Mrs. Earl Riley Brings In First Load Of Wheat

Mrs. Earl Riley brought the first load of wheat to Stratford Tuesday. It was sold to the Stratford Grain Company for a premium of $3.00 a bushel. The wheat tested 61 with a moisture content of 13.03 207 bushels and 20 pounds was in the load.

The wheat was raised on Mr. ant Mrs. Riley's farm 14 miles east of Stratford.

Combines are poised in many fields ready to commence harvesting the latter part of the week. Harvest generally is not expected to commence before the latter part of next week.

Fields are not ripening evenly and moisture conditions will determine the day for harvest to get into full swing. Many had expected the harvest season to be wide open about the first of July but the current ripening trend indicates a much earlier harvest.

Stratford Jamboree Nets Profit

Legionaires of Post 262 are happy over the outcome of the Stratford Jamboree program here Saturday. Although complete expense accounts have not been submitted to the post, they are inclined to believe that a net profit of at least $1,200.00 will be cleared from the barbecue and dance.

Visitors, composed mostly of citizens of the trade territory, seemed pleased with the entertainment features that were presented.

Legionaires and those taking an active part in the program believe that they made a good start in laying the ground work for an annual program of this nature and hope to add a few attractions each year to gradually complete a major event.

Working against time, and sponsoring the event with services that were donated, the Legion brought to life the old familiar celebration spirit which marked Stratford among the first cities to sponsor such entertainment.

During the latter years of the drouth and depression the practice was abandoned for lack of man-power and finances.

Juniors Win Over Gruver

The American Legion sponsored Junior Baseball team won over Gruver High School by a score of 18 to12. During the first three innings of the game Stratford built up a 10 to 0 lead. Both teams scored for runs in the fourth inning, and Gruver continued a scoring rally which brought them within six runs of the winning team at the close of the game.

1500 Eat Barbecue

Judging from the use of paper plates, committees estimate a crowd of approximately 1,500 enjoyed the noon day barbecue, prepared by Lesslie Parker, and served by Legion members on a pay-as-you wish basis.

Air Show Goes On

Handicapped by the absence of several pilots expected for the event, the boys present went ahead with a program of entertainment.

Ed Crabtree, Conlen, won first place in the Stratford-Texhoma air race, with Davis of Dalhart, second, and Gene Cluck, Gruver, a close third.

Harvey of Gruver won the quick take-off contest.

Swift Ingram, Dalhart, and Harold Bennett went through the stunting maneuvers.

Dumas Takes Game

Stratford and Dumas played a close game until the fifth inning when Dumas started a scoring rally. The game closed with a score of 6 to 2 in favor of Dumas.

Dance Floor Crowded

The American Legion Hall, thought to be a building which would easily accommodate any crowd which might gather in Stratford, was crowded to capacity for the dance Saturday night.

Legion members have high hopes that the proceeds from the event will pay off obligations to individuals who have expended funds to place the building in a usable condition, and have at least enough money for electric wiring of the structure.

Without funds for the completion of the building, and weary of asking for donations, the Legion Post turned to the celebration idea as a means of securing additional funds. Although available funds will be far short of the amount needed for completion of the building sponsors hope that at least the building will be placed in a usable condition.

Burk Green, City Marshall, Deputies Doc Wilson and Frank Roden, and special police Lewie Brannan, Arlyn Haile and Lorel Haile handled the crowd and traffic without incident.

Royal Pendleton Attends Class Reunion

Royal Pendleton and E. R. Robinson, Dalhart, attended the reunion of the class of 1908 at Texas A. & M. College at College Station over the week-end. Approximately 40 of the former college students met together after not seeing each other for a period of 40 years.

China was the first country to develop gunpowder.

Capell-Sellers Wedding Sunday

Mrs. Viola Capell, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. W. A. Hitchcock, Plainview, became the bride of Jess Sellers, Amarillo, in a service solemnized Sunday morning in the parlor of the First Baptist Church of Amarillo. Rev. A. D. Foreman read the marriage vows in the presence of the members of the immediate families.

Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Cleavinger, Jr., Canyon, attended the bride and groom.

Miss Merita Brummett, a niece of the bride, was the wedding organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Hose Flores attended the wedding.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, Mr. and Mrs. Sellers will make their home in Amarillo, where he is associated with the Amarillo National Bank.

