Daily Train From Canton Arrives Without 11 Airmen

HONG KONG (AP)—The daily train from Communist Canton to the Hong Kong border arrived today without the 11 U.S. airmen being freed by Communist China. Apparently they were to arrive tomorrow, as the Reds announced previously.

The next Canton train was due at 1:30 tomorrow afternoon Hong Kong time, or 11:30, EST, tonight.

It usually takes 30 to 45 minutes after the train arrives for persons coming out of Communist China to complete the formalities on the Red side and reach the border bridge into British territory.

Two U.S. Air Force C54 transports waited at Hong Kong's Kai Tak Airport to rush the men to the Philippines for a stay of two or three days. Then they will be flown direct to the West Coast for a reunion with their families at either McChord Air Force Base near Seattle or Travis Air Force Base near San Francisco.

In the Philippines, at the Air Force's Clark Field north of Manila, they will be given medical checkups and administrative processing. They also will give Air Force officers preliminary accounts of their treatment by the Reds since their B29 Superfortress was shot down 2½ years ago on a mission over North Korea.

The group was sentenced last November to prison terms ranging up to 10 years on a charge of spying, which the United States has denied.

A red carpet welcome was promised by Clark Field.

"We're all set to take care of them," said Brig. Gen. William L. Lee, 13th Air Force commander. "They'll get all they want of the best to eat."

Lee was particularly interested in seeing an "old friend," Col. John Knox Arnold, Silver Spring, Md. "He was base commander here at Clark before flying to Korea on rotation," Lee said.

"I told him when he left not to get in a mess up there. He liked to fly. We've been sweating him out for a long time now."

Col. James W. Humphreys Jr., Richmond, Va., Clark base surgeon, said the men will have quarters in an air-conditioned hospital ward. They will have a special staff of four doctors, three nurses and six special corpsmen.

"If they want to live on steak and pie a la mode, we'll fix it for them," Humphreys said.

The airmen were scheduled to stay less than four hours in Hong Kong. From the border they will be driven to the Fanling Jockey Club for a preliminary medical examination and new uniforms. There one reporter and one photographer will talk with them briefly for all publications.

Newsmen swarming into Hong Kong to report the fliers' arrival protested the restriction, but U.S. Air Attache O. W. D. Simpson said instructions from Washington were to permit no individual interviews.

From the Jockey Club the men will be rushed to the airport for the flight to Manila.

Palacios Area Seems Assured Of Matagorda Deep Water Cut

PALACIOS, Tex. (AP)—The Palacios-Port Lavaca area seemed assured tentative approval of a deep water cut through Matagorda Island from the gulf to the Matagorda Bay after a public hearing before U.S. Army engineers yesterday.

Col. W. P. McCorne, commander of the Galveston district of the corps of engineers, told more than 600 persons at the hearing that his office will approve the cut, and that preliminary studies indicate that it will be located at Pass Cavallo between Palacios and Port Lavaca.

"The report on the cut is due in the Dallas office of the corps by Oct. 1 and it will get priority in our office," he said.

Representatives of mid-coastal development firms and business groups urged the project. No objections were made.

Col. McCrone said Pass Cavallo is a natural pass and probably could require less maintenance than such cuts as Greens Bayou Pass directly across from Palacios.

Mayor R. C. Gusman of Bay City demanded that the development of a flood discharge channel in the nearby Colorado River be separated from the deep water channel.

The channel sought by Palacios-Port Lavaca residents would be 200 feet wide and 30 feet deep. The Pass Cavallo deep water inlet would extend about 30 miles through Matagorda and Lavaca bays straddling the Matagorda-Calhoun County line most of the way.

It would terminate in a 1,000 by 1,000 foot turning basin at Point Comfort, site of the giant Aluminum Co. of America plant.

The second proposed channel location would be through the Matagorda inlet a mile west of Greens Bayou Pass. It would be about 25 miles long and would terminate at Point Comfort.

Ed Brinkman, Victoria, who represented the Calhoun County Navigation District, said the district would prove $6 million of the estimated $14.7 million cost of the deep water channel.

Brinkman said an agreement had been worked out between ALCOA and the navigation district by which the district would issue revenue bonds and the ALCOA would help the district retire them by paying for the use of the turning basin and other deep water channel facilities belonging to the district.

He said the channel was needed to develop oil activity in the coastal tidelands, for the improvement of agriculture and the marketing of agricultural products and for the benefit of fishing and shell production and to serve as a port of refuge.

Frank L. MaGee, ALCOA vice president, said his organization planned to build a huge plant at Point Comfort in addition to present facilities.

He said the company needed a deep water channel to Point Comfort by 1956 in order to build the plant.

Notices Of Increases In City Taxes Mailed 2,000 Taxpayers

As a result of the city tax equalization program now underway, about 2,000 notices of increases in city taxes have been mailed to tax payers, and about 1,500 notices of decreases are being mailed out this week, Malven K. Stevenson, mayor said.

Public hearings will be held by the tax equalization board Aug. 8, 9, and 10 for persons who wish to appear before the board to discuss their taxes personally.

The mayor said that many of the increases were for no more than 10 cents, and that many ranged higher, especially where additions or improvements to properties had been made since the property was previously rendered for taxes.

A slight increase in the rate of assessment has been authorized by the city council and the rate of assessment for this year's taxes will be 35 per cent of the value of the property.

City annexations and construction of about $1,500,000 worth of new buildings and houses in Snyder last year, however, will account for most of the increase in the overall evaluation on the city tax rolls.

When the equalization board's work is completed city valuations are expected to total approximately $13,000,000.

City tax valuations for last year totaled about $11,600,00.

About one half million dollars in the valuations will result from assessment of 35 per cent of the increase due to constructions last year, and the other increase will result jointly from the equalization program and the increase to 35 per cent assessment.

"Don't feel left out if you do not get a notice of either an increase or decrease in your taxes, but it will certainly be a coincidence if your city taxes remain exactly the same as they were last year," Stevenson said.

The equalization program is being carried out to remove many inequities from the tax rolls where some persons were being taxed too much, and others too little compared to the average.

The increase in the rate of assessment was necessary to help take care of increasing bonded indebtedness payments, which this year will increase about $10,000 over payments on bonded debts last year.

The increase in tax revenue bonded debts almost exclusively in on bonds sold the last few years to make improvements to the city water system, during which time $250,000 in bonds were sold to pay for expansions to the water distribution system and to build the filtration plant now in use at Avenue M and Thirty-second Street.

Hermleigh Schools To Open On Sept. 1

Plans are now underway for opening of the Hermleigh schools on Sept. 1, according to Orville Paty, superintendent there.

Buses will run on that day, Paty said, adding that school on the first day will open at 9 a.m. and dismiss by noon. Students will register and check out books on the first day, while regular classes will start the next day at 8:35 a.m. The lunch room will begin serving meals on the first full day of classes.

The faculty is now complete, Paty said. Enrollment should be about 400, or about the same as last year, he added.

During the summer extensive repairs have been made in the gymnasium, while the grade school has been painted. New seats and dressing rooms have been added to the gym, the old ceiling torn out, and the gym painted inside.

A new bus has also been purchased, and Paty will take delivery in Richmond, Ind., before school starts.

Temperature Reaches 95 Tuesday Afternoon

Sultry weather which followed yesterday morning's rain did nothing to ease the effects of the 95-degree maximum recorded yesterday afternoon. The temperature dropped to 67 degrees overnight and was on the way up again with 74 degrees at 7:30 this morning, David Strayhorn, weather observer, said.

Congressional Dignity Gone, House Has Fun

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congressional dignity and lawmaking tensions dissolved into hijinks, harmony and rollicking high spirits in the closing hours of the 1955 House session last night.

Old-timers said they had seldom if ever seen such a boisterous outburst of monkeyshines in the traditionally sedate House chamber.

Over in the Senate things were quieter. Up almost to the last minute Sen. Morse (D-Ore) was reading a long speech on federal aid to education, while one by one his colleagues slipped away.

Morse kept on, even when Sen. Lehman (D-NY) came up for a farewell handclasp.

In the House the joint was jumping. Members had cleared their calendar, and about 100 of them hung around waiting on the Senate.

Just before 9 p.m. Rep. Priest (D-Tenn), a barbershop tenor, assembled a chorus of harmonizers. Before it was over, even the packed gallery had joined in a chorus of "Moonlight and Roses."

Rep. Friedel (D-Md) did a "bird imitation." He sipped from a glass. That was a "swallow."

At one point in the hour and a half floor show, an elderly, gray-haired woman in red jumped to her feet in the visitors' gallery and shouted to Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich):

Rabaut ignored this breach of rules at the time. But later he went to the gallery to give her a handshake. Gallery attendants said she gave her name as Mrs. Lottie Fitzgerald Lively, Louisville, Ky.

"It's my first visit to Congress and I'm enjoying it thoroughly," she told them.

