HONORED AS "OUTSTANDING"

Five Collingsworth County citizens received awards at the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet Friday night, Feb. 27. Former Sheriff John Rainey, left, received the community service award; Anita White, outstanding sales and service award; Mary Ann Lowe and Bill Lowe jointly, the president's award for their exceptional work with the Wellington Rodeo; and George Davis, the Outstanding Farmer-Rancher Award selected by the Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District.

City Defers Action on Gas Rate Increase

Wellington City Council on Monday night, March 2, voted to delay for 90 days action on a proposed rate increase requested Lone Star Gas Co. for users here. This will give the council an opportunity to study the request and make recommendations.

Billy Jackson, Lone Star resident manager, presented the rate increase request. In answer to a question, he said that this would affect approximately 734 residential and 500 business customers.

Information presented in the rate increase request estimates the average residential customer's monthly bill in Wellington would be increased about $1.93 in winter and decrease by $.07 in summer. The motion to defer action was made by Councilman Tom Wilkins and seconded by Councilman Ralph Owens.

City Manager Glen Taylor told the council they took one of three options open to them. The others would be to allow the request to go before the three-man railroad Commission or to accept the request as Jackson presented it.

Texas law allows cities up to 120 days to take action, but Taylor pointed out that it also allows the company the right to put the requested rates in effect if action is not taken in 90 days.

In other action Monday Councilmen Willie Gragson and Gary Brewer were appointed to the Sheriff's Advisory Board to succeed Councilmen Lyndon Crelia and Owens.

They will meet with a counterpart board from the Commissioners Court to confer with Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell once each month.

Date and time of these meetings will be worked out.

The council also appointed Cary Don Neeley of Quail to serve on the Tax Appraisal Board to succeed Don Tarver, also of Quail, who resigned for health

Road Upgraded To Farm Road Specifications

The first step has been completed in a project that could lead to a paved road connecting the Dodson and Mangum Highways one mile east of Wellington.

Collingsworth County Commissioners Court has completed negotiations on a 100-foot right-of-way on the section line road east of the Farmers Coop Gin, County Judge Bob Watson said this week.

The county plans to do grade work on the road and bring the base up to Highway Department specifications for a Farm to Market Road.

The county hopes that the Highway Department might then designate it an FM Road and pave it if the Highway Department dis-

More Candidates File in School, Hospital Elections

Election interest picked up during the past week as three candidates filed for the three places to be filled on the Collingsworth County Hospital Board, and an additional candidate added his name to the list of those running for Wellington School Board.

Less than 12 hours remained for candidates to file for places on the ballot in city and school board elections. The deadline for these elections is Wednesday, March 4. Those running for hospital board have until March 10.

HOSPITAL BOARD

Petitions have been filed to have the names of these candidates placed on the ballot for hospital board members: Mrs. Ineva Bowen, who is running for a second term; Mrs. Clara Boyd, a Dodson civic leader, who has a banking background; and Yates Parker, an employee of Warrick's Inc.

All of these petitions were filed in the last week.

Mrs. Bowen, who is secretary of the Hospital Board, reminded that each petition must bear the names of 15 qualified voters. Application forms are available from her, or from the City State Bank, Wellington State Bank and Collingsworth General Hospital.

Board members whose terms expire are Mrs. Bowen, J.D. Coleman and Elmer Feemster. The latter announced he will not seek re-election.

SCHOOL BOARD

Six candidates have filed for three places on the Wellington School Board, one of them for an unexpired term.

Three men are running for the one-year unexpired term. They are Bill Hall, Sammy Jett, and the incumbent, Jim Ingram.

The three candidates filed for the two regular terms (three years) are Kirby Campbell, who seeks re-election, Danny Martin and Reed Souder.

CITY OFFICES

There have been no new filings for the places of Wellington Mayor and two city council posts.

Candidates for mayor are Ralph Owens and Henry Sullivan. Running for city council are John Rainey, Perry Hiatt and Sam McGill.

Norwood-Valley In Bi-District Tues.

Samnorwood Eagles will meet the Valley Patriots for the bi-district championship Tuesday, March 10, in Clarendon college gymnasium. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

The Eagles bi-district opponent was determined only Thursday night, when the Patriots defeated Claude 67-39 in District 4-A tournament played in Tulia. Samnorwood, in District 3-A, does not play a tournament to determine the winner. Instead, it has a double round robin.

Samnorwood goes into this crucial game with a perfect district record, 10 victories. Their season record is an excellent 20-9.

Valley Coach Steve Adams team is impressive with its height. With one boy 6-7 tall and two others over 6 feet, the Patriots have dominated most of the teams they played this season.

Coach Ralph Decker's Eagles on the other hand have among their starters one player who is 6-1, another 5-10, and the remaining three are 5-8.

Quickness is Samnorwood's asset, and few teams have been able to defend themselves against this.

The Eagles have developed their outside shooting, with Russell Schaub leading in points scored. Steve Knoll is rated as the best inside shooter.

The Patriots try to get to their big post man, Rickey Fuston, with the ball to score.

Both teams have been good with their rebounding, although Valley probably has the edge. Schaub and Knoll share rebound duties for Norwood.

Valley and Norwood have met only once this season, in the finals of the White Deer tournament, when Valley was the winner 76-47. This statistic isn't bothering the Samnorwood boys who have played together since their pee wee days and exhibit as much team play as any group in the district.

There will be few people at home in the Samnorwood area Tuesday night, and they will be joined by many Wellington fans.

Coach Decker is producing this championship team in his first year at Samnorwood. The team won the district championship two years ago under Coach Dale Morris, now of Wellington.

Decker coached two years at Allison, where he had a girls championship team. Before that, he coached at Lahoma, near Enid, Okla., two years and had junior high champions.

Valley has the distinction this year of having both its boys and girls teams win on the district level. The girls

Annual Red Cross Fund Drive Opens in County

The 1981 Red Cross membership drive for Collingsworth County was announced, Tuesday, Feb. 3, by Earl Hunter, chairman.

No fund goal was set, but Hunter said he hopes county donors equal or pass last year's drive which raised almost $2,000.

Part of the money will be retained to meet county needs and the remainder will go to the National Red Cross. This is the source of money it uses for disaster relief on a nationwide basis.

"It takes more money to operate the Red Cross now, just like everything else," Hunter declared.

Solicitation will be on a house to house and person to person basis.

Wellington Business and Professional Women's Club will be in charge of the drive in Wellington. Mrs. T.E. Lennon is scheduled to work in Dodson. A chairman for Samnorwood will be named. Hunter reminded that

Red Cross assistance was offered within hours after the May 1980 tornado that ripped across Wellington.

Workers reached the town shortly after the storm passed to survey needs, and assistance was provided for several families, as many as needed help. Hunter estimated this amounted to around $2,500.

He pointed out that should another tornado come through the county, this year or any year in the future, the Red Cross would again be here within hours to give as much help as is required.

Another service on which the county remains completely dependent is the Red Cross Blood program. Collingsworth General Hospital receives its entire supply of blood and blood components from the Red Cross Regional Blood Center in Wichita Falls.

This blood center will provide us with as much blood as our hospital needs, either whole blood or components or derivatives. In an emergency, blood can be in Wellington within an hour and a half, he pointed out.

County residents are asked in return to donate a quota of blood to the Red Cross Bloodmobile on its twice-yearly visits to the town.

Tax District Won't Collect 1981 Taxes

Collingsworth County Tax Appraisal Board at regular meeting March 3, turned down a request by Samnorwood School Board to collect taxes for the school district for the 1981 tax year.

The Central Appraisal District will assess property and provide tax rolls for all taxing entities in Collingsworth County this year, and Samnorwood asked that the central district also collect taxes at its office in the courthouse. But the chairman of the Appraisal Board, Bill Lindsey said the central district would not be prepared to collect taxes for the various entities this year. He said that by next year he thought the district would be able to collect taxes for entities that wished the district to do so.

In other action the board approved a contract with Western Data Services, Inc. of Amarillo for data processing for one year; approved a contract with Troy Sloan of Spearman to appraise minerals, utilities and industries this year; and accepted a bid from Wells and Wells Insurance for workmen's compensation and auto liability insurance.

Present were board members Margaret Coleman, Doug Coleman, Jr. and Bill Lindsey. Tommy Lewis was absent.

