

School Board Election Set for Saturday

Trustees of the county's four schools will be chosen in elections held in the respective districts Saturday, April 1.

Elections are contested in three of the four districts.

Absentee balloting ended on Tuesday, March 28, at the end of the school day. Two ballots were cast at Wellington, the only district reporting so far.

Wellington

Wellington school district voters will name three trustees from a field of four candidates.

Three incumbents are seeking re-election: David Baumgardner, Glen Taylor and Eddie Slay. The fourth candidate is A. J. Fires, a former school board member.

The election will be held in the county courtroom of the courthouse between the regular election hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Earl Hunter will be the election judge and he will select the clerks to assist him, according to Supt. J. L. Harper.

Samnorwood

Four candidates are seeking three places on the board at Samnorwood.

Running for re-election are J. H. Oldham and J. H. Christner. The other candidates are John Stages and Austin Cantrell.

Sam Carter, whose term expires, did not seek re-election. The election will be held in the foyer of the school gymnasium, with Mrs. Robert Young serving as election judge.

No absentee ballots had been cast Tuesday, according to Loyd Stephens, high school principal.

Quail

Quail voters will elect three trustees from a slate of six candidates.

Those who have filed for re-election are N. E. Childers, C. H. Long and Elvis Pitts. Other candidates whose names are on the ballot are B. J. Patterson, J. R. Kennedy and Richard Peters.

The election will be held at the school with Warren Carter and G. T. Stephens in charge.

Dodson

The Dodson school trustee election is uncontested. There are three places to be filled and three candidates, who are J. C. Howell and Weldon Sexton, who seek re-election, and Herschel Tabor. Pete Nipper, whose term expires, is not a candidate.

The election will be held at the Dodson school.

County Trustees

Two members of the county school board will be elected and the two incumbents face no opposition.

Bill Jones is the candidate from Precinct 2 and T. R. Cunningham from Precinct 4.

These candidates will be voted on at the regular polling places by the voters in their respective precincts.

Awards Presented

Quail Teams Honored by Community Monday

Quail community honored its high school basketball teams Monday night, March 27, with a dinner and awards presentation.

This was the climax to a year that saw Coach Billy Wilson's Quails win the 9-B district championship.

Guest speaker was Bob Wilkinson, farmer-rancher of the Canyon area, and a graduate student at West Texas State University.

Mr. Wilkinson discussed how sports in high school can help boys and girls in the competition they must face in later life.

Letter jackets were awarded members of the Quails and Bobwhites teams.

Girls receiving them were Judy Campbell, Stella Johnson, Rita Cummings, Paula Langley, Pam Langley, Joyce Johnson, and Jan Gosnell. Mrs. Robert Gosnell, team mother, also was presented a jacket.

Boys who won jackets were

Dodson Legion Entertains Top Officials at Fish Fry Monday

American Legion officials on the department, division and district levels will be guests of the Dodson Legion Post and Auxiliary at a fish fry Monday evening, April 3.

Paying a return visit to this, one of the newest posts in Texas, will be Department Commander Jack Flynn, and his wife, Texas Auxiliary President Mary Flynn of Dimmitt. A third officer on the state level will be Willis H. McGregor of Austin, Department adjutant.

Others who have notified Post Commander Dennis Holland they will attend are Fourth Division Commander Wilford Stoerner of Plainview, and past Department Commander Clayton Mann of Wichita Falls.

Two district commanders will be present: 18th District Commander Ray Beard of Amarillo and 13th District Commander J. C. Mann of Wichita Falls, along with 18th District Vice Commander Bill Brady of Claude.

Dodson hospitality has become famous among the Legions' top echelon officers in recent months, and this will be the second visit that most of these officers will be making to the town.

This is a special meeting, Holland declared, at which the Legion and Auxiliary will be joint hosts.

With an enrollment of 42, the Legion Post has a larger membership than many small-city posts, its officials have been told.

McGregor, Department Adjutant, is a full-time officer in the state headquarters. Formerly he lived at Idalou and attended Texas Tech, prior to serving in the Navy during World War II.

Active in the American Legion 18 years, he was Department Service Officer from 1951

Legion-Kiwanis Honors Officers, Patrolmen

Law enforcement officers of Collingsworth County and Highway Patrol members of the area were honored at a meeting of the Kiwanis Club Friday, March 24, and sponsored jointly by that group and the American Legion.

John Coleman was the speaker. At the end of the program, a citation for his work as a law enforcement officer was presented to Sheriff John Rainey.

Other honor guests at the meeting were Police Chief Donald Nunneley, Deputy Sheriff George Hooten, Justice of the Peace Claude McKinney, and these members of the Department of Safety: Sgt. Floyd Ethridge, Patrolman Pat King and Patrolman E. A. Nelson, license and weight division of Childress; and Patrolman Dave Croslin and Patrolman Kenneth Henson of Shamrock.

"Inasmuch as about three-fourths of all members of our Kiwanis Club belong to the American Legion and because it is also in keeping with the thought and teaching of Kiwanis, we thought this would be an appropriate place for a program on law enforcement," said Mr. Coleman.

Certain dangerous trends were noted. "These dangers for our society and our way of life manifest themselves in a growing disregard for the rights of peaceful citizens ... increasing crime rates, including that by juveniles ... riots engulfing communities and frequently accompanied by burnings, looting and even murder ... unfounded and irresponsible charges against the police ... disrespect for law and due process ... and undue concern for the lawbreaker instead of his victim," Coleman said.

Athletes Will Be Honored at Sports Banquet

Eight major awards will be made to outstanding Wellington high school athletes and recognition will be given a much larger group at the annual all-sports banquet Saturday, April 1.

The banquet will be held in the school cafeteria, beginning at 8 p.m.

A few tickets are still available, said Stephen Qualls, president of the Skyrocket Booster Club, sponsor of the awards event. This year's sales are limited to 200, however.

The traditional awards will be made, but the recipients will not be known until they are announced at the banquet.

These will be Mr. Skyrocket, the outstanding lineman award, outstanding back, best all around athlete, fighting heart award, Mr. Basketball and Miss Basketball.

The three district champion teams will be recognized, the boys and girls basketball teams and the girls volleyball team.

Recognition also will be given the boys and girls B basketball teams and the boys and girls who have received places on the all-district basketball and football teams.

There will be no speaker at this year's banquet, and the presentation of awards will keynote the evening, said E. W. Clement, high school principal.

Norwood Baptist Revival Opens on April 3

A revival will open at the Norwood Baptist Church on Monday, April 3, and continue through the following Sunday, April 9, the Rev. Lewis Ellis, pastor, has announced.

The Rev. J. C. Crabb, pastor of First Baptist Church in Blair, Okla., will be the evangelist and singing will be under the direction of Mike Manley, pianist for the First Baptist Church at Hollis.

There will be evening services only. Prayers will begin at 7 p.m. and the evening services at 7:30.

The public is invited.

During Holidays

Two Girls Injured in Falls from Horses

Two Wellington girls were injured in falls from horses during the Easter holiday period. They were Tanya Horton and Marcia King.

