

Readers will note elsewhere on the front page a joint statement by the Garza County Commission, the court and hospital trustees which indicates a solution may be near on what folks here generally call "the hospital situation."

For the present, we believe The Dispatch's story contains all the essentials which can be reported. We have "had a go" at tracking down all the "persistent rumors" we hear. Right now, they all remain rumors.

The essential facts are that the court by law has the authority and responsibility to name hospital trustees and the hospital trustees by law have the authority and responsibility to run the hospital.

The public will have a clearer understanding of the reorganized court's thinking when the three essential trustee appointments are made Feb. 13. Until then, of course, the rumors will continue to fly thick and fast. But until the court acts, a wait and see attitude is the only sensible thing. That is, of course, unless you want to start your own rumor and see how far it can fly.

Folks are beginning to ask both J. B. Potts at the bank and we here at The Dispatch when the bank is "going to advertise for J. B. Potts." J. B. has the problem under study, and unless a nice wet front whips in within a few days it could come next week.

The Rev. Curtis Lee conducted a "brainstorming session" at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday on five permanent needs for Post. He got a lot of ideas—but more than that, he set a lot of Rotarians to thinking positively about Post's future. Postings wants to encourage Mr. Lee in his undertaking. We hope he follows up with the Rotary Club and leads the way to consolidating the best ideas into action. We would even encourage him to branch out further, if he has both time and inclination, and carry his "let's get on the ball for our hometown" campaign to other organizations which might enjoy having its members being given a civis shot in the arm via Mr. Lee's persuasive needle.

Mothers' March raises $663.97

More than 100 mothers "marched for dimes" here Monday evening and raised $663.97 to be used in the nationwide fight against polio and other crippling diseases and birth defects.

Mrs. Kay Pace, Mothers' March chairman, said some mail contributions are expected to swell the total raised here.

Assisting in the march besides the captain appointed by Mrs. Pace and their workers, were members of the Gamma Mu sorority and Boy Scout Troop 316, which conducted the march in the mill village.

The society members, besides helping out in the march, served coffee and cookies at a meeting in the Community Rooms following the march.

Annual event is next Thursday

Record banquet crowd hoped for by Chamber

The Chamber of Commerce is hopeful of having a record crowd of 300 for the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet here Thursday night at the converted bowling alley known as the All-Star Corral.

The "push" for the crowd is to have a big and enthusiastic turnout to hear Harry W. Clark, executive director of the Texas Industrial Commission, who will deliver the banquet address on how a Texas community should go about the job of attracting industry.

CLARK HAS ALL the credentials to qualify as an expert on the subject.

He is a nationally-known industrial developer who has devoted his considerable talents to industrial developing since 1938. He has headed the TIC since Jan. 1, 1962.

His background in the field included several capacities in Mississippi and North Carolina before coming to Texas where he has been affiliated with the Texas Power and Light Co. and the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. prior to taking up his present duties. He served as president of the Southern Industrial Development Council in 1954 and in 1957-58 as president of the American Industrial Development Council. In 1962, the American Industrial Development Council awarded him a "fellowship," one of the first three ever given to its members for outstanding distinctions in the industrial development field. Clark was the first in the South to receive this honor. In 1964, he served as president of the Southern Association of State Planning and Development Agencies.

CLARK WAS ONE of the founders of the Texas Industrial Development Council and in 1961 was chairman of the Dallas Area Industrial Development Association. Immediately prior to coming to Texas, he was vice president of the Fantus Area Research, Inc., a part of the Fantus organization which specialized in finding plant locations for industry.

In 1963, the Society of Industrial Realtors, through their Professional Trophy Award program, designated Texas as the "state with the most

Records show dry spell worst one in 58 years

Weather records here show that the last four and one-half months have been the driest in the 58 years that moisture records have been kept for Post.

Of course, this is not really news of farmers either here or over most of the South Plains area.

County Agent Syd Conner said today that since last Sept. 15, only 16 of an inch of moisture has been recorded on Post's official moisture gauge.

This included not even a trace for January or November, only 85 of an inch in December and 11 of an inch in an October shower.

The "driest on record" period covers the four months October through January.

The next driest occurred in the same four months in the fall of 1921 and the January of 1923. Post received no moisture for October, November and December, but received 42 of an inch in January.

has moisture eight to 12 inches down. A good rain or a good snow—the snow would be the best to get all the moisture in—is needed, Conner indicated, but that isn't really news either.

Probably the weather could be called "hot and dry" even though this is February and supposedly wintertime.

The temperature climbed to 92 (See Dry Spell, page 8)

POST COWBOY IN CALF ROPER LEAD

Jim Prather of Post was holding onto his lead yesterday in the calf roping event at the Fort Worth Stock Show Rodeo.

Prather set a time of 12.98 seconds in the event at Sunday's show and the mark was still standing through Tuesday night's performance.

In setting the fastest time Sunday, the Post roper finished ahead of Dean Oliver of Boise, Idaho, a world's champion in the event seven times who was third 14.92.

Mrs. Sanderson dies in Lubbock

Mrs. Leona Sanderson of Lubbock, mother of Arnold Sanderson of Post, died this morning (Thursday) in Methodist Hospital at Lubbock.

Funeral services will be held at 3 p. m. Friday in the Post Church of Christ with the minister, Kelly Newman, and Jimmy Woods of Plainview officiating. Interment will be Saturday in Itasca, where the body will be taken by Hudman Funeral Home.

Mrs. Sanderson, born Oct. 17, 1909, in Williamson County, had lived in Lubbock for 30 years. Her husband, Bruce Sanderson, preceded her in death in 1934.

Besides the son of Post, Mrs. Sanderson is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Gerald Bullock of Las Vegas, Nev.; four sisters, Mrs. Nora Willingham and Mrs. Bernice Roberts, both of Post, Mrs. C. W. Hoskins of Lamesa and Mrs. Birdie Mae Hood of Lubbock; five grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Three 4-Hers take steers to El Paso

Three Garza County 4-Hers left today with their Hereford steers for the Southwestern International Livestock Show in El Paso.

They were Lindy and Cindy Bird, and John Johnson. Accompanying them were their fathers, Jim Bird and Wagoner Johnson, and County Agent Syd Conner. They will be gone 10 days, returning here Feb. 11.

Post's 'industry hunter' to begin duties March 1

M. L. McFarlin, industrial coordinator of the Oklahoma State Department of Commerce and Industry, will be the "industry hunter" for the new Post Industrial Foundation.

He will come here from Oklahoma City to take over his new duties March 1.

Bryan J. Williams, chairman of the board of directors of the Post Industrial Foundation, announced McFarlin's appointment.

HE WILL become the executive vice president of the foundation at a salary of $12,000 a year.

McFarlin is 58 years old and has had 16 years experience in chamber of commerce work and industrial development.

He was interviewed by the directors of the foundation two weeks ago and accepted the position the next day with the agreement that his appointment would not be announced until Feb. 1.

Selection of McFarlin ends a four-month search by the foundation directors for an executive vice president who will head up this community's search for industry.

Williams notified all foundation members last weekend of McFarlin's selection.

Williams said McFarlin plans to buy a home here for he and his wife. The board chairman said directors voted unanimously.

Directors of the foundation have been working closely with the Texas Industrial Commission in its search for an executive vice president or director.

THE FOUNDATION has raised $80,000 to be paid in over the next five years, basically at a $200 per year rate for a $1,000 membership.

Williams asked all foundation members to pay their first installment on their foundation pledges or notes by Feb. 15. Note payments or deposits are to be made to J. B. Potts, bank president and board member.

The industrial foundation to date has spent $437.45 for the expenses of candidates brought here for interviews, for postage, printing and miscellaneous supplies.

E. (Fay) Claborn and County Attorney Preston Poole to the board of directors.

Meetings will be held the first Thursday night of each month, with the first group activity to be a ride at 2 p. m. Sunday, Feb. 5, at the Post Stampede rodeo arena.

