States' Rights Nominee Flays FEPC Bill

By BILL HAMS
Avalanche Staff Writer

J. STROM THURMOND, South Carolina governor and States' Rights Democratic presidential nominee, assailed the proposed Fair Employment Practices commission and other civil rights issues before an attentive crowd of some 1,500 Lubbock and South Plains residents at a rally here Thursday night.

Besides flaying the FEPC, the South Carolina leader fired sharp political barbs without favor at GOP Presidential nominee Thomas E. Dewey, Progressive party candidate Henry A. Wallace and President Harry S. Truman for their support of the various civil rights programs and what Thurmond said was their attempts to break down the rights of states and "impose a federal bureaucracy."

Former State Sen. Joe Hill led off the attack upon the civil rights program with a scathing denunciation of the "royal" Democrats of Texas.

Demos Claimed 'Kidnapped'

Hill declared that the referendum in Harrison, Brazoria and Harris county clearly showed that Texas would turn its electoral votes to the States' Rights Democrats and not to "a product of the corrupt Pendergast machine."

The former senator accused State Democratic party leaders Robert Calvert, Tom Miller, and Maury Maverick of "kidnapping" the Democratic party of Texas, and blasted them as being "Wallaceites in disguise."

C. L. Harris, master of ceremonies, introduced Lubbock Mayor W. H. Rodgers who in turn introduced former Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith.

Smith Scores Calvert

Smith picked up the cudgel laid down by Hill and accused Calvert, state Democratic party chairman, of "prating of party loyalty" while selling out Texas Democrats to minority groups, and left wing elements for votes.

"For 116 years South Carolina has been the cornerstone of the Democratic party, in all that time," he declared, "that great commonwealth never has voted anything but Democratic from president to constable, and yet Calvert and his fellow travelers in Texas prate of party loyalty."

Smith declared that "our candidate" is a Democrat, and South Carolina will vote Democratic in November—for the States' Rights Democrats.

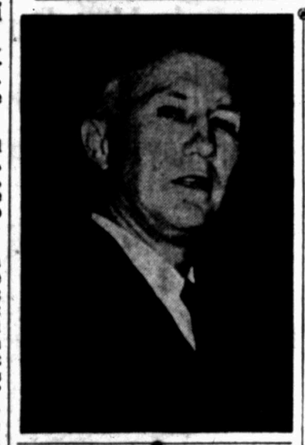

The crowd cheered and applauded when Smith told of Gov. Thurmond's denunciation of Democratic moves at the national convention, and his defiance of that body.

The Lubbock attorney declared that Gov. Thurmond had won his honors on the battlefield and not "through the mechanizations of a corrupt political machine as did

Spy Probers Quiz Scientist

By ROSE McKEE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—Spy probers amid utmost secrecy today quizzed Dr. C. F. Hiskey, a former atom bomb scientist, and later announced that a "very important espionage case" was being investigated.

Chairman Thomas (R-NJ), of the House un-American Activities committee, disclosed before the closed-door hearing that his unit was going into Soviet attempts to steal the atom bomb secret.

In addition to Hiskey, spy probers also questioned his former wife, Miss Marcia Sand, and Miss Victoria Stone, all, with Hiskey, of New York. Thomas did not identify Miss Stone.

Secrecy Claimed Vital

Rep. McDowell (R-Pa), a committee member, said that developments of the day were such that disclosure would be "a serious mistake." He added:

"The situation is so highly important that we can't say anything for reasons of patriotism."

Hiskey is now a professor at a private school in New York City. Committeemen said he was a chemist employed on the Manhattan wartime atom bomb project, headed by Maj. Gen. Leslie R. Groves.

Scientists Subpoenaed

Thomas has said that Russian efforts to steal the atom bomb secret will be one of the important phases to be exposed when the public hearings get underway.

The resumed public investigation is also slated to cover an alleged third spy ring within the government.

Spy probers have disclosed that Dr. Martin Kamen, a former atom bomb scientist, has been subpoenaed to appear before next Wednesday. Kamen, now a professor at Washington university in St. Louis, has denied he was ever involved in any security leak.

Hopes Dim For End To Strikes

(By The Associated Press)

Strikes cut deeper into flour and automobile production Thursday and there were no signs of early settlement.

Meanwhile, a New York metropolitan area trucking strike cut sharply into the delivery of drygoods and reduced newsprint supplies of New York City's newspapers to a matter of days.

These were the developments by industries:

Automotive: An estimated 50,000 Detroit auto workers remained idle for the second day. The strike, called by 170 independent union plant guards at the Briggs Manufacturing company, threw 25,000 Briggs workers out of work. Chrysler Corp. sent home 19,000 workers and Packard 6,000 when assembly lines were halted by a shortage of bodies. The guards are seeking 15 minutes paid preparatory time.

May Cut Wage Demands

Flour: A strike of 1,200 grain handlers at six Minneapolis-St. Paul mills entered its second day after peace efforts of Gov. Luther Youngdahl failed. Industry spokesmen said the strike would not affect bread supplies for a long period as other mills in the area are operating. The strike was called by the AFL American Federa-

Four Philippines-Based U. S. Fighter Planes Are Missing

MANILA, Sept. 9. (INS) — Four Philippine-based U. S. fighter planes were reported missing today after running into "extremely bad weather" between Luzon and Formosa.

The U. S. 13th Air Force announced that the F-47's failed to return to Clark Field north of Manila after a routine training flight.

Clark Field spokeman said that all other planes in the flight are accounted for.

An unconfirmed report said there were 16 planes in the flight. Five were said to have made emergency landings on Formosa while seven presumably returned to Clark Field safely.

Legality Of States' Rights Party Challenged

Texas Political News Jumps Into Spotlight

(By The Associated Press)

TEXAS political news exploded all over the map Thursday. Here were the highlights:

Washington—The Justice department announced it won't decide until after the Sept. 14 Texas Democratic convention whether to investigate the U. S. senatorial runoff.

Hillsboro—J. D. Dickson of Seymour was named chairman of the Democratic convention credentials committee, which must rule between contesting delegations of States' Righters and Loyalists.

Houston — The Chronicle reported the Jim Wells county Democratic executive committee cannot determine the correct U. S. Senate count in one precinct.

Fort Worth—Plans for a statewide pro-Truman Democratic rally at Fort Worth Monday were announced.

Houston — Progressive party spokesmen seek to certify their candidates for president and presidential electors.

Austin—A Republican state executive committeeman challenged legality of the Texas States' Rights convention in Dallas Wednesday.

Dallas—A Standstill was reached in the question of what to do with "lost" and uncounted votes, with 40 additional votes for Coke Stevenson in the balance.

Meanwhile the States' Righters' presidential candidate, Gov. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, was campaigning in West Texas. After speeches at Big Spring and Midland he wound up his Thursday night activities with a major speech at Lubbock.

States' Righters Challenged

At Fort Worth, plans for the statewide rally of pro-Truman Democrats there Monday were announced by Byron Skelton of Temple, pre-convention leader of that faction.

Speakers will include Rep. Sam Rayburn and Governor Beauford Jester, Skelton said. He added that Attorney General Tom Clark has been invited to attend, as have all Texas congressmen and a number of state officials.

At Austin, secretary of state Paul Brown made public a letter

De Gaullists Call For Elections

PARIS, Sept. 9 (AP)—An official spokesman for Gen. Charles De Gaulle called tonight for new national French elections.

This was the first time De Gaulle had intervened during a cabinet crisis.

Jacques Soustelle, secretary-general of De Gaulle's French People's rally (RPF), made a statement to the press at a moment when:

1. The veteran Radical Socialist Henri Queuille had accepted formally the nomination for premier of France.

2. Labor unrest flared throughout France and her colonies.

On the outskirts of Paris, workers of the Renault automobile factory quit their jobs and began a march toward the center of the city. A large police contingent met them along the route. They attacked the police with paving stones and overturned a police car. Before the group was dispersed, a dozen workers and 20 policemen were injured.

Several workers got cracked heads in an earlier battle with police near the palace of President Vincent Auriol. One was reported hospitalized.

Success for the new premier in forming a cabinet would mean a setback for DeGaulle's party and the Communists. Both would be left out of the government again.

Warmer Weather Is Forecast For Area

Warmer weather was promised South Plains residents today after two days of comparatively cool temperatures and rains that by Thursday night had moved into the southern part of the state with heavy downpours.

The weatherman said at midnight that the South Plains grid fans could look forward to ideal football weather with readings somewhat above the maximum of 74 registered Thursday. The forecast was for warmer and partly cloudy weather.

Meanwhile, Corpus Christi was hit by a 2.43 inch fall, Crystal City received 3.83 inches, Houston 2.16 inches, Galveston 2.01 and Del Rio 1.73. Other downstate points also reported good downpours. The state's highest temperature was 88 degrees at Laredo.

U. S., Britain Propose Talks On Italian Colonies Monday

LONDON, Sept. 9 (INS) — The United States and Britain tonight suggested that a big four conference meet in Paris next Monday to consider the dispute over Italy's former colonies.

The notes of the two western powers rejected a Soviet propsal that such a conference be started tomorrow.

If the Paris meeting is held it is likely that Hector McNeil will substitute for British Foreign Secretary Bevin. U. S. Secretary of State Marshall also has said he will not be able to attend such a hurried conference.

Hence it probably will be little more than an extension of the foreign ministers' deputy sessions which hitherto failed to break the East-West deadlock.

Deadly Gases From Volcano In Philippines Endanger 15,000

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Staff Writer

MANILA, Friday, Sept. 10—Deadly gases spewed from Hibokhibok volcano today, imperiling the last 15,000 Filipinos still on tiny Camiguin island. Ten hours had passed without word of their fate.

The last message from the South Philippines island, where the volcano has been in eruption for 10 days, was an urgent appeal for all ships in the area to come to the rescue.

That word came from Arturo Alcaraz, Philippines government volcano expert. Nothing has been heard from him since.

He said acidic ash, probably one of the deadly chlorines, was falling. He ordered a mass evacuation of the island.

There was one ray of cheer for anxious officials here. This is the season of the southwest monsoon. If it is blowing there it will carry the death-dealing gases away from Camiguin's centers of population.

News of what could be one of the great disasters of modern times came in a frantic radio appeal for rescue ships. It was broadcast from a Philippine navy patrol craft a little before 11 p. m. (9 a. m., CST.)

The island is about 450 miles by

'We Won't Be Pushed Out Of Berlin' -- HST

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—President Truman today underscored American determination to stay in Soviet-blockaded Berlin and a White House visitor quoted him as saying "we will not be pushed out."

As the crisis over the German capital tightened, Mr. Truman told a news conference: The United States is standing up for its rights in Berlin, but we are still seeking a peaceful settlement with Russia.

About an hour later Mr. Truman received David Dubinsky, AFL union leader at the White House and discussed the Berlin situation with him. Dubinsky told newsmen he asked the President for "the fullest protection" for trade unionists in Germany against Communist reprisal "in the event we are pushed out of Berlin."

"Will Not Be Pushed Out"

He said Mr. Truman replied: "We will not be pushed out of Berlin."

This recalled that on June 30 Secretary of State Marshall said: "We are in Berlin as a result of agreements between the governments on the areas of occupation in Germany and we intend to stay."

Subsequently Mr. Truman told newsmen that he had approved this Marshall statement in advance.

Dubinsky recently returned from serving as an American delegate to the Marshall plan conference of the European labor movement in London. He is president of the AFL-International Ladies' Garment Workers union.

Mr. Truman's double-barreled declaration on the German situation came as a new clash, marked by gunfire and stonings, made the Berlin crisis more acute.

Mr. Truman told reporters that negotiations with the Russians are still going on in an effort to end the 78-day blockade. But he said

Soviet Military Might Shown In Maneuvers In Baltic Area

By WES GALLAGHER
Associated Press Staff Writer

BERLIN, Sept. 9.— Soviet planes prowled the skies of northern Europe today and Soviet ships cruised in the Baltic off Denmark in the greatest show of Russian strength since the end of the war.

There was little doubt in military minds here that the Soviet activity was a carefully planned military show designed to impress Europe with Soviet armed might in view of the East-West crisis in Berlin.

The moves also were apparently designed to take some of the edge off the Anglo-American air lift to Berlin and the impressive joint British-American air maneuvers over Britain in the last week.

Coupled with Anglo-American army maneuvers at Grafenwohl, the picture reminded many of the European armed camp of 1938 and 1939. At Grafenwohl in the American zone of Germany, a defensive force is practicing warding off a superior "aggressor" force attacking from the east.

The usual Soviet practice is to cloak their armed forces with the greatest

Final Okay Given Airport Building By Commission

By H. I. KIEFER
Avalanche Staff Writer

THE city commission gave the go signal Thursday afternoon for the start of construction on the new $400,000 terminal and administration building at Municipal airport.

W. G. McMillan, the contractor, promptly "got going."

Construction actually is under way after a series of swiftly moving events at the commission's semi-monthly meeting during the afternoon.

The airport terminal developments were the highlights of a commission session also featured by the authorization of architectural plans for a new fire department substation at Third street and College avenue and instructions to City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., to seek a suitable site for another substation in Southwest Lubbock.

Officials Face Delay

But matters pertaining to the airport building stole the official show completely.

When the session convened, officials were hoping that construction of the terminal—which is to be the finest in the Southwest—might be started within a few days or, at least, within a few weeks. Many technicalities had to be attended to.

The situation as to the terminal building when the meeting was convened by Mayor W. H. Rodgers was about like this: The Civil Aeronautics authority had allocated $175,000 toward the cost of the building, to match dollar for dollar the city's contributions. Contracts for the construction had been awarded, but they had not been signed. The signing had been held up because the available money was some $50,000 short of actual needs. Work could not be started until the contracts were signed.

But the outlook brightened when John F. Warfield, of Big Spring, an attorney for the CAA, advised the commission that the Avalanche-Journal To Gives Scores On Area Games Only!

The Avalanche - Journal again this year will give out, by telephone, scores of all football games played by Texas Tech, Lubbock High and all other teams of the South Plains area.

Those seeking such information may secure it by calling No. 4343.

The Avalanche - Journal, however, cannot attempt to give telephone information on all games played throughout the nation. To attempt to do so would tie up our switchboard and paralyze our telephone communications.

Although we should like to give all interested persons telephone information on all scores, we are unable to do so because of the wide participation here in football lotteries. It is physically impossible to give each lottery player who calls all the scores he requests from a dozen to 20 games.

Saturday and Sunday papers will carry complete sectional, state and national football results from which "card players" may find out how much they lost and other interested persons may keep up with their favorite teams outside this territory.

Mrs. Thurmond Matches Governor Husband Mile For Mile In Campaign Travels Over Southland

By MARGARET TURNER

MRS. J. Strom Thurmond, a smiling, efficient and good looking young woman has been matching her energetic governor husband mile for mile on his travels over the South in behalf of his campaign as the presidential nominee on the States' Rights ticket. Her role is that of a quiet, understanding helpmate.

"I go along to render my husband personal assistance and I do my share of handshaking, but I don't make any speeches," she explains in a deep Southern accent.

Mrs. Thurmond was Jean Crouch of Elko, S. C., before her marriage June 7, 1947. She was graduated from Winthrop college in June and took a job as secretary to the governor, marrying him five months later. But she was a high school student when she first met him.

Soviets Fire After Germans Stone Troops

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Sept. 9.—Thirty to 50 Germans were wounded in powder keg Berlin tonight when Russian troops and police fired on anti-Communists who stoned them and ripped the Soviet flag from atop Brandenburg gate.

Unconfirmed reports said two Germans were killed in wild fighting that followed a rally by nearly 300,000 anti-Communists protesting Russian efforts to seize all of Berlin.

One unidentified German either was shot or fell from the big Brandenburg gate after he hurled the Russian flag below to cheering comrades who tore it to shreds.

Reds Held Responsible

Acting Berlin Mayor Ferdinand Friedensburg said the anti-Communist rioters were not morally responsible for the rioting. Of the Communists he commented:

"He who sows the wind shall harvest the storm."

The Communists tonight said they will hold a big counter-demonstration Sunday at noon in the Soviet sector's Lustgarten.

Tonight's fighting occurred mostly just inside the Soviet sector along the boundary with the British sector where the rally was held.

U. S. Protest Rejected

It followed a flat Russian rejection of American protests over Communist mob action Monday at the Berlin city hall. Soviet sector police at that time smashed into the U. S. liaison office, arrested 19 western Berlin policemen, and rifled American files.

The Russians in effect told the Americans today that this was not any of their business.

The British officially announced that two shots were fired in their sector from the Soviet side in tonight's fighting.

They did not estimate casualties, most of which occurred on the Soviet side of the boundary.

The building construction permit for the store building will boost Lubbock's 1948 building figure beyond the $10,000,000 mark. The total for 1948 Thursday before the contract was let was $9,777,748.

Carl E. Maxey was low bidder on the general contract for the building, with a bid of $152,000. Plumbing, heating and air conditioning contract was awarded to Rochie Newton on a bid of $20,930. German Statesmen Of Another Era Planning New Government

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
Associated Press Staff Writer

BONN, Germany, Sept. 9 —The 65 men who are conferring here on the establishment of a new German government are really in the middle.

There is something awe inspiring in their task of officiating at the rebirth of the German nation, and also something pitiful.

The government they are about to establish will have to work under great restriction by the occupying powers.

Appear As Puppets

The body politic their new constitution will cover has an arm, a leg, and part of its heart cut off from the rest. To these men the rebuilding of anything like what they would consider a real Germany must seem almost impossible. And they must know that, to many of their own people and to much of the outside world, despite Allied assurances, they appear almost as puppets. They are merely doing what they can now, hoping for a better opportunity in the future. Most of them sincerely desire to help produce a "good Germany."

But there is an aura of facts which cannot be changed, of history that cannot be rewritten, perhaps even an arra of long range futility, hovering over even the "festival" session which preceded their business sessions.

Most Ill Dressed

The flags outside were those of the Weimar Republic, which utterly failed to meet the economic and political forces of its time. And many of the men themselves were renewing governmental careers which more or less had seen their climax in that republic. Not necessarily old and bent men but men beyond the age when new careers are begun, new tasks shouldered with confidence.

Some of them were dressed in the formal morning clothes of another diplomatic age. One or two had carnations. But most were in their "other" business suits.

Many of the faces displayed unmistakable character, but only a few evidenced the vigor of gray-haired but younger Max Reimann, suntanned and sharp-featured leader of West German's Communists.

The music was all that you expect of a good German symphony orchestra in this great artistic and educational center. But there was something about it, too, that reminded one of the state to which the nationalistic, fuehrer-following German people had brought themselves. The conductor and a few musicians were in white tie and tails, but other musicians were in black ties, and some in ordinary sack suits, soft collars and four-in-hands. And there was many an unshined shoe, even as among the official delegates

Reasonably or not, a German symphony orchestra in that condition somehow seemed more significant to me than anything else at Bonn.