Tanya, 17, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Horton, is in St. Joseph's Hospital for treatment of a fractured skull and broken right shoulder which she received while on a family picnic Sunday.

Mr. Horton said that Tanya and her older brother, Raymond Horton, Jr., were riding double when the horse without warning began bucking. Both riders were thrown off.

Tanya, who was unconscious, was rushed to St. Joseph's and did not regain consciousness for about two and a half hours, her father said. Raymond Horton, Jr., home from West Texas State for the holidays, was not injured.

The girl will remain in St.

Contract Let to Widen 7.5 Miles Highway 83

The contract for widening US Highway 83 from the southeast corner of Wellington to the Childress County line was let by the Texas Highway Department to Cooper & Woodruff, Inc., of Amarillo, on Wednesday, March 22.

Clyde Drake, district construction engineer, said that a work order on the project has not been received here, and the date for construction to begin is not known. He added that it is expected to be within about 30 days.

Seven and one-half miles of Highway 83 is affected by this work. It will include widening the roadway surface to 26 feet and adding an 8-foot paved shoulder. This will bring it to the width of the highway through Childress County, as well as some of the stretches in the north Panhandle.

It is hoped the work will be completed this summer.

Work securing the right of way which will make the widening possible was started by Collingsworth County officials several weeks ago.

The contract calls for grade construction, a base and double asphalt topping. This will include a new top on the present highway.

There has been no indication from the Texas State Highway

Department as to when US 83 from Wellington north to the Wheeler County line will be widened.

The widening of Highway 83, under way in recent years, is considered by towns along the route as a major boost to its potential of increasing the tourist trade through the area.

City Will Elect Mayor, Councilmen

Wellington voters will elect a mayor and two members of the city council in the municipal election Tuesday, April 4.

Only normal interest in the election has been noted so far.

Three candidates are seeking the office of mayor, and there are three candidates for the two places on the city council.

Seeking re-election is Mayor Hiram Cudd, and the other candidates for mayor are John S. Coleman and Raymond Terry.

Both council members whose terms expire are candidates for re-election and these are Sam Adams and Howard Holton. The third man seeking a place on the city council is Ralph Owens.

The election will be held in the Fire Station between the hours of 8 a.m. and 7 p.m.

Joe Terry will serve as election judge and Mrs. Jennie Holcomb and Mrs. Ralph Ball will be the clerks.

The deadline for absentee balloting is Friday, March 31 at 5 p.m. Only five absentee ballots had been cast through Tuesday morning, a check at the City Hall showed.

Altus AFB Checks Report

Lighted Object Chases Car, Airman Reports

An Air Force staff sergeant, traveling with his family on an FM Highway in the Loco community early Friday, March 24, has reported to Collingsworth County officers that he was chased by a mysterious lighted object at speeds up to 100 miles an hour.

An Air Force investigation team, composed of Col. Hallmark and Lt. Nicholson of Altus Air Force Base, was in Wellington Monday, seeking all available information on the report.

They indicated here they would contact Loco residents before returning to Altus.

Staff Sgt. Johnny Ferguson, en route with his family to visit his parents at Memphis, reported to Deputy Sheriff George Hooten that he first saw the glowing red light about 5:30 a.m. after he had parked his car and was looking at a road map, adding that they had taken the road as a short cut.

He said he first thought the light was a vehicle with only one light, but as it came closer he could hear no noise and left. The light first appeared to be about 18 inches in diameter, and as it grew closer it became as wide as the road.

Ferguson, who is stationed at Vandenberg AFB, California, then told Deputy Hooten that when he started driving away, the object followed him at the same speed, sometimes as high as 100 miles an hour, adding that it followed the terrain of the country, going down with the dips and up on the small knolls. He said the object gained on the car, then as he approached a farm house, it split into two separate lights and disappeared.

Ferguson, with his wife and children, Judy, 10, Howard 7, and Carol, 9, then came to Wellington and stopped at Cherokee Inn, and from there notified officers.

With the Altus AFB team when they were here Monday were Sgt. and Mrs. Ferguson, Deputy Hooten said.

Air Force investigation of reports of unidentified flying objects — generally known as UFOs — are often made, Deputy Hooten said the Altus team made no report on their investigation here but appeared to be evaluating it with open minds.

Deep Plowing Approved for Farm Program

Collingsworth County has now been approved to use the 12 to 15 inch deep plowing practice under the 1967 ACP. The ACP Development Group had earlier requested the 10 to 15 inch plowing to be reinstated as a special practice after it was eliminated from the National Program for 1967. However, this request was rejected at that time.

"On March 16, 1967 we received notice that the State ACP Handbook had been amended to provide a practice for 12 to 15 inch deep plowing. On March 17 the County ACP Development Group approved a supplement to the deep plowing practice to provide this sub part," said Millard Brown, ASCS office manager.

"Farmers who would like to do 12 to 15 inch plowing this spring should file their application for committee approval at once. The government cost-

TV Translator Names Directors at Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the Greenbelt TV Translator System was held Thursday, March 16 in the Farm Bureau building.

Business in general was discussed and a board of directors was elected for the coming year. Those remaining from last year's board were Howard Hunt, Carl Wischkaemper, L. A. Davis and Marshall Peters. New directors elected were C. B. Carter, Worth Shields and Les White.

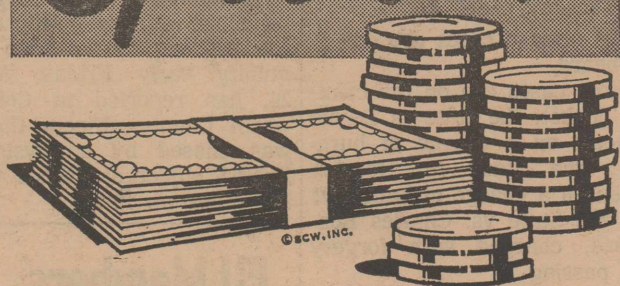

Guests for the meeting included Bill Tory, engineer for KGNC Channel 4 in Amarillo; Bill Colvin, engineer for the Greenbelt Translator System, who lives at Canadian; and Arnold Cruze of Memphis, engineer for Memphis and Childress translators.

Mr. Tory brought a short talk concerning the future of television, centering his statements around stereo sound along with three dimension picture. These improvements along with color TV are in the hands of the TV manufacturers, said Tory.

After the annual meeting, Wischkaemper, president of the System, called a special meeting of the new board of directors. About 30 users of the system were present.

DEFENSELESS AGAINST ATTACK!

Two of the most highly respected military men in America—Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, present chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Gen. Nathan F. Twining, recently retired former chairman—have gone to the American people with a warning that our nation is embarked, unnecessarily, on a course endangering our security and future.

Both have explained that Defense Secretary Robert McNamara, overruling the unanimous opinion of the Joint Chiefs, has refused to build the NIKE-X anti-missile system on the theory that deployment of defensive nuclear armament by the United States would cause Soviet Russia to further expand its entire nuclear capability; therefore, we are virtually defenseless—at least for the next few years—against a first-strike armada of Russian missiles.

