid. But Kay had gained possession of herself now. Without a word she started for the door of the cabin and tried the latch. It opened with a sound that seemed to crack the stillness wide open. Wordless and trembling, the three ventured slowly into the half-lighted room.

"Wait!" Kay whispered. Swiftly she bathed the room in the flashlight's glare. There was apparently no other occupant in the one-room cabin. The bull's eye of the light's beam came to rest on the mantel where a thin trail of gray smoke drifted ceilingward. "Look," Kay said. "Here's a lighted cigaret—and with lipstick on the end." She stared at Priscilla and Melita.

The latter found her voice with difficulty. "There—there must be another woman around. The one who—who." She broke off.

"Or this cigaret was hers . . ." Kay nodded toward the inert figure in the center of the room. "This happened only a moment or so ago. The—the—murderer must be near here now!"

"Let's get out," Priscilla said, moving back toward the door.

And that seemed precisely the thing to do. Feeling that darkness was much safer at that moment, Kay switched off the flashlight. Huddled together they groped down the path toward the beach and the dinghy.

"What'll we do?" Melita asked.

"I—I don't know," Kay admitted. "Let's get back to the boat as fast as we can."

Never had the deck of the little cruiser seemed so solid and so secure as when they returned to it after that awful sight in the lonely cabin. All three sank exhausted in the after cockpit and stared toward shore where the pane of the cabin window still flowed from the fireplace's reflection.

Suddenly Kay got to her feet. "If that's an island, I'm going to circle it and see if there's another boat around here," suiting the action to the word, she went forward, heaved up the anchor, and in a moment was at the pilot house controls. Slowly and cautiously the Chinook crept along with every light dead. But they could dimly make out the shore-line—and certainly enough, the boat at last was an island. And small. Within a short time the Chinook was abreast of the cabin again without having encountered another boat, or any sign of life along the shore.

Here's what we'll do," Kay said at last, switching off the ignition. "We'll stay right here until morning. Then we'll go ashore again and see what the k'll about."

"I move we consider it none of our business, and keep moving," Priscilla suggested.

Melita took a middle ground. "We're safe out here anyhow. Let's take Kay's suggestion—and see how we feel in the morning."

"All right," said Kay. "We'll keep a lookout. You two go below and sleep. I'll watch for two hours, then wake one of you up for a little rest of my own."

Following her suggestion they did keep watches—but the fact was that none slept. The two in the berths below were eyes but a wide-awake as the lookout above. Yet at dawn nothing had happened to justify their nocturnal vigilance.

In the daylight Priscilla pointed out, "that cabin looks as innocent and peaceful as can be."

Her companions followed her gaze across the water to the wooded island. The small, well-built structure looked indeed idyllic. In the light of day the memory of its interior seemed like a weird dream.

"Well," suggested Kay, "Do we go ashore and have another look?"

"At least in daylight we'll have the satisfaction of seeing who it is taking a shot at us!" Melita hitched up her slacks with a determined gesture. "I'm game to see what this is all about. A murder is a little more than I bargained for on my vacation—but there's a .22-caliber rifle down in the cabin, and I'm not a bad shot!"

Melita's light bravado fooled nobody, not even Melita herself. Nevertheless, the girls climbed into the dinghy and started shoreward, each watching the cabin and the surrounding wood with the keen eyes of a hawk.

The cabin they approached with caution. Melita ahead with her small rifle ready for instant use. Simultaneously they peered through the cabin window, expecting again the sight that had so unnerved them last night.

The room was empty!

Only a small, telltale pool of blood indicated that they had not been the victims of some odd hallucination.

"We'll go inside," Kay moved shakily. "You stand near the door, Mel, while Priscilla and I have a look around."

In the light of day the cabin proved to be well appointed. Furniture and accessories were sturdy and in keeping with outdoor life, but were of the expensive variety to be found at exclusive stores. There was no way to tell its exact age, but certainly it wasn't of ancient variety. Curiously the room was equipped for everything but cooking. There was neither a stove nor pantry, and no evidence of food of any sort. And no trace of the woman could Kay or Priscilla find in their nervous examination while Melita stood guard with the rifle.

"This gets too d-deep for me," Priscilla said, looking at Kay and Melita. "My notion is that we'd better get away and do some cruising while we're all three young and healthy."

Melita and Kay were ready to agree. Closing the door of the ominous cabin behind them, they started down the path again, entirely ready to let their part in the strange business be confined to a report to the police. But when they reached the dinghy they were due for a surprise. A great hole had been hacked through the bottom of the dinghy!

Dog Catcher Is Paid More Than Mayor Of City Of Lubbock

The Lubbock city dog catcher may lack in resounding title, but it is worth more on the city payroll than either that of mayor of city commissioner.

Routine city payroll report disclosed this morning that the dog catcher's pay is more than that of the mayor, and more than three times that allowed for a city commissioner.

Respective salaries of the officials are $75 monthly for the mayor, $25 per month for each commissioner, and $84 monthly for the dog catcher.

