

BUILDING PERMITS NEARLY $400,000 DURING 1929

The Outlook For Building This Year is Equally Good if Not Better Than the Past Year. Rural District Making Equal Strides With the City Folks.

Brownfield people are rather pleased with their building record for the past year, but we start in the good year 1930 with a determination to keep the town growing, as well as the section adjacent to us that prosperity may about to all. The building permits reached $376,000 last year, and this was exclusive of $75,000 for a new high school building, bonds of which were voted last year, but has not been started. It will go on this year's total. We understand that work will be started on the new school building in the early spring in order to have it ready for the 1930-1931 term.

The country districts in Terry and Yoakum counties have also kept abreast of the times, and much lumber and other building material has gone out. In fact, a local lumber yard informed us recently that his yard was leading all but one of their yards on the south Plains, and that they were actually nabbing at the heels of the Lubbock yard, the one ahead of them. They have about ten yards on the south Plains. We are sure the other two local yards are doing equally well. This speaks for itself as to our wide building move. Many new brick school buildings that comply in every way with board of education demands in Texas have been erected this year. Many new and modern homes have been built and others remodeled to comply with newest ideas in building. Barns, sheds for farm machinery, dairy barns, chicken houses to take care of blooded birds, and numerous other things to boost building permits all over this section, were launched and completed in 1929.

With the good season in the ground and a good crop year almost assured, there is no reason why the steady growth and improvement program of 1929 should not be extended into 1930. Most of our business men are still reporting a good business, even better than they had expected the first of the year. Bank conditions are very prosperous, with highest deposits and lowest loans on record. Folks, it looks good.

There never has been anything like a boom here, and really we don't want one. We had rather have the steady growth that we have enjoyed for the past several years than any boom with their almost certain set-back. This is especially true of the town booming and growing ahead of the territory that is to support it. We had rather have the city a little behind development of the country than vice versa.

Pork Curing Demonstration on Black Farm

A pork curing demonstration was begun on the farm of W. H. Black of Gomez last Wednesday. One hog was killed, dressed, cut up, and placed in a brine cure in an expert way by E. M. Regenbrecht, Extension Swine Specialist of the A. & M. College.

Some of the points brought out in the demonstration were, cutting the throat arteries so as to completely drain the carcass of blood; scalding at a temperature of 150°F.; using bell scrapers so as not to cut the skin or dull butcher knives; laying carcass out to chill before cutting up; leaving bones in hams and shoulders but removing skin where they are large; making all cuts smooth with no ragged meat or edges, and being absolutely clean throughout the dressing and cutting up. It often happens that meat spoils because of infections produced by dirt or unsanitary handling.

The hams, shoulders and sides were placed in a brine made, in this demonstration, by dissolving commercial smoked salt in cold water that had previously been boiled. The hams were placed in the bottom of a barrel that had been scalded out. Then came the shoulders with the sides on top. In each case the skin side of the cuts were placed down. After packing this way the meat was completely covered with the brine solution.

After seven days this meat will be taken out and repacked in the same solution and will be changed every ten days until it has been in the solution forty-five days. This is done so as to change spots where meat touches. After the forty-five day period the meat will be removed from the brine solution, lightly smoked so as to dry it and give it a brown color, carefully wrapped in paper and cloth, and hung up until consumed.

It is time of the year to begin thinking of buying or hatching chicks. Terry County has three hatcheries at present and a large number of high bred flocks which make it possible to get healthy chicks from excellent breeding stock of practically every breed here in Terry County.

A number of Terry County farmers have ordered chicks and mature birds from nationally known breeders and obtained some of the best blood that could be bought.

Pure blood counts in poultry as well as in hogs or cattle. Some strains of fowls have been bred for high egg productions for generations and will lay enough eggs to make a profit every season.

Terry County needs a poultry association that will actively sponsor movements that will increase the egg production of farm flocks and the weight of young turkeys. A meeting is being called for this purpose Saturday afternoon at three p. m. and all who are interested are invited to attend.

Mr. C. L. E. Meils of Meadow received three fine S. C. R. I. pullets and a cockerel from E. W. Mahood of Webster Grove Missouri. The Mahood Reds are known throughout the

Postal Receipts For 1929 Show Big Gain

Below we give a statement of the postal receipts at the Brownfield postoffice for the year of 1929 in comparison to the receipts for the year before, which stand out nicely in favor of the past year, which goes to show that there is a gradual increase in population here and a corresponding increase in the wealth of the community. But we want to especially invite you to read the last paragraph of Postmaster Carpenter's article, for it contains a wealth of good advice about sending your money out of the county, never to return. Of course Mr. Carpenter and his force are there to serve you, and will fill out any amount of money orders to mail order houses you want to send out, but they had much rather you spend that money here and build up Brownfield and Terry county thereby. His report follows:

"Receipts at the local postoffice exceeded any previous years in the history of the Brownfield postoffice. The receipts for 1929 was $10,353.04 being a gain of 10% over 1928. The postal receipts of a postoffice are very accurate barometers and the business at the local postoffice, shows the prosperity of the town and trade territory.

"The greatest gain in the business at the local postoffice is shown in the increased Money Order receipts for 1929. The Money Order receipts for 1929 shows a net gain over 1928 of $19411.04. The Money Order business for 1929 was $69296.14 while the year of 1928 was only $49885.10. This item shows the amount of perfectly good Brownfield and Terry County money leaving never to return, and represents money largely that should be spent with Brownfield and Terry County merchants."

Debate Director Wants Names of Entries

Since the championship in debate is to be decided by the round-robin method of contest it is necessary that a debate schedule be made.

As director of debate in Terry County, I am requesting that I be furnished a list of all entries not later than January 25th so I can form a schedule.

Mr. Meils will keep these four birds in a separate breeding pen and will trap nest so as to get an individual record on each pullet.

POULTRY MEETING

All persons who are interested in forming a poultry association for the purpose of holding a poultry show and in stimulating the interest in other ways, meet in the district court room Saturday afternoon at 3 p. m. R. B. Davis, County Agent.

Battling Again in 'The Cockeyed World'

A couple of leatherneck Don Juans! That's a trite way to characterize Edmund Lowe and Victor McLaglen as "Sergeant Quirt" and "Top Sergeant Flagg" in the Fox Movietone all talking production, "The Cock Eyed World," directed by Raoul Walsh and showing at the Rialto Theatre, next Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday.

Based on a story written by Laurence Stallings and Maxwell Anderson, who co-authored the unforgettable "What Price Glory," Lowe and McLaglen are still in the marines.

though it is peace time, but plenty of fighting in the tropics—and between themselves.

