

Street Tax And Poll Tax To Be Eliminated Here

Poll Tax Adjudged Unfair and Ununiform; Street Tax Is Also Burden

Lower Tax Rate

Decreased Rate Follows 30 Percent Reduction In Valuations Last Year

The City Council voted Tuesday night to reduce the tax rate, eliminate the poll and street taxes entirely, fire the Fire Marshal, rush the street work and discussed the advisability of dropping the hearing before the Railroad Commission on the gas rates.

The tax rate was reduced from $1.35 to $1.25 by a unanimous vote. This reduction follows a 30 percent reduction in valuations made last year and the year before. The poll tax was dropped entirely due to the fact that the payment of a state poll tax determines a qualified elector. Since a considerable number of taxpayers were not paying the poll tax, it was adjudged not to be a fair and uniform tax and was abolished. The street tax was eliminated because it placed a double burden on the small taxpayer.

The motion to relieve Paul Hardy of his duties as Fire Marshal, was passed by a three to one vote, but was vetoed by the Mayor. In his written statement, filed with the City Secretary, giving his reasons for the veto, Deskins Wells, stated that while there had been some complaints from the public on the City Marshal that there had been none on his actions as a Fire Marshal and that he had made his inspections and filed his reports regularly and that the ac-

To Play Baseball Finals This Week

That the Collingsworth County baseball tournament has been postponed until Saturday and Sunday, September 8 and 9, was announced today by Emil Kersten, manager.

"Due to the rain the two games previously played were played to a small crowd and on wet grounds, but they were both good games and were well worth watching so if the people will just come out and help us make a success of the tournament we will try to have it next year in July when we need rain," Mr. Kersten said.

Cafeterias To Be Operated In Ward School Buildings

Members of the Wellington School Board at their meeting Monday night voted to allow cafeterias to be operated in the West Ward and East Ward School buildings. Both cafeterias will be under the supervision of the Parent-Teachers Associations; Mrs. M. I. Wilks will operate the one in the West Ward and Mrs. A.C. Boverie will have charge of the one in the East Ward.

The board also voted to allow space for Mrs. Pauline Chaudoin to teach violin and voice in the high school building.

Cost Of Filling Grocery Basket Now Much Higher Than Two Months Ago

The market bag of the Collingsworth County housewives cost a few more cents to fill than a few weeks ago, and retail grocery dealers of this county see only a steady advance for the immediate future in the price of staple food articles.

Advancing food prices is attributed to the drought conditions existing throughout the entire mid-western area and have been felt during the past 60 days, while sensational increases in some lines are beginning to take effect.

Eyes Of Texas To Focus On County As Samnorwood High School Opens

Plans were today released by E. G. Saunders, superintendent, for an all-day celebration to be held at the Samnorwood Rural High School on Wednesday, September 26.

Opening of the new school, which will represent the largest rural high school district in Texas, will not only attract county-wide attention, but will also focus the eyes of the entire state on Collingsworth County. State School Superintendent L. A. Woods has agreed to make the opening address, according to J. D. Wilson, county superintendent, who stated that other speakers on the occasion would include Dr. Knapp, president of Texas Technological College at Lubbock.

The celebration will also include a free barbecue, numerous other notable speakers and entertainment, including the Wellington band and the Shamrock band. A more complete announcement of the program will be made prior to the opening of the school.

Davis Robinson, architect, stated that construction on the new building was progressing nicely and that the building should be completed prior to the date set for the opening celebration. He also praised the district for its modern building.

Mr. Saunders stated that the school was expected to open on Monday, October 1. Five teachers have already been employed on the staff of the new high school and another teacher is to be employed before the school opens. Three busses have been purchased for the district. Different clubs and organizations of the district have also sponsored a series of drives which netted funds to be used for purchasing books to furnish the library of the new school.

Last Rites For J. M. Higgins Held August 31

Early Settler, 91 Years Of Age, Had Resided In This County 33 Years

Funeral services for James Monroe Higgins, 91, were held Friday, August 31, from the Church of Christ, conducted by Minister H. V. Hendry.

At the time of his death Mr. Higgins was one of the oldest men in Collingsworth County. He was born December 15, 1842, in Missouri and died at his home in Wellington August 30, 1934; he was exactly 91 years, eight months and 15 days of age at the time of his death.

Before his health prohibited Mr. Higgins was a farmer and had resided in this county for the past 33 years. However, he had resided in Texas for 59 years. He was married to Ann Fuller in Arkansas, 1870. In 1875, he came to Texas; in 1876, he went to McLellan County, to Brown County in 1879, to Bosque County in 1879 and to Erath in 1884. In 1901 he came to this section.

As one of the early residents of this county Mr. Higgins' death is mourned by numerous friends, many of whom were his neighbors in the early days. Mr. Higgins was a member of the Church of Christ.

He is survived by a son, A. B. Higgins; two daughters, Mrs. Tom Watson of Dodsonville and Mrs. J. C. Dowdy of Wellington; three brothers, Lige Higgins of Oklahoma, John Higgins of Chickasha and Alex Higgins of Seattle, Wash.; two sisters, Mrs. Mary Weaver of Chickasha and Mrs. Marge Lively; grandchildren, Mrs. Lola Hunter of Dodsonville, Mrs. (Continued on Page 10)

Boys Uninjured After Collision

Ray and Arthur Love, both of this city, escaped uninjured when a Wellington Poster Company truck which they were driving was completely demolished in a head-on collision just north of Shamrock late Saturday afternoon.

S. R. Pinkston, owner, said that the accident occurred when the truck started over a rise caused by an underpass.

Reports Car Stolen, Is Then Arrested

A resident of McLean was seeking justice here Sunday—and got it in a double-barrel form.

Sunday afternoon he phoned Paul Hardy that his car had been stolen. Upon arriving at the scene, Mr. Hardy arrested the gentlemen on charges of being drunk. He paid his fine and recovered the car, which Mr. Hardy said he had lent to a group of youngsters and forgotten about making the transaction.

Schools To Open At Dodsonville On September 10

Mrs. Clifford White To Supervise Home Economics Department

That the Dodsonville school will open Monday, September 10 at 9 o'clock was announced by Vance Swinburn, superintendent, today. Details of the opening program were not given.

Wolftrum To Open Meeting At Quail

Following the close of a protracted meeting at Aberdeen Wednesday, Minister Billy Wolftrum of Sanger, will open a meeting at Quail, Friday, September 7.

Minister Wolftrum, who served as pastor of the Wellington Church of Christ for a number of years, stated that the Quail meeting would continue for 10 or 15 days and extended an invitation for all of his old friends and acquaintances to attend the meeting.

Residents of Aberdeen reported that meeting to have been highly successful. Minister Wolftrum also held a meeting at Quail last fall and citizens of that community are looking forward to the opening of the meeting Friday.

Clark Injured As Truck Overtakes

E. T. Clark of C. & E. Grocery, sustained a broken leg when a truck, in which he was moving his family and household fixtures from Comanche, overturned five miles east of Lawton, Friday. Mrs. Clark also sustained bruises and a son, Champ Clark, sustained a fractured arm.

The accident occurred when the rear axle of the truck broke. Mr. Clark was rushed to the hospital and completed the trip, with his family, on the bus. The furniture was also damaged extensively.

Wellington Boys Point For Title Of This District

Ambitions Run High Following Trip To Mountains Before School

Coach Billy Jarvis today announced the 1934 schedule for the Wellington High School football team.

Childress, here, Sept. 14. Groom, here, Sept. 21. Turkey, there, Oct. 5. Amarillo Yarnigans, here, Oct. 12.

Pampa Gorillas, here, Oct. 19. Quitaque, here, Oct. 26. Memphis, here, Nov. 2. Shamrock, here, Nov. 9. Silvertown, there, date not set.

"The trip to the mountains was a success from every standpoint," Coach Jarvis said. "It is the ambition of every boy on the squad to win the championship of our district and every effort possible is going to be made to realize that ambition."

"Memphis, Silvertown, Turkey, Quitaque and Wellington are the teams in this section of the district. A champion must be decided from this group on or before November 26; the winner will be decided upon a percentage basis as the teams will play a round-robin schedule. The champion of this section will meet the winner (Continued on Page Ten)

Mrs. Caldwell To Operate Insurance Office In City

Mrs. Pearl Caldwell of Dallas, has opened an insurance office in Wellington over the City State Bank. Mrs. Caldwell worked for the Kansas City Life Insurance Co., in Dallas for eight years. During that time she was one of the leaders in sales and won several prizes for the best work in her division. In 1930 she won a trip to Cuba by exceeding her quota for a certain period.

She will represent the Kansas City Life and the Fulton Fire Insurance Companies. Mrs. Caldwell is a sister of Mrs. W. R. Orr, of this city.

Communities Name Teachers

Praising the rural teachers of Collingsworth County for the present terms, J. D. Wilson, county superintendent, today stated that he believed the county to have the best group of teachers, both from the point of scholarship and experience, than at any time during the eight years he has served the county as superintendent.

"The teachers have consistently tried to improve themselves," Mr. Wilson said, "by attending college during the summer months or by extension work."

Good Financial Condition Mr. Wilson also stated that the schools of this county were in excellent condition and said that each of the schools should finish their regular terms.

Schools Report Enrollment Of 1,084 Wednesday

Figures Still Incomplete; Farrar Says Late Enrollments Will Swell Figure

List 31 Teachers

High School Has 350, Junior High 205, East Ward 325 And West Ward 204

Enrollment in the Wellington Schools was reported Wednesday to be 1,084 by Superintendent G. L. Farrar, who stated that students were still enrolling and that the complete enrollment figure could not be determined for several days.

Is estimated, however, that the enrollment will settle around the same figure seen here last year, due to the fact that exactly the same time, three days after school opened, in 1933 an enrollment of 1,080 students was reported. The enrollment figure of 1,084 this year shows four additional students as compared with last year.