Red Blood Cells Must Be Kept Up If You Want To Feel Alive

Thousands Now Regaining Old Time Pep, Vigor and Drive By Releasing Vibrant Energy To Every Muscle, Fibre, Cell

Overwork, undue worry, and lack of certain foods often reduces the red-blood strength — and starved, weak, puny blood just hasn't the power to keep up your energy and drive.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloat and give off that sour food taste.

New Frost Dispeller Expected To Save Crops From Cold

Man's contest against nature's processes has brought announcement from industrial circles of a newly-perfected frost dispeller through infrared lamp rays, which "may materially affect the nation's agricultural system."

The announcement came in the current issue of Steelways magazine, publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute, which points out that while farmers will find the new lamp invaluable in saving crops during the first touches of frost, the growing season may actually be extended as techniques for use of the lamp are developed.

The magazine describes the lamp as composed of a circular piece of stainless steel, shaped in cone-shaped steps, with an oil burner within the framework. When the burner is put into action the steel heats to a cherry red, throwing infra-red rays over the area, and in their intensity even entering the ground.

Dr. Arthur W. Farrell of Michigan State college, one of those who developed the device, believes it will be of much advantage against early light fronts, the magazine article said.

Stock Boom Makes Many Investors Rich

LONDON, Sept. 9. (AP)—Investors made millions in minutes on the London stock exchange today in a rampaging boom in truck and bus line shares touched off by a government nationalization move.

Thomas Tilling, Ltd., one of the country's oldest road transportation firms, announced overnight the government had agreed to pay £24,800,000 ($99,200,000) for its rolling stock and other assets.

Share Values Jump

The takeover figure, higher than had been expected, brought opening bids of 117 shillings sixpence ($23.50) for Tillings ordinary shares.

This was 16 shillings sixpence ($6.64) higher than last night's close and raised the market value of the 4,120,000 ordinary shares by around £3,000,000 ($12,000,000). The price eased later to 113 shillings sixpence under profit taking but demand remained strong and other transport issues also soared.

British Electric traction £100 deferred leaped to a high of £1860 ($7,440) up £240 ($960) on the strength of the company's holdings in provincial bus and tram lines. Gains for smaller firms ranged from sixpence (ten cents) to two shillings sixpence ($5). Other sections of the market were quiet.

Lubbock Brothers Enlist In Army For Service In Japan

George and Donald Dickerson, sons of Mrs. Mattia Dickerson of 2615 Thirty-first, enlisted here Thursday in the United States Army for duty in Japan.

The brothers are both 18 years of age, and for the past year have been working in the oil fields.

They have departed for Fort Ord, Calif., where they will receive their basic training with the Fourth Infantry division. Upon completion of this training, they will depart for Japan to join the First Cavalry division, now doing occupation duty.

It is probable that the brothers will serve their entire three years together, although the Army makes no guarantee of this, recruiting officials here said. They will be serving with more than 100 young men from this area who have enlisted in the First Cavalry during the past five months.

Superior Asks Permit To Drill 6,000 Foot Wildcat In Andrews

Superior Oil company has filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas, requesting a permit to drill its No. 2-9-D University, as a wildcat to a possible bottom of 6,000 feet in south-central Andrews county.

Operations with rotary tools will start immediately. The venture is eight miles south and four miles west of the town of Andrews.

Test San Andres

That makes it approximately two and one-half miles south of the nearest production from the San Andres-Permian on the south side of the Fuhrman-Mascho field.

This prospector is being started primarily to test the San Andres. It is indicated that in the event it is dry in that formation that it might be carried further into the Permian horizons.

Magnolia Petroleum company No. 1 Winston, south-central Scurry county wildcat, about four miles south of the town of Snyder, and 330 feet from north and west lines of tract 72, Kirkland & Fields survey No 37, was bottomed at 7,905 feet in Ellenburger dolomite and was running electric log surveys.

No Gas At Surface

This venture ran a drillstem test at 7,841-52 feet. The tool was open two hours. No gas showed at the surface while the tool was open, but some free gas was encountered in the drill pipe.

Recovery was 62 feet of drilling mud, 186 feet of heavily oil and gas cut drilling mud, and 186 feet of mud cut oil. There were no signs of water.

Operator then re-tested the same section — 7,841-52 feet, for another two hours. Gas showed at the surface in 45 minutes. Recovery was 170 feet of heavily oil and gas cut mud.

Another drillstem test was run at 7,852-64 feet. The tester was open two hours. Gas showed at the surface in 14 minutes. Recovery was 140 feet of slightly oil and gas cut drilling mud.

Rainbow Of Oil

The project drilled on down to 7,875 feet and a one and one half hour drillstem test was run at 7,863-75 feet. Recovery was 60 feet of gas cut drilling mud and 55 feet of salty, sulphur water, with a rainbow of oil.

The venture then continued to a total depth of 7,905 feet, in dolomite without reporting any further testing.

Operator has not released the official call on the top at the Ellenburger in this exploration. However, it is understood that the above described drillstem tests about covered the full interval of that formation which has been penetrated.

Despite the fact that no official information is now available regarding the future of this project, it is generally assumed that a string of casing will be run to bottom, so the oil shows in the Ellenburger, and in three sections in the Pennsylvania, can be tested.

Some of the Pennsylvanian shows indicated strong possibilities of some sort of commercial production, and some observers think there is a chance that the section of the Ellenburger which developed the free oil, might be completed as a small oil producer.

Westerner Coach Is Kiwanis Club Speaker

Westerner Coach Pat Pattison discussed high school football prospects and the general athletic organization in Lubbock schools before a Thursday luncheon meeting of the Kiwanis club in Hotel Lubbock.

Introduced also were Bill Floyd and Fred Taylor, his assistants with the Westerner squad. Believing that "you will find no better spirit and attitude" in any football team, Pattison said he thinks the Westerners will give Odessa a good scrap in the first game of the season tonight.

He said Odessa will have a more experienced team, and he pointed out Patterson and Thompson in the backfield as both good boys who will be hard to stop.

Boys May Be Shy

Due to the semester rule, he said most of his boys are 15 and 16 years old, that despite four weeks of workouts they may prove a little shy at first, but he believes that by the fifth or sixth game they will be settle down into a smooth-working squad "that will have to be respected" on the field.

He warned that "there will be mistakes," and that the breaks of the game will sometimes be costly, but he believes the boys will react to these breaks in good shape.

Pattison described his backfield as having average speed, the ends as of average height and speed, but above the average in agility, and the line as "on the heavy side" which sometimes is a handicap to speed. He pointed up Malcolm Young and Bob Brown as two backfield prospects with much promise.

Registration Help Needed

Jack Hall, club member and county service officer for war veterans, made an appeal for help in the draft registration. He said much of this has been sent to the American Legion hall, and that the staff there is inadequate to handle registrants without long delays.

Donald McDonald was introduced as a transfer member from Beeville. Club President L. E. (Jack) Davis was in the chair, with invocation by Rev. Claude E. Canterbury.

WAA Offers Plan For Leases On Camp Maxey And Pantex

DALLAS, Sept. 9. (AP)—Opening of most of the huge military reservation at Camp Maxey, near Paris, for grazing, and plans for the releasing of portions of Amarillo's Pantex Ordnance works were announced today by the War Assets administration.

Marking the first time Camp Maxey has been made available to the public for agricultural usage, 38,000 acres of the grounds are being offered in a single area for a year's lease starting September 30.

Two sections of the Pantex Ordnance grounds, involving 4,222, acres, are being offered for a renewal of present leasing arrangements.

U.S. Export System Under Study By Solons

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Astonished senators dug up these assorted facts today about this government's export license program:

1. Nails. 2½ and 3 inches long—badly needed to build homes—were exported last year as "shoe tacks."

2. A woman government clerk issued permits to export more than 2,000,000 pounds of lard during a period when the quota was 199,000 pounds.

3. A man under suspicion in connection with forged licenses was put on a "watch list" and then two weeks later granted a permit to export a million dollars worth of rice.

4. Government officials here continued to use a perforating machine to validate licenses for five months after they learned a similar machine was turning out forged licenses. They explained they lacked $750 to change the original machine.

5. A New York City exporter told about paying $9,400 for two permits to ship flour to Brazil. He said the money went to another exporter who previously testified to paying more than $29,000 for 15 export permits that Senate investigators say were forged.

Chairman Ferguson (R-Mich) of the Senate Investigating subcommittee finally observed that "it is impossible to tell what went out of this country under the export system."

But Wallace S. Thomas, director of export operations for the Office of International Trade, assured senators that a new check-up had been installed at the start of this month. He said it should eliminate most irregularities including the forged permits.

SITE UNCERTAIN

AFTER having everything rather well lined up, with a site for their club building practically in the bag, it seems Amarillo Federation of Women's clubs voting membership turned the proposition down. The Federation already has purchased a war surplus building from Amarillo Army Air field for their new quarters. The building will be moved as soon as a site is purchased.

The hitch in plans came when some of the women thought the price asked for the site was prohibitive.

And so now the Amarillo Federation has a building but no building site and the Lubbock Women's club had a building site but no building. Isn't that something?

TIPS FROM A CHEF

HERE'S a list of cooking hints worked out by a flight chef which may be helpful to landlubbers, especially those who are new at the job:

1. Always keep knives sharp.
2. To keep celery ends white, dip them in water mixed with lemon juice.
3. Keep salad green fresh by wrapping in dampened cheese cloth and storing in refrigerator.
4. Romaine stands hot weather better than Boston or iceberg lettuce.
5. Never salt roast beef or steak until cooking is completed. The seasoning will not penetrate the meat while it is cooking, and it draws the blood out, causing the meat to lose color and flavor.
6. With steak or fish, the following sauce is good: Melt butter, add lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and chopped parsley.
7. To do a neat job of cutting a frosted cake, dip your knife in warm water after each slice.
8. Sherry improves the flavor of a fruit cocktail—one teaspoon to a serving.

STARTLING STATISTICS

THE average homemaker in her lifetime washes two and a half million dishes, or 72 stacks as high as the Empire State building. In the normal household, the weight of washed dishes is more than that of coal shoveled into the furnace. In 30 years, 340 tons of dishes are washed by the average homemaker.

The staticsics might be food for thought for the tired business woman who envies a housewife her easy job.

UNITY IN CHURCHES

AN impression of great unity among the world's Christian churches represented in Amsterdam, Holland, at the first assembly of the newly organized World Council of Churches, is growing on Biship Williams (cq) C. Martin of Dallas.

One of the five bishops of the Methodist church on the denomination's official delegation of twelve, Bishop Martin said, in an interview, "The conviction which keeps enforcing itself upon my mind is that the Church needs to give far greater emphasis to a unity which already exists. This is not a unity of form or organization but of spirit and witness."

The bishop feels that the differences between religious groups have had too much advertising and the extent of the area on which the faiths of Christendom agree is too little realized.

We thought this was a beautiful statement: "Across the barriers of race and color and language and culture we have come together with one faith and one purpose There will be a new day for our confused and discordant world when a sufficient number of people have been brought into a sense of the universal and deathless Kingdom of Christ."

F. T. Wisdoms Are On Wedding Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Taylor Wisdom who were married recently in the Monroe Baptist church will be at home at 2107 Ave. O when they return from a wedding trip to New Mexico. The bride is the former Miss Wilda Ray Swanner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Swanner, 1309 Ave. D, and the bridegroom is son of Mrs. Cecil Wisdom of 2818 Maple. Rev. J. S. Rankin performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a blue crepe dress with gold and black accessories and a corsage of white carnations. For something borrowed, she wore a gold necklace belonging to Mrs. Andy Edwards; for something old, she carried a white silk handkerchief belonging to her mother; and for good luck, she wore a penny in her shoe.

Mrs. Andy Edwards, sister of the bride, was matron of honor.

A reception was given in the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony.

Mr. Wisdom is employed by Ferguson Auto Supply company.

New York state has 290 airports, with about 90 seaplane bases.

NO MORE PEP THAN A FENCE POST

*That's one of the signs of a Borderline Anemia

Why are some people always tired, pale and "half-alive"—while others fairly bubble with pep and energy?

There can be lots of reasons, of course. But a pale face and a colorless, listless personality are often the result of weak faded red blood cells. If that's your trouble, you may have a Borderline Anemia—due to a ferro-nutritional deficiency of the blood. Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—have this tiring blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded, shrunken and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better—to look better—to act alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS!

Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.*

Luncheon Given As Farewell Courtesy

A series of farewell courtesies is being given for Mrs. J. B. Rountree, jr., who is leaving with Dr. Rountree the latter part of the month for Memphis, Tenn., where he is to spend a year in post graduate work.

An arrangement of carnations centered the table.

Guests were Mesdames C. R. Gallagher, Charles Cobb, Roy Riddel, jr., R. P. Riordan, M. D. Watkins, J. M. Moxley, French Pruitt and Ira Dunlap.

About 2,000 people in the United States are struck by lightning each year and about 500 are killed.

Amarillo Gold Sox Defeat Hubbers, 8 To 2, In Series Opener

Budny Hurls Four-Hitter To Give Sox Playoff Lead

By JOE KELLY
Avalanche Sports Editor

AMARILLO, Sept. 9—Amarillo Gold Sox power asserted itself here tonight as they swept to an 8-2 victory in the first game of the Shaughnessy playoff series over the Lubbock Hubbers before 3,038 half-frozen fans at Gold Sox park.

Joe Budny (21-10) had everything tonight in limiting the slugging Hubbers to four scattered blows, one of which was Don Moore's home run that drove in the only Lubbock tallies. Budny had a blazing fast ball this cool evening and his curve nicked the corner of the plate with monotonous regularity. He walked three, fanned three and showed beautiful control.

Sox Club Miller

Three Amarillo double plays helped to choke off promising Hubber rallies, but even without them, there was plenty of doubt that the Lubbock nine could turn the tide. It wasn't their night.

Roland Miller, who gave up all the Gold Sox runs before leaving the game in the fifth, didn't have anything. His fast ball was to the liking of the Gold Sox batters, as was demonstrated in the first inning, and his curve failed to break.

It was too bad, from his standpoint and the Hubbers, for of his four victories this year, two had been over the Gold Sox.

Teams Clash Tonight

The two teams clash here tomorrow night and it will be Jack Schumacher (21-9) against Royce Mills (16-3). Mills said tonight that he was ready to go and desired revenge for tonight's defeat.

The Gold Sox lost no time in getting the jump on the Hubbers. Earl Harriman grounded out, but Jerry Folkman singled to left and Doug Lewis walked. Both runners advanced on a wild pitch and Paul Halter singled sharply to left. Chick Fowler dove for the ball, but missed it, the ball rolling to the fence and allowing Lewis to add the second tally.

In the second, three runs iced the game. Buck Fausett skied to right, but Tom Mayfield doubled to left center. Budny was safe on Floyd Walker's interference on what should have been the second out and both runners advanced a base on another wild pitch. Harriman singled through the box to centerfield, scoring Mayfield and Budny. Folkman walked to put men on second and third and Doug Lewis drilled a 3-1 pitch to center to plate Harriman.

Frank McAlexander drew his second walk to lead off the Hubber fifth and Moore smashed a 2-2 pitch over the left centerfield fence to score Lubbock's only two runs.

Crues Hits Homer

Crues hit the first pitch over the leftfield fence, a towering drive, for his 70th homer of the year in the third, and two more homers in the fifth put the game away. Halter slammed a 1-2 pitch over the leftfield fence with one out and, after a second Gold Sox death, Gentzkow picked out a 1-2 pitch and sent it over the left centerfield barrier.

The Hubbers weren't discouraged by their loss and were determined to win the second game. Manager Jackie Sullivan declared "We'll get 'em tomorrow and we'll still take the series." His teammates backed him to the man.

This year's series is following last year's to a "T," with the Gold Sox winning the first game in 1947 8-0 and beating Paul Hinrichs in the bargain. The Hubbers feel certain that they faced Budny when he was right and that they wouldn't run into the same thing two nights in a row.

Budny was great, facing only 29 men officially. He got the Hubbers down in order for the first three innings and in the last two. He faced four men in the fourth and sixth and five men in the fifth. Outside of that, he was invincible.

Red Sox Thump Yanks, 9 To 4

BOSTON, Sept. 9 (AP)—Boston's pennant hungry Red Sox increased their American League lead to three and a half games over the runner up Yankees today, thumping the New Yorkers 9-4, thanks to an eight run spree in the third inning. It was the ninth successive Sox victory and their 24th in their last 27 games.

A paid throng of 28,002 dolefully watched the McCarthy Maulers spot the Yankees three runs and then chortled as their favorites walked and batted their way to their eight runs.

Bob Porterfield, starting Yankee pitcher, went to pieces in the third. He gave up three walks and three hits before he was removed for Tommy Byrne who was equally ineffective.

The game, in which Ellis Kinder went all the way for his eighth victory had started off as if the Sox were going to present it to the Yankees.

Lobos, Indians Top Area Grid Schedule

South Plains Class A and B grid teams swing into action in a full slate of games this afternoon and tonight, as most of the area elevens open their 1948 schedules against non-conference opponents.

Levelland's Loboes, defending regional champs in Class A, tangle with Class AA Lamesa on the Golden Tornadoes' home turf in a feature setto at 8 o'clock tonight. An opening game crowd of approximately 3,000 persons is predicted by Lamesa officials, as the Tornadoes attempt to avenge last week's 6-0 loss to Seminole.

Another District 4-A team, Sundown, plays host to Tahoka in an interesting non-title encounter. The Bulldogs won a district championship in 1947, and the Roughnecks are ranked as a loop contender this year.

Seminole's high-geared Indians open their 5-A loop competition against the strong McCamey Badgers tonight at Seminole. The Indians are favored to repeat their '47 triumph over McCamey, but the invading eleven is expected to give the Seminole crew one of their toughest tests of the season.

The complete schedule:

District 3-A: New Deal at Abernathy, Slaton at Floydada, Chillicothe at Paducah, Tulia at Lockney, Spur at Haskell, Hale Center at Crosbyton, Post at Ralls and Estelline at Matador.

District 4-A (North Half): Levelland at Lamesa, Dalhart at Littlefield, Tahoka at Sundown, Springlake at Muleshoe, Andrews at Sudan.

District 4-A (South Half): Slaton at Floydada, Post at Ralls, and Hermleigh at Seagraves.

District 5-A: Denver City at Kermit, Colorado City at Monahans, Wink at Fort Stockton, McCamey at Seminole, Brownfield at Pecos.

