Six-Inch Rain, Hail Hits Turkey Area

Turkey and the surrounding area received what is expected to be the largest rain they could expect in 25 to 30 years Tuesday night when an official 6.2 inches of rain and damaging hail hit at 7:50 p. m.

Flooding in the downtown area occurred when the 6.2 inches fell in one hour and forty minutes, for the storm passed at 9:30 p. m., it was reported.

Most of the hail stones which fell were the size of golf balls however, in certain spots in the Turkey area the largest hail stones reported with about the size of a man's fist.

The storm was accompanied by high winds of 60 mph and better and some wind damage resulted, it was reported.

The center of the storm seemed to be over Turkey or slightly west of the town as farm levies gave away and runoff water covered the Highway west of town stopping traffic.

Soil Conservation Service Technicians reported that damage to the conventional terracing systems in the Turkey area were moderate while the newly installed parallel terraces had only light damage. Most of the damage to parallel terracing was done by run-off water from other fields, it was reported.

Damage to Precinct No. 4 county roads was heavy in some spots as bridges were damaged or lost from the unusually heavy rainfall coming in less than two hours.

While Turkey was overly blessed with rainfall, the rest of the county didn't fair so well. Here in Memphis, only .15 of an inch was recorded.

The Parnell and Plaska areas, along with several areas received about one inch or more, while the eastern portion and northern portion of the county received only light rains.

Friday night, the Indians defeated the Yankees 11 to 7 in an extra inning. The Giants defeated the Tigers 20 to 2.

Tuesday night, in the first game, the Indians defeated the Yankees 16 to 2 while the Tigers and Giants game was called because of rain. The make up

City Council Approves 1966-67 Budget, Plans Street Improvement

The Memphis City Council handled two important items of business Tuesday night. The Council approved a budget for 1966-67 in the amount of $129,836 and called for bids on constructing street improvements.

The budget approved by the City Council Tuesday night called for an increase of approximately $10,000 over the 1965-66 budget which was set at $119,808.

The budget calls for added expenditures in the following departments (round figures): Street $2,000, Police $1,500, Health and Sanitation $1,300, Cemetery $1,800, and General $3,500. Decreases are planned for Swimming Pool dept. of $500 and $200 in the Community bldg. fund.

Also the budget calls for a $3,000 annual payment for the proposed street warrants.

Estimated receipts to meet the budgeted items call for the total receipt of $129,945.44 from all sources. The council in approving the budget approved a tax rate increase of $.10 on $100 valuation.

In the 1965-66 budget the city's tax rate was $1.40 per $100 and in the 1966-67 budget the tax rate was set at $1.50 per $100 valuation.

The City expects to receive $78,515.88 from ad valorem taxes $11,731.11 from gross receipts, $677.30 from swimming, $3,140 from cemetery, $20,411.55 from sewer service, $6,154.50 from miscellaneous charges.

Street Improvement

According to a legal notice published in this issue, the City of Memphis is asking for sealed proposals for constructing street improvements in the City of Memphis which will be received by the City Secretary until 7 p.m. June 27, 1966.

Notice is given that the City of Memphis intends to issue time warrants in full payment for the proposed contract, the maximum amount of the proposed time warrant indebtedness to be $30,000., the rate of interest such time warrants are to bear being five per cent per annum and maximum maturity date thereof being Dec. 31, 1977.

The Council will open bids at 7 p. m. Monday, June 27, in a special session, it was announced.

MHS Band Students Do Well at All-State Meet

Memphis band students came home from the All-State Band meet in Austin this week with two Division 1 ratings; one Division 2-plus rating and three Division 3 ratings, Darryl Phillips, band director, announced.

Sandy McQueen earned a Division 1 on her trombone solo and the flute trio composed of Rosemary Harrison, Ginger Greene and Cynthia Evans took a Division 1.

Division 2-plus rating was made by the trombone trio composed of Sandy McQueen, Amy Hillhouse and Sandy Saye.

Taking Division 3 rating were three solos played by Sport Waddell, baritone; Carol Voyles, clarinet; and Randy Driver, Snare Drums.

Accompanists for the students were Mrs. George Ferris, who accompanied Sandy McQueen; Regina Hoover and Anita Snowdon.

