Carter's tough speech draws quick support

Persian Gulf pledge: "An attempt by any outside force to gain control of the Persian Gulf region will be regarded as an assault on the vital interests of the United States of America. And such an assault will be repelled by any means necessary, including military force."

Selective Service: "I hope that it will not become necessary to impose the draft. However, we must be prepared for that possibility. For this reason, I have determined that the Selective Service System must now be revitalized. I will send legislation and budget proposals to the Congress next month so that we can begin registration and then meet future mobilization needs rapidly if they arise."

Oil imports: To increase energy conservation, Carter set a 1980 oil import ceiling of 8.2 million barrels a day enforced by import fees "if necessary." The U.S. imported 8.1 million barrels a day last year.

Standby gasoline rationing: "If we have a serious shortage, I will not hesitate to impose mandatory gasoline rationing immediately."

Hostages in Iran: "If the American hostages are harmed, a severe price will be paid. We will never rest until every one of the Americans hostages are released."

Iranian relations: The United States will try to "persuade the Iranian leaders that the real danger to their nation lies to the north—in the Soviet Union and from Soviet troops now in Afghanistan."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress appears ready to back President Carter's tough new doctrine aimed at containing the Soviet thrust toward the oil lifelines of the Middle East. But reaction to reviving peacetime draft registration is decidedly mixed.

Carter used the annual State of the Union address to reverse much of the foreign and military policy established in the first three years of his administration. He drew support from many Republicans as well as from leaders of his own party.

But some long-time advocates of bolstering the nation's military defenses were openly skeptical about the president's determination to fully develop his new approach.

Many Republicans claimed Carter is exploiting the foreign policy challenge posed by the Soviet intervention in Afghanistan to quell criticism of their party's overall failures of his administration.

The president's speech Wednesday night before a joint session of Congress was interrupted repeatedly by applause.

The loudest and most sustained ovation came when Carter said neither he nor the American people will support sending an Olympic team to Moscow while Soviet occupation troops remain in Afghanistan.

The president also confirmed that the Soviet action in Afghanistan has caused him to shift his strategy in the continuing effort to persuade Iran to release 50 American hostages held in Tehran since Nov. 4.

He said the United States now will attempt to persuade Iranian leaders "that the real danger to their nation lies to the north from Soviet troops in Afghanistan and that the unwarranted Iranian quarrel with us hampers their response to this far greater danger."

The core of what amounts to a Carter Doctrine on the Middle East was delivered in these words:

"Let our position be absolutely clear. An attempt by any outside force to gain control of the Persian Gulf region will be regarded as an assault on the vital interests of the United States of America. And such an assault will be repelled by any means necessary, including military force."

Sen. Richard Stone, D-Fla., chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations subcommittee on the Middle East, said Carter outlined "a clear containment doctrine and if it means what it implies, it is the strongest statement that any president in recent years has ever made."

Sen. Sam Nunn, D-Ga., a vocal and influential advocate of strengthened U.S. military defenses, said the president clearly drew the lines and defined the sphere of vital American security interests in the Persian Gulf region.

But Sen. Ted Stevens, R-Alaska, the acting Senate Republican leader, saw dangers lurking beneath the surface of the president's words.

Stevens said the president had, perhaps unwisely, committed the United States to defend "every inch of the Persian Gulf."

"If the Carter Doctrine had been in effect before Afghanistan, we'd be at war with the Soviet Union now," Stevens said. "We're attempting to speak strongly while carrying a short stick."

Speech welcomed by U.S. friends

By The Associated Press

President Carter's tough State of the Union address was being digested in the capitals of the world today, but scattered early responses indicated it was being welcomed by America's friends and allies as a sign of renewed U.S. resolve and leadership.

Britain, the European ally that has given the United States the most support so far in the Afghanistan crisis, sounded the warmest response to Carter's message to America.

"We agree fully," said Foreign Office spokesman David Brightly, "with the five basic goals outlined for the United States by the president because they are objectives which the West in general shares."

Brightly said the buildup of U.S. military strength "is welcome and it is what we in this country have set about doing ourselves."

He said Britain also favors Carter's program of active diplomacy for the peaceful settlement of disputes and the president's view that the problems of inflation and the energy crisis are global in scope.

Britain also identifies with Carter's objectives of building up democratic institutions and supporting human rights around the world, and "feels deeply committed, despite current East-West instability," to achieving verifiable means of controlling arms.

"The British government and other Western countries not only welcome all these goals but also fully support the U.S. position in relation to Pakistan and the Gulf states, and, in particular, we welcome the emphasis the president has placed on the need to maintain and strengthen relations with America's friends and allies," Brightly said.

The British Broadcasting Corp. led its newscasts Thursday with lengthy extracts from the speech. BBC radio news described the speech as "a new and powerful warning to the Russians," and the BBC's Washington correspondent, Clive Small, said: "It was the most powerful speech of Mr. Carter's presidency" and was delivered with a new sense of authority.

The Italian press generally gave prominent front-page play to the annual message, printing most of the significant remarks without comment. One exception was the Communist Party organ l'Unita, which buried the message, printing only a few lines on inside pages.

Ayatollah Khomeini hospitalized

But he tells Iranians his condition 'not bad'

By The Associated Press

Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini, hospitalized in Tehran for heart trouble, spoke to the Iranian nation by radio today, told them his condition was "not bad," and called for a full and peaceful turnout at Friday's presidential election.

The broadcast by the revolutionary leader, who sounded frail and weak, appeared aimed at reassuring the public that he is not seriously ill and at heading off any panic in his troubled nation, political observers in the Iranian capital said.

All revolutionary committees throughout Iran have been placed on alert to guard against violence during Friday's voting. Anti-Khomeini factions have called for a boycott of the voting, as they did during the recent constitutional referendum, when political violence flared in several areas.

A crowd gathered today outside the hospital where the revered clergyman-revolutionary was being treated, and politicians and religious leaders were seen coming and going.

The events were reliably reported by Western journalists in the Iranian capital, where some 50 American hostages were spending their 82nd day of captivity at the U.S. Embassy.

The 79-year-old Shiite Moslem patriarch had been reported suffering from fatigue, and on Jan. 12 he went into seclusion for two weeks at his home in Qom, the Shiite holy city 100 miles south of Tehran.

Tehran Radio, monitored abroad, reported that his doctors decided Wednesday he required hospitalization for "some slight heart trouble," and he was admitted to a Tehran cardiology hospital at 1 a.m. today.

"His condition is satisfactory and there is no cause for worry," the ruling Revolutionary Council said in a statement.

It was announced that Khomeini would give a radio-television interview, but instead a recorded message was broadcast by the state radio.

"As far as my condition is concerned, I am—praise be to God—not bad," he said.

He called for a big turnout in the election, and said, "The people must protect the order and refrain from practices that may give the impression that we are not able to decide our fate or we are not abiding by rules of Islam."

"Once the president is elected, the people must back him."

There are eight official candidates in the presidential race, and Finance Minister Abolhassan Bani Sadr is regarded as the front-runner.

The government radio said the revolutionary committees were alerted because of reports that "mercenaries trained in Iraq have arrived in Iran to make trouble" during the election this weekend. Most of Iran's ethnic minorities have announced they would boycott the elections to show their opposition to Khomeini because of his refusal to grant them autonomous home rule.

The militants holding the U.S. Embassy since Nov. 4 blamed Khomeini's illness on pressure resulting from the disunity among Iranians and called on their countrymen to pray for his health. The ethnic minorities, many of them Sunni Moslems, began battling Khomeini's regime for more autonomy.

Afghan president thanks Soviets for their 'help'

By The Associated Press

Afghan President Babrak Karmal expressed "deep gratitude" for the Soviet Union's military aid, saying it "made it possible to frustrate the sinister plans of the American imperialists and the Peking hegemonists."

Karmal, installed in a Kremlin-backed coup Dec. 27, told a news conference Wednesday in the Afghan capital of Kabul that he was grateful "for the timely material and moral assistance" provided by the Soviets, who have sent in an estimated 70,000-80,000 Russian troops since Christmas Day.

"Revolutionary order and legality were restored in the country within less than a month" of the Soviet intervention, the official Soviet news agency Tass quoted him as saying.

He claimed many of the anti-communist Moslem rebels, who have been fighting a succession of communist governments in Kabul for the past 20 months, have laid down their weapons.

Rebel sources in neighboring Pakistan insisted fighting was continuing between the Moslem insurgents and Soviet and Afghan troops. The claims could not be verified.

PBPA raps tax compromise

By JOE SALMAN
Oil Editor

"It's a shame that $60 billion will be going into the sticky, wasteful federal hands and not to the petroleum industry for all-out exploration and production."