Class B: Farwell at Petersburg, Frenship at Anton, Morton at Whiteface, Lubbock Pioneers at Plains.

Meadow Gains 13-0 Win Over Ropesville

MEADOW, Sept. 9 (Special)—Touchdown gallops by Halfbacks Robert White and Mark Joplin gave the Meadow Bronchos of District 4-B a 13-0 non-conference victory over the Ropesville Eagles here tonight.

White tallied with a 60-yard sprint in the first period, then Joplin crossed the double stripe on a 40-yard run in the third quarter.

In halftime ceremonies the Meadow Memorial athletic field was dedicated to the memory of former Meadow students who lost their lives in World War 2. Congressman George Mahon was the featured speaker.

Pep is a 5 to 13 favorite to beat Demarco.

WHITHARRAL, Sept. 9 (Special)—Whitharral's offensive-minded grid machine, paced by the point-making of Joe Wade, Sonny McDaniels and Calvin Bryant, rolled to an impressive 46-0 triumph over the Morton "B" eleven here this afternoon.

Wade led the touchdown parade with four six-pointers, while McDaniels and Bryant each crossed the goal line twice.

Favored Broncos Invade Jones Stadium For Opening Grid Tilt

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Sports Writer

Lubbock High's Westerners and the Odessa Broncos, traditional gridiron rivals in West Texas schoolboy ranks, will open their 1948 schedule with a feature non-conference tilt at 8 o'clock tonight at Texas Tech's new Jones stadium.

The Broncos, perennial champions of District 3-AA, and the Westerners, a 1-AA representative, have tangled in non-title competition for the last seven years. The Westerners have won four of the seven encounters, but the Odessans have collected all their triumphs during the last three years. The rampaging Red Hosses from the Sand Hills have advanced into the state Class AA playoffs the last three seasons, winning the championship in 1946, and have not lost a regular season game since 1944.

The Broncos broke the Westerners' four-year win streak in the series with an impressive 26-7 triumph in 1945, made it two in a row with a 13-0 win in 1946 and then trampled the Hub city eleven, 32-7, last fall at Odessa.

Open Under New Coach

The Lubbock gridders will be playing under a new coaching setup tonight. Veteran C. R. (Pat) Pattison former Denison and Wichita Falls mentor, is now the head Westerner football coach and athletic director. He is assisted by Bill Floyd, line mentor from Texarkana, and End Coach Fred Taylor from Texas Christian university.

Joe Coleman, the wily mentor who has directed the Broncos to three district titles, is back at the helm this year. He is assisted by Julius Johnson and A. V. Patterson.

A high-scoring offensive duel is predicted for the important encounter tonight, with favored Odessa's fast-breaking "T" formation attack matching touchdowns with Lubbock's well-balanced modified single wing assault. The Broncos feature one of the fastest backfields in the state, headed by veteran halfbacks Jimmy Patterson and Sonny Mobley, working behind a speedy set of forwards.

Field Heavy Line

A heavy, inexperienced line will be fielded by the Lubbock schoolboys, backed by a light, but fast, secondary. The Westerner forward wall will weigh in at an average of 185 pounds, but only one of the probable starters—Tackle Jack Bryant—has ever won a high school letter. The backfield will average about 160 pounds, as will the Bronco secondary, and will feature two lettermen of '47.

Probable Lubbock starters announced by Pattison include: Ends Bob Rooker and Ted Vaught, Tackles Jack Bryant and Joe Brock, Guards Jack Hensley and Morris Moyers, Center Wendell Gailey, Quarterback Charley Williams, Right Half Don Decker, Left Half Malcolm Young and Fullback Bill Bridge. Bryant and Decker are co-captains.

Broncos' Lineup

Coleman's starters will probably include Paul Erwin and Dean McCullough at ends, Don Thompson and Roy Heard at tackles, Gervais Johnson and Dale Stroope at guards, Clyde Smith at center, Carl Beard at quarterback, Patterson at right half, Mobley at left half and Howard (Jake) Dye at fullback. Thompson and Patterson have been elected co-captains of the '48 Broncos.

More than 10,000 fans are expected to be on hand at the giant new Jones stadium at kickoff time, including a large delegation from Odessa.

Tickets will be on sale today at the Senior High school athletic office, Business Manager E. J. Lowrey has announced, with end zone general admission ducats to be placed on sale at the stadium tonight. Persons holding reserved seat reservations must pick up their ducats before 1 o'clock this afternoon, Lowrey said.

In other games featuring 1-AA elevens, Plainview's Bulldogs play host to strong Polytechnic of Fort Worth and powerful North Dallas invades Pampa.

Rice Owls Shaping Up For Beginning Of 1948 Season

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

HOUSTON, Sept. 9 (AP) — In some ways the Rice Owls are in a better position than anybody else to win the Southwest Conference football championship.

That might be considered an off-key statement if you give heed to Rice's losses without considering the gains. Almost half a line and the defensive power of the backfield are gone from last season's team. But the Owls have the best schedule in the Conference and they appear in better condition and farther advanced than at the same period last year.

The 1947 schedule was a backbreaker as the Owls played four of their first five games away from home, including Southern Methodist and Texas. This time they get four of the first five at home, including Southern Methodist and Texas. And they play Texas Christian, ranked along with S.M.U. and Texas among the title contenders, in Houston.

1947 Players Back

Coach Jess Neely is bringing the team along faster than usual. He decided to do that to begin with, telling all his players to report for fall training ready for early scrimmage. Weather has been favorable to that end. It hasn't been so unbearably hot and humid as usual.

Neely has a good nucleus from last year around which to build his team, and he also has the four best passers ever to be on the squad at the same time in Rice football history. The Owls are a little thin at tackle and guard but well-heeled at center and end. There is a tried and tested performer at each backfield spot and fair replacements.

Some think the team will be better than last year when the Owls were pre-season favorites to win the title and rate high in the nation. If so, Rice could take the championship in view of the favorable schedule.

Teams Will Be Strong

Neely thinks the conference will have its greatest football in the nine years he has been in the circuit. "Every team will be strong," he says. "We may be good and still not win."

Rice has 17 lettermen back from last year, four of them ends. They are James Williams, Nick Lanza, Jack McBride and Bill Taylor. Neely says he believes his wings will be taken care of in excellent fashion.

There are three tackles of proven ability. They are Billy Wyman, Ed Parker and Ralph Murphy. The fourth tackle is expected to be Paul Giroski, a giant squadman of last year. Giroski was bothered by a knee injury but has had an operation that cured the trouble.

Three top guards are back: Tom Parsons, S. J. Roberts and Carl Schwarz. Three are not enough but Delwood Lee, two-year squadman, appears ready to step in and take up the slack.

Good Center Players

There just isn't anything for the coaches to worry about at center with Joe Watson, the massive All-Conference star; Gerald weatherly, almost as good, and Jack Price, two-year letterman. Neely considers Watson one of the greatest linemen in the nation.

Rice never before has been a great passing team but the amunition appears to be available to make the aerial game bloom as the major offensive weapon of the boys in blue this year. Tobin Rote, fine ball-handler under the T formation, leads the passing crew which includes Harmon Carswell, fully recovered from a knee injury and pounds heavier than ever before; Charley Easter, veteran squadman, and Vernon Glass, classy freshman.

Townsend Will Attend Texas U.

ODESSA, Sept. 9 (AP) — Byron Townsend, All-State back of Odessa high school, today announced he would go to the University of Texas.

Townsend, one of the most sought-after athletes in Texas schoolboy history, said he had made up his mind only today after pondering for months the many schools that had been after his football services.

"I think it is the best place to go", he said.

Townsend had declared previously that he would attend some Southwest Conference school and not go outside that circuit. Oklahoma was known to have actively sought the 185-pound backfield star.

Townsend last year was selected as the outstanding football player in Texas high schools by vote of the Texas Sports Writers Association. He was honored as such at a banquet held by the University of Houston ex-students association.

Byron was All-State in 1946 and 1947. In 1946 he led Odessa to the state championship. Last year Odessa was defeated in the semi-finals by Highland Park of Dallas.

For months the question of where Townsend was going to college had been the chief topic of conversation among sports fans.

Townsend said he would report at the university Saturday.

Tidewater Triumphs In Hoosier Futurity

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 9 (INS) —Tidewater, a brown colt owned by Coburn and MacPherson of Los Angeles, scored a straight-heat triumph today in the $7,578 Hoosier Futurity for two-year-old trotters, feature of the day's grand circuit program at the Indiana state fair.

The winner, driven by Clay Hasch, won the second heat in 2:09 3/5 after scoring in the first heat when Juke Box, owned by Frank Falter of Marion, O., and driven by Gibson White, was disqualified for interference.

Sports Study

By Earl Seaddon

Tonight at Jones stadium the 1948 Lubbock High school Westerners get their first test of the season—and a very rough test, indeed. The Broncos, like the Amarillo Golden Sandies, have a "winning complex," and it is very hard to beat a team that has won 26 of its last 27 games. Of course this edition of the Broncos is not the same group of gridders that chalked up the amazing records of the last three years. But the group includes several boys who have been on the squad since 1946, and they are working under the same mentors who piloted the Red Hosses to three consecutive district titles.

The game will also show just how much progress the Lubbock coaching staff, headed by Pat Pattison, has been able to make in less than a month of drills. The Westerner mentors took over the reins after the first of the year and did not see any of their candidates on a football field until Aug. 16. They had only two regulars and less than a half-dozen squadmen to build a team around, but they have succeeded in putting together an eleven which—we sincerely believe—will be a credit to the school and the city. They are short on experience, but long on spirit and hustle.

One Texas Tech gridder is certain to be an interested spectator at the game tonight. J. W. Thompson, all-state fullback for the Broncos in 1945, has a younger brother playing with the Odessans. In fact, the "youngster"—190-pound Don Thompson—is a first string tackle and co-captain. So J. W. will have to go out and watch the rest of the family in action against his former rivals.

South Plains grid fans can't complain because of the lack of feature games over the area tonight. The Seminole-McCamey clash should be one of the best battles in the state, with the Levelland-Lamesa setto holding equal interest. Then the Littlefield tussle with Dalhart and the several standout tilts in 3-A should satisfy most of the other paying customers. Fans who like to watch the "Big City" teams in action can journey to Plainview for the Fort Worth Poly-Plainview setto, or to Pampa for the North Dallas-Harvester clash. The grid season is in full swing, even with mid-summer temperatures still prevailing.

Our sincere apologies to Clark Schooley, the Red Raider publicity director. Prof. Schooley did not say, humorously or otherwise that the Westerners would not need a scoreboard when they play Odesso tonight. He was misquoted on that statement.

TRENTON NINE ADVANCES

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 9 (INS) —Pete Millington tossed a scorching three-hit shutout today to give Trenton, N. J., a 2 to 0 victory over Belleville, Ill., and a berth in tomorrow's finals of the American Legion's junior world series. Milligan held the Belleville batters without a hit until the seventh inning.

Matador Club To Sponsor Program

Final plans for a drive to assist in financing the wide athletic program at Texas Tech were laid last night at a dinner meeting of the Matador club in the Hilton hotel.

Spencer Wells was elected president of the organization; O. J. "Bo" Sexton, Guy Victory and Joe Bryant vice presidents; J. E. Raley, jr., secretary; and G. C. "Mule" Dowell, Hurley Carpenter, J. C. Rigney, L. E. Davis and Paul Cates, directors.

"Our drive is on and all business men and other supporters of Texas Tech are urged to join us," Raley said. "We hope to call on all businessmen for aid. Anyone who may be missed is asked to call my office."

The Matador club for over 20 years has assisted in bringing athletes to Texas Tech and in keeping them. It has enabled many deserving young men to get a college education and has been beneficial to the college and to Lubbock, Raley said.

Dr. D. M. Wiggins, new president of Tech, told the club last night his office is available to anyone interested in advancement of the college and of Lubbock. Coach Dell Morgan outlined purposes for which funds will be used. He announced that Saturday afternoon the Tech Red Raiders will hold a spirited scrimmage, to which the public is invited.

T. Of C. May Arrange Robinson Title Bout

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (INS)— The Tournament of Champions, Inc., took steps today toward arranging a Ray Robinson welterweight title fight by announcing a one-fight elimination tourney.

On Oct. 22, at the Jersey City armory, Tippy Larkin, Garfield, N. J., and Charley Fusari, Newark, will meet at the championship distance of 15 rounds.

The T. of C. has made no definite announcement, but it is understood that George Kletz, acknowledged head of the comparatively new group, has been asured Robinson will defend his crown for the T. of C.

Happiness Ahead!

Home means happiness ahead! Happiness for you and for your family in owning a home of your own . . . Invest in the future security of your family . . . now . . . during National Home Week . . . by buying a home of your own . . .

HERE'S ANOTHER WINNER

In The Forrest Home Contest

I would like to own my home, because, simply, I have never had a home! I am a veteran whose most recent homes have been Navy barracks, and before—rent houses!

My father died when I was five, my mother sold our home, and we rented. I then entered the Navy and for longer than I care to remember my bed was my home. Yes, I slept well and there was no upkeep. "Upkeep," however, is a word that I would like to explore.

To some, "upkeep" means hours of back-breaking work and money expended on thankless projects. To me, the word means all that is home.

I learned to paint, drive nails, saw wood, and re-decorate other people's houses. Now I am married—and behold, I am AGAIN living in barracks. Yes, the building is converted into apartments which are quite liveable—but the picture of the old insecure life returns. Is it too surprising that I should like to have my own home? A home where I can have a yard with a dog and flowers—a home that I can improve without fearing the grim final words of a landlord. Yes, I would like to own my home, because . . . because I have never had one!

Fine Assessed In Liquor Case

County court officials said Bud Curtis, about 30, paid a fine of $300 and costs of $24.90 after pleading guilty of liquor law violation Thursday. Charley Fuller, deputy supervisor of the Texas Liquor Control board, said the sheriff's department had seized 58 cases of beer and five cases of whiskey in the raid, which was on Thirty-fourth street.

Police said W. Bogart of Lubbock had reported a lost overcoat. He believed that someone took the coat and perhaps sold it at a used clothing store. The garment, of black camels hair, was valued at $100.

A tan Plymouth automobile, bearing Washington license plates was reported to police as abandoned on the Plainview highway.

Fines Are Assessed

Two women were arrested at a small downtown hotel after police were informed they were prostitutes. At the police station, both entered a plea of guilty and were assessed fines of $25 each, both of whom paid.

The sheriff's department reported that a negro man had been arrested an East Eighteenth street on charges of sale of beer in a dry area and vagrancy. He made $500 bond on the vagrancy charge and $1000 on the liquor law violation charge.

Meanwhile, investigation continued in the break-in of Pinson Drug store at 1519 Avenue Q, although nothing was disclosed to be missing. Burglars used a bar to pry open one of two front doors, Bert Pinson, owner said.

The store owner was called after Moore's Bonded patrol had discovered the door was open.

Purse Is Stolen

Police said Miss Virginia Beardsley, of Wink, had reported theft of her purse containing $65 from a bus station here.

City police had jailed six persons late Wednesday night for drunkeness and vagrancy.

Strikes Unsettled

tion of Grain Millers in support of demands for a least a 20 cent hourly wage boost.

Trucking: Union leaders planned to ask striking AFL drivers in the New York City strike to cut their wage demands in an effort to end the nine-day strike. The union executive committee suggested a slash to 17 and ½ cents from 25 cents—but about 1,000 unionists voted to stand by their original 25-cent demand. The tieup has caused deep cuts into newsprint, drygoods and milk deliveries.

Shipping: No progress was made toward settling the strike of 28,000 West coast CIO longshoremen. Harry Bridges, union leader, offered conditionally to handle military cargoes in struck Pacific ports.

He told Army leaders it would be done if his men were paid the wages of employers during recent negotiations.

Oil: Programs were mapped for rationing gasoline in the west because of a five day wage strike of 15,000 CIO workers in California refineries. Glenn Bowers, state conciliation supervisor, said the tone of conciliation meetings had been cooperative, with both sides making a serious effort to conclude their arguments.

Airport Building

agency had boosted its allocation to $210,000, conditional upon dollar-for-dollar matching by the city. That was about 2 p.m.

This the commission promptly and unanimously agreed to do. Commissioners W. B. Price, John Spikes, E. K. Hufstedler, Jr., and Clarence Whiteside joined with Mayor Rodgers in approving the necessary resolutions.

Warfield then went to the office of O. R. Walker, associate architect with James Atcheson in preparing plans for the building. McMillan was called and the contracts were signed.

Before 5 p.m. McMillan had a crew on the ground and, by quitting time, the ground the building is to occupy had been staked out. The site is northeast of the present terminal at the airport.

The contractor said he expected to apply for a building permit for the structure today or Saturday. The total of the contracts—general, electrical, heating, plumbing and air conditioning—approximates $359,000. The architect's six per cent fee and other items will increase the total cost to arround $400,000, officials estimated.

McMillan was uncertain just when first ground will be broken for the structure. No special ceremonies are scheduled, although the chamber of commerce already is planning something elaborate as a celebration when the building is completed some 15 to 18 months in the future.

Atcheson also is to prepare specifications for the new fire department substation, expected to cost $40,000 to $50,000, on property the city owns at Third and College.

A similar building is contemplated in Southwest Lubbock, if and when a suitable site can be secured. The commission wants something in the vicinity of College avenue close to Thirty-fourth.

Other commission actions were routine.

An ordinance setting the new city tax rate at $1.25 on the $100 of assessed valuation, the same as this year, was approved on final reading.

A proposed ordinance which would prohibit dogs running at large was taken under advisement for further study.

The purchase of approximately 5,000 feet of 12-inch concrete pipe from Gifford-Hill-American, Inc., of Wichita Falls at $3.10 a foot was approved. It will be used to pipe water to the city from wells to be drilled northwest of town.

Traffic lights were ordered installed at Thirty-first and Avenue Q and Fourth and Q. Both crossings are used heavily by school children.

Ted Waldrip and Asher Thompson, a committee from the junior chamber of commerce, asked for a site close to Avenue Q south of Nineteenth street on which to build a teen-age recreation center. The commission warmly endorsed the idea and directed the committee to work with City Manager Smith in locating a desirable site.

A committee of business men was assured of the commission's interest in trying to open Nineteenth street eastward from Avenue H at the earliest possible time. Members of the committee were Vernice Ford, R. L. Elms, Clyde Fortune, Cliff Widener and Clifton H. Cummings.

Contracts Awarded

Dallas was low bidder on an elevator with a bid of $19,709.

Excavation of the basement was completed several weeks ago by Joe Telford, Lubbock contractor.

Numerous bids were received on the construction contracts. Other bidders on the general contract were BMFP Construction company, $154,990; Sampson Brothers Construction company, $158,885; Tom G. McAbee, $159,475; W. G. McMillan, $174,493; Robert E. Maxey, $165,900, and Telford, 199,000.