Upturn Seen in Drilling Activity

Two oil companies, who hold leases in Collingsworth County have arranged to bring a new drilling rig into the north Collingsworth-southern Wheeler Counties for their exclusive use during the next two years.

A source close to the operation identified the two as Crescent Energy Corp. of Midland and Pike Oil Company, have contracted with John Swanson Drilling Company of Electra to bring the new rig here for their exclusive use.

A minimum of 20 wells and possibly more should be drilled during that period. It should be here around the middle of April.

While Swanson will bring some of its employees with the rig, they will also hire people locally, the spokesman said.

Crescent Energy Corp. recently filed an intention to drill its No. 1 Powell in the southwest part of section 21, block 23, in the extreme northwest part of the county.

The proposed depth is 3,000 feet.

Pike Oil Co. is familiar with drilling conditions in the county, having drilled most of the wells in the Greasy Corner area.

However in late February Parallel Petroleum, Inc. of Midland plugged and abandoned its No. 1 J.H. Oldham, after plugging the well earlier and then re-entering and testing.

Larry Oldham, a partner in the company, said the well was re-entered and an attempt was made for a completion.

"We cleaned the well out to a total depth of approximately 2,600 feet and ran 4 1/2 inch casing the total depth.

"We then tested the lower zone at approximately 2,500 feet which appeared to be oil bearing. We perforated and acidized and received a trace of oil when it was analyzed it appeared to be dead oil, with all the light ends had disappeared.

"We plugged back to approximately 2,400 feet and tested some of the upper zones which appeared to be gas bearing, but we didn't recover gas and the decision was made to plug the well," Oldham said.

Chihuahua Cart Shown At Ft. Leaton Site

AUSTIN—One of the most unusual and impressive displays in the Texas State Park System has been assembled near Fort Leaton State Historic Site at Presidio.

It's a huge Chihuahua cart, constructed of massive cottonwood beams and measuring 27 feet long and 10 feet tall.

When an active trade developed between Texas and Chihuahua, Mexico in the mid-1800s, goods were transported over a rugged 800-mile route from San Antonio to Ciudad Chihuahua. Strong, heavy vehicles were needed to carry large loads of machinery and raw metals, and one of the most widely used during that time was the Chihuahua cart. Teams of 10 to 12 plodding oxen pulled these massive carts over the long trade route.

Still Becomes Operational

COLLEGE STATION—The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) has begun operation of a new alcohol distillation unit that will be valuable in research for producing liquid fuels from biomass.

"The unit will be used to provide research data and demonstration information for farmers and people in industry across Texas," said Dr. Edward Hiler, head of Agricultural Engineering Department at Texas A&M.

"This energy program is oriented toward the development of energy resources both for and from agriculture—a similar version of the demonstration program is to move Texas agriculture towards energy independence," he continued. "We don't want agriculture here depending on foreign energy sources for food production."

Texas Parks & Wildlife is $5 for a one-year subscription and $9 for two years. To subscribe, send check or money order to 4200 Smith School Road, Austin 78744 or call toll-free 1-800-252-9327 (Austin residents call 475-4888) and charge the subscription to Visa or Master Card.

Water and Weather Name Texas Towns

COLLEGE STATION—Although it's not always plentiful, water must have been on the minds of many Texas towns' founding fathers.

There are 41 Texas towns named after springs; another 37 have the word lake in their names; 17 towns are named for creeks, rivers or brooks. Community names also reflect Texans' preoccupation with the weather. Hail, Dew, Rainbow, Cook, Dryer and Snow Hill are examples.

In its Nov. newsletter the Texas Water Resources Institute—located at Texas A&M University—points out the importance of water to the history of the state in the names that Texans have given their towns.

Some names describe the local water situation: Sour Lake, Sweetwater, Agua Dulce, Shallowater and Redwater. Then there is Long Lake, Big Lake, Blue Lake, Silver Lake, Clear Lake and Little River.

Thank You

May we express our appreciation to each of you for the consolation you brought us at the passing of our mother, Mrs. W.F. Vaughan.

Your concern and friendship, revealed in so many ways, gave her pleasure in her latter days and comfort to us. We thank you for the card shower on her birthday, as well as for the food, flowers, words of consolation and your prayers. We will remember all of these with gratitude.

May God bless you.

LARLU HAYS

Open House to Honor Miss Hays

Larlu Hays, an employee of Wells and Wells Insurance/Abstracts for 22 years, is retiring and in her honor, the partners and staff will honor her at an open house Friday, March 6, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Her friends are invited to call at any time between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Hosting the open house are Jack Sanford, Cal Hurst and Harold Watkins, owners of Wells and Wells, and Mrs. Keith Smith, Miss Elaine Smith and Mrs. Carroll Nunnelley, staff members.

Miss Hays had prepared herself for a career in religious education and worked as a church secretary until she returned home to Wellington. A short time later joined Wells and Wells and before long she knew that the insurance field would be her choice of a career.

She went to work on Texas Independence Day, and that was the date set for her retirement, but she is remaining on the job for a little longer to train her successor.

One of six daughters of the late Mr. and Mrs. J.L. Hays, this close-knit family came here in December 1930.

She graduated from High School in 1932 and attended Baylor University on a scholarship. But both depression and drought were closing in on Wellington and she had to end her college studies.

Like other girls of the time, she worked at whatever job she could until she went to work permanently as a bookkeeper at LeDerer Hardware.

Stores around the square in Wellington—and all other small towns—remained open on Saturday night until 10 p.m. "I used to hate those nights," she recalls. "I never felt we sold that much merchandise."

But Miss Hays also remembers the valuable lessons in business she learned from her employer. "He had a good business education and was a good business man," she said.

In 1946, Miss Hays entered Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth and a year later she received a diploma in religious education.

The next 9 years found her in work with Baptist churches at Borger, Lamesa and Plainview.

At First Baptist Church, she is now church clerk and pianist for a Sunday School department group. Each Tuesday night she is accompanist for the Light-house Quartet in its church TV broadcasts.

Every part of her work in the insurance company has been enjoyable, she recalls as have been her associations with people, both those with whom she works and the company's customers. She has secured her insurance solicitor's license as an insurance salesman, but she preferred to continue work within the office.

She and her sister, Myra Hays, live at 2010 East

Lock Your House, Stop Burglaries

A recently published study of 60,000 homeowners reveals a simple way to prevent almost half the burglaries each year, according to Dorothy G. Blackwell, OSU home management specialist.

The study conducted for the Justice Department shows 44 out of each 100 burglaries are made possible because homeowners don't lock up homes adequately.

The study also reveals that 66 out of every 100 non-forced break-ins are through unlocked doors or windows.

Keys left under mats or near doors are responsible for an additional 7 percent of non-forced break-ins, Mrs. Blackwell says.

"In eight out of 10 cases, homeowners do not recover stolen property nor get insurance compensation," she says.

One reason insurance compensates so few break-in victims is that six out of 10 persons don't report robberies to the police—they're too embarrassed to do so, knowing the burglary resulted from their failure to lock up.

"Our advice—use all existing locks," she says. "Add locks where there are none."

reasons.

On a motion by Owens and second by Brewer, the council granted Taylor's request to acquire a tractor, using some equipment no longer used by the city as a trade in.

Taylor told the council that never during his tenure as city manager has he had as many sewer system problems as he has in the last two weeks. This has pushed back other work scheduled for this time.

After the meeting, the city manager told The Wellington Leader that work enlarging the airport will begin as soon as plans submitted to the Texas Aeronautics Commission have been approved. These were prepared and submitted by O.V. Johnson, employed by the City council to do the engineering work.

Poisonous Plants Due Bonus Year

COLLEGE STATION--1981 looks like a bonus year for poisonous range plants.

"Due to last year's dry summer followed by a wet fall, all conditions point to generally a bonus year for poison plants in Texas," says Dr. Allan McGinty of Fort Stockton, area range specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Bitterweed in the Edwards Plateau and loco, garbancillo, rayless goldenrod and threadleaf groundsel in the Trans-Pecos region of Texas have already been reported causing livestock losses this year, notes McGinty. So he cautions ranchers to become aware of the problem and to take steps to reduce further livestock losses.