Present enrollment figures show 350 students in the high school division, which includes 11 teachers at the present time. The figure in 1933 was 354 students and the division listed only 10 teachers.

The Junior High is listed with 205 students this year and will be served by five teachers.

The West Ward enrollment this year is 204 students, served by six teachers.

New School Bus Covers 30 Miles

Monday morning, September 3, the Wellington School bus made its first round. The route of the bus is 30 miles in length and 48 children took advantage of this new accommodation on the initial trip. The bus leaves Wellington at 7 o'clock each morning and returns before 9 o'clock.

The bus covers the following route from the southeast corner of the town section: three miles south to C. Kelley corner, eleven miles east passing Fresno, one mile north, eight miles west to R. L. Wood corner, two miles north by Bowen school, two miles east to northwest corner of Frank Fuson place, one mile north to the Mangum highway and west back to town.

Higgins To Build House On Forbis Place At Fresno

A. B. Higgins has contracted to build a house on the Will Forbis place, one mile south of Fresno. The house will replace the one lost to Mr. Forbis by fire last year.

Mr. Forbis will assist Mr. Higgins in building the house. Mr. Higgins, an early contractor and builder in this county, was assisted by Mr. Forbis 25 to 30 years ago.

Government Buys Over 1,000 Head Of County Cattle

More Than 11,000 Head Listed By Farmers And Ranchers In County

A total of 1,083 head of cattle have been purchased to date in this county under the government program; of the amount 283 head were condemned and killed on the farms and ranches of the county.

"The cattle buying program is not covering the county as we expected, due to the county quota being so small," John O. Stovall, county agent, said, "but we have been trying for several days to get this quota raised so that we can get our surplus cattle out of the county, and then the farmers and ranchers can make better plans to care for the rest of their herds."

"There is nothing that can be done now to speed up the work until we hear from the State Drought Relief director. The inspector and this office have planned (Continued on Page 10)

H. M. Dudley To Be WTU Manager

Announcement was made this week that Monty Garrison, local West Texas Utilities Company manager, has been transferred from Wellington to Vernon, where he will assume the duties of manager of that office.

H. M. Dudley of the Paducah office will succeed Mr. Garrison as manager of the Wellington division. He has been with the West Texas Utilities Company for some time and comes here not only highly recommended as a businessman, but also as an outstanding citizen who takes an unusual interest in the development of community and civic progress.

Canning Plant Assured Here As Equipment Comes

Carload Of Cans Will Be Followed By Complete Equipment By Sept. 10

No Date Is Set

Date For Setting Plant In Operation Has Not Been Released

Following the arrival of 37,000 cans here today, announcement was made that all equipment for operating the county canning plant would arrive here before Monday, September 10.

All labor for the project will be furnished through the relief office and Miss Katherine Boverie, administrator, today said that 15 women and two men would likely be employed each day. It will also be necessary for the workers in the plant to have health certificates, carrying qualifications similar to those needed by persons working in restaurants. The plant may work two shifts of employees to care for the entire needs of local persons.

Probably the most popular plan for exchange will be the producer furnishing the products and relief furnishing equipment, cans and labor. The exchange basis on this plan will give the producer 45 percent of all vegetables turned in and relief 55 percent of all vegetables. On this basis the producer will keep 60 percent of all meat and relief will receive 40 percent of all meat canned. There are sev-

Expect $50,000 In Hog Payments

Estimating that money from government Corn-Hog contracts will amount to between $50,000 and $60,000, John O. Stovall, county agent, today said that the Collingsworth contracts are now in the hands of the State Corn-Hog Review Board and are being given final inspection, following which they will be dispatched to Washington for payment.

"If there are no additional corrections part of the payments should arrive here within 20 to 30 days," Mr. Stovall said. "The county office faced considerable delay in getting these contracts off because of the fact that some of the contract signers were slow in signing their final papers and because out-of-town landlords had to be contacted before the papers could be completed—but Collingsworth is still several days ahead of neighboring counties."

"The office wishes to express appreciation to the County Corn-Hog committeemen in getting the contracts ready for the state board so much earlier than many other counties."

Shinnery School To Be Dedicated On September 10

Formal dedication of the Shinnery School will be held Monday, September 10, according to announcements today.

The new building was turned over to the trustees on August 30 by John Trimble, contractor. The building, which consists of two class rooms, two book rooms and two cloak rooms, is modern in every respect and patrons of the school have expressed their delight in the new building and to Mr. Trimble for his excellent work in the construction. One of the outstanding features of the building is that doors between the class rooms may be opened, giving an auditorium.

J. D. Wilson, county superintendent, will deliver the opening address on September 10 and other forms of entertainment will be furnished for visitors.

Teachers at the school this year are Mrs. C. F. Carmack and Miss Lucille Carmack. Trustees are J. P. James, E. H. Yarbrough, and J. F. Keese.

Deck's DIDACTICS

By H. D. W.

All my life I have heard about the foresight of certain men, but right now I can't remember having met one who had enough to do a rabbit any good, and I know that I don't have a bit. This old notion has been brought to mind by reading an article by Stuart Chase on the future of the newspaper and comparing it to one of almost opposite tenor, which I read last week. Mr. Stuart predicts that the newspaper of the future will be a conservative type with less advertising more news of social importance (in this sense social means almost the opposite of society news) and much more interpretation or editorial matter. The other writer, whose name I have already forgotten, contends that the newspaper of the future will be composed almost entirely of pictures, and that the people will say, "I saw it in the paper instead of I read it in the paper." It is certain that one of these men is wrong, and my guess is that both of them probably are mistaken.

As a matter of fact foresight is generally a question of making a wild haired guess and having it hit. Even in the case of a political theory, which a man may have advocated for a lifetime, it is still a matter of chance. There were two political theories advocated by the people who caused the Russian Revolution, but the advocates of one cause were kicked out of the country after they had helped overthrow the aristocracy. Turn your consideration back to individual matters. It would require only a knowledge of what will happen in the next year and decisive action based on that knowledge for a man to make enough to last him a lifetime.

Kinney Godfrey will vote for Senator William E. Borah if he is the Republican nominee in 1936. Kinney hasn't said anything about it, but I have heard him talk, and I have just finished reading an account of a speech by Senator Borah. In speaking of the freedom of the press, Senator Borah said:

"I do not overlook express mention in the Constitution of the press. But the Constitution is just as explicit in legal effect in protecting the personal rights, privileges and liberties of the people generally. Let us be frank and deal with realities. A free press in a country where each and every citizen is not equally free to choose his calling, or profession, and within general law to pursue it; select his industry or business, plant, sow and reap according to his judgment, free from the fickle arbitrary hand of bureaucracy, is only a temporary delusion.

"If the government can take away the right to grow cotton and force the grower to plant according to some bureau's judgment and thereby force thousands to the point of starvation, it is only a question of time until this creeping paralysis of bureaucracy benumbs the hand of the editor."

R. F. Curry, on the other hand snorts with disgust at the anxiety felt by many editors over the possibility of curbing the freedom of the press. He thinks that it is a false alarm and says that any infringement on the rights of free press and free speech has never occurred in an English speaking country. That is quite true, but it may be due to the fact that English speaking people have been on the alert. At least I know that every editor I have talked to in recent months is on the watch. There are many reasons why they should be. Even in the United States the freedom of the press developed to its present state by constant effort, and, although guaranteed by the Constitution, it still hangs by a slender legal thread. Furthermore the suppression that occurred in Russia, Italy and Germany came too rapidly

Blue Eagle Eyes Fabulous Movie Salaries; Actors Quail

A sudden reversal of NRA form has brought fear and trembling to Hollywood. The Blue Eagle, which has been soaring about the land seeing what wages it might increase, has apparently decided to "crack down" on movie salaries.

Movie actors are casting sour glances at their press agents, whose thirst for publicity has long invited this boomerang. For years, Hollywood publicity men have dinner into the public mind the princely pay received by their actor-employers.

And now a report from the deputy administrator of the movie code suggests that the ratio between salary budget and gross receipts in the movie business is far too high, intoning that something is going to be done about it.

No names were mentioned in the report, but it is generally assumed that gargantuan pay envelopes, dwarfing even that of President Roosevelt, go to these stars:

Greta Garbo, Norma Shearer, Wallace Beery, Will Rogers, John Barrymore, Constance Bennett, Richard Barthelmess, Ann Harding, William Powell, Joan Crawford, Janet Gaynor, Edward G. Robinson, James Cagney, Clark Gable, George Arliss, Marlene Dietrich, Frederick March, Katharine Hepburn, Eddie Cantor, Warner Baxter, Richard Dix, Ronald Colman, Dolores Del Rio, Clive Brook, Wheeler and Woolsey, Helen Hayes, Claudette Colbert, Joe E. Brown, Elissa Landi, Irene Dunne, Ruth Chatterton, Ramon Novarro, Edmund Lowe, Bing Crosby and Sylvia Sydney.

Although a handful of these topnotch film notables command munificent salaries, actors' wages on an average don't begin to compare with those of directors or movie executives. Thus, on an average, actors got $3298 last year, while directors reaped $2,315; and executives netted the lion's share of $53,326.

In one year, for instance, young talented Irving Thalberg, supervising producer, is said to have earned $900,000.

In defense of its unusual wage scale, Hollywood points out that: An actor's career is meteoric. One picture is all that's necessary to land him in the spotlight and the money. Another, perhaps but a few months later, may skid him back into obscurity.

and by means not relating to the existing constitution, that editors who are 100 percent in favor of the New Deal are at the same time bent on cherishing the older more precious rights of the people.

Mr. Curry's contention was so reasonable and well founded on facts of history that it left me more or less at a loss, and I didn't give him any trouble as far as a rebuttal was concerned. However, it worried me because I didn't and I went home and dug up something that I seemed to have remembered reading. When codes were adopted the newspapers insisted on the freedom of the press clause being introduced and they were laughed at for their so-called groundless fears. Another line of business decided to go to court to secure what they believed were their consti-

It's only fair, Hollywood contends, that he be paid well during his brief spell of popularity. After all, one of these fabulous salaries spread over an actor's lifetime is not a great deal.