That is the viewpoint of A. W. Dillard, president of the Permian Basin Petroleum Association, on the compromise plan on "windfall profits" legislation approved Tuesday by the House-Senate Conference Committee.

Dillard, who is in his second term at the head of the 1,500-member independent operator association, said the profits bill, as approved by the committee, is not as bad as it could have been but nevertheless is not in the best interest of the industry, the Permian Basin or the nation.

"It only prolongs complex price controls on domestic crude oil and deprives the oil and gas industry of needed capital to finance increased exploration and development that was expected to follow decontrolled oil."

Dillard, in a news conference Wednesday afternoon, predicted the House-Senate Conference Committee version would pass the House and the Senate under a full vote.

While some exploration and development programs may be deferred as a result of passage of the excise profits bill, Dillard does not expect the bill will have any negative impact on the present high level of prosperity and activity in the Permian Basin.

Dillard said he believes the bill will provide some extra capital, and activity should remain high throughout the Permian Basin as oil producers plow back increased profits into exploratory and development drilling programs and into new secondary recovery projects.

"But it is a shame that $60 billion in capital will be going into the sticky, wasteful federal hands and not to the industry for an all-out exploration-production drive to make America energy independent of foreign black-mail," he said. "The money will go to old programs not related to the oil industry that have proved inefficient and to some new ones that are sure to be started."

Dillard called the real beneficiaries of the bill the thousands of new lawyers and accountants that will be needed to interpret the pricing and taxing complexities of the bill. "It is too bad that we got the 'Lawyers and Accountants Relief and Retirement Act of 1980' in lieu of a viable energy policy for the U.S.," he added.

Under the proposals of the bill, tiers 1 and 2, which formerly were old oil and new oil, will be taxed at 70 percent (for sales above a set base), while new oil, which formerly was new, new oil, tertiary and heavy crude, will be taxed at 30 percent, Dillard explained.

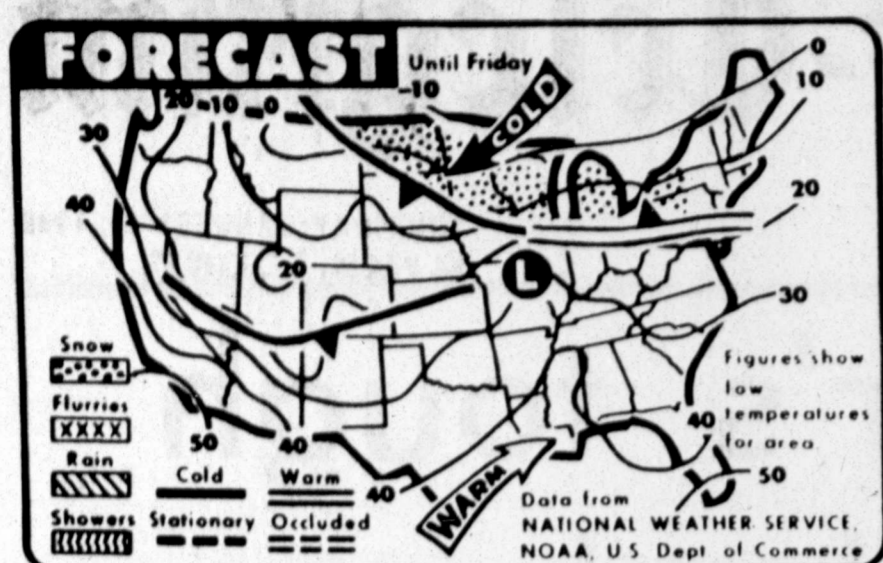

"Independents would receive a slight break in that the first 1,000 barrels of oil per day of production from tiers 1 and 2 would be taxed at 50 percent rather than 70 percent, and stripper oil from wells making less than 10 barrels of oil per day would be taxed at 30 percent," Dillard said.

He added that independents would pay an estimated $22.5 billion in taxes to the government, with major oil companies paying $27.5 billion.

"The Permian Basin Petroleum Association will make every effort to get the bill defeated in both the House and the Senate but right now it looks as if the bill will get through," Dillard said.

The tax base price, according to the compromise will be $13 per barrel for tiers 1 and 2, and $16.55 for new, tertiary and heavy oil.

County Commissioner plans to make bid for re-election

Incumbent Midland County Commissioner Jack Leonard has announced he will be a Democratic candidate for re-election this year.

Leonard, who filed Tuesday, is completing his first term as commissioner of Precinct 3, having been elected in November 1976.

"As county commissioner this term, I made every effort to be available to the people of my precinct and to meet their needs whenever possible," Leonard said in making his announcement.

Saying he has been labeled conservative in his views, Leonard noted that "partisan politics is not of much interest to me. I am interested in what Midland and the people of Midland need and want."

"I would like to take this opportunity to express my sincere thanks for the support you have shown me these past three years as well as for your future support."

The 56-year-old commissioner added that "through a common sense attitude I will be a man of the people and for the people."

A native of Mena, Ark., Leonard

Jack Leonard has lived most of his life in Midland. He was a farmer and rancher prior to his election to the county commissioners and still maintains farming and ranching interests.

Midland businessman plans to seek Place 4 on council

Steve Davidson, 31, announced today his intention to file for Place 4 on the Midland City Council.

That position is held by G. Thane Akins who announced last week he will run for mayor.

Ronnie D. Lynch has formally announced his candidacy for Place 4. Woodrow Bailey has unofficially said he is considering seeking the post.

Davidson, a Midland businessman and civic leader, is engaged in oil and gas investments. A lifelong resident of the Tall City, he serves as president of the Midland Jaycees. He is active in the Leadership Midland program, is a member of Objectives for Midland local government task force and has participated in numerous community and charitable activities.

In announcing his candidacy, Davidson said, "Midland has experienced tremendous growth over the last seven years. With this growth has come the need for new leadership that will accept the challenges Midland faces in the Eighties."

Members of Davidson's steering committee are Larry Hunnicutt, Bunnie Kent, Gary Burnett, Bill Sanders, Harriet Herd, Craig Campbell, Gary Reynolds, Sam Conner, Guy Hall, Al Dillard, Paula Cahoon, Ken Griffin, Bill Orloff, Alan Hale, Ann Bradford, Robin Donnelly, Dean Robinson, Pete Eastup and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond C. Doss.

The Rev. Steve A. Edwards, above, was honored by the Midland Jaycees Wednesday evening as the "Outstanding Young Man" of the community for 1979. With Edwards at the time of the presentation were his wife, Janet, and Midland Jaycees President Steve Davidson. Speaker for the evening at the Petroleum Club was noted Austin minister Dr. Gerald E. Mann, right.

Rev. Edwards named 'Outstanding Young Man'

By BILL MODISETT Staff Writer

A 35-year-old Midland minister, the Rev. Steve A. Edwards, was named Midland's "Outstanding Young Man" of 1979 Wednesday evening during the Midland Jaycees' 23rd annual Distinguished Service Award and Bosses Night Banquet.

Edwards, senior minister of Midland's First Christian Church, was cited for his outstanding church and civic activities during the past year in Midland.

Presentation of the award was made by the 1978 DSA recipient,

Larry J. Bell, who detailed Edwards' many contributions to Midland. The minister has served on the boards of Big Brothers, Big Sisters; Midland Memorial Hospital Advisory Committee; has been chairman of the Senior Services Board and the Education and Public Meetings Committee; and has coached in YMCA programs.

He attended Texas Christian University on an athletic scholarship and received his bachelor's degree in business administration there. Edwards earned his master of divinity degree from Christian Theological Seminary and has done graduate work at Butler University.

He and his wife, Janet, and two children, Dawn and Shannon, reside at 1609 W. Tennessee Ave.

Noting that "service to humanity is the best work of life," the Midland Jaycees each year coordinate the selection of Midland's outstanding young man. The judging committee consists of seven civic, religious and business leaders from the Midland community.

The Distinguished Service Award is presented to only one young man each year in recognition of his contributions to his community and profession. The coveted award is symbolic of the contributions of all young men to the ideal of service, according to the banquet program.

The 1979 selection committee consisted of Bell, Bob Sutherland, Joe Gifford, Mickey Cappadonna, County Judge Bill Ahders, David Howard and the Rev. Sam B. Hulsey.

During the banquet, Tom Welch of the Midland certified public accounting firm of Main, Hurdman & Cranston was named "Boss of the Year" for 1979. The presentation is made annually to a Jaycee employer who has given meritorious service to his family, church, community and nation, the program stated.

In a special presentation, Jaycee Senatorships were awarded to C.H. Brockert, Martin Allday, William P. "Bill" Franklin, Bill Malone and W.H. "Bill" Collyns.