Equalization Board Met Tuesday

The County Commissioners' Court met as a Board of Equalization Tuesday with representatives of the Magnolia Petroleum Company, Humble Oil and Refining Co., The Texas Company, the Phillips Petroleum Co., Cities Service, and the Shamrock Co. for an agreement on tax valuations on production, potential and shut-in wells rendered for taxation.

It was the intention of the Board of Equalization to secure taxation necessary for maintaining school districts where wells are located.

Oil company representatives agreed on a tax valuation of $1,300,000.00 on wells developed this year. An additioinal $100,000.00 valuation will be rendered on pipe lines which have been completed but on which detailed figures of cost were not available.

Representatives of the oil companies assured the court that only lack of materials was delaying the development of Sherman County's mineral wealth, and that as soon as these materials became available there would be sufficient tax valuation from oil and gas development to care for the expenditure of the county.

Sherman County's tax valuation for the current year will be approximately 8 million dollars. In 1946 the tax valuation of the county was approximately 4.9 million and 6.4 million in 1947.

Arrangement of white spring flowers and candelabra featured the decorative background at the altar.

Before the ceremony Mrs. Walter Pendleton played selections of organ music. Miss Joan Byers of Canyon sang "Through the Years" and "Because."

Eual Allen and Dwight Hester lighted the tapers.

The bride, entering on the arm of her father, was attended by her sister, Mrs. John Steel, as matron on honor, and Miss Virginia Bush of Childress, as maid of honor.

Neil Jackson served as best man and George Allen as groomsman.

Keener-Martin Wedding Vows Read Friday

Miss Pauline Keener, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Keener, became the bride of William C. Martin, Jr., son of W. C. Martin of Stratford and Mrs. Hazel B. Martin of Santa Barbara, California, in a wedding solemnized in the Methodist Church Friday afternoon. Rev. H. A. Nichols read the single ring service.

Bill and A L. Ross, ushers, lighted the white tapers that flanked the altar trellis of red roses. The background was of greenery with entertaining red roses. In the foreground were pink hydrangeas. On either side of the candelabra were bouquets of white stock, lilies, and snapdragons.

Mrs. Hose Flores played "I Love Thee," by Grieg. Miss Florence Alexander sang "Oh Promise Me," by Scott. Bernard Walters sang "The Lords Prayer," by Malotte.

During the service Mrs. Flores played soft strains of "Clair de Lune" by Debussy. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Given in marriage by her father. the bride wore a gown of white nylon tulle over taffeta. fashioned with a three tiered tulle skirt extending into a court train. Blush and bride's blue satin with an overlay of tulle formed the molded bodice which was joined to a sheer yoke with soft folds of tulle. The long filled sleeves were shirred to a point extending over the hands. The bodice was finished with a jewel neckline.

She carried a bouquet of three orchids on a prayer book.

Rosemary Keener, attending her sister as brides maid, wore a gown of blush taffeta with basque bodice, short sleeves, and full skirt. The petal motif of the taffeta mits was repeated in the peplum which joined the skirt and bodice.

She carried a nosegay of red roses encircled by white daises and white streamers.

Conrad Riffe served the groom as best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a receptioin was given at the home of the bride's parents. The table was covered with a white lace cloth with a center piece of floating gardenias. Don't Wait Until The Well Runs Dry

The State Office recommends the summer fallow practice as a practice to conserve soil and water. A payment of fifty cents per acre is paid for this practice. June 15 is the closing date for the first operation on this practice. All operators that plan to summer fallow part of their land are urged to call by the county AAA office before this date as the office personnel will not be allowed to issue prior approvals after this date.

After the topsoil is gone it is too late to begin thinking about saving the soil. says R. C. Buckles, Chairman of the Sherman County Agricultural Conservation Committee. He points out that waiting for crop yields to drop and gullies to appear before carrying out conservation practices to conserve soil and water is about like calling the fire department after the house has burned to the ground.

Some land has not been seriously damaged by erosion or depletion, but now is the time to keep it that way. Keep yields high and the land will help to bear the expense of keeping up the fertility. But let the topsoil get away and with it the soil fertility, and the expense of rebuilding is expensivie and the damaged land is not in condition to help bear the cost.

Peak Auto Output Planned for 1948

Manufacturers Seek to Boost Production Marks.

DETROIT.—The nation's car and truck manufacturers have set their sights at the highest volume of output ever attained in a single year.

According to the best estimates available, approximately 3,555,000 cars and 1,235,000 commercial vehicles were made in U. S. plants last year. In planning for 1948, producers are aiming at an increase of from 10 to 15 per cent. compared with the 1947 total of nearly 4,800,000.

