President Returns To Political Wars

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon has returned to the political wars after almost a year's lull, employing his standard campaign stance as though 1968 never ended.

Nixon, who flys to New Jersey tonight in behalf of that state's Republican candidate for governor, went into Virginia Tuesday evening to stump for the GOP gubernatorial candidate there.

Speaking before 5,000 or more at the Salem-Roanoke Valley Civic Center, Nixon drew cheers from the start when he simply stood at he rostrum and flung his hands wide in a gesture reminiscent of the 1968 campaign.

Not only were the gestures a replay of 1968; so were the issues he raised.

In an area long devoted to the cause of states' rights, Nixon said his administration finally is doing something about moving power out of Washington and back to "states and the people."

He also came out on the side of law and order and those who abhor narcotics and obscenity.

Nixon was accompanied on his Virginia foray by Patrick Buchanan, often labeled his "conservative" speechwriter. There was a possibility that Raymond Price, generally regarded as his "liberal" speechwriter, might go with him to New Jersey.

Nixon went to Virginia to campaign for Republican Linwood Holton who is facing Democrat William C. Battle in a tight race for governor.

Responding to the welcoming cheers—and indirectly noting a contention by Battle that Holton has been bringing in campaigners who have "no more interest in Virginia than a fly-by-night butterfly"—Nixon said:

"All I can say is that's quite a welcome for an outside agitator."

In 1968 it seemed Nixon had a personal local connection almost everywhere he went and it was thus Tuesday night. He told his audience that, except for California and the District of Columbia, he has lived longer in Virginia—as a federal bureacrat before his World War II Navy service and later as a member of Congress—than in any other state.

But the big theme of the chief executive's informal stump speech was moving power and money from the Capitol to the statehouses.

Of course, Nixon had the highest praise for Holton, who waged an unsuccessful campaign for governor of Virginia in 1965.

"I know what it means to lose and then to win—and he's going to win," Nixon said.

In New Jersey, Nixon will be campaigning on behalf of a six-term Republican Congressman William Cahill. He is opposed in the gubernatorial race by Democrat Robert Meyner, a former two terms governor.

TWO IN HAND — President Nixon manages to grip two hands as he and Republican candidate for governor Linwood Holton, right of Nixon, greet well wishers at Woodrum Airport in Roanoke, Va., last night. The flight to Virginia was Nixon's first campaign trip since his election.

Senators Taking Up Tax Relief For Individuals

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Finance Committee is taking up tax relief for individuals after weeks of struggling with more complex tax reform provisions.

Sen. Albert Gore, D-Tenn., said he would push at today's session for an increase in the personal exemption on the income tax from the present $600 to $1,000.

This would cost the treasury about $12 billion and probably would provide greater tax relief than the panel would be willing to grant.

The present $600 exemption has been in effect for 21 years. Gore and a number of other senators argue it is completely inadequate in view of the rise in living costs.

However, the Nixon administration strongly opposes any increase in the exemption.

Gore said his plan would be to substitute a boost in the exemption for two features of the House-passed bill—a low income allowance designed to knock millions of poverty-level families off the tax rolls and a cut in income tax rates across the board for all individuals.

These two features would provide $7.2 billion of the $9.2 billion of tax relief in the House version of the bill.

The House measure would grant $2.4 billion more in relief in addition to the $6.8 billion it gains through tax reform. A number of senators have contended their branch should try to narrow this gap, or at least not increase it.

But Finance Chairman Russell B. Long, D-La., has said he would not be surprised if the Senate boosts the tax relief.

Saigon Frees 88 Prisoners, Many Women

SAIGON (AP) — The Saigon government pardoned one of its leading Buddhist critics today and released 88 Viet Cong prisoners of war as part of its observance of South Vietnam's National Day Nov. 1.

President Nguyen Van Thieu pardoned Thich Thien Minh, the dissident monk imprisoned last March on a charge of harboring draft dodgers and deserters. A spokesman said Thien Minh—which is Vietnamese for the Buddhist title venerable—would be set free as soon as formalities were completed.

Thien Minh, 48, was sentenced to 10 years at hard labor by a military court March 17. He also was convicted of illegal possession of arms, explosives and Communist documents. The monk, a leader of a militant Buddhist youth movement, denied the charges.

Thieu reduced the sentence to three years of solitary confinement last May on the anniversary of Buddha's birth. The monk has been confined at a military headquarters in Saigon.

Thien Minh was one of the monks who headed the militant struggle movement which was broken up by the military government in 1966.

His arrest last Feb. 24 brought a strong protest from leaders of the militant An Quang Buddhist faction. They called the action "unjust and inhuman," and accused Thieu, a Roman Catholic, of using the support of "foreigner. . .to destroy Buddhism."

A spokesman at the An Quang pagoda in Saigon said the news of Thien Minh's release "came as no surprise."

Big Spring School Tax Rate Called Highest In State

Big Spring taxpayers pay more for their school district than any other comparable district and possibly more than any other district in the state, said Jack Watkins, chairman of the Citizens Government and Tax Study Committee, at Tuesday night's meeting of the school board of trustees. His study was received with mixed emotions, which ranged from hostility to appreciation by several of the board members.

"It became a challenge to me to find any district with higher taxes than Big Spring," Watkins said. "I've surveyed 200 districts so far and still haven't found any."

Watkins presented his charted figures and discussed the 20 schools in Texas with comparable figures of average daily attendance, ADA. He said Big Spring pays 44 per cent more taxes than the average of all the other districts. He noted that five schools have an equal or higher cost per student, but that 15 have a lower cost than Big Spring. He said his figures came from two publications, the Texas School Directory, 1968-69 edition; and the Tax Assessment Ratio put out by the Texas Tax Committeemen's Association.

"But the true thing here is the percentage of the assessed value which is charged," Watkins said. "This has the greatest effect on the amount paid.

"I didn't come to the board with specific recommendations," Watkins said, "I simply came with this study to show that we do have a high cost of education.

"Our system is a fine one," he said. "But I don't think it's superior to those districts which have lower taxes."

When pressed by Supt. S. M. Anderson for specific suggestions, Watkins referred to suggestions already made by the board itself for possibly consolidating some administrative jobs and the eventual closing of some elementary schools.

Supt. Anderson asked Watkins to state his purpose. He also objected to what he termed "inaccurate" figures on Watkins' report.

"If I had the whole answer I'd be a lot smarter than I am," Watkins said. "I'm just saying that we do have problems and we should look for solutions."

He referred to a diminishing economy and said that the school system should work for

THREE COFFIN NAILS

Witchcraft Recipes Call For Wolf Girdle

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — If witches beset you on Halloween, here's what to do:

Take three nails from a coffin and stick them into a sauce of butter and wintergreen. Say the witch's name when you place the sauce in a hidden spot where neither sunlight nor moonlight will penetrate.

Your witch will be sick for six months.

Handed down for generations —at least since the 15th century —this superstition has now been made public by a black-bearded professor who teaches the history of witchcraft and satanism at the University of Michigan.

Marcello Truzzi, son of a circus juggler, is a sociologist who hopes to cash in on the current national cookbook buying binge with a few medieval recipes of his own.

Just in time for Halloween, Truzzi has written "Cauldron Cookery," which reveals such tricks as how to become invisible and how to become a werewolf.

The werewolf recipe calls for an iron cooking pot into which must be dumped water, parsley, opium and saffron. You don't have to eat the glob—it's to attract the devil.

But you do have to rub your body with the fat of a freshly killed cat and put on a wolf's skin. Pretty soon "the great grey shape that makes men shiver" will supplant your own and even your best friends won't know you.

Here are some other formulas:

How to make a woman's hair fall out: Smear a lock of her hair with tar and paste made from water in a new trough that has reflected the moon in a cemetery and bury it in a drain or cesspool.

How to become invisible: Boil a cat ear in cow's milk, then put the ear over your thumb.

How to obtain someone's love: Place an egg in an anthill on March 18 and leave it for three days. Whoever touches it next will love you.

'SPEED TRAP' SIGNS ORDERED

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — Signs warning motorists that they are "approaching Georgia's renowned speed trap, Ludowici," have been ordered from the state Highway Department by Gov. Lester Maddox.

The governor said Tuesday he would pay for the signs out of his emergency fund. He said they would be implanted in concrete and may be guarded by state troopers.

The signs might not be the only action taken in regard to Ludowici, a Southeast Georgia town reputed for years to be a speed trap, Maddox said.

"There's that bridge just outside of town on U.S. 301. I'll talk to the Highway Department, but it could be that the bridge needs repairing and will have to be closed for 18 months or so," said the governor.

San Antonio Jury Declares Moody Insane

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Michael Lee Moody, 25, former rookie Midland policeman charged with killing a little girl, was found insane Tuesday ad ordered to the Rusk State Hospital for the Criminally Insane.

His lawyer said he hoped Moody could be transferred to the Rusk unit as soon as possible, preferably today.

A seven-man, five-woman 187th Dist. Court jury returned its verdict on Moody's present sanity after deliberating less than 15 minutes.

Moody is a Marine Corps veteran of Vietnam and the son of a former Midland city councilman.

He was charged with the August, 1968, suffocation slaying of blonde little Lori Margaret Gunn, a next-door neighbor missing more than 19 hours when found in his home.

Three psychiatrists and a psychologist testified Monday that Moody should be remanded to a mental hospital for immediate treatment.

Psychiatrist David Wade of Austin told the court Moody was suffering from schizophrenia dating back to his teens. Dr. Wade is now serving on the Governor's Committee on Mental Health.

Although Tuesday's hearing was on Moody's present sanity, the defense previously had tried in vain for a hearing on his sanity now as well as at the time of the slaying.

The request was denied and upheld by the state Supreme Court. Defense attorney Anthony Nicholas made the request again Tuesday but was turned down by Judge John Benavides.

The lawyer indicated later Tuesday that he may take the issue to appellate courts. A hearing only on Moody's present sanity denies him his right to a speedy trial, Nicholas asserted.

Guerrillas Fail To Take Fortress

By The Associated Press

Lebanese troops and Arab guerrillas battled today across deep valleys and craggy ridges near the Syrian border while in Beirut, the capital, pro- and anti-guerrilla student factions fought at the American University.

The renewed fighting between the guerrillas and the army units centered around Rashaya in eastern Lebanon. The Lebanese government has been trying to curb the guerrillas' attempts to use the country as a base for strikes against Israel, fearing painful Israeli retaliation.

The Lebanese army is established firmly and in strength in a fortress which crowns the steep mountain on which Rashaya was built. The Lebanese flag continued to fly as proof that the guerrillas had failed to take the fortress when they launched a frontal assault against it Tuesday.

Guilty Of Killing Two FBI Agents

WASHINGTON (AP) — A U.S. District Court jury that found Billie Austin Bryant guilty of killing two FBI agents has left to the judge the decision of whether he should get life imprisonment or a death sentence.

The jury of eight men and four women told Judge Gehard A. Gesell on Tuesday it had been unable to reach a decision on Bryant's sentence.

The jury Monday had found Bryant, 30, guilty on two counts of first-degree murder in the shooting deaths of FBI agents Edwin B. Woodriff, 27, and Anthony Palmisano, 26. They were killed when they attempted to question Bryant about a bank robbery.

DECIDE TO HOLD THEIR OWN CLASSES

Latins Boycotting Abilene Schools

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A Mexican-American boycott of Abilene public schools entered its seventh day today with the chicanos vowing to begin "rump" classes.

An estimated 300 Mexican-Americans voted in favor Tuesday night of continuing their walkout at Abilene High School and two northside junior highs.

This occurred after representatives of the boycott reported on an earlier meeting with the Abilene Board of Education.

The board agreed to consider a list of proposals presented by the group but made it clear that pupils would not be permitted to return with their absences excused.

The Rev. Joe Salas, spokesman for the chicanos, told newsmen that parents have agreed to support pupils in the boycott. He said, "They feel it is an injustice to give unexcused absences."

Pupils with unexcused absences receive a zero for work missed.

Boycott members who voted against returning to school were asked to sign a piece of paper to that effect, agreeing also to attend "rump" classes at a community center.

The Rev. Mr. Salas said volunteers from two Abilene colleges, Hardin Simmons and McMurry, would conduct the classes.

"We expect you to show up at the center every day just like school and learn," Gloria Bryand, 16, who attends Abilene High, told the Mexican-American gathering. "It won't be easy."

"I'm deeply sorry for the children's sake that they have made this decision," said Morgan Jones Jr., president of the school board. "Education is so vitally important that they are ill-advised to miss classes regularly."

Supt. A. E. Wells said, "I regret that they have taken this action and I hope they will reconsider. The schools are open to them and I hope they will see fit to reenter as soon as possible."

The walkout began Oct. 20 with some 55 pupils involved. The group exceeded 300 by Tuesday, school sources reported. They could not determine what percentage of Mexican-American enrollment this represented but said it was by no means 100 per cent.

A large group of chicanos marched on the administration building last week and delivered a statement to school officials. It called for:

—Representation for chicanos in school government.

—The right to speak Spanish in school.

—The right to return to classes as a group without punitive action and with four weeks to make up the work they had missed.

The Rev. Mr. Salas, who attended McMurry College, touched on these requests at the board meeting Tuesday night and asked that a representative for a recently formed Mexican-American parent council be present at all future board meetings.

He asked also that a "sensitivity course" be conducted for teachers and administrators with local Mexican-Americans participating.

He said more Mexican-American counselors should be employed in the school system.