And even during his brief career a star's wages is not all it seems, one producer claims. When his agent, publicity man, lawyer, secretary, personal manager and Uncle Sam, not to mention the landlord servants, etc., get their "cut" of his income the actor's wallet takes on tutional rights. When they did, the counsel for the government contended:

"The defendant, having applied for approval under the recovery act of a code of fair competition for the steel industry and having obtained the benefits accruing to it under the act by reason of such approval, cannot now attack the constitutionality of the provisions of that code.

"It is a well settled rule in the federal courts that one who has himself voluntarily invoked a statute or who has received the benefits flowing from a statute is estopped later to assert its unconstitutionality."

In other words the counsel for the government claimed that the constitutional rights did not apply, because they had been waived.

Well, I simply must do something to improve the interest of this column this week. Law is dry stuff, and for me to write about the newspaper business is as uninteresting as a man who goes to a party and talks shop. Why do women take such keen delight in discovering that their husband has made some noticeable mistake. I guess it gives them a sense of superiority. The other day my wife came in with a grin on her face that spread from one tip of her beautiful ear to the lovely ringlets on the other side of her face. (If you are going to be a humorist, you have to use some soft soap.) After so long a time, I found out what it was all about. Fatty Watkins had given Diane a $10 bill, with which to start her first savings account. Now that was a very nice thing for Mr. Watkins to do, but he didn't stop there. He rared back on his number 12 shoes and let loose this noble declaration of stalwart character and high principle: "Give that to Diane to start a bank account. I won it from an idiot and I don't take money from idiots." Without any way of measuring the two events exactly, I would say that it did my wife more good than the time I bawled her out for her sorry driving and then got in the car myself and tore off a concrete pillar and backed over the elder bush.

Cattle Processed By Meat Packers

Additional facilities being developed will make it possible for meat packers to process 50,000 head of drouth cattle and calves, and 17,000 head of sheep daily by the middle of September or shortly thereafter, the meat packing industry assured the government at a conference at the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

head of drouth cattle and calves day. The Bureau of Animal Industry has laced between 400 and 500 additional meat inspectors packing plants throughout the country during the last three weeks to handle the government slaughter of drouth cattle for relief purposes which has passed the million mark. It will place additional inspectors where they are needed as rapidly as the packers are ready to extend begin new operations.

The estimate of the processing volume is based on an estimated total of 8,000,000 head of cattle and sheep to be slaughtered by the end of the calendar year.

President Directs RFC To Make Funds Available

Officials Declare Plan Is Not A Price-Fixing Scheme Or Method

WASHINGTON—Another Government loan on cotton to help the Southern farmers—12c a pound this time—was authorized last Tuesday by President Roosevelt.

The announcement was made just before Mr. Roosevelt left Washington for the Middle West to attend the funeral of Speaker Henry T. Rainey. The President said he had requested the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to make funds available to the Commodity Credit Corporation that will enable it to increase its lending from 10c to 12c a pound on cotton, classing low middling or better, which is and has been continuously in the possession of the producer.

This means that any cotton grower, if he does not wish to sell his staple at this time, may borrow 12c a pound from Federal agencies on the commodity.

Detailed regulations were not announced. Officials said that in all essentials they would follow those governing the 10c-a-pound loan last year.

Government Takes Risk

If the same regulations apply, the Government takes the risk should cotton go below 12c and stay there. Should the price climb during the season, the grower may repay the loan sell his bales and pocket the profit.

Cotton is selling for more than 13c a pound at present but several factors have caused uneasiness. One has been the projected general strike in the textile industry. This would stop mill buying, presumably, and have a bearish influence.

Other things which caused the decision for Government advances this year included a drop in consumption compared with last year; negotiations for an Indo-Japanese cotton agreement—Japan being one of this country's best customers—and delay in getting cotton exemption certificates to the growers. The certificates represent the bales of cotton each farmer may market under the Bankhead Bill's allotments.

Not Price-Fixing Plan

Officials said the loan Tuesday was not a price-fixing scheme, although the effect would be to stop farm sales of cotton, if the price fell below 12c.

They said the loan would enable growers to market their cotton in orderly fashion and that they would not have to set the price slumped in the near future.

Privately officials said they felt cotton would bring around 13c or more after the strike passed.

Proposals for loans on corn and wheat also have been made to the farm administration. Officials said, however, that there is no likelihood of any immediate action on these commodities.

Officials said there were no influences which threatened to beat down corn and wheat prices in the near future and that present concern was that these commodities might climb too high.

Carry 3,000,000 Bales

The President said the Commodity Credit Corporation was still carrying for cotton producers about 1,000,000 bales of last year's crop and that the cotton producers' pool has approximately 2,000,000 bales additional.

"It is worth noting," he said, "that the still large surplus of cotton will in all probability show this year a reduction of about 4,500,000 bales from last year."

The Commodity Credit Corporation was set up last year to handle cotton and corn loans. The price for both commodities climbed and there is no likelihood, officials said, that the Government would lose a cent from 1933 operations.

Southerners who urged the Government to work out another loan plan for cotton wanted a higher figure than was set Tuesday. Many suggested 13c.

The 12c figure was adopted, however, officials said, because otherwise too many growers might avail themselves of the loan and the ordinary movement of the staple to market would be delayed.

"I'm Og, the King, of Bashan; you can't arrest me," said Henry Peterson of Chicago when a policeman found him drunk. But he soon discovered his error.

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ISSUE COUNTY REFUNDING BONDS

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF COLLINGSWORTH

To the Sheriff or Any Constable of Collingsworth County, Texas—Greetings:

YOU ARE HEREBY authorized and directed to publish the attached Notice of Intention of the Commissioner's Court of Collingsworth County, Texas, to pass a proposed order authorizing the issuance of $5,145.00 "Collingsworth County Road Refunding Bonds," for the purpose of cancelling or refunding an equal amount of existing indebtedness against the Road and Bridge Fund, evidenced by certain warrants of said County; and which said Notice of Intention, and the order of the Commissioner's Court incorporated therein, is each considered a component part of this notice.

ISSUED AND EXECUTED pursuant to order of the Commissioner's Court in open session on the 14th day of August, 1934, and under authority of Subdivision (d), of Section 7, of Chapter 163, of the General Laws passed by the Forty-second Legislature, at its regular session in 1931.

WITNESS MY official signature, with the seal of the Commissioner's Court of said county impressed thereon, this the 20th day of August, 1934.

LOIS SHERWOOD WATSON, Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Commissioner's Court: Collingsworth County, Texas. (Com. Court Seal). Aug. 23-30-6

NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ISSUE COUNTY REFUNDING BONDS

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF COLLINGSWORTH

To the Resident Property Tax-paying Voters of Collingsworth County, Texas:

TAKE NOTICE that on the 24th day of September, 1934, which will be a day of the Regular Session, 1934 Term of the Commissioner's Court of Collingsworth County, Texas, the said Court will pass an order authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds on the faith and credit of said county, in the amount and for the purpose stated in the order of said Court authorizing the issuance of this Notice of Intention, and which said order is here made a part of this Notice and is in words and figures as follows:

THE STATE OF TEXAS, COUNTY OF COLLINGSWORTH

ON THIS, the 14th day of August, 1934, the Commissioner's Court of Collingsworth County, Texas, convened in Regular Session, at the regular meeting place thereof, at Wellington, Texas, all members of the Court, to-wit:

L. E. GRIBBLE, County Judge, Presiding; and, J. D. HILL, Commissioner, Precinct No. 1;

W. C. KETNER, Commissioner, Precinct No. 2; M. F. HUNTER, Commissioner, Precinct No. 3;

A. V. JONES, Commissioner, Precinct No. 4; LOIS SHERWOOD, County Clerk and Ex-Officio of the Commissioner's Court; being present, and, among other proceedings had by said Court, was the following:

Commissioner A. V. Jones introduced the following order and moved its adoption by the Court: WHEREAS, heretofore, to-wit, on the 8th day of February, 1932, the Commissioner's Court of Collingsworth County, Texas, by order duly passed and adopted pursuant to a contract theretofore made and executed, authorized the issuance and delivery of certain interest-bearing time warrants to Plains Tractor and Equipment Company, for the purchase of road machinery; said warrants being known as "Collingsworth County Road Warrants," dated December 31, 1931, numbered consecutively from 1 to 4, inclusive, indennomination of $1,000 each, aggregating $4,000.00 due serially 1934 to 1937, inclusive, bearing 6 percent interest per annum; and of which issue of warrants there is now outstanding an indebtedness in the principal sum of $3,090.00, evidenced by warrants Numbers 2, 3 and 4 and $90.00 accrued interest to August 15, 1934, evidenced by the following described scrip warrant:

Scrip Warrant No. 1622, payable to the First National Bank, Wellington, Texas, amount $90.00.

AND WHEREAS, heretofore, to-wit, on the 11th day of April, 1932, the Commissioner's Court of Collingsworth County, by order duly passed and adopted, authorized the issuance and delivery of certain interest-bearing time warrants to Plains Tractor and Equipment Company, for tractor supplies and the repair of two Caterpillar 60 Tractors owned by said County; said warrants being known as "Collingsworth County Tractor Repair Warrants," dated April 11, 1932, numbered 1 and 2 in the denomination of $1,000.00 each, Warrant Number 1 being payable March 1, 1933, and Warrant Number 2 being payable March 1, 1939, bearing interest at the rate of 6 percent per annum; all of which warrants are now outstanding and unpaid and represent an indebtedness in the principal sum of $2,055, being $2,000.00 principal evidenced by said warrants, and $55.00 accrued interest to August 15, 1934, evidenced by the following described scrip warrant:

Scrip Warrant No. 1623, payable to First National Bank, Wellington, Texas, amount, $55.00.

