SURPLUS FORECAST

Ike Surrenders Potent Weapon

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower may have surrendered his most powerful weapon against congressional spending by predicting a four-billion-dollar budget surplus.

The feeling among some of the Democrats is that by forecasting a substantial surplus, Eisenhower has given them room to lift defense, school, construction, housing, depressed area, and other outlays above the president's recommendations.

ARCHITECT'S DRAWING OF NEW CHURCH—Above is the perspective of the proposed new building project of the Grace Lutheran Church as drawn by J. D. Hinton, Snyder architect. The Grace Lutheran congregation, which now meets in the West Elementary School auditorium, hopes to begin the first phase of the building program within the year. First phase will be a building to serve as temporary sanctuary, and classroom building, with the main sanctuary to be constructed in the future. The project is planned for the church property in the Cogdell Memorial Hospital area.

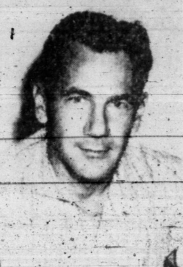

Lutheran Church Is Set To Build
The Grace Lutheran Church, which now meets in the West Elementary School auditorium, expects to begin the first phase of a building program within the year. The congregation several months ago adopted a plot plan study for the project, which will be developed on the church property near Cogdell Memorial Hospital. At the same time, J. D. Hinton, architect, was instructed to complete drawings for the first unit.
The first unit will consist of a parish hall to serve as a sanctuary and a wing for classrooms. The second unit, to be built in the future, will be a large sanctuary. The project will be financed through contributions from the local congregation, plus funds from the board of American Missions of the United Lutheran Church in America.
The initial phase of the building will have a seating capacity of approximately 125 persons for worship services, along with Sunday School classrooms for about 140 persons.
The church property was donated by Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Cogdell Sr. It is located a block south of the Medical Arts Clinic.

French Restrict Area in Desert
PARIS (AP)—The French government has told airlines that a wide area of the Sahara Desert will be restricted during any French atomic tests.

The circular defines a broad area surrounding a zone which already is totally forbidden to civilian planes. In the surrounding zone flight will not be forbidden but certain conditions must be met—such as maintaining 10,000 feet of altitude and radio contact on entering and leaving.

SIENA, Ark. (AP)—The body of Dr. Hubert Larson has been found in the burned wreckage of his small plane atop a mountain 25 miles south of here.
Larson, 30, a resident surgeon at the University of Missouri in Columbia, Mo., disappeared July 27, shortly after taking off from Texarkana bound for Columbia.
Larson's wife had been working as a nurse in Texarkana. Her hopes that he still was alive kept Civil Air Patrol searchers in the air for weeks but they never sighted the wreckage.
Three hunters came upon the wreckage Friday. The body was inside the burned plane.

Bill Wilson was elected president of the Snyder Knife and Fork Club at a meeting of the organization Friday night.
Wilson, who served as first vice president during the past year, succeeds Bill Eiland as president. Other officers elected include Nolan on Eiland, first vice president, George Killam, second vice president, and Scott Casey, secretary-treasurer.
Six new directors also were named at the meeting. They are H. H. Allen, Scott Casey, Mel Zane Gilbert, M. E. Stanfield and Dr. John Hamblen. Holdover directors are Von Roeder, Eiland and Mrs. Sears.

Between You And Me

By Jerry Jackson

Oklahoma University is...
prisoning comparable to Uncle Sam's army in an important respect. Both are besieged by "zealot" troubles.
The word "zealotry" as such has come to be smothered in many instances by shady, underhanded dealings, as so-called "sugar daddies" step to lend an illegal helping hand to star athletes, so that said performers will be encouraged to attend sugar dad's institutions.

Another loophole encountered in the Aid-To-Under-Aged-Over-Privileged-Athletes program involves the employment angle, which allows a school to secure financial employment for its sports spotlighters, a practice...

Bud A Straight Shooter

WILKINSON, on learning of the tainted activity, established himself as one of the moral giants of his trade by reporting the supposed infraction, which no doubt proved to be a big and painful step for him to take. What it amounts to is that he cut his own throat, but in the process established himself as ever a moral illustration that never before...

Anyone For Coaching??

PARTING RANDOM SHOT: Word reaches this corner that there are no less than 42 applicants for the vacant Big Spring High School coaching job, including several staff members from various area colleges.

—If interested in entering the race for the post, just state your preference, saying that you would like to head coach at Big Spring High School because... Please don't send stamps or box tops. And, oh yes one more thing—don't call them. They'll call you.

Bellard Gets Angelo Post

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo High School had filled its head football coaching post and Breckenridge was looking for a replacement Saturday.

The San Angelo school board Friday night named Emory Bellard, head coach at Breckenridge for the past five years, to succeed Bob Harrell as head football coach and athletic director.

In five years at Breckenridge, Bellard's teams had won the state AAAA football title in 1956 and shared it with Cleburne in 1959. Bellard, 32, began his head coaching career at Ingleside in 1952. Since then his teams at Ingleside and Breckenridge have won 77 games, lost 47 and tied 3.

Gomer Jones: No. 1 Second Man

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Assistant coaches in the complex game of collegiate football sometimes find themselves in the job-untenable. But one of their ranks apparently is sitting on top of the world.

He's Gomer Thomas Jones, who has molded West-recruiting lineups of national prominence while serving as Bill Wilkinson's assistant at Oklahoma for 13 years.

There is probably no closer relationship between a head coach and his top assistant than Wilkinson and Jones. They have created a football dynasty and have kept the Sooners in the top 10 teams of the Associated Press poll for 11 of their 13 years.

The big question is why Jones has remained at Oklahoma as an assistant when he could have accepted several head jobs at lucrative salaries.

Tigers Bow To Cubs; 'B' Quartet Wins

BROWNFIELD—A couple of free throws after time had run out gave the Brownfield Cubs a 55-53 decision over the Snyder Tiger basketballers here Friday night.

Junior Knox made good on both free-throw parries and shot the buzzer. Before the foul game appeared certain to go into overtime with the score deadlocked at 53-53.

