London Parks Turned Into Battleground As Unemployed Army Stages Riots

90 INJURED IN FIERCE BATTLE WITH POLICE

Hunger Marchers Stay Quiet While City's Jobless Wage Struggle

SHOPS ARE LOOTED

Bobbies Quell Disorders After Two Hours Of Bitter Strife

By THOMAS C. WATSON

LONDON, Oct. 27. (US)—Hyde park and crowded Marble arch esplanade were turned into battlegrounds today by 20,000 London unemployed demonstrators as more than 90 persons, some of them women, were injured in riots eventually broken up by baton-swinging foot and mounted policemen.

Of the 90 injured, 66 were treated in ambulances and temporary dressing stations, and 30, including three policemen, were sent to hospitals for treatment of serious injuries.

The northern end of the famous park at Marble arch had been filled with the 20,000 London jobless gathering to watch augmented armies of "hunger marchers" from all parts of England converge on Hyde park for the greatest unemployed demonstration London has ever seen.

Marchers Orderly

The "hunger marchers" moved into the city from the north and west during the morning and afternoon in orderly fashion, their original 2,000 increased by suburban marchers to 20,000. The total of 40,000 jobless were all to congregate in Hyde park.

As police cleared lanes for the marchers through crowded Marble Arch esplanade, where traffic was at a complete standstill, unemployed agitators bringing up the rear of the slowly-moving columns, began to loot shops and fight along Edgeware road near the park.

Automobilists were solicited for money. Those who refused were targets for vile epithets. As some agitators tried to overturn several automobiles, others smashed windows and looted shops. Then a de-

Officer Slays Veteran Who Refused to Stop

DURANT, Okla., Oct. 27. (AP)—Henry Hibdon, 38-year-old world war veteran, was shot and killed last night by John Rankin, Durant police officer, when the veteran ran after being arrested for allegedly disturbing the peace.

Rankin, released on his own recognizance, told authorities he sought to stop Hibdon by firing into the air but the bullet was deflected when he stepped into a ditch.

West Texas C-C Head Urges Oil Session

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—A telegram to Gov. Ross S. Sterling urging a special session of the legislature for the passage of new laws regulating the production of oil was sent today by Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Hawk took this action after conferring with W. B. Hamilton, of Wichita Falls, chairman of the oil and gas committee of the chamber.

STATE WINS TAX

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (UP)—The state of Texas late today was awarded a verdict of $30,000 in tax on 750,000 gallons of gasoline. The action was against the V. E. O. Refining company of Gladewater and was heard in 98th district court.

Missing Banker Seen In Mexico Witnesses Say

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (AP)—Two witnesses declared emphatically today that they had seen and talked with Sidney B. Norwood, missing former banker of Cleburne, in Mexico in July, 1929. The testimony was given in 48th district court, where his wife is seeking to have Norwood adjudged legally dead on the ground he has not been heard from in seven years.

She is suing the Southland Life Insurance company on a $100,000 policy on her husband's life.

"I saw Norwood on a Pullman on a train between Monterrey and Linares on the morning of July 25, 1929," said Luther Wilhite, accountant, stenographer and typewriter repair shop owner of Tampico, Mexico, who formerly lived in Cleburne.

"I did not ask him where he was going, where he had been or what he was doing, because of the circumstances," the witness explained, adding he had heard that Norwood left Cleburne in 1921 on the eve of the crash of the bank of which he

FERGUSONS IN RALLY AT WACO

Fergusons Address Crowd On Campaign

WACO, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Ex-Gov. James E. Ferguson and his wife, Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson, Democratic nominee for governor, came to Central Texas tonight to make a plea for party solidarity in the Nov. 8 election and found Waco and McLennan county embroiled in a controversy over the ethics of bolting.

The controversy started when speakers of a district rally in behalf of the Roosevelt-Garner cause purportedly used harsh terms in referring to members of the Democratic party who bolted the ticket. The rally had been called to take steps to keep persons who normally vote the Democratic ticket from jumping over the traces.

County Bolted Twice

Bolting is nothing new in McLennan county. The county preferred Dr. George C. Butte, Republican candidate for governor, to Mrs. Ferguson in 1924 and favored Hoover over Smith in the 1928 presidential election. Butte led Mrs. Ferguson by 889 votes and Hoover led Smith by 696 votes in the county in those contests.

Into this setting the Fergusons came to make their second speech of the general election campaign.

Ferguson asserted that an overwhelming Democratic victory would mean much for Texas and show the nation where Texas really stood.

"It will show that the people of Texas are going to meet their economic conditions and troubles with an economical government," he said, "that they have not given up hope and have courage to grapple with problems that confront them."

Ridicules Bullington

Ferguson minimized the chances of Orville Bullington, Republican nominee, to be victor over his wife and said Bullington's campaign was "ridiculous," that it had "no possibilities."

Mrs. Ferguson said the time had arrived to put personal ambitions and platforms in the background and declare allegiance to party principles and nominees "from president to constable."

"If our conscience will not permit us to keep our words in the primary, then that same conscience ought to keep us out of the primary," she said.

As to newspaper accounts of the rally that had given impetus to discussions involving bolting, Clay McClellan, Waco district chairman for the national Democratic campaign, said the rally was "inaptly reported" and that he regretted that "unwonted publicity has been given what was really a mere bit of political extravaganza." McLellan said he had paid high tribute to the opposition, then in mock seriousness endeavored to consign them to political oblivion by use of a term which "may, when detached, appear uncalled for and harsh." Newspaper reports said he called bolters "skunks" and "moral cowards."

Lacks Platform

Ferguson said Bullington's actions in the campaign here were a reflection on his own intelligence. He said Bullington had failed to show he had any platform and that

MURRAY TALKS AT RYAN FOR INCOME TAX

Oklahoma Governor Urges Passage of Bill To Relieve Farmer

FLAYS HIS ENEMIES

'Alfalfa Bill' Fights For Measure for Higher Tax On 'Big Business'

Special to The Record News.

RYAN, Okla., Oct. 27.—With characteristic vigor, Gov. W. H. (Alfalfa Bill) Murray addressed a crowd of 1,000 cheering admirers here this afternoon in behalf of his initiative income tax measure and the Democratic national ticket.

Although speaking principally for a bill to place the burden of taxation on big business, the governor deviated sufficiently from this subject to deliver a few choice remarks about certain foes, whose opposition to his undertakings have caused them to be thorns in his side.

The militant Murray titled his speech "What I Have Done as Governor and Why I Have Done It."

Flays Big Business

He described his efforts to reduce ad valorem taxes and explained his income tax bill as one, if passed, that would remove an unbearable burden from the farmer and laboring man and place it on the shoulders of businesses able to support it.

His caustic remarks about big business were many. He described one concern, which, he said, had escaped with but a negligible tax on an enormous profit. He declared this concern had made a profit of $500,000, but had paid but $9,000 taxes on the income. Under his income tax bill, which will be submitted to the people of the state in the November general election, an income of this size would pay the state a tax of $60,000.

His enemies, the governor said, are attempting to defeat his measures by talking of prospects of his impeachment. "But," he forcefully added, "we will elect Bill Murray men to both houses."

Reduce Expenses

His program of economy for the next year calls for reduction of expenses $7,000,000 the speaker told his listeners.

He referred to his conflict with Oklahoma City police last year.

State Files Suits For Oil Violations

TYLER, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Willis Gresham, special assistant attorney general with the oil investigating section of the state railroad commission, announced today that two suits alleging over-production of oil on Oct. 25, asking penalties and injuctions against further overproduction, had been filed in the district court at Longview.

He said that Judge W. C. Hurst had granted the injunctions.

One suit was against Roger Lacy, charging overproduction of 473 barrels from his two wells in Gregg county, and the other was against Archie Campbell and the California Consolidated Oil company, charging overproduction of 290 barrels from one well.

Roosevelt Girls Swim in Dixie

Back at the winter home of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt in Warm Springs, Ga., two of his most ardent campaign workers take a few minutes away from politics to have a swim. Here are Mrs. Curtis Dall, left, daughter of Governor Roosevelt, and her sister-in-law, Mrs. James Roosevelt, as they swam while the Democratic presidential nominee was busy speaking in Atlanta.

Chest Pledges Total 59 Per Cent Of Goal

'Folks in Our Town Will Do the Job,' Cline Predicts; Wichita Campaign Meets Ready Response

"The 13 years of successful operation of the community chest in Wichita Falls has proved the value and efficiency of the organization and convinced every citizen that the united program is the only way to finance the local relief and welfare needs," P. B. Flynn declared Thursday at the chest report luncheon at the Kemp hotel.

An audited check of contributions for the first two days of the drive revealed a total of $29,244.69 Thursday afternoon. The total represents 59 per cent of the goal of $48,468.76. Wide response to the campaign for the chest reveals the interest of Wichitans in the program, campaign leaders declared.

Wichita at Top

Mr. Flynn pointed out in his address that Wichita Falls ranks at the top in the South in support of the chest and also holds a record of the lowest administration cost in a much wider area. Mr. Flynn commented on the return of many chest workers to the ranks for the current drive.

"The folks in our town will do the job," a message from Walter Cline, budget chairman, said in part Thursday. The message was addressed to Drive Chairman Roy B. Jones and was sent from Baton Rouge, La. "Sincerely regret my delay here but am doing some good for our side. My best wishes to you and your team in the great task you have," the message continued.

The third report luncheon will be held at the Wichita club at 12:15 o'clock Friday. Members of the chamber of commerce business council will meet with the workers. Final reports will be made at the same time Saturday at the Wichita club.

Houston Man Subscribes

Chairman C. E. McCutcheon of the special gifts division received a message Thursday from E. P. Greenwood of the Great Southern Life Insurance company of Houston subscribing to the local campaign. The message said, "As you know our major home offices are

Japan's League Agent To Confer in Moscow

TOKYO, Oct., 27. (AP)—Yosuke Matsuoka, who will represent Japan when the League of Nations takes up the Lytton report next month, is to stop off on the way to Geneva for conversations with Soviet government officials in Moscow.

He will talk about the Manchurian situation, but he is by no means empowered to discuss a non-aggression pact or otherwise to represent the Japanese government in Moscow, the foreign office said.

OIL PROBLEMS BESET CAPITAL

Sterling Receives Pleas For Special Session

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—Worrisome troubles of the East Texas oil field, a source of annoyance to Gov. R. S. Sterling the greater part of the period he has been in office, had today accumulated on the chief executive's desk.

More than half a hundred telegrams, most of them signed with groups of names of persons vitally interested in conserving the big petroleum pool that has tantalized the oil industry since its accidental discovery two years ago, were before the governor, himself an oil operator in the past.

Without exception the messages petitioned a special session of the Texas legislature to consider amendments to the state's conservation laws to broaden powers of the Texas Railroad commission, state oil and gas regulatory agency, to enable it to function better to insure the greatest ultimate recovery from the state pools.

The governor was opposed to convening the legislature if it were at all possible, to avoid a session and at the same time not jeopardize the rights of interested persons, in and out of the business of producing, buying and selling oil.

He had not receded from a decision of several days ago to the effect he would not order an extraordinary session, but he had not by any means closed his mind to the probable necessity of recognizing an emergency.

Governor Sterling was giving the situation serious thought. He said he recognized there were two sides of the question brought up by a decision of a United States district court invalidating orders of the railroad commission prorating production in East Texas in the interest of conservation. It was evident he had been keenly worried by the turn of events in the state's oil troubles, a problem that had haunted his administration from its

DEMOS HOLD VICTORY RALLY HERE TONIGHT

Tom Hunter to Substitute For Col. Thompson As Chief Speaker

MEETING AT 7:30

McFarlane and Harris Also On Program; Dinner To Precede Rally

Democratic leaders throughout this area participated Thursday in completing plans for a stirring rally on behalf of the Roosevelt-Garner national ticket in the 78th district courtroom at 7:30 o'clock Friday night.

Hunter on Stump Again

Tom Hunter, long-time Wichita resident and the recipient of more than 220,000 votes in the first primary, will deliver the chief address, substituting for Col. Ernest O. Thompson, state railroad commissioner and former Amarillo mayor. Friends of Mr. Hunter and those who heard him during his numerous addresses over the state in the first campaign can testify to his eloquence and force in speaking. His familiarity with national problems, particularly from the viewpoint of the oil industry, is expected to attract a large crowd to the rally.

Colonel Thompson was forced to cancel plans for his Wichita Falls address through the press of his duties with the railroad commission. In a long distance telephone conversation with The Record News Thursday night, he asked this newspaper to express his regret at being unable to attend.

"I was very much pleased at the invitation to speak in Wichita Falls, where I have so many friends and I am disappointed that I cannot do so," he declared.

Thompson Expresses Regrets

"The recent decision of the three-judge federal court has placed the administration of our conservation laws in such a precarious condition, however, that I do not feel that I can attend the Wichita Falls rally and discharge the responsibilities which this court decision has thrown upon the commission. In spite of my wishes to attend, I must attend to my duties first."

Other speakers on the program Friday night will include Judge Harvey Harris and W. D. McFarlane of Graham, unopposed Democratic nominee for congress. A delegation of Young county residents, including a large group from Olney, also will attend. Numerous Democratic workers from this entire section also are expected.

Leaders of the district will attend a dinner and conference at the Wichita club at 6 p. m. Friday prior to the rally. Workers in the campaign now being waged in the 13th congressional district for the Roosevelt-Garner cause are invited to attend. Plates may be reserved by calling 3020. The charge will be 75 cents per plate.

Attendance of the Olney delegation here Friday night will take the place of a rally scheduled to have been held at Olney Nov. 3. That meeting has been canceled.

Wilbarger county Democrats are to assemble Friday night at 7:30 o'clock in the city auditorium at Vernon for the Roosevelt-Garner rally. District Attorney Sam B. Spence of this city will be the principal speaker. O. T. Warlick, chairman of the campaign in Wilbarger county, was at local national headquarters Thursday, and declared that the Friday night session at Vernon will bring together the largest crowd of Democratic supporters ever assembled in that section. A delegation of Wichitans is to leave Wichita Falls about noon Friday, headed by C. K. Walsh, and will assist the Wilbarger county campaign organization during the afternoon.

Seymour Rally

Judge B. D. Sartin will head a small delegation which is to leave early Friday morning for a one-day tour of Cooke and Montague counties. Speeches and distribution of Roosevelt-Garner literature and medallions in every town in those two counties is the program for the day, it was said.

Judge Harvey Harris, congressional district chairman for the campaign, accompanied by Don T. Haynes and H. W. Fillmore, went to Seymour Thursday night, where Judge Harris delivered the principal address at a Baylor county Democratic rally.

Hoover Launches Into Hammering Drive For Votes

By KENNETH CLARK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (US)—Inaugurating a campaign windup unrivalled by any president since 1912, Herbert Hoover returned tonight to the political trails.

After a whirlwind trip to Indianapolis, where he speaks tomorrow night, the president will rest over the week-end at the White House and then set out Monday for his first drive in the East. He addresses a monster mass meeting Halloween night in Madison Square garden, New York, after three major speeches en route from Washington in Baltimore, Philadelphia and Newark.

Then he resumes the political wars in the West to close the campaign. Tentative speeches are being arranged on a single trip in Springfield, Ill., Chicago and Minneapolis, St. Louis and Kansas City may be added to the itinerary.

A proposed trip to the Pacific coast apparently is off, though the door has not finally been closed. It

F. D. PRACTICES RELIEF POLICY

Governor Confers That 'None Shall Starve'

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 27. (US)—Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt had an opportunity today to practice the policies of unemployment relief and public utilities which he hopes to follow in the White House.

Back in the executive chair, the governor had an extended conference with Republican leaders of the state legislature to make certain enough funds are at hand to carry on welfare work for the needy this winter.

It was decided that a special session of the legislature will be unnecessary if the voters approve a $30,000,000 bond issue for relief work on Nov. 8.

Otherwise Roosevelt will call an extra session immediately to fulfill his pledge that "on one shall starve" this winter. The governor likewise established a precedent, promised in his campaign address at Portland, Ore., when he ordered the state public service commission to investigate electric rates in the city of Binghamton.

Roosevelt said the commission should go ahead without the city spending $50,000 or $60,000 the amount usually needed for a preliminary investigation.

Roosevelt was deluged today with requests from local Democratic leaders to broaden his forthcoming invasion of New England.

Although his campiagn got off to an uncertain start in that area, particularly in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, the claim is now maed that the tide is flowing strongly to the Democratic ticket.

Contracts Let For Fort Sill Barracks

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (UP)—Contracts totalling $268,641 for construction of quarters at Fort Sill and Post Field, Okla., were awarded today by the quartermaster general of the army.

The contracts were to A. J. Rife Construction company, Dallas, for 10 non-commissioned officers quarters at Post Field, $59,645; the Holmbee Construction company, Oklahoma City, for seven company officers and two field officers quarters at Post Field, $99,471; to Barbourand Short, Norman, Okla., for five company officers quarters at Fort Sill, $50,000; to D. C. Bass & Son, Enid, Okla., for five double non-commissioned officers quarters at Fort Sill, $59,425.

Solicitor Holds Decision In Libby Holman Case

WINSTON SALEM, N. C., Oct. 27. (US)—Solicitor Carlisle W. Higgins said today from his home at Sparta that his decision whether to prosecute Libby Holman Reynolds and Albert (Ab) Walker charged with the murder of Z. Smith Reynolds, heir to an estate valued at $20,000,000, will not be made until Nov. 7.

"I want to confer with Sheriff Transou Scott and others connected with the case before I make my decision," Solicitor Higgins said.

AL ADDRESSES 15,000 'WILD' BOSTON DEMOS

'Happy Warrior' Appeals For Vote of His 'New England Friends'

CROWD JAMS ARENA

Former Nominee Delivers Second Major Speech For Democrats

By CHARLES BAYER

BOSTON, Oct. 27. (US)—Al Smith invaded New England—the land where he is more or less an idol among Democrats—and spoke for the Democratic national and state tickets tonight.

Fifteen thousand persons jammed into the Boston arena to hear him. Other crowds listened to him on the outside through amplifiers.

In his address former Governor Smith went far more deeply into discussion of presidential candidates and issues than at either of his previous speeches in this campaign.

He made an unqualified appeal for full and complete support of Roosevelt and Garner.

Vicious Attack

He made a vicious attack on what he termed a failure of "the Republican best minds" to prevent us being about an end of the national economic distress.

He charged the Hoover administration with concealing the fact of a billion dollar treasury deficit from 1930 to 1932 and then devising a taxation program of great hardship that was "bound to retard business and economic recovery" in an effort to overcome this huge discrepancy.

Smith assailed the Republican party for claiming that it has all the brains and knows how to run the government, and that "we are just a mob and have no intelligent leadership."

In this connection, Smith dramatically explained "we can recall to our minds with accuracy that 60 per cent of the governors of the states of the union are Democrats; every successful progressive president in my time has been a former governor of a state—Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Calvin Coolidge.

"I am talking about successful presidents."

Voices Disappointment

Smith frankly acknowledged his disappointment at losing the Chicago nomination, but implored his hearers to let that be a matter to be settled later within the party and not to permit any resultant feelings to afford co ort to the Republicans.

He smashed into Secretary of War Hurley's treatment of the bonus expeditionary force, assailed William Allen White for referring to him in 1928 as an uncultured person and bitterly denounced the administration as having imposed excessive taxation for having failed to curtail cost of government. He accused the Republicans of deceit on the prohibition issue.

Smith blasted Senator Borah as "an Idaho potato," who sold Hoover a gold brick in impelling him to call a special farm relief session in which tariff was injected. This, he estimated, was Hoover's gravest mistake.

Pulls No Punches

He pulled no punches, frankly declaring he considered he was talking around the table" with home folks. And his audience certainly was made up of home folks.

It was an intensely Democratic crowd, and Boston Democracy goes quiet earnest about its politics. And, more than that, it was a Smith multitude. It was an enlargement upon the ovation given to Smith at Providence, R. I., in the afternoon.

At whatever excuse, the audience swept into tremendous outbursts, whether to boo Hoover or the Republican candidate for governor, William S. Youngman, or to shake the roof with frenzied cheers for Smith and, when she was drawn forward by Governor Ely, for Mrs. Smith.

It was almost hysterical in its approval when Mayor James M. Curley broke into eloquence in extolling Smith for it marked, though possibly only during the duration of the campaign, an end to the bitter political feud in which Smith and Governor Ely, on one side, had exchanged many cudgels with Curley.

Ely Applauded

Ely, pleading in the main his own cause for election, brought down the house with his picture of Smith, "as that great exponent of the party's principles." It was Ely who made the most eloquent address of the Chicago convention in nominating Smith for president and Smith tonight was making a happy expression of gratitude.

United States Senators David I. Walsh and Marcus A. Coolidge, made brief talks. When Smith took the platform, after a remarkable

Bullington Offered As 'Pinch-Hitter' For Democrats At Wichita Rally

Residents of West Texas were urged at the Memorial auditorium Thursday night to defeat at the polls on Nov. 8 fraud and illegality allegedly perpetrated in the Democratic run-off primary in August, and to vote for Orville Bullington of this city for governor as a means of "assuring the continued respectable life of the Democratic party in Texas."

Sam McCorkle, district attorney at Mexia, Texas, and Dr. J. D. Sandefer, president of Simmons university at Abilene, were the two speakers presented by Chairman C. H. Clark to espouse the candidacy of the local attorney. Mr. Bullington, a Republican by political classification for many years, was advanced as a "pinch hitter" for the Democratic party "in an hour of dire need."

Dr. Sandefer sought in his address, the closing one of the evening, to justify members of the Democratic party in voting for Mr. Bullington.

"I say," the speaker asserted, "and the supreme court of our state, and Franklin D. Roosevelt, and Woodrow Wilson, and the great Tilden said, that it is the duty of the patriot to rise to a level above what we sometimes call 'brass collar politics,' and exercise our sovereignty at the ballot box in voting for an honest, conscientious, capable, worthy, tested citizen for public office. Mother Weeps In Telling Love For Baby Kidnaped From Foster Parent

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 27. (US)—Three-year-old Nancy Irene Buchanan, kidnaped from the Wilshire mansion home of her wealthy foster parents, was found today sleeping with her real mother, Ruth Borman, in a shack on the outskirts of Newhall.