AND WHEREAS, the Commissioner's Court deems it advisable to refund the indebtedness evidenced by the aforesaid warrants

SECTION 1: That it is the intention of said Commissioner's Court to pass an order on a day of the Regular Session, 1934, term of said Court, which term begins on the second Monday in said month, to-wit, September 10, 1934, for the purpose of authorizing the issuance of the bonds of said county to cancel or refund the warrant indebtedness hereinabove described, aggregating the said principal sum of Five Thousand One Hundred and Forty-Five Dollars ($5,145.00), and which said refunding bond order will be passed on the 24th day of September, 1934, during said term.

SECTION 2: That the proposed bonds shall be known as "Collingsworth County Road Refunding Bonds;" shall be in the denomination of One Thousand Dollars, ($1,000.00) each (except Warrant No. 1, which shall be in denomination of $1,145.00); shall bear interest at the rate of Five and One-Half Per Cent (5 1-2 percent) per annum, payable February 15, 1935, and thereafter semi-annually on August Fifteenth and February Fifteenth, in each year; the principal amount of said bonds shall be due and payable, serially, in accordance with the following schedule:

Numbers	Dates	Amounts
1	February, 15, 1939	$1,145.00
2	February 15, 1940	$1,000.00
3	February 15, 1940	$1,000.00
4	February 15, 1941	$1,000.00
5	February 15, 1941	$1,000.00

SECTION 3: The principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable at the Office of the County Treasurer of Collingsworth County, at Wellington, Texas.

SECTION 4: That to pay the interest on said bonds and to create a sinking fund sufficient to discharge them at maturity, this court will levy a continuing direct annual ad valorem tax on all taxable property of said County, of and at an annual rate sufficient for the purpose stated; such tax to be levied, assessed and collected out of the Fifteen Cents Road and Bridge Fund Tax authorized by Section 9, Article 8, of the Texas Constitution.

SECTION 5: That the said proposed refunding bonds shall be examined and certified by the Attorney General and registered by by issuance and delivery to the holders thereof of a like amount of bonds, payable in future years, as hereinafter stated; and,

WHEREAS, it is provided by Subdivision (d), Section 7, Chapter 163, of the General Laws passed by the Forty-second Legislature of Texas, at its Regular Session in 1931, that no item of indebtedness created after such act became effective shall be funded or refunded, except pursuant to the issuance of notice of intention and the publication thereof; therefore,

BE IT ORDERED by the Commissioner's Court of Collingsworth County, Texas:

SECTION 6: That a copy of this order shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within said County, and which publication shall be Notice of the Intention of said Court to pass the order authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds, for the purpose and amounts herein stated, and this order, when marked "Notice of Intention to Issue County Refunding Bonds," signed by the County Judge and the Sheriff of said county, and countersigned by the county Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Court, and published at least once a week for three successive weeks in said newspaper, the date of first publication to be at least thirty days before the said 24th day of September, 1934, being the day of the meeting of the Commissioner's Court at which the proposed refunding bond order will be passed.

SECTION 7: At any time before the said 24th day of September, 1934, being the date fixed for the issuance of such refunding bonds, not less than ten percent of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the county, as shown by the records in the office of the county Tax Collector, may file a petition in the office of the County Clerk, praying this court to order an election for the purpose of submitting the proposition to issue such bonds to a vote of the qualified property tax-paying voters of the county; and upon the filing of such petition, such Court shall, at the next meeting thereof, order an election to be held in said county to determine whether or not such refunding bonds shall be issued as indicated in such petition.

The above order having been read, it was moved by Commissioner A. V. Jones, and seconded by Commissioner W. C. Ketner, that the County Judge put the motion to be passed and adopted. Thereupon, the question being called for, to a vote of the members of the Commissioners' Court, and the motion carried by the following vote: Commissioners Hill, Ketner and Jones voting "Aye," and none voting "No."

The County Judge declared the

the State Comptroller in a book kept for that purpose, provided, however, that such bonds will not be registered by the State Comptroller until the warrants in lieu of which they are to be issued are presented to the Comptroller for cancellation; and, provided further, that after the registration of such bonds, the Comptroller will cancel the warrants and deliver the bonds to the proper party or parties; and, provided further, that the warrants may be presented for cancellation in installments and a like amount of the bonds registered and delivered, as provided by statute.

SECTION 8: That a copy of this order shall be published in a newspaper of general circulation within said County, and which publication shall be Notice of the Intention of said Court to pass the order authorizing the issuance of the refunding bonds, for the purpose and amounts herein stated, and this order, when marked "Notice of Intention to Issue County Refunding Bonds," signed by the County Judge and the Sheriff of said county, and countersigned by the county Clerk and Ex-Officio Clerk of the Court, and published at least once a week for three successive weeks in said newspaper, the date of first publication to be at least thirty days before the said 24th day of September, 1934, being the day of the meeting of the Commissioner's Court at which the proposed refunding bond order will be passed.

Announcement And Shower Is Given For Mrs. Crain

Friends of Mrs. Newton Crain, who was before her marriage, Miss Faye Bell, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Paul Starr last Friday morning and afternoon. Mrs. Walter Starr and Mrs. Paul Starr were joint hostesses in entertaining in honor of the bride. The wedding date was announced and the guests presented the honoree with many lovely gifts.

The guests were divided in two groups, part were entertained in the morning and the remainder in the afternoon. A musical program was rendered on both occasions. Mrs. Pauline Cocke Chaudoin, Mrs. Ben Boston, Mrs. Charles Crews, Mrs. Richard Cocke and Mrs. Aubrey Dobbs furnished the musical numbers. Little Miss Billie Voca Brickey dressed as cupid danced a toe number and presented the gifts. A clever imitation of thunder was made as Miss Brickey brought in a bundle of presents. In the afternoon a similar program was given with a variation in presenting the gifts.

The tea table was beautifully laid with a crystal service and a lace cloth. Mrs. John H. Starr and Mrs. Wade Mahan presided at the table in the morning and Mrs. Lee Clifton and Mrs. Earl Hunter in the afternoon. Miss Imogene Wynn, Miss Elaine Cooper and Miss Pauline Starr assisted in serving. Favours of corsages, with a scroll announcing the wedding date, were presented to each guest.

Attending the morning party were: Mesdames Sandy Parsons Jr., Ansel McDowell, Ben Boston, Richard Cocke, L. A. Manzer, Dempsey Harrell, Harris Royal, Joe Terry, Pauline Chaudoin, Deskins Wells, Clifton High, Thelma Masten, Lester Bengé, Carrol Logan, A. Y. Students Study Mexican Ruins

Twenty-Six Texas Tech Boys Complete Very Interesting Studies

LUBBOCK, Texas—Twenty-six Texas Technological archaeologists left Mexico City August 19, after a three-weeks' study of the archaeological ruins of the Capitol of Mexico for Lubbock on Railroad Notre De Mexico second class carriage. Seven boys of the party had shipped the Thursday before on a freight train with the cars of the crowd which had to be freighted to Saltillo as the highway between Mexico City and Valles was impassable.

In Mexico City the party studied the Pyramids of the Sun and the Moon, built by the Toltec Indians sometime between 500 and 1200 A. D. The Pyramid of the Sun is greater than the Cheops of Egypt. In the center of Mexico City a Pyramid of Quetzecotal, called the Feathered Serpent, is being excavated. This was built by the Aztec Indians. In the National Museum of Mexico is a huge sacrificial stone covered with hieroglyphs, which they had in their temples on top of the pyramids, where thousands of human hearts were cut out of the bodies of captives to be sacrificed to the Sun.

At Oaxa, a day's ride from Mexico City, are the great tombs of Monte Alban, of which there are a thousand, of which seventy have been excavated. From one of these tombs, Number Seven, two million dollars worth of jewels were excavated. Dr. W. C. Holden, head of the Anthropology and Archaeology Research Department of Texas Tech, has received permission from Dr. Caso, Mexican Archaeologist in charge of Monte Alban, and the Department of Monuments, to excavate here. Should Dr. Holden take an expedition down there it would be on the same statute as the Carnegie Foundation, which excavated Chichenitza, the Mayan city of Yucatan. A few miles from Monte Alban are the beautiful temples and buildings of Mitla, which, together with Monte Alban is the greatest archaeology field in the world.

Friday is market day at Tulula, two hour's drive from Mexico City and it was an Indian market, which the archaeologists studied. Small canals run along the road to Tulula, which are filled with Indians in small flat skiffs taking their wares to market. They have everything from forage to pottery, and many who walk along the road, have a chicken or turkey in the back of their serape and an infant in the front. Donkeys loaded down with wares and Indian men with as many as five hundred pots on their backs all trudge along to market.

In Mexico City the Techsters stayed in the residential district a block from Chapultepec Castle, where the President lives, across the street from Ex-President Calles and next door to Senor Palacios, President of the National Revolutionary party.

At Tamunzunchale which the Techsters passed through on their way down to Mexico City over the mountain roads which were closed to all transportation except those with special permission, are the Huastecan Indians, descendants of the once proud race of Aztecs who founded Mexico City. These Indians live in thatched huts made from yucca fibre with a burro and a pair of brown hands as their sole means of support. Pigs, dogs, chickens and children fill the doorways of these mushroom huts, which house a beaten race of people, who do not live but only exist. One Indian carries as much on his back as a small truck in the United States. These men have become beasts of burden. Here is a town which saw its first automobile three years ago, where open air barber shops and butcher shops flourish, and pulque, a drink made from the maguay plant, is the only means of relaxation.

University Will Offer "Cultural" Degree To Fresh

AUSTIN, Texas—A new so-called "cultural" degree will be available to a limited group of freshmen students at The University of Texas in September, 1935. One hundred young men and women, who must have been graduated from the upper half of their high school graduating classes, will be admitted to The University to take a new course of study leading to the degree of bachelor of arts.