"Ranchers should be familiar with and be able to identify common poisonous plants that occur in their pastures. They should also be familiar with symptoms of poisoning in livestock," points out McGinty. "Local county Extension agents, veterinarians and Extension range specialist can provide assistance to ranchers in this effort."

As soon as animals begin to show signs of poisoning, they should be moved immediately to pastures free from poisonous plants and treated by a veterinarian.

If no pasture is available that is free from poison plants, ranchers may need to control weeds with chemical or mechanical methods. Caution should be used following chemical control methods since some poisonous plants become more palatable to grazing animals following herbicide use.

"Most problems with poisonous plants occur during winter and early spring when desirable warm-season forage plants are dormant and cool-season toxic plants are lush and green," explains the specialist. "During these periods, livestock will easily switch to poisonous plants to attempt to obtain a higher nutritional plane for their diet and to obtain some green vegetative matter."

"Proper supplemental feeding that meets the nutritional requirements of grazing animals and provides green plant material in the form of pelleted alfalfa can significantly reduce poisonous plant problems during this time," contends McGinty.

In general, solid range management techniques offer the best prevention of livestock losses due to poisonous plants, he emphasizes. Use of a planned grazing system that allows for periodic rest of pastures during the growing season can increase the quantity and vigor of desirable forages. This enables such plants to be more competitive with less desirable poisonous plants, reducing their availability to grazing animals.

Grazing systems that concentrate a large number of livestock in a single area may have extra benefits in that the amount of poisonous plant material available to a single animal is reduced.

McGinty advises ranchers to be extremely cautious when importing cattle from other areas of the state or country to a range containing poisonous plants unfamiliar to these animals. Such animals will more easily consume toxic plants compared to animals raised in that same area.

"Poisonous plants are a

Barcroft Arraigned Wednesday

Morris Barcroft, former administrator of Collingsworth General Hospital, was arraigned Wednesday, Feb. 25, before Justice of the Peace Beatrice McKinney on a charge of theft.

His bond was set at $5,000, which he made and was released, Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell said.

Barcroft, who has been living at Mangum, Okla., was indicted by a 100th District Court Grand Jury Monday, February 23, on a charge of theft of money of the value of $200 or more but less than $10,000 from the owner, Collingsworth County Hospital District.

District Attorney David McCoy said that Barcroft is alleged to have taken a check in the amount of $1,460 which was given the hospital for the sale of 350 pounds of x-ray film.

The film, he said, was sold to a Wichita Falls metal recovery firm.

X-ray, as well as photographic film, is covered by an emulsion containing silver, which can be recovered by a chemical process.

Following his indictment, Barcroft was arrested by Sheriff Rogers of Greer County, Okla. He waived extradition and was taken before the Associate District Judge in Hollis, who signed the waiver of extradition. Sheriff Maxwell picked up Barcroft there.

Some used to say that goldenrod indicated buried treasure.

natural part of most Texas rangelands and will always be available to some extent to grazing animals. With sound range management practices, livestock losses can be kept to a minimum," believes McGinty.

Improve Fishing Increase Yield

COLLEGE STATION--If ponds were properly constructed for fish management, more fish for profit or sport fishing could be produced in thousands of Texas ponds annually.

One of the most important features to make ponds manageable for fish production is a drain pipe, yet most Texas ponds do not have this facility when constructed, says Dr. Joe T. Lock of Overton, area fisheries specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System.

"These bottom drains are helpful for partial harvests of fish and essential for complete harvest. They are necessary for periodic removal of undesirable fish and can be used to eradicate unwanted fish if there is no live or standing water in the watershed," Lock adds.

Partial draw-down is used as an inexpensive but helpful bass management tool as well as an aid in aquatic weed control, he explains.

Lock recommends that the drainpipe be run from the deepest part of the pond bottom to the outside of the dam, with the top of the vertical pipe at the same level as the desired surface of the pond.

"Thus, the pond level can be lowered or raised by adjusting the height of the standpipe. This drainage system will increase the carrying capacity of the pond by removing poor quality water from the bottom rather than oxygen-rich surface water," Lock says.

Although most fish swim upstream during floods and will enter ponds through the spillway, a conventional spillway should be constructed to prevent damage to the pond dam during extreme flooding.

The spillway should be above the normal water level of the drainpipe, he adds.

Since drainpipes are subject to freezing in extremely cold weather, permitting some water flow during these cold periods may prevent the outside standpipes from freezing.

"The size of the drainpipe should depend on the size of the pond. A four inch diameter pipe is sufficient for ponds less than one acres in size," Lock says.

Moisture On Tuesday Measures .16"

Moisture received in Wellington Tuesday and Tuesday night, measured .16," according to the Weather Bureau rain gauge on the courthouse lawn. Fog Monday dampened streets and fields but the moisture was not measurable.

This amount was general over much of the county, although in the Samnorwood vicinity, the moisture was estimated at around a quarter of an inch.

Most of the wheat is still holding up, growers say more moisture is urgently needed if it is to continue this condition.

The United States Department of Agriculture has raised more than 875,000 varieties of strawberries.

Rx: Walk Before You Run

COLLEGE STATION--Millions of joggers should learn to walk before they run, advises a cardiovascular researcher and jogging enthusiast.

"You should be able to briskly walk for two hours (about six to eight miles) before you begin jogging. Running is really a progression of walking," said Dr. Elvin Smith, associate dean of medicine at Texas A&M University.

Smith says there is still controversy among scientists and physicians as to whether running or walking is better exercise, and no clear-cut answer seems ready to break away from the pack.

So many variables are involved--prior heart damage, individual heart rates, the body's metabolic rate plus the speed and distance traveled--that each person had to answer the question for himself or herself, he explained.

Researchers do agree there are two ways of risking your health. Those are either doing nothing at all or starting out on a vigorous plan of exercise without a slow conditioning period.

"One of the quickest ways to kill yourself is to jog just once a week for two miles as fast as you can," said Smith, a former county president for the American Heart Association.

"The person who enters into a vigorous exercise program with known or unknown previous heart damage runs a higher risk of heart attack. However, I believe you cannot hurt an already healthy heart, no matter how strenuous the exercise," he said.

Walking is certainly better on the feet, heels, ankles, legs and knees than running, Smith said.

For people concerned that merely walking won't help them shed those extra pounds, Smith has a thought or two.

If the variables are nearly equal, a person walking fast requires more energy (translate that to calories burned) than someone jogging slowly, he explained.

And if two people--one walking, one jogging both with equal heart and breathing rates--cover the same length of ground, it's likely the two will derive equal benefits for their cardiopulmonary systems.

"It is possible that if you went far enough and fast enough by walking, even though it requires a lot more time, you could get more exercise from that than by moderate jogging," Smith said.

Smith said he was hesitant about making any hard-and-fast declarations because the fine balance of benefit vs. exercise is one that varies from individual to individual.

This is linked, Smith said, to the body's production of HDL, or high density lipoprotein, the so-called, "good" cholesterol needed by our bodies. HDL production seems to follow a formula of intensity multiplied by duration.

All things being equal, a person would probably get more benefit and produce more HDL (thought to aid in blocking the action of "bad" cholesterol called LDL) by walking briskly for a long period of time than for jogging slowly for a shorter time, he explained.

Two ways folk wisdom suggests will get rid of unwanted guests: a pinch of pepper under their chairs, or a broom stood behind a door.

Leatherback turtles can grow to be 8 feet long and weigh as much as 1,500 pounds.

Water Pumped from Pond on Davis Ranch

Elm Creek Rancher Picked For Salt Fork SWCD Honor

George W. Davis, recipient of the annual Outstanding Conservation Rancher award given by Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District, is its nominee as the Region One Outstanding Conservation Rancher of the Texas Association of Soil Conservation Districts.

Davis received his award on the county level at the Chamber of Commerce Banquet Friday, February 27.

Since 1965, Mr. and Mrs. Davis have carried on a cow-calf operation on a ranch that has never known any other arrangement. They operate 3,300 acres and they own most of it. Part of this operation is on one of the historic ranches of the county, established by George Aldous, who came to Collingsworth from Ipswich, East Suffolk, England in the 1890s.

"Davis has strictly a cow-calf operation, running about 175 head. He has had to sell down some due to the drought," said Tommy Powell, Soil Conservation Service conservationist.