Pals, buddies, brothers, everything is great until one falls for a "femme" then each claims priority and the innocent cause of the trouble must stand by while they tell each other apathy.

Of their many love affairs, three stick out prominently: one in the tropics with the gorgeous Lily Damita, another in cold Russia with fascinating Lelia Karnelly, and the third at Coney Island with a real, flip American girl, Jean Barry.

Around these scorching love affairs are incidents of a most human nature, with pathos, tears, smiles, romance and thrills.

In addition to the five featured players mentioned, the supporting cast is one of first rank when one recalls the fame of El Brendel, Swede comic of vaudeville and musical comedy; Bobby Burns as "Connors"; Ivan Linow, former heavyweight wrestler known to fame as "The Russian Lion," and Solidad Jimenez, Spanish character actress of "In Old Arizona."

District Officers Put Hats in Ring this Week

The Herald man is not usually afraid of one law at a time who approaches the office in a peaceful manner, but when two come at a time as they did Monday when the Hon. Gordon B. McGuire, of Lamesa, or present District Judge, and the Hon. T. L. Price, our District Attorney, each drew reign at the Herald office, then we get a little 'spicious. But they were on a peaceful mission with us at least, for each left their announcements accompanied by a nice crisp check to cover, and two good handshakes, when they arrived and when they left. But we do not understand yet why it took an auto apiece for them, as they seemed to be in fine humor with each other.

No district in the State has better or more alert District officers than does the 106th. Nor has any district a more congenial set of officers, for they are more than just good officers—they are men, real men, and citizens. They are good neighbors in their home towns, and their friends are legion all over the district. The Herald hardly expects either to have any opposition for reelection to the offices they are now filling so well, and so satisfactory to their constituency all over the district.

As they were making their rounds over the district to get their announcements before the public in all the newspapers of the district the same week, they left here for Seagraves and Seminole to complete the round.

To the Singers and The People at Large

Our regular Singing Convention of Terry County convenes at the new school building at Gomez, the 19th of January, being the third Sunday of aforesaid month.

Let's all go and make this Terry's best convention, as there will be several out of the county singers there. This is our date for the Plateau Convention.

And don't forget we people that live close enough, lets help the good people of Gomez feed the great throng that will be present, by taking a basket or box of eats.

"When mortal man is departed And the Soul is sleeping in the clay, Awaiting then his second coming, For the final judgment day, When Christ comes back, to earth again, Calling us from the tomb, He will call us from our sleeping To receive our final doom. He will judge the faithful and unfaithful,

According to our record there; Wont it be a grand old singing, When He says, "You are my chosen heir."

There'll be singing, there'll be shouting, With the great angelic throng, Let us spread the gospel tidings In these great and glorious songs.

W. C. Sappenfield, Secretary of Convention.

Mrs. W. G. Harrell was in the Herald office this week and informed us that she and husband were moving to Littlefield as the West Texas Gas Co. are soon to serve that city with gas.

Another Good Farmer Lands in Terry Co.

Another good farmer, Mr. O. C. Campbell, together with his family has landed in Terry county from Wheeler county, and will try to make us a good citizen, and we are very sure that he will. Mr. Campbell is occupying a good farm out on route one, and about the first thing he did was to come in and subscribe for the Herald in order to get in touch with what is going on in the county, and become a real settler and citizen.

Mr. Campbell informed us that he came from what he believed to be the best cotton counties in the state, but that the price of land there was above what any man could expect to buy and pay for with cotton and other farm crops. The most desirable places up there he said sold for $100 per acre and above with less than 50 percent of it tillable. Therefore he decided to come here where general farming is as good as there, and where the land is almost 100 percent tillable, and he looks forward to owning his own home—and he will.

We of course wished Mr. Campbell a prosperous year and that he would also like Terry. He replied that he was sure he was going to like here, and that he always made something when anyone else made anything. That was the reason we stated above that Mr. Campbell will succeed. When a man comes here determined to succeed and works to that end, we have never seen one fail yet, for the sandy soils of old Terry are very responsive to those who persist in tilling it when needed. On the other hand, those who come here and expect wonders with no effort on their part, are to be sadly disappointed. No part of the earth yet found will supply man without effort on his part. It did, it would not be this earth. That place is paradise.

Better Bank Statements Than Ever Before

We want every reader of the Herald to give the statements of the Terry County banks the once over this week, and when you are through, you will find that they are up in "high G" and will make you proud that you are a citizen here. The county banks have never been in better shape in the history of the county than when the call of December 31st was made. The two banks here are in splendid condition, and have been all they year, but the loans are now cut to the minimum, but will gradually increase as the year progresses or until another crop comes in.

Mr. Earl Cadenhead, of the First National of Meadow, was down this week and informed us that the Meadow section was in better shape than for years despite the low price of cotton. His collections have been unusually good, and before the holidays at one time he had $220,000 on deposit. Below we give you some combined figures of the three banks of Terry County:

Combined loans.....	$ 399,880.58
Combined Cash & Ex.....	470,199.00
Combined Resources.....	1,327,429.24
Combined Deposits.....	1,144,429.31

SOME INSIDE NEWS ON GROWTH OF OUR BAND

Beginners Class Being Developed to Take Place of Vacancies. Private Instruction Being Given the Beginner Classes. Band Appreciates Help of the City

In October 1929 two bands were organized in Brownfield; one was made up of amateur musicians who had had some little experience in band work; the other of purely green material. The purpose of the older band is to maintain a concerting organization for the town. The purpose of the beginners band is to graduate to the old band and thereby make it bigger and better. This arrangement is somewhat a guarantee that Brownfield's Band will always have a supply of ready musicians in case some should move away.

A chain is no stronger than its weakest link. That proverb can be applied to bands also. Due to the fact that some of our bandsmen in the old band were rather weak it has indeed been a task to prepare the band for concert work. However, a total of eight concerts have been given; six of which were given in Brownfield. There has been some demand for an "open air" or "street" concert for everybody, but due to inclement weather which characterizes this season it is almost impossible to arrange anything of the sort with hopes of being favored with a large crowd to play to. It is the band's policy, however, to play at every opportunity, and it is ready to serve when called on for any occasion where their support is needed.

The band is adding to its library of music each week. The old library is, in itself, an elaborate collection and with the addition of about twenty five standard marches, overtures, waltzes and popular numbers, it is now one of the most complete band libraries in west Texas. The band has one deficiency and that is it lacks clarinets. The saxophones are filling the reed section pretty well now and the director is giving instruction to four beginner clarinet players. When this deficiency is overcome the instrumentation will be well balanced.

The bandsmen of Brownfield have about $2500.00 invested in instruments; the chamber of commerce and townspeople have several hundred dollars worth of uniforms and instruments, and also over one hundred dollars per month is being donated for a director's salary. These figures impress the fact that Brownfield realizes the need of a band, and is behind the organization with enthusiasm.