This course of study is to be offered to a maximum of 100 students as an experiment to determine whether the new so-called "cultural" degree will prove feasible or satisfactory. As outlined, the curriculum has for its primary aim general culture and "enlightened citizenship," and is restricted in the required courses to studies as nearly as possible non-professional and non-vocational in character. It is designed to "orient" the student in the modern world, applying the familiar orientation principle to the curriculum as a whole and only incidentally to courses. It pre-supposes on the part of students wishing to take it the time and economic independence necessary for four years of non-professional study.

Certain fields of knowledge are presupposed as more fundamental than others. The fields so emphasized are natural science, the social sciences such as anthropology, government, economics, psychology and sociology, and the humane studies represented by the arts, philosophy and literature.

The new curriculum allows the student of general interests a liberal number of elective courses. It does not, however, reclude a student from concentrating if his interests so develop. Those preparing for medicine and law will be able to use this new course of study to advantage by electing the proper courses.

SWEARINGEN

By Ruby Yarbrough

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bales entertained the young folks with a party Friday evening.

The fourth teacher was added to the faculty at Swearingen, Monday. She is Miss May Love of Wellington.

Miss Ina Mae Yarbrough of Swearingen enrolled in the Wellington school where she will attend this year.

Miss Wilma Jarrell and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Jarrell returned home last week from Canyon where they have been attending school this summer.

Farmer Will Not Accept Wheat Check

MARYSVILLE, Kan.—Alfred E. Atkinson, Vermillion, Kan., persistently refuses to accept a federal allotment wheat check for $72.80.

Not only that, but he refuses to permit the county wheat control committee to measure his land. Acreage data was obtained by questioning neighbors.

When a contract allowing 15 acres of wheat was drawn up, Atkinson signed. Later he heard the figure was wrong. He sowed 30 acres. The check waits, and presumably the farmer's conscience is clear.

Prison Labor In Store For Capone

SAN FRANCISCO—Prison labor—48 hours a week of it—was in store for Al (Scarface) Capone and 52 other convicts transferred yesterday to the escapeproof federal penitentiary on Alcatraz Island.

An eight-hour work period for each day except Sunday has been mapped out for the new arrivals, including the former Chicago gang chief, Warden James A. Johnston said.

The convicts, who increased the prison population to an even 100, will labor in the prison laundry the clothing shop, shoe shop, kitchens and at maintenance occupations.

In their leisure and recreational hours, they may study the San Francisco skyline, so close that details are clearly visible when not obscured by fog; watch ocean liners and freighters pass in and out of the Golden Gate, or keep track of the progress on the two great bridge projects stretching out across the surging water.

The transfer of Capone to the new prison, which Atty. Gen. Homer S. Cummings said was for convicts who attempted to maintain outside contacts at other penitentiaries and were potential jail breakers, brought a protest from his attorney at Atlanta, Frank A. Doughman.

Capone himself protested when he was shaken from a sound sleep in Atlanta and hustled aboard the Alcatraz-bound train against such treatment for a "model prisoner," Doughman declared.

End Of World To Come September 10, Voliva Says

ZION, Ill.—When the trumpet blows on the day of the feast of trumpets, the loyal followers of Wilbur Voliva will be waiting in hushed awe for the arrival of the Savior.

Long before this, the overseer of the Zion religious colony has foretold the end of the big flat world. But now Voliva has proclaimed the month and day for the coming of the Lord and the destruction of His enemies. Any time after 6 a. m., September 10, it will happen, he said.

Notable among the enemies listed for hell and general decay are those who beat the Voliva folks at the polls last spring. He told them they might as well get ready, for things at Zion were winding up.

"I believe the Lord will come on the feast of the trumpets," the religious dictator told his flock at prayer meeting. "And I believe He will come this year. At the close of every age God has called a messenger. In Zion there will be a little circle, and God will destroy the rest."

"We are in the end . . . things are winding up in Zion."

Time and again the thundering orator of Shiloh Tabernacle has flayed his foes and exhorted his flock, telling the one he would leave them to lead his faithful to a new paradise, or blasting the anti-Voliva faction with prophecies of destruction. His latest estimate of the end of the world was A. D. 1946, the coming event may change things.

Voliva advised his friends to be on hand at the tabernacle at 6 a. m. to await the advent of the Lord. Until then, he advised them to buy in Waukegan, neighboring lake shore city—this because Federal court receiver has wrested control of the once lucrative Zion institutions and industries which Voliva had directed as a co-operative venture for a score of years.

United States Department of Labor statistics reveal that American workers lost $50,000,000 in wages through strikes and lockouts during the first seven months of 1934.

Roman Calmly Watches Perspiring Sheriff Pitch Vegetables In Street

BRECKENRIDGE, Tex.—Passive resistance availing him not, J. W. Roman saw his ramshackle vegetable stand forcibly removed from the site of Breckenridge's new post office.

At the same time, Roman found he had been put out of business, temporarily at least. For city officials refused him a permit to set up his stand anywhere else in the business district. They contended it would be a violation of fire ordinances.

The controversy arose about a week ago when "squatters" were ordered off the postoffice lot. They were in the way of preliminary construction work. Roman contended that local officials had no authority to evict him.

When ask whose authority he would need, Roman said he would obey that of President Roosevelt.

After thinking this over for a while, officials decided it wouldn't be so good to take their problem to the President, so they obtained a court order requiring Roman to show cause why his stand shouldn't be moved. The order expired at midnight last night.

Toiling under a blaring sun, the perspiring sheriff and a gang of deputies piled Roman's stock of watermelons, potatoes, onions, tomatoes and such like in the street today, and, alongside, dumped the wreckage of his stand, after they tore it down.

"You're doing it—I ain't," Roman remarked as he stood calmly by refusing to aid the sheriff. Then Roman hired a truck and moved his belongings to his home—the only place he had to take them after the city barred him from the business district.

Roman, with a capital investment of $3, opened his stand 13 months ago and built up a trade that provided a comfortable living. He formerly was an RFC worker. Living with him here are three of his nine children.

LEGUME HAY BEST

"The best forage plants are alfalfa and vetch. Alfalfa may be placed in the front rank of such plants; for once sown it lasts 10 years, fattens lean cattle and is good for the sick."

Thus in substance the leading agriculturist of his day advise his fellow farmers. The quotation is from the writings of Lucius Columella, author of the most complete ancient treatise on agriculture, who lived in the first century of our era, about 1900 years ago.

Similar advice is contained in a bulletin of the Department of Agriculture. It is declared that "an abundance of home-grown legume hay is the basis for an economical ration for dairy cows." Such hay is not only more palatable, but furnishes more milk-making nutriment at less cost than other feedings.

Although the superiority of legumes has been taught by experts from Columella's time to the present only about 40 percent of the hay grown in the United States legume hay, and in the dairying states, where feeding it would be the most advantageous, the percentage is even less.

Both for nutriment and soil building, legume hay should have a prominent place in every farmer's program. Columella's advice is as good today as it was 19 centuries ago.

U. S. CRIME REPORT

A report issued by the Department of Justice discloses that two-thirds of the arrests for crime during the first six months of this year were of persons between the ages of 15 and 24, those of 19 years exceeding the number in any other age group.

The greatest number of youthful criminals were arrested for larceny and burglary, and contrary to the general belief, more native-born than foreign-born were arrested relative population of each being considered.

The report also shows, contrary to popular belief again, that Chicago's murder record is relatively low when compared with many other cities, while the highest murder rate was made by Chattanooga, Tennessee, closely followed Jacksonville, Fla., and Memphis, Tennessee. Of 89 cities for which statistics were given 19 reported no murders during the half year covered by the survey. It was observed that January and February were the months of fewer assaults, while during these months robbery and burglary were unusually prevalent. Previous reports showed that for some reason this variation was usual during the winter months.

Plenty of statistics are available concerning the high prevalence of crime in the United States, but in spite of all efforts little progress is being made toward suppressing criminal activities.

WAR UNLIKELY NOW

Disturbing as recent events in Germany and Austria have been, it appears that there is little likelihood of another European war in the near future. Having passed through the unrest incident to Hitler's killing of alleged traitors among his own following; the assassination of Chancellor Dollfuss of Austria, and the apprehension occasioned by the death of Hindenburg, conditions in Central Europe seem to be rather less threatening than heretofore.

Hitler's latest autocratic action in presuming to dictate to the Protestant clergy of Germany has created another ugly situation but whatever the outcome, it does not at the moment appear likely to cause international complications.

Mussolini's determination to maintain Austria's independence and his warning to Hitler to keep hands off Austrian affairs has on the whole tended to have sobering effect of Hitler, while raising no serious protest from France or other interested nations.

The desperate economic plight of most European countries is such as to make the financing of a war most difficult, if not impossible, although continued internal unrest in both Germany and Austria may lead to further violence among their own people. In the meantime, the efforts of former Empress Zita to restore the monarchy in Austria are being observed with some apprehension.

The Story Of The Bible Told In Pictures

THE ISRAELITES SAFELY PASS THROUGH THE RED SEA.—After the slaughter of the first-born, Pharaoh told the children of Israel to depart from Egypt. Then commenced the wanderings of the children of Israel, who spent forty years in the wilderness, before they reached the promised land of Canaan. And the Lord went before the Israelites by day in a pillar of cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire. Pharaoh's heart was hardened toward the children of Israel after their departure and he took his army and pursued them. God instructed Moses to lift his rod and stretch his hand over the Red Sea. And the waters of the Red Sea parted and they went through on dry land. But when the Egyptians pursued, Moses again stretched forth his hand. And the waters returned, and covered the chariots, and the horse-men, and all the host of Pharaoh that came into the sea after them; there remained not so much as one of them.—Ex. 14: 28. This illustration is from Merian's story of the Bible engraved in 1625.

