Light Company Moves Plant Operation Here

A new industry has started operations in Colorado City with its headquarters sales office and assemblying plant for el-electricial equipment.

The network is spawned by C. S.R. Manufacturing Inc., plus leasing and sales affiliates.

Heading up the organization, which manufactures electrical lighting equipment and a diesel fuel additive, are Charles Roy, formerly with industries in New York and Florida, and Colorado City's Less Fuller owner of Jim's Trucktown Restaurant.

C.S.R. International is the base company for the automotice and electrical equipment manufacturing which is starting with 5 employes in the steel building formerly used by Fuller's truck air-conditioning business.

Roy, who left the manufacturing and sales merchandising business to go to Vietnam as harbor master for the U.S., heads up the base company as principle stockholder and president.

Weddle and Fuller are in offices of secretary-treasurer and vice president.

Products of the manufacturing assembly plant here are lights, floodlights, tow lights, spot lights -- equipped for either portable, clip-on or magnetic type installation.

Before setting up the Colorado City based companies, Roy and C.S.R. has based its sales office in La Porte, Texas, and had contracted with a Lubbock plant for assemblying its lighting equipment.

Diesel Magic, the fuel additive that was originally perfected by Fuller, is another major product of the company. Although it is canned in a plant located near an Abilene refinery Diesel Magic sales office is included in C.S.R. office suite in Fuller's Trucktown building.

"We have 5 employes here now," Roy said, "but expect to build up this plant force to between 10 and 12 over the next 12 months."

Roy, who began his manufacturing and merchandising career in New York after World War 2, will be a main force in the merchandising and sales of products.

"I will continue with office and residence in the Houston area and will be back in here a few times a month for board meetings," he told the Record.

Most of the time he will be on the move across the nation to shape up sales.

A key place in the operation is held by Mike Fuller, who is heading up the manufacturing-assemblying plant work here. He is president of one of the subsidary companies with Weddle as vice president; Miss Julie Erwin, secretary and treasurer and Roy, chairman of board.

Business contact between Les Fuller and Roy over the last 10 years is a major reason for the new companies to be set up here.

Location and available labor market are also factors.

"This is a central location in the U.S., " Roy pointed out, "about equal distance from Atlantic to Pacific coasts and not too far from Dallas, Lubbock, Houston."

"Les and I talked about putting together our operation (lighting equipment and diesel additive) and ship out of Colorado City," Roy continued. "So, Feb. 3 we started this company. . .and now we've moved the plant here."

C.S.R. buys supplies for its lighting equipment from about 30 separate companies over the U.S.

The suppliers include General Electric in Cleveland, Dallas and Savannah; Armacost Division in Kansas City, Pathfinder Inc. in Chicago, Mueller of Ohio, A.K. Electric in Brooklin, Ideal of Brooklin, Auto Switch in Conneticut, Bringham Bros. in Lubbock, Tanner Company in Houston and others.

Sales areas for the lights are in all 50 states -- with both dealers and rental companies.

Diesel Magic is sold coast to coast, in Canada and to offshore drilling operations in the Gulf of Mexico and in the North Seas.

