C-City blood drive set for March 28

On March 28, citizens of Colorado will have an opportunity to make an important personal contribution to the welfare of this community. That is the scheduled date of a blood drive to be held at the Civic Center from 2 p.m. to 8:30 p.m.

Geneva Killian, President, Chairman of the drive, would like every person to consider this drive to be an invitation for personal action–the simple, satisfying action of donating blood for a person in great need. In only 30 minutes you may give the most previous gift of all–the "Gift of Life."

In 1983, 78 units of blood were collected from this area. In 1984, 125 units of blood are needed to supply the needs of patients in your hospital. This blood can only come from caring individuals–the human body is still the only source.

Be a lifesaver. Make an appointment to donate blood by calling Root Memorial Hospital or stop by the Civic Center when the mobile unit is in the community on March 28. Your gift is vitally needed.

Mitchell County Appraisal District names BOR members

By LUIS RIOS

The Board of Directors for the Mitchell County Appraisal District accepted a second proposed contract from the Southwestern Appraisal Company and selected two new members for the Board of Review, during a regular meeting Thursday night.

Local real estate agent-realtor Fleta Lewis and Loraine resident and former Board of Review member Ray Preston were elected to the Mitchell County Appraisal District Board of Review.

Southwestern Appraisal Co. president and general manager D. C. Hamilton presented the board with two contracts for review.

The Appraisal District opted to accept a contract which would provide for keep-up through 1988. Under the new contract, the MC Appraisal District will pay only $7 per parcel compared to the $7.50 per parcelon the initial proposed contract.

Representing the Appraisal District was attorney Tom Rees.

Chairman Curtis Latimer appointed a committee to present a report on the alternatives for the purchase of an inhouse computer for use by the Appraisal District.

Chief Appraiser C. C. "Mike" Burt said the Appraisal District had several options to consider on the proposed purchase.

He listed these options: 1) the purchase of the computer in one large lump sum; 2) enter into a five-year rental agreement with an option to purchase) 3) finance the purchase on a quarterly payment basis for one year; 4) contact an entity or institution on the possibility of obtaining a loan for the purchase; 5) look into the possibilities of joining in with one or more entities locally to share a large computer.

Burt said the cost of a computer for the actual use by the Appraisal District would be approximately $50,000-plus.

The Colorado Independent School District earlier rejected a proposal by the MC Appraisal District for use of the CISD computer.

Appointed to the committee to look into the various alternatives are Ronnie Feaster, C. C. "Mike" Burt and Jay S. Craddock.

Alvarez seeks LISD bid

David Alvarez

David R. Alvarez announced to the RECORD Monday that he will be seeking a seat on the Loraine Independent School Board of Trustees.

The 24-year Mitchell County resident and Loraine school graduate, is employed by the Exxon Company USA.

"Frankly I am concerned as I look at the past and try to forsee the future at Loraine Schools," Alvarez said. "I feel I have something to offer which could be beneficial to the school. We have to study the issues involved and try to do the best for those involved.

"As many of you well know the issue of consolidation has been brought out, one has to wonder what would happen to the community if the schools closed. Personally I am against it. I am aware of the tax situation but there is a chance we might receive more state aid. As of this date a study is still in the process of being conducted on the school system. Until we have all the data before us, we should reserve judgement.

"From all indications there will be many changes implemented within the educational system. It is going to take a lot of work which I am willing to put forth in the best interest of students at Loraine schools.

"Even though I have never served in a position like this, I have some qualities and ideas which would be helpful to make the school function more efficiently. I have no children of my own in school but I would like to help solve the problems within the school system which might hinder your children. I have always felt

WHS students seek title; UIL competition nears

A dynasty is taking shape in Westbrook.

While other towns and schools are busy beefing up football players, this small community school is on the verge of stardom in academics and literary events.

Westbrook, who has always been strong in literary events in UIL competition, has ripped through the competition in Number Sense, calculator expertise and science this year.

The number sense team has claimed seven championships in invitational meets this year. The competition has included class A through 3A schools in meets in Rotan, Reagan County, San Angelo Lakeview, Post, Grady, San Angelo Central and their latest conquest at a state invitational meet in San Antonio.

Westbrook grabbed the top spot in Class A in the third annual Texas Math and Science Coaches Association Saturday.

Thanks to two first place finishes in number sense and science coupled with a second place finish in calculator competition, the Westbrook teams took Sweepstakes honors at the state meet.

The math team has claimed four Sweepstakes championships in the several meets already attended this year, sponsor Dan Truelove said.

Ironically, the students don't spend much class time working on the math contests, Truelove said.

Webb captures MC Spelling Bee

Jody Webb

By LUIS RIOS

It was "tallyho" for 8th grader Jody Webb as he edged out 7th grader Lisa Mendoza for the Mitchell County Spelling Bee title Thursday. The Spelling Bee is sponsored by the Colorado City RECORD.

Webb, 13, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Webb of 830 E. 11th St.

Lisa Mendoza is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julina Mendoza of 521 Cypress. Capturing third place was Candace Hudson. Hudson, 11 is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Hudson.