"He has no cash crops. What his cows can't eat, he doesn't plant. He has 200 acres of wheat which he grazes and around 50 acres of hay, part irrigated alfalfa and part Midland Bermuda."

Most of the cows are commercial Hereford, although Davis is including a few Brangus-Hereford crosses, which wean larger calves.

Much of Davis' conservation program was carried out through the 10-year SCS Great Plains Program, which he went into shortly after moving to the ranch from a farm northeast of Shamrock.

In one part of his program, relying on both bulldozing and aerial spraying to control unwanted trees.

"He feels both have a place," says Powell. "George sprays the upland area but he does not spray along the creeks. He is concerned with the wildlife habitat and trees along the streams and he has a lot of both."

Davis has built feeders for turkey and quail. There are beavers along Elm Creek and Hawkberry Creek, and a short time ago a visitor jumped several flocks of mallards. There are plenty of fish.

"One of the most unusual features is that he doesn't have a windmill on the ranch," Powell continues.

There are the two creeks and to provide even more water, Davis has built several seep ponds--ponds scraped out into which water from a shallow depth through the bottom of the ponds.

Two other ponds are watered by springs. Irrigation water is pumped from the creeks.

Davis operates the ranch with the help of one man who has been with him 11 years. As he needs additional workers, he hires high school boys. He likes that arrangement and so do the boys.

Davis is the inventive type and has a well-stocked metal shop where he makes many devices that help ease his work. Unusual, also, is the cellar which he built from metal storage tanks.

For many years Davis has worked a full 8-hour shift at Ashland Chemical Co., carbon black plant east of Shamrock.

Mrs. Davis operates an income tax office from their home.

They have two children, both grown and living away from home.

RN Program Planned for Clarendon

Clarendon College has entered into a cooperative agreement with Amarillo College to provide an Associate Degree Nursing (ADV) program on the Clarendon College campus, according to Dr. Ken Martin, dean of Instruction.

Interested men and women are invited to an informational meeting with staff members from both colleges on the Clarendon campus Thursday, March 5, at 10 a.m.

Plans call for this program to begin in the fall semester 1981 and consist of students who have little or no formal experience in nursing, as well as practicing licensed vocational nurses. Several options are available for entering and completing the program.

Those desiring more information may call Dr. Martin at 806-874-3571.

Library Week Plans Started

Friends of the Library met Thursday, February 26, in the Reading Room of the County Library.

Mrs. B.B. Martin, president, was in charge of the meeting. Plans for Library Week, April 6 through 10, were discussed.

School children in grades one through four are to color book marks and grades five and six draw posters. Judge R.L. Templeton has agreed to give one of his books, "The Death of Jimmy Littlewolf" for best poster.

The Library Staff will decide on a book to be given to the best book mark for grades one through four. Mrs. John Duncan is in charge of this event.

Three new members were welcomed to the Friends: Mrs. John Duncan, Mrs. Tex Smith, and Mrs. Ronnie Forbis. Members present were Mrs. Martin, Mrs. Emil Kersten, Mrs.

Jerry Scott, Mrs. Clara Mote, and Mrs. David Hall.

The next meeting of the Friends will be March 26th, at 9:30 a.m. in the Reading Room of the Library.

Mrs. Bill Harbin was hostess when members of the Belles Lettres Club met Tuesday afternoon, February 24.

Mrs. Bryan Denley presented the program on medicines.

She emphasized the dangers of antibiotics if they are not taken as prescribed.

Calling the use of the lazar beam "the latest wonder tool," Mrs. Denley described some of its uses, all of which have come on the medical scene in the last few years.

"But the best medicine of all, for any kind of disease, is faith and prayer," she said.

Mrs. Dick Richards, vice president, was in charge of the meeting.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Earl Alexander, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. A.B. Clark, Mrs. Denley, Mrs. J.A. Graham, Mrs. Joe

Mrs. David Peters Heads Nursing Center Auxiliary

Women who have seen a need for volunteer service in Thomas Nursing Center are spearheading the formation of a new auxiliary, which will supplement the work of staff members.

In an organizational meeting held Tuesday, Feb. 24, Mrs. David Peters was elected president. Serving with her will be Mrs. Ola Parker, vice-president and Mrs. Mary Fulcher, secretary.

For the present, monthly meetings will be on the last Tuesday of each month. Other meetings will be called as the need arises.

Mrs. Peters explained that this will also be in addition to the work being done by volunteers on an individual basis and there will be no change in the work they now do.

"We ask our members to give an hour or two hours at regular intervals to visit with the residents, read to them, write letters for them or help them to write, and assist with crafts and games," explained Mrs. Peters.

There are people who have no family to visit them, and who do not have friends in Wellington. Some never have a visitor. Auxiliary members will be sure that these people do have visitors who cheer them or who do whatever is needed to make them feel loved and wanted.

"Some have become forgetful or mentally handicapped, but they still like for someone to pay attention to them and talk to them."

"The nursing home staff attends to the needs of the residents, but they do not have time to do these other things that we hope to do."

She stressed that the physical care of patients remains with the nursing home staff.

More volunteers are needed, said Mrs. Peters, and those interested in working should contact Mrs. Peters by calling 447-2168, or Mrs. Fulcher at 447-5597.

It is up to the volunteer to decide what she wants to do with the patient, visit, read, or some other activity.

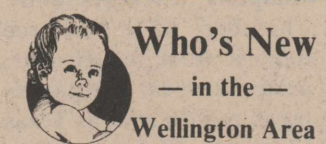

"We know there are those who go regularly to the nursing home now and they are invited to come into the auxiliary."

Girls of high school and junior high ages are invited to take part in the volunteer activities.

"It will help if these girls can give an hour once a week or once a month. Saturdays are long days for the nursing home residents, and there is a need for visitors at that time."

Besides the officers, members now include Mrs. Ruth Wilhelm, Mrs. Susie Crawford, Mrs. Nora Myers, Mrs. Clifford Christian, Mrs. Gary Tarver, Mrs. Marvin Knoll, Mrs. Mae Wadley, Mrs. Nell Poteet, Mrs. James Smith, Mrs. Zeldon Jenkins, Miss Myra Hays, Mrs. Sandown Smith, Mrs. Marie Golliugh, Mrs. Randy Motesenbocker, Mrs. Joe Peters and Mrs. Bob Weatherly.

The next meeting of the auxiliary will be on Tuesday, March 24, at 2:30 p.m.

"Do You Know Your Onions?" Belles Lettres Asked

Belles Lettres Club met with Mrs. Earl Alexander Tuesday afternoon, March 3, with Mrs. Charles Cason, president, directing the business meeting. Mrs. Alexander was the program speaker, "Do You Know Your Onions," by Jack Scott, taken from the Reader's Digest.

The onion, wrote Robert Louis Stevenson, is a rose, among roots. It is a bulb with over 500 relatives, including Amaryllis and lilly family, and it just might have been a flower instead of an onion.

Mrs. Alexander continued: "What would we do without it as a companion to a hamburger? The onions are white, yellow, red and chives, of the onion family. There are three varieties, Bermuda, Italian and Spanish, and there are fresh onions and dry onions. They can be used in anything except desserts."

The onion contains calcium, iron, sodium, protein and vitamins. In France, the white onion is used in white wine, said the speaker. It also goes in soup, and it out numbers the French fry in France.

"During the civil war, General Grant sent word to Washington that he would not move his Army unless he had onions for them to eat, so the government sent three trainloads of onions. He firmly believed it kept his soldiers from having dysentery."

"Onions are used in medicine and date back as far as Hypocrates who believed they were good for eyesight, to grow hair on bald heads, to cure fits, the common cold and to relieve hypertension."

"As late as 12 years ago, it was proved in Great Britain that they are good for blood clotting."

"One thing about the onion is that it makes us cry. It contains a Propenylal oxide, which when it comes in contact with the eyes cause tears."

"Onions are high in energy. When the Egyptians were building their great tombs, the workmen were fed onions and garlic to increase their energy."

"In medieval Europe, the onion was quite expensive. People used it to pay rent, and gave it as gifts."

At the close of the program, Mrs. Cason read a poem, "Thank God for Little Things."

The collect was read in unison, led by Mrs. E.F. Bartlett.