Accompanying the students to Austin were Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Harrison, Mrs. Warren Driver, Mrs. Gayle Greene. Mr. and Mrs. George Ferris flew to Austin for one day of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillips went to Lubbock Wednesday where he is enrolled for the summer semester at Texas Technological College.

Senator Jack Hightower Addresses Joint Lions, Rotary Meet Tuesday

Senator Jack Hightower spoke Tuesday to a joint meeting of the Memphis Lions and Rotary Clubs. A good representation of both organizations was on hand.

Senator Hightower got his address off to a good start by stating that the Rotarian were here to adhere to their strick rules of attendance and the Lions turned out to make a good showing for their club. "I'm here to eat with Mrs. Barber," the Senator said. Mrs. Barber and the ladies who prepare the food the Rotary and Lions Club luncheon have made lasting impressions with the delicious food they serve.

Dr. J. A. Odom arranged the program and asked that C. E. Voyles, vice-president of the Rotary Club and an ex-classmate of Senator Hightower, to make the introduction.

The senator entitled his address, "The Floods Are Coming." He began by saying that Altus, Okla., was moved to higher ground after Red River flooded the young community. Smart people plan for the floods they know are coming, he said.

Here in Texas, he said, for it is Texas I am predicting that floods will come, we are now a busy people. In 1965 our gross product was $24 billion and by 1975 it is predicted it will be $55 billion.

Desposable personal income is expected to rise from $18 billion in 1965 to $37.94 billion in 1975, less than 10 years away. An additional 500,000 school children are expected to be in our schools six years from now and college enrollment in this state is expected to double very shortly.

How are we as Texans going to feed, cloth, house and educate our rapidly expanding population? It means our tax dollars are going to have to go farther by finding better ways to spend our tax money. Also, taxes will have to be more equably raised.

For years, this state tried to depend on its natural resources to foot the tax bill, but it became so that this was not enough. Now the state sales tax is filling the gap, the senator said.

We have lots of problems now.

Club Asks Donations For 'Kool Cash for Kool-Aid'

Area residents will have a chance to assist the war effort in Vietnam during the month of June by contributing to the "Cool Cash for Kool-Aid" project which is being sponsored in Memphis by the Atalantean Club.

Members of the Atalantean Club committee have placed milk jugs in business houses around town this week and are asking that all local residents who want to help with the project place their contributions in the jugs. Members of the committee are Mrs. Henry Foster, Mrs. Robert Montgomery, Mrs. Morris Davis and Mrs. K. B. Chick.

Mrs. Milton Beasley, president of the club, stated that Mayor H. J. Howell has lent his assistance to the program by proclaiming the month of June as "Cool Cash for Kool?-Aid" month in Memphis.

Mrs. Beasley explained that at the state convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs held recently in Lubbock, Wick Fowler, newspaper war correspondent from Austin who had recently returned from Vietnam said that the men used Kool-Aid in their drinking water. With a few grains of Kool-Aid and the necessary purifier they could better manage to drink the swamp like water, he stated.

A goal of at least 4000 packages has been set, representative of one package of Kool-Aid per citizen of Memphis, Mrs. Beasley stated. All of the money collected will be used to purchase Kool-Aid, and will be sent as a token of appreciation from the Citizens of Memphis, Texas, she explained.

In addition to dropping money into the milk jugs, persons may also leave their contributions at the First State Bank or contact a member of the Committee mentioned above.

Local Citizens Give 23 Pints Of Blood

Twenty-three Memphis citizens were on hand Wednesday morning at the Community Center to donate pints of blood to the Coffee Memorial Blood Center mobile unit.

Blood was donated to the accounts of Frank Ellis, Clyde Milam and Frank Monzingo.

Thirty-one persons had originally signed up to give blood to Gene Jorgenson who worked up the list and made arrangements with the Coffee Blood Center to come to Memphis. The list was worked up at the Memphis Lions Club meeting so most of those donating were members of that organization.