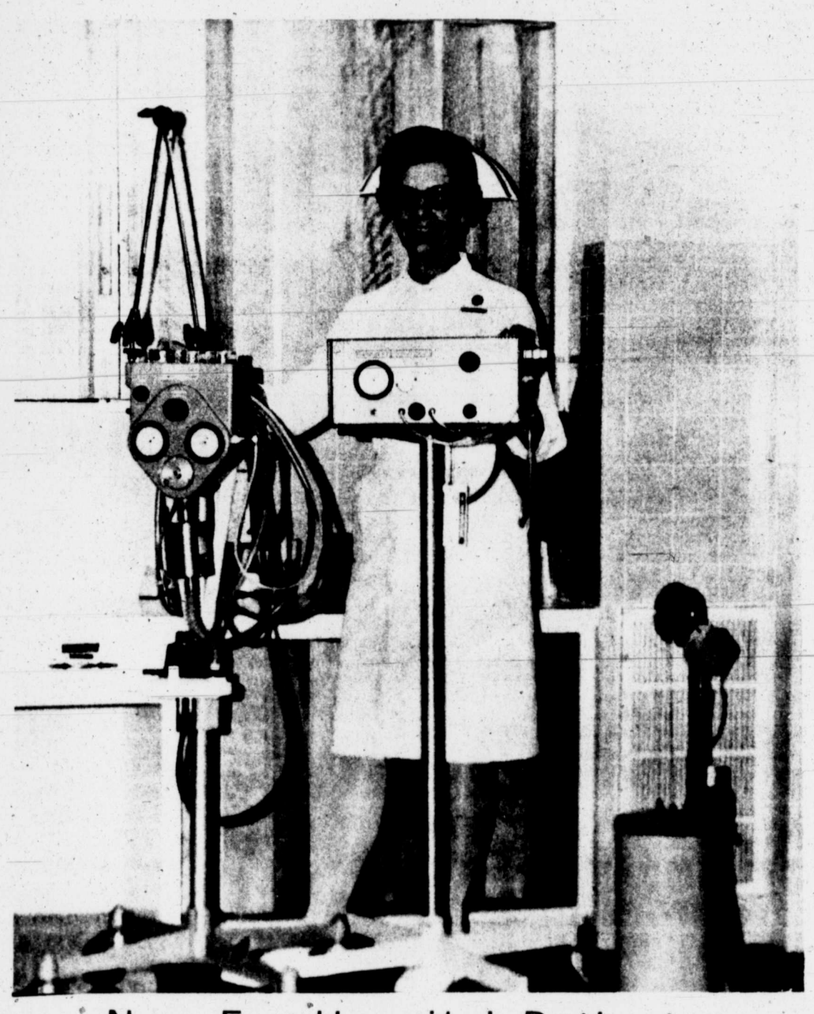

Multi-colored sales catalogs of the company list the following lighting equipments, all UL listed:

Portable floodlight, stands 6'3" or 8'9", 115 volt, breaks apart to fit in car, zinc plated. $39.95, (2 bulb) and $49.95 (4 bulb) less bulbs.

Portable light, 115 volt, 2 sealed beams, polished chrome on 6-ft. stand, connects to 12 volt rechargable battery, car battery or transformer, with 25 ft. extension cord and breaks apart for storage in car trunk. $39.95.

Short Auto Ride

Runaways In Stolen Sedan

Four teenage boys went home to Hurst Thursday after being discovered here in a stolen automobile.

They won't face any charges, either, because the owner of the 1966 4-door sedan declined to make a formal complaint.

Instead, he placed part of the blame for their car theft on himself.

The owner had left keys in his unlocked sedan and told police if he had been more careful, the boys would not have stolen the car in Sweetwater.

Police Patrolmen Robert Henderson and Larry Titsworth noticed the 4 boys in the car parked near Hudson & Sparks Dirt Contractors, State Highway 208, at 4:39a.m.

The 2 brothers, 14 and 13, 17-year-old youth and another 13 year-old had runaway from their homes in Hurst. They traveled to Abilene on trail bikes and after reaching Sweetwater, took the car parked at a trailer residence on Interstate 20 near Holiday Inn.

Police reported the 3 youngest waited here until their parents arrived to return them home. But the 17-year-old, with no charge keeping him in custody, began hitchhiking back to Hurst hours earlier.

Still to be explained to parents, police reported, were what happened to the trail bikes and a pair of boots one kid had been wearing.

2nd In State

Judy Myers won second place in state AAA journalism news writing in Austin Saturday.

The Colorado High junior, daughter of Mrs. Raymond Fuller, had scored first in district and regional competition to qualify for state.

Another Colorado High student, Linda Slater, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Wells Slater, competed in the states finals for typing. However, results of her AAA contest was not known Saturday afternoon.

Miss Slater won region with an average speed of 58 words per minute with only 1 error.

Another Colorado High student goes to Austin Thursday for state competition. He is Carl Devorce, regional champ in shotput and discus.

Farm Test Plots Planted

Three demonstrations -- grain sorghum, forage sorghum and sudan -- have been planted in Mitchell County.

A fourth demonstration has put down 5 different rates of fertilizer.

County Agent Bobby Lemons said additional test plots are planned for cotton varieties, 2 more grain sorghum plus application of herbicides at different rates.

Grain sorghum planted April 23 on the Witt Holman farm in Landers community was coming up Thursday. The Holman demonstration will observe 13 different varieties.

Six varieties of forage sorghum were planted Thursday on the Bob Fee Jr. acreage in the county's southern area.

At the Kenneth Merket place near Loraine 8 varieties of sudan went into the ground Friday morning.

For the fertilizer demonstration on the Alton Raschke farm, fertilizer was broadcast with nitrogen, phosphorus, potassium rates that included 24-30-0, 40-50-0, 50-100-0 and 30-0-0.

Lemons said arrangements had been made with Muleshoe manufacturer for a narrow row cotton harvester next fall, so demonstrations are being planned for narrow row plantings.