Rep. Chelf (D-Ky) brought the house down, figuratively, with harmonica renditions, swaying like a hula dancer and stomping his feet.

The noisy chamber hushed while William Goodwin, 18-year-old red-haired page boy from Pontiac, Mich., sang "The Lord's Prayer" in a rich, deep voice.

"Sorry, buddy," said Chelf, "I don't know one note from the other."

Rep. Gray (D-Ill) ranted loudly through a professional-sounding tobacco auctioneer's chant.

Bill Falkner, a page from Decatur, Ga., recited "The Face on the Barroom Floor."

Junior Rodeo Parade Set For Aug. 17

Preliminary plans were announced this morning for the opening day parade of the second annual World Championship Junior Rodeo to be held here Aug. 17-20, and entry was opened for floats and riding groups in the parade.

Entries for these floats and riding groups will be accepted at the Chamber of Commerce office or by Frank Weaver or Pat Falls, parade marshals.

The junior rodeo will be staged jointly this year by the Scurry County Junior Rodeo Association and the Scurry County Boys Club. The junior rodeo group here is affiliated with the American Junior Rodeo Association, and the Snyder show will be the last one of the junior rodeo point year. Points will be totaled following this show, and scholarships and other prizes will be presented later at the annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show at Fort Worth.

Prizes of $100, $65, and $35 have been set up for top floats in the first day parade, while three trophy prizes are to be awarded to riding groups. Sheriff's posse groups and other riding groups from surrounding cities and counties are being invited.

The parade will be held at 6 p. m. Aug. 17 and will be staged like that held for the annual Scurry County Rodeo last month.

Arrangements for the rodeo are being made under direction of Weldon Johnson, one of four adult national directors of the AJRA, and Max West, president of the Boys Club. Also working with them are local junior rodeo officers. They are Sonny Harrell, president; Joe Rollins, vice-president; Betty Connell, secretary; Billy Clyde Roberson, arena director; Sittie Harrell, Connie Connell, and Nonnie Rodgers, sponsor hostesses; Sidney Wallace Johnson, Don Stewart, Billy Joe Hataway, Delbert Hataway, Buddy Townsend, Bobby Stanton, Steve Nail, and Doug Forbes, directors.

The junior rodeos are limited to boys 19 years old and younger. Events scheduled are bareback bronc riding, calf roping, flag racing, ribbon roping, barrel racing, cutting horse contest, kid pony races, and bull riding.

Prisoner Shot In 58-Man Jail Riot

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., (AP) — Ten officers shot one prisoner to death and injured four others last night in quelling a 58-man jail riot.

The bloody outbreak was the Bexar County Jail's second abortive riot in a week. The first, on July 26, took three hours to break up. Last night's was stopped in 30 minutes.

Sheriff Owen Kilday, a brother of Rep. Paul Kilday (D-Tex), wept as he told of firing the fatal bullet riot flared to a climax about 9 p.m.

"I saw him fall," Kilday sobbed.

He said he fired in self-defense. Escobedo, he said, was brandishing a large tray and refused to put it down as the sheriff ordered. Kilday said when Escobedo started to throw the tray at him, "I shot him."

Kilday left a hospital bed to come to the jail when jailers warned him that a riot threatened. He was wounded a few hours before last's disturbance when a .25-caliber pistol discharged as he alighted from an automobile. He was not hurt last night.

He said paraffin bullets were used at first last night. He ordered regular ammunition only after the dummy slugs failed to quell the rioters. About 40 shots were fired.

Galvino Beltran, 18, was shot in both legs and Rudolfo Reyes, 33, was shot in the right leg. Two other prisoners were struck by flying objects. None were believed in serious condition.

Jailer Bob Beckman said the riot began when vengeful prisoners protested disciplinary action against Johnny Crawford, 22, an habitual criminal serving a life term and described as a leader in last week's riot.

Some of the subdued prisoners complained bitterly after last night's fight on what they called police brutality. Kilday said some prisoners were slugged by officers as they filed out of the cell block but that he stopped it when he saw it.

Escobedo was serving a 90-day term for theft. He died in a hospital about 30 minutes after end of the riot.

Annual Tour Planned By Farm Group

Members of the Chamber of Commerce agriculture committee yesterday made plans for the second annual general farm tour, which will be held here Aug. 25.

Discussing the number expected to attend the all-day tour, which includes a free barbecue at noon, the group decided to make tentative preparations for 350 persons. Last year, 287 were fed at the barbecue.

The tour will be open to farmers, businessmen, and any others interested. Speaker at the noon meal will be Sterling Evans, president of the National Farm Loan Association.

In discussing possible stops to be made on the tour, members of the panel mentioned dairying, ensilage, guar, and peas growing in fields with cotton, irrigation, poultry, permanent grasses, terraces, and swine raising as possibilities of topics to be covered.

Jake Hodges, chairman of the agriculture committee, named Oscar Fowler, Joel Hodges, Audry Head, and himself as members of a sub-committee to set up a tentative touring schedule for the day. The schedule will be considered by the entire committee at a later meeting.

Gave Ike Lot He Asked For

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bitter wrangles of the last few days turned to mutual compliments and rollicking good humor as Congress ended its seven-month session early today.

President Eisenhower relayed his regards and apparently an over-all satisfaction to the Democratic-controlled Congress, which had strongly supported him in foreign policy matters and given him much he asked in the domestic field.

A half-dozen major bills and scores of lesser ones had been rushed to his desk in the final long day and night of this first session of the 84th Congress.

These included bills on housing, polio vaccine, the local transit strike, defense production, loans to small business and a money bill to finance Congress itself.

Eisenhower had expressed displeasure with some features of the housing bill, but some Republican leaders discounted the talk that he might summon a special session to deal with the issue again.

Barring a special session, Congress will return Jan. 3.

Adjournment came two working days after the target date which Democratic leaders had fixed. The House quit at 11:36 p.m., the Senate at 12:05 a.m.

Many Senate and House members already had left the capital for home or on trips planned in the expectation Congress would quit Saturday as originally planned.

Few others were expected to stay long in Washington's heat — it reached a steamy 98 yesterday — although a few committee hearings were planned for the next few days.

Left in midair were controversial proposals for construction of atomic merchant vessels, highway building, school construction, exemption of natural gas producers from federal regulation, upper Colorado River development, customs simplification, rigid farm price supports and expanded social security benefits.

All these were passed by one house but ignored by the other. They remain alive to touch off new disputes in the 1956 election-year session.

The legislators took no action on several recommendations Eisenhower is expected to renew next year.

These include proposals for liberalizing the Refugee Admission Act, increasing postal rates, lowering the voting age to 18, loans for low-income farmers, federal reinsurance of health programs, pay increases for top government executives and revision of the Taft-Hartley Labor Relations Act.

Looming on the horizon for 1956 when the Democrats still will control both houses, barring upsets caused by deaths, are expected new proposals to cut taxes and a showdown fight over Democratic-supported efforts to restore rigid farm price supports.

The House wound up its business in a carnival atmosphere, with perhaps more than the usual amount of singing and general hijinks.

But that ended shortly before adjournment with a tribute to his colleagues from Speaker of the House Rayburn (D-Tex), who said:

"I think you have been the hardest working Congress that it's ever been my privilege to serve."

Senators, less boisterous, passed around compliments. Then in a chamber from which nearly all his colleagues had departed, Sen. Morse (D-Ore) spoke on into the night on aid to education.

There were some few differences of opinion over the record the two houses compiled in a session that began Jan. 5.

Sen. Clements of Kentucky, acting Democratic leader, told the Senate:

"I do not desire to quote the President, but I do not hesitate to say to the Senate that though he may have been disappointed along the line . . . at some shortcomings, in his estimation, on the part of the Congress, yet I am of the opinion that he thinks that the Congress did a very creditable job during the first session . . ."

Clements read a statement by Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the majority leader who suffered a heart attack a month ago, saying, "Everyone of us can be proud of the record of this Congress."

Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, said the Senate had faced important foreign policy matters "as Americans, not as partisans." He said he had talked to Eisenhower and that the President "sent his regards to each member."

Sen. Kerr (D-Okla) said credit should go to Sen. George (D-Ga) for the developments that "culminated in the Big Four summit talks at Geneva. He added that had it not been for the Democratic leadership Eisenhower never would have gone to the conference.

Sen. Purtell (R-Conn) said in a statement he thought the 1955 session "did a creditable job in legislative enactment but its accomplishments fall far short when compared to those of the previous session of Congress."

In its seven months, Congress gave Eisenhower most of the foreign policy legislation he asked, although not always in the form he requested.

It passed the defend-Formosa resolution, cut his request for foreign aid funds and extended the reciprocal trade agreements program with most of the tariff-cutting powers he asked. The Senate ratified the Southeast Asia Defense Pact and the West German and Austrian treaties.

On the domestic front, Congress trimmed $1,800,000,000 from the approximately 54 billion dollars in new appropriations which Eisenhower asked.

