Dodson Community Building Under Way

Construction on the new Dodson community building-city hall-fire department is under way and completion is due shortly, Mayor Thurman Crownover announced.

Located in downtown Dodson, the new building will be paid for in cash. While the final figure is not in, the cost will be approximately $25,000, Crownover said.

The location is immediately west of Nellie Roberson's Cafe. The structural steel building will be 42' x 60'.

The exterior will be light tan with dark brown roof, while the interior walls and ceiling will be white. Floors are concrete which may be covered with tile or other floor covering later.

The building will include a city hall fully equipped kitchen, two rest rooms, and the remainder of the building will be in one large room which can be used for gatherings of many types.

Co. Endowment Begins Work

The Collingsworth County Endowment began official operations Thursday, May 2 at an organizational luncheon for a 7-member local governing board and representatives of the Amarillo Area Foundation.

The Endowment will be a permanent fund, and its income each year will be used to fund local projects and programs.

The Endowment was legally organized by the Amarillo Area Foundation several months ago, but details for it have just recently been completed.

The Endowment will be available to receive contributions for occasions such as memorials, special recognition of an individual, birthdays or for whatever occasion a donor may desire.

The donor may specify the cause or group which will benefit from the income from the donation, such as a local church, a scholarship fund for local high school graduates, the local hospital, the local schools, Boy or Girl Scouts, the cemetery association, or any other activity or organization in Collingsworth County. Or the donor may contribute unrestricted funds that will be used in future years as various needs arise in the community.

The Collingsworth County Endowment will be a permanent fund in conjunction with other permanent funds already established by the Amarillo Area Foundation. The name of each endowment encompasses the area being served, such as the "Moore County Endowment" or "Deaf Smith County Endowment."

Money received by the Collingsworth County Endowment will stay on deposit with local banks.

The interest received from the deposits each year will be the funds that are available for distribution to local organizations.

All tax reports, accounting and paperwork involved in operation of the Endowment will be handled by the Amarillo Area Foundation.

The local governing board will have responsibility for reviewing requests from local organizations and determining grants from the unrestricted portions of the Endowment.

The Endowment is also organized to accept gifts other than cash such as life insurance policies, stock, bonds, livestock, farm or ranch land or other real estate. As with cash gifts, the income each year from any such donation will be used to fund local charitable activities.

The Amarillo Area Foundation was organized in 1957 primarily to help develop the Amarillo Medical Center. As the Medical Center has grown, other entities have begun to take over some of the responsibility for the Medical Center that

Widowed Self-Help Group Organizing

The Wellington chapter of an international network of widowed men and women will hold its first public meeting Tuesday, May 14 at 7:30 p.m. at the Fellowship Hall of First United Methodist Church.

Larry Adams is heading formation of this chapter of THEOS, a mutual self-help group which has provided a supportive, educational and non-sectarian spiritual program for the widowed in the United States and Canada since 1962.

Founded on the principle that widowed persons can communicate most sensitively with other widowed persons, THEOS develops programs and provides services which help participants through their immediate grief and guide them in coping with the day-to-day practical concerns of widowhood.

The THEOS name, a registered trademark, stands for "They Help Each Other Spiritually".

In addition to regular monthly meetings of local chapters, THEOS conducte regional conferences, links up individuals for mutual support and publishes a monthly magazine and pamphlets dealing with grief, widowhood and related topics.

For further information about the local chapter and its activities, call Larry Adams at 447-2506.

Independent Bankshares Faces Hostile Takeover

Independent Bankshares, Inc., officials say they will combat a possible hostile takeover bid from one of their bank's former directors. IBSI is the parent company of Wellington State Bank.

Michael Stinson, a Fort Worth investor who resigned from the Independent Bankshares board recently, has filed notice of a possible hostile tender offer with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

No official tender had been put out by Tuesday, May 7, no official offer had been made.

Stinson was named to the IBSI board when two banks he controlled, Wellington State Bank of Wellington and First National Bank of Stamford, merged with IBSI in January 1984, according to a wire service story from Abilene IBSI headquarters.

Stinson also was named an advisory director of First State Bank of Abilene, the largest bank of the holding company.

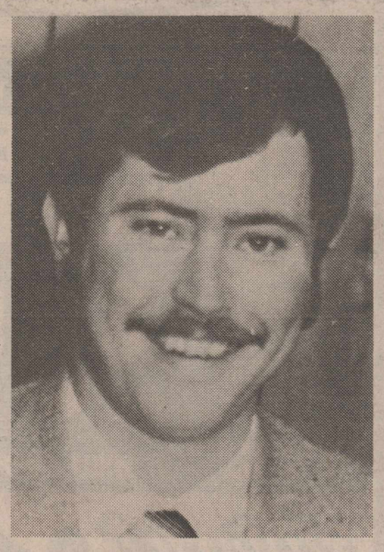

Stinson has 267,456 common shares or 5.8 percent of the outstanding shares, in the holding company.