The trio which placed held off a field of some 34 contestants to claim the top three spots. But it was Webb, after Mendoza misspelled tallyho, who took the top honor by spelling it correctly.

Webb will advance to the regional Spelling Bee competition in Lubbock. The competition is scheduled for April 7 at Moody Coliseum at Lubbock Christian College. It is scheduled to begin

WISD board fires coach

The Westbrook Independent School District Board of Trustees voted Thursday to rescind a contract for WHS coach Keith Bundas after it had unanimously voted to rehire the girls' coach for the 1984-85 school year, during a meeting March 19.

"It's hard to talk about," said Bundas, an Aspermont native. The RECORD reached the former Westbrook coach at his home Friday afternoon.

Westbrook superintendent L. M. Dawson said the board voted not to accept the contract "for the general welfare of the school." Bundas was allegedly accused of misconduct towards team members. Dawson said the misconduct was in the classroom.

Bundas said his firing stems from an alleged note containing supposedly some kind of joke.

"I don't know what will develop and I don't know if I will take legal action," Bundas said.

He also added that slander, which he said cannot be substantiated, was issued at the school board meeting Thursday night.

Ironically, the school board accepted to rehire Bundas on a 7-0 vote Monday night.

"Big Top" slates big day in C-City

"One day only" best describes the intrigue of America's last big, traditional circus–Carson and Barnes 5-Ring Circus, which comes to Colorado City for performances at 4:30 and 8 p.m. on March 29 at E. 10th and Highway 208.

The circus is sponsored by Wolf Band Boosters.

The awesome task of moving and erecting this mammoth entertainment spectacular each day, seven days a week, 35 weeks a year has captured the imagination of the American public. The free display of old-time ingenuity–unloading and setting up the big show–attracts throngs to the circus grounds each morning throughout the season, good weather or bad, and this will be no exception. This year, beautiful teams of draft horses join elephants and men in this interesting job.

Activity at the circus grounds will begin about one hour past dawn.

All circus tickets include admission to the vast traveling zoo and horse fair, featuring such species as giraffes, rhinoceros and hippopotamus. Midway attractions open one hour before show time.

Tickets are available by contacting any Band Booster member, the Chamber of Commerce office and Judy's Beauty Shop at 1721 Vine St.

that if one puts enough time and dedication into a job it can be mastered.

"In some ways I may even have some advantages. As many of you know the minorities at the Loraine schools make up the majority of students. If the minority students and community has someone who: (1) they can relate to, (2) they feel free to express their opinions to and, (3) is easily accessible to everyone, then they would be more willing to put out a greater effort in school activities. Not only would they participate more but they would also offer the support and backing which is important in any endeavor.

"Another advantage could be the age factor. I feel I have a good rapport with the students and understand their needs. Thinking back to when I was in school, we always looked at the board as authoritarian and unaccessible. If we get the idea across that we are accessible and our concern is them, and not personal gain, then we would have a smoother functioning school system.

"In conclusion all I ask of you, the voters, is to study the issues and decide if you want to give me a chance to serve you and your children. It is easy to stand on the sidelines and watch but when one sees a need then one has to get involved, because we are dealing with our future. Won't you join me in making the future of the Loraine schools brighter."

Alvarez is also a member of the Manuel G. Martinez Chapter of the American G.I. Forum. He is a booster club member, parish council member, youth Bible study and summer baseball team coach.

He is a graduate of Loraine High School. He later attended Western Texas College and Angelo State University.

The students' grooming begins during their Junior High School years, Truelove said. Truelove said the junior high teams are also very competitive at all levels.

Westbrook will next compete at the District UIL meet in Midland Greenwood on March 28 and 30, Truelove said.

He said Westbrook could probably qualify two in number sense and two in calculator.

"If we are lucky, that is what we have a chance to do," Truelove said. "But we have to be a little lucky.

Despite the stiff competition at the district and regional level, Truelove and Westbrook are looking toward the future. There are no seniors on the Westbrook math teams this year and Truelove sports some of the best young talent around in his freshman, sophomore and junior classes.

Winners at the TMSCA meet were in the ninth grade division, Number Sense: 1) Hollis Brownie, 2) Stephanie Pierce, 3) Joe Bass; Calculator: 1) Dale Browne, 2) Elizabeth Burnett and Science: 1) Hollis Browne.

In the tenth grade division the lone Westbrook entry and winner was Kellye Smith who placed second in Number Sense and third in Science. The eleventh grade winners were Number Sense: 1) Don Geiger, 3) Charles Rice, 4) Don Zant; Calculator: 2) Clay Browne, 3) Donald Burnett, 5) Dewayne Hayes and Science: 1) Clay Browne and 3) Charles Rice.

Maddox files appeal on farm worker insurance

Attorney General Jim Mattox Friday said he strongly supports insurance coverage for farm and ranch workers and urged Governor Mark White and the Texas legislature to act quickly to see that such legislation is passed during a likely special session this spring.