If trimmed his defense budget only slightly while voting more money for the Marine Corps than the President said he was willing to spend, passed a military reserve bill lacking many provisions he

Things Congress Left Undone Promise Lively Time In 1956

Fourteen important measures President Eisenhower asked for did not reach his desk. Several other major bills also were left hanging.

All pending legislation will be alive when Congress returns Jan. 3.

Perhaps the most important Eisenhower bills stranded were those to start a multibillion-dollar exbuilding program and to aid in local school construction.

The Senate passed a road bill which omitted the bond-financing feature supported by the President. The House became snarled over how to pay for the new highways and passed no bill.

Neither branch passed a school construction bill, although the House Education Committee approved one in the closing days of the session. In Senate committee, the measure remained snarled in a dispute over an antisegregation provision.

These were administration bills which passed only one branch:

Upper Colorado River authorization — passed Senate, approved by House committee.

Customs simplification—Passed House, tied up in Senate Financu Committee.

Pay increase for Cabinet officers and several hundred other top government executives—Passed House, died in the Senate last night.

Military survivors benefits — Passed House.

These were measures asked by the President which neither body passed:

A constitutional amendment to lower the voting age to 18 in federal elections.

Revision of the Taft-Hartley labor-management relations law.

Liberalization of Refugee Relief Act.

Atomic peace ship — The House passed an atomic merchant ship bill, but not the demonstration vessel asked by the President.

Program of loans and other aids to low-income farmers — One minor measure passed Congress, but the principal legislation was not acted on.

In addition, several major bills which largely originated among the lawmakers failed to win final passage this session, but most of them are certain to be revived early next year.

These includes bills to provide new social security benefits for women over 62 and disabled workers over 50, to exempt natural gas producers from federal controls, to restore rigid high price supports on basic farm products, to cut income taxes chiefly for low-income families, and to increase quotas for domestic sugar producers.

All five of these passed the House this session, but were not acted on in the Senate, except for the income tax reduction, which was killed.

AREA OIL ROUNDUP

Sunray To Drill Wildcat At Roby

Fisher County has gained location for a new wildcat and a Strawn lime discovery.

Sunray Mid-Continent Oil Co. will drill the wildcat nine and a half miles southwest of Roby as the No. 1 Baugh. Location is 1,250 feet from south and 330 feet from west lines of the southeast quarter of 185-3-H&TC. That is one and three-eighth miles northeast of the Claytonville field, but separated from the field by dry holes.

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., of Dallas has completed his No. 1 JM S. Criswell, 10 miles west of Rotan, for a daily flowing potential of 208 barrels of 42.6-gravity oil plus 12 per cent water. Production is through perforations in the Strawn lime between 6,190-195 feet and 6,199-209 feet.

Gas-oil ratio on the test was 860-1. Tubing pressure was 125 pounds with a packer on casing.

SCURRY COUNTY

Sun Oil Co. has filed application to drill the No. 1 B. W. Roeder one-quarter of a mile east of the opener and lone producer in the Arah-Ellenburger field of west Scurry County.

Location is to be 467 feet from north and west lines of 302-97-H&TC, 11 miles northwest of Snyder and on a 652.4-acre lease.

Sun Oil No. 1-D Shannon was the opener of the Arah field. It was completed on June 6 for a daily flowing potential of 522.33 barrels of 40.5-gravity oil with no water. Production was through perforations at 8,117-149 feet. Top of the Ellenburger was at 8,114 feet on an elevation of 2,505 feet.

Sun is to drill the new project to 8,400 feet.

Phillips No. 1-A Dan Whatley, seven miles west of Dermott, is at total depth of 2,410 feet after setting eight and five-eighth-inch casing at 2,172 feet. A lime section was topped at 2,130 feet.

STAKE WILDCAT

Garland A. Smith and others of Snyder and Midland are to dig two 11,000-foot explorations on the Nick Alley, Jr., lease in southwest Gaines County.

The No. 2 Alley is 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of 22-A27-psl. The No. 3 Alley is 1,980 feet from north and 660 feet from east lines of the same acreage. Both are northeast of the No. 1 Alley, and assured discovery.

WILDCAT LOCATIONS

General Crude Oil Co. has filed application to drill a 7,000-foot rotary wildcat five miles southwest of Girard in northeast Kent County.

It will be the No. 24-1 C. B. O'Keefe, located 660 feet from the north and 982 feet from the east lines of 24-1-H&GN.

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., of Dallas will drill his No. 1 Garnet Alexander as a 7,500-foot rotary wildcat nine miles southwest of Maryneal in Nolan County.

Drillsite is 660 feet from north and west lines of 84-1A-H&TC. That is one and a quarter miles southwest of Norsworthy's No. 1-A Compton, a recently completed Strawn reef discovery, and a mile east of the same operator's No. 1 Parramore, a 7,512-foot failure abandoned last November.

INDICATED DISCOVERY

A Strawn reef lime discovery has been indicated at General Crude Oil No. 1-118 J. W. Young, a wildcat five miles southwest of Girard in Kent County.

The project surfaced gas in 22 minutes on a two- hour drillsteam test of the Strawn. Recovery was 5,255 feet of oil and 45 feet heavily oil and gas-cut mud. The test covered the zone from 6,768-790 feet. Flowing pressure was 0-1,575 pounds. Operator was preparing to core deeper at last report.

Edgar Dixon Recalled For Investigation

WASHINGTON, (AP) — Edgar H. Dixon, focal point of charges and denials that his testimony warrants Justice Department scrutiny for possible perjury, was recalled today by senators investigating the Dixon-Yates power contract.

At the heart of the dispute is a contention by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) that Adolphe H. Wenzell served a dual, conflicting role as a Budget Bureau consultant on Dixon-Yates and as vice president on First Boston Corp., which later became one of the Dixon-Yates financial agents.

Former Budget Director Joseph M. Dodge testified yesterday that he once suggested Wenzell get out of the Budget Bureau if there was a possibility that First Boston might take part in financing the project which ultimately became Dixon-Yates.

Dodge was budget director at the start of the Dixon-Yates negotiations. He now is a special assistant to President Eisenhower and has been told by the President to give the entire Dixon-Yates story as he knows it.

The Dixon-Yates contract was with the Atomic Energy Commission. It called for erection of a power plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed electricity into the Tennessee Valley Authority system to relieve the drain of AEC power requirements from TVA.

Eisenhower ordered the contract canceled after the city of Memphis, a TVA customer, decided to build its own power plant.

Dixon and Eugene A. Yates had formed a partnership to build the West Memphis plant. Yates has not been called for questioning.

Kefauver contended there were conflicts in testimony Dixon has given the Securities and Exchange Commission and the Senate Anti-monopoly subcommittee as well as discrepancies between testimony of Dixon and Wenzell. On motion of Sen. Langer (R-ND), the subcommittee referred all the testimony to the Justice Department.

Dixon's attorney Daniel James declared that "we have no objection to sending the testimony anywhere — we have no fear of that."

James said Dixon's testimony had been consistent throughout.

Dodge told the subcommittee Wenzell had no part in Budget Bureau policy decisions that led to the Dixon-Yates contract.

Dixon said he did rely on advice Wenzell got for him on two occasions "but he was not important to me and my company in relation to this situation."

It never occurred to him, he said, that there might be a conflict of interest in Wenzell's relations with the Budget Bureau and First Boston, but the thought did go through his mind that "someone might claim there was."

Dodge said Wenzell left the Budget Bureau April 10, 1954 and the proposal that formed the basis of Dixon-Yates contract negotiation was submitted after that.

Latin-American Pays $50 Fine

Ambroseo G. Guagardo, 26-year-old Latin-American, paid a $50 fine plus court costs yesterday for aggravated assault and left for Anchorage, Alaska, where he is stationed with the Air Force.

This is the second fine he has paid for similar charges since he was involved in a street fight here Sunday night, July 17.

Two charges were originally filed against him, one of aggravated assault, for which he paid a $25 fine and costs and spent five days in jail earlier, and one of assault with intent to murder.

The intent to murder charge was dismissed at the recommendation of County Attorney Wayland Holt, and the other charge of aggravated assault, for which he paid the $50 fine yesterday, was substituted.

Raul Villaneuva, the man who was hospitalized after the fight with a knife wound in his back was reported to have recovered from his wound.

"Old Swedish Custom" Unique Celebration

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Just an old Swedish custom" is the way Oscar Anderson described his manner of celebrating his 61st birthday—surrounded by women.

Anderson, senior clerk in the City Engineering Bureau, gave a party in Chinatown for 125 of his "favorite girls" from Civic Center offices Monday. He said he had been holding similar parties for 22 years.

And his wife Esther, she couldn't come. She is teaching school in Palo Alto, Calif., where he joins her on weekends.

The lawmakers fixed the minimum wage at $1 an hour instead of the 90 cents Eisenhower recommended, but bowed to his wishes, after a veto, on the size of civil service and postal employes' pay raises.