Jaycee Senatorships are awards presented at the discretion of the local chapter, according to Midland Jaycee President Steve Davidson.

Paris woman's death during abortion probed

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas County Medical Examiners office has withheld a ruling in the death of a woman who died about two hours after she was stricken with an apparent heart attack while undergoing an abortion.

Vanessa Preston, 22, of Paris, Midland man arrested for bank fraud

A 26-year-old Midland resident was arrested by the FBI Wednesday afternoon and was in the city of Midland jail this morning on charges of bank fraud and embezzlement.

According to Midland FBI Agent Tom Farris, $9,945.51 was removed from Midland National Bank between March and June of 1978. The bank employee allegedly issued or caused to be issued four cashiers checks and one money order and then diverted them for his personal use, "and neglected to pay the bank for them," Farris said.

Auditing procedures at the bank discovered the missing funds in July 1978.

The Midlander was arrested in Odessa.

Maximum penalty for this offense is five years or $5,000 or both for each of the five counts, Farris said.

Texas, died about 2 p.m. Tuesday at Parkland Hospital after she was taken there from Fairmount Center, an abortion clinic.

Dr. Curtis Boyd, medical director at the abortion clinic, said the woman came to the center Tuesday morning, accompanied by her husband and a child and asked for an abortion.

"When cardiac arrest occurred, we acted promptly, and we were in fact successful in resuscitating her so that she began to breathe and regained a normal blood pressure," Dr. Boyd said. He said the woman was then taken in an ambulance to the hospital.

Dr. Boyd, who said he has provided abortions for 50,000 women since 1973, said it was the first death at the clinic.

"This is the first death to one of our patients. It is tragic for her and her family, and it is sad for us," he said.

"We know that abortion deaths have occurred in the past, and they will occur in the future. In this medical procedure, as well as in other medical areas, that potential exists. We regret it when it occurs, and while the risk is small, we're doing all we can to make it even smaller," Dr. Boyd said.

A spokesman at the medical examiners office said Wednesday it could take as long as six weeks for tests to be completed enough to give an official ruling in the death.

Doctor says rape victim died during alleged Bundy assault

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — A 12-year-old girl prosecutors say was kidnapped and killed by Theodore Bundy probably met her death in an abandoned hog shed during sexual intercourse, a medical examiner has testified.

Kimberly Leach of Lake City died from a neck wound of undetermined origin, Dr. Peter Lipkovic told a Circuit Court jury Wednesday as he projected color slides showing the girl's partially decomposed body and the rural site where it was found two years ago.

The doctor said the cause of death was "homicidal violence to the neck region, type undetermined."

The jury was out of the room when he told the judge and lawyers the body's unnatural position "indicates that at the time when death occurred ... most probably sexual intercourse was going on."

Lipkovic told the jury he believed the youngster was killed the day she was kidnapped from Lake City Junior High School in February 1978. Her body was found April 7.

Bundy, 33, already is sentenced to death for the slaying of two sorority women at Florida State University.

They were killed as they slept, about three weeks before Miss Leach.

Judge Wallace Jopling prohibited Lipkovic from telling the jury about possible intercourse or about injuries to parts of the girl's body other than her neck. However, defense lawyer Victor Africano referred to semen stains on the girl's clothing found at the scene.

Bundy also has been charged with the death of a Michigan nurse in Colorado. He was convicted of trying to kidnap a young woman in Utah.

Prosecution witnesses have identified Bundy as the man in a white van who took the girl from her school. The defense contends the identifications are faulty.

Police probing two robberies

Two aggravated robberies, one this morning and one Wednesday, are keeping police busy.

At 7:02 a.m. today, police were told a white male had broken into an apartment at 2100 Wadley, pointed a gun at a woman and stolen her purse.

Other details were unavailable this morning.

At 8:39 p.m. Wednesday, Joe A. Castelleo brought his father, Teodoro C. Castelleo of 705 E. Indiana, into the Police Department. According to Joe Castelleo, who interpreted for his father, Teodoro Castelleo had been beaten and robbed at the Texas Street Bar, 800 E. Texas St.

Taken, according to reports, was a billfold and $320 in cash.

Property stolen

Police are investigating the reported theft of $895 worth of property from a house belonging to Russ Mabry.

Mabry told officers that the theft occurred between Jan. 12 and Jan. 14. Mabry said he had been out of town and that his house at 2111 W. Kentucky Ave. had been rented for approximately four months.

When Mabry returned Jan. 19, he discovered a king-sized bed, four cameras, a fire place set, water cooler, rocking chair, recliner seat and an assortment of tools missing, reports said.

The items were locked in a supply room.

Sakharov defies Kremlin, asks sportsmen support boycott

MOSCOW (AP) — Andrei Sakharov today defied the Kremlin's attempt to gag him by asking "sportsmen and lovers of sports" to demand the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan. It was seen as an effort to win support for a boycott of the Moscow Olympics.

Dissident sources said Sakharov telephoned Maria Podyapolskaya, a friend in Moscow, from his banishment in Gorky to expand on a declaration condemning the Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan.

The original declaration, signed by Sakharov and several other Soviet dissidents earlier this week, was addressed to the Soviet and world public, workers, businessmen and religious believers. In his phone call today, the sources said Sakharov asked that "sportsmen and lovers of sport" be added.

In his first message from exile on Wednesday, Sakharov said, "Everything all right." But the government accused the leader in the fight for human rights in the Soviet Union of spilling state secrets to Westerners.

Relatives of the 58-year-old nuclear physicist and his wife received two telegrams Wednesday from Gorky, the industrial city 250 miles east of Moscow to which he was banished on Tuesday.

"Everything all right. Warm but cold on the street. Just unfamiliar. Feel well," said one message. The other said, "Frost, sun, taking walks."

The relatives said they believed the messages were authentic because they were signed "Lyusya," Mrs. Sakharov's nickname.

Sakharov, one of the developers of the Soviet hydrogen bomb and the winner of the 1955 Nobel Peace Prize because of his fight for human rights, had escaped arrest for more than 13 years of dissident activity. But on Tuesday he was taken into custody, stripped of his official honors and exiled from Moscow to the Volga River city of Gorky, which is off limits to foreign reporters.

Sakharov's wife, Yelena, was allowed to accompany him. The Danish Communist Party newspaper's Moscow correspondent reported that Sakharov was given a choice between deportation to Vienna and the West or exile within the Soviet Union. He chose Gorky because he felt he was "needed in the Soviet Union and not in the West," the paper said.

The government newspaper Izvestia charged that Sakharov "stepped onto the path of direct betrayal of the interests of our motherland." It said he "blurted out things that any government guards as an important secret" and was used "as a channel for intelligence services of imperialist powers to worm out important state secrets of the Soviet Union."

"It became impossible to tolerate further sabotage by the renegade and apostate," said the commentary.

Izvestia's charges raised the possibility that Sakharov would be brought to trial and sentenced to prison, as Anatoly Shecharansky was two years ago, or expelled from the Soviet Union as writer Alexander Solzhenitsyn was.

Although Sakharov had for years freely attacked the Soviet government in interviews with Western reporters, Soviet officials speculated privately that the government finally took action to muzzle him because of an American TV interview with him last week.

In the interview he called for the withdrawal of Soviet troops from Afghanistan, expressed sympathy for a boycott of the Summer Olympics in Moscow because of the intervention in Afghanistan and said he supported the U.S. economic sanctions ordered by President Carter in retaliation for the action in Afghanistan.

The officials said such a public stand in support of the U.S. government at this time was too much for the Soviet leadership.

Foreign criticism of the punishment of Sakharov mounted, and the Italian, French and Spanish Communist parties joined in.

"These measures are a violation of human rights and of democratic liberties," said the Spanish party.

The French party said "the measures taken against Sakharov can only lead to our disapprobation."

The Italian party said the Soviet action "emphasizes the rigidity of a mechanism of political and civil relations based on a monolithic view of society and which considers pathologic and irretrievable everything that is different."

In Washington, a White House statement said Sakharov's punishment was "a blow to the aspirations of all mankind to establish respect for human rights" and "a scar on their system that the Soviet leaders cannot erase by hurling abuse at him and seeking to mask the truth."

Stepchildren fear for parents

NEWTON, Mass. (AP) — The stepchildren of detained Soviet scientist Andrei D. Sakharov say they fear for their father's life because of his heart condition and for their mother's damaged eyesight.

"We fear for his diseased heart and vessels," they said in a statement, following reports Wednesday that the dissident scientist and his wife, Elena Georgievna, were exiled Tuesday to the city of Gorky.