Figures for the year 1947 are unofficial and subject to revision, which could be upward as easily as downward. In any event, now that 1947 has gone, most of the car makers admit that despite all the materials problems they encountered, it was a good year for production and for completion of expanded facilities.

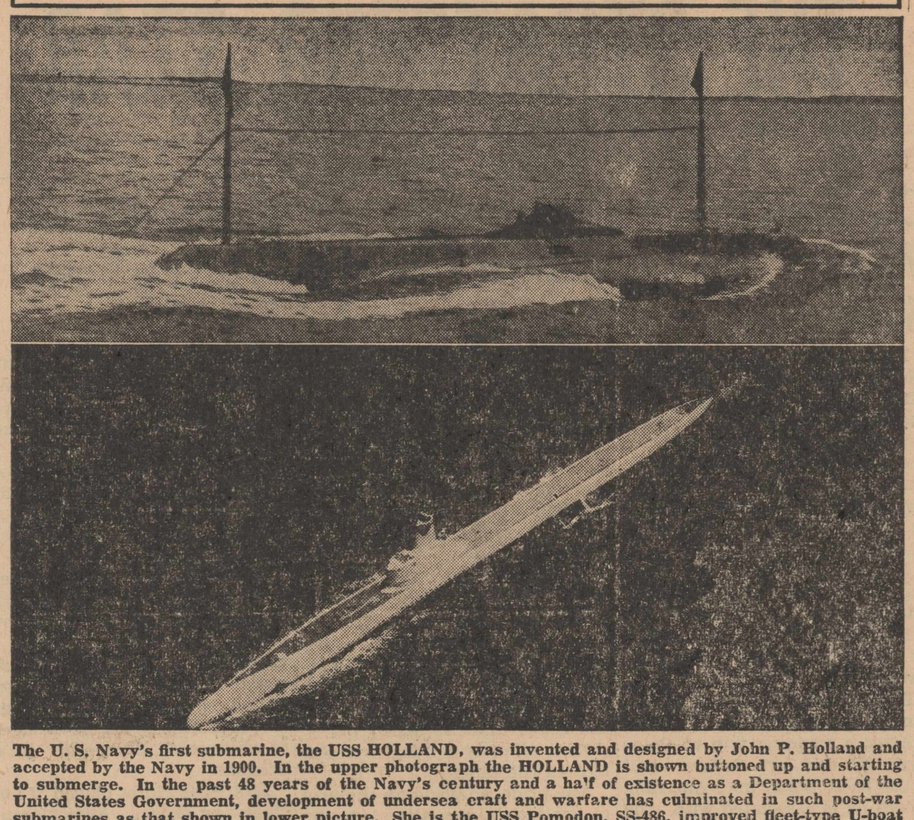

Ahead of the industry are more problems regarding steel, particularly in cold and flat rolled types. But the vehicle makers found the required material in 1947 for a near-record production volume, although they went to unusual extremes to get it into their factories.

Their planning for 1948 is based largely upon the experiences of last year and most of them express the belief that if the Marshall plan for European relief does not bring about a rationing of materials, they will be able to get U. S. car and truck production well above five million units in 1948.

The record for one year is the 5,358,420 units turned out in 1929.

SUBMERSIBLE CRAFT WAX INTO ADULTHOOD

The U. S. Navy's first submarine, the USS HOLLAND, was invented and designed by John P. Holland and accepted by the Navy in 1900. In the upper photograph the HOLLAND is shown buttoned up and starting to submerge. In the past 48 years of the Navy's century and a half of existence as a Department of the United States Government, development of undersea craft and warfare has culminated in such post-war submarines as that shown in lower picture. Driver Discovers Two 'Male' Riders Are Attractive Girls

SALINAS, CALIF.—After driving 7,000 miles in a stolen auto with his two "male" accomplices, George H. Einsla, 39, was flabbergasted to learn the "young men" were shapely, attractive girls.

"Why the dickens didn't they tell me?" Einsla asked police, looking through his cell bars toward the women's detention ward where his pants-wearing but female companions were lodged.

Einsla and the 18-year-old girls, Anne Lucile Stelzniede, Phoenix, Ariz., and Shirley Mae Wills, Lancaster, Pa., were booked on a federal complaint of transporting a stolen car across a state line.

Einsla said he had driven with the girls for 11 days and 7,000 miles—ever since, FBI agents charged, they first picked up the auto in a Tucson, Ariz., parking lot.

"But I sure had no idea I was dragging along a couple of girls," Einsla said. "Whew."