Here are the facts, in which the American people may have a life-or-death stake:

Intelligence sources have confirmed to the Pentagon (says Gen. Wheeler) that the Russians have developed an anti-missile system (ABM) and have deployed it around Moscow.

The same U.S. intelligence source reports deployment of "suspected" ABM hardware in Northern Russia—to intercept and kill off Russia-bound missiles launched across "the top of the world" from U.S. bases.

Secretary McNamara questions the reports on the northern Russia installations. He thinks these may be merely surface-to-air (anti-aircraft) armament. Gen. Wheeler doesn't. He thinks they likely are ABM's.

Sec. McNamara believes, according to Gen. Wheeler, that (1) the U.S. has in 1967 achieved "a nuclear stalemate" with Russia, and that (2) if the U.S. should begin building and deploying an ABM system, this would only cause the Soviets to build and deploy more of their own and at the same time accelerate the production of attacks missiles—in other words, step up their war-making capability. This in turn, so McNamara's theory goes, would make it necessary for America to expand its defense and attack capabilities, "and we'd be engaged in an endless, costly, useless armament race with Russia."

Both Gen. Wheeler and Gen. Twining contend that Russia is already expanding her offensive as well as defensive nuclear capability, while the U.S.A. is being left behind, especially in armament capable of intercepting a Russian H-bomb missile attack.

In his book, "Neither Liberty Nor Safety," Gen. Twining says that a policy of cooperating with Soviet Communist leaders was established early in the Kennedy presidential administration, and that its major promoters in the State Department and Defense Department and the White House are continuing through the Johnson Administration to wield the decisive influence on present U.S. military and diplomatic policy toward Soviet Russia.

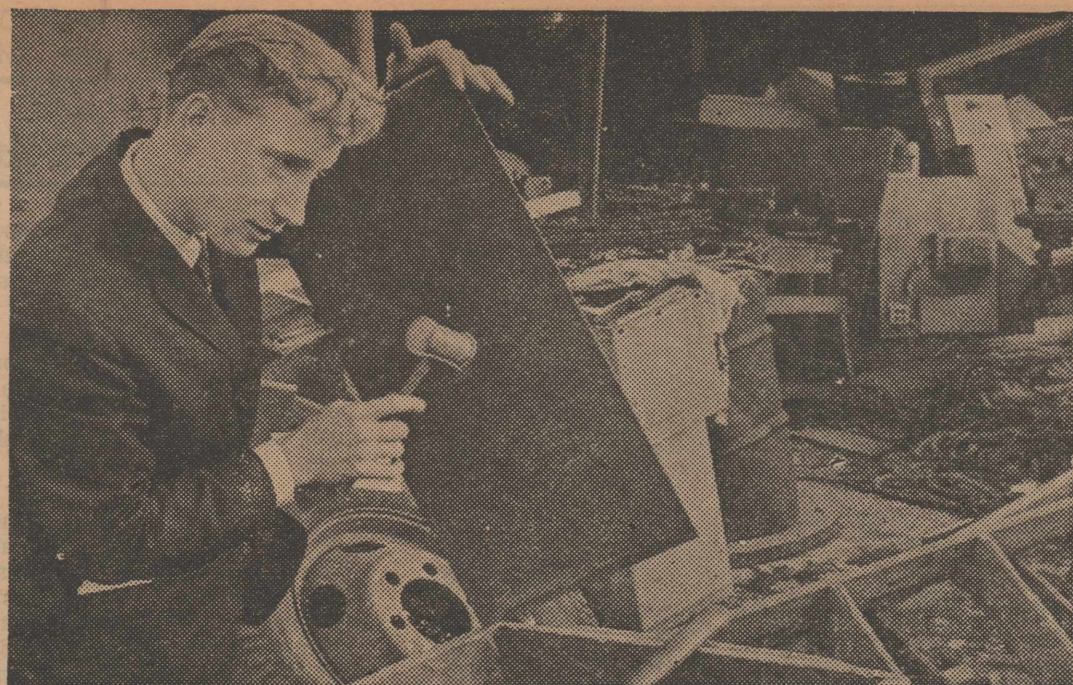

"A true nuclear stalemate," says Gen. Twining, "means that both sides have weapons and delivery forces, and neither side can defend effectively against the other. This idea is also sometimes called 'stable deterrence.' The advocates of this theory would reduce emphasis on nuclear weapon development, both defensive and offensive, thus holding at our present level, because this nation already has enough 'to blow up the world ten times over.'"

"If we follow this course of action, we will be committing suicide because the enemy is not following it."

"Americans will wake up some fine days," says Gen. Twining, "and the USSR will have the nuclear monopoly. The United States will have bombs and warheads which the military cannot deliver (through Russia's advancing ABM system) and the enemy will have bombs and warheads which our military services cannot stop."

Gen. Twining also points out that the present bomber policy of Sec. McNamara, overruling his military advisors, already has placed our nation years behind Russia in modern bombing fleets (which he thinks are indispensable in any adequate national defense system).

Gen. Twining accepts the U.S. tradition of a civilian head of national defense, but he con-

JUNK YARD MUSIC is performed by Rich O'Donnell, chief percussionist for the St. Louis Symphony Orchestra, as he hunts through a scrap yard for steel plates which will produce a certain note when struck. The gonglike sound was required for the U.S. premiere of Luciano Berio's "All-in-It II."

tends that the overwhelming opinion of professional military advisors must be considered in formulation of policy. Sec. McNamara, he says, "should not be in a position to ride rough-shod over professional military judgment and at the same time to be able to invoke pressures which tend to muzzle the professional establishment in its traditional dealings with both the public press and the Congress."

These are statements of the most vital significance to our nation and our people. Concerned citizens will want to call them to the attention of Congressmen and perhaps suggest that an investigation be held by proper Congressional committees.

Screwworm Weather Brings Reminder

With the arrival of warmer weather and some moisture, livestock owners are reminded that the spring season poses a real threat for re-infestation of screwworms if ranchers relax their vigilance, say officials at Mission.

They emphasize the importance of this close observation and urge producers to continue to treat all animal wounds, collect worm samples and send them to the Mission Lab for positive identification.

Norwood Patrons Hear School Finance Demands

A discussion of the financial resources and needs of the Samnorwood school district and consideration of what is an excellent educational program were given members of the Samnorwood Parent-Teacher Association and other patrons recently at an open house.

The speaker was Robert Dwight, superintendent of the school.

He reviewed the school budget for the last 10-year period and pointed out the growing demand on local financial resources to support a quality program.

Any property valuation gain has been largely offset by these demands, Mr. Dwight told the group.

Other areas that have affected the available funds have been the cost of living rise, increased cost of materials, etc.

Areas where work is needed were outlined by the speaker

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER
Thursday, March 30, 1967

to include new teaching machines, improvement of the homemaking department, added equipment in the commercial department, an addition for the vocational ag department, and increased teacher supplies, as well as in maintenance and repair.

The superintendent estimated that to keep abreast of the district's needs and maintain the present quality of the school will take a tax increase.