"We fear that his wife, a disabled World War II veteran, will lose the rest of her eyesight, having no access to her medication which is available only from abroad."

The statement was read to The Associated Press by Tatyana Yankelevich, Sakharov's stepdaughter, on behalf of her husband, Efram, and her brother, Alexey Samenov.

"We are quite doubtful they are in Gorky," Mrs. Yankelevich said. "There is no news coming from them. There are some people in Gorky and Gorky is not that far away."

The city, off-limits to foreigners, is 250 miles east of Moscow.

"We appeal to all who are not indifferent," the statement said, "to demand information about him from Soviet authorities, to insist on a personal visit or a telephone conversation with him.... This is the only guarantee of his safety."

Slander verdict reversed

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals Wednesday reversed, on technical grounds, a $45,000 slander verdict against the atheist leader Madalyn Murray O'Hair.

The decision returns the case to an Austin district court for a new trial. This ruling, however, may be appealed to the Texas Supreme Court.

A former employee of Ms. O'Hair's American Atheist Center here, Susan Strobel, had won the verdict in a district court jury trial.

Ms. Strobel contended Ms. O'Hair and her Society of Separationists Inc. had slandered her when Ms. O'Hair filed a police complaint alleging Ms. Strobel had stolen two computer tapes from offices of the society.

The appeals court threw out the $45,000 verdict for Ms. Strobel, however, because State District Judge Hume Cofer both heard and dismissed Ms. O'Hair's motion that he remove himself from the trial.

New Zealand expels ambassador

WELLINGTON, New Zealand (AP) — New Zealand's government announced the expulsion of Soviet Ambassador Vsevolod Sofinsky Thursday for paying Soviet government funds to a small pro-Moscow political party.

Prime Minister Robert Muldoon said in a press statement that Sofinsky was declared persona non grata and ordered to leave the country immediately.

Muldoon said the ambassador was personally involved in the transmission of money from the Soviet government to the Socialist Unity Party, which is led by prominent trade unionists.

The prime minister told a news conference the expulsion order had no connection with the Soviet military intervention in Afghanistan.

"There is no doubt the Socialist Unity Party has been financed by the Soviet government for some time," Muldoon said.

He refused to reveal how much money the ambassador was alleged to have paid the party but said it was "substantial."

WT dog show set Saturday

ODESSA — The West Texas Kennel Club annual winter all-breed dog show scheduled Saturday in the Ector County Coliseum has attracted 851 entries, including 153 champion dogs.

The show, which is free to the public, will run from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. with judging beginning at 8:30 a.m.

The entries represent 109 different breeds, ranging in size from tiny chihuahuas, miniature pinschers and Yorkshire terriers to giant Irish wolfhounds, great danes and Newfoundlanders. Rare breeds entered include Ibizan hound, pharaoh hound and Tibetan terrier.

Judging will begin with 26 doberman pinschers, 29 great danes, a rottweiler, 15 black cocker spaniels, a lakeland terrier, a pointer and six obedience dogs. Judging times for other breeds can be obtained by calling 684-7959.

Dogs compete in two basic categories, conformation and obedience.

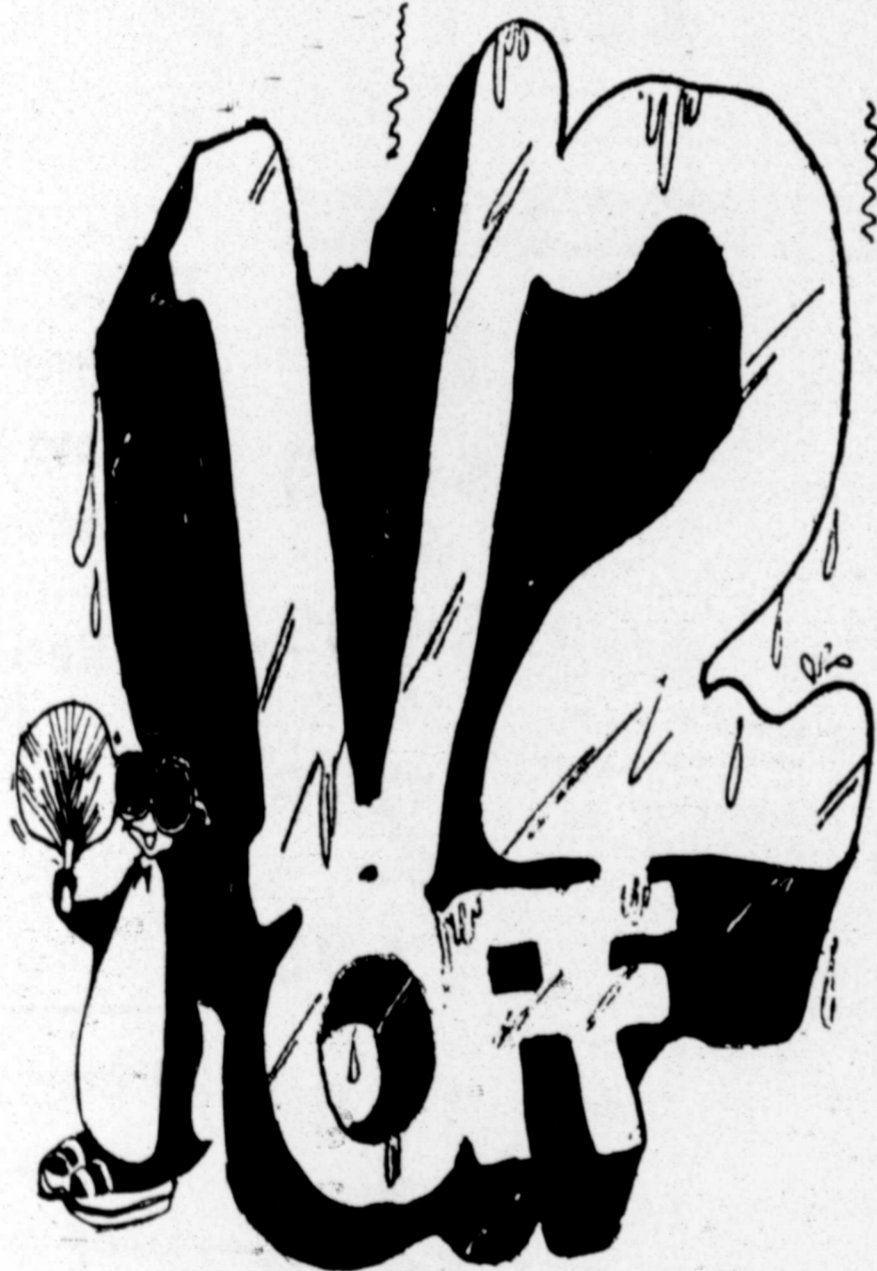

The 826 dogs in the conformation category will be judged against a verbal description of the ideal dog of that breed, known as a breed standard.

The 33 dogs in the obedience contest will be required to perform exercises such as heeling, sitting, jumping hurdles and retrieving.

Fourteen junior showmanship entries, young people who will be judged on their handling abilities, also are entered.

Judges for the show are Vance Evans of New Orleans, La., Joseph Gregory of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. Heywood Hartley of West Palm Beach, Fla., Ralph Morrison of Denton and Dorothy Nickles and Ginger Pugh, both of Fort Worth.

West Texas Kennel Club is composed of members from Midland, Odessa, Crane, Andrews, Fort Worth and San Antonio. The club holds its all-breed shows every January and July and has monthly meetings every third Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Region 18 Education Service Center at Midland Regional Airport.

President threatens import fees

By R. GREGORY NOKES

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Carter has set a firm ceiling on 1980 oil imports of 8.2 million barrels a day, the same as last year, and says he will enforce it with import fees if necessary.

posing a fee of $5 on each barrel of imported oil, although Carter didn't mention an amount in his address.

The 1980 import ceiling is well below the self-imposed limit of 8.5 million barrels a day Carter had already pledged will never be exceeded.

In his address, Carter also said the 1980s should be used "to attack the basic structural problems in our economy, through measures to increase productivity, savings and investment."

He said he will continue efforts to reduce the budget deficit and attain a balanced budget, although he didn't set a deadline.

The 1981 budget he will send to Congress Monday is expected to propose spending $615 billion, with a deficit of $15 billion for the fiscal year beginning Oct. 1.

Carter said rising oil prices are the biggest single cause of the increase in inflation — up from 4.8 percent in 1976, the year before he took office, to 13 percent last year.

He told Congress that Americans are making progress in conserving energy because oil consumption was down 8 percent last year and gasoline use dropped 5 percent.

"As individuals and as families, few of us can produce energy by ourselves," he said. "But we can conserve energy — every one of us, every day of our lives."