S. B. Haynes of the firm that designed the building pointed out that the $270,000 figure reflects construction costs only and does not include such additional items as store fixtures which will boost the total considerably.

Thurmond Assails Civil Rights Plan

'Pee Wee' Harry Truman."

Smith then introduced the South Carolinian, who received a scattering of cheers and loud applause from the crowd.

Thurmond opened his offensive with reference to the Democratic national convention, saying "because the Southern states dared to fight to uphold the political doctrine which has made this the greatest nation on earth, abuse and humiliation was heaped upon them at the national convention.

"That collectivist crew that took over the Democratic party in Philadelphia, believed tha no amount of abuse would cause the South to fight back. When the so-called Democratic party stamped under its feet the ideals of Thomas Jefferson, Democracy caught the train for Birmingham. We left in Philadelphia only the shell of the Democratic party."

Claims His Group Loyal

The governor refuted the "loyalist" label for the opposing Democratic group by declaring, "Today, it is the States' Rights Democratic party, and our party alone, which stands for the principles of Jefferson and Jackson in this presidential campaign." The statement drew considerable applause from the spectators.

"We are resolved that those who debauched our party, those who butchered the ideals which made it great, and those who stabbed the loyal South in the back, shall not go unpunished," the presidential candidate cried. Again the crowd applauded.

Thurmond declared that the States' Righters were going to drive from the "temple of government" the Hauges, Kellys, and the Pendergasts.

The governor said that "those who want to bring about the centralization of political power in the federal government and destroy the reserved rights of the states" are using for their own purpose the so-called civil rights program.

Threat To Government

Striking hard at the civil rights program, Thurmond charged "They have gone back in American history, and dug up the very measures Thaddeus Stevens conceived in his hatred of the South, following the War Between the States. When Congress passed the Thaddeus Stevens program, the Supreme Court of the United States promptly declared the legislation unconstitutional— even in the atmosphere of Reconstruction —and upheld in all its vigor the doctrine of states' rights.

"To these discredited measures have been added proposals which even Thaddeus Stevens himself would not have stood for.

"They advocate principles and precedents which, if adopted, will inevitably bring about a change in the very form of our American government."

Other Proposals Opposed

Thurmond indicated that the Staes' Righters opposed the anti-poll tax plan and the anti-lynch proposal not so much because of what they would do as for the precedent and principle they would set if approved and became law. He claimed that such laws would tear down states' rights reserved to them by the Constitution and would give the federal government powers granted to the states.

The civil rights program, Thurmond claimed, "advocated the setting up of a federal super police system in the Department of Justice. Its agents would circulate throughout the land, meddling with private business, policing elections, interviewing in private lawsuits, breeding litigation, and keeping our people in a constant state of harassment and duress. This would bring to the American people all of the potential evils of a police state."

The States' Righter candidate then turned his guns on the FEPC. He denounced the plan as having for its purpose "the ultimate breaking down of the state and local laws."

Laws Claimed Necessary

The governor said that segregation laws apply to each race alike, and are necessary to public peace and order. They are essential to the protection of the negro as well as the white man.

"Those who would set in motion forces and measures having as their purpose social intermingling and racial amalgamation may as well realize that they cannot compel the acceptance of their goal by either the white or the negro race in the Southern states," the South Carolinian shouted.

Thurmond told the audience that under the FEPC no man could any longer call his private business his own. He no longer would have the right to employ whom he pleases, or whom he considers best suited. He could not promote or demote as his judgement demands.

He said that the way was opened for any person whom a businessman may not hire, or may not promote, or may happen to fire, to claim discrimination, and haul that business man before a federal commission to answer that charge.

"You may be sure the Communists will use the FEPC to serve their purposes. By clamoring for their rights under the FEPC they will force their agents and saboteurs into every tool and die room, every machine shop, and every industrial plant and laboratory atomic or otherwise, in America," the governor declared.

The States' Righter candidate pointed out in closing that this country needs less federal bureaucracy in the affairs of the people and not more of it. The FEPC law would mean federal bureaucracy at its worst.

Reception Is Held

Following the address, Gov. and Mrs. Thurmond were guests at a reception in the ballroom of the Lubbock hotel.

While the crowd was attentive and quiet throughout the governor's talk, the applause was mild when Thurmond fired home some of his hardest shots at the civil rights and FEPC programs. There was no untold incident during the speech. The talk also was broadcast.

Among those seated on the rostrum were Former Lt. Gov. Smith, former Sen. Hill, Rev. E. H. Randall, associate pastor of the First Methodist church who gave the invocation, Mayor W. H. Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Wood, W. H. Bledsoe, Mr. and Mrs. James Cade and Bryan Williams of Post.

A reception committee headed by Mayor Rodgers greeted Gov. and Mrs. Thurmond at the airport when their plane arrived at 5:30 p. m. They escorted them to the Hilton hotel where the governor and his party were lodged during their visit in Lubbock.

Traveling with the governor and his wife were G. W. McNabb, the presidential candidate's press secretary, Sen. Hill, and two press reresenptatives. The plane, a private one "loaned" to the governor by a friend, is manned by a pilot, co-pilot and steward.

The governor will leave at 6:30 a. m. today for Abilene where he will breakfast. At noon he will lunch with the Rotary club in San Angelo.

Farm Field Day

will make an 18-mile tour, visiting several individual farms. First scheduled stop will be the Tom Price farm, where they will see mixed grass pasture and terracing, sprinkler irrigation system in operation, and beef cattle on feed.

At the Billy Meyers farm, farmers will see cotton grown following alfalfa, with proper slope to rows for irrigation. The group will then visit the O. C. Horne farm, where rotation has been followed between cotton and grain sorghums for several years.

Another topic of study there will be grain sorghums irrigated on the contour.

To Visit Texas Tech

The tour will move to Texas Tech at 2:30 o'clock, where Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel will conduct farmers on a highlight tour of Tech's farm studies. The group will start from the animal husbandry building and will first visit the poultry farm and mixed grass pasture experiments, where a sprinkler irrigation system is in operation.

Then they will go to the plant industries farm, where a demonstration of gated pipe for irrigation will be held. Next on the schedule are the beef barn, swine and sheep farms, following which the group will visit the bull barn and learn details of the artificial breeding program.

The tour will wind up with a study of modern milking methods at the milking parlor.

At both Texas Tech and the experiment station, the farmers will be conducted on the tours in trailers pulled by tractors, and details of the various experiments will be broadcast over a speaker system furnished courtesy of Sherrill said that any others sufficiently interested to attend Baldridge Bakery. County Agent would be welcome.

the United States will not negotiate under duress.

A reporter asked if the Soviet blockade isn't duress. Mr. Truman inserted an adjective. He said he would describe it rather as attempted duress.

At present, official talks among the "big four" military governors in Berlin are in a technical state of recess. Diplomatic informants in London said a "progress report" on the talks, received by the British foreign office, recorded little headway.

Mrs. R. L. Martin, sr., about 50, of the Star farm four miles west of Ralls, was reported Thursday night by Lubbock Memorial hospital attendant to be "doing just fine and in good condition." She suffered a fractured right leg Thursday morning at the farm when a calf, tied while its mother was being milked, broke loose and ran against her. Mrs. Martin was brought to the hospital by a Marr Funeral home ambulance.

Germans Shot

ed 30 wounded persons in the first aid stations on the Unter Den Linden.

The Soviet-licensed news agency claimed one Soviet sector policeman was wounded by gunfire and three others badly beaten by the demonstrators.

The anti-Communists also stoned the Soviet war memorial just inside the British sector. The British said no shots were fired there, but eyewitnesses declared that a jeep-load of Soviet troops fired wildly when stoned by the angry crowd.

Governors Warned

The war memorial is Russia's most revered monument in Berlin. It is guarded day and night by Soviet troops, and it formed a hostile little island in the fight tonight. British troops helped protect it from the Germans.

Dr. Ernst Reuter, elected mayor of Berlin who could not serve because of a Russian veto, told the rally:

"It is good that the world learns what freedom-loving Berlin really thinks. One cannot bargain us away nor sell us."

Reuter warned the four-party military governors who have recessed their negotiations not to "make a foul compromise on the back of so brave a population."

Late tonight Soviet sector and western sector police succeeded in driving back the demonstrators on either side of the British-Soviet boundary, restoring comparative calm at least temporarily in the divided city.

Soviet Policemen Beaten

One Soviet sector policeman accused of firing on the anti-Communists later was beaten severely and dragged from the boundary line to a western Berlin police station. There he convinced German authorities he was not among those who had fired on the anti-Communists.

When part of the anti-Communist demonstrators entered the Friedrichstrasse and Unter Den Linden elevated stations to return to their homes in western Berlin another fight began.

Soviet sector police arrested 50 indiscriminately and other demonstrators attacked the police.

The police under Paul Markgraf, German Communist, again fired into the crowd. The number of casualties was not immediately determined.

Soviet troops with tommyguns at the ready guarded the police as they arrested the anti-Communists.

Franz Neumann, Social Democratic party leader, had opened the big rally by asking a minute's silence "in memory of the victims of the Nazi regime and the new victims of the Communist terror."

Ferdinand Friedensburg, acting Berlin mayor, Otto Suhr, chairman of the city assembly, and Gustav Pietsch, delegate of the anti-Communist NGO trade union group, were among the speakers who predicted an eventual Communist defeat in Berlin.

Friedensburg was cheered when he said "I would like to have seen this demonstration at the city hall Monday. Then we would have seen what became of that little heap of Communists and Markgraf's police."

Maj. Gen. Alexander Kotikov, Soviet commander, rejected flatly the protest of Col. Frank Howley, U. S. commander, about the Communist mob action Monday when the city assembly meeting was broken up.

The Communists at that time broke into the U. S. liaison office and dragged off 19 western Berlin policemen who had sought refuge.

Four power talks on Berlin are snagged by what Allied informants say is Russia determination to gain control of all Berlin — by force if necessary.

Architect Retained To Plan New C-C Home

Directors of the chamber of commerce retained James Atcheson to prepare architectural plans for the chamber's new home, to be erected at Ninth street and Texas avenue, at a called meeting Thursday.

The one-story modernistic structure, expected to cost between $50,000 and $60,000, is to be erected on a site leased from the city. The lot is in the same block and on the corner north of the city hall.

The structure will house the offices of the Panhandle-South Plains Fair association, the Board of City development, the Retail Merchants association, the Western Wholesale Market association and related public and civic organizations.

All now are quartered in the city hall, most of them in a second-floor corner the chamber has occupied since the building was erected.

Officials would not estimate when the new building will be ready, but they hope to be able to move in not later than next spring.

Other business transacted by the directors was routine, Chamber Manager A. B. Davis reported.

to the conscientious voters.

When asked "Had you thought that you might be the First Lady of the land?" she answered, "I haven't given that any thought."

Her preparations for the presidential campaign trip: Suits and conservative clothes. The governor likes for her to wear light blue or black for social functions. Thursday afternoon on arrival she wore a brown gabardine and tweed coat with slim brown skirt, beige blouse and alligator pumps. A brown hat with feather trim completed the ensemble.

She says she has no hobbies, although she likes to make scrap books and to collect record albums.

"My husband and I like to swim and to ride horseback and to play tennis and we like to take nightly walks."

An arrangement of large yellow chrysanthemums was placed on the coffee table and early in the interview the pretty young woman leaned over and caressed a petal and showed the card which read "Lubbock friends."

"Well now, what could be nicer than that?" she asked.

South Plains State Aid School Meeting Slated Here Saturday

Representatives of all state aid schools in the 23-county South Plains district are to meet Saturday afternoon in the district courtroom of the courthouse here for a discussion of school problems, with primary interest on budgets and transportation, it was announced yesterday by E. H. Boulter, deputy state superintendent, who is to preside.

Boulter explained the session as an annual fall meeting when the state aid law is explained and discussed. Every school in the area is involved except the city schools in Lubbock.

Expected to attend are county superintendents, school superintendents throughout the district, high school principals, and many bus drivers.

Two representatives from the state department of education at Austin are to attend the meeting, and will be available for questions during a general discussion period, Boulter said.

These are Dr. Joe Beard, director of the equalization division of the state department, and Frank Thurmond, director of the school lunch program.

The meeting is to start at 2:30 p. m.

from a Republican state executive committeeman challenging legality of the Texas States' Rights convention held in Dallas Wednesday.

The Republican, Enoch G. Fletcher of Grand Saline, asked the secretary of state to request a ruling from the attorney general. Fletcher argued that a new party would have to be formed by persons who did not participate this year in primaries or conventions of the Democratic or Republican party. He also said the law provides for state conventions to be held in May.

The Houston Chronicle meanwhile quoted Secretary H. L. Poole of the Jim Wells county Democratic executive committee as saying the committee had decided it could not determine the correct Stevenson-Johnson vote in one precinct.

The newspaper quoted Poole as saying the county chairman "has been denied the full possession of the voters list and all other election supplies" and that "it is the opinion of the Democratic committee of Jim Wells county that the certified report to the state committee was not a true and correct picture of the count in precinct 13.

The precinct reported 765 votes for Johnson and 60 for Stevenson on the night of the primary but 202 votes were added to Johnson's and one to Stevenson's total the Friday after the primary, Poole was quoted as saying.

At Hillsboro, state Democratic chairman R. W. (Bob) Calvert made his first report of a Texas elector declining to say whether he will vote for the Truman-Barkley presidential ticket. Calvert, who has polled all 23 electors, said William D. Morris of Fort Worth declined to answer. Fifteen electors had told him they would support the Truman-Barkley ticket.

secrecy. Today however high-flying Soviet fighters criss-crossed over Berlin leaving vapor trails in the sky. Some Germans, mindful of the trails left by thousands of American bombers during the war, took it as an omen.

Another estimated 60 Russian planes appeared over the Danish island of Bohnholm. They flew low over Roenne, the island's main city. One plane circled a Danish naval vessel at a height of about 75 yards.

Danish naval authorities said several Soviet cruisers and destroyers appeared off the island just outside territorial waters.

Bornholm, "the pearl of the Baltic," was occupied by Russia from May 7, 1945, to April 5, 1946. There are no soldiers on Bornholm now, the Danish garrison of about 1,500 men having been sent back to Copenhagen last week. The new garrison will not arrive for some time.

Talmadge Is Elected Governor Of Georgia

ATLANTA, Sept. 9 (AP)—Herman Talmadge returned to power in Georgia today on a "white supremacy" platform and a wave of resentment against the federal civil rights program.

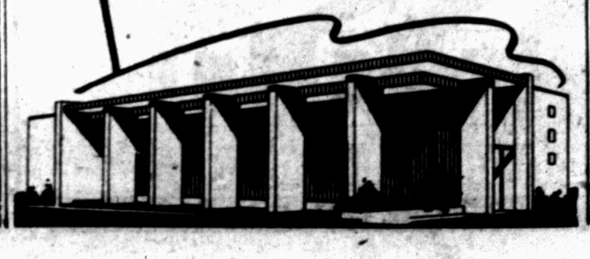

His nomination for governor in yesterday's Democratic primary was overwhelming and a special session of the legislature seemed assured to inaugurate him early in November.

TRUMAN PLANS 'INVASION' OF NEW YORK STATE

President To Leave Washington On Sept. 17 For Campaign Trip Through Far West And Into South

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9—President Truman announced today that he will leave Washington Sept. 17 on a campaign tour that will take him to the Pacific coast and include parts of the south.

He disclosed at a news conference that he is planning other trips and that his whirlwind election campaign will include speeches in upper New York state, one possibly at Albany, state capital and official residence of Gov. Dewey.

It was the first time the President lifted the curtain of secrecy on his speech-making plans, although he had disclosed that he will tour the entire country.

Dewey Gets AFL Backing

His initial swing he said, will keep him away from the White House until Oct. 1. He plans major speeches at San Francisco, Los Angeles, Denver, Salt Lake City, and various points in Iowa, Oklahoma, Texas, and Arkansas.

Meanwhile, Gov. Dewey's claim that he will receive substantial support in AFL ranks received partial confirmation when the powerful 175,000-member building service employes union gave him its backing.

The union's action followed on the heels of initial bids by both major parties for the labor vote. The President made Labor Day speeches in Detroit and other Michigan cities, and Harold E Stassen gave the GOP reply Tuesday in Detroit.

Rep. Scott (R-Pa), chairman of the Republican national committee, said he was "highly gratified" that election forecaster Elmo Roper had announced that the Dewey-Warren ticket was so far ahead that no further purpose would be served by forecasting public opinion trends.

Warned Of Overconfidence

Scott warned GOP workers, however, that "overconfidence can lose an election." He asked them to increase their efforts to elect Rpublican candidates "to every office at stake this year."

The President trapped himself into admitting that another speaking tour will quickly follow the September swing. Asked when he would return from the first trip, he replied about Oct. 7 or 10.

White House secretary Charles G. Ross then tugged at the President's sleeve and whispered that this was another trip, since the first tour ends Oct. 1.

The President then said a little sheepishly that he guessed he had gotten the dates confused, and that he was thinking about another trip.

Later, it was disclosed that he may speak in New York Oct. 28. David Dubinsky, head of the International Ladies Garment Workers union (CIO) said he had invited Mr. Truman to talk at a Liberal party rally in New York on that date and that the President had said he would like very much to accept.

The President plans to make about six speeches a day on his September tour. He will leave Washington Sept. 17 and arrive in Iowa the following morning. He will visit Des Moines and make his main speech of the day at a plowing contest at Dexter, Iowa.

Cary Grant Assured Contract With RKO For Five Pictures; Also To Have 'Free' Time

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 9 — Cary Grant's lawyer, Morton Garbus, sailed on the Queen Elizabeth Wednesday with a contract in his pocket tieing Cary to RKO for five pictures.

Now, that's something. At one time, Cary said it was a fate worse than death belonging body and talents to one studio. Perhaps I should explain that this deal permits him outside pictures—but with this number to make, how much "outside" time will he have?

Garbus delayed his departure for Europe a week to iron out the details with Howard Hughes personally, and get the contract ready for Cary's signature.

Story Is Rewritten

Judy Garland is having "Roberta" rewritten for her, Frank Sinatra and Gene Kelly. By that I mean that Jack Cummings has taken the old musical off the shelf, given it to George Wells and Harry Ruby to write a script and have it ready for production next year, after Judy makes "Annie Get Your Gun."

The original movie version was made at RKO studios with Ginger Rogers, Fred Astaire, Irene Dunne and Randy Scott. MGM bought it and up to now nothing has been done about it.

I felt sorry for Joe E. Brown when he telephoned me from Chicago. He said, "Katherine and I have been married 33 years, and we have never had a breath of scandal. The idea of our separating is too preposterous to even discuss.