The new sheriff's posse will be the first organized riding group of any kind to represent Garza County in over 10 years.

Last rites for Mrs. Lee Fredrickson, 61, of Southland, who died at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday last week at Reese Air Force Base hospital, were conducted at 10 a. m. Saturday in Houston, where the body was taken by Mason Funeral Home.

Mrs. Fredrickson, whose husband died in 1932, had been a resident of Southland for about four years. Her husband was a career member of the U. S. Air Force, and she was a former employe of Tinker Air Force Base, Oklahoma City, Okla.

Mrs. Fredrickson had been ill since May of 1966 and was in the RAFB hospital for 18 days preceding her death.

She was a member of the Baptist church and the Order of Eastern Star at Slaton.

Solution to hospital problem appears near

The Garza County Commissioners Court and the hospital trustees of Garza Memorial Hospital held a special joint meeting Monday morning which came a joint resolution which declared the two boards "feel the hospital problem is on the verge of a solution for the entire population."

The resolution said that neither the hospital trustees nor the commissioners court have any intentions of closing the hospital "as long as there is a possibility of solution."

The resolution in full, which was unanimously approved by both the hospital trustees and the commissioners court, is as follows:

"In answer to the persistent rumors, we, the hospital board of Garza Memorial Hospital and Commissioners Court of Garza County, feel the hospital problem is on the verge of a solution for the entire population.

"Therefore, we have no intention of closing the hospital as long as there is a possibility of a solution."

The court and hospital trustees have met together several times in recent weeks to discuss the problem.

Tools taken from oil rig found

Several hundred dollars worth of oil field tools reported stolen Saturday night from a rig south of Post were found Monday night near Fluvanna, Garza County Sheriff L. E. (Fay) Claborn said.

The rig was stripped of hand tools, elevators and slips, and an air compressor and batteries were also stolen from a truck parked at the rig, the sheriff said.

Everything except the air compressor was found by Scurry County officers stashed in a crevice near Fluvanna, Claborn said.

The rig from which the tools were stolen is owned by S. T. Rains of Snyder and is located at an Humble Oil & Refining Co. project on a Slaughter lease.

Sheriff Claborn said today that officers are continuing their investigation of the theft.

Solution to hospital problem appears near

Upcoming on Monday, Feb. 13, the court at its February meeting will appoint three members of the hospital trustees for two-year terms.

Present board members whose terms expire are Giles McCrary, present chairman of the hospital board, Mrs. David Newby, and Sexton Huntley.

The court has been discussing these appointments since their January meeting, Jan. 9, when two new county commissioners, Ted Aten and Herbert Walls, came onto the county court.

Book purchases authorized

Head librarian named at meeting of board

The Post Public Library board at its February meeting last Thursday night in the city council room named Mrs. Rosemary Chapman as head librarian to serve as the board's liaison with the Friends organization and authorized the Friends' new acquisition committee to purchase $1,000 worth of new library books from the city library appropriation.

In other actions, the board REQUESTED THE city council to obtain cost estimates on the remodeling of the small room just east of the main library room and to include it in city building remodeling plans as soon as possible.

Instructed the Friends' organization to turn over all library fine money to the city quarterly to be put into the city's general fund, according to auditor's instructions for proper legal handling.

Authorized the use of city library funds to pay the balance of the cost for a permanent card catalogue file for the library after gifts which have been made for such a purchase are applied.

Discussed the necessary procedures to contract with the county commissioners court for the library's use of $500 in county funds provided in the county's 1967 budget.

Heard a report from board secretary, Mrs. Rosa Gamblin, that the library now has 7,716 books on its shelves, which means that 1,731 volumes have been added through book donations since the library opened seven months ago.

Heard a report from Mrs. Gamblin on book circulation that 2,880 books have been checked out of the library in its seven months of operation, which is approximately a 98 per cent circulation of the library's total books for the period. Mrs. Gamblin termed this "an excellent record."

If you are a "southpaw", think nothing of it—there are an estimated 200 million left-handed people in the world.

Ever since time began, there has been a conspiracy under way to change left-handed people to right-handers, but nothing much has come of it.

In recent years, the left-handers have gained so many well-wishers in their determination to remain left-handed, that the shoe almost changed to the other foot (the left foot) and many right-handers had just as soon be left-handed.

There's even a left-handed book on the market this year, and we'd like to see the acquisitions committee of the Post Public Library put it on its list of new purchases—it would help the left-handers who have been made self-conscious of their "wrong-handedness" gain confidence.

The title of the book is "The Left-Handed Book. An Investigation Into the Sinister History of Left-Handedness." It was written by left-hander Michael Barsley, who has been doing research for 14 years.

Barsley points out that since the Bible clearly divided people into sheep and goats, and put the goats on the left, right-handers have acted as though left-handers were to be despised.

The author agrees with Thomas Carlyle that right-handedness is the oldest institution in the world.

"Upon it," he says, "much human activity has been based, and nearly all religious practices have been founded. The Biblical quotations in praise of the right-handed are echoed by the Koran and the Torah.

"But to be left-handed is not the deliberate choice of the individual. Whether hereditary or acquired, it becomes manifest in early childhood.

"There are some who think that a child who insists on using his left hand in defiance of parental or tutorial disapproval is being wilful or cussed. But this is to deny something which, to the left-hander, is the obvious and easiest way of doing things—going against nature."

Some of our best friends are left-handed.—CD

Distant charity not the best

It's the same here in Post and Garza County as it is everywhere, in that we are deluged these days by radio appeals, solicitations in the mail and personal solicitations in behalf of charitable causes. Many of these causes are good ones and many are havens for jobholders drawing good salaries.

As a general rule, we should know the people and the system of administration to which the donation is directed. Even some of the larger charitable organizations, or disease fighting organizations, spend too much of their income on administration. At least 75 per cent of all income should be used for non-administrative purposes.

Also, most charity is better used at home. In this community, many are in need. And for some reason many of us donate rather generously to far-away charity drives each year while overlooking what we might do in our own community with the same generosity.—CD

Tomorrow might be too late

Pellet guns have become dangerous weapons in the hands of some area youngsters, and Post is no exception. There have been instances here of pets, especially cats, being slain by pellets from the guns, and of broken windows and other property destruction.

Pellet guns are far more dangerous than air rifles, which in themselves are but enough. Either can kill or maim a human being.

Parents should be held responsible for their children's actions if they allow them to come into possession of a pellet gun. A youngster who deliberately shoots a dog or cat or maliciously damages property with a pellet gun or air rifle isn't above shooting at another child, or at a grown person, for that matter.

If your son is one of those "privileged" few who own a pellet gun, you'll be wise to warn him today about its use. Tomorrow might be too late.—CD

Cub Scouting program rejuvenated

Congratulations are due the committeemen, den mothers, etc., who have rejuvenated the Cub Scout program in Post.

Also due commendation are the parents of the boys taking part in the program, for without the parents' cooperation the program wouldn't get very far.

Besides advantages of its own in training the youngsters within its field, Cub Scouting is the first step to the Boy Scout program.

Judging from the enthusiasm of the den mothers, many of whom are turning in reports of den meetings to The Dispatch, the rejuvenated Cub Scout program is off to a good start.—CD

Over there, there's no big hurry

Gas stations are no different from any other type of retail establishments when it comes to drawing complaints from impatient customers who often are in a hurry to be waited on, even when they aren't going anywhere in a hurry.

But, a parallel can be drawn between gas stations in America and those in certain other parts of the world that might make waiting a few minutes to get waited on seem more of a pleasure than a hardship.

Suppose we take Russia, for instance. The next time you impatiently wait a few minutes at your gas station, ease your nerves by reflecting on what is involved in getting up the car over there.

First, you fill out a questionnaire, go to a government office, buy a coupon book, then you go to a government-owned station to trade coupons for gas. At the stations, which are sparse even in the larger cities, you'll have to wait in line for a long time. Then you guess how much the tank will hold, check the number of coupons, set the pump dial . . . you manipulate the hose. All the attendant does is collect the coupons.