Mapco schedules deep test in Terry; other wildcats set

Mapco Production Co. of Tulsa, Okla., filed application to drill the No. 1-8 Askew as a 12,000-foot wildcat in Terry County, 2.75 miles northwest of production in the Corrigan, East (Fusselman) field, 3.75 miles north of Estoril Producing Corp. No. 1 Sleeper, scheduled 11,800-foot wildcat drilling below 11,604 feet on last report.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of section 8, block M, TTRR survey, five miles southeast of Brownfield. Ground elevation is 3,204 feet.

CROSBY WILDCATS J.C. Stelzer of Post has spotted location for two 4,500-foot wildcats in Crosby County, outside of production in a southeast extension area of the South Ridge (Clear Fork) field, 14 miles south of Ralls.

The No. 2 Clark Wood is located 4,138 from south and 467 from east lines of section 6, block 2, K. Aycock survey. Ground elevation is 2,798.5 feet.

The No. 3 Clark Wood is scheduled 1,800 from south and 467 from east lines of section 6, block 2, K. Aycock survey.

YOAKUM EXPLORER

Samedan Oil Corp. of Midland will drill the No. 1 Union as a 5,300-foot wildcat in Yoakum County, 7/8 mile south of a 5,385-foot failure, one and one-eighth mile northwest of Wolfcamp production in the Nannie May field, two miles west of production in the Sable (San Andres) field.

Wellsite is 467 from south and east lines of section 282, block D, John H. Gibson survey, seven miles northwest of Plains. Ground elevation is 3,740 feet.

FISHER DISCOVERY FINALS

W.B. Trammell of Houston finalized the No. 1 W.B. Trammell Fee as a Canyon sand discovery and suggested field designation of Judy Gail, East, five miles northwest of Hamlin.

On 24-hour pumping potential, it made 94 barrels of 40.5-gravity oil and no water, through perforations from 4,469 to 4,507 feet.

The producing zone was acidized with 1,000 gallons and fractured with 30,500 gallons. Gas-liquid ratio is 171-1.

Total depth was reached at 4,605 feet, with 4.5-inch casing landed on bottom.

Operator picked the following tops on ground elevation of 1,773 feet; Noodle Creek, 2,810 feet; Cisco, 3,080 feet and Canyon, 4,452 feet.

Location is 2,310 from south and 330 from west lines of section 184, block 1, BBB&C survey.

UPTON PRODUCER

Ridge Oil Co. of Breckenridge announced plans to drill the No. 1 Dottie Thompson as a 3,700-foot wildcat, 5/8 mile southwest of the depleted Omar (Flippen) field of Fisher County, 1/2 mile west of a 3,652-foot failure.

Location spots 330 from north and 660 from east lines of section 78, Gillespie County School Land survey No. 319, 12 miles north of Sweetwater.

MCCULLOCH WILDCAT

Geomac Energy Corp. of Midland will drill the No. 1 Hopeful as a 2,000-foot gas wildcat in McCulloch County, one location south of its No. 1 Siler and 990 feet southeast of its No. 1 McNeeley, both scheduled wildcats, 5/8 mile north of a depleted Siler & Johnson field.

Wellsite is one mile north of Sait, 330 from north and 2,330 from east lines of Allison Ogden survey No. 14, abstract 1708.

IRION EXPLORER

Moran Exploration Inc. of Midland filed application to drill the No. 2-64 Rocker B, 7/8 mile east of Wolfcamp gas production in the Ela Sugg field of Irion County, 32 miles northeast of Big Lake.

Wellsite is 1,320 from north and east lines of section 64, block 14, H&TC survey. Contract depth is 8,100 feet.

NOLAN FIELD EXTENDED

Yates Petroleum Co. of Laredo finalized the No. 1 Ash as a location west extension to Canyon oil production in the JMM multipay field of Nolan County, 16 miles southwest of Maryneal.

On 24-hour flowing potential, it made 246 barrels of 47-gravity oil and no water, through a 12/64-inch choke and perforations from 5,785 to 6,145 feet.

The pay was washed with 4,000 gallons of mud acid and fractured with 40,000 gallons. Gas-oil ratio is 1,138-1.

Total depth is 6,225 feet, with 4.5-inch casing set on bottom.

The following tops were picked on kelly bushing elevation of 2,385 feet; Wolfcamp, 4,900 feet and Canyon sand, 5,770 feet.

Location is 1,400 from south and 467 from east lines of section 7, block 1-A, H&TC survey.

TOM GREEN EXTENDER

Texcan Resources Corp. of Houston completed the No. 6 Johnson as the second Swastika producer and a location northeast extension to the Christoval, North (Swastika) field of Tom Green County, 4.5 miles northeast of Christoval.

Operator reported a pumping potential of 118.72 barrels of 35-gravity oil and 4.68 barrels of water.

Production is through perforations ranging from 3,371 to 3,375 feet, after being acidized with 100 gallons. Gas-oil ratio is 8.42-1.

Drilled to 3,393 feet, operator set 4.5-inch casing at that depth. Plugged back depth is 3,380 feet.

Location is 100 from southwest and 700 from southeast lines of J. Heinrich survey No. 537, abstract 335.

UPTON PRODUCER

A.G. Kasper of Midland finalized the No. 2-B Weir in the Amacker-Tippett, South multipay field of Upton County as the sixth Devonian oil producer and a one-mile southeast and 3/4-mile northeast extension to the pay.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing gauge of 39.8 barrels of 56-grvty oil and 21 barrels of water, through a 14/64-inch choke and perforations between 10,782 and 11,043 feet.

The producing zone was acidized with 5,000 gallons and fractured with 60,000 gallons. Gas-liquid ratio is 15-175-1.

Scheduled as a wildcat, it drilled to 11,420 feet, where 4.5-inch casing is set. Plugged back depth is 11,120 feet.

Location is 667 from north and 467 from east lines of section 14, block 2, MK&T survey, 9.6 miles northwest of Rankin.

IRION EXPLORER

Moran Exploration Inc. of Midland filed application to drill the No. 2-64 Rocker B, 7/8 mile east of Wolfcamp gas production in the Ela Sugg field of Irion County, 32 miles northeast of Big Lake.

Wellsite is 1,320 from north and east lines of section 64, block 14, H&TC survey. Contract depth is 8,100 feet.

NOLAN FIELD EXTENDED

Yates Petroleum Co. of Laredo finalized the No. 1 Ash as a location west extension to Canyon oil production in the JMM multipay field of Nolan County, 16 miles southwest of Maryneal.

On 24-hour flowing potential, it made 246 barrels of 47-gravity oil and

Dual Chaves gas discovery potentials

Boyd Operating Co. of Roswell, N.M., completed the No. 1 Blake-more-Federal as a dual Abo and Wolfcamp gas discovery in Chaves County, 2.5 miles southwest of an unnamed Wolfcamp gas discovery and three miles southwest of an unnamed Abo gas discovery, 22 miles northeast of Roswell.

From the Abo it finalized for a calculated absolute open flow of 978,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 4,198 to 4,344 feet.

From the Wolfcamp it finalized for a calculated absolute open flow of 568,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 5,334 to 5,380 feet.

Scheduled as a 6,000-foot wildcat, total depth is 5,700 feet, with 4.5-inch casing set at that depth.

Location is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 20-9S-26E.

EDDY DISCOVERIES FINAL

Mewbourne Oil Co. of Midland finalized the No. 1 Marathon State as a Wolfcamp gas discovery in the Avalon field of Eddy County, 3/4 mile northwest of Bone Springs production, one mile north of Morrow production, 26 miles southwest of Loco Hills.

Operator reported a calculated absolute open flow of 2,346,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations ranging from 7,986 to 8,006 feet.

Scheduled as a 10,800-foot test in the Avalon field, it drilled to 10,625 feet, with 4.5-inch casing set at 9,000 feet.

Location is 660 from north and 1,315 from east lines of section 30-20S-27E.

Tenneco Oil Co. completed the No. 1-HL State as an Atoka gas discovery in the Turkey Track (Morrow) field of Eddy County, 3/4 mile northeast of Morrow production in the Turkey Track field and three miles northeast of Atoka gas production in the Parkway, West field.

Operator reported a calculated absolute open flow of 4,836,000 cubic feet of gas daily, through Atoka perforations from 10,800 to 10,814 feet.

Drilled to 11,961 feet, 5.5-inch casing is set at 11,464 feet.

Location is 1,980 from south and 660 from west lines of section 1-19S-29E, nine miles southwest of Loco Hills.