If the increase is not received, there will have to be a reduction in the teaching staff, the amount for teaching supplies, and building maintenance and repair will have to be stopped, the speaker reminded.

"Education has a price tag," Mr. Dwight said. "The price may vary from state to state and community to community. However, the quality of the educational program purchased varies with the price, just as it does with clothing, furniture, automobiles or any other commodity."

The superintendent urged the patrons to talk with the school board members about the kind of school they want to maintain.

The open house was held in the foyer of the school gymnasium. All teachers were recognized with corsages and bouquets.

Cash awards were presented the school Spelling Bee winners by Mrs. Douglas Coleman, PTA president. $5 each went to LeeAnne Bruton, winner of the senior division, and Dianna Cantrell, winner of the junior division. Checks for $3 went to the classes winning the poster contest advertising the open house. These were the second, sixth and seventh grades.

During the business session, officers for the coming year were named. Mrs. Coleman was re-elected president; and Mrs. John Stages was chosen vice president; Mrs. Ralph Graves, secretary; Mrs. Billy Waters, treasurer; Mrs. Leon Myers, reporter; and Mrs. Austin Cantrell, historian.

The second grade won the $4 prize for having the most parents present for the open house.

Former Pastor Here to Head Amarillo Group

A former pastor of First Baptist Church here, the Rev. Chester O'Brien will assume the post of superintendent of missions for the Amarillo Baptist Association on April 10.

He has tendered his resignation as pastor of Paramount Baptist Church, which he has served since its organization in 1958.

The Rev. Mr. O'Brien also will be the executive officer of the Amarillo Baptist Association, comprised of 53 Southern Baptist churches and missions in Armstrong, Randall, Oldham, Deaf Smith and Potter counties.

He will continue to serve the Paramount congregation through Sunday, April 9.

Rev. O'Brien, who entered the ministry in September, 1941, received the B.A. degree from Hardin-Simmons University in 1945 and the B.D. degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in 1951.

After completing his seminary work he served as pastor of churches in Gruver, Wellington and Tucumcari. He was called by First Baptist Church in Amarillo to help start Paramount Baptist Church and began work with the new church on Aug. 20, 1958.

Rev. and Mrs. O'Brien have three children, Louis David, a senior at Tascosa High School; Marianna, in the ninth grade at David Crockett Junior High, and John Edward, in the third grade at Paramount Terrace Elementary School.

Churches of the Amarillo Baptist Association, now in its 15th year, have a total membership of 38,000. The association operates an assembly, located on a half section of land about 15 miles southwest of the city, and sponsors a Baptist Student Union ministry both at Amarillo College and West Texas State University.

The executive board of the association is comprised of the pastor and two lay representatives from each of the member churches.

Atomic Mail Sorting Here

Atomic mail-sorting speeds one of the most tedious jobs in any postoffice: turning incoming letters right-side up for stamp cancellation. The UN's Atomic Energy Agency says zinc added to postage stamp paper can be detected by a radioisotope instrument, which then straightens envelopes at a rate of 400,000 an hour.

Sherman Selected on Advisory Council of Wards Catalog Stores

John Sherman has been selected on the Regional Advisory Council from the Fort Worth division of Montgomery Ward, which includes 56 Catalog Sales Stores in Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana. He was one of three agents selected on the council by balloting of members of all the stores operating out of Fort Worth. The other two were Lonnie Wooten of Jacksboro and Creighton Robertson of Llano.

The first meeting of the Advisory Council which Mr. Sherman plans to attend will be held April 24-26 in the regional office in Kansas City. At this time the Council will be called upon to furnish suggestions from the local level for furthering a constructive program of selling and service for their customers served by the catalog stores.

All expenses of the representatives, including travel, meals and lodging, will be paid by the company.

Nylon Made From Soybean Oil

A raw material obtained from soybean oil can be made into nylon 9, a material especially suited for pump parts and several other industrial products. The production method was developed under a USDA research contract. The raw material can also be made into a plasticizer to give flexibility to polyvinyl-chloride, an industrial plastic.

Cancer Knows No Boundaries

Four years of study on causes of cancer have revealed that the disease threatens all people equally but in different countries it takes different forms.

In the United States and Britain the most common form is lung cancer. In Japan, Chile and Finland it is stomach cancer and in Africa the most prevalent form is cancer of the liver.

Scientists meeting in Tokyo at the Eighth International Cancer Congress under U.N. auspices concluded that environmental factors—as cigarettes, some viruses, or chemicals—occasionally found in a spray can of insecticide—can be contributing causes. The last previous Cancer Congress—to exchange research data—was held in Moscow in 1963.

SALT FORK SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

MESQUITE—THE BANDIT OF THE RANGELAND

By Stephen Qualls

Mesquite trees are robbing many Collingsworth County ranchers of precious soil moisture. A mesquite tree uses approximately three times as much water to produce a pound of dry forage as does our more productive grasses such as side-oats grama and blue grama.

There are three popular methods used to control mesquite in the Salt Fork Soil Conservation District: aerial spray, basal treatment with kerosene or diesel oil, and mechanical grubbing.

It is too early in the year for aerial spraying; however the basal treatment and grubbing can be done any time.

The ground should be dry before the basal treatment is applied. The ground should be adequately moist to insure at least a cut of 14 inches by grubbing.

Our recent rains have raised the soil moisture to a suitable level for grubbing in many parts of the district. Several farmers and ranchers are now in the process of grubbing.

Take a close look at your pasture. Are mesquite robbing you of precious soil moisture?

Disposable Trend—Paper Clothes

One of the most revolutionary ideas on the clothing industry today is paper apparel. The ultimate in easy care is the disposable garment. Imagine a label which says wear but don't wash. Just throw away. Shorten with scissors. Press with a cool iron.

Disposable apparel is made from a thin netting of nylon or rayon sandwiched between layers of specially processed cellulose. Other disposable garments are made of spun-bonded olefin or saran. The materials, before being made into apparel, can be treated to make fire-retardant, water and abrasion resistant—or even luminous as in jackets for highway workers.

How are these garments being used? Women and girls enjoy the novelty of disposable garments as well as the ease of care. Some women are using them for maternity apparel. Others find them ideal to wear while doing messy household chores such as cleaning the oven. For the bride, disposable bridal gowns are available as well as bridesmaids dresses and flower girl dresses. For the do-it-yourself cutup, a gold or silver evening gown can be created from a packet of pasted-on jewels, pattern and paper fabric. Dresses which are copies of original Paris designs are now available.

Men and boys are also enjoying disposable garments. Probably the biggest success story is the disposable swim suit for men.

Paper products are now moving into schools. For example, disposable caps and gowns can be used at graduation, and then thrown away.

One of the greatest potentials for disposable merchandise is in the medical field. Doctors and hospitals are already using disposable paper garments ranging from jackets and examination gowns to surgical drape sheets.

Someday hotels may have sufficient quantities of disposable clothing available so that vacationers could buy paper clothes when arriving, then throw them away when they depart, and eliminate entirely the need for packing and carrying heavy luggage.