The liberal subscription of the merchants and individuals have made possible private instruction without charge. All boys and girls who desire to some day play some band instrument should be quick to grasp this opportunity of being taught privately without a penny cost to them. The purchase of an instrument is the only expense.

The bandsmen are aware of the fact that the subscribed director's salary has made possible the band. They appreciate this help and in turn are working diligently to give Brownfield a good band. The boys are improving themselves at each rehearsal, and certainly the results accomplished will be a band that its sponsors and town in general will be very proud of.

Selling Old Fashioned Seedling Peaches

Mowery Lewis, who lives out on the Tahoka road in the east edge of the city, which we believe is now called Powell street, is selling some old fashioned seedling peach trees to be planted out, and there never will be as fine time as now to put them out. These peaches have been propagated by the Lewis family for several years. In fact, they had them out on the farm west of town when Mowery's father retired from farming, and a tree was planted on the town property.

In the course of time this tree began bearing, and we understand that there never has been a total failure with it since it started to bear. Year before last, when very few had peaches, this tree which stands near the house was loaded, and Mr. Lewis tells us that it was so heavily loaded that when they began to can the fruit four limbs broke in spite of the fact that they had it well propped. This fruit may not suit everyone for strictly eating purposes but for canning and pickling, they cannot be beat. They are extra large size, too, for seedlings, almost as large as a man's fist.

It is a well known fact that seedling peaches stand longer than the budded variety, and produce more crops, as they seem to be harder than the budded variety. We know of an old orchard in the east part of this county that was never known to fail until a few years ago when it was riddled with a hail storm. Of course for most purposes the budded variety is best, but a good seedling is hard to beat for canning and pickling. Better see Mr. Lewis and get a few of these trees. We are going to put two or three of them out in our back yard here in town.

Miss Mozelle Treadway of Brownfield made the honor roll for the spring term at Texas Technological College with an average grade of B plus on 16 term hours of work, according to the report of the registrar's office.

Collector Reports Tax Paying Rather Slow

In conversation with Sheriff Mon Telford Saturday, he informed us that tax collections so far had been very slow in the collection department of his office, and if there was not a big pick up in the next few days, there would be less qualified voters this year than there was two years ago which was election year. At the time of our conversation he said there ought to be more than 2100 qualified voters in the county, but only a small amount over 500 had made possible a vote in the elections of this year.

We believe the people are in as good or better shape than two years ago at tax paying time, and that finances is not the only reason that more have not availed themselves of the opportunity of paying their taxes. Perhaps some are waiting till the last of the month during court to pay taxes, but remember there is likely to be a big rush at that time when you will have to stand in line for hours awaiting your turn. Better attend your taxes now. You can pay your poll tax without paying your property tax till later, but you can't pay property taxes without paying a poll tax. And paying a poll tax after this month will not qualify you as a voter.

Mrs. Telford and another good looking young lady are there ready to fill out your receipts quickly and efficiently if you go now before the big rush.

New Dry Goods Store Opening This Week

Lewis Brothers, Clyde and Clarence—together with their wives, have returned from Dallas where they purchased a full and complete line of up to the minute dry goods, notions, read-to-wear and shoes, and as soon as their building is ready, they will open up their goods for their formal opening. They are occupying the building recently vacated by Hogan Dry Goods Co., The store is being called Clyde Lewis Dry Goods Store. See their opening announcement in this issue of the Herald.

A. M. Brownfield, owner of the building is having it remodeled for the new firm. Instead of small openings on both Main and Fifth streets, one double door opening is being put in the corner, which will add wonderfully to the building. The shelving and counters are also being rearranged, except perhaps in the balcony.

These boys have been in business here before, have lots of good friends, and we predict a good share of the dry goods trade for them.

Customer: "Give me four pork sandwiches to take out." Counter Man (calling to cook): "Dress up four grunts to go walking."

Rainfall Much Below Normal Last Year

According to a report given us by J. E. Shelton, Secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, who is keeping the U. S. Government weather bureau rain gauge here, only 15.79 inches of rain fell here last year, with the exception of January and February when he did not have the gauge. But we generally have little rainfall during these two months, and our recollection was that January and February 1929 were no exceptions to the general rule. An inch of snow in December is to be added to the above total.

Very few countries in the world would have made the crop that we made here on 15 inches of rainfall, or should we say 10 inches, for fully 5 inches or more of this fell in the fall after the crop had done its do. But once the deep sandy soils underlaid with its rich red clay gets wet, it holds like a jug. Not a drop of water in Terry county runs off in streams, but all of it stays underneath in storage to be used when dry weather comes on.

Great is the sandy soils of the Great South Plains.

This meeting bids fair to be the best meeting ever held by the organization as an annual meeting, and EVERY business and professional man is urged to attend same and the ladies of the town are especially invited to accompany their husbands.

There will not be a dull minute in the program; entertainment is being planned and good music and other features are scheduled. The election of the Board of Directors for the coming year will take place, and messages of interest to every citizen will be heard.

The Methodist ladies will have committees out to sell tickets in advance of the meeting night, so that every firm in town will have the opportunity of securing tickets and each firm is urgently expected to have as many attendants at the annual meeting as possible.

Wanted—a Candidate For County Judge

There seems to be one nice berth at the courthouse that is lacking for a taker. In other words, the office of County Judge of this county seems to be seeking the man instead of the man seeking the office, as there does not seem to be anyone who cares to make the race. All the other offices had men out for them the first week, with at least two ladies seeking a place with the electorate, but nary a man for County Judge.

Well, we are going to have some candidates for this office too if the Herald man and C. Sears or J. O. Wheatley have to make the race. You see there is going to be competition for the office no matter which way the cat jumps. If C. and J. O. both run, the Herald will take their money and stay out. That's all been agreed on. The Herald must have at least ten iron men on this office this year. It is rumored that R. Stice might also enter this race, but after an interview with him, we learned better. R. is mad because Jim Ferguson announced on his (R's) birthday, saying he was afraid people might think there was some connection between the two announcements, when as a matter of fact they were mere coincidences.

Us three fellows will wait a few more weeks for developments, however.

SELECTIVE IMMIGRATION URGED BY COMMISSIONER

Washington, D. C.—A system of selective immigration as a panacea for two of the Nation's problems—racketeering and unemployment—and to improve economic conditions is urged by Harry E. Hull, recently reappointed by President Hoover as Commissioner-General of Immigration.

The Commissioner advocates the passage by Congress of legislation which will make this system the foundation of the country's immigration policy. In contrast to the present system, under which thousands of alien laborers are admitted annually, selective immigration would permit accepting only those needed by industry, Mr. Hull said.