Well, how about it? Are you still in a big hurry for that good old American gas station service?—CD

What our contemporaries are saying

To a teen-ager, liquid assets consists of a refrigerator full of soft drinks.—The Hamilton Herald-News.

We have decided that most people need enemies as much as they need friends because they can define what they are for only in terms of what they are against. We all know people who never seem to be for anything, always against things. Well, analyze them and you can find out what they are for by listening to what they are against. Curious, but true.—Harold Hudson in The Sunday Herald, Perryton.

With all the automatic equipment in the home today, about the only thing that is washed by hand is people.—Eric Van Horn in Fillmore (Cal.) Herald.

Women find themselves at quite a disadvantage since they can now travel faster than sound.—Leon W. Berry in Mt. Adams (Wash.) Sun.

Referring to the Bobby Baker trial, a feller at the coffee shop says he bets the jury will spend more time behind locked doors than does Bobby.—Speedy Nieman in The Slaton Slatonite.

TODAY (THURSDAY) is Ground Hog Day . . . no national holiday, no bank holiday . . . just Ground Hog day. The legend is that if the ground hog comes out of his hole and sees his shadow today, he'll hole up again for six more weeks of winter.

And here is our cat, Blackie, on the ball as usual when a big story breaks.

SPEAKING OF CATS, Homer Gordon asked us to discontinue the classified ad he ran, in which he asked for cats to take out to his farm. Homer, who announced he got all the cats he needs, said he'd begun to think there was a shortage of cats, but changed his mind after people started bringing him cats in answer to his Dispatch classified ad. I don't know whether to agree with Homer that there isn't any shortage of cats or to credit his success to the pulling power of Dispatch want ads.

The man up the street says what's worrying him is that the government is living not only beyond its own income, but also beyond his.

SOMEONE WHO said he read in last Thursday's column what we had to say about the Internal Revenue Service man's visit, sends this along, which he said he clipped from a college newspaper. It's a new twist on Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

"One score and twenty-seven years ago, our fathers brought forth upon this nation a new tax, conceived in desperation and dedicated to the proposition that all men are fair game.

"Now we are engaged in a great mass of calculation, testing whether this taxpayer, or any taxpayer, so confused and so impoverished, can long endure.

"We are met on Form 1040. We have come to dedicate a large portion of our income to a final resting place with those men who have spent their lives so that they may spend our money. It is altogether sweet and torture that we should do this.

"But in a larger sense, we cannot evade, we cannot cheat, we cannot underestimate this tax. The collectors, clever and sly, who compute here, have gone far beyond our poor power to add and subtract.

"Our creditors will little note nor long remember what we pay here, but the Internal Revenue Service can never forget what we report here.

"It is not for us, the taxpayer, to question the tax which the government has thus far so nobly spent. It is rather for us to be here dedicated to the great task remaining before us.

"That from the vanishing dollars we take increased devotion to the remaining few—that we here highly resolve that next year will not find us in the higher income bracket, shall figure out more deductions, and this tax of the people, by the Congress, for the government, shall not cause solvency to perish."

John Maverick, in the Cherryvale (Kans.) Republican, says, "The hardest thing about parachute jumping is the ground, when you come right down to it."

IF THIS COUNTRY is as "far gone" as the radio program, "Life Line," would have us believe, I can't for the life of me, see why the power behind the Life Line theme doesn't pack up and get out while the getting is good. H. L. Hunt has the money to do so, or, if he has suddenly fallen upon hard times, he more than likely could borrow enough to get out on from his son, Lamar Hunt, who owns the Kansas City Chief professional football team.

Somewhere else, perhaps, H. L. Hunt could find the Utopia he reports this nation to be . . . but it's unlikely that his Life Line radio program would be as well received there, or that his HLM canned soups would sell as well as they do here.

MULVIN MUNN, the silent-movie vendor who does the talking on the Life Line program, will be guest speaker at the upcoming banquet of the Mulvane Chapter of Communicators. That is one, CMC, banquet I'm thankful I don't have to sit through. In other words, if I ever fall off his don't wear, please don't throw me that kind of Life Line.

THE STORY OF VALENTINE'S DAY... by THOMPSON

1. LIGHT UP A GOOD CIGAR. ON VALENTINE'S DAY IN HONOR OF THE LUPERCALIA, AN ANCIENT ROMAN FESTIVAL CELEBRATED ON FEBRUARY 15, BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN THE BIRTHDAY OF OUR OBSERVANCE OF ST. VALENTINE'S DAY.
2. ALTHOUGH THE DAY IS NAMED FOR A ROMAN PRIEST WHO WAS MARTYRED ABOUT 270 A.D., ST. VALENTINE'S DAY IS A SECULAR HOLIDAY UNRELATED TO THE LIFE OR DEATH OF THE SAINT.
3. THE CUSTOM OF SENDING VALENTINES OR LOVE-TOKENS BEGAN DURING THE MIDDLE AGES, AND PROBABLY OWED ITS ORIGIN TO A BELIEF COMMONLY HELD IN FRANCE AND ENGLAND THAT THE BIRDS BEGAN TO MATE ON THE SECOND FORTNIGHT OF THE SECOND MONTH.
4. IN MEDIEVAL EUROPE, IT WAS THE CUSTOM FOR YOUNG PEOPLE TO MEET ON ST. VALENTINE'S EVE TO DRAW NAMES OF THEIR "VALENTINES" OUT OF A BOX. IN ENGLAND, A GIFT WAS GIVEN TO THE "VALENTINE." THE PRESENT WAS OFTEN A PAIR OF GLOVES.
5. WHILE MEDIEVAL ENGLISHMEN RECEIVED GLOVES ON VALENTINE'S DAY, MODERN AMERICANS ARE OFTEN HONORED WITH GIFTS OF FINE CIGARETTES. A YOUNG MAN BRINGS HIS SWEETHEART A BOX OF CANDY ON VALENTINE'S DAY. THE GIRL SURPRISES HIM WITH A BOX OF CIGARETTES. WOMEN KNOW THAT A GOOD CIGAR IS ONE OF THE BEST WAYS TO A MAN'S HEART.
6. IT WASN'T UNTIL THE BEGINNING OF THE 20TH CENTURY THAT THE CUSTOM OF SENDING VALENTINE CARDS BECAME POPULAR AMONG CHILDREN. IT HAD ITS BEGINNINGS WHEN PARENTS STARTED TO SEND NOTES AND LITTLE FAVORITES TO THEIR CHILDREN ON THE DAY AND LATER YOUNGSTERS BEGAN TO GIVE CARDS TO THEIR FRIENDS AND SCHOOL MATES.

General Telephone Company tabs $132,500,000 new construction

SAN ANGELO — During the next five years, General Telephone Company of the Southwest plans to spend more than $132,500,000 on construction designed to improve and expand services and facilities for customers in the company's Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Arkansas and Louisiana area of operations, according to E. H. Danner, president.

Of the total amount, $24,500,000 is budgeted for 1967 construction and is broken down as follows: $896,000 for land and buildings, $9,500,000 for central office equipment utilized in switching local and long distance calls; $6,619,000 for telephone instruments and other customer facilities, $8,938,000 for additional facilities outside of central offices; and $1,550,000 for general equipment.

These expenditures will permit continued rural services improvements throughout the company. The five-year budget for the rural program calls for spending approximately $12,000,000. As a result 43 per cent more rural customers will have four party service or better, Danner said.

Other major projects during 1967 include establishing expanded DDD or DD for customers in 21 exchanges, replacing central offices where growth or obsolescence have created the need, expanding direct dial service without a long distance charge between contiguous exchanges with common interests, installation of electronic equipment which will permit in 1968 providing touch calling service so customers may "dial" calls by pushing buttons and other expansion which will permit adding an estimated 24,000 telephones.