Those present were Mrs. Dick Richards, Mrs. Louise Vaughan, Mrs. Cason, Mrs. J.A. Graham, Mrs. Bryan Denley, Mrs. E.F. Bartlett, Mrs. Bob Hightower, and the hostess, Mrs. Alexander.

A great place for dogs is the United States. At last count there were an estimated 41 million canines living here.

One of the greatest canine leapers was a dog called "Crumstone Danko." He was able to scale walls over 11 feet high in a single bound. That's a canine "high jump" record.

Ann Langford Discusses Historical Markers at DAR

LaPaisana Chapter of the DAR met Monday, March 2 for its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Margaret Woods as hostess at the Cherokee Inn.

The dinner was followed by a business session led by the regent, Mrs. Lottie Handley. Minutes were read by the secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Davis, and she was asked to publish the by-laws for the chapter.

The treasurer, Mrs. Dora Fern Warrick, reported a balance of $299.66. Mrs. Handley introduced the new member, Mrs. Nan Henard.

The National Defense Report by Mrs. Merle White, was on the theme of Russia. Some pertinent remarks made by the returning Ambassador of the United States assigned to Russia during the recent administration, were quoted. One, the Russians are suspicious of anyone visiting in their country who can speak the language. Another disorder is hereditary in the U.S.S.R.

A program on "Historical Markers in Collingsworth County" was presented by Mrs. Ann Langford.

The first is a granite marker giving the history of the formation of the county. It rests at the intersection of the Quail road and the north-east highway. This was placed and paid for by the State of Texas.

The State Historical Society honored Rocking Chair Ranch. This is now at the entrance to Pioneer Park.

In 1972 the Collingsworth County Historical Commission gave a marker to the hospital which is at the entrance of Collingsworth General Hospital.

In 1975 a marker was placed in front of the O'Neil Building on the south side of the square. It consists of a marker and a planter. This was to honor this first commercial brick building in the county, and the bricks used were from the county's own brick plant on Buck Creek.

The state insisted that a marker at the spot where Bonnie and Clyde drove off the Salt Fork Bridge which was under construction would be an "attention getter." Each one should make it a point to read each marker for they are interesting and informational urged the speaker.

Guests were Mrs. Mary Grady of Odessa, Dana and Carrie Langford.

Members present were

Mrs. Langford, Mrs. Dora Fern Warrick, Mrs. Ruth Derryberry, Mrs. Wood, Miss Maudie Coffee, Mrs. Sue McNett, Mrs. Merle White, Mrs. Paralee Coleman, Mrs. Corky Bowen, Mrs. Jennie Holcomb, Mrs. Dorothy Davis, Mrs. Lottie Handley, Mrs. Nan Henard, Miss Rita Lowrie, Mrs. Anaruth Pendleton, Mrs. Joy McDowell, Mrs. Louise Templeton, Mrs. Louise Vaughan and Miss Hattie D. Wells.

The English walnut tree originated in Southeastern Europe and China.

Mrs. Jewel Branum Honored On 87th Birthday Saturday

Mrs. Jewel Branum was honored Saturday, February 28, on her 87th birthday. Friends and family gathered at Sutphen's Bar-B-Q Hut in Amarillo for the celebration.

Mrs. Branum came to the Dodson area with her parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. W.C. McKinney, and other members of the family about the time the town was established. Later she and her husband, the late Floyd Branum, lived in Wellington with their own family. They moved to Amarillo in the mid-1940s.

Mrs. Branum is the last surviving member of her family. Brothers and sisters who lived in this county included Sheriff Claude McKinney, Zee McKinney, Ozro McKinney, Mrs. Lena Terry and Mrs. Lillie Wilson.

Part of the family was unable to attend the celebration because of the death of one of its members. Finis Firestone of Portales, N.M.

Those attending were Missy Rumpy and Bennie Rumpy of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Rusty Stanley with Jaci and Cole of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Dee Jenkins; Mrs. Adelle Reide and Matthew; Mr. and Mrs. Ruel Alexander; Mr. and Mrs. David Post and Elizabeth; and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Greer, all of Amarillo;

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rhoades, Mandi and Collin of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Allen Havens with Leigh, Lance and Luke; Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bouchelle;

Others included Mr. and Mrs. Doug Whitmore, with their children, Mrs. Linda Kinney of Houston, Mrs. Pam Girard of Bowie, and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Whitmore of Lewisville.

Coming from Borger were Mr. and Mrs. Wiley McKinney and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis McKinney, and still other visitors were Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Branum of Portales, N.M. Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Miller of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Branum with Amy, Karen and Robert of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Branum of Canyon, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Branum.

Cutbacks

In a way Collingsworth County is more fortunate than many areas of the nation. The federal farm program of the past few years, based on free market philosophy when commodity prices are low and embargoes when prices are high, has already cut most farmers out of the public trough in comparison to the days of crop allotments and relatively higher loan rates.

The cutbacks in federal spending may not be as painful here as they are in some other areas. But we expect there will still be cuts that will hurt.

And we will have to decide in the next few months whether to support the cuts on the theory that everyone has to take the medicine, to begin to fight the cuts as many organized interest groups are now doing in Washington.

Would we have been better off this past year, for example, with 10 percent interest rates and no disaster payments for low production in a drouth year?

There are no guarantees that the new conservative theories will work, but it is certain that the old liberal theories did not.

Knowing the way government usually works, we'll probably wind up with no disaster payments and 18 percent interest rates.

Other Editors Say . . .

The Right People

I was in Amarillo Thursday of last week and was talking to a man from Dalhart.

He could not understand how Childress had been able to secure so many doctors and operate such a fine hospital.

Factors that create such a situation are many and I guess the main answer is that Childress had the right people in the right position at the right time.

Last Monday I was in a meeting in Wichita Falls and was talking to a man from Henrietta and he was asking about how Childress was able to secure a grant to loan money to Lanchart Industries to rebuild its burned out operation.

Once again a big factor has been the right people in the right place at the right time.

That means people who took the responsibility of a job and did it—even when the job might look impossible.

Childress is just as good as its people. Let's hope we continue to have those right people in the right place at the right time.

As long as we do this town will be the envy of the most of the towns in the State.

That can also be said of the athletic program
we've had here for the past dozen years.

It's got to be one of the best in the nation.

So let's try to keep the right people in the right place at the right time.

Morris Higley in The Childress Index

a thought
FROM HIS WORD
How much do you love Christ? Enough to serve Him by tending His sheep? Are you willing to be the tender of sheep who belong to another?
Peter, who had sworn obedience to Christ unto death (Luke 22:33), and had yet denied Him three times during His trial (Luke 22:55-62) was asked by Christ after His resurrection, "Do you love me?
...feed my sheep...and follow Me." (John 21:15-19) We also are asked the same question: Do you love Christ? If so then why not feed His sheep and follow Him? As with Peter, there comes a time when we must decide to be obedient to Christ's calling with more than words alone.

James puts the questions into focus in James 2:18-20 "But someone may well say, 'You have faith, and I have works,' show me your faith without works, and I will show you my faith by my works. You believe that God is one. You do well;
the demons also believe, and shudder. But are you willing to recognize, you foolish fellow, that faith without works is useless?"

STATE CAPITAL
HIGHLIGHTS
By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — Last week
House Speaker Bill Clayton threw Capitol politics into high gear by announcing he would not seek re-election in
'82 . . . and that his present term would be his last to preside over the west chamber.

On the heels of Clayton's
stepping-down statement came an announcement by Rep. Gib Lewis, D-Fort Worth, that he is a candidate to replace Clayton as speaker and a prediction that he will have the contest sewed
up by the end of the week.

The back-to-back announcements were taken by many as a calculated move to put Clayton's weakening control of the House into someone's stronger hands.
Whether they will be Lewis is a different matter. The next speaker's race is two years away and several legislators were fuming privately at the early injection of speaker politics into what had so far been a calm legislative process.

State-Wide Race?

While signaling the last chapter on his career in the House, Clayton also left open the door to a future statewide political race. Clayton reportedly is considering a run for land commissioner or agriculture commissioner.
His future will depend on the voting public's reaction to his recent Brilab acquittal.