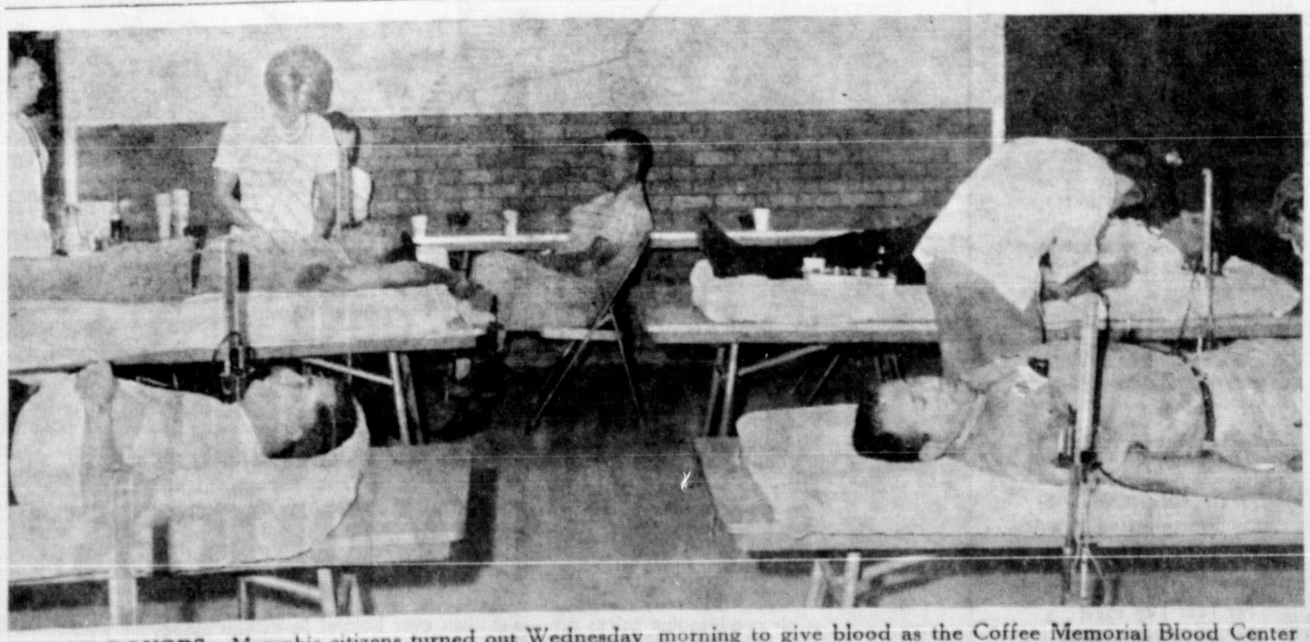

Jorgenson said, "we want to express our thanks to those who gave blood, and also to Dr. J. A. Odom for lending us the mattresses and to Hall County Hospital for the use of the sheets."

Coffee and Cokes were served to the men after giving blood.

Gene Lindsey and Will Leslie were the first two men to show up Wednesday at 9 a. m. to give blood, Jorgenson announced.

The others include: Bill Jones, Hubert Jones, John Shadid, Bill Hall, Marion Reeves, Rayford Hutcherson, Zack Fisher, Gene Jorgenson, Richard Liner, Leroy Gaston, Kenneth Dale, Lester Campbell, M. C. Allen, Jr., Pat Johnson, James Jarrel, Bill Johnson, C. R. Foster, J. D. Baisden, Roger Hargrove, Mrs. Deane Bradshaw and Jim Goldston.

Workers from Coffee Blood Center included Mrs. Walton, Mrs. Russell, Tana Dee Prete and Jim Nelson.

Swimming, Boating Enjoyable But Dangerous

Swimming is Texas' number one summer recreation for children of all ages, and when the temperature soars over the 100 degree mark as it has in Memphis the past few days, large crowds of children go swimming.

Naturally, when children swim in a public or privately owned swimming pool, the danger is reduced to a minimum and the pleasures the children receive is well worth the nominal risk involved. Considering the very few accidents which do occur in swimming pools over the nation in relation to the number of swimmers, this sport is one of the safest of any.

However, swimming and boating seasons go hand in hand and together they are the most popular with Americans. Also, when put together, they are responsible for most of the annual drowning in this country—6,700, the Red Cross water safety chairman reports.

"By exercising proper care, many of the fatalities could have been avoided," Doyle Fowler, Hall County Red Cross Water Safety Chairman, said.