And while Mrs. Violet C. Buchanan listened, the real mother, tears streaming down her cheeks, told police a pathetic story of mother love that sent her to the Buchanan home to take her baby from its crib.

"She is my baby, even if the courts say she belongs to Mrs. Buchanan," Miss Borman sobbed.

With Miss Borman when police found the child was M. A. Warner of San Fernando, and with the baby's real mother he was booked on suspicion of kidnaping.

Warner said he was keeping company with Miss Borman and when she told him her story of mother love he was so deeply touched that he drove the woman to the Buchanan home and assisted in recovery of the child.

Last July there was a bitter court battle between the Buchanans and the natural mother of little Irene.

In recent months Mrs. Buchanan has received typewritten notes threatening her and the child with harm unless $12,500 was paid. A typewriter was found in the Newhall shack occupied by Miss Borman, police reported. Experts will compare the typing from this machine with the typing in the extortion letters.

90 INJURED IN LONDON RIOTS

Jobless Battle Police In Famous Park

tachment of the 5,000 London constables on special duty at the park swung into a baton charge.

Civilians Flee

Marble arch became a noisy bedlam. The fighting between police and jobless grew hotter. Civilians fled for safety. Word reached the unemployed in the park that their comrades were fighting. They uprooted young trees, tore posts from fences, and headed toward the police.

The unemployed in the park moved menacingly on an isolated group of policemen, hurling mud, turf and stones. Police reinforcements rushed up and repeatedly charged with swinging batons, but the jobless thousands fought back strongly.

While the riots outside the park extended along Park lane on the right and Cumberland place on the left, the crowds scurried for safety to the entrance of the Regent theater and shops along Oxford street, the rioters in the park momentarily gained the upper hand.

Policemen Retreat

Policemen were forced to retreat before the mass attacks and stones of the crowd. Several police were thrown from their horses and injured as the flying rocks and clods unnerved the mounts. Ambulances, bells clanging, dashed in and out of the north gate to remove injured.

Heavy police reinforcements finally arrived in riot wagons with screeching sirens. After more than 30 reformings and that many charges, the police were able to herd the crowds of unemployed outside the park and into Edgeware road, where they were dispersed.

One elderly woman was hurt and a police inspector was knocked unconscious. At the height of the rioting, public buildings and stores outside the park were turned into temporary dressing stations. Many persons fainted in the underground passageway that extends under the esplanade from Park lane to Edgeware road, where hundreds had taken refuge.

Outsiders Peaceful

What astonished even police was that the "hunger marchers" did not join the London unemployed in the riots. When the fierce fighting began, the leaders of the "hunger marchers" marched their groups southward in the park to escape the disorders.

The marshals of the tattered marchers, resplendent in red ties and red berets with Soviet rosettes, consulted with police inspectors on what course to take. The police inspectors assigned a strong guard to the "hunger troops" and marched them outside the park in orderly formation.

After two hours of bitter fighting, head smashing and stone throwing, police were finally able to restore a semblance of order to Marble Arch esplanade at 5:30 p. m., just as the thousands of Oxford street shoppers and workers were leaving for home.

Special guards were detailed around the esplanade, and along Edgeware road, where many shops were still shuttered to prevent further attacks by jobless looters. Most of the Americans in London live further out Edgeware road, around St. Johns' wood, and many of them witnessed the riotous scene at the esplanade.

Ryan Citizens Hear Murray

when numerous jobless men were imprisoned as vagrants. The governor's protest resulted in their hasty release.

"If they hadn't been turned out," the governor said, "I would have called out the national guard and torn down the jails."

In reply to accusations launched at him that members of his family were employed by the state, he said that "no son of mine has ever drawn a dollar from Oklahoma."

Concerning Lew Wentz and his feud with the highway commissioner, he termed that foe and his followers as "Wentz warts."

Greeted by Children

Governor Murray urged the election of Roosevelt and Garner. However, he said "Hoover didn't have anything to do with the depression. He doesn't know what it is about."

Continuing his opposition to making prohibition a national issue, he said "it is better to study how to get a square meal rather than a drink."

The governor's arrival here was greeted by 700 Ryan school children.

MURRAY TO SPEAK AT TEMPLE TONIGHT

Special to The Record News.

TEMPLE, Okla., Oct. 27.—Gov. W. H. Murray will speak at the high school auditorium here Friday night in behalf of his state income tax measure which will be presented to the voters of the state in the general election Nov. 8.

The Democratic organization of Cotton county is preparing a big welcome for the governor. A record crowd is expected to hear his speech. Governor Murray is extremely popular in this section and in a similar election last year received from Cotton county the strongest vote, save one, from any county in the state.

Texans Invited

The governor will speak at 7:30 o'clock. He is slated to explain in detail the provisions of his tax plan. It is understood he will devote part of his time to the interest of the Democratic national ticket. He will be introduced by Bob Mooney, Temple Democratic leader.

Aware of the wide influence Oklahoma's fiery chief executive wields in communities out of his state, Democratic chieftains here have specially invited North Texans to visit Temple Friday night to hear Murray.

The governor will speak at Walters at 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Man Accused of Attack Placed in County Jail

R. L. Hash, 56, of this city was transferred to the Wichita county jail Thursday. He faces charges of statutory assault following his arrest Wednesday by city officers. The arrest was made at the rear of 309 Lamar avenue. First reports of the arrest incorrectly said the address was 309 Scott. A 14-year-old girl was placed in the juvenile ward of the jail in connection with the case.

Lone Bandit Secures $20 in Garage Holdup

A lone bandit took $20 in a raid on the Grant Street garage, 2105 Grant, at 9 o'clock Thursday night. The thief was attired in an overcoat and cap. He held Proprietor F. W. Hickman at the point of his pistol while he rifled the cash box. The hijacker escaped on foot, a report to police said.

FERGUSONS IN RALLY AT WACO

Fergusons Address Crowd On Campaign

"in general intelligence and information he is not even as smart as Sterling."

Ferguson emphasized that federal patronage would be available in Texas if Franklin D. Roosevelt were elected president, pointing out that there would be approximately 25,000 federal jobs, the figure including an average of five appointments in each of 2,500 postoffices; 2,000 in the internal revenue department; 2,000 in the department of justice and hundreds of othe- appointments.

"When the Democrats are elected," Ferguson promised, "we will turn the rascals out and put the people in."

Jobs will be given to the "faithful," he said, and he predicted that one of the requirements Roosevelt would lay down would be that applicants voted the Democratic ticket from ton to bottom.

Roosevelt Party Man

"Roosevelt is a great party man," he explained, "and is strong for party regularity and if any bolters came along and asked for an appointment, Roosevelt would say, 'get thee behind me, Satan' and throw them out."

Mrs. Ferguson said she had never voted against the nominee and that on two previous occasions, when she was defeated in the primaries, she did not cry "fraud" but took her medicine and voted for the nominee. She said those who were disgruntled "should take a dose of their own medicine or go away back and sit down."

"The national and state platforms of the Democratic party have retained and reaffirmed all the fundamental principles that make safe the liberties of the citizens and the stability of the country," she said, "and it is imperative that party regularity be restored or all government will be destroyed."

Mrs. Ferguson delivered a plea for support of all Democratic nominees, not only for herself and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the party's candidate for president.

She warned against following persons "who jump the fence, play the baby act and bolt the ticket when something doesn't go to suit them."

Her husband said if "Bullington's own crowd thought he had a chance to be elected, they would assassinate him." He asserted that Rene B. Creager of Brownsville, Republican national committeeman, would not be willing to "lose the patronage spotlight."

The Republicans had a chance to place "an intelligent business man" in the race in John F. Grant of Houston, he said, but the Republican powers in Texas "were afraid he might be elected."

"Every one who bolts the ticket and votes for Bullington ought to be bored for the hollow horn," Ferguson declared. "He's already sold out his own crowd and you wouldn't be caught coon hunting or go to a dog fight with a fellow like that. The only thing I am afraid of is that my wife won't be elected by more than 500,000 votes."

Touching on the national campaign, Ferguson said President Hoover had lived away from the United States so long he did not know the problems of the American people and could not solve them.

"What we want is some one who has been in touch and in tune with the American people," he said.

Ferguson asserted the state highway department would take an active part in this campaign and would attempt to influence votes for Bullington by placing more men on the pay rolls.

"They're buying votes for a Republican with your money," he said, repeating his primary campaign accusations that the highway department put hundreds of persons to work to get votes.

"If it wasn't for these votes," Ferguson said, "Bullington wouldn't get more than 100,000."

The Fergusons spoke in the gymnasium of the Waco High school.

GAS PRICES UP ONE CENT

All Grades Advanced By Wichita Stations

A one-cent advance in gasoline prices was effective in Wichita Falls this week in line with the recent hike in crude schedules. Major companies operating stations in this city and joining in the advance include the Magnolia, Texas, Continental, Panhandle, Sinclair and Gulf.

The new retail schedule of motor fuels places combat grades at 13 cents, regular gasoline at 17 cents and top grades at 20 cents, in most cases. The American Refining properties posted a price of 19 cents for the top grade at retail stations.

The tank wagon prices range approximately three cents below retail schedules, with some companies posting a price of 14½ cents for regular grades. Wholesale tank car prices range from 4½ to 5¼ cents, depending on the grades. The Falls Refining company of this city has not met the advance but orders for the hike are expected.

Candidates for Congress Without Campaign Funds

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28. (US)—Candidates for congress are having a difficult time raising funds to further their campaigns.

Both Democrats and Republicans alike are afflicted by the paucity of gifts this year, finding the pickings for funds almost as bad as it always has been for the Socialists.

Reports received today by South Trimble, house clerk, from 128 candidates in all parties, field pursuant to the federal corrupt practices act, showed about one-fifth of them had received no contributions and spent nothing.

HOME BURNS

Flames wrecked the home of J. P. Carr, 311 Bluff, at midnight Thursday night. Estimates of the damage placed the amount at several hundred dollars for the house and contents. The roof and portions of the interior were ablaze when units of the fire department arrived at the scene, neighbors said.

Growing Deaf With Head Noises? Try This

If you are growing hard of hearing, suffer from head noises, due to catarrh or fear catarrhal deafness, you should know of the internal medicine which has already brought blessed relief to thousands of catarrh sufferers.

Secure from Allison's Drug store or your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add ¼ pint hot water and a little sugar.

One tablespoonful four times a day should bring quick relief from distressing catarrhal head noises, clogged nostrils, difficult breathing and dropping mucous. All threatened with catarrhal deafness need simple, effective Parmint.—Adv.

Coaling Station Closed In Japan by U. S. Army

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—One of the picturesque overseas activities of the United States army which came in with American occupation of the Philippines was placed in the discard by war department orders today closing the army transport coaling station at Nagasaki, Japan.

The coaling at Nagasaki was accomplished by means of a human chain of Japanese women and children who passed hand to hand baskets of coal from barges to the ship being loaded. Oil has replaced coal on most of the army transports and are Nagasaki station is no longer necessary.

Capt. Truman M. Martin, who has been in charge at Nagasaki, has been ordered to Tokyo as assistant military attache of the American embassy.

Youths Admit Slaying Of Wisconsin Farmer

SHAWANO, Wis., Oct. 27. (AP)—A wooded section of the farm of Ed Angerman, 70, of near Tigerton, was being searched today for his body, following a confession investigators said they obtained from two boys that one of them had slain the aged man with a rifle.

They were quoted as saying that Peterson shot the aged farmer after he had ordered him off his farm, where they had been trespassing.

Brazilian Troops Use Rifles Against Civilians

SOA PAULO, Brazil, Oct. 27. (AP)—Federal troops stationed here during administrative reorganization following the unsuccessful Sao Paulo revolt, were obliged to use rifles and sabres last night against civilians demonstrating against their presence. It was the third such disorder this week.

At Campinas five soldiers and 12 civilians were injured in a similar disorder. There were 47 arrests.

MRS. MOONEY DENIED PAPERS

Passport to Moscow Refused Convict's Mother

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—The International Labor Defense announced today that the state department has refused to grant a passport to Mrs Mary Mooney, mother of Tom Mooney, who is serving a life sentence in a California prison in connection with the Preparedness day bombing in 1916.

Mrs. Mooney was scheduled to sail for Moscow tomorrow night as an honorary delegate of the International Labor Defense to the world congress of the International Red Aid on Nov. 10.

The I. L. D. said the passport was refused because Mrs. Mooney was unable to provide birth and death certificates of her husband, Brian Mooney. The husband died in Cannelberg, Ind., in 1892, the organization said, and no records were available because no vital statistics were kept in that town at that time.

Carl Hacker, organization secretary of the organization, said that this procedure is "a deliberate attempt on the part of the state department to prevent Mother Mooney from going to Europe."

Iodine state is a recent nickname of South Carolina.

Hoover To Speak At Indianapolis

is likely the president will address his final appeal over the radio from the Lincoln study in the White House on Nov. 7.

The hammering finish was the president's own idea. He was said to be convinced that if the Republican ticket is to win he must carry the fight to the people. That he will do until election day.

In the territory beyond the Alleghenies, where the political pot is seething, the president tomorrow for the fourth time in the campaign will ask the people for a vote of confidence in his administration.

Mr. Hoover plans at Indianapolis to lash his Democratic opponent, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, and to declare that the hope of the future lies in continued Republican control of the government.

This message he carried before to Des Moines, Cleveland and Detroit. He confiedntlv believes it has started the political tide swinging to him, despite straw votes and reports showing marked Democratic success.

The White House said the president wasn't the least disturbed by the rival Democratic demonstration booked in Indianapolis where he and Governor Ritchie of Maryland speak the same evening. The president's address starts at 7:30 o'clock central time. There promises to be a hot time in the old town, however, as both Republicans and Democrats will try to outdo each other in parades, red fire, bands, noise and numbers. Federal troops may be called out as a precautionary measure.

En route and back through West Virginia, Ohio and Indiana, the president has arranged a dozen speeches from the rear platform of his train. In this appearances he will extoll the Republican protective tariff, telling each audience what protection has meant to its welfare. He had a batch of tariff material in his portfolio.

Electra Volley Ball Team Improves Rapidly

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Electra Tigerettes have made more actual progress in three volley ball practice sessions than most teams show in two months. The pep and intensive training of the girls account for the progress. Coach Ethel Varnell has been teaching the fundamentals of the game, but most of the time is devoted to regular games. Two sides are chosen, and they compete against each other.

Girls who have reported for practice are Victoria Bryan, Laveda Dickey, Mary Ellen Whitley, Eula B. and Oleta Shepherd, Modine Smith, Ruby Mae Flippin, Carrie Mae Dees, Florence Chisholm, Gwendolyn Gunn, Opal Greer, Ozie Chesher, Katherine McClure, Mary Helen Boutwell, Dorothy Parr, Lois Chiles, Violet Jones, Edith Williams, Billie Staton, Ruth Jones, and Nookie Cloninger.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks punk, don't swallow a lot of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of sunshine.

For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily.

If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get these two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle vegetable extracts, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely.

But don't ask for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Resent a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.

Insured Man Alive Witnesses Testify

was head and that there were charges against the man.

He talked to Norwood 10 or 15 minutes, then returned to his own seat and dozed off. When he awakened Norwood was gone, Wilhite said.

Under prolonged cross-examination Wilhite was questioned in great details by W. B. Harrell of Dallas, one of the plaintiffs attorneys.

After it had been brought out that the insurance company sent Wilhite $50 at the time his deposition was taken and $300 before he began this trip, William Lipscomb, attorney for the company, offered in evidence the letters accompanying the sum.

The letters were read showing that with the $50 Wilhite was to pay consular fees in connection with the deposition and that the $300 was an advance on his expenses on the present trip.

"You had some difference with Norwood in Cleburne, didn't you?" Harrell asked as the final question of the cross examination.

"Yes; that was 30 years ago," Wilhite said, adding that he bore no ill will toward Norwood.

The other witness who told of seeing Norwood was Julian H. Gwyn, Yoakum rural route carrier formerly in the Cleburne postoffice and later in the El Paso postoffice.

"I was with friends when I saw Norwood who also was with several men," Gwyn said. This was some time in July, 1929, in front of the Big Kid cafe and bar in Juarez.

Certified copies of federal indictments charging Norwood with embezzlement of nearly $1,000,000 were read into the record by the insurance company attorneys over the strenuous objection of opposing lawyers.

Norwood's policy lapsed Sept. 22, 1928, a deposition of P. V. Montgomery, vice president and actuary of the insurance company, stated.

Testimony will be continued tomorrow.

CIVIC MUSIC ARTISTS LISTED

Male Singers, Pianist And Opera Star Booked

Announcement that members of the Northwest Texas Civic Music association, organized last spring, will hear one celebrated pianist, a ranking contralto, and an internationally accredited group of male singers during the coming winter was made Thursday by Mrs. Mary Robbins, secretary of the association.

With almost 650 members enrolled for the first season of the association's activity in this territory, three concert performances of first rank have been made available, it was announced. All memberships have been paid in advance, and membership cards are to be mailed out about Nov. 20 along with programs for the first concert, which is to be given on Nov. 28. Association concerts are to be held in the Junior college auditorium, and only owners of memberships will be admitted.

Variety in Program

Coe Glade, contralto with the Chicago Civic Opera company for the past three years; John Goss and the London Singers, now engaged in the third American tour; and Mischa Levitski, whose pianistic art has been acclaimed on three continents, comprise the trio of attractions chosen by the unnamed local committee charged with that selection. Miss Glade will sing here on Monday, Nov. 28; the male singers concert will be given Jan. 10; and Levitski will appear on Feb. 13.

Artistic excellence, program variety and personal appeal have been provided for the association membership through the compilation of the announced season's program. Miss Glade became a success in opera over night three years ago when she sang the role of Amneris in "Aide" in Chicago. Since then she has taken her place along with Eames, Nordica, Farrar and Louise Homer as a truly great American artist.

One of Miss Glade's outstanding roles has been that of Carmen in the Bizet opear by that name. In addition to her operatic triumphs, however, she has registered an impressive success also as soloist with symphony orchestras in this country. She is a native of Chicago and the product of American training. Of Miss Glade, the incomparable Mary Garden declared succinctly, "Coe Glade is a genius."

For Business Men

The John Goss singers, representing an eminent concert baritone supported by a male quartet, is expected by those in charge to prove one of the most appealing attractions ever presented here. Their program is one of excellent music selected largely for its content of wholesome amusement. Sea Shanties, folk songs, old style catches and canons, and traditional songs of old England, comprise the program. The New York Times recently referred to their performance as "an art utterly charming and delightful." This ensemble has proven particularly popular with the many business men now included in the membership of the civic music associations throughout the country. The spirit of "hale and hearty seamen" predominates in their singing.

Mischa Levitzki, the pianist, has been a considerable figure in the music world for more than a decade; but recent performances have called forth profuse commendation of the finish and maturity of feeling which added years have brought. From Germany, France, Australia, England, and American artistic centers, he is being hailed as one of the few really great living pianists.

All concerts of the Northwest Texas Civic Music association are to begin promptly at 8 p. m., Mrs. Robbins announced.

LONG-LIFE FAMILY

LONDON, Oct. 27.—When Josiah Medcalf, of Enfield, reached his 100th birthday recently, it wasn't anything unusual for him. He has one brother who is near 101 years old, and two sisters who lived to be 97 and 98 respectively.

Mischa Levitzki, pianist, will present the third concert of the 1932-1933 season announced Thursday by the Northwest Texas Civic Music association.

LAUGHS AT DEATH

LONDON, Oct. 27.—Duncan Neale made arrangements for his death—and then went out and got himself married. He arranged his own funeral, bought his tombstone, supervised its erection and affixed to it a tablet to his memory. Then, although 70 years of age, he went and married the sweetheart of his boyhood days.

TOO MUCH ACID

● The right anti-acid offsets the harm otherwise done by excessive eating, drinking, and constant smoking, anything causing an acid condition. When "sunk" from such indulgences, Phillips' Milk of Magnesia will always straighten you out. A joy and comfort to hearty eaters, constant smokers. Get the genuine; substitutes don't act the same.

ALSO IN TABLET FORM: Phillips' Milk of Magnesia Tablets are now on sale at drug stores everywhere. Each tiny tablet is the equivalent of a teaspoonful of genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia.

Joliet To Deport 200 Mexicans Today

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (INS)—A party of 200 Mexicans will be voluntarily deported to Mexico from Joliet, Ill., tomorrow, it was announced here today by the Mexican consul.

The deportation is being financed as far as the border, by Joliet charities. The Mexican government will finance the trip from the border to the Mexicans' individual homes.

According to the Mexican consul, the Mexicans are leaving because of the scarcity of work and so that they may not become public charges.

Between 200,000 and 300,000 have voluntarily left the United States within the past year, most of them from California. Approximately 50,000 have returned to Mexico from the Middle West, the council said.

Ryan Gins Turn Out 4,502 Bales for Season

Special to The Record News.

RYAN, Okla., Oct. 22.—Three gins in Ryan have ginned up to Wednesday noon, 4,502 bales of cotton. It is estimated by one ginner and one reporter for a New Orleans cotton concern that between 6,500 and 7,000 bales will be ginned here this season. This is a good crop for this year but far below the average for extra good years.

RENO URGES TAX 'HOLIDAY'

Farm Strike Leader Asks Payments Cease

DES MOINES, Iowa, Oct. 27. (INS)—A recommendation that all members of the Farmers Holiday association refuse to pay any further taxes, interest on farm loans or principal or farm loans until farm commodity prices are restored to the levels of four years ago was made today by Milo Reno, president of the association.

He sent out letters to state chairmen of the organization advising them that the national board of the Farmers Holiday association had passed that recommendation at a meeting in Sioux City, Iowa several days ago.

"Officers of the association have decided," Reno said, "that society has no moral right to ask a farmer to pay five times as much in products as he would have to pay if farm prices were the same as they were when the debts were contracted.

"We are advising all members of the organization in all states to arbitrarily stop paying taxes and interest on their loans until prices recover."

Roland Robinson, 25, is the youngest member of the British parliament. He is 25, and a member of the Conservative party.