The boycott spokesman did not spell out specific grievances against the school system and said there was no one incident "you can put your finger on that caused the walkout."

School Taxes

greater efficiency.

"We need to do it without jeopardizing our fine education system," he added.

Anderson took issue with Watkins' failure to supply the board members with an advance copy of the study as a breach of common courtesy, as well as a promise.

"But you've broken promises to me before," Anderson said.

Watkins asked what Anderson was referring to and the superintendent brought up a disagreement over a piece of furniture his wife purchased from Watkins three years ago.

Anderson later apologized for his heated words, but only to the extent that "it needed to be said."

Don Crockett, assistant superintendent of business, had a prepared answer to Watkins' study which stated basically that a tax study cannot be considered seriously because of the impossibility of arriving at any true base for the assessed taxes.

"People may tell you they use 100 per cent valuation," Crockett said, "but that's not reliable. Even a governor's committee's report was rejected because true tax bases are just impossible to obtain."

The bulk of Crockett's report on Watkins' survey defended the amount of taxes paid to the Big Spring Independent School District on the basis of benefits not offered in other districts.

Crockett compared the local school district to an admittedly vague and general picture of a similar district, Temple.

"Temple has a local fund assignment of $246,000 and Big Spring has a local fund assignment of $484,700," Crockett said. "This means an additional expense to Big Spring of $238,700.

"Also," he said, "Social Security, which is not offered in the Temple system, costs us $112,385." He went on to cite one of the greatest variances in costs of operating a school system, salary.

"Temple pays $44 a month above foundation pay to their teachers, but Big Spring pays $650 more. This costs Big Spring $82,042 more than Temple."

Crockett said both schools received Public Law 874 receipts this year: Temple $193,792, and Big Spring $177,705.

"So we have to pay a difference of $16,087 ourselves," Crockett figured.

"Big Spring also has a vocational program which Temple does not, and that costs approximately $25,000 a year. We also run 14 more buses than Temple at an additional cost of $10,000," he said.

Crockett interpolated his figures to account for $348,537 worth of benefits and programs which Big Spring must pay for, that Temple does not incur.

"This leaves $348,000 for us to account for in the difference of cost of education," Crockett said. He went on to list his speculations of how it would be used.

"Number one, we carried a $351,369 balance at the end of 1968-69," Crockett said. "We consider this good financing as well as a cushion to offset rising costs in the next two to three years."

"Number two," he said in reference to Watkin's study, "comparisons were not made in the area of athletic subsidy or band programs."

His third point was that the pupil-teacher ratio was not compared. He added that Big Spring is considering closing at least two elementary schools because of low enrollment.

"Number four, I think you would have to compare instructional programs to get a full picture of what one district is doing as compared to another," he said.

His final summation referred again to the undeterminable base which Watkin's study was based on.

"This is not a true comparison because we aren't on the same base," Crockett said. He cited the Governor's Committee on Public School Education as the group whose report was rejected because of inequitable tax assessments.

"We can be thankful that the state recognizes these inconsistencies and they will be working to provide a more equalized tax load for all citizens," Crockett concluded.

The majority of the board concurred with Mrs. Mary Joy Cowper, who thanked Watkins for his effort which, she said, had obviously taken a great deal of time.

"I'm glad our citizens are concerned enough to do this much work," she said. "After all, we are acting in trust for them and I'm pleased they're making themselves heard."

SERVICE CERTIFICATE — Col. Anderson Atkinson, deputy commander for Operations, offers congratulations and appreciation to T. K. Price, training material and evaluation chief, who retired Tuesday at Webb after 28 years of federal service. Mrs. Price smiles approval.

T. K. Price Retires From Webb Post

T. K. Price, in charge of Webb's training material and evaluation section since January, 1958, retired Tuesday, bringing to a close a Federal service career spanning 28 years.

Brief ceremonies conducted by Col. Anderson Atkinson, deputy commander for Operations, marked his retirement. He had been connected with TM&E work since 1952.

Price began his Federal service career working for the Corps of Engineers at Midland in 1941. After serving there for three years, he transferred to Goodfellow AFB in the same field. It was in 1952 that he began working in TM&E, work which is closely allied to the teaching and training of student pilots.

Before entering the civil service, Price had spent 15 years in public school work and had for three years traveled for a school supply firm. He completed his BA degree at Howard Payne College at Brownwood, and received the MA degree from Hardin-Simmons University, with a major in education administration and a minor in English.

The retiring educator said that he has no immediate plans for the future. "Not beyond this weekend at any rate," he joked. "Then I'm going to Fort Stockton to see my grandsons play football. One plays in junior high and the other in high school there." Those grandsons are the children of the Prices' daughter, Shirley — Mrs. W. G. Boggus. Boggus is principal of an elementary school in Fort Stockton, while Mrs. Boggus is counselor for elementary schools.

Mrs. Price is the former Clifford Taylor of Taylor County. She and Mr. Price, a native of De Leon, have been married for more than 43 years. Both are active in work at the First Baptist Church, where Mrs. Price is still teacher of a women's class. He has served as a departmental superintendent.

For the present at least, the Prices will continue to live in Big Spring. Immediate plans for him call for stepped up activity in bowling, his hobby. Presently participating in three leagues, he will continue his association with the Pilot Training league at Webb, serving as de facto arbiter for the group.

Earth Crack Gets Wider, Moves Home Toward Sea

SAN PEDRO, Calif. (AP) — A huge crack in the earth at a clifftop residential viewsite opened wider today, tumbling an expensive home toward the Pacific Ocean.

"The house is 30 feet down the cliff and still visibly moving," said a police officer. "It went that far in just 15 minutes."

The fissure's new expansion ripped out a water main at the edge of the block-long crack, two to three feet wide in places. Utility workers shut off water and electricity.

Residents had been evacuated and officers kept spectators behind safety lines. The fissure runs along scenic Paseo del Mar Drive at the top of a 200-foot cliff in this Los Angeles suburb.

City authorities estimate six other oceanfront lots and homes were slipping toward the sea at an undetermined rate. Officials placed the seaward slippage at three-sixteenths of an inch per hour on Tuesday, but thought it had speeded up today.

Another home on the seaward side of the opening was rated in precarious position. Three guest homes at other residential sites were given up for lost.

Just a hairline crack at first, it caused little concern until it opened into a gaping 300-foot-long fissure at dusk Sunday.

City Will Not Join Others In Opposing Rate Hike

Big Spring will not join with other cities in opposing the gate rate increase asked by Pioneer Natural Gas Co. from the Texas Railroad Commission, the city commission decided at its meeting Tuesday night.

City Manager Larry Crow said 12 cities had formed a committee to study ways to oppose the increase, and Big Spring had been invited to join. He added that representatives from the gas company, when they had appeared before the commission earlier this year, had said they were going to ask for the increase but that it would not apply to Big Spring for two years.

Mayor Arnold Marshall said opposition might reduce the increase, but it would not prevent it.

In other action the commission:

1. Approved a recommendation from the planning and zoning board to change the zoning from commercial to heavy industrial-specific use at 4005 US 80 West to allow for a wrecking yard to be established there, provided the owner, Bob Smith, would build a six-foot solid fence around the yard. Smith indicated he would.

2. Approved another recommendation from the planning and zoning board to grant a special use permit allowing Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Kirby to put a trailer home on their property at 2500 S. Monticello.

3. Denied a claim for damages, amounting to $75, made by Mrs. Sandra Head for damages resulting when a sewer backed up and flooded her home at 1806 Owens.

4. Approved the second reading for an on-premises beer permit for the Cherokee Lounge.

5. Decided to hold the first meeting in November on the thirteenth, a Thursday, in order not to conflict with the Texas Municipal League meeting in San Antonio the previous Tuesday.

Mafia-Linked Firm Views Secret Data

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon security officials cleared a Pennsylvania contractor for access to secret information despite reports in police and congressional files linking the company to the Mafia.

Medico Industries Inc. of Pittston, Pa., which has received $12 million in government contracts since 1966, had a security clearance from Jan. 28, 1968, to June 20, 1968. The clearance was terminated at the company's request, a Pentagon source said, after security officials asked for additional information about company officers.

Pentagon records indicate Medico Industries has performed well on all its defense work, involving contracts with the Army, Navy and Air Force. It now is working on a $4 million contract to produce metal parts for 2.75 inch rocket warheads, used by U.S. forces in Vietnam, but this particular job does not require access to classified material.

Defense Department regulations require that the principal officers of a company be checked through FBI name and fingerprint files before the firm can be cleared for access to classified information.

If derogatory information is found, the Defense Industrial Security Command at Columbus, Ohio, determines if it is serious enough to warrant further investigation. Such a determination requires that the case be referred to a higher level for review, but no such action was taken when Medico's application was processed.

What sort of information was available on Medico Industries?

—In 1964, a Senate subcommittee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., listed Medico Electric Motor Co., later renamed Medico Industries, as a place "frequented by" Russell A. Bufalino, whom it described as "one of the most ruthless and powerful leaders of the Mafia in the United States."

—William Medico, former president and now general manager of Medico Industries, was listed in the same report as among the "criminal associates" of Bufalino.

—James A. Osticco, the firm's traffic manager, was present in 1957 when New York State Police broke up the Apalachin conference—a meeting of top Mafia figures from throughout the United States. Bufalino was listed by the McClellan committee as an arranger of and participant in the Apalachin meeting.

Bufalino and Osticco were later convicted in federal court of conspiracy to obstruct justice after they refused to tell authorities what went on at the conference. The convictions were overturned when an appeals court ruled that the government had failed to prove that a crime had been committed.

In 1964, the McClellan committee said the Sicilian-born Bufalino was active in narcotics trafficking, labor racketeering, and dealing in stolen jewels and furs.

Late in 1968, he was charged with conspiracy to transport stolen television sets across state lines.

Asked about his relationship with Bufalino, Medico said in a telephone interview that he had known him all his life. As for the allegation that Bufalino frequents the Medico plant, he added: "Sure he comes to see us. We're selling him equipment; he's a customer. I can't tell him to get the hell out."

Medico is active in civic affairs in Pittston, a city of about 13,000 in the coal mining region of Pennsylvania at the foot of the Pocono Mountains.

He has won praise for his work in behalf of local charity drives as well as for contributing men and material during the 1964 presidential campaign to build a platform at the Wilkes Barre-Scranton Airport for use by President Lyndon B. Johnson.

His record of getting government contracts goes back to the 1950's. Medico Industries has produced such items as maintenance platforms for the Air Force and Navy, rebuilt generators for the Signal Corps, rebuilt machine tools and hydraulic wing jacks for the Army, Navy and Air Force. It also had had contracts from the cities of New York and Detroit.

Heavy Snow Warnings Out

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — Heavy snow warnings went out today for the Colorado mountains and the state's Eastern Slope as the U.S. Weather Bureau said the third significant snow storm would hit the state during October.

Blizzard conditions were reported on almost all of the high mountain passes in Colorado with snowpacked roads, poor visibility and hazardous driving conditions. Forecasts called for rain changing to snow along the eastern edge of the Rocky Mountains today with highs reaching only to the upper 30s.

A heavily traveled section of Interstate 25, the main north-south highway in Colorado, was deemed hazardous for driving Tuesday night by the state patrol. Authorities said the Monument Pass area between Denver and Colorado Springs was dangerous and snow plows were on the scene.

Rain began falling in Denver early Tuesday night and forecasts called for more than four inches of snow by this evening.

Beaumont's Quadruplets To Celebrate Their 40th

BEAUMONT, Tex. (AP) — Bernard Perricone, 40-years old come Halloween says there will be "nothing special" about his birthday Friday, and the statement would probably be fact were it not for his three brothers.

The Perricones, Anthony, Bernard, Carl and Donald, are the only surviving male quadruplets in the nation and all four of them still live in Beaumont, their hometown.

The four and two older brothers live on a street appropriately named "Quad Lane."

Another older brother lives in St. Joseph, Mo., a second in Houston, and a third in Lumberton.

The parents of the clan will be celebrating their 57th wedding anniversary Monday.

Bernard is the father of two sons, and a daughter. Anthony is the father of five daughters. Carl has four daughters and two sons. Donald has a son and five daughters.

The quads attended the same schools, and all four went to work for Pure Oil Company in Port Neches. However, Anthony soon decided he wanted to be a barber and now is partner in a Beaumont barber shop. The other three still work for the oil company.

Three of the four are over six feet tall. Bernard, the youngest, has never broken the habit of looking up to his brothers.

The brothers said they have had a good life and consider themselves lucky for being so obviously a part of a close knit family group.

"Mama used to bake six loaves of bread every day when we were all home," Donald said.

"And Daddy used to farm all the time. He even used to shoot rabbits and blackbirds for us to eat," Carl added.

Ready To Reveal TV Fire Hazards

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — A congressional commission probing television fire hazards says it will ask major TV manufacturers to attend a private meeting in Washington Friday on the panel's findings.

The National Commission on Product Safety—which says more than 7,000 fires a year are blamed on radio and TV sets—reviewed as yet undisclosed information behind closed doors here Tuesday.

The seven-man commission said telegrams summarizing its findings and requesting the Washington meeting would be sent to the TV makers today. The commissioners indicated color sets were of particular concern.

Telegrams will go to more than 15 manufacturers and the Electronics Industry Association, which represents 95 per cent of the TV makers, officials said.

In the past six weeks all the nation's major television manufacturers and some foreign companies have been asked for information which in turn was submitted to a Washington research firm for analysis, a commission spokesman said.