Disposable clothes at the present time cost about $1.75 for a shift dress, $5 to $15 for an evening gown, $15 for a bridal gown, 40¢ for a child's pinafore and $3 for a matching bra, pettiskirt and kerchief. One problem is that it now costs nearly as much to manufacture a paper dress costing $2 as it does a regular fabric dress of a similar style which might cost $20.

However, the notable fact in the world of disposable items is that their success is not always dictated by cost. For years housewives laboriously emptied vacuum cleaner bags; then the handy throw-away bag came along, they purchased it enthusiastically even at an extra cost.

Disposable handkerchiefs have almost become a necessity in the American way of life. Other disposables may be just as taken for granted in the future.

After Easter has come and gone are you left with bowls full of Easter eggs? The youngsters love coloring them, but they get tired of eating plain hard-cooked eggs.

>Do you live in a home that has commercially built cabinets of standard height? If you aren't "standard" height, adjust the counters to your convenience if possible. Add height to counters by putting blocks under the cabinet or adding a platform to the top.

>If small rugs have a non-skid finish on the wrong side, vacuum or sweep this backing often. Also sponge the back once in a while with soap or detergent suds — because dirt prevents the non-skid finish from gripping the floor securely.

Banquet Honors Retired School Group at Dodson

A group of retired Collingsworth County teachers were honored Monday night, March 20, when Dodson faculty members were hosts to the County unit of the Texas State Teachers Association.

And in appreciation for his service, a special gift of a new fishing rod was presented one of these, B. W. Beard. Mr. Beard, who began his teaching career in Texas at the age of 17, remained in the profession until Jan. 1, 1967. On that date he retired after 25 years as Collingsworth County superintendent, but has remained as acting superintendent for the present.

The other teachers who received recognition were Miss Bonnie Willis, who taught 33 years in the schools of Childress, Hall and Collingsworth counties; Mrs. Lowell Wells, who taught 37 years, also in those three counties; Mrs. George Jones, who taught 16 years at Cross Roads, Aberdeen, Roundup and Needwood before retiring in 1944; and Mrs. John Henard, who taught in the rural schools and Wellington from 1905 to 1909; Mrs. Edna Kesler who taught the first school at Pleasant Point in 1910, with 60 students; John Coleman, who taught in the Veterans Vocational Schools of the county from 1946 to 1957; Jack Davis, for 37 years as a teacher in Texas and Oklahoma; and T. E. Lennon, who retired as a teacher and superintendent to become county superintendent.

The remainder of the program was on a humorous note, with a backward look at schools of another era. Songs, popular with students many years ago, were sung by the Maids, a Dodson high school group that included Cindy Hightower, Janie Smith, Glenda Hightower, Carolyn Randall, Nancy Gulley and Sheila Ford, with Mildred Lewis as accompanist.

Pantomime was by Kim Tabor and Billie Norman.

A modern Legend of Sleepy Hollow was given as a skit by Ralph Word of the Wellington Schools.

Mrs. Byron Duncan, president of the ISTA, was mistress of ceremonies, and was assisted in the tribute to the teachers by Mrs. Ruth Hightower and Mrs. Bernice Welch.

Personal

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Light visited in Shamrock Sunday with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Martindale.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Bell for Easter were her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Vaughan of Idalou, and Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Hancock, Jill and Vaughan of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, Lynn and Keith, Beth Peters, Mrs. S. B. Jackson, and Sidney Jackson, and Edith Jackson of Pampa, and Alfred Hahn of Dumas attended the wedding in Sayre, Okla., of Alice Clothier and Terry Downs of Hammon, Okla. They also spent the week end in Gage, Okla., with Mr. and Mrs. Travie Readnour.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson and Drew, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Rice, Marty and Scott, all of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. E. G. Schuhardt of Dalhart were guests in the home of Dr. and Mrs. J. Frank Johnson over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Haralson visited recently with her mother, Mrs. G. Cowan in Mobeetie.

John Ford and Carlos Perez, students at North Texas State University, Denton, spent the Easter holidays with John's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ford and Lanny, Mr. Perez's home is in Bogota, Colombia, South America.

Easter visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. V. Johnson were their son, Jamie, a student at Texas Tech, and Mrs. Johnson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Berryman of Matador.

Jan Cudd, a student in West Texas State University, spent Easter with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Cudd.

Here for the Easter holidays was Bill Spillman, a student in Baylor University, who visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Spillman.

THERE'S LITTLE CHANGE in the scene on New York's well-known Bowery at the corner of East First Street. "Bowery Bums" still rummage through garbage cans for junk to trade for a meal ticket at a mission house.

YOUR INCOME TAX

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q.—Is the $3 a month I pay for supplementary medicare insurance deductible?

A.—Yes. This is considered an allowable medical expense along with other premiums paid for hospital and medical insurance.

Q.—I took a net loss of more than $1,000 on some stock I sold last year. Since I can only deduct $1,000 of my loss on my 1968 return do I lose the rest of it?

A.—No. The excess over $1,000 may be carried over to future tax years.

Farmers U Sees Documentary

The regular meeting of the Collingsworth County Farmers Union was held March 20 in the club room of the Bura Handley community center, with the entire membership invited.

Garland Hightower, accompanied by Mrs. Truett Holland, led the group in a festival of songs.

After a short business meeting, a program of interest to the members was presented by Jim Chappell, supervisor of Farmers Home Administration and Sammy Helmers, county agent. This was a documentary film on the progress and importance of agriculture.

After adjournment, refreshments were served to directors and their guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Hatch, Alan and Leslie of Lubbock, and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hatch and Carol Sup of Eldorado spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hatch. The two families and Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Hatch also visited in Altus with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gribble.

Mrs. Eldon Wildman, David and Phillip of Dallas spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Riggs.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobo Castleberry, Betsy and Suzanne and J. B. Castleberry were in Hereford over the week end to visit Mr. and Mrs. James Gillentine.

Sherri Chessher and Anna Kay Kelso, students in Abilene Christian College, visited over the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Kelso.

James Stephens and Bob Sanford, both students at Texas Tech in Lubbock, and Nancy Sanford of Midwestern University in Wichita Falls, spent the week end in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford.

THE WELLINGTON (TEXAS) LEADER

Thursday, March 30, 1967

Q.—I just started work last year and am still waiting for a Social Security number. What should I do about my return?

A.—If you have not received your number by the filing deadline, send in your return without it. Indicate that you have applied for the number in the box where it should be entered.

Q.—I support my mother's brother but my friends tell me I can't claim him as a dependent since he does not live with us. Is this right?

A.—A person does not have to be a member of your household to be claimed as a dependent if he is closely related to you. The law considers an uncle to be a close relation. Therefore, he is not required to be a member of your household.

Remember that other requirements for a dependency claim must be met, too. These are the support test, the gross income test, citizenship or residence test and the joint return test. They are all explained in the 1040 instruction booklet.

Q.—I received a sizeable amount of severance pay last year. Is that taxable?

A.—Yes it is. However, if this pay abnormally boosted your income for the year, then you may be able to reduce your taxes by taking advantage of income averaging. Drop a post card to your local IRS office and ask for Schedule G of Form 1040 to get full details.