Hapsburg Child Kidnaped At Home

VIENNA, Oct. 27. (INS)—The newspaper Stunde today reported another colorful episode in the family affairs of the house of Hapsburg, once the most powerful in all Europe.

The Princess Stefanie Windischgraetz, 22, a great-grand-daughter of the Emperor Francis Joseph, was kidnaped from the castle Benzing, near Vienna, according to the paper, and then taken to the nunnery of "the English sisters," near Bruges, Belgium.

The princess' mother is "the red princess" Elizabeth, who is separated from her husband and has associated herself with Socialist movements.

The paper charged the kidnaping plot to Stefanie's grandmother, the Countess Lunai, because she feared "Socialist infection, ... cess.

New Auto Insurance Rates Are ublished

AUSTIN, Oct. 27. (AP)—A new schedule of automobile insurance rates adopted by the Texas state insurance board reveal an increase in some classes and a decrease in others.

A raise of 22.6 per cent on the public liability rate of private cars, an increase up to 40 per cent on commercial cars, a reduction of 6.9 per cent on the property damage rate on private automobiles and 5.2 per cent for the same protection on commercial cars were authorized.

Women will talk, and so will men, if you are so careless as to offend with unpleasant body odor . . or with a highly scented soap. But why take chances? Bathe with Kirk's Coco Castile and your skin and scalp will be left fresh and clean-smelling as a woodland breeze. Made of 100% pure cocoanut oil, Kirk's Coco Castile gives a fuller, more penetrating lather than ordinary soaps, goes deep into the pores, removes every trace of dirty, oily film. Best of all, it's unscented; leaves no telltale hospital smell. You'd expect it to cost more than ordinary soaps. Actually it costs much less. Of the 4 leading toilet soaps, Kirk's is half again larger, yet the price is the same. Try it today—for hands, for bath, for a wonderful shampoo. You'll be amazed at the difference. Avoid imitations. Look for the arrows. Always ask for Kirk's by name.

First Baptist Classes Entertained At Parties

Classes of the First Baptist Sunday school were entertained in a charming fashion Thursday afternon. Members of the Dorcas class were guests in the home of Mrs. H. Willis at a Halloween party. The house was decorated in a pretty Halloween motif and Mrs. Ralph Hines, in costume, met the guests at the door.

Mrs. G. W. Burns was a convincing witch who spent the afternoon telling fortunes and Mrs. Eva Cravens was an interesting wizard full of odd tricks.

Before the session when new officers presented. Mrs. J. L. Maxwell gave the devotional, followed by a prayer by Mrs. H. Willis. Mrs. Hines made a pretty talk introducing the officers recently elected as follows: Mrs. W. D. Reeves, president; Mrs. G. W. Burns, first vice president; Mrs. H. I. Smith, second vice president; Mrs. M. L. Hooker, third vice president; Mrs. J. M. Wilhite, fourth vice president; Mrs. W. H. McEwing, secretary; Mrs. W. E. Martin, chairman of the homes department; Mrs. S. W. Trout, reporter. At the close of the introduction Mrs. Reeves offered prayer for the new officers.

Mrs. Reeves presided in a short business meeting and Miss Marguerite Harris closed the meeting with prayer.

In the social half hour, a dainty refreshment plate was served to Mesdames Ralph Hines, H. Willis, Alice Childs, J. D. Johnson, Andrew Young, S. W. Trout, Eva Cravens, H. I. Smith, W. B. Reeves, J. L. Maxwell, Ella Davis, C. J. Barnard, J. B. Jenkins, Joe Erwin, C. C. Davis, W. C. Crouch, J. A. Thompson, W. E. Martin, F. R. Glidewell, G. W. Burns, R. F. Roberson, Ella Dodson J. M. Wilhite, W. H. Martin, C. L. Cole and Miss Harris. Guests were Mesdames Ray Wilhite, and O. D. Boone and Dr. Joanna Campbell.

Fellowship Class

Mrs. C. H. Foley was hostess to members of the First Baptist Fellowship class when Mrs. R. Lee Joiner gave the devotional followed by prayer by Mrs. Heo. Howery.

Plans were completed for a Thanksgiving basket for the needy. In the social hour, Miss Annie Lee Cherry gave two splendid dialect readings and a number of games and contests were played.

A delightful refreshment plate was served to Miss Nell Foley, Mesdames Glenn Dixon, H. E. Bradley, W. E. Smith, H. B. Gilbert, J. H. Martin, David Erickson, J. D. Thweatt, Daisy Dean, W. L. Ponder, S. W. Overby, R. Lee Joiner, O. M. Smith, Geo. Howery and the hostess, Mrs. Foley.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

What do we know, we ask ourself. Literature and people are the extent of our knowledge. We know of course that we were born in Tennessee, but we are almost afraid to mention it, now that we know we have a secret enemy. There is a comfort, however, in the little paragraphs that often come to us in these words, "You say what I feel and cannot say." On this constantly recurring message, we base so much of the personality of our family—and shall continue to do so when occasion rises.

We know of three lovely girls who will become brides between now and Christmas time (perhaps you know more). But knowledge of these three in particular was given to us as a secret and those things we never tell.

Then we know four families who expect the stork within a short time. They are happy over it. We wish they might know that life is always young when there's a baby in the house.

As the season advances we know so many Halloween parties that will be given on the night of Oct. 31. For a week now Halloween decorations have been stressed. But on Oct. 31, that prosperity that seems to have been just round the corner for years, will seemingly arrive.

There's a constantly recurring "Had you heard?" in our ears. It's always something that might be construed as scandal. But though we have heard much of real scandal, that, too, is a thing our brain strives to forget.

We know the loveliest speaking voice in Wichita Falls, and the lovely spirit that has produced it. We know the two exquisite voices that blend in duets in almost hypnotic music. We know the most adorable vocalist and we know the best sport in the community chest campaign.

We have a friend. We hope we have many, but this one might be put in the balance against our "enemy."

This friend of ours says her father once called her a professional amateur, because she tried everything and did not finish much. The latter word, we believe, has been lost in the years. She has sound common sense and a sparkling humor. She is constantly, it seems, at flight; working for the rich and the poor of the community, whenever she is called upon and often when she is not. But her house is clean and garnished (where did we get that quotation?).

Many women have many irons in the fire, but despite the professional amateur designation, we ran into this woman's home the other morning and found her working on a hooked rug just as nonchalantly as she would scale the Alps with a congenial party.

To be a well balanced woman, to be perfectly normal, to be fearless in comment, and at the same time to spread happiness wherever one goes, is something worth more than great riches. A late New Yorker told of an old tombstone on which was engraved: "Lord, she is thin—" It might be written of her if the letter "e" was added to "thin."

Pleasant Valley P.-T. A. Increases Membership

In the second meeting of the school P.-T. A., Pleasant Valley almost doubled its membership with the enrollment of 10 new members.

The meeting was opened with a devotional and the program was given almost entirely by children of the school. Numbers were given as follows: Reading, "The Frogs," Mary Margaret Cowden; reading, "Wisdom," Dean Beeler; group of five songs by 16 girls; poem, "What P.-T. A. Can Do for Neighbors," Mrs. C. E. Russell; talk, "How Parents Can Use Report Cards," Miss Della Beeler.

An interesting report of the county council meeting at Electra was given by the president, Mrs. G. C. Hathaway.

In the business session, it was planned that report cards be bought for the school out of the P.-T. A. funds as the county does not furnish them this year. A Halloween party was planned to be given at the school house.

In room count, Miss Mattie Beeler's room won the prize for the month.

There were 20 members present.

Mrs. Lepley Honoree At Handkerchief Shower

Members of the Cashion "Get Together" club met at the home of Mrs. Lee Prescott Wednesday afternoon to honor their retiring president, Mrs. Bert Lepley, with a handkerchief shower. Mrs. Lepley has served the club as president since its organization in March, 1929.

Unique stunts and interesting contests made the afternoon pleasant and prizes were awarded to Mrs. Lepley and Mrs. J. E. Woodall. In the clever games, the honoree received a box decorated in autumn colors filled with pretty gifts.

A salad course was served to Mesdames J. E. Woodall, A. B. Hall, J. C. Beach, Wm. Jenny, P. L. Swinford, Betty Swinford, G. C. Rankin, T. L. Warren, Glen Prescott, Lee Prescott, Miss Hallie Dawson and the honoree.

Our Children

By ANGELO PATRI

A LITTLE MARGIN

There is nothing like having a little margin to give one poise and that delightful feeling of security. A balance in the bank, however close to the line, is most comforting. A spiritual reserve in the recess of the soul is a very tower of strength. Mothers of all people need to remember this, need to lean hard on their fund of strength. The children eat into it with alarming speed. At the end of each day one is likely to find oneself spent, empty at the end of things.

The busy mother grows impatient with us when we say with calm aloofness, "Spare yourself. Take it easy. You are getting all tired out and will it do for you in the end? You can't help the children. You can't even help yourself when you are so tired that you snap like an angry turtle at a gesture. Take it easy."

I agree that it is always easier to talk than to act but this matter of holding out on one's spiritual reserve is too important to be dismissed lightly. It is upon this reserve, this inner strength, that we live from day to day. It is upon this reserve fund that the children draw for growth. It is out of this piled up experience, wisdom and power that we give the children instruction and guidance and any sort of help they need. And they need something of us hourly. How can we spend it and save it too?.

Give it with gladness. Don't feel that you are working hard when you have to advise or correct a child. First think a little. Be quiet for an instant before you begin. Sit down to the job. Speak slowly and gently. Let the strength come from you as water pours from the spring. If you can do this the strength flows back in again as it comes out. You will scarcely feel the drain because something of the child's spirit comes to meet yours. It is resistance that wears one down.

If you get the child's willing attention to what you have to say the resistance is reduced to a minimum. You can soon disperse it. He will follow you gladly when his spirit harmonizes with yours. That is not always possible but it is possible more times than not and by piling up the success we reduce the resistance and the wear and tear upon body and mind.

We can cut down the work of the day to the essentials. It is remarkable how many things we do that we need not do. We take too many steps to reach our ends. We say too many words to tell our story. We feel too deeply about things that do not matter. We get all worked up because somebody said something about us or the children. We pant in our haste to keep up to a false standard. We neglect the rest hour, the time for meditation and prayer that is the very source of all our power.

Mothers need to consider this gravely. Take time out to build up a physical and mental reserve so that in emergency you have something to fall back on, and all the time you have that comfortable feeling of being fit and ready. A little margin of safety is a source of content.

Two Attractive Skirts
Patterns 2458 and 2276
By ANNE ADAMS

Blouses, this season, fairly leave you breathless and there's absolutely no reason at all why their skirtmates shouldn't do the same. Pattern 2458 is tricky for it can be made with or without pleats and with a normal or raised waistline. Pattern 2276 places its pleats at one side only.

Both skirts may be ordered only for waist measurements 26 to 36. In size 28 Pattern 2458 requires two yards 54 inch fabric, and Pattern 2276 requires 1⅝ yards 54 inch fabric. Illustrated step-by-step sewing instructions included with each pattern.

Each of these models is 15c. (30c for both.) Send coins or stamps (coins preferred.) Please write very plainly your name, address, style number and size of each pattern ordered.

A. A. U. W. Group Makes Plans For Open Meeting

Members of the preschool group of the American Association of University Women met Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. R. J. Eubanks, the chairman, when a very interesting program was given with Mrs. R. T. Walker as leader.

Mrs. Walker discussed the physical growth of the child for the first 12 months and Mrs. W. P. Glade led the discussion on an article, "The Modern Mother," from the Parent's magazine.

In the business session, final arrangements were made for the open meeting to be given by this group at the Wichita club, Nov. 9, at 6:45, when Dr. C. W. Stevenson will talk on "Emotional Behavior of Children."

Two new members were elected, Mesdames W. R. Abbott and Dan Landien and dainty refreshments were served to them and to Mesdames W. B. Warren, B. F. Campbell, John Ebner, W. P. Glady, Eubanks, R. T. Walker, O. M. Wallace, T. V. Wisely, C. Q. Arnold, M. V. McDonald, C. V. Reynolds, Marion Smith, W. E. Walker and the hostess, Mrs. Eubanks.

Junior Social Service Group Sets Objective

Members of the social service committee of the Junior forum met Thursday afternoon with their leader, Mrs. Jozach Easley at her home on Baylor to make plans for the coming season.

Miss Lucile Wilson will continue the work she has been so ably conducting at the day nursery and Miss Marietta Hunt will have charge of the hospital activities. Any one who has old clothing or magazines is requested to get in communication with Miss Hunt or with Mrs. Easley, and packages will be called for.

A shower for the day nursery is featured for the meeting on Nov. 19.

The junior social service committee has declared for its objective this year, a junior college scholarship from each of the affiliated clubs of the city. The Unity club has already taken up this work. The Unity club yearbooks have programs written in script, thus saving the money to use for scholarship purposes. Mrs. Ray Thompson will assist Mrs. Easley in the pursuit of this objective.

Kay Cason will write and send cards of congratulations, condolences and sympathy on all occasions, it has been announced.

Attention of senior forum members as well as of other friends to social service work is enlisted for the Junior forum group.

Don't Sop Juices Of Vegetables Mrs. Post Urges

By EMILY POST
Author of "Etiquette, the Blue Book of Social Usage"

B. L. K.—How about eating vegetables that have juices? Such as peas, brussels sprouts and some other vegetables. To me the essence of the dish is in the juice at the bottom. It contains the taste of the vegetable itself with the delicious butter and other seasoning. One cannot get this liquid with a fork. Is it obligatory to leave it?

Answer — When alone in your own house you might be supposed to be able to do what you please. But if you ask about standards of taste, side dishes and spoons for vegetables are tabu. Drop a small piece of bread in the juices if you like, and then eat with a fork. But don't sop it, except with the fork. Don't hold one end in the fingers and don't wipe the plate with it.

E. C. E.—I have always held my fork in my right hand when eating meat and vegetables, except of course when I cut. We were told in school that this is correct as it is less awkward than holding the fork in the left hand. My mother, however, claims it is wrong. She says one should always hold the fork in the left hand unless one is eating pie or salad or fish. Please tell me who is correct?

Answer—Hold fork in left hand when cutting and continue eating with it as long as you hold it prongs down—or at least for so long as you hold knife in right hand. Transfer fork to right hand when not using knife, and whenever fork is held prongs up and used shovel fashion.

B. V. P.—Is it ever correct to assist food on the fork by means of a piece of bread?

Answer—Yes, use a small crust.

A. A. R.—When lobster is served in the shell, is it eaten with the cocktail fork just as crabs are?

Answer—I suppose it might be, but the ordinary small sized fork is conventional and better. Shell of claws should be well cracked, in kitchen.

WHAT'S THE USE!

Diner (with very underdone steak): I said well-done, waiter. Well done.

Waiter: Oh, think you sir, thank you very much. It's seldom we get a word of praise in this place. —The Humorist.

Presbyterial Distri Auxiliary Has Meeting

There were 23 ering from the Wichita Falls First Southern Presbyterian church meeting was called to order at 10:10 by Miss Clara Lowrance, president and Dr. E. S. Lowrance gave an inspiring devotional study. Mrs. King Abernathy of Iowa Park gave the address of welcome and a charming response was given by Mrs. W. L. Massie of Vernon.

Following brief announcements of the outlined work, Mrs. J. E. Hall of Wichita Falls, gave two beautiful violin numbers, with Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff accompanying.

Dr. Gaines B. Hall gave a brief view of Psalms and Mrs. J. A. Birdsong of Vernon, made an impressive talk on the importance of literature in the organization. A message from Mrs. Ohler was given by Mrs. Paul Donald of Bowie, and after special music, Mrs. Fred Chamberlain of Clarendon, the principal speaker of the day and the leader of a discussion on the work of women, was presented. Mrs. Chamberlain is vice president of the presbyterial.

Lunch at Noon

Luncheon was served by the hostess group on tables that were beautifully decorated with autumn flowers. At 1:15, the devotional study was opened by Mrs. George Fleming of Wichita Falls. Mrs. J. T. Hall of Bowie talked on "Christian Social Service," and Mrs. F. B. Elliott of Vernon on "Assembly's Home Mission."

The discussion of woman's work was continued with Mrs. Fred Chamberlain as leader and the business meeting following was presided over by Miss Lowrance.

Dr. H. S. Springall talked at 2:30 on the assembly's evangelistic campaign with an open forum furnishing time for discussion by all members present. At 3 o'clock, the meeting was adjourned with prayer.

END SEEN FOR 'LAME DUCKS'

Next Session of Congress Probably Last Odd Meet

CHARLES S. HAYDEN
Record News Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—When congress convenes in December it probably will be the last "lame duck" session in the history of that body. The so-called "lame duck" amendment to the federal constitution, which passed congress last winter, already has been ratified by 16 states and it is confidently predicted that similar action will be taken by the necessary 20 more out of the 32 legislatures which are scheduled to meet during the coming January.

When the requisite 36 states have ratified the amendment the secretary of state will issue a proclamation promulgating it. Under the terms of the amendment it becomes effective "on the 15th day of October following its ratification," which, if the prediction is borne out, will be Oct. 15, 1933. Therefore congress will meet Jan. 3 each year, instead of the first Monday in December as at present and following the biennial election it will be the new congress which meets.

Inauguration Advanced

This will eliminate the 13-month hiatus between the election and the date when the men so elected meet in regular session. Under the new regime less than two months will elapse between the election and the meeting of the new congress. It also advances the date for holding the inauguration of president and vice president from March 4 to Jan. 20 so that the next president, whether he be Herbert Hoover or Franklin D. Roosevelt, will lose 42 days of his four-year term.

The first to suffer, however, will be the members of the house elected this year and those members of the senate whose terms normally would expire March 4, 1935. Instead, their terms will expire Jan. 3, 1935, when the new congress meets. At present the man who is elected in November, begins drawing salary from March 4 but, unless there is a special session called, need not put in his appearance in Washington until the December of the year following his election. The old congress holds over until March 4, enacts the necessary supply bills and such other legislation as may be called for. It has frequently happened that this final session of congress has been dominated by men defeated at the November election and who are known in political parlance as "lame ducks." It has been charged that all too often these so-called "lame ducks" have been more interested in feathering their own nests by obtaining a federal or diplomatic appointment than in the public weal. Moreover, it was urged by Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, author of the "lame duck" amendment, that while the 13-month wait before the new congress assumed its duties might have been necessary in the stage coach days of the republic it is now out-of-date. He contended that an officeholder or an administration, repudiated at the polls, should continue to function only long enough to induct his or its successor into office.

Rejected by One

Only nine state legislatures have met in regular session since the amendment was adopted by congress. Of these eight ratified the amendment. These are New York, Mississippi, New Jersey, South Carolina, Kentucky, Rhode Island, Virginia, and Louisiana. It was rejected by the Massachusetts legislature which, however, as it meets annually, will have another chance to ratify it this coming winter. In addition there have been eight states whose legislatures met in extra or special sessions and which adopted ratification resolutions. They were Alabama, Arkansas, Michigan, Maine, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Indiana and Texas.

The 32 states whose legislatures meet this winter and from among which 20 must ratify the amendment before it can be promulgated are Arizona, California, Colorado, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Idaho, Georgia, Iowa, Kansas, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, New Mexico, North Carolina, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Ohio, Oregon, South Dakota, Tennessee, Utah, Vermont, Washington, West Virginia, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Political Preacher Censured by Pastors

HOWARD, Kan., Oct. 27. (AP)—For his part in the campaign of Dr. John R. Brinkley, the Rev. Samuel Cookson, Methodist minister, was censured today in resolutions adopted by the Methodist Episcopal ministers of the Emporia district.

The resolutions ask that Bishop Charles L. Mead, Kansas City area, and the district superintendents of Kansas investigate the activities of Mr. Cookson in the Milford gland specialist's campaign as independent candidate for governor.

They assert that the Milford pastor has been traveling with Dr. Brinkley, introducing the candidate, offering prayer and making speeches in his behalf.

Ford and Radiator Co. Active for Republicans

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Robert H. Jackson, Jamestown, N. Y., lawyer who is chairman of the statewide committee of Democratic lawyers formed to protect the interests of the party, today issued a statement through headquarters in which he charged that Henry Ford and the American Radiator company are the two companies most active in urging employes to vote for President Hoover.

Jackson said that the American Radiator company, which has three plants in Buffalo and several others in upstate cities, has sent a letter to all employes urging them to vote for President Hoover.

Cherokee Indians File Treaty Claims For $16,000,000

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (UP)—Suits to collect more than $16,000,000 from the United States on the basis of old and unpaid treaty obligations have been filed in the court of claims by the eastern and western Cherokee Indians.

The largest of the claims is based on the distribution of Cherokee Indian funds to negroes who had been slaves to the Indians. Following the emancipation declaration, the Indians' complaint charges, the slaves were freed and placed on the rolls of the Cherokee tribes.

The Indians ask that $4,734,070 be paid on this account, together with interest which adds more millions to the claim.

Two suits, five in number, were filed by Houston N. Teehee. He was appointed to represent the Indians following a meeting of the tribal council.

Wilbarger Gins Boost Season Total to 27,918

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 27.—Despite the inclement weather which disrupted cotton picking this week, Wilbarger county gins turned out almost 6,000 bales during the past week to boost the season's total to 27,918 Thursday. The net total for the week was 5,800 bales.

In spite of the adverse weather the season's total still is well ahead of the ginnings for the corresponding date in 1931, when the season's grand total amounted to approximately 50,000 bales. At this date last year the total was only 21,531 bales. With 5,800 bales ginned during the week it is believed that the season's ginning record for a single week, made last week when the gins handled 6,531 bales, would have been broken.

OIL OPERATOR SETTLES CLAIM

Oklahoman's Entire Fortune Goes for Payment

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 27. (INS)—Frank Hilton Greer, pioneer Oklahoma oil and royalty operator, today turned over practically his entire fortune to stockholders of the Petroleum Royalties company to satisfy a claim which an auditor's report showed Greer owed the company.

Greer's fortune, formerly valued in millions, was insufficient to satisfy the entire $959,000 claim, so half of his wife's royalty property was included to make complete payment.

The claim grew out of alleged dissipation of assets of the company during a period it was under Greer's management.