Ten precautions against drowning and other waterside accidents were released by the Red Cross and it is appropriate our citizens should know and adhere to these precautions:

1. Learn to swim. If you can swim a little, learn to swim better.

2. Always swim with a companion—never alone. For long distance swimming, have someone in a boat accompany you.

3. Swim in a safe place. The presence of lifeguards usually indicates the area is safe for swimming.

4. Before diving, make sure the water is deep enough and there are no hidden objects such as submerged rocks.

5. If you have not been swimming since last summer, take it easy at first. Recognize your limitations and don't try to go beyond them.

6. Wait at least an hour after eating before going in the water, and don't swim when overheated or overtired.

7. Don't depend on a tube or inflated toy to hold you up. They can slip away from you or sink themselves if punctured.

8. Watch your step. Walk, don't run around pool decks. Don't skylark.

9. Try to remain calm in case of trouble in the water. Assume a face-up floating position, keep your hands under water, and slowly move hands and feet.

10. If your boat capsizes, don't swim away from it. Most small craft will float, even, filled with water.

Swimming, boating, and other water sports, and the kiss of the sun promises fun, relaxation, healthier and trimmer bodies for young and old during the next several months. Obviously the best guarantee to enjoying the water and the safeguard against drowning is to learn to swim. Age is no factor—many people have passed the beginner swimming test at the age of 75, and children can be taught to adjust to water and to swim at an early age.

This past weekend, it was reported in the news that a 15-year-old boy and his younger brother were lost in a rain swollen river. The boys had been swinging out over the water on a rope when the rope broke, plunging them into the river.

Statistics show that over 60 percent of the 6,700 drownings last year occurred when an individual found himself accidentally in the water rather than entering the water intentionally, such as falling overboard from a boat, slipping off a dock or the side of a pool or, in the case of children, wading, falling into sewers and water filled ditches.

Many of these tragedies could have been averted by a simple reaching rescue, the Red Cross reports. Unless a rescuer is a strong swimmer and skilled in life-saving, he should never attempt a swimming rescue, or a double drowning may occur.

Tragedies which occur remind us of the danger involved in many of our recreational activities. Let us keep in mind good safety precautons when we're swimming, fishing or water skiing this summer.

The competent individual is one who is able to do a job and do it right — someone you can rely on. Usually, competence and confidence go hand-in-hand. If we know someone is good, and reliable, we trust them readily. If an individual knows that he is good, he has a confidence that makes others feel more secure.

It is pretty much the same in the world of business. Within the local community, the stores with a reputation for service and customer satisfaction are good stores. They have proved through the years their interest in meeting the needs of their customers.

Competence is a matter of sustained performance. This is why local stores continually try to please you in every way they can.

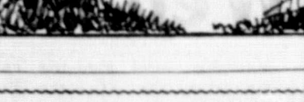

If you've forgotten how good things can be when you trade with folks you know, we're confident you'll be pleasantly surprised when you shop at home.

Which Infernal Machine?

Ever since man began exercising his creativeness, he has had a running battle with the infernal machine.

It probably all began 5,000 years ago with the invention of the wheel, one most important of human tions. Man reveled in the of his accomplishment first time a foot challenged wheel to the right-of-way lost.

From that moment, up the years to the present has continually been in with the infernal machine has, more often than not, second best. Each time has, man has cried out in denouncing the dangers of safeguards inherent machine.

Today, there's an infernal chine running wild on our ways—the automobile. But as it has been through the the hue and cry is for refinements of the machine to make it Very rarely has man ever ered the danger might rest in himself.

Whether it be a foot of a wheel or a malevolent hind the wheel, all would be fectly safe they say, with refinements.

Wake up, America. Refinements and safeguards important, but without proper titudes and skills, additional tective features will only be the license for irresponsibility. It's not so much the infernal chine that needs refinement much as it is in the infernal erator.—Canadian Record

Watch The Horizon

Keep your eyes on the horizon when quail hunting. Note where the dog is pointing and walk to that spot.

But don't look at the ground. By keeping your eyes on the horizon you can focus them quicker and better pick individual birds as they flush.

Three Hall County Boys To Leave Saturday For Boys State In Austin

Three boys from Hall County will be among the 750 converging on Austin Saturday, June 11, for the 1966 session of American Legion Boys State, sponsored by the American Legion, Department of Texas, Robert Philpot, Commander of Simmons-Noel Post of the American Legion, announced this week.

The three boys attending from here will be Terry Jackson Gable, Route 2, Lakeview; Danny Lee Clark, Star Route, Memphis and Larry Wayne Gaston of Memphis.