According to the AP story, Stinson said he is making the move because he thinks "the stock is underpriced, and it's a good buy, and we're moving ahead." He did not say when a tender offer might be made or what the price might be. He did say he has hired the New York firm of Donaldson, Lufkin, Jenrette Securities Corp. to help him arrange it.

ISBI board chairman John Wright said his firm hasn't studied Stinson's filing with the SEC and declined further comment on it.

Abilene based Independent Bankshares is the parent company for several West Texas banks, including the flagship bank, First State of Abilene and Wellington State. Others are First State Bank of Wylie, First National Bank of Stamford, Muleshoe State Bank, Security State Bank of Littlefield, Olton State Bank and First State Bank of Odessa.

At year end 1984, the combined assets of these banks was $862,500,000, and combined deposits were $726.000.000 plus.

DURK GREEN

Durk Green New Farm Bureau Agency Manager

Directors of Collingsworth County Farm Bureau have named Durk Green, 28, as Farm Bureau Agency manager, Lynn Emmert, president, announced Monday, May 6. He comes here from Muleshoe.

Green was at the Wellington office Monday through Wednesday, then left Thursday for Dallas to attend a meeting of Texas Farm Bureau agents.

He and his wife, Sheryl, will move to Wellington as soon as they find a house.

Green joined Bailey County Farm Bureau May 1, 1978 and was a member of the Life Underwriter Training Council (LUTC) in that office, specializing in the home and family insurance market.

As Farm Bureau offers multi-line insurance, Green's sales covered life, auto, home and crop policies.

Green's achievements were reflected in the honors he won at Muleshoe. He was a member of the Million Dollar Club each year he was with Bailey County FB. He also won a place in the Family Security Club two years and for three years he was picked for All-Star.

Green comes here after 7 years of service to a county that, like Collingsworth, is wholly agricultural.

Horton Given World War II Medals

Forty years after he was discharged from the U.S. Army following the World War II, and 46 years after his National Guard unit was called up for active duty, Raymond Horton has been awarded 5 medals for heroic action in World War II.

His Good Conduct Medal is due to arrive within the next 120 days. He received the Purple Heart, for those men who are wounded in action, many years ago.

The five which Horton has received are:

-The Limited Service Medal, for the limited service period called by President Roosevelt in September 1939.

-The Bronze Star Medal for Heroic, Meritorious Achievement.

-The Oak Leaf Cluster and Battle Stars for action in the European, African and Middle Eastern Campaign, 1941-1945.

-The American Campaign Medal, 1941-1945.

-The Victory in World War II Medal, the Gold Button for service from Sept. 8, 1939. The medals were received from Lt. Col. Stephen C. Engelking, assistant adjutant general.

Horton does not know the specific incidents which some of the medals represent, for he was wounded in the action at Alta Villa, Italy and spent the next three years in Army Hospitals in Europe and the United States.

He believes there may be a relation to his saving the life of Harley R. Brucker, now of Cleveland, Ohio, who was burned when a field kitchen blew up. At another time, he saved the live of a man swimming near a beach, who was being pulled by an undertow.

Horton, then a private first class, was a member of Company B, 142 Infantry, 36th Division, a national guard unit from Coleman, which was called up for active duty, in 1939. It had approximately 200 members. Only about 50 returned, Horton says.

The first contact with the enemy came at Oran Africa, when the company was straffed by German units.

Horton was with the unit when it made its initial landing on the beachhead at Salerno, Italy, the Divison lost half its men, dead or wounded, on Salerno Beach, Horton remembers. He was with those who made it through the beachhead and on to Alta Villa, a town the United States forces captured three times.

"We were told not to shell the church at Alta Villa, and it was not until we blew the crown off the church that we saw the German Command Post. Then we c aptured the town," Horton said.

Horton blames an action of the commander of the British Fleet for the loss at Salerno. This officer, says Horton, told the men that Italy had surrendered, there would be no trouble landing at Salerno, and the beach should not be shelled, according to Horton.

It was true Italy had surrendered the day before, but when the 36th Division reached the beachhead, they were met by German troops who had not withdrawn.

Horton was wounded at Alta Villa, and hospitalized first at field hospitals in Italy.

His commanding officer, Capt. Dewey Man of Nitro W. Va. called him the worst wounded man I ever saw. When he came looking for Horton at the hospital he could not locate him, until he learned that in the three months since he was wounded, his hair had greyed. His commanding officer had not recognized him.