The settlement was made in federal court here following the filing of a suit by T. K. Booth of Independence, Kan., against the corporation.

While under Greer's management, the company was sold to J. Edward Jones, a New York investor, in 1931.

Lawyers Assail Demo Attack on Supreme Court

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (UP)—Franklin D. Roosevelt's departure from his set speech at Baltimore, in which he referred to the United States supreme court as "controlled" by the Republican party, has brought a storm of criticism from prominent Republicans.

In a biting statement, James M. Beck, dormer solicitor general of the United States, called Roosevelt "a demagog." Silas H. Strawn, former president of the American Bar association, said he was "amazed that any reputable member of the bar . . . should make that statement which strikes at the very foundation of our government."

93 Memphis Students Make Honor Roll Grades

MEMPHIS, Texas, Oct. 27.—A total of 93 students in the Memphis public schools made honor roll grades the first six weeks of school that ended last week. West ward, including the first five grades of school, led the list with 76 honor students. Junior high was second with nine students and the high school, composed of ninth, 10th and 11th grades had only eight honor students.

This number compares favorably with the number making the honor roll the first six weeks of school last year, according to Supt. H. A. Jackson.

Cotton Quarantined to Prevent Spread of Weevil

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (UP)—The department of agriculture today placed a quarantine on cotton shipments from six Florida counties in an effort to prevent spread of the pink boll worm to other parts of the cotton belt.

PAIN DEADENED CHEST COLDS LOOSENED WITHOUT DRUGS

Get quick relief from neuralgia pain, sciatica pain, neuritis pain, rheumatic pain, lame back, stiff neck, headache, strains and chest colds by rubbing plenty of Baume Bengue (pronounced Ben-Gay) on the spot. It doesn't blister or stain. Rub it in till it sinks down and soothes the pain or breaks up the chest cold. Take no drugs, for any drug that is powerful enough to "deaden" pain or loosen a chest cold may not be good for you.

But beware of imitations. Ask your druggist for Baume Bengue by name (called "Ben-Gay" in English). There are many analgesic baumes, mostly cheap imitations of Ben-Gay made out of synthetic drugs. That is why they are cheap. That is also why they are ineffective. Insist on Ben-Gay and you will get real results.

SMITH ASSAILS GOP IN BOSTON

'Warrior' Given Ovation By New Englanders

ovation, the program went on the air nationally.

The night was a triumphant climax to a day in which Smith had scored a strong popular success. Factory crowds in important industrial centers cluttered his train at station stops in hundreds to welcome Smith. He was traveling, of course, through very friendly territory.

Nevertheless he interpreted the demonstrations as manifestations of the industrial areas' disapproval of the tariff and their protest against the economic situation.

Hero at Providence

In Providence, particularly, he was the hero. There 15,000 persons encumbered the streets to welcome him and another 3,500 jammed the infantry hall. There he promised his best efforts to elect Roosevelt and Garner and there he warned that Republicans were trying to steal votes from Roosevelt by exhorting voters to write in his own name.

In Providence, as later in the Boston arena every mention of Roosevelt and Garner drew storms of applause.

Governor Ely abruptly cut down his speech as radio time for Smith approached. When Smith was presented, the audience of 15,000 men and women, seething, shrieking their cheers, jumping on chairs, waving hats, throwing confetti in the air, swishing flags excitedly, ran entirely wild.

Mrs. Smith beamed and bowed incessantly. Flushed of face as always, Smith grinned, raised his hand vainly time and time again in reminder of precious radio minutes and surrendered himself to an inevitable continuation of the tremendous outburst.

Back of him the band banged out "The Sidewalks of New York" over and over again.

States Purpose

Smith had come to help elect, primarily, the state ticket, headed by Governor Ely. But, it was also one of his major speeches for Roosevelt and Garner and he lost no time asking for their election.

Former Governor Smith began his address by saying:

"I invaded New England for a purpose, and I propose before this audience tonight in the time allowed to me to show that the purpose is well founded, and that purpose was to come into New England and ask for the unqualified, full and complete support of Franklin D. Roosevelt and John Garner.

"I thought probably tonight while we are all here in this little family gathering and are sitting around the table and you are saying to me, 'father, what is this all about?' and I can probably tell you, and I wanted to have a kind of a little melodrama with its serious and its comic side, and I entitled it 'the Republican failure, or what happened to the Republican best minds.'

"We will take the first and leading character of the play, the president of the United States, and we will deal with his Detroit speech.

"Now I am satisfied of one thing, and that is that engineers and public accountants consume about 60 per cent of all the white paper that is manufactured in this country in making reports. Well, listen, there is enough of them here, and it is a hard thing for me to play favorites. I was trying to give a break to the little fellow.

Picture Radio Audience

"I can see a radio audience after listening to the Detroit speech of President Hoover. I can imagine their frame of mind. I can imagine even their physical condition after they have listened in, and it reminds me of a story that happened way down on the lower East Side in New York a good many years ago, when the doctor went to visit the patient that was suffering from an attack of pneumonia. The doctor on his way to the patient's house stopped with a few friends for a little stimulant. And at that early hour of the morning, it being 2 o'clock, the stimulant was too much for him, and he laid his head upon the breast of the patient and he said, "count," and the doctor accidentally fell asleep and at half-past five in the morning, the patient was saying, ninety-six thousand, two hundred sixty-five. That was the impression that the Detroit speech made upon the audiences generally that were listening in around the country."

Smith declared the greatest failure of the Republican administration was to leave the people in the dark as to our financial condition.

Deficit Covered Up

"In 1930," said the former governor, "the United States treasury was facing a deficit of one billion dollars—one billion! Not a single word was said about it, not a single line was penned about it. Why? Because the administration was living in the hope that things were going to rectify themselves, and if you study that expression to its last and final analysis, it is the whole story of the present administration, living constantly in the hope that things would take care of themselves, that divine providence would intervene, and there would be no occasion for anything forthcoming from the government.

"Well, that was all right, they got away with it. Nobody knew anything about it until you come to the following fall of 1931, when the 1932 budget was being prepared, and there was an additional billion dollars of deficit. Then it was that the administration suddenly woke up to the necessity for new and additional forms of taxation, and consequently in the spring of this year, at a time when the people could least bear it, at a time when taxation was a great hardship, at a time when taxation was bound to retard business and economic recovery, we have the great bureau in Washington, with all of the new and additional and burdensome and so-called nuisance taxes—they were imposed upon the American people—Gasoline, the additional penny when you mail a letter, taxes on amusements, every form of taxation calculated to annoy and distress a peoples at a time when they were least able to bear it.

Costs Mount

"In the meantime, absolutely nothing was done by the Republican administration to curtail the cost of government.

"I picked up the paper the other day, and my eye accidentally fell on an article that showed that the forecast for this fiscal year beginning on the first of July, is a half a million deficit, and wherever you propose under the new forms of taxation—what did I say, half a million? Oh, I meant a half a billion. A half a million—chicken feed! Small change! It is a half a billion.

"Well, if this contention that the best brains are in the Republican party—let us take a look at the states of this union.

"Every successful and progressive president of the United States during my time has been a former governor of a state—Cleveland, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson and Calvin Coolidge.

"I am talking about successful presidents."

"The president in that speech speaking about the finances of the country, said, in answer to the Democratic candidate Franklin Roosevelt, that even if he stopped all public works, stopped everything, he would have to finally take $500,000,000 from the veterans, and he said that would be a gross injustice. A gross injustice to whom? To the taxpayers, that is the gross injustice, because there are men receiving money from the federal government today that not only never left this country but never saw any kind of service, were never in the service or have no disability traceable to the service.

"I don't know what you said, but I know what I said—the injustice there is to the taxpayer.

Hoover Passes Buck

"Now I was amused in that Detroit speech to see the president blaming all the failures of his administration upon the Democratic house of representatives. That is an easy way to get away from it, blame it on somebody else. What about the Republican members of that house. Was he able to hold them? He was not. Was he able to deliver them for policy? He was not."

Smith here praised Roosevelt's achievements as governor of New York. He said: "The constructive reforms inaugurated in this state for the benefit and in the interest of the commonwealth of Massachusetts were enacted upon Governor Ely's initiation, with the force of public opinion behind them, in spite of a Republican legislature."

The speaker asserted that Hoover's first great mistake was when he "fell for Borah."

"The Idaho Potato"

"As I said to the newspaper men when I was leaving New York," Smith continued, "The Idaho potato sold him a gold brick. He convinced him that it was necessary for him to promise an extraordinary session of congress for farm relief, and Hoover called it and made his big mistake, because the legislators immediately began to tinker with the tariff, and for 15 solid months, they left this country and its business in a state of chaos, and the special interests got everything into that tariff that they wanted."

Going further into the tariff, Smith said:

"They saw a rapid decline in our exports, working injury and detriment to American business. They saw a great tariff wall being erected against us, and they foresaw, and it happened that the kingdom of Great Britain, always a free trade country, set up a tariff wall against the United States, to reciprocate in kind for the treatment that we gave to her for her imports into this country.

"The tariff is more far-reaching than the intelligent mind of Washington was able to determine. All of the large European countries owe us money. They haven't got it. The only way they can pay is in goods, and what do we say to them? We say, 'no, we won't take it that way. We build up this tariff wall to keep the goods out. If you ain't got the money, we will give you a little bit longer time to pay.'

"We haven't got the background. We are a mob, and they are the intelligence. In the households, leading Republicans all hold diplomas of the university. In the home of the Democrats, never take the horseshoe from the door."

Of Secretary of the Treasury Mills Smith declared:

"He went down to Maine to talk to the Republican party of that state, and on the same night, Gene Tunney was there. The secretary of the treasury thought that he would indulge in what he calls a 'pleasantry' and he said 'I suppose that Tunney has been called up here to raise the intellectual level of the Democratic party.'

"There is sarcasm for you. There is a fellow that is sitting upon the throne and looking down at the subjects. And that suggested to me that we might think a little bit tonight about what is the intellectual level of the Republican party."

NEW ENGLANDERS CHEER AND HEAR SMITH

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 27. (AP)—Alfred E. Smith, brown derby and all, came into New England today accompanied by a rain storm which dampened the clothes but not the cheers of crowds in Connecticut and Rhode Island.

Crowds at Stamford, Bridgeport and New Haven welcomed "the happy warrior" in Connecticut. Hundreds jammed the railroad station here to greet the 1928 Democratic standard bearer on his way to Boston, to make his second major address of the campaign.

Four thousand enthusiasts sat in Infantry hall for more than two hours to await a brief speech in which Smith urged the election of the Roosevelt-Garner ticket. He called to mind how steadfastly Rhode Island and Massachusetts had stood by him in his defeat of 1928 and urged that none of those who supported him remain away from the polls "through dissatisfaction."

"Don't do that," he said, "it isn't fair to the country and it certainly isn't fair to the party. When a considerable number of people stay away from the polls you can make certain it is the beginning of a breakdown in Democratic government. Don't do it. First for the sake of the country and next, for the sake of the party."

Perspiration was on the face of the speaker as he told the audience, "I am invading three New England states for the purpose of doing what I possibly can to bring about the election of Roosevelt and Garner, as well as the Democratic state tickets in all of the New England states where candidates are running."

Offers Help

He promised that in his Bostoh speech he would give New England abundant reasons for supporting Roosevelt and Garner. He pointed out that the Democratic platform made a special appeal to the rank and file of the people of the country while the Republican platform "goes on the claim credit for the Republican party for everything except the depression."

The Democratic platform, he said, offered more of help "in a time of sorrow and trouble to the American people" than the Republican platform.

Smith asserted that in recent weeks postcards had been sent out calling upon supporters of Alfred E. Smith to write his name in on the ballot. This, he declared, was nothing except Republican propaganda.

"When there is no chance of Al's election, the Republicans would love to see a great many people vote for him," he said. "Don't fall for it, because it doesn't do me any good; it certainly doesn't do you any good, and if you harm the chances of the Democratic party at this critical period, you might be hurting the country itself; so make your selection please, make your selection directly, and let us express here in Providence this afternoon the hope that that selection will be the Democratic ticket, Roosevelt and Garner."

Smith was greeted here by a crowd so large that hundreds were forced to stand outside the railroad station in a downpour to cheer and wave a greeting.

On leaving New York, Smith scoffed at Republican criticism of his first major speech in Newark, N. J., that he revived old charges of bigotry during his presidential campaign.

"I didn't go down there to be kind to the Republicans," he said, "and it's always the stuck pig that squalls."

At Stamford Gov. Wilbur L. Cross and his party of Democratic state leaders joined the entourage. At Bridgeport, Mayor Edward T Buckingham and an official delegation of 100 Democrats welcomed Smith. New Haven also turned out to greet him and at this point Smith issued a statement calling on his supporters to get behind the campaign for re-election of Governor Cross. Governor Cross and his party left the train at New London.

Cotton Picker At Ralls Dies From Alcoholism While Bedmate Sleeps

RALLS, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Death came so silently early today to W. E. Barnett, a cotton picker from Cleburne, that his bedmate arose this morning, dressed, and went to breakfast unaware that he had been sharing a bed with a corpse.

The Cleburne man, about 30, died at the C. R. Reed farm six miles south of Ralls, "of effects of corn whisky which he drank some time Wednesday, Oct. 26," Justice of the Peace F. M. Reed said in his inquest verdict.

Dr. W. C. Snow said Barnett died about midnight of "acute alcoholism."

J. C. Richmond of Fort Worth, who slept with Barnett, testified at the inquest at 10 o'clock this morning at the Reed farm that "I helped put him to bed. I do not think he moved after we put him to bed. He snored, and I went to sleep when he stopped."

"He was drunk when I helped put him to bed in a helpless condition," N. A. Logan also of Cleburne, testified. "If there was anything else the matter with him, I don't know it."

Barnett, Richmond and Logan were sharing a small shack on the Reed farm. Because of Barnett's condition of the previous night, Richmond, on arising this morning, did not wish to disturb his companion. The death was discovered about 6 o'clock this morning when Barnett was called.

SPEAKERS RAP 'FARMER JIM'

Election of Bullington Predicted at Rally

whatever in taking my position alongside most of the Christian ministers, the school teachers, the women of Texas in an honest, consistent, and legitimate effort to save Texas from what we know as Fergusonism."

In opening his address, Mr. McCorkle also asserted that such Democrats as Grover Cleveland, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Alfred E. Smith exercised the privilege of withdrawing support in some instances from a Democratic nominee when, in their judgment, the election of such a nominee would have been inimical to the best interests of the people.

Predicts Bullington's Election

"My prediction that Orville Bullington will be the next governor of Texas is no idle threat," the speaker said. "From all over this state are coming reliable reports indicating that in many localities trial polls now show Mr. Bullington leading by two to one. A political revolution now is gaining foothold in this section of Texas which lies north of the T. & P. railway. It has progressed to such an extent that the dawn of a new political era can be safely signaled."

Mr. McCorkle charged that almost before the polls closed on Aug 27, James E. Ferguson had charged that wholesale fraud and irregularity had been extant during the day's voting, and threatened a contest in the courts in case Mrs. Ferguson failed of a majority. When the contest suit was filed by attorneys for Governor Sterling, the speaker continued, Mr. Ferguson did everything in his power to defer and prevent a presentation in court of the evidence of such fraud in the run-off primary.

The speaker proceeded to declare his possession of more than 100 sworn affidavits testifying that more than 800 people voted in an East Texas county on Aug. 27 without having paid their 1931 poll taxes, without having qualified by residence as voters, but after having been solicited by "known leaders of the Ferguson campaign."

"A restaurant owner at Gladewater," Mr. McCorkle continued, acknowledged that more than 100 meals served on Aug. 27 to unknown transients were paid for by two men known as 'Blackie' and 'Williams.' The latter is the recognized Ferguson leader at Gladewater. Nearly all of those 100 free boarders were gathered from trains coming into Gladewater, and were hurried to the polls to vote before getting the free dinner. I have affidavits to prove that, and they will be exhibited before you in photostatic reproductions within a few days."

The speaker also described alleged irregularities in voting in Rusk and Smith counties. If the evidence gathered could have been produced in court in the attempted contest suit, Mr. McCorkle said, it would have resulted in the striking of at least 7,000 votes from the total registered for Mrs. Ferguson.

Voters to Judge Case

"According to the supreme court, our contest election laws are inadequate for this situation. But on Nov. 8, the high tribunal of the popular will sits in judgment in this case, and the cause of Fergusonism is due to fall," Mr. McCorkle said.

Dr. Sandefer urged the right of any voter to go into the primary in an effort to eliminate announced candidates not agreeable to him and to vote subsequently as his own conscience directs regardless of party pledges printed on ballots used in the first primary.

"No political party, nor legislature, has the right to put a pledge at the top of the ballot and by the process of duress say to the voter that he cannot use his influence to bar from office a candidate already declared by the highest tribunal before which he could be tried to be unworthy to hold public office," Dr. Sandifer asserted.

"Everybody who travels," he continued, "knows that we have become the laughing stock of everybody everywhere, both Democrats and Republicans. I make no apology when I say in the spirit of a Christian gentleman that I am in favor of reaching down into the political mire in this state, and helping to raise therefrom my adopted state, and putting the political thinking of my fellow citizens, insofar as I can, on a level where the love of country, devotion to home, the integrity, high standards and ideals of our Christian civilization will be preserved. I favor finding a man who will do that, and supporting him as a leader in our imperial state during the next two years.

"West Texas has never had a governor. This is the choicest opportunity we have had. I beg of you to remember that when you go to the polls on Nov. 8, you are free to vote for the man who represents your highest ideals of governmental integrity. Orville Bullington then will be your next governor."

More than a dozen local citizens occupied the platform with the visiting speakers. The speaking was preceded by a brief concert by the Los Caballeros band, directed by Paul Seeds. The band returned late Thursday afternoon from a tour which included Henrietta, Jolly, Byers, Charlie, Burkurnett, Clara, Electra, Iowa Park, Kemp City, Archer City and Holliday.

Mr. McCorkle left Thursday night for Fort Worth, where he is to speak Friday night. Dr. Sandefer will meet Mr. Bullington at Merkle Friday afternoon, and escort him to Abilene to address a Bullington rally there Friday night.

BULLINGTON STRIKES AT "INTIMIDATION"

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—What he described as "efforts to intimidate the voters of Texas and to force them to support the Democratic ticket by spreading fear that those sections of the state not supporting the ticket will be discriminated against" drew the fire of Orville Bullington, Republican nominee for governor in a campaign address here tonight.

Bullington read an editorial which appeared in the Lubbock Daily Journal this week, advising the people of Lubbock to vote for Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson for fear that the Texas Technological college would not receive its share of state appropriations under a Ferguson administration if voters of the city supported Bullington. It termed Bullington's candidacy "a lost cause."

"George III tried to intimidate our forefathers," Bullington shouted, "but they rebelled against it. There would have been no Alamo, no Goliad no San Jacinto, if the people of this great state could have been intimidated. We owe our liberty to an Anglo Saxon race that would not stand for such foolishness.

"You would not have this great school out here if our forefathers had yielded to such propaganda as that. Your country still would have been a part of old Mexico.

"Things have come to a pretty pass when a man can go about this state asking to be elected governor and force people to vote for him by threatening the destruction or impairment of an institution like your college."

"That is why we are going to vote for you," shouted a voice from the crowd.

Bullington repeated his proposal to quit the race if the Fergusons would withdraw, allowing the Democratic executive committee to "name an honest man for the place."

"I made this proposal first when they asked me how I would vote in the national race," Bullington said, "and it shut them up. They haven't let out a peep since."

"That's the truth," came from every section of the auditorium.

Services for Sailor Wait Widow's Arrival

Funeral services for W. R. Cherry, 30, will be arranged Friday night following the arrival of his widow from Norfolk, Va. Mr. Cherry formerly resided in Wichita Falls. He died Monday at Oklahoma City while visiting a brother after completing nine years service in the U. S. navy. The body arrived Thursday night from Oklahoma City and is held by the Hines mortuary.

Survivors are the widow; a sister, Mrs. R. J. Johnson of Jolly; and four brothers C. D. Cherry of Oklahoma City, and Lloyd, Clarence and Lowell Cherry, all of Wichita Falls.

Oil Problems Beset Capital

inception to its close, now near at hand.

He asked many questions about a mass meeting of operators held in Tyler last night, when he was petitioned to call the legislature.

"I should like to read the petition; I guess it will be coming along shortly," he said.

Governor Sterling convened a special session a year ago last July to enact laws giving the railroad commission enlarged authority to deal with the East Texas situation. At that time production in the prolific field was unbridled and there had grown a sizable revolt against any kind of state supervision.

After the legislature passed the laws, which now it may be necessary to enlarge upon, the governor declared martial law in the field and closed in all wells until such time as the regulatory agency could get men on the ground and obtain a firm grip on the production valve.

Martial law still obtains there but gradually the troops were withdrawn as the civil authorities got the situation in hand. There was much litigation in the courtrooms but conservation rules were observed with ever-diminishing friction until the late outbreak.

Confusion and unrest, caused by the court decision invaliding proration orders necessitated a call for more troops and Texas rangers to hold all operators in line until the court's decision had become official by entry of a decree formally setting out the tribunal's judgment.

Wilbur C. Hawk to Speak For Orville Bullington

AMARILLO, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Wilbur C. Hawk, president of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will speak in nine West Texas cities in behalf of the candidacy of Orville Bullington, Republican nominee for governor.

Next Wednesday and Thursday he will speak at Plainview, Floydada, Lockney, Dimmitt, Littlefield Brownfield, Lamesa, Slaton and Lubbock. His schedule has not yet been completed.

Oklahoma Court Affirms Slayer of 8-Year-Old Boy

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 27. (UP)—The criminal court of appeals late today affirmed the death sentence given Proctor McDonald in the holdup slaying of 8-year-old Raymond Butler, son of an Oilton druggist. The court set date of execution for Jan. 6, 1933.

To End a Cough In a Hurry, Mix This at Home

Saves $2. No Cooking! So Easy!

Millions of housewives have found that, by mixing their own cough medicine, they get a purer, more effective remedy. They use a recipe which costs about one-fourth as much as ready-made medicine, but which really has no equal for breaking up obstinate coughs.