One might argue, of course, that the dog catcher has a full time job and that the mayor and commissioners have not. But don't let said mayor and commissioners hear you, especially after they have listened any and every hour of any and every day to those having something pleasant or unpleasant to discuss concerning the city government.

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

KLAN Wizard Hiram Evans slipped into the capital a few days ago with his finger on his lips in an oath-bound pose. He wouldn't divulge his mission to an extremely close friend—a Georgia congressman.

Mr. Evans' face was wreathed in bonnier smiles than at any time since the blowup of his white sheet business. He confided that applications for membership in the new, stream-lined Klan have been pouring in since the disclosure that Justice Black once belonged. In catching customers, the order's salesmen are stressing the jurist's failure to denounce the Klan in biting words. If sales continue, the Imperial Wizard may take the cotton surplus problem off the President's lap.

The revival movement may enjoy another advertising boost soon. Certain administration enemies are understood to be preparing for publication a list of distinguished members in the 1920's. It represents a roll call of big shots in the Democratic party below the Mason and Dixon line, and a cabinet member may top the list.

TIP-OFF: Supreme court members have treated Justice Black with punctilious politeness, but they have not extended to him the unofficial favors they usually accord to a freshman in their midst.

Chief Justice Hughes did not accompany him on his rounds of formal visits to his associates—a customary gesture of kindliness. Even the human Cardozo has failed to unbend to his only junior on the court. Ordinarily, the second newest member undertakes to tutor the newcomer on and off the court, and to supply the legal background of cases under discussion in chambers. So far Mr. Black has left alone in his attempt to catch up.

Court attaches whisper that Mr. Hughes' denial of petitions to unseat the Alabama man was a most extraordinary procedure. Ordinarily, in such cases, the court denies the writ without any explanation for its decision. But here Mr. Hughes went out of his way to explain that the petitioners could prove no deep, personal interest. He did not add that somebody else—the state of Connecticut or Massachuetts, where feeling runs high against the appointment—could not renew the attempt with a fair chance of court consideration.

MINIMIZED: In promising not to duplicate Woodrow Wilson's 1913-1917 mistakes, President Roosevelt virtually outlined his future foreign policy for those who know his attitude toward the earlier Democratic administration.

Mr. Wilson's first blunder, in diplomatic retrospect, was to succumb to McAdoo's proposal that Allied nations be permitted to obtain immense credits for military purchases in the United States. That definitely committed banking and industrial interests—and eventually the government—to an Allied triumph. The second permitted American ships jammed with American passengers to venture into submarine waters, where their torpedoing provoked intense public feeling. The declaration of war against Germany followed almost inevitably.

The Johnson act prevents extension of credit to most of the present-day belligerents. F.D.R.'s own order chasing American vessels out of danger zones, and the warning that private shipping sails at its own risk are expected to stave off another Main or Lusitania incident. Thus he believes he has minimized war perils so that provocative "incidents" leading to participation in any foreign conflict can be avoided—despite the aggressive nature of his Chicago speech.

PICKED: White House fixers gave a fancier exhibition of political management on F.D.R.'s recent western trip than is generally realized. Even local bigwigs who thought they were in on the show were misled.

North Dakota provided the highest spot—and highest jinks. Arranger Farley didn't want the honor of introducing the President to fall to Senator Nye, who fought the administration and faces reelection next year. Nor did "Jim" dare to entrust the task to Governor Langer, who will probably oppose Nye and who was thought to be under a popular cloud because of his indictment and dismissal from office. So "Jim" rushed Controller "Jeff" O'Connor, a North Dakota native, to Grand Forks. He was to act as master of ceremonies, shoving both Nye and Langer out of the picture. "Jim" cannily figured there could be no complaint against paying this tribute to a home-town boy.

But when the Roosevelt train entered the state, F.D.R.'s scouts discovered that Governor Langer was extremely popular—that Nye seemed to be on the down grade. "Jeff" was brusquely banished from the scene, told he wasn't needed after his cross-continental dash, and Mr. Langer was substituted. If a man's popular with the folks back home—a Borah, McNary, a Shipstead, a LaFollette, a Langer—he gets a free ride on the presidential train.

NEW YORK
By James McMullin

NOW that the crowded special session of congress is announced as a reality, New York leaders are busy estimating the prospects for enactment of the Roosevelt legislative program. After careful checking with their best-posted contacts all over the country as well as in Washington, they estimate the situation as follows:

1. The wages-and-hours bill will have unexpectedly rough sledding. Not only will there be vigorous hostility from the South. Many farm block congressmen will also be against it. There opposition will not be advertised, but that won't make it any the less effective. The bill in its present form is rated unlikely to pass both houses unless the C.I.O. and the A. F. of L. sink their differences on this issue and jointly turn on all the heat at their command.

2. A farm bill in some form will probably be enacted, but the Wallace draft will be so changed its papa won't know it. Powerfull farm organizations have their knives out for the more drastic control features.