Yates Petroleum Corp. of Artesia finalized the No. 1-KT Lucas Stone as an Abo oil discovery, a new pay for the Empire, East field of Eddy County, 2.5 miles northwest of Abo oil production in the Empire field, surrounded by Seven Rivers production.

Operator reported a 24-hour pumping potential of 54 barrels of 40-gravity oil and 40 barrels of water, through perforations from 6,610 to 6,658 feet. Gas-oil ratio is 1,241-1.

Total depth is 10,413 feet, with 5.5-inch casing set at 10,395 feet. Plugged back depth is 6,703 feet.

Location is 1,980 from north and east lines of section 22-17S-28E, 10 miles west of Loco Hills.

Mesa Petroleum Co. of Midland completed the No. 1 Peterson-Federal Communitized as an undesignated Morrow producer, one location north of Cisco and Morrow undesignated production, two miles northwest of Morrow gas production in the Logan Draw field of Eddy County.

Operator reported a calculated absolute open flow of 21,224,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through Morrow perforations from 9,033 to 9,100 feet, after an acid treatment of 100 gallons.

Drilled to 9,246 feet, 5.5-inch casing is set on bottom. Plugged back depth is 9,137 feet.

Location is 1,980 from north and east lines of section 20-17S-27E, 19 miles west of Loco Hills.

Mesa Petroleum Co. completed the No. 1 Fuller-Federal as an Atoka gas producer in the Diamond Mound field of Eddy County, 1/2 mile east of the same firm's No. 1 Sink-Federal, recently completed Grayburg discovery, one mile southwest of Atoka production in an unnamed area, 18 miles northwest of Loco Hills.

Operator reported a calculated absolute open flow of 227,000 cubic feet of gas per day, through perforations from 8,410 to 8,554 feet, which was acidized with 3,500 gallons.

Total depth is 8,890 feet, where 4.5-inch casing is set and plugged back depth is 8,621 feet.

Location is 1,980 from north and west lines of section 10-16S-27E.

LEA GAS WELL

Yates Petroleum Corp. of Artesia finalized the No. 1-L Barbee, 3/4 mile northwest of production in the Austin (Mississippian) field of Lea County, three miles southwest of McDonald.

Operator reported a 24-hour flowing gauge of 1,075,000 cubic feet of gas per day, plus four barrels of oil, through Mississippi production from 13,360 to 13,398 feet. Production was natural.

Drilled to 13,930 feet, 4.5-inch casing is set at 13,838 feet. Plugged back depth is 13,700 feet.

Location is 1,980 from north and east lines of section 18-14S-36E.

Automatic increase seen

Abu Dhabi, United Arab Emirates (AP) — Mana Saeed Oteiba, oil minister of this oil-rich Arab federation, declared today that oil prices will "increase automatically," by the middle of this year.

"The instability and imbalance in the oil market will exert great pressure on prices and this will force all oil producers, irrespective of whether they are members of the Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries or not, to raise their prices," Oteiba said in an interview with the newspaper Al-Fajr.

Basin areas get 124 more field projects, 32 wildcat sites

The Midland headquarters office of the Railroad Commission of Texas District 8 processed 49 applications for new oil and gas projects last week.

Forty-four of the tests were spotted in proven field areas, with Mitchell and Ward each gaining two wildcats. Another was staked in Howard.

Eight counties in District 7-C of the commission 48 new oil and gas tests, with Crockett County gained 28 of them. Operators throughout the Permian Basin of West Texas and southeast New Mexico filed applications requesting permission to drill 156 projects — 32 wildcats and 124 field operations.

Two of the projects scheduled in Crockett County are in wildcat country. Other 7-C wildcats include Iron 3, Runnels and Coke two each, and Schleicher, Terrell, Tom Green and McCulloch, one each.

DR. NEIL SOLOMON

Mumps often cause serious complications in both sexes

Dear Dr. Solomon: I know that mumps can cause serious complications in men. Does the same hold true in regard to women? — Nancy.

Dear Nancy: Mumps does not discriminate between the sexes. The disease can result in a variety of problems, including impaired hearing and inflammation of the brain. These complications can occur in women as well as men. While a number of people are aware that mumps sometimes causes inflammation of the testicles in men, there is less awareness that it can also cause inflammation of the ovaries in women.

Dear Dr. Solomon: Has any doctor ever received a heart transplant? — Mr. J.M.

Dear Mr. M.: Yes, a physician who is himself a surgeon has received a heart transplant. Dr. C. Thomas Bombeck, the 42-year-old head of the gastroenterological-surgical service at the University of Illinois, has become the first M.D. to get a new heart. He had previously experienced two heart attacks and a number of heart failures.

The operation apparently was a success. Dr. Bombeck is quoted by Medical World News as saying that he is able to do everything he could before the operation except that he doesn't do as much of it. He performs surgery, teaches and supervises a research program.

Dear Dr. Solomon: I have been visiting a critically ill relative who is in treatment at a hospital for cancer patients. I wonder how the people who work in that hospital are able to handle the kind of suffering they deal with every day without being personally affected by it. Do doctors and nurses develop some kind of immunity, or are they able to turn off their emotions? — Myra.

Dear Myra: I would suspect that doctors and nurses have the same range of emotions as any other segment of the population. The main difference may be that they try not to reveal their feelings.

Medical personnel are affected by their day-to-day activities and their constant confrontation with illnesses and death, and this does take its toll. In fact, it is not unusual for a physician to move from one specialty to another in an effort to reduce the pressure he is experiencing.

The M.D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute at Houston recognizes the problem. It now employs a psychologist to help its medical staff cope with their feelings about the cancer patients they deal with every day. His job is to help keep the doctors and nurses from "burning out."

Similarly, the National Cancer Institute requires physicians in training in its pediatric-oncology branch to attend weekly social-psychiatry seminars. This gives them an opportunity to ventilate and share their feelings about the stressful situation in which they work.

(If you have a medical problem, see your doctor. If you have a medical question, write to Neil Solomon, M.D., 1726 Reisterstown Road, Baltimore, Md. 21208. Dr. Solomon cannot give personal replies but will answer as many questions as possible in his column.)

SHEINWOLD ON BRIDGE

Variation of a Coup

By Alfred Sheinwold

In a coup invented more than 150 years ago in an English spa, a player with A-J-K would refuse to capture the lead of the king. Continuation of the suit would yield a trick to the jack.

Colonel Bill Roney, of Honolulu, shows in today's hand that the Bath Coup may be executed with lower cards and thousands of miles from England.

Roney took the ace of clubs, ruffed a club, drew trumps and led a diamond. East took the ace and returned a diamond. South took his last diamond and led hearts.

TAKES ACE

East took the king with the ace of hearts and returned the jack. This was a Bath Coup situation.

If declarer won with dummy's queen, he would later lose tricks to the ten and eight of hearts. Roney actually refused to take the queen.

If East led another heart, dummy's nine would win a trick. If East led any other suit, dummy would ruff while South got rid of a heart. Either way Roney was sure to make his contract.

Appeals court upholds eavesdropped evidence

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — A murder conviction appeal filed by a Fort Worth man arrested after a policeman eavesdropped on a phone call was rejected Wednesday by the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

The appeals court upheld the 25-year sentence given John Walter Berry in the June 1976 barroom slaying of Gerald Alexander. Alexander was gunned down as he apparently tried to leave the lounge.

Berry claimed Alexander had been having sexual relations with Berry's wife. The defendant was with a friend when he confronted Alexander in Mr. Magoo's Lounge.

Alexander refused to leave and Berry fired a shot over his head, according to testimony. Alexander ran behind the bar. When he headed for the door he was shot five times.

No witnesses said Alexander was armed.

Testimony also showed that before he fired, Berry asked his friend — a bail bondsman — if he would post the bond. Berry claimed self-defense. After the shooting he left the bar and later called back to talk with the bail bondsman. A police officer at the scene picked up an extension phone and listened without permission.

The officer testified he heard Berry say he meant to kill Alexander. The bail bondsman's account of the conversation was different.

The appeals court said the omitted testimony would not have helped Berry's case.

A dissent written by Judge Truman Roberts said testimony about the phone call should not have been admitted because the officer did not have permission to listen to the call.

Attackers beat amputee, steal his artificial legs

PUNTA GORDA, Fla. (AP) — A 19-year-old double amputee was beaten Wednesday morning and had to crawl a half-mile for help because his attackers had taken his artificial legs, authorities said.

Two men and a 17-year-old youth were being held at Charlotte County Jail on $50,000 bond each in the case.

Assistant state attorney Gene Berry called the attack "one of the most heinous crimes I've seen in a long time." Michael Morgan, from Cincinnati, was hospitalized at Lee County Memorial Hospital in fair condition.