He added it would be decided after Friday's meeting when to make the names of the manufacturers and other information public.

The commission, which has no authority to invoke penalties, is reported to be especially concerned that fires can start even when the sets are turned off.

There are more than 85 million television sets in American homes, the government says.

The commission met here to accommodate Dr. Dana Young, a commission member from San Antonio and a senior vice president with Southwest Research Institute in San Antonio.

May Discontinue Waco Bus Trips

WACO (AP) — The Waco Transit Corp. said it "may cease operations" unless the firm receives help or relief in some form.

City Manager Elmer Roberts said he was surprised about the warning that the line may discontinue service when school is out this year.

A Devotion For Today . . .

Love one another with brotherly affection; outdo one another in showing honor. (Romans 12:10, RSV)

PRAYER: O God, help us to so clarify our everyday conduct that the light of Thy presence may shine through to others. May their inquiring glances find evidence that we are Thy followers. We pray in the spirit of our Lord. Amen.

Deescalation

Secretary of Defense, Melvin Laird, revealed that the Defense Department has a new plan for force levels. The level of the armed services, he said, would be maintained to permit us to fight two wars at once, only one of them major.

At least this is an improvement over the "think-tank" boys. Sitting in their well-appointed offices feeding batteries of computers with appropriate statistics, they came to the conclusion that our armed forces should be capable of conducting two major wars and one brushfire war.

The distinction between a brushfire war and a major war does get blurred, though. We once had a brushfire war, sort of, going in Vietnam. Presumably the think-tank boys agree now that the war in Vietnam is more or less major. Perhaps the classic example of the brushfire war was our intervention in the Dominican Republic two years ago. That didn't turn into anything serious (military, at least), but reports from that country suggest that all we did is delay a revolution down there.

But the American people should be comforted by Laird's policy of deescalation. Being prepared for one major war and one minor one is, after all, better than being prepared for two major wars and one brushfire war.

How About Speedier Trials?

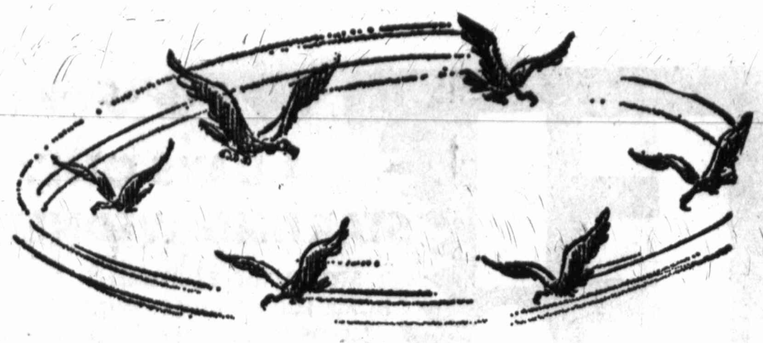

Attorney General John N. Mitchell makes an appealing argument. There is reason to suppose that the majority of the American people agree with him.

Mitchell asked the House judiciary subcommittee to enact legislation permitting judges to detain potentially dangerous criminals without bail for up to 60 days while awaiting trial. Mitchell said that studies of crime in the District of Columbia indicate that many major offenses are committed by persons who have been set free on bond while awaiting trial.

Some terrible crimes are committed while persons are free on bond while awaiting trial. One need go no further than the case of Juan Rudy Enriquez of Corpus Christi, who was at liberty under bond in an assault case when he went on a rampage and killed five persons.

If there is a "clear and present danger" as the U.S. Supreme Court once expressed it, society is certainly justified in denying bail. But can a judge really make a determination of that danger? If so, would it be unconstitutional in the light of the Eighth Amendment's prohibition against "excessive bail?"

It might be far better instead to enforce the Sixth Amendment's guarantee of a "speedy and public trial." This could be ensured by expanding the trial court system and by streamlining the rules of criminal procedure to force a prompt trial of defendants.

Leaders Seek Spiritual Guidance

WASHINGTON — When the President of the United States and about 80 senators and representatives meet together for a "prayer breakfast" at the White House, as they did last week, this would appear to be significant news and the quotations were worth more space than they were given even in some of the large newspapers. For evidently government officials may pray inside the White House and the Capitol Building, but children apparently are being prevented from doing the same thing in their schools, even on a "national day of prayer."

THE SUPREME COURT, of course, merely banned prayers actually prescribed by a state governmental agency and in cases decided thus far never said that children could not pray voluntarily during a recess from classroom activity.

But there was something more pointed in the President's prayer breakfast meeting than the question of who has the right to pray on governmental premises. It was the disclosure by the Rev. Dr. Billy Graham, who made the principal address, that the truly basic reason for much of youth's unrest and demonstrations throughout the world is the lack of spiritual training. Dr. Graham narrated an incident that was revealing. He said:

"SARGENT SHRIVER (American ambassador to France) invited me last summer over to Paris to talk to a group of these students who had been engaging in the demonstrations in Paris. He said, 'I want to find out what kind of a dialogue you could have with them.'

"I accepted his challenge. We had several hours in his home with these students, and when it was over and we walked out to the car, he said, 'Billy, did you detect what I detected?'

"I SAID, "What do you mean?" He said, "Billy, their problem is a religious problem." I said,"exactly. This is exactly their problem. They are searching for something to believe in."

"If we allow a vacuum to develop among our young people in this country, we are in trouble, just as Germany was 35 years ago."

President Nixon in his talk to the same group said:

"This is truly an ecumenical meeting. There are Catholics and Proetstants here, and among the Protestants, all the various groups or most of them are represented, the very large groups like the Baptists, the Presbyterians, the Methodists are in this room, and some of the smaller ones like the Mormons — the medium-sized . . . I imagine I am the only Quaker in the room — no, there is one other."

MR. NIXON made the point that the Presidents of the United States have been honest men. But he said that, no matter how honest or wise a man is, at times of great challenge to the nation there had to be "more than honesty and more than wisdom in the leadership of this country, whether it was in the President of the United States or in the members of the House and the Senate." He added:

"There had to be, we believe, some call to destiny. I would prefer to say there had to be that spiritual quality which we can feel in this room this morning as we meet with this group of senators and congressmen who recognize the spiritual heritage of America, how important it is, that there are times that we need help beyond ourselves, beyond what any man can give us in order to make the right decision for the nation."

THE ENTIRE MEETING was unusual in many respects. But it was not surprising to find President Nixon, who has been described by Billy Graham as a deeply religious man, exhorting his colleagues in government to bear in mind the help they can get from their reliance on spiritual power.

One wonders whether the Supreme Court of the United States, when it has to rule soon on the question of voluntary prayer in the schools, will deny the students the right to have little meetings of their own — outside of regular classes but on school property — to discuss the spiritual side of American life.

Billy Graham

The Bible says a Christian should be "as wise as a serpent and as harmless as a dove." How can I accomplish this? C.G.

These words were spoken by our Lord when He sent His disciples out to preach. They carry much meaning to us today. We, as Christians, live in an alien and hostile atmosphere. The Bible teaches that the world is basically at enmity with God. But God places us here to be as light in spiritual darkness; as salt in a rotting society. That our witness be effective it must at all times be directed by love, tact and good judgment. God expects us to be very wise in sizing up our surroundings and their opportunities for Him. He expects us to be tactful in dealing with others. He expects us to use good judgment in deciding when and how we shall carry out our witness. There is such a thing as a misdirected zeal which barges in at times and places where we should keep silent. On the other hand there is a spiritual awareness which enables us to grasp opportunities when they come. The Christian who exhibits these qualities in his daily contacts will be used for God's glory, not only by the things he says and does but also by the things which he refrains from saying or doing. It is the Holy Spirit living in our hearts who gives us the spiritual qualities of love, tact, patience and good judgment.

Pudding Or Pie?

MANCHESTER, England (AP) — Godfrey Illingworth, 19-year-old student teacher was looking forward to the steak pie he was carrying home for supper.

But suddenly a van pulled up alongside him, a man jumped out, grabbed the pie and drove off.

In a Manchester court David Woods, 22, painter and decorator, pleaded guilty to stealing the pie, value one shilling three pence — 15 cents. He said he had been drinking and told the court: "It was a pudding, not a pie."

Woods was conditionally discharged.

Too Much To Ask In The Name Of Art

NEW YORK (AP — Jumping to conclusions:

The wearing of boots is popular today with both young men and young women, and probably this reflects a feeling of frustration about our present society common to both sexes. They seek peace of mind, but the boots symbolize their unconscious, aggressive desire to stomp on whatever is bothering them and crush it.

Everything costs twice as much or more than it used to, but the inflationary spiral won't really reach its peak until men start tipping hatcheck girls four bits instead of a quarter.

Many people now are turning to painting as a way to express themselves. This is a fine idea, but the trouble with encouraging them by praising one of their paintings is that they are likely to press it on you as a gift. This means that, whenever they visit you, it is necessary for you to run down to the basement or scurry up to the attic to find where you hid it, then dust it off, and hang it on the living room wall until they leave. That is simply too much to ask in the name of art.

Nothing is impossible to a man who has the character to eat eight prunes for breakfast every morning of his life not because he likes them but because someone in his youth once told him they were good for him.

How much more romantic the world might seem if the same fine creative musical talent that is expended on television commercials was spent in composing our love songs!

Two out of five Americans don't know whether rutabaga is a musical instrument, a vegetable, or a kind of knapsack, and if you do tell these two what it is, one of them will think you're a smart aleck for bringing up the subject anyway.

Some fellows now are letting their sideburns grow so long they meet under their chins and form a semicircle. It does give them an interesting look—sort of as if their faces were skipping rope.

An old-timer is a man who can remember when all electric lights were turned on by pulling a beaded brass chain.

Junkyard Battle

NEW YORK (AP) — A remarkable feat was accomplished last year by the nation's auto wreckers. For the first time in memory they disposed of more vehicles than were abandoned, a score of something like 9 million to 7.5 million units.

Dismantling, ripping, grinding, hacking, compacting, baling, burning and burying, some 15,600 companies employing 98,500 workers reduced the nation's incredible backlog of automotive junk to less than 30 million units.

If you think this is no major feat, consider what the odds must be in the junkyard battle:

Adding to the pile each year is the production of the world's largest, most automated and sometimes wealthiest companies. The big car companies have been turning out hundreds of thousands of vehicles for decades. In this year alone their production will exceed nine million units.

Trying to keep pace is a disposal industry made up of many small companies without production lines—17 per cent are one-man operations—often using primitive methods, poorly financed and often poorly managed, scrambling to "outproduce" Detroit.

Gradually, however, the odds might be changing for a preliminary draft of a study just completed by the Commerce Department shows that, surprisingly, the efforts of these small companies add up to a huge industry indeed.

Shipments by auto wreckers in 1967 totaled $5.3 billion, for example, a figure equal to shipments of aircraft engines and parts, and which exceeds by far the dollar value of radio and television receiver shipments.

Technology also is helping the industry become more efficient and productive and some companies, in fact, have installed production lines to dismantle vehicles for their individual parts or for sale as junk.

To Your Good Health

Son Confided He Took Marijuana

Dear. Dr. Thosteson: I am heartsick. My son just confided that he has taken marijuana on occasions. He justifies it by telling me it is not a dangerous drug, and he can take it or leave it.

He also states that it is not as harmful as other drugs, and will not have any effect on his health. Is it as dangerous as "speed?" Could it be harmful? Is it habit-forming?—Mrs. J.Z.

He has given you most of the patter that the apologists for marijuana keep handing out. Personally, I don't buy it. Besides, there are some significant aspects that seem to get no attention at all.

To begin with, I don't think your son has any reason to think that he can judge how dangerous marijuana is. No accurate measurement of its harmfulness yet exists. That's why the Federal government is spending (properly, I believe) considerable sums in research, trying to provide an answer.

One problem is that the strength of the drug apparently varies considerably. It depends on what part of the plant is used, when it was harvested, where it grew. It would not surprise me at all to hear that a lot of it is adulterated. Drug peddlers "cut" other drugs; why not this?

There is no question in my mind that marijuana can be and is harmful, but also that a lot of people have smoked it and not been harmed. I could say the same thing about alcohol. Beer, for example. Certainly many people have an occasional glass of beer without harm. But others — who often claim that they can "take it or leave it alone" — have become alcoholics on beer.

Marijuana more harmful that "speed?" I can't answer. "Speed," meaning a drug of the amphetamine type, has done a great deal of good when properly used and a vast amount of harm when misused. There is this difference; the amphetamines have useful purposes; I can't say the same for marijuana.

We can agree that marijuana is not as destructive, and ultimately often deadly, as heroin or opium. Neither is marijuana addictive — addiction meaning that the user, when deprived of the drug, has an intolerable craving for it and suffers physical agonies.

Still, I don't see that this is much of an argument in favor of marijuana — that it isn't as bad as some others.

The fact remains that psychiatrists and mental hospitals report treating patients who have been marijuana users. Again, the fact that not everybody encounters emotional disorders from marijuana does not seem to be any answer to the fact that some "do."

Why is it that some do and some don't? The amount they smoke, the strength of the stuff, possibly differences in physical tolerance, and certainly differences in emotional stability, all these play their part.

Tomorrow I will discuss what I believe to be the most neglected aspect of the rising use of drugs, marijuana as well as others.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have been told that too much rhubarb sauce is bad for the kidneys. Please comment.—L.F.T.