While the future is bright and important improvements and expansion are underway, Danner pointed out that 1966 should not be disregarded. "Strides were made during the past year in improving rural service, keeping pace with growth and increased customer needs, and direct distance dialing established in Sherman in 1957 was expanded so customers could dial person-to-person, credit cards and other special types of calls. The only Centrex system in the company was installed in the company's general offices in San Angelo. The system permits calls from outside the office to be direct to extensions and provides other conveniences such as conference calls."

Historical markers guide is published

AUSTIN — The new 1967 Guide to Official Texas Historical Markers compiled by the Texas State Historical Survey Committee is now available for distribution, TSHSC President Charles Woodburn of Amarillo said today.

The guide was published by Humble Oil & Refining Company of Houston. Individuals or organizations may write Humble Touring Service (P. O. Box 2180, Houston 77001) to request copies.

Reflecting the recent emphasis of the official marking of Texas heritage, the third edition of the guide lists 3,956 official markers. Five types of historical markers are listed in the guide: 1936 Centennial markers and Texas War for Independence markers; 1936 Cen-ennial and Texas War for Independence grave markers; Confederate information and grave markers; historical building medallions and aluminum official markers; and private state-approved markers.

"The Official Texas Historical Marker program is Texas' way of bringing to tourists and Texans the rich heritage of the Lone Star State," said Woodburn.

"Throughout the marker guide are the names and locations of these short history lessons told in granite and aluminum.

"Historical markers, not only help preserve the state's heritage; they also contribute to the state's tourist industry," he said.

"In a joint survey conducted by the Texas Highway Department and the Texas State Historical Survey Committee, it was determined that each marker earns an average of $17.55 a day, $526 a month, and $6,405 a year, in increased tourist revenue to the state.

"History and tourism are inseparable," said Woodburn. "Historic sites and landmarks are the third choice of things to see of those polled in an out-of-state survey, and the first choice of Texans."

The new marker guide is readily available to tourists, as copies are distributed by the Texas Highway Department at its eight Tourist Information Centers located at key highway entrances to Texas.

The booklets also are distributed by chambers of commerce, museums, and other tourist and history oriented organizations.

IMPROVEMENTS LISTED IN FEDERAL CROP INSURANCE
 Federal crop insurance in Texas annually provides protection to approximately 10,000 farmers who voluntarily insure in excess of 300,000 acres of cropland and more than $17 million farm investments. Ben. A. Jordan Jr., state crop insurance director, says the all-risk crop insurance is now available in 64 counties covering cotton, grain sorghum and wheat.

Eight of the counties have been added to the list for the 1967 crop year, Jordan says. They are Bosque, Pecos and Reeves for cotton insurance and Bosque, Carson, Dallam, Hansford, Moore and Sherman for grain sorghum.
 The state director notes several changes in the program. The most important, he says, is an average 17 per cent increase in the guarantees for cotton farmers on the High Plains, and a reduction in premium rates amounting to 4.5 per cent on the average. He adds these changes were made as a result of a complete reworking of the cotton insurance program to bring it more in line with yield increases in the area over the past 19 years.

Many of the irrigated grain sorghum programs in the same area have also been adjusted for 1967 to provide more equitable premium rates and production guarantees. These charges on both crops are now being explained, Jordan says, by area fieldmen.

In further explaining the increased guarantees, Jordan added that they will vary from county to county and that production experience will be a very important factor.

Of interest to current policy holders, Jordan believes, is an adjusted premium discount. Insured producers who had no loss in 1966 will get a 5 per cent additional reduction in their premium for 1967. Previously, three years of no losses were required before discounts were given.

Jordan says there are over 120 crop failure causes covered under the all-risk insurance program and the increased guarantees were designed to return to the farmer his cost of production should he have a crop failure.

Farmers interested in details of the program should contact their local Federal Crop Insurance office or write Jordan, FCIC, USDA Bldg., College Station, Tex. 77840.

Thompson-Leonard wedding is event of Jan. 19 at Plains

Miss Patsy Ellen Thompson of Plains and Donald Keith Leonard of Levelland pledged double ring vows in a candlelight ceremony Jan. 19 at 8 o'clock in the evening in the home of the bride's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson of Plains.

The Rev. H. O. Abbott, minister of the First Methodist Church at Seagraves, officiated in front of the mantel, which was covered in white lace and featured four white tapers in crystal holders. The prayer bench was draped in white satin edged in lace.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Dillard Thompson of Plains, former Post residents, and Mr. and Mrs. Meryle Leonard of Levelland.

Mrs. Malouf is hostess to UPW

Mrs. M. J. Malouf was hostess to the United Presbyterian Women in her home last Thursday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

As members and guests arrived they were served hot cheese bread, muffins, rosettes and pineapple rings and pear halves with dressing. Mrs. D. C. Williams presided at the serving table.

During the business meeting cards of thanks were read from three members who were honored with life memberships in the organization during the month of December. Recipients were Mrs. Howard McCampbell, president of the group, Mrs. C. I. Dickinson and Mrs. Burney Francis.

The Rev. George L. Miller, church pastor, gave an informative introduction to the study course of the year, the Book of Philippians.

Those attending were: Mrs. George L. Miller, Dickinson, Giles McCrary, Williams, Dick Dickson, Francis, McCampbell, Jim Cornish, Mike Mitchell, A. C. Surman, Tillman Jones, Bob Macy, David Newby, W. E. Dent and Arnold Pickens of Houston, a guest of Mrs. Surman.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an off-white three-piece double knit suit trimmed in white satin. Her off-white mink pillbox hat was enhanced with a veil of illusion. Matching accessories completed the ensemble.

The bride carried a white Bible topped with a bouquet of white carnations, tied with satin ribbon. Tied in the love knots was the gold wedding band belonging to her grandmother, the late Mrs. D. W. Morris of Post. For something borrowed, she carried a white silk handkerchief belonging to her mother; a blue garter, and a penny in her shoe for good luck.

Mrs. Vaughn Culwell of Plains was matron of honor. She chose a gold wool dress made with a cowl collar and short sleeves accented at the waist with a bow. Her headpiece was a cluster of gold roses from which a short net veil extended. She carried a long-stemmed white carnation tied with ribbon.

Danny Jones of Canyon was best man. Kenneth Thompson, brother of the bride, was candlelighter. Mrs. Kenneth Thomson accompanied Mrs. Cordell Huddleston of Plains, soloist, at the organ.

A reception followed in the home. The table was laid with a lace cloth over gold and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake trimmed with white bells, lovebirds, roses and a miniature bride and groom under a heart-shaped archway of net and forget-me-nots. White tapers and the bride's Bible and bouquet completed the decor. Crystal and silver appointments were used.

Cake, gold punch, nuts and mints were served by Mrs. Thomas Palmer of Oklahoma and Mrs. Mike Leonard of Odessa, grandmother and sister-in-law of the bridegroom, respectively.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, N. M., the couple is at home in Canyon at 104 28th St., Lynette Apartment 31.

The Rev. Dale Duzier, church pastor, officiated at the reading of the double ring vows.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Adams and Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Gibson of Denver City.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin formal-length gown featuring lace finger-tip sleeves, a bateau neckline and A-line skirt. Her veil of silk illusion fell from small rose petals made of lace with each petal encircled by sea pebbles. The bouquet of white roses was carried on a white Bible given to the bride by her grandmother, Mrs. Willie Goodison.

The tradition of something new, old, borrowed and blue, was carried out.

As the bride came down the aisle she handed her mother a red rose and as she made her exit handed her mother-in-law a white rose.

Miss Reba Hair was maid of honor. She wore a pink brocade dress made with a bateau neckline and A-line skirt. Her pillbox hat was trimmed in net. She carried a single long-stemmed white rose.

Melinda Adams, sister of the bride, and Steve Hair were ring bearers.

Bill Gibson of Lubbock served his brother as best man. Ushers were James Mathis and Gene Nowell.