"I have been away because I am trying to make a living, and Katherine visits me as often as she can. Can't you please, Louella, say something to help a situation that is causing my wife, whom I happen to love very much, great unhappiness, and humiliating me beyond words."

Well, ordinarily I don't like to deny what other columnists write, because all of us make mistakes, but the Browns are old friends, and both of them have done so much for others.

There is no more loved or charitable woman in Los Angeles than Katie Brown, so I am going to break my rule and say there isn't one word of truth in the report that there is trouble between Katie and Joe E. Brown.

Celeste Holm's young son created a lot of excitement today at Saks Fifth avenue when he got himself lost.

His frantic mother hunted on every floor, assisted by the worried manager of the store, who thought the young man might have been kidnapped.

He was about to telephone the police when a saleslady found the youngster curled up on the sweater counter sound asleep on a Cashmere sweater behind a stack of sweaters piled on the counter.

Demo Ladies Cook Up Plans For All-Out Vote Campaign

By INEZ ROBB
(INS) Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 — The Democratic ladies, Lor' love 'em, have revealed some of their deep-dyed strategy for keeping the present occupant of the White House sitting pretty in the executive mansion up to January, 1952.

That strategy includes everything from chain letters to grass-roots "housewives for Truman" organizations.

It also includes well-laid plans for the ladies to traipse about the hustings in automobile trailers, seeking whom they may convert at the cross-roads or in the public square.

To Accompany President

All of this, and more—too—was revealed by Mrs. India Edwards, executive director of the women's division of the Democratic party, during a brief visit to national headquarters in the Biltmore hotel.

Mrs. Edwards, a gay and buxom lady, also revealed that a woman's place is not in the White House while there is campaigning to be done in an election year.

Both Mrs. Truman and daughter Margaret, with Mrs. Edwards to assist, will accompany President Truman on his campaign swings through the country this autumn.

GOP Plot Seen

Mrs. Edwards was full of news and views, particularly regarding the American women's present occupation with the high cost of living.

She is certain that "the opposition will manipulate things so that prices will come down between now and election time." Mrs. Edwards, handsome in a sheer black dress, a string of pearls and pearl earrings, added:

"The Republicans have such power. I do predict that food prices will come down before election time. Why, on the train coming up here from Washington, D. C., I read that prices had been cut as much as 16 cents a pound on 32 different items of meat.

"But any such reduction in food prices by Republican manipulation will be artificial and temporary because there is at present no honest basis for such reductions."

Heavy Vote Sought

Mrs. Edwards gained immortality at the Democratic national convention when she stunned both the convention and the television audience by waving a piece of raw beef steak to emphasize a point during a speech on inflation.

So this is not wholly surprising that a woman of such originality should revive the chain letter as an instrument of national policy in a presidential election.

She said she had written 102 of her old friends, asking each in turn to write ten other friends, who in turn write ten more friends, ad infintum and election day. The purpose of this chain letter is not dollars or dimes, but to beseech all and sundry to register.

Official Claims Fur Workers Urged To Buy Red Newspaper

By DARRELL GARWOOD
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9 (INS)—Spokesmen for the fur industry charged today that leaders of the Fur Workers' union encourage members to contribute towards subscription to a Communist newspaper and to support Henry Wallace.

William Pike, labor relations director of the Association of Fur Manufacturers, told a House Labor subcommittee that business agents of the CIO-United Fur and Leather Workers union encourage members to subscribe to the Jewish language version of the Daily Worker.

Employers May Contribute

Morris Goldner, president of the Independent Fur Manufacturers' association, declared that union shop chairmen in New York firms are demanding contributions for Henry Wallace's Progressive party campaign for president.

Pike said that, asaid fromurged subscriptions by union members, some employers in the industry may contribute to the New York Freiheit, the Communist party organ, "in order to keep peace with the union." He added:

"If the union didn't force workers to contribute during subscription campaigns, the Freiheit couldn't exist. During any campaign, every business agent has a contribution book asking from 50 cents to $5."

He said he had no direct knowledge that any employers contributed, but explained:

"Some of them might contribute if asked by a business agent just to keep peace in the family but it would be a very minor number of manufacturers who would buy peace in that way."

MARKET AGAIN SLUMPS

NEW YORK, Sept. 9. (AP)—Grave European developments and a new move against American inflation combined to send the stock market into another decline today. Final losses were from one to three points or more.

The total of 1,200,000 shares traded was the largest since Aug. 11.

Brokers took a bearish view of Russian violence involving shooting in a show of force against anti-Communist demonstrators in Berlin. They also noted Mr. Truman's reiteration of this government's determination to stand pat in the German capital.

The continuation of strikes in the United States, which idled an estimated 115,000 workers, is becoming more of a depressing market factor each day, brokers said.

Some of the widest losers included Coca Cola, down 4 to 149; Mission Corp., off Allied Chemical, down 2½, at 183, and Union Pacific, off 2¼ at 89. U. S. Steel was down 1½ at 79¼, Chrysler 1 at 89, Montgomery 1¼ at 56.

St. Louis & San Francisco railway ended ⅝ higher at 18½.

3½ to 53½. Douglas Aircraft, off 2 at 82.

MINNESOTA GIRL TAKES LEAD

Blonde 'Miss Texas' Makes Hit In Bathing Suit Division Of Atlantic City Miss America Contest

ATLANTIC CITY, Sept. 9. (AP)—The Blue Bonnet Belle of the University of Texas, Bonnie Jean Bland of Orange, made a hit tonight in the bathing suit division of the Miss America pageant.

It was the second most difficult hurdle of the contest for "Miss Texas," and she carried it off with grace.

The smiling blonde, green-eyed girl wore the pageant's official black-and-white striped, one-piece bathing suit as she walked the 120-foot runway leading from huge convention hall stage into the audience. Some 10,000 spectators applauded the Texas girl.

This is the way she measured up in her suit:

Bust 34 inches, waist 24 inches and hips 35 inches.

It is too soon to determine just how well "Miss Texas" is doing in the pageant. She must appear again tomorrow night in an evening gown. The judges will make their decisions sometime Saturday. They will not be announced until Saturday night.

A Minnesota miss with golden brown hair and blue-green eyes captured the admiration of the judges, tonight and joined Miss Kansas as a winner of the bathing suit preliminaries.

She was Beatrice "Babe" Shopp, 18, of Hopkins, Minn., and at five feet, nine inches, one of the tallest contestants in the pageant. Her bust measures 37 inches, waist, 27 inches, hips 36 inches and she weighs 138 pounds.

Miss Vera Ralston of Wichita, Kas., a light brunette, captured last night's bathing suit event.

Blonde Dorothy Jane Free, 19, of Chattanooga, was the talent division winner last night, gaining a decided advantage over the other 54 contestants with the exception of Miss Ralston and Miss Shopp.

Only 15 of the 55 contestants will be chosen for the finals. Each will share in the $25,000 worth of scholarships offered by the contest with $5,000 going to Miss America.

The Texas entrant, Miss Bland, is to be graduated from the University of Texas this February. Her entrance in the Miss America pageant is a climax in a series of beauty contests for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Bland. She currently is the sweetheart of the university and has been selected sweetheart of the Range, Tex., Lions club and the University's Aqua Carnival queen.

Here's how to make perfect coffee

"Now that's what I call good coffee!"

If you haven't heard this said about your coffee, you've missed one of the nicest compliments that could be paid you.

Why deny yourself this praise? You can acquire the art of making good coffee in no time at all. Here's how . . .

What about your coffee-maker?

FIRST—the condition of your coffee-maker is very important. A coffee-maker that is old or worn out, or difficult to clean, will not produce a fine cup of coffee. So take a good look at your coffee-maker. If you can't make it scrupulously clean, and odorless, you should get a new one.

SECOND—how do you clean your coffee-maker? If you just give it a quick hot water rinse after using, it is not enough. Here's why—a quick rinse will not remove the coffee oils that have a tendency to cling to the inside of a coffee-maker. If they aren't removed, they'll become stale, and eventually impart an undesirable taste to the coffee brew. So wash the coffee-maker thoroughly with hot soapy water after using. Then scald, and set it out "to air." A coffee-maker that has not been used for some time should be thoroughly washed before using.

Keep the coffeepot "sweet" by a more thorough cleansing at least twice a month. If coffee-maker is porcelain, enamelware, or glass, put all parts of the utensil in a large kettle and boil for a few minutes in a solution of about a tablespoon of washing or baking soda and a tablespoon of ammonia to each quart of water. If a large kettle is not available, fill coffee-maker up to the spout with the cleaning solution, place on stove, and boil. If the coffee-maker is a type that will not stand direct heat, just let it soak in the hot cleaning solution in the dishpan. With aluminum coffee-makers, polish the inside with steel wool and boil in a solution of vinegar and water (about ¼ cup vinegar to 1 quart water). Coffee-makers with built-in electric units should never be immersed in water.

Measure—don't guess

Do you measure the coffee and the water? It's very important to do this, because if you are not careful you may get too strong coffee one time and weak coffee another time. For each 6-oz. cup of water, we recommend 2 level tablespoons of coffee. This is the same amount as 1 heaping tablespoon but is a far more accurate way to measure. By using a measuring cup, you may vary the water—more or less—to obtain the strength that suits you best. Measure this way and your coffee will be the same every time.

Time coffee-making carefully

Coffee should be in contact with water for a definite length of time, depending on the type and capacity of the coffee-maker, as well as the strength of beverage desired. After the correct timing has been determined, stick to it; otherwise results will not be uniform.

Look before you buy

Hills Bros. Coffee comes in 2 GRINDS: (1) "Regular Grind"—suitable for any method of coffee-making if directions on the label are followed. (2) "Drip and Glass-Maker Grind"—if you prefer a finer grind for a Drip-Pot or Vacuum-Type Maker (not recommended for Percolator or Coffeepot). When you decide which gives results that please you most with your method of coffee-making, we advise against switching back and forth, as you are likely to notice some variation in taste and will suspect something wrong with the coffee.

The final answer

Hills Bros. Coffee is a blend of the world's finest coffees. Uniform flavor is developed by Controlled Roasting—an exclusive Hills Bros. process that roasts coffee "a little at a time" . . . continuously and evenly. Vacuum-packing brings it to you fresh.

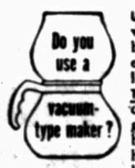

The final step in "perfect coffee manufacturing" is in your hands—when you brew the beverage. If you follow these directions with Hills Bros. Coffee, you'll always have perfect aroma, flavor, and strength—delightful coffee that will make everyone say—"Now that's what I call good coffee!"

What kind of coffee-maker do you use?

"Regular Grind" Hills Bros. Coffee is best for coffeepot or saucepan. Measure in the required amount of coffee and add the measured amount of cold, hot, or boiling water. Place on heat, stir well and just bring to a boil. Stir again, remove from fire, and add a dash of cold water to settle the grounds.

Steeping method. Preheat pot by rinsing with hot water. Pour boiling water on coffee. Stir well. Stir again in 5 minutes. Steep 5 to 10 minutes more. Place pot on part of stove where coffee will keep hot but not boil.

"Regular Grind" Hills Bros. Coffee is recommended. Start with cold or hot water. Percolate gently 7 to 10 minutes after steady "perking" begins. Insufficient percolation results in a weak, thin beverage, while over-percolating produces a "cooked" or "stewed" taste and unsatisfactory flavor. Experiment to determine the exact "perking" time that gives best results in your percolator, then be careful to "perk" for the same period every time the coffee is made. Otherwise the coffee will taste one way at one meal and different at another.

Use either grind. Bring water in lower bowl to boiling. Reduce heat (if electric, turn off, but leave bowl on unit). Then place upper bowl containing filter and ground coffee on lower bowl. When the water has risen into upper bowl, stir thoroughly (about 30 seconds).

In approximately 3 minutes (5 minutes if "Regular Grind" is used) remove completely from heat so coffee brew will return to lower bowl. Remove upper bowl and serve. (For best results always operate Vacuum Coffee-Makers at not less than two-thirds capacity.)

Use either grind. Preheat pot by rinsing with hot water. Measure coffee into filter section. Then measure fresh, briskly boiling water into upper container. If less than ⅝ capacity is made, the water may drip too fast, giving weak brew. When dripping is completed, remove upper section. Stir brew and serve.

Never boil nor overheat coffee. This drives off the aromatic substances from the coffee and is detrimental to the quality of the beverage. You'll be disappointed, too, if you let coffee cool and then reheat it.

LOOK BEFORE YOU BUY

Hills Bros. Coffee comes in 2 GRINDS: These are:

1 Regular Grind 2 Drip and Glass-Maker Grind (With Yellow Band)

The type of grind is printed at the top of the label on the Hills Bros. Coffee can or jar.

"Regular Grind" for any method of coffee-making. Do not use "Drip and Glass-Maker Grind" for percolator or coffeepot.

Agriculture Secretary Says Price Supports Help Keep Down Food Prices Instead Of Boosting Them

DES MOINES, Sept. 9 (INS) — Agricultural price supports tonight were credited by U. S. Agriculture Secretary Charles F. Brannan with keeping down the cost of living instead of boosting it.

Brannan spoke in Des Moines at a testimonial dinner honoring his undersecretary, A. J. Loveland, former production and marketing administrator for Iowa.

Declaring that he was not making a political speech, but that it was his duty to talk politics as the science of government, Brannan voiced his belief in price supports as insurance for abundant production.

Aid To Farmers

He claimed that, without price supports, "we might very well be reliving the collapse of 1920 and 1921." He pointed out that supports are currently in effect only on eggs, wheat and potatoes, and that government buying has had little effect.

The agriculture secretary maintained that farmers were calm during the break in the commodities market last February because they had the assurance of price supports behind them, while others questioned if it was the "end of the boom and beginning of the bust period."

On the international situation, Brannan said millions of people in other countries look to America to "lead the way out of insecurity."

However, he called a spirit of excessive optimism the weak point in American living and warned that farmers particularly cannot rectify tomorrow a blunder made today.

Conservation Is Urged

The cabinet official urged continuing use of conservation methods, and praised farmers for bringing more than three million farms under conservation practices advocated by the Agriculture department.

Contrasting prices during the depression with prices today, Brannan praised Loveland for his perseverance on the land during the time of "10 cent corn and three-cent hogs."

He traced Loveland's rise from 1914, when he said his undersecretary started out with $50 borrowed from a bank, to his present post and current ownership of a 176-acre farm

Brannan praised the former PMA director for his "tremendous sense of responsibility" in carrying out the jobs assigned to him in the Agriculture program, and called his rise through Triple-A ranks proof that the Democratic processes of the farmer-committee system are of outstanding importance.

Storage Facilities

The Agriculture secretary also criticized what he called the "crippling" of the Commodity Credit corporation by restrictions imposed on its flexible grain storage plans.

He contrasted the present storage capacity of CCC bins — about 50 million bushels — with its one-time capacity of 300 million bushels, and declared storage for the bumper and near-record crops this year will present a serious problem to the farmer as a result of legislation hampering its program.

Earlier, speaking at the all-Iowa soil conservation field day near Osceola, Brannan warned that the United States has been exhausting its land and timber resources faster than any other nation in the world.

He declared that "it is no exaggeration to say that another century and a half of equal waste might mean that we should be unable to feed ourselves adequately."

The Agriculture secretary predicted that "our nation will not long be a world leader if it permits its land and forest resources to deteriorate too far."

Dallas Progressives To Use Dance Hall For Wallace Rally

DALLAS, Sept. 9 (UP) — Dallas Progressives, rebuffed by the city park board, today hired a private dance hall for their Sept. 28 rally at which presidential candidate Henry A. Wallace is to speak.

The park board refused Wallace use of the band shell in Fair park on the night of Sept. 28 on grounds that work would be underway preparatory to opening of the state fair.

After its flat refusal, the board met yesterday and reconsidered. It then offered the Progressives alternate dates in the bandshell, up to and including Sept. 21.

But Sam Barbaria, a local progressive leader, said Wallace's itinery could not be revised so drastically and the Wallaceites today signed a contract for use of the Yacht club at Cadiz at industrial. It seats 3,000.

Truman Holds Long Lead In Own Home State, Late Survey Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 9—President Truman has a long lead in his home state of Missouri.

Poll interviewers throughout the state find the following line-up among voters in reply to the question:

"If the presidential election were being held TODAY how would you vote — for Dewey, or for Truman?"

MISSOURI
(15 Electoral Votes)

Truman	53%
Dewey	36
Undecided	11

With the undecided vote eliminated, the result would be 59 per cent for Mr. Truman and 41 per cent for Governor Dewey. In the 1944 presidential election Missouri went Democratic with a vote of 51½ per cent, to 48½ for the GOP.

GALLUP

Neither Henry A. Wallace, candidate of the Progressive Party nor Governor J. Strom Thurmond, candidate of the States' Rights Party, will be on the official election ballot in Missouri. Hence the Democratic vote in the state will not be divided by those two forces the way it is in a number of other important states.

In New York, for example, the Institute poll finds Mr. Wallace with 16 per cent among voters expressing a choice. This detracts enough from Mr. Truman to give Governor Dewey a clear lead in the Empire State. In New York City, the Wallace vote is currently running to 27 per cent.

The following tables summarize the standings of the candidates in New York and Pennsylvania —the two states with the largest number of electoral votes. In all cases the percentages are based on those expressing a choice, the undecided vote being eliminated.

New York State
(47 Electoral Votes)

Dewey	47%
Truman	37
Wallace	16

New York City

Dewey	32%
Truman	41
Wallace	27

Pennsylvania
(35 Electoral Votes)

Dewey	57%
Truman	40
Wallace	3

Approximately one voter in ten in the two states is still undecided.

In his Detroit Labor Day speech President Truman emphasized the importance to the Democrats of getting out a big vote in November. His own home state of Missouri customarily shows a fairly high turnout but it is far from being among the highest. In 1944 Missouri ranked seventeenth among the 48 states in voter turnout in proportion to population.

The stay-at-homes in presidential elections are predominately Democratic in their political sentiment. If the Democratic party could somehow persuade all the 94,000,000 persons 21 years of age or over to go to the polls in November and vote, Mr. Truman's chances of election would be good.

But some 36,000,000 of these will not vote, partly because of restrictions on qualifying and partly because if inertia and indifference.

Among the remaining 58,000,000 — the proportion who will vote if the turnout this year is in the same ratio as 1940 — sentiment for Mr. Truman and the Democrats is much less than among the whole 94,000,000.

Among the voters who are expected to vote the division of sentiment in the latest poll, reported last week, is Dewey 48½ per cent, Truman 36½ per cent, Wallace 5 per cent and 10 per cent undecided.