Clayton's eight years of conservative rule over the House has been controversial. Whether out of fear or admiration, most legislators credit his hardball style of control as "fair." In periodic fits of temper, they will also accuse him of being "tyrannical." Still, his political courage is unquestioned, and he is regarded by his colleagues as one of the most able legislators who ever took an oath in the Texas House of Representatives. It may not be too much to assert that Clayton will stand as tall in House annals as LBJ does in general Texas politics.

Senate: Way Ahead

For turning out legislation, the Senate is way ahead. Last week senators passed bills to govern nuclear waste, to test teachers on their reading and writing skills and to ban an automatic union dues check-off for state employees.

The bill to set up strict licensing procedures for disposing of radioactive wastes generated in Texas was a compromise effort engineered by Sen. John Traeger, D-Seguin.

Traeger worked with representatives of environmental groups, nuclear waste processing companies, and medical facilities and utilities that generate waste.

The bill prohibits disposal of wastes from other states, provides civil penalties for violation to $25,000 a day,
makes it a Class A misdemeanor to process waste without a license, and establishes a perpetual fund for processing sites. The Senate approved it 30-0.

Dues-Checkoff Ban

The Senate also passed a bill by Sen. Ike Harris, R-Dallas, prohibiting state employees from having union
dues automatically deducted from their paychecks.

The measure was designated emergency legislation
by Gov. Bill Clements, who adamantly opposes the deduction.

If the House approves, the new law will make moot a lawsuit now on the books to force the deduction. Last summer a district judge ruled no deductions could be made without the Legislature's approval.

Teacher Tests

The powerful chairman of State Affairs, Sen. Ray Far-abee, D-Wichita Falls, steered safely a bill requiring public school teachers to pass an exam on their reading and writing skills.

Farabee claimed the backing of every major teacher group in the state.

If it becomes law, prospective teachers will have to pass the test upon college graduation. The bill exempts persons who now have teaching degrees.

Special Elections

In recent special elections
to fill vacant legislative seats, Democrats and Republicans have each gained one, and both winners have taken potshots at high officials charged with influencing the outcome.

Republican Alan Schoolcraft soundly trounced Democrat Al Brown for a San Antonio House seat, and he claimed the large margin was a reaction to the attempted "theft" of the office
by Brown's buddies, Clayton and the Texas Legislature.

In the Valley, Democrat
Hector Uribe handily won

over Republican Ricardo Hinojosa in a special runoff
to fill a Senate seat.

Flushed with the School-
craft victory two weeks
earlier Clements had campaign for his party's nominee and angered the Democratic Party by doing so. All Democrats in the Senate (except two) publicly endorsed Uribe, and several party
volunteers drove to the Valley to aid the winner.

Both victors claimed the same electoral message to the big boys: "stay out of local races."

at the ballot box. They might run an emotional issue. The public would not be informed and might vote wrong. They said let your elected representatives to be the judge on what is best for you. I told one of the opponents of I & R, if that was the case, they are likely to make a mistake electing candidates to office as well.
In States where they have had I & R, the public has turned down far more issues than they have passed. The facts are if we had I & R,
only a small fraction of one percent of the laws would be enacted in this manner. I am not afraid to trust the people that elect me. I feel dead certain my sub-committee will report back some form of an I & R bill. Since it has to pass by 100 votes on the floor of the House and 21 in the Senate, I think chances are slim of passing anything
but a watered-down version.

ROAD AND BRIDGE
FUND BILL

The above bill was approved in the House last week and sent to Governor Clements. I am proud of the fact Governor Clements designated this an emergency bill at my request.
Over $600 thousand will be returned to the 10 counties in Legislative District 66.
This is money that comes from 1.5 percent of the state gasoline tax. The figures are approximate but listed below are the counties and the approximate amounts
they should receive:

ARMSTRONG $48,458.52
BRISCOE $49,371.09
CHILDRESS $47,177.64
COLLINGSWORTH $56,538.15
DONLEY $55,972.95
FLOYD $106,894.95
GRAY $75,004.68
HALL $52,104.96
MOTLEY $41,113.44
and WHEELER $67,555.20.

THOMAS
REPORT
Your Congressman's Votes
Reported Each Week

WASHINGTON--Here's
how area members of Congress were recorded on major roll call votes Feb.
19-25.

HOUSE

DRUG COMMITTEE: By a vote of 276 for and 101
against, the House extended for two more years the life of its Select Committee on Narcotics Abuse and Control, which in 1980 had a $600,000 budget. The panel was created on a temporary basis in 1976 to make recommendations on drug control to other House committees. In 1978, it received its first two-year extension. Backers say the committee contributes significantly to drug control while critics call it a disposable part of the congressional bureaucracy.

Members voting "yea"
favored continuing the committee.

Reps. Jim Mattox, D-5,
Bill Archer, R-7, Jack Fields, R-8, Jack Brooks,
D-9, J. Marvin Leath, D-11,
James Wright, D-12, Jack
Hightower, D-13, William Patman, D-14, Richard White, D-16, Charles Sten-holm, D-17, Kent Hance,
D-19, Henry Gonzalez,
D-20, Tom Loeffler, R-21, Abraham Kazen, D-23, and Martin Frost, D-24, voted
"yea."

Reps. Samuel Hall, D-1,
James Collins, R-3, Phil
Gramm, D-6, Jake Pickle, D-10, and Ron Paul, R-22,
voted "nay."

Reps. Charles Wilson,
D-2, Ralph Hall, D-4, Kika
de la Garza, D-14, and Mickey Leland, D-18, did not vote.

Wischkaemper Invited into Tech Honorary

Mark O. Wischkaemper, on the basis of his record as a freshman at Texas Tech University, has been invited to be initiated into Phi Eta Sigma, scholastic honorary on Saturday, March 7.

This honor society is for Texas Tech students who during their first year have distinguished themselves scholastically, according to James G. Allen, advisor of Phi Eta Sigma and Dean of Student Life, Emeritus.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Wischkaemper of Samnorwood were invited to attend the banquet at which their son and the other initiates were honored guests and at which President Norman Hackerman of Rice University was the speaker.

"The requirements for membership in Phi Eta Sigma are very high, so that membership in this scholastic honorary is the highest scholastic distinction a freshman can attain at Texas Tech," said Allen.

"Only some two and one-fourth percent of the students in the freshman class attain the honor each year. You have reason, then, to feel very proud of your son's outstanding success in his college work, and we sincerely hope that this honor which he has earned and received will be an effective incentive for him to continue as successfully as he has begun."

In his first semester, Wischkaemper had a 4.0 average.

Mark Wischkaemper was valedictorian of the 1980 Samnorwood Graduating Class.

Softball Meeting Set Mar. 16

Men who are interested in playing slow pitch softball during the 1981 season are reminded of the organizational meeting to be held March 16, at 8 p.m. at the My-T-Burger.

Randall Sims, president of the Wellington Softball Association, will preside and new officers will be elected. Additional plans will be made for the summer.

Mrs. Weatherly At Norwood PTA

Mrs. Donna Messer's kindergarten, first and second grades entertained Samnorwood Parent-Teacher Association at the meeting Monday, Feb. 23, presenting a musical salute to George Washington.

Mrs. Belva Blevins assisted Mrs. Messer

Mrs. Bob Weatherly, guest speaker, discussed "Family Life and Things That Affect It." She told of the changes women would face if the Equal Rights Amendment to the United States Constitution is passed. She said that women would be subject to draft into the military forces and could be assigned to combat duty. She stressed the importance of a strong family life with the father as head of the family.

In the business session, the projects committee reported on purchases for the school yard. An electric sander was bought for the ag department, a sewing machine for the home economics department, a paper cutter for the entire school to use, step stools for the cafeteria kitchen and chairs for the high school and grade school were among the projects.

Mrs. Guy Brandvik, president, announced the Texas Association of Parent-Teacher Associations has commended the Norwood PTA for its growth in membership in the 1980-81 school year and awarded a pin and ribbon for this achievement.

The committee also agreed to buy indoor play equipment for grade school. This will be purchased as soon as the teachers make their selections. The PTA voted to cook for the Lions Club twice a month on a trial basis through June. This is to raise additional money for PTA projects.

Kindergarten, first and second grades won the room count and received $4 to use as they choose.

Refreshments were served by the 8th and 9th graders.

There will be an open house at the next PTA meeting, March 23, beginning at 7 p.m. The classrooms will be open for visitation by parents and friends of the students, teachers and administrators.