"I have several farmers interested in test plantings of about 15 acres each," he said.

Plot demonstrations in recent years have provided valuable data for producers concerning crop varieties, planting dates, fertilizing and irrigating.

Robber Who Vowed To 'Get Even' Gets 75 Years

A young West Texas criminal who once vowed "to get" Judge Austin McCloud has a new prison sentence.

This time it is for 75 years

The term is tacked onto a string of court ordered confinements which began in Colorado City only 2 years ago following a path of juvenile crime in Sweetwater.

Donald Gene Richardson, now only 25, received the 75-year term Thursday in Orange for the shooting death of a Vidor groceryman in September 1969 only 5 months after being found guilty here of burglary and car theft at Jay Adams Chevorlet.

Judge McCloud was on the bench then in 32nd Criminal District Court and sentenced Richardson to 5 years each for theft of a car and burglary of tools at the Chevrolet agency at 2 a.m. Jan. 16, 1961.

The district court trial wasn't the young criminal's first appearance before the same judge. His record with McCloud had begun as a juvenile before he reached age 17, the point of moving up to felony court from juvenile delinquency hearings.

And, because Judge McCloud was the first to put the brake to Richardson's increasing crime effort, the young punk made his vow for revenge.

A vow that meant death for the judge, some underworld contacts reported.

While in jail here, Richardson also declared to Police Chief Jesse Browning and Sheriff Lewis Claxton that he would never go to the penitentiary.

He almost made good on his boast.

While being returned from 91st District Courtroom in Eastland, where he got 7 more years for theft, Richardson and a companion attacked Sheriff Lefty Sublett, injuring the officer and his wife, and escaped.

Like quicksand, the record of crime began to engulf the Sweetwater bad boy.

To make good his escape, Richardson and his companion kidnapped 6 persons in Clyde, stole another car in Abilene, then disappeared between Sweetwater and Colorado City.

Only Judge McCloud's closest confidants new of Richard's threat against the jurist and of the tension which mounted within law enforcement agencies as the criminal broke away to freedom.

Richardson immediately turned to armed robbery and was identified by palm prints and television cameras as one of a 2-man team that robbed a Houston bank of $28,000 in June 1969.

About the same time, the report came that Richardson had pledged to free a youthful kinsman from jail. Officers in Colorado City and Sweetwater, where the youth was held in custody, were alerted to the new threat as were Texas Rangers, but the jail raid never came off.

From Texas the crime path that had spread from Nolan and Mitchell counties moved into Oklahoma.

It was there that Richardson was transported last week to Orange for the grocery robbery-murder trial. In Oklahoma he has been serving a 15-year prison sentence for roberry.

In the Vidor crime the groceryman, City Councilman Jesse Farmer, was shot to death during a robbery of his store Sept. 27, 1969. Mrs. Farmer and several customers were placed in the store's freezer room. They were released later when police learned of the robbery.

Three days later -- while funeral service was being conducted for the slain grocer, robbers again broke into the grocery store. Then, Richardson left behind his fingerprints for police to find and identify.

From time to time, officers would learn that Richardson was in his "home" area. Once, he visited his family in the early morning hours before committing major robbery later the same day in the Gulf Coast area.

But the tips came to police too late for them to catch up.

In the meantime, Richardson had begun to boast that he would never be taken alive. But he was -- captured in October 1969 in Oklahoma City in a gun battle which wounded one policeman.

His buddy in the 2-man robbery team at Vidor, Harvy Dale Webb, also received a 75-year prison term.

Ruth COFFEY'S

CONVERSATION CORNER

A NUMBER of people have called or stopped on the street or in some store to talk about the April 20 Ann Landers column concerning the conquest of cancer.

Several people asked this little town columnist to comment on that widely syndicated column written by Ann Landers and to offer local support to Mrs. Landers' plea for letters to United States Senators urging the passing of the bill S-34

That bill proposes a National Cancer Authority to be given highest priority in finding better methods to prevent, detect, and cure cancer.

Hesitated to attempt a comment on a column I didn't happen to read. But now comes a letter from Austin with a copy of the Landers column sent by Robert F. Coffey, husband Bill's nephew. Bob's letter also enclosed short letters to Texas Senators Tower and Bentsen pleading for their unqualified support of the bill S-34 and for adequate funding of a National Cancer Authority.

* * *

LETTER from Bob added "Let's see how many people we can get to write and mail letters to Senators Bentsen and Tower," and then the little line, "Veta doing fine for now."