In order to give the legislature time to act, Mattox said he is filing a notice of appeal on a ruling by state District Judge Harley Clark that struck down the statutory exclusion of farm and ranch laborers from insurance coverage under the Texas Workers' Compensation Act.

"Farm and ranch workers have been excluded from insurance coverage in Texas for more than half a century," Mattox said. "A change is long overdue. These workers face the same or greater hazards as other workers in our society.

"Today, I am filing a notice of appeal with the Third District Court of Appeals concerning Judge Clark's ruling," Mattox said. "I am doing this in order to give our legislators time to act on a bill that Tony Korioth and his committee have worked hard to put together."

In the meantime, Mattox said he recommends that the state's farmers and ranchers proceed immediately to obtain insurance coverage for their workers.

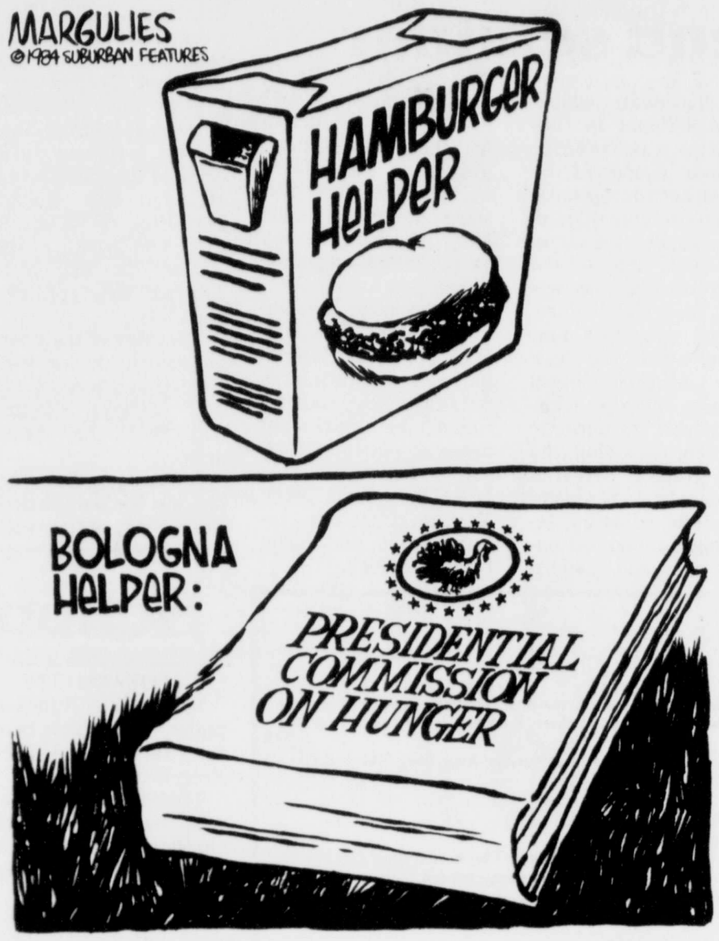

Mattox said Judge Clark's ruling "has complicated legal ramifications because there are questions about whether this court ruling in Travis County has statewide applicability.

"I firmly believe that the proper place for this issue to be resolved is in the legislature, not the courts," Mattox said. "Therefore, I hope quick action will occur when the legislature meets in special session."

Mattox said he has written a letter to Governor Mark White, urging him to include the issue in the specially called session.

"If this issue is not included in the special session or if the legislature does not act," Mattox said, "I will at such time reconsider the State's position concerning the appeal."

Assistant Attorney General Bill Barbisch is handling the case for Mattox.

Homemakers need financial security

By LLOYD BENTSEN
U.S. Senator

"A man works from sun to sun," according to the old saying. "A woman's work is never done." That remains true today when the woman is a homemaker.

Our nation's homemakers–male or female–devote years of self-sacrificing, unpaid work to care for their families.

Yet they so easily can be forced into financial crisis when confronted by the untimely death of a spouse or a dissolved marriage. Many face old age dependent solely upon miniumum Social Security benefits.

Estimates are that 30 to 50 million homemakers are rapidly approaching retirement age without any type of retirement plan. And the future for them now isn't encouraging.

It's becoming increasingly difficult, for everyone, to achieve financial security during retirement. Older persons are living longer, retiring earlier and becoming increasingly dependent on retirement income programs. By the turn of the century, 13 percent of our population will be over age 65.

At the same time, the declining birth rate will mean fewer workers supporting more beneficiaries in the Social Security system. In 1935, for example, there were nine workers for every aged person. In 1977 the worker to aged ratio was four to one, and there were three workers for every Social Security beneficiary. By the year 2050, there will be two workers for every beneficiary.

It's easy to see that our retirement system cannot absorb that kind of overload. One way to ease the burden on the system is to enable and encourage individuals to provide for their own retirement.

Homemakers, like the self-employed and those whose jobs do not offer a retirement plan, deserve the opportunity to provide for financial security in old age.

That is why I have introduced legislation that would allow non-salaried homemakers to participate fully in Individual Retirement Accounts.I have supported this since 1979, and hope that the Administration's recent endorsement of this concept will help speed its passage.