Horton was a Bugler for the 8 years of his National Guard and Army service. His original bugle was that from Co. B, in World War I. He was not permitted to take it overseas in World War II--the sun could reflect from its bright surface, altering the enemy. The bugle was returned to him after Peace, and four years ago he was designated the official guardian of this bugle, to care for it the rest of his life.

Upon his discharge from the Army, Horton came to Wellington to live with his sister and brother-in-law, Willie B. and Ernest Harwell. Six days later he bought a taxi from Tom Bryant and began operating it.

Later, he also served as justice of the peace for Precinct 1 from 1951 to 1963.

He married Faye Bullington here, and they have two children, Ray Horton, Jr. of Denver, Colo., and Tanya Embry of Austin.

Kevin Needham a FB career agent who has been with the Collingsworth County office the last year, will continue to work in that capacity. Needham is a life-long Wellington resident and a graduate of Wellington High School.

Before joining Bailey County FB, Green, a professional photographer, spent 7 years doing free lance work in Amarillo, with a specialty in rodeo photography. An outdoorsman, his hobbies are hunting and fishing. He is a native of Littlefield and is the son of Don and Joannah Gartin of Muleshoe.

Green is married to the former Sheryl Shaw whose home town is Melrose, N.M. She has resigned from Southwestern Public Service Company at Clovis, N.M., where she was order clerk and cashier 8 years. This SPS office serves both in town and rural with both electricity and water. Her hobby is the study of art.

Green has two children, Dustin 5, and Ashley 2, who live in Plainview.

High blood pressure is listed as the primary cause of death for 60,000 people each year.

truck will be stored there when the room is not in use, Crownover said.

Morton Builders of Clinton, Okla. is putting up the building and furnishing materials. Hartman Electric of Wellington is doing the electrical wiring.

The City of Dodson has been putting aside money for the building for between 10 and 15 years, Crownover reported. "We haven't spent much money in a long time."

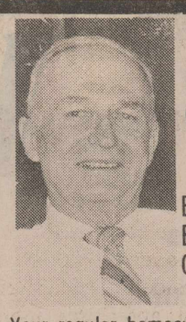

Chairs will be purchased for the community building portion of the structure. The City of Dodson last year received a Community Development Grant which was secured specifically to update the city's water system. No part of the grant money goes into the community building, and the two projects are not related, the mayor said.

The water updating project, which will include several new water wells on the city's water farm will start in about 30 days.

Dodson Ex-students Association opened a fund in 1981 to be used to help provide a meeting place for the reunion. It has grown each year, and the size of the ex-student crowds for the last two years have made it urgent that some place be provided before the 1986 reunion.

The ex-student fund has grown to nearly $4,000 and donations are still being accepted. This will go for tables, chairs, and many other needed items.

Working with Mayor Crownover on both the community building and the water updating are Councilmen Red Riddle, Olan Farris, Rayburn Hightower, Julian Castillo, and Tommy Hightower and City Secretary Howard Hunt.

Dear Friend:

We would like to invite you to attend a very special meeting for the purpose of organizing and developing a THEOS chapter to serve the Wellington area.

THEOS is an organization designed to support widowed persons as they move through the various stages of grief, and to assist them with the problems and conflicts that a death creates.

THEOS is unique in that it devotes itself to the problems of the living; to those who are left behind. It provides both an opportunity for sharing concerns with others who have experienced the death of a spouse, and a format for programs designed to provide practical information for dealing with the day to day problems faced by the widowed.

Membership in a THEOS chapter is two-fold. First are newly widowed persons who are struggling with the confusions and frustrations of widowhood. Second are individuals who have made the necessary adjustments, and worked through the grief cycle. Each group is essential to the successful development of THEOS. It is through mutual support and the sharing of experiences that a true ministry emerges. We urge you to attend this meeting and consider becoming a part of a truly unique, non-denominational ministry.

Garden Club Hears Program On Problems to Environment

Wellington Garden club members met Wednesday, May 1, when it was announced that the yard of the Month for May is that of Mr. and Mrs. W.O. Vaughan.

Mrs. Silas Crawford and Mrs. Clinton DeArmond were hostesses and Mrs. Joe Terry presided.

The club announced its donation to "Save the Lady" a nation-wide project to help fund repairs on the Statue of Liberty.

Mrs. Charles Cason presented the program, "People and Their Environment." She listed hazardous waste disposal as one of national proportions that effects every individual, and for which there is no simple solution. She urged that each member give serious thought to this.

Individual actions which damage the environment include dumping trash and household waste, spraying insects with chemicals hazardous to the environment. "We all must study the complex issue and work together to achieve solutions," said Mrs. Cason.

The collect was led by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, and Roll call by Mrs. Charles Cason, when members told where they displayed their iris in the recent annual irish showing. Mrs. Bartlett reported on the yard of the month.