3. Reorganization of the executive branch of the government will bog down in the passive resistance of congressmen who resent extension of executive authority and especially the threat to their patronage privileges. President Roosevelt may salvage part of this program—executive assistants and a new cabinet office or two. He will not get abolition of the comptroller general's pre-audit or control of independent agencies—and certainly not extension of the civil service.

4. Mr. Roosevelt hasn't mentioned it yet, but he has revision of the neutrality law in mind to give the executive greater discretion. This will threaten one of the Senate's most prized prerogatives. A bitter battle is in prospect with the outcome in doubt.

5. A regional planning bill will probably get by. This will be an emasculated version of Senator Norris' seven-T.V.A. program. The latter is privately opposed by various forces inside the administration. This year's "regional planning" will provide only for studies of the problems involved—but it will be the camel's nose within the tent.

GENEROUS: The old Tammany organization, despite protestations of loyalty, is not breaking its neck to elect Jerry Mahoney mayor of New York. Too many district leaders figure they will be separated from their jobs if Jerry wins. Moreover, a lot of them feel that Jerry is sunk anyhow.

On the other hand, the boys are spreading themselves to lick Tom Dewey for District Attorney. His election would be just about the saddest catastrophe in Tammany history.

Some of the boys are trying hard to swap LaGuardia votes for Hastings votes with opposition district leaders, Harold Hastings is Dewey's Tammany rival for the D.A. job. The measure of their desperation is shown by the terms they are offering—nothing so picayune as a vote proposition. The standard quotation is three LaGuardia votes for one Hastings vote. Political sharps ascribe this generosity to sheer panic.

Big Spring Is Asking For Stop Of Westbound Airline Planes

BIG SPRING Oct. 18 (Special)—Brief in behalf of Big Spring's application for a westbound stop on the airlines scheduled here was presented in Chicago last week by Dr. P. W. Malone, chairman of the chamber of commerce aviation committee.

He is in Chicago attending the annual meeting of the American academy of opthalmology and otolaryngology and presented the brief before C. R. Smith, president of American Airlines. Big Spring is asking for the stop in the belief that it will justify the company from the point of additional revenue from passenger traffic and air mail poundage.

ACCEPTS APPOINTMENT

WASHINGTON, Oct. 18. (AP)—The war department announced that among Texans who have accepted appointments in the reserve corps was second Lieutenant Edward C. Leach, infantry, Waco.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

Just a common cough, a chest cold, or a bronchial irritation of today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. They may be relieved now with Creomulsion, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medicinal combination designed to aid nature in soothing and healing infected mucous membranes by allaying irritation and inflammation and by aiding in loosening and expelling the germ-laden phlegm.

The Medical Profession has for many years recognized the beneficial effect of Beechwood Creosote in the treatment of coughs, chest colds, and bronchial irritations. A special process was worked out by a chemist, for blending Creosote with other ingredients and now in Creomulsion you get a real dose of genuine Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by both adults and children.

Creomulsion is one preparation that goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel the germ-laden phlegm. When coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles—due to common colds—hang on, get a bottle of Creomulsion from your druggist, use it as directed and if you are not satisfied with the relief obtained, the druggist is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Creomulsion is one word—not two, and it has no hyphen in it. Ask for it plainly, see that the name on the bottle is Creomulsion, and you'll get the genuine product and the relief that you want. Church Session Will Be Held Here Today

To check on status of the church in the present conference year and to make plans for the remainder of the year, which ends Nov. 17, 31 pastors of the Lubbock Methodist district will meet at Asbury Methodist church at 10:30 o'clock this morning. Dr. W. M. Pearce presiding elder will be in charge.

At 12:30 o'clock, the pastors and their wives will be guests of Dr. and Mrs. Pearce for lunch in the backyard of the district parsonage at 2316 Eighteenth street.

Only persons who are to attend the meeting other than pastors are Ray Nichols of Vernon, conference lay leader, and Joseph R. Griggs of Lubbock, district lay leader.

The conference year will end with the annual conference, to be conducted at Quanah.

Negro Is Shot To End Manhunt; Had Slain Two Florida Officers

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Oct. 18. (AP)—Death early today climaxed a grim manhunt for the negro slayer of two St. Petersburg policemen after officials had saved him, through a ruse, from possible mob action.

Chief of Police D. D. Vaughn said the negro was J. O. Moses, who was wounded and captured last night after he had been hunted since Saturday night for the slaying of Motorcycle Officer James A. Thornton and Patrolman William G. Newberry at a circus here.

Vaughn said Moses was shot while resisting arrest when discovered at a negro dwelling, and that he was carried in a mortuary basket through a crowd that quickly gathered at the house.

The police chief said an effort was made to tear the cover from the basket until he told the crowd the negro had been killed.

The wounded negro was carried to an undertaking establishment, where an unsuccessful effort was made to save the negro.

Missionary Work For Negroes Suggested In Church Session

CINCINNATI, Oct. 18. (AP)—The Protestant Episcopal church, told that 7,500,000 American negroes have no religion, considered today a plea for segregating members of the race into racial missionary districts.