"We would find out where a man is going," he said, "what he is going to do there and whether there is room for him under economic needs before admitting him. If he intended engaging in some occupation in which there is already a surplus, he would not be permitted to come."

Several bills already are pending in Congress to allow selective immigration to a limited extent, but none goes as far as the Commissioner desires. Under his plan certain standards based upon the actual economic needs of the country was determined by the Secretaries of State, Commerce, Agriculture and Labor, would be set up, and aliens who failed to meet those qualifications would be barred. Mr. Hull believes many countries would be unable to fill their present quotas under that system and that immigration probably would be reduced by 5,000 to 100,000 annually as a result.

In support of his demand for preferential immigration, Mr. Hull cited that in Europe there are upward of 2,000,000 persons seeking admittance to this country while the annual quotas of the countries concerned are only about 150,000. Under the present law, those who have filled applications first would be admitted first, although they might be coal miners, with experts much needed here in some particular field below them on the list.

Challis Chats

Because of the weather the P. T. A. social was postponed until next Thursday night when we hope to have a gay time if the weather is favorable.

The snow was appreciated by the farmers and enjoyed by the young people, while the housewives—well they had to work as usual.

They say that people do not visit as they used to but when you stop to think about it we have quite a bit of visiting today.

Laura and Essie Lee visited in the J. J. Lewis home, Sunday.

Herbert Garrett and family from Ford county are visiting in the home of J. B. Patton.

Mr. Nance and family and Mr. Andrew Green visited in the Warren home, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hollis Brock of Seagraves visited with Mr. and Mrs. Money Price Sunday afternoon.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Joe Eudy visited with their uncle Mr. and Mrs. Messingill.

Miss Moon and Miss Rodgers spent the week end in Lubbock in Miss Rodgers home visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Toy F. Rodgers. They had a delightful visit. If anyone says that the roads between here and Lubbock were slick Saturday afternoon they will agree with them.

The Eudey children spent a delightful afternoon with the Henson children, Sunday.

Mr. N. R. Marchbanks is some better this week, we are glad to report. Miss Lois Nance is back in school this week after an absence due to illness.

Miss Othell was absent from school Monday. It was reported that she is ill.

The trustees met at the school house Monday and put up the post for the Merry-go-round. The new slide has been in use for several weeks and the children have enjoyed this very much. They will certainly be happy when the Merry-go-round is ready for use.

"PERSONAL LIBERTY"

Over in Milwaukee the other day eight men were arrested for having liquor in their possession and were held under bond. The Rev. Benjamin Gaylord, of the Evangelical church, immediately issued a plea for contributions to a fund for their defense, stating, "If these young men are convicted of carrying hip flasks, a dangerous precedent for the invasion of personal liberty will be set."

His appeal met with no sympathetic response, even in Milwaukee, "which beer made famous," or "which made beer famous," whichever it was. Anyway, to the credit of that city, not a single contribution was received. However, it might have been possible that those people were just a wee bit skeptical about the safety of funds entrusted to the keeping of a preacher of this character.

Only three more weeks to qualify yourself as a genuine citizen by obtaining a poll tax.

Some say that when Texas goes Democratic again we will get a nicer brand of weather than we have been having recently.

Wed Reed, popular editor on the Colorado Record has purchased the Fort Stockton paper, also an interest in the Pecos paper, and will take charge of the paper at Fort Stockton. Anyway, Wed is not leaving West Texas.

The middle west and northwest are now realizing just what sectionalism mean. The South has had the lesson propounded to them now for more than a half century. The redemption of the nation lies in a consolidation of these sections with the south.

The Herald had a special invitation to the opening of the Santa Fe's splendid new office building in Amarillo, which will house some 15 southwestern headquarters offices. The building is about 14 stories high and an architectural beauty.

And now it would seem that the Texas regular Democrats are ready to term the irregulars wild jackasses in order to be on par with Senator Moses' standpat republicans in his recent tirade on the western progressive republicans. Calling one another names does not hasten cooperation.

Counting our population at 10,000, there is in the three banks of the county around $112 for every man, woman and child in the county. The average for the nation is something like half of this amount. But this editor and his family do not actually have their share in the above.

Despite the fact that 1929 was a comparatively dry year, the people of Terry county have made their banner cotton crop, plenty of corn and other feeds to run them and some to spare our more unfortunate neighbors. As for the town, they have spent $376,000 in building a better city.

The Ralls Banner has put on what they term a "Loyalty Campaign," and promise to expose by naming those who are caught trading at other places, when they should be trading with home merchants. This is a good thing, and will be watched with interest from this distance, but we are fearful that Dick will not be able to issue a paper from his hospital some of these weeks.

Our good friend and neighbor editor, Nyles Morris, of Ropes, was down Saturday. Nyles has a powerful frame and fills the frame well, but every inch of his physique is brimming with good cheer and optimism. As large as he is, he has no room for a particle of pessimism. A fellow always feels better after a conversation with Nyles. He is getting out a good paper, too.

The daily press editorial writers seem to be having a lot of fun with District Attorney Valls about his attempt to retain the president elect of Mexico. Our notion is that if the president elect of Mexico or any other country is indicated for murder by Webb or any other county, because of his position, he is no better than the lowest peon in that republic. If there is an indictment with good evidence behind it, the whole United States should stand behind it. Otherwise it should be dismissed. The only thing we can see to criticize in Valls was that he showed poor officialdom in announcing his intentions before the arrival of his intended prisoner.

President Hoover says the country is fundamentally sound financially, and this is literally true or the wall street debacle would have thrown us into a severe panic. But it is equally as senseless to say that the country did not suffer from the recent high financial crises. When it is remembered that thousands of small merchants, tens of thousands of clerks and perhaps millions of other middle class workers all over the country lost from a few dollars to thousands to go to the big New York manipulator, is there any wonder that it took all hands at Washington and the several capitals of states busy for several weeks to keep the ship on even keel.

The Herald is a bad weather prognosticator, and a worse political prophet, but he has about decided that this is the way the race for governor in Texas will terminate. In view of the fact Jim Ferguson and Tom Love are good mud slingers, they will be in the runoff. Then the hair will fly and the blood will spout, thunder and corruption will dim the elements. This issue and that issue will be brought up. This bolt and that bolt will be brought up—both are guilty—and finally the battle will be fought on the ku klux issue, and Jim will win. People don't seem to want men for governor who talk sense. They want some one who can vilify and cavort; promise a million things and do nothing.