Not so—with one exception. Rhubarb is high in oxalic acid, so it would not be wise for persons with kidney stones of the oxalate type to use it.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have diabetes and the soles of my feet tingle and hurt nearly all the time. I bathe my feet every morning and wear loose shoes, but it doesn't seem to help.—Mrs. J.L.

This could be a sign of impaired circulation, or diabetic neuritis, or both. The first thing is to keep the diabetes under control, with periodic tests to make certain of this. If you are overweight, losing weight is essential, too. Large doses of the B complex vitamins may help. But control of the diabetes is imperative.

Around The Rim

Something To Remember

When it came to money, sentiment didn't count for A. J. Crawford. He had nurtured his savings out of a $1.25-a-week job into a fortune estimated as high as $10 million at the time he died at age 101 at his home in Carlsbad, N.M., Feb. 12, 1969. Hard work, frugality, business acumen were his life and he got his enjoyment in making money.

IN A WAY, his friendship with Roy Cornelison represented the attraction of opposites. Roy first met Mr. Crawford when the old Crawford Hotel opened in 1929, and Roy sang in a quartet that furnished part of the entertainment. The friendship ripened, although Roy moved to Plainview and later to Ballinger. The depression had touched rock bottom, and one day when Roy was about as blue as can be, he got a telegram (which almost terrified him). It was Mr. Crawford wanting to know if Roy would come to Carlsbad and manage his Black River Village.

HE DID, and turned this white elephant on the Black River into a profitable venture. Three years later he moved into Carlsbad to work in the Crawford-owned laundry and cleaning plant. Finally, he moved back to Big Spring, but soon Mr. Crawford was after him to manage his Crawford Cleaners, which had never made money. Finally, Roy agreed to go in partners provided the business was moved to a new location. Mr. Crawford financed an enlargement, sold his half to Roy, then financed another home for the plant. Always, the loan was paid back on time and with interest, something that sat well with Mr. Crawford.

THEY SELDOM disagreed, although Mr. Crawford plainly showed his disappointment, like when he asked Roy to manage his hotels, or once when he wanted him to go into partnership on a motel at Midland (which would have made each of them a big chunk of money), or into the sheep business. Roy wouldn't because he didn't know much about these things.

For three decades, however, Roy and his wife, first Evelyn and then Lillian, made a practice of going every three months to see Mr. Crawford. Always the old man was bubbling with joy to see them.

"YOU'RE ALWAYS welcome here," he would say. "You just like me. Nine out of 10 who come through that door want something, to get me to promote something or borrow money. You don't want anything but to see me."

On one of these visits, six months before the old man died, Roy noticed he was down in the dumps and asked what was the matter. "Come in the office," said Mr. Crawford. Glumly, he confessed: "Roy, most people don't care anything about me. Six months after I'm gone, nobody will remember A. J. Crawford."

"That's what I've been wanting to tell you," Roy replied. "You can be remembered. You can make it so they won't forget."

MR. CRAWFORD brightened. Roy began reciting some things which were worthy objects of support. "Let me think it over," said Mr. Crawford.

On their last visit, Roy noticed the old gentleman was happier than he had seen him, despite the shadows of inevitable infirmities of 101 years. "Come in my office," Mr. Crawford said. "Sit down. Let me tell you something. "Roy, I've changed my will, and I've put some things in it, and I want you to know you're the cause of it." Then he recited several things.

ROY WAS BEAMING. "That's enough to run me a long time," he said, sharing in his friend's new joy.

Roy was broken-hearted when Mr. Crawford sank into a fatal illness and he did not learn of it until his friend had died. He rushed to Carlsbad. What he learned rewarded him for this unique friendship. Mr. Crawford had left a hospital and a home $500,000 each, and a similar amount each to the American Red Cross and the Salvation Army. Probably nothing he had ever made gave him as much happiness as this he gave; nothing could have made Roy happier.

Jinx Plane At Wheelus AFB

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
ASSOCIATED PRESS WRITER

WHEELUS AIR FORCE BASE, Libya (AP) — A bent and rusty propeller stands like a monument outside the base commander's office.

The propeller belonged to a World War II Liberator bomber named "Lady Be Good," which crash-landed beyond reach of help in the Libyan desert in 1943.

The men serving on the huge American base believe there is a jinx on the propeller. And it looks as though the jinx has finally come home to Whellus.

The big hangars stand empty and the two-mile runway is virtually unused. Armed Libyran soldiers are posted inside the base and at the gates.

The revolutionary government which seized power in Libya Sept. 1 has stopped all training flights out of the $100 million base and has given notice that the United States must leave when the current agreement runs out in 1971.

The 2,500 Americans, including 1,500 dependents, who live on the base are closely watched, meantime, by the military regime to make sure no Libyan fugitives use Wheelus supply flight to flee the country.

Two such cases have strained relations between the United States and the new regime.

Libyan officials describe the base as "an insult to Libya's sovereignty."

But because the base is within easy reach of Europe, surrounded by vast tracts of uninhabited land and favored almost every day by good flying weather, Air Force officers describe it as "essential to NATO combat readiness in Western Europe."

Many of the airmen here are unhappy because they feel penned in by a generally unfriendly population. Those who have no families here find it impossible to make friends with veiled Arab women. Tripoli has little to offer by way of entertainment.

Asked how they feel about the base being closed, many Wheelus men reply: "I sure hope so."

"The only thing I can say for this place is that it's better than being in Vietnam." one sergeant commented.

The "Lady Be Good" last flew out of a base in eastern Libya to bomb Naples on April 4, 1943.

On the way home, it overflew its base at Soluch by 400 miles in the darkness. The nine-man crew, members of the 376th Bomb Group of the U.S. Army Air Corps, finally bailed out thinking they were over the Mediterranean.

One — the luckiest — died when his parachute failed to open. The other eight died slowly in the trackless desert. Some of them walked nearly 80 miles in a hopeless struggle to reach help. Their four-engine plane landed by itself — almost undamaged — and lay undiscovered for 15 years.

Its engines and radio equipment were found virtually intact. Air Force men busy at the site during the long search for the bodies of the crew dismantled parts of the "Lady Be Good" to use them in their own planes.

The Threat Of The Space Platform

WASHINGTON — Dr. Theodore B. Taylor, a leading authority on military nuclear technology, was till 1962 a top designer of Project Orion, a nuclear-powered space-cruiser which probably would have made us the supreme power of the century.

JUST AS THIS Nuclear Space Propulsion Project (its official designation) became "do-able," in Dr. Taylor's word, it was cancelled. Construction was halted. The work-staff of scientists and engineers was disbanded. Theirs not to reason why. But the cancellation was a concession by President Kennedy and Defense Secretary McNamara to Premier Khrushchev in order to get the Nuclear Test Ban Treaty and further disarmament pacts agreed to by Russia.

NOW COMES the recent launching of Soyuz 6, 7 and 8. These craft are the hod-carriers for the building of a Soviet space platform, an enemy flanking movement which ought to give goose-flesh to Americans. It doesn't because most officials here dismiss Soyuz as jerry-built gadgetry for innocent little purposes like looking for fish and forest fires.

Dr. Ted Taylor, however, is one among several non-government savants who're willing to talk about the military potentials of this orbiting Red vantage-position.

"IT ALLOWS the Soviet crew," he says, "to see half the world at a glance. It is not just surveillance by photography. The manned platform would allow the highly-trained crew members to detect any earth-activity that puts off a "signature." This includes missile locations, missile testing and radar systems. The more that a space platform can be manned, the better its performance will be."

TAYLOR WENT on to discuss the military capability of a space platform manned by experienced technicians. These observers can follow the flight of their own country's missiles. They can exert "terminal fire control" over these nuclear-loaded artillery shells. That is, the Communist crew on the space command post can steer the Red missiles "to the target within an accuracy of 10 or 20 feet." The ABM Safeguard sites, which we are currently constructing, would not only be pin-pointed as to location, but their radars could be "jammed" from the Soviet space vessel.

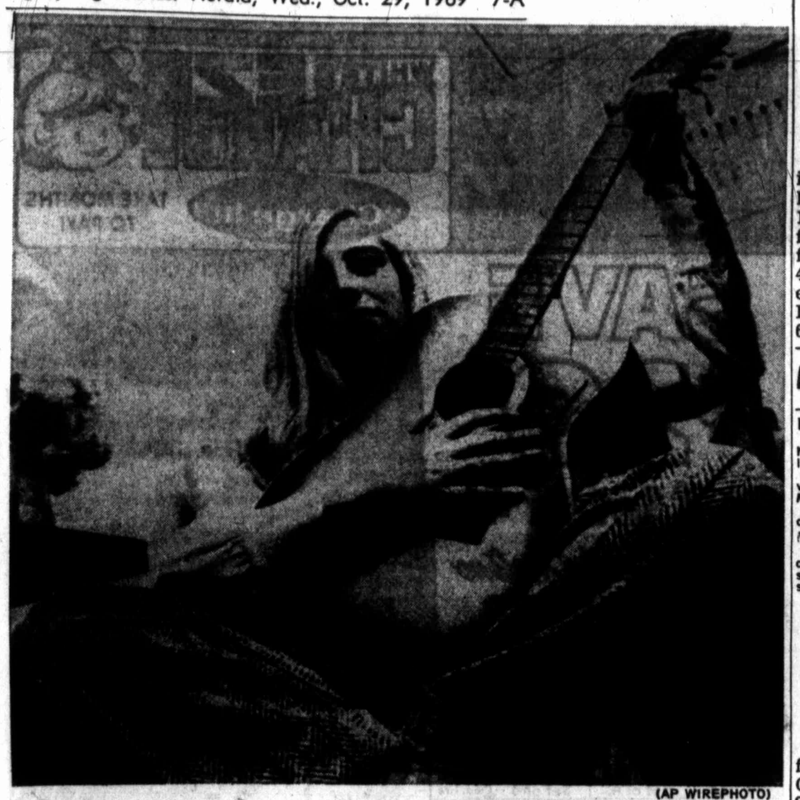

I had been told by the U.S. military and Space agencies that the Soviet platform would be too "vulnerable" for military utility. But I got a different estimate from Dr. Taylor. He agreed that such an enemy platform could be shot down either by nukes, or by non-nuclear explosions in space, provided we could draw a bead on it.

BUT THE PLATFORM could be rendered invisible by decoys which, although traceable from earth, are "indistinguishable weightwise" from the desired target.

The Russians' space platform is, if nothing else, a powerful blackmail instrument. They can afford it. We can hardly afford not to counter it.

City Deletes 17, But Adds 33 For Paving

The city commission Tuesday night voted to delete 17 blocks from the city's paving program, but kept three other blocks originally scheduled to be dropped.

Commissioners also decided to consider the addition of 33 blocks to the paving program, and scheduled a public hearing for these Nov. 25.

The total construction cost for the blocks deleted would have been $63,248.30, while the city's share would have been $10,302.17. The construction cost for the new blocks will be $115,440.42; the city would pay $12,509.58.

The commission, at the suggestion of Mayor Arnold Marshall, removed Lorilla Street from the list of those blocks to be deleted. Lorilla is scheduled for paving from Seventh Street to US 80 west, three blocks.

Charles Kane and three others from Lorilla had appeared before the commission and asked that Lorilla, at least the 700 block, be kept in the program. Kane said there were only one or two on the block that were preventing the paving.

Public Works Director Ernest Lillard said one of the two people who had paid back taxes during these last two weeks lived on Lorilla.

"Because of the new truth in lending law," said Angy Glenn, speaking for W. D. Caldwell, Inc., the paving contractor, "it is difficult to pave property without a mechanics lien being signed. We have to have the cooperation of the property owner to make a valid lien. We used to take a chance on the paving, but now it's very difficult."

City Attorney Herb Prouty explained the city cannot force the contractor to pave a block where there is homestead property and it is not financially feasible, or where the people refuse to make a valid mechanics lien.

A mechanics lien takes precedence over any other lien, except one for taxes.

Mayor Pro-tem George Zachariah suggested the city could pick up the paving lien to get the 700 block paved, since it amounted to only $275. Mayor Marshall directed Lillard to try to work something out with Caldwell, Inc.

Regarding those streets possibly to be included into the program, Lee Ashley, owner of five lots on Lockhart Street, told the commission he would not be able to pay for any paving of Lockhart. He said his houses were old and would not let him pay both taxes and a paving assessment. He added that Mrs. J. A. Shipley, who owns two lots on the street, had told him she couldn't pay for paving either.

Lockhart Street has been suggested for paving from First to Third.

Claude Fallon also appeared before the commission and asked that Fifth Street, from State to Settles, be included in the program. He said that to his knowledge no one was behind in his taxes, and Lillard added all residents along the block had signed the petition for paving.

Earlier Commissioner Garner McAdams had suggested having a package contract: so many streets costing so much and thus avoiding any additions or deletions.

Lillard said this would be possible only if the city could guarantee the paving assessment, and that could be done only by signing mechanics liens. The big reason for dropping blocks in the past has been due to no one signing up.

Those blocks to be deleted from the program are: Thirteenth, from Dixie to Settles, one block; Fourteenth, from Dixie to Settles, one block; North Tenth, from Main to Runnels, one block; Austin, from Fifth to Sixth, one block; North Tenth, from Goliad to Benton, two blocks; North Third, from Trades to Dundee, one block; North Fifth, from Scurry to Main, one block; North Eighth, from Main to Goliad, four blocks; West Eighth, from US 80 West to Andree, two blocks; North Eighth, from Aylford to San Antonio, two blocks; and Trades, from Third to Fourth, one block.