Authorities said Morgan suffered ear and facial lacerations and was beaten with a tire iron before his attackers sped away in Morgan's car. They weren't sure if any of the lacerations were caused by a possible stabbing.

Morgan crawled to the home of Kenneth Gaskell, who administered first aid and called the sheriff's department.

The three young men were arrested 20 minutes later, police said, and Morgan's artificial legs were found in the car.

William Norton, 21, of Mobile, Ala., and Charles Bishop, 19, of Lavonia, Mich., were charged with aggravated battery and grand theft-auto. Berry said he would seek to have the 17-year-old, whose name was not disclosed, tried as an adult. The 17-year-old is from Ravenna, Ohio.

The motive for the attack wasn't known but authorities said Morgan told them he had been traveling with the three for several weeks.

Will U.S. athletes boycott 1980 Olympics?

By FRED ROTHENBERG
AP Sports Writer

It isn't easy for American amateur athletes today. Caught between sports and politics, they are torn between their dual identities as sportsmen and citizens.

If they boycott the Summer Olympics in Moscow, they're throwing away years of practice and dedication. If they don't, are they being unpatriotic? Either way, will the Russians be listening anyway?

ANDY TORO is one of the athletes in the middle of this brutal game of tug of war. He says he would support sending a U.S. Olympic team to Moscow. But "Being an athlete I would say yes. As a citizen I would probably say no," he said.

Darrell Pace, an archer who is a sergeant in the Air Force, faces a similar dilemma. "As an athlete I want to go but I have to wait and see what happens. I'm undecided. It depends on what the president wants since I'm a member of the military. I'm required to do what the president says."

Although Toro and Pace are undecided, many of their fellow sportsmen on the U.S. Olympic Committee's Athletes Advisory Council have made up their minds. Sentiment on this council, which is being polled as part of USOC deliberations on the question of boycotting the 1980 Games, is running strongly in favor of sending a U.S. team to Moscow, according to a check by The Associated Press.

AN AP telephone survey on Tuesday and Wednesday reached 32 of the 47 members of the council and found that most of them favored U.S. participation.

The AP asked the athletes the identical question being posed by the council's leadership:

"If the IOC refuses to move the Games from Moscow to an alternate site or multiple sites — or postpone or cancel the Games — and, if the Soviets do not withdraw from Afghanistan within a month, would you support the sending of a U.S. team to the Moscow Olympics?"

The AP responses were as follows:

—20 answered yes, they would be in favor of sending a team.

—6 responded no, they would not want a team sent.

—4 were undecided.

—2 refused comment because the council was conducting its own poll.

COUNCIL CHAIRMAN Ed Williams, who is conducting its poll, was one of the two.

According to its membership booklet, the council's purpose "is to broaden communications between the U.S. Olympic Committee and currently active athletes and to serve as a source of opinion and advice with regard to both current and contemplated policies of the USOC."

The council's views will be presented to a USOC executive committee meeting this weekend in Colorado Springs, Colo. The committee is to discuss President Carter's statement that the Summer Olympics should be cancelled, postponed or moved if the Soviet Union didn't pull out of Afghanistan within a month.

The overriding feeling of the members of the Athletes Advisory Council conflicts with the opinion of American citizens surveyed by an Associated Press-NBC News poll last week. That survey, taken before President Carter's statement, had 49 in favor of boycott, 41 percent against it and 10 percent of the 1,595 adults interviewed across the country undecided.

Carter, in his State of the Union address Wednesday night, repeated his opposition to the United States participating in the Games if Soviet troops remain in Afghanistan.

He declared: "I have notified the Olympic Committee that with Soviet invading forces in Afghanistan, neither the American people nor I will support sending an Olympic team to Moscow."

CARTER RECEIVED new international support for his position on Wednesday. Sources told the AP that Israeli Prime Minister Menachem Begin will support a boycott of the Moscow Olympics unless the Soviet Union withdraws from Afghanistan or the Games are moved.

Australia, Egypt and Fiji have also expressed willingness to go along with the United States.

But France and Mexico have said they are sending teams to the Olympics and most major countries are waiting to see what happens before committing themselves.

KANE PLEADED with the House committee to permit the USOC more time to work out a solution to the crisis. He said the USOC would be discussing every aspect of the problem this weekend at the Colorado meeting and that the IOC would give them a formal hearing in Lake Placid, N.Y., on Feb. 10.

Kane said the USOC does not have to act until May 19, the date when it must say if it will enter athletes in the Moscow Games.

Flyers finally overcome Chicago jinx for win

By The Associated Press

Chicago, Chicago has never been that wonderful town to the Philadelphia Flyers, but they feel a little better about the Windy City today.

In their 13 seasons in the National Hockey League, the Flyers have won only five times on Chicago ice. The fifth time came Wednesday night as Bill Barber picked up a goal and an assist to highlight a 4-1 victory.

With Philadelphia clinging to a 2-1 second-period lead, Barber blasted a 35-foot slap shot over netminder Tony Esposito's left shoulder for his 25th goal of the season. Less than five minutes later, Barber fed Bob Dailey for a breakaway goal.

Elsewhere, the streaking New York Islanders defeated the Detroit Red Wings 5-3, the Quebec Nordiques beat the Minnesota North Stars 6-4, the New York Rangers downed the Vancouver Canucks 6-4 and the Edmonton Oilers edged the Pittsburgh Penguins 4-3.

"I was darn lucky on my goal," Barber said, "because I wasn't expecting to have the faceoff won, and when the puck came to me I just let go and hoped it would be on net."

It was, and it couldn't have come at a better time.

"Chicago has been our nemesis for years," said Flyers Coach Pat Quinn. "They just seem to play better. But tonight we were fortunate in that second period to have Barber get his big goal because up to that point we had been outplayed and certainly outshot."

"In the end, it was Phil Myre who kept us in the game, and had it not been for his great goaltending it would have been a different story."

Islanders 5, Red Wings 3
Mike Bossy scored his 30th and 31st goals of the season to lead the Islanders to their sixth consecutive victory. It was the 11th straight game in which the 23-year-old right wing has scored at least one point and he has 11 goals in that span. New York's Wayne Merrick scored the only goal of the first period and the Islanders' Bob Nystrom and Detroit's Vaclav Nedomansky exchanged goals 15 seconds apart early in the second period. Bossy, who has 153 goals in 195 NHL games, sandwiched his goals around a power-play tally by Detroit's Dan Labraaten to give the Islanders a 4-2 advantage after two periods.

Nordiques 6, North Stars 4
Real Cloutier set up power-play goals by Pierre Lacroix and Robbie Ftorek in the second period and scored his 28th goal of the season in the third period to pace Quebec. The Nordiques trailed 2-1 when Michel Goulet tied the score on a breakaway at 12:41 of the second period. Ftorek, set up by Cloutier at the side of the net, put Quebec in front at 15:51 and goals by Richard Leduc and Cloutier early in the third period opened a 5-2 lead.

Rangers 6, Canucks 4
Ron Duguay scored two goals — giving him five in two games — and set up Frank Beaton's first NHL goal as the Rangers extended Vancouver's winless string to nine games. The Canucks fell behind 2-0 in the first 8:03 on goals by Ron Greschner and Duguay and never led, although they tied it 2-2 midway through the second period. However, Duguay, who scored three times against Los Angeles on Tuesday night, put the Rangers in front to stay at 17:11 of the middle period. Then he assisted on Beaton's goal at 4:40 of the final stanza for a 4-2 bulge. Phil Esposito scored a power-play goal at 14:36 of the final period and Eddie Johnstone added an unassisted tally at 17:48, giving the Rangers a 6-3 lead.

Oilers 4, Penguins 3
Wayne Gretzky tipped Brett Callighen's soft shot past Pittsburgh goalie Bob Holland with 19 seconds remaining for the winning goal. Callighen, who broke a 2-2 tie at 14:52 of the second period threaded a slow shot through some Pittsburgh defenders and Gretzky deflected the puck into the net from just outside the crease for his 26th goal of the season.

Joe Namath handles acting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The publicity sheet read:

"Former football superstar-turned-actor Joe Namath and acclaimed performers Judd Hirsch and Jack Albertson star in the riotous two-hour movie, 'Marriage is Alive and Well...'"

One supposes, when one watches Joe Willie Namath act, that Namath will forever be a "former football superstar-turned-actor." The "acclaimed performer" stuff is saved for the guys who waited on tables while waiting for the big break, guys who practiced Hamlet in dingy hotel rooms under the glare of naked light bulbs.

Joe Willie did his acting apprenticeship with an amusing troupe called the New York Jets. His "Boffo" performance came against the Baltimore Colts in Super Bowl III. His only memorable soliloquy came before the game, when he predicted his underdogs would beat the mighty Colts.