From any druggist, get 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle, and add granulated sugar syrup to fill up the pint. The syrup is easily made with 2 cups sugar and one cup water, stirred a few moments until dissolved. No cooking needed. It's no trouble at all, and makes the most effective remedy that money could buy. Keeps perfectly, and children love its taste.

Its quick action in loosening the phlegm, clearing the air passages, and soothing away the inflammation, has caused it to be used in more homes than any other cough remedy.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of Norway Pine, famous for its healing effect on throat membranes. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

HASKELL HOST TO TEACHERS

Two-Day Institute Opens With 400 Present

Special to The Record News.

HASKELL, Texas, Oct. 27.—More than 400 teachers of four counties, Haskell, Knox, Stonewall and Throckmorton, opened a two-day institute here today.

The initial day was given over to instructions guided by notable educators of the state. Among these were Dr. J. T. Kimball, in charge of Baylor School of Medicine; Dr. A. W. Evans, head of the department of education, Texas Technological college; Miss Nancy Mosely, primary supervisor of Dallas county schools; Mrs. R. L. Kincaid, chairman of the 13th District Parent-Teacher association; L. A. Woods, superintendent of McLennan county schools and Democratic candidate for superintendent of public instruction; R. T. Ellis, secretary of the Texas Teachers association; and Judd Mortimer Lewis of the Houston post.

Dr. Kimball led sectional meetings in both high school and intermediate departments. Dr. Kimball is directing the work of superintendents and principals, and is assisting in the high school and intermediate sections. Miss Mosely is in charge of primary teachers work.

Mr. Woods will be the principal speaker at the inspirational program Friday morning.

G.O.P. 'Standpat' Policy Ruining U. S., Says Walsh

OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 27. (UP)—"Standpat" continues to be the motto of the Republican party and the spirit of Mark Hanna still rules that organization, Senator Thomas J. Walsh, Montana, said in a Democratic campaign speech here tonight.

The "standpat" policy, he added, has brought ruin upon the country and "should be repudiated by the people in the coming election."

"The country is sick unto death," Walsh said. "In certain quarters there is speculation as to whether civilization is not on the verge of dissolution."

Republican administrations since 1921 have turned deaf ears to the pleas of agriculture for relief, he said.

Neff Turns Off Inquiry With Remark on Weather

WACO, Texas, Oct. 27. (AP)—Former Gov. Pat M. Neff, now president of Baylor university, today told a newspaper man who called him and said he wanted to ask a question:

"Don't ask it, just forget about it"

He then remarked pleasantly what a fine, sunshiny day it was and wished the newspaper man a pleasant visit. The newspaper man had intended to ask the governor how he intended to vote in the gubernatorial race.

Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson succeeded Neff as governor in 1925. She is now the Democratic nominee for a delayed second term.

Jouett Shouse's Wife Prepares Divorce Plea

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Oct. 27. (AP)—Attorneys for Mrs. Marian Edward Shouse said today they were preparing a petition for her seeking a divorce from Jouett Shouse, former chairman of the Democratic national executive committee, and former congressman from this district.

End Colds Quick

HE was an easy victim to colds—and they hung on so long—until she suggested the use of NR tablets. He seldom catches colds now. When he does they are quickly broken up. A World's Record

MORE than three thousand births without a single loss of either mother or child! That is the official Piatt County record of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, in fifty years' family practise in Illinois.

No wonder mothers have such entire confidence in giving little ones Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin!

If you have a baby, you have constant need of this wonderful preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh herbs. A child who gets this gentle stimulant for the stomach, liver and bowels is always healthier. It keeps children's delicate systems from clogging. It will overcome the most stubborn condition of constipation. It builds them up, and is nothing like the strong cathartics that sap their strength and energy.

A coated tongue or bad breath is the signal for a spoonful of Syrup Pepsin. Children take it readily, for it is really delicious in flavor. Taste it! Take Syrup Pepsin yourself, when sluggish or bilious, or you are troubled with sick headaches and no appetite. Take some for several days when run-down, and see how it picks you up.

It is a prescription preparation which every drug store has ready; in big bottles, just ask anywhere for Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin.

One Sure Way to End Coughs and Colds

Persistent coughs and colds lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a new medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs, creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for persistent coughs and colds and other forms of throat troubles. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the infected membranes and stop the irritation and inflammation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of persistent coughs and colds, bronchial asthma, bronchitis and other forms of respiratory diseases, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if any cough or cold, no matter of how long standing, is not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (Adv.)

How Doctors Treat Colds and Coughs

To break up a cold overnight and relieve the congestion that makes you cough, thousands of physicians are now recommending Calotabs, the nauseless calomel compound tablets that give you the effects of calomel and salts without the unpleasant effects of either.

One or two Calotabs at bedtime with a glass of sweet milk or water. Next morning your cold has vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you wish—no danger.

Calotabs are sold in 10c and 35c packages at drug stores.—Adv.

HEADACHE

A Liquid Remedy Is Quicker

Nothing gives such quick relief from headache, neuralgic, rheumatic or periodic pains as Capudine because it is liquid and its ingredients are already dissolved. Thus your system can absorb them at once. Capudine brings delightful comfort and relaxation. No narcotics. Won't upset stomach. 10c, 30c, 60c. Also single dose.—Adv.

—when you require a tonic

. . . when you feel "tired out" . . . "all run-down" . . . "sluggish" . . . "listless" . . . "no appetite"—it is then time to pause and consider what may be the cause of this condition. If you suspect an organic or functional trouble of a serious nature consult a physician at once.

But if your vital organs are sound and you have thru overwork, worry, unbalanced diet, working conditions, "bad air," lack of proper exercise, unconsciously reduced your vitality and resistance, then restore your vital red-blood-cells and their hemoglobin content so that your blood and tissues may have the oxygen to purify and strengthen your body.

For decades S.S.S. has been the preferred tonic for restoring hemoglobin to the red-cells of the blood. Start to rebuild now. You will surprise yourself. S.S.S. is on sale at all drug stores in two convenient sizes—the larger is more economical and is sufficient for a two weeks' treatment.

OLNEY INVADES CHILLICOTHE FOR TODAY'S FEATURE BATTLE

The Rambler's Corner

By FRED THOMPSON

The Chillicothe Fracas

The Chillicothe Eagles enter the district No. 4, class B, contest with the Olney Cubs today with an undefeated record in the season's play to date. The Olney Cubs have won three and lost one.

The three Olney victories were over district foes, Crowell, Megargel and Burkburnett. The Cubs beat Crowell 14 to 0, Megargel 32 to 0, and Burkburnett 2 to 0. The team lost its opening game of the season to Graham in a non-conference game.

Chillicothe has played only two conference games. In the first the Eagles beat Seymour 45 to 0. Then they beat Archer City 38 to 0. In non-conference games the Eagles beat the class A childress eleven 26 to 7, and the Gould, Okla., team 61 to 0.

Chillicothe has scored a total of 170 points to 7 for the opposition. Olney has scored a total of 48 points to 6 for the opposition.

These figures would indicate that Chillicothe has far more power than the Cubs. But the statistics are not to be trusted. Chillicothe registered all those points over comparatively weak teams. The Eagles have not been extended at all this season. They will get their first real test of the season today.

While Chillicothe has been sailing along on calm seas, the Cubs have been extended to the limit. They have had only one easy game this season—that with Megargel. The Cubs opened their season with the Graham Steers, a class B team that with Nicklas and Turney back in the lineup probably could whip Childress off the map. Then the Cubs met Crowell and Burkburnett, with the Megargel game sandwiched in between. Neither the Crowell nor the Burk games were set-ups such as Chillicothe has encountered in Seymour and Archer City.

It looks, then, that the Olney boys would enter today's game at least slight favorites to win. This dope no doubt would suit the most exacting of fans but for one little incident—the Cubs' victory over Burkburnett by only two points. The fans as well as several football coaches and officials who saw the Olney-Burk game claim that since Olney couldn't score against Burkburnett in a more convincing manner, the team will have less than an even chance of pushing over a victory at Chillicothe.

Such apparently is the temper of the fans. Personally, this writer can venture no conjecture on the outcome of the game. We can only repeat what we said the other day, that the Chillicothe Eagles have an excellent chance to cop the title if Olney doesn't show more punch than it did against Burk.

They say this fellow St. John of the Cubs is one of the ablest broken field runners in this section. And plenty has been said and written about Rat Ramsey's all-around play for the Eagles. The Rambler expects to make some first hand investigations today about the way these boys play football.

The last time this writer was in Chillicothe was in 1930, and our task was the same which takes us there today—to cover the Olney-Chillicothe game. The Eagles had no slouch of a team in 1930. They held the Cubs scoreless the first half, but bit the dust in the last half.

If Olney wins today, Acker's boys can go back home champions of the district for the fifth straight year, for the three outstanding opposition teams in the district, Chillicothe, Crowell and Burkburnett, will have been conquered. If Chillicothe wins today, the Eagles will have the inside track on the championship but they will not be assured of it. They will have to dispose of both Crowell and Burkburnett, two teams that will be hard to stop.

Crowell at Burkburnett

The Crowell Wildcats play at Burkburnett tonight. It is going to be a fine battle, ranking with the Olney-Chillicothe game in thrills. Burkburnett will be tough for the Wildcats. The Dogs haven't given up hope, and want to make up for their loss to Olney.

The Dogs, we venture, will be in a pretty mean temper. We doubt that Crowell can stop them.

Crowell fans have doped it out that if Chillicothe whips Olney, and then Crowell wins successive games with Burkburnett and Chillicothe, the district race will be in a tie between Olney, Crowell and Chillicothe. It sounds pretty, but it will never work out, we fear. The flypaper that hinders the progress of the fly is that the Burkburnett team is not going to be that accommodating.

Seymour Team Meets Archer City Eleven

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Seymour football team went through a hard scrimmage Thursday afternoon with the second string using Archer City plays. The B squad was unsuccessful on line plays but completed passes for long gains. Coach Jenkins is still in doubt as to who he will start against the hard fighting Archer City club. The switching of Captain Coy to the backfield on the offense seems to have put more drive into the team but, the blocking of the club could still be improved. The main worry of Coach Jenkins lies in the fact that he has been unable to put a club on the field with both a blocking backfield and line. If the coach solves this problem by Friday the Archer City team will take a severe beating. On the other hand if he does not find a pass defense that will work the Seymour club will come out on the short end of the game.

Humberto and Slagel On Mat Card Tonight

Don Juan Humberto and Sol Slagel meet tonight in the main event of the weekly wrestling program scheduled for Govro arena. Humberto, the Mexican sheik, is one of the outstanding favorites in Wichita Falls while Slagel, giant football star, is a newcomer. On the semifinal Walter Stratton, another favorite here, will meet Ted Travis.

SCRAP DOPED TO BE CLOSE

Championship May Depend On Outcome

By FRED THOMPSON
Record News Sports Editor

All roads leading toward Chillicothe will be beaten paths by early afternoon today as Northwest Texans journey thitherward to watch the Chillicothe Eagles and Olney Cubs in what promises to be the biggest class B football attraction of recent years in these parts.

It is doped to be a close game. It may be a riot for either the Cubs or the Eagles. Games heralded as close affairs have often turned out that way. Whatever the nature of the final score, the outcome will have a great bearing in determining the championship of district No. 4. An Olney victory will cinch the crown for the Cubs of Albert Acker. A Chillicothe victory would throw the race into a scramble between Volney Hill's Eagles, Jess Johnson's Burkburnett Bulldogs and Grady Graves' Wildcats of Crowell.

The game will start promptly at 3:30 o'clock.

Fourteen members of the Olney team left for Vernon at noon yesterday and went through a final workout on the Vernon field. They bedded for the night at Vernon and will proceed to Chillicothe today. Those making the trip were Captains George Gilmore and A. J. (Bull) Graves, Elmore, Rue, St. John, Hennig, Sloan, Hammond, A. Pyeatt, True, Perkins, W. Pyeatt, Crawford, and Manager "Dugger" Wright.

The game wil be broadcast in Olney by a special hookup of a telephone and a talkie apparatus used in the movies. The broadcaster will describe the game play by play from the Chillicothe field, where the proper telephone connections have been made. One block on Main street will be closed to traffic during the game in order that fans may hear the report distinctly. The apparatus was tested yesterday by R. N. Lunn of the Lunn Furniture company in Olney, and was pronounced satisfactory. The Olney game at Chillicothe two years ago was broadcast in a similar manner.

Crowell Meets Bulldogs

The class B schools hold the spotlight both today and tonight in Northwest Texas, the two major class A battles, those between Wichita Falls and Vernon and Electra and Quanah being scheduled for Saturday.

The second major battle of district No. 4 will be enacted tonight when the Crowell eleven tangles with the Burk Dogs in a night game at Burkburnett. The Bulldogs are the favorites, due mainly to their stubborn battle against Olney last week, when they lost a 2 to 0 decision. Capt. Dick Todd of the Crowell eleven, however, is back in harness, and the Dogs may expect a hot battle from start to finish. Todd was out of the game with an injury when Olney beat the Wildcats 14 to 0.

A third conference game in the district this week will pit Archer City against the Seymour Panthers. The game will be played at Seymour.

Megargel, remaining member of the district, suffered a 30 to 6 reversal at Megargel Wednesday in a practice game with Throckmorton.

District 5 Games

While the fireworks will be popping in district No. 4, the neighboring district No. 5, of the class B circuit, will also send quite a few sparks into the ozone. Every team in the district will meet conference opposition. The Nocona Indians, pace setters of the loop with four conference victories, will meet Bridgeport at Nocona. The favored Graham Steers, who loom as almost certain district champions despite a lineup riddled with injuries, will take on Jacksboro at Graham. Bellevue will play at Newcastle.

The Decatur-Bowie conference game in district 5 was played at Bowie yesterday, Decatur registering its first victory of the season with a 12 to 0 verdict.

Other Texas games in this immediate vicinity will find Wellington playing at Clarendon, Quitaque at Matador, Shamrock at Hollis, Okla., and Hamlin at Stamford.

The powerful Southwestern Oklahoma conference in Oklahoma will put four conference games on the gridiron stage today for the edification of fans. Clinton leads the circuit with four conference victories, and they are expected to reap their fifth today when Erick invades their home lot. Erick has failed to win a conference game in three starts and are distinct underdogs today.

Lawton Plays Altus

The most interesting game in the conference probably will be Lawton's invasion of Altus. Lawton won the mythical state championship last year and boasts another powerful team this year. Altus likewise is strong, but last week was held to a bare 2 to 0 score in winning from the lowly Erick crew. The Altus affair with Lawton will be a night game.

The other conference jousts today include Weatherford's trip to Elk City for a night game, Mountain View at Frederick in a night battle, and Sayre at Mangum, also a night game.

Non-conference games besides the Lawton-Altus affair include Lone Wolf at Cordell, Snyder at Hobart, and Shamrock, Texas, at Hollis in a night game.

Oklahoma games in other conferences include Duke at Eldorado, Walters at Duncan, and Ringling at Waurika.

Matador Bullfighters Play Quitaque Today

Special to The Record News.

MATADOR, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Matador Bullfighters face a very heavy schedule for the remaining weeks of the season and Coach Stanford has given them plenty of work this week for their game with Quitaque here Friday. In the last meeting of the two teams in 1930, Quitaque was victorious and the Bullfighters are determined to get revenge for this defeat and to keep their 1932 record clean. In four games played so far this year, the Bullfighters have amassed a total of 155 points to 0 for their opponents. After the Quitaque game Friday, Floydada comes to Matador for perhaps the most important game of the season. The champion of the northeast section of this district will be determined in this game, Floydada beat Matador, 27 to 7, last year for the title of this section.

REAGAN PLAYS BOWIE TODAY

Zundy Eleven Meets Cubs At Electra

Both Junior high school teams of Wichita Falls will swing into action today.

The home game will mark the reappearance of the Reagan Redbirds before local fans. The opposition will be furnished by the Bowie Junior High school eleven. The game will be played at Coyote stadium and will start at 4 o'clock.

The Zundelowitz Junior high team, coached by Roy Golden, will meet the Electra Junior high Cubs for the second time this season in a game on the Electra gridiron. Last week the Electrans were victorious over the Zundymen here.

The Redbirds tied the Electrans, 7 to 7, in the first game of the season for the Reaganites. The game was played on the Coyote training field. Last week the Redbirds were defeated by the Saint Jo eleven at Saint Jo.

Admission to the local game today will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for students, it was announced.

FISHER STAR OF ELECTRA TEAM

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 27.—Coach Wilbur Presson's Tiger Cubs will meet the Zundelowitz eleven on the local gridiron Friday afternoon. The Cubs defeated this team, 12 to 6, last week and tied the Reagan Junior high two weeks ago. The flashy playing of Seburne Fisher in recent games has put the Cubs in good standing with fans. Junior pep squads have been organized, and the game will resemble a regular affair. Tickets will be 10 and 25 cents.

Wildcats to Depend On Forward Pass

Special to The Record News.

ARCHER CITY Texas, Oct. 27.—The Archer City Wildcats have had a week of strenuous work in preparation for their game with the Panthers at Seymour Friday. The Wildcats hope to make up for two losses, to Burkburnett and Chillicothe, with a victory over the Panthers and Coach Hodges has groomed his men in an aerial attack that is expected to click against the Panthers.

The Wildcats will be handicapped in the Panther game by the absence of three regular players. Sickness and scholastic ineligibility have put Hatcher, Calvert and Brewer, the latter a right guard, on the shelf for the week-end. Suitable replacements are available, however and the Archer City mentors consider they have a chance to win.

REGULARS OUT, SAYS LINDSEY

Team Goes Through Another Scrimmage Session

By BILL JENKINS

Charlie Hurd, regular end, and Vernon McDaniel, regular guard, will not be physically able to play in the Vernon game Saturday, according to Charles Lindsey, line coach. Ed Greenwood, captain, participated in yesterday's scrimmage and will be available for service Saturday, but it is doubtful if he will start.

Greenwood participated in the scrimmage yesterday aided by a strong brace that was put on his shoulder, and he was not allowed to partake of much of hard going. Ferris Johnson, the other disabled player, was in the scrimmage, and his playing proved that he was entirely fit for service tomorrow.

More Scrimmage

Coach Jefferies again drove his proteges in a lengthy, hard scrimmage. After a few wind-sprints and punting and passing practice, the Coyotes entered upon their fourth hard scrimmage this week. It lasted until darkness forbade further practice. Unlike Wednesday's scrimmage, they started with plenty of fire and maintained it throughout the afternoon.

Most of the afternoon was given over to the perfection of the passing attack. The regulars took the ball from one end of the field to the other a number of times by alternating long passes and deceptive runs.

Creecy, fast-hitting back, bore the brunt of the attack. He has played very little in the past two games, but from all appearances he will not only start the Vernon game, but will probably play the entire game. He was not so effective on the passes, but he was a consistent yard-gainer through the line.

Bob Brandon was playing at right tackle position, but he will probably be shifted back to end if neither Greenwood or Hurd is available Saturday. J. Creecy, a recruit from the center department, will probably start at the other end position. Creecy was an end on the junior high school team, but since his entrance into high school has devoted his time to the center position.

Preston Thompson was again the only consistent gainer through the center of the line. His driving smashes through the center wall should prove a great asset to the Coyote attack. He was not only a consistent ground gainer, but he was also the receiver in many of the passes.

Beck Handles Passes

Neither McKinney or Hill were used in yesterday's scrimmage. The passing was handled mostly by Weldon Beck, a reserve back. Beck's accurate passing was a large factor in the large number of completed passes.

At the quarterback position, it is about a toss-up between J. Z. Powell and Cleve Pierson as to the starter in the game Saturday. Powell has it over his smaller competitor in the way of experience, but Pierson is the type of player that never stops trying.

According to the coaches, the Coyotes will probably partake in another hard scrimmage today. Coach Jefferies has worked all week trying to perfect a combination of players with both fire and drive. The team will leave for Vernon Saturday morning.

Star Quanah Back May Not Play In Electra Tilt; Tigers Set For Fray

QUANAH, Texas, Oct. 27.—Bad luck has reigned over the Quanah Indian camp the past week.

Jones, fullback, and one of the chief ball luggers of the Tribe will probably see action from the sidelines Saturday when the Electra Tigers invade the Indian stronghold for the second conference game for the Indians in district 5. Jones is nursing a bruised and infected left arm. He continued workouts until orders from the "doc" came to keep Jones from actual scrimmage.

Coach Stallworth gave no hint as to who would fill Jones' position in the starting lineup of Saturday's game at Athletic field.

Mitchell, phantom end, who ably proved himself in the Coyote clash at Wichita Falls, Oct. 15, by covering the free ball, scoring for the Braves, will also warm the benches.

Despite the fact that Stallworth is minus two first stringers, and inclement weather and muddy field has prevailed for practice, he said the tribe will be in good condition Saturday.

Practice throughout the week in preparation for the Tigers has covered all departments of the game, with no great stress on any phase.

Coach Washam with his double backfield reports improvements.

TIGERS PEP UP FOR TRIBE GAME

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Tigers are beginning to pep up for their conference tilt with the Quanah Indians Saturday afternoon at Quanah. The punting of the local squad has been given a thorough working over and the backfield and line have received their share of practice in receiving and tackling. Other details have been ironed out in the Tigers' playing and emphasis has been placed on both defensive and offensive play.

The Tiger mentors face a gloomy conference tilt Saturday but fans are backing the Tigers and are expecting them to put up a fight. The entire squad will be taken to Quanah by bus early Saturday. A large number of fans and members of the pep squad will attend the game.

Decatur Downs Bowie, 12 to 0

Special to The Record News.

BOWIE, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Decatur High school football team found a solution for the Bowie offense after the first quarter of Thursday afternoon's game here to win, 12 to 0. Decatur marked up 10 first downs to six for Bowie. The game was a district title elimination match.

The Decatur eleven was led by Captain McDonald who presented a powerhouse front that crushed the Bowie defense in the latter periods. Riddle at center for Decatur was an ace in breaking through the Bowie defense and blocking offensive plays. Knightstep at right end for Bowie was the leader of the local team in stopping Decatur runs in his zone.