The business meeting will begin at 8 p.m. At this time, the third and fourth grades, taught by Mrs. Bonita Myers, will present a film strip made by the students.

Refreshments will be served by class members from kindergarten through grade 12. The public is urged to attend.

Two Guilty Pleas Heard

Two cases, both relating to charges of theft by check, were heard in county court by Judge Bob Watson late last week.

On Thursday, Jackie Swinney Page pled guilty to the charge and was sentenced to make restitution for the amount of the check and the court costs of $69.80, Judge Watson, said.

On Friday, Mrs. Gary Thomas entered a plea of guilty to a charge of theft by check and the court established that according to the evidence that she was guilty.

She requested that sentencing be deferred for 10 days, and this was set for March 10, Judge Watson said.

Other cases on the docket were passed.

The practice of numbering houses began in Paris, France in 1463.

Girls Track Season Opens

The District 2-A girls track season has opened with 24 girls seeking places on the Wellington varsity team.

This is a larger number than usual.

Their first track meet will be at Silverton on Saturday, March 14, said Coach Dale Morris, in his first year as head coach and in charge of girls athletics.

Other dates include Shamrock, Saturday, March 21; Miami, Saturday, March 28; Canadian, Saturday, April 4. The District 2-AA track meet will be held at Shamrock on Wednesday, April 8.

There will be 15 events for the girls, Coach Morris said.

The 10 running events will include three relays: 400 meter, 800 meter and the mile. Dashes will be the 100 meter, 200 meter and 400 meter. There will be the 800 meter run, 1600 meter run, and a new event, the 3200 meter run which is two miles.

100 meter low hurdles are included.

Field events will be the shot put, discus, high jump, long jump and triple jump.

We have a lot of young girls and now we are trying to get in condition and see who can run and what they can run.

Morris Family Here From Germany

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Darryl Morris and their younger daughters, Nicki and Sharyl, were called to the bedside of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Bettis, who have been seriously ill in Collingsworth General Hospital. They live in Heidelberg, Germany, where Col. Morris is stationed with the U.S. Army.

Their older daughter, Debbie, a student in the University of Texas, Austin, joined them here over the February 21-22, weekend.

Col. Morris, with Nicki and Sharyl, have returned to Heidelberg. Mrs. Morris will remain for a longer period of time.

St. Patricks Plans Made

Shamrock's 35th Annual St. Patrick's Celebration will be held March 13 and 14. Faye O'Dell, one of the most sought after speakers in the United States, has been engaged as speaker for the "kick off" banquet at 7:00 p.m. Friday in the National Guard Armory. The Bob Stice Quartet from Hereford will furnish the musical entertainment. Tickets are $7.50.

The parade will be at 10:30 Saturday morning. Beautiful floats, riding clubs, bands, bicycles, and many other attractions are entered. Other events during the day will be a carnival, old settlers' reunion, team roping, old fiddlers' contest, "world's championship domino tournament", donegal beard competition, the "Miss Irish Rose" pageant, an "Irish Pot of Gold" giveaway, a ministerial alliance program and dances for both teens and adults. The Dick Morton Orchestra, Amarillo, will furnish music for the adults at the National Guard Armory and KQ106 will be at the Jaycee Gym for the teens, both beginning at 9:00 p.m.

Mixed Drink Tax $202

The sale of mixed drinks in Collingsworth during the final quarter of 1980 netted the county $202.01 according to information released by State Comptroller Bob Bullock recently.

Texas cities and counties where the sale of mixed drinks is permitted receive a 15 percent rebate of the 10 percent gross receipts tax charged on mixed drinks sold within their boundaries.

Collingsworth's total tax revenue sent to the comptroller was $1,346.75.

Awards for Service Presented At Chamber of Commerce Banquet

This year's Chamber of Commerce award for community service went to John Rainey, who retired January 1, after 25 years as Collingsworth County sheriff. The selection committee had looked at his work for this entire quarter of a century in making their choice.

This was one of five awards and five certificates of honor presented at the chamber's annual banquet Friday evening, Feb. 27.

Anita White, who has been a staff member of the county ASCS office for 22 years received the Sales and Service award. For her, the emphasis was on service.

Retiring president Robert Owens named Mr. and Mrs. Bill Lowe to jointly receive the President's Award for their work in producing the Collingsworth County Rodeo in 1979 and again in 1980.

George Davis, a rancher on Elm Creek in the north part of the county, was awarded the Outstanding Farmer-Rancher Award from the Salt Fork Soil and Water Conservation District. This is also a chamber of commerce award.

The chamber board of directors in turn presented Owens with a plaque in appreciation of his work during the two terms he has been in office.

Johnny Nash received a certificate as the director who contributed most to the chamber during the year just ended.

Two certificates were given for 50 years of business service to Wellington.

The first went to West Texas Utilities Co., which bought the city's light plant about 50 years ago. Tommy Hudson, resident manager, accepted the award.

The other 50 year certificates went to the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad, which in 1929 announced that it would extend its line from Childress north through Wellington and Shamrock to Pampa. Complications followed, and it was not until 1932 that the first train steamed into Wellington.

Certificates for community service went to Samnorwood Fire Department and Wellington Fire Department.

Fun and laughter was the theme of this banquet, as Lee Herring, Grand Prairie, entertained the group with anecdotes and jokes relating to many groups and organizations.

Owens reviewed the chamber's work and cited among the events sponsored in 1980 the Collingsworth County Fair, the Chamber of Commerce Rodeo, the Youth Winter Livestock Show, as well as work in behalf of securing doctors for the county and assisting other organizations working for civic progress.

Owens initiated a program of awards to businesses who improved or remodeled or beautified their buildings during 1980. This program will be continued.

Burba Second In Billards Tournament

WTSU - Richard Burba, Wellington sophomore, has placed second in the West Texas State University intramural billiard tournament.

He will compete at the regional level in the American College Unions-International Region XII Games Tournament on Thursday, Feb. 26; Friday, Feb. 27; and Saturday, Feb. 28. The tournament will be hosted by WTSU.

Burba and other WTSU students will compete with about 300 contestants from 35 to 40 colleges and universities from Texas, Oklahoma, Louisiana and Arkansas.

Winners of the Region II tournament will advance to the national level.

Burba is a mathematics major.

Oil & Gas

William G. Hawkins and wife, Artie Hawkins, of Bowie have given an oil and gas lease on a quarter section of land in the northwest part of the county to Booth Creek Investment, Inc., of Arlington, according to records in the office of Helen Gollighugh, county-district clerk.

The legal description is the southwest quarter of section 4, block 23.

The lease is to run for three years. The amount of the bonus payment was not indicated, but the rental will be $800 per year if no well is drilled.

It is also stipulated that the lease will be assigned only for the purpose of drilling a well on the demised premises and that only 49 percent of the working interest may be conveyed by the lease.

Troy Gardner Dies Feb. 20 In Tennessee

Troy William Gardner, 65, died Friday, February 20, in Donelson Hospital, Donelson, Tenn. after an extended illness. He had lived most of his life in Collingsworth County.

Services for Mr. Gardner were at 1:00 p.m. Monday, Feb. 23 in Hibbett and Hailey Funeral Home. The Rev. Ernie Farmer officiated. Burial was in the National Cemetery.

Mr. Gardner was born in Stephenville, March 23, 1915 and at the age of 15 months he moved with his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. J.G. Gardner to Collingsworth County where they lived on a farm northwest of Wellington. He received all his education in the Wellington Schools.

Dec. 23, 1935 he married Grace Johnson of Wellington.

He farmed in the Wellington area, operated a grocery store for several years and owned and operated Gardner Texaco Service Station on 8th and Childress. He was the distributor for Texaco Company for several years.

He served overseas, during World War II and was a Collingsworth County Commissioner of Precinct 1 for two years.

Eight years ago he and his wife moved to Nashville, Tennessee.

He was a member of the Donelson View Baptist Church.

He had visited relatives in Wellington many times since then.

He is survived by his wife, Grace Gardner, Donelson; two sons, Bill Gardner, Portland and Dale Gardner, Nashville; three daughters, Mrs. Helen Ellis and Mrs. Gale Wells, Donelson and Mrs. Janie Tuckness, San Angelo; one brother, Floyd Gardner, Grants Pass, Oregon; three sisters, Mrs. Ruby Sanders and Mrs. Ethel Littleton, Wellington and Mrs. Vertie Saunders, Dallas, and 13 grandchildren.