Under current law, wage earners may receive a tax deduction on up to $2,000 in income they deposit in an IRA. This limit is increased to $2,250 if the wage earner sets up an IRA for his or her spouse.

I do not believe this is fair to homemakers who have not worked outside the home or who have interrupted their careers temporarily.

My legislation would allow the homemaker to start an IRA whether or not the wage earner has one. Both the homemaker and the employed spouse could contribute up to $2,000 annually, for a $4,000 maximum, and each would receive the IRA tax deduction.

The Bentsen bill would enable homemakers to establish their own retirement funds.

Mobile home shoppers select dealers carefully

By JIM MATTOX
Attorney General

Consumers shopping for mobile homes should be particularly careful about selecting a dealer at this time. Attorneys in my Consumer Protection Division tell me that a large number of manufactured housing retailers are going out of business these days. If you buy a home from a dealer who later closes his doors, you will have a lot more difficulty getting warranty work done.

In Texas, manufactured housing brokers, dealers and manufacturers are all required to post a bond with the state Department of Labor and Standards. Retailers must post a $50,000 bond to protect consumers in case the dealer goes out of business or becomes insolvent, and a manufacturer must put up a $100,000 bond. If you plan to buy your mobile home in a nearby state, you should know that some dealers in Louisiana and New Mexico are bonded so that they can sell to Texas consumers. Others are not. Remember, your protection in those states is likely to be less than here in Texas.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to Editor:
To whom it may concern,

We are writing this in response to the episode displayed Thursday night at the Opti-Ms. youth basketball games.

As tax-paying citizens we are apalled at the bad sportsmanship and leadership displayed in front of our youth.

We believe every team should lose, it makes winners in the long run. It takes character to lose gracefully. That isn't my complaint at all.

But is sad when some of the leaders are guilty of teaching our kids it's "cool" to curse and call the opposition names, in an effort to rattle them to win the game.

The Opti-Ms. Club is one of the best organizations around, with members who put a lot of hard work into making the group a success. Their concern is our children, the leaders of tomorrow.

But what kind of leaders will they be if the leaders today don't set good examples. We're sorry the recreation has been abused so badly, as the others.

The question is, what do we do about it without stooping to their levelor just giving up and stop our children from participating. It's a shame that a few bad apples are spoiling a lot of fun for everyone else.

Glenn Butler., Pastor of Plainview Baptist Church

"The Spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poor; He hath sent me to heal the brokenhearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering the sight to the blind, to set at liberty them that are bruised," To preach the acceptable year of the Lord."(Luke 4:18-19)

We hear much today about the year of the Bible. 1984 may well be a year of climax, or a year for Spiritual Awakening. This is the year for every Christian to excell for God. All who accept the challenge may find this to be their best Y-E-A-R.

I. Y-eild to the Lord.

"...yeild yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead--"(Romans 6:13)

A. Sometimes committed Christians slacken their efforts and begin to grow spiritually lax.

B. When this happens, they need to repent and redidicate themselves, submitting to God's will daily. They need to draw nigh to God. Draw nigh to God, and He will draw nigh to you. Cleanse your hands, ye sinners; and purify your hearts ye double-minded. (James 4:8)

C. Christians should fully surrender themselves to God. By doing so they will become a blessing to others, again spiritual insight, and Glorify God through the coming year.

II. E-ndure for the Lord.

"But watch thou in all things, endure afflictions." (11Tim.4:5)

A. Some Christians continually seek the easy way. When difficult situations arise, their first thought is, "How will this affect me?"

B. Christ endured the cross, giving His life for us. (Gal. 2:20) We must sacrifice for Christ, put away self-seeking and selfish desired.

C. We must strive to endure all for God. Many persecutions and trials will strengthen our faith. (1 Peter 5:10)

III. A-dvance with the Lord

"I can do all things through Christ which strengthens me." (Phil. 4:13)

A. Many Christins excuse themselves from doing God's work: some are hampered by inferiorities; others are spiritually lazy.

B. Christians should keep their priorities in propor perspective by giving God first place in their lives. No reason or excuse should keep them from God's work.

C. You should begin now to advance the kingdom of God especially in this year of the Bible 1984 (II Co. 6:1) through work, prayer, trust and obedience.

IV. R-joice in the Lord.

"Rejoice in the Lord always: and again I say, Rejoice." (Phil 4:4)

A. Some Christians' negative attitudes rob them of the joy that salvation affords.

B. Our world is filled with sin, sadness, and sorrow, but Christ came to bring hope and joy. Joy is attractive and people will go where it can be found.

C. Christians should overflow with rejoicing in the Lord. There should be no sadness or sorrow in a Christian, because Forgiveness, Cleansing and the Hope of Eternal Life bring joy here and now, plus everlasting life to come. (Isaiah 35:10) Rejoice in the Lord and make this your happiest year ever.

Moore, Kelley united March 3

Sharon Jean Moore became the bride of James Frank Kelley III at 2 p.m. March 3 at Colorado City's All Saints Episcopal Church.