Plants were bought by members to be exchanged.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Bartlett, Mrs. Claude Caison, Mrs. Charles Cason, Mrs. Ray Clubb, Mrs. Chester Fires, Mrs. W.F. Harbin, Mrs. H.L. Jenkins, Mrs. Terry, Mrs. Wood, Mrs. Deloyce Savage and the hostesses, Mrs. Crawford and Mrs. DeArmond.

The highest altitude at which any flowering plants have been found is 21,000 feet on Kamet, India. The flowers were Ermantia himalayensis Ranunculus lobatus.

Teresa New discussed, "Taking Care of the Temple." She spoke of skin care, exercise and hair care.

The final speaker was Lynn Kreger who told of "Enhancing Beauty." Her portion of the program covered make-up techniques.

Each woman present was given the opportunity to be draped so she might learn what "season" she was and in what colors she looked her best.

Those attending were Mary Bearden, Rebecca Long, Ruby Bearden, Nell Wilbur, Elaina Barton, Kay Feemster, Joline Wilson, Donna Maxwell, Lesa Wadley, Bertha DeVoss, Willie Wade, Rosemary Foster, Lameda Black, Rubye Hodges,

Spur of the Moment

Seems like every time we feel like cheering Senator Bill Sarpalius for something he's done right in the Legislative arena, we listen one paragraph too long to his explanations of why he did it and get turned off.

That was the case with the Senator's legislation a few days ago to block the federal Department of Energy proposal to create a nuclear waste dump in the Texas Panhandle. We are strongly opposed, as Senator Sarpalius says he is, to the creation of nuclear waste dump in Deaf Smith County underneath the Ogalalla reservoir which supplies our ground water throughout this region, for reasons which have to do with the health and welfare of our whole region. And we agree that the Texas Legislature has an obligation to the people of our section of the State to block this development.

Senate Concurrent Resolution 76, sponsored by Sarpalius, creates a legislative committee to study nuclear waste issues and create strict regulations which would restrict DOE activities in Texas. That's good.

But then Senator Sarpalius describes the methods which he proposes to use to block creation of the Nuke dump in the Panhandle, and all at once we are playing games.

"What we're going to do is beat the federal government at its own game" Sarpalius says, "The committee's going to try to come up with ways to increase the bureaucratic red tape DOE must go through to build a repository in the state. If we can't stop DOE outright, we want to make sure that department gets awful frustrated while it's in Texas."

Sarpalius points out that the committee's work would be no cost to the state. Federal funds are provided to Texas for oversight of DOE ac tivities, and part of that money would be used to pay for the committee's work. And where does the Senator think that federal money comes from? The sugarplum tree?

We are impressed, but not very favorably, with this statesmanlike approach to a problem which has the gravest implications for our people. If we can't stop 'em, the Senator is saying, we'll kick their shins and make em use some more of our money for band-aids! There are many compelling reasons for stopping the dumping of nuclear waste, here and elsewhere...but game-playing is not the way to do it.

STATE REPRESENTATIVE FOSTER WHALEY

capitol comment

May 2, 1985

State Representative David Cain, formerly of Pampa, passed a bill by a vote of 102-40 in the House this week which repealed almost all of the provisions of the Blue Law that was passed 25 years ago. The sale of automobiles is the only item which would still be prohibited on Sundays. Ban on the sale of the other 41 items will be abolished if the Senate concurs. A number of amendments were offered but Cain skillfully beat back any attempts to change his bill. Should the Senate pass the bill by a similar margin and the Governor signs the bill, it could take immediate effect. At one time, many of the states has Blue Laws. Only 14 states presently have them. Polls from one end of the state to the other showed 60-80 percent of the population favored repeal of the Blue Law.

At this writing Senate Bill 1396, authored by Sen Tati Santiesteban (D-El Paso), is being heard before the Senate Natural Resources Committee. This committee is composed of Senators Lindon Williams, Houston; Buster Brown, Lake Jackson; Glenn Kothmann, San Antonio; Cynthia Brier, San Antonio; Ted Lyons, Mesquite; John Montford, Lubbock; Bill Sarpalius, Canyon; Bill Sims, San Angelo; Carlos Truan, Corpus Christi and Hector Uribe of Brownsville.

The bill takes up about one-half of a page of paper. The substance of the bill is one sentence which states, "Casinghead gas means all gas produced from a common reservoir, as determined by the Commission, from a well classified by the Commission as an oil well". Millions of dollars are being spent for legal and lobby work by the major oil companies on one side and the independent oil operators on the other in their efforts to defeat or pass the bill.