Death Cancels Scheduled Marriage Of Abilene Girl

ABILENE, Sept. 9 (AP)—Death today cancelled the scheduled marriage here next Tuesday of Ada La Verne Thornton, 19, to Albert Kinser, 32.

Miss Thornton was killed and Kinser injured when the latter's car smashed into a concrete bridge on U. S. Highway 80 about a mile west of here.

Two other occupants of the car, Mr. and Mrs. Rex Brock, received cuts and bruises. Kinser suffered a broken leg. All were from Abilene.

At the moment of the fatal accident — 1:30 a. m. — the prospective bride's mother, Mrs. Ella Mae Thornton, was putting the finishing touches on her daughter's wedding gown.

Cotton Center Youth Brings In Hale Center's First Two Bales

HALE CENTER, Sept. 9 (Special) — Jack Sageser, 17-year-old Cotton Center cotton farmer who this year is one of five Texas youths to win an Anderson-Clayton Co., scholarship for his record of cotton production last year, has been awarded a cash premium of $152 by merchants of Hale Center for bringing in the first two bales of cotton to be ginned here from the 1948 crop.

Sageser's first bale weighed 590 pounds and was purchased by Elmo Caudle of the J. J. Caudle gin, where it was processed free last Monday. Caudle paid Sageser 32 cents a pound for the bale, which graded middling plus 7-8.

WASTE OF TIME

Emergency Controls

UNLESS public and Congressional sentiment should change radically, members of the National Security Resources board are wasting effort in the preparation of certain recommendations which, according to Washington reports, are to be made to Congress in January.

One section of a two-pronged bill drafted by the board would give the President stand-by authority to invoke price, rationing, wage and other controls upon his declaration of a "limited" national emergency. Had this law existed, President Truman could have put those regulations into effect a few months ago when he was attempting unsuccessfully to persuade Congress to approve them. There is nothing at present to indicate Congress will or should approve such grants of power next January.

The other section of the proposed bill provides for drastic regimentation to go into effect automatically upon a declaration of war or of the U. S. should be attacked. This might have much to commend it were it not for the question as to whether detailed methods of coping with grave emergencies can be anticipated in advance. In 1938, a somewhat similar bill was proposed and was widely praised. But, in 1946, the Budget Bureau concluded that the proposed plan would have done more harm than good, because actual conditions were unlike those anticipated in the recommendations.

This does not argue against the wisdom of attempting to anticipate and prepare for emergencies. But if action had to be taken on the board's pending recommendations, now, they unquestionably would be rejected. A similar attitude can be expected when Congress meets in January unless the world outlook has darkened considerably by that time.

Help Wanted!

It is another shameful commentary upon governmental efficiency that adequate provision was not made for the necessary manpower to conduct the registrations when the Selective Service law was passed.

True, provision for the payment on a per diem basis of those recruited as clerks for the registration would have aggregated several million dollars. But, compared with the expense of this investment in national security, it would have been a small item—substantially less than 1 per cent of the total. It undoubtedly would have assured a more efficient job; speeded the registration and been more satisfactory in every way under the system which forces reliances upon volunteers.

Unfortunately, no provision was made for payment of helpers. It is necessary to rely on volunteers, and they are doing a splendid job as they render a patriotic service. But there aren't enough of them. More are needed, most urgently.

XXXVI

MIRIAM STERLING had been dead two weeks when Marcus Sterling and Janet Weirhaven had their first meeting since the funeral. It was not a meeting in private, nor pre-arranged. It was on a Thursday, toward evening, and they were surrounded by the Memorial Day crowd at Edgecraft Country Club.

Sterling had gone out to the club in response to urgings to fill the place scheduled for him in the club's holiday handicap tournament. He had played listlessly, yet his methodical skill had made him definitely a contender for the day's trophy. He acknowledged locker-room praise modestly but with an absence of spirit that could not escape attention.

Sterling rushed through his shower and his dressing. He was crossing the foyer when Janet Weirhaven intercepted him.

"Marcus, dear, how happy I am to see you!" Janet said.

"Oh, hello, Janet."

"I'm glad you've come out of hiding."

"Not hiding. Just tremendously busy."

"I know. Too busy for telephone calls. Have you any idea how many times I've left my name with Brant? Once or twice, even, with your secretary?"

"Sorry, Janet. I've taken over a load of work at the bank," Sterling said sheepishly.

Janet studied the serious face, the unsmiling eyes. "I'm glad the holiday rescued you for a day," Janet said. "You'll join my table for dinner, won't you, or aren't you free?"

"I'm free, but I'm not staying here for dinner."

"You're not at all like yourself, Marcus. At least we can sit down for a drink before you rush away?"

"Well, we can do that . . . of course, we can do that."

They found a small table in the lounge. The place was crowded, rang with laughter. There were calls from other tables, cheery greetings to Janet, carefully restrained salutations to Sterling.

They sat silently with their cocktails, sipping at them. Sterling was inattentive Janet struggled against chagrin, puzzled over the pronounced change in Sterling.

Janet took out her cigaret case, selected a cigaret. Sterling aroused himself just in time to hold a light for her. She was smiling at him through the smoke, when he reached for her open case, picked it up, ran a finger over the cigarets in it.

"Strange I've never noticed before that you smoke Luckies," Sterling said.

"Shouldn't I?"

"All right, I suppose. I was just thinking how dangerous they can be, in certain circumstances."

"That's startling, Marcus; or is it a riddle?"

Sterling forced a grin that succeeded poorly. "Lieutenant Talent is looking for a woman who mashed out a smoked Lucky on my library rug," he said, with deadly absence of emphasis.

Sterling's eyes were still idly on the cigaret case. He did not see the pallor that spread over Janet's face, nor the sudden frightened widening of her eyes. Janet was gulping the last of her cocktail when Sterling looked up. She offered no remonstrance when, setting down his own empty glass, he suggested that he'd be running along. The emptiness in her words matched his own when they parted. Richard Trapgood's voice startled her visibly, some minutes later, when he found her on the terrace staring vacantly toward the faintly defined shoreline of Long Island.

TOWARD the middle of June, Sterling learned that Janet had sailed for a long visit in South America. Her home would be boarded up for the summer. The European war had precluded travel across the Atlantic.

In August, Sterling heard from T. Bryan Steadman. The lawyer imparted news that at another time would have created a crescendo of rejoicing. Sterling received it calmly. His thanks were perfunctory. The lawyer told him a check for $100,000 had been deposited to his credit. The insurance company, upon expiration of the stipulated 90 days, was indemnifying Sterling for the stolen diamond necklace.

WHEN directors of Harbor Trust company met in December to consider ways and means of expressing the spirit of the approaching yuletide in proportion to duty loyally performed, it was unanimously voted to double Marcus Sterling's $6000 a year.

"He's earning it," said a director.

"He's living up to what we expected," said another. "Old Chester K. back in the flesh. Too bad it took his wife's death to put him on his feet."

The chairman smiled. "He's a Sterling, gentlemen," he said. "We'll have him sitting with us on this board in another year."

Not quite a year later, because the directors of Harbor Trust company had not understood what had driven Marcus Sterling into his intensive application to work, they were inexpressibly shaken from their dream of his future. On the day after Pearl Harbor, with only unemotional announcement of his decision, Sterling enlisted in the armed forces of the United States for the duration of the war. Only T. Bryan Steadman knew that Sterling had taken time out to write a will. He left it with the lawyer in a sealed envelope.

Looking At Life - - By Erich Brandeis

IF the Chesterfield or Lucky Strike or Camel people offered me a million dollars, they couldn't buy any free publicity in this column. (Or could they?)

If the Cadillac or Lincoln or Rolls-Royce manufacturers offered me a free car for a boost in "Looking at Life" I wouldn't accept it. (Or would I?)

BRANDEIS

But if you need Persian rug for your home I wish you would buy it from the Tabriz Persian Rug Company in Charlotte, N. C., of which D. S. Chalabie is the proprietor.

Mr. Chalabie read my column in which I expressed astonishment that so many refugees from European cruelties, who ought to get down on their knees and thank God for America, are turning Communists and traitors to their new country that gives them asylum and shelter.

This is what Mr. Chalabie writes, and I wish that every immigrant, every man or woman of foreign birth, every person who is flirting with Communism, could read it.

"I have been in this country twenty-seven years,' he writes, "and I can truthfully say that there is not a single day that passes in which I do not give thanks in deep gratitude for living in this country.

"It is very hard to understand and maddening to think how intelligent people who live here and enjoy all the privileges that this country offers can be full of admiration for a slave state such as Communism represents and advocates.

"And the greatest pity is that, should Communism become the rule of this country, none of them will be able to stomach the brutalities and inhumanities that will be perpetrated by the Communists in power, and all these boosters for Communism will, in due time, be liquidated as reactionaries."

THEN he goes on:

"A few weeks ago I was visiting in Greensboro, N. C. There I met a very fine Armenian gentleman who had come here after having lived in Austria. His host and I were telling him of the glorious privileges of being an American citizen.

"I told him of a motor tour to California I had taken, covering more than 8,000 miles, all without a passport, without a visa or any kind of permit. I told him that on the entire trip we were not stopped once to be asked who we were, where we were going, what was our nationality or religion.

"He simply could not grasp it. To him it was more wonderful than Atomic energy. He just kept on asking 'Not even a card? Not even a card?' I told him that all I had was my driver's license and I did not have to show that once.

"He was too polite to tell us that he didn't believe us. But, by his expression I just knew that

SUBSIDIES ARE NEEDED

Farm Plan Defended

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—The question of the importance of federal subsidies (parity payments) as a contributory factor to the high cost of living has become as lively a front-page story as the prospect of a shooting war with Russia, as revealed by the flood of letters on the subject to the writer of this column.

They substantiate the recent report to President Truman by the astute Leslie Biffle, the roaming political reporter for the White House. After an incognito tour, Mr. Biffle informed his boss that the two main issues on the people's mind, regardless of the politicians' own belief or suspicion, were high prices and the clash with Moscow.

TUCKER

The consuming public in the cities generally blames part of their price woes on these support payments from the federal treasury. Unless this attitude changes or can be changed, the farmers may come to inhabit the national doghouse occupied by Wall Street financiers during and after the 1929-1933 depression, and by labor bosses during the period of strikes in key industries.

DEFENSE: Therefore, the writer is happy to publish one of the soundest and most reasonable defenses of these "handouts," as city folk refer to them, he has read. It comes from D.A.C. of Ada, Ohio. After blistering "us writing fellows," he continues:

"You say that the farmers' products have outstripped all other fields in price advances. (Incidentally, he disagrees with the Bureau of Labor Statistics figures on the relationship between wage incerases and the increased cost of food.)

"Let me give you a few examples: You say the price of wheat has dropped to $2.25 a bushel. Our elevator has paid from $1.75 to a top of $2.12 per bushel, according to quality. But if I buy this back in the form of breakfast food, what formerly cost me ten cents now costs twenty cents for twelve-and-a-half ounces.

"Take potatoes, which you cry so loudly about because the farmer is getting $2.75 per bushel. In the form of potato chips, I pay the equivalent of twenty-five cents for four-and-a-half ounces, or the equivalent of more than $50 a bushel."

COST. "Not long ago," continues D.A.C., "I was forced to replace a magneto on a small combine engine. In 1926 this would have cost me $12. At the present time, it cost me $68. All repairs on parts are on about the same pattern, if you can find them.

"I sold my wool for from forty to sixty cents a pound this spring. My son bought a two-piece suit which weighs much less than ten pounds for $60. Do you think I received to much for my wool?

"Don't get me wrong. I am not in favor of the subsidy program for farmers. But so long as labor has unemployment insurance, social security, minimum wages, etc., (and these things all contribute to H.C. of L.), I think the farmer is entitled to some consideration."

BENEFIT: L.B. of Holland, Mich., asks whether the government pays subsidies at the present time, adding that "the farmers claim they do not receive them."

Answer: Uncle Sam does pay them, and will continue to do so at the present level at least through 1949. In fact, based on bumper crops, Agriculture experts figure that the total support payments for wheat, corn and cotton may total $1,500,000,000 for next year.

Few small farmers receive substantial soil conservation or parity payments. First, they own such comparatively small acreage that they cannot go in too heavily for conservation practices that merit a federal reward. Most of them also prefer to dispose of their crops on the commercial market instead of becoming involved in government transactions. But in these sales they benefit from the fact that federal subsidies and purchases keep up the price of their products.

SMART: W.F.J. of Wichita, Kan., and T.M.R. of Rapid City, S. D., question my recent statement that Chinese Communists are "connected with Moscow," and draw their basic philosophy from the Kremlin.

Answer: I recognize that many Communist leaders in China are sincere agrarian reformers seeking more equitable disposition of land, taxes, wages and profits etc. They are direct disciples of Sun Yat-Sen, and believe that Chiang Kai-Shek is a corrupt, dictatorial politician seeking his own advancement rather than betterment of their lot.

But such authorities as Pearl Buck, William C. Bullitt and diplomatic experts whom I trust insist that the real directors of the Communist war and movement are military and political leaders trained and advised by Moscow. For the moment, Stalin prefers to give the impression that he has no interest in China, and that the rebellion against Kai-Shek is a home-grown affair. That is smart politics on his part.

WARNING: In view of Communist intrigue in Northern Korea, Japan and even in India, it seems to be an ostrich-like delusion to believe that the Kremlin does not have a deep interest in and definite policy with respect to this continent of 400,000,000 people, whose misery and discontent make them so susceptible to Marxism, Leninism and Stalinism.

Incidentally, there are diplomatic warnings that China will blow up about October 10, the anniversary of the Sun Yat-Sen revolution with many of Kai-Shek's military aides taking the field against him.

DOUBLECROSSER: L.S.D. of Sergeant Bluff, Iowa, disagrees with the writer's recent statement that "Hitler and Hess knew in May of 1941 that Stalin was doublecrossing Germany, despite their pact of friendship." Although, he continues, "we are on the other side of the fence now, I think many people are damn sick of seeing journalistic integrity completely subordinated to columnists' emotions."

Answer: I plead guilty to having "emotions," L.S.D. Don't you? But it is a historical fact that Stalin was not delivering to Hitler the oil, wheat and ores he had promised under their August, 1939, agreement. Stalin simply proved to be the smarter doublecrosser, that's all. He signed up with Hitler, as Der Fuehrer did with him, simply to gain time for an eventual Russo-German conflict.

And as early as January of 1941, Cordell Hull warned Ambassador Litvinov of the prospective attack, even naming the month and outlining Hitler's strategy.

The freshness of youth is always appealing, unless the litle shaver is too darn fresh.

Robinson Crusoe should have been happy on that island. He wasn't bothered about what the market was doing in cotton or grain.

The difference between a white and black lie is that the former hasn't been tossed about.

Robinson Crusoe should have enjoyed life on that island. He wasn't all the time having to consult his lawyer.

CONGRESSIONAL LEADERS IGNORED

Dewey Using Stassen In Drive

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON — One of the most interesting developments of the presidential campaign thus far is the way Governor Thomas E. Dewey is pushing Harold Stassen to the front of the stage.

The maneuver is nicely calculated. It reflects the Dewey board of strategy's plan to divorce the Republican candidate as much as possible from the 80th Congress and GOP old guardism and standpattism. In this respect it indicates that President Truman has struck a sensitive nerve with his continued attacks on the 80th Congress and what he calls "Republican reaction."

STOKES

The former Minnesota governor and naval officer, a rival for the Republican nomination, has no identity with Congress and is generally catalogued in the progressive wing of the party, though some question is raised about that now and then. Furthermore, he appeals to younger party members, including war veterans, as was demonstrated in his whirlwind and rather amazing campaign for the nomination, as well as in the enthusiasm of that element for him at the Philadelphia convention.

Answered HST's Blast

After his own nomination, Governor Dewey lost no time in summoning Mr. Stassen to his side, with appropriate publicity, and since has consulted him repeatedly. He finally showed his hand fully when he delegated his one-time rival to answer the opening campaign speech of President Truman at Detroit on Labor day which likewise was done with considerable advance build-up and publicity.

The full significance becomes apparent when the circumstances are considered. President Truman, in his opening speech, continued his attack on the Republican Congress and made his bid for labor support by attacking the Taft-Hartley law which was one of the major acts of that Congress.

The logical man to make the Republican reply to the President, since the candidate himself chose not to do it, would seem to be Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio, who is not only the recognized Republican leader in Congress but also was sponsor of the labor statute which bears his name. He knows more about both subjects than anybody else because of his intimate connection with both, and speaks lucidly on both subjects.

But Governor Dewey skipped politely over him. He is too closely identified with the 80th Congress and Taft-Hartley and is known publicly also as the favorite of the Republican old guard which rallied unsuccessfully about him for the nomination. Beyond that, Senator Taft is bracketed with the Midwestern, nationalist wing of the party as contrasted with the more outspoken internationalists.

Led Progressive Fight

Harold Stassen is a good foil for campaign purposes. He made his own campaign for the nomination as the champion of the younger, more progressive wing of the party and this he symbolized by boldly invading Senator Taft's own state in the primary battle for delegates.

Mr. Stassen likewise is identified with the internationalists in the party who were triumphant in the Dewey-Warren ticket at the convention. He crusaded actively for full appropriations for the European recovery program as an ally of Senator Arthur H. Vandenburg (R., Mich.), Foreign Relations committee chairman, when this was an issue before Congress. Senator Taft and the Midwest nationalists in the House favored a substantially smaller appropriation than that recommended by the Truman administration with the support of Senator Vandenburg, though the Ohio senator eventually went along for the higher amount.

Likewise, Mr. Stassen was not an all-out Taft-Hartleyite. He appeared in person before the Senate labor committee to argue against some extreme proposals being urged there such as a ban on industrywide bargaining and restrictive injunctive provisions, and takes some credit for moderating the measure.

During his speech-making tours on behalf of his nomination he recommended some revisions. It is true he labeled these "comparatively minor amendments" and said that, taken all together the Taft-Hartley law was "a good package."

New York has been the most populous state in the Union since 1820 and now has 10 per cent of the nation's inhabitants although in land area it ranks 29th.

Americans Abroad Miss Accounts Of U. S. Sports News Most, Traveler Finds On Tour Of Europe

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.— The Americans I met abroad seemed to miss most their American sports pages. If you are not a sports fan there is no way in which you can understand that. If you are, then you'll know the pitiless torture of never quite knowing how the pennant races were coming along, and what was what on the other fronts.

Only one British paper regularly carries big league baseball results—the Daily Express. It does so on the strict orders of its enterprising editor, Arthur Christianson.

Details Are Incomplete

But it doesn't help an American much to learn that the Sox have beaten the Yanks, or vice versa or that the Braves have knocked off the Dodgers twice a'running, without knowing how that diluted the booze or spiked the punch.