Congress members raised their own pay to an aggregate of $22,500 a year plus additional allowances, some of them approved only yesterday, and voted a salary increase for judges.

Without administration opposition, Democrats led in setting up a bipartisan commission to investigate the government loyalty and security program.

A Democratic investigation explored further into the Dixon-Yates power contract, since ordered canceled by the President.

An inquiry into the business connections of Secretary of the Air Force Harold E. Talbott appeared to have ended with Talbott's resignation, effective Aug. 13.

Democrats made much of what Kerr called "echoes of unethical business men in high places." They promised fresh onslaughts on the administration's power and farm and tax policies.

Many members agreed that highway and school construction bills will be prime issues before the next session. A number of them said, however, they see no reason for any special session to consider such bills.

Oklahoma Production Loss Big Factor In Daily Average Drop

TULSA, (AP)—Oklahoma's 20,100-barrel loss was the big factor in dropping daily average domestic production of crude oil and condensate by 17,350 barrels to 6,630,000 barrels during the week ended July 30, the Oil and Gas Journal's survey showed today.

Oklahoma's decline was to a daily average of 542,100 barrels. The biggest increase was in North Dakota, up 4,200 barrels to 33,900 barrels.

The Journal figured 1955's production at 1,416,076,500 barrels compared to 1,355,127,645 barrels a year ago.

Other losses included: Louisiana, 800 to 719,000; Arkansas, 250 to 73,500; and New Mexico, down 100 barrels to 228,000.

Production was unchanged in Texas, 2,723,400 barrels.

Testing engineers have learned that the total number of typing operations performed by the average typist each year is 14,745,000.

Mexican Man Held in Jail For Assault

A Mexican man is being held in county jail on a charge of assault with intent to murder today following his arrest last night by city police after he had shot four times at a car in which his blind brother-in-law was a passenger, and another brother-in-law was the driver.

Three of the bullets from the rifle struck the car, Leonard J. White, police sergeant who investigated and made the arrest, said.

Raymunde Medrano, 27, who lives on Thirteenth Street in northeast Snyder, is the man charged with the assault with intent to murder.

Bond for Medrano has been set by W. C. Davidson, justice of peace, at $1,000. He was being held in county jail this morning in lieu of the bond.

Medrano is charged with shooting at Joe Gutteras, 34, who also lives on Thirteenth Street in Northeast Snyder, a blind Mexican who is allaged to have been the intended victim of Medrano's rifle fire.

Police said that Gutteras is under arrest and being held in city jail on a charge of intoxication and disturbance, a misdemeanor.

The affray started as a family squabble, police said.

Police said that three of the four bullets fired from the rifle struck the car; but that none of the bullets struck the occupants of the car.

The stock was said to have been broken from the rifle at some previous time.

Huge Office Building Expansion Authorized

AUSTIN (AP)—First steps toward a huge state office building expansion program authorized by the Legislature were taken Monday.

The State Building Commission named Gov. Allan Shivers chairman and started looking for a full time executive director. It will be a long time job.

The commission will select the sites and plan a new state courts building and another state office building. Its expenditures will run into many millions.

Already on hand in surplus funds from confederate veteran tax revenues was six million dollars. The commission ordered that the money be invested in U. S. Government certificates, from which $50,000 to $100,000 in revenue was anticipated before building can begin.

One of the commission's biggest problems is where to locate the new buildings. Generally, it is expected they will be as close as possible to the capitol.

Price Of Coke Up

LONDON (AP)—It's going to cost more to keep warm in Britain this winter. The price of domestic coke will go up $4.20 a ton next Monday—to an average $23.80 a ton. Coal prices were raised last month.

Serve pan-fried liver with a dollop of butter mixed with minced scallions (green tops included).

The Celestial Ball

For an object no bigger than a basketball, the "earth satellite" which President Eisenhower announced the U.S. would set to circumnavigating the world by 1958 kicked up an almighty amount of interest in many fields, including the scientific and the political.

The comment of Senator Karl Mundt (R-SD) must have expressed the sentiments of millions of Americans when he said the presidential announcement "is so far out of my sphere that I don't react to it."

But congressional sentiment, expressed mostly by Democrats, was averse to sharing with Russia whatever scientific data the little breeze-burning ball would yield us.

Nobody questioned the feasibility of the scheme which would shoot a ball of approximate basketball size, perhaps bearing scientific instruments for automatic transmission of weather and other data to earth-bound stations for analysis, into space, where it would travel around the earth in 90 minutes, or at 18,000 m.p.h., at an altitude of 200 to 300 miles.

This is the same principle, but a far cry from actual implementation, as the Nazi dream of creating a space platform as an instrument of war. Scientists expect the celestial basketball to have an extremely tenuous life, as against the Nazi idea for permanence.

As for sharing its secrets with all nations, including Soviet Russia: they would have the same chance to pick up whatever signals the thing sent out as we would have; it would be only a question of breaking the code. It would have far fewer and less complex "secrets" than the atom bomb. In fact, it would be an open book for any nation with the proper instruments.

As for the average citizen's attempt to grasp the full significance of the project in all its scientific implications, we recommend Senator Mundt's attitude as a means of preserving sanity. That is for scientific minds to worry about. For the scientific mind it is simply a matter of sticking to the drugery of digging out mathematical formulas and finding the answers. Nothing to it at all — for scientists As for us, our heel-callous is killing us. Rain, probably.

Husbands Are Not Alike

In what is described as the first magazine piece ever written by Mrs. Bess Truman, which appeared in the newspaper supplement "This Week" last Sunday, the former First Lady says she misses the White House because she had just spent the afternoon looking for someone to do the yard work, without success, and how nice it had been to leave such worries to the efficient White House staff of gardeners.

"We have a power mower and I spent the better part of last summer trying to induce Mr. Truman to use it," wrote Bess Truman. "Finally he did. Eleven o'clock of a Sunday morning, with all the Methodists and Baptists going by our house on the way to church, Mr. Truman got out on our front lawn in his shirt sleeves and began cutting the grass. When I looked out the window and saw him, I was horrified."

So she called out to the former President of the United States, "Harry! Come in here this minute. You know what those churchgoers are saying."

Mrs. Truman says there was no doubt in her mind that her husband had planned this strategy deliberately to get out of mowing the lawn, and he hasn't touched the lawn mower since.

Some million of American wives will sympathize with Bess Truman in her problem of getting a little honest labor out of her husband, and an equal number of husbands without regard to political coloration will take off their hats to a master - dodger in the art of avoidance of home chores.

Some of us are lucky enough to hold a doctor's certificate exempting us from shoving lawn mowers around, or digging in flower beds.

Our last experience with lawn mowers several years ago went like this: We spent forty sweaty minutes for three successive days barbering the lawn and on the fourth day our better half hired an outsider to go over the same ground again to get the job done properly. We did not mind the insult to our workmanship, but we squalled like a panther when we had to fork over six bucks to pay the bill. Like Harry Truman we haven't touched a lawn mower since.

Meaner When Older

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—A. P. Burckard, whose hobby is bees, got a new Italian colony by mail. The postoffice buzzed it to him in a hurry.

Bees, Burckard said, need a new queen occasionally or the swarm gets darker—and meaner. Also, the older the bees the more likely they are to sting.

That Old Political Question

U.S. Knows There Is Price Tag On Russian Smile, But Amount Is Not Yet Determined

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP)—How much does a big smile cost?

Geneva is getting as cozy as Christmas Eve. The Russians were jolly when they met the West there. If Russian Premier Bulganin, with his chin whiskers, had put on a red flannel suit he would have made a pretty good Santa Claus.

Now the Red Chinese, meeting the United States in the same place, make an opening gesture of good will by freeing 11 American airmen.

What isn't clear, of course, and may not be for months or years, is the purpose of the Communists in this sudden switch. Is it to relax tensions, as the diplomats say? Or do they hope to gain more with grins than guns?

One thing is sure: there's a price tag on the grins. What isn't sure is the price. The bill will be delivered later. For the Russians and the Red Chinese, Geneva is just the first card in an all-night poker game.

At the moment there seems to be general relief and approval in this country over the slight thaw in relations between East and West. Except for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) there has been practically no criticism in Washington for President Eisenhower's dealing with the Communists so far.

But if the Russians and Red Chinese follow up their opener by making concessions, they will demand concessions in return. That's when the present mild Washington weather should give way to storms, with thunder.

McCarthy has been pecking away unsuccessfully at Eisenhower ever since the Senate last year condemned him for some of his conduct. He opened up yesterday on the whole idea of being "friendly" with the Communists.

He blasted Eisenhower for sitting down with "tyrants and murderers." He said he's going to make an issue of the President's efforts to get along with the Communists.

McCarthy's attack put the finger on the dilemma of both Eisenhower and the United States. What should the United States do: stay armed to the teeth indefinitely, with a chance of war at any moment, or try to reach a middle ground with the Communists if they show an inclination in that direction?