Sims, Decatur right end, raced across the Bowie goal line early in the third quarter to receive Lillard's short pass over the line for the first touchdown. Lillard was a substitute for Decatur. Workman, right half, intercepted a Bowie pass in the fourth period on Bowie's 45-yard line and raced 55 yards for the final touchdown.

The lineups:

DECATUR (12)	Pos.	BOWIE (0)
Lewis	L.E.	Robinson
Moore	L.T.	Latham
Cline	L.G.	Reasoner
Riddle	C.	Wright
Lynch	R.G.	Black
Reed	R.T.	Biggerstaff
Sims	R.E.	Knightstep
McDonald (c)	Q.B.	Spears
Gentry	L.H.	Anderson (c)
Workman	R.H.	Nichols
Spain	F.B.	Henderson

Bowie was penalized four times for a total of 50 yards and Decatur was penalized nine times for 80 yards.

Graham Renews Feud With Jacksboro Today

Special to The Record News.

GRAHAM, Texas, Oct. 27.—The Graham High Steers meet the Jacksboro Tigers on the local gridiron Friday to renew an old feud. The two schools have long been rivals on the football field. They have been meeting each other regularly for more than 10 years. Graham has had the best of the clashes within the last few years but the Tigers are pointing to this one game and may cause some trouble.

The Steers had no trouble running up a 50 to 12 score against Decatur last Friday even though they were playing without the services of Captain "Blackie" Nicklas, and Roland Turney. Jack Wheeler and Leroy Kimbrell were the outstanding offensive stars, while Bigham, Repass, and Walker played a stellar defensive game. Bigham is one of the best defensive players in the district, and he is no slouch when it comes to opening a hole for the backs on offensive. Bigham plays offensive guard and defensive end.

Clark Jarnigan, regular tackle had an ankle injured in the Decatur game and is on crutches this week. He may be out of the Jacksboro game. It seems that the Steers suffer at least one injury in each game. They are hoping that the jinx is broken and that they will be able to play out the season without any further serious injury.

ELDORADO HI TO PLAY DUKE

Panthers Set for First Conference Game

Special to The Record News.

ELDORADO, Okla., Oct. 27.—The local high school football team is in good shape for the game to be played on the local gridiron Friday with the Duke High school eleven.

This will be the first of the Cotton Belt conference games played by the Eldorado Panthers this season and both teams are going in with a determination to win. Although the dope thus far credits Eldorado with having the best chance to win the conference, Coach R. D. Umbach is seeing to it that no games are lost by over confidence.

The Duke eleven last Friday scored off the powerful Quanah Indians, a team that had not been scored on this season. This feat makes the coming game take on new interest, as the Eldorado team in their raid on the Indians failed to score, although given credit for some excellent team work and strategy.

The fact that a number of the Panthers have not been able to be out at practice regularly since school was recessed three weeks ago for cotton picking has hampered them somewhat but it is believed that intensive practice this week has put them back in trim for a winning game Friday.

Tech's Ace Back Won't Face Irish

Special to The Record News.

LUBBOCK, Texas, Oct. 27.—Without the aid of Adrian Clark, ace back who starred in the S. M. U. game, the Texas Tech Matadors will face Notre Dame's B team here Friday night in what is expected to be the toughest game the Matadors have yet encountered.

Clark, who injured a knee in practice this week, will be replaced by Moffet at quarterback an Yancey Price, end, will do the kicking.

The Matadors have been full of pep and ginger this week, with "Let's get those Notre Dame boys" the watchword around the clubhouse and on the practice field, but Cawthon, coach, is pessimistic. He can see nothing but a drubbing for the Matadors.

The shock troops will go in for the first of the game as usual and will later be replaced by the first string.

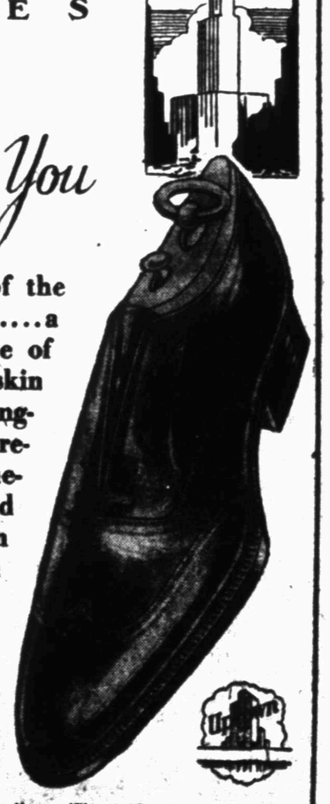

Tommy Yarr, last year's All-American center at Notre Dame and assistant coach this year, will be in charge of the "fighting Irish" squad that comes 35 to 40 strong here early Friday.

PERKINS-TIMBERLAKE COMPANY

"LOWEST SERVICE COST" again earns U.S. Navy award for Sinclair

THE U. S. Navy tests all oils submitted by oil companies that compete for the annual Navy oil contract to determine whether they meet the Navy's rigid specifications. The results of these tests determine the relative quality or "work factor" of the various competitive oils. Then, when competitive bids are submitted, the Navy takes into account both the quality of the oil and its price in order to determine which company's oil has the lowest service cost per gallon.

For two consecutive years the U. S. Navy has awarded to Sinclair the major part of the annual lubricating contract because Sinclair oils showed the lowest service cost per gallon.

Under the terms of the 1932-33 contract, Sinclair will supply more than 1,600,000 gallons of Sinclair lubricants to fill government needs on land, sea and in the air. Government equipment using Sinclair lubricants will include battleships, destroyers, submarines, navy aircraft and all Government equipment at Atlantic ports as well as Army fighting tanks, artillery tractors and trucks in 33 States of the Union.

Answers to Questions

This is a special department devoted solely to the handling of queries. This paper puts at your disposal the services of an extensive organization in Washington to serve you in any capacity that relates to information. This service is free. Failure to make use of it deprives you of benefits to which you are entitled. Your obligation is only three cents in coin or stamps enclosed with your inquiry for direct reply. Address the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

Q.—How has the rule been changed regarding the return to the game of a football player who has been taken out?—L. D.

A.—The rule now permits a player to return to the game at any time except in the quarter in which he has been taken out.

Q.—Why is it that some places have two tides a day while others have only one?—L. A. W.

A.—Each body of water has a natural period of oscillation which depends upon its length and depth and it will respond best to that disturbing force which has a period approximating its natural period of oscillation. Hence some waterways respond better to semi-daily tide producing forces, while others respond better to the daily tide producing forces. Over the greater part of the gulf of Mexico there is generally but one high and one low water in a day. Among other places at which there is usually but one tide a day may be mentioned St. Michael, Alaska; Do-Son, French Indo-China; Batavia, Java; and Manila, P. I.

Q.—Is the South showing signs of economic recovery?—A. L. M.

A.—The South is rapidly recovering due largely to the rise in the price of cotton. This year's cotton crop was made at the lowest cost in labor, fertilizer and other factors in years. The planters borrowed little money. Consequently, the price increase will give many planters a cash margin.

Q.—Who is the American who is known as General Chang in China?—C. A.

A.—His name is Bert Hall. During the world war he was a member of the Lafayette escadrille. He was an ace and received credit for nine planes. Hall has been General Chang since 1929, but only his closest friends have known it. He was one of the original organizers of the Lafayette escadrille. He is styled as aviation's first soldier of fortune and has battled under half a dozen flags. Before the world war while Turkey was fighting Bulgaria he became the Turkish air force. He was the only flyer at $100 a day. Later he drifted to the Bulgarian side when the Turks cut his pay. He joined the French Foreign Legion in 1914. In December, 1914, Hall's name was put on the roster of the French frying corps. Hall and Bill Thaw are the only survivors of the original seven who formed the Lafayette escadrille.

Q.—In what District of Columbia did George Washington keep his money?—C. R. S.

A.—The George Washington bicentennial commission says that George Washington did his banking business with the Bank of Columbia at Georgetown and the Bank of Alexandria at Alexandria, which were both a part of the District of Columbia at that time.

Q.—What is another name applied to the fish known as tailors?—A. J.

A.—The name, tailor, or applied to the bluefish, Chellodipterus saltatrix. This is a very active and voracious fish distributed in many seas, and is an important food fish on the Atlantic coast of the United States. It is commonly from three to five pounds in weight, though sometimes much larger and is very destructive to other fishes, especially the Menhaden. The young are called snappers.

Proration—By Commission or Court?

IF THIS newspaper sees it aright, there is more involved in the federal court decision upsetting East Texas proration orders than the amount of oil which shall be taken from each well in that great field. Somewhere there must be a line beyond which federal decisions may not upset the rights of the people of a state to control their own affairs. Logically, if not legally, the federal decision is dangerously near this line.

In substance the court said the Texas Railroad commission had the right to fix the production of the fields of the state, but that it had fixed the East Texas allowable too low. It declared the testimony offered in the commission's hearings too conflicting to be of much value and said the rule of "common sense" must apply. It then applied the rule and declared the allowable "unreasonable" and ordered it removed.

If this power of the federal court can be upheld, then it is a waste of time and money to bother the Texas Railroad commission with hearings and with administration of proration. No order could be enforced without the sanction of the federal courts and there would be no way of arriving at what allowable such courts might believe suitable, except by the trial and error method. In other words, the federal courts would fix the amount of oil that might be produced. The oil industry of this state, the railroad commissioners and many of the state's officials have given intense, and at times painful, study to this proration problem. Our present system may not be the best in the world, but it is the most workable we have been able to devise and the state's constituted agencies should have the right to do with it the best they can. If our present laws are faulty, they should be amended as quickly as possible. If the federal court has erred in its decision it should be determined by proper appeal. Under no circumstances, we believe, are the people of Texas ready to surrender the administration of their oil fields to the federal judiciary, however competent, fair and learned its members may be.

Cash—and Control

PROF. LOUISE OVERACKER of Wellesley college has written a book analyzing the use of money in presidential campaigns; and she finds that the part of the small contributor to campaign funds is steadily declining. Most of the money comes from wealthy bankers and industrialists. "The little fellow," she remarks, "is quite content to let the big fellow pay the bills and run the political show."

This, of course, is only natural. But if there has been a movement toward strict conservatism in government, if the machinery of democracy has been getting more and more out of the hands of the ordinary citizen, you need not go much beyond that explanation in looking for the cause.

If the ordinary voter is content to let the wealthy pay the expenses of politics, he can hardly be surprised if the wealthy have a large voice in the conduct of party affairs. Residents of Northwest Texas should think this over in these closing days of the national campaign. The Democratic party is making its greatest appeal for funds to the common voter. Those of us who believe the party should remain the party of the people should do our part to help bear the financial burdens. Otherwise, sooner or later, the Democratic party must become the party of wealth and of privilege, just as the Republican party has been such an organization for years.

Politics—and the Police

IT IS never pleasant to learn that a capable, intelligent, forward-looking official has ceased to be a public servant; and the resignation of Gen. Pelham B. Glassford as superintendent of the Washing police comes, consequently, as bad news. The feature of his resignation which most deserves attention, however, is his farewell statement. In it he declared:

"I find myself in the equivocal position of so many other police chiefs in the United States, namely, holding a position of great responsibility, but deprived of the essential authority to discharge it without fear or favor."

Right there General Glassford has put his finger on the biggest reason for failure of our police organizations. The chief almost never has a free hand. He can't get out from under the politician's thumb. The average chief would be delighted to maintain an honest, efficient and alert police force—if only he were permitted to.

That 'Lame Duck' Problem

ODDEST of all the campaign rumors is the one which has it that the present administration, if defeated in the election, will resign in a body on Jan. 1 and permit the incoming administration to take things over two months ahead of time.

Such a rumor is hardly worth discussing seriously. But it does perform one good service; it does emphasize the great value of the "lame duck" amendment to the constitution, now pending before the several states.

Under this amendment a presidential term would begin early in January following the election. We would not have the dreary four-month wait between election and inauguration. If a new president were chosen, he would not have to wait until the election was almost forgotten before going to work. This wild campaign rumor at least calls that fact to our attention, and reminds us that ratification of this amendment must not fail.

Things I Never Knew Till Now

(Because the P. S. 184 teachers were too pretty)

That in China the doctors have undressed dolls made of jade in their offices. So that women patients, who are fussy about having people touch their bodies (to find the pain) may point to the spot on the doll's form to show the doctor where it hurts.

That Mrs. Wm. Bryant, of Bozeman, Mont., stopped her wedding to have the word "obey" defined, and then had it stricken out.

That Manuel Hoyos, 6 yrs. old, is doing a two-year term at Hermosillo, Sonora, for thefting bullets worth 25c.

That Ivan J. Ruben, an Evanston, Ill., cop, was chased four blocks by a police dog, to discover the hound was toothless.

That all boys and girls, up to 16 years of age, must be in bed by 9 p. m. in a tiny Michigan town, by virtue of a local ordinance which is rigidly enforced. (Oh, Irving Berlin!)

That Virgil Bennett, of Halls Summit, Kan., 18, accidentally shot by his brother, Darrell, lives with a bullet in his heart.

That a railroad in Olean, N. J., runs only on rainy days. A law forbids its operation at any other time for fear of forest fires.

That Jennings Lee, a bell hop of El Paso, found $1,000 and returned it to the loser. He got a reward of 15 cents.

That Humphrey Wyatt, of Kansas City (held up and robbed recently) received a package containing his watch that had been stolen. Attached was a note informing him that it kept incorrect time.

That in a recent primary election at Hickory, N. C., only 44 people of the 7,000 in that town voted. (Smart people).

That H E Newton, an Omaha dentist, pulled his own teeth, and then performed the necessary bridge work.

That human hair is half as strong as the steel used in structural work. (Oh, I read it in a book, you dope!)

That a prospector of Tonopah, Nev., searched 19 years for gold in the Nevada desert. Two days after discovering it, he died, and the claims have since been peddled for $75,000.

That James Garrity, of Pittsfield, Mass., recently erected a monument in memory to his cat, who lived to the age of 24.

That Capt. G. G. Shaw, of the U. S. coast guard, went on a rescue expedition off Norfolk, Va., and while engaged in the work about 200 yards off shore, he watched his house burn down.

That Judge Windberg, of El Paso, Texas, imposed a fine of one dollar on himself for illegal parking.

EXPLANATIONS OF YESTERDAY'S CARTOON

BETTER SPEED AGAINST THE WIND—Paradoxical as it may seem a huge ocean liner actually makes faster speed heading into a strong wind than if the wind is with the vessel, because of the "slippage" of the waves. When the wind is with the ship the crests of the waves fall forward and the body of the waves slip back, with a tendency to drag the ship with them. But when the wind is against the vessel the wave-crests fall forward into the bow of the ship, the body of the waves recedes in the direction in which the ship is traveling, increasing its speed. With the speed of the motors constant, the "slippage" overcomes the increased wind resistance.

BABES ON BROADWAY

By JANE DIXON (Copyright, 1932, Jane Dixon)

SYNOPSIS

Tony Brookes was 18 when her parents were killed in a motor accident in Centerville, her home town. Tony's frankness cost her jobs in a New York dress shop and an art gallery before M. Montieu gave her a chance at dress designing in his studio. When Lee Moran, a dress model, lost her job Tony shared her little room at Mrs. Higgins' with her. Lee became a taxi dancer at El Tango, where she met middle-aged Adam Leonard. As Tony was leaving a night club with Lee, Leonard and Donald Kemp, a lawyer friend of Leonard's from another city, Leonard's wife saw him and made a scene. Leonard, unhappily married, had Kemp arrange a divorce so he could marry Lee. She moved to an apartment. Tom Stewart, a young engineer, had been in love with her. Tony fell in love with him at first sight but he was sent to New Mexico on a new job and Tony did not hear from him. Donald Kemp asked Tony to marry him, saying he was ending his unhappy marriage by divorce. Tony, who had not known he was a married man, refused him. Lee tricked Tony into a week-end party at fashionable Beach Haven and Tony had to kick a window out of wealthy young Jock Selden's car to escape his attentions. Tony moved to the Tres Arts club. Soon afterward Selden made a fatal leap from a Beach Haven hotel window while in Lee's company. Lee gave the police Tony's name and address. The day of the suicide Tony had gone alone for a drive in the country in Kemp's car. Tom returned unexpectedly and heard Tony refuse to answer Detective Quinlan's questions regarding the car.

INSTALLMENT XXVI

The car was garaged in the name of Antoinette Brookes.

Tony called the garage on the telephone. Her wire might be tapped, but she must take the chance. The manager assured her the gentleman who had left it there had not given his name. He had paid for the garaging six months in advance, with a deposit for service, and had merely said the driver would be the young lady who owned the car, Miss Antoinette Brookes.

Donald Kemp was safe, then. Or was he? If the police wanted to know about the car, they would ferret Donald out. Tony had better warn him. She wired him that night, taking the message to the telegraph office herself and waiting for the copy so that she might destroy it.

She had an answer before she was out of bed in the morning. Donal Kemp was taking the afternoon train for the city. Meantime she was to see no one, to answer no questions or give no statements until he arrived.

Tony's personal life and that part of her she gave to her work were so disassociated that she was totally unprepared for what happened when she entered the studio Monday morning. It was as though a hand of silence had been laid on the room. Activity ceased.

Tony started toward her drawing board at the far end of the studio. Her footsteps were crashing noises against the bare floor. She could hear the intake of her breath, could feel her pulse hammering in her throat. These people in the studio knew. How could they think so ill of her? Surely they could sense she was not the Antoinette Brookes the papers were picturing.

Above the crash of her feet Tony heard an errand girl saying, "Monsieur Montieu wishes to see you in his office, Miss Brookes." Scarcely had she passed through the door when the murmur of voices became a clamor, raised, she knew, against her. The cruelty, the injustice of it!

M. Montieu was waiting for her. He was ill at ease.

"Most unfortunate, petite," he began. A copy of the paper with screaming headlines was before him on the desk. "Very bad indeed. I am distressed. Beyond words I am shocked. That you, so gentle, so industrious—how is it you permitted that young swine—pardon, the poor fellow is dead but he was a young swine—how did you permit him to commit such a foolishment?"

"I didn't permit him," Tony said with a weariness that might be mistaken for indifference. "I was miles away when he—when it happened—I was in my room in the Tres Arts club."

"But your name, Madamoiselle. Your address. Fortunately not the address of this studio!"

"I can't help it. Some one has used my name."

"How does it happen then, petite, that you were absent from the studio Saturday? I have inquired. No one has seen you that day."

"But some one must have seen me, Monsieur, when I came in to get instructions about La Lynton's dress. Of course some one did. You saw me, Miss—Kline—isn't it? You gave me the note monsieur left for me."

The sharp-nosed eyebrowless woman at the small desk by the window snuffled and pressed a wadded handkerchief to her dry lips. Her answer was directed to Montieu.

"As I explained to you, Monsieur," she piped. "I know nothing about the note. It was on your desk, and when I came back from the studio it was gone. I don't remember any one coming for it."

"Why, Miss Kline—" the panic in Tony urged her toward the small desk, "surely you recall handing me a note. You picked it up from Monsieur's desk and told me his secretary was off for the day."

"I'll thank you to keep your distance from me, Antoinette Brookes." The pipe became a shrill whine. "And you needn't be accusing me of lies, either—not the likes of you. Acting like you owned the place, when the rest of us work years to—"

"Vite, Kline! Get out. Go!" Montieu gestured dismissal. "Stay in the workroom until I send for you. You are a cat, spitting and mewing."

Cat! Claws that scratched. Once before Miss Kline had been sent back to the workroom—when Montieu took over her drawing board and assigned it to Tony. Miss Kline had a convenient memory. Keen for rememberance, implacable for forgetting. Aside from Miss Kline, no one, to Tony's knowledge, had seen her in the studio Saturday.

"Most unfortunate." Montieu ruffled his hair. "And when you were doing so well, too. It is better, perhaps, that you take a rest.

"A little rest, away from the studio, until this—shall we say misunderstanding?—is cleared. Your presence would be disturbing. Already the staff talk of nothing else. Not a stroke of work from them this morning. And the notoriety—if the name of Montieu should get into the papers—that would be bad, very bad."

Tony turned toward the door.

"I understand, Monsieur Montieu," she said, lifelessly. "I'll go. And thanks for the help you've given me. I've loved working here. I'd hoped to do better. Better even than 'Treebloom' or 'Glace de Coeur.'"

"Bien, petite. You will do better. And for Montieu. When the selfishness of that young swine—pardon—is blown away and there is a new morsel on which the public may sharpen its tongue, then you will return to the drawing board. A week, a month maybe, and it is forgotten."

Tony pulled on her gloves. She said:

"If I leave this studio now, I will not return. Not next week, or next month, or ever."

"Tut, tut, petite," Montieu soothed. "Never is a long word. You have a beeg future, a great future in your work. And where better than in the studio of Montieu can you coax that future to growth?"

Montieu was ruffling his hair and following her with puzzled frown as she hurried past the studio door into the street.

The end of dreams.

She had brought her dreams to the city. She would direct them in such a way that they would create the most exquisite clothes to accentuate feminine beauty.

She had dreamed of love and she had found it in the city. But love was a failure. Empty of the things that dreams are made of, from its dawning.

It had been different with her dream of creative work, of clothes. This dream promised fulfillment. Her own folly had shattered this dream. Self gratification. Surrender to a want for pleasure. Yielding to the persuasion of unworthy friendship.

She had given Lee her affection not because Lee was worthy to receive it, but because she, Tony, was lonely. She should have broken with Lee that morning after they lost their jobs in Simone's. When Lee announced she was not going to get up and look for work; that she was adventuring forth to find places with pink candles where primroses grew.

"I'll have to find work," Tony told herself in the street. "The money I've saved will last only a few weeks, even by the tightest scrimping. But there's no use trying to get work until they settle things about Jock Selden.

If Montieu wouldn't keep me in his studio, strangers won't want me."

At the corner on a news stand Tony saw the headlines on a pink paper—"Suicide — Woman Companion—Antoinette Brookes"—oh, if the lights would only change so she could race on and on . . .

"I'll have to change my name," she decided. She thought of her father's pride in his Brookes ancestry, of the grace with which her mother had worn the name. She was glad her mother and father were gone. She must find a palce hidden away in a crowded district where she would not be noticed.