Officers said the girls apparently had been posing as men for some time. One had a job as a truck driver. Einsla added that all three had gone on dates with women during their jaunt.

Pilot Buzzes Deer, Saves Them From Illegal Hunters

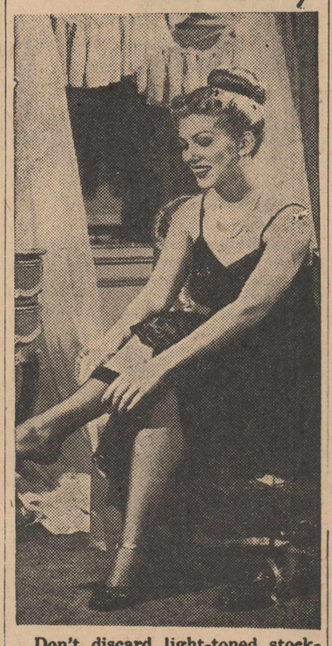

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN. — Joe O'Neal, Minneapolis flier, was returning from an airplane fox hunt when he spotted four deer being stalked by four hunters south of the Minnesota river near Shakopee.

O'Neal dropped down near the hunters, who threatened him with clenched fists and menacing guns. So he swerved away, went on and "buzzed" the deer to put speed on them and get them away from the illegal gunners.

"It's a job for the wardens," said Joe. "There's a lot of deer poaching along the Minnesota river valley."

New Dark Tones For Your Hosiery

Don't discard light-toned stockings because of the dark shades now in style. Just re-dye them in the new dark shades of Tintex stocking dye just introduced — as was done by Karen Lewis (above), recently crowned Queen at New York Press Photographers' Ball. And if you have dark-toned hosiery that you want in lighter shades, you can re-dye these also, since there are six light-toned dyes available as well.

The new dark shades of dye are mistique, a hazy taupe; bronzeskin, a sophisticated brown; black beauty, a dramatic off-black, and gunmetal, a misty gray-black.

You can achieve the transformation for about two cents a pair, including the color remover suggested when changing to markedly different color or when re-matching odd stockings.

The dye works on all the usual hosiery fabrics, including nylon and rayon.

Focal Point In Cold War

(Soundphoto) — With the joint proposal of the United States, Great Britain and France that the free territory of Trieste be returned to Italy, this former Italian seaport again becomes the focal point in the cold war between the western democracies and the Soviet Union and her satellites. Trieste, marked with an arrow, is garrisoned by a handful of British and American troops while across the Yugoslav border Marshall Tito is believed to have massed overwhelming military power. The three power proposal was given the Soviet Embassy, the Italian Embassy and the Yugoslav Embassy.

Grim Reminders Of Daschau Are Still Visible

Crematorium of 'Master Race' Now Open to Interested Sightseers

DACHAU, GERMANY.—Occupation forces have thoroughly cleaned up this former crematorium of the liquidated "master race" but reminders of the horrors which once took place are posted conspicuously.

Allied occupation forces have given it what you might call a shave, a haircut, a massage, a manicure—and a bunch of memorial plaques.

They are supposed to remind visitors of the horrors which once took place here.

Visitors are particularly intrigued by a German sign between the gas chamber and crematorium which had been left intact.

It warned the workers that "cleanliness" was of extreme importance, and therefore they should wash their hands carefully—after each execution.

No Skulls Remain.

But there aren't any skeletons and skulls around, as there were three years ago, and there aren't any bloodstains or marks of "interrogated" prisoners' clawing fingers on the walls.

The site of one of Germany's most infamous concentration and extermination camps has become a prison for the type of people who more or less supported its previous administration.

This is to say, individuals who are on trial for, or convicted of, having played along with the Nazi regime now find themselves enclosed within its barbed-wire limits.

(That sounds like poetic justice—and it would be, except for a few points not generally known. . . .)

The Allies have turned the operation of Dachau back over to the Germans. Officially, of course, they are "de-Nazified" Germans who now administer the new type of justice within its stockade.

That means that either they never had (officially) Nazi connections, or if they did they were slight and their penalties have been paid.

The Dachau meals are better than the food served in the displaced persons camp in this same area to the victims of the Nazis.

Gangs Sleep Outside.

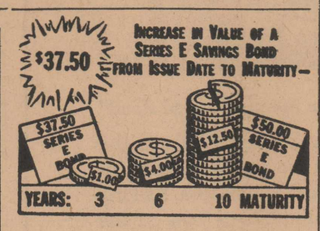

Also, there's the matter of operation at Dachau. Hundreds of "prisoners" who are on the so-called work gangs sleep outside the stockade each night.