McCarthy didn't offer any answer. If Eisenhower doesn't try to reach a middle ground then war is made more possible. Yet if he yields ground on vital points the Western alliances against the Communists may collapse and they win anyway.

Putting 'Gen. Grant' Label On Ike Won't Help Demos

By INEZ ROBB

The Democratic party, confronted with '56 and the solid, unswerving popularity of Dwight D. Eisenhower, is — understandably — grasping at straws. So maybe it is desperation, or it could be the heat and the humidity, that is driving the party at bit daft.

Anyway, I was surprised the other day to discover that the Democrats, in their desperation, have deep-laid plans to foist a "General Grant" label on Pres. Eisenhower and the Eisenhower Administration. This label is expected to carry horrendous inplications of inefficiency, graft and worse.

But as an average American with a great deal of pride in the nation's history, I don't think this gambit will work. If the Democrats persist in this tactic, I make so bold as to predict that it will backfire, and deservedly.

For Gen. Ulysses Simpson Grant is one of America's authentic heroes, a giant in any Pantheon yet to be erected by the nation. What most Americans of voting age remember about Gen. Grant are two indisputable facts that even desperate Democrats cannot erase or alter:

(1) Next to Abraham Lincoln (and under his aegis), Gen. Grant did more to preserve the Union in its dark crisis than any other man save only his Commander-in-Chief.

(2) Gen. Grant, in the moment of his greatest military triumph, the defeat of Gen. Robert E. Lee, acted toward the foe with a legendary chivalry, generosity and compassion.

Later, when there was talk of arresting and trying Gen. Lee for treason, it was Gen. Grant who declared that the surrender terms applied to Lee as to his humblest soldier and that if this course were followed, he, Grant, would resign his commission and appeal to the nation.

It is true that he was the nation's most inept political figure and that his administrations, as President, were an unholy mess. But if he trusted the wrong persons and was stubbornly loyal to some, no one, repeat NO ONE, has ever questioned his personal honor and honesty. And we ordinary voters remember that after he left the White House and his business ventures failed, he surrendered all his property, even his collection of swords, medals and souvenirs, to satisfy his creditors.

And we remember that during the last 15 months of his life, when he was dying painfully of cancer of the throat, he drove himself like a galley salve to write his autobiography, hoping their sale would provide for his wife.

Even on the day he died, he had his companions prop him up in a chair so he could put the finishing touches to martial memoirs now regarded as in a class with Caesar's commentaries.

These are the things Americans remember about Ulysses Simpson Grant. I doubt if many of us are in a mood to see him blackguarded for partisan political advantage. By and large, a "Gen. Grant label" pinned to Gen. Eisenhower (or 'anyone else) can only cast lustre on the President.

Unplanned Prophecy

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Porter Antony Byzos, 26, was carrying a heavy oak coffin down the street. A neighbor asked him whom it was for.

"For me," he quipped.

A few minutes later he slipped, fell and was crushed by the weight of the coffin.

Help For Weeds

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Ralph Muthardt's farm has well-watered weeds. When a few thistles peeked through the grass in one of his hay fields he started his tank truck, dousing the weeds thoroughly.

Several thousand gallons later he discovered he had failed to add weed killer to the water.

They're Air Minded, Those Detroit Folks

DETROIT (AP) — Some Detroit people have found that the trip to the airport is the longest part of the trip to New York. They say they can take an air taxi from Detroit City Airport, make a 90-mile trip to Cleveland, land at the Municipal airport there and catch the New York Plane.

Through airlines make their Detroit stops at the Willow Run Airport. The passenger says the 90-mile trip to Cleveland saves time.

Man Should Make Use Of God-Given Voice, One Of World's Top Baritones Advises

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — America's widest bosom doesn't belong to either Jane Russell or Marilyn Monroe.

Leonard Warren, acknowledged by a number of critics to be the world's present best dramatic baritone, says he is six feet tall, keeps his weight around 200 pounds—and has a 52-inch chest.

Well, ladies, may we go on from there?.

In the fine art of operatic singing top dramatic sopranos, baritones, and the gents who can dig a deep base share a small but endless competitive world.

The voice . . . . The voice . . . . It is everything. It is a power in itself, a power above the temptations of self - indulgence, even above the wistful wish for money.

At least so says Warren, who says gimmicks are helpful, but he has no gimmicks as a singer.

"No one gives a voice but God," he said. "All that can be done then is to assist it.

"You must have the humility and the intelligence to use it. After all, why didn't my sister or brother have this same gift? There had never been another singer in the family."

If this talking about his talent seems mildly egotistical, on Warren's part, it is justified. Confidence in himself as well as his vocal cords is a key part of his makeup, as it is with all great singers.

They must feel a power over the audience to control it.

Warren, a Bronx-born boy without Italian blood who has been accepted and saluted by the tough audiences of La Scala in Milan as the top man in his field, is also comforted by the recognition he has achieved as the leading baritone of the New York Metropolitan Opera.

"This is where I was born -This is where I live," he said, "even to step upon the boards of the Metropolitan Opera. . . . . It is a tradition. . . . . A feeling."

Warren ducked out of his dad's wholesale fur trade, worked in a filling station, then sang in the Radio City Music Hall for three years before winning a Metropolitan audition over 700 contestants.

He has a repertoire of 26 operatic roles, learned a number of them very swiftly in the heat-push toward success, now says it takes a full year to learn a new role well.

"You assume the music," he said. "But to not the role . . . . to feel it is you . . . . and you are it. . . . well, that is the problem.

"After singing it a hundred times you begin to understand the role and feel it fits you and you fit it."

The title role of "Rigoletto" is pretty much his by popular default. He has sung it more than 100 times -on at least three continents.

How does a major operatic star live? Seriously.

"I have to live very simply," said Warren. "I do nothing to excess. Not in food or liquor. I don't smoke. Some do. I don't.

"An artist cannot afford excess. I don't take physical exercise. . . . although I do like to walk. I go to bed early.

"No, I don't practice singing. . . But about once a week I go to my old singing teacher for an hour whenever I can. . . . . It is a kind of psychological checkup.

"Money? The greatest enemies of an operatic singer are the common cold and the income tax. I first sang for $35 a week. Now if I earn $1,000 I can keep for myself $1.98 - and if someone with a cold breathes in my face I have to worry about catching the cold. Deductions? I cannot even deduct the cost of my singing lessons.

"Discipline? That is the whole thing in the music business. What am I afraid of? Only that I won't be worthy of this gift I was given. It has a responsibility."

Then I asked Warren what he thought was the most important thing in the world.

"To be tranquil with yourself and God," he said.

Martin-Lewis Trouble Goes Back Into History Of Pair

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—Two years ago, Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis were the Damon and Pythias of show business.

Today they aren't talking to each other.

What brought about the change?

The answer goes far back into their histories. Jerry Lewis, born 29 years ago in Newark, N.J., was a child of show business. His folks were vaudevillians, and Jerry started performing as a lad. He was having so-so luck as a record act (making funny faces to a pop record) when he teamed up with a singer Dean Martin.

Born Dino Crocetti in Steubenville, Ohio, in 1917, Dean tried everything, from croupier to prizefighter. First as Dino Martini and then under his present name, he had mediocre success as a night club singer.

The two talents combined with magic results when both were playing the 500 Club in Atlantic City in July 1946. Within six years, they were the hottest attraction in night clubs, TV and movies. The boys were millionaires or well on their way.

Then, a couple of years ago, trouble started to develop in paradise.

It began with the picture, "Three Ring Circus." When Dean saw the script, he blew his top. He had only a sketchy role and disappeared for long periods.

Jerry sided with him and insisted that Dean's part be built up. A rewrite padded the role, but it still wasn't equal to Jerry's.

It's obvious that Dean rankled over taking a back seat in the team. On movie sets, he would make comments like, "Don't forget I'm in this picture too." When asked about a TV rehearsal, he replied, "Why should I show up—I've got nothing to do."

Observers place the blame on the film and TV producers for relegating Dean to a secondary role. Unlike most teams, these critics argue, Martin and Lewis are equal in importance.

Dean is more than a straight man. His suavity and romantic qualities, plus his singing, are a perfect match for Jerry's wacky comedy.

Dean felt the team should be equal in all respects. Jerry agreed. He tried never to be photographed without Dean and was greatly concerned when an interview failed to mention his partner.

The big break came two months ago with the premiere of their latest picture. As often happens, the studio tried to save costs. It arranged to have a press junket to a hotel in the Catskills where Jerry had gotten his start as an entertainer. The hotel was to pick up much of the tab.

"Dean objected," reports a source close to the team. "He pointed out that he had no connection with the Catskills, had only been there a couple of times. He suggested that since the picture cost $2,300,000, the studio might put out $15,000 for a junket instead of trying to beat the price."

Dean said he never okayed the premiere. Jerry claimed he gave verbal consent in a conversation in Las Vegas.

The result: Dean went to Hawaii; Jerry went to the Catskills. They haven't spoken since.