Veta is the dainty and beautiful little wife Bob married when they were both 17. She is, the family hopes, recovering after last year's surgery for a malignant tumor. Bob's interest in the bill S-34 is understandably personal and public-spirited, as well.

Readers of the Ann Landers column will know that she said it all when she wrote her plea for everybody to join forces on this urgent matter of public health.

Nobody could possibly add a needed word to her sincere piece of work.

* * *

JUST IN CASE you missed that particular Landers article, it does deserve reviewing and repeating. It's that important.

"Who among us has not lost a love one to cancer?" she writes. Then she goes straight to the heart of the matter with "The lion's share of the tax dollar goes to defense."

Citing figures from 1969 the writer reminds her readers that for every man, woman and child in this nation our government spent in 1969--

$125 on the war in Vietnam

$19 on the space program

$19 on foreign aid

89 CENTS ON CANCER RESEARCH.

* * *

THAT says it all. One can not improve on perfection. One can only agree, applaud, and echo "Amen."

Letters and telegrams need not be long. Be assured they WILL help "light one little candle."

Address your letters saying "Vote for S-34" to Senator John G. Tower, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., zip 20510, and to Senator Lloyd M. Bentsen, Jr., same address.

As Ann Landers puts it "If you want to be part of an effort that might save millions of lives--stay with me."

We are with you. Hope every reader of this little column will take a little time TODAY to write those letters.

What does it profit us to put men on the moon when approximately 50 million Americans will develop cancer this year according to hard statistics? Think, if you can bear it--$125 for each of us for war in Vietnam. . .$19 for exploring space. . .and 89 CENTS to fight the dread disease called cancer.

LIFE can be so beautiful now that spring has come for sure. Been anywhere lately?

Drove to Abilene the other day through miles and miles of bright gold field daisies growing along the median strips and highway shoulders. There were patches of buttercups, yellow, white and one wide expanse of pink ones too.

God made His world so beautiful! Would you believe a small stand of blue bonnets on that FM road which leads from Buford to Lone Wolf Mountain?

BIG as the world is, it can be a little, little world if you live in or have ever lived in Colorado City.

While in Abilene met Mrs. Bray Cook whose late husband was brother of Bill Cook, Elmo Cook, and Margaret (Mrs. Farris) Lipps. Mrs. Bray Cook lives in Memphis, Texas, but is mother of two Abilene Christian College students and is getting ready for the wedding of a graduating daughter.

Hesperian Daughters Study Japan 'Today'

"Again the Japanese have the might-economic and military-to dominate the Far East," Mrs. Willis Jones told Hesperian Daughters during the club's recent world affairs program.

Speaking to the study group in home of Mrs. Weems Dykes, Mrs. Jones reported Japan the world's third economic power-"after United States and Soviet Union."

"In the process she (Japan) has become far more cautious, more rational, less frustrated than she was three decades ago.

"And as a result she is becoming a far more powerful force in world affairs than Hirohito's legions ever had a chance of becoming."

The speaker discussed Japan's gross national product, her military role, foreign aid, and her major role in Economic Commission for Asia and Far East.

Hesperian Daughters attending were Mrs. R. F. Fee Sr., Mrs. John Worrell, Mrs. J. E. White, Mrs. Margaret Aden, Mrs. Waverly Massengale, Mrs. E. V. Grantland and the hostess.

Next meeting will be Thursday in home of Mrs. John Worrell.

Grandmother Studies, Too

Kids Share Homework With Mrs. Thurman

By LENA MARCOM,

Mrs. Muriel Thurman has done her share in carrying out an "almost" family tradition . . .that of graduating from school among the top of the class.

Mrs. Thurman did just that this spring when she was graduated from Adult Basic Education classes, receiving a certificate equivalant to high school diploma.

She had plenty of support and encouragement from her three children and eight grandchildren in completing the course.

And the challenge of tradition was there, too. . .

Tradition set by her older daughter, Wanda (now Mrs. Jake Autry), when she was graduated from Colorado High School as valedictorian of her senior class in 1951.

Younger daughter, Nelda (Mrs. Clyde Rhodes of Snyder) was salutatorian of her 1957 graduating class from Colorado High.

And continuing the line of honors have been two grandchildren, Linda Autry, now enrolled at Howard Payne College, was named top student of her eighth grade graduating class five years ago and repeated the honor as she graduated valedictorian of 1970 Ira High School graduates.

The same year, Linda's brother, David, was honored as eighth grade valedictorian at Ira School.