Far be it from us to turn any of the boys "in," but there are people who will, and the boys that got a whiff from an extract bottle a few nights ago, must have had an exhilarating effect, from the wolf howl that rented the stillness of the night, and driving about our streets in that condition is a felony under our State laws. We are thinking that in the future they had better be more careful as the results of such actions are liable to cost more than the fun.—Ropes Hustler.

About the best graft we have seen lately was a man whose wife washed for a living. He carries her around to gather up the clothes, sends her in after them, hanks impatiently if she carries a little, smokes ready-rolled cigarettes and drinks strong coffee while she washes them, then, when dry, he delivers them and collects, buying more tailor made cigarettes, a little coffee, and a hunk of cheese, consuming the cheese on the way home. This is not a fictitious statement, but is actually occurring in a certain town off the cap-rock offering one of the best cases for the erstwhile Klu Kluxers that has ever come to our notice.—Ropes Hustler.

EVERY TOWN HAS THEM

Every town has one or more of the type of citizens who receives all of his business and income from the community yet buys practically everything out of town. His alibi is that he cannot find anything in town to suit him. His neighbors all about him buy of home merchants and they are as well clothed and as well fed as he is. He is no benefit to the community. His income is derived from the community, yet he refuses to spend it

A "Divided" Church

Not long ago, a congregation in New York built a new church. They did not have the title insured. In applying to a local savings bank for a mortgage loan, the bank's attorney insisted on a title insurance policy before granting the loan.

Examination disclosed that there existed a 6-foot strip of land extending through the center of the building, to which the church had no title due to the failure of the two lots comprising the church property to join.

A substantial payment was required to unite the "divided" church, which title insurance would have saved.

Whenever you buy or lend on real estate a New York Title policy is always your best policy.

The cold weather for the past week has renewed talk of the blizzard of exactly 12 years to the day. But this one came without much wind, while that one almost took one's breath to walk in it. There was much more suffering of both man and beast in that one. Hundreds of head of cattle perished in that blizzard in this section, although the temperature went but little lower. Clyde Polk of the south route was in recently to get his paper on the right side of our ledger.

Jim Youree was here the past week end visiting his mother, Mrs. J. D. Webb and family. Jim is clerk in Sweetwater's fine new hotel.

SIDELIGHTS ON WASHINGTON

By John E. Rankin, Member of Congress From Mississippi

To the farmers of America:

The fight is now on for real Farm Relief.

The question has been stripped of all camouflage, and the issue is now squarely before Congress, and the President.

The fate of American agriculture is now at stake, and may be determined within the next sixty days.

Within that time Congress, and the President, will decide whether we are to carry out the promises made by both major political parties in the last campaign to put agriculture on equality with industry or whether we are to shut the door of hope in the farmer's face and leave him to endure indefinitely the economic disadvantages from which he is now suffering.

The Senate has performed a great duty.

It has written into the tariff bill the debenture amendment, which, if accepted by the House and the President, will come nearer placing agriculture on equality with industry than it has been for more than sixty years.

This debenture amendment would give agriculture the benefit of the tariff. It would raise the price of wheat 21 cents a bushel, that of corn 12½ cents a bushel, and that of cotton 2 cents a pound, above the world price.

It is the only possible way to give the producers of those commodities the benefit of the tariff. It is the only way to make the tariff on them effective.

For instance, we have a tariff now of forty-two cents a bushel on wheat. If the tariff were effective, wheat would be 42 cents a bushel higher in this country than in Canada or Great Britain.

But the market reports show May wheat selling at $1.27 a bushel in Kansas City, $1.45 in Winnipeg, Canada, and $1.48 in Liverpool, England. Thus instead of wheat being 42 cents a bushel higher in the United States, as it would be if the tariff on it were effective, it is 18 cents a bushel lower in Kansas City than in Winnipeg and 21 cents lower than in Liverpool. And even at Minneapolis and Chicago it was selling on the same day at $1.34, or 11 cents under Winnipeg, just across the line, and 12 cents under Liverpool.

The tariff commission made a thorough investigation last year of the cost of raising wheat in this country and in Canada, and reported to the president that it costs 42 cents a bushel more to raise wheat in the United States than it does in Canada; hence the tariff on wheat was raised to 42 cents,—on paper.

Now, if it costs 42 cents a bushel more to raise wheat in Kansas than it does in Canada, as the investigation showed it does, and wheat is 18 cents a bushel higher in Canada than it is in Kansas, then the Canadian farmer is making 60 cents a bushel more profit on his wheat than is the farmer in Kansas.

The farmer is not asking for a bounty. All he wants is justice—equality with industry under the tariff, so long as we have the present tariff law.

The debenture would make that tariff effective on agriculture and would give to the growers of wheat, corn, and cotton the benefits of the tariff now enjoyed by industry.

SANTA FE OPENING HUGE BUILDING AT AMARILLO

Amarillo, Texas, Jan. 7, 1930 The new modern office building of the Santa Fe Railway in Amarillo will be officially opened on January 18th. The public is cordially invited to inspect the new building and meet officials and employees during the afternoon and evening.

The new building houses the officials and staffs of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe, Western Lines, also the Panhandle and Santa Fe Railway; the latter operating all of the Santa Fe Lines in Northwest Texas and the old Orient Lines in Texas.

The new building is located on Polk Street and Ninth Avenue. It is 14 stories high, with two full basements, and occupies all of lot 90 by 140 feet. The building is modern throughout and equipped with the latest approved appliances and equipment.

This new building is a splendid proof of the growth of the Santa Fe Railway. The first office building moved to Amarillo from Roswell in 1903 had a floor space of 3,000 square feet and had room to spare. Today it takes over 200,000 square feet of office space to provide quarters for the general office force of the Santa Fe in this section.

Among the departments housed in the new building are:

J. R. Hitchcock, General Manager
P. L. Myers, Asst. General Mgr.
T. B. Gallagher, General Freight and Passenger Agent
W. W. Kelly, Chief Engineer.
J. N. Freeman, Sec. and Treas.
A. E. Meyer, Auditor
E. E. Machovec, Mechanical Supt.
J. B. Briscoe, Superintendent.
J. D. Sweeney, Car Accountant.
Bowman Jarrott, Claim Agent
W. H. Rife, Signal Engineer
Avery Turner, General Agent.

THE TERRY COUNTY HERALD

ARTIFICIAL BROODING FOR BIGGER POULTRY PROFITS

A hen can act as foster mother for from 10 to 20 chicks while a small brooder can take care of 100, and one of the moderate size can accommodate up to 500 or more. But little more attention is required for a single brooder than for a hen and her tiny family. The fuel cost for brooder operations is negligible in comparison with the labor cost required in caring for an equivalent number of hens with chicks.