The Tigers had led 35-24 at the half-time intermission, but a cold third quarter for the Bengals put the Cubs in the ball game. The Tigers hit 20 of 51 field goal attempts for 36 per cent, but in the third stanza they managed to make good on only two of 12 attempts from the floor for a miserably 16 per cent for that quarter.

to play football, they play for keeps. Our teams have developed pride and as the boys come along they're proud of it. They're established reputation and feel proud to keep the winning spirit alive.

Jones' position is unique. His judgment probably is more respected than most assistant coaches and Wilkinson has described him as a "partner." Folks in Oklahoma call him "our other head coach."

Those close to the scene say Jones is paid probably as much as a lot of head coaches.

"I have received numerous offers, but each time they have become head coach in 1947 and says 'I've never gone looking for another job.'

not been overlooked. When those other schools were dangling financial lures, the board of regents promoted him as assistant athletic director, with a boost in salary.

About the same time, the folks of Oklahoma chipped in their dimes and dollars to buy him an expensive automobile.

Hard work by Jones, who puts all of his 203 pounds into action to show his boys first hand how it should be done. He emphasizes that the most important thing for a lineman to learn is footwork.

"Good footwork is necessary in this day of fast, alert football because if you're a step late or a step in the wrong direction the play is past you," he pointed out.

Junior High Teams Sweep Cage Games

Snyder Junior High basketball teams swept to victory over Colorado City quintets here Friday night.

The Travis 7th graders trimmed the Colorado City 7th grade team, 34-21. The Snyder 8th graders won a 37-27 victory and the Snyder 9th graders won over the Colorado City 9th grade team, 41-20.

The Snyder 9th grade team leaped to a 24-4 advantage in the first half with William Robinson, Stuart Long and Darrell Aldridge sharing in the scoring. Coach Horze Bostick benched his first stringers thereafter and kept reserves moving into the game throughout the remainder of the contest.

but it's another important factor." When he first came to Oklahoma, Gomer would butt it out with the boys in practice.

"I used to go full speed, but now I guess I'm only a half-speeder," he quipped.

Playing experience as an interior lineman at Ohio State from 1933 through 1935 provided Jones with this coaching know-how.

"Every coach should have a dog," Jones advises, "because when you come home after a tough game he will greet you in the same old way, not knowing whether you won or lost."

Olympic Ticket Sales Booming

The Italian Olympic Committee, organized by the games, said Saturday the value of tickets reserved on Jan. 7 totaled $864,400.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Larry Siegfried connected for a basket with only two seconds left to give Ohio State a 96-95 comeback victory over Indiana Saturday in a Big Ten struggle.

The field goal was Siegfried's only one of a contest that ended 23 points. Illinois Saturday trimmed Minnesota 90-62 in Big Ten basketball game.

Ray Puts 4 Members In All-State Grid Team

By The Associated Press
Corpus Christi Ray and Wichita Falls were named to the Class AAAA Texas schoolboy football team.

Ray, which beat Wichita Falls for the championship, got four members on the all-state team selected by the Texas Sports Writers Assn. Wichita Falls landed three.

Only Abilene, Port Arthur, Dallas, Somers and Corpus Christi Miller were able to check the Ray-Wichita Falls monopoly. Each landed one player on the team.

Benny Shields, the big brilliant Wichita Falls tackle, was the only 1959 all-star to make it in 1959.

Ray placed fullback Jerry Rogers, center Mike Kesley, guard Jim Bessleman and end Benny House. Rogers was the nearest to unanimous, lacking only two ballots. Kesley was next. He

BOWLING SCORES

Town & Country Bowl continues to lead the Women's Bowling League following Monday's action. They are presently enjoying a comfortable 16% point edge over second place Johnnies Cafe.

Monday's high line was turned in by Pat Huddleston, who rolled a 207. Johnnies Tipping of Johnnies Cafe was second in that department with a 189, while Town & Country's Naomi Malson garnered a 177.

East Stars Are Favored

HONOLULU (AP)—On the strength of their backfield, the East All Stars, coached by Paul Dietzel, Louisiana State, are a one-touchdown favorite over Bud Wilkinson's West All Stars in the 14th annual Hula Bowl game Sunday.

Dietzel's offense backfield is made up of quarterbacks Richie Lucas, Penn State; halfbacks Billy Cannon, LSU, and Don Burton, Northeastern and fullback Charlie Flowers, Mississippi.

Wilkinson is counting on the sharpshooting of Southern Methodist quarterback Don Meredith, who passed the West to victory in last week's Shrine Game in San Francisco. Chris Burdett, Stanford end and Dick Bass, college of the Pacific halfback, Meredith's main targets last week also are with the West Hula team.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gil Hodges, Los Angeles first baseman, Saturday was named recipient of the Lou Gehrig Memorial Award presented annually by the Delta Theta fraternity.

The award goes to the player best typifying the spirit of the New York Yankee hall of famer.

Hodges, 33-year-old Indiana native now residing in Brooklyn, is one of the game's top hitters. He has a lifetime total of 345 homers.

Ohio State Nips Indiana Illini Trip Minnesota

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Larry Siegfried connected for a basket with only two seconds left to give Ohio State a 96-95 comeback victory over Indiana Saturday in a Big Ten struggle.

Indiana held a 17-10 advantage at half-time in the girls game.

AMUSEMENT

The Snyder (Texas) Daily News, Sun, Jan. 10, 1960

Clint Walker Still Refuses To Conform

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — In these times of wavering consciences, it's refreshing to meet a man who doesn't waver.

Such a man is stoic-clad Clint Walker, the actor who refuses to conform to Hollywood's way of life. For instance, Warner Brothers is building the screen for a two-part drama, "Gold! Glory and Custer," which starts on the "Cheyenne" series tonight.

Clint couldn't care less. He has no kind words for "Cheyenne," taxpayer or otherwise.

"I hate anything that is static," the actor reasoned, "I want to grow as an actor, but I can't do it in 'Cheyenne.' I get some good scenes to play, but there isn't time enough to develop them as they should be. We have to stage the fights in the same old way because we aren't allowed to experiment. We've got to keep on schedule."

"That's why I want to get out of the series and into feature pictures."

Clint had one feature earlier this year—"Yellowstone Kelly." He admitted that it wasn't a world-beater, but it's making a lot of money for the studio. His chances for another movie?

"I haven't heard a thing," he admitted. "The last picture I was offered was so bad the producer didn't like it, the director said he didn't think it was even worth a TV show and the writer insisted that his name be removed if it reached the screen."