Those blocks that could be added to the paving program are: North Aylford, from Third to Fourth, one block; Carl, from Connally to Wasson, four blocks; Grace, from Connally to Wasson, four blocks; Sixth, from San Antonio to Abrams, two blocks; Fifth, from Goliad to Benton, two blocks; Fifth, from State to Settles, one block; Cardinal, from Sixteenth to Webb Lane, one block; Lockhart, from First to Third, two blocks; North Eleventh, from Gregg to Scurry, one block; North Eleventh, from San Antonio to the Lamesa Highway, one block; Owens, from Eighteenth to Mittel Acres, one block; Twenty-second, from Runnels to Johnson, one block; Twenty-fourth, from Runnels to Johnson, one block; Runnels, from Twenty-fourth to FM 700, one block; Virginia, from Phillips Road to Cole Lane, one block; North Sixth, from US 87 to Goliad, seven blocks; Fifth, from Abrams to Douglas, one block; Twenty-third, from Scurry to Main, one block; and Fifth, from Nolan to Goliad, one block.

Jury Panel To Report Thursday

Twenty-two members of a Howard County Court jury panel are scheduled to report Thursday at 9 a.m. for jury selection in the trial of William Paul Darrow, who is charged on two counts of aggravated assault.

The panel was sworn in for duty Monday and reported for duty Tuesday, but was dismissed when the cases set for that day were postponed until the next term of court in February.

Take Advantage Of High Discount

County Tax Assessor-Collector Mrs. Zirah LeFevre reported today that approximately 31 per cent of county taxpayers have thus far taken advantage of the three percent discount allowed on taxes paid in October.

She expects that between 70 and 80 per cent of county taxes will be received by Oct. 31, the deadline for the three per cent discount.

Taxes paid during the month of November may be discounted by two per cent and in December, by one per cent. All county taxes are due Jan. 1, 1970.

Ouster Of Erwin As Texas Regents Chairman Is Voted

AUSTIN (AP) — The general faculty of the University of Texas at Austin Tuesday night voted to ask the legislature to impeach Frank C. Erwin Jr. if he refused to resign as chairman of the UT board of regents.

But Erwin replied he has no intention of resigning his post.

The vote was 242 to 197 out of a total general faculty membership of 1,450.

The faculty approved the resolution by a show of hands after debating the measure only five minutes.

Erwin said he "sincerely regretted" the faculty action, taken by what he called less than 30 per cent of the general faculty with less than 20 per cent of them approving the request.

The faculty resolution, offered by six teachers, calls on Erwin to resign both as chairman and as a member of the board of regents.

"In the event that he refuses, we call upon the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature to institute impeachment procedures against him at the earliest possible opportunity," the resolution said.

UT-Austin President Norman Hackerman, who presides over general faculty meetings, said, "It is my opinion that Mr. Erwin has indeed contributed to the well-being of the university."

The resolution said Erwin "has evidenced an inability to understand the basic concepts of academic freedom, a desire to interfere in the internal workings of the university, a flair for making public statements of an inflammatory and insulting nature on controversial matters . . . and has acted in a cavalier fashion as regards the explicitly stated responsibilities and regulations governing the office of chairman of the board of regents."

Erwin's actions, the resolution said, "make it ever more difficult for the University of Texas at Austin to continue its good record of reasonable and responsible interaction among administrators, faculty and students in these troubled times."

Erwin said of the resolution, ". . . My answer to that small minority is the same I have always made to the Students for a Democratic Society (SDS). I was not appointed by them, and I have no intention whatever of resigning as a result of demands that they make.

"I am persuaded that the people of Texas are sick and tired of paying taxes to support this kind of conduit on the part of both the faculty and students," Erwin said.

Supreme Court Refuses To Hear Farrar's Suit

The Texas Supreme Court refused to hear a case against Colorado City Independent School District brought by its former tax assessor-collector, Charlie Nichol Farrar, for breach of contract, thus upholding the decisions by 32nd District Court and the Court of Civil Appeals for the defendant.

Attorney for the Colorado City schools Guil Jones explained today that Farrar was the tax assessor-collector for Colorado City schools for a number of years and that he claims the board hired him for two more years in September, 1967. Farrar was dismissed in 1968 and he claims breach of contract or that the board unlawfully dismissed him.

Jones said he made a plea in abatement in the case saying that a case of this nature must be presented for an administrative hearing to the Texas State Commissioner of Education before it can be turned into a law suit. This is the position upheld by the supreme court's decision.

Jones added that Farrar now has two possible roads to go: making a second appeal to the Supreme Court, or going back through channels and presenting his case to the Texas Education Commissioner. Even if the commissioner finds fault with the case, Farrar will still be allowed to file it as a law suit.

$2,500 Bond Set By Grice

Justice of the Peace Walter Grice has set bond at $2,500 for Charles Wright, address unknown, on charges of forgery. Charges were filed by the county attorney. Wright remained in custody today.

Robert Smithie Jr., 26, of Baton Rouge, La., was arrested late Tuesday on a complaint filed by the county attorney charging him with non-support. No bond had been set as of noon today.

Hazel Baker, 907 Runnels, was assessed a $50 fine and costs Tuesday on her plea of guilty to a charge of worthless checks, and was released.

Money Stolen

Tom Guin told police this morning $126.25 in cash and $15.38 in checks was missing from the Phillips 66 Station, 1811 Gregg; he said he had kept the money in a bag in the air-conditioning duct. The burglar broke a window on the bay door to gain entry.

Lt. Joseph Saint Tuesday reported an electric guitar was missing from the Salvation Army Chapel.

MOST ACTIVE YEAR RECORDED

Dr. Harold Smith Named Rehab Center President

Dr. Harold G. Smith was elected new president of the Dora Roberts Rehabilitation Center board of directors at the board's annual meeting Tuesday. He succeeds Ernest Welch, and has been an active member of the board.

Truett Thomas was named vice president; Dr. Dean Box was re-elected secretary and John Wilson was re-elected treasurer.

New directors will be Jack Powell, Paul Meek, Maj. Porter Medley, Jeff Brown, Bob Bradbury and the Rev. Leo Gee. These will be replacing Dr. Keith Thompson, Col. Chandler Estes, Mrs. R. J. Ream, Bill Read and the Rev. R. F. Polk, whose terms have expired.

Holdover directors include Mrs. Dorothy Garrett, Dr. William Riley, Harold Smith, Dr. M. W. Talbot, Andy Brown, Keith Swim, Dr. Box, John Ferguson, Mrs. K. H. McGibbon, H. W. Smith, Truett Thomas and John Wilson.

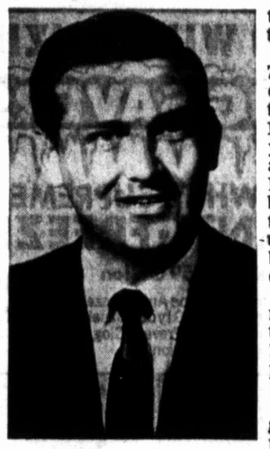

The board adopted an amended budget which calls for expenditures of $63,423 for the fiscal year beginning October 1. Projected receipts are in the same amount, and looks toward income from treatment fees, the United Fund and various other gifts.

The Center has completed by far its most active year, it was shown in a report from Jim Thompson, director and physical therapist.

A total of 1,124 individual patients were served during the past year as compared to 567 the year before, the patient load being virtually doubled.

These patients were rendered a total of 12,407 treatments as compared to 8,844 the previous year.

There was an increase in the number of physical therapy treatments given at the center of six treatments. There were 6,078 treatments given this year as compared to 6,072 the previous year. However, the Center expanded its physical therapy services to include the physical therapy department at Malone & Hogan Hospital. There were 3,492 treatments given at the Malone & Hogan Department. This gives a total of 9,570 treatments given in physical therapy altogether, for a total of 3,498 treatments over last year. This was done with practically the same staff as last year. There was a total of 19,738 modalities performed the past year in physical therapy.

DR. HAROLD SMITH

In speech and hearing therapy 74 patients were given a total of 1,478 treatments as compared to 100 patients given a total of 1,331 treatments the previsou year. The Center has just hired an Audiologist and Speech Pathologist on a permanent basis, and with the addition of the new staff member to head up this phase of the program, big growth is expected in this department.

The total number of treatments given this year through the treatment programs were 11,057 as compared to 7,866 the previous year for an increase of 3,191.

The remainder of services given were through the transportation program, equipment loan program, recreation pogram, and Crippled Children's Clinics, making a total number of services rendered 12,407.

Gas Gate Rate Hearing Delayed

AMARILLO — At the request of various cities, Pioneer Natural Gas Company has asked the Railroad Commission of Texas to postpone the hearing on Pioneer's gate rate adjustment application until November 24, according to an announcement by K. B. Watson, senior vice president and general counsel for the company. The gate rate will apply to cities on Pioneer's West Texas System only, and will have no immediate effect on the current gas rate to consumers.

"Several communities wish to be represented at the hearing called by the Railroad Commission and felt that the hearing date of November 4 would not afford them the necessary time," Watson said.

According to information received by Pioneer, a group of cities have formed a steering committee made up of 12 representatives from the various communities. A representative of this group requested the postponement.

Grand Jury Still Mulling 37 Cases

An eight-man, four-woman grand jury continued its consideration today of a total of 37 criminal cases ranging from murder to forgery.

District Clerk Fern Cox said the grand jury is not expected to report before late Thursday or Friday.

Among the cases being pondered are two murder charges, one against Claresa Ezell in the alleged stabbing of Arthur Lee Parker Aug. 3, and the other alleging that Ennis Gutierrez shot and killed Pedro Rodriguez Oct. 24.

The jury began its deliberations Tuesday afer it was impanelled by 118th District Court Judge Ralph Caton.

Pioneer Gas Income Is Up

AMARILLO — Consolidated net income of Pioneer Natural Gas Company and subsidiaries for the quarter ended September 30, 1969, amounted to $1,445,318, according to an announcement by Burton P. Smith, president. This compares with $1,179,481 for the third quarter of 1968 restated to reflect acquisitions made in 1969 on a pooling of interests basis. For the first nine months of 1969 the consolidated net income amounted to $5,163,624 compared to $5,339,269 for the same period in 1968, as restated.

Philadelphia Papers Sold

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Knight Newspapers, Inc., takes over the Philadelphia Inquirer and Philadelphia Daily News as of Dec. 31 in a $55 million sale announced Tuesday.

The sale, for cash and notes, was made public in a joint statement by Walter H. Annenberg, president of Triangle Publications, and John S. Knight, editorial chairman and senior officer of Knight Newspapers.

Annenberg, U.S. ambassador to Britain, still has a communications empire, which includes Seventeen magazine, radio and television stations, TV Guide and the Morning Telegraph horse racing newspaper.

Explaining the sale of the Philadelphia newspapers, he said: "With the passing of my only son, there is no likely possibility of family transference, and hence my desire to insure a future ownership in which I have confidence."

His son Roger died in 1962.

Said Knight:

"We foresee further development and growth of the Inquirer and the Daily News as they continue to pursue the worthy objectives which best serve this area. We are making a substantial investment in Philadelphia and Pennsylvania because of our faith in their future."

Dear Abby

—ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: How can my husband tactfully tell his father that he doesn't want anymore homemade haircuts? Due to the rising cost of haircuts, my husband and his father have had a reciprocal hair cutting arrangement.

My husband has been putting up with "bowl jobs" hoping his father would notice and heed his suggestion of going back to a professional barber, but it hasn't worked out that way.

NO NAME, PLEASE

DEAR NO NAME? It's mighty sweet of your husband to be so considerate of his father's feelings, but there is a solution to his problem. He must say, "Look, Pa, you're a wonderful father, but a lousy barber. Let's stay out of each other's hair from now on. The barbers have to live, too."

• • •

DEAR ABBY: Our marriage is in serious trouble. Shortly after I married, I found out that my husband lived with a friend with whom he had a homosexual relationship. I didn't forgive OR forget, even though he assured me that it would never happen again.

I worried myself sick every time he went out or came home late from work. We saw counselors, doctors, and a priest who said little other than it was something that he would have to fight all his life — like alcohol. That didn't comfort me much. Anyway, I don't think he has any more such "affairs," but he doesn't want much to do with me either. Bathing, perfuming, and looking sexy doesn't do a thing. After 11 years of practically no sex life I have been tempted to go out with other men, but that would be a terrible thing to do to my two children. My marriage is messed up enough already. Please give me some advice.

"TROUBLED OUT WEST"

DEAR TROUBLED: My authorities on this subject tell me that homosexuality is "learned," and can be "unlearned" IF (and this is a big "IF") the patient is properly motivated, which most of them are not.

Your husband is bi-sexual, which need not preclude him from being a good husband.

Your words, "I didn't forgive or forget" leads me to suspect that your unforgiving attitude shows, and is driving your husband away.

Your only hope is to insist that he see a psychiatrist; otherwise your marriage doesn't have a very rosy future.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: My Alvin and I haven't been married very long and now he has asked me for a once a week night "out" with the "boys." I will let him go if you say it is all right, Abby, but I wonder if maybe it could be dangerous.

ALVIN'S BETTY

DEAR BETTY: There is nothing dangerous about it as long as the "boys" ARE boys.

• • •

DEAR ABBY: This is for the lady who wrote to you about the engineer's wife who was so lazy that she left her dirty dishes in the oven. Thanks a million for the idea! I'd been leaving mine right out in the open for everyone to see until I read that.