It is self evident therefore that where profit is the primary requirement, in the handling of large numbers of chicks, artificial brooding is the only method worthy of consideration.

Thousands of chicks can be raised successfully by artificial means where dozens would be handled with difficulty if hens were used. This is a fact so well known to professional poultrymen that they would probably question the need of discussing the problem at all. I have found however, that many to whom poultry raising is merely incidental to other occupations, are still inclined to mistrust any substitute for the time tested method of nature's own devising.

They are deterred, for the most part, by a belief that artificial brooding is unreliable unless supported by constant care. This may have been true some years ago but, today many moderately priced brooders are available which are absolutely dependable to operate, economical, and which require relatively little attention to insure satisfactorily results.

Another factor which no doubt keeps many smaller operators from adopting artificial brooding is the multitude of conflicting claims made by the adherents of various methods. This tends to make a really simple matter appear quite complicated. As a matter of fact, there is no one method of outstanding superiority and no single device that is decidedly better than all others.

The thing to be considered first of all is the size of your flock as a whole and next the size of individual broods which you can handle with the greatest ease. Then buy as many units as you need, install and operate them according to the manufacturing instructions. You will find that it is really a simple matter after all and a labor saver of decided value even for comparatively small number of chicks.

The principle used in all brooders is the same; some artificial means of furnishing heat as a substitute for the hens natural body heat. The heating unit may be gas, kerosene, hot water, coal or electricity. Whatever is used the general arrangement remains the same. The unit is centrally located under circular metal hood so arranged that the heat is deflected downward from the hood onto the backs of the chicks. Around this hood is usually a slit curtain to partially confine the heat. This unit with hood and curtain is called the hover.

The hover unit is the central feature of any systems of artificial brooding.

SAYS NO COTTON BALES AIDED U. S. FORCES AT BATTLE OF NEW ORLEANS

WACO, Texas, Jan. 9.—The American forces at the battle of New Orleans, the 118th anniversary of which was observed Wednesday, were not intrenched behind breastworks of cotton bales, contrary to the widely believed version, according to C. M. Hubby of Waco. The struggle resulted in a victory for the Americans, under the leadership of General Jackson.

Mr. Hubby, 68, read a poem in a New Orleans paper dealing with the battle, and alluding to the cotton bale incident. From the poem he quotes the following stanzas: Here is my rude log cabin, Few poorer men there be, Among the mountain rangers Of Western Tennessee.

Yet I, when young and husky, Have gone through stirring scenes, For I went down with Carroll To fight at New Orleans. You say you would to hear me The stirring story tell, Of those who stood the battle And those who fighting fell.

'Twas the eighth of January About the break of day, That our raw and hasty levies Were brought into array. No cotton bales before us— Some fool that falsehood told, Before us was an earthen work Built from the swampy mold. And there we stood in silence And waited with a frown To greet with bloody welcome The bulldogs of the crown. And while they fell by hundreds Upon that bloody plain, Of us fourteen were wounded And only eight were slain.

J. P. Thomason of Lahey, was in to renew Tuesday and informed us that he was kinder getting out of the hog business as they were going so low, but aimed to keep in line so that he could get back in when the market gets better.

"She's a banker's daughter." "No wonder she draws so much interest."

Her: "Oh, she's not as old as all that."

Ha: "Old! Why, that woman remembers the Big Dipper when it was just a drinking cup!"

Biggest Snow in Many Years Covers Terry

No doubt the biggest snow that has fallen here since the big 18 inch snow of December 1918 fell here last Wednesday night and Thursday morning, but most of it fell during Wednesday night of last week. It followed two or three days of drizzling rain that froze as fast as it fell, and as a consequence, snow stayed on the ground longer than usual here. The sunshine all day Sunday, and sunshine accompanied by a strong southwest wind Monday carried most of it away.

The spell was followed by sub-zero weather, some reporting mercury going to six below, but few realized it was so cold as there was very little wind and people and livestock that were protected and well fed suffered little. Many were hunting thermometers Friday morning to see if it really did go below zero.

With an already fine bottom season, and this hard freeze and big snow on top, Terry county and the whole south plains section starts the New Year with the best prospects in a decade, and we are all looking forward to good time this year.

Stop your grumming and go to humming.

have learned a lesson.

At the royal wedding in Rome five foreign sovereigns, five rulers who had recently lost their jobs, and fifty-four other royalties looked on. Queens, princesses and princesses crowded the

The interesting moment came when Mussolini, Italy's dictator, entered and was saluted by all the royalties with the Fascist salute, the outstretched right arm.
Mussolini did not march with the royalty. But when they saw him and gave him that salute, angels, looking down, could easily identify the real ruler of Italy.

Doctor Heyl, physicist of the United States bureau of standards, says science will produce life artificially. "It is chemical, not supernatural," and there is "nothing occult in the proce-

Nothing occult, perhaps, but Professor Heyl will not produce life, nor will any other physicist by chemical means. Things may be made to wiggle, but that will not be life.
This universe is a great trinity—matter, force and spirit or consciousness. No scientist will produce consciousness, possessing the potential ability to think. Chemicals can't do that.

Announcements

TO THE DEMOCRATS OF THE 106TH JUDICIAL DISTRICT:

When this district was created, you nominated and elected me as the first judge thereof.

When I assumed the duties of my office it was with the full realization of the tremendous responsibility resting upon a district judge, he having under our system of government and laws, more directly than any other officer the determining of the rights of our citizenship, and with the hope that my work might be of some service to our people, I have given my very best efforts in conducting your court.

I do not know of a busier court in the State than mine has grown to be,
and from the many judgments rendered by me only a small per cent of appeals have been taken, and in those cases appealed my judgments have in most instances been upheld.

The term for which you elected me is expiring, and if you feel that I can for another term, carry on the work of your district court to your advantage and satisfaction, I shall deeply appreciate the honor of being your nominee in the coming primary election, and shall I again be elected, my entire time and efforts, as in the past, shall be devoted to the work of your court.

Respectfully,
GORDON B. MCGUIRE.

DISTRICT ATTORNEY PRICE
ANNOUNCES FOR RE-ELECTION

To The Citizenship of Terry County:

In announcing my Candidacy for re-election to the office of District Attorney of the 106th Judicial District of which Terry County is a part,
I do so mindful of the very grave responsibilities which will be mine should I be returned to this office, however my past three years of work and experience in this important office over the six counties constituting this District has so familiarized me with the records and duties thereof as to peculiarly fit me for such responsible position and certainly enables me to know the work pertaining to same, and the records thereof, as no other person, without this experience, could know it, and therefore should enable me to render to the people far more efficient service in the future than in the past.