The plea came from the Rev. Robert I. Johnson of New Bern, N. C., a leader among negroes of his state for 27 years, who said "there is a trend away from religion as he has known it, on the part of the negro."

He suggested to the Episcopal general convention a 10-point program, in which negroes would administer the church to their own people.

Army's 'Red' Division Seeking To Dislodge 'Blues' In Games

SAN ANTONIO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Repulsed in their efforts of last week to capture San Antonio, the "red" enemy's invading force yesterday was reported by aerial observes to be once more moving onto the Leon Springs military reservation effort to dislodge two "blue" divisions that have been holding the reservation since the "blue proposed new infantry division left the field last Thursday night.

The attack problem is another in the series designed for test of the army's "streamlined" infantry division of 12,000.

TARZAN'S QUEST, No. 86 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

Little Nkima scampered away, clinging tightly to his precious stick. For a long time he leaped and raced until he suddenly noticed that the paper at the end of the staff was gone. His distress was soon softened, however, by discovery of a new interest.

Below him was a deserted hut. Very curious, he descended to investigate; and he yelped with delight when he found on the wall a paper such as he had lost. Clutching his prize he ran from the hut and swung into the trees. Nkima felt very important.

He, like the tall warrior, would carry the paper to Tarzan. So, when he sighted the marching war party he dropped down to the apeman's shoulder. To tease Nkima, Tarzan reached up for the stick. Then the monkey forgot he was enacting the role of courier.

Playfully he fled treeward, inviting Tarzan to catch him. The apeman laughed and walked on, unaware that the paper fluttering at the end of Nkima's stick was Jane's message from the wilderness, a clue which would have taken him to her . . . before it was too late!

SEVERE BREAK REGISTERED

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. — Stock market leaders crashed through support levels today for the most severe break in more than 4 years, many losing 2 to 15 points.

Selling was touched off by a greater than expected drop in steel mill operations. The American Iron and Steel institute estimated them at 55.8 per cent of capacity this week, off 7.0 points at the lowest mark since March, 1936 and U. S. Steel followed by Chrysler, led the fast retreat.

Sliding tendencies appeared shortly after a mild rally at the opening. Virtually all depressed stocks ended at bottom lands for the day.

The Associated Press average of 60 issues was off 3.8 points, the most sizeable recession for a single day since July 20, 1933. At 45.1, it was the lowest since July 6, 1935. Total number of shares traded in was 1,014 or actually 4 more than in the big pre-depression break of Oct. 28, 1929. Transfers aggregated 3,227,520 shares compared with 2,538,270 last Friday. The volume was the largest since March 3.

While business news generally displayed few especially depressing qualities, favorable items, such as they were, apparently attracted little attention from speculative forces.

Cotton..

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18. (AP)—Weakness in outside markets induced sympathetic selling in cotton here today and although demand was moderate the close was steady at net declines of 3 to 10 points.

Prices were on the downgrade throughout most of the day although the market sustained a good rally around mid-session on covering and buying induced by inclement weather in the growing region.

The demand dried up, however, at net advances of about 4 to 7 points and the market slipped off in response to lower stocks. Selling continued until near the close and at the bottom the market showed declines of $1 a bale or more from the session's highs.

Near the end early sellers took profits and the trade bought moderately. As a result final prices were about 50 cents a bale up from the lows.

Oct. closed at 8.35, Jan. at 8.31, Mch. at 8.27, May at 8.26, July at 8.30@8.31 and Oct. at 8.42. Spots lost 2 points with middling at 8.36. Sales totaled 9,055.

Only the extreme eastern section of the growing region escaped the soaking week-end rains and fears were expressed that the movement of the crop to market would be delayed by the wet weather and the grade of the staple lowered.

AVERAGE PRICE

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 18. (AP)—The average price of middling cotton today at ten southern spot markets was 8.25 cents a pound, average for the past thirty market days 8.31 cents a pound.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Oct. 18. (AP)—Except for mid-morning recoveries cotton was generally lower today, first in sympathy with foreign markets and later owing to a slump in stocks.

March reacted from 8.31 to 8.12 and closed at 8.20 with final prices 2 to 10 points net lower.

The market opened 1 to 8 points lower influenced by declines at Bombay and Liverpool and under liquidation and southern selling. Heavy rains over the central and western belts over the weekend combined with foreign buying caused the market to recover to net gains of 1 to 6 points but prices later sagged. A break of about $1 a bale from the highs and to net losses of 15 to 18 points occurred in the afternoon as other markets weakened but final prices showed recovery of 8 to 13 points.

Bailey made the New Deal his campaign standard by describing Miller as "an anti-Roosevelt" with Liberty League backing, and by his own unreserved endorsement for the presidential program.

Miler projected as the main thesis of this campaign a charge of "Bailey dictatorship," claiming the Democratic state committee acted illegally in rejecting petitions for a primary and nominating the governor on its own motion. The congressman was put up by revolting Democrats.

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Oct. 18. (AP)—Big concentrated buying attributed to eastern sources led to spirited rally of wheat prices late today, much more than offsetting an earlier severe tumble.