Vicar Monte Jones officiated during the single vow ceremony. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lee Hall of Colorado City. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James F. Kelley of Colorado City.

The altar of the church was decorated with candles in brass holders and autumn mums decorated the brass urns.

The bride, escorted by her son Patrick Moore, wore pink crepe with lace yolk, full draped bodice over a semi-full long skirt. She wore a pink large brim hat with pink flower garland around the crown. The flowers were burgandy roses, pink carnations, baby breath on white lace with pink streamers.

The wedding music was played by Virginia Jones.

Matron of honor was Janice Goff of Colorado City. The best man was Mike Kelley of Lubbock. He was the brother of the groom.

The reception was held at the Parish Hall of the church. The bride's table was decorated with lace cloth over pink. The three tiered cake was decorated with pink roses baked by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Herman Hoover of Colorado City.

The cake and refreshments were served by Evelyn Walker of Odessa and Jackie Shefflett of Sweetwater.

The couple traveled to Dallas-Fort Worth for their honeymoon trip. The couple will also live at Lake Colorado City.

The bride attended school in Colorado City and is currently employed by Root Memorial Hospital. The groom attended Western Texas College and East Texas State University. He also served three years in the Army. He is employed by Cultured Catfish.

Out-of-town guests included persons from Eastland, Odessa, Snyder, Big Spring, Sweetwater, Waco and Lubbock.

Reily presents program to AARP

The Mitchell County Chapter No. 1461 AARP met March 19 at 11:45 a.m. in the C. C. Thompson Room for the monthly covered dish luncheon, program and business meeting.

The meeting was called to order by the president Lona Pritchett. The meeting opened with the group singing the hymn "America" led by Ida Kirschbaum. The pledge to the flag was lead by Faye Spivey.

After the invocation by L. B. Elliott, a delicious luncheon was enjoyed served from tables decorated with the St. Patrick Day motif.

The program chairman Louise Sweat introduced Bob Reily, local insurance man who gave a very informative talk on Supplemental Insurance for the Medicare participants. He told the group that he would be glad to answer questions and help give needed information at anytime they come to his office.

During the business meeting, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary Eddie Barclay. The treasurer's report was given by Juanita Coker.

The president, Lona Pritchett read an invitation from AARP chapter in Odessa to attend a workshop there April 11. Members were urged to attend.

Information was given by Louise Sweat pertaining to an Extension Camp for people over 55 May 8-11. This facility is located on the shores of Lake Brownwood. Reservations need to be in by March 21.

The chapter voted unanimously to order flatware to be used at the monthly AARP luncheons.

A drawing was held and ten silver dollars donated by Fuller Foods was given to the following lucky winners: Della Fox, Dona Reed, Lona Pritchett, Thelma Howell, Stanley Merket, Addie Richardson, Rosa Hamrick, Louise Sweat, Margaret Oyler and Dera Winn.

Those attending were Eleanor Jeffries, Ida Kirschbaum, Velma Pond, Juanita Coker, Annie Dixon, Rosa Hamrick, Christine Moren, Ruby Cawthorn, Eddie Barclay, Fannie Cooper, Lonnie Pruitt, Dera Winn, Lona Pritchett, Margaret Oyler, Grace Haley, Betsy Davis, Dewey Davis, Ivan Barber, Elnora Barber, Emery Nunn, Faye Spivey and Dona Reed.

Also attending were Louise Sweat, Olman Sweat, Juanita Schaffer, Willie Brooks, Elizabeth Elliott, L. B. Elliott, Stanley Merket, Jessie M. Merket, Della Fox, Wilma Reynolds, Thelma Howell, Betty Oyler, L. O. Schaffer, P. H. Pace, Edna Pace, Herman Salley, Della Mae Salley, and two guests, Bob Reily and Judy Williams.

Maintenance of waterways is problem for farmers

When farmers have waterways on their land, whether man made or natural, they are always faced with the problem of maintenance. In other words, to try to keep them in such a shape that they will function in the most efficient manner possible.

The main purpose of waterways is to provide for the disposal of excess surface water from terraces, diversions, or natural concentration without causing erosion or flooding. There are several things that might happen to waterways to prevent them from doing this, according to Nolen Bird, conservation technician with the Soil Conservation Service.

One of the most severe problems pertaining to waterways is erosion. If they are left barren too long after shaping, they are sure to start washing, either by gullying or sheet erosion. The only way to prevent this is the establishment of vegetation in them. Establishing waterways to grass is the best way to prevent this erosion. Some of the recommended varieties are sideoats grama, K. R. bluestem, switchgrass, kleingrass and Johnsongrass.

The above grasses can be seeded on a mixture. Sometimes it is difficult to get grass started in a waterway where there is a concentration of water due to the grasses being washed away before they can get established. Using a protective cover of sorghum stubble or cotton bur mulch will help to get the grass established. Waterways constructed on very flat slopes can be protected with closed grown crops such as small grains.