Comptroller Bob Bullock dropped another blockbuster last week when he indicated the controversy in the Panhandle could cost the state in severance taxes as much as $100 million if the independents lose the battle. Battle lines are being drawn and lobbyists are tripping over one another. One lobbyist, hired by the independents, withdrew after the third day when he found out he already had a client on the other side. This could turn out to be the biggest battle of the 69th Legislature. The severance tax loss sent chills up and down the spine of every legislator. The companion bill to Senate Bill 1396 is being carried by Speaker Pro Tem Hugo Berlanga (D-Corpus Christi).

The outcome of this battle could affect every 10-acre-spaced-well in Texas, even though the battle began in the Panhandle where the oil and gas rights are owned by separate parties.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — The surprising Texas Legislature last week departed its humdrum style and set off on a course of adventure, advancing horse and dog race gambling, alimony, and the Texas Water Plan.

The House of Representatives partially butchered a sacred cow with an overwhelming vote to repeal the Texas blue laws.

Amid the legislative activities, two senators scuffled during a filibuster, a House member went on trial for influence peddling, and rumors circulated that former Democratic congressman Kent Hance would jump political parties to run against Gov. Mark White.

All this from a Legislature some have called boring.

Meanwhile, the Senate Finance Committee approved a $6 increase in the Texas driver's license fee and to tax long distance phone calls within Texas, a measure that would bring more than $42 million to state coffers depleted by the dwindling price of domestic oil.

Parimutuel Gambling

The parimutuel gambling issue, pronounced dead a few weeks ago by the House leadership, was revived by a Senate committee which also approved greyhound racing for Texas.

The Senate version returns the compromises forged in '83 and omitted this session, leading to a stunning defeat in the House earlier this spring.

The bill calls for a November referendum on betting on horse and dog races, with county option elections required later. The state's share, almost $30 million over the next two years, will fund welfare, local parks, agriculture and water assistance.

New Alimony

The full Senate voted to bring limited alimony payments to Texas, the only state not allowing such divorce payments.

The proposed law adds a new twist, alimony payments collected by men. Other provisions hold payments at $1500 a month and only in marriages which had lasted 10 years or more and where a hardship is proved.

Except in special cases, the court would presume that alimony could not be ordered for more than three years.

Blue Law Repeal

Finally, after years of trying, advocates of the Texas blue law repeal won a stunning victory in the House, a 102-40 decision to scrap the ban on selling certain merchandise on consecutive weekend days.

If the House version passes the Senate, the ban would continue only for car dealers.

Proponents argued that today's two-paycheck families needed Sunday shopping time as an alternative.

Filibuster, Scuffle

The Gulf shrimping industry won a Senate victory over bay shrimpers, despite a 20-hour filibuster by opponents that collapsed only just before dawn.

The bill tightening regulation of bay shrimpers will probably be known more for the tempers provoked by the filibuster around midnight.

When one of the filibustering senators, Carl Parker of Port Arthur, responded patronizingly to an interruption by Hugh Parmer of Fort Worth, Parmer reacted with a remark alluding to the cocaine and pornography indictments Parker is facing back home in Jefferson County.

Parker invited Parmer to the back hall where the scuffle occurred, reportedly throwing Parmer against the wall and knocking off his glasses. Another senator intervened, and they returned to the chamber, where Parmer apologized on the floor and to Parker personally.

Bribery Trial Set

The incident highlights the legal problems of the Port Arthur delegation, where both the state senator and representative face trial on unrelated charges.

Last week a jury was seated in the bribery trial of State Rep. Frank Collazo, who is accused of asking for a partnership in two area businesses in exchange for his promise to influence state boards.

The initial local governing board is composed of seven Collingsworth County citizens: Louise Cox, Charles Michael, Frances Schmidt, Louis Graham, Nadine Birchfield, Henry Wells, and Bill Spillman.

Amarillo Area Foundation representatives who attended the May 2 organizational meeting were John Bingham and Jim Matthews.

"The Amarillo Area Foundation brings together a spirit of sharing and caring that has always been a vital part of panhandle people," Bingham said. "We're excited about the possibilities the new Endowment holds for the people of Collingsworth County, and we're ready to assist in any way possible to help the community further its goals."

If anyone has questions about the Endowment, they may contact local governing board members or they may call Bingham or Matthews at the Amarillo Area Foundation, 806/376-4521.

Students Needed for Defensive Driving Course

Collingsworth Chamber of Commerce will sponsor a defensive driving course in Wellington if there is enough interest, according to an announcement made this week.

Mrs. Farris Wood, who is also working to secure the course, said that approximately 20 persons will be needed.

This will be an 8-hour course, tentatively set on two consecutive evenings.

One of the advantages, she pointed out, is that those who successfully complete the course will be eligible for a reduction in car insurance costs, although the course must be repeated each three years if the lower rate is to be maintained.

Those interested in taking a defensive driving course should contact Margaret Vines at the Chamber of Commerce office.