Q.—Where should I send my return?

A.—Page 10 of the 1040 instruction booklet and page 8 of the 1040A instructions show you where you should send your return.

Q.—Is a prize considered income?

A.—Yes it is. If the prize is not cash but is merchandise instead, use the fair market value at the time received as the amount to report on your return.

Q.—I moved last year because I changed jobs. Can I take any deduction for my moving expenses?

A.—You may be able to deduct some of these expenses if certain conditions are met. The rules for claiming these expenses are covered in the 1040 instructions. A copy of Form 3903, which may be obtained by dropping a post card to your local IRS office, has further details on this deduction. It must be filed with your 1040 if you are qualified to claim this deduction.

Q.—From time to time I help my married daughter out by making payments on their mortgage. Can I deduct these payments as contributions or take a deduction for the tax and interest portion of the payment?

A.—No. Gifts to individuals are not considered charitable deductions and only the person legally responsible for making the mortgage payments is allowed to take the interest deductions permitted.

Q.—Does a common law marriage entitle you to file a joint return?

A.—If you are living together in a common law marriage that is recognized by the state where it was entered into, you may file a joint return.

Q.—I am 65 but my wife is not. Does that mean her medical expenses are subject to the 3% limitation?

A.—No. When one spouse is 65, the qualifying medical expenses of both spouses are fully deductible.

Q.—Why isn't income tax withheld from farm wages? They withhold for Social Security.

A.—The law does not require employers to withhold income taxes for most agricultural workers. These workers should make quarterly payments of estimated tax.

Q.—I got a statement showing some dividends I didn't actually receive. How should I handle this when I report my dividend income?

A.—Enter the correct amount of dividends on your return. You should notify the company that paid the dividends of the error and also attach an explanatory note of this item to your return.

Q.—Do I have to report non-taxable dividends or can I forget them like I do my Social Security benefits?

A.—Income from non-taxable dividends is not subject to income tax. However, for reporting purposes, such income is inserted on lines 1a and 1d, Part II, page 2, Form 1040, where, as a result of the computation of taxable dividends, they are excluded from income. Amounts received as "dividends" from life insurance policies are not to be included in non-taxable dividends. These amounts normally are considered returns of premiums and should not be reported.

Q.—Do I report capital gains on line 1c of Part II of the 1040 when it says capital gains distribution?

A.—No. Distribution from certain investment companies, such as mutual funds, which represent capital gain dividend, are to be entered on this line. These amounts are also entered on line 8, Schedule D, (Form 1040).

Also reported on Schedule D, in the appropriate sections, are the gains or losses realized upon the sale or exchange of property. For instance, the sale of capital stock which you have held for more than six months is reported on line 5, Part I of the form. Additional information about Schedule D may be found in the instruction booklet and the form itself.

A New Road Proposed Into Palo Duro From the East

A move is under way to obtain an all-weather highway through Palo Duro Canyon from the east, giving visitors access to its full length.

This calls for the co-operation of all of the towns lying below Palo Duro, Wellington, Memphis, Clarendon and others of the area. None of these could be called entry-town to Palo Duro. There would probably be no great benefit money-wise to any one of them. But it is part of the overall picture of area development for the tourist industry, which becomes important to this area each year.

But most of all, it would open one of the most scenic and unusual areas in Texas. Few of us in this land of easy travel have seen more than a small part of Palo Duro. A road through this magnificent canyon would be enjoyed by both the permanent residents and visitors.

Guns Stop Crime

Congress has a new gun law, introduced by Rep. Celler of New York, which would make it difficult or almost impossible for most Americans to buy sporting arms and would hamper firearm ownership in the entire nation.

In view of this, it might be well to see how well New York has fared under the Sullivan Act which prohibits the ownership of guns without a permit.

This, the nation's oldest gun law, has been successful in disarming citizens in New York without reducing crime. In fact, quite the opposite has occurred.

During the years from 1950 to 1965, New York Police reduced pistol permits 21 per cent but the rate of murders rose from 3.7 to 6.1 per thousand in the same time.

Permits to keep "protection" pistols at home were reduced 77 per cent, but the number of murder victims in New York rose from 294 a year to 702, and robberies rose from 9,620 to 15,208 in the first nine months of 1966.

The New York police increased pistol confiscations 57 per cent, from 3,247 in 1950 to 5,104 in 1964, yet crime of all kinds rose dramatically during the time.

Taking up people's weapons doesn't cure crime. It only enables the criminal to laugh loudly while killing you.

Congress Must Approach The Question of Ethics

Sen. Joseph Clark, D-Pa., has been trying to get the U. S. Senate to pass legislation which would guard against a recurrence of the Bobby Baker scandal. His efforts so far have been futile.

Clark's first "Bobby Baker" amendment to the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1967 would have restricted outside employment by Senate officers and employees. Its fate: Killed. Then he offered a second amendment requiring Senators and Senate employees earning more than $10,000 a year to disclose their assets. Its fate: Killed. The third amendment offered by Clark would have prohibited Senators and Senate employees from participating in joint ventures with lobbyists. Its fate: Killed.

Excuses for not approving legislation to improve the ethical standards of the Senate were plentiful, as they always are. Some argued that the amendment changed Senate rules (and obviously its customs); others urged further study, the standard dodge for doing nothing; some don't want to offend Sen. Thomas Dodd, D-Conn., who is under investigation for financial irregularities.

Someday the Congress must come to grips with the problems of unethical practices of its own members. Congressmen may think they have until the next millennium to bring about the needed reforms. The public shouldn't let them wait that long.

Time for Adjustment

State Capital
NEWS
By Vern Sanford

AUSTIN.—Texas cities now have won at least half of their battle for authority to levy a 1% sales tax.

Both houses of the legislature have passed the bill. It's now ready for the Governor's signature. Final step is approval by local voters.

Failure of the bill to obtain a two-thirds majority vote of the Legislature means that the law cannot go into effect until 90 days after adjournment. This means that it probably will be September before any city can hold an election on the subject.

Approval over heavy opposition was a major victory for Gov. John Connally and officials of the Texas Municipal League. Legislative presiding officers Lt. Gov. Preston Smith and House Speaker Ben Barnes also strongly backed the controversial measure.

These are the important features of the bill:

—Tax can be levied only on those items covered by the present 2% state sales tax. (It will not fall on auto purchases.)

—City governing bodies can submit the issue to election on their own motion or by petition of voters.

—Voters also can petition to get rid of the levy after two years.

—State comptroller will supervise collection (along with state sales tax) and refund 1% less administration costs, to the cities.

Passage of this bill, sponsored by Rep. John Traeger of Seguin and Sen. Joe Christie of El Paso, is viewed as having one effect not intended by some of the strongest backers: it likely will make any increase in state sales tax this year more difficult if alternate revenue programs fail.

FEED LOT BILL RIPPED BUT PASSED

A "version" of the bill by Rep. Tom Holmes of Granbury to license cattle feed-lot operations cleared the House. But it was hardly recognizable.