From a temporary fall of 3 cents a bushel that was associated largely with sensational weakness of securities the Chicago wheat market ran up in some cases to a maximum net gain of 1⅜ cents, and closed at the day's top level. Simultaneous with the late sharp upturn of wheat values was announcement of a substantial decrease of the United States wheat visible supply total, which, however, was less of a decrease than had generally been looked for.

Abrupt recovery of wheat quotations here was in the face of the fact that export purchases of North American wheat today were estimated as amounting to only 500,000 bushels, mostly Canadian.

At the close, Chicago wheat futures were ⅛ lower to 1⅜ higher compared with Saturday's finish, Dec. 99@99¼, May 99¾@1.00, July 93¾, corn ¾@1⅛ advanced, Dec. 59⅞@60, May 61⅛@61⅜, July 61½, oats ⅛@½ up, Dec. 30⅝, and rye varying from ¼ decline to ¼ gain, Dec. 73¾. Provisions results were 20 to 47 cents down.

Discovered About 11 A. M.

Pilot Bob Bergesen, flying out of Cheyenne, discovered the wreckage about 11 a. m. today. Half a dozen planes had been scanning the terrain between Rock Springs and Salt Lake City since dawn.

"The plane apparently is high on Chalk mountain on what is known as Hayden peak," an airline official said.

"This is in the heart of the Uinta mountains, better known as the Granddady lakes playgorund area of eastern Utah and southwestern Wyoming.

"Hayden peak rises to about 13,000 feet from a sharp ridge, and borders a basin from which spring several of Utah's largest rivers. It is an extremely wild region, and one almost without trails of any kind.

"There are hundreds of cliffs and deep canyons, any one of which would take hours to traverse. Seachers will be lucky if they reach the plane by tomorrow noon."

Cloudbursts struck the region yesterday, and a heavy snowfall last night in the upper areas was expected to hinder rescue efforts.

The government airport at Knight, on the Wyoming-Utah border, was being used as the base for the search, and men; stretchers and emergency equipment were mobilized there. Several crews set out on hoseback and with wagons.

The 21-passenger craft was down some 50 miles northwest of Lone peak, where a Western Air Express liner crashed last December, killing seven, and was a like distance east of the scene of a Wasatch mountain plane crash in which eight died Feb. 26, 1934.

Commission In Night Session

appeared in the city council chamber and without statement as to his attitude concerning the cut in his own pay.

Rodgers' Pay Raised

Increases ordered included a hike of $50 per month to $400 in the salary of City Manager W. H. Rodgers despite his urging that his pay remain the same and the proposed hike be divided among others on the payroll.

Other Increases

Important among the other increases ordered were: City Engineer Marlin R. Smith, jr., from $250 to $275 per month; Assistant City Engineer Arch L. King, $160 to $170; City Secretary Lavenia Williams, $125 to $140; Electric Plant Superintendent J. J. Graham from $300 to $310; fifteen other salaried electric plant employes, $5 increases monthly each; Cleo Shipman, electric plant mechanic from 50 cents per hour to $125 per month; eight garbage department laborers from $80 to $85 each; H. F. McLarty of meter department, from $165 to $170; W. A. Hensley, meter department, $150 to $160; and H. F. Yant, meter department $160 to $165.

Lead in the demand that Martin's pay be reduced was taken by Commissioner Richardson who, with the declaration that he wanted to be "put on record," offered a motion that the auditor's pay be reduced to $200 per month.

Joined In Voting It Down

Commissioner W. G. McMillan seconded the motion, explaining that it was done wholly so that the matter might be submitted to a vote. Then he joined with Mayor Ross Edwards, and Commissioners W. B. Price and J. A. Fortenberry in voting it down.

Richardson also was critical of the $350 salary paid the city manager, remarking that "he is paid at least $50 per month too much."

"I think he is paid at least $50 too little," McMillan retorted.

Richardson Votes No

"Any man capable of being manager of the five million dollar business represented by the city of Lubbock is worth $400 a month or he isn't worth keeping at all," chimed in Commissioner Fortenberry. On the subsequent motion to raise Rodger's salary, only Richardson voted against.

Discussions of the budget then began, with the eventual result that the utilizing of funds now tied up in paving certificates was decided upon by the commission as a means of holding an increase in the tax rate to a maximum of five cents on the $100 of valuation.

Minimum Is $8,000

Those certificates, it was explained, draw five per cent obligations given by property owners as liens against their property to guarantee payment for pavement placed in front of it. The city, the manager reported, holds approximately $40,000 worth of those certificates, $8,000 of which as a minimum must remain in a revolving pavement fund.

In spite of Rodger's expressed doubt as to whether the money derived from those warrants can safely be placed in the city's general fund and thus be applied on the budget, the commission followed the opinion given by City Attorney Durwood H. Bradley that they can be used for that purpose.

To Negotiate For Loan

The plan, as finally approved, instructed the city manager to negotiate for four per cent loan on the six per cent certificates and put the money in the general fund to be used in financing the budget for the fiscal year. Expectation is, as outlined by commissioners, that approximately $32,000 thus will be made available, and at the same time the city will derive a net of two per cent interest on the obligations. The two per cent, it was explained, represents the difference between the four per cent the city expects to borrow and the six per cent interest they pay.