The course will be taught by a member of the Department of Public Safety.

Classes Visit SOAARR Rehab Ranch at Lugert

BY WANDA CARDWELL

Clarendon College sociology classes taught in Wellington visited the Southwest Oklahoma Adolescent Addiction Rehabilitation Ranch at Lake Lugert near Lone Wolf and Mangum recently.

Jack Clements of Reed, Okla. is the director of the private organization.

Invididuals who have drug problems and who are between 13 and 21 years of age, both boys and girls, are accepted at SOAARR. The youths pay on a sliding scale. The organization is only three years old.

A sociologist and other employees work at SOAARR where William Glasser's reality therapy is practiced with the youths.

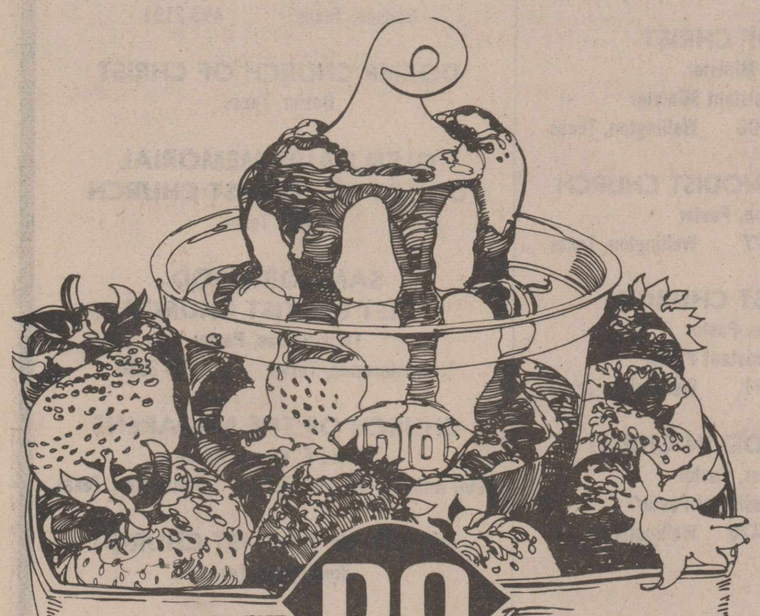

These young people have a teacher who comes to SOAARR each week day to instruct them. They do all their own cooking and cleaning. There are two dorms, one for boys and the other for girls.

This organization has a high success rate. The minimum length one may stay at SOAARR is 6 months, while the maximum time is two years.

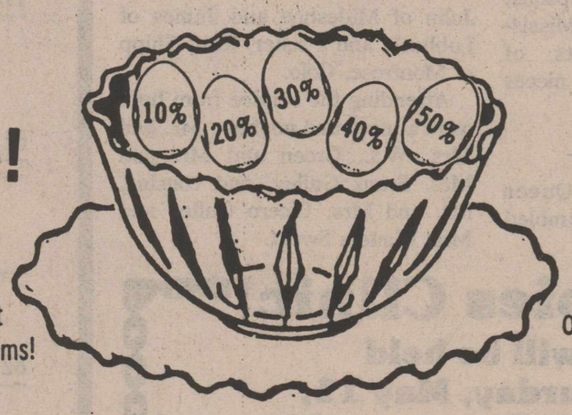

The sociology class members visited with the boys and girls for about two hours. They said they began taking illegal drugs betwen ages of 10 and 13. They also told of some of the problems they had in their community.

"Teach me thy way, O LORD, and LEAD ME IN A PLAIN PATH..."

How beautiful are the paths and wagon trails. The gate is open and the pathway clearly marked. Many such trails are rapidly becoming memories as super highways take their place. It is good to know that God's way is still the same and will never change . . . for "God's word will endure forever." His love is clearly defined and his ways are well marked. Depend on the Lord to direct you each day. Attend church each Sunday and worship the Lord in his holy temple.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH ..... THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

LITERACY VOLUNTEERS

Judy Williams and Beverly McMahan, at left, of Amarillo conducted the literacy workshop for Wellington women volunteering to instruct those who cannot read and write English. At back are Ruby Williams, Mrs. Rodney Myrick and Mrs. Frank Granados. Front row: Mrs. Don Reeves and Mrs. S.L. Yeilding.

11 Complete Literacy Workshop

Eleven Collingsworth women completed the literacy workshop held Friday and Saturday, March 29 and 30, and qualified to become tutors of those who cannot read or write English, but who want to learn.

The trainers were Judy Williams and Beverly McHahan from the Amarillo Area Adult Literacy Council.

Tutors purchased their own materials to use in teaching.

Some of the group plan to tutor on a one-and-one basis, others will assist teachers in the classroom.