ANOTHER ENGINEER'S WIFE

Fugitive Rap Doesn't Fit?

DURANT, OLKA. (AP) — An Oklahoma judge has ruled that a fugitive charge against pardoned felon Frank Sawyer, 70, is illegal.

An Oklahoma district attorney said Sawyer owes the state prison time for two murder and one kidnaping conviction and has sent a warrant to Odessa, Tex., where Sawyer is living.

Sawyer, a house painter, has indicated he will resist Oklahoma's efforts to arrest him and return him to prison.

Sawyer was pardoned last month by Kansas Gov. Robert Dockings for a crime he did not commit. He had been paroled to Kansas from an Oklahoma prison in 1962.

Dist. Atty. Wallace Gates says Kansas had the right to pardon Sawyer from their prison but not for the Oklahoma convictions.

Dist. Judge Allan B. McPagron said Sawyer had not violated his parole and so the charge of being a fugitive doesn't fit the case.

"When a man is admitted to parole, then it becomes a proposition of the executive branch of the government. The judicial has nothing to do with it," the judge said.

The Gay Hill Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a carnival and chili supper beginning at 5:30 p.m. Saturday at the Gay Hill school. Chili, hot dogs, pie, coffee and cold drinks will be served. Booths will include a cake walk, doll walk and various games. The public is invited to attend.

Bi-Partisan Panel Will Probe Tax Reform Bill

Winston Wrinkle will be moderator for a bi-partisan panel discussion of the effects of the tax reform bill, HR 13270, on the ordinary citizen, Thursday at 8 p.m. in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room. The discussion is being sponsored by the West Texas Republican Women's Club.

Panel members include R. H. Weaver, a local attorney, who will discuss the effect of the tax bill on foundations and special funds; C. D. Tuttle, a Cosden attorney, will point out its effect on the oil industry; and Sidney Clark, a certified public accountant, will relate the bill's effect on investments. A question and answer period will follow.

The club is seeking to inform the public of the far-reaching implications of this bill which passed the House of Representatives and is due to be brought up in the Senate soon. The House cut the oil depletion allowance to 20 per cent, but just recently a Senate committee has recommended that the allowance be set at 23 per cent, which is 4½ per cent below the present tax reduction.

Friday morning five members of the club will leave for Austin to attend the convention of the Texas Federation of Republican Women. Mrs. Floyd Mays will serve as delegate for the club, and Mrs. R. B. G. Cowper, Mrs. Akin Simpson and Mrs. Jack Lipscombe of Big Spring and Mrs. Wendall Shive of Coahoma will accompany her.

Congressman George Bush will give the keynote address at the opening session of the convention to be held at the Villa Capri hotel. Mrs. Spiro Agnew, wife of the vice president, will be the convention's guest of honor and will present the Tops 'N Texas awards to three outstanding Republican women. Senator John Tower will give the main address at the banquet Friday evening.

The women will return to Big Spring Sunday.

You'd think by now God would say "Phooey!"

What with all the hate, the indifference to war, the fanatical selfishness we see around us. But God doesn't go around saying things like "Phooey." He goes around saying things like "Love your neighbor as you love yourself." Have you tried it lately?

Break the hate habit: love your neighbor.

State Head Feted By Auxiliary

Mrs. Della Leifieste, state president of the Eagles Auxiliary, was honored at a banquet Monday evening by the local auxiliary at Hotel Settles. Mrs. Leifeste was accompanied by Mrs. Nannie Conran, also of New Braunfels.

Mrs. Leifieste, who was presented a gift, spoke briefly on "People Helping People," the auxiliary motto. She noted that she had accepted a challenge for a membership drive in the United States, and to date, Texas is leading.

Mrs. Leifieste announced her project of the year as the Christian Corral Boys Ranch in New Braunfels. A donation was made by local members.

Mrs. Tom Almon of Odessa, ritual captain, initiated two new members, Mrs. George Loflin and Mrs. Mae Steel.

The head table was laid with a white cloth and centered with a large arrangement of fall flowers.

Party Held For Bride

Mrs. Mark Wheeler, the former Miss Evelyn Hughes, was honored with a gift party Monday in the home of Mrs. Charles Herring Jr., 1608 Scott.

Cohostesses were Mrs. T. A. Welch, Mrs. R. B. Covington, Mrs. Roy Spivey, Mrs. Clayton Woods, Mrs. Glenn Earhart, Mrs. Wilbur Pope, Mrs. H. D. Brown and Mrs. F. A. Gibbs.

The honoree, attired in a white wool dress, was presented a pink carnation corsage. She greeted guests with her mother, Mrs. John Hughes, and her husband's mother, Mrs. Joe M. Wheeler, both of whom were given pink carnation corsages.

The refreshment table was laid with a pink cloth with a net overlay and centered with an antique china bridal couple flanking a bouquet of pink and white roses. Crystal and silver appointments completed the setting.

Mrs. Michael C. Wood, sister of the bride, presided at the guest register.

The couple was married Oct. 9 in the home of the bride's parents.

Reveals November Wedding Plans

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Richardson, 702 Birdwell, are announcing the approaching marriage of their daughter, Janet Marie, to Edward Lee Akin of Lamesa. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Akin, also of Lamesa. The couple plans to be married Nov. 14 at Wesley United Methodist Church with the Rev. Royce Womack officiating.

District Officers Conduct Initiation For Mu Kappa

Mrs. C. E. McFadden, president of District Eight, Epsilon Sigma Alpha, and Mrs. S. C. Lipscomb Jr., district coordinator, both of Crane, conducted an initiation ritual at a banquet held Monday by Mu Kappa Chapter in the Elks Hall.

Pledges were Mrs. Tommy Stephens, Mrs. J. M. Bradley and Mrs. Joe Friday. Mrs. Ed Miller received the ritual of jewels.

The ritual table was covered in a gold cloth and accented with an arrangement of yellow gladioli and blue carnations. The sorority pins were placed on a white Bible. The pledges and guest speakers were presented yellow chrysanthemum corsages. Place cards carried out the Zodiac theme, and gifts were presented to the guests.

WSCS Members Present Program

"She Shall Be Called Woman" was the theme of a program on prayer and self denial held Tuesday morning by the Woman's Society of Christian Service at First United Methodist Church.

Program participants were Mrs. H. C. Ernsting, Mrs. Delbert Donelson, Mrs. Warden Mayes, Mrs. Paul Kionka and Mrs. R. W. Thompson.

Mrs. Dale Vaughan played an organ prelude and accompanied Mrs. Joe Dawes as she sang a medley of hymns. The program was concluded by members partaking of Holy Communion administered by the Rev. Leo Gee.

Learn Techniques Of Dried Arrangements

Creativity in flower arrangements, using dried materials, was demonstrated by Mrs. Odell Womack, speaker at Tuesday morning's meeting of the Rosebud Garden Club at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Jack Cook, 1706 Harvard, with Mrs. Tommy Hart as cohostess.

Mrs. Womack gave pointers on how to achieve the unusual in arrangements using dried materials while sticking to the basic rules of flower arranging. Noting the differences between traditional, contemporary and abstract arranging, Mrs. Womack displayed eight unique arrangements.

Among them was one entitled "Windblown" which utilized a tall red pillar vase, a red dried root and bits of celosis on a red platform. One combined dried okra and beans, another used yellow yarrow and dried wisteria, and yet a third was created with glycerined brown oak leaves in a green free form container. Mrs. Womack used dried wisteria in two and three dimensions to create depth and spaces in explaining proper forms and shapes.

Roll call was answered with the names of wild flowers native to West Texas, among them being sunflower, gallardia and Queen's Lace.

Mrs. G. P. Morrison presided, welcoming a new member, Mrs. Charles Puttle, and a guest, Mrs. Vernon Baird. She announced that the Southern Zone meeting is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., Nov. 14 at the Women's Club in Snyder. Members announcing intentions to attend were Mrs. Bill Edwards, Mrs. Morrison, Mrs. Dale Smith and Mrs. Odell Womack.

The hostesses served refreshments from a polished table accented with pyracantha. The next meeting will be at 9:30 a.m., Nov. 25, with the place to be announced.

'RCUND TOWN

By LUCILLE PICKLE

There must have been many among us who, though warned numerous times to turn back our clocks, just let the time slip by and slept right through the time change. I did. But I remembered by six Sunday morning and I don't know when I've enjoyed an extra hour as much. However, having changed one to the right time I relaxed and forgot the others. When I realized that there was a bonus 60 minutes before Sunday morning activities I really made good mileage.

The NAT SHICKS made it to church on time. In fact, they were at church a full hour before everyone else. They had the First Baptist Church auditorium all alone for some time before they realized that Sunday was the 'fall back' time on the clocks.

Thelma's Fashions Styled To Convey 'A Young Look'

Thelma's, on the corner of Eleventh Place and Johnson, specializes in maternity fashions and is styled for the "young look," according to Mrs. Margie Baker, owner. But the store has women's wear too.

"We are friendly and informal here," Mrs. Baker said. "We try to provide a relaxed atmosphere. There's free coffee and a lounge for anyone who happens to drop in."

Thelma's stocks dresses, sportswear, pants, tops, and Mary Jane lingerie, including bras, panties, slips, and gowns. Sizes run 3-15 for juniors, 8-20 for misses, plus women's needs.

"We have a convenient location here," Mrs. Baker said. "We are in the middle of the two junior highs, the high school, and the junior college. There's plenty of parking space, and we're open six days a week from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m."

Thelma's carries many fashions of famous designers in all size groups, including Phil Jacobs, Page Boy, Marian Sue, Jori, Ed Bolin, Butternut, Peppertree, Junior House, Gay Gibson, Jo Lester of Dallas, Darra, and Jan Sue of California. It also has Glen Garry and Bodin knits.

The store provides free gift wrapping, a layaway plan, alteration service, and charge accounts, plus delivery service if needed.

Mrs. Baker has been in the clothing business for 16 years. Originally, she had been in partnership with her mother, Mrs. Thelma Lewis, and the store had been called Margie's. About seven years ago they sold the store, then five months later Mrs. Baker bought it back and changed the name to Thelma's.

Mrs. Baker's husband, Steve, is a native of Big Spring, and she has lived here for 30 years. Mrs. Ollie Layman has been helping her in the store for a long while; and Mrs. Martha Welch, whose husband is a student at Webb AFB, is also working there.

Hospital Care Costs Will Rise To $100 A Day?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hospital care costs probably will rise to nearly $100 a day by 1973, Congress was told Tuesday.

A spokesman for the American Hospital Association, testifying before the House Ways and Means Committee, said the average daily cost of hospital care was $61.38 in 1968 and $67.59 for 1969. The Association's projection shows this will rise to $98.37 by 1973, he said.

The witness, Dr. George W. Graham, Schenectady, N.Y., president of the association, said the medicare program, as well as increasing salaries, generally higher costs and inflation all have added to the rise in hospital charges to patients.

Vols, Rebels, Bucks And Texas Favored

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

Tennessee, Florida and Louisiana State have their work cut out for them this weekend as they try to maintain their status as the leaders in the Southeastern Conference. So does Kansas State in the Big Eight and Wyoming in the Western Athletic.

And, above all, so do the unfortunate folks who have to pick these games . . . and put it in writing, no less.

Here goes nothing:

Tennessee at Georgia—Third-ranked Vols are averaging 39.6 points a game, fourth best in the country. Georgia Bulldogs, No. 11 have allowed only 8.2 points and are ninth in rushing defense. Who says the best offense is a good defense' It says here the best offense is a good offense. Tennessee!

Florida at Auburn—Here's another irresistible force vs. immovable object game. Seventh-ranked Gators, averaging a third-best 39.7 points, are eighth in total offense, second in passing offense and John Reaves leads the country with 20 touchdown tosses. Auburn, ranked 17th, is second in total defense, seventh in pass defense. Reaves hasn't faced a defense like . . . Auburn.

Louisiana State at Mississippi —LSU's eighth-ranked Tigers are scoring at a 36.3 clip but their forte is defense — seventh over-all, third against rushing and fourth in yielding points. But LSU hasn't faced a quarterback like Archie Manning of . . . Mississippi.

Kansas State at Missouri — Amazing Wildcats, rated 12th, reached a peak in mauling Oklahoma last Saturday while 14th-ranked Missouri was knocked from the unbeaten ranks by Colorado. The pick is . . . Missouri to pop the Purple.

Wyoming at Arizona State—Cowboys are ranked 15th, third in total defense and first in rushing defense.

The name, in case it has skipped your mind, is George line the shore.

"We're taking it slow but sure," said Sadler Tuesday. "The main thing is to keep him busy. It is tough to do that. He's not Floyd Patterson or Cassius Clay. He had only 20 amateur fights. We're in no hurry. You never can tell, one punch can change a fighter's life."

Foreman boxes Roberto Davila, a 26-year-old fighter who is billed as heavyweight champion of Peru. Their eight-round match tops an all-heavyweight sho wFriday at the Garden.

"I just take them one at a time," said Foreman, "Each one is tougher than the last. I don't want to wait too long but I know I have a lot of work to do. It's no overnight thing. I'd like to be a contender in another year."

Foreman, a handsome soft-spoken young man, has definite ideas about his place in the scheme of things.

"I know I wouldn't be controversial like Cassius Clay," he said, "nor as quiet as Floyd Patterson. Inside the ring I want to be George Foreman, the fighter. Outside, I want to be just George Foreman."

His face lit up when somebody asked what he liked to do when he wasn't boxing.