Genevieve M. Wilson at the organ and Tom Wilks at the piano accompanied the Post High School girls' and boys' sextets as they sang "One Heart, One Hand" and "No Man Is an Island." Billy Jack Hodges sang a solo, "The Twelfth of Never." Members of the vocal group are Cheryl Pennell, Sherry Gist, Edith Johnson, Sue Gilmore, Linda Hays, Linda Bird, Billy Jack Hodges, Clyde Cash, Paul Harmon, Davis Henton and J. O. Smith.

A reception followed in Fellowship Hall. The table was laid with a white lace cloth over pink and featured a three-tiered wedding cake, decorated with pink roses, designed and baked by Stanley Mathis. Crystal appointments were used.

Members of the house party were Mrs. Billy McKemie, Jack Hair, Stanley Mathis, Don Rose, Dale Duzier and Rusty Dean. The girls' sextet served.

It's My Turn

— By MRS. C.

Fay Claborn was in the office Tuesday morning and told Editor Didway about some tools and what-have-you which were stolen from an oil rig location. You can look elsewhere for the story. The only reason I'm mentioning it here is that I had no earthly idea what I was going to write a column about this week and be, unknowingly, gave me a thought.

I've mentioned before in this column that my father was an old-time oil driller and a wild Irish type all rolled into one. He and his five brothers came out from the state of Pennsylvania many years ago and formed an oil company in which they were all workers as well as owners.

Naturally he was away from home a lot (that is before the bottom dropped out of the oil business in 1928 along with everything else) so my mother used to pile all seven of us children into our Studebaker touring car complete with jump seats and window flaps and away we'd go to visit my father in some rather forsaken spot in Oklahoma.

When Fay mentioned stealing around a rig, the word hijacker popped into my mind and then I was off remembering those early years of my life when my father spoke of hijackers around oil rigs often.

He always carried a gun and told many wild tales about hijackers and the oil business. Now, when my mother would take us out to spend a weekend with my father I lived in the hope that the hijackers would arrive while we were there and we'd have a little action.

We usually slept in a bunkhouse-type affair which was exciting enough in itself but I remember lying there at night wishing and waiting for the hijackers — who never came.

My father had this really big thing about having guns to protect oneself with and I suppose this made sense being out in the "nowhere" for weeks on end, but the silliest thing he ever did was have my mother sleep with a pearl-handled revolver under her pillow at home to protect her brood. My mother couldn't have shot a mouse.

Part of the fun of going to the oil field for a visit was setting to rest out. A family of nine doesn't do this very often so it was really a big treat for us to drive into a nearby small town and eat at the local cafe. One time my father really had a treat planned for us at breakfast. It seems this cook had learned to put bananas on cereal and the whole family trooped in to order bowls of cereafakes topped with banana slices.

I will remember impressing all the neighborhood kids by telling them about this delicacy.

I loved it when my father was drilling around Pawhuska, Okla., because there was this big steen horseshoe curve as you approached and it was as good as riding a roller coaster. Sometimes we all got out and walked up the road as my mother bravely drove the car up.

I wonder what memories the two Misses C's will hold dear to their hearts as time passes? If I should live so long you readers might find out some day.

HIGHLIGHTS and SIDELIGHTS

... from the State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN — They're off! And running!

With a hearing Tuesday night on a bill to legalize horse-race betting in counties where voters approve, the Legislature got into full swing. Committee actions soon will lead to final decisions.

Organization of both houses is complete. To date more than 400 bills have been introduced and referred to committees. Meetings will be scheduled mornings, afternoons and evenings to hear sponsors and objectors . . . to listen to those who think the bills should or should not be passed.

Floor action soon will begin in earnest and the pattern of the session will quickly take form.

CROSS-CURRENTS — One pattern emerging has been a widening difference between the Senate and House leadership.

Senate majority seemed determined to pass a $5,300,000 bill to give 20 per cent overall pay raises to the 40,000 state employees by March 1. Speaker Ben Barnes and the House leadership seem equally determined to prevent it, and likely will succeed.

Gov. John Connally is readying his tax program. Lt. Gov. Preston Smith, noting that spending from the state's main checking account can be $217,000,000 higher for the coming two years from currently expected revenues without new taxes, suggested that the line be held on taxes.

These differences point up the conclusions being drawn by Capitol observers that Smith will go for governor in 1968, even if Connally tries for that unprecedented fourth term.

BILLS, BILLS, BILLS — All 181 legislators have been busy introducing bills they feel should become laws. The range is wide, as always.

Rep. Jake Johnson of San Antonio thinks his bill to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink (labeled the LBJ bill—liquor by the jigger) has a fighting chance. His poll of House members shows 67 for, 41 against and 21 undecided. He's thus only 9 votes shy of the 76 votes needed, with 21 members yet to roll.

Rep. James Silder of Naples has one to make Texas eligible for highway beautification money from the U. S., and to allow the Highway Department to buy scenic easements to move billboards and junkyards off the roadways.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria wants to repeal the new Code of Criminal Procedure lawmen are fussing about, and to restore the old law. Others are proposing changes in the new law, and Rep. James E. Nugent of Kerrville, chairman of the House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee, invited everyone with ideas for improvement to let him know.

ELECTION CODE—That exemption from annual voter registration, which citizens over 60 years of age, living in towns of less than 10,000 now enjoy, would be removed from State law, under a bill by Rep. Gene Fondren of Taylor. This to clarify the election law.

Fondren's proposal would also mean that if you forgot your registration receipt, you would have to go back home and get it or get a duplicate, because voting officials would not be able to accept your signature in lieu of that receipt.

MORE SALES TAX — Under a bill by Rep. John Traeger of Seaman, any city in the state would be able to collect a one-per-cent sales tax if a majority of its qualified voters approved this method of financing city services.

The local-option sales tax proposal, which would be levied in addition to the existing two-per-cent sales tax, was recommended by Governor Connally at the request of the Texas Municipal League.

RIGHT-TO-WORK LAW — Rep. Don Gladwin has filed a bill to repeal Texas' right-to-work law, and Rep. Bill Clayton of Springlake has filed a bill to strengthen the right-to-work law. So the House Labor Committee should be kept pretty busy.

Other labor proposals provide a state version of the Taft-Hartley labor-management relations act and set uniform determination of prevailing wages for workers on public projects.

CATTLE FEED LOTS — Reps. Tom Holmes of Granbury, Alonzo Jamison of Denton, Delwin Jones of Lubbock and Bill Rapp of Raymondville are authors of a bill to require licensing of cattle feed lots and regulation of their operation. They said, "The Act is designed to protect and promote the public health and welfare by the establishment and enforcement of certain standards in the maintenance and operation of beef cattle feed lots."

It was recommended by the cattle feed lot division of the South-west Cattle Raisers Association.

WILDLIFE AREAS SOUGHT — Parks and Wildlife Department has proposed to legislative budget writers purchase of 223,000 acres for inclusion in 18 wildlife management areas in Texas.

PWD said 138,000 acres are needed in brush country — Rolling Plains, West Cross Timbers, Grand Prairie, Trans-Pecos, Lower Coastal Prairie and Pineywoods. Another 85,000 acres is requested for expansion of five existing management areas and preservation of native brush in the Lower Rio Grande Valley for nesting use by white-winged doves.

Department asks authority to use unappropriated balances from $7,000,000 Special Game and Fish Fund No. 9. State money would be matched by federal aid which would provide 75 per cent of cash, under proposal advanced.

FARM-AGRICULTURE BOARD Approved — Texas Farm Bureau has given official sanction to the move to combine state agriculture and Animal Health agencies into a single "coordinating board" for agriculture.

Joint board was suggested by the House of Representatives' interim committee on agriculture.

POPULATION ROOMS — Texas population jumped to 10,711,743 as of last April, according to Texas Business Review.

Figure represents gain of more than a million since the 1960 census.

Library Listening Post

By ROSEMARY CHAPMAN
Jan. 26, 1967

Dear L. L. P.,
I have just read your column which I find of great interest every week. I believe the first question and answer is not exactly correct.