Now Mrs. Thurman can claim the same honor. And she did it the hard way - returning to the classroom after years of not getting any closer to a textbook than helping with homework.

In receiving the ABE certificate Mrs. Thurman also realized a second part of a dream accomplished. For years she has wanted a birth certificate and high school diploma and now she has both.

She started her ABE courses in 1969, but she didn't return to 1970 study due to ill health of her father, J. T. Craghead, of 724 Walnut Street.

In addition to her studies she stays busy at home, in community and church activities.

At Fairview Baptist Church she was pianist until her granddaughter, Beverly Autry, filled the position recently and she now serves as junior department training union director.

She is an active member of Fairview Home Demonstration Club and has served Mitchell County as Texas Home Demonstration Association chairman.

Mrs. Thurman was born in Eastland but came to Mitchell County with her parents when she was about three and half years old. She attended schools at Valley View and China Grove and would have had to move into town or find a way to get to Colorado City schools her 10th year had not she decided to marry.

After she and the late Mr. Thurman were married they lived in Buford until 1945 when they moved to the Cuthbert farm where Mrs. Thurman still resides.

Besided her two daughters Mrs. Thurman has a son, a 1956 graduate of Colorado High were he was Future Homemakers sweetheart his junior year, who now is working on his masters degree at University of Texas at Arlington and is employed by Bankers Life Company in Dallas.

In addition to Linda, Beverly and David, who proudly confesses to helping their grandmother with homework, her grandchildren are Lance Autry, Becky Rhodes, Angeline Autry, Chris Rhodes and Jared Thurman.

She does a lot of sewing for herself, daughters and granddaughters and has taught them to knit and do other needle work. Her current hobby is crocheting beads.

And, according to her grandchildren, "Grandmother's good at leaving chocolate chip cookies in the pantry. . .a good cook . . .encourages and helps with piano practices. . "

Beverly just about summed it up for all of them when she said, "She's a good all-round grandmother."

And compliments like that make it all worth while.

Sure, it was work-going back to school and being a mother and grandmother, all at the same time.

And there is the family tradition of graduating with honors.

It goes much deeper, though, than just a diploma or graduating at the top of the class. The real goodness will come as Mrs. Thurman shares her knowledge and study in new experiences in the years ahead with her family.

Homework's Never Done

Prewitt Installed Kelley PTA President

Frank Prewitt, minister of music and education at First Baptist Church, is new president of Kelley Elementary Parent-Teacher Association.

He was installed last Thursday evening during last PTA meeting of the school year in school cafeteria.

Installed with Prewitt on the new slate of officers were Mrs. Orvel Griffith, first vice president; Mrs. Billy Carter, second vice president; Mrs. George Powell, secretary.

Also, Mrs. Tom Rees, treasurer; Mrs. Drew Ballard, historian, and Mrs. Don Fite, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Eddie Piland conducted installation ceremony.,

Mrs. Fite, outgoing president, expressed her appreciation to officers and members of PTA for "making it a successful year".

She paid special tribute to Pat Reily, Colorado High senior, for volunteer work with Parent-Teacher Association entertaining smaller children during PTA meetings.

Program for the Thursday evening program was presented by first grade students directed by Mrs. Glen Roenfeldt.

Kelley Principal Eston Blackmon expressed appreciation for gifts to school from PTA including opaque projector, phonograph, film strip projector and mirror.

Speaker for the final 1971 meeting was Buddy Hertenberger of Texas Department of Public Safety.

He spoke of danger involving the drunken driver on streets and highways and told his belief that stronger laws are needed to deal with them.

"What laws we have are not enough," Hertenberger said. "Senate Bill 194 now being discussed in Austin is recommending a 60-day driver's license suspension upon first conviction of DWI.

"With the second conviction a suspension of one year," he continued.

Of all people killed in traffic accidents, the speaker reported, about half of them involve an intoxicated person.

"Your individual attitude is important too," he advised.

"Report a suspicious drunken driver to the police department. If you don't he could go on down the road and kill someone."

Concluding the evening's program the new president expressed his desire "to work so that all may benefit."

Roy, who keeps his equipment design compatible for best economy in packaging and shipping (one large item was especially designed to break down into a package half-inch smaller than required for comparable so that it can be shipped parcel post), has also made a major innovation for Deisel Magic packaging.

Previously the smallest packaging for the additive was in gallon and quart cans. Roy is introducint a 12-ounch can of Diesel Magic aimed primarily for the farmer and his 40-gallon tank and for winter market.

Roy is a native of Brownsville, born there 50 years ago.