OUR PAST

By C. C. BISHOP

After the battle of the Alamo, Sam Houston did not think it wise for the Texans to stage another battle with the Mexicans on the frontier, therefore this allowed Santa Anna and his army to come into the more settled territory of the state.

Houston retreated east of the Colorado River and then continued his retreat until he had crossed the Brazos.

This left a vast region of Texas unprotected and in the wake of the Mexican army. The man power of the country was in the field with Houston. This left a large number of defenseless women and children with no other option other than to flee to safety.

It was then that the "runaway scrape"—the flight of the colonists toward the east—became a veritable panic.

Many stories have been told of the runaway and the methods used in this travel. In Jasper county a woman tied a feather bed on her pony and fastened three of her children to it; taking the fourth in her arms and leading the pony she joined the "flying squadron" of Jasper's Runaways.

While another woman started from her home in a wagon with a baby nine days old. During the first night in a camp a terrific rain storm came. Other women in camp gathered around the sick woman and held blankets over her to keep her and her baby dry and warm.

It was an unusually wet spring and on the road, as far as the eye could reach east and west, a matted crowd of suffering and perplexed humanity struggled, uncomplaining, through the mud.

Occasionally the report would come to the "runaways" that the Mexicans were close behind, thus causing the hapless victims to abandon what new valuables they had tried to save.

There were broken down wagons and household goods scattered all along the road. Stores with quite valuable stocks of goods stood open, the goods on the shelves, no attempt having been made to remove them.

At each cry, "The Mexicans," though a daily occurrence, always created a panic. Bedding, provisions and everything would be thrown off to lighten the wagons, and the horses whipped into a run.

The prairie at times was white with feathers emptied from beds, and the road lined for miles with household goods.

One man writing about the country after the people had abandoned their homes, stated that he saw houses standing open, the beds unmade, the breakfast things still on the tables, pans of milk moulding. There were cribs full of corn, smoke houses full of bacon, yards full of chickens that ran after us for food, nests of eggs in every fence corner, young corn and gaily developed truck rejoicing in the rain, cat-

Hezekiah Pleads for Reform

Text: II Chronicles 30:1-9, 13
The International Uniform Sunday School Lesson for September 9.

Studying the sermons of the prophets Amos, Hosea and Micah, we can sense that behind them lay the failure of the people to live properly, and to incorporate justice and truth into their national and social living.

If we have throughout history the tragic evidences of failure in personal and social life, we have, also, thank God, the record of great eras when men were aroused to a sense of their condition, and when, under divine influence and prophetic leadership they purged their souls from sin and re-established life upon the higher plane.

It is one of these great epochs, or movements for reform, with which our lesson deals. It was the time of the Passover—a time sacred in the life and tradition of Israel that marked essentially God's protection and guidance of the people and his choice of them to serve his purposes.

Yet the priests themselves, who ought to have been leading in that celebration, were not sufficiently sanctified—a lack of ceremonial purification that, possibly, symbolized a condition of heart.

It was under these circumstances that Hezekiah rallied the leaders of Israel and Judah to Jerusalem with the people that might observe the Passover in sincerity and in repentance.

So the message went forth from the king and his supporters thruval of all Israel and Judah, from Dan to Beersheba; that is, from the most modern city to the most southern. It was a message of appeal to the people to turn to the Lord and to consecrate themselves to the rebuilding of the nation in righteousness and truth.

It was a time of humiliation, when the nation had suffered defeat in war and when many had been carried off into captivity by conquering Assyria.

In his message to the people, Hezekiah reminds them of these things—he assures them that evil has fallen upon the nation because of the sinfulness of their fathers.

He appeals to them not to be stiff-necked like those who had pursued their own perverse way, but to sanctify themselves and to serve the Lord. Along with this Hezekiah assures the people of the Lord's graciousness and mercy, that he will not turn his face away from those who will turn to him and who seek his blessing.

The message had its effect. Multitudes of people came to keep the feast of unleavened bread, ready and willing to respond to the call of a new crusade.

It is the capacity for repentance, for retracing the ways where he has gone astray; it is the fact that God never casts away those who will turn to him, upon which we build the hope of mankind.

The world has never reached so dark a condition of degradation and seeming despair but the divine spark in man has fanned a flame of new life and idealism.

The influences that created a revival of Israel are powerful to create a revival again whenever and wherever prophetic leaders can set them at work.

As the sudden changes of weather that we have been having are a relief after the long dry summer, and the school teachers are coming to resume their work, I saw.

S. L. Maxwell and a group of neighbors talking about the bright prospects of a late crop in the Salt Fork community.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Russell saying they will have to swim to reach their car parked in the center of the street after the down-pour Saturday.

E. B. Morgan and H. A. Phillips agreeing that the more rain we have the better we like it.

Jack Harrison standing with his hands in his pocket scanning the sky—guess he was wondering if he would get to Aberdeen if it had rained there as much as it did here.

Mrs. E. G. Pierce and another lady trying to decide the best way to handle a car while driving in the mud.

Mrs. Joe Hardy leaving the drug store carrying a bag of merchandise—looked like she had been to a sale.

W. L. O'Rear wondering if there was a destructive hail storm in the Buck Creek Community, think someone informed him there was not.

Cletus Rollins and Uncle Ed Wynn sitting on the curb watching the traffic go by.

Mrs. E. W. Moss and Mrs. C. E. High debating which is more economical for cooking—gas or electricity—and finally asking G. C. Bell's opinion.

Grant Jolly, H. K. Willingham and R. F. Roady talking about fall prospects and the probability, turnout of cotton in the Aberdeen community.

Roy Harrison pausing in the rain to give a small member of the Junior Police a word of encouragement.

R. E. Farmer in town Saturday morning wearing a broad grin saying things are looking up in the Quail community.

Vivian and Zula V. Port standing on their front porch with their rain coats ready to go to town when the rain stopped.

Jack Harper taking in some cotton sacks on display in front of LeDerer's window after they had become soaking wet in the rain.

John Roy Noles, Silas Henry, Jr. and several other junior police boys looking all dressed up and important in their uniforms and new police badges as they directed traffic.

Bess Owens giving his opinion as to the best way to plant cotton and maize.

Mrs. Jack McCauley, Mrs. Jack Hurst and Mrs. E. E. Donagoo buying drinks in a local drug store.

Helen Hudson and Norma Slay shopping in the rain.

WELLINGTON

People . . . Places . . . Philosophy

By Jimmie Gilentine

With school opening, groceries, rising in price and rains still falling over this section it is hard to tell just where we do stand right now.

A funny thing is that most of the kids I know are glad that school is starting again. Of course, it is nice for children to have such an attitude and I am sure that they will be better for such an ideal view on the topic of schools—but I can remember when times were vastly different. However, that was back in the good old days when the little boys wore knee pants and getting your first pair of "longies" was not only a marker in the progress of a boy's life, but was also a community event. How well I remember my first pair of long pants. It rather caused a family argument. Quite a few of the boys in my class were already wearing long trousers and naturally, I was in favor of the long pants.

Dad rather favored the idea and mother was highly opposed. Finally, Dad won the argument on the grounds that I would start wearing them soon anyhow and that it would be a waste of money to buy a suit with short trousers, which would soon be discarded.

When we started down to get the long anticipated suit I began to get cold feet and remember saying, "Well, if you and mother don't want me to have the trousers I can get along fine." All bridges had been burned, however, and I got the suit—a nice gray one. I think mother cried a little bit when I showed the new pants to her. I only wore them once before school closed that year. I remember that a faint twinkle of a smile crossed Catherine Leggett's face, she was my teacher, when I came into the school room. At the noon hour the kids all raved me plenty, but nothing to compare with the way Ross Wilkerson kidded me when he saw me. Then there was Roy Horn, T.

E. Benge, Webb Moore, Raymond Young, and D. D. McDowell; I remember their remarks right now. In fact when I walked down the street I just knew that everyone was talking about me.

Yes, sir, life was miserable for a while. I do think it is a shame that the kids of 1934 start wearing long trousers right after they are out of diapers and miss all of the fun and sensations known to the young men of today, each of whom I am sure remember his first pair of "longies."

It has been called to my attention that an effort is being made to start a Campfire Girls troop here in Wellington. Such news is indeed gratifying. Heretofore, we have spent a lot of time on the Boy Scouts, 4-H Girls and Boys, but nothing has been done toward the Wellington girls. I don't know who the leaders of the movement are, but I think that the Kiwanis Club is responsible for the present movement and I am sure if that bunch gets behind the idea that something will develop. If any interested girls will write letters and send or bring them to the Leader we will be glad to publish them urging the creation of such an organization. I think that would help a lot toward hurrying the work.

I am glad to say that both troops of Scouts are progressing at top speed. They even have the work now where certain Scouts credits can be used as College work for boys who later attend college. I don't know just what may be acceptable, but Roy Harrison can tell the boys.

I guess most people have already planted their fall gardens, or at least a good fall turnip crop. A good cow, a turnip crop and enough meal to make cornbread is really something for which to be thankful. The turnip is really a versatile vegetable. It dons tables in the most modest homes and may also be found decorating the bill of fare in the most sumptuous abodes. First, you can eat greens until they grow tiresome, then you can have boiled turnips. After a while they can be made into salads—and I have read even where they were ground up and made into bread, however, I have never enjoyed this delicacy.

Everyone should plant a big turnip crop—and if they have any left over they should bring them to me.

It may be surprising to many as it was to us, to learn that around a million pairs of wooden shoes are manufactured and worn in the United States every year, but such is the case, according to the Department of Commerce.

Ten factories in eight states specialize in the manufacture of wooden footwear, which ranges from sandals for women and children to heavy work shoes for men. Soles from half an inch to three inches in thickness are used for the heavy work shoes.

Prices of wooden shoes range from $1 to $3 a pair, while high boots with wooden soles bring $6. They are in demand by workers in damp fields in certain parts of the country, and by those in factories who must stand on wet concrete floors. The movies and the stage also use some of this product.