Clint not only wants to get into features, he wants to get out of buckskin.

"In five years, at the studio, I've done nothing but Westerns," he complained. "I don't always have to be on a horse. I could play a lumberjack or a sailor or something else besides a cowboy."

He also refuses to fit the Hollywood pattern in personal life. He lives with his wife and daughter at the far end of the San Fernando Valley in Woodland Hills—above the smog, which is where I like it.

Strike Threatens Movie Industry

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Having survived a perilous decade, the movie industry now faces 1960 with the threat of a strike that could shutter the studios.

The issue is coming to a head, with the actors and writers on one side (though not necessarily together) and the major studios on the other. The prize, the money to be earned from release of post-1948 movies to television.

So far the two talent guilds are remaining firm. They feel they deserve a share of the proceeds from the features they helped create.

The studios are equally firm. Skouras, president of 20th Century-Fox, last week predicted "a battle to the death" if the writers and actors continue their demands.

"We need this money," said Skouras of the future funds from TV sales. His contentions: most films nowadays lose money, the studios must get revenue wherever they can; if the guilds don't back down, the studios would be closed for a reassessment and re-adjustment.

Other movie heads have been making tough talk. There have been rumors that production would be shifted to England if a strike occurred.

Why is all this happening now? Because the writers and actors have been negotiating for new contracts with the studios. The guilds feel the time is ripe to demand a share of receipts from sales of feature films to TV.

The seeds of the dispute were planted Aug. 1, 1948. That was the date the Screen Actors Guild contract with the studios. The actors, concerned about the growth of the TV industry, got a clause stating they could strike against any producer selling features made after that date to television without cutting the actors in for a share.

The Writers Guild of America got a similar clause in 1951.

Most of the features you see on TV were made before 1948. But between 300 and 400 newer ones have been sold to TV and the guilds have profited from them. Writers and actors have received up to 15 per cent of the original salaries. Other deals call for a percentage of the profit from the TV sales.

Actors argue they should continue sharing the TV money because their faces are used on the home screen, with the possible impairment of their careers. Writers reason that they have one stock in trade — stories — and their supply is limited; that they should profit from rights to their stories in any medium.

Discontented TV Cowpokes Get Advice

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Guy Madison has some advice for those discontented TV cowpokes: Stop griping.

Guy is no older than some of the Western stars who are reviling against the cowpokes, yet he's a veteran of the TV game. For nine years he starred as Wild Bill Hickok.

"Those fellows don't know how lucky they are," he observed.

"Sure, they'd like to be making more money. But most of them were just hanging around Hollywood before they landed their roles. They weren't any great shakes in the picture business," he said.

"Now they're getting terrific exposure before the public, they're making good salaries and the studio is taking care of their publicity buildup. Some of them are actors from New York who have never been on a horse before. They should be thankful for what they have and try to make the most of it."

"The dissident gunslingers might argue that such talk is okay for Madison because he made his pile from TV. Not true, says Guy.

"Ours was the first film series—the first Western, at any rate," he said. "Nobody knew that so much money would be in a series, and I signed for a straight salary."

Madison has had enough ups and downs in the picture business to take a long-range view. After a flash as a bobbysox idol, he was dropped and didn't work for two years.

"I made a deal with Warners that I could do features. After that, my salary went up to $100,000 a picture."

Now he's going back into the sage brush with a new TV series, as yet untitled.

Alcoa Has New Pact With UAW

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Aluminum Co. of America today announced negotiation of a new three-year contract with the United Auto Workers covering 3,000 workers at four plants.

The contract agreement is similar to one reached in Chicago Dec. 19 between Alcoa and the United Steelworkers and the Aluminum Workers' International Union.

Meanwhile, in East St. Louis, Ill., the president of the Aluminum Workers International Union announced ratification of a similar pact covering 9,000 workers in seven Alcoa plants.

Eddie R. Stahl said AWI members at Alcoa's LaFayette, Ind., plant voted Friday night to accept the agreement, thus making it binding on all seven locals by a 4-3 majority.

All three contracts provide a wage-benefit package totaling 25 1/2 cents an hour over the three year period, Alcoa said, and are retroactive to Aug. 1 when the old pacts expired.

Alcoa workers had been averaging $2.94 an hour.

The UAW represents Alcoa employees at plants in Chicago, Cleveland, Garwood, N. J., and Vernon, Calif.

Nothing Bothers Buddhist Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Recently in Tobago, West Indies, the location company of "Swiss Family Robinson" was complaining about the food.

All except Sessue Hayakawa, who has his home in Hollywood, the actor explained how he could endure the poor food.

"I was concerned for the other people in the company, but not for myself," he said. "Nothing bothers me. Absolutely nothing. That is a part of being a Zen Buddhist."

Not even a bad golf game bothers the veteran Japanese star. "Because if I get angry, my game gets worse," his religion has been getting much notice recently because it has been embraced by members of the best generation.

Hayakawa, who often speaks at his temple in New York, said he welcomed the beatniks, though he cautioned about Zen becoming a fad.

"It is a way of life," he said. "I think that any religion, whether it be Zen Buddhism, Christianity or whatever, is good for people."

Now past 70, Hayakawa is a handsome, vital testimonial to his faith. He leads a busy life, traveling to acting jobs in all parts of the world and to his four homes on three continents.

Home No. 1 and 2 are in Tokyo. One is an American-style bungalow with central heating. That's his winter home. The other is a larger Japanese home where there are more telephones in Chicago than there are on the entire continent of Africa.

Jaycees Award Trophies To Five Top Young Texans

AUSTIN (AP)—Youthful leaders in the legal, agricultural, business and industrial fields were honored on a Saturday night as the "five outstanding Young Texans" for 1959.

Jack Miller of Brownwood, president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce, awarded trophies at a banquet.

The five are Thomas Mackey, 29, manager of the Wah Chang Corp. tin smelter in Texas City; Porter Loring Jr., 31, president of the Porter Loring Mortuary in San Antonio; Ryan Kennedy, Jr., 33, Nueces County judge from Corpus Christi; Angus Dickson Jr., 31, Comanche County farm agent, and Sam Burris, 35, of Alice, Jim Wells County district attorney.