I would also like to add that you may now say you have another "fan."

Sincerely,
Lorrye McAlister

Feb. 2, 1967

Dear Lorrye,
Actually, it was the third question, "Our family," etc., which was planted. However, since you are the only person who entered the contest besides mother, I will pay your next library fine anyway.

Sincerely,
Rm

Which just goes to show that flattery can get you anywhere.

The questions left in the "Question and Suggestion" box this week were extremely poor, as usual. In fact, "Is it true that eight publishers have rejected a book which the Boston Strangler wrote about Gerold Frank?" is reaching for a new low.

On a happier note, a suggestion was made that a short literary quiz be given "to spark interest in reading and give people a chance to test their memories." Accordingly, George Miller has been persuaded to compose a few puzzles for us. If you enjoy them, tell George—perhaps he'll do more.

Ready? Guess the author and title of the books:

1. Auction sale. Lovely plantation home south of Atlanta. Owner must sacrifice to pay taxes. Forward bids to Gerald O'Hara, at Tara.
2. Wanted, odd jobs. Specialty is white-washing fences. Reasonable rates. Contact T. S. at Aunt Polly's.
3. Reward offered for information leading to the capture and arrest of Edmund Dantes. This fugitive is dangerous. Contact governor of Chateaus d'If to claim reward.
4. Wanted, demolition expert to destroy key bridge in Spanish Civil War area. Forward qualifications and resume of experience to Robert Jordan.
5. In memorandum of Dora, child-bride and beloved wife of David, my angels brighten her smile.
6. News flash—rumors of ghost haunt the marriage festivities of Queen Gertrude at Castle Elsinore. King Claudius denies the rumors. The Prince declines to comment.
7. India—a young boy was found today, answering to the name of Mowgli. He claims he was raised by wolves.
8. For sale—one winchmill in La Mancha, Spain. Also a slightly used suit of armor and a broken lance. Forward replies to Sancho Panza-squire.
9. The Bishop's candlesticks were reported stolen yesterday. Inspector Javert has been assigned the case and vows to capture the thief or die in the attempt.
10. London society welcomed world traveler Phineas Fogg at his return yesterday. When asked about his future, he announced an incredible plan for making a trip to the center of the earth. It wouldn't surprise us if next he goes to the moon.

Rosa Gamblin has come up with an interesting map of the United States for our bulletin board. It places famous authors by states. Texas is well represented by J. Frank Dobie and others.

Each Tuesday night for the past three weeks, Joan Tubbs has brought us a new book. It is always something good, and usually something new. We do enjoy seeing Joan!

The Tubbs' latest addition to the library is "Miracle at Philadelphia" by Catherine Drinker Bowen. It is the story of the birth of the Constitution and was a recent Book-of-the-Month Club selection.

Thank you, Carl Aycock, for supplying a scratch pad for the volunteers. We were tired of writing on the floor.

Here are the answers to the quiz. I certainly hope that you didn't peek. 1. Margaret Mitchell—"Gone With the Wind". 2. Mark Twain—"Tom Sawyer". 3. Alexander Dumas—"The Count of Monte Cristo". 4. Ernest Hemingway—"For Whom the Bell Tolls". 5. Charles Dickens—"David Copperfield". 6. William Shakespeare—"Hamlet". 7. Rudyard Kipling—"The Jungle Book". 8. Cervantes—"Don Quixote". 9. Victor Hugo—"Les Miserables". 10. Jules Verne—"Around the World in 80 Days."

West Texas quail hunt is curbed by drought

SAN ANGELO — West Texas quail hunters trying to take advantage of the last days of the quail season are having a difficult time bagging birds.

Dry, dusty conditions, nullifying bird-dog efficiency have prevailed all season and, despite an abundance of quail, hunters are few and the kill has been low, according to the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

A MATTER OF VIEWPOINT

What is as thrilling to a child as winter—and a nice fresh snow? But for an adult, shopping or working in winter weather, nothing is more miserable.

This goes for so many things. What looks good to one person looks terrible to another. What one person enjoys doing, another dislikes. What agrees with one disagrees with another.

There is nothing wrong with this. We have a right to our individual likes and dislikes, to our individual opinions. We also have the right to know the basic things in life, the truths that apply to everyone. These are the foundation blocks upon which all else is built. This is the kind of knowledge given to us by the Church.

If you have been thinking that church-goers are conformists—people who believe what they are told and let it go at that—then you've been making a mistake. Because a group of houses are built upon the same firm ground does not mean that each house cannot be separate unto itself. Because a man goes to church does not mean that he is one of a mold. Try it, and see.

PHS Student Body Rated Low

PHS had a great football season. We were number 1. We have a chance to be Number 1 in basketball also. Isn't it too bad that our student body is rated so low? When behaviour of our students is viewed, one sees snobbery, hatefulness, and petty jealousies. As a Senior of PHS, I feel I have right to express the view of a small minority of students. This embarrassing situation is as much my fault as anyone else's, so I am not throwing stones.

A new student is greeted by whispers—behind his back. What kind of clothes does he wear, how does he talk, what subjects is he taking, etc.

There is nothing wrong with curiosity — life would be rather dull without it. But when we label malicious fun and gossip as curiosity it ceases to be anything but a sickening reflection on our school.

Last week I witnessed two different groups of our "better students" purposely bait and ridicule one new student and a student who enrolled here for the first time last fall.

New students are not the only ones held in ridicule. A few teachers, new and old, are likely subjects also. In some classes we cannot be taught a good lesson because a few students make themselves impossible. The teacher's fault? I doubt it — not when these same students have been sent to the office repeatedly.

Our school song states that victory is our goal. Well, victories like this we can do without.

If I have stepped on any toes, I am really glad. Maybe, just maybe, a few students will look in their little - used handbooks and read the "Code of Ethics of PHS."

If we are going to have a worthwhile school why don't we practice our Code of Ethics? Try anyway — PHS just might come out on top.

'Alvarez Kelly' is Tower attraction

William Holden and Richard Widmark are starred, as a renegade adventurer and reckless colonel, respectively, in "Alvarez Kelly," now showing through Saturday at the Tower Theatre.

A Columbia Pictures release in Panavision and color, "Alvarez Kelly" is a drama of violent action and romantic intrigue, based on a true incident of the Civil War when Confederate cavalry fought a series of bloody battles in an effort to steal a huge herd of cattle from the Union army in order to feed the people of Richmond who were being starved into submission by General Grant.

Seems not everyone likes Biology class

By Jane Cannon
It seems that someone doesn't like to go to biology class. Thursday, after returning from lunch, Mrs. Wilkins, Post High's biology teacher, couldn't open the door to the classroom. After trying the key several times and jiggling the knob, she called for help.

Mr. Gee, the math teacher next door, and Raymond, the janitor, came to Mrs. Wilkins' cry for assistance. They discovered that someone had stuffed paper wads into the key hole. After 20 minutes of digging and picking, Mr. Gee opened the door. Biology class was resumed, much to the students' dismay.

Slick answers to oily questions given by Missouri youngsters

Most people would require quite a few words to explain the importance of oil and its by-products in the world today, but a fourth grade student in Kirkwood, Mo., summed it up in one sentence.

"Oil," said he, "is the most valuable thing on which the hand of man has ever set foot."

Harold Dunn, fourth grade teacher in Kirkwood, collected many similar bits of wisdom from his students when he quizzed them on their study of oil.

Some of the students' answers are related by Mr. Dunn in an article in the current issue of the Humble News, employee publication of Humble Oil & Refining Co.

For instance, when asked to define petroleum, most of the students did well, but a few had ideas of their own, such as: "Petroleum is a more dignified name for oil."

"Petroleum is a snare word for when you cannot think how to say oil."

And one boy approached the question from a negative angle: "Take some oil. Pour it in water. Were you able to stir it up together? Then it wasn't oil."