A daughter, Mrs. Jo Greer of Eugene, Oregon died 7 years ago.

Jean Reynolds, James Shepard and Owens.

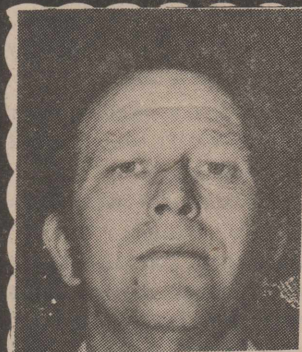

Outgoing directors are Mrs. Frances Holland and Lyman Daniel. Mrs. Margaret Vines is executive secretary and Bill Beall the Wellington director of West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

County Benefits From Road Fund Restoration

AUSTIN -- The State Legislature has approved a measure restoring a state grant program to county governments to aid in the construction and maintenance of county roads. The program will give counties more than $24 million in fiscal year 1982.

Collingsworth County will receive $56,538.15 from this fund, Judge Bob Watson was informed.

This measure was sponsored in the House by Representative Foster Whaley, Pampa, of the 66th District, and Bill Heatley, Jr. Paducah, 101st District.

Bill Sarpalis, freshman senator from the 31st Senatorial District, was a co-author of the Bill in that body.

Lateral Road Funds, which will go in County Road and Bridge Funds, were discontinued three years ago.

The program, commonly known as the lateral road program, was abolished by the provisions of the Texas Sunset Act on Sept. 1, 1979, according to Garza County Judge Giles Dalby, president of the County Judges and Commissioners Association of Texas.

"The reenactment of this program will significantly help dozens of Texas counties, which faced the possibility of local aid valorem tax increases without this program," Dalby said. The grant program will particularly benefit counties without an industrial or oil tax base, he added.

Dalby explained that since 1951, Texas tax statutes have directed the State Comptroller to credit the County and Road District Highway Fund in the state treasury with $7.3 million annually from motor fuels tax receipts. Another statute directed the Board of County and District Road Indebtedness to distribute moneys appropriated by the Legislature from this fund to every county in the state, he added.

In 1979, however, the Board was "sunsetted" and the statute authorizing the distribution of the fund moneys was automatically repealed by virtue of the Sunset Act, explained Sam Clonts, executive director of the Texas Association of Counties.

Nevertheless, Clonts said, the Comptroller was still depositing more than $608,000 every month into the road fund, even though no agency was authorized to distribute or spend the money.

The bill, Senate Bill 151, which cleared the House of Representatives on a final vote on February 26, was authored by Sen. Ray Farabee (D-Wichita Falls). It was carried in the House by Rep. W.S. "Bill" Heatley (D-Paducah), dean of the House of Representatives. Gov. William P. Clements, Jr., had earlier designated the measure as emergency legislation.

Dalby said the legislation would correct the problem by designating the state treasurer as the agent to distribute moneys appropriated by the Legislature from the fund to aid county road programs.

The west Texas county judge also noted that the bill appropriates the money which had been credited to the fund since September 1979, together with its accumulated interest, along with the $7.3 million, representing the fiscal 1982 fund allocation, to the state treasurer for distribution to the counties in fiscal 1982. Some $24 million will be distributed.

Dalby added that the treasurer is required to disburse the $24.1 million to the counties on or before October 15, 1981.

Money for counties in subsequent years must be appropriated in the Legislature's General Appropriations Act every two years, according to Clonts. He added that $7.3 million would be available for this purpose annually under present law.

The approved bill now goes to Gov. Clements. The governor has stated he will sign the new measure into law when it reaches his office.

Armed Robbery Charges Filed

A man wanted for armed robbery in Gray County was arrested by Patrolman Herb Duncan Thursday, February 26, one-half mile north of Lutie.

Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell and members of his department arrived within a few minutes after the man was stopped. He offered no resistance.

The man, identified as Michael William Hardgrove 26, of Wewoka, Oklahoma, was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Beatrice McKinney on charges of armed robbery and attempted murder. Bond was set at $50,000 on each charge and the man was held in county jail until he could be picked up by Gray county officers.

Sheriff Maxwell gave this account of the incident:

Hardgrove, who was hitchhiking, was picked up in California by Timothy Clifford Wilbur, 22, of Santa Ana, California. Near McLean, traveling east on I-40 in a rented truck, Hardgrove was driving when he pulled Wilbur's revolver out of the door pocket, robbed him of an estimated $140, kicked him out of the truck, and as he lay on the ground fired tree shots at him.

At about this time, the men turned off of I-40 into FM 3143 (the Abra Road).

Wilbur made his way to McLean and notified officers, according to Maxwell.

As the shooting took place near the point where Gray, Donley and Collingsworth Counties come together, officers had to determine which county would have jurisdiction. Wilbur took officers to the spot and it was found to be in Gray County.

Judge Revokes Two Probations

District Judge Robert Montgomery revoked the probation of two Wellington men during a 100th District Court session Wednesday, February 25. A third man was given a 5-year probated sentence.

Both were remanded to the Texas Department of Corrections to serve their original sentences.

Joe Angel Garcia was sentenced to serve two years on an original conviction of assault on a peace officer, Deputy Sheriff Billy Gilbert, May 12, 1980.

Testifying for the state was Adult Probation Officer Bill Kesterson of Memphis.

Garcia will receive no credit for the time he was on probation, but will serve the two year sentence, less any time that he might accumulate for good behavior. He waived the 10-day period before sentencing.

The probation of Lorenzo Buckner was revoked after he was convicted on a charge of burglary of a motor vehicle which belonged to Julian Torrez, Sr., in which a rifle was taken.

He was serving a 5-year probated sentence on an original charge of burglary, for which he was convicted January 21, 1980, according to McCoy.

Judge Montgomery set formal sentencing for March 10.

Witnesses for the state were Kesterson, Torrez, Judy Moore and Chief Deputy Ray Akemon. Buckner testified in his own behalf.

Arturo Rodriguez received a 5-year probated sentence on a guilty plea to forgery of a check.

One of the provisions of the probation was that he make restitution in the amount of $242.72 to Jessie Rivera, to whom the check belonged. An attempt was made to cash the check at Owens and Scott Thriftway.

All issues in the case were stipulated, McCoy said.

The busts of Mount Rushmore can be seen from 60 miles away.

The body's muscles make up about 40 percent of its weight.

Ex-Students Hold Benefit Dance Mar. 13

The Wellington Ex-Students Association will hold a benefit dance Friday, March 13 at the Bura Handley Community Center.

All proceeds will go into the operation fund of the Ex-Students Association, association president Jerry Manuel said this week.

The Red River Band will play from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. Admission will be $3.00 per person.

"We're hoping to raise enough money to assure the continuation of the Ex-Students Association," Manuel said.

Ex-Students directors will meet Friday, March 6 at 7:30 p.m. at Greenbelt Directors Room, Manuel said.

The annual Ex-Students Reunion is scheduled for August 1, 1981.

I Saw... by Virginia Robey

David and Trudie Peters were in San Antonio last week to visit Grover Pettitt, who formerly ran the Marella Store. He is 91 years old, still lives alone, and sent greetings to all the people he knew in Collingsworth County. He also said he enjoyed the Wellington Leader and read everything in it, "even the want ads to be sure he didn't miss anything."

His daughter and son-in-law, Juanita and Bob Monroe also live in San Antonio, and down from Oklahoma City to visit were his son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Pettitt.

Joe Deger of Dallas drove up with Chamber of Commerce banquet speaker Lee Herring. He got to visit with friends and with his mother Oleta and Melvin Seale. Doris Crandall of Amarillo formerly of Dozier, is this year's contest chairman for the annual article contest of Panhandle Pen Women. Articles will be accepted until April 1.

Entries may be on any subject, must be original, unpublished manuscripts of 2800 words or less. They must be typewritten, double spaced, on one side of 8 1/2 x 11 white paper. The writer's full name and address should appear on a cover sheet, with no identifying marks on them. There is a fee of $5 judging for non-members. The major criterion used in judging is the saleability of the manuscript.

If you want more information, write Doris at 2303 Victoria Street, Amarillo, 79106.