Dudley Sharp of Houston, secretary of the air force, spoke. Sharp, 34, is a former president of the Mission Manufacturing Co. of Houston.

A panel of labor, business, educational and civic leaders picked the five from nominees proposed on the basis of service to the community, state and nation.

Burris was named an outstanding prosecutor in 1956 after handling the first criminal conviction against South Texas political boss George Parr. He was Jim Wells County attorney and as an assistant general before being elected district attorney in January 1955. Dickson organized 4-H Clubs and set up adult 4-H leadership training programs and agricultural extension classes after going to Comanche County two years ago. One of the county communities, Newburg, has named the state's top rural community. Four other areas have won prizes in rural neighborhood and pasture improvements contests.

Kennedy became the youngest county judge in Texas when he took office last January after six years as Nueces county attorney. He is active in civic work and was named Corpus Christi's outstanding young man for 1959.

Wilson To Make A Ticklish Decision

By DAVE CHEAVENS

AUSTIN (AP)—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson's self-imposed hour-of-decision has put him on a political hot-spot. He has promised to say Tuesday whether he will run for governor.

The make-or-buy decision is complicated by what promises to be a headknocking battle if Wilson decides to stand for reelection as the state's chief law officer.

If Wilson should run for reelection and be defeated, it would be regarded as a virtual death blow to any future political hopes.

On the other hand, if he has enough backing to put on a major campaign for governor and widen his circle of acquaintance, that might help him in another race two years hence. This would be especially true if he is able to get a good showing even in defeat.

Any course he takes will be subject to the scrutiny of the House Speaker Waggoner Carr, who has already in the field for attorney general, regardless of which way Wilson goes in staking out his position.

The extent and intensity of Carr's campaign thus far indicates that he has substantial backing by political insiders to be an eventual major problem this fall year.

One factor is that the money-men who usually put up the cash are having a hard time getting used to the change in filing date for governor.

He said what Texas needs for long-range financing is an increasing flow of support from new business and industry. He urged keeping taxes as low as possible and oil could not be expected to bear the burden of paying for the increase in government demanded by natural growth of the state.

Wilson has been active in prosecuting small loans cases as attorney general, a large segment of that business will back a major campaign against him.

Wilson, if he runs for reelection, will be seeking a third term.

He was not opposed in 1958. He became attorney general after being district attorney in Dallas, where he was active in prosecuting racketeers and organized crime. He was elected to the Supreme Court in 1950 and to his first term as attorney general in 1956.

Another thing is the uncertainty over a special session of the Legislature and a conflict in their understanding of Gov. Price Daniel's ideology on taxation and spending. While Daniel has already received strong conservative backing, his platform could easily be called liberal by Texas standards.

Many conservatives are disturbed by the prospects of more taxes—much more taxes, soon.

Wilson's closest associates admit they do not know which way he will decide to go in his state-wide radio broadcast at 7 p. m. Tuesday.

The attorney general was conferring with backers and friends this weekend. One source said the issue had not yet been decided.

In a speech at Coleman Friday, Wilson was talking like a candidate getting used to the change in filing date for governor.

He said what Texas needs for

Local Girls Doing
 Outstanding Work
 In 4-H Projects

ABOVE LEFT

DORIS RHODES, a seventh grade student at West Elementary has been a member of the Snyder Elementary 4-H Club for three years. She is pictured above working on one of her projects, sewing. Doris has made a nice wardrobe for herself, and has been recognized as an outstanding member in club work. Pictured with her is her Siamese cat, Sam, who is a constant companion. He delights in sitting near Doris, no matter what she may be doing. She says she has to be careful when sewing, for when she opens the top of the shuttle he likes to put his little paw down in the machine to see what makes it run. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rhodes, Lemons Camp.

LOWER RIGHT

DONNA SHAW, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Garland Shaw, 2803 Thirty-eighth Street is a sixth grade student at West Elementary and has been in 4-H work for three years. Donna has received several awards in 4-H work and was presented a gold locket last year. Although she prefers cooking, she has participated in many phases of the 4-H work, among them is the attractive old dresser she refinished for her bedroom. It adds distinction to her room finished in white with gold trimming.

CENTER

LINDA VANDIVER is a member of the Hermleigh 4-H Club and lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Vandiver, eight miles out on the Roby Highway. Linda likes all the work in 4-H, but says she prefers cooking and sewing. She has been a member of the club for three years. She is pictured above with a white cake with chocolate icing she made herself. Her mother said, "I just went into the other room and let her have the kitchen all to herself." (We sampled the cake and it was delicious).

ABOVE RIGHT

GAYLE THORNBURG demonstrates a phase taught in 4-H Club, care of clothing. Gayle seemed pretty handy with an iron, she is a fourth grade student at East Elementary and in her second year of 4-H work, legally that is. Gayle at the age of four, started attending every club meeting with her older sister and according to the leader, remembered instructions better than most members. She is president of her club, the Plainview 4-H, and a very capable leader. She lives with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Thornburg, four and one-half miles northeast of Snyder.

LOWER LEFT

CAROLYN ENGLER, makes a most appetizing looking chocolate pie, as a step in her 4-H Club work. Carolyn is a junior at Snyder High School and a member of the High School 4-H Club. She has been in 4-H work for four years and has received district awards as well as county. She participates in preparing the family meals. Carolyn is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Engler, 315 Thirty-sixth Street. Among her awards are two ribbons in county dress reviews, three dairy food awards and three team demonstration awards.

Toddler's
Winter used to be a confining time for toddlers. Drafty floors kept them in high chairs or play pens all day. Today, thanks to modern heating systems, floors are warm and clean. Toddlers are happier and healthier, too. They can exercise and entertain themselves, freeing mothers for other important jobs.

Carol Bohannon Makes Debut At Ball Held In California

Miss Carol Josephine Bohannon, daughter of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Richard L. Bohannon of California made her debut at a special ball held by daughters of men in the Air Force at Hickman Air Force Base, Kentucky.

Miss Bohannon is well-known in Snyder's younger set, having visited here several times with her aunt, Mrs. Theo Lamb.

Sparkling Air Force blue, white and silver was the color theme used through the club. White bird cages, in which blue ornaments were suspended, hung in the foyer.

Each young debutante, on the arm of her father, courted to her mother, who was seated at a table in the center of the banquet.