In describing the origin of oil, Mr. Dunn tells his students how millions of years ago, when prehistoric monsters roamed the earth, fine silt settled to the floor of inland seas and eventually turned into rock. The rock, Mr. Dunn explains, pressed down on dead organic matter until the heat and pressure turned it into petroleum. The idea that oil is ancient seemed to get across very well. As one put it: "Compared with oil, man has been on the earth for only a drop in the bucket."

Test answers from other students included:

"From 500 million B. C. to 10 million B. C. everything got busy turning into oil. In those days there was not much else to do."

"When past monsters died, some of them changed to fossils while others preferred to be oil."

"The manner in which oil is formed, as I understand it, is not very well understood."

"Many of the things that are alive today will also be changed to oil in a few million years. Just wait and see."

When Mr. Dunn discussed oil refining with his students, he found that they were particularly fascinated with his discussion of the catalytic cracker, known commonly as the cat cracker. When he asked the students to define cat cracker, the answers included the following:

"A cat cracker could just as well be called something else if they could only think of another name for it."

"A cat cracker is either one of two things. One, a cracker that cats eat, or two, I don't know."

In answering a question on the use of tanker ships for transporting oil, one student reported: "Any ship taking oil into another country has to have a visa. For round trips, you need a visa versa."

'Lopes down Slaton quintet, 104 to 82

Two of the highest scoring school basketball teams in Texas, the Post Antelopes and Stanton Buffaloes, will have at it here Friday night in a crucial District 4AA contest.

The Buffaloes, undefeated in six conference games, will be trying to hold onto their loop lead, while the Antelopes, 5-1 in conference play, will be attempting to pull up even with the Stanton quintet in the district standings.

The Antelope-Buffalo game tip-off is scheduled for about 8 o'clock following a game between the Post and Stanton girls' teams.

Both Post and Stanton went over the 100-point mark in winning Tuesday night conference clashes, the Antelopes beating Slaton, 104-82, and the Buffaloes sailing past Denver City, 107-55.

Stanton downed Post by four points, 73-69, at Stanton Jan. 17, winning the game with a 19-point fourth quarter surge, while holding the Antelopes to 10 points in that eight minutes of play.

The same night, the Stanton girls' team won over the Post Does, 59-44.

Post's top scorer, Ronnie Pierce, returned to action against Slaton Tuesday night after being held out of Friday's Frenship game because of a foot injury. The red-head's 29 points against Slaton indicated that his injured foot has "come around" and that he will be ready to go against the Buffaloes Friday night.

Stanton has a fast-breaking team with a well-balanced scoring punch. Springer and Shanks are the Buffaloes' leading point-getters, with Cox, Jones, Holloway, Avery and Huckabee also maintaining respectable scoring averages.

The Antelope "A" and "B" teams will go to Morton for conference games Tuesday night, then play hosts to Denver City Friday night, Feb. 10.

CASH WILL RECEIVE MORE CASH IN '67

Norman Cash, Detroit Tiger first baseman, signed his 1967 contract last Thursday, reportedly for $43,000, an increase of about $10,000 over last year.

The former Justiceburg resident accepted the contract at his home in Eldorado, Tex., after negotiations with General Manager Jim Campbell.

Only outfielder Al Kaline, who is paid a reported $55,000, has a better deal with the Tigers.

Last season Cash had his best year since 1961. He hit 32 homers, best since his 39 of 1962, while batting .279, driving in 93 runs and collecting 168 hits.

Cash and his family visited at Justiceburg last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bandy Cash, and other relatives.

Frenship felled by Post, 96-54

Seven players hit in double figures for the Post Antelopes here last Friday night when they steam-rollered the Frenship Tigers, 96 to 54, in a District 4AA game.

Playing without the services of starter Ronnie Pierce, who was sidelined by a foot injury, the Antelopes got a big jump on the Tigers by racking up 25 points in the first quarter while holding their opponents to three. Frenship's first field goal came with only 1:03 remaining in the first quarter.

Coach Wilbert Bigott went to the bench frequently to relieve his starters, but the reserves kept up the torrid scoring pace and the Antelopes rolled up their biggest point total thus far this season.

Post led 44-21 at the end of the first half and 73-30 at the end of the third period.

J. O. Smith, starting in place of the injured Pierce, scored 15 points, along with Davis Heaton and Duke Altman for scoring honors. Also hitting in double figures were Norman Tanner with 13, Roy Sappington with 12 and Donnie Windham and Jimmy Bartlett with 10 apiece. Charles Harper scored four points and Larry Johnson, two.

Mike Walker paced the Frenship scoring with 16 points.

The scoring summary:
FRENSHIP — Hutcherson 0 2 2; Allen 6 2 14; Brockman 1 3 5; Curry 0 1 1; Walker 5 6 16; Morris 2 0 4; Madison 2 0 4; Gravov 3 2 8. TOTALS 19 16 54.

Post teams win from Frenship

The Post Antelope "B" and freshman teams won a pair from Frenship last Thursday night, the "B" team by a score of 44-33, and the freshmen, 48-32.

Nick Pantoja took scoring honors in the "B" team game with 19. Other Post scorers were Ronnie Petty, 13; Delbert Rudd and Mike Scott, five each and Elbert Rudd, two.

Abney was high scorer for Frenship with 13.

Ray Altman poured in 27 points in the freshman team's victory. David Pierce scored 11 and Butch Heaton, 10. Steve Newby, Neff Walker, and George Torres also saw action.

The Post Antelopes blew down the Slaton Tigers, 104 to 82, here Tuesday night before the largest crowd ever to attend a game in the high school gymnasium.

Earlier, the wildly cheering crowd had seen the Post Does lose to the Slaton Tigerettes, 54 to 42, after a valiant battle, but the outcome of the boys' game helped the home crowd forget the girls' loss.

The Antelopes, building up to Friday night's showdown battle here with Stanton, got off to a race-horse start against the Tigers and were ahead, 27-21, at the end of the first period.

Coach Wilbert Bigott's cagers broke the game wide open in the second quarter when they scored 30 points to the Tigers' 14 and went to the dressing room with a 22-point 57-37 lead.

The 'Lopes increased their margin by eight points in the third period when they outscored Slaton, 21-13, with Coach Bigott substituting freely Ronnie Pierce, who finished with 29 points, did not play in the fourth quarter, resting an injured foot that had kept him out of last Friday's Frenship game.

With the game safely "on ice," the Post fans started yelling for "22 more points," at the end of the third period, with the 'Lopes ahead, 78-48. They got the 22 points and an additional four to roll up their biggest score thus far this season.

Larry Johnson scored the field goal that gave the Antelopes 100 points after finding himself all alone under the basket and taking a teammate's pass that traveled half the length of the court. Johnson had also scored the field goal that gave the Antelopes their 98th point.

The outside shooting of guard Duke Altman gave him 19 points. Others hitting in double figures for the Antelopes were Donnie Windham, 12, and Norman Tanner and J. O. Smith, 10 apiece.

Richard Washington's 20 points led the Tiger scoring, with Jack Mason getting 18.

In the girls' game, Post was behind by two points, 13-11, at the end of the first quarter, and also by two, 25-23, at halftime. They fell behind by three more points in the third period, with the Tigerettes out in front, 39-34, going into the fourth quarter.

Edith Johnson was the Does' top scorer with 14. Sherry Woods collected nine points; Karon Windham, eight; Sharon Windham, six, and LaGayluah Young, five.

Post Does lose to kittens, 54-46

The Frenship Kittens remained undefeated in District 4AA play here last Friday night by defeating the Post Does, 54-46, in a game which saw the Does in the lead throughout most of the first half.

Coach Jiggs King's team was ahead by three points, 16-13, at the end of the first quarter, and led by seven points at one stage of the second quarter.

The Kittens went ahead before the first half ended behind the outside shooting of Judy Townsend and Donna Howard and went to the dressing room with a four-point 30-26 lead. The visitors outshot the Does, 16-10, in the third quarter to lead by 10 points, 46-36, going into the final stretch.