Informed that even if the plan should work out as suggested, an increase of at least five cents in the tax rate would be necessary, Richardson urged that the city invest approximately $150,000 of its $190,000 sinking fund in government bonds and use the interest from that source to balance the budget. The mayor and other commissioners were skeptical of that plan because of the danger that a fluctuation of the values of such bonds might find the city facing the necessity of making a forced sale at a loss.

The considerable revision of the proposed budget made necessary by the session left uncertainty as to what exact figures of that compilation will be. Estimates last night, however, were that expenditures from the general fund would be raised as a lowest minimum approximately $2,000 to $2,500 from the original estimated total of $217,720 and that the amount to be raised by taxation would be reduced, as a maximum, by approximately $30,000.

Commissioners abandoned an attempt to set a definite date for its next meeting when the city manager declined to say positively when revisions in the budget could be made.

"I think I can tell you by 9 o'clock this morning when it can be prepared," Rodgers told them.

Great Britain And France Plan Joint Action On Intervention

LONDON, Oct. 18. (AP) — Great Britain and France drafted a plan of joint action today for tomorrow's crucial non-intervention meeting over which Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden himself will preside in an effort to drive through an agreement to withdraw foreign volunteers from Spain's civil war.

Eden conferred with Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain and French Ambassador Charles Corbin on Franco-British policy for the international committee meeting.

Japanese Advance Is Slowed Down

SHANGHAI, Oct. 19. (Tuesday). (AP)—The advance of the Japanese army down the two great railroads linking North China with the south has been slowed down, according to authoritative advices today from points along the southern banks of the Yellow river.

At Shanghai, a major battle was being fought 10 miles northwest of the city in the sector between Tazang and Lihang, where the Japanese were pounding the Chinese defenses.

Chinese authorities said 1,400 Chinese and 3,000 Japanese died fighting for the Chinese supply bases at Tazang. The Chinese commander, 27-year-old Col. Chin Ching-Wu, and his entire command was reported to have been wiped out in a 33-hour battle.

Fatal Accident

E. B. Kelly, also a livestock man, 2224-A Eighteenth street, also minor injuries.

Members of the Eskew family were occupants of a small two-door sedan driven by Leonard, and Murray was driver of the other, in which Kelly was a passenger. Scene of the wreck was described as being in the Whiteface Farms area, about two miles from the Eskew home.

Approach Obscured

The Eskew car, reports to Levelland and hospital authorities said, was traveling west and that of Murray and Kelly north when they came upon each other suddenly at the narrow intersection. Obscuring the approach, reports continued, was tall cane at the corner of a field.

Crash Is Unavoidable

Marguerite Eskew, the injured girl, was quoted as telling medical attendants to whom she was taken at Levelland, that both cars were traveling at what appeared to be a moderate rate of speed, but that neither driver had opportunity to avoid the crash. Her report and those of investigators continued that Murray's car hit the other broadside, knocking it to the side of the road and wrecking it almost completely. Murray's car also was heavily damaged.

Young Leonard's body was unmarked except for a blow across the forehead which apparently caused instantaneous death.

Others of the injured were taken to Levelland, where Dr. C. M. Phillips attended them at his office. He and a nurse accompanied Mrs. Eskew to Lubbock sanitarium in the ambulance.

Ike L. Eskew, the husband and father, was engaged in farm hauling at the time of the crash and it was about an hour before he was located. He came to Lubbock immediately after notification.

Investigations into the wreck were held Monday afternoon by Ed Hofacket, Hockley county sheriff; Edgar Payne, Hockley county attorney; and Sergeant R. B. Butler and W. C. Alder of the Texas highway patrol. Investigations will continue today, according to information from Levelland last night.

Slight Improvement Reported In Woman's Condition

At least slight improvement was reported late Monday night in the condition of Mrs. Bernardina Garcia, 65, resident of San Antonio, who with four other persons suffered injuries in an automobile-truck collision near the Lubbock Municipal airport Sunday afternoon. She was admitted to Lubbock sanitarium for treatment.

Mrs. Garcia's injuries included fractured left ribs, fractured left arm below the elbow, shock and bruises. Others who received emergency treatment at the sanitarium were Jose Jesus Lopez, 29, of San Antonio, driver of the truck; Mrs. Jose Montoya, 28, of San Antonio, bruises and shock, and Mile Tucker, 22, of Lubbock, bruises. All were occupants of the truck, reports to investigating authorities said.

Abernathy Man Driver

Marvin B. Struve of Abernathy, driver of the automobile with which the truck collided, did not require medical attention for bruises.

Reports of investigators were that the truck was traveling north on the Plainview highway and apparently had swung out to go around another car when the close approach of Struve's machine, headed south, was discovered. The collision, reports continued, occurred either at the edge of the highway or entirely off it as both automobile and truck were swerved sharply in an attempt to avoid a crash. Both machines were heavily damaged.