The girls were then presented to Gen. Emmett O'Donnell Jr., commanding general of the Pacific Air Force. General O'Donnell presented each debutante with a sash, a pin and a gold medalion.

Following the presentations, debutantes danced the first dance with their fathers in the foyer.

The girls had especially selected for the occasion, their choice was 'The Loveliest Night of the Year.'

There were 10 lovely ladies in the event.

Miss Bohannon, a student at the University of California, chose a gown styled with a fitted bodice and a bateau neckline. The voluminous, full skirt was equipped with hand-clipped peep-toe pumps and trimmed with sequins.

Dutch Learn Art By Radio

By NEL SLIS

THE HAGUE, Netherlands (AP)—Every Monday night, over a 100,000 Dutch listeners switch on their radios for a 10 minutes art lesson given by a museum director or art professor.

Four years ago the 'Foundation for Public Art Properties' introduced the program, and since that time it has taken on undreamed-of proportions. From a subsidized organization, it has become a thriving, profit-making proposition.

It has drawn the attention of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization for possible introduction to other countries.

Subscription to the course costs a radio owner about $2, and entitles him to receive reproductions of some 45 well known works of art which are dealt with by the art professor.

In 1939 about four million reproductions found their way to subscribers, some of whom live as far away as Iceland. The $2 subscription also entitles the holder to free entry to 52 Dutch museums, and reduction fees for certain exhibitions.

According to museum statistics, the radio course has considerably stimulated museum visits.

Johan G. Wertheim, a Dutch sculptor, got the idea for the program while in German concentration camp during World War II.

The Prince-Bernhard Foundation, which supports n.e.d.v. artists, and the Education Ministry were willing to make small subsidies.

In 1938 both received their money.

Facts About Our Local Hospital

The emergency patients for Corbett Hospital have experienced some difficulty and will continue to do so in gaining entrance to the emergency door through the access that has been made available.

The emergency entrance in order to provide space to expand the two new emergency rooms and various other facilities that will be constructed in that general area. However, all entrances have remained open and the hospital personnel are cooperating to the fullest extent in order to provide suitable facilities for those patients requiring emergency treatment during this period of time.

When completed, the new wing will add 33 beds to the present facilities and will include also the Women's Auxiliary Hospital Shop which will provide posts and refreshments and various sundry items for the patients and the visitors in the hospital. The construction program will also include a new intensive care unit which will be for the critically ill and will provide special duty nursing and the latest available equipment for those requiring a great deal of care.

Custom Features

If you find a model house that almost meets your family's needs, try a little bargaining with the builder. He may be able to turn it into a home suited for you. For example, if you'd like air conditioning as well as heating, get an estimate from the builder. He may be able to do it for less than it may cost 2 or 3 years hence. Be sure the changes are indicated on the plan and the information is added to the sales contract before you sign.

Swedish Custom

Add a bit of hot coffee cream and sugar to gravy for roast lamb and distinctive Swedish touch. The Swedes believe in serving lamb piping hot. Lamb fat solidifies at a higher temperature than other animal fat. The new flame-traster oven-control on 1960 ranges will keep platters, plates and the gravy boat warm. The lamb roast will stay warm without overcooking while the gravy is being made.

GOOD SALAD

Some cooks like to mix lime and lemon flavored gelatin as a base for a salad, folding in grated carrot and crushed pineapple. Serve the salad on crisp green lettuce.

American Models Are The Best

By PATRICK MCULTY
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After a 7,500-mile search through Europe for beautiful models, movie-glamour photographer Peter Gowland is back home with this ad story.
He should have stayed in Hollywood.
With dozen European countries and 20 models behind him, Gowland says American women are prettier, and — perhaps more important to a glamour photographer — they aren't shy about taking off their clothes.
During his three-month safari, Gowland discovered only one model willing to pose in the nude — an English showgirl in Paris named Bobby Naylor.
The others? Too shy, says Gowland sadly — even the French girls.
But not the American beauties. Gowland's Hollywood models — and they include some of the movie's prettiest starlets — are happy to shed their clothes at the click of a camera shutter.
As one of Hollywood's leading pin-up photographers, Gowland has a parade of beauties moving through his studio home nestled in a "rustic" narrow "ranch" home. His models include Jayne Mansfield, Venetia Stevenson and Mara Corday.
On the tour with his pretty wife, Alice, and her two daughters, Gowland searched high and low for enough models to fill a picture book on European lovelies. But he and his publisher had to change plans. Just couldn't find enough pretty girls.
Here's how Gowland rated some of the European girls.
England — Best figures in Europe. Swedish models "combine" a good bust without too heavy a body. And they're not as self-conscious as most European girls.
Sweden — A bit too thin and certainly not the Anita Ekberg type, but the best looking. Why? Because they have small noses. Swedish models are the most natural-looking, with no make-up.
France — Not the prettiest, by far, but definitely the most stylish. French models know how to make the best of what they have.
Denmark — Most like American girls in temperament, although they lack the well-developed bodies of America models. Most Danish models speak English and are easy to work with.
Germany — Many different types: blonde, brunette, thin, heavy. German girls have the best legs in Europe.
Italy — A bit too heavy for really first-rate models. Italian models were the most modest encountered on the trip.

Basic Black Dress Keeps Rating In High Fashion

Regardless of boom times or recessions, the American woman has long had a reputation for possessing two virtues much admired abroad and by husbands at home—chic and economy.

The "little black dress" has been a classic with American women for many years, and secretaries and society matrons alike have managed to do wonders, with tasteful and colorful accessories, to a well-made, attractive basic dress.

In recent years there has been an upswing in the manufacture of colorful applications for the home—another opportunity for the ingenuity of our homemakers to show itself. And, of course, slip covers for furniture are now available in a wider range variety of colors and styles. This allows a thrifty housewife to alter the appearance of her home as if she had had a complete redecorating job, and the expense is minimal.

"Now we find out cost-conscious housewives are moving into the field that has long been the realm of the man of the home—the family car. According to the Automobile Seat Cover Association of America, women are buying more and more influence on the auto manufacturers' plans for new models, and particularly in the field of colors. This isn't too surprising—What surprised the bill-paying husbands is the economy-minded approach to style that women are bringing to car upkeep.