Again it was foul trouble that contributed to the Does' defeat, guards Vickie Martin and Linda Altman and forwards Sherry Woods and Edith Johnson fouling out. Woods was sidelined with 4:49 remaining in the game and John-

The Kittens hit 16 of 26 shots from the free throw line and the Does 12 of 28.

Johnson was Post's top scorer with 21. Woods hitting for 17. La Gayluah Young scored four points; Karon Windham, three, and Sharon Windham, one. Martin, Linda Altman and Marcia Newby were the starters at guard, with Jane Hutchins and Kay Altman substituting.

Howard hit 30 points for the Kittens and Townsend, 23, with the only other Frenship scoring coming on Janie Henderson's free throw.

Grassland church is holding Youth Week

By MRS. O. H. HOOVER

These days are something for January. No fire is necessary at all except early morning and late at night. I believe if there was enough moisture things would grow. No rain in sight according to the weather man. Let's hope he doesn't really know.

This is Youth Week at the Grassland Church of the Nazarene. Sunday the youth of the church had charge of the services. James Murray served as general director of the entire program. Kenneth Huffaker was Sunday School superintendent and different youths were teachers of the different classes. Diane Rash served as secretary and Delbert McCleskey as greeter. The worship hour was conducted by the youth. They furnished the music and presented a play entitled "Orchids for Doris", which contained a lesson on stewardship and was directed by Joy Laws. Following the program, a short talk taken from John 14:1 was made by James Murray. It was a good talk. I know because I was there and heard it.

Jeanette McCleskey is president of NYPS and she with the council, Kenneth Huffaker, James Murray, Mary K. McDonald and Joy Laws, and the junior leader, Bernice Gribble, directed the week's activities.

Schedule for the week follows:
Monday: Youth Bible quiz at the parsonage.

Tuesday: "Beliefs That Matter Most" to be discussed at the Kelly Laws home.

Wednesday: Regular prayer service at the church followed by the fifth lesson in Christian Service Training course. "Meet My Savior."

Thursday: Visit revival at Post Church of the Nazarene. Grassland youth to conduct a Bible quiz.

Friday: The youth of NYPS will sponsor a banquet at the Graham Community Center to be followed by a program under the direction of Karen Laws.

Saturday: Visit youth revival being held at Brownfield Church of the Nazarene.

the Nazarene.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. McCleskey visited her sister, Mrs. W. M. Dufosse, and husband in Brownfield Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Sherrill and Pauline and Mr. and Mrs. Walter prepared and brought lunch to have at the home of their parents, the J. E. Sherrills, Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Cook of O'Donnell visited in the Clyde Childress home Sunday evening.

COTTON FANNING Fanning named by PCG as new executive aide

LUBBOCK—Oscar (Cotton) Fanning, 41, advertising and public relations director of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., since March of 1963, has been named executive assistant of the 23-county organization.

Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of the Lubbock-based PCG, said Fanning will assume more responsibility in helping to direct the PCG's overall program of research, promotion and service for High Plains cotton.

"He already has been serving in an executive capacity in many respects," Johnson said. "However, his new title better reflects these duties and the added responsibility he now will assume."

Fanning will continue to direct the PCG's advertising and public relations programs and will be in charge of the office here in Johnson's absence.

A native of Earth, where he has reared on a cotton and grain sorghum farm, Fanning was graduated from Texas Tech in 1949 and spent three years in Mexico working for the U.S. Department of Agriculture and the U. S. Department of Labor.

Fanning later managed the Basin Growers Association at Stanton, an organization which primarily was concerned with the contracting of farm workers from Mexico under the old bracero program, for eight years.

Correspondent wonders where moisture went

By MRS. GLENN DAVIS

We have just learned of the passing away of Miss Nora Stevens. She was one of my friends of a long time back. I was a customer at her beauty shop and she gave me my first permanent. She was a fine woman and had so much sickness and sorrow in her life but never complained. We extend sympathy to the relatives.

It would be so nice if we could have some of that snow they are having in Illinois. We are wondering what happened to all that moisture we had in August and September. It must have gone down deep. Maybe it will rain before too long.

Mr. and Mrs. Quannah Maxey spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Sinclair and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Fluitt visited awhile near Morton Sunday with the W. O. Fluitt Jr. family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Evans and family were Sunday luncheon guests of the Mack Ledbetters.

Mrs. Fred Gossett is visiting in Lubbock this week with the Donald Gossett family and taking care of her granddaughter who has the chickenpox.

Mary Ann Stone and some girls from Abilene Christian College attended the Bush-McCampbell wedding Friday evening, as did many others from this community.

Mrs. Viva Davis was a Sunday luncheon guest of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Peel.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray McClellan and Kim visited Wednesday evening of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Jess Probst.

Mrs. Delmer Cowdrey, and Mrs. Bobby Cowdrey and baby visited late Sunday afternoon with the Weldon McGehee family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill McMahon spent the weekend in Lubbock with their daughter, Mrs. Don Brown, and family.

MRS. BOBBY COWDREY was surprised Friday morning with a baby shower for her son, Curtis Delmer. Twenty ladies called. Coffee, spiced tea, doughnuts, cookies and rolls were served.

Sherry White was ill this past weekend.

Darla Mason has been ill with the flu and spent several days with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Elgie Stewart. We are glad to report these girls are feeling better.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Thomason and daughter, Mrs. Albert Blair, of Lubbock visited one afternoon last week with the Lonnie Peels. The Bill Stone and Mason McClellan families were Sunday luncheon guests of the Ray McClellans.

Fredrickson rites held in Houston

By MRS. EDMUND WILKE

Hello everybody! Hope everything is going okay for each of you. Another week has gone by and still no rain. I guess each of us is eagerly looking forward to a tomorrow when it will rain! I am, how about you?

We would like to extend our deepest sympathies to Mr. and Mrs. Donald Pennell in the loss of his sister, Mrs. Lee Fredrickson, who died a week ago Wednesday at 4:30 p. m. in Reese AFB Hospital. Mrs. Fredrickson had lived with the Pennells for the past four years and has been in ill health most of that time. She is survived by one son, Victor Fredrickson of Houston, two brothers, Donald Pennell and Robert Pennell of Yellowstone National Park and three sisters, Mrs. Lynn Freeman of Houston, Mrs. Georgia Simpson of Westmont, N. J., and Mrs. Johnnie Emery of Houston. May God comfort this family in their time of sorrow.

BALLGAMES: On Tuesday of last week the high school basketball teams played the Cooper teams with the girls losing their first district game and it just about broke their hearts. Our boys rallied and won their game on Friday, the teams traveled to Rocksville and the picture reversed, with our girls winning their game and the boys losing theirs. Tuesday night Joe Baetzger sprained his ankle and he had to use crutches for several days. Seems like our teams have been accident prone this year. We only have eight girls playing and Patsy Gindorf has been out of two games now with the mumps, leaving only one substitute, but this hasn't slowed up the girls one bit. They get out there and play a good game just the same! They will be playing the New Home teams here on the home court this coming Friday night. The Junior High teams went to Rocksville last Monday night and the boys won their game and the girls lost theirs. They will be playing in the district tournament at New Home Feb. 2-4. Good luck kids!

Mrs. Evelyn Hill entertained a group of her friends Friday afternoon with a home appliance party.

MRS. WES DONAHOO returned on Monday after visiting relatives in Lubbock for several days.

'Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?'

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?", the enormously successful Edward Albee play, has been filmed by Warner Bros. in an audacious contemporary document calculated to entertain and provoke motion picture audiences as never before.

The film, which opens Sunday at the Tower Theatre, undoubtedly will be the most discussed of the decade, arousing passions and controversy while eliciting attention through both its shock potential and its artistic merit.

"Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" is animated by the magical starring presence of Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, George Segal and Sandy Dennis—fierce participants in an exercise in torment.

No one under 18 will be permitted unless accompanied by a parent.