Investigations of the accident were made by Ralph Goldwater for the police department and by members of the state highway patrol.

Midland Woman Is Killed In Crash Near Roscoe

ABILENE, Oct. 18. (AP)—Mrs. H. J. Whitt, 24-year-old Midland resident who was killed in an automobile accident near Roscoe Sunday night, will be buried here Tuesday afternoon.

The car in which Mr. and Mrs. Whitt and their small son were riding crashed head-on into an auto driven by another Midland resident.

Mr. Whitt was in a Roscoe hospital tonight with a compound fracture of the right leg and minor injuries. Their son, Jackie, was not injured. H. C. McGlaughlin of Midland was in the same hospital receiving treatment for minor injuries, and his brother, J. A., also of Midland, was released Monday after being treated. They were occupants of the second automobile.

House In Economy Move

The house threw its weight behind the governmental economy drive.

Verbal sparks flew before the house decided by a small majority to request Governor James V. Allred to open the subject of economy for possible action in the seven remaining working days. The senate long ago asked the governor to submit that subject but he had declined to do so.

A move in the house to kill the economy resolution failed, and it then was adopted by a wider margin nitwithstanding an assertion of Rep. Abe Mays of Atlanta that it was "a stab in the governor's back."

Clever Coup Achieved

Advocates of a bill legalizing mixed drink sales of hard liquor in counties desiring them sprang what appeared to be a clever coup by attaching it to the general tax proposal. If the bill should be in that form when it reaches the governor, who is a prohibitionist, he would have to sign or veto it "in whole." He could not strike out the drink senate slashing current appropriasale legalization.

The bill recently passed by the tions for state departments approximately $5,000,000 skidded right through the house appropriations committee tonight and came to rest in a sub-group.

The sub-committee was instructed to compare the measure with present appropriations and be prepared to report compartive figures to a meeting of the whole committee to be called later.

are paid on a 9-month schedule," he said.

"As a matter of fact, most schools will have difficulty operating under the present appropriations which generally are about 10 per cent under our needs."

Operating On Less Costs

He said pre-depression salaries had been restored only about 90 per cent and higher institutions of learning were operating on from one-fourth to one-half less per student than they did 10 years ago.

Another argument was funds alloted for salaries already had been contacted for since each college had set its salaries schedules for both years of the biennium and teachers had been re-employed on those schedules.

The bill under consideration reduces 25 per cent all salaries in excess of $2,400 and cuts those between that figure and $1,800 to $1,750. It does not reduce maintenance, operation and building items.

AID TO RELIEF OF PSORIASIS SYMPTOMS

The itching and irritation of psoriasis is readily relieved by Resinol Ointment, an old formula containing ingredients well known to physicians for their effectiveness.

To get best results, wash off the scales with a pure, mild soap. Resinol Soap is gently medicated and free from excess alkali. Use it with warm water, then rinse and pat dry.

Spread Resinol Ointment evenly over the surface, letting it remain for several hours during the day and over night. Note how quickly its oily base enables the Resinol medication to soothe the angry skin.

Even when the rash begins to fade, do not stop using Resinol too soon. The eruptions of psoriasis have a tendency to recur. Therefore, continue Resinol applications as long as there is any trace of irritation.

Good Will Trip Planned To Hobbs On Thursday

Business Men To Visit Oil Town

A Lubbock delegation will pay a neighborly visit to Hobbs Thursday in an attempt to further cement the friendly relationship between the two cities, according to announcement Monday by Chas. A. Whitacre, chairman of the chamber of commerce good neighbor committee.

Eli Henley, manager of Axtell company, who has been appointed chairman of the arrangements committee, announced that sufficient reservations were received Monday afternoon to insure that one bus at least will be necessary to provide transportation, and that two likely will be necessary.

One Of Several Trips

The trip is one of several planned during the remainder of the autumn to various Lubbock neighbors in West Texas and Eastern Oklahoma.

The tentative itinerary for the Hobbs trip, according to Henley, is: leave Lubbock city hall at 7:30 a. m.; Plains, from 9 to 9:30 a. m.; Tatum, N. M., 10:30 to 11 a. m.; Lovington, N. M., 11:45 to 12:15; arrive Hobbs, 12:45 p. m. and depart at 4 p. m., returning to Lubbock at 6:30 p. m. Lunch will be eaten at Hobbs at a place yet to be selected.

To Visit Oil Fields

The trip Henley pointed out, will provide opportunity to visit one of the most rapidly developing regions in both Texas and New Mexico. Centering about Plains is an oil development which gives promise of becoming one of the largest in the nation, while Hobbs already is the center of a major oil field.

Opportunity will be given, the chairman assured, for a first hand observation of all the activities now taking place along the route.

You've got something there!

"That's what the used-car dealer said to me when I brought in my old Jalopy. The paint and rubber were so-so. Upholstery, fair. But the engine? Marvelous! So he paid me way over the Blue-book value, and I've warned the family never to use any oil except Phillips 66 Motor Oil in our brand new bus."