We've all heard the old joke about getting a new car because the ash trays in the old one are full. It is no joke, though, when a careless cigarette-smoker leaves a hole in the upholstery, or when the neighbor's child never your own experiments on the back seat with his new baseball spikes.

Just as the little black dress in every woman's wardrobe is rendered timeless by the tasteful use of accessories, so is her automobile updated, inexpensively with new seat covers for damaged or worn seats.

Behind these separate innovations is a correlation long practiced by the wealthy—first, invest by steadily mounting taxes and, imbued with the desire to maintain a certain chic, American women, regardless of economic position, are eager to give new values to the things they have, inexpensively.

Coming out of the 1957 recession, American women are economy-minded like they haven't been for a generation. At the same time there has been no lessening in their desire for beauty, order and color in their lives.

It isn't that they are buying less—gross sales are up 4.2 per-

Mother, Daughter, Talk It Up On The Airwaves

NEW HARTFORD, N. Y. (AP)—Every day at 3 p.m., K2VYP calls K2TDG. Radio hams in the Binghamton and Utica areas of upstate New York know that Grandma is going to talk to Peg.

Grandma—as she is known on the airwaves—is Mrs. George Gilbert of Binghamton. Peg is her daughter, Mrs. Thomas Higgins of New Hartford, wife of the Utica College basketball coach.

The daily conversations began two years ago.

Even a recent trip to the hospital to give birth to her fourth child failed to disrupt Mrs. Higgins' daily radio routine. She had a receiver installed in her hospital room, and got messages from her mother.

Mrs. Higgins also listened to her husband and children calling from their home radio room during her hospital stay.

When conditions are good, Grandma in Binghamton, Peg at home in New Hartford, and Coach Higgins from his cackling Utica manage three-way conversations.

Every Tuesday Mrs. Higgins and other women radio hams in a half dozen other cities hold a coffee-break discussion about repapering walls, pickling cucumbers and such.

"This is a hobby that is very rewarding and very enjoyable," says Mrs. Gilbert. "You meet people in all walks of life."

Library Notes

If you borrowed and read books from the Scurry County Library system during the past year, you had a part in establishing the first complete yearly record for library use in this community.

The 1955 circulation figure of 85,714 represents a total circulation of more than four times the complete book stock, or an average of 15 books circulated for each registered borrower. These figures indicate how many Scurry County residents are reading books even though the area is so generously dotted with television antennas.

Most outstanding was the increase in the circulation of non-fiction books to adults as compared with the December 1954 figure.

Smaller gain was made in the circulation of non-fiction to children however, more books were checked out to young people than to adults during every month except September and October. This despite the fact that for every ten books in the youth room there are three available in the adult room.

Besides the books loaned, 130 phonograph records were also circulated.

Librarians agree that reading tastes are gradually changing. Reading of mysteries, westerns and other light reading is down, and there has been a noticeable switch in recent years from fiction to fact. County residents are using the library more and more to help solve their problems in everyday living.

In addition to the upward trend in the number of books taken out for home use, there has also been an increase in the use of other services of the library. More people come "over the counter" to read either for pleasure or with a purpose. Some sixty periodicals currently received in the library provide patrons with the most current reading material. Many visit the library regularly without ever borrowing a book so that the circulation figure is only a partial indication of total library use.

This is clearly illustrated by one recent evening at the branch library when only ten books were

Beauty Tips from ME to YOU

By Jessie Hampton

To follow up the last two weeks on skin care, here are a few nevers to remember: Never scrub face with cloth; use a complexion brush or massage with fingers. Never leave a film of soap on the face. Never rinse with a washcloth. Catch water in hands and splash it on face. Never use extremely hot or cold water. Never use a brush or comb on hair. Never use a hair brush on hair. Never use a hair brush on hair. Never use a hair brush on hair.

More "nevers" on skin care: Never go to bed with your make-up on no matter how tired. Never pull down on facial tissue. Never forget the neck is part of your face so give it the same care. Never follow your neighbor's skin care—use the one suited to you. Never grow complacent about your skin care. If some particular face changes, use home face the better change your care to apply to your new condition.

The Gardeners Corner

By EARL ARONSON
AP Newsfeatures

Every year we stake out a corner of the garden for something new in the flower or vegetable kingdom. It doesn't have to be a new variety—just something we have never raised before. This is a pleasant way to expand our activity and knowledge.

If the seed catalogues come in your way don't offer anything temptingly new, there are plenty of tried and true species.

We've had a peek at some of the 1960 introductions, ranging from roses to marigolds and watermelon to beets.

One new rose likely to be popular is Hawaii, a hybrid tea that honors our newest state. The nursery description of this orange-colored rose makes it mighty tempting. Along pointed buds that open slowly to a bloom more than six inches across. The plant averages four feet tall and has glossy green leaves with tints of red in the fall and produces abundantly.

Reports from testers across the country were enthusiastic about the color, wild raspberry fragrance, foliage and hardiness, especially under hot sun.

And from beauty to the best—the New Hampshire sweetheart beet was developed by the New Hampshire Experiment Station which crossed a table beet with

Use Your Head When Planning To Decorate

Furnish your home with your head. You can put your heart into it later.

If your furniture is chosen just because it is "cute" or "in style" or "of the period" you may rue the day you made the purchase.

Dislike the skinny man who is given only hard furniture to sit on. It may have been fine for the spartan Shakers, but he'll take some cushions, please.

Inspect Before Buying

The guest bed-sofa is a fine idea for those unexpected visits from your mother-in-law, but be sure you can get the bed to open before you buy it. Some of these contraptions require real muscles.

Others may be poor excuses for the dual purpose. The mattresses are lumpy, bumpy, and full of nail-like buttons.

Is the coffee table a practical idea or is it a dust-catcher? If it'll pay its way in your home, have it. But don't get one just because friend Josie gets a lot of mileage out of hers. A great many coffee tables wind up with collections of ash trays, lighters and matches with the shelf beneath loaded with old magazines and newspapers. If end tables on either side of your sofa will solve the problem, settle for those, and keep the floor area as clear as possible.

Pictures shouldn't be "put up" on the wall. They should be planned.

COOK PROK

According to the United States Department of Agriculture, the meat thermometer provides the most reliable method for testing thoroughness of cooking thick pork cuts such as fresh ham and shoulder.