Silting is another problem to contend with in maintenance of waterways. This occurs in waterways constructed on flat slopes or sections of waterways on flat slopes. This is usually caused by excessive vegetation growing in the waterway. Keeping waterways mowed will help to prevent this silting up and will also help to prevent build up of soil in waterways from wind erosion. Waterways should be mowed at least two times a year. Waterways need to be checked every spring to see if they need to be cleaned out with a motor grader or some type of equipment that will remove excess soil out of the channel.

Waterways should not be used for farm roads. Roads make it difficult to get grass started. They can also cause gullies to start in the waterway.

It is equally important that waterways not be used as turnrows, especially the channel. Turning should be done on the outside levee of the waterway. Waterways are constructed for a specific purpose and they should only be used for that purpose.

Waterways are expensive to build and good annual maintenance will help to protect this investment. Waterways are like country roads, terraces, cars, houses and tractors, it is just good business to keep them maintained.

For assistance with waterways or any other conservation problem farmers and ranchers can contact the local Soil Conservation personnel in the G-Kell Building.

VAN MILLS, district conservationist, discusses waterway management with Floyd Ritchey on a joint waterway between his farm and the Floy Padgett farm.

Lawns face slow recovery from winter

Most lawns will recover slowly this spring due to the unusually harsh winter, says a turfgrass specialist at Texas A&M University.

"St. Augustine lawns appear thin and slow to recover all over the state," points out Dr. Richard L. Duble with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. "Floratam St. Augustine, which is more sensitive to low temperature injury, was particularly hard hit."

Lawns that were in poor condition last fall were severely damaged by low temperatures.

"Lawns affected by brownpatch, St. Augustine Decline, chinch bugs and white grubs last year were in a weakened condition before low temperatures produced further injury. Heavily thatched lawns also suffered extensive winter injury since the turf was more exposed to temperature extremes," explains Duble.

What can homeowners do to promote lawn recovery and prevent similar problems next year?

Duble suggests "scalping" the lawn in early spring with a mower to remove debris, applying a complete fertilizer to promote recovery, and controlling broadleaved weeds to reduce competition. "If these tasks are followed with regular maintenance, lawns should green-up rapidly," he says.

Scalping involves mowing the lawn with the lawnmower blade set ½-one-inch lower than normal and then removing the clippings.

Next, apply a complete fertilizer such as 8-8-8 or 12-12-12 at the rate of one pound of nitrogen per 1,000 square feet of lawn area. This means 12 pounds of a fertilizer such as 8-8-8, which has eight percent nitrogen(the first figure in the formula).

The specialist cautions against early application of pre-emergence herbicides for weed control on lawns since they may further slow grass recovery. "Weeds will be a problem this spring, but regular mowing and fertilization will keep weeds under control.

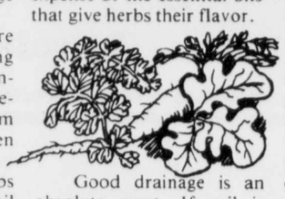

TEXAS GARDENER TIPS — Tips On Growing Garden And Container Herbs

Herbs are a beautiful and useful addition to any home garden. Luckily, they adapt readily to average growing conditions.

What herbs do require is good drainage, strong light, and frequent trimming to keep them rejuvenated. You can grow them either directly in the garden or in containers.

In the ground, herbs respond to good garden soil and are not especially finicky about soil pH. If you have extremely acid soil, you might want to neutralize it. Rosemary and lavender prefer a somewhat alkaline soil.

Some feeding with a general all-purpose fertilizer may be necessary for herbs, but do not overfeed them. Too much fertilizer will encourage the growth of large, thick leaves at the expense of the essential oils that give herbs their flavor.

Good drainage is an absolute must. If soil is heavy, lighten it with humus. Gypsum can be used to improve sticky clay soils. You may want to build a raised bed and fill it with a loose soil mix if your garden soil is particularly heavy.

Since most herbs need strong light, you should plant them in a sunny spot. A rule of thumb for selecting a good herb site is: If you can grow roses that bloom there, you can grow herbs with good flavor.

In areas where drainage is a problem, containers are another excellent way to grow herbs. In containers, herbs respond well to a relatively light soil mix. Clay pots are especially suitable containers because they provide adequate drainage and allow the roots to breathe. Transplant your herbs into larger pots should they show signs of becoming rootbound.

Before transplanting herbs into containers or into the garden, top the plants lightly and use the trimmings in your salad or tea. After transplanting, be careful not to let the roots dry out, especially those of herbs in containers. Whenever your plants start looking leggy, tip off the ends. Never cut herbs back severely.

Fertilize container-grown herbs through the spring, summer, and early fall months with a weak solution of all-purpose, soluble fertilizer. It is better to give frequent light feedings than occasional heavy ones. If the leaves begin to look too large and thick, reduce the strength or frequency of feeding.

Cook's Corner

Harris is late bloomer

Angie Harris

When Angie Harris was growing up, she liked the outdoors, so it wasn't until she was in her teens that she started cooking.

"I had older sisters and they did the cooking. I had to do all the dishwashing."