Until recently, there were hundreds of escapes weekly. Curiously, nobody in the area seemed particularly perturbed over those escapes—until an especially dramatic one occurred.

Fritz Kuhn, former German-American Nazi bund leader of United States infamy, escaped.

In the D. P. camps escapes were treated with some considerable discipline by officials, and thus those who were bound for Palestine or elsewhere literally had to draw straws in order not to bring down wrath on the entire camp.

Also, a check of the area showed it was much easier for a Nazi escapee of Dachau to get community aid than for a displaced person.

USE COMMON SENSE ON THE WATER

DON'T BE A "LEM" LUBBER

He's the fellow who spoils everybody's fun (his own included) because he doesn't use plain common sense around boats. "Lem" Lubber, for instance, is often so thoughtless he's guilty of OVERLOADING.

For some reason, he thinks there isn't a fish to be caught in the lake unless the fisherman is STANDING UP.

Or he thinks he's not having fun unless he's "buzzing" the swimming float. His favorite sport is SHOWING OFF.

You can have more fun this season if you use COMMON SENSE AFLOAT. Enjoy yourself safely.

Stone Age Jungle Will Be Explored

Scientists to Investigate Primitive Aborigines Of Australia.

WASHINGTON. — Scientists of two nations are preparing for a hazardous expedition among the Stone Age wild men and animals of a little known corner of Australia.

They will visit Arnhem Land, a region of tropical swamps and dense forests the size of Maine, in northern Australia east of Darwin.

There, despite a long-standing ban against white men, the scientists will try to get along with and learn something about a race whose members are "true Stone Age wild men" dwelling among "stone age birds, beasts and reptiles."

Announcement of the expedition, a joint U. S.-Australian venture, was made by Dr. Gilbert Grosvenor, president of National Geographic society.

The society and Smithsonian institution will join with the Australian government in carrying out the project. Leader of the expedition will be Charles Pearcy Mountford of the South Australian museum at Adelaide.

Inaccessible Territory

No automobile trails exist in Arnhem Land, which never has been mapped except by air. So the expedition will approach by sea and work inland up the jungle rivers or more arduously by foot.

Only recently have the natives of Arnhem Land—which was named for the vessel of its Dutch discoverers in 1623—been "absolved to some degree of a mythical reputation as bad men, killers and cannibals," the geographic society said.

They now are believed to be generally friendly, although "extremely wary and difficult to approach by strangers."

And though these natives "can be warlike on slight provocation," they are militarily backward. They never heard of the bow and arrow. They use in war the same wooden spears and throwing sticks they use in hunting.

The only white men permitted to remain on the fringes of Arhnem Land are a handful of missionaries. Their missions were set up early in this century. A few exploring parties have penetrated inland, but they produced little data of scientific value.

Natives Are Primitive Beings.

Because Australia long ago was cut off from the rest of the world, its natives — animal and human — are among the planet's most primitive beings. So the expedition will study mammal, fish, insect, plant and marine as well as human life.

The terrain is so difficult that only the nomadic natives, living the same way as did their ancestors of thousands of years ago, "are geared for travel" in Arnhem Land, the society said.

Legion Airs

(By Earl Bond)

The Stratford Jamboree is over, and quite a relief it is, too, but it was fun and worth all the work it cost. Most of the signs are washed off the windows, aching feet are feeling better and sales of sunburn lotion have died down to normal again. The day was very successful in every way, thanks to the wonderful cooperation of the Legionaires and the citizens and merchants of Stratford. Frankly, I never hoped for such whole-hearted support of the celebration, and the American Legion owes a big debt of gratitude to the citizens who pitched in and did their utmost to make this thing a success, but my thanks can little repay you for what you have done. The only way we can repay you is to make this organization of the utmost service to the community. state and nation. At this point I would like to correct any false notions about our building and its purposes. This building is not the personal property of the American Legion, but it belongs to the people of Stratford and Sherman County, and to this use it will be dedicated. It is not merely a place for a handful of men to meet twice a month for an hour or so, if so it would be wholly unjustified; but it will be a place where citizens can gather for fun and frolic, for serious conference, or whatever worthwhile use that we can find for it. When finished, there will be facilities for feeding large crowds of any organization that may need its facilities. There will be a library for the use of all, and any organization will be welcome to use it as a meeting place if not in use otherwise. The possibilities are unlimited and we hope in this way to justify your expenditure of money and effort. I heard of a citizen the other day who had contributed on the building, but was given to understand by someone that he would not be welcome in the building because he was not a veteran, but his wife could go because she would be eligible for the Auxiliary because they had a son in the service. Nothing could be further from the truth. Not only is that man welcome to the facilities of the building at any time, but I will extend him a personal invitation to attend any meeting of the American Legion as a guest. We are not a secret society, and by virtue of our military service we do not feel above those who did not see service.