Assisting the American Legion in financing the program this year are the Memphis Rotary Club, the Memphis Club and Lakeview Lions Clubs.

The popular Legion program will be in session on the Campus of the University of Texas from June 11 to June 18. Session will move to the State Capitol on Friday, June 17, where the newly elected officials will govern for the day.

The first Boys State program was held in Austin, June 10, 1940, with 108 boys attending. The program has steadily grown in size until the present ceiling was reached in 1965.

Boys State in Texas can be thought of as a mythical 51st state, where each citizen participates in the program of "learning by doing." When a boy arrives at Boys State, knowing no one and little more about Boys State itself, and works himself up to holding a state office, he can truthfully and honestly say he has learned by doing.

The American Legion in forty-nine states will sponsor Boys States where boys who have just completed their junior year in high school will study the organization, operation, and political processes of state government. Youth will participate in the organization of political parties, campaigns, elections, and the enactment and enforcement of their own laws within the mythical state.

"Boys State is one of the outstanding youth training programs of the Americanism Commission of The American Legion," Chairman Carr stated. "Not only do the youths learn more about the functions of government but also they see the importance of the role played by each citizen in discharging his basic citizenship responsibilites. They soon discover how the quality of government is related directly to the active interest of each citizen."

Keynote speaker for this year's program will be Dr. H. Roe Bartle of Kansas City, Missouri. Dr. Bartle, a former mayor of Kansas City, has received numerous academic degrees and has been honored by ten foreign countries for his efforts in the cause of freedom. Dr. Bartle, who is sometimes called America's number one speaker is, by popular deman, a repeater from the 1965 session. His address is scheduled Wednesday evening, June 15th in the Student Union.

A Governor's Ball will climax the week's activities at the Student Union on Friday night.

dled her subject in a sweet tempered and interesting manner.

"Worth of Character" was a well prepared paper by Miss Ella Hollifield. We are all character builders, either for better or for worse, and every person has his or her influence. Miss Ella is a young lady who exemplifies in her daily life the worth of character, not by an assumption of self-righteousness, but by deeds of kindness and pursuing a sympathetic and splendid womanhood. She acquitted herself splendidly and won golden opinions.

Miss Belle Hittson, like those preceding her had prepared an able paper, which portrayed her personal characteristics. "True Education," is something every person should strive for. Not a puffed, egotistical cramming of superficial nothings, but a broader conception of the things necessary to a better and higher citizenship.

"Religions of the World" was delivered ably and eloquently by Miss Willie White, and consisted of interesting facts and figures of the world's religions from Moses down to the present time. She was in good voice and has a good delivery so that the oration was found thoroughly interesting to those of an investigating turn of mind, notwithstanding the dullness attaching to statistics and chronologies of this kind.

Without detracting from the merits or worth of the preceding members, it was conceded by perhaps everyone present that the best was saved for the last, and the oration of Miss Blanche Temple was, by common consent, awarded the blue ribbon. Not only was her theme appropriate and her dendition beautiful, but her delivery and voice are most correct and attractive. "American Women" is a subject which will stand the closets scrutiny of public research, and to recite the sacrifices, heroism, womanhood standing and true worth of American women from the earliest history down to today, is to paint a picture of rare beauty. Miss Blanche, as a fine sample of this class, won the first place in public criticism and justly so. So general have been the comments on her paper that we have thought it would be fitting and appropriate to reproduce it this week for the benefit of those who were unable to be present.

The presentation of diplomas by Prof. Hittson was quite impressive and interesting, and his remarks accompanying the same were to the point and appropriate. As he truly stated this was to be the commencement of their education and not the closing, as some might consider. But it also is hoped that the occasion was the commencement of a new interest in public school and educational work in Memphis. Never before have public interests been so thoroughly away to educational advantages as it is today, and our word for it, the revival along these lines is sure to bear fruit"

The milk jugs you see in most business establishments in Memphis have been placed there by members of the Atalantean Club. Members are soliciting funds to buy Kool-Aid to send to the U. S. Armed Forces who are serving in Viet Nam. It is used to flavor drinking water, which is hard to swallow in that country.

The "Cash for Kool-Aid" project is just another one of the worthwhile projects being sponsored by one of the women's clubs of the city. Your Commentator congratulates the women of our community who are always sponsoring something to improve the community. This time, it is something to help U. S. men overseas and aid in the war effort. Give your dimes, quarters and dollars to help with this project by dropping them into one of the milk jars located downtown.