Mrs. Harris continues, "My mother and sisters taught me how to cook. But I was more of a tomboy and didn't really learn to cook until in my teens."

Her favorite thing to bake is bread. Cornbread was the first thing she learned to bake by herself.

Mrs. Harris likes to cook, but she also likes to can fruits and vegetables.

She recalls an incident that happened with some peaches. "These peaches were really pretty so I decided I would can them. The salt was in a sack that looked like what sugar would come in. The syrup was real pretty and I tasted of it. I got a real big surprise when all I could taste was salt. After all that work, I had put salt in those peaches instead of sugar."

Canning came in handy for Mrs. Harris because she and her husband, W. E., of 42 years, raised four sons.

"I was lucky when I got married, because W. E. would eat nearly anything. The boys also ate anything I fixed except eggplant. I always tried new ways to fix it and still they wouldn't eat it."

The Harris' have two sons, Dwayne and Eldon who live in Colorado City and Rex who lives in Muleshoe and Billy who lives in Bryan. They also have seven grandchildren.

Today, Mrs. Harris is sharing three of her recipes with RECORD readers.

NO-KNEAD REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

2 pkgs. active dry yeast
2 cups warm water
½ cup sugar
2 teaspoons salt
6½ to 7 cups flour
1 egg
¼ cup soft shortening

In mixing bowl, dissolve yeast in warm water. Measure flour by dip-level-pour method. Add sugar, salt and half the flour to yeast. Beat thoroughly two minutes. Add egg and shortening. Gradually beat in remaining flour until smooth. Cover with damp cloth, place in refrigerator. Punch down occasionally as dough rises in refrigerator. About two hours before baking, cut off amount needed and return remaining dought to refrigerator. Shape into rolls and place on greased baking sheet. Brush top with melted butter. Let rise 1½ or two hours. Bake 12 to 15 minutes. Makes four dozen medium rolls.

JELLO BUTTERMILK SALAD

1 large pkg. Apricot Jell-O
1 large can sweetened crushed pineapple

Bring to boil, then set aside to cool. Add 2 cups of buttermilk and 1 (8 oz.) tub of Cool Whip. Add 1 cup coconut and 1 cup chopped pecans. Chill overnight in pan 9x13. If desired, mash fresh apricots and fold in before refrigerating.

JALAPENO CORNBREAD

1 cup sifted flour
¼ cup sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup yellow cornmeal
2 eggs
¼ cup shortening
1 cup finely chopped onion
1 can (8 oz.) cream style corn
2 tablespoons chopped cooked jalapeno peppers

Mix the ingredients together and put in a greased 9x9x2 inch pan. Bake 35 or 40 minutes 425 degrees or bake in small loaf pans.

Disabled veterans payments increased

According to Bertie Kidd, Veterans Service Officer for Mitchell County, service-connected disabled veterans should receive an increase in their compensation payments on May 1, 1984.

The House and Senate agreed upon a compensation increase of 3.5 percent to be effective April 1, 1984. The measure has been sent to the President for approval.

Included in the increase of benefits will be all veterans who are in receipt of service-connected disability compensation, as well as all widows and children who are receiving dependency and indemnity compensation based upon the service-connected death of a veteran.

In 1983, the President and the Congress decided to delay by six (6) months the cost of living increases in Federal benefits, such as Social Security and VA compensation.

VA compensation, for a number of years, has been increased with the beginning of the new Fiscal Year, which is October 1. When the six month delay was placed into effect, the compensation increases were moved up to April 1, 1984, which means that the larger payments will appear on the VA checks issued on May 1, 1984.

RULES — There are three parts to THE WORD CAGE: (1) clues and (2) quiz, which lead to (3) the final answer, the MYSTERY WORD. The clues and quiz are hidden in the grid — up, down, across, backward or diagonally. First circle the clue words (we've found the first word for you). You may find the same letter in more than one word, so circle each letter clearly. Next, circle the quiz words; the first letter and number of letters are given for each. When you have circled all the clue and quiz words, the remaining uncircled letters will spell out the answer to this week's WORD CAGE.

Answer to Puzzle

Senior Update

BY VIVIENNE BODEAU

One of the dangers of growing older is the growth of the feelings of despondency and cynicism. Allowed to grow these conditions can cause permanent depression.

It is easy when we grow older to feel hopeless. Some of this occurs because you may feel that you have not accomplished the goals you set for yourself earlier in life or that you have refused to face the challenges of life. Or you may be disappointed in the behavior of others towards you earlier and/or now.

The political, economic, and social problems of the world add to the easiness of giving in to pessimism. We should remember that the present problems of our country are not going to invalidate the accomplishments of two centuries of our national history. Educational and religious institutions may seem too preoccupied with organization rather than with the purposes of their existence but man can work to reinstate the purposes.

Despair can be fought with hope and pessimism with expectation. Man is creative as well as destructive. Being creative helps in the aging process. Despair and pessimism kill hope, and initiative. To give in to them is to give way to deteriorating aging. It will take away the purpose of keeping life alive and moving toward a goal. Pessimism makes all problems loom so large that there doesn't seem any point in trying to do anything about them and no effort is given to solving the problems. When you stop making an effort you move toward dying.