"I guarantee it," said Joe Willie.

He was outrageous and hip in a time when most jocks were flat-topped and low-profiled. He hung out in nightclubs... owned one, for awhile. He never did summer stock; he was Broadway Joe.

Somewhere along the way, Joe Willie Namath became a bona fide "personality," which qualified him to go on talk shows and make biker movies with Ann-Margret (remember the drive-in special, "C.C. & Co.?").

And being a personality, Joe Willie was assured of at least one chance at a TV series. So he came to Hollywood, retired from football after one season, and hit the air with "The Waverly Wonders" at NBC.

The series made "C.C. and Co." look classic. It vanished, mercifully, after a few painful weeks.

Now, a year later, here comes Joe Willie again, this time in an NBC TV comedy about marriage. You get the feeling that Namath didn't spend the intervening months in a dingy hotel room practicing "Hamlet."

"The acting is going well, I think," he says. "I'm going at it at a comfortable pace, and I think I'm growing.

"I know I could learn a lot more if I studied more, if I stayed up days and nights studying, but I'm also sure that would change my personality. And I don't want to do that. I'm very comfortable with the way things are."

Of the "Waverly Wonders" disaster, Namath says:

"Having gone through a whole lot of ups and downs in football, I was prepared for the show not to make it. So, when I was told that it was canceled, I didn't have that feeling of sickness in the pit of the stomach that you usually feel when you've been humiliated.

"I felt it later, but it was easier than other letdowns I've felt in my life. I wasn't totally satisfied with the job I did, but it was a great learning experience, a positive experience."

He cheerfully performs his promotion duties for "Marriage is Alive and Well" (which airs Friday on NBC), but next week, Namath will be back home in Fort Lauderdale, where, presumably, he won't be spending his days and nights studying the histrionic art.

Come to think of it, maybe "former football superstar-turned actor" isn't so bad.

Boston cage coach quits

BOSTON (AP) — Basketball Coach Paul Fitzpatrick of Boston State College has been replaced after allegations that he kicked an opposing team's player during a game in North Adams last Saturday.

Athletic Director Mary Barrett issued a statement that said Fitzpatrick "has resigned as head basketball coach and has been reassigned as a consultant to the athletic department for the remainder of the year."

Fitzpatrick, 30, compiled a 61-29 record during four years at Boston State.

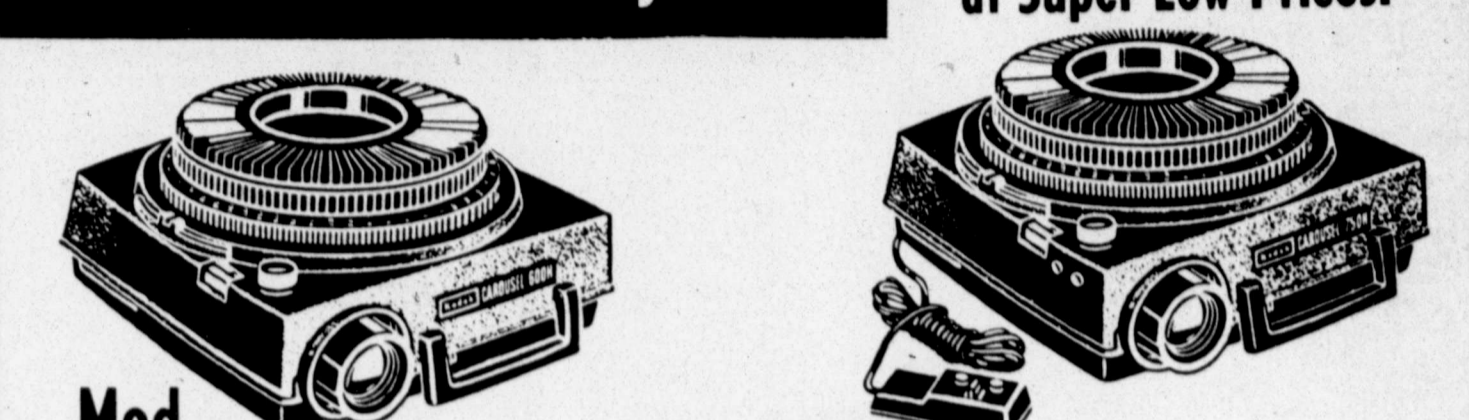

He was accused of attacking Peter Stopera, a North Adams State College player, as Stopera lay on the floor after fouling a Boston State player.

Fitzpatrick denied the accusation, saying he was trying to protect his player and himself.

Silas triggers San Antonio with 32 points

Who's that masked man riding shotgun for George Gervin? Why it's none other than Paul Silas. Oh, well, that's the way it goes when you play in the same backcourt with Gervin.

Silas popped in 32 points against Indiana but Gervin, the National Basketball Association's leading scorer, erupted for a season-high 55.

Elsewhere, the Philadelphia 76ers crushed the Denver Nuggets 118-93, the Boston Celtics flattened the Detroit Pistons 131-104, the Seattle SuperSonics edged the Atlanta Hawks 98-96, the Houston Rockets nipped the San Diego Clippers 111-110 in double overtime, the New York Knicks downed the Phoenix Suns 119-109, the Milwaukee Bucks shaded the Golden State Warriors 104-102 and the New Jersey Nets beat the Cleveland Cavaliers 117-103.

The Spurs, playing without their No. 2 scorer Larry Kenon, shot 59 percent in winning their third straight game. They had a 21-point lead whittled to eight early in the third period but John Shumate led a 19-6 burst that signaled an end to Indiana's four-game winning streak.

"They really had a great offensive night," raved Pacers Coach Bob Leonard. "They all really shot well. They can do that when they really get it going. Nobody in the league could have beaten them tonight. Gervin was simply amazing. When he gets it going he'll shoot the lights out on you. There's no one guy in the league that can handle him or his sidekick, Silas."

Henry Bibby came off the bench in the second quarter to spark a 34-13 burst that powered Philadelphia over Denver. The Nuggets, who trailed by 13 midway in the first quarter, took a 32-31 lead early in the second period but the 76ers ran off the next nine minutes and opened a 65-45 halftime advantage.

Rick Robey, starting his first game of the season because of an injury to Dave Cowens, scored 24 points and grabbed 19 rebounds as the Celtics remained one-half game behind Philadelphia in the Atlantic Division. After a 54-54 halftime standoff, Boston outscored the Pistons 29-10 in the first eight minutes of the third quarter behind Larry Bird's 10 points and eight by former Piston M.L. Carr. Both finished with 21.

Gus Williams capped a 35-point game with a 28-foot, three-point field goal with six seconds left as Seattle won its eighth game in a row and handed Atlanta its fifth consecutive setback. The Hawks' managed only five field goals in the final 18 1/2 minutes. It was Seattle's 15th triumph in their last 20 road games.

Rebuses Malone scored 31 points and grabbed 12 rebounds while Calvin Murphy hit for nine points in the two overtime periods. Murphy hit Houston's final two baskets of the second overtime shortly after Coach Del Harris was ejected with his second technical foul. Lloyd Free led the Clippers with 33 points.

NHL suit by fans with shoulder shrug

NEW YORK (AP) — A National Hockey League official says the filing of a $7 million damage complaint against the NHL, the Boston Bruins, nine of their players and a host of others is not expected to affect any prospective discipline of the players by the league itself.

"I don't believe anything the league does is admissible in court if the issue is whether someone attacked someone else," said Gil Stein, NHL vice president and legal counsel.

NHL President John Ziegler is expected to announce Friday the results of the league's investigation of the Dec. 23 incident during which Bruins players went into the Madison Square Garden stands to grapple with four fans after a 4-3 victory over the New York Rangers.

The spectators, claiming "severe mental and physical distress" and attacks "without provocation" by Boston players, filed their suit in District Court Tuesday. They held a news conference Wednesday, complete with press releases and biographical information on the complainants, evoking a strong reaction from Bruins President Paul Mooney — yet another of the 23 defendants.

"A suit of this nature is totally frivolous. The plaintiffs have sued everyone from the players to the president of the league.

"It is apparent to me the entire exercise is nothing more than a publicity stunt. Prior to today, I have never heard of a publicity release being handed out on legal stationery at a press conference announcing a suit.

"Unfortunately, any time an incident reaches such a proportion that a lawsuit is filed, we have to take it seriously. We have our legal staff handling the case as of this moment," the statement said.

San Diego, Calif. (AP) — A small correction in his swing has given Rik Massengale a new lease on his golfing life.

"I'm loving it," said Massengale, once one of the game's more promising young players but a stricken, struggling scrambler for 2 1/2 years.