Additional funding is needed for student workbooks, explained Mrs. Rodney Myrick.

The Laubach method of teaching reading was used. This method, has been used with much success in many parts of the World, especially in the emerging nations, for a long period of years.

Mrs. Myrick explained that both tutor and student use a series of four books, and upon completion of the fourth book, a student will have reached the fifth grade reading level. As soon as possible, thereafter, the student is encouraged to take the GED test. This process will require one to two years, depending on the ability of the beginning student and the rate of progress.

The tutors trained in the workshop can begin immediately using their training to teach a non-reader one-to-one on a regular scheduel.

Those completing the workshop and receiving Laubach Literacy Action Tutor Certificates were Mrs. Boyd Derryberry, Mrs. Myrick, Mrs. Don Reeves, Mrs. S.L. Yeilding, Ruby Williams, Mrs. Frank Granados, Mrs. Ruth Norman, Mrs. Tommy Powell, Mrs. Juana Hernandez, Rita Lowrie and Mrs. John R. Henard.

They will receive monthly information from the Amarillo Area Adult Literacy Council.

The Amarillo trainer said video cassettes are available in Amarillo College Library with this training for anyone wanting to stop by any day or evening to view them.

The trainers said they were encouraged by this workshop as it is the first offered of this nature outside of Amarillo in a two-day session.

They said they will return to Wellington for another workshop if there is enough interest.

The workshop was sponsored by the GFWC 1924 Study Club, which has taken this as its community improvement project.

Soil Stewardship Week Slated For May 12-19

Soil Stewardship Week is May 12-19, and its purpose is to call greater attention to soil and water conservation.

Theme of this year's nationwide observance is "Tomorrow Together."

This year's theme focuses on human survival, which is dependent on other living things, such as grasses and grain, fishes and birds, and wild and domestic animals, as well as on soil and water.

The Extension Service is joining the Association of Texas Soil and Water Conservation Districts and the State Board plus the Soil Conservation Service and others in this weeklong observance, which was begun in 1955.

1985 is the 50th anniversary of the state and federal agencies established during the "Dirty '30s" to combat erosion, notes Harris. During that Dust Bowl era, local soil and water conservation districts, the State Soil and Water Conservation Board, the Soil Conservation Service, the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and other units of government were founded to improve the delivery of soil conservation information and techniques to farmers and ranchers.

Now that job has expanded to include work with urban and suburban citizens in protecting construction sites, school yards, shorelines and parks from erosion. Efforts are also made to clean up the nation's waters,

"We must all make a commitment to protect our natural resources, for it is from them that we reap the food and fiber that enable our very existence," emphasizes Harris.

"We must accept primary responsiblity as caretakers of God's earth," adds the specialist. "We are prepared to eat the fruit, but often we leave the task of caring for the land to a handful of people who sincerely care about perpetuating our forests, preserving our rivers and renewing the topsoil."

Harris emphaizes that there is no time like the present to join the common commitment to soil and water conservation.

A chip of silicon a quarter of an inch square has the capacity of the original 1949 ENIAC computer, which occupied a city block.

CARD OF THANKS

May we express our sincere appreciation to each of you for the sympathy extended us at the passing of our loved one.

We are especially grateful to Dr. Holcomb, Rev. Tom Thomson, the hospital and Thomas Nursing Home staff, Larry Adams and to all those who sent flowers or brought food, the ladies who served dinner at the church, and to everyone who in any way sought to bring us a measure of consolation.

May God bless each of you.
The Family of Mary Plunkett

Dear Friends,

We wish to thank Dr. Holcomb, Collingsworth General Hospital and their employees and the Volunteer Ambulance department, especially Jimmy Barber, Fraya Hammons and Denise Wilbur. Your love and care were greatly appreciated.

PUBLIC NOTICE

COMBINE NOTICE

NOTICE TO PUBLIC OF NO SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE ENVIRONMENT AND NOTICE OF INTENT TO REQUEST RELEASE OF FUNDS

DATE/ May 9, 1985

NAME OF CONTRACTOR: City of Dodson, P.O. Box 428, Dodson, Texas 79230, (806) 493-2261.

TO ALL INTERESTED AGENCIES, GROUPS AND PERSONS:

On or about May 27, 1985, the above named municipality will request the Community Development Block Grant Program to release federal funds under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended, for the following amended project:

Project Title: City of Dodson - Water System Improvements

Purpose: The addition of a water well and improvements to the existing water system of the City of Dodson to provide an adequate water system for the city's residents.

Location: City of Dodson, Collingsworth County, Texas

Enumeration District/Census Tract: ED-430

Finding of no Significant Impact

It has been determined that such request for release of funds will not constitute an action significantly affecting the quality of the human environment in the project area and accordingly the above named municipality has decided not to prepare an Environmental Impact Statement under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969.