Lions and Rotarians heard a hometown boy Tuesday make a talk about our state and what it will be 10 or 20 years in the future which will be facing us. The home boy is a Texas Senator who is looking after his part of Texas in a knowing way.

Report From Washington

By WALTER ROGERS

Representative, 18th Congressional District

Non-Essential Spending Must Be Stopped

Until the war in Viet Nam has ended, all non-essential spending should be curtailed by our Government—and the economy of the Nation geared to wartime conditions. By attempting to maintain programs initiated in advance of the rising demands of the war, we are risking inflation by training manpower and material resources, we are placing a strain on the Treasury to meet all obligations without incurring enormous deficits, and we are inviting the necessity of tax increases. All of these problems can be held to a minimum by reducing rependitures in what might termed "luxury" areas of Gobernment activity.

I am opposed to continuing programs that can be laid aside until the course of events in Southeast Asia is resolved. There is no question in my mind that Congress would not have enacted a number of programs now in effect had the war been raging at present levels when they were proposed and adopted.

If there is a single, paramount obligation of the Federal Government it is to maintain the Nation's security—to insure that our defenses are second-to-none in the world in order that freedom is preserved. One hundred and seventy-five years ago, in his first annual message, President George Washington told Congress, "Among the many interesting objects which will engage your attention, that of providing for the common defense will merit particular regard. To be prepared for war is one of the most effectual means of preserving peace." This has been the policy of our Government since George Washington's time, and his words set forth the overriding responsibility of Congress—a responsibility that surpasses all others. The clauses of the Constitution which give Congress authority "to raise and support armies," "To provide and maintain a Navy," and "To make Rules for the Government and Regulation of the land and naval Forces" were not placed in the Constitution to endow the National Government with the power to do these things, but were placed there to designate the branch of government which should exercise such pomers. Although arguments have continued over the years as to whether certain governmental functions properly belong to the Federal Government or the States, there can be no question that maintaining military strength and the national security are responsibilities of Congress.

Programs go through two stages in Congress before taxpayers' money may be spent to put them in effect.. First, an authorization bill must be enacted to dine the terms of the program and, usually, to place a limit on the amount of funds that may be expended. Second, the authorization act must be followed by the enactment of a specific appropriation bill. It is not uncommon for considerable time to elapse between the enactment of an authorization bill and the actual appropriation; for example, Congress authorized the construction of the Canadian River Project ten years before it approved the appropriation to begin work on the dam at Sanford and the aqueduct system. In my view, Congress should hold the line on appropriating funds for programs already authorized but not funded unless they can survive a test of absolute necessity. To do so would mean that a number of special interests in this country would be denied funding for programs they have advocated. Particularly vulnerable in this approach would be the Nation's largest cities, for they are leaning more and more heavily on the Federal Government to provide the money for activities many of us feel should be their responsibility and that of their State governments.

But the United States is at war. It is time we recognized that the demands of fighting the war require major readjustments—and time Congress led the way toward putting them into effect.

If you copy the ways of the sloth, don't be surprised to find yourself out on a limb.

Check Your Compass

Before leaving home be sure to check your pocket compass so that in an emergency you can quickly locate the four compass points.

When in strange surroundings it is easy to become confused as to which end of the compass points North.

Since North and South are painted different colors on most compasses, it is wise before going afield to mark on the back of instrument which color represents North.

Sen. Hightower—

In higher education, we will have to build more junior colleges and ask our communities to carry of the burden of junior college program. There is just not enough room in our senior colleges to educate all who want a higher education.

Inadequate hospital bed facilities is another major problem with an expanding population. The state has taken much of the responsibility for the mentally retarded and plans are to build eight more hospitals.

"When the flood of a growing population is felt, we will still have the same water, land and air we have right now," Senator Hightower said. Our citizens must find ways to increase production through experimentation projects. In the past, our state has relied on projects which pay their own way but much more needs to be done in this field, the senator said. He mentioned pollution of our air and water as another preblem.

"We needed to do [illegible] well and plan well [illegible] row's floods," Senator [illegible] said. "Our state can [illegible] higher ground by [illegible] problems one at a time" concluded.