The outcome of their split is still in doubt. Their fans, numbering many millions, hope they will shoulder their pride and resume their friendship. Hollywood agrees that a teaming that has brought so much joy to so many people should not end because of personal bickering.

WASHINGTON LETTER

Traveling Troubadours Taking Off for Iceland

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lucky are the Traveling Troubadours, members of George Washington University's Glee Club here, who take off in August from the sweltering heat for cool Keflavik, Iceland.

Luckier will be the service men stationed at lonely far north Military Air Transport Service bases, for of the 28 talented young entertainers 16 are girls, a species rarely encountered in such outposts.

This will be the tenth out-of-this-country trip made by the Troubadours, who since their organization in 150 have clocked more than 80,000 air miles in winter, spring and summer trips to perform at MATS' bases in the Far North, Tripoli, the Pacific islands, the Azores and Bermuda.

With Dr. Robert Howe Harmon, a medical man who majors in obstetrics and harmony and who has been glee club director for the past 32 years, the group sets off Aug. 23, arriving in Keflavik the next day. Returing Aug. 31, the Troubadours leave again on a flight to the Azores and Bermuda. Mrs. Harmon is their accompanist

Of the 98 members, some have made all the trips, bringing home such trappings as Eskimo mittens, Hawaiian shirts, and North Africa bangles. Last December the group was issued arctic clothing weighting 20 pounds—Air Force parka, pile jacket, shoe packs, Army socks, Army pants, elbow-length wollen gloves, and woolen-lined caps to wear on their Christmas-through-New-Year's appearances at bases in Thule, Newfoundland, Greenland and Labrador. On one occasion 16 of the members were flown by helicopter to Hopedale, Labrador, where the temperature was 30 degrees below zero.

Dr. Harmon, a bass, joined the George Washington Glee Club in 1921, a year after it had been formed.

He takes care of all the troupe's sniffles and shots along with his duties as director. Inoculations for cholera, typhoid and such are given before each trip — gifts to the singers from the Harmons.

Test On Building Boom May Not Come Until End Of Year

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK, (AP)—The long-expected tightening of housing credit will test the building boom—but probably not until near the end of the year.

Mortgage terms are being made mildly stricter by the Federal Housing Administration and the Veterans Administration. You can't apply henceforth for a no-down-payment mortgage, nor for one running for 30 years.

This means you'll have to have at least a little cash to start with, and the monthly payments will be higher, because the payment time is shorter—but the total you'll pay out in interest over the years will be less.

Tighter terms are widely expected to slow down the demand for houses. And to that extent it will reduce the pressure for investment funds for mortgages.

Some builders believe, however, that the slowdown won't come for awhile. The new restrictions on credit don't apply to several hundred thousand applications for government housing insurance already filed but not yet approved.

The FHA and the VA have fretted about the rapid increase in no-down-payment mortgages (more than two out of every five VA-guaranteed home loans recently) and the trend toward 30-year mortgages.

The rise in total mortgage debt has given some alarm too. Bankers stress that while it isn't out of line yet with total national income, a continuation of the trend might prove dangerous.

Builders say the no-down-payment rule will take a sizable number of people out of the market for homes in the $10,000 bracket.

The higher monthly payments due to a shorter mortgage life will probably cause some would-be buyers of more expensive homes to stop and recheck their income prospects, other builders say.

Most agree that the tighter credit terms will have the heaviest impact on the less affluent, the marginal buyer who was a little pushed, as it was, to meet the old terms.

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

CAPTAIN DREYFUS: The Story of a Mass Hysteria. By Nicholas Halasz. Simon & Schuster.

On July 20, 1894, this book and this drama begin. Major Count Ferdinand Walsin-Esterhazy of the French Army presented himself to von Schwarzkoppen, military attache to the German embassy in Paris. He was in debt, Esterhazy confessed; what would Germany pay for Army secrets?

Thus began the celebrated, infamous, dreadful Dreyfus affair.

In the course of negotiations, Esterhazy handed over a list—a key document in the case—of items he guaranteed to provide. This treachery was pinned on Dreyfus, he spent over five years on Devil's Island, was officially declared innocent in 1906.

It was one of the most monstrous miscarriages of justice known to us. And it's known in great detail. It inspired Zola's "I Accuse." Clemenceau the "Tiger" fought for Dreyfus; Anatole France, Henry James, Marcel Proust were Dreyfusards; and the press followed every word for months and years. The case wracked France brutally. The merciless Army, the unforgiving Church, the savage autocracy, the insance anti-Semites, the frightened governments and the plain, undisguised animal-like mob all combined to make Dreyfus the desperate and tragic victim, and a symbol — though he never seems to have appreciated that. Henry the forger committed suicide; but the other guilty escaped retribution, and again and again the innocent were punished: Zola and Picquart jailed, for instance, and Dreyfus and Labori shot.

Whether or not it's particularly timely, this account makes absorbing reading. As Halasz suggests, France can be blamed for a barbaric debauch, but she can be no less emphatically praised for having the men of courage and wisdom who saved her.

U.S. Making Progress In Negotiations.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration is moving with unexpected speed to make with Red China a series of settlements which may eventually produce far more peaceful conditions in the Far East.

Diplomacy and polite dealings appear to be displacing loud talk and threats. This parallels the U.S.-Russian relations at the Geneva summit conference.

If further negotiations with Peiping develop, as seems likely, the United States may soon face basic questions of relations with Red China which have been hot political issues and have raised difficulty with allies in the Far East.

The situation began to develop publicly with the announcement last week that ambassadors of the two countries would meet at Geneva to negotiate on release of Americans in Red China and on other practical matters of mutual interest. Just as the Geneva meeting began Monday, Peiping announced the release of 11 American fliers whose captivity was to have been a primary subject of the talks.

This greatly increased hope of an improved Far Eastern prospect for peace and of success in negotiations for the release of at least 40 American civilians held by the Chinese Reds.

Yesterday Secretary of State Dulles said such events "might mark the beginning of a new phase in Chinese Communist relations with the rest of the world."

Dulles coupled this hopeful estimate with a caution "that one swallow does not make a summer." He said he does not know whether a new phase is opening but he left no doubt that if it is he intends to make the most of it.

He told his new conference the most important thing now is for the Chinese Reds to discard permanently their "pistol" and participate in negotiations without constantly threatening military action to achieve their ends.

Midland Beats Out Snyder In District Little League Meet

It was a long line drive to centerfield, and it was hard enough to end the Little League season for Snyder and mark yesterday as the last time many members of the All-Star team will ever play Little League ball.

David Rankin, Midland shortstop, the first man up as the game entered the bottom of the sixth with the score deadlocked at 1-1, decided the first ball John Weaver threw to him was the one he liked, so he put it over the fence winning the game 2-1. As he ambled around the bases and crossed the home plate of the Kuykendall-Bennett field in Lubbock, he was surrounded by exuberant Midland fans, for he had just won the game and given Midland the district championship and the right to play host team in the sectional tournament which will be held on its home court starting Thursday.

IT MIGHT HAVE BEEN—The score was tied and the bases loaded when Ronnie Wylie, Snyder catcher, came to bat in the last inning with two men out. He fouled the first pitch out of bounds, then teed off on this one to send it over the fence — foul by feet. He then struck out to retire the side.

TOO LATE TO SLIDE—Ronnie Wylie, Snyder catcher, left, guards the plate as Rodney Satterwhite, Midland catcher, attempts to move home. The game-tying run had already come in on this play, set up when Mike Burkett hit into right field, but Roland Key, Snyder rightfielder, recovered in time to throw out this runner before he could score. (Lee Watson photograph)

Most of the members of the Snyder Little League All-Stars team will never play Little League ball again, because of the relentless march of time which insists that boys must grow up. Next year, all those who have passed the 12-year barrier will be eligible for play in the Pony League.

John Weaver, who had won two games in the area meet, pitched a three-hit ball game, and was in trouble only once. It was in the fourth inning when Snyder lost her one-run lead, and the game went into a 1-1 tie.

Jack Sowers, Midland pitcher, singled and was advanced to second when Glenn McKenzie was hit by a pitched ball. When Rodney Satterwhite got on by fielder's choice, Richard Samuelson, Snyder third baseman stepped on the bag to force Sowers out.

Larry Hambrick then fanned for the second out to bring up Mike Burkett, who tagged one just out of the first baseman's reach into right field. McKinzie came home from second when Roland Key Snyder rightfielder bobbled the ball momentarily, but recovered in time to throw out Satterwhite as he tried to come in.

Snyder had taken the first lead in the second inning when Tommy Minto floated his second pitch over the centerfield fence.

The outstanding fielding of the Midland nine was exceptionally brilliant in the sixth inning when Snyder made her last bid for the game. Weaver and Key each connected for what could well have been hits, but both were caught out.

Then with two outs, Minton was hit by a pitched ball, Charles Gladson advanced him with a solid gain moved the field with a single. Ronnie Wylie ended the threat when he struck out at the plate after fowling on over the left field fence.