The moral is: To keep your engine in tip-top condition, use the finest oil you can buy. Not the highest-priced oil. But a lubricant like Phillips 66 Motor Oil, which gives you more protection for every penny you pay. Guaranteed 100% pure paraffin base.

With high-degree oiliness. Standout quality makes it stand up longer. Tougher, heat-resistant film makes it give many extra miles of service.

Next time, drain and refill with Phillips 66 Motor Oil. It's concentrated! . . . This year's big value in car lubrication. Look for the Orange and Black 66 Shield.

The Economy Champion

Three-Day Band School Carded

All school superintendents, music supervisors and band and orchestra directors in the state have been informed through a letter from L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction that there will be two three-day schools of instruction for band and orchestra directors in the state Nos. 1 through 6.

The University of Texas will conduct one Nos. 1, 2, 3 in Hogg Memorial auditorium at Austin. Texas Technological college, under the direction of the band department, will direct the second in Lubbock High school auditorium Nos. 4, 5, and 6.

Two Schools Necessary

"Because of an increasing number of inquiries received by this department requesting information on teaching methods and procedure, affiliation requirements, prescribed state course of study requirements in connection with the state affiliated subjects of band and orchestra, it was necessary to hold the two schools of instruction, Woods said.

The program at both of these schools will be identical, so far as the guest conductors are concerned, but the subjects assigned to the Texas instructors for the Austin meeting will be given to those attending in the eastern and southern divisions of the Texas School Band and Orchestra association, while those residing in the northern and western divisions attend the Lubbock meeting.

Every Subject Included

The subjects of the program will include every subject entering into the school instrumental music teaching or administration field. The state course of study will be fully explained, and the teaching procedure demonstrated by guest conductors and the ensemble. The ensemble will be made up of students from among highest ranking players in the regional or state contest events for each of the two years. Guest conductors have also been selected by the board of directors of the association.

Wood urges each superintendent and director to release all music superiors at band and orchestra clinics for the necessary time to permit them to attend one of the clinics of instruction but to render every possible assistance to that department in paying at least a part of their expenses.

There will be no registration fees. The only expense being for transportation, board and meals.

MILLIONS MORE FOR FINER TOBACCOS!

IS IT GOOD BUSINESS TO BUY COSTLIER TOBACCOS FOR CAMELS?

the answer is:

Camels are the Largest-Selling cigarette in America

"YOU BET I've been careful about my nerves. Smoke? All I want to. My cigarette is Camel," says LOU GEHRIG, Baseball's Iron Man. "With Camels I don't worry about jangled nerves."

"I SMOKE Camels and my nerves stay serene and unruffled. You see, I don't want to have those irritating little nervous habits," says window display expert, POLLY PETTIT.

"FROM ANY angle, Camel is the cigarette for yours truly. When I'm tired, I light a Camel and back to work I go with a 'lift' in energy," FRANK MULLADY, auto mechanic, says.

"AS A fashion designer spending long night hours creating new styles, I've grown to depend on the mellow companionship Camels give me," says the famous designer, RENEE MONTAGUE.

The pleasure you get out of a cigarette depends on what's put in it. And in the case of Camels that means finer, costlier tobaccos!

THROUGH the years, Camel has consistently spent millions of dollars more for choice, ripe tobaccos!

That represents a way of doing business that smokers understand and appreciate. Millions of smokers have responded to the appeal of Camel's choice quality. Because of it, Camels have an attraction all their own!

It's a happy experience to have confidence in your cigarette . . . to know that you are getting the good things out of smoking that you hope for. The plain fact that Camel does spend millions of dollars more for ripe, more costly tobaccos appeals to the common sense of American men and women.

It is good business!

"I'VE BEEN a sports reporter for twenty-five years," says JAMES GOULD. "And for twenty-three of these years—right from the time Camels were first brought out—I've been a steady Camel smoker. Camels don't tire my taste."

THE NEW CAMEL CARAVAN—TWO GREAT SHOWS IN AN HOUR'S ENTERTAINMENT!

Includes "Jack Oakie College" and Benny Goodman's "Swing School"! Sixty fast minutes of grand fun and music. Every Tuesday night at 9:30 p.m. E.S.T., 8:30 p.m. C.S.T., 7:30 p.m. M.S.T., 6:30 p.m. P.S.T., over WABC-Columbia Network.

"DUCK, SWORDFISH STEAK, and Boston cream pie—my favorites—aren't the most digestible foods. But with Camels at meals my digestion does a swell job," says BRUCE WALLIS, college senior.

"I OFTEN SAY a woman who runs a home needs health nerves as much as any athlete. So I smoke the cigarette that I know is mild—Camel!" says MRS. ROBERT FENNIMORE, New York housewife.

"FOR YEARS I'VE chosen Camels. I notice Camels leave no after-taste," remarks MAXINE HOLLEN, department store salesgirl.

COSTLIER TOBACCOS IN A MATCHLESS BLEND

Camels are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. Skillful blending brings out the full flavor of these choice tobaccos.