The biggest investment for your future (and having a future) is to keep trying, keep hoping, avoid stopping and giving up the effort to stay alive. You never know what is around the corner. Hope is the expectation of something that has not yet happened but could. Hope protects you from the infections of pessimism and despondency. Hope means doing something and in that very doing experiencing a move toward fulfillment.

Everyone wants to live a long life without being bored or without interest. To accomplish this you first have to grow old and, second, you have to want to live.

For many, living past sixty-five years of age is a time of sadness, loneliness and poverty. But it doesn't have to be this way. There are a lot of people out there in the world to meet, there are a lot of things to do with your time, and there are programs (not enough maybe) to help the financial crunch.

It is your life, live it to the fullest and don't let anyone or yourself shorten that life in anyway.

Your Stars Above

BY EVE EWING

ARIES (3-21/4-19) Your independence is admired by your many friends, but you must not give in to sulkiness if your ideas are challenged. Be big enough to take it gracefully.

TAURUS (4-20/5-20) You must soon choose between developing an artistic talent and financial security. Either choice will involve some heartache. Seek counsel from one more experienced than you.

GEMINI (5-21/6-20) Although you are more often right than wrong, it is time to exercise a little more tact in selling your views to your coworkers.

CANCER (6-21/7-22) A canny sense of business wedded to imagination will take you far in your chosen field. However, you must overcome a tendency to cling to the past.

LEO (7-23/8-22) Accept the fact that your impatience makes you a poor bargainer and leave the financial details to cooler hands. It is enough that you know what you want.

VIRGO (8-23/9-22) Your tendency to interfere is risking an old and valued friendship. Sometimes it is wise to withold an opinion even when it is sought. Tiptoe through the tulips on this one.

LIBRA (9-23/10-23) A declaration of love given too easily loses it value. Beware, or this tendency will be your undoing. You can't make them all happy and you shouldn't try.

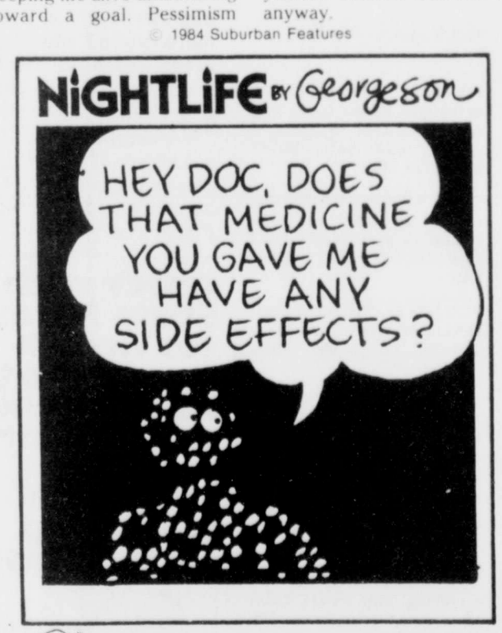

SCORPIO (10-24/11-22) Work to master the contradictions in your nature. Idealistic and suspicious, loving and cold by turns, it is vital to keep your traits in balance so they work for you and not against you.

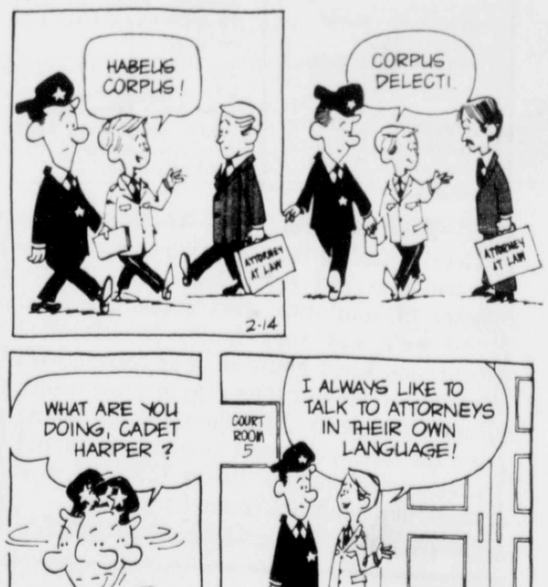

SAGITTARIUS (11-23/12-21) Face the fact that you don't like being tied down. For you, the grass is always greener elsewhere. Don't submit to fetters for a momentary advantage. It isn't in your nature to be earthbound.

CAPRICORN (12-22/1-19) Your exaggerated sense of passing time flogs you to superhuman effort. You will reach your goal, but may not enjoy it when you get there. Take stock and pace yourself advantageously this week.

AQUARIUS (1-20/2-19) You will seldom fit into a conventional mold, so seek your fortune with the adventurous. You have much to offer so don't let narrow-minded people hold you back.

PISCES (2-20/3-20) Your native compassion and generosity can bring you great rewards, but the same traits may lead you into choosing the wrong companion. Sift hard-luck stories before rushing in where angels fear to tread.