The stage was then set for Rankin's finish for the game and the tournament.

Sowers, the winning pitcher, gave up four hits and walked two, while striking out four and hitting two with pitched balls.

Weaver, the loser, gave only three hits, while walking none and fanning six.

Negroes May Show Up In Grid Lineups

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Negroes may be seen in Texas schoolboy football next fall and the most likely to have them appears to be San Angelo.

Bob Harrell, coach of San Angelo Class AAA—1, Snyder; 2, Irving Coaching School, said he would have some 40 Negroes out for his team when practice starts late this month.

They are immediately eligible because of a consolidation. At some other schools in Texas where there are Negroes under the desegregation program, they won't be eligible this fall because of the Texas Interscholastic League transfer rule.

Harrell said he didn't know much about the Negro boys, not having had them in spring training, but that he thought there were several likely prospects for his team among them.

San Angelo is in the same district of Class AAAA schoolboy football as Abilene, the defending state champion; Amarillo, Borger, Lubbock, Midland, Odessa and Pampa.

Abilene is considered one of the strong teams of the district again this season but Odessa is rated the favorite for the championship.

Coaches from 14 of the 16 districts of Classes AAAA and AAA were interviewed at a press conference yesterday and those favorites were picked for the coming campaign:

Class AAAA- 1, Abilene; 2, El Paso Austin; 3, Fort Worth Paschal and Fort Worth Arlington Heights; 4, Dallas Sunset; 5, Tyler; 6, Corpus Christi Ray; 7, Houston Austin; 8, Port Arthur.

Top Of Standings Jammed Up In WT-NM

By The Associated Press

The leaders lost in the West Texas-New Mexico League Tuesday night, and the result is that things are more jammed up than ever.

For example, the sixth place club, Abilene, is only seven games out of first. Amarillo leads by only a half game over Albuquerque and a game over Pampa.

The only change in the standings came as Clovis took over fifth place with a 10-6 decision over Abilene.

In the other games, El Paso edged Amarillo 5 - 4, Plainview came up with a 1 - 0 victory over Albuquerque and Lubbock beat Pampa 5 - 4.

Oldtimers Get Wins For Chicago, Yanks

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

A handful of oldtimers, supposed to wilt in the heat, looked like a crop of young rookies as first place Chicago and runnerup New York gave Boston and Cleveland hotfoots in the sizzling American League race last night.

It was Connie Johnson, 32, and Millard (Dixie) Howell, 35, both reclaimed from the minors, who supplied the pitching in the White Sox' 2-1 decision over Boston, And at New York, the Yankees nudged Cleveland 2-1 on the pitching of 35-year-old Tommy Byrne, another retread, and a pair of home runs by Joe Collins, 32.

As a result, the White Sox still have their one-game lead over the Yanks, but Cleveland has fallen two games back and Boston four.

Fifth-place Detroit, 7½ games behind, outslugged Washington, 13-10, and Baltimore tumbled Kansas City 5-1.

In the National, Brooklyn gave in to a Milwaukee rally, 5-3; New York beat St. Louis 3-0; Cincinnati whitewashed Philadelphia twice, 2-0 and 4-0; and Chicago pasted Pittsburgh 12-4.

None of the White Sox and Yankee heroes of last night are old codgers, exactly, but they're well past the flaming youth stage.

Johnson had Boston's kids well in check with two out in the ninth, then had to get relief for his fourth victory in five decisions since being brought up from Toronto June 30. He gave a single to Jim Piersall and went 2-0 against pinch-hitting Faye Throneberry before Morrie Martin, another veteran, came on. Throneberry swatted a triple to make it 2-1 and Howell, up from Memphis, went 3-2 against Eddie Joost before getting him on a game ending fly.

Three singles made for one run in third off loser Tom Brewer and Jim Rivera belted a homer for the winning margin in the fourth.

Collins, with just two home runs in the last two months, made it 1-1 in the first inning with his first homer of the night. Then he broke up a duel between Burne and Early Wynn, another 35-year-old guy, with his one-out poke in the 10th.

The Indians' run came in on Al Smith's leadoff triple and Bobby Avila's sacrifice fly. From then on, Byrne shut the door—giving just six hits the rest of the way for his 10th victory against two defeats. Wynn, who had counted the Yanks three times in his 13 victories, took his sixth defeat.

Detroit blew an 8-2 lead and then a 10-8 lead at Washington before jumping on reliefer Pedro Ramos for three in the ninth. Harvey Kuenn had two doubles and a pair of singles for the Tigers as each club got 17 hits. The joint 23-run slugfest was accomplished without the help of a homer.

Milwaukee tied the Brooks at 3-3 as Ed Mathews swatted his 28th homer — his second of the game—then got two more in the big eighth inning rally on Don Zimmer's error. Phil Paine one-hit the Dodgers in four relief innings and fanned six for his first major league decision this year. Rookie Roger Craig took his first defeat with the Brooklyns—who now lead by just 13½ games.

Johnny Antonelli, one of the big busts with the Giants this season, blanked the Cards on five hits while Don Mueller drove in two runs with a single and a sacrifice fly.

Cincinnati paired a four-hitter by Johnny Klippstein and a five-hitter by Joe Nuxhall with the bat work of Gus Bell to sweep the twi-nighter from the Phils. Bell had two rbi singles in the opener and hit two homers in the nightcap.

Ernie Banks matched a major league record with his fourth grand slam home run of the season for the Cubs and added a run producing single to trample the Bues. His bases-loaded shot marked a six-run sixth.

Bill Wight, the Tribe castoff, four-hit the A's, who contributed four errors that made all the Oriole runs unearned. Wight gave just one hit over seven innings—Bill Wilson's homer in the fifth.

Tigers Capture Win From Tri-Service

The Tigers won their first City League ball game for the second half of the season last night when they topped Tri-Service 5-4.

The win allowed the victor to trade places with the loser and move into third place. Tri-Service, the team that won the first half of the schedule, is now in the cellar, and Hermleigh, the last-place team for the first half, is now the No. 1 team, having gone undefeated through three games.

The Tigers never scored more than one run per inning, and none came off a base hit, but they were able to add up enough to win the game.

The game winner came in the bottom of the seventh when the score was tied up, 4-4. Bernie Hagins, Jimmy Bryant and Alan Snead all walked to load the bases with no outs. After Joe Reaves, the batter, got two balls and no strikes, Bill Chambliss relieved Charles Epperson on the mound. Reaves bunted Chambliss' second pitch to sacrifice and to bring in Hagins to win the game.

Tri-Service had had a big inning in the second when Howard Sterling and Leroy Williams beat out infield singles and Don Brunson walked to load the bases. Snead took over the pitching for Dwayne Prince at this point to strike out Garland Bishop. Sterling played too far from his base and was trapped and run down for the second out.

Then Ted Masters knocked his first homerun of the season to bring in the three scores.

Four pitchers worked for Tri-Service in an effort to stop the Tigers. Masters started and went three innings before he was relieved by Berman Corbell who threw for the fourth. Then Epperson who was charged with the loss came in to throw two and one-third innings. Chambliss threw only two balls after relieving Epperson before the game was over.

Prince pitched the first inning for the Tigers, then gave over to Snead who took the win. He pitched six innings to allow two runs off three hits, while striking out five and walking one.

Lake's Name Gives Visitors Difficulty

WEBSTER, Mass. (AP)—If the name of this town's famous Lake Charoggagoggmanchauggagoggchaubunagungamaugg gives you pronunciation difficulty, here's the answer, provided by the Webster-Dudley Welcome Committee.

Just break the 45 letters down into seven lines like this:

Char-gogg
a-gogg
Man-chaugg
A-gogg
Chau-bun
A-gun
Ga-maugg

Accent the last syllable in each of the seven lines.

Although the committee says the Indian name of the lake means "fishing place at the boundaries—neutral meeting grounds," it concedes there is a persistent belief that it also means "you fish on your side—I fish on my side—nobody fish in the middle."

Bulgarians Admit Guilt In Disaster

LONDON, (AP)—Communist Bulgaria admitted today that two of her fighter planes shot down an Israeli airliner last Wednesday.

It said it would "discover and punish those responsible for the catastrophe."

All 58 persons aboard the airliner, including 12 Americans, were killed. The plane, which had gotten off course, crashed just north of the Bulgarian-Greek border.

Previously the Bulgarians had said Red antiaircraft guns downed the airliner and promised partial payment for the million-dollar plane. But the Israeli Foreign Ministry said Monday that Israeli investigators who inspected the wreckage saw "numerous bullet holes" and gained "the definite impression" that they came from machine-gun fire.

The Bulgarian Telegraph Agency made the government's announcement today. It was broadcast by Sofia radio.

The announcement also conceded that the "organs of the antiaircraft defense" which shot down the American-built Constellation were "too hasty."

"They did not take all the necessary measures to force the plane to land," the broadcast said.