Detective Quinlan was standing by the desk when Tony's aimless wanderings finally brought her to the Tres Art club.

"Good morning, Miss Brookes." The granite eyes were less flinty. "We've checked up on your story and everything seems to be O. K. except no one at that dressmaker's place remembers seeing you Saturday morning. The garage—yes, we found the car—says a girl answering your description and identifying herself as Antoinette Brookes took out the car left there in her name between 8 and 9 o'clock Sunday morning. Funny about that dressmaker's. Didn't you say you got a note there from some one in the office?"

"I did get a note, from a Miss Kline. It was from Monsieur Montieu directing me to go straight to the theater to help in a fitting."

"Then why don't this Kline woman come through?"

"I'm not sure, but Montieu assigned me to the drawing board Miss Kline was using and sent her into the workroom. She resented it."

Quinlan snorted. "That's a woman for you! I'll loosen her tongue. First, I got to find that maid who fixed your room in the club Sunday morning. The garage people and the young fellow who said he waited for you Sunday morning and saw you come out of the club are our best bets."

The police were planning to draw Tom Stewart into the scandal! Using Tom to defend her, Tony. She wouldn't have it. She said, "Mr. Quinlan, the young man—Tom Stewart—must not enter into this affair in any way. I forbid it."

"Looks like he's already in, of his own free will and accord." Quinlan reminded her. "It can't do him any harm, and it may do you plenty of good. He's interested in you, ain't he?"

"Not in the least," Tony denied. "He's interested in—a friend of mine."

"The woman at Haven Beach?"

"The girl I believe to be at Haven Beach."

"He is, eh? Now that's funny. I'd have sworn—well, there's one way we can settle about the Haven Beach woman. That's by turning up there with the real Antoinette Brookes. The other one insists it's her name. We know it ain't. Well, she's cutting her own throat. Looks like she's guilty of something and wants to shift the blame. The best thing for you to do is to go out to Haven Beach with me and have a little talk with her."

'Oh, please—I can't do that! I never want to go there again—never, and—I've had instructions from a—a lawyer—not to do anything until I consult him. He'll be here, in the city, tomorrow."

"Plenty can happen between now and tomorrow," Quinlan said cryptically. "In a case like this, time is the big edge. My advice to you is to go out now and get this thing out of the papers. They're building it up by the hour. Pretty soon it's going to be a murder instead of a suicide and you'll be blown up as one of the suspects."

Murder! Antoinette Brookes suspected of murder!

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27.—When Woodrow Wilson formed his first cabinet, perhaps none of the men called to his side was selected more for the impression he had made personally upon Wilson than was Lindley M. Garrison war secretary, now dead at 63.

KIRKE SIMPSON

The considerations that governed Mr. Wilson as to virtually all other cabinet selections then appeared very obviously those that had to do with building up administration influence in congress.

Each was a factor in welding the party machinery that functioned so smoothly until the world war emergency arose.

Garrison, however, was in a little different category. In him President Wilson found a man of force and vigor, although he probably did not expect his war secretary to serve as a vital cog of the legislative program the president was framing.

It was perhaps personal liking more than anything else that brought Garrison to cabinet service.

Then the Break

And, as it happened, the very qualities that made Wilson single out Garrison were to make Garrison the first to break away from that Wilson cabinet circle that remained so nearly intact throughout eight stressful years.

They parted over methods to be applied to reserve army development. Garrison had become convinced that reliance upon militia, the national guard, under any form of dual state and federal control was dangerous.

His project for a purely federal reserve force to be known as the continental army, solely under federal authority, grew out of that conviction.

Mr. Wilson agreed, but not to the point of threatening to veto the national defense act of 1916 which provided instead for a federalized national guard. Because of that Garrison resigned and withdrew permanently from politics.

Yet what happened? When the United States entered the world war in 1917, hardly 14 months after Garrison's resignation, the bulk of the land forces it raised for the struggle were in then what was styled the national army, as distince from the regulars and the national guard units.

And the national army, on a scale of millions where Garrison had dealt in hundreds of thousands, was almost exactly what he had fought to attain in his continental army plan. It was a purely federal force, free of constitutional restrictions on the organization and employment of militia.

Both Plans Proved

More than that, the counter plan of Chairman Hay of the house military committee for a federalized national guard also endured gloriously the supreme test of the greatest of wars. Garrison's fears were proved groundless. Both plans were good; and both were used to the full extent.

Had Garrison been just a little less fixed in his views, he, not Newton D. Baker, might have been the man upon whom the chief burden of raising, equipping and sending over the war army would have fallen.

It might even have brought him consideration for the presidency.

FOOD SECTION---MENUS---RECIPES---HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Ham Appears In Many Guises For Fall Menus

By ELLEN EVANS

ELLEN EVANS

Every housewife is familiar with three or four ways to serve ham. First there is the whole roast, crackling and savory with its golden crust studded with cloves. Then the old reliable slice of ham—fried or broiled to a turn and served alone or with eggs. Perhaps in addition to these two stable ways of serving this general favorite she has other recipes that utilize ham in some way. But, perhaps of all the meats, except beef, ham admits of a greater variety in serving that allows its frequent use on family or company menus. Its piquant flavor blends with other ingredients perfectly so that it need never become tiresome. Here are some suggestions as to its use.

A Whole Baked Ham

Wash and scrape the ham thoroughly and soak overnight in a pan with water to cover. When ready to bake place the ham, rind side up in an open pan. Do not add water and do not cover. Between 25 and 30 minutes per pound will be required to bake a whole ham. For half hams proportionately less time is needed. Shank ends usually require from 40 to 45 minutes per pound. When the ham is done remove the rind.

Make a paste of two cups of brown sugar and three cups of fine soft bread crumbs, one teaspoon of prepared mustard and cider or vinegar enough to moisten the mixture. Spread the paste over the fat covering of the baked ham and stick long stemmed cloves into the surface. Bake the coated ham for 10 minutes in a hot oven.

Baked Ham Slice With Pineapple

Thick slice ham
½ cup brown sugar
½ cup bread crumbs
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
¾ cup pineapple juice
5 or 6 slices canned pineapple

The slice of ham should be about 1 inch thick. Trim off rind and lean edge. Fry out a piece of the fat in an iron skillet. Brown ham on both side and transfer to a shallow baking dish. Pour off the fat from the pan drippings and mix with it the sugar, bread crumbs, mustard and pineapple juice. Cover the ham with this mixture and bake, without a lid for 1 hour basting occasionally. About 15 minutes after the ham is put into the oven arrange the pineapple slices cut in halves in another shallow baking dish and pour over them some of the liquid from the ham, bake for about 45 minutes. Turn the slices during cooking. Serve the pineapple around the ham.

Broiled Ham

Trim the rind and lean edge from a slice of ham and cut the edges in several places to prevent curling. To broil by direct heat, lay the ham on a rack and place under the flame of the gas oven. Turn frequently and cook at moderate heat. Allow about 10 minutes for a very thin slice, 30 minutes for a ham 1 inch thick.

Creamed Ham

3 tablespoons butter or other fat
4½ tablespoons flour
3 cups milk
3 cups ground cooked ham
½ cup chopped cooked green pepper
Salt
Pepper

Make a white sauce of the fat, flour and milk. Add the ham and green peppers and cook about 10 minutes.

Season to the taste with salt and pepper and serve hot on toast or in a rice ring.

Ham and Potato Cakes

3 cups ground cooked ham
3 cups seasoned mashed potatoes
3 tablespoons chopped parsley
Salt
Tabasco sauce

Mix the ham, mashed potatoes, and parsley and season to taste with salt and pepper and tabasco sauce. Mold into flat cakes, flour them lightly and fry in hot bacon fat or other drippings until brown.

Ham, Cheese and Green Pepper Salad

1 cup ground cooked ham
1 cup finely cut celery
2 cream cheese
¼ cup chopped parsley
Salt
3 medium size green peppers

Mix the ham, celery, cheese and parsley thoroughly. Salt to taste. Pack the mixture into the green peppers and chill. Cut the stuffed peppers in slices and serve on lettuce with French dressing.

HOGS SNAKE'S ENEMIES

Hogs are frequently seen to kill and eat snakes—even rattlesnakes. In some sections where snakes are pests, a few hogs will clean them out in no time.

BRITAIN TO TAX IRISH IMPORTS

New Tariff Rates in Effect November 15

LONDON, Oct. 27. (AP)—After Nov. 15 imports into the United Kingdom from the Irish Free State wil be assessed duties as though they were shipped from a foreign country.

This was the announcement of J. H. Thomas, secretary for the dominions, who informed the house of commons that on that date the preferences granted the dominions under last year's tariff act will expire. The Free State, unlike the other dominions, did not conclude a new trade agreement with Great Britain at Ottawa in July.

(This means that in addition to the 20 per cent duty imposed on Irish products under the tariff levied in retaliation for failure to pay land annuities, Irish products will also be tagged with the general 10 per cent tariff, increasing the levy to 30 per cent).

Jury Denied View of Nude Dancing Picture

CAMDEN, N. J., Oct. 27. (UP)—Without permitting a jury to see a motion picture of Mrs. Dorothy Rosenthal dancing in the nude, Federal Judge Boyd Avis today ordered a directed verdict in favor of the Pennsylvania railroad.

Mrs. Rosenthal was suing the railroad for $30,000 damages for injuries which she said she received in an accident at Bristol, Pa.

The films, detectives testified, were taken during a birthday party and proved that Mrs. Rosenthal had not been injured in the accident.

Robert Owen Presents Bank Act Copy to Museum

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 27. (UP)—Former Senator Robert L. Owen today presented to the state historical society an original duplicate copy of the federal reserve banking act, signed by President Woodrow Wilson, Vice President Thomas R. Marshall, Champ Clark and Owen.

Attached were letters from President Wilson and Secretary of the Treasury W. G. McAdoo congratulating and thanking Owen for his work as chairman of the senate banking committee in aiding passage of the law.

Illinois and Mississippi Given Emergency Loans

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (AP)—Emergency relief loans of $6,303,150 to Illinois and $850,000 to Mississippi were granted today by the reconstruction corporation.

Of the total granted to the governor of Illinois $5,554,500 is allocated to Cook county in which Chicago is located—the remainder to be used in 61 other counties. The money is to care for relief needs from Nov. 1 to Dec. 1.

The Mississippi loan is to care for relief needs in 70 counties and 13 cities over the same period.

GLAND CURES CALLED FRAUD

Medic Assails Claim of Rejuvenation

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Gland rejuvenation was termed a deception and goat gland cures as "bait for suckers" by Dr. Hugh Cabot of the Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., in an address before the Interstate Post Graduate Medical Association of North America here today.

"I would be tremendously worried," Dr. Cabot added, "if all these old men were rejuvenated."

Dr. William E. Lower of the Cleveland clinic likewise asserted gland implanation is still "a laboratory study and is not yet practicable for clinical use."

Dr. John M. T. Finney of Johns Hopkins university, Washington, was chosen as president elect of the assembly. Dr. Will J. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., was elevated to the presidency, succeeding Dr. Arthur Dean Beven of Chicago.

Silk Truck Drivers Tell of Hijacking

HACKETTSTOWN, N. J., Oct. 27. (AP)—The driver and a rider on a truck loaded with $40,000 worth of silk reported to police today that they were kidnaped by highwaymen who carried them to a lonely section 20 miles away while accomplices made off with the truck.

Joseph Nebesnak, driver of the truck, told state police at Newton his truck was climbing, in second gear, the Hackettstown mountain when a sedan carrying four men drew alongside.

He said the robbers ordered him, and a passenger, Alex Sitnitsky, into the sedan and let them out near a farm.

A Complete Stock of Groceries Priced to Sell

Come on up to the Height of health

YOU'VE enjoyed days where every minute was filled with the richness of living. You looked your best, and felt your best. Why not live more of these healthy, happy days?

One of the chief causes of poor health—and consequent unhappiness—is common constipation. It may bring headaches, loss of appetite and energy. Yet it can be overcome by eating a delicious cereal.

Laboratory tests show that Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to gently exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to further aid regular habits. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that in leafy vegetables. One ounce of ALL-BRAN furnishes as much vitamin B as five ounces of orange juice. This delicious cereal also contains twice as much blood-building iron as an equal amount by weight of beef liver.

Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in chronic cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor. Tests show ALL-BRAN does not lose its effectiveness with continued use. How different from pills and drugs—where dosage has to be constantly increased. Ask your grocer for the red-and-green package. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

"When you're healthy, you're happy"
"How you feel—and how well you look—depends largely upon the food you eat. Be sure your diet is balanced—with sufficient 'bulk' to promote regularity."
W. K. Kellogg

STRONG DEMAND CUTS STOCKS

Refiners Increase Runs But Lower Storage

Special to The Record News.

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 27.—Although mid-continent refiners increased their oil runs during the week of Oct. 22 some 9.4 per cent, and that of "other oils" some 22.3 per cent, and stepped up the output of motor fuel 6.1 per cent, the increased demand by jobbers caused gasoline stocks in the province to fall 0.8 per cent.

This more cheerful survey of the refinery district was revealed in the weekly operations report by Platt's Oilgram and National Petroleum News.

How the refineries processed crude oil in barrels a day follows:

State—	Past Week	Previous Week

JURY INDICTS OHIO CONVICT

Three Murder Charges Placed After Woman Dies

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Oct. 27. (AP)—Three charges of first degree murder were returned by the grand jury today against John Downing, who police said confessed killing Mrs. Mauree M. Bonzo, wife of the record and parole clerk at Ohio penitentiary.

The charges were returned two hours after the jury was reconvened to hear the confession of Downing.

The first count charges Downing, a former Ohio penitentiary convict, murdered Mrs. Bonbo with "premeditation and deliberation." The second charges murder with the preparation of robbery and the third, he killed the woman in an attempt to assault.

Downing was held under close guard in the county jail today. He was said to have told police he took a gun from the Bonzo home so he could kill himself.

Castle Suggests Debt Cancellation

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Oct. 27. (UP)—Undersecretary of State Castle assured Europe today through the medium of a public address that the United States would be a "generous creditor" in dealing with the war debts.

At the same time he emphasized that any debt settlement must be "for the benefit of the United States and not to the detriment of its citizens."

Castle spoke before the Cleveland Rotary club. In addition to discussing debts, he made what was interpreted as the administration answer to Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt's charges that the state department was in part responsible for vast issues of foreign bonds, now depreciated.

The undersecretary said the department never passed on the value of a bond issue as a business proposition, but only told bankers whether there was a diplomatic reason why certain issues should not be floated.

New York Economy Investigation Pushed

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 27. (UP)—An inquiry into economy measures under the administration of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt was pressed by a committee of the Republican-controlled legislature today.

The Republican members of the committee, which had delved into such things as "de luxe pig pens with brass door knobs" and "sun parlors for convicts," have bitterly criticised the governor.

The Democrats have replied that the inquiry is a political attack on Roosevelt, possibly preparatory to a Republican onslaught on the governor's economy record.

A doctor in England is stated to require a field of between 1,400 and 1,500 patients to earn a fair income.

DISPUTE RAGES ON INCOME TAX

Criticism Launched at Big Taxpayers

WASHINGTON, Oct. 27. (UP)—A cross fire of criticism is developing against big income taxpayers as a prelude to this winter's bitter congressional dispute over economy and taxation.

Opponents of the general sales tax accuse possessors of large incomes of sponsoring the sales levy in the hope eventually of abolishing or materially reducing taxation of incomes.

The American Legion has just circulated an accusation that large income taxpayers are behind the agitation for reduced veterans' compensation. The legion clip sheet prepared at national headquarters in Indianapolis asserts it has traced propaganda of the national economy league to the income tax group.

Charge Class Battle

Reviewing statements issued by the league and the United States Chamber of Commerce, the clip sheet asserts they are allied to "incite class struggle."

Observers expect the bitterness of the tax and economy dispute this winter greatly to exceed that of last session when an effort was made to balance the budget by enacting new taxes estimated to yield an additional $1,118,500,000 of revenue.

Treasury receipts so far this fiscal year indicate that the bill which was said last June to have balanced the budget will fall far short of that accomplishment. The deficit now is over $600,000,000. Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith in his Newark speech predicted it would reach $1,000,000,000. Smith did not define his attitude toward the sales tax but of congressmen who seek to increase revenue by raising the income tax, he said they were unable to understand that "nothing plus nothing still is nothing." He said the income was not there to tax.

Chairman Reed of the senate military affairs committee and a member of the finance committee recently predicted no material reduction in the $1,000,000,000 veterans' appropriation would be made this winter. Reed, Smith, Senator Bingham, representative, Connecticut, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt, Democratic presidential nominee, and many others urge legalization of beer for revenue. Estimated revenue varies from $275,000,000 to $500,000,000.

The drive of veterans' organizations for payment of the bonus was intensified when Admiral Robert E. Coontz, retired, new commander of the Veterans of Foreign wars, laid before President Hoover that organization's demands for immediate cashing of the bonus and for pensions to veterans' widows and orphans.

RINEHART-JETER

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 27.—Announcement was made this week of the marriage Monday night at Frederick, Okla., of Mrs. Pauline Jeter to A. D. Rinehart. The ceremony was performed by Judge W. F. Comally. They were accompanied by the groom's mother. Mrs. Rinehart is the daughter of Mrs. G. W. Allison, and attended the local schools. Mr. Rinehart, who is engaged in oil field work, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Rinehart. The young couple will make their home in Electra.

Ring Lardner To Vote For Thomas

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (INS)—It's in the bag for Norman Thomas—meaning not the election, but the vote to be cast (if and when) by Ring Lardner.

Socialist headquarters today released a letter by the noted humorist which read in part:

"My friends read back in amazement when I tell them, after a certain amount of preliminary fencing, that I am going to vote the Socialist ticket. Their comments are not printable, but the gist is as follows:

"'You are just wasting your vote, kid. Who do you like in the fifth at Empire City?'

"Throwing out the last sentence for reasons of policy, I am moved to ask in turn:

"'What am I doing when I vote for Hoover or Roosevelt?'

". . . the other day my doctor, while strapping me to a bed pointed out that if Mr. Thomas is elected Mr. Hoover and Mr. Roosevelt will be out of a job.

"'Don't worry, doctor,' I replied, recognizing him without difficulty. 'There is a big demand for comedians, and both those boys will be able to land swell jobs on the radio.'"

Lardner declared he would like to see Heywood Broun, "the rail splitter," as a member of President Thomas' cabinet.

More than one-fifth of the total population of England and Wales live in Greater London.

BONES OF 'DRY' SPY ARE FOUND

Gunman's Story Borne Out By Discovery

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Offices investigating a story told them by Thomas Kehoe, reputed gunman of St. Louis, that Louis Cheramie, dry informer who disappeared mysteriously two years ago, had been murdered and his body thrown into the river at Donaldsonville, La., reported today that human bones had been found in silt near the river's edge where Kehoe said the body was disposed of.

Kehoe, following his arrest and questioning here yesterday, told a reputed "inside" story of rum ring operators in the section, and asserted Cheramie was slain by a hired gangster. On request of local authorities, this gangster's arrest is now being sought in the East.

SLIPS THAT COUNT

Jones was going to town, so his wife asked him to order a pound of butter, two pounds of lard, and three gallons of oil.

"All right," he said, "but I'm sure those greasy things will slip my mind."—Tit-Bits.

UNPUBLISHED DICKENS

Charles Dickens wrote a "Life of Christ" especially for his children. Although the manuscript still exists, it has never been published.

College Students Call Strike Off

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—A "strike" of students attending the evening sessions of City college, effective tomorrow night, was called at a meeting at City college today of between 300 and 400 students, under the auspices of the Social Problems club.

The students also decided to hold a mass meeting tonight at the headquarters of the National Students' league to protest against what they alleged was gagging of student free speech by the faculty and the dismissal of an instructor in the evening classes at the college.

The students then held a protest meeting across the street from Washington Heights court and passed the hat to raise funds for bail for four persons arrested yesterday in a demonstration at the college.

Stops Skin Itching In Two Minutes

This formula for skin diseases is astounding the most skeptical in the marvelous way it heals severe cases of Ringworm, Athlete's Foot Eczema, Tetter, Itch and other parasitic skin troubles. The minute it touches the sore spot, you feel a soothing, cooling sensation; in a few days you marvel at how your skin has healed. If you suffer with skin diseases of any kind, get from any druggist a 60c box of Tetterine, and get relief or get your money back. Shuptrine Co., Dept. D, Savannah, Ga.—Adv.

FEEDER LOANS BEING HURRIED

Banks Aiding by Lending On Sound Security

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (AP)—Feeder loans are being hurried as much as possible, Tom Yarbrough, president of the Regional Agricultural Credit corporation at Fort Worth, said today.

Banks are cooperating in some cases by advancing money to applicants on sound security, he explained, and the credit corporation will reimburse them. Bill of lading drafts are provided applicants so they can draw on the corporation for money with which to transport the cattle from the place they are bought to the feeding ground.

"The corporation is adopting as liberal a policy as possible," Yarbrough explained. "There are a number of questions that have to be worked out though. Some of these will be taken up at the meeting of the board of directors here Friday.

Directors to Meet

"It is expected the money will be available on the first Texas loan within a few days."

The directors will meet at 10 a. m., Friday in the first National bank. It will be the first meeting of the board since actual investigations were begun by the credit agency, except for a called session preceding a feeder-breeder dinner in Dallas two weeks ago.

A. E. Thomas, executive vice president and manager, Thursday announced that for the week ending Oct. 21, the national association disbursed $216,874. He paid out $75,517 the week before the first week loans were made. At the close of the second week there were 5,450 applications for loans aggregating $22,155,090 awaiting action.

Oklahoman Jailed For Farmer's Death

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Oct. 27. (AP)—Henry Elisha Stamper, 27, former oil field worker at Seminole, Okla., was held in the Greene county jail for safe keeping today while a coroner's jury at Buffalo, Mo., investigated the fatal injury of James Haden, 54-year-old Dallas county farmer, in a fight at a country dance.