As custodians and directors of this building we hope to provide something for everyone, young and old. We hope to provide entertainment for the youngsters, free from the contaminating influences that they might find elsewhere and a similar program for the adults may be had. The only thing we expect of those who use our buiding for any purpose is good conduct, and everyone, regardless of who he may be who has to be evicted for ungentlemanly conduct will no longer be welcome there.

Harvest is upon us, and no doubt our activities will slow down until fall, but we will not be inactive. It is doubtful that much more work is done on the building until that time, but funds permitting we might get a little more work done this summer. Everyone is curious about how much money we made on the celebration. We still have not completed the accounts, but it looks like it will probably net us around $1,200, of which we are very proud. We cut our wisdom teeth on an item or two, as was expected, so if we have another one next year we will know a few things to do and not to do, but we could not possibly complain about anything on this celebration because things in general went off so smoothly.

Again I wish to thank everyone who in any way contributed to the success of the Stratford Jamboree. We would like to know how the people feel about having a bigger and better one next year.

Entertain Friends

Mesdames Hattie Flores and Osa Gamble entertained widowed frienids at the Palace Cafe Friday evening with a lovely dinner.

The four course menu was served from a snowy white table, sparkling with crystal and silver, and centered with an artistic arrangement of sweet peas and lark spur.

Places were set for Mesdames Esma Gilbert, Martha Richardson, Agnes Foster, Ione Taylor, Ann Harrison, Antonette Klawetter, Sallie McAdams, Blanche Walters, and Jennie Brown. Guests of honor were Mrs. Fay Cresens of Amarillo, Mrs. Nettie D. Adams of Hillsboro, Texas, and Mrs. W. G. O'Brien. Chairs at the end of the table were occupied by Mrs. Flores and Mrs. Gamble.

The after dinner hours were spent in the home of Mrs. Flores visiting and playing the game of "42."

Build This Set of Lawn Furniture Yourself.

If in need of lawn furniture, build it yourself and save money. Full Size patterns are available that simplify building the matching chairs and settee illustrated above. A smaller size chair, suitable for children two to eight years of age, can also be constructed from a pattern. Youngsters will be happy to join the family circle if they have a chair they can call their own. Nothing seems to be quite so important to the young ones as having things "just like Dad's".

The Full Size Woodworking Pattern provides a complete list of materials needed, step by step directions and full size patterns for cutting each part. It's the dress pattern idea applied to the flat surface of lumber. No special tools or skill are required. All the materials specified by each pattern are stock size and readily available at lumber yards everywhere. So, for fun over a weekend, build one or more of these pieces. Get the youngster to help. Have him sandpaper each piece, let him hold the pieces as you drill holes. Explain why you use glue and screws at every joint to hold parts together and to keep moisture out. If he's lent a hand building this chair you'll find him taking considerably better care of it.

Materials for two chairs can be purchased for less than one chair costs ready made. Make adult size chairs from Pattern No. 32 and a matching settee from Pattern No. 39. Child size chair is Pattern No. 132. Send 25c for each pattern No. 32 Pattern No. 132. Send 35c for Pattern No. 39 to Easi-Bild Pattern Company, Department W., Pleasantville, N. Y.

SCRIPTURE: Esther.
DEVOTIONAL READING: Psalms 44: 1-8.

Esther's Zeal For Her People

Lesson for June 13, 1948

GEORGE MEREDITH has a line that runs like this, "God's rarest blessing is, after all, a good woman." In this study of Esther, you may wish to think of her primarily as a courageous woman—most people do, I guess. But back of her courage was a solid goodness, else she would never have been able to say, "And if I perish, I perish."

Dr. Newton

One must read the Book of Esther, of course, to have any grasp of this great story. It requires but a few minutes, and every reader will be richly rewarded. I have a lawyer friend, a prodigious reader, who tells me that once each month, for the past 50 years, he has read the Book of Esther.