Wooden shoe factories are located in New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Illinois, Iowa, Wisconsin, Nebraska and Florida. They keep stocks on hand for immediate delivery, just as makers of leather shoes do, but those used on the stage are usually made to special order.

An Oakland, Calif., bank has installed a chute leading from the street to an underground vault, which enables customers to make deposits outside of banking hours.

Paris subways have 60 miles of track, operate 297 trains and carry an average of 1,860,000 passengers a day.

Beauty Contest Winner Goes To World's Fair

Ruth Lee Jones Represents West Texas And New Mexico At Fair

The highest honors in the 1934 beauty contest staged with beauties from over the entire State of New Mexico and West Texas go to lovely Ruth Lee Jones of Clovis, New Mexico, chosen as the new "Queen of the West." Miss Jones is a pretty blonde, five feet four, weighs 119, blue eyes, 19 years of age, has a wonderful personality and a fascinating dimple on each cheek.

Miss Jones leaves Sunday, September 2, on her World's Fair trip. Upon her arrival at the Century of Progress she will be officially received by J. A. Riely, supervisor of Official Events and will also visit and be introduced at the New Mexico Exhibit Century of Progress.

Miss Jones prefers to make the entire trip by bus and will leave Clovis, New Mexico, via New Mexico Transportation Company. At Amarillo she will ride the Lee-Way Stages to Oklahoma City where she will complete her trip to Chicago by Greyhound Lines.

After leaving Chicago, "The Queen of the West" will complete a circle tour and will return by way of Omaha and Kansas City on the Jefferson Transportation Line.

A number of radio and stage appearances are expected to be arranged while enroute and while in Chicago.

Through the courtesy of the Ford Motor Company and by special arrangements of Ben Hill, Kateway Auto Company, Ford dealer of Clovis, Miss Jones will have a uniformed driver and a car at her disposal during her entire stay in Chicago. She will also be conducted through the Ford plant at Chicago by a special guide.

Newspaper interviews, radio appearances and personal appearances are expected to mark her every visit in the stop-over cities and in Chicago. Miss Ruth Lee Jones is the only beauty selected who will represent New Mexico and West Texas at the Century of Progress this year.

County H. D. Agent

Mrs. C. A. Kesler of the Fresno Home Demonstration club is making pillow protectors out of flour sacks.

The protector is made to fit the pillow closely and is buttoned at the end of the protector so that it may be easily changed.

Mrs. Kesler says that each person should make pillow protectors since this saves the pillow and also gives a better foundation for the pillow case.

AGRICULTURAL ASSOCIATION TRAINING SCHOOL

Representatives from the local Agricultural Association will meet in Wellington at the Home Demonstration agent's office at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon, September 3.

The purpose of this meeting is to elect officers for the Agricultural Association Council and to study the selection and storage of garden and field seed, drying and storage of beans and peaches. These representatives will all be trained in this subject matter then they will go back to their community and give the people this subject matter at the regular meeting of the Agricultural Association. The people of Nicholson, Enterprise and Lutie are very interested in this program of work.

Thelma Simpson of Houselog 4-H Club has been patching overalls and shirts and darning hose since she studied patching and darning in club work.

Mrs. Simpson says that she is very glad to see Thelma so interested in her club work and likes to see her assume a part of the responsibility in the care of the clothes for the family.

Mrs. H. H. Shanks of the Fresno Home Demonstration Club has just completed a crocheted bed spread which will be displayed for sale at the Amarillo Tri-State Fair September 15 to 22. The design is similar to the old colonial knitted spreads with a popcorn stitch used to form a star design. She has used a drop stitch around the star to emphasize the design. The spread was crocheted in blocks then crocheted together, planning the block so that the corners are not so bungleome. To make the spread more finished she has added a three inch fringe around the spread.

Magene Fritts, a 4-H Club girl from Plymouth is taking the responsibility of taking care of her mothers cup towels. Following the making of cup towels in a club lesson, she went home and hemmed her mother's cup towels and made some dish cloths out of knitted material. After the cup towels are used each time, Maygene rinses them out. She also sees that they are neatly folded and stacked in the drawer for kitchen linens.

County Agent Gives Instructions Regarding Use Of Rented Acreage

By JOHN O. Stovall
County Agent

The county agent's office has been kept pretty busy this week in answering questions of contract signers in regard to the uses of their contracted acres, and also the rules governing the planting of basic commodities on their farms. In answering these questions, we only refer to our instructions, which have been handed down by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Some 30 days ago this office was notified that all restrictions had been removed regarding the uses of the rented acres, the producers can plant these rented acres to any crop except basic commodities, and in no other condition can rented acres be planted to basic commodities. Some of the contract signers want to know if they can plant wheat, and the answer is no. That is, unless they plant it for fall pasture and then all wheat will have to be destroyed by April 1, 1935, and under no condition can the wheat be harvested. These regulations do not apply to farmers who have been raising wheat, and state on their contract table 1 that they did have wheat in 1932 and 1933. In event that a producer plants and harvests wheat all contracts held by him will be cancelled and all monies paid him by the government will have to be repaid, and would keep him from entering into any future program.

Second Cotton Checks

There are some 200 cotton contracts that have not been settled and we are expecting these checks daily, and will notify each party interested in these checks. We do not know just why these checks are not in. All information we can get is that all the contracts have been approved for payment, and that the checks will be mailed immediately. The second rental check will be in just as soon as enough performance certificates have been turned in, to make 75 per cent of our total contracts. We think that we will be able to ship to call all contract signers who have excess cotton acres to have this plowed up at once so that the performance slips can be sent to Washington. In no case will the second rental payment be made until all performance certificates are turned in, that is, the producers who hold out in plowing up their cotton, will not get their checks until they have complied with their contracts.

CARD OF THANKS

We take this opportunity of expressing our appreciation and sincere thanks to the people in Wellington, Salt Fork and Lillie communities for their faithfulness and kindness which was shown to us during the illness and death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Julia Pearson and family.

Cattle Shipments Show Big Increase

AUSTIN, Texas—The efforts to stock raisers in cooperation with the Government to salvage as much as possible from the ravages of the drouth and to conserve the limited feed and pasturage for the coming months were reflected in livestock shipments in Texas during July, according to Dr. F. A. Buechel, assistant director of the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research.

"The unprecedented total of 8,381 cars was shipped to Fort Worth and interstate points during the month against 3,366 cars during the similar month a year ago," he said. "These figures do not include shipments to markets within the State other than Fort Worth or the cattle purchased by the Government and processed by canning plants for emergency relief. Contributing further to the disappearance of livestock from Texas ranges are unusually high death losses and the destruction of diseased and emaciated animals by the Government.

"Cattle and calf shipments accounted for practically all of the increase, although there was a slight increase in the number of sheep, while shipments of hogs were only half as large.

"The hog statistics for the month deserve special notice. During July this year the receipts of hogs into Texas from outside states exceeded shipments to the states by 112 cars; whereas in July, 1933, shipments from Texas to outside states exceeded receipts from out of State points by almost exactly the same number of cars. Moreover, this disparity is likely to increase in future months as the Government program of hog reduction last year did not get well under way until about August. The sharp rise in hog prices which promises to reach a still higher level in the coming months intensifies the outflow of money from Texas for live hogs, to say nothing of the added amounts for dressed pork, of which there is at present no record."

The boy was frightened, but unscratched.

He fell before the reaper and was swallowed up by the machine. His father, expecting to find him dead or badly injured discovered the youngster unharmed in the middle of a shock.

"New Money" Due To Reach Banks Within Few Days

WICHITA FALLS, Tex.—New $10 silver certificates, issued under President Roosevelt's order nationalizing silver, will be received by Wichita Falls Banks within the next few days. The first of the certificates for the 11th federal reserve district were received at the Dallas Federal Reserve bank Wednesday.

The certificates also are being issued in denominations of $1 and $5. In appearance the new certificates are virtually the same as the old ones. However, there is some difference in the wording, with the new certificate pointing out: "This certifies that there is on deposit in the treasury of the United States ten dollars, payable in silver on demand." It also states that "this certificate is legal tender for all debts, public and private."

The old certificates said "This certifies that there has been deposited in the treasury of the United States 10 silver dollars," and that the certificate was acceptable in payment of public debts only under certain conditions. It made no mention of its being acceptable in the payment of private debts.

Drouth Crops To Show At Fair

DALLAS—Results of many years of experimental work in drouth resisting crops will be one of the principal features of the farm show at the 48th annual exposition, State Fair of Texas, it has been announced here by J. A. Moore, superintendent of agriculture, who has been working with officials of Texas A & M college and other agricultural agencies of the state in gathering such exhibits.

Special preparation of the soil, special drouth resisting seeds, and special means of cultivation are necessary for these crops and all of these methods and results thereof will be shown in the State Fair Agricultural Show. One feature of this method of farming will be an exhibit of corn where under the terrible drouth conditions the farmer raises a thirty-five bushel corn crop, while his neighbors corn across the road was a total failure.

Agricultural agencies of Texas have been experimenting with such crops for several years, but the 1934 season has provided the first real tests for them and the results will be exhibited for the first time at the fair, opening Saturday, October 6, and extending on through Sunday, October 21.

During the past two years American Red Cross workers distributed 105,000,000 garments to needy persons.

Tri-State Fair Attractions Are Best In History

Tom Mix, Movie Star, Will Head 3-Ring Circus At Fair This Year

AMARILLO—More major attractions are offered by the Tri-State Fair here, September 15-22, than ever before in its history.

And the entertainment takes a wider scope, too.

Turf fans from far and near are interested, of course, in the exposition's racing program. Seven races a day for seven days are on this program with entries from all the major tracks.

With legalized wagering there's an added thrill when the thoroughbreds thunder down the home-stretch and one's judgment is balanced by a nose.