The Paris Herald carries no accounts of the games, but does carry the standings — usually a couple of days old. The Rome Daily American has the best sports page on the continent but it, like the others, is handicapped by a lack of newsprint and one finishes the little pieces with a great hunger for more and more details.

In desperation, toward the end, we called on Mlle. Laufs, the pretty secretary of J. Kingsbury Smith, of the Paris INS bureau, and had her translate some of the stuff the French journalists on hand in New York for the Zale-Cerdan fight have been sending home. Samples from "Samedi Soir"—a La Laufs:

Stories Are Odd

"On the 21 of September, the night of the fight, a ballet will be given by the Paris players, who will compete with the fight at a nearby place. The French consul general in New York has given first interest to the dance, before the box. He laments this because all the interest of the French in New York goes to the box.

"The first meeting between Zale and Cerdan was calm and quiet. Zale went immediately to Gallagher's steak (?) to deal with the contract of his life. Gallagher's steak serves the biggest steaks of the United States and, of course, of the world.

"The organizers, journalists, cinema people and others were waiting hours 13 for Cerdan. It was his plane. But Cerdan—who is confident— was unfettered. He was sleeping for hours 16 and his manager, Roupp, was thinking he will not wake up."

Carpentier "On Hand"

"Paris Presse" reported that George Carpentier would be "on the hand" for the fight, but perhaps Mlle. Laufs meant "cuff"—for the story added, "the one who has been the most popular of the French boxers has taken this decision after receiving another telegram from the millionaire Neideretter (?) saying that a special reception will be given in his intention. He has left Biarritz for a ship that goes in the direction of New York."

The same paper reported that Cerdan, during his first days in training camp, "reposed" his hands. It was good for him to be away from the city, it added, "because he will be away from the heat and will not be bothered by his friends who, though loyal, can be a nuisance."

The paper "Intransigeant" told us that Manager Roupp wept at the signing of the contracts, but, enigmatically, refused to go into details. It mentioned, too, that Cerdan is assured of making 15,000,000 francs "from the good little contract."

"France Soir" reported that "Cerdan has entered the category of the great stars of America. For the first time, one will have to pay for the privilege of seeing him make his training, as is the case with Joe Louis." It sees him as a cufferoo artist also and delights in his status as such:

"Cerdan will be able to save much money, for he is often a guest. The manager of his hotel considers it an honor to have him in the domicile, and there are many invitations to food," Mlle. Laufs read, excitedly.

All of which may have been enough to cause the French fight fans to mutter in their apertifs but a lot of us got the heaves wondering what had ever become of Williams, Dimag, the old Satchel, Musial, Mize, Feller, Sain, Durocher, Shotton and Toots Shor. It seemed incredible that such a vibrant and tremendous part of the life of America found not even the faintest reflection in the foreign press.

On the way home, the Cunard people, in their ship paper, confined the sports news to such things as the result of a soccer game between Oxford and a South African team and a detailed story of a golf tournament being played in New South Wales.

It was quite a thing to see a bundle of N. Y. Journal-Americans and Mirrors being tossed on to the Queen Elizabeth at quarantine There was an uncouth scramble for them during which several nice old ladies were knocked flat . . . and screams of rage, consternation and delight as the Americans—at long last— learned the facts of life about the American and national leagues.

Hiring Of Additional Workers Will Start

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 9 (U.P.) — Hiring of another 35,000 Mexican laborers for work on the United States farms will be started next week, the Interior Ministry announced today.

The ministry said that employment offices will be opened in Monterrey and Culiacan, Sinaloa State, for the purpose.

Braceros will be accepted only from those Mexican states where crops already have been harvested and a surplus of labor exists, the ministry said.

The ministry indicated that the government's migrant labor commission is investigating reports of various groups of returning laborers who charged employers in Utah and Idaho had not fully paid them.

Muleshoe Making Rapid Progress As Trade Center

Bailey County Town Boasts New Homes, More Business Activity

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche Staff Writer

MULESHOE, Sept. 9—By virtue of its unusual name, Muleshoe has in recent years been accorded nationwide mention by writers and speakers who have occasion to refer to geographical points, linking Muleshoe with such other places as Yazoo, Miss., Paradox, Colo., and Otter Tail, Minn.

Some of those commentators might be surprised at the historical significance of Muleshoe's name, and they would certainly be surprised at the rapid strides the Bailey county seat is taking.

Old Brand Recalled

The mule's shoe began with the purchase in 1902 of 125,000 acres of Capitol Syndicate lands by the Bovina Cattle company, a partnership composed of W. D. Johnson, F. W. Johnson, Tom Hoghland and R. D. Gage. They used the muleshoe brand and registered it Dec. 4, 1903. The brand was employed, open end at the top, leaning to the left, on the left side of the animal, according to recollections of A. P. Stone, Bailey county pioneer.

The brand was transferred to E. K. Warren & Son, who had bought some 37,000 acres on the south side of the original Muleshoe ranch on Nov. 1, 1907, and use of the brand was discontinued.

In 1906 colonization by farmers began, W. D. and F. W. Johnson having cut the Bovina lands into sections which were sold to immigrants from Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri and other midwestern states.

Population Shows Jump

Nearly all of Bailey county is under cultivation at present.

A recent survey by Frank Cummings, business manager of Muleshoe Independent school district, showed Muleshoe's population at between 3,800 and 4,200. The census in 1940 showed 1,332.

With a school census of 1,470 as revealed by the records of Supt. W. C. Cunningham, the Muleshoe school district covers 541 square miles, well over half the county. A heavy consilidation program has been going on several years.

Under construction now is a $400,000 high school building which will supplement other modern school buildings already in use in Muleshoe.

Many New Homes Built

Approximately 500 new homes of various sizes have been built since 1945 in Muleshoe, according to an estimate of H. J. Sanders, a lumber dealer.

Commercial building has also been going ahead rapidly, with many new buildings and additions having been recently built.

Muleshoe is a busy town, and its buisinessmen are unusually active. Some of them work straight through the day, without taking off for lunch.

A Chamber of Commerce which had periodic luncheons has been discontinued.

Mayor C. D. Gupton, who also operates the Veterans' service office in Bailey county's courthouse, says the city tax valuation for 1948 will be in excess of $2.5 million. Sewer and water extensions are contemplated and bond elections may be called in the future to finance expansion. A bond election for improvements was held in February but failed at that time.

City commissioners are Dudley Malone and W. R. Harper.

Farm Improvements Made

With its vast resources in cotton, grain sorghums and wheat, Bailey county is rapidly developing irrigation practices and other farm refinements.

The office of Glenn M. Ezell, manager of the Bailey county Electric Co-operative, headquartered in Muleshoe, said approximately 800 miles of lines are in service operated by the co-operative. The lines extend from Bailey county into Cochran, Castro, Lamb and Parmer counties. A recent grant was received to finance construction of additional lines.

An interesting sight in Muleshoe illustrates the expansion of the town's growth.

In what the residents call "old town" are many large old shade trees, but to the south and west, at the "old" or pre-war borders of the town, the trees stop abruptly and much of the "new" town has either no trees at all or very young ones.

The open pastures at the edges of town have been purchased and subdivided for residential development. Among them is a hilly area south of the city which will make a handsome natural setting for ranch-type homes now being planned.

Overlooking the business district of the town are circular steel grain elevators of nearly half a million bushel capacity which are operated by Robert King. Other industries include a creamery, cotton gins, and feed mills.

Members of the congregation of First Baptist church are contemplating a $100,000 church building.

Singing sand is a name given to certain sand beds which squeak when stirred, driven over or walked on.

MULESHOE MAKES IMPROVEMENTS—The main street in Muleshoe, pictured at the top, is a busy place even on week days. The view is looking north, with the large steel grain elevators on the railroad in the background. The elevators, operated by Harold and Robert King, have a capacity of approximately half a million bushels. In the center are two homes typical of nearly 500 built in Muleshoe since the war. Both are located in "new town", south and west of pre-war Muleshoe. At left is the perma-stone home of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McGee. McGee, a real estate and insurance agent, has just moved in. Nebraska Nudist To Move To Colorado For More Sunshine

OMAHA, Neb., Sept. 9 (U.P.)—H. P. Ferree, 73, Nebraska's last nudism leader, has left his camp near Valley to establish a new "Garden of Eden" at Golden, Colo.

Ferree, who claimed 30 couples from the Omaha area visited his Valley camp regularly last year, said he moved to Colorado because "Nebraska isn't close enough to the sun."

At the new "Garden of Eden" in Colorado "we live the pure life, naked and unashamed," Ferree said. Members of the colony are "fruitarian vegetarians," he said. No smoking or drinking is allowed.

St. Louis Man Is Arrested After Striking Five Autos

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 9 (U.P.)—James Murray was indignant when police ended his pre-dawn joy ride.

When he was arrested for drunken driving, leaving the scene of an accident and destruction of property, Murray floored one of the arresting officers and three more were needed to hold him.

All he did was crash into five autos parked on a single block.

U. S. Public Libraries Now Own 130,000,000 Volumes

CHICAGO, Sept. 9 (U.P.)—Public libraries in the United States own approximately 130,000,000 volumes, according to the International City Managers' Association, and the number is increasing rapidly.

A survey showed that many of the more than 6,000 public libraries in the nation are expanding by construction of more book space and reading rooms and addition of film libraries and other special services.

Spearfish, S. D. Relieved To Know Its Name Still Unique

SPEARFISH, S. D., Sept. 9 (U.P.)—Local residents still can boast that they live in the "only Spearfish in the world."

Old-timers were disconcerted when it was reported that a railroad time-table listed a stop at Spearfish, Wash. However, a letter from Mayor James O'Neill asking information about the second Spearfish's population, industries and location came back marked "No Such Postoffice."

'Water Follies' Making Hit In East On Way To Lubbock

Grandstand Attraction At Fair Here Receives Good Notices During Tour

The "Water Follies of 1948" are Lubbock-bound from New England, but with several stops in between before arrival here to appear as the night grandstand attraction at the Panhandle-South Plains fair Sept. 27 through Oct. 2.

This information was received by officials of the fair association late Thursday as the Follies' management reported the closing of a smashingly successful engagement in Worchester, Mass.

To Play Big Cities

The organization is to play several big city and state fair engagements before arrival in Lubbock for one of the few full-week stands of an itinerary which extends from coast-to-coast and from Great Lakes to the Gulf of Mexico.

Newspaper notices in connection with the performance in Worcester were on the "rave" order.

The Follies were described in the Worcester Daily Telegram as being "packed with diving and swimming champions" whose "efforts, with those of the delightful ballet of young women swimming artists, gave the presentation all the charm and excitement that water sports can develop."

The ballet exhibitions were described as "fully as fascinating as any presented upon the stage."

"Between swimming and diving exhibitions," said the review, "the performers sing, dance, wear attractive costumes, discarding most of them for the water ballets. There is enough big time vaudeville to add variety, and plenty of comedy on both the high diving boards and in the tanks."

Fair association officials here said the grounds in front of the grandstand are being cleared and leveled for the huge stage on which the water follies performances will be given. The stage is nearly a city block in length, including a pool used by the ballet 75 feet long. Another large pool is provided for the diving exhibitions.

Center seats in the grandstand will be reserved and numbered for the Follies. Mail reservations are being accepted now. They should be addressed to the Panhandle-South Plains Fair association.

Defense Takes Over In Trial

Eighteen fact witnesses and several reputation witnesses were paraded to the witness stand Thursday afternoon, when the defense began presenting evidence in the Milus Steen murder case.

Shortly before 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue adjourned court for the night, defense counsel announced that it still has five fact witnesses and approximately 10 reputation witnesses to call to the stand when Judge Pardue convenes the fourth day of the trial at 10 a.m. Steen, a negro, will take the stand, the court was informed.

State Rests Case

The court said he and counsel will meet at 9 a.m. to commence preparation of a jury charge.

It was indicated that arguments would not commence before this afternoon.

The state had rested its case at noon against the defendant, a negro charged in connection with the Feb. 23 shooting of Narvis Smith, 23, another negro, in the Queen City negro residential section of Lubbock.

Smith was shot approximately 15 minutes after he and Steen had fought in Steen's grocery store, two blocks from the shooting scene, testimony indicated.

District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr represent the prosecution. S. P. Boling, George W. Dupree and James Milam are counsel for Steen.

Northern City Is Amazed To Find Poll Tax In Books

DAVENPORT, Ia., Sept. 9 (U.P.)—With a national "civil rights" dispute going on, the major of this northern city found a poll tax still on the municipal books.

Originally passed to acquire road repair funds for the state, the law required "able-bodied male residents between 21 and 45" to pay a sum "not to exceed $5" each year if they wanted to vote.

The mayor said state action had abolished the law several years ago, and immediately set the city council to work to get it taken off the books.

Denver War Veterans Make Living Diving In Mountains

DENVER, Sept. 9 (U.P.) — Two Denver war veterans are earning a living "deep-sea diving" at an altitude of more than a mile.

They are Bob Zirm, 30, ex-sailor, and Jake Yeager, 31, ex-soldier. The two have formed a Denver diving firm.

Their first job was going down 12 feet into Denver's Sloan Lake for a stenotype. The stenotype was recovered and police lodged its thief in jail.

Their next job will be going down in a well to repair some screens.

INDECISION OF DEMO LEADERS SCORED BY UNION

Dewey Drives Wedge Into HST's Labor Backing As AFL Group Pledges Vote For GOP's Nominee

By LEO W. O'BRIEN
INS Staff Correspondent

ALBANY, N. Y., Sept. 9.—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey drove a wedge into the labor support of President Truman today when he received the backing of the 175,000-member AFL Building Service employes international union.

Leaders of the union, which opposed Dewey and supported the late President Roosevelt four years ago, brought to Albany a resolution, adopted by its executive board, which stated:

"We believe that Governor Dewey has shown himself to be a wise and able administrator of public affairs and that his calm strength will replace the indecision and jittery irresolution in government affairs.

"Governor Dewey has, in the past, been endorsed for public office by great bodies representing labor, and their representatives, because he has recognized the needs, problems and aims of labor. We feel confident that he will continue these wise and forward looking attitudes and policies toward labor."

William L. McFetridge, of Chicago, general president of the union, led the delegation to Albany. Asked if he believed the resolution represented the sentiment of the rank and file of the union, he replied "I know it does."

McFetridge said that pro-Dewey resolutions had been adopted by the locals in New York City, San Francisco, Los Angeles, Chicago and Milwaukee.

Governor Dewey's reaction to the endorsement was a statement that he is "gratified by this expression of confidence by one of the greatest unions in America."

William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, has endorsed the candidacy of President Truman, but some of the international unions have not followed his lead. Dan Tobin, president of the Teamsters' union, which backed Roosevelt in 1944, has told his members to vote as they will.

McFetridge said he believed some of the other international unions will follow the example of the building service employes.

Houston Planning Commission Sets Population At 468,678

HOUSTON, Sept. 9 (U.P.) — The Houston City Planning commission came up today with a white paper all its own. It doesn't have a name, but it has significance a-plenty—for Dallas.

At the risk of vigorous headshaking from the Houston Chamber of Commerce, the commission announced that its calculations give Houston a population of only 468,678.

Compiled by planning engineer Ralph Ellifritt, the commission's data is based upon the number of occupied dwelling units. The Chamber of Commerce, in its most conservative estimate, gave the city 500,000 residents.

Harvester Increases Prices, Sales Boom

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (INS)—The "effect of general inflation" was blamed today by International Harvester Co. for a new round of price increases for its products.

The company said that price hikes which became effective last Tuesday were made largely necessary by rising labor and materials costs which caused losses in some items.

The explanation came as the third quarterly review of the firm showed that May, June and July sales the current fiscal year broke all quarter sales records in Harvester history.

Third quarter sales totaled $257,993,000—a gain of 5.14 per cent over the previous quarter and 28 5 per cent higher than sales in the same quarter a year ago.

U. S. Claimed Planning To Close Matamoros Consulate

BROWNSVILLE, Sept. 9. (AP)—The Brownsville Herald said today it has learned "from unimpeachable sources" that the United States will close the historic consulate in Matamoros, Mexico, at the end of the month.

The consulate has been there approximately 90 years and formerly was the office of the U. S. Consulate General to Mexico.

Gov. Warren To Make Talk At Amphitheater In Chicago

CHICAGO, Sept. 9. (INS)—Herbert E. Brownell, Republican National campaign manager, announced today that Gov. Earl Warren of California, Republican vice-presidential candidate, will speak in Chicago on Oct. 6.

Warren will make his first Illinois campaign appearance at the international ampitheater in the stockyards.

Brownell announced the appointment of Mrs. J. W. Hunt of Oswego, Ill., to be assistant to Midwest Campaign Manager Bert Howard of Nebraska.

HST's First Bid For Political Office 20 Years Ago Recalled

By SAM SMITH
United Press Staff Writer

HOUSTON, Mo., Sept. 9.—Just 20 years ago, he came to this south central Missouri hill country town of less than 800 persons to make his first tentative bid for a statewide office.

Today he is President of the United States and campaigning for a full four-year term of his own, making his first big speech in Detroit this Labor Day.

The town selected as the stage for his first bid for something beyond his county judgeship in Jackson County has changed in the two decades. It's doubled in size, and it's proud of its new shoe factory.

C. E. (Deacon) Elmore, 66, a weekly newspaper worker here for more than 50 years, recalled today the first speech Harry S. Truman made in his bid for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1928.

Pendergast Man Wins

Truman didn't file for the office. He came here at the start of a boomlet by some of his friends. But State Sen Francis M. Wilson of Paltte County had the ned of Boss Tom Pendergast. Wilson won the nomination but was beaten in November of that year by 52,000 votes by his Republican opponent.

Truman was unknown in outstate Missouri in 1928. The proposed candidacy, as Elmore recalled it, was sponsored partly by Ralph E. Truman, a cousin of Harry Truman, who then was living in Springfield, about 80 miles west of here.

"In his speech here, in the Lyric Theater, Harry Truman said he was thinking of becoming a candidate for governor," Elmore said.

"I remember, too, that he apologized to the 100 or so persons in his audience for not being a public speaker."

Backed By Legion

He was introduced by Rep. James E. Ruffin of the old sixth Missouri district. In the group which sponsored Truman's Houston appearance were Democratic leaders of southwest Missouri and groups of American Legion members from Mountain Grove, Springfield, Cabool and Houston.

Elmore, who started setting type for weekly papers here in 1895, and who has since served as correspondent for the larger dailies of the state, could recall few details of Truman's first speech in a bid for state-wide recognition.

Wilson again received the Pendergast nod in 1932 and was nominated. He died between the primary and the general election and the state committee nominated the late Guy B. Park to fill his spot at the head of the state ticket.