Many Gold Star ranges have incorporated meat thermometers into ovens or rotisseries. This feature permits the cook to leave the house when she has set the thermometer and turned the flame on. When the meat reaches the temperature indicated on the thermometer Gold Star ranges automatically shut off the gas or signal. There is no danger of meats undercooking or overcooking when you have an automatic meat thermometer on your range.

CHALLENGE OF THE 60'S

New Program Drawing More Students To Observatory

AUSTIN, (AP) — McDonald Observatory, owned by the University of Texas but operated in large part by the University of Chicago, is becoming more Texan.

The observatory houses the world's fourth largest telescope. It is atop 8,791-foot Mt. Locke in the Davis Mountains of far west Texas.

A new program recently started by the two universities is drawing Texas students, teachers and researchers into a joint department of astronomy.

Depending on his needs, a graduate student may begin astronomy studies either at Austin or Chicago, spend a year at Chicago's Yerkes Observatory at Williams Bay, Wis., and one or more years at McDonald with trips to another large observatory to be built soon in Chile for southern hemisphere viewing.

Upon graduation, the Texas student will receive a joint degree from the two schools.

Teachers and scientist in the new department are among the world's top astronomers.

Chairman and director of McDonald Observatory is Dr. Gerald P. Kuiper, considered by many of the world's foremost authority on the solar system.

When most of Texas has bedded down for the night, Dr. Kuiper opens the doors to the giant five-story dome and begins his watch on the zodiac, the pathway in which the planets, the moon, and the sun cross the heavens from east to west.

An imaginative public knows Dr. Kuiper best for his 15-year study of Mars. The 53-year-old Dutchman, believes most of the red planet's surface is a vast wasteland, yellow, orange desert devoid of the famed canals but supporting lichen, moss-like growth found on rocks of Texas but operated in large part by the University of Chicago, is becoming more Texan.

Dr. Johnson divides his time between the main university in Austin and McDonald Observatory.

A Chicago member of the department, Dr. William W. Morgan, with the help of two other astronomers, first mapped the spiral arms of the Milky Way. Their map clearly revealed that the gigantic pinwheel of billions of stars, in which our sun and its planets are located, has giant twisting arms comprised of gas, dust and stars spiraling out from the center.

Dr. W. Albert Hiltner, also of Chicago University, has helped dispel early thought that interstellar space was a vast emptiness which is now known to be filled with a starlight from the Milky Way is polarized—brighter in one direction than another. The polarization results when light passes through great clouds of tiny dust particles floating through space. The particles of these interstellar clouds are not round, but rather needle-shaped. Oriented in certain directions they allow light to pass with greater ease one way than another.

The polarization is regarded as evidence for the possible existence of weak magnetic fields in space. Indeed, Dr. Hiltner, using the polarization as a guide, has mapped what may be a magnetic field.

Dr. Hiltner recently supervised the installation of a new 36-inch telescope atop Mt. Locke.

Alongside its big brother, the little dome looks like a toy. It will be used by students, but its importance cannot be slighted since there are not more than 40 telescopes in the world as powerful. The larger telescope (82 inches) exceeded in size only by three giants in California. But it has certain advantages in that it is higher, has better weather allow for more hours of viewing, and is farther south, thus scanning a portion of the universe not seen by the other three.

If the earth were flat, the instrument's accuracy and power would allow the viewing of a man in Lima, Peru, from Houston—some 3,000 miles.

The success of the newly formed joint department spurred university administrators to go a step further and try the co-operative effort on an international basis. Recently, South America's University of Chile set up a 24-inch telescope. One, in Africa, the other in Australia. Significantly, however, the new telescope will be at a much greater altitude (7,000 to 9,000 feet), thus minimizing atmospheric turbulence and allowing much better images.

Indian Days Of Old Lamar Are Recalled

ROCKPORT, Tex. (AP) — A history of old Lamar, written by a grand daughter of the second settler, tells of a time when no man could hunt, fish, cut a tree or do anything without permission of the Indians.

The history, recently discovered, was written 30 years ago by the late Mrs. Ella McRae Clay, who grew up in Lamar.

The first settler there was Capt. James Byrne, who named the town. Archibald moved to Lamar from Pensacola, landing at Indianola and going overland.

Mrs. Clay, a little girl, heard her grandmother tell about the early times.

In 1839, Lamar consisted of 20 houses and underwent its Indian raid.

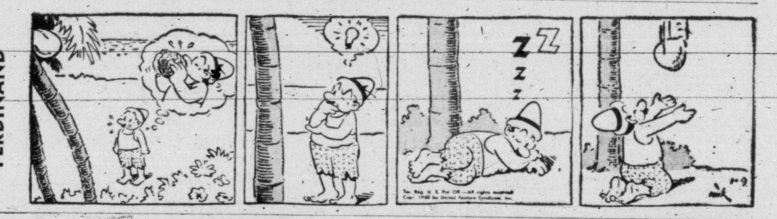

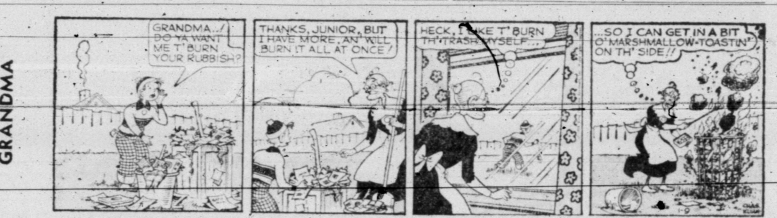

"My grandparents were so frightened when they saw the Indians coming," said Mrs. Clay, "that they hurriedly boarded their boat and crossed over to Live Oak Point, where Col. James Power lived. There, they stayed until all danger was past and then returned home."

About 10 years later, Mrs. Clay wrote, "One of our neighbors, Mrs. Eve Strong, had a terrible experience with the Indians. When a child she and her sister were looking for the milk cows about Indianola, they happened upon the Indians coming, so she blew a horn for the girls to come home, but the Indians knew what the signal meant, so they circled and captured both."

But an old squaw could not make Mrs. K. stay on her horse, so they left her on the prairie thinking she would die, as they scalped her and left her full of arrows. Her brother, John Thomas, found her next morning. They took the other little girl to the Indian Territory. Later she was rescued and lived to tell the story to her grandchildren.