"I'm a dancing man," he said. "I like to go to the movies and dance. The popcorn is my dance. The boogaloo is out of date."

AP Back Of Week Set Loop Record

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

When Lynn Dickey, Kansas State's junior quarterback, goes to the movies, it's usually a double feature—one good film and one bad one.

The good one shows Dickey's hero, Joe Namath of the New York Jets, in action. The bad one is "sort of a horror film" consisting of the 19 interceptions Dickey threw last season.

Off his performance in K-State's shocking 59-21 slaughter of Oklahoma last Saturday, Namath should be watching films of Dickey. He might even recognize the white shoes.

All the 6-foot-4, 204-pounder from Osawatomie, Kan., did was set Big Eight records with 28 completions for 380 yards as the Wildcats beat Oklahoma for the first time in 35 years. Included in the barrage were three touchdown passes.

(AP WIREPHOTO)

LYNN DICKEY

For that performance, Dickey was named college football's Back of the Week by The Associated Press.

"There isn't a better quarterback in the country than Lynn Dickey," said Coach Vince Gibson. "Dickey is a super, super, super, super quarterback. He's a great passer, he's got a lot of poise, he doesn't panic and he's great at picking up his second receiver. He's definitely a pro prospect.

"He played the best game at quarterback I've seen since I've been coaching. I recall seeing Dewey Warren, Chuck Hixson, Bobby Douglass, Bob Anderson and Terry Hanratty.

"I've never seen a college quarterback do that well. I remember Warren had a great day for Tennessee against UCLA when I was coaching at Tennessee, but it didn't compare with what Dickey did in this game. I've never seen a quarterback do that to a good football team like Oklahoma."

Maybe Dickey didn't see Namath do it to the Baltimore Colts last January, but you can bet Dickey did. He not only wears white shoes like Broadway Joe, but Osawatomie Lynn has pictures of Namath all over his room and tries to get films of him whenever he can.

"I watch his every move," Dickey said. "I've followed him since he's been in pro ball. I watch his technique more than anything else, the way he sets up, but I even watch the way he walks. I think he's the greatest quarterback around."

The white shoes started when Dickey and teammate John Stucky made a speaking tour of the state last summer promoting Kansas State football before civic and alumni groups. At one function, Dickey was jokingly asked when he was going to start wearing white shoes

He mentioned it to Gibson, who told him: "If you've got the guts to wear 'em, wear 'em."

Kittens Claw Loraine Fems

LORAINE — The Garden City girls opened their basketball season on an auspicious note here Tuesday night, defeating Loraine in both ends of a double header.

The Garden City A team prevailed, 47-36, in a game where most members of the squad saw action at one time or another. The reserve Bearkittens had opened with a 46-28 success.

Carthy Batla counted 18 points and Lisa Hirt 15 for Garden City in the feature attraction. In the back courts, Judy Halfmann did a fine job for the winners.

In the B game, sophomore Kay Woodley counted 11, Jeannie Werst ten and Kay Schraeder nine for Garden City.

The Kittens return to play in Garden City next Tuesday night against Grandfalls.

Athlete's Life Is Difficult, Says Buckeye

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Rex Kern is like a lot of Ohio State University's 41,500 students in one respect.

He rolls out of his Phi Delta Theta fraternity bed each weekday morning at 7, ready to tackle a hearty breakfast and five hours of classes.

But Kern is unlike other students. The red-haired junior is the recognized leader of unbeaten Ohio State's football team, driving toward a second successive national title as the nation's top team.

With that, he faces pressures other students on this big campus do not encounter. Fan mail, speaking requests, calls from writers and fellow students wanting to talk about the game are part of Kern's day.

"It's more difficult for an athlete to be a student," admits Kern, a physical education major with a 2.8 scholastic average.

Kern, a quarterback who already owns the Ohio State career yardage record (2,588) after only the fifth game of his junior year, is more in demand than other college athlete speakers. He's deeply religious—he reads the Bible nightly in his room before going to bed—and is an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Kern is one of those athletes who commands the respect of his coaches, teammates, the opposition and writers — not to mention girls.

SIDELINED — Bobby Heith, (above), 130-pound senior flanker back for the Big Spring Steers, suffered a rib injury in last week's game with San Angelo and is out for the remainder of the season.

Warrior Fans Have New Hero In Lucas

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Jerry Lucas has been in San Francisco less than a week, but he and the Warriors' fans already have formed a mutual admiration society.

"This is San Francisco talking," remarked a ticket buyer after the 6-foot-8 Lucas helped the Warriors stifle Milwaukee and Lew Alcindor Saturday night.

"We're frustrated," the fan added, "but we never give up hoping. We want a championship. Getting this kind of player

Well, you can almost smell a title."

Lucas, a former Ohio State All-American who didn't fit into Bob Cousy's plans at Cincinnati, received a three-minute ovation when he was introduced to the sellout crowd of 7,000 at the Civic Auditorium.

Then he went out and grabbed 22 rebounds, scored 10 points and helped teammate Nate Thurmond hold Alcindor to 16 points.

Lucas expects to be more familiar with the Warriors' offense when he plays with them the second time tonight at the Civic Auditorium against the Chicago Bulls.

"I'm really not in shape since I averaged only about nine minutes a game at Cincinnati," remarked Lucas, 29, who has been on the National Basketball Association All-Star team all six years he has been in the league.

In a trade Friday, the Warriors gave up 6-foot-2 guard Jim King and 6-7 forward Bill Turner, both starters, for Lucas.

Coach George Lee, with good reason, expects to have the strongest front line in the NBA. Lucas ranked third last year behind Bill Russell and Wilt Chamberlain in total NBA rebounds.

The Warriors' 6-11 Thurmond and 6-10 Clyde Lee, meanwhile, had more rebounds than any other two teammates in the league.

Lucas, who has been house-hunting, was determined to come to San Francisco. The Warriors needed him and he needed them, Lucas says.

Two other big forwards the Warriors had counted on, Rudy LaRusso and Rick Barry, were not available.

LaRusso retired and Barry was forced by a court order to play out his contract with the Washington Caps of the American Basketball Association. Barry, a former Warrior star, jumped to the Oakland Oaks last year but did not want to move with them to Washington.

"Cousy told me I was going to be traded," Lucas said. "He wanted quick, shooting forwards

He was kind enough to give me first choice.

"I chose San Francisco and I'm tickled to death that the deal went through."

At Cincinnati, Lucas and guard Oscar Robertson carried the offensive load, and opposing big men could gang up on Lucas.

"I've never had the chance to play with a good big man like Thurmond," he said.

"I've often said about Thurmond that he wasn't better than Russell on defense and he wasn't better than Chamberlain on offense—but all-around he's better than either. It will be a pleasure to play with him."

'Dogs Tough, Scout Says

Scout Garland Braun described Midland High, next football opponent of the Big Spring Steers, as a much-improved team apt to run from any kind of formation in a talk made before members of the Quarterback Club in the High School cafeteria Tuesday night.

Braun said that Midland's chief running threat, Galberson Zachery, was a 9.8 sprinter who is most dangerous if sprung outside.

The Bulldogs, with a deceptive record, have a fine throwing quarterback in Polo Madrid who almost shot the Steers down in flames last year. The other Midland backs, Braun stated, are equally adept and dangerous.

They are Clarence Rankin, member of a family which has given the Steers headaches for years; and speedy Fountain Smith, who the Big Spring scout described as a fine pass receiver.

Up front, Midland appears to be loaded and the weights the Bulldogs carry on the game program appear to be less than they do when the boys are in uniform.

Head coach Spike Dykes described Midland as a "sleeping giant likely to put it all together sooner or later."

The Bulldogs haven't yet developed the consistency of an Abilene Cooper, according to Dykes, but have made a lot of progress since the season began, as evidenced by the fact that they have won in each of their last two starts.

"We can't afford to make mistakes," Dykes cautioned, "and we can't afford to replay the game against San Angelo."

Dykes attributed last week's exciting win over San Angelo to character, the ability to make the big play, the adjustments the local club made during the contest and to other members of his coaching staff.

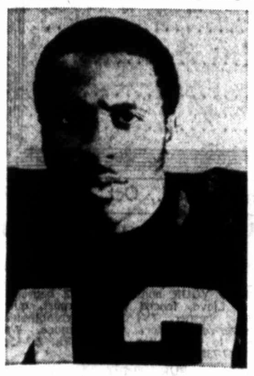

Howard Stewart, Steve Tidwell, Robert Dennis, Roy Anderson and Jimmy Farris were among defensive titans for Big Spring who came in for unstinted praise by the coach.

It was Stewart who got a hand up to deflect the ball on San Angelo's first point-after-touchdown try. That play kept San Angelo from walking off the field with at least a tie.

Tidwell, Dykes said, must have made at least 25 tackles and helped in countless other ways.

Steer basketball coach Kirby Pugh was introduced by QBC co-captain Jimmy Felts Jr., and said the spirit manifested in the school could only help his program.

A large turnout of fans saw films of both the varsity and JV games.

MONTERREY EX — Curley Watters (above), formerly with the Monterrey Aztecs, is now playing for the West Texas Rufneks in the Continental Football League. He specializes in punt returns. A 5-10, 197-pounder, Watters played his college ball at West Texas State, where he was a teammate to the famed Mercury Morris. The Rufneks host the San Antonio Toros Saturday night.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Big Spring coaches were keenly aware of the fact that linebacker Jimmy Farris played a tremendous game against San Angelo Central the other night but they didn't know how good until they looked at films of the contest.

The movies are in black and white and nobody says a word during the four periods of action but Farris' performance was eloquent — worthy of football's version of the Oscar if such awards were made in the game.

Seeking out the San Angelo ball carriers wherever they roamed — and they strayed all over the field probing for weaknesses in the Big Spring defensive alignment — the tall senior made an incredible 32 tackles.

Not since Jerry Graves submarined members of the Lubbock Monterey offensive platoon 35 times in a losing cause in 1955 has anyone wearing a Big Spring uniform done so famously on defense.

Farris accumulated 119 points in the coach's grading system. Bill Bryant, the fine defensive coach for the Steers, said he had been grading such efforts in a variety of places for many years and couldn't recall anyone who had done as well.

San Angelo was hammering away at the Big Spring goal line early in the game and, needing only one yard, dialed reliable Thomas Williams' number to try and get the score. Williams is known for his great strength and his ability to get the short yardage but his rendezvous with No. 88 of Big Spring proved disastrous. Farris slammed into him with such impact that Williams and the ball went their separate ways and Fill Guinn raced in to make the recovery for Big Spring.

Both teams played tremendous defense, despite the 37 points that went up on the board, but the night belonged to Farris. He's not timid about looking up the ball carrier and sticking that bonnet into him.

The Steers have made good psychological use of those STP stickers (the letters are supposed to stand for Steer Team Power), although there has been some talk they shouldn't glorify a commercial firm.

The initials PIP might be even better. That would stand for Pride In Performance and the team certainly has that. Thanks to a campaign originated by head coach Spike Dykes which spread throughout the school system, the Steers boast a pride and dignity that brings great credit to the school and the community.

When the physical attributes of San Angelo and Big Spring were compared prior to last week's game, there appeared to be no way the Steers could come out on top. They simply reached back and got something — an intangible that separates the thoroughbreds from the culls.

Odessa Permian is sure to be favored in next year's 5-AAAA football race. The Panthers have 25 players on this year's varsity squad returning and will benefit from a junior varsity squad which so far has gone undefeated.

Rigney Likes Twin Power

MINNEAPOLIS - ST. PAUL (AP) — Bill Rigney says it's much too soon to think about an opening day lineup, but that it will be nice to wear the white uniform at Metropolitan Stadium.

Rigney formally was named Minnesota Twins manager for 1970 Tuesday and heaped praise on the power-laden lineup, which used to cause him to shudder.

"When I used to walk out here and change pitchers, I wouldn't let the new pitcher look at the left field seats," said Rigney, a veteran of 14 managing seasons. "I didn't want him to be nervous."

The 365-foot fence looked even smaller to Rigney with a Twins lineup last year that included .300 hitters Rod Carew, Rich Reese and Tony Oliva and slugger Harmon Killebrew, whom Rigney feared most.

"It's going to be awfully nice to be wearing the white uniform and watching Killebrew go to home plate," said Rigney. "I've been watching him for nine years and he has scared me to death more times in the eighth and ninth innings. It's a pleasure to be on the same side with him."

Rigney was in the Twin Cities to sign a reported $60,000 one-year contract, highest ever for a Twins manager, and to discuss in detail Minnesota's organization and players.

"This is probably the best club that I've ever had as a manager," said Rigney, who managed the California Angels for nine seasons and New York-San Francisco Giants for five. "I haven't given my opening day lineup too much thought. There are so many good players in this lineup. I'm delighted about it."

Still Crippled

STANTON — The hard-luck Stanton Buffaloes will go into Friday night's game in Colorado City short-handed but coach Gerald Loyd expects two of his cripples, backs Alan Gregston and Rusty Hicks, to be back when the Bisons oppose Ozona Nov. 7.

Trustees Begin Policy Revision

A policy which requires married students to drop out of school, not enforced but still in the Big Spring School Board policy book, is one of many which stand to be revised in a general updating of the manual which began at Tuesday night's meeting of the board.

Dr. Morris Wallace, from the department of education at Texas Technological University, and Dr. David Sands, director of the West Texas Education Center, were both at the meeting to help board members get their policy revision started. Both advised a continuing method of revising school board policy saying that policies should be discussed at nearly every meeting, not just every few years. Dr. Wallace told the board that a policy handbook does two things.