A QUEEN WHO WAS BRAVE

DANIEL, we agreed, was a brave person; but not more brave than Esther. There is a verse in Hebrews 13:6 that serves admirably to interpret this first stage of Esther's manifest courage, "The Lord is my helper."

We go to the palace in Shushan, where reigned Ahasuerus. His kingdom stretched from India even unto Ethiopia. His queen, Vashti, refused to come before him when he had made a feast. As a result of this refusal, the king ordered young maidens brought before him that he might choose a new queen. There was in the court a Jew, Mordecai, who had been brought there from Jerusalem. He had in his care the daughter of his uncle, a beautiful maiden, named Esther, Mordecai saw here a great opportunity, and he brought her before the king. She was chosen. This brief sketch accounts for her position.

A QUEEN WHO HELPED HER PEOPLE

HAMAN, who was next to the king in authority, discovering that Mordecai was a Jew and was not worshipping as Haman had commanded, caused a decree to be issued which would put to death all the Jews in the kingdom. Mordecai, learning of this decree, sent word secretly to Esther, urging her to intercede on behalf of her people to the king.

Here is the heart of the story. Space does not permit a detailed recital. Is is sufficient to say that Esther, though still in her early twenties, managed this delicate situation with such skill that the gallows which Haman had built for Mordecai turned out to be the instrument of death for Haman and his sons. Instead of the Jews being slaughtered, those who had planned the death of all the Jews lay dead.

ESTHER RISKED ALL AND WON ALL

IF EVER there was a perfect illustration of staking one's all on one great moment, Esther provides such illustration. "Who knoweth whether thou art not come to the kingdom for such a time as this?" said Mordecai as he bolstered her nerve.

It is such a challenge as young people may be facing today. Obviously, the moment now confronting us calls for great faith and great sacrifice if this world is to be saved from utter destruction. It may be that this situation calls for hitherto unknown tactics. And let us pray God there is somewhere an Esther.

THE MESSAGE OF ESTHER

WHICH leads me on to suggest that racial hatred was never more bitter than at this moment. Unless the winds of God blow, unless some mighty manifestation of divine intervention is granted, the world will break up on the rocks of prejudice and selfishness and ambition and all the forms and fashions of sin.

"God moves in a mysterious way, his wonders to perform." Let us pray that we may early witness some mighty stroke of his mercy and deliverance, ere the night let down.

Refinishing Refrigerators

Kitchen refrigerators can be finished with two brush coats of quick-drying enamel of any desired color. However, it is advised by experts in finishing that the job be done with a spray gun by a man who specializes in such work. In either case, surface of the refrigerator must be absolutely clean and free from any trace of greasy film which might impair adhesion of the new finish.

Queen Bee Care

Before placing a new queen in a new home the old queen and all queen cells must be removed. The small cage containing the queen should be placed above the cluster of bees, or between two frames of comb so that worker bees have easy access to the candy-filled cage entrance. It is assumed that during liberation operation the queen takes on the regular colony odors and, therefore, will be accepted. After introduction, a week should elapse before the hive is reopened and the queen cage removed.

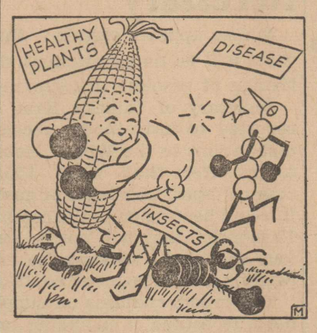

Healthy Plants Needed To Assure Good Crop

Sturdy Growth Hinges On Well-Fertilized Soil

Healthy plants, like healthy humans, are better fitted to fight off insect and disease attacks than are undernourished ones. Enemies have a tougher time getting under the guard of well fed plants. Such plants have stronger root systems and hardier, better developed growth above ground. They can stand on their "feet" and defend themselves.

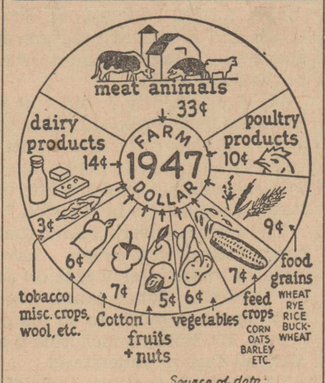

Whether your crops are well fed or undernourished depends on the condition of your soil. If your soil is loose, mellow, high in organic matter, of good tilth and carries plenty of plant food, it can give your crops a body-building diet. If your soil is worn down by overcropping and failure to put back plant nutrients and organic matter, it cannot support healthy, sturdy crop growth.