"One of the first school houses in the area was built about 1840 and part of the building still stands between the Catholic chapel and 'Lady Star of the Sea' and Goose Island State Park.

The McRae home stood among live oaks and grapevines on the high shore of the bay, and in the deep yard was one of the largest spreading live oaks anywhere in the area.

U. S. Share Of World Oil Production Still Skidding

The 1959 decline was only 0.35 percent compared to an average annual drop of 1.97 per cent the past 15 years.

Despite the steady loss of the dominant position, however, the U.S. has accounted for over 35 per cent of all the world output since 1914, and the production record book by turning out 2,000 barrels of crude in 1857. Ike Talk Signals More Tight Money

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — President Eisenhower's call for a renewed fight on inflation bolsters the belief that money will be kept tight and interest rates high or rising.

Financial institutions may tailor their own ideas about what to charge borrowers along these lines. Home builders and other foes of tight money may renew their fight on the policy.

It should be one of the most controversial subjects in the new congressional session and a hotly debated one along Wall and Main streets.

In financial circles it is noted that President Eisenhower in his State of the Union message lays out his fight on inflation along three fronts:

1. He promises that the new federal budget to be submitted Jan. 18 will be balanced and gives the assurance, welcome to financial experts, that the fiscal year ending June 30, 1960, will find the Treasury holding a surplus of 200 million dollars. Some notes this will largely be due to a bigger-than-expected payment to the Treasury by the Federal Reserve System. But every little bit helps.
2. He assails the restrictions on how much interest the Treasury can pay on long-term borrowing, calling it archaic and a roadblock to proper management of the federal debt. The interest limit has forced the Treasury to tap the short-term market heavily and help push up interest rates higher—state, local and corporate.
3. He recognizes labor-management disputes, which the past usually have ended in another twist of the wage-price spiral, as a prime reason for the rise in the cost of living.

In management circles it is generally held rather bitterly that the government's spiraling steel settlement has all the potentialities of starting another twist to the spiral.

Management figures that the dispute over featherbedding and management control of work rules has been shelved by the settlement but will crop up again elsewhere.

The President calls one again for stern discipline by every citizen in holding down wage demands and price rises. Some cynics note that such pleas have not worked in the past.

He urges management to avoid price increases by efforts to boost efficiency. He asks labor to help increase productivity.

Some see the proof of the pudding coming in how long steel companies will or can hold to present prices as the new and higher wage scales take hold, and the management requested rule changes for better efficiency are in abeyance.

Most financial experts are sure to praise the President's bid for a balanced budget, but if a record high one—although they have crossed fingers over what Congress might do to that when it gets going.

Judge Suggests Closing Border

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A federal judge has a novel suggestion for stopping dope traffic.

Close the U.S. Mexico border for at least three months and nationalize the army troops if necessary.

U. S. Thurmond Clark made the proposal after a jury convicted Robert Earl Franklin, 27, of San Diego, of possession of marijuana. It would say that 90 per cent of all our marijuana and narcotics are coming from the Mexican side of the border," the judge commented.

He said the Army should patrol the border from Tijuana to El Paso, Tex. "until we see that Mexico cooperates."

Network Denies Crew Walked Out

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The National Broadcasting Co. denies participation in a radio-TV walk-out at Gov. Edmund G. Brown's news conference Wednesday. NBC says its representative was there with pencil and paper.

John Thompson, manager of NBC News' Pacific Division, disputed published accounts that all TV and radio crews except that of KCOP walked out on Brown after he refused to be filmed while newspaper reporters interviewed him.

"A full account of the Governor's remarks was carried on both out newsstands last night," Thompson said Thursday.

Actress' Daughter Divorces Director

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Katherine Hepburn, daughter of actress Norma Shearer, has divorced film director Jack N. Rothstein.

"He was mean, disagreeable, argumentative and had tempered to me," she testified Thursday. "He expected me to support him."

Mrs. Rothstein, 24, waived alimony. She will keep their Beverly Hills home, valued at $60,000. Her father was the late producer Irving Thalberg. Rothstein, 32, is a former ski champion.

CAMPAGNING—Mrs. John Kennedy, wife of Sen. Kennedy of Massachusetts, who is a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, laughs as House Speaker Sam Rayburn, back to camera, reads a campaign sign at the Women's National Press Club's Welcome to Congress party in Washington. A feature of the party was balloting by members of Congress for candidates to head their parties. The final count showed Democrats chose Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas as presidential choice, while Sen. Kennedy as vice president. Republicans picked Vice President Nixon as their presidential nominee. The sign is held by Mrs. Freddie Boyle. Accurate Count On Deer Harvest

By EARL GOLDING
Waco Tribune Herald Staff Writer for The Associated Press
LLANO (AP) — For the first time, the Game Commission says it knows how many deer have been harvested in a given area for a given season.

The biggest Llano County deer harvest in 1959 was 5,211 deer, the commission reported all hunters. The best rack of antlers carried by a hunter in Llano County was 30 points.

Whether the Game Department kills at the outskirts of Llano, figures produced by a biologist will repeat the check station near Jim Teer and his assistants show deer remains to be seen, but Teer said 9,220 deer were checked during the 1959 season. It is an amazing figure, especially when you consider that the estimate on the 1958 kill was something like 3,500.

Teer, who has worked Llano County 30 years, says this was "an exceptional year" much better than most of the other years he has been here.

"Why was the kill so great?" He credits most of it to the presence of so many bucks during 1958. "We had more bucks and it reflected in the overall harvest," Jim says. A pre-season survey indicated a ratio of one buck to 2.6 does in the county, which may come as a surprise to hunters who have watched as many as 25 does go by a blind without seeing a single set of antlers in the bunch.

The ratio, he says, is much more equal than it has been in other years.

He says during some years it has run something like 1 buck to

Pioneer Producer Taken To Hospital
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mack Sennett, who brought comedies and bathing beauties to Hollywood, was hospitalized Thursday night with a lung infection.

The pioneer movie producer was admitted to the Motion Picture Country House and Hospital.

His agent, Reese-Halsey, said Sennett walked in the action was described as precautionary. Halsey said Sennett will be 80 on Jan. 17.