"First," he said, "it gives board members a code of ethics, or by-laws. Secondly, your policies become your instruction to the superintendent as to how you expect him to operate."

Several suggestions for tackling the revision job were made by the board members, including the use of the public in committees for advice, and also the possibility of asking students for suggestions.

"Consulting with your teachers is a good idea, too," Dr. Sands said. "It may even defer the day when teacher organizations become labor unions."

Supt. Anderson asked board members to make a list of areas in the policy manual which need improving or areas which should be included. The suggestions will be presented at the next board meeting, Nov. 11.

Supt. Anderson advised the board that although the policy concerning married students is still on the book, it had been changed in practice to comply with recent legislation and modern beliefs. He said that married students are now allowed to attend school but not participate in extracurricular activites. He added that pregnant girls are given education as home-bound students as soon as their pregnancy becomes obvious.

Seal Drive Is Launched

More than 83,000 letters will be mailed to West Texas residents during the next two weeks as the Big Country Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association begins its 63rd annual Christmas Seal Campaign, according to D. C. Moore, executive director. The first mailing includes Christmas Seals for 33,531 area residents with two additional mailings forthcoming.

San Angelo is headquarters for the Big Country TB and RD Association, consisting of 32 West Texas counties, which merged April 1 to form the association. Howard County is part of the association.

Dr. Albert Randall, head of the Tuberculosis Control Division of the State Health Department, said Texas continues to have a higher-than-national rate of new TB cases.

C. W. Chancellor Jr., Midland, president of the Big Country TB and RD Association, said the goal of the campaign is to obtain funds to eradicate tuberculosis, control respiratory diseases and promote public health.

The Christmas Seal campaign, the Bangle campaign and memorials are the only fund sources for the association, according to Moore.

Counties within the association include Andrews, Martin, Howard, Mitchell, Nolan, Taylor, Jones, Loving, Winkler, Ector, Midland, Glasscock, Sterling, Coke, Runnels, Coleman, Ward, Crane and Upton.

Also, Reagan, Irion, Concho, McCullough, Crockett, Schleicher, Menard, Mason, Sutton, Kimble, Edwards, Real and Tom Green.

Tax Discount Deadline Friday

The deadline for the one per cent discount on October tax payments to the Big Spring Independent School District end Friday midnight, J. O. Hagood, tax assessor-collector, reminded today.

There is some confusion because the discount on county and state payments during October continues through Monday, because this is tied to 90 days prior to the final deadline on current payments Jan. 31, 1970. The school district, however, restricts its discount period only to the month of October.

Regional Group To Be Organized

The Sierra Club, a nationally known conservationist association, is seeking to form a regional group for the western part of the state.

An organizational meeting will be held Monday at 8 p.m. at the school curriculum building at 804 N. Lee in Odessa. Those who want more information may write J. L. Bridges, 1416 N. Texas, Odessa (79760) or M. W. Crake, 3706 Humble, Midland 79701.

Homecoming At C-City

COLORADO CITY (SC) — Colorado City students will announce the Homecoming Queen Friday night between halves of the Colorado City-Stanton football game, and ex-students will honor two ex-students as "Coming Home" queens.

The Homecoming Queen is selected by students and the winner is kept secret until the announcement is made at half-time. The "Coming Home" queens are Mrs. Bill Dietz (former Peggie McCallie), class of 1960, and Mrs. Charles Baldwin (former Jackie Smith), class of 1959.

Following the game, exes will meet in the Colorado High School Homemaking Department for a business session and for refreshments. Following the business sessions, exes have been invited to the All Students Homecoming Dance to be held in the Colorado High School gym.

Mrs. Bob Ratliff and Mrs. Charles Goodlett, Ex-Student Association officials, are in charge of arrangements for the Ex-Student program.

Speed Change Recommended

Big Spring's Traffic Commission voted Tuesday to recommend to the city commission that the speed zone on North Main, within the confines of the Northcrest Apartment Center, be reduced to 20 miles per hour. The request had been made by the Rev. Robert L. Paramore, pastor of Mt. Bethel Baptist Church.

The commission will also recommend establishing a fire lane (no parking) on the south side of Sixth Street, from Goliad to Nolan, and tabled for further study the parking situation in front of Marcy School.

The traffic commission heard a report from local insurance agents about the governor's committee for safety, exploring the possibility of a local program to help improve traffic safety. Nothing definite was decided.

Deep Sea Drill Venture Hailed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A deep sea drilling venture hailed as "one of the most sucessful scientific expeditions of all time" has turned up evidence of oil deposits in the depths of the Gulf of Mexico.

And the government is so pleased with the project it is extending it for another three years at a cost of $22.2 million.

The National Science Foundation, announcing the extension today, said the Deep Sea Drilling Project—DSDP—in less than a year has produced information "of such significance as to mark it as one of the most successful scientific expeditions of all time."

In addition to a possible deep sea oil bonanza, the venture has turned up new evidence to support the "continental draft" theory that the world's continents once were joined but drifted apart and still are doing so.

It also found evidence the sea floors are spreading outward from thermally active ridges on the ocean bottom at the rate of more than an inch a year.

The National Science Foundation said discovery of what appears to be oil and gas deposits associated with salt domes on the floor of the Gulf of Mexico could have "profound impact" on future technical developments for exploration and exploitation of deep-sea petroleum resources.

The DSPD project, centered around use of a unique, oceanographic research ship called the "Glomar Challenger," is managed for the foundation by the Scripps Institution of Oceanography of the University of California.

The original, 18-month contract—with a price-tag of $12.6 million—was to have terminated June 30, 1970.

But Dr. William D. McElroy, director of the foundation, said this now has been extended 36 months—to June 30, 1973—with additional funding of $22.2 million. This brings the total estimated cost to $34.8 million.

Shriners Set Ceremonial

An estimated 600 Shrine members and their wives will be in Abilene Friday and Saturday for the Suez Shrine Temple Fall Ceremonial which will include two days of business and fun-filled activities.

Members will attend from Midland, San Angelo, Brownwood, Big Spring, Sweetwater and Abilene, as well as from about 20 other towns in the 31-county area served by Suez Temple.

Planned events, according to Potentate R. Z. Landrum, Abilene, will be a business meeting, initiation of new members, a giant downtown parade at 10 a.m. Saturday, and two evening parties for members and their guests. The Windsor Hotel is headquarters for the meeting.

Honored guest of the ceremonial will be Dr. Duane L. Larson, chief surgeon of the Shrine Burns Institute at Galveston. Dr. Larson is internationally known as a specialist in the field of burns and plastic surgery. He will address a specially called meeting of West Texas doctors at noon Friday, at the Petroleum Club, discussing new developments in the care and treatment of burns.

Nurses from this area have been invited to hear a lecture by Dr. Larson at 2:30 p.m. Saturday at Hendrick Memorial Hospital.

Potentate Landrum said the 850,000 Shriners throughout North America take pride in the network of Shriners Hospitals for children. These presently number 22 strategically located in the United States, Mexico and Canada. Since they were first opened, more than 152,000 children have been cured or materially helped in the 19 orthopedic units and the three recently opened burns institutes.

Scurry Voters Vote Nov. 22 On Junior College

SNYDER — Scurry County voters will ballot Nov. 22 on the establishment, financing and operation of a countywide junior college district.

The date for the election was fixed Monday by the Scurry County Commissioners Court. Four issues will be on the ballot: (1) establishment of a district, (2) election of a board of trustees, (3) establishing a 35-cents per $100 valuation maximum tax rate, and (4) authorize $3,250,000 in bonds for financing physical facilities of the plant.

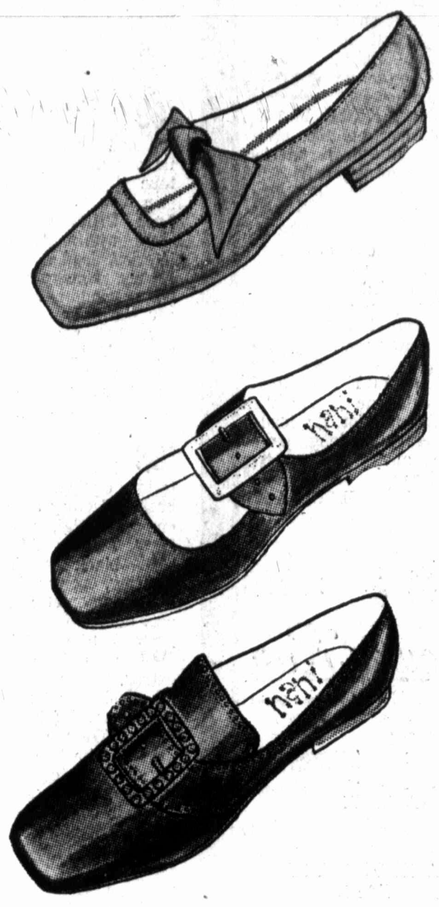

The 10 names on the ballot for seven places on the board include Bill Wilson, Edwin Parks, L. A. Patterson, Dr. Robert Hargrove, M. L. Broman, R. C. Patton, Arthur Lee Pelper, C. A. Daugherty, Don Sealy and W. A. Jones.

The effort is the climax to 12 years of seeking a junior college district here. Applications were turned down in 1957, 1963, 1965, and 1966, but with a statutory change in minimum enrollment figures, Scurry got the green light from the State Coordinating Board for Colleges and Universities after an Oct. 8 public hearing. This cleared the way for the referendum.

Pictographs Trip Reset

AUSTIN (AP) — A boater recently responded to the beauty of 8,000-year-old Indian pictographs on a cliff north of Del Rio by adding his own creative masterpiece in green paint: a four-letter word.

Rising waters of the new Amistad reservoir make the once-remote drawings accessible to boaters, says Truett Lattimer, executive director of the Texas Historical Survey Committee.

Ancient pictures of Indians and animals decorate the concave limestone cliffs of the Pecos, Devil's River and Seminole canyons north of the reservoir.

Lattimer calls them "probably the finest Indian pictographs on the North American continent."

Souvenir hunters have chipped red-daubed hunks of rock from the cliffs.

Bullet holes and numerous initials mar other sites.

Gov. Preston Smith was scheduled to inspect some of the drawings Monday, but the trip was reset for Nov. 12 because of the cold weather.

Purpose of the trip is to engender interest in preserving the pictographs.

The Texas Historical Foundation already has constructed a 12-foot high fence with a barbed wire "V" at the top around Panther cave in the Seminole canyon.

None of the land is state-owned. Some of it may be federal land, defending on exact determination of the reservoir's high-water mark, says state archeologist Curtis Tunnell, but most of the pictographs apparently are on private land.

Half Opposed To Gas Jump

LUBBOCK (AP) — Almost half the Panhandle-Plains cities involved in a proposed gas company rate increase oppose the hike.

The Railroad Commission will hold a hearing Nov. 4 on the six cents per 1,000 cubic feet rate increase that Pioneer Gas Co. asked the commission for in 66 cities.

Jayne Mansfield Death Decision

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A federal court jury has ruled for the defendants in three suits for $8.7 million in damages arising from the highway crash which killed actress Jayne Mansfield.

Miss Mansfield died when the car in which she was riding rammed into a truck June 29, 1967, on the outskirts of the city. Also killed were her lawyer, Samuel S. Brody of Los Angeles, and their driver, Ronnie Harrison of Biloxi, Miss.

The truck driver, Richard Rambo of Pensacola, Fla., said he had reduced speed because of a warning light on a city-owned mosquito spraying truck driven by James T. McLelland.

The jury, named to assess liability in the accident, found that Rambo was not negligent, that McLelland was negligent but that this was not a "proximate cause" of the crash, and that Harrison was negligent.

However, an out of court settlement already had been reached for Gus Stevens, a Biloxi night club owner who employed Harrison, to pay Miss Mansfield's five children $22,500 plus $5,000 for injuries suffered in the crash.

He's Candidate For U.S. Senate

DALLAS (AP) — The president of the University of Plano has announced as a candidate for the U.S. Senate in the position now held by Sen. Ralph Yarborough, D-Tex.

Dr. Robert Morris, a leader of numerous conservative causes, was unsuccessful in 1964 for the same post.

An imaginative declarer can sometimes seemingly manufacture tricks from right out of the atmosphere. An apparently open and shut hand can be developed in a highly unexpected manner by an adroit bit of maneuvering. Observe South's technique in bringing home what appeared to be an unmakable contract in today's hand.

Against the four heart contract, West opened the ten of spades. When the dummy was spread, declarer saw that he would be unable to avoid losing two tricks in clubs as well as one in diamonds. To all appearances then, his contract would hinge on picking up the trump suit without loss. He could try to split the suit two-two, or, if his first heart honor didn't drop the queen, he might have the option of finessing East for the missing queen on the next lead.

Rather than subject himself to an immediate guess, South decided to postpone his trump play for the time being. After winning the first lead with North's jack of spades, he played a small club from the dummy at trick two. This is a bit unorthodox, for the normal procedure is to lead toward honors instead of away from them. Declarer was in an experimental frame of mind, however, and the results of his little maneuver were far reaching to say the least.

East was afraid that South was trying to sneak in a singleton king of clubs, and he went up with the ace. Unfortunately for him, West was obliged to produce the king on the trick and the defense collapsed. East gave his partner a club ruff, but in so doing West gave up his natural trump trick. When South regained the lead he drew trump and conceded one diamond trick, at the same time claiming his contract.