During the short time I have served you as your District Attorney I have devoted every moment of my time to the enforcement of all the laws alike to all the people, as nearly as was within my power, and this without fear or favor to any person, and should I be returned to this office for another term, I will re-dedicate my life, and using my past experience in office, redouble my energies to the end that our property may be made more secure from the ravages of the Criminal, our lives made safer, and therefore this District made a better place to live and raise our children.

The District Court records of this District will bear me out in saying, that during the three years I have served you, very few who have been tried for crime in your District Courts have ever heard the words
"Not Guilty." The credit for this is not due altogether to the work of the District Attorney, but perhaps mainly to the mighty army of law abiding men and women in this country rising against crime and who are willing to stand with their officers, like a stone wall, and say to the Criminal inclined "Thou Shalt not pass." My Policy shall continue to be to make this district a dreaded place for the criminal.

I therefore respectfully submit my candidacy to the people of the 106th Judicial District for re-election to the office of District Attorney, subject to the action of the Democratic Primary in July 1930.

T. L. PRICE,
District Attorney.

Tatum, N. M. Making a Very Rapid Growth

The editor of the Leader in company with several Lovington business men passed through Tatum upon a trip to Lubbock this week. Some of them who had not visited that enterprising little city for several months, were surprised and gratified to note the prosperous appearance of the place and the substantial growth to be noted there.

Many new buildings have been erected during the past few months and several others are in the course of construction. And one of the striking things about these new buildings is the substantial character of their construction. Unlike the buildings to be seen in many of the oil field towns in this section of the country, they are built for permanence, showing that the people who are investing there have confidence in the future of their town. And they may well have this confidence, for the resources upon which the town depends are sure and permanent.

While no oil has as yet been found in that community, the farmers and ranchmen of the Tatum community are upon a sure and firm financial footing. The amount of produce which is sold there is greater in volume than in any other part of the county. Its farmers were the first to learn of the dairy cow and the hen in making the farmer of this country prosperous and free from debt.

Of course, the oil may come later. Oil development is gradually drifting toward the north and good oil and gas wells will probably be brought in somewhere in that section. But whether they ever find oil or gas, the farmers of the Tatum country have learned to make a living in this country without oil or gas and also how to lay up something for a rainy day.

When any town depends upon such a people for its future prosperity, it can afford to build for permanence. —Lovington Leader.

Wellman Writings

The Wellman P. T. A. is coming along fine. We have accomplished everything we have tried so far and are making it standard. We are expecting to do more yet.

The Wellman ball boys played Seminole last Wednesday evening at Seminoles. Seminole winning by a score of 20 to 12.

Wellman has been white with snow also a few people were white when we got thru rolling them. The students rolled all the teachers and we had a free for all on the townsite Saturday afternoon, after which we all wanted the snow to melt.

Our teams are planning a game with Forrester Thurs. 16 at Forrester school.

Mr. Herbert Schronk and Mr. Dee Barry are to return to their homes in Hill county this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Pace and family are moving to Brownfield one day this week.

Mrs. Winn's brother, Mr. Walker Jackson is reported to be some better. Mr. Jackson had the misfortune of getting his skull fractured while working at the compress at Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Christeson of Meadow and Mrs. J. M. McDaniel of Lamesa visited Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Adair Sunday.

The ladies of the church of Christ are going to quilt a quilt at the church Thursday for the Tipton Orphans home.

Quite a crowd attended church services Sunday and heard a fine sermon by Brother A. L. Burnett.

The classes of the Bible Study at the Wellman Church of Christ have contributed something over $80.00 to the Tipton Orphan's Home. For so small a congregation this is considered very good.

The bad weather called for indoor sports this past week and we had a very interesting 42 games at the home of Mrs. W. M. Schroeder with a radio matinee combined.

Mrs. Gould Winn returned from Lubbock Monday morning.

Miss Ethel and Heard and Virgil Hester have returned home after visiting in central and east Texas a few days. They visited cousins, Mr. J. R. Hester and family of Italy; two brothers, Homer B. and James L. Hester and families of Corsicana and another brother, C. H. Hester and family of Marshall. Miss Ethel also visited with a friend Miss Agnes Lancaster of Marshall. They traveled about fifteen hundred miles on their trip. Mr. Rex Headstream went with them as far as Ft. Worth.

Next high was given to Mrs. A. A. Sawyer, a lovely silhouette. The meeting will be staged from an entertainment standpoint, and the only business that will come up for attention will be the election of seven directors to take the places of those whose terms will expire on March 1.

Several important projects have been completed, but the two most important were putting over the county fair and the completion of double daily mail service between Brownfield and Roswell, N. M., which also included double daily service between Tatum and Lovington, N. M. Additional letter service will also be established between Lubbock and Brownfield.

BIG RANCH IS SOLD

The L. E. Ranch, located about twenty-seven miles east of Roswell has been bought by J. Phelps White, pioneer cattleman in southeastern New Mexico. The ranch contains about 100,000 acres and is about eleven miles wide and twenty miles long, all in Chaves County. This ranch was for years operated by the South Spring Ranch and Cattle Company and owned by the Hagerman interests, Percy Hagerman of Colorado Springs being one of the large stockholders. Mr. White paid cash for the property, the deal involving about one-half million dollars. The ranch will be stocked with cattle and sheep.—The Earth.

Bill Youree has purchased the tailor shop recently moved to Tatum, N. M., and will move it back to Brownfield and open it in the rear of the City Barber Shop. It seems that the shop would not pay at Tatum.

Black: So you had a chance to see the king's palace in England, eh? What did you think of it?

White: "Well, after seeing our own movie houses, filling stations, and hot dog stands, it isn't very impressive."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Mose—Ah heah's yo' wife is gettin' all uppity these days wif a new secondhand hat and sech stuff.
Rastus—Dat's so, brother. Do next thing ah knows dat woman'll be wantin' shoes.

Mr. L. D. Wood is the new manager of the Acorn Store here. He comes to Brownfield from Midland and is highly recommended as a citizen and business man. We welcome him to Brownfield.

Tokio Talkings

The snow has all melted but has left the mud to remind us of its having been here.

There was a lot of moving in this community last week regardless of the bad weather. Mr. T. A. Proctor moved to the W. I. Lovelace place and Mr. Luther Hobbs took the place which Mr. Proctor has worked for the past several years.

Mr. John Romans and family visited with Mr. Luther Hobbs and family last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Johnson are the proud parents of a new daughter. We wish for Miss Jacqueline a happy and healthful future.

Rev. Jesse Lanier filled his appointments at the hall last week end.

Some of the Tokio young people visited Singing at Johnson last Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Cargile made a short visit to see Mr. Cargile's mother, Mrs. Anderson, last Sunday afternoon, and later took supper with Mr. John Day and family.