Any farmer can build his soil's fertility and crop producing ability by good management methods. He can get bigger crop yields per acre through use of fertilizer carrying nitrogen, phosphate and potash as needed. He can build soil structure by growing deep-rooted legumes such as alfalfa or sweet clover in the rotation. Roots of the legumes will open tight soil and let air and water in. Plowed under, the legumes will add to the soil's organic matter supply. Crops following in the rotation will have more "elbow room" to seek water and nutrients deep down in the soil. The organic matter supply can be further increased by returning manure and crop aftermath to the soil.

Farm Meat Dollar

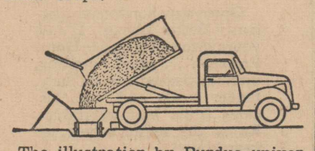

Source of data: U.S. Dept. of Agriculture

About a third of the American farmers' cash income last year came from the sale of meat animals. Meat packers paid out almost 10 billion dollars for livestock. From their total cash income, livestock producers paid out large amounts for stock, feed, help and increased operating costs.

Legumes, Grasses and Cereals Used for Silage

The term grass silage now includes all ensiled crops except corn and the sorgos and is different from them in that special precautions must be taken upon ensiling for the best preservation.

Grass silage may be made successfully from many crops: Legumes, such as alfalfa, clovers, soybeans, lespedeza and peas; cereals, such as oats, wheat, rye and barley; grasses, such as timothy, sudan grass, canary grass, brome grass and orchard grass, and mixtures of these crops.

The illustration by Purdue university shows method of dumping silage that saves in labor and quality.

Activated Charcoal Used To Prevent 2,4-D Harm

Crop plants can be protected from harm by 2,4-D used for killing weeds by pre-planting treatment with powdered activated charcoal. The treatment is of especial value for crops that are set out as young plants already rooted. This is done by dusting the roots with the activated charcoal powder before planting, greatly reducing loss caused by 2,4-D.

Electric Appliances Require Safe, Convenient Location

Small electric appliances require a safe as well as a convenient place to stand if they are to be kept in good condition and repair bills are to be avoided. A safe place is both dry and level.

Tables and kitchen counters generally are safe locations for using appliances, but the drainboard of the sink is not. Electricity can travel through water. Therefore, wet hands, wet terminals and wet cords invite injury to the user as well as to the appliance. Water can ruin the heating element. Moreover, a sloping drainboard may let the appliance slip and fall.

Falls are the cause of much damage to small appliances in homes. Just one tumble can put an iron or toaster out of order and spoil its appearance as well. Every appliance should stand level. The cord should be out of the way so no one will catch or trip on it and pull down the appliance.

An electric appliance should not be set on a window sill where it can be knocked over when the window is shut, or where rain may come in and damage the heating element.

Stitch in Time

Skirts are getting longer, girls, so why not let your hems down? In doing this you may find that there is not enough material left to give the desired width. Two or three rows of seam tape can be sewed together and used to make the hem wider.

Gas Rationing Not Considered Necessary

It now appears certain that there will be no government rationing of gasoline this summer.

Secretary of Interior Krug is reported to have made recommendations to the White House to the effect that while there may be "spot" shortages of gasoline and heating oil in the coming 12 months, they will not be serious enough to warrant the imposition of government controls.

The report contains oil supply demand estimates including imports and exports for the fiscal year beginning with July 1.

Ask Cancer Control Funds

An urgent call for "delayed contributions" to the American Cancer Society's fund campaign in Texas was made this week by former governor W. P. Hobby, state chairman of the cancer control drive.

"There are many people in Texas," the chairman said, "who have decided to give to this all-important drive, but have put off their contributions. I want to urge them to wait no longer.

"Although 55 counties have gone over their goal, we are still about 25 per cent short of the money needed to insure an adequate and increased program of education, research, and service in the coming year.

"In every county I am sure there are people who still want to give. If they can't find their county chairman, I hope they will immediately send the gift to state headquarters in Houston."

The former governor said that comparatively few people have donated to the total of $341,101 so far received. When cancer control means so much to so many people, Mr. Hobby added, this is a difficult fact to understand.

Workers will continue their efforts, the chairman added, until the boal has been gained, "Because this is the only way in which the ambitious Texas Division program can be realized."

Mr. Hobby reminded workers that 60 per cent of all money collected is used in Texas for facilities which will soon cover all of the state's counties and that 25 per cent is used in research projects which he is convinced will someday determine the cause of all cancer.