The reasons for such decision not to prepare such statement are as follows:

The addition of a water well and the improvements to the system will considerably upgrade the water system of the City of Dodson. The overall impact is beneficial. The project is not an action that will significantly affect the quality of the environment.

An environmental assessment respecting the within project has been made by the above named municipality which documents the environmental review of the project and more fully sets forth the reasons why such statement is not required. The environmental assessment is on file at the above address and is available for public examination and copying upon request at the Coop Office, Dodson, Texas, between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m.

Public Comments on Finding

All interested agencies, groups, and persons disagreeing with this decision are invited to submit written comments for consideration by the municipality to the office of the undersigned. Such written comments should be received at the address specified on or before May 24, 1985. All such comments so received will be considered, and the municipality will not request a release of federal funds or take any administrative action on the within project prior to the date specified in the preceding sentence.

Release of Funds

The City of Dodson will undertake the project described above with Community Development Program funds from the Department of Community Affairs under Title I of the Housing and Community Development Act of 1974, as amended. Thurman Crownover as certifying officer of contractor approved by the Texas Department of Community Affairs in his official capacity as Mayor consents to accept the jurisdiction of the federal court if an action is brought to enforce responsbilities in relation to environmental assessment's decision making and action; and that these re sponsbilities have been satisfied. The legal affect of the certrification is that upon its approval the City of Dodson may use the Texas Community Development Program funds and Texas Department of Community Affairs will have set aside its re sponsibility under the National Environmental Policy Act of 1969, and 24 CFR, Part 58.

Objections to State Release of Funds

The Texas Department of Community Affairs will accept an objection to its approval only if it is on one of the following basis: (a) that the certification was not in fact executed by the certifying officer or other officer of contractor approved by Texas Department of Community Affairs; or (b) that contractor's environmental review record for the project indicates omission of a required decision finding or a step applicable to the project in the environmental assessment. Objections must be prepared and submitted in accordance with the required procedure (24 CFR, part 58.75) and may be addressed to the Texas Department of Community Affairs, 2015 South IH-35, P.O. Box 13166, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711. Objections to the release of funds on a basis other than those stated above will not be considered by the Texas Department of Community Affairs. No objection received after June 12, 1985, will be considered by the Texas Department of Community Affairs.

CERTIFYING OFFICERS OF CONTRACTOR: Thurman Crownover, Mayor, Environmental Certifying Officer, P.O. Box 428, Dodson, Texas 79230. 43-1c

Rabies Shots Urged

The annual rabies vaccination clinic for dogs and cats will be held Saturday, May 11 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon at Wellington Veterinary Hospital.

"All dogs and cats over 4 months old need to be vaccinated," Dr. Mark Fires said.

"We also suggest that dogs be vaccinated for parvo virus and distemper at the same time since we're having outbreaks of both diseases this spring," Fire said. "And we suggust that cats be given a combination vaccine that includes all respiratory diseases."

Deputy Sheriff Richard Keller warned both town and rural residents the rabies season is here and wildlife is a reservoir for rabies, which may spread to domestic animals. Skunks are major carriers.

City Manager Glen Taylor said Tuesday that the city's dog traps are being set out to secure general control of stray dogs and also to control any possible rabies outbreak. He reminded that tampering with a dog trap can cost $50 in fines.

Keller and Larry Hammons, Texas Department of Health inspector, urged vaccination of all pets. This is also a state law carrying a penalty of $25 to $200 fine for failure to comply. Physical signs in animals which would indicate rabies are ferocious, salivating, aggressive type animal. Any animal with rabies will, as the disease progresses and the virus invades the brain, become more of a dumb, placid type animal.

If an animal in which rabies is suspect bites a person, it is urgent that the individual be taken to a doctor immediatley, where treatment can be prescribed.

Dr. Fires also pointed out the danger of handling a rabied animal, either dead or alive, and he urged that such an animal be taken to a veterinatian or to a Texas Department of Health representative, who will send the head to the Texas Department of Health in Austin.

The incubation period for rabies in the person who is bitten is usually 10 to 14 days,Dr. Fires said and it is for this reason the rabies shots must be started at once, or if a suspect animal can not be located.

In rare instances, Dr. Fires said, the rabies incubation period in humans can be as much as 18 months.

Independence Cemetery Working Slated May 18

The Independence Cemetery Association will meet at the Independence Cemetery, Saturday, May 18, according to Christine Spurlin, association clerk. All members are urged to attend and bring a picnic lunch.

"The cemetery was mowed April 22, so it will probably be in need of mowing again. Bring hoes, rakes or mowers to help," said Mrs. Spurlin.

A business meeting will be held after lunch.