In addition to promising punishment for those responsible, the statement said the Bulgarian government "will adopt all measures to prevent a repetition of such a disaster in our land."

But the statement cited current international tension and what it claimed were repeated previous violations of its air frontier to make illegal "drops" into its territory. In this tense atmosphere, the broadcast said, the government had to protect the country's security.

The statement said also that the Bulgarian government in its earlier note to the Israel government has expressed readiness to pay compensation to the families of the dead as well as to pay a share of the material damage. The previous Israeli announcement of the offer had made no mention of damages for the relatives.

The broadcast gave this account of the downing of the airliner, as determined by an official government commission composed of three Cabinet ministers and the attorney general:

"In all, the aircraft flew some 200 kilometers (about 125 miles) over Bulgarian territory," about 80 miles off its course over neighboring Yugoslavia.

An air defense command post received news that an unidentified foreign aircraft had entered Bulgarian air space. The command post ordered two fighters to pursue the aircraft and "compel it to ground on any one of our airfields."

The Bulgarian fighters warned the plane "through the established international signals" to follow them to an airfield, but the Israeli plane did not reply.

"The fighters, seeing that the offending aircraft intended to make off, opened fire against it as a result of which it caught fire and crashed in the neighborhood of Petrich."

An explosion followed, demolishing the aircraft, and all 58 aboard perished, the statement said.

The Communists contended that the Israeli plane had modern navigation instruments and "could not fail to see" it had violated the frontier as well as disregarded the warnings from the Red fighters.

The announcement again expressed the profound regret of the Bulgarian government and people for the disaster and the "death of innocent people" and said the Red regime ardently hopes such a disaster will not recur.

The bodies of 43 of the 58 crash victims arrived in Istanbul by train today from Sofia. Two Israeli military planes and a civilian plane were waiting at Istanbul to fly the bodies to Israel.

An Israeli consulate spokesman in Istanbul said arrangements were being made in Bulgaria to ship the bodies of the other 15 victims, who were not Israeli nationals, to their own countries for burial.

Americans In Viet Nam Are War Victims

By JOHN BRODERICK

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Americans living in South Viet Nam have become the victims of a new and stealthy war of nerves.

American Embassy officials have received threats against their lives. Private automobiles of U.S. diplomats have been burned or blown up. Grenades have been tossed against an apartment building which houses embassy families.

No one is quite sure who is behind the campaign of terrorism.

The Americans apparently are being attacked because they represent a government which supports anti-Communist nationalist Premier Ngo Dinh Diem.

Though street fighting in this capital of two million has stopped, the bitterness lingers on. A number of groups hate Diem and the Americans who back him.

The Binh Xuyen society, a band of one time river priates who controlled Saigon's vice industry, brought the country close to civil war in April. After 48 hours of bloody battling they were driven out of the city. They still control a small section of the meandering Saigon River.

Another implacable Diem enemy is Gen. Le quang Vinh, better known as Bacut, head of the rebellious Hoa Hao Religious army which has spread terror in Viet Nam's Far West for years. His strength has been broken but he still is a source of trouble.

The forces opposing the Premier are swelled too by the underground of the Communist Vietminh. Officially the Reds have been quiet since the Geneva armistice gave them North Viet Nam last year, but they still have a well-organized and efficient clandestine network throughout South Viet Nam.

Many Frenchmen also are not friendly to Diem.

Television Actors To Strike Friday

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The Screen Actors Guild has set Friday for the start of a strike by all actors in filmed television shows.

A spokesman for the guild said that 40 weekly TV series are now shooting in New York and Hollywood. John L. Dales, the group's executive secretary, said that 96.3 per cent of the membership authorized the strike.

"The principal issue . . ." he said yesterday, "is the refusal of the producers of filmed television programs to agree to make any residual payments whatsoever to actors for the second run of a video film."

The three-year contract which expired last week gives actors payment on the third to sixth runs, inclusive, in addition to the original showing.

The walkout will not apply to production of theatrical motion pictures.

Clergyman Faces Trial This Month

MILWAUKEE, (AP)—A United Lutheran pastor to stand formal church trial for heresy in the 60-year history of the Northwest Synod — the second in six weeks — faces a trial board of fellow clergyman later this month.

The Rev. John Gerberding, 33, of Menomonee Falls is accused of doctrinal deviation similar to that for which his friend, the Rev. George Crist Jr. of Durham, another Milwaukee area community, was tried and convicted last week.

Pastor Crist was suspended from his church duties yesterday by Dr. Paul E. Bishop of Minneapolis, president of the synod, who thus followed the recommendation of the trial committee.

The 31-year-old Durham minister is vacationing with his wife and three daughters and has not yet been reached for comment on what he plans to do between now and next May, when the synodical conference will review his case and decide on punishment. This may range from a rebuke to dismissal from the Lutheran ministry.

However, at the end of his trial, Pastor Crist indicated he might return to school and later seek a philosophy teaching post.

Pastor Gerberding, who sat with and counseled Pastor Crist in the losing defense that their liberal interpretation of Scriptural events was permissible within the Lutheran Church, announced his selection of a third young suburban pastor as counsel for his trial, scheduled tentatively to open Aug. 30.

His choice is the Rev. Victor K. Wrigley, 35, of Brookfield, whose teachings — like those of pastors Crist and Gerberding — were investigated this summer by a synodical committee.

No formal charges have been filed against Pastor Wrigley. The specific instances of doctrinal deviation against Pastor Gerberding have not been made public.

Gun-Toting Defendant Charged With Murder In Courtroom Killing

CARLISLE, Pa., (AP)—A gun toting defendant, shouting that justice had deserted him, turned a Pennsylvania courthouse into a death chamber yesterday.

Percy Haines, 60, of Newville R.D. 2, whipped out a pistol, shouted he was getting a "raw deal" when ordered to pay his wife $50 monthly for support, and fired four times. He killed a lawyer and injured three others, including the presiding judge.

He was charged with murder and held without bail in Cumberland County Court. No hearing date was set.

Victim of the bizarre slaying was John D. Faller, 41-year-old Carlisle attorney who was representing Haines' ex-wife Lulu, 60, in the nonsupport action.

Mrs. Haines, struck in the abdomen, was reported in "critical" condition at Carlisle Hospital.

Judge Mark E. Garber was hit in the upper right arm and doctors said there was a possibility it might be necessary to amputate.

Loretta Young Rests Following Operation

OJAI, Calif. (AP)—Actress Loretta Young was resting at home after a 3½-month stay in a nearby Oxnard Hospital, where she underwent surgery for peritonitis and abdominal adhesions.

Her husband Tom Lewis said they plan a long rest in Honolulu when she is strong enough to travel. She will not resume her television career until after the first of the year, he said.

Unmarried Monk Writes Blood Letter

SEOUL (AP)—Some 770 unmarried monks and nuns today watched a fellow celibate slash his finger and write a blood letter to President Syngman Rhee to protest the continued presence of married priests in South Korean Buddhist temples.

The blood-writing ordeal, which covered 400 words, ended when the priest, Soh Koo San, collapsed from loss of blood.

Soh was carried from the floor of Chogesa temple in Seoul, where the outnumbered celibate faction is holding a national Buddhist priests' convention.

The government earlier had ordered the 5,000 married priests and nuns out of the temples by June 30. But most of them ignored the order and ROK officials have been hesitant to use force.

ANOTHER DEPENDABLE COLGATE PRODUCT

This week Buick soars past the 600,000 mark!

Biggest-selling Buick of all time permits us to make the biggest trade-in deals ever possible!

HERE it is, just past July, and what do you think has happened?

Buick popularity has broken every past full-year record!

That's the gospel truth. And Buick, of course, has had many great years before.

At the beginning of this week, Buick production passed 600,000 cars for the 1955 model year.

That is over 155,000 more automobiles than the full model year of 1954—when we captured third place in total national sales.

It is more than 11,000 higher than the full model year of 1950—when the automobile industry had its greatest year, and Buick established an all-time record that stood unchallenged until now.

It is almost a quarter of a million more automobiles than the full model year of 1941—which was the greatest prewar record Buick ever reached.

In other words, there has never been anything like 1955 in Buick history—when today Buick is building over three cars every minute to meet the public demand.

Doesn't this tell you something important? Doesn't this soaring Buick success mean that you owe it to yourself to see and sample the car that's breaking every record in the Buick book?

Doesn't it mean that you ought to try Buick's mighty V8 power—Buick's great room and comfort—Buick's cruiser-steady ride and roadability—Buick's superb visibility and precision handling ease?

And doesn't it mean you certainly ought to try Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflow*—the world's only transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern plane's propeller—and the most spectacular performance advance of the year?

Come in and see us—this week, at the latest—and learn for yourself why today's Buick is the biggest-selling Buick of all time—and how big a trade-in deal we can offer you with this tremendous volume to back us up.

*Variable Pitch Dynaflow is the only Dynaflow Buick builds today. It is standard on ROADMASTER, optional at modest extra cost on other Series.