Mr. Truman marked time another two years. In 1934, he received Pendergast support for his bid for the U. S. Senate, was elected and was thus on the road to the White House.

Convict Returned To Prison After Six Weeks Of Freedom

GALVESTON, Sept. 9 (U.P.) — After six weeks of liberty, a Ramsey prison farm escapee was on his way back to jail today.

J. H. Webb, 30, was apprehended by city detectives here yesterday morning. The man was serving a 14-year sentence for burglary from Galveston county when he made a get-away with two others from the farm near Huntsville.

The other men are still at large.

Employes Of Soviet Consulates Board Ship For Trip To Russia

JERSEY CITY, N. J., Sept. 9. (INS) — Armed with bundles of American-made goods, 25 employes of the closed Russian consulates in New York and San Francisco boarded the Russian ship, Nikolaev, today for their return home.

Men, women and children, all of them carrying handbags loaded with soap, sugar, candy and other items, climbed soberly aboard the vessel a few hours before its departure for Mexico and thence to Odessa or Leningrad.

Their only answer to questions was "no comment" in two languages.

Glad To Go Home

Only one man talked readily to newspapermen. Michael Semashkin, former chauffeur for Jakob Lomakin, the Russian consul whose actions in the Kosenkina case prompted the closing of the Soviet consulates in this country, said he was "glad to be going home."

He said he didn't know if he would resume work as Lomakin's chauffeur.

The departing Russians also took with them two phonographs and several boxes of American cigarets as well as furniture and personal belongings.

Aboard the ship, they shouted "adios" to about a dozen persons standing on the pier to see them off. The "adios" was apparently in the way of practice for their first stop at Progresso, Mexico.

Earlier, the buses had drawn up before the former Soviet consulate in New York while the families of consular workers were loaded aboard.

Workmen had considerable difficulty getting a huge picture of J. Stalin down to the street level. The picture, which was to be taken to the Park avenue headquarters of the Soviet delegation to the United Nations, was so heavy that a block and tackle failed and workmen said a platform would have to be built to handle it.

Naval Air Training Chief Inspects Reserves On Ship

PENSACOLA, Fla., Sept. 9 (AP) — Rear Admiral J. W. Reeves, Jr., chief of naval air training, today inspected the first naval reserve groups to operate aboard an aircraft carrier.

He was flown to the USS Wright in the Gulf of Mexico where two Dallas Naval Reserve air groups are operating.

The flag of Texas was flown aboard the carrier during the admiral's visit and the airmen from the Lone Star state flew in formation as a salute.

"I am highly pleased with the success of the first operation of the first naval reserve groups to operate aboard a carrier," Adm. Reeves commented.

New Automotive Device s Designed To Give Cars Extra 'Oomph' On Hills, Fast Getaway

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Staff Writer

CLEVELAND, Sept. 9—So you thing that your new car has every accessory including the kitchen sink? Well, it hasn't.

There's one more coming.

The new accessory is the vitameter — a device that adds power, more mileage, and less knocks, particularly on the hills and on fast getaways

"Magic Fluid" Injected

The vitameter, developed by scientists of the Thompson Products, Inc., actually is an auxiliary carbureter that sends a "magic fluid" into the cylinders, making ordinary regular gasoline act like 100 octane aviation fuel.

The fluid is composed of alcohol, water, tetraethyl lead and a soluble oil. It is the result of a wartime development whereby alcohol and water were used to give fighter planes an added burst of power. The technique also has been adopted by commercial airlines to help big transports in takeoff.

In a demonstration here, Thompson scientists showed that the solution could be applied to ordinary automobiles, even the old-fashioned styles.

Fred C. Crawford, president of the company, said the solution, called vitrol, and the auxiliary carbureter, called the vitameter, may well mean the opening of a new era in the automobile and gasoline industry.

MAN KILLED AT TYLER

TYLER, Sept. 9. (AP)—A southbound freight train struck and killed a negro man at a grade crossing in West Tyler today, dragging the body 220 feet. The man was identified from papers on his body as O. C. Jones, Edgewood, Texas.

The use of envelopes for mailing purposes began about 100 years ago.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up nights. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 50 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

YOUNG SON TO GO TO SENATE

Huey Long's 'Share The Wealth' Program Is Set For Revival

By PAT J. McDONNELL
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 9—The late Sen. Huey P. Long's "share the wealth" program seems destined for a revival some January and the next regular session of Congress.

Twenty-nine-year-old Russell B. Long, son of the slain Louisiana kingpin, has won the Democratic nomination to the U. S. Senate. And in Louisiana, that's tantamount to election, so much so that he can go ahead and buy his railroad tickets now.

Young Russell firmly believes the nation got the wrong impression of his father. He feels that Huey's basic political beliefs were sound, and he intends to push his father's general program when he finally reaches Washington himself.

Resembles His Father

Russell says he wants to see more money distributed to the poorer citizens of his state and the nation as well; that he wants to see more money going to the aged, too; and that he wants to guarantee every school kid in the nation a cheap, hot lunch.

Russell bears striking resemblance to his father — the same broad face, the wavy hair, and the manner of affecting his speech to suit the occasion.

In one major respect he differs considerably, though. He is quiet and extremely confident of his own ability. Long's father was known as an insistent man whose forcefulness could be overbearing, a man who thought nothing of treading upon those who stood in his way.

Finally Realizes Dream

For Russell, the nomination is a dream come true.

Ever since that day 13 years ago when an assassin's bullets felled the fabulous Huey amidst the stately marble columns of the capitol at Baton Rouge, Russell has had but one compelling desire—to follow in his father's footsteps and carry out his battle. He says:

"When my father died, I realized there was a great need for a real sincere politicion who wanted to do something for someone beside himself, and I feared his program, for which he gave his life, might fall apart for want of a leader."

An ardent student of his father during the late senator's heyday, Russell relates that "when I was 13 I could debate the merits of everything my father was interested in."

Russell, oddly enough will not reach the minimum age for a U. S. senator until the day before the general elections.

His strength in Louisiana stems from the rural vote. That's where the late Huey "sold" his program too.

Huey was dubbed a dictator during his lifetime for the manner in which he forced his will on political subordinates; for the way he pushed his own program through the Louisiana legislature; and for his iron control over Louisiana affairs, mainly by getting signed resignations before appointing a man to a state job.

Built Roads, Bridges

But in the rural areas, and among the hard-working, less fortunate Louisianians, Huey Long came near sainthood. He built them roads and bridges, gave the school children their first free textbooks, and took their small homes off the tax rolls.

It was a similar program—promises of free school luncheon, more farm-to-market roads, additional hospital services and liberalized old-age pensions — which swept Huey's brother, Earl K. Long, into the governorship last January.

And, although Russell's margin of victory this week over State Appeals Judge Robert F. Kennon was one of the smallest in the political history of the family, it was still the rural vote that did it — and the fact that he was "Huey's boy."

The farmers, the cotton pickers, the trappers, and the other [illegible] residents backed him, Said Russell confidently after the primary.

"Why I could have gotten a much larger plurality if those old cotton pickers out in the field knew I needed their help.

"A lot of country people said to one another 'that boy's in—he doesn't need our help,' and they went on picking cotton. But they would have been there if they had known I needed them, just like they always so splendidly supported my father."

One thing's for certain — when Congress convenes in January Huey Long's old "Every Man A King" philosophy is going to ring through the halls of Congress again!

Federal District To Open New Mexico City Market

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 9 (U.P.)—The Federal district government will open its sixth popular market here Saturday, continuing its efforts to bring food prices down to within reach of the average citizen.

The new market will be located in the Villa Obregon district, on the south side of the capital.

The markets feature fruits, vegetables, eggs and dairy products, as well as textiles and shoes, retailed directly to consumers by producers or growers.

Prices for the most part average from two thirds to half of those charged in other markets and stores.

MORE MONEY SOUGHT FOR GERMANY

U. S. Both Contender, Umpire In Giving Out Aid Plan Funds

WASHINGTON, Sept. 9. (AP)—The United States found itself today both a contender and the umpire in a contest over the division of Marshall Plan aid among the European nations.

A $100,000,000 difference of opinion over the share that should go to bizone Germany is the issue. An ECA spokesman said the dispute has delayed the shaping of the first-year recovery program.

The case is complicated, ECA officials admit, by this country's "split personality" with respect to foreign aid.

More Funds Sought

Speaking through ECA administrator Paul G. Hoffman and Ambassador-At-Large W. Averell Harriman, this country insisted that the 16 European countries themselves divided up the $5,000,000,000 pie through the "OEEC"—the organization for European Economic cooperation at Paris—in which the United States does not have membership. OEEC thereupon assigned Germany a reported $365,000,000 share.

But another American voice—that of General Lucius D. Clay, U. S. representative in the British-American zone—is pressing for $100,000,000 more on grounds that German recovery is a key to the recovery of all Europe.

The OEEC discussions bogged down, amid reports of strained feelings, as a September 1 deadline for agreement passed. Administrator Hoffman had set that target for the fixing of allocations for the year ending next June 30.

Now officials here say they "hope there is a chance for agreement by September 15."

There were reports in Paris that a compromise agreement had been drafted but officials here said they had no immediate knowledge of it.

The Paris account gave no details of the reported compromise.

Eight-County Singing Meet To Be Held Saturday Night

SNYDER, Sept. 9 (Special) — The Eight-County Singing convention, one of the fastest growing organizations in the area, will observe its second birthday Saturday with an all-night singing at the Snyder North Side Baptist church.

J. Lawrence Deavers, chairman, and James Patrick, vice president, report the roundup of gospel songs will be staged in the church's new $20,000 air-conditioned auditorium. Rev. Earl Creswell is church pastor.

The convention was organized two years ago, and was for sometime afterward known as the Four-County Singing convention. Outstanding quartets of Texas and the Southwest will appear on the program during the conclave.

Counties included in the convention are Scurry, Mitchell, Dawson, Howard, Martin, Coke, Nolan and Midland.

Crude Oil Production Remains At New High

NEW YORK, Sept. 9 (AP) — Daily average gross crude oil production in the United States was at a record high for the fifth successive week in the period ended Sept. 4, the American Petroleum Institute reported today. The average of 5,531,450 barrels was an increase of 2,600 from the preceding week and compared with 5,173,050 in the similar period of 1947.

Reports from refineries indicated the industry operated at 93.5 per cent of capacity in running to stills 5,506,000 barrels of crude daily. This was a decline from 5,682,000 in the previous week and compared with 5,288,000 a year ago.

Gasoline production was estimated at 17,645,000 barrels against 17,722,000 a week ago. Finished and unfinished gasoline stocks at 94,893,000 barrels shawed a drop for the week of 611,000, and compared with 85,627,000 in the 1947 week.

Light fuel oil output dropped to 1,182,000 barrels from 7,491,000 in the preceding week, and heavy fuel oil production was down to 8,598,000 from 8,818,000 in the previous week. Gas oil and distillate fuel stocks were up 2,544,000 barrels at 68,969,000, and residual stocks up 1,455,000 at 72,308,000 barrels.

Actress Suffered From Serious Injuries

Film Star Rita Johnson Is Found Mysteriously Hurt

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 9 (INS)—Film Star Rita Johnson was fighting for her life at St. Vincent's hospital today, suffering from brain concussion acquired under as yet unexplained circumstances.

Physicians \gave the actress a 50-50 chance of recovering.

She has been unconscious for more than 72 hours.

Her personal physician, Dr. Lee Siegel, said that the stage and screen actress was taken to the hospital late Monday afternoon.

Dr. Siegel was summoned by Mary Ainslee, actress-friend of Miss Johnson's, shortly after the blonde film star collapsed.

No Reason Given

Miss Ainslee said that she had called at the Johnson home on Monday to accompany the actress to a cocktail party. Miss Ainslee related:

"Rita met me at the door of her home. She complained of a headache. I noticed bumps swelling up on Rita's head and then she collapsed."

Dr. Siegel also noted the bumps on the actress' head. He said that the actress' lips also were badly swollen and that she was suffering from concussion of the brain.

Miss Jonnson has been unable to explain her injuries. She has been in a coma ever since she collapsed at the door of her home. There was no one else in the residence.

One theory advanced by Dr. Siegel is that the actress may have been struck by a falling hair dryer while she was preparing for the cocktail party.

Voltaire, the French author, is said to have drunk 7 cups of coffee a day.

Water Hazards Are Debunked By Expert

CHICAGO Sept. 9 (U.P) — A person who keeps his head can learn to swim almost anywhere, even in a whirlpool, says an expert swimmer.

Stephen Baker, a member of the New York Athletic Club water polo team, debunked common beliefs regarding water hazards to swimmers in an article in the magazine hygeia.

Water pressure, he says, is dangerous only at great depths. With practice most swimmers can submerge safely to 10 or 20 feet and swim 25 to 75 feet without difficulty, Baker contends.

Unskilled swimmers and even some skilled ones become panicky in open water when they get the optical illusion that the waves are running against them, Baker wrote. He recommended that the swimmer fix his gaze on something stationary so that he realizes continually he is making progress in the water.

Some swimmers fear that weeds and grass moving under the surface of the water will pull them down, but Baker says "they haven't the strength to pull down a pike."

Churchill Facing Revolt Against Leadership Of Conservatives

By RICHARD D. McMILLAN
United Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sept. 9. — Winston Churchill's leadership of the British Conservative Party and his entire political career are threatened by a revolt within the ranks of the Conservatives.

For some time it has been rumored that a political split had occurred between Churchill and former Foreign Minister Anthony Eden. There are not only serious differences between them but the Tory Party is split into two camps.

The revolters are mainly young Conservatives, although some of the more advanced Tories are with them. They believe the war-time premier's career as a leader is at an end.

They consider he is a rebel to the interests of the Tories, because he will not listen to orders, that he is out-of-touch with the voting masses and that he is generally not the choice to be prime minister if the Conservatives win the next elections.

Many Favor Eden

"It is true that many Tories now recognize that Eden is the man to lead the party and take over the mantle of Churchill as next prime minister in a Conservative administration" a well informed political authority told the United Press.

"It has been current gossip for a long time in the parliamentary lobbies that there is a split between the Churchillites and the Edenites in the Tory Party. Now it is confirmed."

The Conservatives have been in a dilemma about Churchill for a long time. They recognize that he is a magic name to millions, but the younger element in the party believes that events have proven that the British public will cheer him as a national hero but vote against him as Tory leader.

Speeches Disapproved

Some Tories say Churchill is a law unto himself. They complain that he scorns party guidance, gets up in the Commons to make speeches which are his own and not the party's view and in a word lives upon his reputation as a great war-time leader.

The attitude of the revolters is that the war is past and done with and the Socialists are making big strides in capturing the votes of the masses by concrete plans and legislation aimed at giving the workers a better deal.

To remove Churchill from the leadership of the Conservative Party would be no easy task. He has the backing of the old guard—the reactionaries from the ranks of the industrial magnates and the landed gentry who are all opposed to social progress in industry. He is an astute and stubborn tactician, and an indomitable fighter.

PUocket Veto is the term commonly applied to the action of the President in withholding approval of a bill for ten days when Congress adjourns before that time.

Firemen Find Fog Machine Is Ineffective Against Starlings

MORRIS, Ill., Sept. 9 (U.P.)—The fire department was called into action to drive out the starlings which have been plaguing the city.

They waited until nightfall when the bird pests would be asleep.

Then they squirted fog from their new fog fire-fighting machine into tree branches. The idea worked, to a degree.

The startled starlings took off, but not for another town. They just moved to other trees until the fog died down.

Post Office Still Is Trying To Deliver Letter Written In 1882

DETROIT, Sept. 9 (U.P.) — The post office is trying to deliver a letter written in 1882 to a Detroit woman.

The brittle, faded letter was found behind an old mantel in a Cleveland house being remodeled. It was addressed to Mrs. H. R. Leonard, 65 Stimpson Place, Detroit.

The letter said, "John has had a fever for two days now and I am afraid he is going to be sick," and was signed "Hattie."

Post office officials admitted it would be difficult to deliver the 66-year-old letter because there no longer is a "65 Stimson Place" in Detroit and the city engineer's office doubts if there ever was.

Frolicsome Bears Prove To Be Problem; Now In Strong Cage

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 9 (U.P.) — Boyd Carver, state game warden, has his fingers crossed these days, wondering how long the "strong cage" of a man in Wellsville, Utah, is going to last.

Carver just deposited two frisky bear cubs in the man's backyard cage. The two cubs have been the scourge of the Snow Basin recreation area and the Hogle Gardens zoo for the last few months.

Carver caught the bears up in Wyoming, but he almost wishes he hadn't. During their stay at Snow Basin, they learned to take the ski lift apart, bolt by bolt; refused forest service bear-fare in favor of picnic olives and pickles, consequently breaking up three picnic parties by eating the refreshments, baskets and all.

That was when they went to the Hogle Gardens zoo in Salt Lake City. They were too tough for the Salt Lakers, too, so now Carver has turned them over to what he hopes will prove to be a cage strong enough to hold them.

RETIRED RAILROADER REGETS NOT KNOWING OF RETONGA SOONER

MR. W. M. JONES

Found Prompt Relief From Muscular Aches And Pains, Tormenting Distress of Acid Indigestion, Bloating And Constipation. Glad He Gave Retonga A Trial.

"I am very grateful to Retonga for the way I feel today," happily states Mr. W. M. Jones, respected citizen and home owner of 1013 So. 17th St., Waco, Tex. A member of the Brotherhood of R. R. Trainmen, Local No. 710, Mr. Jones was a railroader for 30 years.

"To feel as down and out as I did, I am thankful to be up and out again," continues Mr. Jones. "I don't see how anyone could have suffered more than I did and live to tell about it. My indigestion was so poor that I was forced to live on soft food, eggs, milk and broths. I had to force every bite down, too, for no matter what I ate, I was sure to suffer tormenting distress from acid indigestion, gas and bloating afterwards. I was forced to take some kind of strong purgative nearly every day. Every muscle in my body seemed to ache and pain and I couldn't remember getting a real, good night's sleep. I was of in weight and felt so weakened and run-down that I could hardly walk across the room. "Retonga brought me such prompt and splendid relief that I regret not knowing about it sooner. I eat three hearty meals a day now without a particle of trouble afterwards, and I have regained much of my weight and strength. I sleep good, have left off strong laxatives, and no longer suffer those throbbing muscular aches and pains. I feel so much better and I am glad to tell others about this meritorious medicine."

The active ingredients of Retonga are purely herbal, combined with Vitamin B-1. Retonga is intended to relieve distress due to insufficient flow of digestive juices in the stomach, loss of appetite, borderline Vitamin B-1 deficiency, and constipation. Accept no substitute —insist on the original. You can get Retonga at all good drug stores. Adv.