Led by Reps. Bill Finck of San Antonio, Felix McDonald of Edinburg and Jim Nugent of Kerrville, opponents tacked on amendments which would make licensing strictly voluntary and would remove the protection against nuisance suits on findings of inspectors.

Provisions of Holmes' original bill would have made the law mandatory for feed lots having capacities of 1,000 head or more but smaller feed lot would be covered only if they asked to be, individually.

Holmes moved the bill to final passage, even though it had been rendered virtually meaningless. Apparently he is hoping for a better fate in the Senate, then beefing up by a conference committee.

WILDLIFE WEEK

Bills strictly for the birds and the bee-keepers have been passed by the House.

One would remove pelicans and peregrine falcons from the unprotected bird list. Another would provide for branding and registration of bee-keeping equipment.

A Senate committee followed up by approving a ban on commercial exploitation of Texas tortoises and horned toads.

ANTI-WIRETAPPING

Telephone wire-tapping and electronic eavesdropping were frowned upon by the House which passed (116-29) a control bill recommended by the Governor.

Wiretapping could be authorized on court order if evidence expected to be gained might save human life, or prevent extortion, kidnapping, armed robbery, rape or arson. Evidence thus obtained would be admissible in court.

Bugging by law enforcement officers would be permissible without court order for a one-day period where the procedure might conceivably save a life.

Bill now goes to the Senate.

PARKS BILL PASSED

A resolution that would authorize the state to issue $75,000,000 in bonds to finance acquisition of land for state park sites was unanimously passed by the House.

A proposed constitutional amendment by Rep. Gene Hendryx of Alpine passed 149-0. It had been amended twice by the House Constitutional Amendments Committee. One amendment was minor. But the other cut from 6% to 4½% the maximum interest rate to be paid on the bonds.

Measure now goes to the Senate.

CRIME RATE AT NEW HIGH

Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, reports that major crime in Texas reached an all-time high in 1966.

Total was 297,810, compared

CROSSROADS REPORT

Dear Editor:

Prominent Congressman wants a law that if a bank customer is refused a loan, the federal will back him in hauling the institution into court for malpractice or discrimination or something.

Which would be real Progress. Under that law, instead of going on welfare, a poor work-allergic citizen could just go to any bank and get money, or sue it for some.

And another law the Congress may pass against discrimination and underprivilege is that one whereby non-advantaged armed robbers will get federal help against prospective victims wishing to be equipped to shoot at them.

I see where a United Nations committee finds that slavery still exists in some countries around the world.

In the U. S., of course, we have intermittent slavery. Ordinary man toils only 3 or 4 months per year for the folks in the big Potomac plantation houses, and furnishes his own room and board during this period of servitude.

But Washington kindly keeps a swarm of highly-paid people out in the cotton fields and salt mines, advising folks about the with 284,249 the year before.

Murder and homicide went up 17.5%; robbery 10.4%, burglary 9.2%; theft 3.2%; and auto theft 11.2%.

Local, state and national efforts to curb crime, said Garrison, "will be meaningless until each persons determines to make crime prevention a personal issue and lend his support to law enforcement" activities.

SHORT SNORTS

way to Freedom: quit work and get on welfare.

Report says Science suspects that malnutrition damages the human brain, but it has not yet found whether the potbelly or the ability to finance same comes first.

And it sure could be that not getting enough food makes people dimwitted. Everybody who has tried to stay on a leaning diet knows that when the stomach growls, the brain retreats.

My fat-brain neighbor says if short rations really do lower people's mental ability, he is for starting a drive to send regular food packages to Washington.

Considerable talk these days about safety. Stores want to be safe from robbers, pedestrians want to be safe from muggers, ladies want to be safe from molesters, etc.

But there is some delay in this safety drive, on account of top rank Authority seems busy right now, making thugs safe from policemen, prisons, and armed victims.

In the safeguarding business, of course, it's not unreasonable to expect that natural-born people-plunders are apt to be more zealous about making fellow predators safe than about making the predated safe from them.

I see where it has been widely advertised lately that the Chaplains of the House and Senate each draw over $15,000 per year for only a few minutes' work each day when these august bodies meet.

Which some folks claim is mighty high wages when figured by the hour. But it needs remembering that any preacher shepherding a flock of Congressmen should be very talented and have maximum influence above.

In fact, lobbying in the Celestial Capitol for these personages may entitle a preacher to hazardous duty pay, on account of it could jeopardize his standing with the Lord.

News magazine which says it is very reliable, reports that Senior Beatie Bobby used some 4-dash phrases in a recent conversation with the President.

But the printing of dashes, instead of the actual words used by RFK in this high level interchange of opinions, leaves considerable of an information gap.

Could be the unprinted phrases are some sort of secret incantation known only to members of the Up People's lodge, and that it would upset our social balance if any Down People learned them.

Gas Fumes Pose Boat Fire Threat

SAN ANGELO.—Boat owners with enclosed gas tanks or in-board motors beware! A cupful of gasoline, properly atomized, packs the explosive force of 15 sticks of dynamite, says Parks and Wildlife Enforcement Supervisor N. E. Glover.

He added that boat explosions, caused by gasoline fumes collecting in poorly ventilated boat bilges, rank second to collisions in water mishaps.

The Texas Water Safety Act stipulates that all inboard motors or covered gas tanks be ventilated fore and aft to rid potentially dangerous compartments of highly explosive fuel mixtures.

Any low spot in a power boat that is not ventilated properly can collect dangerous gas fumes and blow a boat apart, warns Glover.

He said the relatively new ventilation requirement, which will be rigidly enforced by Texas Parks and Wildlife Department wardens this summer, is a necessary safety requirement on any boat with a tightly enclosed gas tank and/or motor compartment where gas vapors can collect and explode with the slightest spark. Any distributor or spark plug arc can supply that little spark.

Winners Picked in Tiny Tot Easter Parade

Winners were named in the three divisions of the annual Tiny Tot Easter parade, held Thursday evening, March 23.

The winning children in the one and two year old divisions were Sandy Seale, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Seale, and Bill Beene, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beene.

Sharon Saied was the winning girl and Carl Taylor the winning boy in the five and six year old section.

The children appeared onstage over a little bridge over a shimmering pond. Ray Jeffrey and Earl Hartman assisted them across. Big Easter eggs in pastel colors decorated the stage and Clay Don Lacy, dressed as a yellow Easter bunny, handed each child a balloon. Regina Ferguson played background music.

Between the presentation of groups, Karen Richardson sang "Here Comes Peter Cottontail," "Easter Parade" and "Edel Weiss." Cherry Lewis was her accompanist.

Pecan Aphid Control Here

Texas commercial pecan producers may now use disulfoton (Di-Syston) for the control of aphids. John G. Thomas, Extension entomologist, says the systemic insecticide has been cleared by the U.S. Department of Agriculture and is effective against the black pecan aphid and the yellow or honeydew aphid. But, he adds, it will not work on nut casebearers, tent caterpillars or other foliage-feeding pests. Local county agents can supply details and rates and methods of application.