There will be other sports, such as wrestling, boxing and baseball. Excellent wrestling and boxing cards will be staged.

That bewhiskered House of David tournament-winning baseball team will be here for two games on the exposition grounds, one with the Amarillo Merchants on Thursday morning, September 20, and one with Borger's Phillips 66 Saturday morning, September 22.

Tom Mix, screen star, heads the Sam B. Dill three-ring circus, which will give two performances daily during the fair. Mix and his marvelous mount, Tony, will appear in five different acts at each performance. There are several other stars with the circus.

The Western States carnival Co. with 17 shows and 14 thrilling rides, will be on the midway thru-out the seven days.

A motor show, which is offering such capital prizes as a new car, a radio and sets of tires, will be another attraction.

Many contests also are planned. Among the contests is a "Better Babies" show, with doctors and nurses as judges.

Choral contests will be conducted by the fair's newest department, music. The chorus numbers will be broadcast. Any senior or junior chorus is eligible to compete.

Wilbur C. Hawk, who inaugurated the first "free gate" policy of the fair, which has grown into the second largest exposition in Texas, is president of the association this year.

Local Students To Benefit By Federal Scholarship Plan

Outstanding scholarship and special ability were the basis of awards of Federal Educational Administration plans through which scholarships were awarded to James Young and Curtis Clement of this county, who will attend W. T. S. T. C. at Canyon this fall.

The qualifications of every applicant was carefully investigated and every possible effort made to choose young people who will be better for having this opportunity. Professor C. A. Murray of the college mathematics department headed the committee which made the selections and Dr. J. A. Hill himself checked the records of all those recommended and then gave his final approval to the best of the selected group.

A woolen mitten and a woolen cloak, believed to date back to 100 B. C., have been found in the peat bogs of Sweden.

Accused of cruelty to his dog, James Kilsley of St. Louis was acquitted when the animal tried to lick his master's face in court.

Built in 1660, the Dillingham house at Brewster, Mass., at present is occupied by the eighth generation of the family.

Avalanche Again Alters Niagara Falls

Niagara Falls submitted to another of Mother Nature's face-lifting operations when a fifteen thousand ton chunk of rock, undermined by erosion, broke loose from the brink of Horseshoe Falls and dashed into great pieces in the Niagara Gorge, piling about the base of the falls. The inset, shows a close-up of the great gap left in the bring after the rock had broken off, between Goat Island and the apex of the Horseshoe Falls. Indicated, also, is the location of the great avalanche of 1931, in which eighty thousand tons of rock fell, changing the contour of the American Falls.

Man Laughs, Sobs, Shouts And Mumbles As Result Of Disease

MT. GILEAD, Ohio—Through the dawn and into the still night of a small farming community a man lies talking without end.

He is Donald Campbell, a 32-year-old truck driver for a Columbus, Ohio, firm, suffering from "talking sickness."

Never strong, and weighing only about 130 pounds with his five feet and four inches of height, he is weakening under the nervous strain of a fever which—now in its 11th day—has caused him to shout, mumble, laugh and sob.

He lies in a bed at the home of his father, Blain Campbell, in the village of Edison, two miles west of here, with his wife watching over him much of the time and their small daughter wondering at the strange words of her father.

Diagnosed as a form of encephalitis, his illness is akin to "sleeping sickness," but the effect is the opposite. Except for a few hours under the influence of a sedative, he has had no sleep at all.

Campbell does not talk of his ailment. He recognizes acquaintances and, although he has shown no actual signs of mental derangement, his talks is incoherent much of the time.

Ice packs cool his brain. His physician, Dr. C. S. Jackson, says a crisis may come later in the week or possibly not for two weeks.

What brought on his illness, believed to result from an infection of the lower part of the brain, is uncertain. Dr. Jackson is disinclined to find significance in the fact that Campbell injured his head a year ago in a fall from a truck.

A tentative theory is that worry over his job was a contributing factor.

Campbell sometimes relates anecdotes of his boyhood or his truck driving, sometimes addresses his family and sometimes is shaken by sobs or shrieking laughter. During periods of coherence, he answers questions.

Although a flood of suggestions for his cure has come in, no practical use has been found for these ideas.

Local Folk Back From Legion Meet

A number of local folk returned last week from the State convention of American Legion, held in Mineral Wells. Those who attended from here were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Seaberry, Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Clay, D. B. Reynolds and Miss Jewell Sugg.

Included among the outstanding convention speakers were National Commander Edward Hayes, Jimmie Allred, governor-elect, Wright Patman, John Thomas Taylor, and Tom Conalley.

Local delegates reported a splendid time and Mrs. Clay said that bear and buffalo meat were best when barbecued in Texas by Legionnaires.

CARD OF THANKS

To those friends and neighbors who were so kind to us in our hour of bereavement following the death of James Monroe Higgins, we want to extend our heartfelt thanks. Your kindness has made this sad time easier to bear and we will remember your consideration and sympathy as long as we live.

IT GIVES YOU GREATER MOTOR PROTECTION BECAUSE it Has 2 to 4 Times Greater Film Strength

here is the Evidence!

This block was lubricated with a high-quality, premium grade motor oil.

This block was lubricated with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil.

THESE metal blocks (sketches from actual blocks) are visible evidence that New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil gives you greater motor protection.

Both blocks were used in a Timken testing machine which measures film strength. The same pressure was applied to both, under identical conditions.

The block at the left was lubricated with a competitive, premium-grade motor oil. The one at the right was lubricated with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil. Look at the difference in wear! Measurements show the block on the right suffered 96.5 per cent less wear!

This and hundreds of other tests prove that this new patented oil has 2 to 4 times greater film strength than a straight mineral oil.

High-speed motors demand oil with great film strength. Continental has developed that oil for you—an oil that gives greater motor protection and lower oil consumption. The famous Destruction Test at Indianapolis, in which New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil was tested against five nationally-known competitive oils, proved that this new oil has both of those characteristics. (AAA Sanction No. 3001).

18,000 Conoco Red Triangle Stations in 40 states have this new oil for you. Drive in and fill with New and Improved Conoco Germ Processed Motor Oil—the oil with the "Hidden Quart". Your motor worries will then be eliminated.

County Receives Rain Saturday Followed By Crop Damages Sunday

General Rain Is Reported South From Salt Fork

Considerable Hail Damage Accompanies Rain; Sand Burns Crops

Farmers Saturday afternoon saw two inches of rain fall over Collingsworth County in the second downpour here during the past 15 days. Hail damages were reported on a few farms north and east of Wellington with considerable damage, while practically all of the farms in the north end of the county were "burned" by blowing sand Sunday afternoon.

Wellington recorded two inches of rain and heavy precipitation was reported from Salt Fork River, seven miles north of here, south through this county on into Childress. Dodsonville areas also received a nice rainfall, while the heavy precipitation extended west to Memphis.

Most of the rain was thought to have stopped on the north at the river, however. Little precipitation was shown at Nicholson and two miles north of Aberdeen was reported to have received little rain. Residents of the Fresno community reported the heaviest rain in recent years.

Great damage was said to have been inflicted on young cotton in the north end of the county Sunday afternoon when an electric storm played havoc, hurling grains of sand on the young cotton. Farmers said that cotton was badly burned through this process—and turned red after coming into contact with the electrically charged particles of sand.

"Hoops, My Dears" A La Japan

Few pictures tell more vividly how modern the Japanese have become than this recent beach scene, picturing comely daughters of Nippon, clad in the abbreviated manner of their western cousins, doing a bit of "hoop-rolling." Such a scene would have been unimaginable a decade ago, when the activities of Japanese womanhood were controlled by rigid, century-old custom.

of the other section for the district championship on Thanksgiving day. The district winner will be entitled to enter the bi-district play the following week.

"The trip to the mountains was a success from every standpoint. There was much accomplished so far as football was concerned. Two practice periods were held each day. In spite of the rain, which fell almost each day we were there, only one practice period was missed, and it was substituted with an hour of lecture on rules.

"Sunday, August 25, was the day for rest and no football was played on that day. A ride over Red River Pass was arranged with the help of John Henry Baumgardner who furnished the truck for transportation. "Besides the prospects of a good team, Wellington has one of the best gridirons in this part of the state upon which to play. A lot of work has been done on the field this summer. I wish to thank Mr. Farrar and the School Board for what they have done."

Cost Of--

Retail grocers of Wellington are selling many products at the present time at a price equal to cost of wholesale replacement. As soon as the present stock of supplies are diminished further advances on food supplies are anticipated. Federal government surveys show similar increases over the entire United States.

Druggist Goes To Dove Hunt

Joe Hardy and Dr. E. W. Jones left Wednesday for Clarendon to attend the annual Dove Hunt held by a group of old hunters in Clarendon annually. This will make the thirtieth continuous year in which the meet has been held. The club meets the first week in September each year and after a big pot of stew has been prepared the original group is joined by about fifty Clarendon business men. The original members of the club besides Mr. Hardy are: Dad Buntin, J. T. Patman and Johnie Martin.

Mahan Member History Society

CANYON, Sept. 6.—J. A. Mahan of Wellington has recently become an annual member of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society.

Between 40,000 and 50,000 visitors including representatives from practically every state in the Union and 18 foreign countries have viewed the many collections gathered in the Panhandle-Plains Historical Museum during the past sixteen months.

Professor L. F. Sheffy, who led the drive which resulted in building the museum, is spending this summer gathering materials and securing members for the organization.

Canning Plant--

eral other exchange schedules available, however, and will be published when the plant is opened.

No goods will be canned in glass at the plant. Persons who present meat to be canned must first chill their meat in a refrigeration system for a period of 48 hours at a temperature between 35 and 40 degrees. Patrons may rest assured that they will receive their own meat after it is canned—and not that presented by some other patron as meat will be properly tagged and kept straight.

Local extension and relief officials have not yet announced the exact time when the canning plant will be opened in this county.