There are one hundred and ten pupils enrolled in school now. Also the new building will soon be completed.

Mr. Weathersby, of Lorenzo, who formerly managed the Jones store here, is here again temporarily to take the place of Mr. Yates, the late manager until another manager is found to take Mr. Yates' place.

Z. J. Clements was seen on the streets Monday and informed us that he was still pushing his thoroughbred white leghorns in the west part of the city. He has a very fine flock, and is improving them all the time.

TRADES FOR LOCAL PROPERTY

F. L. Coe, of Brownfield, Texas, has traded a farm in Texas to H. E. White for the forty acre irrigated farm which Mr. White owned two miles south of Portales.

Mr. and Mrs. Coe and their seven children have already arrived and are established in their new home. The selection of Portales for their home town was made by Mr. and Mrs. Coe on account of the splendid schools of which Portales rightfully boasts.

This family felt they were coming to a new country and would be entirely among strangers, but on going to church the first Sunday, they were surprised and delighted to find the same Rev. C. E. Ball, who had been their pastor at Brownfield, a number of years ago, step into the church and take the pulpit for the morning service.

Mr. Coe called at the Herald office and had his name placed on our subscription list.—Portales (N. M.) Herald.

TEN YEARS OF PROHIBITION

The end of the first decade of national prohibition this month is marked by one of the most bitter controversies concerning enforcement in the history of this great problem.

Denunciation of the present enforcement personnel by Senator Borah, himself one of the staunchest of the dries has been met by a spirited defense by heads of the prohibition unit. Criticism of President Hoover's law enforcement commission has also been voiced by Senator Harris and others, who demand that hearings of the commission be held in open session, and that reports of the commission's progress be made to Congress and to the public.

Difference of opinion have likewise arisen among prohibition advocates regarding Senator Sheppard's bill which would make the purchaser of liquor equally guilty with the seller. Some favor the proposal, while others contend that its adoption would make convictions more difficult, as both buyer and seller might refuse to give testimony on constitutional grounds.

There is no doubt that this clash between leaders of the dry forces is looked upon with a certain degree of satisfaction by the avowed wets.

Much oratory on the subject of prohibition seems certain to be heard

CONOCO PROGRAMS NOW HEARD ON THE AIR

Bringing to radio listeners of a large section of the United States a new and unique entertainment feature, the Continental Oil Company of Denver, Colorado, will go on the air early in 1930 with a regular weekly program over the National Broadcasting Company network. According to those who have seen the script and rehearsals, the Conoco dramatic productions, built around outstanding romantic historical events in the development of the Western United States, promise superb entertainment.

The whole of the Western States, the great scenic wonderland in which were enacted so many of the stirring dramas of American history from which fiction writers have drawn their material for decades, form the background for the Conoco programs. They will be dramatized incidents in the historical facts as historians and research workers can make them. They will include such miniature dramas as the discovery of Pike's Peak by Zebulon M. Pike, the opening of the Cherokee Strip in Oklahoma, which precipitated the wildest race for land ever recorded in history; Custer's Last Stand, in Montana; discovery of the Carlsbad Caverns in New Mexico, and a score of others similar in character, each a chapter in the saga of the winning of the West.

To the millions of Americans who have seen this Western wonderland, or who are planning to see it during future summer motor tours, the Conoco programs will particularly interest, because of their direct bearing upon the scenic beauty-spots which have become the shrines of increasing millions of tourists each summer.

These programs can be heard each Thursday evening by local people over WBAP Fort Worth, WFAA, Dallas, or KOA Denver.

F. E. Walters has a very optimistic outlook for the year of 1930. Mr. Walters came to Texas from Kansas, and says after a cold, hard freezing winter they always made good crops in that state, and believe the same will apply to Texas. He reports that there has been dozens of inquiries for places to rent for each one to rent this year. They want to come to Terry, but there are no places to rent.

EDWARD BOK DIES IN WINTER HOME

LAKE WALES, Florida, Jan. 9. (AP) Edward William Bok, who rose from a poor Dutch immigrant boy to a position of fame and wealth, died at his Mountain Lake home early today.

The editor, author and philanthropist will be buried tomorrow at the foot of the great Singing Tower of Bells he erected in the wilderness of a bird sanctuary near his winter home here.

A heart attack was the cause of death, which came after only four days of illness. Mr. Bok died while specialists and relatives were rushing here from the East.

A special crypt at the base of the Singing Tower will receive the body tomorrow. The crypt, built by Mr. Bok several years ago, is situated before the north door of the tower, which rises 204 feet above Iron Mountain, itself the highest point in Florida.

Summing It Up

Always in Demand

Doctor Cadman compares promises kissing to the licking of salt by cattle. He might have added that those cattle always come back for more.—Toledo Blade.

THE COUNTRY DOCTOR

An East Texas village doctor, dying Saturday at the age of 80, commanded an obituary on the front page of several Texas metropolitan dailies. The physician was Dr. George Samuels of Appleby, near Nacogdoches, who had practiced in his locality for 52 years.

The incident is one which attests the reality of the understanding of news possessed by the papers which so "played up" the item. The memories of most of us go back to the era of the country doctor, the family physician or his general practitioner, institutions of great worth which have almost totally disappeared under the avalanche of specializing which has filled the world of medicine.

There are few general practitioners left. Dr. Samuels, whose 52 years of practice spanned the era between the frontier and modern times, was a veteran of veterans. The dispatch reporting his death says that "he was among the best loved of country doctors of the last three generations in East Texas."

That is the key to the character of the country doctor. He was sometimes respected, sometimes paid, but always loved. If that was reward enough for a lifetime of sacrifice and abnegation, all of them could count their lives successful.—Star-Telegram.

Ben Wolffarth was over from Plains recently and ordered a supply of candidate cards, stating that he was in the race for Sheriff and Tax-Collector of Yoakum county.

Mr. L. E. Bryant, good farmer of the south route, was in to see us recently.

Sheriff Walter Moreman of Yoakum county was over this week and ordered a supply of cards, and announced that he was in the race to succeed himself.

A. M. McBurnett was a pleasant caller at the Herald office recently to renew for his Herald.

THE JOY OF ACHIEVEMENT

Is beyond question the greatest and most laudable of human emotions.

The joy is doubly great, when achievement is the result of honest, conscientious and sustained effort to accomplish a worthy goal.

During the year now gone, we have been diligent in our efforts to give you as nearly as completely satisfactory Gas Service as possible, and to accompany that service with a uniform courtesy to all.

In beginning a new year we renew our resolve to merit your good will, your patronage and, we hope, your friendship, by a constant effort on our part to ever keep before our minds the idea of a "100 percent service and courteous treatment to all."