Stamper was placed in jail here after Haden died in a Springfield hospital late yesterday. Sheriff Clarence E. Hyde of Dallas county had received tips that if Haden died an attempt would be made to remove Stamper from the Dallas county jail. Prosecutor Nelson B. Evans said a felonious assault charge pending against Stamper would be changed to one of murder.

Flier Joins Caterpillars When Plane Crashes

LEAVENWORTH, Kan., Oct. 27. (AP)—Second Lieutenant E. H. Rice of the army aviation corps, stationed at Fort Leavenworth, joined the Caterpillar club near here today when unable to right his plane after a barrel roll.

Rice landed safely near Mud lake. The plane plunged into the lake and was destroyed. The accident was witnessed at Fort Leavenworth and an ambulance was dispatched to the scene.

The officer said he was hurled from the machine as he was making preparations to jump at an altitude of 4,500 feet.

Lieutenant Rice was born in Oklahoma in 1903. He was graduated from Amarillo High school in 1923. He finished the air corps primary flying school in Texas and the air corps advanced flying school course in 1928. He was rated an air pilot and observer.

Roosevelt's Son Enters Campaign for Father

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (INS)—Actively enlisted in the current campaign today, the first political speech which young Elliott Roosevelt made was in support of the presidential race of his father, Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt.

He addressed a meeting of foreign language press editors and publishers yesterday advocating the election of the Democratic national ticket headed by his father.

"Certain policies carried out by the Republican administration," in the past four years, he charged, "caused the depression which, he said, President Hoover mistakenly blamed on European influences."

CHICAGO COTTON

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Cotton closed steady, 3 to 5 points net higher on the board of trade today. Cables were slightly better than due taking into consideration the decline in sterling. The opening was irregular, one point higher to 2 points down. The market first eased a little, then advanced when grain and securities displayed strength. Hedging sales were light and the spot buying basis over the South was high, with demand good. Rain fell over Alabama, and states eastward. The West was clear and cool with light frost in northwest section. The forecast was for clear and cool in central area and clearing off in the southeast.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—Cotton goods were quiet today with prices unchanged. Burlaps were quiet. Moderate trading is reported in silk goods.

Hosiery manufacturers in meeting here are endeavoring to set up an organization for the collection and dissemination of statistics. Rayon knitters are quite busy on lingerie fabrics of many descriptions. Wool goods showed little change for the day.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (AP)—While fluctuations were irregular, cotton showed a generally steady undertone today with southern selling absorbed by continued foreign or domestic trade buying.

December contracts, after selling at 6.34 at the start, reacted to 6.27 and then rallied to 6.40, closing at 6.37. The general market closed steady at net advances of 5 to 9 points.

The opening was unchanged 5 points advanced. Offerings were absorbed on a setback following the opening and the market firmed up later in the morning with active months selling about 7 to 9 points net higher on a continuation of demand through houses with continental and Japanese connections.

Prices worked back to about yesterday's final quotations, but stiffened up again in the late trading on a continued demand from the trade. Closing quotations were within a few points of the best for the day.

Liverpool cables said that hedging was less active in that market and that British home trade in cotton goods was improving.

Futures closed steady, 5 to 9 points higher. Dec., 6.37-38; Jan., 6.41-41; March, 6.50; May, 6.61; July, 6.70-71. Spot, quiet; middling 6.45.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 27. (AP)—Trading in cotton was rather active today and fair trade buying of both domestic and foreign interests was more than sufficient to absorb hedge selling, which was more moderate, closing prices were within 2 points of the best, showing net gains for the day of 4 to 6 points.

The market opened steady as Liverpool cables came in about as due on weaker sterling. Private cables said there was speculative buying on rains in the belt and weaker sterling. Bombay bought and there was also realising, but hedge selling was smaller. Manchester cabled the home trade was improving. First traders here showed gains of 2 to 4 points, but the market soon started to ease off on hedge selling and by the time the offerings were absorbed December has dropped to 6.26 and March to 6.38, down 5 to 6 points from yesterday's close.

The market steadied later owing to improvement in stocks and wheat and due to the rather good trade downward. Before noon, December advanced to 6.39 and March to 6.51, up 13 points from the earlier lows and 5 to 6 points above the previous close.

The market fluctuated rather nervously all afternoon within the earlier range as hedge selling was offset by more or less trade buying. Near the end prices were steadier and the close was within 2 points of the best, closing at 6.35, up 4 points net, and March at 6.49, up 5 points net.

Liverpool is due on New Orleans tomorrow 2 to 3 penny points up.

Port receipts 40,437, for week 277,070, for season 2,785,953, last season 3,313,141. Exports 20,499, for week 101,016, for season 1,870,141, last season 1,434,386. Port stock 4,149,478, last year 4,302,617. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 162,621, last year 152,559. Spot sales at southern markets 57,328, last year 43,804.

Futures closed steady at net advances of 4 to 6 points:

Liverpool Cotton

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 27. (INS)—There was a fair demand for spot cotton at the opening today with prices steady. Receipts totaled 12,000 bales, including 11,500 American bales.

At midday, middling fair was quoted at 6.76d, strictly good middling 6.31d, good middling 6.06d, strictly middling 5.81d, middling 5.61d, strictly low middling 5.46d, low middling 5.31d, strictly good ordinary 5.11d, and good ordinary 4.82d.

Futures opened steady with Jan. at 5.31d, March 5.33d, May 5.36d, and July 5.37d.

Advice To Investors

By Charles W. Storm—Editor of the "News Service of Wall Street"

R. H., Wichita Falls—I own a few shares of American Telephone and Telegraph company stock and would like to have your views regarding continuance of the present $9 dividend.

Answer—Action of directors at their Nov. 16 dividend meeting is more difficult to conjecture with any degree of certainty than at any previous time in the depression. Diagnosis must consider continued decline of earnings below the present rate of disbursements, as well as tentative indications of business improvement, and match recent inroads into surplus against a slackening in the rate of telephone disconnections. Net income for the first nine months of this year equal to $5.92 a share as compared with $7.01 for the similar 1931 period. This includes about $18,000,000 unearned dividends from associated companies and fails to include proportionate loss of Western Electric, estimated at $8,000,000. On a consolidated basis, therefore, net for the first nine months would amount to approximately $4.52 a share, indicating that parent company dividend disbursements for the period were $44,000,000, or $2.23 a share greater than consolidated net income. Obviously, dividends of certain affiliated companies are vulnerable, and reduction of the parent company's rate to the neighborhood of $6 a share would not be illogical, despite strong working capital position, shown as $222,000,000 at close of 1931. Operating news is somewhat more cheerful. Telephone disconnections have been fewer in recent weeks, and new installations have increased gradually, due in part, however, to seasonal influences. A net loss of 90,000 telephones was experienced in September, which, although the smallest number, for any month since April, fails to suggest an early upswing in earning power. Long distance calls have also increased somewhat more than seasonally in recent weeks.

J. R. B.—Kindly furnish me with information and an opinion of F. W. Woolworth Co. stock. Is the $2.40 dividend secure?

Answer—Per share earnings in 1931 (including $1.02 nonrecurring profit) came to $4.24 against $3.56 in 1930. Domestic results were lower in 1931. Woolworth is well situated financially, with 10 to 1 ratio of current assets to current liabilities and cash over four times current payables. Company largest in 5 and 10-cent store field experimenting with 20-cent goods in increasing number of stores out of 1,900 operated. September sales were some 6 per cent better than in August, representing at least normal seasonal improvement. Sales for the first nine months of 1932 were 10.6 per cent below 1931 levels. The "20-cent sale" is expected to contribute substantially to October volume, and an extra-seasonal sales gain would not be surprising. Net income for the year will undoubtedly cover the $2.40 dividend rate, and, in view of strong financial condition, little fear is entertained concerning its security. The stock is regarded as a good business man's investment.

Market Falls Back Into Doldrums After Stocks Enjoy Brief Advance

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (US)—Speculative markets were generally quiet and firm today. Stocks enjoyed a brief advance which finally dwindled into renewed extreme inactivity and limited price fluctuations.

Bond quotations were up a slight fraction on the average. The wheat market staged a modest recovery from the previous day's historic low price, which represented the lowest price for the commodity since the days of Queen Elizabeth's reign in Britain.

Coupled with the somewhat favorable technical condition prevailing within the stock market, the relative firmness in wheat induced a modest recovery in share prices. That the firmness was principally a reflection of technical factors was quite evident from the inability of the list to make much progress. Trading involved but 700,000 shares.

A wager was disclosed of $3,000 to $1,000 that the Democratic candidate for president would be elected.

One after another, familiar stories were paraded to explain the early price firmness. For example, the Nickel Plate receivership, it was rumored, would be lifted by declaring effective the refinancing plan for taking care of the note issue on which the road defaulted the first of the month. Bankers for the road, however, denied this. It was rumored that the Republican candidate would "come out for beer" in his speech, but as usual these political stories lacked any degree of confirmation.

Actually, the market lacked much stimulus toward either direction. The principal speculative factor still seemed to be the tendency to sell short among odd-lot speculators. The percentage of short-selling in this category remains relatively high. Probably this is one of the major supporting factors to any bull argument at the moment, though a short interest mainly in odd-lots is naturally limited to a temporary influence.

There was cheer in the New York Central's ability to show fixed charges earned in September. The balance was only $5,900, but the black ink was the first witnessed for any month since March.

Other railway statements showed similar relative encouragement, though it should be remembered that the period covered is normally one of seasonal improvement in rail operations. At the same time, the later-than-seasonal improvement in railway loadings encouraged hope that the weekly report due tomorrow will show maintenance of last week's traffic.

Bethlehem Steel's report for the third quarter was about in line with expectations, though the chief operating official's statement incoming orders are about sufficient to maintain 15 per cent operations was hardly conducive to great optimism. As a matter of fact, the most pertinent feature of his remarks was reiteration of the assertion that the steel industry invariably follows a pick-up in business, rather than leads an upturn. This has been quite evident to most unbiased observers, but it has been more or less obscured by the excitement over maintenance of U. S. Steel's preferred dividend, optimistic forecasts, etc.

An $81,000,000 drop in brokers' loan, disclosed after the market closed, had Wall street guessing as to its significance. In some quarters, the disposition was toward an interpretation of extreme bullishness, as though the drop were reflection of "strong buying during weak liquidation." There was also a tendency to attribute the sharp drop, which carries the total back close to the record low figure, to foreign buying.

Actually, best-informed banking opinion explains the decline as being due to repayment of loans previously arranged to carry government bond purchases. When these loans were originally arranged, the weekly "brokers loan" total jumped sharply.

During the past week these loans were being liquidated. Therefore, the $81,000,000 drop has little stock market significance.

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 27. (AP)—Demand was fair for all offerings on the Fort Worth cash grain market.

Quotations ranged as follows: Basis car loads on track at Fort Worth, freight paid, delivered Texas gulf ports export rate, or Texas common points: Wheat, No. 1 hard, according to protein and billing 53@55½c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally 32@33c; No. 3 nominally 31@32c.

Sorghums—No. 2 yellow milo per 100 pounds, 65@67c; No. 2 white kaffir, 64@67c.

Delivered Texas common points or group three—Corn, No. 2 mixed 37@38c; No. 2 white 41@43c; No. 2 yellow 38@39c.

Delivered Texas common points—Oats, No. 2 red 22½@23½c; No. 3 red 21½@22½c.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 27. (AP)—Big export business in Canadian wheat, 3,500,000 bushels during the last 48 hours, did much today to rally grains from record-breaking low prices.

Seizing opportunity to get flour materials cheap, domestic millers were brisk buyers. Overseas demand for United States corn was likewise in evidence, though offset somewhat by the fact that country offerings to arrive were larger.

Wheat closed firm at almost the day's top, ⅝@1c higher than yesterday's finish, corn ¼@½c up, oats unchanged to ⅛c higher, and provisions unchanged to 15 cents off.

An outstanding stimulus to wheat was that at least a temporary end appeared to have been reached in heavy liquidating sales which had gone hand in hand with recent severe fall of prices. A considerable part of today's purchasing was based on opinions current that a natural recovery of some extent was to be expected. But price upturns met with selling from United States government sponsored sources. It was pointed out that export business in Canadian wheat had been facilitated by a tumble of Canadian exchange rates to 9½ per cent discount.

Argentine temperatures were above normal, and it was feared rust would develop in wheat if dampness continued. Some notice was taken of reports that a conference of representatives of Canada, Argentina, Australia and the United States had been suggested by the Argentine minister of agriculture with a view to limiting wheat acreage for two years. In various quarters, too significance was given announcement that a cargo of Argentine wheat had been dispatched to the Danube river, confirming assertions that instead of exporting wheat this year some Balkan countries would have to import.

Chicago handlers of corn were credited with having disposed of 100,000 bushels for export, on top of 500,000 bought yesterday at the seaboard to be sent overseas. Danubian corn offerings abroad were reported to have been withdrawn. Oats borrowed firmness from corn.

Provisions weakened with hog values.

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK REVIEW

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 27. (AP)—(USDA)—Early rounds found fed steers and yearlings selling at steady to weak levels, but on the close several markets reported a definitely lower tone prevailing with sales as much as 25c lower. Best grades of steers in Chicago brought $9.25 and several loads steers and yearlings around the circuit were included at $7.40@8.85. Majority of fed offerings were of quality to bring around $5.00@7.25. A small supply of stockers and feeders offered brought steady prices with a few sales in a spread of $3.25@5.50. Occasional loads of better grades yearling stockers still around $5.75@6.00 and choice stock steer calves being up to $6.50.

Hog values carried an uneven rating at steady to 15c lower with spots on the close as much as 20c off. Chicago noted an early top of $3.60, while top prices elsewhere ranged downward to $3.10.

With most desirable fat lambs selling in a spread of $4.75@5.25 and a few at $5.35@5.75, values were considered generally steady to 25c lower. Medium to choice feeding lambs brought $3.50@5.00.

HUFF TO LEAD VERNON TREK

Wichitans Assured 'Big Time' in Wilbarger

William E. Huff of Wichita Falls was named chairman of a special sports committee Thursday to handle arrangements for local attendance at the annual Wichita Falls-Vernon football game Saturday. Mr. Huff was named by Dr. O. T. Kimbrough, sports and recreation chairman of the chamber of commerce. The committee will represent both the senior and junior chambers.

"The Coyotes are rated an even chance in defeating the Vernon Lions, although rumors from some quarters indicate acceptance of a belief that the local team does not have a chance," Mr. Huff said. "The Lions may have an edge in offensive play but the Coyotes will offer defense that may result in a tie game. Vernon fans are looking forward to the clash as their big game of the season," Mr. Huff added.

The committee will furnish hat bands and automobile pennants for Wichitans who attend the game. The supplies may be obtained at the chamber of commerce offices up to 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Vernon Chamber of Commerce Junior council has arranged for rooms for Wichita fans at the Bailey hotel in Vernon for use before and after the game. Special Vernon committees have been named to assure a good time for visitors.

The committee includes Mr. Huff, Tom Vague, P. S. Richardson, Russell Kolp, H. B. Roblin, L. E. Stone, W. L. Robertson, H. J. Hughey Jr. and Henry Ford.

Scottish Rite Choir Gives Concert Tonight

Mingling with political rallies and football games to provide a crowded week-end for residents of Wichita Falls, the Scottish Rite choir of 35 voices will present a musical feast for the general public without charge Friday night at 8 o'clock in the Memorial auditorium.

Organized about four years ago by Dr. L. D. Parnell and sponsored throughout its existence by the Scottish Rite club of this county, the choir has already established an enviable reputation for thoroughly enjoyable choral singing. Dr. Parnell has been director of the choir since its organization, and will conduct the Friday night concert.

Among the interesting numbers announced for this week's appearance is the "Palestinian Laborers' Chant," reputedly sung by workers engaged in the erection of Solomon's temple in old Jerusalem, and arranged now for mixed voice presentation. Another featured number will be the Rachmaninoff prelude in C sharp minor.

Mrs. S. P. Cunningham, pianist, and Mrs. Vera McNew Bickerstaff, soprano, are soloists for the evening. Mrs. Bickerstaff will be accompanied by Mrs. Lucile Brooks Huff.

Friday night's concert will be free of any admission charge. A cash offering will be accepted at the door after the concert, however, proceeds of which will go to the Scottish Rite Crippled Childrens hospital at Dallas.

RAIL HEARING RESET NOV. 10

Truck Lines to Present Petitions Here

A group of hearings on proposed carrier services in the Wichita area will be presented at the session of the Texas Railroad commissipn here on Nov. 10. Announcement that the date had been delayed one day was received Thursday by Manager Clark S. Cate of the Kemp hotel. The rail board will convene at the hotel at 10 a. m.

The hearing was moved to Wichita Falls on invitation of the chamber of commerce for consideration of an application filed by the Wichita Valley railway. The application seeks permission to substitute a mixed train service for a motor car between Wichita Falls and Abilene.

Application of the Sproles Motor Freight lines for a certificate of convenience and necessity to operate a common motor carrier service between Dallas and Wichita Falls also will be presented at the hearing. The freight line request states no service will be given points on highway 116 between Dallas and Rhome.

Other applications for contract carrier permits which have been filed and set for hearings at the local session include those of D. A. DeTar of Oklahoma City for transportation of explosives from Oklahoma City to Fort Worth, Dallas, Beaumont, Wichita Falls and other points; H. D. Miller of Olton for service between Olton and Plainview; and O. R. House of Crane for service from Midland to Crane, McCamey and Rankin.

50 Pep Squad Girls Need Transportation To Vernon Game

An appeal for Coyote fans to assist in taking members of the girls pep squad to Vernon for he annual Coyote-Lion football game Saturday was issued Thursday by Miss Lennie Mangum, pep squad sponsor. A check of the squad membership Thursday revealed that only 50 of the 100 girls have ways of attending the game, Miss Mangum said. Fans who will have room in their cars for one or more girls are urged to call Miss Mangum or school officials as soon as possible at the school, telephone 6116.

Baker Pleads For Unemployed Youth

NEW YORK, Oct. 27. (UP)—A warning against limitation of constructive recreational activities for the 200,000 young people now roaming the country, and for others out of work, was issued today by Newton D. Baker.

The chairman of the welfare and relief mobilization of 1932, made public a report on delinquency and youth programs submitted by national social service agencies cooperating in the mobilization.

Millions of men and women out of work need more than food to sustain their morale, the report said, because "more than food has been taken away from them."

"Any community which does not at this time guard the interests of its boys and girls and unemployed men and women is committing a mistake for which it is bound to pay later," Baker said.

Belgian King Bestowed 'Order Of Crown' On Courboin For Services

Charles M. Courboin, eminent Belgian-American organist, will present a free public concert at the First Methodist church Sunday, Oct. 30, at 5 p. m.

One of the outstanding honors paid Charles B. Courboin, eminent Belgian-American organist who will present a free public concert Sunday afternoon at the First Methodist church, was the bestowal of the Order of the Crown of Belgium upon him a few years ago in New York City.

It was in 1904 that Alphonse Mailly, veteran organist at the court of Belgium and Courboin's teacher, exclaimed of the latter, "He is destined to play the great organs of the world!" A score of years later, that prophecy came true in the United States, and it was during a Courboin concert on the great "jewel" organ in the Wanamaker auditorium, New York, that King Albert's decoration was conferred upon the great organist.

Baron de Cartier de Marchienne, Belgian ambassador to the United States, went from Washington to New York at King Albert's command to reward Courboin "for his valued services to Belgian music in America." The organist was praised by the baron as "Belgium's ambassador of music" to America.

During the past 12 years, Mr. Courboin has been more and more constantly in demand for concert appearances, personifying the growing interest of the public generally in the musical resources of the organ. The concert here Sunday will begin at 5 p. m., Mr. Courboin using the great Reuters organ in the First Methodist church auditorium. The public is invited to attend without admission charge of any kind. Local lovers of music have sponsored the event.

BURK FANS TO PARADE HERE

Wichitans Invited to See Crowell Game

A cavalcade of 45 automobiles filled with Burkburnett High school Bulldog fans will arrive in Wichita Falls at 3:30 o'clock Friday afternoon for a parade announcing the Bulldog football game with the Crowell Wildcats Friday night at Burkburnett. Announcement of the trip came through R. D. Owens, Bulldog fan, in a telephone conversation with Dr. O. T. Kimbrough of the chamber of commerce sports committee here.

The parading fans will drive down Indiana to Eleventh, west on Eleventh to Scott, north on Scott to the Iowa Park road. The group will continue to Iowa Park for a similar parade. The Burkburnett fans declare the night game with Crowell will equal the contest of last week with Olney for gridiron thrills. The Burkburnett Cowboy band will lead the line of march.

Davis Believes Britain And U.S. to Agree on Arms

LONDON, Oct. 27. (U8)—Norman H. Davis, President Hoover's personal disarmament and financial advisor, disclosed today that he believes the British and American governments will reach an "agreement in principle" regarding naval disarmament.

The agreement, though its details are far from completed, will embody an Anglo-American formula for naval regulation that may terminate in a new four-power naval treaty, with France and Italy the other powers.

Randlett Farmers Grow Big Crop Of Roasting Ears For Fall Sale

Roasting ears raised in the Red river bottoms were being marketed in Wichita Falls Thursday to set a new record for the truck possibilities of this country.

Mansfield and Charles Griffith, who live near Randlett, Okla., just across the Red river, planted five acres in corn Aug. 10 as an experiment. To their great surprise the corn did well and produced a bumper crop of roasting ears for a late October market. Several light frosts during recent weeks failed to damage the crop.

Both brothers also own farms in Wichita county on the Iowa Park road. They were born at Bellevue in the eighties and are pioneer citizens. Their mother, Mrs. Mary C. O'Neil, one of the first women in this section, lives with them at Randlett.

One Wichita Falls home-owned grocery chain, which has been importing roasting ears from Colorado for many weeks, bought 42 dozen ears from the brothers Thursday.

City Physician Gives Diphtheria Serum to 25

One new case of diphtheria was reported to City Physician Dr. R. B. Wolford Thursday and was immediately quarantined, bringing the total number of quarantined cases now in the city to about 23, according to information given The Record News.

About 25 persons received injections of serum for diphtheria immunization at the city health office Thursday, it was said.

Dr. Wolford stated that all diphtheria patients now under quarantine are successfully combating the disease.