Deck's DIDACTICS

—By Deskins Wells

Have you noticed fewer goat-heads in your alley or yard during the last three years? In the fall of 1963 scientists at the Great Plains Research Center at Bushland put out goathead weevils at Wellington and Amarillo. Those put out near here lived and spread as did others put out in 1964 in areas south of Amarillo. In other years we have had to fight goatheads in our alley all summer long; but last summer very few vines appeared and I do not remember them making any seed.

The weevils were imported from Italy in 1962 and work in this manner. The female lays an egg in a goathead burr and seals the opening and the grub eats the life out of the five sections of the goathead before emerging as an adult. The young can survive only in a goathead burr. For this reason there is no chance of the weevil eliminating the goathead infestation entirely; but there is reason to believe that it has cut down the numbers of the weed in this area.

The Legislature has joined the rest of the states, excepting Michigan, in favoring Daylight Saving Time by killing the bill which would have exempted Texas. There would have been disadvantages to some people regardless of the action of the lawmakers. Timetables would have been disconcerting if the state had stayed on Standard Time while the rest of the nation "saved an hour." On the other hand there will be many mothers who will have to get their youngsters on the bus in the dark in September and October as well as mid-winter.

DST will allow some city dwellers an extra hour for golf or perhaps a cookout in the backyard; but when you consider the heat from 4 in the afternoon until 9 at night I can't see that an extra hour of sunlight will bring much comfort to anyone except those who plan to go swimming.

Here in the Panhandle one of our troubles about time has always been that we are only a hop skip and jump from Mountain Time regardless of whether it is DST or Standard and one more hour added to the clock difference makes the sun difference all the more noticeable. In Alaska the Eskimos let their children play and romp at midnight or 3 in the morning and sleep when they get ready; but our way of life is not that simple although there are times when you wish it were.

It is too bad that somebody was not up early with a camera last Friday morning when Staff Sgt. Johnny Ferguson was being chased by a UFO. There have been too many pictures made of unidentified flying objects and too many people have seen something they could not explain to dismiss these phenomena as fantasies or some natural occurrence such as horn lightning, swamp light, etc. There is too much evidence to the contrary to pass them off that lightly.

The next time Frank Campbell will need to be up early like he was the night the meteors arrived four hours late. The difference was that there was ample advance publicity on the falling stars even if they did stage their show later than advertised.

10-Year Award Presented Mrs. Lucile Baird

Mrs. Lucile Baird, office manager of Vumore in Wellington, recently received a 10-year service award from that company.

The presentation, made by Fred T. McElroy, area supervisor of Vumore, was a 10-year service pin which was made into a pendant necklace for her, and paid-up income interruption insurance policy.

Mrs. Baird began work for Vumore on Jan. 1, 1956, a short time after the company began its operation in Wellington.

A Wellington resident since 1938, Mrs. Baird reared her family here. She, herself, grew up at Hollis.

Before joining the Vumore staff, she was in the bookkeeping department of West Texas Gin for seven years.

One-Act Play Cast Competes at Seymour

The Wellington high school one-act play cast will compete in the District 2-AA contest on Thursday, March 30 at Seymour, Mrs. Bob McAlister, director, has announced.

This year's presentation will be "Mr. Flannery's Ocean," described as a "serious comedy."

Henry Wells has the leading role of Mr. Flannery, who believes he owns the rights to the ocean and can permit or forbid others the use of it.

Regina Ferguson plays the role of the owner of the hotel, the action takes place. The guests are Mrs. Pringle, played by Peggie Crawford; Mr. and Mrs. Morrison, Jimmy Campbell and Nancy Holton; the maid, Nancy Sikes; and two children, Becky Brewer and Mark Owens.

The stage crew includes Paul Jones, Lynn Derryberry and Patricia Wilson.

Dodson road joins Highway 83 say that the rumor that they intend to build a restaurant in conjunction with the station is just that—rumor. At one time there was a little speculation that their uncle, Tom Bryant of old Pullman Cafe fame, might come back to run such a place; but he has no intention of leaving Fort Worth.

Fred Walker was asking if this past winter, 66-67 had not set a record for mildness. According to the weather bureau, it is the mildest on the day in and day out basis. Some people still have their fingers crossed about the fruit crop for it has been known to freeze as late as April 14 and snow has fallen in May although the ground temperature was not freezing.

The weather is a conversation topic at almost any time; but the storms provide some of the best arguments. A glance at the files show that on April 29, 1942 a tornado hit the Midway community, doing extensive damage on the farms of Homer Ingram, H. E. Tolleson, Delno Payne as well as the Midway Church. It was also on April 7 of that same year that we had a cold spell, 42 degrees, and rain up to three quarters of an inch.

This is not meant to alarm you because the winter weather was not the same by any means. On March 1 of 1942, the county enjoyed a 12-inch snow and all the wheat growers know there is no similarity in the present year.

April 1 is also the final date set to apply for a staking service on row crops to be planted this spring and diverted acres. The charge for this service will be determined at the time the application is filed, according to the policy set by the county committee.

gress. The "Cotton Fly-in" is one of the several "Legislative Fly-ins" called for by the recent National Farmers Union Convention to dramatize the urgency of improving farmers' economic condition.

Texas Farmers Union President Jay Naman of Waco will lead the cotton delegation which will leave Dallas by chartered plane in the early afternoon on Tuesday, April 4, and return to Dallas on Thursday, April 6. Regarding the purpose of the "Fly-in," Naman said, "We are asking farmers to take a couple of days off their farms to speak up on the problems facing Texas' cotton growers where their words will directly reach those who are making the decisions that affect prices and costs."

Referring to the recently announced changes in premiums and discounts in the 1967 cotton price support loan program issued by USDA, the state farm leader said:

"The announcement of changes in quality differentials on cotton is inconsistent with this Administration's frequent assurances that it seeks parity income for farmers, and was completely unjustified. It will cost Texas cotton farmers from $5 to $10 a bale on the 1967 crop, and might discourage rather than encourage the production of better quality fiber."

Lacys Purchase Ingram Produce, Plan Expansion

Sale of the Ingram Produce at 1400 8th Street, owned by Mrs. Homer Ingram, to Drury Lacy and his sons, Don Lacy and Denzil Lacy, was announced this week.

The business will be operated as the Lacy Livestock Supply.

The new owners announced they will enlarge the business to include a complete livestock supply service, as well as feed and seed.

The firm will continue to handle the Superior line of feeds for cattle, hogs, and poultry.

In addition, Lacy Livestock Supply is adding the line of Gehl feed mixers and forage harvesters, and feeders and watering equipment will be carried.

Planting seeds will be featured.

"We believe the future of the Collingsworth County area lies in a greatly expanded livestock industry, and we also believe that we can render a real service in helping the area to realize this potential," the new owners said.

Drury Lacy is a prominent farmer and livestock raiser who has operated in the eastern part of the county for a number of years.

Both sons teach in Wellington high school. Don Lacy is vocational agriculture instructor with considerable experience in livestock feeding programs.

The father and sons have operated custom combine equipment on a large scale for a number of years.

Mrs. Ingram has operated the business since the death of her husband, the late Homer Ingram. She will remain with the firm, the new owners announced.
